Ask Us

Q—Is there any property around the high school that can be used for student parking other than what is being used now?

A—Administrators said there is none available.

Local

Genealogy

There will be a genealogy meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the county library.

DCOS

The Development Corporation of Snyder took no action in its monthly meeting last night because a quorum was not present. The only item on the agenda was dicussion of financial statement.

'Creeps'

Snyder Junior High School's production of "Meet the Creeps" continues through Saturday in the school auditorium.

The play begins at 7:30 nightly. Advance tickets are $3 and available at the SJHS office or from cast members. Admission at the door is $4.

Wildflowers

The wildflower trail on the Western Texas College prairie has been revised and now calls attention to 27 varieties in bloom there.

Free maps are available in the museum, where visitors can view art projects of Snyder public school students and a special exhibit prepared by the museum staff.

Special gift items related to Texas wildflowers are displayed in the museum gift shop.

Information about the wildflower project can be obtained by calling the museum at 573-6107. The museum is open Monday through Friday.

WTC-AJRA

Scurry County Coliseum will play host to over 200 junior rodeo participants this weekend as Western Texas College hosts its own AJRA and Open Junior Rodeo Saturday and Sunday.

Events will include barrel racing, pole bending, breakaway roping, goat tying, ribbon roping, team roping, calf roping, steer riding, bull riding, saddle bronc riding, bareback riding and steer wrestling.

Cowboys and cowgirls in divisions from Under 8 to 16-19 will compete in the single go-round rodeo.

Performances are slated for 1 p.m. each day. Admission is $4 for adults and $3 for students.

300 volunteers ready to work

Snyder Neighbors Sharing

The Snyder area will look a little brighter Sunday morning, thanks to the efforts of some 300 Snyder Neighbors Sharing volunteers.

The volunteers are prepared to pick up their hammers, saws and paint cans this Saturday and get to work on 17 Snyder area homes. One project has already been completed.

It's the fifth year for Snyder Neighbor's Sharing, a non-profit organization dedicated to helping low-income elderly and/or handicapped repair their homes.

The organization is made up entirely of volunteers. When work is complete this weekend, SNS workers will have repaired more than 90 residences since the project began.

Work will begin at 7 a.m. More volunteers are welcome.

"We've got volunteers lined up on various projects, but believe me, we can always use more," said Sam Robertson, SNS president.

Anyone interested in volunteering to help repair homes who has not already contacted Snyder Neighbors Sharing is asked to report to 2000 North College on Saturday morning. It is recommended that volunteers bring their own tools if they have them, especially ladders.

Snacks, cold drinks and a noon meal will be provided.

Volunteers are also welcome at the First Baptist Church Family Life Center, temporary headquarters for SNS. Those wishing to help deliver meals, drinks or provide shuttle service to and from local lumber yards are asked to contact LaVerne Hood at the Center.

Monetary donations are accepted by mail at SNS, P.O. Box 1072 in Snyder. All donations are tax deductible.

In addition to the volunteer labor, some $18,000 to $20,000 will be spent locally on this year's workday.

Conservation farmer, rancher recognized at SWCD banquet

Longtime Borden County rancher Ralph Miller and T&K Farms producers Tim and Keith Collier were among those honored at the 1993 Upper Colorado Soil & Water Conservation District Banquet, held Thursday evening.

Miller was presented with the Conservation Rancher Award, an annual award given to a Borden or Scurry County rancher who exhibits exceptional soil and water conservation methods.

Miller also received the Take Pride In America Award, a national award sponsored by USDA, Goodyear and the National Association of State Conservation Agencies.

Tim Collier accepted the Conservation Farmer Award on behalf of himself and Keith Collier. They operate T&K Farms near Snyder.

Another pair of annual awards presented at the banquet were the Conservation Educator Awards for urban and rural educators. Honored as the urban recipient this year was Stanfield Elementary Principal Bob Travis. The rural award went to Buddy Wallace, vocational ag teacher at Borden County ISD. Accepting on behalf of Wallace was Borden County producer Kent Holmes.

Poster winners were recognized in rural and urban categories. Honored in the rural division were Micah Hensley, Borden County second grader, first place; Bianca Sookraj, Hermleigh second grader, second place; and Whitney Rogers, Hermleigh third grader, third place.

Honored in the urban division were Stanfield second graders Kristen Casas, first place; Kaila Neeley, second place; and Lilli Valdez, third place.

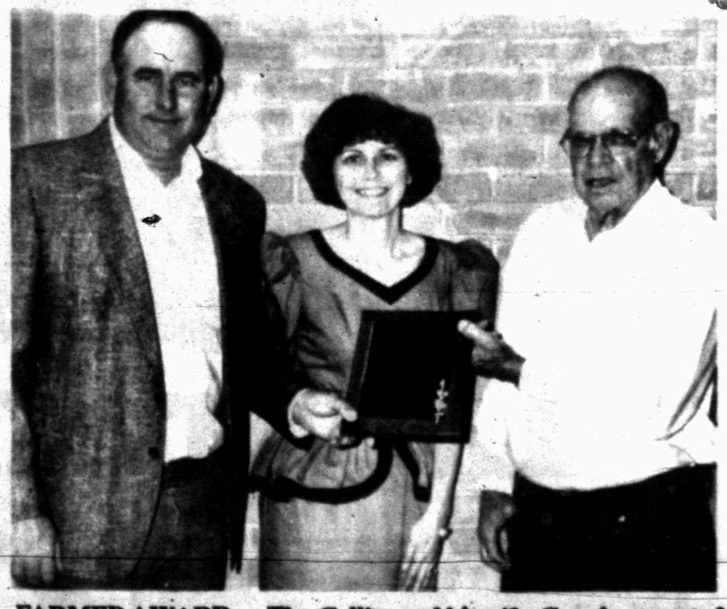

Honorable mention poster winners were Hermleigh second grader Clarissa Sauceda, and Nikki James, Trey Bowlin and Magan Riley, all Stanfield second graders.

