Terrific Aerial Barrage Opens All-Out Push

Doughboys Smash Forward In Wake Of Heavy Shelling

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 22—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces unlimbered this afternoon their greatest assault since the storming of the beaches of Normandy—a combined land and air attack intended to crack the last defenses of the fortified city of Cherbourg.

The attack began when waves of British and American planes swept in with a terrific aerial bar-

GERMAN DIVISIONS TRAPPED

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—American forces in the Cherbourg peninsula have trapped elements of three German divisions in the Normandy port and its environs, War Secretary Stimson reported today. The "striking advances" which gave the doughboys possession of the entire neck of the peninsula were credited in large part by the secretary to British and Canadian operations at the southeastern end of the Normandy front. The Allied forces there "so engaged the enemy that he had no uncommitted strength to threaten the American corridor."

rage lasting 80 minutes, a field dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Don Whitehead reported.

Rocked back on their heels by the weight of this assault in which light and medium bombers dropped down almost to cannon-mouth level to drop their explosive charges, the Germans were immediately beset by a thunderous artillery pounding which left smoke and flame sweeping the German forts.

Doughboys Follow Barrage

American doughboys of Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, drawn up in position tensely waiting the effect of these blows, then swept forward.

They last were reported hammering at Fort du Roule, only about 1,500 yards south of the military port, and at Fort Octeville, only slightly farther away to southwest.

The latest headquarters announcements showed that the concentric attack had virtually split the German garrison into three segments.

Bradley's troops captured St. Pierre Eglise, 8½ miles east of the port and the last road junction leading to Cherbourg from Cape Barfleur, isolating the Germans in the northwestern tip of the peninsula. Other troops coming up from the south had entered Quettehou, a large town near St.

Allies Nearing Prized Port On Adriatic Coast

Air Force Lashes Enemy Shipping In Italian Areas

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, June 22 — Allied and Italian troops are within 32 miles of Ancona, prize Italian port on the Adriatic coast, while Eighth army troops are approaching Camerino, approximately 35 miles east and a little north of Peruglia, Allied headquarters announced today.

American forces to the west have pushed on 15 airline miles northwest of Grosseto. In all land operations, although weather has improved, misty conditions are preventing cross-country movements on a large scale, a communique said.

ITALIAN AREAS POUNDED

ROME, June 22 (U.P.)—Up to 350 American heavy bombers attacked rail and industrial targets in northern Italy today for the first time since bad weather set in last Friday.

The advance toward Ancona, ranking next to Venice in port facilities in that coastal sector, was made by troops which have reached Fermo, only 65 airline miles below Rimini, the eastern anchor of the so-called Pisa-Florence-Rimini line, where the fleeing Germans may offer stiff resistance against the Allied drive.

Eighth Army Advances

Eighth army troops have also approached Nocero Umbra, 14 miles west of Camerino. Limited gains were made north of the newly-taken ancient fortress city of Perugia, and in the Lake Trasimeno area west of Perugia, despite strong resistance.

A field dispatch from Correspondent Sid Feder said casualties inflicted upon the Germans during the past 41 days of the Allied offensive in Italy were estimated unofficially at between 80,000 and 100,000 killed, wounded and captured. More than 27,000 Nazis have been taken prisoner.

Air Activity Stepped Up

The Mediterranean Air force stepped up its activity, making 1,100 individual plane flights in attacking shipping in Livorno harbor, battle area targets and a railyard at Ventimiglia on the Italian Riviera. There were no losses.

The communique disclosed that in a "spirited naval engagement" in connection with the ousting of the Germans from Elba, light coastal forces torpedoed three loaded enemy lighters attempting to evacuate troops, and possibly sank a fourth. In another engagement a single enemy lighter was sunk.

(The Berlin radio said German troops were evacuated from the island of Pianosa, south of Elba, and the island of Palmajola, between the mainland and Elba, at the same time the Allies siezed Elba).

Big Push Launched To Wipe Out Saipan Japs

Grim Challenge Is Forced On Jap Fleet; Seabees Put Big Airfield In Operation

ABOARD A JOINT EXPEDITIONARY FORCE FLAGSHIP Off Saipan, June 22.—Shielded by a great American battle fleet standing off the Marianas, U.S. marines and Army troops launched a major attack this morning to wipe out the Japanese defenders of Saipan island.

The situation forced upon Japan's elusive grand fleet the grimmest challenge yet presented it to come in and fight.

The enemy fleet, still avoiding surface battle after almost a week of complex naval fencing in the vast ocean stretches between the Marianas and the Philippines, had the bitter choice between fighting or abandoning Saipan's weakening garrison to destruction.

Front Extends Across Island

On Saipan, the American attack began shortly after dawn with veteran forces pushing ahead along a four-mile front extending entirely across the island from the outskirts of Garapan town on the western shore and eastward along the slopes of Mt. Tapotchau to Magicienne bay on the east.

At one point, the Marines advanced one mile in the first three hours.

In exactly one week of fighting, the Americans had effected a landing across the reefs in the face of extremely heavy fire and had captured the southern third of the island, including two airfields. One of these fields was Aslito airdrome, the most valuable in the Marianas which was ready for operation today after Seabees repaired and extended its 3,600 foot main runway.

Japs Number 20,000

The Japanese, who numbered at least 20,000 fought with ferocity and with the advantage of entrenched positions along the steep ridges and made the American advance slow during the first several days. They used batteries of mortars and considerable artil-

FIFTH FLEET BOSS—Adm. Raymond A. Spruance is commander of the U. S. Fifth fleet which covered the Saipan invasion and Monday sent carrier-based planes against the elusive Jap navy. The carrier task force was under the immediate tactical command of Vice Admiral M. H. Mitscher.

Allied Fliers Hammer Nazis

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 22 (AP)—A fleet of light and medium bombers carried out a crushing offensive in support of American troops hammering into Cherbourg today, while big forces of American heavy bombers plowing through flak barrages attacked Pas-de-Calais rocket-bomb installations.

Marauders, Havocs and Thunderbolts swooped down to within 100 feet of German cannon to drive home the closest support yet given Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's doughboys.

Fortresses and Liberators gave the rocket launching grounds their fourth pounding in less than 24 hours.

Farflung Aerial Attacks

The daylight blow followed a night of farflung aerial attacks extending from France to Germany's industrial Ruhr and Berlin—dwarfing the Germans' cross-channel barrage of rocket bombs, which they asserted today are now coming over with incendiary loads.

(The Germans also said, without confirmation, that the American planes which bombed Berlin yesterday and flew on to Russia used an airbase at Poltava in the Ukraine, 1,500 miles from London. The Allies announced that some fighter planes escorting the Berlin bombers also flew to Russia.)

Last night Berlin was attacked by speedy Mosquitos while British Lancasters hit Ruhr and Rhineland objectives.

More Fleet Formations

Close upon the Fortress-Liberator blow at the Pas-de-Calais area in the morning another great fleet roared out over the channel in the same direction this afternoon, stirring up a great barrage

Soviets Launch New Drives On Finnish Front

Quick End To War Hoped For; Peace Bid Is Expected

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 22. (AP) — The Red Army hurled masses of men and equipment into two new drives on . broad front north of Lake Ladoga today in an effort to make a quick end of the war with Finland, already reported in the throes of a government upheaval which may be the prelude to a bid for peace.

Launching of the drives was announced last night in a Moscow communique, which also disclosed that Soviet forces advancing from captured Viipuri on the Karelian isthmus south of Lake Ladoga were within 20 miles of the border fixed at the end of the 1939-40 Finnish-Russian war.

Government Faces Crisis

The political situation in Helsinki as the Russians intensified pressure on the staggering Finnish army remained obscure, but there were strong indications that the Finnish government was facing a crisis.

A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm said a Finnish peace cabinet had already been selected. An Associated Press Stockholm dispatch said the Swedish paper Svenska Dagbladet declared the Finnish government crisis had been "defacto solvo," a phrase interpreted to mean that the cabinet was reformed, and could ask Moscow for armistice conditions.

New Soviet Offensives

The new Russian offensives were launched on the third anniversary of the German invasion of the Soviet union, and apparently were aimed at clearing the Murmansk-Leningrad railway of Finnish forces.

One of the thrusts was launched along the Svir river, between Lakes Ladoga and Onega (Onezhskoe), approximately 150 to 200 miles northeast of Viipuri. The other was started about 100 miles further north, above Lake Onega, and cracked Finnish lines east of Medvezgorsk, at the northwestern tip of the lake.

The broadcast Russian communique said that in the first day of the attack along the Svir more than 200 populated places had been occupied.

Nearer Finnish Capital

Plunging beyond the burning ruins of Viipuri, Red Army units were within 120 miles of the Finnish capital of Helsinki after taking more than 50 additional places, the Soviet communique added.

Meanwhile the Soviet information bureau, in a review on the third anniversary of the German attack on Russia, said more than 7,800,000 Germans have been killed or captured in the three years of fighting, compared with 5,300,000 Russians killed, missing or captured.

German losses totaled 70,000 tanks, 60,000 airplanes and more than 90,000 pieces of artillery, while Russian losses were 49,000 tanks, 30,128 airplanes and 48,000 guns, the bureau said.

Four Enemy Ships Sunk, 9 Hit In Surprise Blow

Nips' Elusive Fleet Caught Off Marianas, Philippines; Carrier, Three Tankers Sunk; No U. S. Ships Are Lost

(By The Associated Press)

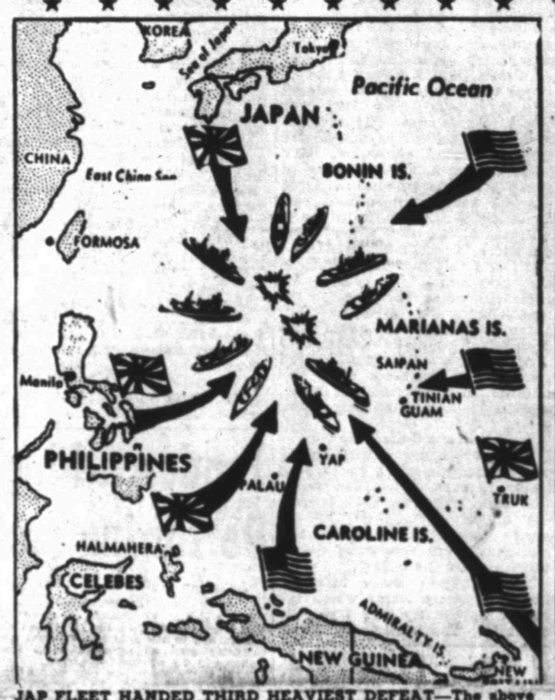

American Pacific fleet planes staggered Japan's elusive fleet Monday in a surprise attack which cost the enemy one aircraft carrier and three other ships sunk and at least nine damaged, including a battleship.

The elusive enemy fleet, caught completely off base, offered no effective counteraction and fled from contact with the mighty U.S. Fifth fleet hovering between the Marianas and Philippine islands.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported also that in the Sunday air battle the enemy lost 353 planes instead of the previously-reported 300. This was an even greater air victory than that achieved by the American fleet at Midway two years ago.

