

Orticos Says Cubans Can Break Base Lease

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ HAVANA (AP) Cuban President Osvaldo Orticos, in a sharp reply to President Eisenhower, implied Tuesday night that the U.S. lease on the naval base at Guantanamo can be abrogated by the Cuban people without U.S. consent.

President Eisenhower, in a statement Tuesday, said the United States would "take whatever steps may be appropriate" to defend the base. He said the U.S. lease could be terminated or changed only by mutual agreement of the United States and Cuba.

Dorticos, in a speech to presidential palace employees, said Eisenhower's statement was designed "to justify armed aggression against our country" and supported the claims of Cuba's "revolutionary regime that Washington is planning a fake incident for military action."

The Cuban president said Eisenhower's statement made it appear that "to make a decision respecting the territory of Cuba, an agreement with a foreign power is necessary."

"While the position of the government of the United States with respect to the naval base at Guantanamo has, I believe, been made very clear, I would like to reiterate it briefly."

"Our rights in Guantanamo are based on internal agreements with Cuba, and include the exercise by the United States of complete jurisdiction and control over the area. These agreements with Cuba can be modified or abrogated only by agreement between the two parties, that is, the United States and Cuba. Our government has no intention of agreeing to the modification or abrogation of these agreements and will take whatever steps may be appropriate to defend the base."

"The people of the United States, and all of the peoples of the world, can be assured that the United States presence in Guantanamo and use of the base pose no threat whatever to the sovereignty of Cuba, to the peace and security of its people or to the independence of any of the American countries. Because of its importance to the defense of the entire hemisphere, particularly in the light of the intimate relations which now exist between the present government of Cuba and the Sino-Soviet bloc, it is essential that our position in Guantanamo be clearly understood."

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, and other U.S. leaders earlier had made it clear that Prime Minister Fidel Castro would be in for trouble if he tried to take Guantanamo. U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told the U.N. General Assembly in New York Tuesday that Cuban and Communist bloc charges of U.S. aggression against Cuba were "monstrous distortions and downright falsehoods." But he said the United States would welcome debate on the allegations.

Cubans continued to be fed a diet of rumors of invasion threats and stories of defense preparations. Press reports from Oriente province said Prime Minister Fidel Castro's forces were reinforcing shore defenses with artillery, Guantanamo is in Oriente.

Eisenhower Plunges Into Nixon Campaign

By JACK BELL

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that Vice President Nixon and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, offer the nation "the finest type of leadership that is available to the nation."

Eisenhower joined campaign forces with Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, at a wind-blown rally at the big Roosevelt Field Shopping Center in suburban Long Island.

The President and the man who hopes to become his successor met at the field after helicopter flights.

Eisenhower flew there from Idlewild Airport and Nixon from Brooklyn, where he spoke at a breakfast rally.

Opening a side by side campaign which will take the President and vice president to a series of New York City rallies and a parade to Herald Square, Eisenhower gave Nixon and Lodge a ringing endorsement in their battle against the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy, and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

On seven points, Eisenhower said Nixon and Lodge stand out above their Democratic opponents.

The President said he compares the two political trends on these points:

- 1. Character, 2. Moral courage, 3. Capacity, 4. Readiness to undertake disagreeable tasks, 5. Experience, 6. Ability to make decisions, and 7. Devotion and dedication to the United States.

Standing bareheaded in bright morning sunshine, the President expressed his concern over the issues involved in the presidential election.

Eisenhower, wearing a brown business suit, wore no topcoat despite the stiff breeze that was blowing.

The President said he wanted to give his full endorsement to the Nixon-Lodge ticket. With emphasis in his voice, Eisenhower said solemnly and slowly.

finest type of leadership today that is available to the nation."

The President went on to say that the two nominees "can do better than anyone else toward keeping the peace . . . and toward lifting from the backs of mankind the burden of disarmament."

Then in a thrust of Kennedy leadership the President added: "No glittering promises, no glib oratory will give you this kind of leadership."

Eisenhower said that "for eight years I've worked with Nixon and Lodge, and they've shown the utmost enthusiasm—never a complaint or excuse—no matter how difficult the task they've done it effectively."

There was a tremendous cheer after that remark.

He emphasized that his concern for the United States will be just as great after he leaves office as when he was a second lieutenant and when he became president. The crowd, estimated by police at 50,000 persons, gathered in the sunshine to hear the kickoff of a drive aimed at giving Nixon New York's vital 45 electoral votes.

Nixon told a wildly cheering crowd of 2,200 at a Brooklyn breakfast rally that in the past 10 days his campaign has "moved all over America."

He said the crowds that have greeted his whistle-stopping campaign over the nation have been the most enthusiastic he has ever seen.

"As I see it, this tide is rolling in the heartland of America. If we keep it rolling, and we're going up as they run down. We will have the greatest victory in the matter of electoral votes in the history of America," he said.

"And this is what we're going to do," the vice president emphasized.

THREESOME IN TIE FOR CONTEST MONEY

Three winners have slipped through to tie for the contest money in the weekly Daily News Football Contest money, and each will be granted a one-third share of the $12,500 first and second greenery as is offered each week.

On top of the heap with six misses each are John Ann Cotton, 3774 Dalton; Ronald Z. Bratton, 802 27th Street; and Mrs. Jack Hill, Route 1.

