

No new developments in shooting death

No new developments have surfaced in the shooting death of the 28-year-old Kansas man found in his pickup truck, along with a considerable amount of money, at the IH20 Rest Stop near Lorraine in Mitchell County. Sheriff Wendell Bryant reported Friday.

An autopsy performed in Dallas revealed that the victim, identified as Juan Manuel Villa of Elkhart, Kansas, died from a single .45-caliber bullet wound that severed a main artery in the neck.

The Sheriff's Department arrived at the scene about 9:30 a.m. last Sunday, after passing truckers had reported to Nolan County Sheriff's Department observing the bullet hole in the passenger side window of the 4-wheel pickup, parked in the westbound side of the rest stop. Investigations found that the victim had purchased the 1982 pickup, with cash, in Dallas on Friday, two days before he was found, slumped back in the driver's seat. When the officers arrived, they found both the light switch and the ignition switch in the on position.

Those performing the autopsy, which had been ordered by Justice of the Peace Ruby Claxton, said the man probably died quickly from the wound. From witnesses, it is believed that the shooting occurred sometime between 2 and 4 a.m., the Sheriff said.

Robbery is not suspected as the motive since the man's billfold was found in his jeans; and an undisclosed amount of money was found in a paper sack on the floorboard of the truck.

However, mainly because of the money found, numerous other law enforcement agencies have been inquiring into the incident.

Villa's body was released to a Dallas Funeral Home which made arrangement to ship it to his father in Chihuahua, Mexico. He was reported to have a wife, believed to be 7-month pregnant, in Kansas, but so far nothing has been heard from her.

Investigations are continuing in the homicide case.

Travis Green conviction appealed; remains free

At the conclusion of the trial of Travis Green, 30-year-old local man who was convicted on charges of indecency with a child, his attorney, Frank Ginzel, filed a motion of appeal and Green remains free under bond.

Last Tuesday, the Mitchell County Jury for 32nd District Court took less than an hour to find Green guilty of child abuse in an incident on February 1, 1987, involving his 12-year-old stepdaughter.

In the punishment stage of the trial, the State Prosecutor District Attorney Norman Arnett asked the jury for a sentence of 60 years. During further testimony, Ginzel objected strenuously, but most of his objections and moves for mistrial were overruled and denied by presiding judge Wel-

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "All the commandments are summed up in the one rule, 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'" Romans 13:9

Today is Valentine's Day, the biggest day of the year for candies, flowers, and poets. But it is also a busier time than usual for the post office. I used to live near Valentine, in far West Texas, where every year that little post office received thousands of letters and cards to be forwarded on with the Valentine postmark. "Love" stamps are also popular, most of the time.

In Les Winick's "Stamping Around", he points out that the idea for a Love stamp started when a resident of Bartlesville, Ok wrote to the Postmaster General in 1970 suggesting that a postage stamp be issued for lovers. It took three years, but the first Love stamp was issued Jan. 26, 1973. Designed by contemporary painter Robert Indiana, the stamp with the word "LOVE" in bright red letters with a green and purple background, was criticized as being a "hippie" stamp, but the Postal Service sold 330 million copies, about three times the normal amount for a commemorative stamp. The design was later widely used on posters, pins, sculptures and jewelry.

The second Love stamp appeared nine years later in 1982 and featured colorful flowers spelling out the letters "LOVE" with arrangements of flowers. Some post offices reported receiving complaints that men do not like to use stamps that picture flowers, but more than 881 million of this one stamp was distributed and the design became popular for weddings, birthdays, Mother's Day and best of all, Valentine's Day.

Gene Dow

The next Love stamp made its appearance in 1984 and featured the word "Love" five times using a heart instead of the letter "V". The 1985 stamp, featuring multi-colors was introduced in Hollywood on the set of the popular "Love Boat" television series.

The USPS came off its winning streak in 1986 when the Love stamp featured a puppy dog. The theory was that everyone liked a loveable, warm puppy, but postal customers did not buy the idea and millions of the stamps remained on the shelves.

