alleged role in the Aug. 5 murder of 16-year-old Lennon Lane of Big Spring.

Jackman originally faced a certification hearing on Oct. 11, but Lockhart decided to consider his decision for two weeks and announced his ruling shortly after 2 p.m. Thursday.

Jackman was transferred Thursday from a juvenile detention facility in Midland to the Howard County Jail. With his certification, he becomes eligible for bail, but a bond amount has not been set yet.

Last month, 16-year-old Pedro Castillo was certified by Lockhart to stand trial as an adult for his alleged role in Lane's murder. Castillo is being held in the Howard County Jail in lieu of $150,000 bond.

Terrell L. Jackman, 19, was arrested Aug. 22 in connection with the slaying and is being held in lieu of $200,000 bond.

Lane's body was discovered the afternoon of Aug. 5 in a field north of the intersection of 19th and State streets. Autopsy results determined Lane died of blunt force trauma.

Also last month, 16-year-old Tommy Rodriguez was certified

Dignitaries join in celebrating Mae Henry's special birthday

Even at 100, Mae Henry still has style.

On Thursday, Oct. 17, dressed in a sharp maroon suit with a deep red rose adorning her collar, Henry celebrated a century of birthdays.

"When you turn 100, everybody finds out about you," Big Spring Mayor Russ McEwen quipped as he presented Henry with certificates from Gov. Rick Perry and State Sen. Robert Duncan commemorating her birthday.

Among her presents scattered on the table was a Texas flag sent by yet another political dignitary, State Rep. David

"What she's seen during her lifetime boggles the mind.

She was born closer to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln than the assassination of John F. Kennedy. When she was born, we didn't fly."

Henry was born in Livingston, an East Texas logging community, on Oct. 17, 1902.

"What she's seen during her lifetime boggles the mind," McEwen told the crowd of friends and family gathered at Mountain View Lodge nursing home. "She was born closer to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln than the assassination of John F. Kennedy."

Henry married Lemuel Keefer on Oct. 16, 1918, and the couple had six boys, Jim, Robert, Red, Roy, Levi and L.D.

Officials seeing voting, registration trends go in different directions

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

Despite a heated gubernatorial race, early voting figures in Howard County are down slightly in relation to the last comparable election.

County Clerk Donna Wright said so far this year, 893 people have cast early ballots at the Howard County Courthouse while 58 people cast votes during branch voting opportunities at Carriage Inn and Canterbury retirement homes this week — a total 951 early ballots so far.

"In 1998 (the last gubernatorial election), at this point we had 1,174," Wright said. "In 2000 we had 1,956 for the presidential election. We always have a bigger turnout when it comes to the president."

In addition to the early voting totals, Wright's office has received 267 ballots returned by mail of 408 requested. Mail ballots were not included in the 1998 and 2000 figures, she said.

Wright said she doesn't know why early voting numbers are down.

"It's hard to say. It really is hard to say," she said. "I don't know if it's because there's nothing locally that's really contested other than the county commissioners' races. The numbers are up on voter registration, so it makes no sense to me if more people are registering. It could be the negative campaigning, but of course statewide and national news says the negative campaigns work. I don't know. I've always been taught otherwise. I can't figure it out."

from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday and next week Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the courthouse.

However, Wright said voters shouldn't wait until the absolute last minute to cast early votes.

"Friday is the (Big Spring High School Homecoming) parade at 4 o'clock," she said. "It's going to be difficult to get to the courthouse from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. The parade starts at 4, and by 5 o'clock it's usually thinned out, but you won't be able to get to the courthouse between 4 and 5."

BSISD campuses take Red Ribbon Week to heart

Red flowed all across Big Spring Independent School District campuses this week.

No, teachers weren't getting hand cramps from writing corrections to classwork — it's Red Ribbon Week.

Big Spring schools took part in the national awareness campaign to fight drugs by incorporating it into the classroom curriculum and hosting all types of activities during the week.

Activities at each campus included:

- Big Spring High School: Monday was "Decoration Day," as students tied red ribbons around trees on campus and gave them to faculty. On Tuesday, faculty and students showed their support by wearing red ribbons and bracelets. Thursday was "Wear Red Day" and today a special announcement about the campaign was made in observance of the week.

- Big Spring Junior High School: Monday was "Put a Handcuff on Drugs Day." Students wore red ribbon wrist bands. Tuesday, students wore flannel and pajamas to "Put Drugs to Rest." Wednesday was "Crazy Hair Day" for the theme "Change Your Hairstyle, No to Your Lifestyle." Students wore Mardi Gras masks for "Mask Out to Drugs" on Thursday. Today, students celebrated "It's Been a Great Week, Now Dress like a Geek."

