WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge ruled today that millions of documents and the White House tapes accumulated during the presidency of Richard M. Nixon belong to the government.

At issue are an estimated 42 million documents and 2½ years of tape recordings generated by the Nixon White House.

The judge did, however, set out an elaborate procedure for Nixon to attempt to recover items or tapes which he might claim to be private or personal.

Rickey's decision, while keeping the Nixon documents in the possession of the government, also declared them out of bounds for unlimited public access.

Rickey said that, while materials and tape recordings generated by most federal departments are subject to the Freedom of Information Act, the Nixon papers and tapes are not.

The Freedom of Information Act establishes specific means for members of the public to obtain government records.

The original agreement for disposition of the records of the Nixon era called for them to be stored in a facility near the former president's estate in San Clemente, Calif.

Two keys — one kept by the General Services Administration, the government's landlord, and one by Nixon — were to be required for access.

After Nixon resigned Aug. 9, 1974, then-Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski objected to the agreement between Nixon and the Ford administration.

Jaworski said he feared there would be insufficient access to Nixon's papers,

Ex-Governor Babcock Sentenced To Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. Tim M. Babcock of Montana was sentenced today to serve four months in prison for illegally concealing the origin of $54,000 in political contributions to the 1972 re-election campaign of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Babcock had pleaded guilty to violating a law making it illegal to contribute funds in the name of another person.

The money came from multi-millionaire Armand Hammer, a global patron of the arts and chairman of the Occidental Petroleum Corp.

(AP WIREPHOTO) TIM BABCOCK

WAR HERO — "Mr. Babcock, in your case it was not some untutored underling who had to dance to the tune of a boss," U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. told the former governor.

"You are independently wealthy, you were decorated for bravery at Remagen bridgehead (in World War II). You could have told Mr. Hammer you had no intention of assisting him in breaking the law," Hart said.

"When you broke the law you knew you were breaking it and thereafter you tried to cover it up until such time that you got before the grand jury," the judge added.

Babcock, 55, a Republican, served as governor of Montana from 1962 to 1969, first filling an unexpired term, then being elected to a full four-year term.

Babcock's lawyer, Raymond G. Larroca, said he wanted to talk to Babcock before deciding whether to appeal the sentence.

If there is no appeal, Babcock must report to the federal minimum security institution at Lompoc, Calif., on March 3.

shaken by the sentence. "I deeply regret the error in judgment I made," he told the judge before sentence was pronounced. "There was no personal and monetary gain," Babcock said.

Normally, persons who plead guilty cannot appeal, but Babcock's lawyer and the special prosecutor's office admit there is an ambiguity in the law. Because of that ambiguity, Judge Hart said Babcock could appeal.

The statute specifies a fine of not more than $1,000 and a maximum of one year in prison. But it also says that if the punishment does not include imprisonment the conviction is considered only a misdemeanor.

CAMPAIGN — Babcock's lawyers had filed legal papers claiming that the court, under the statute, could not sentence the former governor to prison. But the special prosecutor's office argued the opposite.

The special prosecutor had written Babcock, before his guilty plea Dec. 11, that the plea would eliminate any additional charges arising out of the Hammer-Babcock campaign contribution. In return, Babcock agreed to testify as a witness in any future legal proceeding.

STATE EMPLOYEES Pay Raises For 125,000

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' 125,000 state employees—from janitor to governor—have been guaranteed an emergency pay raise that will cost $93 million over the next seven months.

Legislators and Gov. Dolph Briscoe beat the deadline for assuring the raises will appear on end-of-February paychecks by completing action Thursday afternoon.

HE'LL TAKE IT — After signing the pay raise authorization, Briscoe, a multi-millionaire who receives $63,000 a year for being governor, said he would accept his $174 a month raise.

"The cattle business isn't what it was last year," he told reporters with a grin.

State employees will get these raises:

- 13 per cent for those in job classification groups 2-12, now making $4,920 to $12,000 annually, and for non-classified employees earning less than $76 a month.
- 9 per cent for classified employees in groups 13-21, whose salaries now range from $10,512 to $23,200 a year, and for nonclassified workers now earning from $1,267 to $1,935 monthly.
- $124 a month for non-classified employees earning between $76 and $1,267 a month.

EQUAL PAY — $174 per month for all employees making more than $1,935 per month.

The position classification plan, a schedule designed to provide "equal pay for equal work," covers most state agency employees. Non-classified workers include state judges, top state agency executives, state college and university teachers and staff members and state hospital directors.

Other features of a two-bill package include an increase in travel expenses from 12 to 16 cents a mile for private cars and from 16 to 21 cents for private or leased aircraft. Daily expense allowances for meals and lodging were raised from $18 to $22 a day.

The state's share of group life and health insurance premiums was increased from $12.50 to $15 a month.

SPECIAL TAXES — Lawmakers took pains to minimize the pay raise's drain on the general revenue fund, the only fund over which the legislature has much discretion. They said agencies financed by special funds, consisting of such things as occupation license fees and special taxes must reimburse the general fund. This would recoup from $25 million to $35 million, sponsors of the bill's said.

Before the legislature could finally pass the pay raise, the $93 million appropriation had to be split off into a separate bill. House Parliamentarian Bob Johnson said joining the appropriation to the reimbursement and travel pay sections violated the state constitutional rule against passing general law in a general appropriation bill.

The bill amounted to a victory for the governor. The House Appropriations Committee had approved a $110 million measure, but the bill was scaled down to $93 million after House leaders met with Briscoe.

Car Tags On Sale

Passenger car license plates will be issued at Newsom's Food Center, 1910 Gregg St., starting Saturday.

The county tax office and Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union will begin distributing plates Monday for all types of vehicles.

If you did not receive a renewal card from the Texas Highway Department, bring your 1974 license tag receipt and title, Mrs. Zirah Bednar, county tax collector, said.

License plates will be sold both at the property tax office and at the motor vehicle registration office in the courthouse.

With some exceptions, like personalized plates, the tags issued this year are to last five years. But motorists must purchase labels to put on the plates starting next year.

Midnight April 1 is the deadline for having 1975 plates on vehicles in use.

TIA's Subsidy Pared By Government Board

Texas International Airlines, crippled by an almost two month strike, was dealt another blow this week by the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, which slashed the airline's subsidy payment by $182,225 annually because of TIA's withdrawal of air service from Big Spring.

The Airline won its long legal battle to delete service to Big Spring by a Dec. 31, 1974 order of the CAB, but service was actually terminated Dec. 2 because of the strike.

The CAB made an 'ad hoc' adjustment of the class rate as it applies to Texas International Airlines so as to reduce the ceiling on gross subsidy otherwise payable to TIA by $182,225 annually or an amount of $449.25 per day.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, City of Big Spring, and Howard County joined in the legal battle trying to stop TIA from withdrawing service.

After TIA withdrew its service, El Paso Air Transport began supplying Big Spring with air service.

TWO KILLED, 29 INJURED Oil Ships Collide

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP) — An American tanker rammied into a Liberian ship unloading crude oil at a Delaware River refinery early today, setting off explosions and fires that left at least two dead.

Officials said at least 29 others were injured, and that 22 of the 43 persons aboard the Corinthos were unaccounted for.

All aboard the American tanker Edgar M. Queeny were reported safe. It had struck the Corinthos broadside as it unloaded 425,000 barrels of Algerian oil, roughly 17.8 million gallons, at a BP Oil Corp. dock. It still held about 300,000 barrels when the collision occurred.

TRYING TO CHANGE — "The Queeny was trying to make a steering change, but it failed and collided," said Harry Schaefer, BP general superintendent. It had just picked up 30,000 barrels of lenthol from a Monsanto Co. Chemical plant near Paulsboro, N.J., across the river.

The explosions set fire to both ships and shattered glass in homes and other buildings in a 12-block area of this refinery town of 3,500 located 10 miles south of Philadelphia.

"This thing almost blew me right out of my house," said Delaware County Fire Marshal George Lewis, who lives in Marcus Hook. "I didn't have to be telephoned about this one."

Oil spilled into the river and while Coast Guardsmen brought in booms to contain it, Marcus Hook Fire Chief Robert Sides said "it will probably burn all day."

Nearly half of the 100,000 barrels of crude oil aboard the Corinthos had been pumped off when the Queeny, a chemical tanker carrying a load of phenol and vinyl acetate and maneuvering to dock, rammied it amidship.

"There were three rapid explosions in a row," said George Warner, who lives a block from the refinery dock. Flames rose several hundred feet and could be seen for miles.

The 754-foot tanker split behind its center superstructure and the stern dipped into the riverbed beside the pier.

More than 300 families living in the area were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

"The entire main deck of the Corinthos was in flame," said the ship's chief officer, George Peroulakis, 28, of Karistos, Greece. "I saw two men completely engulfed in fire jumping over the side. I saw 20 other of my crew leap into the water."

"The water, like the main deck, was a mass of fire."

"I saw one man, who I think was the cook, screaming, running toward the front of the ship with his back on fire."

The Queeny also caught fire, and moved back into the river, where it anchored. However, the fire aboard was quickly extinguished, officials said.

Noxious phenol gas escaped from the Queeny and began drifting toward the Pennsylvania shore complicating rescue and fire-fighting efforts.

'SEXUALLY IMPOTENT COWARD' Skid Row Slasher Labeled 'Jackal'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The most intense manhunt since the Charles Manson murders has been mounted here for the skid row slasher, who is labeled "a sexually impotent coward... who hides in the dark and preys on weaklings and cripples."

"This guy's a jackal... venting his own feeling of worthlessness on hapless derelicts and down-and-outers," Deputy Chief George N. Beck said Thursday.

HORRIBLE CRIMES — Eight slayings have been attributed to the slasher since Dec. 1. The first seven victims were killed in the skid row area; most were derelicts, winos. But the eighth man, who was murdered Wednesday, was not a derelict and was killed 5 miles from skid row — raising fears that the killer could strike anywhere.

Beck said a profile compiled by psychiatrists shows the slasher as "a loner, some guy who probably lives like a hermit and only creeps out of his hole to commit these horrible crimes."

HOMOSEXUAL — The psychiatrists who developed the profile said the slasher might be deformed or crippled, though police have said he is stronger than average because of his efficiency in cutting the throats of his

Survey Team Is Due At Hospital

A survey team from the Joint Committee for Accreditation of Hospitals will be at the Big Spring State Hospital for three days beginning Feb. 13, to review the hospital's qualifications for accreditation.

The team will interview staffers and personnel at the hospital.

While at the hospital, the team will be available for public interviews concerning the hospital operation. Anyone requesting an interview must give notice in writing at least two weeks prior to the first day of the interview.

eight victims.

Police issued a composite drawing of a 6-foot, 190-pound man with stringy blond hair. They said he could be homosexual.

"There are strong implications in these killings of his sexual impotence and his feelings of inadequacy," Beck said.

The slasher has struck only on Wednesdays or weekends, the list of slayings forming an evenly spaced calendar of death. Before the last murder, the killer made his attacks only in the decrepit hotels and littered alleys of the downtown skid row area.

Police disguised as derelicts fanned out into the dirty streets Thursday, some lying in wait in dingy hotel rooms, others haunting the all-night cafes and alleys where frightened men sought solace in bottles of cheap wine.

"We're putting every available resource at our command to solve this thing," said Cmdr. Peter Hagan. A special slasher task force has been set up.

