Goldwater Victorious In California Primary

SUDDEN STOP—Ten cars of a southbound Santa Fe freight train piled up in this derailment at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the north end of Santa Fe's Snyder yard. Traffic on the railroad was halted for several hours, but was restored over temporary trackage late last night. Three cars loaded with potash lost part of their cargo on the railroad right-of-way as a result of the wreck. Santa Fe spokesmen said a journal failure caused the mishap. Damage to equipment was estimated at about $15,000. There were no injuries.

Rockefeller Solid In New York

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has pulled off a dramatic upset in the California primaries — and taken a giant stride toward winning the Republican presidential nomination.

After trailing in the returns through the tense night, the Arizona senator finally went ahead of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to win the coveted prize: California's 86 delegates to the GOP convention.

His victory —after almost all the polls had predicted that Rockefeller would win the big one — almost obscured primary elections in five other states.

There were these other developments:

—Goldwater got a handful of delegates in South Dakota, but failed to dent Rockefeller's home base, New York.

—Pierre Salinger, the chubby, quip-loving former White House press secretary, banked on his close connection with the late President Kennedy and won the Democratic senatorial nomination. His foe in November: the onetime dancer and film actor, George Murphy.

—Three veteran congressmen —two from New York and one from Alabama — failed to survive their primary tests.

—Two well known Democratic senators — majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and John C. Stennis of Mississippi —won renomination easily, as was expected.

There couldn't have been a better horse race than the one between Goldwater and Rockefeller. Through the art of vote projection, Goldwater early looked like the winner without too much trouble.

There was only one thing missing: the actual votes that would secure the victory.

Goldwater, a jet pilot used to the electronic age, had to bide his time until the Los Angeles area pushed him ahead to stay.

The man who wins the GOP nomination must have 655 votes, and Goldwater has now rounded up 436 of them. In second place is Rockefeller, who went from 41 to 118 on the strength of Tuesday's New York primary.

Vote Margin Is Narrow

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Sen. Barry Goldwater grabbed a commanding lead for the GOP presidential nomination today with a stunning California primary victory.

Confounding the pollsters who had made him the underdog, the Arizona senator came from behind in the vote count to nose out New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the state's 86 Republican presidential nominating votes.

Goldwater's victory had been forecast by the electronic projections of the television networks. But it took all-night tabulations of the actual votes to establish him firmly as the winner.

Rockefeller carried most of the California counties in what was a liberal vs. conservative battle.

Southern California returns, chiefly from Los Angeles, gave Goldwater his first victory in a major contested primary after losses in New Hampshire and Oregon. This put him near the 655 delegate vote votes required the nomination.

The Associated Press tabulation of returns from 31,316 of the state's 31,861 precincts showed Goldwater 1,023,330, Rockefeller 985,788.

Goldwater was getting 50.9 per cent of the vote. Most of the network projections had ranged around 51 per cent, a figure on which CBS settled after having predicted generally that he would win with 53 per cent.

Oblivious to a short-lived bomb scare, Goldwater took a transcontinental nap as he flew from Los Angeles to Washington. Police hustled a passenger off Goldwater's jet airliner in Los Angeles and made him unpack a satchel. When no bombs or guns were found in it, airline officials let him reboard.

In high good humor, Goldwater joked with reporters on his arrival in Washington.

Alluding to the long dispute between Arizona and California over the waters of the Colorado River, the Arizona senator cracked: "I have a different attitude toward Californians now. They can have all the water we have."

Goldwater previously had called his California victory a "giant step" toward the presidential nomination.

Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, trounced State Controller Alan Cranston for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democratic Sen. Clair Engle.

The Salinger victory dealt a setback to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other party elements who supported Cranston. It showed, too, the vote-pulling power of the Kennedy image, used heavily by the press secretary to the late president.

The 39-year-old former San Francisco newspaper reporter, who couldn't even vote for himself because he's registered in Virginia, will face the Republican nominee, onetime actor George Murphy.

Brown, however, won another intraparty squabble. His 154-slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention defeated a rival slate headed by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles.

LeMay Says Mistakes Prohibitive

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said today "modern weapons make it clear that the penalties for lapses of vigilance and misuse of power that have marred history are now prohibitive."

"This means that civilization, in order to survive and progress, must do better than it has in the past," the U.S. Air Force chief of staff said in an address at commencement ceremonies at the Air Force Academy.

A graduating class of 495 cadets received diplomas from Gen. LeMay in the academy football stadium.

LeMay said the United States' arsenal of missiles "will build toward an objective of more than 1,200 by 1970."

"Over that period," he said, "our forces of more than 6,000 first-line aircraft will be continued with new, improved models coming into the inventory."

"There is no evidence of stalemate in the present power balance. It still favors us by a clear margin.

Rusk Claims Talks Fruitful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned today from a Honolulu conference with "a number of recommendations" for President Johnson on new action to strengthen Southeast Asia against Communist pressures.

Landing at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk told newsmen "We brought back a number of recommendations, as we usually do from these meetings."

He said "the commitment of the American nation, its people and its government," to protect Southeast Asia against Red aggression "are well-known."

Then he added: "The problem is to make sure the other side fully understands that we mean what we say."

Rusk and McNamara were scheduled to see Johnson late in the day after the President's return from a speaking trip to New England.

McNamara was asked whether there are any plans for expanding the Vietnamese war into North Viet Nam. He declared that "no plans have been recommended to the President for approval and none has been approved."

This stopped short of denying that plans have been made by military experts, but it was in line with Johnson's statement Tuesday that he was not personally aware of any plans.

Aides traveling with Rusk and McNamara said much of the planning in the two-day Honolulu strategy conference, which ended Tuesday night, was concerned with ways of strengthening the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam and supporting more effectively the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Officials returning with the two Cabinet officers declined to say exactly what steps would be proposed to Johnson for achieving the purpose Rusk stated of making Communist North Viet Nam, Red China and the Soviet Union aware of U.S. determination not to let Southeast Asia fall to Red conquest.

NcNamara flew from Washington to Hawaii last Sunday.

Rusk went there from India where he served last week as President Johnson's special representative at funeral services for Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He said his time in India had been a "sad but deeply moving experience." He expressed admiration for the manner in which the new Indian leadership had acted to fill the gap created by Nehru's death.

US Military Is Strongest Says Johnson

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)— President Johnson said today the United States is stronger militarily "than any adversary or combination of adversaries" but "the staggering strength is not to destroy but to save, not to put an end to civilization but to put an end to conflict."

In a speech prepared for graduation exercises at the Coast Guard Academy, Johnson predicted that this country's strength will continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all others.

"Our adversaries, convinced that direct attack would be aimless, now resort to terror, subversion and guerilla warfare," Johnson said.

He told the cadets that Americans share responsibility "not only for our own security but for the security of all free nations, not only for our own society but for an entire civilization, not only for our own liberty but for the hopes of all humanity."

"In pursuit of such responsibilities, national security requires more than national strength," Johnson said.

"It requires, first of all, a nation dedicated to justice and the improvement of life for its own people. It requires a nation determined to help others eliminate the despair and human degradation on which the enemies of freedom feed. It requires a nation devoted, through speech and deed, to showing those who may grow weary of will, or fearful of the future that the cause of human dignity is on the march, its shadow is lingering, and victory is moving nearer.

"But our hope for success in the aims of peace rests also on the strength of our arms.

"We, as well as our adversaries, must stand in awe before the power our craft has created and our wisdom must labor to control.

Witnesses Called In Tyler Suit

TYLER, Tex. (AP)— Texaco, Inc., called witnesses Tuesday to introduce inclination surveys on two allegedly deviated oil wells in Texaco's $900,000 civil damage suit against H. M. Harrington Jr. and Charles W. Lutes, both of Longview.

Cited in the suit is a 40-acre tract in the Hawkins Field of Wood County. The tract was sub-leased by Harrington and Lutes from Texaco in 1950 after the latter had drilled one well and abandoned it as commercially unproductive.

Texaco alleges that wells are bottomed under an adjoining 50-acre tract it owns.

Tactics Shift In Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides shifted tactics today in the Senate's civil rights debate.

