The contract calls for a 60 by 3,600 ft. paved runway, an access road and an a parking apron. The Clarendon Industrial Foundation has pledged $32,000 as the city's portion so there will be no rise in taxes for this purpose, while federal funds will amount to $42,000 and the state $21,000 and possibly more.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

By Mayor R. L. Gilkey

Clarendon is to have a new airport with no cost to the taxpayer. Bids were opened during the last city council meeting and the contract was awarded to L. A. Fuller Construction Company of Amarillo, subject to the approval of the Federal Aviation Administration. The cost of construction will be paid by Federal and State Grants and from generous donations by local businessmen, ranchers and farmers. Construction is expected to start within 30 to 90 days. The construction of this airport will be the end effort of four years of work by your city officials.

As mayor, I have always supported and have been proud of our local fire department. As an individual, I thank them for their outstanding efforts in saving my residence. How they were able to contain the fire, was due only to their efforts. Firemen, I thank you.

The city council was notified of the resignation of the mayor effective October 1st. It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve the people of Clarendon. I shall miss our city. My decision to leave is based on my profession as a physician, and not because I am dissatisfied with our city. I am simply unable to practice to the full extent of my capabilities in a town of this size. My wife and children shall remain here the balance of the coming school year, and I shall visit frequently.

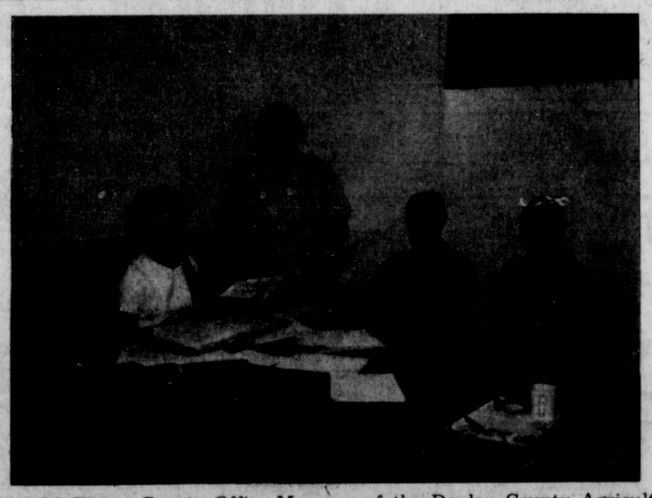

Once again, thank you for the honor of allowing me to be your mayor. Your assistance and understanding have made my job pleasant. Your aldermen are effective, capable men. Please continue to support them for the future growth of our city, Clarendon, Texas.

R. L. Gilkey, M. D.
Mayor.

Fire Damage Heavy To Mayor's Home

Fire of undetermined origin heavily damaged the two-story home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Gilkey about 1 o'clock Friday morning and had it not been for the excellent job of the local volunteer fire department, damage would have been much greater to furnishings and personal effects.

The fire was mostly confined to the second story attic area and the bedroom of Dr. and Mrs. Gilkey. They lost all their clothing and personal effects but the two boys rooms received mostly smoke and some water damage as the doors to their rooms were closed holding the fire out.

Mrs. Gilkey reported that furniture and personal effects on the lower floor went through the fire with only smoke and water damage and most items would be alright after being cleaned up.

The Gilkeys praised the work of the firemen highly and expressed their appreciation for the manner in which cleanup operations were carried on even while there was still some smoldering fire in the attic.

The Gilkeys were away from home at the time of the fire. Mrs. Gilkey and sons, Jim and John, had been at Hilltop Lakes in South Texas since Sunday and were joined there early Thursday morning by Dr. Gilkey. After learning of the fire, Dr. Gilkey flew back home Friday morning and Mrs. Gilkey and boys drove in that afternoon.

County Agent Urges Control Of Grubs In Beef Herds

Grub control in beef cow herds by the use of systemic insecticides can sometimes increase calf weaning weights as much as 40 pounds, says County Agent Ronald Gooch. Grub control costs as little as 12 cents per cow and few management practices will pay such good dividends.