103-YEAR-OLD DIES AT INSTITUTION — Martha Nelson, who would be 104 in June of this year, died Thursday at a mental hospital. She spent all but four years of her life in mental hospitals. She was admitted to the Columbus State School in 1875 at 4 and 25 years later transferred to Orient State Hospital south of Columbus, Ohio, where she died. No one really knows why she was admitted as a fire in 1881 destroyed her records.

DALLAS (AP) — A Southwestern Bell Telephone intrastate increase has prompted preparations by the Texas attorney general's office to seek a temporary restraining order against the rate hike.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The hardest thing Mrs. Hearst and I have to bear is not knowing whether Patty is alive and well," Randolph A. Hearst said as the first anniversary of his daughter's kidnaping approached. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, issued a statement Thursday asserting his belief that his daughter Patricia is living in the United States. He also said he doubts she would be given a jail term if she came out of hiding. Miss Hearst, 20, was kidnaped Feb. 4 by members of the Symbionese Liberation Army, a small band of terrorists. She later rejoined her family and said she had decided to quit her SLA captors.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford administration officials have warned Congress that the rejection of an extra $300 million in aid to South Vietnam could tempt Hanoi "to launch an all-out offensive." The officials said the North Vietnamese soon will step up military pressure but are not expected to launch an all-out offensive in the next six months unless tempted by Saigon's anticipated shortages.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thousands of military deserters and draft evaders from the Vietnam war era have until March 1 to sign up for President Ford's clemency program. Ford extended the clemency program, which had been scheduled to expire at midnight tonight, because "many of those who could benefit from it are only now learning of its application to their cases."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy reportedly will cut back its aircraft carrier force next year to its smallest size since World War II. WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats, responding to President Ford's chiding that they shouldn't criticize his energy conservation plan until they have an alternative, are moving to develop their own energy program. Speaker Carl Albert has directed a task force to devise a single energy plan which the Democratic majority can push quickly.

TRYING TO CHANGE

"The Queeny was trying to make a steering change, but it failed and collided," said Harry Schaefer, BP general superintendent. It had just picked up 30,000 barrels of lenthol from a Monsanto Co. Chemical plant near Paulsboro, N.J., across the river.

The explosions set fire to both ships and shattered glass in homes and other buildings in a 12-block area of this refinery town of 3,500 located 10 miles south of Philadelphia.

"This thing almost blew me right out of my house," said Delaware County Fire Marshal George Lewis, who lives in Marcus Hook. "I didn't have to be telephoned about this one."

Oil spilled into the river and while Coast Guardsmen brought in booms to contain it, Marcus Hook Fire Chief Robert Sides said "it will probably burn all day."

Nearly half of the 100,000 barrels of crude oil aboard the Corinthos had been pumped off when the Queeny, a chemical tanker carrying a load of phenol and vinyl acetate and maneuvering to dock, rammed it amidship.

"There were three rapid explosions in a row," said George Warner, who lives a block from the refinery dock. Flames rose several hundred feet and could be seen for miles.

The 754-foot tanker split behind its center superstructure and the stern dipped into the riverbed beside the pier.

More than 300 families living in the area were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

"The entire main deck of the Corinthos was in flame," said the ship's chief officer, George Peroulakis, 28, of Karistos, Greece. "I saw two men completely engulfed in fire jumping over the side. I saw 20 other of my crew leap into the water."

"The water, like the main deck, was a mass of fire."

"I saw one man, who I think was the cook, screaming, running toward the front of the ship with his back on fire."

The Queeny also caught fire, and moved back into the river, where it anchored. However, the fire aboard was quickly extinguished, officials said.

Noxious phenol gas escaped from the Queeny and began drifting toward the Pennsylvania shore complicating rescue and fire-fighting efforts.

Ex-Governor Babcock Sentenced To Prison

(AP WIREPHOTO) TIM BABCOCK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. Tim M. Babcock of Montana was sentenced today to serve four months in prison for illegally concealing the origin of $54,000 in political contributions to the 1972 re-election campaign of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Babcock had pleaded guilty to violating a law making it illegal to contribute funds in the name of another person.

The money came from multi-millionaire Armand Hammer, a global patron of the arts and chairman of the Occidental Petroleum Corp.

WAR HERO

"Mr. Babcock, in your case it was not some untalented underling who had to dance to the tune of a boss," U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. told the former governor.

"You are independently wealthy, you were decorated for bravery at Remagen bridgehead (in World War II). You could have told Mr. Hammer you had no intention of assisting him in breaking the law," Hart said.

"When you broke the law you knew you were breaking it and thereafter you tried to cover it up until such time that you got before the grand jury," the judge added.

Babcock, 55, a Republican, served as governor of Montana from 1962 to 1969, first filling an unexpired term, then being elected to a full four-year term.

Babcock's lawyer, Raymond G. Larroca, said he wanted to talk to Babcock before deciding whether to appeal the sentence.

If there is no appeal, Babcock must report to the federal minimum security institution at Lompoc, Calif., on March 3.

REGRET ERROR

Hart ordered Babcock to prison for four months confinement and said Babcock would be on probation for two years after that.

Babcock, who also was fined $1,000, appeared shaken by the sentence.

"I deeply regret the error in judgment I made," he told the judge before sentence was pronounced. "There was no personal and monetary gain," Babcock said.

Normally, persons who plead guilty cannot appeal, but Babcock's lawyer and the special prosecutor's office admit there is an ambiguity in the law. Because of that ambiguity, Judge Hart said Babcock could appeal.

The statute specifies a fine of not more than $1,000 and a maximum of one year in prison. But it also says that if the punishment does not include imprisonment the conviction is considered only a misdemeanor.

CAMPAIGN

Babcock's lawyers had filed legal papers claiming that the court, under the statute, could not sentence the former governor to prison. But the special prosecutor's office argued the opposite.

The special prosecutor had written Babcock, before his guilty plea Dec. 11, that the plea would eliminate any additional charges arising out of the Hammer-Babcock campaign contribution. In return, Babcock agreed to testify as a witness in any future legal proceeding.

'SEXUALLY IMPOTENT COWARD' Skid Row Slasher Labeled 'Jackal'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The most intense manhunt since the Charles Manson murders has been mounted here for the skid row slasher, who one detective terms "a sexually impotent coward ... who hides in the dark and preys on weaklings and cripples."

"This guy's a jackal ... venting his own feeling of worthlessness on hapless derelicts and down-and-outers," Deputy Chief George N. Beck said Thursday.

HORRIBLE CRIMES

Eight slayings have been attributed to the slasher since victim Dec. 1. The first seven victims were killed in the skid row area; most were derelicts, winos. But the eighth man, who was murdered Wednesday, was not a derelict and was killed 5 miles from skid row — raising fears that the killer could strike anywhere.

Beck said a profile compiled by psychiatrists shows the slasher as "a loner, some guy who probably lives like a hermit and only creeps out of his hole to commit these horrible crimes."

HOMOSEXUAL

The psychiatrists who developed the profile said the slasher might be deformed or crippled, though police have said he is stronger than average because of his efficiency in cutting the throats of his eight victims.

Police issued a composite drawing of a 6-foot, 190-pound man with stringy blond hair. They said he could be a homosexual.

"There are strong implications in these killings of his sexual impotence and his feelings of inadequacy," Beck said.

The slasher has struck only on Wednesdays or weekends, the list of slayings forming an evenly spaced calendar of death. Before the last murder, the killer made his attacks only in the decrepit hotels and littered alleys of the downtown skid row area.

Police disguised as derelicts fanned out into the dirty streets Thursday, some lying in wait in dingy hotel rooms, others haunting the all-night cafes and alleys where frightened men sought solace in bottles of cheap wine.

"We're putting every available resource at our command to solve this thing," said Cmdr. Peter Hagan. A special slasher task force has been set up.

Paradise Lost

MURPHY, Tex. (AP) — Lynn Cunningham can't flush his toilet when it rains. The Minter family down the street worries about raw sewage bubbling up into the shower and overflowing onto the floor. The Arions won't let their 4-year-old son out to play in their sewage saturated lawn.

$50,000 HOMES — The Cunninghams, Minters and Arions live in $50,000 homes in a subdivision of Murphy, a town of 1,130 about 25 miles north of Dallas.

Their septic tank problem is so serious the Texas Department of Health has declared it a hazard.

The sewage problem is just one of many confronting Murphy and dozens of other towns of only a few hundred people in the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area. The small towns are being inundated by commuters who work in the city but go home to the "farm" at night. Before Tom Clevenger became Murphy mayor in 1971, there were no building codes. Developers built subdivisions with poorly laid roads, not enough fire hydrants, and septic tanks that have since clogged up their contents onto lawns and back up into houses.

SIMPLE LIFE — Clevenger, 37, who moved from a Dallas apartment to Murphy in 1970, believes tensions in the town are caused in part by the disillusionment of recent arrivals.

"There's been a growing desire to return to the simple life, to own your own victory garden," he said. "So people come out to what they think is the country. They see the hay in the fields and the farmers gathering cotton. They just don't realize that the land is in its 12th level of speculative ownership and that the farmer is only leasing the land until someone starts building."

"So they say, 'Wouldn't it be great to live out here on a hill overlooking these cattle.' And then they see a subdivision with one-acre lots at better prices than they could ever find in the city and they're hooked," Clevenger said.

GROWTH CRISES — "They don't think about the drainage or how soon the asphalt will buckle. They don't check the zoning laws to see if those fields will turn into factories. And it all sets the stage for the problems that follow."

A real growth crisis came when some septic tanks failed, causing sewage to back up into homes and onto lawns.

Murphy had only one solution—build a municipal sewer system. But enough residents were able to flush their toilets to twice vote down the project.

"Part of it was the cost," Clevenger said, "some people see the sewer system as laying the groundwork for future growth. They moved out here to escape and they'll fight it tooth and toenails."

The mayor and council resorted to a door-to-door campaigning which generated support for a sewer system which will be built soon.

'SEX SLAVES' DISCOVER
It's Not What You Do,
It's How You Do It

NEW YORK (AP) — The sexual revolution is cooling down as some of the avant-garde find that sexual variety without affection leads to "frustration, tension and jealousy," a panel of researchers said.

"The movement of American society toward reducing sex to animal-like conduct between people is about to end," said Prof. Amitai Etzioni, a Columbia University sociologist. He said the pendulum is swinging back "to a new synthesis, a new middle."

FRUSTRATION — "Increasingly," Etzioni said, "the separation of sex from affection is being discovered by the avant-garde of sexual liberation to result in frustration, tension and jealousy."

He added that people are now "seeking ways to draw a line between sexual freedom and sexual fantasy."

"It's been discovered in varying degrees that all this sexual spice leads to less satisfaction," Etzioni said. "There is now more emphasis on things other than sexual acrobatics."

Etzioni spoke to a news conference about a session on human sexuality at the 141st annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The Columbia sociologist said this view was based in part on interviews with 215 single persons in Greenwich Village in New York and 50 couples at Rutgers University who had lived together and had had decided to get married.

NOT FREEING — Robert C. Kolodny, of the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation in St. Louis, said his researchers saw and interviewed hundreds of people from all walks of life, most of them white. He said their experiences confirm the Etzioni view.

"We have found," Kolodny said, "that a strictly mechanical, hedonistic approach to sex, while espoused by some, is relatively rapidly falling to the wayside." Kolodny said many of those who experimented with the hedonistic approach found it "enervating, not freeing." They are returning to "at least" a search for a relationship where there can be a positive emotional return.