The Midway battle still ranked first in this war's Pacific naval actions, however, followed in scope by the Guadalcanal battle in November 1942.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

JAP FLEET HANDED THIRD HEAVIEST DEFEAT—The above map shows general location of the surprise attack staged in the waning hours of Monday afternoon against major units of the Japanese fleet. At least four enemy vessels were sunk and nine or ten damaged, the third heaviest setback of the war for the Rising Sun navy. Carrier-based planes of the Fifth U. S. fleet nailed the enemy armada when it came out from the channel between Formosa and Luson (Philippines). The Jap fleet refused to close for surface action. (NEA Telemap).

The action ended at nightfall with the Japanese fleeing and there was no indication that the battle had been resumed.

Adm. Nimitz also announced that 353 enemy planes were shot down in the Japanese futile attempt Sunday on Adm. Mitscher's force. This added 53 enemy craft to the previous estimate of 300 destroyed.

Three U. S. Ships Damaged

Two U. S. carriers and one battleship suffered "superficial damage" and 21 aircraft were lost in combat. A fleet spokesman said superficial damage means the ship's capacity for battle was not impaired, indicating these three probably participated in Monday's action.

The attack of the Fifth fleet under command of Adm. Raymond A. Spruance was such a complete surprise that the Japanese apparently made no counterattack against any of our surface units.

Adm. Nimitz said the Japanese force consisted of four or more battleships, five or six carriers, five fleet tankers and unspecified number of cruisers and destroyers.

Jap Casualties Listed

He listed these casualties inflicted on the enemy:

"One carrier, believed to be the Zuikaku (17,000 tons) received three 1,000 pound bomb hits.

"One Hayataka class carrier was sunk.

"One Hayataka class carrier was severely damaged and left burning furiously.

"One light carrier (probably around 10,000 tons) Zuiho Taiho class received at least one bomb hit.

"One Kongo class battleship (29,000 tons) was damaged.

"One cruiser was damaged.

"Three destroyers were dam-

Another Toll Taken For Pearl Harbor

Jap Fleet Shuns Real Slugfest

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(Substituting For DeWitt Mackenzie)

It's grand news from the Pacific today, where we have exacted another payment for Pearl Harbor, but again the Japanese appear to have evaded all efforts to force them into a real slugfest.

Our planes have inflicted losses which amount to a severe amputation, but both the communique and a report from Rembert James, AP correspondent with the Fifth fleet, indicate that yesterday's hopes from a real contact battle have gone glimmering.

The Navy apparently felt until yesterday that there was chance of further action, and enthusiasm was high. This was sufficient indication of our overwhelming strength, and we might have guessed then that the enemy would get away with all he could.

Not "Grand Fleet"

Earlier reports that the Japanese force consisted of a large portion of the grand fleet proved unfounded, although its strength, prior to the arrival of our planes, was nothing to be sneezed at. But there is nothing to indicate now that it ever had any intention of standing up to Adm. Spruance's force.

The most likely explanation of its presence, in the light of devel-

Lubbock remained the "hot spot" of Texas Wednesday for the second consecutive day with high temperature of 108 degrees being reported by the West Texas Gas company at 4 p. m.—the sixth straight day of 100-plus weather.

Although the day-time heat is intense, the nights are cool as is evidenced by low temperature of 73 degrees, recorded at 7 o'clock this morning, a drop of 35 degrees.

Continued hot weather was in prospect for this afternoon as the forecast was for fair weather. However, it was not expected that the temperature would go as high as Wednesday afternoon as only 100 degrees was recorded at 2 o'clock at the main pipeline station of the gas company.

Lubbock's siege of high temperatures began last Friday when the mercury went up to 101, the first time it had topped the century mark this year. It was 102, Saturday, 106 Sunday, 101 Monday and 106 Tuesday.

No one disputed that Wednesday was summer's first official day.

TEXANS GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE FOR RELIEF

(By The Associated Press)

The weatherman, forecasting fair weather and hot, held out little promise for relief today to a sun drenched Texas.

Three deaths already had been attributed to the heat this week.

Wichita Falls and Clarendon reported 101, San Angelo, 100 and Dallas 99.7.

Funeral services were arranged in Breckenridge for A. R. Alexander, 62, of Baird, who died of heat exhaustion at Wichita Falls Tuesday. Two other heat victims died in Dallas Tuesday.

Regular Demos Win

AUSTIN, June 22 (U.P.)—The Texas Supreme court today declined to order that names of presidential electors be placed on the ballot for the Democratic primary election July 22.

This was a victory for the regular Democratic convention group which has certified names of electors to the secretary of state to be placed on the November general election ballot.

Gasoline "A" Rations Become Valid Today

DALLAS, June 22 (U.P.)—Today is a banner day for Texans with "A" gasoline rations.

The new 12-A series of ration coupons, good for three gallons each, became valid this morning.

The 24-gallon allotment must last for three months.

Nazis Report Raid On Soviet Airfield

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—The German radio said today that German bomber formations had made a large-scale attack against the Russian airfield at Poltava in the Ukraine—where the Germans earlier had said American shuttle bombers were resting after their attack on Berlin from Britain yesterday.

"For about an hour several hundred heavy caliber high explosives and thousands of incendiary bombs were dropped on installations of this large Soviet airdrome," said a DNB broadcast.

"Conflagrations were observed in every part of the field."

Neither the report that U. S. Air forces were based at Poltava nor the account of the attack was confirmed in Allied quarters. Poltava is about 550 miles northeast of Bucharest and 1,500 miles on a direct line from London.

House Studying Insurance Bill

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Legislation intended to cancel out the Supreme court's opinion that the insurance business is subject to anti-trust laws held the attention of the House today as Congress raced to a summer recess.

Three hours of debate were set aside to dispose of the measure, with the prospect that half a dozen departmental supply bills awaiting final action would be sandwiched in.

The legislation is the outgrowth of a case involving federal action against 198 insurance companies accused of conspiracy to fix and maintain arbitrary and non-competitive rates on fire insurance sold in southern states. A federal district court sustained a demurrer to the indictment on the ground insurance was not interstate commerce and hence was not subject to the anti-trust laws.

Subsequently, in a split opinion reversing its stand of 75 years, the Supreme court held that insurance is interstate commerce.

States' Rights Involved

Backers of the legislation, a six-line proposal, contend it is necessary to protect the right of states to regulate insurance and to block control of that business by a federal bureaucracy. Opponents insist its enactment will result in transfer of insurance business to big companies to the detriment of the smaller ones.

Half a dozen appropriation bills competed with the insurance measure for House attention, but on most of them there remained only the formality of agreeing to compromises worked out by Senate-House committees. A war contract termination bill already passed by both branches was in the same status.

Disposed of in a burst of speed yesterday were several appropriation bills, legislation to extend wartime price, wage and rent controls for an additional year, until

Bank Is Robbed At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, June 22. (AP)—A slight, thin-faced, nervous man, clenching a small bottle he indicated contained nitroglycerin, robbed the Continental National Bank here of $6,000 this morning at 9:55 a. m. and escaped in the street crowds.

He thrust a note, captioned "nitroglycerin," in capital letters and demanding $6,000 in bills of large denomination, through the window of the cage of Mrs. Freda Denton, teller, and threatened:

"I'm desperate. Be calm, or I'll blow this bank and us to kingdom come. I'm watching every move you make."

Mrs. Denton handed over the money.

Robber Was Unmasked

The robber, unmasked, weighed about 135 pounds, measured 5 feet and 9 inches, and was in his 30s. He wore a blue suit, believed to be double-breasted, and a tan straw hat.

Mrs. Denton said she did not have time to read all the note the man thrust at her—he began talking immediately. Clenched in his hand, she said, was a small bottle containing a milky fluid.

She said the note demanded large bills in the specified sum and instructed her to place currency in a sack, which she did.

"There was nothing else to do," she said.

The loss was covered by insurance.

Immediate Reduction In Premium Gas Due

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—An immediate reduction in the amount of premium gasoline for civilian use was announced today by Secretary Ickes because of military demands for tetraethyl lead.

Ickes told a press conference he has been forced to order a cut in premium gasoline during July, and for an unpredictable number of months to come, to about 40 per cent of the supply in June.

He said the order does not reduce the civilian supply of gasoline because refineries will be allowed to increase the manufacture of regular gasoline, no higher than 72 octane, to compensate for the cutback in premium gasoline production.

"In effect," Ickes said, "the cutback merely erases the increased sales of premium gasoline that have occurred since the outbreak of war and returns production of premium gasoline to the same levels that prevailed in August, 1942."

Consumption of premium gasoline, around 76 octane, is estimated to have been about 22,800,000 gallons daily during June.

SAN ANTONIO ENLARGED

FDR Signs G. I. 'Bill Of Rights'

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the "G.I. bill of rights" setting up a vast government aid program for veterans of this war.

With congressional leaders and heads of veterans' organizations looking on, the chief executive put his signature to the measure authorizing federal loans, hospitalization, job insurance, schooling and other ex-service benefits estimated to cost between $3,000,000,000 and $6,500,000,000.

The President said the bill carries out most of the recommendations he has made for veterans' aid and notifies the members of the armed forces that the people at home will not let them down.

Other Legislation Urged

He urged additional war service legislation, however, to give veterans social security credit toward old age pensions for the time served in the armed forces and to provide education and unemployment compensation benefits for members of the merchant marine. What veterans want more than anything, he said, is assurance of employment after the war.

Parenthetically he urged the Congress to hasten work on legislation providing compensation for war workers during the industrial shift from war to peace-time manufacturing and recommended prompt action on legislation to provide for the orderly disposal of postwar surpluses.

Crew Of Ship In Pacific Sends Donation To Help Pay Demands Of Money-Hungry Strikers

Sirs:

We the crew of the U. S. S. Coos Bay, which consists mainly of survivors of other naval ships or veterans of major naval engagements, and all who have seen action not once but many times and who, while on this cruise, have not had a liberty for one full year, feel that we can do more than fight and even give our lives if necessary for our country. We are willing to help pay the wage increase from our meager pay that money-hungry strikers are demanding if they will just continue to produce the implements necessary so that we can end this war. We have seen war—and we hate it.

Collect Money From Crew

We have chosen you as our agent or go-between to represent us in our campaign to 'buy off' the present strikers of the Wright Aircraft corporation with the money we have collected from our small crew: A total of 41,200 pennies.

Please implore them to end their strike and accept our offer to help pay their wage increase which they feel is more important than our lives.

Ask them not to strike in the future but, instead, to let the men in the war zone know of their dissatisfaction and they will gladly chip in each month to save them from starvation so that they may continue to produce arms for us to defeat their enemy as well as ours, and so that we may come home soon to see the ones we love, our sons and daughters whom we have never seen and our wives and

Will Rogers' Widow Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 22 (AP)—Will Rogers' widow, whom he courted on a bicycle and whom he called "my first sweetheart," is dead.

Mrs. Betty Blake Rogers, 65, succumbed at the Rogers ranch home in Santa Monica canyon last night. Relatives said she had been ill for several weeks, and that she suffered a severe attack of influenza in Washington, D. C., during the winter.

