Expect 2,500 Singers Here At Two-State Meet

A crowd of between 2,500 and 3,000 is expected at the Sunday afternoon session of the Oklahoma and Texas Singers Association when it convenes here Saturday and Sunday, October 8 and 9, W. S. Brewer said this week.

The big convention, attended by singers from throughout the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma, will open with the Saturday afternoon session at 2:30. There will be a Saturday night session starting at 7:30 and the Sunday morning event at 10 a. m. The Sunday afternoon singing, always the largest of the annual conventions, will begin at 2 p. m.

Mr. Brewer said that rooms are still needed to care for singers who will stay over Saturday night. Those wishing to keep the singers are asked to contact Mrs. J. W. Thomas, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Buster Hughs or Mr. Brewer.

The singing is being sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Brewer, who is helping with arrangements, is president of the 5th Sunday Singing Convention.

Dale Carnegie Lesson Thursday

Wellington Kiwanis are aiming at an attendance mark of 75 at the free demonstration lesson of the Dale Carnegie Course in effective speaking, leadership training and human relations, Mack Saied, Jr., said this week.

The demonstration will be Thursday evening, September 29, at 7:30 in the community building.

An instructor, possibly two, will take the audience through an actual lesson of the course,, Saied said.

"Kiwanis is bringing this course to Wellington as a service to its business and professional men and women, and any others who feel the need for it," Saied declared.

He explained that those taking the Dale Carnegie course will learn how to acquire ease and self-confidence in speaking, develop courage and overcome fear, make impromptu speeches, improve their personality, "come out of their shell," capture an audience, use the "magic formula" in preparing talks, open and close talks, think on their feet, make the magic of enthusiasm work, win people to their way of thinking and get enthusiastic cooperation, make a speech of introduction, handle a conference to get better results, make listners like them, use the secret of better human relations and get along with others.

Two Sweepstakes

Bantam Raisers Bring Honors From State Fair

Three Wellington bantam chicken raisers took honors at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last week, including among their winnings two sweepstakes for best of show. Exhibiting birds were Sam Thompson, Joe Sisk and Donald Curry.

Thompson, with 8 entires, placed first on silkies, young pen; first on white leghorn young pen; first on Rhode Island Red young pen; first on dark cornish old pen, second, dark cornish young pen; third, white cornish pullet. He took the sweepstakes award on the young pen of Rhode Island reds as gest pen in the particolored division.

Sisk has grown bantams a number of years and has exhibited at Amarillo several times previously. Curry also has raised these chickens several year, but this was his first time to exhibit them. Thompson is in his second season with the birds, and he, too, was exhibiting for the first time.

Rockets Open District Play Against Memphis

The Wellington Skyrockets open their conference schedule against the Memphis Cyclone Friday night, September 30, in another game away from home.

The game's a toss-up, the way the Rockets coaching staff and the boys themselves figure it. "It's who wants it the most," Coach John Hurley predicted.

"Memphis has been a tremendous surprise," Hurley continued, "They have an exceptionally fine ball club. They came up and beat Canadian 12-0 and Canadian had what we thought was one of the top three teams in the district."

The Cyclones have played three games, winning from Tulia and Canadian and losing to Crowell by about 30 points.

They boast an exceptionally good line, according to Wellington observers, and in McQueen, 220-pound tackle, they have one of the finest linesmen in the district.

Coach Hurley regards highly the Cyclones fine running backs, who also did an exceptionally good job of passing against Canadian. They completed the first three passes thrown, one of the first touchdown.

The Rockets, who came through the Phillips game in fine shape, ran into hard luck Monday when Reggie Smith cracked one of his ankle bones during workout.

He will be out of play four to six weeks, Coach Hurley said. Don Hood is due to replace Smith at

Rain Up to Two and Half Inches Will Boost Late Crops in Area

ANOTHER GOOD PRODUCER
One of the best irrigation wells brought in south of Wellington is this one on the Ray Clubb farm, which is estimated as definitely an 8-inch well and possible a 10-inch one. Water was found at 121 feet but the drillers went down to 205 feet. The water was clear almost from the start. The work was done by H & R Drilling Company of Pampa, with R. P. Hill, shown at right above, as the main driller. The well is now set with 6-inch pipe, and Mr. Clubb plans to leave it that way for the present.

Rain falling during the week end over much of the county came in time to give considerable help to a large acreage of late feed, and in many communities to help unopened bolls of cotton and benefit the late crop.

Wellington got 1.40 inches, with .30 inches falling Thursday, September 22, and 1.10 inches Saturday night and Sunday, September 25, measured by Jim Williams in the Weather Bureau rain gauge.

Cotton growers in the Wellington area feel the rain will help some, making bolls already on the stalk larger than they would have been, Dick Sweat, manager of the Farmers Co-op Gin in Wellington said. Cotton with young bolls will be helped, but it was pointed out there is a lot of cotton with no young crop, and it is now too late for a new crop to mature. Nevertheless, the moisture has helped spirits of the growers.

Along the east side of the county, Dodson got not quite two inches of rain during the week end. It was heavier north of town, measuring two and a half inches at the Tom Birchfield farm seven miles out. South of Dodson, however, the fall was still lighter.

