"Mighty People's Front" Is Being Urged

FRANCE HAUNTED BY ISOLATION FEARS

PHILADELPHIA, June 22. (Air Mail)—During the late but not lamented World war a now forgotten song writer leaped to fame and glory by way of a song that, bewailing the necessity of a soldier's getting up early at the call of a bugle, caught on with millions.

Part of it ran like this:

"Some day I'm going to murder the bugler;
Some day they're going to find him dead.
Then I'll put my uniform away
And move to Phila-del-phi-a
And spend the rest of my life in bed!"

Philadelphia, at ordinary times, may be the sleepy city the legends say it is, but right now is no ordinary time.

The Democrats are in town, from Farley on down—or up, depending on the way you see it—and there likely won't be any sleep for anybody during the next few days.

Incidentally, the convention is bound to last four days.

When Philly laid 200 grand on the line for the convention the bosses promised at least four days of discussion, diatribes, dervishes and Democracy and every delegate in every top flight hotel here had to agree to pay for four days keep whether he used it or not!

It's been quite a spell—something like 17 years—since your humble servant was in Philadelphia last but the town hasn't changed much.

Of course, Wanamakers have a new store building for gents, and there are more electric signs and some air conditioning.

But by and large it's just Philadelphia, the town that goes Boston one better on American culture and studied snobbishness in the upper brackets.

A GUY named Penn laid Philadelphia out. He was one of these planning men and he planned for the future in a great big way.

If Mr. Penn had had his way, every Philadelphia house would have a garden in the back, lawns at front and sides and all that sort of thing. That's the way he laid it out.

But after Mr. Penn shuffled off'n this mortal coil the folks threw him a curve ball and began building their town like they wanted to build it. That they made a terrible mess is neither here nor there, but the fact is Philadelphia's better slums make New York's worst appear as perfect dream homes!

There is quite a jolly little statue of Mr. Penn here in town.

In fact, it is the largest piece of bronze work in the world.

The figure of Brother Penn, perched atop the crazy City hall, is 37 feet high; its shoulders are 9 feet wide; the feet are 6 feet long; the old fashioned Continental hat, which strict historians say is not true to type is 7 feet long and the button on Brother Penn's coat is six inches across.

That, as you probably already have decided, is quite a statue in anybody's league.

ALTHOUGH they are miles apart in distance, outlook, history and everything else, Philadelphia and Lubbock have something in common. That is:

It's hard to tell what street you're on in either city!

Street markers here are tacked high up on the corners of houses or buildings and after you strain your neck to find out "where you're at" you still have a 50-50 chance of being disappointed. A lot of the street signs, like ours, are missing—if they were ever put up in the first place!

The special train from Texas is due here in an hour or so.

The Lone Star delegation is scheduled to stay at the Ben Franklin hotel and The Plainsman aims to amble over there shortly to see if Bill Jackson and the Missus arrived o. k. and if maybe Tom Garrard, of Tahoka, didn't finally decide to make the trip.

George Mahon is already here, having come up on the choo-choo this morning.

Kenneth and Florence Oberholtzer are in Atlantic City for

Slayer Of Ranch Couple Loses His Hope Of Life

MAN WHO KILLED PAIR NEAR VAN HORN WILL DIE IN CHAIR; COURT OVERRULES MOTION

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 24—Antonio Carrasco, 38-year-old Culberson county ranch hand, today lost his last court chance to escape the electric chair when the state court of criminal appeals overruled a motion for rehearing of his appeal.

Carrasco was accused of slaying Riley Smith, wealthy ranchman, and Smith's wife in their home in an isolated section southeast of Van Horn on June 2, 1934. The bodies were found in the burned ranch home.

Set Fire To House

The Mexican, who worked on the ranch, was assessed the death penalty for the murder of Mrs. Smith. He was alleged to have struck her with a club and set fire to the house. The state alleged that the motive was to "do away" with the only possible witness to the slaying of her husband.

Officers said that Carrasco confessed to the crimes. At his trial, he repudiated the confession attributed to him, asserting that he did not know what it contained.

Fails In Effort

The district attorney of Gregg failed in his unusual effort to appeal a case in which the trial court decision was for the defendant.

The case was that of M. T. Wilson, charged with embezzlement in Gregg county. The trial court sustained Wilson's motion to quash the indictment.

The appeals court pointed to the section of the state constitution which provides that "the state shall have no right of appeal in criminal cases."

HEAT WAVE IS CONTINUING

FARMERS GIVEN BARE HOPE OF RELIEF; PRICES HIKED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 24 — Farmers in the arid areas of the west, watching farm commodity prices rise while crop prospects waned, faced continuation of hot, dry weather today.

Deeply concerned over the spread of the drouth, they received more bad news from meteorologists. Generally fair and warmer conditions were forecast. Showers were regarded as probably only in the northern Great Plains section.

Major Factor In Rise

Market authorities cited the prevailing heat and lack of rain as the major factor in the advance of agricultural products to points at or near seasonal price peaks.

July wheat at Chicago passed the 95-cent mark yesterday. A year ago, the quotation was approximately 79 cents; a week ago 87 cents. November butter was at the 31-cent level yesterday compared to 29 a week ago and 23 a year back. The top on hogs yesterday was $10.50, up 25 cents in seven days and 75 cents in a year. Number one red wheat, a grade superior to the usual market variety and from a new Indiana crop shipment sold for $1.04 here yesterday.

The federal government stepped into the emergency. Senator Bulow of South Dakota said President Roosevelt and WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins had approved a program of WPA employment, livestock loans and direct relief for farmers whose crops had failed in the northwest. The cost was estimated between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000.

Desperadoes Still Dodging Officers

GROESBECK, June 24. (AP)—Two dangerous Texas convicts today continued their desperate efforts to shake two score of heavily-armed peace officers off their trail in the thickly wooded Navasota river bottoms.

Until shortly after midnight the fugitive pair had succeeded in keeping a pack of bloodhounds from picking up a trail they lost in the afternoon. The officers, nevertheless, seemed confident the pair, Luke Trammell and Forrest Gibson, could not easily escape from the wooded section near here.

ZIONCHECK IN NEW ABODE

SOLON TIGHTLY BOUND AND REMOVED FROM FIRST HOSPITAL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Court action to determine the mental status of Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck of Washington state was called off today as the young legislator started a course of treatment in a private hospital at Towson, Md.

Loudly protesting, Zioncheck was removed late yesterday from Gallinger hospital on a stretcher and wrapped in a "pack"—tightly bound sheets.

Is Whisked Away

An ambulance quickly whisked Zioncheck off to the Sheppard and Enoch Pratt hospital, three days before a sanity hearing was to have been held in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

Final arrangements for the transfer were completed by the congressman's young bride, the former Rubye Louise Nix. District and court authorities agreed to the transfer on condition Zioncheck be committed to the private institution for an indefinite period.

When this agreement was reached Dr. Edgar A. Bocock, superintendent of Gallinger, made hurried preparations for the departure of Zioncheck, who had been under observation for more than three weeks as a result of his actions in the capital.

BLUM STRIKES OUT TO GAIN STRENGTH

DOUBLE DRIVE OPENS TO BIND PARIS TO FORMER ALLIES

BY EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, June 24 — Fear of international isolation haunted France today as she slowly emerged from internal strife.

The socialist government, encouraged by a 382 to 198 parliamentary vote of confidence, struck out vigorously to strengthen its position among European nations.

Double Drive Started

Premier Leon Blum carried forward a double drive to bind France more firmly to her present allies through regional security pacts which would, in their turn, fortify the League of Nations collective peace agreement.

A few fresh strikes and renewed clashes between leftists and nationalists complicated the domestic situation, but Roger Salengro, minister of the interior, assured the cabinet firm measures would bring an end to the internal struggles.

Openly fearful France may be left out if Great Britain, Germany and Italy settle their differences, Blum advanced two proposals to bolster European relations.

Allowed To Fight

The first would permit any group of league powers to fight an aggressor whether grouped according to "a given geographical situation or from a community of interests."

Under the second, members of the league would be allowed the privilege of instituting "preventive measures" if threatened by an aggressor.

These suggestions, together with the regional pacts, Blum believes would bring to France an equality among the great powers which he fears is now on the decline.

BURGLARS ESCAPE WITH JEWEL LOOT

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. June 24 (AP)—Burglars entered the bedrooms of socially-prominent Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coe while the couple was sleeping in their sumptuous estate on Long Island's "gold coast" and escaped with jewelry which the owners said was worth more than $400,000.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Coe awakened during the burglary.

The articles stolen, Coe said, included a pearl necklace valued at $300,000, a small necklace worth $38,000, a $38,000 diamond ring, a $28,000 diamond and platinum wedding ring. These were taken from Mrs. Coe's room.

From her husband's room were stolen a $500 gold clock a $300 gold cigaret case, and $625 in cash, the report to police said.

The vote last night, after extended debate, gave the government a 384 to 170 victory, sending a labor motion of censure to defeat.

"Little Giant Of Wheat Pits" Claimed By Death

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL EARLY TODAY TO ARTHUR CUTTEN

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 24.—Arthur W. Cutten, 66, who amassed a fortune measured in millions in 30 years of spectacular market trading, died suddenly early today.

"The little giant of the wheat pits" as he became known during the teeming twenties era—when he held title to more of that grain than any other man in the world—was stricken with a heart attack.

Doctor Is Called

His wife, the former Maude Booker of Chicago, called Dr. J. Philip Evans to their suite in the Edgewater Beach hotel but the internationally known trader succumbed 20 minutes later.

Cutten had been in feeble health for several months—but pressed a successful fight by proxy against a grain futures commission order barring him from the nation's grain pits.

He was brought before the commission Jan. 11, 1935, charged with failure to report holdings of 116,000,000 bushels of wheat futures worth about $50,000,000 in 1930 and 1931 for the purpose of manipulating prices.

Ordered From Pits

He was ordered out of the pits for two years but carried the case through the U. S. circuit court of appeals to the U. S. Supreme court. The high tribunal ruled in favor of Cutten last May, sustaining the appeals court decision that the words "is violating" in the grain futures act could not apply to al-

APPEALS MADE BY SOUTH

FIRST SHOWDOWN ON TWO-THIRDS ROW SLATED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Angry delegates from Virginia appealed to friends in the north and west today to rally to them stand against repeal of the two-thirds nominating rule at future Democratic conventions.

