Americans held in Egypt for proselytizing

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — U.S. Embassy sources said Friday that five Americans have been jailed by authorities for 11 days, apparently under suspicion of illegally trying to convert Egyptians to a religious cult.

Three American women said their husbands were detained even though Egyptian officials know they do not belong to the "Children of God," an organization founded in California in 1968 that moved to Europe in the 1970s.

Carl Mobacher, Thomas Pasquarello and John Weed are among five Americans the U.S. Embassy said have been held since being arrested before dawn Oct. 7 at their homes in Alexandria.

The U.S. Embassy said in an official statement that it hoped to win release of the five soon. An embassy source said the men are thought to be under suspicion of illegally proselytizing in Egypt.

Trying to convert people to other religions is forbidden under Egypt's Islamic-based constitution.

An unsigned news release from a group calling itself "Concerned Americans in Cairo" said 19 foreigners, mostly Americans, were arrested in the early-morning sweep in the Mediterranean port city.

The release, hand-delivered to The Associated Press, also spoke of "unconfirmed reports of 17 arrests in Cairo" and said the arrests appear "to be a crackdown on the 'Children of God.'" There was no way to verify the accuracy of the statement.

The U.S. Embassy said in its statement that it "has been in close contact with appropriate Egyptian officials to urge the expeditious consideration of the case. Of the Americans originally detained, we understand that five remain under detention."

Embassy officials refused to say where the five were held or whether charges had been filed.

The wives of Morbacher, Pasquarello and Weed told the AP that their husbands were in a state security jail in downtown Cairo, and that the Embassy had not been notified of any charges being filed.

The women said Egyptian security officers told them their husbands would be released Monday.

Yvonne Morbacher of Minneapolis, Minn., said that at 2 a.m. on Oct. 7, security agents "ransacked our house completely, looking for tapes, books, any kind of material, anything that could show that were part of a cult."

She said all three families belong to a legal Protestant church in Alexandria.

After waiting until morning at a police station, she said, they were joined by their friends, the Pasquarellos of Harrisburg, Pa., and the Weeds of Birmingham, Ala.

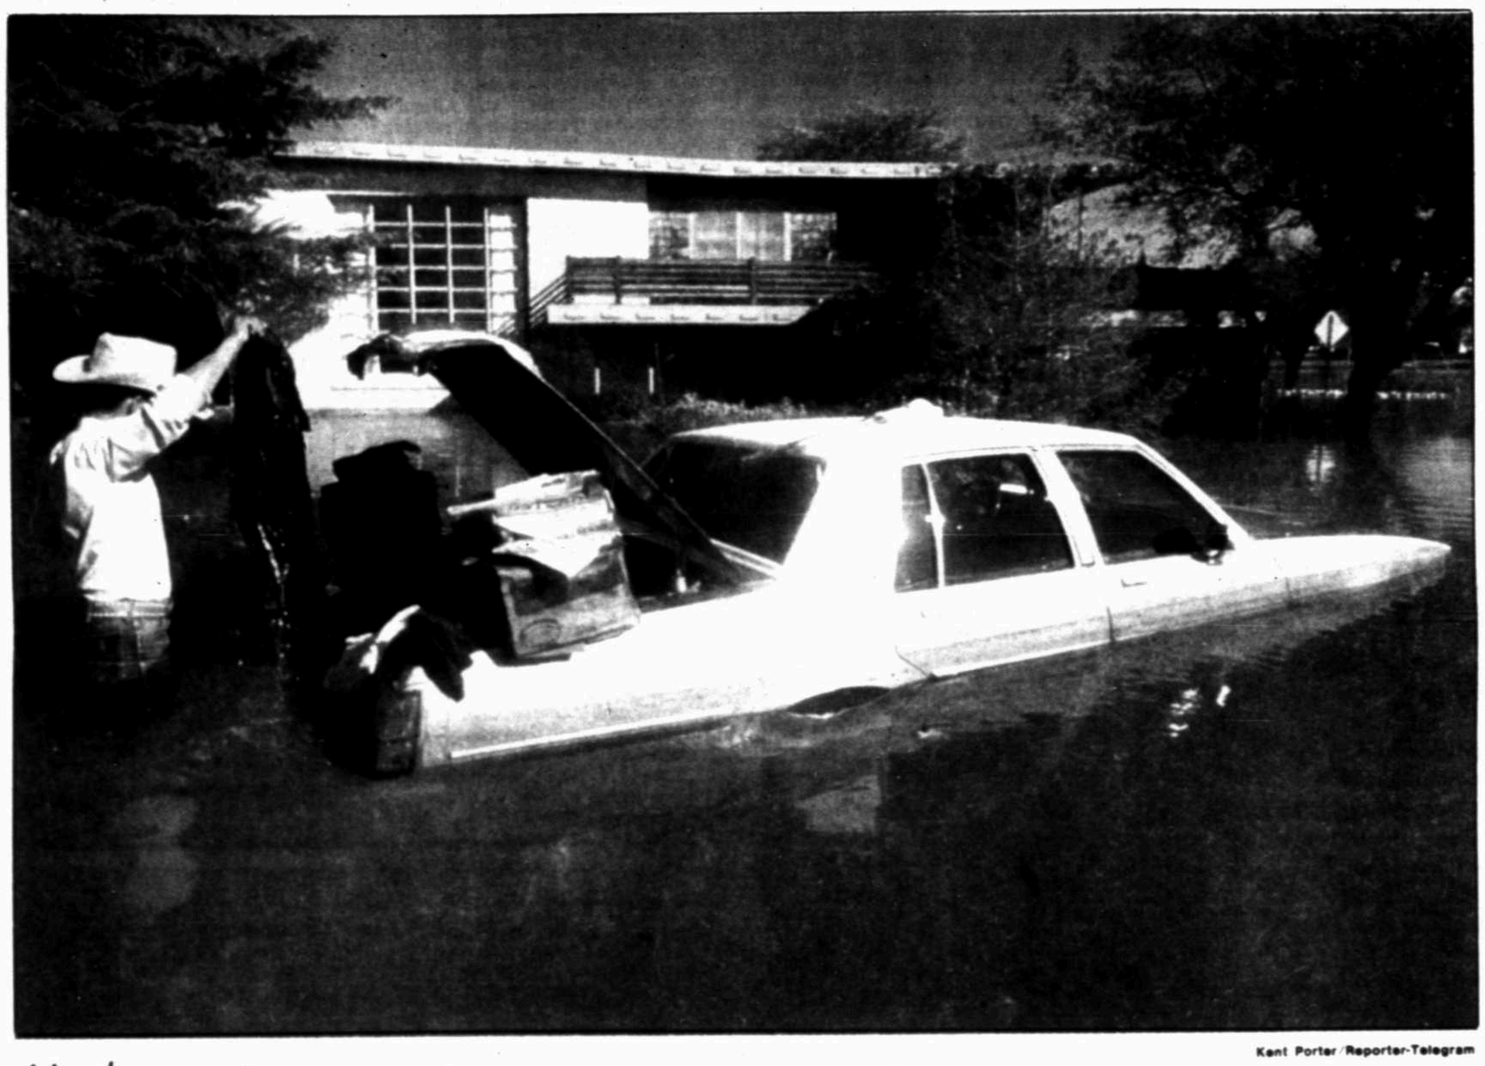

She said they were among 11 adults and 10 children, including a British man and two French women, who were then packed into a police truck and driven 138 miles to Cairo.

Mrs. Morbacher said that after several hours of questioning, she heard an official translating for her say in Arabic: "I think we've made a terrible mistake."

She said it was clear from the questioning that they were suspected of belonging to the "Children of God" cult. "The interrogators began to realize that the three of us didn't know anything about this group...

"So, the very first night when we were questioned, they said we were innocent. Our husbands were also cleared the first night and the following morning, though later in the week they were questioned again," she said.

U.S. official out to mend fences in Italy, Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deputy Secretary of State John C. Whitehead is undertaking a fence-mending mission to Italy and Egypt to try to ease tensions growing out of the forced downing of Palestinian hijackers by U.S. jet fighter planes, U.S. officials said Friday.

Whitehead was to fly to Rome immediately and, after consultations with Italian officials, go on to Cairo, where President Hosni Mubarak has demanded an apology from President Reagan for the interception of an Egyptian plane that was carrying the four hijackers to safe haven.

The American envoy carried Reagan's response to Mubarak. U.S. officials declined to describe the contents of the presidential message. The exchange between the two leaders "can be characterized as frank and direct," said an official, who demanded anonymity.

In diplomatic terms that means sharp disagreement.

Italy, meanwhile, has accused the United States of violating Italian air space. Prime Minister Bettino Craxi resigned Thursday after defending his government's actions in the aftermath of the hijacking of the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro.

Whitehead will meet with Craxi, said Bernard Kalb, a State Department spokesman. One of the subjects to be discussed is whether the Italian leader will go to New York next week to participate in meetings Reagan is holding with world leaders in ceremonies marking the 40th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

"U.S.-Italian relations have been, and will remain, broad, deep and strong," Kalb said in reply to questions. "Close friends have no difficulty in discussing their differences candidly in an atmosphere of friendship. We share a fundamental commitment to wiping out terrorism and responding firmly to the treat posed by international terrorists."

The crisis in the Italian government erupted when Defense Minister Giovanni Spadolini took his pro-American Republican Party out of the ruling coalition, charging he had not been properly consulted by Craxi during the affair.

The Pentagon said late Friday afternoon that Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger has written a letter of praise to Spadolini indicating that his "support, cooperation and cool counsel during a critical period is greatly appreciated and will not soon be forgotten."

A Defense Department statement confirmed a CBS News report that Weinberger and Spadolini spoke by telephone after the Egyptian airliner with the hijackers aboard arrived at an air base in Sicily.

The statement denied, however, that during the conversation Spadolini promised custody of the hijackers to Weinberger.

World's governments condemn South African hanging

Associated Press

Governments around the world expressed regret, indignation and condemnation Friday of South Africa's execution of black African National Congress sympathizer Benjamin Moloise, who was convicted of killing a police officer.

"We hoped that this action...would not be taken," White House spokesman Larry Speakes said in Washington.

U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar learned of the early morning hanging of Moloise "with profound regret," said spokesman Francois Giuliani.

The secretary-general of the 49-nation Commonwealth of Britain, Shridath Ramphal of Guyana, said the execution "again demonstrates the contempt with which the South African government treats world opinion."

Swedish Foreign Minister Sten Andersson said, "It was madness to hang Moloise."

The European Community and governments of Britain, West Germany and Norway warned that the execution could lead to more violence in racially divided South Africa, while France's Socialist Premier Laurent Fabius called the hanging "scandalous."

Delegates to the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, or UNESCO, meeting in Sofia, Bulgaria, observed a minute of silence to mourn Moloise.

Moloise, 30, an upholsterer who wrote poetry, was convicted of killing a black policeman in 1982. Moloise admitted he helped plan the slaying, ordered by the outlawed ANC guerrilla group but insisted he was not the killer.

The governments of the United States, France and West Germany, the European Community, the Commonwealth of Britain, the United Nations and last year's Nobel Peace Prize winner, South African Anglican Bishop Desmond Tutu, had all appealed to South Africa's white government to give Moloise clemency.

He was hanged at 7 a.m. (1 a.m. EDT) at Pretoria Central Prison. It was the fifth execution of a member or self-proclaimed supporter of the ANC, the main guerrilla group fighting South Africa's system of apartheid, under which whites control the Labor leaders urge to 'Buy American'

AUSTIN (AP) — Warning that thousands of Texans are losing their jobs because of cheap foreign imports, labor leaders Friday launched a bid to encourage consumers to "Buy American."

Some 50,000 Texas production workers have lost their jobs in the last five years alone because of foreign goods, said Harry Hubbard, president of the Texas AFL-CIO.

"If Hitler had been able to do to Texas manufacturing and oil refining industries what imports are doing, we would be a German colony today," Hubbard said.

"Much of our state's basic manufacturing industries have shut down part of their production or closed entirely," he added.

Hubbard said the AFL-CIO expects 5,000 people to gather in Austin on Nov. 2 for a "Buy American" march and rally to call attention to the dilemma. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, who is pushing fair trade legislation in Congress, will speak to the rally.

