THOUSANDS RALLY TO GREET ROOSEVELT TOMORROW

LARGE CROWDS EXPECTED AT INAUGURAL

FORECAST OF COLDER WEATHER FAILS TO DAMPEN SPIRITS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—Franklin D. Roosevelt's fellow citizens rallied today to salute him at the start of a second administration which promises to write history like the breath-taking first term.

Their numbers increased hourly despite a forecast of rain and colder weather when the president swears tomorrow noon before cheering thousands to "preserve, protect and defend" the constitution.

New Spirit Manifest

A new and singular inauguration spirit became manifest along the bunting decked streets.

Although the crowds were gayer than at the dramatic inauguration during the 1933 banking crisis, much of the traditional pageantry was missing at this first January induction in history.

One reason was the president's request for simplicity and the decision to limit the parade to military units and state governors. This kept many picturesque marching clubs — and their bands — at home.

No Curiosity Around

Then, too, it is a second inauguration, without the curiosity over a new president.

Mr. Roosevelt made few engagements today in order to complete his inaugural address, which aides said would be within 2,000 words. A dinner tonight with his family and some inaugural officials will be his only advance celebration.

An impression was abroad that his speech would be one of stock taking and consecration afresh to democratic ideals.

Neutrality And Trade

It may dwell especially — in the opinion of some who have talked with him—on the need for restoring international trade and enforcing neutrality to mitigate war dangers.

At the capitol where inauguration eve heretofore has found a "lame duck" congress in noisy death throes, the senate and house prepared quietly to give Mr. Roosevelt authority to continue his monetary policies.

Many legislators spent more time trying to satisfy the demands for inaugural tickets than listening to debates.

City Opens Its Arms

A city vibrant with memories opened its arms to the visitors. They mingled without regard to pocketbook or politics on the beflagged

1—At 11:45 a. m. on January 20 President Roosevelt will leave the White House and drive down Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol, arriving there around 11:50.

2—He will go to the President's room on the senate side and there remain in seclusion until 11:59 when he will proceed to the inaugural stand facing the plaza on the capitol's east front.

3—At 12 noon he will raise his right hand and take the oath of office from Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, duplicating this 1933 scene. Immediately thereafter he will deliver his inaugural address. The length of time it will consume is not known. The nation will listen closely for indications of his future policies.

4—After the address he will motor back to the White House via Pennsylvania avenue and lunch while the inaugural parade is forming.

5—At about 1:30 he will appear in the Presidential stand before the White House to review the parade. A reception and an inaugural concert complete the day.

FLOOD WATERS THREATENING WIDE AREA

MANY FAMILIES FLEE AS RAGING RIVERS MENACE HOMES

(By The Associated Press)

The mighty Ohio river surged at flood stage along its entire 980-mile course today and other overburdened middle west streams threatened additional destruction of life and property in at least eight states.

From Pennsylvania to Arkansas workers battled flood waters created by heavy rains. Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois and Missouri were other states menaced by swollen waters.

Thousands Flee Homes

Thousands of persons fled homes when turgid waters engulfed lowlands in the Ohio valley, Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas.

Six deaths were attributed to floods, two each in Illinois and Indiana, one in Missouri and one in Kentucky.

Federal officials said more than 2,300 WPA workers were fighting flood waters. They aided in rescues and laid thousands of sandbags against weakened levees. The Red Cross announced establishment of a central disaster relief headquarters at Evansville, Ind.

Far Above Flood Stage

The Ohio reached a 56.5 foot level at Cincinnati early today, 4.5 feet over flood stage. Its waters virtually isolated Newport, Ky., where more than 800 families fled to higher ground. At Parkersburg, W. Va., the Ohio forced 230 persons from their homes.

Red Cross workers prepared to evacuate 500 families from the Ohio river lowlands near Evansville, Ind. Swollen streams threatened serious property damage in the southern section of the state.

The St. Francis poured through a 200-foot crevasse in the levee at Moark, Ark., forcing scores of persons from their homes, blocking highways and threatening rail lines. At Paragould, Ark., 8,000 acres and 100 homes were flooded.

ANOTHER FIRM CLOSED DOWN BY PICKETS

TEAR GAS ATTACK IS LAUNCHED BY COPS ON PICKET LINE

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 19—A United Automobile Workers of America picket line estimated by a union official to number 1,000 men withstood a police tear gas attack today and closed the Briggs Manufacturing company's Meldrum avenue plant.

A company official said at 8 a. m. "the plant is not operating." The picket line then had dwindled to about 100 men.

Officer Is Overcome

Police Inspector Louis L. Berg was temporarily overcome when a gas bomb exploded at his feet as he attempted to rescue William Myers, plant manager, from a group of pickets. Neither he nor Myers required hospital treatment.

The Briggs plant produces automobile bodies for the Lincoln Motor Car Co. and the Dodge division of the Chrysler corporation. Company officials said that approximately 100 of the 1,800 employes had been on strike since last week, although the plant continued to operate until today.

Others Are Affected

Several persons in addition to Myers and Inspector Berg were affected by the tear gas, and William Mackey, a picket, was injured when a fragment from a tear gas bomb struck him in the eye.

Police said there were 2,000 pickets in line when the first clash occurred as men of the 7 o'clock shift reported for work at the plant.

The principal clash occurred when Inspector Berg attempted to rescue Myers. Several gas bombs were thrown along the picket line. The bombs apparently of a new type, exploded with a flash and a loud noise striking terror among the

Pilot Is Blamed For Fatal Crash

REPORT GIVEN TODAY ON SHIP WRECK AT DALLAS DEC. 23

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — The bureau of air commerce said today it believed the probable cause of an airplane crash which killed six persons at Dallas December 23 was the pilot's inexperience in operating a two-motored transport plane.

The plane, piloted by Donald G. Walbridge, was on a test flight, carrying employes of Braniff Airways, Inc.

Usual Routine Test

The flight had been ordered, the bureau said, as a usual routine test following installation of a new right engine.

The bureau said that when the plane returned to the landing field "it was definitely observed the right engine was not functioning."

Apparently believing he would "over-shoot" the landing field, the bureau said, Pilot Walbridge opened the throttles to clear the landing field.

Destroyed By Fire

The bureau said the left engine alone was not sufficient to permit the plane to climb. It stalled, and then crashed beyond the hangar. Fire broke out, destroying the plane.

"It is not known," the bureau said, "whether the pilot, after again turning on the power and clearing the hangar at the end of the field, had in mind circling back for another attempt at landing on the airport or whether he intended to land in open country away from the

FIRST TEST OF TOWNSEND PLAN BEING STAGED

(By The Associated Press)

CHELAN, Wash., Jan. 19 — Tagged Townsend dollars and 63-year-old C. C. Fleming whirled together about town at a dizzy pace today in the nation's first experiment with the $200-a-month revolving pension plan.

Fleming, who has $200 he must spend in 30 days, went into the third day of his spending spree with a haberdashery and women's clothes shop at the top of his shopping list.

KIDNAP TRAIL IS REPORTED COLD TODAY

EX-CONVICT WILL BE SEEN BY WITNESSES TO KIDNAPING

(By The Associated Press)

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 19—Leigh Haskell Fowler, 36-year-old ex-convict, will be confronted by eye witnesses of the kidnaping of little Charles Mattson within a few days, it was learned today from an unimpeachable source.

The meeting was revealed as federal bureau of investigation agents finished questioning Fowler for the third time at Bellingham, Wash.

Held In Solitary

The meeting of Fowler and the witnesses, it was reported, will take place when Fowler is taken from his cell in solitary confinement in the Whatcom county jail to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla, where he will serve 20 years for a daring holdup December 17 in Bellingham.

Although Fowler repeatedly has asked permission to shave, Sheriff W. T. Farmer has refused, he said, acting upon instructions of the federal agents. The kidnaper had a dark beard.

Trail Cools Today

The trail of the kidnaper-killer cooled as one by one a series of clues led federal, state and local authorities to apparently dead ends.

Officers in several cities reported the release of men who had been detained for questioning because they appeared to resemble the shaggy, shabbily-dressed gunman who stole the Mattson boy from his Tacoma home on the night of last Dec. 27.

YOUNG LEADER AGAIN TAKES STATE OATH

BRIGHT FUTURE SEEN FOR STATE; PLEDGE IS MADE CITIZENS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 19—In a blaze of ceremonial color Texas for the second time today dropped the mantle of its chief elective office on the youthful shoulders of James V. Allred.

While thousands crowded the great hall of the house of representatives, the former Bowie newsboy was inaugurated governor for another term of two years, pledged himself on an historic Bible to perform faithfully the duties of high office and called for a rededication to the principles of republican government.

Woodul Takes Oath

Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston also was re-inaugurated and took a similar oath, which included the declaration he never had fought a duel.

The massed spectators cheered and a battery from the state national guard stationed in front of the capitol fired a 19-gun salute as Allred kissed the Bible and began his inaugural address.

Grouped on the rostrum were several former governors, judges of the state superior courts and many other present and former state officials.

They had advanced to their places in slow procession led by former Governor Dan Moody and Associate Justice John H. Sharp of the Supreme court, who administered the oaths, while a military band from the Agricultural and Mechanical college played.

Provision Is Cited

Allred cited the provision of the Texas constitution that "the faith of the people of Texas stands pledged to the preservation of a republican form of government and subject to this limitation only they have at all times the inalienable right to alter, reform or abolish their government in such way as they may think expedient."

"This limitation, providing that the people, in any change they make, stand pledged to the preservation of a republican form of government, was first placed in the constitution in 1876," he said.

"Today you and I still stand

ARMS CONTROL IS OPPOSED

COLD SHOULDERS FOR PROPOSITION GIVEN BY TWO FACTIONS

(By The Associated Press)

Fighting Spaniards — fascist insurgents and the socialist government — turned cold shoulders to international arms control today.

They fought on at fever heat—with the edge seemingly going to the government.

Both Reject Proposals

Both parties to the "little world war" rejected proposals of the international neutrality committee to control the flow of arms to the theater of battle. Both complained about foreign volunteers fighting on the side of the other.

General Francisco Franco, the fascist chieftain, sidestepped the whole question of international control to isolate the war. The Valencia government imposed numerous conditions to the suggested plan.

The replies were disheartening to

Student Petitions Being Circulated

Several students are circulating petitions at Texas Technological college as the first step in their races for student positions as editor or business manager of the Toreador, student newspaper, and La Ventana, yearbook.

The students must present petitions signed by 15 per cent of the student body, or about 405 students, to the student council before they officially become candidates.

Increase In Colds Blamed On Kissing

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 19 (AP)—A date . . . a stolen kiss. . . kerchoo!

A university bacteriologist today cited the consistent outbreak of Monday colds as proof of collegians' disdain for the warning that kissing spreads colds.

Attributing it to week-end osculatory activity, Dr. Adolph J. Roth of Washington State college, observed:

"Almost always there is an increase of colds and influenza cases on Monday mornings, indicating students do not make use of the hygienic knowledge available to them."

Refugees Delayed By Snow In China

NANKING, Jan. 19 (AP) — Snowstorms sweeping northwestern China today delayed 75 foreigners evacuating revolt-menaced Shensi province to the safety of Loyang, Honan province.

The refugee party, believed to include 21 Americans, left Sianfu yesterday by bus, and had not been reported since boarding a train at Tungkwan in the heart of the snow-buffeted western area.

Two Men To Face Charge In Robbery

Two other men, held in El Reno, Okla., today were charged with robbery with firearms as a result of the hijacking of the Smith Drug store at Shallowater early this month.

The defendants are Paul Stotts and J. D. Stotts. The complaint, signed by Chief Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter, was filed with Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillan.

Deputy Sheriff Carpenter went to El Reno this morning to return the Stottses, said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Charley Handley and Lonnie Rouse previously had been charged with armed robbery and returned to Lubbock from El Reno. Bond of each was set at $2,500 by Justice of the Peace Walter Davies.

RALLS MAN DIES HERE OF INJURIES; LAST RITES WEDNESDAY

C. I. Mitchell, 51, farmer of 9 miles southwest of Ralls, died in a local sanitarium Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock after having entered at 8 p. m. Saturday for treatment.

He suffered internal injuries Saturday when he was dragged by a mule he was harnessing. The animal, when Mitchell attempted to put a bridle on him, shied and caught the man's arm in the rein. After the mule stopped, the farmer's 13-year-old son loosed him.

Resident There 20 Years

Ten Surnames Will Fill Many Blanks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Social Security board expects ten surnames to fill 1,500,000 of its 26,000,000 old age pensions accounts.

The board said today the first families of America—in numbers—are the Smiths, the Johnsons, the Browns, the Williamses, the Joneses, the Millers, the Davises, the Andersons, the Wilsons and the Taylors.

