Prince Lauded By Barbara's Father

SOUTHAMPTON Eng., June 1. (AP)—"Prince Mdivani is a square shooter and a great fellow," said Franklyn L. Hutton today as he arrived on the Bremen to go to his daughter, Princess Barbara Hutton Mdivani, who is in London.

That was Hutton's answer to queries as to whether there was discord between his daughter, ten-cent-store heiress and her husband.

Prince Alexis Mdivani met Hutton when the Bremen docked, informed him of the state of the princess' health, and pleaded with her father not to take her back to the United States. Hutton replied: "We must wait until we get to London. Barbara is ill. We must see what she says." Mrs. Hutton accompanied her husband and Mdivani to London.

SHOWERS FORECAST TO CHEER FARMERS IN STRICKEN AREA

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, June 1—Middle-western farmers ripped another sheet off the calendar today and hoped that June would bring an end to a drouth described by the weather bureau as "unprecedented."

Their hopes were buoyed somewhat by forecasts of probable thunder showers, cooler weather and unsettled conditions in the Mississippi valley. The showers, however, were not expected to bring anything but slight relief from high temperatures which supplied an anti-climax yesterday to a month of dust storms and extreme aridity.

103 Degrees Common

Temperatures of 103 degrees were common in Kansas and Missouri yesterday while their northern neighbors sweltered under the full blast of the heat wave.

Inwood, Ia., topped the day's record with 111 degrees and Aberdeen, N. D., was not far behind with 110. At Freeport, Ill., the mercury shot up to 106, and at Minneapolis to 106.3. Schools at those two cities and at Des Moines and Keokuk, Ia., were dismissed. The Illinois Bar association in session at Waukegan suspended activities to permit delegates to seek relief.

FLEET STEAMS INTO HARBOR

NAVY IS ANCHORED AT NEW YORK FOR STAY OF EIGHTEEN DAYS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 1—Steaming into New York harbor behind the flagship of its smiling commander-in-chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt, the navy was anchored today for an 18-day stay.

The fleet was in for the first time since 1930, bringing 35,000 bluejackets, their spirits high in anticipation of their long holiday amid the bright lights of Manhattan and their pockets jingling at least $1,000,000 for spending. Wednesday was their payday.

The nation's mighty men-o'-war, on dress parade, swung into the harbor last night after passing in proud review before President Roosevelt. Cheering crowds jammed the waterfront and all available points of vantage to see the big grey fleet come in.

The colorful sea show, delayed two hours by fog, took place just outside the bay, hidden by a thick haze from the sight of landlubbers. The immense throngs waited patiently, however, and sent up a tremendous cheer when the president's ship, the cruiser Indianapolis, steamed into view.

With guns booming and bands playing, the battle fleet—86 ships in all—passed majestically before the sea-loving president as he stood in the communication deck of the Indianapolis, anchored a mile off Ambrose lightship.

Appearing as happy as a schoolboy on a holiday, the president sent the following message to each ship after the nautical dress parade:

"The president congratulates the commander-in-chief, the officers and men of the fleet on the excellence of the review and wishes them good luck."

PANHANDLE NOT TO SELL CATTLE

AMARILLO, June 1 (AP)—Panhandle cattlemen, indignant over the low prices offered by the government, will refuse to participate in the emergency cattle purchasing program which was scheduled to begin in this area today, said Jay Taylor, president of the Panhandle Livestock Raisers' association.

"It is a detriment and a menace to the cattle industry," Taylor said. "We have borrowed more money on our cows than the government offers to pay. It will have a tendency therefore to lower the loan structure all over the country. If this campaign was intended to aid the cattle business, it will act as a boomerang.

"The prices offered may be enough for a few scrub cattle that are starving to death on drouth-stricken farms, but no cattleman who has spent 40 years improving his herds can afford to sell at such degrading prices.

"The government establishes a top of $14, plus $6 bonus for participating in the campaign. If we sold at that price we would be forced to quit the cow business."

"I think Harry Hopkins (emergency relief administrator) has slipped us another curve."

Youth Indicted In Dairyman's Slaying

MEXIA, June 1 (AP)—A week-end investigation of the mysterious slaying of John L. Adams, 50-year-old Groesbeck dairyman, culminated today in the indictment of Fred Herring, 19-year-old farm laborer, one of three men held for questioning.

The other two men were still held in jail for further investigation.

Herring reported finding the body of Adams in a stock tank in the south part of Groesbeck three days after he disappeared at night while walking across the street to mail a letter.

THIRTEEN ARE CHARGED AT LONGVIEW

SON OF LON SMITH IS AMONG MEN ARRESTED FOR "CONSPIRACY"

(By The Associated Press)

LONGVIEW, June 1—F. A. Smith, designated by A. B. Cross, head of the violation department of the East Texas department of the Texas railroad commission, as a son of Lon Smith, member of the commission, was among 13 men under charges of conspiracy to steal oil here today.

"I knew that F. A. Smith was the son of Lon Smith, member of the railroad commission, when we went to arrest him," Cross said.

Cross has no authority to make arrests himself but accompanied the officers who apprehended the men.

Probe Only "Beginning"

R. D. Parker, chief of proration enforcement for the area, said Cross believed the investigation was only "beginning."

Cross began one week ago to investigate reports which came to the commission that oil was being taken from two wells close to Gladewater.

Cross listed those charged as follows: F. A. Smith, Harry Goldman, B. C. Carr, Abie Custer, Clyde White, Dick Wells, Cecil Ashworth, Dudley Rutledge, Sidney Pope, H. A. Fleishman, C. W. Severence, Bill Anderson and Whitey Rutledge. He said all had been released on bond except Dudley Rutledge, Wells, Ashworth and Carr.

Cross said the cases would be presented to the Gregg county grand jury in a short time. The accusations were listed as felony charges.

A lengthy statement given the district attorney's office here by one of the alleged conspirators told of approaching a man connected with the lease and telling him, "or half promising" him, $100 per night in connection with the alleged plot to take crude from the lease. The man was to "visit" Longview, he stated, and while absent "hot" connections were to be made.

Oil was diverted into water lines,

FDR PLANS MOVE TO AVERT STRIKE

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was reported today to be planning a move next to avert a general strike in the giant steel industry, tentatively set for June 16.

This prospect developed as NRA, by earnest across-the-table talk, sought to prevent a tieup in cotton textiles. A general strike in this industry has been called for Monday, with union leaders predicting that over 300,000 would walk out.

The White House action in the steel dispute remained to be disclosed. One report was that the president would call steel manufacturers, long opposed to non-company unions, to his office to seek concessions.

CLOCK SOUNDS REQUIEM FOR STRICKEN BABY

FREEPORT, N. Y., June 1. (AP)—In his 18 months of life baby John Batcher's great joy was to hear the clock strike.

Always when it sounded the hour or half hour his eyes widened and his face lighted. A week ago he became ill. There was no time for chimes. There were doctors, nurses, policemen and firemen; an inhalator and an oxygen tent.

Everybody became interested in the baby's illness and with the fight to save him from pneumonia. Oxygen treatment is costly, and the Batcher's are not rich, but somehow the oxygen was furnished, and there were always willing hands to work the inhalator that "breathed" for the baby.

The clock ticked on. At 6 o'clock last night it marked 70 hours of the fight to save the baby's life. The doctor said the child had a "good chance."

Seven o'clock—eight o'clock came. Nine o'clock—

The clock began to strike.

The doctor, who had been anxiously bending over the infant, straightened. He shook his head. The struggle was over.

"It was like a requiem," sobbed the child's father. "He always loved to hear the clock strike."

JACK CASTEEL DROPS DEAD

ORCHESTRA LEADER IS INDIGESTION VICTIM IN HOTEL ROOM

Walter Lewis (Jack) Casteel, young leader of Jack Casteel's orchestra, died unexpectedly soon after collapsing in a hotel room here early today. He lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Casteel, at 2101 Twenty-seventh street. He was 23 years old.

Death, which occurred about 3:30 a. m., was attributed by a physician to acute indigestion which affected the heart, Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell said.

Attended Dance

After attending a dance at Hilton hotel, as a guest rather than as an orchestra director, the young man went to the room of a friend, Byron Brown, jr., in the hotel to pass the night with him.

When his friend crumpled to the floor, Brown reported it, and doctors and authorities were summoned. The young musician died without regaining consciousness and before a physician arrived.

Paul Hardy, theater guard, was the first officer to reach the body. Sheriff Tom Abel and Peace Justice Connell arrived later.

The body was taken to Sanders Funeral home.

Funeral services probably will be

FAILURE SEEN FOR PARLEY AT GENEVA

CONFERENCE WILL BE RESUMED TUESDAY; SIMON TO LEAVE

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, June 1—Arthur Henderson, president of the disarmament conference, announced today that, owing to the gravity of the situation, the conference would be adjourned until Tuesday.

Shortly before Henderson's announcement, a British spokesman said privately that Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, sees little prospect of achieving anything important at present in Geneva.

Sir John purchased railroad tickets and prepared to return to London tonight.

LEAGUE PROPOSES WAR ARBITRATION

GENEVA, June 1 (AP)—The council of the League of Nations decided today to accept Bolivia's appeal for arbitration of the Chaco war instead of mediation.

This decision was facilitated by Paraguay's announcement that she has no objections to this new procedure, invoked under article 15 of the league covenant.

Wants Peaceful Settlement

"Paraguay has always wanted to settle this dispute by peaceful means," said Caballero Bedoya, Paraguay's representative at Geneva.

The new procedure, observers said, may interfere with the league's proposed munitions embargo against the belligerents.

Article 15 authorizes the council to make recommendations for a settlement of the war without a vote of the warring nations.

Bolivia insisted it needed more time to make another statement to the council before action under article 15 was begun. Costa Durels, the country's representative here, said after the meeting that "the council has no juridical right to impose an arms embargo until after an examination of the conflict under article 15."

The council took no action on the embargo question, which will be treated at a later session.

PARAGUAY CLAIMS VICTORY IN FIGHT

ASUNCION, Paraguay, June 1. (AP)—The Paraguayan defense ministry announced today that the Paraguayan army had captured 15 miles of Bolivian defense works in the "Canada Strongest" sector and that the 3rd division, previously entrenched there, had retreated.

The official communique declared the retreating Bolivians had left 150 dead behind including Lieutenants Sarraga, Torrico, Adunate, Alborta, and Abel.

The ministry said the advancing Paraguayans were consolidating the sector and had taken some munitions.

City Dads Study Gas Rate Change

MAN HELD FOR EXTORTION

SUSPECT IS INDICTED FOR THREAT AGAINST RICH FINANCIER

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Frank E. Sutton, 48-year-old mining engineer, was under arrest here today on a federal grand jury indictment in connection with an alleged extortion plot directed against Fred S. Markham, Altadena, Calif., financier.

The indictment, returned secretly a week ago, charged violation of the Lindbergh kidnaping law, and was based on a letter delivered to Markham more than a year ago demanding $22,000 in cash on threat of injury to him or his family. Markham is the son of a former Illinois Central railroad president.

Sutton, a former Tecumseh, Mich., resident, was arrested last night but announcement of his arrest was withheld by federal agents.

Officers Set Trap

After Markham received the letter, postmarked in Pasadena, Calif. and dated March 31, 1933, he notified the sheriff's office and a trap was set according to directions in the letter. It was in the form of a package and was attached to a

GAS COMPANY OFFERS TWO RATE SCHEDULES FOR CONSIDERATION

City commission members in conference at City hall this morning studied informally a proposed revision and reduction of gas rates for Lubbock offered in two schedules by the West Texas Gas company.

Mayor Ross Edwards announced after the meeting, which was held behind closed doors, that no action was taken on the gas company's request that suggestions and criticisms be made on the rate schedules. He gave no indication of sentiment of the commission on the matter, other than to state that the rates had been studied. He said the company had not made application for a change in the rates.

Would Hurt Small User

It was learned unofficially that the proposed revision and reduction schedules were in two parts, one by a room rate and the other by a sliding scale rate. Under both schedules, gas bills in the lower brackets would be increased slightly while users of considerable amounts would receive reductions ranging from 13 to 16 per cent over a year's time. Reductions would begin on bills around $4 a month, it was learned.

The gas company has been considering a revision of rates for the past several months and has had a rate expert and engineer making a survey of the consumption here. The two schedules presented today are a result of that survey.