AFL-CIO economists predict the U.S. trade deficit this year will hit a record $150 billion, Hubbard said, adding that many Texas industries will be among the hardest-hit.

That includes steel production, pipemaking, oil field toolmaking, textiles, clothing, electronic goods, communications equipment, autos, wood products, paper, tires and furniture, he said.

Hubbard and other union leaders said labor costs aren't the problem. What is hurting American industry is the willingness of foreign governments to subsidize their industries to whatever extent necessary to undersell U.S. firms, they said.

Terry Bonds of Houston, an official of the United Steelworkers of America, said the number of steel industry jobs has plunged because of imports.

"We've worked with management," Bonds said. "We were finally told, 'Look, if you guys work for nothing we can still go down on the docks in Houston and buy it cheaper.'

AWARD

said Painter. "There were 16 awards given all together and this was the only one of its kind in this category."

The plaque was awarded to cities with a population of 50,000 to 125,000.

Present at the announcement were two members of the board of directors for Crime Stoppers of Midland, Maxine Hannifin, treasurer, and Susie Hitchcock, president. Also attending was Sgt. David Cobos who heads the program.

"There were 45 states represented at the conference as well as several countries including Canada and Israel," said Cobos. "Several countries such as England, Australia and West Germany are considering starting the programs."

Last year's conference of the CSI was held in Wichita, Kan., with next year's scheduled in Edmonton, Alberta. The 1987 conference will be held in Casper, Wyo., said Cobos.

Cobos praised the award as "not just a personal achievement but one for the entire community."

"Out of 600 programs we were chosen as the most successful," he said. "Thanks largely to the community's help, it has been a tremendously successful program."

Next year will see improvements in Crime Stoppers, added Cobos, with expansion into the city's high schools.

"We've already sent a letter to (Midland Independent School District Superintendent) Joe Baressi," he said. "It all started with the closed campus issue. Several students inquired about having the program at the high school. Several New Mexico high schools have already started similar programs."

Painter affirmed that the suggestion came from the students themselves.

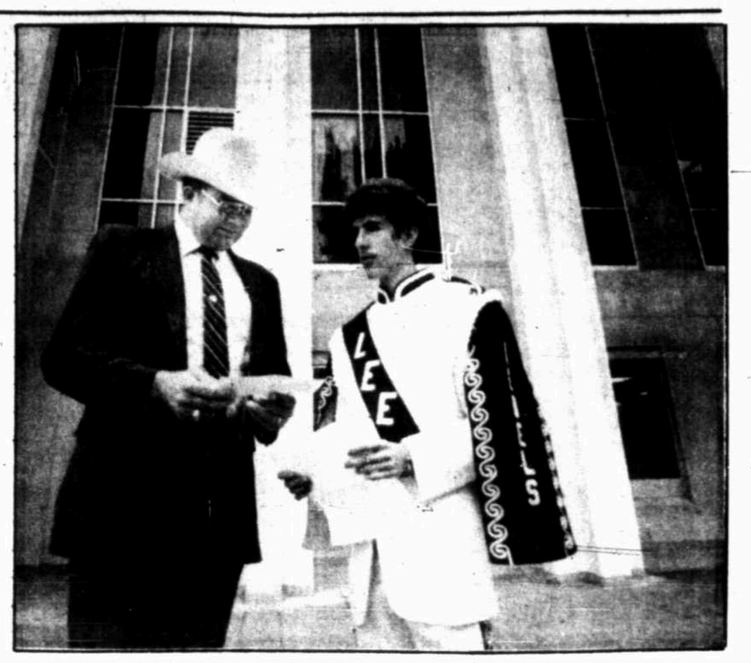

"They're interested in their campus," he said. "They want the narcotics stopped and a good image for their school."

Other future plans include the possibility of placing a member from the Midland group on the CSI board at next year's conference.

Painter cited several statistics showing the efficiency of the Midland program which was started in January 1984.

"Since its inception we have had 1,995 phone calls resulting in 162 arrests and 244 cleared offenses," he said. The larger number of cleared offenses is due to one person committing more than one crime, explained Cobos.

"We have paid out $17,935 in rewards, recovered $193,671 in stolen property, $39,395 in narcotics and four vehicles."

ECISD trustees OK $3.2 million for classroom additions

By FRANK TROMBLEY
Staff Writer

ODESSA — Ector County school trustees have approved expenditure of $3.2 million to meet state requirements for smaller classes and application for slightly more than $60,000 to expand the Alternative Education Center.

The $3.2 million will provide additional classroom space at Blanton, Fly, Dowling, Ireland, Milam, Noel, Reagan, Ross, San Jacinto and Zavala elementary schools.

The plan provides for construction of additions totalling 46 classrooms and relocation of some existing portable classrooms.

The Texas Education Agency granted ECISD a class size waiver for second grade classes for this year with the stipulation that second grade classroom size next fall will not exceed 22.

Assistant superintendent for management and support Don Williams said classroom additions are necessary not only to meet state mandated class sizes but to accommodate increases in elementary enrollment growth.

The application through the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission for Section 123 Vocational Education funds will allow the existing Alternative Education Center to be expanded into a School-Community Alternative Education Guidance Center.

The funds would allow employment of two fulltime counselors who would test, solicit information, counsel and recommend referred students to various school and community education components.

The two counselors will be housed at the Alternative Education Center on Yukon Road and will be responsible to the center director.

The purpose of the expanded center will be to serve the needs of a variety of types of students who cannot function easily in the mainstream of regular education.

Students assigned to the Alternative Education Center would receive individualized instruction through programs selected to suit their needs.

About one-third of the funds would be used to establish an Alternative Evening School that would offer an opportunity to students not currently enrolled in public schools or who are potential drop-outs from public schools. The evening program is planned as one that would attempt to remediate weaknesses, offer methods by which to gain Carnegie credits, possible high school graduation or reentry back into regular school programs.

School trustees Thursday night were also told ECISD students this year improved average Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores by 26 points on the verbal section and 14 points on the math section over 1984 results.

"Minister Spadolini told Secretary Weinberger that the authority in this matter belonged to Prime Minister Craxi and the decision had been made to keep the Palestinians in Italian custody," the Pentagon said.

The Justice Department demanded extradition of the hijackers for trial here on charges of taking Americans aboard the ship hostage. One of the passengers, Leon Klinghoffer, a retired New York appliance dealer, was shot and killed before the hijackers surrendered to Egyptian authorities.

The assignment is the most sensitive one given to Whitehead since he left the banking world and took over the No. 2 post at the State Department last April.

Italy is a member of the NATO alliance and had warm relations with Washington before the hijacking incident. It accepted the deployment of nuclear-tipped U.S. cruise missiles without the controversy that surrounded installations in other allied countries.

Egypt, meanwhile, is one of the closest friends the United States has in the Arab world. It also recieves more U.S. aid than any country except Israel.

Travel writer to autograph books

Pages and Prints Bookstore, 40 Plaza Center, will host a book signing today featuring travel writer Myra Hargrave McIlvain.

She is the author of four auto tour guidebooks — "Six Central Texas Auto Tours," "Texas Auto Trails: The Southwest," "Texas Auto Trails: The Northeast" and her most recent guide, "Texas Auto Trails: The South and The Rio Grande Valley."

Her books reflect her knowledge of Texas history gleaned during the years she wrote historical marker narratives for the Texas Historical Commission along with a collection of historical articles compiled by the Commission in a book, "Shadows on the Land."

Her new South Texas and Rio Grande Valley book describes driving tours to such areas as the King Ranch, the Aransas Wildlife Refuge and Padre Island. She guides the traveller across the border as well as with sidetrips to the Mexican cities of H. Matamoros, Reynosa and Nuevo Laredo. She also points the way to art galleries, museums, historic houses, restored hotels, antique shops and popular eating places.

The author will sign books at the store between 2 and 4 p.m. today. All of her books will be available at the store.

Mrs. Pasquarello said her translator said the three couples were arrested because their names had been given to police by a "foreign informant."

"I have no idea who or why," she said. "The only reason we knew each other is that we were members of the community church (in Alexandria)."

Mrs. Morbacher said her husband, who comes from Philadelphia, works in Alexandria as a hydrologist. Ruth Weed said her husband teaches English in Alexandria, and Crystal Pasquarello's husband is a doctor's assistant at an Alexandria hospital. All three families came to Egypt in 1984.

The women said their passports were impounded, but they were released with orders to stay in Cairo until investigations were completed. The men were ordered held for further questioning, they said.

A state security official said the case was being handled by the security prosecutor's office. There was no response to telephone calls to the office.

government and economy while the majority blacks are denied the vote.

Since the current spate of racial unrest broke out in August 1984, more than 750 people have died, most of them blacks.

"We want to see tensions reduced and confidence restored in South Africa," said Speakes, the White House spokesman. "Accordingly, we hoped that this action, which could only exacerbate the situation, would not be taken."

France's Fabius stood with clenched fists outside the South African Embassy in Paris, observing a moment of silence after the execution.

"It is an execution carried out in contempt of the rights of man," he said. "I came...to pay homage to his (Moloise's) memory after this scandalous execution."

The French National Assembly suspended its sitting for five minutes in memory of Moloise.

Sir Lynden Pindling, prime minister of the Bahamas, said the Commonwealth of Britain nations would be shocked to learn of the hanging. The Commonwealth is debating at its summit in Nassau, the Bahamas, whether to impose economic sanctions on South Africa to protest apartheid.

The British government of Conservative Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has opposed the use of sanctions, but its Foreign Office issued a statement Friday saying the execution of Moloise "will only exacerbate the internal situation in South Africa."

Reagan's trips to promote tax plan overshadowed by events

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's recent excursions around the nation have not followed the advance plan scripted by the White House. Instead, the trips have been dogged by headline-stealing episodes that overshadowed his campaign to sell a new tax system or promote Republican politicians.

With a stop in Chicago last week, the president concluded his once-a-week series of outings to build public support for cutting most tax rates in return for eliminating most tax deductions.

He took his campaign through 20 communities in 15 states, arguing that his plan would eliminate unfairness, spur the economy and put more money in most peoples' pockets.

Everywhere he went he was followed by a chartered press plane packed with correspondents, photographers and television crews.

However, as the crusade ended, Reagan groused he had not been able to get very much national attention for his efforts.

"The truth is that many people don't know the real story about our tax overhauf because, for the past month, our fair-share tax plan hasn't been given much space by the national media," Reagan complained in Chicago.

Chicago was the final stop on a tour that began Memorial Day. His message was virtually unchanged from place to place. After hearing the same speech over and over again, the news media began looking for something new, the president lamented.

There was no shortage of alternate subjects for the media to focus on. And Reagan, himself, helped take the thunder from his tax campaign.

In Concord, N.H., the president — without any prodding from reporters — blew away his tax speech by revealing that the Rev. Benjamin Weir, one of seven Americans held hostage in Lebanon, had been freed and was safe in the United States.

