13 More Jap Ships Sunk

16 Damaged, 141 Nip Planes Destroyed In Pacific Foray

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, June 13 (AP)—Powerful American carrier task forces raiding Japanese bases in the Marianas, only 1,500 miles from Tokyo, sank 13 enemy ships, damaged 16 others and destroyed 141 Japanese planes in three days, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific commander in chief reported today.

Four of the Japanese ships sunk were combatant vessels and five of the damaged ships also were war craft.

Against that heavy total of destruction dealt out to the hard-pressed enemy air and surface forces, American losses in the assault totaled only 15 airplanes and 15 flight personnel.

Strong efforts apparently were made by the Japanese Air force to halt the attack. On Saturday, the first day of the assault, 124 enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Many Destroyed In Air

The communique added: "A large majority were destroyed in the air." In that battle 11 Navy Hellcat fighters were shot down. Eight pilots were lost.

Again on Sunday, Japanese interception attempts were beaten off and 16 enemy fighters destroyed.

Two small cargo ships were sunk Sunday by American planes attacking Saipan. There, also, a small oiler was attacked and sunk.

Later Sunday a convoy of Japanese ships attempting to escape from Saipan was attacked by American planes. Ten of the enemy vessels including a destroyer and three corvettes were sunk and another damaged.

YANKS PUT DROME AT MOKMER INTO OPERATION

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Wednesday, June 14 (AP)—Mokmer airdrome on Biak island in the Schouten group has been put into operation, General Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Infantry troops on Biak pushed westward toward Borokoe airstrip as airplanes started using Mokmer Tuesday.

Mokmer strip is approximately 880 miles from the Philippines, closest point to that enemy stronghold now held by the Allies.

Americans landed on Biak island off Dutch New Guinea May 27, and took the important airstrip June 7 after hard fighting.

Japanese raided Biak Sunday night with six planes, damaging an American destroyer and causing several casualties on land.

Mitchell medium bombers sank four small Jap merchantmen off Manok-Wari, Dutch New Guinea,

Nazis Dig In At Tip Of Big Lake

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, June 13 (AP)—Remnants of the German 14th Army fleeing northwestward from Rome have dug in before the road junction town of Bolsena, on the northeastern tip of the lake of that name, and for the last 48 hours have been offering stiff resistance to the Allied Fifth Army, a front dispatch said tonight.

Bolsena, 60 miles from Rome and eight miles from the important center of Orvieta, is cradled in the halfmoon of commanding hills, and the Nazis have been pouring anti-tank and machine-gun fire at the American tanks and infantry since Sunday.

The enemy's position commands the only approach to Bolsena by highway.

Allied forces driving up the western shore of Lake Bolsena, a large, beautiful body of water, had smashed through a makeshift enemy defense line and again threw the Germans into retreat.

The pursuing Allies captured Valentano, highway junction on the western shore of the lake, and pressed on toward Latera, four miles farther north. In a sharp and bloody engagement east of Orbetello, on the Tyrrhenian coast 71 miles from Rome, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces captured 142 prisoners from the German 162nd Turcoman division and killed 100.

Clark told his troops they had broken the German armies opposing them in Italy and said "I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart."

On the eastern side of Lake Bolsena, South African armored forces of the Eighth Army ran into a stiff battle for Bagno Regio, five miles from the important center of Orvieto.

East of Rome the Eighth Army had all but cleared highway No. 5, the broad transpensinula route leading from the capital to the port of Pescara on the Adriatic

Dallas Pastor Named Bishop

TULSA, June 13 (AP)—Dr. Angie Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, Dallas, tonight was elected a bishop, by delegates attending the church's south central jurisdictional conference here.

Selection of Dr. Smith came on the second ballot and brought a brother team into the council of bishops for the third time in Methodist history. Dr. William Augie Smith is a brother of Bishop A. Frank Smith whose jurisdiction comprises the Houston area of the south central conference.

Native of Texas

Dr. William Angie Smith, who is a native of Elgin, Tex., is a graduate of Georgetown and Columbia universities. He also has honorary degrees from Centenary and McMurray colleges; Southern Methodist university, Union Theological seminary and the Vanderbilt University School of Religion.

He was ordained in 1921 and before going to Dallas, held pastorates in Louisiana, the District of Columbia and Alabama.

His election came on the second ballot after he had fallen short of the required three-fifths majority on the first vote.

Balloting for another new bishop was begun immediately after selection of Dr. Smith, it being necessary to fill two vacancies within the conference, the first created by the approaching retirement of Bishop John Calvin Broomfield of St. Louis and the second by the death of Bishop Charles L. Mead of Kansas City.

The vote for the second bishop was sealed and will be tabulated at tomorrow's session .

Moscow Radio Urges Germans To Revolt

(By The United Press)

The people of Germany were urged today to revolt against Hitler's rule and to put an end to "this lost war" in a proclamation broadcast by radio Moscow and recorded by U. S. government monitors.

Declaring that "war on several fronts has come about, the hopelessness of which Hitler himself once upon a time clearly described," the proclamation asserted that "the German people and the armed forces are entering the final phase."

Nazis Say Whole Northern Front In Russia Blazing Into Action; Finns Routed

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Wednesday, June 14. — The spearhead of the Red Army's northward drive into Finland plunged to within 30 miles of the important port of Viipuri during fierce fighting Tuesday, Moscow reported early today, and enemy broadcasts said Russia's whole northern front from the Arctic to the White sea and Gulf of Finland was blazing into action.

Finnish and German radio reports said the Russians were attacking in the Lisa sector between Murmansk and Petsamo and that there was strong reconnaissance activity in the Kandalaksha and Loukhi sectors some 250 miles southward. Berlin also asserted the Russians were striking southwest of Narva.

Moscow Largely Quiet

Kandalaksha is on the shore of the White sea and Loukhi is farther south on the railway from Archangel across Finland to the Gulf of Bothnia.

Moscow's midnight supplement to the regular nightly communique concerned itself only with the fighting on the Karelian isthmus.

The Russians, already through the second belt of fortifications guarding the approaches to the Mannerheim line, now are within 20 miles of this main defense barrier across the isthmus, the Moscow bulletins indicated.

(The Finnish radio has warned civilians in Helsinki to leave the capital and ordered those already evacuated not to return during the present state of emergency, said a British broadcast reported by NBC.)

The Russian supplement mentioned the use of planes in the onslaught against the Finns, saying "our aircraft in unfavorable weather conditions continued to strike at communications and Finnish reserves coming to the front."

Mighty Operation

Other Moscow accounts of the great northward drive by the troops of Col. Gen. Leonid A. Govorov were more expansive and called the attack by artillery, tanks, infantry and planes one of the mightiest combined operations the Soviets have yet attempted.

Finnish troops were fleeing so fast before the Red Army's advance that the Moscow radio said towns were being abandoned intact and there were predictions Finland would be knocked out of the war by July 1.

Izvestia, official Soviet government newspaper, said the Finns were surrendering in ever-growing numbers.

German military commentators showed a tendency to deprecate the Russian drive against Finland as a mask for bigger operations yet to get under way elsewhere along the front.

Bond Purchases Pickng Up Here

Bond buying picked up considerably in Lubbock Tuesday—the second day of the Fifth War Loan drive.

While nothing like a complete figure was available, reports from most of the issuing agencies was that voluntary buying definitely was on the increase after an extremely slow opening day.

At Citizens National bank, for example, Series E sales from the first of June totaled $27,375—and most of these were bought after the drive started officially Monday. It was explained, however, that all sales since June 1 are credited to drive quotas. Sales of all issues reported at Citizens were $181,645, including the Series E total.

NEGRO RALLY TONIGHT

Variety will spice the program for the Fifth War Loan bond rally in Booker T. Washington negro park tonight at 8:45 o'clock, according to announcement Tuesday by Dr. J. A. Chatman, negro chairman.

The negro band from South Plains Army Air field is to play an hour's concert program. Negro Boy Scout troops Nos. 18 and 19 are to give first aid demonstrations. And jitterbugs will be invited to participate in a contest. Brief patriotic addresses also are on the program.

The rally was scheduled for last Wednesday night, but was rained out. Mrs. Grace Dyess, superintendent of the city recreation department, is cooperating in arranging the program.

White people are invited to attend.

Other Bright Spots

The county's quota in the drive is $4,685,000, of which $1,110,000 are for Series E.

Other bright spots in Tuesday's reports included:

Announcement that opening day Series E investments at Lubbock National bank were $6,000.

Demos Lose Actual Majority In House

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—For the first time in 13 years, the Democrats lost today an actual majority of the House membership, with the election of a Republican in the 19th Illinois district.

The new House lineup became 216 Democrats, 212 Republicans and 4 minor party members. Thus, the Democrats have exactly half the membership, their numbers equalling the Republicans and minor party members combined. There are three vacancies.

Should the Republicans take control, through the fall elections, Martin is slated to the speakership, the seat now held by Democrat Sam Rayburn of Texas.

The Democrats lost their majority with the election today of Rolla C. McMillen, Decatur, Ill., attorney, to fill the 19th district vacancy caused by the death of William H. Wheat, Republican. No Democrat sought the nomination.

Life Is Sweet, Boys Find After Return From "Death"

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, May 31 (Delayed)—High in the Alban hills, behind German lines, this is a company of reborn men today—soldiers who had prepared to die last night and were filled with amazement when dawn found them still alive and untouched.

During the night we slipped through enemy lines without firing a shot, crawling, climbing, scrambling 15 miles to gain three as the crow flies.

Divided into companies each on its own, the rest of the regiment did the same in a history-making infiltration to stop the Germans in Velletri at the foot of the hills and crack the last main line before Rome.

But until dawn it was a case of whether we would be the trappers or the trapped. It seems slightly melodramatic now in the morning sunlight, but it didn't seem so last night.

At sunset the soldiers still cracked grim jokes plodding along the road but they had less and less stomach for them. "I wonder how the Rangers felt before Cisterna," said an already weary doughboy. "Shut up," snapped someone behind him.

Then the dust settled deeper

Democratic Party Has A New Boss!

A man named Sidney Hillman, who came to this country from Lithuania at the age of 20, is today the boss of the Democratic party, says Washington Correspondent Ray Tucker.

Hillman is dictator of the CIO's "Political Action committee"; and the president of a clothing workers union which has a membership largely composed of foreign-born, or the children of foreign-born. Some years ago, Hillman made a trip to Russia, returned and wrote glowingly of the Russian system of government. He denies he is a Communist, or a "fellow-traveler." However, he is a power in the "American Labor party" in New York a left-wing organization.

Widely Known Minister Dies

Rev. D. C. Ross, 92, a pioneer West Texas Methodist minister widely known over this area and especially in this immediate vicinity, died Tuesday afternoon at his home, 1924 Twenty-second street, after a lingering illness of many months.

Born Nov. 19, 1852, Mr. Ross had been preaching in West Texas since 1902. He received his ministerial license at the age of 19 and became a trail blazer for Christianity as a preacher of the faith. He was a man of strong faith and convictions and always preached in small churches at small pay.

Helped Organize Asbury

First contributor to the erection of the Mexican Methodist church, Mr. Ross was one of the prime movers behind the organization of the Asbury church here and continued working as one of its most loyal and outstanding backers. In 1915 he retired from active ministry and moved to Lubbock to live with his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Saunders, only survivor of the five childern. Mrs. Ross died here Aug. 22, 1922.

He began his ministry in Arkansas, and his service in the West Texas conference when he moved to Texas in 1902. In 1910 he came to the Northwest Texas conference and was stationed at Turkey, later at Abernathy. He held pastorates in Junction City, Water Valley, Fredonia, and Rochelle. Super-

Grim Notice Is Served On Nazis

Normandy Termed Only A Beginning

By HOWARD FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13— General Dwight D. Eisenhower served grim notice on the Nazis tonight that more invasions of Europe were in preparation.

"The Nazis," he said in a report to President Roosevelt, "will be forced to fight throughout the per-

FRENCH "TAKE OVER"

ALGIERS, June 13 (AP)—The French Committee of National Liberation, serving notice that it expects the Allies to respect its authority within France, named civil and military administrators today for liberated regions of Normandy.

