Precautions Taken To Guard Caverly

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Threats against Judge John R. Caverly, retiring chief justice of the criminal court in Cook county, have become so numerous that extra precautons will be taken to safeguard him Sept. 10, when he is to sentence Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb for the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks.

The threats came from advocates of both the death and life imprisonment penalties. One crank wrote he would kill the judge and both defendants if a hanging finding is returned. Another said he would blow up the building unless the student criminals are sent to the scaffold.

Doherty Loses His Vanderbilt Fight

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Henry L. Doheity, financier and organizer of the defunct empire transportation and oil corporation, today lost a court fight to cause dismissal of the two actions brought against him by William K. Vanderbilt, Benjamin F. Yoakum and Ernest Langley Bentley.

The suits had their origin in Doherty's alleged mismanagement of the company, organized to control Mexican oil properties and leases owned by Vanderbilt, Yoakum and Bentley.

Attorney for the plaintiffs have asked an accounting of Doherty's conduct of the company, alleging that the concern was wrecked through his mismanagements and its assets sold at a loss to them of almost $10,000,000.

MENTION COPLIN FOR GAS CHAIR

Wichita Falls Man Said To Be Slated to Succeed Gatesville Man at Capitol

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 28.—T. L. Coplin of Wichita Falls, deputy supervisor, will likely become the next chief supervisor of the oil and gas conservation bureau, of the state railroad commission, it is understood here.

The election of Lon A. Smith to the commission over the present member, W. A. Nabors, will probably mean Mr. Coplin's appointment when a change is made in the office of chief supervisor, it was said. That change may come as soon as Mr. Smith takes office next January 20.

Chairman Clarence E. Gilmore has for a long while been known to favor Mr. Coplin for the office. He voted for him, it was said, when R. B. Walthall was selected by Commissioner Splawn and Nabors, shortly after they were placed on the commission by Governor Neff, and again recently when Judge H. E. Bell of Gatesville, member of the legislature, was selected to succeed Walthall, who was transferred to a six-year office.

Mr. Gilmore declared in stating he did not vote for Walthall, that he wanted a man experienced in the oil and gas bureau work in the office.

Commissioner Smith has been nominated by the people; and will not be bound to vote along with the governor's appointees on the commission. As a new member, he may accede to the views of the commissioners now on the board; and it is said the chairman of the commission still wants Coplin as chief of the oil and gas bureau.

Mr. Coplin could not be reached in Wichita Falls Thursday night.

$5,000 SALARIES FOR SENATORS, PARNELL'S PLAN

More money for state senators and legislators.

Such will be the plan of J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls, just nominated to be state senator from this district, according to a dispatch from Austin yesterday.

Parnell, while at Austin this week is quoted in the dispatch as saying that outside of favoring a constitutional amendment to reduce the size of the legislature and reorganize it, he is in favor of the legislature passing as few laws as possible, "if any," and going home within sixty days. He says the general appropriation bills should be passed at the regular session and there should not be any extra sessions.

"I am against any more laws, for we have enough," he declared. His joint resolution to amend the Constitution would reduce the house from 150 to 60 members and the senate from 31 to 21 members and pay the members $5,000 per annum. It would make them subject to call at any time and sit until their work is finished without a per diem basis of pay.

Babe Leopold Will Hire a Jazz Band If He Is Hanged

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—In their cells in the county jail tonight "Babe" Leopold and "Dickie" Loeb were as cheerful as if they had been taking part in a campus social affair at conclusion of arguments in their trial.

The former even joked about the possibility of being hanged.

"If I am hanged," Leopold said, "It will be a rare occasion. Clarence Darrow's 'Roman holiday' will be completely eclipsed. I will arrange to have a good jazz band on hand and plenty of hard punch. I am planning the last supreme shock for the world in the form of my farewell speech. I may be overrating myself, but I really think I can make it worth any one's while who is fortunate enough to obtain an invitation."

Loeb said: "I am glad the trial is over. I will have more opportunity to make a name for myself in the jail baseball league."

By The Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Nebr., Aug. 28.—Despite President Coolidge's interpretation of plans for observance of defense day, September 12, as a purely democratic proposition, Governor Bryan, democratic vice presidential candidate, declared today that the war department is proceeding with its "militaristic program" for the day.

Wichitan Knew Kid McCoy, Declares He Could Not Have Killed Theresa

"This newspaper stuff about Kid McCoy being a 'brute', a 'cave man,' and all that is the bunk, pure and simple. Norman Selby—that's what we call him back home—is one of the most gentlemanly men I ever saw, and if he killed that woman in Los Angeles it must have been an accident."

That's the declaration of Frank Corkins, night manager at Arthur's White Kitchen who says he knew Kid McCoy in his better days just after his retirement from the prize fighting ring with a handsome fortune.

McCoy, or Selby, as is his real name, is held for the death of Mrs. Theresa Mors.

"It was back in Joplin, Mo., six years ago that I knew Norman Selby," Corkins narrated. "He used to eat at my father's cafe, when he owned the Imperial theatre and he and I ran around quite a bit together. I learned a lot of things about Kid McCoy then that made me respect the man, and I'll never believe that he killed that woman except through accident.

"Nerve? Well I should say he had it. One night, when the automobile viaduct was crowded, he drove me across the interurban trestle in his sport automobie, bumpety-bump across the ties, and he never once wavered or appeared excited.

"Norman Selby was as big-hearted a fellow as you ever saw, was always a good-fellow, and it's inconceivable to think he would kill anybody—much less a woman—in cold blood."

NEGRO BILLED FOR ASHMORE BOY'S MURDER

M. T. Williams Indicted By Grand Jury in its Report Thursday

THOMAS GOES FREE

Trial of Defendant in 89th Court May Begin Next Week Here

M. T. Williams, negro, confessed slayer of 13-year-old Wesley Ashmore, youthful clerk in a cold drink stand on Ninth street July 8, has been indicted for murder and for robbery with a deadly weapon in connection with an assault on 14-year-old Mike Pierce at the Morgan grocery on Avenue E a month later.

This became known Thursday afternoon with filing of a report by the Wichita county grand jury.

Thomas Not Indicted.

Eddie Thomas, negro accused by Williams in his purported confession to the Ashmore crime, was not indicted.

Williams was arrested within a few hours after the fatal attack on the youthful clerk, and one or two other negroes taken at the same time was said to have confessed to the crime and named another negro as an accomplice. Williams was not implicated in this statement. After considering the story told by the negro and checking other details, a special session of the grand jury failed to return an indictment and the negroes were released.

History of Case.

Shortly after Williams attacked young Mike Pierce at the Morgan grocery and was captured by a group of men after an exciting chase, during which he held the men at bay with a pocket knife. He was whisked away from the city and later was said to have confessed the Ashmore crime while imprisoned at Greenville. He was said to have told his story first to a negro trusty put in the same cell with him, and later to police officers who wrote his story down. Eddie Thomas was then arrested in Dallas, and the negroes were brought to Wichita Falls.

Lynching Anticipated.

Last Saturday the negroes were again taken from the city, because, officers announced, it was rumored that an effort would be made to take them from the county jail and lynch them during the excitement occasioned by election returns.

Trial of the two cases against Williams has hot been set, but it is asserted that some of the criminal cases will be tried in 39th district court next week, and that the Ashmore case may be one of them.

Ferguson Charges Vinson, Ex-Head Of University, Instigator of Mob Which Hooted Him At Austin, 1917

(Copyright, 1924, by the Austin American, Special to The Record News)

TEMPLE, Tex., Aug. 27.—Extremely proud of the fact that Texas is her native state Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson declared herself equally proud of all its institutions and keenly interested in their future progress and not the least of all is her pride in and respect for accomplishments of the University of Texas.

During her campaign for the democratic nomination for the governorship of Texas, it was charged repeatedly that her election would mean serious harm to the state's highest educational institution. "Why will people persist in saying that Jim and I are against the University and that we would wreck it if I became governor?" Was Mrs. Ferguson's counter question in reply to the Austin American's interrogation as to her intended policy toward the state school.

Proud of State School

"There hasn't been a time in several years that someone of the Ferguson kinfolks haven't been in the University," she continued. "We are proud of the University. Mr. Ferguson thought enough of it to help a nephew get an education there, helped him pay his way through school.

"But they say that we are going to wreck it," she repeated with an expression that told plainly she considered this charge a political move to cloud the main issue.

"The University is going to be treated fairly as long as I am governor. I am going to treat all the state

'FARMER JIM' REPUDIATES MA KLAN PROMISE

Husband Denies His Wife Said Kluxers Would Not Hold State Jobs

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 28.—A statement obtained from James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, the democratic nominee for governor, denying that Mrs. Ferguson had declared she would prohibit members of the ku klux klan, known to her as such from holding appointive state offices was printed in today's issue of the Austin American. The original statement credited to Mrs. Ferguson appeared Tuesday morning in a copyrighted article in the American.

Reporter Is Reliable

Today's item resulted from a long distance telephone call last night to the Ferguson residence in Temple, made in an effort to obtain from Mrs. Ferguson information as to whether she denied the statement credited to her in the copyrighted article. Mr. Ferguson, who was said not to have been present at the original interview answered the telephone and denied Mrs. Ferguson was quoted correctly. The American said he refused to permit the reporter who wrote the first story to talk to Mrs. Ferguson on the telephone. The interview in question was obtained by a newspaperman of a number of years of experience and one whose work never has been questioned, the American's article today said.

Refuses Interview

The item continued to say that the reporter when Ferguson denied the interview was correct asked "may I talk to Mrs. Ferguson?" Mr. Ferguson was quoted as replying:

"Why yes—No, I don't believe I want you to talk to her at all."

COMMITTEEMAN QUITS POST IN NOTE TO SHAVER

Dallas Man Had Been Re-Elected to Post at Recent Convention in Waco

LETTER IS ISSUED

Sets Forth Reasons Why He Will Not Support Nominee for Governor

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 28.—Announcement that he would not support the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple for the governorship of Texas, and that he had forwarded his resignation as democratic national legislative committeeman for Texas to Clem L. Shaver, the national chairman, was made here this afternoon by Thomas B. Love of Dallas. Mr. Love was elected national committeeman at the state democratic convention held in Waco.

This information was contained in a lengthy statement prepared by Mr. Love, in which he outlines his long political career and bases his decision to withdraw from the leadership of the democratic party in Texas, an office which he has held for five years and to which he has just been re-elected for an additional four years.

Endorses National Ticket.

Mr. Love, though denying his support to Mrs. Ferguson, "earnestly and whole-heartedly" endorses the national candidacy of John W. Davis and Governor Charles W. Bryan for president and vice president. He asserts also that he will support each and every candidate upon the democratic state, congressional and local tickets, except the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson.

"As a matter of law, I do not believe the democratic nominee (Mrs. Ferguson) is eligible under our constitution, but regardless of that I cannot escape the conviction that it is the duty of every good citizen, regardless of all considerations of party regularity and of all other considerations, to leave nothing undone that legitimately may be done to prevent the restoration of Fergusonism to power in the state capitol at Austin," the statement declares.

"For thirty-five years I have served the democratic party and so far as receiving or seeking material gain is concerned, I have served it unselfishly," he declares, and continues:

Never Scratched Ticket.

"In all that time I have never placed a pencil mark upon a democratic ballot. I have never hesitated to make any sacrifice within my power to promote party success. I have always put country above party.

"But if I placed party welfare above public good, even from that viewpoint, I would not hesitate for a moment to follow the course I have determined upon in this campaign.

"I am sure that Texas Democrats can render no more effective party service than by fighting Fergusonism to the death, even as our national standard bearer is fighting Fallism to the death."

After commenting upon his support of and belief in the national ticket, he continues:

"For governor I earnestly hope to be able to support an independent democrat whose character and known capacities and dispostion for public service will attract the support of each citizen of Texas who is opposed to all that Fergusonism stands for, regardless of party or creed, and whose opposition to the ku klux klan is wholly beyond question, so that the issue will no longer complicate the situation."

Comments on Klan.

In commenting on the ku klux klan he declared that this issue was forever removed from Texas politics by the primary of August 23, and asserts: "While I have outspokenly opposed the klan from the beginning, my own belief has been that Fergusonism was ten times a greater menace than ku kluxism."