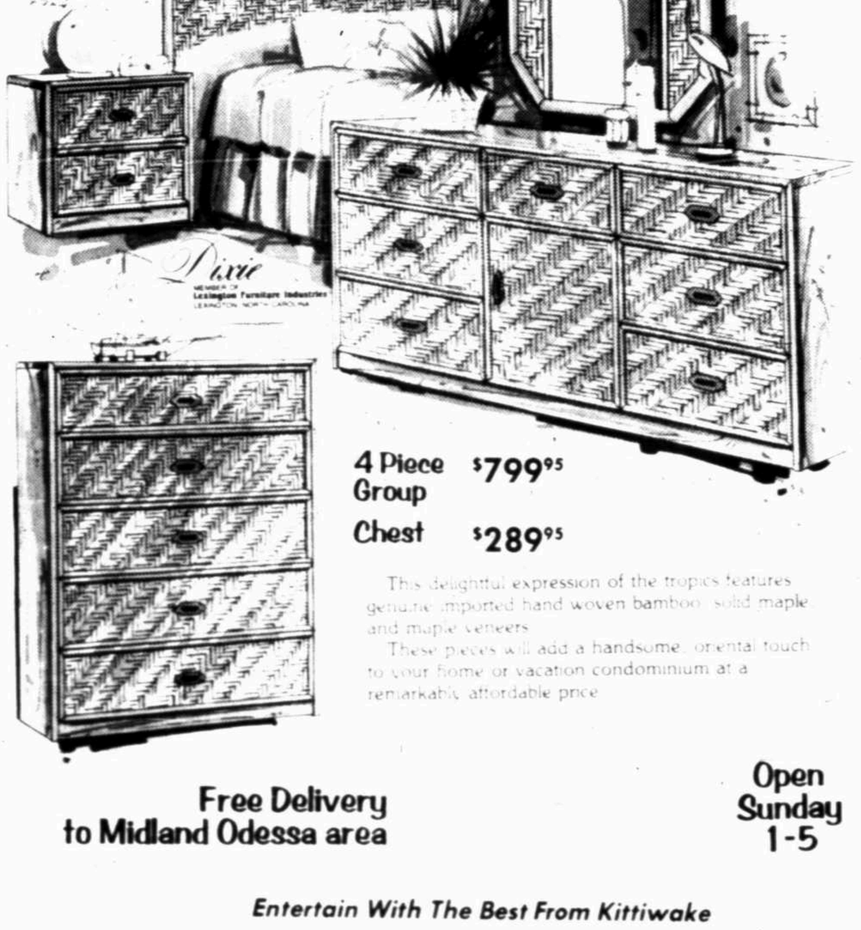

In Chicago, taxes competed for attention with the hijacking of the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro and the death of American passenger Leon Klinghoffer.

Reagan, standing under the wing of Air Force One at O'Hare International Airport, caused a stir when he told reporters it would be sufficent to let the Palestine Liberation Organization punish the hijackers.

Within the hour, Reagan made himself available to the press again to correct himself: "I shouldn't have made a statement of that kind," he declared.

Comptroller nominee wants to restore confidence in banking

HOUSTON (AP) — Robert Logan Clarke Sr. said Friday that one of his first priorities if confirmed as federal comptroller of the currency will be to restore the public's confidence in the banking industry.

"The confidence in the banking industry needs to be bolstered a little bit," he said. "I don't think the banking industry is in as bad a shape as it would appear."

President Reagan on Thursday announced his plans to nominate the Houston attorney for the comptroller's post. If confirmed by Congress, Clarke will be responsible for supervising the country's national banks, helping to plan banking legislation and monitoring bank mergers and closings.

He would replace C. Todd Conover, who resigned from the job in May.

Clarke is head of the banking division of prominent Houston law firm Bracewell & Patterson. He also is director of Allied Beltway Bank in Houston and advisory director for Centerville, Texas, State Bank.

He declined to say what specific policies he would initiate as comptroller, but added he hopes to help restore the public's faith in the industry he will oversee.

"I think that the state of the banking industry in general has been very good," he said.

Clarke said people may perceive the industry as being in worse trouble than it actually is because "you haven't had as many bank failures in the past and they haven't been as highly publicized."

Clarke, a Tulsa, Okla., native, has a bachelor's degree in economics from Rice University and a law degree from Harvard University. While serving in the U.S. Army from 1966-68, he was a lawyer for the National Aeronautics and Space Adminstration at Johnson Space Center. He joined Bracewell & Patterson in 1968 and formed the firm's banking section in 1972.

Clarke said he believes federal agencies generally do a good job of regulating banking and that he supports Reagan's laissez-faire approach to the industry.

"I think the extent to which you can streamline those regulations and to which you can rely on the industry to police itself — then I think you should do so," he said.

Clarke faces confirmation hearings before the Senate Banking Committee — headed by Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah. The nomination then must be approved by Congress.

Whitmire fan mows down Welch's ad

HOUSTON (AP) — Attempts to film a campaign advertisement for mayoral candidate Louie Welch were literally mowed down by a supporter of Welch's opponent, incumbent Kathy Whitmire.

Landscaper David Worthy said he quickly started his lawnmower and kept it going Thursday when a film crew arrived to make the commercial across the street from his home.

"They wanted me to stop mowing and I wouldn't," said Worthy, 26. "They were quite upset."

The crew arrived with lights, cameras and cue cards to film two elderly people on the porch of a Victorian home in the Heights area of north Houston. But the roar of Worthy's mower was too loud for the workers to film the tranquil scene.

"To me, that was my ultimate political statement," Worthy said.

The film crew left, but not without a fight.

Worthy said a Welch worker threatened to call the police, and that another crew member used an expletive to describe the landscaper. Then, he said, a Welch supporter glanced at his house and said, "How good is your security system?"

"I said, 'Probably as good as yours.' Then he said, 'We'll probably be finding that out soon,' " Worthy said.

Worthy said he wants an apology from the Welch supporters, but campaign media consultant Bob Heller — who witnessed the incident — said Worthy does not deserve one.

The crew politely asked Worthy to stop his lawnmover and turn down his stereo, Heller said, but the landscaper refused. Heller said no threats were made.

"He was determined to keep us from doing that spot," Heller said. "It was so childish. We couldn't believe what was happening."

Clintine Cashion, Mrs. Whitmire's campaign manager, declined comment Friday on the incident.

The commercial was filmed at another home, but the move cost the Welch campaign $3,000, Heller said.

Worthy said if he had it to do all over again, he would.

"I'd mow my yard three days in a row if I had to," he said.

Rival pumpkins compete for greatness

By BERNARD HUNT
Associated Press Writer

Gee whiz, Charlie Brown, when the Great Pumpkin visits the pumpkin patch this Halloween, where does he come from?

He comes from far away in the frozen north where the Atlantic gales howl, where the soil is rich and the fertilizer abundant and where the pumpkin seeds return every spring to spawn.

He comes from Nova Scotia.

Maybe.

Or Connecticut.

There's some confusion, you see. The Great Pumpkin isn't cut and dried.

Every year in the comic strip "Peanuts," the characters of Charles Schulz await the arrival of the Great Pumpkin as the nights of October grow colder and youngsters everywhere prepare for Halloween when ghoulies and ghosties go abroad in the night.

And every year also, the International Pumpkin Association searches for the greatest Great Pumpkin in all the world. But this year, the World Pumpkin Confederation also staged a contest.

And that's why there are two Great Pumpkins.

This year's International Pumpkin Association Great Pumpkin weighs 531 pounds. The monster, grown in Nova Scotia by Michael Hodgson of River Phillips, earned him $2,000 and a trip to Hawaii during an international weigh-in Monday.

Entrants were weighed at Half Moon Bay, Calif.; Circleville, Ohio; Halifax, Nova Scotia; and Birmingham, England.

Meanwhile, in Topsfield, Mass., Scott Cully, 25, of Sharon, Conn., won the confederation's title, also Monday, with a 515.4-pounder raised at Ellsworth Hall Farm, where he works as assistant manager. He gets a $100 prize.

Cully's pumpkin, an Atlantic giant variety, was grown from a seed propagated in Nova Scotia. It beat out 1,000 other entries at six fairs in the United States, Canada and New Zealand.

Neither of the rival claimants to the Great Pumpkin Title comes anywhere near the 612 pounds of 1984's champion, grown by Norman Gallagher of Lake Chelan, Wash.

STATE IN BRIEF

Teen sentenced to 60 years in murder of another teen

GONZALES (AP) — Jurors deliberated only 25 minutes Friday before finding a 15-year-old boy guilty of murder for fatally stabbing another teen-ager who ordered him to move in a movie theater.

Gregory Fonseca, who tried as an adult, was sentenced to 60 years in the Texas Department of Corrections for the June 25 slaying of Jesse Hastings Jr. at the Lynn Theater in Gonzales.

Fonseca testified that he and Hastings, 16, argued after Hastings ordered him to move so he could get down an aisle of seats.

He said a friend "gave me a knife and I took it because I was scared of Jesse since he was bigger than me. I didn't want to use it. I wanted him to leave me alone. But he pushed me and jumped at me and stabbed himself on the knife."

But Melissa Gonzales, 15, testified that she saw the two boys arguing and heard Fonseca suggest they go outside. "As they turned away to leave, Greg said something. Jesse turned around and that's when Greg stabbed him," she said.

FDIC closes Early Bank

AUSTIN (AP) — The Early Bank in the Brown County community of Early failed and was closed Friday, with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. being named the receiver, state banking officials said.

The failure of the bank with $15.3 million in total assets resulted from loan losses "far exceeding the bank's total capital and reserves," said a written statement issued by Banking Commissioner James L. Sexton.

"The losses stemmed from liberal and ill-advised extensions of credit, including loans to insiders and out-of-territory borrowers," Sexton's statement said.

"Substantial loan losses were identified during a joint examination by examiners with the Texas Department of Banking" and the FDIC, Sexton's statement said.

The bank was closed by its directors and tendered to the banking commission for liquidation at 3 p.m. Friday, Sexton said. He promptly tendered the bank to the FDIC as receiver, saying the federal agency would announce later the manner in which it would proceed.

Bus hijacker in hospital

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A 33-year-old man arrested in connection with a city bus hijacking is under observation at the psychiatric unit of the county jail, a psychiatrist has confirmed.

Ronald Ennis is charged with murder and attempted capital murder in connection with the bus incident, in which a 3-year-old girl was killed. He is being held on $150,000 bond.

"We are watching him and treating him with information from his history," said Bexar County Jail psychiatrist Dr. John Sparks.

Ennis is accused of stealing a VIA bus Wednesday at Wonderland Mall and leading police on a chase that resulted in four accidents, one of them claiming the life of Shaunte Green. The girl was riding in a car with her aunt and uncle, Russell and Gwenn Saunders, who both were hospitalized.

Two other adults were injured in the third crash, but they were treated and released.

Ross Volunteers has girls

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The oldest student organization in Texas has a new look this year as two women join the Ross Volunteers, a formerly all-male company in the Texas A&M University Corps of Cadets.

Mandy Schubert, a junior marketing major from Houston, and Nancy Hedgecock, a junior civil engineering major from Hamburg, Ark., were among those inducted into the 72-member ceremonial group.

The volunteers serve as the official honor guard for the governor of Texas, and trace their origins back to 1887. The group is named for former Texas governor and Texas A&M president Lawrence Sullivan Ross.

The Ross Volunteers follow in the footsteps of the Texas Aggie Band, another all-male group which added three female freshman members to its ranks in August after an order from state Attorney General Jim Mattox.

Applicants must be juniors and carry at least a 2.3 grade point average. Members are selected by senior members of the company on the basis of service, leadership and other qualities.

Governors bet over game

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White said Friday that he and Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton have wagered a "barbecue swap" over the outcome of today's Texas-Arkansas football game in Fayetteville, Ark.

"I do not anticipate having to forfeit one forkful of my 10 pounds of succulent Texas, Grade A barbecue," White said.

"There is one downside to a UT victory," the Texas governor said. "I'll inherit 10 pounds of the dried-out boiled Razorback that passes for 'barbecue' in Arkansas."

Surgeon with AIDS didn't transmit it, official says

BOSTON (AP) — A surgeon with AIDS who operated on hundreds of patients apparently did not pass on the lethal disease, a health official has reported.

The unidentified Florida surgeon first showed signs of AIDS in 1981 and died two years later, Dr. Jeffrey J. Sacks of the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control, writes in a letter published in this week's New England Journal of Medicine.

He said a survey of health records shows that none of the patients the surgeon treated between 1978 and 1983 has gotten AIDS.

"This study of 400 persons found no evidence that transmission of AIDS to patients had occurred and nothing to suggest that the surgeon should not have been practicing," Sacks wrote.

Sacks noted that more than 200 health care workers are reported to have acquired immune deficiency syndrome, which attacks the body's defense against disease.

"Although much of the attention has been focused on the health care workers' risk of contracting AIDS from a patient, the ever-increasing number of health personnel with AIDS leads to concern about potential transmission to patients," he wrote.

AIDS is spread through sexual contact or the transfer of blood or body secretions.

WE'RE NOT JUST EARLY AMERICAN ANYMORE!

All 2.1 million military personnel will be tested for AIDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, in a major response to the growing problem of AIDS, has decided to test all 2.1 million U.S. military personnel for the disease, a Pentagon official said Friday.