The issue headed for its first showdown today in the initial meeting of the rules committee. Representatives of the 48 states gathered to debate the administration proposal that only a majority of delegates be required for the nomination of presidential and vice-presidential standard bearers.

Carried To Floor

The scrap—one of the few in sight for this 1936 convention—will be carried to the convention floor tomorrow if the rules group approves repeal as all observers expect it will.

Encouraged by sentiment in the 34-vote Massachusetts delegation for retention of the 104-year-old requirement, Virginia leaders went to the meeting talking fight.

"I regard the two-thirds rule as one of the major footholds possessed by those states which are consistently furnishing the electoral votes, in the selection of Democratic candidates," said State Senator Aubrey G. Weaver of Front Royal, Va., a member of the rules committee.

Why Surrender?

"Why such southern states as our neighbor, North Carolina, as well as numerous less populous states in all sections of the country should desire to surrender this

Pedestrians must observe traffic lights and cross streets at intersections, Chief of Police H. L. Johnston declared this morning.

Signs warning pedestrians to cross the streets only on green lights are being placed at all intersections controlled by traffic lights.

Pedestrians Blamed

"The check made by the traffic committee here showed that 50 per cent of the accidents were caused by pedestrians," Chief Johnston said. "The national average places the blame for 52 per cent of the accidents on pedestrians.

"We want the people to observe the lights and cross only at intersections."

In the event of violation, police will give the offenders tickets. If convicted, the persons who cross streets on red lights will be subject to fines ranging upward from $1.

Eighty-eight signs are being placed by police, eight signs at each of 11 traffic lights.

Seeks To Cancel Rights

"Seeing the people rebelling, it frantically seeks to cancel the Democratic rights and civil liberties of the people, prepares civil war against them, organizes Black Legions, Ku Klux Klans, and self-styled Liberty Leagues.

"It takes refuge in an irresponsible oligarchy—the Supreme court—which it hopes is out of reach of the people. It prepares to throw the whole world into a new and more terrible war which threatens to blot out civilization.

TEXANS FIGHT REPEAL PLAN

STRONG FARM PLANK FOR PLATFORM IS ALSO OFFERED

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Texas Democrats plunged into two committee debates today intent on obtaining a strong farm plank in the party platform and keeping the two-thirds rule for selecting party candidates.

Karl Crowley, resolutions committee member, said he would present to that group a statement on agricultural policy prepared by Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, house agriculture committee chairman. It would affirm support of the soil conservation act and declare for an agricultural price basis "on an equality with industry."

Allred Is Busy

Governor James V. Allred, a states' rights champion, after conferring with governors or senators from half a dozen southern and nearby states, said he would ask the rules committee to insist on retention of the two-thirds rule, despite the administration's desire for its abolition.

During his first day in Philadelphia, he contacted Governor Hill McAlister of Tennessee, Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama and Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico. He declined to quote their reactions. Texas' 46 votes have been pledged

FLOOR BATTLE ON TOWNSEND PLAN SEEN

LABOR MAKES DEMAND TO LIMIT POWERS OF HIGH COURT

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—A labor demand for a constitutional amendment limiting the power of the Supreme court was presented today to Democratic platform makers, already threatened with a conflict over the Townsend old age pension plan.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asked the resolutions committee to include a plank advocating a constitutional amendment to require a two thirds vote of the court to declare laws unconstitutional.

Already Broad Enough

There were strong indications, however, that President Roosevelt's leaders, in control of the committee, would not recommend any constitutional amendment, but would hold rather that the constitution already was broad enough for the objectives of the New Deal.

Despite the controversial issues thrust before the platform writers, the resolutions committee started its work today by harmoniously electing Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York chairman without opposition.

William S. Boyle of Nevada was chosen as secretary by similar unanimous action.

To Demand Plank

Possibilities of a battle on the floor over the Townsend plan were projected when the Washington state delegation instructed its platform representative—Senator Lewis Schwellenbach—to demand a plank advocating the controversial scheme.

Schwellenbach was directed to carry the battle to the floor in a minority report, if necessary. He was given similar instruction on Meager descriptions of the pair were given to police who this morning had made no arrests in the case. Buchanan said he did not recognize either man.

The robbers drove away in an automobile, but teh license number of the car was not procured.

Police today held a Hudson coupe, license number 107-123, which had been parked in 2000-block Main street for two days. They were investigating to determine whether it had been stolen.

Two young men, arrested here several days ago for investigation, have been released to Hobbs, N. M., officers to face tire theft charges. A third suspect in the case was released.

Seven negroes were arrested in 2200-block Sixteenth street Tuesday afternoon and fined $20 each for gambling—making a total of 24 persons nabbed for that offense since Saturday morning.

Centennial Pageant May Be Produced In Dallas By Cast Of Local Persons

In order to decide the possibilities of taking the pageant, "The Spirit of Texas," to Dallas to produce at the Central Centennial exposition, Mrs. M. O. Hiatt, chairman of pageantry for the seventh district, is calling a meeting of the cast and others willing to help with the project for Friday night at the lawn of the Neighborhood Playhouse, 1906 Thirteenth street, at 8 o'clock.

Upon receipt of a letter from Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, state federation president, inviting reproduction of the pageant on Texas Federation Day at the exposition, July 23, Mrs. Hiatt called a meeting of representatives of Lubbock civic cubs and other organizations and individuals who might be interested in working out a means of acceptance.

Asked To Meet

O. Wiley, director of the Texas Technological college band, are invited to meet with the cast Friday night. At that time, Mrs. Taylor's plan for presentation of the pageant will be presented and plans for financing the trip will be arranged, should those present see fit to undertake the project.

Mrs. Taylor, who saw the pageant when it was first presented here as a feature of the seventh district convention, said in the letter that she had seen Texas pageants at each of the seven district conventions the past spring and that "The Spirit of Texas" was by far the best one in the state.

To Get Publicity

Publicity for the pageant will be included in state federation news and in amplified announcements on the Dallas exposition grounds, Mrs. Taylor said. If arrangements are made Friday night for the reproduction, the cast will have a choice of auditoriums or arenas on July 23, Mrs. Taylor further indicated.

The cast will include about 200 persons in addition to members of the Texas Technological college band.

"Representation of the pageant in Dallas will be valuable publicity for Lubbock," Mrs. Hiatt said Tuesday in urging that all interested persons attend the meeting Friday night.

The pageant was reproduced to the public, at popular request, in May.

MONTHLY SECURITY WAGES ARE TO BE CONTINUED UNDER NEW RELIEF PLANS

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the Works Progress administrator, directed state WPA administrators today to continue the present $19 to $94 monthly "security" wages.

Armed with most of the $1,425,000,000 relief appropriation signed into law by President Roosevelt, Hopkins ordered a number of changes in work relief regulations.

Three important changes, the first two required by congress, were ordered as follows:

1. Need of veterans for relief should be determined without taking into consideration payment of the bonus.

Aliens Are Barred

2. Aliens illegally entered into the United States shall be barred from work relief jobs, and administrators "shall make every reasonable effort consistent with prompt employment of the destitute unemployed to see that such aliens are not employed, and if employed and their status as aliens is disclosed, they shall be discharged."

3. WPA workers no longer will be paid for time lost because of weather conditions or temporary interruption in operations of projects, but "shall be allowed every reasonable opportunity to make up the lost time in that month or the succeeding month."

BEGGARS ISSUE PAPER

BUDAPEST (AP)—"BBB," which stands for the Budapest Beggars' Bulletin, is the name of a newspaper which has made its appearance here to "serve the interests of the beggars of the city." It carries ads of crutches, glass eyes and hand organs and quotes prices for hiring babies to stimulate generosity.

Individual Photos Presented To Knapp

Individual photographs of the 1935 graduating class at Texas Technological college have been mounted in a 44 by 50 inches frame and presented this week to President Bradford Knapp, who hopes that presentation of framed photographs of graduating classes will become traditional.

Dr. Bradford Knapp this week received the offering, which was decided upon a year ago. The picture will hang in the president's office at present, but if other classes will follow the precedent of the 1935 class the pictures will be hung in the library which Tech hopes to obtain or in some other place.

Placed conspicuously in the group are pictures of J. Rankin Gammill, Mrs. Richard R. Moreland, the former Miss Judith English, and James Toothaker, class officers, and Dr. W. C. Holden, sponsor.

The United States still has some 2,000,000 acres of land available for homesteaders.

SIDELIGHTS ON TEXAS DEMOS

By Special Correspondent

ABOARD THE SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION, June 22—Declaring that too much harmony is unhealthy several Texas Democrats were feeding the fires that make the political pot boil as the Lone Star State's special rolled into Washington today.

One fight that may rock the Texas pre-convention caucus in Philadelphia was seen in the rumbles of discontent against the ambition of Solicitor General Karl Crowley to serve on the platform committee. Those opposing Crowley point out that although he is originally from Fort Worth he is now a public official at Washington and should not deter others active in the party from receiving a committee post.

Another contest is forecast on Postmaster James Farley's proposal to abandon the two-thirds rule required for nomination. Outspoken Texans assert that the two-thirds rule is the safeguard for the South against Eastern and Northern domination.

ALL HAVE HATS

No one was without a Texas Centennial hat b ythe timei the delegation arrived at Indianapolis. A crew of volunteer salesmen passed through the cars and the sombreroes emblazoned with a lone star and a cowboy aboard a bucking horse went as fast as any hotcakes in history. Men, women and children all donned the headgear as official attire.

SUNDAY IS QUIET

Sunday passed quietly for most of those aboard the special. Some wrote letters, others read magazines and several Bibles were in evidence.

A GENUINE MAYOR

The train boasts one genuine mayor, Mayor Roy H. Laird of Kilgore, and one who claims that distinction, Tom Pollard of Tyler. Pollard asserts he is the one and only mayor of Edom, where throughout the years he has sponsored "political pow-wows" at election time.

DIFFERENT STYLE

W. L. Boyles of Panhandle set a different style in the wearing of his 10-gallon hat. He flattened in the crown to form what he called a "sheepherder's crush." Said he would change that before going back to the cattle country.

LEGISLATORS ABOARD

Legislators aboard include W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, member of the house; Eugene Worley, of Shamrock, representative from that district, and E. Harold Beck, state senator-elect from Texarkana.

SIGHT-SEEING TRIP

Most of the Texans detrained at Alexandria just outside Washington, to take a sight-seeing trip to the points of interest in and around the capital.

