$600 Polio Aid Given County

A check for $600.00 to help provide care for local polio patients has been received by the Lynn County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It was announced today by Mr. Clinton M. Walker, Chapter chairman.

When March of Dimes funds are raised, Mr. Walker explained, half stays here with the local Chapter and half goes to national headquarters for research, professional education and emergency aid to chapters whose own funds have been exhausted by the demands of patient care. The check just received comes from this pooling of chapter funds at national headquarters.

Mr. Walker said record-breaking polio incidence during the last three years had exhausted the treasuries of hundreds of chapters across the country and that in many cases 1951 March of Dimes funds had been committed to the payment of old bills before this year's first case had been reported.

This will be one of the very first cases in all West Texas where a newspaper's complete files have been photographed for posterity.

Man Is Burned By Butane Gas

Harry Ford, 20, employee of W. H. Fulkerson Butane Company here, received injuries at about 10:30 a. m. Wednesday when he spilled butane over his hands and arms while making a delivery at Wilson.

After receiving treatment at Stapp Clinic here, he was taken to a Lubbock hospital for further treatment. His injuries were not serious and he was expected home Thursday afternoon. One hand was burned and the other arm partially frozen.

The accident is said to have occurred when he noticed a loose valve on a butane truck and tried to adjust it by hand.

Plans for keeping natural gas reserves in the tri-state area of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas for future industrial development of the Southwest were discussed at a recent Conference in Ardmore, Oklahoma. Senator Kilmer B. Crobin of Lubbock attended as a representative of Governor Allan Shivers. Above, left to right, are Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, Sen. Corbin, Governor Johnston Murry of Oklahoma, Governor Edward F. Arn of Kansas and Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City.

County Valuations Will Be Increased

For the first time in many years, Lynn county farm lands are being raised in valuation for State and County tax purposes. Notices of the proposed raise will be mailed land owners in the next few days.

Members of the Commissioners' Court, in session here this week, told The News Wednesday that present valuations do not raise enough funds to furnish operating expenses. These expenses have, of necessity, increased along with everything else.

Farm and ranch lands will be raised by 50 percent. Most city property will not be raised, as it is already much higher comparatively.

However, the general raise in land values will not be quite so much as to would seem, because the total State and county rate

New Home Votes $40,000 In Bonds

New Home School district voters last Saturday approved by a vote of 61 to 28 a $40,000 bond issue for improvement to the school plant.

Three teacherages will be erected in order that the district may more easily secure qualified teachers. The board plans to erect one one-family residence and two duplex residences.

The grade school building will be repaired and remodeled and the lunchroom improved, making this a modern structure. Other improvements may also be made to the school campus.

A new and modern high school building was erected at New Home two years ago.

Fishermen Bring Home 200 Pounds

A party of Tahoka fishermen returned home last Saturday with 200 pounds of fish, including one yellow cat that weighed 55 pounds.

In the party were C. B. Early, Dan Thomas, Milton Huling, Oris Lightner, and David Williams, all of Lynn county, Bob Smith of Brownfield, and "Red" Haile of Levelland.

They caught the fish on the Colorado River above Buchanan Lake.

Fire Damage At Carlos Courts Light

B. A. Young is owner of the Courts, and C. E. Eudaley is the manager.

General Rains Improve Crop Prospects For '51

Weather Hurt Jaycee Rodeo

Though Tahoka Jaycees and Tahoko Roping Club, sponsors, will do well if they break even financially, the annual Rodeo held here last Friday and Saturday was a great success for an entertainment angle.

High winds and a light shower interrupted Friday night's performance, high winds cut down the crowd Saturday afternoon, and threatening rain and winds hurt Saturday night's crowd.

Those who braved the weather to see the show, got their money's worth, however. The stock was unusually "salty," and each program was filled with thrills and spills.

The cowboy entry list was enormous. There were about 65 calf roping entries, and in order to give all entries a chance the show Saturday afternoon was continued long after the regular performance.

Especially good were the bareback bronc, bulldogging, bull riding, and calf roping events.

The News has been unable to get the list of winners, except that "Sis" Scholer of O'Donnell was winner of the sponsor's contest in barrel and bloomer races. Sadie Smith of Gail was second, and Mary Scholer of O'Donnell third.

The parade Friday afternoon was good, with Sheriff's Poses from Post, Brownfield, Crosbyton, Lubbock, and Tahoka participating, with Post winning first prize among the posers. Tahoka High Band and merchants floats completed the parade, along with a large number of cowboys and cowgirls.

A great crowd was present for Thursday night's "warm up" dance, and good crowds also attended dances at the skating rink Friday and Saturday nights.

Nine Boys Get Hogs Saturday

Presentation of the eight Sears gilts won by Lynn county 4-H club boys will be made Saturday at 9 a. m. at the Lynn County Fair exhibit barns, according to Bill Griffin, county agent.

A boar pig will also be presented a local 4-H club boy. Winner of the boar pig is Walter Lee Stice, son of Bert Stice of route 4.

Gilt winners are: Johnny Billingsley and Bobby Sumrow of O'Donnell, Route 1; Hulan Murray, Gerald Barton, and Freddy James of Tahoka, Route 3; Bobby Stalcup of Tahoka, Route 2; and Jack and Don Spears of Tahoka, Route 4.

John Witt Moves To New Location

John Witt Butane Gas company moved last week end to its new quarters in the building just west of Farmers Co-op on East Lockwood street.

Mr. Witt recently bought this building and four lots. Interior of the building has been completely remodeled to provide offices, display, and a service department.

The new location will give Mr. Witt much more room for his expanding business.

Lehman Graduates At Texas U.

Irwin Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Lehman of Tahoka, a pre-med student, will receive his B. S. degree from the University of Texas next week.

Next fall, he will enter Southwestern Medical School at Dallas. Irwin is a graduate of Tahoka High School.

V. F. W. CONVENTION SPEAKER—Chas. A. Guy, "The Plainsman" to thousands who follow his column in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will address the delegates to District Seven V. F. W. convention at Lubbock, May 19-20. Guy is president of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Small "Lost" Ad Finds Valuable Watch For Man

T. F. Ethridge called at The News office Wednesday to inform the newspaper that a little "Lost" Ad., on the Classified Page had paid off for him.

About three weeks ago, Mr. Ethridge lost a man's waterproof wrist watch somewhere in Tahoka. He advertised for the lost timepiece.

W. P. Scott, who lives out east of town on Route 1, found the watch near the railroad tracks. After reading the ad. in The News, Mr. Scott returned the watch to its owner.

The watch had a special sentimental value to Mr. Ethridge. While serving in the Army in World War II, Mr. Ethridge's son, Harold Ethridge, who now lives on the O. D. Orr place southeast of Tahoka, bought the watch in Switzerland and later presented it to his father.

Tahoka Loses Grassland Game

Games coming up in the Square Deal Softball League include Post at Tahoka and O'Donnell at Southland tonight, Friday.

