Texas Republicans are waging a battle to keep their party members in their own primary election this year. They face a substantial obstacle in many counties for the simple reason that they have few candidates for county and district offices. Nevertheless, they have become more and more sensitive to effects of fence-jumping on their nominees for state-wide offices.

A publication of the party quotes Byron Fullerton, the GOP nominee for lieutenant governor of Texas in 1970 in a friendly reminder to the faithful:

"It seems like we have an uncanny ability to outsmart ourselves in the political games we play like in 1970. Only about 100,000 or so bothered to vote in the Republican primaries while more than a million Republican voters were over in the Democratic primary, as they put it, helping pick an opponent for George Bush in November. Well, they picked a good one, all right! And they made him look so good that he went to Washington..."

Just received a pamphlet reminding that the Coaches All-America Football Game is set for June 24 at Lubbock—less than two months away.

Last year's game at Lubbock was perhaps one of the best of the all-star type.

This year, the East team will be coached by Bear Bryant, the Alabama strategist, while Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks will mastermind the West squad. Assisting Bryant will be Bo Schembechler of Michigan and Tubby Raymond of Delaware. Fairbanks' assistants will be Jim Sweeny of Washington State and Tony Knap of Boise State.

The Dallas Cowboys did draft a quarterback the past season, it says right here on a publicity release from the club's business office. Moreover, they have signed him to a contract. He is Gordon Longmire of Utah, a 205-pounder who stands 6-1 and passed for over 1,700 yards in two seasons at Utah. He was the Cowboys' 16th round selection in the winter draft.

Speaking of the Cowboys, Mel Gilbert relayed a story from Dan Reeves, the player-coach, who spoke at a convention Gilbert attended recently. Reeves noted that being born and reared in Americus, Ga., and having played his college football at South Carolina University, he had never played on an integrated team before he joined the Cowboys. A quick friendship with Don Perkins, the star fullback from New Mexico, helped him adjust to the new situation, Reeves disclosed. The Cowboys had early exhibition games in Los Angeles and in Birmingham, Ala., which prompted Perkins to come up with a suggestion. Turning to Reeves, he said, "I'll take care of you in Los Angeles if you'll do the same for me in Birmingham."

Nixon To Report Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Henry A. Kissinger freshly returned from a secret Moscow trip and the Paris peace talks resuming Thursday, President Nixon gives the nation a Vietnam report tonight including his decision on U.S. troop levels there after May 1.

U.S. forces in South Vietnam currently are slated to drop to 69,000 by the end of this month. This nears the residual-force strength of 25,000 to 35,000 men Nixon has indicated will stay on until Hanoi frees American prisoners.

Besides scheduling the widely awaited presidential radio-TV address for 10 p.m. EST, the White House also:

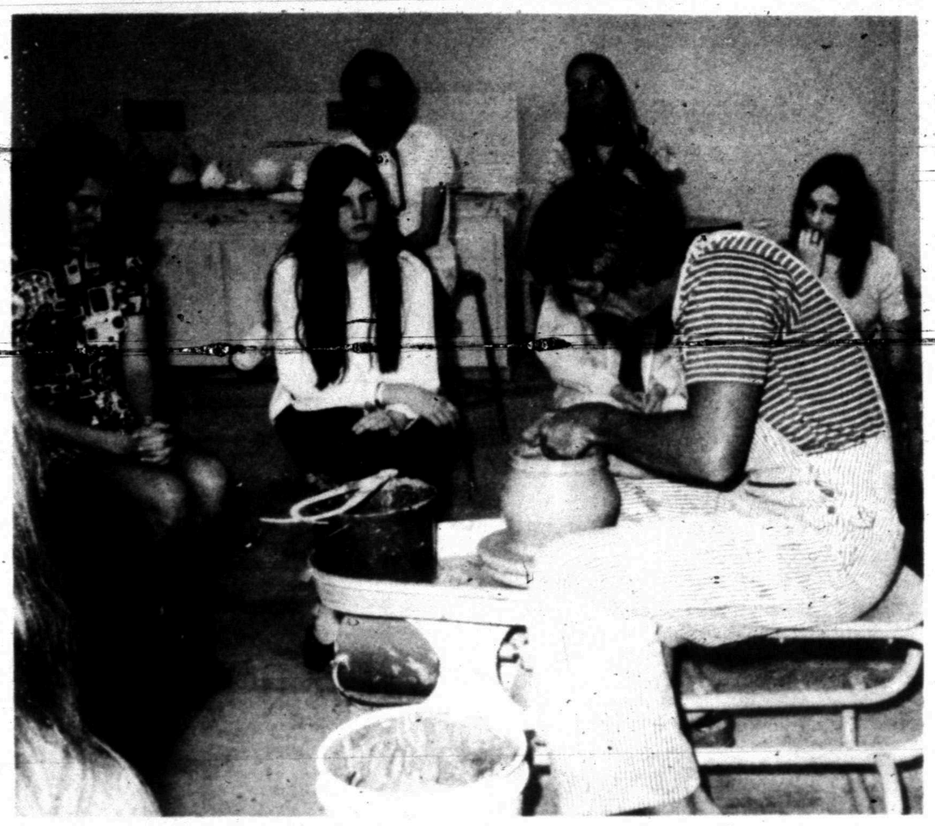

—Announced U.S. and Saigon negotiators will return to the Paris parley Thursday, with their first item to be "discussion of measures which will put an end to the flagrant North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam."

—Disclosed presidential adviser Kissinger flew secretly to Moscow last week for four days of talks with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and other Soviet leaders. During this April 20-24 period the White House was saying Kissinger was with Nixon at the President's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat.

Political Rally Set For May 4

Snyder Jaycees will hold their political rally on the night of Thursday, May 4, rather than this Thursday night, which had been reported earlier.

The rally will be held in the Towle Memorial Park Pavilion and all candidates for public office have been urged to attend so that they may be introduced and have an opportunity to speak briefly in connection with their various races.

WTC Is Set For Dedication Events

A series of activities began this morning at Western Texas College in connection with dedication of the campus.

Meanwhile, ticket sales for the barbecue luncheon scheduled Friday at the Scurry County Coliseum were underway on the campus and at several locations in town.

The dedication ceremony is set for Friday morning in the central courtyard at WTC. Congressman George Mahon will be the principal speaker. The barbecue luncheon will follow at noon Friday in the coliseum. Both the dedication ceremony and the barbecue are open to the public. The barbecue tickets are priced at $2.50 each.

Special events will continue on the WTC campus through Sunday, May 7. One of the major highlights in addition to the dedication ceremony will be the musical comedy, "The Fantasticks," which will be presented on the Sentell Memorial Stage in the WTC central courtyard on May 5-6.

First of a series of arts and crafts lectures, demonstrations and exhibits was held this morning when Jasque Bakke, ceramics instructor at McMurry College, presented a demonstration in the WTC crafts studio.

The WTC dedication events are being held simultaneously with observance of Scurry County History Appreciation Week.

In cooperation with both events, the Diamond M Art Museum will be open to the public on Thursday and Friday between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

An art exhibit of the Texas Art Gallery and a faculty show from area colleges will be open Thursday in the WTC Learning Resource Center. Also to be shown are works of Snyder High School students and members of the Snyder Palette Club. The exhibit will remain through May 7. Colleges represented include Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, McMurry College, Odessa College, Angelo State University and South Plains College.

Pulls Out Of Race

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, under fire for apparent violation of Texas nepotism laws, resigned today and said he also would withdraw as a candidate for the Texas House.

"My past mistakes or bad judgment should in no way reflect any discredit whatsoever on the other members of the Texas Senate who are sincere and conscientious public servants," Ratliff said in a statement distributed by the secretary of the Senate.

Ratliff said his resignation would be effective at once so a special election could be called to name his successor.

He said he did not want his district to be denied "effective representation" in the special legislative session which Gov. Preston Smith is expected to call in June.

"After I am able to consult with our local party officials as to the proper timing I shall also withdraw as a candidate for the House," Ratliff said.

Ratliff, 60, has been a senator for 17 years.

The senator has at various times employed five of his own relatives on his legislative staff—an act prohibited by the state's nepotism laws. Other relatives of Ratliff have been employed by other legislators.

The alleged nepotism was revealed by newsmen who had consulted Senate payroll records.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who presides over the Senate, said in Abilene April 17 Ratliff should resign.

The next day, Ratliff said he was considering such a move but also said that he did not feel "under the circumstances that I have, with any criminal intent, committed any wrongful act."

SEN. DAVID RATLIFF

Ratliff is a tall, handsome, silent man who looks like a picture book image of a statesman. He rarely takes part in Senate debate, however, other than to cast his votes on bills. He is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee and vice-chairman of the influential Committee on County, District and Urban Affairs.

Tippen To Seek Rest Of Term

ABILENE — The echoes of Sen. David Ratliff's statement of resignation had hardly faded away this morning before Bill Tippen, well-known Abilene Attorney and former legislator announced that he would be a candidate for Ratliff's unexpired term in the present 24th senatorial district. The district will cease to exist next Jan. 1, but will continue through the remainder of the year and will be in existence during the special budget session of the legislature which must be held later in the year.

Tippen, whose wife, the former Elsie Murphree, was reared in Snyder, served two terms as a state representative from Taylor County in 1947-50. He later served as County Attorney and as District Attorney in Taylor County before going into private practice of law.

He cited his legislative experience in announcing for Ratliff's 24th District seat in the state senate.

"I am not politically ambitious for a lengthy career in legislative service," Tippen said. "I believe that with prior legislative experience, I can, in spite of a relative short time, join other good legislators of West Texas to restore confidence in government and work in favor of economy."

McGovern, HHH Win Primaries

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Sen. George McGovern, triumphant in Massachusetts, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Pennsylvania victor, joined political battle today after dealing a devastating one-two blow to the presidential campaign of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

But the senator from Maine said in defeat that his rivals for White House nomination will "have to fight like hell to take it away" from him.

Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and managed only a fourth-place showing, close behind McGovern in Pennsylvania, where he concentrated his campaign.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace ran a startling second in Pennsylvania, after staging a one-day campaign. Massachusetts gave Wallace 8 per cent of the vote in partial returns, just ahead of Humphrey.

Next Tuesday, McGovern and Humphrey confront each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington in an Ohio battle for 153 convention delegates.

Tuesday's dual verdict vaulted McGovern into the lead in committed delegate votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Pennsylvania awarded Humphrey the first major presidential primary victory in his career as a White House campaigner, which dates back a dozen years.

That contest was not binding on Pennsylvania delegates, who were elected separately.

With about half the vote counted in that competition, Humphrey had 58 delegates, McGovern led for 32, Muskie for 31, Wallace for 2.

In Massachusetts, the preference poll bound the delegates, and McGovern led for all 108 first-ballot convention votes.

All told, Pennsylvania will cast 182 nominating votes at the Miami Beach Fla., convention. The primary awarded 137 of them.

Crew Sets Space News Conference

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 16's astronauts said as they hurtled back toward earth today that it would be premature to speculate on what lunar secrets their moon rocks will unlock.

"It ain't good science," commander John W. Young said. "We have to wait until we get back to the laboratory to find out what we've got."