NAME REPRESENTATIVES

In informal conferences last night all of the delegates were agreed that their representatives on committees at the convention should be named by them and not by the party powers that be in Washington.

REWARDS GERMAN TAR

LUEBECK, Germany (AP)—Arnold Bolm, a sailor of this city, with the permission of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, has accepted the American gold medal for life saving. He helped rescue 70 persons from the American steamer Western World when it was driven on a reef between Santos and Rio de Janeiro on August 8, 1931.

KIWANIS CLUB PLANS MADE

ANNUAL SESSIONS OF ORGANIZATION ARE BEING STAGED

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP) — Texas Kiwanians attending the 20th annual convention of Kiwanis International here planned today for 1936 agricultural and community activities.

More than 1,058 clubs in the U. S. and Canada are engaged in agricultural work and in Texas 48 are engaged in such activities.

The following were announced as members of the agriculture committee in the Texas-Oklahoma district: J. I. Moore of Abilene, chairman; E. E. Clark of Sherman, Earnest Symcox of Cordell, Okla.; Louis Lindsay of Okeen, Okla.; and C. S. Bush of Pauls Valley, Okla.

Activities Outlined

Agricultural activities which Kiwanis clubs will carry on the coming year include plans for diversified farming and advocacy of consumption of local, home-grown products. Rural groups will be brought together to discuss land use planning and other farm problems. Other work will be the promotion of farm institutes and scientific projects, dairying and pure-bred stock raising, sponsoring grain and stock shows, county fairs and 4-H boys and girls club work.

In their community work, clubs were urged to undertake safety campaigns, study traffic codes, obtain adequate examinations for drivers' licenses, develop safety propaganda and erect danger and warning signs. "In 1935 there were 37,000 deaths in the U. S. from automobile accidents, including 1,885 in Texas," said Victor Randal, of Huntsville, Tex., chairman of the public affairs committee. Among members of this committee to assist in safety work are: Oscar R. Burden of Wichita Falls and Dr. L. W. Newton of Denton.

Phillips Services Being Held Today

Mrs. Phillips had lived near Lubbock for 15 years. Sanders Funeral home is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Survivors are: the husband; three daughters, Mrs. Gracie Eoff and Miss Irene Phillips, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. Ruby Hammonds of Plainview; four sons, Johnnie, Alvis, Wallace, and Russell Phillips, all of Lubbock; four sisters, Mrs. Clara Young of San Antonio, Mrs. Alice Still of Dierks, Ark., Mrs. Emma Chambers of Pontatoc, Okla., and Mrs. Minnie Sherman of Port Arthur, and four brothers, Ray Graves of Longley, Ark., Freddie Graves of Black Springs, Ark., Roland Graves of Amarillo, and J. H. Graves of Vernon, the latter two formerly having lived in Lubbock.

Closing Of Office Is Started Today

Closing of the district business census staff office, under direction of H. P. Hurst of El Paso, area supervisor of the bureau of census, is to start today, W. E. Inmon, supervisor, said.

Work of gathering information on 1935 business in the 25 counties comprising the 19th congressional district, has been completed, Mr. Inmon said. No totals are to be announced here, but will be from Washington.

Mr. Hurst has three Texas districts under his supervision, the 18th, 19th and 21st district at Amarillo, Lubbock and El Paso and two in New Mexico, Clovis and Albuquerque.

Detours Reported For This Section

Thirty-five miles of detours on three highways in division 5, Lubbock area, were reported for the week beginning Thursday by George M. Garrett, division engineer. All are in good condition when dry, very difficult when wet except one.

The detours are on: Highway 24, 10.5 miles from Levelland to Smyer in Hockley county and 9 miles from Morton to 8 miles west, the latter difficult when wet; highway 28, 14 miles from 2 miles west of Hale-Floyd county line to Lockney; and highway 86, 1.5 miles around lake near Parmer-Castro county line.

She's Soviet Ace

Unlike American officials, who hold that women fliers aren't suited to arduous air duty, the Soviet gives women equality in aviation. Marina Mikhailovna Raskova (above), a young mother, has won a place in the Russian military aviation school as instructor of blind flying, in which she is regarded one of the world's foremost experts.

Contract Letting Is Drawing Delay

Letting of contract for construction and remodeling of the Frenship rural high school at Wolfforth has been postponed, according to Superintendent E. R. Haskins.

"We have received letters and messages from PWA at Fort Worth and it now looks as if something might be done," he explained. "We had about given up hope of any aid and were going ahead with our plans. It now looks as if we might receive some assistance."

The school district last spring voted $35,000 in bonds, with an application for a federal grant, to build a new rural high school building. The structure was to have been along the same lines as those at Roosevelt and New Deal No. 3.

Later the proposal was turned down by the federal group. Several months ago the board voted to go ahead with plans and the architect, O. R. Walker, was authorized to draw up plans that would include remodeling and enlarging the present gymnasium, adding some school rooms and making other changes.

Judge Bratton And Family Visit City

Judge Sam G. Bratton of the U. S. circuit court of appeals for the 10th circuit and his family were visitors in Lubbock Tuesday night. The jurist, who a decade or more ago tried cases here as a lawyer, was "surprised at the beauty and modern construction of the city."

Appointed by President Roosevelt in June, 1933, his bench is at Denver, Oklahoma City and at Wichita, Kans. His home is at Albuquerque, N. M.

His wife, a daughter, Miss Sammie Bratton, and a son, Howard Bratton, were with himself guests of the Hilton hotel last night. They are returning home from a two-weeks tour of Texas which included a visit to the central Centennial exposition and visits to Marshall and San Antonio.

Motion For A New Trial Filed Here

Prejudicial procedure in selecting jurors was alleged by plaintiffs, E. P. Edwards and others, in a motion for new trial filed Tuesday afternoon by Vickers and Campbell and Wm. H. Evans, attorneys, in the suit against West Texas hospital and others.

The defendants were awarded a verdict by the jury on all counts, returned Saturday, with judgment filed by Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court yesterday. In asking the court to set aside the verdict and judgment, the defendants alleged the plaintiff had been allowed six peremptory challenges and 12 other challenges.

One of two other judgments entered by Judge Pharr in the afternoon was for the plaintiff in the case of L. W. Baker against O. W. Sumner, E. O. Ainsworth and R. E. Gatewood, with dismissal of action against several other defendants. The plaintiff was ordered to recover $822.86 with 10 per cent interest until a chattel mortgage was paid, and a foreclosure on 44 head of cattle was directed.

The Panhandle Construction company, in a suit against J. C. Bowles and others, was ordered to recover $1,246.59 on two improvement certificates and property affected was ordered sold for judgment.

TECH STUDENT FINDS A FRIEND IN JAIL WHO PAYS HIS TRAFFIC FINE

A Texas Technological college student who went to City jail because he did not have a dollar with which to pay a traffic fine found a friend in the jail.

Runs Stop Sign

The student ran a stop sign. He pleaded guilty before C. E. Luce, City recorder, who assessed a fine of $1.

The student said he'd go get the money.

Later he appeared before Luce and said he'd failed; that he would "lay it out in jail."

Takes Books With Him

He had his books with him. He would "keep up" even in jail.

He was placed in a cell with the Odessan, who was arrested for Sheriff Reeder Webb of Odessa and later transferred to the Ector county officer's custody.

"What the hell are you doin' in here?" asked the man.

"I didn't have a dollar," said the student.

"Here it is," said the other, after listening to particulars. "Now clear out and get back to school." Or words to that effect.

The student went. The other man did not have such luck. He faces charges in another county.

But he has one friend, at least, who hopes they are not serious.

Units Are Granted To Frenship School

The state department of education has granted 18 units of affiliation to Frenship Rural high school, the department has advised E. R. Haskins.

The school has completed its first year as a four-year rural high school. It was one of three new rural schools in Lubbock county.

Affiliation includes the following subjects: general science, one; plane geometry, one; public speaking, one; Spanish, two; American history, one; commercial geography, one half; bookkeeping, one; typewriting one; English, four; algebra, two. Commercial arithmetic is to receive one half credit.

In addition home economics and vocational agriculture, one and a half credits each.

OIL NOTES

BITS OF NEWS FROM OVER THE AREA

TWO TESTS UNDER WAY

PLAINS, June 24 (Special)—Two active wildcat drilling tests are under way in Yoakum county, one just starting with standard tools and the other preparing to change to standard tools.

Roosevelt-Stogner No. 1 Googin, in section 215, was drilling below 2,200 feet, it was reported Tuesday morning. The change is to be made to standard tools, probably the last of the week.

Rotary equipment from this test, about 10 miles north of Plains, is to be sent to the Cascade-Honolulu No. 1 Duggan, et al. in Cochran county. Drilling of that test is expected to start about July 1. C. J. (Red) Davidson is driller for both tests.

In the Baham, et al No. 1 Henard in section 367, three miles west and one north of town, drilling had gone below 2,400 feet, with standard tools. The work was resumed Monday morning after the change had been made about two weeks ago.

TESTS SWABS FAIL

Test swabs in the Landreth Production Corp No. 1 W. H. Kirk, about nine miles south of Seminole, Gaines county, failed to show oil or gas when the wildcat ol test was swabbed to the bottom, Monday.

As a result, it was decided to drill deeper from the present bottom, 4,789 feet. Drilling water was shown, which rose to about 125 feet between runs.

Swab Lost In Hole

The test began swabbing Saturday, but the swab was lost in the hole. Tubing originally run to 4,350 feet, was lowered to bottom.

Observers were disappointed by failure to show gas, it was said in reports. Some had estimated up to five million cubic feet could be expected. Cores the last 100 feet, especially from 4,703 to 4,789, showed formation as very hard.

Test is in the southeast corner of section 22, block A-21, public school land.

In Tunis, North Africa, the coffee served is as sweet as molasses, as black as ink, and almost as thick as chocolate.

FLASHES OF LIFE

All He Did

KINSTON, N. C.—Recorder Joseph Dawson would not give the woman's name but gave her reasons for a divorce suit. She said her husband:

Poured salt on her bed.

Threw liquor in her face.

Burned her legs with a cigarette.

Beat her with a suit of padded pajamas.

What! No Bonus?

SAGINAW, Mich.—The first words of John Martyn, 95, after he was admitted to citizenship were:

"When do I get my check?"

He was the oldest person ever naturalized in Saginaw county.

