River Crest Electric Steam Generating Plant Operating

Texas Power and Light Company's big steam electric generating plant, named River Crest on Sulphur in southern Red River County, is now generating electricity.

At 12:50 Tuesday noon there came a statement over the company's inter-communication system which said, "The turbine is turning." A visit to the plant at 7:30 p. m. and the turbine was still turning.

At 8:10 Tuesday night Mike Dickinson, public relations director for Texas Power and Light Co., called this editor from Dallas and said the generator went into operation at 7:42 p. m. and that high lines from the plant to Sulphur Springs and Paris were made "hot."

"It will probably be several days before the plant will be in operation to its full capacity of 80,000 k. w., due to slight adjustments," said Mr. Dickinson, "but you wanted to know when we started to generate electricity," he added.

Two years have been required to build the big plant. Its location is along Sulphur river, where 1,585 acres of land was purchased. Its northern boundary is the Paris and Mt. Pleasant Railroad and U. S. Highway 271. To insure continuous operation of the railroad it bought the property in January, 1952. Availability of water, rail and highway transportation was probably responsible for the selection of the site for a plant.

Construction of River Crest was let on contracts. Nine major contractors have had crews at work there over a two year period.

Just how big an undertaking the plant has been is seen in the man-made reservoir confined behind a three mile long levee. The 131 foot steam generator, or boiler, that is capped with two 25-foot smoke stacks. Operators use an elevator to scale the structure. Intake pipes are seven feet in diameter.

Landscaping, moving of construction shacks, paving roads with asphalt and erection of a fence will follow.

The Red River County installation, TP&L president W. W. Lynch points out, will furnish an abundance of electric power for the future needs of all North Texas towns. It will meet the heavy demands anticipated from increases in population and industry over this section of the state.

The big six-story boiler, fired with natural gas supplied by Lone Star Gas Company, generates steam which turns a great turbine and that drives the giant electric generator. The generator has a capacity of 80,000 kilowatts, or enough to supply electricity for 80,000 homes.

Electric current generated is flowing into a 132,000 volt transmission line leading into Sulphur Springs, where it connects with the great network of transmission lines belonging to Texas Power and Light Co. Another 132,000 volt transmission line has been constructed from the plant to Paris, a distance of 31 miles. It parallels U. S. Highway 271 and the Paris and Mt. Pleasant Railroad, about a mile south of these arteries.

First construction was a siding from the railroad into the plant site. Next the great dykes thrown up to impound 700 acres of water. A pumping plant was installed on the levee between the lake and the river and this great pump has filled the lake. The great body of water is used to cool steam and turn it into water again, after the steam has done its job of turning the great steam turbine, which drives the generator. Water used in the boilers to generate steam is pure water, entirely free from as many minerals as it is possible to remove. Otherwise the boiler pipes would soon become coated with a hard substance that would eventually fill up the pipes and reduce the effect of heat upon them.

If this is not clear, inspect the bottom of your teakettle or cut into a cast-aside hot water heater.

River Crest is now receiving 10,000 gallons of pure water daily, prepared at the TPL Trinidad treating plant and shipped to the Red River County plant. River Crest has a deep well, and a water-treating plant that will soon be put into operation.

Two great circulating pumps with a capacity of 130,000 gallons of water a minute are used to cool steam pipes and reduce steam to water again, after it has been used in the turbine. Nearly a million pounds of steam—950,000 pounds to be exact is needed hourly to drive the turbine and generator. Five complete changes of water are made hourly.

It is just so darned big the average lay mind can't grasp such figures.

Great motors, some of them 1700 h. p. operate the pumps that send water into the boilers.

We are told that air which is mixed with the gas before it reaches the fires for the giant boilers is heated before being mixed with gas so as to get all the heat energy possible from the gas.

The 700-acre lake, as much as 40 feet deep in some places, was explained as being a kind of radiator to the great engines to keep them from overheating, supplying a service to them similar to that of a radiator on an automobile, with great pumps that keep the water circulating.

To insure cool water for the "radiator," hot water released after use, circles half the distance around the lake in a canal, permitting it to cool some before it enters the lake proper and is cooled by the big lake's temperature before it is again drawn by pumps into the intake for use again.