- Goliad Intermediate School: On Monday, students wore sunshades to "Shade out to Drugs."

CMA members preparing for Biker Sunday service

By LYNDEL MOODY

Staff Writer

Black-leather clad motorcyclists will be roaring up to the parking lot of Hillcrest Baptist Church Sunday to participate in the third annual Biker Sunday.

"It's an evangelic outreach ministry designed to take the holy church and reach out to the community," said Dee Harmon, local Christian Motorcycle Association Wings of Grace chapter president. "We invite all bikers to come celebrate, praise and worship with us."

Activities for the event include live entertainment by Heart-N-Soul, bike games, awards and the blessing of the bikes.

"This is just like a motorcycle rally but with a little Christian twist to it," Harmon said.

The event begins at 8:30 a.m. at the church and will draw 100 to 200 bikes and their riders. Worship begins at 10:30 a.m. with a message delivered by CMA West Texas Representative Bob Baker.

"Our target is for the motorcycle community but we draw interested passers by and others who want to see the bikes," Harmon said. "Everyone is welcome to come and check it out."

Harmon requests bikers bring one can of food per person to donate to the church's food closet.

CMA received donations from the Big Spring Professional Fire fighters Association for $400 and from the Fraternal Order of Eagles of $500 to help with cost of the event. Harley-Davidson Shop, Steve Link and several other local merchants donated prizes.

to stand trial as an adult for his suspected role in the July 30 killing of Harlan Jene Patton, 70, of Big Spring. Rodriguez is being held in the county jail in lieu of $150,000 bond.

Melanie Castenada, 17, is also being held in connection with the Patton murder. Her bail has been set at $150,000. Castenada is being held in Midland because Howard County does not have facilities to house female prisoners.

Patton's body was discovered in a field off Rock House Road on July 30. Preliminary results of an autopsy ordered by Justice of the Peace Marilyn Carson indicate that the cause of death was asphyxiation by strangulation.

The five suspects will probably face the Howard County Grand Jury Nov. 7, said District Attorney Hardy Wilkerson.

A SMALL PRAYER

By K. Rae Anderson

We are complete people when we have you in our lives, Lord.

Amen

U.S. adds to women's problems everywhere

As all the Miss Witherspoons of our lives used to call in those clear, fluty tones, "Attention, girls!" Heads up, women, we've got problems.

The latest in a long line of anti-woman decisions by the Bush administration is, for once, getting some attention, in part because of the sheer cheapness of the move.

President Bush has decided not to send the $34 million approved by both houses of Congress for the United Nations Fund for Population Activities (UNFPA). The fund provides contraception, family planning and safe births, and works against the spread of HIV and against female genital mutilation in the poorest countries of the world. Thirty-four million dollars goes a long way in the parts of the world where over 600,000 women die every year from pregnancy and childbirth, many of them children themselves.

Of course, our poor government is so broke it can't afford to waste $34 million on women in poor countries. It has more important things to do, like spending $100 million on "promoting marriage." (I'm in favor of recycling old Nike ads for this one: "Marriage. Just do it.")

Two women — Jane Roberts, a retired teacher in California, and Lois Abraham, a lawyer in New Mexico — have started a splendid symbolic protest, and it is spreading. The organizers are looking for "34 million Friends of UNFPA" to send $1 each to the United Nations (FPA) at 220 East 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Thoraya Ahmed Obaid, director of the UNFPA, said the $34 million U.S. contribution would have helped prevent 2 million unwanted pregnancies, 800,000 induced abortions, 4,700 maternal deaths and 77,000 infant and child deaths. We don't have $34 million to save the lives of poor women, but President Bush wants to spend $135 million on abstinence education, which doesn't work.

According to that fountain of misinformation, the Rev. Jerry Falwell: "This announcement angered school sex educators, who concentrate on teaching our nation's students that they should explore their sexuality and ignore the consequences. But Mr. Bush said government can teach children how to exhibit sexual control."

Actually, sex education is entirely about the consequences of "exploring sexuality," and it works. The Guttmacher Institute published a report last week showing that the abortion rate is down by 11 percent in this country precisely because young people are now getting more education about sex. One would think the anti-abortion forces would be grateful.

Instead, there is every indication that in addition to taking away a woman's right to choose whether to have an abortion, the Bush administration is going after contraception, as well. Bush's first action on his first day as president was to reinstitute the global "gag rule" that no foreign aid can go to any women's clinic abroad that mentions the word abortion, even when the life of the mother is at stake. Now he wants to make W. David Hager chairman of the Food and Drug Administration's panel on women's health policy. Hager is an ob-gyn from Kentucky who wants the FDA to reverse its approval of RU-486, the so-called "abortion pill."

