Living In 'Tornado Alley'

By Glenn Shelton

You may not like the idea, but we are living in a geographical area that has the ominous name "Tornado Alley." That's because the writhing storms have a habit of hitting most frequently in the area from West Texas northeastward to the Canadian border. Moreover, tornado season comes to Texas with the robin and the budding mesquite. Any day now we will read of the meteorological clobbering of some small town in Texas or southwestern Oklahoma, and then until late June or early July the reports will come periodically. Tornadoes are nasty things. They have a small destructive range, to be sure, but what they can do to a small area is frightening to contemplate. What one could do to a town the size of Wichita Falls is something we won't even think about.

SHELTON

★ ★ ★

Newcomers here will be interested to know of our old Indian story, to wit: That tornadoes won't strike on this side of Red River. In the old days the Indians swarmed to Wichita Falls from Oklahoma in tornado season.

★ ★ ★

But I'm one to tell you the Indian was wrong. Back on April 2, 1958, along about dusk, a mean looking black cloud began to boil in the northwest. I, along with all my neighbors, got out in the yard and watched it. Our newspaper photographers got some exceptionally fine pictures of the awesome twister that snaked down from the cloud to hit the area around Riverside Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

The storm did considerable damage, scratched up a few people in Wichita Falls and killed a man out at Dean. It did something else: it wiped out any Indian - inspired thought that Wichita Falls was immune.

★ ★ ★

OFF ON A TANGENT — Thanks to Kenneth Tooley, at the time in Paducah, I received and printed here a fine recipe for a vanilla wafer cake. Now from Quanah's Ed Eakin I have another recipe for you. Wanna cook a "Hippopotamus Stew?" Here's how it's done.

★ ★ ★

HIPPO STEW — It calls for one hippopotamus (medium sized), two rabbits (optional), salt and pepper. Carefully cut the hippopotamus into small, bite-sized pieces. Add enough tasty brown gravy to cover and simmer slowly at 645 degrees F. for about four weeks, or until tender. This will serve 3,800 people.

★ ★ ★

IF MORE GUESTS ARE EXPECTED, TWO RABBITS MAY BE ADDED. BUT THIS IS ONLY IF NECESSARY. MOST PEOPLE DO NOT LIKE HARE IN THEIR STEW.

★ ★ ★

In parenthesis I might add: If your hippo isn't quite done after four weeks, it may be that I got the temperature wrong in Ed's recipe as I did in Mrs. Tooley's Vanilla Wafer Cake.

★ ★ ★

THE MAILBAG — "When I read your comment 'I ain't talkin' I laughed out loud. As a need for the use of this little word 'ain't' I'm quoting these stories: my little nephew said to me, 'I'm a good boy, ISN'T I, Aunto Dodo?' (His mother would clobber him if he used the word 'ain't.' Then there was the little boy at the zoo, seeing the giraffe for the first time. 'Look, Ma!' he said, 'Ain't that a helluva animal!' The irritated mother turned on him scornfully and said: 'How many times have I told you not to say 'ain't?'"

First Lady Given Honorary Degree

By KATRICIA COCHRAN

DENTON, Tex.—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson—that is, Dr. Lady Bird Johnson — spent less than five hours on the campus of Texas Woman's University Tuesday but when she left, after having received an honorary doctorate degree, the memory of her still glowed in the hearts of the 3,200 students.

It would be safe to say that at least half the young women associated with the activities surrounding the First Lady's and Gov. and Mrs. John Connally's visit to the 61-year-old school, afterwards toyed with the idea of careers in either politics or journalism.

(See text of Mrs. Johnson's acceptance speech, Page 7)

One coed said at the luncheon following the presentation of the doctorate at a special convocation, that seeing Mrs. Johnson receive the degree, "Makes me feel good."

The feeling of goodness obviously prevailed over the red bud-studded campus as fair skies shone on the visiting dignitaries who included, from Wichita Falls, Rep. Graham B. Purcell; State Rep. Vernon Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pickens Coleman (she is the Democratic committeewoman from the 23rd Senatorial District); Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Howard; Marvin Penrod; Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. McGaha; Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Anderson (he is on the TWU board of regents) and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Jones (she is president of the state alumnea association).

For the academic procession and convocation, Mrs. Johnson donned a black robe over her printed melon - colored dress. Mrs. Connally also was robed. Her outfit was a black cape dress.

Standing Ovations

More than one standing ovation was awarded Mrs. Johnson when, for the first time in more than 25 years, she walked in an academic procession to a university auditorium to receive a degree.

Walking along the red bud lined walk from the administration building to the main auditorium where more than 3,000 students, faculty and distinguished visitors awaited her, Mrs. Johnson bestowed generous smiles upon her fans and — almost hesitantly as if she were

Uprising Spreads Into Sao Paulo

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — A military - political revolt against President Joao Goulart's left-leaning government spread early Wednesday to Sao Paulo, Brazil's most powerful state.

Gen. Amaury Kruel, commander of the 2nd Army in the industrial metropolis of Sao Paulo, joined the revolt against Goulart "to free the nation from the Communist yoke."

A rebel broadcast from Minas Gerais state, where the rebellion had broken out Tuesday, announced Kruel would march against Rio de Janeiro to depose Goulart. However, a communique issued by Kruel in Sao Paulo made no mention of such plans.

Goulart late Tuesday ordered troops to smash the revolt in Minas Gerais. At the same time the Communist-dominated General Command of Workers called a general strike in support of Goulart.

This was before word reached Rio that the revolt had spread to Sao Paulo.

The president ordered troops of the 1st Army here to move against rebels in the strongly anti - Communist neighboring state of Minas Gerais where a "revolutionary capital" had been proclaimed at Juiz de Fora, 80 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

He sent the troops against both Juiz de Fora and the state capital, Belo Horizonte, where the governor had proclaimed himself in support of the movement to overthrow Goulart.

The president declared in a statement to the nation that the revolt would be smashed within a few hours.

Reports here said that a battalion of shock troops and the 5th Infantry Regiment stationed at nearby Petropolis had moved out Tuesday night for Juiz de Fora. A rebel general there had accused Goulart of being manipulated by Communists and declared that "he must be put out of the power which he abuses."

There was no immediate word of government action against the huge industrial Sao Paulo state, whose governor had indicated he was ready to join the anti-Goulart uprising.

The ailing War minister Gen. Jair Dantas Ribeiro, issued a communique from a hospital bed saying he was reassuming command of the nation's army despite bad health. He promised the army would act with "maximum energy against the rebels."

Goulart called for the "most vehement repudiation. . . of those who seek to install disorder and wound democratic institutions in a moment in which the federal government, with the support of the people and the armed forces, finds itself trying to direct peacefully the economic and social recuperation of the country."

He said that "they fool themselves who think they can touch my mandate, which is principally from the people."

Delay In Texas Redistricting Urged By Carr

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal court on congressional redistricting ended Tuesday with Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr asking the three judges not to disrupt the 1964 election procedures already under way in the state.

Associate Justice John R. Brown of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said the special court will announce its ruling at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Carr's closing argument ended a four-day hearing that had been expected to be completed in just one day.

Attorneys for 27 Republicans and two Democrats earlier had outlined eight ways they said Texas could be redistricted on a more equitable basis either through a special session of the legislature or by special actions by the State Executive Committees of the two major political parties.

Carr told the court:

"If you require a special session at this time you are really going to shake this state to its foundation.

"We believe Texas can meet the problem but the question cannot be met in the time we have."

William Cassin, chief attorney for the Republicans, had contended a special session of the state legislature could redistrict the state within 24 days.

"That formula calls for only one-day of public hearings by the legislature," Carr said. "That is so far out of orbit it is almost irresponsible."

GOVERNOR PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Dinner Honors 'Cotton' Moffett

By BILL LAMBERT
State Editor

QUANAH, Tex. — "For the last time I'm going to say thank you again and again and again," State Sen. Goerge (Cotton) Moffett told 1,000 well-wishers at an appreciation banquet here Tuesday night.

"Goodbye, and may God bless you all," Moffett concluded. Moffett had received testimonials from many persons, hometown friends and state officials including Gov. John B. Connally, who delivered the feature address.

Among the dozens of dignitaries sending telegrams was President Lyndon B. Johnson, who said, "I am happy to join the many friends of Sen. George Moffett this evening as they pay tribute to his many accomplishments during his 34 years of service to the Legislature.

"I know the Governor and congressman Purcell will express eloquently the debt owed by the people of Texas to George Moffett. My heartiest greetings and best wishes to all who honor him at this testimonial. Cordially, Lyndon B. Johnson."

In addition to Governor Connally's talk, tribute was paid to Moffett — who is retiring this year after 34 years in the state legislature — by former governor Coke Stevenson, Rep. Graham B. Purcell, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Judge O. L. Bell of Quanah and Vernon Hefner, president of the Hardeman County Farm Bureau.

Stevenson said, "He has been a great public servant. I believe he is one of the most able, competent public servants in any capacity in the State of Texas."

Smith said, "We know how much the Senate is going to miss you, how much the people are going to miss you — not only these people, but the State of Texas."

Hefner presented Moffett with a certificate of honor from the Texas County Agents Association, and a certificate of merit from Progressive Farmer magazine.

Judge Bell, on behalf of the people of Hardeman County, gave Stetson hats to both Connally and Moffett.

Connally said that, speaking for the people of Texas, "We are profoundly pleased that it has been our pleasure to see Moffett's great handiwork and to express to you our sadness that his services will no longer be available to us in the Senate — it will leave a great void. But he has

Governor Dedicates Garment Factory At Olney During North Texas Swing

By LARRY GRAUERHOLZ

OLNEY, Tex.—The city of Olney turned out to give a rousing welcome to Governor John Connally Tuesday afternoon when he came to town for a 16 - minute dedicatory address at a new factory.

Dedication of the new plant for Olney Manufacturing Co., makers of Haggar slacks, was the feature of the Olney celebration of Industrial Week. A throng of 3500 persons, including many school children dismissed from school for the occasion, took advantage of the opportunity to take a first - hand look at the chief executive of Texas.

It was the first time in at least a generation that a governor of Texas had made a formal appearance in Young County.

Sandwiching his visit to Olney between appearances in Denton and in Quanah, the governor paid lavish tribute to the city of Olney and to the Haggar Company. He described the new $112,000 plant located a mile west of Olney as a "monument to free enterprise, to the community and to the company."

Connally, in briefly tracing the success story of the Haggar Company, credited the "imagination, drive and integrity" of the Haggar family for the expansion of the company since it was founded in 1926.

Praises Citizens

The governor also praised the citizens of the community. He said that the "imagination of the city and the courage of its citizenry" made the plant possible. The Olney Industrial Foundation constructed the modern building for lease to the Haggar Co. of Dallas, which will employ more than 200 persons at capacity.

Gov. Connally was introduced by Cliff Cassidy, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Olney. Mayor Clyde Stuteville presented "honorary Olney citizenship" certificates to the governor and to members of the Haggar family.

Following the dedicatory address, the governor, assisted by J. M. Haggar Sr. and Mayor Stuteville, snipped a waistband to open the new plant for the public tour.

The governor arrived at the Olney airport at 2:40 p.m. and was met by a delegation of Olney citizens. On the plane from Denton with the governor were State Sen. and Mrs. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells and Bill Stinson, the governor's administrative aide. Rep. Graham B. Purcell flew in by another plane.

The day's celebration began Tuesday morning with a "Salute to Industry" parade through downtown Olney. Lead by the Olney High School band, the parade included representatives of 30 business and industrial firms and included a total of 58 units.

MacArthur Still On Critical List

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's condition remains critical. But aided by around-the-clock medical attention, he is holding his own.

This was the latest word Tuesday night from Walter Reed Army Hospital where the old warrior's doctors reported that his condition remained "essentially the same as it was this morning."

The hospital bulletin added that MacArthur "is holding his own."

Tuesday morning the doctors reported the general's condition continued to be critical but said there was continued slight improvement in one of the complicating symptoms besetting him and a holding of the line on another.

The doctors said the possibility that MacArthur may have the additional complication of a stress ulcer of the stomach — prompted by the rigors he has undergone in recent weeks—"cannot be denied or confirmed, only suspected."

Earlier, a hospital spokesman had said that the doctors are taking the tentative view that no such ulcer was present but that they could not rule out the possibility.

Efforts Pressed To Aid Alaskans

By MURLIN SPENCER

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Federal and state officials bore down Tuesday on speeding a massive aid program to relieve human suffering in quake-torn Alaska and restore its crippled economy.

President Johnson and Gov. William A. Egan both prodded aides for quick action to insure continued food and shelter for the dispossessed and financial help for jobless.

The count of victims from the terrible earthquake of last Friday went on. Confusion in the tally persisted, due to sketchy reports from farflung villages hit by seismic waves stirred by the quake.

The toll of Alaska dead and presumed dead was upped Tuesday morning to 178, with word attributed to state police in Kodiak of 22 dead and 50 missing.

Dirksen Plans 12 Amendments To Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Tuesday he will offer about 12 amendments to improve, not "emasculate or water down," the fair employment practices section of the civil rights bill.

If adopted, they will help muster votes needed to keep the section in the legislation, he said.

The Illinois Republican spoke to newsmen after a luncheon of GOP senators where the proposed amendments had been discussed.

There were these other developments too in the slowly unfolding Senate civil rights battle:

Dirksen said there would be another such luncheon next week, then probably a formal party conference the following week to seek a unified position among most Republican senators in favor of his changes.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and other Southerners protested on the Senate floor the refusal of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Monday to yield to questions while giving a speech favoring the bill.

He "seems to feel he not only can call the tune but do all the dancing," Russell said.

The Southern complaints apparently stemmed partly from Humphrey's suddenly turning the debate back to the Dixie forces Tuesday when they were expecting the proponents to continue discussing the bill.

"If the advocates ... have broken down temporarily, I believe the record should show it," said Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.

Humphrey said those favoring the bill "are prepared to debate the bill title by title" and challenged the Southerners to agree to vote now, in four weeks, or six or seven weeks, or to reach an understanding to vote June 1.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the Senate had better act a lot earlier than June 1. If there is trouble in the street, he said, "we'll have the responsibility because we didn't act in time."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., helping lead the bipartisan effort to pass the bill, said there is "a clear majority of senators who want some progress in this field of equal treatment under law for all Americans."

Russell replied that "the senator assumes the majority is always right" but called this false. The minority has the right to try to correct the majority, he said.

Sheriff Lists Office Expense

Itemized expenses for operation of the Wichita County Sheriff's office under Ham Vance amounted to $149,978 according to the annual report filed with the state comptroller in Austin.

The department spent roughly the same amount in 1962.

Expenses were:

Sheriff's salary, $9,800; assistants' salaries, $106,239; stationery and supplies, $1,985; postage and box rent, $168; travel, $885; auto expense, $17,966; telephone and telegraph, $3,445; repairs and supplies, $411; city directory, $45; record books, $97; insurance for autos, $59; advertisements for autos, $16; uniforms, laundry, trusty uniforms, $719; radio equipment, repairs, installations, $3,475; new automobiles, $4,246; signs for county jail, $25; rent on fan, $24; polygraph tests, $50; dog pen, $317.

Ten Automobiles

The department operates 10 automobiles. Besides the sheriff, there were 31 other employes in the department. These include deputies, court bailiffs, clerks, jailors and jail matrons. They also include a number of part-time employes who were taken on during the summer months.

