MEMBERS OF THE LEGAL SECRETARIES ASSOCIATION of Snyder are attending the state convention of the association at Midland. The convention which started Friday will close Sunday. Shown viewing the scrapbook containing a record of this year's activities of the club are Mrs. Joan Waters and Mrs. Billye Stone, seated, and Mrs. Evelyn Schulz and Mrs. Trudie Wood. They, along with Mrs. Hartense North, the county and district clerk of Kent County who attended from the Snyder Association, attended the convention. Mrs. Schulz gave the invocation at the General Assembly on Saturday morning.

Downpours, Hailstorms Sweep Northern Texas

Worst Storm In 31 Years

By The Associated Press

Flooding downpours and destructive hail riddled several areas today as tornado-laden thunderstorms swept across North Texas, threatening further damage for hours.

Officers reported seven inches of rain sent water rising into some homes and flowing knee deep across highways at Kamay, 15 miles south of Wichita Falls. It was the worst storm in 31 years.

In Montague County on the north edge of the state, hail ravaged fruit trees and the icy pellets piled up a foot deep in places. As much as five inches of rain fell between St. Jo and the town of Montague.

The storm shattered windows in homes and stores at Bowie and other places in Montague County. Hitting a peak about 3:30 a.m., it also snapped power lines and stalled cars on highways.

Rainfall elsewhere in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today included Texarkana 4.20 inches, Antelope 3.11, Valley View 2.08, Wichita Falls, 2.24, Barksdale 2.00, Nocona 1.95, Newport 1.55, Muenster 1.54, Decatur 1.54, Bowie 1.50, Pilot Point 1.31, Sabinal and Slidell 1.20, Camp Wood 1.18, Arthur City 1.10, Gunter 1.01 and McKinney 1.00.

Severe thunderstorm forecasts were in effect at daybreak for much of North Central Texas, including the Dallas-Fort Worth area, after another round of bounding twisters and gargantuan size hail Friday.

The latest thunderstorm warning affected Tarrant, Dallas, Wise, Parker, Hood, Somervell, Cooke, Denton, Johnson, Ellis and Navarro counties until 9:30 a.m.

Hail and possible damaging winds were expected in the Fort Worth area by 7 a.m. in a line of severe thunderstorms extending from Graham to the eastern portion of Hamilton County.

Earlier severe thunderstorm forecasts advised residents of Comanche, Hamilton, Erath, Stephens, Eastland and Palo Pinto counties to take safety precautions until 7 a.m., against possible hail and damaging winds.

Tornado funnels whirled to the beat of heavy rain and hail across wide sections of North Texas Friday.

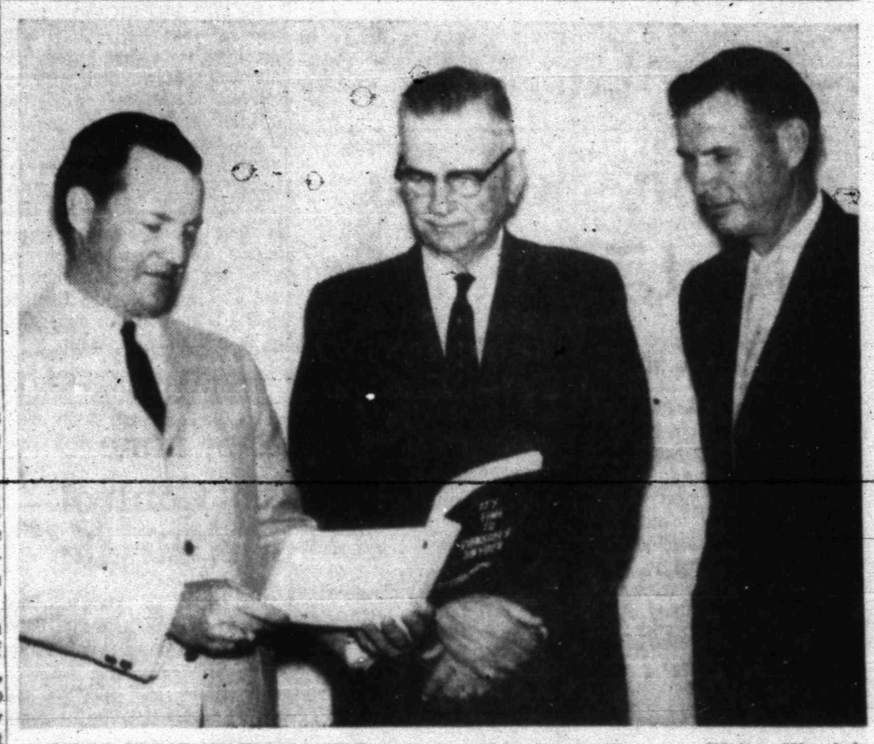

Twisters were reported near Brownwood, Arlington, Comanche, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Fort Worth and Vernon, but most caused only light damage, if any.

Hail described as big as hen eggs bombarded downtown Wichita Falls. Mrs. A. L. Hofer said she iced away in her refrigerator one hailstone nine inches in diameter.

Electra was drenched with rainfall reported unofficially at 3.25 inches, with marbel sized hail.

About three twisters swirled across the Brownwood area. One touched ground six miles east of Brownwood, skipping the home of Mrs E. M. Boone but flattening a garage and other outbuildings. Trees were flayed. Another funnel unroofed a barn.

A tornado south of Vernon caused undetermined damage at the Waggoner Ranch, and winds battered property at Olney.

SNYDER PRESENTATION MADE — Former Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul visited Snyder on Saturday morning in his capacity as a member of the site selection committee for the proposed State School for Retarded Children. Woodul, the second member of the committee to visit here, was escorted on a tour of the city by Chamber of Commerce officials and received a formal presentation of Snyder's application for the school. From left are Badger Robertson, Woodul and John Boren, president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. Woodul, who lives in Austin, was lieutenant governor in 1935-39.

Moscow Aims Angry Blast At Peking

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused the Red Chinese today of shameless slander and overt cheating and charged them with trying to isolate Russia from the nations of Asia and Africa.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda leveled an angry 2,500-word blast at Peking for blocking an immediate invitation for the Russians to attend a conference of Asian-African nations to be held in Africa next March.

The latest Kremlin salvo in the ideological battle with Red China sprang from the action of Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi at a preliminary Asian-African meeting earlier this month in Jakarta, Indonesia. Because of Chen's opposition, a decision was postponed on an Indian proposal to invite the Russians to the main conference.

"Chen Yi resorted to overt cheating when he declared that the participants in the Jakarta conference 'turned down' the Indian proposal," Prvada charged.

Risks All To Stop Sukarno

By TONY ESCODA

KUALA LUMPR, Malaysia (AP)—Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman put his policies and prestige to the test today as voters weighed his appeals for all-out resistance to Indonesian hostility.

Rahman has made resistance the cornerstone of his campaign in the state and parliamentary election and told his people they must be ready to fight in the face of President Sukarno's repeated threats to "crush Malaysia."

The 61-year-old architect of Malaysia, molded last September of Malaya, Singapore and the Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak, predicted a ringing endorsement as throngs jammed the polls in an apparent record turnout.

About 80 per cent of the 2.8 million voters were expected to make a choice between Rahman's aim to stand up against Indonesia and the softer attitude of accommodation preached by his opponents.

Rahman's Alliance party, a coalition of Malay, Chinese and Indian parties, accused the two major opposition parties of complicity with Sukarno, who has denounced Malaysia as a British neo-colonialist plot and launched guerrilla operations in Sabah and Sarawak.

Police and troops were placed on special alert for possible terrorism, especially in Southern Malaya and Singapore where the government charges scores of Indonesian saboteurs and agents are operating.

The voting was for 104 parliamentary seats and 282 state government seats in the 11 Malay states, kingpin of the Malaysian federation. Sarawak, Sabah and Singapore appoint their federal representatives and hold separate state elections.

Rahman's party was favored to win. Counting seats held in Sabah and Sarawak, it needed only 44 more to win a majority in the 159-seat Federal Parliament.

Rahman's chief opposition parties are the leftist Socialist Front and the right-wing, religiously fanatic Pan-Malayan Islamic party. Both have been advocating a softer line toward Indonesia.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

Amendment Vote Seen By Wed.

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders said today they expect a vote by Wednesday on their amendment to the civil rights bill—an amendment they hope will drive the opening wedge into the Senate stalemate.

Both leaders, Democrat Mike Mansfield and Republican Everett M. Dirksen, told newsmen the test on the first amendment to the measure should come by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Southerners could upset the timetable. However, the Mansfield-Dirksen proposal on jury trials in discrimination cases is a gesture toward easing their opposition which has forced the debate into its 40th day.

Originally, President Johnson and other supporters of the broad antidiscrimination measure had called for its passage in the same form as drafted in the House.

But after consultation with administration strategists the Senate leaders introduced their amendment as a substitute for a Southern proposal offered by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga.

It would permit a jury trial on any contempt action arising under the rights bill if the penalty involved more than 30 days in prison or a fine or more than $300.

If an individual or official fails to comply with a court order in a racial case, he could be found to be in contempt of the court. Most such contempt cases in the past have been decided by federal judges without a jury.

The new amendment is similar to a compromise attached to the 1957 civil rights bill, which ordered jury trials if the penalty involved more than 45 days or a $300 fine. That would be brought into line with the current amendment.

One top supporter of the bill, who asked not to be identified, said that if Southerners insist on continuing their speeches against the measure they may encourage some reluctant senators to join the drive to limit debate and force voting.

Normally the Senate does not meet Saturday, but leaders called for a fourth consecutive Saturday session with Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., scheduled to speak.

Deadline On Poll Switch

Frank Wilson, Democratic Party chairman of Scurry County, has issued a warning to those voters of Scurry County who have moved since they bought their poll taxes.

Wilson emphasized that a person who had lived in the county for six months, and had a poll tax would be allowed to vote. However, he said, it would be necessary for those who now live in a different voting precinct from the one in which they lived when they bought their poll tax, to have their poll tax corrected.

Monday is the last day on which these corrections can be made if the person wishes to vote in the primaries Tuesday.

Any changes in poll taxes can be made at the tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse.

PHILIP R. OVERTON

Hospital Auxiliary Banquet Set

The annual banquet of the Cogdell Hospital Auxiliary will be held Thursday, Apr. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Stanfield Elementary School cafeteria.

Guest speaker at the event will be Phillip R. Overton, general counsel for the Texas Hospital Association for over 25 years. Overton, who maintains his law offices in Austin, has also been general counsel for Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas since their beginning in 1939.

The speaker's family background is one of medicine. His father, the late Dr. M. C. Overton, was one of the pioneer doctors of Lubbock until his death several years ago.

Overton's son, Dr. Phil M. Overton, is an orthopedic surgeon in Austin, and his brother, Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., is a practicing physicial and surgeon at Pampa.

As general counsel for the hospital association and for Blue Cross-Blue Shield, the speaker's special interest is in helping enact laws for the protection of the public.

The public is invited to the banquet. However it is requested that reservations be made by Tuesday. Auxiliary members and guests should make reservations by calling Mrs. Joe Carroll at HI 3-9766.

HS Band Parents Set Monday Session

The Snyder High School Band Parents Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the band hall at the school.

Plans for the band's trip to Corpus Christi, where it will participate in the Buccaneer Music Festival, will be discussed.

Ten Injured In Race Riot

By KENNETH RAPPAPORT

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrations flared into violence in this southeastern Pennsylvania city Friday night, resulting in injury to at least 10 persons and the arrest of at least 28.

The violence erupted when police attempted to disperse demonstrators blocking a street corner in the Negro section of the city.

Fights broke out when some 150 helmeted state and city policemen, and deputized municipal workers, swinging nightsticks, moved in to make arrests and herded the demonstrators into buses to be taken to the police station.

Rocks, bricks and bottles were hurled at policemen, windows were smashed in police cars and persons at the scene said they heard a shot fired.

A flurry of fighting erupted inside the bus and a second wave of violence flared, as bystanders joined the melee and more police arrived.

Minutes later, some 100 policemen rushed from buses to a nearby tavern where more rioting and rock throwing was met with force by police, carrying riot sticks.

Police quelled the outbreaks, but described the situation as tense as they patrolled the streets of Chester and followed up reports of vandalism and a rash of false fire alarms.

Among the injured were six policemen and a Negro 21-year-old expectant mother.

Police reported vandals also smashed windows in the home and automobile of Chester Police Capt. Theodore Laws, a Negro.

Among those arrested was a white minister, the Rev. Clayton Hewett, 36, rector of Atonement Episcopal Church, Morton, Pa., who was charged with inciting to riot.

The civil rights demonstrations have protested de facto school segregation in Chester.

The arrested demonstrators were placed in the Delaware County Courthouse Annex where a number of others were being held since a sit-in demonstration Wednesday night.

Friday night's outbreak, described by city officials as the most violent since the demonstrations began about a month ago, began after a meeting by the protesting groups at the Providence Baptist Church where a group of some 500 had planned an orderly protest demonstration.

Earlier the demonstrators had picketed the courthouse annex.

Industrial Survey Authorized Here

The Industrial Development Corporation of Snyder met for a luncheon meeting Friday, and voted to authorize the Hockenbury System, Inc. of Harrisburg, Pa. to conduct a survey here.

The survey which the firm will conduct is planned to determine the feasibility of conducting an industrial fund evaluation. The firm specializes in community and industrial financing.

In connection with their work, they make available to their clients the names of cities in which they feel the climate for industrial opportunities exist. Myron D. Hockenbury, president of the firm, met with over 60 interested persons at a luncheon Apr. 10 at which time he explained the benefits which a city could derive from such a survey as is planned here.

The cost of the survey will be underwritten by the Industrial Development Corporation, but donations will also be sought to help defray the cost of this first professional survey of Snyder and Scurry County's facilities.

Guests at the luncheon Friday were C. G. McCaleb, Jim McCaleb and Clifford Terry of Basin Wax Products, Inc. They were the first of a series of guests to be invited to the Corporation's luncheon for the purpose of informing the Corporation's directors about their companies, their products, and discussions of how the local industry people and the Development Corporation might be of mutual assistance.

C. G. McCaleb briefly described the operation of the Basin Wax firm, and informed the group on such things as the fact that they cover an area up to 200 miles from Snyder, and the fact that Basin Wax has 14 employes.

Other industrial plant operators will visit coming luncheons of the Industrial Development Corporation.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANCER DRIVE SET

The house-to-house phase of the local Cancer Crusade will be launched at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Workers in the house-to-house division will distribute literature and accept contributions to the crusade.

Mystery Well Brings Boom Speculation

VICTORIA (AP)—A wildcat oil well being drilled under tight security wraps, has set off a boom in land leasing in this area and has caused widespread speculation.

The Amerada R. F. Tally No. 1 is in the Wood Hi community.

The extra-deep wildcat nine miles southeast of here is reported to have a permit for 22,000 feet, and speculation is that the well may be drilled in excess of 25,000.

The exploration has already created boom signs with lease and royalty transactions of such magnitude to indicate this will not be an ordinary year for the area petroleum industry, already a major contributor to the economy.

Talk of leases selling as high as $50 an acre is not uncommon now. There are unconfirmed reports circulating that $300 and more has been paid recently per royalty acre.

