

Reagan In 'Exceptionally Good Condition'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, in "exceptionally good condition" and "excellent spirits," resumed the duties of the presidency today from a hospital bed after an assailant's bullet was removed from his chest.

Less than 24 hours after he was shot outside a Washington hotel, Reagan, 70, was joking with nurses at George Washington University Hospital and impressing his doctors with his stamina.

At 7:15 a.m. EST top aides visited Reagan's room and found him sitting up in bed, brushing his teeth after breakfast. Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said Reagan used his breakfast tray to sign a dairy price support bill the aides had given him.

"He could probably put in a full day today if he gets a nap this afternoon," said hospital spokesman Dr. Dennis O'Leary. "... I would not be surprised to see him up walking around in a couple of days."

O'Leary said Reagan "is doing extremely well," could be discharged from the hospital in a week or two, "then a couple of months until he's back riding horses."

He said press secretary James Brady, shot in the forehead in the assassination attempt, was "much improved" after extensive exploratory surgery to determine the extent of damage to his brain. Brady's progress, he said, "has been extraordinary."

The doctor reported "fairly extensive damage" to the right side of Brady's brain but minimal damage to the left, which controls all speech and mental processes.

"We believe he is going to live," O'Leary said of Brady, "but we have no idea where he is going to end up." If there is paralysis, he said, "it probably will affect the left side of his body."

A suspect, identified as John Warnock Hinckley Jr., 25, of Evergreen, Colo., was arrested and held without bond on a charge of attempting to assassinate the president. FBI spokesman Roger Young said he knew of no motive for the attack.

Doctors at George Washington University Hospital said the 70-year-old Reagan — the oldest man ever elected president — was expected to have no complications and should be able to make presidential decisions today.

"One has to let the effects of the anesthesia wear off, but I think that all of us feel that by tomorrow he would be capable of doing that,"

Dr. Dennis O'Leary, the hospital spokesman, said Monday night. "We do not believe there is any permanent injury."

Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's political aide who took up the chores as chief spokesman, said Monday evening: "The president will be fully capable of making decisions tomorrow, according to the doctors."

O'Leary said the president, who rides horses and chops wood for recreation, would be able to resume a full range of physical activity within three months.

Reagan, cracking jokes before and after two hours of emergency surgery, was kept in an intensive care unit after a bullet was removed from his left lung.

Hinckley, the alleged assailant seized immediately after the six shots were fired from a .22-caliber "Saturday night special" from 10 feet as Reagan left the Washington Hilton Hotel, was charged in a midnight court appearance with attempting to assassinate Reagan and assaulting a Secret Service agent. U.S. Magistrate Arthur L. Burnett ordered him held without bail.

U.S. Attorney Charps.1, said Hinckley's parents said their son was undergoing psychiatric care and described him as "wandering, aimless and irresponsible." Harold Covington of Raleigh, N.C., the head of the neo-Nazi National Socialist Party of America, said Hinckley was once a party member but

Pilot Takes Honors In Newswriting Competition

The Rockport Pilot brought home awards in feature writing, column writing and display advertising from the Texas Gulf Coast Press Association Convention this past weekend.

The Pilot took third-spot honors in all three contests in the semi-weekly division. Judging was by members of the Department of Communications, Texas A&M University.

Judging was in 10 categories, with awards presented in daily, semi-weekly and weekly divisions.

A critique of the Pilot's entries by the judges noted that in reproduction and general appearance, the Pilot's display ads were "better than average."

Jerry Sumpter is in charge of the Pilot's display advertising. The Pilot feature entries were rated "generally sound and interesting features that the reader enjoys" and a feature done last July on the local redfish tagging program was noted as being "especially good."

The award in the "Columns" category was based on two "Blair's Corner" entries by Pat Blair. Singled out for special mention was a December 14, 1980, column that recounted a deer hunting story told by Vincent Skrobarcek.

Awards were presented Friday, March 27, in an award breakfast at 8 a.m. at Victoria's Ramada Inn, site of the TGCPA's 43rd annual convention.

Convention events started Thursday, March 26, and continued through Saturday, March 28.

Irwin Real Estate Sold To Kurtzes

Raulie and Nan Irwin, longtime real estate developers in the Rockport area, have sold Irwin Real Estate to their daughter and son-in-law Lenora and Stephen Kurtz.

Lenora and Stephen had joined Irwin Real Estate in January of 1980 after Lenora's graduation from the University of Houston Graduate School at Clear Lake.

Since that time she had been the Broker of Record in the office and an agent for Metropolitan Life & Casualty Insurance Company, with her office located at Irwin's.

Stephen has been the office manager for the past six months, in charge of Real Estate Sales. Originally from Universal City, he was formerly employed by Pitney Bowes and is presently working on a degree in Finance and Real Estate Finance.

Irwin Real Estate, known as Palm Harbor Sales Office, opened at their Palm Harbor Subdivision office in 1960 and have been active in all types of real estate sales and development since that time.

The Irwins developed and sold Palm Harbor Subdivision, Units I and II and built most of the homes there. In 1963, they built the Palm Harbor Marina and in 1972, the Palm Harbor Travel Park.

Upon his graduation from Texas A&M University in 1973, Raulie Irwin Jr. joined the family operation and helped complete Palm Harbor Subdivision Number 2 and then developed Windswept Oaks Subdivision and Windswept Plaza which comprises a complete strip shopping center.