Francois Coulet was appointed "regional commissar of the republic for the region of Rouen" to handle civilian administration and Col. Pierre de Chevigne was named "commander of the Third Military region" (Normandy).

imeter of their stronghold, daily expanding their dwindling resources until overwelmed by the hopelessness of their position."

The report of the supreme Allied invasion commander, made public at Mr. Roosevelt's news conference, spoke of the drive into Normandy as "a mere beginning."

Only A Foothold Yet

"Although the cross-channel landing operation was attended," Eisenhower said, "by hazards and difficulties greater, I believe than have ever before faced an invading army, this initial success has given us only a foothold upon northwestern France. Through the opening thus made, and through others yet to come, the flood of our fighting strength must be poured.

"Our operations, vast and important as they are, are only part of the far larger pattern of a combined assault against the fortress of Germany by the great Russian armies from the east and our forces from the Mediterranean."

First Vital Step

Eisenhower spoke of the breaching of the beach defenses of Normandy as "the first vital step leading to the decisive battle of Europe," and spoke highly of the gallantry of the American, British and Canadian forces involved. In a message to the troops, made public at supreme headquarters of the Allied expeditionary forces, he said the "accomplishments in the first seven days of the campaign have exceeded my brightest hopes."

He added that "liberty-loving people everywhere would today like to join me in saying to you 'I am proud of you.'"

The supreme commander's message was written after he had visited the battle area in France yesterday and had talked with his commanders and witnessed the progress of the battle for France.

Stalin Lauds Allies For French Invasion

MOSCOW, June 13. (AP)—Premier-Marshal Joseph Stalin praised the Allies highly tonight for their invasion of France, declaring that "the history of war does not know any such undertaking so broad in conception, so grandiose in scale, and so masterly in execution."

Stalin was in high spirits and rare form, describing Hitler as "an hysteric" who bragged for two years that he would cross the channel but never risked the attempt. He also pointed out that Napoleon failed in his plan to cross the channel and conquer Britain.

The marshal of the Red army added:

"History will take note of this achievement."

Much Shipping Said Sighted; Invasion Troops Plunge On

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force Wednesday, June 14—U. S. troops fought a swaying battle 10 to 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg in northern France yesterday, and at 2:30 a. m. (7:30 p. m. Tuesday, CWT) the Vichy radio quoted a Berlin military spokesman as saying important Allied shipping had been sighted "in the last few hours" off the southwestern French near the Spanish border.

There was no Allied confirmation of the Vichy broadcast suggesting new Allied landings, although Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has hinted they might occur, and Berlin has expected them.

Montebourg Captured

Regular U. S. Army troops captured the stronghold of Montebourg yesterday, and sent patrols into the outskirts of Valognes, 10 miles from the prize port of Cherbourg before German counterattacks left the situation obscure, field reports said. There was one German report that the Nazis had recaptured Montebourg. An Allied spokesman, however, said that even if the town had changed hands it no doubt would end up firmly in U. S. hands.

The Americans also sent troops fanning out half-way across the Cherbourg peninsula, smashed in the center of German lines east of St. Lo, at point five miles below captured Balleroy, and fought against German counterattacks in the Carentan sector.

More than 10,000 Axis prisoners now have been seized.

British troops outflanked Caen on the eastern end of the Allied front by capturing Troarn, and communique No. 16 told of general advances all along the expanding Normandy line, "particularly south of Bayeux between the forest De Cerisy and Tilly-Sur-Seulles."

Still pouring equipment into Normandy, 11 big sky trains of gliders last night landed at advanced air strips of the U. S. Ninth Air force in France, unloading rations, ammunition, and other material. All the powered craft returned to England safely early today.

The Vichy broadcast was made more interesting because of a message from General Eisenhower to President Roosevelt telling of initial successes in Normandy. The general said "other" openings would be made in German defenses, forcing the Germans "to fight throughout the perimeter" of their European stronghold.

Reported Rommel-Runstedt Fuss Indicates Hitler's Vaunted Machine Begins To Crack

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13. — Carefully - studied reports reaching here from the continent tonight indicate that some weaknesses have begun to appear in Hitler's war machine under the impact of the first week of Allied invasion.

One indication of this is a new quarrel reliably reported to have broken out between Marshal Erwin Rommel, immediate commander of the defending forces, and his superior, Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, although reports that Rommel had been removed from his command were received here with skepticism.

Rommel Quick To Act

Marshal Rommel, who is described as always eager to commit himself early in battle, was reported by underground sources to have insisted that von Rundstedt, the overall German commander in the west, throw in strategic reserves to break the Allied beachhead.

Von Rundstedt, however, fearing further Allied landings, is said to have declined, ordering Rommel to get along with what he had. Hitler himself was reported to have arrived on the scene and set up a headquarters at Lemans, about 100 miles behind the lines, where the two leaders took their quarrel to him.

Removal Unlikely

It was considered unlikely here that Hitler removed his old favorite, Rommel, who long has been one of his closest Nazi henchmen.

The Allied landings have indicated, however, that serious cracks are developing in the German war machine. The German armored divisions, even the first-rate 21st, are using 1940 model French tanks extensively, and the German ground divisions have been none too good in performance. They are well sprinkled with foreigners under German non-commissioned officers.

The German command is said to have been almost blind as far as reconnaissance is concerned. The air forces report that not only in the past six days but in the past two months the Germans have not had enough reconnaissance planes in the air to obtain even a partial picture of the operations.

Horse-Drawn Artillery

Although famous for its motorized and armored columns, the German Army in the Cherbourg peninsula has been depending largely on horse-drawn artillery.

While the German soldier is still a formidable fighting man, all these factors which have come to light in the first week of the newly-opened western front are leading many military men to believe the Germans are much weaker than they first thought.

Two Heavy Air Blows Struck

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 13. — American heavy bombers struck two heavy blows at the network of German airfields behind the Normandy battlefront today in an effort to rub out Nazi aerial resistance which had been bolstered by moving up an estimated 500 enemy fighter planes to front line bases.

Hundreds of Flying Fortresses and Liberators with escorts of Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings took part in the double operation against tactical invasion targets while strong forces of Italy-based U. S. heavyweights hammered the Munich area in old Austria.

Landing Strips Increased

The number of landing strips on French soil available to Allied units was increased to five and lighter craft operating from these fields increased their support of the advancing ground forces despite deteriorating weather.

German fighter opposition in general was light.

Nazis Frantically Seek To Keep Lid On Boiling Europe

By ALEX SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 13.—Nazi-occupied Europe was in ferment tonight as the puppet Vichy cabinet was reshuffled to hold down the lid in France and the Germans carried off Belgian King Leopold to captivity in Germany —an act apparently inspired by fear the Allies soon will drive into Belgium.

Official French sources reported patriots had smashed important German communication lines and were increasingly attacking the Germans in the interior of invaded France.

The German-controlled Paris radio announced Marcel Le Moine had resigned as Vichy's secretary of state for the interior, and French sources here suspected his job would go to the collaborationist Joseph Darnand—the "Himmler of France" — who was promoted to cabinet rank.

Premier Hubert Pierlot of Belgium told his homeland in a broadcast that the removal of King Leopold was "one of a series of measures decided upon by the Germans in anticipation of the arrival of the armies of liberation."

Nazi broadcasts have predicted Belgium would be invaded "between Dunkerque and Ostend."

A French provisional government broadcast from Algiers credited patriots with aiding the Normandy invasion by harassing the Germans and called for multiplication of these attacks toward a

Stupendous Oil Need Cited; Post-War Challenge Faced

HOUSTON, June 15 (U.P) — Southwestern oil men heard their industry praised today for its vast scale contribution to the nation's war machinery, but they were challenged by one of their leaders to lend themselves in the years ahead to a task of almost equal importance.

Assembled for the annual spring meeting of the southwestern district of the American Petroleum institute, division of production, the oil operators were told that by the end of 1944 the Army may demand as much as two million barrels of petroleum products daily.

Robert E. Allen, director of the API department of information, speaking on "oiling the invasion," estimated that present overseas operations of the armed forces require 1,250,000 barrels daily. Expanding operations, he said, might send the demand to the two million barrel mark.

He based his current estimate on War department figures and the calculated requirements of petroleum to support one fighting man one day. Allen said the petroleum industry had been reticent to point out the tremendous role it has played in mounting this nation's war offensives. He suggested a thorough campaign of public enlightenment.

Post-War Suggestion

John R. Suman, vice president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, called for complete division of government and industry in the postwar era and laid down a challenge to private enterprise for development of a program to convince the people of America that it is a system worth defending and keeping.

Industry, Suman said, must produce a liberal program for the period after the war that will contribute to the progress and welfare of the nation.

Government, he continued, "should act to encourage the orderly development of private enterprise and not to hinder or compete" with it.

If government and industry separate themselves and each remains steadfastly within its own sphere, he said, the nation can enjoy unlimited progress and prosperity after the war.

Conversion For Peace

A period of three to nine months will be required for conversion from war production to peace production, Suman predicted, and he said it will of necessity see a "very large amount of unemployment."

The "transitional unemployment," however, should raise "no serious concern" because of its very nature, Suman said, and it will give no occasion for government undertaking of "make work" activities."

"The real need will be for government action to hasten reconversion so that unemployment may be solved by private industry," Suman declared.

Local Man's Brother Dies Unexpectedly

S. B. Summers of eight miles northeast of Lubbock, associated with a realty firm here, was informed Tuesday that his only brother, Tom Summers, 64, had died unexpectedly at Springerville, Ariz., just across the border from his New Mexico ranch.

The Arizonan divided his time at the ranch and at his Santa Fe, N. M., residence.

He was warden 16 years of the New Mexico state penitentiary, subsequently chief of police at Santa Fe six years, after which he retired.

Funeral services will be read Friday at Santa Fe.

S. B. Summers will leave this morning for Santa Fe.

Parents Of Weldon Hudnall Get Message From Prisoner Son

Henry Hudnall is a telegraph company employe. He has read many telegrams, it goes without saying.

One addressed to him and Mrs. Lille Mae Hudnall, his wife, both of 1502 Avenue E, Tuesday, however, is the "best I ever saw."

The telegram, signed "Lerch, Acting Provost Marshal General," read:

HUDNALL

"Following unofficial short-wave broadcast from Japan has been intercepted: 'Dear Mother and all: Hope this message finds you all well and happy. I am well and (fine). Give my regards to everyone. Do not worry. I will be all right. Tell the kids hello. If possible, please write. Address the letters through the International Red Cross. I love all of you (very much?) and I am looking forward to that day when we can be together again. Your son and brother, Weldon.'

"This broadcast supplements previous official report received from International Red Cross (which informed that a radio broadcast had been heard which mentioned Sgt. Weldon S. Hudnall)."

Hudnall said his son, 22, was captured at Corregidor and that, other than the Red Cross telegram and that received Tuesday, he had received only one communication from his son—one of those printed cards whereon the writer marks check signs and signs it.

Sgt. Hudnall was a schoolboy prior to his enlisting in the Army before Pearl Harbor. The father said the enlistment "dates back about four years" and that his son had been held a prisoner of war at "a camp No. 1 in the Philippines."

Muscovy was a former name for Russia.

Petroleum Industry Committee Named

A committee represetnig the petroleum industry has been formed to work directly with the Office of Price administration in this district, according to J. Doyle Settle, district rationing executive.

Members of the committee will reflect all elements of gasoline industry, Settle said, and will be made up of representatives of dealers and distributors, major independent companies and other types of marketing organizations.

Meeting regularly with district rationing and enforcement officials, the committee members will be in a position to bring about fuller understanding between OPA and industry, the OPA official said.

"It is evident that the organization of an advisory committee will lead to more efficient functioning of the gasoline rationing program," Settle said, "and the committee can serve as the spokesman of the industry to recommend program adjustments. At the same time such a group can play an important part in our fight against the Black Market."

Challenge To FDR's Ideas Brings Heated Senate Fuss

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—In a heated Senate debate on foreign policy, Senator Hatch (D-NM) declared today that President Roosevelt is "ready to sacrifice his political life" if that would bring American unity behind peace aims.