Southerners stood by, saying they were ready to vote on some amendments, while the measure's backers took up the speaking chores.

Dixie senators called this a "counter-filibuster." But Senate leaders said the change of heart came too late, that all of their plans now were centered on the cloture vote set for next Tuesday.

If the bill's supporters muster the necessary two-thirds vote for cloture, all further debate will be limited tightly and leaders are confident the bill then can be passed by the third week in June.

"I have confidence in the action that the Senate will take," President Johnston told a news conference Tuesday. "I believe it will pass a good bill."

The Southerners, who have prevented voting on the bill except on two of the 69 days of debate so far, decided on their change of strategy at a caucus Tuesday.

But when their leader, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced this on the floor, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he saw no possibility of arranging votes this week now.

Mansfield said that the bill's sponsors would need considerable time to explain the revised version which Senate leaders expect to win the votes needed for cloture.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the bill's floor manager, told newsmen he would lead off with a speech explaining the substitute in detail today.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chief author of the revised bill, had planned to do this but was ill with a heavy cold and deferred his speech. Mansfield co-sponsored the revisions with Dirksen.

US Army Count In Viet Nam Told

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)— The Army currently has 10,000 men deployed in South Viet Nam, Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes said today.

This was the first time an official figure on the major element of the U.S. military manpower had been given.

Ailes announced the total in an address prepared for commencement exercises at the U.S. Military Academy.

Balloon's Flight Said Successful

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Princeton University officials for the stratoscope program said today their tandem balloon carried the heaviest payload ever lofted by a free balloon on its successful flight of almost 12 hours Tuesday.

The 14,500-pound payload was a dummy mockup in preparation for a November flight. Then the balloon is due to carry the university's $2.5 million telescope up to photograph the planets above the haze of the earth's atmosphere.

Police To Work Overtime In NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 1,000 policemen soon will be patrolling New York City's streets and subways on an overtime basis in a campaign to halt attacks by Negro hoodlums on whites.

The additional patrols were ordered Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who said: "I am determined we are going to have law and order in this city of ours."

The order came two days after the Memorial Day weekend hooliganism on four subway trains and a Staten Island ferry. Bands of Negro teen-agers terrorized, robbed and beat whites.

Wagner also ordered all 20,000 patrolmen to wear their uniforms to and from work. Most travel by subway.

He ordered a speed-up in the installation of an experimental two-way radio network in subway trains. One Manhattan subway line is expected to get such a system in four to six months.

Wagner expressed concern over the anti-white rampages of Negro gangs, but he added: "There are other gangs in the city besides Negro and Puerto Rican; there are white gangs."

Civil rights leaders have deplored the attacks, but say frustration of Negroes in their search for adequate education, employment and housing is responsible.

Wagner met with police and Transit Authority officials for an hour and then announced that within two days 500 city patrolmen would be assigned to the streets and 200 transit police to the subways, both groups on overtime.

Each patrolman on the force will be required to work an extra eight-hour tour from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. every 20 days.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and I want to ask you a serious question. Do ANY boys like nice, sweet, old-fashioned girls? If you don't give them what they want, they think you don't like them and they go find someone who will. This guy I went with was real nice at first, then he started getting "fresh." He said if I liked him I'd go along with his ideas. I really liked him, but I couldn't explain why I wouldn't give in without sounding stupid or juvenile. He said I was too "nice" for him, and he left. Now I realize how much I liked him. How can I get him back?

DEE

DEAR DEE: Plenty of boys still like "nice, sweet, old-fashioned" girls. (That's the kind they look for when they have marriage in mind.) If you have to defend your moral standards with a debate, you are in the wrong company. Forget this boy. But don't be surprised if he turns up after he's grown up, and tells you that you were right, and he'd like to have another chance — this time with YOUR rules.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 22 years. I have continued to call myself MRS. JOHN SMITH. A friend of mine recently pointed out to me that I was breaching etiquette; that since there is no longer a JOHN SMITH, neither is there a MRS. JOHN SMITH, and I should be calling myself MRS. GERALDINE SMITH. Please set me straight.

MRS. GERALDINE OR MRS. JOHN?

DEAR MRS. JOHN SMITH: Your friend is the one who needs to be "set straight." When you took John's name, you took it for as long as YOU lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Since reading in your column that a woman changed dentists because she didn't like the canned music he used in his office, I should like to express myself on that subject. I quit TWO dentists on this account. But worse yet is being forced to listen to canned music in a garage. I sat there waiting for my car to be repaired, while the mechanic waved wrenches and screw drivers around in the air as he sang and skipped and danced all around the car as though he were in a hypnotic state. He stood on his toes, leaped into the air and twisted his body. His boss said he was a good mechanic and, if the music were turned off, every mechanic in the place would walk out. At six dollars an hour I didn't bring my car in there to be entertained. When I want to see a ballet, I'll buy a ticket. There should be a law against such nonsense in a place of business.

Martial Law Proclaimed In Korea

By C. S. CHIN

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—About 20,000 students and citizens demanding that President Chung Hee Park resign fought a bloody battle with police today and on into the night. His shaken regime proclaimed martial law.

Street fighting swirled around the capitol and on the approaches to the presidential palace in a day of wild disorder. Outbreaks were reported in other South Korean cities.

The decree putting the nation under martial law was announced after Park, who came to power four years ago on the heels of another student uprising, called the National Security Council into urgent session.

Also summoned were the representatives of the United States, which bankrolls this land of poverty menaced by communism. They were U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger and Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, the U.S. and U.N. commander in Korea.

So perilous were the streets, where students were seizing army trucks, battering at the capitol's gates and raining stones on police, that Berger and Howze flew to the conference in a helicopter.

Then as the fighting sputtered on after nightfall, the deputy information minister, Lo Suk-chan, announced the emergency martial law decree giving the army power to crush the demonstrations and drive people from Seoul's teeming streets.

Texas Hopefuls Exchange Barbs

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

Republican senate candidate Jack Cox says his opponent in the runoff Saturday, George Bush, "cannot communicate with a majority of Texas conservatives because he doesn't even speak the same language."

Cox said Bush hasn't shown the kind of conservatism demanded for a "winning coalition in November." He charged that Bush "shifted his stand on the civil rights bill from the far left posture of Ralph Yarborough, to a 'me too' constitutional position after he realized how far out of kilter he was with the rest of Texas."

Bush said in Fort Worth that Cox had tried to smear him and that unsigned, scurrilous literature had been distributed in the campaign.

Bush also told reporters he had violated no law in his campaign contributions but declined to discuss details of a charge by Cox that five persons contributed more than $5,000 each to Bush's campaign.

Saturdays GOP runoff is the first statewide campaign in the Texas party's history, says Marvin Collins, state GOP executive director. He said 200 counties definitely will hold Republican runoffs, 37 will not and 17 have not announced their plans yet. He said he doubted more than 100,000 voters will take part in the runoff balloting.

A veteran congressman from South Texas, Democrat Joe Kilgore, threw his weight Tuesday behind Eligio Kike de la Garza of Mission for the Democratic house nomination from the 15th Texas District.

De la Garza faces Lindsey Rodriguez in the runoff election. Both are state legislators.

Kilgore who is not running for office this year, said de la Garza is a "competent, experienced man. He knows the district well. He'll represent all the people."

He said Rodriguez' race was "an effort of the Teamsters, through the PASO organization, to exploit political influence in South Texas in the way in which they did in Crystal City."

Robert W. Baker, who opposes incumbent congressman at large Joe Pool in the Democratic runoff, was praised in San Antonio by State Sen. Franklin Spears as "a good Texan and an able public servant." Baker is a former state senator.

Spears said Baker has done "an outstanding job for his constituents and for the state."

Pool, speaking in Corpus Christi, voiced support of President Johnson's fiscal policy and his administration's record on national defense.

Pasadena Lawyer Freed From Jail

HOUSTON (AP)—A Pasadena attorney was released today after spending the night in the Harris County jail on a charge of contempt of court.

N. A. Smith was cited for contempt Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Dave Thompson for refusing to testify during a court of inquiry into the fiscal affairs of Pasadena, a suburban industrial municipality.