Community Public Service Co., which serves small towns and farm areas in eastern Lamar, western Red River and northern Titus and Franklin counties, buys its electric current from Texas Power and Light Co., with a connection near Blossom. Lamar REA also buys its current from TPL.

Bowman - Skelton Buy Hall Lumber Co. Talco Yard

Andy Bowman and Dean Skelton are the new owners of the business formerly operated at Talco by Hall Lumber Co. The sale was consummated last week.

Hall Lumber Co., which owns yards at Hawkins, Winnsboro and Gladewater, came to Talco a short time after oil was discovered here. Jim Price and Dave Thompson were recent resident managers.

Andy Bowman came to Texas from Indiana a number of years ago as a rig builder and construction contractor. He and Mrs. Bowman have resided in Talco for several years. They are both active in civic and church work.

Dean Skelton is a Mt. Pleasant man who has been connected with the Talco yard of Hall Lumber Co. for the past four years. His unfailing courtesy and obliging disposition have made him many friends, and he has thoroughly learned the lumber business. Dean married a Mt. Pleasant girl, Martha Mosier, and they have two daughters, Sharon K. and Judy Dean.

Bobby Martin, popular Trojan athlete, is the yard man and truck driver. He had been with the Hall firm prior to the change in ownership.

Attention of the reader is directed to the formal announcement of change in ownership of the business which will be found in this edition.

Little League Play Opens Tuesday

All teams have been cut to 15 men each. Suits have arrived and have been issued.

CONTROL BEACON FOR COX FIELD

A control beacon for Cox Field will go up this week. Low bidder for the job of erecting the beacon was Bray & Parham. Their workmen started the work Wednesday.

Paris acquired the control beacon and other equipment for lighting Cox Field free of charge from the government but had to foot the bill for moving it to Cox Field from the Intermediate Landing Field at Yoakum, Texas.

The beacon, which rotates at six revolutions per minute, will be of the choral club two years, serves as an airman's guide for pilots who are flying at night.

Two Uninjured When Car-Truck Collide

Jack Jackson of Deport and Billy M. Shoffner of Bogata, escaped injury when a truck and car collided at the street and Highway 271 intersection near the Buck Mathews home in Deport about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Both cars were traveling east at the time of the accident. Shoffner, driver of the car, attempted to pass the truck which was driven by Jackson, as it was making a left hand turn. Both the car and truck were damaged considerably.

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Mathews of Paris, investigated the accident.

President Attacks Thought Control In Monday Speech

President Eisenhower called on the nation Monday night to "drive from the temple of freedom all who seek to establish over us thought control."

Mr. Eisenhower said his appeal applied both to "agents of a foreign state or demagogues thirsty for personal power and public notice."

In a ringing plea for freedom of ideas, the chief executive said the United States is "approaching the end of freedom's road" if it accepts the view that "honest dissent" is tantamount to "disloyal subversion."

The president spoke over nationwide radio and television networks in an address at ceremonies marking the 200th anniversary of Columbia University, of which he formerly was president.

His speech was billed by the White House as a major foreign policy speech but much of it was directed to the "would be censors and regulators" in this country, who, Mr. Eisenhower said, are "perverting and undermining a free society while falsely swearing allegiance to it."

Mindful of the President's recent tilts with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, reporters asked White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty if any of his remarks were aimed at the Wisconsin Republican.

"I am not going to interpret the President's speech," Hagerty replied.

SENATE FLOOD BILL INCLUDES TEN PROJECTS FOR TEXAS

WASHINGTON. — The Senate has voted $484,095,500 for flood control and navigation work next year, including funds for ten Texas projects.

The bill cut funds for three Texas projects approved earlier by the House, increased three others and added several which the House had omitted. The bill will be sent to a House-Senate conference committee for compromise on these changes.

As finally passed, after attempts both to increase and reduce the total appropriation were defeated, the bill carried the exact amounts for individual Texas projects approved by the Senate appropriations committee.

The $1,000,000 cut from Garza project was transferred to Ferrell's Bridge Dam to start construction on a long-sought key reservoir on Cypress Creek, a tributary of the Red River about nine miles from Jefferson. The House had provided no funds for Ferrell's bridge, which had not been recommended in the President's budget.