"We want to be sure military people and their families are aware of the AIDS problem," said the official. "There's no reason for any kind of hysteria or overreaction; it's merely a case of dealing with a new disease which has potential implications."

A formal announcement of the program will be made after the uniformed services establish an examination system and decide what to do with servicemen and women with positive readings on tests for the AIDS virus, said the official, who divulged the policy on condition he not be identified.

He said it had not been decided how soon testing would begin.

Since the discovery of dozens of military AIDS victims, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger has been trying to formulate policies that would keep people with the disease from joining the armed forces and control its spread from sufferers already on duty.

An armed forces medical board recommended on Sept. 17 that active duty personnel heading overseas be screened for an antibody that accompanies AIDS, but said logistical headaches made it infeasible to screen all personnel.

The Pentagon, however, had ordered the services to begin screening new recruits this month and there already have been reports of positive readings from preliminary AIDS blood tests given to Marine Corps and Air Force recruits.

Weinberger met with the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force on Thursday to discuss the situation, the official said, predicting a formal announcement of the military-wide program "sometime in the near future."

Preliminary plans call for each serviceman and woman and each prospective recruit to undergo a blood test known as ELISA, a preliminary search for the HTLV-III virus — a common tipoff that a person has been exposed to AIDS. The ELISA test, however, has a high error rate, so personnel with positive readings would be tested again and perhaps three times.

Those who repeatedly fail this test would undergo a Western Blot examination, which is a more accurate determinator of the presence of AIDS virus. Those still showing a positive reading would then be given a clinical physical exam, which usually consists of a skin test and cell work performed in a hospital.

Recruits with positive readings would not be permitted to enter the armed forces. Those already on active duty who have been diagnosed as AIDS sufferers would be treated.

U.S. agency to loan North Yemen $20.7 million to explore for oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government and a major intergovernmental body will provide loans to help North Yemen in the first exploitation of a new oil field, it was announced Friday.

The Arab Republic of Yemen is on same peninsula as Saudi Arabia, but oil was only recently found in the Marib area by the Hunt Oil Co. of Dallas. Hunt has set up a subsidiary called the Yemen Hunt Oil Company.

The U.S. government's Overseas Private Investment Corp. is making a loan of $20.7 million. The International Finance Corp., linked with the World Bank, is providing a long-term loan of $9 million. Remaining costs, $12.6 million, according to the IFC, will be covered by the Hunt firm and its partners.

City not reporting illegal aliens

NEW YORK (AP) — City employees are being told not to report illegal aliens to the federal government, which has failed to do its job of stopping illegal entrants at the border, Mayor Edward I. Koch said Friday.

He said the city had no legal or moral obligation to report illegal aliens, and that to do so might discourage aliens from putting their children in schools, seeking literacy training, or seeking medical help in life-threatening situations.

He said his policy was not new, did not violate the law, and was similar to policies in other cities, including Los Angeles and Chicago.

He noted that a couple years ago the city distributed posters in French to advise Haitians that they would not be reported to immigration officials if they sought medical aid or placed their children in schools.

The director of the city's Office of Immigrant Affairs, Elizabeth Bogen, said the issue was largely moot because federal authorities have conceded they do not have the resources to arrest or detain all the illegal aliens in New York City, much less the entire country.

Estimates on the number of illegal aliens vary. Koch said there are between 400,000 and 750,000 in New York City, and nationwide estimates are about 6 million.

The mayor said he hoped the public attention that was focused on the release of his written policy might bring pressure on the federal government to stop illegal aliens at the border.

"I'm calling on the federal government to do their job," Koch said.

Man opens fire at football game

DETROIT (AP) — A man opened fire with a shotgun in the bleachers at a high school football game Friday, wounding five teen-agers, police said.

The gunman fled the scene following the 4:15 p.m. shootings during the game at Murray-Wright High School, said police Sgt. Daniel Carr.

The wounded, who were hit with bird shot, were taken to Detroit Receiving Hospital in serious condition, he said.

"We have five persons ranging in age of 13 to 19 with minor injuries," Carr said.

"Someone shot into a crowd watching the game," Carr said. "We don't know what precipitated it."

The contest between Murray-Wright and Northwestern High School was canceled, he said.

School cancels showing Disney film

LESLIE, Mich. (AP) — The Walt Disney movie "Return to Oz" was one of two films in a Ingham County Library series that was canceled amid protests that they were violent or pornographic, a library official said Friday.

After the Leslie board of education recommended that the library show only G-rated movies at Leslie Elementary School, Library Director Richard Douglass said he decided to end the series early because such movies are hard to find.

No repeats of Thursday night's downpour are forecast for the weekend, but skies will be cloudy today, and there's a 20 percent chance of showers tonight and Sunday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport. The high today will be in the mid 70s, with winds from the east at 5-10 mph. Tonight's low will be near 60, and Sunday's high is expected to rise to the upper 70s.

Friday's high temperature of 76 was 14 degrees below the record for the date of 90, set in 1936, while the overnight low of 53 was 18 degrees above the 1966 record of 35.

STATE

East and Central Texas were drenched in heavy rains and thunderstorms Friday with flash floods occurring throughout the regions.

Two Nocona men were injured on their way to work when they tried to cross a bridge on Texas 175 just outside Montague, about 50 miles southwest of Witchita Falls. The bridge they tried to cross had been washed out.

The driver, Preston K. Towery, 56, and a passenger, Lynn Thomas, 42, were both taken to a Nocona hospital after the 6:30 a.m. accident. Several Farm-to-Market roads in the area also were flooded.

Flooded streets in Abilene stalled several cars throughout the city forcing authorities to wade through ankle-deep water to help the drivers and passengers.

In the forecast, North Texas should be mostly cloudy Saturday and Sunday with a decreasing chance of thunderstorms. Highs should be in the mid 70s to lower 80s while lows should be in the 60s.

In South Texas, skies should be partly cloudy through Sunday with scattered showers or thunderstorms in southeast and south Central Texas.

NATION

Showers drenched much of the country Friday, and flash flood watches were issued in Oklahoma where up to 8 inches of rain fell.

Showers and thunderstorms also were reported in the central Plains, the central Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley and the upper Great Lakes. The central Gulf of Mexico coast, Florida and northern New England also received rain.

Low-lying areas of Durant, Okla., flooded after 8 inches of rain fell overnight. Ada, Okla., had 6.8 inches of rain and authorities reported some street flooding.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol said sections of highways near Hobart and Elmore City were closed for a time because of the high waters. And high waters along county roads and highways were blamed for at least two accidents.

Rebs break loose, 46-27

Woodard gains 213 yards in outburst

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

If defensive struggles with Odessa Permian and San Angelo were beginning to wear the nerves a little thin, you should have seen Midland Lee's 46-27 victory over the Big Spring Steers at Memorial Stadium Friday night.

The two teams re-wrote the history books in a wild game that produced 1,005 yards of total offense and 73 points that had the scoreboard doing cartwheels in lights.

The Rebels, who climbed to 3-1 in District 4-5A action and 5-2 overall, rushed for an amazing 470 yards and added 111 through the air for a total offensive output of 581 yards, a Lee single game record covering 25 years of football play.

It was also the night that sophomore sensation Joe Woodard gave an inkling of things in store for the Rebels for the next two years. Woodard, who wears the No. 24 of last year's Walter Jones, broke loose with a 213-yard night on just 12 carries, scoring on runs of 20, 73 and three yards. He had a 43-yard gain to set up his three-yard TD in the fourth period.

It was against Big Spring three years ago when Jones, Lee's all-time leading career rusher, dashed for a 55-yard TD in his debut. Woodard's 213 yards rushing is a varsity record for a sophomore.

Big Spring's outmanned, but gamely Steers, had 424 offensive yards as quarterback Carl Speck threw 39 times to complete 19 passes for 304 yards and three touchdowns. Speck dished out his passes to seven different receivers as the Steer passing scheme seemed to have the Lee defense looking in all directions.

And Lee, too, had its passing whiz in wide receiver Dexter Traylor, who caught six passes for 111 yards and a TD. No Lee receiver in the past decade has had that kind of night.

"It wasn't pretty, but it was a win and that's what we needed at this stage of the game. We did what we wanted to do, but we were not sharp mentally. It was the kind of game you hate to see develop. It got pretty sloppy at the end, but the ball was moving up and down the field pretty fast," said Tayrien.

Lee was consistent, but punchless in the first half as they struggled to a meager 12-7 lead over the Steers with drives of 39 and 80 yards for touchdowns. Big Spring stayed in the game when Speck dialed Brian Mayfield for a 33-yard touch-me-not TD with 33 seconds left in the half. Lee still ended up at the Steer seven-yard line before time elasped as Traylor caught two Tuey Rankin passes for 36 yards and Woodard ripped of a gain of 22.

"You could see we weren't sharp at the start of the game. We were flat, in fact. It's been a tough week to get ready for this one after the Permian loss, but I thought the kids came out and took control in the third quarter."

Lee opened the third period with three straight touchdowns as Woodard busted for a 20-yard score and backup quarterback Rodney Johnson turned halfback to throw a 32-yard strike to Traylor for another quick six. Rankin romped through tacklers for a 20-yard TD and Lee suddenly held a 40-13 advantage and the reserves came on.

Big Spring outscored Lee by a 3-2 TD margin the rest of the way, but the damage had been done. The rest of the show was Woodard's as he continued his rushing feat with a 73-yard TD run and his big 43-yard gain to set up another Woodard TD.

But Speck never gave up. The gutsy quarterback tossed TD passes of 33 yards to Randy Hayworth and 15 yards to Phillip Mathews. Regardless of Big Spring's 1-7-record and 0-4 mark in 4-5A play, the Steers are an improved team. Turnovers have killed the Steers, however. Big Spring had 26 turnovers this year coming into the game and added five more against Lee with three fumbles and two interceptions. Lee's Terry Young had both interceptions, one at the Lee one to thwart one Big Spring scoring bid.

Two Big Spring fumbles to open the third quarter set up meager Lee drives of 15 and 44 yards. A first quarter fumble gave Lee an easy 39-yard TD drive. Take those plays out and Lee might of had trouble putting the Steers away.

Lee now takes on Abilene High in Abilene next Friday. The Eagles lost a 10-7 last quarter heartbreaker to Odessa High. AHS is now 1-2-1 in loop play.

"You just can't enjoy a week around here," said Tayrien. "We've got Abilene High next week and that means we go to work Saturday morning again. There just aren't any days off in this league."

'Mighty mites' lift Rangers, 21-6

By ERIC SCHURER
Sports Writer

STANTON — When Greenwood's Joe Longley looks for the big play to turn around a tight game, it's likely he will turn to one of his "mighty mites" to get the job done.

Friday night when the battle of the unbeatens in District 8-2A was being waged, it was Steve Heryford and Garrett Mattison coming through for the Rangers to earn a 21-6 victory over Stanton.

Heryford, a diminutive 5-7 and 145-pound linebacker, hauled in three interceptions of Kevin Glaspie passes and returned the middle one 68 yards for a touchdown. His first steal set up the Rangers first score, and his last one ended a last ditch Buffalo attempt at a comeback.

The win leaves Greenwood 2-0 in district and 6-1 overall. it also sets up a shwodown with 8-2A's two remaining unbeatens next week as the Rangers travel to McCamey, a 26-7 winner over Wall. The Buffalos fell to 1-1, 3-4.

"IT WAS Steve Heryford night, all 145 pounds of him," Longley said. "He had a great night. We made some defensive adjustments and he broke to the ball very well. He's a competitor."

"They just kept throwing to my side," said Heryford, an All-District performer at guard last season and second team at linebacker. "The last one was right there for me, better than he was throwing it to his receivers."

Mattison, a similarly built 5-4 ¾ and 135 pounds, broke loose for a 32-yard gain on second and 19 on the Ranger two-yard line to dig the them out of a deep hole early in the third quarter and send them on the way to a 98-yard drive. Mattison is also the "sack man" of the Greenwood defense, grabbing Glaspie two times for minus 28 yards from his nose guard spot.

"I'm just able to get between two guys and get to the quarterback," Mattison said. "We were expecting them to pass so we wanted to pressure him, but we had the run covered on the line too."