Sheriff's deputies said a technicality prevented Smith from posting a $250 bond until 8:35 am. today.

A Court of Criminal Appeals judge ordered him released Tuesday night after application for a writ of habeas corpus was granted, but Capt. M. E. Patton of the sheriff's department refused to honor a telephone call from Austin.

Patton told Judge W. A. Morrison he would have to have a written court order at 7:40 p. m., nine hours after he was cited for contempt.

Meeting in extraordinary session, the three-man court in Austin made up of Judge Morrison, Judge W. T. McDonald and Judge K. K. Woodley set June 10 as a hearing date and set a $250 appearance bond.

The court met at 10:40 p.m. and by 11:40 p.m. had notified the sheriff's department of the decision.

Smith's attorney, Quinnan Hodges, earlier went to two associate justices of the Texas Supreme Court who had denied his request they order Smith released on bond and schedule a habeas corpus hearing.

Smith was sent to the county jail in the custody of constable George Larkin. Larkin first said he intended to take Smith home with him because he "hated to put him in jail" because of the company there.

In other testimony at the court of inquiry Tuesday:

1. Finance commissioner Dan A. Weathers testified under oath he does not report the $150 "expense" payment he receives each month on his income tax.

2. Mrs. Eula Wilson, bookkeeper for the City of Pasadena, testified the Pasadena mayor and city commissioners are paid salaries and expenses from three different accounts. None of the women normally know exactly how accounts other than their own are handled, Mrs. Wilson said.

Smith was named last week by former Mayor Comer Whitaker as the man who received a 1 per cent payback, or about $60,000, from the financial firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith during the years 1959-1963.

Smith read a statement in the courtroom, saying he refused to testify on the ground his "rights, privileges and immunities are being violated."

He invoked the fifth, sixth and 14th amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

Searchers Fail To Find Wreckage

ATHENS, Tex. (AP)—An unconfirmed report of a plane crash prompted a two-hour search by ground and air today over south Henderson County. No plane was found.

Sheriff J. W. Brownlow said a farmer, John W. Davis, told of seeing a plane appear to fall, and then spotted a puff of smoke beyond the horizon after the craft disappeared.

Two private planes and units of the sheriff's office, Texas Highway Patrol and Texas Rangers combed areas around the Cross Roads, Crescent Heights and Malakoff communities.

Brownlow said a check of Northeast Texas airports showed no planes unaccounted for.

Novelist Charged With Emotion

THE BLIND HEART. By Storm Jameson.

In the little village of St. Loupde-Grace, in the south of France, 60-year-old Aristide Michal (whose real name was Michalopoulos, for he was of Greek origin) had withdrawn his life savings from a bank, because he was about to pay 5 million francs for the building in which he operated his little restaurant for gourmets.

Then he was called away to help the widow Clozel, who had nearly died in a wartime prison camp, to recover her little boy Jean from his foster parents. The money was taken from Michal's safe.

Gradually the solution of this crime by Commissioner Luc-Albert Gaudo — who possessed typically Gallic intuition — put Michal into a shattering position. It is the resolution of this devastating situation that forms the core of Miss Jameson's story.

She has used a rather large cast of characters, including Michal's wife Lotte, who is younger than he; their adopted son Philippe, a handsome young man with the wrong tendencies; a retired old Englishman, George Leighton, who sometimes makes bitter comments on life in general, and several of the villagers, including the land-greedy Paul Larrau, who had agreed to sell the building.

Within the main story there is an ironic touch in a change in Leighton's life, and a sensitive picture of little Jean's desperate aversion to the mother he had never known.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

PROTECTING BABY'S HEARING —

By Malte J. Carlson, President Acousticon International

There are many children who have some degree of hearing impairment. About 80 percent of this "early deafness" occurs before the child's fifth year; and much of it can be prevented.

Most hearing impairments are the result of childhood diseases such as meningitis, measles, scarlet fever and influenza. Since these ailments, in their early stages, often resemble the common cold, the baby should be put to bed at the first sign of a cold symptom and the doctor called.

A hearing loss also can develop if care is not taken in cleaning baby's ears. Ear wax is a normal secretion from the glands in the ear canal and it helps to keep the skin healthy. It will, in most cases, fall out by itself as it accumulates. When sticky, it should be carefully wiped out.

It is suggested you consult your physician before you attempt to clean baby's ears. He will show you how to do this correctly so you don't injure baby's ears, pave the way for an ear infection or push the wax deeper.

Particular care should be taken to prevent water from entering the ear. Too much water can cause the delicate nose and throat tissue to swell. This will interfere with the ventilation to the middle ear and can result in impaired hearing.

Allergies of the nose, throat, and ears also can cause swelling which will obstruct proper ventilation of the middle ear and thereby interfere with the baby's hearing mechanism.

Infected tonsils and large or infected adenoids can endanger the ears. Obstruction from adenoids will tend to disappear in adolescence. But in young children the adenoids may grow large enough to fill the ear passage leading from the throat to the ear. Your doctor can advise you whether or not they should be removed.

Regular ear checks and hearing tests for the baby are the best safeguards against impaired hearing. Hearing societies, clinics and hearing aid manufacturers throughout the country urge periodic ear examinations and have assisted in establishing community hearing conservation programs.

At the slightest indication of an ear infection or injury, baby should be taken to the doctor. Prompt and adequate medical treatment of infections and injuries is the best way to maintain good hearing and prevent a hearing loss.

Autobiographical Memoir Chronicles Life To 1940

TO NUMBER OUR DAYS. By Pierre van Paassen.

The author of "Days of Our Years," a best seller published in 1940, has written an autobiographical memoir which covers his life to that period.

Van Paassen began as a preacher, became a journalist and lecturer, and throughout the long years was an advocate of many causes, in whose behalf he poured out many exhortations. In short, he has always been a man of strong opinions, strongly upheld.

He describes his early days at the mission stations in Canada, his service in Canada's Corps of Guides in World War I, and his first, rather chaotic days in Paris at the end of that war. As he moved over into journalism, he had a brief and disruptive experience in Atlanta.

It is in his European career, during the 1920's and 1930's, when he combined journalism with his political adventures, that the book gets down to cases. Long an adherent of socialism (which to him had Christian connotations), he was the sort of driving personality who attached himself to anti-fascist, anti - German, anti - military causes. In addition he became one of the first non-Jews to promote Zionism.

He tells many stories of famous personalities, most of them highly colored by his own reactions. Either he has total recall, or voluminous files, or both, for his book is loaded with multitudinous details. He is better at remembering than he is at focussing.

There are times when his story is so discursive, so filled with minor twigs of narrative, that the reader is apt to become lost. But for the patient, many urges and emotions, many ideas and aspirations, that deserve to be recorded and renewed.

US's Firmly Committed In Southeast Asia Fracas

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quietness has settled over the Johnson administration on the subject of Southeast Asia. Yet, it can't afford to sit and rock.

President Johnson himself has said the whole area is at stake. And the situation has been going from bad to worse. Tuesday there was a double vagueness.

1. Johnson had ordered some of his top people to a Honolulu conference on what to do. It ended Tuesday with no recommendations announced. This was to be expected.

2. Johnson told his news conference nothing new Tuesday. He did say the United States "cannot fail to do its full share to meet the (Communist) challenge."

This studied obscurity may mean Johnson himself will announce it if this country has decided on a more vigorous and far-reaching policy in Southeast Asia.

While the United States has been giving South Viet Nam $1.5 million a day in aid, and more than 200 of the 15,500 American military men there have been killed, the fight against the North Vietnamese Communists has deteriorated.

By last week all Southeast Asia looked in peril with the Reds stepping up their attack in Viet Nam and rampaging in Laos next door.

The United States could take a definitely new step by bombing the North Vietnamese supply depots. But what would the Red Chinese do in that case?

The Johnson administration not only didn't know that but it didn't know what the reaction in this country might be to enlarging the war.

It was at this point that Johnson ordered the Honolulu meeting. Present were:

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and many aides and advisers.

This South Vietnamese war had turned McNamara into a regular commuter. In the past two and a half years he had made five trips to Saigon and six to Honolulu, including this one.

