Report of Shrimp Landings For August, September Given

Domestic shrimp landings for August amounted to 6.2 million pounds valued at $12.8 million. This was 28 percent below the volume, but 32 percent above the landings in August, 1974. The following figures represent landings of headless shrimp for specified periods: Aransas Pass-Fulton Area - August 1975, 1,785,700 pounds; January-August 1974, 7,151,400 pounds; January-August 1975, 6,566,700 pounds. Total landings for the state - August 1975, 6,200,000 pounds; January-August 1974, 30,055,800 pounds; January-August 1975, 25,875,400 pounds.

Vessels working brown shrimp made poor catches of medium to large shrimp in all areas adjacent to the Texas and western Louisiana coasts. Trip catches of about 350 pounds per night were reported from all major ports. Shrimp were scattered over the entire area, from 17-47 fathoms, but not concentrated in any. The only element that sustained large vessels was the good price received for shrimp. In August, 1975, the average box grade price received by vessels was $2.14 per pound, compared with $1.12 in August, 1974. This increase in value does offset in part some of reduced catch adversities.

The white shrimp season in the northern and western Gulf bays is the poorest in the history of fishery. The catch of white shrimp in Texas in August was down 47 percent from August, 1974, a fair to poor catch. Louisiana was even harder hit with decreased catch. Texas bays look fair to good for a late crop of small whites in mid-to late October. Reports from prime nursery areas indicate one or more waves of juvenile white shrimp. At the close of August the catch from most bays was 20-55 percent small brown, which is both irregular and somewhat encouraging. These small browns will move to the offshore grounds and sustain the offshore fishery to a 200-300 pound per night level until late winter.

Blue crab landings totaled 656 thousand pounds in August. This was only a few thousand pounds below the volume in August, 1974. Fishermen received from 15-17 cents per pound for live crabs during the current month.

Sports fishermen made spotted catches of flounders, redfish, and trout throughout August. Water temperatures high at 85 degrees F. in bay systems. The entire Texas coast

Boy Scout #49 Reactivated

Norvell F. Jackson, institutional representative for Boy Scout Troop #49 sponsored by First Presbyterian Church and which has a record of about 40 years service to the boys of this community, states that this Troop has been reactivated after a short lapse due to lack of leadership.

The first meeting under the leadership of Paul C. Hamerschmidt, Scoutmaster, was held Nov. 11 at the Boy Scout Hut with 17 boys present.

John Leslie, acting as chairman of the troop committee, states that Bobby Jackson, David Tiner, David Roaten, and several others were present to help in the reactivating of this troop.

A color movie entitled "Go Scouting" plus two filmstrips on the "Out in Scouting" and "The Patrol Method" were enjoyed by all of those present.

Any boy 11 years of age and over who would like to become a member of this troop -- a troop with a history and one that promises lots of activity and fun -- is invited to the next regular meeting. Some 17 boys were present at the last meeting.

In the Education Building adjacent to the Parish Hall there will be a fine selection of used clothing and household items. Things remaining in this department on Saturday will be sold at 1/2 price from 9 a.m. until noon.

56 Whoopers Arrive Early

Fifty-six whooping cranes have successfully completed an annual 2,500-mile migratory flight from Canada to their wintering grounds at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge about two weeks ahead of schedule.

The new arrivals include all eight young birds hatched last summer at Wood Buffalo National Park in Alberta, Canada. Frequently, some of the young birds die along the way, but this year all survived the perilous journey.

The crane census is up by seven over last year's population at the refuge. Lee Marlatt, assistant refuge manager, said it is not very probable that more cranes are en route to Texas.

Plants Stolen At Ski Basin

The Rockport Home & Garden Club is dismayed over the theft of a newly planted sago palm from the ski basin.

The club members have worked hard for three years to raise the money to buy and maintain the plants and trees and flower boxes at the Ski Basin. This is a free improvement for the city supported solely by the garden club.

The club asks all citizens to help protect this beautification project that is there for all to enjoy. If anyone is seen around the flower boxes taking out plants, please notify the police.

LOCAL MEN ARE SEAFOOD DIRECTORS

The Seafood Producers Association at its last general meeting elected as President, Clifford Hebert; Vice-president, Dewey Updegrave; and Sec./Treas. Carol Hebert. Directors from Aransas Pass - Henry Burleigh and Jack Yardly; representing Rockport - James Appel, Ike Von Heuvel and alternate Danny Adams; from Portland - J.P. Patton, Paul James and alternate David Sawberger; Port Aransas - James Mayfield and Nettie Mayfield; Corpus Christi - Eddie Lee Frost, Bill Evans and Kenny Patton, alternate; Flour Bluff - Fred Vannoy and from Riviera - Carroll West and Warren Nevilles.

Seafood Producers Association is made up of people who make their living either wholly or partly by the means of fishing, shrimping, crabbing or oystering. We in this area are very lucky to have readily available to us year round fresh seafood and compared to other parts of the country, at reasonable prices; all this due to our local area commercial fishermen. Most live and dead bait used by sport fishermen are supplied by commercial fishermen.

Seafood Producers Association was formed a few years ago when a crisis arose concerning the livelihood of commercial fishermen. At one time the organization numbered 1800 members. In recent years it has declined somewhat and a new membership drive has begun.

Plans are under way to secure leadership for the Lions Club cub pack to continue its operation for the boys 8, 9 and 10 years of age. Dr. Martin Shaw and John L. Leslie are working on securing a new leader for this pack.

Freshmen Win 26-18

Rockport-Fulton's fine freshmen team gained their eighth victory in ten outings, leaving them 8-2 and an 8-1 district, as they won over West Oso last week to close out the season.

The Pirates' Algie Simmons went over 1,000 yards for the season as he picked up 186 yards and scored three times on runs of 44 yards, 10 yards, and 12 yards. Simmons also added a two point conversion.

The other Pirates' score came on a two-yard dive by quarterback Lawrence Miculka.

West Oso jumped out to a 6-0 lead as the Pirate passer was blasted and the ball went straight into the arms of a West Oso player and he ran it in for a score.

The Pirates tied up the game in the second period on Simmons' first TD.

The Bears took a 12-6 lead on a long pass and the score read 12-6 at halftime.