Charles M. Duke Jr., who explored the Descartes mountain plateau with Young, said "Anything we would say would be pure speculation at this stage."

The exchange came during a 20-minute conversation in which capsule communicator Dr. Tony England, a scientist-astronaut, relayed questions from geologists.

England told them that during a news conference from space later today reporters were expected to press them to draw some conclusions about the rocks and samples they collected during 71 hours on the moon.

In the South Pacific, where the carrier Ticonderoga waits to recover the astronauts, the weather forecast for the 2:44 p.m. EST splashdown time Thursday called for unlimited visibility except for a few thunderheads, seas of 1 to 3 feet, light winds and a temperature of 84 degrees.

"That's the best news we've heard in a long time," commented Thomas K. Mattingly II when he received the report.

Nixon Spices Texas Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Attention turned toward Washington today following a report that a key Republican would be visiting a key Texas Democrat this weekend in Texas and major Democrats were quick to point out they still would back the Democratic party all the way.

The key Republican, of course, is President Nixon, who announced Tuesday he would be the overnight guest of Treasury Secretary John Connally on his Floresville ranch.

There is to be a supper at the ranch Sunday with about 200 invited. Everyone—Democrats and Republicans alike—is waiting to see who's on the list and whether or not it's politically wise to accept.

The Texas AFL-CIO was quick to point out to Democratic leaders in Corpus Christi Tuesday that anyone who accepts help from Connally will be aiding the Republicans in November.

"It is clear that Connally wants to grab all the major Texas contributors for Nixon even before the Democrats have a nominee for president," said Roy Evans, Texas AFL-CIO president.

The major gubernatorial candidates—Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe and Frances Farenthold, told the labor group they will support the National Democratic Party nominees in 1972.

Smith filed a financial statement Tuesday, showing his net worth at more than $1 million.

He listed assets of $1,128,201, including $223,187 in stocks and bonds, $50,000 in half interest of a ranch, $225,000 in a real estate subdivision and holdings in eight theater businesses.

Connally said Tuesday in Washington he probably would not return to Texas to campaign on behalf of his brother, state Sen. Wayne Connally, seeking the lieutenant governorship.

He had also hinted he might help Barnes, his protege.

Barnes received the endorsement of the San Antonio Light Tuesday, which said he is the "best equipped to be governor in the critical two years ahead."

Barnes, in replying to criticism from Mrs. Farenthold about revealing his financial worth, Barnes said it was not necessary for him to make his 1971 income tax return public because such things as contribution to churches and charities are personal and not required by state law. He added that he has received an extension on filing his return.

Mrs. Farenthold told a Tyler rally that lines are clearly drawn on three final issues—financial disclosures, a corporate profits tax, and a public utilities commission.

She is in favor of all three.

The Harris County Conservative Democratic Committee, described by one of its own as a loosely knit organization of about 200 businessmen who pick a slate of candidates, backed Briscoe for governor Tuesday.

They endorsed the other major statewide incumbents.

In Beaumont, Bill Hobby, a candidate for lieutenant governor, said a private poll shows him in the lead. Hobby said 4,000 persons in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio were polled and he led with 22.8 per cent. He said 55 per cent of the voters were still undecided.

Smith said Tuesday in Greenville he would oppose use of tolls [illegible] Fort Worth Turnpike to help finance the Trinity Tollway between the two cities.

Smith said the turnpike should become a free road when the final payment is made on its construction bonds in 1976 or 1977.

Later, in Texarkana, the governor implied that the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) "went easy" on Barnes during its Sharpstown state bank investigation.

Smith said he "cannot understand" why the SEC failed to take depositions from Barnes and three senators who helped two Sharpstown bills sail through the state Senate.

The governor said the senators included Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Connally, both candidates for lieutenant governor, and J. P. Word of Meridian.

"It is real interesting that the SEC did not see fit for some reason to take their depositions," the governor said.

MATTINGLY TAKES SPACE WALK—Apollo 16 command module pilot Thomas K. Mattingly floats through space about 200,000 miles from earth as he retrieves a film magazine from one of the two cameras attached to the spacecraft. Mattingly was bundled in a stiff pressure suit and attached to a 25-foot lifeline as he eased his way out of the hatch and made the 15-foot trip to the rear of the spacecraft and the camera bay. Cast For Musical Announced

The cast of "The Fantasticks" is busily rehearsing on the WTC campus for the production of the play on Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

Charles Holland, director reported that "Everything is running smoothly and all the cast members are preparing themselves for the production." He also released the name of cast members.

Larry Lenord will play Matt; Pam Hartsfield, Louisa; Joe Wilson, El Gallo; Sam Kitching, Hucklebee; Bob Clifton, Bellamy; Gregg Nelson, the old actor, Bill Martin, Mortimer; and Jan Olsen, the mute.

"The Fantasticks" is an award winning play that has been widely used for family entertainment throughout the United States. On the WTC campus the play will be given an added attraction by being performed on the Sentell Memorial Stage in the central courtyard.

The play will begin at 8:45 p.m. both Friday, May 5, and Saturday, May 6. The show time of 8:45 will also bring added enjoyment by being at a time when the play can be performed under a star-filled sky. However, if the production is required to be cancelled because of weather, the show will be performed again on Monday evening, May 8.

Full Flow Seen For Long Time

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Railroad Commission Chairman Byron Tunnell forecast Tuesday a continued 100 per cent oil allowable for the state "for a long, long time."

Tunnell said reduction of the allowable will come about only if the demand for oil is reduced. However, that this is an unlikely prospect.

Tunnell was in Midland attending the 10th annual meeting of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association.

Food Price Drops Cost Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supermarket food prices dropped 0.4 per cent in March, the first dip in five months, but farmers—not the middlemen—absorbed the decrease, the Agriculture Department announced today.

Last Friday the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported retail food prices continued to rise in March but only by 0.1 per cent, a much slower pace than earlier.

The Agriculture Department said, however, that the BLS figures were based on surveys taken during the first week of March while its new report was for a "market basket" list of food items during the entire month.

Officials said "substantially lower" returns to farmers for meat animals and fresh vegetables were the main reason for the retail price drop.

Although the prices farmers received declined, higher middleman costs for transporting, processing and selling food to consumers ate up most of the reduction, the report showed.

The entire market basket, theoretically enough food to keep a typical farmily for an entire year, cost an annual rate of $1,292 in March, down $5 from a record high in February.

Of that, the "farm value" was $502 for the month, a $14 cut from February. The middleman share, however, rose $9 to $790 in March, the report said.

House Destroyed

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a small frame house at Twelfth Street and Avenue P at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Owner of the property was not identified.

Gravel Appears Stymied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Gravel appears stymied in his effort to place secret Vietnam war papers in the Congressional Record.

The Alaska Democrat, blocked in a first attempt Tuesday, plans to raise the issue again when the Senate meets Thursday.

The documents, which Gravel conceded carry a secret classification, were prepared in 1969 to help President Nixon establish Vietnam war policies.

Gravel said they showed that Nixon's highest advisers "told him days after he took office that Vietnamization supported by massive American air power had not worked in the past and was not likely to succeed in the future."

Gravel tried to place parts of the documents in the Congressional Record, but he was blocked by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., acting minority leader.

Griffin said if Gravel tried to read them into the record, he would move that the Senate go into a closed-door session.

An aide to Gravel said he did not know how the senator would try to get the documents into the public record Thursday.

Sanders Commits Suicide

BARCELONA (AP) — "I am bored and I have already lived long enough," George Sanders wrote in a suicide note.

Then the actor, 65, who had played the suave cynical cad in scores of films took an overdose of sleeping pills. His body was found Tuesday on the bed in a hotel room at a seaside resort near Barcelona.

Five empty barbiturate tubes were beside the body, police said, and he left a second note in Spanish.

Sanders came to Barcelona Monday from England, presumably on his way to his home on the island of mallorca. Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor, his second wife, said in Hollywood that his sister in London reported he had been "very depressed in recent weeks" but that he had been "happy and gay" when she put him on the plane Monday.

Sanders made his Hollywood debut in 1936 in "Lloyd's of London" and in the next 34 years played in nearly 100 movies. In all but a few he was the villain, but one that was charming, impeccably groomed, elegantly cruel, delivering acidly clever dialogue in an upper-class British accent.

He was married four times, to Elsie Larson, who divorced him in 1948; to Miss Gabor from 1949 to 1954; to Ronald Colman's widow, Benita Hume, who died, and in 1970 to Miss Gabor's sister Magda. They separated after a month.

Senior Day Plans Made

Parents of seniors in Snyder High School have organized to make plans for events on Senior Day, which is set for May 30.

They are planning a supper, a show and a breakfast, with a senior dance to be held following graduation ceremonies.

Parents who did not attend the planning meeting have been asked to notify the committee chairmen if they will participate.

The committee chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Preston Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Derl Lovell, supper; Mr. and Mrs. Sig Line and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thompson, dance; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durst, breakfast.

Parents of each senior are being asked to send $5 to school to help defray the cost of the planned activities.

Major Changes In System

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Major changes in the Texas Tree Farm System are under way.

The system, operated under the sponsorship of the Texas Forestry Association and supervised by a committee composed of representatives of industry, the Southern Forest Institute and the state forestry agency, the Texas Forest Service, is being reorganized into seven districts to coincide with the seven Texas Forest Service districts. Formerly the system was under a three-district division.

N-Viets Still Gaining Ground

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces threatened today to cut South Vietnam in half, posed a new tank challenge in Cambodia 55 miles northwest of Saigon and shot down another big U.S. transport plane at An Loc.

Six American crewmen were missing.

The U.S. Command said 24 American helicopters and 18 planes have been lost since the North Vietnamese offensive began 27 days ago, with 25 Americans killed, eight wounded and 41 missing in the air losses. Spokesmen said these figures do not include Americans killed or wounded in aircraft that have been damaged but not destroyed.

With the western highlands province of Kontum already seriously threatened, Communist troops continued their push into coastal Binh Dinh Province 75 miles to the east and cut Highway 1, the country's main north-south road. Highway 14 north of Kontum and east-west Highway 19 leading from the coast to Pleiku were severed earlier.

Landing Zone Salem, a key South Vietnamese position on Highway 1 in coastal Phu My district, fell just before noon after more than 12 hours of enemy attack.

Other North Vietnamese troops isolated Bong Son, another district town to the north, cut Highway 1 and began rounding up civilians to carry supplies.

In the highlands to the west, the North Vietnamese drive down Highway 14 toward Kontum City appeared stalled by the destruction of a bridge by U.S. bombers.

Enemy gunners kept up sporadic shelling of airfields at Kontum and Pleiku, 25 miles to the south. The U.S. Command reported that an Army observation helicopter was shot down near enemy-held Dak To but said there were no casualties.

The United States sent 75 B52 bombers against North Vietnamese positions in South Vietnam. They dropped nearly 2,000 tons of bombs, and more than half of the strikes were in the central region.

New fighting was reported around Saigon.

Fighting continued for the 20th day at An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, and other battles erupted northwest and southeast of the capital.