From a number of those journeys he had returned optimistic, but not recently.

After the meeting U.S. officials hinted military action might be taken against North Viet Nam if it and Red China continue to help the fighting in South Viet Nam and Laos.

Yet, at the same time they said neither McNamara nor Rusk proposed a plan "to enlarge the war." And here in Washington Johnson said he knew of no plans like that.

Nevertheless, Rusk on May 22, before going to Honolulu, hinted at the possibility of enlarging the war "if the Communists persist in their course of aggression."

Whether this was intended more as a psychological deterrent to the Reds than as a reality still isn't clear.

About all that seems positive at the moment is that the United States — Johnson said Tuesday about meeting the challenge — has no intention of abandoning Southeast Asia to communism.

In that same talk 12 days ago Rusk said, "We have made it clear that we are not going to abandon people who are trying to preserve their independence and freedom."

There's another good but unexpressed reason for not walking out: It would wreck American influence in all Asia and perhaps with its allies, too.

All this makes up the biggest foreign test to hit Johnson yet. He's a comparative newcomer to foreign affairs. His specialty was always Congress.

National Park Service conservationists fear that lack of water could burn away the Everglades National Park.

Boyle Finds Reason For Gratefulness

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

All things young and fair—colts and calves and grave-eyed babies and romping puppies chasing butterflies.

Lying in the grass and hearing the drone of a nearby bee drowning out the distant jet plane as you look into a soft summer sky and try to tell your fortune in the drifting milk-white clouds.

All the tastes of summer—corn on the cob, sourgrass, great red strawberries heaped with sugar like miniature Mt. Fujiyamas, great ripe tomatoes bursting with juice that runs down your chin, huge slices of watermelon in which a small boy can bury his face from ear to ear.

Having the repair man tell you, "No, I don't think you'll have to buy a new air-conditioning unit this year. This one ought to hold out okay through September."

Young couples holding hands self-consciously on park benches as they watch pigeons indulging in bold courtship on the sidewalk.

The ache of tired muscles as you sail home at sunset in a small boat, feeling like Columbus returning from enchanted seas.

Stretching out at the edge of a small stream with a fishing pole held in your dozing hands, and not caring a whoop whether the fish bite or swim off to Timbuktu.

Tremulous daughters in shimmering summer dresses waiting with moist hands to walk to the platform and get their high school diplomats.

Old ladies leaning fat arms on pillows in tenement windows as they stare down at the passing street life below them like wrinkled goddesses, careless of mankind.

The pace at the office slows down as the boss leaves earlier in the afternoon for an important conference with an important customer, taking his golf clubs along—just in case.

Waking in the morning to find that your wife has already got up and mowed the lawn. Bully for her. Good old girl!

Sitting on the front porch in the clamorous night and having a small child inquire, "Daddy, why can't you catch falling stars and put them in a bottle—just like fireflies?"

Asks Dismissal Of Rail Fare Appeal

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr asked a federal court Tuesday to dismiss a state appeal of an Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) order raising Texas passenger train fares.

Carr contends a recent ICC fare increase weakened the state's appeal.

The appeal attacked an ICC order of October 1962, allowing three railroads to increase one-way fares for intrastate travel from 3 cents to 3.183 cents per mile, the same as interstate fares. The difference between the two rates, the state's appeal said, was too small to be justified.

The railroads are the Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Texas and Pacific.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CATS

QUESTION: Why can't a cat roar like a lion?

• • •

ANSWER: Next to the roaring lion, our artist has drawn a double bass, the largest and deepest-voiced instrument in the violin family. The strings of the double bass, vibrating in its large body, produce the deep tone, and in a similar way, the lion's large vocal chords, (shown to left of double bass) vibrating in his large body, produce the deep-throated roar. By comparison, the cat's little vocal chords vibrate with a higher-pitched sound, more like that of the small violin. To roar like a lion, a cat would have to lug around a huge sound-making apparatus which would be out of proportion to his size.

Did you ever wonder why lions roar? These animals are fond of hunting at night, often besides some waterhole where game animals come to drink. When such an animal appears, a lion will let out his terrifying roar. It is a sound which seems to come from all directions and is very apt to confuse the game animal, who hesitates, wondering which way to run. Before he has decided, the lion is upon him.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: A violin is an example of a string instrument which produces sounds by vibrating chords. The other types of instruments are wind and percussion. See if you can find out how they produce sound.

Chance Is On Way To $18,000 Season

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dean Chance stormed out of Fred Haney's office in a contract hassle recently and aimed a parting shot at the Los Angeles Angels' general manager.

"All right," said Chance, "I'll pitch an $18,000 season."

Neither Chance nor Haney expected him to try and do it in one game.

But Chance tried to against Boston Tuesday night, turning in one of the top pitching performances of the season, keeping the Red Sox hitless for 5 2-3 innings and finishing with a two-hitter while striking out 15 in a 1-0 Los Angeles victory.

Chance, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a shot at a no-hitter and probably a pay raise until Dick Stuart lined a single to center with two out in the sixth. He also had a shot at the record 18-strikeout mark and probably a pay raise until he ran out of whiffs in the last two innings.

Chance had 13 strikeouts through seven innings, but struck out only one in each of the last two innings and settled for the season's high of 15, an impressive 2.12 earned-run average and a 4-2 score. Now he needs only 20 more victories to get his raise.

The 24-victory yardstick was applied by Haney a week ago Tuesday when the Angels called a special press conference and brought up the subject of Chance's contract dispute with the club. At that time, Haney said an $18,000 season figures out to about "24 winning games."

While Chance was showing Haney his stuff, standout pitching efforts also were turned in by:

—Sam McDowell, a $100,000 bonus baby recently recalled from the minors who struck out 14 as Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2 and knocked the White Sox out of the American League lead.

—Baltimore's Dave McNally who posted his second shutout with a six-hit, 4-0 triumph over Kansas City that lifted the Orioles into first place.

—Gerry Arrigo, who kept eight hits well spaced in Minnesota's 6-2 triumph over the New York Yankees.

The only other AL game scheduled — Washington at Detroit—was rained out.

In the National League, Philadelphia edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3, Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco 3-1, the Chicago Cubs whipped St. Louis 5-2, Cincinnati belted Milwaukee 7-5 and the New York Mets downed Houston 7-4.

Besides Stuart's single, the only other hit off Chance was a single by Felix Mantilla leading off the ninth.

Chance got the only run he needed and the only one of the game in the fourth when Jack Lamabe walked Joe Koppe, Billy Moran singled and Lee Thomas doubled.

McDowell, a 21-year-old left-hander with only eight major league victories since receiving his $100,000 four years ago, now has posted two of the victories since being recalled from the minors last Saturday.

Leon Wagner homered in the third inning for the Indians—No. 12 of the season and his fourth in four games—and Cleveland broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth when Max Alvis and Larry Brown hit consecutive homers.

McNally, also a 21-year-old southpaw, had been ineffective in his last three starts but pitched strongly against the A's, who were unable to get a man past second base. McNally now has a 4-3 record.

Boog Powell homered for the Orioles, who scored two of their first three runs on wild pitches by Orlando Pena, now 6-4.

Arrigo, a 22-year-old lefty, struck out Elston Howard with the bases loaded in the third and got out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth without a run scoring.

Hector Lopez homered in the eighth for the Yankees but the Twins already had put it out of reach as Tony Oliva stroked three hits and John Goryl, Bernie Allen, Don Mincher and Earl Battey all collected triples.

SPORTS

Sports, Buffs Are PL Winners

The Sports edged by the Rebels 6-2 in the first game of a Pony League double - header Tuesday night while the Buffs defeated the Braves 7-1 in the nightcap.

In winning the Sports knocked the Rebels from the undefeated column. They had a record of two wins and no losses going into last night's action. The Sports now have a record of two wins and one loss.

The Sports went out in front in the first inning, were tied in the second, and went ahead to stay in the 3rd. O. L. Cooper hit a triple for the winners and Dewey Grinslade doubled for the losers.

Good pitching was featured in the nightcap, with Tony Suttle of the Buffs giving up 4 hits and Mitch Rambin of the Braves giving up six. The victory was the first for the Buffs in 3 outings while the Braves are winless in three contests.

