Justice Van Devanter Retires; Court Bill Loses In Test

Committee Is 10 To 8 Against FDR's Plan

Situation Is Clouded By Action Of Justice; Battle Expected To Be Continued, However

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter announced his retirement from the Supreme court today, breaking the solid alignment of four conservative judges who have voted repeatedly to declare New Deal laws unconstitutional.

His action cast new uncertainties into the tense and close senate battle over the administration court reorganization bill and enabled President Roosevelt to make his first appointment to the tribunal with which he has waged a two-year conflict.

"ANOTHER 5 TO 4" DECISION

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Reporters outside the senate judiciary committee meeting today heard a roar of laughter from within.

It developed later that the laughter was caused by a remark by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) that the committee's 10 to 8 vote against the Roosevelt court legislation was "another 5 to 4" decision against the administration.

Bill Receives Reversal

While Washington excitedly speculated over the possible consequences, that bill received its first major reverse. The senate judiciary committee, rejecting all amendments in quick succession, voted, 10 to 8, to recommend that it be defeated by the senate.

With leading opponents of the bill demanding that the president now withdraw the hotly contested measure, the capital looked to the White House for the next turn in the controversy, generally expecting that the answer would be an emphatic "no."

Battle To Continue

Opinions on the effect of the 78-year-old Van Devanter's withdrawal were almost as numerous as those who expressed them. Significantly, however, there came from a little group of leaders on both sides predictions that the battle would continue with little if any change.

And yet, compromise was in the air. Administration supporters in the committee, including Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz), voted vainly for a compromise proposed by Senator Logan (D-Ky). Logan said later his proposal had the approval of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority leader.

The Logan amendment would authorize a new appointment to the Supreme court each year so long as the court included an incumbent justice of more than 75 years, and

Lubbock Man Heads Grain Dealers Body

AMARILLO, May 18. (AP)—Grain dealers, in convention here estimated today 38 counties in the Texas Panhandle-Plains this year will produce 16,459,00 bushels of wheat. The estimate, based on the 4,016,040 acres planted last fall, was a feature of the closing 23rd annual session of the Panhandle Grain Dealers association.

H. B. Hankins of Lubbock was elected president of the association, which voted to change its name to the Panhandle Grain and Feed Dealers association. Other officers are J. E. Weeks of Claude, vice president, J. S. Morris of Amarillo, secretary-treasurer.

By resolution the association protested legislation limiting the length of freight trains to 60 cars.

H. B. Hankins, elected president of the Panhandle Grain and Feed Dealers association in Amarillo Tuesday, is manager of the Burrus elevator here. George Roach and S. E. Cone, two other Lubbock grain men, attended the meeting with Hankins.

Request For Bridge Is Unusual

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—A request to build a bridge over the Brazos river where no roads exist startled R. L. Bobbitt, new chairman of the highway commission today.

The largest delegation of the regular monthly hearing made the request. It consisted of county and city officials from Dallas, Ellis, Hill, Johnson, Bosque and other counties southwest of Dallas.

They proposed to erect the structure over the stream where the historic Chisolm cattle trail crossed it in the vicinity of Kimball's bend, northeast of Meridian.

The prospect of a bridge with no roads leading to it caused Bobbitt to ask what good could come of it.

The delegation explained

Validity Of New Farm Measure Questioned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Farm proposals to revive and broaden the old Triple-A ran squarely into a question of constitutionality today when presented to the agriculture committees of congress.

The suggested "Agricultural Adjustment act of 1937," sponsored chiefly by the American Farm Bureau federation which claimed administration support, would control production and guarantee prices of basic farm crops.

"Penalty" Clause Challenged

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) instantly challenged the "penalty" clause of the bill relating to overproduction when it was read to the senate committee.

"In proposing to force farmers to take one of three courses to prevent surpluses, have you ever given thought to what the (Supreme) court might do about it?" he asked Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agriculture association.

Smith had explained a provision under which the farmer would be offered a choice of (1) a government loan to hold excess supplies off the market, (2) a contract to reduce his next year's acreage in ratio to his surplus, or (3) payment of a penalty for unrestricted marketing.

"We have given the question of constitutionality very serious though," Smith replied, "and believe the penalty provision would stand a court test on the ground that excess supplies unquestionably flow into interstate commerce."

Wheat Is 38 Cents Higher Than In '36

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP)—Private reports that growing wheat is deteriorating rapidly in the southwestern belt and will continue to do so unless good rains fall caused excited buying today that lifted prices about 4 to 5 cents a bushel.

Winter wheat planted over a record breaking acreage in the Southwest is now in the critical jointing stage, crop experts said, the most important period in the life of the plant as far as its moisture requirements are concerned.

May wheat skyrocketed almost 5 cents a bushel during the day, closing $1.31 3-4@1.31 7-8, which is 38 cents higher than a year ago.

Texas Basic Allowable To Be Same As Bureau's Estimate

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—The Railroad commission announced today that the basic Texas oil allowable for June would be 1,354,400 barrels daily, the figure recommended by the United States bureau of mines.

It will be the first time in many months that the Texas basic figure has been as low as the market demand estimate of the federal bureau.

Tom Mooney Makes Appeal To State Federation Of Labor

TYLER, May 18. (AP)—Tom Mooney appealed by telegram to the state federation of labor today to help him in his long fight to establish his innocence in San Francisco's Preparedness day bombing in 1916.

He asked the pro-American Federation of Labor convention to declare itself as believing in his innocence and to denounce "this monstrous anti-labor frame-up."

Names Of Score Are Listed As Possibilities

Landis, Cummings, Richberg, Frankfurter, Robinson And Others Are Mentioned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18.— The names of a score of federal and state officials and former judges figured tonight in a great guessing contest about Justice Willis Van Devanter's successor on the Supreme bench.

White House officials remained silent.

Many authorities felt the man picked would be prominent in the legal profession, although the president could, if he desired, select a non-lawyer.

One 38 Is Mentioned

Here is a list of those mentioned in the conjecture today.

James M. Landis, 38, former law clerk to Associate Justice Brandeis, present chairman of the Securities commission and newly designated dean of Harvard law school.

Canyon Trip Is Ended Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

CASTALON, May 18.—Four National Park service explorers rested here tonight from an arduous trip that carried them by boat through the dangerous, rock-studed waters of narrow Santa Helena canyon on the Rio Grande.

Dr. Walter Prescott Webb of Austin, consulting historian of the National Park service, who headed the expedition—one of the few to attempt navigation of the rushing waters of the Rio Grande's famed canyon—said there was no serious trouble on the 16-mile trip though it had been made with much difficulty.

Gather Historical Information

The purpose of the trip, which began at 10:35 a. m. Sunday and ended today at noon, was to gather additional information for Dr. Webb's report on historical background of the proposed Big Bend National park.

Dr. Webb said the trip accomplished "what we started out to do."

James W. Metcalfe, acting chief inspector of the United States immigration service at Alpine, and Thomas V. Skaggs and Joe Lane of McCamey accompanied Dr. Webb.

After 49 Hours, 25 Minutes

The party landed after 49 hours and 25 minutes a little below here at the mouth of the canyon. Dr. Webb announced the party had no definite plans for future work and

Lubbock's Women Take Lead In City's Cleanup-Paintup Campaign Activities

If Lubbock fails to win, for the eighth consecutive time, the trophy offered by the national bureau in its present cleanup-paintup campaign, it will be no fault of the ladies. Members of the Federation of Women's clubs were invited to assume the irksome and sometimes unpleasant responsibility of inspecting all premises in Lubbock, and then making reports of what they found with recommendations to be referred to individual homeowners for imprpovements. Truly a job not to be sought. But the picture above, made just before the club representatives started on the first of their two inspections, is ample evidence that there was no shirking of civic duty on their part. The second inspection is set for May 24. Those in the picture above are, left to right, front row: Mesdames Clark M. Mullican, chairman, Roscoe Cowart, C. C. Webb, T. E. Hendrick, O. A. Terry, J. A. Raley and E. L. Banks; second row—Mesdames J. F. Hankins, George Dupree, W. B. Sides, R. W. Wright, J. L. Kilpatrick, Elmo Wall, and Sam H. Reid, Miss Nannie Margaret Overton, and Mrs. W. A. Jackson; back row—Mesdames F. Y. Brown, W. H. Evans, B. E. Needles, Charles Bacon, George W. Soash, Roy Riddle, T. B. Smith, Fred Ellison and R. S. Williams. Trophies held by several individuals in the photograph are those won by Lubbock in competition with cities of Texas in cleanup campaigns of the last seven years.

A 28-inch sun-gold trophy Tuesday afternoon arrived here as Lubbock's reward for having won first place in Texas in the 1936 clean-up and paint-up campaign.

Lubbock has won that honor every year since 1930.

The more liberal prize plan was decided upon because the excellent work the pupils have done, May said. Friday, they were given leaflets to be taken into the homes explaining purposes of the drive, and inviting parents to indicate on a provided form the improvements they will make.

Octogenarian Is To Plead Self Defense In Slaying Trial

(By The Associated Press)

JONESVILLE, Va., May 18. — Eighty-two-year-old Green Allen Brooks, who said he was a Tennessee circuit judge a half century ago, planned tonight to plead defense of his family when his trial on charges of killing two deputy sheriffs is called tomorrow.

The courteous, bewhiskered octogenarian was arrested in Lubbock, Texas, and returned here in March to face the charges of fatally shooting Deputies Arch Redmond and Bob Bailey in July, 1935.

Prompted By Fear

Brooks said the shooting followed the officers' visit to arrest Luther Poore, his son-in-law, on a Bell county, Ky., warrant. His action, he said, was prompted by fear the deputies would "hurt Mr. Poore severely and possibly endanger other members of the family."

After the shooting, he made his way from his Cumberland mountain home into Harlan county, Ky., and later went to Texas, he said, remaining a fugitive for nearly two years.