It is somewhat of a mystery just what company is doing all the leasing, and there are many unanswered questions about the objectives of the well. Amerada has kept the well under tight security since the beginning several months ago on an original permit to drill to 16,000 feet.

Visitors and salesmen are warned to stay out by signs at the gate. Newsmen have not been allowed to photograph drilling activities around the large steam powered rig.

The well is drilling at about 20,000 feet.

Session Set On Wheat, Cotton

All farmers in Scurry County have been invited to attend an important meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Towle Park barn, Roy M. Hanson, county office manager of the Scurry County ASCS, has announced.

Purpose of the meeting is to explain the new cotton and wheat legislation enacted April 11. This is expected to be of interest to each farmer concerning his current farming operations since the programs are effective this year.

Wheat producers have been advised that May 15 is the final date to sign up for the wheat program for the 1964 crop. No wheat producers have signed up as yet, and each interested wheat grower is urged to come to the county officer before the final date to sign an application if he intends to receive diverted acreage payment and -or price support loans and certificates.

Cotton farmers will be able to choose between three acreage allotment programs under the new legislation. Domestic allotments and payment rates will be mailed to producers on May 1.

The three cotton programs are as follows:

Choice 1. — Growing cotton under the old program or keeping within the regular effective allotment on the farm. Price support loans are available on the cotton grown.

Choice 2 — Reducing cotton acreage and keeping within a smaller (approximately 67 per cent) domestic allotment, thus qualifying for regular price support loan on the cotton grown and an additional price support payment of 3.5 cents per pound on the planted acreage. No land is to be diverted.

Choice 3 — Planting cotton within the farm's effective allotment for 1964 plus five per cent as export market acreage. Applications must be filed by June 1 to make this choice. Regular price support loans will be available on the effective allotment. Bond will be furnished by the farmer to cover the export sale of additional five per cent extra acreage.

Wreckages Come Down In Anchorage

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The buildings are coming down on Anchorage's Fourth Avenue, where a four - block stretch of the business district was jumbled by the March 27 earthquake.

A pile of rubble is about all that remains as demolition crews remove the wreckage.

The po erful quake caused a giant earthslide along the avenue, dropping bars, penny arcades and shops 11 feet into a wide fissure.

It was one of the most widely pictured scenes immediately after the quake.

Now contractors working for the Army Engineers are demolishing the buildings and hauling away the pieces.

The future of the sunken area remains uncertain, pending further soil foundation tests.

A downtown urban renewal proposal, approved tentatively by the City Council, would convert the area into a park—possibly as an earthquake tourist attraction.

Geologists have termed the area hazardous for buildings because of possible future slides.

In spite of the problems of Fourth Avenue, about 90 per cent of Anchorage's business district is functioning normally.

Formosa Councilman Victim Of Attack

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Lin Tien-Shih, speaker of the Taipei Village Council in Central Formosa, was attacked by five men and stabbed seven times, police reported today.

They described his condition as critical.

Police said one of the assailants was arrested. Identified as Lai Lei-Wang, he was quoted as saying he tried to kill Lin because of a personal grudge.

Dog Catcher Proves His Impartiality

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — At the request of Mayor Robert Roush of nearby Lindsey, Albert Gschwind, dog warden here, went to Lindsey to investigate reports of dogs running loose in the village.

Gschwind spotted a big boxer running through yards and overturning a rubbish burner. He caught it and locked it up in the county kennel.

The dog, identified as Duke by a collar license, was claimed the next day by its owner — Mayor Roush.

Little Mermaid Statue Destroyed By Vandals

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—One of the most-photographed statues in the world — the Little Mermaid — was destroyed during the night by a vandal who sawed her head off and took it with him.

The dainty little figure, sitting at a huge stone at the entrance to the Copenhagen harbor, has been admired by thousands of tourists.

Inspired by a fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen, the Little Mermaid had become a landmark in Copenhagen.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is writing this letter for me because I cannot read or write English. My dream of becoming an American citizen will soon come true, although I speak and write only Spanish. I just learned that it is possible for foreign-born people to take American citizenship tests in their native language, and I hope you will tell others who cannot read, write or speak English that this is so.

AN OLD BUT NEW AMERICAN

DEAR AMERICAN: Thank you for your letter. It is with much pleasure that I share the following information with all interested readers: "According to immigration law, persons born before December 24th, 1902, and have resided in the United States at least 20 years, can take their citizenship tests in their native tongue." Immigrants who came to America after the turn of the century, and who never learned English, should know that this opportunity is available to them.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Every time we go to my brother's home my husband embarrasses me to death. He wrestles with my twin nieces, who are 19 years old.

He just can't leave them alone for five minutes. He has to be grabbing one of them by her legs, pulling her out of her chair onto the floor, and trying to pin her arms down. When we leave there he always has the buttons torn off his shirt or his pockets torn. I know it's all in fun, but I think he ought to know better. Am I being overly critical? I am 24, my husband is 25, and I am not jealous.

WRESTLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's time YOU went to the mat with your husband and pinned HIS ears back. Tell him to keep his hands off the girls, and then have a long talk with the girls about how young ladies should conduct themselves.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am very fond of my brother's wife and we get along well, but whenever she gets anything new she rushes over, expecting me to collapse with excitement. I always "rave" over everything new she gets and she eats up the praise. But she never compliments me on a thing. I can't figure it out. She will stand, all dolled up, waiting for my approval, and completely ignore MY new outfit. Even a new car she ignores. She has nothing to be jealous of. Our husbands are equal partners. My husband says I should give her the same treatment, but I am not that way. Should I take my husband's advice or continue to be —

THE DOPE

DEAR DOPE: If your compliments are sincere, don't withhold them. Perhaps her silence is easier to endure than her insincere compliments would be. There is only one reason praise sticks on one's throat—jealousy.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: To the unhappy young bride who is living with her in-laws, I say, "Leave now, and don't wait. If your husband tries to talk you into staying, go without him. If he loves you, he will follow. The longer you wait the harder it will be to get away. There will be one baby after another." Abby, my husband told me when we were first married that we would live with his parents for three years. It turned out to be ten times three, plus four. Yes, after 34 years, I am still living with my in-laws and it hasn't been easy. Sign me —

It's Time To Control Elm Beetle

It's time to start control measures for the elm leaf beetle. This pesky insect caused severe damage to elm trees in many areas last year — and can be expected to do the same this year.

County agent Billy Roach says the insect overwinters in sheltered places, such as plant debris or buildings where it can get protection from the weather. In the spring, they emerge and fly to elm trees with unfolding leaves. Here they feed and lay eggs. When the eggs hatch the larvae emerge and begin feeding on the leaves.

The destructive insect can be easily controlled if chemicals are applied at the proper time. Chemicals that can be used include malathion, Sevin, chlordane, Dieldrin, lead arsenate, DDT, and toxaphene. The safest ones to use, says Roach, are Sevin and malathion — especially if used around the home.

The chemicals should be applied soon in order to prevent tree damage. Also, early application is essential for good larvae kill, as young worms are much easier to kill than old worms. When applying the chemicals, use sprays rather than dusts when possible for better overall chemical coverage. Spray the base of the tree, in addition to the foliage, to eradicate worms coming down the trunk to pupate in the ground.

For additional information, call or come by the agent's office. Ask for a copy of Extension publication L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

Child Dehydration Told In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Thousands of plastic bags filled with water and salt solution are being distributed by public health authorities to combat dehydration among children.

A heat wave has stricken persons in several northern states.

Child dehydration cases have been reported acute in the state of Tamaulipas, Huastecas region in Veracruz State, Hidalgo and San Luis Potosi.

Radio stations in the area are broadcasting instructions on how to avoid dehydration and urging parents to keep their children in the water as much as possible.

Reports from Monterrey said temperatures in that city registered a record high of 104 degrees Thursday. It was 105.8 in neighboring Cerralvo.

Robber Recruits Aides From Employment Comm.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police said a 27-year-old bridegroom from Las Vegas, Nev., signed a statement today admitting he plotted to loot four suburban banks with help from unsuspecting aides, hired through the Texas Employment Commission.

Lt. Joe Singleton identified the admitted master mind as John L. Burke, a writer honeymooning here with his wife.

Officers nabbed Burke in an early morning raid on the couple's apartment. They found $10,684 in a brown bag and $494 in Burke's billfold.

Authorities said he will be charged with robbery.

Police quoted Burke as telling them the four messengers he sent to various banks were innocent pawns in his scheme. The messages falsely warned the women their children were being held hostage. They were ordered to fill up a money bag with bills if they wanted to see their children again.

When the scheme had run its course:

1. The mystery man, who used the name Charles Hudson, had collected one "payroll" of about $12,000 delivered by one of his messengers.

2. A second messenger was intercepted by police just as he was about to drive off from a Spring Branch bank with $10,050 in a bag.

3. Police had pulled in all the four innocent hands who shared a single question: "What's this all about?" They were later released.

4. The mastermind of the robberies had disappeared with the $12,000 yielded by a frightened teller at the Belfort State Bank.

Police said "Hudson" almost certainly was the same man who used an 18-year-old boy to take $5,680 from a bank in Las Vegas, Nev., March 12.

A similar ruse was used successfully in Pensacola, Fla., last July.

The unsuccessful robberies Friday were at the Harrisburg National Bank, the MacGregor Park National Bank and the Spring Branch bank.

Two of the women tellers said someone posing as an advertising or survey man had telephoned their homes recently and got the names of their children — apparently for the threat notes.

Each note claimed to hold a son or daughter of a bank teller as hostage, but the four were found safe in their classrooms.

Three of the messengers were arrested and the fourth, who did not actually deliver his note, surrendered voluntarily after hearing a radio report about the three other banks.

All four said they had been hired as messengers after filing applications with the Houston office of the Texas Employment Commission.

The four are Charles Edward Keng, 21, Joel Wayne Tindall, 25, Robert Paul Dreggors, 17, and Dale Keith Sausley, 16.

How About A Moat?

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP)—The H. M. Egberts told police someone kept walking across their lawn so they put up signs. The signs were torn down.

Next, the couple built a fence. That also was torn down.

The Egberts countered with a concrete retaining wall. Even that was ripped down.

Next move? The Egberts aren't sure.

First Lady Is Impressed By Kentucky Mountain Boy

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs Lyndon B. Johnson says she won't soon forget the little boy in the tiny Kentucky mountain town who breathlessly told her husband: "Mr. President, no one ever comes to Inez."

And she still seems astonished at the sign held up in a crowd, "Tell 'Him' and 'Her' Hello," a greeting for the Johnsons' pet Beagle dogs.

Like everyone else, Mrs. Johnson went on Friday's four-state poverty swing "on short notice." She'd planned to return to Washington after attending a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Chicago with him Thursday night. But "Lyndon just thought I really ought to go and he wanted me to."

Not only did Mrs. Johnson go, she shook hands in the crowds, was crushed in the friendly, but jostling throngs and made speeches everywhere Johnson did.

In a departing speech at the Huntington, W.Va., airport, Friday night, the First Lady said: "We have seen a big slice of America, and although we have seen economic problems, we have also seen initiative and determination, and just a lot of ways of attacking things."

She said this type of trip was like a dose of adrenalin to Johnson. It was "the sort of a day that makes Lyndon feel like going back and working harder to live up to the faith that he has found people having in him today."

At Huntington, while she waited in the presidential plane for Johnson to conclude his governors' conference before heading home, Mrs. Johnson said in an interview she thought it did her husband good to get out of Washington to meet the people.

"I don't think Washington is a reliable thermometer to test the political temperature or a barometer of the way the wind is blowing," she said.

Mrs. Johnson said she really likes to go on such trips with the President "except that I don't get to take in as much as I like to. I'm not as fast acting, fast thinking and fast walking as he is."

In fact, Mrs. Johnson often got left behind in the hand-shaking as she slowed down to chat a bit or pat a child.

She had to admit "I don't really feel easy talking around my husband," referring to making speeches with him on the same platform.

The 51-year-old First Lady finished her long day admittedly a bit weary, and the first thing she did was to daub her aching right hand with hand cream. The President had fared worse: his right hand was scratched and hurting from handshaking.

"People don't exactly shake," she explained, "they hold."

Computer Does Good Job In Unusual Role Of Cupid

By DON MEIKLE

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Oswald, the romantic computer, did O.K. on his first venture as a matchmaker at the University of Connecticut.

He was beset by difficulties—such as the girls who said they didn't want "sexually aggressive" partners and boys who did not want girls who were likely to "get serious."

But, with the help of a few humans, everything went smoothly at the dance Friday night despite a surplus of a score of males.

It was all part of an experiment by the psychology department. Questionnaires with 60 questions were offered to the student body. They were filled out by some 550 students.

Oswald—an IBM 7040 computer—then essayed to provide each student with three suitable partners for the dance.

Came the big night, the chosen students congregated in the Student Union ballroom and were quickly tagged and arranged by number.

"Hey, look at 427 over there! What a doll!" was a typical comment.

Jack Carlson, a senior majoring in English, was paired with 333 — a brunette graduate student also studying English literature — and 167 and 13, two blonde sophomores.

"If I could remember 333's name . . ." Carlson mused afterward. "She's older than I am—but so what!"

There were some who were hard to match in terms of the qualifications they had listed for their prospective partners. They drew zeroes for one of their three partners and had to go to a "problem desk" staffed by humans to fill out their cards, which were IBM cards punched by Oswald.

Oswald generally was successful despite requests from most males for partners better looking then they rated themselves. He was helped considerably by the ladies, 85 per cent of whom described themselves as above average in appearance.

The gallant electronic host of the evening acknowledged that he was not infallible. He signed each dance card: "Good luck—Oswald."

Odessa Man Heads AGC's WT Chapter

A. J. King of King and King Construction Co. in Odessa was elected president of the Associated General Contractors of America, West Texas Chapter, at the organization's annual meeting Friday in Abilene.

King succeeds D. D. Shelburne of Snyder as head of the chapter, which embraces a 69-county area.

Other officers installed Friday night are Malcolm Vordenbaum of Wichita Falls, vice president, and Horace L. Cooke of Abilene, secretary-treasurer.

Safety was among the chief topics of discussion at the meeting, and safety awards were presented to five firms. The discussion centered upon better safety practices throughout the building industry.

The W. G. McMillan Co. of Lubbock and Hawkins and Westbrook of Abilene received certificates of compliance with the safety program of the AGC, meeting all AGC standards for a well-rounded safety program.

Awards for no disabling injuries on jobs during 1963 went to King and King of Odessa, Ernest Reed of Lubbock and White and Everett of Abilene.

Reds May Block Laotian Solution

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—New objections from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao threatened today to block a solution to the Laotian crisis.

A Pathet Lao spokesman strongly denounced right-wing demands for enlarging neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma's coalition Cabinet to include more rightists.

Souk Vongsak, a Pathlet Lao secretary of state, accused the right-wing military junta which seized power in Vientiane last Sunday of trying to "sabotage the policy of peace and neutrality in Laos."

Souk's condemnation indicated a formal rejection of the right-wing proposals would be forthcoming from Prince Souphanouvong, Pathet Lao leader and deputy premier under the old coalition.

