Inside Story Of Alcatraz Is Coming!

A FOUR-PART series of articles telling first hand of life in famous Alcatraz prison, will begin Tuesday in The Morning Avalanche.

The series, called "Inside Alcatraz," is written by a South Texan, A. W. "Bigfoot" Davis, of Port Arthur, the first criminal ever paroled from "The Rock", impregnable federal prison for incorrigibles, located on an island off San Francisco.

Here, briefly, is a description of the unvarnished and revealing story of life on "Uncle Sam's Devil's Island":

1—"Bigfoot" enters Alcatraz meets Warden Johnston, hears his own footsteps echo with the forbidding silence of the prison and is assigned to his bare, cheerless cell on "Broadway." He eats his first meal with a silent corps of convicts. Guards warn him: "Eat all your food! Never talk!"

2—"Bigfoot" meets "Machine Gun" Kelly and the "automatic snitch." The sputter and crash of target practice keeps him awake on his steel cot, staring into the darkness. He goes to work and gets a further taste of the rigorous prison discipline; learns guards' guns mean business.

3—Striking up an acquaintance with Al Capone, the Texas country boy learns the hatred of other convicts for the gang czar, tells how another Texan stabbed Capone with stolen scissors. "Bigfoot" hears George Bates, Harvey Bailey, Doc Barker and Alvin Karpis talk of their crimes.

4—There are only two ways to leave Alcatraz. "Bigfoot" finds out: with release papers in your hand—or with a lily. Bullets always beat a convict to the water's edge. How farewells to the paroled prisoner are tempered with jealousy. How it feels to leave Alcatraz' high walls behind.

Remember, "Inside Alcatraz" starts Tuesday, in The Morning Avalanche, and continues daily through Friday!

Irregularities In Voting Told

(By The Associated Press)

STINNNET, June 25.—Four witnesses in the suit seeking ouster of Borger city officials testified today they had received money to pay poll taxes so they might vote in the April 6 Borger election. The mayor and four commissioners are defendants.

Mrs. Alton Achley said she "understood" her husband had obtained poll tax money from "some official" to vote. She said she was with her husband when he was accosted by an officer at the polls and told "you're under arrest."

Were Told Not To Vote

She said they were told by city officials not to vote, which neither she nor her husband did. She said the officials told them they could not vote because they were not residents.

Will Collins, negro, said he received money from Police Judge John Farmer to buy poll tax receipts for himself and his wife. Collins quoted the judge as saying: "If you double-cross me it won't be good for you." Collins said he did not vote because he "didn't think it would be good for his business."

Said Officials Beat Him

After the election, he said, Judge Farmer and City Clerk Claude Alexander beat him.

Harry Oochrane, carbon company worker, said he was given money to

Levelland Child Is Victim Of Lockjaw

Adoice Dean Walker, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walker of Levelland, died at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in a sanitarium here of lockjaw.

The child was admitted for treatment Thursday, the infection having been caused by a splinter in her foot. First symptoms were noticed only a few days prior to her death when talking became difficult for her.

Late last night funeral services had not been announced here. Burial probably will be at Levelland with Davis-Mason Funeral home in charge.

Mediation Fails And Mills Are Again Opened

Guardsmen Stand By As Workers Hurry Back To Work; New Plea Issued To FDR

(By The Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25.—Gates of steel mills in the Mahoning valley swung open to non-strikers tonight and company officials estimated several thousand hurried back to work in a move unmarked by disturbances.

John Owens, C. I. O. Ohio organizer, disputed the statement that many workers returned.

"They (the steel companies) just shifted some men around," he said.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. and Republic Steel Corp. resumed operations in their Youngstown plants.

Guardsmen On Duty

Ohio National guardsmen and city police guarded the entrance and egress of workers at the 7 o'clock change of shifts.

Thus the Great Lakes steel strikes, which have made 100,000 idle in seven states, entered another phase of the dispute between the C. I. O. and four independent companies over refusal of the latter to sign labor contracts.

Mediation Efforts Collapse

The mills were ordered reopened after the collapse of federal mediation efforts in Cleveland.

Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio ordered troops into Youngstown Tuesday morning when Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube had announced they would reopen the plants.

The mediators stood by in Cleveland tonight, but three of the four affected companies — Republic, Inland Steel, and Sheet and Tube — had rejected their final offer for a "man-to man" conference to settle the strike.

Bethlehem Steel, the fourth company, had not replied to the board, but Bethlehem spokesmen at Philadelphia said the concern — second largest producer in the nation—had nothing to add to a joint statement issued yesterday in which the companies reiterated their refusal to sign C. I. O. contracts.

Amid the heightening crisis, C. I. O. leaders in Youngstown appealed to President Roosevelt to intervene.

Third Term For Allred Talked

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 25.—Possibility that Governor James V. Allred might shatter precedent in Texas and stand for a third term aroused considerable speculation here today.

Secretary of State Edward Clark, close friend of the governor, said the latter was being deluged with letters urging him to seek another term and that while Allred had no definite plans as yet for the future he would "be responsive to wishes of the people."

Think He Should Carry On

"Many of the governor's close friends think that he should carry his program to a successful conclusion," Clark said. "If he served another term, he would have opportunity to work a solution to the financial problems of the state."

Recently former Governor James E. Ferguson, in announcing that his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, had no desire again to seek the governorship, commented there was talk that Governor Allred would stand for a third term.

Mr. Ferguson did not say, however, that Mrs. Ferguson would not run again. In effect, he said that

Heat Wave Is Broken By Heavy Rainfall

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP)—Heavy rains and shifting winds broke the season's most intense heat wave in the Middle West today.

Relief came to most of the area from the Rockies to the Great Lakes after 21 deaths had been attributed to the sultry siege.

Showers doused huge sections of the Dakotas, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana, and Ohio.

Cooler conditions ensued in those and Minnesota, Wisconsin and Missouri.

The precipitation ended five days of "plus 100" weather in Nebraska.

Basements were flooded, highways covered and river-side lowlands inundated by the downpour in the vicinity of Marion, Bucyrus, Willard and Sandusky, Ohio.

FDR Says "We're Going Through"

(By The Associated Press)

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 25.—"We're going through."

That was President Roosevelt's reply, a group of house Democrats said tonight, to their suggestion to him today that congress be kept in session until it acts on the Roosevelt court bill and other major proposals.

They made this report upon their return to Annapolis after a day with the president on Jefferson island in Chesapeake bay. More Democratic congressmen will visit Mr. Roosevelt at the fishing club there tomorrow and Sunday.

Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas, leader of the group of house members opposing congressional adjournment until passage of legislation on court reorganization, wages and hours, housing and tenant aid, told reporters his bloc made its attitude known to the chief executive dring the three hours of informal conferences.

He added he specifically mentioned the bill for new Supreme court justices and said the president replied he was going through.

The stocky San Antonio congressman was only one of more than 125 cabinet officers, senators and representatives who rode to and from the club to chat with the president under the shade of a large apple tree.

Just Big "Jollification"

Senate and house leaders reported the get-together was nothing but a big "jollification," with eating, drinking and singing constituting the chief recreation.

Senator Robinson, the Senate floor leader, returnng to attend a dinner at the Belgian embassy tonight, said:

"We had a glorious day. Everybody enjoyed it. The president sat under a big apple tree and received the guests in groups."

Robinson said he had heard no mention of legislation.

Initiated Into "Demagogue Club"

He related that the president, sitting on the lawn in old linen trousers with his shirt collar open, was initiated into the "Demagogue Club" by Rep. Dies of Texas.

This is a cloakroom club of house members who have a sense of humor and a yen for talking.

One of the many questions Dies put to the president was:

"Are you in favor of all appropriation bills and against all tax bills?"

Slayer Tries To Take Own Life At Plainview

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, June 25.—Shortly after Henry Egbert King, 39-year-old transient, was charged with the slaying of Dr. E. F. McClendon in a jail today, he slashed his throat and wrist with a razor blade.

Dr. McClendon, Hale county health officer who had practiced here 27 years, was killed when he went to treat King, whose conduct had been unusual after his arrest on a disturbance charge. Deputy Sheriff Bill Shook was wounded slightly in the left shoulder.

Lost Considerable Blood

King's wounds were reported not serious although he lost considerable blood.

Shook and City Policeman Nath Burkett said Dr. McClendon was called to the jail when King began shouting and praying in his cell as he had when arrested at Petersburg.

As the three men approached him, the officers said, King struck Burkett with a piece of broom handle and seized his pistol, firing three shots.

Doesn't Give Clear Statement

King, who had been working on a grain elevator, was unable to make a clear statement, police said.

He had given Harris county as his home last night but today said he came to this area from Comanche.

King told officers he found the razor blade on the floor of a cell to which he had been transferred after the shooting.

Funeral services will be held here Sunday for Dr. McClendon. The former quarantine officer at Galveston was survived by his widow and one son, Edgar. He also had practiced in San Antonio.

Keenan And Burke Debate Court Bill

CLEVELAND, June 25. (AP)—Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney-general, said tonight that the current capital-labor struggle was the consequence of 40 years of "reactionary" decisions by the United States Supreme court.

He supported President Roosevelt's judiciary proposals in a broadcast (Columbia network) debate with U. S. Senator Edward R. Burke, of Nebraska, Democratic member of the judiciary committee that returned an unfavorable report on the proposals.

Senator Burke countered the assistant attorney-general's views with the statement that Earl Browder, Communist candidate for president last November, was the only person to advise before February 5 "adding enough members" to the court to secure "desired construction."

Keenan said that 40 years ago a 5 to 4 decision against a New York state law providing for a 10-hour day had marked the beginning of "the judicial blockade against progress and liberalism."

Four Are Charged In Violating Anti-Trust Laws In Houston

HOUSTON, June 25. (AP)—Herbert Tigner, former assistant district attorney, and three members of the Houston Retail Beer Dealers association were indicted jointly by the Harris county grand jury today on charges of violating the anti-trust laws.

The indictment contained three counts, one charging that the four men formed an association to restrict the beer trade.

Encampment Is On At College

By EVA ROB WATKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Swimming and games at Mackenzie park, a picnic supper on the lawn east of Texas Technological college gymnasium, stunts, and games in the gym were features of the first day's Lubbock county 4-H club encampment program here Friday.

Two hundred club boys and girls registered yesterday afternoon for the two-day meet. Assistant county agent, Homer E. Thompson, said he expected more to register today. The girls are encamped at the gymnasium and the livestock judging pavilion is headquarters for the boys.

Dr. Knapp To Address Group

An address by Dr. Bradford Knapp in the gymnasium will be a high light of the morning program. J. D. Hassell, jr., of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will welcome club members; Shirley Garrison, club boy, will respond.

After the general meeting, the boys will hear Ray C. Mowrey, Dean A. H. Leidig and Thompson lecture. The girls will go to the engineering auditorium for a program

Waitresses, Cooks Walk Out In Odessa

ODESSA, June 25. (AP) — A two-week unionization drive was climaxed at noon today here when five waitresses and two cooks walked out of two restaurants when patrons were hungriest.

One restaurant has signed a union agreement and other cafe owners were to meet tonight to decide upon their course. Union workers were carrying their membership drive to all food handlers and bartenders. They said a general walkout was in prospect among food handlers if owners do not sign agreements.

Special Session Is Adjourned On Friday

Another Session In September Is Talked; Dog Race Betting And Bookie Bills Signed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 25.—The forty-fifth Texas legislature adjourned its "anti-gambling" special session today soon after proscribing betting on dog racing and bookmaking on any contest."

Early in the session, called by Gov. James V. Allred to outlaw public forms of gambling, the statute which four years ago legalized the certificate system of wagering on horse racing was repealed, climaxing one of the bitterest controversies in Texas legislative history.

"I'LL SEE YOU IN SEPTEMBER"

AUSTIN, June 25. (AP)—Members of the 45th legislature added "I'll see you in September" to their farewells today.

Governor James V. Allred had indicated strongly he would call a special session in the early fall to raise revenue for old age pensions, teachers' retirement and general governmental purposes.

Part of the membership believed there probably would be two special sessions this fall. Appropriations for aid to the adult needy blind and dependent children and legislation dealing with pay of local officers would be needed in event of adoption of constitutional amendments submitted August 23. Some thought Allred again might urge state regulation of public utilities.

Another Session Talked

Even as sine die adjournment was declared, however, and members began scattering for home, there was talk of another session, and possibly several, starting in September, to consider improving the condition of the state's finances. The general revenue fund has a heavy deficit and appropriations this year were greatly increased.