In an upset-riddled weekend of grid warfare, that trio missed collectively on three games, two of which were tie affairs. Those included the 20-20 Breckenridge-Weatherford "go" and the 6-6 Mississippi-LSU deadlock. The other which all failed to hit was Lake View's surprise upset of a heavily favored Lamesa team, 8-6.

A total of seven contestants missed the boat on seven occasions to finish close but out of the money. They were: Lloyd Rinker, C. M. Word, Wanda Morelli, G. I. Jones, Kathy Williams, Paul McBeth, and Samuel S. Gonzalez.

A new contest may be found elsewhere in today's edition.

Foreclosure Forbidden On Personal Cars

AUSTIN (AP) — The attorney general said today that personal automobiles cannot be seized for non-payment of property taxes.

The state Constitution protects foreclosure on personal cars under the homestead provisions, said an opinion written by James R. Itron, assistant attorney general.

The opinion was returned in answer to a request from Hutchinson County Attorney Cecil M. Fretz of Borger. Fretz said in a letter that the collection of delinquent ad valorem taxes levied upon automobiles has become an issue of concern both to the citizens of this community and to the taxing units involved.

He noted that the Borger Independent School District has obtained judgments against automobiles for non-payment of taxes and "many of the citizens no longer own the automobiles upon which the tax was levied."

Itron's opinion pointed out that the state Constitution and state homestead laws provide protection against forced sale of "one carriage or buggy." He said "carriage" has been legally defined to include an automobile.

School Bill High On Kennedy List

By GEOFFREY GOULD
LOS ANGELES AP — Sen. John F. Kennedy today pledged that next year a Democratic congress and president "will enact a bill to raise teachers' salaries."

The presidential candidate also said, "One of the first items on the Democratic agenda in 1961 is the passage of an adequate bill for school construction."

He outlined these promises and others in the education field in a talk prepared for a "key to victory" breakfast before heading south to San Diego and then north to San Jose and San Francisco.

Kennedy's campaign explodes into a frenzied climax this week after his San Francisco appearance, he will fly to Phoenix, Ariz. Between noon and election night, he'll touch 16 states. A stop at Detroit, Mich., on Friday had to be dropped because it just couldn't be fitted into the tight schedule.

A new and mocking note toward Vice President Richard M. Nixon again entered Kennedy's tone Tuesday, a kaleidoscope day that brought him here from the East Coast for a marathon, downtown motorcade at noon.

The reception was hot, and so was one of the escorting police motorcycles. It burst into roaring flames and set afire the carpet of ticker tape in the street. No one was hurt.

As he did the day before, Ken-neddy taunted Nixon for bringing President Eisenhower into the campaign in the closing days before the election next Tuesday.

At a rally at the Douglas Aircraft plant in Long Beach, Kennedy said, "Yesterday I understand Mr. Nixon spent two hours and a half in the White House asking the President to go with him to Pittsburgh and Cleveland."

"Mr. Eisenhower is not a candidate. Mr. Nixon is. And if he can't stand up to the American people, if he won't come and meet me in a fifth debate, how is he going to stand up to Mr. Khrushchev?"

Actually, the President will not be accompanied by Nixon at Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Kennedy again sought to point up the divergence of views among some Republican leaders by saying, "Mr. Nixon takes a ride through New York City tomorrow. He has with him Gov. Rockefeller, Henry Cabot Lodge, President Eisenhower. Where is Barry Goldwater? I think it is only fair that they all get in the car and ride down Broadway."

Homecoming for Ira Public Schools has been set for Friday with the football hero and sweet heart to be crowned at the half-time activities during the Ira-Highland football game.

Ira has a big homecoming every two years with homecoming on a smaller scale in the off years. This year is the off year, but the school urges all exes to come to the game which starts at 7:30 p. m. to see the annual crowning of the Ira favorites.

Cuba Loses Fight For U. N. Debate

By TM HOGGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Cuba and her Communist supporters lost their fight Tuesday night for an immediate U.N. Assembly airing of charges the United States plans an invasion of Cuban soil. By the vote was closer than many expected.

The 99-nation assembly voted 45-29 against the Cuban-Soviet attempt to upset the steering committee's recommendation that the Cuban complaint be sent first to the assembly political committee. Eighteen nations abstained.

The assembly then voted 53-11 with 27 abstentions to follow the steering committee's recommendation.

The balloting came after two days of bitter attacks by Cuba and the entire Soviet bloc, who accused the United States of aggression, subversion, invasion plans and all-around sinister intent.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said he would reply in full when the political committee debates the charges. He termed the charges "monstrous injustices" and "downright falsehoods."

Cuba's bid for an assembly debate got expected support from the Soviet bloc and Yugoslavia. But to the surprise of many, 18 Asian and African nations rallied behind her demand. They were India, Indonesia, Iraq, Yemen, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Republic, Libya, Nepal, Ceylon, Burma, Cambodia, Ethiopia, Ghana, Guinea, Nepal, Morocco, Mali and Afghanistan.

Other Asian and African nations, and a scattering of Latin Americans were among those abstaining.

Wadsworth said the United States wants a complete airing of Cuba's charges. He predicted the debate would show up Cuba and her Soviet bloc backers but insisted the political committee was the proper spot for calm discussion.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa lashed back that the United States was unworthy of U.N. membership and was violating the principles of the U.N. charter by trying to block discussion.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin also accused the United States of seeking to delay discussion "which would expose its aims." He charged that the United States sought to gain time "to carry out measures planned by the Pentagon to prepare and commit direct armed intervention in Cuba."