West Oso fumbled the ball on the first play of the second half and Jimmy Crusier pounced on the ball at the West Oso 29-yard line. Three plays later Simmons had scored to tie it up.

Lightning struck again on the following kickoff as the Bear runner fumbled the ball and Charles McLead recovered the loose ball on West Oso's 26-yard line. It took the Pirates seven plays to punch the ball in for the six points on Miculka's run. The Pirates had the lead 18-12.

The Pirates moved the football down close to the Bears' goal early in the fourth period but an interception stopped that drive.

The Pirate defense held the Bears deep in their own end of the field and forced a punt. The Pirates took over on West Oso's 44-yard line. From there Simmons needed one play to put it in the endzone. Simmons added the two points and the Pirates had a 26-18 lead which held up for the final score.

On occasions the Pirates' defense looked great. West Oso did manage to get 7 completions out of 14 passing tries. Joe Brooks and Steve Naylor led the Pirate defense, each with better than 15 tackles. Raymond Bauer, McLead, Rudy Samora, Kenny Matlock, Crusier, Gilbert Flores and Dwayne also had fine games in the tackle area.

Bicentennial Display Set

A Bicentennial display, "Religious Freedom in America," will be on exhibit at First United Methodist Church all day Sunday, November 23, in the Fellowship Hall.

The display will also be open Monday morning, November 24, Tuesday morning, November 25 and Tuesday evening following the Thanksgiving service at Sacred Heart Church.

There are 18 panels in all covering the contributions of religious and other American freedoms to the shaping of our society. One panel for example, contains material on American architects of religious freedom such as William Penn, Thomas Jefferson and Emma Lazarus.

The display was prepared by Francis Stewart Harmon, a Protestant churchman, who donated the first 500 sets of the exhibit which is distributed by the Inter Center of which he is vice-president.

Bond Sales Reach $50,350

In releasing Treasury figures, County Bond Chairman Fred A. Bracht, Sr., announced today that sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Aransas County during September totaled $9,443.00. Sales for the nine-month period were $50,350.00 for 84% of the yearly sales goal of $60,000.00.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $19,479,856 -- while the year-to-date sales totaled $181,535,171 with 77% of the $234.3 million sales goal achieved.

BRING IN TOYS FOR CHRISTMAS

Sheriff Bob Hewes has announced that his department is again conducting the annual toy drive for needy children in the Aransas County area.

More toys are needed, Hewes said. "We have about one-fourth of a cell full of toys now and need more toys, clothing and monetary donations so that we can make this program a success. Only through the good cooperation like the last few years can we here at the Sheriff's office make this program go over," Hewes stated.

VERMILLION BUYS CLEARING MACHINE

Chuck Vermillion of Vermillion Construction Company reports the purchase of a giant 10-ton land clearing machine that will greatly facilitate some types of work in which his firm specializes.

Known as the Hydro-Ax, the machine chews up everything in its eight-foot path, leaving only sawdust and chips that return to the soil. Eight-inch diameter trees are no match for its hydraulically driven blades which cut trees flush with the ground, shattering the root system.

This machine, operated by one man, can clear land without ruining the top soil and without burning or hauling away waste.

Vermillion is using the machine now for clearing sites for laying pipe, road building and in preparation for erection of commercial buildings and other types of structures.

United Fund Campaign Collection Now $9,000

As Aransas County's 1975-76 United Fund campaign begins its eighth week a total of approximately $9,000 has been received or pledged, according to Rev. Tom McClung, campaign chairman. This compares with a little less than $7,000 recorded last year at the same time. This year's goal is $12,595 which will be shared with 12 participating charitable, welfare and character-building agencies.

Rev. McClung reported three local organizations have achieved 100 per cent participation by employees, including employees of the school cafeteria, Live Oak State Bank and Aransas Natural Gas Co.

Some consideration is being given to the possibility of a house-to-house solicitation to supplement United Fund's usual practice of mailing pledge cards to prospective contributors, according to Rev. McClung, who added that calls on individuals usually can be counted on for a better response, but this method requires a great deal of time on the part of volunteers.

A representative of Texas United Community Services who called at local campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office last week reported Rockport's campaign was lagging behind similar campaigns in most cities of Rockport's size. He added that 30 out of some 200 Texas fund campaigns already have gone over the top.

Veterans Day Is Observed

The war dead were honored Nov. 11 in an Armistice Day program at Rockport Cemetery conducted by Stewart-Wendell Post No. 3904, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the V.F.W. Auxiliary.

The principal address was given by Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., and the prayer was given by members of the Auxiliary. Jimmy Hunt and Jim Cowan were in charge of raising and lowering the flag. Buglers were Dolph Hiller, Charlie Edler and Renee Cosby.

THANKSGIVING CLOSINGS

In observance of Thanksgiving Day, most local business establishments, both banks and other financial institutions, and governmental buildings will be closed Thursday, Nov. 27.

Aransas County Courthouse and City Hall will be closed and the Post Offices at Rockport and Fulton also will be closed on Thursday.

The Rockport Pilot, which also will be closed, wishes everyone a joyous Thanksgiving.

DEFENSIVE DRIVING COURSE NOV. 19 & 20

A defensive driving course for senior citizens will be sponsored by A.A.R.P. on Wednesday and Thursday, November 19 and 20 - an 8-hour course -- at the Recreation Building at the Airport, stated Zollie Glass, president.

This is limited to 30 people and there are still a few vacancies. Call the Concern Center, 729-7722, if you desire to attend. It will be conducted by an authorized member of the regional committee and those completing and passing the course will be entitled to a 10% discount on portions of their car insurance.

Speaker Tells of Help Provided for the Elderly

A summary of activities of Aransas County Council on Aging was given by Neal Gage, director, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Nov. 12 at Sandollar Restaurant.

The council, whose headquarters are at Concern Center, 206 N. Magnolia, supplies support services for elderly residents of the county, including counseling, transportation to doctors and dentists, help with personal problems such as food stamps, Social Security, insurance claims and referral to various public agencies from which service may be obtained, according to Gage. He added that one of the most important aspects of council service is to let the elderly know help is available and that someone cares about them.