"No man or woman is bound to support any party nominee whose election he believes would endanger the public welfare. The precendents supporting this proposition are too numerous to leave room for doubt as to its soundness. It is only necessary to mention the fact that thousands of those who supported the Ferguson candidacy in last Saturday's primary, including many of the leaders for Ferguson in the fight in 1922 refused to support the democratic nominee for United States senator chosen by the primaries in which they had participated, as notoriously as did Jim Ferguson himself, because they believed that his election would endanger the public welfare. I never found fault with them or criticised them for voting against a candidate whose election they believed would be dangerous to the public welfare without regard to party regularity and the party pledges they had made."

He then outlines his reason for resigning as national committeeman, declaring: "I believe it my duty to vacate the position in view of my inability to support the democratic nominee for governor.

"I am glad of the opportunity now as a private in the ranks to fight for the good name of Texas to the extent of my humble ability."

WHERE DO YOU SOW?

IF YOU were sowing for a crop, would you sow in your own field, or in someone's else? Sounds like foolish question doesn't it? But there are a great many people who do sow in the other fellow's field when it comes to buying. Instead of buying from home dealers, or having home folks render them service, they send their money away to firms that they have never seen and folks they never will see.

THE MONEY spent at home yields a crop in building up home business—making it possible for home folks to buy what you have to sell. The money sent elsewhere doesn't do that. It can't, for it never comes back. Patronize the firms represented on this page and you'll be sowing in your own field—and reaping a twofold harvest. Spend your money where it will have a chance to return to you.

Letters have been sent to every business man in Wichita Falls by Bill Bundy, chairman of the trades extension committee of the chamber of commerce, asking their opinion on making the trade trip September 16-18 to arouse interest over this district in the Texas- Oklahoma fair. The trippers will be gone from Wichita Falls three days and two nights and in their journey will make a complete circle around Wichita Falls. The train will be known as the Texas-Oklahoma Fair special.

GLEANINGS FROM THE BOOK OF LIFE

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

ON NEW ACQUAINTANCE

It should be borne in mind that, in their intercourse with others, people are like the moon: they show you only one of their sides.

Schopenhauer was thinking of this when he observed that "Every man has an innate talent for mimiry—for making a mask out of his physiognomy, so that he can always look as if he really were what he pretends to be; and since he makes his calculations always within the lines of his individual nature, the appearance he puts on suits him to a nicety, and its effect is extremely deceptive.

"He dons his mask whenever his object is to flatter himself into some one's good opinion," Schopenhauer continued; "and you may give just as much attention to it as if it were made of wax or card-board, never forgetting that excellent Italian proverb: non e si tristo cane che non meni' la coda" (There is no dog so bad but that he wag his tail).

The moral of this, as emphasized by Schopenhauer, is that in any case it is well not to form a highly favorable opinion of a person whose acquaintance you have only recently made, for otherwise you are very likely to be disappointed; and then you will be ashamed of yourself and perhaps even suffer some injury."

"A man shows his character just in the way in which he deals with trifles for then he is off his guard," Schopenhauer wrote. "This will often afford a good opportunity of observing the boundless egotism of a man's nature, and his total lack of consideration for others; and if these defects show themselves in small things, or merely in his general demeanor, you will find that they also underlie his actions in matters of importance, although he may disguise the fact.

"This is an opportunity which should not be missed. If in the little affairs of everyday—the trifles of life, those matters to which the rule de minimis non applies—a man is inconsiderate and seeks only what is advantageous or convenient to himself, to the prejudice of others' rights; if he appropriates to himself that which belongs to all alike, you may be sure that there is no justice in his heart, and that he would be a scoundrel on a wholesale scale, only that law and compulsion bind his hands. Do not trust him beyond your door.

He who is not afraid to break the laws of his own private circle, will break those of the state when he can do so with impunity."

SOVIET OFFICIALS FORTIFY SELVES

Kremlin Now Armed Fort For Protection Against People

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW—Russia's bolshevik government is probably the only one in the world which barricades itself behind a fortress. Every department of the present Soviet regime with three or four notable exceptions has its headquarters within the high walls of the Kremlin which, stripped of its churches, shrines, museums and art treasures, is nothing more than an armed citadel, almost invulnerable from attack.

No feudal king of the Middle Ages, secure in his castle of stone and steel, surrounded by moats, battlemented walls and earthworks, was better fortified against attack than are the members of the Soviet ministry. Not only are the entire precincts of the Kremlin carefully policed day and night by sentries with drawn bayonets, but the whole place is an arsenal of machine guns, small mortars, defensive works and battalions of soldiers. On the rare occasions when a cabinet member leaves the Kremlin he is carefully guarded by plainsclothes detectives and personal bodyguards. Trotzky, who usually rides about in in an automobile, invariably sits in the front seat with the chauffeur whille two secret service men occupy the rear seat.

Government Is Strong

No political factions in present day Russia is strong enough or foolhardy enough, foreign observers believe, to assay an open assault on the government, powerfully entrenched as it is both militarily and politially.

But the government believes constant vigilance is the price of safety, and it takes no chances. In the event of an armed insurrection in Moscow, the entire Kremlin would be alive with troops, guns and bayonets in the twinkling of an eye. The Moscow garrison alone consists of many thousands of soldiers, available at an instant's notice in case of a counter-revolutionary movement on the part of any of the dissatisfied elements now in Russia.

German Prisoner Flees To Wed; Then Returns to Cell

This machine is operating from 15 to 20 hours a day to accommodate the large number of tourists wanting to see Mount McKinley from altitudes of from 5,000 to 10,000 feet.

League Plans to Care Well for Journalists

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA.—The League of Nations is assuming that some day virtually all the nations of the world will be affiliated with it, and it is planning a building program to meet all possible ultimate demands.

The new conference hall will seat 65 national delegations, allowing five persons to represent each country, and have in addition ample space for secretaries, galleries, lobbies, smoking rooms, cloak rooms, vestibules, committee rooms and general offices.

The press is to be well cared for, according to present plans. Reporters will have a special gallery in the assembly hall, a room where delegates may come at any time to talk with them, a large writing room, and special facilities for the installation of radio, telephone and telegraph instruments.

The controlling idea of the League is that the organization belongs to the people, even if its assemblies are confined to representatives of governments. Hence, it is held, all possible steps should be taken to reach the public through the press so that the people may know what the league is doing. This explains the purpose to provide extensive accommodations for journalists.

Danish Military Chiefs Give Lie to Minister

By The Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN.—A warm controversy is being waged in the Danish newspapers between Laust Rasmussen, minister of defense in the present labor cabinet, and all the generals and admirals of the Danish army and navy.

A week or so ago the minister was on the stump in the provinces. In the course of one of his speeches he said that all the generals and admirals agreed with him that the present act of defense was no good whatever. "On this evidence," said the minister, "I think it only fair that we should scrap the whole army and navy and substitute for it a national police corps that will cost but a fraction of the upkeep of the present army and navy."

To this statement Ellis Wolff, the Danish general-in-chief, has given the lie direct. No Danish general has said words to that effect, he declared. First of all, the minister has spoken to no more than four generals, and not one of these officers has described the act as without value. The other six generals, and the Danish admirals, deny having spoken with the minister on the subject.

'SOLID SOUTH' IS LESS SOLID NOW

Texas Has G. O. P. Congressman and Member of The Legislature

AUSTIN, Aug. 28—The democratic "solid south" is this year less solid than the close of reconstruction days, it appeared from political developments of the month.

Texas has a republican congressman, and a republican member of its house of representatives. August 22nd, 1924.

DEAR BOYS:

Having about completed our purchases for all our stores, I can, during this breathing spell, survey our accomplishments with a sense of pride and satisfaction.

You can tell the world; but especially our old trusty customers that we will be prepared as never before with the greatest assemblage of men's and boys' fall wearables Wichita Falls has ever seen.

Seems as though the manufacturers here are more than ever eager to cater to the larger buyers and with the tremendous quantities we have purchased for all our stores, we have enjoyed such concessions that we will be in a position to show the greatest values in our history.

I just reached New York in time to get in on the many newer style ideas and Wichita Falls can boast this fall that The Hub Clothiers on Indiana at Seventh will show the newest styles for men and boys as quickly as Broadway, New York.

Hoping to be back with you next week, I remain,

Sincerely,

SOL LASKY.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

THE REAL TEST:—Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?—Isaiah 58:7.

PRAYER:—We know, our God, that the proof we love Thee is evidenced by our love for our brother. May we ever prove our love to him in practical ways.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

Europe is coming back. All the world ruined or partially ruined by the war is coming back. World trade gains in the first half of the year were very large and the increase in exports exceeds the decline in imports. Seventeen of the 21 principal countries of the world report large increases in trade totals over the 1923 period. America is becoming the banker of the world.

American copper production is at a new high level which is an indication that huge quantities of copper are being taken by foreign buyers. Production of copper for the first seven months of the current year is estimated at 1,250,000,000 lbs., a new high record for the industry. Germany has been a huge buyer.

All the nations of continental Europe are buying American products. Speaking of automotive exports, a new high record was made as more than 199,135 American vehicles were shipped abroad in the last fiscal year. They are buying American motor vehicles in the British Isles and on the continent. People who are able to buy automobiles must have the coin to pay for the same.

All European skies are clearing. This should interest the southern cotton grower. European countries were large buyers of American cotton last year. They are certain to be large buyers this year. If a crop of 13,000,000 bales is produced a vast sum of money will be placed in the cotton growing states where 2,000,000 families are the producers of the fleecy staple.

Regardless of the size of the crop wise marketing will have a vast deal to do with the fixing of the price.

HOW WILL IT WORK.

President Calvin Coolidge has approved a nation-wide campaign to enlist the 25,000 clergymen of the country in a movement "to get out the Christian vote." In his letter to the working organization the president said he had been gratified to know the progress this movement has already made. Incidentally the Christian vote is to be urged to go to the polls on election day and perform their full duty of citizenship.

Hundreds of clergymen way down here in Texas beseeched the Christian vote to go to the polls on August 23. The result must have been gratifying to the zealous workers. More than 800,000 men and women rushed to the polls and after the ballots had been counted "Ma" Ferguson and her ticket had been swept into office. By majorities ranging from 250,000 down to 20,000, this in a state where a democratic nomination has ever been equivalent to an election.

Get out the Christian vote by all means. All men and women who are qualified, all who love America and its institutions, should go to the polls on election day, primary or otherwise and accept some of the responsibilities of government. If the Christian vote of the commonwealth or the nation is not interested in governmental affairs then the Christian vote should be.

DAIRY COWS.

There are twenty-four million dairy cows on the farms of America. Annual income from them amounts to two billion dollars. Wealth from the sale of dairy products in 1923 was one-fourth the total income from all agricultural products sold in the United States. There is an investment of fifteen billion dollars in the dairy industry. Dairy cows are kept on 4,500,000 farms in the United States and an expert says dairy farming is practically the only line of farming that has advanced in production and consumption in the last four years.

That Col. That Senator Hiram Johnson of California has never ceased a murmur since the Calvin Coolidge republicans sent him to the morgue and that his admirers the country over can not tell whether Hiram is dead or sleeping.

That Congressman Arthur L. Johnson of South Dakota has given President Coolidge positive assurance that the republicans will carry that state and that the president is willing to believe it.

That Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota is certain of his own re-election and that the La Follette ticket will receive a large plurality.

HOW IT STARTED

THE SILVER SERVICE

One of the most important considerations of the bride and groom-to-be is the silver service. With the great majority of us this includes only the implements—knives, forks, spoons. Our dishes we are glad to have in more or less fine china! And with the exception of royalty, there are few households in the world whose silver service extends to plates and cups, who eat out of, as well as with, silver. Yet that is how the silver service started!

Individual platters and "vessels" of silver were known in the days of antiquity; but it was an eighth century Christian bishop who conceived the idea for the first silver service which included not only the eating utensils but also the articles which in modern life are supplied in china and glass.

Wilfred, a Northumberland bishop, wanted his viands served and his beverages poured in silver plates and cups. So in the year 700, we are told, he employed fourteen craftsmen to produce his silver service. It consisted of two hundred pieces and the work occupied two years.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A CURE FOR THE BLUES

I know of a brook that is singing its song,
  To the grass and the sky and the trees—
That murmurs of happiness all the day long,
  And mocks at the sigh of the breeze.
It wanders away through the meadows and hills,
  Where cat tails and water grass quiver—
Till, joined by a legion of silvery rills,
  It goes on its journey—a river.