In 1987 Love stamp played it safe with a stylized heart in pastel shades. But the people in Washington got greedy and printed the stamp in a very small size in order to get more stamps per sheet. People didn't like the mini-stamp.

The 1988 design gets back to basics, featuring a pink rose in full bloom. But the new stamp will not be sold until July, when the new First Class rates are finally determined.

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Postman, postman, do you duty.
Take this letter to my beauty".

Many lovers do not need a special stamp to convey their feelings. During the 1800's, a "love post" flourished where lovers used the position of the stamp to impart messages of endearment. Some put their stamps upside down, others at various angles and each position meant something else to the letter writers.

DID YOU KNOW? During the 1920's, inflation in Germany was so wild that the post office overprinted their stamps with new values almost daily. Two million mark values on postage stamps were quite common.

A SALUTE TO....

Our Volunteer Firemen

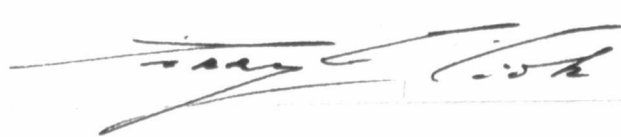

In pioneer times, fires were fought by anyone passing by. Those early makeshift efforts gave rise to a need for more reliable protection of lives and property.

With a real need in mind, a handful of men made a stab at organizing what we know today as our volunteer fire department.

Then, as it remains today, the volunteers train using their own time and expense. The gradual upgrading of equipment from man-pulled hose carts to sleek red engines came about through the persistent prodding of firemen wanting to do a better job.

Even so, modern fire fighters face the same reality of their counterparts through the years. When the siren sounds, they drop what they're doing and come running. Without regard for their own well being, they do what they can as the occasion demands. With the job done, they put equipment back in shape for the next call. A simple grass fire may involve several hours of time all told, to say nothing of ruined clothing and shoes.

Volunteer firemen have more than proved themselves as a trustworthy force and in the process have won a warm spot in the hearts of our community.

don Kirk. Ginzler pleaded no more than a 10 year sentence from the jury.

The possible punishment on the charge, a 2nd degree felony, was not less than 2 nor more and 20 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000. However, due to a previous conviction for aggravated assault in 1978, which was admitted by Green, the jury had to consider a punishment of not less than five nor more than 99 years or life, and a fine of up to $10,000.

The jury took several hours before handing down a sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $4,000, last Tuesday night.

Ginzler then filed a motion of appeal. Green will remain free under bond until a mandate is received from the Appeals Court.

Francesca Helm

Francesca Helm joined 4-H in 1986 to meet people, make new friends, and gain experience in various projects. Francesca is the 16-year-old daughter of Austin and Mary Helm of Colorado City. 4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Its aim is to help youth gain a positive self-concept, skills in a variety of subject matter areas and leadership abilities.

This year Francesca has been extremely successful in her foods and nutrition project. The project starts with project group meetings to learn nutrition concepts as well as food preparation techniques. With this information, the youngsters may enter competition and Francesca "did it up brown," or blue, as it were, in her prize ribbons. Francesca prepared a Rainbow Fruit Pizza and entered the Mitchell County 4-H Food Show. She served the pizza to a judge and the pizza was scored on texture, flavor, attractiveness and temperature. The major part of her score, however, was based on Francesca's knowledge of nutrition and its relation to health, her knowledge of foods preparation principles and, very importantly, her ability to communicate this information to an expert judge.

Francesca won the county competition and the right to advance to district competition in San Angelo. Francesca found there a very competitive nutritious snacks and desserts division. She reported, "going to district contest is a real challenge. You have to look good, know your material, present your food properly and be courteous, yet convincing to the judges." Perhaps Francesca was so convincing due to her confidence in the preparation she had done prior to the contest.

"I felt confident I could tell the judges what they wanted to know. I was a little nervous at first, but once I had answered some questions, I knew I would have no problem doing well. My favorite part of getting ready for the show is in practicing the preparation of my dish. I chose this recipe because my family likes it and because it is delicious, colorful and good for you. Those are important factors in competition."

Francesca hopes to develop her leadership skills this year by teaching a 4-H foods and nutrition project group with special emphasis on microwave cooking.