Brooks, vigorous and bright eyed,

Illinois Alma Mater Of Dr. Charles Wagner To Honor Him With Fourth Degree

THIRTY-TWO years after his graduation there as a bachelor of arts, Monmouth college, United Presbyterian institution of Monmouth, Ill., will confer upon Dr. Charles J. Wagner, of Lubbock, the honorary degree of doctor of science.

She will be the third of her immediate family to take a sheepskin from Monmouth, her mother having received a bachelor of arts degree there in 1905.

The honorary degree will be Doctor Wagner's third from Monmouth, the fourth of his distinguished career being his M. D., taken from the University of Illinois medical school at Chicago in 1912. He received master of arts ranking from Monmouth in 1908, after teaching science in the high school

Parrish Opines Mistake Made

Pink L. Parrish of 904 Avenue R, former member of the Texas senate and an advocate of the abolishment of the old fee system of compensating officeholders, is opposed strongly to a movement by the Texas legislature to abolish the salary system introduced in this state two years ago, he said Tuesday night.

Although he was not the writer of the amendment which abolished the fee system, Parrish, state senator from 1928 to 1932, fought for the measure and headed an investigation into the net incomes of county officers. A bill he introduced but which was defeated provided a limit on amount officers affected by the fee system could make.

Believes Pressure Brought

"I cannot conceive of the legislature making such a mistake as providing for an amendment to kill the present system," he said. "I do not believe members of the legislature know how the people stand on the question." He was of the opinion pressure had been brought to bear on the solons by officers whose incomes would be increased by a return to the fee system. Parrish predicted failure for the amendment which will be submitted to the voters in August.

"The present system has not been given a fair trial," he added. "During the two years it has been in effect, times have not been normal

Oliver Hardy Obtains Divorce From His Spouse On Tuesday

LOS ANGELES, May 18. (AP) — Bulky Oliver (Babe) Hardy, heavier half of Laurel and Hardy, the movie comedy team, obtained a divorce today from Mrs. Myrtle Lee Hardy. It was based on a sealed complaint.

The comedian testified, however, that his wife frequently disappeared from their home. Two physicians told the court Mrs. Hardy suffered from an unspecified nervous disease, and corroborated the actor's testimony about her absences.

"It worried me so much I could not work," Hardy said, in reply to his attorney's question about the effect of this on him.

Elephant Butte reservoir, second largest artificial lake in the United States, rose six inches in the last 24 hours.

Education Funds Are Approved By House

Work Is Started On Rural Aid Measure; Amendment Is Voted To Return To Fee System

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 18.—Prospects for approval of major appropriations at this session of the legislature brightened today as the house of representatives passed its education bill and began work on the rural aid measure while the senate adopted a conference report on the judiciary bill.

With sine die adjournment set for Saturday, although an extraordinary session was expected to begin Monday, there had been grave apprehension the "money" bills would not be passed. The rural aid bill, however, was the only one not yet sent to conference committee and the house called a night session to continue its consideration.

Only One Hour Spent

Recognizing the need for speed, the house spent only an hour on the education bill, which totalled $14,785,563, compared with an appropriation of $11,056,345 for this biennium and the $17,000,000 of the senate measure. It passed the departmental bill last night after wrangling over it more than a week.

The judiciary bill appropriated $4,947,530, which compared with $4,456,021 for the current two years. It carried a rider providing Dallas district judges should not receive more than $6,500 annual salaries whereas a separate bill had authorized $7,500. There was no prohibition against Harris county district judges receiving $7,400, also permitted by separate act.

Committees Working Overtime

Conference committees were working long hours and it was thought possible the eleemosynary bill would be reported tomorrow.

The most important action next to that on appropriations was the quick decision in both houses to submit a constitutional amendment providing for return to the fee system of remunerating precinct, county and district officials. It brought to six the number of amendments which the session has voted to submit.

In a special message, Governor James V. Allred had said the salary method had provided a failure, counties were being bankrupted and return to the plan abandoned two years ago was needed urgently.

Legislative action was completed by adoption of conference reports on bills appropriating $250,000 for a research cotton laboratory and providing for licensing of engineers. In the laboratory it is hoped to discover new uses for cotton and expand the market for Texas' great agricultural product.

Governor Allred's veto axe fell

June 3 Is Date Set For Duke's Wedding

MONTS, France, May 18. (AP)—Edward Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield will be married at the Chateau de Cande by the mayor of Monts on June 3 with friends "who have been with them" in recent months as guests and without the presence of any member of the British royal family.

The Duke himself issued the announcement of wedding plans today through Herman L. Rogers of New York, his and Mrs. Warfield's spokesman.

Mayor-Doctor Charles Mercier will conduct the civil service, but there still was doubt tonight whether a religious ceremony would be added.

One Hundred And Twenty-Three Tech Women Students Are Honored

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turman

IF President Roosevelt ever finds occasion to ask us to suggest someone for a conference on the conditions of farm homes in Texas, we will name such a person at once and she will be none other than Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, editor of extension service with headquarters at A. and M. college.

Mrs. Cunningham has facts and figures at her finger tips that might startle the Chief Executive. Perhaps they have had conferences. We didn't ask her Tuesday afternoon when we went over to renew an acquaintanceship of several years past.

To this capable, clever and cultured woman falls the task of editing the Extension Service Farm News and training agents and other reporters in the art of writing news, stories and picture work. After sitting in for a few minutes at a school of such instruction we decided that her sense of humor is one of her most delightful qualities.

She has watched the development of farms in Texas for more than a decade and she is hopeful for future progress.

HARDENED YOUNG MODERNS

TODAY'S maidens tend to be disinterested in everything and lack fire and spirit in the opinion of Dr. Louise Pound, who becomes discouraged in the midst of reading a tearful poem to discover a girl on the front seat smearing her mouth with lipstick, oblivious to the beauty of the words. She recalls the days when co-eds were always fighting and plotting something.

We'd like for Dr. Pound to visit Tech college campus where co-eds are gaining an upper hand in academic political and publication affairs. And it's our observation that they are always plotting something. This front young moderns assume is often of thin veneer. A poem, a picture, a bit of music may almost break their hearts with its touching beauty but according to their code they keep a stiff upper lip and would feel disgraced if anyone thought they experienced such emotion.

A throat infection, which followed a tonsilectomy performed a week ago last Friday, has practically disappeared, said his attending physician, who added that he was hopeful for Grady's recovery.

Slight, Sustained Improvement Noted For Mrs. W. C. Holden

Condition of Mrs. William Curry Holden, seriously ill in West Texas hospital for nearly a month, yesterday continued to hold her strength which, her attending physician said, causes him to hope for her eventual recovery.

The wife of the director of archaeological research at Texas Technological college has shown a slight but sustained improvement over the last several days, her physician said, although he pointed out that she is not yet out of danger.

If her condition continues during the next week as it has during the last, she is expected to be able to fight off infections which followed a ruptured appendix, a blood stream infection and contributing illnesses.

White House Offices Equipped With "Bouncer Buttons" To Protect FDR's Secretaries

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—The White House offices were wired today with a series of "bouncer buttons," just in case some unexpected caller gets rough with one of President Roosevelt's aides.

Whether the new protective system — linking five offices with the police guard stationed in the lobby—resulted from a specific incident, no official would say.

A tiny button was installed in an unnoticable place in the desks of Secretaries Stephen T. Early, Marvin H. McIntyre, James Roosevelt, Miss Marguerite LeHand, and Executive Clerk Rudolph Poster.

The president's office long has been equipped with this device.

"Dad—what makes Americans different from other people?"

THAT'S pretty hard to explain, my boy. Let's see—why are Americans different?

Well, they love freedom—and that includes freedom from worry. Another word for this is security.

For example, 64 million Americans own life insurance, which is security for themselves and their loved ones.

Americans don't believe in trusting their future to luck when they can achieve freedom from uncertainty through life insurance.

Perhaps that is why Americans are different.

This is Life Insurance Week

Safety Course Is To Be Offered

A course designed to help initiate the fight against highway fatalities through education in Texas schools and colleges will be offered for teachers during the first term of summer school at Texas Technological college, June 7 to July 16, President Bradford Knapp announced Tuesday.

The course will be offered for high school and other teachers who intend to teach regular courses of instruction in traffic and proper control of an automobile.

Heads State Group

Doctor Knapp has attempted to ally education in the fight against highway accidents since his appointment as head of the education sub-committee of the Governor's Traffic Safety council.

The state department of education is preparing a bulletin, outlining a course of instruction for high schools on the subject of traffic safety and the bulletin is expected to be published this summer, said Doctor Knapp.

Texas A. and M. college at College Station will give a course on the same general lines and with the same general objective as the Tech course.

McRee To Instruct

The Tech instruction will be given by Prof. R. L. McRee of the department of civil engineering, which directs all highway teaching at the college. McRee will be assisted by representatives of the highway patrol and the American Automobile association and others.

Subjects to be considered will include: Analysis of accidents and their causes; study of methods of accident prevention; study of the "rules of the road," involving study of ordinary statutory laws and regulations and of the courtesies that are given and expected by experienced drivers on the highway.

Laboratory Periods Scheduled

Laboratory periods will be devoted to driving mechanism of cars; inspection of cars for safety; driving demonstrations by expert drivers under actual traffic conditions to point out correct practices in driving, incorrect and harmful practices in driving, specific cases of neglect or error of judgment in failing to obey traffic regulations and the dangers thereof.

Persons who enter the course are to be regularly enrolled in summer school. They will be expected to have had some experience in automobile driving and be the holders of the present state driver's license.

Balloons To Be Released In Southwest And Central Texas Counties In Studying Spread Of The Cotton Flea Hopper

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, May 18.—To determine the effect of winds upon the spread of the cotton flea hopper, more than 4,000 toy balloons will be released from 17 southwest and Central Texas counties, Fred W. Mally, county agent, was advised by the Texas Agricultural experimental station today.

The exact date the releases will be made was not announced, but will be sometime prior to June 1 in the areas where weeds are abundant and during the period when the cotton flea hopper adults migrate to cotton.

"It is already known that these insects are carried considerable distances by winds," Mally said, "and it is hoped that additional information may be obtained regarding the direction of the air current and the probable distances that the insects might drift."

