Mutilated Body Of Child Is Found Buried In Cellar

Brutal Murder And Attack Is Bared Tuesday

Pretty Nine-Year-Old Girl Is Found Dead After Search Of Surrounding Territory; Had Been Missing Since Xmas

Suspects Are Held

Body Is Bound By A Piece Of Rope And Concealed In Bag Under Woodpile; Police Say She Was Attacked

(By The Associated Press)

NORWOOD, Mass., Dec. 27. — The mutilated body of pretty Anealy Keras, 9, was found in the cellar of her home today and soon afterward one man, who lived in the same house, was held on a murder charge and another as an accessory. She had been missing since Christmas day.

The body of the child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keras, was bound by a piece of rope and concealed in a burlap bag under a woodpile. Police said, pending a medical examiner's report, it was apparent the child had been criminally attacked.

Two Others Sought

The men held were Ahmeed Orsman, 50, who occupied a tenement in the Keras house, and Allie Orsman, 48. Ahmeed was charged with murder and Allie with being an accessory. Search was made for two other men who were known to have visited Ahmeed's apartment Christmas day.

The child's body, fully clothed except for shoes, was found in that portion of the cellar allotted to the Orsman tenement.

Assistant Attorney General Edmund Dewing of Norfolk county, who took charge of the case upon discovery of the body described it as a "most brutal murder." An autopsy was begun immediately by a medical examiner.

Resentment Flares Up

Resentment over the child's slaying flared up in the neighborhood when the finding of the body became known and special detail of police was sent there to prevent violence.

Discovery of the body was made by Sergeant William Barron of the Norwood police, who visited the cellar again today although it had been searched three times previously. The peculiar actions of a dog which Barron brought with him led the officer to the wood pile in that section of

Bus Passengers Get Thrill As Lone Bandit Steps Into Role Of Old West

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Dec. 27.—Ten passengers on a transcontinental Golden Eagle lines east bound bus were given an old time western thrill this afternoon when a lean young bandit commandeered the 35-passenger vehicle near Lordsburg, N. M., and held passengers and drivers at bay for 60 miles.

He halted driver W. F. Wilson, 35, Dallas, near the outskirts of Lordsburg, and when Wilson opened the bus door the bandit swung aboard, pistol in hand, and commanded him to drive on.

The bandit lined up the passengers and relief driver, Paul Wolfinger, on one side of the bus, and commanded them to hand him their money. He obtained about $20.

Seemingly at ease, he joked about the number of jails he had been in and marital troubles at home. Passengers glanced apprehensively at the pistol, and then at the desert country rolling behind them at 50 miles an hour, and tried to believe that they were living in 1932.

Three miles out of Deming, N. M., the bandit commanded Wilson to stop, and jumping from the coach, ordered him to drive on. Wilson reported the holdup to Deming authorities, and a hunt was organized.

Passengers who were robbed were Ben Marks, Dorchester, Mass., $12; Austin Malley, Catalena Island, Calif., $2; Paul Elliot, New Castle, Penn., 75 cents; Mrs. Winifred Pitchford, San Diego, Calif., amount undetermined; D. A. Gohman, Denton, Tex., 40 cents; Andrew Flaght, Brantford, Canada, 75 cents.

Location Of Unit In Lubbock Discussed By State Health Officer; Total Of $10,000 Would Be Required

Location of a public health unit in Lubbock county was discussed last night by Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, speaking at a meeting of Lubbock County Medical society. Dr. K. E. Miller of Austin, of the United States Public Health service, is to arrive this afternoon to discuss the proposal with doctors and county and city officials.

White-haired Doctor Anderson, following the medical meeting, explained the set-up of the proposed unit. Four persons, two nurses and two sanitarians, would be the minimum number of employes, and about $10,000 would be required annually. The state health officer said that the state would provide one half the amount, the remainder to be raised by the city and county.

Practice Among Indigent

The unit would practice preventative medicine among the indigent of the city and county, immunizing children of poor parents against diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever, checking sanitation both in the city and in rural sections, testing the milk supply, inspecting foods and food shops, and checking water supplies of schools and waste disposal.