"I HOPE NOBODY THINKS I'M NUTTY," SAYS VET AS HE QUITS SUICIDE TRY

(By The Associated Press)

ALAMEDA, Calif., June 1.—Frank Bennett, unemployed mechanic who for almost 24 hours kept police at bay as he sat "supreme" on a load of powerful explosives, denied today that he is insane.

"I hope nobody believes that I am nutty," said the 38-year-old war veteran. "I was frantic and desperate because my family was starving—half crazy, maybe, but not insane."

He remained in a hospital ward under observation on the order of District Attorney Earl Warren who reported: "The man's suffering from a mental condition which certainly requires treatment." Warren issued an insanity complaint.

Bennett also recalled the police promise of a job and $2,000 which led him to step from his explosive-laden automobile without carrying out his threat to spring an electric detonating switch.

"I took the police at their word when they promised me work and aid for my family," Bennett said. "I hope they don't go back on that."

Police announced the man's wife and three children will be taken care of but that he now is out of their hands in view of

POLICE CHIEF ASKS CITIZENS TO AID IN HALTING RECKLESS DRIVING HERE

Citizens who see automobiles recklessly driven in Lubbock are duty-bound to assist in bringing about arrest and conviction of the drivers, Chief of Police H. L. Johnston said this morning in asking the citizenry to assume that duty.

The police chief replied to an editorial in today's Morning Avalanche, which reported "thoughtless motorists are dashing recklessly up and down residence thoroughfares" and described traffic conditions as "as bad as they ever were."

In asking cooperation in enforcement of traffic laws, the police chief requested that a citizen seeing a speeding automobile record the license number, report it to police, and appear as a witness if the case is brought to trial.

Attributing the newspaper editorial to complaints of residents, Police Chief Johnston said:

"If they're conscientous, they'll get the numbers, report them, make a witness, or do anything else necessary to stop it."

"We haven't enough policemen to cover all these streets and highways and byways," he added. He said about 10 of the 15 members of the police department were assigned to reg-

LONG AWAITED MESSAGE IS DELIVERED

PRESIDENT SAYS THAT NO LEGISLATION IS ADVISABLE NOW

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1—President Roosevelt's awaited war debts message, sent today to congress, said "no legislation at this session of the congress is either necessary or advisable."

"We are using every means," he wrote, "to persuade each debtor nation as to the sacredness of the obligation and also to assure them of our willingness, if they should so request, to discuss frankly and fully the special circumstances relating to means and method of payment."

FDR Not In Capital

The message went to the capitol in the usual manner, despite the president himself being in Massachusetts to attend the graduation of his son, John, from Groton school.

The American people, said the message, are not disposed to place an impossible burden upon their debtors, but are nevertheless in a just position to ask that substantial sacrifices be made to meet these debts.

Repayments of the debts, the president reminded, "has gravely complicated our trade and financial relationships with the borrowing nations for many years.

"At the present time Finland remains the only foreign government which has met all payments on its indebtedness to the United States punctually and in full."

"We shall continue to expect the debtors on their part," said the

PRICE OF COTTON JUMPS $2 A BALE

NEW ORLEANS, June 1. (AP)—Cotton surged up $2 to $2.15 a bale on the New Orleans market today in late trading.

The rise was attributed to the upsurge of grain prices, advices that the Russian crop would be lower than expected, and announcement that the government would buy 1,200,000 bales for the needy.

July skyrocketed to 11.77, October to 11.99 and December to 12.10, or 40 to 43 points above yesterday's close.

Confounding veteran campaigners who predicted her failure, lovely 23-year-old Margaret Crang (above) romped home second to the top in civic elections in Edmonton, Alberta, and was elected alderman — the youngest in Canada. ACRIMONIOUS SCHISMATIC FIGHT IS EXPECTED AT SOCIALIST CONVENTION

DETROIT, June 1 (AP)—An acrimonious schismatic fight loomed today over the socialist national convention at a time considered by many leaders to be a critical moment in the party's history.

The fight centers on the opposition to the "old guard"—the faction of the right wing led for many years by the late Morris Hillquit.

The opponents, it was learned authoritatively, already have marked up one victory against the "old guard." At a session of the national executive committee, the "old guard" leaders made an unsuccessful effort to invoke the unit rule in state delegations—and lost.

The New York delegation is the largest in the convention and is presumably controlled by some of the party leaders who were allied with Hillquit, including Louis Waldman, the party's candidate for governor in the Empire State in 1932 and Algernon Lee, who for many years has headed the Rand school, a socialist institution in New York.

With the unit rule in effect, these leaders would have been in a strong position to dictate formation of the socialist party's program for the next two years.

This defeat of "old guard" leaders in their first skirmish gave rise to frequent predictions that the socialist party will emerge from this off-year convention more aggressive than at any time in recent years.

Police Are Tired Of Being Firemen

AMARILLO, June 1. (AP)—Amarillo police are getting tired of playing firemen. There were three fires in one day recently but no fire alarms. For some unknown reason all three were reported to police.

And was the fire department embarrassed!

ON 'BRIDGE' FROCK

PARIS —(AP) — Fashionables who take their bridge seriously may wear their hearts and spades on their frocks this year. Patou shows in his midseason collection a frock of white quilted cotton splashed with red, blue, green and black hearts spades, diamonds and clubs. It is trimmed with a light green linen collar.

A little lemon juice, sprinkled over fruit, vegetable, fish or meat salads just before they are served, greatly improves the flavor.

POST, June 1 (Special)—Although six troops from three cities competed in an annual southern district Boy Scout field meet at Two Draw lake here Wednesday, none qualified in enough events to earn a pennant, D. T. Jennings, area executive, said.

About 80 scouts participated in the meet, which was preceded Tuesday night by a campfire court of honor and an overnight camp.

Relieves Headache Due To Constipation

"Thedford's Black-Draught has been used in my family for years," writes Mrs. J. A. Hightower, of Carthage, Texas. "I take it for sick headache that comes from constipation. When I feel a headache coming on, I take a dose of Black-Draught. It acts and my head gets easy. Before I knew of Black-Draught, I would suffer two or three days—but not any more since I have used Black-Draught."

A Parade That Turns a Page in Italian History

A pompous ceremony which most Italians thought they were looking on for the last time is here recorded as King Victor Emmanuel was borne in state through Rome's flag be-decked streets to the Chamber of Deputies for the inauguration of the 29th session of the Italian Parliament. Mussolini's plans for a National Council of Corporations is expected to doom Parliament.

R. W. BARRY

Under Texas' Massive Capitol Dome With R. W. Barry

Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP)—Bob Long of Wichita Falls, who served his district in the house of the legislature for three consecutive terms, has decided to retire voluntarily. He will devote his time to practice of the law. When he first was elected to the 41st legislature he was studying law at the University of Texas and continued as a student there during the first part of his legislative career.

Long always was interested in legislation pertaining to the oil industry.

There are five candidates for his place, Long said.

AMALGAMATION TALKED

Since the slaying of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, the southwest's premier team of outlaws, there has been considerable talk about amalgamating the state's law-enforcing agencies. Until the state highway patrol was created by the legislature a few years ago, the Texas Rangers, with a limited, poorly-paid personnel, was the only state "constabulary." The 120 men of the highway patrol brought into action a "small army." However, the duties of the patrolmen did not include the "tracking of criminals." They were supposed to aid motorists and see that the laws governing travel on the highways were respected.

When two of their number were slain wantonly as they rode their motorcycles along a frequented highway in a densely populated community, Chief L. G. Phares of the patrol ordered all his men to be on the outlook for the perpetrators. He assigned some of them solely to the job of ferreting out the offenders.

Since then there has been a movement to consolidate the rangers and the patrolmen into one organization of state police. The attitude of the legislature will be looked for with interest.

A group of additional new models for the 1934 Chevrolet line—four full-size cars—100% Chevrolet in quality and reliability

A cushion-balanced SIX of surprising smoothness, power, snap and dash. The most economical full-size car that money can buy—a record-breaker for gas and oil mileage, as well as long, dependable service. And every closed model has a Body by Fisher. FLASHES OF LIFE

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

Popular Platform

LEWISTON, Me.—Francis G. O'Neill of Milton, Mass., Bates college senior, campaigned for mayor of the campus on a platform advocating mortgaging of of the college buildings to provide automobiles for students and abolition of professorial jurisdiction. He was elected.

Too Intellectual

LONDON—Church leaders are complaining that congregations are "dodging" the collection plates.

Persons attending the St. John Passion of Bach at St. George's in Hanover square drove up in swanky motor cars, but the largest coin left in the plates was a half crown (62 cents).

"The people who came must have been intellectual to appreciate Bach," said Dr. C. E. Jolley, organist, "but they were so intellectual that the collection totaled only 9 pounds 10 shillings ($47.50).

Pioneers

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark.—Out of the east again comes the spirit of the pioneers.

Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Calkins have arrived here from Cortland, N. Y., to settle on an Ozark mountain farm. They made the 1,300-mile journey in a covered wagon of ancient vintage, with a milk goat, cats and a dog. They left New York state March 26.

All Square Now

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—David S. Day scored a hole in one on the 132-yard fifth of the Brooklawn golf course last November.

Mrs. Day, as if tired of hearing about her husband's ace, stepped out yesterday and shot one herself on the same hole.

Awake 23 Years

GEGLED, Hungary. — Mrs. Istvan Sagi, 80-year-old insomnia victim, is reported to have gone without sleep for 23 years. She cannot take sleeping powder because of a weak heart.

To relieve the monotony of sleepless nights, she changes from one bed to another and walks around a table several times.

The Trick Works

STONEY CREEK, Ont.—The Union Jack flies again over Stoney Creek Battlefield park, thanks to an idea of Henry Marshall, park board member. Marshall, failing in efforts to obtain a new flag when the old one wore out, hoisted the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

Citizens were indignant because Canadian forces won the battle of Stoney Creek in 1812. One offered the use of his Union Jack until a new flag was purchased.

Hard-Workers

HALIFAX—For two weeks Halifax police hunted "vandals" blamed for scratching store windows to the extent of $4,000 damage. Today the police came to the conclusion the scratches were caused by window cleaners who put extra effort into their work.

Wins On Issue

Former State Senator Fred A. Egan (above) won Democratic nomination for post of prosecutor of Lake county, Ind., over Robert G. Estill, the incumbent, who posed for pictures with his arm around John Dillinger before the outlaw broke out of jail at Crown Point, Ind. Egan made the Dillinger picture incident an issue in the campaign. (Associated Press Photo)

Lindbergh Appears In Aviation Probe

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The special committee making a survey of the army air corps said today that Charles A. Lindbergh—after twice refusing to serve as a member and delaying acceptance of an invitation to testify—had finally appeared and made a statement of his views.

The committee, headed by Newton D. Baker, wartime secretary of war, declined, however, to make public any information concerning the testimony.

ALL-BRAN RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Brought New Health to Mr. Bartholomew

We quote from his voluntary letter: "I had considerable trouble with my stomach. Digestion was out of the question. I got medicine which gave me only temporary relief.

"Then I thought of taking ALL-BRAN. I started eating a cereal dishful two or three times a day.

"It has been over a year now since I ate that first dish of bran, but from that day to this I have had the pleasure of enjoying the proper functioning of the digestive organs.

"Thanks to ALL-BRAN. I still eat it regularly and like it better all the time."—Lester Bartholomew, Cadillac, Mich.

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote elimination. ALL-BRAN supplies both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Certainly this food is more natural than taking harmful patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily will usually overcome most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

MUCH NATURAL GAS WASTED

DAILY LOSS IN TEXAS PANHANDLE EQUALS CONSUMPTION

AMARILLO, June 1 (AP) — An amount of natural gas slightly less than the daily domestic consumption of the entire nation is wasted every day in the Texas Panhandle field—the world's largest known gas reservoir.

A billion cubic feet—enough to supply the fuel needs of 12,500 families a year—is being popped into the air daily, principally by gasoline absorption plants, in what was recently described to a Texas senate investigating committee as "the greatest economic crime in history."

Daily Waste Increasing

Each month the average daily waste is being increased by more than 100,000,000 cubic feet and its proportions now are such that it presents one of the gravest problems confronting the Texas legislature, and perhaps one of the most perplexing situations in the nation involving the conservation of natural resources.

Large cities of the west and middlewest—Denver, Kansas City, Chicago, Omaha, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, St. Paul—which get their natural gas through big pipelines from the Panhandle are peculiarly interested since their source of supply is threatened with depletion.