The balloons will be released from Madison, Brazos, Milam, Robertson, Burleson, Lee, Bastrop, Caldwell, Guadalupe, Gonzales, Austin, Colorado, Lavaca, Dewitt, Goliad, Calhoun and Nueces counties.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika. Get rid of GAS. Adlerika does not gripe—is not habit forming.

Business Pace Levelling Off

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 18. — The bureau of agricultural economics reported today the business upswing has leveled off but commerce department officials said the industrial pace has quickened in recent months.

The bureau said in a recent survey:

"The marked upswing in business which began late last summer apparently is not continuing."

Other Factors Watched

Whether the development will prove a minor setback or a serious interruption in the business upturn, it said, will depend on the amount of increase in private spending for construction and capital goods.

"Evidence pointing to large increases in business spending for rehabilitation and expansion of productive facilities in the near future is not particularly convincing," the bureau continued.

"Residential building prospects for this year are less promising than before the recent large increases in construction costs."

Due To Expansion

Part of the present business slack may be due to expansion of consumer goods lines at a faster clip than construction and capital goods, it added.

Bureau statistics showed that production of such consumer goods as cotton, wool, shoes, gasoline and tobacco for the first quarter of 1937 climbed over the same period a year ago and equalled or topped 1929 levels.

On the other hand, residential construction, locomotive orders, public works and similar heavy goods lines recorded either declines for a year ago or much smaller gains than consumer goods.

"Just think what Gly-Cas has meant to me after suffering twenty years unable to find anything to fit my case," said Mrs. T. F. Jones, 159 East Grand Ave., Hot Springs, Ark.

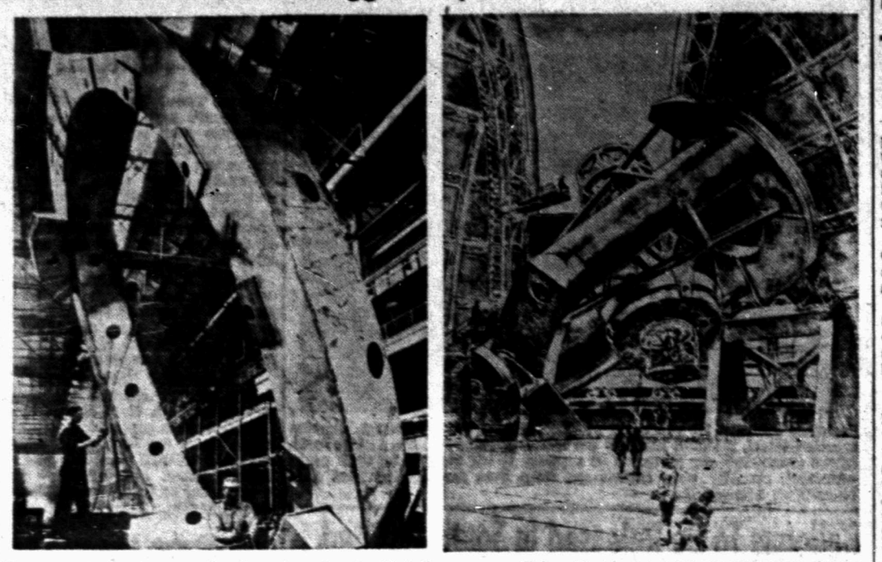

MRS. T. F. JONES

"Twenty years of constipation has disordered my entire system. My stomach has caused me trouble the past fifteen years. Everything I ate disagreed with me, gas would get my breath. I had such weak spells which made my work almost impossible. My kidneys were badly affected too but what caused the horrible suffering was those terrible knife-like pains of neuritis which settled in my back between my shoulders. I could not sleep and was hardly able to do anything in this condition. I tried most every known medicine for cases such as mine but all to no avail until I began Gly-Cas—it seemed to be made for me.

"It is remarkable the change this new Gly-Cas brought about in my stomach and bowels were regulated within a very short time, kidneys are again functioning normally and those dreadful neuritis pains have been relieved. I can now eat and enjoy foods I had dared not touch for years and without any ill effects afterwards. I now sleep good, those bilious, dizzy spells have gone, nerves are quieted and I feel so much better in everyway I cannot help but tell others about this remarkable Gly-Cas—it really does all that is claimed for it."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Black Rapids Glacier Is Moving Closer To Roadhouse; May Dam Big Delta River

(By The Associated Press)

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 18—Black Rapids glacier, resuming its freakish ramblings, moved closer today to a roadhouse where three anxious persons watched for possible danger from the ice mass, which also threatened to dam the Big Delta river.

Across the river from the towering glacier lay Black Rapids roadhouse, where Proprietor H. E. Revell, his wife and son watched for any sudden movement of the ice which would necessitate their flight.

The glacier was close to the river and stirred apprehension lest it dam the stream, as it was supposed to have done 100 years ago.

Revell telephoned Fairbanks he dared not venture on the frozen river to accurately measure the distance the glacier was from the Big Delta. He said the glacier seemingly had turned upstream.

Plant Threatens To Shut Down

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, May 18.—The Republican Steel Corp., in a statement today, said its plants would be shut and kept shut "until civil authorities clear the streets" in the event that picketing made it impossible for its employes to reach their jobs.

The Steel Workers Organizing Committee has threatened a strike against the company if it does not sign a bargaining contract.

Spokesmen for the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., against which CIO officials also have threatened a strike, said the same course would be followed by them.

Will Shut Plant Down

"As near as we can tell," the Republic statement said, "our men want to work and we want them to work. However, if outsiders blockade the streets so that our men are unable to come to work we will shut down and stay down until civil authorities clear the streets and make it possible for our men to return peacefully and without intimidation."

Republic Steel employs 52,000 workers, mostly in Ohio. It has plants in several other states, including Alabama.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube has 26,000 employes, mostly in the Mahoning valley district surrounding Yougstown, O.

The two companies are important objectives in the attempt of the Steel Workers Organization Committee to organize the independent steel industry.

Recreation Plan Is Talked Here

A temporary organization having the double-barreled purpose of providing recreation for all Lubbock citizens and striking at the so-called juvenile problem was in motion today following a meeting at the chamber of commerce Tuesday of a group of civic leaders with officials of the WPA.

Agreeing that most crime can be traced back to youths who chose a wrong path because no constructive outlet was afforded for their energies, those in the conference were unanimous in their expressed opinion that citizens must take advantage of the opportunity offered by the WPA to finance two-thirds of the project.

The action was taken after Mrs. W. A. Jackson, past president of Lubbock Federation of Women's clubs, had linked the need for such a project with her demand for more adequate night-time policing of city parks.

Action Is Necessary

"I don't care to cite case histories, of which police, no doubt, have many," she said. "But it has reached the point where a family cannot go into our parks after dark for an enjoyable evening. Something must be done about it. Perhaps the recreational project will be a partial solution."

J. I. Kilpatrick, attorney, was named chairman of the group and empowered to call another meeting soon to form a permanent organization. Other temporary officers named were W. O. Daniels, commander of the American Legion post here, vice-president; H. C. Pender, president of the Lions club, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Jackson, and Lovic Listo n, member of Junior High school faculty, members of the board of directors.

Plans Are Outlined

Decision to form the temporary organization followed an outline of plans by H. Crump, assistant state director of recreational projects in WPA, to utilize present parks with an initial personnel of perhaps 12 workers to lead in recreational activities for groups of all ages. Some of the activities he suggested were softball leagues, regular baseball, tennis tournaments, music, juvenile bands of various kinds, gymnasium courses for men and women and various others.

Emphasizing that the WPA must be assured community cooperation before adopting the project, he suggested as financing that the WPA could match, 2 for 1, community money available for development of the project. He suggested for initial personnel a trained superintendent, paid from community funds, and 11 helpers taken from WPA rolls who would be trained before actually starting on supervisory work.

Endorsement of the project was unanimous among the several spokesmen who expressed opinions after Crump had outlined the endeavor.

'Butter Barons' Of Nation Charged In Talk In Dallas

DALLAS, May 18. (AP)—Charles J. Haden, Atlanta capitalist, speaking before the National Cottonseed Products association convention here today, said "the people of America, under a law passed by their own congressmen, force the consuming public to pay a tax of ten cents a pound on margarine, the purpose of which is to swell the dividend of the butter combine."

The speaker blamed "the butter barons" for federal statutes which he said penalized cottonseed products.

"Our tariff-blocked ports" Haden said "make a two-day barrier, our cotton shut in, and other people's goods shut out. It goes even further. A fictitious price limits home consumption. The system builds hurdles between grower and wearer. Both lose to the misleading slogan 'the more abundant life'."

Haden declared the "tariff system came up as the voting strength of the South went down."

The speaker reviewed the contributions of the South to the nation's development and asserted the South was being penalized in favor of other sections of the nation.

'No Nightclubs'

DETROIT, May 18. (AP)—Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, taking heed of reports that flouting of training rules caused his suspension without pay when the Detroit baseball team went on a road trip last week, asserted today that "I haven't been in a night club since the night I was married."

That was in 1934, and Mrs. Rowe—the "Edna" of the 1934 world series romance—added today that her husband's pay suspension "isn't worrying us a bit."

He said the ligaments in his pitching arm were torn two years ago but that he was "feeling better every day now," and hoped to rejoin the team soon. "If I'm O.K. again I'll win plenty of ball games," he added.

Club officials would not discuss rumors that disregard for training rules had brought Rowe's suspension.

Pro Golfers To Start On Title Chase Monday

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—Headed by Denny Shute, defending champion from West Newton, Mass., a field of 116 will tee off Monday on the first leg of the 36-hole qualifying round for the Professional Golfers association championship at the Pittsburgh Field club.

Shute, through his victory at Pinehurst last fall, is automatically eligible for the match play which will begin on Wednesday, but is playing the qualifying round in competition for the Alex Smith memorial trophy which goes to the low scorer.

