CROP CONDITIONS

Status of Crops Over the State as Reviewed by the U. S. Climate and Crop Service Department.

The weekly report of the climate and crop department of the United States weather bureau at Galveston covering the week ending October 3rd, has been received and from it we note the following conditions:

Weather Conditions.—Light scattered showers occurred during the first four days of the week over the southwestern portion of the state and light to heavy rains over the extreme western and Panhandle counties. The rains were generally beneficial and for certain interests would be beneficial in the other sections of the state. Very high temperatures continued through the week, the average being from four to ten degrees above the normal.

Cotton.—Fruiting has very generally ceased and where it has not, the young forms are completely destroyed by insect pests as fast as they appear. There is, therefore, no prospect of a top crop. Owing to the very complete destruction of the plant's foliage by the leaf worm, the bolls opened very rapidly and under the exceptionally favorable weather conditions prevailing over the cotton belt, picking was successfully carried on throughout the week. The crop is now practically all gathered in the southwestern counties and from one-half to three-fourths of it has been gathered in the central and northeastern counties. The crop is being saved in excellent condition and without material loss.

Corn.—Considerable corn was gathered during the week but a large part of the crop still remains in the fields, the gathering having been delayed in order to save cotton. The yield is generally heavy over the eastern half of the state but light elsewhere.

Rice.—The harvesting of rice was continued under very favorable conditions. A satisfactory yeild is being realized.

Sugar Cane.—Sugar cane continues to do well except in a few localities where the need of rain is beginning to be felt.

Miscellaneous.—The preparation of lands for the sowing of grain was more or less general over the middle and northern counties and considerable sowing was done under highly favorable conditions. Early sown wheat and oats are coming up nicely and are doing well. The rains over the western sections of the state are very beneficial to ranges, pastures and forage crops, and stock is said to be in excellent condition. The trucking interests of the coast region as well as fall gardens in general would be benefited by rain.

Saloon and Primary Election.

A dispatch dated October 5th, Marshall, Texas, says:

"In the county court Judge Lyttleton rendered his decision in the cases of the state vs. H. H. Edwards, charged with violating the Terrell election law by keeping open for business his saloon on the day of the late state and county primary election. Judge Lyttleton held that it was no offence to keep open saloon on a primary election; that a primary was not, in fact, an election, but a mode used in the choosing of the candidates of a political party and therefore was only a selection and not an election. The defendant was indicted in three cases. The court discharged the defendant for the reason assigned above. As far as known this is the first judicial decision rendered on this question."

Occupation Tax Fight.

A dispatch from Austin dated October 5th says:

"A long drawn-out and red-hot fight was made during the regular session of the Twenty-eighth legislature to repeal the present occupation tax law on certain professions and classes of business men, but the opponents of this kind of taxation lost out in the fight, and the law remains untouched.

"In fact this has been the bone of contention among members of Texas legislatures for twenty years, during which the usual arguments were made with victory piled on victory for the advocates of the principle of occupation tax.

"It is learned that several candidates for the legislature who are certain of election in November are already at work on bills which will be introduced in the twenty-ninth legislature, repealing entirely or greatly modifying the statute as it stands, and, of course fighting on the old battle ground will be precipitated.

"In view of this fact the amount of occupation received by the comptroller from the counties of the state on all classes and professions for the year commencing May 1, 1903, and ending May 1, 1904, a statement of which is just now completed, will be read with interest by both those who oppose and approve the law."

Following is a list of counties in this section and the amount of occupation taxes paid the comptroller during the year ending May 1st 1904: Erath, $5,889; Comanche, $3,116.30; Bosque $4,469; Brown, $3,109.20; Eastland, $2,768.10; Hamilton, $3,485.50; Hood, $451; Palo Pinto, $4,600.30.

The total amount of occupation tax collected in the state for the year ending May 1st, 1904 is $939,048.28; collected for the previous year $1,011,888.30; decrease in collection for present year $74,840.18. A very large per cent of this loss is in counties where local option has been adopted in whole or in part during the year and the unearned portion of the liquor dealers occupation tax refunded.

Postmaster General Dead.

Henry C. Payne, postmaster general of the United States, died in Washington last Tuesday night after a short illness of heart trouble. He had been quite ill for several days, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Payne was a republican of the stalwart type, and was an excellent type of the successful politician. He had been in public life for a long time and was a faithful executive in all the positions he ever filled. His death will be generally regretted. It is announced from Washington that George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the republican national executive committee, will be his scucessor, but General Robert J. Wynne has been temporarily appointed to fill the vacancy.

