Inquest Shows Vernon University Freshman Died After Taking Strychnine

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Dr. David Spence Hill, of Tulane university, former president of the university, will speak Sunday afternoon at the Municipal auditorium opening the Wichita Falls Open Forum. His subject is "Mankind and Freedom." Dr. Hill is noted psychologist and it is assumed his address will deal with the mind and its processes and especially the development that have contributed to the freedom of thought.

The Open Forum is new to Wichita Falls but the idea goes far back into the history of civilization. In recent years it has spread in this country and especially in Texas are there several notable Open Forums from which many problems have been fearlessly discussed.

The term "open" is advisedly used in this connection. This forum is open not only without charge to the public but is open in its discussion and a period is set aside following the lecture, for the free discussion of points that have been made in it.

It is the hope of those who have set up the Open Forum that the public will use it to the greatest extent possible. Out of town visitors are especially invited. The program starts at 3 p. m. and Dr. Hill will begin his lecture at 3:30. The lecture will be followed by a discussion in which the audience will be asked to participate.

A letter from a reader at Burkburnett who is evidently out of work asks that whatever employment is provided by public works or by Better Business movements be divided as far as possible among those who are unemployed. We believe that policy is being followed in public work so far as possible, and in the odd jobs work that has been provided in Wichita Falls it is being divided around as much as it can be. Nearly three hundred men have been given work for longer or shorter periods. These are other hundreds for whom no work has yet been found.

When anybody tries to do anything there are always those who carp and criticize and impugn motives. The latest we have heard is that a fee is charged those registering for work at the chamber of commerce and another is that a wage scale of one dollar a day has been set. Of course no fee is charged and no attempt is made to establish a wage scale of $1, $10 or any other amount.

We have heard of instances where members of some labor unions who are secure in employment through advanced priority, have shared their jobs with their less fortunate fellows by laying off for shorter or longer periods and letting the other fellow get some work. That is a mighty fine spirit. Now is the time for all of us to stick together with the best of our cooperation.

"Human progress marches only when children excel their parents," President Hoover tells the White House conference on child health and protection. This universal desire of parents to see their children further advanced than themselves is one of the great motivating forces of civilization. Without it, it is easy to believe that civilization would soon dissolve into chaos.

A parent spoke as a parent himself in language that all parents can understand when he said: "Children are the most wholesome part of the race—the sweetest—for they are fresher from the hands of God. Whimsical, ingenious, mischievous, we live a life of apprehension as to what their opinions may be of us; a life of defense against their terrifying energy; we put them to bed with a sense of relief and lingering of devotion. We envy them the freshness of adventure and discovery of life; we mourn over the disappointments they will meet."

It is the children who keep this world of ours alive. Without them and the contagious enthusiasm of youth we would sour and wither and die.

Table manners and the average American have yet to establish even a speaking acquaintance with each other, declares Norman Hosfield, a waiter who has catered to the gastronomic whims of restaurant habitues for over 20 years.

Mr. Hosfield, quoted by Sidney Sutherland in an article in this week's Liberty magazine, says: "The average American is the worst-mannered eater in the world. He hides back of the feeble alibi that he is in a hurry, kidding himself with the silly idea that he is so important to the world's business that his presence is required somewhere else.

"Relaxation, poise, manners taste in food—these are foreign to most of my countrymen. Most important of all our daily activities, eating is deemed the least. We don't know how to order, how to eat food when it is placed before us, or how to be affable toward the waiter.

"The French, and most Latins, know food and how to eat it. The Germans gobble like wild animals; but even they are not so porcine as Mr. Average Yankee. The Englishman is the only man who can and will order and eat a meal properly."

EMPTIED BOX GIVES CLUE TO FATAL POTION

Officials Probe Cause Of Student's Sudden Death

BOY DESPONDENT

Officials Uncertain as To Whether Dose Was Accidental

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—An official verdict of death by self-inflicted poison was returned here tonight by Justice of the Peace Bryan Blalock in the death early today of Carroll Guggisberg, 17, of Vernon, freshman at the University of Texas. Guggisberg was found in a dying condition in his room at a fraternity house and died on the way to a hospital.

Justice Blalock said he had not concluded whether Guggisberg had taken the poison voluntarily or accidentally. An inquest was completed Friday night.

An empty box, said by Justice Blalock to have contained strychnine was found in Guggisberg's bed. The youth's fraternity told Justice Blalock Guggisberg had been worrying over financial affairs and that he had appeared despondent last night.

He was reported to have said to Lamba Chi Alpha brothers "he would rather die than phone his grandfather for money." He later told them he had talked to his grandfather and that he had promised to wire him some money.

The youth's death also was being investigated by University of Texas officials.

Army Air Trophy Scheduled Today

FORT CROCKETT, GALVESTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The last motor was checked over and the 19 men who will pilot ships tomorrow in the third annual Gen. Madison D. Patrick army trophy speed air race tomorrow afternoon were ready late today.

The planes, the A-38 armed type, made 140 miles an hour today in speed tests, according to word from the airdrome.

A number of pilots, members of the third attack group stationed here, went over their machines with shellac this afternoon, hoping to cut down wind resistance, but they were not allowed to "stream line" their craft by removing parts ordinarily carried.

$1,000,000 Liquor Haul Made by U. S. Agents

BOSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Liquor valued at a million dollars was in the hands of government agents today. This estimate of the value of cargoes of two liquor laden barges was given at the office of Capt. William Munter, eastern division commander of the coast guard.

The barges, the Edith and the Eagle Hill, and the ocean-going tug, Murrell of New York, were captured by the coast guard patrol boat, Jackson, off the Maine coast Wednesday and brought to Boston last night. Nineteen men, crews of the tug and barges, were taken into custody of customs officials.

Mother and Baby Burned When Gasoline Exploded

EL PASO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Luz Fuentes, 17, was burned seriously and her 1-year-old baby was slightly burned, at their home on the Lee Moor ranch, 40 miles east of El Paso, today. A can of gasoline exploded while Mrs. Fuentes was attempting to start a fire in the cook stove.

HUNTER SLAIN

ROLLA, Mo., Nov. 21. (UP)—Edward Fitschen, St. Louis, was shot and killed accidentally near here today while hunting quail. The gun of Fitschen's companion was shot accidentally, striking the hunter in the right side.

Alliance Between Trust And Insurance Companies Stressed By Bank Heads

Various interesting and technical phases of the trust business were analyzed through discussion, addresses and the reading of papers during the first day session of the trust section of the Texas Bankers association which opened here Friday, with trust, bank and insurance delegates attending from all over the state. Approximately 100 had registered at the close of the afternoon program.

The necessity for trust and life insurance men to ally themselves to open and develop a mutual and closely related business in trust fields was pointed out by R. B. Cousins, president of the San Jacinto Life Insurance company, Beaumont, and president of the Texas Life convention, who spoke on "Questions and Answers on Business Insurance Trusts."

Walsh Stresses Confidence

In speaking on the subject "Trust Functions as Governer by the Federal Reserve Act," Col. C. C. Walsh, federal reserve agent and chairman of the board, federal reserve bank, Dallas, based the growth and development of the modern trust powers and fiduciary relations upon honesty, confidence and trust. Colonel Walsh traced the fiduciary relations from ancient times to the present, describing the development of the trust company in America, the vesting of trust functions to bankers with the federal reserve act and later enlargements of the fiduciary capacities.

"J. P. Morgan, the great financier and banker," Colonel Walsh said, "is reputed to have stated on one occasion that 90 per cent of the business transactions of modern times is predicated on the basis of honesty, trust and confidence, and that he would much rather loan a man in whom he could place implicit confidence a million dollars, without other security, than to loan many another man of his acquaintance who offered acceptable security for like amount, but about whom he entertained reasonable doubts as to his honesty and integrity.

"A rascal will trust an honest man, but he will not trust a rascal like himself. Neither will an honest man trust him.

"The advantages of fair play, or dealing on the 'square' is one of the most striking features in the business world—sometimes most striking for its absence. Implicit confidence and trust is the first rule to be observed in playing the business game. Upon these statements may be based the 'Law and the Prophets,' as it were, of the growth and development of the modern trust powers and fiduciary relations."

Mr. Cousins in urging the necessity for a close cooperation of trust and life insurance men described a hypothetical case where a three-partner firm was wrecked for want of trust protection through the unexpected death of one of the associates. Numerous instances of the kind are constantly occurring, Mr. Cousins stated, and loss to the members of these firms can be averted through a joint life policy in connection with a trust arrangement.

Few "Buy" Insurance

"Various means have been employed to sell the public life insurance," Mr. Cousins said, "including advertising. But it is done only by personal contact and conflict with the individual. Although a man will admit the value of life insurance and that he is not carrying enough life insurance, he will not buy. He has to be sold. My

WAGGONER WILL SUIT SETTLED

Plaintiffs Ask Dismissal Of Contest

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 21.—The case of Leora Wharton of Los Angeles against W. T. Waggoner and others has been settled out of court and will not be tried as scheduled in the 46th district court Monday, attorneys announced here today.

Plaintiffs' attorneys have filed motions denying the principal allegations in the original petition, and asking that the case be dismissed. The case was appealed to the district court after a verdict sustaining the defense position was returned by Judge J. V. Townsend in Wilbarger county court.

The case contested the will of the late Mrs. Electra Waggoner Gilmore, by which Leora Wharton failed to benefit. The original petition alleged Mrs. Gilmore was not of sound mind and undue influence was used at the time the will was drafted.

Dallas Broker Draws Two-Year Sentence

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Howard L. Allen, stock broker, was convicted of theft by diversion and given two years in the penitentiary by a jury in district court today.

Miss Lillian Dill, Fort Worth school teacher, was the complaining witness. She alleged Allen converted 70 shares of stock valued at $1,850 after he had, through an agent, obtained it for the purpose of placing the securities in a bank as collateral for a loan with which to purchase other stock.

Russell Surrenders Under Larceny Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (INS)—Frederick C. Russell, secretary to Charles V. Bob, and indicted with him for grand larceny, surrendered today at the district attorney's office. Russell disappeared with Bob on Oct. 7. Bob, his brother, Beverly Bob and Louis P. Jubien, also indicted, surrendered last Wednesday.

McAlester Man Brings Charges Against Brother

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21. (AP)—Edward Kilpatrick was held in custody here today by a private detective on a Kansas City police warrant charging embezzlement of $65,000 entrusted with him by his brother, Dr. George A. Kilpatrick of McAlester, Okla.

DO-X Abandons Winter Transatlantic Flight

30 Die as Quake Rocks Albanian Village

VIENNA, Nov. 21. (AP)—A government dispatch from Tirana reported that a violent earthquake had caused 30 deaths in the Albanian village of Telgac, District of Valona.

The dispatch added that great numbers were injured in the collapse of numerous houses, with heavy material losses.

The entire population was made homeless.

5,000 Workers to Get Jobs in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 21. (UP)—Approximately 5,000 workers will be added to pay rolls here during the winter months as a result of the immediate construction of a 21-story building to cost $5,000,000, and increased schedule of General Motors unit here.

Work for 1,000 men will be opened when construction starts on the St. Louis mart building.

TACKETT GIVEN 18 MONTHS IN FEDERAL PEN

Oil Operator Sentenced To Prison on Charge Of Mail Fraud

OTHERS HEAR TERMS

Two Former Dry Agents Make Bonds on Charge Of Conspiracy

Eighteen months' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., was imposed upon Benjamin T. Tackett, oil operator, Friday afternoon by Judge William H. Atwell in federal court here, following conviction Tuesday on a charge of having used the mails to defraud in connection with the affairs of a bankrupt oil company here in 1926.

Tackett's penalty was the heaviest meted out by Judge Atwell at 4:30 p. m. Friday, when 11 persons convicted earlier in the week of more serious offenses against the United States government were brought before the court for pronouncement of sentence.

After having sentenced all of the group, Judge Atwell addressed them briefly, avowedly in the interest of their determination never to subject themselves in the future to prosecution for violation of the law.

Atwell Advises Prisoners

"I adjure you to endeavor, while you pay the penalty for these past mistakes," Judge Atwell said, "to obtain the viewpoint of law and order. So see how necessary it is that we adhere to the established practices of law and order. We see only our own viewpoints, too often, and that brings us to grief. We like to consider ourselves virtuous, and wish to appear in that light in the eyes of our friends and neighbors.

"In order to continue to be true to that appearence, we should see to it that we give as little trouble to our neighbors, to our people, to our country, to our government and its officers, as we possibly can.

"I hope sincerely that you may find peace in paying, and when you are through, come back where you went astray, show the people that you are really through, really sorry, and they will take you back again without any further trouble."

The trial of Tackett was the longest and most closely contested of those thus far heard by Judge Atwell in the November term of court. It was continued from last spring on account of the defendant's illness. Charges against him were based upon alleged misrepresentations of facts in letters alleged to have been circulated by him through the mails in an effort to obtain cash from stockholders of the oil company with which he had been connected, and whose affairs at the time were in the hands of a receiver.

New Braunfels Wins Collectors Meeting

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 21. (UP)—Oscar Wood, of Gregg county, was elected president of the Tax Collectors association at the annual convention of the organization late today. New Braunfels won the 1931 meeting over Wichita Falls.

Other officers elected were: B. J. Leyendecker, Webb county, first vice president; Ira C. Turner, Fannin county, second vice president; Albert Turner, Jasper county, third vice president; Ed Cobb, Dallas county, fourth vice president; A. L. Leonard, Jefferson county, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Hal L. Brennan, state commander of the American Legion, spoke on principles of the Legion, today. A banquet was held tonight at the Bohemian club at Nuevo Laredo. Delegates will go to Monterrey Saturday morning for entertainment.

Missouri Pacific Withdraws Stock Plea

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today permitted the Missouri Pacific railroad to withdraw its application for permission to issue $38,000,000 in new common stock.

Counsel for the railroad said a new financing arrangement might be considered in the future but was not practicable at present.

Season's First Freeze Recorded at Memphis

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 21.—The first ice of this winter appeared in Memphis Friday morning, measuring about a sixteenth to an eighth of an inch. The freeze will help the bollies to open faster, thus aiding the farmers in getting their crops out earlier.

Texas Oil Operators Map Campaign To Forestall New Collapse In Prices

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—Fighting to stave off what was termed an imminent collapse of the price structure in the oil industry, leaders of the Texas industry met here today to discuss means of bolstering the economic structure until the upward reaction comes.

Because the question of price may not enter into hearings before the Texas railroad commission, the oil men met today prior to the proration hearing before the committee tomorrow when a new curtailment schedule will be fixed.

Developments of the meeting were:

The finding that withdrawals and decreases had cut nominations of purchasing companies from 718,000 to about 680,000 barrels in the past few days.

Enforcement Voted

A decision to recommend to the state railroad commission adoption of rules, first, to enforce to the letter the common purchaser act; second to place all new wells in Texas on a maximum production of 50 barrels a day for 90 days from the date of the well's completion. Offsets to wells now in production would be the only ones expected, and these would take their place in the regular proration scheme.

There was doubt whether either of these rules could be enforced under the present Texas laws. Less than half the hundred operators present voted for enforcement of the common purchaser act, the others acquiesing by silence when the vote was taken; and several doubted whether any blanket restriction could be placed on new wells.

The collapse in the price structure, according to Robert R. O. Penn, chairman of the central proration committee, was due to "distress" oil being unloaded in the Panhandle, North Texas and West Central Texas fields, where the operators seemed unable to agree upon ratable takings, causing some operators to sell their oil to the highest bidder.

Industry Upset

This oil was being taken principally by Wichita Falls refineries, which in turn sold the gasoline processed on the spot gasoline market. Since the spot gasoline market is extremely susceptible to all price changes, the low priced gasoline has threatened to upset the entire industry.

Several operators pointed out that the distress sales had not helped solve over production problems; that the price of oil threatened to sink below the cost of production; and that all that could result from the sale of distress gasoline or oil was an endless circle.

Penn announced that Prairie Oil and Gas company, which withdrew as a purchaser from the Panhandle yesterday, taking away a 9,000-barrel market from independents, also was withdrawing from all other Texas fields. He said that while this had not been officially announced, officials of the company had informed the proration committee that the withdrawal was imminent and "not to count on us" in making up the nominations. Prairie had had its markets at the other end of the line taken away from them, he said, and was forced to withdraw.

New Cut Necessary

"This was a blow below the belt," Penn declared, "to the plans of the proration committee." He pointed out, however, that it emphasized one thing—storage was a thing of the past in the oil industry, and hereafter production must be kept equal to or below the demand. Prairie was estimated to have somewhere near 60,000,000 barrels in storage, more than any other American purchaser.

Even while the oil men discussed their problems, it was found necessary to cut the estimated nominations. As finally revised, subject to revision overnight, the nominations were:

Panhandle 64,616; North Texas 49,695; north Young county 6,250; West Central 24,742; West Texas 251,377; East Central 38,355; southwest Texas 84,503; gulf coast 160,000. Making a total production of approximately 680,000, this was compared to 750,000 allowed for the last 90-day proration period, and 780,000 actual production for that period—in other words, an actual reduction of 100,000 barrels daily in the Texas output.

The comparatively small amount of 19,000 barrels of oil daily was

Grand Champion Steer Brings $1,200 At Public Auction

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—The grand champion steer of the American Royal Livestock show here, Edgar Quality, owned by W. E. Scripps of Orion, Mich., was sold at auction today for $1.50 a pound. The animal, purchased by a meat company, weighs 800 pounds.

FORTY TRAPPED BY BLIZZARDS

Snow Storms Blanket Wide Areas in Midwest

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 21. (AP)—Forty persons, many of them women and children, were marooned tonight in a small cabin five miles from Mandan, N. D., unable to leave because of the sleet and snowstorm that swept the Northwest and stalled their 15 automobiles. It was learned they had been marooned two days.

DENVER, Nov. 21. (UP)—Three men and a boy were missing tonight, probable victims of a blizzard which swept down from the North with disastrous results.

While searchers battled mountainous drifts in quest of the four, the storm veered northeastward from Colorado and New Mexico where two deaths from freezing were reported in addition to the cases of those missing.

The frozen body of Howard Rhodes, 50, bachelor rancher living near King's reservoir in the Arkansas valley, was found today beside a snow-obscured road, nine miles northeast of Lamar. His saddle horse was found dead in a ditch a mile away.

Dies in Drift

The other known death was that of Guy Miner, 50, of Des Moines, N. M., who died in a snowdrift attempting to reach Mount Dora, N. M., from his stalled automobile to get aid for J. W. Whitehead, 80-year-old companion. Highway workers reached Whitehead hours later

Blazing Oil Well Defies Efforts of Fire Fighters

KERRVILLE, Texas, Nov. 21. (UP)—Workmen battled a blazing 3,000-barrel oil well, 45 miles west of here tonight. The well has been afire since Thursday and has defied efforts of employes to extinguish it. The derrick and drilling equipment have been destroyed but officials said there was little danger of the blaze spreading.

Special Narcotic Squad Formed for Pacific

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—A special squad of expert narcotic agents has been organized to combat smuggling on the Pacific coast.

The customs bureau, announcing the plan today, said the squad is headed by Melvin L. Hanks, crack agent who carried on the successful Lau Lee opium case in Honolulu.

Negro Bandit Sought In Oklahoma Shooting

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21. (UP)—Police searched for a negro today who shot two men in his attempt to rob a drug store. F. E. Clemens was seriously wounded and Rex Renner was recovering from a scalp wound inflicted by the bandit.

UNMASKED PAIR GETS $200 IN TWO ROBBERIES

Young Gunmen Line Up Workers and Patrons To Loot Till

'KID' SHOWS FIGHT

Trembling Youngster Holds Group at Bay as Pal Takes Money

Two drug store holdups within 10 minutes and within a few blocks of each other netted hijackers between $175 and $200 when the Brook and Eighth Street Drug store, 716 Brook street, and Truly's Pharmacy, 1601 Eleventh street, were robbed about 8:30 o'clock Friday night by two young unmasked bandits.

The hijackers appeared at the Brook and Eighth Street Drug store and while one of the youths lined up six or seven customers in the store at the time behind the soda fountain at the point of a gun and robbing a cash register in the front of the store, the second hijacker levelled a gun at S. G. Denny, proprietor, and forced him to the rear of the store where he was commanded to open a second cash register.