Although Hager is the editor of a book that includes the essay "Using the Birth Control Pill is Ethically Unacceptable," he told Maureen Dowd of The New York Times he does not agree with the essay. Then why include it? He does not prescribe contraceptives for single women, does not do abortions, will not prescribe RU-486 and will not insert IUDs. Hager also believes headaches, PMS and eating disorders can be cured by reading Scripture. I do not want this man in charge of my health policy.

It took almost all of human history for the population of the globe to reach 1 billion in 1800. It took only from 1987 to 1999 for world population to grow from 5 billion to 6 billion. At current rates, we will reach 13 billion by the middle of the 21st century. Ninety-five percent of this growth will be in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

Studies estimate that by 2025, two out of every three people on Earth will live in water-stressed conditions. The stress on global resources is already apparent. The National Wildlife Federation points to severe deforestation, habitat fragmentation, species extinction, water scarcity, climate change, loss of biodiversity and pollution. The grim toll on the Earth's resources goes on and on.

While we spend trillions on weapons, the military and homeland security, the real threats — water scarcity, climate change and population growth — advance unchecked. Of course, you would know more about all this if the media weren't so busy wasting hours of time on rank speculation about the Maryland sniper. Crime doesn't pay, but it sells.

YOUR VIEWS

TO THE EDITOR:

Members of the West Texas Alzheimer's Association Big Spring Advisory Committee would like to thank everyone that made our 4th Annual Memory Walk a success. Our sponsors — H-E-B, Scenic Mountain Medical Center, Alon and the Big Spring Herald — did a great job. Thanks for your support.

Master of ceremonies Gary Fuqua, team captains and about 200 excited adults, children, dogs and a horse made the atmosphere festive and the competition fierce for door prizes and trophies.

To our registration volunteers — Sherry Hodnett, Virginia Davidson, Inez Bearden, Jo Wyatt, Wayne Jones and John Cline — we couldn't have done it without you. A special thanks to the Howard College Cheerleaders for their enthusiastic cheers to get us started.

Thank you to those who donated food and the sound system.

We raised money and promoted community awareness about a disease that will in some way affect all of us if a cure is not found. The Alzheimer's Association is active and supportive through education, support groups and promoting public awareness in Howard County.

TO THE EDITOR:

Congratulations to everyone who made the Webb Reunion last week an unqualified success. And special thanks to the city of Big Spring, the Herald, the chamber of commerce and Reunion Co-Chairman Jim Little and his staff of dedicated volunteers.

The 10 members from Class 67-C who attended were taken by the kindness and hospitality accorded to us and our spouses. I was a five-year Big Spring resident (1965-1970) and a former Big Spring businessman (The Silent Woman Inn, 1968-1969).

Upon arrival in Big Spring last week I soon remembered what makes your city such a very special place. Wonderful people.

For my wife Cookie and myself, please thank all those who contributed to this important event. We hope that you may consider a repeat in the future.

TO THE EDITOR:

The article by Lyndel Moody about Zimmalew Boekmer was excellent! Zimmalew is my cousin and was a big part of my growing up years. She taught me in fourth grade and in high school Sunday School. Every Wednesday and on game days (football and basketball), my best friend and I would eat dinner at her house and relax before going to the event.

Her love for God and family has always been evident and had a big part in who I am today.

Though the article has already been printed, I just thought I would also write you and let you know what a huge blessing she has been to me personally as well.

Halloween in a small town

There is one holiday every year that I look forward to more than any of the others. Christmas for me is a time of celebrating my family and what we have accomplished that year.

The same goes for Thanksgiving. My Dad has been cooking for Herman's Restaurant for more than 30 years. The turkey dinners on Sunday and during the holidays are famous with customers.

When people find out that Esmael Munoz Sr. is my Dad many ask me, "Does he cook at home?" Not that often, but he usually does the holiday fare for our family including his father and his sisters.

Needless to say what he cooks for us at home is above and beyond anything you get in a restaurant.

However, I digress because while I love the holidays Thanksgiving and Christmas are not my favorites.

My favorite holiday is Halloween.

As a child I remember sitting with my grandmother at her kitchen table drawing ghosts, an owl over a moon (which I still have), and putting together paper chains made of black and orange construction paper.

We would decorate the house with our homemade creations draping the paper chains over the doorway and taping the cutout ghosts and black cats on the windows. And of course we always had Jack o'lanterns.