Tuesday night, Tahoka will be at O'Donnell and Grassland will play at Post.

Tahoka did not have a game last Friday night, but Southland defeated Grassland 16 to 5, and O'Donnell dropped a game to Storie Motors of Post 6 to 8.

Grassland walloped the Tahoka team Tuesday night by a score of 13 to 1. The News has no report on the outcome of the Post-Southland game Tuesday night.

Basketball Game Tonight Will End Spring Sports Training Program

Twenty Tahoka High boys will end nearly two weeks of Spring basketball training tonight with a scrimmage between next year's Bulldog Squad and a group of Exes.

The basketball team scrimmaged Seminole there Wednesday night and met the same team here Thursday night.

Coach Jake Jacobs began workouts with the boys immediately following the Spring football game. Twenty boys were selected to work out for the varsity team. These include nine lettermen, several squadmen of last year, and a few promising Freshmen.

Having lost only two lettermen from last year's squad, Ronny Gurley and Jackie Slover, Coach

1.60 Inches Total Rainfall In City

The long drouth has been broken on the Plains!

Rainfall in Tahoka the past three days has totaled 1.60 inches, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau gauge kept by The News, and indications were Thursday afternoon as this paper went to press that the rain was not over.

The rain was general over the county, with some areas receiving more than this and others slightly less, but it is heartening to all citizens as the moisture is sufficient for planting.

Tahoka received .15 of an inch Tuesday afternoon, .17 Wednesday afternoon, 1.15 in the early hours of Thursday morning, and .13 in a shower at about 10 a. m. Thursday.

West Point community had received from a half to an inch of rain Tuesday, and parts of the Petty area from a quarter to a half.

Further north and west torrential rains have fallen. Amarillo reported 7 inches, Happy 12, Earth 7.27, Amherst 4.40, Olton 4.50, Canyon 3, Morton 5.76, Muleshoe 5.25, Pampa 5.77, Littlefield 3, Crosbyton .71, Floydada 3, and Brownfield 1.33, to quote the reports from scattered Plains towns.

Though local farmers would like to have more rain to soak the very dry soil and fill the lakes, this amount was very welcome and will do a lot to chase away the blues.

The rains came following six days of strong southeastern winds.

Leroy Edwards In Talent Club

Leroy Edwards of New Lynn, 4-H club boy, was announced this week as an alternate winner in the annual Talent Club contests sponsored by the Extension Service and the Producers Grain Corporation.

Winner of the award in District 6 was Carter Gene White of Garza county, and if White is not able to accept the award, Edwards will.

Eight West Texas 4-H club boys and eight 4-H club girls together with as many alternates, are selected each year for the Talent Club honor. This year the group will make a trip to Logan, Utah, and will also visit Denver, Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone National Park, during the latter half of August.

Leroy's brother, Melvir Edwards, was the first place winner in this district last year. If Leroy does not get to make the trip this year, he will likely be a candidate for the honor again next year, according to Bill Griffin, county agent.

Jacobs feels Tahoka should field a pretty fair basketball team next winter.

Returning lettermen are: Don Brice, Wayne Tekell, Richard Havens, Morgan Howie, Charles Hyles, Earl Bartley, James Foster, Lynn Halameick, and Bill Short. Halameick did not work out in Spring training as he is resting from a back injury received in the O'Donnell football game last fall.

Other promising squadmen are: Joe Brooks, Steve Slover, John Foster, John Curry, J. B. Ables, Richard Carter, Max Dodson, Roy Gene Sherrod, Donald Paris, Bobby Lehman, and Kenneth Early.

Fans are invited to attend the scrimmage games tonight.

There are some people who want to curb the freedom of the press every time a news item is published which they figure may be regarded as a criticism of them or of their work. We have just had a striking example of that. On Sunday, May 12, an Air Force B-36 crashed and burned while trying to land at an Air Force Base at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and 22 men aboard lost their lives in the crash. The Fort Worth Press undertook to cover the story, but the authorities at the air base clamped down on newspaper publicity. The Fort Worth Press published what it could get any way, and protested bitterly against this interference with the freedom of the Press. The Fort Worth paper was right, according to the facts before us. We grant that the Government has a right to clamp down on the publication of news stories that would be hurtful to our prosecution of the war or that would be of direct and material aid to our enemies. But we do not believe that the Government has the right to go that far in suppressing news of mere accidents that occur at our army camps or flying fields here in the home land. Freedom of the press is one of the greatest guaranties of personal and national freedom and by all means it must be preserved. There are too many little military upstarts and too many little official upstarts in civil life, as for that matter, who like to show their authority and suppress the publication of everything that they do not like to see in print.

W. A. Riddell, who has been attending conventions of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers Association for many and who served as president of the Association for a year or two, told the senior edi-

NAVY SECRETARY

Francis P. Matthews

Armed Forces Day is a day of pride and faith in the American heritage—and of a renewed determination to preserve the ideals of peace and freedom which form so integral a part of that heritage. It celebrates the steadily increasing teamwork of all branches of the service in filling their responsibilities toward the achievement of this great purpose. On Armed Forces Day we play host. We of the Navy keep open house ashore and afloat, whenever possible, so that all of you whose Navy it is will understand our part as America girds her strength.

For the other day that he had never seen a drunk man at any of their conventions. Fine. If one attends any large gathering of other groups, such as lawyers and newspaper men, he is almost sure to find a few who still want to have their drinking parties and even to get drunk. Fifty years ago this seemed to be an almost universal practice among Texas lawyers and newspaper men both at home and away from home, and civilization, it seems, has not quite outgrown these practices yet. There seems to be a taint or idiocy even yet in some of our wisest men.

One of the things we have against the army brass hats is that too many of them want to teach the soldiers to drink. And they succeed far too well in doing so. And too often it is the case that we find that our boys when they come back home not only like to drink occasionally but also to keep the vile stuff on tap at their veterans' meetings. We do not charge that this is the attitude or desire of all veterans, but it does seem to be the attitude and desire of many of them. Peace officers should enforce the liquor laws against respectable clubs as well as against the ordinary bootlegger.

Too Many Peaches In News Article

Mrs. C. T. Tankersley says that we got a few too many peaches in the story about their peaches crop in 1950. She says that their crop was almost a complete failure last year, but that usually they have some peaches, whopper crops often.

Any way we promised to go out there about the time the peaches begin to ripen this summer just to take a look at the crop and to test the quality of the fruit.

And by the way, folks, if hailstorms do not beat the fruit off and if the winds do not shake it off, we figure that will be one of the good places to get peaches and other fruits to can this summer. We are not charging anything for this advertisement either.

The expenses of furnishing telephone service at Tahoka have far outrun adjustments which have been made in telephone rates.

Prices of food, clothing, homes—all have increased many times. Telephone instruments, poles, cable, and wire have also advanced sharply.

The Telephone Company must meet the increased cost of doing business—must pay higher prices, taxes, wages.

Adequate rates are needed to provide the necessary income to meet these higher costs.