Foods and nutrition is not Francesca's only 4-H project. She participated in the 4-H clothing project. Using the basic construction skills she learned in the project, she made and modeled a dress in the 1987 Mitchell County 4-H Fashion Show. She also enjoyed helping narrate the show. She is currently working on construction of stuffed animals, especially colorful dinosaurs and she says that they make great gifts, if brother doesn't snatch them first!

This will not be the first year for Francesca to compete at the state level of 4-H contests. In 1987 she was a member of the 4-H rifle team. One skill she has learned which applies to every 4-H project is record keeping. Her shooting sports record book also qualified for state competition.

Francesca has been honored not only through competition in 4-H events, but also through applying these skills for entry in the county fair. In foods and arts and crafts, she has won a total of four grand champion prizes or rosettes, six first place ribbons and two second place ribbons.

What does she plan to do with all this experience? Francesca will be a senior in high school and upon graduation plans to pursue a degree in home economics at Angelo State University. Whoever said that the mission of 4-H is not merely to develop blue ribbon projects but blue ribbon kids would be proud of Francesca Helm. Mitchell County can be!

Managing conflict presented by Morris

"Managing Conflict Creatively" was the subject brought to the Fairview Extension Homemakers by D'Dee Morris Thursday afternoon in the home of Clara Shoemaker.

In the study of conflict, four basic characteristics were noted: two opposing sides, be it people, or nations; a challenge or struggle; interference or interaction which if not solved at this point leads to emotional involvement.

Looking critically at the various ways of meeting conflict, Morris discussed the strong approach in which aggressive confrontation is evident; the second approach involves a willingness to collaborate using verbal skills; the third approach involves one examining himself as a part of the problem and making adjustments; and finally those who are passive and who may just withdraw from the scene.

A test sheet was given each member to score his methods of meeting conflicts in everyday life. Then to emphasize the importance of communication, a word-block puzzle was demonstrated by four of the members.

Sonja Lawson, bride-elect of Bob Girvin, was honored with a kitchen shower along with a collection of favorite recipes and many good wishes from the club.

I realize that when one is only 11 years old, 40 years old must seem really OLD.

Age is sort of a standing joke around our house with our 11-year-old kidding my wife and me about how it was to grow up without electricity, indoor plumbing and automobiles or, heaven forbid, television.

We play along with his game sometimes, telling how far we had to trudge through the snow to walk to school and how we had to do our homework by candlelight after we had finished with all our chores.

One afternoon we were looking through an old Colorado High School annual - a 1967 volume, I think - when Jeffrey looked up and said laughingly, "You didn't even have real football uniforms back then."

You have to realize that football is Jeffrey's favorite sport. His room looks like a locker room with enough helmets and football uniforms to outfit most of the neighborhood.

Knowing that football teams have had uniforms of some sort for many, many years, my wife glanced over to see what picture Jeffrey was looking at.

"That's not a real football game," she explained, eyeing the annual, "That was a powder-puff game with the girls playing football and the boys dressed as the cheerleaders."

The powder-puff game was an annual spring rite back then. The girls would put on warm-up suits complete with shoulder pads as well as knee pads and helmets.

The football players would be dressed as "stunning" cheerleader types. It was hard to tell who had more fun - the participants or the spectators.

Those high school students are now grown, some of whom are now teaching in Colorado City.

I'm looking forward to seeing them in action at a faculty basketball game on Tuesday, Feb. 23. The game is a fundraising event of the Parents-Teachers-Students-Organization (PTSO) with proceeds going for a scholarship fund.

The two teams will be composed of teachers from all four campuses, with middle school and high school teachers being teamed with Kelley and Hutchinson teachers to make up the two teams.

I'm just glad I'm not going to be one of the "old-timers" huffing and puffing up and down the court. I know my limitations - that's why I wouldn't even go out for our company-sponsored basketball team. But I do respect those who have the willingness, the energy and the ability to still play basketball.

No, my first grade teacher wife will not be playing in the game. She will be working in the concession stand, however.