Governor Allred signed the dog race betting and "bookie" bills immediately after passage making them effective at once. The horse race betting law will be effective September 24, or 90 days after today, because it did not receive a two-thirds majority in the senate.

Penalty Fine And Jail Term

The penalty for betting on dog or horse racing was set at $200 to $500 fine and 30 to 90 days imprisonment in jail while that for operating a dog race for betting purposes was fixed at two to four years in the penitentiary.

Bookmaking was made subject to

Cult Members Give Testimony

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Howard B. "John the Baptist" Smith, 66, testified in federal court today that John Wuest Hunt and Delight Jewett, 17, Denver school girl, admitted to him they had been intimate at Palm Springs.

Hunt, Smith and two women followers of Father Divine are being tried on charges of transporting Miss Jewett from Denver to Beverly Hills for immoral purposes.

Makes Room For Her

Smith also told how he obligingly had moved out of Hunt's rooms in the palatial Beverly Hills home to make room in the cult leader's bed chamber for Delight. It was there, Miss Jewett had previously testified, that Hunt first became intimate with her in furtherance of his plan that she, as "Virgin Mary," should become the mother of a "new redeemer."

"I never saw a motion that was anything but gentlemanly," Smith declared, however.

Had Spent $35,000

The silver-haired witness estimated he had spent $35,000 of Hunt's money, a large part of which went as part payment on the $40,000 "rolling throne" which Hunt was having built in Pasadena.

A near-riot threatened as today's hearing opened and scores of spectators surged into the courtroom.

New Mexico's Pima Indians Threaten Sit-Down Strike

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 25—The Indian service said today a threatened "water payment sit-down strike" of the Pima Indians in New Mexico has been called off by tribal vote.

A. L. Wathen, of the irrigation division of the service, said the Pimas have agreed to allow use of tribal funds to make an annual payment for maintenance of an irrigation system on their reservation.

"Last March they voted for the payment, but rescinded the action by a referendum vote in May," Wathen explained. "They felt their water rights had been violated for 40 years and that they should now receive free water for a 40-year period. They threatened a sit-down strike on water payments for that length of time."

Recently, however, Wathen said, the Pimas changed their mind again and notified the Indian officials they had voted to allow withdrawal of their funds.

Mary Pickford Weds Her Third Mate Today

"America's Sweetheart" ... and Buddy Rogers', too.

Owen—No. 1 | Buddy—No. 3 | Doug—No. 2

One of filmdom's most engaging romances comes to its climax at the altar today as Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" of a decade and more ago, weds Charles (Buddy) Rogers, actor and orchestra director in Hollywood. The marriage is Miss Pickford's third, her first, with Owen Moore, having terminated by divorce in 1920, and her second, with Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., coming to a similar end in 1935.

Mary Changes Her Mind On Entire Costume For Her Wedding To Buddy Today

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 25.—Exercising a woman's privilege, Mary Pickford changed her mind tonight about her entire costume for her wedding tomorrow.

At long last, she will marry Charles "Buddy" Rogers in a small, private ceremony in an informal garden.

She chose her gown several days ago, and tried it on, with full accessories today. Friends said she looked "very Mary Pickfordish." Then she discarded the whole costume.

Will Wear "Sky Blue"

Now, instead of "ice blue" crepe, she will wear ciel bleu (sky blue) crepe. Her hat will be modern empire felt, rather than the halo type. Instead of blue to match her dress, her gloves will be "lie de vin" (dregs of wine) to match her hat. The dress, hat and jacket carry out the empire motif.

She gave no reason for the change.

Her wedding to "Buddy" Rogers, handsome, 34-year-old Olathe, Kansas, boy, climaxes a romance they assiduously denied for two years. Miss Pickford is 43. This will be her third marriage. It is Rogers' first.

Three Abilene Youths On Trip Down Colorado River To Golf

BALLINGER, June 25. (AP)—Harry Caldwell, Wenfield Jones and Jimmy Pickard, Abilene youths, have left here on a 800-mile river voyage down the Colorado river to the Gulf of Mexico. They expect to complete the trip in from four to six weeks.

The trio is carrying provisions and bedding for camping at night and a waterproof container for their valuables. They are traveling in a three-seated 16-foot canoe.

Body Of Man Sawed Almost In Two In Mishap At Gilmer

GILMER, June 25. (AP)—The body of Ples B. Bain, 38, was sawed almost in two today when the blade and shaft of a circular saw used in cutting firewood tore from the frame, striking Bain in the chest.

He is survived by his widow and a brother. The accident occurred at the home of his father, Joel M. Bain, seven miles east of Gilmer.

Lufkin Peace Officers Appeal For Dogs And Men In Search

HUNTSVILLE, June 25. (AP)—Peace officers at Lufkin late today appealed to state penitentiary officials for dogs and men to help them run down two more of the Eastham farm breakers sighted near there.

Less than half the 19 convicts who fled the Eastham prison farm Tuesday were still at large. An army of possemen was closing in rapidly, it appeared, on the nine remaining at large.

Lubbock Persons To Be Charged By U. S. Agents

Activities Ranged From Mexico City To Hereford; $20 Notes Had Been Passed In Territory

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

A COUNTERFEITING ring of international scope and which assertedly involved persons from Hereford and Lubbock to Mexico City, D. F., had been smashed late Friday and charges will be filed "in a day or two" against at least five persons, announced a secret service operatives at El Paso over long-distance telephone to The Morning Avalanche.

Three Lubbock persons, a Hereford man and five Mexicans have been arrested, and a fourth Lubbock man was "expected to be picked up tonight or Saturday," said the federal operative, Tom H. Hanson of Dallas, and the Lubbock sheriff's department.

Woman "Likely To Be Charged"

In addition, a Lubbock woman "is likely to be charged," said Hanson and Lubbock authorities.

Hanson, who has been at work with Forrest V. Sorrels, acting supervision agent of the secret service, of New Orleans; Joseph Brownlow, in charge of the El Paso secret service office, and Emmett B. Hargett and Fred A. Irwin, both El Paso secret service agents, as well as Bedford F. Carpenter, chief deputy sheriff of Lubbock, and other authorities, said confessions had been made by the four Texas men, as well as the woman.

Quantity Of Bills Seized

Striking Tuesday with well-organized advantage at Juarez and Mexico City, agents made significant arrests and confiscations at both places, said Hanson. At Juarez, acting on information the secret service had elicited from the arrested Texans and cooperating with the brigadier general of Juarez, they arrested Memesio Gondara, Carlos Ruiz Esteriza and Manual Gariza, and seized a quantity of federal reserve notes of $20 denomination.

At Mexico City, the same day, they arrested Emelanio Alfonso Perez and Enrique San Pietro, a printing press, a quantity of federal reserve notes, dies, plates, negatives,

Eden Outlines British Policy

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 25. — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden concluded a house of commons debate on the Spanish crisis today with a warning that Britain intends to exert every effort to keep the peace in Europe.

Addressing himself to Wartime Premier Lloyd George, the foreign secretary avowed that "if the right honorable gentleman puts it 'peace at almost any price' I will scarcely quarrel with him."

For the present, Eden and Prime minister Neville Chamberlain told the house, British policy countinues to seek to prevent a general European conflagration by confining the war to Spain.

To Close Up Gap

After conclusion of the "full dress" debate it was authoritatively disclosed Great Britain and France have decided to propose use of their own warships to close the gap in the "Hands Off Spain" patrol

Winning Bedroom Improvement Demonstrators Of County Are Named

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

TAKING advantage of the sunshiney days which have followed the recent rains, many farmers on the Plains have enlisted the services of everyone in the household to help plow and plant the fields. How odd it seems for our women to be in the fields and yet how different they look to pictures of those seen in the Old Country.

Texas women wear overalls, perhaps with smocks, perhaps not; some wear hats and many wear sunbonnets and while they work hard they do not have that beaten, futile look that the unfortunate workers in Europe possess. Their service is of being a helpmeet, not a slave.

THE LITTLE THINGS

NANCY BYRD TURNER, who writes clever verses on small animals and children and all the little things of life, has the charm of making the commonplace seem delightful. Her philosophy of life is that of a person who has come to see that we must be content with everyday tasks and that every labor has dignity.

SERMONETTE

Sometimes when things turn upside down
And inside out and look dark brown
I rush outdoors and gaze into
The topless sky's eternal blue
So calm and cool so still and deep
With [illegible] contented clouds like sheep
I shade my eyes and stare and stare
Then go back in the house and there
Begin to wonder and to doubt
What I was in a stew about.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

SINCE 1912 up to and including 1936 the total fatalities due to automobiles is 415,977. This exceeds by a wide margin the number of American soldiers killed in action or died of wounds in all wars in which our country has ever participated.

During last year there were 864,800 accidents in which there were collisions of pedestrians, automobiles, horse-drawn vehicles, trains, street cars, bicycles and the like. A total of 36,800 persons died and 967,840 persons were injured.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

TEST your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Where should the spoon be left when one has finished eating a dessert served in a sherbet glass—on a small plate?
2. Is the silver for serving placed beside the dishes or in them?
3. Should the water glass be filled to the brim?
4. In placing chairs at a table should the seats be pushed under the table?
5. What is a "cover"?

What would you do if—

A close friend of yours has a house guest—

(a) Plan to entertain her in some way?
(b) Call on her?
(c) Ignore her visit?

ANSWERS

1. On the plate.
2. Beside them.
3. No, about three-quarters full.
4. No, the front edge of the chair seat should be on a line with the edge of the table.
5. The linen, china, glassware and silver placed on the table for each person when table is set.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a). A friend's hospitality means a great deal at such a time.

Miss Slone Is To Get Trip

Marguerite Slone of the Canyon community has been selected first place bedroom improvement demonstrator of Lubbock county girls' 4-H clubs. Her reward will be a trip to annual summer short course at Texas A. and M. college in August. Second and third place winners, respectively, were Bobbie Lee Williams of County Line club and Thelma Burleson of Woodrow club.

The winners were selected last week by Mrs. Dan A. Blair and Mrs. Noel Stalnaker who made the visits in company with the assistant home demonstration agent, Miss Gladys Sanders. Miss Sanders made at least six home visits during the past year to the 14 girls entered in the contest and helped plan their improvements according to extension service recommendations.

Other contestants were Mary Sue Campbell, Hurlwood; Margaret Nell Merrill, Carlisle; Mattie Grace Oden, Wolfforth; Bettye B. Burnett, Becton; Nadene Gregory, Idalou; DeLaVern Shipp, Liberty; Jimmie Lou Range, Acuff; Geneva Baldwin, McClung; Alma Verett, Shallowater; Lillian Cox, Monroe; Lilly Gentry, Posey, and Opal Benton, Estacado.

The three winning girls will tell the story of their rooms at an annual 4-H club encampment today at Texas Technological college. They will be introduced by Miss Sanders.

Medical Event Closes Friday

A two-day session of lectures on pediatrics and obstetrics closed yesterday with an afternoon meeting at the First Methodist church here. It was the third and last of a series of post graduate courses on these subjects for doctors of the Panhandle and South Plains.

Previous courses, intended to become an annual event, were held at Memphis and Amarillo.

Principal speakers for the session were Dr. J. N. Burditt of Abilene and Dr. R. L. Nelson of Wichita Falls. Both spoke at a meeting for the public Thursday night. Dr. A. M. Shields, member of the state department of health, also appeared on Thursday night's program.

Last To Be Held In District

The Lubbock session, the last of the three held in the third medical district of the state, was sponsored by the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society. The courses are sponsored by the State Department of Health, division of maternal and child health, and the State Medical association.

Dr. H. E. Mast is the Lubbock county committeeman and Dr. M. M. Ewing, vice president of the Lubbock-Crosby county society, assisted in perfecting plans for the school.

Exhibit Was Shown

In connection with the lectures an exhibit was on display showing charts, improvised baby equipment, posters on prenatal care, mothers' clothes, layette, and a miniature bedroom and kitchen setup completely equipped for delivery and care of the baby. Miss Ruth Moore, public health nurse, who was in charge of the exhibit, explained the materials and their uses to visitors. Pamphlets also were distributed.

Others who assisted in promoting the course were Dr. M. H. Benson, president of the county society, and Dr. Allen T. Stewart of Lubbock and Dr. J. R. Lemmon of Amarillo, members of the central committee.

Rockwall Farmer Is Charged In Shooting Of Dallas Salesman

DALLAS, June 25. (AP)—A. Morrow, 49, farmer of Rockwall, was charged with murder today following the fatal shooting of C. R. Wilson, 50, Dallas implement salesman, here yesterday. Wilson, with four bullet wounds from a 32-caliber pistol, died in a hospital here early today.