Both Senators Lyndon B. Johnson and Price Daniel urged the Senate to leave in the bill this money to begin the Ferrell's Bridge work to control floods and provide additional water supplies in the Red River Basin below Denison.

The bill contained $1,300,000 for the Dallas floodway and $240,000 for the Fort Worth floodway, the same amounts requested by the President and approved by the House.

The Senate voted $3,500,000 for Texarkana Reservoir, an increase of $500,000 over the House allotment.

The Senate provided $565,000 for bank stabilization of the Red River below Denison Dam in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, compared with $335,000 allotted by the House.

Both Texas Senators Johnson and Daniel praised the appropriations committee for its work on the Texas projects and urged the Senate conferees to insist on keeping an increase from $550,000 which the House approved for survey work by the Army Corps of Engineers to $1,000,000 recommended by the Senate.

WELCOME, TPL

Upon behalf of citizens of Red River County in particular and all of Northeast Texas generally, this newspaper wishes to extend congratulations and words of welcome to the Texas Power & Light Company, which has for two years had a great steam electric generating plant under construction on Sulphur river south-east of Bogata in Red River County.

The great plant started generating electricity on Tuesday night. There was much excitement, with skilled technicians scurrying about like ants and the hum of the great generator was added to that of the steam turbine as it started creating electric energy.

Towns in this area, including Paris, Deport, Bogata, Talco, Clarksville and Mt. Pleasant, have profited from the influx of skilled artisans who built the great plant. These people have lived in these towns, spent their money and made new friendships.

Only about 35 people will be required to operate the plant, now that it is built, but as a taxpayer in Red River County, TPL will be quite a citizen.

This editor has known some of the men who have directed TPL for a quarter of a century. He knows the history of their dealings with the people and something of their financial position, and they are all good.

We could be wrong, but we can't help but believe that coming of this great plant to this section will bring other industries. We now have everything they need—water, electricity and fuel, and an abundant supply of labor. Welcome, TPL. We are glad you came!

Pitty the Lufkin teen-agers who want "flat-top" haircuts. Barbers there have decided to charge $1.25 for such hair cuts.

Red River County lost one of its most beloved citizens when Walter E. Holloway died last week. A fine Christian gentleman, he served people of the Detroit area for over fifty years as railway station agent, banker and postmaster.

So the Commies have now decided to get a foothold in the western hemisphere in Guatemala. We had better thank God we now have a president who will do something about it—more than refer to shipment of arms there as another Red Herring.

High school seniors must have liked last week's "graduating" edition of this newspaper, judging from the number of extra copies that were purchased. They were mailed to relatives and friends; some cut up for scrap books and others will be preserved for another generation.

Several years ago a new residence addition was being opened in Dallas. Promoters were asking for names of pioneer citizens that might be used in naming streets. This editor wrote them, suggesting the name of Holloway, for

WE HONOR THE FLAG!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Meeting in Philadelphia on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution declaring that "the Flag of the United States shall be of thirteen stripes of alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stars of white in a blue field, representing the new constellation rising in the West."

Tradition says that the First Stars and Stripes was made by Betsy Ross, of Philadelphia, at the request of George Washington. A contemporary description said that the stars of the flag represent a new constellation rising in the West.

Not a legal holiday in any of the states, June 14 is, however, marked generally throughout our land by the schools and by patriotic organizations as the birthday of our national emblem, in exercises which feature the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jones and Cato and Rosemary Robinson were in Carrollton Friday night to attend the graduation of Mrs. Jones' nephew, David Cato. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cato Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wooley of Tyler, are the parents of a 7 lb. and 5 oz. baby girl, born May 21, and has been given the name Debra Lynn. Mrs. Wooley was formerly Miss Doris Pittman of Talco.

GI BENEFITS MAY BE CUT

WASHINGTON.—The government may be getting ready to declare a cutoff date for most of the benefits veterans receive under the so-called Korean GI Bill of Rights.

Asst. Defense Secretary John A. Hannah is understood to favor an end to the program under which draftees who spend two years in uniform are entitled to a free four-year college education.

His idea is to bestow the benefit on men who sign up for four or more years, thus providing an incentive to voluntary long-term enlistments.