A certificate of appreciation was also presented to Bill McClellan, Snyder Daily News editor.

Presenting the awards were Upper Colorado SWCD Directors Brent Murphy, chairman; Leon Sterling, vice chairman; Burl Belew, secretary/treasurer; Walter Stirl; and Ted Crenwelge.

The SDN Column — By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "When people make mistakes, real friends rub it out, not in."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

It's happening everywhere, according to a news article in Fisher County's Rotan Advance.

Commissioners there approved the payment of a $1,800 fine to the State of Texas for violations that took place at the Sylvester Dump.

The fine was originally $3,120, but commissioners authorized the county judge to negotiate a settlement. The fines were imposed by the state after inspectors for the Texas Water Commission found debris burning on several occasions.

We have to wonder where that fine money goes.

We don't know, but the same week the Post Dispatch in Garza County reported that a grant had been awarded.

Garza County will receive $14,000 to purchase five "igloos" to collect used oil. Each igloo will hold 360 gallons of used oil and includes several safety features. The Dispatch reported that the igloos are designed to be eye appealing.

The government gives, but it can also take away.

The Lamesa Press-Reporter carried an article about three turkeys roaming the city's downtown area, showing up three days in a row.

Had it not been for a front page picture, we would have thought the Lamesa editor was talking about Infernal Revenue agents.

One man's trash is said to be another's treasure. We thought the city made a mistake by banning scavengers from the landfill.

Those guys who loaded someone else's junk as something valuable could extend the landfill's life expectancy.

Hutchison, accuser pass polygraphs

DALLAS — An ex-employee has said she passed a lie detector to s[illegible] Texas Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison hit her several times last year.

And now Mrs. Hutchison has presented results of her own polygraph test that she says supports her denial.

Mrs. Hutchison, a candidate for the U.S. Senate seat in a May 1 special election, said the entire issue is just an 11th-hour attempt by her opponents in the race to smear her.

She said she considered taking a polygraph "demeaning" but submitted to it to "refocus this sleazy campaign back to the issues facing Texas and America."

Because Bob Krueger doesn't want to face me in the runoff, and because Jack Fields and Joe Barton are beginning to realize they're not going to make it, they're all determined to keep (the story) alive," Mrs. Hutchison said.

Sharon Ammann, daughter of former Gov. John Connally, has accused Mrs. Hutchison of hitting her with a blunt object nine times when she couldn't find a telephone number. Ms. Ammann quite her job in the state treasurer's office in October 1991.

Ms. Ammann is backing a Hutchison opponent, U.S. Rep. Jack Fields, in the May 1 Senate special election, but has said her allegations are not politically motivated.

Connally said Monday that his daughter passed a polygraph test, administered by Ernie Hulsey, chairman of the Texas State Board of Polygraphy Examiners.

R. Neblett named university scholar

ABILENE — Robert Neblett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neblett of Snyder, was one of 51 students named by Abilene Christian Universty as a university scholar at a recent ceremony in their honor in the chapel on the hill of the Biblical Studies Building.

Students were selected from each of ACU's five colleges and the School of Nursing for the honor based on a minimum grade point average of 3.7 and the significance of their university activities outside the classroom.

Neblett, named from the college of Liberal and Fine Arts, is a theatre/English major. He is a 1989 graduate of Snyder High School.

Astrograph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

April 24, 1993

You may acquire a number of new interests in the year ahead, bringing you into direct contact with a larger circle of acquaintances. Several important friendships could result from this group.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be alert for material opportunities today, because they could present themselves through more than one source. These may be above average in potential. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The AstroGraph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll not only be popular within your social circle today, but you could also have a strong influence over business associates. Make the most of this asset.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You might have a chance today to participate in a profitable and ongoing arrangement. Things might be juggled around a bit to fit you into the picture.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be hopeful and expectant today regarding a matter that you deem important. If you feel optimistic and lucky, you'll act accordingly. Something good could result.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Matters that relate to your career and finances should be given priority over your other interests today. This is the area where you could run up your biggest score.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions that could have a favorable effect upon your future plans are starting to trend in that direction now. It's time for you to hitch your hopes to this red wagon.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Two friends whom you've helped in the past are both working on ways to repay your favors. Neither one is aware of the other's efforts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is a good day to get together with someone you recently met whom you would like to know better. The feeling is mutual, and interesting results are indicated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't back away from situations today just because they appear to be tedious or tough. You'll function best when confronted by challenge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Temporarily try to shelve things today that tie you down to mundane, boring routines. Make arrangements to be with a fun friend who is also interested in escapism.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you anticipate negative results today, chances are you will do things that will help bring them about. The opposite will be true if you think positively.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If there is an important matter you have to discuss with another today, do it on a one-to-one basis, without having kibitzers looking on. It should work out very well for both parties.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1993 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Shame on you! Your answer to "Bugged in St. Paul," the woman who corrected her husband's poor grammar, didn't help my cause one bit.