The following fees were collected during 1963 and paid to the county treasurer: Justice courts, criminal, $1,222; county court, criminal, $2,603; district courts, criminal, $99; lunacy, $848; county court, civil, $452; district courts, civil, $2,588; out-of-county courts, $2,028; refund travel expense, $770; feeding federal prisoners, $313; refund telephone calls, $81; auto accident and miscellaneous expenses re-imbursed $572; fees paid to county treasurer, $1,305.

These figures represent a total of $12,886 collected in fees by the county sheriff's department during 1963.

Uncollected

Sheriff Ham Vance added that the department had earned another $15,173 in fees during 1963 which, for a number of reasons, had not been able to collect. "Some of these fees are owed by men sent to the state penitentiary," he added. "We also work closely with the probation department, and other fees are outstanding for commitments in child support cases.

Cold Damages Florida Crops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An unseasonable blast of freezing temperatures spread into northern Florida Tuesday, damaging tender vegetables after causing a multimillion-dollar loss to peach and vegetable crops in the Southeast.

Temperatures dropped as low as 27 in northern Florida, killing beans, corn, watermelon and cucumbers. There was no damage to vegetables and citrus in south Florida where temperatures did not go below 40.

In South Carolina 27-degree weather caused heavy damage to Charleston County's $6.5-million vegetable crop. Thousands of acres of tomatoes, beans, potatoes, cucumbers and cabbage were damaged in varying degrees.

The wintry attack on the night before knocked out almost half of South Carolina's $20-million peach crop and caused extensive damage to peaches in northern Georgia and North Carolina. A spokesman for the North Carolina growers said little if any of the state's $2.5-million peach crop was left.

The second night of below-freezing weather clipped more blooms from peach trees in Georgia, but the state's main peach belt in the Fort Valley area escaped major damage. Georgia growers said they could lose 75 to 80 per cent of blooms on peach trees and still produce a good crop.

City Downtown At Crossroads

The City of Wichita Falls is now at the crossroads of the downtown problem, according to Bill Thacker, well known Wichita Falls businessman, who spoke to the Wichita Falls Board of Realtors Tuesday noon at Wyatt's in Parker Square.

Thacker said that downtown Wichita Falls had 4,000 off-street parking spaces and about 1,000 on - street parking spaces and that parking is still a problem. Thacker said several cities in Texas and Oklahoma had been written to ask if they had downtown problems and what they had done to correct the situation. According to all the answers, Thacker said, all other cities have downtown parking problems.

Cities contacted were Oklahoma City, Abilene, Tex., Corpus Christi, Waco, Austin, Beaumont, Amarillo and Tyler. Only Beaumont admitted that parking was not a serious problem at the present time, Thacker said.

Thacker said that the time for action was now since several key downtown businesses' leases expire within three years. Thacker is a member of a chamber of commerce committee delegated to investigate the downtown parking situation. He said his committee planned a survey of customers for their wants and their habits. One suggestion was to use dollies to transport shoppers from one area to another.

Wayne (Red) Smith, chamber of commerce downtown development group head, also attended the luncheon and spoke briefly. He said that one can't have a good city without a dynamic downtown.

He said starting Saturday all parking meters will be covered with white sacks at noon as a reminder to the shopper that no meter deposit is necessary.

Massachusetts Governor's Mother Arrested In Florida

By F. T. MACFEELY

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Police arrested the 72-year-old mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody and used dogs to round up scores of Negro youths as racial demonstrations reached a new peak in this troubled city Tuesday.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody was arrested by Police Lt. E. J. Irwin as she sat with five St. Augustine Negro women in the dining room of the Ponce de Leon Motor Lodge.

Also in the party were Mrs. Donald Campbell of Cambridge, Mass., wife of an Episcopal bishop; and J. Lawrence Burkholder, a Harvard University theology professor.

With typical New England reserve, Mrs. Peabody smiled and said calmly, when Irwin asked her if she was going to leave: "We are not going to leave."

Told that she was under arrest, she rose quietly and walked with the others ahead of a group of officers to a waiting car.

At the jail, Mrs. Peabody and others in her group were seated in chairs under a shade tree outside the jail while police finished booking Negroes arrested previously. The day was warm and sunny.

Here with a group of sympathizers from New England, including several prominent church people and some college students, Mrs. Peabody had said before that she had no intention of going to jail.

But, after police used dogs to break up a Negro sit-down, she agreed to expose herself to arrest.

Continuing the struggle to break down the ancient racial barriers of the nation's oldest city, 140 clapping, chanting Negroes chose the dining room of the Ponce de Leon Hotel as the day's target.

Soon after they had pushed through the lobby and taken seats in the dining room, a squad of officers led by Sheriff L. O. Davis and Police Chief Virgil Stewart ordered them three times to leave.

The youths, undeterred by the earlier arrests of some 80 of their companions and sympathizers since the start of the current round of demonstrations, sat silently at the tables.

Dogs then were brought up and the Negroes were herded outside.

"We ain't walking to jail," one demonstrator shouted, and the Negroes sat down on the pavement at the motor entrance to the hotel grounds.

"Get up," the officers commanded. "Get on your feet!"

Some arose but, when police continued to restrain the barking, snapping animals, some of them sat down again.

Police cars and station wagons were brought to the hotel and some 75 of the Negroes were hustled off to jail. The others were released on a promise to return to their high school classes.

Trespassing charges were filed against most of those arrested. A few were charged with resisting an officer.

Governor Dedicates Garment Factory At Olney During North Texas Swing

S-2 crop-duster planes flew overhead. A scheduled landing of an S-2 plane on the highway east of Olney was cancelled because of gusty winds.

The S-2 plane is built by the Snow Aeronautical Corp., the first industry added in the Olney program. The Snow plant makes about one plane per week.

Haggar Company was founded by J. M. Haggar 37 years ago in a single floor in a downtown Dallas building. He had 80 used sewing machines and 100 employes when he established the company.

Millions of pairs of pants later, he's chairman of the board of the world's largest manufacturers of men's dress slacks. His two sons carry on in the business. The elder, E. R. Haggar, is president. The younger, J. M. (Joe) Jr., is executive vice president.

Plant manager at Olney is Dave Harris, who has been with Haggar for 20 years. He started in Dallas as a presser and worked up through the ranks.

Sentiment Of Texans

"George, for you, for your daughter, for your son, as inadequately as I have said it, you know I have tried to express the affection, the sentiment of all Texans in giving you a hearty 'well-done'."

Former Rep. Ed Gossett, formerly of Vernon, and now of Dallas, served as master of ceremonies. Gossett defeated Moffett by 365 votes out of 65,000 cast in the congressional race for this area in 1944 to give Moffett his only political defeat.

Gossett said: "This section has never produced a more distinguished person than Sen. George (Cotton) Moffett."

He tried on his Stetson, saying, "After listening to all those speeches, I was beginning to wonder if it was big enough."

"I will say I think a very good man is going to take my place in Austin, and that makes me happy, too."

He thanked his supporters over the years and said, "I am proud this district has seen fit to elect me to represent them in Austin so many years."

SERIOUS MATTER—Olney, Tex.—Governor John Connally and State Rep. Jack Crain of Nocona might be discussing some legislative matter as they meet at the Olney airport Tuesday. # Moffett Gets Farm Award

By NEAL JOHNSON
Farm Editor

QUANAH, Tex. — "Mr. Agriculture" in Texas State Sen. George (Cotton) Moffett, was honored here Tuesday night during a special appreciation dinner by county agents throughout Extension District Three when they presented him with a certificate of honor.

The award, normally presented during the Texas County Agents Convention in November, is given every other year according to even and odd numbered districts.

"Moffett, chairman of the Texas Senate Agriculture Committee, has long been known as a friend to cotton. Throughout his legislative career Moffett has worked to broaden markets for the number one cash crop in the Lone Star State. It was pointed out that Moffett is a cotton, livestock farmer in Hardeman County. Following his graduation from Texas AM College in 1916 with a degree in agriculture, he served in World War I and entered the Texas House in 1930. In 1939, Moffett moved to the Senate to represent the 23rd District.

Through the years, Moffett has received numerous recognitions. In 1959 he was the second individual to be given the "Distinguished Service Award" by the Texas Farm Bureau. The farm organization pointed out how the Greenbelt native had worked on the side of agriculture in the State Senate.

The Texas Cotton Research Committee has paid special recognition to Moffett and this year, the "Progressive Farmer" honored him as the man of the year.

SENATOR AND DAUGHTER — Quanah, Tex. — Sen. George (Cotton) Moffett of Chillicothe and his daughter, Joy, are shown sitting at a banquet table in Quanah Tuesday night during an honors dinner for the veteran lawmaker who has decided to go into retirment after this term of office is over. Moffett has served the state continually for 34 years and has done much for cotton legislation in the state. (Staff Photo)

Governor Sees Quanah

QUANAH, Tex. — Governor Connally and Congressman Graham Purcell were met by Sen. George (Cotton) Moffett and about 1,000 others when they arrived at the airport and the adjacent FFA barn, where an FFA and 4-H project show was being held.

The governor climaxed a three-city visit Tuesday beginning with Denton, Tex., where he attended a convocation honoring the First Lady, going to a factory opening at Olney and thence to Quanah to honor retiring State Sen. George (Cotton) Moffett of Chillicothe.

Connally inspected the animals on display and made a brief informal address, complimenting the youths on their agricultural work. He said, "In years to come, you are going to be proud of the time spent on the projects because it teaches you 'how to solve problems.'"

"Not anything is going to be easy, nothing is going to be given to you. The things you really appreciate are those you work for, those you achieve . . . this is what made this country great."

"I know of no greater heritage that young people can have than to be born in a rural community," he continued, explaining that it "inculcates a desire to grow, to build, to create."

Hog Squeals

The governor was interrupted by a loudly-squealing hog and quipped, "If you didn't know better, you'd think that hog was Republican."

He called two youngsters up to the speaker's stand. Speaking of Cary Shelton, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Shelton of Chillicothe, the governor said, "He and I have something in common." Connally explained that both he and Shelton had been under the care of Dr. Robert R. Shaw, Dallas chest specialist.

He then called on Johnny Horton, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Horton of Quanah, whose right arm is in a cast. The governor said, "He says he didn't have a chance to sign my cast, but he wants me to sign his." The governor then put his autograph on the boy's cast.

At a press conference, Orlin Brewer, Vernon newsman, reminded the governor that he has placed special emphasis on improving higher education and said, "We think we are possibly big enough for a junior college here. Do you feel the junior college movement will be expanded?" Connally's reply was "Yes, I would think so and I would hope so. I would hope the committee of 25 in its report will advocate the addition of some junior colleges."

Earlier Trip

He said during this decade the number of college-age young people in Texas will expand 53 per cent and added, "I think it can be proved dollar for dollar junior colleges do a superb job in this state."

Connally mentioned his trip earlier in the afternoon to Olney and said, "I was extremely impressed with Olney and what they have done." He pointed out that Olney has raised more than $600,000 for the industrial porgram and went into detail on new industries there. "I think this is a classic example of what the smaller communities are going to have to do," Connally noted. "The normal agricultural pursuits . . . are no longer adequate to provide young people with economic opportunity." He said unless the economic base of smaller towns is expanded, "they will wither and die on the vine."

He complimented the Texas Industrial Commission, saying last year it brought in 317 new plants; "more than any state in the union except New York, and they brought in only 325."

The governor also discussed possible tax relief legislation for cities and counties and answered newsmen's questions: "This matter just hasn't been discussed at any great length."

He showed great optimism for improving Texas' tourist program and parks system.

Assassination

Asked to describe the Dallas incident in which he was wounded and President John F. Kennedy assassinated, Connally said, "I heard what I thought and interpreted as a rifle shot — that's the only thing that entered my mind. I turned and looked over my right shoulder and didn't see anything. I turned the other way to look at the President, but I never got completely turned before I got hit."

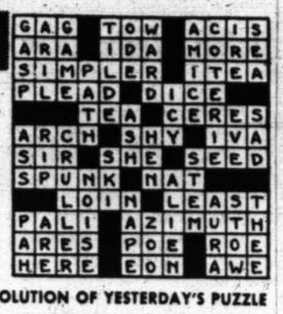

"I never heard the shot that got me," he continued. "There was no pain connected with it. It felt like someone had hit me with his fist." But he said the impact knocked him over and when he started to raise back up, his wife, Nellie, "pulled me over in her lap." "I heard the third shot and I heard it hit the President."

Connally said he blacked out on the way to the hospital, but awoke upon arrival there. After awakening, "The only thing I thought of . . . was that I was blocking the exit and they couldn't get to the President." He said he tried to stand up, but instead, just "crumpled" and fell down into the car. "I felt the pain then, I assure you," the governor said. "It hurt like the very devil."

Connally said it was the next day after he awoke in the hospital before he knew that the bullet had passed through his shoulder, shattered his wrist and gone into his leg.

Despite his day of strenuous travel, the governor seemed strong and in good spirits, but he did all his handshaking with his left hand.

AREA RESIDENTS HAVE LEADING PAGEANT ROLES

A Wichita Falls duchess, a Haskell student and a Chillicothe man, State Senator George Moffett, will be among participants in the 30th annual Cotton Pageant and Ball Saturday at Texas A&M University.

One of the duchesses who will comprise the royal court from which will be chosen Queen Cotton and eight members of the court will be Raymonda Hander Allmand, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hander, 4907 Marsha.

Mrs. Allmand's husband, Lyndon Allmand, is a junior at Texas A&M. The young Wichita Falls woman was a student at Texas Woman's University before her marriage. At TWU she was a Redbud princess and earned numerous other honors.

John Gannaway of Haskell, agronomy major at A&M, will be master of ceremonies for the festivity Saturday night.

Senator "Cotton" Moffett, a 1916 graduate of Texas A&M, will crown King and Queen Cotton during the ball.

Senator Moffett, known as "Mr. Agriculture" and "Mr. A&M" in the Texas Legislature, is chairman of the Senate's agriculture and livestock committee and chairman of the subcommittee of the Senate finance committee.

King Cotton is Kindred P. Caskey of Weslaco, a senior in plant and soil sciences.

Mrs. Allmand is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School where she was active in many organizations. She and her husband now reside in College Station.

Though Finland's population numbers only 4,500,000 people, they support 225 newspapers.

SIDE GLANCES—"I'd like something in a cheer card for a woman who can't find a thing that looks decent on her!"

HOLLYWOOD and VINE
by HEDDA HOPPER

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Peter Sellers doesn't want Britt Eklund, his bride of five weeks, to work, and it looks as though he will get his wish. She walked out of a Twentieth Century-Fox picture being filmed in England after three weeks of shooting with three more to go.

She has joined her husband in Hollywood and says she isn't going back. Sellers denied reluctantly that they are expected a baby, which would get her out on an act-of-God clause.

The company closed down, put 200 people out of work, and the studio is filing suit against her.

The aftermath: She will never be able to do another film in England. But we're so chicken-livered we will probably put her to work her.

Rumors Denied

When "a very good authority" called with a tip that Mrs. Dean Martin had quietly filld for divorce and Molly Bee was waiting in the wings to become the next Mrs. M., I called the little old wine drinker at home and asked, "How about it?"

Dean chuckled merrily, admitted he had known Molly since she was 8, and said he saw her a couple of years ago.

"Is she really standing in the wings?" Dean remarked. "How about that now? I drink a little, but —"

I asked Dean, "Well, what are you doing?"