Souphanouvong, Souvanna's stepbrother, stayed at Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Kay, continuing his 14-month boycott of the coalition government.

Souvanna, meanwhile, remained only nominal head of government. Rightist leaders refused to allow him to exercise normal power until their conditions are fulfilled.

Rightist troops guarded Souvanna's villa and kept their control over the city, including the airport, radio station, communication facilities and various government ministries. Military officers censored all outgoing news dispatches.

Hopes for a settlement of the government crisis rose Friday when Souvanna announced he had reached agreement with the right-wing leaders on enlarging the coalition. Then the Pathet Lao spokesman punctured the hopes by declaring his faction was unalterably opposed to the rightist demands.

Pathet Lao forces control at least half the countryside in this Southeast Asian nation.

Health Officials Alerted As Milk Is Found Contaminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — District and federal officials have cracked down after discovering that quantities of milk shipped into the capital contained up to eight times as much insecticide as permissible.

Health officials said no health hazard was involved. But Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D - Conn., who is conducting Senate hearings on pesticide problems, declared "the warning of the future is clear, and preventive action must be taken."

Since Feb. 26, 50 city - bound milk tank trucks have been stopped and checked. Three were found to have levels of pesticides of "regulatory significance," Dr. Frederick C. Heath, deputy director of the Health Department, told a press conference Friday.

The insecticide was identified as heptachlor epoxide, used by dairy farmers to prevent weevil infestations of alfalfa crops fed to cows.

As a result of the discovery, the District Health Department suspended the permits of 14 farms, and the Department of Agriculture canceled its registration of heptachlor for use on alfalfa.

Dr. Murray Grant, district health officer, said Food and Drug Administration inspectors, applying new testing techniques, have been helping to uncover trouble spots in the Washington - Baltimore milkshed.

In the cases of the 14 farms, all uncovered in the last two weeks, samplings showed the milk contained more than the tolerance allowance, Grant said.

In most instances, he added, the tests showed insecticide levels around one part per million, four times the tolerance allowed. In some cases, he said, it ran eight times the amount.

Grant said it is considered unlikely that such contamination levels would harm consumers, at least on a short-term basis.

Tolerances are set well below the amounts that actually harm test animals.

Folk Music Profitable

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Folk music can be fun—and profitable, too. A few years ago singer Randy Sparks literally sang around town for his supper.

Now Randy and his New Christy Minstrels are world famous—especially since they entertained at a White House hootenany for the president of Italy.

Less than five years ago, Randy hitchhiked to his engagement at Ye Little Club. Now his garage has a Rolls-Royce and four other cars.

He owns his own night club and has two other folk singing groups—the Ledbetters and the Back Porch Majority.

"I once studied pre-med and got my degree," he recalls. "I used to play the guitar for fun. I often wonder what would have happened if I had put aside that guitar for a scalpel."

I NEED WORK

I do my job and finest of all, my thousands of references will tell you so.

My upkeep is far less, my days off are next to nothing. Over the years if I do need anything special you will find that the people who made me will always have anything I need readily available. Some of my rivals wear out fast and cost you much in severance pay. But I won't wear out, and I will always be worth something a great deal more.

Difference in policies and my employment service is what makes me really great. Thousands of my brothers and sisters, regardless of age are working today because of better service.

My salary for many, many years of work is negligible. You can pay me as little as $7.00 a month if you choose.

My name is Miss General Electric Dishwasher and I live at Roe's Furniture & Appliance Store.

You can order me in ten minutes because the folks at Roe's will make it very easy for you to own me.

Born Right-Hander Wins Left-Handed

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit rookie Mickey Lolich, a born right-hander, has pitched his first major league shutout—left-handed.

Lolich stopped Minnesota 5-0 on three hits Friday for his second victory without a loss, then explained how he turned into a southpaw thrower after getting taken for a ride by a runaway bicycle.

"When I was two years old, I ran my tricycle off the curb in Portland, Ore., and hit a parked motorcycle," said the 23-year-old Lolich. "I had my right arm in a cast for four months, so I did everything with my left hand."

But that wasn't the end of the incident, and even Lolich admits the situation has him confused. He now eats, writes and bats right-handed, pitches left-handed and thinks sideways.

"When the cast came off, I went back to the right hand to eat and later to write, but I kept throwing with my left hand," he explained. Then he added:

"Sometimes when I lean too far to the left of the mound, I find myself thinking sideways."

That's the way the heavy-hitting Twins must have felt trying to solve him. Lolich didn't let Minnesota get a runner past second base and struck out seven while walking two.

Juan Pizarro of the Chicago White Sox also pitched a three-hitter and drove in three runs in a 6-1 victory over Boston. In other American League action, Washington downed Kansas City 6-1 in 10 innings and Cleveland outlasted the Los Angeles Angels in the longest game of the season, winning 5-2 in 16 innings.

Baltimore and the New York Yankees were not scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco clubbed Cincinnati 15-5, Philadelphia walloped the Chicago Cubs 10-0, Milwaukee defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3, St. Louis edged Houston 3-2 in 11 innings and Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 9-4.

Lolich got all the batting support he needed from Jerry Lumpe. Lumpe, acquired from Kansas City in the deal that sent Rocky Colavito to the A's, drove in three runs with three hits as he lifted his batting average to .344.

Pizarro, delayed in making his first start because of a prolonged holdout siege during spring training, hurled the first complete game by a White Sox pitcher this season. Dick Stuart's fourth-inning homer accounted for the Red Sox run.

Floyd Robinson hit a two-run homer in Chicago's three-run third, then Pizarro took over. He drove in one run with a single in the fourth, then stroked a two-run single in the sixth.

Wayne Causey's two-base throwing error on Don Lock's grounder with one out in the 10th opened the door for the Senators, who sent 10 men to the plate. Ed Brinkman singled in the tie-breaking run, winning pitcher Claude Osteen singled in another, Don Blasingame drove in two more with a double and Chuck Hinton wrapped it up with a run-scoring single.

Woody Held's two-run homer in the fifth gave the Indians a 2-0 lead, which Pete Ramos held through eight innings with a three-hitter. But in the ninth Bob Rodgers stroked a two-run single that tied it up. It stayed that way until the 16th.

Angel reliever Art Fowler hit Max Alvis with a pitch to start the 16th, and after a sacrifice and walk, Johnny Romano snapped the tie with a ground-rule double. Winning reliever Don McMahon and Dick Howser singled in the other runs.

PITCHES NO-HITTER, LOSES GAME—Ken Johnson, Houston Colts right hander, wipes perspiration from his head as he ponders his loss to the Cincinnati Reds, 1-0 after hurling a no-hitter. The game was lost on two errors. Johnson became the first pitcher in major league history to pitch a no-hitter and still lose the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Mays Learns Way To Get Rest Without Collapsing

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays has discovered a way to get a rest without collapsing.

All he has to do is hit a home run and two singles, get two walks and a stolen base, drive in two runs and score five runs—all in five times at bat.

That's exactly what he did Friday night as he led San Francisco to a 15-5 romp over Cincinnati.

Mays, who was forced out of the line-up by illness the past two seasons, was pulled for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning against the Reds after he had raised his batting average to a major league-leading .500.

"I didn't want to take a chance on him hurting himself," Manager Al Dark said after the game. "I know he can't get hurt in the clubhouse."

Mays collapsed from indigestion in September 1962 and left a game after suffering a dizzy spell around the same time last year.

With less than two weeks of this season gone, the 32-year-old center fielder leads the major leagues in four categories besides batting average. In nine games, he has seven home runs, 17 hits, 17 runs scored and 17 runs batted in.

While Mays and the Giants continued at their furious pace, the Los Angeles Dodgers dropped their eighth game in 10 starts, losing to Milwaukee 6-3. Elsewhere in the National League, St. Louis nipped Houston 3-2 in 11 innings, Philadelphia clobbered Chicago 10-0 and Pittsburgh whipped New York 9-4.

In the American League, Chicago stopped Boston 6-1, Washington downed Kansas City by the same score in 10 innings, Detroit shut out Minnesota 5-0 and Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 in 16 innings.

Mays' three hits were part of the Giants' 18-hit attack. He walked, stole second and scored on Willie McCovey's fifth home run in the first. In the Giants' seven-run second he singled home a run and scored. He smashed his home run, a solo blast, in the fourth.

Juan Marichal gave up 13 hits but also struck out 13 and walked only three in winning his second game against no defeats.

The Braves played their game with the Dodgers under protest until they won it. Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan contended Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills was out of uniform because he wore a windbreaker under his uniform and sweatshirt.

The Dodgers still lost as Ed Bailey cracked a two-run homer in the fifth and Lee Maye belted a two-run double in he first. Hank Fischer, who won just four games all of last season, picked up his second victory. He gave up Frank Howard's fifth home run in the sixth inning.

When Is Player Out Of Uniform?

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Bobby Bragan of the Milwaukee Braves has raised an interesting question: When is a major league baseball player in uniform?

Bragan lodged a formal game protest on the grounds that Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills was out of uniform for wearing a windbreaker under his uniform shirt Friday night during the Braves' 6-3 victory over the Dodgers.

The Braves' triumph wiped out the protest announced by plate umpire Al Forman with the score tied 2-2 in the top of the third.

However, it stirred up plenty of comment about the section of Rule 1.11 which reads: "No player whose uniform does not conform to that of his teammates shall be allowed to participate in a game."

Bragan noticed the sleeves of the windbreaker bulging from under the short sleeves of Wills' shirt in the first inning—when the temperature was 37 degrees. The umpires had a lengthy discussion with Wills and Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston and decided to let the Dodger shortstop wear the jacket after he pushed up the sleeves.

"I finally decided to play the game under protest," Bragan explained later. "I admit it was a technicality, but legally you can't wear something that sticks out. If he wore the windbreaker so it didn't bulge, it might have been okay. As it was, I didn't want to take a chance on him getting hit by a pitch on the jacket's sleeve and then being awarded the base."

Wills said the umpires "just told me to tuck the jacket sleeves under my shirt.

"I've worn the jacket before during cold weather.

"The Braves just wanted to have something to pop off about."

Leo Durocher, the Los Angeles third base coach, was ejected in the last of the fifth for uncomplimentary remarks to Forman.

After the Braves' protest was announced, Durocher contended the Milwaukee batters should be barred from wearing a glove at the plate.

A few of the Dodgers also wore a protective glove.

Maris Denies New Personality

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A suggestion that Roger Maris might have developed a new personality this year drew vehement denials from the New York Yankee slugger today although he admitted his aim was to have better relations with the fans and press.

"Win, lose or draw, I'm out to lead the league in enjoying myself this year," he said. "I want to relax and have a good time.

"I've made up my mind not to get mad at newspapermen. I'm not going to let the fans' booing bother me. Let them yell all they want to. I'm not going to listen and like it. No more letting those things bother me."

Maris was soundly booed opening day at Yankee Stadium when the fans believed he had not shown enough hustle in an effort to catch a fly ball that fell in front of him in right field for a single.

"The outfield was soggy from two days of steady rain," Maris explained. "Maybe it didn't look that way to the people but I ran as hard as I could.

"Another time their booing might have bothered me. But I didn't pay any attention. They pay their dough. Let 'em yell."

Didn't this mean that Roger, once referred to as a redneck, was going to be a new Maris?

"Now don't be destroying the old image," he said. "I'm still the same old Maris. It took me four years to build this reputation. I don't want to lose it in one year."

As if to prove he was not going to allow unpleasant things to get under his skin, Roger pointed to his batting average of .280 without a single homer or RBI through the Yankees' first six games.

"I'm hitting about 20 points over my head," he said. "Seven hits, six singles and a double. I'm a regular Punch and Judy hitter. Who knows? I may not hit a home run all year."

Have home runs lost their appeal to Maris, the man who hammered 61 during a 162-game season in 1961? That was one more than Babe Ruth's record of 60 in a 154-game season.

"Sure, I would like to hit 61 home runs again but without it getting in the newspapers," he said. "I don't want to have to go through such a year again. Too much pressure and publicity, no peace and privacy."

Tennis Tournament Reaches Semifinals

DALLAS (AP) — Some of the world's best tennis players square off across the net today in semifinal matches of the Dallas Country Club Invitational Tennis Tournament.

Roy Emerson, former Australian Davis Cup star, meets Frank Froehling, America's third-ranked player, and Chuck McKinley, top-ranked player in the United States, faces Ham Richardson, semi-retired Dallas stockbroker.

Nancy Richey plays Yola Ochoa in women's competition.

Results Friday:

Men's singles: Roy Emerson, Australia, beat Cliff Richey, Dallas, 6-3, 6-2; Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., beat Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1; Ham Richardson, Dallas, beat Don Kierbow, Corpus Christi, 6-3, 6-1; Chuck McKinley, San Antonio, beat Ken Fletcher, Australia, 6-4, 6-1.

Women's singles: Nancy Richey, Dallas, beat Ann Viera, Dallas, 6-0, 6-1; Yola Ochoa, Mexico, beat Owen McHaney, Dallas, 6-2, 6-4.

Finals Set For Stanley Cup Playoff

TORONTO (AP)—The Stanley Cup playoff reaches its dramatic finale tonight with the seventh game between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Detroit Red Wings.

The best-of-seven series stands at three games each in the wake of Toronto's 4-3 victory in sudden-death overtime at Detroit Thursday night.

Bob Baun, who slapped in the winning tally Thursday night after injuring his ankle, is expected to see some action tonight.

National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell has ruled that if a tie prevails through an overtime tonight, a new game will be scheduled for Tuesday in Toronto.

U.S. Women Lose To Czechoslovakia

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Czechoslovakia easily defeated the United States 50-31 Friday night in the Women's World Basketball Tournament.

A crowd of 15,000 saw Czechoslovakia lead all the way and balk the Americans with a strong defense. The halftime score was 20-13.

The game was the first of a doubleheader. In the second, Yugoslavia routed Peru 71-45.

Sul Ross Hopes To Even Playoff Series

ALPINE, Tex. (AP)—Sul Ross hopes to even its playoff at 1-1 with Sam Houston today in the best-of-five National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics meet.

Sam Houston blanked Sul Ross 3-0 Friday in the first game. The teams go to Huntsville next weekend.

SMU, Tech Tie In SWC Golf Match

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist and Texas Tech tied 3-3 Friday in a Southwest Conference golf match.

It marked the fifth tie for SMU in six contests on the links this season.

The results?

First foursome: Richard Yates and Steve Lecrone, Tech, beat Rod Biss and Albin Johnson, 4 and 2. Individually, yates beat Bliss 1-up, and Lecrone beat Johnson 4 and 2. Medal honors went to Lecrone with a 4-under-par—67 and Yates with a 69.

Second Foursome: Bobby Parks and Tommy Culp, SMU, beat Housty Brewer and Rick Rogers, 3 and 1. Individually, it was Parks over Brewer 4 and 2, and Culp over Rogers 2 and 1. Medal honors went to Culp with 70 and Parks with 71.

A&M Blanks SMU In SWC Tennis

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M blanked Southern Methodist 6-0 in Southwest Conference tennis Friday.

Records May Be Set In Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Villanova shoots for the moon at the Penn Relays today—an unprecedented five relay victories.