Tommy Bullard tripled for the Buffs and Robert Hobbs doubled. There were no extra-base blows for the Braves.

Track Star Signs To Go To SMU

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist came up with one of the state's schoolboy track stars when Coach Glenn Gossett signed Kenny Walters of Irving.

Walters was the state champion high hurdler with a time of 14.0. He also plays football.

Class AAAA schoolboy baseball had more than half of its bidistrict champions awaiting the quarter-finals today.

South Oak Cliff, Brazosport and San Antonio Lee made it Tuesday night while Houston Bellaire and Lubbock Monterey already were in the last playoff before the state tournament.

South Oak Cliff beat Fort Worh Paschal 3-0 to get to the quarter - finals, while Brazosport whipped Port Neches 7-3 and Lee Downed Oaredo 7-0.

It will be Friday before the other three bi-district champions are known.

Midland Lee is one-up on El Paso Austin and they meet at Midland Thursday and Friday.

Sherman is ahead of Lufkin 1-0 and they meet at Lufkin in a double-header Thursday.

Portland State Leads NAIA Golf

FORT WORTH (AP)—Portland State held a two-stroke lead going into the second round of the NAIA golf tournament today.

Paul Short of Southwest Louisiana and William Costello of Rider College, N.J., were tied for the individual lead with two-over-par 73s.

Willey Removed From Disabled List

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Carlton Willey of the New York Mets, who sustained a fractured jaw when hit by a batted ball in an exhibition game April 3, has been taken off the disabled list, the club announced Tuesday night.

To make room on the roster for Willey, the Mets sent pitcher Craig Anderson to their Buffalo farm club in the International League.

Willey, 33, was the Mets' top right-hander last year, winning 9 and losing 14 following his purchase from the Milwaukee Braves. He had not allowed an earned run in 11 innings during the exhibition season when he was struck down by a line drive off the bat of Detroit outfielder Gates Brown.

Thinks Golf Is Game For Old Men Too

CHICAGO (AP)—Chick Evans, who at almost 74 isn't convinced golf is a young man's game, is getting up a tournament in which no one under 65 can play.

Evans won the National Open and Amateur championships in 1916, when he was 26. In recent years he has been a pillar of various senior golf organizations and organized the successful World Senior Championship.

When the U.S. Golf Association recently proposed lowering the age limit for seniors from 55 to 50, Chick decided it was time for the older men to separate from the mere boys.

This week Evans has been sending invitations to about 1,000 golfers 65 and over to organize and play in the first Golden 65 Championship at the DeSoto Lakes club in Florida Nov. 12-14. The informal tournament will be a 54-hole stroke play event designed mostly for the players' enjoyment and to "keep intact the friendly and close relations among senior golfers."

Giants, Sox Win In FL

The Giants edged the Braves 18-17 in a squeaker in Farm League action Tuesday night and the White Sox swamped the Indians 19-8. That game was called after five innings because of the 10-run lead rule.

The Giants gained their first victory of the season, after having lost two straight. The Braves are now even with two victories and two losses. The White Sox also are even after four contests, while the Incians have won one and lost two.

Four doubles were hit by the White Sox. Those getting two-base hits were Roy Norris, N. C. Smith, Jerrell Patrick, and David Word.

Braves, Sox Win In Little League

The National League Braves defeated the Giants 5-2 in Little League activity Tuesday night and the White Sox lambasted the Indians 18-7 in the American League.

The victory for the Braves enabled them to pull even for the year with two wins and two losses, good enough for second place behind the Cardinals, who have won three and lost one.

The Braves were outhit by the Giants and had to come from behind to gain the victory. The Giants had gone ahead 2-1 in the bottom of the 4th. However, the Braves tallied two runs in each of the last two innings.

The Braves hit three doubles in the contest to help the cause. Getting 2-base hits were Bobby Weaver, Roxy Small and Tommy Anger. Tommy Johnson doubled for the Giants, and was the winning pitcher.

It was a real slugfest over in the American with the White Sox getting 16 hits, including five extra-base blows, in winning their first contest of the season. The White Sox had three big innings, scoring 7 in the 1st, 8 in the 4th and 3 in the 6th.

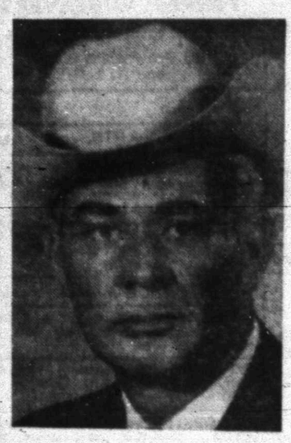

Rocky Land homered, Mike Hodge tripled, Ronald Ward got two doubles, and Cliff Voss doubled once, all for the winning White Sox. For the Indians Wesley Bishop tripled and Richie Rodgers doubled.

Quick! Pick a Chevrolet and fill in the spaces

Now's the time to see the great outdoors in a great Chevrolet buy!

Here you are on the brink of vacation time. There's your Chevrolet dealer in the midst of Trade 'N' Travel Time. You two should get together! Object—celebrating the joys of summer in a new Chevrolet.

Why a Chevrolet? Well, with 15 models in four series, what possible reason is there to look further?

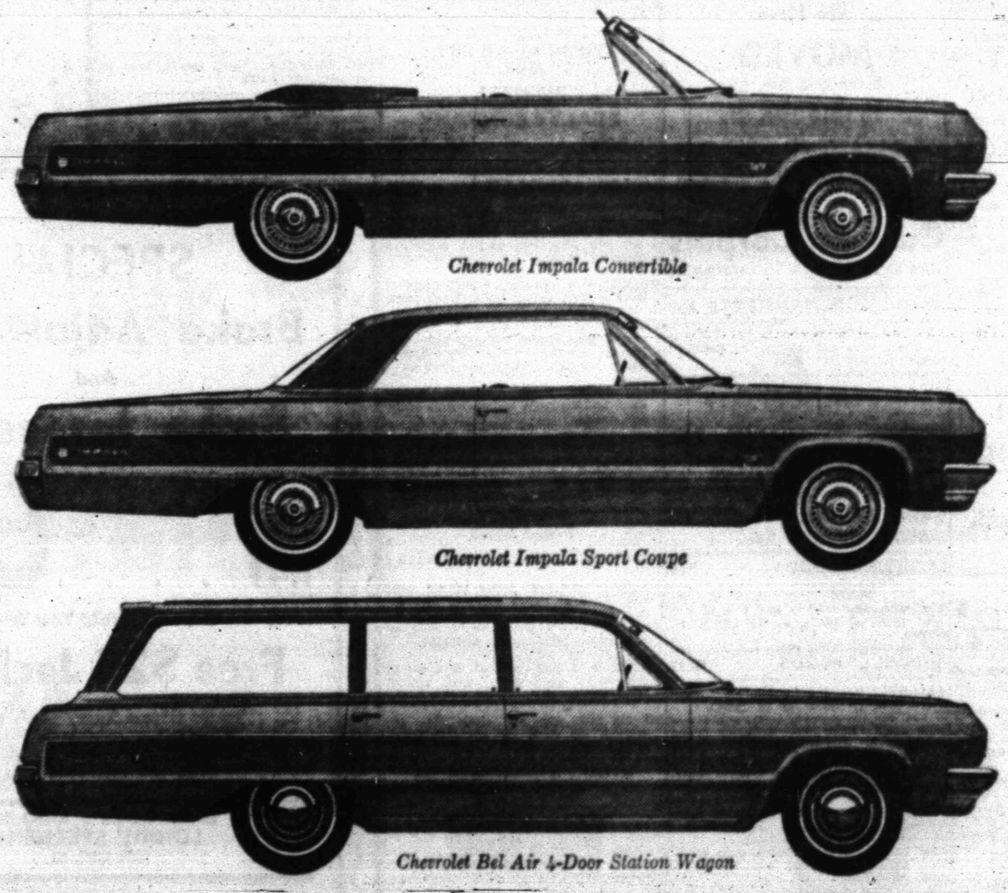

Take the Impala Super Sport (and a lot of people do just that). Comes as a Sport Coupe or Convertible. Has trimmings like front bucket seats, center console, special trim—all as standard equipment. And offers a typically Chevrolet array of extra-cost options.

