Vote On $65,000 School Bond Issue Thursday, February 12

PRESENT QUARTERS INADEQUATE ONE HUNDRED IN OUTSIDE ROOM

ENROLLMENT IS INCREASING EVERY WEEK
ADDITIONAL ROOM MUST BE PROVIDED BEFORE ANOTHER YEAR TO MAINTAIN HIGH RANK

Next Thursday, February 12, the voters of the Perryton Independent School District will go to the polls to vote on a $65,000 school bond issue which has been called by the board in an effort to provide more school room. The present buildings in Perryton are badly overcrowded and one hundred pupils in the lower grades are now housed in the basements of the Christian and Baptist churches.

The bond election proposition which is being submitted calls for the issuance of $65,000 in serial bonds, payable in one to twenty-five years, interest to be paid semi-annually. The tax levy to carry these additional bonds will not have to be increased but very little, if any at all. The school board, in a signed public statement, state that it is their opinion that the levy will not have to be increased as the larger valuations of the district, due to the building of pipe line for natural gas and gasoline, and other improvements, will offset the additional taxes required to carry the bond issue.

It is our opinion that the members of the school board are all very competent business men and they surely are in a position where they know the finances of the district and the need of quarters for the school pupils. Without a single exception, these directors who have been elected to run the schools, are successful business men and farmers. They realize the need for more school room and they also know that this is an ideal time for the public improvements.

Building materials are now at the lowest price in years. There is a surplus of labor, both skilled and unskilled and if the building can be constructed now, it will provide labor for many home men, that otherwise will probably be unable to provide for themselves and their families. There is but little doubt that the bond issue will carry as he people over the entire district as a whole are heartily sold on the proposition. Let every person who believes in better schools for our children go to the polls next Thursday and vote for this bond issue.

DALEY GETS IN CLERK'S RACE

H. DALEY SEEKS OFFICE
NOW HELD BY J. C. BEEVER; IS THIRD IN CLERK'S RACE

We are authorized to announce H. Daley as a candidate for the office of city clerk of Perryton subject to the action of the voters at city election to be held Tuesday, April 7. This is Mr. Daley's first time to run for an elective office. He is well qualified to fill a very important office, having been for many years at strictly clerical work.

Over six years he was head of accounting department at the Perryton Equity Exchange. Later he was a member of the Wilson-Daley Co. Since coming to Perryton in 1921, Mr. Daley and his wife have owned and operated the Central Hotel. Prior to moving into the hotel, Mr. Daley lived on a farm of 200 acres, coming to this country in 1917. He would make a competent official.

J. Clegg, field man for the Deere Implement Co., has been his family to Perryton. Mr. Clegg will work a large section of North Panhandle, making his headquarters in this city. Perryton is becoming recognized by the houses and manufacturing as the logical center of the North Panhandle and a large number of their representatives now maintain headquarters here.

THREE BLAZES MUCH DAMAGE

ONE RESIDENCE AND TWO BUSINESS HOUSES DAMAGED
BY FIRE; DEPARTMENT ON JOB

But for prompt response and competent fire fighting, the property damage from fire would have mounted into many thousands of dollars from the three blazes in Perryton last week. The first fire call was to the W. L. Smith home in the northwest part of town at 2:20 p. m. Thursday afternoon. When the department arrived at the house and had eight hundred feet of hose laid and the water turned on just five minutes after the alarm sounded, the entire rear end of the nice home was ablaze, catching from a pile of burning trash. The flames were quickly extinguished. Loss estimated at $225.00 covered by insurance.

The second alarm was late Friday evening, when the entire interior of the Bradbury Produce was found to be afire. The cause of this conflagration is unknown. When the fire boys arrived, much damage had been done to the inside of the building, but the flames were never allowed to get outside or through the roof. Damage at this fire was $1500. 525 chickens and turkeys burned to death. Amount of insurance unknown.

A real serious fire threatened about ten o'clock Saturday morning when the office and warehouse at the Maxedon Lumber Co. yards caught on fire from several buckets of paint which fell off some shelving into a burning open gas stove. The paint ignited with a slight explosion and the interior of the front office was a seething mass of flames in an instant. At this fire, the department by very efficient work confined the flames to the inside of the building. Estimated damage to building, fixtures and merchandise is estimated at $5000.00, fully covered by insurance.

Square Deal Grocery

Stump and Grabel Buy Bowen & Morgan Grocery; Is Now Open for Business

Jno. N. Stump and W. R. Grabel are the new owners of the Bowen and Morgan grocery, the name has been changed to the Square Deal Grocery. Mr. Grabel, who is the husband of the former Miss Chester Carter, daughter of C. C. Carter of this city, now resides at Rosehill, Virginia. He and Mrs. Grabel are expected to arrive in Perryton to make their home, the latter part of this week.

Mr. Stump does not expect to be active in the operation of the business, having many other business and farming interests which require his time. At the present time Geo. Rupprecht Jr. and Paul Bowen have charge of the store, which is open and ready for business.

Peggy Jane, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, was taken quite ill Saturday night with an attack of appendicitis. She is much better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Allen had as their dinner guests Sunday his father, J. T. Allen, and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Guyton, Okla.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE GAS BILLS?

What's the matter with gas bills in Perryton? That's the question that we hear asked every day and is one that we have been wondering about ourselves. Why is it that gas bills are almost double to what they were last winter, when the weather has been much milder and warmer? For the past two months the bill at the Herald office has been over $30.00, fifty per cent more than it ever run last winter, when we had much zero weather and when business was heavier, necessitating keeping the office warm for work at night. We hear the same complaint from other business houses and from resident users. Naturally patrons of the gas company expect lower bills this winter than last year, but they are higher and higher. Some think that the gas is lower in heat units than it was last winter. We don't know anything about this, but we sure do know that the bills are higher for heating the same amount of space.

BABY INJURED IN FARM FIRE

BLAZE DESTROYS HOUSE ON
MRS. HATTIE NEWMAN
PLACE NORTH OF PERRYTON

Loia Audene, eighteen months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clark, was quite seriously burned early last Saturday morning when their farm home on the Mrs. Hattie Newman place, seven miles north of here, was destroyed by fire. The blaze started from an explosion that occurred when Mr. Clark was filling a kerosene lamp at about 5:30 o'clock in the morning. The flames quickly spread over the entire six room house. Mr. Clark rushed into the bed room, his clothing afire. After putting out this fire he assisted his wife and children out of the room by way of the window then reentered the blazing structure for the baby girl, who was rushed to the Plaza hospital for medical attention when it was found she was badly burned around the arms and legs.

The fire loss is estimated at around $2,000, with no insurance.

SCHOOL TAXES ARE DEFERRED

STATE DEFERRED TAX LEGISLATION GOVERNS PAYMENT OF PERRYTON INDEPENDENT DISTRICT TAX

The deferred tax payment plan bill passed by both houses of the Texas legislature, Wednesday, January 28, and signed by Governor Sterling following day, applies to the payment of taxes in the Perryton Independent School District as well as all state and county taxes. The following statement from S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of education, outlines the outstanding points of the new bill as regards collection of taxes in this school district.

1. Your school taxes will become delinquent on October 15, 1931, instead of February 1.
2. Interest at the rate of 10 per cent will be charged on school taxes after February 1. After October 15, the interest rate is reduced to six per cent but a delinquency penalty of five per cent added.
3. Any tax-payer may pay half or all of his taxes at any time before the delinquency date. In the event a half payment is made, the ten per cent interest on the amount paid stops at once but interest continues to apply to the unpaid half.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lawrence and daughter, Juanita, came in Saturday from Clifton Hill, Mo., to make their future home in Perryton. Mr. Marvin is brother of Ecton and French Lawrence of this city.

School Tax Collections

Deferred Payment Plan Applies to County, State and Independent School Tax

The collection of taxes in Ochiltree county surprises everyone and clearly shows that financial conditions are not as bad in this section as some would have you believe. Reports from the tax collectors of the county and state, the school district and the city are all very satisfactory. The county and state collections fell behind more than the others but this is easily accounted for by the publicity given to the deferred tax payment plan which applied to the state and county collections.

Sheriff Talley reports the following collections for this county:

TEAMS SECOND CANADIAN MEET

RANGERS AND RANGERETTES CROWDED TO SECOND BY
SPEARMAN AND DIMITT

The Rangers and Rangerettes emerged from the Canadian basketball tournament last Friday and Saturday, second best, beaten only by Spearman and Dittm teams respectively in the finals on Saturday night.

The Rangers romped on Lipscomb in their opening game, winning 14 to 41. This carried them to the semi-finals where an extra overtime period was required to break the 20 and 20 tie with Canadian at the end of the regular session, the Rangers slipping in two baskets to win, 24 and 20. In the final go of the tournament another nip and tuck contest with Spearman resulted in the latter winning 24 to 20, giving the Rangers second in the meet.

The Rangerettes made a very creditable showing also in the competition, winning from Shamrock, Higgins and Canadian by easy, one-sided, scores. They suffered their first defeat of the season against the state championship team from Dittm who won in the finals 36 to 24.

Alton Witt, center for the Rangers, was made center on the all-tournament team by the officials while the Rangerettes placed 3 on the all-tournament girls team, Opal Eads, forward, Ione Packard, center, and Nora Eads, guard.

The Rangers and Rangerettes play a double header with Canadian on the local court tonight, Thursday. The Canadian team has been greatly strengthened recently with several new players and according to Coach E. E. Shupe, are mighty hard to beat.