"Society, I think, has now been saturated with the sexual 'how to do it' books. Swinging seems to be declining and people are looking for committed relationships, for some positive emotional return."

'SEGREGATION FOREVER'
George Wallace: Maybe
He Will And Maybe He Won't

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George C. Wallace may run for president again in 1976, and then again he may not. But he already has a task force of more than one million volunteers pledged to help him raise funds and line up delegates for the Democratic convention.

And, says his national campaign director, Charles S. Snider, hundreds of others are signing up each week in response to the third in a series of direct mail campaigns soliciting their support.

MAILING LIST — From their letters and responses to questionnaires sent out by Snider's office, they are sorted out by a computer and classified as contributors willing to donate their own money, volunteer workers waiting for jobs to perform, or both.

Also on the mailing list are the names of some 12 million other voters who may or may not lend their help.

Snider says it's the most sophisticated mailing list put together by any prospective candidate. He says it has already brought in enough contributions from enough states to qualify the Alabama governor for federal matching funds under the new campaign law.

SPEAK OUT — The 55-year-old Wallace, who was inaugurated Jan. 20 for an unprecedented third term as governor, says he is very interested in the upcoming presidential race but still undecided. However, his promise in his recent inaugural address to "continue to speak out on national affairs" was interpreted by his close friends as an almost certain indication that he will be a candidate.

Snider says "my personal opinion is I think he will run." But he insists Wallace hasn't told him that.

Whatever his intentions, Wallace, who put aside the racial image he once wore and actively sought the support of black voters in his re-election campaign last year, will journey into other states in the next few weeks on a new speaking tour.

SAID IT BEFORE — One question which frequently arises when the partially paralyzed governor is mentioned as a potential candidate for president is his health — whether he is physically able to withstand a rigorous campaign.

Wallace, paralyzed in both legs from an assassination attempt during the 1972 presidential race, recently underwent a routine checkup at University Hospital in Birmingham.

Dr. Sheridan Shirley pronounced the governor "in the pink of condition," and added: "I've said it before. In my judgment, there's no political job he couldn't perform that the people chose to elect him to."

Wallace said he feels fine, but has some discomfort from sitting for hours at a time in a wheelchair. "I'm as good as ever," he says, "except that I can't walk."

RADIAL ISSUES — But he can, and does, stand upright when making public appearances, supported from behind by leather straps built into a specially constructed lectern. And he has learned to "brace walk" on crutches, leaning forward and pulling his legs along.

In his speeches, Wallace no longer dwells on racial issues as he did at his first inauguration when he defiantly vowed "segregation forever."

When he began his third term, he made only an indirect reference to racial matters. He said Alabama has shown the nation its people can live together "in peace and tranquility" and probably could teach some other parts of the country how to get along.

Nearby, during the inaugural ceremonies, sat black newspaper publisher Jesse J. Lewis of Birmingham, who was chosen by Wallace to serve in his new official cabinet as coordinator for highway and traffic safety.

Lewis, the first black cabinet member in Alabama, at least since Reconstruction days following the Civil War, said other blacks will be appointed to the governor's staff. A spokesman for Wallace confirmed that.

GET AWAY — Meanwhile, Wallace's national campaign headquarters, which has never ceased to function since the 1972 election, has doubled its office space and increased its full-time staff to 25.

To find out how voters across the nation feel about the Alabama governor and how many are willing to work in his behalf, the campaign headquarters mailed 6 million letters between August 1973 and August 1974. They went to voters who had not previously indicated a willingness to help.

Snider said 96,000 replies came back with contributions totaling some $934,000.

The money helped, of course, says the campaign director, but more importantly "it gave us the names of 96,000 new contributors we didn't know about before."

Approval Is Extended
Bicentennial Plans

The Big Spring-Howard County Bicentennial Commission has received approval from the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas and the National Bicentennial Community.

The First formal recognition was received by Mrs. Janell Davis and Ms. Johnnie Lou Avery, co-chairwomen of the local Commission, in December. The American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas said it had approved the Big Spring-Howard County application and had forwarded it to the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington, D. C. endorsement as a National Bicentennial Community.

Mr. Sam Kinch Sr., chairman of ARBC of Texas said the "quality of application submitted by Big Spring-Howard County is a credit to you, as chairman, and to the many members of your committee. We (ARBC of Texas) take this opportunity to congratulate you on the scope of your work and on the magnificent presentation of your community efforts."

Official notification of National approval was received in January in a congratulatory letter to the local chairwomen from ARBC of Texas executive director, Gene Brownrigg.

The local unit followed stringent national guidelines in setting up the procedures for adoption as a Bicentennial Community.

The local group also worked closely with the Big Spring City Council and the Howard County Commissioners in receiving local approval for the celebration.

Sen. John Tower of Texas added that "I am extremely proud of your efforts in preserving our national heritage and my hardest congratulations are extended to you and the members of your community." Congressman Omar Burleson also praised the local group for its hard work.

Even though it will be at least another month before the official presentation of the National Certificate, national Flag and State Certificate to the local Commission, plans are underway now for the National Designation Ceremony.

The Steering Committee for the Big Spring-Howard County Bicentennial Commission will meet in the conference room of the Chamber of Commerce at 3:15 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 6 to discuss plans for the Ceremony, also of local ways to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday.

Famed Air Pioneer Set To Retire Next Month

By TROY BRYANT
Gen. Charles E. Yeager, first man to fly faster than the speed of sound who later was to set up a test pilot school and a school to train astronauts, will retire next month, but not before putting together a very impressive career with the United States Air Force, stretching from his "aim and shoot" days piloting a P-51 in World War II to his present post as Director of Aerospace Safety for the Air Force Inspection and Safety Center.

MAKES HISTORY
Gen. Yeager made world history Oct. 14, 1947 when he piloted the Bell X-1 to a speed faster than sound, the first man to do so. He also became the first man to fly twice the speed of sound in a Bell X-1A on Dec. 12, 1953. "No one had ever flown an aircraft at these speeds before, so we took eight or nine flights in the X-1 increasing the speed by about 15 miles per hour on each flight," he said. Before his flights, the fastest anyone had gone was about 80 per cent of the speed of sound which is about 660 miles per hour.

"The X-1 was the first rocket powered aircraft which allowed it to fly at about 40,000 to 50,000 feet, where I broke the speed of sound. The aircraft was built to withstand up to 18 positive or negative gravities, 2½ times stronger than anything else up to that time," he continued. "The only fault with that aircraft was that it had no way for the pilot to get out in an emergency."

The aircraft he used, named "Glamorous Glennis" for his wife, is now on display at the Smithsonian Institute.

Sylvia Martinez Hit In Mishap

Sylvia Martinez, 23, is in Medical Center Hospital today being treated for possible back injuries after an accident at 24th and Runnels at 4:09 p.m. Thursday.

One car was driven by Mary Rodriguez Martinez, 2404 Scurry and the other by Larry John Dagstead, 2205 Johnson.

Sylvia, Nancy and Randy Martinez were taken to Medical Center Hospital where Nancy and Randy were treated and released.

The X-1A craft was not the last aircraft he tested and in 1965 and 1966, he flew some 80 flights in an M2F-1, an experimental lifting body aircraft which had no wings, but was shaped like one large wing. It was this type of aircraft, an MsF-2 aircraft, which can be seen crashing into the runway each week prior to the airing of the TV show, "The Six Million Dollar Man."

Jerry Knight Winner Of Commander Award

Graduating members of Webb AFB Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 75-05 received their pilots' wings Wednesday night during the graduation ceremony at the base Chapel. Adding special significance to the event was the appearance of the guest speaker, Brig. Gen. Charles E. (Chuck) Yeager, an aviation pioneer who became the first man to break the sound barrier, nearly 28 years ago.

Gen. Yeager, the Director of Aerospace Safety for the Air Force Inspection and Safety Center, Norton AFB, Calif., addressed the 24 UPT graduates and the six Vietnamese students who completed T-38 Talon training with the class. Yeager welcomed the graduates into the exclusive fraternity of Air Force pilots.

Heading the list of graduates was 2nd Lt. Jerry N. Knight, the recipient of the Air Training Command Commander's Trophy. The ATC award is presented to the overall outstanding student in each class.

Others garnering laurels were 2nd Lt. Dennis C. Pettet, who received the Flying Training Award; 2nd Lt. Daniel L. Connelly, who was presented the Academic Training Award; and 2nd Lt. Daniel R. Zoerb, who was given the Officer's Training Award. Distinguished Graduate Certificates were given to Lieutenant Pettet, 2nd Lt. Rodney C. Thompson and A-C Chu Van Hung.

Lt. Knight hails from Evansville, Ind., where he graduated from the University of Indiana. Lt. Connelly is a graduate of Clemson University, S.C., and is a native of Greenville, S.C. A product of Tucson, Ariz., Lieutenant Pettet graduated from Arizona State University. Lt. Zoerb graduated from the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and is a native of Knoxville, Tenn.

Class 75-05 Began training

JERRY N. KNIGHT

One of Yeager's colleagues, Bruce Peterson, was piloting the craft which crashed, inspiring the story of the TV show. Peterson recovered from serious injuries.

General Yeager was at Webb Air Force Base to address a class of pilots which graduated Thursday night.

Yeager began his flying career when he learned to fly in California during World War II. "I went through rush flying training where they taught you to aim and shoot, very different from the training that pilots get these days. Our fighters now sometimes have eight different weapons that the pilot must know how to use and he also must know how to operate computers and other sophisticated machinery," he commented.

PILOTS BETTER
"These graduating pilots are a thousand per cent better than we were when I first started and the planes are much more reliable," he said. "And it takes much more than the high school education I had to learn how to fly these new planes."

"My lack of a degree caused me to be overlooked when they selected the Mercury astronauts in the late 50s, but I don't mind a bit," he said. "Being an astronaut is nothing like flying anyway, the risk is there, but all you can do is sit there with your arms folded."

At the age of 20, he distinguished himself in aerial combat over France and Germany in 1943-45 by shooting down 13 enemy aircraft, five in one day, including one of Germany's first jet fighters. Piloting a P-51 Mustang, also named "Glamorous Glennis," he came up on three of the German jets, much faster than he. He managed to damage two of the jets, and when one of the jets were attempting to land, he finished it off.

SHOT DOWN
He was shot down once, on March 5, 1944, but the French Marquis helped him escape from German occupied France into Spain.

Yeager returned to the U.S. in Feb. 1945 and attended the flight instructor course and served as an instructor pilot.

He began his historic test piloting career in July, 1945. Yeager returned to Europe in 1954 after the X-1 program and became Commander of the 417th Fighter Squadron in Germany in 1955.

He commanded Fighter Squadrons in the U.S. and in Spain and in 1961, he graduated from the Air War College.

In 1962, he became the initial commander of the Aerospace Research Pilot School, where all military astronauts are trained.

Heart Fund Drive Is Slated For February

February has been proclaimed Heart Month in Big Spring by Mayor Wade Choate.

The mayor's announcement coincides with a $7,000 drive for funds by the Howard County chapter of the American Heart Association. Dr. Larry Key of Howard College is chairman of the 1975 drive.

Working closely with Key will be Clyde Angel, head of the Special Gifts division of the drive; Jerry Foust, chairman of the AHA Business campaign; Tom Locke, leader in the Heart Sunday campaign; and Mrs. May Rodman, Memorial Fund drive chairman.

The Special Gifts committee, which has a goal of $1,000, will be launched next Tuesday and will continue throughout the week.

