Debate On Red China U. N. Bid Near End

By TOM HOGG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The General Assembly drove today to wind up its marathon debate on whether to seat Red China with the United States still confident it has the votes to bar Peking.

With only 12 more speakers to be heard, the 103-nation assembly plunged into afternoon and night sessions to speed the ballot on whether the Nationalists or the Communists should have China's U.N. seat.

The United States and the Soviet Union, staking their prestige on the outcome of the long-standing cold war issue, both planned to speak again at the close of debate, expected late tonight.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson based his optimism on a survey of delegations which he said indicated a majority believed the China question is one of substance requiring a two-thirds vote majority for action.

and simply turn their seat over to Peking.

The three neutralist Asian nations are expected to argue the issue is a question of credentials and therefore should be decided by a simple majority.

The debate has included bitter attacks against the U.S. policy on China by the Soviet bloc and a number of Asian-African nations. But the Asian-African countries, who will play a major role in deciding the outcome, are split.

The case came before the court after the Center Point and Gay Hill common school districts were annexed by the Big Spring district on May 8, 1960.

The suit was brought by Ralph Neill, a trustee of the Center Point district, and other trustees at Gay Hill against the county school trustees of Howard County, county superintendent Walker Bailey and the trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

The suit sought to have an annexation order of the county school trustees declared void. Neill and the other common school district trustees contended the two annexation orders were unenforceable and had no legal effect for several reasons. Among these was unconstitutionality, no notification made, no public meeting, annexation laws used by the county trustees were unconstitutional, the new district would be more than 100 miles and this is prohibited by law, and the Big Spring and Gay Hill districts were not contiguous.

The U.N. military operation against Katanga, leader Moise Tshombe is reportedly aimed at protecting U.N. positions there while the United Nations provides a stable atmosphere so the Congolese leaders can get together on a united government.

France, disenchanted with the U.N. effort, is refusing to pay her share of the U.N. costs there. The British government said Tuesday night it favored a cease-fire between U.N. forces and Tshombe's troops.

Washington officials quickly denied a report that the United States would join in a cease-fire appeal. They said Tshombe had already broken a cease-fire once

Trial Of School Case Is Ordered

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court agreed today that a lawsuit involving the annexation of two Howard County common school districts to the Big Spring district should be given a trial.

Paris (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk promised America's North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies today the United States never will negotiate away war-weakened rights in Berlin.

Conference sources said Rusk told the opening session of a three-day NATO meeting that the United States would not make a deal with the Soviet Union which questioned the right of Allied troops to garrison West Berlin, damaged free access to the isolated city, or threatened its freedom and economic health.

Rusk gave a long review of the U.S. position on Berlin, which has found the American and French governments at odds.

Despite Rusk's speech, there was no sign that the French were abandoning the attitude of suspicion toward talks with the Soviet Union.

Cease-Fire Now Opposed By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disagreed today with Britain's call for an immediate cease fire in the Congo. It said there should be no cease-fire until minimum objectives of the United Nations have been reached in the African trouble spot.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball set forth what he termed these "honest differences of opinion" at a special news conference on the Congo crisis. Ball is acting foreign affairs chief in the absence of Secretary of State Dean Rusk who is in Paris.

The British government has announced that it will ask U.N. Secretary General U. Thant to seek an immediate cease fire in Katanga between U.N. forces there and those of secessionist Katanga leader Moise Tshombe.

Issuance of the policy declaration stems from: (1) a concern that the public needs fuller understanding of the complex question; (2) a desire to drum up further support for U.N. action in the African trouble spot; and (3) an apprehension that seeming U.S.-British differences on the crisis have been given too much play.

Staff Reports Are Heard By Board

Routine reports composed most of the agenda for Tuesday night's meeting of the Snyder School Board.

C. D. Henry, director of curriculum and Harbrace Bostick, director of athletics, made reports to the board.

Henry presented results of the Iowa Tests of Educational Development which were given to senior high school students recently.

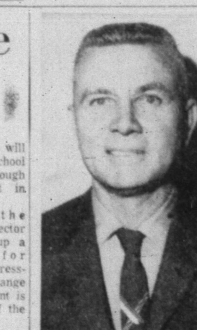

Chairman of the scores showed substantial gains in most areas of development among local students, compared with those of the nation as a whole. Snyder students scored exceptionally high in the use of sources of information, with the school norm percentile reaching 97, compared to the national norm percentile of 72. On the previous test, Snyder students had ranked second in the nation in this category. Students here also ranked high in quantitative thinking, independent literary materials, and general vocabulary. They were far above the national norm percentile in all categories of the test.

Bostick discussed the junior high athletic program with the board. It was noted that a new area schools plan to discontinue inter-school competition of athletic teams at the 7th grade level. However, teams in Snyder's district have indicated that they will continue 7th grade inter-school programs another year, although some have expressed interest in changing the program.

It was the consensus of the board that the athletic director should proceed with lining up a 7th grade football schedule for next fall. Board members expressed doubt that Snyder could change its program until an agreement is reached among a majority of the schools in the district.

Resignations of Mrs. Elisabeth Longbottom, physical education teacher at Central Elementary School, and of Mrs. Jeanne Hamm, second grade teacher at East Elementary, were announced.

The board approved appointment of Mrs. Lavonne Henderson to fill the physical education post at Central, and Supt. T. E. McColl indicated that the East Elementary post would be filled within the next few days.

Texas Oilmen Disappointed At Boost In Crude Imports

DALLAS (AP)—Texas oilmen expressed disappointment Tuesday at the Interior Department boost in oil imports for the first half of 1962.

Royalty Owners Association, said the increase was "anticipatory but disappointing."

Some weeks ago we had hoped for a material decrease in imports, the critical condition of the domestic industry resulting from a ready excessive imports, West said. But the review of imports now under way by the executive department should quickly reveal the weaknesses and loopholes in the present program and lead to more effective controls by 1962.

Eichmann's Death Demanded

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel demanded today that Adolf Eichmann die for his role in the Nazi slaughter of Jews and the former Gestapo colonel refused to beg for mercy.

"It is my profound conviction that I must suffer for others," Eichmann told the special Israeli tribunal. "I must carry the burden imposed on me by fate."

But his words did not shake the 33-year-old defendant on an "ideological" demand for death on a "simple" charge of treason.

Reserve Forces May Be Shuffled

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The military administration is nearing a decision to shuffle reserve divisions to meet the needs of the Army.

Backers of the plan believe the reshuffling of divisions would permit better training of reserve divisions and would make them more ready for active duty.

Agent Has Tax Guides For Farmers

The year of 1961 will soon be history. For many people, the end of December means the conclusion of another tax year and that has obligations must soon be met. Points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, before talking the tax reporting job. Bates suggests that farmers and ranchmen get a copy of the Internal Revenue Service's 1960 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide. It is available without cost from the office of local county agents or those of the Internal Revenue Service. The guide is written in easy-to-read style and includes examples of problems worked out on the application tax forms.

As for the date, January 15 is the deadline for farmers and ranchmen who want extra time for filing their final report to file their 1960 tax estimate. If the estimate is filed, Bates explains, the final date for filing of the 1960 return is extended to April 15. If no estimate is filed, February 15 becomes the deadline for filing the final tax report. These deadlines point out a special agency for taxpayers who derived their income from farming or ranching.

Another important consideration is the reporting of hired labor and the social security tax on wages paid. Either the farmer or the employer must pay the social security tax on wages. If the worker was paid $150 or more during the calendar year or if the worker was paid wages for 30 days or more during the year, the 3 percent social security tax should have been deducted from the cash wage.

Form 941 is used for reporting farm wages. The farmer-employer must show the wage paid and give the account number of individual workers. The withheld tax plus an equal amount from the employer must be filed on or before January 31 or a month after the close of the year. Because every phase of the farm and ranch business can be affected by taxes, Bates emphasizes the need for a study of the Tax Guide.

Farmers' Tax Guides may be secured at the county agent's office in Snyder at 1015 Twenty-Seventh Street.

the better trained divisions would be kept in the field, and the poorer ones dropped.

There now are 27 Guard divisions, two of them on active duty, plus 10 Reserve divisions.

There may be some reduction in the number of Guard divisions and Reserve divisions, but the total support in a fight to block any attack in divisions.

Fast administration, both Democratic and Republican, have tried to make changes in the National Guard structure Congress always has stepped in and prevented any action.

The matter has been under study for months, but the experience of the Berlin crisis military buildup has given the 1960 new impetus.

It is known that the Army officials were dissatisfied with the length of time it took some of the Guard and Reserve units to shake down and get into combat training.

In part, this was attributed to the understrength status of these units when they were mustered. Wisconsin's 22nd Infantry Division, for example, had only about 7,000 men. It was based on an allotment of 12,000 by the assignment of individual soldiers from the Reserve manpower pool.

Sources said the published complaints of some of the recalled Guardsmen and reservists did not figure importantly in the planning to cut out some Guard and Reserve units.

However, it was pointed out that a Guard division already near full strength would not need to draw on fillers, who the Army says have been the main source of gripes.

The plan would not strip any state of its Guard elements. In states where they were mustered, units might be maintained on a separate battalion or brigade basis.

The Army now operates under a draft pool of 400,000 Guardsmen and 300,000 reservists.

Conviction Of Quartet Upheld

The court of criminal appeals in Austin this morning upheld a motion for a rehearing in a Scurry County case.