Customer Covered

A customer who was near the cash register at the rear of the store was covered with a second gun. Both cash registers netted an amount estimated at $55.

The two hijackers were described as wearing overalls, one with a blue jumper coat and the other with a lumberjack.

At Truly's Pharmacy the bandits worked with the precision of professionals although one of them, said to be not more than 18 years old, displayed extreme nervousness.

The pair entered the front door, one of them stopping near the door and covering Allen Anderson, clerk, with his pistol, at the same time keeping Maud Deal, soda clerk, in sight. The younger of the bandits walked to the prescription room and covered J. J. White Jr., clerk, and several customers who were in that department.

Loots Cash Drawer

The man at the front of the store ordered Mr. Anderson to open the cash register. The clerk said "there it is, open it yourself," but the bandit cocked his pistol and threatened to "drill" Anderson if the command was not obeyed. Anderson opened the register and he and Miss Deal were ordered into a corner near the door. The hijacker then looted the cash drawer of the day's receipts.

In the meantime, the man who had gone to the rear of the store had threatened to shoot Mr. White when he spoke to the robber.

"His whole body trembled and he could hardly speak," Mr. White reported after the raid.

At a signal the bandit at the cash register started out the door and the man at the back ordered those he held at bay to march out the rear door. He then started to the front and both walked out. Just as they reached the door a woman entered and Miss Deal motioned to her to pass on but the older bandit pointed his gun at the employe and ordered her to be quiet.

The pair then dashed down an alley and were out of sight within 20 seconds, according to those who gave chase. H. G. Truly, proprietor of the store, was ill at his home, 1811 Ardath, at the time of the robbery.

Ramsay MacDonald Renews England's Promise of Home Rule in India

LONDON, Nov. 21. (AP)—Ramsay MacDonald, in words which rang with hope for India's restless millions, today ended the five-day debate which has set the momentous Indian round table conference in motion.

Welcoming the almost unanimous opinion of India's spokesmen that the federal system of government is their country's goal, the prime minister once more pledged Britain to the principle of responsible self government in India as in other units of the British commonwealth.

The great question during the coming weeks now is how—and more important to the Indian delegates—when that goal is to be achieved.

There was an atmosphere of tense expectancy in St. James' palace when MacDonald rose to speak and in the Indian delegates hesitation even to applaud lest they miss one of his words. He told them Britain never would reach on any of her pledges and he referred specifically to the Chelmsford delegation of 1917 pledging the development of self government institutions in India.

Hearers Applaud

Hardly had he begun before he used a phrase which Americans who heard him in the United States last year will remember.

"Ah, my friends," said he, "do remember this, that the first thing you have to do regarding this conference is to assure yourselves that we have reached a milestone which indicates a different future from what the past has been."

The great circle of Indian delegates broke into applause.

Extremist Indian nationalists were frankly disappointed with what followed, for it proved to be

TACKETT GIVEN PRISON TERM

18 Months Sentence Assessed by Atwell

this week, intimated before the court Friday afternoon that an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals at New Orleans may be taken. Decision on that matter will be made Saturday, Mr. Sartin said.

Among those sentenced Friday afternoon was I. H. Steed, who operates a grocery and meat market at 100 Lake street, on a charge of conspiracy and receiving and concealing stolen property. Penalty was fixed at 13 months in the penitentiary at Leavenworth. Convicted of theft, transportation, concealing, conspiracy, and sale of stolen goods in the same case which resulted in the indictment against Steed, Forest Lawson received a sentence identical with that given Steed.

Trial of the case from which those two convictions resulted consumed most of Thursday. G. D. Steed, and J. D. (Buck) Steed, sons of I. H. Steed, and Drannen Lawson, brother of Forest, also being defendants. Returning Friday morning, the jury acquitted Steed's two sons, and Drannen Lawsen, winning by their action the court's commendation for "discriminating judgment and thoughtful verdict." Theft of two cases of cigarets from a box car in the local railroad yards, and their subsequent sale to Steed at his store, were alleged by the government. The three defendants who were acquitted had been accused of aiding in the deal.

George C. Shankle, formerly an employe in the local postoffice, was fined $500 and sentenced to serve a term of 90 days in jail here following his plea of guilty this week to a charge of having used canceled stamps while engaged in the postal service. Intervention of prominent local business men with recommendations, the court intimated, were instrumental in preventing the imposition of a heavier sentence.

Farm Solicitor Convicted

T. M. Henderson, said to reside near Quanah, whose trial was held Friday, was sentenced to one year and a day in the Leavenworth penitentiary counting from Nov. 1, 1930, after a jury had found him guilty of impersonating a federal agent. According to the evidence submitted by the prosecution Friday, Henderson called upon numerous farmers in Wichita, Wilbarger and Hardeman counties, purporting to represent the United States government and to be engaged in organizing local clubs for the purpose of providing member farmers with government aid in the matter of cotton prices, veterinary service for livestock, etc. Receipts issued by the defendant following payment of small fees by those approached, it was charged, proved to provide only subscription to an agricultural magazine. The defendant admitted while being questioned by Miss Sarah Menezes, assistant federal district attorney that he had altered his name for the purpose of making the canvass referred to, and that he was convicted of a felony four years ago.

Griffiths James Goheen, who pleaded guilty during the week to having brought a stolen automobile from California to this state, was sentenced to serve one year and one day in the penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Earl J. Shadducks, his case transferred from the Dallas district this week in order that he might enter a plea of guilty before Judge Atwell, was sentenced to one year and one day in the prison at Leavenworth. He was convicted of theft from an interstate shipment of freight last winter.

Furnie M. Johnson, convicted of possession and sale of liquor, was given a term of one year and one day in the Leavenworth penitentiary. Oscar Ward, negro, convicted on a charge of theft of suitcases from the local railway station while they were en route as interstate express shipments, was given a similar sentence.

Former Officers Indicted

Lesser penalties were imposed upon six others sentenced by the court Friday. Tom Cossey, on a liquor charge, was fined $125 and sentenced to 35 days in jail. Ernest Brown, charged with possession and sale of liquor, was given a 90-day jail term. Mattie Jackson, convicted for the third time on a liquor charge, was given a 90-day jail sentence. John H. Lewis was fined $150, while Jim Frazier and John Mangrum as co-defendants under the same liquor indictment, were sentenced to 75 days each in jail.

New indictments were returned Thursday by the federal grand jury. It was revealed Friday, charging Jont Tyson and W. R. Logsdon, former federal prohibition agents, with conspiracy to defeat the due administration of justice. The two defendants were arraigned before Judge Atwell Friday morning, already under $5,000 bond each on charges of bribery returned in indictments by the Amarillo district federal grand jury several weeks ago. The bribery and conspiracy indictments were consolidated by Judge Atwell at the request of the government's attorney, and trial was set for next Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 10 a. m. The court set an additional bond of $1,500 for each defendant under the new indictment.

Because of the inability of Judge James Wilson of Fort Worth, a material witness in the case, to be present this week, the trial was continued from Friday to next Tuesday.

Jerome Hoepfner, whose bond in a liquor case was forfeited Thursday, appeared in court Friday morning with a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and serve 60 days in jail. The bond forfeiture was set aside.

Carrie Carroll received a jail term of 30 days following a plea of guilty to a charge of sale and possession of beer.

Court dismissed at 5:30 p. m. Friday to convene at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Nitro Shot Snuffs Out Fire in Graham Well

A shot of 20 quarts of nitroglycerin was sufficient to extinguish a blazing gas well on the Kissinger property, 12 miles south of Graham Thursday, T. W. Mendenhall, general manager of the Morrisey Torpedo company, who supervised the operation, reported here Thursday night. The well had been burning several days. Cause of the fire was not known by the well owners.

Commerce Expert Fails to Discover 'Depression' in Wichita Falls Area

"I fail to see your depression here," Sherwood H. Avery of Dallas, manager of the Southwest division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States department of commerce, declared Friday noon when he gave the principal address at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Junior chamber of commerce.

"I rather believe that you are experiencing a period of readjustment, instead."

Mr. Avery stated that he had recently been through most of North Texas and the Panhandle and had noted that conditions were not as serious as reported.

Expert trade reports from industries throughout the country, Mr. Avery declared, failed to indicate a depression, and revealed that a larger business was being done this year than last.

The luncheon Friday, it was announced, is the last to be presided over by the present administration. The next meeting will be the annual banquet and election of officers on Dec. 9 at the Woman's Forum.

The meeting Friday was in honor of wives and sweethearts, and was designated "ladies' day." Mrs. Overton Abernathy took charge of the program during the introduction of the honor guests.

John Boswell, manager of the senior chamber of commerce reported on the success of the Better Business campaign.

company is located on the ground floor of a 15-story office building in the heart of Beaumont where every person in the county passes at least once a week. Only two people in the past year have entered our office to ask to buy insurance. Incidentally, we had to turn down these two for some reason or other."

A trust department is of importance to the bank indirectly because it increases the business of the other departments and directly because it produces profits for the bank independent of other departments, and the profits are greater in proportion to the trust department's expenditures than are the profits of the bank as a whole to its total expenditures, Arthur H. Muir, assistant trust officer, First National bank, San Antonio, said in speaking on "Importance of Trust Department to the Bank."

J. Bruce Duncan, vice president and trust officer, First Trust and Savings bank, Waco, described the transaction from the safe deposit box to the living trust by business men, brought about by education. Mr. Duncan enumerated several reasons why the business man today accepts the living trust, which has all the simplicity of a will in the changing of beneficiaries.

During the morning session salesmanship was described as being the essential in the new era of banking and trust business.

Wichitan Speaks

Selling the trust idea to bank officials was discussed by W. U. McCutchen of the First National bank of Wichita Falls and a discussion of selling it to the public was made by Sam W. Fulton of the Mercantile Bank and Trust company of Dallas.

Old habits of never soliciting business were described as being out of date and dangerous to the welfare of any organization. Emerson's mouse trap theory does not hold to modern business methods, Mr. Fulton said.

"A trust business is started like any other," the Dallas trust man declared. "The prerequisites to the successful development of any business are adequate capital, skilled management and promotion through advertising to command attention, interest, desire and action."

Mr. McCutchen declared that selling the trust idea to the directors of one's own bank is the first big hill to be climbed. It was learned through inquiry that no bank represented at the session could say that all its directors placed business with the trust department. "It is necessary for us to educate and inform our directors on trust ideas until they are literally saturated and imbued with the idea, Mr. McCutchen said. "Not until then may we expect our department to make the progress that it should."

John Q. McAdams of Winters, president of the Texas Bankers association, greeted the trust officials in the opening address and quoted figures pertaining to trust departments.

"There are today approximately 3,500 qualified trust departments of banks in this country as against only 14 in 1870," he said, stating that most had been established since 1915, and that today more than 20,000 officers and employes are devoting their full time to trust work. Fully 45,000 Americans during the past year chose a corporate executor or trustee.

Saving taxation through trusts was discussed by T. W. Lain, of the Hutchings-Sealy National bank of Galveston, who urged that a customer should be sold on the idea that a trust fund can be operated at a profit.

Entertainment Provided

M. E. Pitts, assistant trust officer of the State National bank of Houston, addressed the gathering on the training of young trust officers, including as sources of training courses in trust departments, various trust services, meetings of trust sections such as the meeting being held here, and the American Institute of Banking.

Registrations continued to come in during the afternoon and before the close of the two-day meet, it was expected the 97 already registered would swell to considerably more than 100.

Entertainment for the visiting bankers has been provided for by a committee of local bankers, with W. U. McCutchen in charge of general arrangements.

A luncheon was held for the delegates at the Kemp hotel at noon and a banquet at the Wichita club Friday night. Following the banquet, the bankers attended the Junior chamber of commerce fall dance at the Wichita club.

Saturday's entertainment is to consist of golf and auto trips over the city.

BANKERS HONORED AT JUNIOR C.-C. DANCE

Approximately 500 persons were in attendance at the Junior chamber of commerce dance at the Wichita club Friday evening when Ligon Smith's orchestra of Fort Worth furnished the music. The dance was declared to be the best of the year by Jerry Vinson, president of the organization. Members of the trust section of the Texas Bankers association were guests of honor.

and took him to a hospital suffering severely from exposure.

Those missing included P. H. Strong, 35, rural mail carrier, who lost his way in the blinding blizzard near Lamar.

In the black forest region northeast of Colorado Springs, search was made for John Evans, 80, prominent rancher, lost since late Wednesday when he went out into the storm on his ranch to attend his cattle. All trails in the region were covered with snow. The search was made with difficulty.

School Boy Lost

Also missing was James Tilford, 36, of Denver, last seen 15 miles from Raton, N. M., where he became separated from companions on a deer hunting expedition.

Drifts hampered search for a 13-year-old Japanese school boy, who failed to reach his home after leaving a rural school near La Junta Wednesday afternoon. A check of homes on the boy's route established he had not taken shelter at any of them.

WESTERN PLAINS UNDER BLANKET

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (UP)—One of the most severe November blizzards in history deluged the western plains tonight with snow.

Gales piled it in drifts 20 feet deep in some places and still the snow swirled down in veritable sheets over Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa, Minnesota, and central Canada.

BLIZZARDS COME TO MID-WEST

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (UP)—Freezing temperatures, accompanied by cold northern winds, came to the whole Southwest tonight to add suffering to the 1,000 persons already homeless because of cyclonic storms which struck Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

Rites Set For M. E. Morgan

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Nov. 21.—Funeral services for Marvin E. Morgan, 41, leading Iowa Park business man, will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the First Baptist church. Rev. G. N. Neafus, assisted by all the other ministers of the city will officiate.

Mr. Morgan, head of the Morgan Oil company, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Friday morning after a prolonged illness. He was the son of the late Rev. J. W. Morgan, pioneer Iowa Park minister. The family has been identified with the development of the city and section since its residence here, dating back to 1892. Mr. Morgan was a member of Wichita Falls commandery No. 59, Knights Templar. Masons will conduct services at the cemetery Saturday. Pallbearers include: John Cunningham, R. A. Dahl, C. M. Dodson, R. R. Brubaker, A. C. Golden, and Tom Corridon.

Mr. Morgan is survived by his widow and a daughter, Thelma; a brother, Rev. F. A. R. Morgan, who is in Iowa Park on leave from missionary work in Brazil, and five sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Wright of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Lula Beasley of Frederick, Okla.; Mrs. Christine Mahany of Electra; Mrs. George McCarty of Electra, and Mrs Eleanor Wheat of San Angelo.

INDIAN HOME RULE PLEDGED

MacDonald Says Federation Must 'Evolve'

largely a summary of views which already have been presented.

"The constitution, or federation, or whatever form the future Indian government may take," said he, "must meet two fundamental requirements—it must work, and it must evolve. You are not in a position to create a static constitution, as it evolves Indian opinion and Indian experience must be more than initiating power. But I give you this word of comfort—the case you have presented has not fallen upon deaf ears."

Tasks Outlined

Then he outlined the tasks which remain before the conference committees:

1.—To determine the nature of the component parts which are to be fitted into a scheme of federation.

2.—The nature of the central coordinating structure.

3.—Relations of the central structure to the provinces.

4.—Relations of the central structure to the Indian states.

5.—Provisions to secure the willing co-operation of the minorities.

6.—The subjects with which the central structure will deal and, in general, its powers, functions and responsibilities.

Plea Unanimous

A federal relations committee, charged with determining these six issues and with evolving some sort of federal constitution for India, consists of 32 members, representatives of all interests concerned.

It probably will be weeks before the Indians will voice their views again as they have done in this plenary session just ended.

Just before MacDonald spoke today, the last of 32 speakers in the plenary session, the Aga Khan, head of India's moslems, summed up the case for his country and declared the one point on nuanimity among all creeds and castes was on the plea for a full measure of self government.

Mother in Hospital After Taking Poison

After taking a potash poison, a young woman was carried to the Wichita General hospital in a critical condition early Friday night from an address on Scott avenue.

The woman had been residing in a small house at the rear of the address with her 3-year-old child and another young woman, it was said. A Hines mortuary ambulance carried the woman to the hospital.

Train Hits Victim Left Unconscious on Tracks

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (UP)—Slugged and left lying on the railroad tracks near here, A. W. Garcia was struck by a locomotive and dragged 50 feet, but will recover. Garcia said that robbers left him lying in the path of a train. He was taken to a hospital suffering from a fractured skull but physicians said he would live.

'Baering' Down On The News

With ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Getting so you don't recognize prominent men unless they have their pictures taken with their lawyers.

This is result of reform within the party.

It's not a popular game. But everybody's playing it.

It's taught us one thing.

Politicians are all fat. While reformers are anemic.

AND REFORMERS ARE ONLY REFORMERS UNTIL THEY CAN AFFORD THEIR OWN LAWYERS.

How long does reform last? How long does it take a washed hog to return to the wallow?

Trouble with present reform is that it's lumpy.

said to be the factor which threatened to "tip over the applecart." This was the estimated amount of "bootleg" oil thrown on the market which already had beat down the price of gasoline from 5½ cents to 4½ and 4½ cents per gallon, carloads at the refinery. The distress oil was said to have originated in the shallow pools of the Newcastle area, when most of the market outlet for the district was withdrawn.

"We're below the cost of production now," one Wichita Falls refiner said.

Companies Named

Gulf and Magnolia were named as pipe line companies which had failed to cooperate with operators in obtaining ratable takings among operators in the district. Pipe line operators, on the other hand, blamed the operators for indiscriminate drilling and for their disinclination to accept the fact that companies would not buy any more than the market demanded.

The railroad commission will be asked to invite pipe line operators to a conference to determine whether the matter can be ironed out, Chairman Penn promised the meeting that if they would cooperate until next April 1, the upward climb would surely start—"or if it doesn't by then, I don't know what we're going to do."

A vote of confidence was given Penn for his work with the committee during the last year, after he had digressed momentarily to publicly challenge what he said was reports that he was influenced or controlled by some of the larger oil companies.

Kidnapd Texan Robbed And Left Tied to Post

PLANO, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Kidnaped by two men who forced him to drive them to a point six miles northwest of McKinney, Decker Jackson, employe of the Plano National bank, today told officers he had been tied to a post after which his abductors drove his automobile away. He was picked up on a main street last night about 7:30 o'clock and held captive four hours.

Jackson said the men told him they would leave his car in Denison. They made him exchange his clothes for a pair of overalls and a jumper and en route to the post where they tied him they forced Jackson to cash a check for $10, which they added to the change they took from his pockets.

Worker Charged With Panhandle Slaying

PANHANDLE, Texas, Nov. 21. (UP)—R. M. Bridwell, 28, welding crew foreman, faced a charge of murder tonight for the fatal shooting of Charles Starr, 41, superintendent of a pipe line construction crew, last night. Birdwell said the superintendent discharged him and chased him with a pistol.

Dale Hamilton

"Little Miss Nobody"

by VIDA HURST

CELESTE GRAHAM deserved the bit of happiness Dale Hamilton brought into her life. Dale was the son of a millionaire department store owner and he loved Celeste as much as she loved him.

Dale loved Celeste, knowing all about the family scandal that had ostracized her from old friends and which had forced her to become merely a "Miss Nobody."

But there existed such a gap between Celeste's family and Dale's that marriage seemed an impossibility. What was the outcome of such a discouraging state of affairs?

"Little Miss Nobody" is a brand-new story of love and mystery, in which a girl of today meets and overcomes unusual difficulties. You'll enjoy every one of the 48 daily installments.

THANKSGIVING

However modern our viewpoint may be there are certain sentiments that are not to be disregarded. Many of these sentiments cluster around Thanksgiving, as its inauguration dates back to the beginning of our nation's history. In the year 1621, Bradford wrote in his journal, "Besides waterfoule there was a great story of wild turkies," and those great bronze fowls, roasted, graced the first Thanksgiving tables. The Colonist also served doves, wild geese and deer with cranberries on huge pewter platters. Rich pumpkin pie was the favorite dessert for this occasion, as pumpkins grew wild in the fields. One wit of Colonial days wrote "We have pumpkin at morning and pumpkin at noon, and if it were not for pumpkin we should be undoon."