Doctor Miller, director of the public service's malarial unit in East Texas, also has charge of the coun-

EL PASO, Dec. 27 (AP) — Bandits shot and killed Jose Reza, 25, son of a wealthy Chihuahua, Mex., rancher as he was going to a nearby restaurant for sandwiches for a party. The bandits escaped.

Roberto Rocha, a friend, said he believed that Reza was slain by bootleggers who had delivered liquor for the party and saw that he had a roll of bills.

Captain W. C. Soo Woolverton of the city detective force said he received information that two men threatened to kill Reza Christmas night because he had been paying attention to a woman.

Woman Denies Part In Crime

Suicide Note Is Left By Man Accusing "The Other Woman" Of Plotting Poison Death Of His Wife

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27—A suicide note left by Sidney J. Hawks, 35, meat salesman, accusing "the other woman" of plotting the poison death of his wife was denied today by Mrs. Helen Kesler 27, who said Hawks' motive was "revenge."

Mrs. Kesler admitted she was the "Helen" mentioned in the note which Hawks wrote before poisoning himself yesterday but she denied even knowing his wife's death was caused by poisoning.

"I thought she died from sickness," said Mrs. Kesler, who met Hawks shortly after her third marriage.

"After she died, he kept insisting that I marry him. But I was tired of him. The reason he wrote such mean things in his death statement was because he wanted revenge."

Senate Study For Economic Ills Proposed

Harrison Declares Nation Has Groped In Economic Despair And That Situation Shows No Marked Improvement

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A systematic search by a senate committee for the road to prosperity was proposed today by Senator Harrison, of Mississippi.

The senator, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, announced he would offer a resolution immediately after the holidays calling for a study "of the whole economic situation with a view primarily of obtaining constructive suggestions from leading economists, financiers and statesmen as to methods and policies to restore economic stability."

Groped In Despair

"We have now groped in economic despair for more than three years," he said in a formal statement announcing his proposal. "The situation neither at home nor abroad shows any marked improvement.

"The methods which have been adopted are merely palliative. The situation has become cancerous.

"Certainly in the circumstances the best constructive thought of the nation should be given, that the congress and the new administration may be aided in adopting the wisest policies which will hasten economic recovery.

Must Effect Savings

"Personally, I believe that radical curtailment in government activities and every economy in governmental administration must be adopted, thus effecting savings to the taxpayers. A balanced budget

Garner Thinks General Sales Tax Is Doomed

Plan Virtually Dismissed As Possibility Tuesday After Roosevelt Denies That He Will Offer Support

President-Elect Represented As Being "Horrified" That Published Reports State He Endorses Tax Measure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—The sales tax recommended by President Hoover and again thrust forward in congress during the past few days, virtually was dismissed today as a possibility at the present session.

This was clearly indicated after President-Elect Roosevelt at Albany was represented as being "horrified" by published reports he had endorsed the general manufacturers sales tax.

Attitude Kills Plan

This attitude on the part of the next president, said Speaker Garner, "kills the sales tax this session, anyhow."

Even before this, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, ranking Democrat on the senate finance committee, had expressed opinion the sales tax could not pass through his branch. This view generally was held by Democratic leaders.

In both branches, however, the Democrats pushed forward their attempt to balance 1934's budget, so as to avoid if at all possible a special session before next fall.

To Begin Study

The ways and means committee of the house will begin January 3, an exhaustive study of federal financing.

This is the tax-raising committee and its chairman, Collier of Mississippi, only yesterday said he knew of no means of balancing the budget except the sales tax.

However, the views of President-Elect Roosevelt communicated to congress had been directed largely at reduction of expenditures, and intensive work along that line is in progress. A study of fixed expenditures, which do not vary from year to year, and amount in all to more than a billion, was undertaken by a sub-committee of the appropriations committee at the request of Chairman Byrns. They are to see if any reduction is feasible. As Democratic congressional lead-

Court Orders Release After Brief Hearing

Former Utilities Magnate Is Free Man With Decision Of Greek Court; Defense Case Is Cut Short

Larceny Charged

Court Rules Insull Committed No Offense And Had No Fraudulent Intention; He Thanks Justice Of Greece

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Dec. 27.—Samuel Insull ate dinner with friends tonight, a free man after a Greek court had refused to sanction his extradition to the United States to answer Cook county, Ill., charges of mismanagement of funds of his utilities companies.