LUBBOCK SELECTED AS HEADQUARTERS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD BUREAU

Lubbock's selection as district field headquarters for the Social Security Board bureau of old age benefits was announced today by Congressman George Mahon from Washington.

"Territory to be served," Congressman Mahon wired The Evening Journal, "includes about 20 counties adjoining Lubbock county."

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the 19th district congressional representative had been active for weeks in urging the Social Security Board to choose this city as one of the district headquarters.

A brief, showing the necessity of more than one administrative office in Texas, was prepared by Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Copies of the brief were sent to Chairman John G. Winant, Arthur J. Altmeyer, and Vincent M. Miles, members of the board, and to other officials.

Congressman Mahon carried several copies when he went to Washington Jan. 1 prior to opening of congress.

Oklahoma Wedding Of Interest Here

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Peggy Leland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Leland of Fort Worth, former Lubbock residents, and Herman Shropshire, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Shropshire of Alvarado. The rites were read Sunday in Oklahoma City.

The couple has gone to Hutchinson, Kas., to live. Mr. Shropshire is with an oil company.

The bride, a graduate of Fort Worth Pascal High school and former student at Texas Christian university, is a member of Lambda Alpha Lambda sorority. She is the sister of Mrs. Marlin R. Smith, 1915 Avenue M.

Miss Dollie Feagan Weds Mr. Bryson

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 19 (Special)—Miss Dollie King Feagan, former student at Texas Technological college, and William D. Bryson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bryson, were married in San Angelo Friday with Dr. B. O. Wood officiating.

Mrs. Bryson was a sophomore arts and science student last fall at Tech where she was a pledge to the D. F. D. club. She was a campus beauty during her freshman year. The couple will be at home in San Angelo, where the bridegroom is connected with the State Highway department.

Mrs. J. H. Barrow, 1626 Nineteenth street, has returned from Houston where she visited her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Balzer.

Monthly Luncheon Is Attended Monday

First Christian Woman's council monthly luncheon was held at the church annex Monday afternoon. The following program was observed:

Invocation, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett; group song, "Living For Jesus;" solo, "My Faith In Thee," Mrs. F. O. Kelly, and book review by Mrs. H. W. Moore, "Who Lives In You?" a group of sermons by R. H. Miller, pastor of the National City Christian church, Washington, D. C. Mrs. John Wherry presided.

Members reported having read a total of 34 books since the last report.

Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall, luncheon chairman, was assisted by Mesdames Mary Hinton, C. C. Files, W. T. Milam and J. D. Walker.

Group Discussion Is On Conference

The Inter-American Peace conference, held recently in Buenos Aires, was the subject for discussion at a meeting of the A. A. U. W. International Relations group Monday night in the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway.

Mrs. William Dingus was leader of a panel discussion. Dr. Eunice Gates discussed the program of the conference, outlining the motives as organization of peace, neutrality, limitation of armaments, juridical problems, economic problems and intellectual cooperation.

Dr. Frances Benge gave some reactions to the conference as revealed in South American papers.

During a social hour refreshments were served to twenty-four women. Mesdames Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, W. P. Clement and Miss Jonnie McCrery were hostesses.

Boxes For Orphanage Packed By WMS

A box of cookies that will be sent to the Texas Baptist orphanage at Waxahachie was packed at a meeting of the Central Baptist Women's Missionary society at the church Monday afternoon. Clothing was packed for an orphan at the school that the society is supporting.

Mrs. Jeff D. Welch taught a lesson from Matthew. Mrs. A. R. Pendley read a devotional from the second chapter of John. Dismissal was by Mrs. S. H. Elliott.

The society planned to meet all day today in the home of Mrs. A. J. Campbell, 1812 Avenue O, to quilt. A covered dish luncheon was to be served at noon.

Mount Rainier has 48 square miles of glacier ice on its slopes the year around.

Afternoon Reception Is Courtesy For Mrs. Henry Roberts, Bride Of December

Honoring Mrs. Henry A. Roberts, bride, Mrs. R. C. Harvey entertained with a reception Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway. Seventy-five guests called.

The honoree is the former Miss Chalones Whitacre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitacre, 1905 Twenty-ninth street. Her marriage was announced Monday morning.

Girls In Party

Receiving line at the reception was composed of the hostess, Mrs. Whitacre and Mrs. Roberts. Others in the house party were Misses Rebecca Butler, Marguerite Gibson, Cathryn Dykes, Ernesteen Lockhart and Mary Katherine Rice.

The refreshment table was decorated with a gold bowl centerpiece of red and white flowers and silver leaves, and red candles in gold holders. White candles decorated the buffet. On the plates were red hearts with "Henry and Chalones" written in gold.

Entertainment for the occasion included orchestra music by Jack York, marimba; Bernice Keeton, piano; Howard Green, accordion and solos, and Elmo Morrison, drums.

Two Groups Call

High school and college friends of the couple called from 4:30 until 5:30 o'clock and older guests called from 5:30 until 6:30 o'clock. They all registered in a bride's book.

Several parties are planned, honoring the bride.

Calvary Units Study Bible Passages

Three circles of the Calvary Baptist W. M. S. met in homes Monday afternoon.

Mrs. H. B. Strickland, 2124 Twenty-seventh street, was hostess to Circle 1. Mrs. H. R. Sprawls taught a lesson from the second and third chapters of Hebrews. Others attending were Mesdames B. R. Hattan, Edwin Heald, J. W. Lee, A. A. Bratcher, J. F. McDonald, W. V. Lewis and W. H. Hall.

The couple will be at home in El Paso in a short time.

Visitors To Texas Mansion Are "Joy"

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—Two more years in the governor's mansion will be for Mrs. Allred a "continuation of joy in rendering service."

"I hope the people of Texas will continue to look upon the mansion as open to them," she said.

Probably because of increased interest in the Texas Centennial, the past year brought an unprecedented number of visitors, an average of 15 daily.

"Contrary to what some people may think, this was not a burden on us," Mrs. Allred said. "It was a joy which I anticipate for another two years."

Calling hours are from 1:30 to 5 p. m. daily except Sunday.

Happy For Sons

The governor's wife expressed satisfaction their two sons, James, jr., 7, and David, 3, will live two additional years in the chief executive's home.

"They have not grasped the significance of the mansion," Mrs. Allred said, "and for that matter I don't want them to, lest they feel the environment lifts them above other children."

James is in his first year of school.

While there was a "genuine joy" in entertaining all visitors, Mrs. Allred explained, the memory of some stood out.

To her, one of the most pleasant events was a dinner for Vice-President and Mrs. John N. Garner. Other visitors who linger in her memory were Will Rogers and Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction finance corporation, and Mrs. Jones.

From 20 to 30 sinuses are contained in a human head.

First Baptist WMS Meets In Units

"The Book of Romans," a book written by Dr. B. H. Carroll, was studied at a meeting of First Baptist Women's Missionary society in circles Monday afternoon.

Ann Judson circle met in the home of Mrs. John Lowrimore, 1914 Main street, with nine women present. Mrs. J. S. Brown taught the lesson.

Mrs. R. W. Lehew, 1812 Avenue N, was hostess to eight members of Annie Jenkins Sallee circle. Mrs. J. K. Miller taught the lesson.

Mrs. J. H. Hankins taught the lesson at a meeting of Christine Coffee circle in the home of Mrs. L. P. Jeffreys, 1924 Avenue Q. Ten women were present. Mesdames C. Fred Litton and C. E. Hereford were special guests.

Nine members of Annie Luther Bagby circle met in the home of Mrs. E. L. Wright, 2015 Sixteenth street, for a lesson taught by Mrs. N. L. Ball, who resigned as teacher. Mrs. A. V. Weaver was elected to take her place.

Thirteen members attended a meeting of Lena Lair circle in the home of Mrs. L. J. Akers, 1622 Tenth street. Mrs. W. L. Pattillo taught the lesson, following a business discussion.

There was a meeting of the Blanche Rose Walker circle with Mrs. Grady Davis. Mrs. O. A. Tyner led a devotional and Mrs. W. P. Fry discussed a mission study. Eight women attended.

Bishop's Crusade Conference Is Held

Methodists of the Lubbock district are joining others of the Northwest Texas conference today at a "Bishop's Crusade" conference in Amarillo Polk Street Methodist church.

Several pastors of this district informed Rev. Dr. W. M. Pearce of Lubbock, presiding elder, that they would take delegations.

Morning program started at 9 a. m. A devotional had been arranged by Rev. C. A. Bickley, Big Spring, former Lubbock presiding elder and a conference director. Bishops Hiram A. Boaz, Cesar Da Corso and Paul E. Kern will speak.

Missionary work features the afternoon program, with talks by Bishop Kern, Dr. Y. C. Yang of Soochow, China; Dr. W. G. Cram, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions; Miss Daisy Davies and Bishop Da Corso. At 3:30 Boaz will hold a consecration service. The afternoon program begins at 2 o'clock.

At the night program work on foreign fronts will be emphasized. Speakers will include Bishops Da Corso and Kern.

Dr. Yang is president of Soochow university, one of the outstanding educational institutions of China.

Although apples are usually used to top a Dutch cake, dried apricots are just as delicious. Mix them with brown sugar and cinnamon.

Form Young Circle And Install Group

Asbury Methodist Women's Missionary society installed officers Monday afternoon and a young woman's circle was organized at a meeting at the church.

Mrs. T. W. Whigham, conference superintendent of young women's circles, met with the organization group. Elected were: Chairman, Mrs. Renford Taylor; vice-chairman, Miss Regina Rhea; secretary-reporter, Mrs. Vernon McCullough; treasurer, Mrs. Buster Thompson.

The circle will meet twice monthly on Monday afternoons in homes and the other Monday afternoons with the W. M. S. Women between 18 and 30 years of age are invited to join, Mrs. McCullough said.

Installed in the W. M. S. were: President, Mrs. J. E. Walters; vice-president, Mrs. J. R. Hartsfield; connectional treasurer, Mrs. Annie Steele; local treasurer, Mrs. M. G. Bowles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lum Holcomb; recording secretary, Mrs. B. R. Powell; superintendent of study, Mrs. L. B. Hankins; superintendent of spiritual life, Mrs. W. F. Bond; World Outlook superintendent, Mrs. Harmon McLarty; social relations superintendent, Mrs. J. H. Rhea; baby department superintendent, Mrs. Hugh Slagle; superintendent of children's work, Mrs. Honey Couey; superintendent of local work, Mrs. Paul Williams, and publicity chairman, Mrs. V. O. Jennings.

Twenty-one members were present.

Birthday Balls To Close At Midnight

In respect to various organizations and Texas Technological college, which are co-operating with the annual President's Birthday dances, the affairs are to begin at 9 o'clock and close promptly at midnight on January 30, it was announced this morning.

The dances will be given at Hotel Lubbock with Ross Edwards and his eight-piece orchestra and at Sled Allen's Auditorium with Duane Fuqua's college orchestra furnishing music.

If crowds come early enough, dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Seventy per cent of the proceeds will go to the Lubbock Crippled Childrens council fund and the remainder will be sent to the Warm Springs foundation.

KEEP COOKY DOUGH SOFT

Cooky dough stored in a refrigerator often becomes hardened on the surface. To prevent this sprinkle the dough with cold water and wrap it tightly in waxed paper before you store it.

Miss Ruth Huey Goes To Canyon Today

Miss Ruth Huey, newly appointed director of homemaking education in Texas high schools, left today for Canyon after a brief visit to Lubbock. She was an assistant in the department before being named to fill the position left upon resignation of Miss Lillian Peek.

Hub-Union Will Meet In Post Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Lubbock Hub-Union, an organization of Methodist young people, at the Methodist church in Post tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Weekly Bible Class Schedules Meet

There will be a weekly meeting of the Neighborhood Bible class Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. W. S. Moad, 2324 Main street.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack M. Lewis have gone to Mineral Wells. Doctor Lewis is to remain for treatment for two weeks and Mrs. Lewis will return to Lubbock shortly.

CRANBERRIES IN SALAD

A tasteful salad may be made of diced celery, seeded grapes, pineapple and apples blended with cranberry jelly cubes.

Mrs. Felty Will Be Club Hostess

Mrs. Otis J. Felty, 2103 Sixth street, will entertain for the So and Such club Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?

YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unsympathetic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it.

When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

(Adv.)

LOOK OUT FOR THOSE HALF-SICK DAYS

Everybody, at one time or another, has had such days. You may have a headache, bad breath or coated tongue. You feel listless—"down-in-the-mouth." Often these are signs of common constipation.

It's dangerous to neglect constipation. This condition is usually due to "low-bulk" meals. Get "bulk" by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has helped millions of people keep regular habits. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines.

Isn't this food better than taking artificial pills and drugs—often habit-forming? Try ALL-BRAN for a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream or in cooked dishes. Three times daily, in severe cases. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Pays His Own Way

COLLINS, N. Y. — John R. Taft tells this story of Teddy, an independent dog.