LONGLEY IS more than happy to be winning with his undersized overachievers.

"We have a lot of very competitive 135-pounders," Longley laughed. "I'm just tickled to death the way we played tonight. They gave a great effort, but they have to to win. We know our limitations, but we play hard, and I'll take that."

"Football is a game of leverage and you've got to get lower than the other guys, and we're just naturally lower to the ground," Heryford explained.

The 98-yard drive culminated with a 39-yard run by junior Steve Popham, not a giant himself at 145 pounds, and put Greenwood up 13-6. A two-point conversion on a pass from Chad Longley to Mark Graham made it 15-6 and put the Buffaloes in a hole of their own.

GLASPIE, THE Buffs' senior quarterback, tried to bring Stanton back into the game through the air, but the Rangers' defense refused to budge, forcing the Buffaloes to punt away their next possession. Then, with Glaspie moving the ball into Greenwood territory, Heryford struck for his second intercept and the touchdown to go ahead, 21-6.

"The defense was the story all night, they did a whale of a job," Longley said. "I've got to credit coach (Tommy) Fadall for that. He did a great job of preparing the defense to face their passing game."

Stanton coach Dale Ruth was also impressed with the way the Rangers neutralized the Stanton passing game. Glaspie finished the night 10 of 29 with three intercepts and no touchdowns.

"They had seven men back in their secondary and had our wide receivers double covered most of the time," Ruth said. "We tried to go somewhere else with it, but they covered them well, too."

THE BUFFALOES, at 1-1, are still hoping to make a run for a playoff spot with three district games to go.

"We're getting better and better each week, sometimes it doesn't show on the field, but we can see it in practice. I told the kids we're still in it, anything can happen in this district."

Next Friday, Stanton hosts Reagan County, also 1-1 in district play, while Greenwood readies for McCamey.

"We needed this game," Heryford said of the win over Stanton, "now we're both undefeated and we play for the District championship next Friday."

If not conluding the district race, next week's game will go a long ways towards it.

Underdog Bulldogs make Bobcats work for win

By BOB BRUNDAGE
Sports Writer

SAN ANGELO - The Midland High Bulldogs came into San Angelo Stadium as heavy underdogs Friday night but played like they didn't know they were supposed to lose big. The Bulldogs did lose, but only by a 28-14 score that could easily have been a lot closer.

In fact, the Bulldogs had every opportunity to win the game outright. The Bulldogs had a rushing game provided by Jake Madrid, the first running back this season to bust the century mark against San Angelo, carrying the ball 22 times for 109 yards.

The Bulldogs had an effective passing game with quarterback Matt Marcum completing 10-of-27 passes for 141 yards, two TDs and no interceptions. Five different receivers hauled in passes.

"We played a tough game against a defense that has had two straight shutouts and has only given up 12 points in district games," said MHS coach Doug McCutchen. "It's a credit to our offense. Our defense stopped them at times but couldn't do it consistently."

The Bobcats hit the Bulldogs quickly when Doug Bonds returned the opening kickoff 55 yards for a first down at the MHS 36 yard line. However, despite excellent field position, the touchdown was hard to come by. It took San Angelo 13 plays to cover the final 36 yards with quarterback Mario Martinez scoring on a one-yard keeper. Neal McSpedden kicked the extra point for a 7-0 score.

Two possessions later, Midland High lost a big opportunity to close the gap when a 15-play, 66-yard drive ended with Bobby Williams missing a 37-yard field goal from the 19. The Bulldogs had a first down on the 15 on the drive and moved as close as the 12 before Mark Johnson fumbled to lose seven, setting up third and long. Marcum's pass for the TD was incomplete.

The Bulldogs held the Bobcats on their next possession but the powerful San Angelo attack moved the ball on the following drive, traveling 77 yards in 11 plays for a 14-0 lead with 3:41 left in the half.

Midland High finally broke the ice midway through the third quarter when the stagnant passing attack started coming to life. After completing only 2-of-9 in the first half, Marcum hit 2-of-3 passes for 20 yards to Kenny De La Garza and a 19-yard scoring pass to Madrid. Williams kicked the PAT for a 14-7 score with 6:15 left in the period.

It was a short-lived seven-point spread. On the ensuing kickoff, the Bobcats mounted an 80-yard drive and scored with 3:01 left on the clock when Scott Melton broke free from 12 yards out. Melton almost singlehandedly killed the Bulldogs on the drive, carrying the ball six times for 73 of his 79 yards in the game, including a 49-yarder to the MHS 24.

The Bulldogs moved the ball 59 yards on their next possession only to see the drive stall at the Bobcat five when Marcum's fourth down pass fell incomplete from the five.

In a hole, San Angelo managed to move the ball only 10 yards and was forced to punt. Charlie Good's kick only went 34 yards and the Bulldogs were back in business.

On this drive, Marcum again held a hot hand, completing 4-of-5 passes for 46 yards, including a TD strike to Johnson with 4:34 left to play. Williams made it 21-14.

Trying for the onside kick, Madrid failed to boot the ball the required 10 yards and San Angelo came up with it at the Bulldog 42. However,

Cards have ace ready for Royals

By JOHN NELSON

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — If, as the artisans of axiom say, pitching is the key in a short series, St. Louis Cardinal Manager Whitey Herzog may have his club one up on the Kansas City Royals when the 1985 World Series begins tonight.

By beating the Los Angeles Dodgers in six games to win their 14th National League pennant, the Cardinals were able to save their ace, left-hander John Tudor, for Game 1 of the best-of-seven World Series tonight (7:35 p.m. ABC-TV) against the Kansas City Royals.

Meanwhile, the Royals will start left-hander Danny Jackson, 14-12, instead of their ace, Bret Saberhagen, 20-6. Since the Royals went the distance in beating Toronto for their second American League pennant, Kansas City Manager Dick Howser had to use Saberhagen in Game 7 on Wednesday night.

Tudor thus could pitch Games 1, 4 and 7 for the Cardinals, while Saberhagen would be limited at most to two appearances — the first not scheduled until Game 3 in St. Louis — as he recovers from a minor hand injury.

Tudor pitched in Games 1 and 4 of the playoffs, both times on three days' rest. This time, he'll have had five days' rest.

"The extra couple of days will make me a little stronger," Tudor said at a wet Friday workout. "But the thing is, I haven't been able to pick up a ball in the last few days because of the (rainy) weather. I won't use not throwing on the sideline as an excuse, though. Tomorrow, I'll either pitch good or bad, and that'll be it."

Royals trainer Mickey Cobb said Saberhagen should be ready to pitch despite sustaining an injury Wednesday night when he was hit in his pitching hand by a batted ball. Cobb said the injury was a bruise, and there were no fractures.

There was a chance the weather could play a part as the Series opened with forecasts calling for a slight chance of showers tonight and temperatures in the 60s.

The Cardinals were the winingest team in baseball with 101 victories to capture the NL East, while the Royals won the American League West with the worst record of the four playoff teams, 91-71. The Cards are a 2-1 favorite.

"We were 8-5 underdogs against Toronto," Howser said. "So it really doesn't make much difference this time. We're not second-best to them pitching-wise, though."

This World Series provides the first intrastate matchup since Los Angeles and Oakland played in 1974. Only once before, in 1944, have two Missouri teams played for the World Series title, the Cardinals beating the St. Louis Browns in six games.

Some of the potential keys to this matchup:

— The Cardinals won the final three games of the playoffs against Los Angeles without leadoff hitter Vince Coleman, who stole 110 bases during the season and scored 107 runs. Coleman hurt his left leg Sunday.

By doing so, the Cardinals proved two things to themselves — if not to the rest of the baseball community. They've got character and a strong bench. Coleman's replacement in left field, Tito Landrum, had four hits and three RBI in Game 4 in St. Louis.

Cards physician Dr. Stanley London said Friday it was only a "possibility he'll play" tonight.

Coleman hurt his leg when the tarp rolled over it in St. Louis. London described the injury as a deep bruise.

"Let's put it this way," Herzog said. "Coleman's going to have to 100 percent to play. Using a gimpy Vince Coleman is like putting in a pitcher with a sore arm."

— At the same time, the Royals must have gotten a boost not only from the fact that they won the deciding game over Toronto after being down 3-1 but also from the way in which they won it — without any appreciable contribution from George Brett.

Brett practically carried the Royals with his .348 average, three home runs and five RBI during the playoffs, but he played little part in the 6-2 victory in Game 7 at Toronto. Jim Sundberg had four RBI, including a bases-loaded triple, and it must have been a relief to those concerned to see someone other that Brett come through offensively.

Odessa 10, Abilene 7

ODESSA— Odessa High propelled itself back into the District 4-5A picture by putting the boot to Abilene, 10-7, here Friday night.

Abilene shocked the district and state with a 7-7 tie against Odessa Permian in the district opener, but lost last week to San Angelo, 17-0, and the Bronchos made it two in a row as Billy Wenger kicked a 36-yard field goal, which was to prove the difference, in the second period.

OHS didn't go ahead until the final 1:08 in the game when Tracy Blaylock caught a 62 yard pass from Garry Powell and Wenger kicked the point.

Favored Abilene took a 7-0 lead in the second period on a four-yard by Michael Keith and Melvin Davis added the point. Wenger then kicked his field goal to make it close with less than two minutes left in the half.

Odessa plays Big Spring next week while Abilene faces Midland Lee.

Anderson scored three touchdowns and Bryant scored three touchdowns, kicked six extra points and a 35-yard field goal.

It was Anderson who got Permian on the score in the first period with a 61-yard punt return. Bryant added his field goal for a 10-0 lead heading into the second period, when disaster struck for Cooper.

Permian erupted for 21 points, Bryant crashing over from the five and then Anderson took 22 and 13-yard scoring passes from quarterback Jason Harrington and it was 31-0 at intermission.

Bryant's most scintillating run came in the third period, a crowd-raising 83-yard jaunt.

Aggies challenge Baylor

Tech, Rice battle at Lubbock

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

SWC

Hang on for "The Battle of the Brazos."

There won't be any television in Waco Saturday night but a capacity crowd of 48,500 fans is expected as the Baylor Bears defend their Southwest Conference football leadership against Texas A&M University.

Baylor is 3-0 in SWC play with victories over Texas Tech, Houston, and Southern Methodist. The Aggies are 2-0 in SWC play with wins over Tech and Houston.

"A&M brings to Baylor Stadium one of the most gifted teams I've ever seen at A&M, and in my 14 years I've seen some gifted A&M teams," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff.

Baylor rated a five-point favorite over the Aggies but Teaff said, "They have the most balance offensively I've seen them have. They used that balance to thoroughly beat a team we barely got by in Houston. Their defense is big, strong and fast. They fly to the ball."

In other games, Texas is at Arkansas in a 2:30 p.m. game to be televised by ABC-TV on a regional basis, Rice is at Texas Tech in an SWC regionally televised (12:04) game, SMU is at Houston, and TCU hosts North Texas State.

Arkansas rated a touchdown favorite over Texas, Texas Tech was a 12-point pick over Rice, SMU was a touchdown favorite over Houston, and the TCU-North Texas State game was rated even.

Aggie fullback Andrew Toney said Baylor has proved its toughness by whipping Southern California and Southern Methodist.

"Baylor is just excellent," said Toney. "There is no doubt we have to seriously get ready. Baylor's defense held SMU to under 300 yards so that tells you something."

Aggie offensive tackle Doug Williams said, "Baylor has a big, quick and strong defensive line: They give an excellent pass rush."

The Arkansas-Texas game is in front of network cameras for the 18th time in the last 21 years. Arkansas is fourth-ranked and 5-0 overall, including a 2-0 SWC ledger. Texas stands 3-1 and 1-0.

Texas has a 50-16 edge in the series and has beaten Arkansas the last three years in a row.

Arkansas has lost starters defensive end Ravin Caldwell and cornerback Kevin Anderson for the season with injuries.

Wilder, Warneke advance to semis

USTA

By TED BATTLES
Sports Editor

No. 1 seeded Val Wilder, Chris Kennedy, No. 4 Todd Witsken and No. 2 Tomm Warneke advanced to the semifinals of the USTA Masters Tournament at the Midland Racquet Club by scoring two victories each Friday.