Pitt in 1939, and Michigan in 1945, each won four of the major relay events. No team ever has captured five.

Villanova won a pair on Friday's opening program — the four-mile relay and the distance medley. Today they shoot for the 880, two-mile, spring medley and possibly the mile.

Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott is confident his kids will wind up with at least three titles. He's hopeful of four. As for the "moon-five" he says:

"I'm afraid at least two teams will have to drop the baton in the 880 for us to take five."

Vic Zwolak, IC4A and NCAA cross country champion, anchored Villanova to the four mile and distance medley titles. Zwolak stretched a two-yard lead into a 40-yard victory with a 4:07.3 leg of the four-mile, and held onto the distance medley lead with a 4:13.7 performance.

Records Should Fall At Prairie View

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (AP)—Records are expected to fall today at the 44th annual Texas Interscholastic League of Colored Schools track meet at Prairie View A&M College.

Clyde Clossom of San Antonio will attack established times in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Galveston's Harold Wooten is highly favored in the low and high hurdles.

Upwards of 300 track athletes from classes AA, AAA and AAAA will participate.

Favorites to win the meet are Houston Washington and Dallas Washington.

TCU Linksters Beat Air Force

FORT WORTH (AP)—Linksters from Texas Christian beat the Air Force Academy 6-3 Friday in an intersectional golf match. Tied for medalist honors with 72s were TCU's Eddie Smith and Jamie Jough of the Air Force.

SHOULD WE PRAY TO MARY?

One came to Jesus and said, "Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without seeking to speak to thee. But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of my Father who is in heaven, is my brother, and sister, and mother" (Matt. 12:47-50. See also Mark 3:31-35 and Luke 8:19-21. This same great truth is taught also in Luke 11:27-28).

In this teaching Jesus did not fail to honor His mother, but He elevated to equal honor all those faithful Christians who do God's will. He stressed that flesh-and-blood relationship, even to His mother, was not more important to Him that the close relationship of obedient followers.

Since Jesus did not place His mother on a pedestal above other godly women, let us consider whether we should pray to Mary or through her name. We are told that there is only one mediator between God and man, and that is Christ (1 Tim. 2:5).

Should we bow down to Mary? There is no account in the Bible of anyone ever bowing down before her. It was not considered pleasing to God for one to kneel in adoration before anyone but God. Peter would not allow others to bow down before him (Acts 10:25-26). When John bowed down before the angel, he was rebuked, "See thou do it not . . . worship God" (Rev. 19:10). Christians do not bow down to Peter, or angels, or Mary. They worship God. Christians pray to God through Christ, not through Mary.

If we will have the same attitude toward Mary that Jesus did, we will honor Mary and honor in the same way all godly women.

Ira Girls Win Meet

IRA — The Ira High School girls dominated their own meet Friday as they scored 158 points to win the Annual Ira Girls Invitational Track Meet.

The local team, which consists of only eight girls, won seven of the ten individual events and four of the five relays in totaling more points than the next two teams put together.

The race for individual honors was a close one among the Ira girls. Golda Autry led with 26 points as she won the 60-yard hurdles, and the shot put, came in second in the 100-yard dash and the discus, and ran on two winning relays.

Patsy Jones came in a close second with 25 points. She won the discus and the hop-step-jump, placed second in the shot, third in the 100-yard dash, and ran on two first-place relays.

Janice Bishop tallied 24 points in running on three winning relays, and winning a first, second and fourth in individual events. Other Ira girls were Jo Bryant, 21 points; Oneida Rogers, 20; "Muffett" Kimbrell, 17; Jeanie Byars, 15; and Renoka Hooker, 10.

Ira has made a real good showing this year, placing third behind powerful Baird and Aspermont in the Double Mountain Belle Relays in Aspermont and third behind the same two teams in the Baird Belle Relays.

The Ira girls will wind up the current season as they journey to San Angelo May 2 for the Bluebonnet Belle Relays. This event draws some of the top teams from over the state.

BULLARD SCORES—Drew Bullard is shown crossing the plate in the first inning of the game with Colorado City, played on the Towle Park field Friday. The Tigers were defeated by the Wolves 5-2.

Tiger Nine Falls To Wolves 5-2

The Snyder Tiger baseball team dropped out of the lead in District 5-AAA here Friday as Colorado City won a "must" game for the Wolves, 5-2. The Tigers are now in a virtual tie with C-City. Actually, the Wolves lead on the basis of having played one more contest.

Colorado City has now won five district encounters and lost one, while Snyder's record is 4-2. The Wolves have six games left to play and the Tigers have seven. The two teams will meet one more time, later on in the season, in Colorado City.

The Tigers jumped off to an early lead in Friday's contest, scoring one run in the first inning. Drew Bullard walked, stole second, and came home on a single by Rob Hall.

After the Wolves had tied the game up in the top of the 4th, the fans were treated to two prodigious home runs, one by each team in consecutive innings.

Leslie Brown put the Tigers in the lead again in the bottom of the 4th with one of the longest homeruns ever hit in Towle Park. The ball went over the fence in the farthest point in center field.

Danny Kenamur tied it up for C-City in the top of the 5th with a homer that went over the cars parked beyond the leftfield fence.

The Wolves went ahead with three big runs in the 6th on 3 hits and an error. One of the hits was a double by the centerfielder McAdams.

The Tigers threatened a rally in their half of the 6th as they loaded the bases on an error, a walk, and a hit batsman. However, Colorado City managed to get out of the inning without giving up a run as Mack Golyean flied to deep left-center for the third out.

Speedy Moffett's charges will next see action Tuesday as they travel to Sweetwater to take on the Mustangs. This contest will be followed by one at Brownfield on Saturday, May 2. Next home action will be May 5 as Snyder plays host to Lamesa.

Littler, Dill Lead In Texas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Gene Littler, who has won money every time he played, and talkative Terry Dill, a young Texan looking forward eagerly to his first cash of the year, lead the $40,000 Texas Open into its third round.

Littler, former National Open champion who hasn't won a tournament in two years but has stashed away plenty of money—$11,848 this year — and Dill, who hails from a town with the picturesque name of Muleshoe, were the only leaders able to hold the pace Friday.

Each shot a second straight three-under-par 67 to tie for the top at 134. Eight others, who were tied with them for the first round lead, faltered and allowed Dan Sikes of Ponte Vedra Beach Fla., who shot a 66, to ease into the runner-up spot with 135.

Sikes, who had a 75-foot putt in his collection, was one stroke ahead of five players bunched at 36.

Tied at 136 are Dutch Harrison, Bob Charles, Dick Crawford Howie Johnson and Ken Venturi. Bunched at 137 are Fred Marti, Miller Barber, Doug Sanders, Raymond Floyd, Jerry Steelsmith and Charles Sifford.

Seventy-four pros survived the cut as the tournament trimmed down to 70 low pros and ties, plus 10 amateurs who stayed in regardless of their scores.

Among those who failed to make it were Jimmy Demaret, the golf Hall of Famer to whom the Texas Open was dedicated this year; Bruce Devlin, Al Besselink, Jay Hebert and Rex Baxter Jr.

Brownwood Boy Wins Tennis Singles

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bill Saunders of Brownwood won the 3A boys singles and Kathy Blanton of Wichita Falls took the 3A girls singles Friday in the regional tennis tournament.

Class 4A finals are scheduled for today.

Mighty Leap Wipes Out Old Record

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A mighty leap in an event he doesn't like has doubled Gayle Hopkins' chances for a spot on the U.S. Olympic track team this fall.

The lean Arizona senior had been pinning his hopes for a trip to Japan on the hop-step-and-jump, where he ranks as one of the nation's finest.

Now he also rates as one of the country's leading broad jumpers, after wiping out the oldest mark on the Drake Relay books and setting the only record in the meet Friday.

Hopkins, who says he has never considered himself a good broad jumper, leaped 26-2 to better by a quarter inch the 1933 Drake mark set by the great Jesse Owens.

He takes a crack today at the hop-step-jump record, where his best leap of 50-3¼ is six inches over the Drake standard.

Also on tap today was the mile run featuring Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago, who ran a 3:36.4 indoors this winter.

Another headliner was the University mile relay, with Arizona State and Rice expected to battle. Rice was beaten out of a record Friday when it ran a 3:10.2 in a qualifying heat but was clocked by only one timer and denied the mark.

Arizona State's mile team features Henry Carr, who failed Friday to threaten the world 220-dash mark when he won a special furlong in 21 seconds flat by beating Omaha's Roger Sayers.

Five Killed Near Graham

GRAHAM, Tex. (AP) — Five persons died Friday when three cars collided in heavy rain and hail near here.

Four were members of a Lubbock family.

Police said one of the cars slid broadside into an oncoming vehicle during a severe thunderstorm, and then ricocheted into the path of a third auto.

Killed were Mrs. Katheryn Songer, 32, Patricia Songer, 13, Deborah Songer, 13, and R. W. Songer, 10, all of Lubbock; and Mrs. Wayland Manley, 22, Loving.

Carl Songer, 35, whose wife and children were among the dead, was taken to Olney in a critical condition.

The Songers were in one car and Mrs. Manley was along in the other. The driver of the third vehicle was uninjured.

The accident occurred on Texas 119 two miles west of Loving about mid-afternoon.

Snyder Eagles To Play Here Sunday

The Snyder Eagles will meet the Stamford Blue Sox in a baseball game at 3 p.m. Sunday in Winston Field. The public is invited to attend the game.

The Eagles have played five games this season, winning three and losing two. They have won over Stamford, Hermleigh, and the Snyder Red Sox. They lost two to Sweetwater.

Ruford Thompson is slated to be the starting pitcher in Sunday's game, while A. C. Thompson will be behind the plate. The team is managed by R. J. Nelson.

State Women's Golf Tourney In Finals

FORT WORTH (AP)—Fourteen - year - old Kathy Ahern meets Marjorie Leach today in the finals of the State Women's Public Links Golf Tournament at Benbrook.

In action Friday, medalist Ahern beat Mrs. W. D. McClain and Miss Leach bested Mrs. John Surber.

Pro Stars See Undesired Action

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Budde, a rookie guard of the American Football League's Kansas City Chiefs, had his skull creased last month by an 18-inch piece of pipe during a brawl in a Kansas City tavern.

On New Year's Eve, Tony Parilli, a former member of the Washington Redskins, was killed by a policeman when he, Parilli, was involved in a fight in a suburban Chicago bowling alley.

Two teammates of the Philadelphia Eagles, halfback Ben Scotti and center John Meliekas, staged a vicious fight in a hotel room as the result of a derogatory remark.

Cookie Gilchrist, the Buffalo Bills' slashing runner, was arrested for resisting and assulting an officer. The giant NFL tackle, Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, died of an overdose of narcotics.

Two of the NFL's brightest stars, halfback Paul Hornung, Golden Boy of Green Bay, and defensive tackle Alex Karras of Detroit, were suspended a year for betting on games. Other players have been disciplined and warned about association with unsavory characters.

What manner of men, anyway, are these muscle young stalwarts who ply their bone-rattling trade on Sunday afternoon before packed arenas and millions of television viewers?

Are they carrying the vicious violence of the football field into their daily lives? Are they dangerous, unfettered animals loose on the city streets?

Is the prosperous, widely popular sport in danger of losing its national image because of this growing wave of indiscretions?

Not at all, say Commissioners Pete Rozelle of the National Football League and Joe Foss of the American League, the men saddled with the responsibility of maintaining the image of the game.

Rozelle contends that the pro football star is the innocent victim of the intense popularity of the sport itself.

"The incidents involving pro football players are rather infrequent," Rozelle said. "However, when they occur, the intense popularity of the sport and its participants incurs considerable publicity.

"The typical pro is well-educated and exercises good judgment."

Houston Nips Dallas

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston nipped the University of Dallas 8-6 Friday in college baseball. Sophomore Ron Taylor was the winning Cougar pitcher.

Dill Wants To Plug Home Town

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Terry Dill, who wants to win in golf so he can advertise his home town of Muleshoe, Tex., was the sensation of the Texas open today.

Terry represents the Muleshoe Country Club for nothing because "they are such good people." And he talks at length on the little town in West Texas that was carved out of the famous XIT ranch.

"I have heard it was named Muleshoe because a mule lost a shoe there once," said Terry as he talked to the press following his second straight three-under-par 67 that put him into a tie with former National Open champion Gene Littler for the 36-hole lead.

He entertained the press with a sketch of his life in Muleshoe where he learned to play golf as a caddie.

"My father told me to go to work and I got a job in a grocery. But it only paid 25 cents an hour. Gosh, you had to work eight hours to make two dollars and I said that's not for me. So I went out to the golf course where you could make $4 to $5 in an afternoon and play golf, too."

Terry got so good the University of Texas called him in to play golf and one thing led to another—mainly Dill's start of the PGA tour three years ago.

The most he has won was $1800 at Oklahoma City in 1962. But he said that ran out in about a month. "I got to spending too much on the girls," he explained. "So I quit the girls—I can't afford 'em."

This year he hasn't won a dime on the tour except what he could pick up in a pro-amateur but he seems to be in line for a good check in the Texas Open.

Terry says helpful folks almost helped him off the tour giving him advice. But his coach, Harvey Penick of the University of Texas, said "start playing like Terry Dill instead of imitating whoever you have been trying to imitate."

So Terry wouldn't be surprised if he isn't on his way to glory in golf—the glory of Muleshoe.

Mrs. Big Crow Has 24th Child

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Mrs. James Big Crow, 40, is back in the hospital. She gave birth to her 24th child, and they are both doing fine.

Mrs. Big Crow has made 16 trips to the hospital, and has given birth to eight sets of twins and eight other babies. Nineteen of her children are still alive. Robert, 20, the eldest, is in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Big Crow live on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in a four-room frame house which does not have electricity. Big Crow works for a nearby farmer.

Brazilian Farm Tools Shown In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A farm tractor made in Brazil under a Finnish license was demonstrated today to Mexico's minister of agriculture and livestock, Julian Rodriguez Adame.

Ambassadors Manoel Pio Correa Jr. of Brazil and Algar Von Heiroth of Finland attended the demonstration, at a training center for agricultural machinery operators.

The Brazilian diplomat said his country hopes to introduce the tractor into countries who are members of the Latin American Free Trade Association.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Frankie Minton, the former Snyder High School All-District tackle, has stepped into the head football coaching post at the University of Corpus Christi. Minton has been at UCC for the past year as top assistant to Carman Bonner, who resigned recently. Bonner went to West Columbia High School as head coach.

Following his graduation from Snyder High, Minton played football for two years at San Angelo Junior College and then completed his college eligibility at Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches. He coached at Groveton High School before going to Corpus Christi.

South Park High School of Beaumont reportedly is interested in Don Robbins, former Snyder High line coach and now head coach at Big Spring, and reports from Big Spring indicate the interest may be mutual. Robbins is well-known in the southeast Texas area. Although reared in Breckenridge where he played high school football, Robbins attended Texas A&M and was on the staff at Port Arthur High School when he came to Snyder as line coach five years ago. The Beaumont school is a member of District 11-AAAA.