But down in the glade, where it still is a brook,
  That a little boy's footstep may cross,
You will find by a boulder a soft little nook
  With a carpet of velvety moss,
And there you may gaze, all the afternoon long
  At the butterflies over you winging,
And list to the lulling and slumberous song,
  That the stone fretted riffles are singing.

The sun beams about you in long slanting lines,
  Reach down from the heaven's blue zone—
Through rifts in the limbs of the needle clad-pines
  That are singing a song of their own.
There's a rustle of birds in the sycamore trees,
  Afar a lone partridge is drumming,
And up on the hillside a half million bees
  Are happily, busily humming.

So if you are weary, or laden with care,
  Or tired of the struggle and strife,
And find but a dull and a dreary affair,
  The workaday business of life,
I will lead you some day to the soft, mossy nook,
  And if you will cast off your sorrow,
And listen a while to the gay little brook
  Life will seem well worth living tomorrow.

Dr. Frank Crane's Daily Editorial

CARPE DIEM.

The ancients had a motto, "Carpe Diem" which literally translated means, "Sieze today." It was generally supposed to be the motto of reckless people and of those who sacrificed the present to the future throughtlessly. There is something to be said, however, in favor of it for more thoughtful people.

Man is a peculiar animal in that he lives not in the present but always in the future or past. We draw our satisfactions not from the only time which is ours, the present, but from the time which we do not know whether it be ours or not, the future.

We live in the future. Part of the time we are distressed over its anticipation of evil, the rest of the time we are delighted over its expectations of good.

And yet we do not know whether it will come or not. All that we are certain of is the present.

There are some natures who live always in the past and, like Lot's wife, are forever looking back. They consume themselves in remorse or in gratification over what has already taken place notwithstanding the fact that nothing can change it. What is past is past.

Those who get the most out of life indubitably are those who live in the present, who understand how to enjoy what pleasures are theirs now and who willingly undergo pains that may be theirs.

This does not imply that one should be blind or reckless as to the future nor indifferent as to the past. The time will never come when man, who is essentially a time-binding animal, can live wholly in either one of the three sections. The present will always be bound up with the past and future.

But we will get much more out of life if we learn to seek our satisfactions and to appreciate them in the present and neither consume ourselves in vain regret for the past nor absurd hopes for that which is to come.

There is, besides a heathen and foolish meaning to this motto Carpe Diem, an intelligent and Christian meaning, wholly consistent with our responsibilities of the past and of the future.

We should undoubtedly get more out of life if we learned simply and naturally to take things as they come.

It was not intended by whoever created the human race that we should know the future definitely. It was manifestly intended that we should live one day at a time and those who best conform to this rule of life get the most out of it.

Possible Use by Spies Bars Radio from Russia

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW.—Russia is one of the few countries of the world where "radio" sets in the home are scarcely known. In all the 8,000,000 square miles of Russian territory, with a population of 130,000,000, it would be difficult to find more than a dozen amateur receiving outfits.

This is due to the non-manufacture of home wireless apparatus in Russia; to the prohibitive duty on imported sets; to the Russian peasant's ignorance of what wireless means, and to the reluctance of the Soviet government to permit the indiscriminate use of radio apparatus which might be used for espionage purposes.

Water.

How high can a pump lift water? There is no limit to the height to which a pump can lift water except the amount of power required and the strength of the pump and the pipe.

Under extraordinary conditions and with a specially designed pump and pipe we have seen water pumped from several miles to a height of considerably more than a mile. Such lifts are not practical under ordinary conditions. Where high lifts must be overcome it is generally far more economical to install a number of pumps, each with a comparatively low lift.

The lift of a pump must not be confused, as it often is, with the suction. They are entirely different. If a pump was mechanically perfect and could create a perfect vacuum in its suction line, it would, at sea level, be able to suck water approximately 33 feet.

This would be the case only if the water did not contain air. Most water contains a considerable amount of air so that the practicable lift, even with a first class pump, is considerably less than this.

Again the higher above sea level you go the less the heighth to which water can be lifted by suction.

To try and suck water over a vertical distance of more than 20 feet in this locality is not economical. The closer the pump is set to the water the better the results will be. Just because a pump can be made to lift water by suction to a heighth of 25 or 26 feet is no sign that it should do so. The less the suction lift the better the results.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE.

VIRGO.

Today's planetary aspects are very good, and counsel activity along all lines of endeavor. They are especially favorable for matters relating to law, machinery, or incentive effort. Recklessness, hazardous undertaking, or speculation must be avoided, as almost certain failure is sure to attend anything attempted of this nature. A marriage celebrated today will be crowned with both love and happiness.

A child born today will, with the exception of one serious ailment during infancy, be almost free from sickness. Its character will be forceful, its disposition attractive although self-reliant, its mentality normal. Its self-reliance must not be checked, but must be tempered with tolerance and respect for the opinions of others. This child should, in the choice of a career, be allowed to follow the bent of its own inclinations, and should not be goaded into doing something for which it has a distate.

If today is your birthday, you undoubtedly have fully realized that if you had practiced self-denial, you would have attained a greater success in life than that which is your lot today. Self denial is a basic ingredient of genuine success, and if you bake your cake in the morning or noon-day of life, you can live on it when you get old; if you begin by denying yourself nothing, the world later is apt to do your denying for you.

There is an eternal law of compensation; "as ye sow, so shall ye reap." The wise man will choose to do his exertion while he is young, while yet hardship and fatigue and self-denial sit lightly on his forehead and daunt not his spirit.

Voluntary self-denial at the beginning of life's journey will avert, involuntary poverty stress, sweat, and indignity towards the end. Self-denial and not self-indulgence is systematically cultivated; this need not necessarily only refer to money making. You can deny yourself the pleasure of making an unkind or cutting remark which may spring spontaneously to your lips and give you a certain satisfaction to speak. You can take advantage, at somebody else's expense, to make a profitable return; you would, however, enjoy a far greater satisfaction if you had denied yourself this opportunity.

Deny yourself, or be denied.

Sweden Tries to Preserve Last of European Buffalo

By The Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM.—An effort to rescue and revive the dying dynasty of "visents," or European buffaloes, said to be the rarest living mammals in the world today, has just begun here in the opening of a 100-acre preserve where these animals will be allowed to live and breed under natural conditions.

Out of a total of only 56 "visents" in the world, seven are to be found in Sweden, and up to the present time this herd has been kept in the open-air museum of Stockholm, but the animals did not seem to thrive well in the restricted space. Information regarding the situation came to Consul-General Axel A. Johnson, who immediately offered to set aside 100 acres of the wildest part of his estate in central Sweden as a preserve. The offer was accepted and now a bull "visent" and two females have been turned out into the kind of country over which their ancestors roamed thousands of years ago.

A Lost Lady

BY WILLA CATHER

INSTALLMENT VII.

CHAPTER XIII.

The Captain Ill.

But a stroke could not finish a man like Daniel Forrester. He was kept in his bed for three weeks, and Niel helped Mrs. Forrester and Ben Keezer take care of him. Although he was at the house so much during that time, he never saw Mrs. Forrester alone—scarcely saw her at all, indeed.

With so much to attend to, she became abstracted, almost impersonal. There were many letters to answer, gifts of fruit and wine and flowers to be acknowledged.

One morning while she was seated there, a distinguished visitor arrived. Niel, waiting by the door for the letters he was to take to the post, saw a large, red whiskered man in a rumpled pongee suit and a panama hat come climbing up the hill. Cyrus Dalzell, president of the Colorado & Utah, who had come over in his private car to inquire for the health of his old friend. Niel warned Mrs. Forrester and she went to meet the visitor just as he mounted the steps, wiping his face with a red silk bandana.

He took both the lady's hands and exclaimed in a warm, deep voice, "Here she is, looking as fresh as a bride! May I claim an old privilege." He bent his head and kissed her.

Mr. Dalzell shook hands with Niel, and as he talked he moved about the parlor clumsily and softly, like a brown bear. Mrs. Forrester stopped him to straighten his flowing yellow tie and pull down the back of his wrinkled coat. "It's easy to see that Kitty wasn't with you this morning when you dressed," she laughed.

"Thank you, thank you my dear, I've got a green porter down there, and he doesn't seem to realize the extent of his duties. Now tell me about Daniel. Was it a stroke?"

Mrs. Forrester sat down on the sofa beside him and told him about her husband's illness, while he interrupted with sympathetic questions and comments, taking her hand between his large, soft palms and patting it affectionately.

"And now I can go home and tell Kitty that he will soon be as good as ever—and that you look like you were going to lead the ball tonight. And next winter you are both coming out to stay with us at the Springs, for a change of air."

Mrs. Forrester shook her head gently. "Oh, that, I'm afraid, is a pretty dream. But we'll dream it, anyway!! Everything about her had brightened since Cyrus Dalzell came up the hill. Even the long garnet earrings beside her cheeks seemed to flash with a deeper color, Niel thought. She was a different woman from the one who sat there writing half an hour ago. Her fingers, as they played on the sleeve of the pongee coat, were light and buttery as butterfly wings.

"No dream at all, my dear. Kitty has arranged everything. You know how quickly she thinks things out. I am to come for you in my car. We'll get my old porter Jim as a valet for Daniel, and you can just play around and put fresh life into us all. We saw last winter that we couldn't do anything without our Lady Forrester. Nothing came off right without her. If we had a party, we sat down afterward and wondered what in hell we'd had it for. Oh, no, we can't manage without you!"

Tears flashed into her eyes. "That's very dear of you. It's sweet to be remembered when one is away." In her voice there was the heart-breaking sweetness one sometimes hears in lovely, gentle old songs.

After three weeks the captain was up and around again. He dragged his left foot, and his left arm was uncertain. The doctor said that unless another brain lesion occurred, he might get on comfortably for some years yet.

In August Niel was to go to Boston to begin coaching for his entrance examinations at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he meant to study architecture. He put off bidding the Forresters good-by until the very day before he left. His last call was different from any he had ever made there before.

Already they began to treat him like a young man. He sat rather stiffly in that parlor where he had been so much at home. The captain was in his big chair in the bay window, in the full glow of the afternoon sun, saying little, but very friendly. Mrs. Forrester, on the sofa in the shadowy corner of the room, talked about Niel's plans and his journey.

"Is it true that Mary is going to marry Pucelik this fall?" he asked her. "Who will you get to help you?"

"No one, for the present. Ben will do all I can't do. Never mind us. We will pass a quieter winter, like an old country couple—as we are!" she said lightly.

"Don't forget us, but don't mope. Make a lot of new friends. You'll never be 20 again. Take a chorus girl out to supper—a pretty one, mind! Don't bother about your allowance. If you got into a scrape, we could manage a little cheque to help you out, could we, Mr. Forrester?"

The captain puffed and looked amused. 'I thing we could, Niel, I think so. Don't get up, my boy. You must stay to dinner."

Niel said he couldn't. He hadn't finished packing, and he was leaving on the morning train.

"Then we must have a little something before you go." Captain Forrester rose heavily, with the aid of his cane, and went into the dining room. He brought back the decanter and filled three glasses with ceremony. Lifting his glass, he paused, as always, and blinked.

"Happy days!"

"Happy days!" echoed Mrs. Forrester, with her loveliest smile, "and every success to Niel!"

Both the captain and his wife came to the door with him, and stood there on the porch together, where he had so often seen them stand to speed the parting guest. He went down the hill touched and happy. As he passed over over the bridge his spirits suddenly fell. Would that chilling doubt always lie in wait for him, down there in the mud, where he had thrown his roses one morning?

CHAPTER XIV.

Niel Returns.

It was two years before Niel Herbert came home again, and when he came the first acquaintance he met was Ivy Peters. Ivy got on the train at one of the little stations east of Sweet Water, where he had been trying a case. As he strolled through the Pullman he noticed among the passengers a young man in a gray flannel suit, with a silk shirt of one shade of blue and a necktie of another. After regarding this urban figure from the rear for a few seconds, Ivy glanced down at his own clothes with gloating satisfaction. He stepped forward, his hands thrust in his pockets.

"Hullo, Niel. Thought I couldn't be mistaken.