Sweet cider was served by our forefathers in small colored glasses. The modern hostess might use ginger ale or grapejuice instead of cider. If either of the above drinks are served, the coffee should be placed with the dessert or as a separate course after the dessert.

If Thanksgiving dinner is the occasion for a family reunion, the hostess should plan to spend the greater part of the day with her guests. This is possible if preparations are started several days in advance. A few suggestions may perhaps help the inexperienced hostess plan her work so that she might be free to enjoy her guests.

The menu should be carefully planned, the supplies purchased, and the linen, silver and dishes carefully checked and cleaned the first part of the week. The table may be set the day before Thanksgiving, if it is not necessary to use it for breakfast. The hostess will be able to work out a suitable table decoration as fruits, nuts, pumpkins, autumn leaves and flowers are plentiful at this season.

Celery cleaned the day before will be crisp if it is placed in a pan of water in the icebox; nuts may be toasted or spiced, the beans should be strung and washed and placed in a cool place, the turkey prepared and stuffed, giblets boiled and chopped, the cocktail sauce combined and placed in a jar to chill, the cranberry mixture prepared, the sweet potatoes boiled and placed in the baking dish with the seasonings, an ice box roll mixture prepared, cheese grated and the dates stuffed or glazed.

Pumpkin pies are best the day that they are baked, but the pie plate may be lined with pastry and the filling prepared with the exception of eggs and milk the day before. If this is done it will take just a few minutes on Thursday morning to prepare and bake the pie. This should be done before the turkey is placed in the oven.

Men like onion soup and it is a good start for the heavy turkey dinner. It may be made two days before Thanksgiving if it is placed in a good icebox. Just before it is served, it should be reheated, the grated cheese added and the toast made.

If the gathering is to be one of six or eight guests, a young turkey hen, weighing from eight to 10 pounds should be bought. This will permit generous servings at the Thanksgiving feast, with plenty left over to be served devilled or creamed at another meal. If a larger group is to be served two small turkeys are more desirable than a large one as the meat is apt to be much more tender. It is well for the purchaser to pinch the skin under the leg or wing, or on the breast to see that the turkey is young. If it is tender and breaks easily, the bird is young and fresh. Turn the wing backward; if the points yield readily, the bird is tender. Pin feathers are annoying to remove, yet they are a sure sign of a young turkey, while a growth of hair is found on older birds. Then, too, the flesh of the old turkey, when it shows under the skin on the back and legs is frequently purplish. A large turkey may be made tender, if it is steamed but it is not as attractive after baking as one that is roasted correctly.

After purchasing clean the turkey both inside and out, taking care to remove all pin feathers and singe off all hair. Wipe the bird very dry and rub salt and pepper on the inside of the cavity. Then fill the cavity with stuffing, using a spoon, until the body is plump, but not packed. Some allowance must be made for the swelling of the stuffing. Likewise fill the space from which the crop was removed, inserting the stuffing through the slit in the neck. Thread a large darning needle with strong white thread or fine twine, and sew up the slit in the neck as well as the one in the body, so that the stuffing will not fall out.

As the turkey is ordinarily carved at the table, it should be carefully prepared for the table. Draw the thighs close to the body and secure them by inserting a long skewer in one thigh, pushing it through the body, and through the other thigh. Next, place the wings close to the body and insert a skewer through the wings and body to hold them in place. Remove the neck at the base and skewer the skin back into position on the back side of the bird. Then cross the drumsticks and with a string two feet long tie the drumsticks down to the tail. Turn the bird over on its breast, cross the strings attached to the tail, and wind them, one around each end of the skewer which holds the thighs in place. Again cross the strings and wind them, one around each end of the upper skewer which holds the wings in place. Then tie the strings in a tight knot and snip the ends. With the last knot tied, King Turkey may be tucked in the refrigerator until the next day dawns.

Early Thanksgiving morning place the turkey on the scales and calculate the time that must be allowed for roasting. Twenty minutes a pound is necessary for roasting turkey after it is stuffed. With the weight taken, it is easy to decide when the roasting should start.

A suitable-sized roaster should be at hand. A covered roaster is preferable to an open once for the long cooking of the bird. If a new one is being purchased, be sure that it has a vent.

In preparing the bird for roasting, dredge it lightly with flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and place breast down on the rack of roaster and dredge bottom of pan with five tablespoons of flour. Place in a hot oven 550 degrees F. for the first 20 minutes, lower the heat to 500 degrees F. for 10 minutes and complete the roasting in a medium oven of 400 degrees F. for the remaining time. Put the water in the bottom of the pan when the flour is browned and turn the turkey over and cover breast with thin strips of bacon at the end of the first half hour. Baste frequently with the liquid in the pan. At the end of two hours, remove bacon, dredge with flour and brown. If cooked in a covered roaster leave off the cover until the flour is brown in the pan. Leave vent closed to keep in the steam. If necessary remove the cover before taking the turkey from the oven and brown. Remove to serving platter and garnish with celery tips and paper frills.

RECIPES

Sausage Stuffing, Coronado Style

One-half tablespoonful fat
Two tablespoonfuls chopped onion
One cupful sausage meat
One cupful hot water
One-half cupful chopped almonds
Two cupfuls soft bread crumbs
One-half teaspoonful salt
One-fourth teaspoonful sage
One-fourth teaspoonful pepper.

Melt the fat, add the onion and sausage and cook until sausage browns, stirring frequently. Cool, add water and almonds, crumbs, and seasonings. Use for stuffing chicken or turkey.

Southern Giblet Gravy

Cook the giblets of the turkey until tender, then cut up into small pieces, preserving the liquor. Clean one pound of mushrooms and cut in thin slices. In the pan in which the turkey was roasted, melt eight tablespoonfuls of fat left from roasting the bird. Add the mushrooms and simmer two minutes, then add eight tablespoonfuls of flour and two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley. Stir well until a rich brown and when smooth add four cupfuls of liquid—including the giblet water—gradually, while stirring constantly. Simmer gently until smooth, then add the giblets. Season with salt and pepper and about one-half teaspoonful of sugar. It should be remembered that once the water is added, the browning ceases, so the desired degree of brown must be reached before adding the water.

French Onion Soup

Eight medium sized onions
Three tablespoonfuls butter
One-half cupful water
Eight bouillon (beef) cubes.
One teaspoonful salt
One quart hot water
Parmesan cheese
Toast.

Note—A quart of stock may be used instead of the bouillon cubes and water.

Peel the onions and chop them coarsely; simmer with one-half cupful water and butter in a covered frying pan until soft. Remove the cover and fry until brown. Dissolve the bouillon cubes in the quart of hot water, add the cooked onions and season to taste. Cut slices of bread rather thick and toast. Then cut these into fancy shapes, placing one in the center of each soup plate. Pour the hot soup over them. Sprinkle liberally with grated cheese and serve.

Frozen Cranberries

Rub 10-minute cranberry sauce through a seive and freeze in the drawer of an electric refrigerator or pack in ice and salt. Add the juice of two lemons if the mixture is not sufficiently tart. Serve in small glasses with the turkey.

Ten-minute cranberry sauce is made by boiling one and one-half to two cupfuls of sugar with two cupfuls of water for five minutes; add one quart cranberries and boil without stirring for five minutes or until all the skins pop open. Remove from the fire when the popping stops. For a thinner sauce, just bring water and sugar to a boil, then add berries and let them cook until they stop popping.

Meringued Sweet Potatoes

Wash and boil four medium-sized sweet potatoes. Peel and mash and add two tablespoonfuls butter, the beaten yolks of two eggs, one-half cupful of raisins, one-fourth cupful of nuts, one-half cupful of milk, season with salt and bake. When a light brown, place whole marshmallows over the top or spread with marshmallow whip and put back in the oven until the marshmallow covering puffs up and browns.

If a simpler sweet potato dish is desired, try sweet potato custard which is made by mashing well three cooked sweet potatoes of medium size. Add two eggs, well-beaten, one-third teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, one-half cupful brown sugar and three cupfuls of milk. Mix thoroughly, pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven until firm. Cover with meringue or marshmallows and brown.

Sweet Pickled Pear Salad

Serve four sweet pickled pears in four individual nests of crisp lettuce leaves, cover with one-fourth cupful mayonnaise dressing mixed with one-fourth cupful sweet pickle sirup and one-fourth cupful cream beaten until stiff. Serves four.

Savory Cheese

One-fourth cupful butter
One ounce roquefort cheese
One neufchatel cheese or one-third cupful cottage cheese
One-half tablespoonful pimiento, chopped fine
One-half tablespoonful table sauce
Few grains cayenne.

Mix ingredients with a fork, shape in a small loaf, chill, and slice and serve with salad. The mixture might be shaped in balls and placed on the plate with the salad.

Pennsylvania Pumpkin Pie

Two cupfuls pumpkin
Three eggs, separated
One cupful brown sugar
One-fourth teaspoonful salt
One-half teaspoonful grated nutmeg
One-half teaspoonful ginger
One-eighth teaspoonful ground cloves
One-eighth teaspoonful allspice
One-fourth teaspoonful cinnamon
Three cupfuls scalded milk.

To cooked or canned pumpkin add egg yolks, brown sugar, salt, nutmeg, ginger, ground cloves, allspice and cinnamon, and mix thoroughly. Add scalded milk and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a pie plate lined with pastry and bake in hot oven of 450 degrees for 10 minutes then in a slow oven of 320 degrees for 30 minutes. Squash may be used instead of pumpkin in this recipe. This makes two medium or one large and one small pie. To serve, cool the pie slightly and arrange small mounds of unsweetened whipped cream, one in the center of each individual piece of pie. Drop one teaspoonful honey in the center of each mound of cream and serve at once.

Cider Cocktail

Four bright red apples
Two pears
Twenty-four white grapes
Three tablespoonfuls boiled cider.

For each cocktail polish a medium-sized bright red apple, cut a thin slice from the top, remove center carefully with a cone-shaped cutter, then scoop out the remaining apple to make a thin shell. Fill with apple cones, cones cut from pears, and white grapes, skinned and seeded, and pour boiled cider over all. Replace top of apple and garnish with green leaves.

Marguerites

Boil one cupful of sugar and one-half a cup of water until it threads (240 degrees). Remove to back of stove and drop in five marshmallows, cut in pieces. Let stand to dissolve, then gradually pour onto the whites of two eggs, beaten until foamy. Add two tablespoonfuls of shredded cocoanut and one-fourth a teaspoonful of vanilla. When partly cooled, add one cupful of English walnuts, cut. Spread on saltines and brown slightly in a hot oven.

Spiced Nuts

Use Jordan almonds or pecans. Blanch the almonds by standing them in boiling water for five minutes; then remove the skins. Dry thoroughly on towels. Pan-fry the pecans and almonds as follows: Use only enough oil—either olive or vegetables—to coat the nuts (two tablespoonfuls for one cupful of nuts). Let the fat get hot, but not smoking. Drop in the nuts and cook them, while stirring, until a delicate brown in the case of the almonds, or until crisp, if pecans. Drain on absorbent paper. Make a mixture of one teaspoonful of salt to every two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon and nutmeg mixed. Place in a dredger and sprinkle over the nuts just after they are drained. When cold shake in a colander to remove the loose salt.

Johnnie Cake

Scald one cupful Rhode Island corn meal with sufficient hot water to make a paste or dough of medium consistency. Add salt to taste and one-four cupful milk and stir well so that there are no lumps. Drop large spoonfuls of batter into a well-buttered frying pan. It will flatten out into thin cakes. Fry until cooked through. Serve with blueberry jelly.

28 Refugees From Stricken Ship Come Safely Into Port

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—Capt. S. G. S. McNeil of the Cunard liner, Mauretania, brought the 28 persons he saved from the sinking steamer, Ovidia, into port today and gave thanks that there was no fog on Wednesday when his vessel went to the aid of the stricken ship.

"It was an act of God that there was no fog over that section of the Atlantic," McNeil said. "Had there been a fog it would have slowed us down and we might have missed the Ovidia all together. In that case she would have foundered."

Capt. Axtel Carlsson of the Ovidia told his story in short sentences and made no attempt to dramatize the situation.

"When the Mauretania approached us it was the finest sight I ever saw," he said.

LIONS-SENIOR FETE PLANNED

Electra Club to Banquet School Graduates

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Lions club is already making arrangements for the annual Lion-Senior banquet which will be given soon. At the weekly luncheon Thursday a committee composed of G. R. Davidson, R. R. Ramey, E. E. Rogers and Roy Lebus was named to secure a speaker for the occasion.

G. J. Gilles, president, presided over the luncheon and Ben W. Tipton offered the invocation following the singing of "Bohunkus." J. S. Pittman and S. S. Kouri of Wichita Falls were the visitors introduced. A report was given by F. M. Baker, chairman of the free milk committee. He reported that the club was now furnishing free milk to 15 children in the ward schools to go with their noon lunches. J. P. Doherty, chairman of the committee appointed last week to make arrangements to give hens to needy families for their Thanksgiving dinner announced that necessary arrangements had been completed. Mr. Pittman made a brief talk.

S. H. Hill was responsible for the program and presented Oscelie Terry, Belva Hannah and Babe Helen Jennings in popular song numbers. They were accompanied by Miss Letrice Wofford.

Announcements were also made in regard to the intercity meeting to be held by the Lions in the near future. A committe composed of A. C. Rippy, H. A. Decker, and J. N. Fulcher was appointed to meet with committees from other Lions clubs in the district to make the arrangements for the meeting.

Gifts for Needy to Show Real Thanksgiving Spirit

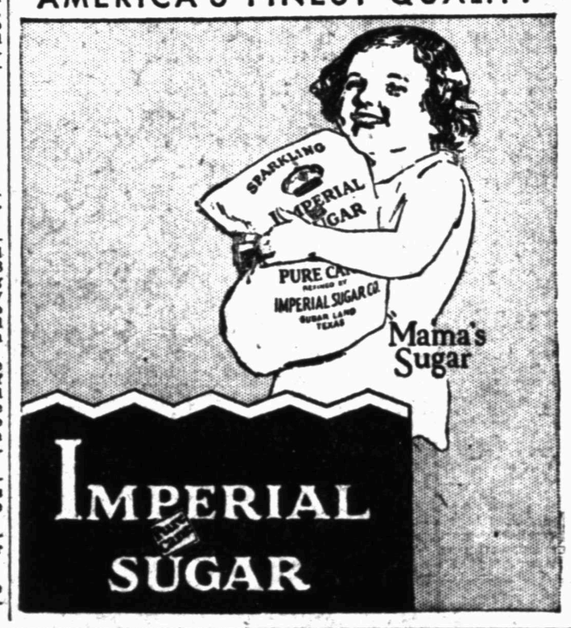

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 21.—Electra plans to show a real Thanksgiving spirit next Thursday as a number of the local clubs, organizations and incividuals have announced their intentions of giving food to the needy families on that day in the form of special treats. The Lions club was among the first and is planning to give hens to the needy for their dinners. The charity board will also be on the job. The different church societies are planning to aid.

Of Course . . .
you can serve it hot

Most people want a hot breakfast dish for a cold day. Shredded Wheat is deliciously warming when eaten with hot milk. Crisp the biscuits in the oven and pour hot milk over them. The flavory shreds retain enough crispness to encourage thorough chewing—that's one reason it's so good for children. Delicious for any meal with fresh or stewed fruits.

AUDIT SCORES COUNTY HEADS

Stephens Affairs Censored By Inspector

Special to The Record News

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 21.—Severe criticisms of methods of handling county affairs were directed at a group of county officials in a report accompahying county audit filed with County Attorney S. H. Singleton by John Rogers, state examiner and inspector.

Payments of alleged irregular and illegal claims were charged in the report. A long list of these alleged illegal claims, estimated at more than $2,000 by the county attorney, were charged back against individual officials.

Inadequate methods of keeping records of receipts were charged specifically in the collection of delinquent taxes by the sheriff's office under two administrations and against a former county superintendent.

Unauthorized Payments

The report covered an audit of the court clerk's office from Jan. 2, 1921, to June 30, 1929, and of all other offices from July 1, 1925, to June 30, 1929.

Payments of claims "not properly itemized," and claims "not allowed by law," were charged. Payments of unauthorized travelling expenses to various officials were also alleged.

Under the law, the county attorney is authorized to file suit against officials and their bondsmen to collect the items charged back.

The audit also covered gross production taxes on oil and revealed $10,557.30, which had been paid other counties through error, was due Stephens county. This money has been paid the county by the state auditor.

Fees Claimed

A total of $4,153.67 of fees paid by litigants to the court clerk were declared due to the county. The sum represents fees paid for the prosecution of civil cases but never claimed by witnesses and litigants. An opinion from the attorney general holding that these unpaid fees had reverted to the county, was quoted.

Attorneys threaten suit if these fees are paid to the county instead of to their clients and a friendly suit to test the case is expected to be filed against Opal Turner, court clerk, by the county attorney.

Lions Entertain Tillman Clubbers

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 21.—About 40 of the outstanding 4-H club members of the county were in attendance at the banquet at the Hotel Frederick given by the Frederick Lions club, this being the third year that the Lions have entertained the leading club members. In his introductory speech Louis H. Beaty, county agent, explained what is meant by an "outstanding" member.

He said it includes those who have won trips and entered judging contests in the state and have done excellent home work. Home work means projects taken up on the farm or in the home and carried out under instructions of the agents.

These "outstanding" members were introduced: Veleria Abbott, Fort Augur; Miriam Caldwell and Tommy Lynn Caldwell, Union; Oleta Defee, Consolidated No. 11; Elsie DeYong, Consolidated No. 1; Velton Johnson, Manitou; Leona Klaas, Consolidated No. 13; Esta Livingston, Hollister; Murle Miller, Hill Top; Ruth Mullins, Consolidated No. 3; Lela Porter, Manitou; Virginia Slack, Fort Augur; Letha Taylor, Consolidated No. 3; Cleta Merle Woods, Union; Christine Laurent, Manitou; Jewel Shelly and Katherine Shelly, Otter Creek; Juanita Laing, Consolidated No. 1; Helen Wearmouth, Union; Loraine Wells, Manitou; Lena Vivian Wearmouth, Union; Lorene Cantrell, Consolidated No. 6.

THE DAILY SACRIFICE

IT'S an everlasting shame the way fine lingerie and stockings are often washed in scalding water. Usually the reason is that women think they can't get them clean any other way.

Change to White King! Made from fine vegetable and nut oils, White King Granulated Soap will form quick, creamy suds, will cleanse thoroughly, and will swiftly rinse away in the lukewarm water that preserves the life and color of delicate fabrics. White King is pure. That's the reason. And the same purity makes it effective for dishes and heavy washing too.

White King is economical. You'll only need a teaspoonful in the wash basin, a cupful in the washing machine, even in hard water. Try it—today. Recommended by your grocer.

16 Innocent Drivers Spend Night in Single Cell on Officer's 'Suspicion'

Transcontinental Caravan Chauffeurs, Driving Well Marked Cars, Lodged in Jail at Abilene

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—They weren't hijackers at all, but only a group of transcontinental drivers doing their bit in the transportation war between the automobile and the iron horse. After spending the night behind bars here, 16 young men were released this morning when a posse from Greenville failed to identify any of them in connection with a hijacking there Wednesday night.

For several weeks auto caravans have been rolling along the Bankhead highway, always westbound, each car identified by a red square painted on the windshield and rear glass. They travel in close formation, pausing briefly for service.

Victim's Laugh

Yesterday's movement, a personnel of 24 men and three women, was halted here in response to a telegram from Greenville asking that a party of travelers be held for questioning into a hijacking there Wednesday. Four of the men, leaders of the party and owners of the cars, and three women were released on their own recognizance; but the other 16 were locked up in one cell—the maximum of the city's accommodations in that regard—where they made a lark of the proceedings, laughing and singing most of the time. Search of the cars revealed nothing incriminating—not even liquor.

This morning L. L. Porter, sheriff of Hunt county; Joe West, a Greenville policeman; and M. L. Goad, the hijackers' victim, came here to make the identification, if any. They failed.

"None of this bunch held me up," was Goad's verdict. So release of the party was ordered and they went their way.

