INVADERS ARE NEARER CITY OF MADRID

HEAVY LOSSES NOTED FOR LOYAL FORCES DURING FIGHTING

(By The Associated Press)

AVILA, Spain, Mar. 10—General Francisco Franco's big push from the northeast was reported today to have smashed government opposition along the Guadalajara-Zaragoza highway and to have advanced to a point 49 miles from Madrid.

An official communique announced a "brilliant" advance of about 12 miles to Valdearenas, a town just west of the highway, and within 17 miles of government-held Guadalajara. This provincial capital is 32 miles northeast of Madrid.

Loses Are Heavy

The communique said government losses were heavy.

Meanwhile, other insurgent troops nearer Madrid were said to have attacked in the Jarama river sector southeast of the capital—along the lower jaw of "nut cracker" siege lines about the city.

NEW TROOPS ARE BEING GATHERED

MADRID, March 10 (AP)—Between 10,000 and 12,000 newly mobilized youths tramped to their barracks at dawn today to join in defense of a capital threatened by a strong mechanized insurgent army from the northeast.

Withdrawal of government forces to more strategic positions along the Guadalajara-Zaragoza highway above Guadalajara, was announced after reports the offensive had been halted about 60 miles northeast of Madrid.

Columns Sweep Forward

(Advices to the insurgent headquarters at Avila said Gen. Francisco Franco's Guadalajara columns had swept forward 12 miles along the road to Madrid and were within 17 miles of the provincial capital, Guadalajara, or 49 miles from Madrid.)

Insurgent forces — characterized as "Italian and Spanish" troops — apparently made a new effort to advance on Guadalajara or to veer toward Brihuega.

Between 14,000 and 16,000 Italians were reported by the government to be fighting for Franco in Guadalajara province.

Two hundred insurgents were reported killed or wounded on the Valladarta-Pozobianco road.

NEW BLOOD IN COURT ASKED

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS FIRST WITNESS FOR SENATE HEARING

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10 — Attorney General Cummings pleaded today for adoption of President Roosevelt's court bill as a means of injecting "new blood" into the judiciary to avoid "a tortured construction of the constitution."

He made his plea before the senate judiciary committee at the start of hearings on the chief executive's court reorganization proposals.

To Rejuvenate Machinery

"The proposed increase in the number of judges is not for the purpose of enslaving the judiciary," he said, "not for the purpose of making it an adjunct of the executive.

"The purpose is to rejuvenate the judicial machinery, to speed justice and to give to the courts men of fresh outlook who will refrain from infringing upon the powers of the congress."

The attorney general who worked all night preparing the statement he presented to the committee, listed "four pillars" upon which he said the president's plan for reorganizing the judiciary rested.

Reasons Are Cited

They were:

"A. The impossible situation created by the reckless use of injunctions in restraining the operation of federal laws.

"B. The presence on the federal bench of aged or infirm judges.

"C. The crowded condition of the federal dockets, the delays in the lower courts, and the heavy burden imposed upon the supreme court.

"D. The need of an effective system for the infusion of new blood into the judiciary."

Convicted of second degree murder for shooting her secret husband, Harry A. Love, broker, at a New Year's eve party in a Santa Monica beach club, Mrs. Love yesterday withdrew her second plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

"Please, may we get this over with as quickly as possible?" she said, asking Superior Judge Frank M. Smith to sentence her at once. "I wasn't crazy at the time I shot Harry. I never have been crazy."

COURT CHANGE BILL KILLED

PLAN FOR REVAMPING TEXAS JUDICIARY IS ABANDONED

Efforts to revamp the Texas judiciary, including redistricting of the 99th, 110th and 106th courts, have been dropped and will not be resumed during the present session of the legislature, information from Austin said today.

In a telegram to George W. Dupree, a member of the Lubbock Bar association's committee opposing court redistricting, Senator G. H. Nelson said:

Matter Is Closed

"Hearing on Van Zandt bill for judicial redistricting postponed indefinitely. Van Zandt agreed yesterday for bill to be killed in the committee. This closes the matter for this session of the legislature."

Senator Olin Van Zandt, of Tioga, was author of a senate bill calling for court redistricting and Representative Butler, of Brady, authored a house bill which was beaten in committee early this week.

Spineless Puppets Would Be Rejected

FDR MAKES NATIONWIDE APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF COURT PLAN; HEARINGS OPENED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—President Roosevelt put on record today a blunt declaration that he would not appoint to the supreme court "spineless puppets" who would decide specific cases as he wished.

"No president fit for his office would appoint, and no senate of honorable men fit for their office would confirm, that kind of appointees to the supreme court," he declared last night.

Choose Real Justices

He asserted, however, in his second appeal for enactment of his judicial reorganization program that he would choose justices "who will act as justices and not as legislators."

"If that . . . can be called 'packing' the courts," he said, "then I say that I and with me the vast majority of the American people favor doing just that thing—now."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in a nationwide broadcast on the eve of senate hearings on his program.

Cummings First Witness

Attorney General Cummings became the first witness in what probably will be a long recording of the arguments aroused by the administration judiciary bill.

Republicans and dissenting Democrats turned over the task of challenging Cummings' testimony to a plainsman campaigner for Roosevelt last fall—Senator Connally (D-Tex).

The crowded scene, in the largest assembly room of the senate office building, contrasted with the quiet chamber from which the president told the country last night his program would save the constitution "from hardening of the judicial arteries."

Has Two Purposes

His bill had two purposes, he said:

"First, to make the administration of all federal justice speedier and, therefore, less costly; secondly, to bring to the decision of social and economic problems younger men who have had personal experience with modern facts and circumstances under which average men have to live and work."

After quoting criticisms of some supreme court majority opinions by dissenting justices, he said:

"The court in addition to the proper use of its judicial functions has improperly set itself up as a third house of the congress—a super-legislature. . . .

"We have, therefore, reached the point as a nation where we must take action to save the constitution from the court and the court from itself.

NINE BOYS AT TECH CHOSEN

CANDIDATES FOR THE TITLE OF UGLIEST BOY NOMINATED

Nine candidates for the degree of "Bachelor of Ugliness" were nominated this morning at Texas Technological college.

"There are uglier boys on the campus, however, and we're going to try to get them on the ballot", said Jim Lindsey, editor of the Toreador, which is sponsoring selection of the ugliest boy.

Students Nominated

Men students nominated from the floor in a convocation this morning were: Raymond Curfman, Electra; Fred J. Davis, Fort Worth; S. D. (Tox) Wiginton, jr., Levelland; Fred Stickle, Arp; Leldon Hudson, Wellington; Padgett Maddox, Lubbock; Joe Tom Weddle, Bonham; Dean Felber, Olney; B. H. Turner, Lubbock.

The Toreador is holding the election in answer to a challenge from Texas Christian university and Hardin-Simmons university students that Tech find an uglier boy than their candidates.

The boy chosen will be well liked or he would not receive the larger number of votes, said Lindsey.

Secret Ballot Planned

The "winner" will be elected Wednesday of next week by secret ballot.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, dismissed classes for 30 minutes this morning so that the students might be nominated. The degree of "Bachelor of Ugliness" will be conferred in a convocation soon after the election, Doctor Knapp said.

An entertainment will be given for the ugliest boy and the most beautiful co-ed at Tech, Lindsey said.

Protection Against Dogs Being Sought

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—A bill intended to furnish additional protection against biting dogs was introduced today by Rep. Fred Felty of San Antonio.

The proposal would provide that "the owner of any dog which shall bite any person while such person is in a public place, or lawfully in a private place, including the property of owner of such dog, shall be liable for such damages as may be suffered by the person bitten, regardless of former viciousness of such dog or owner's knowledge of such viciousness."

CIO STEERING COURSE FOR BIG UNION

THOUSANDS OF MEN IN NATION ARE STILL IDLE IN STRIKES

(By The Associated Press)

The committee for Industrial Organization steered a course today toward unionization of 2,250,000 workers in the textile and oil industries, and creation of a union structure to rival the American Federation of Labor.

The committee's move for autonomy came at a time when many of its affiliated groups were participating in strikes affecting more than 100,000 workers. One of them, the United Automobile Workers of America, was engaged in a struggle at Detroit with the Chrysler Motor corporation. It kept 55,000 Chrysler automotive workers idle.

Ranks Were Split

Conflict over the form of union organization—by craft or by industry — split the ranks of the A. F. of L. last year. Supporters of the latter form organized the C. I. O. under the aegis of John L. Lewis.

The C. I. O.'s decision to charter local and state central labor bodies led to the belief the A. F. of L. would oust 10 unions backing Lewis.

Textile labor leaders said the drive to enlist 1,250,000 textile workers under C. I. O. auspices will start in New England in about two weeks. Start of the campaign to sign up 1,000,000 oil industry workers awaited perfection of organization procedure.

Fight Plans Are Made

Possibility of a rapprochement between the A. F. of L. and independent steel workers to better fight the C. I. O.'s foray into the steel industry loomed as a result of a conference at Pittsburgh last night.

Chrysler corporation reiterated its refusal to recognize the United Automobile Workers as sole bargaining agency for its 67,000 employes. The stalemate kept 55,000 Chrysler workers idle at Detroit, where sitdown strikers held the firm's nine plants. It also affected employes of companies which supply Chrysler with auto parts.

The union was also engaged in negotiations with the Hudson Motor Car company, three of whose major Detroit plants were occupied by sitdown strikers, and the General Motors corporation. The Hudson dispute made 10,000 workers idle. General Motors employes were at work

POSSES TODAY TAKE TRAIL OF KILLER

SHOT FIRED THROUGH WINDOW AS OFFICER TALKED TO WIFE

(By The Associated Press)

JEFFERSON, Mar. 10—An unidentified assailant shot and killed Sheriff Alex Brown, 42, through a window of the officer's apartment as Brown conversed with his wife shortly before retiring early today.

A single charge of buckshot struck the peace officer in the back as he undressed for bed about 12:45 a. m. He died instantly.