Four Negro women had been found guilty in District court on May 1, 1961, on a charge of shoplifting. They had been arrested August 13, 1960. The case grew out of complaints from Owen's and Rogers Inc.

Scurry County District Attorney Wayland Holt stated this morning that a mandate would now be issued authorizing local law enforcement officers to pick up the quartet and take them to the penitentiary. Each is to serve two years on each of two counts, the sentences to run concurrently.

Cotton Quota Program Is Okayed Again

After a year which has been described as one of the best in recent history, Scurry County farmers went to the polls yesterday to vote on marketing quotas for the next year. The vote was 148 for, 17 against.

About 1,200 voters were eligible to vote in the county. Buses were located at China Grove, Inadale, Hermitage, Dunn, Ira, Fluvanna and the County Office of the ASC.

The total vote of 165 was considered fairly heavy considering the weather and the fact that there was never much doubt of the outcome.

Over the nation the program drew well over the two-thirds vote needed for approval. The Agriculture Department reported.

Its tabulation showed 268,116 growers of upland cotton voting to continue the program in 1962 and 8,462 opposed. The quotas have been in effect since 1954.

This was a favorable vote of 96.6 per cent. It compares with a 96.6 per cent favorable vote last year.

Growers of extra long staple cotton voted 1,023 to 131, or a favorable percentage of 88.6.

In Texas the vote on the over-all program was 31,753 to 2,295, a 93.6 per cent majority. Extra long staple growers in Texas approved 284 to 22, a 92.3 margin.

Although Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has not announced the price support for the 1962 upland cotton crop, prices will be supported at not less than 65 per cent of parity as a result of the vote.

On Oct. 12 the Agriculture Department announced a national marketing quota of 15,714,000

Line Moves Into South Texas

By The Associated Press
Freezing weather thrust southward almost to the Texas coast Wednesday, and another wave of bitter weather was on the way. Temperatures before daybreak, however, were considerably less severe than 24 hours earlier, when the readings ranged down to 12 below zero at Dalhart.

Fresh clouds overhanging parts of the Texas Panhandle and far West Texas again. It also was cloudy in the Rio Grande Valley.

After only a day's respite from snow, sleet or freezing rain over a vast northern expanse of the state, weather Bureau observers reported more freezing rain or sleet was moving in.

They said the moisture in the form of rain and sleet would begin in West Texas Thursday.

Homeowners of many sections will be repairing water pipes burst by a hard freeze Tuesday.

Truckers, however, are facing the new spell of nasty weather approached.

After dawn Wednesday, the freeze line reached the middle coast and as far south as the Conalia-Eagle Pass line in South Texas.

Dulhart in the upper Panhandle reported the night's lowest temperature—5 degrees above zero. Highest minimum was 38 degrees at Brownsville.

Sales amount to a million television sets a year in Japan.

Have A Fire-Safe Holiday

BOSTON — Fire is an unwelcome visitor in the home, and especially so at Christmas time.

Fires in Christmas trees and decorations each year spoil the holiday in hundreds of homes, says the National Fire Protection Association. Far more serious than the average cost of $700 per family affected, these fires endanger the lives of children and parents.

Because of traditional holiday customs — trees, lights, decorations, Yule logs in the fireplace, paper wrappings and a festive spirit — the NFPA suggests "Christmas is a time to be more — not less — heedful of fire dangers."

For a fire - safe Christmas, the NFPA suggests:

Obtain a fresh - cut tree whose needles don't shed freely. Keep it in water from the time it is bought until it is thrown out, support it well, and never set where it can block escape in the event of fire. And remove it as soon as possible after Christmas.

Check tree lights carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Keep candles away from the tree and use extreme care in smoking when you are near a tree. Make sure tree lights are turned off before you go to bed or before you leave the house.

Keep power shut off while you set up outdoor lighting and use only weatherproof equipment and cords.

Use only noncombustible or flameproofed decorations.

Dispose of gift wrappings promptly.

Think ahead about what you would do for the safety of your family if fire does start.

Yule Tip: Let HIM Trim Tree

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

After the rigors of shopping, and before you tackle the business of being festive on the Day itself, why not take a breather?

If you play it right, tree trimming time can mean luxurious laziness for you. Rules of the game:

1. KEEP the wee ones out from underfoot, preferably in bed dreaming of sugarplums.
2. SOLVE the gift problem in advance, so that everything is already mailed, distributed or wrapped and waiting deployment under the tree.
3. APPOINT your peerless leader chief planner of decorating strategy — meaning the founder of the feast, the carver on the roast, the head of the household himself. (A dutiful wife always lets her husband make major decisions such as where to place the Christmas ornaments.)

NOTE: In the interest of efficiency and keeping him up on the ladder, you may have to exert yourself somewhat. But replenishing his glass of iced tea from time to time doesn't compare in extended ergs with stringing lights yourself.

4. KEEP refreshments simple. Institute self - service, if your spouse insists on inviting in the neighbors.
5. DON'T say witty things — such as "All your taste is in your mouth" — if he's making a travesty of the trimming. But kindly and gently, from the comfortable depths of a sofa or chaise longue, expound upon these principles:

- A. A short, full tree is trimmed vertically.
- B. A tall, slender tree is trimmed horizontally.
- C. Formula for number of lights needed: Multiply tree height (in feet) times width at base (in feet) times 3. (Example: 5-foot tree 4 feet wide at base would take 5 x 4 x 3 or 60 lights.)
- D. Order of trimming: Put on top star or angel decoration then string lights — working from top down. Next come string decorations, glass ball ornaments and, lastly, the tinsel placed vertically, piece by piece, on each branch. Finish up with spray snow.
- E. MAKE these pointers if the tree is growing outdoors, before you bundle him up against the cold:
 - A. Trees (especially blue spruce and Douglas fir) need special protection from the heat of tree lights and from the weight on the branches. One solution is to build a simple teepee to carry the light strings. Pound stakes into the ground around the tree inside the spread of branches at regular intervals. Then string wire up from the stakes to a point several inches below the tree top. Fit a padded wire collar around this point and fasten to the wires. This will keep the tree free from damage.
 - B. Be sure all outdoor wiring is either 12 or 14 heavy duty rubber insulated to withstand all types of weather.
 7. DON'T go out with him. Your chattering teeth will only unnerv him. Instead, draw up a comfortable chair to a convenient window, and watch his antics with wifely encouragement and solicitude.

Missilemen's Christmas Cards Show Churches

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — Edward Rosenfeld draws his own Christmas cards — not particularly unusual.

But Rosenfeld has most unusual sources from which he draws ideas — the houses of worship scattered along U. S. missile ranges.

Rosenfeld is a key member of the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency's Nike Zeus development team. His job is island hopping. He selects sites and plans facilities for the Zeus system.

And recent additions to his collection of drawings are a mosque in Trinidad, British West Indies, and the dome of a synagogue at Curacao, Dutch West Indies.

"Most people expend a little extra effort in building a church," says Rosenfeld. "That's why these places of worship are interesting subjects for me to draw."

"Not every church is acceptable to me. They must have a certain picturesque quality."

Rosenfeld began drawing churches in 1956 when he did a sketch of Notre Dame de Paris. In 1957, the National Cathedral in Washington was his Christmas card subject. The cathedral was still being built, and Rosenfeld's drawing shows the scaffolding and unfinished spire.

The following year, while in El Paso, Tex., Rosenfeld made a 200-mile trip on a weekend to draw a Spanish church at Chihuahua, Mexico. Since then, he has been looking for picturesque churches in out - of - the way places.

Even if your friends have a dishwashing policy that's strictly "drain instead of wipe dry," calendar towels still make welcome Christmas gifts. The selection with 1962 dates—which will lend a gay, pretty air to kitchens all year long—includes many flower and fruit designs, as well as Pennsylvania Dutch and rustic American motifs. These towels come in printed fabrics which are as safe in hot soap or detergent suds as the standard white linen.

Many Teachers Face More Problems Than Low Salary

BY INEZ ROBB

From time to time—about once a month—I am overcome with wonder that this nation can coax anyone to teach school. The fact that so many extraordinary fine persons do dedicate their lives to teaching is a major miracle.

There are, in one woman's opinion, three noble professions: teaching, medicine and the ministry. Yet most teachers and ministers make barely enough money to keep body and soul apart. And in countless small towns and rural districts, the doctor isn't in much better financial position.

Pay (and if I were Santa I'd raise every teacher's salary fivefold) isn't the crux that would keep me out of the teaching profession. The bar, for me, would be the fact that every American community believes it has an inherent right to pry into every facet of a teacher's public and private life.

A dedicated teacher must put up with the nagging interference of the community, the school board, parents, superintendent and principals. In my day, if I got a whaling at school, I got a whaling at home just for good measure. But your modern parent rushes to the school and whales the teacher.

Just recently I read that some poor, innocent young teacher was run out of his job for trying to demonstrate the evils of tobacco to eighth-graders. He let each pupil take one draw on a cigarette to show how horrid is the vile weed. Some nasty little bitch went to the principal and, before he knew it, the young man was out on his ear for debauching innocent children.

Nonsense! That teacher was doing one of the most sensible acts of his career. History will probably show that he prevented a majority of that class from succumbing to tobacco addiction.

When I was an eighth-grader, I was given one puff of a cigarette. I found it incredibly disgusting and have never since touched one of the things, except to empty ash trays. But an hysterical principal and indignant parents, not bothing to assay the result of the test, took it out on the hapless teacher.