He answered, "Just gettin' ready to call Molly. No, we got the day off on our picture ("Kiss Me, Stupid"). Old Pete Sellers got a sty in his eye. I saw it. He looks like he had three eyes. They could use him on Outer Limits."

"Have you met the new Mrs. Sellers?" I asked.

"Now there is something," Martin said. "She's not as pretty as Jeannie and doesn't have as good a figure — but she's beautiful. You know when you called to accuse me, I though you were going to say Kim Novak. I talked to her five minutes the other day."

Wife Joins Gag

In cold, rainy Palm Springs, Jeanne Martin went along with the gag, commenting, "Hedda, Dean has two or three girls picked out. He hasn't made up his mind what age group he wants to be in."

Mrs. Martin spent the Easter vacation with her kids — in shifts because the Palm Springs home isn't big enough for them all.

She said their daughter Claudia finished a part in a "Mr. Novak" sequence.

"Getting a career going is hard work, no matter who your father is," Jeanne said.

When I called Molly Bee to check on the rumor, Molly said, "You're puttin' me on. It must be two other people. I've been on the road for eight weeks on one-nighters. Joined Bob Hope and played three universities — L.S.U., Baylor, and Tulane. In New Orleans Bob and I went to the Pete Fountain Inn. Pete (a jazz clarinetist) did a three-hour show for us.

"We couldn't stand it so we got up and sang, too. They dropped the Confederate Flag and everybody stood up. A man said to Bob, 'I'm proud to see you standin'. Down here we take this flag seriously. Why I've had a Confederate uniform hangin' in my closet for 50 years'... 'And I've had Phil Harris hangin' in my closet for three days,' said Bob."

Molly and Bob will be queen and king of Indiana University in May. Meanwhile, she shuttles back and forth from New York for the Jimmy Dean television show. She says it is great to be singing western style again.

Leslie Caron Films

Leslie Caron and Bill Holden will team in the new film, "The Vespers," an original story by Bryan Forbes who scripted and directed "The L-Shaped Room." Leslie will play a nun who helps smuggle American flier out of France during the war.

The picture will be made in France. Holden made his fortune here, but he won't work in Hollywood anymore.

"Lilies of the Field" has brought everyone connected with it all kinds of luck. Cary Grant saw the picture and immediately engaged Ralph Nelson to direct "Father Goose" which he will make with Leslie Caron in Jamaica in April.

Easter Seal Canvass Set

Members of Wichita Falls church and civic groups will conduct a house-to-house canvass of sections of the city not previously covered in an Easter Seal drive Thursday and Friday nights.

The annual Easter Seal drive, conducted in about a third of the city March 23, netted slightly less than $5,000. The Crippled Children's Center here, dependent upon the drive, has an annual budget of almost $30,000.

Center officials said one reason for the disappointing total collected by the March 23 drive was only about a third of the drive's volunteer workers showed up to participate and this resulted in nearly two-thirds of the city not being solicited.

Last year's Easter Seal drive resulted in about $13,000 being collected for the operation of the Children's Center — which is presently treating slightly more than 80 children and has a waiting list of more than 20 for a single therapy class.

Volunteers for the Thursday and Friday nights drive will meet at 5:30 p.m. both nights at the Children's Center, 516 Denver, for kits and identification. The drive will be conducted from 6-8 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

LBJ, First Lady End Texas Visit

By AUSTIN BUREAU

AUSTIN — At 4:40 p.m. Tuesday, Dr. Claudia Alta (Lady Bird) Johnson and her husband, the President of the United States, left Bergstrom Air Force Base for Washington.

It was Mrs. Johnson's day—and a full one—as she received her first honorary degree, a doctor of laws, from Texas Women's University in Denton.

Arriving at a private Austin field at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday by helicopter from the LBJ Ranch, Mrs. Johnson boarded a waiting DC3 press plane for Denton.

The First Lady made a walking tour of the TWU campus and saw the chapel, which was dedicated by another first lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

The press plane departed at 3 p.m. and Mrs. Johnson chatted informally with reporters during the return trip. She was particularly impressed with the space experiments at TWU on calcium retention of human bones when subjected to the rigors of space.

She saw four volunteers, confined to immobile bed rest for two weeks while on special calcium diets. The men had not raised their heads even to shave. They viewed tv by special prism glasses.

Mrs. Johnson said she "did not want to ask them for any show of recognition or response," but quietly walked to each man's bed and took his hand.

"We are going to need more like you," she said.

At the end of such a day, she retained the instant eye contact for which she is famous, still meeting every person with a direct gaze and easy manner which compliments and relaxes him.

The Johnson's Washington departure had not previously been announced, but word spread through the plane that landing would be at Bergstrom, not the private field. There the President would be waiting, and there he was.

First Lady Given Honorary Degree

not quite sure it was proper—waved to the cheering crowds.

Notables

Walking alongside her in the procession was Dr. John A. Guinn, school president, and immediately behind them were Gov. John Connally and Mrs. John T. Jones Jr., Houston, chairman of the TWU board of regents. Next in line were Mrs. Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Other school officials, the faculty and senior class completed the academic procession. As Mrs. Johnson approached, one teenage boy remarked with awe, "Isn't she beautiful?"

At the auditorium, the audience gave hearty applause to the dignitaries as the Lasso Band played the processional. An offstage choir sang the Lord's Prayer.

Laughter joined applause as Dr. Guinn conferred the degree, with the assistance of Mrs. Jones, and addressed the First Lady as "Dr. Johnson."

Citation Read

He read the citation, a framed copy of which he also presented to Mrs. Johnson. The citation read:

"This day marks another event of high significance in the chronology of the Texas Woman's University. We are privileged to welcome to our campus the First Lady of the land—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

"In summoning Mrs. Johnson to this convocation the president, regents and faculty wished to express in one act, on a public and formal occasion, the deep admiration for her which the university shares with countless men and women at home and abroad, and which it recognizes in the response to her among young women everywhere.

"Those who have followed her career feel great pride in her as a student who has achieved excellence, as a wife who accepted, with her husband the challenges of service to the nation, as a mother who widens the horizons of her own two daughters, as a person who has demonstrated exceptional acumen in business affairs, and as a woman who is in a position of influence among those who shape the decisive events destined to become history.

"Mindful of what has been said of her and her husband—'They remember the unknown living' — we have accompanied her in spirit around the world. As we have walked with her through the hospitals of Southeast Asia; as we have observed with her the growing schools of the Middle East, where, as she said, women are being graduated from the veil to the vote; as we have visited with her some troubled parts of our own country, including the mining towns of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, we have heard her say: 'I have come because I want to meet the people behind the statistics. No one can afford to be a passive citizen.'

'We Pay Homage'

"As this moment, as we of this great woman's university in her native state pause to pay homage to Mrs. Johnson, we know that there are fewer passive citizens in the world today because of her.

"Now by virtue of the authority which the members of the board of regents have invested in me as president of the university, I hereby confer on you, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, the degree of doctor of laws, honoris causa."

Gov. Connally, addressing the large audience, said, "Many great ladies have graced the White House down through history. None has become first lady of this land with more qualities and dedication for the past than Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

"In private and public life, Mrs. Johnson has the touch of success derived from wisdom, serenity and humility. She has been a devoted wife, the helpmate and confidant of a man who was born to leadership and decision.

"She has been a wonderful mother to two lovely, gracious girls. She has been a successful businesswoman in her own right.

"Today, she carries the burdens and responsibilities of being the first lady of the land with the same grace and dedication that has marked her life from the beginning. She has assumed a special place in the hearts not only of us in Texas but of people throughout the land."

In extending the welcome, Mrs. Jones turned to the governor and said, "Gov. Connally, it would give us the greatest pleasure to honor you as we honor Mrs. Johnson; however, as this is a woman's university . . . (laughter interruption) . . . you will understand this is lady's day."

Following the convocation which was only the fourth time TWU has conferred an honorary degree—and Mrs. Johnson's first honorary degree—the First Lady met with a select group of TWU students and then joined the processional to Hubbard Hall where she was honored at a luncheon.

Other Speakers

Speaking briefly at the luncheon were Randall C. Jackson, Abilene, vice chairman of the board of regents; Dr. Gladys Maddox, English teacher representing the faculty and Elaine Meeks, president of the student body.

A series of presentations followed. Jeff Crosslin, president of the Young Democrats at neighboring North Texas State University, presented a bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Johnson. The other gifts all were made by students or faculty at TWU and were presented by students to Mrs. Johnson, who also accepted gifts for President Johnson and their two daughters, Lynda and Luci; Gov. and Mrs. Connally and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Smith.

The young woman who presented cuff links to Gov. Connally "broke the ice" with a slip of the tongue. Karen Russell, who hails from Floresville, the governor's home town, in attempting to say, "A pair of hand made cuff links" . . . came out with "pair of hand . . . set of handcuffs."

The governor, in accepting them — after the laughter and applause subsided, said: "I shall remember this memorable day. I trust you will not soon forget it. Don't you be upset about talking about handcuffs. I wouldn't mind being handcuffed to TWU at all."

In remarking on Dr. Guinn's comment that Miss Russell came from Floresville, Gov. Connally said, "I want you to know there are several of us. We are not the only two from down there. I'm glad we are so beautifully represented here at TWU."

Campus Toured

Following the luncheon Mrs. Johnson was taken on tour of the campus and visited first of all the Chapel in the Woods, which was built when her husband was state director of the National Youth Administration. As Mrs. Johnson said in her speech, it was "at a time when our nation was broke."

Mrs. Johnson was the second First Lady to visit the chapel. It was dedicated by the late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Her tour included a visit to the research laboratories and to the arts building.

By 3:30 p.m., the First Lady's party was winging its way back to Austin where she rejoined her husband for the flight to Washington, D.C.

But as the giant yellow roses which had adored the campus were beginning to wilt in the afternoon sun, and as workmen removed roped barriers, and as university officials started to relax, and as newsmen scattered and as the sheriff — who throughout the day had carried a rifle — heaved an obvious sigh, it was clear that the day that Dr. Lady Bird Johnson spent almost five hours charming TWU would linger long.

Beware Pranksters, It's All Fools' Day

What are you doing right now?

Standing up? Sitting down? Without moving an inch, slowly put this newspaper down and examine those next to you. They may be trying to do you in on the jokesters' field day, April Fool.

Examine pockets for suspicious bulges, possible handshake buzzers. Is that boutonniere real or is it outfitted with plumbing? Get ready for a rubber snake or wriggly tarantula in your chair.

One Wichita Falls man received an embossed card in the mail recently, calmly informing him that:

"The Game and Wildlife Bureau is pleased to announce your back yard has been selected as a game refuge and the first shipment of 500 buffalo will arrive at 3:30 a.m. the coming Thursday."

He still is looking for his charges to arrive.

First Lady's Acceptance Speech After Receiving Degree At TWU

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the text of remarks by by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson at convocation, Texas Woman's University, on receipt of an honorary doctor of laws degree Tuesday.

"Governor Connally, President Guinn, Mrs. Jones, members of the board of regents, of the faculty, the alumnae and student body, I am deeply grateful for the honor you have paid me today. Receiving this degree — the first honorary one I ever had —gives me special satisfaction for many reasons because of the spirit in which it has been so generously bestowed. Then quite frankly, it is very nice to receive a degree without having to take the exams.

"I feel a special nostalgic pride in coming here too — and if you indulge me — I will tell you why.

"Across the way, there is the chapel in the woods which has been such a part of the life of this college for a quarter of a century. But it was the part of many other lives, too.

"A tall and enthusistic friend of mine had a hand in it. As the state director of the NYA, at a time when our nation was broke, he helped get young people off boxcars and set them to work building the chapel and other structures like it around this state—a chapel by young people.

"You could see before your eyes what you were able to do. But that experience made a lasting impression on our lives.

"Looking at you, I am mindful of the aims of this university and I can see that these aims have noble emissaries in you. We need expanding horizons for a great growing state, a state I am always proud to call home.

Advantages

"It has been many years since I walked through the groves of academe. Like you, I carried my books and my dreams. As a young women, reared to respect knowledge and eager for its enriching gifts. I stood, as you do now, on the threshold of opportunity. It gives me a very warm and reassuring feeling to realize that so many of you are ready to seize this opportunity. As graduates of Texas Woman's University, you will do so with practiced skill. You will have the advantages that disciplined minds and a good grasp of the tools of learning can give one.

"On occasions like this, the years between touch us lightly. I remember so well that terrific sense of adventure that I felt driving from my own small world of Karnack, Tex. to Austin to enroll in the university. It seemed all the gates of the world were swinging open.

"That is the feeling of great adventure which you have today. The future of young women like you looms bright. Your horizons are not finite. You were born at the right time. It is a good time to be a woman. It is a good time to be alive.

"It is a good time to be a woman because this is a period in the history of mankind, exceeded not even by the renaissance, when there is much happening and more potential good can happen.

"It is a good time to be a woman because never have there been such opportuniites unlimited for you to help it happen.

Worlds Conquered

"We've conquered so much in technology. We've learned to provide sufficient food, clothing, shelter with a minimum of time and a minimum of energy.

"What we haven't learned is how to get along together. Technology can be the prop — the aid — but it still is the human machine — the mind and the heart of each individual — which spells success or failure in this. It is a good time to be a woman because there are so many roads to take.

"Two recent experiences have brought me in contact with the broad range of fields open to women.

"One evening in Greece, where I went to attend the funeral of King Paul, I spent some time with several American women at the United States Embassy, and I was conscious of how many were holding really important jobs in the political and economic sections of our embassy.

"Fresh out of their colleges and universities, they'd attended the Foreign Service Institute, boned up on languages, taken the exams, and today we depend very much on them to know the score and to give a first rate performance for our country.

"Just last week I spent a day in Huntsville, Ala., at the gigantic Marshall Space Flight Center — the birthplace of the Saturn rocket.

Age Vareity

"Walking through those tremendous fabricating rooms where the parts of the vehicle which will one day carry us to the moon were being tested, I met women ranging from a 70-year-old lady who is a draftsman to a young University of Alabama chemist who is literally spinning from air the polyesters which will line our moon rocket. Close to 20 per cent of the payroll was women.

"I mention these two because they are fresh in my memory. And because they illustrate how much women are doing to turn hand and brain for our national destiny.

"Your own future looms bright. On graduation day, you will find the world beckoning you to the textile company in Dallas, the hospital in Oklahoma, the Apollo Center in Houston.

"One measure of the success of a university is how it anticipates the needs of its area. The job opportunities awaiting you graduates, prove this university has met the test.

"Before you is a wide range of selectivity which no other generation has had.

"We here in our little corner of the world, in our littld crowded hour of history, are not alone in our rising status. Of the 112 member nations of the United Nations, 95 have granted full and equal political rights to women. And, the country does not exist, however remote, where you are without the revolution of rising expectations of women.

"I think women want to help their countries find the way to peace more than ever before. And that is why I hope we in this country — you in this audience — more fortunate than any women in any nation in the world will not settle for less than all your talents demand.

Frost Quoted

"Perhaps you know the lines from Robert Frost:

"Two roads emerged in a wood and I took the one less traveled by, and that made all the difference.'

