WARD MURDER TRIAL UP MONDAY

Department of Justice Chief Is Arrested After Shooting

OFFICERS SHOOT INNOCENT WOMAN AS RAID IS MADE

Feared Machine Gun
Was Mounted in House Raided

ST. LOUIS, July 14. (U.P.)—Police Chief McCarthy today ordered the arrest of Lear B. Reed, chief of the department of justice bureau here, after department of justice agents fatally wounded an innocent mother of two small children.

The shooting occurred when agents last night opened fire on the woman's house, shouting, "Come on out, John, we've got you," Mrs. Dessie Masterson was killed as she slept on the floor.

The agents refused to answer questions but it was learned that they expected to find a machine gun used in the recent killing of John C. Johnson, negro star witness at the scheduled trial of four persons who were charged with kidnaping Dr. Isaac Kelly Jr., nose and throat specialist.

Police said federal agents opened fire "after some shots were fired inside the house." The woman's husband was arrested. He denied that shots were fired from the house. Neither the woman nor the husband had police records.

CANDIDATES TALK SAT. AT STANTON

Judge Chas. L. Klapproth, Paul Moss and Clyde Thomas, candidates for district judge, also addressed the crowd as did a speaker from Colorado in the interest of a congressional candidate.

Local candidates Saturday night were attending a pie supper and speaking at the Cotton Flat school, south of Midland.

The crop loan applications were mailed from Midland July 3, but the crop loan office at Dallas was not set up until July 9, which shows how quickly the applications were handled. Cattle checks come from the Amarillo office.

Feed loans are open to all who have farm collateral, and farmers are advised by the agent's office to apply as soon as possible.

BAND WORK PLACED ON EQUALITY WITH OTHER SUBJECTS OF MIDLAND SYSTEM

Midland high school band classes full amount attainable the first year. A total of two full units will be allowed over a course of four high school years.

In placing band work on the accredited list of high school subjects, it became necessary to raise the standard of scholarship to be required of band directors placing them on an equal footing with those required of other high school instructors, and making it necessary for band directors to have a degree in addition to other musical qualifications. Fortunately for the Midland system, Russell E. Shrader, (See BAND WORK, page 6)

Farmer Makes Good Milo Maize Yield

Other years have produced no better milo maize than that grown on the 25-acre field of T. N. Wilson, farmer living seven miles southeast of the city, in the Valley View community.

He has had no more rain than other farmers.

"I plow my crop four or five times between showers," he said. "This keeps the moisture from escaping so fast. It keeps me busy, though, and I can't get to town more than once a week."

Noted Author Recommends Junior College for City

Dr. Frederick Eby of the University of Texas, foremost Southern authority on the junior college, in conference with Superintendent W. W. Lackey at Austin last week, recommended a municipal junior college for Midland.

Dr. Eby, author of many educational textbooks, said the junior college is the coming institution of this country. While Midland does not meet two of the regulations prerequisite to official designation and establishing of a municipal junior college, regulations set up by the state board of education, namely, tax valuations of $12,000,000 and 100 graduates from the high school per year, Dr. Eby said Midland, located 150 miles from any college, could easily hope for an enrollment in the junior college of 100 pupils per year.

An annual budget of $15,000 would be required to maintain such an institution, the doctor said, and the usual tuition charge for each pupil has been pretty generally established at $125 per year. This would raise $12,500, thus making it necessary for a supplementary amount of only $2,500, to amply maintain the college department.

The doctor pointed out that each of 100 pupils going away to college would spend a minimum of $500, making a total expenditure of $50,000 which would be carried out of the country by the 100 pupils.

The housing problem for such a program in Midland would make it necessary for the freshman class to be removed to the junior high school, in order to make room for the addition of 100 junior college students in the senior high school building. It was pointed out by the Texas educator that the well-equipped science, home economics, and commercial laboratories of the Midland high school would be sufficient for the college work required for the proposed institution.

AUDITOR HITS AT SECURITIES TAKEN

AUSTIN, July 14. (U.P.)—Permitted substitution of securities furnished by a bank, now in receivership, to safeguard state funds was "inexcusable," State Auditor George Simpson said today in an audit of the state treasury department.

Action of the state depository board in 1933 in permitting substitutions was criticized.