Justice of the Peace John Baldwin, before whom the murder complaint was filed, set the examining trial for Tuesday. District Attorney Andrew Patton ordered the accused man held without bond. Sam Barnes, special investigator for Patton, signed the complaint.

Morrow surrendered to Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker a few minutes after the shooting, which took place in the showrooms of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company. He made a written statement that a business transaction led to the shooting.

MASONIC HALL DESTROYED

BIG SPRING, June 25. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Masonic hall at Garden City, [illegible] miles south of here, today, resulting in a loss estimated at $3,000. Approximately half was covered by insurance.

All Masonic and Eastern Star records perished in the flames. The building, a two-story affair, was erected in 1908.

Fire departments from Big Spring and Sterling City assisted Garden City firemen in preventing spread of the blaze which for a time threatened the Baptist church and two other buildings.

LONGVIEW MAN IS SHOT

LONGVIEW, June 25. (AP)—Fred Leone, about 20, is in serious condition from bullet wounds and L. G. Medley is charged with assault to murder following a dance-hall shooting early today.

Dislike For Name Of Agency Expressed

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, Texas, expressed today his dislike of the name Arkansas valley for the proposed regional planning agency which would include Texas.

Mansfield said he "will change the name in committee if I don't get through a single other amendment." He suggested the name Trans-Mississippi-Gulf Planning agency.

"Who would guess," he asked, "the name Arkansas would include all the important rivers originating in Texas that empty into the Gulf, and the Rio Grande river too?"

Mansfield is chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee, to which the bill to establish the seven agencies over the country has been referred.

Mansfield said all departmental reports on the bill should be back to the committee within a week or two and hearings on the bill would begin then.

Asphalt Topping Is Placed On Streets

Work of topping more than 13 blocks of residence streets with asphalt will be completed Tuesday unless the unexpected intervenes, Lubbock district officials of the WPA reported Friday.

Streets upon which work is being done are from Avenue Q to College avenue on Fifteenth, and from Broadway to Sixteenth street on Avenue X.

The surfacing involves, officials explained, the pouring of penetrating asphalt which hardens into a surfacing about one and one-fourth inches in thickness.

Other Projects Progress

Announcement also was made today of the completing of drainage, grading and graveling of 65 blocks of streets in Anson, Jones county, which recently was added to Lubbock WPA district. Men who have been working on that project for the last four months will be transferred to building a road from Anson to the Taylor county line toward the recently completed Abilene municipal lake.

District officials said that practically every project in the district is proceeding under a serious seasonal labor handicap due to the demand for men in harvest fields. In some cases, men for WPA work cannot be secured at all.

Officials added, however, that due to the harvest emergency, they are entirely willing to grant farmers all labor preference.

Special Officer Is Charged In Shooting Of Man At Roadhouse

BIG SPRING, June 25. (AP)—Doc Tyler, special officer, was charged with assault to murder here after J. B. Parker, who gave his home as Odessa, was sent to a hospital with a 45 pistol shot in his thigh following an altercation at a roadhouse east of here early today.

Justice of Peace Joe A. Faucett set bond at $1,000. After Tyler waived preliminary hearing, Misdemeanor counts were filed in justice court against Parker and two other men charging drunkeness and simple assault upon Tyler.

Tyler said that he was attempting to arrest Hopper when he was struck from behind. In a scuffle that followed, he said, he was knocked down twice and fired.

Parker's condition was not regarded as serious.

Escaped Texas Convict Given Prison Term In Arkansas

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 25. (AP)—J. D. Hope, alias Leon Johnson, 36, one of 10 convicts who escaped from Retrieve prison farm in Texas May 23, was convicted on two burglary counts by juries in Miller county circuit court here today and punishment fixed at 43 years in state prison.

New Stewart, prosecuting attorney, said Hope would not be turned over to Texas prison officials, but would be sent directly to Arkansas state prison. He was convicted of robbing a grocery and a liquor store.

BALANCE

One requisite of good health is balance, balance of the functions of internal organs. When all these synchronize a healthy body and a poised mind are developed.

Sinus infection, acutely painful, disturbs this balance. A dubious "cure" could increase it and drive it deeper. But medical or surgical measures, undertaken by your physician, can clear it and restore your health to harmony and equilibrium.

Order Limiting PWA Grants To Projects Using Relief Labor Alone Is Revoked

Old 45-55 Basis To Be Returned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Public Works administration announced today revocation of an administrative order which for several months had limited PWA grants almost entirely to the money paid relief labor on projects.

With the revocation, issued by Assistant Administrator Horatio B. Hackett, PWA loans and grants will revert to the 45-55 per cent basis, permitting grants of 45 per cent of the cost of a project and loans to cover the remainder.

Under the revoked order the amount of a grant was equal to the amount of wages paid to workers on the project certified for relief, plus 15 per cent of such amount so paid by the PWA. In no instance could a grant be in excess of 45 per cent of the cost of the project but, because of a reported shortage of skilled labor on relief, sponsors claimed their actual grant would never approach the 45 per cent figure.

Band Of Organizers To Try To Sign Up Men At Dallas

DALLAS, June 25. (AP)—W. J. Houston, attorney for two CIO organizers surveying the situation at the Ford Motor company assembly plant here, said today a band of organizers was expected here soon to begin an intensive drive for enlistment of Ford employes.

He said more than the required minimum of 50 workers in the plant have signed a petition for a United Automobile Workers association charter.

The two men were attacked Wednesday; the Times-Herald reported, by several Ford workers in a pharmacy near the plant.

Veteran Oklahoma Newspaper Editor Dies At Enid Friday

ENID, Okla., June 25. (AP)—J. B. (Buck) Campbell, 82, veteran Oklahoma newspaper editor, died at his home here today.

Campbell was editor and publisher of the Hennessey Clipper and later of the Waukomis Hornet, now owned and operated by his son, Bert Campbell.

He is survived by four other children, Ralph Campbell of Minneapolis, Frank Campbell of El Paso, Tex., Mrs. Bernice Hughes of Henryetta, Okla., and Mrs. Flossie Wilson of Waukomis.

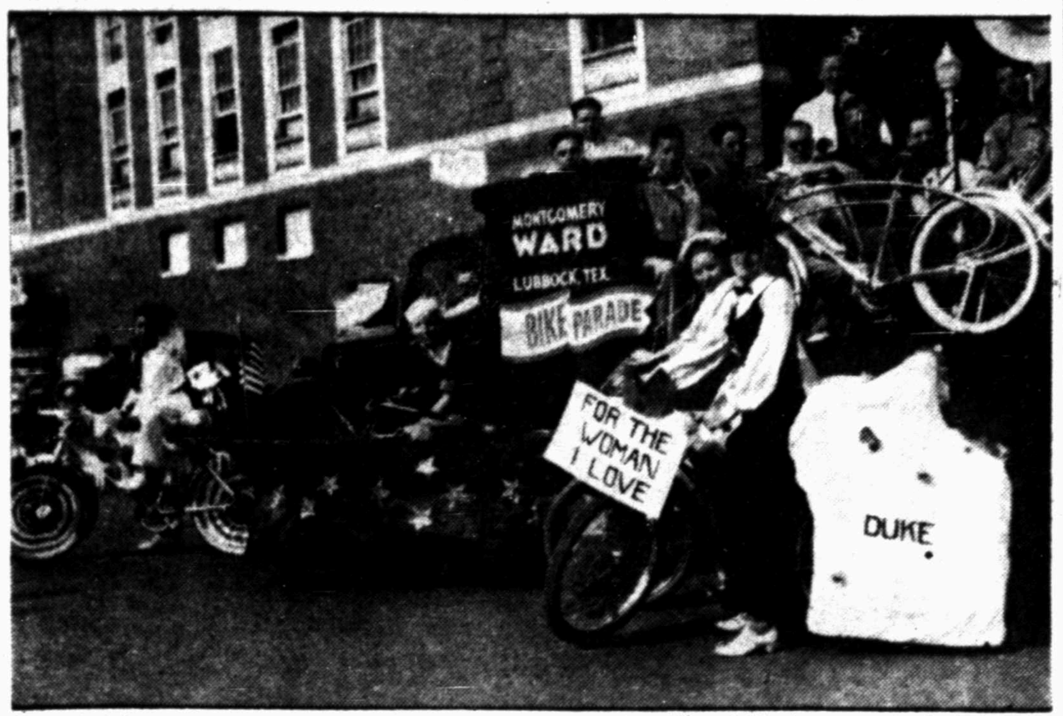
NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—Sounding a warning note with respect to overproduction, "The Lamp," official Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey publication, indicated that gasoline consumption this year will show a gain of about 10 per cent over last year while crude oil and product consumption will be up 9 per cent.

California values its system of 70 state parks at $14,744,008.

Three Winners Of Montgomery Ward's Bicycle Parade Here Friday



First place honors in Montgomery Ward and company's bicycle parade Friday afternoon went to George Robert Campbell, 10, whose bike was bedecked with white and purple crepe paper, and adjudged the most attractive.

Nine-year old Billy Weldon Felty, who attached an improvised ship to his bicycle in portraying the comic-strip character, "Popeye," won second place. With insignias of Great Britain and the United States woven between the spokes of their bikes that were parallel in the parade, Stella Jo Levy and Oleta Zeh, dressed to represent the recently-wedded Duke and Duchess of Windsor, won third place in the contest which had 125 entries.

Prizes of $10, $5, and $2.50 will be given the winners in sports goods merchandise at Montgomery Ward's store, announced Arthur Earl Gamble, employe of the local store and director of the contest. Judges were R. H. Hester, Floyd Jackson, and Morris Burchfield.

Discovery That Viruses Which Are Cause Of Diseases Can Be Made To 'Fall Apart' Is Announced By Rockefeller Institute

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

DENVER, June 25.—Discovery at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research that viruses which cause diseases can be made to "fall part" and become harmless was reported here.

The discovery was made with the new whirligig of science, the ultracentrifuge, which extracts into plain view disease viruses which science has heretofore been unable to see even with microscopes.

Discloses New Principal

It discloses a new principal of the nature of disease. It was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. W. G. Wyckoff, of the institute's Princeton laboratories.

The whirligig is a steel top, two or three inches in diameter, that spins on a cushion of compressed air, subjects anything placed inside the top to a force several thousand times the pull of gravity. Since the pull is greatger for heavier particles and less for the lighter ones, the heavier ones are thrown out farther and each kind may be seen separately.

Light Illuminates "Samples"

A light that flashes each time the top revolves—50,000 times a minute if the ultracentrifuge is running at that speed—illuminates "samples" in the top and makes it appear to be standing still. Thus scientists can examine the separated particles while the top is in motion.

Viruses from the whiligig include those that cause encephaloymelitis, a brain inflamation, the papilloma virus that causes warts and cancer in rabbits and those that induce potato and tobacco mosaic, both plant diseases.

All these viruses are proteins, substitutes rich in nitrogen. All are gigantic molecules, thousands of times bigger than average.

When these viruses lose their power for harm, they break up into smaller particles as a rule. Sometimes they only slightly alter their shapes. All these changes can be seen in the ultracentrifuge.

Falls Into Two Pieces

The rabbit cancer virus breaks up when the acidity in which it "lives" is slightly changed. It falls into two large pieces, or maybe one little and one big piece. Either way it is harmless.

Encephalomyelitis virus, Dr. Wyckoff said, breaks up differently—into many small fragments. They are so small that the whirligig cannot separate them completely from the tissues.

Tobacco mosaic virus also breaks up and when it does it loses its ability to cause the tobacco disease.

The changes in shape that sometimes accompany losses of virulence, Dr. Wykoff said, appear to be "colloidal." The virus particles seem to soften up slightly.

The most important and promising part of the discovery is that these viruses in the whiligig all behave as if they were pure compounds. Explaining this Dr. Wyckoff said.

"A new field of research into the mechanism and control of disease is opened up by the possibility of treating its cause as a pure compound.

"It is not unreasonable to hope that experiments of this type will some day indicate a new way in which the body can protect itself against disease."

School Voting Set For Today

An election called on petition by the residents of Acuff, Canyon, and McClung communities will be held today to vote on a proposal to consolidate all grade school work in the Roosevelt district and on a plan to tear down the grade school structures in the Roosevelt Rural High school district at the three points.

The Roosevelt Rural High school is housed in a new structure.

Another election will be held today in the Grovesville, Caldwell and Center communities to determine if grade school students of the New Deal Consolidated School district will be transferred to Monroe for a period of one year, Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county school superintendent, said.