Lenora and Stephen will offer complete Real Estate Sales and Rental Management. [See IRWIN, Page 7]

Fraudulent Activities Mar Reserve Benefit

A group hired to put on a benefit to raise money for the Aransas County Sheriff's Reserve is being investigated for possibly fraudulent activities, according to County Judge John Wendell.

He said the case has already been before a grand jury and may go before the grand jury again.

The case involves the fund-raising "Tribute to Hank Williams" scheduled in the Rockport-Fulton High School Football Stadium

June 12.

According to Judge Wendell, the group hired to promote and sell tickets for the benefit is now being investigated for failure "to stick to their contract" and for overcharging on costs.

According to the Judge, the group as of Monday had "already taken out over $14,000."

The Judge added that the group that was hired by the Sheriff's Reserve "doesn't have the right to operate in Texas."

Tickets to the event have been selling for $6 per person, and Judge Wendell said the promoters "have been selling ads for as high as $800 apiece for a double-page ad" in the pamphlet being published for the event.

County Attorney Jim Anderson has been looking into the matter and declined to comment on it, explaining that he "can't comment on a pending investigation."

Judge Wendell said he became involved because he kept getting phone calls from people "complaining about these people collecting money in the name of the sheriff's department."

He said the promoters were "calling everybody in the county" to sell tickets to the show which was originally to have been at Lillian's and was subsequently moved to the football stadium because a larger space was reportedly needed.

Rockport Man Charged With Attempted Murder

William Glen Cummings, 67, has been charged with attempted murder and is being held without bond following a Monday afternoon shooting at Cummings' residence on Rattlesnake Point Road.

The victim, Leonard Scottie Bates, 41, of Aransas Pass was reported in critical condition in Memorial Medical Center in Corpus Christi Tuesday morning.

Ricky McLester, special investigator for the Aransas County sheriff's department, said the shooting apparently followed an argument between the two men.

He said Cummings, standing inside his trailer residence, fired once at Bates who was on the ground outside. The bullet struck Bates in the right upper chest and exited the body through the lower right.

The weapon was a .38 caliber Colt snub nose. McLester added that both Cummings and Bates were apparently intoxicated at the time of the incident.

When first questioned by McLester Monday following the incident, Cummings told the investigator that Bates had threatened him with a knife.

Cummings was taken be-

COLLISION STARTS FIRE, CREATES POWER FAILURE

Central Power and Light officials, in the background, arrive to check out damage after the truck in foreground struck a utility pole Friday, March 27, following a collision on Highway 35 South just outside Rockport city limits. The driver of the truck, Ken Campbell, 28, of Rockport was taken by Aransas County ambulance to Enterprise Medical Clinic where he was treated for injuries suffered in the collision. Campbell was subsequently released. The driver of the second truck, Lewis DeAses of Portland, apparently fell asleep at the wheel and his vehicle drifted into Campbell's lane according to Highway Patrolman Charlie Seal who investigated the mishap. Power was cut off to Cove Harbor about an hour following the accident which occurred about 11:15 a.m. Power was cut off to an area just south and west of the accident site for about 10 minutes, according to Joel Zapata, manager of the Rockport CP&L office. The accident also started a small grass fire which county fire units were called to put out.

Diseases Of The Ear

This article applies to cats as well as dogs.

There are a number of reasons your cat or dog can have an ear problem. Some of them are ear allergies, ear mites, fungus infections, bacterial infections, and fight wounds. We will examine the above conditions, one at a time.

Ear allergies are typified by the sudden onset of itching and redness of the skin — without a discharge. Because of intense scratching, your pet may traumatize his ears and set the stage for a secondary bacterial infection.

If the condition is ear allergy, your veterinarian may dispense a topical preparation, or tablets, or an injection. In some cases, all three are indicated. Your veterinarian will advise you correctly.

Ear mites are a major cause of ear problems in our pets. Ear mites are microscopic parasites that live in the ear canals and feed on skin debris.

Mites should be suspected whenever both of your pet's ears are involved. The characteristic sign is violent head shaking and scratching of the ears.

If your pet has ear mites, your veterinarian will be able to demonstrate them to you under his microscope. He will give you the proper medication that will cure this condition.

Another common ear problem is fungus infection. The presence of excessive wax and moisture in the ear predisposes the ear to this condition.

The discharge from the ears is usually dark, thick, and waxy. A rancid odor is characteristic.

Your veterinarian may wish to culture the secretions to determine the type of fungus, and the drug of choice for treating it.

The last ear condition I will discuss is bacterial infection. A pet with this ailment will generally hold his head sideways, with the sore ear down.

There will be redness and swelling of the skin folds in the ear canal; also, a purulent discharge and a bad odor will come from the ear.

Eighty percent of ear problems occur in the droop-eared breeds. For healthy ears, air circulation is important. Open or erect ears dry out better and provide less favorable conditions for bacterial growth.

Bacterial infections which go untreated for a long time will become chronic and require prolonged treatment.

If you suspect your pet has an ear problem take "the ears" to your veterinarian. He can use an otoscope to correctly diagnose the problem, and institute the proper therapy.

Next week, I will discuss cleaning the ears and how to avoid ear problems.

Any questions about the health and care of your pet can be mailed to the Rockport Pilot, 1002 Wharf, Rockport, Texas 78382. Dr. Lutz will answer them in his weekly column.

who doesn't? -- did you ever stop and think what that does to a poor person living on Social Security or some other small pension?