Rogers, whose crinkly smile and quick wit won him fame as humorist and philosopher, was killed with flier Wiley Post in an Alaska plane crash in 1935. A month ago today, his body was entombed at Will Rogers memorial, in Claremore, Okla., his home town. Mrs. Rogers' body likewise will be interred there.

"Prettiest Girl In Arkansas"

Betty Blake, known as "the prettiest girl in Arkansas," was born in Rogers, Ark. Rogers married her there Nov. 25, 1908. Three children survive; Will Rogers, jr., former congressman and now an Army lieutenant; James Rogers, acting publisher of the Beverly Hills Citizen, and Miss Mary Rogers, who resided with her mother. Members of the family said they believe Lt. Rogers is overseas, or en route.

SISTER HERE HOPES TO ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. W. L. Marshall, 3410 Avenue S, who is a sister of Mrs. Rogers, was notified by relatives Wednesday night. If transportation is available she plans to attend funeral services in California. Relatives are to call her sometime today when arrangements are completed. Mrs. B. C. Dickinson, 1905 Thirty-fourth street, is a niece of Mrs. Rogers.

Congress In Rush

Bills Sent To FDR

The supply bills and the price control proposal went to the White House; the WASP bill was killed by a House vote after spirited debate.

The speed with which the legislative docket, crowded at the start of the week, was clearing up increased hopes of congressional leaders that the recess could get under way at the end of Friday's session. How long it will last has not been decided, but the general demand was for a vacation ending after the first week in August.

lery and employed land mines and booby traps.

One hard-fought battle between the Marines and the Japanese occupied on the hill overlooking Magicienne bay where Japanese artillerymen ran their field pieces in and out of caves, firing from the outside and ducking back into the mountainside. The Americans finally captured them and other similar positions, killing 75 Japanese in one cave.

Flame throwers were used in destroying Japanese mountain strongholds in several instances.

Yanks Hold Artillery Edge

One of the greatest advantages held by the invading Americans was artillery superiority—achieved in the first few days after the landing, during which, at the price of much sweat, scores of heavy guns and ammunition were dragged ashore across the reefs along the western shore.

From this flagship a few miles off shore, I saw and heard last night and this morning preliminary preparation for today's attack. During the early part of the night, land guns pounded Japanese positions while naval guns pumped in hundreds of shells.

All through the night ships fired starshells at intervals of a few minutes, lighting up the dusky, smoking island with their silver glow.

Barrage Jolts Ship

An hour before dawn, American artillery began a barrage so heavy it even jolted and shook this ship. From the deck I could see almost continuous flash as guns blinked their yellow fire and sent shells screaming northward against the enemy.

Reports from shore indicated heavy Japanese losses which the enemy apparently was trying to conceal. The Americans found many Japanese bodies and along one road they captured two truckloads of dead Japanese which the enemy was trying to hide.

Jap Materiel Captured

Great stores of Japanese rice and fish and war materiel already have fallen into American hands—the food coming in handy for feeding hundreds of Japanese civilians and natives from the town of Charankanoa and other settlements who have flocked into Americ lines for safety.

Ammunition that fits American mortars, lights field artillery, considerable gasoline, four gauge railroad locomotives, autos and trucks and even three lightly damaged Japanese airplanes have been captured.

Invasion forces, seeing victory ahead—no matter what the Japanese battle fleet tried to do about it—brought the Saipan island garrison commander and his staff to the shore this morning.

There was no doubt the Americans expected to stay.

Youths Are Held In Wolfforth Burglary

LEVELLAND, June 22, (Spcl)—Three Lubbock county young men have made statements to Sheriff Ed Hofacket of Hockley county in connection with a Wolfforth, Lubbock county burglary, and a radio and a guitar taken in the burglary have been recovered, it was announced this morning.

The men are R. E. Comer, 21, J. L. Comer, 19, his brother, both of Lubbock, and Douglas Watson, 17, of Wolfforth, it was announced.

The three were held in Levelland in connection with two charges of burglary each in Hockley county, about May 26. Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore of Lubbock county was informed Saturday that a Wolfforth residence had been burglarized about the same time the Hockley county burglaries, in the Smyer section, were perpetrated. At Wolfforth he picked up leads that caused him to phone Sheriff Hofacket, who allegedly was informed by the boys, one of them said to be wearing a suit taken in the Wolfforth burglary, where officers could find the radio and guitar.

Both were found where the suspects said they would be, officials announced.

Lubbock county charges hinge on Hockley county trial dispositions, it was understood.

Double Execution Is Set At Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, June 22 (AP) — A double execution—the first in several years—is set for the death chamber of the Huntsville unit of the Texas prison system on July 9.

Two negroes, David Williams, convicted of criminal assault in Travis county, and Bennie Johnson, convicted of murder in Chambers county, are to die on that date.

Five condemned men are now housed in the prison death cell.

In sea battles, it used to be the custom to treat men with minor wounds before those seriously hurt so they could return quickly to their posts.

Crop Prospects Are Brightened

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 22—Texas agriculture prospects brightened in the week ended June 19.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that planting, replanting, cultivating and harvesting progressed under mostly favorable conditions.

The exception was a few counties in the southern end of the high plains which were too dry for planting and germination.

Range feeds and pastures were in good to excellent conditions except in a few far western counties. Livestock generally were in good condition.

Wheat Harvest Under Way

Crop by crop reports included:

Wheat—Harvest well under way in many low rolling plains counties and most of the North Texas crop was combined or in the shock.

Cotton—Rate of growth and cultivation was satisfactory except where local heavy rains fell and in the South Plains counties where high winds and blowing sand caused some acreage loss.

Corn — Progressed fairly well but conditions were spotted in the Central and East Texas areas and a few South Plains counties. In South, Central-West and North Texas the crop advanced under good to excellent conditions.

Grain sorghum—Harvest began in South Texas with very good yields in prospect.

Vegetables—Harvest made good headway and growing crops improved materially. Conditions were favorable for active harvest of tomatoes in nearly all early areas of East Texas but yields were light. Potatoes moved in good volume from the late spring areas. Good quality cantaloupes and watermelons were available in volume.

Mrs. Bertha Plath and daughters, Mildred and Dorothy, all of Fort Worth, are house guests of her sisters, Mrs. J. A. Humphries and Mrs. C. F. Renfrow, both of Meadowbrook Acres.

Young People To Return Today From Ceta Glen

A number of Junior high school students who are members of First Christian church will return today from a Ceta Glen conference held at Pioneer camp, near Happy. They left last Saturday. In the party are Richie Ann McCrummen, Dorothy Yates, Marshall Pharr, Bobby Wood, Chloe T. Dawson, John Mohle, Elva Fae Haynes and Mary Katherine Roberts.

News Briefs

Second Lt. Thomas J. Stilbert, jr., whose wife resides at 2221 Sixteenth street in Lubbock, was included among the 1,468 United States soldiers missing in action as announced today by the War department. Others from this area included: 2nd Lt. Fred C. Shere, jr., Mrs. Katherine I. Shere, wife, Denver City; S/Sgt. Willis W. Alexander, son of W. J. Alexander of Plainview; Sgt. Jack L. Browder, son of Mrs. Mabel R. Browder of Brownfield; and S/Sgt. James E. Owens, son of Mrs. Vera Owens of Floydada.

Death of 2nd Lt. William J. Terry, son of Elliot E. Terry of Plainview, in action in the European area was reported Wednesday by the War department. His home was Plainview.

Lee Satterwhite of Austin, candidate for lieutenant-governor, stopped briefly in Lubbock Wednesday in interest of his candidacy. He was a member of the legislature from a North Plains district more than two decades ago and was speaker one term of the House of Representatives.

A family-night program for Grade-A dairy producers will be held tonight at the Texas Technological college pavilion at 8:30 o'clock, according to Frank Gray, program chairman. Speakers on the program include W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry at the college; and Dr. N. A. Cox, Lubbock veterinarian. Entertainment will be furnished by Sam McMillan.

Due to an error in the first announcement of ceiling prices on used automobiles, prices on 69 models will be changed, according to the Lubbock district Office of Price administration. These changes will mean a decrease in the price of such cars as Cadillac, Lincoln, Buick, DeSoto, Packard and Chrysler. Dealers will be advised as to the new ceiling prices within the next few days.

Police reports this morning carried this notation: "———said that———had stolen his gun and run off with his wife. He said he wanted his gun back." A supplemental notation showed that the gun was recovered. Principals are negroes.

Williamses Return From Attending Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Williams of 2427 Twenty-seventh street, have returned from Fort Belvoir, Va., where they attended the graduation of their son, Oscar Terrell Williams, jr., from the Army school of engineers. He was one of 16 former students at Texas Technological college who received commissions. In Washington, D. C., the Williamses were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Sloan. He is head of the communications board. Mrs. Sloan and Mrs. Williams are cousins.

Bond Rally Set At Roosevelt

A war bond rally in Roosevelt Rural High school Friday night at 9:15 o'clock is the next event in connection with the Fifth War Loan drive in rural areas, according to a report this morning by Rural Chairman Roy Boyd.

The program will include music by Joyce Halsey's cowboy band, the film, "The Marines at Tarawa," and talks by Chaplain Randall T. Miller of LAAF and Durwood H. Bradley.

Roosevelt's quota is $35,138. Douglas Pounds is chairman of the drive with Joe Alspaugh, Charlie Sherrod and Frank Proctor his co-chairmen.

A rally in Becton Wednesday night resulted in $7,200 in bond sales, Boyd reported. Frank Bledsoe is chairman there.

The drive in Shallowater is continuing. No totals have been reported, but Chairman Henry Mahoney announced that 4-H club boys have been extremely helpful and have sold $8,000 in bonds.

Plans are continuing for the big bond auction sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the courthouse lawn Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The program there will start at 7:30. Articles added Wednesday to a previous list of merchandise to be sold included a woman's handbag, electric clock, coolerator, bedsheets, and a merchandise credit. The program is to be broadcast over KFYO. Frank Bando, 1210-B Avenue J, telephone 2-3631 is obtaining the articles to be sold.

Diversion Of Tax On Gasoline Opposed

AUSTIN, June 22 (U.P.)—A concerted movement to prevent diversion from highway use of money raised by gasoline tax will be launched by the Texas Good Roads association. The opposition to diversion does not include the cent-a-gallon that goes to public schools.

This campaign and a call upon both federal and local agencies to provide for after-war road construction and maintenance on a scale larger than ever before was set out in resolutions adopted at the association meeting that closer here last night.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson reviewed the highway improvement movement in Texas and the present program of centering activity on war roads, which he said, had resulted in highest praise from military officials.

Tom Eplen of Abilene was elected president of the association, succeeding John Redditt of Lufkin. Other officers chosen were: R. J. Potts, Waco, first vice president; Pat Zachry, San Antonio, second vice president; Oscar Burton, Tyler, third vice president; E. P. Cravens, Austin, secretary-treasurer; and Charles E. Simons, Austin, executive vice president.

New directors elected were: Glenn Burgess, Alpine; John Bland, Taylor; Roy Laird, Kilgore, and W. B. La Master, Perryton.