Niel looked up and saw the red, bee-stung face, with its two permanent dimples, smiling down at him in contemptuous jocularity.

"Hello, Ivy, I couldn't be mistaken in you, either."

"Coming home to go into business?" Neil replied that he was coming only for the summer vacation.

"Oh, you're not through school yet? I suppose it takes longer to make an architect than it does to make a shyster."

"Won't you sit down?" Niel indicated the neighboring chair. "You are practicing law?"

"Yes, along with a few other things. Have to keep more than one iron in the fire to make a living with us. I farm a little on the side. I rent that meadow land on the Forrester place. I've drained the old marsh and put it into wheat. My brother John does the work, and I boss the job. It's quite profitable. I pay them a good rent, and they need it. I doubt if they could get along without. Their influential friends don't seem to help them out much. The Forresters have come down in the world like the rest. You remember how the old man used to put it over us kids and not let us carry a gun in there? I'm just mean enough to like to shoot along that creek a little better than anywhere else, now." Ivy's blinking greenish eyes rested upon Niel's haberdashery.

Niel, however, did not notice this. He knew that Ivy wanted him to show disappointment, and he was determined not to do so. He inquired about the captain's health, pointedly keeping Mrs. Forrester's name out of the conversation.

"He's only about half there . . . seems contented enough. . . . She takes good care of him, I'll say that for her. . . . She seeks consolation, always did, you know . . . too much French brandy. . . ."

Niel heard these remarks dully, through the buzz of an idea. He felt that Ivy had drained the marsh quite as much to spite him and Mrs. Forrester as to reclaim the land. Moreover, he seemed to know that until this moment Ivy himself had not realized how much that consideration weighed on him. He and Ivy had disliked each other from childhood, blindly, instinctively, recognizing each other through antipathy, as hostile insects do.

FRANKS JUDGE SCORES STATE FOR REMARKS

Judge Caverly Startles Audience With Verbal Attack Upon State Attorney

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—After portions of the closing argument of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, had been stricken from the record by Judge John R. Caverly as a "cowardly, dastardly attack upon the integrity of this court and an attempt to intimidate it," the court took under advisement today the penalty which he must decide for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnappers and murderers of Robert Franks.

The remarks of the court came out of a clear sky and startled the crowded court room into a shocked silence.

Crowe Taken Back.

Mr. Crowe's jaw dropped and he blanched visibly under the judicial broadside.

"Your honor, I had—— ——" he began, but the judge interrupted him.

"The state's attorney knew full well his remarks would be heralded far and wide," said the court. "He knew, too, the court would have no opportunity to reply or defend himself from criticisms except by the actions he has taken."

The judge then read a prepared statement and at its conclusion announced he would give his decision September 10, at 9:30 a. m., "unless illness prevents."

Only the defendants, the attorneys for both sides, court attaches and newspaper men will be admitted to the final scene in the famous case.

Mr. Crowe told Judge Caverly in his argument today that youth is no legitimate defense to crime. He used this in the final stages of his argument that Leopold and Loeb should be hanged.

Refers to Darrow.

"Clarence S. Darrow has talked much about mercy for youth," said Mr. Crowe. "He is a student of criminology. He has written a book on it and in that book he says that the criminal age is between 17 and 24. Your honor knows that the average is 22.

"How can we punish crime and by punishment stop it, if age is a defense?"

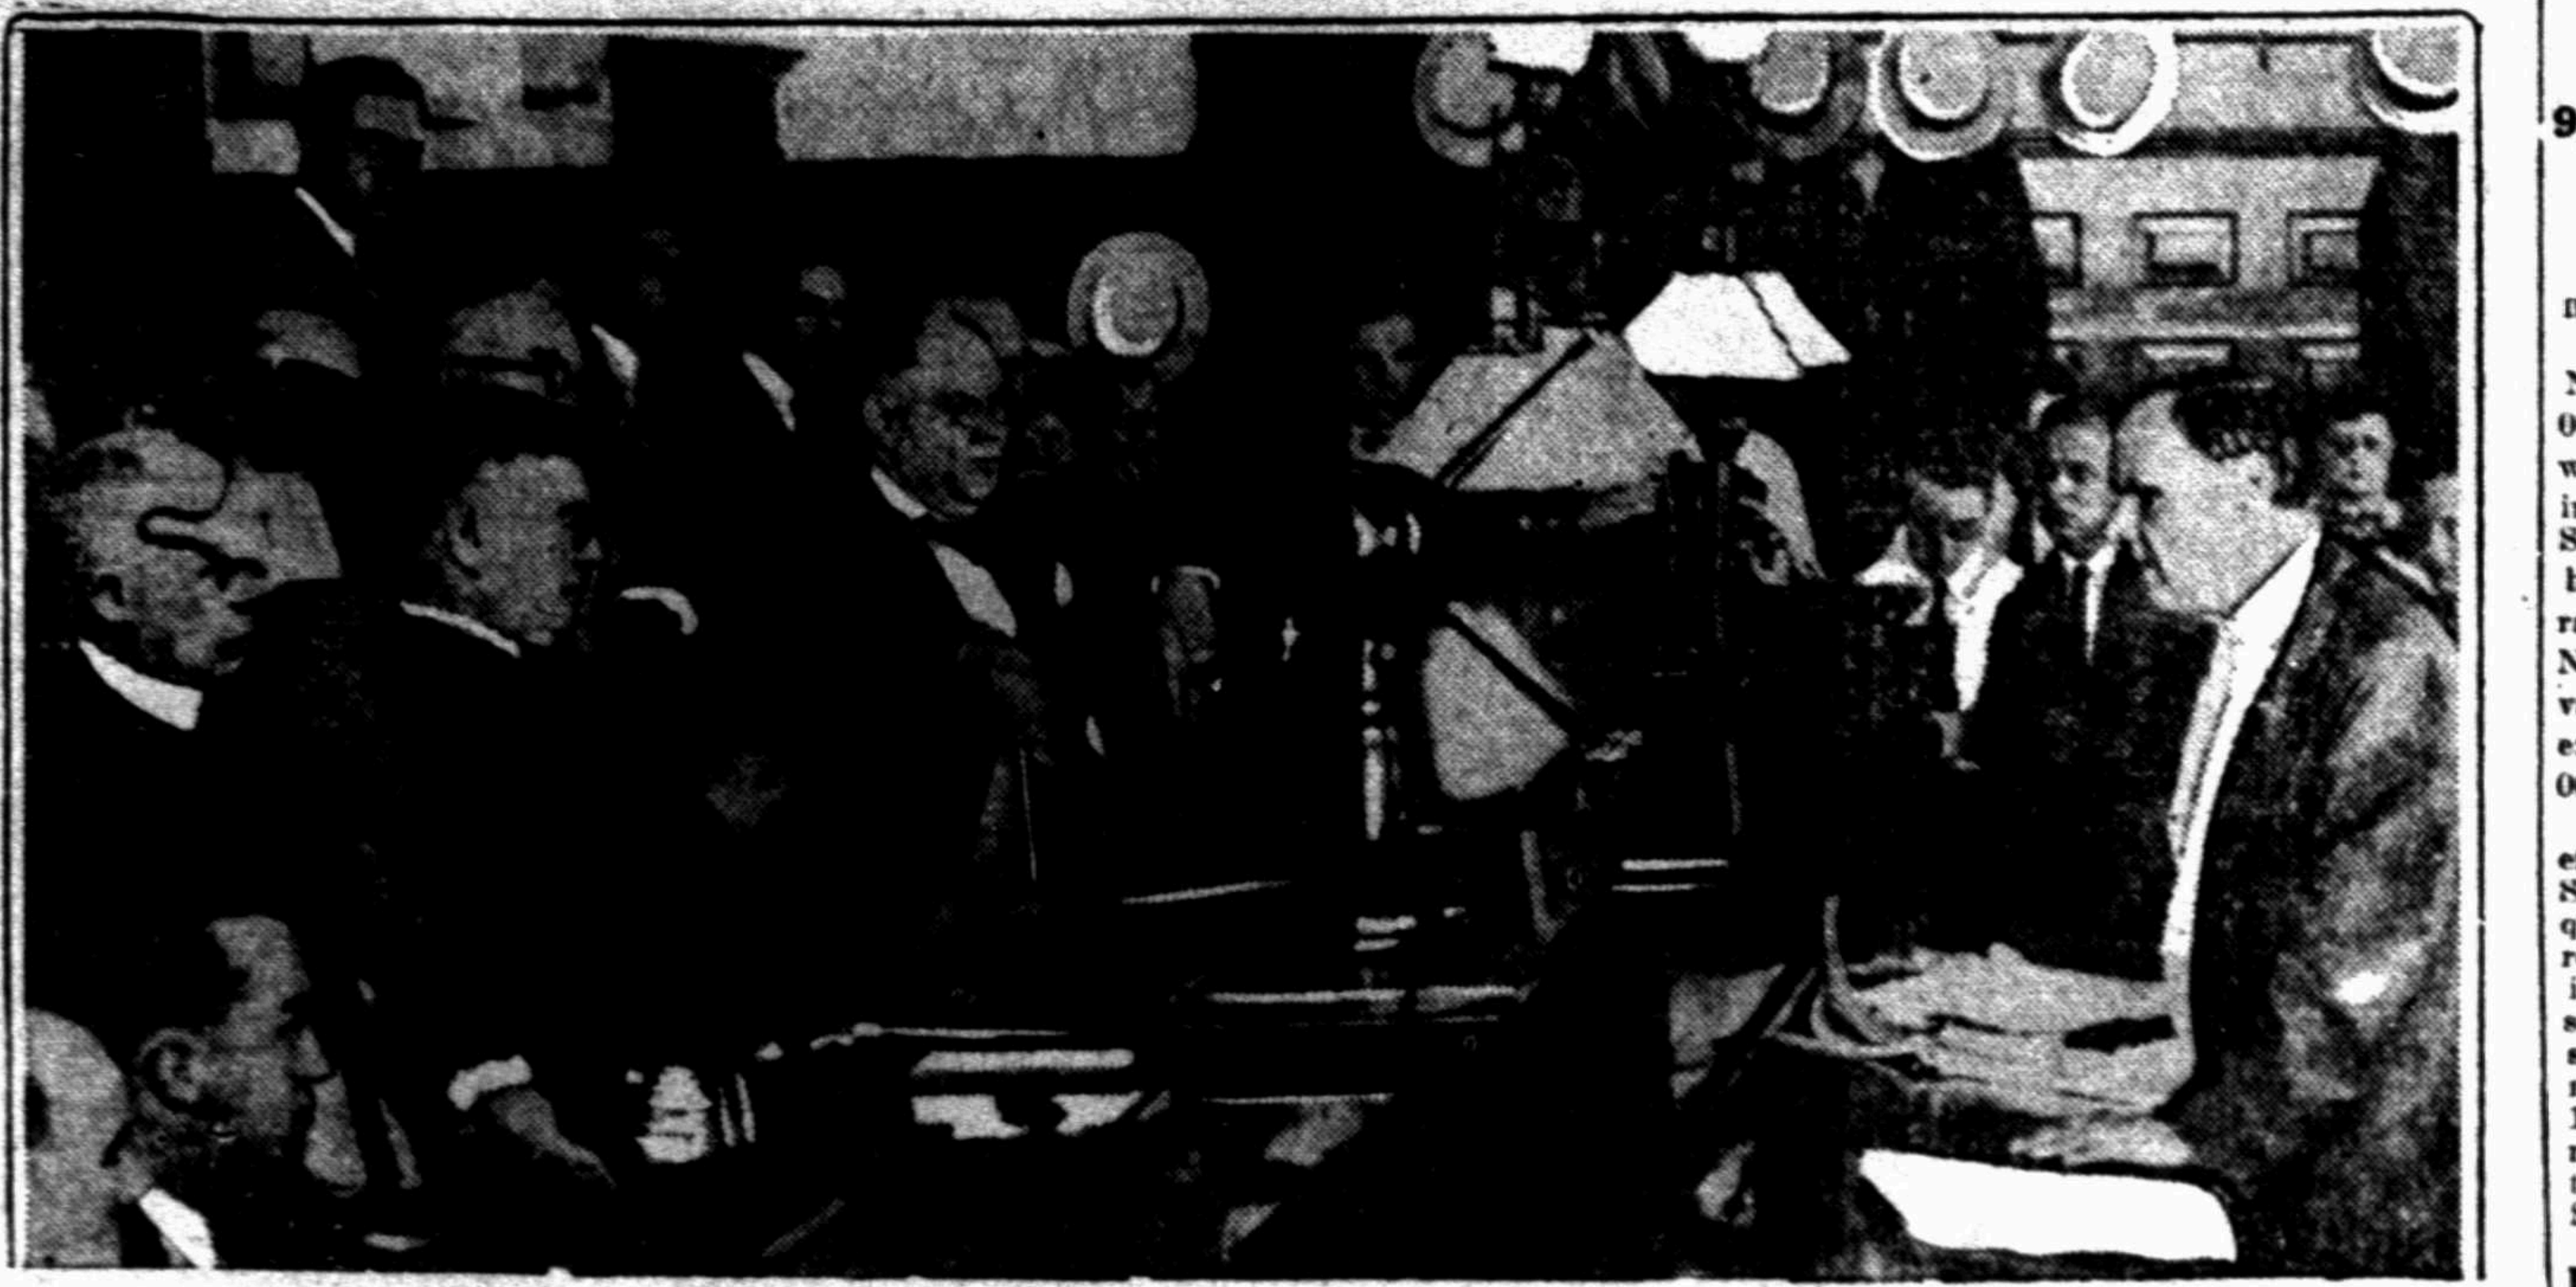
Mr. Crowe hammered at his previous point that the motive for the case at bar was money. He also reviewed briefly the pathological condition of the defendants, concluding that Leopold's revealed only early development and Loeb's the result of depravity.