Slips To Window

The assailant slipped to a window of the sheriff's home on the ground floor of the jail building, fired the shot and fled to a spot about a block away. Officers theorized he escaped in an automobile, driving west.

Officers had virtually no clues. They were at a loss to give a motive and an early morning manhunt participated in by officers from this area of East Texas near the Louisiana border was fruitless.

Saw Man Approach

O. B. Beard, held in jail here on a misdemeanor charge, said he had seen a man approach the jail shortly before the shot was fired and flee immediately afterwards. Officers said he gave no description of the assailant, however, and was able to help little.

Bloodhounds were brought to the scene and traced the fugitive to a corner a block away. When they lost the scent, investigators said they believed the killer had escaped by automobile.

Brown was a vigorous peace officer and recently had inaugurated drives against vagrants and overloaded trucks. He also participated in a general roundup by state liquor board of control officers of stills in Marion county.

Two Negroes Escaped

Two negroes escaped the county jail here last Friday night, cutting out a hole through the wall.

One of them, Charley Brooks, was held on a robbery from person charge and was to have been prosecuted under the habitual criminal statue.

The other, J. C. Hartsfield, was held under a chicken theft charge.

Brown had been a brick mason and contractor, oil field worker, game warden and amateur boxer before he became sheriff last May.

He had two children, Dennis, 10, and Marilyn, 8.

Funeral arrangements had not been set.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10. (AP)—Milady's problem of making her stockings meet her garters appeared today to be headed toward quick oblivion.

Uniting on this vexing issue, the government and the hosiery trade have decided on a silken leg standard for future hose.

This doesn't mean the stocking makers have turned their backs on the extra-short and extra-long legged women. The production of special models will continue.

It does mean that when an average-legged woman just asks for "stockings," she won't come home with a silken something ranging from socks to hose that resemble wading boots.

GEORGE KIMES IS MURALIST

FORMER BANDIT TAKES INTEREST IN WORK AT PENITENTIARY

McALESTER, Okla., March 10 (AP)—George Kimes, once the terror of southwestern bankers, has turned muralist.

Warden Jess Dunn said last night the convicted killer and bank robber, who will start a 50-year robbery stretch at Oklahoma penitentiary when he winds up a 25-year murder sentence in 1938, "seems to have a lot of native talent."

Touches Up Pictures

"He's doing fine," said the warden, "and we have him touching up some pictures damaged in a fire the other day."

Kimes first tried his hand at landscapes, then went to work retouching the smoke-blackened murals. Now the warden says he will be given a chance to do other paintings if his work continues to improve.

Kimes' criminal career was brief but spectacular.

With sleek, swarthy Matt Kimes, a younger brother, George started out by robbing his home town bank at Beggs in August of 1926.

The "Kimes boys," as they became known, spread their outlawry over the state. Cornered by a posse near Sallisaw, Okla., the outlaws shot their way clear and Perry Chuculate, a deputy sheriff, was killed. Finally captured, they were convicted of the officer's death.

Given Long Term

George got 25 years, plus 50 more on a bank robbery charge. Later, at the prison, he was sent to solitary confinement for implication in a bizarre plot to forge the governor's signature and the state seal to a fake parole.

Released from solitary, he became acquainted with Walter Jones, a burglar with seven years to serve, and a skilled painter.

"George became interested," Dunn said, "now he's coming along fine."

Local Bus Company Has New Quarters

Waiting room space of Lubbock Bus company was more than tripled when a new city bus station was opened Tuesday at 1101 Main street, in quarters formerly occupied by M. G. Davis Supply company.

Change to the new location was made Monday night, Ray Farmer, manager, said. Increased business and a need for more waiting room space and also office space, was behind the move. The company operates six buses on as many lines.

THREE DISMISSED AT STATE PRISON

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 10 (AP)—A state investigation which followed a father's complaint that he had been approached with offers to arrange his son's release from McAlester penitentiary led last night to the dismissal of three guards at the institution.

Paul Colvert, secretary of the state board of affairs, said Warden Jess Dunn ordered the guards removed after Fred Cunningham, state pardon and parole officer, and Dave McConnell, special operative for Governor Marland, investigated the report.

Colvert said J. E. Collins of Clarita, Okla., father of Dallas Collins, recently paroled bank robber, complained to Cunningham that he had been approached by men who intimated they could influence release of his son for a monetary consideration.

Dallas Collins was paroled from the penitentiary last Saturday by Governor Marland and was at the home of his father in Clarita today.

He was committed Jan. 28, 1932, to serve 20 years for looting the Lindsay state bank, Lindsay, Okla., in 1931.

Gaines Is Speaker At Idalou Meeting

IDALOU, March 10 (Special)—Frank Gaines of the agricultural experiment station near Lubbock last night spoke on "Irrigation" at a meeting of a large group of farmers in the vocational agricultural room of the school. Session began at 8 o'clock.

He outlined the approximate cost of irrigation, practicability of irrigation, and fundamentals farmers should know before planning an irrigation project.

The evening school next Tuesday night will begin a series of lessons on "Hogs." The selection of this subject was because of numerous requests of farmers of this community for such discussions.

R. L. Burdette, teacher of vocational agriculture in Lubbock public schools, is director of the evening school.

LOSE MUSIC MARKETS

LEIPZIG (AP)—The profession of music engraving is on the decline in Germany. German music engravers, who once supplied copy for most of the world, in pre-war years numbered several thousand, but now it is estimated there are not more than 320. Loss of foreign markets and free lancers who copy music at low prices are blamed.

During the special session of the 73rd congress between March 9 and June 16, 1933—the first session under Roosevelt—105 laws were enacted.

Humming right along

All over the country, you hear more people mention the refreshing mildness and the pleasing taste and aroma of Chesterfield cigarettes.

You hear somebody compliment Chesterfields at a party. Another time, the grocer tells you it's a darn good cigarette. Or you see a group of men on a street corner, most of 'em smoking Chesterfields.

BAND CONCERT SET TONIGHT

NEW UNIFORMS WILL BE DISPLAYED FOR THE FIRST TIME

Seventy-five musicians of the Texas Technological college band will don new military uniforms when they will be presented in concert at 8 o'clock tonight in the college gymnasium.

Tonight's program will climax the uniform benefit drive sponsored by the American Business club of Lubbock and the Student council of Tech.

Replace Corduroy Uniform

The new suits are replacing red and black corduroy uniforms bought by band members individually in the fall of 1934. Not since November, 1930 has the college or the business men of Lubbock assisted the organization in purchasing new apparel.

The 73 new uniforms, costing $33 each, are of strict military style, with scarlet coats, black trousers, and white Sam Brown shoulder straps, said Claude Thompson, president of Tech student body and student council yesterday.

Knapp To Open Program

The concert program will be opened by President Bradford Knapp with a congratulation to the band and an appreciation of the cooperation of Lubbock and Tech. D. O. Wiley will direct the band in concert.

The following program has been announced by Director Wiley:

Francaise Militaire, march, Saent-Saens; William Tell overture, Rossini; Willow Echoes, cornet solo, Frank Simon, played by Clovis Clough; Procession of the Sardar from "Caucasian Sketches," Ippolotow-Ivanow; Napoli, Bellstedt, baritone solo, played by Robert Fielder.

Strains from Erin (Irish tunes), arranged by Caillhet; Through the Air, August Damm, piccolo solo, played by William E. Brady, formerly with the United States army band at Washington, D. C.; Blue Danube, waltz, Strauss; Hear Me Norma, from the opera "Norma," Bellini, trombone duet by Gurthal Gilligan and Joe Foote; My Hero, march paraphrase, Straus-Alford.

Two vaudeville numbers will be presented, one by Dr. C. M. Clough, blackface comedian who formerly appeared on Pantages and Orpheum circuits. The other will be a juggling number by Mundee and June.

A London book store, said to be the world's largest, carries 2,000,000 books in stock and operates 50 circulating libraries.

HINES SPEAKS AT BANQUET

ANNUAL AFFAIR HELD AT BROWNFIELD BY CITY'S C OF C

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Mar. 10—Brownfield business men here last night gathered in their annual banquet in the high school gymnasium, took stock of their work the past year and their future program and listened to Harry Hines, Wichita Falls oil man and member of the state highway commission, talk on a road program.

A crowd of more than 200 listened to the two hour program which followed serving of the meal. J. H. Gillam, banker, gave the invocation. The high school orchestra played during the serving.

Homer R. Winston, former county judge, presided as toastmaster. Special music was arranged by M. L. H. Baze, superintendent of schools, and Emmitt Smith, school band director.

Mill Lois Watson, member of the school faculty, played a violin solo; Messrs. Smith and Baze sang a duet and Jack Holt, a local entertainer, gave several interpretations and imitations, with a tap dance.

Charles Whitacre introduced the Lubbock visitors, including: Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Clement, R. F. Hinchey, J. L. Ryan, A. B. Davis, W. A. Fincher, Kenneth Frazier, George M. Garrett and Mr. Wilson.

Accomplishments Told

The outgoing president, R. A. Simms, county judge, responded with a few words when called upon. Secretary J. E. Shelton told of the accomplishments of the past year or two, naming the projects which the organization had sponsored.

New officers and directors were announced as: Clyde C. Coleman, president; Tom Cobb, vice-president; Leo Holmes, Cecil Smith, Roy Collier, Herman Heath, Tom May, Raymond A. Simms, Ned Self, I. M. (Ike) Bailey, M. J. Craig and Glenn Akers.

Mr. Hines assured the Brownfield businessmen the state would "build highway 84 across to the New Mexico state line just as fast as we can." He spoke of a projected road connecting Brownfield with Lamesa and urged the commissioners to "jump in and pitch with the WPA," to get the road started.

Valuable Connections

Highway 51, from Brownfield north through Levelland to Littlefield, was characterized as giving "very valuable connections," with those towns. "It ought to go on to Dimmitt," he added. Another road of importance that should be extended is a proposed road now being worked with WPA funds from Muleshoe south to Morton. "It probably ought to go on to Plains," he added. Commissioners were advised to get after WPA and, if the road is built according to state specifications, the state highway department "may take it over."