Ryder Places At Stake

Beside Shute, the list of contenders takes in the five other American-born pros named to this year's Ryder Cup team. They are Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., who has been paired with Willie Goggin, of San Francisco, and Bunny Torpey, of Dodson, Mo.; Gene Sarazen, of Brookfield Center, Conn., who will play with Alvin (Butch) Kreuger and Jim Foklis; Horton Smith, of Chicago, who will play with Willie Klein and Willie Hunter; Tony Manero, U. S. Open Champion, and Johnny Revolta, 1935 P. G. A. winner who is paired with Ted Longworth and Benny Loving.

All but one of the 13 players who have been selected to battle for the Ryder vacancies form another strong section of the field. Heading this division are Paul Runyan, Craig Wood, Ky Laffoon, Ed Dudley and Olin Dutra, members of previous international squads. The others are Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sam Snead, Byron Nelson, Dick Metz, Jimmy Hines, Vic Ghezzi and Ralph Guldahl.

Ray Mangrum, 13th member of the group, missed out in the sectional P. G. A. qualifying tests.

England's Newest Cup Challenger Reaches Newport

BRISTOL, R. I., May 18. (AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II, newest contender for the America's Cup which the British have sought since 1851, arrived here today, 18 days out of Gosport, England.

At the entrance to Newport harbor the Endeavour II was met by Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee, one of three potential American defenders.

Awaiting her when she arrived at the Herreshoff Shipyard, where she will be fitted out, were the other two, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger, which was dismasted Saturday, and Chandler Hovey's Rainbow.

Rainbow is the sloop with which Vanderbilt defeated Sopwith's first Endeavour in 1934.

Semaphore Conversation

Capt. D. H. Williams, Endeavour II's professional skipper, reported an uneventful voyage. He said: "We remained on a towline from our escort, the Belgian trawler Jean, the entire voyage."

The British sportsman's yacht was met about 40 miles off Newport early in the day by the coast guard patrol boat Faunce.

The coast guard boat and the yacht entered into a lively semaphore conversation. The Britisher wanted to know if word had been received from Endeavour I which left England three days later than Sopwith's new boat.

No one aboard the Faunce had news of her.

The prospective challenger was advised for the first time of the dismasted ranger.

Jack Kranz Challenges John Henry Lewis Friday Night

KANSAS CITY, May 18. (AP)—Promoter Frank Gatto said today he had received word that both Jack Kranz, Gary, Ind., heavyweight, and John Henry Lewis, world light heavyweight champion, who will meet in a 10-round bout here Friday night, will arrive tomorrow to wind up training. Lewis was expected today, but decided to work out in St. Louis.

Kranz is working out in Chicago with Max Marek, Harry Thomas and Buddy Knox. Babe Herman, Kranz' trainer, notified Gatto that Kranz is in perfect condition and expected to give Lewis "the fight of his life." Kranz stayed 10 rounds with Joe Louis early in the "brown bomber's" pro career.

Weber Fights For Nothing If Markus Takes Him In Grudge Match Tonight

TONIGHT'S LINEUP

Curtain raiser—Joe Kopecky, Houston, vs. Jack Terry, Portland, Ore. One fall or 20 minutes.

Special event—Jack Hagen, Shreveport, vs. Ace Freeman, New York. One fall or 30 minutes.

Main event—Vic Weber, New York, vs. Jerry Markus, Brooklyn. Two out of three falls to a finish, or 2-hour time limit.

Time and place: 8:30 p. m. at the Auditorium. Ringside broadcast, KFYO, at 8:30.

Vindictive Vic Weber may fight for nothing tonight.

There are any number of witnesses to his fiery pop-off that "If I don't whip that blankety-blank Hebrew half to death, I'll turn over my part of the purse to a local charity, and you can depend on that."

Weber made the statement first in the dressing quarters following the disgusting outcome of the Markus-Weber semi-final last week. He made it no less than half a dozen times since then.

Who'll Hold The Coats

So Weber either whips Jerry Markus tonight or gets no financial remuneration for his pains in the main event. He offered to fight Markus on a "winner-take-all" basis, no holds barred, and without a referee. But under Texas wrestling laws, the latter two conditions may not prevail. The regular rules will apply, or at least will be invoked, and the same referee who pulled the bloomer last week probably will be in there tonight.

Referee Clements gave Markus the match on a foul last week, thereby setting one for the record. At the time, and it was less than five minutes after the fight started, Markus lay groaning and clutching his throat on the floor, while Weber stood over him, raging and fairly popping. Clements maintains he had warned the two against choking, and had said he would forfeit to the match next time a chokehold was applied. Markus had been choking Weber since the match started, and as Weber tried to retaliate he lost the match. Incidentally, he was doing a good job of retaliating.

Jack Hagen Returns

It will be Weber's second main event start since he came back to the circuit a month ago. He lost his first, to Joe Kopecky, and has been demanding a return match ever since. Having acclimated himself, he was ready to fight Kopecky tonight, and the match had been booked. But because he felt he was unjustly treated last week, Weber asked for a chance to "get even" with Markus right away. So the booking was altered. Markus and Weber clash tonight in the main, and Kopecky who has won four straight main event victories, starting with Weber, in as many Wednesday nights here, takes on young Jack Terry in what should be a dandy preliminary.

Local mat patrons will welcome the return of Jack Hagen, the Shreveport lad with the crushing headlock, who has been doing his duties on the West coast and out of El Paso for several months. Hagen, naturally a clean fighter, nevertheless has held his own in hectic combats with the ruffians. He does not meet a ruffian tonight, but Freeman is always itching for a scalp. The New York youngster should put up a swell fight with Hagen, who is a main eventer in anybody's middleweight league.

Hobbs Oilers Seek Seventh Straight Win Here Sunday; Team Scores More Than 30 Runs In Saturday Victory

The Amerada Oilers of Hobbs, considered one of the best independent baseball outfits of New Mexico, will be after revenge and vindication when they invade the local park for a game with the Hubbers Sunday afternoon.

Last time the teams met, the score was 5 to 4, after a desperately fought game, in favor of the Hubmen. Since the start of the current season, the Ameradas have been seeking a chance to "get even." The club has been strengthened since last season. Lubbock hesitated to accept the challenge until it had conditioned itself for a tough contest.

Strong Offensive Clubs

The Oilers and the Hubbers pulled almost duplicate offensive tricks last weekend. Playing against the Carlsbad, N. M., team, Amerada won a 31 to 6 victory, comparing with Lubbock's 36 to 1 victory over Littlefield on Sunday. So Sunday's game should see a lot of offensive punching, if the clubs maintain their heavy batting pace.

Amerada defeated Sudan Sunday, 6 to 4, for its sixth straight victory of the season. It has not been defeated. Its victims have been Carlsbad three times, Littlefield once and Sudan twice.

Lubbock's Hubbers, joyful over their victory Sunday which proved to them they can hit and field with almost anybody, are not anticipating an easy contest Sunday. A scrimmage is booked this afternoon with the local negro nine, the Black Hubbers, and another workout is scheduled Friday, possibly against a Texas Tech team. Most of the boys show up at the park each afternoon for batting and fielding practice.

An effort to bring Hobbs here for a two-day series Saturday and Sunday fell through yesterday when Hobbs announced it was dated up. The teams will play a one-game stand starting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

An announcement of importance was made yesterday by Lubbock Baseball association officials. Instead of returning a visit to Amarillo on May 30, a week from Sunday, Lubbock is bringing back to the local park the strong Phillips "66" Oilers, only team to defeat Lubbock this season. The clubs will play a double header, beginning at 2:30 o'clock on May 30.

Failure of Amarillo ball enthusiasts to finish rebuilding the park which burned late last season is the reason for the transfer of the game.

Report of the nominations committee, made by Dr. C. C. Craig at the request of Chairman W. H. Carpenter, was accepted and a motion to declare the ticket elected was adopted unanimously. No nominations from the floor were made. W. H. Evans, first vice president, was named president.

Other Officers Named

R. H. Bean was named first vice-president; H. J. Bingham, second vice-president; J. R. Griggs, third vice-president; V. H. Moore, secretary; Dr. M. H. Benson, tail twister; Ed Allen, lion tamer; Harry Morris and Dr. R. P. Reeds, directors.

President H. C. Pender presided during the entire session, in the absence of both the chairman for the day and for the month.

"Texas Of Tomorrow" Theme

"Texas of Tomorrow," is the theme for this year's observance Johnson said. "Just now, the world seems to be in a state of utter bewilderment," he added.

Future development will be in the labor stories and workshops" of the nation.

Just now, chemists, he explained, were turning to new uses of agricultural products. Heretofore, farmers raised crops mainly for food. Under the new epoch, called "the age of chemistry," industry is turning to the products of the farm as new sources of its products. Many uses of corn aside from feeding to livestock, were cited.

A brief description of the coming Fiesta was given. Billy Rose, he said, is outdoing the 1936 spectacle, using a literary theme with four books providing four parts of the huge affair.

Fire Believed Incendiary

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, May 18. — An early morning fire which wrecked the H. McDonald grocery store and threatened the business district of Meadow undoubtedly was of incendiary origin, with burglars probably responsible, Sheriff Charles Gore reported to County Attorney Burton Hackney this afternoon after an investigation.

The sheriff said he had no clues to the suspects, although he is investigating.

Merchandising Missing

He added that a check of the stock disclosed that approximately 300 pounds of sugar, between 300 and 400 pounds of flour, a quantity of tobacco goods and probably other merchandise was missing. Destruction was so complete that an accurate check of missing property was not possible, the sheriff continued.

He said, however, that conditions in the ruins indicated that after the intruders had taken what they wanted, they had thrown inflamable substances about. This theory was born out that some portions of the flooring not completely destroyed was worse damaged than areas about them.

Loss Partially Insured

Loss from the fire was estimated by the owner today at between $2,000 and $3,000, partially covered by insurance.

The flames, according to report of V. A. Short of the Meadow Star, were discovered by Floyd Copeland, who was sleeping in his quarters in the drug store he operates. Copeland said that the entire front of the grocery store, a 40x20 frame structure, was aflame and part of the roof had fallen in when he was aroused.