Ready For Action

LAWTON, Okla.—Four boys, aged 11 to 14, were held for investigation after officers surprised them on a vacant lot in possession of six rifles, two pistols, eight dirks, 23 pocket knives, 20 full boxes of ammunition and four flashlights.

Dooms Mammy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Ample negro cooks of the traditional mammy type are giving way to streamlined servants.

The municipal bureau noted this trend in an official report. It was explained that the more heroically proportioned women just can't fit so well into the miniature kitchens of many bungalows and apartments.

Rhythm On Rails

RICHMOND, Va. — Mrs. Ellis Edmunds is organist at a local church, but her husband is more widely known as a musician. He plays a locomotive whistle by ear. Edmunds has practiced the art since he began railroading and now entertains residents along his route to Newport News with "The Old Oaken Bucket" and other favorites.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. Emery Sets Out To Gain Johnny Goodman's Crown

OKLAHOMAN SETS THE PACE FOR MEDAL IN TRANS-MISS

WICHITA, Kas., June 24 (AP)—Fresh from winning the last golf title of his own state of Oklahoma, Walter Emery set his sights on larger game today and swung for Johnny Goodman's Trans-Mississippi crown.

Emery, who won the Oklahoma amateur trophy last week, stepped into today's opening round of the "Trans" with medal honors, the result of his even par 72 yesterday.

To Cut Big Field

By tonight the field of 64 will be culled to 16, for second round matches this afternoon following immediately after this morning's first round of 18 holes.

Emery's first opponent today was Ted Adams, Kansas City. Goodman, the defending champion from Omaha, who shot 75, drew George Johnston of Wichita.

Others In Bracket

In the upper bracket with Goodman were Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., a former Trans-Mississippi champion; Leland Hamman, Paris, Tex.; Bob McCarty, Des Moines, Jack Munger, Dallas, and Walter Blevins, Kansas City.

For company in the lower bracket, Emery had O'Hara Watts, Harry Todd and Reynolds Smith, all of Dallas, Grable Duvall, jr., Kansas City, Rodney Bliss, jr., Omaha and Johnny Dawson, Chicago.

MARION MILEY IS AFTER SECOND TITLE

DENVER, June 24 (AP)—A fellow golfes from below the Mason and Dixon line was the second to cross Marion Miley's path today as the Lexington, Ky., girl pushed the quest for her second successive women's Trans-Mississippi title at the Denver Country club.

Her second-round opponent was Mrs. Leon Solomon, Tennessee champion from Memphis.

Miss Miley was forced to shoot no better than one over par in attempting a 7-and-6 defeat of her first opponent, Mrs. J. L. Bailey of Emporia, Kas., yesterday.

Patty Berg Runs Strong

Miss Miley's foeman in last year's finals, Patty Berg of Minneapolis, eliminated Mrs. Channing Folson of Kansas City, 8 and 6. She faced Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla., today.

Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, who tied with the 18-year old Minneapolis girl for the medal Monday at 74 strokes, was paired for the second round with Shirley Ann Johnson of Chicago, who won the only extra-hole match yesterday. She nipped Ann Sue Kennedy of Columbia, Mo., on the 19th green.

Mrs. Chandler, former Texas champion, made Mrs. Ben Grimes of Denver her victim by a 7-and-6 count.

POULTRY AND EGG CLUB IS WINNER

Scoring heavily in three innings for a new high tally mark of the season, the Lubbock Poultry & Egg company's team lambasted the Tip-Top cafe club, 20 to 6, yesterday in a Lubbock Softball association game.

Richard Godeke, outstanding softball hurler of the city, allowed the Tip-Toppers but two hits. The losers made grave errors, assisting as much in the opposition's scoring as the hits given up by Spruill. The winners collected only seven safe bingles.

Poultry & Egg	514 028—20	7	2
Tip Top	000 132— 6	2	7

Godeke and Puckett; Spruill and Williams.

In an exhibition game played at the 23rd and Ave. K park yesterday, the Terry & Childress league team defeated the Slaton Santa Fe club, 4 to 3, in a nine-inning game. Slaton tied the score in the seventh, and scored again in the ninth, but the locals put over two runs to win. Two were out in the last half of the ninth when the winning runs were scored. Still banging a home run, Taylor tripling and scoring on Bates' single.

Terry-Childress	200 000 002—4	8	2

TWO OF THE BEST

Without hesitation and without fear of successful contradiction, this bureau recommends tonight's rassling card, and particularly the main event, as one of the very best ever served up to a Lubbock and South Plains crowd.

It should be one of the best balanced, best all-round cards in a long time, but when better wrestlers are built than Matty Matsura and the Masked Marvel, Sled Allen will bring them to the Auditorium.

Two of the four top middleweight wrestlers on the planet are right here in Lubbock tonight. They may be too well matched to stage the best show in the world, but they're so far ahead of the average run of wrestlers that there's little comparison. The other two, as you well know, are Otis Clingman and Vic Weber. Of the four, the Mask probably is the better. He has beaten Clingman and Weber. He has never fought Matsura here, and our memory fails if they have ever opposed each other.

Matsura was leaving the circuit when the Mask came in last summer. They were on the same card here once, but never met. We do not recall their ever meeting in Amarillo. Tonight, the Mask will make it unanimous over the other three, thus standing alone so far as the records go. If forced to abide by the rules, particularly on defense, the Mask would already have lost to one or more of the other Big Three. But the Mask is one wrestler who does not intend to lose a match, not as long as that piston-like right hand is percolating. And can he use it! He isn't particularly a dirty fighter; he does not stoop to outrageous fouling tactics, but he does not hesitate to use that ight, and it's something Max Schmeling would be proud of. He does not hesitate to row for the ropes when in danger.

The Mask probably will win tonight, but he'll know he's had a battle. The Jap won't go down without a struggle. He'll probably take a fall, maybe the first, but not more than one. He's a sucker for a body punch, and that's where the Mask has it on him. Matsura may be the cleverest wrestler, offensively. He may know a trick or two that the Mask doesn't, but it isn't likely. The Mask is one of the most serious students of wrestling we ever saw. He didn't miss a trick in that Matsura-Trout match last week. And he's been around, too, where the best of the trade carry on their operations. Yep, he probably knows the tricks, but he'll probably play 'em defensively.

TWO OF THE TOUGHEST

Except for the punches and the rope climbing, the main event should be fairly clean and free of fouls. So much cannot be said for the supporting card.

If the Mask and Matsura are two of the best wrestlers, Sailor Tex Watkins and Buck Lipscomb are two of the dirtiest, foulest, meanest. They do not meet tonight. Oh, no. That's too promising an event, a top notch main event, and Promoter Allen is keeping 'em apart until that happy night, at which time Sailor Watkins will be the fair haired boy, the favorite of the fans. Because Buck Lipscomb (and that's his REAL name) is by way of doing a fair job of replacing the busted Danny McShain.

Lipscomb meets Dick Trout tonight, and Richard had best liok to his ears and eyes, his groin and his throat. Nothing would be more gratifying and soul satisfying than to see Brother Richard knock Lipscomb loose from his shoulders.

We say this because Buck richly deserves anything in the way of mayhem that could be passed along to him—and because we've a personal score to settle.

For the first time since he started promoting here, Sled Allen has been "took" for a nice ride. But Sled was not "took" for any nicer ride than this recorder of facts and faces. Sled discovered the truth before we did, but not early enough to make correction prior to last week's card.

We "knowed when we seen 'im" in the dressing room before last week's matches that we had caught that mug of Buck Lipscomb's somewhere before. So did a lot of wrestling fans when they saw him in the ring. But we couldn't quite place him. So we did the logical thing and asked him. So he took us for a chump, but not as big a chump as he thought. He denied ever being around here, or at Amarillo before.

And sure enough, the record book didn't show where any Buck Lipscomb had wrestled anybody around here. But the face troubled us, as we mentioned in next day's report. He was no "newcomer" here, as advertised by Sled and by this department, although we didn't know it at the time. So as soon as we could find Sled, which was several days later, we put it up to him. "Yep, we both got stung," he admitted. "I signed him up before I saw him, taking him on Mantell's recommendation. When he got here, I knew I'd seen him before, and I got a confession. He is——."

It was last September that Buck Lipscomb put in appearance here. Then he was known as Don Kent, and he hailed from Chattanooga. He was a rough, mean little upstart then, tough as a boot, and extremely unpopular in a couple or three supporting cards, until Larry Tillman got rough, too, one night and kicked him clean out of the circuit.

So Don Kent he is, first registering from Atlanta. But his "Hoosier Hotshot" dressing robe gave him away, and he turned out to be from Indianapolis, or one of its suburbs. Lipscomb evidently is his real name. He admitted to Sled that Don was his ring name, and that he dropped it.

Nertz to you Lipscomb, or Kent, any may you rfuture be anythiny but happy—for lying and low punching. But Sailor Watkins will take care of you, if Richard Trout doesn't do it tonight.

BALLOTING ON STARS NEAR

REMINDER IS OFFERED OF GRID GAMES SET FOR THIS FALL

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, June 24.—Forgive an unseasonable reminder, but balloting on those three college-professional football games for early September starts July 1 . . . Fans the nation over are urged to cast votes for favorite college stars for games at Dallas, Chicago and New York.

First of the three games is set for Soldiers field at Chicago Sept. 1, where Detroit's Lions, national pro champions, meet the collegians . . . Six days later, Chicago's Bears, dethroned "money" players, clash under the lights of Dallas' Cotton bowl with the nation's top college stars. . . . Three days later the New York Giants play still another college eleven at New York.

Feature Big Names

Texas' game, sponsored by the Dallas News and Texas Centennial corporation, will feature big names of the southwest, middle west and Pacific coast . . . Athletic Director Jimmy Stewart of Southern Methodist, has invited, and received affirmative replies from 15 stars . . . Many of Stanford's stars, New Year's day heroes against Southern Methodist, have accepted.

Dallas and New York are working hand-in-hand with the Chicago crowd, originators of the idea . . . Some of the collegians will come here; others will go east . . . New York has agreed to a "hands-off" policy on southwest stars . . . For the last time such stars as Bobby Wilson, Darrell Lester, John McCauley, Bill Wallace and Jimmy Lawrence will shine.

Votes may be mailed to the Chicago Tribune sports editor—after July 1 . . . Balloting on three coaches starts July 15.