Importance of completion of federal highways and sections of transcontinental roads across the state was stressed by the speaker, who emphasized the importance of securing tourist travel.

Following the meeting Mr. Hines and his secretary, Tom Payne, drove to Odessa for another meeting Wednesday.

Swanky Ski Camp In Wilds A Mixed Boon For The Natives

OFF TO THE BUMPS
Debutantes follow an Austrian instructor to a daily lesson in Idaho. The Sun Valley lodge is not built of wood, but concrete, painted to look like wood.

BY VERN HAUGLAND

KETCHUM, Idaho, Mar. 10 (AP)—America's growing craze for snow sports has dropped an oasis of luxury into the wilderness around Ketchum. Million-dollar Sun Valley lodge has become a rendezvous of Hollywood and the social East within a few months.

Jack Lane

"The youngsters get a big kick out of seeing the movie stars and rich people," says Jack Lane, owner of Ketchum's general store. Then he grins and adds: "But many of the older folk don't exactly approve of those who spend their time playing, drinking and dancing.

"We like to see the state advertised and tourists coming in," Lane continues, "but our main interest still is in sheep. That's where we make our money.

Get Roads Cleared

"One thing we like is that the highway commission is keeping the roads open this winter for the first time. I've been running sheep and my store for 20 years and this is the first time I've kept the place open past November."

The mile-high resort was erected last summer by the Union Pacific Railroad company. The huge rambling structure is at the base of Sawtooth mountain, a mile from town at the southern edge of the nation's most newly-created permanent primitive area. The domain, as large as Delaware and Maryland combined, extends into Montana.

The lodge can house 288 guests and has 170 employees. Room rates start at $10. It is managed by Ray Stevens of Lake Placid and Olympic bobsled-team fame. Interiors were designed by Marjorie Oelrichs, wife of Orchestra Leader Eddie Duchin.

No Sissy Gamblers

Gambling and sale of liquor by the drink are illegal in Idaho, but early visitors told of finding both in Ketchum "clubs."

"It's so much more fun to lose your money to a hard-boiled card player with a green eyeshade, or a roulette operator with a 10-gallon sombrero, than to lose to those sissy gamblers in full dress at the European casinos," a Boston debutante remarked.

A swanky New York store operates an outfitting shop in the lodge. Guests dance to music by a "name" band. There is a heated outdoor swimming pool, which has been crowded even in 20-below-zero weather. Visitors sun-tan in igloos.

Imported Instructors

Austrian ski experts and Canadian skating professionals supervise sports which include dog-team racing, ski-joring, tobogganing and paddle tennis. Ski chair-lifts and tow-lines run to nearby mountain peaks.

There is no movie theater in Ketchum but a motion picture, "I Met Him In Paris," has been filmed here. Hollywood stars seen here include Claudette Colbert, Joan Bennett, Madeleine Carroll, Lily Damita, Errol Flynn, Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas.

The hotel publicity staff frequently thumbs its copy of the Social Register. Most commotion to date has been caused by Lady Castlerose, whose husband owns the London Daily Express—and who arrived with four trunks and 72 other pieces of luggage.

Frogs deposit their eggs in great, gelatinous masses of several hundred each and, barring misfortune, each egg produces a tiny tadpole.

Robber Is Given 20 Years In Pen

FORT WORTH, March 10 (AP)—Howard Greer Hayes, one time base ball player at the University of Alabama, was given twenty years in criminal district court here Tuesday for the robbery of G. W. Keener, a north side filling station attendant.

Hayes, who was indicted on six charges of robbery and kidnaping, will be tried Wednesday on another charge.

Hayes and his co-defendant, Charles Jones, were arrested in a hotel. The story of their escapades was dramatized on the Gang Busters program over a radio network.

WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

Any oil ad is right when it tells you that normal starting of your engine—even in warmer weather—might still hurt worse than miles of speed. But is it enough just to TELL YOU? Or wouldn't you rather know exactly HOW your engine and your oil can really be SAVED? You don't want just general statements, but plain sane reasons. And here they are on OIL-PLATING . . .

It is the only type of lubrication not done solely by squirts of oil. Squirting can't ever begin till the engine moves, and then the oil must still spread around. So there's very little oiling for some little while! But Oil-Plating, formed only by Conoco Germ Processed oil, is always completely spread, before you even leave your house, the stores, or a movie. That's specifically because patented Germ Processing forces this oil to seek an actual physical union with all engine metals. The cylinders, pistons, bearings and other parts take on this oil for good, and become lastingly Oil-Plated!

Really bound on by Oil-Plating, clear to the top of the cylinders, Conoco Germ Processed oil can't ever sneak away and leave bare spots. No matter how long you park, Oil-Plating doesn't run down. No matter how long you speed, Oil-Plating doesn't thin down to nothing, squeeze out, or burn up. So you can really tell why you save, and why the oldest or newest car is safer, changed over to Conoco Germ Processed oil.

Watkins And Fenton Sling Punches Tonight

SPORTOGRAPHER by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1937

"GET SOME MORE 'MEN' in here if you want me to stick around. I'm tough, see, and I don't like to waste my time on these sissies."

Thus, in loud tones, did Sailor Tex Watkins express himself in the alley-way between the dressing rooms at the Auditorium last week. He was explaining that he was about to take leave of this circuit, and he was talking for the edification of the grapplers in either dressing room. Rod Fenton was in one of them, but he didn't raise his voice.

Later, as the Sailor swaggered to the shower bath, we cornered Fenton. "Wish I could get that goofy gob," he murmured. "I've been around, and I know this is one of the toughest circuits in the U. S. Sailor is tough, but not too tough. What he needs is a good lesson. I'd like to give it to him."

Next thing the reporter knew, Promoter Sled Allen was announcing the Watkins-Fenton fight as a main event for this week's card. That means tonight. Take it away, Cowboy.

CONFLICTING WITH THE wrestling card tonight is the Texas Tech band concert at the college gymnasium. We know of a lot of citizens who have purchased tickets for that affair, and on behalf of Texas Tech and Dewey Wiley's music makers this bureau wishes to express definite gratification.

Proceeds of the band concert go toward purchasing a new set of suits for the band boys, and nothing is worse needed in this town today than those suits.

If you haven't purchased a ticket for the concert, please do so immediately, even if you don't intend to go. You'll get your money's worth if you attend, because the Red Raider bandsmen can make music, all kinds of music and plenty of it. Except for looks, the Tech band is one of the best in this part of the country. Give 'em flashy uniforms, and they'll go to town in anybody's company.

The Texas Tech athletic teams usually are well dressed. The football team has a reputation for flashy dress. A college band is a worthy attribute to any college athletic affair. The band is in the spotlight along with the athletes, and since Wiley has founded such a swell band at Texas Tech, it is only fair that it be dressed in respectable fashion. Your purchase of tickets for tonight's concert makes possible the purchase of new uniforms for the band. And may the purchasers thereof get suits really suitable; nothing with wide-brimmed black hats or nothing with more black than red.

WHO SAID THE basketball season was over? Tomorrow night at the Tech gymnasium there will be a game that comes as a fitting climax to a lively cage season hereabouts.

The morning papers announced it. We're here to back up the announcement and put the blast on the Stephen F. Austin-Slaton Oilers contest which starts at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the Tech gym.

Every regular follower of the sports pages is familiar with the East Texas club at Nacogdoches, which has figured in every T. I. A.A. and Texas Conference basketball race. The Lumberjacks, stronger than ever, have won the conference championship again, which is no surprise. They won it last year, defeated the Southwest conference representative in the Olympic trials, and went on to national Olympic tryouts before being eliminated by one of the best independent clubs of the country.

You are also familiar with Slaton's Oilers. The club has not lost a game this season. It won most of the independent team tournaments around here, and copped the Southwestern A. A. U. in a breeze, beating the Hardin-Simmons club and a couple of tough Dallas clubs, on one of which played outstanding members of the championship Southwest Conference S. M. U. team. The Oilers, who will compete in the national A. A. U. at Denver next week, no doubt are the outstanding non-collegiate players in the state. It is significant that four of the five regulars on the team come from Texas Tech.

It should take little ballyhoo, little encouragement to bring the fans out in droves tomorrow night for the game that might be called the championship contest of Texas. The Lumberjacks certainly rate as one of the best college aggregations. The Slaton bunch has demonstrated its superiority. The Nacogdoches team is en route to Denver for the National AAU, also. It is possible the teams will meet there next week. But first they'll meet here, and that game should be to basketball what the Cotton Bowl should be to post-season football.

TO OPEN TOURNEY

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—At 8:30 tonight a signal will sound and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia will roll a 16-pound bowling ball down one of 28 glistening new alleys in the 212th coast artillery armory to open the biggest American Bowling Congress tournament in history.

LOCKARD CAPTAIN

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 10 (AP)—Don Lockard, University of Arkansas basketball forward who topped Southwest conference scores, will captain his team next year. Jack Robbins, guard, was named sub-captain.

TWO TOUGHIES ARE MATCHED FOR BOUT

SAILOR TEX TO TAKE LEAVE OF CIRCUIT AFTER BATTLE

To say that Sailor Tex Kirby Watkins and Lightning Rod Fenton are battling tonight in the main event of Promoter Sled Allen's wrestling show is almost sufficient to bring the mat fans crowding around the Auditorium ring. They're there, and so is Nick Bozinis, Andy Tremaine and a couple of newcomers, Larry Schaaf of Indiana and Abie Freeman of New York.

Watkins, to date, is thoroughly convinced that he has served his purpose here. "I've licked 'em all. If you want me to hang around, bring me some tough guys. I've cleaned out this bunch of sissies for you, so I'll be moseying on to a place where I can at least get a little exercise."