While we waited for everyone to finish supper and get ready to go we passed out candy to the trick-or-treaters that came to our house. We always enjoyed seeing what costumes the other kids were wearing.

My brothers and I went trick-or-treating every year until we were told we were too old. But that didn't stop us from finding other ways to enjoy Halloween.

While my brothers were still young enough to go door to door our Dad would drive them all over town. When they would finally come home we would pour out all the candy on the table and pick out what we thought might be tainted.

"Tainted" was supposed to mean candy that wasn't wrapped, had holes poked in it or whose wrapper was torn. What it really meant was anything we didn't want we gave to my little brother, Daniel.

My other brother Esmael, was the middle child and most easily manipulated, and I made him eat it and then watched to see what happened.

Nothing ever did.

At one time haunted houses were popular in Big Spring. There was one that was held in a church on Gregg Street and another that was held in Cowper's Clinic where a bank now stands.

While we knew everything was fake, it was still fun to walk through and be scared out of our wits by a ghoul or vampire that would jump at us from behind a door or out of a cardboard coffin.

We would laugh and tease each other about how scared we were and how the vampire seemed to have a problem keeping his teeth from falling out of his mouth.

Now that I'm older and have a child of my own I can enjoy this time of year with him. It's still as much fun now as it was when I was his age although I'm not sure he appreciates me wearing scary makeup when his father and I take him trick-or-treating.

Living in a small town lends a lot of freedom. We know everyone on our block and have lots of places to go we know are safe.

Big Spring is full of wonderful people (and some not so wonderful, but the wonderful greatly outweigh the not so's). I know because I think I've met everybody in Big Spring while working here at the Herald.

But like the fur on the 20 cats that live at my back door changes each season so does life.

Today is the last day of my career at this newspaper. To the friends I've made at the Herald and through it it's been a joy.

Happy Halloween

Overcoming exploitation of sex and violence

As we prepare for White Ribbon Against Pornography Week, I share with you some reflections of the US Catholic Bishops on overcoming the exploitation of sex and violence in communications.

The Christian understanding of the body and sexuality is rooted scripturally in the creation accounts in the book of Genesis that describe God's loving creation of the body into which God breathes a life-giving spirit.

The human race thus brought into existence is revealed as created by God to be both male and female.

Pornography offends against the divine plan for the body and for the intimacy of sexual union.

It fixates on certain normal bodily functions in an immodest and obsessive way.

By putting on display both bodily functions normally kept private and acts of sexual intimacy, which belong properly to the love of husband and wife, pornography violates the respect due the body and robs sexual intimacy of its intrinsic meaning and purpose.

In addition, those who produce pornography, distribute it, or view it are all gravely injured by the harm done to their human dignity.

MICHAEL PFEIFER

Isolating sexuality from a moral context and using it to titillate or degrade others for one's own profit or pleasure is always wrong.

The Most Rev. Michael D. Pfeifer, OMI is the Catholic Bishop of the Diocese of San Angelo which encompasses 29 counties in West Texas.

Mendoza could be last-minute decision

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor
The Big Spring Steers are bracing for the worst, but hoping for the best with receiver Brandon Mendoza.

Mendoza, who did not practice with the team Monday or Tuesday, could be a game time decision for Big Spring head coach Dwight Butler when he takes to the field tonight in Levelland. The senior wide out has been slowed the past week with a medialateral sprain in his knee.

"He could miss this week's game," Butler said Thursday afternoon. "We're just going to have to wait and see how he is before the game and then make a decision."

Big Spring, 4-3 overall and 1-1 in District 4-4A action, will face Levelland (5-2, 1-1) beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Levelland.

The loss of Mendoza would be a double dose of bad news for the Steers, who earlier in the week announced defensive back Eric Chavez would not play this week after suffering a hyperextended elbow. Mendoza, the lead receiver

Mike Ornales to become Chavez's replacement.

That move, according to Butler, would have a ripple effect on the Big Spring offense. By moving Ornales to the defensive side of the ball, the Steers would be forced into using some of its younger receivers in West Texas, was an early option at replacing Chavez in the secondary.

Should Mendoza be unavailable, the Steers will likely turn to punter/receiver on offense.

"We'll probably have to rotate some of our other receivers in and out more often if we have to play Mike defensively," he said.

Despite the injuries, Butler said the Steers match up well with Levelland in most places, with the exception of the speed running back Christian Coronado brings to the table.

"I think we match up really well with them. In fact, we might be a little better in some places. Coronado's speed is the X factor for us."