KEEP THE VOICE OF TEXAS STRONG

Texas' dominant position in the Democratic Party has been a major factor in the amazing growth and prosperity of our State during the past 50 years.

Count our blessings that have come because TEXANS were in the RIGHT party at the RIGHT time.

Count the jobs . . . educational opportunities . . . military installations . . . defense projects . . . water and soil projects . . . rural electricity and telephone systems. Count our ultimate potentials for development.

Now the Democratic Party has selected a TEXAN for one of the two top offices our Nation has to offer. As Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson will be in a position to render the greatest service any Texan has ever been able to give his State, his Party, his Nation.

Our Nation needs the dynamic leadership of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. And Texas needs to be counted in the Democratic column November 8 to keep its voice STRONG in the party that has honored its sons and nurtured its growth. Texas has no such stake in any other party or any other candidate.

Texas' future — and America's — lies in your response November 8.

Dryer Variables

Drying time in clothes dryers depends on three factors: the amount of water left in the clothes by the washer, the heat setting you select and the type of clothes in the load. Different fabrics and weaves require different drying times. Small loads dry faster than large loads. Light weight cottons, silks, nylon and rayon crepes dry in the minimum time.

Repair Time On Hand

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

HOLIDAYS are just around the corner. It's the time when wives become edgy because husbands aren't buckling down to all the home repairs needed before the social season begins. Wife can sometimes get him to the task, but the problem is: "will he finish it?" The tensions created by this strain are enough to spoil the holiday festivities for the entire family.

If the project is big, don't heckle him into it now. A wall job, for instance, many women tolerate a badly cracked wall or one full of gouges and holes, and then suddenly expect the man to do the repairs over night, when they decide they can't live with it any longer.

It is better to postpone a wall job. A man may just decide that he'll take the wall out completely, perhaps even isolate it, before putting up plaster board or plastering it, and there you are. You can't be sure that it'll be finished in time.

A good idea is to cover up the wall during the holidays if you can't get it repaired in time, or if your husband has started a job that is not going to be finished. Felt, burlap, sailcloth or any other colorful inexpensive material will do the job very successfully. If the wall is in the living part of the house, use it to display your greeting cards, photographs or the child's school efforts. The material may be used later for a number of purposes — slipcover, draperies, tablecloths.

If the walls are scarred and patched and holes aren't too deep, a textured paint could be your solution. This is a job the lady of the house can do. Quality texture paint has a heavy consistency that fills small holes and compensates surface irregularities. It produces a rough plaster-like finish that blends handsomely with any style decor as it is available in a wide array of decorator colors. There is a ready mixed texture paint, and also texture powders which can be added to certain paints to produce the same plaster-like finish. If powder is used, the paint dealer should be consulted as it must be mixed with the proper primer.

After the wall surface is dusted and grease smudges removed with soap and water, apply the paint with a brush. While the wall is still wet, create a pattern by going over the paint with a sponge, whisk broom, comb, or any other object to produce a design. There are rollers available that can be used to provide the pattern, if you prefer.

This paint can be used on one wall without detracting from the room's appearance, but it is not meant for woodwork or trim. Paint the trim the same color if possible in a semi-gloss or flat paint. If the room is very large a darker hue of the same color may be used.

Because of the decorative aspects of texture paint it has special appeal for women. But it is a good idea to make sure that you have a quality paint before you start.

Space Age

Developments in outer space are big news these days. But, inner space is important, too. Many of the new appliances have been designed to occupy less space in a home. Heating systems, for instance, take less than half the space and do a more efficient job than the sprawling furnaces of yesterday. The same system could be used for air conditioning, too. A complete laundry appliance that washes and dries clothes and takes less than 27 inches of wall space, is now on the market. Like most of the new appliances it, too, minds its own business through the use of automatic controls.

Through A Window

The window of your clothes dryer might be compared with a barometer. You can train your eye to observe certain signals such as the amount of steam on the glass. When the steam disappears, your clothes are dry. You can also tell something about the appearance of the tumbling clothes. They will float lightly when they have lost the weight of moisture.

THE FRENZIED ALCHEMIST

Pat Nixon Drops 'Brittle' Look During Informal Chat

By ED KOTERBA
WASHINGTON — The "other" Pat Nixon — the woman who chatted informally on a train trip — is a world away from the Pat Nixon who is official second lady of our land.

It caught me by surprise, this visit that lasted 15 minutes in the lounge car of the Nixon "Victory Special." She sat across the aisle, her ankles crossed, resting her elbow casually on the table, and her enthusiasm and her vivacity came naturally.

There was vibrancy of youth in this "other" Pat Nixon. Hours later, when I saw her sitting on a speaker's platform, the brittleness and the professional "locked" smile of the official Pat Nixon quickly returned.

In the midnight train conversation it wasn't an interview since this was a gay two-way banter—Mrs. Nixon talked mostly of her two daughters.

She had phoned them from the train shortly after leaving home and learned the kids had been watching television, listening to some bitter political opponents of their dad's.

When the Nixons are home, this kind of eavesdropping is taboo. The parents think the children are too young to be exposed to such rough talk about their father.

There was but once that Pat scowled as we talked. It was when the conversation got around to the fourth televised debate. "It was pretty rough, wasn't it?" I said, and she cried, "Oh, no!"

What I meant was it must have been rough on the ears of the prejudiced daughters, and she thought I was referring to husband Dick's performance.