This And That

Art Weis, the Texas league's 1935 batting champion, says he's had enough of baseball . . . He stubbornly refused to report to San Antonio after a delay had been cooked up whereby the Missions would deliver a pitcher to Fort Worth in 1937 . . . The southern slugger, hitting .300, said he wanted to go home—St. Louis . . . Strangely, he is being replaced by Jerry Moore, a youngster who quit baseball himself a few weeks ago and returned to his Pampa home from the Evangeline league . . . Harvey (Chink) Wallender of Texas, and Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons, are Texas' two lone survivors in the Olympic trials . . . Both will make the New York tryouts, Wallender in the 200 meter dash and Terry in the javelin toss.

MYSTERIES OF THE DIAMOND ARE SEEN

TRIBE AND SENATORS UPSETTING ALL THE BASEBALL DOPE

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Presenting a couple of A-No. 1, dyed-in-the-wool mysteries of the major leagues—the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators—who so far this season have been doing a flip-flop in form without rhyme or reason.

Your master-minding sleuth could make a full time job out of finding (1) what's keeping the Indians back and (2) what's holding the Senators up.

Playing .500 Ball

The Tribe, with a batting order that gives opposing pitchers the willies; a hurling staff that was among the more effective in the league last year and a complete setup that, on paper, figures to be battling it out with the leaders. Yet, the Tribe is playing just .500 ball; and, at the moment, is about ten games off the American league pace.

On the other hand, the Senators, with only two regulars batting better than .300, the highest under .325, with pitching, which, except for Jimmy De Shong who was not with the club last year, is, if anything, less effective than it was for a sixth place team in 1935, and who generally weren't rated in the first division are up there on the trail of the second place Red Sox.

Take It On Chin

The Indians took it on the chin again yesterday, 8-6, from the weakest collection of Athletics Connie Mack has put together in years, to drop out of third place. At the same time, the Senators were clubbing St. Louis pitching all over the lot, while De Shong chalked up his ninth victory, 10-5, to move the Washingtons into third place.

The Red Sox, meantime, pulled up a game on the Yanks by nosing out the Tigers, 7-6, while the White Sox were drubbing the New Yorkers, 13-4.

Experts Confounded

While the Indians and Senators are confounding the experts in the American league, the New York Giants are doing the same in the National. Just about counted out of the race because of their recent apparent collapse, the Giants suddenly revived pitching and an equally sudden hitting spurt by old Travis Jackson made it two straight over the Pirates yesterday with a 3-2 decision.

The Cards and Chicago Cubs, meantime, continued their merry chase at the top of the list, the former pulling out a tough 3-2 win over the Phillies, and the Cubs, paced by Frank Demaree's three-run homer, stopping the blustering Boston Bees 8-6. The Cincinnati Reds, behind some fine pitching by Wild Bill Hallahan, started the sinking Dodgers off on another losing streak with a 3-0 shutout.

Four-Star Bill Is Lined Up For Mat Fans Tonight

MASKED MARVEL AND MATTY MATSURA ARE TO GO ON IN MAIN EVENT AT AUDITORIUM

Two wrestlers who rarely, very rarely indeed, feel the mat under their shoulders, and four others capable of giving anybody's main event a distinct tang, are lined up for tonight's Auditorium show, one of the most promising shows Promoter Sled Allen has ever offered here.

Briefly, then in more detail, here's the card for tonight.

Curtain raiser—Dick Trout, San Pedro, Calif., vs. Buck Lipscomb, Indianapolis. One fall or 20 minutes.

Semi-final—Sailor Tex Watkins, Post, vs. Jack Hagen, Shreveport, La. One fall or 30 minutes.

The main event—THE MASKED MARVEL, Johannesburg, South Africa, vs. MATSUDA MATSURA, Portland, Ore. Two out of three falls, or 2-hour time limit.

Time—8:30 o'clock. Admission—Ringside, 65 cents; general, 40 cents; general for women and children, 25 cents. KFYO to broadcast grunt-by-groan proceedings.

They've all been here, the good middleweights of the world, including the champion, who is not nearly as colorful, tricky or entertaining as any one of 25 you could name.

ABOUT TICKETS

Ringside tickets for tonight's classical wrestling match may be purchased, as long as they last, at Lubbock Hotel Drug today, or orders may be left at the Auditorium, the box office of which will be open all day. Patrons are urged to buy tickets in advance.

The Mask and the Jap are officially listed at the top; according to this observer's listing, they ARE the tops, along with two, maybe three others that could be named, and who have appeared here.

The Mask drifted in a year or so ago, virtually unknown here because wrestling interest was just getting started. But it wasn't long until the fans realized they were looking at an uncrowned champion, because he fought every available hotshot in this circuit, and surrounding circuits, without losing a match. His record showed he had not lost a match in more than two years. He drifted out again, the only one to do that without having suffered at least one setback.

Still Undefeated

Since last August, the Mask has wrestled the best middleweights of three continents and ever so many countries, going from here to his favorite spot, Johannesburg, South Africa. From there he went to Asia, and thence to England and the European continent, wrestling and throwing the best those countries could produce.

Now he's back in one of the toughest middleweight sections of the country, starting out tonight on a six weeks booking, maybe more. It took nearly $6,000 to bring him here from Europe. Promoters of Lubbock, Amarillo, El Paso, Oklahoma City and Tucson, Arizona, put up the guarantee. He is due to wrestle here at least five times, perhaps six, before pulling out again.

In training at Amarillo and Palo Duro canyon since returning last week, the Mask is starting here tonight after nearly a month of layoff, and he is in great shape. This from recent Amarillo paper:

"Under a fireball sun, a thick-thighed man with sloping slugger's shoulders was trotting west along Highway 66.

"Covering his face was a length of white cloth, and riding on his shoulders was a dark, poker-faced boy in white shorts and nothing much else.

". . . . It was The Mask and his sparring partner, Prince Omar Yoachim of Algeria. . . . In temperament in performance, The Mask is a lot like a race horse, and he uses race horse training methods in preparation for the wrestling wars.

"After hours of furious milling on the mat with "the prince," The Mask often tops off a workout by carrying the Algerian piggy- back for five or six miles.

Wrestling is his vocation, and health is his religion. They don't come much thicker or harder muscled, or more durable and enduring, than The Mask.

Of The Mask's opponent tonight, little need be added to what has been said before. Matty Matsura, the Oriental star, is all there. One of the cleverest, one of the fastest ever to work here. A more colorful offensive wrestler than The Mask, Matsura's defense is weaker. But until he's down, it'll be a battle.

The supporting card leaves nothing neglected, or for the imagination. Fans got an introduction to Jack Hagen, Sailor Watkins' foe, last week, and learned that he could "take" it in a wild and wicked match with Buck Lipscomb, who has worked here before under another name but who kept his true identity secret until after his arrival last week. Lipscomb, a second Danny McShain, and Dick Trout are worth a better spot than the preliminary, but that's where they are tonight.

SHIPPERS ARE AT TOP BY A HAIR

GOING GETTING REAL ROUGH FOR TEAMS IN TEXAS RACE

The Beaumont Shippers, league leaders, and the San Antonio Missions, in seventh place, found themselves skating on pretty thin ice today. The Missions were but a half game ahead of the Fort Worth Cats, who won eight of their last nine games, and Beaumont found the Dallas Steers too close for comfort.

The spirited jockeying for position at both ends of the league standings was heightened in last night's games.

Garms Connects

Garms got hold of one of Vic Frasier's tosses and slammed out a homer scoring two runs in the third inning to give the Alamo City club a 2 to 1 decision over the Steers in the nightcap of a doubleheader. Dallas won the first game 8 to 7.

Beaumont profited from San Antonio's victory in the second game, holding its league lead despite losing to Port Worth 4 to 3. The Cats demonstrated their newfound strength with a three-run rally in the seventh.

Honors Divided

Jack Jakucki, Galveston flinger, and Max Thomas, on the mound for Tulsa, divided honors in a fine pitching duel—but Thomas stepped into one for a single in the ninth that scored the winning run for Tulsa. The score was 4 to 3.

Houston clung tenaciously to its fourth place rung after Jimmy Lyons, youthful southpaw pitching his first game for the Buffs, manhandled the Oklahoma City Indians, 9 to 2.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

CLEVELAND, June 24.—The Republican platform of 1936, like most political platforms, would have been another meaningless dud if it hadn't been for Alf Landon.

The Kansas governor's dramatic stroke in sending a telegram to the convention just before his nomination, declaring for a constitutional amendment and the gold standard, despite the fact that the politicians who wrote the platform had turned down mention of either, established him as a man of vigor and courage who intends, at least, to be his own boss.

He took two hard punches at the Old Guardsmen who inhabit the reactionary end of the Republican house and two at Senator William E. Borah at the other end.

The conservatives had denied Landon the constitutional amendment and civil service planks he sought. Borah was with the conservatives on the former and they had accepted his insistence that there be no mention of gold.

Landon, in effect, invited Borah to walk right out of the Republican party and see who cared.

The degree of Landon's independence and courage — virtues which his friends have always insisted he had—is indicated by the fact that mention of a constitutional amendment empowering states to regulate hours, wages, and working conditions of women and children had been supported by but one vote at the secret sessions of the subcommittee which wrote the platform.

That was the vote of Landon's spokesman, William Allen White.

Ignores Hot Protests

Landon's telegram was also a defiance of William Randolph Hearst, who somehow, early in the afternoon, had heard of the governor's intention and thereafter kept the wires to Topeka hot with protest.

There is another viewpoint, of course. Some will say that Landon was a bit too slick in waiting to make public his views on important issues until it was too late to do anything but nominate him, and that he might not have been nominated if he had spoken out a week earlier.

But it would seem that if politicians insist on nominating a man whose position on public questions is unknown, that's their own fault.

Some of the inside background may help you form your own opinion of what happened.

The platform subcommittee, apparently because the Landon forces were outsmarted, was found to be dominated by conservatives under leadership of a group similar to those which in many Republican conventions have been called the "senatorial soviet."

There was an important dissimilarity, however, in that this present group comprised ex-senators long since booted out of Congress by constituents who denied them re-election—Reed of Pennsylvania, Bingham of Connecticut, Moses of New Hampshire, and Edge of New Jersey among them.

Willing To Risk Licking

This group was willing to make certain concessions to keep Borah from bolting the party. It gave the Landonites as little as it could and still keep them from turning in a minority report and taking the issue to the convention floor.

Landon, over the telephone, expressed willingness that his lieutenants take the constitutional amendment fight to the floor and thus risk a licking. His aides decided against that.