You must have these to exist -- so your food must suffer. With summer coming on -- light bills are going up if they live in any type of comfort. Figures say we are living long these days.

To those who this does not bother, you are fortunate -- to those who barely exist -- and Aransas County has many -- I wish I knew what I could do to help.

SUCCESS
I met a lady on our street yesterday who was lost trying to find a street in Peninsula Oaks. Our street signs are almost all down. It's a real problem. But whose?

In our conversation, she told me of an old man in her neighborhood who she observed pushing a wheelbarrow of trash. In her conversation with him he stated, "Yes, I am trying to clean up around my place like 'Uncle John' wants me to."

Thanks, bud, whoever you are. Success sometimes comes in very small but good packages. I hope all house-holders or renters will follow suit and clean up.

My name is James W. Metzner.

I am A Candidate For School Board Trustee-Place 5.

I am running against a member of 19 years. It's time for a change.

I am not against punishment and detention, but I am against the present outdated program! I appeared before the school board to protest the present program, and the board took the easy way out, by voting to leave it alone. The children laugh about the 15 to 25 minute detention, and it must be frustrating to the teachers. The program does nothing at all to solve the discipline problem. The only punishment is to the parents, who deliver and pick up the children. There are proven programs available from the Texas Educational Agency.

The present Joe Randow School Board is not aware of the rules and regulations they are supposed to have adopted for the children to follow. The 1973 Drug Rule and the 1976 School Codes are just a wee bit outdated. Our busing is way overcrowded according to the rules. Our curriculum is out dated. Our vocational program is poor! The school budget of 4+ million dollars needs to be reviewed!

There are many booklets and brochures available from the Texas Educational Agency for the Education of a Board Member. The publications cover every law & duty to be performed. It is the duty of the superintendent to provide this knowledge for his board and himself! If the board had this knowledge they would be able to perform like an intelligent group who knew what was going on.

Our children should be our #1 concern. The children are our leaders of tomorrow, and our country's future!

Our teachers should be given their freedom and rights to speak out to the board about educational problems, and improved curriculum without fear.

My opponent of 19 years has helped to provide you with our three grade schools that have no gymnasium facilities. Two grade schools have no 5th grade; two have no kindergartens; two have no cooking facilities. Food must be delivered from Rockport Elementary. This costs you, the taxpayers, extra dollars for busing children because of poor planning. Our 6th grade Jr. High children have no gymnasium facilities. This creates a body odor problem. It's not the children's fault.

In the last school bond election a hidden item, such as a new Administration Building, was very cleverly included. It is to be paid for from interest on the bond money to the tune of $177,000 plus. Shouldn't this money have gone into our present problem with our outdated schools? Administration should be second to the children.

The election is near. You the people must take an interest in your school board. The board represents the most important elective body of our society. Take the time to attend the meetings once a month for the children's sake.

Please do your civic duty and vote on April 4,

'Low Down' From The Congressional Record

POLITICAL MIRACLE — BUDGET TIMETABLE SET Representative Jim Wright (Texas) "...I should like to report to our colleagues an unprecedented agreement reached yesterday by leaders of the majority and minority under the Speaker's guidance and upon his initiative to develop a specific timetable for the consideration of the President's program and its various components.

"Never before, to my recollection, have the majority and minority leaders of the House, the chairman and ranking minority members of the Committees on Budget, Appropriations, Rules, and Ways and Means, sat down together and established definite target dates for each step in the process — budget resolution, the reconciliation bill, and such tax reductions as the Congress in its wisdom may approve.

"Under the plan mutually agreed upon, we expect and intend that this entire program should be completed before the end of July and prior to the August recess and district work period.

"In the months ahead, there undoubtedly will be differences over details of the President's recommendations. This is the way of a parliamentary democracy.

But there is no disagreement on the schedule and the appropriate times for considering that program.

"Manifestly there is no desire on the part of any to impede or delay; nor is there any desire on the part of others to stampe or deny to the public its rights to be heard.

"This agreement is a convincing demonstration of the capacity of responsible bipartisanship to help this institution to function at its best. It is reminiscent of the spirit of understanding and mutual trust which prevailed during the Eisenhower administration between Sam Rayburn and Joe Martin, Lyndon Johnson and Everett Dirksen.

"The schedule we have set will be a difficult schedule. It will require the maximum cooperation of all the committees to meet the deadline...

"With the best efforts of all of us and with the cooperation of the administration, the House will complete action on the budget reconciliation, and the tax reduction bill and meet the target dates..." (The agenda was printed in the Record.)

Dear Editor,

I sometimes take a second look at the theory of evolution when I see men Raging like "bulls," Lying like "dogs," Crooked as "snakes," Silly as "simians," Drinking like a "fish," Dumb as "oxen," Cowardly as "chickens," Lost as a "goose." Rev. B. Anthony

Dear Editor,

As an interested parent, I want to stand up and be counted. There are parents who are proud of the Aransas County school system.

If in doubt about the effectiveness of our schools please check the statistics in the Aransas County school system as to the percentage of students that achieve at grade level, the percentage that achieve at above grade level and the percentage that attend colleges or advanced technical schools. The results would have been pleasing.

There are so many good teachers in our school system. There are so many, many good children and young adults that attend school. There is so much achievement made by these young people both in the classroom and in extra-curricular activities. There are so many positive attitudes presented and learned.