Lots of feed will be helped, although there is some that is too far gone to benefit, and cotton also will benefit. As soon as the weather is dry enough, pulling will pick up rapidly. Crops in that entire area will be better than expected, it is now believed. One report was that cotton would probably average a third of a bale or a little more, while the milo will harvest around 1,000 pounds per acre. It is estimated there is a third more milo acreage in this vicinity than last year.

Moisture at Quail since the rain began September 18 will measure not more than a half inch, Tom Crabtree said, but out from Quail in almost all directions it has been heavier. Late feed will be helped considerably, as will late cotton, and it is believed the crop will be close to last year's yield in the community as a whole.

Not dependent on the week end rain, but still a bright spot in the Quail crop picture is the irrigated acreage, which Mr. Crabtree described as exceptionally good, especially west and east of there. Some growers are expecting two bales per acre or better. Dry land cotton will average around a half bale.

In the north part of the county, Mrs. James Throckmorton of Dozier reported "a lot of damp weather and not much moisture" during the week end for that place. East of Dozier, however, .60 fell Tues-

Judge and Commissioners Secure Four More Miles of Farm-to-Market Road

Four more miles of additional Farm-to-Market roads were secured by Judge R. L. Templeton and the members of the Commissioners Court as a result of their recent trip to Austin where they appeared before the Highway Commission.

The new route is exactly the same as the twelve miles that were previously designated by the Highway Commission from Highway 83 west through the Lillie, Salt Fork communities and included the one mile on the west side of Wellington.

The four additional miles go one mile north from the northwest termination of the road and thence three miles east to Marella to connect with the paved road that leads directly south into Quail making a complete circuit of the Lillie, Marella, Quail area. The last additional miles that were granted are in precinct 4 of which Cortez Barnett is Commissioner.

The minute order from the Highway Commission came through promptly and was received in Wellington Monday, September 26, in time for the court to take action. The motion for acceptance was made by Cortez Barnett and seconded by Jack Brewer and passed by a unanimous vote of all four commissioners.

Judge Templeton, and Commissioners Barnett, Knoll, and Brewer were the ones who had asked for the four additional miles. Pat O'Hair of Precinct 3 had indicated his approval of the twelve mile designation and did so at the presentation on Tuesday, September 20. Upon learning that four more miles might be considered favorably by the Highway Commission he joined with the whole court in asking for the four additional miles.

Clyde Drake, said that it will be 6 to 8 months before work on the road will start due to the fact that his unit has construction in Wheeler County to finish before they can start work in Collingsworth. However, he said that the survey would be made in 3 or 4 months. The cost of the road will be approximately $207,500.00, and will make 17 miles of construction instead of the 13 that had been previously designated.

The Minute order of The Highway Department follows:

MINUTE ORDER NO. 38900 OF HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT
Collingsworth County
District No. 25
in COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY, it is ordered that Minute Order 38616 be and is hereby canceled and in lieu thereof the following action taken:

New State Law

Enforce Drinking Law At Athletic Events

Bennett Goodloe, superintendent of schools, warned this week that there is now in effect a state law prohibiting bringing or possessing intoxicating liquor at any place where school athletic events are being held, and this law will be rigidly enforced by county and city officers.

The act was passed by the last session of the Legislature as an emergency measure. The first section states:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to bring or carry into any enclosure, field or stadium where athletic events sponsored or participated in by the public schools of this state, are being held, any intoxicating beverages or to have any intoxicating beverages in his possession while in or on said enclosure, field or stadium."

The act further provides that if any officer of the state sees any person or persons violating the terms above, he shall immediatly seize the intoxicating beverage and turn it over to the county or district attorney, who shall hold it as evidence until the trial of the accused party.

This is a misdemeanor offense and upon conviction carries a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $200.

The State Legislature held that the morals and welfare of the public school children are in jepordy, and that this created an emergency and an imperative public necessity, and so the act was passed as an emergency measure.

An Expanded Texas Marketing Program

The Texas Department of Argiculture is inaugurating a new marketing service designed to help farmers sell their commodities in these days of economic chance.

Texas is no longer a "one or two crop" state. In recent years, the emphasis has been switched to a more diversified system of farming which brings with it a whole new set of problems.

Thousands of acres of Texas land normally planted to cotton and a few other main cash crops have been diverted to lesser commodities because of planting allotments and acreage restrictions. These "new" products must be sold. And in most cases, the farmer is unfamiliar with the demand for his goods—no nearby markets exist. In such cases a market outlet must be found, or even created.

The Marketing Division of the TDA is making a survey of these new crops and possible markets. Where possible, the department will act as a clearing house of supply and demand information for the farmer.

In addition, many farmers whose main cash crops have failed will need assistance in selling secondary crops which they would normally keep and utilize on the farm. At the other extrmeme, when bumper crops are produced, then storage space must be found until they can be moved into trade channels at a normal rate. A sudden dumping of bumper crops on the market could result in a serious price collapse.