CHIEF OF STAFF, U. S. ARMY General J. Lawton Collins

This second Armed Forces Day has special significance because it finds the members of the Armed Forces supporting the United Nations' decision to drive the aggressors from the Republic of Korea. Our nation can be proud of the heroic achievements of its Armed Forces. We in the Army—National Guard, Organized Reserve Corps, and Regular Army alike—are proud of the part in what the defense team is doing to preserve freedom for the United States and the free peoples of the world.

On this Armed Forces Day we urge ourselves to continue to work toward these ends.

Pythian Sisters Initiate Largest Class In History

Lynn Temple No. 45 held their regular meeting Tuesday night, during which sixteen new members were initiated. This class, largest in the history of the local Temple, was initiated in honor of Zelma W. Rhodes, the Grand Chief of Texas.

Lynn Temple has just completed an attendance and new membership contest that has been running for seven months. The contest gained 27 new members and has had good attendance. We are looking for every member to continue coming to the meetings. The losing side is to entertain the winners at an early date.

At this week's meeting, the charter was draped in honor of Zelma W. Rhodes' mother, who passed away recently.

Plans were completed for taking members of a competitive drill team and other members of the Temple to the Grand State Convention in Big Spring.

The local drill team will perform Monday night, May 21st, in the High School Gym at Big Spring. This work will be open to the public, and we would like for all who can to go and support our team.

The state Convention will be in session most of next week and it is hoped that a lot of our members are able to attend at least a part of the meetings.

Secretary Novis Curry's sister, Lorene Garwood, Treasurer of the Odessa Temple, was a visitor at this week's meeting.

There were 47 members present at this meeting. —Reporter.

Alba, Texas, was so named because settlers did not permit negroes to live there. Alba means "white."

Many Well Known Rivers Claim More Than One Name

Rivers have aliases, too. New Yorkers remind the world, in planning to tap the Hudson and create "North river punch" to meet future water emergencies.

North river persists as the Gotha-mites' name for the part of the Hudson they live beside. It dates from colonial times, when it distinguished the Hudson estuary from that of the Delaware, then known as the South river.

It takes three names to label the main stream of North America's second greatest river system. Melting snows from the Columbia ice field feed the Athabaska river, flowing 750 miles northward through Canada to Athabaska lake. From there it becomes the Slave river for 220 miles to Great Slave lake, and then the Mackenzie for its long, cold, final tour to the Arctic ocean.

Waters tilted eastward from this same ice field on the Continental divide feed the Saskatchewan river. Half way along its 1,700-mile eastward course to Hudson bay, the stream drops its Indian name in big Lake Winnipeg, from which it continues as the Nelson river.

Not far south of the Columbia ice field, the Missouri begins its long meander to the Gulf of Mexico. Because early explorers of America moved from east to west they named the Mississippi river before recognizing the chief tributary of the continent's No. 1 river system. Consequently, two names—Mississippi-Missouri—must be bracketed in referring to the system now.

The same thing happened to Australia's principal river system, the Murray-Darling. Early settlers named the Murray, flowing from near Melbourne to the sea near Adelaide. The name Darling was later given to the system's far longer, inland branch. It also happened in Russia, where Cossacks approached and explored the Yenisei from the west. Later discoverers observed the greater length and volume of its Angara-Selenga tributary.

Largest Mummy Cloth Covers Pre-Incan Peruvian Mummy

Archaeologists found a 3000-year-old pre-Incan Peruvian mummy still well dressed when they examined it recently at the American museum of natural history.

The mummy was covered by a sheet of cotton cloth 87 feet long, 11 feet 3 inches wide. This is the largest such wrapping ever found. Scientists compared it with the size of an ancient mummy winding 47 feet long, which is now in Harvard university's Peabody museum.

Two-thirds of the cotton fabric was found to be in a well-preserved state, despite the fact that no evidence of preserving solutions was discovered. The fabric was made of both white and brown cotton.

The mummy cloth will be examined by scientists in relation to the long lasting qualities of modern cotton fabrics.

"This wrapping sets a world record for a fabric from a non-mechanical loom," Junius Bird, associate curator of archaeology at the museum, said. "But it probably never served any normal useful purpose. Just special for a mummy."

Future of Electronics

Electronic developments in the next 50 years will probably include computing and memory tubes to perform many complex calculations infinitely faster than the human mind, electronically controlled manufacturing plants with greater productivity and resulting benefit to management and labor; new tubes to probe the mysteries of interstellar space; direct generation of visible light; and a wide variety of new applications of radio frequency heating equipment in industry resulting in greater production at low cost.

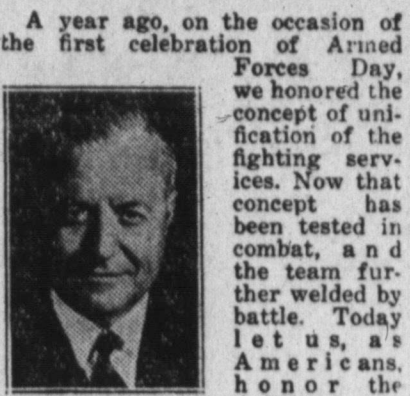

Duplicate Airplane Crashes

Air force volunteers, riding in a rocket-propelled sled, are now duplicating airplane crashes in an effort to provide greater flying safety. The experiments are being conducted at Edwards air force base, Muroc, California. Test conducted with the strange device, known as an air crew decelerator, already have given aeromedical science a heretofore unobtainable "stress analysis" of the human body—providing accurate data on just how much of the terrific decelerative force encountered in a crash the human body can withstand.

What Is Wolfram?

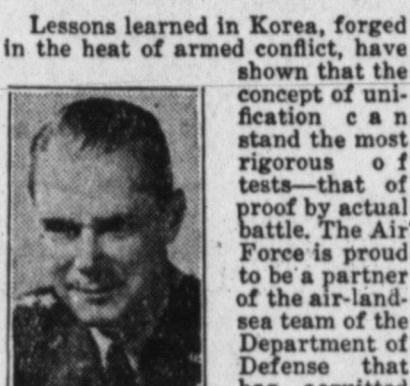

Wolfram is another name for tungsten, metal used in making electric lamp filaments. In most countries, except the United States, it has long been called wolfram, a name which comes from wolframite, the mineral from which it was first isolated. Chemists in all countries have designated it by the symbol W, for wolfram. The name tungsten, Swedish for "heavy stone," came from another ore in which it was found. The International Union of Chemistry has voted to make wolfram the only official name.

CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS Admiral Forrest Sherman

A year ago, on the occasion of the first celebration of Armed Forces Day, we honored the concept of unification of the fighting services. Now that concept has been tested in combat, and the team further welded by battle. Today let us, as Americans, honor the American fighting man. For it is he—the Soldier, the Sailor, the Airman, the Marine—who has fought to preserve freedom. It is his valor that has given renewed hope to the free world that by working together in discipline and faith, ideals of freedom will always prevail.