On the other side of the coin — there are some teachers that are better than others — there are some students that are better than others — there are some parents that are better than others.

If a child comes from home with a problem, it may be solved at school, but more than likely he will go home with or to that same problem.

Our schools are not perfect — none ever was nor ever will be — but I resent a person running down the whole system just to boost her choice of candidates in the coming school board election.

Yes, we care — and we will be at the polls to back up our education.

AARP News

By Lucille E. Skrobarek
The covered dish luncheon on Wednesday, March 25, was attended by 43 members and 15 visitors.

Crocheted items displayed by Florence Samson, Lavonne Humphries and Hilda Mauer were featured, including hot pads, beautiful jackets, Christmas boots, puppets, etc.

Katherine Winkelman showed a collection of antique items. One unusual item was a small iron bar with a wooden handle at one end. This was used many years ago to wind yard into balls.

Mildred Flannery showed several of her watercolor paintings.

Amil Johnston has two hobbies — leather craft and latchhook rug making. He displayed wallets for both men and women, scabbards for knives and other leather craft as well as a latchhook rug which was completely finished and one which Mr. Johnston has recently started.

Everything displayed was most interesting.

Jesse and Margaret Roberts from Lincoln, Nebraska, share their hobby: reproducing antique dolls. Approximately 30 antique dolls were on display at Wednesday's meeting.

Mrs. Roberts gave a description of each doll while Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Fishwick carried the dolls around in the audience so that the members could examine them more closely. Mr. Roberts strings the dolls and Mrs. Roberts makes the dresses which are also authentic reproductions of the period.

Mrs. Patti Fishwick, program chairperson, plans to have several hobby shows during the year. As she said, "We have no idea how many talents our members have."

The AARP Rockport Chapter 1536 business meeting is Wednesday, April 8, at 10 a.m. Coffee and cookies will be served at 9:30 preceding the meeting. Bill Fishwick will give us the final figure cleared from the Pancake Brunch.

The entertainment at this meeting will be an Easter Parade with both men and women showing off their Easter Bonnet creations.

quit in 1979. It was the ninth attempt on a president's life. Four attacks were successful. In four others, the intended victim was not wounded.

Vice President George Bush flew back to Washington after making a speech to a cattlemen's roun in Fort Worth, Texas. He was given the president's schedule for today — which marks the administration's 10th week in office — including a Cabinet meeting, a conference with congressional leaders and a meeting with the visiting prime minister of the Netherlands.

"The president is an excellent physical specimen and we do not anticipate any problems. He was never in any serious danger," said O'Leary, dean for clinical affairs in the George Washington University School of Medicine, where where Reagan was taken in his armed lit sine after the attack.

O'Leary said the 70-year-old president's "vital signs were absolutely rock stable throughout the whole thing." He said the bullet was found "several inches" from Reagan's heart.

The attack occurred at 2:25 p.m. EST as Reagan emerged plow dtd8 a private entrance reserved for security purposes for presidents and other dignitaries — and headed for his waiting limousine, its bullet-proof door open. The president had just addressed the Building and Construction Trades Department of the AFL-CIO in the hotel's ballroom.

Six shots rang out, felling Brady, whose blood ran from a wound on the right side of his forehead; Secret Service agent Timothy J. McCarthy, who appeared to jump in front of the president; and police officer Thomas K. Delahanty.

One eyewitness said the assailant, standing with a group of reporters along the presidential pathway, "just opened up and continued squeezing the trigger."

Gerry Parr, the chief of the White House Secret Service detail, and one other agent pushed the president into the car in the instant after the shots were fired — first two, then four more in rapid succession.

Hinckley, who forfeited bond on a charge of carrying handguns in Nashville, Tenn., on Oct. 9 while President Carter visited the city, was shoved to the ground, placed in handcuffs and taken away in a Washington police car.

Nofziger reported that Reagan, on his way to surgery at about 3:15 p.m., told his wife, Nancy, "Honey, I forgot to duck." He joshed to the doctors in the operating room: "Please tell me you're all Republicans."

He was still joking in the recovery room after emerging from surgery 2½ hours later. A White House statement said the president, with tubes in his mouth, gave doctors a note that said, "All in all, I'd rather be in Philadelphia."

O'Leary said the surgery was performed by Dr. Ben Aaron, a cardiovascular specialist; Dr. Joseph Giordano, head of the hospital's trauma team, and two or three other doctors. He said the president was given five pints of blood before the surgery but none during the operation that removed "a really mangled bullet."

The president's left lung collapsed, and the surgeons inserted two chest tubes to reinflate it.

O'Leary predicted that Reagan's hospitalized recovery "might be as long as two weeks, but that is just a 'guesstimate.'"

"He is physiologically very young," the doctor said. The fact that Reagan "sailed through" the surgery was "maybe not medically extraordinary, but just short of it," O'Leary said.

He said that the president would be in "moderate pain" for a few days from the wound and the six-inch incision just below his left nipple and that he may require "some modest pain killers during the next day or so."

Bush visited the hospital and then headed for the White House situation room, where Cabinet members and other senior administration officials gathered.

In a brief appearance in the White House press briefing room, Bush said: "I can reassure this nation and a watching world that the American government is functioning fully and effectively. We've had full and complete communication throughout the day."

Asked if the president had turned over authority to the vice president, deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said: "There has been no cause for that to happen."

Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. said in the same room several hours earlier that the nation's allies had been notified that Reagan was in stable condition. He added that "as of now I am in control here in the White House pending the return of the vice president" and erroneously listed himself second in line of succession. He is actually fourth.

Canyon Reservoir For Fishermen

AUSTIN — The clearing plan compromise agreement announced earlier this month by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission for Choke Canyon Reservoir should give South Texas area fishermen cause for some jubilation.

Under the compromise, the Parks and Wildlife Department will take over eventual management of all recreation, fishery and wildlife resources of the 38,000-acre tract which includes a yet-to-be impounded 26,000-acre reservoir.

The site is near the city of Three Rivers, halfway between San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

The City of Corpus Christi will develop parklands around the reservoir to department specifications before turning the site over to the department.

The dam is being constructed by the federal Water and Power Resources Service (WPRS), which originally had planned to clear approximately 7,700 acres of prime timber and brushland from the lake bottom.

City and WPRS officials had cited safety liability as a reason for clearing the reservoir. This problem was resolved when the department accepted responsibility for management of the recreational aspects of reservoir, since the state's liability is limited by the Texas Tort Claims Act.

The compromise reduced the acreage to be cleared from about 7,700 to 4,000 acres. The 3,700 acres saved from clearing included brush and timber areas which are expected to be some of the lake's prime sport fish habitat, especially for largemouth bass.

Reduction of the area to be cleared also saved an estimated $400,000, according to federal estimates.

Bob Bounds, the department's inland fisheries management coordinator, said the areas saved from the bulldozer may be even more significant than they appear on the map.

"All three major areas contain portions of the Frio River channel, with large timber, brush and elevation variances. These are the elements that produce good fishing," he said.

"It will be a long while before the fishery develops, since the lake probably won't reach conservation elevation for a few years, but the important thing is that the habitat which can keep the lake productive for many years has largely been saved," Bounds said.

Montague Wins First In Women's Tourney

The first exclusively women's tournament of the year was staged last Saturday, March 28, by the Double R Tennis Club at the Rockport Racquet Club courts. Titled the Women's Round Robin Doubles Mixer, it was set up so as to allow each participant to play with or against every other entrant. Winners were determined by total points accumulated by each player.

Winner in first place was Margaret Montague with 49 points, followed by Judy Boyd who scored 40 points. Third place was shared by Polly Bracht, Barbara Rozzell and Claudia Bate-man with 35 points each.

First and second place winners were awarded trophies while other winners received cans of tennis balls. Good sportsmanship awards were made to Kay Stanley, Cathy Arthur, Kay Phany and Debbie Jackson.

In addition to the trophy winners the following participated in the tournament: Mary John Lynch, Mary Geane Smith, Nancy Richter, Pat Heldenfels, Eunice Hansen, Elouise Boling, Jane Doss, Beth Patterson, Janet Langham, Nancy Dewar, Nan Slusher and Laura Dugan.

Eunice Hansen and Nancy Richter were in charge of soliciting participants and promoting the tournament while Ike Boling scheduled the matches and managed the tournament.

Meaning of 'Viking' is still debated. The meaning of the word "Viking" is still debated. It can designate either a warrior or who goes to sea or the act of waging war at sea.

In Nordic the word is found only on a few runestones from the 11th century.

Boys Take Third Amid Controversy At Texas A&I

By Bob Crawford
Sometimes officials' calls cannot be explained, and that fact cost the Pirates of Rockport-Fulton some very important points as they eventually finished third in a seventeen-team field.

Raul Castro, the fine miler for the Pirates, ran the race of his life in the 1600 meter run, only to be disqualified when officials claimed that a teammate ran along the track in the infield pacing the Pirate runner.

The 10 points which the Pirates lost could have slipped them into second place ahead of Gregory-Portland.

In the Varsity Division, the Pirate weight men took top honors as Bubba Scott picked up wins in the shot put and the discus. Marty Davenport took second in both events and then Kroy DeForest edged himself in to third in the shot for his highest finish of the year.

Micheal Simmons also scored in the field events with a fifth place in the long jump.

The Pirates lost out in the team's best event, the 400 meter relay, when a faulty handoff ended their chances. Simmons also came up with a fifth place finish in the 200 meter dash.

The remainder of the Pirate entries ran into the powerful Class 5-A opponents, especially in the sprint events and the distance events.

Rockport fielded a JV team made up of underclassmen, including Freshmen, and they were running against Class 3-A varsities and below. Refugio won the division, but the Pirate JV took a sixth place overall.

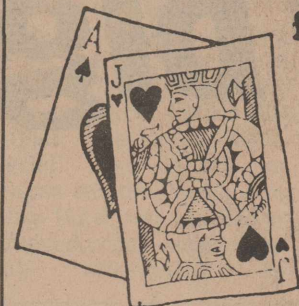

Damaso Galvan and David Ramirez finished fourth and fifth in the 800 meter run. Eddie Bechtol, a freshman, made the finals in both hurdle events.

Dickerson, Ramirez, Galvan and Ernie Lara placed fourth in the 1600 meter relay.

This weekend, the Pirate runners will be in competition in Beeville.

Golfers Third At Refugio

Continuing their good brand of play, the Rockport-Fulton golfers finished third in Refugio behind Gregory-Portland and Calallen.

Billy Washko barely missed Medalist as he shot an 84, losing out on the last hole when he took a double-bogey. Mark Boone and Bart DeForest each shot an 86 and John Phelps notched an 88 for the tournament.