It was apparent that the debacle of the first debate still lingered in her subconscious.

Pat chattered away about Julie and Tricia and their plans for Halloween. The Nixons brought home a pumpkin from Wisconsin, a gift from an admiring farmer.

Pat said she was going to help them cut out the face when she returned on Sunday. "No matter where we have campaigned," she said, "I always make it a point to return so I can spend Sunday with them." She has missed yet.

I guess it would be impossible for Pat Nixon to maintain this kind of refreshing informality before the masses. If she could, it would certainly gain more votes for her husband.

Mrs. Nixon spent almost an hour chatting her way through the press cars, and she wondered afterwards if it was in answer to earlier criticism that the Nixons were guilty of aloofness with the press.

The Vice-President himself strolled through the train greeting us with a real human touch.

If this kind of personality of the Nixons could have been projected

Jean Simmons Weds American Director

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — Jean Simmons, British screen actress, and Richard Brooks, the American director who coached her in the movie "Elmer Gantry," are honeymooning today in the Carmel area on the California coast. They were married here Tuesday.

The wedding at the Monterey County Courthouse was the second for each. Miss Simmons divorced actor Stewart Granger at Nogales, Ariz., last August and gained custody of their daughter, Tracy, 3 Brooks, formerly of Philadelphia, was once married to the former Harriet Levin.

Interest In Campaign Is Near Climax

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — It began with a yawn, and is winding up amid war whoops.

In just one week the 1960 presidential race will be over, and Pat Nixon or Jackie Kennedy can settle down to the serious problem of what to do about the White House draperies.

In just seven more days everybody will know, for sure who has been elected, and the many-faceted political battle that preceded it will be part of American folklore.

A lot of people feel they know the answer right now, but they really don't.

Polls can measure some things about people to a limited degree, but they are, after all, mere attempts at measurement and prediction.

They aren't the people themselves. It is their unpredictability that make both politics and people interesting.

"All the straw votes show is which way the hot air blows," observed O. Henry.

The only votes that really count are those in the nation's ballot boxes next Tuesday.

One of the great mysteries of the 1960 campaign is whatever happened to all the people who found it boring. Somehow they seem to have disappeared.

At the beginning of the race, an English newspaperman remarked: "I can't get interested in a controversy between two American mediocrities."

Somehow, however, that early atmosphere of wisecracking apathy and political indifference vanished.

Two factors probably influenced the change.

1. The performance of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba at the United Nations awaked a lot of complacent Americans to the potential perils of a future they had been taking for granted.

2. The series of four televised debates between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon further educated great masses to the vital importance of the presidential choice they must make next Tuesday.

Some said they found these intellectual clashes between the rival candidates flat, dull and uninspiring, but millions of other people obviously didn't.

These face-to-face and mind-to-mind television confrontations brought to the campaign the dramatic excitement it had lacked before. They brought the heat of the campaign into the national living room.

They made it a personal duel between two men.

Massive crowds now turn out to greet each candidate, and the electorate is wide-awake to the vital need of expressing its will in a dubious time. It knows thoroughly the men, the issues, the dangers ahead.

Arizona Senator Is Hospitalized

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., 83, was hospitalized Tuesday.

Doctors said tests showed nothing wrong with his heart, but further tests are to be made.

"We believe it is a case of acute indigestion," said Dr. J. S. Gonzales. "Sen. Hayden appears tired and worn out, probably from the strenuous campaign."

Herman, The Cat, Freed

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — The law stayed its hand and Herman the tomcat is on the town again.

Herman had been under a temporary Municipal Court order restraining him from the female felines of a neighbor's yard. This meant Herman was confined on leash to the company of a dog at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowler.

The owners of the cat, cat-cornered by the Bowlers, are Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Cook. They obtained the court order while suing the Bowlers for more than $1,000 damages they alleged Herman had done to their breeding stock.

The Cooks went to Superior Court Tuesday to get another restraining order to replace the expired Municipal Court order. But Judge Ralph Hoyt refused to grant it, ruling that no evidence had been adduced to show Herman was a menace.

Herman, out on the town for the first time in 10 days, slept most of Tuesday afternoon after his return home.

"He looked pretty tired when he came in," Mrs. Bowler told a reporter. "He's asleep now."

AND TORS LOOK TOUGH

'Not One Of Our Best'—Conley

"It definitely wasn't one of the best games we've played this year, even though we won," Tiger Coach John Conley told Quarterback Club members here last night. "And Colorado City has a much better team than they showed, too," he added.

"That number 20 quarterback, Jerry McKay, had to come out of the hospital to play, and when he went in there a touchdown pass right off the bat. It was as fine and well-executed a pass as I've seen. He's a good boy, without a doubt," he added.

On the subject of the play of Jesse Crawford, "I thought he looked better on offense than he ever has before, and he'll probably be playing him there quite a bit more and give him a chance to 'show his heels' some. He can run wide well and if he had a little more size and power 'up there' it would help." He went further in commending the Tiger linemen whose key blocks were instrumental in springing the fast-stepping Crawford on both his long touchdown runs.

What about Friday's game against Lamesa? "I wish they (Lamesa) had won last week instead of losing to Lake View like they did," he offered. "Now they're backed up in the corner and will be a lot tougher as a result. We'll have our hands full over there, you can be sure of that."