Most of the financial support for the program comes from federal funds. A little less than a third of its funds comes from the Rockport area, including gifts from churches, lodges, clubs and individuals. This year for the first time $800 for the council has been included in the Aransas County United Fund budget. Gage is the only paid employee of the council.

During the first year of its operation, the council received a total of 1,786 phone calls for help or advice involving almost 500 individuals, according to Gage. Of the phone calls, 328 were requests for transportation, mostly to Corpus Christi.

Gage said one of the most urgent needs of the council was for volunteers to provide transportation for senior citizens, adding that it hopes to supply transportation to food stores as soon as more volunteers are added to the list of 20 now available.

John Leslie, recently elected president of American Association of Retired Persons, introduced Gage and told of AARP's cooperation with the Council on Aging.

C of C Ladies Xmas Bazaar

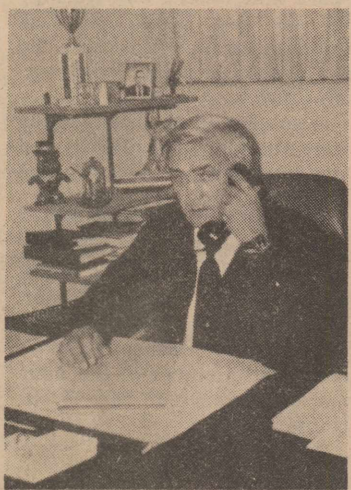

Plans are being finalized for the first Christmas bazaar to be held by the Women's Committee of the Chamber of Commerce - Hospital Foundation, Mrs. Bertie Cone, chairman announced this week.

Mrs. Cone has said that anyone wishing to donate to the White Elephant Booth bring the merchandise to the group's workshop at the former location of the Circle Fence Co. on Highway 35 or call the Chamber of Commerce at 729-6445 and someone will pick up the articles.

Also needed are donations of homemade breads, pies, cakes, cookies, candy, and jellies for the Kitchen Corner.

Work is continuing Monday through Friday in preparedness for the bazaar and volunteers are still needed in all areas of work in the arts and craft, sewing, needlework, and related fields.

The bazaar opens at 9:00 a.m. November 29 and continues through Nov. 30 at the Paws and Taws Building, Fulton.

of Aransas County in the 1976 Democratic primary. He is the first announced Aransas County official for a re-election bid.

Hewes has 28 years of law enforcement experience, is now serving his second four-year term as sheriff of Aransas County.

Other experience includes five years as Chief of Police of Rockport, two years as deputy sheriff, San Patricio County, one year as patrolman of the Aransas Police Department and twelve years as a military policeman in the United States Navy and U.S. Air Force.

had high tides throughout the month and fish were scattered in shallow bay areas. Live bait was available most of this month, with some shortages reported during heavy weekend activity by sportsmen.

Fuel supplies were adequate at 29-36 cents per gallon for diesel and 47-52 cents per gallon for gasoline.

Shrimp landings in Texas totaled 4.6 million pounds valued at $11.1 million. This was the lowest September landings since 1961. Current landings brought the nine months 1975 total volume to 30.5 million pounds - a drop of 16 percent compared with the corresponding 1974 period. The following figures represent landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods: Aransas Pass-Fulton Area, September 1975, 1,212,500 pounds; January-September 1975, 7,779,200 pounds. Total for state, September 1975, 4,628,900 pounds; January-September 1975, 30,504,300 pounds.

Trawl vessels working brown shrimp made fair to poor catches along the entire Texas coast with large vessels averaging about 2,300 pounds per trip. Long range units working off Louisiana and Mexico made comparable poor catches. Vessels working white shrimp made only spotted catches around major passes. The white shrimp season in major bays is likewise fair to poor with a sizeable population of juvenile brown shrimp mixed in the catch from all systems.

Save Campbell Soup Labels

The Fulton Lions Club is collecting labels from Campbell soup products. If you have any Campbell soup labels please turn them in to Concho Liquor Store, Fulton Washateria or Dingenary Real Estate.

Blue crab landings amounted to 506 thousand pounds in September. This was eight percent above landings in September, 1974. The slight increase was due largely to good weather conditions and consistent high tides. Fishermen received from 14-17 cents per pound for live crabs.

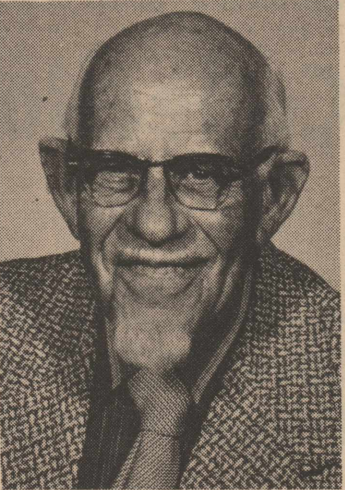

Fuel supplies were adequate in all ports at 30-36 cents per gallon. Gasoline supplies were adequate at 53-58 cents per gallon.

One new vessel was launched during the month, two were lost at sea.

Sport fishing activity was heavy during the month with spotted good catches of trout, redfish and flounders. Offshore party boat catches were fair to good along the central and upper Texas coast.

A.A.R.P. News

John L. Leslie was elected president of Rockport Chapter #1536, American Association of Retired Persons (A.A.R.P.) at its bi-monthly meeting on November 12 at the Airport Recreational Building. Leslie was one of the original charter members of this organization when it was first promoted by Zolli Glass, retiring president. This organization has grown to approximately 400 members.

Leslie has been the legislative chairman for two years, and he and his wife Dorothy have handled the publicity for the organization for the past year. He is also a member of the executive board of the Council on Aging. When not working on the organizations for senior citizens he spends his spare time fishing and working for the Boy Scout and Cub Scout program in Rockport and is a deacon in First Presbyterian Church.

Also elected at this meeting were the following officers: 1st vice-president - Dr. Joseph Benjamin; 2nd vice-president - John Gore; 3rd vice-president - Mrs. Evelyn Horton; secretary - Mrs. Gladys Thomson; treasurer - Mrs. Agnes Reasor; member of the executive board - Mrs. Neva Sorenson; and an additional member of the nomination committee - Mrs. Irene Hopper.