Tommy Hart, the Big Spring Herald Sports Editor, perhaps better known here as a baseball umpire, reports that Robbins was first in line for a job on the Texas Tech staff if Matt Lair had not elected to return to the Raiders.

Incidentally if Robbins should depart, Big Spring would have two top vacancies on its coaching staff. No replacement has been hired yet for Delnor Poss who quit the head basketball coaching post there several weeks ago.

Jimmy Wilson, the local quarterback and basketballer who has signed with Kansas State, was impressed with the facilities at the Kansas school on a weekend visit there.

Texas Western has made some belated recruitings forays into this area recently, but apparently the pickings have been slim. The TWC recruiters told local coaches that they have just about quit trying to recruit in this territory until the Southwest Conference teams finish their bidding on the athletic talent. Texas Western, now an independent in athletics, apparently has designs on ultimate membership in the Western Athletic Conference, which now has New Mexico U., the two big Arizona schools, Utah, Brigham Young and Wyoming.

• • •

Steve Free, the former three-sport letterman at Snyder High, is having a fine season with the University of Houston baseball team. He walloped a homerun which figured in a Houston victory over Nebraska, and coaches are reported highly pleased with his fielding ability.

Texas Aggies Donate 564 Pints Of Blood

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas Aggies were tapped for 564 pints of blood here this week.

Allan Peterson of Houston, chairman of the student welfare committee, said more than 300 students and faculty were rejected because of the recent measles outbreak on the campus.

The blood, donated to Wadley Blood Bank of Dallas, will be used by Aggies and facility members as the need arises, Peterson said. The remainder will be used to treat leukemia-stricken patients.

Men's Fashions Go Conservative

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mens' fashions, thanks to movieland ace setters like Frank Sinatra and William Holden, are going to get more and more conservative—so says a top movie stylist.

"For awhile, it looked like Hollywood fashions were going the way of the Beatles—tight pants and all," says Sy Devore. "But the Beatle look—like the Liberace look of a few years ago—will never make it."

Devore says the young stars like Tommy Sands, Jimmy Darren, Elvis Presley and the rest take their dress cues from Sinatra, Holden, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

"Even Sammy Davis, who can wear pants so tight that they look like they are sprayed on, is following Sinatra's taste in dress," the stylist adds.

"Trousers are being cut a little fuller," he says. "Even pleats are coming back."

Holden, who is probably Hollywood's most widely traveled star—he keeps a home in Switzerland, an apartment in Hong Kong and one here—is inspiration for a new Devore creation. It's a combination dress suit and tuxedo.

"Fellows like Bill who travel a lot need both a dark dress suit for cocktail parties and a tux for black tie affairs.

"So we come up with the idea of an English mohair suit with a velvet collar that needs only a bow tie to make it a tuxedo. Sinatra already has popularized the plain dress shirt with button down collar.

Mexican Architects To Visit Italy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Mexican delegation of architects and engineers is to attend the second International Congress of Architects and Technicians of Monuments in Venice, Italy, May 25-31.

HONORED ON RETIREMENT—This group of Mobil Oil Co. employes gathered at a luncheon recently to honor L. R. Brown, lease operator in the Silver area, who will retire May 1, after 27 years of service with Mobil. Carl Tefertiller presented Brown and his wife with a gift from the employe group, and C. H. Samples, district superintendent, presented Brown with a retirement plaque, while H. R. Elledge presented the retirement emblem. Born near Purmela, near Gatesville, Brown attended the old County Line School after moving to this area with his family. He and his wife, the former Flora Leach of Westbrook, have lived in Silver for about seven years. He is active in the Church of God. Brown joined Mobil in 1936 as a roustabout and was promoted to his present position about a year later. Pictured, from left, front row, are J. P. Herring, E. A. Lee, B. E. Hanks, C. H. Samples, L. R. Brown, M. M. Keeble, H. P. Wilson and R. R. Rochelle. Top row, R. L. Ashley, Jim Finnegan, T. R. DeShan, Mertz Ratliff, E. G. Garrett, H. R. Bell, W. E. Allen, K. W. Lewis, P. M. Barry, Carl Tefertiller, J. M. Moore, Hugh Elledge.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

TEQUISQUIAPAN, Mexico — Sheets of mist rise from Mr. Gonzalo Rio's swimming pool in the morning chill while the early sun turns the countryside to technicolor. Just like a Hollywood movie.

The hotel guests rush for the pool, bundled in robes and fling themselves into the warm foggy waters. Without robes, natch.

After the sun heats the atmosphere a bit, the mist goes away and the healing mineral waters are as clear as a mountain stream.

A few hundred years down the slope of the valley is the San Juan River. You can spot it by the curious rust - colored sabino trees on the banks. They are twisted and look like nature started something but decided not to finish a job. But beautiful against the quiet grey of the valley.

Aside from the health and spa business, the chief industry in these parts in mining. Just over that hill (I could never figure out which but everybody said it was THAT one with a careless wave toward a cluster of mountains) is one of the biggest opal mines in Queretaro State.

Native miners chisel and blast away at chunks of the proper type of rock. Assistants break the pieces into fragments. You see the opal crystals glistening in the rocks being dumped into trucks.

And from here you get the famous Mexican fire opal which looks like it could cook a thick steak. The trucks take this material to gem cutters in San Juan del Rio and the city of Queretaro.

You can buy rocks with embedded opal crystals. Chop them out and cut the stones yourself, if you're a hobbyist. Or for a dollar you get a plastic bag full of amethyst crystals. Pot luck on a do-it-yourself plan. Anything from the rough and raw to the finished product that dazzles like a Christmas tree. Prices are surprisingly low compared to New York or Dallas.

And while the miners and gem - cutters perspire over their respective tasks, the mineral waters flow clear and healthfully through Mr. Rio's swimming pools.

There are the three emerald-cut pools (I'm learning all about gems now) in private quarters where you become rejuvenated away from the prying eyes of other guests. The pool in the center of the hotel grounds is sort of spleen-shaped.

Water gushes in at 87 degrees F. complete with radioactivity. It tends to cool off, however, after exposure to the air. And by the time the sun is sizzling at high noon, you put your foot in the water and exclaim, "Whooie!" Feels cool but fine once you get in and paddle away your cares.

Also, I was told by a couple from Chicago that even if the water temperature dropped to 65 degrees F. it still beats shoveling snow.

Tequisquiapan hasn't changed much in the past hundred years, I am told.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING TO APPROPRIATE PUBLIC WATERS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

No. 2329

Notice is hereby given to whom concerned that the application of BORDEN COUNTY, TEXAS, by C. C. Nunnally, County Judge, the post-office address of which is Gail, Texas, was received on the 16th day of March, 1964, in the office of the Texas Water Commission. Applicant seeks a permit to appropriate 205 acre-feet of water annually for municipal purposes from a proposed 525 acre-foot reservoir on an unnamed stream, a tributary of the Colorado River, in Borden County, Texas, all being more fully set out in said application.

Station 11-00 on the center line of dam is located N 47 degrees 55' E 1665 feet from the southwest corner of Section 26, Block 32, T-5-N, T&P RR Co. Survey, A-1305, Borden County, Texas, and is located approximately 7 miles west of Gail, Texas.

Said application was accepted for filing by the Texas Water Commission on the 6th day of April, 1964, as Application No. 2329, and a hearing thereon will be held by the Texas Water Commission, in the office of the Commission at Austin, Texas, on MONDAY, MAY 11, 1964, beginning at ten o'clock a.m., at which time and place all parties interested may appear and be heard. Those opposing the granting of said application should file written protests with the Commission and the applicant at least five days prior to hearing date, giving their reasons therefor and such other information as is required by Commission Rule 305.2. Such hearing will be continued from time to time, and from place to place, if necessary, until such determination has been made relative to said application as the said Texas Water Commission may deem right, equitable and proper.

Given under and by virtue of an order of the Texas Water Commission, at the office of the said Commission at Austin, Texas, this the 6th day of April, 1964.

WHERE DEALERS HAD LUNCH—All dealers were guests at a luncheon in this big tent, along with a tour of the plant as they participated in a "driveaway" of the new El Caminos from Chevrolet's Southwest Region Plant in Arlington.

Glamor Vehicles Brought To Town

Snyder's glamor vehicles have been enlarged with the arrival of two El Caminos, a species of commercial car bearing a special Chevrolet branch of beauty and utility.

The units were driven here from Arlington, after dealers and their representatives participated in a mass "driveaway" which saw an assembly of 350 similar models from Chevrolet's Southwest Region, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi.

The affair went off even more successfully than advance planning forecast, according to Theo Lamb, owner of Lamb Chevrolet Co. in Snyder.

Not only did the big turnout create something of a milestone in Texas automotive activities, but in a trip through the plant, the efficiency and ingenuity of production methods proved of great interest.

"We dealers are continually talking Chevrolet's quality," Lamb observed, "but only infrequently do we get an opportunity to see quality in the making. The safeguards and high manufacturing standards displayed in the plant impressed even those of us who have long been acquainted with Chevrolet products."

Oswald Story Is Denied

DALLAS (AP) — Police Chief Jess Curry says Dallas police will take lie detector tests if any testimony they gave the Warren Commission is doubted.

Curry spoke out Friday after Dallas police Lt. Jack Revill confirmed he reported to his superiors Nov. 22 that an FBI agent said of Lee Harvey Oswald: "We knew he was capable of assassinating the President."

Revill was reported to have testified before the Warren Commission what he said he heard from FBI special agent James (Joe) Hosty.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover asserted in Washington "the agent made no such statement and the FBI did not have such knowledge."

Post Office Cuts Service

The limited adjustments in some postal services ordered in Washington Mar. 10 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski will begin to take effect in Snyder and other cities May 4, Postmaster Dawson Moreland said Saturday.

The purpose of the curtailing of postal service was described by the post office's regional director, B. M. Myers, Jr. in Dallas, as being "necessary to substantially reduce employment and costs in the postal field service."

Moreland said that he had been directed to open the stamp and parcel post window for no more than four hours on Saturday, and that only one employe could be assigned to the Saturday morning shift at the window.

Postmaster Moreland said that he hoped the post office patrons of Snyder would not postpone until Saturday those items of business which could just as easily be done on Friday.

The post office will be open on Saturday only for stamp and parcel post service. No registry, C.O.D., money orders, postal savings, or such miscellaneous services as inquiry and claims information, meter settings, trust fund deposits or box rent collections will be handled on Saturdays.

Moreland also said that he had been instructed to furnish parcel post delivery only five days per week. Service is presently provided six days per week. The postmaster said that at the present time, he planned to discontinue parcel post service on Tuesdays, since experience has shown that that was the lightest day for delivery in Snyder. He said he felt that the discontinuance of delivery of packages on Tuesday would cause the least inconvenience to Snyder Post Office patrons.

The memorandum received by Moreland also said that postmasters should make "immediate reductions in the number of temporary employees, work hours of substitutes, and contract vehicle hire." The memorandum also said that "postmasters should make a realistic reassessment of other weekend services provided in all post offices in the event further service adjustments have to be made.

Moreland said that no essential major services are affected under the new orders. There will be no change in home delivery, he said, and regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual and letters and other first-class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step, Moreland explained, is in line with President Johnson's programs under which the recent Federal income tax cut was provided.

The reduction in postal service is expected to save $12.7 million per year, according to Postmaster General Gronouski.

Bank Installs Direct Wire To Brokers

For the convenience of their patrons, Snyder National Bank has made arrangements with a stock broker for the installation of a direct wire teletype service.

Customers now may place "buy" or "sell" orders at the bank. Further, when the installation is complete, a list of market quotations of a selected list of stocks will be continuously available.

Quotes on any stock can be requested at any time and the current price can be sent back immediately on the teletype.

Snyder National Bank officers said they felt the teletype service would be of considerable assistance to those who wish to buy or sell stock, not only in the efficient handling of their exchanges, but also in their wiser investing in stocks and bonds.

There will be no charge for the teletype service.

BOBBY COVEY plays the part of Dodo the clown.

SHS Speech And Drama Department To Present "THE CLOWN WHO RAN AWAY"

by Conrad Seller

As the play opens, Dodo, the circus clown, runs down the aisle with two suitcases. He clambers up on to the stage and then confidentially tells the audience that he is tired of being kicked around and of having to be funny, and has decided to run away from the circus. He is going to make a living telling stories instead because that is something he has wanted to do all his life. He asks the children in the audience what kind of a story they would like. They want one with tears and laughter, with dolls, a horse, robbers, and a clown like Dodo who has run away. That seems like a pretty large order but Dodo soon has one all thought out. As he begins to tell it, the curtains are opened and reveal a tree and a lamppost on Main Street in any town. The story, with Dodo the principal character of course, concerns Mr. Frumphins, the best doll-maker in all the world, and his marvelous talking and walking dolls; how Rudolph Bernard Boo, a terrible robber, steals them, and how an obliging horse named Gladys, assisted by Dodo, effects an exciting rescue. At the end Dodo becomes homesick; he belongs to the circus and feels he must return to it. So when he hears the callippe in the street, he romps up the aisle of the theatre, accompanied by Gladys and goes back to the circus, a runaway clown no longer!

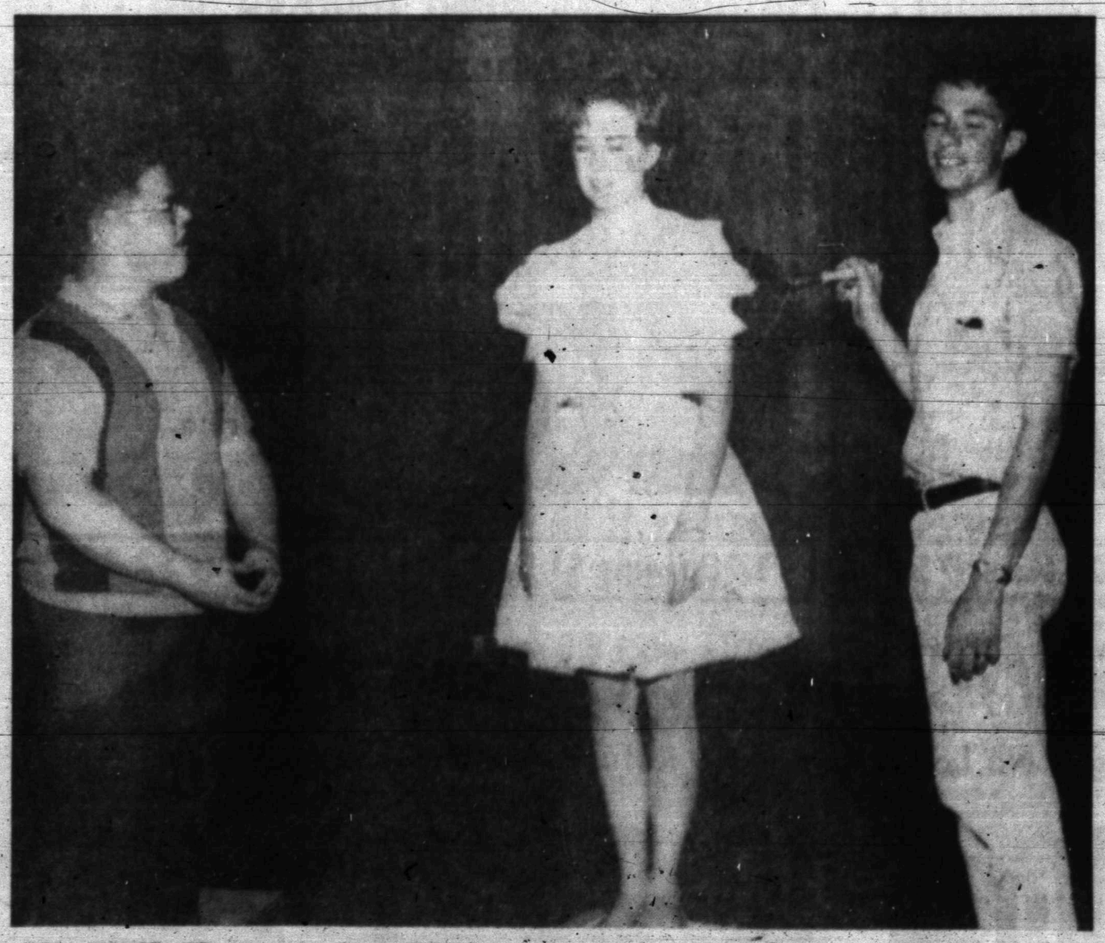

(Comments From The Director)

Mr. Gerald Gafford

We expect the children's play to be one of the most exciting productions we have worked on this year. Children make a delightful audience. The magic of make-believe in the theatre is still new and thrilling to children. They are less inhibited than adults and find it easy to become involved in the plot of a play.