The game will be played at 7 p.m. in the "Pit" which was called Wolf Gym when we were in high school.

Yes, Jeffrey, we had a gym "way-back" then - in fact the same gym that's now called the "Pit."

One of the things we owe our parents is to die respectfully. I bring this up because I've just read in the paper about a woman who got slashed with a broken beer bottle at a party recently.

It was 1 in the morning, and as happens after several hours of boozing, she had gotten into a fight with her husband and left the party in a huff. She had waited for him in the couple's pickup truck, figuring it was better than walking home at that hour.

That might have been the end of it had another woman not walked by the pickup, reached through the window and slashed the lady across the face with a broken beer bottle. It left a four-inch cut from the bridge of her nose to her jaw. Worse, the woman that got cut up wasn't even the person the attacker had intended to carve up.

People are always mistaking somebody for somebody else - especially after a few brews.

I've been out at 1 a.m. on a few occasions, and I've always been a little concerned that somebody might mistakenly stab me, or shoot me, or purposely do the same thing in order to make a point that would probably escape me if I was lucky enough not to expire.

The plain fact is, the later the hour, the greater the risks.

Consider these factors: The only people who are totally sober at 1 a.m. are the police officers in their cruisers, and a few night workers. Everybody else has been drinking alcohol for at least four hours.

The alcohol has loosened tongues, and while this may have resulted in the formation of new and promising relationships, it may also have led to some irreconcilable differences among other individuals.

Most sober people try to avoid conflicts because logical man is, by nature, chicken. Logical man thinks about the pain of a cut across his face from a broken beer bottle. He thinks about having stitches sewn into his scalp, about grotesque bruises, and about slugs of lead fouling up his circulatory system.

Most of all, logical man thinks of how his mother will feel reading in the paper that her son has gotten himself killed, or maimed at a drunken party.

A person who's had a few is not likely to fret so much over these uncertainties.

I was sitting in a bar one night during my younger days trying to coach a friend on the proper techniques of bumper pool. My assistance, it turns out, was not appreciated by the man he was playing, a man who told me to shut up.

I'd had a couple of beers myself and told him I'd certainly talk whenever I felt moved to talk, and that if he didn't like it, he could certainly stick cotton in his rabbit ears. Or something to that effect.

That's when the man told my friend to hold his cue stick so he could take me outside for a lesson in bumper pool etiquette.

Like I say, I'd had a couple of beers - not 22. There were still lingering doubts about omnipotence. Besides, the guy wore a fedora and looked like a gangster.

Fortunately, logic sifted tardily through this machismo fog and I was able to challenge him to a game of bumper pool, in lieu of fist-fighting. Or alley surgery.

"If I win, I get to keep on coaching," I said. "If I lose, I leave. Deal?"

"Deal."

I lost and my friend and I left in one piece.

It wasn't until we were safely on the road that he told me he knew the man well, and that he always carried a pistol under his suit coat.

Don't worry, Mom. That was nearly 20 years ago, and I haven't coached bumper pool since.

CONSUMER ALERT

by Jim Mattox
Attorney General

The C.O.D. Fraud Game

My Consumer Protection Division has asked me to warn consumers about C.O.D. fraud, which is sweeping the country.

THE SCAM
Victims of C.O.D. fraud have reported that they first received a phone call from a California company, in which they were offered a prize or a precious gem. All they had to do in order to win the valuable prize was order the company's product.

When the C.O.D. package arrived the consumers paid about $39 and found nothing inside the package. In some cases, the consumers found a note that told them to send in another $50 in order to receive the prize. In other cases the product was sent but turned out to be nearly worthless.

Some of the products offered through these boiler room operations included an "executive" pen and pencil set, a so-called personalized calendar, and a supposed home health guide. The pen and pencil set was worth about $3, not the $33 claimed. The calendar is a small cardboard calendar with paste-on label and the home health guide is a piece of cardboard with a few health rules printed on it.

Another company offers consumers a Timex computer for $50. But the caller fails to mention that you can get the same product for $45 through local stores.

WHAT TO DO

If you receive a call from an unknown company, ask for a copy of their catalog—if you are interested in the product. Don't be fooled by an statement like "this offer is good today only."