Heavy infestations of grubs can reduce a beef cow's milk production as much as 2.5 pounds per day. Multiply this times a 205 day suckling period and it means a loss of more than 500 pounds of milk. Experiment Station research indicates 500 pounds of milk can make a difference of 40 pounds in the weaning weight of a calf.

Using recommended dosages and procedures, the grub control costs per head are about 22 cents for spray, 50 cents for pour-on, and 12 cents for dipping. Grubs can also be controlled through feed or mineral that contains a systemic.

Treatment should be made after the end of the heel fly season and before September 1 for best results. Treatment applied after September 1 are more likely to cause side effects.

The following systemics should give good grub control as a spray, pour-on, or by dipping: Co-Ral, Neguvon, and Ruelene. Ronnel gives control in a feed or mineral mix.

Follow the recommendations on the label concerning dosage, frequency of application and slaughter interval to avoid illegal residues.

Additional information on grub control is available at your County Agent's Office, Gooch said.

MERCURY STAYS HIGH AND NO MOISTURE

Mr. and Mrs. Heckle Stark had as their guests last week Mrs. Stark's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Patten of Bellflower, Calif.

The Registrar's office of Clarendon College has announced that pre-registration of students will be held during the period of September 2-13. Office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday thru Friday and 9 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

The purpose of pre-registration is to allow students to complete their class schedules prior to the time of regular registration. Such an arrangement is an advantageous one, particularly for the student who often feels bewildered and frustrated with his enrolling in college. It also allows ample time for consultation and insures his admittance to classes which might otherwise be filled or closed.

Leonard Selvidge, registrar, advised all freshmen students to take advantage of this convenience offered by Clarendon College and complete their pre-registration before the September 13th pre-registration deadline. Most important . . . Veterans that will attend school this fall on the G. I. Bill will need to take advantage of this pre-registration.

NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price

18th District, Texas

The House Public Works Subcommittee on Watershed Development approved the Lakeview Watershed Project today, shortly after hearing testimony on the need for the project from Panhandle Congressman Bob Price.

The project, which is primarily aimed at soil and water conservation flood control, will benefit over 20,000 acres of intensively cultivated farm land and will serve the communities of Lakeview, Plaska, and Brice.

Although the project must now be approved by the full Public Works Committee, Congressman Price predicted it would be approved without difficulty.

The watershed area covers approximately 237 square miles.

"Of all the problems facing the residents of the watershed area, none is more crucial than that of flooding," Price said in his statement to the subcommittee today.

"Floodwater, sediment, and erosion cause frequent damage to over twenty thousand acres of intensively cultivated agricultural lands. The town of Lakeview suffers frequent damage to streets, low-water crossings, residences, and commercial buildings and the communities of Plaska and Brice experience nuisance flooding periodically," Congressman Price told the subcommittee.

Total cost of the project would be $3,881,000 of which the Department of Agriculture would provide $2,947,000 or 76 percent of the costs.

Twenty-five floodwater retarding structures would be constructed, along with five grade stabilization structures, 92,015 feet of channel improvement, 31,320 feet of floodwater diversion, 3,850 feet of streambank protection and 3,000 feet of dyke.

Local sponsors of the project are the Hall County and Donley County Soil and Water Improvement District No. 1, the Commissioners Courts of all and Donley County and the City of Lakeview.

Here are some comments of Congressman Bob Price on the questionaire which he sent to all residents of the 18th Congressional District several weeks ago. The questionaire sought, through a series of multiple choice questions, to obtain an indication of the sentiment of domestic and international issues.

"The response we have had to the questionaire my office sent out last month has been gratifying. I have received a great many replies from interested constituents and we will shortly begin tabulating the results.

"That is why it is extremely important that those who haven't returned their completed questionaires and who wish to be included in this informal poll, complete the forms and return them within the next two weeks.