The Taft family discussed purchase of a $2.25 license for the 12-year-old springer spaniel as he lay at their feet. The next day, Taft said, Teddy led little Lorraine Taft to the back door.

There lay a big muskrat the dog had caught at a creek. It brought $2. Taft said he felt obliged to donate the remaining two bits for the license.

Temperamental Ham

LOS ANGELES — A son of Blue Boy, the 900-pound Hampshire hog which had a brief career as a film actor in a picture starring Will Rogers, attacked its owner, N. D. Kampmann.

Kampmann beat off the animal after it had inflicted several deep bites on his thigh.

The Very Idea

HIAWATHA, Kas. — Housewives here are keeping watch on their ironing boards.

After several disappeared mysteriously, it was discovered husbands and sons had converted them into "inland surf boards." The boards are towed behind motor cars over snowy streets. Riders say the sport has all the thrills of the ocean variety.

Unfair Competition

CHICAGO — The police hurried over to John Marousek's tavern and took him into custody.

Then they explained that someone had been pestering them for three weeks with telephone calls urging raids on another tavern because "it's a hangout for ex-convicts."

"We think Mr. Marousek made the calls," said Lieut. Frank Yore. "Motive? Business rivalry."

Two young Americans, Francis A. Flood and James C. Wilson, were the first to ride motorcycles across Africa laterally. Their course lay between Lagos and Eritrea north of Lake Chad.

Gly-Cas Built Her Back To Health

All Medicines And Medical Authorities Had Failed In Her Stubborn Case — Then Gly-Cas Amazes — Enjoys Good Health Again

"Gly-Cas was the only medicine capable of giving me satisfactory results," said Mrs. E. N. Tucker, 307 East 8th Ave., Pine Bluff, Ark. "For years I had been afflicted with rheumatism in my fingers, ankles and knees. My shoulders were badly affected too, so crippled at times it was impossible for me to raise my arms. But there was nothing I could do but stand it for all the medicine I tried seemed to lose their power when put up against a case like mine. My system was clogged with poisons and soon my stomach and kidneys were badly affected too. I could not eat the foods I wanted without awful attacks of gas bloating and indigestion afterwards. A good night's sleep was out of the question and I grew terribly discouraged as medicine and medical authorities failed to help me—but once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity in my case I was soon on the road to good health."

MRS. E. N. TUCKER

"In three months' time Gly-Cas had made a new person of me," she continued. "My stomach and bowels were regulated easily, kidneys are now fine and those dreadful poisons removed from my system. The horrible years of rheumatic suffering are now at an end, the swelling has practically gone and the awful pains have been relieved. It is wonderful suffering people can get such a remarkable remedy to accomplish the seemingly impossible."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

FINALS IN GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNEY SLATED TONIGHT

SPORTS NEWS

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
LUBBOCK, TEXAS, TUESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1937

Dana Bible Heads For Texas To Discuss Job

SPORTOGRAPHS

By Collier Parris

MORE GOLDEN GLOVES business tonight at the Tech gymnasium, starting at 8:20 o'clock.

Tonight's really the large night, champions to be determined in each of the eight weights divisions.

Among interested ringsiders at the G. G. tournament are a couple of distinguished Fort Worthians—Ed Prell, sports editor of the Morning Star Telegram and the individual most responsible for bringing the Golden Gloves to Texas, and Dick Dixson, director of the Fort Worth district.

Prell, who usta shag copy for the Chicago American and whose "connections" with the Golden Gloves headquarters in the Windy city made it possible for him to bring this worthy setup to Texas, isn't missing a trick in his promotional endeavors. He is determined to see the thing through the state tournament, and for a successful state tournament, there must be successful district jousts, hence his voyage here for Killer Coffey's party.

Being more than moderately sold on the Golden Gloves theory because it encourages youngsters to a more healthful life, keeps them interested in athletics, because its purpose is to provide fun for the kids as well as for the spectators, and because it is one of the lest commercialized of so-called amateur sports, this bureau does not hesitate to hope for the success of the thing, here in the state tournament and in the national setup.

WE SHOULD SEE more of that Sam West smile and hear more of that laugh now. Old Sam's signed them papers yesterday, and is satisfied. Most gratifying to us when his wire came yesterday from San Antonio, where he'd gone to meet his new bosses and talk contract.

Sam has been sort of down in the mouth this winter. Wouldn't talk much about baseball. Wasn't sure he'd like the new bosses, Barnes and DeWitt, and was uncertain about his own future. He did not fear a release, but he didn't know in whose back yard he'd be shagging flies this year. Thought maybe he'd be traded, rather hoped he would.

"Well, guess I'll get the bad news at San Antonio Sunday," he said Saturday before he left. "They've called me in for a meeting. Rather not say anything about it, for publication, until I learn something."

So the wire came saying he had signed and was satisfied. Except for confiding the other day that "if we get a pitcher we'll be hard to stop this year because we really have the makings of a good team," Sam has been quiet about baseball.

Failure to hit over .300 last season had Sam bothered a bit. His final was .278, which is still good but somewhat off his previous record. His fielding was tops; he set a new American league record for outfielders by making 422 putouts, leading both the major leagues in that particular business.

A few hours before Sam's wire, we saw by the evenin' pepper that the Browns already had started making plans. They pulled the biggest deal of the hot stove league season in a trade with Cleveland that may work out to the best interests of both clubs. For Joe Vosmik, Bill Knickerbocker and Oral Hildebrand, the Browns traded Julius Solters, Lyn Lary and Ivy Paul Andrews, corresponding players at left field, shortstop and the well known hill. Hildebrand, a temperamental right hander, won 10 and lost 11 for the Indians, while Andrews, also a right hander, won 7 and lost a dozen. The trade seems to favor the Browns by a hair so far as the pitchers are concerned.

Joe Vosmik may prove a valuable addition to the Brownies, although he fell off considerably in the hitting department last year — from .347 to .287 — while Solters batted .291. The Browns lose a fair player in Lyn Lary, the league's champion base swiper for 1936 who hit .289 and fielded .956, but Knickerbocker, who replaces him in St. Louis, hit at a .294 clip while fielding .952.

All things considered, we'd say the Browns got the best of the player deal. But they still could use a good pitcher, as what club couldn't?

Checker Champion Will Play In City

Newell W. Banks of Detroit, recognized as the blindfold checker champion of the world and as a strong chess player, will meet Lubbock chess and checker players in Hilton hotel ballroom at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Banks, who lost only one game at chess and only one at checkers in his previous appearance in Lubbock, has been touring southern states. He will come here from Dallas.

Appearance of the wizard is sponsored by the Lubbock Checker club, which has invited all checker and chess players of this section to attend either as players or spectators. The club has guaranteed a small sum to obtain Banks. Chess enthusiasts may play Banks for a nominal fee.

OPEN TITLE BID

ABILENE, Jan. 19. (AP) — The McMurry college Indian cagers opened their Texas conference title bid with a 38 to 17 victory over Southwestern university's Pirates last night.

CHAMPIONS ARE TO BE CHOSEN TONIGHT FOR STATE TOURNEY

Lubbock's initiation into one of the country's most prominent amateur sporting circles, the Golden Gloves, was accompanied by vicious thumping and mauling, and ringing cheers from an appreciative gallery last night at the Texas Tech gymnasium.

Scene of the South Plains district tournament of the national Golden Gloves setup, the college gymnasium again tonight will harbor a bunch of ambitious leather slingers and a houseful of screaming spectators as the finals are conducted.

There were knockouts, technical knockouts and decisions last night, but no draws. So furious were some of the attacks that Referee Bo Sexton, who performed an admirable job, had to "break 'em up" more than once to save partial or total disability. It's that way with amateur fighters, high school and college fighters, a good cross section of which is battling in this district Golden Gloves tournament.

Change Starting Time

The starting time for tonight's finals has been moved up to 8:20 o'clock in order not to conflict with a basketball game at Lubbock High which has been set back to 7:15 o'clock. Lubbock plays Plainview.

A crowd of approximately 1,000 occupied ringside and "bleacher" seats at the gymnasium last night and kept up a constant cheer for the boys in the baggy shorts who pummeled each other with great gusto.

Ten bouts were reeled off in record time and two other boxers were acclaimed winners via the forfeit route, as Director Milton Coffey and his corps of assistants ran the business off in a pleasingly fast manner. Many of the towns leading citizens were among the loudest advisers in the ringside seats.

To climax the show, Big Babe Ritchie, weighing in at 232 pounds, was presented in a brief scrap with Jesse Browning, Texas Tech football tackle. But Ritchie's appearance was brief. The Lubbock High school sophomore who last fall won the Texas amateur heavyweight title, hit Browning about twice — and Browning hit the canvas, to be hauled up by seconds after the ten-count. Browning's appearance was a surprise. He took a bunch of short raps from Ritchie in the first round and was a trifle groggy when it was over. Spotting the high schooler nearly 40 pounds, Browning went down early in the second round of the scheduled three-round go.

Ritchie meets Red Ramsey, another Tech footballer, in the heavyweight final tonight. Ramsey's tenure in the ring is expected to be a lot longer than Browning's.

Results of the other fights:

Andy Anderson Wins

Jack Cole of Monroe, 134 pounds, and Rex Brown, Texas Tech, 132 pounds, opened the show with a wild bout, the decision going to Brown after three rugged rounds. They were bloody in the second round. Brown, the better fighter, faced a stubborn lad who wouldn't fall.

Fiery little Andy Anderson, 146 pounds, Tech freshman gridder from Sapulpa, Okla., had his way with tall Willie Howell of Big Spring, 141 pounds, in the second fight, Referee Sexton stopping the bout after a minute and 30 seconds of the second round after Anderson had belted Howell to the floor a few times. Howell was down twice for no count in the first. It was a fast tangle while it lasted, but Howell couldn't last.

Ralph Keeton of Lubbock drew a close decision over Alton Terrell of Tech. Keeton, a [illegible], swung roundhouse open-handed curves at Terrell's head to win, although the Tech boy punched well for two rounds. It was a rather slow fight.

One of the fastest bouts of the evening and one of the briefest featured the hearty slugging of Laverne Guthrie of Plainview, a 123-pounder who fought a game 123-pounder from Hobbs, N. M., Lloyd Hathaway. Hathaway was down for no count twice in the furious first round and once connected to floor Guthrie, but the round went to the latter. Hathaway took it for nearly a minute in the second round, was floored for a 9-count, then for an eight, then out for the rest of the evening.

Wynell Cox of Hamlin, 158, knocked out Preston Martin of Snyder in the first round of their middleweight setto. They started fast with Martin swapping it out. But Cox threw 'em too fast and too hard and Martin was down first for nine counts, then for ten. The fight, shortest of all, lasted one minute 35 seconds.

Grant Takes Atkinson

Emmett Grant of Lubbock gained a technical knockout over Thomas Atkinson, also of Lubbock. Atkinson looked best at the start but soon gave way before the rushing Grant, who battered Atkinson over the ropes and was pulled away by the referee. They weighed 150 each.

Perry Pennington, smiling little toughy from Glen Rose, won a decision over Louis Eubank of Tech. They are 146-pound welterweights. The first round was about even, with lots of clinching. Pennington's aggressiveness won him the second, then the third. The slender Eubank stayed with his chunky foe well in the third round but weakened fast.

One of Lubbock's favorite athletes, Dixie White of Lubbock High and Texas Tech, sailed through to a decision over Bert Tankersley of Brownfield. Tankersley, ruddy faced and eager, clinched for the first round, clinched for the second round and did his best in the third, but White had piled up a lead and went on. It was rather slow, White never having a chance to get over his haymaker. Tankersley weighed 173, White 175.

Another technical kayo was registered by Loys Watson of Odessa, a pleasing fighter who tore into Sammy Ray, Tech freshman gridder, for two rounds. Ray did not stand up for the third. There was few knockdowns, but Watson's superiority was evident.

Louis Terrell, Lubbock, was introduced as unchallenged winner in the flyweight division. Jack Loving of Lubbock drew a forfeit in the lightweight class.

WEST TO STAY WITH BROWNS

BELIEVES ST. LOUIS SHOULD GO PLACES IN LEAGUE RACE

Sam West will play baseball for the Browns again this year, if he plays at all and if he is not traded or sold to some other American League club soon.

West, the local drugstore co-owner and centerfielder for the St. Louis club, sent the following telegram to the Morning Avalanche yesterday afternoon, from San Antonio:

"Signed contract today. Completely satisfied with Barnes-DeWitt combination. Think they have right ideas for handling club and should go places."

West had been invited to attend a meeting in San Antonio by Donald Barnes, new head man of the Browns' interests, at which contracts and plans for the season were discussed. Sam left early Sunday for San Antonio, and his reassuring message was the result.