Georgia Minstrels Coming.

The Richards & Pringle's Big Minstrel Organization comes heralded this season as the greatest effort of those enterprising American managers. Its date at Dublin, Thursday Oct. 13th at City Hall.

From its lengthy list of features a bumptious, rollicking sound of splendid minstrelsy and vaudeville can be expected. Every act is a star liner and the clever blending of darkey fun, surprising novelty, singing and dancing and a spectacular first part of prismatic oriental splendor is said to be a magnificant triumph in this popular line of entertainment.

Fifty bright, shining, clever performers are enrolled in this roster, and includes such well-known names as Clarence Powell, Pete Woods, Pat Bartlett, Bill Young, Happy Beaugaurd and Robert Williams. These six are the most clever of end men.

After a week of suspense spent by the postal officials at Denison in tracing a missing mail pouch containing drafts and money amouptnig to $75,000 the loss has come to light. Not only were the local officials worried about the loss, as it occurred there, but the postoffice department at Washington was nearly overturned. Thursday the valuable pouch was found at the union depot transfer office at Denison, where a green hand had thrown it beneath a table and piled empty sacks above it.

Federal Judge Bryant has granted a perpetual injunction restricting final publication of the election order declaring prohibition in effect in Lamar county. The point on which Judge Bryant decided was that notices of holding election were posted only twelve days as required by the local option statute instead of twenty days as required by the Terrell law. But for this action the law would have gone into effect October 13th.

Under a recent ruling of the attorney general democratic nominees in Travis county must pay for printing the official ballot of the democratic ticket. It is said this ruling also applies to all committees where primary election or conventions have been held in the state.

Irrigation plans already outlined in California, Oregon and Dakotas will involve the expenditure, in round numbers, of $27,000,000, and reclaim a million of acres of land, capable of supporting a popualtion of 500,000.

POSTAL HOLD-UP

Censorship Established and an Outrage Perpetrated Upon Dublin Newspapers and People.

Last Friday's issue of the Progress and of the Telephone dated September 30th were held up by the postmaster at Dublin, who received the papers and then refused to either deliver them to subscribers or to return them to the publishers so that the matter which he objected to in them could be removed, or the papers delivered to subscribers through some other means.

The objectionable matter was a list of the award of prizes to cotton farmers, which prizes were awarded on the Wednesday before and which anyone with an ounce of judgment would consider a legitimate item of news. The postmaster contended that the award of prizes was a lottery within the meaning of the law and that such list or any advertisement of the matter was unmailable.

The postmaster had determined upon this action the previous day but carefully guarded his intentions from the publishers of both papers, each of whom would have left out the matter he claimed to be objectionable until higher authority could have passed upon it, had they known that he intended to denominate the papers unmailable.

After receiving the papers and claiming them unmailable he deliberately detained them in his office, where they had no legal right to be if they were unmailable, as he claimed, and refused to deliver them to the publishers when he was presented with a written demand for them and it was only after a visit of the Progress editor to Abilene, where the United States court was in session, that an order was sent him by the post office inspector to deliver the papers to the publishers. When they were delivered the Telephone publisher was enabled to remove the matter objected to by printing a single sheet of two pages and inserting in place of the other single sheet containing the matter and then they were mailable, but the matter in the Progress was located in such a way that an entire new edition had to be printed or the paper mutilated one at a time with shears. We decided not to do this only in the case of papers that could not be delivered in some other manner and have since gotten the issue into the hands of a large number of the subscribers.

The action of the postmaster can be denominated in no other language than a high handed outrage deliberately perpetrated with a view to injure the publishers, who have lately been guilty of time and again calling attention of the postmaster that our business was being greatly injured by the miserable postal service he has been giving us.

The effect of his action, however, has not only injured the papers and caused them much trouble, expense and loss but it has also injured the subscribers, the advertisers and the town.

We shall hereafter, of course, refrain from publishing any account of the weekly prize awards until such time as a decision can be had from the department at Washington, when the reports will be resumed only in accordance with the ruling that may be given and in the meantime the issue for September 30th will be delivered to subscribers who have not gotten them, in the best way we can devise and some mailed with the objectionable matter clipped out.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Heart's Fortunate Experience of Special Interest to Many in Dublin.

The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart, of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment, and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgement that I tried Hyomei." The doctor, in his emphatic way, added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night, and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely thorugh the use of Hyomei."

Overton Drug Co. are the local agents for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottle 50c. They sell it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask them to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.