Keen-Eyed Gunner Catches On When Nazis Try Trick

A U. S. BOMBER BASE in England, June 22 (AP)—The Germans tried to fool American bomber crews by painting black and white identification stripes of the Allied invasion craft on their own planes—but a keen-eyed Liberator gunner outsmarted them.

A formation of striped FW-109s, which resemble American planes, tried to fly side-by-side with a Liberator group. Suddenly they peeled off, performed a lazy eight and made ready for a sneak attack on the bombers.

But Sgt. Amos Adkins of San Francisco, top turret gunner, started blazing away.

"Stop shooting at our planes!" shouted the pilot, Lt. Charles Allen of Newgulf, (Wharton Co.,) Tex., who thought the planes were Mustangs."

"Better wake up, chum, that's an FW 109," Co-Pilot Lt. Edward Werner of St. Petersburg, Fla., dryly told the pilot.

In a few seconds Adkins had shot down one Focke-Wulf and his fellow gunners had nailed four others.

Officers Search For Girl And Abductor

CLEVELAND, Tex., June 22 (U.P.)—Liberty county officers today broadcast an alarm for a 28-year-old woman who last night "kidnaped" a four-year-old child from a roadhouse near here.

The child was Bonnie V. McGinnis, blonde-haired, blue-eyed adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted R. McGinnis.

Officers said the woman who disappeared with Bonnie had gone dancing with the McGinnis couple. They quoted Mrs. McGinnis as saying that the woman offered to take the child outside "where it's cooler." Five minutes later, Mrs. McGinnis said, she went outside the roadhouse and found that both the woman and the child had vanished.

After questioning Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis, who adopted Bonnie shortly after her birth, officers said the case could be technically classified as kidnaping, but they doubted such a charge would be filed against the woman who abducted the little girl.

Woman Gives Up Her House, Keeps Flowers

DALLAS, June 22 (U.P.)—When Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran sold their home to the city to make way for an extension of Love field, they were willing to deed everything—that is almost everything—to the new purchasers.

For $19,000 the Cochrans agreed to give the city title to the eight-room house, ironing board, cowshed, trees, shrubs, etc.

But Mrs. Cochran inserted a conditional clause, retaining the iris bulbs in the yard.

Last Two Escaped Convicts Captured

ORANGE, June 22 (AP)—The last two of four convicts who shot their way to freedom from Wynne state prison farm near Huntsville, Tuesday, killing a guard, were captured near Orange today

Leonard Stockton was taken four miles north of here on the highway to Jasper and James McLemore was caught after he had run his car into a pine tree while trying to escape under fire.

Eugene Padgett, 28, serving 99 years for murder from Bell county, and W. M. Johnson, 30, serving eight years for burglary from Hardin, Harris and Liberty counties, were re-arrested afoot eight miles south of Madisonville, yesterday.

The four men escaped from the farm after fatally wounding George T. Preston, 45, prison guard and raiding an arsenal.

McLemore stated that he lost control of the automobile he was driving and struck a tree after an officer fired at him and a bullet whistled past his head. He received minor injuries in the crash.

Lubbock Woman, Serving Without Pay, Has Made Career Of Caring For Needy Children

BY JEANE ENGLE
Journal Staff Writer

Most mothers think their duty to mankind and the world is finished when their children marry and leave home. For the first time in many years, they can afford to relax and leisurely admire their work.

Yes, that is the ordinary procedure. But there is one mother in Lubbock who is not ordinary. She is the mother of four grown children, and she still has an insatiable desire to help all the children in the world who are unwanted, ill-fed, orphaned or without care because of sickness in the home.

Her name is Mrs. Frank Skinner, 1305 Avenue R, who has been taking into her home infants and children up to five-years-old for almost ten years. And it is a job she wouldn't relinquish for all the money in the world.

She Wants No Pay

She has aided many children through the years and all entirely without pay. She neither wants nor expects material rewards for her work. Her reward is the satisfaction of knowing that through her love and care a child is made happier and healthier.

"Why do I reach out into troubled homes for more children when my own are already grown? Because I can't help it when I know there are so many who need me," she said.

This remarkable woman, who has the wit, charm and personality that follows a full life spent in doing a worthy job, confesses she is never happy without a child to care for.

Reminisces About Children

Rocking happily in a chair on her big, roomy backporch, she reminisced about Johnny and Susie and all the other children who have been in her care through the years. Fluttering on a clothesline in full view of the porch were diapers, little shirts and gowns. She is in her "seventh heaven" now because she has twins at her house.

"It began a long time ago when we lived in Crosbyton. I had a neighbor who was sick and she had a new baby. I offered to take the little one until she could be up and about . . .

"And that was the beginning. There have been many others since that time but there are so many more in the world who need love and care.

Lot Of Trouble

"Yes, I know they are a lot of trouble . . . bottles to boil, formulas to make, washing and ironing and 2 a. m. feedings . . . Yes, it's work, but what isn't that's worth while?"

She admits that the greatest disadvantage to the job is becoming so fond of the "little fellows."

"But my husband and daughter get as attached to them as I do, and it almost breaks our hearts to see them leave. A lot of women have said they would not take children in for this reason. Any woman with such an attitude is selfish or else she wouldn't think of herself."

She stopped rocking, looked out across her gleaming white clothes and remarked slowly, "You know, I've often thought that if every family who has a dog would take in a child instead how much better off this world would be today."

Family Is Pleased

And what does her family think about all this little patter of feet and mixing of formulas? Well, they like it and are always ready to give her a hand. She is the mother of four children but only one daughter, Gene, is at home now.

Most of the toddlers she cares for are sent by Mrs. W. T. Milam, director of a home for orphans. Knowing that the Skinner home is always open to any child, Mrs. Milam often sends babies there for care until they are adopted. The longest time a child has been in the home is five months.

The twins she now has belong to a soldier and his wife who found themselves in a "spot" when the mother became seriously ill. A woman in town knowing of the case, called her one night and said she had twins, could she bring them over. And Mrs. Skinner has been busy ever since.

The Skinner household is fixed for any emergency. There are bottles a plenty, a baby bed, high-chair and clothes for any child from one-day-old to five-years-old.

The home is not large but it is modern and comfortable . . . and they find it ample to share.

Warm Springs Foundation, anti-paralysis institute founded by President Roosevelt, accommodates about 150 persons.

U.S. Must Not Disarm, Forrestal Declares

PRINCETON, N. J., June 22 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal said Wednesday that when peace comes the American people must realize they are not immune from war, whenever or wherever it starts.

We must not permit "our own idealism" to persuade us to disarm, he said.

An international organization, he added, eventually may achieve a guaranty of peace, but while it is being created peace may be obtainable only through the existence of the armed forces of the United States and her allies.

As one of the "great elements" of that force the Navy must be maintained after the war, he said in an address at special convocation at Princeton university where he received and honorary LL. D. degree.

Cards Keep Perfect Record Over Cubs

Champs Have Won 11 From Chicago

(By The Associated Press)

The Chicago Cubs are headed for a major league futility record, unless they do better in the next 11 games against St. Louis' Cardinals than they did in the first 11.

The Cubs and Cards have met 11 times. The result: Cards—won 11, lost 0; Cubs- -won 0, lost 11.

Manager Charlie Grimm used six pitchers and six pinch hitters against the Cards yesterday, but lost 6-4 and 7-2. George Munger won his ninth against one defeat, in the opener, although he needed late help from Mort Cooper. Harry Brecheen took his third straight from the Cubs in the finale. The double win increased the Cards' lead over Pittsburgh to eight and one-half games, their biggest margin of the season.

Giants Drub Brooklyn

The New York Giants drubbed Brooklyn 11-2 for their 18th triumph in the last 24 games, to take over third place in the National league. Bill Voiselle gained his ninth triumph, holding the Brooks to six hits. Mel Ott scored his 1,741st run to break his tie with Hans Wagner and set a new National league record.

After eight scoreless innings, Cincinnati scored in the ninth, but the Pittsburgh Pirates counted two in their half to take the game, 2-1. Babe Dahlgren's single scored Tommy O'Brien with the winning run. Ray Starr held his former mates to seven hits for his second victory over Cincinnati since he was waived to the Pirates three weegs ago.

The Philadelphia Athletics made it three in a row over Boston, 5-2, as Dick Siebert drove in three runs with a double and single, and Jesse Flores outpitched Clem Hausmann.

New York and Washington divided a double header, the champions taking the first 4-3, after trailing 1-3 until the seventh. The Nats took the second 6-4, with a five-run first inning at the expense of Southpaw Joe Page. Milo Candini held his former teammates to six hits to win his third game for the Senators.

The St. Louis Browns increased their American league lead to two and one-half games over Boston's Red Sox by trouncing the Chicago White Sox 11-2, behind Nelson Potter's seven-hit pitching. Gene Moore and Vernon Stephens led the attack on two Chicago hurlers with three hits each, including a homer apiece.

Rookie Paul O'Dea batted "four for four" as Cleveland defeated Detroit in a slugfest, 9-7. Rudy York of the Tigers and Mickey Rocco of the Indians blasted home runs.

The Boston - Philadelphia double header was postponed because of rain.

Rotary Club Rallies, Shades Lions 19-18

The Rotary Club junior baseball team came from behind in the seventh inning Wednesday afternoon at Tech field, scored eight runs, then barely shaved out a victory over the Lions Club by stopping a five run rally for a 19 to 18 win.

The victory leaves the Rotary Club with a season's record of four wins in five starts and still tied for the top of the loop with the Kiwanis Club, setting the stage for the Rotary-Kiwanis meeting Friday afternoon at Chapman field.

College Girl Is Golf Contender

Western Open Is In Quarterfinals

CHICAGO, June 22, (AP) — One of the contenders in the women's Western Open, which entered the quarterfinal stage today, was 21-year-old Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D.—a chic miss who says it has taken a year to find her lost swing.

With her swing back in the groove, the Rollins college student went out today against one of the tournament's prime favorites, 20-year-old Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, 1943 western amateur queer, and runner-up for medalist honors in this meet.

Miss Germain won the last two holes of her second round match yesterday against Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy of Dallas, for a close 2-up victory after shooting her poorest golf of the tournament. She required 83 strokes, eight over par.

Must Do Better Today

Observers believed she would have to do better than that today to edge by Miss Tainter, who eliminated Mrs. Lawrence H. Selz, of Ravinia, Ill., 1932 Western Open champion, 2-up after posting a fine 38-40—78.

Other matches today sent Phyllis Otto, Omaha, Neb., against Jeanne Cline, Bloomington, Ill.; Babe Didriksen Zaharias, Beverley Hills, Calif., against Mrs. Albert Becker, Englewood, N. J.; and Lt. Patty Berg, Minneapolis, against 18-year-old Betty Jane Haemerle, St. Louis.

Marine Berg, the defending champion who has had to "find" her game after being absent from tourney competition since last fall, yesterday fired a 37 — best front nine score of the meet—for a comfortable edge and an eventual 4 and 3 win over Lois Penn of Des Moines, Iowa.

Sears Snaps Losing Streak, Beats Wards

The Sears and Roebuck junior baseball nine snapped a four game losing streak behind the three hit pitching of Sage Wednesday afternoon at the Chapman field diamond, and turned in its first win of the season over Montgomery Ward, 5 to 1.