I make my living teaching college students. I teach them that using correct grammar can make all the difference in the world in determining how they are viewed by others. I am constantly reminding them to speak in a refined and educated manner. With the competitive job market we have today, speaking correctly is of the utmost importance. Let's face it — if you had to choose between two job applicants, and one said, "It don't matter," and the other one said, "It doesn't matter," which one would you hire?

Your reply indicated that because "Bugged's" husband was making a good living, he shouldn't be criticized for his grammar. Perhaps if he had spoken correctly, he would have made even a better living.

Abby, it does matter how we speak. You, of all people, should know better.

CATHERINE BEMBAS, ROCHESTER HILLS, MICH.

DEAR CATHERINE BEMBAS: Granted, it does matter how we speak in most instances, but this couple had been married for 20 years. He is an excellent provider and skilled in his work, and according to his wife, he doesn't take criticism very well, so in the interest of matrimonial harmony, I advised "Bugged" to stop bugging him. I operate on the "old dogs, new tricks" principle — so, no mea culpa on this one.

DEAR ABBY: The mother of a close friend passed away recently. I made several phone calls to offer support and condolences, and to inquire about arrangements. My friend is a sincere and loving person. I was told that the deceased didn't care much for flowers, but liked plants — so I sent a flowering plant. I was told that the funeral arrangements were for a graveside service, and would probably be for family members only (and not all of them) for personal reasons. Based upon this, I felt I shouldn't attend the funeral.

The day of the service, the funeral notice was in the newspaper, including the time and place of the service. Because of this, I went to the service.

Now a mutual friend is telling me that I should not have attended because I was not invited. I thought that since the newspaper notice didn't say "private service," I should show my respect for the family by attending. I'm very distressed that I did the wrong thing. How guilty am I, and what should I do or say to all involved? My friend called and thanked me for attending. I even feel guilty about the plant.

NO NAME OR ADDRESS, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME OR ADDRESS: Since your bereaved friend called and thanked you for attending, take your cue from that gesture. Forget the guilt — your mutual "friend" is mistaken.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In your column in the Greenville (Texas) Herald-Banner, I noticed that several people mentioned the signs they had on their front doors to discourage solicitors. I have one that is better than any you mentioned — and it works!

WE SHOOT EVERY THIRD SALESPERSON.

Please don't mention my name — just sign me ...

Criticism mounts for state judge

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — It was unconstitutional and dangerous for a state judge to order reporters to use his name in their daily coverage of a trial, says Harvard law professor Alan Dershowitz.

Judge Fidencio M. Guerra Jr., who freely admits that he has his own style, said his order made him more accountable with the public.

But Dershowitz, who has defended such high-profile clients as Klaus Von Bulow and Mike Tyson, called Guerra's behavior "outrageous."

"It's clearly unconstitutional for a judge to impose any content regulation on the media," Dershowitz was quoted as saying in Thursday's editions of The Monitor in McAllen. "A judge like that is a danger."

Brazil declared its independence from Portugal in 1822.

EARTH DAY PLANTING — Vanessa Taylor's fifth grade students planted a Shumard Oak (Texas Oak) between classrooms on the east side of Northeast Elementary this week in conjunction with Earth Day. WILLIAM J. SMITH JR.

CASITY RENEAU

Two receive top awards

Two Snyder students have been named United States National Award winners.

William J. Smith, Jr., a Snyder Junior High student, received his award in mathematics. He was nominated by his math teacher, Theresa Vest.

Casity H. Reneau, an eighth grader at Snyder Junior High, received awards in mathematics and band. He was nominated by Cathi McFaul, band instructor, and Mrs. Vest.

Smith is the son of William J. and Cheryl Smith of Snyder and the grandson of Jack and Justine Smith of Lampasas and Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Barhart of Odessa.

Reneau is the son of Walter and Kristina Reneau of Snyder and the grandson of Don and Trudy Hale of Duncan, Okla., Betty Reneau of Odessa; and Gene Reneau of San Angelo.

State, school district partnership eyed

AUSTIN (AP) — School districts that levy local taxes at a high enough rate and have lower-than-average property wealth could get state help in repairing or building classrooms under a bill that has won preliminary House approval.

"Rep. David Swinford, R-Dumas, described the proposed program as "a partnership between the state and school districts."

"This is not a free lunch," he said.

The bill only could take effect if voters approve a proposed constitutional amendment on the May 1 state ballot that provides for $750 million in state bonds for school construction needs.

Another version of the bill already passed the Senate. If the House gives this one final approval, a conference committee is expected to work out differences.