Barnes and William DeWitt, second most important figure in the Browns' front office since the purchase early this winter, apparently made a spontaneous hit with West, who usually returns from one to three unsigned contracts before getting the one he wants. He had received no contract prior to the San Antonio meeting.

The Browns are to do their spring training at San Antonio this year, and have scheduled a number of exhibition games in Texas, including one with Chicago Cubs in Fort Worth.

West established a new American league fielding record last season by accomplishing 422 putouts from his center field position. Playing in 152 games, he fielded an average of .983, but was a trifle dissatisfied with his batting, which fell from above .300 to .278 for the season.

He is expected to return from San Antonio today. Accompanying him to the meeting, and possibly returning with him for a visit here, is Jack Knott, St. Louis pitcher who visited here last winter.

FINN FAVORED OVER TEXAN IN BATTLE

TOM BEAUPRE FIGHTS GUNNAR BARLUND IN NEW YORK ARENA

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Gunnar Barlund, the Finn who is by no means a phantom, ruled a 7-5 favorite today to whip Tom Beaupre of Dallas, Tex., in their ten round bout at the Hippodrome tomorrow night.

Joe Jacobs, American manager of Max Schmeling, insisted the German heavyweight would appear in New York next month to start a nationwide exhibition tour before his fight with Champion Jimmy Braddock and Joe Louis was in town to start training for his bout with Bob Pastor at Madison Square Garden a week from Friday.

Rather Busy Day

These were the principal developments of a rather busy day in the boxing trade.

In reverse order: Louis, arriving yesterday, said he expects to knock out Pastor — so does everyone else — but he wouldn't name the round. He weighs 206 pounds, he said, about five over his fighting weight.

Jacobs predicted the collapse of the threatened boycott of the Schmeling-Braddock bout and said the fight would go on as scheduled June 3.

To Appear In Texas

Schmeling's exhibition tour will open at Philadelphia March 1, Jacobs said, and will take in Baltimore, Washington, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Fla., Tampa, West Palm Beach, Miami, Birmingham, New Orleans, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Memphis, Chattanooga, Nashville, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, South Bend, Ind., Chicago and Detroit.

Barlund, who has impressed the fans and experts in three New York fights, was favored over Beaupre mostly because nobody hereabouts knew much about the Texan, a tall husky youngster. Beaupre holds decisions over such fighters as Red Burman, Sandy McDonald and Babe Hunt but never has shown his wares in New York.

Panhandle Basketball League Season Opens Tonight At Senior High School

WESTERNERS TO MEET PLAINVIEW HIGH'S SCRAPPIN' CLUB

The Panhandle Basketball league season opens here tonight with Coach Goober Keyes' Lubbock Westerners combating the Plainview High Bulldogs at the senior high school gymnasium here.

Originally billed to start at 7:30, the game has been moved back to 7:15 o'clock so that patrons will be permitted to watch the finals in the district Golden Gloves boxing tournament at the Texas Tech gymnasium, which is to start at 8:20 o'clock.

Some of the largest crowds ever to attend high school games having watched previous encounters this season, it is believed that the gymnasium will be packed tonight for the Class A game. The Westerners, who stand out as one of the best cage aggregations Lubbock High has boasted in the last few years, have attracted quite a large following this year.

Plainview generally places a strong club on the court. The Bulldogs lost three of their regulars last season but showed a reserve strength even then that boded well for this year.

Class A Teams In League

Comprising the Panhandle league are the Class A football schools—Lubbock, Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa and Borger. The teams play a double round robin schedule for the championship, which has no bearing on the Texas Interscholastic league race.

Coach Keyes probably will start his usual first string combination tonight, consisting of L. D. Venable and Virgie Simmons at forwards, H. P. Ford at center, Ralph Dessinger and Arvie Lee Oden at guards.

Great Tribute For Humphrey Is Paid

"TO THE WINNER—AND STILL CHAMPION," IS TOAST GIVEN BY FORMER MAYOR WALKER

BY PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Somewhere along the Broadway of the great beyond, Joe Humphreys must be swelling with pride today.

The friends he left behind him, great and insignificant as human values go, last night paid the late fight announcer with the silvery voice a tribute seldom equalled for sincerity and admiration.

Tributes Are Paid

At Madison Square Garden 2,000 persons assembled. Their spokesmen, led by Postmaster General James A. Farley and former Mayor Jimmy Walker, paid simple but impressive tribute to Joe's memory.

Former Mayor Walker, making his second public address since his retirement from politics, received a tumultuous reception as toastmaster.

"I'm one of those, perhaps, who has a great future behind him," said Walker, "but one human unit in that future I shall never forget—Joe Humphreys. I never heard him become the detractor of any man. Joe Humphreys left knocking to others and insisted on boosting, even if he had to boost to empty seats.

"I propose a toast: 'To the winner—and still champion, Joe Humphreys.'"

Receipts of the dinner, estimated at close to $1,000, will be used to erect a bronze plaque to Humphreys' memory at Madison Square Garden and a shaft over his grave.

SLATON SQUAD IS HONORED

TWENTY-SEVEN MEN ON LIST; BANQUET IS BIG ATTRACTION

SLATON, Jan. 19 (Special) — Slaton High school honored 27 members of its 1936 football squad last night at a banquet, Coach Curtis Hamilton announcing that many as having earned letters for their work in the Class B race of District 5 last season.

The banquet was prepared by mothers of the Slaton High band members. Individual awards went to four members of the club, to the three coaches and to Dr. W. A. Payne of the athletic council, designated as the "most loyal [illegible]." Payne in turn presented special awards to Coaches Hamilton, Jim [illegible] and John Rayburn.

Lettermen announced were: Gunter Garland, Leon Walston, H. C. Maxey, Trenton Bullard, Sandy Waldrip, Billy B. Clack, Doug Howard, Elvin Smith, Robbie McReynolds, Hugh Diamond, Donald Shelby, Bobby Turner, Lloyd Henry, C. D. Moss, Louis Sanders, Curly Gregory, Sterling Sloan, Wayne Kirkpatrick, Clyde Williams, Perry Moss, J. W. Saint, George Winnesmire, Red Kirksley, Charles Dickson, James Halburton, Carlton Stotts and T. G. Johnson.

Council Re-Elected

Individual awards went to Saint, for the highest scholastic rating; Shelby, for "best attitude;" Moss, [illegible] and Clyde Williams, named "most valuable player."

Motion pictures of the Lamesa and Littlefield games and campus shots were viewed by the gathering of 95 persons after the awards.

Upon the motion of Mayor Hood, the athletic council was re-elected by acclamation. It consists of S. A. Peavy, president; Dr. Payne, C. W. Taylor and A. J. Payne, secretary-treasurer.

Slaton High won the district championship in 1935, scoring 306 points to 57 for the opposition, but lost in the district final to Littlefield last year although scoring 230 points to 31 during the season. The Tigers have lost one game and tied two in the last two seasons.

Dates For Tourney Are Not Definite

Dates for the District 2 interscholastic league basketball tournament have not been definitely set, Director Berl Huffman of Texas Tech said yesterday.

In reply to queries by coaches and county athletic directors, Huffman said that the last possible dates for the district tournament were February 19-20, but that it was possible the tournament would be held earlier.

Huffman indicated that the dates of Feb. 12 and 13 might be set for the tournament, in which winners of county tournaments of the South Plains compete.

Definite announcement will be made soon, Huffman said, possibly within the next day or two, or as early as a schedule could be worked out that would not conflict with other dates at the Texas Tech gymnasium.

TEACHERS DEFEATED

NACOGDOCHES, Jan. 19. (AP) — Stephen F. Austin's Lumberjacks, 1936 co-champions, defeated the Southwest Texas Teachers 27 to 22 last night in their Lone Star conference debut.

RECORD UNBROKEN

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 19. (AP) — The John Tarleton Plowboys' unbroken string of basketball victories stood today at 66 after a 37 to 24 triumph over Texas Wesleyan's senior college Rams last night.

SONJA TO RETURN

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (AP)—Sonja Henie, three-time women's Olympic figure skating champion who drew 60,000 persons to the Chicago stadium in five days last spring, will return to the sports arena Feb. 18-21 as star of the stadium's international ice carnival.

FORMER AGGIE MENTOR MAY COME BACK

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS TRYING TO SWING COACHING DEAL

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—Coach Dana X. Bible, whose Nebraska Cornhuskers have become almost perennial champions of Big Six football, headed toward Austin today to discuss the possibility of taking over the reins of the University of Texas Longhorns.

Bible accepted an invitation from the university board of regents to confer regarding employment as successor to Coach Jack Chevigny. Bible's name topped two recommended to the board by its athletic committee. The other was not disclosed.

Objections of Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university, to a high salary and to a long-time contract were the chief obstacles to Bible's employment. His terms were reported unofficially at $15,000 annually for from five to 10 years or $25,000 a year for himself and his assistants. Dr. Benedict's salary is $8,000 and professors' pay stops at $5,000.

Meets Specifications

Bible would meet the specifications of H. J. Lutcher Stark, millionaire godfather of university athletics, who has held out for a big-time mentor.

The Nebraska coach was represented as opposed to signing unless assured the good-will of Dr. Benedict and the faculty. Should he be employed it would be a return to a state of former gridiron triumphs. He had a successful career as coach at Texas A. and M. college before going to Nebraska.

J. C. Dolley, athletic council chairman, said there was some basis for a rumor that a group of alumni would provide a $5,000 bonus for Bible. Some sources believed such an arrangement might complete the deal.

All-Stars To Meet Pro Team In Texas

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—A team of all-star collegians and a professional eleven will meet on the gridiron here Labor day night, Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition officials and the Dallas News announced.

College stars coached by Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian and Matty Bell of Southern Methodist defeated the professional Chicago Bears 7 to 0 here last September.

George Halas of the Bears has issued a challenge for another game. Bell and Meyer said they would consider it.

AND MUSTANGS THINK TECH IS ROUGH

WELL, WELL, SURELY THIS COULDN'T BE IN SOUTHWEST

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (AP) — Rough and tumble tactics, considerable booing of players and officials, and finally, a mass jeering of one player leaving the game, were sidelights to the Arkansas-Southern Methodist basketball game at Dallas Saturday night. . . . The commotion followed, by a few hours, the issuance of the following letter to coaches, officials, sports writers and student leaders by E. W. McDiarmid of Texas Christian, president of the Southwest conference:

"At the beginning of the conference basketball season, will it not be well for us to remind ourselves of the need of unremitting effort to keep these games on the highest possible level of sportsmanship. . . . Two objectives are urgently sought: Proper treatment of our conference officials and sportsmanlike procedure on the part of athletes and spectators. . . . Our concerted effort last year brought good results. . . . Let us bend every effort to continue the good work."

Take Over His Future

Fans are taking over Sammy Baugh's future. . . . Fort Worth Star-Telegram is conducting a poll among grid fans to determine whether Samuel should enter professional football, take a T. C. U. coaching job, enter professional baseball, leave T. C. U. for a high school or college coaching job or enter private business. . . . So far, fans have decided he should remain at T. C. U.

The University of Texas basketeers fired 58 times at the basket in the Rice game Saturday night and found the netting for only seven goals. . . . Sports editors and writers of Associated Press member papers will gather at Temple Feb. 3 for an all-day conclave. . . . Managing Editor Lloyd Gregory of the Houston Post will preside.

To Play Big Teams

"Uncle Billy" Disch's Texas Longhorn baseballers will play the Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns and Minneapolis Millers in exhibition games at Austin. . . . Billy Patterson, Baylor's dazzling sophomore football passer, can also pass his studies. . . . He bagged three "A's", one of them plus, on his latest "score card."

Susumu Hisatomi, middle distance runner on the 1932 Japanese Olympic team, is a Texas Aggie graduate student majoring in entomology. . . . Mose Simms, St. Mary's of San Antonio athletic director, says he's taking the Rattler basketball team east for Madison Square Garden appearances. . . . Lloyd Gregory of Houston has Joel Hunt, Texas A. and M.; Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian; Bill Wallace, Rice institute, and Harrison Stafford, Texas, in his all-time Southwest conference backfield. . . . Note: All are modern day players. . . .

Professional Golf Tourneys Being Set

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Texas Professional Golfers association has announced dates for tournaments over the Colonial country club course at Fort Worth as follows:

April 25, Texas cup matches, 36 holes.

April 27, first 36-hole qualifying round for National P. G. A. tournament.

April 28, final 36-hole round, which also will be for the Texas P. G. A. championship.

POST BANQUET HELD MONDAY

ANNUAL EVENT STAGED LAST NIGHT: ABOUT 100 ARE PRESENT

POST, Jan. 19—Post Chamber of Commerce held its twenty-third annual banquet here Monday night at the Methodist church with approximately 100 members of the organization and visitors from neighboring towns present.