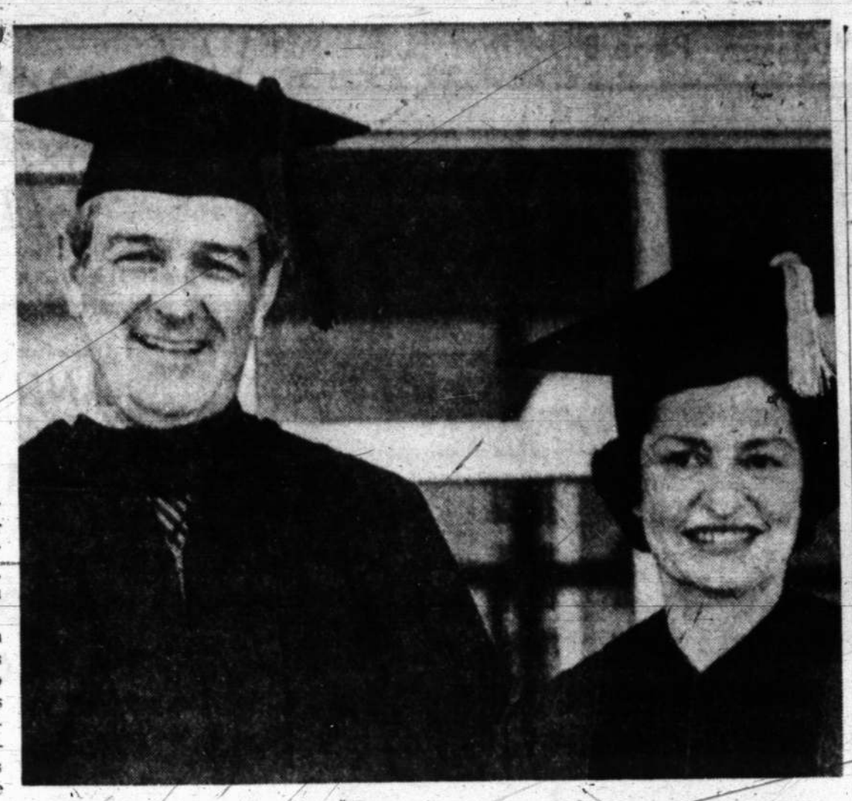

"Let your reach exceed your grasp always. And make your little plot in this world whether it is in Athens, Tex. or Athens, Greece, greener because you walked there.

"Every university belongs to a great tradition which teaches us that the world of scholarship must be guided by higher ideals than prevail in the world of affairs. But, a university is unworthy of its mission if it is content to be a remote shrine of learning, untouched by the cares and responsibilities or ordinary life.

"In this country, we depend on our universities for the the scientists who will keep us first in the space age, for the business executives who will keep our national economy vibrant and progressive, and for the officials of government who scientists who will keep us will lead our nation forward.

"There is also a direct and urgent responsibility on every university graduate, no matter what her position may be, to remain faithful to the standards and ideals taught us at the university. We have long passed the time in the United States when men alone could be summoned to great duties. In almost every sphere, the influence of women is constantly growing, and with the downfall of ancient prejudices, it will be hard to set a limit to the achievements and opportunities that await our women graduates. May they always porvide an example of responsible citizenship, shrinking from no burden that is essential to the welfare, but imposing no burden on anyone else that can be removed by foresight and cooperation.

"What all of us can do, each in her own degree, is to dedicate ourselves to the high ideals of citizenship enshrined in the university tradition and resolve that we will never depart from that inspiration. Then will the university remember its children with gratitude and the country will remember its citizens with honor."

Burglars Hit In Nocona

NOCONA, Tex. (Special)—Burglars entered the Nocona Locker Plant Sunday night and took $1,446 in cash and checks. A night later, two cabins on Lake Nocona were burglarized and several items taken.

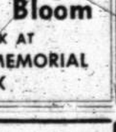

Montague County Sheriff Howard Middleton said warrants for the arrest of two Henrietta men were issued Tuesday afternoon for the burglary of cabins owned by Dr. David Major and Pete Uselton, both of Nocona.

A television set and rifle were taken from the Major cabin, but nothing was removed from Uselton's. Both cabins are on the northeast side of the lake, which is seven miles from Nocona.

Middleton said fingerprints of the Sunday night burglary were taken to identify the burglars. He said the stolen cash and checks were about equal.

K. C. SPELL
CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

K. C. SPELL

QUALIFICATIONS:
Over 30 years experience in business; 1 year member of the City Council; served 4 years as Mayor from 1956-1960.

Service being the highest calling of man, I would appreciate very much the honor of serving the people of Wichita Falls again as Mayor.

I think the best thing for our city at this time would be to STOP—LOOK—LISTEN before we attempt to move on. Surely our city is beset by many needs that cannot be remedied at this time. Certainly our homes are taxed to the limit and there is not a merchant in our town who is not overburdened with ad valorem taxes.

There are several thousand young married couples raising families, buying homes and preparing to educate their children. This group, and other groups, such as our retired citizens, of which there are several thousand and who depend entirely upon small rental incomes, pensions or Social Security, can be badly hurt by heavy taxes. In any move that we make toward progress we must take a look at the whole picture of our entire citizenship and see to it that in our effort to progress that we do not put undue burdens upon the groups mentioned.

So therefore, I make this as a pledge to the people that during my two years in office, if elected, I will do everything within my power as Mayor to prevent any raise in taxes.

FURTHER on taxes: In the last several years I have studied and been concerned about the personal property tax on automobiles. I have found automobiles to be the most highly taxed item of personal property—a car is not a luxury, but one of the most necessary items in the budget of the average family. I have used a middle-priced car for this example. If you buy a $2500.00 car today you pay in the purchase price approximately $241.00 in federal and state taxes. And if you use 20 gallons of gas a week you pay $1.80 per week or $93.60 per year in taxes. Of course, we cannot eliminate the 9c per gallon gasoline tax paid the state and federal government, but I use this solely to show a few of the taxes on automobiles.

We can do something about the personal property tax on automobiles. It is a most unpopular and unfair tax and a tax almost impossible to collect in full. The problem of having to sue several thousand citizens each year is not conducive to good relations. So I, therefore, make this further pledge. within 30 days after being installed as your Mayor I will present a resolution to the city council and insist upon a vote to abandon the personal property tax on automobiles.

Our greatest needs at this time are new pay rolls. New industry is our greatest hope, and I will do everything within my power as Mayor to cooperate and work with the IDI toward this accomplishment, but, at the same time try to create a better climate for the industries that have been here for many years and played such a stupendous part in the progress of our city.

To you who have read this announcement and believe that I am on the right road, I will appreciate it very much if you would join me in helping to carry out these policies. There are many other needs which I cannot put in this announcement, and if you would like to know my stand on any problem concerning our city government, or anything pertaining to it, you may contact me at any time and I will be glad to discuss any issues with you.

PROFITABLE PASTIME — Mrs. Walter Sommerville gives instruction to a number of beginners. Here she sees the results of her teaching as she watches two of her "students" who are making full-length coats. They are Robin Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Ford, 4606 Western Hills, left, and Chris Toler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kent E. Toler, 2209 Miramar, center.

Teenagers Find Knitting Is Profitable Pastime

By BETTY BURNS

Much thought is being given to spring and summer wardrobes now, but a number of Wichita Falls teenage girls are already planning theirs for next fall. Knitting is becoming more and more popular as a hobby with teenagers who have found that it is a good way to spend leisure time profitably. Summer hours will be spent making knitted garments for next winter.

Mrs. Walter Sommerville, owner of The Yarn Shop in Parker Square, gives instructions to 35 or 40 girls who are beginners in the art. She also assists the teenagers in choosing their patterns. She does not have classes, but helps beginners start their garments and helps them anytime they come to her with a problem. She is assisted by Mrs. Preston Jones.

Beginner knitters usually start by knitting a bulky sweater, Mrs. Sommerville says, and later they can go on to more fitted garments. Several of her "students" are knitting full - length coats.

Most of Mrs. Sommerville's instruction is for teenagers, however she also teaches anyone who is interested in learning to knit and has given assistance to several men who have found knitting a good way to relax. They usually make garments for their wives, she said. Mrs. Sommerville said men who are interested enough to knit as a hobby are usually very good at it.

Mrs. Sommerville points out that knitting is a very economical art because if mistakes are made they can be erased by raveling out a few stitches and even if a garment goes out of style, it can be raveled out and the thread used for a newer fashion.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

In these days of modern travel wee ones often fly before they walk. If you take a "flyer" with baby, it's helpful to remember these hints:

- When you make reservations, alert the airline about baby—for the stewardess' convenience and yours.
- A bottle at take-off time is desirable. Sucking distracts baby and relieves discomfort sometimes caused by altitude changes.
- A favorite toy helps while away flying time when baby's awake.

•

At or away from home, I think you'll find Gerber Baby Pants a blessing for both baby and you.

They have built-in comfort and protection because they're made of whisper-soft polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leakproof, acid-proof. Yes, Gerber baby pants are machine washable; will last through many washings. Medium, large, extra-large, and toddler sizes in pull-on or snap-on styles.

Stay-put strategy. Why is it that babies bounce around best when you're getting them dressed or diapered? Guess clothes just plain "cramp their style." Diversions that may help to still those squirms: (1) A favorite squeak toy to hold or a Gerber Teething Biscuit to munch. (2) A spot of lively music from you or your radio. (3) Assorted funny faces or silly sounds.

•

A nutrition memo from Dan Gerber, "Improving the food values of your baby's vegetables is a continuing Gerber research project. Take Gerber Carrots. In one experiment alone, 30 varieties of carrots were grown to find the ones with the highest vitamin-A value and the best flavor and color. After harvesting, each variety was processed, evaluated for nutritive values and color, then flavor-tested by taste experts. Projects like this are conducted in the interest of infant nutrition." ## ANN LANDERS SAYS

Nosey PBX Operators Really Don't Care

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: We are a group of office workers in a large firm with a problem that surely must be shared by hundreds of other employes in organizations similar to ours. We are referring to the nosey switchboard operators who listen in on our personal calls.

Speaking for myself, I have never said anything on the phone I would be ashamed to have repeated, but all the same it is annoying to know that some inquisitive broad can entertain herself with my personal conversations.

Is there any way we can get privacy? Thank you. — EAVESDROPPED

Dear Eaves: If you—and millions of others—knew how little the switchboard operators care about the trivia that passes for conversation, you'd relax.

There may be one Nosey Nellie out of 500 operators, and it may be you HAVE her, but the vast majority of telephone operators need six more hands, eight more ears and two additional mouths to do their jobs. They have neither the time, nor the desire, to listen in on personal calls.

---

Dear Ann Landers: If a wife keeps the house clean, does the washing and ironing, cooks good meals and takes care of her three young children, does she have the right to go to Bible class one evening a week for six weeks?

First let me tell you that I am not attractive. I keep myself neat but no man would take a second look. Yet my husband insists every man in town wants me—including the minister.

I love to go to Bible class. I believe people need God as much as they need food. I've begged my husband to come with me. He refuses. The first thing he says when I come home is, "Did you and the minister have a good time?"

If I get the mail before he does he says I am hiding love letters. He searches the garbage for cigarette butts. (Nobody in our house smokes.) If a car goes past our house slowly my husband says, "Somebody is looking for you."

Should I give up Bible class to satisfy him? What do you recommend?—CONFUSED

Dear Confused: Giving up the Bible classes will solve nothing. Your husband's unfounded accusations are a measure of his needs for professional help. Urge him to get it.

Dear Ann Landers: Four of us in the back corner of a history class are racking our brains trying to figure out what to do about a situation that is driving us crazy. We finally decided to write to you.

Our history teacher has a terrible habit of hooking the phrase "at the time" on to almost every other sentence. This afternoon he lectured for 25 minutes and used the phrase "at the time" 32 times. We kept track.

His lectures are unbearable. We can't concentrate on the subject matter because whenever he says "at the time" it's like a sharp poke in the ear. Please don't print my name or initials, but do print the general location of this city. He may see it and take the hint.—MICHIGANDER

Dear Friend: Every history teacher in Michigan will probably be asking himself "am I the one?" Every one except the teacher who is guilty, that is.

Most people have unconscious speech mannerisms. (Mine happens to be "you see.") Unless they are told, they never know, and therefore cannot correct it.

If you are an A student TELL HIM. If not, mail him this column — anonymously, of course.

Confidential to DISAPPOINTED: This is a tough world for most people. The only thing you can count on is your fingers. Stop feeling sorry for yourself.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Wichita Falls Record News enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

Posture Stiffness Is Not Graceful

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Stiffness is something to avoid, not encourage. It has no part in either correct or graceful stance.

In the first place, standing stiffly erect is uncomfortable. Secondly, tautness is so unnatural for the body that serious strains on the joints and ligaments ensue — strains that are difficult to overcome in later life.

I realize you can't caution a child to "stand relaxed." "Relaxed" and "limp" mean the same to youngsters. Yet, relaxation is the keynote to perfect and beautiful carriage in its naturally correct position.

Even a child can recognize the difference between good posture and stiff posture, if you put him or her through these paces:

Line up the body with the weight on the balls of the feet, knees flexed, abdominal muscles pulled in and buttock muscles pulled down, waist retracted, chest held high, shoulders released to normal level and head posed skyward.

Try it yourself and you'll see that the front and back of your body are in balance, relieved of all strain.

If you have a sub-deb or deb in your family, first show her how it's done. Next, set her an example all the time. Last, when she slips, say, "stand natural." She'll develop into a posture beauty — and what is more important to her health, assurance and charm?

---

BETTER FIGURE CONTROL can be yours if you know how to calculate your ideal weight. Send for John Robert Powers' figure-figuring pamphlet, "How Much Should You Weigh?" to start your "idealizing" program. Send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Powers in care of the Record News. Your copy will arrive in two weeks.

Mayor Cites Electra C-C

ELECTRA, Tex. (Special) — Mayor G. C. Harrison has issued a proclamation calling attention of Electra citizens to the observance of National Chamber of Commerce Week, April 5-11.

He expressed appreciation for the organization which, he says, has done much in promoting business interests of the community and to develop a civic program designed to make our city a better place to live.

F. V. Brasfield, manager of the Electra Chamber of Commerce, has been doing some research in connection with the local Chamber of Commerce and the history of the organization. He found that the Chamber of Commerce was the successor of a Booster Club organized in October, 1907, about the same time of the noted Electra Townsite Sales, or the opening of the townsite.

Opening lead—♦ 10

By OSWALD JACOBY

The letters in Arch stand for Analyze the lead; Review the bidding, Count winners and losers, How can the contract be made?

West opens the ten of diamonds against your six no-trump contract and your first analysis of the lead is that it is top of a doubleton. In that case, you can win with your ace or queen, go over to dummy and finesse your nine spot.

If this finesse works you can count 12 winners consisting of the aces and kings of spades and hearts plus four tricks in each minor suit.

Further analysis reminds you that a good player is not likely to make a normal lead against a no-trump slam. Hence, you decide that West might have led the ten from a jack-ten combination.

You go back to counting winners and you see only 11 for sure. You can get the twelfth in any one of three suits.

You might as well play some clubs and three club leads leave you in dummy. You note that both opponents have followed to those three club leads and that you now have a sure thing play for your contract.

You lead dummy's ten of spades. If East plays an honor, you have three sure spades tricks, but East plays low and you do the same.

West wins the trick and at this point West is end-played in three suits. A spade lead gives you three spade tricks. A heart lead gives you three spade tricks, and a diamond gives you three diamond tricks plus the one you already have gathered in.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Tie Clasp Is Excellent For Keeping Cap In Place

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — When I wore a plastic rain cap, the ties under my chin were always slipping loose until I started to use a tie clip to hold them together. This works just fine. When not in use, I fasten the clip to the case for the cap and put it in my coat pocket to be ready for the next time it is needed.—A. W. B.