Although the post office is required to deliver all C.O.D. packages, the consumer is not required to accept them.

If you think you have been taken by a C.O.D. company, you may report it to the Consumer Protection Division nearest you in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio.

Rotary Club given state park update

The Lake Colorado City State Park draws some 300,000 visitors annually, the Colorado City Rotarians and their guests were told Wednesday.

Mark Fambro, newly appointed part superintendent, was guest speaker at the club's noon luncheon at the Civic Center.

Fambro, who came to Colorado City from the Lake Brownwood State Park two months ago, said the park is composed of 500 acres with 132 overnight camping sites and 100 day use sites.

Fambro said it is his goal "to create an atmosphere where people can bring their family and enjoy picnicking, swimming, camping and boating," he said, noting that a lot of the park's visitors are from the Midland-Odessa area.

Fambro said the park is a hunting and game preserve and firearms are prohibited. Among the wildlife to be found are white tail deer, wild turkey, quail and prairie dogs.

Fambro was introduced by Robert Ramage, program chairman.

Larry Cook, president, announced that the charter night program for the newly formed club "has tentatively been scheduled for Thursday, March 17, at the Civic Center.

Wednesday's meeting was Sweetheart Day in honor of Valentine's Day and many of the Rotarians had their wives as guests. The men presented roses to their wives and sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart", accompanied by Margaret Baum at the piano.

Present were Richard and Carolyn Armstrong, Don and Judy Bennett, Larry and Sylvia Cook, Gary and Kellie Flock, Phil and Charla Hall, Mike and Glenda Hemphill, Robert and Lanette Ramage, Jack and Donna Starr, David and Melody Stubblefield, J.R. and Carole Troha, Tony and Darlene Turner, Don and Leada Wood, Kevin and Mary Ann Wright and Ray Mayo.

Visitors included Jim West of Plainview, Cliff and Lottimae Chapman, Lowell and Mauvis Jones and Hal Boyd, all of Big Spring, and Mark Fambro.

Bodine hosts homemakers

The Buford Extension Homemakers Club met Monday in the home of Geanine Bodine.

Nelma Ritchey led the group in club prayer, followed by recreation.

Members answered roll call by "What is the most important thing we can contribute as citizens of the United States?". Attending were Ruth Adams, Lucille Blasingame, Geanine Bodine, Betty Boedker, Bess Cooper, Geneva Killian, Teresa Loving, Irene Ritchey, Nelma Ritchey and Fern Thompson.

Following the short business meeting, Nelma Ritchey presented the program, "Citizenship and Conflict". When our emotions rule, conflicts surface. Because of two of more parties, as in politics, there will be conflict. We should stick to the facts and show honesty, she said.

Mrs. Bodine, the hostess, served miniature pecan tassies, cookies, punch and coffee in the dining area which was decorated with a Valentine motif.

The next meeting will be Feb. 22 in the home of Betty Boedker.

THE WEAK CHURCH MEMBER

Somewhere between the age of accountability and the local mortuary there exists a peculiar bundle of excuses which kindly ministers call "a weak church member."

A weak church member likes the Easter Service, short sermons, new cars, sleeping on Sunday, a bigger church, a smaller church, golf, fishing, the church back home, and other weak church members.

A weak church member doesn't like old ministers, young ministers, long sermons, stewardship sermons, religious fanatics, pressure, cold churches, empty churches, crowded churches, overly friendly churches, hypocrites, ministers that check up on him, and offerings.

A weak church member is an excuse in clothing, an alibi with golf clubs on the back seat, piety with a drink in its hand, indifference begging off, laziness with a cold, sin flirting with the world, a lie promising to be in church Sunday, expert in homeletics, critic, and in his own opinion, a real Christian.

Mothers lie for them, fathers golf with them, wives stay at home with them, husbands agree with them, mother-in-laws gossip about them, membership committees go insane because of them, and ministers pray for them. Weak church members are found everywhere: in church, in bed, in front of the t.v. set, on the highway, in religious discussions, doing Sunday chores, and planning what to do next Sunday.