Four new directors were elected for a two-year term, Ashley Lawson, Harold Voss, Glenn Leonard, and P. S. Bouchier. They replace J. B. Slaughter, O. L. Weakley, Marshall Mason, and J. E. Parker. Holdover directors are Tom Bouchier, Jim Hundley, A. B. Haws, and E. A. Warren.

Slaughter, retiring president, acted as master of ceremonies. Other retiring officers are Weakley, vice president, and Tom Bouchier, second vice president.

To Elect Feb. 1

New officers will be elected at the next regular meeting of the board of directors, Feb. 1.

Attending the banquet from Lubbock were Chas. Whitacre, J. H. Brock, Dr. C. J. Wagner, and a newspaperman.

W. T. (Tanlac) Strange, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, delivered the principal address.

After an opening song led by W. F. Presson, Rev. Clarence Bounds, pastor of the Post Methodist church, offered an invocation. After dinner, served by the Methodist Women's Missionary society, a program of entertainment was presented.

Mrs. Ashley Lawson and Miss Lyall Pickett played violin and piano compositions. Edna Ruth Swanger and Vera Nell Jones sang and read, and Iris Joy Parker tapped.

Joe S. Moss, Garza county attorney, outlined Texas Unemployment Compensation laws and answered questions concerning regulations and requirements.

A quartet composed of Misses Morene and Lorene Tyson, Marjorie and Juanita Tucker sang. Two accordion numbers were played by Miss Catherine Royalty, member of the Post public schools facutly and a former resident of Lubbock.

Following the main address, a round-table discussion of proposed continued distribution of cash prizes by Post business men on Saturdays to boost home trade was conducted. Many chamber members participated.

Guests from several neighboring towns were introduced by Slaughter.

On the program were listed receipts and disbursements of the chamber in 1936 and its year's activities listed under trade, highway and civic development, and special activities.

New directors introduced spoke briefly.

All members joined with Vice President Weakley in giving President Slaughter a rising vote of thanks.

Three Permits Are Issued On Monday

Three building permits issued yesterday confirmed recent statements by D. A. Forbess, city building inspector, that construction of residences in Lubbock was showing increases and that amount of building was returning to figures shown in pre-depression years.

Three permits for construction of residences amounted to $8,700.

Two permits were issued to C. B. Harris yesterday to construct residences at 1721 and 1718 Twenty-fourth streets, each permit for $2,600. Harris is also contractor.

A third permit was issued to A. M. Dupree to build a residence of brick veneer at 1920 Twentieth street. The permit is for $3,500. E. D. Smallin is contractor.

New Pharmacy Is Opened On Monday

E. L. Robertson, pharmacist here for almost 20 years, opened the only exclusive prescription pharmacy in Lubbock and possibly the only one in Texas west of Fort Worth Monday at 1113 Avenue K.

Robertson opened a drug store here in 1917, which he operated until recently. He is a former president of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association and of the state Rexall association. He has served on various committees in druggist groups. He is widely known here, having held membership in many civic groups.

"I think there is room here for an exclusive prescription pharmacy, and I've been thinking about opening one for more than a year", he said.

Reasonable prices and quick delivery service will be offered. Equipment is new and all stock is fresh and new, and the pharmacy will be ready to fill all prescriptions quickly, he said. A lounge room has been equipped. The pharmacy will remain open as late as business justifies, he said.

Narcotics Suspect Is Held By Police

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 19 (AP)—United States Commissioner Edward D. Dunn today held under $25,000 bond a man officials said was Dannie Miller, 42, accused in a fugitive complaint of concealing 3,636 grains of narcotics in Dallas, Texas, Sept. 21.

The prisoner denied the identity and was ordered held until a hearing Jan. 28. He was arrested here Dec. 20 when he allegedly accepted shipment of 845 grains of narcotics from Dallas. The Texas complaint was filed Dec. 6.

Half Holiday For Lubbock Students

Students of Lubbock public schools are enjoying a half holiday before the second half of the 1936-37 school term begins Wednesday morning.

All except Senior High school students received their report cards this morning and were dismissed at noon. Senior High school students did not go to the school at all today unless they were to register again for the second half of the term.

That Girl on Broadway says it's to be hoped that the moral stamina the nation developed during depression doesn't slip from us as we sink lower and lower into the depths of prosperity.

For years and years chaplains have been praying in the Texas legislature. It must be discouraging.

* * *

SOME day when city authorities haven't anything else to do they might flip a coin to decide whether we're going to have a boulevard system in Lubbock or not.

Take the case of 16th street between Avenues Q and X, for instance.

Along that section of street there is a whale of a lot of traffic morning, noon and night.

Between Avenues X and Q approximately every other intersection has a stop-sign where the avenues intersect with 16th—and every other one does not have a stop-sign.

That makes for considerable confusion on the part of the many people who drive east and west on 16th. They don't know which intersection they may expect to be rammed into and which will bring about a slowing down of north-south traffic.

Of course The Plainsman isn't sap enough to believe that placing stop-signs at all avenue intersections with 16th street would cause people driving north and south to stop before crossing or turning into 16th.

Stop signs in Lubbock are just for fun. Nobody takes them seriously. They read s-t-o-p but are translated s-l-o-w.

By common consent and apparently with the good-natured approval of officials, Lubbock drivers slow down and occasionally even [illegible] at stop-signs—which [illegible] by giving the fellow who is supposedly protected by the stop-sign a chance to slide by first or run up on a [illegible] from [illegible].

But it would [illegible] to have the stop-signs at all the intersections—[illegible] stop-signs at all the intersections—or have no stop-signs, which would make way for a dandy free-for-all and [illegible] the hindmost.

THE same situation generally applies to Broadway and to 19th street, two other principal east-west arteries of traffic.

They are protected haphazardly here and there by stop-signs where some north-south thoroughfares intersect. At other points they are not.

The point to the whole business is that we should decide on one thing or the other—either pick out boulevard streets and protect all their intersections with stop-signs or have no boulevards at all and throw all the stop-signs on the dump heap, including those jolly little metal buttons which [illegible] longer but which can't be seen by the driver until he is on top of them.

The late lamented safety commission, largely through the intelligent and intense labor of Prof. J. W. Jackson, of Texas Tech, gave the City commission a lot of statistics and suggestions regarding traffic control a year or so ago. But aside from patting the safety group upon its collective back there has been nothing done.

Meanwhile, need for sensible traffic control in Lubbock has continued—including increased need for traffic lights at Broadway and Avenue Q, Avenue Q and 16th street, Avenue Q and 19th street and 19th street and College avenue.

It's a great life.

That Man on Avenue Q says it's all right to be light-hearted but the trouble is most light-hearted people are also light-headed.

* * *

Mae West made $480,833 last year but that isn't so much when you deduct taxes and the cost of having heavy jewelry cleaned.

* * *

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR WALTER WOODUL was good to the 30th Senatorial district in the matter of committee appointments for Senator G. H. (Hobart) Nelson. Senator Nelson is chairman of the Committee of Judicial Districts, vice-chairman of the Committee of Education, and in addition, is a member of the Constitutional Amendments; Finance; Civil Jurisprudence; Public Lands and Land Office; Penitentiaries; Governor's Nominations; Senatorial Districts; Representative Districts, and Highways and Motor Traffic committees.

That ought to be enough to keep hizzoner tolerably busy.

The Plainsman is particularly interested in noting Senator Nelson's membership on the education, finance, senatorial and representative districts and constitutional amendments committees.

From the standpoint of Texas Tech—with the exception of the Committee on Appropriations—Senator Nelson could not have landed on two better committees than those on finance and education.

From the standpoint of our needs for additional representation at Austin, the home man's appointment on both the Senate and House districts committee is distinctly worthwhile.

And from the standpoint of the senator's pet project—the unicameral legislature, which The Plainsman thinks is a swell idea—his being included on the Committee on Constitutional amendments is "all to the mustard."

As the initiated know, a senator's committee appointments can do him and his section a lot of good—or a lot of harm.

From this vantage point some 465 miles removed from the big building West Texas lands built, it appears Hobart has been well taken care of both from his point of view and that of the 30th Senatorial district.

FROM Dr. Bradford Knapp, the esteemed skipper of the big school out on College avenue, comes copy of an executive order which seeks, logically, to put a stop to promiscuous rifle shooting on the campus.

From now on, unless under the direction of Capt. Frank Pettit, the ROTC boss, or by permission of either President Knapp or Business Manager Tom Gaston, there'll be no rifle shooting on Tech property. And, after all, why should there be?

There's no more call for bullets zipping about the Tech campus than there is for them whizzing through the courthouse square.

People with no more judgment than to fire rifles under such circumstances ought to be restrained.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore has borrowed the name of a man she thought dead. Now that Rex Moore has returned, she must keep up the pretense of being married to him so that he may hold his job with Mark Albery—for whom she also works. Rex is in their flat when a woman is announced. She is Wanda Steele, and she seems to recall disturbing memories to Rex.

PAST HISTORY

"Rex, how badly you treated me!" Wanda Steele's great dark eyes reproached him through the happiness of seeing him again. "How could you do it? Going off like that without a word! Leaving me in that fearful anxiety, not knowing whether you were alive or dead! After all I had done for you! It was cruel—it was inhuman. I never got over it. Nothing mattered to me any more after you had gone. Eight months ago, Rex, and I thought of you every day."

"How did you find me?" he asked in a dull voice.

"I've just come to London from Italy. I've been traveling for the last six months. And I saw in the paper this morning that Mark Albery had given you a luncheon, that you were back and were planning a new flight. I rang up the Albery offices and they gave me your address. Rex, why do you look at me so strangely? Aren't you glad to see me? Have you forgotten everything?"

He was looking at her strangely, at the woman who, with her husband, had rescued him in their yacht when he had crashed in those lonely wastes of the Pacific, who had taken him to their home in California, looked after him, nursed him devotedly while he lay unconscious, comforted him when he awoke blind.

They had done for him all that human beings could do. They had kept his rescue a secret as he had asked them to. They had treated him as an honored guest; they had indulged every reasonable whim of his broken body and his darkened soul. They had lapped him in the greatest luxury and paid enormous sums to the greatest specialists in the hope of restoring his sight.

At last he had been cured, and only a month afterwards he had slipped out of their gates during the night because he knew they would not let him go in the way he wanted to, and because he knew he could never thank them for what they had done.

And because this woman had told him that she loved him and that without him her life would not be worth living.

Of course he realized afterwards that he had been a little crazy. His brain must have been unhinged by the joy of regaining his sight.

"I can only think you must have been mad," the woman said.

"I was," he answered. "What I did was unforgivable. There is nothing worse than ingratitude."

"It doesn't matter now that I've found you again," she said. She was holding his hands, standing very close to him, looking passionately, exultantly into his eyes.

She was not beautiful. Her features were too large. But she was attractive with her eager, wide red lips, her long pale golden face powdered with freckles, framed in the thick platinum hair, with thickly painted lashes.

And she was supremely elegant. Her severe tailor-made costume, her little grey turban, with a single large pearl in it, her discreet but costly onyx and diamond bangles, the grey moire pochette, with the tiny diamond initials, all was perfect. The impeachable combination of wealth and taste.

Rex Moore's face was grim as he disengaged his hands and put her gently into an armchair.

Her eyes filled with reproach again.

"Rex, I hardly knew you! Tell me about it. What did you do it for? Why did you never send word?"

"I knew that I could never thank you," he answered. "And I couldn't go on living on your kindness and your husband's generosity. I'm afraid I can't find words to explain. But I had to get on my own feet again. I went to New York. It took me two months to work my way there. And I picked up a living in one way and another. And then I suppose my mind got well again like my body had done and I wanted to come back to England and get on with my job. That's all."

"All!" she echoed. "It tells me nothing." But she did not seem to mind, or to be particularly interested in what he had done during those months. It was plain that all she cared about was that she had found him again.

"How is your husband?" he asked.

"Dead."

"Oh, I am sorry!"

"You needn't be. I'm not."

He looked at her with something like fear in his eyes.

"Don't be a hypocrite," she said. "You know quite well Ferdy and I were nothing to each other. For years we had been only good friends—long before you came into my life. Ferdy had his compensations, like all men. I had none. I wasn't that kind. I couldn't take up with just any man, because he was a man."

"I am sorry," Rex Moore repeated. His long, angry mouth was hard. In his face was nothing that she looked for.

"Sorry because I am free?" the woman asked. Her voice had dropped; there was no drawl in it, but a breathless question.

Rex looked at her with his wintry eyes.

"I should have liked to thank him," he said dully.

"You have forgotten me? You have never thought of me at all?"

"Often."

"Don't play with me! You know what we said to each other before you ran away like a coward. I understand, Rex, you ran away because of me. You were afraid of me. You didn't want to be ungrateful to Ferdy. You knew I loved you—you knew it. You must have known it all the time you were with us. But Ferdy was alive. Now he's dead there's nothing between us."