White, Henry Allen, and Roy Roberts told the subcommittee again and again that Landon badly wanted the amendment, gold, and civil service planks, but the committee turned them down every time.

Landon even wanted to be careful not to put the party on record as barring possible federal legislation in the minimum wage and maximum hour field. His men fought for a plank proposing to give the states "power" to regulate, rather than "the power," since use of the word "power" with the article "the" would indicate that the state should have sole, reserved rights in such legislation.

Will Push Own Ideas

Flouted not only on the three points mentioned, but on several others, Landon at once decided to send to the convention his dramatic message, in which he "interpreted certain planks."

Landon's personal friends predict that he will make further "interpretations" in his campaign speeches and that he will publicly declare for other proposals which he had hoped to get into the platform.

Those proposals included:

A balanced budget within 18 months after election day.

A federal housing program.

Recommendation for congressional jurisdiction over reciprocal trade agreements, which the platform denounces in toto.

Some endorsement of crop control.

Landon's insistence on tackling the issues he has espoused does not obscure the fact that the Republican platform still fails to suggest specific remedies for some of the nation's most vital problems, and generalizes almost ad nauseam.

German's New Art Form Visualizes Musical Themes On Screen In Streaking Flashes Of A Fantastic Design

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 24.—One of these months, when you go to the movies and are brought face-to-screen with visual music, in color and in agitated futuristic forms, don't scoff audibly. It's art. And don't say you weren't warned, either.

The sole impresario of this new art form is a man named Oscar Fischinger, who just now is hidden away in a laboratory on the Paramount lot.

He toils there in happy obsurity, and the only persons who know anything about him are a couple of executives, some painters acquainted with his work in Europe, and a few highbrow musicians, such as Leopold Stokowski.

Fischinger doesn't speak English, and so is spared from spending all his time explaining just what it is he's trying to do.

The simplest explanation is that he makes designs which move on the screen in accompaniment to music. The designs don't look like anything you ever saw outside a kaleidoscope, although they are not so stylized, nor always geometric.

There are dots and lines, circles, and columns, blocks and balls, streaks and wings of light that swoop, swirl, dance, quiver, diminish, grow, and glow all over the screen.

Fischinger may see a heavy drum beat as an orange sphere shooting down a purple tunnel, or the music of many violins as a battalion of yellow lines converging into a crescendo of red rings.

Crazy, But Nice

Sounds crazy? Maybe it is. But it also is pleasant to watch. The artist says his shifting color patterns are "abstractions."

Hollywood will find a better term, because it knows that American lay critics of the arts have a private suspicion that all abstractionists, together with surrealists, cubists, and futurists, are only a couple of jumps away from the boobyhatch.

You can kid the public by hanging in a snooty art gallery a mad jumble of blatant blobs and labeling it "Nude Playing Badminton," or "Eggbeater No. 7," or anything you like. But you can't kid the public in a movie theater.

Indeed, the first time one of Fischinger's shorts was shown in a movie theater, there was a free-for-all fight. That was in Paris in 1921. Some customers thought it was swell; others were outraged.

Form Of Ballet

But that was before the days of talkies and color. Now he has put them all together so that music has color, sound, form, and movement. You can best liken it to a ballet.

In fact, some of his sequences immediately suggest dancing figures on a stage. But the forms do tricks that Nijinsky, Pavlova, and Fred Astaire never dreamed of.

A lot of European art critics have raved immoderately over Fischinger's visualizations of music. He has received prizes at the International Film Expositions in Venice. Academies of art exhibit his stuff to students.

The public likes his work. I saw a review from a Holland newspaper which devoted nearly two columns to one of his shorts. At the end were two paragraphs about the premiere, on the same program, of Grace Moore's latest picture.

Started With Shakespeare

Fischinger was a young engineer in Munich when he began monkeying with abstract motion pictures. His first one was made to illustrate a lecture he gave about Shakespeare. The audience thought he was pixillated.

But his fame grew, and he moved to Berlin and established a laboratory. Now he's in America to stay. What he's working on today is a special sequence that will be part of "The Big Broadcast." After that he'll make shorts, as he did in Europe.

He works mostly from printed scores, without bothering to hear them played. Squints at the notes and figures how they ought to be represented on the screen.

He draws and colors key designs, and four girl assistants do the rest. Actual production is exactly like the process of animating cartoons; thousands of paintings must be made and photographed one at a time.

Blue In Red

Through an interpreter I asked Fischinger how he'd score "Rhapsody in Blue." He said he'd probably do it mostly in red.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THEY'RE MARRIED—AND HOW!

John C. Benson, 73, and Elizabeth Pardee, 57, were married—and how!

They and the indispensable third person, in this instance a minister, betook themselves to Puget sound and, under the turbulent surface wash, said vows to love, honor and, possibly, obey.

Why Mr. Benson should elect to take his mate in the sea would have to be explained by the parties to the contract. Some have been joined in the air, some in trees, some standing on their heads (literally), and others in other more or less odd places and positions.

The essential conclusion is that, despite man's methods of becoming one with woman, his methods of buoying himself to stand nose-to-nose with obligations do not modify the institution of marriage.

To speculate idly, mayhap Mr. Benson or Miss Pardee had taken a vow never to be married on the face of the earth, and conceived their novel ceremony as a technical and, if their age allows, an agile sidestepping of that oath.

If the under-the-surface observation may be allowed, however, we wish them luck.

The GLAMOROUS ADVENTURE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GAIL EVERETT, winner of a prize for costume design offered by a large silk manufacturing company, comes to New York to find work. She is hired—due to a stroke of luck — by MADAME LIZETTE, proprietor of an exclusive shop. Madame proves temperamental and difficult to work for.

DEREK HARGREAVES, young artist, is interested in Gail, and offers her friendly advice. Frequently Gail sees DICK SEARLES, whose sister, ROSEMARY, was her roommate at school.

Meanwhile, in Arizona, MARK CHAPMAN, long a wanderer, returns to find his old home in the hands of the Travers Mining Co. Mark suspects the deal is crooked. He does not know the whereabouts of his niece, Gail, rightful owner of the property.

REX HALL, Madame Lizette's son, is representing the Travers company.

Gail spends the week-end at the Searles' home. Dick asks her to marry him and again she refuses.

She arrives home late Monday evening to find two messages asking her to call Derek.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

"Good morning, Miss Everett," exclaimed Miss Carolie next morning. "I guess you'll have to carry on alone again today, for Madame can't come down. If there's anything I can do to help you, just let me know. Better keep right on with the models for the 'Pre-Holiday Parade'."

"All right," Gail said as she hurried to her desk. But as soon as she had things started for the day she stepped into the telephone booth and called Derek. There was no answer. She tried again at noon, and still later on her way home, but no gay voice came to her over the wire.

She called again the next day, and the one after that, but still there was no reply. Gail could not understand it. Surely there must have been some urgent necessity that had made Derek call her twice in such a short time. A thousand worrying thoughts sped through her mind as the week drew to a close. Why had he failed to keep his date with her?

But throughout the week Gail had little time to think of her own affairs, for Madame's injuries had proved more serious than she had first thought and the burden of the work rested on Gail. One afternoon Madame Lizette sent for her to come to the apartment with Ariadne so that she might give her special instructions about some of the models.

Gail had gone with decided misgivings, for Ariadne had been far from helpful. The moment Gail's back was turned Ariadne would slip from the fitting room, and time as well as patience had to be wasted hunting for her. And while she posed, Ariadne ept complaining about everything, as if the young designer hadn't enough worries already! What made Gail especially annoyed was that, when they were at Madame's, Ariadne took particular pains to be most charming.

Gail wondered about this as she directed Toinette with her work on Friday afternoon. Perhaps the finisher sensed what was in the girl's mind, for she said, "You mustn't mind Ariadne. You see, Madame promised her that she'd give her a chance to do some designing. She never has and that's why Ariadne is so disagreeable."

"So that explains it! Well, I'll see if I can't do something about that."

But at that moment Lita entered. "Rita Cordell's in the showroom and Miss Carolie says for you to show her some of the fashion show styles. If she wants photographs, ask her to tell you which models she can use and we'll have the pictures made for her."

"All right, Lita. I'll be there in a minute," Gail said, and hastily finished explaining to Toinette about some ruffles.

A moment later she went forward to meet the newspaper fashion editor.

"How do you do, Miss Everett," Rita Cordell said. "I hear Madame Lizette's had quite a nasty accident."

"Yes," Gail replied, "but I think surely by next week she'll be able to come back again. I'll have Clytie slip on some of the things we've been making for our 'Pre-Holiday Parade'!"

"Oh, but that's too much trouble for you. I can look at them on the hangers."

"You'll get a much better idea of the lines if you see them on a model," Gail said as she summoned Clytie.

For the next half hour the fashion editor studied the new gowns. Then she said, "I must congratulate you, Miss Everett. Your things are lovely. I'd like to use that green sport ensemble and the little tea dance frock on my page."

"All right, Miss Carolie is having photographs made and she'll send them to you."

"Oh, thanks. Remember if there's anything I can do for you at any time, don't hesitate to call on me. Still, I don't suppose you'll be thinking of making a change—at least not for some time?"

"I don't think so, but I'll give you a call if I do."

"Fine! Be sure to read the Sunday paper—I mean the one a week from this coming Sunday. That's when I'm planning to use your dresses."

Gail ate a hurried dinner at the clubhouse that evening and was ready to leave when she ran into Natalie in the hall.

"Say, where have you been keeping yourself, Gail? I've knocked at your door till my knuckles are

CANDIDATE PROTESTS

To the Plainsman:

As you know, this is open season on the candidate, but there is one practice that the humane society should protest against—that of asking the office seeker what he thinks about another candidate's chances of success in the primaries. The poor man has all that he can attend to in looking after his own interests without becoming involved in a race other than his own. He usually twists and squirms on being questioned and ends in saying that he doesn't know, which statement is entirely within the confines of truth, as is demonstrated every election year when the returns come in and show that the majority of candidates fail to qualify as experts in the outcome of their own races, and any opinions from them as to what other aspirants are likely to do are of no value and serve no purpose other than to embarrass the candidate.