Briefly, the question to be decided by the legislature is whether the immense reservoir, estimated by geologists at 16 trillion cubic feet, is to be conserved for use as fuel for a century, or depleted within a decade or so for the immediate benefit of those in the best position to take advantage of the "law of capture."

About One Fourth Depleted

Most geologists estimate that the reservoir underlying 1,300,000 acres, 115 miles long and 20 miles wide, is one-fourth depleted. The withdrawal now is at the rate of two billion cubic feet daily—400,000,000 to the 19 pipelines, 1,600,000,000 to the gasoline plants, the carbon black industry conserving 450,000,000 cubic feet of the residue. With no increase in the withdrawal, the field would last 16 years. The pipeline companies however, who own more than half the total gas producing acreage, have threatened to begin "stripping" unless the practice is stopped.

The law legalizing "stripping" was passed by the legislature a year ago to provide landowners, leaseholders and independent producers a market for their gas after the pipelines had refused consistently to take ratably from all wells, a practice which is common to the oil industry. Most of the wastage is residue from the "stripping" plants for which there is no market.

Realize No Profit

Neither the gasoline plants nor the pipelines have offered the farmers and ranchers an equitable market. In the very shadow of the big "stripping" plants and on land adjacent to leases owned by the pipelines are farmers who have had gas wells for a decade and have never realized a dollar from their investment. Meanwhile, their land values have been increased for taxation. Their gas is being drained from under them while their own wells, which they formerly looked upon with hopes for wealth, have become an economic burden. Their neighbors who have no gas wells are better off.

From 3,000 to 4,000 cubic feet of gas is stripped to produce a gallon of natural gasoline. At present prices for this product, which is blended in manufacturing motor fuel, it is necessary to strip 6,400,000 cubic feet—a year's fuel supply for 80 families—for the landowner to receive a dollar royalty. The recovery, however, is faster than for fuel, which means more immediate money.

The Panhandle Gas Conservation association, which was organized recently to urge the control of waste, estimates that the stripping of gas and its rapid depletion will entail a loss of $100,000,000 to land owners and royalty owners in the ultimate recovery of both oil and gas, and $16,000,000 to the state in gross production tax alone.

New uses for gas and its value for fuel have entered the already complicated picture. The old statutes provided that gas should be utilized only for light and fuel. It already is obsolete for lighting purposes. Meanwhile, carbon black has been given an equal rating with fuel.

"Industry and science are moving rapidly, and the civilization of the next generation may have no use for natural gas," commented the railroad commission in this connection.

LEGAL BEER HAS SOBERING EFFECT AT TEXAS DANCES

AUSTIN, June 1. —(AP)—Legalization of beer has had a sobering effect on the 30,000 students who attended official dances at the University of Texas this year, the all-university dance committee has concluded.

Charles N. Zivley, manager, said of legalized sale of beer: "with the exception of slight difficulties during the first two or three weeks after repeal there has been less rather than more disturbance on account of drinking and misconduct at university dances than before."

Only "two or three" students were expelled from the university because of misconduct at the dances, he said.

Zivley estimated more than 30,000 persons attended the 33 dances this year. Tickets were issued to 21,022 men. Women were admitted without charge. The Texas union, organization for management of the recently constructed Student Union building, realized a substantial profit from the dances.

Five of the dances were so large they could not be held in the Union building ballroom and were transferred to the university's large gymnasium dance floor.

Man Slays Family, Then Shoots Self

SPOKANE, Wash., June 1 (AP)—The bodies of Arthur E. Hooker, his wife and two daughters, seemingly the victims of murder and suicide, were found at the Hooker residence here Thursday.

The discovery was made by Roy Lowe, attorney and next door neighbor. Police said all apparently were shot to death Wednesday night.

Rambling notes Hooker left indicated he had been brooding and contemplating the killing for some time, police said. They said he could no longer stand to see his daughter suffer, that his head was "beginning to feel queer" and he could see nothing else to do. Hooker had worked in the business department of the Spokane Daily Chronicle for many years.

GENTLEMAN-OFFICER, WITH A POTENT ARMED FORCE ON CALL, SEEN AS NEW FRENCH "STRONG MAN;" BIDES TIME

BY MORRIS GILBERT
NEA Service Correspondent

PARIS, June 1—An officer and a gentleman, 45 years old, square-jawed, smooth-shaven, his body hacked and marauded by every weapon of war from assegai to German Lueger, looms over France today like a Hitler with manners, dignity, and a conscience.

He is Colonel de la Rocque, president-general of the formidable "Croix de Feu."

Colonel de la Rocque is no house-painter-turned-corporal like Hitler, rescued from oblivion by a war—and a peace. He is the son of a general, a soldier of career, a graduate of the calvary school at St. Cyr, a veteran of French wars in Algeria and Morocco.

He is the man whom today untold thousands of followers revere with a quite un-French devotion and awe; whom they follow and obey with a military ardor which is mystic in its force. He is the man who "could have" captured the Chamber of Deputies—his followers declare—on the tragic riot-night of Feb. 6; who "could have" captured the Ministry of the Interior on the night before; who today at any moment, if he wishes, could throw enough armed men, thoroughly trained, brilliantly led, into the streets of Paris to capture the government and the capital.

The reason the redoubtable colonel did not do these things—again it is his followers who speak, since Colonel de la Rocque at this writing has yet to be interviewed by Frenchman or foreigner—is because he has no political ambitions, for himself, or for the Croix de Feu. The assertion is bluntly made that the leader and his cohorts want no power for themselves. What they want, they say, is a clean France, a France purged of the venom which the Stavisky scandal and all its effects have traced in the republic's veins.

But when anybody asks a Croix de Feu what he means by a "clean" France he replies with equal abruptness: "We are the ones who will decide that."

When a Croix de Feu is asked what he would do if a Socialist-Communist combine overthrew the government of France in some forthcoming general election, he answers: "We would throw it out."

Colonel de la Rocque . . . "could have."

When it is argued that a dictatorship of this kind is in fact political despite the leader's denial of political aims, the Croix de Feu member smiles and says: "That is the kind of government we will have."

When one observes that there is apparently in France a huge group of people determined to force a socialist government on the country and that opposition by the Croix de Feu would mean civil war, the speaker responds: "We would win because we are better trained in military affairs."

When the question is put: "Is the Croix de Feu armed?" the answer is such that one does not doubt it.

The Ten Commandments of the Croix de Feu are all embraced in one: absolute subordination to the will of the leader. The origins of the Croix de Feu are equally interesting. The group was originally composed of soldiers who had been decorated for service under fire. Now it has been increased by the "Briscards," the "Hashmarks"—men who though not decorated nevertheless served at the front during the campaigns of the World War.

The political program of the Croix de Feu is hard to define. Suffice it that its creed is a vigilant honesty in office. The Croix de Feu is a "Rightist" movement, no doubt, being a national as opposed to an international scheme and hating Communism.

The one thing that stands out in the mystery of Colonel de la Rocque is that he was a good soldier. The fact that after the war he was invited to join the staff of General Foch proves it. The colonel's advance from the rim of Africa to the generalissimo's staff was brilliant. Invalided out of the African sideshow he managed to wangle a job on the Western Front. There in 1918, commanding a battalion, he captured an entire German battalion and was made officer of the Legion of Honor. Not long afterwards, though the war had been won in between de la Rocque was ordered by Foch to Poland. There de la Rocque remained two years, bolstering up the Polish war machine. Then the Riff war claimed him, and again he saw active service in his familiar Morocco.

It was years ago that he began to devote himself to the service of the Croix de Feu and to the task which saw results on February 6.

Many men swear that Colonel de la Rocque could have done exactly what his followers boast on Feb. 6—have invaded the Chamber of Deputies and chucked the cringing deputies into the Seine. Many men swear that, due to the organization, the military skill and dominance of the Croix de Feu, the government could have been overturned. The fact is that Colonel de la Rocque did none of these things. He decided, no doubt, to bide his time.

TEXAS CITRUS CROP HEAVY

RECORD FORECAST FOR RIO GRANDE VALLEY BY FRUIT SURVEY

BROWNSVILLE, June 1 (AP)—The Texas citrus crop for the 1934-35 season will be approximately 12,000 carloads, a record for the section, according to estimates based on a comprehensive citrus report by the market news bureau here under the direction of W. D. Googe.

The report shows that during the past season lower Rio Grande valley citrus brought a consistently higher price in the auctions than Florida fruit, whereas the previous season the Florida fruit was a little higher in some markets.

Pink Fruit Brings More

Another interesting detail shown is that Texas pink grapefruit averaged about $1 a box above the market generally.

In a discussion of the production outlook for the 1934-35 season the report states that "the May 1 condition of Texas grapefruit for the coming crop is reported at 53 per cent compared with 81 per cent a year ago and 37 per cent on May 1 1932."

The 81 per cent condition last year indicated a 16,000 carload crop. On the basis of this estimate the report shows that although this would be the largest crop ever produced in the valley, it is considerably lighter than anticipated.

The report states that the trees, particularly in Cameron county, have not recovered entirely from effects of the hurricane and that the crop will be light in this section.

Freight Charges Higher

Although the valley fruit brought a higher price on the markets the grower in the valley received less for his fruit, the report shows. This was probably the result of higher freight charges from the valley, it was stated.

The report shows an average price for the season of 90 cents a box to the grower in the valley as compared to 99 cents for all Florida fruit and $1.25 for what is termed "commercial" fruit in Florida. California and Arizona showed the same price as Texas. On oranges the return was larger, the grower in Texas receiving $1 a box against $1.25 to Florida growers.

Shipments to various states show Missouri at the top with 213 carloads and Illinois next with 171. Nebraska took 30, Wisconsin 34, Minnesota 50, Arkansas, Colorado, and Indiana 29 carloads each.

Enters Politics

All the political fame of the Long family won't rest with Huey if Oklahoma voters heed the plea of Dr. George Long, Tulsa dentist, brother of the Louisiana senator. Jap "Twin Rate" Is Half That Of West

KYOTO, Japan June 1(AP)—Twins are almost twice as rare among the Japanese as among Occidental races, says Dr. Taku Komai, professor of ethnology at Kyoto Imperial university. His investigations led him to this conclusion, and he presented it to a recent gathering of scientists here without attempting an explanation.

Twins occur once in about 150 births in this country, he said, whereas in Germany, for example, one birth in every 80 produces twins.

Another point in which the Japanese differ from western races, according to the same authority, is that among the Japanese in two cases out of three twins will be of the same sex. The rule among Occidentals, he said, is just the opposite, that in two cases out of three twins will be of opposite sexes.

LONDON TO BE PARLEY SITE

BOTH WASHINGTON AND TOKYO WILLING TO ACCEPT INVITATION

BY HAROLD P. BRAMAN
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, June 1. (AP)—Great Britain's initiative in arranging preliminary conversations makes London the logical site of the 1935 naval conference, authoritative sources said today.

Washington and Tokyo, it was understood, studied the matter before replying to Britain's invitation to preliminary discussions and each decided it has no objection to holding the conference here if officially invited.

No Plans Developed

The same sources also revealed that none of the trio of major powers has yet developed any definite plan for the conference or any scheme for sea armaments limitations.

Each is expected to await the result of the preliminary conversations before formulating her own plans. However, both Japan and Britain are taking exceptional interest in the matter and will be well prepared to discuss the various subjects of naval limitation thoroughly during the diplomatic talks to begin here in a fortnight.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, and Captain Anthony Eden, lord privy seal, it was believed, would together handle the conversations for Britain when they return from Geneva.

IRRIGATION PROGRESSING

Ten or twelve new pump have been added ince the first of January and irrigation is progressing rapidly in the Blackwater draw valley in Bailey county, according to D. N. Coulter, irrigation man.

HAVING LONG-LIVED ANCESTORS BEST BET FOR LONG LIFE, BIOLOGIST SAYS

BY F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)

BALTIMORE, June 1 (AP)—The secret of long life is having long-lived parents and grandparents. Heredity, more than anything else, governs whether a man will live to be 90 or more.

These are conclusions of Dr. Raymond Pearl, noted biologist of Johns Hopkins university, who has just completed an exhaustive study of why and how people live to be very old.