He capped off his comments on a physical note, stating that with the exception of center Reg Scarborough that the team is in the best physical shape of the year. Scarborough, a veteran senior performer, is plagued with an ankle injury which has kept him hobbled most of the week.

Dyer Improved
Spencer Dyer, a power in the Tiger defensive secondary who has been on the injured list much of the season, was described to be in "better" condition in answer to a query from a club member.

Coach J. P. Ward followed up Conley's remarks with a briefing on the Tornado offense which the Tigers will be sure to encounter Friday.

"Lamesa uses a wing-T formation, and an unbalanced line and split ends to the maximum," he stated. "They have good size and are a lot better ball club than they showed the other night."

"Conditions during the game were terrible, of course. Water was ankle-deep all over the field," he continued. "In fact, one time there in a pileup I thought a boy was going to get drowned; he gasped when he got up, anyway."

"Conditions were so bad that they (Lamesa) didn't look good at all. I kept thinking that anytime they would come back and go ahead and win, but those penalties in the second half kept them from mounting any kind of drive."

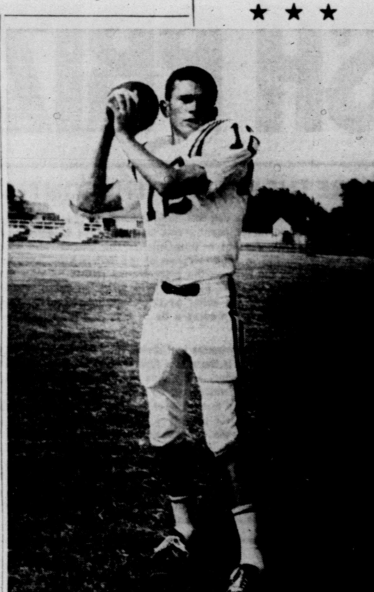

"I honestly think that if they played Lake View six more times," he theorized, "that they would beat them six times. Lamesa's got a better club than they showed Friday."

Westmoreland Discussed
He was questioned as to the capabilities of Tornado quarterback Gene Westmoreland, the reported sparkplug of the team.

"He's a pretty good quarterback," Ward spattered. "Likes to roll out and run a lot, especially when they get down near the goal line. He likes to score."

Coach Dutch Sibley briefed the club on the Tornado defensive set-up, itemizing that their defense is of a "standard" type, and "one which we've run into every week."

He also noted that only two player-switches are made on defense in variance to the offensive lineup, so that almost all of the Tors are capable of going "two ways."

SENIOR WHIZ—Jesse Crawford, fleet senior back who tips the scales at a slight 145 pounds, breathed new life into the Snyder Tiger offense Friday against Colorado City, scoring on an 85-yard kickoff return and also an 89-yard sprint from scrimmage. His performance bolted him into prominence as one of the leading scorers of the team, gained him the nod as leader in rushing coverage, and shot him into the kickoff and punt return lead for the team. 7 STRIDES OR 7 'DRUTHERS'?

Optimistic Mood Hits Hank Stram

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas-Texas has a one-game winning streak working and all is sunshine for coach Hank Stram.

"We have seven to play and I think we can win them all," he said today as the Texans got ready for their invasion of Buffalo where they will meet another upstart Sunday.

While Dallas was whipping Denver, the Western Division leader of the American Football League, 17-14 Sunday, Buffalo was downing Houston, the Eastern Division kingpin, 25-24.

A Special Message From An Oil Man To The Industry... The Plight Of The Oil Man Is Not Due To The Depletion Discussion

The plight of the oil producer and all allied industry is not the result of the current discussion over the 27 1/2% oil depletion allowance. It should be obvious to all voters, especially those in the oil business, that our industry is sick because we can not sell our oil. We are limited to eight days production out of the month. Our income has thus been drastically curtailed and held to this all-time low rate, month after month. There is only one explanation for this ruinous situation and that is because this Republican Administration has not seen proper to adequately reduce the importation of cheap foreign crude. We are not in our present sad condition because of something Jack Kennedy might do, but because of what the Republicans have already done.

We Must Have A Healthy Domestic Oil Industry...

As Chairman of the Governor's Import Study Commission, I had an opportunity to learn first hand something of this vital National problem. Our security as a Nation is dependent on an adequate reserve of domestic crude. We could not hope to fight a nuclear war with foreign oil, it simply would not be available to us. To supply oil to our Armed Forces in the quantity needed, we must have a progressive, healthy domestic oil industry. Does that condition prevail now? Surely, no one is naive enough to contend that our position is strong with independent and small producer companies closing their doors all over Abilene and Texas. We are kidding no one but ourselves when we make a great strawman out of the 27 1/2% depletion allowance in this campaign. The irony of this concept is that the very people some would have you support, the Republicans, have the legal authority today to curb oil imports. A Democratic Congress gave this statutory right to the President, and while he hesitates and fails to act, we continue on 8 day allowances, our industry deteriorates, our economy weakens, our rigs are stacked; our drilling crews are laid off; our supply and service companies suffer and some go out of business. Also, while our income diminishes, our overhead continues. What business can survive, much less be healthy and progressive—under such circumstances?

Talk To Your Friends & Neighbors...