Two boys teams from Liberal, Kans., will furnish sport on Friday night for the local fans. So far this season, Liberal has gone through the season without a loss, winning from the Rangers in a previous game by two points.

LEGION ORDERS PERRYTON ALUMINUM MOTOR PLATES

A limited supply of automobile plates carrying the name Perryton in cut-out script letters have been ordered by the Perryton American Legion Post. These plates which are very attractive, are of aluminum construction and will last a lifetime. Underneath the name of the city is the slogan, "The Friendly City," with a large Lone Star under the slogan. The plates will be sold by the Legion for $1.25. Orders are now being taken for the first shipment, which will be ready for delivery in about ten days. If you want a plate out of the first shipment, leave your order with Sibley Jines, C. B. Rogers at the First National Bank, R. B. Orrill at the Men's Wear Store, or at the Herald office. Every Perryton car should carry one of these plates. It is good advertising for our town.

TO SELL TREES AT CITY PARK

TO DISPOSE OF 150 CHINESE
ELMS SATURDAY; COUNTY
AGENT GUY R. SHEETS
IN CHARGE

Approximately one hundred and fifty Chinese Elm trees, now growing in the city park, will be offered for sale Saturday of this week when County Agent G. R. Sheets at the head of a Boy Scout organization will undertake to replant and re-arrange the trees according to the landscaping plans.

The surplus trees will be offered for sale, the funds raised from the sale of trees to be used in the further development of the park. Any one wishing trees is asked to get in touch with Mr. Sheets. The price has not been definitely set but it is thought to be around seventy-five cents each, which is considered very reasonable for sturdy trees of this size.

A meeting of the general park committee was called for Tuesday afternoon at which time plans for the park development were discussed. Mrs. Dave Shanks and Mrs. H. C. Brillhart drove to Follett on Wednesday afternoon and purchased one hundred small evergreens for use in the park, the grower setting them out and guaranteeing them to live for $50.00.

ELLIS IS NEW HEAD AT BANK

CARL ELLIS SUCCEEDS F. P.
ROGERS AS PRESIDENT OF
FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF THIS CITY

At a meeting of the directors of the First National Bank held last Saturday, the resignation of F. P. Rogers, president of the bank for the past seventeen years was accepted, and Carl Ellis, prominent farmer-stockman and owner of the Ellis and American theatres in this city was elected as the executive head of the institution. The announcement came as a surprise to many as Mr. Rogers had so long been active in the administration of the affairs of the bank. We understand that Mr. Ellis and Jno. N. Stump purchased the stock that was held by Mr. Rogers, but that no one individual holds enough stock to control the bank.

Mr. Rogers became president of the First National Bank when it was located at old Ochiltree in the fall of 1914 and he has been the active head since that date. Under his direction the bank has grown from a small country bank with a capital and surplus of $35,000 to $60,000 with deposits of hundreds of thousands compared with only a few thousand in 1914, with a reputation as one of the soundest and most conservative of banks in the entire Panhandle. Mr. Rogers will devote his time to his farming and various other business interests, with offices for the present at the Perryton Buick Co.

Officers of the First National Bank are Carl Ellis, president; C. B. Rogers, active vice-president; Jno. N. Stump, vice-president; R. H. Holland, cashier; Miles Edwards and Addison Cutter, assistant cashiers; Cromwell Rogers, bookkeeper; and Mrs. Addison Cutter, stenographer. Directors are Carl Ellis, Jno. N. Stump, J. W. Rogers, Ecton Lawrence, C. B. Rogers and H. T. Cutter.

Mr. Ellis, the new president, has for many years, been identified with this bank as a director, although he has never been active in its management. He is one of Ochiltree county's largest land owners and is very extensively engaged in the farming and live stock business. In addition, he is the owner and operator of the Ellis and American theatres in this city, two of the very best show houses on the North Plains.

LIONS MAY SPONSOR HOME BEAUTIFUL CONTEST HERE

At the Tuesday luncheon of the Perryton Lions Club, the proposition of the service club sponsoring a home beautification, a yard and garden, or a clean-up and paint-up campaign was discussed and the general sentiment was that such a campaign should be put over in Perryton. A committee consisting of B. B. Kent, W. H. Dunlavy and L. O. Byerly was appointed by President Callaway to investigate the matter and report back to the club at the meeting to be held Tuesday, February 17.

Mrs. J. H. Guthrie and children, Woodrow and Opal, returned to their home at Petersburg, Tuesday after a short visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Guthrie.

Thirty-five Perryton merchants are offering specials for the first dollar day event and are advertising in this issue of the Herald. Dollar Day coupons, being offered with every dollar cash purchase or with every dollar paid on account on any day during this campaign will be given by ninety business firms during this three months period.

Five hundred dollars in gold will be given during the campaign, the first awarding to be on February 25 at which time $100 will be given. On March 25 another $100.00 prize will be awarded, the final grand prize of $300.00 to be given at the close of the campaign on April 22. The merchants will start giving tickets on the first Dollar Day.

Look over the advertisements in this issue of the Herald and then make your plans to be in Perryton on the opening day of this campaign. You will save money by taking advantage of the many bargains offered.

Lions Ladies Night

Local Club Will Have Wives and Sweethearts as Guests at Tuesday Nite Banquet

On next Tuesday evening the wives and sweethearts of the members of the Perryton Lions Club will be guests of honor at a banquet which will be served at the New Hotel Perryton Coffee Shop. The festivities will start promptly at seven o'clock, so President Chas. W. Callaway states.

A very entertaining program has been arranged but Chairman W. L. McDivitt refuses to divulge any advance information. Plates will be laid for eighty to one hundred people.

TWO MORE INTO MARSHAL RACE

SCHOLLENBARGER AND THROWER
MAKE SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR PEACE
OFFICER JOB

Perryton voters will have a big list of candidates from which to pick a city marshal at the April election. With the announcement this week of Joe M. Schollenbarger and R. J. Thrower, the aspirants for the city chief of police number seven. The other entrants are Frank Caradine, Leonard Robertson, A. A. Sword, W. M. Clark and E. B. Lovings.

Joe M. Schollenbarger is a man who needs little introduction to the citizens of Perryton, especially the older residents. Mr. Schollenbarger moved to Perryton when the town started in 1919. He formerly lived in Beaver county, just across the line in Oklahoma. Joe is forty-three years of age. He came to Beaver county in the real pioneer for the past five years. He is a staid citizen and there is no question as to his ability to fill the office.

R. J. Thrower has authorized us to announce him as a candidate for the city marshal's office. Mr. Thrower has been a resident of Perryton for the past five years. He is a young man and would no doubt make a good officer. Until recently he has been employed on the highways.

Born Thursday, January 29, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bushman.

HUMIDITY

The hot-air furnace is coming back into popularity, partly because it has been improved so that it is not the dust-spreader which it used to be, and partly because it is the simplest means of warming a house with air which is properly humidified. The most recent improvements in furnaces provide a water tank twice as big as used to be thought necessary, with the result that less fuel is needed to keep the house temperature comfortable. Humid air always feels warmer than dry air at the same temperature.

The most modern factory and office buildings have no windows which can be opened. All of the air breathed by those occupying them is drawn through a water bath to wash it and humidity it, heated or cooled to the same temperature the year around and pumped by fans into every room while other fans draw out the foul air. Some day this system will be available for dwellings and we shall all live more healthfully.

WORRY

It's an old saying that worry kills more people than work ever did. Now comes Dr. William Mayo, famous surgeon of Rochester, Minn., and points out that doctors, especially surgeons, die from heart disease because they worry about their patients and suppress their emotions. Most people worry about something. Worry is the little sister of fear. Most of us are afraid of things which we need not be afraid of. More people are afraid of making a bad impression on others than of any other one thing.

The secret of long life, apparently, is to do nothing which will give cause for worry later on. But if we are all wise enough to do that this would be a different sort of world than it is.

UNEMPLOYMENT

One lesson which we have learned from the present condition of unemployment is that industry and society are not yet organized to take care of emergencies which throw people out of work. Many able minds are working now on plans which may prevent such wholesale unemployment in the future.

It is certain that we can prevent the recurrence of similar emergencies only by closer coordination of all industry and business, so that production in private enterprises and development of public improvements can be planned ahead of a long-time schedule.

ALASKA

It won't be long before there is a motor highway all the way from Seattle to Fairbanks, Alaska. The commissioners appointed by the President to study the feasibility of such a road have made some interesting discoveries about Fairbanks. It is exactly half way around the world from Petrograd, Russia, and only a little farther north. It is nearer to Japan and the Philippines than Honolulu is.

An extremely interesting map of the "top of the world" has been published in the connection by the U. S. Department of the Interior. It shows how the world would look if you could view it from a point directly above the North Pole. Anybody who wants a copy of that map can get it free by writing to Chief Clerk, Department of the Interior, Washington.

Alaska is going to be one of the important regions of the United States in time, and it is worth anybody's time to study it now.

WIND

German scientists have discovered that the effect of high winds on vegetation is to retard growth. Trying to find a way of protecting fruit trees, bushes, vegetables and flowers from the effects of wind, they tried screens made of ordinary wire netting such as is used for fly-screens. The effect was remarkable. The screen lets enough air through but breaks up a gale into a gentle breeze. It does not need to surround the plants, but only to protect them on the windward side.

Vegetation protected by screens of this sort are reported to have grown fifty per cent faster than those unprotected and to have yielded larger crops.