Studying 365 men and women who had lived to be from 90 to more than 100 years old, he found that their parents and grandparents also had lived to a greater average age than the parents and grandparents of another group of 167 persons selected more or less at random. The length of all the lives of the parents and grandparents of the 90-to-100-year-old group was 16 per cent greater than for the similar ancestors of the other group.

Heredity, more than a person's habits during life, decides to what age he will live, Dr. Pearl concludes. A person with longlived parents and grandparents seem to inherit from them the power of resistance to disease and bodily wear and tear that enables him to achieve greater age than others.

The rule seems to be, Dr. Pearl explained, that for every 3.7 years lived beyond the normal limit of 70 by a man's parents and grandparents together he may expert one additional year of life.

Use of alcoholic drinks, Dr. Pearl found, apparently does not influence length of life directly. Among the 365 persons 90 years old and more whom he studied, 41.4 per cent had been moderate drinkers during their lives. This was 4.1 per cent more than the percentage of moderate drinkers among the random group.

"Furthermore," says Dr. Pearl, "3.7 per cent of the nonagenarian and centenarian males are heavy drinkers. While this percentage is less than that of heavy drinkers in the sample of the general population with which they were compared, it is significant that there are as many as 3.7 per cent of these extremely longevous males who have been heavy drinkers. The evidence from this study clearly indicates that the moderate use of alcoholic beverages throughout life is not incompatible with the attainment of great longevity."

Many Total Abstainers

On the other hand, Dr. Pearl found, 56.6 per cent of the group over 90 were total abstainers, as compared with 45.3 per cent of teetotalers among the general group used for comparison.

The very old persons whom Dr. Pearl studied were queried not only about their drinking habits, but also regarding use of tobacco, diseases and operations they had had, their habits of eating, sleeping and exercise, occupations, localities where they had lived, bodily build and racial stock, but none of these things seemed to have had any very important relation to their great age.

The parents of the very old group in Dr. Pearl's study lived 20 to 30 per cent longer than the parents of the group selected for comparison, and the grandparents lived 10 to 14 per cent longer. More than 86 per cent of the long-lived people had had at least one long-lived parent (living beyond 70,) but on the other hand both the parents of 13 per cent were short-lived.

"So That's What's Wrong With 'Em?"

BEAUMONT, June 1. (AP)—"So that's what was wrong with 'em?" County Agent J. P. Combs mused.

He had just received a diagnosis from the bureau of plant industry at Washington on some grass roots which didn't look right to Agent Combs.

"These roots are infested with nematodes," wrote G. Steiner, senior nematologist. "We found numerous specimens of the root-knot nematode, heteodera marioni, and also another quite serious plant-infesting form, anguillulina multicincta. In addition, aphelenchoidees parientinus, cephalobus oxyuroides, anguillulina filiformis, and dorylamus, perhaps obtusicaudatus, were found but the trouble really comes from the first named species."

Combs admits he is just a country boy and not up on his Latin. But he believes he gets the idea—

The roots are in a heck of a shape.

Residents Prefer To Buy, Not Make, Salt At Gonzales

GONZALES, June 1 (AP)—Making salt is a forgotten art that once was a part of the annual tasks of pioneers in this section. The salt still is there but present day residents prefer to get the product in a more convenient form at the grocery store.

In the 60's during dry periods of the year settlers from all over this section would go to the salt flats near Pilgrim to lay in a 12-months supply. It was an arduous process but the easiest and cheapest way of getting salt.

The salt flats, located ten miles south of Gonzales, form an area of more than a mile square. On the surface of the sandy soil a salty crust forms from which salt can be made.

In order to extract the pure salt from the sandy mixture, it was customary in the old days to use a box similar to an ash hopper. The box, or hopper, was filled with the salt crust and water poured over it.

As the water filtered through it was caught in buckets, poured into large kettles and boiled until nothing remained but salt. Several days were required to make enough to last the average family for a period of a year.

NOW Silent Safety
an exclusive new feature of
THE BLOWOUT-PROOF TIRE

Bottom photograph—shows General's silent-safety tread. Greater gripping action in all directions—forward as well as sidewise.

Ⓖ General's new, exclusive silent-safety tread adds the final step in safety to The Blowout-Proof Tire. One look at the winding, twisting, utterly irregular tread pattern and you'll agree, "There is non-skid traction!" Forward or sidewise—countless angles stop you. You can't slip or slide because there isn't a continuous skid-groove in any direction.

In this new tread, General has discarded all precedent. It is an entirely new design. Silent because there are no old fashioned spots and knobs to wear fast and cause noise. Far more skid-safe because there is real gripping action in every direction. Longer lasting because it doesn't pound and wear off like ordinary tires.

It's the answer to safety with silence that tire engineers have sought for years. See the 1934 Blowout-Proof General Dual-Balloon today. Let us show you this remarkable new safe—silent—slow wearing non-skid tread—give you a demonstration—explain how easily you can put a set on your car.

TWO ROUNDS IN TOURNEY SET FOR TODAY

QUARTER - FINALS AND SEMI-FINALS SLATED AT BROOK HOLLOW

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, June 1. (AP)—Crucial quarter-final matches started today in the annual Texas Golf association championship with eight of the state's best shot-makers striving to survive and compete in the semi-finals which were also scheduled today immediately after the quarter-finals.

The golf match that many Dallasites had longed to see was first off the tee—a combat of par matching between Louis Nowlin and David Goldman. In all the tournaments the two have played, Nowlin and Goldman have never met in championship competition. Nowlin, who won medalist honors with 34-37—71, one over par, holds the Fort Worth River Crest Country club championship. Goldman, known as the player with cold nerves, is the Dallas Country club invitation title holder. Both are at the pinnacle of fine golf. Both have been through many torrid matches and it was the press tent consensus that the match probably would not be concluded until the full eighteen holes had been played.

Cochran Faces Smith

In the other upper bracket match, Tommy Cochran, former state champion and winner of many tournaments, faced Reynolds Smith, twice Dallas City champion and Corsicana Country club invitation champion. Both are tournament wise, Smith is the superior stylist. Cochran is up from the old school of approaching and putting.

Jack Fouts of Dallas, making his first serious bid for the state crown, had Leland Hamman, Waco champion, as his opponent. Hamman, whose game is superb, was a heavy favorite at the starting tee. It was Hamman who beat Moreland last year in the Western Amateur. Fouts, a Sunset High school boy, has a tremendous tee shot but not Hamman's skill around the greens.

Long Meets Payne

The other lower bracket match sent W. R. "Shorty" Long of Austin against Gibson Payne of Dallas. This match held the spotlight along with the Nowlin and Goldman contest. Payne, runner-up in the 1932 Dallas City championship and a veteran of many major tournaments, is an excellent match player and is well acquainted with the Brook Hollow course. Long, several times Austin City champion, has accomplished much with his golf game since 1932 when he was a semi-finalist in the state tournament at Texarkana. He was not pressed to survive the two rounds yesterday.

CAVALCADE TO RACE AGAIN

WILL HAVE TO BE AT HIS BEST TO WIN AMERICAN DERBY

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—As the great three-year-olds of American turf went through their final tune-ups today, the eagle-eyed railbirds became convinced that Cavalcade will have to be at his very peak to beat his rivals in the $25,000 added American derby.

The big race over a mile and a quarter will be run at Washington park tomorrow with a probable field of 11 facing the barrier, including the "big four" of the three-year-old ranks—Cavalcade, Discovery, Singing Wood, and Mata Hari.

Tradition Against Him

Two reasons, one involving tradition, caused many of the railbirds to doubt Cavalcade's chances for victory tomorrow. First, he must tote 126 pounds, giving away eight pounds to his foremost rival, Discovery, the Alfred G. Vanderbilt hope that has run right behind him in every one of their duels this year. With such a weight advantage, many believe, Discovery will be able to reverse matters. Secondly, only one horse has succeeded in winning both the Kentucky and American derbies. He was Spokane, winner of the two big races in 1889.

Singing Wood, Mrs. J. H. Whitney's Withers mile winner, had a five pound advantage over Cavalcade while Mata Hari had a lady's rights with a package of only 116 pounds. Tradition keyed up Mata Hari's followers, too, as it was exactly 50 years ago, in the first running of the race, that a filly won. Her name was Modesty.

The probable odds showed the switch in sentiment as the race neared post time. Cavalcade, regarded up to now as an even money choice, was rated at 2 to 1 with Discovery the second choice at 3 to 1. Mata Hari and Singing Wood were listed at 6 to 1 with plight and Bien Fait, a Bradley cast-off, at 15 to 1. On the others, it was a case of imagination or name your own odds.

Parts of the Kalahari, the vast desert in South Africa, recently felt rain for the first time in 40 years.

AS ROSS ASCENDED TO HIS THIRD RING THRONE

DALLAS HOLDS LOOP LEAD

STEERS DOWN OILERS; HOUSTON BUFFALOES SWAMP GALVESTON

(By The Associated Press)

Manager Fred Brainard's hustling Dallas Steers continue to pace the Texas league pennant marathon. Brainard's aggregation put on their base running steam yesterday and nosed out the Tulsa Oilers in a slugfest, 12 to 10. At the conclusion of the fourth inning the Steers were trailing by six runs. Keesey, first sacker, and McCulloch featured for Dallas, each driving across three runs. McCulloch led the hitting attack with three blows.

"Red" Phillips, Beaumont's ace pitcher, turned in his seventh win in eight starts by defeating San Antonio, 5 to 2. When Phillips stepped from the mound with victory wrapped in his sweatshirt, it made the seventh consecutive series from which the Exporters emerged victorious.

Cats Trim Indians

Clouting eight hits, including five double, in one inning, the Fort Worth Cats scored eleven runs in the seventh inning to beat Oklahoma City, 13 to 5. The wild rampage of runs started when Catcher York hit one of the longest home runs ever made in the Oklahoma City park. The surge of scoring followed that completely overwhelmed the Indians.

The Houston Buffaloes made a race track of their diamond by beating Galveston, 16 to 5. The game was called in the eighth to allow both teams to catch a train. Houston collected twenty hits and scored nine runs the first three innings

PIRATES SLIDE FROM LEAD TO FOURTH

PITTSBURGH TAKES IT ON CHIN 3 TIMES IN ROW AT CHICAGO

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates' sudden slump, or, perhaps, the home field strength of the Chicago Cubs, today had painted a few new highlights in the National league picture.

After battling their way up to the league lead last week, the Pirates ran into their first losing streak when they dropped a double header to the Giants Monday, then took it on the chin three times in a row in Chicago. As a result they were down in a fourth-place tie with Boston today while the Giants and Cubs were tied for second, a game and a half behind the St. Louis Cardinals.

Klein Poles No. 14

Following their double holiday triumph, the Cubs continued their slugging ways yesterday by battering out an 11 to 5 decision as Chuck Klein contributed his 14th homer and Guy Bush his seventh mound victory to the festivities.

The Brooklyn Dodgers earned the new hats that had been promised them for every victory over the Giants when they staged a seventh-inning uprising that overcame the handicap of numerous injuries and beat their New York neighbors 6 to 2.

The Cardinals increased their lead by beating the Reds 3 to 2 in ten innings, getting their deciding tally when Buster Mills was hit by one of Paul Derringer's pitches and scored on Frank Frisch's double. Boston gained its share of fourth place in an off day, bracketed with the Phillies.

American Leaders Lose

The top-ranking trio of the American league went down in order in a series of slugfests. The lowly Chicago White Sox rose up in the second inning and scored eight runs off Bean and Winegarner to defeat Cleveland's league leaders 12 to 5. Zeke Bonura's 12th homer and Hal Trosky's ninth wound up the affair.

Washington bunched hits expertly with New York errors to rout the second place Yankees 9 to 3. The Yanks made four misplays, three of them in the ninth when the Senators tallied five times. The St. Louis Browns knocked off the Detroit Tigers, third place holders, 11 to 3, with the aid of circuit swats by three rookies, Ray Pepper, Harland Clift and Al Bejma.

Boston and Philadelphia were idle.

JACK CRAWFORD WINS

PARIS, June 1. (AP)—Jack Crawford, captain and star of the Australian Davis cup team, today won his second final bracket in the French ward court tennis championships. Already a finalist in men's singles, where he is defending champion, Crawford paired with his young team partner, Vivian McGrath, to defeat L. Hecht and R. Menzel, of Czechoslovakia, in the semi-finals of men's doubles, 3-6, 61-, 6-1, 6-1.