Fourth Caravan

Leaders of the expedition, who are from Long Beach, Calif., explained the movement. They said the used car trade is brisk on the Pacific coast but rather slow in the Detroit area. They have been buying repossessed cars in Detroit, in lots of a dozen or more, and sending them overland to California for resale, at more than enough to pay for moving them 3,000 miles on their own power. The leader said the drivers are Detroit men who want to spend the winter in California and are chauffeuring the cars for their transportation.

Yesterday's movement was the fourth through here in two weeks, reported filling station operators along the highway.

Victim Hurtled Through Air by Blowout of Tire

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Nov. 21.—Raymond Stiffler, employe of the Humble company here, is recovering in a local hospital from injuries received late Tuesday while changing a tire on one of the company's large trucks.

The tire Stiffler was changing was one of the largest made for trucks today.

In changing the large tire, it blew out, throwing Mr. Stiffler about 12 feet, injuring him painfully. His left ankle was broken in two places. Other parts of his person were badly bruised and cut from the impact of the blowout.

RITES SAID FOR STORM VICTIMS

Joint Funerals Conducted At Bethany

BETHANY, Okla., Nov. 21. (AP)—Funerals were held today for most of the 20 victims of Wednesday's tornado, which flattened a large section of this Nazarene church colony.

A joint service was conducted this afternoon at the Bethany Nazarene church for several of the victims.

Aided by liberal contributions solicited by newspapers and radio, the homeless were making a quick recovery. The $30,000 asked by the American Red Cross and Governor Holloway, was considerably oversubscribed today.

National guardsmen called out immediately after the disaster were demobilized, with the exception of 13 living in Bethany. Blocked off streets were reopened with the warning they would be closed again if spectators obstructed traffic.

Bridegrooms Cheered By Low Diamond Cost

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—For the prospective bridegroom at least one shaft of sunshine has filtered through the clouds of business depression.

Indications are that the price of diamonds will remain at the present relatively low levels. The department of labor has been told that authorities in the diamond cutting industry abroad see little chance for stabilization of prices at the high levels of a few years ago.

Stocks held by large European syndicates are reported to have reached huge proportions, the available supply far exceeding the present demand.

PILLS COULD NOT HELP HIM

HERE is a true story of a man who suffered for years from constipation. Then he found the pleasant, natural way to relief that millions of people now follow:

"I am 58 years old and have put in years suffering from constipation. Spent lots of money, bought all kinds of pills and drugged myself every night with them and awoke lots of mornings with a headache.

"Haven't taken one pill since I began on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I am now feeling the best I have felt in 30 years. I eat heartily and nothing hurts me. ALBERT F. PARKER, Massachusetts

Rock Island Extension Costs Over Million

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 21.—It is thought that more than $1,125,000 was spent by the Rock Island in the construction of the 60-mile line from Dalhart to Morse from March to August, 1930.

This week will see the windup of the accounting work on this line, according to E. H. Pettibon, construction accountant. Mr. Pettibon and H. B. Woodson will go to Fort Worth, where they will have 30 days work placing the construction records in the permanent files in the auditor's office. Mrs. Monte Spencer will return to a position in the office of sub-district accountant and Carroll Campbell will return to his home in Fort Worth.

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 21.—While automobiles and growing municipalities are erasing the really "western atmosphere" in this section of the old cow country, James (Buster) Todd, 24, a son of the Old West, has ridden into a position attained only by perfection in handling horses. Todd, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Todd of Mangum is now with troop D of the New York state troopers, and his specific job is to "break in the unbreakable" horses. He did his first riding in Greer county astraddle a mule.

His ability has attracted and entered crowds from Canada to Florida and Havana, Cuba.

Hope Fades for Life Of Missing Hunter

WINSLOW, Ariz., Nov. 21. (UP)—Weary from their long search through snow-covered woods for J. D. Bird, 25-year-old missing hunter, rescue parties held faint hopes today that the man would be found alive.

Missing since last Friday, national guards and volunteer posses believed Bird was a victim of storm that raged in the mountains 40 miles south of here and that his body was covered with a blanket of snow.

New Jersey Governor Reveals Secret Wedding

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (INS)—The unexpected marriage of Gov. Morgan F. Larson of New Jersey was revealed today as the governor and his bride, former companion to the governor's mother, made plans to leave New York for a three weeks' honeymoon in Miami, Fla.

The wedding was kept secret because of the distaste for elaborate ceremony felt by both the governor and his bride, the former Miss Ada Schmidt, it was said.

TEXAS FLIERS DIE IN CRASH

Plane Dives Onto Field At Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (UP)—Two fliers were killed shortly after noon today when their plane crashed at Main Street airport.

They were Bert Pidcoke, veteran Houston pilot, and Jack Lewis, his mechanic, flying in the Texas company's Lockheed plane.

Pidcoke and Lewis were returning from Austin where they had taken a party of Texas company officials earlier in the day.

F. Campos of Baton Rouge, who was visiting Pidcoke, was at the airport waiting for the ship to return.

"When they got over the field the ship seemed to get out of control," Campos said. "It started side slipping and crashed into the ground wing first.

"It broke in two just in front of the pilot's seat and Pidcoke and Lewis were thrown out and killed."

Two Billion Years Old
The Earth Acts Her Age
When All Cry Peace
A Modern Archbishop

By EMILE GAUVREAU

According to the latest calculations, the earth said "au revoir" to the sun two billion or so years ago, when a passing star tempted it to break away from the parental nest. Some day, when the earth's ardor has cooled off, it may return home, like a prodigal daughter who has had her fling in space, and repented.

Dr. Alois F. Kovarik, Yale physicist, is authority for the most recent computation of the age of our globe, placing it at 1,852,000,000 years. He arrives at this figure by a study of atomic changes caused by radio-active disintegration, of which the constant rate has been determined.

Compared to the duration of the earth, the conscious life of men, 6,000 or 7,000 years, is as the life of a fruit fly against that of a tortoise. No wonder war still appeals to us as the best way for settling disputes. It may take us another 7,000 years to begin to be civilized.

Rioting by agitators in Havana results in seven deaths and 50 injured. Military law is established in Cuba. Tokyo, the premier is shot by a member of a reactionary organization. In New York, 1,000 Reds riot. The riots in Peru cause 300 American and British refugees to flee to Lima.

The republican spirit in Spain is forcing Alfonso to think of abdicating. The monarchistic spirit in Germany bids fair to bring about the return of Wilhelm. Mussolini, for his absolutism, has inspired a conspiracy for his overthrow. The weakness of Hoover has put the Democrats back into power.

The world is in a chaos of ideas. Every nation cries "peace" and prepares for war. Every form of government has been tried. Unemployment, hunger, discontent, rears its head on five continents. The wise man has not yet appeared who can give the proper interpretation to what ails mankind. Religionists say it's the want of religion. Scientists say it's ignorance. Economists say it's unequal distribution of the world's goods.

Birth control has the sanction of the archbishop of Canterbury. The Anglican primate declares at London that to ignore the issue, which has cut down the world's birthrate 50 per cent, would be the "act of an ostrich."

Pragmatism teaches us that "whatever works is right." If birth-control benefits the world, the church may find it unwise to damn it. There is no ethics above practice. Morals always adjust themselves to the will of the generation professing them.

In the literary profession, fortunes can be made often not so much by what one says, sometimes, as by what one omits to say. Mrs. Dorothy Calvit, daughter of Lillian Russell, wrote a great deal about her famous mother for a magazine and got a few thousand dollars for the articles. But because of a few words referring to her stepfather, she lost a million.

This is revealed through a statement of her lawyer who brings to light the fact that the ex-bassador to Spain's first will provided richly for the step-daughter, but that the reference to his mother as "a keeper of a boarding house in Pittsburgh" made him cut off Mrs. Calvit with a bare $1,000.

The moral of which is: Discretion is the better part of fortune.

Greer County Auto Collections at $52,000

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 21.—Greer county collected $52,234.58 for automobile licenses during the first 10 months of this year, according to Ed McDoland of the state highway commission. Collections for the month of October were $125.71.

They are calling the smartly dressed J. Hamilton Lewis, senator-elect from Illinois, a "gay old blade," but he's not exactly an ad for a razor manufacturer.

A college professor advises men to marry their stenographers. Perhaps he believes the men will like their type.

There are many self-made men who seem to have forgotten one last essential: polish.

Football on the Radio

THE FOOTBALL FAN no longer needs to be a hardy individual. He no longer needs to shiver in rain-swept bleachers or crouch in upturned coat collar while an inhospitable gale drives across the stadium. If the weather is unfavorable—or even if it isn't—he can sit at home, snug in his arm chair, turn on the radio and get the whole game in comfort and ease.

However, he is up against one drawback that does not confront the man who actually goes to the game in the flesh. He has to get his football through the medium of the radio announcer; and in all too many cases this is a severe and soul-racking trial, almost too grievous to be borne.

Football radio announcers, as a general thing, seem to fall into three classes; the deliberate, the excitable and the downright dizzy. Each class, in its own way, leads the football fan to much profanity.

The deliberate announcer is a heavy cross to bear. At a crucial moment in a tense game he will describe things somewhat like this:

"McFingle gets the ball. . . . He goes around right end. . . . O'Nutty is making interference for him. . . . Now Purdy . . . no . . . (an unusually long pause) . . . no, it's Whortle . . . Whortle makes the tackle. . . . Whortle gets him. . . ."

And then, as an afterthought, he remarks that the ball carrier gained five yards on the play. Now all of this was happening with the attacking team needing one yard to make a first down on the enemy's 10-yard line, and with two minutes left to play; but the important news comes in last, and a bad last at that, while the anxious fan writhes and twists and nearly has apoplexy waiting for the leisurely announcer to get to the point.

But the excitable announcer is little better. He goes like this:

"There he goes! There he goes! He's going off tackle! Oh! Oh! Look at that boy run! Wow! He's tearing around right end, behind marvelous interference, dodging and fighting his way—hey, he's clear—ah, now they've caught him—a beautiful tackle, simply beautiful. . . . He gained a yard and a half."

Or else this announcer simply blows up and emits a wild whoop, indicating that something sensational has happened—and does not get down to earth, to let the radio listeners know just what it was, for a whole minute.

Under the heading, "downright dizzy" come the most obnoxious of all. This classification includes, first of all, men who know nothing whatever about football but who valiantly describe the game anyway. It includes announcers who are smitten with their own alleged capacity for humor, and give the fan his football through ponderous web of fourth-rate wisecracks and smug guffaws. It includes the men who describe the scenery, and the "colorful spectacle" ad nauseam. It includes men who seem to think that the best broadcast is the wordiest.

Most of them fall into one of these three classifications. There are exceptions, of course; but they are few. It is a tough break for the fan.

The Railroads' Confidence

A GREAT DEAL of the pessimism about business prospects that one hears expressed these days must come from the people who have nothing to do with their time except employ it in uttering jeremiads. The real business leaders are too busy working to end the depression to say much.

In the current issue of the Chesapeake and Ohio Lines Magazine, in an article by J. J. Bernet, president of the railroad, there occur these remarks:

"Our new locomotives and cars are beginning to arrive on the railroad. They represent a tremendous investment in money which must be justified by better service for the public and more economical operation for the company.

"These millions of dollars worth of new equipment, bought and put into service at this particular time, represent faith in the business future of our country. Its manufacture provided employment for thousands of workmen who might otherwise have been idle. It is a very tangible proof that we believe there is going to be business for it to handle."

A Test for Intoxication

A FLORIDA police court judge seems to have hit upon the solution to a question that has puzzled some of our best minds for a long time—namely, how to tell whether a man is drunk or just pleasantly stimulated.

Before this judge were brought four men who had been picked up by the police the night before. The men protested that they had been gay but not drunk. They had been standing, it seemed, on a street corner, singing. The judge asked them what song they had been singing, and they told him, "Sweet Adeline." Immediately, without asking any more questions, the judge found them guilty and fined them $10 a piece.

This seems like an eminently satisfactory solution. Who, indeed, sings "Sweet Adeline" but the inebriated?

Safety in the Air

FIGURES ISSUED by the commerce department shed interesting light on aviation accidents during the first six months of 1930.

They show that flying on regularly scheduled commercial air lines is safer than ever before—safer, by 200 per cent, than last year, with only one fatal accident for every 3,000,000 miles flown. Yet in other types of flying, crashes are increasing at an alarming rate.

The country is fairly full of young men who have just gained their wings; and these young men, apparently, are hitting the ground more frequently than might be desired. The lesson for the average man seems to be clear: do not go up in any plane except one operated by an established company on a regular route, with veteran pilots. Shun the barnstormer, and don't let your friends cajole you into going up with them.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

(But which you knew all along!)

That among other things that burn me up and knock me colder than a critic who takes his job seriously are the apple growers who "explain" their weekly price tilts on the unemployed apple peddlers. "The scarcity," they say, "forces us to raise the price."

The what??? Federal statisticians just reported the greatest harvest of apples ever taken from trees in New England!

That the critic on the old Mail who led Variety's critic's box score three times in a row was James E. Craig and he was not fired, but was promoted and is now one of the town's better chief editorial scriveners.

That Adam Thompson, a wealthy grain and cotton dealer of Cincinnati, was the first to own a bathtub. This was in 1842. He invited a group of men to dinner and after dining they were invited to try out the new device. The following day the story was in the papers and Thompson was attacked by politicians and health officials!

That the newly elected Sheriff of Chicago, William D. Meyering, carries two guns, but only has one arm.

That of the people who have lived to be 100 years of age 1,561 were men and 2,076 were femmes.

That the exact length of Broadway (within the city limits) of Greater New York is 15½ miles.

That one of the better known mouth washes is said to be better in motor car radiators than alcohol.

That the first newspaper ever published was The Peking Gazette from 714 to 741. The earliest known rag in the United States was called "Public Utterances" and issued in 1690.

And to settle all disputes among people with civic pride let it be jotted down now that the busiest corner in the world is at Seventh and Broadway, Los Angeles. This is the most congested intersection of them all.

Hyde Park Corner, London runs second, Forty-second street and Fifth avenue is third, and the others are not in the money. So there!

And that Ruth ("Sweetheart") Etting finds times so hard she is cutting "Ten Cents a Dance" to a nickel.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

Gail Stuart, befriended by Nick Walther after hiking to Hollywood, falls in pictures. She becomes secretary to Carla Cross, the star, and gets her fiance, Ross Hardy, a job as Carla's leading man. He falls in love with Carla and Gail breaks their engagement. Gail is discharged by Carla for dining with Walther, whom the star hopes to marry. He loves Gail, but knowing she still cares for Hardy, arranges a house party to throw them together. Norman Frame, a discarded lover of Carla, commits suicide. Tod Janson has things all fixed to protect Carla's reputation when Gail remembers a note Frame gave her for the star. The police seize it, and read Frame's bitter accusation that Carla has driven him to his death. It means ruin for Carla.

CHAPTER XL

The horror of publicity came over Gail with a sickening dread when she saw the papers.

The papers printed Norman's suicide note to Carla. The front pages were full of Norman and Carla, their pictures, photographs of them taken from pictures in which they had appeared.

"Miss Cross, in the seclusion of her home today, refused to see anyone," one paper announced.

Gail thought of Tod Janson's careful work. All ruined, and she had ruined it, innocently.

Carla's public knowing she was heartless, ruthless . . .

The girl worked all day in a daze. Everyone around her was talking of Carla and Norman. Clerk's at Frank's, customers who came to buy. Even the manager sent for her to ask her version of the "suicide house party." Her name had been mentioned as one of the guests. This prying curiosity. She satisfied the manager as quickly as she could, hating to meet the narrowed suspicious eyes that were upon her . . .

The full storm broke in the afternoon. Gail grew hot all over as she read of what the police had found in Norman's room. Letters from Carla. Poems Norman had composed to her. A sheet of music on his piano, dedicated to her. It must have been the one he played Saturday night at the beach house. Then worst of all, Norman's diary. Norman had a definite poetic strain and the diary brought this out well. The little document was a monument of love.

"Love Life Bared"

The letters that Carla had written Norman were silly school girl things. Gail blushed when she read the nonsense they contained. She thought Carla had better sense.

At four Sarah came in to talk to Gail. She bought several chokers so she could stand at the counter.

"Terrible, isn't it?" she murmured, biting her full red lips. Her eyes showed fatigue. "We didn't work today. Ross didn't show up. Max looked all over town for him and couldn't find him. He's worried."

"Ross gone?"

"Oh, he'll come back, I suppose. But Max is all upset."

"Did Max look—at Carla's?"

"Yes, but he wasn't there. Don't worry. He waited for him an hour this morning and then Max started out hunting him, and dismissed us. I'm just as glad. I couldn't have worked anyway."

Gail saw Sarah's shaking fingers on the amber necklace. Sarah had been hit pretty hard by the tragedy, too.

"Yes, I'm pretty shaky. You just begin to realize what can happen to you when you see something like this break. A lot of us have things in our lives we'd like to forget. This sort of thing might happen to most anyone. God knows it might have happened to me. I've written letters, too—worse than Carla's, if someone else saw them. I was really in love . . .

"I'm Clean"

"We've got to remember that an actress and an actor live public lives," she went on. "The world in general owns us, even our private lives. Everything we do is news, or people think it is. That's the trouble being public property for everyone to view with a critical eye. I used to like it at first—when I first became a star, but now it frightens me. This, today, unnerves me for it makes me realize what puppets we really are. The public's playthings. One little mistake, or one big one, and—" Her gesture was eloquent.

"This won't hurt you, will it?"

"No, I'm not in it. It won't hurt anyone but Carla, and it may not hurt her. You can't tell. To her fans of course, she's a blond goddess who can do no wrong. Now, when they find she has feet of clay—well, as I say you can't tell yet. Carla's been lucky. Tod has kept her out of lots of scrapes. Worked his head off for her."

Gail slipped the two necklaces into a bag and handed it to Sarah.

"Come home with me, can't you Gail? I dread spending the evening alone."

The girl declined because she didn't feel like talking to anyone. She wanted to be alone.

"You'll let me know—about Ross?" She asked as Sarah turned to go. The actress promised she would, and hurried from the store.

Gail watched the clock anxiously during the next hour. She was tired. No sleep last night, and on her feet all day. The minutes dragged on listlessly. Finally, the store closed and she went out for a bite to eat before going to her room. She wasn't hungry, but she felt she should try to eat. She had no appetite for breakfast or lunch.

What Sarah had said about Ross worried her. Why should he disappear? Max must have sought him at his house. Sarah had said he wasn't at Carla's. She recalled that when she left Nick's, his car was gone and she herself hadn't noticed him leave the crowded living room.

Ross, too, evidently, wanted to be by himself.

Juicy Story

A man next to her at the counter where she stopped for dinner, spread out a newspaper and started to read. Gail recoiled as she ordered her meal.

"Nice juicy story, isn't it?" The man turned to her from one of Carla's love letters, and leered. These movie stars must have their affairs! But their letters don't make such good reading—a little infantile."

How she got through dinner, Gail never knew. She forced herself to sit there beside the man, loathing him with all her heart. Heard him laugh now and then as he came to the diary, saw his dinner grow cold, so interested was he in the story of Carla's love life . . .

Were his comments typical of all the readers of the story? Was every one in Hollywood, in the world for that matter, reading the story of Norman and Carla tonight?

She had barely touched her dinner when she left, hurrying down the boulevard. Down the street was the twinkling sign of "Crossroads," reaching far out over the sidewalk.

Carla refusing to see anyone . . . that was Tod's work. Otherwise, Carla probably would be talking. Tod trying to repair the damage. The girl shivered when she thought of the venomous glance he had given her last night. Little fool, he had called her . . . Well, she was.

And yet the police would have gone into Norman's affairs anyway. She realized that. The letters, the diary, the music would have been printed anyway. Not the note, though. The note . . .

When had Norman written it? During the afternoon when she had been following Ross and Sarah had been lying down?

A cruel thing to do. But Carla had been cruel to Norman. He was paying her back—after his death.

Mrs. Cross Calls

Mrs. Green was waiting for her in the hall, eager to ask questions, too. Gail brushed past her and ran to her room. She couldn't bear to talk about the house party any more. Telling the manager at Frank's was enough. That had been torture, and she had told him practically nothing. Taking off her dress, she slipped into her night gown.

An hour later there was a knock at the door and Gail sighed as she put a robe about her shoulders.