DEAR POLLY — If children use chalk to write on a blackboard, wrap the chalk with transparent plastic or masking tape. If the chalk is dropped it will not break up into tiny pieces and as it is used, the tape can be removed a little at a time and cut off. — MRS. F. M.

GIRLS — This is also a good idea for homemakers who use a blackboard and chalk in their kitchens for writing grocery lists and other reminders as I do.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Recently when my 2-year-old had a cold, I had a hard time keeping him reasonably quiet and entertained at the same time until I thought of putting bread for the birds on the sill outside the window. We have casement windows with wide cement ledges. He sat in his high chair for hours at a time watching the birds come and go, thus leaving me free to do my housework without constant interruptions.

Do not throw away those little round containers that zippers often come in. When going on a trip, fill one with an assortment of different sizes of safety pins, a few straight pins, some common - sized buttons, a needle and some thread wound around a bit of cardboard. You are then all set for most any emergency repair job while away from home and your sewing basket. I also keep one in my purse for that slip strap that might break while I am shopping. The larger containers make ideal pin boxes in my sewing drawer, too.—MRS. G. I.

DEAR POLLY — I shampoo my preschool daughter's hair when she is in the bathtub. I used to have trouble keeping the soap and water from running down her face during the rinsing. Now I use her hairbrush, rinsing it frequently under running water and brushing the soap to the back of her head where I can easily pour water over it without her fussing.—MRS. M. C. B.

GIRLS — This kills two birds with one stone as it washes the brush at the same time.—POLLY

SAVE CLOSET SPACE

The modern home has less closet space and larger wardrobes. Use the professional drycleaner's box storage plan. It not only avoids jamming valuable closet and storage space but more important, it preserves your clothes by keeping them insect free in perfect storage conditions.

2-For-2 Deal Gets Snead In Return

Eagles Trade Jurgensen To Redskins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles traded quarterback Sonny Jurgensen and defensive back Jimmy Carr to the Washington Redskins Tuesday for quarterback Norman Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb.

The trade was the second major move in less than two weeks by the Eagles, striving to rebuild a last place club under Joe Kuharich, their new coach.

Kuharich said he was trading experience for youth and felt a change of scenery might help all the players involved.

Jurgensen is 29 and a veteran of seven years in the National Football League. Snead is 24, and only three years out of Wake Forest College. Carr is 31, while Crabb is 24.

Snead, 6-foot-4, 215 pounder, was the first draft choice of the Redskins in 1960, and Washington Coach Bill McPeak has consistently predicted greatness for the young passer. Last year Snead completed 175 of 363 passes for 3,043 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Jurgensen, disabled for more than half of the 1963 season, experienced his worst year since taking over the Eagles' first-string quarterbacking duties in 1961. He gained 1,413 yards on 184 attempts and threw only 13 TD passes.

The Eagles drafted Jurgensen from Duke in 1957, and when Norm Van Brocklin retired after leading the Eagles to the 1960 NFL championship, Jurgensen took over the quarterbacking post. His first season he tossed 32 TD passes as the Eagles finished second to the New York Giants in 1961.

Carr came to the Eagles from Baltimore in 1959, in exchange for a draft choice. A graduate of Morris Harvey College, he was signed by the Colts as a free agent after being cut by the Chicago Bears. He won a starting job with the Eagles as a defensive halfback and was a key figure in the 1960 championship. Unhappy with his contract last year, he asked to be traded.

Crabb played fullback and linebacker at Colorado and was in the 1962 Orange Bowl game. He was shifted from safety to wingback by the Redskins last season.

Redskins Coach Bill McPeak said Washington could not afford to wait any longer for Snead to develop his full potential.

"Winning in 1964 is imperative," he said. "Jurgensen, at this stage of his career, is more advanced than Snead, and I think, with the right supporting cast, he can take you all the way."

McPeak, who has been lavish in his praise of Snead in previous years, said he has not changed his opinion.

"I used to think you could train a quarterback in this league in two or three years," he said, "but, the way the game is played now, it takes five or six years. I still think in two or three more years Snead will be a great quarterback."

He said he plans to convert Carr, who played safety for the Eagles, into a linebacker.

WBA President Testifies

Clay Earned Title; Lassman Is Wrong

Ted Leach

All is not well in the world of boxing — or more specifically in the heavyweight division.

Cassius Clay holds the title won under rather odd circumstances. Sonny Liston is everybody's nominee for Bum of the Year honors and there are few honest contenders for the crown.

All the senate investigations and all of the Edward Lassman-types aren't going to change things. The simple fact is that none of the present-day warriors are really worthy of wearing the same title that once graced the heads of Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis and others of their ilk.

With Clay at the top, the contenders (in order) are Liston, Doug Jones, Ernie Terrell, Cleveland Williams, Zora Folley, Eddie Machen, Floyd Patterson, Karl Mildenberger, George Chuvalo and Henry Cooper. If there is a tiger in the lot it would be Jones, or perhaps Williams. None are of championship caliber.

This is what is hurting boxing in the heavyweight division, this more than anything else. Sure, it's a foregone conclusion that the fight game is to an extent controlled by the rackets. It has also been recognized that television has ruined the clubs, spawning grounds for future champions. But the decline in public interest in the past few years has been due to such matches as the recent Clay-Liston farce — and leave us not forget those two bouts between Liston and Patterson.

ONLY ONE LOSER

Lassman has threatened to take Clay's title from him. His reasons are varied. Perhaps it is Clay's big mouth, perhaps his religious ties. Whatever the reason, the World Boxing Assn. prexy has run into trouble trying to accomplish this, and rightfully so.

Liston sat in his corner after a miserable six round exhibition and refused to subject himself to any more punishment. In our opinion he turned a bright shade of yellow. Does that make Clay any less a winner?

Lassman said the title belongs to the WBA and argues that it has the power to lift a crown at any time. We feel that the title belongs to the fight fans who make all of this possible through donations at the gate and in the theatre lobbies. In light of recent events, we feel they have more to expect for their money.

There was only one loser when Patterson was fighting his crew of amateurs, has - beens and bever-will-bees. There was only one loser when Liston creamed this powder - puff champion on two occasions. There was only one loser when Liston quit against Clay. That loser was the public, plain and simple.

HISTORY OF THUGS

Would taking Clay's title from him help the boxing situation? We doubt it. The history books are full of thugs and punks who fought and sometimes won the titles, all much worse than Clay. Quickly such names as Rocky Graziano, Joey Giardello, Rocky Marciano, Jake LaMotta and Joey Maxim pop into mind. There were many more. Exclude them from the boxing picture and you exclude an illustrious era when the fans were associated much more closely to the game.

Things are in bad shape in the heavyweight division at the moment while apparently they are running smoothly in the other classes. Still the fans have lost interest. For some strange reason the heavies have always been the most popular — spurring interest in the other ranks when boxing was at its peak.

Now you can ask for a list of the champions and only one of ten ardent fight fans can name them all. You think not? Try it.

We don't propose to know the answer to inject interest in boxing, but taking Clay's title from him isn't the first step.

It's sad to see a great sport bowing under pressure, but if something isn't done quickly it isn't going to make a whole lot of difference who is the champion in boxing.

For now we'll take Clay and like it. Nobody else deserves the title in this division. Not even the WBA.

Light Hitters Swing Hefty Bat In Exhibition Headliners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three light-hitting shortstops — Washington's Ed Brinkman, Ron Hansen of the Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia's Bobby Wine—took over the key offensive roles in exhibition baseball games Tuesday.

Brinkman, who hit .228 last year, stroked two doubles and three singles in a 16-hit Senators' attack that overwhelmed Baltimore 11-5. The victims were Steve Barber, the Orioles' 20-game winner; Stu Miller and Herman Starrette.

Hansen, a .226 swinger, slammed two homers and drove in six runs as the White Sox edged St. Louis 7-6. Hansen's second homer, a three-run shot in the eighth, overcame a 5-4 Cardinal lead. Ken Boyer and Jerry Bouchek homered for St. Louis.

Wine, who batted .215, was hitless in 18 previous times at bat when he singled with the bases loaded in the 11th inning and drove in the winning run in the Phillies' 4-3 victory over Cincinnati. Marty Keough homered for the Reds off Art Mahaffey, who had a string of 13 2-3 scoreless innings.

Houston and Milwaukee also sprayed hits around liberally. The Colts collected 12 hits—11 off Johnny Podres in five innings—and defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3. The Braves rapped Detroit pitchers for 13 hits, including a home run by Hank Aaron, en route to a 6-3 triumph.

The Chicago Cubs defeated Cleveland 6-2 as Ron Santo led the attack with a homer and two singles and accounted for four runs batted in. Willie McCovey drove in three runs with a triple and single in San Francisco's 9-1 walloping of Boston.

A bases-loaded squeeze bunt by Charley Lau in the 10th inning gave Kansas City a 5-4 decision over the New York Yankees, who committed five errors, and Willie Stargell's two-run homer in the third started Pittsburgh on the way to an 8-4 triumph over the New York Mets.

Minnesota's Camilo Pascual and Dave Boswell shut out the Philadelphia B team 6-0. Harmon Killebrew hit a homer for the Twins.

Senate Probers Hear Threats On Lassman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward Lassman, World Boxing Association president, reportedly received threatening telephone calls — one implying he would be shot—after he attempted to strip Cassius Clay of his heavyweight championship.

The Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee heard of this Tuesday from WBA counsel Robert M. Summitt, who said one caller warned:

"If this is not discontinued you will get the same thing as JFK."

President John F. Kennedy, often referred to as JFK, was shot and killed in Dallas last Nov. 22.

Summitt said the FBI has been asked to investigate the threat.

It was the last scheduled hearing by the subcommittee in its investigation of the Feb. 25 bout in which Clay upset Sonny Liston.

The subcommittee is also studying whether to recommend legislation — known as the Kefauver Bill—to put bigtime boxing under a national boxing commissioner.

The hearing brought these other developments.

— Subcommittee Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said "anyone who has sat through the hearings can depart with only one conclusion: that if the Kefauver Bill is not passed the future of boxing is a dim one indeed." Testimony of secret money deals and possible underworld connections with boxers prove the need for the law, he said.

—Lassman said that without federal backing his association is "hamstrung" in its efforts to clean up boxing.

— Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., urged approval of the Kefauver Bill, saying in a statement the federal government must move in until "the fight game is rid of the leeches."

—Lassman said the development of satellite communications makes an $8-million to $10-million boxing gate possible in the future because of millions around the world that will want to watch it on television.

The WBA president denied his since-abandoned effort to lift Clay's title was based on Clay's affiliation with the Black Muslim movement or the fact Clay is a Negro.

Rather he said he was concerned about Clay's loud bragging, Clay's conduct at the Liston weigh-in ... Clay was fined $2,500 — which, Lassman said still is unpaid—and "these hidden deals," an apparent reference to giving Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., the right to promote Clay's next fight and pick his opponent. Liston is a stockholder in Inter-Continental.

Lassman said he feels now that Clay "will comport himself as a true champion all the universe can honor and respect."

He discussed the need for more thorough physical examinations of boxers who have been knocked out or severely punished, saying this would save lives.

Lassman cited specifically the cases of welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret, who died after a 1962 bout with Emile Griffith, and of featherweight champion Davey Moore, who died after a 1963 fight with Sugar Ramos.

New Tire May Go Entire Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced Tuesday it has developed a tire which apparently can go the full distance of the Indianapolis 500-mile race without a change.

In a press conference at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Goodyear officials said tests on the 2½-mile oval showed the new "speedway special" has an indicated tread life of 735 miles under grueling racing conditions.

Goodyear is offering its tires to Indianapolis drivers for the first time in more than 40 years. It said the new tires were on the first four finishers in the recent race at Phoenix, Ariz. Indianapolis cars have used only Firestone tires for a number of years.

The new tire, if it performs at expectations, could reduce the advantage of lightweight cars, which have to change tires only once during the 500-mile grind, compared with two or three tire changes on the heavier Indianapolis roadsters.

Chisox Sell Pitcher To Mets For 20 G's

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —The New York Mets bought Mike Joyce, a 23-year-old right-handed pitcher, from the Chicago White Sox Tuesday for the waiver price of $20,000.

The 6-foot-2, 195-pound University of Michigan graduate joins the club immediately, bringing the Met roster to the 40-player limit.

Elimination Tiff Almost Positive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wealthy sportsman Walter Minskoff, who manages heavyweight contender Eddie Machen said Tuesday a title elimination fight in Sweden between Machen and ex-champion Floyd Patterson is "98 per cent made."

Minskoff said one hurdle was cleared when he persuaded his brother Leo to bow out of the Machen - Patterson picture with his promotional organization, Civic Boxing Enterprises, Inc.

CBE had offered Patterson $75,000 or 40 per cent of gate receipts to box Machen in Los Angeles this summer.

He said Al Bolan of New York would co-promote the match, probably in Stockholm in July, with Edwin Ahlquist of Sweden, Patterson's advisor.

"The fight would be scheduled for 12 rounds, but it won't last that long. Machen has been trying for six years to get a fight with Patterson," Minskoff declared.

Oregon And Oregon State Accept AAWU Invitation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The so-called Big Six suddenly became the big eight Tuesday when Oregon and Oregon State Universities were unanimously invited to join the Athletic Association of Western Universities. They immediately accepted.

Presidents of the AAWU, or Big Six, met secretly at a San Francisco airport hotel, along with the presidents of the two Oregon institutions, to re-form what is in effect the old Pacific Coast Conference.

Idaho, the ninth member of the old PCC, was not included in Tuesday's action.

The development, while long anticipated, was so little heralded that even athletic officials at some of the schools involved did not know the presidents had called the meeting.

The invitation and acceptance were announced from the office here of Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California and chairman of the board of presidents and chancellors of the AAWU.

Dr. Topping was prominent in the group which in the last two years has favored return of the Oregon schools.

The Pacific Coast Conference disbanded in an eruption of personal feuds and bitterness in 1959. Involved were issues of athletic policies and academic disagreements.

Dr. Topping's statement made no mention of the past but did say, in part:

"This action represents a natural association, not only for athletics but for higher education on the West Coast."

The reunion goes into effect July 1, 1964.

The action preceded the annual spring meeting of conference heads at Seattle May 30-June 2.

Presumably at this meeting the athletic directors will get together to agree on the many details of the new — or is it the old?—conference.

The membership now includes Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, California, Stanford, UCLA and Southern Cal.

Prime attention in football is the Rose Bowl.

An official at San Francisco said that Oregon and Oregon State will become immediately eligible for the big New Year's Day game at Pasadena.

This was the case when Washington State was admitted into the conference last fall.

Texas Relays May Establish 16 New Marks

AUSTIN (AP) — Last year's rained-out portion of the Texas Relays has set up this year's meet as the scene of possibly as many as 16 new records.

Only one record was set last year when rain washed out Friday night finals—Fred Hanson of Rice hit 16-2 in the pole vault.

When the relays open Friday, new records are likely to be set in college division 440 relay, university-college shot put, junior college-freshman shot put, university-college high jump and university-college high hurdles.

Grambling College of Louisiana already has run 40.3 this spring and is shooting for Texas Southern's 40.5 record set two years ago in the college 440 relay.

Randy Matson, Texas A&M freshman weight star, has surpassed the junior college frosh shot put mark of 54-11½ by almost a foot. He has had five puts over 62 feet this year.

The university - college high jump record of 6-9 was matched by Ross Tonnell of Missouri this year and by seven-foot Colin Ridgeway of Lamar Tech in 1962.