The court, after having peremptorily cut short the presentation of the defense case, found depositions brought to Athens from Chicago did not support the charges against the former utilities operator, and let him go free.

Emerges As Hero

There were extraordinary scenes among the large crowd which had gathered for the verdict and shouts of "long live Greek justice!" echoed through the building from which Insull emerged something of a hero.

"I owe thanks to Greek justice for the sympathy expressed," the Chicagoan said.

The charges against Mr. Insull in Chicago are grand larceny and embezzlement. They involve payments of $66,000 and $104,000 which, according to a deposition made by Oliver McCormick, treasurer of the utilities companies, were made to brokers for Martin Insull, a brother.

Ordinary Transactions

The prosecution contended these payments constituted embezzlement. The court held they were ordinary business transactions, that they were loans made for the purpose of saving the price of stock in which the companies were greatly interested.

Mr. Insull had no fraudulent intention, the court decided, and he committed no offense. The tribunal held that none of the charges made against him had been backed up by the depositions presented in court, and that there was no justification for extradition.

Mr. Insull was debonair and talkative when he walked into the hearing room. He complied with the formality of establishing his identity, asserted he had no profession, and agreed the proceedings be public.

Robinson Accuses Republicans Of A Plot To Force Roosevelt To Call A Special Session After Inauguration

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. — The Republican administration was accused tonight by Senator Robinson, Democratic leader of the senate, with engaging "in a policy of partisan political obstruction to prevent the enactment of legislation apparently with the idea of forcing the incoming president to call a special session.

The Arkansas senator added his party has "no fear" of an extra session and will push then legislation which it is offering now, but asserted "the responsibility for the delay and the added burden to the American taxpayer will be on the Republican party."

Vetoes Are Reported

Asserting there are reports that vetoes await beer, farm relief and other legislation, Robinson said, in a formal statement issued through the Democratic national committee:

"This, of course, means not only delay during which a deprivation of additional revenue assures the constant mounting of the deficit and thereby makes the task of balancing the budget increasingly difficult, but it subjects the country to the great expense involved in bringing congress to Washington and holding it here for an indefinite period."

Would Cost Half Million

An extra session, Robinson estimated, would cost at least half a million dollars.

Referring to what he called "the prospective veto of the beer bill," Robinson said this would not only "nullify the overwhelming indorsement which the people of the United States gave to the Democratic party platform but deprive the country of the revenue which would accrue immediately from the legalization of beer."

Mrs. Oren C. Reid Drowns In Small Lake At Glenrose As She Slips And Falls From A Narrow Dam

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27 — Mrs. Oren C. Reid, wife of the pastor of Riverside Baptist church, lost her life in a small lake at Glenrose today when she slipped from a narrow dam.

Her husband, Rev. Oren C. Reid, made a valiant effort to save her, and was holding her body as he struggled in the water when a rescuer arrived.

The water was so cold it impeded Mr. Reid's efforts to save his wife, who could not swim.

Mr. Reid was rescued by Weldon McCoy, Glen Rose, who heard the pastor's cries for help. When McCoy arrived on the scene, Mr. Reid was holding to the side of the dam, with one arm around the body of his wife. The pastor was so exhausted he could not pull himself and his wife's body to the top of the dam.

Man Narrowly Escapes Death As His Truck Is Demolished By A Fast Train

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMHERST, Dec. 27—Although his truck was demolished and the load of potatoes he had was strewn about the grade crossing of highway No. 7 a mile and a half east of Amherst, W. I. Shirley, 23, tonight was able to tell of a fast Santa Fe passenger train's collision with his machine.

After Shirley had been sent to a hospital in Littlefield, the two front wheels of the engine were derailed as the train moved slowly toward the station here. The pilot, driven beneath the engine, hung at a switch.

Shirley told the attending physician at Simpson sanitarium in Littlefield that he was driving across the tracks when he heard the train whistle and "gave the truck the gun." The truck stalled, and before the driver could leap from the cab the accident occurred.

The driver was knocked unconscious. His only apparent injuries tonight were a scalp wound and bruises to his right leg, and his condition was not serious. His clothing was badly ripped, and witnesses said they were unable to understand how Shirley escaped death.

The train No. 92, left about 7:20 o'clock tonight for Clovis, N. M., nearly three hours behind time. After the engine wheels were derailed, a section crew was called to replace them on the rails with jacks. A local welder removed the pilot.