The Business segment of the drive, shooting for an objective of $2,000, kicks off Feb. 18. Foust will go directly to the people in business in his appeal.

Heart Sunday is scheduled Feb. 23, at which time a door-to-door appeal for funds will be undertaken by Locke and Dr. Emmett McKenzie, vice-chairman. Objective that day will be $2,500.

Goal in the Memorial Fund drive is $1,500 and donors can forward their gifts directly to Mrs. Rodman, c/o of the VA Hospital.

A total of $5,797 was raised in last year's AHA county drive and Dr. Key said he hopes that could be better by more than $1,000.

President of the Howard County Heart Association is Dr. David Logan.

Key has asked members of the Circle K Club of Howard College to help circulate posters and AHA literature throughout the county.

More than 870,000 Texans are afflicted with some sort of cardiovascular disease. Some 50,000 natives of this state died last year from such diseases. More than 40,000 Texas children are suffering from rheumatic heart trouble and another 39,000 Texans have experienced the traumatic agonies of a stroke.

The American Heart Association is carrying on a relentless fight against cardiovascular disease through research, education and community service programs. Choate reminded in issuing the proclamation, but could not continue were it not for contributions made through Heart Month drives.

County Given $2,013,265 In Welfare Allotments

The State Department of Public Welfare this week released figures showing county-by-county costs of various welfare programs, including $2,013,265 for Howard County.

This includes $349,669 in assistance payments, $128,525 in commodities, $450,898 in food stamps and $1,084,173 in medical payments.

Howard County was fourth in West Texas behind Tom Green County with $5,156,256; Ector with $2,966,183 and Midland with $2,868,916.

Loving County let the state off easiest with a flat "zero" in welfare payments.

In other counties in this area, Dawson County totals high with $1,029,647 of which $283,586 is assistance payments; $43,488, commodities; $308,831 in food stamps and total medical payments of $393,769.

Mitchell County totals $856,834 with assistance payments of $152,104; commodities, $32,193; food stamps, $165,794 and total medical payments of $506,743.

Martin County totals $242,666 with assistance payments of $60,869; commodities, $14,026; food stamps, $30,566; and medical, $35,113.

Deplorable Action

When the United States pulled its troops out of the Vietnam war two years ago, protestors of American involvement there quieted their voices and actions. Now, however, an underground radical group has appointed itself the task of getting the United States to cut off the rest of its aid to the Saigon regime and to Cambodia. While there are many Americans who doubt the wisdom of our continuing support to those regimes, this group is acting in a childish and vicious manner.

Early Wednesday morning a bomb exploded in an elevator shaft in the State Department building and a group calling itself the "Weather Underground Organization" claimed credit for the damage. A caller indicated the bomb was intended to protest U.S. involvement in Vietnam and Cambodia and a subsequent 12-page statement elaborated the group's reasoning. It said the State Department's Agency for International Development had directed $450 million in aid to the South Vietnamese regime this year which was used to keep President Thieu in power. The group also charged that the funds were used to expand the South Vietnamese prison system and train police and prison guards.

If Americans don't like what its government is doing, they have the right to organize and petition the government to change its policy. Americans also have the right to assemble and demonstrate against government policy. But radical groups don't have the right to destroy public property or threaten life.

Fortunately, no one was injured in Wednesday's bombing. But when and if those responsible for the bombing are apprehended, they cannot be treated as a parent would his misbehaving offspring. They should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law and dealt with as anarchists.

States Know Better

Recently the Environmental Protection Agency was preparing to propose new national regulations which would have allowed sewage discharges from boats into Texas waters. There was no provision allowing states to establish tougher standards. In effect state regulations would have fallen subservient to national regulations and Texas would not have been able to enforce its "no dumping" regulation.

Fortunately the EPA is delaying proposal of the new regulations following a protest by the State of Texas. Gov. Dolph Briscoe says that the EPA had agreed to the delay and that the Texas Water Quality Board would ask the EPA within a month to issue regulations allowing states to set tougher standards than those contained in the pending EPA proposal.

Hopefully the EPA will allow states who feel tougher standards and regulations are necessary to establish those provisions. National regulation may be necessary for minimum protection of water; but states often have a better concept of their needs than the federal government. And if a state like Texas decides tougher standards are needed, it certainly should be allowed to impose them.

Could Be Problem

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

NOT ONLY DO THE Cowboys now have two players named Jones, they have two players named Ed Jones, and both are defensive players. The Cowboys drafted Ed "Too Short" Jones, the 6-1, 190 pound defensive back from Rutgers in the ninth round to go along with the Cowboys number one selection in last year's draft, Ed "Too Tall" Jones, a 6-8, 260 pound defensive end from Tennessee State.

If "Too Short" makes the team, that could cause a slight problem with the announcers and with the names on the jerseys. Most of the time, the last names of the players are emblazoned on the back of the jerseys, and if two players on a team have the same last name, they use the first initial also.

The Cowboys may have to resort to using simply "Too Tall" on Too Tall's jersey and maybe settling for "E. Jones" for the defensive back's jersey. But then, maybe both should just use "E. Jones" or "Ed Jones" because there is no way you could get the two mixed up, there is seven inches in height and 70 pounds difference between the two.

A TOTAL OF 442 players were selected in the 17 rounds of drafting and Stan Hegener, an offensive guard from Nebraska was the last man taken in the draft.

Only two Texas Tech players were drafted, Lawrence Williams, who caught three TD passes on the day that Tech beat Texas, was drafted by New England in the seventh round and another Tech wide receiver, Calvin Jones, was taken by Philadelphia in the 16th round.

That does not sound so bad when you realize that Tech had only eleven seniors on their three-deep chart for the season.

LANDRY DID IT ONCE maybe he can do it again. When he was an assistant coach with the New York Giants in 1956, he took a rookie All-American defensive lineman and converted him to a middle linebacker in the then very new 4-3 defense. The player's name is Sam Huff, one of the greatest linebackers ever.

This year he will get a chance to try it again as the Pokes drafted Randy White, an All-American defensive lineman and THE most outstanding lineman in the country.

The trouble is the Cowboys are just as long on defensive linemen as they are short on linebackers, so White will get a chance to put his 6-4, 250 pound frame in the linebacking corps, to lend support to the aging Dallas group.

Landry said that White can only succeed if he wants the job. There is too much involved for a player to only study the position half heartedly, so it will be up to White.

He has the speed, clocking 4.8 in the 40 makes him fast enough, but Landry says that there is much more involved in linebacking now than in Huff's days.

All Huff had to worry about was the running play, but modern linebackers have an important part in pass defense, too.

Landry noted that in ten years White is the best man to make the change that he has seen.

If he succeeds, a big man in Maryland's defensive line will become a big man in Dallas' defense.

Could Boomerang

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The swift build-up of Israel's military power from the wreckage of the October 1973 war to by far its greatest strength ever has now become one of the two flimsy levers for Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's imminent resumption of shuttle diplomacy.

THE OTHER LEVER is the promise of manifold economic goodies for Egypt — if a new Israeli-Egyptian agreement is reached.

Kissinger's strategy the past year was to give Israel the confidence of maximum military security by reorganizing and rebuilding its military machine, a long and costly process that is nearing completion.

THE CONFIDENCE of maximum military superiority would then be used, so the Kissinger thesis goes, to make it possible for Israel to start major withdrawals from the Arab lands seized in 1967, on grounds that continued possession of these lands as Israel's security cushion would no longer be needed. Israel, in short, could find her security in armed superiority, not occupied Arab territories.

The rearming of Israel to achieve that purpose following the 1973 war has radically transformed and strengthened Israel's military might.

HIGH-LEVEL PENTAGON specialists say that Israel now possesses a more powerful arsenal of sophisticated air munitions than any country in the world except the Soviet Union and the U.S. Its strategic and tactical mobility, built on a force of 16 giant C-130 Lockheed Hercules transports, with another eight soon to arrive, dwarfs the meager transport available before the 1973 war.

More important, U.S. Army advisers have helped Israel integrate its brilliantly commanded armored units with its mechanized ground divisions, discarding for good the old British system of completely separate commands.

STILL BEING HELD in reserve by President Ford, despite ardent appeals from Israel, is the dreaded laser-guided bomb. But the betting here is that sooner or later Israel will be given that, too. One other super-modern American weapon, the short-range, nuclear-capable Lance missile which is just now coming into the U.S. inventory, is also slated to go to Israel (without nuclear warheads). The White House, which badly wanted to keep that, too, in reserve as a carrot for Kissinger's mediation effort, was furious when it learned the Pentagon privately informed Congress two weeks ago that the sale of the Lance had been approved.

BUT THERE IS A risk in this strategy of building Israeli confidence in its security through military power, thus reducing Israel's need for holding on to Arab territory: it might boomerang. That is, having gained such military power and the assurance of being able to wage all-out war without American supplies for three full weeks (as opposed to a mere six days in 1973), Israel might become less, not more, willing to cut a deal with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

Kissinger's frail lever over Egypt in the forthcoming talks for a second-stage agreement on Israeli-occupied Sinai is economic, not military.

But Like What?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

In London the other day, one of the large television companies held its annual luncheon for the purpose of giving out prizes to journalists who had achieved illustrious accomplishments during the past year. The editors of the Peace News, which is a far-left publication on the order of our Ramparts, were given a prize for discovering that a British colonel had made plans for a citizen's volunteer force in the event of a civil emergency.

WHEN THE HOST rose to his feet to offer the customary toast to the Queen, the Peacepersons ostentatiously stayed seated. And when time came for them to accept the award, their spokesman delivered a tirade on the subject of England's imperialistic practices in Northern Ireland by which is meant Britain's suppression of a mutiny in the United Kingdom. The combination of the affront to the Queen and the seditious attack on the British Army proved too much — but for only a single member of the audience, the redoubtable Mr. Peregrine Worsthorne, who walked out. Everyone else stayed, and even clapped politely.

OH HOW MR. WORSTHORNE has thundered over the events, and I quite understand. We have our Jane Fonda and Marlon Brando, and we sort of put up with them, but since Vietnam and Wounded Knee, they are no longer proof against an audience's good sense and good manners. Besides which, for all our troubles the English are worse off. Indeed it is here and there suggested, as by Anthony Lejeune, that "some people have begun actually to hope for a catastrophe, because they fear that the only alternative is a continuing steady erosion of the country's economic foundations and of individual liberty."

THE LABOR GOVERNMENT is meanwhile swaggering about, sustained only by an unaccountable rise in the London stock market (50 per cent in three weeks). The stock market seems to be saying that there will always be an England; and no doubt there will. Last week a rich sheik from the United Arab Emirates plunked down 500,000 pounds for a castle in Kent. Asked why he had bought it, he said simply,

"Because it's beautiful." Lots of England will continue to be beautiful even after economic and political chaos, so that it becomes literally true that there will always be an England, even as the Court of St. Petersburg could with full confidence in 1914 have warranted that there would always be a Russia.

BUT WHAT WILL ENGLAND be like? I cannot imagine what the American press would have done to, say Mr. Ford, or Maurice Stans, or Arthur Burns, or William Simon, if during the election campaign last year one of them had given a major speech saying that inflation had reduced to four per cent. I find it inconceivable that he'd have lasted out the year in public office. Yet Denis Healey, during the campaign this fall, announced that inflation in England had come down to eight per cent which, under the circumstances, was on the order of standing outside the Empire State Building and announcing on a loudspeaker that it had shrunk by 60 stories. The figures were implacable and undeniable, and sure enough when the tally was officially registered at the end of the year, England was suffering inflation at the rate of 20 per cent.