Billy Hardin Ed Renfrow, both of LSU, have matched the 13.9 high hurdles mark set in 1939 by Fred Wolcott of Rice.

Other marks in reach of the 1964 relays field:

University two-mile relay — 7:27.7—by Missouri, Drake, Texas and Oklahoma State.

University sprint medley relay—3:19.8—by Abilene Christian and Drake.

College 880 relay—1:23.7—by Grambling and Texas Southern.

College mile relay—3:09—by Texas Southern.

Jerry Thompson mile—4:00.5—by defending champion John Camien of Emporia State.

University-college 100—9.3—by SMU's Billy Foster and John Roderick.

High school high hurdles—14.2 — By Johnny Morriss of Houston Jones and Harold Wooten of Galveston Central.

High school high jump—6-5—by Johnny Morris of Houston Jones.

High school shot put—59-5½ by Raul Vasquez of Fort Stockton.

High school 440-relay—42.6 — by Houston San Jacinto.

High school 880 relay—1:28.8 by Midland.

Fired-Up Russell Pilots Win

CELTICS DRAW FIRST BLOOD

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, pride of the Celtics, stripped Cincinnati's gears in an amazing second quarter display and sent Boston to a 103-87 victory over the Royals Tuesday night.

The Celtics thus took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-5 Eastern Division finals in the National Basketball Association playoffs which continue here Thursday night.

Russell—the bearded, brooding of the last few weeks—became Horatio at the Basket. Boston was trailing 31-28 in the second period when Russell dramatically changed the complexion of the game.

In a sudden flurry, he set up three baskets including a blind pass for a Willie Naulls layup, scored three points, lunged high off the court to intercept a long pass and blocked a sure layup by league most valuable player Oscar Robertson.

The Celtics outscored Cincinnati 15-3 in the flurry and led 49-40 at halftime.

Russell scored 18 points, grabbed 31 rebounds and blocked numerous shots with general help from Tom Sanders. Sam Jones paced the Celtics with 27 points and Tommy Heinsohn had 20.

Roberston got only 12 of his 20 points, including four field goals before intermission. Wayne Embry, the Cincinnati 250-pounder, was the big gun in the early going for the losers and wound up with 21 points.

If there was any doubt in the minds of the capacity 13,909 crowd at Boston Garden, they were quickly dispelled at the start of the third period. Boston ran off 15 points to the visitors's three, hitting on their first seven field goal tries and it was 64-43.

Sam Jones held to seven points in the first half got 12 in the third quarter and school was out.

The Celtics, seeking their eighth straight division playoff crown, lost the season series to Cincinnati 7-5.

The Royals failed to score a field goal in the first five minutes of the game because Russell blocked their only chances successievly by Jack Twyman, Embry and Robertson.

QB Signs Again

CALGARY, Alberta (AP) — Eagle Day, Calgary Stampeders quarterback, signed for his fourth season with the Western Football Conference club Tuesday.

Lawton Nips Pack In Seventh, 4-3

LAWTON, Okla. — For a while it appeared to be a re-run of their first game, but this time Lawton ended it in the bottom of the seventh, breaking a 3-3 tie to hand the Wichita Falls Coyotes their fourth straight baseball defeat of the season, 4-3, here Tuesday.

In their first meeting, it took nine innings to decide the outcome for Lawton, 5-2.

Both teams registered a home run, the Coyotes' coming in the opening stanza.

The Coyotes appeared headed for their first victory of the season by pushing across all of their runs in the opening inning. Trent Capps homered behind Mickey Pemberton, who had singled Jerry Phillips home with the first run.

But the fire was extinguished as the Coyotes managed only two more hits the rest of the game.

Lawton wasted little time before warming up its bats. The Wolverines tied the score in the third when Wilson banged a homer to drive in two runs.

Neither team could score until Lawton finished it off in the seventh. With the bases loaded, Booth bunted to squeeze in Gorley.

Warriors Open Western Series With St. Louis

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors open battle Wednesday night to retain their hustle-and-muscle Cinderella image against the invading St. Louis Hawks in the Western finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

First game in the best-of-seven series has the cozy 5,000 seat University of San Francisco gymnasium as its setting since the cavernous 15,000 seat Cow Palace has been pre-empted for hockey.

On the basis of the regular season, the set appears a toss-up. San Francisco won six and St. Louis six in their meetings. Of those in San Francisco each won two and on neutral courts in Northern California they split a pair.

The Warriors, with three big men in 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain, 6-9 Wayne Hightower and 6-11 rookie Nate Thurmond won the Western Division title by two games over St. Louis during the regular season.

The Warrior's triumph came as a big surprise since they finished fourth a year ago and didn't even make it to the playoffs. With the victory, they got a week to rest while St. Louis and Los Angeles battled for the playoff right to face them. The Hawks won the fifth and deciding game Monday night.

Montreal, Detroit Take 2-1 Leads In Cup Playoffs

TORONTO (AP)—Henri Richard's unassisted goal with 25 seconds to play gave the Montreal Canadiens a come-from-behind 2-2 victory over Toronto and a one-game lead in their Stanley Cup National Hockey League semifinal series.

Richard's dramatic tally came two minutes after defenseman J.C. Tremblay had scored to pull the Canadiens into a 2-2 tie.

The Canadiens' closing rally nullified a two-goal effort by Bob Pulford, center on Toronto's checking line, and shocked 14,436 Maple Leafs fans, largest Toronto turnout of the season.

The game was the first of the best-of-7 set played at Toronto. The teams split their first two meetings at Montreal.

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuck left his hospital bed to blank the Chicago Black Hawks 3-0 Tuesday night in a National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series game.

The victory gave the Detroiters a 2-1 edge in the best-of-7 series with Sawchuk turning in 26 saves, four of them on point-blank smashes.

Sawchuk strained a muscle in his left shoulder and neck area in Sunday night's clash with the Hawks at Chicago. He had been in traction at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital for more than 24 hours before he was discharged late Tuesday.

Sawchuk, aided by a tight defense in front of him, looking anything but ill as he closed the door on the Hawks before 14,362 fans at Olympia Stadium.

Burkburnett Rodeo Wrestler Still First

DENVER (AP) — Two Texans—C. R. Boucher of Burkburnett and Bernis Johnson of Cleburne—led national rodeo Tuesday.

Johnson led the bull riders with $4,648, just $173.00 more wrestlers with 19,962—almost $3,000 more than second place Harry Charters of Melba, Idaho.

Johnson led the bull riders with $4,648, just $173.00 more than second place Benny Rennolds of Dillon, Mont.

Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio was second in calf roping.

Guy Weeks of Abilene ranked fourth in the fight for all-around cowboy.

Bragan Predicts NL Pennant For Braves

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan, whose Milwaukee Braves finished a dismal sixth last season, bodly predicted Tuesday that his club would win the National League baseball pennant in 1964.

"We have a better line-up than last year and we'll score more runs," said Bragan in an obvious reference to the trade that brought slugging outfielder Felipe Alou and catcher Ed Bailey from San Francisco.

"Had we won half the games last year that we lost by one run (31), we would have been on top," Bragan added.

"Our young pitchers hold the key, of course. If Denver LeMaster, Bob Sadowski, Tony Cloninger and Hank Fischer can give Old Man River Warren Spahn) enough help, we'll have a real good chance."

The Milwaukee manager expects a mad scramble for the senior circuit flag right down to the finish.

Bragan said he thought the rest of the league "has caught up" to the Los Angeles Dodgers, who he picks to finish third behind the San Francisco Giants.

He believes the St. Louis Cardinals will drop from second to fourth, the Philadelphia Phillies from fourth to fifth and the Cincinnati Reds from fifth to sixth.

NCAA-AAU Champs Vie In Cage Tryouts

NEW YORK (AP) — A clash between the college champs and the AAU champs heads the opening night's program for the Olympic basketball tryouts starting Thursday at St. John's University.

Officially, all eight teams participating in the three-day test are all-star aggregations. But the NCAA Blues, who meet the AAU Stars in Thursday night's windup include six members of the UCLA team that won the National Collegiate championship March 21. The AAU Stars have six players from the Akron Goodyear team, the national AAU champions.

UCLA's Walt Hazzard, Jack Hirsch, Gail Goodrich & Co., will be reinforced by such players as Barry Kramer of New York U., Jerry Sloane of Evansville and Jim Davis of Colorado.

The AAU team includes Larry Brown, formerly of North Carolina, 7-foot-1 Mike McCoy from Miami of Florida and Pete McCaffrey of St. Louis University as well as Jerry Shipps of the Bartlesville, Okla., Oilers, who was leading scorer on last year's Pan-American Games champion team.

Prior to this game, the NCAA Reds will meet the Armed Forces Missiles, the NAIA All-Stars will play the AAU Stripes and the NCAA Whites will play the Armed Forces Jets. Afternoon and night doubleheaders are scheduled Friday and Saturday. At the conclusion, the 20-man Olympic basketball committee, headed by G. Russell Lyons, will pick an Olympic squad of 12 regulars and six alternates.

The NCAA Reds include Princeton's Bill Bradley, Kansas State's Willie Murrell and Dave Stallworth of Wichita, who starred in three exhibition games. The Whites' key men include Cazzie Russell of Michigan, Ron Bonham of Cincinnati, Cotton Nash of Kentucky and Joe Caldwell of Arizona State.

Two players selected for the NCAA squad dropped out before the exhibitions ended — Keith Erickson of UCLA because of illness and Wally Koper of Oklahoma City because of a broken foot. They were not replaced.

The NAIA team features Lucious Jackson of Pan American College, a member of the 1963 Pan - American Games team, Willis Reed of Grambling and Willie Shaw of Lane. The AAU Stripes include Larry Pursiful and Jim Haga of Bartlesville and Willie Porter of Tennessee State.

The two Armed Forces teams include a number of former top college players. On the Missiles are Bonk Adams, another Pan-American Games player; Al Saunders of Bradley and Bill Kirvin of Xavier. The Jets have Don Lotz, ex-North Carolina; Ken Pichette, ex-Georgetown U. and LeRoy Jackson, ex - Santa Clara.

Dealing With Devil

Nikita Khrushchev once defended the infamous Hitler-Stalin pact of 1940 by saying the Russians would have signed an agreement with the devil himself if it would have prevented or postponed war.

The Russians are still finding themselves forced to deal with a sort of devil—in this case, the capitalist world.

They may not believe that money and its uses are here to stay, but until that glorious day of the classless and wantless society dawns, they, like the rest of us, need cash (or credit) to get along in the world as it is.

So, finding that Westerners are fascinated by a shiny, yellowish metal called gold, of which Mother Russia holds vast stores beneath her copious bosom, they are selling it for old-fashioned cash on the European market.

The Russians are estimated to have sold from $450 to $550 million worth of gold last year to the West—more than double the amount they traded in 1962. One effect has been to depress the going price of gold to its lowest level in months.

As if this were not enough, the Russians have been reduced to the disgusting capitalistic practice of borrowing money and, like good businessmen, trying to get the best long-range credit terms they can wangle.

This bourgeois Russian behavior is generally attributed to lagging export earnings and the need to pay for the huge amounts of wheat they are importing.

What impact all this could have in the long run, not only on the world's monetary structure but on the ideological wall the Russians have built to protect themselves against Western influences, is something better left for experts in various fields to ponder.

Westerners might keep in mind, however, that the Russians may not be the only ones dealing with the devil.

Senator Fulbright's Foreign Policy Record

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The significant thing about the recent Fulbright full - dress speech on U.S. Foreign Policy, is that its author has an almost perfect score in looking ahead on foreign affairs.

Whatever his defects on domestic policy — and they are many — the senior senator from Arkansas has never gone wrong in his diagnosis of foreign policy and his remedies for our foreign mistakes. This is what makes his current prodding of his old friend Lyndon Johnson regarding Cuba, Panama and the cold war myth so important.

Fulbright was the only senator who was both smart enough to find out about the Bay of Pigs Operation in advance and wise enough to argue with Kennedy until he was blue in the face to try to stop it.

He was far-sighted enough to initiate the Fulbright Scholarships which have educated thousands of youngsters and contributed to better understanding around the world. And he was one of the early pioneers in molding a more effective Voice of America and U.S. Information Service.

He was also the most effective needler of John Foster Dulles at a time when the late secretary of state was inclined to feed the American public soothing syrup regarding Russia. Fulbright exposed the phoniness of brinksmanship and of Dulles's out-of-date shibbleth of massive retaliation.

Perhaps Fulbright's greatest contribution was in trying to alert the nation at a time when the Soviet was forging far ahead of us in Sputniks, was making political progress in the Near East, and was pushing its own educational system to the point where it brought frank and surprised admiration from U.S. Educators.

"Mr. Secretary," Fulbright told John Foster Dulles in November, 1957, "unless you come up here with some sense of urgency, you can never get your program through Congress. You cite the fact that Marshall Zhukov has been fired as a sign of Russian weakness. On the contrary that means they are so confident of their position they don't hesitate to fire their top military man.

"You point out that Russia makes 100,000 automobiles while we make 6,000,000," continued Fulbright. "Maybe they don't need 6,000,000 automobiles a year in Russia. Maybe they are better off with 100,000 automobiles a year. Maybe our children would be better off with less automobiles, and studying in school the way Russian children are studying."

Again on Jan. 12, 1958, Fulbright made a speech as revolutionary as that which he made last week. He was far ahead of the State Department — but this time in warning it to wake up.

"The peril of the nation increases daily because of the way the incumbent administration has dulled and continues to dull the nation's awareness of the danger it faces."

"The walls of Moscow," said Fulbright, on another occasion, "are not like the walls of Jericho, they will not come tumbling down with even statements by John Foster Dulles. We cannot win the battle for freedom if we keep our heads buried in the sand of ignorance."

Fulbright's goading, plus the Rockefeller Brothers Report, plus the Gaither Report, plus such books as "USA Second Class Power?" did succeed in waking up the United States. As a result we are now in a position of great missile and nuclear strength.

Simultaneously, conditions have changed inside the Communist world. The two most powerful members of that world are engaged in a deathly battle which shows no signs of being patched up. Simultaneously the one-time satellite countries are showing more independence of Moscow and more friendship toward the United States. Yugoslavia and Rumania have voted with the United States and against Russia inside the United Nations. Yugoslavia participates in the peace - keeping armies of the U.N. which Moscow spurns.

Changes In Soviet Bloc

Simultaneously, the Russian people themselves have become more Democratic, more critical of their government, more open to outside ideas, more friendly toward the United States. Letters to the editor critical of certain aspects of the government now appear in the Soviet Press. To be sure they don't take off the gloves and punch with as much vitriol as some of the John Birch letters to American editors against me. But even the fact that any criticism is published in government - controlled press is significant.

These are things which Sen. Fulbright has carefully watched and which were behind the challenge he laid down to the inherited foreign policy of his old friend, Lyndon Johnson and the State Department last week. It was one of the most important foreign policy statements made by any senator in this decade, as will be discussed further in this column tomorrow.

Headlines And Footnotes

President Johnson kept in touch with the Senate's preliminary voting on Civil Rights while he was flying to Texas for Easter. The vote to bring up the Civil Rights bill for formal debate was reported to him at once by radio - telephone from the White House to his plane in flight . . . The Panama Crisis hasn't slowed up the traffic through the Panama Canal. Since the outbreak of violence, more ships have passed through the canal than at any comparative period in history . . . Space scientists are preparing detailed plans for sending an expedition of six to 12 men to explore the moon three months during the 1970's.