If you have not become aware of what I am saying, just talk to any of your friends and neighbors. However, there are exceptions — some who made a lot of money, mostly under Democratic Administrations, are not hurt, and can possibly afford another Republican Administration, but it is another story for most of the Independent Oil Producers. So, do not be misled by all the loose talk about future depletion and legislative rights. Look at the real cause of our plight—the failure of the Republican Administration to use an existing law to stop the flood of cheap foreign oil that can, if not checked, all but destroy the independent oil producer in this Country. Should he be destroyed you endanger the existence of the Country as a Nation. This Country's economic life and head continues. What business can survive, much less be healthy and progressive, under such circumstances?

What Now From The Republicans?

Since the Republican Administration has finally become aware of the great disaster and damage done the oil producing business and the country as a whole, I would not be surprised for the Republicans, or even Mr. Nixon himself, in the closing day of the Campaign to make some tall promises regarding relief from excessive imports. Would this be in good faith since we have all but drowned in this cheap oil because of neglect and dereliction?

Mr. Oil Field Worker!
We do care about your job and we do care about the 21,200 employees in Texas that have lost their jobs in the last three years. As most of you know this is their figure. We doubt this figure to be half of it.
We are not nearly as interested in the cheap oil in the oil fields of the Middle East, Africa and South America of which their is enough known to run the world for the next 50 years.
WE DO FEEL... that the big oil companies owe their existence to the American people who have made them their billions.
WE THINK any sound thinking Snyder Businessman and banker knows that to break the independent oil operator will break the bulk of the business, will hinder our schools and hurt the state in general.
When you go behind the curtain in the voting booth just remember it isn't the iron curtain. We need your support and your vote Nov. 8.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

To lose is to be out of the race. That's the sum and substance of the whole thing as the Snyder Tigers prepare to take the field against Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes in Lamesa this Friday.

Both teams will of necessity have to bring along well-stocked survival kits, since a loss for either would represent the death knell as far as title aspirations are concerned, in that each has tasted defeat on one occasion. To implement a trite but applicable military phrase, it's time to "go for broke."

The not-so-lowly Lake View Chiefs proved themselves to be better "mudders" than were the Whirlwinds Friday, while the Tigers showed to be superior sloshers in outpointing Colorado City, 36-21. The Lake View win could be classed as one of the bigger upsets, while Snyder's victory came as no real surprise—only the ease with which it was performed is instead.

Reports filtering in from Colorado City place much of the blame for the lopsided loss (it wasn't actually as close as that 15-point difference would indicate) on a virus which hit several of the team members.

Lemme Have It; I Saw It First
THE FINAL TIGER TD later in the game was a real capper-offer. Gimme, gimme, gimme, 'till you lands the longest. A loose fumble, airborne, is fair game for whoever grabs it and runs with it, and constitutes a lineman's dream come true. The actors in our little game of "king of the mountain" were Mokey Hale, Bill "Tank" Weaver, and William Robinson. Each rein the period just prior to the game. Which no doubt hampered the Wolves' team effort considerably, but it is improbable that they could've whipped the Tigers under such circumstances, as the Bengal boys were not to be denied. They wanted the victory, and consequently got it.

The turning point in the game was without a doubt Jesse Crawford's explosive kickoff runback in the second quarter following C. City's startling 58-yard touchdown pass. It was the second rapid-fire shift in psychology, with the first being that unexpected pass play, coupled with the followup go-ahead extra point kick. The Tigers were "up" until then, had the wind taken out of their sails temporarily and then Crawford swung the pendulum back in the direction of the Black and Golders with his high-stepping performance.

Seconds later the Wolves killed their own chances by unsuccessfully trying for a pass completion after missing three in a row, giving the Tigers possession of the oval 28 yards away from paydirt with only a half-minute remaining in the half. Free Co-McMennamy, touchdown, first play. And that was it.

Tors To Be Tough
LAMESA? They'll be tough to handle, it is generally conceded. In that 8-6 loss to Lake View they outgained the Chiefs by a large margin, and had one touchdown called back by a penalty. In fact, the Tors had 109 yards charged against them in penalties during the watery battle, including six 15-yarders. That's enough to buffalo any team on a give night.

Their early season record is much more illustrious than that of the Tigers, but of special importance is the fact that the two wins as registered by Snyder have been over the last four-game span, which give the team impetus. The Tors, on the other hand, have had an early four-game winning streak obliterated by two consecutive losses, a 1-0 whitewashing at the hands of Phillips preceding the Lake View loss.

The Tigers are capable of bringing home a victory with an all-out effort, be it on a wet field or a dry one. And the way it looks now the field will be dry as yesterday's drumstick.

Kennedy Challenging Nixon In Home State

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy is seriously challenging Richard M. Nixon where it may hurt the most—right here in the vice president's home state.

Some signs—discussed by Republicans—indicate Kennedy may take California. There's a strong feeling that it's going to be close.

The polls haven't been much help. They have turned up enough of the undecided among 7 1/2 million registered voters to swing the result for either man.

No doubt that's why the candidates themselves reserved California for the important last days of the campaign.

Kennedy is here now in his second round of appearances. Nixon, who made two earlier visits, plans to devote this weekend to his native state.

The latest professional poll—this among 3,018 voters in 16 of the 38 counties—favored Nixon 49 to 47 per cent, with 6 per cent on the fence.

But Las Vegas bookmakers list Kennedy as a 7-5 favorite in California.

Democrats feel the scene was set in 1959 when Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Catholic, led a Democratic landslide that captured every state office but one.

This year the party staged a successful registration drive that gained 619,000 voters since the primary and boosted its 3-2 registration lead over the Republicans to 14 million. The GOP picked up 406,000 in the same period.