Balch pitched for Montgomery Ward, and turned in a neat four-hit pitching job, but weakened in the seventh inning to allow two hits to be welded into three runs. All the runs off Balch were unearned.

A walk, an infield out and McWhirter's hit provided the lone run off Sage in the fifth inning.

Fistic Carnival Sets Record

Al Hostak Wins Light Heavy Title

HOUSTON, June 22, (AP) — It took two Army corporals and an amateur bull fighter teaming up with five other sluggers to draw the largest boxing gate in history —$22,080,000 in war bonds purchasing to witness Houston's Fifth War Loan fistic carnival.

With seats scaled from $25 to $50,000 and admission by war bond purchase only, Texas' biggest crowd clambered into the cavernous Houston coliseum last night to eclipse the previous world's record gate for the second Tunney-Dempsey show by nearly $20,000,000.

In the top attraction Cpl. Al Hostak of Camp Bowie, former world middleweight champion, battered Cpl. Glen Lee of Camp Claiborne to a third round knockout, winning the Texas light heavyweight championship.

Lt. Comdr. Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, refereed the bout.

The spectacle was sponsored by the Harris county war bond sports activities committee composed of Houston sports editors.

Through 19 sports events promoted by this committee since Pearl Harbor the nation's war coffers have been enriched by over $43,000,000.

DARTMOUTH SIGNS COACH

HANOVER, N. H., June 22 (AP) The signing of Walter M. Marshall, former Notre Dame guard, as varsity line football coach at Dartmouth college, was announced today by William H. McCarter, athletic director.

In 1871, Canada's rural inhabitants outnumbered the urban dwellers by more than two million.

MANY a Lubbock newspaper reader knitted his brows this morning when he read an Associated Press story on the heat wave in Texas and Lubbock was shown as having hit a flat 108—the highest figure in the state.

As compared with our 108, Abilene and Fort Worth racked up 97's; Dallas, 100.3; and El Paso, 100. Amarillo came through with a 100's; Austin, San Antonio and Del Rio, 94—on down to Corpus Christi, with 90.

That doesn't make sense, unless there's a checkup made—so here's the background:

Lubbock has no regular government weather bureau. The other points do. And it is well known that government weather bureau readings always are a little more conservative than those taken by unofficial bureaus, such as we have here at Texas Tech, the State Experiment Station and West Texas Gas Co.

The unofficial bureaus put their thermometers where they register heat which more strictly applies to the people living nearby; the official bureaus usually place their thermometers higher and in carefully protected spots, so the weather gets all the "breaks."

Everyone who can count past 10, however, knows that 100 in Lubbock is not as hot as a 90, say, in Dallas, or anywhere else where there's great humidity.

Heavenly Houston, for instance, is hot as the hinges of hades at 85 and more uncomfortable at that figure than Lubbock ever gets, because of the stickiness of the Gulf Coast.

Another thing, West Texas nights are always cool and permit residents to get sound sleep and good rest, while down-state points often are as unpleasant after the sun goes down as they are in mid-afternoon.

So don't feel too badly when you see where Lubbock's temperature reported higher than that in down-state points. Hit don't mean nuthin', as the feller says, because it ain't the heat, it's the "humility!"

THE Plainsman wouldn't give a hoot for a so-called "friend" whose alleged allegiance, sympathy and support hinged on money.

We don't believe any reader of these lines honestly thinks that real friendship can be purchased with dollars.

Friendship and goodwill between men rests upon something sounder, something finer than cold cash. We all know that.

But what some of us do not realize is that nations are only groups of people with the same language, the same customs and the same biological background.

So if one man cannot buy real goodwill and friendship from another, how can a collection of people—as a nation—buy the goodwill and the friendship of another nation?

The New Deal administration has not been constant as to most policies.

Neither have Mr. Roosevelt's theories of government followed consistency throughout the long years of his residence in Washington.

But both have been highly consistent on one point. That point is:

Whenever there is a problem to be solved, solve it by spending money.

That, in a nutshell, has been the core of the whole New Deal political philosophy.

The so-called "Good Neighbor policy" is no exception to the rule. Our government has sought to improve our relations with other nations—notably in the Western Hemisphere—by purchasing their friendship and goodwill with dollars.

Has it worked?

We know of no one outside of the swollen ranks of New Deal theorists who thinks so—although we have had contact with only four individuals who are in a position to offer expert testimony on the subject.

THE other day we received from a friend a letter this friend had previously gotten from a former employe who, an Army officer, has just returned to this country from a tour of duty in Latin America.

We shall not publicly identify the friend who sent us the letter for fear that the Army officer might be "gestapo-ed" in one way or another. We shall not name the Latin American nation involved, for if we did the officer might be traced.

But here is the Army officer's summary of the vaunted "Good Neighbor Policy" as he saw it, first-hand and in action:

"Our Good Neighbor Policy and our Lend-Lease aid to _____ are complete failures, chiefly because we do not attempt to understand the people we are dealing with. I talked with many Americans who have lived there for years and also with many of the natives. For the most part, the latter feel that Americans are 'muy loco.' All those they see spend money entirely too freely and to no good purposes. Americans have no use for anything unless they can drink it, or kiss it and . . . they look upon the _____ people as a bunch of ignoramuses. All this doesn't give a very good foundation for mutual understanding." (American indescretions have created) "more ill will than the diplomats can ever repair, or FDR can ever buy; that is, if goodwill can be bought, which I doubt.

"Some of the chief complaints the people of _____ have are:

"1. Their own rich grow richer by conniving with the Americans, thus the Americans merely strengthen the hold of the few very rich over the many very poor . . .

"2. Americans are too arrogant and do not attempt to understand the people of _____.

"3. The money the government sends down here is spent as the U. S. wants it spent and not as the people here desire.

"4. American service men have too much money, buy with abandon and run prices up, thereby making it difficult for the natives to live.

"It is necessary that we realize how proud the Latin American people are and learn to treat them as equals."

Recently, we seized upon an opportuntiy to visit with a man who is an important business figure in another Latin American country where he has resided for more than two decades. This man, who is an American citizen, had exactly the some slant as the Army officer expresses in his letter.

A couple of months ago, we talked with another native-born American who has spent much time in two Latin American countries; with still another business man who returned to the U. S. after performing a mission for our government in South America. These men might well have gotten together on their stories—although they did not—so similar were they and so united with their opinions.

WE haven't talked with any of the tap dancers, or the artists, or the movie stars, or any of Mrs. Roosevelt's friends who early went to Latin America to "charm" the people there into shouting "vivas" for the Red, White and Blue. But those with whom we talked convince us that before we're going to build up any lasting friendships in this hemisphere we're going to have to:

1. Quit trying to bribe los Americanos del Sud into liking us;

2. Mix with them in their countries on their own terms and do business as they like to do business—not in our own, hurried way; and

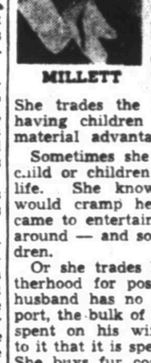

3. Revamp our own thinking so we may be sincere when we try to convince them that we really want to work with them for mutual benefit.

After all, the Latin American countries aren't entirely peopled by chumps, no matter how fondly we may think so.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

IN a custody battle for his young son a father recently charged that the boy's mother agreed to trade her unborn child for a cocker spaniel dog.

MILLETT

Said the father, "I explained that full custody of the dog would be exchanged for full custody of the baby."

Whether that is true or not, it's a shocking thing to contemplate. Yet there is a type of modern woman who does practically the same thing. She trades the opportunity for having children for all sorts of material advantages.

Sometimes she trades having a child or children for a full social life. She knows that children would cramp her style when it came to entertaining and running around — and so she has no children.

Or she trades her right to motherhood for possessions. If her husband has no children to support, the bulk of his salary can be spent on his wife, and she sees to it that it is spent just that way. She buys fur coats and diamond pins with the money mothers spend on tonsil operations and milk.

"SUCCESS?"

AND, of course, there is the wife who trades having children for having a job. That type of woman is sometimes lured into making such a bargain by what her pay check will buy, and sometimes by the ego boost she gets out of being a "success."

So, since we all know women who have swapped motherhood for something they consider more important, why be shocked when a man claims his wife did just that?

Because the trade isn't pretty when it is stated bluntly. It isn't pretty anyway, when you stop to think about it.

There never has been room for any doubt as to the sincerity of the admiration and friendship of the masses in America for the Finns.

Had this feeling not existed, the almost certain probability is that the United States would have declared war upon Finland long ago. Many people in this nation, including many in the administration, have favored such a declaration. Russia has urged it with a vigor which, at times, has approached the positiveness of a demand. Great Britain, which officially is at war with the Finns, also has wanted such a step.

Thus, the maintenance of an official peace has not been easy. It has been maintained, beyond any reasonable doubts, because the administration recognized the opposition that such an attempted step would arouse.

However, it is difficult to see how the warmest admirers of Finland could criticise the action of the American State department the other day in ordering the expulsion of Finnish diplomatic representatives to this country.

No matter how much Americans may like the Finns, they cannot escape certain glaring facts.

The first is that Finland is fighting with our enemies and against two of our chief allies, Russia and Great Britain.

Another is that Finland didn't have to get into this war. The Finns deliberately climbed aboard the Axis band wagon when it seemed the Nazis were speeding toward quick victory.

Still another, and the most important in its bearing on the ouster of the diplomats, is that their presence in the United States gave them the opportunity to obtain information which might be useful to Finland and to Germany.

The ouster does not mean, necessarily, that the United States might actually go to war with Finland—though, of course, that might happen. But it does mean that the ability of Finland to do harm to the cause of the Allies as a whole has been limited in great or less degree by the removal of potential observers.

More Monkeybusiness In Navy Uniforms
Washington "Desk Commandos" Promoted
But Some Boys At Front Being Forgotten
Capital's Shoulder Galaxy Rivals Heaven

WASHINGTON, June 22.—With the toughest battle of the war now raging in Normandy, the Naval battle of the Potomac continues—over the question of uniforms.

It may seem fantastic, but what a young Naval officer should wear has become a real problem. In Washington, for instance, the standard summer uniform is gray, especially selected by Admiral Ernie King, who went over the head of the late Secretary of the Navy Knox to the White House to get the summer grays adopted.

PEARSON

But if an officer is flying to the West Coast, he finds that tan summer khakis are standard. Then if he moves on to Pearl Harbor, he finds that Admiral Nimitz has bowed to Admiral King and grays, not khakis, are what the well-dressed Naval officer should wear.

But when he goes on to Noumea, New Caledonia, headquarters of the Southwest Pacific, khakis, not grays, are in vogue again. What is to be worn all depends on the Naval commander of each area.

Meanwhile, the laundry bills, the baggage space and the extra shirts, cap covers and, in some cases, different buttons and insignia are enough to keep a young ensign in poverty, or drive his wife to distraction. Different colored shirts must be carried for each different type of uniform: Tan shirts for the khakis, gray shirts for the grays, white shirts for the blues.