UNPAID WARRANTS ARE CALLED IN

AUSTIN, July 14. (U.P.)—State Treasurer Charles Lockhart today called in $920,433 worth of unpaid general revenue warrants, reducing the deficit of the state's general revenue fund to $584,096.

74 Vote Early in Midland County

Twenty-seven have voted and 47 absentee ballots have been mailed from the office of the county clerk, Mrs. Susie G. Noble, making a total of 74 as compared with 102 voted before election or by absentee ballot at the same time in the last election.

The deadline for pre-primary voting in the city is July 25, for voting the absentee ticket July 26.

A Book Apiece Read in June

If two less books had been read during June, the county would have been awarded a cash prize by the state. A little thought may save somebody's life, not to mention the property involved, as well as help to keep the insurance rate as low as possible, which in itself should be sufficient cause for all to cooperate as fully as possible.

"City officials and firemen appreciate the cooperation of the public in these matters and hope that they can count on still further cooperation when some thought has been given to the dangers and hazards, and do not believe it will be necessary to resort to fines for such offenses."

Connally Given Highest Praise

Every laboring man in Midland who is or has been receiving relief from the unemployment fund of emergency work, owes part of his gratitude to U. S. Sen. Tom Connally, friends say.

Sen. Connally was instrumental in getting Midland county declared in the emergency relief area, which meant purchase of distressed cattle, road work and other forms of employment for the idle. Connally was frequently called on by Midland to assist in various ways to get work for the people of Midland county who did not have jobs, and in every instance gave valuable aid, friends say.

On one occasion Sen. Connally and Cong. R. E. Thompson went personally to see President Roosevelt to get aid for Midland county and a few days later the aid was granted and now men who had been idle for several months are at work. People of Midland say Tom Connally is one of the best friends of the poor man Texas ever sent to Washington.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF 143 CALLED FOR 10 O'CLOCK

Charges Grew out of Fatal Shooting of George Tom

Assembling a special venire of 143 men Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the case of the state vs. John Ward, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of George W. Tom, will be called here by District Judge Charles L. Klapproth.

The case grew out of the shooting of Tom, well known ranchman of Midland and Martin counties, on February 3, 1934, in front of the Stanton postoffice.

Indictment against Ward was returned by the grand jury in district court at Stanton in the April term and the case was transferred here by Judge Klapproth upon motion by the defense.

District Attorney Bob Hamilton will be aided in prosecution of the case by George W. Dunaway of Midland and Judge John Litter of Big Spring. The defense will be represented by Attorneys Joseph A. Seymour and C. W. Tate.

Approximately 40 witnesses had been subpoenaed, attorneys said Saturday, most of them coming from Stanton, Midland and Jacksonville. Ward formerly lived at Jacksonville.

The present court term has been marked by an exceptionally light docket, non-jury cases having been up for trial during the past week.

A civil case is scheduled for Monday, subject to the Ward case, a suit for foreclosure of a vendor's lien.

Several cases are set for the fifth week, among them a winding case against Yoakum Hill; a felony, theft and burglary case against Charley Spikes (transferred from Ector county); a burglary case against George Scarborough and Fred McAfee, and five or six civil cases.

GERMANY DENIES DISCRIMINATION

BERLIN, July 14. (U.P.)—The German government declared today that it has no intention of discriminating against the United States in transfer of services on foreign loans, an issue which had aroused vigorous protests in America since the recent debt moratorium.

Germany pointed out that transfer of interest payments on foreign loans at the present time was impossible, due to foreign exchange rates and the trade balance.

Germany, however, said the Reich was prepared to negotiate on the question to find a way by which services could be resumed on the Dawes and Young loans.

AS WE GROW OLDER

In more senses than one, the United States is growing up.

Statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company reveal that the United States now ranks fifth in national "youthfulness"—that is, in the percentage of its population which is below 20 years of age.

Russia is the youngest of all nations, with 49 per cent of its entire population under the 20 mark.

Back in 1850, the United States was in that position. Now, however, we are getting older. Less than 39 per cent of us, now, are below 20. We are getting older, growing more stable; and while the adventurous, pioneering spirit of the land has not by any means vanished, this change in the complexion of our people is bound to have an important effect on our outlook, our ambitions, and our way of doing things.

Senator Huey Long has taken hold of the government of Louisiana, so the rest of the country will just have to wait until he gets around to it.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything with taking a stand on anything.)