DALLAS MURDER

Brother of a Dublin Citizen is Shot to Death by a Negro Whom He Had Reproved.

A special from Dallas of Oct. 4th, gave an account of the murder of A. Riddle at the hands of a negro in that place on that day.

The man who was murdered was a brother to Ross Riddle of this city and one time resided here.

The account reads as follows:

"As a sequel to a 'social equality' controversy a white man of Dallas was slain today by a negro. A. Riddle was the victim and F. H. Manning the slayer. That 'social equality' was the basis for the tragedy is admitted by the negro himself, in a statement made by him to Chief of Police Knight at police headquarters. Riddle was a barkeeper at a saloon in the union depot district of East Dallas and Manning was a porter in the place. His statement to Chief of Police Knight, as told to a newspaper correspondent by that official is in substance as follows: 'Several days ago a negro woman 'friend' of mine came to see me at the saloon. Riddle objected to her coming and forbade me having her at the place any more. I protested aganist some remarks he made concerning the woman and demanded that he make apology. Riddle refused to apologize, and during the talk I stated that Booker T. Washington was as good as any white man, and that my 'colored lady friend' was as good as any white woman. When I made these statements Riddle drew a pistol and made me get on my knees and apologize. I made up my mind to kill him for revenge at the first opportunity. This morning I saw him writing at a cigar stand in the saloon. I quickly walked up behind him, taking his pistol from a bar drawer as I passed it, placed the muzzle of the pistol close to the back of his head, fired and killed him instantly. 'I expect I'll get that for it'—(striking the back of his neck with his hand, held edgewise).

"The shooting took place about 9:20 o'clock and created much excitement in the neighborhood. The negro ran out the saloon immediately after the shooting and was captured on Preston street between Main and Elm streets, by Officers Purnell and Murray. The revolver with which the shooting was done was still grasped in his right hand. Officer Purnell fired one shot at the negro before he halted. He stated to the officers, who arrested him, that he was going to the city hall to surrender.

There was only one shot fired and it entered the dead man's head about one inch behind, and a little below the left ear and went through his head, lodging just beneath the skin of his head just above his right ear. Dr. J. M. Coble, who was hastily summoned, stated that death was instantaneous and that the unfortunate man never breathed after the bullet struck him.

"Riddle, was about 29 years old, and had a wife and family at Lawn, Taylor county, Texas. He had worked for J. E. Maxwell, owner of the saloon, on several different occasions, and it is said by those who knew him well, that he was of a quiet and peaceable disposition.

"A large crowd gathered at Elm and Preston streets, where the officers who made the arrest were holding the prisoner, while waiting for the patrol wagon.

"There were rumors that the crowd intended to take the negro and lynch him, but the prompt arrival of Chief Knight, Captain Keith and a squad of other officers and detectives put a stop to any such plans.

"J. E. Maxwell, the owner of the saloon in which the shooting occurred, stated that there had been some trouble between the two men, but claimed that there were no words between the two men this morning. He also said that Riddle and himself were standing at the front end of the bar talking while the negro was about the center of, and behind the bar, and he supposed that he was washing glasses and jugs. The first he knew of the nergo's intention was when the shot was fired, and looking up the negro was standing with the smoking revolver in his hand.

"The revolver, which belonged to Mr. Maxwell was always kept in a drawer near the center of the bar.

"The negro, who is charged with the killing, was taken before the grand jury and later was locked up in the county jail with a charge of murder docketed against him.

WHEN THE KIDNEYS STOP WORK.

The Point Where the Kidneys Cease to Do Their Duty Properly is the Beginning of Bright's Disease.

This Stage of the Disease Leaves the Victim Only a Fighting Chance for Life.