THERE IS RESISTANCE. Sir Keith Joseph, the shadow Home Affairs spokesman, has made a daring suggestion — or rather, as the British would view it, threat. If the Parliament does not restrain itself, "it will nurture its own nemesis." Sir Keith thinks the English should consider moving toward the adoption of a — Bill of Rights.

But even as 30 years ago, England's plight is bringing out those vast reserves of British eloquence. Mr. Heath has always been studiously prosaic. But — listen: "The hour of the individual patriotic British man and woman is with us. I feel the stirring of a new mood in Britain. I want a Britain that frightens her enemies, delights her friends; a Britain that is fun to live in and exciting to work in; a Britain strong enough to be tolerant and confident enough to be compassionate. If I was alone in what I feel, I, too, would begin to lose hope. But I know I am not alone." That's true. But neither is he a majority.

Loan Defaults Up

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Loan delinquencies and defaults are up in almost every area of the credit markets, causing lenders to write off millions of dollars in bad debts.

At the same time, almost every type of lending institution from local credit unions to the Chase Manhattan Bank is accused of poor management for having permitted bad loans to be made.

"We're cursed if we do, damned if we don't," said the president of a large New York City bank.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit, which counsels families caught in a financial pinch, estimates five or six of every 100 families in the nation have money troubles, double the estimate of a year ago.

A spokesman for the foundation was quoted during 1974 as saying that with recession and inflation clawing at the pocketbook from different directions, the rate could rise to 10 of every 100 families.

Bankruptcies are expected to set a record of more than 230,000 in the fiscal year to end June 30, and one reason for it in fact, if viewed from a special perspective, the only reason — is the misuse of credit.

The amount of consumer debt, including mortgage loans, rose 42 per cent between the end of 1970 and the middle of 1974, according to a study by the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. During the same period, aftertax income rose only 37 per cent.

The rate of delinquencies on installment loans averages between 2.5 and 3 per cent, the highest since 1950. Mortgage foreclosures have been running at a rate of 136,000 a year.

In all, American households owe roughly $600 billion, compared with less than $25 billion in 1945, and slightly more than $400 billion as recently as 1970.

Does this mean lenders are too lenient in judging the credit-worthiness of their customers? Are they interpreting their responsibility to customers too liberally?

To Polish Up Image

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers turned off by program-preempting politicking may groan, but the Republican National Committee is planning three half-hour TV shows to polish up the GOP's public image.

The programs, emphasizing positive aspects of GOP work, will appear this spring in prime evening time on a one-show-per-network basis if no snags develop, says Mary Louise Smith, GOP national chairman.

She made the plans public last weekend at a meeting of GOP state chairmen in Chicago, where she said the TV campaign's aim was "to rebuild the shattered perception of the public has of the Republican party."

In a telephone interview from Washington, D.C., she said the shattered perception was partly "a fallout from the whole Watergate era" and partly because "we got tagged for some of the responsibility for the faltering economy."

She said the GOP's planned TV shows will be sort of a "magazine of the air," similar in format to CBS' "60 Minutes."

It'll feature what she called "news segments" on GOP activities, ranging from excerpts of presidential news conferences to "things that Republicans are doing in a significant kind of way, such as how Republican governors are addressing themselves to problems in their own states."

It also will feature prominent Republicans as guests, explain what programs the GOP national committee has afoot, seek financial support from viewers and contain a five-minute segment state GOP officials can replace with a minishow of their own, she said.

The cost of the TV effort could run as high as $345,000. A GOP spokesman says the total cost of the shows is estimated at between $110,000 and $115,000.

And network sources say the price of a half-hour's prime evening time in May — when the shows would appear — averages between $90,000 and $100,000.

Mrs. Smith said the committee's representatives are discussing the purchase of time from the CBS, NBC and ABC television networks.

Delays Cataract Surgery

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am blind in one eye due to cataracts and my other eye is getting worse. My doctor will not operate.

I am still working. My cataracts began eight or nine years ago. Why does the doctor insist I wait until the other eye is worse? — Mrs. R.W.

It's difficult for me to tell why your doctor is delaying surgery on the eye in which you have lost sight. However, there are many factors to be weighed before the decision for surgery is made.

Some doctors believe that as long as reasonable vision is present in one eye, there is no need to hurry into surgery in the other eye.

Your occupation, which you don't mention, is another factor. The fact that you are continuing to work indicates your vision has been adequate for your purposes. Cataracts progress slowly, as you are aware from your nine-year experience. They do not progress evenly in both eyes.

These also are other factors to be considered in deciding when to operate. The main thing is that the surgery be timed to leave the patient with the maximum possible vision, and I'm sure this is what your doctor is thinking. I advise you to see your doctor again.

I go into this matter in fuller detail in my booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma." For a copy send 25 cents in a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

NOTE TO MRS. R.A.C. If you have followed my comments on gout over the years you would not find any conflict between myself and the gout clinic you mention. I have written repeatedly that diet is not the sole answer, but that medications are more effective. I believe it wise for a gout patient to avoid excessive use of high purine foods, however.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In an answer to a lady whose husband had prostate surgery and whose testes were removed, you implied that he would no longer be interested in sex.

Does removing the testes take away all desire? Will all thoughts be removed from the mind? — T.Y.

The thoughts may not vanish, but the ability or desire to perform is greatly diminished.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Someone told me that if you take two teaspoonfuls of polyunsaturated oil every day it helps you lose weight because something is in it which eats up your body fat. — C.C.

It's not true. While there is divided opinion on this point, some authorities believe polyunsaturated fats help reduce blood cholesterol which in turn can be a factor in hardening of the arteries.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am so sick and tired of being pushed around. The meek are supposed to inherit the earth. Well, I'm tired of waiting. I want to ask for a raise, but I've been putting it off. When I should speak out, my stomach churns, and I remain silent. What can I do?

R.A.B.

That statement of our Lord about the meek inheriting the earth (Matthew 5:5) occurred originally in the Old Testament (the 37th Psalm). Meekness means not dumb submission nor even humility, it's an attitude basically of submission to God, something like the relationship of a disciple to a teacher. A meek person does not retaliate for injuries, but rather forgives and deals gently with others. Meekness really comes from the working of the Holy Spirit in our life, giving strength and energy to our character.

All right, you ought to be able to speak our frankly, however, about your needs and even your wishes. The Bible has many illustrations of encounters where the Christian stated his case forcefully. (See Acts 18:25, Galatians 2:11)

Why don't you prepare a few opening remarks for your visit with the boss. Try to formulate answers for all the arguments he may advance, and then pray for God's help just before you go in. And take a deep breath.

Of course, it may be that you're too preoccupied with money. I don't know, but I do know Jesus said, "A man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."

A Devotion For Today . .

"I pray that your love will keep on growing more and more, together with true knowledge and perfect judgment, so that you will be able to choose what is best." (Philippians 1:9-10 TEV)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, may nothing keep me from seeking You with my whole heart. Help my love to keep on growing more and more until my life possesses the self-giving qualities of Jesus. Amen.

State President Visits Eagles Auxiliary Here

The Eagles Auxiliary honored its state president, Mrs. Mellie Laird of Green's Bayou, at a hospitality hour held Monday evening in the Settles Hotel. She was presented a money corsage.

Mrs. Laird spoke to the group concerning her state project, the Baytown Opportunity Center, which promotes the welfare of the mentally disabled of all ages. Local auxiliary members made a monetary contribution to the center.

Accompanying the honoree was Mrs. Anna Lee Hanson of La Porte, state treasurer. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Netta Patterson of Odessa, state trustee; and Mrs. Georgin Allmond, secretary for the Odessa lodge.

Anniversary To Be Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Fox will be honored Sunday, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. at their home, 3709 La Junta. All friends are invited to attend.

Hostesses for the affair will be their daughters, Mrs. Kenny (Patricia) Pietz, Big Spring, and Mrs. Marvin (Regina) Phillips, Lamesa. Mrs. Gary Wiggins and Mrs. Jimmy Mays will serve.

Mrs. Fox, who is the former Evelyn Marble, will wear a Navy blue skirt with matching tailored blouse, will be presented a corsage of red carnations, accented with silver, and her husband will receive a red carnation boutonniere.

Refreshments will be served from a table covered with a red cloth, overlaid with lace and appointed with milk glass. The centerpiece will be an arrangement of red carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox, who were both reared in Blair, Okla., were married there Feb. 3, 1950. The ceremony was performed by Ray Miller, minister, in the Church of Christ parsonage. Their first home was in Altus, Okla., and they have resided in Big Spring for over six years.

Fox is employed as a jet engine mechanic at Webb AFB, and his wife is substitute teacher at the Baptist Temple Child Development Center.

The Foxes are members of the Big Spring Squares. Her hobbies include sewing, crocheting, making decorative candles and baking. Fox operates a citizen's band radio and enjoys motorcycle riding. They have one grandchild.

LGA Bridge Winners At Country Club

Results have been announced for two duplicate bridge games at Big Spring Country Club. The games, sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association, were held Friday and Wednesday.

Friday winners in the north-south position were Mrs. James Raoul and Mrs. Hayden Griffith, first; Mrs. Truman Jones and Mrs. E. L. Powell, second; and Mrs. W. B. Gill and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, third. East-west winners were Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mrs. J. H. Fish, first; Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Hayes Stripling, second; and Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. John Davis, third.

High tallies Wednesday for north-south went to Mrs. Morris Rhodes and Mrs. Henry Bell, first; Mrs. Dorothy Herbert and Mrs. Gill, second; and Mrs. J. H. Parks and Mrs. Travis Reed, third. In the east-west position, it was Mrs. Rogers Hefley and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, first; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Ellington, second; and Mrs. Auriel La Fond and Mrs. Birt Allison, third.

Older Adults Invited To Kentwood Center

The February calendar of events has been announced for the Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center, beginning Saturday with a business meeting of Barracks 1474, WWI Veterans, and its Ladies Auxiliary. All WWI veterans and their wives are invited to attend. There will be table games from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and a covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

A spokesman for the center stressed that all older adults in the community, regardless of creed or color, are invited to participate in events at the center.

On Feb. 3, the Round Robin Hobby Club will sponsor hobbies and game time from 1 to 5 p.m. The same club will sponsor game and hobby times from 1 to 4 p.m. Feb. 10, 17, 24 and 26.

The American Association of Retired Persons will have a business meeting at 10 a.m., Feb. 4, followed by a covered dish luncheon, games and fellowship until 4 p.m. All older adults are urged to attend whether or not they are members of the association.

Pioneer Hobby Club will sponsor game and hobby days Feb. 5 and Feb. 19 from 1 to 4 p.m., and sing-alongs are slated at 7 p.m., Feb. 10 and Feb. 24. The Double Six Domino Club will host meetings at 1 p.m., Feb. 13 and Feb. 27, while the Western Music Club will sponsor gatherings at 7 p.m., Feb. 13 and Feb. 27.

The Center Point Home Demonstration Club will meet at the center at 2 p.m., Feb. 11 and Feb. 25.

Faculty Group Has Meeting

A social meeting for the Faculty Ma'am's of Howard College was held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jerry Dudley, 2510 Lynn, with Mrs. Charles Hays as cohostess. Mrs. Larry Key presided. Mrs. Kenneth Sprinkle will host the Feb. 25 meeting at her home, 2505 Larry.