It took Ralph Shuffler in the Odessa News-Times to relay the following account of the Chicago nudist wedding as written by Uncle Bill Kellis, renowned editor of the Sterling City Record:

Another sensational wedding took place in the World's Fair Garden of Eden at Chicago, last Friday, when Samuel Wallace and Miss Gertrude Boon Schilbeck were joined in holy matrimony. Bishop Perry Ward, pastor of the Nudist Church officiating.

The bridegroom wore a look of woodenness, trimmed in a happy motif of bewildered expectation. The rest of his raiment was made of the material that was in vogue at his birth, and cut in the conventional nudist style. His corns had been carefully trimmed and his finger and toenails showed they had undergone a careful treatment of the manicurist's art.

The bride wore a suit of brown integument with a wreath of smiles, which were set off with a red and white motif of powder and paint. She also wore some hair on top of her head. Except the expression of happy anticipation, she was gowned in the same habiliments she had on the day the doctor said, "It's a girl."

The minister was rigged out in a tight fitting goat skin fastened with a safety pin about his waist. The reason he wore this elaborate suit, was that a gun boil had taken up its domicile in the rear of his anatomy. It was thought best to wear the goat skin so that the flies would not interfere with the ceremony.

The best man served as ring bearer. His costume, like the rest of the party, consisted of imagination. When called on for the ring, he started to search his pockets, so the ceremony had to be a ring-less one.

A few reporters and photographers were present and wore clothes, but they were so rattled that they could not keep their minds on their business, and only a meager detail of the wedding was written. The newspapers could not use the pictures that were taken because of obvious reasons.

After the ceremony, the happy couple retired to the high weeds where there were no cops to suggest to them to put on something.

Honesty in Role Portrayal Wins the Quick Acclaim of Movie-Going Folk

The casting of "hokum" as the important factor in motion picture production, and inauguration of truth in story and characterization, exemplified for the first time in the Warner Bros. production, "As the Earth Turns," which opens today at the RITZ Theatre, is considered the most essential step the motion picture industry has taken in years, by a man who portrays the role of "Jen" in that production.

Miss Muir, less than a year in Hollywood, is a featured actress who is rapidly approaching stardom. Twenty-two years old, tall, slender and beautiful, she was as successful on the Broadway stage as she has been in Cineland, and her selection for so important a role was made because her acting is as free from hokum—trick devices and artificial sentiment—as is the picture itself, which has been described as a "picture without hokum."

"One of my favorite writers, E. V. Lucas, has said that truth is really the only interesting thing in the world," said Miss Muir recently. "That is why I think Warner Bros. were wise and farseeing in making 'As the Earth Turns' as they have done—with sincerity and without compromise in the treatment of the story. I would have been miserable if I had had to play Jen in any cheap or affected way. It is a character that took possession of me; I believe in it utterly, and I think, for that reason, audiences, too, will believe in it when they see Jen on the screen. I am very glad that I have become a motion picture actress at a time when the public taste is turning to reality and honesty in pictures, as it undoubtedly is. The reception which is meeting 'As the Earth Turns' proves that."

Jean Muir was born as Jean Fullerton in New York City. She is of Scottish Highland descent. Her education was at the Dwight School in Englewood, N. J., and at the Paris Sorbonne. On the stage she appeared in "Bird in Hand," "Saint Wench" and with a number of stock companies. Since being signed by Warner Bros. she has had important roles in "Bureau of Missing Persons," "The World Changes," with Paul Muni and "Son of a Sailor," with Joe E. Brown.

Now, in "As the Earth Turns," she is being lifted to stardom by a picture without hokum.

SOUTHEAST TEXAS "NO MAN'S LAND" AS CANDIDATES HIT BACK STRETCH

HOUSTON, July 14. (AP)—South-east Texas, which contains the sizeable cities of Houston, Galveston, Beaumont and Port Arthur, is a "no man's land" in the gubernatorial and United States senate campaigns. All of the candidates are making a determined effort to attract a large following to reinforce the strength they expect to show in their home districts.

No candidate can expect to lead in this sector by virtue of his residence since none lives south of Marlin. As a result there is a scramble for votes in the closing weeks of the fight with each aspirant laying claim to a considerable following.

The counties of Harris, Jefferson and Galveston alone probably will cast 80,000 votes or more. With so many votes to be had it is easy to understand why hordes of speakers are extolling the merits of the various office seekers.