Partial Gold Braid

But the most irksome ruling pertains to the winter blues. It has been ordered that the dark Navy blue uniform, used as the work uniform during winter months, shall have gold braid extending only two thirds of the distance around the sleeve at the cuff. But blue uniforms worn in the evening must have stripes running completely around the cuff. Result: Officers must carry at least two sets of blues—one for evening and one for work, very difficult when airplane baggage must be light.

Here are some other dos and don'ts which the well-dressed Naval officer must obey:

1. In Washington you can't wear aviation green uniforms except in arriving at the airport or in departing from the airport. Admiral King has thrown his weight with the battleship school and ruled that Naval aviation officers should not be too conspicious.

2. Except for a few favored officers, no gold chin strap can be worn with the gray summer uniform. The chin strap on the cap must be black, also black shoulder boards and buttons.

3. Whites are mandatory in the evening, together with the high stiff 1898 Spanish-American war collars — despite the frantic laundry problem.

4. You can still get away with wearing khaki uniforms in Washington, despite Admiral King's order for grays. He modified it when it was found that to make grays compulsory would have forced officers to discard 600,000 brown uniforms and use up so much cloth as to threaten civilian clothes rationing.

CAPITOL CHAFF

SIMULTANEOUS with leading the anti-Roosevelt revolt in Texas, Jesse Jones' nephew, George Butler, came to Washington to ask the Civil Aeronautics board to license a new airplane line at Houston . . . Folks are now wondering whether FDR will reward his enemies . . . About the only radio station licensed during the war was given to a competitor of Jesse Jones in Houston recently, go-getting young Roy Hopkins. He got the license after he showed that the other Houston radio stations, dominated by Jones, carried very few announcements for bonds, Red Cross or the war effort . . . Democratic Chairman Bob Hannegan had thought that South Carolina was safe in the hands of assistant President Jimmy Byrnes . . . The President thought that Texas was safe in the hands of Senator Tom Connally and Speaker Sam Rayburn. Neither was prepared for such rude awakenings . . . Justice Byrnes has assured the President that in the end South Carolina will be OK. . . . Tom Corcoran, the famous ex-brain truster, is not nearly as far out of the picture as his old friend, now enemy, Harry Hopkins would like him to be. "Tommy the Cork" has been playing very close to Bernie Baruch; also, though most people have forgotten it, Corcoran was the man who got Jim Forrestal his first job in the Navy department and helped boost him up the ladder to be Secretary of the Navy.

MORE STARS

WHILE thousands of capable, well-trained youngsters are out in the front lines with the rank of corporal, sergeant or second lieutenant, the desk officers of Washington continue to reap promotions.

The Senate Military Affairs committee is now probing this in connection with a new list of promotions to be generals. "At the rate we are showering stars," remarked forthright Senator Wallgren of Washington state, referring to the fact that generals wear stars on their shoulders, "The U. S. Army will soon look like the milky way."

Senators are especially scrutinizing one recommended brigadier general—Col. E. F. Jeffe, attached to the War Production board.

Aha, Politics!

Jeffe's chief distinction is being the Army liaison man for WPB Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson, who has been telephoning senators urging that his aide be made a general.

In private life, Jeffe was executive vice president of Consolidated Edison of New York, which handles a lot of General Electric products. Wilson was head of General Electric.

In public life, Jeffe has aroused the ire of various government associates, among them R. S. Dean, assistant director of the Bureau of Mines, by taking a dictaphone record of one of Dean's telephone conversations. Hotly Dean wrote to Jeffe: "I am interested to know that the office of the executive vice chairman of the War Production board has gone in for the use of the dictaphone without the common courtesy of advising the person who is called upon that he is speaking for the record."

NOTE—When Wilson urged hard-hitting Senator Kilgore of West Virginia to promote Jeffe, Kilgore replied: "I am for promoting every man at the fighting front, but not plush-bottoms in Washington."

There's Work And Danger In Normandy's Scattered Bivouacs
"GI Correspondent" Describes Night In France

BY ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE (By Wireless) — Would you be interested in hearing how we spent our first night in France? Well, even if you wouldn't—

Just after supper we got an order to unload our vehicles from the LST. One of those big self-propelled bargelike things, made of steel pontoons bolted together, came up in front of our ship and the vehicles were driven off onto it.

ERNIE PYLE

These barges are called Rhino's. They move very slowly, and it took us an hour to get to shore. Then the beachmaster signaled us not to land, for the tide wasn't right. So we had to loaf around out there on the water for another hour.

They were blowing up mines on the beach, and some of our big naval guns were still thundering away at the Germans. The evening was cloudy and miserable and it began to rain as we waited. We were all cold.

At last the beachmaster let us in. The barge grounded about 50 yards from shore, and runways were let down.

Every one of our vehicles had been waterproofed, so that the engines wouldn't drown out while going through the surf.

Ernie Gets Wet Pants

I came ashore in a jeep with Pvt. William Bates Wescott, of Culver City, Cal. Wescott is a good-looking, intelligent man of 26 who used to be a salesman for the Edgemar Farms dairy at Venice, Cal. He is at war for the first time, and all this shooting and stuff are completely new to him, but he is doing all right.

Wescott's wife works in downtown Los Angeles, and just in case you want to take her some flowers for being the wife of such a nice guy, she's the girl who makes Pullman reservations for the Southern Pacific railroad at Sixth and Main.

Wescott and I were the first ones off the barge. I had water-proofed my typewriter by taping it up in a gas cape. But the water came only to the floor of the jeep. We didn't even get our feet wet, but the waves did slosh in and get the seats of our pants wet.

IT WAS several miles to our bivouac area. On the way we passed many bodies lying alongside the road, both German and American but mostly German. Some of the French people along the roads smiled and waved, while others kept their heads down and wouldn't look up.

It was dark when we got to our bivouac, a grape and apple orchard on a hillside. We pulled in and parked under a tree. First we posted sentries, and then Wescott dug into his big ration box in the jeep and got out some grapefruit juice, crackers and sardines.

While we were eating, the first German planes of the night came over. One dropped its bombs not awfully far away — enough to give us our first touch of nerves. There were anti-aircraft guns all around and they made an awful racket. The night began to take on an ominous and spooky aspect. We felt lonely. There were still snipers around, and shell holes everywhere, and we could hear machine guns in the distance.

It was midnight by the time we had finished eating and got a camouflage net over the jeep in preparation for the first light next morning. We decided to get what sleep we could. We didn't have our bedrolls yet, but we did have two blankets apiece. We just lay down on the ground.

Sleeps Under Jeep

Another jeep had pulled under the tree with us. Altogether our little group sleeping on the ground consisted of two colonels, three enlisted men and myself. We slept in all our clothes.

German planes kept coming over one by one. Our guns kept up their booming and crackling all night long in fits and jerks.

After an hour or so one of our colonels said we'd better move our blankets so our heads would be under the jeeps, because pieces of flak were falling all over the orchard.

He said the flak wouldn't kill you unless it hit you in the head. I said I guessed it would if it hit you in the stomach. He said it wouldn't. I still think it would.

Anyhow, I moved my head under and left my stomach out in the open. My head was right behind the front wheel, under the fender. It was a good place, but the headroom was so scant that every time I would turn over I would get a mouthful of mud from the fender.

THEN we got cold. Our two blankets might as well have been handkerchiefs, for all the warmth there was in them. We lit cigarets and smoked under our blankets. We couldn't sleep much anyhow, for the noise of the guns.

Sometimes planes would come in low, and we would lie there scrunched up in that knotty tenseness you get when waiting to be hit.

Finally daylight came. At dawn our planes always come over and the Germans leave, so the days are safe and secure as far as the air is concerned.

We all got up at dawn, welcoming a chance to move around and get warm. Private Wescott opened some K rations and we ate a scanty breakfast off the hood of the jeep. Then a colonel made a reconnaissance tour. When he came back he said that our little orchard, which looked so rural and pretty in the dawn, was full of dead Germans, killed the day before. We would have to help bury them pretty soon.

That was our first night in France.

Students May Enroll At Tech For ASTP

Qualified students still can be accepted for the Army Specialized Training Reserve program course starting in July at Texas Technological college, Baylor university and Texas A. and M., according to an announcement at Eighth Service command headquarters in Dallas Wednesday.

Students who passed the Army-Navy qualifying test last March and who are not more than 17 years and nine months of age are eligible for the college training once they enlist and are placed in the Enlisted Reserve corps. They will not be called to active duty nor receive their basic training until the end of the term in which they reach their 18th birthday.

Those who have barely turned 17, and are eligible for three terms of instruction, may qualify before July 1 for vacancies in the class opening at Texas Technological college July 5, and classes opening at Baylor and A. and M. of Texas August 2, the AST division of the service command headquarters said.

Today's Thought

Riches profit not in the day of wrath; but righteousness delivereth from death.—Proverbs 11:4.

Can wealth give happiness? look 'round and see
What gay distress! what splendid misery!
Whatever fortunes lavishly can pour,
The mind annihilates and calls for more.

—Young.

MARKET IN RECOVERY TILT

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Persistent buying of rails and selected industrials and metals gave the stock market a recovery tilt today that erased a number of early losses, although leaders in some divisions failed to progress.

The carriers, resistant to the early downturn, held fractional gains in the final hour. Some motors and steels moved into the plus column. Low-priced automotive stocks changed in considerable blocks but again ran into profit cashing.

Turnover amounted to about 1,400,000 shares.

New highs for the year or longer were frequent, most of them on fractional advances, and included American Smelting, Sunshine Mining, St. Joseph Lead, Sears Roebuck, Graham-Paige, Nickel Plate Preferred, Canadian Pacific, Crown Zellenbach and Curtis Publishing. Plus signs also appeared for U. S. Steel, General Motors, Alleghany Corp., Southern Pacific, Southern Railway and International Telephone.

Chrysler was behind most of the day as were Douglas Aircraft, Schenley, J. I. Case, Public Service of New Jersey, National Biscuit and International Nickel.

Improving to a mixed curb were Cities Service, Cuban Atlantic Sugar and Pantepec Oil.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Expectations of higher cotton prices under the amended price control bill brought in broad trade and commission house buying in cotton futures today. All months made new seasonal highs, July reaching the highest level for futures since 1926. Offerings came through liquidation by spot firms in the near months coupled with profit taking.

Futures closed 65 cents to $1.75 a bale higher:

	High	Low	Close
July	21.82	21.67	21.80-81
Oct.	21.33	20.99	21.30
Dec.	21.04	20.77	21.00-01
March	20.80	20.55	20.80N
May	20.75	20.54	20.66-67

Middling spot 22.77N.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 22 (AP)—Cotton futures advanced to new season highs here today as buying was induced by a favorable interpretation of price control legislation. The market closed steady 65 cents to $1.55 a bale higher.

	High	Low	Close
July	22.58	21.29	22.52
Oct.	21.27	21.01	21.23-24
Dec.	21.06	21.79	21.02

WMC Figures Even Liontamers, Gigolos Can Help War Effort

BY MARLOW AND ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, June 22—Now what kind of war job could you recommend for a gigolo, politely known as a professional escort for lonely women?

The War Manpower commission (WMC) knows.