CHEVROLET TRADE 'N' TRAVEL TIME FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

Plain Impalas are anything but. They come in all popular body styles, including wagons. They're dressed up to a fare-thee-well; fully carpeted interiors included.

Bel Airs and Biscaynes, the lower priced Chevrolets, make a practice of hiding it. All the conveniences, no sacrificing comfort or style.

Did we mention that Trade 'N' Travel Time won't last forever? It won't. So see your Chevrolet dealer. Then go fill in the spaces.

Queen Rules Netherlands But Prince Rules At Home

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Queens rule nations, but princes rule royal homes.

At least that's the way it is with a pair of the world's best known princes—Bernhard of the Netherlands and Philip of Britain.

Eleven years ago, Bernhard gave the following advice to his friend Philip:

"To succeed as both husband and subject, I believe you need a tightrope walker's sense of balance and an understanding wife. In the nation it is my wife who rules. In my home it is I."

Prince Bernhard, the husband of Queen Juliana, gave the advice to the husband of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953, shortly before her coronation. The prince of the Nethelands volunteered it in an interview with a former Dutch court reporter, Donald Canter.

There is nothing to suggest that Prince Philip doesn't follow the advice. There is, however, a slight suspicion that Prince Philip doesn't have his way all the time.

Lord Kinross has said that Queen Elizabeth once asked a woman friend: "What do you do when your husband wants something badly and you don't want him to have it?"

"Well, ma'am," the queen's friend is reported to have replied, "I try to reason with him and dissuade him and sometimes we reach a compromise."

To this Her Britannic Majesty is said to have retorted: "Oh, that's not my method. I tell Philip he shall have it, and then make sure he doesn't get it."

But, according to persons close to the British throne, there is overwhelming evidence to suggest that Prince Philip rules the British royal home as surely as Bernhard does the one in Holland.

For instance:

—The queen opposed Prince Philip flying. He flew.

—The queen was against Philip landing helicopters on the lawn at Buckingham Palace. He landed them.

—The queen was not entirely in agreement with overhauling palace protocol. It was overhauled.

—The queen was opposed to Prince Charles going to Gordonstoun, the tough Scottish public school. Charles went to Gordonstoun.

Then there was the time the queen appeared before a royal party wearing a dress of her own choosing. In the hearing of several persons, Philip took a look at the frock, frowned and said rather sharply: "You're not going to wear THAT, are you?"

"No dear," answered the queen, and went and changed the dress.

So, it appears Philip is following his friend Bernhard's advice.

Valley Men Jailed For Possession Of Narcotics

By BOB M. GASSAWAY

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Two men, one a former policeman, were jailed early today and accused of possession and sale of 55 pounds of refined marijuana to an undercover U.S. Customs agent.

The men were to be charged before U.S Commissioner James Hall in Edinburg later today.

Customs agents said one of the men held a high position on a police department in a Lower Rio Grande Valley town until recently. The other man is a Mexican citizen.

Fenelon A. Richards, assistant supervising customs agent in charge of enforcement from Houston, said the weed could be worth more than $60,000 on the underworld market when sold a cigarette at a time.

"They were arrested in the act of delivery for sale approximately 55 pounds of manicured marijuana" Richards said. "The arrest was made in the city limits of Alamo Tuesday night on Tower Road just off U.S. Highway 83."

Richards said a single warning shot was fired when one of the men ran into a field in an effort to escape capture. He was arrested in the field after a brief chase.

Herbert Scott, customs agent in charge at McAllen, said U.S. Customs agents and Texas Department of Public Safety narcotics agents had been working on the case more than a year.

The undercover agent had agreed to buy the marijuana for $40 a pound, Richards said.

The packages of marijuana were wrapped in paper and tightly sealed to keep it from giving off its distinct odor.

Officers assume the illegal weed was smuggled across the Rio Grande from Mexico at some isolated point.

Piccadilly Hearing Set

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Judge Dallas Blankenship has set a June 11 hearing on the petition of the Piccadilly Cafeteria for a permanent injunction to prevent integration pickets from demonstrating in front.

A temporary restraining order, issued by Blankenship, was served on the pickets Tuesday as they marched in front of the cafeteria. The group, which had included eight Negroes and four whites, disbanded after the restraining order was read by a sheriff's deputy.

An attorney for the pickets said "We do not believe this to be a valid injunction. We are not going to be confined by the injunction but will disband temporarily and study the injunction."

The cafeteria's petition claims that the pickets have caused disturbances and caused its customers "unnecessary harrassment." It seeks $1,000 in damages.

Portrait Is Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A portrait of Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., painted by Washington artist Ralph Chase, was unveiled Tuesday in ceremonies at the Capitol.

The portrait is to hang in the House Veterans' Affairs Committee room. Teague is chairman of the committee.

The American Legion, the Veterans of World War I, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans commissioned and financed the painting.

Among those from Texas here for the ceremony were Jep Fuller, Port Arthur, representing the American Legion; Laurence Melton, Dallas, representing the DAV, and Walter Gates, representing World War I veterans. The Texas VFW was represented by Francis Stover of the National VFW headquarters.

US Boots Don't Fit Laotian Feet

BAN NA LONG, Laos (AP)—A company of right-wing troops in this desolate Laotian village has found American aid a trifle too expansive.

A supply of rubber-soled canvas combat boots arrived the other day as part of U.S. assistance to the little kingdom's anti-Communist forces.

Only one man, the biggest in the company, found a pair he could use. The boots ranged in size from 10 to 12F. The average Laotian soldier wears a 5 or 6.

USDA Says Wool Faces Dim Future

By OVID AM MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has a somewhat gloomy view of prospects for the wool industry this year.

Despite efforts of the department through use of an incentive payment program, the department said in a wool situation report that it expects a further decline this year in sheep numbers and less wool production.

In addition, it said, there probably will be a moderately lower mill use of wool for both clothing and carpets and a larger use of man-made fibers. Furthermore, it said, there is likely to be a shift in wool use to the lower qualities and a decline in raw wool imports.

Nevertheless, domestic wool prices are expected to average near the level of the last two years due to more favorable conditions prevailing in world wool markets.

Under an incentive payment program enacted in 1954, the government is seeking to expand production of wool in this country at an annual average of 300 million pounds of shorn wool. Production totaled 235 million pounds that year and rose to 265 million pounds in 1960. But it has dipped again to 238 million pounds.

The report said the per capita consumption of wool in this country was 2.95 pounds last year compared with 4.56 pounds in 1950. During this same period, the per capita consumption of man-made fibers increased from 9 pounds to 14.24 pounds.

Cotton suffered losses along with wool, declining from a per capita average of 29.43 pounds in 1950 to 21.84 last year.

Ruby Loses 3rd Defense Attorney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's third chief defense counsel, legal-medical expert Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, has resigned to return to teaching at the University of Texas Law School.

Another defense lawyer, Phil Burleson, announced the action Tuesday and said he and Joe Tonahill will carry on the legal battle for Ruby, convicted of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

"We do not anticipate any new attorney in the case and do not for the present see any necessity for one," Burleson said.

Smith was not present Monday when Burleson and Tonahill conferred with Judge Joe Brown about Ruby's mental condition. They contend he has become insane since his March 14 conviction and sentencing to death.

Burleson said Smith felt he should return to teaching "to sustain himself and his family." He had accepted the case without a fee. University regents ruled Smith must take a leave of absence without pay while working on the Ruby case.

Ruby's original chief lawyer was fiery Melvin Belli of San Francisco, who was dismissed after the trial for remarks about the jury and Dallas.

His replacement, Percy Foreman of Houston, quit after four days over what he called a disagreement with Ruby's family.

Smith said:

"I came into the case primarily to develope scientific elements bearing on Ruby's emotional status. I have developed this evidence and recruited scientific specialists who are ready and willing to carry out further studies when the court may desire their aid.

"The case is now in the appeal stage with purely legal questions to be reviewed. I feel I have contributed what I came into the case for and that the legal aspects will receive a highly competent presentation from Tonahill and Burleson."