Nearly all of the gubernatorial candidates can advance a reason why they believe they should be accorded a large share of this country's votes which aggregated approximately 55,000 two years ago.

Atty. Gen. James V. Alfred received approximately 30,000 votes in Harris county in his race in 1932, and he expresses the opinion that a majority of those who supported him for attorney general will be for him for governor.

By somewhat similar reasoning C. C. McDonald, the Ferguson-endorsed candidate, can lay claim to almost as many votes. In the first primary two years ago Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson was given more than 22,000 votes and McDonald voices the belief that the greater part of these will turn to him.

Followers of Tom F. Hunter point out that he received 8,770 votes in Harris county two years ago notwithstanding that a Houston resident, R. S. Sterling, was in the governor's race. They assert that his vote here this year should be larger.

The last time Edgar E. Witt came before the voters of this county in a contested race he was accorded a handsome majority. That was in the run-off primary for lieutenant governor four years ago when Witt led Sterling F. Strong in Harris county almost 2 to 1.

Well informed observers of political trends say that Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo will get considerably more support in Harris county July 28 than he received four years ago when he ran third over the state in the governor's race. In 1930 he was given only 246 votes in this county. His backers insist he will be among the leaders this year.

Maurice Hughes is counting on his stand for repeal of prohibition to gain him a large vote in this and other South Texas counties considered "wet." He has laid more emphasis on that question than any other candidate.

Alfred never has carried Jefferson county but his supporters assert that he stands a good chance of doing it this year. That chance is minimized by followers of other candidates, particularly Hunter and McDonald. In Galveston county where the Fergusons have been strong in past years McDonald is hoping to lead. There, too, other candidates express the opinion that they will finish ahead.

Both contenders for the United States senate, Tom Connally, the incumbent, and Joseph Bailey, Jr., carried Harris county in their last previous races. Connally was given a substantial lead over Senator Earle B. Mayfield when he unseated the latter six years ago and Bailey ran far ahead of "Cyclone" Davis in his race for congressman-at-large in 1932.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Last year traffic policemen, granted permission to remove their heavy coats and work in shirt sleeves, complained the latter six years ago shirts every day and bills were staggering. This year they will have to "pray or swelter," said Police Chief Garrett J. Farrell.

New Low Price Unequalled for the Quality It Buys

First of all, the newest Buick is built to be a Buick through and through. Then, it is given a price—lowest in Buick history and unequalled today for the quality it buys—which puts its value beyond comparison. Big, beautiful, modern, it is upholstered in fabrics of exclusive smart design. Unmatched in performance by any other balanced car, its dependability is attested by Buick records of 30 years. For it has every famous Buick feature. Thousands have waited for such a car at such a price. They are buying now. They are getting deliveries now.

Nine Midland Women Attend Quarterly Zone Meeting

Nine Midland women attended the quarterly meeting of Methodist auxiliaries of Zone 2 of the San Angelo district at McCamey Friday. They were Meses. Fletcher Curry, Harvey Fryar, M. J. Allen, Frank Adams, Otis Ligon, John Haley, Jess Prothro, L. B. Hankins and A. J. Norwood.

The morning session, held at the Methodist church, opened with a song, "Come Thou Almighty King," followed by the invocation by Mrs. L. B. Hankins of Midland. Mrs. Tittsworth of McCamey gave the welcome address, to which Mrs. Hayes of Rankin responded.

During a business hour, minutes of the last meeting were read, and business cleared, new business discussed and reports of committees heard.

The Rev. Troy Hickman, pastor of the Methodist church at McCamey, presented as a devotional "Our Wants and Our Needs," introducing the theme of the program, "Christian Social Relations." After a song, "Jesus Calls Us," a report of the annual meeting at Austin was given by a member of the Rankin society, a report of the district meeting at San Angelo given by District Secretary Mrs. Slater of Menard and Mrs. Washington of Big Lake, and reports of the various district auxiliaries heard.

After a benediction by the Reverend Mitchell, pastor of the Rankin church, lunch was served in the Educational building. A program of songs, readings and a playlet was presented.

A hymn, "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow," opened the afternoon session. Mrs. Hayes of McCamey offered a prayer for the Christian Social order, after which Mrs. Mitchell of Rankin gave the worship and meditation, taken from the 23rd chapter of Psalms.