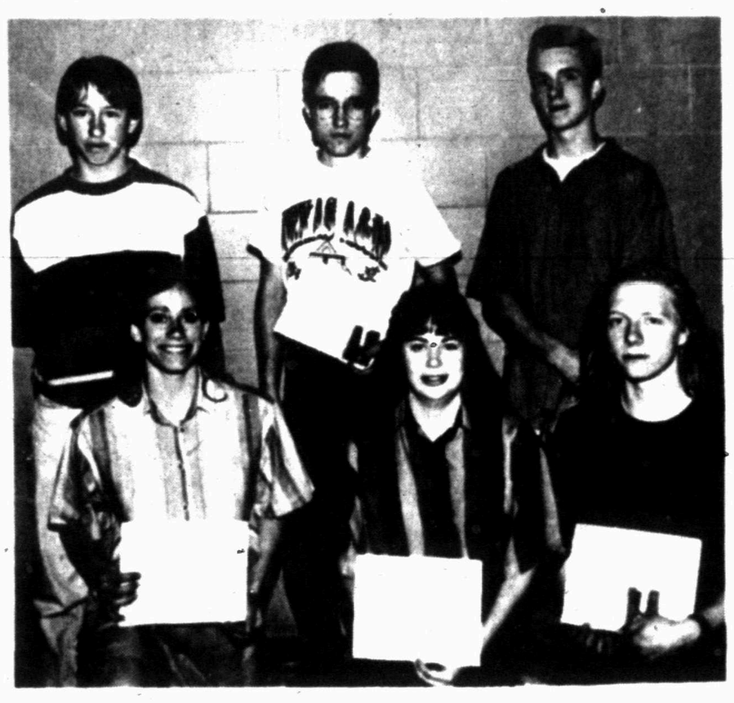

Under the House bill, a school district could participate in the facilities program if its taxable property value per student was less than the state average this school year, and its effective property tax per $100 valuation was at least $1.16. That's 90 percent of the state average, said Rep. Steve ogden, R-Bryan.

A project submitted to the state could not total more than $9 million, and the state could not pay more than 75 percent of the project's cost. The school district would have to pay at least 25 percent.

About 500 of Texas' 1,048 school districts would qualify for the program, Swinford said. "We tried to take the money and go as far as we could," he said.

Of the $750 million, $150 million would go toward renovation or repair of facilities that violate health and safety standards; $150 million to improve facilities that don't violate standards, but are inadequate; $250 million for new facilities to relieve overcrowding and $200 million for new facilities to accommodate expected growth, according to a House Research Organization analysis of the bill.

draws trumps, plays three rounds of spades, ruffing the last in hand, and leads a diamond to the king. When that wins, he ruffs dummy's last spade before playing a second diamond. East wins and is endplayed into conceding a ruff-and-discard, on which South's last diamond disappears.

However, East set a trap. After winning trick one with the heart ace, he switched to the diamond jack. West won with the ace and returned a diamond.

If East had a singleton diamond, the contract was impossible to make. And if West began with A-Q-x of diamonds, why would he win trick two? He would play low, establishing two certain tricks in the suit. However, declarer fell for the ruse. He played low from the dummy at trick three, allowing East to score his diamond queen to defeat the contract.

The English day of the year

This is St. George's Day in England, commemorating the patron saint who supposedly killed a dragon.

How do you view the English? Truman Capote — many years ago — claimed that the most dangerous thing in the world is to make a friend of an Englishman, because he'll come to sleep in your closet rather than spend 10 shillings on a hotel. Less uncomplimentary was George Mikes, who said that an Englishman, even if he is alone, forms an orderly line of one.

Today's deal occurred during an English intercounty tournament played late last year.

It looks as though five clubs must make. Suppose East wins the heart lead and switches to a club. Declarer

Continental deal appealed by bank

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Investors whose bonds are backed by some of Continental Airlines' jets and engines appealed on Thursday a Bankruptcy Court judge's approval of the carrier's reorganization plan.

The bondholders say the jets and engines are worth $117 less than the face value of their bonds and want Continental to make up the difference.

In a filing in U.S. District Court, NationsBank appealed U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judge Helen Balick's decision to approve the plan and give the bondholders nothing to make up the lost value in the collateral.

L'land hosts SHS in district contest

The Snyder Tigers are at the point now, that if they're going to [illegible] come in the next two weeks when they play their final four games.

The Tigers, 7-16 in all games an 1-5 within District 2-4A, start the crucial stretch Saturday at Levelland, following a disappointing 6-2 home loss to Lamesa on Tuesday.

Reagan Key is the expected starter for the Tigers against the Lobos.

Key has worked a total of 40 1-3 innings on the season, including a complete game two-hitter to beat Lubbock Estacado a week ago.

Offensive standouts for the Tigers include Tuesday's losing pitcher Raymond House, who managed two of Snyder's five hits against Lamesa, one a sixth-inning triple to set up the Tigers' first run, and Key, who has hit safely in three of his last seven at-bats, including a single that drove in House in the Lamesa game.

Levelland is coming off a 14-4 loss to Estacado on Saturday.

The Lobos enter with a 9-11 overall record and a 2-4 mark in district games, which includes a 5-1 win over SHS in Snyder.

The Lobos' chief threats are Chris Ochoa, who tripled against Estacado Saturday, and Blake Watkins, who slapped a double.

The projected Levelland starter is Steven Ochoa.

The Tigers will be on the road again Tuesday to face league-leading Frenship, then return home Saturday, May 1 to battle Plainview. Estacado will visit Moffett Field May 4 in the regular-season finale for SHS.

Time running out for Mavs

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks hope to escape the dubious distinction of sharing the worst record in NBA history with the 1972-73 Philadelphia 76ers. They're running out of time.

Only two games remain in the regular season — tonight in Reunion Arena against the Minnesota Timberwolves and Saturday night in Houston against the Houston Rockets.

"The clock is ticking," Mavs guard Derek Harper said. "We don't want to be in the record book with the 76ers. We have to win the 10th game."

At the end of February, the Mavericks had only four victories — winning on an average of once a month — and no one gave them much chance of escaping the ignominy of worst NBA record ever.