But the Democrats would not permit him to retire, Hatch added.

The New Mexican asserted that the Republicans have a past record of repudiating proposals for an association of nations—whereupon Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) jumped to his feet to denounce what he called the injection of partisanship into "the utterly desperate question of foreign policy."

Challenged By Bridges

Challenged by Senator Bridges (R-NH) to say where the President and the Democratic party stand, Hatch drew this declaration of principles from the President's statements, his acts and private conversations:

"Franklin D. Roosevelt believes this world is too small for any nation to isolate itself from the rest of the world.

"Mr. Roosevelt believes that we should demonstrate the same interest, the same courage, the same willingness to suffer and sacrifice, if necessary, in times of peace that we do in times of war—and that means taking our proper place among the nations of the world.

"Mr. Roosevelt believes in a court of justice. He believes that the issues and disputes which arise among nations should be settled according to the principles of law and justice, instead of according to the power of might and destruction.

Independence Of Nations

"Yes, and he also believes in the independence of nations. He believes no more in the domination by this country of other nations than he believes in the domination of other nations by Germany."

Hatch said that "to provide the necessary machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes among nations without recourse to war, I am sure Franklin D. Roosevelt is today ready to sacrifice, if necessary, his political life."

Vandenberg recalled President Roosevelt's 1940 campaign speech in which he promised fathers and mothers their sons would not be sent into a foreign war, but Hatch said the pledge had been kept—"it is our war."

The discussion was touched off by Hatch's request that two articles by Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 GOP nominee, on platform ideas, be placed in the record.

Leopold Is Reported Prisoner In Germany

LONDON, June 13. (AP) — Premier Hubert Pierlot of the Belgian government in exile told the homeland in a broadcast tonight that the Nazis had removed King Leopold "in captivity to Germany."

Pierlot, speaking over the Belgian national station here, described this action "as part of the measures decided upon in expectation of the approaching arrival of the armies of liberation."

Since the Allied landings in Normandy, King Leopold had been confined to his palace in Brussels under heavy German guard.

Canning Clinics Are Under Way In Area

First of a series of canning clinics or "food processing" clinics sponsored by the vocational agriculture division of state board for vocational education was held Tuesday in Slaton at the canning center there, it was announced Tuesday by W. A. King, district supervisor of the war production training program.

Today a clinic will be held at Sudan. Thursday's clinic will be held at Seagraves, and Friday a clinic will be conducted at Lockney.

R. D. Ralls of Austin, shop specialist, and Miss Ester Sornson, home economics supervisor for this area, appeared on Tuesday's program in Slaton.

Attending the Slaton clinic were agriculture teachers, home economics teachers, and canning supervisors. Those attending included: From Slaton, A. C. Strickland, vocational agriculture teacher and Mrs. Minnie Ann Shaw, canning supervisor; from Friendship, L. M. Johnson, vocational agriculture teacher; from Cooper, Jesse Johnson, vocational agriculture teacher and Mrs. Pearce, canning supervisor; from Idalou, G. D. Taylor, vocational agriculture teacher, Miss Pauline Rogers, home economics teacher and Mrs. L. E. Countess and Mrs. T. C. Lee, canning supervisors; from Shallowater, Kenneth Roberts, vocational agriculture teacher.

From Lubbock, Miss Sornson, Mrs. J. C. Bateman, coordinator of home economics in Lubbock public schools, Miss Agnes Hicks, home economics teacher in Junior High school, Mrs. R. A. Burford, home counselor at Hub Homes, Mrs. W. A. King and Bobbie Ned King, Lydall Baugh, P. F. Murray, War Fod administrator, Rita Jean Sullivan, WFA lunch room supervisor and King; from Samnorwood, L. B. Carter, vocational agriculture teacher, Mrs. Cole, canning supervisor, and Miss Louise Foster, home economics teacher.

Officers Named By Lions Club

Reports reflecting the progress of the Lubbock Lions club the last year were given at a weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Hilton hotel, and Dr. W. A. Petty was elected president of the club for the 1944-45 year.

Dr. Ewell L. Hunt, retiring president, and Dr. Marshall Harvey, who had served six months as secretary-treasurer, gave the yearly reports.

Others elected, the entire slate by acclamation, were: Dr. S. S. McKay, first vice president; C. D. Doggett, second vice president; R. C. Harvey, third vice president; Dr. Marshall Harvey, secretary-treasurer; C. L. Minyard, Lion tamer; Fred Harbaugh, tail twister; G. R. Kennedy and Tom Ingram, directors.

Hold-over directors are A. F. Phillips and P. H. Polk.

Elmer Moore's name was chosen by lot from among a list of 35 Lions who had perfect attendance records and otherwise qualified, to become the Lubbock club's delegate to Lions International convention; and E. E. Thompson and Dr. Sam Hitch were named first and second alternates.

Howard Hunt, W. C. Montgomery, Sam Campbell, Rev. Floyd Dawson and Erton Tate were named winners, in that order, of a Lions club letter-writing contest on "What Lionism Means to Me."

Herbert Hawkins, 16, son of Herbert F. Hawkins, seeing foreign duty with the Seabees, and Mrs. Hawkins of 2501 Twenty-eighth street, spoke briefly upon his having represented the Lions club last week at Boys State at Austin.

Dr. Hunt said the club had gained 10 per cent in membership in the last 12 months and now had 141 members; that it had spent approximately $500 in furnishing and decorating a day room at South Plains Army Air field; had invested $550 in war bonds (maturity value); had bought glasses for children financially unable to buy them; had posted an attendance record of 68.44 per cent for the year, and had contributed its share of men to the armed services.

New members given insignia were Robert J. Garner, N. A. Payne, E. Z. Hogan and T. M. Abel.

Visitors were Lt. Sam Arnett, of the Coast Guard; Lt. (jg) Lloyd Croslin, USNR; James C. Edwards of Dallas, L. G. Daugherty of Seminole; Dr. Harry Bloom and B. T. Rucker of Shallowater.

Ace Johnson Given Hometown Tribute

LAWTON, Okla., June 13. (U.P.)—The man whose consummate skill at the controls of a flashing Thunderbolt fighter plane has spelled death for at least 27 Luftwaffe pilots was almost speechless today after a rousing homecoming parade in his honor.

Maj. Robert S. Johnson, just plain "Bob" to most Lawton residents, told his fellow citizens when called upon for a speech that there was little he could say, because "I've just been luckier than others."

The 23-year-old hero talked less than two minutes. His appearance on a flag-bedecked platform on the sunny Lawton courthouse square came after an hour-long patriotic parade in his honor.

"It's really very good to be home," the stocky flier said. "I wish the boys over there could all be here to see you."

Earlier Johnson had confided to friends that he plans no further public appearances after today for the next two or three weeks. He told them he is only now beginning to realize how much of a strain he has been living under.

A friend quoted the flier as saying, "I'm so tired I could sleep a week."

Johnson and his pretty brunet wife, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, arrived in Lawton last night by army plane from New York. His schedule since flying from England has included a visit to the White House and a crowded schedule of events in his honor.

Senator Doubts Army Flood Control Plans

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—A suggestion that army engineers may be using the emergency of flood control as "a springboard for a lot of other activities" was made today by Senator Millikin (D-Colo) at a Senate commerce subcommittee hearing.

Questioning Col. Miles Reber concerning a Missouri valley flood control proposal, Millikin noted that only 10,000,000 acre feet of water are allocated to flood control in the several reservoirs with a total capacity of 60,000,000 acre feet.

On the matter of halting projects which may be authorized in the current bill, Reber dissented. The amendment would put a stop-order on any project regarding which the governor of an affected state had filed a written protest within 90 days.

"I believe when a project is authorized, we should take it that Congress means what it has said and should be able to proceed with the work," Reber said.

Captured Jap Rifle Is Received Here

Charlie Burns of 1924 Second street received a captured Japanese "Arisaka" rifle, caliber .256 (1905 model) by mail Tuesday morning from his son-in-law, S/Sgt. William G. "Buster" Buchanan, who is in the Admiralty islands.

The rifle, slightly longer than those used by the United States Army, was very crude in construction and showed that it had not been cared for by its owner. On the stock of the rifle were the emblem of the "Rising Sun" and an inscription in Japanese. Also the initials "GLD" were carved on the stock.

Sgt. Buchanan, who has been in the Army about three years and has been overseas for a year with a motorized calvary unit, said in a letter to his wife, who resides with her parents here, that "the Jap I got the rifle off of tried to use it on me but I got him first."

The land and water area of the Netherlands East Indies is about equal to the land area of continental United States.

An Advertisement Addressed to Buyers of BLACK MARKET Gasoline

Phillips 66

Phillips production of 100-octane gasoline could fuel enough Flying Forts to drop 3,000 tons of bombs on the "Invasion Coast" every day!

Gasoline shortage on the home front is a grim reality, and gasoline rationing is our American system of sharing the available supplies fairly, in accordance with car-owners' essential needs.

Why is gasoline short?...Re-read the headline above. It is presented not in boastful spirit, but in explanation of one of the vital military uses of the gasoline which you cannot purchase.

Remember, Phillips is only one of many producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline, of butadiene for synthetic rubber, of various fuels for ships and tanks and combat cars. The petroleum raw materials which go into the literally oceans of these military fuels are obviously not available for the manufacture of civilian supplies of gasoline.

Every Black Market purchase reduces the already greatly diminished pool of gasoline which must suffice for our country's essential transportation needs. That is why no thinking, patriotic American will be a Black Buyer. And without Black Buyers there can be no Black Markets.

So do your patriotic part to break the Black Market in gasoline: Endorse every gasoline ration coupon in your possession. Don't accept any gasoline at any price without giving up coupons. And most important of all, use the legal gasoline you buy for essential driving only.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

FATHER'S day, which will be celebrated Sunday, is not a steal from Mother's day. The idea was launched by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., 34 years ago, three years before the second day in May as traditional observance for "Mother's day became official.

Mrs. Dodd was inspired by the love and sacrifices of her dad who raised a motherless brood of six on a farm in eastern Washington. She enlisted the support of Spokane ministers and the YMCA in her cause and their active support led to the realization of her dream.

The National Father's Day committee has selected a number of outstanding fathers this year. The "Father of the Year" is Gen. Mark W. Clark, hero of Rome. Eddie Cantor, banjo-eyed father of five, won the "Radio Father of the Year"; Charles Coburn, who has been a film daddy to a bevy of beauties, was chosen "Screen Father for 1944"; Joe E. Brown, honored for USO trips all over the world, was selected "1944 Father to All Boys Overseas" and John Happel of Paulsboro, New Jersey, who has three sons in the invasion, was named the "Typical War Worker Father."

HOUSEHOLD GOALS

SUGGESTED goals for home improvement as outlined for county home demonstration clubs: Re-upholster a piece of furniture, slip cover a piece of furniture, make minor electrical repairs, take care of clothes by washing and cleaning at home, improve color scheme of a room, subscribe to and read good magazines, protect family's health by learning about diseases, practice new housekeeping tricks.

CORRECTION

THE address of Betty Jo Gilliland, who owns the puppies she wishes to give away is Avenue P and Fortieth street, rather than Thirty-fourth street, as stated in this column Tuesday.

Sew lining to rug all along the edge underneath with a whip-stitch. If lining buckles in the center, use a few quilting stitches to make it lie flat.

FASHIONABLE STRIP-TEASE

BARE-LEGGED, bare-armed, bare-backed, the distaff side of the town goes happily about the business of sun-worshipping this season, in scanty costumes that would have scandalized most of them a few short years ago, and would have caused their grandmothers to swoon in holy horror.

Sweet Young Things who take Daddy back to the office at noon so they can have the car are wearing bare-backed, sleeveless dresses or skimpy romper-type outfits that look all right in the car, but are sometimes a little startling if the s.y.ts. decided to get out to see "what that precious dress is in the window."

You'll notice the "take it off" girls in the grocery stores, at the movies or digging in their gardens.

Bare-backed, sleeveless dresses are being sold for wear on the street, in offices of for dining out. Some have brief boleros to wear for business hours and to remove at will.