WMC says a gigolo could get a job as director of recreation or welfare in industry.

WMC has announced a big list of ideas like that.

From Liontamer To Cowboy

A liontamer? What could he do? WMC says he could be a mounted policeman or a cowboy.

Fortune-tellers, tea-leaf readers, astrologers, or the type which WMC calls "dreamers." They? WMC says they could become thermometer readers.

What about bathhouse attendants and masseurs? WMC says they could fit right into a bakery rolling dough.

All of that is not a complete list of the jobs which WMC says the above could fill. But it gives you an idea. The list is called the "job family."

Skills Adaptable

This means that some unessential job is related to a war job. It means that someone in an unessential job may have a skill that could be quickly adapted to a war-helping job, with little training.

After July 1 all men who want to change jobs will have to go through WMC's U. S. Employment service or some designated agency in their area.

So all of this WMC list is a kind of nudge to people like lion-tamers and gigolos to start thinking how they could us their talents a little better for Uncle Sam.

Night Club Employes

Now for instance, here are some of the things which WMC says night club employes could be fitted into to help the war:

Bartender—acid-mixer or blender in a powder plant; hat checker—checking tools; dishwasher—washing ammunition barrels; head waiters—gluing joints in a factory; dancer—telephone pole lineman or climbing trees in a lumber camp; musician—having a steady hand, he could be a welder.

And here are some other shifts WMC says could be made neatly:

Bowling alley pinboys—setting up milk bottles in a dairy; acrobats, contortionists and wire-walkers—steeplejacks or rivet catchers; actors, commedians or clowns—thread inspectors or proofreaders; circus barkers—bellringers in a coal mine; tattoo artists—making knit goods.

And some more:

Hairdressers—oilers and greasers in an aircraft plant or winding condensers in a radio shop; valets—pressers; butlers— watchmen; taxidermists, that is, people who stuff dead animals for show places—parachute packers.

There isn't a word in the list about pretzel-benders, clam-openers, or people who carve poems on pinheads.

U. S. War Casualties Near Quarter-Million

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—American battle casualties are nearing the quarter-million mark.

Secretary Stimson reported today that Army casualties through June 6 (which would include D-day) totaled 178,677, an increase of 6,319 since his report on June 8, which covered the period through May 21. The Army dead now total 31,289, an increase of 2,337. The new announcement reports 71,432 wounded, 39,976 missing and 35,980 prisoners.

A Navy casualty list announced today reports an overall figure of 46,705, an increase of 932 since a list published two weeks ago. Those killed total 20,044, an increase of 242. Wounded amount to 12,905, missing 9,295 and prisoners 4,461.

American Army ground forces fighting in Italy since the landings last September suffered casualties totaling 64,992 through June 15. This was an increase of 2,991 since a report last week which covered the period through June 5. The dead in the Italian campaign now total 11,610, an increase of 507. Wounded are 44,426 and missing 8,956. In the same period, air forces in this theatre operating in Italy and in strategic missions deep into Europe have had 9,052 casualties, of which 1,186 are killed, 1,373 wounded and 6,493 missing. This was the first time Air force casualties in the Italian theater have been announced separately.

Battle For Cherbourg

Vaast la Hougue on the east coast and 13 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

Nazi Forces Practically Split

On the west another spearhead had practically split the Germans in Cherbourg from those in the northwestern tip of the peninsula by advancing to within half a mile of Beaumont-Hague on the road to Cap De la Hague. Beaumont-Hague is 8½ miles west of Cherbourg.

Supreme headquarters said it lacked any knowledge of a reported American ultimatum by field radio to the Cherbourg garrison demanding surrender by 7 a. m., Greenwich meridian time, today (2 a.m. Central War time). The London Daily Sketch said last night it had recorded such a broadcast.

Final Attack Ordered

It was assumed that if the Ultimatum was made it was rejected and that Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley had ordered a final attack. Supreme headquarters said it was possible the field commander might have made the demand on his own authority.

On the American left flank, the U. S. infantrymen plunged to within three miles of the sea in the vicinity of St. Croix-Hague, a village seven miles west of Cherbourg astride the main highway to Cap de la Hague, where some German forces are reported seeking at least temporary refuge.

On the right a fast-moving column speared to a point almost as close to the northern coast by reaching the Saire river near the village of Le Theil, less than five miles east and slightly south of Cherbourg.

Substantial Gains Made

In the center substantial gains were made along the main road from Valognes. Communique No. 33 reported "good progress" with advances of two to three miles along the entire front.

Allied experts flew into the Cherbourg peninsula to investigate the flying bomb bases captured intact by the American troops, but the supreme command said there was no indications the Germans had been using these against England. It appeared, a spokesman said, that the American drive over the peninsula left the enemy insufficient time to get the launching sites ready for operation.

Except for the swift encircling drive on Cherbourg, there was little activity on the beachhead. The communique reported only patrol activity elsewhere, although enemy artillery and mortar fire in the British-Canadian sector at Tilly was said to be unusually heavy.

Assault Captures Spotlight

The assault on Cherbourg captured the spotlight, but it was apparent Gen. Bradley was striking with vigor to round up the German garrisons on the two prongs of the peninsula.

With reports from the front lagging far behind developments, the supreme command conceded that advance American patrols already may have reached the sea beyond St. Croix-Hague on the west and Le Theil on the east—advances that would cut off German forces and forts on Cap de la Hague on the west and on Point Barfleur on the east.

In the close-up fight for Cherbourg the French-built concrete forts—Octeville and Du. Roule—about 1,500 yards from the prize harbor — were proving formidable obstacles to the attacking American troops. The fighting apparently raged all around the town, in the suburbs and possibly inside the town itself.

Home Front Prepared

(The German radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, began preparing the Nazi home front for the loss of the port, speaking of how long it could hold out against overwhelming attacks.)

The Vichy radio this morning said warships offshore were supporting the Americans, but supreme headquarters said it had no knowledge of such a bombardment.

The Germans still were rushing to destroy everything in the port and city which could be of use to the Allies.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

'Kiwanis In War Effort' Discussed

"Kiwanis in the War Effort," was the topic of the program at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club today noon in the Lubbock hotel.

Dr. Jack Lewis read a mesage from the president of Kiwanis International, followed by a talk on the part played by Kiwanis clubs in the war effort by E. L. Klett.

Klett said that important work will remain after the war is won and that Kiwanis will be the first to bear the burden of making the world a better place in which to live. "Kiwanis clubs have done much to promote a patriotic attitude throughout the country since the beginning of the war." He added that we need to look into the future in making a just and durable peace and that we must not miss the opportunity of serving when the war is over.

Fred Sparks read a list of the members of the Lubbock club now serving in the armed forces, which totals 23. Recognition of civilian members of the local club in the war work was given by Dr. O. W. English.

Clark M. Mullican served as program chairman with President T. E. Buckner presiding.

VFW Rejects Move For Poll Tax Repeal

SAN ANTONIO, June 22 (AP)—The Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars rejected a resolution calling for repeal of the poll tax because approval would have meant "a reflection on our Texas congressmen."

The veterans, in convention here with more than 2,000 attending, also passed resolutions approving:

Restriction of sponsorship of launching naval vessels to wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of naval heroes.

A demand that the entire record of court-martial proceedings against the late Brig. Gen. William (Billy) Mitchell be expunged from War department records.

Federal legislation which would make membership in certain organizations, such as the German-American bund, ground for denaturalization of an American citizen.

Military Titles Can Not Appear On Ballots

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 22 (AP)—No military titles may appear on the ballot for the July 22 primary, George A. Butler, chairman, and Charles E. Simons, secretary, of the Democratic state executive committee, announced answering a question put by Meredith Queen, Nueces county chairman.

The Corpus Christi Caller-Times said political observers here interpret Queen's action as a move to identify John E. Lyle, Army captain and former state representative, by his military title on the ballot.

The newspaper said Capt. Lyle has been advanced by friends as an opponent of Rep. Richard M. Kleberg, seeking renomination as Democratic congressman from the 14th congressional district.

Houston Motorist Is One-Man "Blitz"

HOUSTON, June 22 (U.P.)—A 59-year-old motorist today presented his version of a "blitz."

In rapid sequence, his automobile:

Jumped a curb, ran up a three-foot terrace onto the lawn of the Harvey Welch home, narrowly missed shearing a corner off the house, weaved into the back yard, snapped off a water line, routed a dog, crashed through a fence into an adjoining yard, plowed through one wall of an empty garage, and came to a stop after smashing part way through the opposite wall.

When officers arrived, the motorist was asleep, gripping the steering wheel. They took him to jail where he continued his snooze after being charged with drunkenness.

Acceptance By FDR Predicted By Arnall

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia came out of President Roosevelt's office today and predicted the chief executive will accept a fourth term nomination if it is tendered him by the Democratic national convention.

The governor, freely admitting he had "talked politics" with the President, said he would not be surprised if Mr. Roosevelt makes a public statement shortly after next week's Republican convention" as to his willingness to abide by party decisions irrespective of his personal desires and that he will submit to the mandates of the Democratic convention."

"GAVE" HIS LEG

WESTVILLE, Ill., June 22 (U.P.)—A letter to Mrs. Theresa Spang arrived here recently from her son, Marine PFC: Joseph G. Rucker, who is now recovering at a naval hospital in California from wounds received when his unit landed on Tarawa. Surgeons amputated his left leg below the knee, but Rucker wrote: "Mother, I did not lose my leg but I gave it for my country, and I'm soon going to be all right again."

LABOR DOCUMENT TAKEN

ROME, June 22 (AP)—The Allied command announced tonight that a captured diplomatic document showed that Benito Mussolini agreed to send 1,500,000 Italian laborers to Germany in 1944.

COAL MINES RETURNED

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — The government gave the last thousand coal mines back to their owners today, with the exception of two in Virginia, and thus virtually quit being a coal mine operator after 13 months.

mothers who haunt us with memories day and night; also to see our country for which we are willing to die—yes—and to see you strikers; do you want to see us?

Enemies At Home

Out here we are close to our 'foreign' enemies and can properly deal with them; our enemies at home we cannot reach. Therefore, in desperation, we can think of nothing but to offer our money to 'buy' them back to work; this money having been earned honestly and in the belief that our efforts were the salvation and protection of those who are striking against us.

The crew of the U. S. S. Coos Bay.

P. S. If the Wright strike is over, just choose another. There are always plenty at hand.

The money accompanying this letter, all in U. S. paper currency, has been forwarded to the secretary of the Navy, James V. Forrestal. It comprised three $100 bills, five $20 denomination, one $10 bill and one $2 bill.

At Washington, the Associated Press sought comment from Forrestal and R. J. Thomas, national president of the United Automobile workers, members of which union were involved in an unauthorized strike at the plant of the Wright Aeronautical company at Lockland, Ohio. Comment also was sought from local officers of the union.

Public Opinion Inflamed

Thomas said at Detroit May that "public opinion has become inflamed against our union" (because of unauthorized strikes in war plants) and added:

"The UAW-CIO today faces one of the greatest crisis in its history. On the outcome of this crisis will depend the possibilities of our survival in the post-war period. The test is this: Are the membership of our union and its leaders willing to abide by the Democratic decisions and mandates of our constitution and conventions?"