Local students inducted into honor fraternity

SNYDER - Dianne Jones, David Myers and Ann Nobles of Colorado City have been inducted into the Psi Zeta chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at Western Texas College.

Induction ceremonies were held Sunday, Feb. 7, in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus. The new members were presented for induction by Dr. Mary Hood, chapter advisor.

Phi Theta Kappa is the only nationally recognized honor fraternity for students in junior/community colleges and was founded in 1929. To be eligible for membership, a student must have at least 12 hours of college credit with a grade point average of at least 3.2 and be pursuing either the Associate in Arts or the Associate in Applied Science degree. There are more than 700 Phi Theta Kappa chapters in the nation. Community service is emphasized in the WTC chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and members perform such services as ushering at WTC graduation and drama productions, serving at the Senior Center's Christmas and recognition banquets, and serving at other functions as well. PTK operates a concession stand at WTC basketball games in the Scurry County coliseum, with proceeds used to help pay expenses for members to attend special programs.

Wildcats Co-champions

LORAIN-The Westbrook Wildcats finished in a tie for the district 17-A boys basketball championship with their 59-44 victory over the Loraine Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

Westbrook's co-championship marked the Wildcats' second consecutive finish atop the district standings. The Wildcats, 15-13, finished at 5-1 in 17-A along with the Ira Bulldogs.

Westbrook and Ira were to have played Friday night at Highland to decide their positions in the state playoffs. Friday's winner will represent 17-A as the champion with the loser entering the playoffs as the runner-up.

Texas high school boys begin the state basketball playoffs next week. Loraine ended the 1987-88 season at 2-21 and 0-6 in district play.

The Bulldogs took a 9-2 lead over the visiting Wildcats Tuesday but Westbrook took the lead before the end of the first period and never again trailed.

Scoring for the Wildcats were Marty Browne 17, Clayton Cannon 16, Ramiro Fuentes 15, Scooter Hines 7, Neal Ginkinger 2 and Jason Morris 2. For the Bulldogs were Anthony Williams 16, Charlie Alvarez 10, Rudy Sanchez 11 (3 three-pointers), Ruben Vasquez 1, Josell Williams 4 and Joe Alvarez 2.

The Westbrook Wildcats bowed out of last year's playoffs with a first round loss. District 17-A representatives will play the champion and runner-up from district 18-A.

Roby won 18-A and will play the loser of the Westbrook versus Ira contest that was played Friday night at Highland.

The runner-up spot in 18-A ended in a tie between Aspermont and Jayton. Those two teams will play at Snyder's Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday for the right to play the winner of the Westbrook versus Ira contest.

Bi-district sites and times are pending on the outcomes of the tie-breaking contests. Plans were made to play the bi-district contests at Snyder's Coliseum but those plans hit a snag last week.

"We discussed it," said Westbrook coach Jim Hill, "but we threw a kink in it today (Wednesday)."

The problem is that the use of the Coliseum by Jayton and Aspermont Tuesday will give the winner the advantage of having played there in the event the bi-district contests are held there.

Ira and Westbrook chose to play at Highland for the same reason because Roby officials didn't want to be at a disadvantage, either.

"We could possibly play bi-district at Borden County or Sweetwater again," said coach Hill. "We'll know after Tuesday."

Wylie downs Colorado City

WYLIE-The Wylie Bulldogs won two district 5AAA basketball games here Tuesday at the expense of the Colorado City Wolves.

Wylie's girls team completed an undefeated district romp with an 88-37 win over the Lady Wolves. The Bulldogs won the boys contest 68-52.

The Lady Wolves ended the 1987-88 season at 4-21 and had first and second half records of 1-5 and 0-6, respectively.

Scoring for Colorado City were Sheila Monroe 8, Denise Lowrance 7, Cami Redwine 6, Brittany Bridgford 5, Monica

Hamilton 5, Carla Hammond 4 and Michelle Combs 2.

"We had a lot of losses," said first year Lady Wolves coach Wayne Alexander about his opening season at Colorado High School. "We got better but not ever as good as we ought to be. There was some improvement, from the young kids especially."