New Boost Planned For Job Training

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a proposal which proponents say would give American job training its biggest boost since the GI Bill.

The idea, proposed by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, is to treat job skills like capital investments and give employers tax credits for training new workers and upgrading the abilities of present employes.

"Cost to the employer is the greatest single bar to an adequate apprenticeship and training program in America," the committee said in making the recommendation to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

High Labor Department officials view the recommendation as an important proposal in their efforts to combat growing technological job displacement and persistently high unemployment.

The apprenticeship committee —made up of one government, five management and five labor members — carries considerable weight. Its recommendations have led to federal equal employment policies and other important programs in job training in the past.

The committee said employers should be encouraged to undertake more job training by granting them a tax write-off at least as great as the 7 per cent they now get for certain capital expenditures designed to spur business investment.

But, the committee indicated, an even higher tax credit would be justified because of the risk involved in training a man for a job and then losing him to a competitor.

The committee said the government has made no large scale contribution to on-the-job training since Congress passed the GI Bill after World War II to train and educate war veterans.

The committee's unanimous recommendation urge tax credits on the salary and other costs of instructors, bookkeeping costs, training material, cost of time spent in class by apprentices during paid working hours and a certain percentage of the salary of foremen who work with trainees.

Storm In Mexico Takes Heavy Toll

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Storms struck Mexico's Gulf Coast and as far inland as the nearby state of Mexico, causing widespread damage and heavy loss of life.

Ten persons were reported killed and severl houses destroyed Tuesday not far from Mexico City. Heaviest hit was the town of San Juan de Atzing, flooded by a cloudburst.

Ten more were drowned near Tampico when a launch overturned in the Rio Panuco during a storm.

Another launch overturned in Veracruz, with the possible loss of three more lives. This was not immediately confirmed.

Winds were said to have reached near-hurricane force along the Gulf Coast. Television stations were knocked out in Puebla, Veracruz and Morelos.

The high winds and rains caused numerous automobile accidents. A prominent Veracruz socialite, Miss Angeles Hinojosa Vandivia, was killed in one crash.

Cuban Red Cross Tells Of Attacks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro forces backed by the United States have been attacking Cuban coastal cities, causing great damage and loss of life, the Cuban Red Cross says.

The statement was broadcast Tuesday by the Cuban radio, monitored here. It was one of the few acknowledgements by Fidel Castro government that attacks have occurred. It has announced the execution of seven "CIA" agents in the past week.

Anti-Castro leader Manuel Artime predicted a long, Viet Nam-type war against Cuba's Communist regime.

"It might be one year or three years," the head of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement said in a statement his office delivered to the Miami Herald. Artime's whereabouts remain secret.

Witnesses Sought In Slaying Case

ANGLETON (AP)—Subpoena servers were to search Austin Tuesday night for a so-called alibi witness to testify at the habeas corpus hearing today of a man serving 99 years for murdering his mother-in-law.

Harry Washburn, convicted of the car-bomb death of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, a San Angelo socialite, is attempting at the hearing to gain freedom or a new trial.

Instead, Tuesday, he drew a three-day sentence and a $100 fine when he was convicted of contempt of court for blowing up on the witness stand.

The one-time Houston contractor was held in contempt after Earl W. Smith of San Angelo, a special state prosecutor at Washburn's trial, testified Washburn once told investigators he was in a bawdy house in La Grange at the time of the murder.

Washburn called him a liar and screamed: "I've never been in a house of prostitution."

Subpoena servers were looking for Mrs. Ruby Mitchell Kinnibrough, and her husband. Defense attorney Clyde Woody complained that the woman, a former car-hop in Austin, was vital to his case and an earlier subpoena for her had been returned unserved. Judge G. P. Hardy Jr. then issued new subpoenaes to be served overnight.

Mrs. Weaver was blown to bits by a bomb when she started her car the morning of Jan. 19, 1955. Washburn was convicted of the death in 1957. His attorneys, Woody and Jim Moore of Houston, contend the state prosecutors intimidated an alibi witness and suppressed evidence at the trial.

Mrs. Linda Nelson of Dallas provided the most dramatic of Tuesday's testimony. She is the widow of Andrew H. Nelson, indicted along with Washburn as his technical adviser to the bombing.

Nelson died of lockjaw Sept. 2, 1962. Before Washburn was arrested, he was the chief suspect in the case.

Mrs. Nelson testified that three weeks before he died, Nelson told her Washburn was innocent.

She said her husband told her he himself made two test bombs and then wired a third bomb to the Weaver car.

Warren Panel To Hear Mrs. Oswald

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission's list of scheduled witnesses for next week includes Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade and Police Sgt. Patrick T. Dean.

Mrs. Oswald, widow of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin, is scheduled to testify again on Thursday, June 11. Wade and Dean are scheduled to go before the probing group next Monday.

The commission declined to say why the trio was being questioned. Mrs. Oswald testified at length in Washington previously. Dean has given depositions in Dallas.

The commission will hear this week from several government agents closely connected with the investigation. Appearing Thursday afternoon are FBI Special Agents Lyndal L. Shaneyfelt and Robert A. Frazier, both of whom testified earlier. Also scheduled are Inspector Leo Gauthier from the FBI and Inspector Thomas J. Kelley from the Secret Service.

A number of present and former State Department officials and employes have been called to testify Tuesday, June 9.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to appear Wednesday, June 10.

James J. Rowley, chief of the Secret Service, is scheduled for Tuesday, June 16.

Methodists Name New Secretary

HOUSTON (AP) —The Texas Methodist Conference has a new executive secretary—The Rev. Lamar S. Clark, 53, of Texarkana.

His appointment followed a vote by delegates of the 125th annual conference to put all its commissions and boards under the direction of a single administrative staff, which Clark will direct.

He will be assisted by three associate secretaries and three field workers.

The secretaries, appointed by Bishop Paul E. Martin, are The Rev. Rubal Moore, formerly executive secretary of the Conference Board of Education; The Rev. James R. Shelton, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church in Tyler the past two years, and The Rev. Wallace T. Shook, who has been at Texarkana's Williams Memorial Methodist the past four years.

The three field workers, who will continue in positions they now hold, are: Miss Madge Franklin, children's director, The Rev. Don Sinclair, director of adult training, and The Rev. David Williamson, director of youth work.

Clark, who replaces Dr. Joe Z. Tower as executive secretary, is a graduate of Southern Methodist University's school of theology.

Rev. Tower said the Texas Conference gained a net of 4,667 members last year for a membership of 223,654. The conference has 619 churches.

National Guardsmen Watch Uneasy Hillsdale Scene

By The Associated Press

Nearly 1,000 Michigan National Guardsmen kept the peace today at Hillsdale, Mich., scene of the bitterest of a rash of labor disputes in the Midwest.

Negotiations at the Essex Wire Corp. collapsed Tuesday on the eve of the plant's reopening, authorized by Gov. George Romney after he had kept the plant closed for five days.

Guards and imported labor had kept the plant in partial operation during the strike.

Feelings were bitter in the city where strike violence has flared sporadically since the International Union of Electrical Workers pulled out its 180 production workers 96 days ago. The IUE was attempting to win its first contract at Essex. It had replaced the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent at Essex.

Hillsdale county's 35,000 residents were put under a curfew order. Two near riots have occurred at the plant and both strikers and workers have been injured. Romney arranged to station upwards of 1,000 National Guardsmen in the city, four times the original number.

The union assailed Romney's reopening order as an attempt to influence the course of bargaining. The governor denied it.

Picketing violence also erupted in cities in Wisconsin and Indiana.

In West Allis, Wis., striking steelworkers and police fought at the Pressed Steel Tank Co. Two men were hurt. Five pickets were arrested.

Police Chief Louis Reinsch said the fighting broke out as police tried to escort newly hired Marquette University students into the struck plant.

The steelworkers walked out April 1 after rejecting the company's offer on a three-year contract.

Fist fights also broke out at the Evansville, Ind., International Steel plant. The plant, employing 350 production workers, has been struck for eight weeks by Teamsters Union Local 215.