Still another phase of the new project will be demonstration and research projects on proper handling, packaging and shipping of perishable Texas commodities. Many thousands of dollars are lost each year because normal precautions are not exercised in getting crops for the market. The TDA will endeavor to correct those practices which result in poor quality fruit and vegetables—and a corresponding decrease in value.

Rising State Taxes Point Up Need for Federal Reductions

The tax story of the state government for fiscal 1955, just off the Census Bureau press, is the biggest to date. The total take for all 48 states was a pyramidal $11,584,000,000. This figures out to $72,25 for each man, woman and child in the nation.

California, which has a general retail sales tax, led the parade with collections totaling $1,334,000,000. New Yourk was second with $1,200,000,000.

Washington State had the highest per person tax take—$115.54; New Jersey had the lowest—$45.35.

Texas state taxes soarded to $489,000,000, representing an increase of nearly $20,000,000. On a per capita basis, this is much smaller than for most of the states, however, being $57.75.

All told, the story is one of rising taxes in all but seven state which, strangely enough, showed a drop. Kentucky, with a rise of 17.4 per cent, showed the biggest increase.

The story of rising taxes is not new in Texas. Collections have been mounting steadily in recent years. In 1942 they totaled $135,000,000, in 1952 hit $414,000,000.

The rising tide of taxation is not limited, however, to the state level. Municipal, school, and federal taxes are also looking up. The tax rise is under way at all levels.

The taxpayer can find some justification for the increase at local and state levels. But at the federal level it is something else again.

In fast, the rise at local and state levels makes it all the more incumbent upon the national government to reduce taxes as much and as soon as possible. This can be done only by reducing federal spending.

Business methods in govenment, which means the elimination of waste and duplication of effort, and the curtailment of hugh outlays in doubtful foreign "aid" would go a long way in that direction.

Flower Hints

The whole wide world is a garden. Twelve months in the year it sparkles with a variety of plants, trees and flowers.

Adventures through an ever-open season awaits those who will train themselves to observe. Finding flowers is easy for those who have a pocession of color and blooms in their gardens. For those who have no gardens perhaps sharing an occasional handful of your blooms would bring joy to someone.

This is the season to find and prepare the dried grasses, leaves and cattails, yucca pods and others that grow along the highways for your dried bouquets. Who is it that hasn't searched for some piece of dried wood or pine cones to polish for your dish garden this winter.

When your garden begins to look bleak, train your eyes to the less spectacular. Dried branched cedars, as well as evergreens and even rocks. Through these things may be quiet and subtle contrast. You may be using bright berries even fruits as your focal points in an arrangement.

House plants are also good material such as blooming begonias, geraniums. The ivies and others may be cut and used in an arrangement for your dinner party. Try these, you will be delighted.

Most any florist would be willing to let you purchase three of these, five of that, and nine of something else to work in any of these materials. Yes, the world is full of materials for arrangements. Keep searching, it will keep your approach for flower cautions fresh and new.

This is also the very season in which to look twelve months ahead for the planting of your fall bulbs, dividing your roots and planting your perennial and biennial seeds, such as phlox, larkspurs, blue bonnets, conflowers, pansies and others.

You may purchase your needs on these items from Strongs Flowers. Phone 13.

Open House Held at New Home of Church of Christ Preacher Sunday

Monroe Tharp, an evangelist of the Church of Christ, and his family held open house at their home, 1509 Graham Street, Sunday, September 25, for members of the church and their friends.

The church only recently purchased the property on Graham street for a residence for the preacher and his family. The house on West Avenue, just south of the church, where the G. B. Stanley family lived while he served this church, has been sold and moved off the block. This, with the purchase of two other houses to the south on that block, to be sold and moved, is the first step in a program for building expansion and parking facilities for the church.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Tharp, their sons, Pat and Jimmy, and their baby daughter, Janice. The visitors were shown through the house by Mmes. Elmer Hiett, Earl Hunter and Frank Thomason. Mrs. L. A. Gilmore was at the guest register.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of light orchid spider mums, given by a group of friends. Serving were Misses Mary Jane Hiett, Vada Bell, Mary Beth Kelso and Doris Ann Tharp.

Mr. Tharp and his family moved here July 1 from El Paso where he had worked with the Montana Street Church of Christ four years. They are native Texans, who lived in and near Dallas previously. The two sons, Pat and Jimmy, are 13 and 11 years old and the daughters, Doris and Janice are 15 and three.

"We have fallen in love with Wellington and are happy indeed to live here," the Tharp family said.

Marriage vows recited at the First Baptist Church, Cactus, united Miss Darla Sue Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sanders of that town, and Wilbur Earl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of Wellington. The ceremony was read Sunday, September 18, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Don Anderson, as the wedding party stood before an archway of greenery, flanked by baskets of gladioli.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Othal Ray French, organist, who used "Chapel in the Moonlight," "Wedding Prayer," and the traditional wedding marches, and by Misses Janetta and Johnnie Bruce, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Sanders escorted his daughter to the altar. Her wedding dress of white chantilly lace and net over satin was designed with a molded bodice and v-neckline outlined with seed pearls and irridescent sequins. The fitted sleeves tapered to petal points at the wrists, and the full skirt was waltz length. The bride's waist length veil fell from her wite lace hat, also accented with seed pearls and irridescent sequins and she carried a Bible covered in blue lace, topped with a bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Richard Eaton of Canyon was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Bobbie Porter and Miss Jannette Vaughn of Cactus were bridesmaids. Pink net fashioned the honor attendant's waltz length dress, which featured a matching jacket and three-quarter sleeves. Identically styled orchid net dresses were worn by the other attendants. Their headpieces were bands of matching satin trimmed with rhinestones, holding short net veils. They carried colonial bouquets.