HOME HINTS

To get iron rust stains from an enameled sink, bleach them with a solution of oxalic acid. Repeat until the stain disappears, then rinse thoroughly.

When first teaching a little boy to dress and undress himself, it is a good plan to make all his trousers exactly alike so that he will always find the buttons and buttonholes in the same positions.

Apple betty and others made with fruit are usually popular with the family and are easy to prepare. Mix soft bread crumbs from the center of the loaf with enough melted butter to moisten, and place them in alternate layers with fruit, spices, and sugar in a baking dish. Serve hot or cold, with or without cream or hard sauce or custard. Apricots, prunes, and in season, rhubarb, make especially good "bottles."

Biscuit dough is useful in many ways other than hot bread. Fruit shortcakes of fresh or stewed fruits, chicken shortcake, crust for meat pie or fruit cobbler suggest some of these uses. Sweetened and spiced, with raisins or nuts or both added, biscuit dough is transformed into tea cakes. Pinwheel buns are made by sprinkling the surface of the rolled dough with sugar, cinnamon, nuts, and raisins, and then rolling it up, to be cut across like jelly roll. Sprinkle the tops of the pinwheels with more granulated sugar and bake.

To make jellied prunes, first cook the prunes as usual. Wash half a pound of plump prunes and soak them overnight in water to cover. Simmer until tender in the same water. Remove the stones and chop or cut the fruit very fine. Soak 2 tablespoons or one envelope of gelatin in one-half cup of cold water. Add 2 cups boiling water and stir

POULTRY TO IMPROVE

By D. H. Reid, Texas A. and M. Poultry Department

Poultry and egg prices will likely be higher this summer and fall. The great surplus of cold storage eggs will have to be absorbed by April and by June, Texas will be short of fertile eggs. This condition will enable the wide awake producer to get a higher price for his good eggs. Supplies of eggs in the United States change so quickly that many of those who study the market are predicting a good sale of eggs and pullets next fall and early winter. The cheap price of eggs has enabled many city people to eat more of them than when the prices were higher, so the surplus is being used up rapidly.

There is less dressed poultry in cold storage now by several million pounds than this time last year. A great many farmers have reduced their poultry flocks. These will have to be replaced, so pullets and broilers should bring good prices this season.

Farmers who raise their usual number of chickens this year will be well paid by their efforts.

RED CROSS IS OVER THE TOP

COUNTY QUOTA OF $100 FOR STARVING FARMERS IN DROUGHT STRICKEN AREA RAISED

Ochiltree county has gone over the top in the drive for the one hundred dollar quota which was assigned us as our part of the ten million dollar fund which is being raised by the American Red Cross for the relief of the starving thousands of people living in the drought stricken rural areas of the nation. Late Wednesday afternoon the fund reached the total of $101.50. The response of the people of this community has been very liberal and our quota was reached without any personal solicitations, every subscription being voluntary.

ANTI-SCHOOL BOND ADVERTISING WOULD GET VOTERS IN THE HERALD

Last week a circular was scattered broadcast over Perryton carrying a tirade against the bond issue proposal which will soon come before the voters of the Perryton Independent School District. The circular was printed outside the district and county. That's all right, although we would have appreciated the job and have done the work to the best of our ability, even though we disagreed heartily with every statement contained therein. Then the same circular is published as a display advertisement in a paper published in an adjoining county. Now if the promulgators of this anti-bond propaganda, which was unsigned, really desire to do some advertising in a newspaper which reaches the voters of the district, we would like to sell them some space in the Herald which we guarantee is read by at least ninety per cent of the voters of the district. We were very much surprised to even see this advertisement appear in the neighboring town paper, which by the way is none other than the Spearman Reporter. Our code of ethics about running a newspaper may be all warped, etc., but we most certainly would not have accepted such an advertisement from parties in the Spearman Independent School District if they had a bond issue fight up in the school affairs. In fact, when the recent bonds were voted by the very wise voters of the Spearman district for the building of their beautiful new school, the Herald run articles both before and after the election commending the move. The Herald also came out flatfooted for Spearman in their county seat fight with Gruver. We did this because we thought it was right and not for any money compensation. And, in return, at the first opportunity, the Spearman Reporter, for a few dollars, runs an advertisement that is an unjustified attack on Perryton and the Perryton school system.

Black P. T. A. Meets

Interesting Program is Rendered and Officers are Elected on January 27

The Black Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting January 27, at four o'clock. The house was called to order by the President, and the following program was rendered:

Song: Work for the Night is Coming—Audience

Prayer—Mrs. John Redus

Song: Welcome—High Room

Talk: Schools of Long Ago—John Redus

Song: Jesus Loves Me—Kathleen Grever

Song: Black School—High Room

Talk: Advantages of Schools Today—Mrs. W. A. Simmons

The business session was then called. The resignation of the president, Miss Alice Roberts, was accepted. Mrs. E. D. Clement was elected as the new president. Mrs. Alfred Cook was elected vice-president. A new program committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Ray Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Traylor. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Alfred Cook.

The next meeting will be held February 24. We urge that all parents in the community attend these meetings and help to make our P. T. A. a success.

Misses Alice Roberts and Viola Francis, teachers of the Black school, announce the following pupils as making the honor roll for the fifth month of school: Mary Ann Forbes, Willie Alice Forbes, Maggie Lee Belt, Rosa Lee Clement, Ruby Jo Simmons, Valney Skinner, and Kathleen Grever.

INFANT DIES

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Packett Thursday, January 29, to live only a few short hours. Burial was at the Ochiltree cemetery.

Pave Through Lipscomb

North Part of Lipscomb County to Form Road District and Vote on Bond Issue

It is almost a certainty that a special road district will be formed at once in the north part of Lipscomb county and a bond election called for the purpose of voting bonds to pave State highway No. 117 which runs east and west across the county from Booker, through Darrouzett and Pollett on to the Oklahoma line, where a connection with Oklahoma state highways leading on east to Woodward and Enid has been promised by the Oklahoma commission.

Word was received in Perryton that petitions circulated in Pollett calling for this election have been signed by 98 per cent of the voters of that part of the proposed district. Darrouzett and Booker have not been heard from but they are very enthusiastic concerning this route. W. F. Lampke, chairman of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce highway department; and W. W. Chilton, full time highway executive of the same body, were in this city Wednesday in the interest of this route.

A committee consisting of W. B. LaMaster, Geo. M. Perry and C. E. Whippo accompanied Mr. Chilton on to Darrouzett for a conference with the road boosters of that section. A similar committee from the Spearman Chamber of Commerce was in Booker today on a like mission. If Lipscomb county votes to pave No. 117, it will mean a paved highway from the Oklahoma line, east of Pollett, on west through Perryton, Spearman and Borger into Amarillo.

WAKA WITHDRAWAL CASE

Judge R. T. Correll, Judge Oscar C. Flowers and Chas. W. Callaway, president of the county board of education, were in Amarillo Wednesday where the appeal of the case wherein the Waka community desires to withdraw from the Perryton Independent School District was heard. Judge Pickens recently handed down a decision that under the present laws governing independent school districts no adequate method or procedure for cutting off a part of the district is provided. S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of the state school system, has advised local parties that legislation will be introduced and in all probability passed at the present term of the state legislature, providing for cutting up of independent school districts.

Fewer Paid Poll Tax

Sheriff's Office Reports Decline of Two Hundred Poll Taxes from 1930 Collections

Two hundred less people paid their poll taxes in Ochiltree county this year than in 1930, so states Sheriff J. S. Talley, whose office has charge of all county and state tax collections. A total of 1,260 polls was issued this year, while at the close of business on January 31, 1930, 1,459 poll taxes had been paid. The total is really above the average though, this year, taking into consideration the fact that this is an off year in both county and state politics. No elections will be held with the exception of Perryton city and school.

The poll taxes issued this year by precincts are as follows:

|-----------------------------|-----|
| No. 1, Courthouse           | 197 |
| No. 2, Huntoon              | 57  |
| No. 3, Lone Tree            | 28  |
| No. 4, Alfalfa              | 18  |
| No. 5, Notia                | 35  |
| No. 6, Tax                  | 18  |
| No. 7, Crowe                | 9   |
| No. 8, McMillen             | 28  |
| No. 9, Cedar Bluff          | 26  |
| No. 10, Black               | 48  |
| No. 11, Farnsworth          | 33  |
| No. 12, Waka                | 57  |
| No. 13, New Hope            | 32  |
| No. 14, Perryton, west side | 498 |

In addition to the above 176 polls were issued in the supplement roll book. These were people that were unassessed, most of them living in Perryton.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

For The Schools

The Perryton school was built that everyone who wished to send their children here would find the best that could be furnished in room and equipment. We would not refuse admittance to anyone even if it were in our power. About one hundred second grade pupils are now being taught in the church basements, and more will be crowded into other churches before we refuse our educational advantages to any one. (We are paying $90.00 per month rent for these basements. This would help take care of the bonds.)

Oklahoma does furnish school for its children, and good schools, too. As good as any four or five teacher schools can be made. The "Out-laying Schools" cannot have any better schools than Beaver county has. No rural community can support an affiliated high school. The Oklahoma people pay tuition in order to send their children to Perryton for the same reasons that most of the people on the bus lines want their children hauled to Perryton. The Oklahoma children are just as welcome in the Perryton school as the Perryton children. They have the same rights; they look the same, act the same, and take part in the same school activities. That state line is not a discriminating mark. The men who wrote the article stating that "Perryton should not take Oklahoma students" are absolutely wrong.