"When did he die?"

"Two months after you left us. He fell off his horse and it rolled over him. I think he was drunk. But, Rex, let's talk about ourselves. You've had a shock. But you must see there's nothing between us now."

Wanda, tomorrow, gets a shock.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

BAN THE OLD HYMNS? THAT'S FOOLISH!

Commenting upon the suggestion of an unnamed preacher that "we should get away from singing over and over again those worn out hymns which everybody knows and is tired of," the Lexington, Ky., Herald, published by Lindsay and Gilmore Nunn, formerly of Amarillo and Pampa, agrees with the idea.

The Journal is willing to wager, however, that Lindsay Nunn's father, Dr. J. E. Nunn, longtime bellwether of Panhandle Baptists and himself a retired minister and educator, doesn't agree with the theory. And neither will thousands of others who love and revere the old hymns and who would much rather hear and sing them than listen to a lot of "la-de-dah" anthems by choirs being forced to try selections definitely "over their heads", as is the case in so many churches today.

As we see it, one of the very definite needs of the church today is adoption of programs in which the individual church member or attendant takes a part.

We can think of no better way to make it easy for everyone to take part in church services than by scheduling, in every service, a number of those old favorite songs that everybody knows — "The Old Rugged Cross", "Holy, Holy, Holy", "Nearer, My God, To Thee" and other, similar, grandly reverent tunes.

Instead of gradually eliminating those fine songs from our worship periods, we should use them more than we do, if for no other reason than they make people feel at home in the churches. They will stimulate church attendance and active participation by scores of people who otherwise might have little or no interest in what goes on in the houses of worship.

A THOUGHT

For in the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion: in the secret of His tabernacle shall He hide me; He shall set me up upon a rock.—Psalm 27:5.

GAS PRESSURE MAY CAUSE DISCOMFORT. RIGHT SIDE BEST.

If you toss in bed and can't sleep on right side, try Adlerika. Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS pressing on heart so you sleep soundly.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels and brings out foul matter you would [illegible] was in your system. This old matter may have poisoned you for months and caused GAS, sour stomach, headache or nervousness.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Mrs. Jas. Filler: "Gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. The first dose of Adlerika brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better."

Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just ONE dose relieves GAS and constipation.

MOVIE SIDELIGHTS
Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19—All over the lot: Out at Mr. Hal Roach's playground, there is a brief renaissance of an old and all-but-forgotten art. Patsy Kelly is about to throw a custard pie in the face of Jack Haley. It's all for a scene in the filmusical, "Pick a Star."

Both players are visibly nervous. Haley doesn't relish the idea, and Miss Kelly isn't sure of her aim, although the distance is only about five feet. He asks, "Are you sure you took off the tin plate?"

She says, "Sure. Don't worry about anything because I'll miss anyway. I'm no Dizzy Dean."

"Quiet!" commands Director Eddie Sedgwick. "Here we go."

The camera turns. Miss Kelly and Haley speak their few lines of dialog, and then it happens. She grabs the pie, winds up and lets go. Bull's-eye! The gooey missile wraps itself around Haley's face. It is a thick pie and real custard.

"Cut!" says Sedgwick. Then everyone except Haley begins laughing. "Boy, oh boy!" yells Patsy. "Am I good! Can I pitch! What fun!" The director says he won't need an additional take, so Patsy starts shaking hands all around.

She doesn't shake hands with Haley. His hands are full of pie. So are his eyes, mouth, and ears. A prop boy begins to clean him off with a sponge and a bucket of water. Some of the old-timers utter nostalgic sighs. Reminds them of the good old days.

"Slip" Of Tongue

Anatole Litvak, small, shy-haired gent imported from France by RKO to direct Paul Muni and Miriam Hopkins in "Escapade," is having trouble with the English language.

Today he is shooting a [illegible] scene, and preparations are almost complete but he needs Miss Hopkins' stand-in for a final adjustment of the lights.

He looks for her but she isn't in her customary chair. [illegible] yells M. Litvak: "I want at once Miss Hopkins. Where is Miss Hopkins' step-in?"

Foul Play

They're having swan trouble on the "Maytime" set at MGM. The setting is an idyllic little glen which includes a pond with real grass growing to the water's edge and two real swans gliding about on the surface.

The spot was designed for the singing by Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald of the sweetheart duet, "Do You Remember?"

The swans have worked in dozens of pictures and have been very well behaved. But the succulent green grass is too much for them. Swans love grass.

Just as the stars get well into their number there is a terrific threshing and splashing at the pond's edge. The birds have torn off chunks of turf and are [illegible] them in the water to wash off the dirt.

This [illegible] a little of tune until property men with long poles are stationed out of camera range to keep the swans away from the bank.

Swan Song

Then the camera moves in for a close-up of the singers. The swans, resenting being left out of the picture, and [illegible] beating their wings on the water. After two successive takes are ruined by the noise, Director Robert Leonard yells, "Get those [illegible] birds off this lot and keep 'em off."

So the keeper of the swans, red with embarrassment, goes to the edge of the pond and makes silly clucking noises while the movie company [illegible] in hysterics. The swans [illegible] at the keeper and go on tearing out chunks of sod.

Finally a couple of property men arrive with ropes and begin a swan rodeo. It's hard to rope a swan's neck, but harder to keep it in the noose. Everybody yells advice and encouragement. Eventually the birds are [illegible] and hustled off the stage, and "Maytime" marches on.

A man who broke into a tavern at Montville, N. J., ate and drank so much he was asleep when police arrived to arrest him.

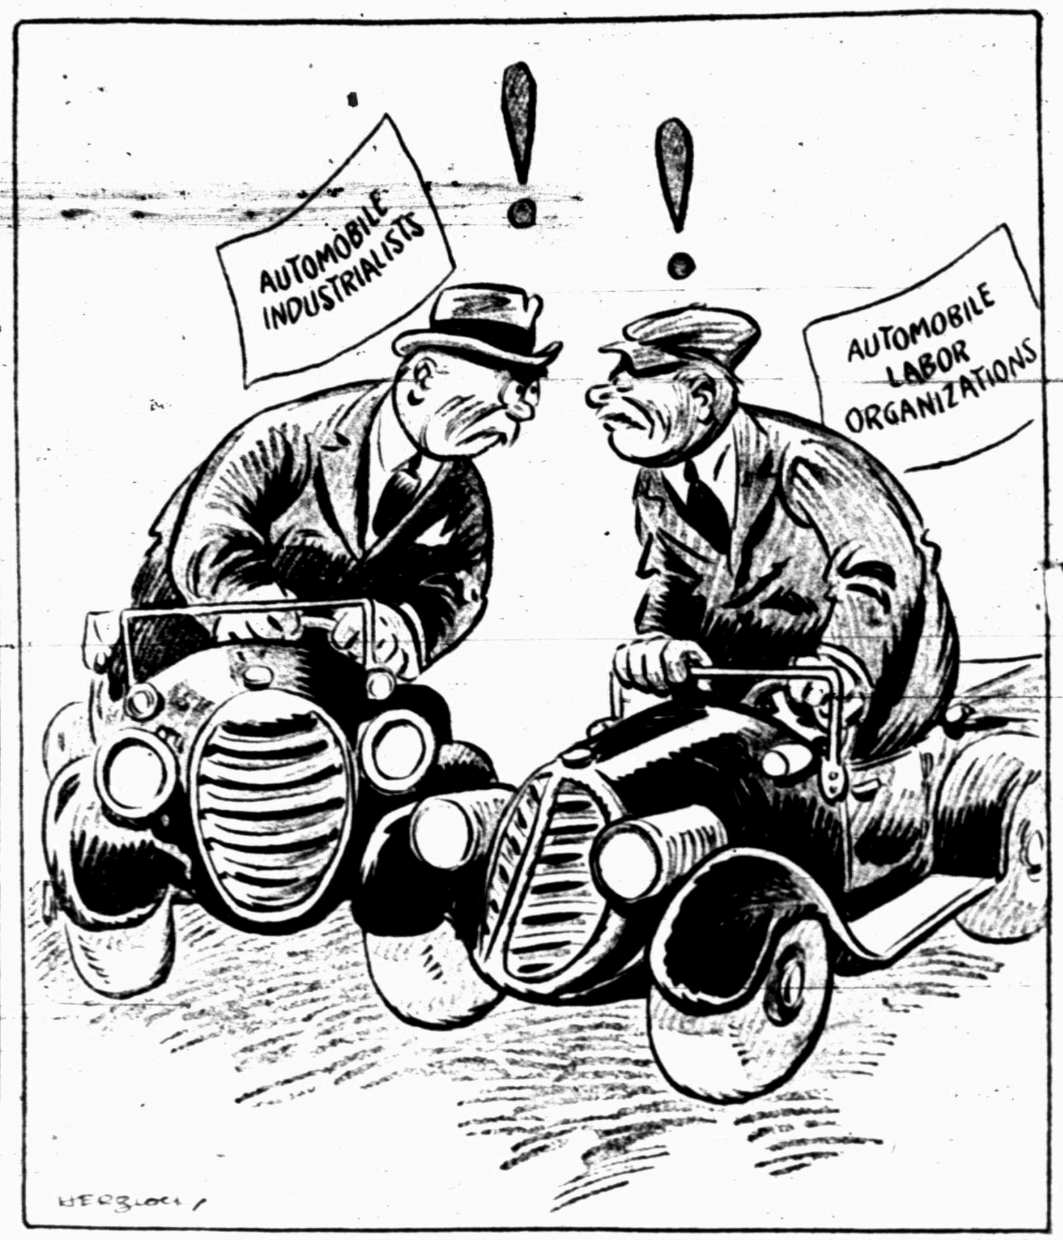
How About A Little More "Courtesy Of The Road"?



Roosevelt Keeping Details Of Proposed Reorganization 'Under His Hat'; Only General Plans Are Given Solons

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—A Negro messenger recently was observed staggering across Pennsylvania Avenue toward the White House, heavily laden with a pile of bound typewritten pages about two feet high.

Dutcher

If it had been known in time what he was carrying, he almost certainly would have been waylaid by 10 cabinet members, a hundred bureau chiefs and commissioners, and a small army of other New Deal officials.

For the messenger's load was the report of the president's committee on reorganization of government—consisting of Louis Brownlow, Charles E. Merriam and Luther Gulick.

Significance of this doesn't rest in the curious fact that the report wasn't toted in a taxi or a government wagon but in the insistence of those who saw the pile that only a small portion of the committee's actual report has been transmitted to Congress.

Roosevelt gave Congress only 47 pages, which laid down general principles and outlined specifically only those broad, major changes recommended by the committee which require congressional action.

President Marking Time

The actual program for regrouping more than a hundred government agencies, commissions, and bureaus, including such big ones as WPA, PWA, Social Security, CCC and TVA—there is every reason to believe—is locked up in the president's desk for use after Congress gives him power to use it.

An enormous amount of subterranean lobbying directed at the White House already has begun. Many officials suspect they know what's in the suppressed bulk of the Brownlow report and are bringing such pressure as they can in cases where they don't like it.

Roosevelt seeks to give the impression that aside from creation of the Social Welfare and Public Works Departments, the White House secretariat expansion, and other phases of his congressional message, the program isn't worked out—implying that nothing else is a final decision.

"You ask me where X bureau is going," he told correspondents, "and I say the Lord only knows—I don't. I shall keep an open mind until after Congress passes this bill. Guesses will be, as usual, 90 per cent wrong."

Puts Damper On Byrd

Neatly and as if without guile, the president, in his special press conference on reorganization, sought to spike the guns of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, chairman of a Senate committee on reorganization, who keeps insisting that hundreds of millions of dollars can be saved through pruning and reorganization.

Explaining why no appreciable saving could be made without elimination or curtailment of federal functions—by "doing less work," which is not a matter of reorganization—the president suggested that by consolidation of overlapping functions the federal government probably could save proportionately as much as states which had reorganized their governments "with great public acclaim."

He mentioned New York, Maine, Virginia, and other states. Then he said that in no case did any state reduce expenses more than 1 1-2 per cent through reorganization, or less than 1-2 per cent.

Byrd's chief claim as a reorganization expert rests on the fact that, as governor, he supervised a consolidation in Virginia which merged 95 departments into 11 departments and two agencies.

Roosevelt didn't say whether Virginia had saved 1 1-2 per cent or 1-2 per cent, but no correspondent was so dull-witted as to miss the point.

Needs Chance To Think

Explaining the need for a half dozen executive assistants in the White House, the president said a huge amount of his time was taken up with conferences with cabinet members and other officials who had no opportunity to communicate back and forth except through personal contact.

"I don't get enough time to think," he complained.