Excellent work by the volunteer fire department was credited by Short with having brought under control a fire which otherwise would have left most of the business district in ruins. The Police Barber shop, operated by O. R. Reed, and the Avary and Lackey filling station, adjoining the grocery on either side, were most seriously endangered, but damage was confined to scorched walls.

New York-Paris Air Race Likely To Be Called Off, Indicated

PARIS, May 18. (AP)—Authoritative sources said today the New York-Paris air race, upon which United States officials have frowned as a needless danger to life, will be called off.

Air Minister Pierre Cot, well-informed quarters said, is not in favor of a suggestion to start the race, commemorating the 10th anniversary of Col. Charles A. Lindberg's flight to Paris, from Canada. He was said to contend that the same objections would hold.

System Of Military Councils Set Up In Soviet Russia

MOSCOW, May 18. (AP)—A system of all-powerful military councils to dominate all phases of Soviet military affairs and empowered to fight "the enemies of the people—spies and wreckers" has been established in a decree issued by the Kremlin.

Reorganization of the vast red war machine was foreshadowed last week by the demotion of Marshal M. N. Tukhachevsky, first vice-commissar of war, whose name had been mentioned at the January trial of 16 "Trotskyists" accused of anti-Soviet plotting.

Reached Into Every Branch

The Kremlin decree reached into every branch of the military organization of Soviet Russia.

War councils, or Soviets, each including one army commander and two other officials will be placed in command of each military unit.

As the highest representative of the military power under direct orders from the defense commissariat, the councils were given full jurisdiction over the mobilization of troops, the defense of all military and non-military property and the organization of civilians for front and rear-line duty.

The councils will have command of civilian gas and air defense, will recruit and train all territorial and volunteer troops, handle all conscription, sanitary operations, medical training, communications, supplies and labor troops.

Teach Students How To Drive

IN a recent issue of the Texas Weekly, edited in Dallas by Peter Molyneaux, there appears a lucid article headed "Teach Traffic Safety In The Schools. Vitally Needed In The Schools Of Texas Is A Course Of Instruction In Traffic Safety."

The article is not alone interesting because it was written by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college in his capacity of chairman of the sub-committee on education of Governor Allred's Traffic Safety Committee. It is also interesting because it discusses a subject which educators and thinking laymen, alike, have been considering for a long, long time.

As little as we think about it, much of our lives are spent in motor cars and much of the time we spend in motor cars is spent with ourselves behind the steering wheel. As years go on, and cars and highways improve, more and more of us are going to spend more and more time riding or driving. Since all this is undeniably true, why shouldn't boys and girls be systematically and scientifically taught to correctly operate motor cars? And how can they better be taught than through the schools, under instructors trained to teach them?

We think nothing of our young people spending hours daily learning things that they will rarely, if ever, use after graduation.

We think that is a good practice, 'because any sort of learning stimulates the brain and broadens in the individual."

Why then should we begrudge time spent learning a practical, necessary thing? Why should we begrudge expense for the practical when we do not, generally speaking, begrudge expense for items of education which rarely "come in handy" in after school life?

This is not the first time The Morning Avalanche has sponsored the idea of teaching motor car operation in all public high schools—and in Lubbock High school, in particular. As we said in an open letter addressed to Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of schools here, not long ago: "It soon will be the general practice everywhere; why not start teaching automobile driving in Lubbock High now, and be at the head of the parade?"

We are glad to know that an educational leader such as Doctor Knapp is a disciple of this principle—although we are not surprised to find him in that category, since he leans toward the practical, rather than the aesthetic, in education. We wish it were possible for everyone to have read his sensible, intelligent discussion in the Texas Weekly and we hope, sooner or later, that in some of his public addresses here the president of Texas Tech will inculcate in his remarks the thoughts he expressed in the Molyneaux publication.

The One-Minute Sermon

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands.

Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter into his gate with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name.

For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.—Psalm C. 1, through 5.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

GREW 4 FEET OVERNIGHT

Generally, the hard, dense plants are very slow in their growth. On the contrary, the softer their tissues the more rapidly they develop. Some plants are astonishing in this respect, and some of the softest ones grow so fast that they can actually perceive the growth.

In France, many years ago, experiments were conducted with bamboo and puff balls. The bamboo was found to grow as much as six inches in a single day, while the puff ball acquired as much bulk overnight as an animal does in ten years. The gigantic lycoperdon sprung from a seed so tiny that it is almost invisible, and between sundown and sunrise this fungus growth attained a diameter of 4 feet.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JOAN BARRETT, heroine, secretary to John Hendry.

JOHN HENDRY, mining investment head.

BOB ANDREWS, Hendry's junior partner and Joan's fiance.

SYBIL HENDRY, socialite, John Hendry's niece and Joan's rival in love.

PHILIP STARKE, Joan's girlhood friend.

CHARLES NORTON, California mining promoter.

Yesterday: Bob returns from California and Joan is herself again. On their way home from a party Bob places a diamond on Joan's hand.

CHAPTER XII

The following Saturday Dorothy followed up Sybil Hendry's precedent and gave a tea herself for Joan. To it she invited all of the smart young things who had been at Sybil's, as well as several of the young married women whom Joan had not met. Dorothy, to be sure, was also a stranger in Green Hills, but she had visited her cousin at frequent intervals, and she knew the important people in town. So, recalling Sybil's tactics, she made up her invitation list wisely and shrewdly.

Sybil swallowed a bitter pill the day Joan moved into the Downs' home. Here was this little nobody—this ordinary little stenographer whom she had planned so carefully to discredit before the world—being publicly accepted as the guest of one of the community's leading families. It took the entire situation out of Sybil's capable management.

She fretted over Philip's slowness in sending her some sort of news. If only he could discover, before the girl was too well established in Green Hills, just what this background of hers was, then Sybil would have a definite point of attack. She had no doubt now that the story would be startling.

The words she had heard on the porch that night at the inn still rang in her ears, and as the days passed, they lost none of the intensity, none of the tragedy, with which they had been spoken. Later events, moreover, had borne them out. At tea on Wednesday, for example, Joan Barrett was frightened to her very soul at the sight of this girl from Seattle. Sybil remembered how her face had paled, how the cocktail glass had fallen from her lifeless fingers. She was not deceived by Dorothy Starke's quick handling of the situation; she was too alert for just such details.

That was another angle over which Sybil fretted. Whatever the secret was, Dorothy Starke knew it too. And Dorothy Starke was a difficult opponent.

If only Philip could unearth something soon—before Joan Barrett became too well acquainted in Green Hills. Before—and Sybil quailed at the possibility—Bob might marry her! From the way her uncle had spoken lately, he was planning to do exactly that.

Sybil's nerves were indeed sorely overtaxed. It was no actual falsehood, therefore, when she declined Dorothy's invitation on the plea of illness.

"What do you think of that?" Dorothy beamed when Sybil's message was received. "We've frightened off the scheming siren already."

Joan shuddered. "I'm frightened to death myself, Dorothy," she confided. "It's all so deliberate . . ."

"Of course it is," Dorothy admitted. "Deliberate and ridiculous. But it's a form of social warfare that goes on in every community. Sybil played a pretty deliberate hand. I'd say, trying to make a monkey out of you. And this afternoon I'm out to call her cards."

"Why should Sybil dislike me?" Joan asked thoughtfully, after a moment.

"I wondered that, too. But now I've found out."

"Why?"

"Sybil is in love with Bob Andrews."

Joan grasped. "Oh, no!" she cried earnestly. "I'm sure she couldn't be. Why, Sybil has known him for five years. If she wanted him . . .

"Perhaps it's more a matter of Bob not wanting her."

Still Joan couldn't believe it. "I can't understand any man not—not wanting her, as you say Sybil is the most striking girl. . . What made you think that, Dorothy?"

"I didn't think it myself. Millie Sanders told me."

"How did she know?"

"Women don't have to be told those things. Millie's husband and Bob have been good friends for years, and the four of them—Sybil and Bob and the Sanders—have gone about a great deal."

It was incredible, yet it was the only answer to Sybil's purposeful dislike, Joan thought.

"Was Millie Sanders at Sybil's last Wednesday?" she asked.

"No. She's not like the rest of Sybil's friends."

That afternoon, when Joan met her, she remembered her as one of the pleasant matrons to whom Bob had presented her at the spring party. She liked her immediately. As a matter of fact Joan felt much more at home at Dorothy's party than at Sybil's.

Perhaps it was the room itself, Joan thought. There was none of the chilling smartness in it that Sybil's home reflected, though it was equally luxurious. A cheerful fire roared in the great fireplace, and its flames were reflected in dazzling splendor by the diamond on her hand. The ring, too, she realized, gave her the self-confidence which she had lacked before. It gleamed as the emblem of Bob's devotion, for all the world to see—a symbol of his precense at her side.

Instead of cocktails and canapes, served by a formidable Jennings, Dorothy had tea and tiny sandwiches and delectable cakes, and Mrs. MacDonald, the Downs' housekeeper, passed them around with the friendly fussiness of an old mother hen.

After they had tea, Dorothy led the way upstairs to her aunt's sitting room, and there, in the center of the room, stood an enormous old chest, elaborately bedecked with crepe paper bows and paper hearts, and bulging with daintily wrapped gifts.

"Surprise!" A dozen voices echoed the word.

Joan, too stunned to speak, looked at Dorothy, and her eyes flashed appreciation. There was a lump in her throat, and her heart was filled with sweet bewilderment. This was a shower for her—for Joan Barrett, the outcast, who had never known a single friendship in all her life. Here were gifts from friendly neighbors who asked nothing further than the fact that she was their neighbor's fiance and Dorothy Starke's friend!

One by one she unwrapped them—lovely linen bridge sets, enriched with dainty hand embroidery; bath towels, enormous affairs that Bob could hide away in; bright kitchen accessories—pot holders and hot-plate mats and aprons . . .

Her eyes lingered over each one hungrily, and she thought that she had never never dreamed of such abundant happiness.

The time was passing all too quickly. . . .

Perhaps it was an hour or so later, when Nellie, the little Irish kitchen-maid, came upstairs and whispered something to Mrs. McDonald, who hovered in the doorway.