Tracy Corn scored 12 points for Wylie in the opening period and finished with a game high 26 points. Also for the Bulldogs were Cindy Tate 15, Amy Teal 12 and Teri Brooks 10.

The CHS boys led Wylie 15-13 after one period but were outscored 23-6 in the second period for a 36-21 Wylie lead.

The Bulldogs led 54-34 after three periods.

Scoring the Wolves were Dane Hoover 12, Bubba Bailey 7, Chris Perkin 6, Mark Russell 6, Ken Woods 6, Paul Ausbie 6, Guy Compton 4, Pat Ridge 3 and Ismael Silva 2.

The Wolves committed 33 turnovers and shot 21 of 58 from the field and 9 of 18 from the free throw line. Hoover and Woods added 9 rebounds. Russell made 5 rebounds and graded highest defensively.

For Wylie were Jeff Wood 25, Scott Bible 11 and John Garner 13. The Bulldogs made 15 of 22 free throws.

Wylie won the junior varsity girls game 34-22 behind 28 points from Davis. Scoring for the Lady Wolves were Kendra Ritchey 6, Amy Chitsey 4, Priscilla Mayes 4, Mendy Conner 2, Bridgett Bridgford 2, Patricia Molina 2 and Melissa Rivera 2.

The Wolves won the junior varsity boys game 44-40. Scoring for Colorado City were George Rivera 11, Mark Alvidrez 10, Dennis Smith 8, Tracy Ausbie 4, Bruce Williams 3, Ricky Westbrook 2, Tracy McElvaney 2, Ronald Appling 2 and John Pharris 2.

Bulldogs in playoffs Tuesday

LORAIN-The Westbrook Wildcats came through on their last chance here Tuesday night.

Westbrook, 3-23 for the year, owned an 0-5 record in district 17-A girls basketball entering their season finale at Loraine Tuesday.

The Wildcats upset the playoff bound Bulldogs 48-42 on their own court for Westbrook's first district win in over a year. Westbrook's three wins followed a winless 1986-87 season.

Scoring for the Wildcats Tuesday were Glenda Wallace 9, Custodia Rincones 9, Mikki Sullivan 8, Katie Walls 7, Elizabeth Wright 7, Lisa Putman 5 and Shanna Burnett 3.

For Loraine were Jolinda Troutt 11, Michelle Garcia 9, Cheryl Alvarez 8, Trena Williams 7, Leticia Garcia 2, Angelic Garcia 2, Shelli Webb 2 and Christi Blair 1.

Williams added 13 rebounds. Westbrook had 35 free throw attempts to Loraine's 26 attempts.

Second year coach Jim Nau, who has resigned effective at the end of the 1988 school year, will now take his team into a Class A bi-district contest against 18-A champion Jayton.

Loraine will play Jayton at Snyder's Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday at 8 p.m. following a boys contest between Jayton and Aspermont.

Jayton beat Loraine 58-19 earlier in the year. Loraine was to have played a practice game at Roby Friday.

Card Of Thanks

Card of Thanks

Friends & Neighbors
How do we define love? Love is the generosity of acts in kindness and thoughtfulness given to the family of our beloved Jack Bowen throughout his illness and in the days since he's been gone. Geography has no bounds when it comes to trying to express our thanks to each of you "giving and loving people" for the comfort you have covered us with. God has given us love through each gift of flowers, cards, calls and food. And most of all through every prayer for comfort.

Nettie Elizabeth Hale, 82, of Stanton died at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 9, in the Martin County Hospital after a brief illness.

Funeral services were Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Stanton with Rev. Ralph B. Arbuckle of Midland officiating. Burial was in Valhalla Mausoleum in Midland under the direction of Gilbreath Funeral Home.

She was born Jan. 29, 1906 in Cuthbert and moved to Stanton 51 years ago from Loraine. She married Charlie Leonard Hale Nov. 25, 1921 in Colorado City. He preceded her in death on Aug. 2, 1966. She was a member of Tarzan Baptist Church.