Pointing to the rare paragraph in the Brownlow report which said the executive assistants should possess "high competence, great physical vigor, and a passion for anonymity," the president added:

"I want the kind of man who, when you meet him and say 'Good morning!', will reply, 'I don't know.'

"I have two men in mind for these jobs now. They are John Doe and Richard Roe."

KITTREDGE TO SPEAK HERE

FAMOUS AUTHORITY ON SHAKESPEARE WILL APPEAR JAN. 29

George Lyman Kittredge, called the world's greatest living authority on Shakespeare, who will be brought here for a lecture at 8 o'clock Friday evening, Jan. 29, at the High school auditorium, wants to meet some cowboys or the sons and daughters of cowboys when he comes to Texas.

John A. Lomax, author and collector of folk songs and ballads, a friend, and a former pupil of Kittredge, said that Kittredge developed an admiration for the west through his father, a forty-niner. Lomax, who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Mansell, at 1618 Avenue Y, is responsible for Kittredge's coming to Texas Technological college. The local chapter of the American Association of University Women and the English department are sponsoring the lecture on Sheakespeare.

Forceful Speaker

"Kittredge is such a forceful speaker, uses such simple and direct language, combined with a rare humor that even though a person knows nothing of Shakespeare he will be extremely interested and delighted with the lecture," said Lomax.

Kittredge received his A. B. degree from Harvard in 1882. On being asked why he did not get a Ph. D., he replied: "Who would examine me?"

Until his retirement last May, Kittredge had been a professor of English at Harvard since 1888. Two years ago Oxford university invited him to give five lectures, and at the end of them he was awarded an honorary degree.

Begin Tour Monday

He began his lecture tour Monday night at the University of Florida. According to Lomax he will speak at the following places before coming to Tech: University of Louisiana at Baton Rouge, Rice Institute at Houston, University of Texas at Austin, Baylor at Waco, Hockaday school at Dallas, and T. C. U. at Fort Worth, and later at the University of St. Louis. Lubbock is the last western town that he will visit.

Lomax describes Kittredge as one of the most distinguished looking men he has known. He is slightly stooped, has white hair and beard, and bright blue eyes. He always wears a pearl gray suit, with wing collars, and a red or blue necktie.

Kittredge, the author of many books, is now editing each of Shakespeare's plays in a separate volume with his own notes.

In order to clear up a disputed matter he once went to England where he presented himself to an Oxford don who not quite catching his name, replied: "There is only one man who can answer your question. He is George Lyman Kittredge of Harvard."

"In any event, the airplane was flown in as nearly a straight line course as circumstances would permit and in a stalling attitude to the point where the accident occurred.

Open Country Available

"No attempt was made to lighten the load by dumping the gasoline and plenty of open country was available in which an emergency landing could have been made.

"It is the opinion of the bureau of air commerce that the probable cause of this accident was lack of experience on the part of the pilot in the operation of this particular type of aircraft fully loaded and with only one engine functioning."

Killed in the crash, besides Walbridge, were Sterling E. Perry, Braniff Airways maintenance superintendent; William Chambers, chief mechanic; Hubert Daane, radio service man; Fred Sleeper, instrument installation man, and Pascall Florence, aircraft and engine inspector.

The line was broken but a brisk breeze quickly carried away the fumes and the pickets re-formed. The men picked up unexploded bombs and threw them into the plant.

A truck which attempted to enter the plant at 8 a. m. was turned back. Several hundred Briggs workmen huddled across the street but made no attempt to penetrate the picket line while the sound truck passed up and down the street blaring forth the announcement "no work at Briggs today."

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Cotton opened 2 to 3 points lower in a dull, inactive market this morning.

The volume of dealings approximated the light business on Monday's session and in the first half hour there was no important change from the first sale prices.

March opened off 2 points at 12.41, July was 3 lower at 12.21 and Dec. was off a similar amount at 11.92.

Liverpool was dull, but steady. Outside speculation was limited in the English market with no fresh stimulus appearing to shake the price trend out of its narrow trading rut.

Weather in the American belt was featured by scattered rains in the eastern half and dry weather in the west. Temperatures were normal, with the exception of colder weather in the northwest.

Business was down to the vanishing point on the market during the morning with only an occasional sale disturbing an otherwise placid calm.

The trade showed no intention of entering the market with so much uncertainty over the impending sale of loan cotton and speculative interests were definitely on the sidelines.

Cotton news was largely routine and furnished little in the way of the unusual. Manchester cabled that cloth and yarn business was holding at encouraging levels with prices firm. Domestic goods markets also experienced a good volume of business at strong prices.

Just before noon the market showed less than 25 cents a bale change from opening levels.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 to 5 lower under liquidation, hedge selling, and indifferent Liverpool cables. March 12.45; May 12.32; July 12.24; Oct. 11.87; Dec. 11.86; Jan. 11.83B. B-bid.

Easiness of other commodities brought in further selling through commission houses as well as offerings from New Orleans. However the reactionary trend was checked by good trade purchases of March on the decline. That position rallied from 12.43 to 12.46 but other months were close to the lows at mid-day with May selling at 12.31 and the list 2 to 6 points net lower.

The unfavorable automobile strike news and uncertainty over the effect of Japanese control of yen exchange seemed to influence sentiment.

Trading was moderately active. March liquidation, hedging in the more distant positions, far east and continental selling supplied contracts.

The trade was again the best buyer of nearby positions and Liverpool also took cotton.

On the whole, the offerings were not large and by the end of the first half hour a steadier undertone had developed.

May advanced from 12.32 to 12.34 and was selling at 12.35 late in the first hour with prices generally 1 to 3 points net lower.

Liverpool reported liquidation and hedge selling which met local support.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Darkening labor clouds today brought another fall in the stock market barometer.

While the trading pace slowed appreciably after a fast opening, declines of fractions to 2 points were well distributed near the fourth hour.

With automotive strikers clashing with the police at Detroit, and no break apparent in the General Motors conflict, most speculative and investment forces were inclined to stand aside.

It required only moderate pressure to push back motors and steels, and the utilities, discovering troubles of their own aside from workers' problems, took the downward path. Coppers were recessionary along with aircrafts.

Tobaccos and specialties were exceptions, a number getting up as much as a point.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

Shares on the offside included Chrysler, General Motors, Briggs Mfg., Electric Auto-Lite, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Standard Gas, American & Foreign Power, Anaconda, Kennecott, Miami, Inspiration, Calumet & Hecla, Texas Corp., Standard Oil of California, General Electric, Johns-Manville, Mohawk Carpet, Revere Copper & Brass, American Metal, Douglas Aircraft and Boeing.

Narrow were N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Gains were shown by Liggett & Myers "B," American Tobacco "B," Lorillard, Gillette, Crown Zellerbach, Continental-Diamond Fibre, Delaware & Hudson and Gulf States Steel.

SOCIAL SECURITY

civil service rolls, Congressman Mahon said in his telegram. Several weeks, he added, will be required to open the offices.

Names of the counties to be served through the Lubbock office were unknown here. The Social Security Board had announced its intention of opening no more than 375 district headquarters for the administration of old age benefits.

Lubbock Doctor To Join Naval Staff

Dr. Murray Ballenger, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Ballenger of 1723 Thirteenth street, and a graduate of Texas Technological college, is en route from Kansas City to Boston to begin duties Jan. 21 on the staff of the United States naval hospital.

Doctor Ballenger will be employed until September in the hospital then will go to Washington to study six months in the army-navy school, after which he will be stationed.

He had been on the staff of the Kansas City general hospital as pathologist. He received bachelor of science and doctor's degrees at Kansas City university.

NINE SENTENCED TO LIFE IN PEN

McALESTER, Okla., Jan. 19 (AP)—Nine McAlester penitentiary convicts were sentenced to life imprisonment Monday—six of them for the slaying of a guard in the May 13 prison break, and the others for the fatal stabbing of fellow convicts.

District Judge R. W. Higgins, who sentenced them, said the sentencing of nine men to imprisonment for life in one day "breaks the record for civil courts in the United States."

Withdrawing pleas of innocence, five felons pleaded guilty to murder in the slaying of C. D. Powell, brickward foreman, during the break.

A sixth convict, Archie Herring, tried and convicted in Powell's death, heard District Judge Higgins pass formal sentence of life imprisonment.

The five were Claud Fugate, J. D. Bohannon, Jess Cunningham, Claud Beavers and Bill Anderson.

FIRST TEST

every person through whose hands it passes within a month. Each also pays a 2 per cent transaction tax on the fleeting dollar.

One of the bills bore eight signatures today, representing 16 cents added to the revolving fund "kitty."

Here was how the leading greenback gained signatures in rapid succession:

Telephone Bill Paid

A citizen paid a four-dollar telephone bill with four of the velocity dollars. Eight cents tax went into the glass jar "kitty" which every business keeps handy on the counter.

Another telephone company customer received the four bills promptly in change for a five. He returned one of the bills to the telephone company in payment of a small bill, signing it in the transaction and chipping 2 cents into the tax fund.

Isom Lamb, who came here from Los Angeles four months ago as Chelan county Townsend supervisor, donated the $200 for the revolving fund test. He said he expected the experiment to prove the feasibility of the Townsend plan.

HE SPENDS $49.50 CASH IN TWO DAYS

CHELAN, Wash., Jan. 19 (AP)—Spending $49.50 in two days, C. C. Fleming made it clear today he would have no difficulty spending $200 within 30 days in the first actual trial of the Townsend old age pension plan.

Here is how he has spent earmarked dollars given him at midnight Saturday:

Sunday

Church contribution $1, Townsend club dues for year $3.

Monday

Permanent wave for his wife $5, haircut 50 cents, groceries $10.38, light bill $19.98, meat $1.07, a dress hat for Mrs. Fleming $5.47, hay $1.10 and a subscription to the home town weekly paper $2.

Cold Fog Blankets South Plains Area

A cold fog, that prevailed until mid-morning, covered the South Plains area early today. The sun dispelled the fog, but the mercury did not rise rapidly, a nine degree rise being reported from 7 a. m. to 11 by West Texas Gas company.

Minimum this morning was 23 degrees, the same as Monday, the state experiment sub-station reported. Yesterday's maximum was 48.

West Texas Gas company's main line station also reported a minimum of 23 degrees at 7 a. m., rising to 32 at 11 o'clock.

Fort Worth and Denver dispatchers reported early morning temperatures ranged from 26 to 32, Childress reporting the latter. Foggy conditions also prevailed over the South Plains line.

Similar conditions were reported by Santa Fe dispatchers.

Defiance Of Dead Week Being Shown

Defiance against dead week again is being expressed by men students of Texas Technological college by growth of beards.

Students resolved last year that during the week preceding and the week of examinations at mid-year they would not shave. Dead week began Sunday and examinations will end Jan. 29.

Residents of the women's dormitory wore hair ribbons and did not use rouge during the two weeks last year but have not thus shown their defiance this year.

Annual Tribute Is Paid Robert E. Lee

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19 (AP)—The south paid its annual tribute today to the memory of Robert E. Lee — warrior, statesman and educator — on the 130th anniversary of his birth.

Schools were closed in Virginia, where the son of "Lighthorse Harry" Lee, Revolutionary war figure and governor, was born on January 19, 1807. In some state capitals official business was suspended.

Terrell Is Chosen Railroad Chairman

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—C. V. Terrell was chosen chairman of the railroad commission today, succeeding Col. Ernest O. Thompson, who moved for the election of his successor.

It is customary to rotate chairmanship of the regulatory body every two years. Terrell's election was effective immediately.

Lon A. Smith is the third member of the commission.

Howard Hughes In New Flight Record

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 19 (AP)—Burning the wind at an estimated average speed of 332 miles an hour, Howard Hughes, the flying movie producer, today drove his high speed monoplane across the continent in 7 hours 31 minutes for a new transcontinental speed mark.

Hughes took off from union air terminal, Los Angeles at 2:14 a. m. (5:14 a. m. Eastern standard time) today and roared down across Newark municipal airport, 2,490 miles away, at 12:43:27 p. m., making his official time 7 hours, 29 minutes, 27 seconds. The new record breaks his old mark of 9 hours, 25 minutes, 10 seconds, set January 14, 1936.

ALLRED

pledged by the faith of the people to the preservation of our form of government. The aim of that government should be to secure the maximum of human happiness for 6,000,000 people."

Eternal And Everlasting

The real principles of government are eternal and everlasting, he continued, but with time new problems arise testing the ability to apply those principles to the peoples needs.

Asserting more and more demands were being made upon the state government to quickly minister to present needs and provide greater security, he declared his own faith in the "sufficiency of our form of government to meet all requirements."

"I believe it is the best form of government ever instituted by men," he said. "I am firmly convinced that if the will of the people is carried out in the manner designed and, indeed, provided in the state constitution, we can settle all our problems and lay the foundations for an even greater Texas of tomorrow than that of yesterday or today."