The U.S. Command said a four-engine C130 transport was shot down a mile southwest of An Loc while making a supply drop. The six crewmen were reported missing.

Enemy gunners poured more than 2,000 rounds into the besieged provincial capital Tuesday.

Three Mishaps Are Reported

City Police investigated three minor motor vehicle mishaps yesterday.

The first one occurred in the 1300 block of Avenue E at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday. Involved were a 1959 Model Chevrolet operated by Manuel Realsota, 403 College Avenue, and a 1972 Model Chevrolet driven by Harry Clifford Fowler, Abilene.

About an hour later, a 1969 Model Plymouth driven by Ruth Irion Smith, 3718 Austin, was in collision with a parked 1970 Model Hornet owned by Deanna Williams, 2811 El Paso, on the parking lot at Munden's Discount Center.

The other mishap occurred in the 1800 block of Cogdell Drive at 5:35 p.m. Involved were the 1967 Model Ford of Roger Alan Springer, Arlington, and a 1969 Model Buick driven by Maggie Brown Simpson, 4506 El Paso.

The 1916 summer White House of President Woodrow Wilson now houses Monmouth College at West Long Branch, N.J.

County Court Pleas Heard

Several pleas were entered in county court Monday.

Roy D. Morris and Guadalupe R. Bernal both pleaded innocent to charges of driving while intoxicated. Bernal was released on $1,000 bond and will return to court May 4 for a pre-trial hearing. He was arrested March 15 by Highway Patrolmen. Morris was released on $500 bond and will return May 4 for a pre-trial hearing. He was apprehended by City Police March 22.

Adolfo Juarez and Denver Way Jr. both pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated. Both received judgments providing for $100 fines plus court costs and 3-day jail terms. However, they received credit for time previously spent in jail. Way will return May 4 for final sentencing, and Juarez will return May 8 for the same purpose. Both were arrested March 23 by Highway Patrolmen.

Mark Ramage pleaded guilty to fleeing from a police officer. A judgment was entered providing for a $100 fine plus court costs. He will return to court May 4 for final sentencing. He was arrested March 9 by City Police.

David Lynn Fisher pleaded guilty to driving without a license and received a judgment providing for a $25 fine plus court costs. He will return to court May 4 for final sentencing.

Make a cool addition to your forced air system. The Lennox Nifty Weather Machine.

For 18,000 Btuh outdoor condensing unit, indoor cooling coil and refrigerant lines. Installation extra.

Back about 1893, when Dave Lennox made his first furnace, relief from summer heat was a hunk of ice and a patch of shade.

There have been some changes made. Now you'll find the Lennox name on nifty weather machines that cool and clean the air and control moisture in homes and buildings. And these weather machines are designed so that even if you aren't lucky enough to have a Lennox furnace, you can still add Lennox central air conditioning, air cleaning and moisture control to nearly any forced air system.

That's a relief, for sure. Get out from under the weather with a Lennox nifty weather machine.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Condominiums gain new adherents every day among both builders and buyers.

There are a few misconceptions about condominiums that need clarification. They are often confused with cooperatives. They are sometimes thought of only as units in apartment buildings. And they occasionally are considered a way of life without responsibilities.

Both condominiums and cooperatives have definite advantages over rentals because they enable the purchasers to take income tax deductions of taxes and interest just as with private houses.

When you buy a condominium, you get an individual mortgage for the space you occupy, whether it be an apartment, row house or even a detached house in a condominium community. When you buy a cooperative, you purchase shares in a corporation which has a mortgage for the entire project and which assesses you for a portion of it according to the size and cost of your living quarters. In both cases, maintenance costs are separate from the mortgages.

If you decide to move from a cooperative, you must sell your shares. In most cases, the agreement calls for the corporation to get first crack at buying back the shares. Because this provision originally was designed to give the corporation complete control over the selection of new occupants, some state and local laws now forbid exclusion of anyone because of race, creed or color.

If you decide to move from a condominium, you sell your residence on your own, with the new owner taking out a mortgage or, if it can be arranged legally, taking over yours and paying you the difference in cash.

Even though you have the right to sell the condominium, you should know—before you buy it—whether there are certain restrictions to this right. These restrictions are formulated by an owners' association or a similar group that draws up the regulations for the entire project.

It is not only wise but imperative to know what every regulation is. There usually are dozens of them, relating to such things as pets, garage space and the facilities on the grounds. Ignore them and you are likely to be unpleasantly surprised at some later time.

WOMEN

Family Collects Frogs

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — If the fairy tale of the princess and the frog were true, the princess could wear out her mouth trying to turn Mable Winters' frogs into princes. Mrs. Winters has 3,124 of them.

"We're just a frog-buying family," she said. "I've been married for nearly 46 years to a wonderful, frog-buying husband."

Her husband, Quinn, isn't the only frog-buyer in the Winters clan. Their son, Leroy, also often purchases additions to the family collections.

The frogs come in all sizes and shapes. One weighs 70 pounds; one is only a dot.

They are made from agate, turquoise, jade, onyx, opal, obisendia, ivory, candy, tallow, straw, silver, bronze, oold, pewter, brass, wood, shell, iron, glass, rubber, china, mother of pearl, even volcano ash.

"I also collect any pictures, books, jokes, postcards and greeting cards that are about frogs," said Mrs. Winters.

The collection includes frogs emblazoned on beach towels, beach bags, other towels, shopping bags and aprons.

Mrs. Winters, 64, said the collecting of frogs began in 1936 when she and her daughter, Louise, then four years old, were in Mexico.

"She put a coin in a gum machine and got a plastic frog as a prize," Mrs. Winters said. "She gave it to me."

More than 600 of the frogs in her collection come from Mexico, and 96 are stuffed-type frogs.

Friends in six countries have sent frogs to her, Mrs. Winters said.

The collection occupies a dozen show cases and three rooms of the Winters house. There are 84 frog-shaped banks, 72 frog-shaped salt and pepper shakers, a frog-shaped straw end table, frog-shaped egg-holders, jewelry, you name it.

There's even a nine-piece froggy orchestra depicted playing "Bullfrog Blues."

Mrs. Winters' knowledge of frogs does not end with the stuffed or manufactured variety. There are, she said, 250 species of real frogs ranging in size from less than an inch to about one-yard.

Mini pizzas make great quick snacks for unexpected parties. Just split six small English muffins and place them on a baking sheet. Top each with a slice of Cheddar cheese and 1 tablespoon chili sauce. Cut 6 brown and serve sausages into 10 crosswise slices each and place 5 penny slices on each muffin. Sprinkle with leaf oregano and grated Parmesan cheese. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until heated through.

Dentistry Ideal Career For Women

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dentistry is an ideal profession for women, yet they continue to shun it, says Dr. C.A. Laughlin, president of the American Dental Association.

During a visit for the 75th annual meeting of the Southern California Dental Association, Laughlin told newsmen that only 1.2 per cent of the nation's dentists are women and the number is declining annually.

Women should consider dentistry, he added, because they would be able to "set their own hours, establish a part-time practice from their homes and serve their family as well as patients."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chasteen of 602 Thirty-fourth St., Snyder will be honored on their golden anniversary with open house April 30th from 2 to 4 p.m. in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Emmitt Hall. Hosting the affair will be their children Mrs. Emitt Hall (Mary) of Snyder, Billy Ray, of Odessa, Joe of Sweetwater and Jack Chasteen of Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Chasteen were married at Pulaskie, Tenn. in 1922. They resided at Harleselle, Ala. until 1950 when they moved to Scurry County.

DJIA Back Just Under Magic Level Of 1,000

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In the past six years man has assaulted height records of various sorts. He has topped 18 feet in the pole vault, erected 110-story buildings, sent instruments toward the stars and stepped on the moon.

But in that same time the old Dow Jones Industrial Average is stuck right where it was in 1966. It has bounced about during this time, shaking loose a few fortunes, but its rebound is like that of a worn tennis ball.

It reached 995 in 1966 and then tumbled to 744. It crawled up to 985 in 1968 and then fell to 631. It rebounded to 950 in 1971 but plunged again to 798 in the same year.

Once more it is back close to 970 but there again the "assault" seems to have stalled. Early in the week it read 957 and some of the stock market letter writers were showing the strain.

As explained by one, James Dines, the market has once again reached that point where analysts are just getting too bullish. So watch out.

"... and with the DJIA now in the area just under the magic level of 1,000 which has spawned so many bear markets, a market correction cannot be ruled out."

When the DJIA nears 1,000 there is a distinct, observable shift from confidence to caution and this time for a number of reasons.

Those hefty corporate profits on which many investors base their hopes are now somewhat suspect. C. Jackson Grayson, Price Commission chairman, observes that some are illegally high and will result in rebates.

That war in Vietnam that so many analysts wanted to write off as a significant factor has now reached a pitch that cannot be ignored by Wall Street because of the threat of significant policy changes.

And those mutual fund redemptions. For quite a while most analysts ignored the repeated news that fund shareholders were cashing in their chips. Temporary, they said.

Now they are not so certain. The redemptions continue, suggesting that the great growth days of the mutual fund industry may have ended. That means a loss to the market of a steady flow of investment dollars to support prices.

All these factors can take on a different meaning over coming days and weeks. Not only will the events change but, in a mystifying way, the interpretation of events might change also.

Junior Editors Quiz on PEMMICAN

QUESTION: What is pemmican?

ANSWER: The North American Indians prepared a food known as pemmican. They dried buffalo or deer meat by exposing it to the sun for several days. Then, when the meat was well dried-out, they pounded it into a powder. They mixed the pulverized meat with hot fat and sometimes added dried berries to improve the flavor. When the mixture cooled, it was formed into cakes. Pemmican is tough and not too pleasant in flavor, but it is compact and does not spoil. It was used by the Indians to sustain them during their travels. A small bag of pemmican would keep a person alive for days. In the Northwest, dried fish was used as the base of this food. This was perhaps the first form of concentrated food.

Pemmican is used by explorers, surveyors, hunters and others who make trips to remote areas where there are no supplies. The base of pemmican today is usually beef. The people of South America and South Africa produced a dried food similar to pemmican.

Met To Get First Black Conductor

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Lewis will become the first black conductor in the history of the Metropolitan Opera.

Lewis, the 39-year-old music director of the New Jersey Symphony, has been engaged to make his debut with the company next season in Puccini's "La Boheme."

Lewis, married to Met soprano Marilyn Horne, has conducted the San Francisco Opera, the Vancouver Opera, the Boston Opera and the American Opera Society, as well as major symphony orchestras.

Owning Home Costs More Now

BOSTON (AP) — A researcher for the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts says his study indicates the person who bought the average home 10 years ago in the Bay State might not be able to afford it today.

Elliott G. Carr, director of research, said today the average first year costs of buying a home in 1962 were about 13 per cent of the family's income, while in 1972 the average cost is 19 per cent.

Carr said local property taxes skyrocketed 231 per cent over the 10 years, while land costs rose 153 per cent, labor and material 68 per cent and mortgage interest 38 per cent.

Flowers Were Not Expected

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — George Davis expected brickbats, not bouquets, after his car slammed into the rear of an auto driven by Shirley Scudder.