Mrs. McDonald frowned. "Be off with you, Nellie, and don't talk such nonsense!" she scolded.

"What is it, Mrs. McDonald?" Dorothy asked.

"There's some fakir of a woman down at the back door who tells fortunes with the cards, and this superstitious little baggage thinks the young lady should hear her foolishness."

Dorothy laughed. "Don't be silly, Nellie."

The others, however, looked up with sudden interest.

"A fortune-teller?" they chorused. "Bring her in, of course. Joan don't you want your fortune told?"

"She does not!" Dorothy snapped, a little fearful of Joan's reaction.

But Millie Sanders, however—careless, guileless Millie—settled the matter.

"Of course Joan wants her fortune told," she insisted. "Send the woman up, Nellie. Don't you want to know what the future holds, Joan?"

And Joan, too happy at this moment to dream of any misfortune, nodded her head eagerly. "I'd love it!" she agreed.

A moment later, Nellie brought her upstairs—a bedraggled, dirty, stupid-looking old woman. The girls found a place for her in their midst, and she drew forth a soiled pack of cards from a pocket in her coat. Dorothy watched with misgivings. She's too fair for a gypsy, she thought, and too stupid for a clairvoyant. I wonder if this is some smart trick of Sybil Hendry's.

The old woman was shuffling the cards, and regarding Joan dully.

"You're going to be married, eh?" She dealt them out on the table in front of her, one at a time. Queen of heart, two of diamonds, king of spades, ace of spades.

"Married, eh?" she repeated, her voice cackling shrilly. She picked up the four cards, shuffled them in-

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE same sort of Senatorial oligarchy that seized control of the G.O.P. in post-war years now schemes to wrest domination of the Democratic party from Franklin D. Roosevelt. They aim to substitute a mild liberalism for the radical policies they think he hides up his sleeve.

Their cloakroom conversations have not progressed beyond the exchange of vague ideas, but the determination exists and grows stronger every day. They proceed on the premise that, even though Mr. Roosevelt doesn't seek a third term, he will try to nominate his sort of man. Insofar as they have reached any political conclusions, they mean to stage a skirmish in the 1938 off-elections. They will rally around any anti-court members whom the Roosevelt-Farley forces move to punish; they will show their wisdom teeth.

The over-the-top fight will come in 1940, when the oligarchists will organize to name their own kind of man as presidential nominee. They don't hanker for an open break with such a popular figure as Mr. Roosevelt (providing his stardom lasts), but they may have to face that prospect. Senators Clark of Missouri, Wheeler of Montana and Byrd of Virginia figure in guarded talk as prospective spearmen for the Senatorial phalanxes.

NOBLE: The late Senator Couzens was as good a friend to Franklin D. Roosevelt in death as in life.

The Senator's colleagues were astonished when he died without leaving a will. Now it develops that the former Ford partner deliberately refused to make a will or to resort to practices which might have reduced the amount of taxes Uncle Sam would collect. As one who always voted for heavy estate and corporation levies, and denounced wealthy men who sought to outwit the government through legal loopholes, the Senator practicted what he preached to the end.

He left an estate of approximately $31,000,000, and Uncle Sam will collect $18,000,000 in taxes at a time when funds are critically needed. Had he distributed his fortune before impending death, or broken it up with a will, the federal payments would have been smaller by several millions.

HEROES: When the politicians at Washington—Democratic or Republican—lay off jobholders, that's big news. And that is what happened during the first quarter of 1937, marking the first break in mounting costs for federal personnel and projects.

Total reductions amounted to 137,500 people, but that figure was offset by the addition of some 30,000 to Youth Administration rolls. Harry Hopkins dropped 70,000 relief beneficiaries, while Harold Ickes took about 35,000 off completed P.W.A. projects. The balance is accounted for by decreases of employes in emergency conservation work, on regular governmental building, R.F.C.-financed activities and departmental employes. War, Navy and Postoffice departments were the only outfits which showed a bullish trend.

It's only a start—and future emergencies, may reverse the trend—but public demand for economy seems to have frightened the politicos at both ends of Pennsylvania avenue. Congressmen who suggested the idea with a trembling tongue in cheek, awoke to discover that they were heroes in their own country.

EASTWARD: Two first-class witnesses—Senator Clyde Herring of Iowa and Federal Reserve Board Governor Chester C. Davis—can substantiate Secretary Wallace's recent statement that land values in the East are soaring faster than farm prices in the West. They can also explain why if the Senator's fellow-Iowan wants some humorous statistics.

While vacationing at an eastern resort recently, Senator Herring accompanied a real estate salesman on a tour of property under development. As they drove past a new and attractive residence, the promoter nodded toward a man sitting on the front steps. "There's a fellow who just bought that house," he said. "Came into town yesterday and signed on the dotted line last night. That's why the 'For Sale' sign hasn't been taken down yet."

Senator Herring thought he recognized the new purchaser and strolled up the path. The eager investor was Mr. Davis, also of Iowa, who was simply resting his feet after a brisk morning walk around his new domain.

NEW YORK
By James McMillin

A LOT of things can happen in the hilarious closing hours of a session of the New York legislature. Something that happened this year has metropolitan real estate interests in a lather. The offending bill was passed in the last-minute confusion without even the formality of a record vote, taking its opponents completely off guard.

In essence, the measure provides that if a tenement does not conform to certain minimum standards of health and safety as required by the Multiple Dwelling law, municipal authorities are empowered to take the initiative in carrying out the repairs and renovations which in their judgment are necessary—without obtaining the landlord's permission.

Then—and this is the real brain-ache—the money spent by the city for this purpose becomes a charge against the property AHEAD of the first mortgage. You can understand why landlords turn pale and shriek that dictatorship has arrived. A desperate effort is being made to have Governor Lehman veto the bill.

BATTLE: American Legion inner circles are a bit worked up about what course to follow in connection with the President's Supreme court plan.

National Commander Harry W. Colmery—Kansas Republican—went over to the Legion records with a microscope in search of a precedent on which to base official opposition. He found that in 1922 and 1927 the Legion had passed resolution opposing legislative interference with the independence of the judiciary. He was persuaded, however, that a direct blast would be dangerous. So he issued a diplomatic statement saying that of course he could not pretend to read the President's mind, but that IF the object of the reform was to allow the President to dominate the Supreme court, traditional Legion policy was against it. The Legion executive council endorsed the commander's statement, but there is still an undercurrent of dissatisfaction from Legion members on both sides of the fence who feel that their organization should take a clear-cut stand on the question.

If the Supreme court proposal is still an issue when the Legion convenes in September, there will be a hot battle to put the convention officially on record as condemning the President's plan.

RATES: New York gets word that California leaders are privately quite concerned about the ultra-cheap power rates proposed for Booneville.

These rates would be far below those already charged for Boulder Dam power, and it is feared that industries now located in the Los Angeles area might be attracted to Oregon or Washington in consequence.

This angle will be important in the political jockeying among various agencies and factions for control of Bonneville.

SIDELIGHTS: Big tug-of-war inside the Stock exchange about Saturday closing in July and August. . . Most members want extra holidays but powerful wire houses—whose expenses continue regardless—are opposed . . . Dan Dougherty of Massachusetts is currently leading the race for next national commander of the American Legion. . . But he's far from "in"—too many other candidates in the field.

Lubbock Junior High School Has Annual

Big brothers and sisters in Senior High school have nothing on Junior High school students now. This year the Lubbock Junior High school boasts for the first time of an annual, called "The 1937 Cowboy Round-Up."

The theme of the book is cowboy life, and all art work carries out that motif. Bernice Keeton was editor of the book, while Orville Alderson was business manager.

Sponsors of the book were: Mrs. Bruce Bryan, art; Miss Mancie Edwards, editorial material and J. Gordon, business.

All students in the eighth grade and all teachers of school are pictured in groups. Individual pictures of Carroll Thompson, principal, and Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent, as well as officers of the senior class, Joyce Halsey, president; Mary Ann Stephenson, vice-president; Sarabeth Kimmel, secretary; given extra space.

Pictures of students in forty-f clubs in the school give an idea the allied curricular work be carried on in the school. A spec snap shot and fun section is a included in the book.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 105

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When Tarzan had struck down his torturer, he turned to the door by which he had entered the throne room. Since he would be punished anyway, he might as well make a desperate effort to escape. So, wielding the torture cuff as a weapon, he attacked the guards.

His furious assault cleared a path to the door, and he flung himself against it. Queen Zalya laughed, for she knew that six of her strongest subjects were required to move that giant stone portal. But to her astonishment, the door creaked and moved open.

Before the ape-man could dash through the opening, however, several of the monsters dived at his legs and dragged him down. Others piled on him and held him secure; and finally he was brought back to the throne of the Queen, who smiled down in boastful triumph.

The sovereign of the monsters leaned over and took Tarzan's left hand in hers. For a moment she held it hesitantly, as she were wracked by doubt. Then indecision vanished. Her right hand flew to the turnscrew of the torture machine and gave it a sharp twist!

Green Allen Brooks

has had "thousands" of visitors since being returned here two months ago, Jailor Pat Giles said.

Brooks has told visitors to the jail here he was circuit judge in Hancock and Union counties in east Tennessee from 1877 to 1883, later an officer, school teacher, traveling salesman, farmer, Middlesboro, Ky., merchant and Sunday school worker.

Aged Man Was Using Alias Of J. H. Jones In Lubbock

Green Allen Brooks, 82-year-old Virginia mountaineer, was arrested by Lubbock county sheriff's department early in March on a tip from Sheriff James W. Ridings of Pineville, Ky., who had been trailing him.

At the time of his arrest, Brooks was using an alias of J. H. Jones. He had come to Lubbock in November and was making his living washing dishes, doing yard work, and had painted one residence.

Officers left with Brooks on their return trip to Virginia on the morning of March 8. When told he was to be taken to Virginia on a charge of murdering two officers, he told a reporter, "If they break my neck, take my head off clean at my shoulders, I'll die like a gentleman."