In concluding his argument Mr. Crowe touched upon the "friendly judge," testimony, declaring that if Leopold did not say that, as was testified by the officers on the stand, then, your honor, his actions in this court demonstrates it."

Copies Are Asked.

The court asked the stenographers to give him a special copy of Mr. Crowe's statement on this phase after Mr. Darrow murmured a suggestion to which the judge nodded assent.

When Darrow Ended Three Day Speech to Save Loeb-Leopold Lives



With a three day impassioned speech for mercy by Clarence Darrow, the chief defense attorney, ringing in his ears, Justice John R. Caverly, sitting as both judge and Jury in Chicago criminal court, will shortly pronounce sentence on Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, confessed slayers of Robert Franks. Attorney Darrow is shown winding up his remarkable three-day address, designed to save the boys from the gallows.

Dorothy Dix' Advice

Would Women Really Want Men to Take the "Truth Serium"?—The Three Adventurous Girls of Seventeen Who Want to Run Away.

Dear Dorothy Dix—At the present time, when so many men make love to girls with no intention of marrying them, do you not think the truth serum would solve the problem of making the man really tell whether he cares for the girl or not? So many women let their pride keep them silent when they lose their false lovers, who go merrily on their way seeking newer fields for their fascinating sport. It might help things if, when a man began making love to a girl, she could say :"Take the truth serum and let me see the results."

VIRGINIA.

Answer—According to the old ballad, men were "deceivers ever" and much given to loving and riding away. Whether a man's attentions are with intention; whether his vows of eternal devotion are writ in water or engraved in his heart; whether his kisses are counterfeit or can be cashed in at the altar, no woman knows until the knowledge comes too late to do her any good.

How to tell whether a man really loves her is the one piece of information that the feminine sex desires above all others. But nobody, neither scientist nor romancer, has ever been able to devise any test of a man's love-making that would show whether it assayed the gold of a wedding ring or the dross of flirtation.

If the truth serum does indeed cause those who have taken a shot of it to reveal the secrets of their hearts, it would undoubtedly be a great help to women in determining just where they stood with men. It would enable them to get rid of the social grafters who take up a girl's time, and eat her food, and warm themselves by her fires, but who never court. And it would save many a woman a lot of tears and heartaches by keeping her from nourishing false hopes.

And best of all, it would make a man tell the truth when he popped the question. Instead of leading her to believe that when she married him she would have nothing to do but stroke his brow when he came home a-wearied from his labors, he would frankly inform her that marrying him meant doing her own housework, and wearing cheap clothing, and making one dollar do the work of five.

But I fear that the truth serum will never be popular with lovers of either sex. No woman would want a perfectly truthful James for a sweetheart. She craves romance, which is never based on facts, but is pure fiction. She wants a man who will throw varacity to the winds when he begins to make love to her, and who will tell her that she is as beautiful as a houri and entirely different from any other woman in the world, and that he never loved before. In her soul every woman knows that that sort of love talk is a bunch of lies, but she gobbles it up just the same.

Of course, women are deceived by men who make love and never make good; and even so, there isn't a mother's daughter of us who wouldn't rather have been flirted with than not have had any love-making at all.

So for all these, and other reasons, I think that few women will insist on the men who hand them out soft talk taking the truth serum.

Purse Snatchers Prey On Foreigners in Moscow

MOSCOW.—Russian pickpockets are particularly active and audacious at the present time, in spite of efforts of the police to suppress them. Scores of these petty thieves have been arrested in crowded trolley cars, trains, theatres and churches, but the number of them still at large is so great that citizens themselves are asked to make arrests whenever they detect a pickpocket.

American visitors, some of whom have been robbed, have adopted the expedient of carrying their money and valuables in waistbands under their clothing, while others, to foil the pickpockets, have avoided riding on tram-cars and trains. One American was recently relieved of $700 in a church.

NICKEL PLATE IN NEW MERGER

9,000-Mile System Will Connect Great Lakes With Tidewater

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28—A greater Nickel Plate railway system with 9,000 miles of roadway connecting tidewater and Great Lakes and reaching into Canada and as far southwest as St. Louis, was made possible today by approval of the Pierce Marquette railway directors of the merger with Nickel Plate and affiliated lines. The various properties are estimated to exceed an investment of $1,081,000,000.

This, the second largest consolidated effected by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland, since they acquired control of the Nickel Plate road in 1916, is the first great grouping of rail lines to approach the scope of such systems as have been suggested under the broad recommendations of transportation act of 1920. It constitutes the greatest realignment of railroads in more than two decades, according to the Van Swerigens' interests.

Four Billion Matches Used Daily in America

By The Associated Press.

PETERBORO, N. H.—The United States uses more than 1.500.000.000,000 matches made out of wood every year. (This is about 37 matches a day for every man, woman and child in the country, based on a population of 110,000,000. Recently statistics from Europe have placed the per capita consumption there at 14 matches a day.) The world output costs $200,000,000 and reaches a total of 4,675,650,000,000 matches a year. Eight million tons of paper are being used in the United States every year. These are some of the interesting statements made by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association of Washington in a speech tonight before the New England Forestry Conference which continues through Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Pack pointed out that this is the time to "sell forestry" to the people of the United States. He urged the conference to get down to facts the public could readily understand, saying that the way to get the American people interested in this vital economic problem of where wood was to come from was to talk to them in terms that they could quickly grasp.

Deputy Marshal Questioned In Big Mail Theft

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—While postoffice inspectors today were seeking to find and question the wife of William F. Fahy, postoffice inspector, who was arrested Tuesday charged with conspiracy in connection with the $2,000,000 Roundout, Ills., mail robbery on June 12, Deputy United States Marshal William J. Roberts was questioned. Information that the deputy marshal had motored to the Fahy home on the north side yesterday and drove away accompanied by Fahy's wife had come to inspectors from agents said to have been watching the house.

Rush J. Simmons, chief inspector at Washington, revealed today that a visit some time ago to Mrs. Ernest Fontano, wife of one of the men already under indictment for the Roundout robbery, to Fthy's office was under inquiry.

He also said Fahy would be brought to Chicago from the Kane county jail and sent to some other jail.

AUSTIN, Aug. 28. — Miss Annie Webb Blanton of Austin, former state superintendent of public instruction, at present associate professor of education at the University of Texas, today announced that she is a candidate for president of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton. Should Mr. Marrs be named, the state democratic executive committee would be called upon to select a nominee to fill his place as state superintendent.

Champion Cats Drub Homelings In Opener

ATZMEN ROUT TWO HURLERS AND SCORE ALL RUNS EARLY

Wichita Falls to See Tannermen in Action Last Time 1924 Season This Afternoon

For the Spudders to win more than five straight is but an idle dream. After busting Beaumont in a pair, and bulldogging the Dallas Steer in three, Bud's Spudders fell by the way in the series' opener with Fort Worth, 9 to 5.

Atz's clawing Felines, the Champion Cats, arched their backs in the first round, spit fire, and then scratched Lefty Fred Fussell from the billock, scoring four. Robert Osborn, right hander, came to the rescue but had to be aided himself in the second round by Submarine Brett. A quintet of golden scoring nuggets were stored up before the inning was over. The rest of the way the underhanded Brett held the path pacing Kittens far, far away from the platter while his mates little by little worked on Relph Head, Cat boxman, until he tottered dismally in the fifth and passed completely out. But the nine-run margin was too great to overcome. The homelings crashed through in the fifth for a quartet, and rallied weakly in the ninth for another counter just as brewing storm clouds quit brewing and begin foaming over. One point of interest, if the Cats didn't get beat they did get good and wet for it spouted rain juice hilariously just as that ninth round came to a close.

Last Game Today.

When the two teams go to the pole this afternoon in the second game of the series local fandom will be given its last chance to witness the 1924 Spudders in action. After this game the gang is scheduled to move down to Fort Worth for tilts Saturday, Sunday, and a double header Monday. Then off for the final road jaunt of the year, finishing the season Sept. 14 in San Antonio with Pa Benson's burly cubs.

Cats Four in First.

The Cats flailed their way around the paths for a quartet in the opening round. Fussell doled free tickets to Calvo and Phelan. Sears laid down a sacrifice bunt advancing the runners each a notch. Kraft came through with a single to left of the keystone, tabulating two. Kraft went to second when Palmer bounded out to first unassisted. Edington punched a single to starboard, and Kraft checked in. Fussell gave way to Osborn. Tavener busted a two-cushioner to left center scoring Edington. Moore struck out.

It was three up and three down again in the Spud portion of the first, but the Panthers got well again in the second. Five markers were realized off four bingles, a heave to the domestic dugout, and a pair of walks. Head led off with one-baser through short. Calvo walked. Phelan bounded out to second. Sears pushed a bingle to right sending Head and Calvo to the platter. Osborn departed, and Brett took to the mound. Kraft drew a pass. Palmer singled to right center, scoring Sears. Fitzgerald threw to third in effort to cut Kraft away who was hot-footing it for the sector, but the ball caromed off the big fellow's back as he slid, and bounced into the Spudder dugout. Kraft tabulated, and Palmer went to third. Edington slapped a single at short, but Palmer was glued to third. The pair then put on a double steal, Palmer taking the plate. Tavener whiffed, and Moore aviated to right.

The Spudders failed to get a man to first until in the fourth with two away Locker and Turgeon each singled. The menace died down when Golvin poked a drive to Calvo in cener. Calvo robbed Jonnard of a hit in the third by racing back and pulling in over his right shoulder Bubber's long hoist to right center.

Head Gets Out.

Head weakened in the fifth, and was pulled from the hillock by Atz after the homelings had counted four. After there was one out Metzler slapped a double to right and scored on solitaire to center by Jonnard. Bubber was caught off when he overran first, hurt a leg in the slide, and surrendered the catching task to Zeke Smith. Brett mashed a single to right center. He tabulated on two-sack swat to left by Fitzgerald. Callaghan, next at bat, was the victim of a wild heave thereby gaining a life at first. Moore, Cat backstop, was hurt on the same pitch. Fits and Callie set out on a pilfering foray, both absconding with a cushion. Locker doubled down the third base line, scoring the two. Turgeon walked, and Atz sent Walkup to Head's rescue. Golvin struck out.

Edington singled in the Fort Worth seventh, Tavener walked, and Moore popped to second. Then Brett engineered a double killing. Walkup bounced one to the box. Brett tossed to Turgeon on second, and Turgeon to first, cutting away runners at both stations.

The only feature the remainder of the way was a hard running catch by Sears of foul by Metzler to left.