Leg make-up and nude legs practically replace stockings this summer, while the world waits for nylons and even shoes have made a bow to the nudist rage, with open toes, open heels and only a strap or two to keep them on.

If brevity is the soul of wit, this should be a witty season.

WASH YOUR FACE

FRANK WESTMORE, boatswain's mate 2/c, who is a brother to California Westmores of cosmetic fame, says the trouble with most girls is that "they just don't wash their faces, particularly at night."

Here's Frank's prescription for a clean-cut American girl make-up:

Always lightly cream your face at bedtime after it has been thoroughly cleansed with soap and water. Make sure rouge is blended carefully to give color and vibancy to the face. It shouldn't be put on in round-circle circus fashion. Girls with thin narrow upper lips should round them out with lipstick to balance the lower lip. Eyebrows shouldn't be tweezed thin; original shape should be retained. Lipstick should harmonize with the coloring of face, hair and eyes.

Many Women Make Surgical Dressings

Because capacity crowds have been working at the Red Cross Surgical dressings rooms, only 12,000 4x8 dressings remain in the June and July quota. The 4x4 dressings have been finished.

It is hoped that the women will continue to come to the rooms, 1605 Avenue J, until the quota is met, according to Mrs. Morley Jennings, co-chairman of the department.

Seventy-five women folded dressings at the rooms Monday night. The hours are from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Sorosis Study Club Goes To Red Cross

Ten members of Pierian Sorosis Study club met at the Red Cross production rooms Tuesday afternoon and afterwards went to the home of Mrs. Joe Christian for refreshments. Mrs. Bonner Cummings was co-hostess.

Mrs. John Reed was a guest.

The club will again work at the Red Cross June 27 at 1 p. m.

Wedding Date Is Announced At Tea

Announeement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss May Vaughan Caswell to A/C Andrew Everett Darling of Kansas City has been made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben V. Caswell of 2101 Thirty-first street. The ceremony will take place Saturday evening at 7:15 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The announcament was made known at a tea Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. C. Dickinson, 1905 Thirty-fourth street, given by Mrs. Caswell, Mrs. George Soash and Mrs. Dickinson.

In Aviation Motif

An airplane made of white flowers centered the refreshment table, laid with an apricot, ruffled organdy cloth. Tea napkins bore the announcement "May Vaughn and Andy June 17" and these words were repeated in the cakes which were embossed with rosebuds.

The honoree wore a pale pink net frock and a corsage of blue iris.

Miss Marjorie Ann Cope presided at the bride's book.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mesdames Bob Stone, W. C. Pryor, Fredda Hunt and Miss Mary Ann Caswell, sister of the bride-elect.

Seventy-five guests called between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Service, Party Are Held At K-P Hall

At a meeting of Pythian Sister Temple at Knights of Pythias hall Monday night, an invitation service was practiced and a surprise handkerchief shower was given for Mrs. Steve Etter who is moving to San Antonio.

At the district convention in Lamesa, the Lubbock temple has been asked to exemplify the memorial service and this was discussed at the Monday session. The temple will sponsor a box supper and cake walk at the hall Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Acie Cope presided. Others present were Mesdames Jake Voegeli, J. D. Lawson, B. B. Williams, Victor Lindsey, Lloyd Mobley, Hub Lee, E. H. Bergman, Russell S. Hardin and J. R. Gregory.

A practice initiation is to be conducted Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the hall.

Only natives of New England states are actually Yankees.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this affliction can be, and how hard it is to eliminate the ugly crawling creatures once they get a foothold inside the body.

Millions of people—rich and poor, children and grown-ups—have suffered in silence with the miseries of Pin-Worms, and doctors have tried for years to find a way to deal with this pest. Old-fashioned worm "syrups" usually don't work on Pin-Worms.

Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery (a remarkable drug known as gentian violet), a new and highly effective treatment has been hailed by doctors. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablets developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P-W makes it easy to deal with Pin-Worms. The small, convenient P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy the creatures. Don't take chances with Pin-Worms! Just ask your druggist for P-W, and be sure to follow the directions.

P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

Unanimously Approved GI Benefit Bill Goes To FDR

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—With the unanimous backing of Congress, the "G.I. Bill of Rights"—an overall war veterans' benefits measure—went to the White House today for President Roosevelt's approval.

A 379 to 0 record vote in the House completed action on the compromise approved unanimously yesterday by the Senate. A Senate-House committee had compromised differences between the two branches on the big bill estimated to cost between $3,000,000,000 and $8,500,000,000.

Primary Benefits

As it left Capitol Hill after almost three months of consideration, the bill provided for government-financed education, government-guaranteed loans, job-finding assistance, hospitailzation, and unemployment compensation for veterans of the present war.

Under its provisions, any veteran whose education was interfered with by his war service may resume schooling after his discharge, provided he has served 390 days or longer. In the case of a veteran who was not over 25 at the time he entered service, the legislation presumes his education was interfered with; those over 25 must prove interference. Maximum schooling is limited to four years, dependent upon the veteran's length of service. The government will pay not more than $500 annually for tuition and fees in addition to $50 monthly subsistence allowance if there are no dependents and $75 where the veteran has dependents.

Business Assistance

To help veterans purchase homes, farms or small businesses, the legislation provides for government-guaranteed loans by private or public lending agencies at not more than 4 per cent interests, repayable in 20 years, with the Veterans' administration absorbing the interest charges for the first year. The government guarantee may not exceed 50 per cent of the principal of a loan and no guarantee may exceed $2,000.

The unemployment section guarantees to a veteran weekly payments of $20 for not more than 52 weeks during the first two years after discharge. It provides for creation of a job-finding agency under the director of Selective Service, the chairman of the War Manpower commission and the Veterans' administration.

To provide facilities for the hospitalization of veterans, the legislation authorizes a $500,000,000 hospital construction program.

Jim Farley Plans To Visit In South Texas

HOUSTON, June 13. (AP)—Former Democratic national chairman James A. Farley said today that he would visit several South Texas ranches and Mexico before returning to New York.

Farley said that he came to Texas as the guest of Truman Gill Beeville. His Mexico tour will include stops at Mexico City and other points.

Chairman of the Coca Cola Export corporation, Farley resigned last week as chairman of the New York State Democratic executive committee.

4th Infantry Division Said "Hot" For Fight

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 13. (AP)—The Fourth United States infantry division, by the appraisal of its own commander "the hottest fighting outfit of World war I," is going back to Germany to wind up some unfinished business.

"The fourth was hot in the last scrap—it beat 16 of the Kaiser's divisions at one time or another—and it is hot now," said the major general, who cannot be identified, before he and his boys shoved off from a British base for the Normandy beaches.

This was the division which captured Mountebourg, on the Cherbourg peninsula.

Heavy Output Of Wheat Forecast

AUSTIN, June 13. (AP)—The U. S. department of agriculture today predicted Texas wheat production this year second only to the record 1931 crop.

The department's review, based on conditions as of June 1, also foresaw much better than average crops of oats and barley, an average peach crop—although unevenly distributed, and good prospects for pears.

Hay, pastures and ranges were in good condition over most of the state due to excellent improvement in May. The condition of range feeds and pastures was reported at 88 per cent on June 1 compared with 79 per cent a month earlier and 86 per cent for the 10-year-June 1 average.

Few Exceptions Noted

Exceptions to the general good outlook were parts of the Pecos-El Paso area, a few South Plains counties and several northwest plateau counties.

Crop by crop reports included:

Wheat—production of 61,095,000 bushels forecast compared with 36,266,000 produced last year. (The 1931 production was 67,983,000 bushels).

Oats — a crop of 45,400,000 bushels in prospect with much of it ready for harvest. Last year's production was 21,780,000 bushels.

Peanuts—made good progress in South Texas but planting was delayed in northern sections because of wet fields.

Peaches—a crop of 1,554,000 bushelss forecast compared with 900,000 produced last year and a 10-year average production of 1,543,000.

D-Day Brought Peak Naval Bombardment

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, London, June 13. (U.P.)—The Allied navies supporting the French beachhead landings sailed with 93,000 rounds of ammunition and carried out the greatest bombardment in naval history, headquarters revealed today.

The bombardment forces expected to expend probably 16,000 tons of four and 16 inch shells in the first few days but it was found unnecessary, the announcement said.

It was said unofficially that American vessels hurled about one-third of the ammunition with which the French coast was bombarded.

Churchill Criticized For Beachhead Trip

LONDON, June 13. (U.P.)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill will be taken to task in Commons on Thursday for his junket to the Norman beachhead yesterday, the press association reported today.

Conservative member Capt. Cunningham-Reid will table a motion "that the prime minister shall not risk his life unnecessarily."

The general reaction has been that "the prime minister should not do these things."

Cunningham-Reid will appeal to Churchill and his advisers not to take chances again, arguing Churchill, Smuts and other prominent leaders offer far too tempting a target for German snipers.

Is there a shortage of children's shoes?

America's largest manufacturer of children's shoes answers this vital wartime question

Yes, there is very definitely a shortage! This is particularly true of dependable brands of medium and better quality children's shoes.

Parents today are demanding better quality. Rationing has brought about a keen appreciation of the difference between shoes that are good, and those that merely look good.

Why is there a shortage of children's shoes?

The nation's military demands and the needs of our allies have caused a decrease in the supply of leather available for civilian use and thus fewer leather shoes are being made for men and women, as well as for children. However, there is a sufficient quantity of good, serviceable shoe material available to meet essential civilian requirements.

While fewer pairs of children's shoes have been made since the war started, the demand has actually been greater and the shortage is felt more acutely for the following reasons:

1. Children wear out their shoes more quickly than do adults. And because children also outgrow their shoes, they seldom have extra pairs in reserve.
2. The rubber shortage has severely limited the number of tennis shoes available to boys and girls . . . this has added to the demand for leather shoes.
3. A sharp increase in the birth rate each year for the past three years has also put a heavier demand on leather required for additional babies' shoes.

Has the Government taken steps to make possible an increase in children's shoe production?

Yes . . . the Government has recently effected ways and means to increase the allocation and production of leather for children's shoes. This will make more leather available and enough shoes should be produced to cover necessary replacements for children. However, to provide substantial increases in the leather supply will take time.

What should I do to make my children's shoes last longer?

1. Always clean shoes thoroughly and treat them frequently with a good polish to preserve the uppers.
2. When shoes get wet, stuff the toes with cloth or paper to preserve their shape, and dry them away from excessive heat. After they're thoroughly dry, apply polish or other leather preservative.
3. At the earliest indication of needed repairs, take shoes (if still the correct size) to the repairman. Don't wait until it's too late and the shoes are beyond repair.
4. Alternate the wearing of new shoes and older ones . . . provided the older pair is still large enough.
5. See that rubbers or galoshes are worn (when available) in wet weather.

How can I be sure my children's feet are properly fitted?

Good shoes are made in the correct shapes for growing feet . . . built to stay that way . . . but your dealer does the actual fitting . . . so be sure you go to a reliable dealer.

The range of sizes and widths your dealer has in this emergency may not be as complete as he would like . . . so if he is unable to furnish the exact size in the style you prefer, we suggest that you select another pattern in the correct size that will serve your purpose. Never buy shoes too small . . . remember they must give longer service now . . . so allow ample room for feet to grow.

What are shoe manufacturers doing to produce more children's shoes?

In some instances production is being diverted from men's and women's shoes into children's shoes. Some manufacturers who in the past have made only adult shoes are now devoting part of their facilities to the production of shoes for children.

What is the International Shoe Company doing about this children's shoe problem?

As America's largest manufacturer of children's shoes, we are now producing a great many more pairs than we did a year ago. We expect to maintain this higher rate of production and, if possible, increase it.

But . . . in our endeavor to make more children's shoes we will not disregard quality . . . we are determined not to use present conditions as an excuse for lowering the moral standards of our product . . . standards that we have maintained for more than forty years.

We shall continue to make shoes that are worthy of your complete trust . . . that are constructed, inside and out, to give your children real protection during the vital years while their feet are developing.

You'll know these trustworthy shoes by the familiar brands and trade-marks reproduced below.