Court Wipes Docket Clean Until Fall

AUSTIN, June 25. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals wiped its docket clean today and ended the current term, placing 58 cases filed too late for submission on the docket of the new term beginning in October.

Final action of the tribunal included affirmance of six-year term given Covy Steptoe of San Augustine county for attempted criminal assault.

The court overruled motions for rehearings for B. B. Taylor of Collin county, 20 years for the murder of J. M. Craken; Mabel Mallory of Wilbarger county, 10 years for the fatal shooting of Lynn Mallory, and Albert Tebo of Jefferson county, 30 years for slaying Eddie Francis.

During the term just ended the court, last resort in criminal appeals, delivered 667 origional opinions and handed down 205 written opinions on motions for rehearing.

Drug Firm To Open Here In Two Weeks

Behrens Drug company of Waco will open its Lubbock unit at 604 Broadway in about two weeks, according to J. V. Powers, manager, who took charge of preparations for the event here Friday.

There will be six salesmen in the territory of the local unit, which includes the Panhandle-Plains territory, from Sweetwater north, and the eastern tiers of counties of New Mexico including the Pecos valley. Four have been announced: Marshall Lewis, Sim Coker, Kenneth Camp and Fritz Weise. Two others are yet to be announced.

Employed in the house will be at least 10 men. The location has slightly over 10,000 square feet of space.

"We think the Lubbock house will be able to give overnight delivery service to practically every town in this territory," said Manager Powers. "Train, truck, bus and mail connections here are very splendid for our lines."

The local unit will do its own buying, independent of the other Texas unit, at Waco. Mr. Powers and family are located at 2310 Seventeenth street.

Metal boring beetles easily bore holes through lead and can penetrate many harder alloys.

TO ESTABLISH OFFICES

EASTLAND, June 25. (AP)—Maj. K. E. Wallace, assistant district director of the WPA, said today that area offices for district No. 7 would be established here and at Wichita Falls. There are 21 counties in the district, with headquarters at Fort Worth.

PRICES TO BE HIGHER

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—The Agriculture department told housewives today that prices of apples, peaches and pears should be lower this year, but oranges, grapefruit and lemons may be relatively high this summer and fall.

TOOK VAN-TAGE AND FEELS LIKE A "NEW PERSON"

Had Gassy Stomach; System Badly Rundown; Another Western Lady Tells How Van-Tage Relieved Years of Misery; She Says It Is Wonderful!

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are now coming forward daily with Remarkable Statements, praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE which is the Amazing New Medicine, now being introduced to the local public at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway.

MRS. CARRIE C. HAYWOOD

For Instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Carrie C. Haywood, of 501 Empire Bldg., Denver, Colo., made the following statement describing the Great Relief she got from Van-Tage and recommending it to ALL WHO SUFFER.

Tired, Rundown Due to Years of Suffering

"It seemed like my whole system had gotten into an awful rundown condition caused by gassy, upset stomach. My food just REFUSED to digest properly. I felt tired out and didn't seem to have enough energy to keep going. I hadn't been able to get relief no matter what I did. Then I heard about Van-Tage and started taking it, and it has made such a change in my stomach and system that I'm like a NEW PERSON! Now I can eat my meals with real enjoyment, and I don't have that awful tight feeling in my stomach like I did, because Van-Tage has cleared away the gas that caused this suffering. My strength and energy are increased. I am happy to pass on the good word about Van-Tage, and I hope my statement will help others who are in misery like I was."

Acts On Bowels, Stomach, and Kidneys

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 Ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Another thing — due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, don't hesitate. Get it — TODAY at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway.—Adv.

Cards Gain Over Giants In Second Place Battle; Yankees Increase Margin

Warneke Is Hot As Cardinals Make Threat

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, June 25—The Cardinals walloped the New York Giants 9 to 4 in the opener of their series for second place in the National League today.

The win, gained through a 14-hit attack and effective pitching by Lon Warneke, left the Cards only a game out of first place and two full games in front of the slipping Giants, and marked the 17th victory for the Gas House gang in its last 20 starts.

Ducky Medwick with his 16th homer and a double, and Rookie Don Padgett with a homer and single led the Card attack, but every man in the lineup, including Warneke with a double and single, hit safely.

Clyde Castleman, who has been the Giants' most dependable flinger in recent weeks, was belted out in less than three innings, and Al Smith had little better luck.

Warneke, winning his ninth game of the season and his third over the Giants, was virtually "untouchable" with men on the bases.

Tigers Humbled 8-1 By Yanks; Ruffing Wins

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Yankees took a four-game lead on the American League pack today by walloping the Detroit Tigers 8 to 1 behind the six-hit pitching of Charley Ruffing in the opening game of their important series.

They sewed up the game in the first inning, when Bill Dickey's sixth homer in five days drove in three runs off Tommy Bridges. The only Tiger run off Ruffing was produced by Charley Gehringer's homer with the bases empty in the fourth. The win was Ruffing's seventh against two setbacks.

The defeat ended Bridges' four game winning streak. He was relieved by George Gill at the start of the sixth after the Yanks had counted six runs on nine hits off him.

State Softball Tourney To Be Staged At Overton

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP)—Jack Rafferty, Texas commissioner of the Amateur Softball Association of America, said today the state softball tournament had been awarded to Overton and would be held between September 1 and 8.

Rafferty, vice president of the A.A.U., with which the softball association is affiliated, said Overton was selected after the First National bank there posted $750 cash to send the winning team to the national meet at Chicago between September 10 and 13.

Rafferty said arrangements were under way for district tournaments which would draw around 500 teams.

American Tennis Group Intact In England

By GAYLE TALBOT

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 25. (AP)—Although Bryan (Bitsy) Grant "fought, bled" and almost died before he saved his tennis scalp on Wimbledon's classic turf today, the ranks of America's Davis cup forces remained unbroken through another day's session of the all England championships.

Grant, hobbling about on an injured ankle that added to the troubles besetting the Georgia gamecock since he arrived here, scored a remarkable five-set victory over New Zealand's Alan Stedman after losing the first two sets.

Plays Double Today

The scores were 4-6, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3, as the intrepid little southerner joined Don Budge and Frankie Parker in reaching the quarter-finals of the men's singles.

"Sure, I'm going to keep playing," he responded to a question. "Wayne Sabin and I have to play Menzel and Hecht (the Czechs) on that center court tomorrow."

Fortunately for Grant he isn't booked to meet England's Henry (Bunny) Austin in his next singles match until Monday. The Georgian's ankle, which he strained for the second time this week, at the outset of his match with Stedman, was heavily taped tonight.

Budge meantime kept intact his record of not having dropped a set thus far in his campaign abroad but the American ace had to pull out all the stops before he subdued Ladislow Hecht, the Czechoslovakian Davis cup player, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-2.

Mako Meets German Ace

Parker scored a straight-set victory over Daniel Prenn, "the man without a country," 6-4, 7-5, 6-2. His next opponent, Monday, will be the winner of tomorrow's encounter between Heinrich Henkel, solemn young German Davis cupper, and Charles E. Hare, who is slated to play the No. 2 singles role for England in the Davis cup challenge round. Henkel figures to win.

Budge's next opponent will be Vivian McGrath, Australian champion who seems to have recovered from the illness which handicapped him this spring. Mako is likely to pass out of the singles tomorrow at the hands of Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany's ace and the tournament's No. 2 "seeded" entry.

Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York and Stamford, Conn., advanced to the fourth round of the women's singles by downing Miss P. S. Ford, England, 6-4, 6-1. The American girl paired with the veteran Frenchman, Jacques Brugnon, to beat Miss C. M. Burrows and J. B. Harrison, England, in the mixed doubles, 6-2, and 6-3.

Katherine Winthrop, Boston girl, was eliminated in the third round by England's talented Kay Stammers, 6-3, 6-3.

The next appearance of Helen Jacobs, former American champion who is "seeded" No. 1 in the women's singles, is not scheduled until next week. Miss Jacobs won the Wimbledon crown last year.

Favorites Advance In Big Spring Women's Tourney

BIG SPRING, June 25. (AP)—Favorites ran true to form today in quarter-final matches of the second annual Big Spring women's invitation golf tournament.

Mrs. Theron Hicks of Big Spring, the defending champion, defeated Mrs. Harry Stalcup, also of Big Spring, one up after holding a two up lead at the nine-hole turn.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips, another local favorite, had Mrs. Obie Bristow three down at the turn and won the match two and one.

Mrs. Jess Rogers, Amarillo veteran, beat Mrs. O'Neill of Odessa one up on the 19th hole.

Two local golfers clash in a semi-final match, Mrs. Hicks meeting Mrs. Phillips. Mrs. Rogers opposes Miss Elinor Jones, New Mexico state champion, in the other semi-final match.

There are 1439 miles of railways in the state of Maryland.

Carrying American Torch Overseas

ED DUDLEY

RALPH GULDAHL

SOUTHPORT, Eng., June 25 (AP)—Ralph Guldahl, American open golf champion, and big Ed Dudley took advantage of the record four-day drought by firing a pair of subpar 67's over the Southport and Ainsworth course today in practive for the Ryder cup team matches between United States and British professional teams.

Guldahl came home in 31. Dudley, shaking off a spell of wild hooking, carded 32-35 for the nines. The scores were eight under listed par for the course and only one stroke short of the professional record.

Big Ten Clashes With Westerns In Track Meet

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (AP)—Los Angeles hopes to bring its 1937 college track season to a brilliant climax tomorrow when picked teams of the Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences stage their initial dual battle in Memorial Coliseum.

Always crowd-conscious, officials were wary of predicting tomorrow's turnout but were more than anxious to put over what is planned as an annual post-season meet between the two conferences.

Al Fitch, former Trojan star, was selected today to run an exhibition race against John Woodruff of Pittsburgh, Olympic 800 meter champion. Woodruff will attempt to better the existing 880-yard record.

The official 880 race furnishes another duel between Ross Bush of U. S. C., coast conference record holder at 1:52.3, and Chuck Betham of Ohio State, Big Ten record holder at 1:52.2. Bush edged out Betham in the recent N. C. A. A. as Woodruff won.

Heinie Manush May Be First "2-Leaguer" In Star Game

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Old Heinie Manush, unwanted by American League clubs last fall and now a star with Brooklyn of the National League, may become the first player ever to represent both leagues in baseball's all-star games.

Manager Bill Terry will have to give Manush serious consideration for one of the National League outfield jobs for the all-star game here July 7.

Heinie was picked for the American League team in 1934 as a member of the Washington Senators.

HARVARD BEATS YALE

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25 (AP)—Harvard's crack varsity crew, stroked by Jim (Spike) Chace, defeated Yale by one length tonight in the climax four-mile event of the 7th annual regatta between the two schools.

Veterans said probably more than 50,000 fans were on hand.

City Open Tennis Joust Drawings Slated Tonight

Drawings for the 15th annual Lubbock city championship tennis tournament are to be conducted this evening at 7 o'clock at the Varsity Book store on College avenue, officials have announced.

All local netters and those of Texas Tech desiring to compete, are urged to be at the store at the appointed time.

Play begins tomorrow at the Varsity courts on the Tech campus, and matches will continue through the week, with finals a week from tomorrow. By stretching the tournament out, officials believe that a larger number of working persons will be privileged to play.

Jim Thorup Ruled Eligible At SMU But May Not Play

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—Matty Bell, head football coach at Southern Methodist university, announced there no longer was any doubt in regard to the eligibility of Jim Thorup, reserve tackle on last year's Mustang team.

Frank Powers, whose contract as coach at Salinas Junior college was not renewed for next fall, charged recently that transcripts of several of his former athletes at the California school had been altered before the players transferred to universities. Among these, he said, was Thorup's transcript.

Bell said he had received a copy of a California certified public accountant's check-up of Thorup's transferred credits, showing that the player's transcript was accurate.

Thorup, however, may not play with the Mustangs next fall. Bell said Thorup's physician had warned the gridder to give up his athletic career because of a severe attack of meningitis that confined the Soledad, Calif., youngster in a local hospital several weeks last winter.

Don Schumacher Progresses In Trans-Miss

DENVER, June 25. (AP)—Fighting miserable playing conditions in the afternoon round, two veterans and two youngsters shot their way into the semi-finals of the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament today.

Johnny Dawson, defending champion from Chicago, slapped a 6-and-4 defeat on young Arthur L. Doering, Stanford university student from Chicago.

The other veteran scoring a triumph today was Eddie Held, 34-year-old St. Louis shotsmith, who vanquished Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., Walker Cup player and champion in 1932 and 1933. The score was 4 and 3.