Leroy Wieting, state representative, addressed the 91 members and 12 guests who were present on the workings of the state legislature. Zolli Glass, president, presided at the meeting. Neal Gage led in the singing. Chairmen of the various committees working on the Country Fair set for December 3 at the V.F.W. Hall made reports and requested additional help for their various activities. This has been named a Bicentennial project. Besides handicraft, flowers, home-baked cakes, pies, cookies and jellies, chili tamales, stew and sandwiches will be served. The Bicentennial queen-size quilt that was quilted by Mrs. Della Scott will be raffled off at this time. Plans are well under way to make this a very successful event.

A free will offering for the United Fund from the members present plus $25 that was voted from the organization treasury yielded approximately ninety dollars which Glass delivered to the office of the United Fund.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME...

The Majority of People Need Not Fear Cholesterol

In recent years everyone has been advised to limit consumption of eggs, dairy products and meat, and to increase consumption of substitutes or products modified to contain less saturated fat or cholesterol. This advice was based on the theory that the natural products increase risk of coronary heart disease, which is a gross distortion of facts. This makes no more sense than putting everyone on a diabetic's diet.

That's the contention of Dr. Raymond Reiser, Distinguished Professor, Dept. of Biochemistry and Biophysics at Texas A&M University. And Reiser's conclusions are based on years of research in this field.

"Under certain conditions," Reiser says, "a limited number of people might reduce their chances (statistically but not individually) of a heart attack by reducing the amount of cholesterol they consume. But no normal person will increase his blood cholesterol to pathological levels by eating so-called saturated fat."

What are these "normal" and "pathological" levels of blood cholesterol? Reiser says that dependable studies have been made relating the number of milligrams of cholesterol per milliliter (mg./ml.) of blood serum (whole blood without the cells) to the number of cases of heart attacks. These studies show that there are no more cases among persons with levels of 250mg./100ml. than those with lower levels. The incidence of these people is about 5 to 7 persons per thousand in one year.

However, there are increasingly more heart attacks among persons whose levels are above 250mg./100ml. The higher the level in any group, the greater the incidence in that group. The incidence in the group with serum cholesterol between 250 to 275 is about 11 persons per thousand in one year. And at 300 and above, the number goes to 16.

How many people have serum cholesterol levels in the higher risk (pathological) or lower risk (normal or non-pathological) levels?

"This varies with age and sex," Reiser says. "Between age 25 and 29 about 95 percent of both sexes are in the low risk group. In males between 50 and 70 years of age, 70 to 80 percent still stay in the low risk group, and in females this number is 64 percent after age 50.

"Women have higher serum cholesterol than men at all adult ages but suffer fewer heart attacks until after menopause.

"We can see from this that even if diet changes can lower serum cholesterol, no benefit is gained by 70 to 95 percent of the population from doing so. Of the other 5 to 30 percent, some may benefit a little but most require drugs to reduce their serum cholesterol from pathological to normal levels.

"These people with serum cholesterol in levels above 275mg./100ml. have a genetic disease and should be under medical care.

"The rest of the population, 70 to 95 percent, can eat all the eggs, butter, cheese, ice cream and marbled beef they wish without fear of increasing their risk of coronary heart attacks.

"It has been found that even babies have fatty streaks in their arteries, a condition thought to be an early stage of atherosclerosis. (Atherosclerosis is the condition in which blood fat, which includes cholesterol, is deposited under the lining of arteries.)

"Some pediatricians, therefore, fear that the babies' fatty streaks will also develop into atherosclerosis and recommend that babies be denied normal milk and be given low-fat milk.

"However, the American Academy of Pediatrics, alarmed at the potential dangers of artificial manipulation of the natural food for babies (human milk contains even twice as much cholesterol as cows' milk), issued this statement in 1974: 'There is no scientific evidence that the incidence of atherosclerosis can be reduced by limiting cholesterol intake early in life. The Committee recommends against a radical reduction of saturated fats in the diets of all children until more is known about the benefits versus possible adverse effects. Dietary restrictions of saturated fats is indicated at present only for children with hereditary hypercholesterolemia... the indiscriminate consumption of low-fat milk by the general population might well deprive some children of needed calories.'"

Similar statements have been made, Reiser says, by a number of prestigious organizations which have made a thorough examination of all available data. Some of these are: American Medical Association Council on Foods and Nutrition; The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council; American Heart Association Subcommittee on Atherosclerosis, Council of Rheumatic Fever and Congenital Heart Disease; The British Advisory Panel of the Committee on Medical Aspects of Food Policy (Nutrition) on Diet in Relation to Cardiovascular and Cerebrovascular Disease; The National Heart and Lung Institute Task Force on Atherosclerosis.

"It is very unlikely that the fatty streaks found in the arteries of sucklings is any danger to the child," Reiser says. "It is contrary to all we know about nature, animal development, or evolution that nature should build into the natural milk of any mammal the seeds of its destruction.

"There is one exception. In about two of each hundred births, the child has a genetic disease that causes excess cholesterol in the blood. Such children have very high serum cholesterol at birth and require very special diet and medical treatment. This exception is noted in the statement of the American Academy of Pediatrics quoted earlier."

Research for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station done in Reiser's laboratory with swine and rats has tested the theory that cholesterol in milk is beneficial to the newborn.

It was found that animals given formulas without cholesterol during the suckling period, and low-cholesterol diets afterward, were not able to control their blood cholesterol within normal limits when given cholesterol to eat as adults.

"But animals raised on normal milk or formulas containing saturated fat and cholesterol do have normal blood cholesterol while eating cholesterol containing food.

Reiser also found that although cholesterol in the diet will result in higher blood-serum cholesterol, it still does not cause abnormal levels in normal animals. That is, blood serum cholesterol does fluctuate within normal non-risk levels with diet but only in the unusual animal does this increase to pathological or risk levels.

He has also found that saturated fat, in the absence of cholesterol, has no effect on blood-serum cholesterol.

"Polyunsaturated vegetable oils are also healthful foods but have no special medicinal value in lowering pathological levels of blood cholesterol," Reiser says.

"They are of value to the 5 to 30 percent of the population mentioned early in this article, who, because of their inability to control diet cholesterol, should not eat high cholesterol-containing foods.