A walkout of 15,000 started at the Wright plant June 5, after seven negroes were transferred to a department which had been operated by white workrs.

Solon Flays Setup Of CIO And New Deal

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Representative Thomas (R-NJ), a member of the Dies committee, said in the House today that evidence in the committee's files "clearly shows that the CIO political action committee is in fact the political arm of the New Deal administration."

"Here," he asserted, "is a Communist-dominated group, wielding a $4,000,000 slush fund aimed at the political death of every congressman who will not take its orders, stretching its tentacles into the White House itself."

The organization's activities, he added, "are directed from the White House by the New Deal political strategists, David K. Niles and Jonathan Daniels," administrative assistants to President Roosevelt.

RAF Hits Nazi land

of anti-aircraft and rocket fire from the Germans' coastal defenses.

These attacks capped 24 hours of tremendous activity including the U. S. Air force's shuttle raid from Britain to Russia.

A Moscow communique from the headquarters of the eastern command of the U. S. Strategic Air force said three bombers and two escorting fighters were lost on the flight to Russian air bases. Synthetic oil refineries and installations at Ruhland, southeast of Berlin, were bombed by a large force.

Mustangs Cover Fighters

Mustangs provided constant cover for the bombers during the flight and shot down five enemy planes, the communique said. The bombers shot down a sixth. Yak fighters of the Red air force supported the Mustangs in the last half of the trip, the announcement added.

Keeping the assault going on the Germans' still active rocket bomb launching bases in the Pas de Calais area of France, RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes followed American Liberators and medium bombers over that region yesterday evening and delivered what was officially described as a "devastating" blow at the German installations there.

46 Bombers Missing

Forty-six bombers were missing from the widespread British operations, which included mine laying in enemy waters.

The German radio warned today that Allied planes were over Syria — perhaps indicating that American bombers from Italy were out.

The daylight raid against Berlin by a fleet of more than 1,000 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators and 1,200 escorting fighters was the greatest of the war against the Reich capital. It was disclosed that some of the fighters as well as some of the heavy bombers made the shuttle flight between Britain and the Soviet Union.

Flying Bombs Hit England

While German flying bombs continued droning through English skies overnight, the mounting weight of bombs dropped on the Pas de Calais area indicated the Allies were making progress in their campaign against the launching mechanisms for these projectiles.

From an Allied advance command post came word that American troops swarming up the Cherbourg peninsula—where it was stated more than a quarter of the rocket bomb bases were situated—had seized a number of sites. Supreme headquarters said, however, that there was no evidence that rocket bombs had been launched from the Cherbourg peninsula.

The raid yesterday was the Americans' twelfth on Berlin. It cost 43 U. S. bombers and 15 fighters. Forty-nine German fighters were knocked down, 20 by the fighters and 29 by the bombers' guns.

Nazi Rails, Roads Hit

East of the battle area bombing was concentrated on the disrupted and choked railway and highway network over which the Germans are striving to push reinforcements. Over an area of several hundred square miles British and American fighter-bombers battered bridges, railroad yards, tracks, trains, barges and oil tanks at 20 different places. Air bases at St. Quentin and Dreux also were hit.

The fighters which accompanied the heavy bombers making the shuttle raid on Berlin may or may not have set a distance record depending on how far beyond the Russian border the bases in the Soviet Union lie.

The border itself is some 900 miles from Britain. American fighters have gone several hundred miles farther than that on round trips escorting bombers to Berlin and targets farther east in Germany.

Sales In Department Stores Show Increase

AUSTIN, June 22. (U.P.) — May sales in 80 Texas department and apparel stores were 3.8 per cent higher than in April and 23.6 per cent above May 1943, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported here today.

Increased over May 1943 were: Dallas, 34 per cent; Corpus Christi, 31.9 per cent; El Paso, 26.5 per cent; Fort Worth, 25.2 per cent and Houston 20.3 per cent.

The Army's M-3 sub-machine gun, weighing about 12 pounds, can be carried in an ordinary brief case and is capable of firing 450 rounds a minute.

Fleet Sinks 4 Jap Vessels

aged, one of which is believed to have sunk.

"Three tankers were sunk.

"Two tankers were severely damaged and left burning.

"Fifteen to 20 defending aircraft were shot down."

Third Greatest Blow

This destruction or damaging of 14 ships was the third greatest single blow dealt the Japanese battle fleet of the war.

The greatest was the battle of Midway in June, 1942, when another carrier force under Adm. Spruance sank four enemy carriers and near a score of other ships.

The second biggest defeat was Nov. 13-15, 1942 in the battle off Guadalcanal when the enemy lost more than 30 ships sunk and damaged. The battle summary for Sunday's and Monday's action shows conclusively why Adm. Nimitz in a Monday press conference stated he hoped the enemy would close with the United States fleet for a decisive naval action.

On Sunday Japanese planes attacked Adm. Spruance's Fifth fleet. They achieved no surprise. They lost 353 planes—335 to our fighters and eighteen to our ships' anti-aircraft. They inflicted only superficial damage on only three of our ships.

Time For One Assault

Adm. Mitscher's carrier force pursued the Japanese. On Monday afternoon it located the Japanese and attacked. There was time for just one assault before nightfall. But in just those two or three hours of daylight his bombers and torpedo planes sank or damaged 14 enemy ships.

They destroyed 15 or 20 Japanese planes which rose in weak defense of the enemy's great force.

And Mitscher's force achieved such surprise that the enemy was not able to counterattack.

Adm. Mitscher had one advantage Monday. He caught the Japanese with their planes down—down in the ocean.

This enemy fleet which Adm. Mitscher riddled Monday now has been fairly well established as the one which attacked our force Sunday. Loss of 353 planes from its five or six carriers virtually wiped out its planes so that it had to rely largely on anti-aircraft for defense—a defense which proved pretty futile.

Enemy Planes Reduced

The fact that only 20 Japanese planes were downed Monday further indicates the enemy had very few aircraft to offer resistance.

Our loss of 49 aircraft does not necessarily mean anywhere near that total was lost to enemy action.

Because the battle was closed so late in the day and at nearly extreme range in order to catch the Jap fleet, all of our planes were not able to return to their carriers. Many of these 49 landed in the water and the crews took to rubber life rafts.

Some of these already have been picked up and others undoubtedly were rescued after dawn Tuesday although reports are incomplete.

The Hayataka carrier sunk in the Philippines sea was at least the eighth Japanese flattop sent to the bottom. In addition to four at Midway, the Japanese lost two in the battle of the Coral sea and one to submarine.

Japs Shun Slugfest

opments, is that the Japaness hoped to hurt Spruance with one big air raid—Sunday's—and then get back out of range.

Although we have learned to pay litle attention to Japaness claims, it is good to have reassurance regarding damage to our own fleet. Adm. Nimitz already told us that no combat ships were lost Sunday. Then on Monday, while ripping up 14 Japanese ships, we lost none and suffered no disabling damage. So much for Radio Tokyo's recent burbles.

Jap Plane Losses High

Without counting losses aboard Japanese carriers — one sunk, two apparently very seriously damaged and a fourth hit — the Japanese plane losses are extraordinarily high compared with our own—6 to 1.

Midway, Guadalcanal and Saipan - Philippines, it all adds up. Unless he happens to muster, by accident, an overwhelming local force against one of our task units, the enemy has no hope of a victory in the Pacific. And, until we corner him in a last ditch fight at home, we seem to have small chance of getting him into a showdown, even when we invade the Philippines.

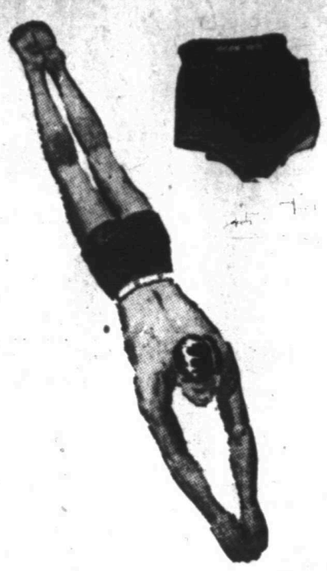

ICE SHORTAGE THREATENS

HOUSTON, June 22 (U.P.)—An ice shortage is threatened in Houston, a survey of the city's plants showed today. Ice plant managers said no rationing had been attempted, but in most cases customers are allowed only what they "actually need."

GOP Foreign Policy Plank Is Adopted

(By The Associated Press)

All Republican factions were reported today to be pretty well satisfied with a proposed foreign policy plank calling for international cooperation—including use of military force when necessary—to maintain peace.

While the Republicans went ahead with pre-convention preliminaries at Chicago, against a background of feverish activity by supporters of favorites for the presidential nomination, there were these other political developments:

For the first time, political contributions of labor unions were brought within the scope of a projected congressional investigation of the elections. Setting up the usual committee to check on possible election frauds, the House authorized it to look into contributions by individuals, partnerships, corporations, committees of labor unions. Heretofore, the biennial investigation of congressional campaigns has been confined to contributions of corporations or other business associations.

Sen. Wheeler (D-Mont), opponent of a fourth term for President Roosevelt, said he doubted the Republicans could elect their presidential nominee this year. He told reporters at Chicago he thought the GOP had little chance "unless they can break into some of the southern states, and I don't have much confidence that they can do so."

Republican National Chairman Harrison Spangler has predicted the Republicans will win, whoever the nominee.

Dewey's Nomination Seen

Arriving at Chicago, Former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, predicted that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will be nominated on the first or second ballot.

Supporters of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, who has the largest number of pledged or claimed votes of anyone other than Dewey, were expressing confidence. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said Bricker has a "good chance."

The Republican resolutions committee began work yesterday on a proposed platform to be submitted to the convention but will not get around to considering the foreign relations plank formally until Friday. A suggested draft by a subcommittee was shown to various leaders and all were reported to have offered no major objections.

Taft was elected chairman of the committee.

Lamesa Soldier Cites Great Job Of Medics

TEMPLE, June 22 (AP)—One of the great jobs of the war has been done by the medics, and the long list of wounded already back here at McCloskey general hospital is proof that no outfit is more constantly exposed to danger at the front.

Pfc. Carl S. Hester of Lamesa, whose medical unit was attached to the 36th in Italy, tells of an incident at Mignano when the medics had gone forward under heavy artillery fire to remove wounded from the battlefield.

"We found one man pretty badly hurt," he said. "It was rough and muddy and it took four men to carry the litter. Enemy artillery spotters must have seen us on our way to the aid station, because we hadn't gone far when we were bracketed by shells. One of the shells burst right over us, hitting everybody except the man on the litter. I was blown into a hole 15 feet deep. It took quite a bunch of medics, then, to get us all out of there. But they got us out after dark."

Harvest Laborers May Be Deferred

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Rep. Worley (D-Tex) said today deferments of from 20 to 30 days may be given men about to be inducted into the armed services through the Texas Panhandle selective service boards provided they join in wheat harvesting in that area.

Worley said selective service officials here approved his suggestion and agreed to recommend to the Texas director that induction delays be granted whenever individuals agreed to help in the wheat fields.