The afternoon program included the following numbers: duet,

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people" (I Chronicles 16:8).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Question.—What is God? Answer.—God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love. . . . Question.—Is there more than one God or Principle? Answer.—There is not. Principle and its idea is one, and this one is God, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent Being, and His realm is man and the universe" (page 455-466).

"My Fords Have All Been Honest Cars"

Figures from Ford V-8 owners show 272,815,970 miles of steady running, without a penny for repairs

The true story of motor-car value is written on-the-road. There a car reveals its character. There it shows what it can do.

Figures from 34,954 Ford V-8 owners show a total of 272,815,970 miles without a penny for repairs. Their letters are further proof of Ford V-8 economy and dependability.

"I transport school children," writes a Ford owner in Minnesota, "and see plenty of tough going. In three years and eight months I have never missed a trip nor have I been late. My Fords have all been honest cars."

Another Ford V-8 owner writes: "A friend of mine was planning on buying a new car but was considering another make. To prove to him the economy of the Ford V-8 we made a 59-mile run. The gas used was exactly three gallons, measured for the run. It is needless to tell you that my friend now owns a V-8."

A salesman writes: "I drive about 1500 miles a month. I have not spent five dollars for repairs on the five Ford cars I have used. In more than 100,000 miles I have had no motor trouble."

A police officer writes: "To date I have operated my Ford V-8 for seven months and have driven 15,000 miles—most of which was done at speeds up to 88 miles per hour. I have not paid out one penny for repairs or replacements of any kind."

Fleet owner says Ford V-8 is "the most economical car to operate."

A business man writes: "I am interested in a corporation operating eleven cars in the same price range as the Ford. Five are Fords and six are other makes."

"Our experience over a two-year period shows that the Ford is the most economical car to operate and it is our intention to replace the six other cars with Fords."

"I have had better results and been better satisfied with my Fords than with cars costing much more." No words of ours about the Ford V-8 could be half so convincing as these letters from owners showing what the car is doing in actual service. We invite you to drive it and let it tell you its own story of performance, comfort, safety and economy.

MIDLAND SHELLS FOUR BIG SPRING PITCHERS, WINS GAME 18 TO 4

FOUR NEW MEN IN LOCAL LINEUP ADD POWER

By JESS RODGERS

Four Big Spring pitchers could step the tide of Midland this Friday afternoon and the game turned into a farce in the ninth inning, with basemen catching runners and holding them off base.

One run in the fourth, one in the seventh and five in the eighth completed the field day.

Wallace showed a baffling fast ball, a sharply breaking curve, but had a bit of trouble with his control.

Two Big Spring players were passed and one was hit. He whiffed four.

Other new men in the Colt uniform were Walters and Light on second base, Krutelik behind the bat and Dobbs in center field.

Krutelik and Walters hit twice in three trips, while B. White collected three hits in five trips.

The club appears to have added formidable strength through the recruiting of the new men.

GOLD BEACH, Ore. (U.P.)—A mother turkey today was surprised that her babies failed to overlook a small matter of odor. She spied a skunk following her brood. ODESSA OILERS ENTER TOURNEY

EL PASO, July 14.—Success of the Tri-State semipro baseball tournament, starting Monday at Duderfield, was assured Friday with the entrance of the Odessa Oilers, "Red" Wilson, promoter said.

Seven teams had signed to compete in the tournament.

The Oilers, probably the outstanding club in West Texas, are managed by Mack Saxon, College of Mines coach. Norman (Lefty) Briggs and Brooks Travis, two other El Pasoans, are members of the team.

The Oilers will be favored to win the championship, but they are expected to encounter tough opposition from rival teams, especially those in the International league here.

The Oilers will not play until next Thursday and Friday. They will return to Odessa Sunday for a Peabody basin league game, but will come back to El Paso provided they have not been eliminated in the meet here.

The Oilers are expected to be one of the biggest drawing cards in the tournament. Besides the three El Paso players, the Oilers have Ned West, brother of Sam West, outfielder for the St. Louis Browns.

Clyde E. Thomas FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

In this column, from day to day, there will appear an article presented by the Thomas for District Judge-Club in behalf of my candidacy. It is difficult for any candidate to become well acquainted with over 8,000 voters, and any legitimate avenue, such as the newspaper column, is not only proper but a duty to the voters.