"There is a group of substances in vegetable oils called phyosterols (plant sterols). These are chemically related to cholesterol but prevent the absorption of cholesterol. Much of the credit for the apparent lowering of serum cholesterol by polyunsaturated vegetable oils belongs to these sterols instead.

"So, the main point I'm making is that except for a very few of us, all of our customary foods from babies' milk to eggs and bacon, or even margarine, are healthful and of no danger to us. Those people who are abnormal should find out and allow themselves to be advised on precautions," Reiser concluded.

Last week at Aransas Pass Convalescent & Nursing Center was once again something to really talk about and remember.

Monday morning after exercises and after getting my news article written and down to our paper which so graciously prints it each week for us, I went to my Coastal Bend Activities Directors Association meeting. There were fifteen nursing centers represented and plans were formulated to take our residents on a "Christmas at the Mall Shopping Trip." You will be hearing more on this later.

Monday afternoon Birdeanna Bell was again on hand to play the piano for our sing along. I go back from my meeting just in time to assist Pat Baker, one of our own people, and Mrs. Avis Howery in leading the singing.

Tuesday afternoon my group of ladies that I call "The Do Gooders" were out for their game day.

Wednesday morning Bonnie Fletcher came out to help our residents in their paint class.

Wednesday evening the First Baptist Church of Ingleside Acteens were over to present their monthly program and served refreshments to all in attendance. These young girls are very much loved by our residents.

Thursday morning the Pentecostal Church of Aransas Pass were here for their weekly program.

Thursday afternoon the Aransas Pass Rebekahs were here for their game day which was enjoyed by all.

Friday evening the Aransas Pass Church of Christ minister came out to show "The Bible on Film."

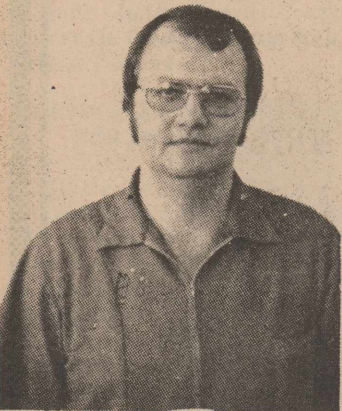

Saturday morning was Holy Communion for our Catholic residents which was administered by Father James Hamilton.

Saturday evening we had a very nice program. Mr. Johnny Townsend and a friend of his came out and entertained our residents with some good old fashioned "Blue Grass" music. This was a big treat for our residents. Thanks, guys!

Sunday morning church services were held with Rev. Al Bankert leading the service. Mrs. Johnnie Dunbar plays the piano for us at this service.

Again, let us thank all of the people in the entire area for the great support that you give to us. You are the icing on the cake for us.

Mrs. J.H. Schleider, chairman, presided over the business session. Service projects were discussed and announcements made of forth coming events.

Mrs. Harry Mills read prayer by Coretta Scott King of U.S.A. as least coin offering was received.

Mrs. J.H. Schleider lead the women in the Bible lesson from the book of Hosea, with other members participating.

Mrs. Alyn Sheppard will be hostess for Dec. meeting in the Memorial Room at the church. Mrs. Harry Mills will serve as Bible lesson leader.

IT'S A BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell McLendon of Houston are the parents of a son, Bruce Campbell McLendon, who was born November 5. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gordon Davis, Mrs. Arthur Jean McLendon and William Eugene McLendon, all of Houston. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Arthur Lee Davis of Fulton and Mrs. Clyde Clemens Franklin of Liberty, Texas. Bruce Campbell McLendon is the great-grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. S.F. Jackson of Rockport and Arthur Lee Davis of Fulton.

TENNIS LEAGUE PLAY ENDS — A 10-week session of league lessons and play involving six groups has been completed by John Gutzke, teaching professional at Rockport Racquet Club. Fifty-seven players participated.

Homemakers Hold Session

The November meeting of Aransas County Young Homemakers was held Nov. 4.

A program on the art of candle making was presented by Miss Mary Strange and Miss Frances Mutscher, high school homemaking teachers.

Each of the members present donated one of the two candles they made to a community project to help raise funds for an emergency center in Rockport.

The club decided to gather up the makings for a food basket to be given at Thanksgiving this year to a needy family. Those members who have not brought their canned goods, please contact Mrs. Andrew Huffmeyer or Mrs. Leslie Casterline.

SGT. DIONICIO BENAVIDEZ SERVING IN GERMANY

Landstuhl, Germany—Now serving at Ramstein AB, Germany, is Air Force Sergeant Dionicio G. Benavidez, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Benavidez of Rockport, Texas.

Sergeant Benavidez, a heating systems specialist, was previously assigned at Wurtsmith AFB, Mich.

The sergeant is a 1973 graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School.

SIX TENNIS LEAGUES COMPETE

Six tennis leagues involving a total of 57 players - men, women and girls and boys - are completing 10 weeks of lessons and league play at Rockport Racquet Club.

Trophies will be awarded the three best players in each league, according to John Gutzke, teaching professional of the club. They will be awarded on the basis of total number of points made by each player during the course of the training-playing program. All leagues have been meeting twice a week.

Final event of the summer-fall program will be a tournament, mostly doubles matches, including a number of matches in which the best junior players will compete against the best women players.

Playing in the women's beginner group are Muriel Branigan, Iris Jenkins, Judy Meyer, Linda Smith, Sharon Mann, Pansy Martyn, Liz Smith, Mae White and June Hensen.

In the women's experienced players group are Anita Howard, Helen Bradshaw, Jan Crosby, Linda Daly, Eleanor Clement, Phyllis Fair, Sherry Hiller, Jo Janacek, Kathryn Picton, Patti McMillan, Margaret Schultz and Willie Lawley.

In the after school beginners league are Arlene Schults, Denise Jenkins, Hope Browning, Jennifer Janacek, Kay Haley and George Falk. After school beginners league for players under 10 are Dennis Jenkins, Leigh Falk, Philip Schultz, Shane Browning and Zack Shultz.

In the after school experienced players league are Lori Allen, Barbara Allen, Renee Fair, Gay Harper, Holly Garrison, Julie Hiller, Scott Meyer, Andy McMillan, Mary Hazelwood, Stacey Johnson and Shawn Bateman.