It has been hinted that men whose children have finished school and even young men who have graduated from our own high school will vote against the bonds. I do not believe it. I can not believe it. They know there are hundreds of other boys and girls who yet must travel this same road.

I saw in the movies a renegade prospector who poisoned the watering places and passed on so that no one could share the untold wealth beyond. That was only a picture. I do not believe a half-breed outlaw ever really did such a thing.

E. A. Records.

CEDAR BLUFF HONOR ROLL FOR JANUARY

Six pupils in the Cedar Bluff school were placed on the January honor roll for being perfect in attendance and school work. They are: first grade, Eli Unruh; second grade, Lois Flowers, Niel McGarraugh, Allison Unruh and Verna June Jantz; fourth grade, Thomas Swink.

Jim Bryant, bank customer, is in the Clarendon hospital in a serious condition from gunshot wounds received when he entered the First State Bank at Alanreed, seventy-five miles south of Perryton, while the bank was being held up Wednesday morning by two robbers. Bryant is hard of hearing and did not get his hands in the air when commanded. The loot is estimated at approximately $1,200. The robbers escaped going toward Oklahoma. A suspect, said to be from Borger, was arrested soon after the robbery, about seven miles south of Pampa. None of the loot was recovered.

WAKE UP...

..It's Time to Buy!

Prosperity is not dead in America ... it has simply been asleep ... dreaming bad dreams ... dreams of depression; of the fear of spending ... the delusion of hording. We've been in a lethargy from which only a real alarm could arouse us.

But we've heard the alarm now ... the alarm of stagnant business; factories with muted machinery and deplorable unemployment ... and we are ready now to get up and put our dollars to work.

No, prosperity is not dead. America still has its great natural and industrial resources ... its tremendous capital reserve, fertile land, immense saving deposits in the banks, the greatest industries in the world, the most skilled workmen, the highest percentage of home ownership, the highest percentage of literacy, the highest standards of living and the most cultivated desires for the better things in life.

It's time now for us to put activity back of our resources; to indulge our desires; to release the money we have been hording ... in other words to buy so that merchants can move their goods, place orders with the factories for more; enable the factories to employ more men and give to those men in wages, the means to buy what you yourself sell or produce.

But, we must all do our part in this buy now program. Don't wait for "George to do it" or George will wait for us and none of us will get anywhere. You start patronizing George today and George will start buying from Tom and Tom from Dick and Dick from Harry and Harry from you.

The question is merely an obsession ... a confession of fear ... a compression on the pulse of prosperity that stops the circulation of money. And money is just as important in the life of business as the circulation of blood is in the life of the human body.

The merchants of Perryton are making it easier for you to buy ... they are making your shopping dollar reach further than it has for years ... they are readjusting prices to conform with the reduced market prices of farm products. Look over the Dollar Day advertisements in this paper. The prices will convince you.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

The church is but the means of helping men and women, boys and girls to find God and salvation. Jesus at no time commanded his followers to build a building and form an organization, such as so common today to teach some special doctrine and practice. In fact, Jesus especially commanded that they teach only His words and the disciples followed that command. Today we find monuments of wood and stone erected to propitiate some peculiar doctrine and that are manned by men who teach that if you do not do as they say you will be damned eternally. Too many churches are just societies for social purposes and folks trying to get ahead of the other fellow rather than trying to do God a service and save souls from sin.

As an institution the Christian Church wishes to wear only the name of Christ and teach only what he taught and ask the people to practice only what he definitely commanded to practice and we are here to say right now that membership in or out of the Christian church will have little to do with your personal salvation if your life is not lived in accordance with the commands of Jesus who saves from sin.

Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. The teachers and officers are trying to give the best service possible. Come and bring the whole family and enjoy this service.

Preaching and communion at 11 a. m. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Horizons," the second in a series on this subject. You will enjoy this service.

The Christian Endeavors will meet at 6:45 p. m. rather than at 6:30 as we have formerly been meeting. A good lesson for all. Junior upstairs and the Senior society down stairs.

Evening preaching service at 7:30. Following an orchestra concert and some rousing songs, the pastor will bring a message that will be enjoyed by all. Our house was practically full last Sunday evening and we invite you to come and bring your friends and fill her "chuck" full. You will not have to apologize for our service in any way. It begins on time and closes on time. This church opens its doors to serve humanity. You are welcome. L. O. Byerly, pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The lesson-sermon subject was "LOVE" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, February 1.

The golden text was from Jeremiah 31:3. "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

Included in the service was the following passage from the Bible (Romans 13:8): "Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for that loveth another hath fulfilled the law."

The lesson-sermon also included the following citation from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good." (p. 518.)

LUTHERAN CHURCH NOTES

Colonel Roosevelt's Mistake During the Spanish War, Colonel Roosevelt commanded a regiment of rough riders in Cuba. He became much attached to his men and was greatly concerned when a number of them fell sick.

Hearing that Miss Clara Barton (the lady who devoted herself to the work of nursing the wounded soldiers) had received a supply of delicacies for the invalids under her care, Colonel Roosevelt requested her to sell a portion of them to him for the sick men of his regiment.

His request was refused. The Colonel was very much troubled, he cared for his men and was willing to pay for the supplies out of his own pocket. "How can I get these things?" he asked. "I must have proper food for my sick men." "Just ask for them, Colonel," the lady replied. "Oh!" said Roosevelt, his face breaking into a smile, "that is the way, is it? Then I do ask for them." And he got them at once.

How often Roosevelt's mistake is repeated in connection with the matter of salvation! People seem to expect to receive it in exchange for something that they can offer: some kind act, some good work, some religious observance, etc. Now, the truth is that God's salvation can be had only as a free gift. No man could earn it in the smallest degree, however hard and long he might try. God will not sell His blessing at any price. But God is prepared to meet the sinner with His hands full of richest blessings if only the sinner will come with empty hands to receive it. For "the gift of God

TEACHER

Luke 6:27-42

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

A new term had been used when Jesus proclaimed the Kingdom of God. He set forth the principles of that Kingdom in all of His addresses but especially in the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew 5, 6, 7. It is thought that this great message was repeated in briefer statements in the Sermon on the Plain, from which this lesson study is taken. Give careful attention to all the items in Luke 6 for they have much to say about daily living.

Listeners must have been amazed at the nature of the teaching. In the past they had been urged to take an "eye for an eye" and if strength permitted they would probably seek to give back with added interest when an injury had been done. Now this positivist says "love your enemies."

is eternal life through Jesus Christ, our Lord." Rom. 6:23.

Divine services Sunday morning at 10:30. Sermon subject, "The Growth of Christianity." German service at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Come and worship with us. A hearty welcome and a worthwhile message awaits you.

Our weekly reminder: The Lutheran Hour over Columbia System every Thursday at 9 p. m.

H. W. Hartenberger,

Such direction must have caused about as much amazement as the miracles which held the people spell-bound. In fact no limit is set upon the kindly attitude and active help for all who had sought it to injure them. After doing all they could, they were advised to "pray for them and despitely use you." What we call charity was to be dispensed with real kindness. Such teachings have an application today as we are importuned by the needy and worthy who are hungry because of lack of employment.

Some profound truths are hard to understand. Jesus, however, made His meaning very clear in our Golden Text. We call it the Golden Rule. Note that it is positively stated and not in a negative form as presented by the philosopher Confucius. AS YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE ALSO TO THEM LIKEWISE.

A St. Louis woman who was summoned for non-payment of income tax wrote her regrets to the collector, explaining she had been on the "dole" since last April.

Then, he suddenly finds that health is a fleeting thing and that his is lost, so that he CAN'T INSURE his life.

He pays for his neglect in worry, and his family may pay for his neglect in poverty.

LATEST ARE PRESS FILMS
About two years ago, this star of the Broadway stage decided that she wanted to get parts in the movies. Accordingly she took a trip to Astoria where "Gentlemen of the Press" was in prospect as the next full-length production. She took a screen test and passed favorably, but was told that in casting for this play, the director wanted a blond to perform opposite Walter Huston, who is a brunet.

But they didn't find the blond type they wanted—and so Miss Francis, whose hair is raven-black and whose eyes are steely-grey, was given the chance to appear as the lissom and siren-like secretary in the play.

She accomplished the task so well and with such insouciant ease that she was assigned to further film duties in Hollywood. She is now on a featured players contract as a result of her fine work and increasing popularity with the film fans.

Among her more important films are "Street of Chance," and "For the Defense" with William Powell; "Raffles" with Ronald Colman; "The Virtuous Sin" with Walter Huston, and "Scandal Sheet," with George Bancroft.

"Scandal Sheet" is her most recent picture. It is a thrilling tale about a ruthless, hard-driving managing editor of a tabloid daily who has no scruples about publishing anything that's news, whether it damages reputations, or not.

As the wife of Bancroft, the hard-fisted editor, Miss Francis has the leading supporting role in the film.

latest picture, "No Limit," which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Wednesday next. Heading the cast in the role of leading man is Norman Foster, who played the title part in "Young Man of Manhattan."

The others are Stuart Erwin, Dixie Lee and Harry Green.

Erwin has achieved renown as a purveyor of vacuum-brained roles in "Sweetie," "Dangerous Dan McGrew," "Young Eagles," "Along Came Youth," "Playboy of Paris," and "Only Saps Work."