Browns Keep Up Pace With Ninth Inning Rally To Win

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP) — The league-leading St. Louis Browns turned a Chicago White Sox fielding collision into a ninth inning rally that netted three runs and a 5 to 3 victory today.

Wally Moses, veteran Chicago right fielder, crashed into second baseman Roy Schalk just as Schalk was catching pinch hitter Ellis Clary's pop-fly at the start of the ninth frame, the Brownies added singles by Mike Kreevich, George McQuinn and Mark Christman, to give pitcher Jack Kramer his eighth victory.

George Caster shut out the Chicagoans in the ninth, though Hal Trosky got a pinch double in his first appearance since injuring his side May 26.

Chicago jumped into an early 2-1 lead when singles by Moses and Thurman Tucker provided a first inning run, and a pass and singles by Mike Tresh and Lopat added another in the second. The Browns tallied on singles by Milt Byrnes and Myron Hayworth, sandwiched around a wild pitch, in their second.

Cards Batter Cubs To Win Easily, 8-3

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four Chicago Cub pitchers for an 8 to 3 win here tonight in a free hitting contest that saw the National league leaders piling up a comfortable lead before the fifth inning.

Max Lanier gave way to Munger in the eighth inning, but was credited as the winning pitcher. The Cards turned loose the heavy hitting barrage with Danny Litwhiler leading the 16-hit attack with four safe blows. Hopp, Kurowski and Musial each collected three hits as the four accounted 13 of the 16 hits.

Dash Men Hold AAU Limelight

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP) — They'll be in front of the spectators little more than 10 seconds but the sprint field in the coming National AAU track and field championships at Randall Island is one of the show's major talking points.

Although Hal Davis, California Comet of the past few years and the defending champion, won't be able to compete because of Marine duties, Dan Ferris thinks the present field is as good as any in the 56 years of the meet.

Claude (Buddy) Young, Illinois whirlwind and Eddie Conwell, New York university bullet, are favored in most circles because of their previous front rank competition but Lt. Jim O'Reilly, formerly of Southern California, and schoolboy Charles Parker of San Antonio, Texas, also are in the limelight.

It will be Parker's first centure in big-time racing. The youngster, earmarked for Texas university, has won 4 consecutive races and has a :09.5 clocking for the century and a startling :20.6 for the furlong.

With the metric system in use at the finals Sunday, Parker may have an advantage in that the century actually will be 109 yards.

Other likely contestants are Eulace Peacock, Barney Ewell and Herb Thompson, all of whom have held national titles in their prime but are now sandwiching their practice sessions between military tasks.

SPAAF Softball Ten Romps Over Keith's

After the score remained one-all for two complete innings, the South Plains Army Air field Varieties finally forged out in front of the Keith's Wizzers with four tallies in the fourth frame, and went on to win, 10 to 2, in a game played on the 23rd street and Avenue W diamond yesterday evening.

Hyder donned the mask for the Varieties while Ingersoll pitched his way to victory by whiffing seven of the Wizzers and allowing only three hits during the seven innings. Hood and Conditt composed the battery for the Wizzers.

Wakeland homered for the South Plains boys in the final inning with no one aboard, and bringing the final count to 10 to 2.

The 23rd street and Avenue W basin will again be the scene of action this evening with the Hurlwood All-Stars taking on the Federal Employes.

Score:

West Texas Gassers Stop Hemphill-Wells Nine, 3-2

The West Texas Gas company assumed the role of giant killers in the National league, junior baseball race, Tuesday afternoon as Ed Robertson, a new chunker on the club, limited the high stepping Hemphill-Wells club to four hits and won a 3 to 2 decision.

It was the best game of the season, and was a real battle all the way with Bob Galey pitching great baseball for the losers, but his mates were never able to overcome the Gassers. Galey allowed the winners only three hits, and kept these well scattered.

One Bad Inning

Robertson ran into a little trouble in the fifth inning when Hemphill-Well staged a rally that put them back in the ball game, but after getting by this troublesome spot, Robertson finished strong to whiff the last three men in the seventh for a game total of seven strikeouts. Galey whiffed an even dozen.

Galey retired the first four men on an easy roller and three strikeouts, then Seth Murphy blasted a lusty triple and came home on a fielder's choice. Galey then came out of the hole by forcing the next man to pop up and the next to roll out to the pitcher.

Galey Has Trouble

Galey fanned three in a row in the third, but in the fourth again ran into trouble. Newsome singled and stole second. After Ragland had popped out, Murphy was hit with a pitched ball, then a series of errors and passed balls moved both runners around the bases to give the Gassers a 3 to 0 lead.

Robertson had his trouble in the fifth when Walker led off with a single. Galey walked and Benefield filled the bases with another single. An error then shoved across two runs before Robertson could get them out.

The Cats will return to action again today, facing David Coursey's Sears and Roebuck nine.

Davidson's Pitching Wins For Optimists

The Optimist club Demons came through behind the six-hit pitching of Davidson to win a well played 4 to 1 decision over the American Business club nine Tuesday afternoon at Tech field in the best game of the season in the American league junior baseball race.

The Demons took the lead in the third inning and were never headed off as Davidson improved in the late innings. Five of the six hits off the Optimist ace came in the first three innings, and he breezed through the final four frames without the least trouble.

Mickey McCollum pitched for the losers, and was stingy with base hits in the pinches, but was nicked for safe blows in every inning. He gave up 13 hits in the seven innings, but tightened in the pinches to keep down the score.

Davidson struck out seven men, most of them coming in the home stretch, and in three of the last four innings he retired the side in order, and faced only four men in the other.

FIRST TEAM ENTERS

WACO, June 13. (AP)—The first entry in the state semi-pro baseball tournament, scheduled to start here July 20, is the Twelfth Armored Division team of Camp Barkeley, Abilene.

Betz, Segura Win Matches

DETROIT, June 13 (AP)—Top-seeded Pauline Betz of Los Angeles and Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Coral Gables, Fla., won opening victories today in what may be a march to National clay courts tennis championships.

Miss Betz, who with Segura had a first round bye, started defense of her title at the Detroit Tennis club with a 6-0, 6-0 decision over Ruth Miho of Los Angeles. All eight seeded players reached the quarter-finals in women's singles, and tomorrow Miss Betz meets Shirley Fry of Akron, O., who defeated Constance Ebbers of Detroit, 6-2, 6-1.

The colorful Segura gained an easy 6-0, 6-2 victory over Mack Taylor, University of Detroit's No. 1 player.

Billy Talbert of Indianapolis, seeded No. 2, trimmed Gene Vash of Chicago, 6-1, 6-2, and third ranking Rex Norris of Lansing, Mich., downed Alexander Hetzeck of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-3, 6-1.

In the feminine division third ranking Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., polished off Gloria Thompson of St. Louis, 6-0, 6-1, and faces Constance Clifton of New Smyrna Beach, Fla., who defeated Mildred Sirwaitis of Detroit, 6-0, 6-3. Miss Clifton is No. 8.

BROTHERS CHANGE JOBS

BORGER, June 13 (AP)—Brother succeeds brother as professional at the Huber Golf club.

Todd Houck resigned to go to a Detroit club and his brother Joe Houck, who has been at Little Rock, Ark., where he was connected with the veterans administration, succeeded him here.

Bureaucrats "On The Spot!"

IT is to be hoped that high officials of the "President's Fair Employment Practice committee" will be as frank and forthright in answering certain questions dealing with their ideas, plans and practices as Gov. Coke Stevenson, of Texas, was in asking them a few days ago.

The questions were addressed to Leonard M. Brin of Dallas, regional director of FEPC, who has resigned effective June 30 at the height of a controversy arising from his attempt to forbid "help wanted" classified advertising which specified the race of the help desired. As mose readers will recall, Mr. Brin's arder was overruled by his superiors in the national capital. His resignation followed within a few days, although he has insisted that his retirement has no connection with the controversy. He says he intended to quit anyway, and probably he is entitled to benefits of any doubts in that connection.

However, Mr. Brin announced that he has referred the Governor's questions to Mr. Roosevelt's FEPC in Washington — which would have been the proper thing to do, even if he had not resigned. Fundamental questions of national policy are contained in the inquiries which no subordinate official of FEPC would be in position to answer satisfactorily. The only source of satisfactory answer is FEPC itself.

The answers should not be difficult, if FEPC chooses to face the issues as openly and as frankly as the governor. Mr. Stevenson has asked four clear-cut questions: By what authority does FEPC conduct activities in Texas? What is the scope of its operations and what are the objectives sought? Does its activities propose violations of Texas laws governing racial segregation? Is it the purpose of FEPC to establish policies which are in violation of state law?

It is to be expected, even if FEPC should follow the governor's example of frankness, that disagreement may be widespread with the answers. If FEPC should contend, for example, that the President can set aside state laws by issuing executive orders like that creating the committee, then the contention unquestionably will be challenged instantly and vigorously.

But frank answers to frank questions will bring the issues squarely into the open. Then, with a clear knowledge of what the issues are, the determination of right and wrong will be simplified. It will become possible to go to Congress, or to the courts, for a decision as to whether FEPC does or does not have authority for its plans and activities.

Whether FEPC will choose to follow the governor's example remains to be seen. But, whatever course it may follow, members of the committee definitely have been placed upon the well known spot by Governor Stevenson. It is their move.

Those Oh-So-Shy "Leaders"

EVEN those who may be in agreement with the announced purposes of the so-called "anti-Fourth Term conference" in Shreveport, La., a few days ago are likely to be suspicious of that particular meeting, because of the attempted secrecy attending it.

About the only disclosures made in advance of and immediately following the meeting were that the attendance included "leaders" from Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi. But the identities of the participants were refused. Thus, the rank and file of those who might have been interested in the meeting were left entirely in the dark as to whether those present actually could be termed "leaders."

Furthermore, the secrecy naturally invited certain questions which could not be other than harmful to the announced purposes of the conference. Were those present ashamed, or afraid, to stand squarely behind whatever they may have attempted to do? Were they the type of men who would weaken, rather than strengthen, any cause for which they were working if their identities had been announced promptly? Were they attempting to give the impression that they spoke for segments of Southern Democracy which would not tolerate them as spokesmen? What were they attempting to hide, and why? In short, why all the hush-hush stuff?

Whatever the reasons, it is safe to say that the secretive procedure won't be helpful to the attainment of any desired objectives. By its course of action, the meeting gave itself the brand of a star chamber session to be viewed with suspicion by all Americans.

"World conditions aren't so bad that they can't get worse," asserts a philosopher, of a sort. This may be true, but the margin is fast becoming narrower.

The One Minute Sermon

I will love thee, O Lord, my strength.

The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised; so shall I be saved from mine enemies. Psalms 18; 1-4

"HIT IT!"

Kerry Kraft has been having its face lifted, its hair marcelled and its body streamlined.

Tool has gone (I never knew what Tool did), Small Parts has gone and, alas, Detail Inspection. (Goodby, Gert; goodby, all those of you who bore with me when I was green and new!) In their places is a madhouse of unfamiliar jigs, of workmen laying track, tearing it up and laying it again, of little knots of Inspectors and Engineers gabbing over enormous blueprints.

Kerry Kraft has got a new contract.

Kerry Kraft is going to build, not just more parts of planes for somebody else, but its own complete, invincible, totally assembled fighter. They've done them before, but only in a small way. Now it's "big-time" stuff, assembly line stuff, real Production. It doesn't mean just one line, to assemble the plane itself; it means a line for each part: fuselage, tail, wing, fin, rudder, aileron, elevator. Then the final assembly; all the parts, each completed on its own line, coming together—half a dozen planes being assembled all at once.

Not all of these lines are starting off from scratch. They've already been making the wings and stabilizers, the fins and control-surfaces, and all that is really new is the fuselage and the fitting of these various pieces together to make a finished plane. It's, as planes go, a little thing, but it takes up a lot of room and, in order to arrange the component lines in some semblance of a pattern, everything is topsy-turvy. In the shop, they express it differently. My fellow-workers, I find, have quite a gift for vivid phrase.

And my fellow-workers, now, are no longer girls but "fellers," for I am at last out of Bench and on the Lines. On the line which makes the stabilizers for the new plane, the "X-O."

At last I am a riveter.