"We've preached to our young men all week that he's just like the See STEERS, Page 3B

The Big Spring tennis team was in high spirits when they departed for Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon for the regional tennis tournament. The two-time defending district champs will be one of three BSHS teams on the road this week, joining the Steers' football and cross country teams.

No SHORTAGE OF SPORTAGE

Big Spring athletes will face busy weekend on the road

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor
One thing is for sure, Big Spring will certainly get plenty of exposure this weekend. No less than three Steer athletic teams will hit the Texas highways tonight to participate in key matchups.

All three, believe it or not, have postseason implications.

The Big Spring High school Steers kick off the weekend's action tonight with a big District 4-4A showdown against the Levelland Lobos.

A win and the Steer gridders would put themselves in the driver's seat in their quest to nail down a berth in the Class 4A state high school football playoffs.

The record-setting Big Spring cross country team will attempt to nail down the District 4-4A title tomorrow at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock. Big Spring, which won a school-record six straight meets earlier this year, will join squads from San Angelo Lake View, Frenship Lubbock Estacado, Levelland and Andrews at the event.

With a win at the District 4-4A meet, the Steers would earn a spot in the Region 1-4A Cross Country Meet. Individuals finishing in the top 10 in their respective races also advance.

The Big Spring team tennis squad will be looking to make the biggest jump of the weekend, beginning this afternoon in Wichita Falls. The Steers, who recently nailed down their second straight district title, are competing in the regional team tennis tournament.

A strong showing at the event could merit Big Spring a trip to the state championships next week.

Not all the action will be on the road. The Big Spring Lady Steers and the Big Spring swim team will be performing locally Saturday.

The Lady Steers, who have already clinched a playoff berth, will face state-ranked Andrews tomorrow beginning at 6 p.m. in the Steer Gym. Andrews, ranked No. 8 in the Class 4A polls, edged the Lady Steers in three games in their previous loop meeting.

The BSHS swimmers will be participating in the Big Spring Invitational meet. The diving action begins today at the YMCA pool. The swimming events will be held Saturday morning.

In all, 15 to 20 teams are expected to compete in the event.

Bulldogs puts bite on FHS in 'bowl'

By TOMMY WELLS

Sports Editor

Garrett Cornett returned a fumble 61 yards for a touchdown and Tad White tossed a 42-yard touchdown pass Thursday night to lead the Coahoma Bulldog junior varsity to a 28-6 win over the Forsan Buffaloes in the junior varsity version of the "Howard Co. Bowl."

Coahoma running backs Adam Thompson and Antonio Gonzales also scored in the contest for the Bulldogs.

With the win, Coahoma recorded its second straight win and improved to 2-1 in District 3-2A action. The Bulldogs are now 2-5-1 overall.

Gonzales got the offense clicking in the second quarter. He plowed his way into the end zone from two yards out to give the Bulldogs a quick edge. White added the 2-point conversion with a short run.

White didn't waste any time in highlighting a 21-0 second quarter run. On the Bulldogs' ensuing possession he dropped back into the pocket and lofted a 42-yard strike to Chris Bustamante for a score.

Bradley Tatum's extra point kick was good, giving Coahoma a 14-0 lead with less than five minutes left in the first half.

Cornett closed out the Bulldogs' scoring minutes later. He scooped up a Forsan fumble and returned it the distance for a touchdown.

Coahoma, using big blocks from center Terrell Bibb, tackles Jerry Duffer and Jonathan Gomez and guard Jarod Flohr, stretched its lead to 28-0 in the third when Thompson broke free on a 34 yard touchdown run.

Forsan thwarted the Bulldogs' shutout bid in the fourth period, scoring on a 58-yard pass play.

Coahoma returns to action this Thursday with a bout in Stanton.

Big Spring JV rushes past Levelland; freshmen stumble

The Big Spring Steers junior varsity snapped a two-game losing streak Thursday night with a 26-14 win over the Levelland Lobos at Memorial Stadium.

With the win, the Steers upped their season record to 3-5 and notched their first win in District 4-4A action.

Big Spring quarterback Jerry Doport played well in the contest.

The Big Spring freshmen didn't fare as well as their JV counterparts. The Steers' last-second attempt at stealing a victory in Levelland failed when time expired with Big Spring at the Lobo 1-yard line.

"We had some opportunities, we just didn't take advantage of them," said Steers' coach Dan Arista. Levelland jumped on top early. The Lobos scored on their second possession of the game and then tacked on an additional touchdown midway through the second quarter.

That 14-0 lead stood up until the fourth quarter when the Steers hit stride.

Big Spring quarterback Andy Lasater pulled to within 14-6 with a 5-yard keeper on a sweep.