Younger Women Like This Easy Laxative

There's no need to dread a laxative . . . dread its griping, nauseating, upsetting effect. Take Feen-a-mint, the delightful chewing gum laxative. As soon as you start to chew it, its stomach-settling mint brings a clean, fresh taste to the mouth. And Feen-a-mint acts gently. For as you chew out the laxative ingredient which is absolutely tasteless, the flow of digestive juices is increased. The laxative is mixed with them and carried into the system evenly. It passes through the stomach without upset and into the bowels scientifically, so that your action is wonderfully easy and thorough. Try the pleasant, refreshing Feen-a-mint way. Doctors prescribe its laxative ingredient for both children and adults. It is non-habit-forming. Sold on a money-back guarantee. Generous family size package 15c and 25c.

for the rule.

Jones' farm plank said in part:

"We favor maintenance and improvement of the soil conservation and domestic allotment system, including conservation and rebuilding of the soil and seeking of new industrial uses and additional outlets and markets for farm products. . . .

"A price basis to place agriculture on an equality with industry is necessary. While the necessary adjustment to accomplish this purpose is desirable, we favor the production of all the market will absorb both at home and abroad and a reserve supply sufficient to assure a fair price to the producer and consumer alike. . . .

"We pledge to reduce (farm) tenacy by extending credit through which qualified farm tenants may become owners. We also pledge the necessary provision to assist in the further development of rural electrification."

Members Of Board Have Not Arrived

Members of the state park board, headed by former Governor Pat Neff, chairman, had not arrived at noon, it was said at headquarters of Mackenzie park. It was not known if they would stop in town for lunch before coming to the park.

The chairman and his party had been inspecting Palo Duro canyon park near Amarillo and were to leave

One Man Is Killed And Fifteen Hurt

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 24. (AP)—One man was killed and 15 men and women were injured today in the explosion of a high pressure compressed air line in the Trico Products corporation plant here.

The explosion blew out windows and ripped partitions apart on the fifth floor of the factory, where it centered.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3 to 6 points decline under spot house selling and liquidation. July 12.15; Oct. 11.45; Dec. 11.40; Jan. 11.39; March 11.42; May 11.46.

The opening decline which carried October off to 11.45 or about 23 points from the high price touched on Monday's advance attracted considerable trade demand.

There was also scattered covering and rebuying. After initial offerings had been absorbed prices became steadier.

October rallied to 11.52 and the market at the end of the first half hour showed advances of 2 or 3 points from yesterday's closing quotations on new crop months.

The weekly report of the weather bureau appeared to be about as expected and had little apparent effect on the market which was comparatively quiet later in the morning. At mid-day new crop months were 1 to 6 points net higher with Oct ruling around 11.50 while Jly was 4 points net lower at 12.14.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 24. (AP)—Cotton futures clipped off a few additional points at the opening today.

Important trade buying was lacking and the light amount of offerings thrown on the market found few takers. As a result Oct. dipped to 11.39, Dec. to 11.36 and Jan. to 11.36. July opened at 12.14 bid, compared with its previous final price of 12.18 bid.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Chrysler drove its way to a new 6-year high in today's stock market and other selected issues loped along in its wake.

The list had a few soft spots, however, and was irregular at the start. The activity was small in most groups at the approach of the fourth hour.

Dividend hopes, inspired by surplus profits penalties in the new tax bill, spurred buying in certain stocks. Politics seemed a neutral influence. Other news was a bit spotty.

Aside from Chrysler, which got up more than 3 points, Westinghouse leaped ahead 2 when the directors voted a $1 payment on the common against 75 cents in the two preceding quarters.

Other gainers included General Motors, Western Union, Timken-Detroit Axle, Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, Corn Products, Loew's, Ward Baking "A", Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, J. I. Case, Zenith Radio, International Nickel, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, American Power & Light, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Consolidated Oil, Pure Oil and Continental Oil.

U. S. Steel, Auburn, Radio, American Can and Consolidated Edison were inclined to slip.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Hesitancy on the part of potential buyers distinguished wheat dealings late today, and as a rule prices pivoted at around yesterday's close.

Expansion of the domestic flour trade was a bullish factor as to wheat. On the other hand, Canadian reports said American mills have been good purchasers of Canadian wheat of late, and this was construed as bearish on domestic wheat values.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-4 off to 1-4 up compared with yesterday's finish, July 95 1-4 to 3-8, Sep 96 1-8 to 1-4. Corn 1-4 to 7-8 advanced, Sept 68 3-8 to 1-2, oats 1-8 to 3-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents down.

into which the whole world is plunged. . . ."

He cited the "glorious victories of the people's front in France" as "proof of the correctness of the communist program."

"Our party has its roots deep in American life and revolutionary traditions," he said. "We inherit and continue the traditions of 1776, of the declaration of independence, of the birth of our nation in the fires of revolutionary upheaval.

Continue Traditions

"We inherit and continue the tradition of Lincoln, of the emancipation proclamation, of the revolutionary Civil war.

"We inherit and continue the tradition of generations of heroic struggle to build the American labor movement with its organizations, for the day of illegality to its great promise of today, when, for the second time, it challenges its greatest enemy, the steel trust."

Breckenridge Man Dies Of Injuries

HOBBS, New Mexico, June 24. (AP)—L. D. Henderson, 24, of Breckenridge, Texas, died in a hospital here yesterday of injuries received in an accident which Monday cost his brother's life.

The brothers were run down in a collision at an intersection here. John Henderson, 26, died without regaining consciousness.

Their bodies will be returned to Texas for burial.

Search For Bandit Trio Is Abandoned

McALLEN, June 24 (AP) — Starr county officers abandoned today a search for three Mexicans who kidnaped and robbed yesterday I. C. Stribling of this city.

Stribling told officers he was inspecting a gas line when one of his abductors asked for a match. He said the other two seized him from behind as he felt in his pocket, bound him and placed him in his car, driving through Rio Grande City and Roma.

the Rotary International convention and they're coming over for a day at the Farley circus as are Ray Watson, P. A. Benbow, Percy Cole and Burnett Roberts, Levelland Rotarians. The Plainsman ran into the Hockley county delegation in Washington Saturday and we all pored over the latest edition of The Morning Avalanche, which arrived at Congressman Mahon's office just as we did. Mr. Benbow is Demo chairman in Hockley county.

SENATOR Tom Connally will be one of the administration's stumping stalwarts in the fall.

He told The Plainsman in Washington, modestly, that he would take the stump if requested, or would be working in Roosevelt-Garner headquarters, but everybody knows he won't be poked away in headquarters.

One of the best speakers and campaigners in the party, Tall Tom from Marlin will make the welkin ring for the New Deal and the party leaders are logically expecting big things from him.

George Mahon, too, will be on the stump in November but he has no idea in what part of the country since assignments have not yet been made.

Ditto for Marvin Jones, of Amarillo, one of the outstanding men in Congress, whose word carries much weight in the farming sections and whose platform attack is a honey.

Over at Washington the other day The Plainsman managed to pull some strings and was shown all over the fine new Department of Justice building by one of the top flight G-men.

On return home this column will be turned over some day to a description of the famous Bureau of Investigation, headed by J. Edgar Hoover, gangster nemesis, the finest, most efficient organization of its kind in the world and one that makes London's famed Scotland Yard look like the small imitation of the real thing.

PHILADELPHIA, New York and Washington newspapers this afternoon are forecasting that the convention, beginning tomorrow, is going to bring out plenty of fireworks.

There will be, as forecast here a few days ago, a bitter struggle over the platform and over how far to the left the party can or should swing.

It's time to meet the trooping Texans at the Ben Franklin hotel so so long—and we'll be seein' ya!

veto power passes my comprehension."

Although National Chairman James A. Farley has reiterated the question was for the states to settle themselves, he continued to predict a majority for repeal.

Veterans Receive Payments In City

Nearly 600 former service men have certified their adjusted service bonds with the Lubbock postoffice, Postmaster Amos Howard said this morning, bringing back into this city approximately $250,000.

Government checks for the bonds, are now being received. The first few came Saturday and nearly all of the remainder are now here.

Mr. Howard reported 592 veterans had certified 5,048 bonds. At a face value of $50 per bond, the amount was $252,150.

The first day for the registered packages to arrive, about 650 were received, Mr. Howard said. More followed and it is now estimated that between 700 and 800 former service men have received their adjusted service payments.

Another 100 to 150 are expected to be received soon. There are said to be 1,136 former service men in Lubbock county.

In addition to the bonds, most of the men received a government check for the amount of their bonds in excess of a $50 denomination. These were cashed immediately by veterans.

Congregation For Jews Being Sought

Plans are under way, following a meeting last night of local Jews, for the starting of a Jewish congregation in Lubbock.

Dr. Alex Neisel, Amarillo rabbi, spoke to the meeting, held in the Hotel Lubbock. A committee, headed by Morris Levine, was named to go into the matter and to report to a second meeting, scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

There are between 25 and 30 families, or more, available for the congregation. It is hoped to be able to build or lease a suitable building in which meetings can be held.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 24. (AP)—Will R. Manier, jr., Nashville, Tenn., attorney, was elected president of Rotary International at its convention today.

There was no other nomination and he was declared "unanimously elected" to succeed Ed. R. Johnson, of Roanoke, Va.

Haynes, Lubbock architect.

Supply In Demand—A supply of 52,000 units on northern West Texas, incorporated into material furnished by the Conoco Travel bureau, Denver, Colo., is nearly depleted, according to information received by the chamber of commerce. LITTLE GIANT legged transgressions that occurred more than two years previously.

Last March 10 Cutten was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of failure to pay $414,425 in taxes on 1929 income. He was accused of attempting to evade payments totaling $229,944 on 1930 and 1933 income in another indictment returned last April 28. The charges were still pending at the time of his death.

Held Large Fortune

The fortune of Cutten—during the litigation government counsel termed him "the greatest speculator the country ever had"—was variously estimated from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

He would not discuss his wealth. He rarely discussed anything. Small, unobtrusive, reticent, his manner was so quiet that he was a virtual legend among the world's financiers.

A youth of 20, he came out of his native Canada to take a $7 a week job in Chicago, his work in a brokerage office gave him a knowledge of grain trading. In 1906, he married, gathered a $3,000 stake and entered the Chicago board of trade. But his sensational deals did not develop until the World war ended.

Leaps To Attention

He literally leaped into world wide attention with his July corn coup of 1924. The general opinion was that corn was due to drop. He began to buy at 70 cents a bushel, subsequently sold at $1.10, stepped out with a gain estimated up to $2,000,000—and followed through with an even greater "killing" in wheat.