Senators Rally In Eighth Inning To Win, 11 to 6

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Washington took the league lead from the New York Yankees today as a result of an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, six of them after two were out. The score was 11 to 6. Ruth hit his 41st and 42nd homers, and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The entire New York club collapsed shortly after that. With two out and New York still a run ahead, Goslin drove a liner to Witt, but the sun blinded the outfielder as he was set for the catch. It went for a three-base hit, scoring three runs.

Young American Tennis Star Rises To Heights of International Triumph

John Hennessey of Indianapolis Defeats Jean Borotra, European Champ, In National Net Meet

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Another young American tennis star rose to heroic heights of international triumph today when John Hennessy of Indianapolis, accomplished the downfall of Jean Borotra, champion of Europe and captain of the French Davis cup forces, in a spectacular battle featuring the third day of the national singles championship.

Hennessey not only scored the most startling upset yet recorded in a tournament already marked by an astonishing number of reversals among favorites, but eliminated his famous opponent, winner of this year's Wimbledon championship, in decisive fashion. The 19 year old American played a dashing, aggressive game, withstood the most feiry net attacks of Borotra and conquered the Frenchman in four sets, 8-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

Tilden, who advanced to the fourth round by overwhelming Lucien Williams, of Chicago, former inter-collegiate champion, with the loss of three games, headed the ranks of surviving Americans, which also included William M. "Little Bill" Johnston, Tilden's Davis cup partner, and Vincent Richards, young Olympic champion.

An upset second only in importance to the defeat of Borotra came in the last match of the day when Wallace Johnson, veteran Philadelphia chop-stroke artist, vanquished Francis T. Hunter of Beckley, W. Va., fifth on the national ranking list, in a five set struggle. It was the longest of the day, and was not decided until dusk had settled over the stadium where barely a few hundred faithful enthusiasts of the original gallery of 5,000 remained to witness it.

Johnson won by scores of 6-8, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

The elimination of Japan's two remaining stars, M. Fukuda and S. Okabota, was not so much of an upset as was the decisiveness with which they met defeat at the hands of American rivals. Dean Mathey, veteran New Yorker, disposing of Fukuda at 6-4, 6-0, 6-1, while Elmer Griffin of San Francisco, another "darkhorse," put out Okamota, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Golf

As Champions Play It

What is the psychology of good putting?

Answered by
BILL STRACHAN
Wichita Falls Golf Club Professional.

When I first came to this country I was considered a good putter, but after the first year I lost my skill completely. I was at a loss as to what was wrong, so I determined to practice. I soon found that practice was what I lacked.

Do not keep on changing putters, stance or grip. Get something that is comfortable and keep it. Today I putt the same as I did fifteen years ago and I am safe to say I putted as well as any one at the championship at Inwood last year. See that the stance is properly set and that the backswing is slow and definite and well-balanced. The body should be kept immovable throughout, as should the head also, and last, but not least, the ball should be struck boldly every time. Take the line to the hole and fix it firmly in your "mind's eye," and all that is left to do is go up and hit the ball.

Tyler Captures Series' Second From Corsicana

CORSICANA, Aug. 28.—Bad base running contributed to the downfall of Corsicana Oilers against the Tyler Trojans today in the second game of the Lone Star series for the championship of Texas by a score of 5 to 3.

Najo and Donaldson, outfielders of the Trojans, hit homers while Lovelace hit a home run for Corsicana.

Cantrell was the losing pitcher, and Yowell got the credit for winning the contest.

With the loss of their second straight game of the series, the Oilers appear none the less set back, and the spirits of both teams are high.

The Oilers played errorless baseball while the Trojans were charged with three errors. However, the offense and defense of the Trojans outclassed that of the locals.

Friday will be an off day for the clubs while the scene of hostilities will be shifted to Tyler for two games beginning Saturday.

Mr. Arthur C. Vance, more commonly known as Dazzy, is drawing much attention to himself with his pitching these days. He deserves the attention. Possessing one of the greatest arms in baseball today he is a proper subject for discussion at any time.

But in giving Dazzy the credit due him as a pitcher in general and a strikeout artist in particular the part that Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Dodgers has undoubtedly played in Vance's success must not be overlooked.

It took Vance eight years to get into the majors. Even after he arrived there was much speculation as to whether he would last long. Such doubt may have bounced around in Vance's head at times. It was Uncle Robbie who kept the faith.

Robinson stands out as one of the greatest developers of young players in the business. He has also shown remarkable ability in handling veterans who have found the going too hard in other towns.

Psychology plays a big part in Robbie's success as a mentor. It may well be referred to as a sort of unconscious psychology. Uncle Robbie never went to college. His schooling did not include a term of psychology, applied or otherwise. But he is instinctively a master psychologist.

Vance will admit himself that his greatest hazard is a mental one. Even now he recognizes this weakness to the extent of guarding against getting himself into a hole while pitching. He "bears down" constantly to avoid the tight places. "I find when I let up they begin to hit me. Then my troubles begin," says Vance. So he doesn't let them hit him.

Robinson has made it plain to Vance that he (Uncle Robbie) never worries about the outcome of the game when Dazzy is sent to the mound.

"You pitch. We'll take care of the game," is Robbie's line.

It is Robinson's ability to eliminate mental hazards of the older players, rather than the physical ones, that makes him a success with the "has beens." He made Al Mammaux a winning pitcher after that gent was headed for the bowwows—and minors.

Under Robinson's tutoring Burleigh Grimes is one of the most consistent winners and one of the hardest and willing workers in the big show. The Pirates let him go without a murmur.

One of the main reasons for the success of the Seattle club in the Pacific Coast League this season is Sylvanus Gregg. This lanky lefthander seems to have obtained a new pitching gland some place. When he rang up his eleventh victory of the season a while back he had lost four games. And three of them were dropped in the first two weeks of the campaign, before he got under full steam.

This is Gregg's fifteenth year in baseball. Had he taken the game more seriously early in his career he might still be in the big show—a rival of Walter Johnson and Babe Adams for "old man" honors.

JUPE PLUVE HALTS CARD

Red Railey Added to Bill With Spider Owens In Opener

Just because old Jupe Pluve took a hand last night, and soaked the American legion open air arena like a dog biscuit floating in sour milk, Wichita Falls fight fans are not to be left out in the cold as regards their weekly boxing bill of fare. No siree, chirps Legion Promoter Don Wofford, we'll just shift the date of the bouts this week to Saturday night.

So Wildcat Monte of Amarillo and Frankie McFarland of Boston are slated to hook up in their long awaited 12-round squabble tomorrow eve in the legion arena. The opening bout of the card will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock, according to officials. With good fortune the final scrap should come on before or by 9:45.

Light Work Today.

The glovesters will run through light exercises this afternoon at the legion hall with the purpose of keeping limbered up for the fights. Thursday, not knowing, of course, that the bill was going to be rained out, the boys all loafed in order to be in the best possible shape by last night. Several of the fighters worked but lightly Wednesday which means that they'll have to race through some snappy workouts this afternoon if they expect to be in tiptop condition by Saturday night.

Railey Meets Spider.

Rich and Grisham, welterweights billed in a ten-rounder, will work lightly this afternoon.

Swede Wright of Devol who meets Tabby Levine, featherweight of Wichita Falls, probably will be in today, and run through light training paces this afternoon. Levine will be on hand.

Promoter Wofford has added a four-round raiser in which Red Railey, Wichita Falls saffron-topped slugger, squares off with Spider Owens of Oklahoma City.

Billy Whiskers

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY.

Nannie had just told the twins to keep quiet so they could hear what Black Wings said their grandfather Billy wanted them to do.

"Oh, I bet it is something bully if he is planning it," said one twin.

"Bet your sweet life it is!" chimed in the other.

"Children, how many times must I tell you not to use such language?" said their mother. "If you don't behave, we will leave you at home."

"You can't do that. Granfather told you to bring us and he would be disappointed if you did not."

"Hush! Don't be impatient!"

"You have all been to Chicago so will know the way," remarked Black Wings.

Just them a rooster flew up on the wagon to crow that it was daylight and time for all the barnyard animals and fowls to be up and licking their coats or preening their feathers, which is what they do each morning instead of washing their faces as little boys and girls do.

"Mr. Chanticleer," called Nannie, "won't you crow out an invitation to all the naimals and fowls to come to the spring at the foot of the barnyard as soon as they are up, to meet Mr. Black Wings? He has just come with a message from Billy, my husband, that he has landed in America safe and sound and is on his way here with our old friends Stubby and Button.

"With pleasure, Mrs. Whiskers! And I will crow my loudest and longest, for nothing in the world would give me more happiness than to welcome our old chum and friend back to the farm."

"Mother," said Mr. Winters, the owner of the farm, "that rooster will split his throat if he doesn't stop crowing so loud and long. He doesn't generally keep it up so long. If he continues to crow like that in the mornings when I wish to sleep, we will roast him for Sunday dinner."

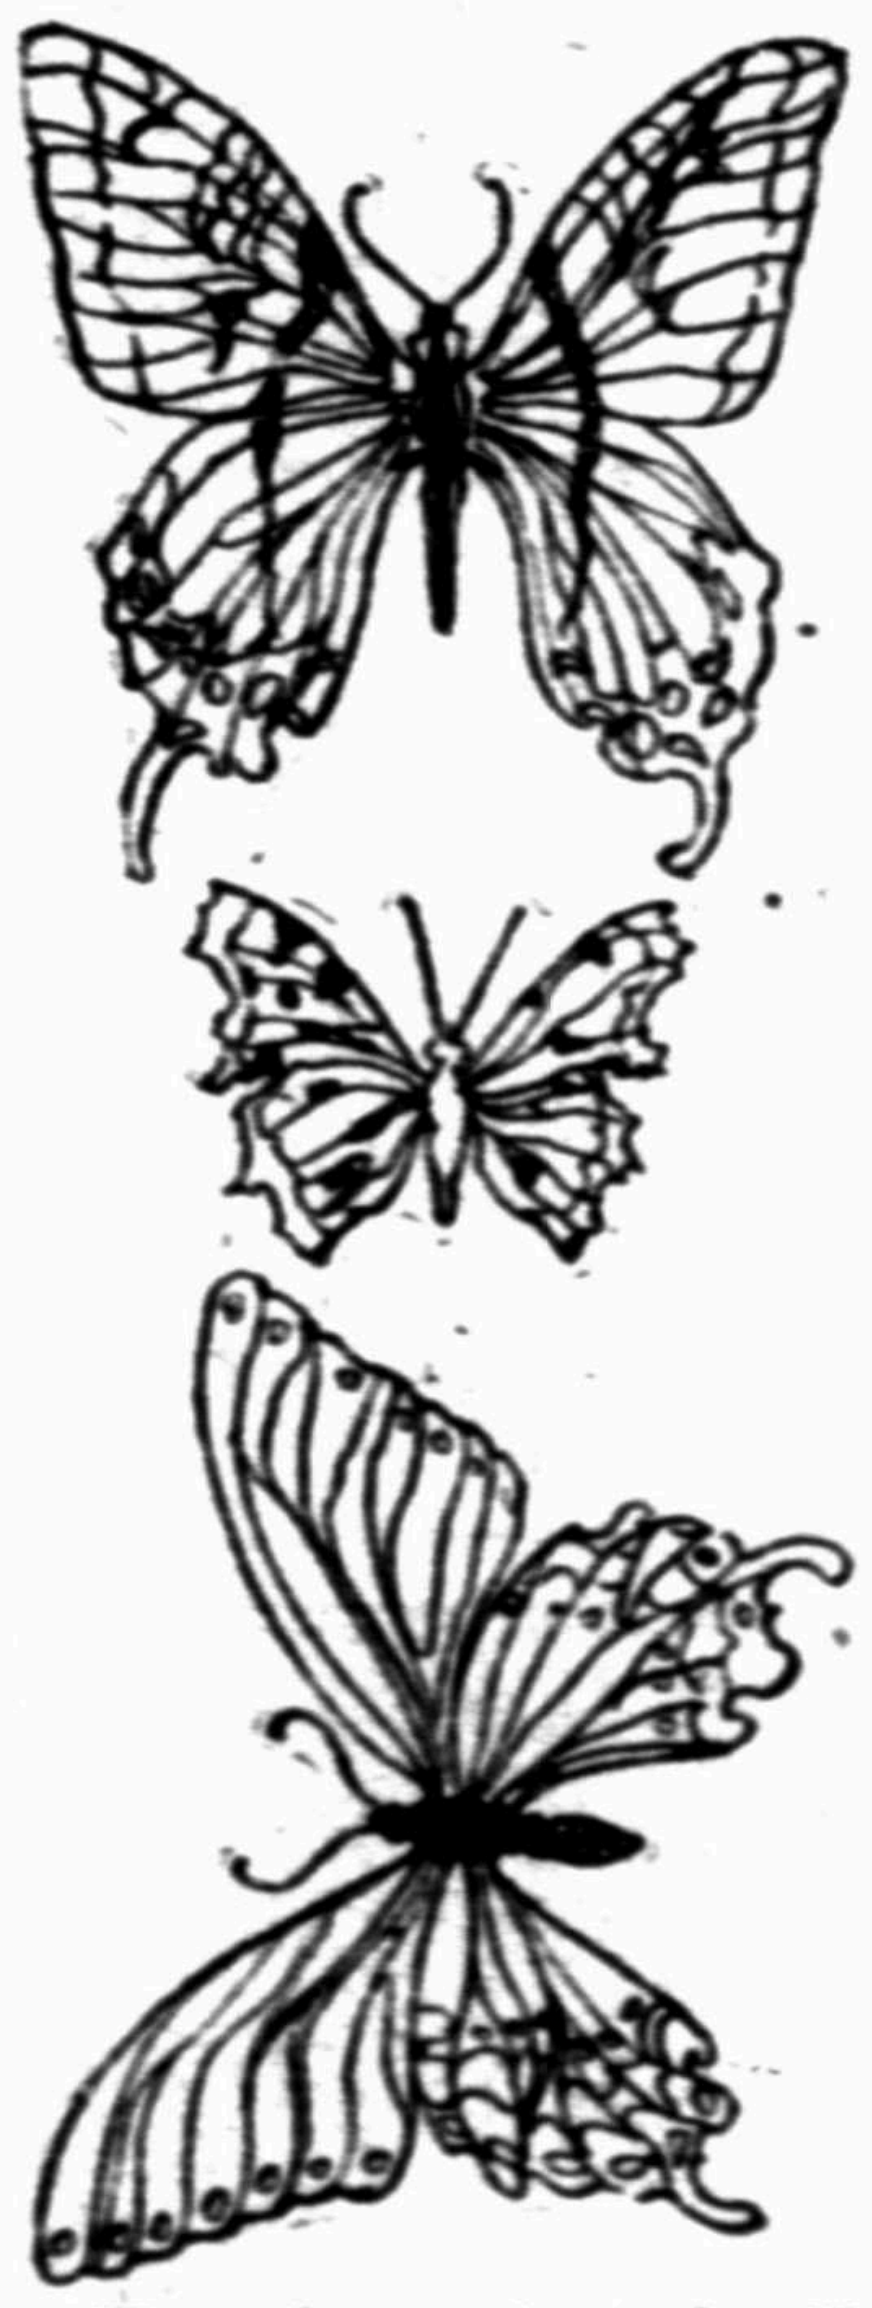
About an hour later Mr. Winters went to the farmyard, to take a look around before breakfast, he was surprised to see all the animals congregated around the spring. Even the pigs, chickens, ducks and turkeys were there.