CHIEF OF STAFF, U. S. AIR FORCE General Hoyt S. Vandenberg

Lessons learned in Korea, forged in the heat of armed conflict, have shown that the concept of unification can stand the most rigorous of tests—that of proof by actual battle. The Air Force is proud to be a partner of the air-land-sea team of the Department of Defense that has acquitted itself so effectively with the forces of the United Nations in Korea. On this second Armed Forces Day, the Air Force stands ready to share with the Army and Navy the responsibility for preserving the peace through coordinated effort. In this way we can best protect our heritage of freedom.

Cotton farmers are urged to apply now, through organized groups, for the free classing and market news services offered under the Smith-Doxey Act.

CREW SPELLS OUT "LEYTE"; READ IT—Shown in the above photograph is the USS Leyte upon her recent return to the United States. After several months of duty with U.N. Naval Forces in Korean waters. The Leyte joined Admiral E. G. Evan's Task Force 77 early last October after a record breaking run three quarters of the way around the world. The next day her pilots started pounding the enemy giving close support to ground troops. During the tour of duty in Korean waters the Leyte's planes destroyed or damaged over 1,000 military buildings, 127 vessels, 59 bridges, besides blocking 3 tunnels and inflicting 10,000 casualties.

North Side Leads In Junior Baseball

Tahoka North Side moved in to first place in the Junior Baseball League Sunday afternoon by a 9 to 0 forfeit from Wilson. Wilson's manager, Benson Rice, had left Wilson at mid-week and his team-mates were confused as to where and when to play. Only three of Wilson's players showed up on the scheduled field.

The game between Tahoka South Side and Wayside was postponed here in Tahoka because of high winds.

Next Sunday, weather permitting, the league leading North Side will play Wayside here at Jaycee Park. Game time is 2:30 p. m. Ronny Gurley will hurl for North, and "Punk" White or James Foster for Wayside.

Tahoka South Side will go to Wilson to play the latter at 2:30

Mrs. Pete Hegi To Give Book Review

"Root Out of Dry Ground" by Archie Biggs is the title of the book to be reviewed by Mrs. F. B. Hegi at the annual Phebe K. Warner Club book review to be held at 4:15 p. m., Tuesday, May 22, in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church.

The public is cordially invited to attend, according to Mrs. Paul Pittman, club president. The traditional book review marks the end of the club year.

Farmers in Cooke county, Texas, report that the use of warfarin in a county-wide rat control campaign has resulted in a saving to the county of thousands of dollars.

p. m. Ray Madrid will pitch for South, and Leonard Breiger or Henry Mason for Wilson.

Due to bad weather and other difficulties, the league has gotten off to a slow start. But, with a break in the weather, next week should show some good play.—Reporter.

1950 TAXES?

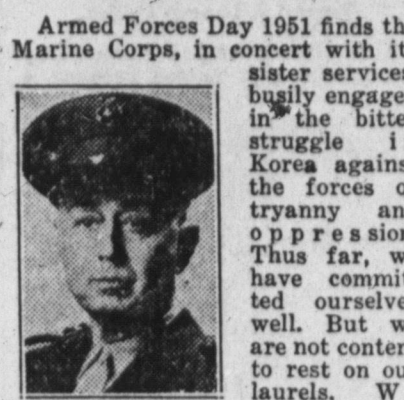

A few have not. May we suggest that you check your tax receipts to make sure you did not overlook paying your State and County Taxes.

Penalty and Interest now applies on delinquent 1950 Taxes. This cost-increases each month, and if you did overlook paying them it would pay you to attend to the matter as quickly as possible.

COMMANDANT, MARINE CORPS General Clifton B. Cates

Armed Forces Day 1951 finds the Marine Corps, in concert with its sister services, busily engaged in the bitter struggle in Korea against the forces of tyranny and oppression. Thus far, we have committed ourselves well. But we are not content to rest on our laurels. We will continue to train diligently and fight with determination. No effort will be spared to field a well equipped, capable and confident combat force. In memory of our comrades, who have given their lives in defense of the God-given right of every man to be his own master, we Marines proudly accept our responsibilities as "Defenders of Freedom."

Public Health Business of All

AUSTIN, May 17. —"Environmental sanitation is the public health term for clean, safe housekeeping whether it applies to a private home and its surrounding or to towns and cities. Among other things, it insures safe drinking water, proper garbage and sewage disposal, the safe service of wholesome food including milk, rat and insect control, and general cleanliness of the premises. However, for environmental sanitation to be effective, it is essential that not only public health officials but the citizens living in their respective homes or operating establishments serving the public cooperate wholeheartedly, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Consider, for example, the seasonal housefly hazard. It has been determined that 120 eggs are laid by a single female at one time and that a generation is produced every ten days at summer temperature. Thus, the possibility of reproduction during the warm months of a single fly runs into many millions. While the housefly does not bite, it is dangerous because it breeds and feeds upon both filth and food.

"Again, rats are the source of several diseases of man including plague, typhus fever, infectious jaundice, and trichinosis, to mention some of the more important ones. Homes can be made comparatively ratproof by removing rubbish and garbage accumulations, and by closing avenues of access. Approved poisons and traps should be employed when a real problem presents itself.

"Removal of containers of stagnant water such as tin cans and barrels will do much to eliminate the mosquito for householders. The householder needs to devote more seasonal attention to mosquito eradication than he is today if this is to be properly controlled.

"In general, good and thorough housekeeping, inside and out, is the personal and civic duty of every home dweller. It not only adds to the pleasure of living and removes disease hazards, but increases the appearance of one's surroundings."

PLAN RECREATION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Dale Gandy, temporary chairman, has called a meeting of all young people, business men, parents, and all others interested to meet in the school gymnasium Friday night, May 25, at 8 o'clock to plan recreation activities for young people of the community.

Tahoka young people do not have sufficient recreation facilities, Dale points out, and this is an attempt to plan more wholesome activities.

80 Dairy Cows Signed For Test

Success of a new Bangs disease testing program for Lynn county has been definitely assured by the signing up for testing of 80 dairy cows by farmers, according to Bill Griffin, county agent.

Other farmers who wish to have cows tested should see the county agent or any Veterans School teacher in the county before Saturday night of this week.

A minimum of fifty cows were required to secure a veterinarian to come here to make the tests.

Texas cotton producers harvested an average of 205 pounds of lint per acre last year despite unfavorable weather and heavy insect infestations. This compares with the 1939-48 average of 170 pounds per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris have written friends that they are greatly enjoying their stay at Marlin, where they are vacationing and taking baths. They may not return home for a week or two yet.

Twenty-five percent of the land owners in Texas hold less than two percent of the land; on the other hand, 20 percent of the owners hold 30 percent of the land. These are findings from a recent study, "Ownership of Farm Land in the Southwest."