But then No. 1 draft pick Jim Jackson ended his long holdout, and his signing helped pick up the Mavericks' sagging fortunes.

The Mavericks' best chance to avoid the tie with Philadelphia appears to be tonight's game at home against Minnesota, which has the NBA's second-worst record, just 18 victories, rather than against Midwest Division winner Houston on the Rockets' home court.

It's been a bizarre and bad season for Dallas, which started the year by firing coach Dick Motta and replacing him with Adubato.

Then owner Donald Carter got into a salary dispute with Jackson.

Finally, Carter signed Jackson and Adubato's replacement, Quinn Buckner, on the same day in March.

Jackson got the same amount of money he would have received had he played the entire season.

Also, Carter didn't get immediate help from Buckner, who finished out the year as a broadcaster for NBC.

Jackson has been the solid player expected of the sixth pick in the draft. His passing and scoring ability turned the Mavs into a victory threat, at least in their home games.

"Jackson has played well, considering his late start," said Gar Heard, who took over as interim coach after Adubato's firing.

His Ohio State teams were usually contending for the Big Ten title.

"Sure, the losing hurts, but I try not to think about it," Jackson said. "I'm a rookie and I'm still learning."

Youth baseball results

LITTLE LEAGUE

White Sox 10, Cubs 0

Winning pitcher Michael Childs scattered five hits Thursday as the White Sox blanked the Cubs.

Childs and Jacob Hodges were the top offensive contributors for the Sox, each slapping a double and a single. Sam Bedell and Jacob Rodriguez each rapped a two-sacker and Josh Ward and A.J. Torres each lifted a single.

Cory Mandrell rapped two base hits for the Cubs. Trey Gorman doubled and Cory McDorman and Justin McNair knocked a single apiece.

Yankees 18, Rangers 9

Clay Berryman slammed a homer and a single to lead the Yankees to their second straight victory.

Brad Roemisch added a double and a base hit, Fernando Candonoza had a double and single, and Paul Camp, James Allen Shields and Drew Wall each laced a base hit for the winners.

The Rangers were limited to three hits by winning pitcher Brett Gibson, a Brian Beights double and singles from Adrian Vanderpool and Ralph Roman.

Cody Holt was Thursday's loser.

FARM LEAGUE

Yankees 10, Rangers 5

Dane Crunk homered, Clay Preston contributed a triple and a base rap and winning pitcher John Martinez singled to lead the 2-0 Yanks past the Rangers Thursday.

The Rangers, now 1-1, were paced by doubles from Reid Johnson and Tim Collins and a Chase McJimsey single.

Cubs 10, White Sox 5

The Cubs took a 4-0 first inning lead and never looked back.

Hits from the winning squad included two base hits and a two-bagger from Jarred McMillen, winning pitcher Heath Pinkerton's double and single, a pair of singles by Dusty Stone and a base rap each by Jeremy Goodlett and Jose Olvera.

LaBow Rivers had twin doubles to lead the Sox. Teammate Billy Burleson knocked two singles and James Villareal, Joey Rocha and Lyndell Lee each had a hit.

Chris Stahl accepted the loss for the White Sox.

8-9 Year-Old League

White Sox 16, Cubs 15

The White Sox hammered out 18 hits and the Cubs managed 20 in Thursday's 8-9 Year-Old League tilt.

Big hits for the winners included Cade Tucker's homer and single, a round-tripper by Thomas Whitt, a triple and a single from Adam Owen and a pair of extra-base hits by Dustin Whitson.

Also Chris Thames, Jason Guynes and Adam Jones had a double and a single apiece, John Gainer doubled, Heath Conner rapped a pair of hits and Rudy Martinez chipped in a single.

Adrian Perez homered and added a single to lead the Cubs' attack. Daniel Medrano slapped a pair of two-sackers, Tommy Hull doubled and singled and Horacio DePaz drilled an extra-base hit.

Eric Dickerhoff and Jeffrey Flentge each punched three hits, Manuel Tarango and Josh Mendoza popped two singles apiece and Billy Joe Pena, Stephen Crain, Will Davis and Andrew Bane laced a base hit each.

The Sox are 1-0 and the Cubs sport a 1-1 mark.

Giants 11, Cardinals 10

The Giants moved to 2-0 on the season behind three doubles by Wes Martin, a pair of two-baggers by Jason Williams, a double and single from Shawn Roemisch and a double each from Justin McBroom and Jon Medrano.

Larry Delapaz rapped two hits and Brandon Cox, Tyler Polland, Tyler Frey, Jeremy Kildow and Joshua Key each nailed a single in the winning cause.

Zach Starnes homered and singled to lead the Cardinals. Tanner Beard and Dustin Olsin rapped a pair of doubles each, John David Chandler hammered a two-base hit, Shawn Adkins added two singles and Jonathan Guy, Brady Reed, T.J. Jones and Joshua Knox knocked a single each.

C-C JV visits IHS Bulldogs

The Ira Bulldogs will take a break from the just-started District 4-A baseball schedule to tangle with the Colorado City JV today at 5 p.m. at the IHS field.

Ira brings a 3-7 record into today's tilt, including a 15-5 loop win over Scurry County rival Hermleigh on Tuesday.

Senior Wyatt Webster, Tuesday's winner, is the projected starter for the Bulldogs.

Ira will resume the district chase Tuesday with a visit to Loraine.