Representing the "younger set" in the list of victors were Ed C. Kingsley, 22, a Salt Lake City copper company worker, and Don Schumacher, rugged, 21-year-old former Southern Methodist student from Dallas.

Kingsley crushed Frank J. English, gray-haired Denver veteran, 7 and 6.

Schumacher, an oil company employee, posted the first definite upset since the first round by beating Reynolds Smith of Dallas, tournament medalist and Texas amateur champion, 3 and 1.

Held will clash with Dawson whom he defeated for the title 11 years ago. Schumacher will tangle with Kingsley in a duel of youthful sharpshooters.

Heavy cold rain sweeping across the Cherry Hills course interrupted the afternoon round.

The eight contestants continued play in the face of miserable conditions until water flowing across the greens made good putting impossible.

They then sprinted for the clubhouse.

Mattern To Fly For Home State

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Before taking off today for Dallas, Tex., Jimmie Mattern, aviator who plans a flight from Oakland, Calif., to Moscow, Russia, in August, disclosed that he will undertake the trip as official air ambassador of the Lone Star State.

Mattern, who is scheduled to fly to Dallas by commercial transport, said he will confer tomorrow with Governor James Allred concerning christening his new ship the "Texan."

The new $90,000 twin-motored plane he will use on his Russian hop will be decorated with a map of Texas and a picture of a bucking bronco atop a cloud.

Mattern is a native of San Angelo, Tex., and his backer, M. L. Benedum, wealthy resident of Pittsburgh, Penn., made much of his fortune in the Texas oil fields.

Mattern took his new ship up for a test flight yesterday. He will fly it to Dallas about July 10, he said.

Veterans Administration Is To Assist Ex-Service Men In CCC

The Veterans administration will assist World war ex-service men who wish to enroll in CCC camps during the period from July 1 to 20, according to a letter recei [illegible] len Bros. post of the American Legion here Friday from Reed Johnson, state manager of the administration.

Johnson was advised that Texas enrollment quota of veterans for the period will be 270 white and 75 negro ex-servicemen.

Read's letter said that applications will be forwarded to regional offices having jurisdiction over permanent home addresses of the veterans, to which the applicant must return for enrollment.

Assistance of Legion officials here in preparing applications and submitting them to the proper authority was assured by W. O. Daniels, commander of Allen Bros. post.

Watch The Leaks And Save On Water Bills Is Warning Of City Water Department

Watch the leaks and save water bills!

This was the advice of city water department officials Friday after having listened to the complaint of a patron who complained that his latest bill was for more than 30,000 gallons as compared with an average of less than 1,500 gallons during the 11 months preceding.

The complaint was one of recurrent type and, as in most cases, the customer could not be persuaded that the cause was a leak somewhere in the water distribution on his premises — either a leaking underground pipe, a dripping faucet, a flowing commode or some similar explanation. He, as almost invariably is the case, insisted that the meter was at fault — that it suddenly had speeded up and had registered more water than actually passed through it.

Meters Do Not Speed Up

All of which brought from D. D. Martin, city auditor, the comment that never in the experience of the water department has an instance been found of a meter having "speeded up." The mechanism of the device is such, he explained, that if it does anything at all, it slows down, a condition held largely responsible for the fact that each month there is a difference of from one to several million gallons in the quantity of water pumped into the city mains and the quantity actually recorded by meters. This "distribution loss," as it is termed, totaled 19,481,000 gallons for the two months of last April and May, the latest period for which figures were available, according to the auditor's official report. Total pumpage for the two months was 135,021,000 gallons.

However, said Martin, even when the patron is willing to accept a leak as a partial explanation of the sudden boost in his bill, he is reluctant to believe that it can account for his increased water usage.

Many Gallons Lost

But, according to the auditor, most exacting tests have disclosed that the smallest leak pours out many gallons of water. A slow drip from one faucet, for example, means 450 gallons of water. A leak of one-thirty-second of an inch — slightly less than the diameter of an ordinary straight pin, dumps 7,920 gallons monthly into the drain. One-sixteenth inch — the size of the lead of an ordinary pencil, wastes 28,300 gallons in 30 days. One-eighth inch opening means 114,000 gallons gone down the sewer in a month and one-quarter inch — the opening for an ordinary commode, 450,000 gallons. All of course adds to the bill, starting at 60 cents per 1,000 for the first 3,000 gallons and scaling down to a minimum of 10 1-2 cents per 1,000.

Leaking commodes, said Martin, are probably the most common contributor to leakage bills. But any part of the yard plumbing may be responsible, ranging from feed pipes rusted through, leaking joints or dripping faucets.

Loss On Patron

When those things occur, it was added, there is nothing the water department can do about the bill. Until the water passes through the meter, it is the city's responsibility. But through the meter, it is the patron's water and any loss falls upon him.

Martin suggested as the best safeguard a careful watch for leaks or such indications of leaks as moist spots about the premises. If the patron suspects that something is wrong, a test of the meter will be made by the city. But if his plumbing is at fault, the responsibility must necessarily fall upon him.

Farmer Near Lorenzo Is Being Treated For Rabies After Calf Is Found Affected

Floyd Dunlap, 25, farmer residing 10 miles south of Lorenzo, began rabies treatment Friday afternoon when Miss Dora Snyder, city bacteriologist, reported that a calf killed in the neighborhood late Thursday was afflicted with hydrophobia.

J. A. Dunlap, father of Floyd Dunlap and the son delivered the calf's head to city laboratories Thursday morning and reported a state of considerable alarm among residents of their community.

The calf, Dunlap said, belonged to C. C. Barr, a neighbor. Dunlap and two of his sons attempted to assist in treating it when a chain Floyd Dunlap held was jerked through his hands, breaking the skin and exposing the blood stream to infection.

Barr's dog disappeared about three weeks ago while sick and other neighbors, according to Dunlap, said that when they saw it the next night or two, it appeared to be mad. At least two farmers, he added, killed their own dogs because they had fought with Barr's animal. They fear the dog may have bitten livestock.

He added that the fact that three persons now are receiving anti-rabies treatment in Ralls, near Lorenzo, has caused farmers generally throughout the area to keep their dogs penned up and a close watch on all their livestock.

Fortenberry Speaker At ABC Luncheon

A summary of the city's financial affairs and a glimpse into city needs of the immediate future was presented the American Business club yesterday by J. A. Fortenberry, past president of the club and a city commissioner. Session was held in the Hilton hotel with President M. M. Ewing presiding.

Leland Payne, alternate delegate to the recent national convention, spoke on the trip. He said Amarillo won the 1938 convention.

President Ewing announced Burnie Howell as new pianist. He takes the place of Miss Willette Waters, who moved away.

Commissioner Fortenberry said the city had an average of 125 employes, with a total of 224 in May and in June so far, 194. The commission recently restored a second wage cut, making city salaries back on the pre-depression level.

It costs the city $11,000 a year to light streets. Other items include: welfare work, $7,500; park, $21,000; garbage collection, $14,500; fire department, $25,500; police department, $33,000; street sweeping, $12,600.

The city's debt is $2,000,000, including warrants and bonds. Assets are $5,000,000. Receipts for 1936-37 were $350,000; total expenditures, $344,980, leaving a balance of $5,300 in all. Taxes produced $116,000 of the receipts, the remainder coming from other sources.

There are 45 city blocks now being paved; plans for 53 more block are announced and 25 alley blocks will be paved.

The city, Fortenberry said, needs another engine for the light plant and has asked for bids. A storm sewer, sanitary sewer and better water supply are some of the things planned for. More parks, playgrounds and street pavings are likewise needed, he added.

Trip To Be Made To Carlsbad July 4

Number of trips to be sponsored by Texas Technological college July 4 was narrowed to one at a meeting of students interested in making the trips Thursday night.

Students will go to Carlsbad caverns over the week-end of July 4, but proposed trips to Grand Canyon, Dallas and Fort Worth have been postponed until July 10-12. Forty-three students have indicated their intention of going on the excursions, to be made in buses.

The reason given for postponement of the Grand Canyon trip was difficulty in getting hotel reservations. At the Thursday night meeting more persons wanted the Carlsbad trip than the one to Dallas and Fort Worth, and Dean J. M. Gordon announced it was inadvisable that both trips be made at the same time. Arrangements are under the direction of the summer recreation committee.

Permanent Peace Not In Sight

ACCORDING to reports received by The Morning Avalanche from correspondents in Washington, the capital's best political minds do not expect any great results from the Jefferson Island get-together among opposing groups of the Democratic camp. To a man, the seers along the Potomac forecast a good time for all on the party, much publicity to the effect that oil has been spread on troubled waters, but little or no actual improvement in intra-party conditions.

We are not surprised.

The two or three wings of what used to be a united Democratic party are too sharply divided on national problems.

Further, as titular head of the party, the President has all but thrown overboard many a veteran Democratic stalwart in favor of some shining-eyed young radical. That doesn't set well with the veterans—especially those from the South who naturally cling to the precepts of Jackson and Jefferson rather than accept what to them are the cock-eyed theories of Harvard, Frankfurter and the pinko social settlements of the Frances Perkins stripe.

So while important party men are likely to declare in the press of Monday and thereafter that "the breach has been healed" and that "everything is lovely," don't digest it without at least a pinch of salt. Both the President and his opponents inside the party are not to be easily reconciled, even in the face of the probable destruction of the party between now and 1940.

The Attorney-General's Race

While it is perfectly natural that people should take more interest in possibilities surrounding the next gubernatorial race, the contest for attorney-general bids fair to be almost as interesting [illegible] more hotly contested.

The names of numerous [illegible] Texans are being discussed in connection with the attorney-general's race, chief among whom are Lieutenant-Governor Walter Woodul, Senator G. H. Nelson, Gerald Mann, Pat Neff, Jr., Senator Weaver Moore and Harris County Judge Roy Hofheinz. With the exception of Governor Woodul, none of the above have done any active work toward their goal but there is, of course, plenty of time for that.

Latest activity on behalf of a candidate comes from El Campo, where resides Everett Looney, former first assistant under Governor Allred when the latter was attorney-general. In a glowing news story and letter from the Editor of the El Campo paper Looney's talents are boosted to the skies and support is being urged for him.

Lewis Goodrich, of Shamrock, district attorney in the Panhandle, is an active candidate for the office and reports from Austin are that R. W. Yarborough, Travis county district judge, will also be in the lists by the time campaigning days roll around. All in all, plenty of fireworks and plenty of candidates should be forthcoming when the race for attorney-general gets under way in earnest next spring.

Summer Nights In West Texas

News stories about 13 persons dying from the heat in a midwest wave on Thursday should serve to remind us that no matter how hot the West Texas days may be, the West Texas nights furnish opportunity for long and refreshing sleep and rest.

The more exuberant of our citizens insist that this section of West Texas is a summer resort. While it is, in comparison with many other sections, The Morning Avalanche wouldn't go that far, even in home section pride.

We do say, however, that our summer weather conditions on the whole are not excessively unpleasant and that our nights, individually and collectively, are "worth a million."

Let summer come!

With Our Contemporaries

"As fervently as we used to hope and drouth was broken, we now trust the backbone of the rainy spell is broken, at least until we all get through planting over, which is about to get a little bit old with some," Stockton Henry prays in the Lorenzo Tribune.

The One-Minute Sermon

A foolish son is a grief to his father and bitterness to her that bare him.

Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike princes for equity.

He that hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.

Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is estemed a man of understanding.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

CHURCH OF ST. CAT

Way back in the 18th century a resident of the Island of Mykonos, just off the coast of Greece in the Aegean sea, almost lost his life in a storm. In his prayer he promised a church to his patron saint if he would be saved, but upon reaching Mykonos safely he found his means were insufficient for the erection of a church other than a very small one. Not wishing to break his vow he built on his garden wall a tiny edifice measuring 30 by 50 centimetres, furnished in miniature exactly the same as an ordinary church, duly consecrated, and services were observed therein. The night it was finished a cat took refuge in the church and gave birth to a litter of kittens. Since then it has been nick-named "St. Cat." The present owners still observe the wishes of their grateful forefather and hold services daily in his memory.

Yesterday: Pats and Don palyed a thrilling game of pursuit but Pats refused to divulge her identity. Don is fast falling in love with her.

CHAPTER IX

Pats and Don drove out the Boston Post road in the late afternoon sunshine. She kept telling herself "I'm sitting beside my husband and he loves me," but the words failed to click in her benumbed brain. She and Don were lovers, nothing counted against that. They loved and the world was lost in unthinking rapture.

"You look so sweet," he said huskily. "I think of you every minute of the day and you fill my dreams at night, but when I see you I realize all over again how lovely you are."