Democratic leaders say they're concerned only over the "silent vote"—those people who are quiet about it but intend to mark their ballot against a Catholic priest.

"If it weren't for the religious issue, there would be no doubt of the outcome," says Roger Kent, Democratic state chairman, who nevertheless predicts Kennedy will carry California by a comfortable margin.

Gov. Brown, a self-styled optimist, predicts the Democratic ticket will coast in by one million or so.

V. John Krehbiel, Republican state chairman, says he isn't worried by registration showing the GOP badly outnumbered. That's an old story here, and Californians have built a tradition of independent voting.

Krehbiel is convinced, he says, that Democrats will cross party lines, as they did for President Eisenhower, who carried California each time by more than 600,000.

Link Migraine To Curious Chemical

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A curable headache, chemical safety-first medicine cabinet, and familiar hydrogen peroxide figure in this week's focus on health.

Headache Agent
A medical team tells of finding a strange chemical involved in migraine-type headaches. This chemical, named neurokinin, apparently increases susceptibility to pain.

Neurokinin apparently is released when nerve cells are excited, and it has powerful ability to dilate blood vessels, say Dr. Harold G. Wolff and associates of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center in the Archives of Neurology. Neurokinin apparently is formed in human brain by a special enzyme, the researchers find.

"Flu Vaccine
With winter and flu threats approaching, experts are urging flu shots especially for anyone with heart or blood vessel diseases.

Medical evidence over the last three years has confirmed that risks from influenza are greater for patients with heart or lung ailments than for other persons, say Dr. A. Carlton Ernestine, president of the American Heart Assn., and Dr. James Watt, director of the National Heart Institute.

Safe Medicine Cabinet
A medicine cabinet which will open only when two particular buttons are pushed simultaneously has been developed by Dr.

John Chapman of the U.S. Public Health Service.

The idea is to make it impossible for children to open the cabinet and accidentally swallow dangerous drugs. The cabinet, now being considered for manufacture, has five buttons, but opens only when the second and fourth buttons are pressed, and these buttons are spaced too far apart for a child's hand to span. Drug poisoning killed more than 400 children in 1958, comments Scope Weekly.

New Job
Hydrogen peroxide, an old medical standby, seems destined for revival as a germ killer in ointment form, says Dr. Herbert M. Cobe and Emanuel Plouis of Temple University.

The ointment cleanses wounds, and also appears effective against bacteria and other strains of staphylococci, which are responsible for many serious infections.

Taking Those Shots
Let a child see himself being injected with a medical needle. If he wants to look, advises Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, New York State Commissioner of Health.

If a child is told not to look, you implant the idea that a needle is something to fear, and an injection is too terrifying to be seen. Don't tell a child not to cry; tears are often his best friend at such moments. Above all, tell the truth. You'll lose face if you tell a child a needle will not hurt when obviously it will.

Couple To Vote In Different Boxes
CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Snow will vote for the same presidential candidate next Tuesday, but they'll have to go separate polling places.

The line that divides the 1st and 2nd wards runs through their home—and between their bedrooms.

Their favorite candidate is a secret.

QUESTION: What does the term "dark horse" mean in politics?

ANSWER: In a horse race, some unknown entry often turns the favorite. It is known as a "dark horse" because of its original obscurity in politics, there sometimes is a similar situation. At the great conventions to pick presidential candidates, there are always several men who are prominent and active candidates. But unexpectedly, someone who dramatically brings attention to himself in a special way, may be the chosen one. He is the "dark horse"—the one everyone missed until the crucial moment. This also happens in contests for state governor and senator and is usually an expression attached to high office, although it can also be applied to any contest in which an unexpected person is victor.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up the histories of recent Presidential elections and see if you can learn which winners were considered dark horses.

USING "HORSE SENSE"—Patsy Jayne Thomas, 14, an eighth grade student in Travis Junior High, has a special reason underlying her desire to make good grades, and she is shown atop that reason. An avid horse lover, she has been granted the privilege of riding the above quarterhorse by Jim Weathers, a friend of the family, so long as her grades in school remain high. Patsy, the daughter of Mrs. Hazel Thomas of 2206 Avenue S, has already ridden the horse in several rodeos and parades, not only in Snyder but also in Rotan, Roby, and Big Spring. A 95 average or better throughout the school year and the horse will be hers as a gift.

Manhunt Ends As Ex-Convict Surrenders On Laredo Ranch

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Curtis Lee Jones, 38-year-old Arkansas ex-convict accused of murder, rape and kidnaping, surrendered without a struggle Tuesday after the stolen horse on which he was attempting to escape stumbled and fell.

Jones, object of an intensive week-long manhunt, was captured on the Callahan Ranch, 20 miles north of Laredo.

He threw up his hands after a posse fired a shotgun blast over his head. He later told newsmen he had lost his loaded .22 caliber pistol when thrown from the horse.

The shotgun blast was fired by State Highway Patrolman Jack Carpenter, one of the four officers summoned to the ranch after being notified that Jones had forced a woman living on the ranch to feed him.

"I was coming in to give myself up," Jones later told a newsmen. "I thought they were going to kill me. If he (Carpenter) hadn't shot at me I would have surrendered anyhow."

The capture ended a giant manhunt started six days ago after he kidnaped his 21-year-old cousin and her male companion in Fort Worth, tried to strangle the man with a rope and raped the young woman, and then kidnaped an expectant mother and her baby daughter from a rural home west of Fort Worth.