Baer Basks in Sunlight

After months of basking in the spotlight of night clubs and theaters, Max Baer does some sun bathing at his training camp at Asbury Park, N. J., as part of his conditioning program for his bout with Primo Carnera, June 14. Here's the "gigolo" soaking up ultra-violet rays.

OUR APOLOGIES for not getting around to it sooner, but it's not too late to commend the Lubbock school board for its choice of coaches to replace Swede McMurry and Goober Keyes. Also to congratulate Ex-Matador Captain Ross Ayers and Bennie McWilliams.

Just what assignments they will be given this fall has not been announced. One of them will be placed in charge of the Cowhands, perhaps, the other probably will work with Weldon Chapman in fashioning the Westerner forward wall. It doesn't matter who gets which job. Ross was a great guard in 1931 and 1932. McWilliams was a capable tackle in 1932 and 1933. Both are intelligent enough to learn the coaching business.

Coaching in the Lubbock school system will be the first attempted by Ayers and McWilliams, but we believe they'll make the grade. The man who fills McMurry's shoes has a bigger responsibility, we choose to think, than the assistant line coach, but the latter will have his hands full. They are great young fellows, Ayers and McWilliams, cooperative, easy to get along with, clean and gentlemanly. The school board might have looked a long time before finding a couple of young coaches who would work any harder than these ex-Texas Tech athletes.

And how nice it is that we have an institution of higher learning and training in the vicinity which turns out ready-made coaches. The credit backs up to the untiring efforts of Messieurs Cawthon, Smith and Morgan.

That period between the football seasons of 1933 and 1934 will go down as the era of the greatest turnover of coaches the country has yet experienced. If you've kept up with press reports you know that. In keeping with the times, Lubbock has had its own problems. First, Dell Morgan accepted an offer to come and help Jack Meagher at Alabama Poly. It was a progressive step for Dell, but hard on the Tech prospects. Virgil Ballard, another of the Austin college exes, came from Gainesville to replace Morgan.

Gainesville needed somebody to take Ballard's place, and thence went Swede McMurry, for several years a coach at Lubbock High. Then Goober Keyes, who was added to the Westerner staff last spring, got a chance to head coach at Brownwood. To supplant Keyes and McMurry, Lubbock got McWilliams and Ayers. We came within a hair's breadth of losing Berl Huffman, who turned down offers from Brownwood and Midland to stay on as backfield coach of the Westerners.

While Morgan, McMurry and Keyes will be missed, Lubbock has not fared at all badly in the exchange of mentors. Years may show that we got the best end of the deals. Ballard, acquainted with Cawthon's style and system, should make himself popular even this season. He's a mild-mannered person, but energetic and well met. And a good basketball coach. He'll get along.

Coach P. W. C. came home Wednesday night from an extended tour of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. No, Axel, not what you are thinking. It wasn't altogether that kind of a campaign, and he's not running for office, either. He was doing a little missionary work in regard to the forthcoming Tech coaching school which bids fair to being larger and greater in every way than any of the three preceding schools. Cawthon covered over four thousand miles on his trip, and reports that there is wide interest over the southwest in the coaching school.

Coaches are pleased that Harry Kipke and Noble Kizer are coming back to the mentor school, and that George Koegan, Notre Dame's great basketball coach, will be here. It's a great work Cawthon and his cohorts are doing, a work that brings Lubbock and Texas Tech more publicity and fame than even the football teams. Cawthon reports that he was met with a shrug by coachers who had seen his 1934 gridiron schedule. "Kinda stepping out your class, carding that kind of a schedule, aren't you?" he was asked. Baylor and Texas, for their teams, are already worrying a bit about this fall.

In stalks that cheerful old Woodrow Wilson, who hopes to make the Los Angeles trip this October, with the disturbing news that he's forsaking Lubbock for the Farmer in favor of his new home somewhere in the woods of Mississippi. The former Central Texas asks, as usual for a little publicity. He's leaving today, via the Texas route, and asks that anybody who is taking him please offer a ride. You'll know him by the pale, pasty face and the soft-spoken voice.

MAX BAER AND CARNERA ARE IN TRAINING

EXPERTS NOT PLEASED WITH MAXIE; CHAMP TAKES A DAY OFF

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Reports that Max Baer and Primo Carnera shortly would fight for the heavyweight championship were confirmed officially today.

War correspondents, slightly astigmatic as a result of several weeks' intensive peering at the training camp antics of Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin, heeved a sigh of relief as they trained their sights on bigger game; Madison Square Garden rushed into the public print with a statement that no postponement of the heavyweight title brawl was planned; Carnera took a day off to avoid going "stale"; and Baer took a cuffing from his sparring mates to furnish the impetus for columns dwelling on the Livermore larruper's apparent lack of condition.

No Rescues, However

In short, it was much like old times before the depression struck boxing a body blow from which it is only now recovering. Neither of the prospective combatants rescued any drowning females, however. They may be saving that for later.

After taking his usual six miles of road work, Carnera rested calmly at his camp in Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday but Baer went through a full workout at Asbury Park for the edification of a representative group of experts and distinctly they were not pleased.

"He looks like a tired fellow to me," said Eddie Forbes, who only the other night, as referee, cast the ballot which gave Ross victory and McLarnin's welterweight championship. "He may be doing too much work. They are laying him off today and it's about time. He will need all the weight he can pack for Carnera."

MAURY HUGHES SPEAKS HERE

PROMISES FRIENDSHIP FOR TECH COLLEGE; PUNDT ALSO TALKS

Maury Hughes of Dallas brought his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination to Lubbock at a political rally here last night. He promised a real friendship for Texas Technological college and the other large educational units of the state.

John Pundt of Dallas, a candidate for a place on the Texas Railroad commission, spoke prior to Hughes' talk.

The speaking, in a roped-off area on Avenue K between Broadway and Main street, attracted about 1,000 persons.

Advocated Repeal

Hughes, a former chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, advocated educational and judicial reform, immediate repeal of the state liquor statute, an elective highway commission, a state police force, and old-age pensions.

Hughes was the second of the eight candidates for the governorship to speak in Lubbock. He stressed a four-point educational program: 1-a minimum of seven months school for every child; 2-a decent, living wage for all teachers; 3-a retirement fund for aged and disabled teachers and 4-a return as soon as possible to the 1932 scholastic apportionment of $17.50 per capita. He said he was opposed to reducing the rank or merging of any of the present educational institutions.

Wester Introduces Him

J. K. Wester, veteran chairman of the Lubbock county Democratic executive committee, introduced the speaker as "a real Democrat—not a Hoovercrat."

"West Texas has not received what it was entitled to in the past," Hughes said. "It is an empire within itself, and the rest of the state doesn't know anything about it. If I am elected I promise you—not the best—but a square deal."

In speaking of educational reform Hughes proposed adding another one-eighth cent to the present one-fourth cent which the available school funds gets from the gasoline tax. He termed certain cut-off highways as ornamental construction. "I am for good roads," he said, "and I want their construction to continue, but ornamental construction can wait. Education cannot. If I should have to choose between the highway department and school children, I would say, 'to hell with the highway department.' I favor an elective highway commission with the state divided into four districts, each to elect one commissioner."

For Local Option

In urging repeal of both the Dean law and the state constitutional prohibition amendment, Hughes voiced his support for local option. "Repeal would cause more temperance and bring in new revenue to relieve the taxpayer. The larger cities of the state are wide open. Saloons with large 'whisky for sale' signs are flourishing, and nothing is being done about them. A 10 per cent sales tax on liquor not only would eliminate the bootlegger, but would raise between five and six million dollars annually."

The speaker assailed James V. Allred and Tom Hunter, both gubernatorial candidates, as being wet in one section and dry in another.

Proposed State Police

Hughes attacked what he termed laxity in law enforcement, and proposed a state police force with which the Texas rangers would be merged. He charged that politics had rendered the rangers ineffective and that they were costing the state $100,000 a year. He urged judicial reform which would eliminate long delays in trials and reversals on technicalities.

"Our pardon and parole system is wrong," the speaker said. "It encourages the commission of crime." He advocated the federal pardon system which he said was void of politics and under which no commercial criminal could be released, although the door of hope and mercy is never shut to a deserving prisoner."

Opposes Special Taxes

Claiming the federal government had usurped the field, Hughes voiced his opposition to a state income tax. "I am against a sales tax and all other general taxes," he said. "They are fostered by big real estate owners and mortgage holders. I would veto any tax on the necessities of life. I favor a tax, which would raise about $5,000,000, on intangible assets, such as notes, bonds and mortgages, which are now escaping taxation."

Hughes advocated liberal appropriations for eleemosynary institutions, and proposed a state memorial park where war veterans would be buried. His old-age pension plan would provide destitute persons over 65 years old with from $15 to $30 a month, the money to be taken from funds now used for the upkeep of poor houses.

Praises New Deal

The speaker praised the Roosevelt administration and appealed to farmers to support the New Deal in its agricultural program.

Aspirants for county and district offices were scheduled to speak at the rally, starting at 7 o'clock, but as few persons other than the candidates themselves had arrived at that time the speakings were cancelled. The candidates busied themselves with trading and passing out campaign cards.

Pundt Makes Charges

Pundt charged that 400 employes of the commission had been enlisted into a powerful political machine to prevent his election.

"They are using state cars and state gasoline to distribute literature for Lon Smith (present commission chairman) and the campaign will cost the taxpayers of Texas not less than $100,000," Pundt said.

Oil In Muddle

"The oil industry is in the worst muddle that ever existed in history. Truck men have been forced off the highway by unfair decisions of the railroad commission. Farmers and cattlemen have been prohibited from competing with foreign markets."

Pundt advocated reduction in automobile license fees. His proposed taxes would range from $3 on cars costing less than $1,000 to $50 on ones costing more than $3,000. He urged a revaluation of railroads, claiming it would lower freight rates, resulting in more business, more employment and higher wages.

Pundt promised, if elected, to take truck men out of bankruptcy and put their business on a paying basis by increasing the limit on loads.

Pundt was introduced by E. E Gray of Idalou. The candidate planned to leave early today for El Paso and to return here next week.

THREE ACRES OF CEMENTED CLOTH TO GO INTO HUGE STRATOSPHERE BALLOON

Here is the all-metal gondola in which Capt. Albert W. Stevens (right) and Maj. William E. Kepner (left) will attempt a new altitude record in their projected 15-mile flight into the stratosphere this summer. Besides the men, the gondola will contain scientific instruments.

AKRON, Ohio., June 1 (AP)—Enough cloth to make a 20-inch ribbon reaching from earth 15 miles into the stratosphere will go into the huge balloon in which two army officers hope to soar to that same height in June.

On the flight the balloonists will entrust their lives to 300 gallons of rubber cement, for the balloon is being "struck together" instead of sewn, and not a single stitch of thread is going into it. The cemented seams are stronger than the fabric itself. Three acres of cloth, cut in strips shaped like slices of orange peel, are being molded into the balloon, at the Goodyear-Zeppelin factory here.

Largest Balloon

When finished it will be the largest free balloon ever constructed. It will hold three million cubic feet of hydrogen gas, a capacity three and one-half times greater than any previous free balloon and nearly half that of the Navy dirigible Akron.

The balloon will be used on the National Geographic society-army air corps stratosphere flight, on which Capt. Albert W. Stevens and Maj. William E. Kepner will seek to attain a new altitude record and gather much new knowlede of conditions high above the earth.

The balloon will consist of 3,482 major pieces and scores of smaller fragments, all pasted together with the greatest care with rubber cement, and the seams covered on both sides with fabric-backed rubber tape.

Thin Spots Probed

After it is cemented together air will be pumped under the sections of the bag and inspectors will look through it toward strong light to detect any thin spots so that they may be patched. All the cloth in the balloon has received 30 thin coats of rubber.

Rubber cement will be used to attach the catenary band—from which the gondola will be suspended—to the balloon. This band consists of a belt of heavy cloth with its lower edge cut into 160 scallops. Hemmed into these scallops will be a small wire cable forming loops from which will extend ropes attached to the gondola.

Another catenary band will be attached to the balloon higher up where the ropes for handling of the balloon by the ground crew will be fastened.

FEWER VACANT HOUSE FIRES

ORDER TAKES PROFIT FROM INSURANCE ON VACANT DWELLINGS

AUSTIN, June 1. (AP)—The Texas fire insurance department recently credited itself with victory in a two-year war against an "abnormal number of fires" in vacant dwellings.