We hope to present a play just for children annually. This is not a money-making project, as the 25c admission charge clearly indicates, but is being presented by high school students as a classroom project, simply for the delight of children.

Parents and older children are welcome to accompany the youngsters to the play, which will last about 45 minutes. The two performances will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 26, at 3:00 o'clock, and on Monday evening, April 27, at 7:30 o'clock. The play is especially designed for pre - school through 6th grade students, but "youngsters" of all ages (this includes parents, of course) are welcome. Tickets may be obtained from the elementary schools, or at the door.

DOLL HOUSE—Billy Streety, left, plays the part of the doll house proprietor, known as Mr. Frumphins. Janice Fowler plays Veronica the doll and John Stevens is Andrew.

GUEST SPEAKER—Captain Ewing Werlein and his wife, Kay, visited with Lois Leech, left, president of the local ABWA chapter prior to the banquet held Thursday evening.

ABWA Holds Annual 'Boss Night' Activities Thursday

The Snyder American Business Women's Association held their annual "Boss Night" banquet Thursday evening at Martha Ann Woman's Club with 43 members and guests attending.

Guests were greeted by Elizabeth Herring and Lois Leech and were then invited to sign the guest book. Clara Mae Noah and Clara Carey presided over this table and name cards with the ABWA symbol were pinned on each present.

Lucy Dennis and Inez Teaff poured coffee prior to the dinner hour.

Colleen Weaver and Bill Williams received gifts as the "Lucky Lady" and "Lucky Gentleman."

A lovely buffet dinner was served with guests seated at a large horseshoe table, gayly bedecked with various objects depicting businesses of the members.

Mrs. Elizabeth Herring was mistress of ceremonies, and following the meal introduced Bobby Covey, local high school student who presented a musical program. A quartet composed of Covey, Brenda Boyd, Donna Stevens and Fred Finley, and Melody White, pianist, rendered four numbers. Diane Hargrove accompanied Bobby Covey as he presented a solo.

Mrs. Lois Leech, president of the Snyder Chapter spoke briefly, explaining the true meaning of ABWA and their diligent work in making money for their scholarship fund each year.

Mrs. Ewing Werlien of Big Spring, wife of the guest speaker drew the name of Mrs. Kathleen Glover, naming her "Boss of the Year." Captain Ewing Werlein of Webb Air Force Base then spoke to the group.

Captain Werlein, an attorney in the United States Air Force, chose to speak on "Politics and Religion" and very early captivated his audience with the sincerity of his talk.

America needs more young men dedicated to their religious life and country as this young captain proved himself to be.

Members at District

ABWA Chapters over the nation observe a District meeting within their own districts each Spring and early Summer. The Southwestern District which includes Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, held their meeting in San Antonio April 16th, 17th, and 18th with headquarters at the Granada Hotel.

Local members attending were Clara Mae Noah and Lucy Dennis. Mrs. Noah and Mrs. Dennis were accompanied by their husbands. Members returned with new ideas for the local chapter and new ways of obtaining funds and assistance for the education phase of the organization. This was of utmost importance as ABWA is predominantly educational.

A reception was held Friday evening with the actual work of the convention starting on Saturday morning. A symposium was held in the Crystal Ballroom 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. A lovely fashion show and luncheon was enjoyed from 12:00 to 1:30 p.m.

Following the luncheon and fashion show, those interested made an evening long tour of the city. A reception was held from 6:30 to 7 p.m. and a banquet at 7:15. Presiding over the program following the banquet was Mrs. Virginia Bowman, District meeting chairman and member of one of the local chapters in San Antonio. Invocation was given by the Southwest District Vice President, Betty Homeyer from Odessa. The welcome was given by Honorable Solomon Casseb, Jr. filling in for Governor John Connally. Response was given by the National President, Mrs. Clarice Carlson, of Midland, Michigan. Recognition of chapters was given by Mrs. Florence Barrett, National Co - Ordinator and greetings by H. A. Bufton, Jr., Executive Director, ABWA. Speaker of the evening was introduced by Mrs. Helen Wick, program committee co-chairman.

Chester H. Lauck, speaker, an executive assistant for Continental Oil Co., better known as "Lum" of the popular "Lum and Abner", radio and movie team. Mr. Lauck travels more than 130,000 miles annually for Conoco from coast to coast. Although known primarily as a radio and movie personality, he was first successful as a banker and businessman. In 1931, together with Norris Goff, his boyhood friend, he formed the team of "Lum and Abner." Mr. Lauck also is a director of the American Capital Lue Insurance Company, Houston. In 1962 he received an Honorary Doctor of Law degree from the Atlanta Law School and a Freedom Foundation Award for a speech entitled, "The Eleventh Hour."

In Mr. Lauck's speech he brought out the terrible tragedy which took place in Dallas on November 22, 1963. At the same time he pointed out that our country was very fortunate in that we were able to immediately put another man in the office of President in the proper way for a President to be installed. In other countries, such as Russia and France, there would have been complete turmoil and bedlam. In Russia the people would not have known who would fill the office until it had been decided by a very few and already taken over.

On Sunday religious services were held in the Roof Garden from 7:30 a.m. to 8:15 a.m. Work shops were held 9:00 to 10:40 a.m. with brunch served in the Grand Ball Room at 11 o'clock. The welcome was given by the Honorable Walter McAlister, Mayor, City of San Antonio. Recognition of the Inner Circle was made by Lola Mulloy, National Extension Director. The Inner Circle is composed of members who have sponsored 11 new members for ABWA. A most delightful and inspiring speech was given by the National President.

Everyone was delighted with this meeting as it was the largest in attendance of any ABWA District meeting held. Five-hundred and twenty - six ladies, members of ABWA chapters in the Southwestern District registered for this convention. The convention was so well planned and organized that it was a great pleasure to each one attending the convention.

Nowadays some sponge - cake type recipes call for whole eggs beaten until stiff. If you are using a recipe of this sort, have the eggs at room temperature so they'll beat up to the best volume.

Lady Talks To Convicts

By JOE RIGERT

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — For every man behind prison walls, there is often a woman who helped put him there, says Mrs. Charlotte Paul Groshell. As a nationally-known author, mother of two teen-age sons and only woman on the Washington State Parole Board, Mrs. Groshell should know.

While other housewives chat with neighbors over a cup of coffee, Mrs. Groshell talks to convicts — usually more than 150 a month.

Many of their troubles, she says, can be traced to the opposite sex, whether wives, ex-wives, girlfriends, or domineering, entirely-permissive, or overly-possessive mothers.

In recognition of this fact, Mrs. Groshell contends a woman can make an important contribution to a parole board.

Women Know Women

This is particularly true, she says, in talking to the women who await the convicts when they are freed from prison on parole.

"Almost all the inmates have a committee dedicated to getting them out," she says. "It may include a wife, an ex-wife who feels guilty, or an employer who wants to help.

"I'm not saying they will get different treatment from me, but I can really level with the women. The more I can do to get them ready, the better chance he has of succeeding when he gets out."

Mrs. Groshell also says, some convicts actually find it easier to confide in a woman than in a man.

This is often the case among younger inmates if they are dependent types, or feel that other men have done them wrong.

She's No Patsy

"Possibly the general public thinks a woman will be easy, emotionally view all criminals as delinquent little boys," she says.

"But there are many occasions when my suggestions for sentences have been tougher than those of the man I am working with on a case."

Mrs. Groshell says she has no illusions about criminals. She said a certain percentage of the prison population is just plain mean.

"They are not sick, or insane, or youngsters," she says. "They are just unwilling to stand on their own two feet, share their part of the responsibility and pay taxes. So they live on the rest of the population as long as they can."

Maybe You, Too

When she joined the five-member board a year ago, Mrs. Groshell brought with her the popular misconception that there is a criminal type and that other citizens are incapable of serious crimes.

Now she believes that, "There is nothing that anyone would not or could not do if certain pressures or circumstances push him to that point. Some people have low tolerance. The rest of us stand up to the pressure."

Murderers are the best parole risks, she contends. Alcoholic check writers are the heaviest repeaters.

Once a foreign correspondent co - publisher of two weekly newspapers with her husband and author of several books Mrs. Groshell is thinking of writing another.

Which Foods To Wash Before Refrigerating

To wash or not to wash foods before putting them in the refrigerator is a frequent homemaking question. Knowing the right answer for the right item will help you keep food at top quality during its stay in the fresh food compartment.

Citrus fruits should be washed before storing. Rinse and drain oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes thoroughly. Economists also advise a cold water rinse for other fruits such as apples, peaches and pears.

Poultry also should be washed before refrigerating. Chicken, turkey and duckling should be cleaned for cooking, then drained and loosely-wrapped. If you plan to keep it longer than a day or two before cooking, wrap the poultry in a moisture-proof, vapor-proof covering and place it in the freezer compartment.

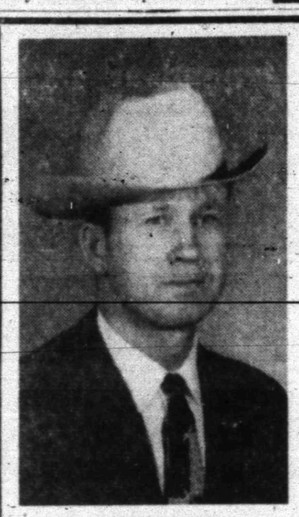

Eggs, however, should not go near the water before being put in the refrigerator. Also on the "don't wash" list are berries. They should be spread out in a shallow container and stored in the fresh food compartment.

Further suggestions from home economists for most effective use of your refrigerator are these:

Be sure that food containers are clean. In addition, always air re-usable containers which have held "strong" foods such as onions and certain cheeses before using again. This is important to avoid the transfers of odors inside the refrigerator.

To save space in your crisper compartment, remove all unusable portions of vegetables, before storing. There's no point in storing celery and radish leaves if you're only going to cut them off and throw them ayay later.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN F. MOORE

Bryant-Moore Marriage Solemnized In Quanah

Miss Joyce Dale Bryant of Quanah, became the bride of Mr. John Franklin Moore in double ring ceremonies performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bryant, Route 3, Quanah, on April 10th at 7:30 p.m.

Tommy Minton, minister of the Church of Christ officiated at the service before an arch covered with greenery, adorned at the center top by wedding bells. Baskets of white mums flanked either side of the arch.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moore of Route 2, Snyder are parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white lace and satin. The bodice and long sleeves were of lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Donna Jean Phillips of Fort Worth was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of blue chiffon and satin, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Terry Gay Collins of Vernon was flower girl. She wore a pink dress with matching headband, and carried a pink basket bedecked with blue flowers.

A reception followed in the home. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth. Silver coffee service and crystal punch service were on either end of the table with blue candles and white flowers gracing the center.

The bride chose a three-piece blue linen suit with white accessories for her wedding trip. The couple will make their home in Abilene.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Chillicothe High School. The groom is a 1961 graduate of Snyder High School and now attends Abilene Christian College where he is a speech therapy major.

Swiss Firms Sponsor Exhibit At Exposition

Under the theme "Fashion Embellishes Life" various branches of Switzerland's textile industry have joined together to sponsor the "Clothing and Fashion" section at the Swiss National Exposition, Lausanne, April 30th to October 25th.

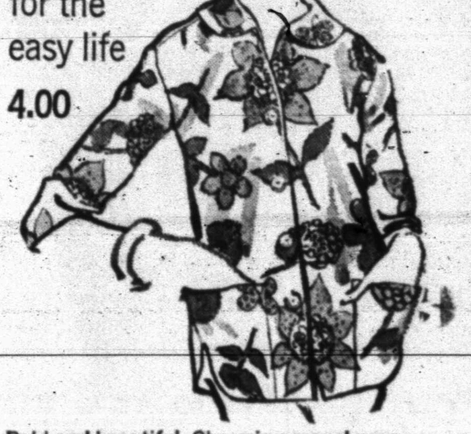

In a modernistic exhibition building there will be a colorful display of the most advanced ideas, aims and achievements of the Swiss textile industry. Included will be cotton, wool, silk, synthetics, linen, embroidery, couture, hosiery, knitwear, footwear; and accessories such as watches, jewelry, hats, leather goods and cosmetics.

The exhibit will include a demonstration of how filmy Swiss handkerchiefs are made. Students from a vocational school in St. Gall will operate a hand embroidery machine.

Womanly Art Of Self Defense

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA (AP)—A young woman who takes judo for kicks is apt to find there're more kicks in it than she thought possible.

The spiked heel is a reminder to the most petite and fragile girl that she need never be defenseless.

At least, that's what the judo experts teach — "kick with those heels, girls."

Each week at the YMCA a group of attractive homemakers and career girls practice judo, which is generally considered a man's sport.

"Judo is the most valuable self - defense weapon a woman could possibly have," says Virginia Whigham, tall brunette instructor.

"It's basic strategy is one of non-resistance. You try to get your opponent off balance so that you can throw him, trip him, choke him and kick him."

Heels Best

In spite of the intensive work on judo holds, Miss Whigham says: "Your best weapon is your spike heels."

Occasionally a male instructor who teaches jujitsu to a group of men, joins the women's class and allows each to flip him over her shoulder.

"Now what do you do?" J. C. Lindsay asks the class of women while he is still supine on a gym mat.

"I run," says one girl.

"No, you don't," Lindsay replies. "Your attacker is liable to get right up and chase you again.

"Do you know what you should do? You fight dirty," he said, to your assailant's head. Kick him in the ribs. Try stepping out of your shoes and leaving them in his chest. Or use your thumbs and gouge his eyes."

At such advice, some of the women judo students make squeamish faces and say:

"Oh, I couldn't."

Fight Dirty

"If you don't fight dirty, you could be killed," the instructor always warns. "The only thing to remember is self-preservation.