Dixie Lee was a famous exponent of "The Varsity Drag" in the original New York company of "Good News."

Harry Green was seen and heard in support of Miss Bow in "True to the Navy." He has played dialect comedy parts in "The Kibitzer," "Close Harmony," "Why Bring That Up?" "The Man I Love" and "The Spoilers."

Ina Claire, whose attitude for mimicry in the Ziegfield Follies in 1915 attracted the attention of David Belasco and thus gained for her a prominent place among the younger stars of the stage, will be seen and heard in her first Paramount talking picture, "The Royal Family of Broadway," at the Ellis Theatre on Monday next.

Miss Claire was born in Washington, D. C., 36 years ago. She made her first appearance as a performer at the age of four years at an amateur show in her home town. After long experience at "trouping" on the vaudeville stages of the country and in musical shows, she became a Belasco star.

One of her most famous stage roles was the title part in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney."

She is the wife of John Gilbert, movie star, whom she married in 1929.

TAXES PAID

February 15, the final date for payment without any interest added. Under the new deferred tax bill, taxes not paid before October 15, will become delinquent and subject to a five per cent penalty. Interest at the rate of ten per cent will be charged from February 1 until October 15, unless paid sooner. After October 15, the interest rate is six per cent. Payments of one-half or more can be made at any time. This same law applies to Perryton Independent School District taxes. In 1930, the state and county collections were $97,376.35 with a total of $102,623.76 on the rolls. Mrs. Luther Wade, collector of taxes for the Perryton Independent School District reports that her office collected $68,543.64 out of a total of $80,920.38 on the rolls. Only three took advantage of the one-half payment privilege. In 1930 this office collected $70,924.61 with $74,771.38 on the rolls.

The total amount collected by J. C. Beever, collector of the taxes for the city of Perryton was slightly higher this year than it was in 1930, but there was a much larger amount of taxes on the rolls. This year's collections were $27,290.22, with a total roll of $37,904.92. Mr. Beever states that 113 one-half payment tax receipts were issued in his office. City deferred tax payment plan as approved by the city council for this year provides for one-half payment payable before February 1, with the balance due on or before June 30, deferred balance to bear six per cent interest. In 1930 the city tax roll was $28,763.16, of which $26,310.09 was paid before February 1.

The Spearman Drug Co. is a new store, being located in the new McLain building, which was erected about a year ago by the McLain brothers, former Perryton young men and sons of T. P. McLain of this city. The store has been closed for several weeks but Mr. Ball expects to have everything in readiness for opening tomorrow. Spearman will find in Mr. Ball a very competent and obliging druggist, as well as a booster for the town.

MODERN SMALL TOWN MAY EXPECT GROWTH

By George B. Bowra from the San Juan Review, Aztec, N. M.

We of the small town swallow twice, our hearts turn over a couple of times and we wonder what is becoming of our investments. Our mind drifts to the story—"The Turtle"—we may be slow but we are not lost yet. We dismiss the thought as "bunk" and go on our way.

I am the exception of all rules, as long as there is anything to worry about I'll do my share of the worrying. Started this entertaining pastime several years ago and still at it. I picked out a number of small towns and centered my attention on watching the welfare of a chosen few. A few towns were in high gear and others appeared to be reverse gear.

I have read that behind every business that keeps up with the times is an individual that keeps ahead of the times.

I applied this principle to the towns. If it was true of the individual, why would it not be true of the small town? My survey supplied me with a great deal of interest and kept my worrying cell working at full capacity.

The recent census enumeration of the picked towns did not in the least surprise me. I had watched the towns closely and had learned that the principle I was working on applied as much to the small town as to the individual.

Of the small towns under my observation, only three had made a remarkable showing during the past six years. The three winning the medal are those that have kept ahead of the times.

One of the picked towns is just about to be patted in the face with a spade. Its citizens do not seem to worry over the future. They are content with things as they are. The population has decreased more than half during the past ten years, according to government figures. The town is not modern, it is handicapped because of that. It has a tourist attraction but tourists do not linger long as they cannot be made comfortable while in town. Service at the stores is anything but efficient. Stocks are incomplete—in fact the town is "doomed" because it does not keep up with the times.

Two hundred miles from the "doomed" neighbor is another town. It has no tourist attraction, has no railroad, no capital at hand to advance with, yet during five years it has more than doubled its population because it has kept up with the times. The citizens of this town are not content with things as they are. They are continually shouting for better highways, better buildings, better schools, modern conveniences and the merchants are carrying larger stocks. They are not crying about chain stores or other competitors; they have united and are using cooperative buying and selling methods. Every citizen is awake and fighting to keep ahead of the times.

Another town under my "worrying" list has a tourist attraction. The town advertises the fact and reaps a big dollar harvest annually from the tourist trade. In advertising the tourist "mecca" they bring forth the fact that visitors can get modern entertainment, stay at modern hotels, and camp grounds, and buy supplies from large stores. They extend a cordial invitation to the tourists to visit town. The invitation is accepted nine times out of ten.

The foundation of a small town is built upon the number of people living there, how they make their living and what keeps the town going.

If it happens to be a small town in a farming community then its majority revenue to the merchants must come from the farmers' trade. The merchant is to receive the farmers' business he must compete with the larger towns and cities in variety of stock.

Price is not a big factor these days. If a farmer must go elsewhere for a certain article he will

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH

High taxes are the subject of much conversation, but, as Mark Twain remarked about the weather, in spite of all the talk nothing is done about it.

It would seem that a large proportion of our legislators, both national and state, lie awake nights thinking up new ways in which to spend the taxpayer's money and new measures for increasing the tax burden.

Every session of Congress or of a state legislature sees the advocacy of new schemes, usually successful, for the creation of additional commissions, bureaus and other agencies for the spending of public moneys, besides the extension of those already in existence. While it can not be denied that a reasonable number of commissions and bureaus are necessary to the proper functioning of government, many of them might well be curtailed or dispensed with altogether.

With the prospect of a serious deficiency in the revenues of both national and state governments, it would seem that some care with respect to increased appropriations might be expected. But, strangely enough, much legislative activity is directed toward the further hampering of the very businesses and industries which are most heavily taxed already, and upon whose prosperity government revenues largely depend.

This situation will prevail until the taxpayers themselves call a halt by relegating to private life those legislators who persist in supporting indefensible raids upon the public treasury.

RED SQUILL POWDER IS SAFEST POISON FOR RATS

An onionlike plant that grows wild along the Mediterranean coast produces the safest rat poison yet known. It is called red squill, and it produces large bulbs that are made into the red-squill powder that has proved so effective in killing rats. So says a leaflet on "Red-Squill Powder in Rat Control" just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Red squill had been known in European for many years, says the leaflet, but apparently its use had not become popular, owing to extreme variation in the toxicity of the products available. Studies by the Bureau of Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, however, showed that drying red-squill bulbs under controlled temperature conditions, makes it possible to produce a powder that is uniformly poisonous. The powder, although effective in destroying rats, does not seriously endanger other animal life. Reports of the progress of the investigation and the excellent results obtained in the early stages stimulated interest and powdered red squill was placed on the American market in 1926, and in five years these products have taken a leading place among rat poisons.

More than a year ago the department published a Technical Bulletin, Red Squill Powders as Raticides, giving in detail the results of the investigations. The new leaflet summarizes in popular form the technical bulletin and give directions for preparing and exposing red-squill baits for rat control. It also discusses the effect of red squill on animals other than rats, showing that this poison is relatively harmless to human being and domestic animals. As a test, one of the authors of the leaflet swallowed 15 grains of a toxic red-squill powder with no apparent harm, and later took 40 grains, which caused nausea and vomiting within 15 minutes, but no other effect. "Red-squill powder when mixed with food in concentration recommended for rat control is not likely," it is stated, "to cause serious harm to farm animals in good health. It is possible that the irritant may cause death under certain conditions; so far as possible, therefore, red-squill baits for rats should be kept out of reach of other animals."

Copies of Leaflet 65-L, just published may be obtained free on request to the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and copies of the longer report, Technical Bulletin 134-T, may be purchased for 19 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Recent statistics show the percentages of the corn crop devoted to various purposes, concluding with the item, "other uses, 3 per cent." And that 3 per cent makes jobs for about 75 per cent of the enforcement officers.

Sleep on, dear brother, thy peaceful sleep.

No sleep hath earth so sweet; Thine here 'mid gloom we moan and weep.

But in heaven again we'll meet. Asleep on Jesus' breast, all care and trials o'er.

Asleep until the best awake on Canaan's shore.

"At the End of Day"—Jacob C. Regier

The Great Bright Sun is setting With its glory in the West;

And we are not forgetting That it is all for the best.

All day long we have labored With our hands in the soil;

But we know we'll be rewarded For our weary life-long toil.

As we look to glory Of gold in the west;

Let us forget all our worries As we go to our rest.

Let us be without troubles, Let us be without care;

For there is a great helper Who will all our troubles share.

seems to be much said concerning the congestion in the Perryton schools and, as a sure remedy, the following:

Your school trucks each carry twenty-five pupils in the City of Perryton. Twenty or twenty-five pupils in the grades; send one truck to Lone Tree, New Hope, North and Ochiltree, and give children a whiff of good pure air. This will make life living to these eighty to one town tots and relieve the congestion in the metropolis of the school district. "Oh, yes," you exclaim. Yes, yes, so, I'll admit, but not more than the erection of these buildings at a huge cost to taxpayers and then proceed to all the school children from the very shadow of these trucks to Perryton to crowd out who are justly entitled to them in the high school.