"Strange they should all be so thirsty this morning," he pondered. "If I had given them salt last night, I might have thought it was that but they haven't had any for days. Heigho! there goes an old crow, the first I have seen around here for ages."

When the animals saw Mr. Winters they all separated and wandered off in a careless manner. As soon as Mr. Winters had returned to the house, you could have seen had you been looking, three big goats and two young ones hurrying down the lane that led from the barnyard to the main road to Chicago, with a big, black crow flying over them.

(Tomorrow they reach Lincoln Park.)

Color Cut-Out



"What are you going to do with these butterflies after you catch them?" asked Ted, as he followed after Dick, whose hobby was collecting butterflies.

"I'll mount them up and write under them the Latin names they have. I have a butterfly book I look them up in."

"I think I'll start a collection," announced Ted. "This is fun."

The top butterfly is yellow with streaks of brown, as sketched in the drawing. There is a brown border around the wings and there are little bright blue spots on the lower wings. The little middle butterfly is red, slightly orange, with brown spots where the black marks are in the drawing. The lower butterfly is all dark brown with a blue border across the lower wings and little dots of yellow all the way around the wings. Color the butterflies, cut them out, and fly them on strings.

PAPAEETE, Tahiti.—Papeete has acquired its first traffic cop. The number of motor cars has increased so much during recent months that the highways of the town have become too congested for uncontrolled traffic. Reading Aloud

One Mother Says:

When I am sewing or knitting some one of the children is usually reading to me. Sometimes the choice is a school history or reader, in which I have a chance to help interpret the hard parts. Often the book is merely one that we are enjoying together. I like to have a part in the children's recreation hours, and besides the practice the child gets in reading, I am given an opportunity to guide his taste unostentatiously.

Woman Drowns by Falling Into Moscow Street Hole

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW.—American asphalt and paving concerns would make a fortune in Moscow if they could induce the Soviet government to give them the job of repairing the thousands of streets in the Red capital that are rutted and broken. Most of the streets are paved with cobblestones that make walking a positive discomfort. Only one or two of the principal streets are laid with asphalt.

Pedestrians experience not only discomfort and inconvenience through having to use the broken roadways, but often positive injuries as well. Not long ago a Russian woman fell into an open excavation in one of the principal street and was drowned in the water that had collected.

During his recent visit here Isaac F. Marcosson, the American writer, fell into an opening in the sidewalk and suffered painful injuries about the face, arms and legs. He was returning from an interview with Leon Trotsky, the Soviet war minister.

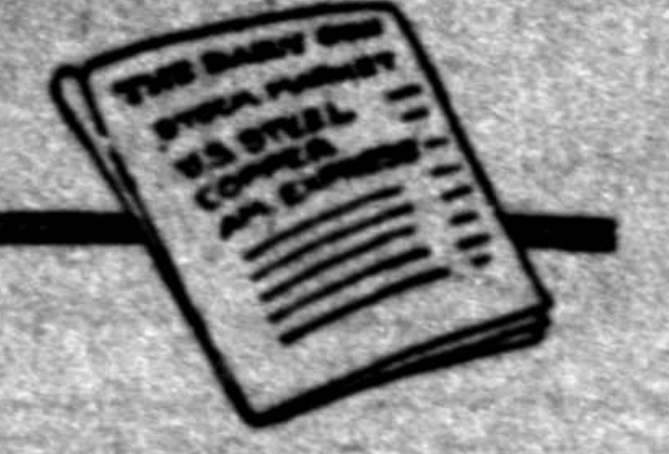
MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bond and Investments.

A "LISTED" STOCK IS NOT NECESSARILY SAFE



"LISTING" MEANS GIVING A UNIVERSAL MARKET TO THE STOCK OF A LEGITIMATE ENTERPRISE

What does "listing" on the New York Stock Exchang mean to the public and to the stock so listed?

• • •

When a stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange it means that it will be given a national and international market and this is the principal reason why listing is desirable. The listing committee of the stock exchange does not attempt to judge the value of the security before admitting it to a listing. The main points considered in listing are, does the stock represent a legitimate enterprise, is there a proper distribution of the shares giving the stock a free market?

Almost every line of business is represented in the various listings of the exchange and more will be added from time to time. Last year the common stocks of 42 new companies was listed for trading in the New York market. The investor should keep in mind, however, that listing does not mean anything to him so far as safety is concerned and every listed stock must be judged on its own merits, with the advice of skilled financial men.

FERGUSON

institutions fairly alike," she then stated in positive answer to the questions of her intentions. She made it plain that she could not state what she would do specifically with each appropriation until she had the detailed case before her, and then the talk reverted back to seven years ago, when 2,000 University students marched to the capitol grounds in Austin and grouped themselves in front of the office, displaying banners protesting against a veto of the University appropriations bill.

Charges Faculty Instigated

"I know that members of the University faculty were back of that mob and that they incited the students to do what they did," Mrs. Ferguson said. She seemed to have a lenient attitude toward the students who took part in the demonstration declaring that they were "just boys and girls led like sheep." The time for the interview was drawing to a close when "Farmer Jim" appeared on the scene. The ex-governor was not present at the interview with his wife, the governor-to-be. He had been inside the house in his room taking a nap and trying to catch up on some of the sleep he lost during the campaign and the busy days following immediately upon Ma. Ferguson's success at the polls.

Why He Didn't Sign

"We were just talking about the University and this young man tells me that he was one of the mob that marched down to the capitol and insulted you," was her greeting to Farmer Jim.

The reporter was about to beat a hasty retreat but the man who was the central figure in the stormy days of seven years ago just grinned and exclaimed:

"He was!"

"Well you know, I could have signed that appropriation bill," said the former governor referring to the University fight, "but I realized that if I did after that mob came down there I'd make it hard for other governors to come. It would have meant that every time a governor had a difference with the faculty of the University that he would be visited by another mob, so I wouldn't sign. "I didn't know it then, but I know it now, from a prominent lawyer at Austin that everything in connection with that mob demonstration was planned out in every detail at a meeting in President Vinson's office."

Charges Vinson Responsible.

Farmer Jim then named Robert Ernest Vinson, former president of the University of Texas, a student named Spence and a prominent Austin lawyer, as the triumvirate which decided on the details for the demonstration. "I'm not quite sure that the student's name was Spence, but as I remember that was the name which was given me," he said. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson then revealed that since the day of the demonstration against Farmer Jim at the Texas capitol, many of the students who took part in the protest parade had come to them and expressed their regret that they had taken part in it.

Didn't Blame Students

"Well, we didn't blame the students so much because we know that about 30 members of the faculty were back of it all," was Mrs. Ferguson's closing comment. She then excused herself with the announcement that she had to get an chauffeur for her husband who wanted to go to the Ferguson campaign office down town.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—The cotton market developed an upward trend from the start today and although there was moderate reactions around the middle of the session on professional selling and sales by scalpers, the market rallied again in the last half hour of trading and made new highs for the day, prices at the top showing net gains of $2.25 a bale. The market opened better on more favorable Liverpool cables than due, first trades showing gains of five to eight points. This gain was increased to 18 to 19 points soon after the call and in the middle of the morning, October traded up to 24.95 and December to 24.15 or 43 to 44 points above yesterday's closing levels. Prices lost about half the gain around mid-session on selling mainly on a reported weak spot basis, but rallied again in the late trading, October trading as high as 24.06, and December at 2417 or 44 to 46 points above the previous close, making new highs for the day. The close was near the top showing net gains for the day of 37 to 45 points.

The early advance was due largely to the favorable Liverpool cables, particularly the sales of 12,000 bales, the largest day's sales in some time. The early upward swing was helped by numerous and serious deterioration reports emanating from all parts of the belt.

Market Letters

COTTON

R. E. Flowerree & Company Thursday received the following market letter from Fenner & Beane:

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—The cotton market had a good tone most of the day and most of the selling was less aggressive than for some time. The steady stream of deterioration reports and facts from government records showing from two to three times as much loss in lint production per acre from weather in drouth years than from weevil in the years in which they are most active apparently upset shorts and induced considerable covering. Some local spot houses formerly bearish in their views were large buyers because of shrinking crop ideas. Another storm in the West Indies was reported.

Reports of easier spot basis in Texas and the Atlantics furnished the occasion for some selling today but the market took it well enough to discourage sellers. Large crop figures had no effect. The announcement of the pars for the next estimate showing an average increase of 18.8 pounds per acre was some less than generally expected and did not occasion any selling.

Best prices of the day were made in the last half hour when October sold 44 points net higher.

Bearish confidence in large crop ideas are being undermind and more covering is likely to occur.

FENNER and BEANE.

GRAIN

Clements Curtis & Co., of Chicago, today wired their correspondent W. N. Graham of Wichita Falls, Texas, as follows:

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Prices advanced one to two cents on active speculative buying. The report of large production in Canada has been generally refuted and Winnipeg advanced 2 1-2 cents. Movement of wheat out of primary markets is greater than movement in indicating a rapid taking of the crop, cash wheat is firm, reports from Argentine continue to be unfavorable to the crop.

Corn—Market opened higher, the advance holding throughout the day. Cash corn is being firmly held, and reports regarding the growing crop were mixed but on the whole not favorable.