Joe Lynn Moore of Wellington was best man, while ushers were Reginald Smith of Wellington, cousin of the groom, and Joe Max Schmidt of Cactus.

Mrs. Sanders chose for her daughter's wedding a suit of navy faille with pink acessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Smith's navy dress was accented with red and white with accessories and corsage of red carnations.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church followed. The brides table was covered in a lace cloth, decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli and the three-tiered wedding cake topped by a minature bride and groom. Mrs. Tommy Trosper of Cactus served the cake and Miss Betty Lyle of Borger was at the punch service. Mrs. Charlie Lacy of Dumas registered the guests.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Denver and Colorado Springs, the bride wore a sheath dress of embroidered blue linen with a matching jacket and white accessories. They have established their home at Apartment 621-B, Cactus Courts.

The bride graduated from Dumas high school and attended Amarillo College. The groom, an outstanding athlete, graduated from Wellington high school and served in the Marine Corps, with his overseas duty in Korea. He is now employed by Phillips Chemical Company, Cactus.

Letters From The PEOPLE

Dear Sir,

I am sending in my renewal for the Wellington Leader. I have enjoyed the paper so much. I always took the paper when we lived there. Although I take a daily paper here it is not like a paper from back home of your friends, and to know of the happenings and improvements where you have once lived. So please find enclosed 3.00 for my renewal for another year.

Sincerely Yours,
Mrs. Oscar L. McBride
2711 Avenue B
Fort Worth 5, Texas

Chub White of the Kelley community was a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Hayden Williams is a medical patient in St. Joseph's Hospital. She was admitted Sunday.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK, BOYS—It's the last time you'll see Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America of 1956, pose in a bathing suit until next year. The Denver, Colo., college sophomore says "there is nothing queenly about cheesecake pictures," and that this trip through the surf at Atlantic City, N.J., is the final one until she poses with the next crop of beauties when next year's queen is selected.

Delight the Bride With Gift of All-Purpose Coffee Service

BY EDNA MILES

FOR the average bride, picking a coffee service is an affair as complicated as picking a silver pattern or her china. Sometimes, it's true, doting relatives solve the problem by handing over a family heirloom.

Even this may be unsatisfactory. Georgian silver is somehow not suitable in a modern, three-room apartment. Knowing this, one well-known silver house has brought out a modern hot beverage service that's equally good for coffee, tea or hot chocolate. It's matched to the contemporary design of a recently introduced line of flatware so that a bride may solve both problems easily.

Modern adaptation of rattan is used as insulation on handle of the beverage server. Sugar and cream are somewhat smaller than those in the usual traditional tea services. There's a matching tray with sweeping lines that form easy handles for service.

A bride may buy all four pieces at once or each piece separately. Or, she may simply tell friends and relatives that this is the set she wants and let them take over.

Hollow ware in the contemporary manner, this service, for coffee, tea or chocolate is matched to a new flatware pattern. (1847 Rogers' Bros.)

Farmers Warned Of Child Labor During School

Farm youngsters under 16 years of age are expected to be in school when the fall terms open, according to information released by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Field Office Supervisor Harry B. Nunn of the Department's wage-hour division of Alburquerque, N. M., said the child labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act generally prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture, during hours when the local school is in session.

"So, children under 16 cannot legally be employed for farm work, such as cotton picking, etc., during local school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce," he stated.

Farmers are responsible under the Federal law if they hire underage children to dof arm work during school hours. And the law applies equally to local resident children and to migratory children.

Nunn said "school hours" means those hours when school actually is in session for the school district where the child under 16 is currently living.

The law, he said, sets no minimum age for employing minors on farms before or after school hours, or during school holidays or vacations.

Time to Plant Winter Pastures, Trew Reminds

College Station — There is no substitute for winter temporary pastures. They are the only dependable source of green grazing during the late fall, winter and early spring, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Winter pastures should be planted early in order to increase the amount of grazing which in turn can mean cheaper gains on beef cattle, more milk from the dairy herd and lower hay grain and veterinary bills. Early planting may mean dry planting. Oats and barley may be safely dry planted but there is a risk, says Trew, with wheat and rye. If small grains are dry planted, put the seed deep enough to prevent germination from light rains, advises the specialist.

Because the inoculant used on legume seed may be killed if the seed remain in dry soil for a long period, Trew says it is sometimes adviseable to make separate plantings when the grain is dry planted.

Early planted pastures, September 12-20, last year gave almost three times the net return per acre for four East Texas dairymen as did pastures planted in late October and early November. The value came from increased milk and hay saved. Grazing days were 143 against 80 for the late planted pastures.