The after work mixed league includes Bill Janacek, Delmar Hiller, Everett Lawley, Paul Fair, George Bergman, Jack Henson, Jimmy Little, Phil Meyer, Murray McMillan, Phil Howard, Willie Lawley, David Roaten, Claudia Bateman, John Bradshaw and June Henson.

An interesting aspect of the league program is that 15 families are represented with two to three players each. In some instances they are husband and wife and in others a parent or parents and children.

Usual routine for the leagues has included group instruction limited to four or five students, practice with the ball machine and match play with other members of the league. Gutzke said. Steve Allen, Gutzke's assistant, has helped with the program, especially with the after school groups. Gutzke also continues to give private tennis lessons.

An early spring league program is planned to start in mid-February with emphasis on intermediate and advanced players. However, a beginners league also will be started if enough players are interested, Gutzke said.

Senior Citizen Dance Success

Over a hundred local senior citizens and several from neighboring communities and some winter visitors enjoyed one of the most pleasant evenings and dance at the Airport Recreational Building on November 13.

This dance was sponsored by the recreational committee of A.A.R.P. through its chairman, Mrs. Irene Hopper.

The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. Pat Works. Mrs. Esther Decker and several others assisted as co-hostesses. Gene Rickles and his varied musical recordings kept the entire group on the move from 7 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. The weather cooperated 100%.

The next regular dance will be held on December 11, same place.

Plans are under way for a special dance on November 21 honoring the winter tourists and A.A.R.P. officers -- outgoing and incoming -- as well as all area chapters. Starting time at 7 p.m. Admission by presenting National AARP card.

Also on December 19 a special Christmas dance is planned.

by

Whether it's a little five-horse putter-about or one of those new 200 horsepower speed demons, you've got a tidy investment in that outboard motor. Very few investments, however will give you more enjoyment.

Outboards have come a long way from the first crude, heavy, undependable attempts at portable power for boats and the manufacturers have done everything they could to build a trouble free engine. The outboard will put up with a lot of neglect and still keep going, but if you'll just spend a little time on preventive maintenance you can assure yourself of many hours of trouble-free operation.

Lubrication is the most important one thing you can do in the matter of maintenance. The primary lubricant in any two-cycle engine is the oil added to the gasoline. It not only oils all the moving parts of the power head, but without the proper amount of oil in the fuel the engine will not have proper compression. Too much oil, however, can cause smoky, sluggish operation and soon foul the plugs. Always add exactly the amount recommended for your motor, don't guess - measure it. If you do this there'll never be any question - you'll know you are right.

The second most important lubricant is that in the gear box of the lower unit. These important gears operate at high speed, and, to further complicate things, they operate under water. The condensation and seepage of some water in this gear box is inevitable so the oil must not only fight friction, it must combat moisture - even salt water if the motor is used on the coast.

There are two plugs in this lower unit. The top one is the vent and the bottom is the filler hole. Remove the top plug and if the oil doesn't show you need to add some. Always keep the gear box full. At least a couple times a year you should remove both these plugs and let the gear box drain completely then refill with fresh oil recommended by the manufacturer.

You will find grease fittings at several points. Learn where they are and grease them at regular intervals. With an oil can lubricate all other moving parts. Pay particular attention to cam follower linkage, throttle shaft bearings and bushings, carburetor and magnet linkage and gear shift lever shaft.

Outboards are traditionally hard on spark plugs so you should pay special attention to these. Keep the plugs clean and properly adjusted and always carry a spare set in the boat. The little gasket that the plug seats against is of vital importance. It not only seals the compression, but it also helps control the temperature of the plug.

If you make sure that your fuel is fresh and clean you will have very little trouble with your carburetor. Once the motor is broken in and the carburetor is properly adjusted, leave it alone.

Study your owners manual - take care of your motor as it suggests and you'll get a fair return for all that money you've invested.

CONGRATULATIONS

COUNCIL ON AGING

The executive board of the Aransas County Council on Aging met November 10 at First Presbyterian Church with Zolzie Glass presiding in the absence of William McNickle who is recovering from surgery.

Present were John L. Leslie, Neal Gage, Mrs. Paul Taylor, Neva Sorenson, Gene Garcia, Blas Ramirez, Evelyn Townsend, Rev. Tom McClung and Jim Bibbs.

Mrs. Taylor, representing the Baptist Church, and Gene Garcia, representing the Rockport Lions Club, were welcomed as new members on this board.

A nominating committee was appointed to select trustees and/or board of directors for 1976. It consists of Neva Sorenson, Blas Ramirez and Jim Bibbs. They will report at the December meeting.

Gage reported that during the month of October, 32 clients had been transported by a volunteer staff (now numbering 20 people) to doctors and hospitals in Corpus Christi. As of the date of this meeting 17 had been carried so far during the month of November.

The Dial-A-Care program is growing and the leaders invite any person in Rockport who is living alone and who would like to be contacted daily to let someone know they are O.K., please call Gage, director, at 729-5352.

Rev. Tom McClung, Blas Ramirez and Gage were appointed to set up the goals of this organization for 1976. This organization is working on very limited funds and are exceedingly thankful that the United Fund has seen fit to put them in their budget for this year.

Home & Garden Club Meets

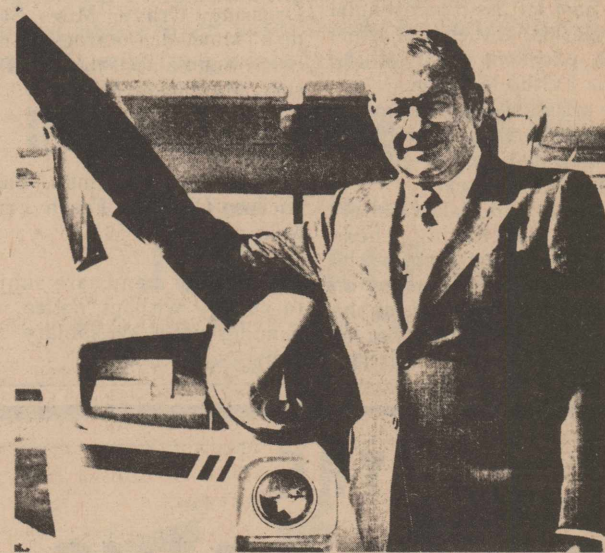

The Rockport Home & Garden Club met on November 13 in the Jack Cowan home. The co-hostesses, Mrs. Lois Cowan and Mrs. Pat Evers, served refreshments before the business meeting. Mrs. Connie Garcia, the president, called the meeting to order. Answering roll call, members gave gardening tips. Mrs. Libby Rossman was introduced as a guest. The secretary, Mrs. Louella Harrell, read the minutes from the last meeting, and the treasurer, Mrs. Charlotte Walston, gave a report.