"Don"—the name slipped out and his hand covered hers for a moment. "You can't mean that. Why—I might be anybody."

"You are my whole life now. It doesn't matter who you used to be. You see," he went on gently, "I have never been in love before and I'm taking it rather hard."

"It can't be love."

"It is love and I'm this much in earnest. Tomorrow I shall tell Patricia and very soon, in a few days I think, I shall be free again."

But why should you think I want you to be free?"

"I only know that I must be free. I want the right to make you love me, to protect you." Every fiber in Pats' being yearned toward him. Don thought she needed protection. Even with her identity shrouded in mystery he wanted her for his wife. It had all been simpler than her maddest hopes. Half inclined to tell him the truth, she hesitated.

It seemed so flat, so ridiculous to say, "I am your wife, Don." Such an anti-climax, so demanding of a thousand explanations. A little nagging fear warned her that the perfection of the moment might be shattered by such a revelation. So she drifted on the blissful tide.

They had tea before a blazing fire in a small white cottage. Sitting side by side on an old Duncan Fife sofa they drank tea from exquisite Spode cups. A withered, soft-spoken gentlewoman served them. Twilight fell and still they lingered, caught in the mystery and magic of newly awakened love. Alone in the charming room, Don took Pats in his arms.

"Darling," he breathed. "I love you." And blindly she raised her lips, fiercely she clung to him while the crimson world docked and spun.

"I've kissed so many women," he said, half laughing, his hard lean cheek pressed close to hers. "And I've really never kissed anyone before."

"Dearest," Pats whispered.

Later, driving slowly homeward, Don said, "I promised not to ask questions, but — won't you trust me, sweetheart?"

Pats nodded dreamily. "With my life. Tomorrow — at the Coronet." Vaguely she wanted time in which to choose the words of her confession. Suppose his love turned to mere reward for his wife Patricia when he learned that he had been the victim of a bold feminine trick.

At Pats' request Don left her at the imposing entrance of the Goddard Hotel. He was to see Atherton, his lawyer, before going home. He, too, might have news on the morrow.

In parting he whispered, "I love you, dear—tomorrow—"

Pats quickly crossed the crowded lobby. She saw a man near the desk stare at her and knew he followed as she left by a side entrance. She was even half sure that his taxi followed hers as she drove out Fifth avenue. But riotous thoughts claimed her and she forgot the incident.

After breakfast the next morning Don broached the subject of their marriage contract. He told Pats that he loved someone very dearly, that she was in trouble and that he must be free to protect her with his name. Pats calmly accepted the announcement, acknowledged his sincere thanks for her many kindnesses and the convenient marriage of Don Monteray and his unattractive secretary was, within a few hours, to be ended.

Pats took a walk in the park to think things over. She walked slowly, trying to outline the story she must tell Don. As proof of her astounding news she would produce the wig and glasses. Step by step she rehearsed her lines. All the time a little dread tugged in the back of her mind. And might not his love turn to weary indifference with the realization that he had been duped? In a state of conflicting emotions she went back to the hotel. In the lobby, the manager asked if he might see her privately for a few moments.

His grievance was Rosie. He apologetically explained that her account was getting out of hand. He had spoken to her repeatedly and she had definitely given him the impression that she was Mr. Monteray's guest. Quite obviously the manager believed that Rosie had been "putting something over" on Don Monteray's wife, also that he felt certain of getting the bill paid by appealing to Mrs. Monteray. Naturally she would allow no breath of scandal to touch her famous husband.

Pats explained that Mr. Monteray was in no way responsible for Miss Akers, but signified her willingness to settle the account provided Rosie spent not another night in the hotel. The manager agreed and Pats opened her check book. The amount was rather staggering but she wrote the check. To be rid of Rosie was cheap at any price.

"Thank you for bringing this to my attention," she said. "Men in Mr. Monteray's position are—what shall I say?—[illegible]."

Going upstairs, [illegible] Pats learned from Sims that Don was lunching with his lawyer and that he might not return for dinner. She dismissed the secretary for the day and warned Sims that no one was to be admitted. If she knew Rosie, the fur would soon be flying and it should not be flying at Don's head or hers. On the morrow they would face Rosie together.

She fell to dreaming of Don. His production manager had been pleading for his return to Hollywood. Perhaps they would go at once. It would obviate many explanations to the outside world. Safe in California no one would marvel that Mrs. Monteray had changed like a chameleon over night.

At 3:30 Pats, leaving the hotel, was a witness to Rosie's eviction. Her bags were carried out and arranged neatly on the sidewalk and Rosie, scarlet-cheeked and raging, flounced out after them. Pats was near enough to touch her but Rosie showed not the slightest sign of recognition. No one could have possibly associated the slimly elegant Pats with the dowdy Mrs. Monteray. But a hard-eyed man, lounging near the entrance, became suddenly active. As Pats stepped into a cab he signaled another, gave a curt order to the driver, and leaned forward, his eyes never losing sight of the taxi in which Pats rode. When she alighted on Fifth avenue he was close behind.

He stood near her in a flower shop and looked with apparent indifference into her gaping purse while the attendant pinned an orchid on the soft fur at Pats' throat. What he saw in the purse was a brown wig and tinted spectacles. A satisfied gleam lighted his cold, observant eyes. These items were to be the convincing proof for Don.

Pats walked along the avenue. It was when she had almost reached the Coronet that she suddenly realized she was being followed. Unconsciously she had been aware of the shadow in the flower shop, had several times caught the same reflection in the shop windows. She hastened her steps. Soon she would be safe with Don. It was alarming, even in broad daylight, to be followed this way. About to enter the tea garden the shadow slid between her and the door.

"Just a minute," he said courteously enough.

Pats raised her chin and narrowed her eyes. She looked through him and attempted to reach the entrance.

The man was short and stout, his clothes were sadly in need of pressing. His hat was pulled well over his eyes. He stopped Pats with a hand on her arm. She faced him with blazing eyes.

"If you're smart you won't raise any fuss," he said in a low voice.

"How dare you speak to me?" She

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has assumed personal command of the prosecution phase of the "tax purge," although seemingly shunning a lead role in the show he has inspired.

The first trial, involving a New York broker who formed a personal insurance company in Holland as a means of escaping taxes, will be staged in the Federal court of the Southern New York district, which has been notably New Dealish. Brushing aside an old agreement under which the New York district attorney handled litigation in his bailiwick, the President has decreed that the D of J's smartest tax lawyers conduct the prosecution. The initial test was deliberately culled from official files because it is considered the most flagrant yet unearthed.

Official preliminaries rival the elaborate preparations for an opening night on Broadway. They have been arranged in secret conferences between Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau, who directed both Internal Revenue and D of J officials on how to proceed. The case will not be heard till fall, thus permitting plenty of time for more sensational stage trimmings. By higher-ups at Washington the defendant has already been adjudged guilty.

VILLAIN: The file history of this so-called evasion casts a new light on the Roosevelt-Morgenthau crusade, however. To departmental insiders it reveals that the "moral indignation" was a long time in fermenting.

The foreign corporation was established as far back as 1929, which was the last profitable period the unlucky broker enjoyed. Twelve government attorneys have passed on the legitimacy of this device, and they split six-to-six on its legality. The broker's lawyers, one of Manhattan's finest firms, advised him that he was acting within his legal rights. Many others, including a former law partner of a Supreme court justice, are understood to have adopted the same system.

Every bit of pertinent information on the so-called immorality has cluttered federal files for eight years. The statute of limitations would have applied if the broker were not seeking a $63,000 refund from the government on overpaid taxes, thus permitting his alleged evasions to be dragged in by Uncle Sam's men as an offset against his claim. So the New York man, now almost penniless, becomes the villain of the White House scenario.

BREAKS: Majority Leader Robinson's sizzling arraignment of the federal relief setup was not his first break with President Roosevelt, although it was their first publicized clash. In Joe's desk lies a government reorganization measure which will infuriate FDR when he scans it.

It gives the President a scant 20 per cent of his demands—six new secretaries and a new Department of Public Welfare embracing problems of health, education, unemployment. It does not establish the Department of Public Works which he craves. It denies him authority to control and consolidate independent agencies like the ICC, Federal Trade commission, Federal Reserve system. It doesn't even bother to mention his request for abolition of the comptroller general and substitution of the old-fashioned system by which each departmental head audited his accounts without an outside check. It replaces the Civil Service commission with a single administrator, but it clothes him with no additional power.

It breathes a deep distrust of Mr. Roosevelt's reaching out for power. It requires that any executive order involving government reorganization even under this emaciated measure must receive the approval of Congress. It indicates definitely that the Senate boss and his cohorts, despite protestations of loyalty to the party chieftain, are determined to keep their fingers on the key levers of the federal machine. It is a presidential rebuff which matches the senatorial refusal to streamline the Supreme court.

BOMB: Six months ago—in his address to Congress on the state of the union—President Roosevelt hinted that he would hold industry responsible for reducing the unemployment rolls. With millions of men returning to work in the intervening months, his hidden threat has been forgotten. But in a few days he will again throw the blame for 9,000,000 unemployed in a period of comparative prosperity upon the "economic royalists."

For several weeks he has been studying a special report which his Human Resources Committee has compiled on unemployment and related problems. It is the most searching and sensational document since Herbert Hoover's findings on "social trends" in the early twenties. It blames the existence of so many jobless on the installation of labor-saving machinery by America's key industries. It asks the question of whether the U. S. is to become a nation of men or machines.

FDR's industrial investigators furnish no answer. They simply suggest further study. But their report exonerates the administration for not bringing recovery that provides work for all, for a relief budget that totals $1,500,000,000, for unbalanced budgets and mounting federal expenditures in all fields. And it holds employers shamelessly guilty of taking advantage of industrial inventions that reduce labor costs.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE new labor union sponsored by Father Coughlin—Workers Council for Social Justice—is a choosy organization.

The radio priest emphasizes that his is a Christian union, launched as a challenge to the C.I.O. and the United Automobile Workers. He intimates pointedly that the religious qualification debars Brahmins, Mohammedans and Jews (that's the order in which he names them) from participating in his movement. He also speaks rather slightingly of Buddhists.

The council is exclusive from another angle besides that of religion. It has only four members—its president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. All others are classed as "supporters." A supporter has the privilege of paying dues—but no voice whatever in the management of the union. He is invited instead to sign a card authorizing the Workers council to represent him in collective bargaining with his employer—"as a man gives another a power-of-attorney." New York observers remark that even "Dictator" John Lewis has never sought to disfranchise his own followers.

RESTRAINT: The German "aski mark" device is raising more hob with our Latin American trade than exporters or State department think it expedient to admit.

The aski mark is in effect an ingenious barter money. When Brazil ships coffee to Germany, for example, or Bolivia ships tin or Nicaragua ships bananas, payment is recorded in aski marks. No such currency exists. But the exporting nation has credits available in Germany at an artificially high and attractive rate of exchange (in terms of marks). These credits cannot be withdrawn in the form of cash—that's strictly verboten. The only thing they can be used for is the purchase of German goods. Consequently Latin American imports from Germany have risen appreciably in the past year—mostly at our exporters' expense.

A number of Latin nations have quietly worked up sizable commercial relations with Germany in this way. Secretary Hull will have a good game try at busting up this restraint of American trade—beginning with Brazil.

AFFRONTS: New Yorkers with exceptional Washington contacts report that the Congressional revolt against the administration is not due solely to discontent with F.D.R.'s "high-handed" legislative methods. A personal angle cuts just as deep—perhaps deeper. Numerous members of Congress have commented bitterly in private to financial friends about the "bureaucratic arrogance" of federal departments and agencies.

The complainants lament that they used to be able to induce the departments to do small favors for constituents occasionally, or at least to give them a little information once in a while. Nowdays, they get batted from pillar to post by underlings in most agencies.

Consistent affronts to Congressional dignity are a great help to New York anti-Roosevelt leaders who are skilled at rubbing sore spots.

Letters To The Editor

Your Voice Is As Loud As Our Own

SHAW WRITES AGAIN

Editor, The Avalanche: I have been asked by many of my friends to write again to The Avalanche. Many say they get a big kick out of my letters. I get a kick, too, but that is from the editor. Some wanted me to write on one subject and some on another. Some of these were the cockleburr, state legislature, our governor, parking meters, old age pensions, etc. I shall touch briefly on each of these.

I notice in the Estacado neighborhood that the cockleburrs are becoming prevalent and will take this country if something is not done to control them. I have lived with the cockleburrs the major part of my life. They are a great nuisance. I have seen men in cornfields gathering corn with so many cockleburrs on them that they resembled just one big cockleburr. One seed will bring dozens of plants and they will mature before frost, regardless of how late they bloom. I would respectfully suggest that Old J. J. and his court take some action.