Kennedy, Cary, N.C., defeated Howard Herr, South Africa, 6-3, 6-0 and faces Wilder, who had to rally over Jon Sorbo, while Witsken, after beating Andrew Sznajder in a grueling 5-7, 7-6, 6-4 test, meets Warneke, 3-6, 7-6, 6-3 conqueror of Henri Dewet, South Africa.

After surviving a war with Jon Sorbo, No. 1 seeded Winder thought maybe he better go in and have his blood checked.

"Diet is essential for me," he said, "Mess up just once and I wind up paying for it."

The Springfield, Mass., veteran who played in the USTA Satellite tournament here in 1981 and 1982, credits his switch to orange juice in the third set for his comeback.

Wilder won the first match 7-6, lost the second 2-6 and was down 2-4 in the third set and facing Sorbo's serve.

WILDER reeled won three straight games, abandoning his base line style, and turning turning tiger on offense.

"I know the difference between tired and sluggish and I was sluggish today. I could feel the orange juice kicking in and I broke service, held service and got very emotional."

With a 5-4 lead, Wilder returned to the baseline "got a couple of lucky shots" and won.

"It's the first time I'd ever played Sorbo. He's a good base line player and hits the heaviest ball top spin here. It gave me a lot of trouble."

Wilder dropped off the tour after 1982. "I got married and I didn't like the tour lifestyle. When I decided to come back, I was a lot better prepared."

Wilder has played on three segments this trip and his point total already has tripled his expectations.

"I'd have been satisfied with 10 to 15 points and I already have 60 points."

Still, the Sorbo win was a big one, assuring him of winning Segment Five, "unless Tomm Warneke wins it all."

His showing here means valuable ATP points, the visa to the ATP tour and a chance at the big money.

In addition to his semifinals single match at 11 a.m. today, Wilder must make up the doubles matches, at 9 a.m., one of three first round matches.

The finals of the tournament are Sunday at the Racquet Club with the public welcome and the admission free.

Sunday's singles final is tentatively set for 1 p.m. at the Racquet Club.

Faust may be on way be on way out, if...

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame officials want football coach Gerry Faust to resign before the end of the season if the Irish lose their next two games, The New York Times reported Friday.

Quoting an unidentified university administration source, The Times said the plan is intended to give the school time to find a new coach before the recruiting season begins in mid-December.

Notre Dame, off to its worst start since 1962, is 1-3 this season and plays 5-0 Army in South Bend, Ind., on Saturday.

Faust, who came to Notre Dame from Moeller High in Cincinnati, is in the final year of a five-year contract. With a 26-23-1 record, he is one loss away from becoming the football coach with the most defeats in Notre Dame history. He shares the record with the late Joe Kuharich, who coached from 1959 to 1962.

"Even if he wins the seven games left, that five-year record does not warrant retaining Faust," The Times quoted its source as saying. "I would think he'd have to voluntarily step down if we lost to Army and Southern California in our next two games."

If he doesn't, the source said, Faust might be asked to quit about two or three weeks before the season ends.

The plan also calls for athletic director Gene Corrigan to submit three names to both the president and vice president of the university for their final approval, The Times said.

Corrigan did not return telephone calls Friday, and there was no comment from Notre Dame on the Times report.

Faust told The Times he knew nothing about the plan, but he did acknowledge that his job, which he says is the only one he ever wanted, is in jeopardy.

"If we're 5 and 6, I don't think I'll be around," he said in the Times interview. "If we win all seven left, it depends on how we play."

When asked about his remarks Friday, Faust said from South Bend in a telephone interview: "If I'm 5-6, I don't know if I want to be around."

But he refused to say flatly that a losing record might lead to his resignation, and said that he has not been considering what he might do if he leaves Notre Dame.

'I'm not even worried about that stuff right now. All I'm worried about is getting ready for Army," he said. "I think the press makes more of it than anybody."

Reagan 39, Eldorado 17

ELDORADO— Down 10-7 at the end of the first period, Reagan County took a 13-7 halftime lead and then pushed over three fourth period scores for a 39-17 win over the Eldorado Eagles here Friday night.

Tim Tatum scored for the Owls on a five-yard run with 10:29 left in the opening period, but the Eagles countered on a three-yard run by Mike Saldivar and a 26-yard field goal by Mike Moore.

Reagan reclaimed the edge with 11:52 in the half when Quarterback Scott Lipsey found fullback Tatum open on a 20-yard TD pass.

Reagan widened its margin in the third period on a 20-yard run by James West, but Eldorado refused to fade, scoring on fullback Troy Daniels' two-yard run.

But Lipsey's 13-yard run and Tatum's three-yard plunge took it out of reach and Robert Saldibar added the last score on a 40-yard interception return with 1:29 left in the game.

Reagan raised its record to 4-3 in the District 8-2A encountery while Eldorado slipped to 2-3.

BULLDOGS

Midland High wasn't going down easy. Three plays later, the Bulldogs stopped Martinez on a fourth-and-two, getting the ball back with 2:37 left on the clock.

The Bulldogs failed on four plays to pick up a first down and then gave up a 24-yard TD run to Bronza Moore to put the game out of reach at 28-14.

"I was real proud of our kids' effort," said McCutchen. "I thought the young men came out in the second half, responded and played well against a good football team.

"Kenny made some great catches (four for 74 yards) and ran some good routes even thought he was double covered at times. Jake did an exceptional job tonight. He did a great job breaking tackles and doing what he had to do to pick up yards. Matt did a great job reading the secondary and hitting his receivers and I've got to give a lot of credit to the offensive linemen. They kept San Angelo out of there and gave Matt time to throw."

Madrid wasn't even aware that he'd busted 100 yards and, when informed it was a first against San Angelo this year, said, "It's my first 100-yard game. I've waited for this a long time. The weasels up front really blocked good tonight.

"We proved to me that we can beat them. We just didn't take our opportunities when we had them. I felt once we got down there (near the Bobcat goal line) we didn't suck it up and go after it. We had the opportunity to beat them."

San Angelo coach Jimmie Keeling was impressed with Midland High's efforts. "I'm glad to get out of it alive," said Keeling, whose team is now 3-1 in District 4-5A play, 6-1 overall. "They had their kids ready to play and we didn't play as well as I thought we could. You've got to give Midland High a lot of credit. They really played well."

About Madrid, who was running over his Bobcat defense most of the night, Keeling said, "He did a great job. He's tough. We didn't always tackle well but, boy is he a tough runner."

The MHS passing attack mainly went to flanker Kenny De La Garza, who caught four passes for 74 yards.

"That's no surprise," said Keeling. "We knew he was good before he came here."

Next, the Bulldogs have Abilene Cooper at Memorial Stadium Friday at 8 p.m. Both the Dogs and Cougars have 1-3 records. San Angelo travels to Odessa next week to face unbeaten, 3-0-1 Permian at Ratliff Stadium in a game that will determine first place.

If the Bobcats win, San Angelo, Lee and Odessa High (all 3-1) could be tied for first. If Permian wins, the Panthers will retain the lead.

Iraan 13, Rankin 12

By ALLEN TURPIN
MRT Correspondent

IRAAN— The Ranking Red Devils and the Iraan Braves opened District 6-A action with each team dominating the other in separate halves as Iraan squuezed by 13-12 in a dramatic game.

After a scoreless first quarter, Rankin scored all the oints they were to get in the second period. A 20-yard pass from Mick McCravey to Steve Cole capped a six-play, 69-yard drive early in the quarter. The ball was fumbled on the PAT in what turned out to be a key play of the game.

The Devils got two field goals by Cole, the first a 34-yarder, and the second a 23-yard kick on the last play of the half after Iraan fumbled it away on their own 18 late in the half.

The Braves, 1-0, 6-0, obvioiusly got thorough talking to by coach Steve Maurer at the half as they came out steaming and proceeded to score all their points in the third quarter.

THE BRAVES started their first drive of the half on the Rankin 34 after a shanked punt and needed only five plays to go the distance with Mike Volanti scoring from the two. The extra point jwas good and Rankin's lead was cut to 12-7.

RANKIN NEVER threatened and the Braves missed to add to their lead when they fumbled the ball into the Red Devils end zone late in the final quarter. Rankin tried a long pass with less than a minute left, but McCravey was intercepted at midfield and Iraan walked away with the win.

The Braves' defense rose to the challenge by allowing Rankin only one first down in the second half.

No. 1 Iowa vs. No. 2 Michigan whets the appetite

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Football Writer

The first time a team ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll team met No. 2 occurred in 1943 when service teams often appeared in the rankings and No. 1 Notre Dame edged No. 2 Iowa Pre-Flight 14-13.

Another No. 1 vs. No. 2 meeting is on tap Saturday, the 19th in the 50 years of the AP rankings. This time, it will be Iowa Post-Flight — or at least Iowa Present-Flight, since the top-ranked University of Iowa Hawkeyes are the country's sixth best passing team and quarterback Chuck Long is third nationally in passing efficiency.

When Iowa entertains runner-up Michigan on Saturday it will be No. 1 against No. 1 as well as No. 1 vs. No. 2. Iowa is the highest scoring team in the nation, averaging 44.2 points a game, and Michigan is the stingiest, yielding only 4.2. In fact, the Wolverines have surrendered only one touchdown in five games.

However, Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler predicts that Long & Co. "will be the greatest challenge for our defense."

The Hawkeyes are sixth nationally in offense, rolling up 469.8 yards a game, with Long completing 106 of 158 passes for 1,288 yards and 15 touchdowns and Ronnie Harmon rushing for 512 yards in five games. Michigan is fourth nationally in total defense (220.0 yards a game), 12th against the rush (99.2) and eighth in passing defense (120.8).

Saturday's only other contest between members of the Top Twenty finds No. 15 Alabama playing host to No. 20 Tennessee in Birmingham. Meanwhile, third-ranked Oklahoma finally plays its home opener against Miami, Fla., No. 4 Arkansas entertains Texas and fifth-ranked Florida is at home against Southwestern Louisiana.

The rest of the Top Ten are on the road — sixth-ranked Penn State at Syracuse, No. 7 Nebraska at Missouri, No. 8 Auburn at Georgia Tech, No. 9 Brigham Young at New Mexico for a night game and No. 10 Air Force at Colorado State.

In the Second Ten, Purdue is at No. 11 Ohio State, Tulsa at No. 13 Florida State at night, Texas A&M at No. 14 Baylor under the lights, No. 16 Georgia at Vanderbilt, Kentucky at No. 17 LSU at night, No. 18 UCLA at Washington State and No. 19 Army at Notre Dame. Twelfth-ranked Oklahoma State is idle.

"I've never been associated with a 1-2 game in the middle of the season," says Iowa Coach Hayden Fry, who has never been associated with any of the six such bowl matchups, either, unless he watched on television.

"It's an important game, the biggest game of the week, but we don't want to put all our eggs in one basket. We have to be realistic. If we don't win, life will continue. I don't want our guys to think it's a matter of life and death. I'd hate to think the game has reached that point."

Schembechler agrees with Fry on that score.

"The rankings are fun," he says. "They create interest and conversation in college football. But from a practical standpoint, they don't have a lot of meaning. This game is important, but it will not make or break anyone."

Okay, guys, but rest assured the winner will be ranked higher than the loser next week.

The last 1-2 pairing saw No. 2 Penn State beat No. 1 Georgia 27-23 in the Sugar Bowl to win the 1982 national championship. However, in the 18 previous such matchups, the No. 1 team has prevailed 12 times against four losses and two ties.

In the last such regular-season game, No. 1 Southern California shaded runner-up Oklahoma 28-24 in 1981.

Oklahoma and Miami have met only twice, with Oklahoma winning close contests in 1973 (24-20) and 1975 (20-17), when the Sooners won their second straight national championship.

ARCO charged for violating oil price controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Energy Department is seeking $499 million from Atlantic Richfield Co. on allegations that the Los Angeles-based oil company violated government price controls in a series of oil deals from March 1978 through 1980, officials said Friday.