I have always voted the straight Democratic Ticket, and I submit my candidacy for the office of District Judge for the 70th Judicial District to the action of the Democracy as will be expressed in the July and August Primaries.

I have never been considered a criminal lawyer, though since I have not been an office lawyer, and my practice for many years has been in the Trial and Appellate Courts, I have had some criminal practice—a wide general practice that would well fit a lawyer for efficiently filling the office of District Judge.

While I am not a "local" candidate in any sense, yet I want to point out that my home people gave me two terms as Prosecuting Attorney, and two terms as Mayor of Big Spring; and in these elections they always honored me with a very large majority of more than two-thirds of the votes. I mention this with a great deal of pride, and as evidence, to some extent, that, among the people that know me best, I have lived in such a way as to have and retain their confidence. The articles hereinafter will be presented by the Club.

HOKUS POKUS IS SOLD TO CONNERS

One of the latest business deals to be transacted in Midland is the sale of the Hokus Pokus grocery store to Bill and Ellis Conner by Roy Stockard.

Bill Conner has been operating the market at the grocery store and Ellis Conner operates the market at Plegly Wiggly.

Stockard, through a large advertisement in this issue, is announcing a stock reduction sale for all this week. He has marked his merchandise down considerably to make quick disposition of it.

Conner Bros. will take charge of Hokus Pokus about August 6. Stockard has not announced definitely what his plans are after he turns his business over to the new owners.

R. L. Dupy has been named head of the crews to construct sanitary pit toilets in Midland county and in the city.

Representative Tulloch of the state department of health will be here for several days the first of the week to assist.

Farmers or townspeople who wish to have these built are asked to telephone the county judge or county health nurse, phone 348 and register their requests.

About 150 have been built in the county and city, for less than $5, as labor is furnished free from the county relief office.

Eighteen thousand teachers in Chile were required to take examinations to test their competence covering all sorts of exhibition riding.

City Cleaners Is Newest Business

One of the newest business establishments in Midland is the City Cleaners, formerly C. George cleaners, owned and operated by Bill Van Huss and located in the remodeled building formerly occupied by Self Service grocery.

Van Huss, who was born and reared in Midland, has been in the cleaning and pressing business here for the last four years. He has installed several pieces of new machinery and has a model plant in every respect.

An invitation has been extended through an advertisement in today's issue for the public to inspect the new establishment.

AMARILLO HORSE SHOW ON AUG. 6-7

AMARILLO, July 14.—A colorful and brilliant horse show, which will be a social highlight in the Southwest, will be sponsored by the Tri-State Fair association in Amarillo the nights of August 6 and 7.

Amarillo has had other horse shows, but none has been on the scale proposed for this year's Tri-State. Horses from half a dozen states in three states already have been entered in the various classes, and within the next ten days scores of the finest thoroughbreds the Southwest affords are expected to have their names on the entry list.

Cash prizes will be given in every event, and in addition, handsome loving cups and ribbons will be presented. In the stake events, elaborate and costly trophies will be offered in addition to the cash awards. There will be 22 classes, covering all sorts of exhibition riding.

All entries should be in the secretary's office by July 25. There will be no entry fee except in stake classes.

Mason King, show manager, announced that box stalls will be available at nominal rental, and a training ring will be provided beginning July 27 for exhibitors.

The show will be held at the Tri-State fair grounds just east of Amarillo, where a successful horse race meet recently was concluded. The plant is complete in every detail, with ample room for flood-lighted show ring, and excellent grandstand facilities. The show is "open to the world" and visitors from all over the Southwest are expected to attend.

The Fair association has issued its prize list and its rules and regulations. Judges who have worked in the National and Royal shows will be in charge.

The managing directors of the show are Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo News-Globe and president of the Tri-State Fair association; O. L. Taylor, secretary and general manager of the fair; Mason King, show manager; and Mrs. Ned G. Miller, show secretary. All communications relative to the show should be addressed to Mrs. Miller, 304 Oliver-Eagle Building, Amarillo.

RAW ROOKIE HAS THEM GAWKING

By W. WINSTON, COPELAND
United Press Staff Correspondent
FORT WORTH, (U.P.)—Rudy York, young rookie, has stolen the show from that adept showman, Arthur (Whitman) Shires, so far as Fort Worth baseball fans are concerned. Not that Shires isn't still popular, but York is more so. York's long-distance hitting and his ability to play many positions has become the main attraction of the Cats, Shires' color and glamor notwithstanding.