Young Kennedy's Drive

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One nippy Sunday this month, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy flew out of Minneapolis at 4:45 a.m. for Boston.

The way the late President's 32-year-old brother spent that day suggests that he may soon be regarded as a phenomenon in his own right.

Arriving in Boston, he promptly took a smaller plane back to western Massachusetts. There he marched in a St. Patrick's Day parade in Holyoke and joined in related festivities.

After that, back to Boston again by air. "He gets on a plane like most people get on a bus," says a friend.

The young senator then went to a late church service. Next he took part in a special meeting on the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library, for which he labors hard.

In succession thereafter came a reception for Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, honored guest at a Gov. Endicott Peabody dinner; the dinner itself, with Kennedy a featured speaker; a fast run to suburban Everett, where he was a master of ceremonies as the Friendly Knights of St. Patrick handed out awards to his late brother's old friends and aides — Lawrence O'Brien, Kenneth O'Donnell, David Powers and Timothy (Ted) Reardon. On hand: 1,000 people.

Still perking, Ted Kennedy returned to Boston to the home of Rep. Torbert Macdonald, another old Kennedy friend. With guests who included many who had worked for Ted in his 1962 campaign, this "semireception" carried on until nearly 2 a.m.

This expenditure of energy was not in any way untypical of this handsome, solidly built, restless man. Up for re-election this year, he has never ceased campaigning in Massachusetts. He bounds around the state three of every four weekends.

Republicans are scouring the woods looking for somebody to oppose him. Vincent Celeste, buried by John Kennedy in the 1958 election, says anybody would be crazy to take on Teddy.

As his brother never did, the younger Kennedy moves constantly to keep a firm hand on the Massachusetts Democratic organization. Party leaders there are on the telephone with him in Washington several times a week. Says one:

"He's hovering over everything, all the time. He's involved in appointments, special elections, anything that comes up."

All this, Ted Kennedy manages as a kind of a sideline. Wide testimony can be had that he is a very hardworking senator, is learning a great deal, keeps out of the limelight as few imagined would be possible when he came here a year and a half ago.

Though he has spoken out briefly on a couple of subjects of special interests to him or his state, he has yet to make his true "maiden speech" in the Senate. Perhaps against their instincts, many members of the Establishment like him for his affability, his diligence, his deference and humility.

Since 1964 began, Ted has taken to the road beyond Massachusetts for the first time to help Democratic senators and others — many up for election — in their home bailiwicks.

His naturally winning ways draw crowds everywhere. Sympathy for the late President Kennedy swells interest in him mightily. Inevitably he is forging a stronger bond with senators who benefit.

A weak GOP rival in Massachusetts would allow Ted the chance to stump widely for President Johnson this fall. If he does that, it ought to be plain enough from this recital that LBJ won't be the only beneficiary. Just wait a few elections.

Tax Bill Draws Lobbyists

WASHINGTON — (CQ)—Lobbyists flocked to the tax bill like flies to honey during 1963. In its annual study of major lobbying activities, Congressional Quarterly found that the most intensive pressures on Congress last year involved tax cuts and reforms.

Civil rights, the Test Ban Treaty and the wheat referendum also figured prominently in 1963 pressure group activity.

As finally signed into law Feb. 26, the Revenue Act of 1964 met general approval from a wide variety of organizations. Few groups, however, were entirely satisfied.

Some were disappointed with the distribution of tax relief; others had unsuccessfully sought or opposed particular reforms. Conservatives wanted the tax cut to be accompanied by reduced spending, and some of them opposed the bill for that reason. Groups whose lobbying centered on provisions affecting their special interests had uneven success.

Economic Theory

At one level, the lobbying battle was conducted in terms of economic theory. Most supporters of the bill agreed that reduced taxes would stimulate the economy, but some, especially labor unions, emphasized cuts for lower income groups to raise consumption while others, especially business lobbies, sought relief for middle and upper income groups to encourage investment.

Most business groups, opposed in principle to deficit financing, wanted the tax cut to be offset by reduced spending. Business groups continued their support for the bill despite the projected deficit for fiscal 1965, but the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange opposed the tax cut without further measures to balance the budget.

Special Interests

While supporting the general tax cut, which promised savings to all groups, lobbies were especially active in taking care of their specialized interests.

The oil industry's successful defense of its depletion allowance against liberal criticism and the automobile lobbyists' victory in maintaining gasoline tax deductions were prominent among the struggles over particular provisions of the bill.

Educational groups were generally pleased with new legislation for college, vocational and medical education. The religious issue over aid to church-related schools was not as prominent during 1963 as in other years.

Because 1963 was only the first year of the 88th Congress, the success of failure of lobby efforts was often uncertain. On some issues, such as medicare, pressures which were building last year may increase as the election approaches. The poverty program also promises to arouse major lobbying activity in 1964.

Labor achieved a victory in softening a reform that increased taxation of sick pay.

Typical of the many and varied special interest lobby activities were unsuccessful efforts by the National Restaurant Assn. to repeal the cabaret tax and restrictions on expense account deductions.

Unusual lobby unity was shown in the almost universal opposition to an Administration proposal to restrict itemized income tax deductions to amounts over 5 per cent of the taxpayer's income. The proposal never got off the ground.

Sometimes special interests clashed. For example, the National Tax Equality Assn., representing commercial banks, sought to increase the tax burden on competitive savings and loan banks. The United States Savings and Loan League, meanwhile, successfully opposed a bill which would have allowed commercial banks to extend the maximum term of their real estate mortgages.

Ideological Issues

The principal ideological efforts by lobbies in 1963 involved civil rights and the Test Ban Treaty.

Seventy-seven Negro, religious labor and citizens groups coordinated their support for the civil rights bill through the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights. A new organization, the Coordinating Committee for Fundamental American Freedoms, was set up in 1963 to oppose the bill.

A new coordinating committee was also set up to support the Test Ban Treaty. The Citizens Committee for a Nuclear Test Ban conducted a nationwide campaign through newspapers and pamphlets to secure Senate ratification of the Treaty, and disbanded when their object was achieved. The Treaty received support from a variety of other organizations, especially religious groups.

Wheat Referendum

Congress was not the immediate object of the most important farm lobbying in 1963. With a vigorous national campaign, the American Farm Bureau Federation defeated, in a May 21 referendum, the Kennedy Administration's program of increase sharply controls on wheat planting and marketing. The referendum's defeat was a major setback for the National Farmers Union and the National Grange.

In the field of transportation, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen suffere a sharp disappointment when Congress passed emergency legislation providing arbitration for the railroads' work rules dispute. A lobbying battle continued to build up over transportation rate regulation, involving the railroads, truckers and barge lines.

Capital Spring

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Anybody care if I take time out from politicians and diplomats today and make love to something called spring in Washington? Like any dame worth her salt, spring has kept me waiting but she seems to be here at last, give or take an occasional snow flurry, and all is forgiven.

In Washington, spring usually consists of a series of shocks, but between times there are the days no millionaire could buy, days when it is sheer delight merely to walk to the postoffice or, even, pay a bill. On such days, like the poet, I take spring by the hand and murmur "Come, gentle spring! Ethereal mildness! Come."

Fragrance In The Air

Because something wonderful named spring has arrived, things don't seem as bad as they were a few weeks ago. To be sure, Nikita Khrushchev and Fidel Castro are still with us, and political speeches, but en route to dealing with these problems a man can stoop and examine a daffodil, or cut through the park and feel the soft, moist greenness of a new grass under his feet.

Hurrying to work, even on a busy city street, man is happily aware of spring's presence. He feels it in the wine-like bouquet of the air, in the scampering breezes, and in the fresh paint with which Nature has adorned herself. April can be capricious, but it remains spring's month, and after a day of sleet it can worm itself back into a man's good graces with the sudden caress of its warming zephyrs the perfume of its fragrant breath.

Spring—And Baseball

What has happened, of course, is that we have at last reached that point when the North Pole no longer is leaning away from the sun, and each day it leans nearer. The process insures that eventually the weather will be warmer, the days sunnier, the landscape brighter. Shortly, too, in the words of another poet, spring will "unlock the flowers to paint the laughing soil."

Spring is the finest time of the year to go to a ball game or to the race track, or merely to stand in the open doorway and breathe. Girls are prettier in spring, their winter coats relegated to the closet to be replaced by the soft colors of the season. In the spring, it is still fun to work on that lawn, or to clip a hedge or turn the black soil with a spade. And its sunlit hours remind the unwilling schoolboy that release from his blackboard prison is just around the corner.

World Problems Fade

In the spring, no man can be quite so fearful of the Big Bomb. The warnings of the political cuts that the country is going to hell seem somehow less dire. Who's afraid of inflation sitting on a bench in the middle of a little forest of cherry blossoms?

As Henry Timrod once wrote, spring is a special time "with that nameless pathos in the air which dwells with all things fair." It is the sweetest and gentlest and most unpredictably feminine of all the seasons, and I intend forthwith to stop writing about it and start enjoying it.

White House Economy

By WASHINGTON STAFF

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Leaving the Pan American Union in downtown Washington the other day, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., was confronted with a typical city problem — how to corral a taxi during the late afternoon rush hour traffic.

Late for an appointment, the senator fumed for about 15 minutes as cab after cab — already taken — passed him by. A companion suggested:

"Why don't we walk up to the White House? I'm sure the President would be glad to provide a fellow Texan with a limousine."

"I'm sure he would," Yarborough answered. "But with all this economy business in the White House, he'd probably charge us double the fare."

---

Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary who recently resigned to run for the U.S. Senate in California, gave his successor, George Reedy, a neat rule of thumb covering the habits of reporters at the daily White House press briefings. Said Pierre:

"The only times they get out their pencils to take notes is when you tell them what you're about to say is off the record."

---

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy continues to be a favorite target of the Republicans. Even partisan folk singers are taking up the anti-Bobby refrain.

Four young singers styling themselves "The Goldwaters" jump on the A.G. in a record album titled: "The Goldwaters Sing Folk Songs to Bug the Liberals."

Sample lyrics, to the tune of "Reuben, Reuben:"

"Bobby, Bobby, we've been thinking,
"When you studied for the Bar,
"Did you read the Constitution?
"Did you ever get that far?"

---

One of Sen. Barry Goldwater's strategists was asked how the senator's presidential bid was going in Alaska.

The man replied: "We really don't have very much to go on yet, except that the Goldwater dogsled came in seventh in the annual statewide dogsled race."

---

House Speaker John McCormack has steadfastly refused all offers of Secret Service protection following President Kennedy's assassination.

Each time agents showed up at the speaker's Capitol offices, says Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., the majority whip, McCormack would promptly shoo them away. The Secret Service turned to Boggs for advice on how to approach the Boston Irishman.

Boggs' answer: "The only way you're going to get an agent in there is to disguise one as an Irish priest."

---

Prominently displayed on a Pentagon bulletin board is this memorandum:

"Mr. James E. Casey has been designated Acting Director, Industrial Personnel Access Authorization Review Division, Office of Deputy Assistant Secretary (Security Policy), Office of Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower)."

Scrawled at the bottom is this notation:

"Short title — ADINPERACAUTREVDIVODAS (SP) OASD (MP)."

Prayer For Today

O God, Who hast called us out of darkness into Thy marvelous light and in this beautiful world, our home, hast brought again the sunrise, grant that our faces may turn toward the light. In Thy mercy keep us from falling, from yielding again to the murk of temptation, the abyss of lovelessness, the dark coldness of heart which shuts Thee out. Guide our steps by Thy light, illuminate our hearts by Thy Spirit, make glorious our everyday lives by the sunshine of Thy love, through Him Who is the Light of the world. Amen. — Edward K. Ziegler, Oakton, Va., pastor, The Church of the Brethren.

Market Lower With Airlines In Profit Taking

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits were taken in airlines and some of the cigaret issues. The stock market worked irregularly lower Tuesday in fairly active trading.

Volume was 5.27 million shares.

Steels, most of the motors, drugs, building materials and rails also declined. Most of the copper shares were higher because of the recent strength in copper commodity futures and demand for the metal. Aerospace issues nudged to the upside.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 2.00 at 813.29.

The consumers price index in February declined slightly, its first drop since December 1962, and new orders and shipments of manufacturers also declined slightly in February from their record January level.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .6 to 301.1 with industrials off .8, rails off .6 and utilities off .2.

Of 1,364 issues traded, 629 fell and 444 rose. New highs for the year totaled 91 and new lows 61.

Of the 15 most active stocks, eight declined and seven advanced. Four of the volume leaders were airlines, three motors and two tobaccos.

The only one of the top automakers to advance was Studebaker and it was the most active stock, up ¼ at 8¼ on 134,700 shares as it continued to respond to news that its president predicts a first quarter profit of nearly $1 million compared with last year's quarterly net loss of $6.4 million.

General Motors fell 1⅜ while Ford, Chrysler and American Telephone lost fractions. U.S. Steel lost 1 and Jones & Laughlin 1⅛. Other top steelmakers were down fractions.

Grain Futures Hold Firmness

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market maintained a little firmness in spots but prices were mostly weaker in the early afternoon today on the Board of Trade.

With transactions slow, new crop corn had attracted renewed support following issuance of the Government's report that farmers had signed commitments to withhold 34.3 million acres from feed grain production this year. The figure was more than the trade had expected. Withdrawal commitments at the same time a year ago amounted to only 25.7 million acres.

Profit cashing and liquidation weakened wheat and soybeans. Losses ranged to well over a cent most of the time.

Wheat finished ¾ to 2¼ cents a bushel lower, May $2.04⅜; soybeans ⅝ to 1⅜ lower, May $2.59¾-⅝; corn unchanged to 1 cent higher, May $1.21⅜-½; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, May 64⅛ cents; rye ⅛ to 2⅞ higher, May $1.35⅝-¾.

CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH (AP)—Wheat 1 hard 2.54½-2.64½; corn 2 yellow 1.47-1.49; oats 2 white 86¾-88¾; 2 yellow milo 2.25-2.30.

CHICAGO (AP)— No wheat; oats or soybean sales. Corn No. 2 yellow 1.24¼-½; No. 3 yellow 1.19½-23½; No. 4 yellow 1.18-19¼.

Soybean oil 7.90N.

Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The market for butcher hogs was slow in late trading with the supply of 6,500 head selling 25 to mostly 50 cents a hundredweight lower.

The $15 top, lowest peak in almost four months, went for some mixed 1-3 and some mostly 1-2 lots in the 190-250 lb range. Mixed 2s and 3s sold down to $12.85 and sows at $12.25-12.75.

Slaughter steers met a slow demand the small supply sold steady to 25 cents lower. With strictly prime grade absent, the mixed high choice and prime moved at $22.25-22.50 for 1,200-1,250 lb weights. Average choice offerings weighed up to 1,685 lbs and went at $19-22.40. Good grade was $20-21.

Heifers were steady to 25 cents lower and moved at $19.25-21.50 for good to choice. Bulls were $18-20.

A few wooled slaughter lambs grading mixed choice and prime brought $24 with prices steady to strong. Mixed good and choice reached $23.

Cotton Trading Mostly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton Futures closed $1.25 a bale lower to 25 cents higher.

Commission house liquidation depressed prices.

However, towards the close some deliveries rallied on local short covering.

There was little significance to the trading as the market awaited expected House action next week on new cotton legislation.