It was learned that Rep. Olin E. Teague (Dem.) of Texas, author of the Korean bill, also has been sounding out veterans groups, school officials and government agencies on when they think the free school program should be ended.

Local Girls Named Camp Counselors

Miss Anna Marie Bailey of Deport and Miss Billie Landrum, teacher at Talco, will leave June 20 for Camp Sherlawn, Ware, Mass., where they will be counselors during summer camp. They will return home the latter part of August.

Miss Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Bailey of Deport, is a graduate of Deport High School and received her degree from ETSTC, Commerce in May this year. She majored in physical education. She has contracted to teach in the Pittsburg school for the next term.

Miss Landrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterlon Landrum of Paris, formerly of Deport and Cunningham, is a graduate of Cunningham High School and ETSTC, receiving her degree last year. She has been P. E. instructor in the Talco school the past year.

The Talco Times appreciates courtesies shown Mrs. Tommie Barton, in turning in to her the local news. She is pinch-hitting for Mrs. O. B. Hopwood, who is confined at a Paris hospital with a broken hip.

Douglas E. Wright For Congress

DOUGLAS E. WRIGHT

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE FIRST DISTRICT

I have filed for the Democratic Nomination to the Congress of the United States from our First District of Texas. My life has been lived in this district, through my choice. I shall attempt to see each of you but time is short. It is my belief, as expressed to me by many people throughout this First District, that I am well qualified to fill this office.

I am a graduate of the University of Texas, Austin, majoring in the study of Government with advanced work in Political Science at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. I was elected to Texas Legislature from Morris and Titus Counties, and have served as Superintendent of Morris County Schools. I am a veteran of World War II. I've worked at various jobs, including farming, truck driving, marketing farm produce and teaching school. I know the problems of the working people of this district. I have prepared a small folder of facts which I hope to pass on to you in order that you might better know the man who is asking to serve you in Congress.

As you know, there are eleven counties in the First Congressional District, namely Bowie, Cass, Delta, Franklin, Harrison, Hopkins, Lamar, Marion, Morris, Red River and Titus. If those of you who know me, including those with whom I went to school, played baseball, worked and served in the Army will help me by writing to and talking with your relations and friends it will be appreciated. The term of office is for two years, and the salary and tax free allowances are $15,000 per year. Election to this office in addition to enabling me to support my family, will give me an opportunity to serve the good people of the First District. I am asking only for an opportunity as others have asked heretofore. Opportunities have been sought by the younger people of all generations and it is my belief that when and if America ever becomes a place where a qualified citizen is denied an equal opportunity your children and mine will have lost, next to the right to worship God according to the dictates of their own hearts, their most precious heritage.

Sincerely,
DOUGLAS E. WRIGHT

RIVER CREST

A little more than 31 miles of 132,000-volt transmission line connect the substation to the new 80,000-kilowatt Rivercrest generating plant, and will provide a third and stronger source of power.

Construction has been completed on Texas Power and Light Company's new 132-60-kv substation. This substation accommodates the largest single transformer ever installed on the Texas Power and Light's transmission system. It has an initial rating of 45,000- kva which can be increased to 75,000 kva if necessary. The unit will have enough capacity to supply approximately six times the amount of electric power used by Paris.

Construction of this new line to Paris will insure better electrical service to all of this area. In the past electrical and ice storms have at times interrupted service by damage to the lines between the great Roysse City substation and Paris and with Denison dam water generating plant, from which TPL buys most of its output.

The high voltage transmission lines are of heavy duty construction and of the most modern design used in the electrical industry. The line is virtually lightning proof, with three extra high strength shield wires above two large aluminum, steel-reinforced, conductor wires with a strength of 25,000 pounds. This means these conductors will be strong enough to carry greater wind and ice loadings than have been experienced in this area.

This line will provide a strong transmission tie from the Rivercrest plant and will strengthen the Company's 60,000-volt transmission system in north central Texas. The Rivercrest plant is also connected with a similarly constructed transmission line to Sulphur Springs and Tyler.

With completion of Rivercrest plant all of Northeast Texas can be more than adequately served with electric current.

Should industrial progress increase the demand for more current, Rivercrest has been constructed large enough to accommodate three more generating units like the one that has just been installed.