"A visitor, Miss Stuart," Mrs. Green announced from the hall. "Shall I send her up?"

"Who is it?" She didn't want to see anyone. he wanted to be alone.

"A Mrs. Cross."

Mrs. Cross to see her? Gail wondered what she wanted as she told Mrs. Green to send her up. A few minutes later she opened the door and saw Mrs. Cross, her face puffy from weeping, panting from her walk up the three flights of stairs.

"Gail—I had to come! I had to talk to someone—you don't mind?"

Gail politely said she didn't and closed the door after her visitor.

Tomorrow—Ross still missing.

Memphis Pioneer Settler Is Buried

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 21.—The funeral of William H. Melton, 80, who died Tuesday night, was held Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist church, the Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Douglas Carson, pastor of the First Baptist church of White Deer, conducting the services.

Mr. Melton was a Hall county pioneer, coming to this county in 1904, and had lived in Texas for 73 years, coming to Texas with his parents at the age of seven from Missouri, where he was born.

Deceased is survived by his wife and two daughters of Memphis; Mrs. Emmett Evans and Mrs. Maggie Holcomb, and two sons, Henry Melton of Amarillo and Elmer Melton of Miami, all of whom were present at the funeral. He is also survived by four sisters and two brothers, and 14 grandchildren.

About one-quarter of Ireland's male population consists of bachelors. More than 80 per cent of the men between the ages of 25 and 30 are unmarried.

Q.—Was Bernard Shaw a poor boy?—J. P.

A.—George Bernard Shaw was born in 1856 into a good but impoverished middle class family. His first nine years in London from 1876 to 1885 were the hardest in his life. During this period he worked relentlessly and it can be truthfully said that he actually struggled for a living. In 1894 he began his phenomenal rise to world fame which was steady and swift.

Q.—What was the Delphic Oracle?—V. S.

A.—The Delphic Oracle was the priestess known as Pythia who sat upon a tripod over a crevice in the rocks of Mt. Parnassus. Overpowering vapors, assumed to be the divine breath of Apollo were supposed to influence the priestess who gave utterances to Apollo's words. Her mutterings were recorded by priests who interpreted them in verse. Delphi, the headquarters of the oracle, was an ancient town in Phocis, Greece, called Pytho in the stories of Homer. It is on the southern slope of Mt. Parnassus.

Q.—How many people in the United States play polo? How many are injured in the game?—H. C. S.

A.—The editor of the Polo Magazine says: "There are registered with the United States Polo association 2,868 polo players. There are registered with the Indoor Polo Association of the United States another 1,000 players. In addition there are about 1,200 or more players who are not registered with either organization. The number of injuries sustained by polo players has been greatly exaggerated. Polo is one of the sturidest and most healthful of our games and the number of persons whose health it builds up is far in excess of the number of persons injured."

Q.—Please give some information about Bahaism.—F. S.

A.—The regligious sect known as Bahaism originated in Persia in 1844. The first prophet was Ali Mohammed, or the Bab. Hosein Ali was the first adherent of the Bab and later announced himself as the one whom the Bab had foretold. He became known as Baha'u'llah. He died in 1892, and before his departure named his oldest son Abdul Baha Abbas interpreter of his text and he center of his covenant. He passed away Nov. 28, 1921, and in his will designated his grandson, Shoghi Effendi, guardian of the cause. The general principles of the Bahais founded upon the teachings of Baha'u'llah are, the oneness of mankind; the independent investigation of truth; the foundation of all religions is one; religion must be the cause of unity; religion must be in accord with science and reason; equality between man and woman; prejudice of all kinds must be forgotten; universal peace; universal education; solution of the economic problem; a universal language; an international tribunal. The Bahais believe in the essential necessity of the intermediation of the Messianic principle, or the Holy Spirit, in the life of humanity.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on Care Of the Car

The purpose of this booklet is to help the average owner of an automobile to get more service and greater enjoyment out of it. It is not intended that every owner will at all times be interested in every fact contained in the booklet. Everyone today recognizes that the modern motor car comes closely as is possible to taking care of itself. It does not require constant adjustment and tinkering. It does, however, require constant care in cleaning, lubricating and proper driving, and its perfection of operation and lasting qualities will be enhanced by reasonable attention to its upkeep.

Care of the Car will help make American motorists better car owners and better and safer drivers. Send for a copy today, using this coupon.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

DAILY MENUS

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Nov. 23:

Sunday

Breakfast — Toasted breakfast food with cream but no sugar.

Lunch—Mushroom soup, baked squash, string beans.

Dinner—Broiled chicken, asparagus, baked ground beets, stuffed celery, Jell-O or Jell-well, with dash of whipped cream.

Monday

Breakfast—Coddled eggs, wholewheat muffins, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Potatoes on the half shell, cooked beet tops, shredded lettuce.

Dinner—Roast mutton, turnips, small green peas, McCoy salad, no dessert.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, Melba toast, stewed prunes.

Lunch—Steamed rice, cooked spinach, asparagus salad.

Dinner—Broiled steak, carrots cooked with celery, head lettuce, apple whip.

Wednesday

Breakfast—French omelet, small piece of ham, stewed apricots.

Lunch—Potato soup, string beans, celery and ripe olives.

Dinner—Roast veal, wholewheat dressing, asparagus, salad of vegetables molded in gelatin (celery, cucumber and peas), ice cream.

Thursday

Breakfast—Grapefruit or oranges, all desired, glass of sweet milk.

Dinner—Tomato bouillon, celery ripe olives, roasted turkey with Melba toast dressing, string beans, buttered beets, asparagus salad, pineapple ice. (Turkey recipes given Nov. 8.)

Supper—Cold sliced turkey, combination salad of vegetables left over from dinner, including shredded lettuce and diced cucumbers, no dessert.

Friday

Breakfast — Poached eggs on toasted Shredded Wheat Biscuit, baked apple.

Lunch—Buttered carrots and peas, lettuce.

Dinner — Broiled white fish, baked eggplant and tomatoes, celery, no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Oatmeal with butter or cream.

Lunch—Okra and cauliflower au gratin, salad of shredded raw spinach.

Dinner—Tomato bouillon, roast pork, mashed turnips, string beans, combinations salad of tomatoes, cabbage and celery, apricot whip.

*Broiled fish: Select a fish of firm flesh which does not dent upon pressure, and of a wholesome odor. Split, clean in cold water, and dry thoroughly. Have the oven very hot, about 400°, and place the fish on the broiler rack, skin side down. Lower heat after about five minutes to a point where the fish will cook through without burning the outside. This will require about 20 minutes or more, according to the thickness of the fish. When done, remove to hot platter, season with a little parsley butter, and garnish with some crisp raw vegetable. Slices of lemon may be used when the meal does not contain other fruit acids or starches.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Puffs Under Eyes

Question: Mrs. E. H. asks—"What would cause puffiness under the eyes?"

Answer—Puffs under the eyes are usually caused from kidney or heart trouble and I believe the best plan would be for you to have a thorough examination to determine the cause. If you will send me your doctor's report I will be glad to send you advice accordingly, if you will also enclose a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

Sinusoidal Machine

Question: A. M. P. asks—"Where can I purchase a sinusoidal machine?"

Answer—The sinusoidal electrical machines can be purchased at almost any surgical supply house. However, I do not advise them for private use, as the treatment should be administered in a doctor's office under the supervision of someone who thoroughly understands their use.

Compress at Memphis Handles 18,000 Bales

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Memphis Compress has pressed approximately 18,000 bales of cotton up to Wednesday night, this season, most of which for the past two weeks have been shipped in from nearby towns. Forty-five car loads were received by rail last week.

Col. C. T. Matkin, manager, is of the opinion that with favorable weather for the next two weeks all scrap cotton will be cleaned up, leaving only bollies that will require a more severe freeze to open them. He says that he expects to handle about 25,000 bales of cotton this season as compared with approximately 75,000 two years ago. Between 20,000 and 22,000 of this 25,000 will come from Hall county, he said.

Mangum Federated Clubs Participate in Convention

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 21.—The six federated clubs of Mangum were represented at the annual convention of the ninth district Federation of Women's clubs held at the Apache club house at Medicine Park near Lawton this week. Delegates from Mangum were Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. M. N. Hicks, Mrs. Nell Stultz, Mrs. Fred W. Miller, Miss Dora Dean Reed and Miss Reda Taylor. Musical numbers were given by Miss Reed, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Stultz.

Forger Mulcts Seven Concerns at Memphis

Special to The Record News

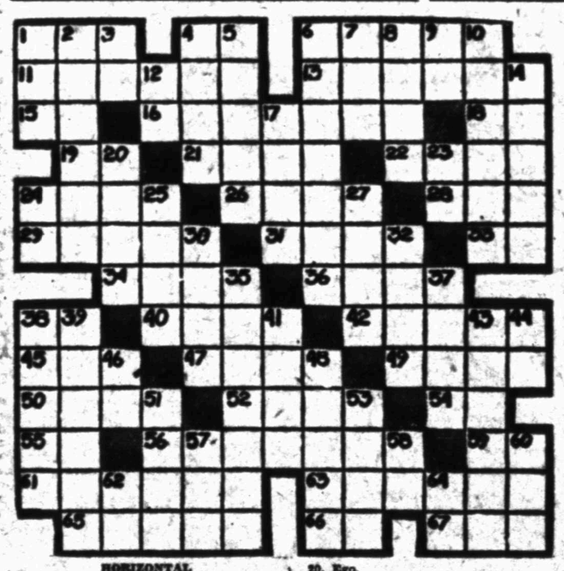

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 21.—Seven Memphis business firms were visited Saturday by bad check "artists" and had forged checks cashed in their places of business, totaling $322.05. In each instance a man dressed as a farmer came into the store, purchased some article and presented the check. It was not learned that the checks had been forged until they had been sent to the Hedley bank, being drawn against the Beaty Gin company of Hedley.

Hall County Schools To Receive $96,677

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Nov. 21.—According to the figures compiled by S. E. Clark, a state supervisor, who has been in the county the past two weeks inspecting the schools, 25 schools of the county will receive the total amount of $96,677 in the form of state aid, apportionments and high school tuition. This includes every school in the county with the exception of Penn creek, which is not eligible for state aid.

ZUNDY COPS CITY CROWN IN SIZZLING GRID BATTLE, 7 TO 0

'STOLEN' PASS ALLOWS TALLY

Polk Streeters Forced to Scrap for Every Inch

By AL PARKER

Zundelowitz' Red and Grey gridiron battlers won the Wichita Falls Junior High school championship yesterday afternoon at Athletic park by defeating Reagan's Redbirds, 7 to 0, in one of the greatest of five annual battles between the two schools. Zundelowitz's victory rode in on the wings of a misdirected Reagan pass in the second period. Burns McKinney, quarterback of the victors, snared the toss that started from Reagan's 20-yard line and carried it to the enemy nine-yard. McKinney then ate up the distance—all but one yard—to the goal line and plunged through Reagan's forwards for the extra point to account for Zundy's total score.

Except for the one break that won the decision, it was an evenly fought duel and the widely heralded superiority of the Zundyites never appeared at any stage of the game. In fact, if these games were decided on yardage gained or first downs, it would have been the Reagan student body instead of the Zundelowitz' that celebrated yesterday far into the night.

Lead in Downs

Zundy's touchdown came in the second period and from then on out the Red and Grey lads nursed their lead carefully and strategically. They took not a chance on the offense and rose to superb defensive heights when Reagan threatened seriously at least twice in the last half. Possibly it was Zundy's extreme caution in maintaining that early advantage that allowed Reagan to amass the greater yardage and to make the deeper impression in an attacking way, but in the final result it makes little difference. Zundelowitz is the champion and the all-time score between the rivals now is squared at two victories each and one tie.

No game in Wichita Falls has ever been fought more seriously. In fact, it became almost too serious near the close and lenient officiating probably had much to do with the fact that only one 15-yard penalty, that for illegal use of hands, was inflicted in the entire game. What these junior high youngsters lacked in size, they more than made up in fighting determination.

Colorful Affair

The two pep squads and the Zundelowitz band added color between halves, with one of the biggest crowds of the season viewing the proceedings from the grandstand. Zundy's pep squad numbered no less than 140. Reagan's was half as big and both proved they were well trained in their performances during the game and between the halves.

Zundelowitz had the best of things through the first period because of consistent gaining in exchanges of punts. McKinney kept his kicks well away from the Reagan safety and outdistanced his rival, Ruby, sufficiently to keep the ball fairly well in the Redbirds' territory throughout the period, but no serious damage was inflicted by either side. Neither could get its attack working for more than a first down at a time.

Zundy failed to take advantage of a chance at the start of the second quarter when an exchange of fumbles, the last one recovered by Tarkenton, gave Zundy the ball on Reagan's 30-yard line. Captain Powell promptly intercepted a pass to stem any touchdown ambitions the foe might have held, and Ruby kicked out of danger. Zundelowitz was forced to punt right back, McKinney booting over the goal line.

Winning Break

Reagan's daring pass on the first play proved disastrous. The toss from Ballard was deflected by one grey-jerseyed defensive player into the arms of McKinney and he sped to the nine-yard line before he was brought down. McKinney made seven yards through Reagan's left tackle. Hines picked up a yard at the same spot and then McKinney plunged over the goal line. On identically the same play McKinney went over for the extra point, and to all intents and purposes that was the football game.

Reagan was just getting a drive under way, with C. Creecy and Stingel leading the way with vicious off tackle thrusts, as the half ended with the ball on Zundelowitz' 26-yard line.

The Redbirds made their supreme bid for a touchdown at the start of the second half. They took the kickoff from their 35-yard line and galloped right up the field to the nine-yard line before it petered out. C. Creecy started it with a 15-yard spin around end to midfield. Ballard hit tackle for eight yards and Stingel made it a first down on the 36-yard line. Creecy and Stingel needed but one play each for another first down 25 yards away. Ballard, Creecy and Stingel picked up 15 yards and Reagan needed but 10 more. Creecy was stopped at the center of the line for only a yard and Hurd, Zundy left end, threw a damper on the Reagan splurge when he downed Creecy for a seven-yard loss. Two passes were incomplete and Zundy took the ball on the 22-yard line, McKinney promptly kicking out of danger.

Bitter Battling

Another exchange of punts marked the finish of the third period, with Reagan outplaying its foes and Zundy apparently willing to let it continue that way so long as those seven points remained posted on the scoreboard.

Early in the period Reagan advanced the ball from its 42-yard line to Zundelowitz' 23, with Creecy getting loose for another 15-yard jaunt around end, but the drive, like all the others of the Redbirds ended far short of the last chalk line.

Two penalties pushed Zundy back after a first down on its own 42-yard line and another swap of punts led up to Reagan's final ineffective spurt. Taking the ball on their own 35-yard line, the Redbirds were stopped 30 yards short of a touchdown. After Stingel had made seven and Ballard one yard, a lateral pass from a forward pass accounted for the longest gain of the day, 30 yards. Stingel forward passed to Ballard and the latter pitched it back to Creecy, who almost got away for the full route, going out of bounds on the 30-yard line. Two passes were incomplete and the complicated forward-lateral pass was worked, but with no gain. One more incomplete pass and the ball went over, Zundy running just one more play before the end of a truly great battle.

McKinney Is Star

McKinney's ability to deliver in the pinches when Zundy took advantage of its one best scoring chance, his excellent kicking and his heedy nursing of his team's early lead stamped him as the hero of the battle, but there were many others. Tarkenton at guard, Hurd at end and Rusk, a ground covering fullback on the defense, played brilliantly for the victors.

Reagan's backfield performed splendidly in all particulars. C. Creecy and Stingel were hard to drive down at all times and both gained with consistency by hard, low running. As well, they, along with Ballard and Ruby, were powerful defensive factors.

Zundelowitz didn't care to risk the chance of pass interceptions and as part of the program to hold its lead, tossed not a time in the entire last half. Of the three attempted in the first half, one was intercepted and two were incomplete. Reagan went to the air 16 times with five complete for a total gain of 53 yards. The only interception was the one that cost the Redbirds the game.

Frog-Bear Battle Today May Settle Southwestern Flag Mixup

Two Star Quarters Drive Trojan Machine With Equal Results

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21. (AP)—A couple of the University of Southern California's quarterbacks have been whooping it up with such gusto that coaches and fans alike are finding it hard to decide which is the better.

The youths are Marshall Duffield, a senior at 20, and Orville Mohler, a sophomore at 21.

For two years the blond giant, Duffield, whose scholastic accomplishments have made him a Rhodes scholar candidate, played the part of the substitute, but this year has started the games.

His accomplishments consist of 371 yards in 71 times he has carried the ball in five games. Eight touchdowns have been chalked up by him. Besides, the "Field Marshall" is a strong, accurate passer, and a good punter.

Even at this pace, which credits Duffield with 5¼ yards a crack, his co-pilot, Mohler, has outdistanced him. He comes of athletic stock, for his father is the famous "Kid" Mohler of baseball.

Orv is a dozen pounds lighter than Duffield, but even at this, due to his wierd, shifting runs, he has meandered 759 yards from 105 starts, making nine touchdowns, and averaging 7 1-5 yards each time he took the ball in his hands.

Like his fellow Trojan signal caller, Mohler is a good passer and punter, and also strong defensively.

While Duffield, because of his experience has been starting the major contests, Mohler's mopping up work has featured every contest the Trojans have entered this season.

Marshall Duffield and Orville Mohler, University of Southern California quarterbacks, have made the term "first stringer" obsolete. Both are stars, rated with the best on the Pacific coast, and considered as equals.

WAURIKA WHIPS RYAN, 27 TO 0

Jefferson County Team In Second Place

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Nov. 21.—Waurika High school advanced into second place in the conference standings today by pounding the Ryan Cowboys 27-0 on the local field in a conference game. The Waurika eleven proved its superiority in every phase of the game and more or less upset the dope bucket with the overwhelming victory.

Scoring honors for the day were divided equally among four of the Waurika leather-luggers. Morrison crossed the line with the pigskin under his arm for the first score. Vickers, Pryor and Boydston followed with a score in each quarter, and Ben Pryor kicked three goals to bring the grand total to 27 points. The entire Waurika team coordinated to turn back the invaders.

As a result of their win, the Waurika aggregation were safely entrenched in the runner-up hole in the conference standing. Temple leads the scramble without a single defeat, keeping their record intact by whipping Rush Springs today 26-0. Next Thursday the Waurika warriors will tangle with the Comanche Indians in the final game of the year on the conference schedule.

Perryton Ends Season Beating Shamrock, 7-0

Special to The Record News.

PERRYTON, Texas, Nov. 21.—Perryton Rangers closed the season here today with a 7 to 0 victory over the heavy Shamrock Irishmen. The game was hard fought and in doubt until the end with the Rangers holding the advantage.

Perryton gained through the line and on short passes while the Irishmen were superior on long passes. The Rangers scored in the third period when Tucker went through tackle for five yards. Bert Banks, star lineman for Shamrock, suffered a broken leg in the third quarter.

HOPPE WINS AGAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Willie Hoppe, world's 18.1 Balkline billiard champion, won the ninth block of his titular match with Welker Cochran today, 549 to 300. Cochran still leads in total points, 2700 to 1988.

Seymour Panthers Trounce Burk, 28-0 And Now Await Clash With Olney Cubs

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Nov. 21.—Coach Elms' Seymour High school Panthers walloped the Burkburnett Bulldogs here today by the score of 28-0 in a conference game. It was the third conference victory for the Cats and should improve their standing considerably in the district scramble.

The Seymourites took the lead early in the game and held it all the way. Hoosier, the speed merchant of the Seymour aggregation, was everywhere at once, spurring his team on and turning in a great individual exhibition. He scored the touchdowns for the winners and was the hero of the day. Each team snared nine first downs, but the winners took advantage of the breaks to score the four counters. Leo Salyer, Bulldog ball-toter, stood head and shoulders above the players of his team. He was the main factor in the Canine defense and offense.

Coach Elms announced his team ready to go against the Olney Cubs, undefeated leaders of the district, next Thursday in their annual Turkey day clash. The Cubs are heavy favorites to win, but the Panthers may toss the proverbial monkey wrench into the well-oiled machine that Coach Acker has formed.