Farm Bill Backers Busy During Recess

By WASHINGTON BUREAU

WASHINGTON — Backers of the wheat - cotton bill are using this week's Easter recess in the House to drum up support for the measure, which even the Democratic leadership concedes has only a 50-50 chance of passing.

The controversial measure comes up for a vote in the House April 6 on a "take it or leave it" basis. With only one hour of debate allowed, the measure must be approved or voted down.

Opponents of the administration farm package have bitterly denounced parliamentary shortcut route which precludes any amendments to the bill.

If the House accepts the Senate - passed measure, the bill goes directly to the White House. If it rejects the bill, chances are any farm legislation this year are as good as dead.

The Democratic leadership, in an attempt to avoid sending the bill to conference, is asking the House to accept the measure as it is. They are fearful any language change would send it back to the Senate where it would become the victim of the civil rights filibuster.

While supporters of the bill are using the week - long recess to round up votes for the measure, the Republican leadership is using the free time to acquaint the public with what it regards as a high - handed attempt to "ram" a dangerous bill through the House without adequate debate or opportunity for revision.

The leadership is counting on another measure which comes up for a vote on April 7 to help turn the tide in favor of the wheat-cotton bill.

This is the bill to expand and make permanent the food stamp program currently operated on a pilot basis in 42 areas throughout the country. This measure is designed to help needy families and has support of many Democrats from urban areas.

The strategy is to get some southern Democrats who have opposed the food stamp plan in past years to vote for it in exchange for big city votes for the wheat - cotton bill. If the Democrats close ranks on both bills the leadership is confident it will win the uphill battle for a farm bill this year.

When the Senate took up the House - passed cotton bill it added a wheat section calling for a voluntary certificate program in 1964 and 1965. Heretofore, there had been no congressional action on wheat legislation since the May, 1963, referendum which rejected the administration's mandatory program.

Goldwater Hits Fulbright Call For New Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater accused Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of seeking "the reality of a Munich" with his call for new directions in U.S. foreign policy.

He said proposals of the Arkansas Democrat represent the way President Johnson's administration views foreign affairs, and added, "Republicans shouldn't let them get off the hook of truth."

"Beyond any details, the root assumptions of the Fulbright statement are the root assumptions of the administration's foreign policy," the Arizona senator said.

Seeking presidential support and campaign funds in California, Goldwater said Tuesday in a speech prepared for a $100-a-plate dinner:

"This is their baby and Republicans should not let the citizens of this country forget it."

Goldwater said Fulbright's suggestions "are dead wrong" and are "dangerously weakening the posture of this nation in a world which is still involved in a cold war that no amount of hot air will thaw."

"They truly reflect the direction of U.S. foreign policy under this administration," Goldwater added.

He said Fulbright went "through the looking glass" to suggest in the Senate that both sides in the cold war have repudiated a policy of total victory.

"We can find many instances where we have repudiated the idea of victory over communism," Goldwater said.

"This administration is a walking dictionary of such repudiations. But where have the Communists repudiated it?"

Extensive Reforms Planned By Faisal

By FAROUK NASSAR

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Crown Prince Faisal aims at insuring and speeding progressive reforms within Saudi Arabia in his new role as regent of that oil-rich nation, the kingdom's ambassador to Syria said Tuesday.

The ambassador, Sheik Abdel Rahman el Hamidi, told newsmen Faisal's assumption of supreme power and demotion Monday of his brother, King Saud, to a figurehead role will have no effect on Saudi Arabian foreign policy.

Radio Mecca announced the ailing monarch, 61, has signed a series of decrees formally approving the transfer to Faisal of all the royal executive powers and prerogatives that his 58-year-old brother and premier had seized by proclamation.

There were reports Saud acted under pressure, signing away his rights when given the choice of accepting the changes or leaving the country with his family.

Even so, the expectation is that Saud—who has been treated abroad in the past for a stomach ulcer, high blood pressure and general debility—will leave again soon for reasons of health.

In Beirut, Lebanon, sources close to Faisal said they heard seven of Saud's sons who had supported him in his struggle against the crown prince, have been ordered to get out. The report lacked confirmation.

Eldest of 40 sons of "the Lion of the Desert, King Ibn Saud, and Faisal have been on opposite sides of the fence for much of the time since Saud succeeded their father in 1953.

The spade - bearded crown prince advocated social and economic reforms. The king was a stand-patter.

They argued over extravagances of the royal family, which siphoned millions of dollars from royalties and taxes of the American-directed oil industry that provides the government nearly 90 per cent of its revenues.

Saud has been a free spender. Faisal was for economy.

The change in command apparently averted a civil war. Although backed by 70,000 armed tribesmen, Saud knuckled under to the combined opposition of the crown prince, Moslem religious leaders and the majority of the many princes in the royal family.

Widely traveled, Faisal became Saudi Arabia's premier when a Cabinet system was instituted in May 1958, but resigned two years later because of differences with the king.

The king himself assumed the premiership of a Cabinet of his own in December 1960. Faisal was restored as premier during a crisis over Yemen's revolution in 1962.

CROWNING—Petrolia, Tex.—Mary Moore, sweetheart of the Petrolia High School FFA Chapter, is crowned by Weldon Jetton, beau of the FHA Chapter. The coronation ceremony took place Tuesday night during the annual banquet. The two chapters work under the direction of Mrs. Reachel Bruster and Joe Sharp.

'Tested' Recruits Become Firemen

The first dozen recruit firemen to complete Fire Chief Bob Lyon's new academic and physical screening and training course began regular duties as Wichita Falls firemen this week.

Lyon said the tests eliminated about a third of the applicants. He also said he believes the program will give Wichita Falls much more adept and proficient firemen.

The recruits first must pass a general aptitude test and a physical examination. Their past record is checked by the police department and their former employment and military records are scrutinized. Another prerequisite is a high school diploma or a passing score on a college entrance examination.

A physical ability test is the final hurdle the young men must pass before becoming firemen for the Wichita Falls Fire Department.

Another group of rookie firemen will begin training Wednesday.

Petrolia Youths Hold Annual Fete

By NEAL JOHNSON
Farm Editor

PETROLIA, Tex. — Honoring youthful members, and recognition of the sweetheart and beau for the 1963-64 school year were highlights Tuesday night during the annual Petrolia FHA-FFA banquet.

Ronnie White, Future Farmers of America president, served as master of ceremonies and called first on Dwight Holland who offered the invocation. The regular opening ceremonies by the FFA officers was followed by Jane Patrick, Future Homemakers of America president, who gave the welcome on behalf of her organization. Eddie Hunter represented the FFA in welcoming the guests.

The program continued with Miss Patrick introducing all special guests.

Glenn Shelton, columnist with the Wichita Falls Record News, was next to appear on the program as featured speaker. In his talk, Shelton said that common courtesy "seems to be going out of fashion" and advised the young people to adopt a respectful attitude toward teachers and parents.

"This is the way to get ahead. This is the way to inspire respect for yourself," he declared.

He also admonished his listeners not to be "afraid to be clean: don't smoke nor drink; attend Sunday school and church. The unhappiest people in the world ar those sophisticates who cannot get joy out o the simple things of life," said Shelton.

FHA awards included the presentation of pens to the 1963-64 officers. Receiving pens were Jane Patrick, president; Norma Rushing, vice president; Phyllis Holland, secretary; Sayle Pharries, treasurer; Norene Sewell, song leader; Donna McDonald parliamentarian; Connie Hunt, reporter and Betty Bailey and Carol Rutledge, historians.

FFA boys receiving awards included Charles Krajca, farm mechanics; Ronnie White, livestock farming; and Dwight Holland, crop farming.

Selected as the Star Chapter Farmer of the year was White and Guy Mayo was honored as the Star Greenhand Farmer. Certificates of Merit were given to Glen Baxter, project program; Holland, citizenship and Steve Mills, scholarship.

Coronation of the FHA beau and the FFA sweetheart completed the night's activities.

Miss Mary Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Moore was crowned the FFA queen and Weldon Jetton received the honor as the FHA Beau.

Beef served during the meal was furnished by Clayco Cattle Co. of Byers, Tex.

Profit Said Excessive On Missile Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee, by a 5-2 vote, charged Tuesday that manufacturers of Nike, Bomarc and Attas missiles had received excessive and "pyramided" profits.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., disputed the majority findings in separate minority reports.

The split verdict has hung fire for nearly two years since the subcommittee completed on March 25, 1962, its often stormy probe of the missile contracts.

The majority report blames the Pentagon's procurement methods more than the companies for what it calls excessive profits.

It urges President Johnson to establish a high-level study group to develop new methods fair to the taxpayers and contractors alike for administering such contracts.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., filed the reports and a statement summarizing the majority findings.

Concerning one of Douglas aircraft Co.'s contracts for Nike missile tauncher-loaders, McClellan contended in his summary: "In a sense Douglas was allowed a profit of $1,211,777 for making $3,300 worth of plastic dust covers. The subcommittee does not believe such profit to be justified."

McClellan said this was one way of expressing the fact that Douglas had subcontracted to Consolidated Western Steel for the production and delivery of 1,032 Nike launcher-loaders at a price of $13.9 million. He said Douglas had made plastic covers for the launcher-loaders at a cost to itself of $3,361.

"Yet the Douglas Corp. took a profit not only on the $3,361 but it also took a profit on the total Consolidated Western costs of $13.9 million," McClellan said. He added that this all worked out to a $1,211,777 profit for Douglas and that it might be said it was all profit on the plastic covers.

Crash Victims

Rites For Four Set Wednesday

GOREE, Tex. (Special)—Mrs. Linda Lambeth Hendon, 25, and her three small children — victims of an Easter Sunday crash —will be buried here after services at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Services will be held from the Goree High School auditorium. Burial will be in Goree Cemetery directed by McCauley Funeral Home of Munday.

Mrs. Hendon and her children were killed when their car collided with a vehicle driven by an Oklahoma City woman at the north edge of Petrolia, about 9:30 p.m. Sunday. Mrs. Hendon's husband, James, was critically injured as was the driver of the other car, Mrs. Madge Heinold.

Mrs. Hendon, the former Linda Joyce Lambeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vertice Lambeth of Goree, was born May 12, 1938, in Goree. She was married to Hendon in June, 1957 in Goree. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

The children, Gregory Dale, 4; Jan, 2 and Bruce 9½ months, are survived by their father, James Mathis Hendon; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. John Hendon of Wichita Falls.

Lake Poor Place To Park An Auto

The Wichita Falls Fire Department reported a call to an unusual grass fire Tuesday involving a young Wichitan whose luck seemed to run from bad to worse.

Officials said the young man apparently had been parked with his girl friend deep in the cattails at the edge of the lake. When he started to leave the automobile became stuck in the mud.

He schemed to free the car by placing strips of cardboard under the wheels.

In the process, the cardboard caught fire.

Then the cattails caught fire.

Then the car caught fire.

Then the fire department roared to the scene.

They reported $1,000 loss.

Model Buildings Placed On Display

Displays were placed in Wichita Falls' four banks Tuesday of four buildings to be constructed or remodeled under the $6.9 million capital improvements bond program okayed by the voters last June.

Each of the four displays, of the new police and fire departments and remodeled Memorial Auditorium and Kemp Public Library, will be alternated weekly between the banks.

A model of the revamped auditorium went on display Tuesday at the City National Bank. Placed on display at the First-Wichita National Bank were plans and drawings of the new police station.

Central fire station plans will be displayed this week at Texas Bank & Trust, and the library display was placed at Parker Square State Bank.

Oil Production Up First '64 Quarter

TULSA, Okla. — The Oil and Gas Journal's latest production survey indicates first-quarter oil production is up less than 1 per cent over the first quarter last year.

Production of crude and lease condensate through March 28 averaged about 7,628,000 barrels per day, compared with 7,571,000 for the same period last year.

This is an increase of 57,000 barrels per day, or about three-fourths of 1 per cent.

For the one week ended March 28, production averaged 7,569,390 barrels per day, down 11,420 barrels per day from the previous week.

OKLAHOMA OIL REPORT

Oklahoma oil operators headed for a record of new field work for March, with a total of 448 intentions to drill or redrill in the first 26 days of the month. This compares with 386 intentions in January and 396 in February. This is the greatest amount of new work in some three years.

In the week just ended there were 91 intentions in 46 counties, with 14 of them being wildcat ventures in 12 counties. Depths ranged from a 120-foot "post-hole" in Craig County to a 10,900-foot venture in Dewey County. This brings to 48 the number of exploration ventures this year.

Production also continues to run at a high rate, with an average of 558,081 barrels daily for the first 21 days of the month. This compares with state allowable of 545,00 0barrels daily and purchasers' nominations of 547,482 barrels.

WICHITAN COMPLETES MORE SHALLOW OILERS

LAWTON, Okla.—H. A. Hackathorn, Wichita Falls, has filed completion reports on four more flowing wells in the Lawton District, where he is developing two sand zones on his State School Land lease, in SW SW of 16-2n-10w.

The No. 2 well flowed 11 barrels of oil a day on a ½-inch choke from sand at 451-53 feet. Total depth was 521 feet. The No. 7 well did 12 barrels a day on a 1.2-inch choke from sand at 444-448 feet. Total depth 520 feet.

The No. 3 well flowed 72 barrels on a 1-64-inch choke from sand at 881-925 feet. Total depth was 980 feet. The No. 6 well did 42 barrels daily on a 1-32-inch choke from sand at 929-937 feet. Total depth was 1,011 feet.

Oil from both zones tests 34 degrees gravity.

SINCLAIR LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW PIEPLINE

WAURIKA, Okla. — Sinclair Pipe Line Co. has awarded contracts to R. H. Fulton Construction Co., Lubbock, Tex., for construction of an 88-mile, 16-inch crude oil pipeline from its Ringling station, in Jefferson County, to its Panova station, in Pottawatomie County. Work is to start immediately and will be completed in about 60 days.

Revision of the company's gathering system in southern Oklahoma fields will permit handling more Oklahoma and Texas crude through the system. Both the Ringling and Panova stations will get increased capacity.

Oil Completions Down 8 Per Cent

TULSA, Okla. — The Oil and Gas Journal's well completion survey indicates a decrease of about 8 per cent during the first quarter of 1964, as compared with the same period last year.

Through March 28, completions totaled 9,914, compared with 10,765 last year. But footage drilled is down only about 4½ per cent. Total through March 28 is 43,054,022 compared with 45,138,756 last year.

Only a few states show an increase in number of well completions — Louisiana, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wyoming. Western Canada also has had a slight increase so far this year with 755 completions, compared with 745 for the same period last year.

In the U.S. the big decrease was in crude wells, down about 8 per cent. Gas well completions remained about the same. Wildcat completions totaled 1,980, down only slightly from last year's 2,0007, the Journal says.

For the one week ending March 8, U.S. operators reported 701 completions, down 97 from the previous week.

Two wonderful Reasons

Your particular reasons may be different. But all of us know we should be saving. Often we hesitate to start, feeling that small amounts don't count. Actually, you'd be surprised how time and small regular savings work together for you.

Fifty cents a day, for example, is parking or carfare . . . cigarette money. What would happen if you saved at that rate and never increased it?

When those two young fellas are spruced up college freshmen 15 years from now, you'll have over $3500. Just from cigarette money!

There is only one thing standing in your way: that one positive step of getting started. So do this. Tear out this ad. Keep it with you to serve as your conscience till next payday. Then come in, start your account, and put aside your savings first each payday. You'll never regret it.

About your savings account at North Texas Federal

It's convenient — you can save by mail, by bank draft or use our courtesy drop boxes for after-hours deposits.