The erect bearded man earlier had contended he knew nothing of the death of the two officers, but on the day he left Lubbock admitted he was the man sought.

BUYING RALLIES LEADERS

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—Belated buying power got behind the stock market today and rallied leading issues fractions to four points and some much more.

Recoveries were highly selective, however, and a wide assortment of shares finished unchanged or behind minus signs.

Numerous new lows for the year or longer were posted before support arrived. Prominent in the upward reveaal wee steels, motos, ails, coppers and specialties.

The last hour's jump was coincident with Washington advices disclosing the senate judiciary committee had cast an adverse vote of 10 to 8 on the administration's Supreme court bill.

Transfers totaled 1,196,020 shares compared with 897,370, the smallest volume in more than a year yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 8 of a point at 66.3. Of 838 individual issues, 391 advanced, 263 declined and 184 were unchanged.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 18. (AP)—A good buying movement strengthened cotton today and although trading was limited to the three near positions final prices were steady at net advances of 13 to 20 points.

A southern spot house was reported to be the largest buyer of July contracts and because later positions were not sold to any great extent the switching angle was eliminated.

There was little transferring at the start but this was completed during early trading. The July position started 6 points down but the general demand carried it along with other points to new highs for the day in the final hour.

Selling pressure was entirely lacking. The recent evening-up movement apparently has strengthened the technical position of the market and apparently has left little or no long interest. Uncertainty over the crop has kept speculators on the side-lines.

Trading as a whole was active throughout the day. The resignation of Justice Van Devanter from the United States Supreme court was read carefully because of its unexpectedness but did not have any influence on the market. July contracts finished at 12.66B; Oct. 12.63; Dec. 12.74B; Jan. 12.77 and March 12.80. Spot continued quiet with middling closing at 13.06, or 13 points net higher.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—Cotton rallied from slight opening declines today on covering, influenced by firmness of stocks and wheat.

October rose from 12.45@12.64 and closed at the high with final prices 11 to 17 points net higher.

The market opened 1 to 4 points lower in response to easier Liverpool cables and under July liquidation. Spot houses were willing to absorb the July at narrowing premiums over new crop positions and with offerings otherwise light, the market soon turned steadier.

Aside from a firm technical position after prices had again sold off to within a few points of recent lows, the trade found little else to stimulate buying.

Exports today 20,182; making a total of 5,216,428 for the season thus far. Port receipts 5,882; U. S. port stocks 1,476,978.

to their teachers Monday by the pupils, and in turn placed in the hands of the campaign committee. Prize winners will be those with the highest percentages of cleanup pledges made, and the pledges actually carried out.

Inspections To Check

Inspections made by members of the Federation of Women's clubs assisted by Boy Scouts will ascertain how well the pledges are kept.

Reports Tuesday bore out previous claims that cooperation has been of such excellence that additional men were placed on duty by W. W. Stafford, city sanitation superintendent, to handle the hauling of the increased volume of rubbish.

He also has given instructions, Stafford told the chamber of commerce, that sanitation department men cooperate with those cleaning up and improving their premises. The city men are to suggest as to the handling of garbage and the placing of rubbish so that it may be more conveniently handled.

The volume of hauling has grown steadily since the start of the campaign, Stafford said, and expectation is it will reach its peak this week. Enough men will be hired to move the loads, he assured.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP) — In feverish trading, wheat soared practically 5 cents a bushel today, impelled by authoritative estimates of huge domestic crop losses and by Canadian dust storms.

A shrinkage of 30,000,000 bushels in the 1937 prospective wheat yields of Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma during the past fortnight because of severe moisture deficit was announced by B. W. Snow, widely known crop expert. He said the wil-ing stage of crop damage has been reached in the three states named, and that deterioration will continue unless heavy general rainfall takes place this month.

On top of this, were advices received just before trading ended for the day that dust storms were in progress south of Regina in the Canadian prairie provinces. Peak prices, up 4⅞ cents a bushel overnight, resulted but with a slight reaction following.

At the close, wheat 3⅝ to 4⅝ cents above yesterday's finish, May 1.31¼@1.31⅞, July $1.21½@1.21¾, Sept. $1.19@1.20⅜, corn ¼ off to 1¼ up, May $1.33½, July $1.19⅝@1.19½, Sept. $1.09½@1.09⅝, oats unchanged to 1⅛ advance, May 52¾@52⅞.

at Bellefontaine, O., for two years following 1905.

Doctor Wagner was notified of decision of the Monmouth senate—which corresponds to the directorate at Texas Tech—to confer upon him the doctor of science rank in an air mail letter arriving here yesterday. The invitation was signed by Dr. James Harper Greer, president of the institution, and set June 8 as the date of conference. The local physician yesterday afternoon telegraphed his acceptance.

The Wagner family through two generations has been closely allied with Monmouth college and next year a second daughter, Miss Helen, is expecting to graduate with degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of music. Mrs. Wagner served in the senate from 1931 to 1934 and yesterday was elected to serve a second term which carries into 1940.

Oldest of the United Presbyterian colleges, Monmouth was established in 1857. Dr. T. H. McMichael, who retired in 1936 after 33 years as its president, is now president-emeritus. He and Mrs. McMichael visited in Lubbock last winter as the guests of the Wagners, who reside at 1644 Broadway. They have lived in Lubbock since 1913.

Founded Hospital Here

Doctor Wagner, founder and still chief of staff of West Texas hospital expects to leave for Illinois next week where Mrs. Wagner has already gone to attend events in connection with her daughter's graduation. From Monmouth, they will go to Chicago to attend the 25th reunion of Doctor Wagner's graduating class at University of Illinois medical school.

The degree of doctor of science, while honorary in conference was not won without actual contribution to the field outside of medicine, it was noted here last night by Dr William Curry Holden, director of archaeological research at Texas Technological college. Doctor Wagner accompanied two expeditions led by Doctor Holden into the Yaqui Indian country of Sonora, Mexico, in 1934, doing medical research work among that there-to-fore little known people. The expeditions, sponsored by Texas Tech and Harvard university, reported to various scientific bodies and Doctor Wagner's sections on medicine and hygiene were widely noted.

Trip Down Canyon

would remain here and "look the country over" for awhile.

The party spent last night at Camp Misery. Dr. Webb said they had to carry the boats over 250 feet of cliff and it required all day yesterday. They finished about 7 o'clock last night and decided not to continue further until daylight. "We would not have completed the journey today had it not been for the assistance of Bill Wilson of Marfa and Roy Williams, state game warden, who met us today and assisted us."

The trip began from Lajitas in Brewster county and was from that point to the mouth of the canyon. The Rio Grande along this route is choked with boulders and rapids and there are many swiftly-running channels and sharps turns.

Two especially built steel rowboats were used, the Big Bend, flying the American flag, and the Cinco de Mayo, flying the Mexican banner.

Court Bill Loses In First Test

the number of justices was less than fifteen.

As introduced and as rejected by the committee today, the president's bill would authorize the appointment, to a maximum of six, of a new member for every incumbent who has passed seventy and declines to retire voluntarily.

Reduces Appointments

In its practical application, however Van Devanter's retirement reduced the maximum of additional appointments to five, since it leaves only that number of incumbent justices who are past 70.

Van Devanter, who began his legal career as a lawyer on the Wyoming frontier, made known his retirement intentions in a letter to President Roosevelt, stipulating that his withdrawal should become effective on June 2, the day after the present term of the court closes.

Took Advantage Of Law

In doing so, he took advantage of a law passed at this session of congress, through the operation of which many have hoped the end of the great court controversy would come. The statute permits the retirement of supreme court justices at 70 with full pay of $20,000 annually for life.

Van Devanter wrote:

"Having held my commission as an associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States, and served in that court for 26 years, and having come to be 78 years of age, I desire to avail myself of the rights, privileges and judicial service specified in the act of March 1, 1937, entitled an act to provide for retirement of justices of the Supreme court,' and to that end I hereby retire from regular active service on the bench—this retirement to be effective on and after the second day of June 1937, that being the day next following the adjournment of the present term of the court."

Acknowledged In Long Hand

Mr. Roosevelt picked up his pen and promptly wrote his acknowledgement in long hand.

"I have received your letter of this morning, telling me that you are retiring from regular active service on the bench on June 2, 1937.

"May I as one who had the privilege of knowing you for many years, extend to you every good wish.

"Before you leave Washington for the summer it would give me great pleasure if you would come in to see me."

Speculation of course included talk of who Van Devanter's successor would be and when he would be named.

No Hurry Is Seen

Some suggested that Mr. Roosevelt would be in no hurry to fill the vacancy, since the court will recess in two weeks until October. He might, it was said, make a recess appointment after congress adjourns to keep any controversy that might arise over confirmation separate from the present conflict over the bill.

Van Devanter's colleagues on the court were quick to express their regret at his departure. Chief Justice Hughes said his going was a "most serious loss" and added:

"We Shall Greatly Miss Him"

"His long judicial experience, his extraordinary memory and grasp of precedents, his acumen and fairness enabled him to render a service of inestimable value in our deliberations, while his equable temperament, his tact and unfailing kindliness made him an ideal associate. We shall greatly miss him."

The associate justices praised Van Devanter warmly, too and expressed regret at his retirement. Justices Sutherland and Butler, who with Van Devanter and McReynolds have constituted the conservative wing of the court, said in a joint statement that his retirement would be a "great loss to the court."

Three Make No Statements

McReynolds said he regarded the retirement as "a very serious loss to the court" and "a very unhappy loss to myself." Justive Stone said he felt a "deep regret in parting with an associate whom I regard very highly." Justices Brandeis, Cardozo and Roberts made no statements.

At Mr. Roosevelt's regular press conference this afternoon, a newsman facetiously brought up the question of Van Devanter's retirement by asking if there was any special significance to the fact that a band was then playing on the White House lawn.

The president laughed heartily, and said he thought the point was well taken.

Successor Not Considered

The questioning turned to the appointment of a successor, with the president saying he had not yet considered the question.

Asked point blank if the Van Devanter retirement affected his court program in any way, he replied that there was no news on that.