Train official, Engineer H. A. Finister of Clovis, Fireman R. E. Lowry of Slaton, and Conductor C. H. Shannon of Clovis, said the whistle was blown four times. J. A. Vernon, an eye witness, who lives about 150 yards from the crossing, corroborated their statement. The train, on time, was running about 60 miles an hour, it was said.

Mr. Vernon and John Moody took Shirley, who is unmarried, to Littlefield.

The truck was hurled about 50 feet from the crossing.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

OUT at the city dump pile last night, Christmas trees probably were vying with each other in telling of the happiness they had brought to families—keeping an appointment they made, more than likely, on the way here from green forests.

One of the trees, we think, told a story of belated joy that will match with any of the rest. This tale probably ran something like this—a little drama from the alley across the way:

"After leaving the rest of you down at the station, I sat for a day or so out in front of a little shed on a rickety base that had been hastily nailed to my trunk.

"Then one day a man came along and bought me for his shop. He put me up in a bleak window and with the help of his stenographer strung yards of silver tinsel over my branches.

"There were no happy children to dance about me or to touch my ornaments in awed curiosity. No presents were stacked at my feet or hung on my branches. Few children even stopped to look through the glass at me and the men who sat about smoking and talking hardly gave me a glance of appreciation.

"Christmas Day came and went and there was little joy down deep in my heart because I received so little notice. On the day following I was left there in the cold and no one came about at all. Early the next day I was tossed rudely into the alley waste can and it seemed to me to be the end of a bleak existence. I had spread no Christmas joy at all.

"But the sun came up over a building across the way and sought out the artificial icicles hanging from my branches. The breeze twisted this tinsel so that it sparkled with a million blinking lights. I was at last beautiful.

"An old negro, leaning disconsolately against the back of a building saw this light and came over to fondle my branches and admire my brilliance. Men paused as they passed hurridly down the street. People across the way stopped their work and watched me sway gracefully in the morning sun.

"At last four small, ragged little boys, wrapped in nondescript coats came by purloining fineries from alley dump cans. Seeing me, they ran this way crying with ecstacy about the beautiful Christmas tree. They picked me up and carried me about watching the sun catch the lights. They embraced my branches and at last stripped me of all the tinsel and other baubles.

"Finally they moved on, their pockets dripping silver, and I was forsaken again in the can. But now I was happy for I, too, had meant happiness to children at Christmas time."

TURKEY CHOP SUEY

PERHAPS turkey chop suey will solve the problem of how to serve the remaining scraps from that Christmas fowl. Miss Louise McKee was telling me about the dish. However, she does not know the amount of ingredients as she uses judgment instead of a book.

If you are an experienced cook, she thinks you can guess at amounts. If your experience runs like mine, you had better have hash instead. However, chopped celery and onion are cooked in some turkey stock and some chopped turkey meat is added. A small can of mushrooms, chopped, may be added, also, and the whole is seasoned. It is served with boiled rice.

CHRISTMAS JOYS

IF your heart needs cheering, take a walk in this December sun and watch the children out playing with their new Christmas toys.

Two little girls, out strolling with their dolls and all dressed up in mother's discarded clothes . . . boys playing football . . . smaller children on tricycles . . . Every youngster with something to parade. . . .

AGE NO WORRY

PEOPLE who have led full lives or who have lived long usually have a formula to pass on when they are pressed for reasons. No two agree. They are often contradictory. But they are interesting to read, nevertheless.

Perhaps one of the best was from Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics' manager: "I don't worry about my age."

There were other items in his formula—sleep, eating, exercise—but also that admission about age. A lot of us might live longer and happier if we did not worry so much about growing old.

Westerner Quintet Beats Big Lake

Grid Coaches "Okay" Rules Made Last Year

Visitors Are Held Tightly In Last Half

Coach McMurry's Team In Fine Offensive Show To Defeat Champions Of District 4 In Hectic Game Last Night

Putting on a fine offensive show that thrilled the very small crowd of observers at the Lubbock High school gymnasium last night, the Lubbock Westerners swept to a 47 to 16 victory over the Big Lake quintet, champions of District 4 last season, in a fast and hot contest.