"We expect to begin tabulating the returns shortly after Congress recesses about the middle of this month.

"The results will be announced as soon as tabulations are completed."

"Those who did not receive forms may contact my Washington Office, 507 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515, and a form will be sent."

The Bronchos will have three starters back from the 1968 squad: Jim Moore, quarterback; Charles Louis, tailback; and Bennie Reese, fullback. The other eight returning lettermen are Willie Craft, James Hall, Frankie Ellis, Ike O'Neal, Ronnie Hastey, Larry Longan, Jerry Green and Bobby Leeper. Several positions will be open, and he expects to see a lot of competition for these places.

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex.—Legislators hit the ground running in their unwanted special session on finance.

Gov. Preston Smith was ready for them on opening day (July 28) with tax recommendations which included a one half of one cent boost (to 3.5 per cent) in the sales tax. He also suggested raising the car sales tax to 3.5 per cent, raising the cigarette tax three cents a pack and the corporation franchise tax 50 cents per $1,000 (to $3.25) on a temporary, two-year basis.

By the end of the first week, both houses had passed appropriation bills, and by start of the second, a 10-member House-Senate conference committee was busy trying to work out differences.

Senate recommended more than $100 million more in spending than the House version. House members thought $5.749 billion for the biennium was plenty, but senators figured $5.852 billion was needed. General revenue amounts to $1.188 billion in the House bill, $1.230 billion in the Senate measure.

House would require at least $286 million in new revenue, Senate about $328 million. Neither figure included the $30 million in additional public welfare spending proposed in the constitutional amendment on the August 5th ballot.

Speaker Gus Mutscher indicated he hoped for House agreement by the end of the second week on a tax bill to cover the budget which he said would be close to that recommended by the governor.

But such a bill stands little chance in the Senate, at least in the near future.

Treasure War Continues

The long controversy over General Land Office handling of treasure remains from a Spanish Galleon off the Padre Island coast turned physical when Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio tried to look at what the General Land Office is holding in its vaults.

An angry confrontation occurred when Johnson showed up with reporters and a three-man commission appointed by a District Court in Nueces County to examine the artifacts. The 400-year-old treasure has been the cause of friction between Johnson and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for some time.

Sadler thrust an open hand towards Johnson to prevent him from entering. Johnson says he was hit in the throat. Sadler says he grabbed Johnson's necktie.

Johnson took the floor of the House for a personal privilege speech and asked "older and wiser" members for guidance on what to do, charging it was a slap at the House and not just at him.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin and Don Cavness of Austin introduced legislation— an "antiquities code"— to set state policy for future treasure hunts. Their bill can be considered only if Governor Smith officially submits it.

Sadler sent out a press release saying he was defending the vaults from intrusion. The three-man inventory commission and reporters were allowed to enter.

Commission completed its check and sent the state archeologist off to Gary, Ind., to bring back 300 coins and artifacts still in the hands of Platoro, Ltd. Inc., the exploration firm which brought the treasure up from the Gulf floor.

Beaches

A number of violations of the Texas "Open Beach" law on Galveston Island has been reflected by county and state officials' investigations, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Representatives of the owners of beach property apparently violating the provisions of the state law, which requires all beaches to be public, have been invited to meet with Galveston County officials to see if they can be persuaded to eliminate the barriers without court action.

Gas Rates

Texas Railroad Commission has taken under advisement a request of Lone Star Gas Company for a raise in gas rates sold to local systems in 512 Texas cities.

Representatives of the cities were at the hearing to oppose the proposed 9.4 cents per thousand cubic feet of gas raise. Richard Augenbaugh, Fort Worth city public utilities supervisor, said the cities felt that an increase of no more than 2.77 cents to six cents would be in order, preferably 3.44 cents.

A decision will be reached by the commission sometime after a minimum waiting period of 30 days.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Out

Two million licenses for 1969-70 hunting, fishing seasons will be shipped to 3,200 license sales agents by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department on August 10.