Rainbows To Install Slate

Lisa Anguano was initiated into the Big Spring Assembly, No. 60, Order of Rainbow For Girls at the Tuesday meeting at the Masonic Temple.

Jean Sauze, grand visitor from Midland made her official visit for the year, and Zina Johnston, grand representative from Florida to Texas, was introduced as a guest. Emily Boyd, worthy advisor, presided.

Jill Odum, worthy advisor, announced her installation will be held Saturday, 7:30 p.m., in the Masonic Temple.

The Feb. 11 meeting will be at 7 p.m.

VFW Auxiliary Has Memorial

A memorial service honoring the late Body Blount, a charter member of the local VFW Post 2013, was held by the VFW Auxiliary Monday evening in the home of the president, Mrs. Homer Petty, 707 N. Gregg.

Also a contribution was made to the nursing scholarship which is supported by all VFW Auxiliary units. As one of its service projects, the local auxiliary will continue to serve cake and coffee at the Veterans Administration Hospital the first Monday of each month.

Next Monday, Mrs. Petty and Mrs. Rip Smith, chairman, will take three cakes to the hospital, including one cake for diabetics. The coffee hour will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until about 10:30 a.m. The two women also plan to spend one day a week at the hospital to assist patients in writing letters.

Museum Tour For Alpha Chi

Heritage Museum was toured by members of Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, at its last meeting and, afterward, the group had a dinner meeting at Furr's Cafeteria.

Mrs. Frank Perry conducted business, with ways and means projects being the main topic of discussion. Local fund-raising activities will be decided upon at the Feb. 10 meeting in the home of Mrs. Virgil Long, 1800 Dixie.

Reports were given by Mrs. Harold Bentley concerning meals which sorority members prepared for an elderly local couple.

The ESA district meeting was held in Snyder last weekend, but no local delegates attended.

This Doctor Has Lost His Bedside Manner

DEAR ABBY: Recently, my son and his wife, Vicki, moved to Bakersfield, Calif. Being in a new area, Vicki looked in the Yellow Pages of her phone book to find an obstetrician to confirm her suspicions of pregnancy. She and my son wanted a baby very much. (Vicki is only 19.) What should have been a happy experience for her turned into a nightmare because of an idiot of a doctor.

He asked her if she was financially prepared to take care of a retarded or deformed baby. Naturally, she asked him if he had reason to believe anything was wrong. He said no, but she was so young and immature he thought he'd ask.

Vicki told the doctor that she wanted her husband with her during the delivery so they could share that beautiful experience together. He said, disgustedly: "There is nothing beautiful about it! It's a lot of grunting." (Have you ever heard of such talk from a doctor?) He also said he delivered a headless baby to a woman whose husband was in the room, and the husband nearly died.

Abby, this doctor instilled such fears and doubts in Vicki, I could wring his neck. I don't want this to happen to another expectant mother. Is there someone I can report him to?

READY TO EXPLODE IN VICTORVILLE

DEAR READY: Yes. Contact his County Medical Society and report him to the grievance committee. He shouldn't be allowed to practice. He sounds like a very sick man.

DEAR ABBY: Is nothing sacred? Here I am sitting with my boyfriend watching television, when all of a sudden we see a commercial come on for a product that makes me want to crawl under the rug. Good grief! I felt my face getting hot as a poker.

Then, a while later, another commercial came on for a medicine to treat a very embarrassing ailment which is not mentioned in polite company.

Where can I write to complain?

RED-FACED

DEAR RED: Regarding offensive TV commercials, write to the Federal Communications Commission Office, 1919 M Street, Washington, D.C. 20554.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for printing that letter from the woman signed "Restless." She confessed that she had the urge to run away from her family, and wanted to know if other wives experienced that feeling.

I have. Many times I've wanted to run away from my husband, and yes, my children, too, and start life all over again where no one would know me.

I've been married for 28 years, and my children are gone now. I've had a fairly good marriage. By that I mean I've had more good days than bad. No marriage is perfect. My mother always told me: "You can't run away from your troubles, and you can't leave them behind. If you run away, you take your problems with you." She was right.

Tell "Restless" if she stayed with her marriage for

Legion Juniors Will Compete

Three members of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary were nominated to run for Valentine Queen when the group met Tuesday at the Post Home with adult leaders, Mrs. Janet Whitehead and Mrs. Linda Melton.

The contestants are Mona Lisa Viera, Tammy Daugherty and Janet McBride. Collection cans will be at the Post Home, and donations will count as votes. The winner will be announced Feb. 14, with the crowning to be the following evening during game night at the Post Home. Also, donations will be taken on money corsage to be awarded the night of the crowning.

The next junior meeting will be at 7 p.m., Feb. 4.

NEW YORK (AP) — American League umpire Marty Springstead is scheduled to leave today for a two-week tour of Germany, Holland, England and Greece, where he will conduct two clinics a day for U.S. Air Force servicemen and show films of the 1974 World Series.

He will begin his tour in Frankfurt, Germany, accompanied by several college baseball coaches. He is scheduled to return on Feb. 13, when he will report to spring camp in Florida.

MEMPHIS (AP) — Jimmy Laycock, 26, offensive backfield coach at The Citadel, was interviewed Thursday for a job on the staff of Richard Williamson, Memphis State's new head football coach.

MT. SNOW, Vt. (AP) — Former amateur champion Bobby Cochran of Richmond will make his first New England appearance as a pro racer this weekend in the $30,000 pro ski classic at Mt. Snow.

Brothers Terry and Tyler Palmer of Kearsarge, N.H., and Tim Skaling of Kingfield, Maine, are among 40 of the world's top pros down to compete in the giant slalom Saturday and the slalom Sunday.

Junior High Wins Pair

MIDLAND — Coahoma junior high cagers won two out of three games with Midland Christian here Thursday night.

Coahoma's eight grade boys and girls scored convincing decisions, 41-25 and 23-15 respectively. The seventh grade girls fell, 27-25.

Gary Hulme netted 14 points for the Coahoma eighth grade boys and Midland's Donnie Gourley made 13. For the eighth grade Coahoma girls, Angela Dykes scored 12 points and Mary Oestman of Midland tallied eight.

Lana Thomas and Wanua Griffin paced Coahoma seventh grade girls with 11 and 10 points respectively. Midland's Rhonda Decho flipped in 10.

This finished seasonal play for Coahoma. Coahoma records: eighth boys, 6-6, eighth girls, 7-6, and seventh girls, 2-1.

McMurry Girls Top Hawkettes

ABILENE — McMurry girls moved around the Howard College Hawkettes, 63-53, here Thursday night.

HC's Sherry Griffin netted 21 points. Lynn Clondron of McMurry sacked 23. The Hawkettes are now 1-2 for the year and McMurry, 1-5.

HC's girls meet Wayland (Frosh) on the Hawkette court tonight.

McMurry (43) Clondron 23, Grimes 13, Parker 18, Fowler 2 Buck 7, Hicks 6. Totals 63-53.

HCJ (53) Gomez 12, Echols 8, Griffin 21, Lambert 6, Caffey 4, Knight 2. Total 53-33.

Halftime Score McMurry 32, HCJ 29.

NICKLAUS' CONFIDENCE BUILDING Al Looks Over Shoulder

HONOLULU (AP) — Al Geiberger has the lead, but the soft-spoken veteran could be excused for looking over his shoulder going into today's second round in the $20,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Just two shots away is the menacing figure of Jack Nicklaus, his game rounding into shape and his confidence building.

"It's my first round of the year in the 60s," an obviously pleased Nicklaus said. "At least I've got it going in the right direction."

"Actually, I'm reasonably happy with the round. I enjoy shooting a 68 in the first round. I could have played it a little lower — I let three of the par fives get away — but I guess I could have been a little higher, too."

Geiberger, a former PGA national champion who broke an eight-year victory drought last fall, had to birdie his final hole to break out of a massive jam at the top. Five men were in with 67s when his wedge shot to four feet set up the birdie that gave him a 66, six-under-par on the rain-soaked, 7,154-yard Waialeale Country Club course.

"The rain was just kind of bothersome," Geiberger said of the day-long drizzle that left pools and puddles of casual water scattered over the tropically lush layout in the shadow of Diamondhead. "Every time I'd bend over to putt, the water would run off the bill of my cap and I'd have to stop and let it all drain off."

Allen Miller, former Masters Champion Charles Coody, Bob Murphy, Buddy Alin and Eddie Pearce, the runner-up in this tournament a year ago, had their 67s on the scoreboard when Geiberger broke the tie for the top. Bob E. Smith later joined them at the five-underpar figure.

Tied with Nicklaus at 68 were Jumbo Ozaki of Japan, George Archer and Gary Groh, whose wildly erratic round included an eagle three and a double bogey six.

Arnold Palmer had a 69, U.S. Open Champion Hale Irwin a 73 and Lee Trevino a 75 that left him in danger of missing the cut when the field is trimmed to the low 70 scorers after today's round.

Johnny Miller, who won the first two tournaments of the year, is not competing, nor is Gary Player.

WBC Okays Ali Match

The world Boxing Council seems bent on destroying whatever credibility it may still have.

The WBC, which calls itself the authority on which of the world's fighters deserve to be champions and contenders, announced early this week that it would strip Muhammad Ali of his heavyweight title if he went ahead with his March 24 fight against Chuck Wepner.

It must have occurred to the WBC that almost everyone and everything would still consider Ali the champion if he defeated Wepner, so on Thursday the group changed its mind.

It announced that it would sanction the Ali-Wepner fight if the winner agreed to then meet Britain's Joe Bugner for the title. If not, then presumably the WBC will name its own champion.

It does not appear likely that Ali will lose to the little-known Wepner, or that he will accept a dictate from the WBC, which has taken the heavyweight championship from him once before. That was back in the 1960s when Ali refused induction into the U.S. Army.

Now Ali has won the title back. He lost to Joe Frazier, but beat him in a rematch. He lost to Ken Norton, but again won a rematch. And he soundly beat George Foreman.

All three of those men seem to be more valid contenders than does Bugner, whom Ali has also beaten. Also more valid as a contender is Ron Lyle, the number-three ranked contender behind Foreman and Frazier.

Assuming that Ali beats Wepner — there are few outside of Wepner who assume otherwise — it is expected that his next title fight will be against Lyle. Then there are tentative plans to fight Frazier and Foreman.

If all goes according to schedule, those fights would be held in the next year to 18 months, provided Ali does not lose. It is also entirely possible that he would fight other lesser ranked boxers.

But his history has been to fight often and to fight the best available, even if there are a few Chuck Wepners mixed in.

Western Remains Seventh

HUTCHINSON — Snyder's Western Texas College continues to grasp ahold of seventh position in the latest National Junior College Athletic Association cage poll.

The Westerners showed a 19-1 record.

San Jacinto, 19-0 (Pasadena), maintains its No. 1 ranking, followed by Hutchinson, 16-0. Westark CC 14-3. (Ft. Smith, Ark.), and Northland CC, 13-0. (Thief River Falls, Minn.), are tied for No. 20.

Dennis Davis, Somerset CC (Somerset, Ky.), is the nation's top scorer, pumping in 35 points a game. He has connected for 175 field goals, 35 free throws for 385 points.

Kent Glover, Polk CC, (Winter Haven, Fla.), is No. 19. He has pushed through 201 shots, 34 charity tosses for 436 points, showing a 27.2 output.