After a failed on-sides kick attempt, the BSHS defense, using all three time outs, forced Levelland to punt with just over two minutes to play.

From there, Lasater hit Johnny Williams with a 40-yard pass play to the Lobo 20. Seconds later, Matt Hilario hauled in a pass to the LHS one, before time ran out. Big Spring is 4-4 overall.

The Big Spring offensive line will lead the Steers onto the field tonight for a crucial District 4-4A matchup with Levelland. Both teams are 1-1 in loop action.

Giants batter Angels, take 3-2 advantage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Barry Bonds is so close to the World Series trophy, he can almost touch it.

And with one more win, the San Francisco Giants might even let him take it home.

Bonds put the Giants on the brink of the championship, lining an RBI double that sent them hurtling toward a 16-4 romp over the Anaheim Angels on Thursday night and a 3-2 edge.

The trophy will be at Edison Field on Saturday night when Russ Ortiz tries to clinch San Francisco's first title. He'll start against Kevin Appier in Game 6.

After the Angels cut an early six-run deficit to 6-4, the Giants blew it open.

Slumping Jeff Kent sealed it with a pair of two-run homers, managing a rare smile in the process. That got the party going full force at Pac Bell Park and put the Giants' franchise one victory from its first crown since Willie Mays & Co. won it for New York in 1954.

Rich Aurilia added the exclamation point, a three-run homer in the eighth that let the Giants tie for the second-highest run total ever in a Series game. The New York Yankees scored 18 in 1936 and had 16 in 1960.

"Everybody did a great job, up and down our lineup," Giants manager Dusty Baker said.

Aurilia's drive set off a fog horn blast and shots from water cannons on top of the right-field wall beside the Bay. The Giants tied a Series record with their 12th home run, and the total of 17 by the teams matched another mark.

"You look at the final score, and it was a whuppin' — no doubt about that," Angels manager Mike Scioscia said.

And once again, it took just one big swing by Bonds — Mays' godson — to swing the momentum in this Series. But, really, the Angels were caught in a lose-lose squeeze from the start.

They pitched to Bonds in the first inning, and the Giants got three runs. They intentionally walked him in the second, and San Francisco scored three more.

Halloween was still a week away, but the big guy in orange and black had plenty of tricks and few treats for Anaheim.

Now, Bonds is within reach of the only prize he really wants. He's got everything else — the home run record, a batting title, MVP trophies, a sure spot in the Hall of Fame.

A sellout crowd of 42,713, tense when the Angels climbed back and brought the tying run to the plate in the middle innings, erupted when Kent connected in the sixth and again in the seventh.

Kent began the day in a 3-for-16 rut and wound up scoring four runs, tying a Series record.

Report: Olajuwon to retire

HOUSTON (AP) — Hakeem Olajuwon has decided to announce his retirement on Nov. 9 in Houston, where he began his NBA career 18 years ago, his agent said Thursday.

The 39-year-old center played with the Toronto Raptors last season after 17 years with the Rockets, whom he led to a pair of NBA championships. He also played his college basketball in Houston.

The Raptors had excused him from training camp because of serious back problems, and Toronto general manager Glen Grunwald said earlier in the month that he doesn't expect Olajuwon to play this season.

After Olajuwon pondered

his options, he decided to walk away from the game, his agent, Dan Fegan said.

The NBA's all-time leading shot blocker and one-time most valuable player is grateful the Rockets are accommodating his wishes.

The Rockets are playing Golden State on Nov. 9.

"I think it's fantastic. It's a great win for Hakeem and the Rockets," Fegan said. "There's a great love on Hakeem's part and the Rockets' part. This is the right way to finish his career."

After careful medical consideration, Fegan said, "we've determined he's just not going to be able to play anymore. So it's not finalized, but he's going to make that retirement announcement official Nov. 9."

The Truth.

Why Farmers is being forced to leave the Texas homeowners insurance market.

As representatives of more than 8,000 Texas-based Farmers Insurance agents and employees, we want a resolution to the current crisis and to stay in the Texas homeowners insurance market.

But, we can't do that without straight talk and meaningful and reasonable negotiations with the Governor's Office, the Attorney General, and the Texas Department of Insurance. We call upon these officials to exert their leadership, learn the facts and solve the problem.

Hundreds of thousands of real people in Texas -- voters, citizens, Farmers agents, Farmers employees and our customers -- are not being told the whole story.

The truth is Farmers has done absolutely nothing wrong. We have consistently offered an independent review of our business practices and the state has refused. The fact is our prices are competitive and, our business practices are accepted in every other state. We are being forced to leave by unfair, punitive actions, which would jeopardize our future ability to serve our customers and the financial integrity of our companies.