HASKELL TRIMS STAMFORD, 6-0

Half District Championship Is Decided

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Nov. 21.—Haskell High school won the eastern half of the district championship here today by eking out a thrilling 6 to 0 win over the Stamford High aggregation in the last scheduled conference game. The winners will meet Snyder for the championship of the district. The time and place of the championship scrap will be decided Saturday when a committee will hold a special session.

From start to finish the undefeated Haskell eleven played top notch football and the Stamford crew kept the winners on the go every minute of that thrilling hour. Chuck full of thrills and sensational football, the melee threw a big crowd into a frenzy of excitement. It was the best played game of the year and each quarter the fray grew hotter and hotter until it was a hair raising battle for every yard.

Joe Smith plunged over for the lone score of the day, and tonight Haskell murmurs the ball-toter's name with praise and lots of it. Captain Kimbrough, Sherman, and Pittman are others who shared in the spoils of victory and helped the Haskell cause with the best performances of their careers. Bounds and Baker were outstanding for the losers. The entire Stamford team played super football to uphold their record of having their goal line uncrossed this season.

Hollis Scores Early To Defeat Elk City, 9-0

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., Nov. 21.—Jumping off to a fast start the Hollis Tigers closed their home season by letting the Elk City Wildcats down, 9 to 0, today in the next to last conference game for the winners. The Tigers are now nestling in fourth place in the conference scramble.

Coach Joe Medcalf's charges hopped on the Cats ere the opening whistle's echo had faded and pushed over a touchdown and then accepted two points more when the Wildcats carried the ball behind their own goal for a safety. The rest of the battle turned out to be a see-saw affair with neither team threatening seriously to score. Only once did the visitors penetrate the home team's 20-yard marker, and then they were pushed back by a stubborn Tiger line.

Stars were hard to find in either team, but Burkett, Whitesides and Chapman looked unusually good for the victors. Jones and Chapman were inspirations to their mates for the losers.

Dalhart's Wolves Topple Claude

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Dalhart Wolves kept their record clean today by defeating the Claude Mustangs 14 to 0.

The Dalhart goal line has not yet been crossed and they are winners of sections A and B in district 1, blass B, by virtue of their victory over Claude. They will meet Memphis on Thanksgiving day for the district title.

Although the local lads clearly outplayed the visitors the breaks of the game and the penalties inflicted kept the ball in the Mustangs' territory a part of the time. Dalhart scored in the first quarter after a steady march down the field led by Howell, line plunging fullback. In the second quarter a long pass from Reynolds to Williams counted the second touchdown. Williams kicked two perfect after-touchdown goals. Approximately 1,000 people saw the contest.

Ponies Crippled For Assault on Institute

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—After light training during the afternoon, the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, 40 strong, left here tonight for their game tomorrow with the Rice institute Owls at Houston.

Coach Ray Morrison was anything but optimistic as he boarded the train, pointing out that he had always regarded the Rice game as one of the hardest on his schedule and had anticipated a let-down after the Navy game of last week. Among the squad were a quartet of cripples, Weldon Mason, halfback, expected not to play at all, George Koontz, end, whose prospects of play were regarded as doubtful, and Bruce Kattman, halfback, and Alfred Neeley, guard, whom it was believed would not start, but might see some action. Final practice consisted mainly of signal work.

Altus to Play Yukon On Thanksgiving Day

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 21.—On Thanksgiving afternoon the Bulldogs will play Yukon, champion team of the Southern conference. The Turkey day event will be played on the Yukon gridiron at 2:30 p. m.

Under the guidance of Coach Ralph Myers, former assistant coach at Central State Teachers college, the team at Yukon is the best in the history of the school. It has neither been defeated nor tied in the Southern conference this season, and surpasses the Lawton Wolverines by one point. The Wolverines were tied earlier in the season.

Like the Lawton eleven the Yukon gridsters have been defeated only once, and by a non-conference team. They lost to El Reno in a recent fray with a score of 6 to 0.

MUSTANGS OUT TO TAME OWLS

Bruising Longhorns Rest While Four Teams Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 21.—Surviving contenders for the Southwest conference title, numbering five at last count, will be reduced to a select three when two battles scheduled tomorrow have been fought and won.

The maddest scramble the circuit ever has experienced—only a pair of teams definitely eliminated after more than a month of conference play—will be straightened out considerably when the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs engage the Baylor Bears at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist's sprightly Mustangs challenge the Rice Owls on the latter's home lot at Houston.

Each Hopeful

Each of the quartet goes into tomorrow's engagement still hopeful of a shot at the crown. Texas Christian holds the inside track, needing victories in its last two bouts to capture the title, come what may. Southern Methodist and Baylor have not given up hope. If things go right they can tie for the top, just as they did in their private duel, 14 to 14. Some intricate maneuvers with a pencil prove that Rice is not without faint hope. You can prove almost anything with a pencil.

While the four are slashing one another's gullets, so to speak, the all-powerful University of Texas Longhorns will sit back and enjoy the fun. Having crushed Southern Methodist, Baylor and Texas Christian on successive Saturdays, the Steers have nothing to do until Thanksgiving, when they encounter the cellar-dwelling Texas Aggies. Tomorrow they will be pulling for Baylor to trim the Christians, in which event it would be necessary for the Longhorns only to defeat the Farmers to sew up the 1930 flag. The situation is not so complicated once you understand it.

Frog Battle Important

Of tomorrow's twin tilts, that at Fort Worth assumes the more importance. It witnesses the Horned Frogs, striving to become the first team in history to win two successive conference crowns, faced by a veteran Baylor eleven just as determined the Frogs shall not repeat. If the defending champs get over tomorrow's hurdle, they will be accorded a fine chance of whipping Southern Methodist the following Saturday and retaining the big trophy. But they are in a tough spot.

There has been much speculation as to whether the Frogs can shake off last week's 7 to 0 loss to Texas, their first reverse in two years, and play at their best form against Baylor. If they are their old selves tomorrow, they rate favorites over the Bears. They crushed practically the same outfit, 34 to 7, last season. Baylor, however, is stronger than in 1929, having bolstered its wings and perfected a better pass defense, while the Frogs are not quite so potent without their great quarterback, Howard Grubbs. They displayed about equal strength in losing to Texas.

Individual Threats

Both teams will present outstanding individual threats, either of whom might decide the verdict in one flashing run. The Frogs still have Cy Leland, who won last year's contest almost single-handed, and the Bears have dynamic little Jake Wilson, who scored their only touchdown in last season's tussle. Figuring that a player as great as Leland was last year simply cannot go through an entire schedule without tearing loose at least once, many critics are looking for him to get right tomorrow.

Southern Methodist, returned from its conquest of the Navy at Baltimore, will face sterner opposition at Houston. The Mustangs have been installed favorites over Rice, but it would occasion no great surprise if the Owls reversed the charges. Coach Meagher's youngsters proved themselves capable of tripping any outfit that takes them too lightly when they defeated Texas, 6 to 0, a month ago. They exhibited a potent running attack in taking the Aggies, 7 to 0, last Saturday.

The Arkansas Razorbacks remain idle, getting ready for next Thursday's fray with Centenary at Shreveport, their final. They have no further interest in conference warfare.

Aggie Harriers to Meet Conference Foes Today

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Texas Aggie cross-country runners were ready to meet a host of other conference members in the 11th annual Southwest conference cross-country meet tomorrow. The Aggies will defend the title held since 1927 and led by Capt. Dick Winders, leading conference runner, are favorites to capture their fourth straight championship. Visiting teams will arrive tomorrow and all schools except Arkansas will be represented.

School Team Wins Five Games by 6-0 Score

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 21. (AP)—Six is the "point" of the Webbers Falls High school football team and it has been made five times this season, with the score of its opponents exactly 0 on each occasion.

Webbers Falls defeated Porum, 6 to 0, yesterday. It had won four other games by the same score. It lost a sixth game 3 to 6, to St. Joseph's academy here.

What Are the Irish Without Savoldi? Northwestern Will Know Saturday

Notre Dame Meets Purple Clan in Tiny Stadium While Lesser Battles Will Draw Much Heavier

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—There is just one college football battle tomorrow, so far as the national championship situation is concerned, and it will be fought out in suburban Chicago between Northwestern's Wildcats and Notre Dame's Rough Riders.

It brings together two of the greatest unbeaten teams of the year. It will be watched only by some 49,000 spectators at Dyche stadium, although mammoth Soldier field could be sold out to its capacity of around 125,000 if the game could have been shifted there.

The ability of Rockne's Raiders to get along without Joe Savoldi will be at stake in the battle of Evanston.

There Are Others

Although they may arouse much less national frenzy, the two traditional "naturals" of the day, Harvard-Yale at New Haven and Stanford-California at Berkeley, will be played before far larger crowds.

Both promise to be fairly close and hard fought, although Stanford and Yale are conceded slight advantages on the season's records. California and Harvard, after a series of disasters, can be counted on nevertheless to make mighty efforts to pull something out of the wreckage.

The Big Ten season in the Mid-West comes to a close, with Michigan favored to whip Chicago at Ann Arbor and clinch the right of the Wolverines to share the conference championship with Northwestern.

Old rivalries are keen enough to make interesting such other conference games as Ohio State-Illinois, Purdue-Indiana, Minnesota-Wisconsin. Iowa takes on Nebraska in the renewal of another neighborly rival.

Dixie Card Light

Southern gridirons have a breathing spell, so far as the conference championship race is concerned, with Alabama and Tulane setting the pace. These two will be tied, with perfect conference records, if they dispose of Georgia and Louisiana State, respectively, Thanksgiving day.

The Big Six features the classic between Kansas and Missouri. It will be none the less hard fought because of the early season debate over the eligibility of certain Jayhawker players, including Jim Bausch, and the ouster move against Kansas.

Utah in the Rocky Mountain conference and Washington State in the Pacific Coast conference already have clinched their sectional titles, the former for the third straight year.

Iowa Park Exes Beat Hawks, 6-0

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Nov. 21.—In a game that proved to be the best of the year the Iowa Park ex-players defeated the Iowa Park High school Hawks in a practice game before a big crowd here today 6 to 0. The high school lads were outplayed from the start and failed to threaten the ex-players' goal a single time.

Cheeves pushed over the only score of the day to defeat the Hawks. Cheeves was the outstanding performer for the victors and was the mainstay of the ex-players' backfield. Burney and Cobb were powers in the attack and defense of the losers and both played a whale of a game. The Hawks could gather only six first downs while the winners rolled up 12 first and tens.

Southwestern Noses Out Trinity Tigers by 7-6

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Trinity university's failure to kick goal after a touchdown gave Southwestern university a 7-6 victory here this afternoon. "Rusty" Hill of Trinity was the star of the game, going through the Southwestern line at will and gaining more than 140 yards. Autrey of Trinity and Seaman, Mercer and G. Smith of Southwestern also played star games. Southwestern, by reason of its victory today, is tied with Howard Payne college for the Texas conference leadership. The two teams play for the championship at Brownwood, Thanksgiving day.

Fans Besiege Hoover For Army-Navy Tickets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (US)—President Hoover has been besieged with requests for seats for the forthcoming Army-Navy game, it was learned today.

The announcement that Mr. Hoover has bought a block of seats but would be unable to attend, brought 130 letters in which the writers asked that he give them his tickets.

The president, however, already has returned the tickets to the Salvation Army to be resold.

Art Pease Leads Field In Oregon Open Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21. (AP)—Art Pease, Portland golfer, was leading the field as early players finished the first 18 holes in the Oregon open golf championship, which started today. Pease took a 38 on the first nine and repeated for a 76.

Of 60 golfers finishing the first nine holes, Johnny Robbins, Alderwood start, Portland, was tied with Al Espinosa, Chicago pro, with the par score of 36.

Ralls and Floydada Battle to 6-6 Tie

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Ralls High football team battled the Floydada High football team here this afternoon to a 6 to 6 tie. Bryan, quarterback and captain, was the outstanding player on the Ralls team and saved defeat for Ralls with his long punts. Welch was the ball carrier for the Floydada team that crossed the goal line for Floydada's only score.

LAWTON LICKS ALTUS BY 39-0

Wolverines' Power Too Much for Bulldogs

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 21.—Flashing a bone-crushing attack, the Lawton High Wolverines trampled their ancient rivals, Altus High, by the top-heavy count of 39 to 0 at Altus today. After getting off to a rather slow start the Wolverines trampled over the tired Bulldogs for score after score. The victory was the eighth time in the past eight years that the Lawton gridders have beaten the Bulldogs.

The Altus athletes played jam-up football in the first quarter and held the plunging Wolverine backs for downs, but the visitors unlimbered their big guns in the second quarter to run roughshod over the Altus forward wall and ice the game. During the second quarter the Altus eleven, withered by the powerful attack of the winners, weakened still more and the Lawton backs tore off long gains over a fighting but weary bunch of Bulldogs.

Hancock and Captain Valdez were stellar performers for the victors and were constantly a thorn in the side of the losers. Stacy, the 203-pound halfback for the canines, stood out for the home team. Captain Little also turned in a great game from the signal calling position. Hancock scored four times for the winners and Valdez crossed the last white line three times. The entire Lawton team worked well together in the non-conference scrap to uphold their unbeaten record since the Amarillo clash in which the Wolverines went down under a big count.

Austin High Captures District Eight Crown

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—The Austin High school Maroons swept to a district 8 championship today when they defeated the Brownsville High school Eagles 26-6. The Austin backfield, led by Little Beard, ran wild in the final quarter to score three times, after the score had stood at 6-6 at the end of the half.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Hog trade around the 11-market circuit ruled unevenly steady to 25c higher. The day's top of $8.00 was paid at St. Louis. Offerings were around 59,200.

Fat lambs at most markets were steady to 25c higher but a few points that were relatively high Thursday showed losses of as much as 25c. Aged killing classes were unchanged. City butchers in Chicago bought choice native lambs up to $8.50 while $8.25 was realized on choice fed westerns. The supply approximated 38,100.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 10,500. Three loads of well finished 1,469-pound fed Texas steers in Kansas City cleared at $10.00. Short fed steers and yearlings will predominate in the run for several weeks to come and probably will be an up-and-down market on such offerings with demand varying with the volume of receipts.

NOCONA DEFEATS GRAHAM, 20-0, FOR HALF-DISTRICT TITLE

Frederick Hurdles Mangum To Take Southwest Oklahoma Crown

INDIAN BACKS HARD TO STOP

Charging Redskins to Meet Southern Winners

By FRED D. THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 21.—Passes completed at the right time, coupled with the broken field running of a quartet of mighty Indian backs, Cunningham, Evans, Fenoglio and Zachary, whirled the charging Nocona Tribe to a 20 to 0 victory over the Graham Steers here today in a battle to decide the championship of the northern half of district 4 of the interscholastic league's class B circuit.

Nocona, by winning the title in today's game, thereby won the right to represent the northern section in the district championship, to be decided in a game between Nocona and the winner of the Weatherford-Masonic Home of Fort Worth game. The latter game was played today at Weatherford while the Indians and the Steers were scrapping it out here.

Steers Are Outplayed

The Nocona team roundly outplayed the Steers in every department, but the Steers never quit trying. They bucked the heavier Nocona line time and again, Wignall, Wheeler, Harley and Parsley reeling off sensational gains, and the forward passing combination, Harley to Nickols, accounted for some of the most sensational aspects of the aerial phase, a phase incidentally, that was predominant throughout the tilt.

Graham had the best of Nocona in forward passing, completing nine for an average of 20 yards each toss, while Nocona completed seven for an average of 12 yards each. The first down figures, however, tell of the strength of the Indians in no uncertain terms, Nocona piled up 19 to Graham's 11.

Indians Start Early

Nocona started a march to the goal at the very pop of the starting gun, and when the first period ended had the leather on the one-yard line. The Tribe, however, lost the ball at the start of the second quarter on a fumble, and Graham hopes soared to the skies. Graham punted, but the Indians came right back. A forward pass, Evans to Zachary, was instrumental in getting the ball to the 10-yard line, and then Cunningham and Evans did the rest, the latter accounting for the first score of the game. Zachary's try from placement failed.

Zachary Is Star

Zachary from then on was the star of the Nocona offensive, as if he wished to make up for that failure to boot a mere place kick between the posts. He made the other two Nocona touchdowns, one in the third and one in the fourth periods, after long runs and passes had put the ball in position, and he booted both placements for extra points.

Graham made valiant efforts at scoring, two or three times taking the ball within Nocona's 20-yard zone, but there luck failed them. They outfought Nocona in the last stages of the game.

A feature sidelight of the whole affair was the fact that Barry Holton, coach of the Wichita Falls Coyotes, was referee of the game, and two of his former pupils in the football game, Coaches Rhome and Robinson, pilot the Graham Steers. The three had quite a reunion. Robinson played quarterback three years for Holton at Trinity university, and Rhome played right end under Holton at the same institution for four years. The two Trinity products have taught the Graham Steers the same plays Holton taught them at Trinity, and the same plays now in use by the Coyotes at Wichita Falls.

The stands at the Graham High stadium were packed to capacity by a crowd of approximately 2,500 fans, including onlookers from Nocona, Olney, Burkburnett and other nearby towns.

Graham Wins Toss

Graham won the toss and chose to kick to Nocona who defended the south goal. Harley kicked off to Zachery who returned to the 36-yard line. Zachery plunged over left tackle for 25 yards. Evans passed to Zachery for about five yards and Evans plunged over right guard for a couple but Nocona drew a 15-yard penalty setting the ball back on the 42-yard line. A lateral pass, Zachery to Evans, made six yards and another pass evans to Zachery gained about 15 but another penalty was called on Nocona putting the ball back on their 43-yard line. A pass, Evans to Zachery, failed on the fourth down. Evans punted to Wignal who was stopped on his 39-yard.

Wheeler took it out of bounds on the first down. A try at the line failed and Harley punted 70 yards and the ball was killed near the Nocona goal.

Fenoglio and Zachery took turns about to give Nocona first down on their 31-yard line. A line plunge and a short pass didn't gain enough and Nocona punted out of bounds on Graham's 36-yard line.

Pass Intercepted

Cunningham intercepted a Graham pass on the 40-yard line and returned 23 yards to Graham's 36-yard line. Zachery plunged through center for six yards but Nocona drew a 15-yard penalty. A lateral pass failed but Evans made six off tackle. Another pass failed and on the fourth down Evans punted across the Graham goal line.

Graham took the ball on their 20-yard line. Harley went around end for 13 yards and a first down on his 30-yard line. Two line plays gained slightly and then Evans of Nocona intercepted a Graham pass and toured to Graham's 35-yard line. Cunningham sped through a broken field to the left of his line for about 15 yards for a first down on Graham's 30-yard line. A spinner gained slightly but on the next play Fenoglio was thrown for a two-yard loss. Harley of Graham then intercepted a Nocona pass and was downed on his 50-yard line.

Heave Gains

A pass, Harley to Wheeler, netted 11 yards and gave Graham first down on their 39-yard line.

On the next play Graham drew a 15-yard penalty back to their 20-yard line. Harley punted and Cunningham retrieved it on the 50-yard line and ran five yards. Two plays through the line gave Nocona first down on Graham's 36-yard line. Three more line plunges gave Nocona another first down on Graham's 20-yard line. Zachery plunged over center for about five yards. Evans made two over center. Zachery made about two off left tackle. Graham drew a five-yard penalty on the next play giving Nocona a first down and about the five-yard line. Evans ran out of bounds.

Fenoglio failed to gain through the line as the quarter ended with Nocona in possession of the ball on the one-yard line. Score at first quarter Graham nothing, Nocona nothing.

Steer Covers Fumble

When the second quarter opened, Zachery of Nocona fumbled and Graham recovered. Graham's punt from behind the goal line was received by Cunningham, who returned to Graham's 35-yard line. Two line plays gained about eight yards, and Evans then passed to Zachery for first down on Graham's 10-yard line. Cunningham sped off left tackle for about two yards and then Evans dived through center for a touchdown. Zachery's try for place kick failed.

Zachery of Nocona kicked off to Parsley of Graham on his 28-yard line. A long end run gained about two and then the ball was taken outside. A pass, Harley to Wheeler, was incomplete. On the fourth down Harley punted and Zachery recovered in midfield, racing 11 yards to Graham's 39-yard line. Evans passed laterally to Zachery, who gained five and Evans made two off left tackle. Cunningham went off tackle the remainder of the distance and giving Nocona first down on the 30-yard line. A pass, Evans to Zachery, gave them another first down on the 20-yard line.