Trew suggests to farmers and stockmen interested in planting grasses and legumes for winter temporary pastures a visit with the local county agent. Pick up a copy of brand new Extension Leaflet - 258, Winter Temporary Pastures. The leaflet lists recommended plants, date and rate of seeding and gives information on earliness and disease susceptibility of the different grasses.

Finally, Trew reminds, for the soil's sake give it some winter protection either in form of temporary pastures of a winter cover crop. Both are soil improvers.

Slaughter Calf Production Grows

College Station — The production of slaughter calves is an important part of the beef industry in Texas and the South. Figures released for the month of June by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that Texas led all states in the number of calves slaughtered for the month with 97,000 head.

As an aid for stockmen and farmers who produce this type of beef, Extension Animal Husbandman, U. D. Thompson, has prepared a bulletin on slaughter calf production. It is now available at the offices of county agents.

Thompson has covered such items as pasture - forage; selection; purebred and crossbred herds; breeding practices; management of the herd bull; calving time; dehorning, castorating and branding; creep feeding; feeding minerals and vitamins; equipment; interal and external parasites; disease prevention and control and marketing.

Mrs. Calvin Tow was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Monday for medical treatment.

Marine Recruiter Here Regularly

SSgt. Glen Smith and SSgt. Billy Williams of the U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Amarillo, were in Wellington Tuesday, September 27, and announced that the latter will be in Wellington regularly the first and third Tuesdays of each month the remainder of this year.

He will be in one of the court house offices from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

They also announced the Marine Corps 3-year enlistment plan, with no waiting list.

"A boy can enlist today and leave tomorrow if he wants to," SSgt. Smith said.

Both recruiting officers are veterans of action in Korea, and SSgt. Smith served in World War II. Now NCO in charge of the Amarillo Recruiting Station, he has been in the Marines twelve and a half years and his service ribbons include the Purple Heart, Presidental Unit Citation with one star; Good Conduct Ribbon with two stars; Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three operational stars; World War II Victory ribbon, Japanese Occupation; and Korean Presidental Unit Citation. He was with the First Marine Division. His home town is Bonham.

SSgt. Williams, who has been in the Marines nine and a half years, was in Korea 15 months, and also wears the Korean Presidential Unit Citation ribbon with two clusters, along with the Good Conduct Ribbon, Victory Medal, and other ribbons denoting Korean Service. He is from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

New Expanded Credit Program Of FHA Explained

A meeting was held Monday, September 19, in the County Court Room to discuss the details of a new expanded credit program known as the Great Plains Credit Program, now available through the Farmers Home Administration.

This meeting was attended by representatives from the local banks, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, Extension Service and interested farmers and ranchers.

"The Great Plains Credit Program is designed to provide loans to farmers and ranchers in designated areas to help them reorganize their farming operations and develop systems of farming that will make proper use of the land and minimize the hazards of drought and wind erosion. Loans will be made for reseeding and the establishment of grasslands and other approved conservation and land use practices including soil and water erosion measures; development and improvement of domestic and irrigation water supplies, repair and improvement of existing farm buildings, and the purchase of additional land needed to enlarge a farm to a family-type size," a spokesman for the local office said.

Loans also may be made to purchase livestock, farm equipment repairs, seed, fertilizer, feed, insecticides, farm supplies, and for payment of interest and taxes.

The regular production loans will bear 5 percent interest, which is fixed by law; real estate loans on a family-sized farm are 4 1/2 percent, and the special emergency loans will be at 3 percent. Terms in all instances will be geared to the expected repayment ability of the applicant.

A loan may be made to a farm owner, farm operator, or stockman, including a partnership or corporation, if the applicant:

1. Is an established operator and is primarily engaged in farming or livestock operations.

2. Is unable to obtain necessary credit elsewhere.

3. Can be expected to carry on feeding operations that are consistant with proper land use for the area and will have reasonable prospects of success with the assistance of the loan.

Discussions of this meeting were led by Judge Charles C. Bishop, Emergency Loan Supervisor of the Wellington FHA office and J. J. Roan Jr., Area Supervisor of Childress.

Paris Tour Described By Wellington Girl

Mrs. Doyle Wayne Ingram, the former Sue Harvey, tells this in a recent letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harvey. Pfc. and Mrs. Ingram, along with other young Army couples from Germany, recently toured Paris for a weekend. Here is how she describes it.

We left here at 10:00 p. m. late Friday night for Paris. Bob and Jean Wharton, Hollis and Claire, Billy and Jerry, Doyle and I went. There were about forty on our bus —one other girl that we didn't know, two drivers and our tour guide. They sure were nice. We had a very nice bus. It had comfortable seats that you could put back when you wanted to sleep and it had real big windows so we could see everything. The bus also had a radio and tape recorder and we had music as we rode. We tried to sleep but couldn't too much so we were tired when we started out. I took sandwiches and brownies for us to eat during the ride. We got to the German border at 12:30 and they stamped our passports. We went across the Rhine River and the French stamped them again.