Davis went to the hospital after the accident, his ribs smarting. Mrs. Scudder's crumpled car went to the garage.

The flowers sent to Davis' hospital room the next day carried an unexpected note. They were from Mrs. Scudder.

Bachelor Pad Not All Fun

By JOHN HOTARD
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It seems the dream of many a red-blooded American boy is to get his own pad and lead the life of an unfettered young bachelor.

Sometimes the facts of life are not always black and white, but more gray—a little pain along with the fun.

Like the latest happenings at 2450 Lakeshore, a bachelor pad boasting a view of a lake, a boat, and man's best friend, Joshua.

A paradise.

True, but not without work and a bit of man's ingenuity, blood and tears.

First, a fence for Joshua is now up. Note the key word—"up," a trivial thing, you say. Obviously you have never built a fence.

The Saturday Afternoon Engineering Society, (SAES), an organization which does very little engineering, came over to help.

The fence is of five-foot-high welded wire with 2X4-inch mesh and referred to as "no climb" because it is nigh impossible for a dog to get over it. Certainly not a small Collie like Joshua.

Unfortunately, it was made to be stretched along ground which has almost no slopes.

The SAES was undaunted, however, and stretched it, stapled it and now has a fence as straight as one will find in these parts.

Except.

Regardless of how deep the gate or corner post is sunk in concrete, it will lean if it is not braced.

The fence looks great. It's just that the gates hang at about 65 degrees.

Attention then turned to the boat, a 14-foot knockabout which had not been taken out since being bought second hand.

The motor is one of those which you start by pulling a cord. Starting was by the inrushing water.

Water? What water, you ask. Well, you see, if a boat's drain plug isn't screwed in, water tends to flow into the boat—in great quantities.

In fact, the engineering society discovered an important scientific law:

Water flows through a half-inch hole faster than a person can bail with a halfgallon jug.

We then were joined by Joshua, who came down to the lake and watched master and friend go boating.

Josh? I thought he was fenced in. Back to the yard for a mental aptitude test for one dog.

It's a simple procedure:

Place dog in enclosure and vigorously call dog, slapping both pantslegs several times.

Dog quickly runs and crawls under the high end of the gate.

Current thinking is that 4X4 posts must be added about every two feet.

Empress Critical Of Iranian Police

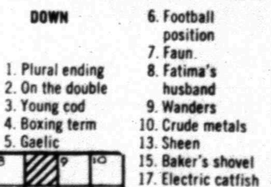

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Empress Farah has a bone to pick with Iranian police.

They are "ill-mannered, inconsiderate and showed unnecessary favor to royal motorcades and owners of large luxurious cars," the empress said during a speech Saturday night to the police Academy.

There was no comment from police officialdom. But there was a report that the police cadets cheered the empress.

Nurse Shortage May Be Ending

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: I was going to become a teacher but understand that there are too many teachers. So don't you think becoming a nurse might be better as there is such a shortage of them? -- M.W., Santa Ana, Calif.

FIRST, understand that teaching and nursing aren't really comparable in work requirements and rewards – although both professions serve mankind. It's a mistake to assume that just because you think you'd make a good teacher, you'd make a good nurse, or vice versa. As a nurse, who likes her work but is candid in advising students, wrote me from Seattle, "Believe me, you have to like people to like nursing."

SECOND, the desperate shortage of trained nurses which existed in past years is probably coming to an end. Several authorities with whom I spoke see definite signs that the demand-supply gap is being closed. This does not mean that a surplus of nurses is foreseeable, or that nursing is not a good choice. It is simply unclear at this time what the job market for nurses will be in the future. Among reasons why:

INCREASED INTEREST. Hearing about the nurse shortage, large numbers of students are flocking to the profession. (There are 3 educational approaches to nursing – 2-year community college programs leading to associate degrees; diploma courses (2-3½ years) offered by hospitals; and 4-year bachelor of science programs at colleges and universities.)

Admissions to all nursing schools jumped from 71,300 in the fall of 1970 to 83,800 in the fall of 1971. This is a 17 percent increase – much greater than any within the past decade. Scattered reports from school counselors indicate that the waiting period to enter nurse training programs is a year or even more in some schools.

Admissions are expected to mushroom again this fall because of liberalized financial aid; the large influx of students who would have gone into teaching in past years but chose nursing because they heard the job opportunities were better in the health field; an increase in older (college age) nursing students; and as a result of widespread health recruitment campaigns.

MORE MONEY FOR STUDY. New Federal benefits for student nurses provide up to $2,500/year on a loan basis ($10,000 for total study). 85 percent of the loan is cancelled if the graduate nurse works for a public or nonprofit employer for 5 years – or in a "shortage area" for 2 years. A shortage area is rural, ghetto, big city public hospital, or other locale where an employer agency or institution can't get enough nurses.

Scholarships for needy students can go as high as $2,000/year.

Half-time as well as full-time students are now eligible for loans and scholarships. The amount of financial assistance given is based on need.

ECONOMIC SQUEEZE. Tight budgets in many institutions employing nurses have resulted in fewer new hires – some employers have even been forced to furlough nurses. In metropolitan areas, a nurse may not get her first job choice, but have to settle for a second or third choice. It's the shortage areas that offer the most openings, and these jobs may be less attractive or not pay as well.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE? Passage of any form of national health insurance would open the floodgates of nurse demand, and shortages of trained personnel then could be expected to continue.

IN SUMMARY, if you enter nursing, the reason should be that you WANT to be a nurse – not that you're looking for unlimited job security. Prospects for nurses are favorable, but there are indications that the supply may catch up with demand in the next few years.

FOR NURSING CAREER LITERATURE: Write to the ANA-NLN Committee on Careers, American Nurses Association, 10 Columbus Circle, New York, N.Y. 10019. It is also helpful to read professional nursing journals, which may be available in your library.

'OOOH, DID I DOTHAT?' — "I can't believe I did that. I didn't mean to mess up the environment." Look closely at left and you'll see a guilty-looking dog peering from behind the tree where he has just upset a garbage can. Recovery Crew Standing By ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (AP)—Five helicopters, three airplanes and a whale boat will be awaiting the Apollo 16 splashdown Thursday for perhaps the most complicated recovery mission yet.

The Space Agency hopes to recover more parts of the shlashdown equipment than ever before following the return of astronauts John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II.

The aircraft carrier Ticonderoga, the prime recovery ship, arrived Tuesday at the splashdown site 178 miles southeast of Christmas Island and 1,519 miles south of Hawaii.

The array of aircraft and men standing by are part of efforts to find out what caused the collapse of one of the three main parachutes on Apollo 16. The chute was never recovered.

An extra helicopter will be used this time to maximize chances of recovering all three of the main parachutes. Another chopper will try to fish out the three smaller drogue parachutes, while still another will be concentrating on the apex cover, the cone-shaped metal piece at the top of the command ship. The 400 to 500 pound apex-cover is jettisoned on re-entry.

A motor whale boat will tow the heavy cover to the Ticonderoga.

This is the first time a helicopter has been given the special job of locating the apex cover, which triggers the parachutes when jettisoned.

A communications relay airplane will be flying above the helicopters, while two Air Force rescue craft will serve as backstops in case Apollo 16 lands out of the planned splashdown area.

Heading the helicopters will be "Recovery," which will drop three frogmen into the ocean to stabilize the spacecraft and assist the astronauts.

Those aboard "Recovery" will include the pilot, Navy Cmdr. A. K. Fieser of Peru, Ill.; a space agency physician, Dr. Charles Giass of Groston, and Lt. Earl K. Kishida of Steilacoom, Wash., the first of three frogmen to jump in the water after splashdown.

Satellites monitor the birth of storms around the globe.

Muskie Is Optimistic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has been clobbered again, but claims his campaign has turned the corner and "we are on our way up again."

His latest defeats in two primaries cast considerable doubt.

As in the earlier Florida and Wisconsin contests, Muskie ran poorly Tuesday in the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts presidential preference elections.

In Massachusetts, where polls once indicated Muskie would win with ease, Sen. George McGovern beat him more than 2-to-1.

In Pennsylvania, where Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey won and Gov. George C. Wallace placed second, Muskie and McGovern were in a tight race for third place.

Muskie finds himself on the ropes as the presidential primary parade marches on to Ohio—and a new crisis for the Maine senator.

Two months ago, when he was his party's front-runner, Muskie appeared to be in a strong position in Ohio.

Now, most observers in Ohio make Humphrey the favorite. Both the Humphrey and McGovern camps think that McGovern has moved into second place.

Muskie's hopes rest with Gov. John J. Gilligan, who has built the first strong Ohio Democratic organization in years.

But the lesson so far has been the inability of political leaders to deliver for Muskie.

In Massachusetts, practically every top Democratic leader in the state was on the Maine senator's at-large delegate slate. It was losing to the relatively unknown McGovern candidates.

In Pennsylvania, Muskie had the all-out support of Gov. Milton J. Shapp. It helped little.

Muskie said Tuesday anyone who wants the Democratic nomination is "going to have to fight like hell..."

It appears that Muskie will "have to fight like hell" to even get back into the thick of the race.

Lawyers' Lobby Opposes No-Fault Insurance

By JUDY VAN SLYKE
Associated Press Writer

No-fault insurance plans, already law in seven states and being considered in 27 state legislatures from California to Rhode Island, are facing stiff opposition from a well-organized and well-financed lawyers' lobby.

In some states, the lawyers are being aided by insurance companies and civil rights groups.

Fourteen states defeated no-fault insurance proposals in 1972 legislative sessions, and lawyers specializing in personal injury litigation, especially the American Trial Lawyers Association, are trying to block passage of no-fault legislation in 16 of the 27 states considering such bills, an Associated Press survey showed.

The lawyers' tactics differ from state to state, but Leonard Ring, a spokesman for the American Trial Lawyers Association, said the objection is usually on the same grounds that most no-fault proposals "either eliminate or strictly limit the right of people to recover for disability or pain and suffering that don't have a fixed monetary value."

Ring said the limitations affect both those victims who try to settle claims out of court and those who file suit to recover for damages.

Although no-fault plans vary, the concept is similar "reimbursement for auto accident victims from their own insurance companies for bodily injury and lost wages regardless of who was at fault in the accident.

In Illinois, the trial lawyers group spent $100,000 in an unsuccessful lobbying effort to have the bill killed.

But after the no-fault proposal was signed into law Sept. 2, 1971, the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association filed suit.

The State Supreme Court recently declared the law unconstitutional on the grounds it discriminates against certain groups of accident victims.

The Hawaii Trial Lawyers Association, an affiliate of the national group, waged a campaign of television and newspaper advertising that some lawmakers say influenced the legislature to table no-fault measures in committee.

The Colorado Farm Bureau and a group of independent insurers lobbied heavily against no-fault in the current session of the state's General Assembly, where a bill was killed and further study ordered by lawmakers.

In Wisconsin, several insurance groups, including the Independent Insurance Agents of Wisconsin and the National Association of Independent Insurancers, opposed six no-fault plans introduced in the legislature. Stanley Du Rose, state insurance commissioner, said many of the opponents "see no-fault insurance as an inevitable development in the future. What they object to is not so much the concept as the specifics."