When the liver becomes torpid it throws upon the kidneys extra work in keeping the body free from impurities. This extra work they will perform for a time without serious disturbance, for they are tough organs, but at last the strain becomes too heavy, they are weakened and disordered, and unless the liver is promptly stimulated they break down and the more serious trouble begins. When this stage is reached the valuable liver regulating and kidney strengthening properties of Prickly Ash Bitters are badly needed. It is safe to say that no one would ever die of Bright's Disease if he would apply this remedy at this critical time. Unfortunately, however, the kidneys do not at first manifest any decided symptoms. The victim is conscious that something is wrong, but fails to apply a remedy for it, so he struggles on until the disease some day prostrates him completely, meanwhile the deadly work of destruction goes on steadily in his vital organs. The kidneys being weakened and powerless are no longer able to extract the urea and uric acid from the blood, so it goes back into the system and gradually decays changing to uric acid poison which extends its malignant influence to every part of the body. The albumen which should nourish the system passes unarrested through the liver and kidneys and escapes with the urine, so the patient's strength fails for want of food. At this point the disease takes on a decided character, dropsy sets in and the signs of uraemic poisoning rapidly appear. The importance of checking the ravages of the disease at the earliest possible moment cannot be over-estimated. When the trouble is confined to the liver it is bad enough, but when the kidneys break down it at once becomes a life and death struggle with the certainty that death will win the race unless nature is helped in its effort to restore health. The prudent and best course is to resort to the use of Prickly Ash Bitters on the first signs of disorder in the liver. Warning symptoms are plentiful and are first noticed when the stomach fails to digest food properly. The victim becomes bilious, languid, constipated and suffers from indigestion, headache, dizziness, foul breath and flatulence. A few doses of Prickly Ash Bitters will drive out the bilious impurities, strengthen and revive the torpid liver, cleanse and regulate the bowels and impart a feeling of strength, vigor and cheerfulness.

Accept no substitute. Insist on having the genuine Prickly Ash Bitters with the large figure 3 in red on the front label.

On Monday of last week, W. I. Coe of Stephenville happened to quite a painful accident while getting ready to fire up for the day's work at the Baldwin gin. The fire in the grate had apparently died out, and he poured in a lot of Beaumont oil, prepartory to rekindling. Almost instantly there was an explosion of gas which struck Mr. Coe on the left arm, breast and cheek, and he was pretty well scalded. Had the explosion hit him squarely in the face it is likely that his eyes would have been badly injured if not ruined. His left arm was badly scalded.

The opening sermon of the Brownwood Presbytery will be preached by the Rev. J. W. Tyler of San Angelo, at the Presbyterian church Friday Oct. 14th, at 7:30 o'clock. Services will be announced more explicitely each night for the next day. The public is cordially invited.—G. B. Hall, pastor.

Letter to E. A. Powell, Dublin, Texas.

Dear Sir: A big mill owner, Spartansburg, S. C., wanted 5,000 gallons of paint, and bought by price; paid 5 cents less than ours; got a "lead-and-zinc" paint; but the lead was sulphate of lead, not carbonate. Sulphate costs about half; and covers about half.

That paint was adulterated about six times as much as the 5 cents paid for. He "saved" 5 cents; and it cost him 30.

Oh no; it cost him more than that; we forgot the labor. Can't work it out exactly, don't know how long it'll wear.

Short measures besides; that alone was twice as much as his "saving" 5 cents.

It was thin, too; some loss there; don't know how much. There was too much dryer in it. The maker made something on that; he didn't.

Taking it altogether he didn't make much by that 5 cents.

Go by the name: and the name is Devoe lead-and-zinc.

Yours truly
F. W. Devoe & Co.,
New York.

The Dublin Progress last week consisted of sixteen pages. The good part of it was, there was nothing of the special edition about it—just simply a case of Dublin prosperity, it appears, reflected in the Progress. Waxahachie, Greenville, West, Temple and other cities and towns in Texas are giving prizes to farmers upon the same plan as that adopted by the Dublin merchants, who adopted the idea with the sole and only purpose of giving these prizes to the farmers as an additional inducement for the cotton to come here. The papers advertising and reporting the winners in these rewards are passing through the post offices of Texas, including the Dublin office and as far as we have been able to learn none of them have been stopped here or elsewhere.

BIG DEPARTMENT STORE

Has turned the big guns loose and competition before this big firm is, to make comparison, somewhat like a Russian cruisers argument with a Japanese battleship—they are not in it the least bit and they are on the run. We do business during the dull season and we do business during the fall. During the unproductive season we carry our customers at a reasonable figure and they buy from us because it is to their advantage. In the meantime we are making a reasonable profit on the goods sold while many others are making nothing, consequently in the fall they must make up their losses during the Summer months. If they did not do this they could not remain in business, for as every one knows every business institution must make a profitr The sensible purchaser expects nothing else. The larger volume of business done, however, the smaller the per centage of profit that is necessary. As we do a large volume our profits on each item are therefore less, the large amount of business making up the difference to us.

The people of Comanche were consideraby worked up Tuesday when the negro minstrels appeared on the streets and for several hours it looked like trouble was going to be had sure. Finally better judgement prevailed and the show was allowed to be pulled off. The opera house was filled to overflowing, but we are safe in saying that from this time on the opera house managers will refuse to bring negroes here. In fact it would not be safe to do so.