Wife of Railroad Commission hopeful brings campaign here

Mimi Langdon, wife of Democratic candidate for Texas Railroad Commission Jerry Langdon, was in Colorado City Thursday as part of a state-wide tour to campaign for her husband. The Langdons live in Midland where he operates Langdon and Associates, a petroleum consulting firm.

Langdon, 36, has been involved in the energy industry since leaving college.

"Jerry has been working in various capacities in the energy industry since he graduated from the University of Texas in 1975," said Mrs. Langdon. "He is a petroleum consultant and is considered one of the most knowledgeable professionals in the business.

"His dad, Jim Langdon, served as state district judge and the Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Appeals. After that, he served for 15 years on the Texas Railroad Commission.

"Jerry has spent not only his entire professional career in the energy industry, he was raised in it," she said. "He grew up in the oil fields of West Texas, and then his dad, Judge Jim Langdon, served on the commission.

"I'm proud to be out campaigning for Jerry. But I'm not doing this just because I'm his wife. He has a lot to contribute to the state because of his expertise in the energy industry. He will be one of the most knowledgeable Railroad Commissioners in the area of oil and gas ever elected. I think he has a tremendous contribution to make to Texas."

She said her husband believes the Railroad Commission should be endeavoring to utilize the state's large supply of gas to improve the Texas position in the market and to increase drilling activity, adding that if drilling activity picks up, more oil will be discovered incremental to the process.

Langdon has also campaigned for reforms at the commission including a central filing system, a centralized budget process and an executive director for the agency.

Week to honor man's best friend

CHICAGO - Dog owners and lovers nationwide are encouraged to pay special attention to "man's best friend" when the nation celebrates Dog Hero Week, Feb. 28-March 5.

The official kick-off of Dog Hero Week will be held on March 1 in Washington, D.C., when the winner of the 1987 Ken-L Ration Dog Hero of the Year Award is announced.

The national canine commemoration is being sponsored by Ken-L Ration dog foods. The pet food manufacturer has been honoring heroic dogs annually for 34 years.

More than 20 governors and mayors from Maryland to Hawaii have stamped their approval on the celebration by proclaiming Dog Hero Week in their states and cities. The officials are asking their constituencies to honor local dogs for all their good deeds, heroic or otherwise.

"For the past 34 years, the Ken-L Ration Dog Hero of the Year Award has honored dogs who have performed heroic deeds, many times under life-threatening situations," said George Yapp, president of the pet foods division of the Quaker Oats Company, maker of Ken-L Ration dog foods.

One of five brave dogs reviewed by a panel of dog experts and chosen by a public vote will be honored at the Capitol Hill ceremony: Bo, an 8-year-old blind German Shepherd from High Point, N.C., who alerted his owners to a house fire; Katz, a 5-year-old Rottweiler from River-ton, Wyo., who saved a little girl from drowning; Jet, a 6-year-old Doberman Pinscher from Sepulveda, Calif., who directed help for her owner suffering from severe hypoglycemia; Bella, a 2-year-old mixed breed from Danville, Calif., who helped rescue a drowning 18-month-old baby; or Flicka, an 11-year-old Doberman Pinscher from Langley, Wash., who ran for help when her owner was injured and debilitated in the woods.

Ken-L Ration is currently accepting nominations for the 1988 Dog Hero. If you know of a canine's heroic deed that occurred after Oct. 1, 1987, send a detailed description of the deed, along with your name, address and telephone number of Ken-L Ration Dog Hero of the Year, 231 S. Green St., P.O. Box PET, Chicago, Ill. 60607. Entries must be received by Oct. 1, 1988.

Auxiliary has meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 9178 met Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. with Bonnie Story, president, presiding.

It was reported money was sent to the Big Spring VA Hospital for the birthday fund. Each veteran who is in the hospital on their birthday receives a gift. Coffee is served the morning of their choice.

A letter was read from the National Home seeking assistance with a shoe program for children who live at the home. A gift was sent.

A gift also was sent to the disaster fund to be used in event of floods, storms, fires, etc.

It was also noted that the VFW Auxiliary has someone's box of candy for their Valentine sweetheart. Check with some of the members over the weekend.