Only four men at a time will be needed in the supervisory control building, near the center of the plant. From the time water flows into condensers and the boiler to the moment electrical power is generated the four operators move only a few feet, from dial to dial, switch to switch and gauge to gauge inside the control room.

They also operate major switches in sub-stations at Sulphur Springs and Paris by radio impulses sent over transmission lines. The same operation gives operators a close check on line conditions at distant points.

The plant uses only 35 employees. Plant superintendent is F. M. Bradshaw.

Painting of equipment in an ivory cream, blue and orange scheme was recently completed.

Along with the prominent marks on the landscape, the boiler, turbine-generator, water tank and reservoir, there is a modern water treating plant, service building, maintenance building, control building, a giant crane assembly over the condensers and turbine-generator, which will later be used to move equipment in emergencies, and a 12,000-barrel fuel oil tank, also set up for emergencies.

Unseen are miles of pipe, set underground to hook up the plant. Two artesian wells furnish drinking water and later water for the boiler.

Installations also include equipment with which natural gas, crude oil or lignite may be used as fuel under the boilers. Should natural gas supply be cut off at industrial plants during a severe cold spell, oil will be used.

Should the price of oil or gas get too high the company owns great beds of lignite in western Titus County that will be used for fuel. It was used for fuel at the Trinidad plant prior to cheap natural gas.

Generally, here's the sequence of operation.

Water pumped into condensers is released, heated along the way, and turned into the boiler. Steam is pressured into the turbine-generator, turning the force into electrical energy. The steam is returned to water in the condensers, and the process is repeated.

To cool the steam into water in the condensers, water from the lake is passed through separate compartments in the condensers. The water is discharged into the lake, and circulated half way around the reservoir behind an earthen jetty. Discharged water sometimes reaches 110 degrees and is cooled in the lake to insure intake of water at a normal temperature.

At the opening of the intake pipe, the peak flow can be as high as 69,000 gallons a minute.

Should the reservoir level drop, water can be pumped from Sulphur river.

Water treatment includes separate chlorinating systems for drinking water and water used to cool bearings. An acid and phosphate treatment also is given bearing cooler water. A hydrogen exchange treats water used in condensers and is the most modern piece of equipment of its kind.

The boiler is a Babcock and Wilcox product, and parts of the installation came from the Paris plant. The turbine is Westinghouse.

Completion of River Crest adds a fourth major generating station to the TP&L system. A fifth, in Collin County, also is under construction. Connecting the generating plants is another major project in the company's 52 county territory. A 132,000 volt system already connects TP&L's big Trinidad station through Tyler and Sulphur Springs with River Crest.

Dedicatory Services Sunday for Meneely Presbyterian Church Building Recently Completed at Bogata

Dedicatory services for the new Meneely Memorial Presbyterian Church of Bogata, will be held next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, according to Dr. Joe N. Everheart, pastor.

Rev. Hudson A. McNair of Dallas, former pastor, will preach the sermon and Rev. James Aikin of Denton, will formally dedicate the church.

The new building, which is of brick veneer with knotty pine for the interior, occupies 2,500 square feet of land on the Business Loop, north of the business district. The sanctuary is 30x50 feet and the parish house 20x50. Laminated arches support the roof. The floor is concrete, covered with tile.

Pews and pulpit are in natural oak. Central heating and cooling systems are provided, gas being used for heating and the air-cooling system is pulled by electric motor. There are two rest rooms and an equipped kitchen.

Will H. Lightfoot of Paris, was the architect and James Loven of Deport, the contractor and builder. His contract price was $17,435, but extras, including a church belfry, walks, etc., added another $2,363, and other supplies and equipment ran the cost up to $24,994.68.

Twenty families in the church donated $10,000, according to Pastor Everheart, and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bryson donated the lot, valued at $500, upon which the new building stands.

A Hammond organ which cost $1,200, half of which has been paid, and this is the only indebtedness against the new church and its facilities.

Largest donor was the estate of the late William R. Meneely of New York, which gave $15,000. His will provided for aid in building ten churches, five east of the Mississippi river and five west of it. Executors of his estate also donated a church bell, valued at $750, all in memory of his wife, Mrs. Josephine A. Meneely.

The late Mrs. Clara Hooker of Fulbright, made an initial gift of $2,500, which started the new church project.