"If a man has grabbed you and is holding you so that you can't get loose, run your heel down his shins hard and come down on one of his feet with the full force of both of your spiked heels."

Miss Whigham advises that a woman can throw a man as easily as she can a woman — if she catches him by surprise. "In fact, she really has the man at a disadvantage because he doesn't think she can do it.

"The element of surprise is most important. If a person expects to be thrown, he'll immediately stiffen up," she added. "No one — male or female — could throw him then."

Why do women like judo?

"It's fun," says a homemaker. "I take it for kicks."

"For the exercise," says a young mother.

"My doctor advised it for back trouble," another says. "It's good for conditioning and coordination."

Girl Scout Day Camp Plans Set

Snyder and Colorado City will have a joint Day Camp at Colorado City, beginning Monday, June 8th through Friday, June 12th. Day Camp hours will be in the cool of the day, beginning at 8 a.m. with an hour for lunch, and closing at 2 p.m. Transportation will be provided.

It is urgent that all LEADERS report how many girls will be attending, and within the next week please call Mrs. Joyce McCaleb at HI 3-6998 or Mrs. Millie Byers at HI 3-998 and advise the number of girls attending from your troop.

Any interested mother of a Brownie or Girl Scout may participate in Day Camp along with her daughter. Papoose Sitter Service for four-year olds to Brownie age will be provided. There will be a training meeting for anyone interested in helping on Tuesday, April 28, in Colorado City from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

All girls who have had the privilege of attending Day Camp know what a rewarding and fun thing it can be and those who haven't attended really have something to look forward to. The help of all Scout mothers will be appreciated, so that your daughter can enjoy this rewarding experience.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY KRUSE

Lynda Lee Ivison, Jerry Kruse Exchange Vows

Miss Lynda Lee Ivison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Ivison, 2304 Ave. L, Snyder, and Mr. Jerry Kruse, son of Mr. H. S. (Bo) Kruse, 1915 Huntington, Midland, and Mrs. C. W. Chapman, Rt. 1, Snyder, were married at 8:00 p.m., April 11 in the home of the bridegroom's mother. The Rev. Jack Dean, of Northside Baptist Church officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Lee were best man and matron of honor. Miss Helen Jo Ivison, sister of the bride, was bride's maid.

The bride's wedding suit was of blue shantung with a blue and white flowered surah blouse. Her accessories were a veiled ring of white straw, white necklace, white shoes, and a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of Snyder High School where he was an active member of the Indusfrial Arts Club. He served in several offices in the club, and won two outstanding awards at Texas A&M, and a scholarship to West Texas State University in Canyon for his workmanship. He attended West Texas State University.

The bride also graduated from Snyder High School in 1963 and was the Industrial Arts Club sweetheart for 1962, and was active in sports having lettered four years in volleyball. She was employed at Snyder Drug prior to her marriage.

The couple will make their home in Midland at 1103 B East Nobles where he is employed by Curry Office Supply.

May Day Welcome To Spring

Are you ready to cast your vote for the Queen of the May. . hang May baskets of fresh flowers secretly on the doors of your friends. . . practice your steps for the annual dance around the Maypole?

Just a century ago these were popular activities on the first of May. They were the last remains of one of the oldest celebrations known to civilized man.

In early Christian times, arrival of May was welcomed by decorating a Maypole and crowning a May king or queen. These celebrations had their roots in the even dimmer past when sacrifices were made to secure the rebirth of spring and the growth of crops.

The ancient Maypoles closely resembled present - day Christmas trees. A pine tree, with the top branches cut off, was the popular choice. The huge tree was drawn in wagons pulled by 20 to 40 oxen with garlands of flowers on their horns.

Villagers decorated the tree with fresh violets and purple bands of ribbon and erected it on the village green at sunrise. Often the Maypole would be 60 feet tall.

Although today we usually don't chop down pine trees and deck them with flowers, the coming of May does present a gay excuse for a party. May decorations combined with a springtime menu make a charming way to say goodbye to winter and welcome to flowers and balmy breezes.

Here's how to make a miniature Maypole and individual Maypole favors to bedeck a spring party table. All you need is a roll of green adhesive covering, narrow satin ribbon in various colors, an empty frozen orange juice can (4 ounce size) for each guest, and fresh flowers.

To make the Maypole centerpiece, unroll the adhesive. The cardboard cylinder in the center is the basis for your Maypole. Cover the cylinder with the green adhesive for the modern version of the May pine pole.

Using a little plastic modeling clay, anchor the Maypole firmly in a shallow vase. Cut narrow ribbons in lengths long enough to spill from the top of the cylinder on to the table. Attach at the top rim of the cylinder with tape. At the base of the Maypole, float fresh flower heads.

For the individual Maypole favors, cover each frozen orange juice can with the green. Attach short ribbon streamers to the top rim and fill with individual flower nosegays.

The May party menu can follow the spring theme, too. Watercress and chopped chicken sandwiches plus your favorite fresh strawberry dessert complete the festive welcome to a new season.

Dishwasher Will Save You Work

How would you like a 25-day vacation? That's what you get every year when you have an automatic dishwasher.

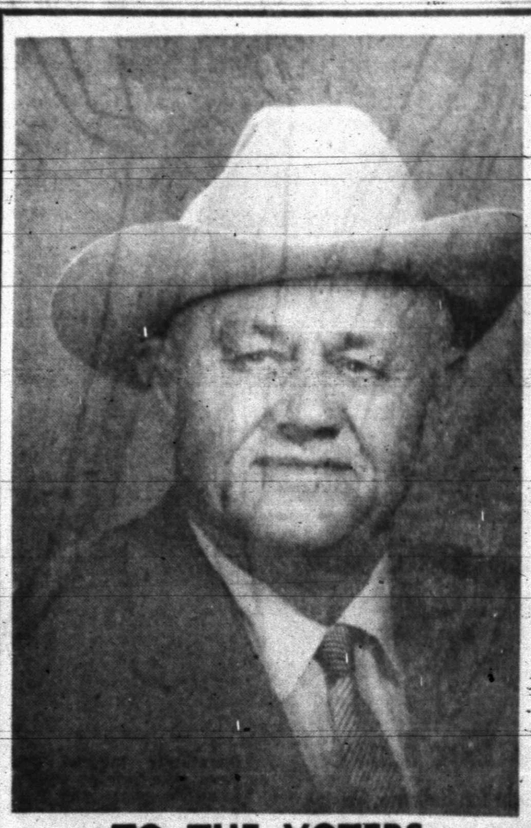

It's simple arithmetic: The homemaker who has a dishwasher saves an average of 32 minutes a day. Over a year's time, this adds up to virtually 25 8-hour work days.

Although these time savings are dramatic, they are only average. Proper use of your dishwasher can increase the total of valuable hours saved.

For example, home economists report that hand pre-rinsing and pre-stacking dishes is not necessary with the new dishwashers. If you hand rinse you are simply performing a task your dishwasher is quite capable of doing automatically. Simply flick off food waste and store dishes directly into the dishwasher.

Additional time savings are offered by dishwashers with multi-cycle selections. A "rinse only" cycle, a seven-minute jet spray rinse, permits the homemaker to store dishes from any meal in the dishwasher and hold them until a full load has been accumulated. They are then ready for the full, "wash and dry" cycle. A 25-minute "pots and pans" cycle is designed to wash food preparation utensils during meal time. When dinner is over, these utensils are clean and the dishwasher is free to accommodate the dinner dishes.

According to home economists, the homemaker who takes advantage of all the features of her dishwasher increases her total of "kitchen-free" hours. Avoid over-preparation of dishes, take advantage of special wash or rinse cycles, and you'll get the most from your automatic servant.

Kitchen Helper Can Be Camper's Best Friend

For would-be woodsmen, the budding trees mean just one thing: the camping season is on its way.

But for many novice campers, that first trip into the woods can be a disturbing experience. Fires have a way of not lighting, tent poles tilt, fish don't bite, mosquitoes do, and life in the city looks better all the time.

Although it won't insure the fish's appetite for bait, a little pre-planning can make life in the woods easier. For instance, you don't have to load yourself down with cleaning materials to keep your camping gear in shape.

In addition to the basic equipment, you'll find that a familiar kitchen helper, a roll of paper towels, can serve a multitude of purposes. Use them to dry off fishing gear, boots and swim caps before packing and moving to the next camp site.

Paper towels also are useful for cleaning grills at camp sites and for wiping out skillets and pans for easier washing. As placemats on picnic tables or napkins, they're plenty adequate when you're roughing it.

If you are making bread crumbs at home, be sure the bread is thoroughly dry before crumbing it by rolling with a rolling pin, putting it through a food chopper or in an electric blender. If the bread isn't thoroughly dry, the crumbs may mold.

Try Spring Shower To Steam Winter Out Of Skin

If it's been a rough winter for your skin, treat yourself to a spring "beauty shower." Cold cream and hot water are the simple but magic means of banishing drying effects of wintry winds, low humidity and freezing temperatures.

First, choose a cream that's especially recommended for dry skin. Then gently massage the cream into every area of parched, dry skin — ankles, knees, wrists and elbows.

Of course, you'll spend extra time on your face and throat, using firm, upward strokes to massage in the cream.

Next, step into a hot shower. Let the cream, hot water and steam work together for a relaxing 10 minutes. Lather with mild soap to remove cream everywhere except on face and throat. Just rinse your face in the warm water.

After the shower, blot, don't rub, yourself dry with a soft towel. Remove remaining traces of cream from face and throat with a tissue, working upward.

Splash your face with cool witch hazel or skin freshener, then smooth skin softening cream on arms and legs and your spring beauty shower is complete. Repeat the treatment every day for a week and your skin will forget there ever was a winter.

Bamboo can grow as much as three feet a day.

Spring Cleanup

Lawn furniture and cook-out equipment can present a big cleaning jobs come spring. Here's an easy way to get everything shiny in a hurry. Apply oven cleaner to the really dirty items — maybe the grill that was stored without being properly cleaned — and chrome cleaner to other items.

To eliminate the added chore of washing soiled rags, apply all cleaner with paper towels. When the cleaner is ready to be removed, just turn the garden hose on everything. Wipe dry and polish with handfuls of paper towels.

Travel Supplies

When you're packing the car for the family vacation trip, include a plastic bottle of water, a "litter bag" and a roll of paper towels. You'll find these supplies handy for cleaning the windshield between service station stops, cleaning sticky hands, and wiping up spills from on-the-road snacks.

Angel Food Cake

1 cup sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
1¼ cups (10 to 12) egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
1¼ teaspoons cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Sift together the flour and ½ cup of the sugar. Beat egg whites with salt and cream of tartar until foamy; beat in vanilla, almond extract and the remaining 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, until mixture is very stiff and glossy. Sift the flour-sugar mixture, ¼ cup at a time, over beaten egg whites, folding in as you do so. Turn into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Invert and allow cake to hang for 1 hour. Loosen sides and center of cake and ease out with fingers.

Children And Their Allowances

Probably the question of allowances for American children — and by the way American children seem to be the only children so priviliged, as a group — is as old as our nation. It may even pre-date the use of coins. Imagine the children of Colonial days lining up on Saturday mornings for their strings of shells or musket bullets! Then, as now, the main dilemma must have been whether allowances should be freely given or earned.

Child guidance counselors—who so often contradict one another — appear to be unanimously in agreement on this point. "Allowances should be given," they chorus. They should be dispensed graciously and matter of factly. these advisors tell us, very much as one gives one's youngster food and clothing.

It is generally agreed that one may pay a child for major household chores, such as extensive painting or putting up the screens, but jobs like washing dishes and taking care of his own room are simply his share of the family work.

We are told that most children begin to receive an allowance when they start off to school, and that the amount of the allowance will depend on the family's financial situation, the number of expenses the allowance is supposed to cover and — to a small degree — on local custom. Allowances should be paid regularly either weekly or monthly, and should be neither increased nor discreased without explanation.

Jean Kinkead, woman consultant, has found that women are better prepared to handle money in their adult life, if they've been accustomed to handling it from their childhood.

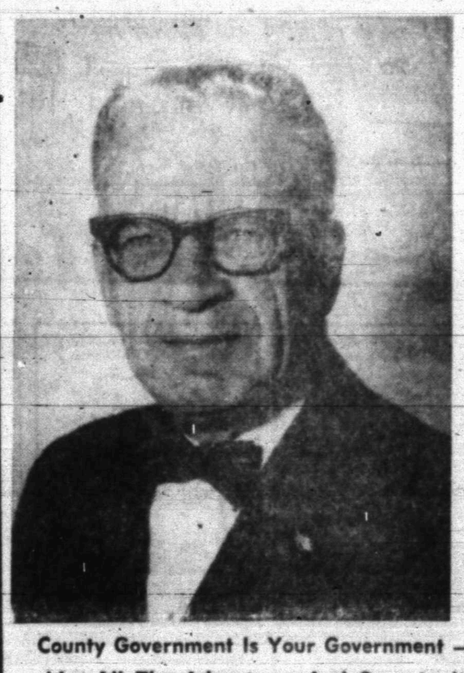

It seems to me, she says, that allowances teach youngsters the value of money in a most practical way. "Which do I want more — this or that?" "Is this immediate pleasure something I can forego in order to have a much greater satisfaction later on?" "Do I really want this, or am I tempted to buy it because everyone else is buying it?" Questions like this help teach thrift and the value of saving up for something special.

Many parents have been undecided about whether it's best to dictate how much their youngster should put aside each "bank day" at school or let him make the decision and bank whatever he wishes. Miss Kinkead suggests that with the younger ones, it's advisable to provide the direction and tell him hom much to bank, but by the early teens, it would be good discipline for the youngster to decide for himself — with only a little friendly parental prodding.

Dryer-Freshen Spring Clothes

Spring clothes that were clean before they were stored for the winter will still look droopy and matted after months in the storage closet. Give them a fluff-up treatment in your automatic dryer and they'll look fresh enough for a new season. Just set the dryer at the no-heat" or Fluff-n-Dry setting. Set time for 15 minutes and place clothes in the dryer to freshen, and remove matting and lint.

Reward Is Long In Coming To Poor British Shepherd

By JOHN GALE

LONDON (AP)—A tip from herdsmen John Maris gave Scotland Yard its first big break in the great train robbery.

But months after Maris led police to the gang's lonely hideout on a Buckinghamshire farm, he is still waiting to collect his share of the reward.

This will be paid in full only after the loot is recovered and the case is closed.

On present indications, Maris and others who have helped along the way are in for a long wait.

The train robbers escaped with $7,280,000. Apart from $840,000 either unloaded by the gang or recovered by the police the loot is still missing.

Fourteen men have been jailed for terms totaling more than 300 years. The thieves have been stripped of much of their glamor and the English courts have shown their determination to stamp out big-time crime by the sternest measures at their disposal.

The raid last August on the night mail train hurtling through sleepy Buckinghamshire en route from Scotland to London produced one lasting tragedy. Engine driver Jack Mills, 57, was badly beaten around the head. He is unlikely to work again.

Said Trial Judge Edmund Davies as he handed down sentences April 16: "let us clear away any romantic notions of dare devilry.

"This is nothing more than a sordid crime of violence. Leniency would be a positively evil thing."