Several citizens of De Leon mixed up in a scrap Saturday evening. From what we can learn several shots were fired and a big knife with a long blade played an important part. None of the fighters were hurt to any great extent.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germs which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty uails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity aud produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Overtou Drug Cd.

The Texas prohibition party, the headquarters of which are in Dallas, is preparing to wage a hard campaign in the interests of their cause from from now on until the time of election. It is said that the party will hold three or four big rallies between now and election time at which all the candidates will be present as well as the nominee for vice president, George W. Carroll.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by Overton Drug Co.

Jim Moore, a negro of Brownwood, and who was working at the compress there, was shot and seriously wounded last Tuesday morning by Jack Godwin, who is in the employ of W. C. Bowden, formerly of this city, but who is now in the furniture business at Brownwood. Godwin used a 38 callibre pistol and fired three shots all of which took effect in the negro's body. One entered to the left of the center of the stomach, struck the lowet rib and glanced downward, the second shot shattered the negro's wrist and the third passed through his shoulder. After the shooting the negro ran a block to a negro cabin. The trouble is said to have come up over the collection of an account due Godwin's employer. Godwin was allowed bail in the sum of $1,500.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Overton Drug Co. Trial bottles free.

Talmage on Life Insurance.

When men think of their death they are apt to think of it only in connection with their spiritual welfare, and not of the devastation in the household, which will come because of their emigration from it. It is meanly selfish for you to be so absorbed in the heaven to which you are going that you forget what is to become of your wife and children after you go. You can go out of this world not leaving them a dollar, and yet die happy if you could not provide for them. You can trust them to the hands of God, who owns all the harvests and the herds and flocks; but if you could pay the premium on a policy, and neglected to do so, it is a mean thing for you to go up to Heaven while they go to the poor-house. You at death, move into a mansion, river front, and they move into two rooms in the fourth story of a tenament house in a back street. When they are out at the elbows and knees, the thought of your splendid robe in Heaven will not keep them warm. The minister may preach a splendid sermon over your remains, and the quartette may sing like four angels, in the organ loft, but your death will be a swindle. You had the means to provide for the comfort of your household when you left it, and you wickedly neglected it.—Rev. De Witt Talmage.

bad (as he is quite sure to) breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins.

There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whiskey, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on the nerves, heart and other vital organs, and are thus unsuspected until much of the dangerous work is done.

Now reader what is your opinion as to the real use the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view.

There is a law of nature and of nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower plains to higher, a sturdy, steady dignified advance towards more perfect things in both the physical and spiritual world. The ponderous tread of evolutionary developement is fixed by the Infinite and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance. Illinois raises phenominal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So nature interposes a bar every three or four years and brings on a "bad year."

Here we see the leveling influence at work.

A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy. Perhaps it is whiskey, tobacco, coffee, gambling, or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him. Keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome. If no leveling influences set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work. Luxury, over eating and drinking, licentiousness, waste and extravagence, indulgence of all kinds, then comes the wreck. Sure, sure, sure.

The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness (in childhood) gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idledness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman and they bag the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand out against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

So the Creator has use for whiskey, tobacco and coffee to level down the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the great "field" (the masses) may not be left too far behind.

And yet we must admit that same all wise Creator has placed it in the power of man to stand upright, clothed in the armor of a clean cut steady mind and say unto himself, "I decline to exchange my birthright for a mess of potage."

"I will not deaden my senses, weaken my grip on affairs and keep myself cheap, common and behind in fortune and fame by drugging with whiskey, tobacco or coffee, life is too short. It is hard enough to win the good things, without any sort of handicap, so a man is certainly a "fool trader" when he trades strength, health, money and the good things that come with power, for the half-asleep condition of the "drugger" with the certainty of sickness and disease ahead.

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and a semi-god? if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "hewer of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of his children are foolish and stupid, he seems to select others (perhaps those he intended for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by these "levelers."

If a man tries flirting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps as a hit, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thifty, sober and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, health, happiness and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people to thinking, to arouse the "God within" for every rightly organized man and woman has time when they feel a something calling from within for them to press to the front and be "about the Father's business," don't mistake it; the spark of the Infinite is there and it pays every way, health, happiness, peace and worldly prosperity, to break off the habits and strip clean for the work cut out for us.

It has been the business of the the writer to provide a practical and easy way for people to break away from the coffee habit and be assured of a return to health and all the good things that brings, provided the abuse has not gone too far, and even then the cases where the body has been rebuilt on a basis of strength and health run into the thousands.