Job Training Bill Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon signed into law Tuesday a bill extending for one year the government's job-training programs under the Manpower Act. They otherwise would have expired June 30.

A rider to the bill would permit 700 school districts to continue to receive impact-aid funds on the basis of federal post offices within their boundaries for the current fiscal year and 1973. These buildings have been transferred to the new independent corporetion running the postal service and are no longer considered federal property for purposes of the impact aid program.

Offshore Lease Sales Encouraging

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Busy exploration schedules in the area involved in the last federal sale of offshore Gulf of Mexico leases have produced rather encouraging results.

Such results and developing oil and gas supply problems are major reasons why oilmen are anxious for President Nixon to carry out the accelerated offshore leasing plans he announced last June.

A five-year timetable for such lease sales was published in June but objections from environmentalists caused postponement of a sale last December.

No general sale, therefore, has been held since December 1970, when 116 western Louisiana offshore tracts were leased.

Offshore Magazine reports that construction of platforms for tracts involved in the 1970 sale has far outstripped that of any previous sale.

"The average number of platforms installed during the first year after a sale is about five or six," the publication reports. "So far a total of 33 drilling and production platforms have been ordered or put in place on blocks from the 1970 sale."

The only other sale ever to approach this boom, the magazine reports, was a 1962 sale after which five platforms were installed the first year, 10 in the second year, and 17 the third.

For the 1970 sale, Offshore reports 45 blocks have had indicated discoveries and that 22 blocks remain to be tested. The magazine says the remaining blocks list dry or suspended holes but that some of these could well become commercial discoveries.

While most of the gas from the 1970 acreage will not be available to markets before the 1973-74 winter season, some companies hope to begin production this year.

The time lag between a sale and the start of market production is a major factor in the industry's reasoning that accelerated offshore leasing should be implemented as soon as possible.

"Properly timed sales allow industry to tailor their exploration work to definite time goals," explains Dr. Thomas D. Barrow, president of Humble Oil & Refining Co.

"The stop-and-go cycles that have characterized the administration of outer Continental Shelf lease sales in recent years have been detrimental to sound exploration and development programs."

Barrow says that despite the growing need for energy supplies, the frequency of federal offshore lease sales has changed very little since the first sale in 1954.

"For the entire period, general oil and gas sales have averaged one per year," he says. "Over the last five years, 1967 through 1971, there have been four general sales."

Sale sizes have varied considerably but Barrow says there has been a recent trend toward a smaller number of acres per sale. Since a record 3.6 million acre 1962 sale, general offshore lease sales have ranged from 250,000 to 970,000 acres with an average of 660,000 acres.

Connally To Host Nixons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally will play host at his South Texas ranch this weekend to President and Mrs. Nixon.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler confirmed published reports Tuesday that the President and First Lady have accepted invitations to visit the ranch near Floresville, Tex., where they will be supper guests Sunday.

Ziegler said the Nixons will spend the night at the Connally ranch but he could give no details for the present about that trip or the President's weekend travel plans.

He did not say whether Nixon will call on former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who is recovering from a heart attack.

The San Antonio Express-News reported Secret Service agents already are in San Antonio and Floresville. It said communications experts are expected to follow in preparation for the President's visit.

Twenty rooms have been reserved in a San Antonio hotel.

A reliable source said the Johnsons are on the guest list for a 200-place dinner at the ranch but it was not known if the former President could attend.

The only Texans the Nixons will meet will be those at the dinner, the newspaper said.

Employe Is Too Dedicated

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Dedication to duty is fine, say Flint city officials, but the man who turned several miles of city streets into an ice rink carried that concept a tad too far.

The unnamed employee had been told to take his city water truck and wash the streets Tuesday morning. He did...dutifully ignoring the three-degrees-below freezing temperature. His trail was clearly marked by irate drivers.

Cubs Win With Unearned Run 1-0

Although Snyder's Tigers outhit the Brownfield Cubs 5-3, the visitors pushed across the game's only run in the top of the 5th inning here yesterday afternoon to claim a 1-0 decision and hand the Tigers their first loss in District 3-AAA baseball play this season.

Snyder now is 18-3 for the campaign and 3-1 in district. The Cubs are 1-2 in district.

It was a tight pitcher's duel from start to finish with Brownfield's Billy Blankenship getting the decision. Jackie Murray dropped his first game in seven turns on the hill.

In the 5th, Brownfield's Louis Roberson singled to right and went to second on a walk to Eddie Ryburn. Mike Harrelson also singled to right to load the sacks. Then Mark Moore drew a walk, forcing in Roberson. Murray was still in a jam with only one away and the bases still loaded, but he caused Gary Willis to popout to short and Jim Chance to force Moore at second to retire the side.

Snyder tried its best to tie it up in the bottom of the 7th and almost succeeded. David Thompson opened with a single to right and Butch Buchanan laid down a sacrifice bunt to move him to second. V.T. Roberson went in as a pinch runner, and after Albert Hernandez popped out to the third baseman, Roberson caught the defense napping and stole third. However, Marvin McClanahan flied out to centerfield for the third out to end the threat.

The Tigers left three other men stranded. With one away in the first, James Hood singled to left and stole second. He tried to score on a single to right by Tommy Washington but was nipped at home plate in a close play.

Charles Anderson doubled to left with two away in the third, but his teammates couldn't drive him in.

Buchanan singled with two away in the 4th and stole second, but that's as far as he got.

Brownfield also had trouble delivering the clutch hit as they left six men on the base paths.

The Tigers will not return to action until next Tuesday when they meet the Tornadoes in Lamesa at 4 p.m.

Nicklaus Gets Nod In Dallas

by BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

DALLAS (AP)—The Invisible man disappeared into the Virginia hills, leaving Jack Nicklaus alone as the man to beat in the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Bobby Mitchell, who dubbed himself "the Invisible Man" after his surprise triumph over the heavily favored Nicklaus in last week's Tournament of Champions, made a last-minute decision to take some time off and savor his victory at home in Danville, Va.

That left the streaking Nicklaus in his customary position as a solid favorite in the 144-man field arrayed for this 72-hole test that begins Thursday.

And Nicklaus, easily the dominant figure in the game this year, may have a little more advantage than usual this week.

The Golden Bear seems to have an affinity for the rolling, 7,031-yard, par-70 Preston Trail Golf Club course. He's won the last two Nelson Classics on the same layout and will be seeking a rare third consecutive title in this tournament that has drawn most of the game's top stars.

Among them are Arnold Palmer, who lost to Nicklaus in a playoff here two years ago, Lee Trevino and Billy Casper.

And Casper, winner of more than 40 tour titles, came in with his regular tour caddy, Del Taylor. Taylor walked off the course midway through the final round last week after an exchange of words with Casper.

"We just had a little spat," Casper said. "That's once in 10 years. I've had more fights with my wife than that."

The 42-year-old Palmer, still one of the game's top attractions, is attempting to play his way out of a slump that has plagued him most of the year.

Trevino also has had his problems but gave some indication he's regaining the form that made him the athlete of the year in 1971. He closed strongly last week, finishing third, and would like nothing better than to win in the town where he was raised.

Australian Bruce Crampton, who now lives in Dallas, is another top candidate for the $25,000 first prize. Crampton hasn't won this year, but has a remarkable record. He tied for fourth last week, marking the eighth time this season he's been seventh or better.

Nicklaus, however, remains the top choice. In 10 starts this year, the man with the blond mane has won three—the Masters, Bing Crosby and Doral-Eastern—finished second three other times and been in the top 10 in two others.

He's already accumulated a whopping $153,000 in winnings, with almost two thirds of the season remaining.

The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

Pro-Am Set In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A field of 60 professionals and 180 amateurs will tee off Wednesday in the first of two Pro-Ams which proceed the Alamo Ladies Open.

The sponsoring San Antonio Golf Association is offering prize money totaling $1,500 for Pro-Ams Wednesday and Thursday in addition to $25,000 for the 54-hole Ladies Professional Golf Association tour event which runs Friday through Sunday.

Seventy pros and two amateurs are entered in the tournament proper, including such established stars as Mickey Wright, Betsy Rawls, Donna Caponi Young, Marlene Hagge, Kathy Whitworth, Jane Blalock, Sandra Palmer, and defending champion Sandra Haynie.

The tournament will be played over the 6,451-yard Olmos Basin Golf Course.

Al Hrabosky Strikes Out 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Al Hrabosky struck out 13 batters Tuesday night in leading Arkansas to a 10-0 shutout over Alexandria which moved the Travelers within half a game of East Division leader Memphis in the Texas League.

Memphis meanwhile lost to Shreveport 3-0 as Rick Young pitched a two-hitter, striking out seven and walking five. Catcher Randy Niles hit a two-run double in the third to push Shreveport ahead.

El Paso outslugged Midland 15-14 and San Antonio at Amarillo was rained out.

Hrabosky, who didn't join the Travelers until after spring training, now has pitched 11 shutout innings. Tony Auferia and Tommy Cruz each had three rbi's to pace the Arkansas attack.

In the hitters' war at El Paso, Wayne Burney tripled to score Bob Long in the ninth and break a 14-14 tie.

Fenway Park, with 33,379 seats, has the smallest seating capacity in the American League.

Happy Shula Gets Morrall

MIAMI (AP) — Coach Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins says that in picking up Baltimore's Earl Morrall on waivers he acquired "an intelligent quarterback who's won a lot of ball games for me."

The 37-year-old understudy to Johnny Unitas was acquired from the Colts for the $100 waiver price Tuesday. He will join George Mira, Jim Del Gaizo and rookie Craig Curry in the struggle to win the back-up job to the Dolphins' Bob Griese.

Morrall, who will turn 38 next month, was paid an estimated $65,000 by the Colts last year, and no NFL player can be cut more than 10 per cent.

Horn Golfers Are Favored

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Texas golf team, winners of the NCAA team title and the Southwest Conference match play tournament, is a heavy favorite to add the SWC stroke play championship to its collection.

The 54-hole medal play tournament will be played here Thursday and Friday with 27 holes scheduled each day at Paradise Valley Country Club. This is the first year a team championship will be decided on a stroke play basis in the SWC.

Each school is allowed to enter five players with the low four 54-hole scores counting toward the team total.

The Texas contingent includes Ben Crenshaw, low amateur in the recent Masters tournament, and Tom Kite, winner of the recent University of Houston All-America intercollegiate title. Kite, a member of the 1971 Walker Cup team, also won the All-Dixie tournament. Crenshaw won the NCAA individual title, the Border Olympics and the Atoscocita Intercollegiate.

Steve Veriato of Texas A&M is the defending champion in the SWC individual competition.

The golfers will be permitted practice rounds.

Owl-Cougar Clash Slated

HOUSTON (AP) — The second Rice-Houston football game will be played the night of Sept. 9 in Rice University Stadium.

The date had been listed in some preliminary schedules as Sept. 16 but the date has been changed because of a development in national television scheduling.

Houston will meet Arizona State in the Astrodome Sept. 16, and as a result the Rice-Houston game date was changed.

Houston defeated Rice in their first football meeting last year in Rice Stadium.