Initial shipment will contain 730,000 resident hunting licenses and 900,000 fishing licenses with total face value of $4.4 million. There will be 23 types of license in shipment. Fish farm, fish farm vehicle and salt water trotline licenses were added by the legislature this year.

House Appropriations Committee plans to recommend a biennial state budget similar to the one it first agreed to last April.

Federal grants of $100,250 and $23,950 will go to park improvements in Wichita Falls and Brenham, respectively.

State tax revenue from smoking and drinking increased $1.2 million last month over June, 1968 — from $12 million to $13.2 million.

Bequest of a Waco man to the City of Waco for maintaining of cemeteries is exempt from the inheritance tax, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held, but a bequest to a city out of the state is not exempt.

Gov. Smith told business leaders he will not recommend a chemical industry tax at the special session.

State Board of Education adopted a policy on bilingual education and approved a request by 20 South Texas school districts to continue a six-month extended day migrant school program.

Short Sports

Attorney General Martin says a coin machine occupation tax increase authorized by the legislature this year applies to anyone who operates a vending machine in the hope of making a profit or operates it to draw business.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas has filed a legislative reapportionment suit based on the ruling of a federal court in Indianapolis.

August 16th is the deadline for refund claims for overcharges on broad spectrum antibiotics bought during 1954-1966, reminds Attorney General Martin.

Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Health Commissioner, warns that lindane vaporizers used around food may be detrimental to health.

In a press conference Bard Logan announced that the American Party has asked Dallas broadcaster Dan Smoot to be its 1970 candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Radiation And Color TV

What is being done to prevent possible harm by x-ray emissions from color TV sets?

A new federal law, "Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act," indicates national concern and action. The Act, passed by Congress and signed as a law in October 1968, gives the secretary of Health and Educational Welfare authority to establish performance standards (on health and safety) for all radiation.

Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist, says standards are being developed for color TV receivers, laser devices and microwave ovens by HEW radiological experts.

A technical committee representing government, industry and labor will review the standards before they are implemented. Some months will pass before the full inpact of the new law is felt, adds the specialist.

A competent TV serviceman can check the receiver on older sets for harmful rays. Some sets might not have adequate built-in shielding, or the voltage settings might have been increased above manufacturer's recommendation to improve picture brightness, thus increasing the radiation hazard.

Mr. and Mrs. Murry Cross and Mrs. Pearl De Sutter of St. Petersburg, Fla., spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cross and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sanders returned to their home in Baton Rouge, La. Saturday after spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. James Drake of San Bernardino, Calif. visited from Wednesday until Monday with his sister and husband, the Doyle Phillips.

Floyd Hopkins of Amarillo, and Mrs. Jay, a former Clarendon resident, called on the Doyle Phillips Monday morning.

We need more love for those we know—
For friends we meet each day.
We need to help them up the hills
Along life's rough highway.

We pray for Thy forgiveness, Lord,
For sins within our life.
We seek Thy ever-loving care
To face life's cares and strife.

When we get an overdose of self-confidence, it would do us good to stop and consider how many of our blessings come from God's providence.

Just to admit that we don't know everything is some assurance that we do know something.

Being wrong is not a hopeless situation, but being unable to admit it puts us in an impossible condition.

If the road of life seems too narrow, it may just be that we are trying to cut too big a swath.

Just because we happen to be in Who's Who, may not prove that we know What's What.

"The trouble with some of the milk of human kindness is that it has already had all the cream skimmed off."

We ought to know where we are going, and a good idea to know how to get there, but it is wrong to try and make everyone else go our way.

Someone has said that "One can stand so straight that he bends backward"—this has to do with being so dogmatic in our being right that our attitude makes our stand wrong.

TRAFFIC LAW QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. If a person is convicted in another state of a violation that calls for a suspension of driver's license, can he still drive in Texas?

A. The Texas Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend or revoke the license of any resident of this state upon receiving notice of the conviction of such person in another state of an offense which if committed in this state would be grounds for suspension of his drivers license.

