Soap Box Derby Entries Now Accepted, Race Set July 20

Plans Being Made for Much Bigger Races

Plans for the All-American Soap Box Derby here are now being formulated, and boys between the ages of 11 and 15 inclusive may now sign for the contests, it was announced today.

The derby will be run here on Sunday afternoon, July 20, and will be sponsored by The Pampa Daily News, the Pampa Lions Club, in conjunction with Culberson Chevrolet Company and the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Detroit.

There will be a whole list of prizes to be given in the local races, and the big prize of all will be the local first place winner's expense-free trip to Akron, Ohio, where he will participate against 132 boys from the U. S. and foreign countries. The trip to Akron will be financed by The News. The winner of the national race, which last year was witnessed by 100,000 people, will get a four-year education at the college or university of his choice.

Among local prizes offered by Chevrolet will be a wrist watch and the Dreystadt Trophy for the winner, and there will be other prizes from Chevrolet. A prize committee from the Lions Club is working up a list of other local prizes for boys.

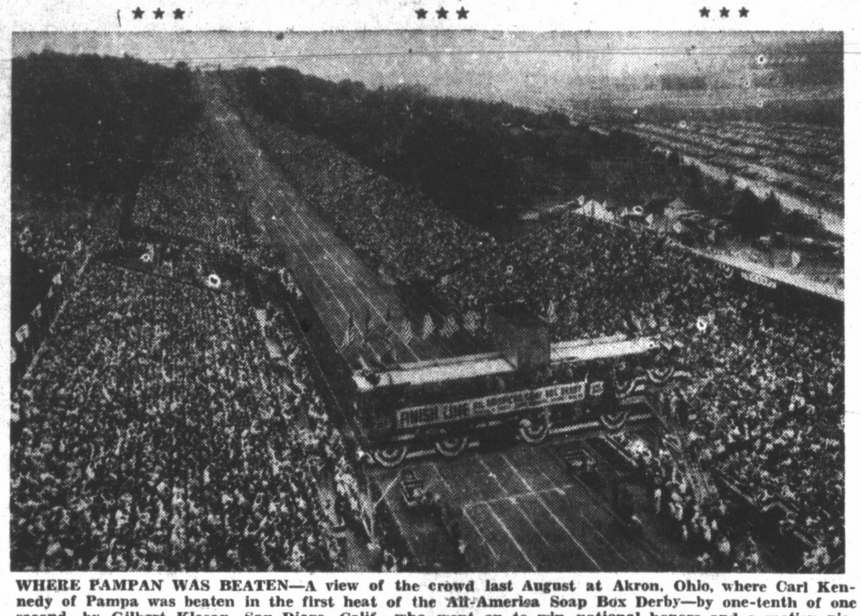

Those boys who wish to get rule books may call at the Culberson Chevrolet Company on Ballard St., or at The Pampa Daily News on West Foster St.

Entries will be taken at those two places also. Boys from surrounding towns—Miami, Canadian, White Deer, Kingsmill, Alanreed, Laketon, Lefors, McLean, Skellytown—may enter the races with no handicaps because of non-residence at Pampa. Entries are not required to have sponsors, but it is expected that the demand for sponsors will be great. Many businessmen have already indicated their desire to sponsor a boy.

An entry committee will secure names of firms who wish to sponsor an entry.

There are now about 23 sets of the official derby wheels in Pampa. As

WHERE PAMPAN WAS BEATEN—A view of the crowd last August at Akron, Ohio, where Carl Kennedy of Pampa was beaten in the first heat of the All-America Soap Box Derby—by one-tenth of one second—by Gilbert Klecan, San Diego, Calif., who went on to win national honors and a motion picture contract and a four-year college education. Races will be held at Akron again this year, and a local boy will take part as winner of this area. About 100,000 people line the track on both sides here for more than a thousand feet. In addition to officials, scores of radio men and moving picture cameramen were stationed on the bridge, which faces on the starting line up the hill (See story.)

Phillips Strike May Affect Pampa Area

Some plants and refineries in this area might be indirectly affected by the strike of members of Local 351, International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL) Borger and Phillips area, it was learned here today.

Some 2,500 men are out or are going out in the strike against Phillips Petroleum Company, according to Earl (Shorty) Snyder, an official of that local. The issues were not known here.

Whether or not CIO-affiliated workers in this area would go out in sympathy with the Borger area move could not be determined. There are about 375 of them in this area.

Six plants and refineries are affected at Borger and Phillips, The Associated Press said. The walkout, which began shortly after midnight, was reportedly orderly.

A last-minute conference between Union and company officials failed to avert the walkout. The vote was 1,080 to 104, AP said.

Gas wells of Moore County were being shut down shortly after the opening of the strike. The Associated Press said more than 21 oil and gas companies in the Borger area may be required to curtail activities because of the strike.

According to The Associated Press, after the work stoppage began, Phillips Petroleum ordered all public utilities, which supply plants and the town of Phillips, closed down; but this order was later rescinded.

A union official said the shutdown would be a slow affair and probably several crews would continue to work in the Phillips, Tex., plant before a complete shutdown was effected.

Four Killed in Railroad Mishap

HUNTINGDON, Pa.—(AP)— Steel plates protruding from a moving freight train early today ripped a hole in the side of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Flyer the American and wrecked another freight, killing four persons and injuring 42 others.

The freak crash occurred five miles west of here at 12:47 a. m. (CST) as two 16-foot long sheets of steel, laden lengthwise aboard an open gondola of a westbound freight, shifted suddenly so that their ends stuck out over adjoining tracks on either side.

Into one of these obstructions plunged the New York to St. Louis sleeper-coach passenger train, also east bound on the parallel tracks. Ends of the inch-thick steel bit into the fourth passenger car, tearing a tremendous hole in its side. The engine, mail car and another coach also were damaged.

Moments later another freight moving east smashed into the steel protruding from the other side, sending the engine and tender crashing from the tracks and temporarily tying up all four main tracks of the PRR.

Dead and injured all were riding the passenger.

Only victim identified immediately was Joseph Selmick, Jr., 18-year old soldier from Pleasant Gap, Pa. The three others killed were two servicemen and a woman.

500 Students to Participate in Music Festival

The music department of Pampa schools will present the Annual Choral Festival in the Junior High School Auditorium, beginning at 8 tonight. Approximately 500 music students will participate in the event.

A wide variety of choral selections ranging from semi-classical numbers to Negro spirituals are included in the 28 numbers outlined for the program.

Groups that will take part in the program are the mixed choruses from each of the four city grade schools, a girls' glee club from each Junior and Senior High, a boys' glee club from each Junior and Senior High, the Junior High Chorus, and the Senior High A Cappella Choir.

The grade school choruses will present one number each. "Chorus of Street Boys," will be sung by the Sam Houston Chorus, "Giannina Mia," presented by the B. M. Baker Chorus, "My Shadow," by the Woodrow Wilson Chorus, and "In a Little Dutch Kindergarten," by the Horace Mann Chorus.

The Junior High Mass Chorus will present four numbers, "Lo, a Voice to Heaven Sounding," "Driftin," "The Big Corral," and "Blue Skies."

The following groups will sing the following selections: High School Boys' Chorus—"De Gospel Train" and "Stoutehearted men"; Sixth Grade Chorus, "In Gay Seville;" Seventh Grade Chorus, "Little David, Play on Yo' Harp;" Eighth Grade Chorus, "Come to the Fair."

And the High School Girls' Chorus, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," "Now Thank We All Our God;" High School A Cappella Choir, "The Last Chord," "Oh, Susanna," and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jerico;" The Mass Chorus, "The Lord's Prayer."

Conductors: Mrs. Flaudie Gallman, Mrs. John Branham, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Mrs. Mack Hiatt, Miss Hart Anderson, Miss Maribelle Hazard, Miss Eloise Lane and Miss LaNelle Scheihagen.

Accompanists: Mickey Casada, Dorothy Mackie, Ruth Poe, Charlotte Ann Call, Exie Seright, Charlotte Allston and Phoebe Osborne.

Eight Coal Miners Killed In Explosion

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—(AP)—Eight of 11 men working in the Spring Hill Coal Mine near here were killed by an explosion yesterday.

Bodies of the dead, all brought to the surface during the night, were identified as Calvin Wilson, about 70, pit foreman, Steve Summers, about 55, Mort Gages, about 55, all of West Terre Haute, John Brown, 55, Fern Earhart, about 50, Barney Riggs, 67, Desire Lete, 58, all of Terre Haute, and Chauncey Blackburn, about 50, of Liggett, Ind.

Dr. C. L. Puckett, mine physician, said none of the bodies showed any signs of burns but that Earhart's head was crushed.

Rescue squads said the bodies, found about 15 feet apart, indicated the men were walking toward the shaft when the explosion occurred.

Work of bringing the bodies out of the mine had been delayed, rescuers said, by a smoke pocket which spread over the blast area. They said it was necessary to carry each body through circuitous, low, narrow passages more than a half mile to the mine shaft.

Ross Wilson, son of the pit foreman, helped carry the bodies out.

Three men who escaped unhurt from the shaft said they were knocked to the mine floor by a dynamite blast which the miners 1,000 feet back in the tunnel were setting off just 12 minutes before quitting time yesterday.

Wesley Harris, a veteran mine superintendent and mining instructor at Indiana State Teachers College here, said there apparently was no fire, and mining authorities surmised that the dynamite blast had touched off a dust explosion.

Crowds awaited the appearance of bodies at the tipple in the warm, moonlit night. The soft crying of women broke the quiet as each body was brought to the surface.

Local Police Meet Train—Just in Case

City Police early last night were called to meet the 6:28 p. m. Santa Fe passenger train coming from Amarillo at the request of a special agent of the railroad company.

When the passenger rolled in, almost 15 minutes late, the waiting police were informed all trouble on the train had been averted by railroad officials.

A carload of soldiers enroute to Kansas had imbibed a wee bit too much. One of them, unidentified, had shoved his fist through a window of the coach. An Amarillo doctor was summoned, when the train pulled in there, to treat the man.

Police here were called only as an emergency . . . in case any of them had to be removed from the train. The railroad followed the same procedure at every stop from Amarillo to Kansas as a preventative measure.

Open Meeting on County Hospital Set for Friday

The joint meeting of the directors of Chamber of Commerce, city and county officials, all doctors, civic clubs and heads of women's clubs, called at the request of the County Commissioners for tonight, has been postponed until Friday at 8 p. m. due to the absence of Judge Sherman White who has been called away because of business.

The County Commissioners Court will report its findings regarding the proposed County General Hospital tomorrow night.

Original plans of the hospital were discarded some weeks ago and a second set was presented to the County Commissioners who approved all but some minor changes. This was followed by a joint meeting of the County Commissioners and a group of local doctors, who also nodded a yes to the plans. However, in the meantime, it has been learned the voted hospital bond issue for $550,000 will not be sufficient to construct and equip the new institution according to present day prices of materials, labor and transportation.

Tomorrow night the Commissioners will report to the public in the County Court Room their findings on the second set of plans, and costs of the new hospital.

Firemen Not Wanted But Service Given

An undentified woman at 11:30 p. m. yesterday gave Pampa firemen a start when they responded to a call at 507 S. Ballard St.

In the face of a strong wind, the woman was burning grass in the alley to the rear of the building. According to Fire Chief Ben White the woman didn't want the fire extinguished but firemen turned on the water regardless.

Two minor fires sent trucks out this morning, the first at 9:20 to the Pursley Motor Co. where an automobile had been burning. The flames were extinguished before firemen arrived, White said.

At 12:05 today another backyard fence was ignited from a burning trash barrel. The fire was registered on the department's books as being at 918 N. Gray St. Damage here was also negligible.

Boulder Dam Is Renamed Hoover

WASHINGTON— (AP) —President Truman today signed legislation renaming Boulder Dam Hoover Dam.

Mr. Truman used four pens in signing the resolution and sent them to Lawrence Ritchie, secretary to former President Herbert Hoover, with the view of Hoover's distributing the pens as he pleases.

Commissioners' Court Business Very Slack

Due to the absence of County Judge Sherman White, now in Austin, only routine bills were paid this morning at the meeting of the County Commissioners' Court.

A special call meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. Friday in the Gray County Court Room when the Commissioners' Court will meet with the Pampa City Board of Development to discuss plans and progress of the new Gray County General Hospital.

NOT THE ATHLETIC TYPE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Mabel Reynolds, 22, said a man approached her and "got fresh" just as she was about to enter a bakery. She screamed Four husky bakers seized rolling pins and ran to her aid.

But the "masher" fled and the bakers were unable to catch him. "Too much pastry," they explained, gasping for breath after the chase.

Jaycees Wear 'Five Gallon' Hats and Scarfs to Promote Coming Carnival

"Five gallon" hats and yellow and blue scarves will be the uniform of the local Jaycees, starting today through May 10. The hats and scarves will be worn to publicize the forthcoming Jaycee sponsored Top o' Texas carnival, May 9-10. The carnival will be located on the Santa Fe right-of-way on the corner of W. Atchison St., and S. Cuyler St.