Amarillo Net Team Triumphs

AMARILLO—The Western Texas College tennis team was beaten 6-0 in a dual match with Amarillo Junior College here yesterday.

The match concluded the regular season for the Western Junior College Athletic Conference teams with the Westerners in third place. Amarillo and Odessa Junior College will meet in Odessa tomorrow to determine the first and second place teams.

Standings of other teams: Frank Phillips JC, Clarendon JC, NMMI, and, HCJC.

The WTC tennis and golf teams will compete in the regional tournament May 4, 5 and 6 at Roswell, N.M.

Results of yesterday's match with Amarillo players listed first:

Bruce Tilley defeated Henry Garland 6-8, 6-0; John Sloan defeated Ricky Riddle 6-2, 6-3; Gene Lard defeated George Villanueva 6-1, 6-4; and Gary Williams defeated David Faulk 7-5, 6-2.

In men's doubles, Sloan and Tilley defeated Faulk and Riddle 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, and Lard and Williams defeated Villanueva and Garland 6-1, 6-4.

Villaflor Wins Boxing Title

HONOLULU (AP) — Ben Villaflor of the Philippines scored a unanimous decision over Alfredo Marcano of Venezuela Tuesday night to win the world junior lightweight boxing championship.

The 15-round victory made the 19-year-old Villaflor, a native of the Philippines who fights out of Honolulu, the youngest champion of the century.

Villaflor weighed 128 and Marcano 25, of Venezuela, weighed [illegible]. There were no knockdowns and neither fighter appeared to be in serious trouble at any time.

BACK FROM SECRET JOURNEY—Presidential Adviser Dr. Henry A. Kissinger tells newsmen at the White House Tuesday he returned Monday from a four-day trip to Moscow for secret talks with Soviet leaders. The secret trip was made while the White House was saying Kissinger was at Camp David, Md., with the President. (AP Wirephoto)

Moscow Trip Still Planned

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

It is easy to envisage a set of circumstances that could make it impossible for President Nixon to go through with his visit to Moscow next month.

The latest mission of the peripatetic Henry A. Kissinger can arouse speculation that the current North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam could produce such circumstances.

There's evidence that neither Moscow nor Washington wants that to happen. Each seems eager for the summit to go on.

But the way the President's adviser announced his secret four-day stay in Moscow suggested that Vietnam was high on the list of subjects to be probed before the trip.

Moscow continues to advertise a determination to give North Vietnam and the Viet Cong "all necessary aid."

That aid has been enormous.

Initial arrangements for the Nixon visit were made at a time of relative lull in Vietnam. The U.S. troop withdrawal program was proceeding on schedule.

When Nixon was about to visit China, a North Vietnamese military buildup was noted. It might have been expected that an offensive would come to embarrass the Chinese. It didn't happen.

What's going on? Kissinger could well ask. Why an offensive now, when it can embarrass the Russians? It has been going on almost a month and the North Vietnamese are believed capable of sustaining it for yet another month. Should it rack up a clear major victory and establish, say, a capital for the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government that would make the Nixon visit almost impossible.

Would Hanoi deliberately set out to embarrass its protector and benefactor? Would the offensive have taken place if Moscow had warned against it?

These are puzzling questions. Kissinger may not have received satisfactory answers. He adopted a Soviet device in describing the talks as "frank," which in Moscow would mean they got nowhere.

Leonid Brezhnev, the party general secretary who is to meet with Nixon, set the tone March 20 in a notably mild speech that dwelt on the Soviet intention to "improve the political climate of the planet."

The Russians want the summit for a variety of weighty reasons, some connected with the economy. Perhaps the Vietnamese did, after all, deliberately set out to put the Kremlin on a spot. Perhaps Hanoi is wary and distrustful of what might happen at the summit. But unless Hanoi can produce a truly dramatic victory, it seems likely that the May summit will be held as planned.

More DES Found In Cattle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two more cattle livers have been found to contain residues of DES, a synthetic growth hormone that causes cancer in laboratory animals, the Agriculture Department says.

The findings, from feedlots in Texas, boost to eight the number of DES samples found since a mandatory antihormone regulation took effect Jan. 8, USDA officials said Tuesday.

So far, they said, 1,156 spot checks have been made for DES residue in slaughtered livestock since Jan. 8.

Food and Drug Administration officials, who enforce the DES regulation, say the 0.69-per-cent rate of discovery is slightly higher than last year when concern about the number of findings prompted the Agriculture Department to launch a broad investigation of slaughtered livestock. Spokesmen say the higher rate this year also signals possible action.

The FDA has gone on record as favoring a ban of DES from all feeds if residue findings do not stop.

Livestock producers are required to certify their animals are free of DES residues. The chemical must not have been fed at all or must have been withdrawn from feed at least seven days before slaughter.

DES is used to speed up weight gains, particularly in cattle. Thus, it reduces the amount of grain required and increases profits to producers.

On Monday, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng told a meeting of the Newspaper Farm Editors of America that he did not think the government would ban DES.

Lyng said if the chemical was eliminated entirely, retail meat prices probably would increase 10 to 15 cents a pound.

So far, the department said, DES has not been found in meat available to consumers.

Cornelia Likes Race Car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Cornelia Wallace tooled a high powered convertible around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and said: "I don't mind the politicking, but this is my fun."

The wife of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace reached speeds around 100 miles per hour as she drove the Indianapolis 500 official race car around the track Tuesday.

The Wallaces were in Indianapolis for the governor to campaign for the Indiana presidential primary.

Tests Awaited On Gun

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — Several law enforcement agencies are awaiting a ballistics test on a .32 caliber weapon confiscated this week to see if it can provide clues to six murders in four states.

The gun was taken from a man who the Texas Department of Public Safety arrested Sunday for speeding in this Northeast Texas city. The DPS said the 23-year-old man is being held for possession of a stolen car and for rape in Washington State.

The car was allegedly stolen in Garland, Texas, near Mesquite, where a young couple and a girl were kidnaped, later found shot in two separate incidences. Garland and Mesquite are suburbs of Dallas.

The crimes were very similar to murders in Lubbock, Tex., Lakewood, Colo., Salt Lake City, Utah and Portland, Ore., according to law enforcement officers who attended a seminar in Texas recently to compare notes on the cases.

A Mesquite police official said they would not enter the case unless the ballistics test, which could take three days, proved positive.

The FBI, and other local police officials would not comment.

More Black Actors In Television, Movies

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Sanford and Son" has been renewed for next fall. Flip Wilson is at or near the top in viewer ratings. Archie Bunker bickers with Negro neighbors. Blacks in commercials plug everything from autos to soap.

Whether your television set is black and white or color, the stars' faces seem to be increasingly dark.

Gail Fisher is Mannix' secretary, Don Mitchell is Ironside's aide, Greg Morris plays the electronics expert on "Mission: Impossible," and Clarence Williams III is a fast-moving member of "Mod Squad."

In movies the trend is the same. The Directors Guild of America has 10 black members and its first black board member, Gordon Parks. The movie hair stylists' union has its first black member, Ann Waddington.

Actor Yaphet Kotto now stars in movies he directs and produces as well. Leslie Uggams just starred with Yvette Mimieux and Charlton Heston in "Airborne."

"Lady Sings the Blues," recently shot at Paramount, stars Diana Ross in a story based on the life of the late blues singer Billie Holiday. The executive producer is Motown Records founder Berry Gordy, one of the nation's most successful black businessmen.

Sixty-five per cent of the production crew was black. Says the film's black publicist, Vincent Tubbs, former president of the Publicists Guild: "It's gratifying to see the changes, to see blacks get along with their fellow workers. When I started in 1960 I was about the only black on any lot in Hollywood who wasn't a janitor."

Production companies' reports to the producers' association on black employment are voluntary and incomplete but show:

In movies, 32 blacks cast in the last quarter of 1971 against 26 in the last quarter of 1970.

In television, 119 against 85 for the same periods.

In nonacting jobs, 929 on the payroll compared with 793 a year earlier.

One factor is a two-year-old agreement among unions, producers and the U.S. Justice Department following allegations—which producers and unions denied—of discrimination in hiring.

Minority employment quotas are established for prop men, stagehands, cameramen, sound men, costumers, makeup people, laborers, lamp operators and film editors. Seventy minority group members have received on-the-job training and $100 weekly pay from the producers' association.

Producers of black-oriented films hope their pictures will appeal to whites as well, but a simple fact remains: Up to one-third of the movie audience by current estimates, is black.

"Though you may also have a social conscience," says Jay Weston, white coproducer of the Diana Ross film, "it's just good business. There is no black power or white power, but there is green power"—that is, money.

"Shaft" grossed nearly $13 million for once floundering Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. A sequel under way probably is only part of a new cycle about black private eyes.

"Cotton Comes to Harlem" grossed $6 million and brought a sequel. Melvin Van Peebles' "Sweet Sweetback's Baadassss Song" returned $10 million at the boxoffice.

But what about blacks' long-standing complaint that they're not portrayed realistically in movies and TV? Despite some progress, most say, the objection is still valid.

Preston Willis, a black security guard in an office building, says: "Sidney Poitier doesn't portray the real version of blackness; he portrays something that's fixed up, artificial. I don't dig 'Room 222' any more. They aren't discussing the real problems of blacks. It's more likely to be about some white dude running for president of the student body."

Actress Brenda Sykes, tall, beautiful and 22, says after making six movies: "They're not showing black people yet as just people. And there are everyday black people, as there are every kind of people."

"Sanford and Son" started on NBC in January and most weeks has been among the top of Nielsen audience ratings. It's about father-and-son junk dealers played by veteran nightclub comic Redd Foxx, 49, and ex-GI Demond Wilson, 25.

The show was based by executive producer Bud Yorkin on a successful British series, "Steptoe and Son," and got its name from Foxx's real name, John Sanford.

Born in St. Louis, Foxx ran away from home at 13 to play washboard in a band that won second prize on Major Bowes' radio amateur hour. In the 1940s Redd began performing in night clubs, for five years with Slappy White.

Redd said he's been in show business 35 years—"and it feels like it. But havin' a series like this take about 20 years off my life. I'm elated. Ninety per cent of the reviews were great; I still haven't gotten over the shock.

"My advice to young kids in show business is stick with it. That's better than having an overnight success; some people can't handle that.

"But if you can't get a job in show business, learn to do something else between jobs. I painted signs, was a short-order cook, always tried to get a job in a restaurant, so at least I knew I'd eat."

Unique Center Aids Dropouts

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A school where students are accepted as real people, failings and all.

A place where school is life, and life is school; where rules are virtually nonexistent and unheeded; where students do what they want to do, when they want to do it.

A place where they can tell teachers just what they think of them, where emotions are unshackled without threat or intimidation of what others will think; a place where students get turned on with life itself.

These are the goals of the Center of Human Development.

It began last September with young and ambitious Jim Stelling and five close friends at the helm.

Stelling, 29, has one basic beef about public schools—he believes they tear a person from the realities of life.

"I've seen what that artificial breaking apart of school and life does to people," he said in an interview. "It yields people incapable of dealing with life."