Thirty-year terms followed for seven of 12 accused men. Five others drew terms of up to 25 years, while two more men were jailed for shorter periods at a later trial on receiving charges.

The main trial exposed the gang not as talented amateurs—the sort of people Britons often appreciate — but as hardened crooks. Only two of the 12—attorney John Wheater and his managing clerk, Brian Field—had no previous convictions.

The rest had among them run up 40 convictions for such crimes as burglary, assault, fraud, shopbreaking, assaulting police and picking pockets.

The convicted train robbers took their secrets to prison with them and police press their search for the remnants of the gang and the hidden loot.

The pictures of three fugitives —James White, 43, a cafe proprietor; Ronald Edwards, 32, a florist, and Bruce Reynolds, 41, an antique dealer—are prominently displayed outside every police station. The brains behind the raid may still be at large and may be among still other men that the police have not identified.

Senior detectives continue to assert that more arrests are imminent but are not so optimistic publicly about getting the money back. Privately, they swap numerous theories about the whereabouts of the loot.

It may take another John Maris before there is a further break in the case.

Maris detected suspicious activity at Leatherslade Farm, the gang's remote hideout isolated one-half mile up a dirt track road 20 miles from the robbery scene. The farmhouse windows had been blacked out.

Maris told the police of his suspicions and they swooped. The gang had fled but the farmhouse was covered with finger and palm prints that led to several arrests.

The farm of five acres now has acquired a curio value. It has been offered for sale and a bid of $14,000 has been received. Owner Bernard Rixon, who moved out sometime before the gang moved in, is holding out for more.

Oil Activity Encourages Contractors

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Oilwell drilling contractors are encouraged.

More rotary drilling rigs have been in use this year than in the early weeks of 1963.

The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors credits the substantial boost in operations to a flurry of activity in Ohio and southern Louisiana.

The association's "Drilling Contractor" says January-March rotary rig activity this year probably averaged about 1,425 to 1,430, compared to 1,394 in 1963.

"The fact rotary rig activity has not fallen to the low level which was experienced last year is encouraging," the publication said. "The lowest level of rig activity so far this year has been the 1,358 rigs on February 10, contrasted with a low of 1,306 in late January, 1963."

Warren Baker, executive vice president of the contractor trade group, said 1964 rotary rig activity would be very low without the increases in Ohio and south Louisiana.

"These two areas have 125 more rigs running than a year ago," Baker said. "But the United States total is only 50 higher than a year ago. Large decreases in some other areas darkened the local picture."

An oil drilling boom has been under way in Morrow County, Ohio since last fall.

"The situation in Ohio is amazing for several reasons," Baker said. "It is one of the older producing states and nothing spectacular has happened there in a long time, furthermore, cable tools have always been predominant in that area until now."

Baker said there were 96 active rotary rigs in Ohio on March 23 compared to an average of 5 to 10 a year ago.

South Louisiana had 162 rigs operating March 30 compared to 143 a year earlier.

"South Louisiana has the greatest concentration of rig activity in the nation," Baker said. "All phases of south Louisiana rotary rig activity are up from last year."

Baker said Oklahoma and Colorado have experienced some increase in rig activity but Texas has suffered the largest decrease.

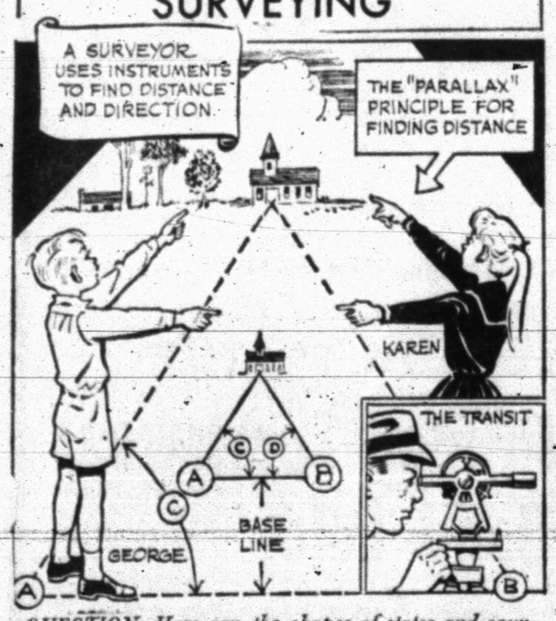

"The 461 active Texas rotaries on March 30 were 38 below year earlier levels," he said.

The Oil and Gas Journal indicated well completions in the United States April 11 totaled 11,409, compared to 12,167 a year earlier.

Louisiana had 1,303 completions by April 11, compared to 1,200 a year earlier. Included were 210 wildcats, compared to 155 in 1963.

Texas had completed 3,584 wells, compared to 3,913 a year earlier and had drilled only 820 wildcat tests compared to 893 a year earlier.

Junior Editors Quiz on SURVEYING

QUESTION: How can the shapes of states and countries be known?

• • •

ANSWER: The shapes of states and countries are determined by their boundaries, and these are worked out and put down on maps by the process called "surveying." The practice of fixing exact boundaries originated in Egypt where every year the Nile river overflowed it's banks and surveyors had to be employed to find the original boundaries of the farms. Surveyors start from one exact point and then go on measuring angles and distances to find other points, keeping careful notes so these may be put down exactly on a map. Surveyors have carefully-made compasses which show them the exact compass bearing of distant points. The surveyor's most important instrument is the transit, the top of which we illustrate. This is mounted on a strong tripod which can be folded for carrying around. The transit can measure angles up and down or sideways. An important use for it is to determine the distance of far off objects. Here, George and Karen show us how the parallax system is used. If a surveyor wanted to find his distance to the church door, he would establish a "baseline" with two points, (A) and (B) and he would measure to see how close they were. Then he would sight the church door with his transit from (A) and measure the angle, (C) between his sight line and the baseline. Then he would move to Karen's side and get the angle from (B). Putting these angles on paper, he could figure the distance from the base line to the church door by trigonometry.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Although some boundaries are laid out by surveyors, there are many which follow natural features such as rivers, mountains or lakes. Get a large map of the United States and see which boundaries are formed by such natural lines. You might start with the Rio Grande River between Texas and Mexico.

(Alonzo Steplight of Charleston, S. C. wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.)

Instant Tea Gives Unique Flavor To Tea Cakes

Above all spring is a time of newness. Outdoors, new life is vibrant everywhere. There's a great urge (not always so pronounced among the males) to buy new fashions, redecorate the house and to look for new recipes to bring to the family table.

It's delightfully contagious and happens every spring — the search for something new. Recently discovered in addition to making a cup of tea, instant tea lends a unique spice-like flavor to "Tea Cake Loaves" when it is used as a recipe ingredient.

"Tea Cake Loaves" can be made a day or two ahead and the cake will not only retain its fine flavor and pound-cake texture but it will also slice beautifully. Served with garnishes of nuts or accompanied by fresh fruits in season, "Tea Cake Loaves" are a new spring treat for the family or entertaining friends. (If appetites aren't too ravenous, set one aside for the freezer — this cake stores perfectly.)

Tea Cake Loaves

1 cup soft butter or margarine (½ pound)
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
6 egg yolks (½ cup)
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons instant tea
6 egg whites (¾ cup)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In large bowl, with mixer at medium speed, beat butter or margarine until creamy; gradually beat in sugars until creamy. Then gradually add egg yolks and beat until very light and fluffy, about 7 minutes. Add lemon rind and vanilla extract.

In small bowl, sift together flour and baking powder. Gradually stir milk into instant tea.

At low speed, blend in flour-mixture alternately with tea-milk, in three parts, starting and ending with flour.

Now in small bowl, beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; then carefully fold into batter. Turn into two greased 8½" by 4½" by 2½" foil loaf pans and bake about one hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Cool on rack in pans 10 minutes, then invert cakes on rack; remove pans and cool. Makes 2 loaves.

Satisfied Customer

Intelligent shopping for appliances pays off in lasting service and satisfaction. The trade group suggests you seek the advice of friends who are satisfied with their purchases. The best appliances are produced by established manufacturers who guarantee their products and reliable retailers who follow through on installation and servicing responsibilities. It's a good idea to ask for a demonstration of the appliances in the store and in your home at the time of installation. Be sure to ask questions if there is anything you do not understand.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

CONTROL OF EAR INFECTIONS —

By Irving L. Ochs M. D.
Ear, Nose, and Throat Surgeon
Johns Hopkins Hospital
Baltimore, Maryland

Discharges from the ears are not uncommon in babies. Sometimes a mother may find thick pus in the ears as a complication of a respiratory infection, which means that an infection of the middle ear has broken through the eardrum to the outside.

Only a few years ago, such infections were very serious. The disease would also invade the mastoid cavities, making mastoid operations the most common surgical procedure in pediatric hospitals.

Antibotics have changed the picture radically. The germs involved are readily controlled by modern drugs so that mastoid operations are now quite rare. The small opening in the eardrum, when it occurs, will heal naturally as the infection subsides.

There's another kind of infection of the ear that does not respond to antibotics given by mouth or by injection because of the resistant germs. It is confined to the outer ear canal.

The discharge in these ear canal infections is usually green and of foul odor and appears in such quantity that it will be quickly seen. While infections of this type can continue for months despite conventional treatment, they can now also be cleared up promptly, without damage to the health or hearing of the child.

Although the several kinds of organisms which infect the outer ear canal will often include some types that resist antibiotics, we have developed a treatment which has been very successful, and without adverse effect upon the baby. Acetic acid, the basic acid of vinegar, is the chief medicament employed with other ingredients added to assure good spreading and to prevent evaporation.

Laboratory tests have shown that the solution kills virtually all the germs that infect the ear canal within 30 seconds of contact; treatment is contained for three or four days to insure eradication. Now available to all physicians as a special solution, it is in wide use and there have been several reports of its effect and safety in leading medical journals.

The best advice about what to do about discharges from baby's ears that I can give to mothers is simply, call your doctor. He now has the drugs and techniques to clear up the problem in short order.

Drain canned oysters and add to creamed chicken; the oysters will add flavor and stretch the chicken in case there's an unexpected guest.

Freezer Pointers

When you stock the freezer compartment of your refrigerator - freezer, be sure to check the amount of food which can be frozen safely at one time.

According to freezer specialists, approximately 3 pounds of food per cubic foot of freezer capacity may be safely frozen at one time. For example, if your freezer compartment has a capacity of 6 cubic feet you can safely freeze about 18 lbs. of food at one time.

If you have more to freeze than the recommended quantity, divide food into proper proportions and keep part of it in the refrigerator until the other portion is frozen.

In freezing, place packages flat against the refrigerated surfaces of the freezing area. When packages are frozen solid they may be stacked and rearranged for efficient use of space.

Dishwasher Tips For China Items

For the finishing touch to your spring cleaning, put the sparkle back on your seldom - used china and crystal.

An automatic dishwasher is a special blessing for doing all those fragile glasses and large, hard-to-handle items such as punchbowls. Many - faceted cut-glass pieces will especially benefit from a trip to the automatic dishwasher.

There are only a few simple rules to remember in washing a large load of fine china and glassware in your dishwasher.

First, place bowls either in the corners or over the vertical multi-fingers. Be sure bowls are at an angle, facing down for proper drainage. Glasses may go anywhere in the upper rack. But never place them in the lower one.

Arrange the glasses firmly so that they are not in contact with each other, and cannot be dislodged. The entire rim of the glass should rest on the rack. Make certain all items clear the top of the tub. Pull the racks gently to prevent the glasses from tipping.

Know your china well before washing it. In most good china, the pattern is protected by an overglaze which prevents it from fading, even at very high temperatures. Exceptions that could prove risky for automatic washing are china pieces with decorations that have been applied after the protective glaze has been fired. These items can fade, with either hand or machine washing. The very hot water and detergent used in automatic dishwashers would hasten the fading.

Hand painted china and china with metal trim also are vulnerable to high water tempreatures and detergent solutions, and should be washed by hand in mild suds.

When you return your sparkling clean china to the storage shelves, cushion plates, saucers and bowls by placing paper towels between stacked items.

For lunch your youngsters might enjoy a puffy omelet with red currant jelly hidden in its fold. Good with plain bread and butter!

OMAR BURLESON A Quiet Man

Who Gets Things Done Receives Accolades From Washington

The President Of The United States Remembers A Birthday . . .

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
March 19, 1964

Dear Cong[illegible]

I have learned with pleasure that you are celebrating your birthday today. I hope that the day brings you joy and satisfaction, and that it will be one of many happy days for you in the coming year.

With my heartiest congratulations and warm good wishes,

Sincerely,

Honorable Omar Burleson
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Quiet • Methodical • Coolheaded . . .

OMAR BURLESON is far from the flamboyant type, but states his views in quietly methodical fashion that has gained him the respect of colleagues in Congress. His 1963 attendance and voting record was 100% and since 1947 his attendance and voting record is 98%.

OMAR BURLESON has always voted for the defense bills of this country; he voted for the income tax reduction bill; he introduced a bill to limit beef imports to this country; he introduced the first bill to limit oil imports, he introduced a bill for a COMPLETE embargo on trade to Cuba.

In his 18 years in Congress OMAR BURLESON has voted to reduce the federal budget from three to 13 BILLION each congressional term; as Chairman of the House Administration Committee he has consistently effected economy in committee spending (i. e. reducing Adam Clayton Powell's committee spending 50%); he has always voted against foreign aid since the late 1940s and recent reaction in Congress is proving him correct. He voted against the Civil Rights Bill because in its present form it limits the freedom of all Americans; he is for the constitutional guarantees regardless of status.

In 1961 the late President appointed him congressional delegate to the United Nations where he used knowledge gained as ranking member of the powerful Foreign Affairs Committee. He is also chairman of the Joint Committee on the Congressional Library and vice chairman on Printing.

Quiet, methodical and cool headed, he is widely known in Congress as a quiet man who gets things done.

The Honorable
Omar Burleson
U. S. Representative
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Omar

I can not let the opportunity pass without expressing to you my deep appreciation for your valuable assistance in the passage of the Tax Bill.

Your speech against the motion to recommit and for the Bill was most influencing on three-fourths of the Members who had reservations on certain aspects, and particularly concerning issues involved in the motion to recommit.

Incidentally, your leadership and actions on all measures before the House of Representatives are recognized and valued by all of us.

Again, I want to comment you and express my personal gratitude for your able efforts.

With warm personal regards, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Wilbur D. Mills

Honorable Omar Burleson, M. C.
U. S. House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Omar

As we near the end of the First Session of this 88th Congress, I want you to know that your loyalty and support is genuinely appreciated. As Chairman of the House Administration Committee, you have conducted the affairs of your Committee in a most efficient and admirable manner.

As you have heard me say on numerous occasions, there is room for differences of opinion within our great Democratic Party, but usually these differences are of method, rather than goals and objectives. On the former we seek to compromise in order to reach the fundamentals of the latter. You have been most cooperative with the Leadership in these efforts, and I want you to know that your services in the House of Representatives, with the powerful position you occupy as Chairman of a very important Committee, are highly valued, respected and appreciated. On a number of occasions, when I have sought your advice and counsel you have always effectively cooperated.

With kind personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