This coming week the Pirate golfers will try to take their own tournament as they host the Toast of the Coast Golf Tournament at Live Oak Country Club.

Wildcats Drop Pirates 6-5

By Bob Crawford
Inability to hold a lead cost the Pirates a ball game Tuesday night as they lost a 6-5 contest to Calallen on the Wildcats' home field.

Bill Jennings staked the Pirates to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning with a three-run home run in the first time he came to bat, scoring Pat Nava and Eric Commander ahead of him.

Calallen came back with a run in the bottom of the first on some sloppy play by the Pirates.

The Pirates added an insurance run in the second as the Wildcats returned the favor of the sloppy playing, and then the Pirates struck for their fifth run in the top of the third inning, leading at that point 5-1.

In the bottom of the third the base-on-balls plagued the Pirate pitching staff, and after a solo home run by the Cats' leadoff hitter in the inning, three bases on balls in a row plus a solid double knotted the score at 5-5.

The winning run came in the fourth inning when the Cats picked up a single marker on another base on balls and a double.

After the third inning, the Pirate batters could not produce another run, although Coach Skip Richardson indicated that they had their chances.

On the way to the defeat, Pirate batters struck out 11 times.

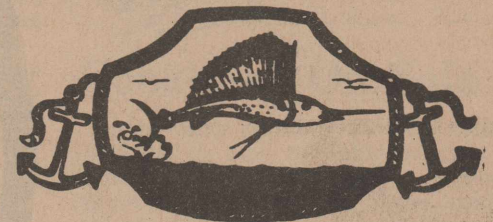

Rockport's JV was also saddled with a defeat earlier in the afternoon, dropping the game by a score of 6-2.

Rockport picked up a run in the first on a hit by Rudy Zavala, a pair of stolen bases and an error. Peter Nichols got the Pirates' second run after he had singled, advanced on a stolen base and a passed ball, scoring on a single by Robert Flores.

Tim Redden took the defeat.

Lady Pirates Run Sixth In Port Lavaca

By Bob Crawford
Running against strong Class 5-A teams in Port Lavaca, the Lady Pirate Track Team came away with a sixth place team finish over the weekend.

With a few breaks, the team could have finished much higher in the results.

but a slip here and a jump there made a big difference.

Terri Moore threw the discus for a new meet record as she took first in that event, and then took second in the shot put. Teammate Julie Huff took third in the shot.

Belinda Cross ran to another first place in the 880 run and ran a leg of the third place mile relay team with Huff, Darlene Dilworth and Alma Dickerson. Dickerson also placed fifth in the 220 yard dash.

Danielle Adams ran to a fifth place in the hurdles, and Lory Broadhurst took sixth in the mile run.

This coming weekend, the girls will be matching up with another group of powers in the Corpus Meet.

Mike Arthur's Essay On American Citizens' Respon

by Mike Arthur
RESPONSIBILITIES OF AN AMERICAN CITIZEN
George Bernard Shaw voiced his ideas about responsible citizens in a radio address from London to America on October 11, 1913:

"Every person who owes his life to civilized society and who has enjoyed since his childhood its very costly protections and advantages should appear at reasonable intervals before a properly qualified jury to justify his existence, which should be summarily and painlessly terminated if he fails to justify it and it develops that he is a positive nuisance and more trouble than he is worth. Nothing less will really make people responsible citizens."

I believe in the idea of citizenship advanced by Shaw and I believe that an American citizen must adhere to certain responsibilities in order to enjoy the protection and advantages of a civilized society. A person may exercise his responsibility in the following areas: government, armed services, community, family, and cultural heritage.

An American citizen has a responsibility to his government. A citizen must vote in order to elect the people who will run the government which controls his country, makes its laws, and, to the same extent, controls his daily life. Thus, a citizen who is of the proper age and is registered must vote to help elect the people who will run the government. These people, who must also be citizens, have the responsibility to inform the other citizens of the issues in which their country is involved. Also, a citizen must abide by and observe any laws passed by his government, whether he agrees with them completely or not. He must also pay taxes to help keep the government going.

Second, an American citizen has a responsibility to the protection and well-being of his country. He could do this by joining any of the armed services such as Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marines. He could also do it by joining or being a volunteer of his local police and fire departments. He should also give his complete loyalty to his country, of course after his family. He does this by honoring and obeying any laws or any other such rules passed and approved by the government. Laws are enacted to help the citizens live an advantageous and well protected life.

sibility Wins First Place In Republican Women's Contest

An American citizen has a responsibility to his community. A citizen should support his local city services such as the police and fire departments or hospitals. He can do this by volunteering his help whenever it is needed or he could do it by serving on jury duty whenever he is called upon to do it. A citizen has the responsibility of being a part of his local government or being informed on his local government. He should also join service clubs to help protect and preserve his community. He should abide by any laws passed by his local government and see to it that the other people of the community abide by them by setting an example for the others to follow.

An American citizen has a responsibility to his family. The American government was created on the principle of democracy, which extends to the loyalty of the family unit in which every member takes a part and serves a purpose. The man of the house must, to the best of his ability, support and protect his family. The woman must help support the family and, along with her husband, take care of and protect her family. The children must do everything they can to make their parents' lives enjoyable and full of love. They should also do all they can to be informed, as should their parents, of their country and their country's government.