Stelling is a certified teacher with a master's in education from Peabody. He taught three years in Nashville public schools.

Rick, 18, of New York, one of the 11 students in the school, talked about it.

"Public school is not geared for a person," he said. "It's geared for the class. When you take a person as an individual, you got a lot better chance. And that's what this school does. That's why I think it's so great."

The center is for young people who have run into a dead end in public schools. Some are underdeveloped mentally, some have compatibility problems, some admit that they simply detested public schools. They range in age from 12 to 18.

Pupils can stay in the school as long as they wish, or their parents wish. There is an academic year, with daily sessions running from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., five days a week.

There are no grades. The "report cards" read more like report books. One was about 10 handwritten pages on the work of one student over a four-month span.

The school is not accredited, but Stelling expects it to be by summer.

The success of the center can be measured best by its only two graduates-Louis, and a girl named Pete, both about 18.

Louis had been to four high schools, having earned only two credits. In a matter of several months at the center, his motivation underwent a drastic change. He was allowed to take a special college entrance test for persons without high school diplomas. He passed it with flying colors and now is enrolled at Middle Tennessee State University.

The school has six teachers, all of whom help the students at anything from physical exercise to math to sex education. No major subject is excluded and the books they use are found in most schools.

Students pay $300 a month, but strong efforts are under way to get federal funding. Limited scholarships are available for students unable to pay the tuition. The center is a nonprofit operation.

Scandal Probing Grand Jury Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — After 11 indictments and months of investigations a federal grand jury which probed the collapse of the banking and insurance empire of Frank W. Sharp dies today.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Theo W. Pinson, who worked the group from the start of the probe, said the grand jury, already held six months over its usual year's term, will not be recalled.

Ironically, the grand jury which spent so much time investigating Sharp and the men around him never indicted the central figure.

Instead, Sharp made a deal with the U.S. attorney's office here and on June 14, 1971, pleaded guilty on a criminal information to minor banking and stock selling charges and received a $5,000 fine and a three-year probated sentence.

As part of the deal, Sharp received further state and federal immunity from prosecution and in turn agreed to testify for the government.

U.S. Atty. Anthony J.P. Farris defended the deal with Sharp, saying he needed the financier's testimony to get the "big fish."

Sharp did testify before the state grand jury and later at the bribery conspiracy trial of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two others where a jury convicted the trio of accepting large profits on stock dealings with Sharp in return for two bills passed in the Texas Legislature favorable to Sharp's interests.

But the 11 indictments by the federal grand jury here were concentrated on less publicized persons and charges.

The jury first indicted a Sharp associate, Michael A.S. Makris in January of 1971 for allegedly lying to Securities and Exchange Commission probers investigating Sharp's dealings in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

Their last indictment this month charged John Osorio, a former NBL president and former state insurance commissioner, with making false statements in connection with the NBL pension plan.

Campaigns Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. George McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey had a combined campaign debt of nearly $1 million going into the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Democratic presidential primaries Tuesday.

But two other leading rivals for the party's nomination, Sens. Henry M. Jackson and Edmund S. Muskie, were solidly in the black.

Campaign-spending reports and political-committee registrations filed with the General Accounting Office under the new federal elections law give a reasonably clear, but by no means complete, picture of only these four candidates.

The committee for the Nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey Inc., leading committee for the Minnesota senator, reported total debts of $652,203 as of April 19 and a deficit of $40,447 in the operating budget.

The McGovern for President Committee of Washington, in its most recent report dated April 17, showed the South Dakota senator with an accumulated debt of $183,984 and a $77,272 operating deficit.

Muskie's national organization reported a cash balance of $109,330 as of April 18. The Citizens for Jackson Committee in a report dated April 13 showed $75,590 in the bank.

Cary Grant Suing Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cary Grant is suing 20th Century-Fox for $1 million, saying the studio lifted scenes from a 1952 movie in which he starred and used them in a 1968 movie.

THROWN IN CALABOOSE—Scurry County Sheriff Keith Collier (left) and W.C. Fargason (middle) prepare to throw Hugh Boren, Jr. into the calaboose at Hermleigh for "drinking spiked punch." Actually, it was all in fun. The mock arrest took place during unveiling ceremonies of the historical marker at the calaboose yesterday. The ceremonies were conducted by the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee of which Boren is chairman and Fargason is a member.

Pharmacists, Physicians Partnership Is Urged

HOUSTON (AP) — Pharmacists need to establish a new kind of partnership with physicians to utilize their skills in managing long-term patient medications, Dr. Roger E. Egeberg, President Nixon's special consultant on health affairs said here Tuesday.

Egeberg, who is also a special assistant for health policy to the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, spoke at the American Pharmaceutical Association annual meeting.

With more and more doctors prescribing drugs as part of patient treatment, Egeberg said it makes good sense to use the pharmacists more in their area of expertise.

Bringing pharmacists into the active treatment program earlier would "save hundreds of millions of dollars a year on hospital admissions alone," he said, because at least five per cent of all hospital admissions in the United States are from adverse drug reactions.

If pharmacists could save "only one hour per week for each 100,000 actively engaged physicians, they would be adding the equivalent of another 2,000 physicians available 50 hours per week for diagnosis, treatment planning and the other activities that demand a physician's skills," Egeberg said.

Reminding pharmacists that in years gone by they often served as the point of entry into the health care system, Egeberg said there is still much they can do in primary medical care.

Even though prepackaged drugs and chain stores detract from the one-time close relationship of druggist to customer, he said, the pharmacists of today and tomorrow can and should recapture the important of the old corner druggists.

The pharmacy profession needs "a bit of a swift kick" Egeberg told a news conference after his speech. "In this country you have to shout about what you're doing and the pharmacists haven't shouted enough."

Egeberg spoke to members of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and the APA's Academy of General Practice and Pharmacy which are meeting in conjunction with the APA's 119th annual convention.

US, S-Viets Agree To Resume Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam have agreed to resume the Vietnam peace talks Thursday apparently with the assurance that secret negotiations with North Vietnam will also take place, highly placed sources said today.

The sources, who refused to be identified, said this prospect of "two-track" talks presumably was the explanation of the allied retreat from the position that peace talks could not resume while the North Vietnamese offensive was going on in South Vietnam.

The two-track talks would mean reopening of the semi-public plenary sessions and parallel secret contacts such as those in the past between North Vietnamese Politburo member Le Duc Tho and U.S. presidential adviser Henry Kissinger.

President Nixon had suspended the talks March 23, accusing the North Vietnamese of filibustering. He said the Americans "are ready to negotiate in public channels or in private channels."

Texas Water Board Asks Expanded Budget

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Despite Gov. Preston Smith's promise to veto any state budget calling for new taxes, one state agency will ask the legislature for a 50 per cent increase in its appropriations.

The Texas Water Quality Board voted Tuesday to ask for $6,748,553 for the year beginning Sept. 1, compared with its current budget of $4,442,946.

Joe Teller, deputy director of the board, said the federal Environmental Protection Agency insists on the planning money as a condition for receiving federal grants.

Board member G. R. Herzik Jr. said he did not understand what the EPA wanted.

"I'd like to see that million and a half go into sewage treatment," Herzik said. "On the one had they want us to plan and on the other they tell us that in the Galveston Bay study we planned it to death."

"I think you've stated it very precisely," Teller said.

The proposed budget also would include $117,000 for six division directors at $19,500 each and $50,000 for microfilming the board's records.

The board also considered, among others, proposals involving San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Lufkin and Beaumont-Port Arthur.

Teller explained that the legislature declared Mitchell Lake near San Antonio a nuisance and then decided that the board should decide if it was. The board also was directed to determine if a plan to convert the lake into a recreational facility was practical.

"The lake is an integral part of the city's treatment facilities," Teller said. "Maybe it shouldn't be, but it is. To do away with that would cause the city of San Antonio to increase their income to this operation by some 17 per cent."

The cost of losing Mitchell Lake would be "in excess of $5 million," he said.

As for turning it into a facility suitable for recreation, Teller said: "The lake has been used for over 70 years for receiving sewage. Is there anything that could be done to make the people accept it for recreational purposes?"

Hugh Yantis, executive director, said the main objection to the lake was its odor. This is caused by deposits on its banks, which are exposed by evaporation during hot weather, and this condition is being taken care of through dredging and filling operations, he said.

Teller said the 850-acre lake has an abnormally small drainage area feeding it—1,500 acres. "If they stop discharging into it, it's going to dry up and be a stinking old mud hole," he said.

Teller said the staff would continue its study of the lake and devise a plan for recreation because "You've practically got to draw the plan to determine if it's 'practical.'"

The board told its staff to set up public hearings to determine if Corpus Christi or the Lower Nueces River Authority should be the policing agency for septic tank regulation on Lake Corpus Christi.

Lufkin mayor Pitser Garrison told the board his city finally was in a position to build a sewage collection and treatment system that the board has been after it for three years to build.

The city has been tied up in court, Garrison said, by a family named Gibson that owned the tract the city originally wanted to use for the treatment facility.

The city finally won the right to institute condemnation proceedings, he said, then changed its mind and bought an adjacent 80-acre tract for $1,000 an acre—twice what it offered the Gibsons but a third of what the Gibsons wanted.

The mayor conceded that the Gibsons still might challenge the city in court over the environmental impact of the facility on the area. "These people are rather difficult and determined," he said. "I think they're miffed by the fact we've changed sites and they won't get the money."

The facility will enhance the value of the Gibsons' land by improving the effluent that now flows across it, the mayor said.

Candidates On TV Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Texas candidates for governor gather tonight for probably the closest thing to a debate that will be seen in the primary campaign.

Only candidate who has announced as missing will be Gov. Preston Smith. He once said he would send a tape, then cancelled even that.

The scene will be the studios of KERA-TV, the Dallas educational television station. It will be broadcast live from there, with cables making it available throughout much of Texas.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. and is expected to last for three hours. Both Republican and Democratic candidates will take part.

Station officials call the program interviews rather than debates but the situation is such that a certain amount of cross-fire seems inevitable.

Heading the panel of questioners will be Jim Lehrer, executive producer of KERA's Newsroom program. Other interviewers will be Sam Kinch Jr., Austin correspondent of the Dallas Morning News, and Newsroom reporter Lee Clark.

Summerfield Dies At 73

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Arthur E. Summerfield, former postmaster general of the United States and a chairman of the Republican National Committee, died today. He was 73.

Summerfield, a long-time power in national politics and those of his home state of Michigan, served as postmaster general under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1952-1960. He held the GOP post in 1952 and also managed Eisenhower's presidential campaign.

Death occurred nearly two weeks after Summerfield entered Good Samaritan Hospital while vacationing here. Hospital officials said he was suffering from double pneumonia.

Summerfield directed Eisenhower's 1952 campaign, at the same time healing the wounds inflicted on his chief rival for the nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. With his election, Eisenhower named Summerfield postmaster general.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

Got a headache? Don't call a brain surgeon

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a CPA, and every year around income tax time he is deluged with telephone calls from friends who want to ask him questions about their income tax returns.

My husband is an AUDITOR, and I doubt that he has filled out an income tax return since college.