At Simpson's, on the day when we first met rivets, I was, incredible as it now seems, not only entirely ignorant of what riveting might be, but hardly sure what a rivet itself was. I remember looking curiously at the round-headed, short and unpointed nail —five-thirty-seconds of an inch in diameter, not quite half an inch long. The only rivets I had ever before been aware of were large red-hot spikes that men tossed to each other on the girders of a new building.

Did these have to be made red-hot, I wondered?

They don't. Aluminum rivets (or, more correctly, aluminum alloy) are driven cold. The metal may appear to be hard as nails but it is, in reality, soft enough so that it can be flattened by an ordinary hammer. You drill a hole; you put a rivet in it; while your partner holds a bucking-bar (a hand-size piece of steel) against the protruding shank of the rivet, you take your rivet-gun (at Simpson's, your "pneumatic vibrator," please). Into the muzzle of your gun you fit a "set," the end of which is shaped to cover the rivet-head; you hold the set firm on the rivet, pull the trigger. Presto! the shank has squashed itself down into a flat "head" on your partner's side.

This, they explained to us at Simpson's, was the procedure. Now we would try it; and the classroom echoed with an explosion of violent rat-tat-tats accompanied by an explosion of girlish shrieks and a third explosion of dropped bucking-bars. A rivet-gun is an alarming little machine until you become accustomed to it.

At Simpson's we were taught an elaborate code of taps which, we were assured, was used by all riveting teams as their only way of communicating with each other. You'll find it in all textbooks and perhaps riveters somewhere do use it. At Kerry Kraft, when we buckers want to say "More" we don't tap, we say "More," and when we want to let our gunners know that they have made the thing too flat we express ourselves much more forcefully than by using taps.

And when we are ready when the rivet is in the hole, our bar against it set for the gunner to gun, we yell, "Hit it!" "Hit it!" There's a certain unvarying inflection to it, a certain pitch to the voice, be it that of a man or girl. It has something of the same quality as the "Go!" which sets off runners. "Hit it!" "Hit it!" All up and down the lines that's what you hear: "Hit it!" and the instant, sharp, incredibly fast and incredibly noisy hammering of the gun.

That is riveting, when you've got a good rivet-team, who've worked together and know each other's style. That is riveting when you're "knockin' 'em out" and when everything is "on the beam," okay and movin'. That is riveting, the "glamor job" of aircraft.

Dickens Woman Dies In Local Hospital

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. J. L. Thanisch, 49, of Dickens at 4 p. m. today in the Dickens Church of Christ. Mrs. Thanisch died Monday in the West Texas hospital following a brief illness.

Survivors are her husband, three daughters, Juanita, Dolly Jo and Tommie Lou Thanisch of Dickens and one son, Claude Thanisch of Dumont.

Bryan McDonald Funeral home is the director in charge.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

DAVID GAYTON, 13, and Enedina Medina, 16, are being held for trial as juvenile delinquents in Los Angeles.

The two kids decided that they were in love. At least they had all the symptoms.

So they ran away from home and set up housekeeping in an abandoned, roofless pumphouse, and considered themselves husband and wife.

They swiped some old furniture and in daytime worked in a nearby onion field to support themselves.

Enedina cooked their meals on an open fire in front of their honeymoon home. A giant pepper tree provided shade for romance and from the sun.

The two were sublimely happy, but David's father found the two great lovers and turned them over to the juvenile authorities.

Probably they'll be put away in some institution for awhile and once again love will have been conquered by reality.

Of course, their procedure was all wrong from a legalistic, practical and moralistic point of view.

But, unfortunately, love knows no code.

Nor does it seem to have any age limit or thought of the realities.

A roofless pumphouse becomes a haven of bliss, inconvenience is fun, just being together is happiness.

"How can a 13-year-old boy really be in love?" you may ask, "how can a 16-year-old girl face the responsibilities of marriages?"

Maybe your question is proper, but I don't know the answer.

I have seen 60-year-old men in love with 18-year-old girls.

I have seen 50-year-old women in love with 20-year-old boys.

Isn't that even more foolish than youth being in love with each other?

AND, by the way, to find the answer, we must first be able to answer another question: "What is love?"

I asked my secretary. She is terribly in love with an airman.

She says it's the most wonderful and, at the same time, the most awful feeling in the world.

I asked myself. I've been in love for more than 20 years. To me it's peace, contentment, confidence, security, devotion.

Perhaps you'll say that isn't love, it's just a rut.

If it is, I hope I'll stay in the rut to the end.

And when my secretary read this she said: "Oh, that's just an old fogy's idea of love."

Well, at least the juvenile court won't get me.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

SIDNEY Hillman has become almost overnight virtual boss of the Democratic party, although responsible leaders of that organization make a wry face when his name is mentioned in their presence. They tolerate him only because he has presidential blessing and because they need his aid against the resurgent Republicans.

His strength derives chiefly from the fact that he appears to control the mass vote of workers in great war industries— automobile, shipbuilding, aviation etc. In at least four primary fights his endorsement seemed to be decisive.

In view of the uncharted movement of factory employes into areas where they were never before a principal factor at the ballot box, he has the advantage of possessing a secret weapon. No office-holder knows when or how he will be struck down.

He also labors with the negro and racial groups, whose affiliations have become doubtful in this turbulent year. His walking delegates and hirers instill a fear into them that no professional politician of either major party can generate. Hillman's precinct and ward heelers contact the men and women at the factory, whereas the regular crowd's buttonholers rarely know where the newcomers live.

His CIO Political Action committee has already raised more than $700,000 by tapping union treasuries, and it has spent $200,000 of that amount. He admits that he has almost unlimited financial resources, and that he can underwrite a nation-wide purge of conservative politicos.

BOSSES: Although the clothing workers' head pretends that his group is strictly nonpartisan, most of the victims he has listed in his black book are Republicans and anti-Roosevelt Democrats. He confers with FDR or one of the topnotch White House aides almost daily.

Despite claims that his money-collecting methods violate the Federal Corrupt Practices act, he has been given a clean bill of health by Attorney General Biddle. Congressional committees that are supposed to investigate campaign expenditures have so far shown no interest in his activities.

He bosses his CIO almost as ruthlessly as John L. Lewis dominates the United Mine Workers of America. Union members pay extra assessments without protest, because they dare not refuse, and never question the use to which they are put. He calls himself the sole trustee of those funds. He writes the platforms for his co-called executive board and tells local chapters whom they must support in Congressional scraps.

DREAD: He is the nearest present-day approach to the late Wayne B. Wheeler legislative representative of the old anti-Saloon League.

Starting with a shorter shoestring than the New York unionist possesses, the dynamic and tyranical dry imposed prohibition on the nation.

Hillman now enjoys far more power. He swings a bigger stick than did Boies Penrose, Roger Sullivan and Charley Murphy combined.

House members, including Republicans, recently revealed their dread of him. Reversing themselves completely, the GOP-ers voted for generous appropriations for the Committee on Fair Employment Practice and opposed the Smith amendments outlawing the Office of Price Administration.

In short, the Lithuanian emigrant who did not reach the U. S. until he was 20 years old, is America's No. 1 political ruler. Around the capital they refer to Robert E. Hannegan as "Sidney's No. 2 boy."

ASSAULT: Gen. George Marshall is the central figure in an altogether different kind of incident. The artillery's role in France and Italy makes it unusually significant.

Some months ago, a colonel prepared a severe critique of our employment of big guns around Anzio. Instead of forwarding it to his immediate superior, who would then have passed it to the Chief of Artillery, the subordinate addressed General Marshall directly.

The Chief of Staff was puzzled. Although impressed by the analysis, he knew that he should discipline the offender for not having "gone through channels." Instead, he shipped the colonel to Italy to carry out his ideas in advance of the assault on France.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

EXPECTANCY of a swift release of civilian goods, now that the invasion has started, should be banished by the realistic shopper and merchant.

The cables alone should put a damper on notions that all is over but the mopping up and a rapid advance across France to Germany.

Those wet, cold, hungry, tired American lads, now feeling the impact of Rommel's counterattack, have made the first hurdle successfully. But it will be weeks before they fight the decisive battle that will indicate the nature of the summer's engagements or the probable length of hostilities.

This is only the beginning of Nazi resistance. There is no telling what those desperate men will do before they are finally beaten to their knees. If action is prolonged at a high degree of intensity, it will consume such quantities of weapons, ammunition, food clothes and other supplies that the WPB will not dare to convert Victory plants to peace enterprises.

ARMISTICE: We may look for limited production of electric irons, washing machines, stoves, auto parts, farm tools and other items. Small factories or less than one hundred workers will revert to their previous manufactures in certain approved instances.

But New York corporation executives forsee, even if all goes well in Europe this summer and fall, no noticeable flow of scarce consumers' goods to retail shops before March 1945.

Prudent industrialists and storekeepers should have blueprints for reconversion ready in case of unexpectedly sudden victory. But no one, from Lombardy to Washington, can prophesy with any accuracy the date of the armistice.

In the next few weeks the government may even step up war output, especially of smokeless powder, bombs, howitzers, big shells, uniforms, the newest planes and landing craft to use against Japan.

DESTROYED: The supply losses in heavy fighting may be tremendous. In the 30-day Sicilian campaign, which was relatively an easy one, four of every 10 57m guns and 54 per cent of an important type were destroyed. Other wastes were high.

Logistic experts give the following picture of distribution from factory to field:

One hundred tons of materiel must be transported for every 12 men in Normandy. Of each 100 tons, 29 are in filler depots, six in ports, 18 in transit, 29 in contingency theater reserves and 18 in theater operating reserves. In other words, 47 per cent is in the process of being used up, abandoned or destroyed on the battlefield.

The fact that we have turned out mountains of munitions does not mean that these huge piles will last long if all-out combat rages violently until Autumn.

(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

A Georgia farmer, dissatisfied with his tobacco acreage allotment, says he would join the Republican party if it hadn't disbanded. If the Republicans learn they can secure a new member, they'll reorganize the party.

"Cannonball Baker says that by putting a female carbureter on an automobile, he gets 50 miles to a gallon of gasoline."—Press report. But doesn't that make the car much harder to control?

"But the Japanese are very high-strung people," says a sympathizer, in trying to condone some of their overt acts. We hadn't heard before that the Japanese were high-strung, but we have known for some time that most of them should be.

"The world will end before the war does," says a numerologist. This doesn't sound plausible to us. We doubt if people could continue fighting a world war with no world to fight it on.

There's Never A Dull Day With Texas State Police

By WILLIAM E. KEYES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP)—Recent developments in the driver's license situation:

Down on the Gulf coast Examiner John Edmonds gave a woman applicant four examinations before she qualified for a license. Checking with another examiner he found the lady had had the same experience with the second examiner. Now, after eight examinations, she is the proud possessor of two operator's licenses.

Over in Mineral Wells an applicant came up for his ninth examination and failed it. The examiner asked if he had read the book of instructions.

"No, I thought you would get tired of my coming back and just give me a license without examination," was the answer.

"Lone Wolf" Ribbed

Ranger Capt. M. T. Gonzallas is taking a ribbing from his colleagues.

In Amarillo, a lady photographer took a picture of Gonzallas standing beside his horse trailer, the front end of which was piled full of hay.

Reported the Public Safety Department News: "The caption under the photo was 'Texas Ranger M. T. Gonzallas stands by his crime laboratory on wheels.' In the course of the recent remodeling of the laboratory at headquarters, the purchase of new apparatus and equipment which will make our lab the outstanding police laboratory in the country, a modern up-to-date hay barn has been constructed and bids are being taken for three carloads of extra fine, well-seasoned hay."

MORE State police intelligence: The Houston district office heard from Capt. Percy R. Follis, from somewhere in Italy. He said: "Italy may be okay, but it ain't Texas."

And another former patrolman, Lt. Vernon E. Ball, reported from England: "My only trouble is driving on the left side of the road. Most Americans seem to have the same trouble and compromise by driving down the middle of the road."

April showers bring May flowers, they say, but a patrolman in the Panhandle offers this version: "April and May bring those fresh to occasional strong winds. Occasionally it slows down to 60 miles an hour, the rest of the time the wind blows."