The best offense team is Durham College, (Durham, N.C.) They showed a 13-2 record, 1521 points, 114.7 average. Northland is No. 6 based on 1306 points for an even 100 average.

The defense team leader is Fulton-Montgomery CC, Johnstown, N.Y., 8-1 record, 496 points, 44.1 average. College of DuPage, 14-4, (Glen Ellyn, Ill.), is No. 13, yielding 64.5 points per game.

Believes Jim Will Show Up

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Rod Laver learned long ago to ignore his opponent's behavior on the tennis court. So he believes Jimmy Connors — tennis' No. 1 bad boy as well as No. 1 player — will show up for their $100,000, winner-take-all match Sunday.

A news conference was scheduled for today to discuss Connors' aversion to having Pancho Gonzalez as the match's referee. It appeared that Gonzalez, Connors' coach for several years, would referee the match.

A publicist for the event denied the flap was a publicity stunt and Thursday admitted that "95 percent of the problems have been resolved and the rest will be discussed at a press conference Friday afternoon."

Connors' manager, Bill Riordan, had said Wednesday that Connors might refuse to play unless Bob Howe of New York City was named referee.

"The old school I came from said you behaved yourself on the court," Laver said between warm-up sessions for the best three-of-five-set match, to be televised live on CBS starting at 1 p.m. EST.

Laver, 36, two-time winner of the Grand Slam, has seen every tactic in 12 years as a pro and calls Connors' wisecracks and gestures on the court gamesmanship.

"I don't worry too much about it," Laver said. "He's trying to get his opponent to lose concentration. I find it doesn't affect me."

Laver has complained that the court to be used is too fast and asked the promoters to take the tennis balls out of their cans several days ago to slow things down.

The betting odds are even but the aging Australian is likely to be the crowd favorite against the cocky American. Laver knows it and attributes it to Connors' court demeanor. "That's the reason," he says flatly.

Connors, who in conversation is rather mild mannered, quite unlike his flamboyant court image, explains, "If I mellow on the court I won't be No. 1 any more. When I get out of tennis I'll become a nice guy. I'm the way I am on the court because it gets me up and gets me mean."

ABILENE finished first half 5-4 go-round with a 4-3 mark, good for fourth place. The Eagles dumped cross-town rival, Cooper, 62-60, Thursday. Abilene is 15-9 over-all.

James "Tater" Boynton, in his initial year as Eagle advisor, has revised his lineup somewhat since the first Steer meeting.

He's been going with an all-junior cast of 6-8 Darrell Baxter, 6-5 Andre Hickman, 6-0 Mike Little, 5-11 Eddie Forkerway, and 6-0 Steve Thomas recently.

Hickman's knee trouble kept him from seeing full service against Cooper. Earl Swinger, 6-3 senior, stepped in and scored 16 points, high for any Abilene cager.

Ricky Calloway, 6-2 senior starter in the Eagle loss to the Steers, has been moved to a reserve role.

Ron Plumlee, Big Spring head coach, as of now, features nine varsity candidates.

Only one letterman dots the current roster, 6-1 junior Jim Ray. Seniors' 6-2 Bobby Winters, 6-3 James Coffey, and 5-8 David Beasley were promoted via the junior varsity ranks.

Another senior, 6-4 David Owens, is a transfer student. Eloy Green is an asset to the Steer floor plan. The 5-6 sophomore flash keeps an opponent alert with his ballhawk tactics.

Bubba Stripling, 6-0 sophomore, led the Steers against San Angelo, flipping in 11 points. Two juniors, 5-2 Robert Aldridge and 6-3 Mark Moore are up from the JV.

Plumlee will probably go with Ray, Winters, Green, Owens and Moore.

Tonight's district schedule besides Big Spring vs Abilene High, pits Permian at Midland, Lee at Odessa, and Cooper at San Angelo.

Steer second half games include: Home-Feb. 7, Permian; Feb. 14, Cooper; and Feb. 18, Odessa; Away-Feb. 4, Midland; Feb. 11, Lee; and Feb. 21, San Angelo.

The preliminary junior varsity match will pit coach James Griffin's Steers against Abilene. The Steer JV's, winning their last two contests, stand 11-9 over-all.

RED HEAD — Jane "Detour" Stotts will be one of the All-American Redhead members performing against the Coahoma All-Stars in the Coahoma Gym, Monday at 8 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Coahoma Quarterback Club. # BS Moves Ahead Into 2nd Round

ABILENE — Big Spring, though short on experience and minus its ace shooter, will try for a second consecutive 5-4 decision over Abilene High here tonight at 8.

The Steers scored their only district triumph over the Eagles, 68-60, in Big Spring, Jan. 7. James Zapp, 6-3 junior letterman, turned in his uniform Monday for an unexplained reason.

Zapp had been the Steers' leading shot artist through 19 games, tossing in 12 points per game.

Since clipping the Eagles' wings, the Steers have dropped six straight. Big Spring ended first round play at home Thursday, losing to San Angelo, 75-42.

The Steers tied for the district's seventh position with Odessa, 1-6 each. For the season, Big Spring sports

Course Riding High

AUSTIN — The popularity of the Texas Skipper's Course is still riding high, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Water Safety officials.

The program, which began last January 1, has resulted in the free distribution of more than 59,000 copies of the home-study recreational boating course.

The course has been promoted through announcement cards in boat registration renewal notices and articles in Texas Parks & Wildlife magazine as well as through news articles from the department's news service.

Copies of this popular boating safety course are available from "Skipper's Course," John H. Reagan Office Building, Austin, 78701.

There is no charge for the publication, but it is requested that only one booklet per family be ordered since there are enough answer sheets to the end-of-course test for six persons.

Dallas Signs 2 Sleepers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have signed University of Florida players Lee McGriff and Paul Parker, who both were bypassed in this week's National Football League college draft.

The two were signed Thursday and may have been the first collegians to do so since the two-day draft ended the day before.

McGriff led the Southeastern Conference in pass receptions the past two years and was an all-SEC choice both seasons. Most scouts expressed concern, however, that at 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds he wasn't big enough for the NFL.

Parker, younger brother of New Orleans Saints tight end Joel Parker, stands 6-6 and weighs 265.

McGriff, a wide receiver from Tampa, and Parker, an offensive lineman from Clearwater, said they received three-year contracts and bonuses with the Cowboys.

Dallas scout Mike Keller flew to Gainesville late Wednesday to do the negotiating.

Oakland also had expressed interest in them after the draft, the two said.

A special attraction is a bicycle event. No registration fee is set and all bikes are eligible. No age limit is imposed.

Trophies will be handed out.

Bears Out To Dehorn Champions

FORT WORTH (AP) — By all odds, Texas' depth-laden track forces should ground down the field in tonight's second annual Southwest Conference Indoor Track Meet.

But that's what they said during football season and Baylor's Cinderella Bears won the title.

And the same thing could happen tonight to Clyde Hart's squad which came in second last year in the meet and had their point total doubled by the winning Longhorns.

Texas scored 96 1-3 points last year to 43 points for the Bears.

However, Baylor has been on a crash course to upset Texas on the boards of Tarrant County Convention Center. The Bears were impressive in an outdoor meet last week at Baton Rouge, La.

"Our kids really feel they can win," said Hart. "I really don't know what sort of chance we have because of the freshmen coming in."

Some of the defending champions include Dana LeDuc of Texas in the shot put; Kevin DeLorey of Baylor in the high jump; David Shepherd, Texas, in the pole vault; Walker Lea of Baylor in the mile run, and Neall O'Shaughnessy of Arkansas in the 880 run.

"Texas could hurt us with its strength in the shot put," Hart said.

All nine SWC teams will be in action, but the team honors seem to be a battle strictly between the Horns and the Bears.

Husband Held For Slaying

Charles R. Looby III, 30, was taken into custody about 7:30 a.m. Thursday at his home in Colchester, Conn., after his wife's body was discovered.

Lillie L. Looby, 26, formerly of Big Spring, died, apparently from gunshot wounds. Her husband was charged with murder, state police revealed.

Authorities went to the home after receiving a call at 7:16 a.m. Thursday to investigate the house. Police declined to say who called.

Looby was held without bond and was to be arraigned later Thursday in the 10th Court of Common Pleas in Norwich, Conn.

Mrs. Looby is the daughter of Alen Biby, 2106 Nolan St., Big Spring.

Student Loan Program's Dallas Office Closed

DALLAS (AP) — The Guaranteed Student Loan Program's Dallas office has been closed suddenly pending an investigation by as many as four government agencies, the Dallas Times Herald said today.

The newspaper said Edward J. Baca, director of the education branch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, shut down the federally funded loan office at the order of a Treasury Department agency.

Van Rush, a spokesman for HEW, said the probe concerns possible misrepresentation and improper handling of collected funds.

Rush said more than 20 employees of the office were abruptly sent home Thursday and were placed on indefinite leave.

The situation has not been investigated, he said, and "should not be interpreted as implicating any or all employees."

The program is set up to provide educational loans which are guaranteed by the federal government.

Victim In Glasscock Shooting Succumbs

Harmen Ned Galloway, 31, of Junction, shot in the neck during an incident in Glasscock County the night of Jan. 21, died about 4:55 a.m. Thursday in an Odessa hospital.

He had been in the hospital's intensive care unit since he was transferred to the facility from a Midland hospital Jan. 22.

Galloway was shot once in the neck with a .38 caliber pistol, according to Glasscock County authorities.

The bullet traversed the body, lodging near a kidney, a hospital spokesman said.

The shooting happened the night of Jan. 21 on Texas 158 just inside Glasscock County. Glasscock County Sheriff Royce Pruitt said a San Angelo man, Roy Clarence Eisenbach, was trying to repossess a car he had sold to Galloway's wife.

Eisenbach told Pruitt he spotted the car near Big Lake and followed it into Glasscock County.

Eisenbach stopped his pickup truck alongside the highway and Galloway also pulled over to the side of the road, officers said.

The two men argued, Eisenbach said, and then Eisenbach said he got back in his pickup truck and started to drive off after getting the car keys from Galloway, according to authorities.

Galloway jumped into the back of the pickup truck, broke out the rear window and knifed him in the shoulder, Pruitt quoted Eisenbach as saying.

Lawmen said Eisenbach told them he pulled his pistol, fired one time, and then drove Galloway to the Midland hospital where Galloway was admitted. Eisenbach was treated for the knife wound and was released.

Galloway was transferred to the Odessa hospital early the next morning.

No charges have been filed in connection with the shooting, Pruitt said.

The matter is to be presented to the Glasscock County Grand Jury when it meets in February, the sheriff said, possibly next week.

The body was transferred to Junction for last rites.

J. F. Johnson On Probation

John Forrest Johnson, 17, 1018 S. Nolan St., pleaded guilty in 118th District Court this morning to burglary of the home of Mrs. Tom Slaughter.

He was given six years of probation to serve for the July 27, 1974, offense.

PAID MEN TO CUT OFF FINGER OF EX-LOVER

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — "Don't bite the hand that feeds you," Beverly Hills millionaire Reese L. Milner once wrote to his girlfriend.

Now Milner is standing trial on charges that he paid two men to cut off her finger. He claims she bit off part of his finger.

A grand jury transcript unsealed Wednesday disclosed testimony from two ex-convicts who said Miller paid them $10,000 to cut off one of Maggie Hicks' fingers.

Mrs. Hicks, 52, is an actress and one-time girlfriend of Milner, 58, who owns an oil company.