Pass Intercepted

Two line plays gained about four yards and Evans passed to Zachery for about a yard. Gibbs went in for Bigham. Graham Right Tackle Nichols intercepted a Nocona pass and ran 30 yards bringing the ball back to Graham's 38-yard line. Parsley took the ball from signal on a feint play and bucked nine yards through center. Harley ripped through left tackle for about three yards but Graham drew a penalty, setting them back to the 40-yard line. Parsley bucked left tackle for four yards, a pass failed and on the fourth down Harley punted 55 yards, Cunningham running it out of bounds on Nocona's 20-yard line.

Fenoglio and Evans, on three plays, gave Nocona a first down on their 30-yard line. Zachery bounded off tackle for five yards but on the next play Nocona drew a 15-yard penalty. Two plays later Zachery lunged around right end for a 30-yard gain, giving Nocona first down on the 40-yard line.

Zach Snares Pass

Evans passed to Zachery who raced 20 yards before being downed on Graham's 15-yard line. There the ball was taken out of bounds on the first down. Zachery was thrown for a yard loss on a lateral pass. Another pass was incomplete and Nocona lined up to try for a field goal. Zachery did the booting, but the ball fell short. Graham took the ball on their 20-yard line.

A fake through center gained five but a line play and an attempted pass failed to gain. Then Harley punted and Zachery received it on the 50-yard line where he was downed in his tracks. Fenoglio took it out of bounds on the first play. Then Zachery broke out around left end and circled back through the field for a 30-yard gain, giving Nocona first down on Graham's 19-yard line.

Two line bucks gained only a yard. Hill of Nocona went in for Garrison at left tackle. Nocona again lined up for a field goal and again Zachery's boot fell short, nipping the left goal post below the cross bar. Graham took the ball and Parsley made five yards off tackle. The half ended with Graham in possession of the ball on their 25-yard line.

Score at end of half, Nocona 6, Graham 0.

Harley kicked off to Evans on the latter's goal line and he returned to his 35-yard line, taking the leather out of bounds. Zachary sped off right tackle on a cutback for a 20-yard gain, giving Nocona first down on Graham's 45-yard line. Three line plays netted only eight yards and Evans kicked over the goal line. Graham took it on their 20-yard line.

Wignal gained two yards off right tackle, Wheeler gained a yard on a lunge and then Harley sped around left end for a first down on his 32-yard line. Wheeler gained six yards on a fake through the line and Harley drove over for a first down on Graham's 43-yard line.

Long Shot Fails

A long pass, Harley to Nichols, failed. Line plunge failed to gain. Fenoglio intercepted a Graham pass on his 42-yard line.

Fenoglio went around end for five yards. Evans broke loose around right end for a 45-yard run taking the ball to the nine-yard line for first down and goal to go. Zachary squirmed off left tackle for a touchdown and then placed kicked for the extra point.

Graham Plows Line

Zachary of Nocona kicked off to Gibbs who returned to Graham's 38-yard line. Three line bucks gave Graham first down on the 48-yard line. Harley attempted a pass and it was blocked. Harley passed 35 yards to Nichols, giving Graham first down on Nocona's 25-yard line. Harley went through right tackle twice for a gain of nine yards and then took it again for a first down on Nocona's 15-yard line. Wheeler went through left tackle for two yards, but Wignall was thrown for a three-yard loss. Harley went through right tackle for about five yards. Harley passed to Wheeler behind the goal but it was incomplete on the fourth down and Nocona took the ball on their 20-yard line.

Two plays later, Starbuck of Graham recovered a lateral pass in his 20-yard line. A line play gained, but a five-yard penalty on Graham was called. Two passes failed and Graham drew a 15-yard penalty, putting the ball on Nocona's 39-yard line. Nocona was given the ball on downs and Zachary was thrown for a 10-yard loss. Evans booted and Graham returned to the 50-yard line.

A lateral pass gained two yards. Harley was thrown for a three-yard loss. A pass, Harley to Nickols, netted nine yards, and then Harley kicked to Cunningham of Nocona, who went out of bounds on the Nocona five-yard line. Turney replaced Wheeler of Graham at right halfback. Wheeler was injured. Nocona had it on the 18-yard line at the end of the third quarter. Score at end of third quarter, Nocona 13, Graham 0.

Nocona Kicks

Shortly after the last period opened, Nocona failing to gain on line plays, booted and Graham got the leather on Nocona's 48-yard line. Wignall and Harley were thrown for losses but a pass Harley to Nickols netted 10 yards. Graham lost the ball on the 45-yard line when the next play failed to gain.

Fenoglio and Zachary on two plays a registered a first down on Graham's 45-yard line. Nocona drew a 10-yard penalty but Evans passed to Zachary for 20 yards. Evans then punted over the goal and Graham took the ball on their 20-yard stripe.

Two line plunges and a spinner after Graham had lost on the first play gave the Steers first down on their 25-yard line from where they kicked out of danger. Nocona took it on the 50-yard line.

Zachary gained five through the line and a pass was incomplete. Then Nocona booted, Graham taking the ball on their 15-yard line. Harley's pass to Wignall was incomplete and then Zachary of Nocona intercepted another Graham pass taking it to the 20-yard line.

Graham Penalized

Graham drew a 15-yard penalty for roughing, taking the ball to the five-yard line. Oliver, Graham, replaced Bingham, Steer left guard. Zachary dived over the line for a touchdown and place-kicked the extra point. They lined up and Zachary kicked off to Harley on the 20-yard line, Harley returning to the 38-yard line.

Zachary of Nocona intercepted a pass and returned to Graham's 40-yard line. Then he plunged through center for nine yards. Cunningham and Zachary on two more plays made another first down on the 25-yard line. On the next play Nocona fumbled and Graham got the ball.

A little later, Harley passed to Nickols for a 20-yard gain giving the Steers the ball on their 40-yard line. Another pass was incomplete, but they tried again and gained eight yards. Harley went over right tackle for a first down on Nocona's 45-yard line.

Line Thrust Fails

A line drive failed to gain much and two incompleted passes drew a five-yard penalty. But the Steers, never daunted, passed again, Harley heaving to Nickols for 25 yards, giving Graham first down on Nocona's 25-yard line.

Three plays gained nothing and then Graham drew a 15-yard penalty. A second pass was incomplete, adding five yards more to the penalty column, and the ball went over to Nocona on its 48-yard line. M. Graham went in for Kimbrel, Steer right guard. Two line plays took the ball to Graham's 49-yard line and then the final gun sounded. Final score, Nocona 20, Graham 0.

WEATHERFORD-MASONIC HOME PLAY SCORELESS TIE

The race for the championship of district 4, class B, of the interscholastic league was thrown into a muddle Friday when Weatherford High school battled the Masonic Home of Fort Worth to a scoreless tie at Weatherford.

Associated Press dispatches to The Record News did not state whether the game had been awarded either of the teams on 20-yard penetrations or first downs, as is customary.

The battle was for the championship of the southern half of the district. Nocona defeated Graham Friday, winning the north half championship. The winner was to play the winner of the Weatherford-Masonic Home game for the championship of the entire district.

Oklahoma Fans Turn to Stillwater For Sooner-Aggie Grudge Conflict

BIG SIX CARD

Kansas vs. Missouri at Columbia.
Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater.
Nebraska vs. Iowa at Iowa City.
Kansas Aggies vs. Centre college at Manhattan.
Iowa State vs. Drake at Des Moines.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (UP)—Five football games, every one of them features of the 1930 schedule, will be played tomorrow by Big Six conference teams.

One championship game — the 39th annual clash between Kansas and Missouri—is on the schedule. The other four teams meet intersectional foes from the East and Mid-West.

The Kansas Jayhawkers, slight favorites to win because of their heavy line and "powerhouse" backfield, remained at Booneville, just outside Columbia tonight, while the Tigers were quartered at Westphalia, far from the noise and din of Missouri's annual homecoming celebration. Clear, cold weather, ideal for football, was expected to bring 35,000 to the game.

In the other games, Nebraska ruled a favorite over Iowa and the Kansas Aggie supporters anticipated a victory over the "Praying Colonels" from Centre college. The Oklahoma Sooners were scheduled to meet the Oklahoma Aggies in a game which will decide the state championship. The Oklahomans will be saving their best for the conference game with Missouri Thanksgiving day. A record of 13 consecutive defeats during the last two years has made the Iowa State Cyclones' chances to beat Drake tomorrow less than nothing.

MEMPHIS WINS TOUGH BATTLE

Cyclone Ekes Out 19-14 Win Over White Deer

Special to The Record News

WHITE DEER, Texas, Nov. 21.—Hopping off to a lead in the first few minutes of play the Memphis Cyclone eked out a hard-fought 19-14 victory over the White Deer Bucks here today to win the Class B bi-sectional crown of the Panhandle. The uncrossed goal line of the home team turned out to be a myth when the Cyclones swept over the last white line for three counters. The game was replete with thrills and a fight from start to finish.

Taking the ball on the kickoff, the visitors marched down to the goal line and for the first time this season the Bucks' goal line felt the trod of enemy cleats. The try for extra point was good and the visitors coasted along under a 7-0 lead. Shortly before the half-time gun the White Deer machine began hitting on all four and the result was that the half gun found the scoreboard reading 7-7. In the third period the Cyclone went on another rampage to score two more markers. Neither of the trys for extra point was good and the two elevens went into the final period with the score standing at 19-7 for Memphis. One of these third period scores was the result of a 60-yard dash by Hammond, star Cyclone back. His jaunt carried him to the three-yard marker, where Durrett lugged it across the final white stripe. Striving desperately to get well, the Deer came back to gore the Cyclone and score one more touchdown and kick the extra point. That ended the scoring for the day and Memphis went home with a well-earned victory under their belts.

Coach Nolan Walters pulled a "nifty" on the Bucks when he inserted Hammond, the crippled Cyclone star, in the fray. Hammond's great work in spite of an injury was one of the big factors in the victory for the victors. Both teams frequently brought the stands to their feet with hard tackles and sensational plays. Both machines were of championship calibre and thrilling football was the order of the day.

Dalhart will play the Cyclone for the championship of the Panhandle district.

Newcastle Trounces Bellevue Eleven, 59-0

Special to The Record News.

NEWCASTLE, Texas, Nov. 21.—For the second time this season the Newcastle eleven swept over the Bellevue aggregation to score a 59-0 victory here today. Earlier in the season, Newcastle crushed the Bellevue team by a 24-0 count.

Scoring the majority of their points in the first quarter the Newcastle crew piled up a big lead and sat back to watch the sun shine. After scoring 30 points in the first period the Newcastle mentor replaced his regulars with subs, who carried on the battle with the visitors. The yannigans fought the Bellevuesites on fairly even terms for two quarters and finally gave way to the regulars in the final stanza. The first stringers again started the scoring and scored 29 points in the last quarter.

Coop, star halfback for the winners, got away for several long gains. Once he "flew the coop" and raced 60 yards for a score. Larimore also turned in several nice dashes, touring end once for 50 yards and a score and once for 70 yards and a touchdown. Hennon turned in a great defensive game for the victors.

SNOW CLAIMS VICTIM

LAMAR, Colo., Nov. 21. (UP)—A man about 45 was found frozen to death today in a snowdrift nine miles northeast of Lamar.

D. F. Johnson, a farmer, found the body and called the sheriff who recovered it from the drift.

Centre College Meets Kansans Coached by Its Own 'Bo'

MANHATTAN, Kan., Nov. 21. (AP)—It will be more than just another football game when Centre college, famous little Kentucky school, sends its grid warriors here tomorrow to tangle with the Kansas Aggies.

In the contest Centre will attempt to defeat a football team coached by its most illustrious athlete—Alvin N. "Bo" McMillin, all-America quarterback of a decade ago.

McMillin led Centre to victories over Harvard and over West Virginia when the Mountaineers in 1919 were picked by the late Walter Camp as national champions before the upset by the "Praying Colonels."

The Centre-Aggie game this year was arranged largely because of McMillin's former connection with the Kentucky college, for unless the Colonels have improved much over 1928 when they came into the Big Six conference and lost to Missouri 60 to 0, the result will not be much in doubt.

Among the Aggie players who will make it extremely hard going for Centre are Henry Cronkite and Price Swartz. Cronkite, part Indian, is one of the best tackles in the Big Six and in addition does much of the punting.

Swartz plays end, halfback and fullback, sometimes all in one game, and opponents never know whether to watch him as a ball carrier, pass receiver or a blocker.

Here are two players who will be fighting for Alvin N. "Bo" McMillin, Kansas Aggie coach, when he sends his team against his alma mater, Centre college of Kentucky, Nov. 22.

CROWELL WINS OVER MUNDAY

Wildcats Get Revenge From Earlier Defeat

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Nov. 21.—Crowell High school's Wildcats took generous revenge for an early-season defeat here Friday afternoon when they decisively derailed the Munday High school Moguls by a count of 20 to 7.

Several weeks ago, playing on the Munday field, Crowell succumbed by a score of 6 to 0 in a battle as closely waged as the score indicates. Friday afternoon the locals held the visitors safely in check with the exception of a brief period in the third quarter, when Munday's speed-merchant, Captain Pruitt, stepped through and around various Wildcats for a touchdown.

Crowell served notice of its intentions early in the game, inaugurating a steady charge after the first kickoff to carry the ball to the Munday six-yard stripe. There Todd tossed a lateral pass to Cooper, who placed it back of the visitor's goal for the first score. An attempt to add the extra point by forward pass failed.

Completing her scoring in the first half, Crowell added the second touchdown when Lanier, safety man, received a long Munday punt and eluded all enemy tacklers in a 47-yard sprint across the line. Todd plunged the extra point. Score, 13 to 0. Taking up the attack again after the kickoff, Crowell marched down to the Munday 15-yard line, where Todd flipped another pass to J. Crowell just over the goal line. Todd also added the point with a place kick.

Crowell's first downs numbered 13 to Munday's 10. The proportion of yardage gained was more in keeping with the score, however.

Tense Feeling Forces Leopard Hearing Delay

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 21. (UP)—Hearing on a negligent homicide charge filed against Charles Howard, owner of a leopard that killed a child at Littlefield Saturday night, was delayed today due to tense feeling among citizens here and at Littlefield.

Howard is held in jail at Plainview while relatives and friends mourn the death of 4-year-old James Elvins, who was fatally clayed by Howard's leopard which was on exhibition in a store.

The animal was rushed from the town and placed in a zoo at Clovis, N. M., after the tragedy. Threats to take the leopard from the zoo and kill it and to punish the owner were reported to officers. The huge cat attacked another child at Canyon, a month ago, officials said.

Corpus Christi Man Heads South Texas C.-C

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 21. (UP)—W. Grady Kilsolving, Corpus Christi, was re-elected president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce at the fourth annual directors and membership meeting here late today.

Ray Leeman, Corpus Christi, was named executive vice president and general manager. More than 50 persons attended the meeting, including E. B. Neiswanger and Porter Whaley, San Antonio; Lewis Mimms, Freeport; Wayne Wood and G. C. Richardson, Brownsville; H. B. Baldwin and Richard Kleberg, Corpus Christi, and J. O. Huggins, Houston.

Bowie Humbles Jacksboro, 13 to 7, To Clinch Fourth Place in Section

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Nov. 21.—In a game which kept a fair-sized crowd on its toes with constant threats of fireworks, Bowie High school Friday afternoon established itself in fourth place in this half of district 4 by trouncing Jacksboro High school by a score of 13 to 7.

Kincer led the attack by which Bowie contrived to put over two touchdowns. In the second quarter, within one minute of the half-way mark, he blocked a Jacksboro punt on the visitor's eight-yard line, and covered the ball behind the Jacksboro goal line. McDonald of Bowie drop-kicked successfully for the extra point.

In the third quarter, after Bowie had worked the ball to the enemy's 30-yard stripe, Kincer resorted to the ancient hiding-out trick and when the ball was snapped, took a pretty heave from Hachtel to score the second counter.

Jacksboro's lone touchdown came in the third quarter, when a Bowie pass fell into a visitor's hands, a 25-yard sprint following for the score. Bowie was offside to award the extra point.

Bowie High school is seeking an opponent for a game here on Thanksgiving day.

HARLINGEN, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Harlingen's Cardinals won the class B football championship of the Rio Grande Valley here today by defeating Weslaco 25-0.

JIM M'LARNIN TAKES BEATING

Billy Petrolle Laces West Coast Fighter

By JOSEPH S. ROGERS
Universal Service Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—You could not recognize Jimmy McLarnin's baby face when Billy Petrolle got through hammering it tonight at the Madison Square garden.

The Californian took a bad beating from the Fargo Express in 10 rounds of the most exciting and gruesome milling seen in these parts for many a day.

The result was never in doubt after the fourth round when Petrolle twice dropped McLarnin for the count of nine. Jimmy rallied a trifle at certain stages of the closing rounds, but it was a feeble, though game effort.

McLarnin took everything Petrolle had to offer, which was plenty. His nose and mouth bleeding, his both eyes blackened, McLarnin fought back with all he had, but he didn't have nearly enough.

When Petrolle was awarded the well earned decision, it marked the third big upset in recent fights here. McLarnin was a 3 to 1 favorite before the bout.

LOUGHRAN WINS OVER LEVINSKY

CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (UP)—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, former light heavyweight champion, easily outpointed King Levinsky, young Chicago heavyweight in an 10-round bout here tonight. Loughran weighed 182½; Levinsky 203½.

The estimated attendance was 13,420 and the receipts $38,750.

Loughran won every round except the fourth which was about even. Throughout Loughran jabbed and cuffed Levinsky about the ring, making him look like a novice.

TILLMAN CLAN WINS BY 21-7

Mangum Fights Bitterly To Uphold Dope

By R. H. WESSELL
Record News Correspondent

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 21.—Mangum, final hurdle in the Southwest Oklahoma Scholastic association football conference, was successfully negotiated by the Frederick Bearcats Friday afternoon, score ending 21 to 7.

This is the second time that Frederick has won the pennant. The first being in 1928.

Mangum Favorite

Coach Raymond Swartz's Mangum athletes, because of their string of 10 straight victories and weight, were expected to have a little the best of the contest and the first few minutes seemed to show this was true.

After the ball had changed hands several times with little gains Healy for Mangum circled Frederick's right end for 30 yards. This ended Mangum's gains and Coach Allen's Bearcats started hostilities. Clark, Steinbeck, Caldwell and Byrns taking turns in advancing the ball until Byrns plunged the line for the first touchdown. A pass, Byrns to Steinbeck, resulted in the additional point. The lead for the locals was shortlived, a pass, Mayfield to Cotten gave Mangum another point and the score was tied, 7 to 7.

Star End Hurt

Early in the second half Pope, Frederick's brilliant end was taken out of the game for the first time this season, because of an injury and it began to look bad for the Bearcats.

However, the shifty Steinbeck who had been hurt was again put in the game and Frederick stock picked up.

No scoring was done during the second and third quarters. In the final with but a few minutes more of play it looked like the game would end in a tie. At this point Captain Clark's men pulled themselves together and by hard line playing, the oval was carried toward the Mangum goal. Addison finally went around left end for a touchdown and Clark kicked goal for the added point. Score, 14 to 7.

Mangum Hurls Ball

Mangum played desperately and sought to overcome the lead by aerial football in which that team had proved successful, but one of the passes was caught by Clark who plowed through Mangum's line for 30 yards. In a short time Byrns went over for the last touchdown, the added point being kicked making the score 21 to 7.

The game was played under ideal football weather before the largest crowd assembled on the Frederick gridiron in several years, many being here from Mangum and other points.

Stars for Mangum were Healy, Mayfield, Busby and Cotten. Frederick's entire line did exceptional work, especially Cecil Billingsley at center, and Steinbeck did the bulk of the ball carrying. Addison and Pondrom doing their share when called on.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Rallies from an opening decline in cotton were followed by reactions in the cotton market today under a renewal of liquidation and some southern selling. March contract after selling off to 11.20 early, rallied to 11.26 and closed at 11.19, compared with 11.25 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 9 points lower.