Jack Nimmo, president of the local Jaycees, announced Monday that local delegates attending the Jaycees, state convention in Ft. Worth, April 24-26, wore their hats and scarves to the convention; and at the convention this uniform was adopted as the official uniform of all Texas delegates attending the national convention in Long Beach, Calif., and, also, to publicize the John Ben Sheppard (of Gladewater) campaign for president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All proceeds from the carnival will be added to money already raised by the club to the $10,000 fund to "kick-off" a local campaign to build a community center. This "kick-off" fund is this year's project for the organization.

Wednesday afternoon, May 7, has been set as day for showers, announced Buryl Hamilton, chairman of the publicity committee. Hamilton said that three airplanes have been hired to fly in formation over town to shower balloons, handbills, and rasbucknicks over the city to publicize the carnival.

The rasbucknicks are bogus money to be used as a medium of exchange at the carnival. Cecil Hudson is Director of the carnival; and Zelto Osborne and Emil Stuebgen are co-directors.

Chairmen of the various carnival committees are Buryl Hamilton, Publicity; Bob Miller, Concessions; Melvin Watkins, Constructon; Murray Sealy, Lighting; Loy Grapenthine, Finance, Johnny Phelps, Prizes; Johnny Brumley, Shows; and Dink Allmon, Barkers.

Soviet Forces Called On to Keep 'Fighting Preparedness'

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Russia's minister of the armed forces, Nikolai Bulganin, called on the Soviet Army, Navy and Airforce today to maintain "their fighting preparedness" in an order of the day issued as millions celebrated May Day—Europe's Labor Day.

Many nations, which have veered to the left since the war, joined with the Russians in observing the day, holding mass rallies and parades in capitals and other cities to coincide with a show of Soviet military strength through Moscow's Red Square .

It was a legal holiday for the first time in Belgium and Norway. Workers in France also got the day off and in Russia a three-day holiday was proclaimed as Moscow set off the biggest May Day celebration there since the war.

The Russian order of the day, broadcast by the Moscow radio, directed that the "international holiday of the working people" be observed by the firing of a salute of 20 artillery salvoes in Moscow and a score of other cities.

It said that Russia's foreign policy and efforts toward a "lasting, democratic peace" are "meeting with the approval and support of the progressive forces of the entire world.

Bulganin succeeded Stalin as minister of the armed forces two months ago. Stalin signed the May Day order of the day last year.

Moscow was decorated from outskirts to Red Square with strings of colored lights, giant portraits of Nikolai Lenin, Prime Minister Stalin and the Politburo and there were bandstands on street corners for dancing.

Banners denouncing "capitalist exploitation," which in leftist ideology has come to mean the United States, flew from northern countries to the Balkans. In Yugoslavia, the Central Communist Party issued its first May Day proclamation, in which it accused American-led "imperialist cliques" of "provoking civil war in Greece."

In Britain, the National Council of Labor, representing the Labor Party, the Trades Union Congress and the Cooperative Union, called on workers everywhere to battle "the forces of reaction, aiming at imperialist domination and capitalist exploitation of the working people."

London postponed its May Day celebration until Sunday, when Prime Minister Attlee will speak at a public rally.

Demonstrations were banned in Greece. Stores were closed in Rome. Labor and Communist parties sponsored parades in the north of Holland, but there was no observance in predominately Catholic Southern provinces.

In Berlin, the Russians made a special distribution of vegetables and fruit as part of the May Day observance.

House Set for Decisive Vote For Rent Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A fresh attempt to jack up rent ceilings by a flat 10 percent was set for a decisive vote in the House today.

The politically explosive issue was brought to a showdown after the House voted 127 to 48 yesterday to kill virtually all government controls over building materials and construction under the Veterans Housing Act.

Rep. Buffett (R-Neb), announced his plan to offer the general rent boost provision as an amendment to a section of the bill continuing federal rent controls for six months beyond their June 30 expiration date.

"The odds are better than even that the amendment will pass," the Nebraskan told reporters.

But Rep. Gamble (R-NY), a ranking member of the Banking Committee which first approved, then rejected such a proviso, disputed Buffett's prediction.

Across the Capitol, meanwhile, where the Senate Banking Committee also has turned down any across-the-board increase in ceilings, Democratic Senators Wagner (NY), and Taylor (Idaho), issued a joint statement saying there is "grave danger" that no workable extension will be enacted before the present control law expires.

Criticizing the Senate measure continuing but modifying controls, they advocated extension of the present rent program at least through June 30, 1948. The Senate bill would terminate controls March 1 and transfer a large measure of authority to local committees.

Saturday Is Work Day At Girl Scout House

The Girl Scouts will get a drive under way this Saturday and Saturday night to beautify the Scout House and to construct new facilities. At 8:30 p. m. there will be a work party on the premises of the Scout House and a covered dish supper at 7:30 will round off the day's activities.

Included on the agenda are such formidable things as the construction of three portable fireplaces, gathering fire wood, improving playgrounds, building shelves, repairing windows and lockers, lots of painting and cleaning.

All people interested in helping are asked to come and bring covered dishes and equipment to work with. Hoes, rakes, weed cutters, hammers, paint brushes, and wash rags are all needed.

Questions concerning equipment and repairs are referred to the following committees: Mrs. J. A. Grundy, hostess; Mrs. W. A. Claunch, lawns; Mrs. R. W. Pollard, kitchen cabinets; Carl Stone, porches and walks; Mrs. Emmitt Osborne, painting and waxing.

Hereford Breeders Make Rule Changes

One rule was rescinded and another was amended by the directors of the Hereford Breeders Assn. at their meeting yesterday in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rule I, which makes it mandatory that cattle consigned for sale be bred by consignor's stock was abolished. Rule 2, was amended to read: No animal will be allowed in the sale under 10 months or over 30 months with the exception of cows with calf or with calf at side.

Another rule was adopted requiring all consignors of cattle to be bonafide Hereford breeders and must hold membership in the association.

A committe consisting of Buck Hines, Cliff Vincint, and A. B. Carruth was appointed to serve with the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee and the Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show to work out plans and specifications for the proposed stables and sales arena to be constructed in Recreation Park.

Union Would Head Off Return to Work

By the Associated Press

Leaders of the National Federation of Telephone Workers' 25-day-old strike dispatched emissaries to New York City today in an effort to head off the return to work there of members of four independent unions who settled their strike yesterday.

A government conciliator in Washington said a break in the national tieup might come at a late afternoon conference between the American Union of Telephone Workers and officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Long Lines Division.

More than 16,000 AFL Building Trades Workers struck in the Detroit area today, and the walkout virtually halted all work on housing and commercial building.

At the same time, AFL Cement Workers in Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, and Maine were ordered out on strike by the Cement, Lime, and Gypsum Workers Union in a contract dispute.

The building strike was spearheaded by 9,000 carpenters, a union spokesman said. They were joined by 4,000 painters, 3,000 laborers and 500 cement finishers. AFL leaders said the strike followed a breakdown yesterday of wage talks involving the carpenters and painters.

The Eastern Cement Workers' walkout idled workers at 20 plants in Eastern Pennsylvania's "cement belt," 14 in New York's Hudson Valley, one in Maryland, and nine others in New York and Maine.

Although a 15-cent increase, sought by the unions, appeared to have been agreed upon by most cement mills, disputes remained over seniority and other clauses.

Also in Detroit, the Ford Motor Company notified the CIO United Auto. Workers it would be ready to open negotiations next Monday on their contract, which terminates May 31.

Meanwhile the CIO and AFL began talking about joining forces in one powerful organization today as Republican leaders in Congress claimed that legislation to restrict union activities now is a cinch to pass the Senate.

Two Persons Die Indirect Result Of Texas Storm

ROCKWALL— (AP) —Two persons were killed indirectly by the latest of a series of four tornadoes which swept northeast Texas Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Five persons were injured and half a dozen buildings were destroyed.

Injured directly by the tornado were Mrs. Sam Richey, her daughter, Ida Lou Richey; Mary C. Alexander, and her daughter, Oteria Alexander.

Mrs. Jerry Husk, returning to her home at Alice after attending the funeral of her father at Paris, and Clay B. Neese of Houston, were killed in a highway accident at the west edge of Rockwall during the storm. Husk, operator of a bakery at Alice, was critically injured.

The tornado, which swept the bottoms of the East Fork of the Trinity River between Garland and Rockwall, destroyed a new house on the outskirts of Rockwall and wrecked houses in the river bottoms. Noo ther injuries were reported.

Husk, who was driving his bakery truck, evidently was trying to avoid the oncoming tornado when his vehicle struck a telephone pole. He was taken to the Greenville Hospital.

Private fliers from Dallas who watched the twister from the air said it tore up trees by the roots, sucked up water from the river and smashed houses at a point about 10 miles north of Terrell.

One of the fliers, Harold Grant, said he flew low and tried to communicate with persons whose homes were wrecked, but that they appeared dazed. Grant said the farmers sat on the wreckage of their houses.

The storm cut off direct telephone communication between Dallas and Rockwall.

A heavy hail storm pelted Rockwall about 30 minutes before the tornado appeared.

Clower, Mabank and Odon were struck by small twisters Tuesday night. Six persons, all members of one family, were injured at Clower. Mabank suffered the worst property damage. A business building, residence and three barns were destroyed and other buildings were damaged.

The chair of tornadoes occurred in a season of sweltering weather. The maximum at Dallas yesterday—93 degrees—was the hottest April 30 on the weather bureau's records.

Horse Needs Uniform To Match His Twin

Patrolman Osborne Anderson and Joe Wilkinson were making their rounds the other evening when they spied a wandering colt on S. Wilkes St., near the Amarillo Highway. The colt had no brand and was trailing his halter rope when the police found him.

Wilkinson stepped out the car, noticed the horse had broken its rope and strayed from its owner. He patted him on the nose and started to lead him to safer grounds. The horse was taken over to the nearby Pump Station number 2 and tied there.

As Wilkinson walked along with the horse Anderson was heard to remark:

"If that nag was wearing a uniform you couldn't tell the difference except that Joe's ears are longer."

Later the colt's owner found the stray safely tied and contentedly munching grass from the lawn of the Pump Station, far from danger of being struck by some careless speeder.

AWKWARD LOCATION

SEASIDE, Ore.—Councilmen are puzzled by the legal problem they will have if construction of an $80,000 public auditorium is approved in a special May 20 election.

City Attorney Thomas Chave, Jr., says an erroneous site description on the ballot puts the building in the center of Edgewood Street.

HELPFUL DESCRIPTION

With embarrassment, he said they probably would be sure to notice it if it appears on the streets because it still bears 1946 license plates and a 1946 city vehicle sticker.

He said he had not obtained 1947 licenses because he expected to buy a new car soon.

CALLED IN PROBE — Frank Costello, New York gambler and slot machine king, denies he was "top man" of Aerodynamics Research Corp., parent company of group of subsidiaries which allegedly were getting fat returns from Government contracts. Two congressional committees are now investigating him and other big-time gamblers to see whether they have been profiting from war contracts.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Death Is Taking Holiday Among Children 1 to 14

NEW YORK—Death is taking a holiday among children one to 14 years old. Since 1930 the death rate for children at these ages has declined 60 percent, which means that only two children are dying where five children died sixteen years ago.

This is reported by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians from a study of mortality among children insured in the Company's industrial department.

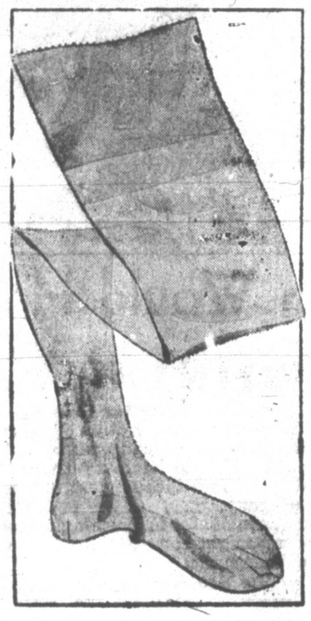

"Every one of the leading causes of death in childhood has shown a marked decline," the statisticians note. "The improvement for each of the major diseases was well over 50 percent at every age period, and the reduction was as much as 90 percent for diarrhea and enteritis among very young children."

The relative decline in the mortality from accidents, while very considerable, was appreciably below that from disease. Among boys five to 14 years old the number of lives lost in accidents is more than twice the combined total for the communicable diseases of childhood, together with tuberculosis, pnuemonia, rheumatic fever, and appendicitis.

"There is urgent need for the accident prevention movement to intensify its efforts in the field of child safety," the statisticians conclude. "It is encouraging to note that public health officials are more and more interesting themselves in this opportunity to conserve life and limb in their communities."

Doctrine of Untouchability May Be Killed

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One of the world's most terrible wrongs will be in some small measure righted if the projected constitution for an independent India abolishes the doctrine of untouchability as has been voted by the Constituent Assembly.

DEWITT MACKENZIE

The untouchables are the lowly folk who are outside the four classes of the Hindu caste system and have been condemned to live as outcasts. They are called untouchables because their very presence is supposed to defile their superiors, and their plight is little better than that of those other Parlahs — the wild Indian dogs who by day skukl outside the villages and by night run howling through the alleys in search of food with which to fill their gaunt bellies. Indeed the dog is the more fortunate, for he escapes the mental suffering of these human outcasts.