Col. Homer Garrison, public safety department director, has been appointed a member of the post-war planning committee of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Goes In For Art

The State Liquor Control board, apparently imbued with the spirit of spring, printed a picture of a blue bird (or maybe it was a thrush) on the cover of its April bulletin.

THE Army Air Forces training command at Fort Worth says that when it exhorts its officers and men to throw their weight against the Axis it doesn't mean the sort of weight which accumulates back of the belt or under the chin from improper exercise and eating.

So the command surgeon has asserted in a weight reducing regime manual given wide distribution at AAF flying and technical schools throughout the country that officers sensibly-slenderized are of more value to the war effort; that the Army, like life insurance agencies, knows a fat person is a poor investment."

Liberally sprinkled with cartoons by Air WAC Lt. Agenes Mashidlausky and Sgt. Alfred Arnott on the correct profile and the one which isn't, the manual explains: "The Army is concerned with keeping you on active duty as long as possible since the asset becomes a liability when you are incapacitated for service. Life expectacancy in the obese is shortened by the presence of excess fat."

Factual Advice Given

After a few other remarks the manual gets down to the business of telling the boys how to take off the bulges. "Your engine won't run on a mixture that's too rich—How can you?" it asks.

To determine one's proper weight the pamphlet suggests a formula (not applicable to women): Multiply the number of inches you are tall over five feet by 5.5 and add 110 to get the correct total.

For officers more than 10 pounds overweight the manual carries seven pages of calory charts and specimen diets.

And for those who decide to reduce the booklet proposes: Only three meals a day; sugars and starches avoided; visible fats passed over; sauces, gravies and condiments omitted; 10 minutes setting-up exercise before breakfast; a walk of at least two miles a day; exercise by walking immediately after each meal the number of minutes required to eat the meal; fluids taken freely but not with meals and no alcoholic or soft drinks.

Tsutsugamyshi fever, characterized by headache, chills, malaise, fever, rash, deafness, drowsiness, coughing spells, loss of appetite, pain in the joints and sometimes serious mental disturbances, is prevalent in Japan during the summer months.

Records of Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, date back to 1799.

USE SEA POWER TO GET HOGS IN A HURRY
FEED STANTON'S
20% PIG RATION
Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it is working consistently to improve pig health, speed up growth and reduce mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and through creep feeding—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.
MANAMAR
In Stanton's 20% pig ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "complex."
B-G PLUS
Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra tract minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 20% pig ration.

Local Bond Drive

Chamber of Commerce booth in the Lindsey theater lobby. Purchasers of bonds in the Lindsey get free tickets to the war bond premiere July 6.

Announcement by Dr. J. A. Chatman, negro chairman, that Lubbock negroes already have subscribed more than $4,000 in the drive. He reminded that a big bond rally, at which a colored band from SPAAF will play, is to be held in Booker T. Washington park tonight at 8:45 o'clock.

Strictly Voluntary Yet

Bond drive officials reminded that buying during the early stages of the campaign will be strictly on a voluntary basis. Everyone is urged to buy without personal solicitation. If quotas can be reached in this manner, so that the usual whoop-em-up, all-out drive will not be necessary, it will save the time of hundreds of busy people.

However, if all-out drives are necessary, they will be conducted. The following colonels of divisions have advised their personnels to hold themselves in readiness for duty: M. B. Hilburn, general solicitations; C. E. Maedgen, big subscriptions; and A. H. Maas, employed groups, which is a new division.

The name of W. C. O'Mara was erroneously reported as the colonel of this group the other day.

PRICES SURGE UPWARD

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Rising optimism over prospects for early termination of the war in Europe expressed itself today in another buying splurge in the stock exchange.

Advances were broadly distributed and ran from fractions to more than 2 points. A fair number of industrial stocks reached the highest levels since late 1938, or before the start of the war. For the second time this year volume exceeded 2,000,000 shares.

At the close some prices were a little under the day's highs but generally the final quotations were near the best. Motors, rubbers, steels, farm equipments, chemicals, oils, amusements and merchandising and soft drink issues were especially popular with buyers. Even the rails and aircrafts which had not previously been responsive to buying based on early peace ideas, were in step with the rise.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite advanced .4 of a point to 54.1, a new high since Nov. 12, 1938. Transactions amounted to 2,330,920 shares compared with yesterday's 2,256,780.

Du Pont and Eastman Kodak were top gainers, each adding about 3 points, while Pepsi-Cola, Continental Can, Pullman, Goodyear, Harvester, Oliver Farm, International Telephone, Johns-Manville, U. S. Rubber and Delawer and Hudson moved up 1 to 2.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 15 to 50 cents a bale higher today with firmness in the July position steadying the entire list.

Pending House action on price control legislation and the Bankhead amendment caused many traders to hold to the sidelines.

Futures closed 15 to 50 cents a bale higher.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton at 10 designated southern spot markets today was 40 cents a bale higher at 21.57 cents a pound, a new high for the season. Average for the past 30 market days was 21.10. Middling ⅞ths-inch average was 20.41.

War In Pacific

Monday.

Liberators attacked Palau again Sunday and Monday, starting fires. They also heavily hit Truk in daylight Monday.

American casualties on Biak island to June 6 were announced as 85 killed and 340 wounded. It was previously disclosed that 679 Japanese were killed during the first three days of invasion.

From Mokmer airstrip, Allied planes can dominate all western Dutch New Guinea, including such important enemy air bases as Manokwari, 135 miles to the west, Nabire, 160 miles away, and Babo, 205 miles distant. Palau, at the western end of the Carolines, is only 595 miles from the Schoutens.

BITTER FIGHTING FOR CHANGSHA CONTINUES

News of the task force hurricane was the highlight of Pacific-Asiatic war developments although bitter fighting continued in China's Hunnan province where the Japanese are fighting desperately to take Changsha, strategic railway center on the vital Hankow-Canton line.

The Chinese were fighting furiously to stem the Nippon tide. In one sector they killed more than 300 of the invaders.

Another Japanese column east of the railway gained much ground in its southward push and attacked Chowkiakow, important road juncture.

To the north in Honan province, the Chinese high command acknowledged the Japanese threat to Tungkwan was increasing with the invaders only 20 miles east of the city. Tungkwan is the gateway to China's northwest.

In Burma, the slow Allied penetration of Myitkyina, chief Japanese base in that region, was progressing. Chinese troops occupied the Myitkyina rifle range while other Allied forces took a strong position in the southern section of the town.

News Briefs

Temporary promotion of two Lubbock men from first lieutenant to captain was announced Tuesday by the War department, the Associated Press reported. They are Henry Haynie Williamson, 2118 Eighteenth street, and Emery B. Selman, 1601 Fifteenth street. Capt. Williamson is in cavalry branch of the Army, Capt. Selman in the Army Air corps.

Fire early Tuesday night quickly enveloped a three-room negro residence at East Avenue E, almost destroying it, according to Fire Chief W. E. Twitty. The blaze was laid to a kerosene stove.

and we stumbled along in silence and the inevitable isolation of any individual front line action crept into the war.

Last Minute Things Bob Up

I thought of last minute things I should have done, remembered some valuable personal papers back in Naples which no one will be likely to find. By concentrating on little things, such as staying exactly five paces behind the soldier ahead of me, it was easier to keep my mind off the unknown horrors which lay before us.

At midnight we were sneaking to our last outpost in the moonlight. The men's combat boots crunched on the grass and leaves as we filtered shadow-like through the trees. It seemed too beautiful a night for men to die but we could hear them dying against the chatter of small arms fire and the artillery's thunder.

Back there at the last "turning back point" fear had been intense for a quick moment, but pride had turned a screw there and now it was easier, with no more decisions to make.

Reach No Man's Land

At 2 o'clock we were lying in a vineyard in no man's land with an enemy air raid going on—flares so bright you could see the ants scurrying through the dirt under your face.

There was light from other sources, ack-ack tracers spurted into the sky flaring back and forth like liquid fire from a garden hose; machine gun and machine pistol tracers flashed over our heads as the ground battle defiantly continued; anti-personnel bombs splattered among the frontline doughboys behind us; mortars from both sides worked back and forth, screaming and jarring and shaking the earth.

We were as yet undiscovered and we hugged the ground firmly, knowing one machine gun between the vine rows could wipe out our whole column. Discovery and death seemed as inevitable as the sunrise we would never see.

Only Numbness Remains

Then we miraculously missed being spotted and slipped on through. Fear never returned. Having given up hope, there was nothing left but numbness and unbelief.

Even at dawn, digging foxholes up here in the hills at first seemed unimportant, for life was something the men had agreed to pay last night, and for a time it no longer seemed a personal belonging.

Light finally came up with the sun and we chewed D rations and joked in low tones as we waited a little while before the battle of the Alban hills began. Life was ours again and it was good.

Plans Not Completed For Williams Rites

Definite funeral arrangements had not been reported Tuesday night for Mrs. W. L. Williams, 42, of Lubbock route 2, who died yesterday morning in West Texas hospital.

Mrs. Williams had been in ill health for months. She was admitted to the hospital Monday.

Rix Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

The Williams family came to Lubbock county from Oregon about 18 years ago.

Survivors are her husband, three sons, Wayne, Jimmie and Jackie of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Garland Stokes, Route 3; four sisters, Mrs. Leo Davis and Mrs. Alfred Dickens of Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Horace Neely of Long Beach, Mrs. Wayne Beebe of Oklahoma City; two brothers, Turner Ball of Santa Paula, Calif., and Clifford Ball, who is in the armed service overseas.

Grain . .

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 13 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 1.63¾-66¾.

Barley No. 2 1.21-23.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo or No. 2 white kafir per 100 lbs. nom 2.40-47.

Oats No. 2 red 84-86.

Corn at northern shipping point ceiling price, plus freight.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP) — Wheat prices moved up as much as two cents at times from low points and rye was even stronger today on reports that conditions in sections of the Southwest were conductive to ruse.

The War Food administration said it could not now estimate how severe damage to wheat would be, but added that it expected some fields of soft wheat and late hard wheat in Texas to be affected. Rust spores were said to have been spread to Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri and to southeastern Nebraska.

Wheat closed 1 to 2 cents higher, July $1.57½-1.58⅛. Oats were ¾ to 1¼ higher, July 75. Rye was 1¾ to 2½ cents higher, July $1.07½-¾. Barley was up 1¼ to 1¾ cents, July $1.18½.

Aerial Invasion

at Evreux-Fauville, Dreux and Illieres-L'Eveque. Late in the day they swept across the channel again and attacked two more airfields north of Paris and several railroad bridges south of the beachhead.

The two blows brought to 20 the number of good enemy air bases in northern France blasted in the last two days following up aerial reconnaissance which had shown new concentrations of single-engined fighters.

Although the big bombers went out twice, the change in the weather reduced the scale of Allied aerial operations to less than Monday, when 7,000 planes took to the skies.

Escorts On Offensive

The escort of Mustangs, Lightnings and Thunderbolts also flew offensive patrols against a number of enemy installations, while U. S. medium, light and fighter-bombers ranged over France from the beachhead to as far south as Tours, even firing at ground gunners in fox holes.

First reports of the day's losses listed two Marauders and three fighters missing, with one fighter pilot safe. Only one enemy kill was reported, indicating the Germans were not putting up the rugged defense of last night when the RAF resumed its saturation raids on Germany.

Nazis Fear New Allied Landings

ments had been sighted, is at the lower end of the Bay of Biscay, and 400 miles south of the Normandy battlefront. The French coast in that area of which the Biarritz playground is a part, is a region of flat, sandy beaches.

The German spokesman was quoted by Vichy as saying that it was too early to tell whether the movement was a feint or prelude to a new invasion.

Eisenhower Lauds Drive

As the second week of invasion got underway, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander, said in a message to his hard-fighting commanders and troops that "the accomplishments in the first seven days of the campaign have exceeded my brightest hopes."

Field dispatches told of German counterattacks near Montebourg and also at Carentan, midway along the American front at the narrowest part of the peninsula.