The chief weapon was an order issued in March, 1932, designed to take profit out of vacant dwelling fires. Fire marshals were required to rigidly inspect unoccupied buildings and to compare with their actual value the amount of insurance carried by owners.

Enforcement of the order resulted in reduction of a large amount of insurance on such risks and in some instances cancellation of all fire liability.

In announcing cancellation of the order, Raymond S. Mauk, state fire insurance commissioner, said:

"Since the adoption and use of this report the losses on this class have been reduced materially; in fact, to such an extent that we believe the report has accomplished its purpose."

Perkins Indicted On Forgery Count

SAN ANTONIO, June 1 (AP)—L. Van Perkins of Cameron, former commander of the Texas department, American Legion, yesterday was indicted by the federal grand jury here for alleged forgery of government compensation and pension checks.

Perkins, who resigned as Texas legion commander recently, and made bond on the complaint against him, is charged with forging signatures to the following checks: Thomas Williams $62.80; John J. Canik, $283.66; Tilman J Archer, compensation, $699.16 and $25, and pension, $37.50 and $112.50.

Man Is Convicted In Bank Robbery

SAN ANTONIO, June 1 (AP)—Ira Madison Akers, alias Mat Akers, was convicted in district court here Wednesday on a charge of robbing the Somerset State bank, Nov. 17, 1933, and assessed a term of 17 years in the state penitentiary.

The defendant did not take the stand during the trial.

The state's argument was that Akers' alibi had been framed and that fingerprints found on the bandit car corresponded with those of Akers.

The defense introduced several witnesses who said they had seen Akers in Houston the day of the robbery.

British War Debt Views Given U. S.

LONDON, June 1 (AP)—The British government's view on war debts and its proposals to avoid being classed a defaulter when an installment payment is due next month have been dispatched to Washington it is understood here.

The British statement is either in the hands of the state department at Washington, or is in the safekeeping of Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, pending the return of President Roosevelt to the capital, it was said in governmental quarters.

Missouri U. Frats To Be Restricted

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 1 (AP)—The University of Missouri proposes to place a restraining hand on the purse strings of its Greek-letter organizations.

Bankers have foreclosed or are threatening to foreclose on many pretentious chapter houses, erected during a million-dollar building spree in the pre-depression days.

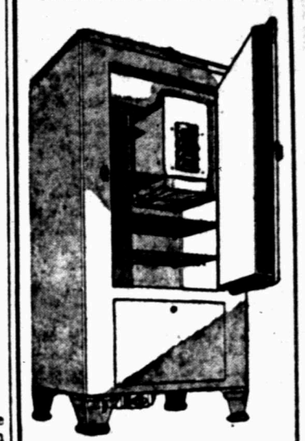

Without funds to meet mortgage bonds, several fraternities have given up their buildings and disbanded.

Malbert K. Heckel, dean of men, blaming mismanagement and over-ambitious building programs, wants a board to control the business operations of the fraternities and sororities.

SLASH IODINE PRICES

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Japanese competition is blamed here cutting the price of Chilean iodine in half from the 1931 figure of 25 cents an ounce. Depreciation of the yen is seen as having greatly encouraged production of iodine in Nippon.

NOT many Democrats have any great love for Senator Borah, first, because he's a Republican and second, because he was one of the main birds who foisted Mr. Hoover off on the unsuspecting public in 1928.

But you'll have to give the Idaho Lone Wolf credit for one thing:

He has served the nation as no other Senator has.

Mr. Borah is more valuable to the country as a whole than he is to his state of Idaho.

He is the 'governor' on the national motor. He calms the boys down and his savage attacks against many a project have saved U. S. many a mistake.

Best thing of all, his verbal onslaughts are just as likely to be directed against Republicans or Progressive GOP's as they are against Democrats.

He doesn't care whose toes he tromps on!

Cave Man Type Of Love Is Out In New Hollywood Pictures; Trend In Movie Romances Is Toward Gentleman Charmer

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 1.—Filmland's lovers have gone genteel.

Now that the lady killers have had their day, an entirely new type of lover will be seen in pictures being prepared for release in the fall. They will be gentlemanly charmers who will woo with honeyed words instead of the cave man methods that have been so popular during the last few years.

And the feminine contingent is cheering loudly. That rough stuff may bring envious sighs from the girls sitting in darkened theaters, but it's no fun for the actresses who have to take it on the chin.

Foremost among the cheering femmes is Constance Bennett, who is the first to get a practical demonstration of the new vogue in love-making.

In her new picture, "The Green Hat," Connie plays the role of a proud and rebellious young English girl who is completely conquered by the gentleness of Herbert Marshall.

This is the film, by the way, which is expected to start the new romantic cycle.

Model Actor

Nobody has been doing much shouting about it, but Pat O'Brien deserves a couple or even three good pats on the back. During the last six or eight months, Pat has been coming to the fore more rapidly than almost any other man on the screen, with such films as "Twenty Million Sweethearts," "Gambling Lady," "I've Got Your Number," and "Hey Sailor" to his credit.

In each he has turned in an excellent performance. Another year of such a record and this young man will be ready for stardom.

The reason you don't hear any more about him is that both he and his wife lead a very quiet private life. They have one of the most beautiful homes in the film colony—all paid for, too—and prefer to spend most of their time there with their own small circle of friends.

Pat may never be in the headlines as some of our stars are—but he'll never be dependent upon the motion picture relief fund, either.

Up Through the West

Any route that is good enough for a star to travel also is good enough for a director, according to Henry Hathaway, who shows promise of becoming one of our leading megaphonists. An assistant director for years, Hathaway was ambitious to become a full-fledged director. But the step is a big one and he knew it.

So when he finally was offered a directorial assignment, he recalled the number of stars who rose to the top after starting in westerns, and asked to do a Zane Grey story first.

He did eight of them in a row and then was assigned "Come on, Marines," followed by "The Witching Hour." Both were hits, so now he is directing Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard in "You Belong to Me."

The old western route worked again.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

"TAKING CARE OF ITS OWN"

Often the charge is heard that while newspapers may campaign against persons of other callings, "journalism takes care of its own".

No one better knows the fallacy of such a claim than the newspaperman, although the general opinion seems to be that his testimony is prejudiced. However, the nation has recently been treated to an example—a proof of the pudding, as it were—in the case of the Leas—Luke, sr., and Luke, jr.

Colonel Luke Lea, a former United States Senator, war hero and executive extraordinary, builded a newspaper empire in Tennessee. His case, in the south, parallels that of Insull the nation over. He was a king and czar until depression came and then, as with so many of our kings and czars, he toppled ignominously from his throne. Various discrepencies were found in his financial dealings and, after a three-year fight, he and his son were recently committed to the North Carolina penitentiary at Raleigh.

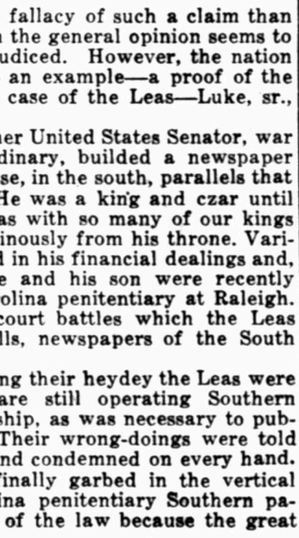

Throughout the broad court battles which the Leas staged to escape prison cells, newspapers of the South have spared them not.

Despite the fact that during their heydey the Leas were friends of many men who are still operating Southern dailies that personal friendship, as was necessary to public good, was thrust aside. Their wrong-doings were told and retold, were criticized and condemned on every hand. And when the Leas were finally garbed in the vertical stripes of the North Carolina penitentiary Southern papers applauded the victory of the law because the great Leas had not kept the faith.

"Journalism takes care of its own" in one respect, only. That is, when members of its craft fall by the wayside they are subjected to just as much, if not more, publicity and criticism than are persons of other callings.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The steel strike threat worries the administration just enough to make it interesting.

Confidential reports indicating that chances are against any major labor blow-up are tempered by the fact that strikers have been displaying spectacular militancy in Toledo, Minneapolis, and elsewhere.

One labor expert has just returned from the steel area with a report that there's about one chance in four of a strike which will wreck the present Roosevelt labor policy and turn the A. F. of L. upside down.

Much will depend on the result of an internal fight now going on between conservative officers of the A. F. of L. steel union, which had about 5000 members a year ago, and leaders of an estimated 75,000 to 100,000 new members.

Factors against a serious labor upheaval in steel are:

The industry is entering the slack season, when there's heavy demand for tin-plate only—a demand which comes from the canners.

Roosevelt normally wouldn't have much trouble in getting A. F. of L. leaders to call off the strike. They don't want one.

The steel industry is well organized and well heeled, probably more closely knit for defense than any other major industry. It has the best developed labor spy system of any and apparently is willing to spend large sums to break a strike.

But if resentment is as bitter as that shown in Toledo and Minneapolis, present A. F. of L. officers will be overridden and there will be no end of trouble, despite the workers' present tepid leadership and lack of organization.

Some insurgent leaders are talking privately of violence and one group of union lodge officials claims to have chartered an airplane to attack steel plants, officials here are advised. But such talk probably can be discounted.

Ickes Goes the Limit

Secretary Ickes invaded Secretary Wallace's favorite field of religion when he addressed the Presbyterian General Assembly at Cleveland. He would have invaded it harder if some who looked over his speech in advance hadn't suggested that it might be just as good policy not to urge the pastors to pay more attention to the affairs of this world and less to those of the next.

Even so, Ickes went as far in comparing the New Deal with Christianity as any Republican campaigner ever did in tying up Herbert Hoover and Abraham Lincoln.

"It is interesting to recall," he said, "that Christ's doctrines were held unconstitutional by the Pharisees of his day."

Ickes has a large and choice vocabulary of profanity, but he left it in Washington.

Salvador Shows Off

Recognition of Japan's state of Manchukuo by the tiny republic of Salvador doesn't exactly enrage the State Department. But officials there suspect the Salvadoreans of enjoying a chance to demonstrate their independence of the United States.

We went two or three years without recognizing their present government, after an alleged coup d'etat, and got around to it only last January.

Salvador hopes to sell coffee to Japanese and Manchukuoans. Neither Japanese nor Manchukuoans drink much coffee, but it is more than suspected here that the former told Salvadoreans that coffee drinking would be encouraged in the future.

Between that promise and what's described as a Salvadorean desire to "show off," Japan has at last persuaded someone to recognize her puppet state. And this government is wondering who's next.

Thorp Ousting Stirs Storm

The Department of Commerce clipping bureau has received more copies of editorials on the Willard Thorp case than on any other incient in its history. Ninety per cent of the editorials protest the way in which Thorp, head of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, was deprived of his job when Senator Stephens of Mississippi persuaded Roosevelt to withdraw the nomination.

Thorp, incidentally, has received offers of two other government posts and is likely to accept one of them.

Week-end MURDER

by GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

AMOS PEABODY, elderly cousin of LINDA AVERILL, falls to his death from the second-floor balcony of the Averills' Long Island home. Linda reaches him just before he dies, in time to hear him gasp, "He pushed me—!"

There are four guests in the house and all become suspects of the murder. All are strong physically, have violent tempers and all have quarreled with Cousin Amos. The four are MR. STATLANDER, middlewestern manager of the firm TOM AVERILL works for; MARVIN PRATT, former suitor of Linda's; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer, and LIAN SHAUGHNESSEY, Irish writer and lecturer.

Linda, realizing her cousin had tried to tell her he was murdered, rushes up the stairs to the balcony. Someone steps behind her, tries to strangle her and she falls in a faint.

She regains consciousness several hours later. It has been assumed Cousin Amos' death was accidental and Linda has no opportunity to tell Tom what really happened.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

It was almost half-past 10 by her little clock when Linda's listening ears heard the welcome spin of gravel under the wheels of a returning car and she opened her eyes to see her mother-in-law tiptoeing out of the room.

"That's Tom!" they both exclaimed, and the older woman laughed a little.

"You needn't worry, Lindy!" she said. "He'll be up here as soon as he can fly, and I'll go downstairs to see if your guests need any help in their final preparations."

When Tom appeared, as promptly as his mother foretold, his wife was sitting up, bright-eyed and looking astonishingly untouched by the recent disaster.

"Now, Linda—what's on your mind?"

Her eager desire for speech did not prevent a flash of gratitude for his direct approach to the subject. No pretense that he'd forgotten it, no argument as to whether she were able to talk.