There are some 60,000,000 untouchables—about one fifth the entire Hindu population—whose only sin is that they were born outside the pale. God made them in the form of other men, but the caste system for hundreds of years has challenged the wisdom of the Almighty.

The untouchable cannot live within that part of a village inhabited by caste Hindus. He dwells just outside the village in a little community of his kind who represent perhaps ten percent of the village's population. These outcasts have no economic independence and no rights. They can't own land and are dependent on the caste village for their very existence.

Because their touch defiles, the untouchables must eke out their precarious existence by emptying nightsoil and performing similar lowly tasks for their masters. The code of untouchability even says that they must wear filthy clothing. They may not use water from the village well, because they would defile the well, and so they must get drink elsewhere. Thus runs the horrible story.

Not being restrained by this law of untouchability, your correspondent has risked his standing in society by visiting the settlements of outcasts attached to some of India's 700,000 villages. Yes, there are that many, unbelievable though it may seem.

I found the untouchables a friendly, kindly folk who were filled with wonder at my descent to the depths. Still, in their humble way they were as pleased as terrier puppies at being noticed by the "Master Class."

Aid to Greece Begins New U. S. Foreign Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—This country, in planning to give aid to Greece to stop the spread of communism, begins a new foreign policy.

No one knows how many other countries we may have to help in the same way or whether all this will lead to war with Russia.

So what we do in and for Greece may change the course of history. For that reason, what we do about Greece involves you.

But what do you know about the Greek problem except perhaps something vague like this:

There's a lot of poverty there and the Greek government is having trouble with Greek Communists!

Two studies on Greece—on what is happening there, and why—have been made public this week.

One is a report by a special economic commission, headed by Paul Porter, which this government sent to Greece to investigate.

The other is a book—"The Greek Dilemma: War and Aftermath"—written by William Hardy McNeil, and published by J. B. Lippincott.

McNeil, a major in the war, was in Greece as assistant military attache from November, 1944 to June.

Porter's commission made its con-1946.

centrated investigation of Greece from January 18 to March 22, 1947.

The Commission's report tells a pretty sad story of the Greek people at this time, politically and economically.

In short, it says the Greek people, drenched in poverty and politics, feel hopeless about getting back on their feet by themselves.

The Porter Commission's report runs about 60 pages, a sorrowful picture of a people chopped to pieces by war.

And in the end Porter's Commission suggests the Greeks will have to have help from other countries for perhaps five years.

But that report doesn't go much into the background or history of the present troubles there, McNeil's book does, in 281 pages.

It's a good book to read if you want to learn the Greek story in some detail.

It picks up Greek history about 1908, takes it through two world wars, the German occupation, the underground resistance, the liberation, the election, return of the King, and the present civil war.

Peggy Cummins Doing All Right

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Peggy Cummins is doing all right these days, thanks to de-emphasis of sex.

The hard-luck kid has bounced back from one of the toughest breaks ever handed a movie actress, and her career is going in full steam.

A year ago the little Irish gal was yanked out of the lead in the multi-million-dollar "Forever Amber" after a few weeks of expensive shooting. Few careers have been able to withstand such a blow and it looked like curtains for Peggy. She dropped from sight and worry pushed her weight below 90 pounds.

Then she snapped out of it. She was cast as a Boston girl in "The Late George Apley" and her work won her the lead in "Moss Rose." Now she appears headed for the position of one of 20th-Fox's top actresses. The reason appears to be a toning-down of sex.

Portraying Kathleen Winsor's sexy heroine was no small chore for the bright-faced girl. Actually, she exudes more of a pixy-like charm than sex. She is now determined to avoid any more Amber-like roles. In her next, "The Black Rose," she masquarades as a boy for half the picture.

You - can't - scoop this-column dept: Mrs. A. M. Thompson of San Diego announces the engagement of her daughter, Patricia, to Robert Joseph Thomas. Miss Thompson will be graduated from UCLA in June; her fiance works for the Associated Press in Hollywood.

Joe. E. Brown, one of the finest men the show world can boast, is celebrating his 35th year in the business and it promises to be one of his best. In June he'll leave his record run of "Harvey" in Chicago to portray a protestant minister in "The Tender Years" for Edward Alperson. It will be Joe's first straight screen role and can open a whole new career for him. He'll resume "Harvey" in Detroit in September.

Man Being Held On Check Charge

Rex Keach, Canadian, yesterday afternoon was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff G. M. Tucker and charged with swindling with worthless check over $50.

Keach passed the bouncing check on the Bell Liquor Store several days ago. He was taken into custody by Hemphill County authorities and turned over to Tucker. He's being held in Gray County jail awaiting further disposition of the case.

Tools are an important part of gardening. Now, that postwar production has made some headway, you'll have a lot more choice than last year. Buy the best tools you can afford. Cheap ones, stamped out of thin sheet metal, usually riveted together, soon break or fall apart. Good tools are forged from one-piece, oil-tempered steel, and have carefully calculated balance, lasting temper, proper weight and stamina to stand up under steady use.

Rita's Daughter Named Director Of New Company

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Rebecca Welles, two-year-old daughter of Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles, is going to be a director of her mother's film producing company, thus becoming undoubtedly the corporation director in the U. S.

Rita's lawyers are now drawing up papers for her own film, which will be called Becworth Productions after the names of mother and daughter. The actress has stipulated that Rebecca will be named a full-fledged director with her earnings placed in trust. Rita's company will swing into action as soon as she returns from Europe, and she'll either make a version of 'Carmen" or a romantic comedy.

Betty Hutton is the envy of other actresses these days. She reports to "Dream Girl" at nine in the morning instead of the usual six or seven. Reason is that Mitch Leisen is rehearsing the troupe from nine to 11, when they break for makeup and costumes. Shooting is limited to the afternoon, and the director thinks he can film just as much in a full day, because the actors will know what to do.

Joan Bennett is the reason for the strange ending of "The Macomber Affair," which most reviewers have criticized. Originally she was to have shot her husband (Robert Preston) in cold blood, but the finish was changed to make it appear an accident. Reason: Joan thought she has played too many bad women on the screen lately.

James Mason is reported to have received 60 offers for Hollywood pictures since he has been in this country. But apparently he can accept none of them until he settles his obligations with British film man David Rose.

Al Jolson is the wonder of his friends. A year and a half ago, he was an old man, broken in health and spirit. Now he is all over town, bobbing out, marching across the floor, disappearing—goes on daily.

So the visitors, a little bewildered, withdraws quietly and, patiently plodding through the Capitol halls, lands in the House Gallery.

This looks better to him. There are more men on the House floor. (There are 435 House members, so more of them are bound to be on the floor at any one time than you'll find in the Senate).

Once more the visitors wanders away, thinking maybe: So this is Congress.

What he doesn't know is that most of the senators and representatives are busy elsewhere, in committees or in their offices.

The visitor might get a better idea of Congress at work if he took the trouble to visit the committee meetings and listen in there.

Visitors See Little Activity on Floor of Congress Chambers

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Thousands come here to see Congress at work.

They feel cheated right away.

They wander into the Senate Gallery, take a seat, and look down contentedly upon the senators at work.

There are 96 senators but the visitors looks down at perhaps only five or six, one talking and the others listening or reading.

Pretty often, except at voting time, there are only that many on the floor at one time.

The other senators stroll in and stroll out. The visitors, not having seen them before, can't tell whether they're senators or clerks.

A senator flings open a swinging door in the back, ducks in, listens to the speech for a second, ducks right back out.

(He's either not interested in the subject or he's heard this same speech or something like it before.)

SNOW-WHITE ROBINS

Three snow-white robins were found in a nest recently at Erindale, Ontario, Canada, according to Gib Swanson, writing in Capper's Farmer. All three nestlings had pink eyes, yellow bills, and legs and were cared for by normally colored parents. Like other albinos, these birds are not too robust and have relatively poor eyesight. Authentic records of albinos, says Swanson, are rare in the bird family.

Cowboys used to be content to swing a rope, but down in the lower Rio Grande Valley they swing polo mallets now.

It's a lot of fun, the cowboys say, and it's good publicity for the Valley.

"The Valley has all the citrus and cabbage it can use," says Charles M. Kindley of Harlingen. "What we need now is a year-round drawing card, like polo."

Bill Freeman of the San Antonio Evening News says it's a fast growing sport. Horsemen get together and talk about their animals, and then enjoy playing polo.

Ten years ago polo was popular in the area. Fort Brown, now abandoned as an army center, had a top ranking team. Col. 'Jingle' Wilson was one of the best players to straddle a pony.

Kindley, superintendent of street repairs at Harlingen, hopes that polo will develop other similar sports, such as riding and sulky driving.

Before he came to the Valley 13 years ago, Kindley managed and coached polo teams at Tulsa, Okla., Wichita, Kan., and managed a tournament team at Augusta, Ga.

He persuaded a group of Valley stockmen and riders to participate in Sunday games near Harlingen, to get the ball rolling.

The novices showed up for their first game wearing bread Stetsons, cowboy boots and riding in stock saddles.

They swung at the air that first day, but with coaching by Kindley and William Soothoff of Long Island, N. Y., a winter visitor, they soon began to show improvement.

Some are even switching to the regulation flat saddle, which is a real concession for a cowboy to make.

"We want a low-goal setup that will interest sportsmen who can afford the game but who don't want to compete in strenous tourney play," Kindley said.

It may even develop further, and offer polo to those who can't afford the rich man's hobby. A sort of poor man's polo.

Anything can happen when cowboys start swinging mallets.

For a breath of fresh air, city folks should turn to the lively little Texas weeklies. You'll find down-to-earth items in them that make you feel good inside. Things you won't find in the more business-like dailies.

Take this from the newsy Big Bend Sentinel from Marfa:

"Seven airplanes in a row and not a horse in sight," was the comment of a Minnesota man visiting the J. W. Rawls Ranch when the Rawls were open house hosts. "I never thought I'd see such a thing."

The Wellington Leader says it is "Texas' greatest newspaper." It's big and bulky and good reading. One of its correspondents writes:

"The women in this community have agout got all the sand cleaned out from the little sand storm last week, getting ready for another one I guess, let's hope the next one has a little moisture."

What is the State's smallest weekly? That's a tough one. In square inches, it might be the Forestburger, printed in Forestburg, Montague County. But the Forestburger is little in size only. It's 10 inches wide and 14 inches deep, but it's packed with news and advertisements. Its columnist writes: "Roy Atterbury says that coons are so thick in his part of the country that possums had to put up stop lights to make it safe to go 'simmon hunting."

Then there's the Concho Herald, printed at Paint Rock, the county seat. It's a little bigger, 11 by 16. And the Jack County Herald, from Bryson, 12 by 18 it says: "All roads lead to Rome . . . or Jacksboro." It caried a hard-hitting front page column called "Brass Tacks" and the editor pulls no punches. In the Feb. 7 issue, Brass Tacks was laying it on the County Commissioners saying the Commissioners slipped Bryson a mickey.

The Cumby News, Hopkins County, is six columns wide—six columns packed with homey home-town news. Nothing about the United Nations, but: "It has been announced there will be preaching at Cross Roads Sunday."

The Florence Vidette from Florence, Williamson County, is intriguing. Its makeup is simple and it has a column called "The Town Crier": Last week I was successful. I believe, in getting apartments for two young gentlemen who are contemplating matrimony in Fort Worth. (They are not marrying each other—they will each take a wife.)"

The Happy Herald, from Happy, Swisher County, is a lively seven-column job whose "circulation covers thoroughly 550 square miles in Swisher, Randall, Castro and Armstrong Counties."

We could go on and on—the Stanton Reporter, the Hockley County Herald, the Sudan News, Muleshoe Journal, Shamrock Texan, Wellington Leader, Miami Chief, Panhandle Herald—

SOCIETY

WE, THE WOMEN

Bobby-Soxers: Adults at Fault

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

What are we trying to do to teenagers, anyhow? The whole trend today seems to be toward shoving them into a private little world of their own.

It started with the teenage canteens that sprang up all over the country. Somehow or other the adults decided that teenagers ought to spend their leisure hours in cozy little nooks, in the exclusive company of other teenagers.

Then we ballyhooed the sloppy dress of a minority of teenagers, until the girls began to think they had to wear Dad's old shirts over blue jeans or be clear out of the picture.

Every time a teenager thought up a new slang word or phrase we played it up, until they felt they had to keep on inventing an ugly or silly word for everything — so they could have a language exclusively their own. Then educators started to tell us that if we want to understand our kids we must learn to speak "their language."

Whenever a few kids discover a "new idol" the publicity starts, and pretty soon the teenagers begin to feel they have to join the idiot fringe of idol worshipers.

We've given the adolescents their own magazines, their own newspaper columns, played them up on the stage and screen.

MUST FACE ADULT WORLD

And the net result is that we've made them feel they belong to an exclusive world of their own.

Aren't we making it tough for them to grow up and fit into the adult world?

After all, they can't wear blue jeans when they go job hunting. They can't swoon over the boss. They can't forever confine their social life to canteens. Sooner or later they have to start entertaining in living rooms and getting along with persons of all ages.

And sooner or later they must start wrting and speaking a language grownups don't need a teenage dictionary to understand.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

Don't let your child suffer the torment of Pin-Worms! Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible.

So watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W right away and follow the directions. These small, easy-to-take tablets were developed after years of patient research in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son to act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Jaycee-Ettes, Jaycee Wives Club, Organized at Meeting Tuesday Night

Around 25 wives of Junior Chamber of Commerce members met in the City Commissioners' Room Tuesday evening at 7:30 for the purpose of organizing a women's auxiliary of the Jaycees. The name of "Jaycee-Ettes" was agreed upon and three committees named, with Mrs. Erwin C. Thompson presiding.

Mrs. Jack Nimmo will head the nominating committee, Mrs. William R. Ballard, constitution and by-laws, and Mrs. Zelto R. Osborne, the telephone committee. A slate of officers and constitution and by-laws are to be ready by the next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday night, May 6, at 8 o'clock, the place to be announced later.

It was decided that two meetings would be held each month by the organization, one a luncheon and the other an evening session. All those interested in joining are urged to be present at the meeting next Tuesday night and be included among the charter members.

Come as You Are Party Enjoyed by Members of Merten Club Wednesday

Members of the Merten Home Demonstration Club enjoyed a "Come as you are" party Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. J. C. Steward on the Lefors Highway.

Mrs. C. H. Hammett told of the club's plans for the all-club dinner to be held at 7:30 Friday evening, May 9, in the Palm Room.

Miss Ann Hastings, Gray County home demonstration agent, assisted several of the members with textile painting. A scarf, blouses, handkerchiefs, and dresses were among the articles being worked on.

Mrs. Steward gave hand-crocheted Bible markers to several of the members who declared they 'came as they were.'

Mrs. W. E. Coop and Mrs. S. E. Waters, former members, were welcomed back into the club.

Those present helped themselves during the morning to rolls, pinwheel cookies and coffee.

Others attending were Mesdames A. Swafford, V. S. Day, A. M. Nash, F. B. Warriner, H. H. Threatt, E. E. Etheridge, John Brandon, E. R. Jay, V. Smith, and T. G. Groves.

Hopkins 7th Grade Will Present Play

Seventh Grade pupils at Hopkins School will present a two-act comedy entitled "Welcome, Miss McGregor" tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the school. Following the play a pie supper will be held by the Seventh Grade students to help finance their trip to Carlsbad Caverns. The public is invited to attend.

Fine Arts Club at Shamrock Sponsoring Music Week Program

SHAMROCK, (Special)—Plans for National Music Week May 4-10, are being formulated under the sponsorship of the Fine Arts Club. The annual affair will open Sunday afternoon at Clark Auditorium and the first program of the series will be presented by the Community Chorus and the Shamrock Irish Band.

On Monday evening two Amarillo artists will be featured on the program, which will also be held at Clark Auditorium.

Miss Ann Baker, teacher of ballet, at the Musical Arts Conservatory, Amarillo, has appeared with the Chicago Civic Opera Ballet, Eerenice Holmes Concert Group, and Ballet Repertoiry Company under Mme. Nijinska. She has also had professional engagements at Edgewater Beach Hotel, and solo dance concerts.

Mrs. John Josey, who is a talented violinist, with a charming personality, has appeared on many programs over the Panhandle of Texas.

Mrs. Josey, wife of John Josey, organist at the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, assists her husband in choir work, is teacher of violin, and a popular musician in social circles.

Tuesday night has been designed as "Home Night," when musicians and vocalists will appear at a number of homes over the city with the public invited to hear the local talent. Entertainers and homes will be announced at a later date.

The closing program of the series will be given by students of Miss Mary Jean Durham in a piano concert.

Needlecraft Club

SHAMROCK, (Special) — The Needlecraft Club was entertained Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. B. Zeigler.

Easter lilies, japonica blossoms and iris, made lovely decorations for the occasion.

Needlework of various types provided entertainment for the group and a refreshment course was served to seven guests and seven members.

May Fellowship Day Program and Luncheon At Christian Church

Dr. Neal D. Cannon, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church of Amarillo, will be guest speaker at the May Fellowship Day program tomorrow afternoon at the First Christian Church.

The Pampa Council of Church Women will precede the program with a covered dish luncheon at one o'clock.

Rev. H. Clyde Smith pastor of the First Methodist Church, will give the invocation, and "The Fabric of Fellowship" theme will be carried out in a skit to be presented by six members of the Council. Mrs. C. T. Jackson, McCullough Methodist Church, will be in charge of the program, which will also include a solo by Miss Winnie Allen.

Invitation Issued Local Attorneys

Invitations to all attorneys of the Panhandle area have been given by the Amarillo Bar Association to attend its monthly meeting at noon on May 3 in the Amarillo Hotel.

Principal speaker for the meeting will be Attorney Melvin P. Adler, Fort Worth, chairman of the State Bar Association's committee on Unauthorized Practice of Law. Adler will also hold an informal meeting at 10 a. m., that same day, on the mezzanine floor of the Amarillo Hotel with the District Grievance Committee and any other persons interested in attending the session.

Arthur Teed, president of the Gray County Bar Association is requesting all attorneys in the city and county to attend the meeting, if possible.

Girl Scout Board Meeting Friday

A regular meeting of the Girl Scout Board will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 tomorrow morning in the Girl Scout office, Miss Marie Stedje has announced.

The Scout House Committee will have plans to present on the improvement project underway; and the Committee on Public Relations will present a plan for discussion and revision concerning the moving of Girl Scouting into the community and making it a community enterprise.

All board members are expected to attend.

Troop leaders having craft articles made by girls in their troops are asked to bring them to the Little Scout House Saturday afternoon as an exhibit table will be on display.

Birthday Party for Glen O'Neil Cockrell

A birthday party was given Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ensel Cockrell in honor of the seventh birthday of their son, Glen O'Neil. Cohostesses with Mrs. Cockrell were Mrs. Floyd Cockrell and Mrs. Grover Lee Heiskell.

The guests arrived at 3 o'clock and enjoyed various games during the afternoon, after which refreshments of strawberry ice cream and birthday cake were served. Pictures were made of the group.

Attending were Johnnie Knott, Larry Ingram, Jack Zuerker, Charles Peacock, Carolyn Cockrell, Jeannette Southard, Derrell Cockrell, and Wilma Tubbs, and Mrs. Jack Dekle and Mrs. Folssie McDowell.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off ungainly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcentrate (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Members of Shamrock School Board and Guests Entertained

SHAMROCK, (Special)—Thirty-seven school board members and guests representing eight schools attended a dinner meeting in the homemaking department here Wednesday evening.

Members of the Shamrock school board were hosts and Mrs. Scott McCall and her homemakers served a fried chicken dinner and all the trimmings.

Music was furnished by Miss Patricia Rankin and her chorus.

Sol Blonstein, president of the Shamrock board, served as toastmaster and welcomed the visitors. E. H. Boulter, Lubbock, deputy state superintendent of schools, made the main address of the evening, and short talks were made by Allen Kavanaugh, county superintendent of public instruction; H. C. Weatherby, vocational agriculture instructor; Scott McCall, athletic director, and Supt. Elmer J. Moore.

Dee Johnson, Kellerville, gave the invocation.

Deputy State Superintendent Boulter's talk dealt with the responsibility of board members to students. He stressed the importance of the progressive school and commended the local system on its progressive program.

The state official also commended rural school board members on striving for better schools and suggested that they do the best possible for the lower grades and not to offer more subjects than their limited number of teachers can handle.

Supt. Moore gave a brief review of the current school year and announced plans for the future.

Unless a world trade system is planned on a free basis there will be chaos.

'Awake, America, to Evil of Tipping!' Cries Alpheus

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Alpheus Ronald Thistlethwaite, the seer of Washington Square North, was seen scurrying toward a Fifth Avenue bus. In one hand he carried a comfortably padded soapbox.

"Whither away, Alpheus?" Called his friend Pythias Roundelay.

"To Union Square to rouse the masses!" cried Thistlethwaite.

"What is it this time?" sighed Roundelay, the laureate of Patchen Place, as he daintly placed upon a park bench the copy of Krafftebing he was translating into heroic couplets. "Is the park commissioner trying to erect another one of those devilish children's swings in Washington Square?"

"You are less than amusing," said Alpheus. "This is a matter that affects all America. It affects even you. Have you read of the Newburyport sales plan?"

"You mean the voluntary proposal to cut retail prices ten percent?" Replied Pythias languidly. "That hardly affects me—the prices are still ninety percent too high for a genius without money.'

"The Newburyport Plan does not even touch the fringe of the problem I am attacking," said Thistlethwaite vehemently. "I purpose to remove hands from the consumers pocket that have no business there at all."

"Such as?"

"Such as the people who get paid for doing nothing or who want extra pay for something they are already paid to do. It is a fiendish custom imported from totalitarian states to weaken the character of our Democratic workers.

"A doorkeeper you have no need of expects a quarter for opening a taxi door you should open for yourself in the name of exercise. The cab driver expects thirty-five cents above the legal fare merely for knowing the right street. The hat check girls regard you as a leper if you toss them less than two bits for the dangerous work of guarding your hat and coat.

"If two hundred thousand men check their hats in Manhattan in one evening, that is $50,000 thrown down the economic drain."

"I don't wear a hat," said Pythias, tenderly combing his locks with his last month's fingernails.

"But the evil has spread throughout our whole system!" Declared Alpheus. "A hotel clerk expects you to slip him five dollars for putting you up in a $9 hotel room worth $3. My building superintendent used to be satisfied with a necktie on Christmas. Now he expects a suit—and for Easter I have to dig him up a topcoat that matches it or my garbage isn't removed.

"If you want to move to another apartment you have to shell out $200 to $500 on the side. You used to be able to buy a soft drink for five cents. Now it's ten cents. If you don't leave a dime tip, the soda squirt glares as if you had just shot Lincoln."

"The things people will do for money?". Sighed Pythias, looking hungerly at a fat pigeon waddling on the sidewalk. In his poetic eyes fat pigeons somehow always looked like hamburgers. "What led you to embark on this crusade, Alpheus? These things have been going on for sometime."

"Today the mailman climbed one flight of stairs to deliver me a special package," said Thistlethwaite warmly. "He stood around waiting—imagine that, a government employe!—until my wife gave him a fifty-cent tip."

"What was in the package?"

"A free sample of a new toothpaste," said Alpheus bitterly, as he turned to leave. "That convinced me, America must awaken to its peril."

"How are you going to get on the bus with that soapbox, Aupheus-" asked Pythias. "It's against the rule to carry such large objects on public conveyances."

"I suppose I will have to slip the driver a quarter," said Thistlethwaite forlornly. "But, mind you, this is my last compromise?"

of the AFL and Philip Murray of the CIO, indicated, however, that they were entering the merger discussions in Washington with little prospect of an immediate consolidation of their 13,500,000 members.

Murray initiated the move for the talks last December but later said he believed the two groups should first fight off their common foes.

Failure of the Senate yesterday to send the labor bill with its four "toughening" amendments back to committee was described by Senator Wherry (Neb), Republican whip, as assuring final passage of the measure.

However, the most jubilant supporters of the bill sidestepped an expression on whether they could muster enough support to override a Presidential veto.

In other labor develpoments, negotiations on a new contract for the 400,000 United Mine Workers came to a standstill today while John L. Lewis, union chieftain, sought the views of the Southern Mine owners Association on the question of an industry-wide agreement.

While the basic steel industry generally has agreed to a renewal of contracts with wage increases of 15 cents an hour, 14,000 CIO United Steelworkers went on strike at midnight today against the Inland Steel Company, seventh largest steel producer in the nation.

Cecil Clifton, the union's international representative, said the strike, the first major one in the industry this year, probably would be settled by Saturday.

This year's show here is expected to be much bigger than last year's, according to the sponsors. There were only 19 entries last year—due to the fact that the event was being revived from the war years—but this year the number of entries is expected to reach as high as 50. A big list of boys' names has already been accumulated at the News office. These boys have checked out rule books, and the most of them are expected to sign for the race. Some boys are known to have already begun the construction of their racers.

The Carl Kennedy racer, winner of the local race last year, will be on display in a local businessman's window within a few days. The car is now being re-painted and re-decorated. Along with it will be a number of large photographs taken at the national finals last year.

Carl, who will not be eligible for this year's event by virtue of his triumph last year, was beaten in the first heat of last year's race at Akron by the San Diego, Calif., boy who went on to win the national finals. The California boy, Gilbert Klecan, beat Carl over the finish line by one-tenth of one second, according to officials in charge of the automatic timing device.

GEO. D. HOLMES

And I heard a great voice out of Heaven saying, behold ,the Tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God. Revelation 21: 3.

I cannot think of them as dead,
Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread—
They have but gone before.

The Father's House is mansioned fair,
Beyond my vision dim;
All souls are his, and Here or There
Are living unto Him.

And still their silent ministry
Within my heart hath place,
As when on earth they walked with me,
And met me face to face.

Their lives are made forever mine;
What they to me have been
Hath left henceforth its seal and sign
Engraven deep within.

Mine are they by an ownership
Nor time nor death can free;
For God hath given to Love to keep
Its own eternally.

We wish to express our appreciation for the kindness shown us in the loss of our husband, father and grandfather.

GEORGIE STEPHENS CAMPBELL.
In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself. John 14: 2, 3.

SOMETIME WE'LL UNDERSTAND
Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in the Better Land,
We'll read the meaning of our tears,
And there, sometime, we'll understand.