We arrived in Paris at 8:00 A. M., went to our hotel for breakfast and then on a tour of the city. Though it isn't what I expected, Paris is everything I ever dreamed it would be and more. We saw the Eiffel Tower which has three floors and 10,000 people can stand in it at one time. It was built of 12,000 pieces of metal and put together by 2,500,000 bolts, and rises 984 feet into the air. At the base it covers 30,000 square feet, but it gradually diminishes to 300 square feet at the top. We didn't have time to go up in the tower. It costs money to go up and more to come down.

We went to the Tomb of Napoleon which, as far as beauty, is the prettiest thing on the inside that we saw. His tomb is in a sunken plaza on the first floor. It is sunken so all who come to view the remains would be obliged to lean over the rail and bow. Around the tomb are 12 statues representing great victories. Small chapels surround the tomb where lies the bodies of Joseph Bonaparte, Marshall Fosh, two generals, Jerome Bonaparte and Napoleons's son by Marie Louise. One wall is devoted to a reproduction of the Main altar of St. Peter's in Rome. This was all very beautiful.

We saw the Arch of Triumph, the largest of this kind in the world, planned by Napoleon as a modest memorial to himself and his armies. At the street level under the arch is a tomb of an Unknown Soldier with an eternal light of remembrance. The Arch is 147 feet wide.

Next the Cathedral of Notre Dame. This is where Napoleon crowned himself and then crowned Josephine. This was certainly a beautiful Cathedral.

Then we went to the Opera House which is the largest in the world which measures 11,000 square meters. The Avenue that leads to the Opera is the only one in Paris without trees, planned that way to permit a good view of the Opera House. We crossed the famous Seine River that runs through Paris several times. It has thirty-six bridges across it.

Then we went to Concorde Square where in 1793-94 more than 3,000 victims were put to the guillotines. Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette were beheaded here. There are seven monuments around the square dedicated to the other principle cities of France. We saw Palace of Chaillot, where on a terrace Hitler strutted for the newsreels and gazed at the Eiffel Tower.

We saw the Sacre Coeur Church on top of the Montmartre Hill. There are 235 steps leading up to the Church and it houses one of the largest bells in the world. Paris is a very old city but very pretty.

There are no sky scrappers here because some King made a law that all the buildings be the same height and of the same architecture. Our tour ended at the American Embassy where we had lunch.

Saturday afternoon the eight of us went to the House of Wax. It was every interesting and life-like. Then we had dinner at a French Cafe. That night we went to the famous Follies Bergere, something like the Ziegfield Follies. They had good dances and songs and the most beautiful costumes I've ever seen.

After our French breakfast (two rolls, butter and jelly) Sunday morning we went to the Palace of Versailles. It was a very pretty palace but I was disappointed in it. All the furniture had been removed by the Germans. We saw the famous Hall of Mirrors where the peace treaty of Versailles was signed. Ludwigsburg Palace was much prettier as for furniture, walls, floors, and the chandiliers. The Palace of Versilles has around seven hundred rooms in it. The grounds were just beautiful. The flowers and trees were planted to make colorful designs.

Jerry and I wanted to go to the Louvre Museum but Billy and Doyle didn't because we didn't know the way and they thought we would get lost so we went by ourselves. We caught a bus to and from and didn't have a bit of trouble. It's easy to learn you way around in Paris. This is another beautiful place with sixteen miles of galleries. The main things that we saw were the paints of The Last Supper and Mona Lisa, the statue of Venus De Milo, and the Regent Diamond, one of the largest in the world. Also Napoleon's crown. That night we went on the night club tour. It wasn't very good. The best night club was the Moulin Rouge. They had a good flooor show and they did the French cancan. They let us off at another hotel and told us how to get to ours but we made a wrong turn somewhere and there we were, lost in Paris at 3:00 in the morning and with high heels on! We walked and walked and finally by accident found the right street.

We left Paris at 7:00 a. m. and drove to Nancy where we had lunch. This is also very attractive city. Then we went on to Strasbourg where we stopped to visit a Cathedral. The front of it was something like Notre Dame. It had a huge clock on the inside. After a very, very wonderful trip we got home about 8:30 Monday night and we were eight tired people.

Paris is beautiful and I loved it but as far as the countryside of France—Germany is much prettier. You can really tell the difference. Frence doesn't have the well-kept fields and the flowers everywhere that are here. I never thought I would say this but I like Germany better. Well' we really had a wonderful time and something we'll never forget. It was really worth a lot to see something like this. I wish I could talk to you and tell you all about it now because I'm afraid I'll forget something later.

DOGGONE COMFY — That's what "Chekuv," Siberian Samoyed, thinks of the bolt of cloth displayed by his mistress, Mrs. John J. Butler, of San Diego, Calif. It's woven partially of combings from Chekuv and two other Samoyeds belonging to the Butlers. The three dogs together yield a pound of material a year, and so far it has been possible to weave eight yards of the doggy material.