An American citizen has a responsibility to the preservation of his cultural heritage. A citizen should do his best to preserve and study the arts, such as painting and writing, to help him obtain information on his past and to help pass this information to the generations to come. A citizen should attend school and learn of his country; he should learn how it was begun, how and why this form of government was chosen, and how it was run then and is run now. An American citizen should believe in some form of religion just as his ancestors did. He shouldn't try to force others into his religion but let them look over and decide which one they wish to become a member of.

To be a model American citizen, a person must assume all of these responsibilities and perhaps more. Although Americans may not all be model citizens, many of the aforementioned responsibilities are a part of every citizen's daily life. Living in a democracy such as exists in the United States of America requires a certain daily payment.

Americans can only function as useful citizens when they know and follow their responsibilities and show the highest form of respect to their government and to each other.

H.E.B. ... WHERE THE PEOPLE AND PRICE ARE TOTALLY NICE!

When it comes to steaks we think we offer the best... there's no secret why, it just takes skill! One of the things that makes a steak is the angle of the first cut on a side of beef at the meat plant. That's one reason why H.E.B. has its own meat plant... so that the first cut can be made by an H.E.B. Meat Tender and that way the rest of the steaks will be sliced at the same angle. That's quality control and that's very important if you want a tender, delicious steak. That's why the H.E.B. Meat Tenders do it themselves, so they know it's right... steak after steak after steak.

More Taxpayers Can Use The 1040A Form

AUSTIN — At least 36 million U.S. taxpayers could be filing the simpler Federal income tax Form 1040A this year instead of the Form 1040, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Taxpayers who earned $20,000 or less ($40,000 or less if married and filing a joint return) during 1980, whose income is from wages, salaries, tips or unemployment compensation, and who have not earned more than $400 in interest or $400 in dividends in 1980, can file a Form 1040A.

If a taxpayer is filing only for the purpose of getting a refund of the earned income credit, the interest or dividend income can exceed $400.

A form 1040A may also be used if a taxpayer does not claim credits other than the earned income credit or the political contributions credit.

Additional guidelines for use of the Form 1040A, as well as the Form 1040, can be found in the instructions of the 1980 Federal Income Tax Forms package.

Quick way found to dissolve gold

University of Texas chemists have discovered that liquid anhydrous ammonia in which metallic sodium has been dissolved will almost instantly dissolve gold without affecting other metals.

Once dissolved, the gold can be electrolytically recovered in pure metallic form or as gold plating.

The chemists' find is said to open possibilities for improving ways to extract gold from ore and scrap and for special types of gold plating.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CHANGES ARE MADE IN DETERMINATIONS OF THE CITY OF ROCKPORT, ARANSAS COUNTY, TEXAS, ZONES AND BASE FLOOD

ELEVATIONS UNDER THE NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

On September 9, 1977, the Federal Insurance Administrator identified Special Flood Hazard Areas in the City of Rockport through the issuance of a Flood Insurance Rate Map.

The Federal Insurance Administrator, Federal Emergency Management Agency, has determined that modification of the zones and elevation of the flood having a one-percent chance of occurrence in any given year (base flood) for certain locations in Rockport is appropriate. The modified base flood elevation and zones amend the Federal Insurance Administration Flood Insurance Rate Map for the community.

The changes are made pursuant to Section 206 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), and are in accordance with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, P.L. 90-448) 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 65.

The addition of base flood elevation and zones is as a result of recent annexations by the City. The annexed areas, locally known as "Pine Tree Office Park" and "Sonic," are generally located along State Highway 35 near Dana Drive and Bay Avenue.

PREVIOUS FIA ZONE	None
(AS ON MAP)	None
PREVIOUS BASE FLOOD ELEVATIONS (AS ON MAP) (MSL)	None
None	None
NEW FIA ZONE	Zone A7
Zone B	Zone B
NEW BASE FLOOD ELEVATION (MSL)	8 feet
None	None

Under the above mentioned Acts 1968 and 1973, the Administrator must develop criteria for flood plain management. In order for the community to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program, the community will be using the new base flood elevation and zones to administer the floor plain management measures of the National Flood Insurance Program. These modified base flood elevation and zones will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

Upon the second publication of notice of these changes in this paper, any person has 90 days in which he can request through the Chief Executive Officer of the community that the Federal Insurance Administrator reconsider the determination. Any request for reconsideration must be based on knowledge of changed conditions or new scientific or technical data. All interested parties are on notice that until the 90-day period elapses, the Administrator's determination to modify the base flood elevation and zones may itself be changed.

Any person having knowledge or wishing to comment on these changes should immediately notify:

TheHonorable Walter S. Falk, Jr.
Mayor, City of Rockport
319 North Broadway
Rockport, TX 78382
s/Robert G. Chappell P.E.

Ballou's Plumbing Opens For Business

Ballou's Plumbing and Electric Supply is the newest store in downtown Rockport, having opened on Saturday, March 7, at 201 South Austin.

The store may be new to Austin Street but owner James Ballou has worked on our "main" street since he was in the fifth grade working the cash register at Kaufman's Variety Store.

He has also worked at Roaten's, Aransas Butane and the old Roe's Grocery Store. Says Ballou of himself (and business neighbor Gavin Mitchell) "We've been on main street longer than anybody except maybe Corky."

Ballou has also worked in Aransas Pass at Ace Hardware, helping to set up the hardware department there and at Jack's Hardware back before 1975.

Despite his extensive retail experience, this is the first store Ballou has owned himself.