"Sit down, Tom," she said, and knew as he heard her own voice that the interval, frantically as she had resented it, had strengthened and steadied her. Yet Tom, as he obeyed with more worried perplexity than he permitted himself to show, thought he had never seen Linda look so serious, and as he took the hand she extended he experienced a quick inward shock. It was icy cold and, for all her outward control, decidedly tremulous.

Then she began to talk, quietly, without any signs of weakness or hysteria, and he listened, incredulous but believing. Such things couldn't happen but, if Binks said so, they had! She told of the door that was ajar; of the voices, so indistinct that she had thought one of them his; of her quiet approach and withdrawal, unheard; of her surprise when, downstairs, she saw him in the water; of her pause on the terrace; the scuffle overhead; the sudden hurtling down of Cousin Amos' body and the scant five words which he had strength to gasp. Words which had sent her flying up the steps to identify his assailant—

Averill broke in with an exclamation of horror.

"Linda—alone! Why you might—you might have been killed—!

"I nearly was."

"What's that?"

"I nearly was killed. You—you didn't know it, Tom, but when you thought I waved—well, your being on the raft there, facing the house, saved my life, I guess."

He heard her out grimly. Heard of the silent approach of the man behind her—the man whom she had trapped there and who, fearing detection, tried to silence her forever. Heard why she had involuntarily clutched at the air—a gesture so easily translated into a light-hearted wave! And as she finished with her vague memory that the choking pressure gave, just as she toppled into unconsciousness, he swore briefly, shortly, with the concentrated anguish of futile rage.

"So—what do you think of that?" she concluded, trying to relieve his evident tension by speaking lightly. Face set grimly, eyes burning into hers, he sat there a moment immobile. His look made her realize suddenly, as an outsider would realize, what she had been through, what she had so narrowly missed.

"I think it's murder and attempted murder!" he answered slowly. "Good God—what might have happened—and I wasn't there!" Suddenly he engulfed her with tense, protective, angry tenderness.

"Ouch—my neck!" she exclaimed. She wriggled tentatively, then more violently. "But it's only a little stiff now. Let me get my breath. There! Why—where are you going?"

"To call the police."

"Oh, Tom—wait! That's exactly what I thought you'd say and exactly what you mustn't do, just now, anyway. You don't know anything—whom would you accuse—"

His eyes rested on her speculatively.

"Tom—what do you mean?"

"You don't sound as though you wanted to catch your cousin's murderer as much now as you did when you ran upstairs." His voice was distant, cold.

"I want to catch him more than ever," she said vehemently. "But I know that we must decide together, first, what to say."

"That is simple enough. We can say I found Mr. Pratt bending over you."

She caught her breath at the suggestion.

"Tom—Tom—how can you—"

"How can I what?"

"How can I help it?" His hands clenched. "Linda—do you want to drive me crazy? I'm trying to—hold myself in. It's for your sake I'm going to report it that way instead of—throttling him—choking the life out him—"

"Tom!" She was beside him with one quick movement. "Tom, dear—I forgot that. Of course you think—but wait a minute, honey. Sit down here—" he allowed her to draw him down on the side of the chaise longue but his face was tense and his eyes brooded darkly, not meeting hers. She plunged quickly ahead.

"Dear—there are four men in the house—and four men who may have done it. In fact, you say you saw Mr. Shaughnessey just about the same time and the other two were up, weren't they, by the time you got to the room? How can you be sure which one it was? They'd all had trouble with Cousin Amos. You remember we joked about the 'potential murderers.' Marvin is one of them. He may be the one, that's true—but—"

Her words reached him but they started another train of thought.

"Four of them—and ony one of them might—Linda, those men don't wait for the noon train. They get out of here as quickly as they can pack. I'll stand over every last one—I'll tell them it's that or arrest."

"But, Tom, you were convinced it was an accident. Wasn't everybody?"

"Yes, of course, Binks. How could it seem anything else?"

"That's it exactly. Murder—murder simply doesn't occur to anyone

TENSION SEEN IN BUSINESS

DUN AND BRADSTREET REPORT SAYS TRADE TREND STILL UP

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—While the trend of business continues upward, tension has been spreading in the business world lately, Dun & Bradstreet, reported today in its weekly trade summary.

Uneasiness was attributed to failure of distribution to hold around high levels reached in the first quarter, less favorable crop prospects and labor troubles.

Investment Money Ready

"To counterbalance these retardative influences," the review added, "there is plenty of money awaiting the opportunity for investment as soon as the period of obtrusive regulation will have spent its force.

"Evidently the time has arrived for the removal of all barriers to natural and normal growth of trade, for once given freedom of action, nothing appears in the offing to obstruct its forceful expansion.

"With the alignment of production during the summer so closely to immediate consumption, an abrupt rise is in prospect for the fall, as underlying forces making for recovery are stronger than ever."

Drouth Hurts Trade

In some drouth-stricken regions, according to the review, trade has been brought almost to a standstill.

Consumer demand for goods rose this week over Memorial day, the review said. Expanding demand was noted for staple dry goods, dress materials and cotton goods.

GAS RATES

Mayor Edwards said action of the city's application for a PWA loan and grant to construct a municipal system was still being pushed and the commissioners expected to take no action on any other gas matters until a reply was received on this application.

OIL THEFT RING

the man said, then switched to an oil line in "gasoline alley." On several occasions the oil was "split" between two refineries, he stated. One of the men charged, he added, gave him "about $100" for one of the refinery's portion.

Trouble Reported

Another allegation in the man's statement was that another of the group under charges paid him "$165 to $176" for part of the oil. Later, the statement alleged, trouble developed with the lease owner over the transaction. He charged that two groups were taking oil from the line.

The man's statement implicated refinery men in providing money for various transactions. A man arrested earlier in the investigation told of being approached and offered $50 to close a valve on an oil line. He was doing so when the officers arrested him.

The district attorney's office and the railroad commission investigators began an investigation of a reported oil theft plot last week-end and ordered the arrest of several men. Statements taken then showed that the oil line was tapped under the protection of a paid guard.

Mr. Casteel, who came here with his family about five years ago, was a senior n the arts and sciences division of Texas Technological college and was a member of the College club.

As orchestra leader and music instructor, Mr. Casteel was widely known among members of the younger set here.

His public school education was obtained at Warren, Okla. He was instructed in music by private teachers.

The little composing he did was for use of his own nine-piece orchestra, a member of the family said.

Immediate survivors, in addition to the parents, were three brothers, L. B. M. Casteel of San Antonio, and B. W. and R. M. Casteel of Houston, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Cooper of Lubbock.

SUICIDE PLOT

the district attorney's action.

Bennett's "bomb on wheels" contained 40 sticks of high percentage dynamite and 5 quarts of nitroglycerine wired for an electric-contact explosion, powder experts reported.

Thousands gathered at the mud flat, to which police persuaded Bennett to drive after discovery of the suicide plan Wednesday, as word spread that the "human bomb" was sitting on a "trip to kingdom come." Residents evacuated their nearby homes.

Bennett said he came to Alameda from Detroit five years ago to work in an automobile assembling plant but had been out of work for three years.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Stocks continued to look at the dark side of the market picture today and prices, generally, pointed downward.

Although business news was fairly bright despite seasonal recessions in a number of lines, speculative forces exhibited some nervousness over the possibility of further serious labor disturbances, especially in the steel and textile fields. Trading, while a little more active than in yesterday's session, was still relatively dull.

Grains jumped 3 or more cents a bushel in early transactions, but extreme advances were later reduced under profit-taking based on rain forecasts for some of the drouth-stricken districts. Cotton recovered more than $1 a bale and rubber showed additional improvement. Silver was somewhat heavy. Strength was again the rule among U. S. government securities, but secondary loans sagged with stocks.

Shares of U. S. Steel preferred and Union Pacific lost about 3 points each. U. S. Steel common and Bethlehem Steel both sagged to new lows for the year before steadying. Issues off fractions to a point or more included American Telephone Du Pont, Corn Products, Johns-Manville, Chrysler, General Motors Sears Roebuck, Case, International Harvester, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central Northern Pacific and Liggett and Myers B. The utilities, alcohols and aircrafts were narrow.

Grain Market

FORT WORTH QUOTATIONS

FORT WORTH, June 1 (AP)—Good demand and higher prices ruled the Fort Worth cash grain market today. Two cars of new crop wheat from Grandfield, Okla., were among the 17 cars of this grain arriving here.

Prices quoted by the grain committee of the Fort Worth Grain and Cotton exchange based on bids, offers and actual sales to midday Friday, ranged as follows, basis carloads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery points:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 101 3-4 to 1.05 3-4, barley No. 2 nominally 55-57; No. 3 nominally 54-56. CHICAGO GRAIN REPORT

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP)—Stop-loss selling on a big scale broke out in the grain markets late today, and prices plunged headlong downward. Hectic buying which had characterized the markets earlier today and on previous days appeared to have suddenly given out, and all grains found themselves without any adequate support.

Suggestions of possible breaking of the drouth led to an abrupt change of speculative sentiment.

Late downsweeps of prices carried wheat to 1 1-4 cents below yesterday's finish, but something of a rally was in progress as the closing bell stopped dealings.

Wheat closed irregular 5-8 lower to 1-8 higher compared with 24 hours previous, July 1.01 3-4 to 1.02 1-8, corn 1 3-4 to 2 1-4 down, oats 5-8 to 7-8 advanced, and provisions at a rise of 7 to 10 cents.

Thomas Edison was the first man ever to hear his own voice reproduced, except as an echo.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 1. (AP)—Cotton opened a shade firmer today with moderate trading.

As cables came in better than due, opening trades showed gains of two to four points, and prices improved slightly after the start.

October traded at 11.60, one point better than the opening figure for that option, and three points above yesterday's close.

As the stock market opened easier, a little later October dropped two points to 11.58, still one point above yesterday's close.

The market staged a sharp rally during the middle of the morning with very active trading. This was due to another sharp advance in wheat and grain generally, owing to the continued drouth in the grain belt.

Unfavorable news as to the Russian cotton crop was also a stimulating influence. Shorts covered and the trade bought.

By the time the demand was satisfied July had advanced to 11.60, October to 11.83 and December to 11.94, or 23 to 26 points above the close of yesterday.

Near midsession, prices eased off four to six points from the top on profit taking, but soon rallied again almost to the highs as soon as the realizing was over.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 3 to 5 higher in response to better cables and on reports of crop damage in Russia. July 11.41; Oct 11.63; Dec 11.74; Jan 11.79; Mch 11.88; May 11.96.

The market became more active later. The advance in wheat seemed to bring in some buying, and apprehensions were expressed that the drouth situation in the wheat belt might be repeated in cotton before the end of the season. Prices advanced sharply, with October selling up to 11.85, making a net advance of 27 points. The market at midday was 3 to 4 points off from the best showing net gains of about 20 to 23 points.

Houses with foreign connections were again buyers of near months here at the opening while there was a scattering demand, which became rather more active following the opening advance in the wheat market. July contracts sold up to 11.46 and December to 11.79 making net gains of 9 to 10 points on these positions while May advanced to 12.00 or 5 points net higher with the market steady at the end of the first half hour.

SUSPECT HELD ABOARD SHIP

STEWARD DETAINED IN PROBE OF WOMAN'S DEATH IN TEXAS

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, June 1. (AP)—Robert Jones, a steward, was still in detention aboard the Canadian liner Lady Nelson in connection with the murder of a woman in Texas when the vessel sailed for Trinidad today.

Police said it rested with the American consul at Port-of-Spain as to whether he would be arrested.

The curly-haired steward was questioned for United States authorities who said he resembled Arthur Wilson of Cleveland, accused of killing Mrs. Irene Debolt of Cleveland, in Texas last fall.

He was not permited to land here. H. A. Georgetown, detective, accompanied him as far as Beacon Mouth river today, returning with a pilot.

Jones, who declared he was a native of Toronto, Ont., and had resided in Montreal before joining the Canadian National Steamship service last December, was confined in the crew's hospital under charge of the captain.

The detective said the young steward appeared cheerful and unconcerned about the whole affair, spending most of his time reading and talking to his shipmates, but avoiding discussions of his detention.

"See you on the return trip," he called out as the detective left the liner.

The detective said Jones had been detained at the request of American Consul A. L. Demorest in Port-of Spain and the consul probably had further instructions from Washington regarding the case.

gopher trap, the package containing nothing but paper.