Carl Corallo, the Energy Department's chief attorney in the case, said a proposed remedial order seeking $240 million in alleged excessive prices plus $259 million in interest was sent to ARCO a week ago.

In a separate case, ARCO agreed in June to pay the government some $67 million to settle charges that the company had overpriced some of its crude oil production during the period of controls, which President Reagan ended a week after taking office in 1981.

Corallo said the violations in the latest case involve alleged violations in oil trading transactions by ARCO as opposed to simply pricing its own crude oil production in excess of the federal ceilings.

He said ARCO, in its role as a trader, is accused of reaping "additional compensation" above the federal ceilings for price-controlled supplies in deals with other oil traders.

Without getting into the specifics of the case, he said that could have occurred by charging above-market prices for oil that was not under the federal controls or paying below-market prices for such oil in transactions involving both controlled and decontrolled categories of the fuel.

An Energy Department official, speaking on the condition of anonymity, said some of the transactions involved ARCO and Marc Rich & Co., a Swiss-based trader which pleaded guilty a year ago to criminal fraud charges and was fined $150 million.

STOCK CODES

All Stock Codes are based on industry standard Ticker Symbols provided by your broker or available from any Standard & Poor's Stock Ticker Guide. Codes are made up of a series of two-digit numbers, each representing one of the letters in the Ticker Symbol.

To determine the two-digit code for any letter of a Ticker Symbol, remember: The first key to be depressed is always the one on which the letter appears. The second key is always a "1," "2" or "3" indicating that letter's position on its own key (first, second or third position). EXAMPLE: "IBM"="43 22 61"; "BX"= "22 92." Remember to depress the star key (*) after entering each code.

A young college professor was made chairman of the department of English after only two years teaching experience. A professor with 22 years experience asked the president why he was not promoted. The president's answer was a classic "You are in error, sir. You do not have 22 years' teaching experience. You have only one year's teaching experience 22 times!" Priest pushes sainthood for Serra

RELIGION

By LAURA CASTANEDA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After suffering a heart attack, the Rev. Noel Moholy asked a favor of Junipero Serra, the pioneering California missionary.

"You know what you have," Moholy prayed. "You have a bulldog like yourself who won't give up. If you want more of the same, you'd better hang onto me."

What Serra had was a tireless priest who has spent 35 years pushing the cause of Serra as a saint.

Moholy, 70, not only recovered but lived to see the Roman Catholic Church declare Serra "venerable," the first of the three degrees of sanctity.

Moholy, a fellow Franciscan based in San Francisco's seedy Tenderloin, said the next two steps are beatification, then canonization. Each requires a church-certified miracle.

The title of venerable recognizes a life of heroic virtue. Beatification permits special devotion and canonization means full sainthood.

"My personal dream is that he'll be beatified in 1987, when Pope John Paul II visits California. That's why I'm working so feverishly now to get a miracle," Moholy said.

Serra, born Miguel Jose Serra in 1713, taught philosophy for 15 years before being sent to Mexico in 1749. His passionate preaching and stern asceticism won a devoted following, and legends began to grow up about him.

He founded a mission at San Diego in 1769, and led an expedition the next year to what is now Monterey, Calif., and founded the mission San Carlos Borromeo. In 1771 he moved to a mission at Carmel-by-the-Sea, where he remained until his death in 1784. The missions he founded included San Luis Obispo and San Juan Capistrano.

Moholy said there are 2,000 cases of would-be saints pending worldwide. But in the United States, only three have been named: Mother Frances Xavier Cabrini, Sister Elizabeth Ann Seton and Bishop John Neumann.

"The Pope is very favorable and he admires Serra a great deal," Moholy said.

"The present Holy Father has definitely shown an interest in saints in new Catholic countries including the United States," said a spokesman for Archbishop James A. Hickey in Washington, D.C., a member of Rome's Congregation of Saints.

Moholy, an energetic, white-haired man dressed in sandals and the traditional brown habit of the Franciscans, has traveled all over the world to gather documentation.

He has raised more than half a million dollars since 1950 through donations, commemorative coins and albums such as "Songs of the California Missions."

"I made a pact with Father Junipero Serra when I was appointed to this task. I would do the work if he would supply the funds," he said. "From that day to this he's never let me down. But he surely hasn't spoiled me. I'm still scrounging."

In 1958 he was appointed vice-postulator, which means he heads Serra's case worldwide. In addition to generating publicity for his cause, Moholy must provide all documentation including Serra's 800-page summarium or legal brief.

"He was only a little punk — about five feet two — but he was a giant by every other rule of measure," Moholy said of Serra.

Not everyone thinks Serra was so saintly.

"He destroyed a whole culture, he decimated a population and he enslaved a people," said Rupert Costa, a Cahuiaa Indian and president of the American Indian Historical Society in San Francisco. "In my opinion we might as well do that to Hitler. Make a saint out of him."

Moholy disagrees.

Costa "is certainly not a spokesman for all Indians in California," he said. "There is a popular criticism of the Spanish during the Mission period. But most of it is just that — popular. It does not stand up when it's measured against historical facts and reliable documentation."

"Serra is an inspiration to the moderns to correct social abuses, rectify inequities, but to do so by legal procedure," Moholy said, citing the missionary's support of the so-called Indian Bill of Rights.

Moholy said he has become familiar to bureaucrats with the church and government because of his tenacity.

The Newspaper BIBLE

WHY WORRY? THERE'S A BETTER WAY!

Jesus said, "Don't worry about whether you have enough food to eat or clothes to wear. For life consists of far more than food and clothes. Look at the ravens--they don't plant or harvest or have barns to store away their food, and yet they get along all right--for God feeds them. And you are far more valuable to him than any birds!

"And besides, what's the use of worrying? What good does it do? Will it add a single day to your life? Of course not! And if worry can't even do such little things as that, what's the use of worrying over bigger things?

"Look at the lilies! They don't toil and spin, and yet Solomon in all his glory was not robed as well as they are. And if God provides clothing for the flowers that are here today and gone tomorrow, don't you suppose that he will provide clothing for you, you doubters? And don't worry about food--what to eat and drink; don't worry at all that God will provide it for you. All mankind scratches for its daily bread, but your heavenly Father knows your needs. He will always give you all you need from day to day if you will make the Kingdom of God your primary concern.

"So don't be afraid, little flock. For it gives your Father great happiness to give you the Kingdom. Sell what you have and give to those in need. This will fatten your purses in heaven! And the purses of heaven have no rips or holes in them. Your treasures there will never disappear; no thief can steal them; no moth can destroy them. Wherever your treasure is, there your heart and thoughts will also be." Luke 12:2-34

RELIGION IN BRIEF

Word of Life to perform 'Nathaniel The Grublet'

"Nathaniel The Grublet," an extension of the Agape Force Ministries located in Tacoma, Wash., will be appearing at the Word of Life Church, 3838 W. Wall Ave., at 7 p.m. Nov. 1.

"Following in the tradition of the Agapeland record family, including 'Music Machine' and 'Bullfrogs and Butterflies,' 'Nathaniel The Grublet' presents Biblical principles through the fun and excitement of a musical production full of color, lights, pageantry and humor," says a spokesman for Word of Life Church.

The "life" musical production, which includes a cast of 12 singers and actors, has been seen nationally on the 700 Club television show.

Nathaniel is the smallest in a gang of fantasy characters called Grublets. In the midst of pressure from his dishonest brothers, Nathaniel must make a difficult decision, whether he will do what his conscience tells him to or give in to his bullying brothers and steal from the townspeople.

The anthem is composed from the text of the 26th Chapter of Isaiah which reads: "In that day this song will be song, sung in the land of Judah! We have a strong city, he sets up salvation as walls. He sets up salvation as bulwarks and walls. Open the gates of the city so the righteous may come in."

Direction of the 100 performers will be provided by Thomas R. Roberts, minister of music, Susan Roberts, handbell director, and Tony Norris, organist, all of First Presbyterian.

Leaders try to bridge gaps between American Jewish groups

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

American Jews, often portrayed as firmly united in mutual solidarity, are in reality sharply divided, and by some evidence, getting more so. But new efforts have arisen to try to check that splintering trend.

Some unusual diplomacy, involving reciprocal appearances of leaders of the rival Jewish branches at one another's national meetings, has spurred the mediating impulse, with still uncertain results.

Some suggested concessions, however, have met with rejection or temporary non-commitment.

A rare joint conference of 60 rabbis of four branches of U.S. Judaism declared during the summer that if escalating conflicts are not allayed, they could "lead to disaster, a fundamental split in the Jewish people."

The conference, in Simi Valley, Calif., and sponsored by the New York-based National Jewish Resource Center, urged the different Jewish branches to "give major priority to intra-Jewish dialogue," something lacking in the past.

At "a time of divisiveness and growing disharmony in Jewish life," the conference said dialogue was essential for "seeking unifying solutions in an atmosphere of mutual respect, trust and understanding."

In a keynote paper, Rabbi Irving Greenberg, an Orthodox leader and president of the center, outlined what he termed the "grim consequences" of continued non-communication between the various Jewish branches.

If current "sociological forces are left to operate unchecked," he said, "within decades, the Jewish people will be split apart into two mutually divided hostile groups" not recognizing each other and disapproving intermarriage.

Projecting statistics on various factors, including criteria for Jewishness in Reform Judaism differing from that in Conservative and Orthodox branches, he predicted that by the year 2000, the Jewishness claimed by nearly 1 million Americans will be denied by other Jewish groups.

"One can project a cycle of alienation, hostility and withdrawal that will lead to a sundering of the Jewish people into two religions or two social groups fundamentally divided and opposed to each other," he said. "All it will take is neglect, doing nothing."

Of the 5.7 million U.S. Jews, about 4.4 million belong to the three main branches, Reform, Conservative and Orthodox, 1 million-plus in each, in about 3,500 congregations.

Orthodoxy adheres closely to "halacha," the ancient Jewish regulations on such matters as diet, rituals and Sabbath observance. Conservatives believe in adapting the ancient laws to modern conditions. Reform Jews are still more flexible, considering the old requirements generally inapplicable, but valuing many traditional worship practices.

The chief differences have arisen in regard to conversions, mixed marriages, divorce, ordaining women and how to define Jewish lineage, with the different branches, in varying degrees, taking different approaches.

"The gap has gotten wider and wider over the course of the years," Rabbi Alexander M. Shapiro, leader of the Conservative Rabbinical Assembly, told the Orthodox Rabbinical Council of America, at its annual meeting.

It was the first major address by a Conservative rabbi before the Orthodox branch, and was part of an exchange in which the Orthodox leader, Rabbi Louis Bernstein, had addressed Conservatives the month before.

The gap has become so wide that many "believe both on the right as well as on the left that it is essentially unbridgeable," Shapiro said. Both he and Bernstein backed talks to try to ease the breach.

Bernstein agreed to study Shapiro's proposal for establishment of a national "Bet Din," a joint Jewish court governing conversion, marriage and divorce, but rejected a plea that the Orthodox help Conservatives gain recognition in Israel.

There, religious matters are controlled by an Orthodox rabbinate, which does not recognize either Conservative or Reform performances of conversion, marriage or divorce.

Shapiro, as he had promised the U.S. Orthodox meeting, later appealed to Reform rabbis to return to the traditional view that only children born to Jewish mothers are considered Jewish.

But Rabbi Alexander M. Schindler, president of the Reform body, the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said it was sticking to its 1983 change, permitting Jewish identity to be transmitted through either father or mother.

Schindler said he thinks Conservatives ultimately will accept that principle, just as they earlier this year began accepting women into the rabbinate, as the Reform movement began doing in 1972.

The Orthodox ordain only men.

Nevertheless, the Reform acceptance of patrilineal descent, along with Reform conversions, not recognized by either Conservatives or Orthodox, figure in Greenberg's projections of a growing numerical rift.

"It is creating another class of Jews who are not accepted as such by the reset of the community," Greenberg said.

However, Reform and and Conservatives stood together in seeking recognition in Israel and in fighting recurrent efforts to amend Israel's "law of return" to accept only Orthodox conversions.

Yet in those joint efforts, Shapiro told Reform rabbis, "we have found ourselves frequently maligned and shunned in the Israeli religious marketplace."