Hawks Toughest Competition

Spirited Rocket Action Belies 38-0 Phillips Win

Wellington's Skyrocket football team was beaten but not awed by the mighty Phillips Petroleum Co. Blackhawks at Phillips Friday night. The Skyrocket gentlemen furnished Chesty Walker's mighty host with the toughest competition they have been up against so far this year—this being Wellington's second game and Phillips' third, with Phillips beating both Southeast Oklahoma City and Childress by higher scores than the 38-0 they racked up against the Rockets.

And the Wellington crew did their work with a calm matter-of-factness and complete lack of jitters that left their fans unanimously well-pleased with their performance and happy over the prospects for a successful season against conference foes in their own category.

The mighty Phillipsians outweighed the Rockets by approximately 10 pounds per man, but this handicap was not responsible for their win. It was more like a spirited and able amateur boxer succumbing to the skill and business-like compulsion of a semi-pro opponent.

An estimated 200 Wellington fans made the long drive to Phillips to see the game played at Blackhawk Stadium under occassional light mists of rain, and returned home possibly happier than any group of partisans ever came away from a lost game. The 38-0 score was pretty big, the yardage figures of 165 to 391 were not properly representative of the play, but the 12-8 record of first downs in Wellington's favor, the comparative absence of penalties, and admiration for the Rockets' lack of spookiness before the touted Blackhawks did Wellington hearts good.

The mighty Phillips machine, efficient and well-financed, converted a Rocket fumble on their own 21 yard line into 6 points in three tries with 9:03 still left in the first quarter.

Wellington took the kickoff on their 7 and returned via Warner Ford to the 18. A second fumble was picked up by Phillips on the 19 at the Rockets' first try. The mighty Blackhawks returned the favor on the next play, fumbled on the 26 and Teddy Stansbury, Ford and Quarterback Duggie Jameson and Halfback Maxie Tarver hit for two first downs and on the fourth try at a third first down, punted.

Mighty Phillips hit the line three times and kicked. A third down pass attempt by the Rockets was intercepted by a mighty Blackhawk on the Wellington 22, and smooth Quarterback Jackie Webb ran and engineered to a touchdown at 11:54 of the second quatrer.

Early in the second quarter the Rockets ran up a first down and pulled the first of several unorthodox plays of the evening by running on fourth down with 2 yards to go, made the yardage by Ford's drive at center, but lost the ball on a fumble. Phillips couldn't go and punted on fourth down, high and only 11 yards gain from their scrimmage line.

A holding penalty for 15—the only long penalty of the game—gave the Rockets 25 to cover and they hit the line again on fourth down on their 44 and made the 2 they needed. Line tries and an incomplete pass brought a fourth down punt and mighty Phillips carried from their 21, two first downs and a touchdown with 2:06 left in the first half. They missed the try for extra point. Score at the half 20-0.

Early in the second half, the mighty Hawks, after a 55-yard return of the kickoff, shoestringed on his 40 by Stansbury, completed their drive with a 14-yard pass and went over the goal line again. Try for extra point was blocked by the driving Rocket linesmen—the first of three blocked conversion attempts during the evening.

Until very near the end of the third inning, the Rockets pounded out four first downs in succession, each made by a successful drive at the line on fourth down, with from half an inch to 8 yards to go. When mighty Phillips finally got the ball again, they went 73 yards in four plays for their fifth touchdown. Again Rocket linesmen swarmed the kicker and the try for extra point was no good.

In the fourth quarter, the mighty machine clicked again for two first downs and a touchdown to get 37 yards and the sixth touchdown. The kick was blocked for the third time.

The Rockets spent the next 8:11 minutes racking up four more first downs, losing the ball once to mighty Phillips on a pass interception, holding them on downs, and taking off again, running the ball on fourth down two more times. With seconds to go, they tried a pass from mighty Phillips' 14 which failed by inches at the final whistle.

Stansbury's sprained ankle was the only Rocket casulty of the cleanly played game, and it is expected that he will be in shape to join his efficient teammates in the meeting with Memphis at Memphis this week.

1. What is the feeding value of milo for cattle and hogs? Purina Research has shown that milo comes very close (90-95%) of the value of corn.

2. What's the main difference between milo and yellow corn for cattle? Milo carries no vitamin A. Always recommend that it be fed with a good legume and Regular Steer Fatena. If no legume is available, always recommend Special Steer Fatena. (For hogs, our regular Sow and Pig Chow carries ample vitamin A.)

3. Should whole grain milo be fed? No. It should always be rolled or cracked for livestock.

4. What about hog follow-up behind steers on milo? Hogs following milo-fed steers must be fed additional supplement and grain, preferably free-choice in self-feeder.

5. What is the difference in feeding value for hogs between milo-supplement mixed and milo-supplement fed free choice? Little, if any difference, providing pigs come from sows on a good feeding program. Pigs from herds not on a sound program may lose their ability to balance their own ration, so in this case it would be better if mixed.

6. How much milo does it take to make 100 lbs. of pork on the Purina Program? 305 pounds of milo and 45 pounds of Purina Hog Chow.