Investigators said Sutton was raking up leaves on his property which he acquired when he moved here from Michigan in September, 1933, and which adjoins Markham's estate, when his rake caught on the package.

Sutton picked up the trap and delivered it to the sheriff's sub-station in Altadena, explaining what had happened. After being questioned, he was released.

Subsequently Markham employed private detectives and it was their investigation, in coordination with department of justice agents, which led to Sutton's arrest.

"The people of the debtor nations will also bear in mind the fact that the American people are certain to be swayed by the use which debtor countries make of their available resources — whether such resources would be applied for the purposes of recovery as well as for reasonable payment on the debt owed to the citizens of the United States, or for purposes of unproductive nationalistic expenditure or like purposes.

"I can only repeat that I have made it clear to the debtor nations again and again that 'the indebtedness to our government has no relation whatsoever to reparations payment made or owed to them' and that each individual nation has full and free opportunity individually to discuss its problem with the United States."

Hollywood Mourns Lew Cody's Death

HOLLYWOOD, June 1. (AP)—Beneath its grease paint, laughter mock drama and tragedy, Hollywood silently grieved today at the passing of Lew Cody, its favorite master of ceremonies, man-about-town and bon vivant.

Not since the death of his laughter-loving wife, Mabel Norman, has Hollywood felt so keenly the passing of an individual.

To producer and stage hand alike, Cody was known as "Lew." His home was always open house. He was noted for his filmland philanthropies.

Death, unlike the life he led, came quietly in his sleep. He was found dead in his bed late yesterday in his Beverly Hills home apparently from a heart attack.

The meeting was asked for by buyers, K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department at Tech and a member of the state committee in charge of grading, explained.

Samples were displayed and buyers and students sampled and tested them for grade.

M. G. Pederson, assistant to Mr. Renner, took charge of the meeting when Mr. Renner had to leave because of a trip to Austin. He discussed grades with buyers and others.

A. H. Brooks, of the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company; H. R. Doughtie, Swift and Co., and J. W. McIlhaney of the McIlhaney Creamery, were present, as well as a number of their station managers. CUBANS RENEW DISORDERS

ANTI-AMERICAN RIOTS CONTINUE AS PLATT TREATY ABROGATED

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, June 1.—The Cuban government held its army in readiness today to combat further disorders as a series of anti-American outbreaks showed no sign of abatement.

Grave concern was felt by authorities, their responsibility increased when President Roosevelt signed the treaty dismissing the United States' 33-year-old privilege to intervene—the Platt amendment.

Col. Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army, ordered all soldiers at the Matanzas garrison to be held in barracks. Similar instructions were given the Havana police force.

Attached to rocks, notes reading "down with Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador," were thrown through the windows of the North German Lloyd and Hamburg American steamship lines last night. They were signed "the communist party of Cuba."

This incident followed on the heels of an apparently incendiary fire which destroyed a large paper mill, owned partly by Americans and insured by an American company. Owners said the loss would not exceed $600,000. An attack was made on Caffery's life Sunday, the second, he said, within three weeks.

LOCAL WOMAN IS FINED FOR THEFT

While authorities continued to unravel a series of shopliftings, a 51-year-old Lubbock woman this morning was charged with theft in three cases and fined $10 in each upon pleading guilty in corporation court this morning.

Complaints charged her with taking a dress each from Barrier-Durham Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., and J. C. Penney Co., stores here.

Officers questioned six persons and recovered five dresses and a hat in the cases Thursday. The woman charged this morning was held in city jail overnight. Another woman possibly would be charged today, authorities said.

Police and the district attorney's staff worked on the case until 11:30 o'clock last night. Suspects were questioned by District Attorney Daniel A. Blair; Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, and Chief of Police H. L. Johnston. Deputy Sheriffs Baxter Honey and Cap Moore and Policemen Bill Mabray and Grady Harrist aided in the investigation.

Two residences in 1900-block Avenue P were searched on warrants issued in Justice of the Peace W. S. Clark's court.

Suspects included two men and their wives, the woman held in city jail, and her son.

Britain's Hitler?

England's Fascist movement was launched with great impressiveness when more than 10,000 men and women crowded London's Albert Hall to hear Sir Oswald Mosely (above), leader of the British Black Shirts, expound the purposes of the movement which he started but 18 months ago. The meeting was the British Fascists' first test of power.

McCutcheon, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that heretofore on February 1, 1934, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of those certain tracts or parcels of land, situated in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, holding, owning and claiming them by fee simple title, to-wit: Lot 17, in Block 15, in the McCrummen's Second Addition to the town of Lubbock; the West 46 feet of lots 13 and 14, in Block 8 of Caver's Subdivision of Block 8 of the Roberts and McWhorter Addition to the town of Lubbock; the West 46 feet of Lots 13 and 14, in Block 8 of the Roberts and McWhorter Addition to the town of Lubbock; Lot 18, in Block 15, in the McCrummen's Second Addition to the town of Lubbock; the East 47 feet of Lots 13 and 14, in Block 8 of Caver's Subdivision of Block 8 of the Roberts and McWhorter Addition to the town of Lubbock; 47x100 feet out of the middle part of Lots 13 and 14, in Block 8 of Caver's Subdivision of Block 8 of the Robert and McWhorter Addition to the town of Lubbock described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning 46 feet East from the Southwest corner of Lot 13, said Block 8 of Caver's Subdivision; Thence East 47 feet; Thence North at right angles across Lots 13 and 14, in said Block 8, to N. line of Lot 14; Thence West along said North line of Lot 14, a distance of 47 feet; Thence South at right angles across Lots 13 and 14 to point of beginning; Lot 15, in Block 8 of Caver's Subdivision of Block 8 of the Roberts and McWhorter Addition to the town of Lubbock; and the East 37 feet of lot 10, in Block 34, in Highland Heights Addition to the town of Lubbock. That on the date aforesaid, the defendants unlawfully entered upon the aforesaid premises and ejected the plaintiff therefrom and do continue to unlawfully withhold from him the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of $2000.00.

Plaintiff further says that as a basis for recovery of said tracts of land, that he is the owner of the superior title thereto, growing out of the fact that the defendant, Wm. McCutcheon executed to on Chas. P. O'Neall vendor's lien notes against said several tracts of land, all of said notes being past due, and were transferred to plaintiff along with the vendor's lien, contract lien and superior title, and that the defendants have failed to pay said notes, and plaintiff has elected to rescind said sale contracts and sues for said land.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, this the 23rd day of May, A. D., 1934.

in—well, in our type of home. And anyhow it had every appearance of an accident. You went all over the ground, didn't you?"

"Sure—with Parsons. Into the bedroom, out on the balcony."

"And neither of you saw anything?"

"What was there to see? An empty bed—an open door—a torn railing—"

"And the body of an old man who fell over, headfirst, hit the stones below and was killed. Was the doctor even surprised that the fall killed him?"

"N-no. Of course it was only one story but the old-fashioned balcony is quite high and he did go headfirst. His head was—well, badly crushed."

"There!" He didn't suspect!"

"No—no, he didn't."

"Did you see—any clue?"

"What do you mean? Oh, traces of the man! No, nothing."

"And what would there be to see?" It's only in books that a murderer leaves a cigaret case or a long blond hair, or something of the sort. If a man walks into a room at 6 a. m. or thereabouts when everyone in the house is sleeping, throws an old man over the rail and goes back to his room what earthly trace could anyone ever find—unless—?"

"Unless what, Binks? The police can at least question them—"

"The police! The police of this village!" She paused to give his own imagination time to work. "In the first place could we even convince the police? What possible proof could we give? It happened so early—there were no witnesses. All the men were in their rooms—or could say they were. I thought I was choked—but I fell unconscious and might simply have fainted. You were swimming in, with your eyes full of water, and you thought you saw a man. And think of those particular four men—can you imagine one of them bearing the idea of being accused of murder patiently? Nobody—nobody from outside—could possibly find out a thing from them."

"In fact," agreed Tom slowly, "they—the police—would just laugh at the suggestion of murder and if they did investigate in their usual dumb way they'd be licked before they started."

"And then, Tom, it would be ended! The men would all go as quickly as they could and we would never know."

He smiled a little wrily and patted her hand.

"Well, Binks, what's up your sleeve?"

"A plan that I know will work. Remember they have no idea—the murderer has no idea—that I know it was murder. That's our great advantage. I came hurrying into the room and caught him there. He hid and choked me, but you've all taken for granted that I fainted. Isn't it natural that I think the same thing? So, as it stands now, there's been an accident. I've come to after a prolonged fainting spell brought on by shock. I don't remember anything but a choking sensation before 'everything went black.' Isn't that the proper expression?

"So you and I are free to act and the first thing we must do is to make those men stay here. They must finish out the week-end just as we planned it, or as nearly so as possible."

Black Swim Suits For Blonds

Carole Lombard of the movies advises black for the blond who wants to go in the water—or near it. To show the effect, she wears this black silk jersey swimming suit with a v-neckline in front, dissolving into semi-straps and ties at the back of the neck. (Associated Press Photo)

PER CAPITA FIRE LOSS HERE IS LOW

Lubbock was credited with a below-average per capita fire loss last year. It was only $1.02 as compared with other Texas cities ranging upward to $3.18 for Dallas.

Lowest per capita loss was credited to Brownsville, which averaged 21 cents in fire loss for every resident. This low rate, according to Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, is a result of adobe and tile construction in Brownsville.

Other per capita figures for Texas towns included:

Abilene $1.78, Amarillo $1.36, Austin $2.26, Beaumont $1.08, Corpus Christi $1.04, El Paso 50 cents, Fort Worth $2.92, Galveston $1.52, Houston $2.39, Laredo 53 cents, San Angelo, $1.80, San Antonio 64 cents, Texarkana $1.80, Waco $2.18, and Wichita Falls $3.11.

Caliche Spreading Started Near Post

By Staff Correspondent

POST, June 1—Spreading of caliche on the first sector of a 15-mile stretch of paving from Post north to the county line has been started by the Morgan Construction company.

About five miles of state highway No. 7 from the city limits north to on top of the caprock has been fenced off. Forms were set and a rock crusher set up on the side of the cap, near the highway.

First hauling of caliche from the pit began Wednesday. As soon as the caliche courses are finished, the asphalt topping will be started.

The prairie of our midwestern states have large reefs formed by sponges, proving that the land was originally covered by a great sea millions of years ago.

Local Doctor Has Century-Old Clock; Still Keeps Time

A century ago people bought clocks with the same sort of discrimination with which they now buy automobiles.

"Warranted if well used"—that is the guarantee on a wooden clock owned by Dr. T. A. McIlroy of Lubbock. It has been in his family for 104 years.

The clock is made of apple-wood and oak with the exception of the pendulum, one sprochet, and the pinions, and has kept perfect time since the day it was sold new to Dr. McIlroy's grandfather, Hammet McIlroy, in Randolph county, Arkansas, in 1830.

Traded For Clock

Hammet McIlroy traded two sows and a couple of razorback hogs for the clock, or rather, he promised to pay for the clock as soon as the hogs were ready for market.

Dr. McIlroy inherited the clock upon the death of his mother in Hood county last March. He keeps it in his down-town office and only has to wind it daily. Careful instructions are given as to the care of the time-piece after the manner of the instruction sheets pasted on the windshields of new cars.

According to the legend on the inside of the box it is a "Patent Clock," invented by one Eli Terry; and made and sold by Henry Jenny & Co., Plymouth, Conn. "N. B. The Public may be assured that this kind of clock will run as long without repairs and will be as durable and accurate for keeping time as any clock, whatever."

First Wheat Sold On Ft. Worth Mart

FORT WORTH, June 1 (AP)—First wheat of the 1934 harvest actually to be sold on any American market, so far as known, was delivered in Fort Worth Thursday morning.

This truck load of grain came from Justin and weighed 60 pounds to the bushel. It was grown on the farm of J. J. Hathorn, who is combining his crop this year.

Universal Mills purchased this wheat, paying 80 cents a bushel plus a premium of 5 cents a bushel to the farmer for getting the first wheat on the market.

CALL CZECH POLICE

PRAHA (AP)—Automobiles yelling "Help! Police!" are expected to reduce the mounting number of car thefts here. A leading automobile factory is testing a device which starts yelling the moment an unauthorized hand starts the car. The faster the car goes, the louder is the yell.