As to our governor, I should like to call attention to our big governor's middle sized son who has killed a small bird with his little air-gun.

Also we have had hail, rain, frogs, and mosquitos and now to be pestered with parking meters.

Rambling on: Our legislature has been in session five months and all they have accomplished they have done after they got through. They hardly get a law pealed until they repeal it. They repealed horse and dog racing, they also passed a law against bookmaking. I think we need books. Now, if they would pass a law against so much of this candidate racing, that would be a good thing. Our legislature has pealed and repealed the funds of the old age pension until there is nothing left.

In conclusion of my rambling, I would say that all I know is what I read in The Avalanche, and that is not much.

Smith Shaw, Sr.,
Idalou, Texas.

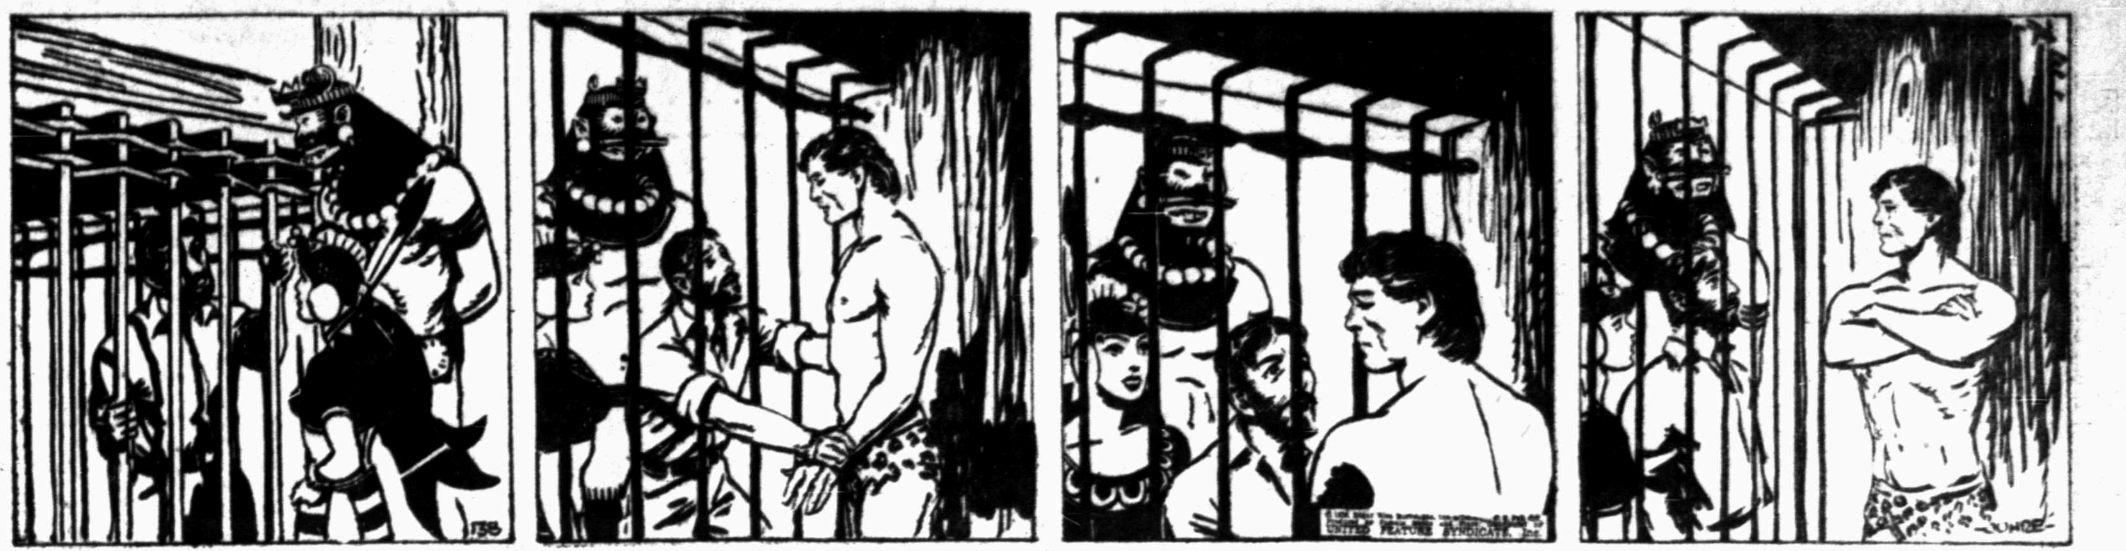
TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 138

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Zalya and Togatzal hurried to the cells. The Queen was excited. At last she had found a plan to save Tarzan's life and to keep him in the Dead City which she ruled. D'Arnot served as the interpreter to deliver the decision. "They'll spare your life!" he cried.

Then Queen Zalya stated the conditions of his liberation. D'Arnot gasped in horror as he translated. "Their surgeons will carve your face to represent the image of one of their gods. You will have to join their cult. You must be one of them—a monster!"

Tarzan stood calm as D'Arnot continued: "You must take an oath of loyalty to the Queen and Togatzal." "And if I do this," the ape-man asked coolly, "will they let the rest of you go free?" D'Arnot protested: "We won't allow you to sacrifice yourself for us!"

"Ask them!" Tarzan commanded, and D'Arnot complied sadly. "No," cried Queen Zalya. "It is enough that we spare your life, Tarzan. My people will demand that the others die by torture." Without hesitation the ape-man answered: "Then I prefer to die with them!"

BEARISH SIGNAL HOISTED

NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—Rails hoisted a bearish signal for the stock market today and most shares acknowledged it with a slow swing to the downside.

Steels and coppers followed the carriers, yielding all or part of gains scored on a preceding rally.

Santa Fe dropped more than 3 points and New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio finished more than a point lower.

Unable to deduce clear-cut conclusions on the outcome of the steel strikes and the Spanish situation from the day's news, many traders were content to find a selling excuse in May rail revenue reports, showing net income lagging behind expansion in gross. The rail figures, together with workers' efforts to obtain a wage boost, seemed to have outweighed favorable implications of a contra-seasonal gain in the weekly carloadings report.

A show of resistance by harassed public utility shares and scattered advances among industrials were outweighed. The Associated Press average for 60 stocks was off 1 of a point at 64.3. The rail average dropped a full point to 38.1. Only slightly above the year's low.

Two Gunmen Are Given Death Penalty For Agent's Slaying

TOPEKA, Kan., June 25. (AP)—The death penalty was assessed against Robert J. Suhay and Glen Applegate by a federal court jury here tonight for the murder of federal agent Wimberly W. Baker in a gun battle in the Topeka postoffice April 16.

It required the jurors less than four hours to hold that the two gunmen shot Baker in the postoffice here because he sought to arrest them for a bank holdup in New York.

Both stood gloomily as the verdict was read. The first degree verdict, without recommendation of mercy, made gallows sentence mandatory.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 25. (AP)—A sharp early advance was followed by a softening tendency in cotton today and most of the gain was lost. The close was steady at net advances of 2 to 9 points.

Unexpectedly strong Liverpool cables was the dominating factor in early trading. The English market reported a good demand induced by a proposal in the house of commons to greatly expand the stabilization fund and lessening tension over the European situation.

Weekly statistics were mildly bullish but failed to stimulate any demand. Mill takings for the week were placed at 215,000 bales against 211,000 last week and 188,000 last year.

July closed at 12.35, Oct. at 12.24, Dec. at 12.20, Jan. at 12.32, March at 12.38 and May at 12.39. Spots were unchanged with middling at 12.48.

Port receipts 7,272; for week 21,563; for season 6,753,794. Exports 10,281; for week 42,921; for season 5,547,646. Port stocks 1,229,657. Stock on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 34,848; last year 47,238. Spot sales at southern markets 1,670; last year 2,005.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—Firmness at Liverpool and a small number of July notices caused cotton to rally further today although gains were partly lost in the afternoon.

October, which had advanced from 12.29 to 12.39, reacted to 12.24 and closed at 12.25. Final prices were 4 to 13 points net higher.

The market opened 9 to 12 points higher when notices against only 8,300 bales were issued in July contracts and on strength at Liverpool.

At the highs, the market was 15 to 19 points net advance but after the first hour there was some scattered profit taking and liquidation promoted by continued warm dry weather in the cotton belt.

Exports today 8,869 making a total of 5,571,078 for the season thus far. Port receipts 7,331. U. S. port stocks 1,229,431.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, June 25. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 12.54 cents a pound; average for the past thirty days 12.57 cents a pound.

Trial Of John Hunt

with cries of: "Peace, it is wonderful!" Bailiff Frank Turner went into action with his fists and stemmed the tide.

Other testimony highlights included:

Mrs. Elizabeth M. "Peaceful Martha" Peters, co-defendant: "Delight asked me if I believed in fairies and I told her the truth. I said I did."

Striving For Perfection

Smith: "Oh, we had the best of everything. You see, we had to have the best clothes, the best food and the finest automobiles because we were striving for perfectness."

Dick "Ben Hur" Peters, son of Mrs. Peters: "When Hunt appointed me chauffeur, he had me get a green suit that was an exact match for the color of the car I was to drive."

John Peters, husband of Mrs. Peters: "When she told me Hunt had taken the little girl and gone away, I told her to pack her things and Mrs. Gardner's things and come away from that place."

Mrs. Agnes "Mary Magdalene" Gardner is the fourth defendant in the case. Hunt, known variously as "John the Revelator," "St. John the Divine" and "Jesus Christ" is expected to testify when the hearing is resumed next Tuesday. Judge Leon R. Yankwich will be busy with another case Monday.

Hugh Mcbeth, Hunt's negro attorney, said Father Divine was ready to fly here to aid Hunt and that he probably would summon him as a witness.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP)—Impelled chiefly by indications the area of total crop failure in Canada this season may be the largest on record, wheat prices soared wildly today.

At Winnipeg, wheat skyrocketed 5 cents a bushel, the full immediate permissible limit. Chicago quotations on wheat jumped 3¾ cents maximum net and held most of the gain.

Chicago wheat futures closed 2⅝ to 3½ cents above yesterday's finish, July $1.16⅛@1.16¼, Sept. $1.16⅝@1.16⅞, Dec. $1.19½@1.19¼; corn 1⅜ to 4 cents up, July $1.22¾@1.23¼, Sept. $1.08⅝@1.08½, Dec. 80⅝@80¾; oats 1 cent to 1⅜ advanced, Sept. 37¾@37⅞, and rye showing 2¾ to 3½ bulge, Sept. 84½. Provisions results were 20 to 42 cents dearer.

Contributing impetus to the upward flight of wheat values was the fact that alarming aspects of European war possibilities were given increased notice.

The largest advance of Chicago wheat values today was in the case of December contracts, which climbed from a low of $1.15 to a top of $1.19½, and closed at $1.19⅛@1.19¼.

Corn, oats and rye all emulated wheat, corn especially so. The corn market was distinguished by unusual scarcity of offerings. Possibilities of a very short crop of rye in Canada affected to a notable degree the rye market here.

Upturns of hog values and of grains hoisted the provisions market.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 25. (AP)—Demand was keen for wheat but only fair for other light offerings on the cash grain market here Friday.

miles south of here.

The president, who motored here last night and boarded the yacht Potomac, landed on the island this morning.

Several hours later, six gray sub-chasers left here for the island carrying seven cabinet officers, 22 senators and 100 representatives for the first of a three-day series of conferences which may determine the fate of several administration measures, including the court reorganization bill.

A similar number of legislators will go the island tomorrow and Sunday, returning to Annapolis before nightfall each evening because of the limited sleeping facilities at the club.

That the court bill was in for some warm discussion was indicated by the arrival of proponents and opponents in separate blocs.

caused by the withdrawal of Italy and Germany.

"I beg the house to believe the government will pursue the policy best calculated to preserve peace for Europe and this generation," said Eden.

After he ended the house voted 157 to 86, in support of the government.

Makes Conciliatory References

Chamberlain's speech opening the debate was marked by conciliatory references to Germany. The ambassadors of France, Belgium, Russia, Portugal and Spain sat in the crowded galleries. The German ambassador was in Berlin. The prime minister argued for "cool heads" and avoidance of doing or saying anything "to precipitate the disaster everyone wants to avoid."