We'll catch the broken threads again,
And finish what we here began;
Heaven will the mysteries explain,
And then, ah then, we'll understand.

We'll know why clouds instead of sun
Were over many a cherished plan;
Why song has ceased, when scarce begun;
'Tis there, sometime, we'll understand.

God knows the way, He holds the key,
He guides us with unerring hand;
Sometimes with tearless eyes we'll see;
Yes, there, up there, we'll understand.

Then trust in God through all thy days;
Fear not, for He doth hold thy hand;
Though dark the way, still sing and praise;
Sometime, sometime, we'll understand.

We wish to express our deep gratitude to the friends and neighbors in Mt. Hope and Russellville, Ala., and Pampa, for the many kindnesses shown us in the utimely death of our loved one, Georgie Stephens Campbell, who passed away April 20th in Russellville after a week's illness. For the messages of condolence, beautiful floral offering and prayers of our friends we are indeed thankful. We especially wish to acknowledge the service of Rev. Smith and Rev. Ware for their comforting words, also the thoughtfulness of the Mt. Hope Baptist Church membership for their acts of kindness. It helped us so much to bear our grief.
F. J. Campbell and children, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Stephens and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Campbell and family.

Articles From Club Magazine Discussed

Digests from the Rotary magazine articles were given yesterday by Hollis Key, Albert Doucette and Walter Warner at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club in the Palm Room, City Hall.

Key gave a short discourse on a debate in the April issue of the magazine centering around the "Industrialization of Latin America." Key gave a condensation of both the pro and con as given in the magazine. Doucette briefed another Rotary magazine article entitled, "Peace Needs Action," written by Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations. An essay in the May issue of the Rotarian, "Let's Break the Boom and Bust Cycle" by Paul Hofman, president of the Studebaker Corporation, was summarized by Warner. The speakers, all Rotarians, were introduced by Travis Lively, chairman of the club's Rotary Information Committee.

Club singing was in charge of Virgil Mott, invocation was given by Rev. Beauford Norris and Irvin Cole had charge of the meeting.

CARNIVAL BY DICK TURNER

"He's not a regular doctor—he's only an intern!"

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

ABOARD A PULLMAN CAR NEARING INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— It isn't fashionable to call Pullman porters "George" anymore.

"Used to be ninety percent of our customers called us 'George,' " said Chester Walker, who has "made all the states" in 22 years of railroad portering, "but it happens very seldom now. We have our own name-cards in the car."

Walker, a slim, dignified and kindly man of 59, was born on Lincoln's birthday in Nashville, Tenn., in 1888. He works out of Indianapolis (home address: 2604 Boulevard Place).

Dealing with the traveling public for more than two score years hasn't soured his temperament.

"You have to be a diplomat in handling people," he said. "But I enjoy my job. Most people are nice to handle. It's very seldom you get a grouch."

Walker said that traveling salesmen are the best consistent tippers but—surprisingly—that women tip more than men.

"The average woman doesn't know the real value of money," he smiled, "but a man works for it and knows how hard it is to get."

He said that only one out of a dozen passengers tip as much as fifty cents for an overnight journey and two give nothing at all. He figured himself that a 35-cent tip was "just about right for an overnight journey but we don't count on it."

Veteran porters make up to 65 cents an hour, work 240 hours a month, they receive no pay for the two to four hours they sleep during an overnight trip.

Portering on a crack railway train is largely an unexciting business of making beds, shining shoes and heating the baby bottles. Walker has never been trainsick, never been in a bad train wreck. About the only thing out of the routine he remembers are the two times he helped give first aid when his Pullman berths unexpectedly had to be used as emergency maternity wards.

"One doctor we called delivered a nice boy baby for a lady while we held the train in Grand Central Station in New York," he said, "she was in a lower berth. That was luck for her. Same thing happened once going into Pocatello, Idaho. She was in a lower berth too. No, I never heard of a baby being born in an upper berth."

The lady who can accomplish that feat will win our vote for the outstanding American mother of any year—yes, even if she is a circus midget.

The best way farmers can assist in combatting inflation is to keep on producing.
—Secretary of Agriculture, Anderson.

DEPENDENCY

CHARACTER

Dependency DESTROYS HUMAN CHARACTER!

THE CHARACTER OF OUR PEOPLE is the strongest asset of our nation, and making sickness and idleness too easy places a premium on the destruction of character.

Foisting Compulsory Health Insurance on us, through deductions, assessments and taxes would result in billions of dollars spent in administrative bureaus, inferior medical service . . . and INCREASED volume of sickness.

Loss of time through sickness trebled in some countries, under such systems. America averaged about 6½ days, in sickness per person per year, before the war—England averaged 12½ days, and was on the increase.

If you want less sickness, keep Doctors free of political domination. Kill plans that create neurotics, and weaken the "will to stay well and get well."

Market Briefs

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 30— (AP) —The stock market enjoyed its first rising session of the week today but the rally never attained speed.

Steels, motors and a number of "blue chip" issues were leaders of the advance. Principal bidding activity came at the opening and again in the early afternoon while some shares attained their best levels just before the close. Improvement ranging to around 2 points predominated at the finish. Transactions approximated 800,000 shares.

Prominent gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Telephone, General oaftors, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Great Northern Preferred, Northern Pacific, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union "A", General Elecric International Nickel and Johns-Manville.

Peoria & Eastman slipped several points to a new 1947 low after an unfavorable report by a special master on litigation over inter-company accounts with New York Central. Pacific Western Oil extended yesterday's slide.

Some bidding was attributed by commission houses to good first quarter Steel earnings reports and new steel wage settlements, to partial agreements reached in the telephone strike and to professionals' hopes for a technical comeback. Price worries persisted as did doubts over tax legislation and foreign affairs.

Some rail bonds improved.

No Workers Needed In Texas City Area

HOUTON—(AP)—Homer A. Jackson, district director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, urges all persons seeking employment to stay away from Texas City.

"No workers are needed there now," Jackson said. "People have swarmed into the place from all over the state, particularly East Texas, only to be disappointed."

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

By Gwen Davenport

Copyright by Gwen Davenport; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Sophie informs Vicky that Godfrey will be joining them. Vicky tells Sophie about Salty Bagot for the first time. Sophie sits upright at the name of Bagot. It had been important to her many years ago.

* * *

"GRANNY?"

"Yes, darling."

"If your Bagot came from around here, too—I mean—if he was sort of a little different from average people—well, don't you see?" Vicky choked a little, swallowed and went on in a rush. "It's—oh, this is going to sound awful, but I really don't mean it that way, Granny. You must promise you won't be cross with me, no matter what I'm going to say."

"Of course I promise," Sophie agreed with fond indulgence. "For heaven's sake, what's wrong, child?"

"Well, it suddenly struck me, when Salty wanted to get your permission to take me to the movies on the very first day I met him, how hard it would be to explain our whole life to someone who has never lived that way. I mean, it's so difficult to explain Uncle Marcel and Sir Charles to someone who just has spinster aunts. Salty said once how little resemblance there was between you and Uncle Marcel. Now, what's going to happen when he sees Mr. Mansbridge?"

"Mr. Mansbridge," repeated Sophie. "How strange it sounds to hear you call him that!"

"Excuse me, Granny," the girl went on, "but let me get it off my chest, while I can. Sir Charles, for instance. Now suppose the Bagots should call—Salty said they would, and I honestly want them to call—suppose Sir Charles joins us after dinner, the way he always does when he gets through serving? What could I tell them? I know I'm sounding perfectly ghastly and cruel, and I assure you I would hate Sir Charles not to sit down after dinner—it just never occurred to me before that we are perhaps a little—different."

* * *

THERE was a miserable silence Sophie drew a deep breath before she started to answer.

"Are you quite through, Victoria?" she said at last. "Perhaps my household isn't commonplace, but it certainly isn't common. And you can't think for a minute that anything goes on under my roof, or ever has, of which you need be ashamed. Marcel, and Godfrey, too—and even Sir Charles, in a way—are the only friends I have left in the world.

"As for Sir Charles—he is really a somebody," continued Sophie, "besides being a superb butler for which better families than the Bagots would envy me. And after all, he should be that. He has served all the best families, from the Carleys in 'Her Own Way' to Lady George Grayston in 'Our Betters.'"

"I'm sorry," said Vicky firmly, "but I can't see that playing a butler year in and year out can be called a real achievement."

"But wait!" Sophie ordered. "Then came the triumph he had been working toward all those years. He was the Admirable Crichton, the greatest butler of all. When he came back from his Australian tour the King knighted him. I had been introduced to the King two seasons before and knew him slightly. I was there when he knighted Charles Madden. All London was there." Sophie raised her arms to the back of the chaise, framing her face, and a dreamy look came into her eyes. "My, how distinguished he looked in his black silk breeches and pumps! And how pleased he was! To this good day, I can't understand why I never fell in love with him. Everyone else did. In 1914 he came to join my company as a permanent member, playing butlers, and after we dissolved the company he stayed on with me as my own personal butler."

"Well," said Vicky, "that must be just about the longest part anybody ever played."

* * *

"HE'LL play it as long as he can breathe!" Sophie declared. "He's one of the few absolutely happy people I've ever known. No actor likes to retire, you know, but one can't very well go around being King Lear or Ophelia without getting put away." She abandoned her pose and leaned forward to stroke Vicky's hair. "Yes, Sir Charles is one of the few happy people—not like poor Godfrey—"

Sophie had spoken Godfrey Mansbridge's name in a tone of peculiar tenderness, but suddenly she sat erect, her mood abruptly altered, and cried out, "Godfrey!" Leaving the chaise she rose in excitement and began rushing about the room. "Good heavens, Victoria, he'll be here in a few days, just think! I must look a fright. Go and see if there's any mail, darling." She seated herself in front of her dressing table and began undoing her braids.

"Gracious! Here we've been wasting hours talking about the past when mine may come back on me any minute! I wonder if he's changed much—"

"I'm going on a picnic with Salty," said Vicky. "He's coming over for me about 12:30. I won't be here for lunch."

"Oh," said Sophie. "Salty." She looked up in the mirror and met Vicky's eyes. "Now don't worry, darling, everything will be all right, I promise."

"It's only for a few more days," said Vicky.

"Of course. I'll invite the Bagots to tea when she calls, and I'll speak to Sir Charles and everybody. If it's respectability you want, you shall have it. We're all still a little stage-struck around here and I shouldn't mind a bit acting respectable for a while."

"Just till Salty goes away," said Vicky. "After that I won't mind."

"You'll see, darling," Sophie promised. "We'll give a magnificent performance."

We Got to the Fish Fry After All

That community fish fry was sure a great success. There were plenty of appetizing extras, and Will Dudley did a right wonderful job of frying the fish—soft and flaky inside—brown and crisp around the edges.

But we didn't get to go. The missus was tired after working in the yard, and we just didn't want to leave her.

Then how did we know the fish was so good? Because the folks didn't forget us. They sent Skippy Henderson over with two steaming covered plates of fish, and a pitcher of cool, sparkling beer. And we finished them off in front of our own fire.

From where I sit, that's one of the things that makes our town so nice a place to live in: a spirit of share and share alike. That plate of fish and glass of beer weren't just great eating, they were symbols of the thoughtfulness that makes for better living!

State's Motor Carrier Laws May Be Tested

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The American Asphalt Roof Company has filed an injunction suit in 48th District Court which may prove to be a test case on the State's motor carrier laws.

At issue is the operation of leased trucks without a permit from the Railroad Commission.

The roofing company seeks an injunction to prevent the Commission's enforcement officers from arresting drivers of leased trucks and filing charges against them. The suits, filed in Justice Court, allege violation of the motor carrier law.

The Company, which owns a fleet of trucks and also leases trucks, maintains that leased trucks, driven by its own employes and hauling only Company products, do not need permits to operate.

J. W. Wallace, commission enforcement officer here, who is named as a defendant in the suit, said that the Railroad Commission believes that leased trucks come under the same rule as any trucks "for hire," and that they must have a permit to operate.

Others named as defendants are E. O. Thompson, George Hughes and Bill Murray of the Railroad Commission of Texas, and George Hughes, chief law enforcement officer of the Commission.

Indians and Rebels Forced to Extra Innings in Hot Games

By MARSHALL COMERER
AP Staff Writer

Oklahoma City and San Antonio were forced into extra innings to win their games last night as the Texas League matched fine pitching against timely hitting.

A tenth inning home run gave Oklahoma City's Indians a 4-3 victory over the Shreveport Sports. A single in the tenth enabled San Antonio's Missions to beat the Dallas Rebels, 6-5. Two runs in the ninth gave Tulsa's Oilers a 6-4 victory over the Beaumont Exporters. The Houston Buffs downed the Fort Worth Cats, 4-2, in an eight-inning game, called to allow Fort Worth to catch a train.

Harry Schimel, substitute Oklahoma City center fielder, broke up the game with Shreveport with his round-tripper in the tenth. A home run by the Indians' Joe Frazier in the eighth with a man on base had tied the game.

The victory boosted Oklahoma from fourth to third place and ended Shreveport's six-game winning streak.

Jimmy Robinson's single, scoring pinch runner Ned Garver from second with none out in the tenth, produced San Antonio's victory.