Oats—There was a good advance in sympathy with corn. Cash offerings were somewhat larger and the bulge brought out considerable profit taking.

GRAINS AVERAGE HIGHER IN PRICE

Bullish Foreign News Is Chief Cause For Sudden Gain

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—All grains averaged higher in price here today due to bullish news and continued unfavorable crop reports from the domestic corn belt. At the finish, wheat was up 1 1-4 to 2 cents, with September 1.22 5-8 to 1.22 3-4 and December 1.27 3-4 o 1.28; corn scored a net gain of 1 1-2 to 2 3-4 cents, oats rose 1 1-2 to 1 7-8 cents, and provisions advanced 12 1-2 to 25 cents.

Wheat displayed a firm undertone throughout the day, largely in sympathy with corn strength and because of lower temperatures in Canada and the advance in Liverpool.

Pessimistic reports of damage in the corn belt were chiefly responsible for the adeane in that grain. Nebraska complained of a continued hot dry wave, which is firing the crop, and Iowa said low temperatures were retarding corn which is in need of warmer weather to advance development.

Oats were firm in line with other grains.

Provisions were strong and active in sympathy with higher quotations in hogs and the strength of corn.

Cigarettes More Popular Than Cigars in Jugoslavia

BELGRADE.—Figures issued by the tobacco regie of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croatians and Slovenes show a marked increase in the use of tobacco in the country in the past year. The figures for the first three months of the present year show that 25 per cent more cigarettes were smoked than during the corresponding period last year.

The consumption of cigars shows a diminution which tends to raise the question as to whether cigars lend themselves to the Jugoslavian taste.

Cattle Steady With Butcher Stock Lower

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28.—Compared with the extreme low points in yesterday's market, the cattle trade was about steady, but butcher cows were around 10 to 15 cents under the mid-week average and heavy calves lost another 25 cent piece. Receipts amounted to approximately 4,000 head of cattle and 3,000 calves.

The beef steer trade carried a steady appearance. Bulk sales ranged from 4.50 to 5.50. Canners and cutters sold at 4.50@4.75. Butcher cows brought 2.50 to 3.00. The bulk of heifers and yearlings went at 3.50 to 5.50; bulls sold from 3.00 to 3.25. The bulk of the calf market sold from 5.00 to 5.50.

Although top hogs sold at 9.65, compared with an extreme high range of 9.60 Wednesday, the market was not quotably higher, hogs at 9.65 being more desirable than those that made 9.60 on the mid week rounds. Receipts amounted to 1,250 head, the entire supply being for market consumption.

Pigs went at the usual spread, and the demand was broad. Butchers grades were snapped up at 7.75 to 8.00, and fair to good stockers went at 7.00 to 7.50.

No material change was noted in the performance of the sheep market. Receipts amounted to 1,200 head. Choice wethers sold at 7.25, good yearlings 9.00 and some lambs sold at 12.00. Common brush goats went at 1.25.

Chicago Live Stock

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Cattle 6,000; yearlings and handyweight steers fairly active, strong; most weighty steers 7.50@9.50; western grass steers 6.00@8.60; stockers and feeders scarce; bulls steady; vealers 12.50@12.75.

Hogs 17,000; mostly 10 cents higher; light lights and slaughter pigs dull, weak to 25 cents lower; top 10.00; butchers 9.50@9.95; lights 8.80@9.25; packing sows 8.45@8.90; pigs 7.50@7.75; estimated holdover 16,000.

Sheep 18,000; fat lambs steady; native lambs 13.00@13.25; culls 9.00; range lambs 13.40@13.50; sheep weak; fat ewes 4.50@6.00; breeding ewes 7.00@7.25.

STOCKS PROVE EXTREMELY DULL

Total Sales Fall Far Below Recent Transactions

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Extreme dullness characterized today's stock market, which opened with a firm tone and then turned reactionary when professional traders detected selling pressure against the standard industrials. Total sales which fell below 550,000 shares were the smallest of any full session since the middle of June and reflects the absence of many large operators over the Labor Day holiday.

Selling pressure against Cuyamel fruit, which touched a new low for the year at 46 3-4, was apparently inspired by the failure of the company to earn its dividend requirements in the first six months. International Telephone, which was bid up briskly yesterday on the announcement that the company had obtained a contract to reorganize the Spanish telephone system, fell back two points on profit taking.

United States Steel common, selling ex-dividend, touched 108 1-4, but slipped back to 106 7-8 for a net loss of 3-8 at the close. American Can was in rather free supply, closing 3 points lower at 128 3-4. Baldwin showed a net loss of one point at 120 3-4, despite a flurry of early buying in anticipation of the placing of a $25,000,000 equipment order by the Pennsylvania railroad in the next few days.

Excellent buying developed in the chain store group in response to reports of an increase in retail trade, but the early gains were substantially reduced when a late wave of selling developed.

Railroad shares failed to respond to reports that car loadings for the week ended August 16 were the highest of any week this year. Full earnings, which are running 10 per cent below those of last year, probably restricted trading in the carrier issues.

VICTORIA—Contracts awarded for construction of concrete bridge on Victoria-Goliad road.

The Following Taken From THE TEXACO STAR

Published by The Texas Company, Port Arthur, "illustrating real conservation, we send a photograph showing the type of steel gunbarrel tank in use on some of our leases in the North Texas Division.

"The tank is so constructed that from one inch to three inches vacuum is maintained. Vacuum regulator is also shown. We have seven of these tanks in operation, from which we conserve 200,000 cubic feet of gas daily, not conserved previously, which is taken to our Electra gasoline plant.

"This tank and others of like constructon pay us good dividends. On the present price of gasoline and residue gas sales, we figure that each three or four months these tanks have earned their investment. Also, they greatly reduce fire hazard on our producing properties."

The above tanks are manufactured by the Panhandle Refining Company's Boiler Shop department. For particulars call the following numbers: Day Phone 7125. Night, 2860 or 2223.

TEXAS MELONS MOVING FAST

Prices Continue Strong Despite Increased Shipments

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—While the watermelon movement yesterday was slightly increased, Missouri rolling a total of 53 cars, 22 from this state and a total for the nation of 205 cars, the outside situation continued strong, Texas stock in Chicago bringing $525-550 for 28-30's. Other markets were also firm, reporting as follows.

Kansas City: Fourteen Texas, 6 other arrivals, 12 diverted, 19 track; firm, 30's carlots cwt. $1.55.

St. Louis: No Texas, 11 other arrivals, 21 track; steady; Texas Irish greys 28-30's cwt. $2.00, Watsons 38-40's $2.25.

Chicago: Seven Texas, 8 other arrivals, 21 track; about steady, Texas 28-30's some over ripe $525-550; three-tier cars of 32's $485.

Sofia Town Crier Calls Citizens to Work Roads

By The Associated Press.

SOFIA.—Conscript labor, though only three years old, is becoming as definite a part of the life of the Bulgarian people as conscript soldiering used to be.

The highways leading out of Sofia are badly in need of repair, so recently the town crier went successively to the principal points of the city, beating a drum. The first roll was the signal for the collecting of a crowd, consisting mostly of little boys and girls. Then the crier cried:

"All male citizens between the ages of 20 and 40 are requested by the city government to report at their respective district city halls at the hour of nine Monday morning. The work to be done is the repair of roads."

Of course, it was expected that the boys and girls would notify their fathers and the authorities were evidently correct in their surmise, for on the following Monday morning at the five district city halls the labor conscripts appeared with shovels, spades, wheelbarrows and carts, ready to work on the roads.

Giant Orrery Shows all Stars

By The Associated Press.

MUNICH.—The "starry vault of heaven," with every constellation known to man moving in its celestial orbits, has been reproduced within the cupola of the newly erected German museum by means of a large orrery.

Forty-one projecting cameras will be used to reconstruct the intricate movements of the heavenly bodies.

Russia Now Has Many Universities

By The Associated Press.

RIGA.—According to Russian educational authorities, there are 235 universities in Soviet Russia, besides 94 workingmen's high schools, otherwise called "people's universities". Nearly 50 per cent of the 4,655 professors listed resided in Liningrad and Moscow.

ICE COMPANY ENLARGES PLANT

Wichita Ice Co., Reports Best Selling Season In Local History

A big increase in the business of the Wichita Ice company during the present season has brought them to the decision to increase their manufacturing capacity and to build a storage house that will care for 1600 tons of ice that can be held to meet demands over daily production. This excess will be from operation of the plant in the slack season of the year.

Best Season in History.

During the present season, which is the best this company has enjoyed since beginning business, they have had to buy ice from other plants to meet the demands of storage houses at other points, said J. T. Gant, general manager. Delivery equipment to render service promptly to customers was added in the beginning of the season.

In addition to the plant here with a daily capacity of 130 tons the company owns a modern 30 ton plan at Burkburnett, but they are required to take care of the shortage from the local plant.

Other Storage Houses.

This company has storage houses at Iowa Park, Holliday, Petrolia, Byers, and Megargel. They will before another season build a storage plant at Electra. Mr. Gant said that the local plant is of such capacity they are able to take care of demands from the entire city and also re-ice refrigerator cars for the Katy railroad. Work on excavation for the storage house to be built is under way and soon additional refrigerating machinery will be installed.

Gant Declares City Needs More Houses

Wichita Falls is very much in need of a residence building boom, declared J. T. Gant, general manager of the Wichita Ice company Thursday. His knowledge of the need comes from the information secured by the delivery of ice by the retail wagons of the company. Mr. Gant declared that if 100 residences could be built in a day they would be filled by incoming families before another day passed away.

Homes for rent is the greatest need of the city at this time, he declared, and property owners and builders have not moved in making improvements along this line as fast as they should. There are very few houses in the city that are vacant and many of those are not of the most desirable character and not in the best part of the city, asserted Mr. Gant.

KLAN IN MAINE NOT ISSUE SAYS BUTLER

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Arriving in New York today for a series of conferences, William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee declared that the ku klux klan was not an issue in Maine.

"The klan is being discussed," he said, "but is not an issue.

Asked if, as reported from Washington today, the party speakers and candidates henceforth would avoid all reference to the klan, Mr. Butler said: "I have no desire to discuss speeches or issues. My interest in this campaign is in the works—the organization. Our candidates and speakers will discuss the issues."

Tables May Do Shimmy and Chairs Waltz With Each Other Tonight When Spiritualists Strut Stuff

How'd you like to see a table walk up to you on its four legs and do a buck and wing to the strains of some celestial music?—or

Hear a chair tap "Yanke Doodle" on the floor before your eyes?—or

Have the voice of your dead great-uncle whisper in your ear the location of his buried treasure?

Well, don't you have the heebie-jeebies if it should happen when you go to the seance of the state spiritualists association here tonight.

Pshaw! That's common stuff.

No less a personage than J. S. Maxwell, president of the association, says so himself.

Of course, he puts it different. But he means the same thing.

"Mere child's play," he asserted with a deprecating gesture yesterday when asked if such were possible. "Hundreds of our very best people have seen those things and more. When some of our internationally known mediums here tonight demonstrate their psychic power, they'll tell you that the dead can talk, and still further, they will prove it."

"I very rarely speak of spirits," Dr. Maxwell continued. "I take them as a matter of course. I have heard them—I have seen the work of the great mediums—I have seen these seances where I knew there could be no fraud.

"Then why discuss the spirits? They are as evident as the wireless or the telegraph. Yet people take as a matter of course these things which carry voices of persons they cannot see, and laugh at spiritualism. If they would attend our meetings with an unbiased mind and not be on the look out for f and at all times, there would be much for them to learn."

Seances are to be held by the association tonight, Saturday and Sunday.

Frantic over the disappearance of her little eight-year-old-son, Mrs. Della McLean and her aged mother appeared at the police station Thursday night. With the boy there disappeared two siut cases containing the clothing of Mrs. McLain, her mother and her little son as well as all their money.

They were coming into Wichita Falls to take the train enroute to Glen Rose, where Mrs. McLean was to take treatment for heart trouble. They were being brought to this city in a Hudson car which stuck up in the mud about five miles out of the city. Two other cars came along and the little boy and the two grips were picked up by the driver of a Studebaker touring car. The mother and grand-mother were brought in by a Wichita citizen in his Buick car and taken to the police station where they hoped to find their lost boy and suit cases.