A company spokesman said one woman suffered a slight concussion when she tried to push past pickets Tuesday. He said the plant would be closed today because the employes were afraid to cross picket lines.

Also in Indiana, 500 industrial workers went on strike Tuesday at the Dana Corp., an automotive parts manufacturer in Marion. The dispute was over job classifications.

Leaders of the United Auto Workers voted Tuesday to strike today against the big White Motor Co. plant in Cleveland, Ohio.

A wildcat strike over dismissal of four employes — two of them union stewards—occurred last week. White Motor, makers of trucks and buses, employes about 3,300 UAW members.

Quads' Father Is Happy, Stunned

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm happy; I'm stunned," says the father of quadruplets. "I hope God will get me a good job in the construction industry."

Salvatore Peloro's wife, Maria, 30, gave borth to the quads Tuesday. She and the infants were reported in satisfactory condition today. The boy weighed 2 pounds, 13 ounces and the girls 2 pounds; 2 pounds, 8 ounces; and 2 pounds, 13 ounces.

The couple has two other children, aged 3 and 5.

Peloro, 35, a plumber, says he hasn't worked since last November and his unemployment benefits ended two weeks ago.

Not Very Terrific With 2 'F's

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sarah Jane Hicks, 12, of Ironton, Ohio became the first casualty today at the start of the 37th annual national Spelling Bee.

Sarah put an extra "f" in "terrific" and was forced to step down from the stage of a hotel ballroom where 70 boys and girls are competing. At stake is a total of $5,700 in prizes including a first prize of $1,000, a weekend trip to the New York World's Fair and a nationwide television appearance. The contest is sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday papers.

Only one contestant, Suzi Shwartz of Youngstown, Ohio, appeared unsure of the spelling she gave during the first round. After spelling "existence" she asked Dr. Richard R. Baker, professor of philosophy at the University of Dayton, Ohio, who is pronouncer at the spelling bee for the fourth year: "Is that right?"

There was one laugh during the first round when Baker asked Joyce Ann Mease of Richlands, N.C., to spell "beagle." Baker defined the word as "a small dog with sore ears."

That was a reference to President Johnson's picking up his pet beagles by the ears.

Four youngsters also were eliminated in the second round.

A new spelling champion or co-champions will be crowned Thursday.

A record 759 words were used last year before Glen Van Slyke III of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was selected champion.

In Wales, the more learning and academic degrees a man has, the higher he is regarded.

Cape Kennedy Has No Postmark

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Many a stamp collector is learning that, while the missile center was renamed Cape Kennedy, the city still is Cape Canaveral.

Stamp collectors have deluged Postmaster Lyle Meadows and his four clerks with "first day covers." These are decorated envelopes, bearing the new John F. Kennedy stamp, which collectors send in to be mailed back with the postmark they want as a souvenir.

The collectors wanted a Cape Kennedy postmark on the new stamps honoring the late president, but such a postmark does not exist.

The City Council repected a suggestion that the community's name be changed to conform with the cape's name change.

Catholic Church Pays Homage To Deceased Pontiff

By GERALD I. MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI led the Roman Catholic Church today in homage to Pope John XXIII on the first anniversary of his death.

The pontiff descended into the crypt beneath St. Peter's Basilica to celebrate a memorial Mass before the flower-decked tomb of Pope John. Then he knelt for several minutes in silent prayer.

A succession of Masses followed before the tomb. One was celebrated by Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who was Pope John's private secretary.

Another memorial service was scheduled at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's native village where his brothers still work their farms.

Pilgrims by the thousands thronged to the pope's birthplace in the north Italian mountains. A petition with 50,000 signatures, asking the start of a beatification cause for Pope John, was brought to Bishop Clemente Gaddi of the Bergamo diocese, which includes Sotto il Monte.

Beatification is the first step toward possible sainthood.

It was at dusk last June 3 that Pope John died at the age of 81 after four days of agony from a stomach tumor.

He had reigned less than five years, but the work he began—the renewal and transition of Roman Catholicism—lives on.

Few popes in the Church's nearly 2,000 years made so profound an impression.

He summoned the Ecumenical Council to let the fresh air of modern times into the Church. He hoped renewal of the Church would help the growing movement toward Christian unity.

Through word and deed he showed himself an unconventional pope. He ventured freely from the Vatican. He received a top Communist in private audience, Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nephew Alexei Adzhubei. He said in his encyclical "Peace on Earth" that in certain situations Catholics and Communists could work together for the common good of man.

This brought him criticism, particularly in Italy after the Communist party made strong gains in a general election. But Pope John once said the pope had to be a father to all.

Officials Say Deals Were Lawful

DALLAS (AP)—Several Texas power company executives said yesterday that stock options which they received complied with all regulations and did not harm stockholders or users of electricity.

They made the statements after Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., said five officials of Texas power companies have received gains totaling $1.3 million in stock option transactions.

Metcalf said the gains and salaries received by the five "are contained at the expense of high electric rates paid by Texas consumers." He also asserted that 12 Texas power companies show a return of about 9 per cent, or about $84 million a year above the 6 per cent rate he said is considered reasonable by most regulatory commissions and utility experts.

The windfalls to executives come through agreement by companies to give their officials an option to acquire stock at a lower than market price, Metcalf said.

He listed the Texas executives and the amounts they received as:

G. L. MacGregor, Dallas, president of Texas Utilities, $350,000; W. W. Lynch, Dallas, president of Texas Power and light, $200,000; H. L. Nichols, Dallas, chairman of Southwestern Public Service, $200,000; A. R. Watson, Amarillo president of Southwestern Public Service $180,000; and C. A. Tatum Jr., Dallas, president of Dallas Power and Light, $100,000.

In reply, Nichols termed Metcalf's statements "a lot of political hot air."

Nichols said that whatever has been done has been in accordance with the law and rulings of the Internal Revenue Service. He said more and more industries are going to the stock option plan in lieu of salary increases to give executive an opportunity to be able to retain more money after taxes.

Watson said at Amarillo "The stock option program of our company has been approved by all regulatory bodies having jurisdiction in the matter. It had the overwhelming approval of our companies' stockholders, and most important of all, every stock option program in this country was made possible by an act of congress."

Tatum and MacGregor were out of the city but Charles Woolridge, vice president of Texas Power and Light Co., said that the firm's stock option plan was approved by the stockholders as well as the securities and exchange commission.

TV Study Important In Nation

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A Florida bowler watches television to see where he, or the ball, went wrong.

A Philadelphia dental student can study, at long distance, a closeup of an expert drilling a patient's tooth.

Management at New York State Theater in Lincoln Center can see on a screen backstage what's going right or wrong out front.

And makers of closed-circuit television equipment and accessories can rejoice at annual sales now running at $16.5 million a year.

Delighted right along with them is the telephone industry. The giant Bell System and the hundreds of independent companies find in the growing business a bright new market for sales of their services.

The use of closed-circuit television is spreading. It's found in classrooms, banks, hotels, hospitals, on the launching pads of Cape Kennedy and in movie theaters.

The closed-circuit device in theaters let hordes of Americans watch the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fracas and argue about the outcome as heatedly as did the fans at the ring side. Stores and banks use forms of the closed-circuit to trap holdupmen and larcenous old ladies, check pilfering and make visual records of the faces of check signers.

In closed-circuit television the electronic signal is carried in by a narrow band or slow-scan—one picture every 10 seconds—over regular telephone wires; or broad band or fast-scan—30 frames per second—via coaxial cable or microwave relay linking the pickup camera with the receiver.

This year some four million students are receiving at least part of their education by closed circuit.

In South Carolina, 170 high schools, 13 colleges, 14 hospitals and 36 elementary schools are on a network using circuits of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., and 46 independent telephone companies.

Amistad Reservoir Bridge Dedicated

DEL RIO (AP)—State Highway Commission Chairman Herbert C. Petry Jr. presided today over ceremonies dedicating a $1 million bridge serving the Amistad Dam Reservoir.

The bridge is 2,000 feet long and 90 feet high. It is the shorter of two major bridge projects involved in relocation of U.S. 90 and U.S. 277 required by construction of the $79 million dam on the Rio Grande.