Mrs. Garcia reported on the SeaFair booth and thanks everyone for making it a success. She was also happy to report that the club would soon have a tax exemption number. Mrs. Vi Street reported on the District 7 convention in Kingsville attended by her and Mrs. Garcia. Texas A&I hosted the group for a tour of the school's horticulture department, green houses and classes. A banquet was held the first evening and a luncheon the following day with a style show featuring the 1800 to 1950 styles. The club voted to pay for Mrs. Garcia's expenses for the convention.

Mrs. Susie McClung has sent in the entries for the Arbor Day Award 1975 and the Yearbook Award. Mrs. Vi Street, Arbor Day chairman, requested money for planting trees. It was decided to purchase four palm trees and place them around the band shell. Some palm trees have been donated to the club, and these may be planted at the same time.

Mrs. Mamie Ruth Caton introduced Mrs. M.C. Baird and Mrs. Ira Phelps. They were asked to give critical analyses of arrangements the members brought to the meeting. Mrs. Baird is a master flower show judge and is a life judge. She is a member of the Corpus Christi judges forum and past president of her garden club in Ft. Worth. She also served as president of the Past President's Garden Club there. Mrs. Phelps is a national flower show judge and is a life judge. She is a grower and a collector of native Mexican Bromeliads and is a student judge of bromeliads. Mrs. Baird and Mrs.

MRS. WISHERT AT TWO MEETINGS

Ana Wishert of Wishert Realtors participated in two professional association meetings of leading American Realtors at one time recently.

"It's the ideal way to keep up on the new, important developments in our dynamic business and to help develop better ways to solve people's real estate relocation needs," she said.

She was in San Francisco for both the annual business and awards meeting of RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service, and the 68th annual convention of the National Association of Realtors.

RELO, founded at the NAR convention 15 years ago, announced a fiscal 1975 sales gain of over 19% above last year's sales - a new all time record. The country's leading not for profit broker owned and directed group specializes in service to transferred corporate executives and other families who relocate their homes and lifestyles between cities, usually for business reasons.

is coming to ROCKPORT”

“EH?”

Beginning November 22, 1975, you will be able to dial all collect, person-to-person, credit card and billed-to-third-number Long Distance calls.

If you enjoy the speed and convenience of One-Plus Dialing for station-to-station calls, you'll certainly welcome the added dimension of Zero-Plus Dialing. Zero-Plus can be used at home or office. Zero-Plus calls, however, cannot be placed from coin telephones. Zero-Plus is fast, easy and convenient.

Zero-Plus Dialing . . . How it works:

Just dial “0” (zero), plus the Area Code if it's different from 512, plus the distant number.

For example, suppose you want to call person-to-person to 621-8997 in St. Louis. You will find St. Louis in the Call-Guide section of your directory with Area Code 314. So when you hear the dial tone, dial:

“0” (zero) + 314 + 621-8997

When the operator asks, “How may I help you?”, explain the type call you've dialed and give the necessary information. (Regular operator-handled rates will apply for all Zero-Plus calls.)

To make a call within the 512 area, just dial “0” (zero) plus the distant number. You don't need to dial the Area Code.

Southwestern Bell

IS COMING!”

For the week of November 13 the queen of the week was Barbara Maley with a 4 lb. loss; runner-up was Violet Craigmile with a 2 3/4 lb. loss. There was no king, no teen queen or princess for this week.

Happy drops were passed out to those who had earned them. These awards are given out at the end of the month to those who weigh less at that time than they did at the beginning of the month.

The winner of the "ha-ha" prize of $1.00 was Violet Craigmile. This award is determined by putting all the members' names in a hat and drawing one. If that person is present and has lost that week, he wins. If not, the award is raised a dollar a week until there is a winner.

The club welcomed as a guest this week Georgia Pena. A new contest was started this week by Beverley Kelley. It is based on a popular game. This is one place where being in a contest you win by losing!

During the months of September and October five members of the club reached their desired weight goals. They were Rita Beaty, Jerry White, Mikki Deason, Shirley Shexneider and Janie Jordan. These people worked long and hard to beat that old villain, "fat," to produce a combined total weight loss of over 150 lbs. If you think you can't lose weight, these people are proof that it can be done!

Please be watching for the TOPS #849 Christmas bazaar and white elephant sale to be held in December. The club members have been working on this for several months and hope you will help make it a big success.

Won't you come and be a part of us? Meetings are held weekly at the Methodist Youth Building, Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. Weigh-in is from 6:30 to 7:20 p.m.

Can Sale-Priced Turkey For Later Use

College Station -- Wise consumers can take advantage of turkey bargains by canning about half of a large bird bought on sale and freezing the other half for Thanksgiving dinner, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

Canning the turkey is also a way to extend use of the pressure canner when vegetable canning is done.

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"To prepare turkey for canning, rinse the bird thoroughly in cold water and wipe dry. Use a sharp knife to disjoint the bird; then sort into meaty and bony pieces. Set aside giblets to can separately.

"Pour enough hot water or broth over raw, meaty pieces in a pan to cover the meat. Put lid on and cook until pieces show almost no pink in the center when cut."

Cut turkey parts small enough to fit loosely into the jars. Leave one inch headspace at the top of the jar. Add one-half teaspoon salt per pint if desired, or it may be left out for people on low-salt diets.

Cover the turkey with boiling broth, again leaving one inch headspace at the top of the jar. Avoid overfilling the jar to prevent loss of liquid during processing, the specialist reminded.