There's a lot of braggadocio in them words. Watkins, it is true, put away Walter Stratton, Dale Haddock, Andy Tremaine and other top notchers of the circuit. Tonight he meets another, and Rod Fenton, the Canadian lumberjack, takes offense at Watkins' words. Fenton is considerable of a roughster himself, although somewhat quieter and more docile in street clothes or in the dressing room. He saves his wind and his actions for the ring, and he has plenty of both.

To say that Watkins and Fenton are fighting the main event tonight is sufficient to send Promoter Allen on the search for additional ringside chairs. He expects a sellout. Advance ticket sales at the Hotel Drug indicate the same. Both scrappers are of the rough and tumble school, with no regard for the law of the ring. It's a natural.

Watkins takes leave of the circuit after tonight's engagement here and a tilt at Amarillo tomorrow night. He goes to El Paso for a few weeks of solid booking, then to Mexico City for a "rest."

Nick Bozinis, who no doubt will be seen today trotting along the sidewalks dressed in shorts and undershirt and nothing else—especially if the weather is cold—is back after some months of wrestling in other leagues. His opponent is the rapidly improving Andy Tremaine, who is one of the best "natural" wrestlers the circuit has ever seen. He has everything it takes, including a pair of flashy fists and the best drop-kick ever demonstrated here. His fault lies in a slow-to-heat temper. Once he gets going, he's hard to handle.

Of the newcomers, Schaaf and Freeman, little is known just now except that they have prospered in some of the better middleweight circuits.

Cardinals Loom As Dynamite In Chase

PITCHING SITUATION IMPROVES AND FRISCH NOW IS WORRIED ABOUT INFIELD SETUP

BY PAUL MICKELSON

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 10 (AP)—There'll be plenty of gas fumes, noise and class with the St. Louis Cardinals this year but whether they can cross the finish line first depends on their infield.

While the pitching situation has been improved with the acquisition of Lon Warneke from the Chicago Cubs as a teammate of the great Dizzy Dean, who's certain to be out there chucking opening day, the infield problem has Manager Frankie Frisch walking the floor nights.

Frisch has eight infielders, including himself, but of the lot only Leo "Lippy" Durocher is an established regular of major league calibre. And Durocher is not a freshman any more.

Mize Should Do

Frisch hopes to use Stu Martin on second, if not himself, but Martin recently underwent an appendicitis operation and is 30 pounds under weight. Durocher will be at shortstop. At third, the problem is whether Don Gutteridge can improve his hitting and field fast enough to fill the bill.

Although Mickie Owen, exceptional rookie from Columbus and Brusie Ogrodowski, last year's receiver, look easily good enough to take care of the catching duties in good style, both must come through strongly to give the Cards what they need defensively and offensively there.

Optimistic On Pitching

Frisch is optimistic about his pitching which collapsed and lost the pennant last season. Warneke fits into the Cardinal baseball scenery perfectly and Frisch's problem now is to find pitchers who can give Dean and Lon the help they must have. Paul Dean reports his sore arm healed but it's far too early to determine if he can come back to his former heights. Big Jim Winford, an erratic sort, with lots of power, looks like a regular starter, with Si Johnson, Bill McGee and Jess Haines listed for probably reserve duty. The outfield is well set with the same trio—Ducky Medwick, Pepper Martin and Terry Moore.

Those Cardinals will be tough, make no mistake about it. They can finish first by a mile, or fourth, but no worse than that. And if everything clicks and Paul Dean comes back, the rest of the National league teams can expect more than gas from that Cardinal gang. They'll be dynamite.

TAHOKA TOURNEY WILL BE STAGED

TAHOKA, March 10 (Special)—Tahoka's annual invitation basketball tournament for independent teams is to start tomorrow night at the high school gymnasium here. Games will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

About six teams already have indicated they will enter. Walker is anxious to lineup twelve or sixteen clubs.

At least two of Lubbock's independent clubs, one of which is the Peel Packing company, a team from Post, others from New Home, New Lynn and Lamesa have indicated they will enter.

Other clubs desiring to compete are urged to get in touch with Walker, at the Tahoka High school, Wednesday. He may be reached by telephone or wire.

All games will be played at night. Finals are scheduled for Saturday night.

STAR PITCHER IS DODGING TRAINING

REPORTS CLAIM DEAN IS GETTING FEVER IN A BAD WAY

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

LAKELAND, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Latest Forida story is Dizzy Dean merely is trying to dodge the Cardinals' jaunt into Cuba and will be out there pitching his head off in Cincinnati April 20. Mrs. Diz and others to the contrary, the guy is getting the fever bad. . . . Mickey Cochrane looks great. He weighs 186 and says the Tigers' first string catcher this year will be a chap named Gordon Stanley Cochrane. . . Ever hear of him? . . . Paul Dean hopes his baby son will turn out to be a left handed pitcher. . . . Golfing ball players are telling each other Sammy Byrd, top baseball golfer, is to quit the diamond to become a pro at a club in the Philadelphia district.

* * *

Add versatile guys: Paul Waner of the Pirates not only is the batting champion of the National league, but he can fly an airplane, do a creditable job with a camera and is an amateur gymnast and is a pretty fair amateur actor. . . . (The Pirates hope his holdout stunt is only an act) . . . And he does all these things on six hours sleep nightly. . . . .

* * *

H. G. Salsinger, sports ed of the Detroit News, here with the Bengals, says Michigan was lucky to pick up Hunk Anderson as line coach. . . . The Cincinnati front office has given up on Babe Herman and told him to try and make a deal for himself. . . . Al Simmons reported to the Tigers after taking off 19 pounds in seven weeks by following a diet given him by Waite Hoyt of the Pirates.

* * *

Bob Feller surprised the Cleveland Indians with a much sharper curve this spring. . . . The kid told Manager Steve O'Neill he spent most of the winter improving it.

Every American league manager seen so far thinks the Yankees can't miss repeating this year. . . . Gilbert English, Detroit infielder, is the last player personally scouted by the late John McGraw. . . . The Giant manager rode all the way to Durham, N. C., to watch English in action.

North Carolina, which at one time led all other states in the production of naval stores, today produces but five per cent of the nation's output.

OLD-TIMER DECLARES THERE ARE SOME GREAT HITTERS

BY DILLON GRAHAM

TRAPPE, Md., March 10 (AP)—Frank Baker, the original home run king, is one old-timer who won't brag about what he would have done with today's rabbit ball.

"There are some great hitters in baseball now," he explains. "I hardly know how I would have compared with them. Maybe I could keep up with them but I don't know.

Busy On Farm

Baker owns a thousand acres of rolling farm land around here, and it keeps him busy. He finds time, however, for fishing and hunting, particularly for ducks.

He may return to baseball soon in connection with the newly formed Eastern Shore league. He helped organize an entrant from Easton, Md. His last baseball job was managing Easton in 1925.

Back in 1913, long before baseball saw Babe Ruth, Baker turned in the feat of hitting a dozen home runs.

The Athletics' third baseman was the American league home run leader for four seasons in a row, banging out nine in 1911, ten in 1912, a dozen in 1913 and tying with Detroit's Sam Crawford with eight in 1914.

Four-Ball Matches Are Nearing Close

MIAMI, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The cry of "stop Picard and Revolta" was raised anew today as the two-time winners of the international four-ball golf matches strode toward their third straight victory.

Harry Cooper and Jimmy Thomson had the assignment to meet the pair for the 36-hole semi-final round after Gene Sarazen and Jimmy Hines failed, 4 and 3, yesterday.

On the other side of the bracket, Lawson Little and Tony Manero clashed with Willie MacFarlane and Frank Walsh to decide which two players will have the right to shoot for $1,000 each in the four-ball final tomorrow. Runners-up get $750 apiece.

A large elephant will consume between 100 and 125 pounds of hay daily, besides other foods.

SLATON OILERS WILL MEET TEACHERS AT TECH GYMNASIUM

A basketball game calculated to establish the cage championship of Texas as a climax to a successful local season has been scheduled for the Texas Tech gymnasium court tomorrow night.

The Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college Lumberjacks of Nacogdoches, East Texas' outstanding collegiate team, participants in Olympic trials last year and champions of the Lone Star conference this year, are to clash with the Slaton Oilers, famous Independent team which last week won the Southwestern Amateur Athletic union basketball championship at Dallas.

En Route To Denver

The teams will be making their last Texas stands before going to Denver to compete in the National A. A. U. tournament next week. The Lumberjacks qualified for the national tournament by winning its conference title and being generally recognized as one of the outstanding collegiate court aggregations of the entire Southwest this season. Manager Joe Bob Stephens' Slaton Oilers, by defeating the Hardin-Simmons university Cowboys and two Dallas clubs on which were playing members of the Southwest conference championship S. M. U. club, won the sectional AAU event and thereby qualified for the Denver joust, starting Sunday.

Coach Bob Shelton's Lumberjacks, who have either won, tied or taken second place in the T. I. A. A. or Lone Star conference ever since they have been in existence, are en route to Denver tournament. Matching of the post-season classic here was announced by Coach Berl Huffman of Texas Tech yesterday.

Tech Stars To Play

"We are fortunate in bringing these teams to Lubbock for such a game," Huffman said. "It really should settle the basketball championship of Texas. The Stephen F. Austin team is considered the outstanding college team of the state, and certainly the Slaton Oilers are the best independent club."

Bulk of the Slaton team is made up of Huffman's former Texas Tech stars. The team playing against the Nacogdoches club tomorrow night will be the same talkative bunch that made a large impression at Dallas. Two members of this year's Tech team—Hugh Snodgrass and Leroy Crews—played on the Slaton team at Dallas. Two former members, both of them captains—Wilson Gilmore and Alvin Crews—are leading members of the Slaton club. Jim Neely, former Hardin-Simmons star, has been the Oilers' standout during the season, and will be with the club tomorrow night.

The game starts at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 50 cents to all, and best seats will go to the early comers. Largest basketball crowd of the season is expected to jam the gymnasium.