Now, in another community, a group of parents has suddenly discovered that "The Scarlet Letter" is a dirty book. Nathaniel Hawthorne was incapable of writing a dirty line, much less a dirty book, and his masterpiece, "The Scarlet Letter," is so permeated by the brooding, gloomy spirit of New England as to inflame no one, even the residents of Peyton Place.

I'll bet a nickel that the parents complaining about "The Scarlet Letter" and demanding that it be removed from the high-school library, have never in their collective lives consumed the ex-saturated movies or magazines to which their offspring are addicted without let or hindrance.

Another school district has just discovered, after 300 years, that our Puritan ancestors, far from models of moral rectitude, were so naughty that some of their customs cannot be exposed to the innocent youths of 1961. Unfortunately for the teaching profession, one of its own, a chairman of "social studies," has deemed that the old Puritan custom of "bundling" is not fit and proper for classroom reading.

For once, high-school seniors and their parents have moved in to give the professor an argument. So in this instance parents must be given an "E" for effort, and the kids an "A" for common sense.

Good grief, this would be a happier world all around if some genius would only invent a bundling board for use in the back seat.

Demand For Crude Rises

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas crude purchasers have indicated to the Railroad Commission they want to buy 2,606,470 barrels of oil a day in January, an increase of 77,453 barrels a day over December.

The commission said the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast a demand for Texas crude of 2,665,000 barrels daily in January, up 120,000 barrels a day over December.

Increases in purchaser nominations were reported Tuesday in 10 of the state's 12 districts.

Oil company nominations and the Bureau of Mines forecast will be used at a prorating hearing Friday, when the commission will set the statewide oil allowable.

Increases in nominations by district: 3,129 barrels, Southwest Texas No. 9; 17,573, Gulf Coast; 9,236, Southwest Texas No. 4; 293, East Central Texas; 7,473, East Texas Outside; 3,718, East Texas Field; 2,966, West Central Texas; 78; 2,826, West Central Texas; 33,993, West Texas and 481, North Texas.

Decreases were shown for Southwest Texas No. 1, 672, and Panhandle, 2,597.

Meter For Office Time Suggested

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes many a boss goes home after a difficult day feeling he hasn't earned much money for his company. It haunts his evening.

Sometimes many a hired hand goes home with the same realization, but it doesn't always ruin his enjoyment of the twilight family meal.

But there is a way that a boss can make a personal profit during his working hours. This is to price his time by a meter as a potential parking space does to a visiting auto.

The boss can do the same thing with persons instead of motor cars. But he must vary the price of moments and hours clocked on the meter by the value he places on the time different visitors are worth in terms of his own measure of their importance.

Let's see if this idea works:

As soon as you come into his office, you are greeted by a large and serious meter.

The meter is a sophisticated one. It accepts paper currency as readily as it does coins. It automatically rejects checks and credit cards, letters from old friends, snips on the back—anything except cash.

It has attached to it a large and conspicuous sign that reads:

"My time is valuable and here are the rates you must pay to use it. Please put your money in the meter in advance."

Asking for raises in salary, ordinary employees, $1 a second.

Asking for raises in commissions, top salesman only, $1 a minute.

Ex-girl friend who wonders why she didn't recognize how wonderful you were in college when gee! you're so wonderful now—boss puts meter off.

Life insurance salesman explaining why boss needs more protection—50 cents a minute, or one-half of his first year's commission, if he succeeds in selling the boss more.

Discussion with boss's uncle, the chairman of the board, on why the firm needs fresh talent—boss puts own money into meter.

Discussion with three after-lunch fellow golfing executives—five cents an hour. Boss puts in first nickel. Meter ticks on unpaid for next three hours.

Talk with junior executive—he puts in 15 cents to get meter back in business. Boss then raises rate to $1 a minute as he assures junior executive he has great future in firm.

Someone comes in with an unexpected sales order—boss turns off meter, takes order, silently debits own sales manager for $187 in meter repairs.

A gentleman from Internal Revenue Service is announced—the boss throws his coat over his meter, stretches out a shirt-sleeved hand and says, "My time is your time—I hope I'm joking."

Finally, just before quitting time, the boss' wife enters.

She inserts a key into the parking meter by the desk of the boss, removes the contents, counts it, puts money into her oversize purse and says:

"George, you didn't do as well as yesterday. How many times do I have to tell you that time is money? Come, dear, it is time to go home. Tomorrow will be better."

DeWitt Clinton, governor of New York and father of the Erie Canal, was instrumental in founding the state's first savings bank in 1819.

Tigers Whack Stamford '5'

STAMFORD—Boosted along by a healthy first period, Snyder's Tigers bottled out to a comfortable lead here Tuesday night, then coasted home to a 6-41 non-disturbing victory over the Stamford Bulldogs.

Gail Stymies Hermleigh In 3 Of 4 Tilt

HERMLEIGH (Special)—Gail Stymies, a sophomore, led the Tigers to a 6-41 victory over the Stamford Bulldogs Tuesday night. Stymies scored three goals in the first period, and the Cardinals' victory was a 2-5 advantage before the Bulldogs could recuperate and come back to make a game out of it.

Guard Steve Free paced the Tigers in the scoring department with 15 points. At one point early in the contest he sank three goals in the short space of 10 seconds playing time with some astute ball-hawking.

Two other Tigers climbed up into the double-figure bracket—guard Eddie Phyl and forward Larry McNair. They each bucketed 11 points for the evening. Melvin Greenhaw and Keith McKee were top scorers for the Bulldogs with 18 and 17, respectively.

In the preliminary encounter, the Tiger B played the Bulldogs on even terms through the first period, then slipped into the lead to stay in the second stanza.

Center James Sellers was the pacesetter for the Tigers in that one with 12, followed by Billy Stewart and Dargel Aldridge with 10 and 9, respectively.

Bulldog Larry Jones was high point performer for the game with 13.

Three girls accounted for all of Hermleigh's points in its win over the visitors. Judy Etheredge led attack with 15, while Carolyn Roemisch and Eddie Lou Wemken wrapped up scoring with 13 each.

They were forced to relinquish high point honors for the game to Gail's Pam Stephens, however, who came through with 21.

Gail "B" won its game 53-20 with Bill Nunnally hitting for 12 and Tommy Kilgough and Danny Hagins 10 each to show the way. Ronnie Young had 7 to be high for Hermleigh "B".

The win was the fourth of the year for Snyder compared to three losses.

Snyder B made it a clean sweep for the night by blanketing the Bulldog B boys to the tune of 44-36 for their seventh triumph in eight outings.

In the varsity contest the Tigers initiated a full court press at the start of the fray and moved out to a 2-5 advantage before the befuddled Bulldogs could recuperate and come back to make a game out of it.

Coyotes Sight In On Fifth Championship

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tailback Kelly shook off the effects of a flu virus this week and returned to duty as the Wichita Falls Coyotes eyed a fifth schoolboy football championship.

Kelly, sidelined last week as his teammates pinned a 41-12 setback on Fort Worth Paschal, will be at full strength Saturday when the Coyotes and Galena Park battle for the Class AAAA state championship.

The title game, starting at 3:15 p.m. in TCU-Amon Carter Stadium, is expected to draw 30,000 fans.

Charlie Needham, chairman of the Greater Fort Worth Sports Committee, said Wichita Falls had ordered 7,500 tickets and Galena Park 7,000.

The game will be televised but there will be a 75 to 100-mile blackout around Fort Worth.

Galena Park, 21-6 conqueror of Corpus Christi last week and bidding for its first championship, could be the one team this year to dethrone the Coyotes have won 13 straight but they possibly haven't reckoned with a defense like the "Yellow Jackets".

Led by tackle Calvin Enderli and guard Tommy Moore, the Galena Park line averages 191 pounds. Its defensive secondary ace, Johnny Cook, grabbed two Ray passes and intercepted a two-point try from the Corpus Christi touchdown.

The Jackets halted Ray four times inside the Galena Park 20. Three times in the second half they intercepted passes and turned them into touchdowns.

But with Kelly back and no reason to believe fullback Larry Shields won't turn in another average performance, the Coyotes are solid favorites.

Shields ripped through Paschal for four touchdowns last week. The 197-pound senior no doubt will be striving to end his high school football career on a spectacular note.

Aviation Bowl Has Troubles

By HAL PARIS
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—There was considerable speculation here today that last Saturday's Aviation Bowl may mark this city's first and last venture into post-season football games.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Dayton Junior Chamber of Commerce disclosed backers probably will drop close to $10,000.

Don Miller, chairman of the Aviation Bowl Committee, said a complete financial breakdown on the game will not be available for a week or more.

Bulldogs Rip Highland '5'

Big Tommy Sterling was the big gun in the Bulldog attack with 20 points for his efforts, while Mike Stephens was just a point away from 19. Donnie Dunn added 10 to the winning cause, also.

Phil Wright sparked Highland in the scoring department with 17, followed by Gayland Seaton and his 13.

Highland's girls led off the evening's action by stopping Ira, 34-25, behind Peggy Bankhead and Frances Morris, who were good for 18 and 14 points, respectively.

Janice Bishop topped Ira's point producers with 12.

Ira will travel to Highland for a return match Thursday, when the girls game will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the boys game follow it at 8 o'clock.