They are almost exact opposites in disposition. Shires is talkative, jovial and from all appearance usually is having a gay time. York is quiet, almost nonchalant and is extremely serious about baseball.

The 20-year-old Pennsylvania giant undoubtedly is one of the brightest big league prospects in the Texas league. He is the property of the Detroit Tigers and probably will be in the Tiger training camp next spring. It doubtless will take a year or more of schooling, however, to prepare him for the majors.

York, current homerun leader of the Cats, whams the ball over the fence with as much ease as Babe Ruth. Unlike Ruth, however, most of his homers are line drives, not lofty fly balls which sail out of the park. He bats right handed.

He swings with such ease he appears almost effortless. His bulk gives him plenty of drive. His shoulders are massive. His height is above the six-foot mark and he weighs around 200 pounds.

York is playing his second year in organized baseball and doing a nice job of it. Beginning the season as an utility catcher, he rode the bench most of the early days of play. His hitting relegated him to the outfield a few weeks ago when Max West was injured. Since then he has been breaking up games with regularity. So much so, in fact, that it probably will be some other outfielder who will do the bench-warming the remainder of the season.

York is leading the Cats in home-runs and most of his other hits are for extra bases. His fielding is not the best but is improving. He is a promising catcher, however, and thus has two shots at breaking into the majors.

Old Statute Is Pain to Fists

AUSTIN, (U.P.)—H. L. Clump, deputy clerk in the Texas supreme court, has a case of writer's cramp of long standing and believes something should be done about it.

Among Clump's many duties is recording the activities of the supreme court in a minute book. It all must be written in long hand in ink as provided in a statute passed shortly after the court was organized in the days of the Texas Republic.

When the supreme court was organized there was little litigation and it was a comparatively easy task for the clerk to make the entries by hand. The legislature, wanting to make a permanent record of the court's affairs, ordered the minutes written in ink.

Meanwhile the court's business has multiplied by leaps and bounds. The court itself has been increased to nine members through appointment of three judges. Clerks have been added but Clump must laboriously write the minutes in the traditional way.

He is hoping the next legislature will realize his plight and revise the law so that a typewriter may be used.

WHO TO VOTE FOR

AUSTIN, (U.P.)—Olin W. Finger, long clerk of the court of criminal appeals, never has had so many personal friends in a gubernatorial race. He doesn't know what to do about making a choice.

C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls was at one time an assistant attorney general assigned as state's attorney before the highest criminal tribunal in Texas. He and Finger became close friends. James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, the present attorney general, and Finger who has had charge of Midland high school band work for the past four years had met the requirements set up by the state department of education for approved instructors of high school band work long before this work was placed among the subjects for affiliation. While the band system in the Midland schools has been built up during the past four years by Shrader as an extra-curricular activity, the work now under his direction becomes a regular part of the high school curriculum and receives affiliated credits along with traditional and other subjects.

Shrader has many qualifications which particularly fit him for doing this work. He holds a B. A. degree and an M. A. degree; is a member of Phi Delta Kappa (national honorary education fraternity); Texas Band Teachers association; Texas State Teachers association; has had some 15 years of successful band teaching experience and now has former students in practically all Texas college bands; wrote "Administration and Organization of High Schools Bands," a thesis, and "Look to Your Band," in Texas Outlook.

In giving music an equal place on the program with other vocational and cultural subjects, the Midland system has become the most famous in Texas and is taking its place with the larger and better school systems of the nation. The Midland school system is recognized throughout the state as being perhaps the strongest school system in this respect in Texas, being equalled only by the largest schools of the north and east where music is considered an essential part of the school program. The board of education of Cleveland, Ohio, owns outright 1,000 pianos and $156,000 worth of band instruments. Many of the larger high schools there maintain as many as three complete high school bands, and not only are music and choral singing taught in the schools, but one year of voice culture, also taught in the schools, is required before a pupil is admitted to the glee clubs and choral clubs of the high school.

One high school principal of a large city in Texas remarked after seeing the music in the schools of Cleveland: "I have received a new vision of education after seeing the music in the Cleveland schools. You people at Midland have had this vision a long time."

MURDERERS ARE TAKEN TO PEN

McCAMEY.—Sheriff W. C. (Bill) Fowler and Chief of Police Fred Senter left Rankin for Huntsville with George (Bull) Lafferty, J. W. Hillman and Joe White whom they delivered to the warden of the state penitentiary.