There would be no necessity for bond election during these times if a more business method was used in handling education as it exists today. We have now, ample school room for every pupil in the district properly utilized. The same of teachers could handle the perfectly.

There is no time to heap an additional burden upon the shoulders of already overburdened tax payers. Many of the business concerns of this district do exceedingly well if they are a mere living the corner, much less to take on an additional burden of six thousand annually for the next twenty years.

Board of Directors say "It is better that these bonds can be without any increase in taxes." I swallow this with a grain of salt. Such statements have been made before, but to my certain knowledge none of them have proved.

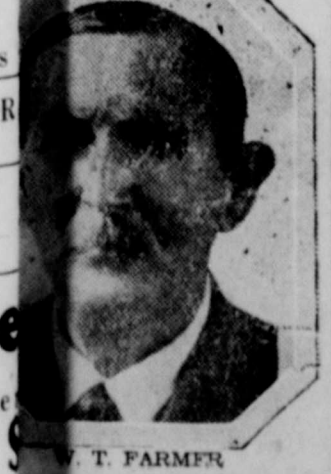

Comments like these are misleading, in as much as there has been thirty odd miles of pipe laid to the taxable valuation of this Independent School district. Such taxes as paid by these districts can well be applied on reduction of our 1931 taxes. People get the idea that to reduce would be a crime. It would be a reduction of salaries of fifteen to five per cent. Likewise, and truck drivers. The pro-dollar has shrunken down to cent piece, and can no longer on a 100 per cent basis. I to be in the employee of Sam," the State of Texas, and Independent School District coming twelve months and my 1931 taxes are paid. I fifty cents left, any of you enthusiasts are welcome to it. At any rate, I am to the school bonds until through the present depression.

Signed,
W. M. Shrader.

Let Uncle Sam Pay The World War Veteran Now

The American people owe to the soldiers and sailors who saved their country for them in the great war the sum of about $2,700,000,000.

When the war ended the government owed nearly everybody money. It paid the railroads. It paid the shipbuilders. It paid war contractors and war profiteers.

It even decided that about $8,000,000,000 it had lent to foreign nations could be considered as a gift.

Then it reluctantly got around to paying its service men.

Having got rid of the contractors and profiteers, and written off a few billions of foreign debts, it generously decided that its fighters could wait until 1945 for their money.

Some people, like Mr. Mellon of the United States Treasury, call this payment a "bonus." It isn't, it's back pay.

Everyone has been paid—except the men who made any sort of payment at all possible, by risking their lives. Of course, with Mr. Mellon and his pals, they don't count. They were just poor dubs who didn't know any better than to be patriotic instead of "profitable."

Congress now has before it a proposal to pay this long-overdue debt to somewhere around 2,000,000 ex-service men.

Here's what it would do: It would put millions of dollars into circulation.

This would help to build up, at once, the per capita amount of money in the country. It used to be $53.01 in 1920. Today, it's only $35.90, a decrease of $17.11 in 10 years.

The government can borrow money for less than 2 per cent cheaper than ever before. Paying adjusted compensation now, instead of waiting until 1945, would be good business from any standpoint.

The money the government owes would, if paid out, filter at once into trade channels. It would be spent most of it. It would put men to work; it would put busted ex-service men back on their feet; it might, quite probably, mark the first wave of a tide of returning prosperity.

The Nation through Congress should pay this debt—and pay it as soon as possible, disregarding the pained exclamations of Mr. Mellon, who after all, does know where his next meal is coming from.—Portland, (Ore.) News.

Poverty Is Decreasing

In United States Yet Ninety Per Cent of Nation's Wealth Is Owned by Few

FORT WORTH, Jan. 27.—"Absolute misery and destitution are on the decrease, and have been decreasing throughout the whole of modern history, if we expect periods in which civil anarchy or international war prevailed," says Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, head of the department of economics of Texas Christian University.

"Statistics seem to indicate, however," he points out, "to a definite shift in the direction prosperity is taking. The men with moderate incomes are fewer and those with decidedly large incomes are greater. The problem is the resulting inequality of distribution."

In pointing out that the resources of the United States are abundant, Dr. Elliott quotes figures showing that the United States, with only 6 per cent of the world's population and 7 per cent of the world's land, has production of commodities such as copper, corn, oil, cotton, coal, etc., ranging from 40 to 75 per cent of the world's production.

"However, 87 per cent of the inhabitants of the United States own only 10 per cent of the nation's wealth," he points out. "This 87 per cent is widely inclusive. It is made up of land owning farmers, small business men, professional people, teachers, social workers, etc. To those who belong to it, it is America. Yet it participates in only 10 per cent of the wealth of America."

Dr. Elliott gives some of the forces promoting the concentration of the maldistribution of wealth as the institution of inheritance, unearned increment in land, the coming of big business, war, and economic inertia.

"Some of the social consequences of the less general distribution of wealth which may result are: Class consciousness, crime and prostitution," he indicates.

While cleaning windows three stories above the street in New York City, Andrew Stone, colored, fell and crashed through the roof, but was only slightly bruised.

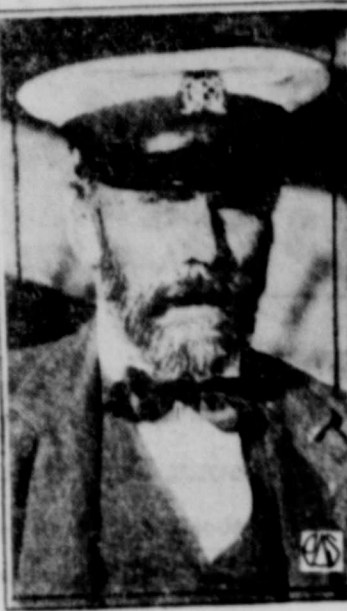

Baseball umpires were first employed in 1879, shortly after which necessity mothered the invention of pop bottles.

As a topic for conversation, prohibition appears to have achieved the lead over operations, but still runs second to the weather.

Peggy Joyce asserts that she is being a very good girl, citing as proof the fact that she hasn't married anyone for three or four years.

The Way of Life

"See How Wrong You've Been"

In England I talked with some celebrated economists who were very gloomy. They said the fundamental trouble with world goes deeper than war debts or unemployment. It is the shortage of gold.

Gold is the measure of all values. When the gold dollars are few each dollar buys more wheat and copper and cotton and labor. So the price of all these commodities goes down, ruining the producers in the process. If the shortage becomes much more acute, so these wise men argued, it will overturn all wage scales and debt settlements, and result in economic chaos.

As I know nothing about economics (and, between ourselves, I often wonder whether the economists know very much), this scared me.

The next day I was talking with Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, who was in London as one of the delegates to the Naval Conference. I told him what I had heard.

Instead of replying directly he took down the mantle-piece copy of the autobiography of Lord Curzon, and turned to a passage which read something like this:

"When I was a young man I proposed to keep a diary, but wise old uncle advised against it. Instead of recording what had happened, he said I could employ my time more profitably by writing down on a piece of paper what I felt sure was going to happen. Then, he said, 'Put those notes away, and a year or five years later get them out and read them over, and see how wrong you have been. This will teach you to be cautious.'"

What shrewd advice that is! All of us could profit by it. I know that if I had written down my own private forecast at the beginning of

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

HEREDITY

Thinking people evolve theories, based on a more or less extensive period of observation; but theories are not always facts. It is a common education among people to believe that, because a parent was afflicted with a certain fatal disease, his child or children were in line for the same terrible calamity; and many distress themselves in this belief.

The fact is, the tendency, not the disease, may be inherited. Human tissue differs in certain families, much as the plants about us differ in individual texture. Certain woods decay quicker than others; this is true of the human structure as well.

Perhaps the most tenable theory today is, that mental disorders are strongly hereditary. Within a certain limitation this seems to be true; yet, it does not always prove out that insanity is positively hereditary; I have known several instances where parents that died insane, left children of brilliant and lasting mentality. Dear reader, if you have had the regrettable fact of an insanity among your immediate ancestors or near relatives, the very best thing for you to do is, to forget it right now! In other words, you may work an unspeakable harm to your own sensitive nervous system, by torturing yourself constantly with the thought of when you must in all likelihood, go the same each year and filed it away it would have saved me from making a number of costly mistakes.

Also, the record would make rather encouraging reading. It would show that a considerable amount of unanticipated good luck has come into my life.

And that many of the bad things which I predicted for myself and the country have never actually happened.

way! Your tendency, if any, can be overcome by self-discipline. Do not over-tax a delicate nerve structure. Your nervous system will last for full time, if you do not urge it beyond its strength to bear. The sheet on which I am writing may outlast the strongest sole-leather, if it is taken care of for what it will stand.

The overcoming of tendency is possible always. Keep away from the causes of break-down, whether it be body or mind. Worry is one of the most potent causes of insanity. The man with a "tendency" mustn't worry—remember that, and, live out your full expectation.

A FEW FACTS ON THE USE OF LARD

As a shortening agent lard stands at the top of the list of fats. Because lard contains relatively small amounts of the harder constituents of fats, it has a moderately low melting point and so is easily handled in the preparation of doughs. This is one of the reasons why many housewives prefer it to harder fats for shortening purposes, especially in cold weather.