It is an easy and comfortable step to stop coffee instantly by having well-made Postum Food Coffee served rich and hot with good cream, for the color and flavor is there, but none of the caffeine or other nerve destroying elements of ordinary coffee.

On the contrary the most powe r ful rebuilding elements furnished by nature are in Postum and they quickly set about repairing the damage. Seldom is it more than two days after the change is made befroe the old stomach or bowel troubles or complaints of kidneys, heart. head or nerves show unmistakable evidence of getting better and ten days time changes things wonderfully.

Literally millions of brain working Americans today use Postum, having found the value and common sense in the change.

Family Poisoned at Santa Anna.

A special dated Brownwood, Sept. 30th says: Five people living near Santa Anna, twenty miles west of here, were the victims of arsenical poisoning last night and all came near losing their lives as a result. They are W. E. Vandeford, a well known farmer, whose residence is two miles north of Santa Anna, his wife and child and a grown brother and sister of Mrs. Vandeford. Soon after supper the entire family became suddenly violently ill and one of them hurried to a neighbor to ask aid.

A physician was hastily summoned and on his arrival found the entire family in violent convulsions. By the use of antidotes and the stomach pump they were all partially relieved, but this morning were still very ill and not entirely out of danger.

It is thought that by mistake arsenic was put in the biscuit dough instead of baking powder, as a can of arsenic was found on the kitchen table with a spoon in it and the symptoms were clearly those of arsenical poisoning.

Death of Senator Hoar.

George Frisibe Hoar, senator from Massachusetts, died at his home in Worchester, Mass., at 1:35 o'clock last Friday morning. The end followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since early Tuesday and came so gently that only the attending physicians were aware of the exact moment of dissolution.

The attending physicians despaired of the senator's life six weeks ago, but such was the vitality exhibited by the distinguished patient that even they were surprised and the public was at times led to cherish a faith in an ultimate recovery.

Sunday before his death, however, all hope was abandoned after a last unsuccessful attempt to administer medicine and nourishment. Brief intervals were followed by longer durations of unconsciousness, until Tuesday morning, when the venerable statesman sank into a state of coma from which all efforts to rouse him proved futile.

During the last hours there was not a movement of the body and only a scarcely preceptible pulse evidenced the final struggle.

Senator Hoar was born at Concord, Mass., Aug. 29th, 1826, and graduated from Harvard in 1846. Besides holding former high offices, he has been in the United States senate since 1877, and only two men now in the senate were there when Hoar was elected—Cockrell of Missouri and Allison of Iowa.

In his earlier career, Senator Hoar was among the most conspicious opponents of southern policies. He had no tolerance for southern ideas, institutions or practices. But in later years his animosities were softened and in a speech at Chicago about two years ago he said:

"My life politically has been a life of constant strife with the leaders of the southern people, yet as I grow older, I have learned not only to respect and esteem them but I love the great qualities which belong to my countrymen of the southern states. They are a noble race. We may well take pattern from them in some of the virtures that give strength and glory to a free people. Their love of home—their courage—their delicate sense of honor—their constancy which can abide by an opinion or a purpose through adversity and prosperity and through years and generations. And there is another thing—covetousness, corruption and the low temptation of money has not yet found any place in southern politics.

"My friends, we cannot afford to live in a state of enstrangement from a people who possess these qualities. They are friends of ours, born our of borning, flesh our flesh, blood of our blood and if I have a right to speak for Massachussets, will asy, 'Entreat me not to leave thee or forsake thee, where thou goest, I will go. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.'"

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surpfised at the great popularity of Chambelain's Cough Remedy. It not only cnres colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmfnl substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adnlt. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken in consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home. esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. Confederate Pensions.

Confederate pension apportionment made by the comptroller for the quarters beginning Oct. 1, 1904 and Jan. 1, 1905, has been fixed at $9 for each quarter. There are now 7,385 pensioners on the rolls but in making the apportionment the death rate is considered. It will take nearly a month to issue warrants due pensioners for the quarter beginning Oct. 1st, and the following notice will be sent to each pensioner:

"Oct. 1, 1904.—To pensioners: Owing to a deficiency of funds in the state treasury to meet appropriations out of the general revenue, the state treasurer will not be able to pay your warrant for about three months.

"I, therefore, suggest that unless you can cash your warrants less a fair rate of interest, that you hold them until there are public funds to pay them. The warrants have been registered by the state treasurer and will be paid in their turn.