Mack and Doyle Glover and Howard Ed Bryson did the electrical wiring in the new church, donating their services and skill free.

The building committee was composed of Mack Glover, William Tucker, Howard E. Bryson, Dr. Clifford McCain and G. W. Bartlett.

James Loven, contractor and builder, joined by Mrs. Loven, donated a cross above the pulpit. The Dietz family gave the windows in the east end of the sanctuary in memory of their father, who was an elder in the church.

A Time to Remember

I bowed my head reverently with the rest of my classmates during the "moment of silence" in tribute to our soldier-dead, then seeing Old Glory waving from the flag pole on the lawn of our Alma Mater, I stood tiptoe upon a dream and thought, "What a lucky girl you are to be born under that flag, for you can be what you will to be! You are an American."

Then a strange thing happened. The flag seemed to be a living thing with a soul. I heard the silent singing of its stars on its blue of truth, and listening, my soul caught this refrain:

"I am the symbol of America, and America is more than its hills and prairies with their herds and fields of grain; more than its pulsing cities, its mines and its mills . . . America is you and you and you . . . and God."

"I am the symbol of the homes, the churches, schools, enterprises, and the kindly commoners of America."

"I represent your heritage from the past. Look at me and hear the tramping of soldier-feet in the immortal march for freedom; feel within your hearts the 'Spirit of '76'; see the footprints in the snow at Valley Forge; the great, gaunt commoner on his knees in prayer, and the crimson stain, spreading, that meant life was ebbing from his great heart; see the crosses above our youth, martyrs to freedom in recent wars. Look again and behold lilies blooming where men gave life for man; listen and hear the joyous dancing footsteps of those yet unborn."

"Behold the Open Gate, before which stand weary pilgrims: children with eyes empty of laughter; youth burdened with the weight of dead dreams; the elder ones their eyes but burned out embers, their bone-lean hands caressing gaunt throats that too long have felt the choking leash of fear. See their eyes re-light with hope as they view the green acres of democracy and reverently enter the gate of America."

Suddenly I knew: The flag is an emblem of freedom, protection, justice, honor, sacrifice, opportunity to all and love for country, fellowman and God. It is the symbol, not only of our heritage from the past but of the future. I knew that it is up to me to help America continue to mean to coming generations what it means to me today; that every right has its concomitant duty, that I must train myself to be able to choose leaders wisely and judge their performance with honesty and understanding. I must fight oppression, intolerance, injustice and keep the land free of the footprints of communism. I must guard the rights of others as jealously as I do my own, and recognize in every man a brother.

Again I looked at the flag waving serenely beneath our peaceful country sky and reverently I breathed, "How much you stand for!" Was I dreaming or did I hear, "The earth a great DEMOCRACY OF LOVE!"

Alcorn Decides His Farming Problems Small Compared with World Problems

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on Sulphur, takes a look at the world situation this week, and quickly retreats. Can't say we blame him.

Dear Editor: Understand, I've got enough problems of my own out here on my Johnson grass farm to use up all the thinking power I have or ever will have, when a man's crops get in the shape mine are in, the world's problems ordinarily seem pretty little, but I never did believe in a man being selfish and devoting all his time to his own problems, so I have been doing some thinking lately on the world problem.

The way I see it, the world's crops are pretty grassy too, with a poor stand to start with, and there are some people who ain't sure a crop is gonna be made this year.

The trouble is, there's an outfit in Russia worse than all the insects a farmer was ever bothered with, and up to now hasn't anybody figured out the proper insecticide.

It goes like this: they break out say in Korea, and we spend two years trying to get em under control, and we finally do, at least we back em up to the fence and keep a guard posted, and then they break out in Indo-China, and the other day I read where there was indications they're gonna break out in Guatemala, down in South America, which is getting even closer to home, and they're spotted all through Europe and Asia.

It's sort of like fightin' gophers by sittin' by the hole waitin' for one to stick his head up. Even if he sticks his head up and you hit him, another one may come out at a hole a little further over, and down below they're still multiplyin' faster than you can get ready.