Take the price of hogs per cwt.
Subtract cost of 45 lbs. supplement (45 x 6c)
Divide this by 305 lbs. milo to get cash return per 100

Example:

— 2.70
3.05)$12.30($4.03
12.20
100
105

2. Can milo be fed as the only grain in cattle and hog rations? Yes, so long as it is properly supplemented.

9. Who else will explain this feeding opportunity to the feeders of my community? No one. It's entirely up to you.

One Agreed Judgement

JURY FINDS BOTH PARTIES GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE IN RECENT SUIT

Both parties of a damage suit growing out of a car accident were found guilty of negligence by a jury in the 100th district court recently, and a second damage suit was settled before it went to trial, District Judge Luther Gribble reported this week.

In a non-jury session Monday, September 26, a colored man, William Hunnicutt, was ordered to pay child support of $7.50 per week.

The damage suit tried was that of Leo Massey vs. Henry Daffron, both living in the north part of the county. Since the jury found both parties guilty of negligence, neither party could recover damages.

Mrs. W. I. Underwood received a settled judgement of $16,000 damages from the Caprock Bus Company. This suit grew out of the death of Mrs. Underwood's husband, attributed to injuries received in an accident envolving the city's garbage collection truck, on which Mr. Underwood was working, and a Cap Rock Bus. Judge Gribble said that $6,000 of the judgement will go to the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, which had paid her that amount in compensation insurance previously.

Judge Gribble is holding court in the other counties of the district this week. Childress, Tuesday; Memphis Wednesday; Clarendon Thursday and Panhandle Friday.

Robinson came here February 1, 1948 and began work as a deputy in the Tax Assessor's office. April 15, 1952, he was appointed county clerk to fill the unexpired term of J. M. Moore, who resigned. He was elected to a full term in 1952 and re-elected in 1954.

Born and reared in Dickens County, he graduated from Patton Springs high school and attended an Amarillo business college.

He worked for the Houston Shipbuilding Corporation and the Bureau of Mines at the Amarillo Helium plant until he entered an Aviation Construction Battalion in World War II, serving in the Southwest Pacific.

At the time he came here, Robinson was working for the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission as assistant fish hatchery superintendent and game warden at Dundee.

His wife is the former Jo Lynn Williams of Seymour. They have two children, Linda Lynn, 12, and Ocie Dale, 7.

Rocket coaches are doing some backfield swapping this week.

"It's not from necessity but through the desire to have good substitutes. We are working to the point where we can swap our backs around if we have to, and so all can run almost any position," Hurley explained.

Quarterback Duggie Jameson is doing some running from right half and Ted Stansbury is going from both fullback and either half positions. Don Crawford is also getting set for the fullback or either half positions.

Cecil Brown reported at Samnorwood that .80 fell during the week end and .30 Tuesday night, giving a total of 1.10. Farmers of the area believe it will help the crops some.

Heaviest rain reported Tuesday night was two inches at Lutie, but no one in that community could be contacted by telephone Wednesday morning to determine the extent of the rain.

Texline, also embracing Abilene, Pampa, Lubbock, Plainview, and intermediate towns along the railway, including Wellington.

In commenting on it, R. Wright Armstrong, president of the truck line, and vice-president, Fort Worth and Denver Railway, said: "A persistent demand throughout our territory disclosed that the shipping and receiving public needs the additional transportation service to be offered by the Burlington Truck Lines of Texas, Inc.

"The highway schedules to be provided," Armstrong continued, "will supply a long-felt need for adequate transportation facilities in the conduct of business through out the Texas territory served by the railway."

Early hearings before the Railroad Commission are anticipated, and, according to Armstrong, the new truck service will be inaugurated as soon as a certificate of convenience and necessity is issued by the Railroad Commission.

Farmers Study Cover Crops

Increased production of land on which winter cover crops have been grown was discussed by Bomar B. Harris of the Soil Conservation Service, Quanah, for approximately 30 farmers of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District Thursday evening, September 22.

One asset is the grazing to be had, Mr. Harris pointed out and plenty of fat cattle have come off winter pastures of vetch, Austrian winter peas, or a mixture of those with rye, oats and wheat.

To illustrate the benefit of increased production, Mr. Harris told of one Soil Conservation District co-operator near Quanah, W. C. Howard, who planted Austrian Winter peas on deep sand, fertilizing them with 16-20-0. He then planted wheat and harvested 12 bushels per acre on land that all his neighbors told him wouldn't grow wheat.

Several Salt Fork District Farmers have already planted cover crops, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service said.

Three have planted Austrian winter peas in irrigated cotton, Albert Oldham, Bill Neeley and Charles Allen. Murl Lacy is planting these on dry land and H. J. P. Fields is planting rye in cotton for winter cover.

C-C Hunting Colored Films

The Wellington Chamber of Commerce is calling all local color photographers.

Mrs. J. W. Thomas said Tuesday, September 27, that the organization is planning to have printed some postcards of Wellington scenes in natural color, to be placed on sale in local stores.

Neatives or transparanices of color films are needed, and Mrs. Thomas is especially anxious to have those of the schools, court house, Marian Airpark, and the community building and community Christmas tree.

Average rainfall in Texas produces 362,000,000 acre-feet of water, says the Texas Water Conservation Association. Of this quantity only 1 1-2 per cent soaks into the ground to replenish the spring flow in streams.