Haskell, Snyder In Kickoff Tilt

Haskell and Snyder take the Tiger Gym court at 8:30 Friday morning in the lid-lifter of the 7th annual Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament, a two-day meet in which competition will be for all eight places.

Other first round action of Friday will see Winters clashing with Seminole at 11 a.m., Aspermont taking on Snyder B at 1 p.m., and Lee engaging Stamford at 2:30 p.m.

Three games within the second round of play will also be reeled off Friday when the Haskell-Snyder losers meet the Winters-Seminole losers at 6 p.m.; the Aspermont-Snyder B losers get together at 7:30 with the Lee-Stamford losers; and Haskell-Snyder and Winters-Seminole winners do battle at 9 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to the champion, runner-up, third place and consolation winners.

The most recent journey champion crowned was Childress in 1959. The meet was not held last year, that being the only break since the tournament's inception in 1954.

Gordy Coleman, Cincinnati first baseman, grounded out his first four times at bat in the World Series. On the fifth occasion he homered into the Yankee Stadium bullpen against Ralph Terry, the Yankee hurler who gave up the series winning homer to Pirate Bill Mazeroski in 1960.

Houston Dubs Yeoman Coach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—William F. (Bill) Yeoman, a guy who likes warm weather, is the University of Houston's fifth head football coach.

The 32-year-old backfield assistant at Michigan State was hired Tuesday by a screening committee, then picked him unanimously.

Yeoman's salary and length of contract were not disclosed.

He will replace Hal Lahr, who resigned in September but stayed on to coach the Cougars to a 6-4 season against tough opponents that included Alabama and Auburn.

It was sort of a birthday present for the former Texas A&M and Army player, who will be 34 Dec. 26.

"Visiting the University of Houston is like seeing another Michigan State," Yeoman said in East Lansing, Mich. "The people I met there are selling their product. They believe in it and their enthusiasm is infectious."

Cougars Clip Buffs Twice

FLUVANNA (Special)—Klondike's Cougars dropped the Fluvanna Buffaloes in a pair of non-disturbance games here Tuesday night, the Cougar boys winning by 53-27 and their girls rallying late to post a 27-24 win.

Arhart and Douglas, with 12 and 10, respectively, paced the boys to their victory. Royce Summers had 10 for the Buffs.

Fluvanna's girls were leading by one point with 15 seconds left in the game before losing out in the waning moments. Caroline Johnson of Klondike paced the scoring for the game with 16, and Fluvanna's Gwen Landrum and Janet Martin each bucketed 10 to pace their mates.

Fluvanna's next action will be Thursday in the Dawson district at Welch. On that date the girls will take the floor against Dawson at 5:45 p.m., followed by the boys game matching the same schools at 7 p.m.

Fluvanna Boys—Beaver 0-1-1, Kingston 2-2-6, Summers 4-2-10, Stansell 2-0-4, Zapata 1-0-2. Belov 2-0-4. Totals 11-5-27.

Miller said that tickets sold, but not used, should boost the over-all total to near 5,000.

He said the winning Lobos of the Skyline Conference were guaranteed $18,000 and Western Michigan was to receive a minimum of either $6,000 or 37 1/2 percent of gross receipts.

"When all the receipts are in," Miller said, "our gross from tickets, parking and program sales should be about $26,000. However, we have to pay a little more than that to the participating schools."

Under its percentage slice, Western Michigan figures to receive close to $9,000. Miller said the Jaycees spent about $8,500 for expenses, including watches to the players, trophies, promotion, publicity and ticket printing.

"If there is to be another bowl game, we are going to have to get help making up a deficit of close to $10,000," Miller said.

The Jaycee spokesman pointed out, however, that business firms and private individuals already were contributing to a fund to help cut the losses.

Enthusiasm for this project has been tremendous," Miller said. "We just got every bad break in the book. Obviously, the game would have been much better if an Ohio team participated and if the weather had been better."

Texas A&M was the only undefeated team in the Holiday Doubleheaders at Texas Tech last year. The Aggies beat Eastern Kentucky 76-57 and Air Force Academy 82-51. Texas Tech defeated the Air Academy 81-49 but lost to Eastern Kentucky 78-66.

The Hobbs cagers will see action again next Tuesday night when they entertain Rotan in the Hobbs gym.

Rocky Denies He Will Retire

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—shaken in recent weeks by the tragic disappearance of his youngest son and by his impending divorce—vehemently denied Tuesday night a published report that he plans to leave public life.

In a statement authorized through his press secretary, the governor said he plans to complete his current term and to run for reelection next year. Rockefeller scheduled a top-level Republican conference in Albany on Dec. 27 to map 1962 campaign strategy.

Republican leaders in the state backed up the governor's statement.

Rockefeller has been widely mentioned as a potential GOP nominee for president in 1964.

Reports have been circulating for more than a week that Rockefeller would not seek reelection as governor.

In a copyright story Tuesday night, the New York Daily News said the governor had informed top GOP leaders of his intention not to run again and of the possibility he might resign even before his term ended.

In subsequent editions, the News also published Rockefeller's denial.

The News said Rockefeller's decision was based on the belief his impending divorce from Mrs. Rockefeller "will make it all but impossible, even if he gains the Republican nomination, to defeat an entrenched John F. Kennedy in 1964."

"In addition, Rockefeller is described as still deeply shaken by the tragic loss of his adventurous 23-year-old son, Michael, last month in New Guinea."

"Rockefeller's present plan, as reported, calls for him to press during the next session of the legislature, commencing Jan. 2, for enactment of his legislative program and to announce his resignation after the session's closing, which is usually late in March."

Robert L. McManus, the governor's press secretary, said of the story: "This is completely untrue. I have just spoken to the governor, and he authorized me to say that."

McManus added: "You can quote me that the governor has announced he will be a candidate, he is going to be a candidate, he will run and that there are no changes in his plans to run."

GOP state chairman L. Judson Morehouse said, "The report is completely without foundation and fact. It is nonsense."

Walter J. Mahoney, Republican Senate majority leader, said in Albany: "The governor and I had a brief discussion about campaign plans just last Friday. It is inconceivable to me that he has any other plans than to win reelection."

The News quoted insiders as saying the governor's decision was known to the Republican National Committee. This knowledge, said the newspaper, was partly behind "Chairman William E. Miller's recent suggestion that Sen.

Barry Goldwater, the Arizona conservative, appeared to be the leading contender for the 1964 nomination for president."

In Washington, Miller denied having made the statement.

"I know nothing about this," he said. "The last time I talked to Gov. Rockefeller he was a candidate for reelection, and I'm assuming he still is, and I expect he will be reelected governor."

Kentucky U. Holds Its Land In Texas

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—University of Kentucky trustees aren't overlooking the possibility of a rich oil strike in Texas.

They refused an offer to sell 316 acres in Young County, Tex., after being offered $18,900. The university gets $774 yearly rental on the acreage.

"I hate to dispose of anything in Texas," commented Frank Peterson, university vice president.

New Atlas F Scores Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new F series Atlas missile, designed for long-time storage in underground tubes, has scored its third test success in as many launchings.

The big intercontinental range missile raced 5,000 miles to a south Atlantic target Tuesday and unleashed a series of 28 flares in another experiment designed to develop safe capsules for space-borne nuclear power units.

The dummy atomic fuel cores were packed with sodium, potassium, cesium and rubidium metals, which burst into different colored flares as re-entry heat of several thousand degrees disintegrated the capsules.

As early as A. D. 800 oysters were exported from the Thames estuary to Rome. The historian Sallust commented, "The poor Britons, there is some good in them after all—they produce an oyster."

Enos The Chimp's Fan Mail Heavy

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—Fan mail is coming to NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center from all over the world—addressed to Enos the chimp.

One letter covers part of the wall in the public affairs office of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It is almost six feet high and the words are in large black crayon.

It reads:

"Dear Enos: We are happy that you had a good ride! We want to know how to say your name. We would like to have some pictures of you! We would like to see a banana pellet! We are proud of you!"

The letter is signed by the first grade of Bakerfield Elementary School, Aberdeen, Md. Twenty-four carefully scrawled signatures of the pupils in Room 1 follow.

Enos, who paved the way for manned orbital flight by an American by circling the earth twice on Nov. 23, also is receiving Christmas cards. These he decked part of the office of Col. John A. Powers, public affairs officer.

Dear Enos Chimp, one card begins. What do you think of the human face? I live alone and wish you were here with me where snowbanks are high in South Dakota. I have a beautiful ranch where you could have a good healthy time. Merry Christmas. It was signed Emma.

Another card shows the chimp on its front surface. "Six months ago you couldn't even spell soldier," it reads. Open the card and the chimp appears again. It roads. "Add you to me."

One congratulatory card came all the way from Nice, France. It shows a bewildered Enos, his head swimming, standing before the open door of his capsule after his return.

The fuss over Enos is similar to the rash of letters which came to the center last year addressed to Ham, the chimp who made a successful suborbital flight.

All letters are answered by the Public Affairs Office, including those to chimpanzees.

Screen Players Planning To Wed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Screen players Doug McClure, 36, and Barbara Linn, 22, obtained a marriage license Tuesday.

They said they will wed next Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don McClure in nearby Pacific Palisades.

The marriage will be the first for Miss Linn, who resides in Beverly Hills. McClure's first wife, Fay, got a divorce last May.