The Oilers, sponsored by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce in the A. A. U. tournaments, will leave Friday, probably by chartered bus, for Denver and the national tournament.

The British railways are said to be the largest hotel owners in the world. They control 79 hostelries.

ALTHOUGH Mr. Roosevelt has casually commented about "whoever takes my place" and "when I leave the White House in 1941", close observers of politics are not at all sold on the idea that he will not seek a third term.

If the President's health holds up, a lot of Washingtonians and New Yorkers confidently expect him to take tradition by the horns and set his sails for 12 years at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue.

* * *

A story which is gaining by leaps and bounds, yet is one The Plainsman has a hard time lending any credence to, is to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt will take a page from Jim Ferguson's book and run his wife for the office.

That, say the wiseacres, would remove the tradition barrier, yet at the same time would leave Mr. Roosevelt at the helm for a third term.

Most people believe it would be hard to elect a woman to the presidency, but not Mrs. Roosevelt, since everyone would feel that FDR, and not his spouse, would be in the saddle if she were elected.

* * *

AFTER months in which the President studiously refrained from referring to himself as a Democrat, or to his administration as Democratic, he came out on the radio the other night and brought the party in upon several occasions.

That also caused considerable eyebrow-lifting.

Some believe the President has noted the aroused opposition in the Solid South as concerns his court reform plan and, figuring on a third term, has already set his course. It is even whispered in Washington that there may be two "Democratic" tickets in 1940—one the New Deal Democratic party, headed by Mr. Roosevelt or whomever he chooses as "crown prince", and the other the Old Line Democrats, headed by Senator Bennett Clark, of Missouri—son of old Champ—or someone with his conservative leanings.

* * *

Don't be surprised to see Myron Taylor, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel, appointed to an ambassadorship—possibly to the Court of St. James in jolly, old London.

The dope is going the rounds that he made peace with labor only after Mr. Roosevelt promised a high honor in the immediate offing.

* * *

CAN you invent a substitute for hors d'oeuvres? We don't mean a substitute for the edibles thus designated. We mean a substitute for the name—preferably a substitute in the form of a plain English name or, as the hors d'oeuvres reform committee of the Midwest Hotel show patriotically puts it, "an acceptable, simple American word."

Members of the hors d'oeuvres reform committee candidly admit that they have racked their individual and collective brains without finding that simple, acceptable American word. There must be one; but the committee just can't think of it. To encourage someone else to think of it, the committee offers a loving cup, a cash award and the members' everlasting gratitude.

Hors d'oeuvres would taste the same—and probably better—if the hurdle of pronounciation could be cleared, committee members assert. They believe that many more persons would eat hors d'oeuvres if they weren't oppressed by fear of the waiter's lifted eyebrow when they try to say hors d'oeuvres. The committee, indeed, places the number of timorous non-pronouncers and non-eaters of hors d'oeuvres at "millions," which seems an appalling proportion of our national population.

"Strong men," Otto K. Eitel, chairman of the Midwest Hotel show, is quoted as saying, "have become stutterers trying to say hors d'oeuvres. Anyone who invents a simple, pronounceable substitute will be a public benefactor."

Mr. Eitel hopes the public benefactor will come forward before the show opens on March 28 at Chicago. It will be a good party, preceded by plenty of hors d'oeuvres.

The Plainsman is assured that "hors d'oeuvres" is pronounced "oars d'vewers", which may or may not be as right as Moses.

But he's so willing to enter into the spirit of the occasion that he hereby enters an American substitute for the French jawbreaker. It's:

"Swash".

And how do you like that?

Chapter 49

LAURIE'S MESSAGE

Where was Rex Moore, then? Did he bear a charmed life, or was he dead?

So the madness worked on that brilliant, unbalanced brain. Until, on the fifth day after Rex Moore had been reported missing, Mark Albery was found unconscious on the floor of his study in his Chelsea flat.

When he recovered from the stroke, his mind was affected, and he babbled nonsense about having sent Rex Moore to his death in a plane that had been tampered with. Nobody believed it, of course. His doctors sent him into a nursing home for such cases, and declared that it was only a temporary breakdown and that he would recover his reason very soon.

* * *

It was on the following day that Laurie received a wire from a doctor in a remote French village, asking her to come at once, as her husband was laid up there with a broken ankle.

The journey was like a dream to her. She flew to Chamounix, and from there hired a motor car that took her up into the mountains.

And there she found Rex, under the shadow of Mont Blanc, the snowy giant on whose ice slopes he might so easily have found his grave.

He was bruised and shaken by the crash, but had no worse injury than the simple fracture of his ankle. He had been delirious for three days, from the results of exposure in a high valley, where a party of guides had found him, hence the delay in letting anybody know of his plight.

They met in a simple room, with varnished wooden walls and scrubbed floor. From the balcony one looked on the tall, solemn pines and the eternal snows, under the blazing sapphire arch of the August sky.

Laurie walked slowly to his long chair. Then, she suddenly knelt down beside it.

"Oh, Rex—Rex—I've found you at last!"

"I had to send for you, Laurie," he answered in a strangely solemn voice. "I didn't want to. I knew you wouldn't want to come—but you would come, because you think you owe me something."

"Oh, Rex, how did it happen?"

"That's what I felt I must tell you, Albery tried to kill me."

"I knew it," she whispered. And she told him what had happened at the London station.

"He tried before," Rex went on. "That time when you were going up with me. You remember, I couldn't find my usual mechanic. He must have told the strange man to fill my tanks with the new fuel. Luckily, I had warning from the engine in time, and had a parachute."

"And this time?" she asked fearfully.

"This time the plane had been tampered with. You wouldn't understand. It was done by an expert. Nobody could have discovered it—until the plane fell to pieces in the air. I was lucky again. I started off the day before I intended to, and the job wasn't quite finished. So I escaped with my life. I had to tell you Laurie. I couldn't bear the thought that you were going to marry a murderer."

"I knew it, Rex. And I'm not going to marry him." She was distracted. "And I think he's gone mad. They've put him into a home."

But here there seemed to be no comfort, either. Rex Moore was still so far away, so remote. His face was set; his eyes had that inhuman snowy look; his mouth was angry and stern.

"I knew that day at the station that I couldn't marry him," she went on. "Not for anything in the world, not even for—" She stopped abruptly.

"Not even for what, Laurie? Why were you going to marry him? For his money, for his position—for what else?"

"No—no!" She broke down. He was all she wanted in the world. He was her happiness; he was her man. Nothing mattered but that he should know the truth.

"Rex, he forced me to say I would marry him. He found out about us; I didn't tell him. I had to lie to you. And he threatened to ruin your career if I didn't marry him. He said he could. He wouldn't help you any more, he wouldn't let anybody else help you. He said he had the power, and I believed him."

She looked at him in an agony of fear lest he should not believe her.

* * *

"Laurie, you did that for me! How could I be so blind? Of course, Albery could have ruined me in my job. Then, you do love me? You love me as much as that?"

Their lips met. They were one in that tremendous and awesome rapture that is both violence and peace.

A long time passed before they spoke again.

Then Laurie said:

"But your career will be ruined, Mr. Albery will never forgive us. You don't mind now, but later on you will be unhappy. Can I make up for that?"

"You would make up for anything, my sweet, my wonderful Laurie!" he told her. "But I'm no longer a penniless beggar, thanks to Wanda Steele."

He saw that she did not understand, and told her of Wanda's tragic death and of his inheritance. She felt a little pang of jealousy that another woman could do so much for him, so much more than she ever could, even though she was dead. But, of course, she had to be glad.

Laurie stayed in the little village until Rex Moore could get about. Then they went to Geneva, and were married by the British Consul.

"So now you're really Mrs. Rex Moore!" he said teasingly the next day, as they strolled by the lake. "And how does it feel to be married to a poor devil you started out hating?"

"I never hated you!" she laughed happily. "And it feels too wonderful for words! And life is wonderful—and you are wonderful! And, what's more, it's real!"

They went back to England to pick up Gladys. Rex agreed with Laurie that they could not leave the girl alone.

And all the outside world ever knew was that Mrs. Rex Moore had gone to Switzerland to be with her famous husband after his accident, and the devoted couple so dramatically reunited a few months ago, were on their way to California, where the airman had recently inherited a beautiful estate.

THE END.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE DIONNES ARE WISELY HANDLED

While The Journal, like most people, is thoroughly tired of the Dionne quintuplets, we must admit that the Ontario government has acted from the start with conspicuous wisdom in its handling of the children and their affairs.

The authorities were faced with a situation without precedent in their experience and have had to create a policy as they went along. How ably they have functioned is apparent at last even to the father of the quintuplets, who for a long time resented the intrusion of the province in the family circle. Speaking of the guardianship under which the girls have accumulated more than half a million dollars, with contracts for almost as much already signed, he says simply, "We couldn't get along without it."

Ontario moves now, and properly, to direct the lives of the girls into a more nearly normal course, into association with their brothers and sisters and more intimate contact wtih the parental love and discipline for which the state can offer no satisfactory substitute. Welfare Minister Croll hopes the parents will participate from now on in their lives, assuming an increasing responsibility for their rearing.

Under official stewardship a fortune has been accumulated which will put the family beyond the possibility of want for all time. Ontario has done this without presenting the quintuplets to the world as freaks but as normal and appealing little girls, remarkable only for their number. It is wise in withdrawing now. It was wise, we believe, in refusing to withdraw until the parents had come to see how valuable and indispensable were its contributions to the welfare of all the Dionnes.

A THOUGHT

Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshy mind. — Colossians 2:18.

Light Oil Showing Reported For Well

Drilling at 4,929 feet in hard lime with a showing reported, the W. L. Pickens et al No. 1 Estella Lewright, southern Terry county wildcat was being watched closely by oil scouts and others.

Brownfield sources last night said a light showing of oil was had, but none was in a position to say how much. A Lubbock man who was at the test at mid-afternoon, said he saw oil on the slush pit. No one else was willing to state whether oil was found in the baller or not.