Marlin Stuart, who relieved the Mission's Ed Cole in the seventh, received credit for the victory, his third against one loss. Henrichs, the second of the three Rebel pitchers to get in the game, was credited with the loss. Bob Moyer, Rebel first baseman, hit two homers off Cole.

The brilliant relief pitching of Lee Anthony saved the day for Tulsa. Anthony replaced Tommy Warren in the ninth inning with one out after Beaumont had pushed across a run and placed runners on second and third. He struck out the next two batters. Warren received credit for his third win against one loss.

Houston scored three runs in the fourth and one in the sixth to end the Cats' five-game winning streak. They got only five hits, but four of them were for extra bases.

Roman Brunswick, who hurled his second win, ran into trouble in the seventh, and was replaced by Jack Creel. Creel put out the fire with one pitch.

Tonight Dallas plays at Beaumont, Fort Worth at Shreveport and Oklahoma City at Houston. Tulsa's game at San Antonio was postponed because the Oilers could not arrive in time for a day game.

Lubbock Hubbers Still Undefeated

(By The Associated Press)

Lubbock's Hubbers, rolling along unbeaten in eight games, have equalled the West Texas-New Mexico League record for victories at the start of the season.

Last night the Hubbers crushed Clovis 28-2, pounding the cellar-dwellers for 19 hits as the New Mexico club used seven pitchers attempting to stem the tide.

Junior Oilers Set To Workout Today

A workout of the American Legion Junior Baseball Team (Junior Oilers) is scheduled to begin at 5:30 this evening at Magnolia Field, Paul Hill, director, announced this morning.

All boys 15, 16 or who have become 17 years of age since January 1, 1947, are eligible to make the team. All players must register by June 10, and a copy of their birth certificate must be sent to Austin.

Hill stated that he had already received a letter from the Junior Ball Team at Hedley, saying that they were working out and that they were ready for a practice game with the local club.

Uniforms are on order and are expected to arrive in the next few days. Each boy is asked to furnish his own glove, with the exception of the catcher, and his own shoes.

Turnouts for practice have been light for the past few sessions due to spring football training.

Lefors Boy Playing End on WT Buffaloes

CANYON—Marvin E. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Neil of Lefors, is among the 70 high school athletes, squadmen and lettermen engaged in Spring training football drills at West Texas State.

Bowman, a taciturn six-footer, is majoring in Government and minoring in Speech. He expects to carry over these subjects into government or law work when he leaves West Texas State. Marvin is a sophomore.

He has the distinction of being one of the few athletes at West Texas State who earned letters in four high school sports. Wearing the colors of Lefors High School Marvin lettered three years in football and basket ball, two letters in tennis, and one letter in boxing.

He is a Navy veteran with overseas experience.

Playing a left end position for the Buffaloes Marvin will see action in the intra-squad game May 23 that will terminate spring training drills under Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnigan, new coaches.

Injuries-Illness Stop Baylor Bears

AUSTIN—(AP)—Illness and injuries to key members of the Baylor track squad will prevent the Bears' participation in a meet with Rice and the University of Texas here tomorrow.

Notified yesterday of Baylor withdrawal, Coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas said his squad and the Rice Owls would make it a dual meet.

Dukes Collect Second Win Off Oilers, 7 to 6

Jimmy Venable singled to right field with two men out in the ninth inning last night to drive in the two runs that beat Pampa, 7 to 6, for the Dukes second straight win over the Oilers.

Venable's blow scored Nick Stallworth and Jim Davenport, who had singled in order to start the Duke's last-ditch stand. George Payte was hustled into the game to receive Wick Hewitt after the second hit and Payte almost got the situation back in hand.

He got pinch hitter Bill Haddican on a fly to short left field and Val Defazio on a grounder. Then Venable came to the plate and upset his applecart. Hewtit, however, took the rap for the loss.

The teams fought on even terms all the way.

Second baseman Otey of Pampa was banished in the first inning by Umpire Leonard for squawking too vigorously about a called third strike.

Chandler-MacPhail Verbal Clash to Take Place Today

By FRITZ HOWELL

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Chandler and MacPhail formed the battery for today's big verbal baseball battle—but there was some question as to which would do the pitching and which the catching.

The game's Commissioner, A. B. (Happy) Chandler, and the carrot-thatched prexy of the Yanks, Larry MacPhail, were scheduled to argue their differences at 11 a. m.

MacPhail was ordered here by the Commissioner to explain why he had defied a "silence" order by talking out of turn about he 1947 suspension Chandler handed Leo (The Lip) Durocher, Dodger manager, on April 9.

The Yankee boss not only appeared ready to back up his statements, but took occasion yesterday to call the New York scribes together for the purpose of "re-irritating" the remarks to which Chandler objected. After his new broadside, MacPhail took a plane for Cincinnati and his date.

The Yank chief maintained a heavy silence on his arrival here last night, however.

MacPhail, whose charges of defamation against Durocher and Branch Rickey, head of the Dodger club, led to the "Lip's" suspension and fines of $2,000 against the "Bums" and the Yanks, said he understood Chandler had written a letter to President Will Harridge of the American League stating that Durocher's suspension did not result from any evidence produced at the Florida hearings.

MacPhail's outburst indicated that a showdown between the owners and Chandler over the extent of the Commissioner's power might be in the offing.

Chandler has maintained silence since summoning MacPhail, but his office let it be known that sports writers and photographers would not be permitted inside.

Big Spring Leading Longhorn League

By The Associated Press

Big Spring is staying off by itself in the Longhorn League pennant parade.

The Lobos last night whipped Ballinger 10-3 to remain well out in front. Big Spring has lost only one game in six starts.

Vernon stayed in second place as Midland made nine errors in helping the Dusters to a 9-5 victory.

Sweetwater beat Odessa 8-5 in the other game of the night with Chester Zara hurling a seven-hitter and fanning 12.

Wichita Falls Spudders Beat Waco Dons, 8-7

(By The Associated Press)

The Wichita Falls Spudders, to whom one defeat is a "losing streak" got back on the winning path last night.

The Spudders, leading the Big State League by a batter of 32 percentage points, had dropped their last engagement but they were rough in the stretch last evening as they shaded Waco's Dons 8-7.

Second-place Texarkana champed at the bit, idled by wet grounds at Greenville, but Sherman took over undisputed third place by trimming Paris 13-6 and Gainesville strapped a 7-3 licking on Austin's sore back.

Wichita Falls hustled all its scores in two big innings as Ed Shaack won his fourth victory of the season on the mound.

Sherman clouted 11 hits and used 13 walks issued by righthander Kuver to advantage in keeping Paris on the bottom. The twins galloped to three runs on Buck Frierson's triple with three on in the first and never were behind.

Pat McCullough pitched a five-hit ball to give the Gainesville Owls their victory over Austin as the Pioneers went six innings without getting a man on base. Meanwhile the Owls were clouting three Austin pitchers for 11 hits.

All the clubs change stands tonight with Austin at Texarkana, Waco at Paris, Greenville at Gainesville and Wichita Falls at Sherman.

Tight Games Played In Lone Star Loop

By The Associated Paess

Lone Star League clubs are playing them close to the chest. Most of the games are tight affairs and seldom does one club beat another by anything approaching a one-sided score.

Last night there were a couple of thrillers as Marshall beat Kilgore 6-5 in ten innings and Jacksonville had to spike the plate with five runs in the seventh to edge Bryan 9-8.

Meanwhile, Lufkin's Foresters were staying at the head of the parade by getting three runs in the seventh to down Tyler 7-4. Longview picked a bad time, for Henderson, to break a three-game losing streak. Their 11-4 defeat of Henderson gave Lufkin a two and one-half game lead.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

LOUISVILLE—(AP)—Dizzytown doings: Some folks call this Derbytown during its annual week of spring madness, but Dizzy is a synonym—You can hear almost anything you want in Louisville this week, from bitter beefs on the treatment you get from the hotels for your $25 a day to tips on Notre Dame as the outstanding football team next fall, but to a guy who has just hit the most interesting items is the way horsemen and turfwriters are talking about Star Reward—a colt who never had run more than six furlongs before popped up with a slightly better than fair performance in the Derby trail—But he took a beating—and all at once they're talking about him as a serious contender—Maybe that word Dixiana means something in Kentucky even though the place is owned by a gentleman from Detroit. That's in the north, son.

TOTAL LOSS

Without mentioning names, a horse that is slightly notorious as a Sulker won a race at Churchill Downs yesterday—as he crossed the finish line a scribe remarked: "His jockey says if he could only bet that horse at the sixteenth pole, he'd bet the greatest gambling horse in the world. But he never knows until the nag has gone a way whether its his day to be on or off."

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

Eddie Dyer, the Cards' manager, contends that the Dodgers still are the team to beat in the National League—Although the Cards still are looking for the team they can beat—"They didn't get up there with mirrors or miracles last year," Eddie contends. "They did it with a darned good ball team."—If Cincinnati's Ezzard Charles can lick Archie Moore, another fighter who has to go out of his weight class for opposition, Monday night, he likely will go gunning for the heavyweight—And now to pick the Derby winner—as Happy Chandler would say, all you need is a pencil, paper and time.

Two Top Southpaws Displaying Poor Pitching Form in Major League Play

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

One of the enigmas of the young baseball campaign has been the poor pitching form displayed by Hal Newhouser and Howie Pollet, the premier Southpaws of the Major Leagues.

Newhouser, Detroit's star hurler, who is generally rated as the best lefthander in the American League since Bob Grove, has lost his last three starts after opening the season for the Tigers with an auspicious shutout against the St. Louis Browns.

Pollet, the stylish St. Louis Cardinals twirler, who led all National League pitchers in games won and earned runs last year, in each of his three starts this season, has been batted out of the box and charged with the defeat.

Yesterday was the third straight time that Newhouser failed to go the route as the Boston Red Sox finished him off in the ninth inning to whip the Tigers 7-1. Mel Parnell, rookie Southpaw ended the Red Sox four-game losing streak by holding the Bengals to four hits in registering his initial Major League victory.

The skidding Cards took their seventh successive defeat, a 4-3 loss at the Polo grounds. The situation is so serious in St. Louis that President Sam Breadon announced he was flying to New York to see for himself just what is wrong with the world champions.

The Cards led until two out in the ninth yesterday, mainly because of home runs by Al (Red) Schoendienst and Stan Musial. The eighth-place Redbirds are now six full games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Chicago Cubs, behind the four-hit winning streak 3-1. The defeat was Brooklyn's first in nine starts at Ebbetts Field and narrowed its first place lead over the Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates to one game. The Dodgers' Jackie Robinson went hitless four times at bat, stretching his hitless streak to 20.

The Pirates had three big innings, a four run fifth and three run eighth and ninth innings to swamp the Phils in Philadelphia 11-4.

The Braves, behind Johnny Sain, topped the Cincinnati Reds in Boston 10-3. Sain fanned 10 batters and was helped by Bob Elliott, who got three hits and Earl Torgeson, who powered a homer and triple.

The New York Yankees' western invasion started in reverse as the Browns licked them 15-5 in St. Louis.

The Chicago White Sox climbed into first place in the American League past the Yankees by defeating the Washington Senators 5-2 at Comiskey Park. Bob Kennedy helped Johnny Rigney rack up his second win by punching out two doubles and driving in three runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics and Indians in Cleveland were rained out.

Overpayments to Veterans Must Be Reimbursed

Some three thousand West Texas veterans, many in this locality, have jeopardized their training and education eligibility and violated Federal Penal Laws by having accepted subsistence payments from the Veterans Administration to which they are not entitled under the law, Ned Bradley, Amarillo VA subregion contact representative, said Saturday.

Over-payments to veterans in the West Texas VA region amounts to $336,000, all of which is subject to recovery by the government and cannot be "marked off" by charging it to veterans eligibility.

Veterans who have been overpaid have been notified to that effect by the VA regional office and informed that reimbursement of the excess payment must be made.

Bradley explained that over-payments are caused by veterans' failure to comply with Public Law 679, which became effective last August 8.

The law fixed a point in income at which the veteran-trained can be capable of his own support. At this point, the government withdraws its measure of support.

This level has been fixed at $175 a month for single veterans and $200 for those with dependents. When job and subsistence together reach these marks, veterans receive no additional aid in the form of federal funds, tho there is no limit on such additional wages as employers might wish to pay veterans as they progress in training.

The full amount of $65 or $90 as the case may be, in VA subsistence payments is allowed only when this amount plus regular wages does not exceed $175 for single veterans or $200 for veterans with dependants.

Beginning in August, in compliance with this law, veterans in receipt of subsistence payments were provided with report of earnings forms on which they were to report their earnings from regular wages or salary.

The law says the amount to which the veteran was not entitled must be repaid or deducted from subsistence payments due. It cannot be liquidated by charging it to eligibility, Bradley emphasized.

Veteran trainees who drop out of training without notifying VA, and who continue to receive subsistence payments, also find themselves in serious trouble with the Government, he said.

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, better known as the GI Bill provides "Any claimant who knowingly accepts an allowance to which he is not entitled shall be eneligible to receive any further allowance under this title—whoever shall obtain or receive any money, check, or allowance under this title, without being entitled thereto and with intent to defraud the United States Goverment, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000. Or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both."