Hermleigh is idle until Tuesday, when the Cards entertain Westbrook.

WTC claims top honors

ABILENE — Riding the momentum from last week's big first-place win at the WTC NIRA Rodeo, the Western Texas College rodeo team grabbed top honors in bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, and bull riding in Thursday's opening performance of the Hardin-Simmons University Rodeo.

In addition, the WTC women's team, currently in third place in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association's Southwest Region, gathered firsts in the barrel race and goat tying.

Troy Thomson scored a 74 to grab the early bareback lead by just two points over teammate Travis Whiteside, who takes second place into tonight's second performance.

Thad Little is the leader in saddle bronc riding, earning a 79 Thursday. Western Texas' Trey Griffin took a 66 for third.

Bull rider Dwayne Evans scored a 76 in first-round action, vaulting to the top of the standings here.

Leslie Greer paces the WTC womens' squad, snagging first place in both barrel racing and goat tying Thursday.

Her 17.96 around the cloverleaf course set the early barrel race standard while her 9.2 sets the pace in goat tying.

The H-SU Rodeo continues with tonight's 8 o'clock performance, Saturday's 2 p.m. matinee and finals, set for Saturday at 8 p.m., at Carl Myers Arena.

The finals will feature the top 10 finishers in each event.

Five million Americans are still seeking work

week to pay for the latest extension of federal emergency jobless benefits, but the unemployed former library instructor won't get any.

Collard, 50, who lives in Jonesboro, Ill., is one several million jobless Americans no longer eligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

Contrary to a widespread perception — at least among those with jobs — benefit payments do not continue indefinitely even if people are unable to find new work.

The states administer the regular programs that provide assistance for up to 26 weeks for people who lose their jobs through no fault of their own.

shortage of jobs, Congress voted in 1991 for a federal emergency extension of benefits to the jobless for up to 26 more weeks if needed while they continued to seek employment.

The continuing slack job growth resulted in three more extensions, including [illegible]. The Senate approved on Wednesday and the House on Thursday a $4 billion measure to pay for the latest extension through next fall.

However, the extensions apply only to the program itself not to the individual job-seeker. The extension is a one-time — assistance to the jobless who have exhausted their state aid. Once those additional weeks are over, unemployed workers no longer are eligible for benefits.

"If people use up their state [illegible] federal benefits and use those up, there is in effect nothing left for them," said Markley Roberts, an AFL-CIO economist. "They fall out of the income support system."

"There are at least 5 million [illegible] some kind of income support and are not getting unemployment compensation," Roberts estimated.

Labor Secretary Robert B. Reich, whose department oversees the programs, agreed in an interview that "there is not really a safety net" for those exhausting their benefits.

Reich has been leading the Clinton administration's efforts for expanded and improved job training to help the unemployed find jobs, but acknowledged his efforts would not provide any further income support for the long-term unemployed.

Tailhook report implicates 117 officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's Tailhook report today implicated 117 officers for sexual misdeeds or conduct unbecoming an officer and found 51 had lied during investigations into the 1991 incident.

"We sincerely regret that this incident brought such discredit on our entire service," said Adm. Frank Kelso, chief of naval operations.

The report, conducted by the Pentagon's inspector general, found that 83 women and 7 men were assaulted during the three nights of the aviators convention in Las Vegas.

The report was released today at the Pentagon.

"Many attendees viewed the annual conference as a type of "free fire zone" wherein they could act indiscriminately and without fear of censure or retribution in matters of sexual conduct or drunkenness," the report stated.

"I don't know what they meant by a 'free-fire zone,'" Kelso said during a briefing.

Of the 117 officers implicated, the report said 23 were determined to have participated in indecent assaults and an additional 23 in indecent exposure, the report stated.

"Some of the Navy's most senior officers were knowledgeable as to the excesses practiced at Tailhook '91 and by their inaction, those officers served to condone and even encourage the type of behavior that occurred there," the report stated.

The report included a variety of photographs of the "general atmosphere of debauchery" that took place in the suites frequented by Navy and Marine Corps top pilots and other officers.

One photograph showed a naked stripper straddling the head of a male officer as others watched. All faces were blacked out of the photo.

The report said all the cases had been referred to the Navy and-or the Department of Justice "for appropriate action."

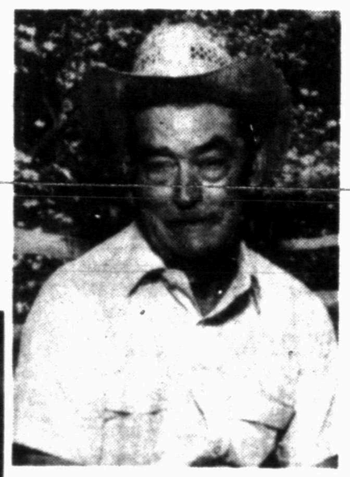

The report added that further referrals could be made "as a result of our continuing investigation into the indecent assaults."

"It should be noted that the number of individuals involved in all types of misconduct or other inappropriate behavior was more widespread than these figures would suggest," the report said.

"Furthermore, several hundred other officers were aware of the misconduct and chose to ignore it," the report said.

JOHN D. WORTHAM

John D. Wortham

1923-1993

Services are set for 4 p.m. Saturday in the Calvary Baptist Church for John D. Wortham, 69, of Snyder with the Rev. Larry McAden, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will follow in the Snyder Cemetery.

Mr. Wortham died Thursday at his residence following a lengthy illness.