Jr. High Bands Set Yule Concert

The first annual Junior High Christmas Band Concert will be presented in the High School Auditorium on Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. Beginning and advanced bands from both junior high schools will participate in the hour long program to which the public is invited.

First on the program will be the combined beginners bands comprising 86 members. These seventh graders, who have been playing less than four months, will perform four numbers. They will start with "Astronaut's March" by Peter Reynolds. Second will be "Red River Valley" arranged by Reynolds. The third number, "Three Christmas Carols," was arranged by John Kinyon and includes "Away in a Manger," "We Three Kings," and "O Come All Ye Faithful." They will complete their portion of the concert with a march by Kinyon entitled "Junior Varsity."

The eighth and ninth grade band from Lamar will be second on the program. They will open their segment with the stirring concert march by Eric Osterling, "Charter Oak." For their second number the band will play "The Christmas Suite," an arrangement of six seasonal songs ranging from a Gregorian chant to a modern number. The third offering will be "Jingle Bells Rhapsody" by Harold Walters. In this arrangement, Walters has presented the familiar tune in many different settings. For their fourth, and final number, the Lamar band will play Irving Berlin's classic "White Christmas."

"Guadalupán March" from Richard Rodgers' "Victory At Sea" will open the Travis band's portion of the concert. This will be followed by "Aria and Fugue" by Handel and the Christmas number "Carol of the Drum" by Katherine Davis. For their final number the Travis eighth and ninth grade band will play the ever popular "Hand Clap-Blues" by Del Baroni.

To conclude the program the combined bands will present the Christmas Story. Eight familiar Christmas Carols are used in this number to highlight a narration of the Christmas story.

There is no admission charge for this seasonal concert and Bill Green and Tim Dennis, band director, urge all those interested to attend.

Telephone Booth Is Overcrowded

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City patrolmen Mickey Pyburn and Leon Musgrove were cruising in their patrol car when they received instructions:

"Car 1, go to 20th and Charlotte. There's a woman stuck in a telephone booth."

That was just half the story. There were two women.

"They were so embarrassed when we got the door open that they hardly stopped long enough to say anything to us," the officers said.

Executive Speaks To Scouters Here

"Gee, I even got to shake hands with the mayor!" was the way one enthusiastic young Snyder scout put it here last night in the Stanford Elementary Cafeteria during the Scouters Fellowship Banquet.

The banquet, attended by a large group of local business and civic leaders, was presided over by district chairman J. Mark McLaughlin.

P. V. Thorsen, executive of the Buffalo Trail Council—a council which embraces 18 West Texas counties—addressed the group on the aims and functions of scouting and on the responsibility and relation of Snyder adults in its advancement.

Scout leader Lester Mundy assisted a group of Troop 35 boys in presenting a program on the specific workings of scouting. Leading him a hand in the presentation were Jerry Rains, Tim Burton, Benny Garrett, Luther Shy, Robert McAllister, Eddie Skalna, and James Farren.

Rev. Walter Mitchell offered the invocation of the evening, and Rev. Walter Lenz the benediction. Virgil Mott led the assembly in singing "America" as part of the program.

At the conclusion of the meeting, those in attendance jotted down areas they felt they could be of assistance in Snyder's Boy Scout program, and from that list will be drawn workers for the movement.

More than 2.5 billion pounds of dog food were purchased last year. In the nation's supermarkets, dog food, by weight, was the No. 1 canned food seller.

Debate On Red China U. N. Bid Near End

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The General Assembly drove today to wind up its marathon debate on whether to seat Red China with the United States still confident it has the votes to bar Peiping.

With only 12 more speakers to be heard, the 100-nation assembly plunged into afternoon and night sessions to speed the ballot on whether the Nationalists or the Communists should have China's U.N. seat.

The United States and the Soviet Union, staking their prestige on the outcome of the long-standing cold war issue, both planned to speak again at the close of debate, expected late tonight.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson has voiced confidence Red China will be barred from the world body for at least another year.

Stevenson based his optimism on a survey of delegations which he said indicated a majority believed the China question is one of substance requiring a two-thirds vote majority for action.

The U.S. delegation believes the Reds can't obtain a two-thirds majority. But it was reported apprehensive that the Communists might get in should the assembly decide the seating issue was procedural, with only a simple majority required.

A proposal put in Tuesday night by three neutralist supporters of Peiping indicated the United States will need all the votes it can muster to win the procedural maneuver.

Cambodia, Ceylon and Indonesia introduced an amendment to the pro-Peiping Soviet resolution that would drop the demand for expulsion of the Nationalists

Cease-Fire Now Opposed By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disagreed today with Britain's call for an immediate cease fire in the Congo. It said there should be no cease-fire until minimum objectives of the United Nations have been reached in the African trouble spot.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball set forth what he termed these "honest differences of opinion" at a special news conference on the Congo crisis. Ball is acting foreign affairs chief in the absence of Secretary of State Dean Rusk who is in Paris.

The British government has announced that it will ask U.N. Secretary General U. Thant to seek an immediate cease-fire in Katanga between U.N. forces there and those of secessionist Katanga leader Moise Tshombe.

Issuance of the policy declaration stems from: (1) a concern that the public needs fuller understanding of the complex question; (2) a desire to drum up further support for U.N. action in the African trouble spot; and (3) an apprehension that "keeping U.S. British differences on the crisis have been given too much play," Secretary of State Dean Rusk

The Scurry County United Fund Campaign had reached 63.4 per cent of its $38,000 objective this morning.

Figures compiled at a report meeting of workers showed a total of $34,129.43 in contributions and pledges.

At the same time workers were urged to complete their contacts as rapidly as possible. The original target date of Dec. 15 is approaching rapidly, and E. H. Wil-

Trial Of School Case Is Ordered

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court agreed today that a lawsuit involving the annexation of two Howard County common school districts to the Big Spring district should be given a trial.

The case came before the court after the Center Point and Gay Hill common school districts were annexed by the Big Spring district on May 5, 1960.

The suit was brought by Ralph Neill, a trustee of the Center Point district, and other trustees at Gay Hill against the county school trustees of Howard County, county superintendent Walker Bailey and the trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

The suit sought to have an annexation order of the county school trustees declared void.

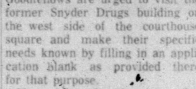

Neill and the other common school district trustees contended the two annexation orders were more than 100 miles and this effect for several reasons. Among these was unconstitutionality, no notification made, no public meeting, annexation laws used by the county trustees were unconstitutional, the new district would be more than 100 miles and this effect for several reasons.

Rusk was reported to have told his British and French counterparts that the Congo would fall apart without the rich Katanga in it, and that this would pave the way for a takeover by leftist Antoine Gizenga.

The U.N. military operation against Katanga leader Moise Tshombe is avowedly aimed at protecting U.N. positions there while the United Nations provides a stable atmosphere so the Congolese leaders can get together on a united government.

France disenchanted with the U.N. effort, is refusing to pay her share of the U.N. costs there. The British government said Tuesday night it favored a cease-fire between U.N. forces and Tshombe's troops.

Washington officials quickly denied a report that the United States would join in a cease-fire appeal. They said Tshombe had already broken a cease-fire once.

Staff Reports Are Heard By Board

Routine reports composed most of the agenda for Tuesday night's meeting of the Snyder School Board.

C. D. Henry, director of curriculum, and Horace Bustick, director of athletics, made reports to the board.

Henry presented results of the Iowa Tests of Educational Development which were given to senior high school students recently. Charts on the scores showed substantial gains in most areas of development among local students, compared with those of the nation as a whole.

Students scored exceptionally high in the use of sources of information, with the school norm percentile reaching 97, compared to the national norm percentile of 72. On the previous test Snyder students had ranked second in the nation in this category. Students here also ranked high in quantitative thinking, interpreting literary materials and general vocabulary. They were far above the national norm percentile in all categories.

Bustick discussed the Junior high athletic program with the board. It was noted that some area schools plan to discontinue inter-school competition of athletic teams at the 7th grade level. However, teams in Snyder's district have indicated that they will continue 7th grade inter-school programs another year, although some have expressed interest in changing the program.

It was the consensus of the board that the athletic director should proceed with lining up a 7th grade football schedule for next fall. Board members expressed doubt that Snyder could change its program until an agreement is reached among a majority of the schools in the district.

Resignations of Mrs. Elisabeth Longbottom, physical education teacher at Central Elementary School, and Mrs. Jeanette Hammett, second grade teacher at East Elementary, were announced. The board approved appointment of Mrs. LaVerne Henderson to fill the physical education position at Central, and Sgt. T. E. McCollum to fill the second grade position at East. McCollum's resignation would be filled within the next few days.

Hairston In Pct. 4 Race
Bill Hairston of the China Grove community has announced his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 4.

Hairston has lived in Scurry County and Precinct 4 for 42 years. He owns and operates a poultry business. Hairston is married and has two children. This is Hairston's first request for public office. In his announcement he said he had always been interested in the affairs of the county and would earnestly seek the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Precinct 4.

Eichmann's Death Demanded
JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel demanded today that Adolf Eichmann die for his role in the Nazi slaughter of Jews and the former Gestapo colonel refused to beg for mercy.

"It is my profound conviction that I must suffer for others," Eichmann said in his plea for leniency.

But his words of like a dull sword, the 35-year-old defendant scorned his conviction as based on a technicality.

In a 20-minute speech, Eichmann said he was not a monster, but a man who had been misled by the Nazi regime.