CHAIRMAN, JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

General of the Army Omar N. Bradley

This Armed Forces Day is observed in the midst of our steady mobilization of America's power. Our goal is security and peace. It is a mobilization of strength to deter further aggression. The advantages of successful war are doubtful. The disadvantages of unsuccessful war are certain. Real security lies in the prevention of war—and today that hope can come only through adequate preparedness. The men and women of the Armed Forces are actively protecting America, from Korea around the world to the heart of Europe. They are giving us all of their support; they deserve all of ours.

Farm production must be kept high or unit costs will strangle the farmer.

Gen. Van Fleet, "Soldier's Soldier"

Predicts Victory in New Korean Battle

Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commanding the Eighth Army in Korea, has expressed confidence in the ultimate victory of his Allied troops now meeting the shock of a great Communist offensive.

In his order of the day he praised "the magnificent support of our United Nations Air and Navy forces," and continued:

"This renewed battle is for the preservation of life, liberty and the right to the pursuit of happiness of all free men. . . . They are the first rights which communism denies its own people."

"Our strength rests on the solid foundation of belief in God and the rights of man, rather than on the will of dictators imposed through cruelty and the complete disregard of human life."

This striking photograph of Gen. Van Fleet was made when he waved farewell as he embarked in his plane at Washington, D. C., to take command in the field. He is a native of New Jersey, a graduate of West Point in 1915, and is a "soldier's soldier," serving on the Mexican Border, 1916, in France in World War I, and through the thickest of the fighting in Europe in World War II. He was three times wounded. In 1948-50 he rendered eminent service as director of the Joint U. S. Military and Advisory Planning Group in Greece. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross with two oak leaf clusters for extraordinary heroism in action, and other decorations.

It is a lot different from "art as usual" in a studio or in the corner of a busy newspaper. Floyd A. Snoderly, who is giving these impressions of the U. S. Marines at war, has been covering the advance of the First Marine Division since shortly after the Inchon invasion. He has been a frequent cartoon contributor to the Pacific edition of "Stars and Stripes." S/Sgt. Snoderly was a member of the original staff of the weekly Parris Island "Boot" in World War II. He went to Guam and subsequently did several comic strips for Marine field publications. Before the Korean invasion he was art director of an advertising agency in Knoxville, Tenn., where his wife and nine-year-old son, Gary, now reside.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Authorities say there is more allergy today than in the past probably because as man's environment has become more artificial he has been brought in more frequent contact with foreign or newly created materials. Modern medical knowledge enables your doctor to treat many allergies successfully.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. The reduction of infant mortality is attributed to the increasing percentage of births in hospitals (although the improvement in the medical care provided in home births has been pronounced), improvement of prenatal care, health education, administration of new medicines, blood transfusions and improvement in training in obstetrics.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. The Schick test is a method of injecting a very small amount of diphtheria toxin into the skin. Those who have antitoxin in their blood to fight the diphtheria toxin will have a negative test. On the other hand, those who do not have antitoxin or who have not developed it will have a positive Schick test. In the case of a positive Schick test, your doctor will recommend immunization in order to prevent diphtheria.

She reports that her mother, Mrs. B. P. Corley, 76, died on April 30 at the home of her son, Mrs. Riley's brother, F. E. Corley, and that funeral services were held on May 2 at the First Baptist Church in Belen, after which the body was taken to Albuquerque for burial. She had been seriously sick since last November and for two months during the winter she was here with Mrs. Riley, who was taking care of her.

Mrs. Corley was a native of Tennessee but she had been a resident of New Mexico for about 33 years. She was a long-time member of the Baptist Church.

Highway Meet Set For June

BIG SPRING, May 16, —Delegates to the 8th annual convention of International Highway 87 Association from Alaska to Mexico will meet in Colorado Springs, Colorado, June 28, 29 and 30.

James H. Greene, Big Spring, Texas is president of the association whose membership is along the route of the longest transcontinental highway in the world. The 6,402 miles of improved road from Fairbanks, Alaska to the Guatemalan border traverses Alaska, Canada and Mexico. An additional 1,390 miles of proposed roadway would extend the route to Panama City.

An outgrowth of the old U. S. 87 Association, the new organization was created some eight years ago when membership was extended to representatives from towns along the way in Alaska, Canada, and Mexico.

Since the formation of the International Organization much of the road in Canada and Mexico has been hard surfaced. The organization also advertises the route and publishes a color strip map.

Program highlights include an address by Colorado's Governor, Dan Thornton and a clinic on Cafe Owners' Responsibility to Tourists by Patric D. Moreland, Executive Vice-President, Texas Restaurant Association.

Social activities will be climaxed by a trip to Pikes Peak following the Saturday noon adjournment.

EIGHTH GRADE HAS PICNIC AT PARK

Robt. Reid Is Taken By Death

Robert Reid, 61, former Tahoka rural mail carrier, died at about 5:30 p. m. Saturday, May 5, at his home in Merced, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Merced on Monday, May 7, at 3:30 p. m., and he was buried in the cemetery of that city, with full Masonic rites.

Mr. Reid suffered a "stroke" in 1946 and had to retire from the mail service. He remained in ill health, and about three days before his death he suffered another stroke, from which he could not rally.

Born and reared in Arkansas, Robert Reid and his family came to Tahoka in September, 1927, and was a mail carrier here until February, 1928. He was a member of and active in the Methodist Church, both here and at Merced. He served as Scoutmaster most of his years in Tahoka. He was a past master of the Merced Masonic Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reid and daughter, Mary Helen, attended the funeral services, George being a brother. County Treasurer Tom Reid also is a brother but could not attend as he was ill himself.

Deceased is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Anna-abel Bray of Merced and Mrs. Wanza Jane Parks of Wamego, Kansas; his mother, Mrs. J. M. Reid of DeQueen, Ark.; four brothers, George and Tom of Tahoka, Jasper of Brownfield, and Wade of Dierks, Ark.; and five sisters, Mrs. Tom McClure of Shallowater, Mrs. Delia Jackson of El Paso, Mrs. Dovie Phillips of DeQueen, Mrs. Fred Elliott of Kansas City, and Mrs. Delphia Wiedemann of Hot Springs, Ark.; and six grandchildren.

An only son, Burr, was killed accidentally about five years ago.

Last year the home grounds of 19,403 homes in 200 Texas counties were improved. Improvements included the building of driveways, walks, addition of recreational equipment, planting of windbreaks, trees and shrubs as well as extensive landscaping.

Boom Johnson For V.P. Term

Senator Lyndon Baines Johnson is being mentioned in Washington as the choice for Democratic vice-presidential candidate in 1952.

An article about the senator in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post says, "He has, in fact, the perfect personality for Capitol Hill; a grass-root homeliness blended with just enough city sophistication."

His personal charm has won him friends on both sides of Congress. Recently Republican Floor Leader Kenneth Wherry, yielding to Johnson's persuasions in connection with a bill to save West Texas long staple cotton, remarked, "I'd rather do business with you than anyone else on your side."

The greatest part of Johnson's success is attributable to his tremendous capacity for work and the willingness with which he uses it.