A number of scouts and others interested in the operations are headquartering at Brownfield as well as Lubbock, making daily trips to the test, about 14 miles south of Brownfield.

Another Question About CARDUI

MOTHERS RECOMMEND IT

"Why do so many MOTHERS recommend Cardui to their daughters?"

Isn't it but natural that any good mother should tell her daughters about Cardui if the mother herself felt that she had been benefitted by this medicine?

It is impressive that so many women report having taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers.

Cardui has been found to benefit women when weakened by malnutrition (poor nourishment); and it helps to relieve much discomfort at monthly periods.

Thousands of women testify Cardui helped them. Of course, if it does not help you, consult a physician. Adv.

From Hollywood — MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 10.—Short takes: One of the smaller studios made such a poor picture that the other day, when it was finished, a member of the publicity department blew Taps and everyone stood up and observed a three minute silence.

* * *

The colony is due for a new kind of night club, one decorated with actual movie sets in which parts of big pictures have been filmed.

A promoter is talking to studio executives about the scheme, and it's likely that he'll be allowed to rent or buy the entire sets of ballrooms, period drawing rooms, glorified night clubs, and the like, changing them about once a month.

Studios won't furnish any used actors, though.

* * *

Noisiest household in the colony is Bette Davis'. She has five dogs and they all hate each other.

* * *

How to get a job: A newspaper reporter prepared a flattering obituary of a prominent producer. Laid it on thick. Then he showed it to the executive, who was so pleased that he gave the scribbler a $500-a-week berth as a scenarist.

* * *

Quick Change

Two metal airplanes, rented for the filming of "Honeymoon Pilot," were transformed into border patrol ships with coats of water-soluble khaki paint and insignia. They took off, with a camera plane following, and ducked into a heavy cloud bank.

Emerging into clear sky a few seconds later, the photographer gasped when he found himself shooting a couple of glistening, silvery ships, which had been washed clean of their paint.

It was like those errors which sometimes creep into pictures—when a man in a light tweed suit is seen going into a door and a second later is shown on the other side of it in a dark suit and overcoat.

Leslie Howard, winding up his tour in "Hamlet," will be cast as a Shakespearean actor when he returns to Hollywood to make the last picture on his contract here.

* * *

Cecil B. DeMille is trying to borrow his own foster-daughter, Katherine DeMille, for a part in "The Buccaneer." But she's under contract to 20th Century-Fox, which had intended featuring her in a production of its own.

* * *

Ornithological Notes:

Eddie Cantor telephoned Don Gilman, a radio executive, and was told he was out. "Where is he?" asked Cantor. "I'm very anxious to reach him."

"His wife wants a canary for her birthday," explained Gilman's secretary. "And he's making the rounds of pet shops listening to auditions."

* * *

The daughter of a wealthy director was married the other day to a WPA worker. The young man wants to become a writer on his own merit, and he distressed his father-in-law by refusing a job which would have been specially created for him. So, at the wedding reception, the girl's parents introduced the groom as being "in the government service."

Seen: Norma Shearer, making one of her first public appearances at a preview. . . . Betty Furness going bareheaded everywhere; she's fed up with those gags about her outlandish hats.

* * *

Press-agent item: "Olympe Bradna . . . taken to the Trocadero by her parents in celebration of her new Paramount contract. It was the starlet's first trip to a night club, and she had to go home at 11 p. m."

Ho-hum! — and two years ago Miss Bradna was going home at 3 a. m. every day after hoofing in the glorified skin-show of Broadway's French Casino. Before that she danced at the Chicago Fair, and she has been on the stage as a solo performer since she was 8.

YES-BIRD

Allan Ross went into a pet shop to buy a parrot. "Here is a fine talking bird," said the clerk. "For years he was the companion of a big movie producer — weren't you, Polly?"

"Yes, sir!" shrilled the parrot. "Yes, yes, yes, yes. Yes, indeed! You're absolutely right. Yes, sir!"

Armed To The Teeth!

When Figuring How The Senate Will Vote On FDR's Court Plan, Don't Overlook Politics, Rodney Dutcher Advises

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 10—It might be easier to guess the outcome of the Senate fight over the President's Supreme court bill if the issue did not so often rest with politicians.

Two major categories of uncertainty complicate any attempts at prophecy.

Dutcher

First, outsiders are unable to tell how many senators in the pro, con and "undecided" groups are taking their positions for the purposes of trading with the administration, and how many are swayed by their intellectual convictions.

Second, the extent to which the administration is willing or able to use patronage and political pressure, and the extent to which the latter will be effective are equally unpredictable factors.

* * *

Never Will Be Told

Insiders are beginning to get some light on the first factor, but the full story of the backstage movements never will be told.

Here is one pretty well authenticated story:

Senator A, senior senator from a certain state, is listed against the plan. He has persuaded Senator B, junior senator from the same state, who originally declared in favor of the plan, to reverse his position and come out against it. Political enemies say A was able to bring varied pressure on B. At any rate, it appears that A is willing and able to deliver two votes to the President if he can have a certain $15,000 a year federal circuit court judgeship. Senator A isn't at all sure about his re-election two years hence and the judgeship, now held by an aged jurist who would like to retire on full pay, looks good to him.

At this point Senator A's political enemies come in. Themselves hungry for federal patronage in the old home state, they tell the President they can build enough fires under the senator not only to frighten him into voting for the plan, but to bring Senator B's vote back into camp along with it. The President must decide whether to offer Senator A the judgeship, or to depend on back home pressure. He also has the possible threat to lend administration aid to have A defeated in 1938.

Most insiders are betting that the President will not appoint Senator A, whom he doesn't like, to a judgeship, and that both Senator A and Senator B will vote for the plan in the final pinch.

* * *

Want Real Reward

The dangers of prophecy operate in both directions. Pressure also is being brought upon the group which has declared for the Supreme court change proposal. Members of that group, as well as some senators who have refused to commit themselves, are beginning to make it clearly understood they expect genuine reward in return for their support. And some of those who aren't promised what they want are likely to be with the opposition, or conveniently absent when the final vote comes.

At least two senators are staying out of town because of "illness," which is commonly attributed here to a sad sensitivity to painful pressure in the current backstage battle.

One prominent senator, who has declared vehemently against the plan, has privately conceded a willingness to permit the President to appoint three new Supreme court justices—but not six. He feels certain that if there were six appointments, one of the men he hates most in public life would be sure to get one of them.

UNSIGNED BILL IS LAW

MANILA, P. I. (AP)—A bill authorizing a national lottery in the Philippines for charitable purposes has become law without Commonwealth President Manuel L. Quezon's signature.

Soon after his inauguration Quezon requested the National Assembly to abolish charity sweepstakes and won. Then the Assembly passed the charity lottery and the executive said that since it had insisted on the enactment he would not override an expression of popular will by veto.

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease.

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grouchy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pill before each meal and 1 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. 25c.

GERMANY MAY SEEK PEACE

CABINET MEETING IS BEING HELD TODAY TO TALK PLANS

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, March 10 (AP) — Germany's foreign office hinted confidently last night of a forthcoming offer by the reich to participate in a western European peace pact.

While officials declined to state the purpose of a cabinet meeting scheduled for today, intimations in the highest political and official quarters indicated that Joachim Von Ribbetrop, ambassador to London, would be charged with resuming discussion of a new security pact.

Situation Clearing

Optimism by a number of leading men was based first of all on the conviction the Spanish situation was clearing in such a manner as to lessen tension between Germany and her western neighbors.

Germany now is apparently satisfied to let the Spanish decide their own fate, provided they don't "go communistic."

So long as the Spanish situation was a point of contention, it was pointed out officially, any western pact could not be discussed.

Control of foreign activity by the European non-intervention committee, expected to get under way next week, will be bound to help insurgent Gen. Francisco Franco make his victory certain, it is felt here.

Turn To Other Problems

That, it is declared here, is all Germany is interested in, it is up to the Spaniards after that to determine their own future; Germany, therefore, can turn to other problems.

Britain's vast rearmament program is not regarded as a threat to Germany's peace, but as an indication that England, like Germany, now realizes one cannot have a voice in international politics unless one is well armed.

British influence will be directed, it is felt here in unofficial circles towards bringing about a "real peace" and insuring a security pact between Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium.

TOLBERT FUNERAL RITES SET TODAY

RALLS, March 10. (Special)—Funeral services for A. Roscoe Tolbert, 41-year-old League Four farmer who was killed almost instantly in an automobile mishap near here early Tuesday night, were to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the City auditorium.

Rites will be conducted by R. L. Travis and H. Hall of the Ralls Church of Christ. Burial was to be in Ralls cemetery with Marr Funeral home in charge.

His head was crushed when his heavy coach overturned several times when en route to Ralls last night. Mrs. Tolbert, 31, and two sons of the couple, Willard, 11, and Lawayne, 4, were not injured.

Other than his immediate family, he was survived by a sister, Mrs. Dave Bradford of Gainesville. Mrs. Paul Sherrod of Lubbock, Mrs. H. A. Wallace of Amarillo, and Miss Cleota Willard of Ralls are sisters of Mrs. Tolbert.

Dr. W. C. Snow of Ralls, first to the scene of the accident, was quoted as saying the League Four farmer apparently was blinded by lights of an approaching vehicle. Tolbert's machine ran off the highway onto soft road shoulders and overturned after striking a culvert.

The four in the automobile were taken to Ralls by Dr. Snow.

MASONS HAVE HARD TIME KEEPING UP WITH THE JONES BOYS DURING YEARS

Adherents of Freemasonry in Texas have had a hard time keeping up with the Joneses in their order since that spring night in 1917 when Jones, Jones, Jones, and Jones conferred the Master's degree upon Jones in Valley View, Cooke county.