He said he had been misled by the Nazi regime, which had told him that he was doing good by following their orders.

PARIS (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk promised America's North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies today the United States never will negotiate away war-worn Western rights in Berlin.

Conference sources said Rusk did the opening session of a three-day NATO meeting that the United States would not make a deal with the Soviet Union which questioned the right of Allied troops to garrison West Berlin, damaged free access to the isolated city, or threatened its freedom and economic health.

Rusk gave a long review of the U.S. position on Berlin, which has found the American and French governments at odds.

Despite Rusk's speech, there was no sign that the French were abandoning the attitude of suspicion toward talks with the Soviet Union.

French sources said that Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville repeated the French warning that the Western powers must take no accidental backward step in their search for a solution to the Berlin question.

Rusk told the ministers of the 14 other NATO nations that the Communist camp is struggling with problems of its own. The wall dividing Berlin was a symptom of Communist troubles, he said. He also pointed out that economic deficiencies have occurred in East Germany and other parts of Eastern Europe, and in Communist China.

Rusk asked for the highest degree of unity in the Western camp. He said the United States does not intend to make any deal with the Communist East German regime and that Washington recognized the Soviet might sign a peace treaty with the East Germans if the Kremlin took such an action. Rusk said, the United States would still hold the Soviet government responsible for seeing there was no violation of Western rights in West Berlin.

Conference sources said many of the ministers from the other NATO powers, including Canada, agreed with the United States and Britain that it is time to get down to business with the Soviet Union. "We have proved enough," Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, former NATO secretary-general, told a reporter. "Now we must negotiate if there are any chances of success."

Couve de Murville repeated the French conviction that dangers might lurk in Western approaches to the Soviets at this time. President Charles de Gaulle holds the Berlin crisis is a Kremlin creation and it's up to the Soviets to do something to ease it.

Reserve Forces May Be Shuffled

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is nearing a politically tricky decision that could eliminate eight or ten Army National Guard and Reserve divisions, informed sources said today.

Backers of the plan believe the resulting reshuffle of manpower would permit shifting the remaining Guard and Reserve divisions close to full strength, thus making them more ready for active duty if needed.

The thinking reported is that the better rated divisions would be kept on the rolls, and the poorer ones dropped.

There now are 27 Guard divisions, two of them an active duty, plus 10 Reserve divisions.

There may be some reduction in the number of Guardsmen and reservists receiving drill pay.

Anticipating the move, National Guard and Reserve associations are preparing to rally congressional support in a fight to block any slash in divisions.

Past administrations, both Democratic and Republican, have tried to make changes in the National Guard structure. Congress always has stepped in and prevented any such action.

The matter has been under study for months, but the experience of the Berlin crisis military buildup has given the idea new impetus.

Agent Has Tax Guides For Farmers

The year of 1961 will soon be history. For many people, the end of December means the conclusion of another tax year and that tax obligations must soon be met, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Before tackling the tax reporting job, Bates suggests that farmers and ranchmen get a copy of the Internal Revenue Service's 1962 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide. It is available without cost from the offices of local county agents or those of the Internal Revenue Service. The guide is written in easy-to-read style and includes examples of problems worked out on the application tax forms.

As for the dates, January 15 is the deadline for farmers and ranchmen who want to draw time for filing their final report to file their 1961 tax estimate. If the estimate is filed, Bates explains, the final date for filing of the 1960 form is extended to April 15. If no estimate is filed, February 15 then becomes the deadline for making the final tax report. These deadlines, points out the specialist, apply to taxpayers who derived two-thirds or more of their 1961 gross income from farming or ranching.

Another important consideration is the reporting of hired labor and the social security tax on wages paid. Either of two tests determine whether or not a farmer must pay the social security tax on wages. If the worker was paid $150 or more during the calendar year or if the worker was paid wages on hourly or day basis for 30 days or more during the year, the 3 per cent social security tax should have been deducted from the cash wages.

Form 943 is used for reporting farm wages. The farmer-employer must show the wages paid and give the account number of individual workers. The withheld tax plus an equal amount from the employer along with the reporting form must be filed on or before January 31 or a month after the close of the year. Because every phase of the farm and ranch business can be affected by tax, Bates emphasizes the need for a study of the Tax Guide.

Farmers' Tax Guides may be secured at the county agent's office in Snyder at 1913 Twenty-seventh Street.

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Wed., Dec. 13, 1961 3

CUTE HABIT?—Little girl admires her thumb-sucking doll.

Dolls Come Alive

If little girls aren't careful, dolls will organize and take them over. Make-believe babies, sisters and playmates have become that real. New doll accomplishments this Christmas season include dolls who kiss with a resounding smack when their palms are pressed, and dolls that suck their thumbs.

Dolls get sick too as everyone knows, so little girls will be charmed by a doll equipped with a crank-up hospital bed and a fever chart. The bedridden doll can turn her face in three ways to illustrate phases of her recovery. And as if Santa hasn't been busy enough making dolls more flexible than ever, he's hired a batch of dress designers who seem to know what every well-dressed doll should have in her wardrobe.

Dolls are more fashionable than ever. The Jacqueline influence is evident in the bouffant hairdos, although there are stylish pixie and artichoke coiffures too.

New dress ideas include a basic dress that comes with five different kinds of accessories. Any little girl's playmate can be in the best dressed group in doll land by changing her accessories from tunic to collar and cuffs to meet every playroom occasion.

A little growing girl can still find a doll that makes a proper playmate, points out the Toy Guidance Council. The bigger and bigger trend in dolls is illustrated in kindergarten size dolls as tall as 40 inches and in child-size bedrooms and kitchen equipment of corrugated fiberboard, including even a studio bed for a playmate-size doll who comes to spend the night.

Doll accessory designers seem to have thought of everything, providing baby doll car cribs which double as beds when not in transit and convenient carrying cases for essential feeding and grooming aids. One talking doll can be connected with a record player to offer an unlimited range of conversation.

Have A Fire-Safe Holiday

BOSTON — Fire is an unwelcome visitor in the home, and especially so at Christmas time.

Fires in Christmas trees and decorations each year spoil the holiday in hundreds of homes, says the National Fire Protection Association. Far more serious than the average cost of $769 per family affected, these fires endanger the lives of children and parents.

Because of traditional holiday customs — trees, lights, decorations, Yule logs in the fireplace, paper wrappings and a festive spirit — the NFPA suggests "Christmas is a time to be more — not less — heedful of fire dangers."

For a fire-safe Christmas, the NFPA suggests:

- Obtain a fresh-cut tree whose needles don't shed freely. Keep it in water from the time it is bought until it is thrown out, support it well, and never set where it can block escape in the event of fire. And remove it as soon as possible after Christmas.
- Check tree lights carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.
- Keep candles away from the tree and use extreme care in smoking when you are near a tree.
- Make sure tree lights are turned off before you go to bed or before you leave the house.
- Keep power shut off while you set up outdoor lighting and use only weatherproof equipment and cords.
- Use only noncombustible or flameproofed decorations.
- Dispose of gift wrappings promptly.
- Think ahead about what you would do for the safety of your family if fire does start.

Yule Tip: Let HIM Trim Tree

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

After the rigors of shopping, and before you tackle the business of being festive on the Day itself, why not take a breather?

If you play it right, tree trimming time can mean luxurious laziness for you. Rules of the game:

1. KEEP the wee ones out from underfoot, preferably in bed dreaming of sugarplums.
2. SOLVE the gift problem in advance, so that everything is already mailed, distributed or wrapped and waiting deployment under the tree.
3. APPOINT your peerless leader chief planner of decorating strategy — meaning the founder of the feast, the carver on the roast, the head of the household himself. (A dutiful wife always lets her husband make major decisions such as where to place the Christmas ornaments.)

NOTE: In the interest of efficiency and keeping him up on the ladder, you may have to exert yourself somewhat. But replenishing his glass of iced tea from time to time doesn't compare in extended ergs with stringing lights yourself.

4. KEEP refreshments simple, institute self-service, if your spouse insists on inviting in the neighbors.
5. DON'T say witty things — such as "All your taste is in your mouth" — if he's making a travesty of the trimming. But kindly and gently, from the comfortable depths of a sofa or chaise longue, expound upon these principles:

- A. A short, full tree is trimmed vertically.
- B. A tall, slender tree is trimmed horizontally.
- C. Formula for number of lights needed: Multiply tree height (in feet) times width at base (in feet) times 3. (Example: 5-foot tree 4-foot wide at base would take 5 x 4 x 3 or 60 lights.)
- D. Order of trimming: Put on top star or angel decoration then string lights — working from top down. Next come string decorations, glass ball ornaments and, lastly, the tinsel placed vertically, piece by piece, on each branch. Finish up with spray snow.

- E. MAKE these pointers if the tree is growing outdoors, before you bundle him up against the cold:
1. Trees (especially blue spruce and Douglas fir) need special protection from the heat of tree lights and from the weight on the branches. One solution is to build a simple teepee to carry the light strings. Pound stakes into the ground around the tree inside the spread of branches at regular intervals. Then string wire up from the stakes to a point several inches below the tree top. Fit a padded wire collar around this point and fasten to the wires. This will keep the tree free from damage.
2. Be sure all outdoor wiring is either 12 or 14 heavy-duty rubber insulated to withstand all types of weather.