The young mother and child were freed unharmed in San Antonio nine hours later and Jones disappeared on foot.

The manhunt switched to Laredo Monday when Jones abducted a woman tavern owner and one of her employes in San Antonio, drove southward toward the Mexican border and freed the pair outside Laredo.

Jones told his captors he hid in an all-white car taken from the San Antonio woman, Mrs. Rosalinda Sosa, 30, in a clump of brush on the big Callahan Ranch.

John Arndt, ranch manager, told officers Jones turned up at one of the houses on the ranch about 2 p.m. Tuesday, waved a pistol and ordered the housewife to feed him.

After he ate, the housewife asked Jones to let her go and, to her surprise, he did. She hurried 8 miles to the main ranch house and Arndt notified the Highway Patrol.

When the officers arrived, Jones dashed to a horse he had left saddled and tried to escape across a pasture. The horse stumbled, throwing Jones to the ground, but he bounced up running.

Then Carpenter, after shouting for him to halt, cut loose with a shotgun blast. Jones hesitated, whirled around and raised his hands in the air.

The four officers quickly handcuffed and chained their prisoner and brought him to Laredo.

He was dressed in a red-striped Western style shirt and olive green pants.

FBI agents joined sheriff's officers and state patrolmen in questioning the prisoner.

"I ain't done nothing to hurt anybody," Jones told reporter Ramon Garces of the Laredo Times. Jones said that after he freed Mrs. Sosa and Carlos Guardarramas, the pair kidnaped in San Antonio, he drove down a side road outside Laredo Tuesday.

He said he hid Mrs. Sosa's white car under some brush and spent the day in the car. Once he heard a radio broadcast by Sheriff Portirio Flores of Laredo urging him to surrender.

Leaving the car, he walked about 15 miles north to the home of Mrs. Cristobal Armendariz on the Callahan Ranch.

Mrs. Armendariz, whose husband works as a fence rider on the ranch, said Jones demanded food. He later said the bowl of beans she served him was all he had eaten since Monday morning.

Blast During Surgery Proves Fatal To Man

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Reuben J. Lee, 66, a Lewiston businessman, died at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday about an hour after a machine used to administer anesthetic exploded while he was undergoing abdominal surgery.

His doctor said death resulted from lung damage caused by the explosion and a heart condition of the patient.

Baptists Seek $28 Million For College Construction

By DAVE CHEAVENS
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Baptists today were asked to raise $28 million in four years to meet urgent building needs for eight established colleges and two proposed schools.

This was one of the recommendations by the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas awaiting final action at the last day of its convention.

The executive board Tuesday also approved a report urging Baptists to examine the position on separation of church and state of every candidate for public office at every level of American life in the light of his statements, sincerity and stamina.

This recommendation came from the Christian Life Commission and likewise was subject to final approval by the convention today.

Dr. Jimmy Allen Chairman of the Commission, told newsmen the admonition to Baptists does not apply any more to presidential candidate John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, than it does to Richard Nixon, a Quaker.

He said it applied to all candidates and it was designed in part to correct what he called the "distorted image" that Baptists are primarily anti-Catholic. He noted that Southern Baptists started in 1959 a complete self-examination of their own church-state relationships.

for proposed Dallas and Houston Baptist Colleges, $4 million.

The report of the convention's Human Welfare Commission, headed by Dr. James Basden, suggested that Baptists must "stir the public conscience" in this field as well as care for their own people. It declared:

"They must serve as the conscience of the community on problems of human welfare. They must disturb civic complacency in these areas of human need—they must be a continuous irritant to those who do not wish to be disturbed about the needs of dependent, neglected children, sick and ailing humanity, and needy elderly people."

The convention Tuesday night honored Thomas E. Turner, a Methodist, with the 1960 Texas Baptist Press Award.

It goes each year to the individual deemed to have made the most outstanding contribution of the year to Christianity through journalism. Turner is chief of the Central Texas Bureau of the Dallas Morning News.

Previous award winners, all Baptists, were the late Cullum Greene of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, Jim Lindsey of the Midland Reporter Telegram, A. F. (Tex) Kiersey of the Amarillo News and Globe-Times, William A. Latham of the El Paso Times, Ellie Hopkins of the Longview News Journal and J. Q. Mahafey of the Texarkana Gazette.

PERFECT ▲ BALANCE

Rear axle drive and transmission are combined (a trans-axle). Flexible shaft from front engine delivers smooth, quiet power. Perfect 50-50 balance gives a flat, level ride that no other new-size car can touch. Rides like the big ones! An equal load on every wheel. Steering is light and easy! Better braking and improved traction in snow, sand or mud! Independent suspension at all wheels. Swing axles keep Tempest on an even keel over bumps, ruts, dips and holes! 112" wheelbase. Long enough for a cradled ride—short enough to handle like a sports car. Big 15" wheels. Good road clearance. Long tire life. (13" compact tires turn at least 4900 more times to go 100 miles.) Seats six men. The big transmission hump is gone. The middle man can stretch out size 12 brogans! Wide-Track, too! The track is up to 3 inches wider than most compacts. Less lean. Less sway. Better cornering. Pontiac dealers have it—and they have it now! A four-door sedan... a station wagon... a full line-up of accessories. Try the Tempest out for an hour—you'll want in for keeps! It's priced with the compacts!