Another and perhaps a still better reason than ease in handling is the fact that lard gives the tenderest and flakiest of all pie crusts. And what home-maker is not interested in turning out a tender, flaky piece of pastry?

Lard has a mild flavor which is always an asset in a shortening. It may be used satisfactorily in cake making, especially in spice cake. When lard is substituted for butter, the amount of fat called for in the recipe should be decreased one-eighth, the liquid should be increased slightly, and the cake batter should be well beaten.

At present price levels, lard is by far the most economical shortening agent on the market.

BAKED CUSTARD ALWAYS POPULAR WITH CHILDREN

By Grace Viali Gray
Radio Home Economics Authority

Baked custard with its variations has many points in its favor as a simple and nutritious dessert. It is quickly and easily made and can be prepared several hours before serving, a point which every housekeeper will appreciate. Mothers will find that children who do not like milk and eggs as such will usually accept them eagerly in the form of custard.

Eggs and milk, the foundations of custard, are two of the best foods possible for growing youngsters. Eggs are full of vitamins and sunshine; they help the child to grow and keep him well. Furthermore, they are an inexpensive food, especially at the present when egg prices are at the lowest levels in years.

An ideal custard is of a firm, jelly-like consistency with a smooth texture. This consistency depends upon two factors—first, the correct proportion of eggs and second, the baking temperature.

Experience has proved that one egg to one cupful of milk is the right proportion for individual custards, and six eggs to one quart of milk if it is baked as one large custard. Sweetening and flavoring are matters of taste and so may be varied to suit individual preference.

It is not well to make the custard very sweet for the children. The occasional use of brown or maple sugar or honey in place of granulated sugar gives a flavorsome variation.

Here is a splendid recipe for baked custard:

4 to 6 eggs (if individual custards, use 4 eggs; if one large custard, use 6 eggs.)
1-4 to 1-2 cup sugar.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
1 quart milk (4 cups).
1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
This is how you make it. Beat eggs only enough to mix well; next, blend in sugar and salt. Last, stir in milk and flavoring and strain. Grease custard cups slightly so custards will unmold quite easily when cold. Place filled cups in shallow pan containing about half an inch of warm water as a protection against the custard's reaching boiling temperature.

It is usually due to the wrong baking temperature that many a custard proves to be a disappointment. Egg and milk mixtures require a low temperature to prevent curdling.

So bake custards slowly at 325 degrees F.—about 40 minutes if individual custards or 75 minutes if large custard. Remove them from the oven when cooked, as excess cooking will cause curdling. A good test is to dip a silver knife in water and then insert it in the center of the custard. If the knife comes out clean, the custard is cooked; if the knife is coated, longer cooking is necessary. The individual custards when unmolded may be served plain or with sliced fruit or berries.

Brazilian Beauty

LESS-USED MEAT CUTS AND THRIFT

The thrifty homemaker, who is at the same time a good cook, is quick to recognize the advantage of the less-demanded meat cuts. The meat dishes suggested below by Inez S. Wilson, home economist, fill the demands of the good cook and the good manager.

Hot Spiced Tongue

Boil, skin, and trim a good-sized beef tongue. Rub the surface well with one-half teaspoon ginger and one teaspoon allspice. Slice a small onion and fry it in butter. Dress the tongue with flour and brown it in the onion seasoned butter. Put in a casserole. Make a sauce by blending one teaspoon flour with the fat in the pan and adding one cup stock, the juice of one lemon and one-half cup seeded raisins. Pour this sauce over the tongue and bake thirty minutes.

Breaded Breast of Lamb

Cook a breast of lamb in water der. Drain, remove the bones and press under a heavy weight until cold. Cut into pieces convenient for serving. Dip each piece in melted butter or salad oil. Season with salt and pepper, then dip in fine crumbs and fry in fat until nicely browned.

Mock Goose
Parboil a leg of pork and remove the skin. Rub with butter, sprinkle with powdered sage, salt, pepper, bread crumbs, and finely minced onion. Roast in a moderate oven until tender and nicely browned. Bake a well-seasoned bread dressing in the pan with the pork. Serve with fried apple rings.

Dreams are real to Alex Schoeffler of Flint, Mich., who awoke from a vision of his house in flames the other night and saw no fire but sent in an alarm just the same.

LEARN TO JUDGE QUALITY IN MEATS

With a little practice the housewife soon can become able to judge the quality of meat to a helpful extent. Meat animals vary as to breed, age, sex, size, and condition. This naturally results in different grades of meat. The feed on which the animal has been raised also has a strong bearing on the quality of the meat which it yields. For example, meat from a steer which has been fed practically nothing but grass and forage will not be so choice as that from a corn and silage fed steer.

Beef
The thickness of the lean meat and the depth of the fat are general indications of quality in all kinds of meat. Choice beef has a smooth, uniform outside covering of clear white fat. The lean should be of a light red color. It is finely marbled; that is there is a mixture of fat through the lean flesh. The medium grades are slightly darker in color and the marbling in the lean flesh is not quite so pronounced. The percentage of bone to meat is higher in the plain grades than in the better ones.

Veal
Veal should be less firm than good beef, and pink in color, rather than red. The fat should be almost clear white and the lean less marbled than that of choice beef.

Pork
Pork should be a dark pink and the fat less firm than that of either beef or lamb. It should cut easily and the fat should be smooth and pure white, and not so hard as beef.

Lamb
The lean part of lamb should be a pale or light dull red and quite firm. The fat should be creamy white and firm.

All meats should be firm to the touch and elastic.

School News
The Notla School has just recently purchased a set of books, "The Book of Knowledge." As our library was very small, we surely appreciate this addition. The students have no thought for idleness now, and are more enthusiastic about their work.

Health is a subject which children dislike if it is "preached" at them, so we are using this plan for establishing the correct health habits: We have a picture of a castle made of stones which we call our "House of Good Health." We select ten health rules, and each pupil that observes all of them, gets to color a stone. A report is made each morning, and so far we've only missed two mornings having a hundred per cent room.

The third grade have been studying Thrift and the following is a short essay on "Spending and Saving" by Annabell Cox:
Some people who have money spend it very foolishly. They buy things of little value, just to satisfy their desire for alcohol, tobacco, and other unnecessary things. They waste money on shaves, conveniences, and plays while their families go without the necessities of life. Other people spend to "show off" before their neighbors. Knowing how to spend is an art and everyone should spend his money to the greatest advantage.

We find that the squirrels and other animals lay up their store of food so they will have plenty to eat during the winter. We should follow their example and save a part of what we make for "a rainy day."

WEEKLY SERMON*Looking Forward

"We view the world with our own eyes, each of us, and we make from within us the world which we see." —Thackeray.

"It is the habitual thought that frames itself into our life. It affects us even more than our intimate social relations do." —J. W. Teal.

"As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." —Bible.

The foregoing quotations readily open a line of thought that would be profitable to all. In the rush and hurry of modern life we take too little time for the study and thinking out necessary to successful living. Our life is bounded by the little cares and the small duties of our own personal life and we are fretted with so many cares of our own that we fail to look far enough ahead to take into consideration the final and the perfect working out of life. We strive for some issue or fight to accumulate and when we have won we find we have missed entirely the great and the valuable. We missed it and lost out because we were not careful as we went along. Life comes to each of us but once. We can never live over nor can we erase the record once made. It should then be our great desire to make each day as right and perfect as possible that there be no regrets.

There are some people I have found in Perryton like every other place I have lived that were born in the objective case and destined seemingly by fate to live with the minority at all times. Their thinking capacity is very limited. Being so, their value to the community is limited. Too many times we hide behind the fact that there are two sides to any question. Surely, a right and a wrong side. Beware lest you be found on the wrong side.

Friends, if your community is not right remember that the greatest teacher that ever lived said "as we are in our hearts." Not the other fellow's heart but our own. Right will predominate and eventually win out. If your life is lived fighting against right it is a lost life even in the living. You may say what you please concerning the church and christianity. I'll admit that our "denominational" churches have centered their attention on "that which is not bread" and that they are weak and frail and very human. But, I'm here to remind you that they are all we have and if the world is ever saved in time or eternity it will be saved through the church.

Perryton's business men are disgracing the privilege of personal liberty and throwing away a golden opportunity of helping to build a greater city when they refuse to enter into congenial relationships with the established churches of our community. Business men who work needlessly on Sunday, who disgrace the day by lazily laying in bed, who plan all manner of vacations, who hunt and fish and otherwise destroy the opportunity to look up and onward toward a more perfect life are but laying the foundation for commercial and economic failure and the destruction that has come throughout all ages to the people, the city or the nation that forgot God.

As the pastor of one of our churches, I ask that you study carefully the truth advanced in the quotations heading this article and that you do your part to help build for security among the generations to come by building secure today. Personal liberty that is irresponsible is impossible in a people who look ahead. If you can pay the bill for your carelessness, if you can take away the wrong you do, if my friends, you can save yourself, go ahead and do as you please but if you cannot save yourself and must depend on others and on God, then act like a thinking, responsible person should.