In conclusion, Bradley said, "Veterans, be sure you are entitled to the full amount of your subsistence check before you cash it; otherwise return it to the VA Regional Office at Lubbock with explanation and proper adjustment will be made in your behalf."

LET'S GET REMAINDER OF HIGHWAY 60 PAVED!

Citizens of Ottawa County, in Northeast Oklahoma, have been growing powerfully unhappy at their continued inability to have paved Highway 60, and in a moment of high dudgeon the newspaper in Aurora, Mo., a town served by the only coast-to-coast highway, 'lows the county ought to secede and attach itself to Missouri.

Missouri, it seems ,has got about twice as much paving done on half the tax rate Oklahoma has.

The very fact that secession is a serious matter might be an indication that these people ought to do something. Of course, the thought that the county secede was not put forth with sincerity, which is understandable, but it seems that the commissioners of roads in our neighboring state could understand the importance of this road. It has two bad spots—in Oklahoma and in New Mexico. The remainder of the road is paved from coast to coast. It promises to be one of our most important national highways.

Not only does it touch both coasts, it touches some of the most scenic spots in the nation, passes through some of the most verdant country in the United States.

Several years ago when Highway 60 was being laid out, the governors of Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri agreed that their respective states would see that their portion of the road would be paved soon, if it was routed through the states. Texas and Missouri have complied, and the people of Oklahoma have been petitioning their state government for a number of years for paving.

It would be an encouraging move if the Sooner legislators would take cognizance of the desires of their constituents in the northern part of the state.

HOLLYWOOD—Greer Garson has just about decided to open the door for Richard Ney. Watch for an early reconciliation announcement—Esther Williams and Ben Gage are worrying their friends. . . . There's a hot deal cooking for Bing Crosby and Al Jolson to co-star in a Paramount picture, in which they'll share in the profits.

Harry James and Betty Grable will move to their San Fernando Valley ranch when he returns from his next band tour. Don't be surprised if Betty announces her retirement from the screen soon . . . . Joan Crawford's divorce from Phil Terry will be final next Sunday. But her romance with Greg Bautzer is frigid, and she says she'll marry no one. But movie queens have said that before.

Looks like Leo Durocher will still play himself in Eddie Bracken's baseball story, ".750 Smith." "Leo," says Eddie, "will be back on the Brooklyn payroll before the picture is released next year." But Eddie just cut the first five pages of the script. The picture was to have opened with Leo taking a suspension for yelling at umpires.

Olivia de Havilland and Marc Goodrich are New York bound for a week. She'll visit insane asylums picking up atmosphere for "The Snake Pit." . . . Carmen Miranda turned down a $15,000 a week offer from the New York Roxy Theater in favor of $7500 at Monte Proser's Copacabana.

SHE MARRIED THE BOSS

Joan Fontaine is getting a superfancy dressing room at Universal-International, including a private beauty parlor. It pays to be married to the studio boss.

Ordered by the studio not to attend the first sneak preview of "Song of Love," Paul Henreid went anyway—wearing a mustache, dark glasses and a limp. An M-G-M executive greeted him at the door with: "Hello, Paul. I guess we can give you a seat."

"Treasure of Sierra Madre" will be Walter Huston's only movie this year. "I'm 63," he says, "and I've decided to take things easy." He'll divide his leisure time between his Northern California ranch and his Arrowhead mountain lodge. The Mexican location crew on "Treasure" are serenading Humphrey Bogart and L. Bacall every night after work with a song they whipped up for the occasion. It's called "Bogey Boogie."

QUASIMODO DRESSES UP

Joan Caulfield's sister, Betty, will seek a film career but there will be no attempt to cash in on Joan's name. Betty will drop Caufield for another moniker.

Charles Laughton, who usually dresses like a tired gunnysack on the screen, goes to the opposite extreme in "The Big Clock." He's the height of fashion, even to the point of carrying a solid gold vitamin pill box.

Enterprise has filmed two endings for the John Garfield movie, "Body and Soul." In one he is killed. The other is the conventional happy movie ending. Preview audiences will decide on the final ending.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, I see that a Moscow newspaper says that there is a boy in Russia only four and a half years old who weighs 110 pounds and has a chest measurement of 37 inches. The story could be true, but I have a theory that when America has something big the Russians always claim to have something bigger.

Gracie

I'm going to watch future news bulletins very carefully and if I read one about a girl four and a half years old who has a chest measurement of 37 inches I'll know it's their answer to Jane Russell and that my theory is right.

If the giant child does exist, we'll probably never get a look at him when he grows up anyhow. The only Russians we get to see are diplomats and he'd never make one of those. He couldn't walk out on a conference because the doors would be too small to let him through.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HEADACHE—A remarkably frank exposition of England's sad experiences in Greece, together with an expression of delight that the United States has taken over all British responsibility in that turbulent region, suggests that the Truman Administration has assumed a far more difficult and dangerous job than is generally realized.

The analysis is all the more significant and quotable because it is contained in the weekly letter distributed by the London bureau of the Union for Democratic Action, which favors world cooperation as embodied in the Truman-Marshall policy. Its sub-title is "An American View of Present-day England."

Roughly, the UDA communique conveys the idea that the United States is acquiring a $400,000,000 headache in Greece and in Turkey. And, as will be revealed in this column in a few days, Greece and Turkey are only the beginning of our economic offensive against Moscow and Communist aggression around the world.

The $400,000,000 advance now before the House after a 67-23 approval vote in the Senate, is only a down payment.

LUXURY—Referring to our proposed intervention in Greece, the UDA letter from London says:

'The burden America thus proposed to take up was one of the most unpopular Britain had ever carried. English troops entered Greece to keep it from falling into the Russian sphere. In so doing, they arrested a Communist-led revolution.

Britain did her best to support what moderate elements existed, but without success. Only the Royalists and Communists were strong in the countryside, and whatever Cabinets were put together at the top, the actual administration fell (if Communists were excluded) into Royalist hands.

"The memory of Communist excesses, and fear of the Slav bloc with its extravagant claims on Greek territory, drove sincere Republicans to vote for the return of King George. As Britain gradually relaxed her influence, and the Royalists got a freer hand, they in turn proceeded by their harshness and incompetence to turn Republicans into Communists.

"The British decision to withdraw altogether was logical and expected. As America moved hastily into action, Britain enjoyed the luxury of a sideline seat."

INEXPERIENCE—Despite London rejoicing over our assumption of her historic responsibilities in this area, which connotes an attempt to preserve the British Empire as well as to blockade the spread of communism, England does not like the manner in which President Truman proposed American intervention.

Between the lines of the UDA letter, it can be gathered that Whitehall resents suggestions over here that the Empire is bankrupt and breaking up.

"As spectators," the memo continues, "Britons had a right to comment. Typically, they did so in terms a good deal calmer than the heavy, black, American headlines."

"The tone, haste and manner of Mr. Truman's statement caused discomfort in many political circles. By some it was taken as the usual American hysteria, by others as evidence of the gross inexperience of America in international affairs.

"More thoughtful students of America suggested that is was a natural consequence of the American system of divided powers, plus checks and balances. No one person or group readily assumed responsibility for an unpleasant decision until events inexorably imposed it.

SAFEGUARDS—"It is fair to say that the substance of the proposal was approved gy Liberals, Conservatives and most leaders of Labour, although with the hearty wish that any money given to Greece be hedged with safeguards such as to produce a competent and decently tolerant administration.

"Communists, whose Daily Worker ran headlines rivaling those of American newspapers, raised the cry of 'dollar imperialism,' as did some left-wing Labourites.

"How would Russia react? Not an easy question to answer because here, as elsewhere, propagandists abound, but experts are rare. One suggested that a firm declaration of American interests in the Middle East, by removing uncertainty, might stabilize matters there. At any rate, it seemed likely to shift the heavy weight of Communist abuse from Britain to the stronger shoulders of America."

STATE—Hawaii will probably become the forty-ninth American State within a year, and Guam will soon be transferred from Navy's court-martial custody to the Interior Department.

Leaders in the movement for this radical change in our control of historic Pacific possessions are Hawaiian Delegate Joseph R. Farrington, Interior Secretary J. A. Krug and Representative Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, former Missionary in the Orient. President Truman is understood to favor both proposals.

Admission of Hawaii to statehood has been advocated for years because of the Territory's importance and advances. The proposal is backed by Army, Navy, diplomatic and political leaders, even though it usually turns up with a GOP-er as its delegate.

Is Public Education Responsible For Our Country's Progress?

Many people who have not concentrated their thoughts on public education believe that this country is more prosperous than any other country largely because of our educational system. They think they have clinched the argument when they refer to Mexico and some of the South American countries that have not had a compulsory educational system.

One reader writes this: "The United States has gone ahead way beyond any country in the world because of its educational system and it has been responsible to a great extent for our mode of living which is the highest in the world."

He fails to realize that this country made great progress before we had compulsory education; that it was only 52 years ago in the State of Pennsylvania that compulsory education became a law. In many other states it was not in practice until years after that.

If public education is the cause of progress, then how does the reader explain the fact that Germany which had a higher percent of their children attending public schools than any other country was so confused that she got into one war after another? Are they prosperous now? Everyone who knows anything about compulsory education knows that Germany is one of the most literate nations in the world and that Japan also had compulsory education.

Of course Russia requires its citizens to pay for the kind of education that the dictator prescribes. Russia, however, does not go quite as far as America does as to send the truant officer or Gestapo agent to see that the youth of the land is taught what the state thinks they ought to be taught.

And of course no man ever received an education from any compulsory system of education. He can only get a training. And training is entirely different from an education. All the great men of the ages have been educated by private tutors or private institutions or have been educated after they left public institutions of education.

And Russia is now supposed to be spending four times as large a percentage of the national income on "education" (merely propaganda) or training as the people of the United States are spending on public education.

No one who believes in freedom or understands why this country is more prosperous than any other country knows it is because we have freedom under law more than any other country in the world ever had. That is the reason we have had the highest standard of living—not because of our public educational system, but in spite of it. But, we are rapidly losing this freedom and our character and having one strike after another because the people are being taught in public educational institutions that might makes right and that there are no laws superior to the will of the state.

And it is strange that those people holding responsible positions in public education, if they are really educators, are so shaky in their beliefs and their understanding is so delicate and so confused that they cannot expose their understanding to an hour's discussion in public.

* * *

Communism And Public Education

It is rather strange that the defenders of public education use the same arguments that the Communists use. Their only defense is the same defense as the Communists use. The only defense that the public educators can give is that the end justifies the means.

That is exactly the defense the Communists use. They are going to "eliminate poverty" just the same as public educators are going to eliminate or reduce illiteracy. Both of them worship the golden calf, worship mammon, worship force. The objectives of both are to get the wealth from someone who produces it without giving him equal value in return.

And probably it is because the only defense of public education is that the end justifies the means that those public educators holding responsible positions will not attempt to harmonize their acts with the moral principles set down by Jesus. Probably it is the reason they will not meet in open debate, with limited time for each question and each answer, those people who are not the products of contemporary thinking. It should be rather embarrassing to the defenders of public education, holding responsible positions that they dare not meet on equal terms the great thinkers of the ages and that their only defense is that the end justifies the means.

'THE GOP HOUR' ..... By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Representative Margaret Chase Smith of Skowhegan, Maine—who is a Republican, of course— told the Republican women here the other day that they should take a tip from the radio and win women to the Republican cause by the soap opera technique.

Taking a leaf from the huckster, Mrs. Smith spelled out an advertising agency appeal for a sales campaign: 1) Establish a sense of need for the product. 2) Use the greater glamor of Republicanism to lure women into politics, 3) Guarantee satisfaction.

Okay, script writers. Take it away.

This is the Grand Old Party Hour. (Trumpet flare, fading into the Off Key Sisters' Trio, who break brightly into singing commercial. Tune, "Little Brown Jug.")

If you want to win that man, you should be a Re-pub-li-can!

You can't be an a-ris-to-crat, if you are a Dem-o-crat.

Hahaha, you and me, big white elephant how I love thee!

Hahaha, you and me, on it we'll ride to vic-to-ree.

(Up applause, five seconds, then trumpet flare.)

Male announcer: Here we are again on the Grand Old Party Hour, bringing you the GOP quickie quiz program and the first chapter of a thrilling new serial, The Story of Jane Republican.

Female announcer: Would you like to know the secret of success? of glamor? of guaranteed happiness?

Male: Yes, these are the things that every woman wants to know to make her life FULLER! (Flare.) Richer! (Two flares.) Better! Three flares.) And more beau-ti-ful! (Four flares.)

Female: Just listen to The Story of Jane Republican, and profit by her experience.

Male: But before we bring you this gripping story of Jane Republican on this Grand Old Party Hour, here's the GOP quickie quiz.

Female: Who has reduced our taxes? Thirty seconds on this. Twenty—ten—that's right. The Republicans. (Trumpet flare.)

Male: Ve-ry good. Of course they haven't quite done it yet, but they've promised to, and Republicans always keep their promises.

Female: Now here's the second questions: Who solves everything at the peace conferences? Fifteen seconds on this. Ten—five—that's right! (Up audience chorus of voices.) The Republicans.

Male: Ve-ry good, Of course. they haven't quite done it yet, but the Democrats haven't either, so the Republicans will have to.