3. DON'T go out with him. Your chattering teeth will only unnerve him. Instead, draw up a comfortable chair to a convenient window, and watch his antics with wifely encouragement and solicitude.

Missilemen's Christmas Cards Show Churches

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — Edward Rosenfeld draws his own Christmas cards — not particularly unusual.

But Rosenfeld has most unusual sources from which he draws ideas — the houses of worship scattered along U. S. missile ranges.

Rosenfeld is a key member of the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency's Nike Zeus development team. His job is island hopping. He selects sites and plans facilities for the Zeus system.

And recent additions to his collection of drawings are a mosque in Trinidad, British West Indies, and the dome of a synagogue at Curacao, Dutch West Indies.

"Most people expend a little extra effort in building a church," says Rosenfeld. "That's why these places of worship are interesting subjects for me to draw."

"Not every church is acceptable to me. They must have a certain picturesque quality."

Rosenfeld began drawing churches in 1956 when he did a sketch of Notre Dame de Paris. In 1957, the National Cathedral in Washington was his Christmas card subject. The cathedral was still being built, and Rosenfeld's drawing shows the scaffolding and unfinished spire.

The following year, while in El Paso, Tex., Rosenfeld made a 200-mile trip on a weekend to draw a Spanish church at Chihuahua, Mexico. Since then, he has been looking for picturesque churches in out-of-the-way places.

Rosenfeld takes no special equipment for his drawings. An office

"Even if your friends have a dishwashing policy that's strictly 'drain instead of wipe dry,' calendar towels still make welcome Christmas gifts. The selection with 1962 dates—which will lend a gay, pretty air to kitchens all year long—includes many flower and fruit designs, as well as Pennsylvania Dutch and rustic American motifs. These towels come in printed fabrics which are as safe in hot soap or detergent suds as the standard white linen."

THIS ANTI-MISSILE MISSILE HAD BETTER WORK

Many Teachers Face More Problems Than Low Salary

BY INEZ ROBB

From time to time—about once a month—I am overcome with wonder that this nation can coax anyone to teach school. The fact that so many extraordinarily fine persons do dedicate their lives to teaching is a major miracle.

There are, in one woman's opinion, three noble professions: teaching, medicine and the ministry. Yet most teachers and ministers make barely enough money to keep body and soul apart. And in countless small towns and rural districts, the doctor isn't much better financially positioned.

Pay and if I were Santa I'd raise every teacher's salary fivefold isn't the crux that would keep me out of the teaching profession. The bar, for me, would be the fact that every American community believes it has an inherent right to pry into every facet of a teacher's public and private life.

A dedicated teacher must put up with the nagging interference of the community, the school board, parents, superintendent and principals. In my day, if I got a whaling at school, I got a whaling at home. Just for good measure. But your modern parent rushes to the school and whales the teacher.

Just recently I read that some poor, innocent young teacher was run out of his job for trying to demonstrate the evils of tobacco to eighth-graders. He let each pupil take one draw on a cigarette to show how horrid it is the vile weed. Some nasty little snitch went to the principal and, before he knew it, the young man was out on his ear for debauching innocent children.

Nonsense! That teacher was doing one of the most sensible acts of his career. History will probably show that he prevented a majority of that class from succumbing to tobacco addiction.

When I was an eighth-grader, I was given one puff of a cigarette, found it incredibly disgusting and have never since touched one of the things except in empty ashtrays. But an hysterical principal and indignant parents, not bother.

Demand For Crude Rises

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas crude purchasers have indicated to the Railroad Commission they want to buy 2,668,470 barrels of oil a day in January, an increase of 77,453 barrels a day over December.

The commission said the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast a demand for Texas crude of 2,668,000 barrels daily in January, up 120,000 barrels a day over December. Increases in purchaser nominations were reported Tuesday in 10 of the state's 12 districts.

Oil company nominations and the Bureau of Mines forecast will be used at a probation hearing Friday, when the commission will set the statewide oil allowable. Increases in nominations, by district: 3,129 barrels, Southwest Texas No. 9; 17,573, Gulf Coast; 9,226, Southwest Texas, No. 4; 560, East Central Texas; 4,742, East Texas; 3,715, East Texas Field; 2,626, West Central Texas; 2,066, West Central Texas; 2,360, West Texas and 481, North Texas.

Decreases were shown for Southwest Texas No. 1, 672, and Panhandle, 2,597.

ing to assay the result of the test, took it out on the hapless teacher.

Now, in another community, a group of parents has suddenly discovered that "The Scarlet Letter" is a dirty book. Nathaniel Hawthorne was incapable of writing a dirty line, much less a dirty book, and his masterpiece, "The Scarlet Letter," is so permeated by the brooding, gloomy spirit of New England as to inflame no one, even the residents of Peyton Place.

I bet a nickel that the parents complaining about "The Scarlet Letter" and demanding that it be removed from the high-school library, have never in their collective lives censored the sex-saturated movies or magazines to which their offspring are addicted without let or hindrance.

Another school district has just discovered, after 200 years, that our Puritan ancestors, far from models of moral rectitude, were so naughty that some of their customs cannot be exposed to the innocent youths of 1961. Unfortunately for the teaching profession, one of its own, a chairman of "social studies," has deemed that the old Puritan custom of "bundling" is not fit and proper for classroom reading.

For once, high-school seniors and their parents have moved in to give the professor an argument. So in this instance parents must be given an "E" for effort, and the kids an "A" for common sense. Good grief, this would be a happier world all around if some genius would only invent a bundling board for use in the back seat.

Meter For Office Time Suggested

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes many a boss goes home after a difficult day feeling he hasn't earned much money for his company. It haunts his evening.

Sometimes many a hired hand goes home with the same realization, but it doesn't always ruin his enjoyment of the twilight family meal.

But there is a way that a boss can make a personal profit during his working hours. This is to price his time by a meter as a potential parking space does to a visiting auto.

The boss can do the same thing with persons instead of motor cars. But he must vary the price of moments and hours clocked on the meter by the value he places on the time different visitors are worth in terms of his own measure of their importance.

Her is how this idea works: As soon as you come into his office or a frowning presence, you are a busy executive fronted by a large and serious meter.

The meter is a sophisticated one. It accepts paper currency as readily as it does coins. It automatically rejects checks and credit cards, letters from old friends, signs on the back—anything except cash.

It has attached to it a large and conspicuous sign that reads: "My time is valuable and here are the rates you must pay to use it. Please put your money in the meter in advance."

Asking for raises in salary, ordinary employees, $1 a second. Asking for raises in commissions, top salesman only, $1 a minute.

Ex-girl friend who wonders why she didn't recognize how wonderful you were in college when gee! you're so wonderful now—boss turns meter off.

Life insurance salesman explaining why boss needs more protection—50 cents a minute, or one-half of his first year's commission, if he succeeds in selling the boss more.

Discussion with boss's uncle, the chairman of the board, on why the firm needs fresh talent—boss puts in own meter.

Discussion with three after-luncheon fellow golfing executives—five cents an hour. Boss puts in first nickel. Meter ticks on unpaid for next three hours.

Talk with junior executive—be in 15 cents to get meter back in business. Boss then raises rate to $1 a minute as he assures junior executive he has great future in firm.

Someone comes in with an unexpected sales order—boss turns off meter, takes order, silently debits own sales manager for $187 in meter repairs.

A gentleman from Internal Revenue Service is announced—the boss throws his coat over his meter, stretches out a shirt-sleeved hand, and says, "My time is your time—I hope I'm joking."

She inserts a key into the parking meter by the desk of the boss, removes the contents, counts it, puts money into her oversize purse and says:

"George, you didn't do as well as yesterday. How many times do I have to tell you that time is money? Come, dear, it is time to go home. Tomorrow will be better."

DeWitt Clinton, governor of New York and father of the Erie Canal, was instrumental in founding the state's first savings bank in 1819.

Gail Stymies Hermleigh In 3 Of 4 Tilts

HERMLEIGH (Special)—Gail invaded Hermleigh Tuesday night and proceeded to sack up three victories in four games staged. The Cardinal varsity girls availed of a sweep by winning out in their contest, 44-10.

Gail topped the boys "A" game by 53-45 on the strength of a well-balanced attack which saw four boys hitting in twin figures. James Telchick led the way with 12, followed by Joel Dennis with 12 and Tim Cockerham and Mike Stephens with 10 each.

Ken Bell, with 19, was high for the Cardinals and the game. Teammate Tom Winter chipped in 13 to the losing cause, also.

Three girls accounted for all of Hermleigh's points in its win over the visitors. Judy Etheredge led attack with 18, while Carolyn Roemisch and Eddie Lou Wemken wrapped up scoring with 13 each.

They were forced to relinquish high point honors for the game to Gail's Pam Stephens, however, who came through with 21.

Gail "B" won its game by 53-20, with Bill Nunnally hitting for 12 and Tommy Kilgough and Danny Hagins 10 each to show the way. Ronnie Young had 7 to be high for Hermleigh "B".

Houston Dubs Yeoman Coach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—William F. (Bill) Yeoman, a guy who likes warm weather, is the University of Houston's fifth head football coach.

The 33-year-old backfield assistant at Michigan State was hired Tuesday by a screening committee that picked him unanimously. Yeoman's salary and length of contract were not disclosed.

He will replace Hal Lehr, who resigned in September but stayed on to coach the Cougars to a 6-4 season against tough opponents that included Alabama and Auburn.