Further questioning brought a reiteration of the presidents statement that he would recommend labor legislation to congress at the present session.

Request For Bridge

there had once been a road tentatively designated to connect Meridian with Waxahachie and Cleburne, across the river to the north and that it had been part of a proposed highway to link Dallas and Fort Worth with the cattle country as far southwest as Del Rio.

They also informed the commission that if the state saw fit to build the span, which would be between two proposed WPA dams whose lakes, should they come into exitsence, would place old roads under water, the counties agreed to build well-surfaced roads to the approaches.

The commission took the proposal under advisement.

Mrs. Winger Goes Down In 24-Hole Southern Match

ATLANTA, May 18. (AP) — The stage was set tonight for eight sensational matches in the second round of the 26th annual Women's Southern golf tournament, dominated by a clash between Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., and Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., semi-finalists in the 1936 national.

This pair, seeking the crown now held by Mrs. Mark McGarry of St. Petersburg, Fla., came through the first round easily.

One upset was posted when tall Deane Van Landingham of Charlotte, N. C., put Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C., out of the tournament one up. Miss Cothran got away poorly and could not overtake the steady-stroking victor.

Exciting a gallery that disregarded a blazing May sun was the spectacular overtime battle between defending champion McGarry and Mrs. R. E. Winger, a veteran from Fort Worth. Mrs. Winger challenged the Floridian all the way, but lost a record-equalling decision on the 24th hole.

Aneila Wins Match

Only once before—in Knoxville, Tenn., in 1914—has a match in the Southern championship gone six extra holes.

In the second round, Mrs. McGarry faces Miss Van Landingham, who led Miss Cothran two up after nine holes and maintained the advantage down the incoming side.

Another interesting match for the second round appeared in the pairings of Mrs. George Brantley of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, who as Aneila Gorczyca won the Southern crown in 1933.

These former champions both won by scores of 6 and 5. Mrs. Brantley turned back Mrs. Robert Coffey of Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. Goldthwaite eliminated Mrs. Jack Longdon of Anniston, Ala.

Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, who won medalist honors yesterday with a 77 for the second straight year, barely withstood a challenge from Mrs. Frank Ford of Charleston, S. C., to win two up.

Horned Frogs Bruise Texas Baseball Feelings, 11 To 7

AUSTIN, May 18. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns, toppled leaders of Southwest conference baseball, collapsed completely in their final game today, losing 11 to 7 to Texas Christian university.

The beaten team bore little resemblance to the title-contender of a week ago, succumbing to the slants of Aubrey Linne, hefty righthander, who went the route for the Frogs.

Uncle Billy Disch, veteran Longhorn mentor, started second stringers and kept them in until the final moments of the fourth inning. C. C. Hughson, ace Steer hurler, failed, however, to halt the Fort Worth team's slugging. He was jerked after two and two-thirds innings.

Mike Jacobs Dares Garden To Interfere With Title Bout

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP)—No legal blows are going to stop the heavyweight championship fight between James J. Braddock and Joe Louis, set for Comiskey park, on the night of June 22.

That, at least, was the emphatic declaration of Mike Jacobs, who controls Louis' service, when advised on his arrival today that Madison Square Garden corporation had carried to the United States court of appeals at Philadelphia, its fight to prevent the Chicago bout.

"The fight is going on here as scheduled," Jacobs said. "We are not afraid of the Garden. It will be held just five weeks from today and there is a lot of work to be done to get things ready. We will be too busy to worry about suits."

Ferdinand Pecora, Samuel Rosenman and Learned Hand of the New York courts, past and present. Roseman was counsel to president Roosevelt when the latter was governor of New York. Pecora, former member of the securities commission, won a wide reputation as attorney for the senate investigation of Wall Street practices.

Senators Robert F. Wagner, New York Democrat, and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader, were prominently mentioned among legislative possibilities, despite contentions by some lawyers that they would be barred under the constitution.

Section 6 of article 1 says no senator or representative shall, during his current term, be named to any civil job which was created or whose "emoluments" were increased during that term.

GUARDS PATROL SHOPS

HOUSTON, May 18. (AP)—Armed guards with special city police commission patrolled several authorized auto dealers service shops today as doors were opened the first time since union mechanics struck April 15.

HOUSTON MAN SHOOTS SELF

HOUSTON, May 18. (AP)—Spencer J. Brewer, a bridegroom of five days, killed himself with a pistol today in his room at a Houston hotel.

He left two notes and a will bequeathing all his property to Spencer Brewer, jr., his son by a former marriage.

Appropriations Being Rushed

again, this time on a bill authorizing the state to purchase 90,000 acres of land on Padre island for a park, with the cost to be defrayed from concessions and tolls over causeways. The governor objected that the state already might have title to much of the property, that it would not acquire the minerals and that the causeways would be expensive to build and maintain.

Another Bill Vetoed

Another bill appropriating $1,000 to replace a school house at Centerville destroyed by fire also was vetoed in accordance with the governor's view the state's financial condition would not permit underwriting such losses.

An economy bloc in the house was reputed, 69 to 70, in an effort to instruct conferees on the departmental appropriation proposal to cut the total at least five per cent below the figure contained in the house bill.

Bills Sent To Governor

House concurrence in senate amendments advanced to the governor bills to license architects and restrict dental advertising.

Another proposal which the house sent the governor would prohibit commitment of neglected children to the school for delinquent girls at Gainesville.

A bill granting the federal government easements for construction of the intracoastal canal from Port Lavaca to Corpus Christi was sent to conference committee.

College Measure Fails

Sponsors of a bill making senior colleges of John Tarleton at Stephenville and North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington fell two votes short of the two-thirds majority needed to obtain immediate floor consideration of the proposal.

The senate passed house bills requiring bond of commission merchants dealing in vegetables in the citrus zone, authorizing the land commissioner to sell 50 acres of submerged land near Harbor island and Port Aransas to permit expansion of port facilities and repealing the law permitting refunds for licenses on motor vehicles which have been destroyed.

Senate Kills Measure

After long debate, the senate killed a proposed bill to substitute a plan of appointing the state superintendent of public instruction for the existing system of election. The measure failed of engrossment, 9 to 18.

Oother house bills passed by the senate would set January 1 as the date to start terms of office for district and state officials, except those provided for in the constitution, and permit delinquent taxes to be paid in 10 installments.

Bill Is Finally Approved

A senate bill allowing independent school district to deposit funds in banks not permitted to pay interest by a recent federal law also was finally approved.

The senate rejected, 13 to 14, a bill authorizing the state textbook commission to adopt additional texts where a certain number of students wanted to study the subjects. It was intended to provide books for students of home economics and commercial subjects.

Governor Allred signed bills appropriating $6,000 for the Central Colorado river authority and $3,600 to the Upper Colorado River authority.

Fee System Comment

and it may be for that reason the system has been expensive to the government. With business slack and tax collections low it may have worked some hardship on public funds to pay salaries, but in normal times I believe the fees will pay more than the salaries of officials and will leave funds to go into the county treasury."

Aided In Investigation

Parrish, who led an investigation committee into incomes of officers, said many officials in large towns made $20,000 to $30,000 a year under the fee system and in some instances incomes were even larger than that. If the old system is reinstalled, there will be more graft, he predicted.

"Under the old system there was much incentive for corruption," he said. "In the tax departments good friends of the officers might receive special favors, such as having interest and penalties taken off delinquent taxes. Records might be filed without fees. Under the present system every fee must be accounted for and that reduces the incentive for unfairness. When officers are on a straight salary, they are not tempted by easy graft.

Innocent Persons Arrested

"Under the old system, many persons were arrested and fined when they should not have been. The reason for this was to collect fees."

Another fault of the amendment to be voted on is the allowing of the legislature to determine the method of compensation, he said. The measure should prescribe the method.

Parrish said he believed the present system would prove satisfactory and a financial benefit to the counties and to the state over a period of time. He expressed confidence in the advisability of the present set-up in normal times.

George C. Purl Takes Issue With Allred On Fee System

DALLAS, May 18. (AP)—Former state Senator George C. Purl tonight took issue with Governor Allred's statement that the fee system for local officers was better than the salary system replacing it and deplored the move to restore the old system.

Purl was a member of an attorney for the legislative committee that investigated operation of the fee system and whose findings were directly responsible for abolition of the system.

to the pack once more, then dealt again. The same four cards appeared. Quen of hearts, two of diamonds, king of spades, ace of spades.

She looked up slowly, shook her old head. "I see no marriage in the cards," she prophesied gloomily. "Only at all dark man. And Death!"

A hushed silence followed her words, interrupted quickly by Dorothy. "Rubbish!" she cried, forcing a laugh. "I told you this was silly, Millie. Take the woman downstairs, Nellie. Give her a couple of dollars and something to eat. And don't be so foolish any more. I declare, Millie Sanders, you should have more sense. Don't tell us that a fortune-teller led you to Jim."

Millie laughed, too, and the spell of the previous moment was broken. "Eight years ago," she admitted gayly, "an old woman told me that my soul mate would be tall and dark too. But I'm still married to my roly-poly, redhead."

"It's high time, then, that you forgot the soul mate," Dorothy suggested reprovingly, and everybody laughed.

Joan laughed, too. It was all so very silly. A tall, dark man. The poor woman probably had no other means of earning a dollar. A tall, dark man. And Death. She was glad she'd never been superstitious. She laughed, again. Even though Bob was six feet two, and his hair was as black as jet. It was just too silly. . . .

Tech's Activity Fee May Be Increased

A proposal to increase student activity fees from $7.50 to $10 at the opening of the next long session at Texas Technological college will be acted on May 31 when the board of college directors will meet.

The student council and administration council already have approved the plan. If the board gives its approval, a redivision of funds would go into effect with opening of the fall semester. Allotments for each of the following would be increased: Athletics, The Toreador, debate, dramatics, senior livestock judging, student council, Association of Women Students, and band. The Engineering society, which formerly has not received an allotment, would receive 7.5 cents from each fee.

In return for payment of the fee, the student receives admission to athletic games, subscription to the student newspaper, and other benefits.