CHAMPLIN REFINING COMPANY Plaintiff
No. 138
L. O. Street Defendant
VS.
THE DISTRICT COURT, OCHILTREE COUNTY, TEXAS
The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Ochiltree County—GREETING:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Ochiltree once in each week for four consecutive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, you summon L. O. Street, who is alleged to be a non-resident of the State of Texas, to be and appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Ochiltree County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in the City of Perryton, Texas, on the third Monday in February, A. D. 1931, the same being the 16th day of February, A. D. 1931, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 14th day of January, A. D. 1931, in a suit, numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 138 wherein CHAMPLIN REFINING COMPANY, is plaintiff, and L. O. Street is defendant; the nature of plaintiff's demand being substantially, as follows, to-wit:

Suit upon contract alleged to have been executed on or about June 1, 1927, which is in writing, in which the defendant contracted with plaintiff to erect certain equipment on Lots 8 and 9, in Block A, in the town of Farnsworth, Ochiltree county, Texas, charging that defendant represented himself to be the owner of said lots; the equipment to be placed on said lots, under said contract being certain storage tanks from which petroleum products manufactured by the plaintiff could be distributed; said defendant being unable to finance such installation, and plaintiff being desirous of establishing an agency, it was provided in said contract that defendant would lease said lot 9 for a term of three years from June 1, 1927, and that the consideration for rent of said lot being the desire of the defendant to secure the installation of storage tanks aforesaid; Plaintiff agreeing to locate two large tanks of 11,000 gallon capacity same to be done not later than June 1, 1927, defendant agreeing to purchase said equipment at its original cost plus freight and expense of installation, as well as all other equipment that might be furnished for the operation of said station during the life of said contract.

Furthermore, providing that if defendant failed to purchase said equipment that he would convey said lot with good title for the sum of $200.00, and would further lease the service station contracted to be put on Lot 8 under said contract to plaintiff for a period of five years, the defendant having contracted to place a service station on Lot 8, the same to be done not later than June 1, 1927.

Plaintiff charges that thru mutual mistake and error Lot 9 was specified in said contract, and the same should have read lot 10, and that Lot 8 was specified when the same should have read Lot 9; that said storage equipment was actually placed upon Lot 10, and the service station on Lot 9, plaintiff charging that said mistake is apparent upon the face of said contract.

Plaintiff charges defendant as being fully advised of such mutual error and mistake aforesaid, and well knowing and being fully advised that the equipment specified in said contract had been placed upon Lots 8 and 10 in accordance with the terms of said contract at his special instance and request, the defendant breached said contract and placed it beyond his power to comply with the same as to conveying title to said Lot 10, in that he has conveyed said Lot away by general warranty deed, thereby parting with the title.

Plaintiff charges further that defendant, as owner of the lots, was familiar with the location, their numbers and legal description, and plaintiff, its agents or employees executing said contract were unfamiliar with same, and that they relied upon the representations of defendant as to proper description and location of said property and placed said equipment according to his direction on Lot 10, as directed by defendant, and plaintiff did not discover said mistake in the legal description of said property until the expiration of the term of said contract. That it has made demand upon defendant to comply with said contract, either by purchasing said equipment or conveying said property, which he has failed and refused to do and still fails and refuses to do.

Plaintiff charges that it placed upon said property, under the terms of said contract and in strict compliance therewith, said tanks and the equipment aggregating the sum of $418.00, for which it sues defendant in this behalf, together with interest from June 1, 1930, at six per cent. Plaintiff charges that said contract was executed in duplicate and defendant delivered a copy; that contract retained by plaintiff was partially destroyed by fire and unless same is produced upon trial by defendant, secondary evidence will be used to prove its contents. Plaintiff prays for judgment of the amount of its debt as above stated, interest, costs and relief, general and special, etc.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said Court on the said first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the City of Perryton, Texas, this the 14th day of January, A. D. 1931.

WITNESS, Irvin R. Buchanan, Clerk of District Court in and for Ochiltree County, Texas. (SEAL) By B. Allen, Deputy. (Issued same day.) 51-4t-c.

FARM HINTS

Red squill is a bulb something like an onion. Ground to powder, it is deadly to rats and relatively harmless to other animals and to birds.

Veterinary medicine is one profession that is not overcrowded today, and the schools are not graduating as many veterinarians as are likely to be needed.

Since 1917 State and Federal agencies have slaughtered more than two-thirds of all the cattle in the country infected with tuberculosis.

Bone meal is a very good commercial fertilizer for lawns. It is safe to apply and gives fairly quick results. Apply it in late winter or early spring, using from 10 to 15 pounds to 1,000 square feet.

Before killing poultry, hang the birds up by their feet to insure complete bleeding. A fowl that is bled improperly has a dark reddened skin which detracts from its appearance. Such a fowl is likely to spoil more rapidly. Cut the jugular vein in the neck first and then pierce the brain, passing the knife through the opening in the roof of the mouth and into the brain.

Geese can be raised successfully in small numbers and at a profit on farms where there is plenty of grass or pasture land with a natural water supply. Geese are the closest grazers known and both mature geese and partially grown goslings will get their entire living from good pasture when it is available. Moist pasture land makes especially good grazing. Young and old geese are very hardy and are rarely affected by disease or insect pests.

A lubricating-oil emulsion spray applied in the dormant period is the most effective way to control the San Jose scale on deciduous fruit trees, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This pest sucks the sap of the trees; consequently lead arsenate and other stomach poisons are of no use. To be effective, the spray must hit every side of the trunk, limbs, branches, and twigs. Do not apply ordinary lubricating-oil emulsion in the growing season, says the department, as it may defoliate the trees. This is especially true of peach trees.

Experiments by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to discover the effects of various fertilizers ingredients on building up chlorophyll (green coloring matter in plants) show that fertilizers high in nitrogen readily cause plants to become a very deep green. Potash, which has pronounced effects on some phases of plant growth, has relatively small influence on the "greening" of plants, says the department. A fertilizer high in phosphorus seems to produce plants with more chlorophyll than those fertilized chiefly with potash and with less chlorophyll than those fertilized mainly with nitrogen.

Many creameries manufacturing low-grade butter could improve its quality by adopting a grading system and paying for cream on the basis of the grade of the butter made from it, say dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One cooperative creamery in the South adopted three grades of cream—premium cream, containing not to exceed 0.2 per cent acid and clean in flavor; grade 1 cream, containing 0.21 to 0.4 per cent acid and clean in flavor; and grade 2 cream, containing more than 0.4 per cent acid or having undesirable flavor. The price for butterfat in premium and grade 1 cream was fixed at 3 cents a pound higher than that in grade 2. In 1928 this creamery received 3.04 cents a pound more for its butter, in relation to the market price, than in 1923, before adopting cream grading.

Savory Fish
Cut into strips one pound of smoked fish of any kind; put over fire in cold water, let come slowly to a boil, and boil for ten minutes. In another saucepan heat one cup of stock with one-fourth cup each of tomato sauce and vinegar, a tablespoon of made mustard, and a few grains of cayenne. Drain the fish, saute on hot pan in one-fourth cup of butter or fat, then add to the hot stock, thicken the butter in the pan with two tablespoons of flour; stir this into the saucepan containing the fish and season stock, cover, and simmer for five minutes. Serve on a hot platter, surrounded with strips of toast.

Reports Needs of Drought Victims

Will Rogers, cowboy humorist and philosopher, starting with famous flyer Captain Frank Hawks, to visit the Arkansas region where the Red Cross is feeding and clothing 550,000 persons. "It's the worst need I ever saw," Will Rogers telegraphs from Pine Bluff.

Carolina Pudding

The ingredients necessary are half a pound of brown sugar, three eggs, one-quarter of a pound of grated breadcrumbs, half a pound of light browned flour, half a pound of shortening, two teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt, half a teaspoon each of ground cloves and cinnamon, one teaspoon of ground ginger, half a cup of molasses, one-half cup of orange juice, one-quarter of a cup of lemon juice, half a pound each of seeded and sultana raisins, one pound of currants and one pound of chopped crystallized fruit. To make the pudding, chop the candied fruit, add the raisins (both kinds), and the currants and pour lemon over them. Let them stand for several hours; then cream the shortening with the sugar, add the well-beaten eggs and the other ingredients in the order given and lastly the juice and fruit. Mix well. Divide the batter and fill into small greased molds or bowls and steam for four or five hours. This quantity is sufficient for one very large pudding (in this even it must be steamed for a longer time), two medium-sized ones or four small puddings. Fill the molds only two-thirds full.

CLOSE ALL HOMES FOR RATS

Rat proofing of buildings is the only means of permanent rat control, says the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Exteriors of all structures accessible to rats should be constructed of material resistant to their gnawing. Protect all openings with doors, gratings, or screens. Avoid dead spaces in the interior of buildings, such as double walls, spaces between ceilings and floors, staircases, and boxed-in piping, unless they are sealed with impervious materials. Trouble on rat-infested farms can usually be traced to places that furnish refuges for rats with food convenient. Wooden floors set above the ground in poultry houses, barns, stables, granaries, or corncribs; piles of wood, lumber or refuse; straw, hay, or manure piles that are undisturbed for long periods; concrete floors without curtain walls; and inside double walls of buildings furnish examples of such places. Provide an incinerator for burning trash and a covered can for garbage. Pile lumber or other materials on platforms raised 18 inches or more from the ground. The use of hard concrete in the construction of most farm buildings is usually the best way to exclude rats. The cost of rat proofing most farms is less than the loss caused by rats in a single year.

CARE FOR WINTER

It is important to keep milk as well as summer. Do not freeze. Keep the milk in a milk house or in a well-constructed room. Where there is a problem of cooling and without freezing is easy. Piping water to the milk house, letting it flow continuously, running water, pump it to the tank just before milking. Empty the tank. The milk is removed by uncoupled wagon or in very cold weather with a heavy blanket.