"Besides looking out for the Lone Star State," says the article, "Johnson functions as Democratic whip in the Senate, a post in which he acts as assistant majority leader. He is also a member of the strategy-planning Democratic Policy Committee in the Senate, and of the Interstate Commerce and Armed Services committees."

To these he recently added another important job as chairman of the powerful Armed Service Sub-Committee on Preparedness.

Until the outbreak of the Korean War Johnson was content to limit his speeches on the Senate floor and win votes in the cloakroom, observes the article, then he made several penetrating and timely talks on the Government's "makeshift mobilization."

He beat the other Senators to the punch by proposing the establishment of the preparedness-investigating committee and was appointed its chairman.

To his credit it can be said that he maintains the unique practice of calling government officials into closed committee sessions be-

Postmaster Attends State Convention, Does Some Fishing

Postmaster W. E. (Happy) Smith and his father-in-law, J. E. Ketner, returned last Saturday from Houston and Galveston, where they spent a week.

Happy spent several days in Houston attending the state convention of the National Association of Postmasters, and then joined Mr. Ketner in Galveston for a visit with Mrs. J. C. (Ruby) Burgett, a daughter of Mr. Ketner, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ketner and grandson, Herbie Deering, of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe NOMINEE — Robert M. Turpin, prominent Midland attorney, is a nominee for president of the State Bar of Texas at its election in May.

Liles and children of LaMarque, former Tahokans, joined them in Galveston for the visit.

Happy said he got in a little time fishing, but the sea was rough and he had to fish from a pier. His fishing luck was nothing to brag about, but he did land some pompano and also caught some catfish. The natives down there do not eat gulf catfish at all, but Happy says they are as good as those from fresh water streams to him.

New Unit For Boys Ranch At Old Tascosa Is Now Being Planned

This drawing, above, of Boys' Ranch's first permanent unit in the new expansion program was chosen from a group of 20 plans submitted by members of the Fifth Year Architectural Class at Texas A. & M. College.

The unit will house 24 boys, 4 to a room, and has a large living and recreation room. Also, there are quarters for a man and his wife, who will supervise the group of boys living in the building, thus providing closer contact and opportunity for better guidance and individual attention.

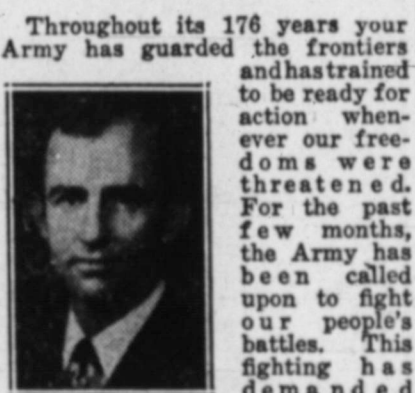

Members of the A. & M. class spent three days, last December, at the Ranch, and went back to A. & M. to compete for the best unit design. Then the best portions of each design were consolidated to make the final plan, which is tailored to the type of boys living at the Ranch, and the life they lead. The students have also worked together on all the other proposed buildings and a 25-year site plan as a class project.

Boys' Ranch expansion has been made necessary by an increasing number of requests to help homeless and unwanted boys and boys who are in trouble. Beside housing, a vocational school, larger grade and high school, and increased recreational facilities are planned.

The Ranch boys will do much of the work under qualified supervision and various labor unions have volunteered their help. Construction blueprints for the new unit were drawn by O. L. Johnson, architectural engineer, of Amarillo. Part of the funds for building have been allocated, and it is hoped that additional funds can be obtained to complete the first unit by September.

26 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

ODDS AND ENDS

(By E. I. The Elder)

When General Douglas MacArthur made that great speech before both Houses of Congress recently, one little statement that he made brought forth probably more comment than any other one thing which he said; that was something like this: "Old Soldiers never die, they just fade away." I got the idea that he was quoting from some popular song that had escaped my attention or that I had forgotten. Well, I discovered just the other day that King David had beaten MacArthur to it by about 3,000 years.

After King David and his army had whipped the whey out of the fierce and furious Philistines, he wrote and sang a victory song, which is recorded in two different books of the Bible, to wit: Second Samuel, 22nd chapter, and Psalm 18. It is one of the great pieces of Bible literature. The 45th and 46th verses in chapter 22 of II Samuel run as follows: "Strangers shall submit themselves unto me; as soon as they hear, they shall be obedient unto me."

Strangers shall fade away, and they shall be afraid," etc. The "Strangers" mentioned there were soldiers all right but they were enemy soldiers. David was exulting that his people would not be bothered by the Philistines any longer, they would just "fade away," when an army of the Israelites showed up.

We have often said that the Bible has in it more drama than does Shakespeare. But the names, especially in the Old Testament, are so unfamiliar and so hard to pronounce, and the historical allusions so vague to the most of us that we sometimes tire of trying to read it.

These difficulties will be removed in part by a new translation or revision of the Old Testament by an international group of Bible and linguistic scholars when the work is completed and the new translation is offered for sale. Already a revision of the New Testament has been made by the same group of scholars and most ministers of the gospel and many laymen have a copy of the same. The language is not so stately as that used in the King James version now in general use but it is more easily and readily understandable.

As an example of the drama that appears in the Bible, we are reproducing here, in our own every-day English, as briefly as we can make it, an episode, or series of episodes, that occurred just before and just after King David's death. This effort may not sound at all like Bible literature but we do not mean to be irreverent in the least. We well remember hearing that well-known and greatly beloved Methodist Minister, Dr. J. W. Hunt, now deceased, telling a Tahoka audience once how a lot of people would raise their eyebrows in astonishment when he would refer to Jezebel, wife and boss of Ahab, as "that old gal." Because her name appeared in the Bible they thought it should be spoken with a degree of reverence, not knowing possibly that she was one of the vilest and wickedest women in all literature. Well, there are some other vile women and a lot of vile men mentioned in the Bible, and the Lord pulled no punches in having his servants to write down their records truthfully. So, that is what we are trying to do right now, in language that any kid on the street can understand, unless it takes a big word now and then to express our exact meaning.

Well, in the days of David and Solomon, it was common for men to have more than one wife, especially among the higher-ups. For some unexplainable reason, God seemed to tolerate this species of immorality to a great extent. At least he used men to carry on his work who had a number of wives at one and the same time. David was one of these. He had during his life-time at least six wives and possibly more. He possibly never lived with more than two or three of them at the same time, and it is hard to understand how he did even that and kept peace in his household. But for forty years he was king, and we guess the women of that day were glad to call him husband even if he did have other wives. Well, one of his earliest wives was Hagith, who lived with him when he was king over the tribe of Judah only and lived down at Hebron. She had a son named Adonijah. We will call him Don for short.

In David's later years, while he was king of Judah and all Israel, with Jerusalem as his capital, he committed possibly the greatest sin of his life. He became infatuated with the beautiful Bathsheba, wife of Uriah, one of the generals in his army, contrived to get her husband killed in battle, and then took Bathsheba as his own wife. Of this marriage Solomon was born. The prophet Nathan told him of his sin in a most effective manner, and David repented and tried to make what amends he could.