The census report showed 11,962,264 bales ginned prior to Nov. 14 which was slightly above recent private estimates, but they appeared to have only a momentary effect on the market during the early trading. The chief feature in the trading, apparently, was the continued liquidation of December in the progress of which first time shorts and then the lows seemed to be taking the initiative. At the close new December was 67 points under May compared with a difference of 74 points at the end of the previous day.

Liverpool cables said hedging had been absorbed by covering and continental buying in that market. Exports today 27,680, making 2,966,492 so far this season. Port receipts 58,460. U. S. port stocks 4,009,633.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (AP)—There was moderately active trading in the cotton market here today due largely to liquidation of the December position and transfer of the short interest from the near months to the more distant positions. After an early decline of 6 to 10 points, owing to lower cables than due and a rather bearish census report on ginnings, the market rallied on near months, shorts covering gaining 8 to 9 points, but lost most of the gain during the afternoon on week-end liquidation. The close was only a few points above the lows and was called steady, the general market showing net declines for the day of 3 to 8 points.

Liverpool cables came in 1 penny worse than due and private cables reported hedge selling against which there was covering by shorts. The census bureau reported at the opening of the market total ginnings prior to Nov. 15 were 11,962,364 running bales. This total was larger than expected the ginnings for the last period totaled 1,088,763 as compared with 1,611,530 for the corresponding period last year. As a result of the cables and the larger ginnings December declined to 10.79 or 6 points down and the later months lost 7 to 10 points.

The market later rallied on near months, shorts covering and transferring to later positions and by the time the demand was satisfied prices had rallied 8 to 9 points with January at 11.02.

The market was some easier in the early afternoon on week-end liquidation, easing off 5 to 7 points from the highs. The market continued to fluctuate narrowly in the late trading and nearer the lows than the highs owing to evening up in advance of notice day for December which will be Monday. December closed at 10.82 or only 3 points above the lows and 3 points net lower for the day while January and March closed 7 points net lower.

Port receipts 72,569, for week 357,222, for season 5,653,500, last season 5,343,719. Exports 29,533, for week 257,438, for season 2,885,474, last season 2,928,082, port stocks 4,068,072, last year 2,530,999. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 119,928, last year 129,540. Spot sales at southern markets 28,650, last year 30,552.

Swift Advance of Rail Shares Holds Spotlight in Rising Stock Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (US)—Further gains were recorded in the stock market today with a sudden and swift advance of railroad shares featuring the final hour of trading.

The industrial and utility shares had maintained their previous pace of steady, persistent advance into new high ground, but in the early hours the railroad shares were rather backward. As the final hour commenced, however, there was a substantial increase in demand for the Rails and final prices of many leading issues of the group were three to five points higher for the day. Their sudden jump to prominence was explained by the disclosure that the western systems plan a concerted appeal to Washington for higher rates, combined with greater appreciation of the merger possibilities in the East.

It is also likely, of course, that short covering had no little part in the Rail shares' rapid advances, since a highly professional short account had been built up in this group for several months. Only in recent weeks has a public interest been attracted to the Rails on the bear side. Chicago grain prices continued firm, though the financial community remains distrustful of their permanence.

The market's performance, guided by the most intelligent bull sponsorship enjoyed in years, continued to confound the bears. There is no question but that the very action of the market itself is winning support from former skeptics. The manner in which one group after another, the Coppers, the Steels, the Motors, the Rails, are taken in hand for brief periods of leadership, emphasize that a preconceived program is in operation. Steel common, still under the impetus of the anticipated price advances in the industry's products, reached a new high price for the recovery. Speculators generally concede that the stock is at a level where its immediate progress on the upside will be dependent for relative permanency upon concrete developments within the industry. On any substantial setback, however, there will be semi-investment demand.

Baltimore & Ohio enjoyed one of the sharpest recoveries in the entire rail group. Buying of the stock around its lows, recorded here, virtually cleared the market of offerings, and when shorts attempted to cover the price recovered rapidly, to close up over five points. Its $7 dividend returns an abnormally high yield and while its safety of course is open to question, in view of low railway earnings, the buying was based on belief that a reduction in the rate had been fully discounted around the low prices.

New York Central, Atchison, Pennsylvania and virtually the entire list of Rails, with one or two special exceptions, participated in the recovery. Pennsylvania's three-point advance undoubtedly was helped along considerably by short covering, since the stock had been a favorite sale for those who emphasize the substantial depreciation in some of its investments.

Rubber shares and the Motors were in continued demand, chiefly on hopes that the next few months will mark the lowest point in their depression. Chrysler continued a feature of the Motor group, although substantial profit-taking was attracted by its relatively sharp gain from the low. The Coppers were quiet.

Encouraged by the market's sustained strength over the past fortnight many pools have been hurriedly formed to take advantage of the new conditions. Vanadium certainly reflects pool manipulation, since it is known that the company's business continues at a very low scale. Worthington Pump reflects renewed sponsorship by important interests impressed by the stock's possibilities. Remington-Rand is responding to pool activity, although this stock has won support in other quarters because of the severe deflation, it has passed through and the strong current capital position of the company.

Ingersoll-Rand, which attained a new high representing an advance of 35 points from its low of the year, likewise reflects activity of manipulators operating chiefly against the small short interest in the stock.

Widespread tips on the stock failed to attract buying, but the loaning supply of the stock was tied up so closely as to force at one time a two per cent premium to borrow the stock. Such a borrowing rate for stock of a company having a million shares outstanding indicates the true character of the current market.

Macy held steady on reports that more aggressive sponsorship will develop in anticipation of a more active retail buying season prior to the holidays. Montgomery-Ward was a feature of strength throughout the day. Its strength was one of the most cheering developments of recent sessions. The market has been acting thoroughly in accordance with the most optimistic expectations, even surprising many bulls.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21. (AP)—Fair demand for wheat featured the cash grain market today. Other grains were slow. Prices continued a matter of individual views of buyers and sellers with quotations based on last posted sales largely nominal. No. 1 hard wheat delivered Texas common points, freight paid, was probably worth 80½@81½c. Estimated receipts: Wheat, 6 cars; corn, 4; oats, 2; barley, 2, and sorghums, 7.

Bids and offers on cash grains ranged about as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 81@82c; No. 2 white or yellow 87@88c.

Oats—No. 2 red 46@47c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.22@1.24; No. 2 kaffir $1.17@1.19.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (AP)—Rising prices for wheat went hand in hand today with reports that the volume of domestic flour trade had broadened. Persistent rumors of a revolt in Russia received more or less notice also, as well as talk of canceling of Black Sea grain vessel charters, suggesting curtailment of wheat shipments from Russia. A fresh advance of ½c in prices that United States government sponsored agencies were bidding for some Chicago wheat future deliveries counted further as a market stimulus.

After an advance to nearly 6 cents above low prices current here Nov. 10, the wheat market closed unsettled ⅝@1⅛c higher than yesterday's finish, but fractionally below today's best figures. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛c up, with oats showing 1½@2c advance, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents lower.

Throughout the day a notable dearth of any unusual selling pressure existed in the wheat pit here, contrasting strongly with semi-demoralized throwing overboard of future delivery holdings that recently had been evident from various sources.

Corn values met with good buying support on all setbacks from upturns that paralleled the rise of the wheat market. Rather heavy selling of corn future deliveries took place, however, on the extreme bulges in price.

Scattered selling eased the provision market, despite upturns both in hog values and in grain.

Closing Indemnities: Wheat—Dec., 74⅛@74⅛; 75¼; March 76@77⅝; May 77⅞@78@79¼c; July 74⅝@76½@76¾c.

Corn—Dec. 73c, 75⅜@75½c; March 74⅝@77⅜@77½c; May 76⅜@77@79⅛@79¼c; July offers 80.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (US)—With the consistent reaction at Winnipeg since the recent demoralization, wheat traders feel that the speculative buying element has come into the market to take advantage of extremely low prices.

Winnipeg traders have been assured that there will be no demoralized dumping of wheat as arrangements have been made to protect margins of loans, at least until the government has an opportunity to act. Meanwhile the situation remains unchanged awaiting the return of Premier Bennett, who is scheduled to sail for home at the end of the month.

One of the outstanding features of strength in the corn market, local bulls feel, is the fact that speculative interest on the buying side shows signs of increasing. This is ascribed to both the prospect for less favorable weather and the inclination of local traders to move into smaller pits with domestic prices for wheat above the world level.

Experiments conducted at the University of Illinois prove that feeding with wheat in combination with coarse grains shows superior results, it was reported.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The current moderate demand for wool includes some 58, 60's but very little of the lower grades. Strictly combing 58, 60's territory graded wool bring 67 to 70c scoured basis for the bulk. Ohio fleece wools of similar grade and class bring mostly 29 to 30c in the grease or 63 to 67c, scoured basis. An occasional sale is being reported on strictly combing 56's territory wool at 57 to 60c scoured. Offerings of strictly combing territory 48, 50's are quiet but asking prices on good wool are fairly firm at 55 to 56 cents, scoured basis.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Cotton goods were quiet today, with prices easier on gray cloths. Printed wash goods were selling moderately. Rayon guarantees to hold prices 60 days are now general. Demand for rayon yards was light. Wool goods were slow and dress goods less active. Burlaps were steady and in light demand. Raw silk was quiet. Cables showed 109,770 bales of raw silk held by Japan government, and 27,950 in free stock in Japan. Silk goods were quiet.

Phone Your Classified Ads to

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. of same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all except the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

Faculty Members Reveal Ignorance on Vital Questions

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 21. (UP)—Newcomb college freshmen decided to submit a list of questions to faculty members for a change, and some of the answers reported today were:

Primo Carnera is a dancer.

Clara Bow is a brunet.

Gloria Swanson is a blond.

A "blind date" means a day "when you hadn't any engagements set for it."

No one knew what "boop-oop-a-doop" was all about.

NOOSE VOTED FOR MEADOWS

Aged Watchman Sentenced In Hotel Fire

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21. (INS)—Andrew B. Meadows, gray-haired former night watchman of the Buckingham Annex hotel today was sentenced to be hung on Jan. 9, 1931.

The death sentence resulted from Meadows' conviction on charges of first degree murder on Oct. 17, in connection with first degree murder charges growing out of the fire at the Buckingham Annex hotel Dec. 5, 1927, when seven persons lost their lives.

Meadows was arrested last January following the belated exposure of an alleged arson plot in connection with the hotel fire.

Ralph Pierson, and Lewis E. Balson, co-owners of the Buckingham Annex and R. H. Cotham, a night clerk, all charged with capital offenses as the result of the disclosures of the alleged arson plot, are awaiting trial.

REFINERS TO STEADY PRICES

North Texans Set Scale At 4 3-4 Cents

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 21.—A move to stabilize the refinery market of the Mid-Continent area is under way, according to current reports. The movement, while in progress for the last two weeks, according to refiners, gained impetus following the stabilizing of price in the North Central Texas and West Texas districts refiners setting the price of gasoline at 4¾ cents. The spot market was still extremely soft Thursday, with few inquiries and fewer sales. Any stuff moving is rumored to have moved at prices under current quotations. Major independent refiners continue to hold the price at 5¼ cents with 4¾ cents a gallon for the minimum mark.

Contract shipments are maintaining an extraordinary level for this time of year, according to practically all refiners. The contract price in many instances is as much as one-half a cent above the spot market quotations.

Refiners have no explanation for the continuation of good contract shipments, other than the long period of fair weather over the Mississippi valley. It might also be explained by the opening of through highways in the plains states which make weather of little consideration in automobile travel.

Kerosene is reported to be lively on the market with both domestic inquiries and shipments strong. Refiners report an advance of one-eighth of a cent for 41-43 gravity water or 3⅝ cents a gallon against 3¼ cents a gallon, in tank car lots. The price is holding steady, and little increase in the supply is reported.

Shipments of natural gasolines in the double B and double A grades continue firm to strong, with the price steady at 4½ cents a gallon by some manufacturers for all grades, while other manufactures are quoting 4¼ cents a gallon for the double B. Inquiry develops that there is little of grade A in existence and that the product brings a premium in price.

With falling temperatures from the Mississippi to the Rocky mountains, increased inquiry is expected to develop for burning oils, in the fuel oils, distillates and the better furnace oils, although there is no effect apparent now.

ACCEPTS PASTORATES

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Nov. 21.—Geo. T. Palmer, pastor of the Methodist church, South, at Floydada for the past two years, has accepted the pastorate of the local church and will preach his first sermon here Sunday. Rev. W. L. Hamilton, who has had charge of the local church during the past two years, has moved to Chillicothe.

SERVICES FOR MRS. ANDRADE

Death Claims Mother Of Mrs. Al Ellis

Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah E. Andrade, 75, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Al Ellis, 2904 Ninth street, Thursday night at 10 o'clock, will be held from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following the services, the body will be forwarded to San Antonio for cremation after which the remains will be sent to Oakland, Calif., to be placed in the family vault in the Mt. View cemetery.

Mrs. Andrade is the widow of the late Joseph S. Andrade of Oakland. She was born in Boston, Mass., Nov. 14, 1855, and had been a resident of Wichita Falls since 1920, having made her home with her only living child, Mrs. Ellis.

Honorary pallbearers will include W. D. Cline, Frank Collier, L. G. Hawkins, R. E. Shepherd, Guy Rogers, M. D. Rowe, C. A. Richardson, J. W. Akin, W. J. Morgareidge, J. M. Spoonts, Lester Jones, Dr. J. H. Fletcher, C. A. Rogers, W. H. Caldwell, Ed Peterson, W. B. Hamilton, S. A. Gaines, Kindel Paulk, E. W. L. Spencer, C. C. Randel, P. B. Curd, G. W. Curd, G. W. Creek Recount Fight Reaches District Court

SAPULPA, Okla., Nov. 21. (UP)—Creek county's latest election dispute was taken to district court today with the filing of mandamus actions against the county election board by three defeated Republican candidates.

The candidates, Wallace F. Pardoe, candidate for superior judge; Mrs. Hallie Peters, candidate for county superintendent of schools, and D. B. Livingston, candidate for sheriff, charged the election board with arbitrarily refusing to hear their petitions for recount.

District Judge Fred A. Speakman set the mandamus action for hearing Nov. 28. Members of the election board are D. C. Sellers, Shamrock, chairman; H. I. Head, Sapulpa, secretary, and Dr. Charles T. Shrader, Bristow. Shrader is the only Republican member.

John Barrymore Denies Rumors of His Illness

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21. (UP)—Like the famous rumor of Mark Twain's death, reports John Barrymore was seriously ill in Guatemala were greatly exaggerated. His studio had a wire from the film actor today.

"Took long horse back trip into the interior," it read. "Laid up few days with fever. Perfectly all right now."

Barrymore and his actress-wife, Dolores Costello, are on a yacht cruise down the west coast of Central America. They are due to call soon at San Salvador.

At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

MAJESTIC: Warner Baxter in "Renegades." Short subjects and sound news.

STRAND: "The Big Trail" with John Wayne, Marguerite Churchill and Tully Marshall. Silly symphony and sound news.

STATE: Carol Lombard, Frank Morgan and Miriam Hopkins in "Fast and Loose." Short subjects and sound news.

GEM: Buffalo Bill Jr. in "South of Sonora." Chapter 10 of "The Indians Are Coming." Comedy.

Reality is the keynote of "The Big Trail" as it has never been in any other pioneer picture. In no other epic of covered wagon days have the Indians been so horribly true, the storms so cold and wet, the desert so hot and long.

Especially is this true in characterization. John Wayne doesn't look like John Wayne playing Breck Coleman; he is Breck Coleman. Marguerite Churchill is Ruth Cameron, and, although the heroine, doesn't even have a fresh wave-set for the long journey across the prairies. Other heroines may have been more beautiful, but Miss Churchill evidently didn't step out of a beauty parlor into the sunbonnet and homespun dress . . . and for once, there was a real pioneer woman.

Incidentally, the chief distinction between "The Big Trail" and other pioneer pictures such as "The Covered Wagon" is not so much the fact that "The Big Trail" is the first talkie of that type; the sight-interest is still predominant, talkie or no talkie. The real difference is that for the first time, real pioneer women are shown. They are not the delicate Hollywood morons; they are hardy, stoic, almost-Amazon women such as our own pioneer grandmothers had to be. They fell trees and shoot Indians and drive teams. They are like the famous Oklahoma statue of "A Pioneer Woman."

El Brendel and his "yackass" relieve the two-hour strain of traveling from the Mississippi river to Oregon through Indian fights and storms by their frequent delightful comedy—almost slapstick but good, nevertheless.

Georgeous photography—lacking only in color—is found throughout. One breath-taking scene shows the caravan descending the almost perpendicular wall of a canyon; another shows the lighter wagons overturning in a swollen stream; still another is a real Indian fight, enhanced terribly by the screams of the warring Cheyennes.

Douglas MacArthur Takes Chief-of-Staff Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (INS)—Douglas MacArthur, youngest major general in the army, today took over the post of chief of staff, succeeding Gen. Charles P. Summerall, whose four-year term expired yesterday, and assumed the temporary rank of general.

He comes from a long line of army stock, and his colorful career has won him acclaim and honors that have been given to few at his age. He is 50.

MacArthur commanded the famous Rainbow division in the world war, and won the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Service Medal with citations for extraordinary bravery and valor.

BOY RELEASED

The boy turned over to Juvenile Officer J. A. McDonald Thursday by city officers suspected of shoplifting was released Friday, it was announced. Detected in a local store with two apparently new pocket knives in his possession, the boy was turned over to city police by management of the establishment, Mr. McDonald said.

DAIRY INSPECTION

H. E. Hargis, state health inspector of Austin, is in Wichita Falls inspecting dairies. He will leave for his home in Austin Saturday.

FARM SALE

Home Products Offered By Demonstration Council

Products of Wichita county farms, assembled under the direction of the Wichita county home demonstration council, will be offered to the public at a Thanksgiving market to be opened in the old J. C. Penney building on Eighth street next Tuesday, Nov. 25, it was announced Friday by Miss Ethel Louise Webb, county home demonstration agent.

Products to be offered at the market will include country eggs, butter, salad dressing, pepper hash, dressed turkeys, fruit cake and plum pudding.

MANY ATTEND FARM SCHOOL

Terracing Demonstration Draws Crowd

Several hundred Wichita county farmers were estimated to have visited the W. W. Overbey farm, one and one-half miles north of Iowa Park, during the all-day terracing demonstration staged there Friday by G. C. McGown, county farm agent.

Visitors included farmers and business men from the Electra, Burkburnett, and Wichita Falls communities, it was said. The demonstration used two gullied fields, and Mr. McGown explained the use of the level in preparing the land for terracing. Construction of terraces from the standpoint of laying them out also was explained to those present.

A Corsicana grader and a Martin ditcher were used in the demonstration, it was said. Power was furnished by the Barbour-Park Implement company and by Gayle Lowrance.

BURK POLICE ARREST PAIR

Two Accused of Burglary Of Store

Roy Foster and Bill Gokey, said to be residents of Burkburnett, were placed in the Wichita county jail following their arrest by Chief of Police Bill Garland of Burkburnett on charges of burglary in connection with the theft of about $80 worth of miscellaneous merchandise from a store in that city Thursday night, according to Sheriff W. G. Bralley.

Arraigned before O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, after complaints had been filed with District Attorney Sam B. Spence, the two men waived preliminary hearing, and their bond was set at $1,000 each. Both remained in jail late Friday evening. A statement was given the district attorney by Gokey.

Merchandise stolen from the store, Chief Garland said, included confectionery goods, cigarets, gun shells, and other items classed as readily salable.

Survey Shows Business Gain

Eighteen States Report Improvement

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (INS)—A survey of industrial conditions in 18 states today revealed general business improvements and some betterment in the employment situation. The survey was made by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The 18 states were California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Utah, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Washington, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Georgia.

Lindberghs to Visit South America by Air

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (US)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh are planning an airplane trip to South America, although the details are still to be worked out.

The flying colonel who, with his wife, is a delegate to the White House conference on child health and welfare, told friends today that he is contemplating the flight. He said:

"Mrs. Lindbergh and I are looking forward to making an airplane trip through South America, touching those countries I did not visit in 1927."