Addressing thousands in the hall of the house of representatives, he declared that today the stability of that government was being tested by great problems but expressed taoin shr atidoeuni confidence it would endure.

Expresses Appreciation

"It is beyond my power to express in words my appreciation to loyal friends and to the general citizenship of Texas who have honored me beyond boyhood's fondest dreams. To all of you I can only say that today I am reconsecrated and rededicated in all humility to the tasks that lie ahead," Allred said.

"These tasks are easy by comparison with those which confronted us two years ago. Due to the beneficence of the Almighty and to our own efforts, the prospect, as we face forward, is far brighter now than then.

Still Have Problems

"We still have, however, our pressing problems. They are chiefly financial. With the right kind of leadership, with the right kind of statesmanship, with the right kind of patriotism we can make the government of Texas a real, a vital force.

"Today you and I still stand pledged by the faith of the people to the preservation of our form of government. The aim of that government should be to secure the maximum of human happiness for six million people.

"Whether that government is to be preserved, whether that government is to secure the happiness to which the people are entitled, depends largely upon you and upon me. We are the chosen, the charged representatives of Texas' six million people. Through us, and through us alone, can they express their needs. Through us, and through us only, can their problems be solved.

Must Go Forward

"We must go forward. We must justify the faith of our fathers, demonstrate the wisdom of the form of government to which they pledged us," he said.

"To do that, the hand of privilege must be kept from the halls of government. Its influence must never find lodgment in our official actions. The people, not the interests, must be kept continuously 'in the saddle.' If we are to carry out our pledges, if we want to really serve the people, we must be patriots. At times it will call for courage.

"Members of the 45th legislature, I propose to you a continuation of our working partnership together. To that end I pledge you and all our public officials my constant cooperation, the open doors of my office and the hospitality of my home in my readiness and available at all times to discuss the measures introduced, the needs of our people."

"We Are On The Job"

"Sustained by the faith of our fathers, let's work together! By every word and action let's send this word to Texas people: that we are 'on the job'; that we can and will meet our responsibilities by making taxation equal and uniform, by amply providing for greater social security, by carrying out the platform demands of our party; and, in every particular, giving effect to the will of the people. Let's publish to the world that Texas is sound; and, with a confidence born of conviction, tell our people to 'be of good cheer'.

"And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken."

FEW POLL TAXES ARE ISSUED HERE

At noon Tuesday only 1,682 poll taxes had been purchased in Lubbock county, according to figures from the tax assessor-collector's office. A total of 9,440 poll taxes and exemptions were issued in the four months of the tax paying season of last year, Chief Deputy H. B. Bryan said today.

The deadline for poll tax payments will be Saturday night, Jan. 30.

Only 35 exemptions have been issued including those for both unders and overs.

Persons who became 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 1936, or will become 21 before the first election will be given exemptions, but they must have exemption slips to vote, the deputy said. Persons who were 60 years of age before Jan. 1, 1936, and who live in the city of Lubbock must also have exemption slips.

Exemptions, like poll taxes, must be obtained at the collector's office this month.

TECH SESSION

thought the city would be willing to support the concert.

Brilliant scarlet coats and black trousers and headgear likely will compose the uniform, said D. O. Wiley, director.

Claude Thompson, student council president, presided at the convocation. J. E. Maisen, representing the business club, explained the club's willingness to help. Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the government department, explained the amendments and the Hare system of counting ballots, which was adopted in an amendment concerning voting when more than one person is to be chosen.

An amendment allowing students to choose 16 co-eds as candidates for beauty pages of 1937 La Ventana, college yearbook, was passed. Eight co-eds will be selected by some authority from motion pictures made of the 16 chosen by students. Winston Reeves, editor of La Ventana, is author of the plan and will make the motion pictures. Election date has not been decided.

ARMS CONTROL

official Britain, facing a new parliamentary session today.

Must Stop Volunteers

One commentator said the main hope for keeping the "little world war" within bounds lay in a stoppage of volunteers by Germany and Italy.

These two fascist powers, said a Rome official, felt, however, it was up to France and Great Britain to decide whether a general conflict must decide the struggle between fascism and communism.

That was interpreted as a definite bid for Britain and France as "middle course" nations today to join Italy and Germany in a four-power pact against communism.

Test Is Predicted

It followed a report of a speech in Rome by Germany's first minister Col.-Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, which quoted Goering as predicting "a great test to demonstrate which of the two camps will prevail."

From Madrid, attacking socialist militiamen swarmed through besiegers and recaptured a hill 8 1-2 miles south of the city, which is the geographical center of Spain.

They reported also they had stopped an insurgent drive on Malaga, in the south, and that they had won military success elsewhere.

ASSURED OF BERTH

TEXARKANA, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Texarkana appeared assured today of a berth in the East Texas baseball league.

R. W. Burnett, East Texas oil man and sports enthusiast, announced he would transfer his league franchise here from Gladewater. He said a deal to lease a field virtually was closed. Twenty-five players are under contract at Gladewater.

TESTIMONY IN CASE ENDS

ARGUMENTS IN MURDER TRIAL WILL START THIS AFTERNOON

With state testimony in the record that Dave Bailey shot two unarmed negroes fatally and with defense testimony that Bailey had slain in self-defense, evidence in the negro's trial for murder was concluded in 99th district court shortly before noon today.

Attorneys' summations probably will be given this afternoon, following reading of the charge to the jury by Judge E. L. Pitts.

Bailey, indicted for murdering his wife and her father, pleaded not guilty and asked for a suspended sentence in the event of conviction.

Neither Was Armed

Nancy Gonzales, widow of the slain Joe Gonzales, declared that neither her husband nor her daughter, Alma Bernice Bailey, was armed when Bailey shot them in the Gonzales residence July 5, 1936.

Bailey testified he started shooting when Gonzales moved toward a dresser and when Alma Bernice Bailey grabbed Bailey.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, are prosecutors. W. D. Wilson and Durwood H. Bradley are defense attorneys. The state presented Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist and J. T. Trigg, former justice of the peace, in addition to the Gonzales woman. A parade of character witnesses was offered by the defense.

Jurors are L. K. Arant, John Barry, H. M. Dunlop, John W. Moore, E. B. Herriage, W. H. Dodson, W. O. Daniels, J. T. Wages, C. D. Bradford, E. W. Jackson, W. C. Diamond, and J. W. Donley. All were qualified by the state on the death penalty.

FIRST AID CLASS HELD LAST NIGHT

About 35 WPA time keepers, project superintendents, first aid workers, and others interested from Crosby, Hockley and Lubbock counties attended the first aid class taught in the district Works Progress administration headquarters Monday night at 7:30.

Six more classes are to be taught before the course is complete. Meetings will be held Wednesday and Friday nights of this week and three nights next week. O. N. Cole is instructor.

Four members of the Lubbock fire department also attended the first class of the course, described by Cole as a broad survey course of practical first aid.

Those attending 12 hours of instruction and passing examinations will be awarded first aid certificates by the National Red Cross.

Theater Usher Is Jailed In Slaying

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 19 (P)—George Benjamin Underwood, jr., 18, a theater usher, was charged with murder today for the gas-slaying of Lillian Roberts, 27-year-old blonde.

The girl's body was found trussed [illegible] to a chair in the gas-filled kitchen of her home. Two hours later detectives arrested Underwood and Sergeant Grover Miller quoted the youth as saying:

"I know what you want. It's about Lil. I killed her. She had been nagging me and told lies about me about a girl I went with."

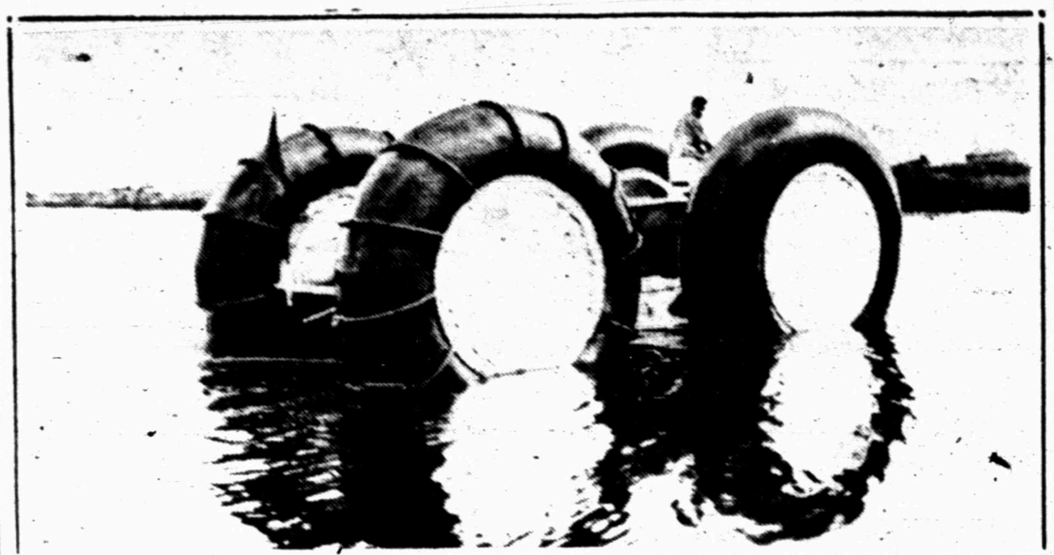
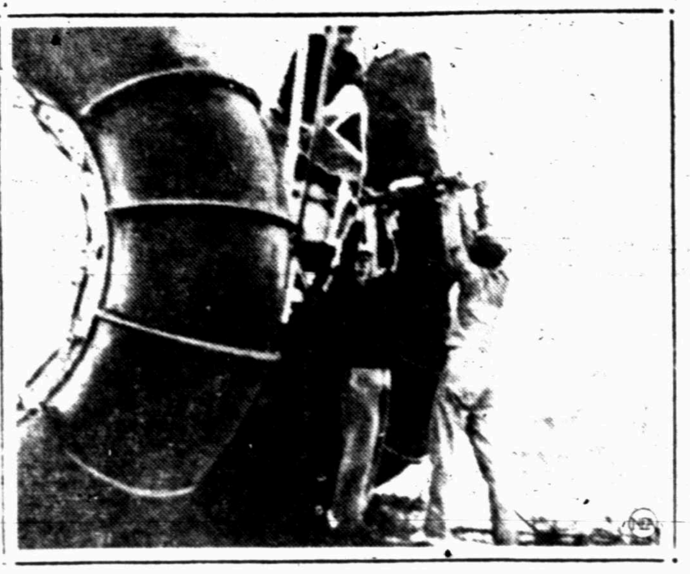
The Marsh Buggy—It Rides On Land Or 'Sea'





These are not pictures of the landing gear for the newest super-super airplane. They merely introduce the Marsh Buggy, which now is bobbing across the bayous and wallowing through the mud of Louisiana's lowlands in search of oil. When engineers of a Pittsburgh oil firm found difficulty negotiating the marshlands by foot and canoe, they devised the vehicle which, on its 10-foot rubber tires, travels over land (left) or through water and swamps (top photo) with equal facility. It carries a marine license and has automobile lights [illegible]. Engineers now carry their heavy equipment with [illegible] and conduct tests without [illegible] for the terrain. Former Show Girl Stabbed By Lover

BOSTON, Jan. 19 (P)—Police last night found blonde Mrs. Maude [illegible], 33, former New York show girl, on the floor of her blood-spattered Back Bay apartment with knife wounds in her chest, arms and neck.

Detectives arrested as her assailant William F. Carbone, 39, [illegible]. Capt. [illegible] M. Tiernan said he was found kneeling over her, sobbing and with a jackknife in his hand.

At a hospital doctors said Mrs. [illegible] chances for recovery were [illegible].

"We were childhood sweethearts," Tiernan said Carbone sobbed out at the police station. "We had been quarreling since Christmas over various affairs, both financial and jealous."

QUEEN ELIZABETH IS TO FACE HUGE PROBLEM IN PALACE'S HOUSEKEEPING

LONDON, Jan. 19 (P) — Queen Elizabeth when she moves into Buckingham palace, will be confronted with a tremendous housekeeping problem.

A master of the household will take over most of the domestic routine that the new queen has handled in the comparatively modest residence which she and King George VI occupy at 145 Piccadilly.

But in the vast palace of hundreds of rooms, she will be busy for many weeks getting settled, choosing her ladies-in-waiting and directing alterations in the royal apartments.

King George and Queen Elizabeth plan to move within a few weeks. When they do, the Duke and Duchess of Kent — the duke is the new sovereign's youngest brother — may follow them into 145 Piccadilly.

The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester also probably will move shortly. The duke, who is King George's next younger brother, has decided to give up the suite he and his wife have occupied at Buckingham palace, going to York house, the residence of the abdicated Edward VIII when he was Prince of Wales.