But long before Solomon's birth, David had conceived the idea of building a great and magnificent temple in Jerusalem as the Jewish center of worship. He and the prophet Nathan talked to God about it, but God gave them to understand that he would not permit David to build the temple because he had been a man of war and bloodshed, but promised that he would give David a son who should build the temple. Years later, after Solomon's birth, David says that God revealed it to him that it was Solomon who should succeed him as king and should build the temple. So, some considerable time before his death, in order to please Solomon's mother, Bathsheba, as well as God himself, David assured Bathsheba that Solomon should succeed him on the throne, in spite of the fact that he had other sons by other wives who were older than Solomon. Perhaps the oldest one of them and certainly the most ambitious one was that man whose name was Adonijah, or Don for short.

So, when David grew old and became sick and it seemed evident that death was near at hand, that old boy Don got busy. He was a good politician too. He knew how to slap people on the back, kiss the babies and some of the women, and to play the game generally in such fashion as to win a great following. In fact he was the Jim Ferguson or possibly the Lee O'Daniel of his day in the matter of politics. He was egotistical too, and something of a braggart. He also believed in "getting there fustest with the mostest."

So, as David's last days drew nigh, Don blatantly announced, "I am going to be king," and immediately began preparations for a great coronation program. About the first thing he did was to confer with Joab, a high-up officer in David's army, and with Abiathar, the chief priest, and got their promises of support. But he steered clear of Nathan the prophet, and Zadok, another priest, and other prominent men who he knew would be favorable to Solomon. Then he gathered together a bunch of chariots and horsemen and a posse of fifty men mount on prancing steeds, to lead the parade, and started out on a great publicity campaign which was to wind up with a big barbecue at the Serpent's Stone near En-rogel, known now as the Fountain of the Virgin, situated on the outskirts of Jerusalem and supplying the abundant waters for the pool of Siloam further down-stream.

For the feast, that bombastic young politician had his servants to slay and prepare an un-stated number of sheep and oxen and fat cattle and had invited all of his brothers except Solomon, the king's sons, and all of the men of Judah the king's servants, to the feast. They came, and O, it was a hilarious time they were having, doubtless with music blaring, the young folks dancing and carrying on, and the people generally shouting "God save the king." Adonijah was in his glory.

But word of the feasting and the revelry spread up-town. Nathan the prophet heard of it. People were beginning to wonder what David would do about it. He was on his bed sick. They knew that he had appointed Solomon to become king when he should pass on. They knew that David had gathered together the stone and the steel and the timbers and the gold and the silver and all the other material that was to go into the building of the temple and that he had instructed Solomon to build it. Now, what if young Solomon did not even become king? The people were mystified and Nathan was bothered. So he rushed up to the king's palace to see Bathsheba, the queen and the mother of Solomon. He broke the news to her by asking a question: Had you not heard that Adonijah has just been crowned king or Israel to succeed your husband? I would advise you to see David at once if you want to save your life and your son Solomon's. Ask him if he did not solemnly promise you that Solomon should be king and proceed to tell him what is happening. While you are still talking I will go in and confirm all you say. The story is related with all the dramatic details, and then Nathan went in and went over the same dramatic story and wound up by asking, Is it possible that this thing is being done with your approval and you had not revealed it to us? "Tell Bathsheba to come back in here," David sternly commanded. Again, "she came into the king's presence and stood before the king." And the king said, (Continued)

"Bath-sheba, as sure as the Lord lives, who has redeemed my soul out of all distresses, I swear unto you, as I swore to you heretofore, that Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead, and I will see to that this very day."

Bath-sheba bowed low and did reverence to the king, and said, "Let my lord King David live forever."

Then David said, "Call Zadok the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoida, and bid them to come before the king." They were called and came. Then David said to them, "Take with you my servants and cause Solomon to mount upon my own mule and bring him down to Gihon (a place in the valley of Kidron on the southern outskirts of Jerusalem) and let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him there king over Israel, and blow ye with the trumpet and say, God save king Solomon." And he gave other instructions which were carried out to the letter.

"So Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah the son of Jehoida, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites went down and caused Solomon to ride upon King David's mule, and brought him to Gihon.

"And Zadok the priest took a horn of oil out of the tabernacle and anointed Solomon. And they blew the trumpet, and all the people said, God save King Solomon.

"And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth rent with the sound of them."

And young Don and old General Joab and the others down at the Serpent's Stone heard the noise just as they were finishing their meal and it startled them. "What is all that noise and uproar about?" Joab enquired uneasily. About that time they saw Jonathan one of their own number coming in a run. "Jonathan has good news for us, I am sure," the frustrated Don said.

But Jonathan, almost breathless, said "Not so. King David has made Solomon the king. Then he related the whole startling story, and told how the people came up from Gihon rejoicing, "so that the city rang again. That is the noise you heard, and also even now Solomon sits on the throne of the kingdom."

That broke up the meeting. All of Adonijah's guests grabbed their hats and hurried off home or to some place of hiding.

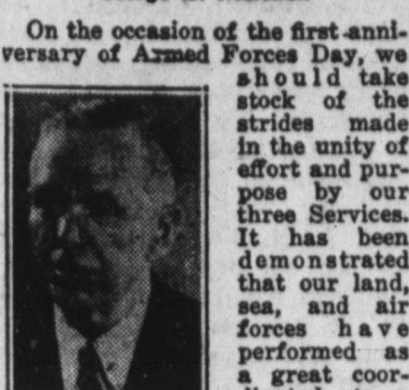

Adonijah himself was scared stiff. He knew that he could not escape out of the land, and he thought that Solomon would lose no time in putting him to death. Terrified he fled to the altar on which the Israelites made their sacrifices, seized its horn and clung to them as the only means perhaps by which he thought he might obtain mercy and pardon from the new king.

Somebody told Solomon of Adonijah's pitiable plight and that he was begging for mercy.

Solomon generously stated that he would not have his treacherous rival put to death if he will act the man and go straight. On that condition, he will be permitted to live, and then he sent his servants to take Adonijah down from the altar and bring before him. When they arrived Adonijah bowed down before Solomon in fear and trembling. Solomon merely said to him, "Get up and go home."

So his life was spared temporarily. But in a little while he was making a request of Solomon through Solomon's mother Bath-sheba that Solomon interpret as meaning that he was yet plotting to become king, which doubtless he was doing. So

LETTERS FROM NEWS READERS—

On the occasion of the first anniversary of Armed Forces Day, we should take stock of the strides made in the unity of effort and purpose by our three Services. It has been demonstrated that our land, sea, and air forces have performed as a great coordinated team in Korea. In the present build-up of our armed forces and war material, the coordination of the three Services has been splendid. I have been both surprised and highly gratified by the practical progress that has been made toward genuine, working unity.

Solomon got rid of him quick. He had him thrust through with a sword.