Q. What is the minimum amount of liability insurance required to satisfy the Safety Responsibility Law?

A. $10,000.00 each person, $20,000.00 each accident and $5,000.00 property damage each accident. This is commonly referred to as 10,20 and 5. The owner and driver of a moor scooter and/or motorcycle comes under the same requirements as to insurance as does an automobile.

Q. What vehicles are required to carry flares?

A. No person shall operate any motor truck, passenger bus, or truck-tractor upon any highway outside the city limits at night unless there shall be carried at least 3 flares, red electric lanterns, or three portable red reflector units capable of reflecting a red light clearly for a distance of 300 feet.

Q. What does the law require in regard to getting out of your vehicle and leaving it parked at the curb, store parking lot, etc?

A. No person driving or in charge of a motor vehicle shall permit it to stand unattended without first stopping the engine, and effectively setting the brake thereon, and, when standing upon any grade, turning the front wheels to the curb side of the highway.

Q. Even when there is no sign prohibiting a U-turn, when is it illegal to make a U-turn?

A. It is illegal to make a U-turn within a marked no-passing zone.

ROSE CARE IN AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER PAYS

Extra care of roses during August and September can mean more beautiful blooms this fall.

Here are suggested care items from County Agent Ronald Gooch. Check the mulch applied in the spring. Make certain it is still at least an inch or two thick. Water the rose bed thoroughly as needed and soak the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. Frequent light waterings encourage shallow root development and make the plant susceptible to disease.

It is also essential that the spray program be continued, even though the weather is hot and dry, to prevent blackspot. Heavy dew in the mornings will encourage blackspot just as do frequent showers in the spring.

The rose plant should be sprayed with a fungicide containing maneb or folpet every 10 to 14 days. Continue the spray program until the first killing frost because the leaves are the food manufacturing organs of the plant. Thus, it is essential to retain as many leaves as possible to build up food reserves in the plant and to promote larger flowers with more intense color. Good food reserves will also help the plant to withstand severe winter weather.

Examine rose plants at this time of the year with a critical eye to determine if there are plants which need replacing. Many excellent rose varieties are available. It's a waste of time and effort, says the county agent, to keep plants which do not live up to your expectations. Mark those selected for removal so they can be easily spotted when planting time rolls around.

We want to say thanks to our friends who were so interested in us during our recent accident. We appreciate the cards, flowers, and other kindnesses shown us while we were in the hospital and since we have come home. We are so grateful for everything.

May God bless you.

How To Cope With The Summer Heat

With a summer heat wave scorching Texas, there is the possibility you could become a victim of sunstroke or heat exhaustion during the blast-furnace weather ahead, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

The combined efforts of the sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration with water and salt loss can produce serious symptoms and may even be fatal.

Sunstroke is caused by over exposure to the hot sun while heat exhaustion is due to prolonged exposure to high temperatures indoors or outdoors. In sunstroke the body overheats. Usually the victim has a severe headache and everything looks red to him. Often the victim becomes unconscious.

Heat exhaustion is caused by prolonged heat and high humidity, but it is very different from sunstroke. The victim is usually conscious but weak and dizzy. His temperature falls instead of rises, and he feels cold and clammy.

In either case call a doctor at once. The victim should be moved into the shade and any tight clothing loosened.

Simple, common-sense precautions will nearly always prevent these conditions. During hot weather:

Don't go out in the hot sunshine without a hat.

Don't wear heavy or tight clothing.

Don't exercise strenuously in the sun or heat.

Don't exercise just before or after meals.

Don't overeat.

Don't overindulge in alcoholic drinks.

On sultry days, keep the air circulating to help the evaporation or perspiration. Keep shaded windows open and use an electric fan.

If you perspire freely, you may need extra water and salt. Drink water often throughout the day, one glass at a time. The amount of salt needed depends on how much you lose through perspiration. Office workers probably get enough in their food, but others doing heavy labor may need salt tablets periodically or a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a glass of water every hour.