Time is short. Beginning in November, 2,000 customers a day, 55,000 homeowners a month, will be unable to renew homeowners insurance with Farmers. As many Texans are now discovering, affordable coverage is extremely difficult if not impossible to find. The State's inaction will harm nearly 700,000 Farmers homeowners.

For more than 50 years, Farmers agents have delivered on their commitment to help Texans get back where they belong after a home, auto, business loss or following the death of a loved one. During those years, Farmers has helped millions of Texans recover from damage and loss.

We want to get the Texas homeowners insurance market back where it belongs! We continue to remain open for all our other lines of business.

Please urge your public officials to help all Texans find an immediate and responsible solution to this statewide crisis.

IRVING (AP) — Emmitt Smith has agreed to give the Pro Football Hall of Fame either the jersey or helmet he wears when he becomes the NFL career rushing leader.

The released a statement Wednesday saying Smith's representatives at AMG have agreed to the donation at a time yet undetermined.

Of course, Smith must first top Walter Payton's career record of 16,726 yards. He's 93 away going into the Cowboys' game Sunday against Seattle.

"We are pleased that Emmitt Smith has agreed to provide the Pro Football Hall of Fame with game artifacts from his career milestone game," Hall of Fame executive director John Bankert said. "The Hall of Fame is proud to be able to serve as a showcase that will forever link Emmitt with the great players and moments of pro football's past."

If anyone is aware of the value and interest in Smith memorabilia, it's Smith himself.

He's taken home the football from all 160 touchdowns he's scored and estimates he still has all but five, which he gave away for various sentimental reasons. He recently put microchips in all the balls to authenticate them. Although he once owned a sports collectibles store in his hometown, Pensacola, Fla., Smith has talked about auctioning them off for charity.

running back (Jumar Hall) from Lake View. We've got to get in the backfield and get to him before he gets going or we're going to be in trouble."

"We know he's going to make some yards," Butler said. "No one has stopped him yet. We just can't panic when he does it. He's going to get yards, we just have to keep the scoring to a minimum."

Coronado comes into tonight's matchup as the top rusher in District 4-4A. He has rolled up 937 yards and 14 touchdowns on 192 carries. The LHS standout averages almost 30 carries per game.

The good news for Big Spring defensively is Levelland will not own a staggering size advantage on the offensive line — a fact Frenship used to its benefit last week.

"We're pretty close size-wise," said Butler. "There isn't a 100-pound per man difference like we faced last week."

"It was frustrating for us to face that against Frenship," he added. "With the way the field was, we'd step up and fill a hole and then here they would come and we'd go shooting out of there like a watermelon seed."

The Steers, who have won their last three meetings with the Lobos (including a 28-27 thriller last year), realize playoff implications are written all over this game. A win tonight would send Big Spring into next week needing just one win in its last two games to clinch a postseason invitation.

Big Spring faces winless Lubbock Estacado next Friday at Memorial Stadium.

A loss would put the Steers in a must-win situation in the final two outings against Lubbock Estacado and Andrews.

"For us to get where we want to be, and expect to be, we need to get this win under our belt," Butler said. "We've talked about this team's legacy. They're going to be remembered for what they do over the next three weeks. They're not going to be remembered for playing Permian close or anything but how they do over this stretch."

"I think we're ready. I know we expect to be in the playoffs," he added.

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR
HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, Oct. 26, 2002:

Realize more of what you want by listening to your sixth sense. Your perspective might not always be right, but it does work for you. Follow what you feel is correct, and you'll land on your feet. Often you take a spiritual or more detached view. Choose to walk in someone else's footsteps more often. Empathy becomes your strong suit. If you are single, you won't be alone for very long. Your creativity and earing ways draw others. You might hedge on making a choice, but once you do decide, sometime next fall, you will feel good about this bond. If you are attached, your relationship will blossom because of your sense of connectedness and caring.
Learn to express frustration through sharing conversations.
CANCER just understands.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-
Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)  Feelings run high.
Be careful that you don't hit the dog because you're angry at the cat. You might be swallowing way too much frustration. Learn to express yourself in a more direct manner. Work with a partner. Tonight: At home.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) * Express your ideas and feelings, even if someone else might not be in the mood to listen. Somehow others could be distracted.
Why not pitch in and help a partner get through a project so he or she will feel better? Reach out and help those in your life. Tonight:
Use up some of that energy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 Try not to be the big spender in your crowd.
Playing it a bit conservatively and not costing yourself unnecessary angst could make you very happy in the long run. Loosen up and enjoy yourself in a less extravagant manner.
Tonight: Use your imagination.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) * Your happier side emerges with a child or loved one. Laugh and enjoy yourself with this person.
Uphear around your home could mar a close-to-perfect day - if you let it. Be smart and don't let anything take away from this special moment. Tonight: Whatever makes the moon child smile.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ***
You don't have to be queen bee or kingpin every day. In fact, you'll want to pull back and relax. If you really want an easy day, let your answering machine do its work. You might be uptight about another's call or action. Tonight: Add some more mystery to your life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 Realize what might be going on with those around you. You could find yourself spending more than you would like to in order to make a friend or a loved one happy. Stop. Only this person can change his or her frame of mind. Tonight:
You are the party.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 Your temper could surprise even you. You might ask "What is going on here?" Laughter and happiness surround you if you can let go of judgments of what you think needs to occur. If you feel like doing some extra work or digging into a project, do so.
Tonight: A must appearance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov.
21)  Pack yourself up.
Go off for a day trip. You might find a drive in the fall setting refreshing. Meet up with a friend or relative for a lengthy meal and fun afternoon together.
Catching up on each others' news makes both of you feel connected once more.
Tonight: Continue experiencing something different.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) * Your instincts direct you with an important partnership. A discussion might force you to change your plans out of the blue. You clearly know your priorities, which helps a special person relax. You bond on a much deeper level. Tonight: Play away.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) * Your ability to laugh and enjoy yourself allows you to make a big difference in others' lives.
You find that many seek you out for your perspective as well as for good fun.
Pressure from an authority

lash out. Tonight: Say
"yes."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb.
18)  A project might be more important than a get-together, unless it somehow helps you gain a new perspective. You might want to plan to see a movie, but not much more. Allow others to share more of themselves.
Tonight: "Relaxing" needs to be the theme.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)  Your sixth sense carries you through a problem with a partner and/or a money matter. You leap over the issue and see the answer. Laugh, and another will join in. You find that good humor is contagious.
Tonight: Focus on love.

Cheating husband laying groundwork

Dear Annie: I have been married to "Alex" for 20 years. A few years ago, he had some sort of mid-life crisis and began an affair with a woman half his age.
I was totally devastated, but I forgave him.

Apparently, that's not the end of it. Alex tells me men are not supposed to be monogamous and it is normal for them to have affairs. He says he'll "try his best" to be faithful but cannot promise to be committed to our marriage 100 percent.

After what he has put me through emotionally, I can't believe he is so cavalier about our marriage. We tried counseling, but it was useless because of Alex's attitude. He is obviously afraid of getting older and desperately needs younger women to convince him he is still sexy. I almost feel sorry for him.

This Date in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 2002. There are 67 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

Forty years ago, on Oct. 25, 1962, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson demanded before the UN Security Council that Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin confirm or deny the existence of Soviet missile bases in Cuba, saying he was "prepared to wait for my answer until hell freezes over." Stevenson then presented reconnaissance photos of the bases to the council.

On this date:

In 1400, author Geoffrey Chaucer died in London.

In 1760, Britain's King George III succeeded his late grandfather, George II.

In 1854, the "Charge of the Light Brigade" took place during the Crimean War.

In 1918, the Canadian steamship Princess Sophia foundered off the coast of Alaska; nearly 400 people perished.

In 1951, peace talks aimed at ending the Korean Conflict resumed in Panmunjom after 63 days.

In 1971, the UN General Assembly voted to admit mainland China and expel Taiwan.

In 1983, a U.S.-led force invaded Grenada at the order of President Reagan, who said the action was needed to protect U.S. citizens there.

In 1999, golfer Payne Stewart and five others were killed when their Learjet flew uncontrolled for four hours before crashing in South Dakota; Stewart was 42.

Five years ago: Hundreds of thousands of black women joined the Million Woman March in Philadelphia.

The Cleveland Indians avoided elimination in the World Series by defeating the Florida Marlins, 4-1, in game six.

One year ago: A day after the House signed on, the Senate sent President Bush a package of anti-terror measures giving police sweeping new powers to search people's homes and business records secretly and to eavesdrop on telephone and computer conversations. Ford Motor Co. settled one of the industry's biggest auto defect cases, agreeing to pay for repairs on millions of cars and trucks with an ignition-system flaw that could cause the vehicles to stall in traffic.

Today's Birthdays: Jazz musician Chubby Jackson is 84. Former baseball player Bobby Thomson is 79. Former American League president Dr. Bobby Brown is 78. Singer Taffy Danoff (Starland Vocal Band) is 58.