Born on Sept. 15, 1923, in Amity, Ark., he married Helen Carroll on Sept. 9, 1963, in Big Spring. He lived most of his life in Snyder and worked at Snyder Cemetery for 27 years before ill health forced his retirement.

Survivors include his wife, Helen Wortham of the home; one son, Ronnie Gasway of Oklahoma City, Okla.; four daughters, Wanda Cody, Lavearn Welch, both of Snyder, Lillian Vails and Beth Freeman, both of Oklahoma City, Okla.; two sisters, Mary Leatherwood and Beulah Morgan, both of Snyder; 12 grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Thomas Cooper

1903-1993

ABILENE — Services are set for 2 p.m. Saturday in the Fairmont United Methodist Church for Thomas G. Cooper, 89, who died Thursday at his home in Abilene. Burial will follow in the Rough Creek Cemetery near Novice in Coleman County.

A former resident of Snyder and Scurry County, Mr. Cooper was born in New Mexico. He married Annie Farmer on Oct. 5, 1929 in Novice. She died in 1992.

He lived in Scurry and Mitchell counties from 1943-1954. He then lived in Snyder until 1961 when he moved to Abilene. He was a farmer and worked for Leon Goswick Oilfield Service Co. before moving to Abilene.

He later was a custodian for McMurry University and the Abilene Public Schools before retiring. He was a member of the Fairmont United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a son, Guinn Cooper of Abilene; three daughters, Reita Hart of Abilene, Jo Williams of Texas City and Nan Lampson of Houston; two brothers, Malcolm Cooper of Abilene and Mel Cooper of Albuquerque, N.M.; a sister, Alma Lee Scranton of Longview, Wash.; 18 grandchildren; several great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Medical examiner: cult victims show no sign of gunfire so far

WACO, Texas (AP) — Most of the 47 bodies retrieved from the smouldering ruins that once was David Koresh's dominion will be X-rayed today and autopsied Saturday, a medical examiner says.

But Darrell Thompson says the radiology tests will not settle the debate over whether some of the bodies had been shot before Monday's blaze.

"They will not show whether there were bullet holes, just if there are metallic objects in the bodies," said Thompson, of the Tarrant County medical examiner's office, which is handling the case.

"The metal could be a bullet or a fracture from a bullet, but it also could be any type of foreign object — buttons, zippers or other debris. We can't tell from the X-rays."

Dr. Nizam Peerwani, Tarrant County's head medical examiner, on Thursday dismissed reports by Carl Stern of the Justice Department in Washington, who said three bodies had been shot.

"There is absolutely no evidence of that as far as we are concerned at this stage," Peerwani said.

The Justice Department assertions raised speculation that some cult members may have murdered the others or the group committed suicide together before Monday's fire that ended the 51-day standoff.

Stern said it wasn't clear if they had committed suicide, were shot by fellow cultists or were hit by ammunition exploding in the fire.

"I am not sure where they received that information," Peerwani said.

Stern defended his statement Thursday, saying Peerwani's medical team has only just started its investigation.

"They have completed the autopsy on one body," Stern said.

Department of Public Safety spokesman Mike Cox said some children were among the bodies found in the torched graveyard. Peerwani said most of the bodies were "soft and crumbling."

But, Peerwani said, none have been identified.

Koresh's prized Camaro survived blazing inferno

WACO, Texas (AP) — The raging fire that destroyed the Branch Davidians' sprawling compound spared the possession doomsday prophet David Koresh held dearly — his prized black Camaro.

The 1960s model car, with a 427-cubic-inch engine, sat parked on the grass Thursday near a mesquite tree along the rutted road that led up to Koresh's fortress.

Now, the city-block sized complex where Koresh prepared his followers for the coming of Armageddon, is a charred graveyard for dozens of cult members. The Mount Carmel compound's sand-colored walls are nothing but blackened scraps.

Koresh and 85 followers are believed to have died in a fire Monday that broke out as the FBI attempted to force a surrender by using armored vehicles to punch holes and pump tear gas inside their compound. Nine survived, six of whom claim the FBI started the blaze. The FBI says Koresh commanded a fiery mass suicide.

The Camaro had been parked closer to the compound, but a tank dragged the car away last week as part of the FBI's efforts to clear the immediate area. The FBI said Koresh became angry when it was removed and often asked about its condition.

Police note four arrests

Snyder police made four drinking-related arrests Thursday evening.

Police responded to a complaint at Snyder Day Care at 6:29 p.m. where they arrested a 22-year-old man for public intoxication. Also arrested for public intoxication were a 52-year-old man in Club 250 at 10:17 p.m., a 34-year-old man at the East Side Dairy Queen at 10:42 p.m., and a 28-year-old man from the 4000 block of College Avenue at 10:47 p.m.

At 2:15 p.m. Thursday, Snyder Daily News circulation manager Willie Davis notified police of the theft of a newspaper rack from Whataburger. A report for Class B theft was filed.

Officers also filed two reports for family violence in reference to domestic disputes at 10:05 a.m. and 11:32 p.m. No charges were filed and no one was arrested.

Watchman, a contemporary and southern gospel group, will be in concert at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at Union United Methodist Church, five miles west of Snyder on Highway 180.

Bush praises Ozal

HOUSTON (AP) — Former president George Bush says he remembers deceased Turkish president Turgut Ozal as a dynamo who offered faithful support as an ally during the Persian Gulf War.