The aging, the very young, alcoholics and people with heart trouble are easily affected by sun and heat.

West Texas State Makes Academic Changes In Courses

The State Board of Regents of State Senior Colleges of Texas, of which West Texas State University is a member, met recently in Alpine. The board approved a number of proposals affecting academic organization, student conduct and campus housing at WTSU.

The WTSU School of Business received a strong push in its fast-paced efforts to keep up with the demands of business and industry with the approval of changes in two degree programs and the authorization of a new Department of Computer Information Systems for the school.

The regents also approved reorganizing the existing single Department of Economics, Government and Sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences into three departments.

The proposed Department of Economics would become a part of the School of Business while the Department of Government and the Department of Sociology would remain under the College of Arts and Sciences.

In an effort to meet with the problem of violence on college campuses in this country, the board also revised guidelines for student conduct at the university.

The major revision was the inclusion of a section on "disruption and violence" and the appending House Bill 141 pertaining to disruptive activities on all school campuses in Texas. The 1969 regular session of the Legislature passed the bill.

"Individuals or groups of individuals who are unwilling to use orderly processes and who resort to tactics that are disruptive or violent will be confronted with law officers of the state who are specially commissioned to deal with such situations and whose responsibility it is to deal promptly and directly with disruptions either on or off campus," says the new section in the General Policy Statements of Student Life to be distributed to West Texas State University students this fall.

In other action, the board authorized WTSU to make final plans for construction of two high-rise dormitories for students and to enlarge cafeteria facilities.

Also approved was the hiring of 25 persons to the faculty and administrative staff and the sale of nine houses on the east side of the campus to make way for future expansion.

Social Security News

Q. On tthe 19th of last month I was severely injured in an automobile accident. My back was broken and I have severe facial injuries that will require plastic surgery. Someone told me that I ought to apply for social security disability benefits. How do I go about that?

A. If it appears that you will be disabled for work for 12 months or more, you should get in touch with your social security office right away. Disability benefits do not begin until after a waiting period of 6 months. But, by applying now, a lot of the steps can be taken beforehand . . . securing your medical reports, checking your earnings record, and making the decision on your eligibility. It may be that you have a wife and children who will be eligible for dependents' benefits. Claims should also be filed for them.

Q. I'm going to be 65 in a few months but will go right on working as I am now. Is there any reason why I should put in my claim for social security benefits?

A. Yes, indeed there is. Medicare benefits are payable at 65 and after whether or not you are retired. But your Medicare doctor bill insurance can begin on the first day of the month you are 65 ONLY if you sign up in one of the three months before the month of your 65th birthday. If you wait until your birthday month . . . or later . . . your coverage will be delayed one to three months. Whether you plan to retire at 65 or continue to work after 65, visit your social security office two or three months before your birthday.

Biological Control Of Cotton Insect Pests

Texas A&M University has received a $40,000 grant from the U. S. Department of Agriculture to study biological control of cotton insect pests.

Biological control is usually defined as the istroduction or encouragement of natural parasites and predators as a way of keeping crop-damaging insects in check.

The object is to reduce the need for chemical insecticides which can be dangerous to handle and may cause pollution problems. Some insect pests are also developing genetic resistance to even the most potent insecticides.

Texas A&M is providing $28,000 in addition to the USDA grant.

Dr. P. L. Adkisson and Dr. Winfield Sterling of the A&M Entomology Department will direct the study. The USDA will be represented by Dr. Erma Vanderzant and Dr. R. L. Ridgway of the Agricultural Research Service Entomology Laboratory at College Station.

Adkisson said the research will center on the nutritional requirements, mating and egg laying habits of the bollworm and tobacco budworm, which are major insect enemies of cotton.

After this information is gathered, the researchers will attempt to develop methods of mass-rearing the parasites for release in the field.

Texas A&M is one of three state universities that have received the USDA grants for biological control work. The others are the University of California at Berkeley and the University of Arkansas.