Lafferty and Hillman have been in the county jail at Rankin since their arrest here in McCamey on the night of July 28, 1933, following the brutal murder of George Berry, McCamey blacksmith.

Both were tried in Rankin and found guilty of the crime as charged. Lafferty was tried on Dec. 6 of last year and was given a 20-year sentence. An appeal was made but denied. Hillman was tried Oct. 6 and found guilty and given 25 years. The third man implicated in the crime was Pete Hutchison, also of McCamey, who was tried in Big Lake on Dec. 16, after a change of venue was granted and was found guilty and assessed a 22-year term in the pen. Hutchison was transferred to Huntsville on March 26.

Joe White, the third convicted Upton county man, was tried on a charge of theft over $50 and found guilty and given 22 years.

The arrest, trial and conviction of Hillman, Lafferty and Hutchison grew out of the fatal slugging of George Berry here last July 28, when Lafferty and Hutchison took part in the tavern brawl. Berry, at a small cafe on Fifth street operated by the sister of Berry, ordered the pair out of the cafe and returned to his shop in an adjoining alley.

As was testified in all three trials, the pair, accompanied by Hillman, returned to the shop of Berry where the fatal slugging took place. Berry's head was crushed and he was rendered unconscious, never regaining consciousness, dying on the next day.

A search was started by local officers and the arrest of Lafferty and Hillman followed shortly after the crime. Hutchison was located north of McCamey near the Crane highway, and all three were placed in jail.

OIL NOTES

By F. D. GARDNER

Red Davidson, No. 1 Cummins, Ector county wildcat which was shot last Tuesday, has been installing separator and storage tanks, and a test is expected shortly. The well was shut in 18 minutes after the shot, and estimates on the gas run rather uniformly around 10,000,000 cubic feet per day, whereas estimates on the amount of oil it will produce run anywhere from 30 to 100 barrels.

The other closely watched test, Humble No. 1 Means, in Andrews county, is preparing to drill out plugs and test the cement job which is now setting. This test developed a leak in the special 6 5/8-inch o. d. casing at 3461 feet. As soon as the cement has set, they will be able to drill down and determine the extent of the break. The location of this wildcat is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 2, block A-35, public school land survey.

At last reports, York & Harper No. 1 Frank Bates, 663 feet from the north line and 666 feet from the east line of section 38, block 44, township 2 south, T. & P. Railway survey, Ector county, was drilling in line at a depth of 4164 feet.

Landreth No. 1 Scharbauer, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 20, block 44, township 1 north, T. & P. Railway survey, Ector county, which topped the lime at 3710 feet, is shut down at 3740 to run pipe.

Honolulu No. 1 J. E. Parker, Andrews county wildcat located about 13 miles from the Humble No. 1 Means test, according to the latest information is drilling in red beds at 1170 feet. This test is 1320 feet from the south line and 1470 feet from the west line of section 7, block A-44, public school land survey.

Currie et al No. 1 Calverly, 330 feet from the north and east lines of section 24, block 36, township 4 south, T. & P. Railway survey, Glasscock county, is shut down at 995 feet waiting on casing.

SKUNKS HALTED TRAFFIC

DEVON, Conn. (U.P.)—There's no disputing the right of way when a skunk makes up its mind to amble slowly across the road. When two of the animals decided to sit down and rest awhile in the middle of a main highway, traffic was demoralized until they continued their jaunt.

Tax Collections

Double Last Year's

HOUSTON. (P.)—Collections of current and delinquent city, school and library taxes here during the first half of 1934 were approximately double those for the same period last year. The larger percentage increase was delinquent tax payments.

Collections aggregated $2,103,437.90 as against $1,859,690.99 for July 1, 1933. As a result both the city and school district are operating, at least temporarily, on a cash basis.

The tremendous increase in collections was attributed to generally improved business conditions, the loans extended by the Home Owners Loan corporation and the city's practice of allowing a discount for prompt payment of current taxes. This discount probably will be discontinued in the near future.

Delinquent city, school and library taxes paid during the first half of the year totaled $986,095.08 as compared with $368,131.71 for the first half of 1933. Current tax collections aggregated $2,117,342.82 as against $1,291,559.27 for the first six months last year.