Montebourg, 14 miles from Cherbourg, fell after a bitter two-day street fight, field dispatches said. German troops rallying at Valognes, four miles above Montebourg and 10 miles from Cherbourg, later counterattacked. Although the situation was fluid, Allied commanders viewed the overall picture as satisfactory.

At the opposite end of the American front the regular First and Second U. S. divisions stabbed from five to seven miles through broken woodlands in the Balleroy area east of St. Lo, putting them almost 20 miles inland from the sea.

British Outflank Caen

Still farther east the British outflanked Caen with the capture of Troarn.

The Allies now have a foothold of 600 to 700 square miles in France.

(A Berlin broadcast was quoted by NBC as saying that "Montebourg was recaptured by our forces" late in the day. This claim was without Allied confirmation).

Engaged in the swaying battle on the approaches to Cherbourg was the U. S. Fourth division of World war renown. Opposing this veteran division was the badly-mauled 709th Nazi Infantry division.

Nine miles south of the battle area between Valognes and Montebourg other American troops had cut half-way across the Cherbourg peninsula, capturing Ponte L'Abbe in a drive to seal off thousands of Germans. Ponte L'Abbe is only five miles from the last German-held railway supplying the Germans anchored at Cherbourg, France's third largest port.

Heaviest Penetration

The heaviest Allied penetration was between Cerisy forrest and Tilly-Sur-Seulles where the American and British-Canadian wings join. Great numbers of surrounded German troops engulfed in the Allied onrush there surrendered, field reports said.

At the eastern end of the long Allied line moving into Normandy, British troops lanced six miles across the Orne river estuary and outflanked the German anchor point of Caen by capturing Troarn, road junction seven miles east of Caen.

Fierce fighting by British-Canadian troops also was reported at Tilly-Sur-Seulles. The Canadian Third Infantry, the British Third and Fiftieth Infantry divisions, and the British Sixth Airborne were in action at the eastern end of the front, pitted against the German 21st Tank and 12th Elite Tank divisions and the 716th Infantry.

Bad weather slowed the Allied air offensive but heavy day bombers continued their attacks on airfields west of Paris at Evreux-Fauville, Dreux and Illiers L'Eveque, the communique said. Medium bombers also slashed at the Rennes airfield and for two and a half hours straffed a vast area between the channel and Tours.

E-Boats Under Control

Allied arships and planes kept German E-boat interference to a minimum as reinforcements poured into the widened invasion area on the eighth day of attack.

A big German counter-attack developed near Carentan said a field dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Don Whitehead, as the enemy tried to split the middle of the American line. It was preceded by an artillery barrage against the town "but the enemy was unable to match the strength of Americn gunfire and there was confidence that the attack will be beaten back," Whitehead said.

German broadcasts said the Americans had landed airborne troops during the night on the west side of the peninsula near Coutances. This would be at the rear of the Axis troops fighting near Carentan, 20 miles to the northeast. It was known that the U. S. Ninth Air Force Troop Carrier command had dropped more American troops in the battle area, but the sector was not officially disclosed.

Others Hit Along Coast

As the Ivy Leaf Fourth U. S. division spread out on the approaches to Cherbourg, engulfing Le Ham, two and one-half miles southwest of fallen Montebourg, other American troops striking up the coast apparently were beyond Quineville, four miles east of Montebourg, and nearing St. Vaast-La-Houge, 15 miles due east of Cherbourg.

A German broadcast said fresh Allied troops had landed by air and from the sea near St. Vaast under cover of the big guns of Allied warships hammering Nazi coastal fortifications.

U. S. troops under Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley also took Balleroy, a road junction east of the Cerisy forest in their fourth significant gain of the day. This broadened their destructive arc moving on the mid-Normandy communications hub of St. Lo, six miles away.

The capture of Troarn by the British cut Caen's east-west communications on both sides of the city, but Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel's troops still had possession of several roads leading into Caen from the south.

Road Blocking Action

The British were fighting a terrific "road-blocking" and offensive action at the eastern hinge of the front, keeping German reserves of Rouen and other inland areas from interfering with the American drive to choke off the entire top of the peninsula and grab Cherbourg as a means of speeding the landing of Allied equipment and reinforcements.

Allied airmen still were pounding heavily at German supply roads to the south in the direction of Brittany as a means of blocking German reserves in that area.

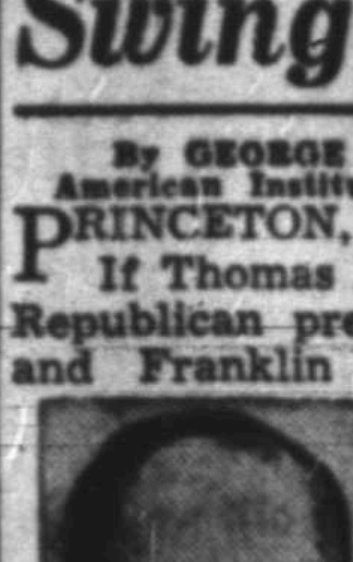

Fierce tank battles still raged at Tilly-Sur-Seulles, midway between Caen and the Cerisy forest. Tilly continued to change hands with each British-Canadian attack and German counter-attack, dispatches said.

Gallup Poll Shows Another Gain For Dewey

Michigan, Despite Labor, Swinging Away From FDR

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 13.—If Thomas E. Dewey were the Republican presidential candidate and Franklin D. Roosevelt the Democratic candidate, as of today Michigan would go into the Dewey column.

GALLUP

That is the finding of an intensive Gallup survey covering all parts of Michigan. Field reporters for the Poll asked voters in Dewey's native state, carefully selected to represent the state's entire voting population, to choose between Governor Dewey and President Roosevelt on the basis that the election were being held today with these men as the respective candidates.

Here is a tabulation of replies showing the standing of the two men among civilian voters in Michigan:

|---|---|
| DEWEY | 54% |
| ROOSEVELT | 46 |

The present poll indicates a continuing trend away from Roosevelt in the state of Michigan. The trend started after the presidential election of 1936, when Roosevelt carried Michigan by a comfortable majority.

In 1940 Michigan provided percentagewise the closest state race in the presidential election, going to Wendell Willkie by only about two-tenths of one per cent of the vote cast by major party voters. Willkie's plurality in Michigan was less than 7,000, although the vote cast was over two million.

The trend away from Roosevelt since 1936 is shown in the following table comparing the percentage of the major party vote going to him in 1936 and 1940 with the findings in today's state-wide survey:

| Roosevelt Percentage | |
|---|---|
| 1936 | 59.2% |
| 1940 | 49.8 |
| TODAY | 46 |

Democratic leaders are aware that their chief support will come from industrial areas such as Detroit. Their big problem, no matter who the candidates may be, will thus be to assure a heavy turnout at the polls in the industrial areas on election day.

Recent state-wide surveys among civilian voters in New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois show the following results:

| | F.D.R | Dewey |
|---|---|---|
| New York | 48% | 52% |
| Pennsylvania | 52 | 48 |
| Illinois | 47 | 53 |

crescendo "which must end in a national rising."

Diplomats reaching Spain from Switzerland said the fortress of Bellegarde, dominating the road and rail links between Lyon and Geneva, had been stormed by guerrillas who overpowered the German garrison of 100 with the help of Vichy gendarmes and mobile guardsmen.

A Free French spokesman said that "in the Savoy and Jura departments they have paralyzed enemy communications.

"In Brittany, they have participated in the Allied operations by their activity on the enemy rear."

Gen. Charles de Gaulle's London headquarters likewise announced a wave of widespread sabotage behind the German lines and said that railroad communications in the Paris region had been attacked by saboteurs.

Well Laid Plans

The spokesman said that in the Cote D'Or department well laid plans to sabotage the German military effort had started on June 7 and were increasing on a large scale; main roads had been blocked and railroads dynamited.

He added that the sabotage of railroad locomotives was increasing.

Free French circles in London said that according to the latest information, saboteurs were striking at rail and road communications immediately behind the battle zone in northern France but that no specific details were immediately available. Many of the reports reaching headquarters are being held up for security reasons.

D. C. Ross Dies

annuated in 1915, he did supply preaching in the Lubbock and West Lubbock, Muleshoe, Plains and Morton circuits.

Over 5,000 Conversions

Mr. Ross led in the building of churches and parsonages at many points and led to conversion of more than 5,000 persons. From that number, a great many became ministers. He organized churches in New Hope, Woodrow, Carlisle, Hurlwood, Sudan, Bledsoe, Shallowater, Liberty, Idalou, Canyon, Muleshoe, Goodman, Grovesville, Wilson and Enochs.

Because he was an humble man, a fine and influential Christian, Reverend Ross is one of the pioneer preachers and circuit riders who has done much toward the development of faith in this country.

He is survived by Mrs. Saunders, seven nephews, four nieces, 21 great-nephews, and 19 great-nieces. Four generations of the family now reside in Lubbock.

Funeral Set Today

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church, will be in charge of funeral services to be held at the Asbury church, today at 4 p. m. He will be assisted by Rev. J. R. Wood, Rev. O. A. Graydon and others. Pall bearers will be selected from the board of stewards of the church.

Vise Tightens On Cherbourg And Activity Spreads East

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

An Allied vise squeezed tighter on Nazi escape corridors from the Cherbourg peninsula on the eighth day of the second-front invasion. This action raised a question as to whether any substantial portion of the German garrison in Cherbourg still could make its way southward to safety.

SIMPSON

St. Lo, main rail and road hub at the center of the base line of the Normandy foreland, was within field gun range of American troops driving down the Bayeux-Coutances highway west of the captured Cerisy forest. A push in the area of La Haye and Lessay junctions farther north, threatened to snap the Lasy road or rail lines over which the beleaguered enemy garrison on the tip of the peninsula could get out of the trap.

Already Virtually Over

Nazi battle bulletins went even farther than jubilant Allied announcements toward confirming the impression that the battle of Cherbourg is approaching the mopping-up stage. General Eisenhower's headquarters already was turning its attention from that sector to developments elsewhere on the deepening beachhead in Normandy.

A big new dent in German lines south of Bayeux was reported. Presumably, British and Canadian troops on the left-center and left of the invasion perimeter were shifting from their first defensive role of guarding the flank of the American thrust on the Cherbourg peninsula. They were striking out offensively both south of Bayeux and east of half-encircled Caen, to the defense of which the German high command rallied its first major reserve waves.

Caen is a vital cog in the German defense deployment back of the Normandy beaches. It is the only city of any size east of the lower Seine metropolis, Roun.

It seems clear that with his first main objective beyond the beaches virtualy secured, General Montgomery, Allied field commander in France, has thumbed his left flank into offensive action. He may be preparing with the capture of Caen to strike out for the west bank of the Seine.

Allied forces of the size apparently operating in France need more than one good port through which to funnel reinforcements, equipment and supplies. Le Havre is the next major continental harbor east of the present front. It was the British main supply route to France in World War One, but it lies north of the wide mouth of the Seine.

Capital invested in the U. S. motion picture industry totals $2,061,500,000.

Parents Here View Special Film Run

Parents of a soldier in England were accorded a special showing of the news reel, "Eve of Battle," which depicted the mightiest preparation in history before the invasion, at 11 a. m. Tuesday at the Lindsey theater. The soldier appeared in the picture.

PATTERSON

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patterson, 1710 Twenty-third street, attended the movie Monday night and recognized their son, Pfc. Purl I. Patterson, immediately. He was shown backing a bulldozer upon a landing barge.

"I was almost sure the boy pictured was my son when I saw it last night," the mother said, "and after seeing it for the second time I am positive."

Clark W. Abbott, manager of the theater, authorized the second showing today and gave the parents the film which they will have made into a print.

Patterson, who is in the anti-aircraft division of the Army and has been in England since February, was graduated from Lubbock High school in 1942, entered the service shortly after and received his basic training at Camp Hulen, Palacios. He formerly drove an ice cream truck for Borden Co.

His wife, the former Miss Doris Campsey, is living with her mother in Quanah.

When EXHAUSTION leads to Headache

Don't let headache double the misery of exhaustion. At the first sign of pain take Capudine. It quickly brings relief, soothes nerves upset by the pain. It is liquid—already dissolved—all ready to act—all ready to bring comfort. Use only as directed. 10c, 30c, 60c.