News bureaus syndicated the story when Earl, Marvin, Hub, and Delbert Jones assisted their father, the late H. K. Jones, in initiating their younger brother, Frank. The father often had ridden miles on horseback through North Central Texas black mud to assure quorums at meetings of the Valley View Masonic grou, of which he was a Masonic group, of which he was a

For 20 years the Jones boys have continued Masonic activities in all sections of Texas, and Congressman Marvin has carried his enthusiasm into Washington circles. The 21-year-old initiate of the Jones family ceremony at Valley View now is a Lubbock real estate man, and Hub is an automobile dealer here. Earl is in Amarillo, Delbert in Houston. All five have been in Masonic work, and Earl now is a member of the state examining committee.

Congressman Marvin and Earl have been most active, said Brother Frank. With 125 other Congressmen who were Masons, the congressman attended a meeting of Lodge Number Four where George Washington took his Fellowcraft and Master's degrees. He has lectured on Freemasonry in Texas and in the capital.

"I was the goat of the ceremony, so I don't remember much about details," Frank said. Members of the family held major stations in the Valley View chapter, and Frank said it must have been "quite an event," since Masonic notables from all sections of the state attended the ceremonies. His father had been a Mason for more than 40 years at the time, he estimated.

Frank P. Jones lives at 2012 Sixteenth street, Hub at 2114 13th street.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—The stock market hitched itself to the tailboard of the fast-moving commodity group today and went ahead briskly for gains of 1 to 4 or more points.

World-wide demand for staples, still inspired by speeding up of the armaments race abroad and by well-sustained industrial purchases, thrust raw material prices forward over a broad front.

The market's answer to this was a brisk rise in metals and rubbers. Speculative enthusiasm for the market at large was also warmed by buoyant grain prices.

Good gainers were U. S. Smelting, Anaconda, St. Joseph Lead, American Zinc, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, New York Central, Union Pacific, American Shipbuilding, Deere, American Smelting, Homestake, American Can and Teas Corp. Utilities a little improved were Electric Power & Light and Consolidated Edison.

Tobaccos which weakened were American Tobacco "B" down about 3 and Liggett & Myers down more than 6. Reynolds Tobacco "B" and Lorillard suffered moderate losses.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady at the opening on higher Liverpool cables, dry weather in the western belt and on active commission house and foreign buying. March 14.12; May 13.74; July 13.64; Oct. 13.18; Dec. 13.11; Jan. 13.14.

Although there was an accumulation of overnight realizing and hedge selling which prevented the market from giving a full response to the strength at Liverpool in the initial trading a board active demand readily absorbed these offerings and the market advanced rapidly after the call.

The buying was general with speculative demand stimulated by the strength of foreign cotton, firm and active goods markets and the influence of rearmament programs abroad.

The rally of March to 14.24 carried it above the 1934 high and to the best level since June 1930. May advanced from 13.73 to 13.88 with prices shortly after the first half hour holding at or close to the highs and at net gains of 17 to 33 points. There were eleven March notices issued here this morning.

At Liverpool prices advanced on renewed general speculative buying.

Slight irregularity developed from time to time under increased profit taking and for a while demand was less active following the close at Liverpool. By midday renewed strength had developed on good trade and Wall street buying causing May to recover from 13.82 to 13.91. Prices generally showed advances of 20 to 25 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 10 (AP)—Cotton hit 14 cents a pound on the New Orleans market today for the first time since last July in a vigorous advance of 14 to 19 points that embraced all divisions of the list.

Heavy trade and professional buying came into the market at the first call and with contracts scarce prices ran up nearly a dollar a bale with little trouble. Liverpool shifted to the buying side today, and reports were that plenty of purchasing was coming into the market from abroad.

The upturn lifted March to 14.02, May to 13.69, July to 13.58 and Oct. to 13.17.

Foreign markets were favorable prior to the opening at New Orleans and this helped early price movements.

Reports from the Panhandle region of Texas and Oklahoma that there was no rain to relieve what was considered the worst drouth in 39 years encouraged active buying in new crop positions.

The advance in options carried prices up almost $1.50 a bale at one time but moderate profit taking appeared and options dropped off 6 to 8 points from early high levels.

Cotton news as a whole was decidedly favorable. Spot centers told of a wider demand for the actual staple than has been experienced in some time. The appearance of export interests in the spot market in an active manner was a favorable development.

Speculation was an important factor in the day's market, with commission houses and ring professionals buying cotton in volume. Aside from nominal profit taking sales, offerings were light.

INCREASE NOTED FOR POPULATION

Approximately 25,923 persons live within city limits of Lubbock, comparative figures of the 1930 and 1937 city directories indicate.

The federal census of Lubbock, taken in 1930, shows the population to have been 20,520. In 1930 there were 11,724 names listed in the directory. Based on these figures, estimates are 1.8 persons to every person listed.

Same Ratio Is Used

In the latest directory 14,402 names are listed. With the same ratio of 1.8 persons to every one named, the population of Lubbock proper is estimated at 25,923.

Greater Lubbock in 1930 was estimated to have a population of 23,448 with two persons in the city to every one named in the directory. With this comparison the present list of 14,402 names in the directory indicates a population of 28,804 persons for greater Lubbock.

COURT PLAN

tution—not over it. In our courts we want a government of laws and not of men."

In the last 50 years he said, the balance of power between the three branches of government "has been tipped out of balance by the courts."

"It is my purpose to restore that balance," he declared. "You who know me will accept as my solemn assurance that in a world in which democracy is under attack, I seek to make democracy succeed."

Senator Barkley (D-Ky) called the "fireside chat" a frank, clear exposition of "the wisdom behind the court bill." Representative Mayerick (D-Tex) said it showed "this dictator talk is nonsense."

WEDDING RING RETURNED

HARTINGTON, Neb. (AP) — Mrs. Hannah Haas now has two wedding rings after being married to Mr. Haas 53 years. She lost her first ring while on a fishing trip 53 years ago. Her husband gave her another a week later. Recently a relative who found the first ring returned it to her.

MARKET WEEK PLANS MADE

INVITATIONS TO BIG STYLE REVUE ARE MAILED TODAY

Invitations to the style revue and merchants' dance to be held at the Lubbock hotel ballroom at 8 o'clock Friday night were sent today by special carrier to Lubbock's retail dealers of ready-to-wear, hosiery, millinery, men's clothing, and other general lines.

The event is one of the major attractions of the West-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association's 14th semi-annual market event. Invitations bear the name of O. J. Sexton, president of the board of directors.

Expect Large Crowd

With a seating capacity of about 350 at the revue and stage show, promoters of the event are expecting a capacity crowd to attend. Approximately 250 from out-of-town are estimated to attend.

Invitations, outlining the seven-year history of the association, announce that no contributions will be collected from local merchants as the event has become self-supporting. Aside from financial support the invitation asks "your support and good will in every other way."

Announcing the limited number of seats the invitations for "retail merchants and their buyers only and then by reservation", are extended to the heads of the organizations and "whom you consider should be present."

Merchants are asked to make reservations immediately for both the style event and the dance to follow.

Plans Near Completion

Plans for the entire show are near completion. Programs for the style show are to be printed today or Thursday morning. Showing of goods by wholesale dealers representing manufacturing companies from several states will have merchandise on display early Thursday. The market week closes Sunday.

Features, novelties and other numbers of Larrymore and his orchestra will be ready for presentation between showings of merchandise at the revue, said directors of entertainment. In addition to the 12-piece orchestra, about 12 special entertainers will be featured in song and dance numbers.

Mannequins for the revue have been trained in several rehearsals assisted by Marie Tyson, professional model, ballet dancer and make-up artist.

Complete program will be announced later, said J. H. Brock, director.

LABOR FIGHT

pending a compromise on wages.

Leaders of the United Rubber Workers Union, a C. I. O. affiliate, called for a picket line at the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants at Akron, O., where 10,000 employes were idle.

Some 450 freight handlers and motormen were on a sit-down strike 33 feet under Chicago's streets, choking the movement of huge consignments of merchandise along the 62-mile freight subway.

Federal conciliators were asked to negotiate a settlement of Chicago's taxicab drivers strike. Cab windows were shattered and cabs tipped over in clashes between strikers and non-strikers.

Threats Are Made

Seven thousand Chicago shoe workers threatened a strike as did spokesmen for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union claiming to represent 40,000 needle workers in the cotton goods industry in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan.

Sit-downers occupied branch offices of the New York emergency relief bureau to emphasize demands for a 20 per cent increase in relief allowances. A half-hundred service employes in eight New York apartment houses also struck.

Two hundred employes of the E. L. Bruce Lumber Co., at Memphis, Tenn., struck for higher wages. Some 400 painters and paperhangers walked out at Akron, O., for a similar reason.

Settlement of many small strikes and pay raises in many industries served to brighten the industrial picture.

Mitchell said currency found in the store basement was not examined closely to identify it positively as the bank's property, but that he had accepted it for the bank.

The missing currency was in bills of $5, $10 and $20 denominations.

Authorities disclosed avenues of exit from Lubbock had revealed no trace of Kittrell's having purchased a ticket for transportation, and he had no automobile. That led to belief he had ridden from Lubbock, assuming he had left Lubbock, with someone other than a common carrier.

Check Made At Amarillo

At Amarillo, officials checked hotels, bus, rail and plane transportation records in an effort to determine whether he had been there and, if so, whether he had gone.

Kittrell is 5 feet 10 inches tall and has black hair. He is slender, clean cut and handsome. A carefully arrayed man, he was wearing a brown suit, brown kangaroo boots, brown hat, and brown overcoat when last reported seen. His eyes are dark, his face thin.

America's Favorite Author

Perhaps they picked Margaret Mitchell for the job because, like the title of her book, moustache cups have "Gone With the Wind." It was a rare occasion, indeed, for the author of the fabulously popular novel to make a public appearance, and it was the Georgia Press Institute, meeting in Athens, Ga., that she honored. Miss Mitchell presents the be-ribboned moustache cup to Percy Miller, managing editor, for delivery to Herschel Jenkins, publisher of the Savannah Evening Press, prevented by illness from attending the gathering.