"If we can exercise patience, caution and restraint we may yet be able to save the peace of Europe," Chamberlain declared. Both he and Eden emphasized the situation is "not hopeless," that Italy and

Support Grows For Farm Act

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 25. Congressional leaders reported growing sentiment today for enactment this year of Secretary Wallace's "ever-normal" granary program on an experimental basis.

Informed persons said administration leaders were urging the legislation as a compromise with those insisting on a more general farm program, such as the "agricultural act of 1937" recommended by the American Farm Bureau federation.

The purpose of the "ever normal" granary is to store surpluses of bumper years for use in years of crop failure, assuring the consumer a normal supply and the farmer stable prices.

Non-Strikers In Mills At Work

to prevent a "massacre."

The telegram, signed by officers of the Campbell C. I. O. lodge of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., declared:

"Once again we appeal to you in these critical days we are living through.

"Five thousand National guards, 1,000 deputy sheriffs and 500 city and special police are mobilized to break our strike.

"Within the next 12 hours, all these forces will be used in a concentrated attack on strikers. These armed forces are now meeting with company, county and city officials in preparation for a massacre."

Asked To Intervene

The message besought the president "to intervene in order to work out a wage agreement in line with the recommendations of the steel mediation board."

The two-state move to reopen the mills, climaxing the apparent collapse of peace efforts by President Roosevelt's federal mediators, drew other bitter protests from C. I. O. leaders and threats of combatting the attempted re-openings with heavy picket reinforcements.

Union lieutenants at Cincinnati called on the White House to stop the use of troops for steel plant protection. They also asked 2,000 C. I. O. leaders to meet in Columbus tomorrow to protest to Gov. Martin L. Davey.

To Resume Operations

But three of the four independent producers of the "little steel" group —Republic, Bethlehem, Inland Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube—went ahead with their plans to resume operations. Inland Steel alone maintained the status quo.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. George H. Earle lifted martial law at Johnstown, and black smoke poured from Bethlehem Steel's huge Cambria works for the first time since the plant was shut down by state executive order last Sunday.

To Protect Men Returning

In Ohio, Gov. Davey ordered the National guard, some 5,000 strong, to protect men returning to the mills and to permit "peaceful picketing."

The concerted Ohio-Pennsylvania "go ahead" orders, foreshadowing a possible break in the 30-day-old strike deadlock, went out to steel workers in the following numbers:

Ohio

Mahoning valley—30,000 men, including about 20,000 in Youngstown and 10,000 in Warren and Niles.

Canton-Massillon—6,000 men.

Pennsylvania

Johnstown—15,000 men employed at Bethlehem's Cambria works. Not all of these men have been idle. And not all of them, C. I. O. leaders said, would heed the call to set the wheels of industry in motion without meeting John L. Lewis' strike-supported demand for signed labor contracts.

Angry Protests Fired

C. I. O. leaders, facing an imminent showdown in the dispute which has cost 12 lives, set 100,000 men idle in the Great Lakes region and inflicted losses estimated as high as $20,000,000 in wages and production stoppage, fired angry protests to President Roosevelt against the use of troops to reopen the plants.

At a glance, the situation tonight appeared as follows:

1. At Youngstown, O.—Two major steel companies, Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, announced reopening of plants for two-shift operations at 7 p. m. tonight.

John Owens, Ohio C. I. O. strike leader, immediately ordered strikers to "hold their ground" and refuse to go back to the mills.

2. At Johnstown, Pa.—Pickets withdrew, at least temporarily, from the closed Cambria works, after nearly 3,000 coal miners and steel strikers had massed at the gates at 7 a. m. when martial law was lifted.

A predicted march of 30,000 miners to support the strikers dwindled to a few thousand, police said.

and other money printing equipment.

Hanson and Carpenter named the Texans under arrest, but since charges had not been filed the names were not privileged for publication Friday night. They will be printed directly after charges are filed.

Charges will be filed at Lubbock, Hanson informed.

They confessed, said the federal agent, approximately $1,500 had been distributed in $20 counterfeit notes, at San Angelo, McCamey, Odessa, and Monahans, Texas, and Hobbs, Carlsbad, Roswell, Eunice, and Artesia, N. M.

The notes, they said, were purchased by one man through another in Juarez and were passed by the other three.

Carpenter said the men had confessed the bogus $20 notes sold in Juarez for $35 a hundred, $350 a thousand.

The first Lubbock man was arrested here June 12 by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, after bad money had flooded several West Texas cities. In his possession was a roll of currency totaling $955, and he had a $10 bank note in his bill fold and some "change." Despite the fact all his currency was legal, federal authorities were notified and Hanson came here almost immediately.

The following Tuesday, a second man was arrested after appearing here for a county court proceding, and the latter part of that week California authorities picked up a third. It had been expected the fourth would be found with him, but tips later established his whereabouts at a great distance in Texas.

The first man arrested was taken by federals and Carpenter to San Angelo June 14, officers insisting they drive his automobile since it was believed identification of him as associated with passing of the counterfeit money could be expedited through identification of the car as well. He signed a statement next day, said Carpenter, and was brought back to jail at Lubbock next day.

One of the men was taken to El Paso June 18 by the federal authorities.

Hanson said the sheriff's department at Lubbock had given "invaluable assistance" and that the police department had cooperated with the secret service.

buy a poll tax, the sum coming from City Inspector J. T. McNellis. D. R. Achley, former city employe, said he heard Mayor John R. Miller once state "if you know any niggers who don't have money or don't wish to use their own, tell them to come and see me."

Dawson Achley, former city employe, said Miller told him "I'll be reelected if we have to steal the election." He attributed a similar remark to City Manager Lloyd S. McCann.

Court adjourned until Monday.

Tech Beauty Injured In Mishap Sunday

Miss Lelia May Zorns of Meadow, senior at Texas Technological college last year and one of the college beauties two years, yesterday was admitted to West Texas hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile mishap near San Angelo Sunday morning.

Four other Lubbock persons in the car, Mr. and Mrs. Burnie Howell, Kenneth Rollo, and Maurice Hughett, were not injured, it was reported.

Miss Zorns suffered a skull fracture six inches long and slight concussion, attending physicians said. Her condition last night was described as not serious.

The automobile, belonging to Hughett and driven by Rollo, was almost demolished, it was reported. The accident happened when the automobile overturned at a curve when they were en route to San Angelo.

State Legislature

imprisonment of 10 days to one year in jail, or one year to five years in the penitentiary, with $100 to $1,000 fine.

For the owner or lessee of property knowingly to permit its use for booking was made a felony while a communication company knowingly furnishing service to a bookmaking establishment would be liable to fine up to $1,000.

Can Use Injunctions

Bookmaking establishments could be closed by injunction as nuisances and it would not be necessary, in order to convict a person of having accepted a bet, for the state to prove that a race actually was run. Officers could make arrests without warrants when either bookie or dog race betting laws were violated in their sight.

The house approved the bill banning bookies 110 to 9 and that prohibiting betting on dog racing 109 to 12. Only one negative vote was cast against either measure in the senate.

State To Retain Control

The legislature, after much indecision, finally decided to have the state retain control over the more than 250 blooded jacks and stallions purchased with proceeds of a tax on horse racing. The animals will be leased to private persons and the latter must be responsible for upkeep.

In closing minutes, a number of bills died, although the total, because Governor Allred had sharply restricted the subjects to be considered, was small. A bill providing for state acquisition for park purposes of Padre island, off the Texas coast, was passed by the house but died in senate committee. Another making the state dove hunting season conform to the federal also went to the graveyard when senate and house were unable to agree.

Efforts to have the house investigate the sending of Rangers to Fort Worth in connection with a strike at the plant of a gas company, also failed, once because a motion to take up the matter failed to obtain two-thirds majority vote and later because a quorum was absent.

The legislature had been in session continuously for five and one-half months. The 131-day regular session ended May 23 and the 30-day special session began May 27.

Club Encampment

under the direction of Mrs. John T. King, chairman of the girls club sponsors. Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the division of home economics of Texas Technological college, will lecture on "Table Service and Appointments." winners of the bedroom contest, which has closed, will be announced, and gold star pins will be presented to the gold star girls, Mary Louise Revier of Carlisle and Lilly Gentry of Posey. Also there will be several demonstrations by club girls and sponsors.

Agents Bei— Aided

Miss Gladys Sanders, assistant home demonstration agent, and Thompson are being aided in the encampment by sponsors of the clubs of the county. On the foods committee are: Mrs. A. B. Allen, Cooper; Mrs. John King, Becton; and Mrs. A. C. Woodruff, Shallowater. Mrs. Z. N. Fugate of Liberty, and Mrs. L. K. Hart of Posey, were in charge of registration. Mrs. M. H. Vardeman, Acuff, supervised recreation at Mackenzie park with Mrs. L. K. Hart in charge of the swimmers.

Men who are helping with the program are D. O. Williams, County Line; C. T. Potts, Barton; Earl Fine, Posey; Glen Blackmon, Shallowater; Wilmouth McArthur, Roosevelt; D. F. Pounds, Amherst; J. D. Worley, Plainview; L. B. Terrell, County Line, and J. A. Burroughs, Carlisle.

Stunts last night included two operations for removal of yellow livers, weak spinal chords and the like of 4-H club members, a medicine show, a pantomine, a proposal skit, and readings. The games were potato races, boxing with boys wearing sacks, and group play.

Texas Livestock Shipments Gain

AUSTIN, June 25. (Special)—Shipments of live stock from Texas to the Fort Worth stockyards and interestate points during May showed an unusually sharp year to year increase, according to the Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas. Reports of the railroad shipping agents of the state and of the Fort Worth Stock Yards company to the bureau show that rail and truck shipments to these points totaled 11,154 cars, against 5,913 during May last year, an increase of more than 88 per cent. Aggregate shipments for the year to date were 38,113 cars, an increase of 31 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

The sharpest increase occurred in forwardings of sheep. Shipments of these animals during May totaled 2,133 cars compared with 778 cars during May last year, an increase of more than 174 per cent. Cattle shipments also increased substantially—7,530 cars against 4,057 cars a year ago or a gain of more than 85 per cent. The increase in shipments of calves and hogs was more moderate—874 cars against 553 cars last year; and hogs 617 cars compared with 523 cars a year ago, gains of about 60 per cent and 18 per cent respectively.

A large proportion of the increase in shipments, especially of cattle and sheep, was destined for the Fort Worth market. Forwardings of sheep to the Kansas City market increased more than six fold over May last year and hog shipments to the Los Angeles market were substantially above those of a year ago.

With the large increases in shipments over a year ago, together with a moderate improvement in prices for live stock and live stock prices, farm and ranch income from these sources has increased substantially, the bureau report said.

Resumption Of Canning Project At Winters Asked By South

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—Representative Charles L. South, Coleman, Tex., asked the Works Progress administration today to reopen its canning project at Winters, Tex.

He told WPA a great deal of surplus vegetables would be wasted unless the government furnishes immediate aid through a canning project such as it operated last year in the community.

was angry and at the same time desperately frightened. Her eyes searched the street for Don's car. At a signal from the cold-eyed man a taxi drew up to the curb.

He motioned in the direction of the cab. "Step right in," he advised. "You and I have a little business to transact." As Pats struggled to break away he opened his coat and her startled eyes fell on a badge, obviously the insignia of the law.

"You are making a dreadful mistake," she said furiously.

"We'll let the district attorney decide about that. If I'm making a mistake you have nothing to fear." With a firm hand he propelled her into the cab. Pats leaned to the window, frantic eyes on the disappearing tea garden.

"What is the meaning of this outrage?" she demanded. Quite suddenly she knew. This detective believed her to be the blond diamond thief. For a fleeting instant she thought it funny, then terror swept over her.

Italy's Municipal Iron Fences To Be Scrapped So That Iron Can Be Used For Armaments

ROME, June 25. (AP)—Mayors of every Italian city received a government circular today asking for estimates of the amount of iron that could be realized by scrapping all municipal iron fences and gates.

Rome, itself, recently set an example by removing four miles of iron railings from magnificent borghese park.

The questionnaire was an indication of Italy's desperate need for iron and of the difficulty of obtaining supplies abroad since Great Britain embarked on her vast rearmament program.

Special Grand Jury May Be Called To Probe Deaths Of Children On Highway

BURNET, June 25. (AP)—Authorities here today indicated a special session of the grand jury may be called this week to investigate the highway deaths of Walter and Ace Lee Bird.

James Cockrell, 22, of Lampasas, has been charged with murder in connection with the deaths of the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bird of Burnet. They were struck down by an automobile Sunday night while walking to church along highway 66.

Cockrell was removed to a jail in another county after the filing of charges. He was arrested by Sheriff Hugh Barnett and two officers of the state department of public safety.