"There was no stauncher friend of the United States, no one that I turned to more for support and certainly for advice, then President Ozal," Bush said late Thursday.

Ozal, 66, died of heart failure Saturday in Ankara, Turkey.

Diverticular disease is age-related

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please provide information on diverticulosis.

DEAR READER: As we age, we often develop small outpouchings or sacs in the lining of the colon. These cause no symptoms but occasionally become infected (diverticulitis), leading to abdominal pain, cramps, distension and tenderness, requiring antibiotics. Thus, diverticulosis is harmless; diverticulitis is more serious. There is no cure for diverticulosis.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Diverticular Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I accidentally swallowed a small amount of gasoline from a car many years ago. I've read that once a petroleum oil product enters the lungs, it never disappears. Could this substance still be in my system?

DEAR READER: Gasoline evaporates quickly and leaves no residue in the system. However, acute hydrocarbon poisoning will cause choking, coughing, lethargy, convulsions and coma. Inasmuch as you had no symptoms following the ingestion, the gasoline now poses no risk to your health.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please discuss fibromyalgia.

DEAR READER: This is a complex disorder, characterized by muscle aches, tenderness and stiffness. The cause is unknown.

Fibromyalgia predominantly affects females and is intensified by stress, fatigue, exposure to cold, and infections, such as viral illnesses. A substantial number of these patients are anxious, competitive and depressed. Symptoms are often worsened by occupational or recreational strain.

There is no diagnostic test for fibromyalgia. The disease is suspected from the medical history and confirmed when tests for other disorders, such as polymyalgia and lupus, are normal.

There is no specific treatment for fibromyalgia, although aspirin and other anti-inflammatory drugs (such as Motrin) lessen symptoms. Some patients respond to physical therapy, support groups, counseling, and antidepressant medicine.

'Vote Yes' campaign stepped up

AUSTIN (AP) — Proponents of the three school finance proposals facing voters on the statewide ballot are stepping up their campaign to urge Texans to "Vote Yes" on May 1.

Margaret Justus, spokeswoman for the Save Our Schools Campaign, said $1.6 million had been raised for the campaign, which now includes two television commercials, outdoor billboards, direct mail fliers and phone banks.

She said Gov. Ann Richards and state lawmakers will be traveling throughout Texas next week to pitch the proposals.

"We're real confident...It looks good," Ms. Justus said. University president and chancellors from across the state Thursday endorsed the school finance proposals.

"Those of us in universities cannot fulfill our responsibilities if the public schools cannot fulfill theirs," said Alexander F. Schilt, chancellor of the University of Houston system.

"As always in a perfect world, our choice isn't between a perfect good and a perfect bad, it's between going forward and going backward. And in that regard, our choice on May 1 is clear," he said, "Texas must go forward."

On the May 1 ballot are:

-Proposition 1, to allow redistribution of some school property tax money from wealthier to poorer school districts. The measure is meant to meet a Texas Supreme Court order that lawmakers equalize school funding.

-Prop. 2, to prohibit the state from imposing additional mandates on a school district after Dec. 31 unless the state funds the requirements or approve them by two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

-Prop. 3, which would provide up to $750 million in state bonds to help school districts build and renovate facilities.

Kurtis McCathern on his way to nationals

Kurtis McCathern, Snyder High School junior, qualified for nationals in Lincoln-Douglas Debate last weekend at the Tall Cotton District Tournament at Lubbock Christian University in Lubbock.

This is Snyder's first year to belong to the National Forensic League (NFL). Irene Masters is the school's debate coach. McCathern is also the alternate in foreign extemporaneous speaking since he placed third in that event as well.

The Tall Cotton District composed of New Mexico and West Texas will send 14 students to compete in seven events.

McCathern was the only undefeated debater going into round 6 of the double elimination tournament. He lost round six, but won round seven to qualify for national competition.

Alan Williams of Hobbs also qualified for national competition. He is from Tall Cotton also.

The topic debated was resolved: that the principle of majority rule ought to be valued more than the principal of minority rights.

The double elimination extemporaneous event went six rounds before the top national debaters were chosen. To qualify to attend the district qualifying tournament, a student must accumulate 250 points by winning tournament events throughout the year.

McCathern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCathern.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WELCOME, STRANGER!

THE WORD "HOSPITALITY" STEMS FROM THE GREEK, MEANING LOVE OF STRANGERS! TO BIBLICAL PEOPLES THE OBLIGATION TO ENTERTAIN WAS A SACRED TRUST (LEV. 19:34) AND WAYFARERS WERE OFFERED FAR MORE THAN MERE BED AND BOARD....

...EVERY KINDNESS WAS LAVISHED UPON THEM—THE BEST FOODS AND WINES, FELLOWSHIP, GIFTS, PROTECTION—THE LATTER SOMETIMES CARRIED TO EXTREMES—WITNESS LOT! TO SAVE HIS GUESTS FROM HARM, HE OFFERED HIS UNMARRIED DAUGHTERS TO THE SODOMITE RABBLE CLAMORING AT HIS DOOR! (GENESIS 19:6-9)

PAUL'S LETTER TO THE HEBREWS (13:2) ACCURATELY DESCRIBES THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT BELIEFS REGARDING HOSPITALITY:

"BE NOT FORGETFUL TO ENTERTAIN STRANGERS FOR THEREBY SOME HAVE ENTERTAINED ANGELS UNAWARES."