Milner has pleaded no contest to charges of mayhem and solicitation to commit robbery and assault. He was scheduled to begin a 90-day psychiatric study today at the state prison at Chino.

Itemizing? Remember All Legal Deductions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Tax." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1974 tax returns.

By EDMOND Le BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Should you itemize your income tax deductions or simply take the standard deduction allowed you by law?

Using the standard deduction saves work and avoids an area of possible dispute if the Internal Revenue Service should question some of your deductions.

But you may save money by itemizing. Almost certainly you will if you are making mortgage payments and paying local taxes on a home.

The only way to be absolutely sure is to work out your return both ways, in rough, and compare. IRS offers some guidelines to help you, based on the fact that the standard deduction is 15 per cent of adjusted gross income, with a deduction ceiling of $2,000.

If your adjusted gross income — the figure you come up with on line 12 of the 1040A short form or line 15 of the 1040 regular form — is less than $8,667 and the itemized deductions total more than $1,300, you should save by itemizing.

If adjusted gross income is between $8,667 and $13,333 and itemized deductions are more than 15 per cent of that figure, itemize.

If adjusted gross income is more than $13,333 and itemized deductions are more than $2,000, itemize.

If you do itemize, be honest, of course, but don't gyp yourself.

May taxpayers overlook perfectly legal deductions available to them. Some of these:

In addition to the cash you lay out for charitable donations or medical expenses, you may charge off the cost of transportation to get to the doctor's office or hospital, or in connection with charitable work. This may be actual out of pocket expense or, if you use your car, mileage, at 7 cents a mile, plus parking fees and tolls. You may also deduct the fair value of non-cash charitable gifts, such as clothing, food or items to be sold at a church bazaar.

The total medical deduction is subject to a reduction by 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, without regard to this you may deduct half of your premiums for health insurance, up to $150.

State and local gasoline and general sales taxes are deductible. The return provides tables of acceptable estimates of these, based on your income, driving mileage and the tax rates prevailing in your area. If you are one of those rare people who keep all receipts and can show that you actually paid more in taxes than the tables indicate, you may claim the full amount. IRS will accept, in addition to the amounts shown in the tables, deduction of taxes resulting from some extraordinary expenditures such as purchase of an automobile or house trailer.

The sales tax tables were not adjusted to reflect the double-digit inflation that prevailed through 1974. Some taxpayers have been tempted to make the adjustment themselves. The word from IRS is: Don't.

A number of expenditures in connection with employment are deductible. Among these are dues to labor unions or professional organizations, the cost of special clothing or safety equipment, such as policemen's or nurses' uniforms, hard hats, steel-toed shoes — but not clothing usable for daily wear.

You may also deduct the cost of books, professional magazines and special courses designed to keep up your skills in your present occupation. You may not deduct the cost of education or materials to prepare you for another job.

If you actually use a portion of your home as an office or workshop in an income-producing occupation, you may deduct a portion of your rent, or depreciation if you own the home, utilities and maintenance costs, and you may take depreciation on equipment. The deduction is based on the proportion of the home so used. The conditions and extent of this deduction are a gray area, which IRS has been trying to narrow. But recent court decisions, some still on appeal, have generally favored taxpayers. It would be well to get advice if you use this deduction. IRS is a starting point.

Expenses in connection with investment income also are deductible. These include fees to investment counselors, specialized publications and rental of bank boxes to store securities and similar materials. Bank boxes used only to hold non-income-producing property, such as jewelry, do not qualify.

Finally, if you do employ someone to prepare your tax return last year, his fee is deductible.

Houston Officer Killed

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston policeman was shot to death Thursday while trying to chase down a gunman seen fleeing from a convenience store robbery, police said.

Officers identified the dead policeman as J. T. Bamsch, 27, a Marine Corps veteran who had been with the department less than two years.

Officers said Bamsch and his partner, J. D. Ellis, saw a man run from the store while two other men fled in a car. Bamsch leaped from his patrol car and chased the man on foot but Bamsch was shot once in the shoulder.

Ellis said he found his dying partner lying in a ditch. Another man, identified by police as Richard D. Kyles, 18, was shot several times by Ellis.

Seal Coating Pact Awarded

Approximately half of the seal coating contract awarded for area highways is in Howard and adjacent counties.

The contract for 106.7 miles of road improvement was let to J. H. Strain & Sons, Inc. of Tye on a low bid of $618,315. The project will require an estimated 75 working days and will be under the supervision of Joe H. Smoot, Big Spring, highway engineer, according to District Engineer Roger G. Welsch, Abilene.

Included are:
BORDEN — FM 1785, from FN 669 to 4.9 miles east.
HOWARD — U.S. 87 from Glasscock County line to FM 700 in Big Spring, 11.459 miles; also SH 350 from south of Wild Horse Creek to Mitchell County line, distance 13.099.

New Organs Are Installed

First Baptist Sets 'Alleluia'

The choir of the First Baptist Church, backed by a new organ and piano, will present the Bill Gaither praise gathering, "Alleluia," 7 p.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary.

Also featured in the musical program will be an ensemble of high school band students. Joe Whitten, minister of music, will be conducting.

At the console of the new Allen computer organ, given by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dorland and which will be formally dedicated in early March, will be Jerry Whitten, Pampa, while Mrs. Wm. T. McRee will be at the new Steinway grand, the gift of Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone.

Winston Wrinkle will be narrator, and there will be many solo passages by choir members.

Whitten described "Alleluia" as a musical praise service; more than just lyrics and music, but rather an attitude and spirit involved in praise and worship. He invited all people to attend Sunday evening.

St. Mary's Sets Lenten Service

St. Mary's Episcopal Church used their new pipe organ for the first time last Sunday and will hold the dedicatory recital sometime during the Lenten Season as a special service, according to the Rev. Harlan Birdwell.

Mrs. Linda Lassiter, Midland, is church organist and played on the Cassovant organ for the first time Sunday morning.

The organ was made in Quebec and has slightly under 900 pipes. It is basically a North German semi-Baroque instrument.

Money for the organ was raised by memorial gifts which began several years ago with a bequest and has been augmented by funds from Bargain Box and other projects.

"Black Gold" Missionary Film Available Locally

Organizations interested in having members shown the missionary film, "Black Gold," should contact Sig Rogers.

He will screen the feature-length, color film with sound free of charge.

Filmed entirely in Nigeria, West Africa, "Black Gold" is unique in that no scenes were staged and no actors used. Events were captured exactly as they took place. The film has a realism which alters nearly every concept of this neglected land.

Africa, often referred to as "the dark continent," is a strange mixture of organized

Moslem cities with their towering mosques, and poverty-stricken villages dominated by witchcraft. BLACK GOLD visits these towns and villages, observes a pagan fetish market, and captures the hideous, unalterable tribal markings.

Missionary-Evangelist T. L. Osborn, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, director of the film, has conducted mass evangelistic campaigns in over 50 countries, drawing unprecedented crowds. The effects of his campaign are clearly evidenced in this dramatic film.

Old Fashioned Revival Slated

An old fashioned salvation healing deliverance revival begins February 2 at the College Park Church of God. Evangelist Jerry Morris of Weatherford will be ministering nightly.

The Rev. is a former marine, having served in the far east as well as in the states. Upon completion of military service, Rev. Morris began a law enforcement career as a police officer in Big Spring. Rev. Morris left the Big Spring police department to serve as chief of detectives on the Snyder police department. He has over five hundred hours of Law Enforcement Technology and is a graduate of Southwestern Law Academy.

Upon leaving a law enforcement career, Rev. Morris entered the ministry. He has served as an evangelist in Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma and is currently a full time evangelist for the Church of God in Texas.

Rev. Morris is married to the former Linda Rodgers of Big Spring and they have one daughter, Michelle. This revival is described as a salvation healing deliverance revival for all people regardless of race, creed or church affiliation. The sick, needy and unsaved as well as the Christian are invited to attend this revival as God will be meeting and supply all needs," according to church officials.

The revival is scheduled to start February 2 and continue through February 9. Services begin nightly at 7:30 p.m. according to the pastor, Rev. O. D. Robertson. There will also be special singing nightly. The church is located at 603 Tulane Big Spring.

College Baptist Engages In Study

College Baptist Church will be engaged in concentrated Bible study beginning Sunday evening, February 2, through Wednesday, February 5. The Bible study will be centered in the New Testament book of Acts. Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of Vine Avenue Baptist Church, Odessa, will be the Bible study leader.

The Rev. Phillips, a native of the Big Spring area, will

Regional Clinic Set

A Regional adult directors clinic will be at College Baptist Church tonight, January 31, at 7 p.m. in the activities building. This statewide clinic, held in various churches in the state, will feature adult Sunday School work.

Clinic leaders will be Frank Fouch, minister of education at Plymouth Park Baptist Church in Irving; and Mrs. Neal Bryant, adult division director at First Baptist Church, Big Spring. Area Southern Baptist Churches are urged to have their adult department directors and adult division directors present. The emphasis will be vital to all churches, whether large or small.

Chairmen of the local host committee are: Don Adams, room and equipment; Mrs. Don Brodie, refreshments; Mrs. Charles Mangum, registration and get acquainted; David Norvelle, on-the-map activities; and Don Brodie, greeters-ushers.

Ministers Week Features Trio

The minister of Fort Worth's Broadway Baptist Church, the director of California's Transactional Analysis Institute and the president of the St. Louis-based Christian Board of Publication will present endowed sermons and lectures during Texas Christian University's Ministers Week. The four-day annual series, planned in cooperation with University Christian Church, begins Feb. 3.

Featured speakers for the 1975 program will be Dr.

John R. Claypool, minister in Louisville, Ky., 11 years before coming to Fort Worth in 1971; Dr. Muriel James, transactional analysis pioneer and ordained United Church of Christ minister who is the first woman to be invited to lecture in the series that dates back to 1888; and Dr. W. A. Welsh, TCU alumnus and former faculty member who was president of Lexington Theological Seminary in 1965-74. The Texas Lectureship (Ministers Week) was founded in 1888.

BETTIE AND ED SPRINGER

Sunday Specials Continue Here

The Sunday night specials continue at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at First United Methodist Church with an informal supper followed by the study groups at 6:30 p.m.

Contemporary Books in Christian Perspective this week will feature Mrs. Annie Matt Angel, reviewing "I Heard the Owl Call My Name."

Sister Emilie Wolf, a member of the Missionary Sisters of the Immaculate Conception, will again be teaching "Comparative Religions."

"Prayer and You" will be taught by Dr. Bert Affleck, who is minister to McMurry College.

For the course, "How to Be a Christian Without Being Religious," the teachers are Bettye and Ed Springer. Bettye is youth coordinator at the church and Ed is sales manager at Berkeley Homes.

Dr. Bob Monk, who will be teaching "Evangelism in the Wesleyan Spirit" is an Associate Professor of religion at McMurry.

time out for GOD

BAROMETER OF LIFE

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual readiness which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

Hydrocarbons To Be Studied

The golden anniversary session of the international school of hydrocarbon measurement will be conducted at the University of Oklahoma campus April 15-17.

The 1975 school will present some 130 papers and will have exhibits by approximately 50 manufacturers. These classes will pertain to measurement and regulations of all types of hydrocarbons including natural gas, LNG, LPG, gasolines, natural gas liquids and crude oils as encountered in production, processing, transmission and marketing operations. The technical papers presented at each school are pre-published as a set of proceedings and a copy is distributed to each attendee at the time of registration.