First Presbyterian Church hosts Centennial celebration

First Presbyterian Church, 800 W. Texas Ave., is hosting a luncheon and special program Sunday to highlight the Centennial year observance of the church.

Several former members of the congregation, including R. Matthew Lynn, Robert Boynton Smith of Oklahoma City, Forrest K. Whitworth of Waco and Lewis O. Waterstreet of Longmont, Colo., will attend and participate in the festivities.

Luncheon arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Murray Fasken and Mrs. John W. Starr. The program has been arranged by William H. Pomeroy, Mrs. Fasken, Mrs. Starr, Hamilton E. McRae, Mrs. Lynn Durham Sr., Henry E. Meadows, Mrs. Courtney Cowden, Carol Hobbs and W.H. "Bill" Collins.

It was on Oct. 19, 1885, that the Presbytery of Dallas appointed a commission to organize, "if the way be clear," Presbyterian churches at Midland and Big Spring. The panel included the Rev. O.F. Rogers and Dr. P.C. Coleman of Colorado City and the Rev. E.P. Palmer of Abilene.

The mission was accomplished and Midland's First Presbyterian Church was organized formally Dec. 22, 1885. J.C. Peoples, J.C. Kerr and Lee Thompson were elders. J.C. Shear and Henry Peoples were deacons. Members included Mrs. S.N. Peoples and Dr. and Mrs. M.E. Peoples as members.

The congregation has grown to 1500 members. The Rev. Kenneth Mauldin is interim pastor.

Other Centennial events will be presented during the year.

Odessa LDS church hosts seminar

ODESSA — The seminar "The Best Things in Life Aren't Free" will be presented by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Oct.26 at the Odessa Texas Stake Center, 2011 N. Washington St.

The seminar will be conducted by Lucille Johnson, who has conducted family enrichment seminars throughout Europe and the Orient. Mrs. Johnson, who has been the keynote speaker for numerous conferences including the National Right to Life Conference, has her master's degree in social work from the University of Maryland.

"One of the great purposes of life is growth," Mrs. Johnson says. " growth does not come about without a willingness on our part to pay the price required. There is a price to be paid for all successful human relationships. Success in marriage, parenting, friendships comes by design; failure comes by default.

"If we would increase our spirituality, we must obey the laws that govern the increase," she says. "The best, most worthwhile things in life are not really free."

The public is invited to attend. Tuition is $3 if paid in advance and $4 at the door. For more information call Janeen Pilkington, 697-4244.

At least one man dies when Typhoon Dot strikes Philippines

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Typhoon Dot slammed into the Philippines Friday night, battering the main island of Luzon with heavy rain and winds of up to 127 mph and killing at least one person.

The typhoon was the strongest to blow into the country since Typhoon Joan smashed southern Luzon Island with 178-mph winds in 1970, leaving 800 people dead.

The state-run Philippine News Agency said a man was killed after being swept away by a mudslide in Legaspi, 250 miles southeast of Manila. Heavy rains since morning had triggered the slide of mud down the slopes of the Mayon volcano.

The Office of Civil Defense said 165 families were evacuated to government housing centers as a precaution, the agency reported.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos directed government agencies to be prepared to extend relief assistance, a presidential palacenews release said.

The coast guard said it was assigning its men to patrol the seas.

Manila residents were not expected to feel the brunt of the typhoon after it slowed somewhat from peak 136 mph winds and veered towards the central Luzon provinces, forecasters said.

Nevertheless, streets in the capital were deserted by early evening after weathermen repeatedly warned residents to stay indoors. Schools canceled classes and some offices sent employees home at noon.

The typhoon was moving at 12 mph and was expected to pass the country today, forecasters said.

Bomb explodes in parked van; Some 20 people hurt

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — A bomb exploded in a parked van at a shopping center Friday night, injuring at least 20 people and causing extensive damage, police said.

It appeared to be the worst bombing in Northern Ireland this year.

Police in Londonderry, the second largest city in the British province, had begun clearing the area after an anonymous telephone call warned a bomb would explode. Several of the injured were policemen, according to a police statement. The condition of the injured was not immediately known.

The van had been stolen a short while earlier, the police statement said.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility.

The explosion occurred at 8:45 p.m. (3:45 p.m. EDT) as the last of the night's shoppers were leaving Richmond Center, a glittering shopping plaza opened last year as part of efforts to revitalize Londonderry after years of terrorism and economic decline.

Londonderry is a stronghold of Irish republican nationalism and the scene of frequent clashes between Catholics and the predominantly Protestant police force.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Do whatever is necessary to finalize current negotiations and then turn your attention to developing a long-range plan for the future. You have to know where you want to go before you can expect to get there. A man-woman relationship needs more time to become a positive force. A child or pet broadens your horizons. Financial wealth is easier to accumulate. Consult experts about reducing a tax burden. CELEBRITY BIRTHDATES: columnist Art Buchwald, Arlene Francis, psychologist-author Dr. Joyce Brothers, baseball great Mickey Mantle, the Rangers' Mickey Rivers, the Oakland A's Dave Collins, English architect Sir Christopher Wren.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): An experience you have today boosts your self-esteem. You are able to capture the attention of someone who has acted indifferent in the past.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Let love and charity dictate a decision you make now. Animosity can be wiped away with a single stroke. Gentle humor and warm affection bring you and mate closer.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Move beyond the fascinating to the practical or success will continue to elude you. Romantic partner is waiting for you to make good on a promise.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Ignore someone who is melodramatic and surround yourself with people who think positive. Set aside time for letter-writing and bill paying. Attention to detail prevents costly errors.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Visit a charming, out-of-the-way place with someone you love. Crowds are a real turn-off now. Skip a lavish celebration. A tender gesture will mean much more.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): An old romance can be rekindled if it is what you really want. Know your own heart. You are not the same person you used to be. Seek the truth about a community matter.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Where there's a will there's a way. Help a child understand the importance of striving for excellence. Set a good example. A phone call could be a positive sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): All you need to achieve success now is confidence in your abilities. You have the talent and resources to do great things. Choose your allies and confidants with care.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Spend time outdoors rediscovering nature's many wonders. Romantic partner is in a receptive mood. A visit to a museum or art gallery proves inspiring. Introduce a child to the arts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A humanitarian attitude helps you move closer to an important goal. Taking a public stand advances a special cause. Diagnosing a problem is the first step toward solving it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Set up an appointment to discuss a parent-child disagreement. A trip could prove less expensive than you expected. Shop around for the lowest fares. A reunion could spark a reconciliation.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Music is a source of inspiration to you now. Put on a favorite tape when you want to relax. Something you thought lost forever will soon be found.

Paul Newman's daughter, friend compile cookbook of his recipes

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Paul Newman hates liver, creates recipes in his dreams and believes very strongly that when racing cars, "it is useless to put on your brakes when you are upside down."

Paul Newman

These and other tidbits about the actor can be found amid the recipes of a new cookbook compiled by his 25-year-old daughter, Nell, and Ursula Hotchner, the wife of one of Newman's best friends, author A.E. Hotchner.

"Newman's Own Cookbook" is to be released today. It's the latest in Newman's empire of food items, which already includes popcorn, spaghetti sauce and salad dressing.

While Newman had "a lot of input," his daughter said the book was not his creation. "I'm sure if mine and Ursula's face were on the cover, it probably wouldn't sell as well," she said.

Sixty of the recipes were either hers or Mrs. Hotchner's, while the others were contributed by family and friends, Ms. Newman said.

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles and Princess Diana, appearing Sunday in their first television interview since their 1981 marriage, intend to set the record straight about some of the "remarkable stories" written about them, Buckingham Palace said.

Prince Charles

Princess Diana

The commercial Independent Television network, which taped the 45-minute interview, said in a press release the royal couple, "speak candidly about their personal interests and concerns, their public image, their family life and what people say about them."

The program also will benefit the heir to the throne's favorite charities. Profits from broadcast and newspaper rights to the interview and a book version of it are to go to the Prince of Wales' Charities Trust, the fund from which Charles makes donations.

The ABC network in the United States and Channel 7 in Australia were the first to buy rebroadcast rights, both for undisclosed sums.

Charles, 36, and Diana, 24, are leaving next Friday on a 19-day trip to Australia and the United States.

Various newspapers and magazines worldwide have published claims that Queen Elizabeth II is jealous of her daughter-in-law's popularity; that Charles believes in ghosts and is under the influence of mystics; that Diana suffered from anorexia nervosa and spends fortunes on clothes; that the couple can't agree on music because he likes opera and she favors Duran Duran.

A Buckingham Palace spokeswoman who would not be identified said Thursday the Prince and Princess of Wales had been thinking for months of doing such a program.

"They feel that people would be interested in seeing them in their own home surroundings," the spokeswoman told The Associated Press. "They also will be able to put on the record what they have to say about some of these remarkable stories that are written about them."

The interview was conducted by ITN newscaster Sir Alastair Burnet in Kensington Palace in London. It is the first by the royal couple since a joint talk for the cameras before their July 1981 wedding.

Since then, Princess Diana has become one of the most photographed women in the world, but she is seldom caught speaking more than a few words into a microphone.

One source involved in publishing a book based on the interview said the prince's charities are certain to receive about $700,000 from the program.

Charles and Diana are to visit Melbourne and Canberra during their 12-day Australian visit. They are scheduled to rest in Hawaii on Nov. 8 en route to Washington, where they arrive Nov. 9.

There they are scheduled to dine at the White House, tour the Treasure Houses of Britain exhibit at the National Gallery, lay a wreath at Arlington Cemetery on Veterans' Day and visit a J.C. Penny store for a promotion of British goods.

They are to spend a day in Palm Beach, Fla., where Charles plans to play polo, and return to London Nov. 12.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Charles Kuralt was never wild about North Carolina's state song, so he crafted a love song of his own for the Tar Heel state.

The popular CBS News correspondent's words have been combined with music by fellow North Carolina native Loonis McGlohon to create an album about the state "where the Smokies rise," and the "wind blows ocean foam." "North Carolina Is My Home" is the album's centerpiece.

Among the other songs on the album include a whimsical look at the towns of Spray and Whynot (whose residents couldn't decide what to name the town and decided "Why not Whynot?") and "Dinner on the Grounds," a song praising the biscuits, country ham, fried pies and iced tea that are part of North Carolina Sunday picnics.

BOSTON (AP) — Andre Sakharov's son-in-law says a Boston-based group that won the Nobel Peace Prize has done nothing to help the Soviet dissident, who won the same prize 10 years ago.

"They say they are concerned with the fate of millions, so they cannot be concerned with the fate of one family," said Efrem Yankelevich of Newton.

"But I think that if you are not concerned about one, you cannot be concerned about millions," he said.

International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War was cited by the Nobel committee last week for its efforts to prevent nuclear holocaust.

Yankelevich said that despite several calls and letters since 1980, Dr. Bernard Lown of Newton, a cofounder of the group, ignored pleas to help Sakharov, who has been placed in exile by Soviet authorities for his outspoken views.

"I really was very much disappointed by the attitude of this organization," Yankelevich said.

Lown was in Switzerland and could not be reached for comment. But Conn Nugent, executive director of the group, said Sakharov family members had never contacted the group, though they may have spoken to Lown.

CHICAGO (AP) — Gary Dotson, who was freed from prison after serving six years for a rape his accuser now says didn't happen, is planning a spring wedding, his attorney says.

Dotson will marry a woman he met at his clemency hearing, attorney Warren Lupel said Thursday. Lupel said Dotson and Camille Dardanes started dating after he was released from prison.

Ms. Dardanes gave Dotson a rose at the beginning of his clemency hearing in May.

1986 CENTURY CUSTOM WAGON

1986 CENTURY ESTATE WAGON

BEST SELLER, BUICK CENTURY.

Buick's best seller, Century, has been the choice of a great many people over the years. And this year, it will be high on the best-seller list again. Century is a beautiful, dependable, technically sophisticated mid-size car. 1986 brings new, aggressive, European front-end styling to Century. Combine its aerodynamic design with the 3.8-litre V-6 with sequential-port fuel injection, and you have a car that's ready to meet the road. We would love to arrange a test drive for you. It will put Buick Century at the top of your list.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?