Ordinarily, you might say the thing to do is root out the headquarters, the source of supply, but these gophers ain't like the prairie kind, they got powers of retaliation to such an extent these might be some question of who was rottin' out who. While maybe we could handle em in the long run, we'd sure suffer a lot in the process.

What to do with them Russians, with their unlimited slave labor produc'n bombs and airplanes for three sorry meals a day, is more than I can figure out, and the more I read the newspapers the more I discover I ain't by myself.

Personally, I'm glad I'm in the farm business instead of the statesmanship business. Mine's a snap. Yours faithfully, A. A.

April Sales Top Those in March

Austin.—April retail sales in Texas were 2 per cent higher than March but 5 per cent below April, 1953, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Eight of 12 Texas crop reporting districts topped March sales, with Trans-Pecos (27 per cent) and Southern High Plains (13 per cent) in the lead. Three districts bettered April, 1953: Trans-Pecos (8 per cent), Black and Grand Prairies (6 per cent), and Edwards Plateau (2 per cent).

Sales in various types of apparel stores rose from 11 to 42 per cent, jewelry stores, 26 per cent; florists, 31 per cent; department stores, 12 per cent; farm implement and hardware dealers, 6 per cent. Sales drops were recorded by office, store and school supply dealers (6 per cent), motor vehicle dealers (4 per cent) and drug stores (3 per cent).

Baseball Game Is Bang-Up Affair

Anadarko, Okla.—Podna when you play baseball, unstrap that six-shooter and put away the ammunition.

Ten-year-old Billy Law forgot that rule of the Old West and he went into a baseball game with his Roy Rogers cap pistol still dangling from his side. In his hip pocket were seven extra rolls of caps.

During the game, Billy tried to make it for home and was forced to slide. The friction set fire to the ammunition in his jeans and the game blew up.

The caps burned a hole right through Billy's jeans and to his skin before his younger brother, Ronnie, threw dirt on the flames to put them out.

The umpire never did decide whether the cowboy was safe at home.

Some County Tax Rates Higher

Texas Tax Journal has published comparative tax rates of all Texas counties for the years 1952-53. In this area these tax rates are:

	1952	1953
Bowie	.58	.60
Delta	1.80	1.80
Franklin	1.25	1.25
Hopkins	1.55	1.75
Lamar	1.30	1.30
Morris	.95	.95
Red River	.95	.95
Titus	1.37	1.43
Upshur	1.15	1.15

It would appear that Bowie, Hopkins and Titus have increased the county tax rate, while Delta, Franklin, Lamar, Morris, Red River and Upshur remain the same.

It was noted that over Texas in 1953, 52 counties increased their rates over 1952, while 48 counties decreased them for the same period. One hundred fifty-two counties retained the same rate for both years, with two counties not reporting for 1952.

HE MISUNDERSTOOD

Speaker: "Is there a man in this house who would let his wife be slandered and say nothing? If so please stand up."

A meek little man stood up.

Speaker: "Do you honestly mean that you would let your wife be slandered and do nothing about it?"

Little man (sitting down): "Pardon me. I thought you said 'slandered.'"

A. Watts and children to Kingsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward and son, Sammy Joe of Bogata, visited Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Vaughan.

Committee Votes Postal Raises

WASHINGTON.—The House post office committee has voted 14 to 10 to grant postal employees a temporary 7 per cent pay raise.

It put off action, however, on legislation to raise the pay of all government workers.

The postal raises, ranging from a minimum of $240 to a maximum of $480 annually except for hourly or part-time workers, would end Oct. 1, 1955.

In the meantime, a joint committee on postal field service classification will report its recommendations to Congress.

Part-time and hourly workers in the postal service would receive a raise of 10c an hour under the committee's proposal. Postmasters in fourth-class post offices would get a flat 7 per cent boost.

BAD TIME

Two housewives, while waiting their turn at the grocer's, were overheard discussing the last depression.

"It came at such a bad time," said one. "Just when everybody was out of work."

Texarkana Fights to Save Mail Terminal

Texarkana.—The fight to save the Texarkana mail terminal, threatened with transfer from this border city, went on Friday as chamber of commerce officials sought to arrange a conference with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

A delegation will go to Washington next week to talk to the high ranking official if arrangements for a conference can be made.

The terminal, which employs around 400 workers, may be transferred to another city in an economy move.