It was sort of a birthday present for the former Texas A&M and Army player, who will be 34 Dec. 26.

"Visiting the University of Houston is like seeing another Michigan State," Yeoman said. "East Lansing, Mich. The people I met there are selling their product. They believe in it and their enthusiasm is infectious."

"I'm real excited about joining them."

Houston pulled-out of the Missouri Valley Conference after the 1954 season. The Cougars started football in 1946.

Yeoman has been an assistant under Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State since he resigned an Army commission to take the job eight years ago. He coached service teams after his graduation from Army.

Hobbs, Roby Halve Pair

HOBBS—Hobbs and Roby divided a pair of basketball games here Tuesday night, with Hobbs winning the girls game, 33-33, and Roby retaliating with a 70-51 decision in the boys game.

Gary Buck scored 37 points to lead Roby's victory in the boys game. Hobbs' center was high man for Hobbs with 24 points.

"Carol Walker and Dorey Groves shared scoring honors in the girls game, each accounting for 21 points for Hobbs. Sisie Hodges and L. Young had 10 apiece for Roby."

The Hobbs' girls will see action again Tuesday night when they entertain Rotan in the Hobbs gym.

Coyotes Sight In On Fifth Championship

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tailback Mike Kelly shook off the effects of a flu virus this week and returned to duty as the Wichita Falls Coyotes eyed a fifth schoolboy football championship.

Kelly, sidelined last week as his teammates pinned a 41-12 setback on Fort Worth Paschal, will be at full strength Saturday when the Coyotes and Galena Park battle for the Class AAAA state championship.

The title game, starting at 3:15 p.m. in TCU-Amon Carter Stadium, is expected to draw 30,000 fans.

Charlie Needham, chairman of the Greater Fort Worth Sports Committee, said Wichita Falls had ordered 7,500 tickets and Galena Park 7,000.

The game will be televised but there will be a 75- to 100-mile blackout around Fort Worth.

Galena Park, 21-6 conqueror of Corpus Christi Ray last week and bidding for its first championship, could be the one team this year to derail the Wichita Falls express.

The Coyotes have won 13 straight but they possibly haven't reckoned with a defense like the Yellow Jackets.

Led by tackle Calvin Enderli and guard Tommy Moore, the Galena Park line averages 191 pounds. Its defensive secondary ace, Johnny Cook, grabbed two Ray passes and intercepted a two-point try after the Corpus Christi touchdown.

The Jackets halted Ray four times inside the Galena Park 30. Three times in the second half they intercepted passes and turned them into touchdowns.

But with Kelly back and no reason to believe fullback Larry Shields won't turn in another average performance, the Coyotes are solid favorites.

Shields ripped through Paschal for four touchdowns last week. The 197-pound senior no doubt will be striving to end his high school football career on a spectacular note.

Aviation Bowl Has Troubles

By HAL PARIS
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—There were considerable speculations here today that last Saturday's Aviation Bowl may mark this city's first and last venture into post-season football games.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Dayton Junior Chamber of Commerce disclosed backers probably will drop close to $10,000.

Don Miller, chairman of the Aviation Bowl Committee, said a complete financial breakdown on the game will not be available for a week or more.

New Mexico was the game, beating Western Michigan 28-12 under adverse weather conditions. Snow, sleet, rain and temperatures in the 20s kept the attendance down to an announced 3,976.

Miller said that tickets sold, but not used, should boost the over-all total to near 5,000.

He said the winning Lobos of the Skyline Conference were guaranteed $18,000 and Western Michigan was to receive a minimum of either $6,000 or 37 1/2 percent of gross receipts.

"When all the receipts are in," Miller said, "our gross from tickets, parking and program sales should be about $28,000. However, we have to pay a little more than that to the participating schools."

Under its percentage slice, Western Michigan figures to receive close to $9,000. Miller said the Jaycees spent about $8,500 for expenses, including watches for the players, trophies, promotion, publicity and ticket printing.

"If there is to be another bowl game, we are going to have to get help making up a deficit of close to $10,000," Miller said.

The Jaycees spokesman pointed out, however, that business firms and private individuals already were contributing to a fund to help out the losses.

"Enthusiasm for this project has been tremendous," Miller said. "We just got every bad break in the book. Obviously, the gate would have been much better if an Ohio team participated and if the weather had been better."

Texas A&M was the only undefeated team in the Holiday Doubleheaders at Texas Tech last year. The Aggies beat Eastern Kentucky 76-57 and A&M Force Academy 62-51. Texas Tech downed the Air Academy 61-26 last year.

To Eastern Kentucky 78-66.

Bulldogs Rip Highland '5'

IRA (Special)—Ira's Bulldogs, fresh from copping the Fluvanna Invitational championship, continued their winning ways here Tuesday night by thumping Highland 64-48.

Big Tommy Sterling was the big gun in the Bulldog attack with 20 points for his efforts. While Mike Stephens was just a point away with 19, Donnie Dunn added 10 to the winning cause, also.

Phil Wright sparked Highland in the scoring department with 17, followed by Gayland Seaton and his 13.

Highland's girls led off the evening's action by stopping Ira, 34-23, behind Peggy Bankhead and Frances Morris, who were good for 18 and 14 points, respectively.

Janice Bishop topped Ira's point producers with 12.

Ira will travel to Highland for a return match Thursday, when the girls game will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the boys game follow it at 8 o'clock.

Ira Boys—T. Sterling 8-20, Aubrey 4-8, M. Sterling 8-9-19, Dunn 4-2-10, R. Sterling 1-1-3, Kimbrell 2-0-4. Totals 73-10-64.

Highland Boys—P. Wright 8-17, Seaton 3-13, D. Wright 1-2, Rankin 4-8, White 1-2, Alderman 3-6-6. Totals 30-48.

Ira Girls—Ford 1-2, Jones 2-6, Dove 2-1-5, Bishop 4-12. Totals 9-2-25.

Highland Girls—Morris 3-14, Bankhead 7-18, McKee 1-2-2. Totals 11-32-34.

High Scoring Tilt Expected

By CHARLES GREEN
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Abe Martin of Texas Christian — the only coach who faced both Kansas and Rice this year—looks for a hectic afternoon Saturday when the Owls and Jayhawks meet in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

"It ought to be a wild offensive game," Martin said. "Both teams are real good, both have fine quarterbacks and they can hurt you running or passing."

TCU beat Kansas 17-16 and lost to Rice 35-16.

But that doesn't mean Martin favors Rice in the nationally televised game Saturday.

"I just can't pick a winner," he said. "We had a real good day for Kansas and Rice had a real good day for us."

"But I think it will be pretty close, like one team with three touchdowns and the other with two."

Martin said John Hadl, Kansas' all Big-Eight quarterback, is one of the best players TCU faced all season.

Executive Speaks To Scouters Here

"Ge, I even got to shake hands with the mayor," was the way one enthusiastic young Snyder scout put it here last night in the Stanford Elementary Cafeteria during the Scouters Fellowship Banquet.

The banquet, attended by a large group of local business and civic leaders, was presided over by district chairman J. Mark McLaughlin.

P. V. Thorsen, executive of the Buffalo Trail Council—a council which embraces 18 West Texas counties—addressed the group on the aims and functions of scouting and on the responsibility and advancement of Snyder adults in its advancement.

Scout leader Lester Mundy assisted a group of Troop 35 boys in presenting a program on the specific workings of scouting. Lending him a hand in the presentation were Jerry Rains, Tim Burton, Benny Garrett, Luther Shy, Robert McAllister, Eddie Skains, and James Farren.

Rev. Walter Mitchell offered the invocation of the evening, and Rev. Walter Lantz the benediction. Virgil Mott led the assembly in singing "America" as part of the program.

At the conclusion of the meeting, those in attendance jotted down areas they felt they could be of assistance in Snyder's Boy Scout program, and from that list will be drawn workers for the movement.

More than 2.5 billion pounds of dog food were purchased last year. In the nation's supermarkets, dog food, by weight, was the No. 1 canned food seller.

Jr. High Bands Set Yule Concert

The first annual Junior High Christmas Band Concert will be presented in the High School Auditorium on Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. Beginning and advanced bands from both junior high schools will participate in the hour long program to which the public is invited.

First on the program will be the combined beginners bands comprising 86 members. These seventh graders, who have been playing less than four months, will perform four numbers. They will start with "Astronaut's March" by Peter Reynolds. Second will be "Red River Valley" arranged by Reynolds. The third number, "Three Christmas Carols," was arranged by John Kinyon and includes "Away in a Manger," "We Three Kings," and "O Come All Ye Faithful." They will complete their portion of the concert with a march by Kinyon entitled "Junior Varsity."

The eighth and ninth grade band from Lamar will be second on the program. They will open their segment with the stirring concert march by Eric Osterling, "Charter Oak." For their second number the band will play "The Christmas Suite," an arrangement of six seasonal songs ranging from a Gregorian chant to a modern number. The third offering will be "Jingle Bells Rhapsody" by Harold Walters. In this arrangement, Walters has presented the familiar tune in many different settings. For their fourth, and final number, the Lamar band will play Irving Berlin's classic "White Christmas," from "Guadalcanal March" from

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City patrolmen Mickey Pyburn and Leon Musgrove were cruising in their patrol car when they received instructions.

"Car 1, go to 20th and Charlotte. There's a woman stuck in a telephone booth," that was just half the story. There were two women.