Cutten seized the opportunity of rising to step into the stock market in the late twenties. He led the "big ten" trading bloc. Ranking speculators were his associates. With another syndicate, they were credited with buying and selling half the stocks turned over on the New York stock exchange in days of huge volume. He was reported to have made as much as $10,000,000 on single deals.

But the self-styled "cash grain merchant" disclosed nothing concerning stories that he and his colleagues made $10,000,000 in Baldwin Locomotive stock in 1927, and from $18,000,000 to $35,000,000 in early 1929 in Montgomery Ward. But he did tell a senate banking committee, investigating the market in 1933, that he and friends shared $12,000,000 from Consolidated Oil securities deals.

Hutchinson's Home Is Being Remodeled

Remodeling of the Dr. J. T. Hutchinson residence, 1519 Broadway, into a two-story, nine room Colonial style residence, has been started by J. B. Maxey, local contractor.

Plans were drawn for the structure by S. B. Haynes, architect. The contract was awarded Mr. Maxey and he has a force of men at work.

RETIREMENT FOR DAVIS CONFIRMED

Retirement of Gen. Charles A. Davis from the position he has held since 1931 as professor of military science and tactics at Texas Technological college has been officially confirmed at the college.

General Davis was retired last year from the United States army. He was colonel of the 131st field artillery at the time of his retirement.

It has been understood some time that he also would retire from the position at the college, partially because of ill health, although he has offered no formal resignation, it was announced.

No officer will be appointed to replace General Davis since the senior Reserve Officers Training unit will be opened next fall at the college and the United States army has assigned Capt. Frank A. Pettit as commander. The unit will replace the former military training department.

General Davis served through the session which closed this month at the college.

FLOOR BATTLE

a "production-for use" plank.

The senator was not present at the caucus which instructed him. Nor was he on hand for the opening of public hearings today before the resolutions committee.

Green was the first spokesman for a major organization before the resolutions committee. He asked also for a five day 40-hour week plank and continued public works.

With reference to the Supreme court's invalidation of New Deal legislation, the labor spokesman said workers of the nation were dissatisfied with having a mere majority vote killing acts of congress.

"For this reason," Green said, "we recommend that you incorporate in your platform a declaration in favor of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the United States which provides that no law shall be declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court except by not less than two-thirds vote of its members."

Urges Strong Plank

He urged, too, a strong plank declaring labor's right to organize and bargain collectively and a long list of other planks which included:

High wages and adequate annual income for workers' preservation of free speech, press and assembly; continuation of a social security program; ratification of the pending child labor amendment to the constitution; more restrictive immigration legislation; approval of the Wagner housing act and deportation of aliens who advocate revolution and violent overthrow of the American political and social order.

Shrubs about the property are being protected while the work is under way.

The GLORIOUS go FORTH

No one can deny they've taken their place in the sun—these brilliant American women. A week-day finds them, as a matter of course, lightheartedly assuming a full share of the work and responsibility of this busy world. But a holiday sees them off with equal enthusiasm for a carefree playtime. Fresh—relaxed—youthful—they hail the freedom of field and road and beach—and the pursuit of happiness.

Gone are the green veils and the timid gestures of other days. Gone the dull complexions—and the dragging old-fashioned grind of duty that kept them prisoners from the sun. Nowadays woman's work IS done—and done in time for a wave and a beauty treatment.

How? By keeping herself posted on the newest ways to do things—the time-savers, beauty builders, feminine aids and allies. By reading, studying, comparing and experimenting—in the advertising pages of this very newspaper. Advertising is writing a great share of the modern woman's independence program.

The glorious go forth to buy, as they go to play, with assurance and the resolve to make the most of life. They know what they want and where to find it, and the right price to pay. The time and money saved are beauty aids in themselves. READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

Woman Is Burned During Explosion

AMARILLO, June 24 (AP) — Explosion of a pan of kerosene and wax as she prepared to wax floors of her home last night left Mrs. Ifon Shelton, 20, near death.

Mrs. Shelton, mother of a year-old daughter, rushed from her home a flaming torch to start rolling across her front yard.

She was seized by Cecil Flanagan, a neighbor. With the aid of another passerby, he smothered the flames by wrapping her in a blanket. Flanagan then extinguished a small blaze inside the house.

More than two thirds of the woman's body was seared. Physcians at a local hospital despaired of her recovery.

Farm Management Work Increasing

Farmers are beginning in increasing numbers to keep accurate records of their income and outgo, said S. A. McMillan, College Station, farm management specialist of the state extension service, who was here yesterday conferring with County Agent C. C. Jobson.

Mr. McMillan checked several record books that Mr. Jobson had. He complimented the 1935 record of Fred Kveton, Abernathy, in particular, saying it was one of the best he had seen.

A number of counties, particularly Stonewall, are working on farm management and record keeping through community groups he said. He was en route from the North Panhandle to El Paso, where he will be for several days. Recent rains in the northern part have added much hope to crop prospects, he added.

BLOWS UP CITY

CHUNGKING, West China (AP)—Twenty persons were killed at Kwangan near here when a thief, cutting into a powder magazine, lit a match to find his way. The explosion leveled scores of buildings.

BONUS PAYMENTS ARE BEING MADE

AUSTIN, June 24 (AP)—Postmaster Ewell Nalle said today that bonus checks to war veterans in the southern half of Texas were being mailed almost as rapidly as the bonds of the vast majority who desire immediate cash are received from postmasters over the district.

Nalle stated that more than $3,000,000 already had been put in circulation in this district through distribution among nearly 8,000 veterans. The office here is the pay-off station for the entire south half of Texas except the larger cities.

Approximately 95 per cent of the ex-soldiers in this district are asking that their bonds be converted to cash, Nalle said, and in a great majority of instances they are surrendering all of their bonds.

Nalle said that many bonds were being returned to the various postmasters because forms were not filled out properly. In other instances, payment of the bonds has been delayed by stop orders from Washington, he stated.

The Austin postmaster has about 44 extra employes on bonus duty. He pointed out that approximately 65,000 veterans live in this district.

Bad Elimination Makes It Easier To Catch a Cold

With the right sort of food and proper exercise, constipation might be rare, but in actual living conditions, how few manage to escape it.

Mr. Clyde Martin, of Ona, W. Va., recently very aptly wrote that "constipation is the root of a lot of sickness, but if Black-Draught is taken right it will keep down constipation."

"If I let myself get constipated," he explains, "and my system filled with impure matter, I feel bloated, take cold easily, and feel out of sorts in a lot of ways. I will take about two good doses of Black-Draught. It seems to cleanse my whole system and I feel like doing my work."

skinned!"

"I've been working late. Madame's still away. If she gets back next week, let's make a night of it Monday."

"Why not tonight?" questioned Natalie.

"Sorry. I can't make it. I'm going to the library to look up some special period costumes."

"Well, don't work too hard!" Natalie was annoyed. She had counted on having Gail's company whenever she wished it, for she knew the other girl had few friends in the city.

As she walked rather disconsolately toward the elevator she heard a bellboy shouting: "Call for Miss Everett! . . . call for Miss Gail Everett!"

Quickly she hurried toward him. "Miss Everett's just stepped outdoors. If you rush you may catch her.

A moment later she saw Gail enter the foyer with the bellhop. Natalie stepped into the elevator. Even if she did want to know who was calling Gail, she couldn't very well question her now.

Gail entered the booth and said over the telephone: "Do you wish to speak to Gail Everett?"

"You bet I do," came the vibrant voice of Derek Hargreaves. "But first I want to apologize for not taking you to the Ferrara Gallery. I was called out of town unexpectedly, and didn't have a moment to write you. I hope you'll forgive me."

"Oh, that's all right!" Gail's heart was beating happily as she answered. "I tried to get you the next day. I was out with one of the girls that evening and we didn't get home until after midnight. I thought that was too late then to phone."

"Never worry about that. I'm quite accustomed to late calls! But now that I've found you I want to know if you'll come with me to a reception at Mrs. Morton's. I'll drop around for you a little before 4 Sunday afternoon if that's O. K. with you?"

"That will be lovely. Thanks ever so much."

"Fine! Everything going all right?"

"I guess so. I'll tell you all about things Sunday." With a word of goodby Gail hung up the receiver.

When she reached the library her thoughts were in a whirl. Derek wanted her to meet the famous Mr. Morton. They were going to her gorgeous duplex apartment on Park avenue. She got the books on costume design and made a few sketches, but she could not concentrate on her work.

The sound of chairs being pushed back, the quick, silent tread of attendants as they went from table to table collecting books and putting them once more in their places—usually a disappointment—was a relief to Gail. She hadn't got exactly what she'd wanted, but perhaps she'd manage to make out.

As she walked back to the clubhouse, she felt as though she was walking on air. She scarcely saw the brightly lighted streets with their crowds of men and women—many in evening dress—as they stepped from luxurious cars; humbler family parties watching the throngs, or straggling back to their homes; darting newsboys shrieking the last headlines; down-and-outers begging for nickels and dimes.

Pity might have swelled in Gail's heart at the sight of these unfortunates or envy for those obviously enjoying wealth, but such thoughts were foreign to her mind at the moment. Derek had called and on Sunday she'd be with him again! What frock would she wear? The green one with the metallic trimming? Yes, that would do, for she had all the accessories to make it a striking ensemble!

"Come in," cried Gail, glancing up from the Sunday newspaper she had been reading, as she heard a knock at the door of her room. "Oh, it's you Natalie! I didn't see you at breakfast, so I thought perhaps you were week-ending with some of your relatives. It's such a lovely day!"

"Nothing like that. I've been loafing. Just got up . . . haven't even looked at the papers. Anything in them?"

"Nothing special. I was reading Rita Cordell's pages. Her articles are splendid!"

"Has she written you up yet?"

"Oh, no! I don't suppose she'll ever do that—unless I have my own place. Heaven knows when that will be, for it takes an awful lot to live even as simply as we do here."

"You're telling me? I've often thought it would be cheaper to have an apartment, but that means furnishing it or living with things you'd be sure to hate—or else having someone to share expenses. How'd you like to do that?"

"Mightn't be a bad move."

"Of course, we'd have some housework to do, for I don't suppose we could afford a housekeeper at first. I hate housework. But there, I'm ravenous. It's almost 1. Let's go down to dinner!"

"All right," Gail answered, wondering how she could shake Natalie afterwards. She did not want to tell her she was going out with Derek. Yet she knew that if Natalie came back with her and saw her dressing she'd want to know where she was going!