"Wipe the jar rim clean. Fat left there will interfere with sealing. Place the lid with the sealing compound next to the glass. Screw the metal band tightly.

"Have two to three inches of boiling water in the pressure canner to prevent it from boiling dry during processing. Place jars in canner on rack and fasten lid securely."

Let steam escape from open petcock or weighted gauge opening for 10 minutes. Shut the petcock or put on the weighted gauge. When pressure rises to 10 pounds, start counting time. Adjust heat to keep pressure steady.

Process pint jars of turkey with bone for one hour and five minutes and quarts for one hour and 15 minutes. Process turkey without bone in pint jars for one hour and 15 minutes and quarts for one and one-half hours.

"Slide canner off the heat when time is up. Let pressure fall to zero. This takes about 30 minutes. Wait a minute or two and open petcock slowly. Unfasten cover, tilting far side up to keep steam away from the face."

Cool jars overnight, wipe clean and label.

"Canned turkey may be used in casseroles, soups and stews. For dishes requiring cold turkey, heat the turkey for 20 minutes to insure safety against botulism. Then chill and use in salads and sandwiches," the specialist suggested.

West Oso Beats JV

The JV of the West Oso Bears unleashed a powerful offense on the Pirates of Rockport-Fulton to the tune of 50-0 at West Oso last week. The season for the JV Pirates was somewhat disappointing with a 1-9 record and 1-8 in district play. The JV had to play the season without many of their fellow sophomores who were on the Varsity team.

The Pirates never stopped trying and kept their heads up until the final whistle. Daniel Brooks had his finest offensive night for the Pirates as he gained 90 yards in 20 attempts. Doug McKibbin and Steve Flanagan each caught two passes from quarterback Joe Williams to round out the offense.

On defense the Pirates were again led by safety Bob Smith who had 13 tackles. Bill Adams was a distant second in tackles with 9. Ricky Garcia had an interception and Benno Wilke recovered a fumble to give the Pirates two offensive possessions.

Form 1040 US Individual income tax return 1975, and
For the year January 1-December 31, 1975, or other taxable year beginning Last name
1 Name (if joint return, give first name of one of the taxpayers)

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I pay an annual fee plus monthly finance charges on my credit card. Are these deductible?

A. The annual fee is not deductible because it is not interest, but a charge for maintaining and servicing your account.

However, the separately stated monthly finance charges you pay are interest, and may be deducted. For more information, see IRS Publication 545, Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense, available free at your nearest IRS office.

Q. I maintain a foreign student in my home under the auspices of a national charity. Am I entitled to any deductions for the expense of maintaining the student?

A. Assuming the student is not your dependent and is a full time student in the twelfth or any lower grade, you may be able to deduct some of the expenses. However, you must have a written agreement between you and the charitable organization stating that educational opportunities are provided the student. You may receive no reimbursement toward your expenses.

You may deduct up to $50 of your expenses for the student for each school month the student stays with you more than 15 days. The deduction is considered a charitable deduction, and is itemized on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Q. My medical insurance reimbursed me for some of my medical expenses this year. Will this affect the tax I pay?

A. Yes, if you itemize your deductions. You must reduce your medical expenses by the amount of the reimbursement you receive from insurance, including Medicare benefits (Medicare A) and supplementary Medicare benefits (Medicare B), paid to you or the provider of the service. The expenses must be reduced by the amount of the reimbursement.

ment before you apply the one and three percent limitations for medical expense deductions. However, you do not have to include any reimbursement for loss of earnings or damages for personal injury.

Q. I bought a brand new house in April 1975. The builder told me that he could not certify the house to qualify for the 5% tax credit now available on some new home purchases, since he had raised the original sales price of the house in January. Now I understand I may be eligible for the credit. Is this true?

A. Yes. The original law was changed so taxpayers have to show that they bought the house at the lowest price offered since February 28, 1975, not at the lowest price ever offered. The law is retroactive, so you now may be eligible for the credit. All you need is the appropriate certification from the seller. For further information see IRS Publication 591, "Tax Credit for the New Home Buyer."

Q. At the urging of our employer, five of us have formed a car pool to drive to and from work. I would like to know if the car pool expenses are deductible, and if the money I receive from the riders is taxable income.

A. The gas, repairs and other expenses for operating a car pool are considered personal expenses and are not deductible. On the other hand, the money received from each of the riders is considered reimbursement for travel expense, and is not taxable income, unless you have developed the arrangement into a business or trade of transporting the riders.

Q. A flood completely destroyed new carpeting we were installing in a basement family room. Our insurance company declared the carpeting a total loss, but since we were underinsured, they reimbursed us only $700 of the $1000 we paid. Can I deduct the $300 as loss?

A. Since you intended to use the carpeting in your home and not in a business, the loss is considered a personal casualty loss and is deductible to the extent it exceeds $100. Your allowable loss would be $200, that is the $1000 cost minus the $700 insurance proceeds and the $100 limitation.

You must be able to show the nature of the casualty and when it occurred, that you owned the property when the casualty occurred and that the loss was a direct cause of the casualty.

Then you must show the amount of deductible loss with some records documenting property's initial cost, the property's value before and after the casualty and value of insurance and other compensation, including free repairs and cleanup offered by a disaster relief agency.

Baptist Ladies Met Nov. 11

On November 11 Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church invited the following churches for a book review and luncheon: Calvary Baptist Church, Bethel Mission, Greater First Baptist Church and Fulton Baptist Church.

Mrs. James Russell was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Truett Roach welcomed the visitors. Mrs. Sheppard, a former missionary to Liberia, gave a very interesting talk on Liberia and her work there with costumes and artifacts on display.

Mrs. Cecil Phelps taught the mission study book, "I Was Sick and Ye Visited Me" by Franklin Fowler, a Baptist missionary, after which a luncheon and fellowship was enjoyed. --Tiney Gayle, reporter.

a very special time of year for America.

Thanksgiving Day is one of the best-loved holidays observed by Americans. The special day was begun over three hundred years ago by the Pilgrims who had come in the Mayflower to Massachusetts in 1620. They harvested their first crops and saw the earth of their new country had been good to them. The Pilgrims gave a feast and gave Thanks to God for what they had received. This Thanksgiving Day in 1621 was the first in America.