Last night a casual acquaintance called with a bookkeeping problem so simple that even I could solve it. I wonder if these same people call a brain surgeon everytime they have a headache. MRS. T. D. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: Probably not. But I'm sure if they thought a brain surgeon could relieve their headache, they wouldn't hesitate to call him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old senior in high school and will be graduating soon. I am now looking for a job, but wherever I apply, I am told, "You don't have enough experience."

Abby, how can a person get experience if nobody gives him a job?

I am willing to work hard, but unless somebody hires me, how can I show him what I can do?

Please print this, Abby. I have been steaming about this for a long time. DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Every experienced worker was once inexperienced. Employers know this, but the applicant who shows the most persistence is the one who gets the job. [P. S. Let it be known that you will take anything in order to prove your sincerity.]

DEAR ABBY: The letter about "perfectionists" inspires me to take my pen in hand. [I can't believe I am actually writing a letter to "Dear Abby."]

I also believe in neatness and orderliness, but it can be overdone. I was raised in a home with two parents who were both "perfectionists."

We had a large closet with everything hung just so. We children were not allowed to go into it. We asked for our clothes and they were given to us.

A wicker rocker gives me chills to this day. I sat in one for hours on end with a book. [The only toy which I was permitted because it didn't make a mess.] We weren't allowed to sit in the living room except on very special occasions, and then only on certain chairs.

We ate in a restaurant for years so our kitchen stove and sink were kept spotless. We washed in the big copper laundry tub in the basement in order to keep the bathroom clean.

Mother is up in years now, but she is still a perfectionist. All her furniture looks like new.

I escaped when I married many years ago, but I still appreciate the simple pleasures of bathing in a bathtub and using ALL the house. MEMORIES

DEAR MEMORIES: Your "memories" make interesting reading. Thank you for sharing them.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding that letter from knitters and needleworkers: Do you really want to know why women knit in company?

It's because it gives them something to think about while they are talking. Regards,
GEORGE IN BREMERTON

DEAR GEORGE: That's a pretty "broad" statement. [Also unjust and inaccurate.]

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Ground Broken For Automated Warehouse

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Ground was broken Tuesday for the start of construction of an automated 308,000 square-foot warehouse which on completion will deliver merchandise to most of the Southland Corp.'s 7-Eleven convenience food stores in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Located on a 36-acre tract at Owentown, 10 miles northeast of Tyler on Interstate 20, the facility is scheduled for completion in mid-1973. It will be called the Southland Distribution Center of Texas.

Turning the first spades of soil were John P. Thompson, chairman, and H. E. Hartfelder, president, of Southland; Lynwood Massey, president of the Tyler Chamber of Commerce; and R. M. Nall, president of the St. Louis and Southwestern Railway line, from which the property was purchased.

Thompson, Hartfelder and other Southland executives were guests at a Tyler Chamber of Commerce luncheon preceding the groundbreaking.

"Our company got its start in Texas 45 years ago when we were in the ice business," Thompson told the luncheon group. "Today our operations in the convenience food store business, dairying, ice and other fields extend to 40 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico and the United Kingdom. We opened our first distribution center last year in Orlando, Fla., and it has been quite successful in serving the needs of our more than 550 stores throughout Florida.

"This second warehouse facility...will be the principal source of supply for about 750 7-Eleven stores in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, with the dollar value of merchandise delivered in excess of $50 million annually."

The center will employ more than 200 men and women. The annual payroll will be in excess of $1,750,000."

Fitzsimmons To Remain On Board

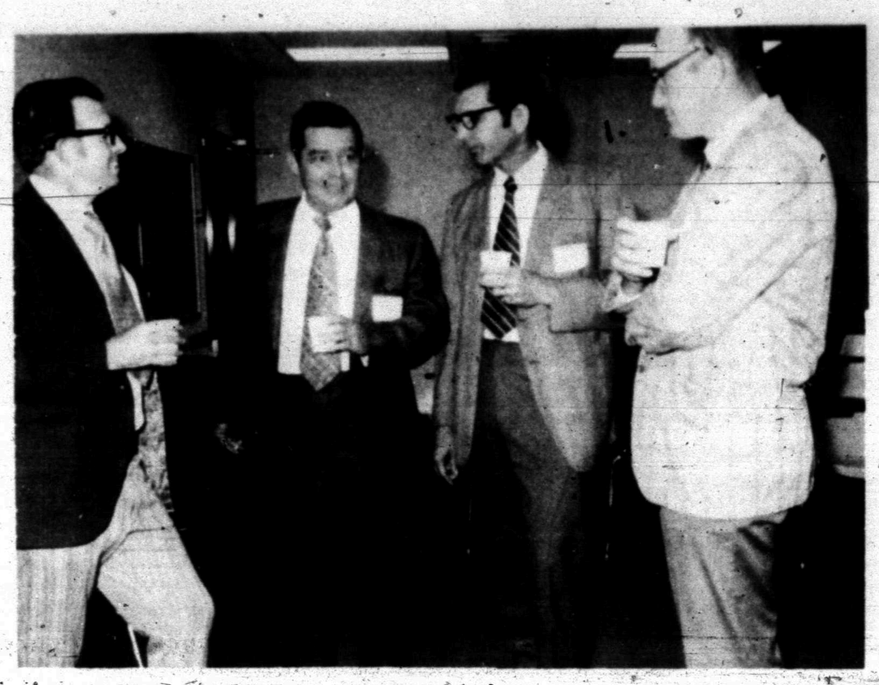

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The president of the Teamsters union says he will remain on the President's Pay Board because he made a commitment.

Frank Fitzsimmons, here for a talk at Utah Technical College, made the remark in view of the walkout from the panel by other major labor leaders.

"No disagreement has ever been resolved by walking away from it," Fitzsimmons said. "I gave my commitment as an American citizen; I intend to live with my commitment as an American citizen."

Divorces Increase

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Official statistics show divorces among South African whites increased from 4,328 in 1960 to 7,748 10 years later. The white population is now about 3.8 million.

HOUSTON (AP) — The agent in charge of the U.S. Secret Service said Tuesday that arrests here and in Cicero, Ill., had broken up a nationwide counterfeiting ring.

One person was arrested in Cicero and two here and $69,000 in counterfeit money was seized, the agent, Kenneth Wiesman said.

He said Carl Hathcock, 41, and his wife, Judy, 25, were arrested in a Houston apartment and a large quanity of bogus $20 and $100 bills were seized.

In Cicero, he said, Alphone Sumakeris, 34, a printer, was arrested Monday and charged with the manufacture of the bills after printing equipment was found at his home.

Hathcock was charged with passing a $20 bill in Tomball Tex., last December and Mrs. Hathcock was charged with possession of bogus bills.

An arrest here last Saturday of Taylor La Joy Mosley, 49, of Houston, who was charged with passing a counterfeit bill, also was tied in with the case, Wiesman said.

Wiesman said bills from the Cicero plant have been circulated in the southern, western and central parts of the United States since last fall.

The fake money is of better than usual quality, he said, and contained a much higher percentage of large bills than in the usual counterfeiting operation. Of the $69,000 seized, he said, $33,000 was in bogus $100 bills.

More arrests are expected in the case, Wiesman said.

Methodist Rule Council Power

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Judicial Council of the United Methodist Conference ruled Tuesday that the conference has the power to end segregation in regional conferences by mid-1973 if it wishes.

In the past, general conferences have refused to set such a deadline, preferring to stay with a target date, which had been set for 1972.

Four such segregated conferences remain in the United Methodist Church—one in Alabama, two in Mississippi and one in Oklahoma-Arkansas.

In 1964 when the integration merger process began, 17 black conferences existed.

Basically, the general conference has been determining when the transitional for voluntary mergers ends.

The church court also ruled unconstitutional a proposal that boards and committees of merged conferences be biracial. It said such a procedure, even though undertaken to protect a minority, would not be permissible.

Californians Still Smoking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite the end of broadcast tobacco advertising, Californians continued to smoke an average of 121 packs per person in 1971, officials say.

Richard Nevins, a member of the state Board of Equalization, reported that the per capita figure was the same in 1970 when cigarettes were advertised on radio and television.

Winds, Hail Hit Panhandle

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fierce winds and damaging hail battered the Texas Panhandle during the night and surged eastward ahead of the latest cold front today.

By early morning the violent thunderstorms reached into Central Texas from around Fort Worth to Del Rio while light showers still pelted parts of the Panhandle.

South winds poured more damp air into the state from the Gulf of Mexico and kept skies generally overcast across most of East Texas. It was clear only near the frontal system along the New Mexico border and into the Big Bend country of West Texas, where stiff southeast winds blew.

For part of the night all the Texas Panhandle and parts of Southwest Texas were under a tornado watch, but only a late afternoon funnel cloud near Lubbock was reported.

Severe thunderstorm watches went up after midnight for Haskell, Jones, Fisher, Nolan and Taylor counties in West Central Texas and for Jack and Young counties in North Texas, but these expired without word of any serious damage.

Hailstones rattled down on a good part of the Panhandle, running as large as hen eggs around Happy, which is south of Amarillo.

Smaller hail and winds gusting up to 61 miles per hour smashed glass windows in downtown Plainview, and a power transformer was knocked out of service at the baseball park.

Police said the winds hit 65 miles per hour as the wild weather moved through Breckenridge this morning.

Rainfall amounts included Dalhart .48 inch and San Angelo .06.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 39 degrees at Marfa in far West Texas and 52 at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 72 at Brownsville and 77 at Corpus Christi.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon went as high as 90 at El Paso and 91 at Wink in West Texas.

More showers and thunderstorms were forecast in most sections. Temperatures were expected to remain mild.

Fund Set For Unique Animals

NEW YORK (AP) — A fund to aid Israel's conservation programs will return a number of animals mentioned in the Bible but no longer found in the Holy Land.

Benjamin Wechsler, president of the new Holy Land Conservation Fund, Inc., an American organization, said Wednesday that returning the unique animals to Israel will be the fund's first project.

He said Israel has established 75 nature reserves, two of which have been designated as breeding grounds for the animals.

Many of the animals are on the verge of extinction and will have to be purchased from zoos, Wechsler said. Among them are the adda, Nubian ibex, Arabian and Sahara oryx and onager.

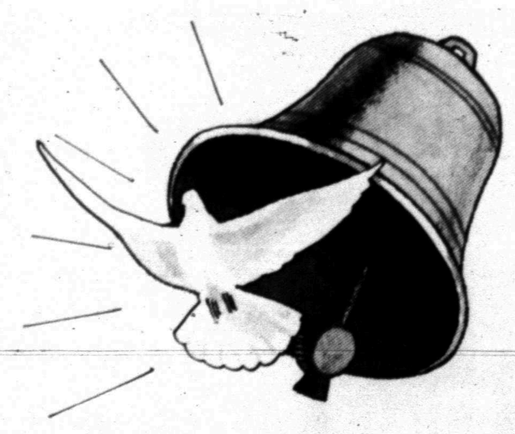

Bikecology Week Set In County

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Hamilton County Park District is sponsoring Bikecology Week May 1-7, with a suggested daily routine calling for the use of bikes instead of autos.