"Well, it was about time, after working for everyone else, to start out for myself," says Ballou.

An important factor in Ballou's business venture is Clifford "Pop" Lockhart, Ballou's step-father who upon his retirement from RYSCO helped to finance the new store.

Says Ballou of Lockhart, "He's my partner. He's been the most instrumental part of this thing!"

Lockhart, who describes himself as the "semi-silent partner," says of Ballou's business, "It's a great thing. I'm glad I could be a part of it."

The main focus of Ballou's trade will be the do-it-yourself handyman and builder. "We can help them do their own work which is something the bigger stores and discount houses won't do."

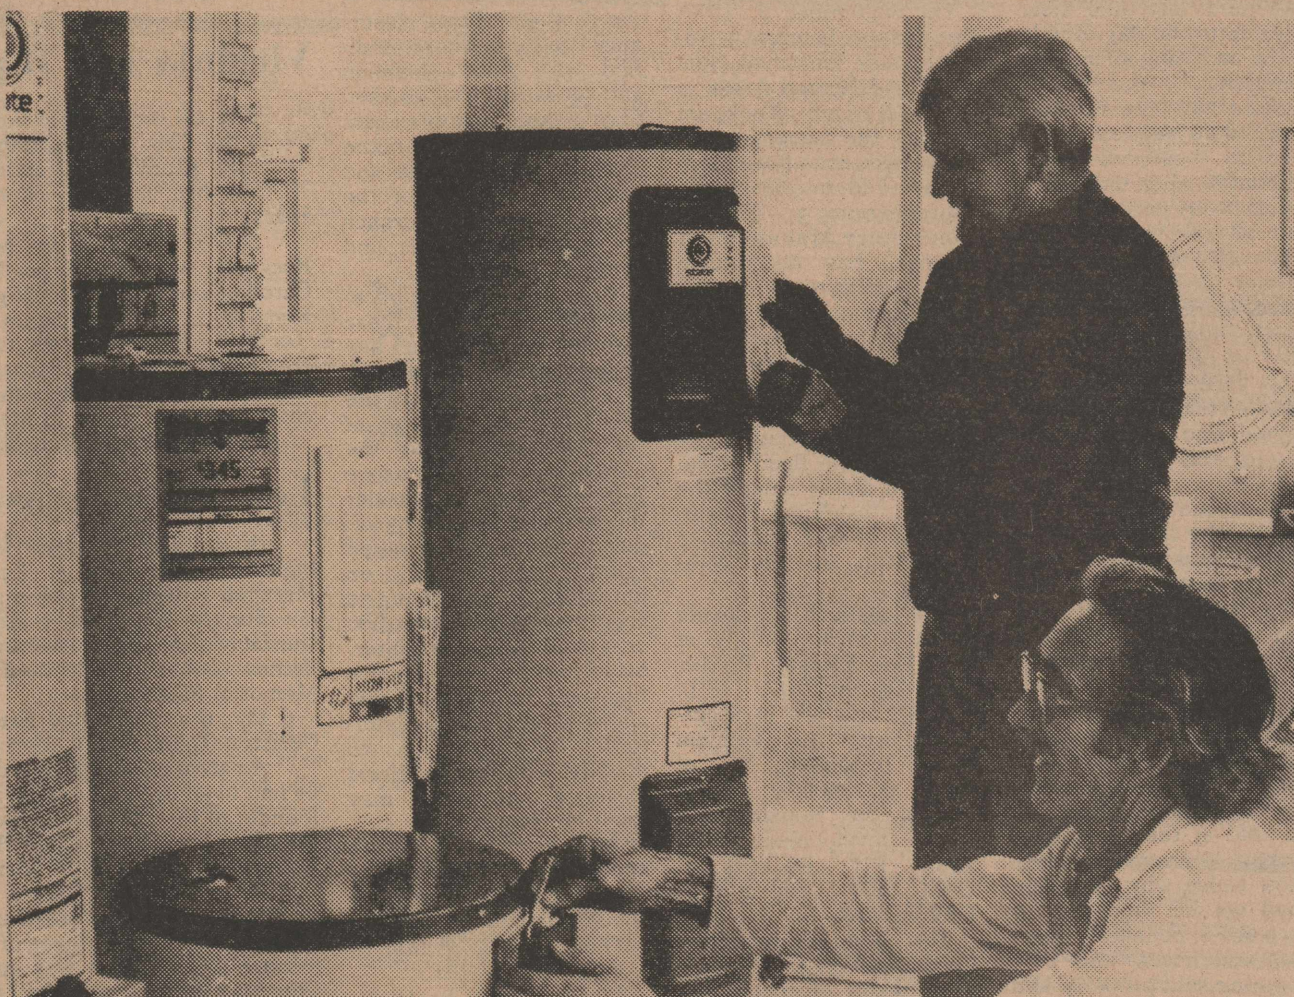

Ballou will cut and thread galvanized pipe, and also offers a complete line of water well pumps which he can install for the buyer.

McCulloch chain saws, Jacobsen riding mowers, water heaters, garden supplies and drill bits are just a few of the items Ballou carries. Says Ballou, "I can order anything almost overnight. That's one of my specialties. I've always been known for that — If I didn't have it I could find a place to get it fast."

Ballou plans expansion of his hardware line and is even considering going into the solar heating and wind generator equipment line, "further up the road."

When asked to sum up his goal for the business, Ballou said simply, "I want to provide anything anyone needs."