Most plotters, traitors, and tyrants in this world eventually come to about the same sort of end. Maybe there are some today who are traveling down the same road.

Dear Editor:
Just these lines to tell you that my husband and I enjoy reading all of The Lynn County News in each issue. My father, L. N. Hancock of New Home sent it to us because we are former Lamb county residents sojourning in the Ozarks.

The scenery here now is beyond description, in beauty. Every morning we find something new. I enjoyed the story of your trip through the canyon toward Roaring Springs. We've been over the road and agree with you, but these mountains have won us!!!!

Yesterday, on the radio program out of Springfield, Mo., "a man on the street" from Dallas was asked what he thought of the Ozarks. He answered, "We've just come out of Eureka Springs, Arkansas, and we think it is the most beautiful city in the world." Of course we liked that!!!

By the way, my parents and sister from New Home are com-

Here's Where the Pounds Pay Off

FIRST thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous hoodful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflo Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight—and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

- DYNAFLO DRIVE*—saves strain on driver and car.
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel.
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection.
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—provide greater clarity at night.
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control.
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs.
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment.
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum.
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweeps—on most models.
- Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, StepOn parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher.
- *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.
- When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them.

Lamesa Man's Sentence Cut From Death Penalty To Five Years In Pen For The Murder of Claude Johnson

The News takes the liberty of republishing the following story from Sunday's Lamesa Reporter dealing with the trial of Jack Rogers, Lamesa Latin-American, who killed Officer Claude Johnson, former citizen of Tahoka, in the former city in May last year. Complete astonishment was evident in this community yesterday when news of the verdict in the Jack Rogers murder trial was announced. Rogers was charged on three counts of murder with malice in connection with the bludgeoning to death of Lamesa City Policeman Claude Johnson on the morning of March 29, 1950. A trial jury in May, 1950, returned a verdict of guilty and gave him the supreme penalty—death in the electric chair.

But the State Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that the jury was "prejudiced" and that District Judge Louis B. Reed erred in not granting the defendant's motion for change of venue. Judge Reed assigned the case to the 119th District Court, Tom Green county, San Angelo.

After deliberating the case one hour and 20 minutes, the jury returned the verdict of the "murder without malice aforethought" and gave Rogers five years.

Few cases in history parallel that wide a divergence of penalties. The case was sent to the jury last Friday afternoon after District Judge Overton L. Lewis read the charge. That took 27 minutes. The deliberation of the jury lasted less than an hour longer.

Caution lashed out at the court following the verdict: "The charge given to the jury was the most defensive charge I have ever seen or have ever heard of." The charge was finally completed in the judge's chambers after seven hours of discussion. It included for consideration self defense murder with and without malice, mitigation by intoxication, circumstantial evidence and illegal arrest.

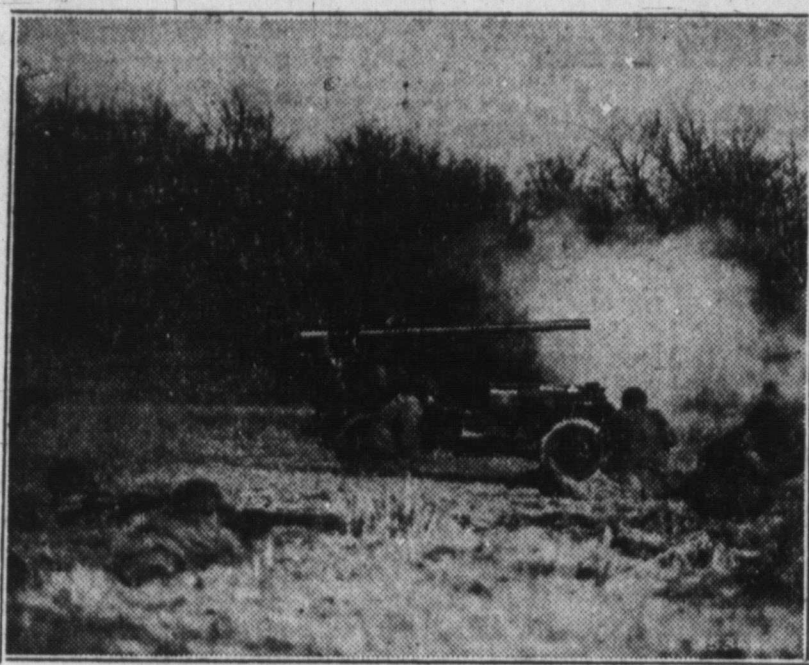

Huffaker was said to be unable to utter a word.

Court-Appointed Defense Attorney Glenn R. Lewis is quoted as having told Tim Dowd, reporter for the San Angelo Standard-Times, before the verdict was announced: "I'm hoping Rogers might possibly get off with no more than 50 years." States attorneys, District Attorney Karl Calloway Huffaker, had demanded the death penalty.

Thus the curtain falls on Dawson county's most infamous murder case. It began in the wee hours of March 29, 1950, when Claude Johnson, Lamesa policeman, confronted Rogers on the east side of the Lamesa square. Rogers admitted hitting the officer but after that, "my mind went blank." Leonard Farmer testified that he heard a voice from that vicinity pleading for help, and that he heard a series of blows being administered. He later saw a person run south on the east sidewalk of the square and turn east down South First street. D. W. Whitfield, city employee who was sitting in his parked pickup near the city hall, testified that he recognized Rogers as the person he saw running past him.

Santos Rogers, father of the defendant testified that his son came home about 2:30 o'clock and told him he had "had a fight with a policeman." Mrs. Rogers said her son told her he had beaten a policeman, with his own gun.

Meantime, Dee Blackstock, another policeman, drove up to the scene and saw Johnson's body lying in a heap—his head, face, forearms and hands beaten. An ambulance carried the injured man to a hospital where he died shortly thereafter.

Sheriff Roy King and other officers arrested Rogers in his home. They later went back to the house and were taken to the spot where Rogers' father said he had buried the defendant's blood-stained clothing. That morning, Justice of the Peace denied Rogers bond and he was taken to a Lubbock jail.

Sometime later Judge Reed overruled a motion for writ of habeas corpus, and then a motion for change of venue. The trial was held and the jury ruled Rogers guilty of "murder with malice" and assessed the death penalty. The state contended that Rogers killed Johnson to escape arrest for attempted burglary of Dewey's Department Store. The defense based its case on self defense to avoid "illegal arrest."

The State Court of Criminal Appeals overruled the verdict and ordered a new trial in another area. Judge Reed assigned the case to San Angelo. Judge Lewis appointed three San Angelo attorneys—Glenn Lewis, Norman Barr, and Craig Porter to defend Rogers. Lewis, a well-known attorney in that territory, an ex-district attorney of that district and a former assistant attorney general of Texas, headed the defense.

Rogers is also charged with burglarizing the Man's Shop on the west side of the square on the same night of the murder. Cayton said he plans to try Rogers for that offense soon. Maximum penalty for burglary is 12 years.