FARMERS ARE TO GATHER

LEADERS OF SEVERAL COMMUNITIES WILL MEET AT WOODROW

The first of a series of discussions of the 1937 agricultural programs will be given tonight when farmers of several Lubbock county communities meet at Woodrow. Subsequent meetings will be held this week at Slaton and Idalou.

Speakers at the meetings will discuss new regulations involved in this year's farming program, and committeemen for 1937 are to be elected. Tonight's meeting embraces Union, New Hope, Slide, Southwest Ward, and Woodrow.

Urges Farmers To Attend

Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent, has urged all farmers in the county to attend the sessions. In a statement issued announcing the meetings, Thompson said:

"The main purposes of these meeting are: first, to elect local committeemen in the respective communities of Lubbock county to administer the new 1937 farm program; and, second, to discuss the rules and regulations of the new farm program as it applies to farmers of this county.

No Changes In Boundary

"In order to comply with instructions, it was necessary to call these district meetings in the county for the various communities that make up each district. These communities were organized into six districts last year, and no changes have been made in the boundary lines.

"Each producer is urged to attend his particular community meeting so he may be eligible to vote in his community election. The present community committeemen will be voted upon first. The one receiving the highest vote shall be retained on the community committee. Then nominations from the floor will begin and old committeemen, county committeemen or state committeemen, may be nominated and re-elected in these meetings as community committeemen.

Begin At 7:30

"All present committeemen are urged to attend each of these meetings. All meetings of the six districts are to begin at 7:30 p. m."

Thursday night farmers from Slaton, Posey, Acuff, McClung, and Roosevelt will attend a community session at Slaton. Friday night Idalou farmers are hosts to representatives from Northeast Ward, Estacado, Becton, and Canyon.

Man Is Exonerated In Robbery Probe

Bernhoff Bidenkap, charged with robbery of seven persons of $500 Feb. 12 at Galveston, is not the lone bandit who staged the holdup, one of the victims said at Galveston.

The man's statement, joined with documentary evidence held by the Salvation Army corps at Lubbock, supports Bidenkap's protestations he was not in Galveston on the date of the robbery. Capt. John G. Churchill, corps commander here, has three customers invoices showing the sailor signed for material at two Lubbock establishments on February 12 and 13 and had been here since about February 6.

A hearing at Galveston is scheduled for today, said the Associated Press.

OLD WARRIORS NOW FRIENDS

JOHNSON AND BORAH LINED UP AGAINST FDR'S PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Two old senate warriors—Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California—who sometimes have been at swords' points are fighting side by side once more.

Issues this session have drawn them closer together than at any time. They have been united in opposition to the Roosevelt court bill, the Pittman "cash and carry" neutrality bill, and the recent overtures for American help in financing a huge French defense loan.

Frequently Sit Together

Frequently they sit together in the chamber to discuss strategy. Many oldtimers in the senate can remember when such cooperation would have created a sensation.

The careers of the two men, both prominent in the liberal wing of the Republican party, have been strangely interwoven for 25 years.

Both were in the Theodore Roosevelt branch of the party in 1912. When "T. R." broke away to run as the "Bull Moose" candidate, Johnson went along as vice presidential nominee. Borah, however, ran for re-election to the senate without getting involved in the party split-up.

After the World war, they led a successful battle against American entrance in the League of Nations.

Johnson Only Rival

When President Coolidge in 1924 decided to go after the Republican nomination, Senator Johnson was his only rival. Johnson toured many states to win support, but Borah did not back him.

It was this incident which their colleagues say started ill feeling that existed for several years. Borah and Johnson had little to do with each other until President Roosevelt tried in his first term to get senate approval for American adherence to the world court.

Starting almost alone, they aroused such opposition to the world court that the treaty was rejected by a wide vote.

This joint effort ended the long-standing feud. The men became close friends again.

SEES WHITE ROBIN

LOGAN, O. (AP)—Charles Ziegler, Logan naturalist, discovered a white robin on the Frank Adcock farm near here. He believes it is the same bird he observed on the nearby George Wright farm last year.

BOBBITT WILL VISIT CITY

HIGHWAY CHIEF WILL BE IN LUBBOCK ON MARCH 19 AND 20

Robert Lee Bobbitt, new chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, will be in Lubbock March 19 and 20, to meet West Texas county judges and commissioners, and discuss with them a road program for this area, Harry Hines, Wichita Falls, West Texas member of the highway body, told the Journal last night.

"At that time we will have an opportunity to familiarize Judge Bobbitt with the road program so badly needed in this district," he added.

First Official Visit

It will be the first official visit to Lubbock and this section of the new chairman. It is the hope of officials that he will become familiar with conditions in this section.

"I am not satisfied with the amount of road improvement in this division," the former chairman said. "I have been from Midland to Plainview on a number of occasions in the past six months, inspecting various roads that I consider should be important arteries of travel and which would aid in the further development of this section.

"I am tremendously anxious to do everything within my power to accelerate road construction in this section."

To Complete Program

Mr. Hines said the commission was committed to a plan of completing the present road program of the state, before entering an extensive expansion program of designation or construction.

"Highways 15 and 84 are my pets," he went on. "I want to see them completed across this section, to the New Mexico state line. They will bring a lot of tourists to this region, especially in the winter, when people traveling from east to west or west to east, will want to avoid snow in the mountains on northern routes.

"We also want to complete highway 24 west of Lubbock, to the state line. New Mexico will meet us at the line, when we get our work completed.

"A good sized section of highway 24 will be authorized built in the very near future east of Lubbock.

"I am also hopeful that a substantial allotment of funds will be made by the highway commission, for work in this district."

Mr. Hines said he hoped highway 51 north of Brownfield to Levelland and Littlefield, and extending on to Dimmitt, Hereford and other points will be completed, as well as a recently designated highway from Muleshoe to Morton and later built down to Plains and perhaps farther south.

Construction of a present county road from Brownfield to Lamesa will receive sympathetic assistance from the commission.

ANOTHER CALL TO CCC IS PLANNED

Another CCC enrollment call has been announced for early in April, and boys in Lubbock interested in entering the service should get in touch with him, Joe M. Wilson, director of the City-County Welfare association, said this morning.

Date of the call will probably not be known until a few days before, he explained. Boys who would like to get into the work are asked to make application. They will be notified of the date for a physical examination here.

Boys between 17 and 28 years of age, physically fit, unemployed, single, not in school and from families who are receiving assistance through the Texas Relief commission, the Works Progress Administration, the Public Works Administration with relief status, the Resettlement Administration, old age assistance commission, or the county, are eligible. The boys must allot $22 to $25 to some member of their family who are receiving public assistance.

Training Session To Open Thursday

A training school for Boy Scout leaders at Silverton will start at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, said Earl M. McClure, South Plains scout executive, this morning.

John Thorne, chairman of the school, will be in charge. He will be assisted by Lyndon Grant, field executive for this district.

The school will consist of four sessions, the last to be held out-of-doors, said McClure.

BOY TELLS OF KILLING MAN

ADMITS SLAYING WHEN MOTHER WAS HIT BY THE VICTIM

MARYSVILLE, Calif., March 10 (AP)—A 13-year-old boy was held today after allegedly confessing a slaying for which his mother had been indicted.

Sheriff Charles J. McCoy said the youth, Arnold Munchauer, admitted shooting Oscar E. Jack, 34, when the latter knocked down his mother, Mrs. Alice E. Munchauer, 40, "and threatened to kill us kids with an auto crank."

Jacks was killed ten days ago at Deadman's Flat, in Nevada county. Mrs. Munchauer, reporting the death, said Jacks killed himself with a rifle.

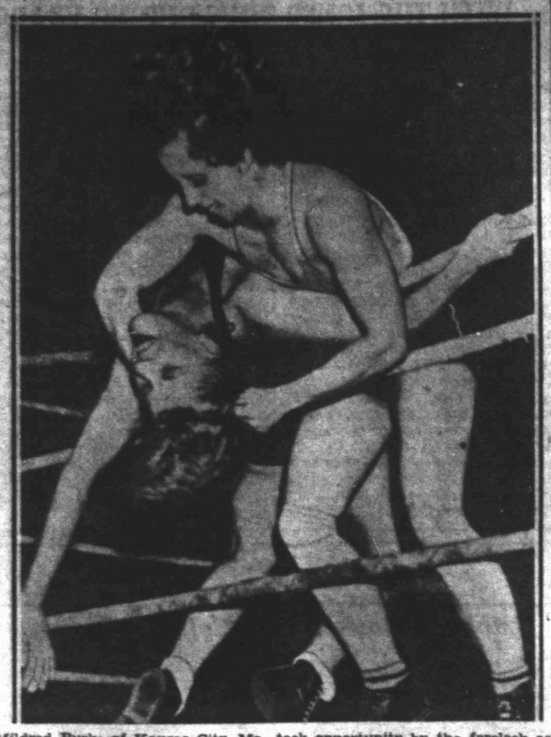

Subsequently she was indicted on a charge of killing the man, whom she met three years ago. Mrs. Munchauer is the mother of five children.

Sheriff McCoy said Arnold's confession was the result of an investigation launched by his mother's attorney, H. Ward Shellion.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.

Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing.

Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 1, Baltimore, Md.

REAL SECRET OF GREENER GRASS MADE PUBLIC

COLUMBUS, O., March 10 (AP)—With spring just around the corner, George M. McClure of the Ohio State university faculty today told how to make the grass grow greener.

McClure, an instructor in the department of agronomy, is regarded as a national authority on grasses and devotes much of his time to determining how to make golf courses, athletic fields, cemeteries and lawns symphonies in lush green.

"The secret of green grass depends first of all on good soil," he explained.

"The home owner who desires a carpet of green velvet about his dwelling would do better to put his money in rich top soil instead of depending upon fertilizer alone for a beautiful lawn. The same things hold true for golf courses, football fields and other athletic sites where games are played upon turf.

"About a year and a half is required to get a good sod. Seeding should be done in the fall and grass should be fertilized at least once a year."