Female: And now the third question on our program. Only one second to answer this, and we're not even going to tell you what it is. You just give us the answer. That's right!

Chorus: The Grand Old Party. (Trumpet flares and applause.)

Male: Ladies of our unseen audience, it was a quickie quiz program like this which first set the heroine of our Grand Old Party serial story to thinking. Jane was just plain jane like a lot of you dumbells, before she began to think. Politics meant nothing in her life. She didn't even know what the word meant. And then one day she was standing in line at the grocery store, waiting to pay out her last cent for a piece of Democratic OPA baloney, when she was struck with a thought —(Crash of cymbal as sound effect for thought striking Jane. As reverberations die, up voice of Jane.)

Jane: Why don't I do something about this?

Male announcer: As Jane asked herself that poignant question, she turned in line to see where she was. Standing behind her was a man—tall, fair-haired, and handsome. Obviously he was a Republican. He smiled and, touching his hat as a gentleman should, he spoke.

The man: Baby, you look worried. Can I—may I help?

Jane: I just had a thought.

The Man: I'll give you a penny for it. Ha, Ha, Ha!

Jane: How original. You must be awful clever. And you could help me, I betcha. Here is poor little I, about to spend my last cent for groceries. Something should be done about it.

The Man: You should take up politics.

Jane: Politics? What's that? Is it like petting?—I mean, Sir. How dare you use such language when we haven't been introduced.

The Man: I did not mean to intrude, girlie. But you see—I'm a politician, a Republican politician, and I want to tell you about politics and show you my etchings.

(Up orchestra, playing "Come, Come, I Love You Only.")

Male announcer: A year passes, and ah, how quickly. Jane has taken up politics, but seriously. In fact, Jane has married the Republican politician, and she is now Mrs. Jane Republican—honored, respected in community, and leader in the Tenth Ward Ladies Grand Old Party Club.

(Up orchestra for few bars of "Hot Time in the Old Town," then fade into voice of Jane.)

Jane: Ah, my good husband and all you good girls out there in the unseen audience, if you would only do as I did, and take up politics, all your troubles would be over. Marry Republicans and let them worry about your grocery bills, and your only troubles will be little ones.

Male announcer: Listen in tomorrow, folks, same station and same hour, for another thrilling chapter in The Story of Jane Republican on The Garnd Old Party Hour.

(Trumpet flare. Crash of cymbals. And out.)

Expansion of Dairy Program Set at School

LUBBOCK—Approval of two programs of interest to agriculture in addition to an artificial dairy cattle breeding project has been voted by directors of Texas Technological College. Projects include expansion and improvement of dairy cattle production facilities, and development of 160 acres of former pasture on the college grounds as a farm.

The college dairy herd is to be doubled in size and will include a number of Milking Shorthorns, a dual-purpose breed that has increased tremendously in popularity in this area during recent years. Dairy facilities will also be modernized considerably under the program, as an aid to teaching production and management phases of dairy farming.

One hundred sixty acres of a 640-acre permanent pasture now being used for grazing beef cattle has been assigned the college plant industry department for development as a farm on which will be grown a variety of crops adapted to this section and those with possibilities of adaptation. Efficiency of irrigation and dry land farming will be tested on various crops. A new well is now being drilled on the plot to furnish water to crops requiring irrigation and to insure all crops during extremely dry years. The additional fields here provided will prove very valuable for both teaching and research purposes, according to W. L. Stangel, dean of Agriculture.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. Is it all right to use either of twin bull calves for breeding purposes?

A. Yes. Either of these calves should breed normally. It is only in the heifer of a twin bull and heifer combination that sterility normally occurs. These heifer calves are known as Freemartins and are sterile 99 times out of 100.

Q. Which is more profitable—hand-feeding or self-feeding of lambs?

A. Results recently reported by the Colorado Experiment Station showed that lambs self-fed for 84 days gained 39.7 lbs., a daily average of .47 lbs., while those fed by hand gained a total of 27.2 lbs., a daily rate of .32 lbs. The self-fed lambs consumed more grain and a much larger proportion of grain to roughage than the hand-fed lambs. The total feed consumed for each 100 lbs. gained was lower in the self-fed lot, and the feed cost per 100 lbs. of gain was $4.20 lower.

Q. Should grain fed to dairy cows be ground fine or coarse?

A. Coarse ground grain usually is more palatable than fine ground grain, so high producing cows stay on feed better. For cows with poor teeth, however, fine grinding may be an aid to digestion.

HELICOPTER PHOTOS HORSE RACES

The big race tracks have been photographing the finish of close horse races for some time. The Salem, N. H., track now plans to go a step further. A helicopter, writes Gib Swanson in Capper's Farmer, will fly over the horses as they round the track and a moving picture will be made of the entire race. A judge will call fouls from above and those can later be checked against the film.

As I See It--

By Sam Lewis Veitch
Washington, D. C.

If you'd like to know just how much money the average farm hand makes these days, the Department of Agriculture put out some figures last week which will give you the information. The answer, as of April first, was $91.50 a month, plus room and board. Now, remember, that's the average wage paid to farm workers all over the United States, and it's ten percent more than they were last year on the same day, and higher than they have ever been before. The figure is 389 percent of the 1910-14 average, so it looks like the lot of the farm hands has improved over the years, as well as that of the farmer himself.

Of course, today's farm hand, by and large, produces a great deal more than the men back in the 1910 days. Not altogether because he's any more willing to work or because he works any harder. It may even be that he isn't as good on either of those points as the man who went before him. But, with modern machinery in wide-spread use, and modern farming methods, the farmer stands to gain much more as a result of the labors of his hired help today, than he could have expected to get thirty five years ago.

However, the wise farmers is the one who uses his labor to the very best advantage. When he hires a man, he knows exactly what he wants that man to do before he goes to work. His plans are all made and the man's labors are put to the best use where they are most needed. Rainy days and other slack periods are used for maintaining farm machinery or the buildings, and little time is lost for any other reasons. With help at today's prices, you can't afford to let them loaf.

FREIGHT RATES EXTENDED

The men who raise apples and other fresh fruit and vegetables are happy right now over the extension of the case to raise freight rates on all perishable goods. It seems that the railroads had been talking about upping their rates on these items to bring them into line with those they get for hauling other commodities such as coal, metal, wood, and so forth.

But the fight is only delayed, it isn't over. The railroad men argue that it shouldn't hurt the producer any, he can simply add it on to his price when he sells, like all the others do. That is a false idea, and the producers of all fresh crops are gathering strength to make it known.

When the producer of metal, for instance, finds that his price isn't high enough to allow him a profit, he quits making metal until a shortage raises the price again. He sets his own price, always allowing a certain margin of profit for himself. But the producer of fresh crops can't do that—he can't quit producing because fruit grows on trees which have to be living several years before they bear at all. Production is a long-term proposition.

Not only that, but the crop can't be stored or held waiting for the price to come back to a point where it's profitable. If the consuming public won't pay the increased freight rates, the producer will just have to pay it out of his own pocket, and that may eat up his whole profit on the deal. He sells for whatever price he can get because he can neither quit raising his crop or hold on to it.

The producers have now until the end of the year to get their point across, and are working feverishly to get their argument spread as widely as possible before that time in the hope it will make sense to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Farm Product Price Decline Is Reported

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farm product prices declined about 1 percent during the month ended April 15 from record levels of mid-March, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Leading in the down-turn were meat animals, dairy products, and food grains.

The department said that the index of prices received by farmers in mid-April was 276 percent of the 1909-14 average compared with a mid-March index of 280 percent and with 107 percent for the 1935-39 average.

Prices paid by farmers for production materials and cost of living items, including interest and taxes, continued an upward trend which has been under way for many months.

The index for these prices in mid-April was 230 percent of the 1909-14 average compared with 227 in mid-March and 128 for the 1935-39 average.

This advance in the index for prices paid pushed farm parity prices slightly higher. Parity prices are theoretical standards used by the government in determining levels at which it will support prices of farm products.

Production Texas Dairy Products Up 23 Percent in March

AUSTIN — Almost 60,000,000 pounds of milk went into the March manufacture of Texas dairy products, bringing production up 22 percent over February, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

In spite of the seasonal increase, however, production stood 10 percent below the March 1946 level when 65,000,000 pounds of milk were consumed in the manufacture of dairy products.

Creamery butter was as usual the greatest single user of milk, consuming 1,323,000 pounds for a 17 percent February-to-March production hike. Ice cream ran a close second, as 1,291,000 pounds were used for a 24-percent monthly increase. American cheese consumed 905,000 pounds to show a 13 percent hike in production. All other uses accounted for 3,075,000 pounds of milk and logged up a 61 percent February-to-March gain.

Artificial Dairy Cattle Breeding Program Okayed

LUBBOCK—An artificial dairy cattle breeding program to serve hundreds of farmers operating on the South Plains has been authorized for Texas Technological College by recent action of the board of directors. Dairymen in the Lubbock milkshed will particularly benefit from the service, according to W. L. Stangel, dean of Agriculture.

The college plans to purchase two proven registered Holstein-Friesan bulls and two equally fine Jersey bulls for the program, Dean Stangel said.

Citing the practice of artificial breeding to superior bulls as the surest method of increasing efficiency, both of type and production, Dean Stangel further pointed out that cost of such service is less expensive to the majority of farmers than the cost of individually maintaining bulls.

Greater and better livestock feed supplies for West Texas are resulting from the increased number of irrigation wells and the more widespread use of farm manure and commercial fertilizers, the dean stated. Recently noted predictions of declining prices for agricultural commodities suggest that livestock will be needed to convert cheap feeds into human foods and an even greater need for efficiency in livestock being used.

In addition to making a concrete and constructive contribution to agriculture in West Texas, the program will provide demonstration of an outstanding modern dairy practice to Tech agriculture students and will instruct them in its use.

SNAKES BITE UNDER WATER

There is no foundation to the popular belief that snakes do not bite under water, writes Gig Swanson in Capper's Farmer. A venomous water snake, the cotton-mouth moccasin, feeds upon fish which it kills with poisonous fangs. The fangs are more or less like a hypodermic needle and poison can be readily ejected under water. Many U. S. sailors have been bitten by snakes while swimming in tropical seas.

Santa Fe Says Schedules Have Been Improved

Faster passenger schedules and improved travel features on two name trains effective June 8, were announced today by Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe Railway, at the annual meeting of the Company held at Topeka, Kansas.

Elapsed time of the daily Chief has been reduced 1½ hours westbound to 46 hours and 30 minutes, and eastbound by 59 minutes to 45 hours flat. The Chief will continue to depart from Chicago at 12:01 p. m. daily and will arrive Los Angeles at 8:30 a. m. Departure from Los Angeles will be 12:30 p. m. daily and arrival at Chicago will be 30 minutes earlier, at 12:30 p. m.

A new fast, daily non-extra fare train, the Diesel-powered, sleeping-car and chair-car, the Grand Canyon, will operate on a schedule of 43 3/4 hours between Chicago and San Francisco through the San Joaquin Valley. Equipped with lounge car and diner featuring Fred Harvey service, this train will provide faster sleeping-car service direct to the south rim of Grand Canyon. The new Grand Canyon will leave Chicago daily at 12:15 p. m., arrive at Williams, Arizona for the Grand Canyon at 11:00 p. m. the second evening, and at Los Angeles at 11:00 a. m.

The Grand Canyon will provide faster service for Western Oklahoma, Panhandle of Texas and New Mexico. Providing one-night service to New York for Kansas City patrons, eastbound the Grand Canyon will leave Kansas City at 7.30 a. m. and arrive in Chicago at 3:30 p. m. in time to make Eastern connections.

Through cars Chicago to San Francisco via San Joaquin Valley arrive San Francisco 5:25 p. m., elapsed time 55 hours 10 minutes compared with present time of 70½ hours.

Among the lightweight sleeping cars on the Grand Canyon is one of the latest Pullmans containing 24 duplex roomettes, it was said.

Schedules are already prepared to place the Super Chief and El Capitan in daily service as soon as needed equipment, which has been on order for more than two years and has been subject to production delays, is delivered. The Texas Chief which will operate between Chicago and Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, is likewise only waiting the delivery of long ordered equipment before being placed in regular service.

Lightweight daily sleeper service will be placed in operation June 8, between Fort Worth and Los Angeles on Trains 27 and 28 connecting with the Grand Canyon, Gurley stated.

Santa Fe Texas service to California in connection with the Scout has been changed to morning departure from Houston and Fort Worth instead of night departure as at present, and arrival at Los Angeles in the morning instead of evening.

Doctor Suggests Old Fashioned House Cleaning

AUSTIN—A good old fashioned spring house cleaning in every city and community in Texas would do a great deal toward furthering good health in this state, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, who said in Austin today, "From a practical standpoint the old adage the 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness' is still well worth emphasizing."

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include the surface cleaning of streets and alleys, proper drainage or fill-in low areas, cleaning all parks and playgrounds and the clearing of weeds and rubbish off of vacant lots.

"The destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage, the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning up of all premises will be," said Dr. Cox, " of inestimable value in helping to keep down summer health hazards such as dysentery, typhoid, and poliomyelitis. Good community housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the State."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous diseases are filth-borne, and the only possible way to control them is to eliminate the insanitary conditions responsible for the spread.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