The Westerners had their visitors from the Oil Belt region completely outclassed, although during the first half the Big Lake team threatened to keep the score practically even throughout. The long distance shooting of White, a guard, provided thrills and fears in the first and second quarters, but the Owls were held scoreless in the second half.

It was not so much the defensive play of the Westerners as it was the inability to convert crip shots that kept the tally down on the visitors' side in the last half, although Captain Jack Quinlan and his fighting crew played a snappy game on both ends of the court.

Owls Play Shallowater

The Big Lake Owls, members of which team are recovering from severe attacks of the "flu" which slowed up their efforts last night, meet the Shallowater team tonight at 8 o'clock on the Shallowater court. Tomorrow night they play Meadow at Meadow, journey to Brownfield Friday night and to Ropes Saturday night before going home.

The Westerners, led in the scoring by Hugh Snodgrass, had things their own way after getting off to a relatively slow start. Snodgrass poured the ball through the hoop for eighteen points. Curley Wilkinson, elongated Westerner center, was second high point man with six field goals. Jack Quinlan got warm in the last half for four field goals, but lost third place to White of Big Lake, whose four field goals were augmented by two free goals.

The box score:

Denver Seeking Max-Max Battle

DENVER, Dec. 27 (AP)—P. R. (Reddy) Gallagher, Denver sports writer, said today he had telegraphed Jack Dempsey he was prepared to offer a $100,000 guarantee if the former heavyweight champion will conduct the Max Schmeling-Max Baer bout in this city next June.

Gallagher said he was representing a group of western capitalists.

Dempsey replied he was not so much interested in a guarantee as he was an arena which would accommodate 90,000 persons. Dempsey also specified the bout should be scheduled for 15 rounds. The Colorado law limits boxing to 10 rounds.

Gallagher said he believed the general assembly would amend the law to permit 15-round bouts if Dempsey gave assurance the bout would be held here. He also said Denver university stadium could be enlarged for the bout.

Dempsey Offers Sharkey A Chance To Defend Throne

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Jack Dempsey said tonight he had wired Jack Sharkey in Boston an offer to defend his heavyweight championship in September against either Max Schmeling or Max Baer.

Dempsey, in his debut as a "big league" promoter, already has matched Baer and Schmeling for a 15-round match in June either in Chicago or New York.

Dempsey said he had received a telegram from George F. Getz, Chicago sportsman who aided Tex Rickard in promotion of the second Tunney-Dempsey bout, asking that consideration be given Chicago as a site for the Baer-Schmeling match as a world fair feature.

East And West Teams Scamper Through Workout At 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27. (AP)—Eastern and western gridiron stars, training for the annual charity football game here Jan. 2, romped through practice programs today that included everything from foot races to line and backfield scrimmage.

The last of the 15 or 20 plays each side will employ were outlined by the rival coaches—Andy Kerr and Dick Hanley of the east and Orin Hollingbery and Dana Bible of the West.

House Of David Cagers To Open Tech Cage Year

The House of David team from Benton Harbor, Mich., inaugurates the playing season at Texas Tech when it comes here January 5 for a two-game series with Coach Del Morgan's Texas Tech Matadors.

The long-whiskered boys head a schedule of 23 games, four of which are as yet tentative, for the season. The schedule was released yesterday by Coach Morgan.

Large Crowd Expected

One of the largest crowds ever to see a college basketball game here is expected to jam the Tech gymnasium January 5 and again on the following night when the House of David team comes here. It will mark the first appearance of the club in this city. With their long whiskers and heavy beards, the Davidites put on a colorful show, one which has been drawing bigger crowds than intercollegiate games in the mid-west this season.

Another high point in the Tech schedule is the single stand here on January 13 with the Randolph Field Fliers of San Antonio. The latter team features the goal shooting of Ray Stecker, former West Point grid and cage star who continues his army training at the flying field. The schedule in full follows:

January 5-6: House of David at Lubbock.
January 9-10: Southwestern State Teachers, Weatherford, Okla., at Lubbock.
January 13: Randolph Field at Lubbock.
January 17-18: New Mexico A. & M. at Lubbock (tentative).
January 20-21: West Texas Teachers at Canyon.
January 23-24: Simmons university at Abilene.
February 1-2: Oklahoma City U. at Lubbock.
February 6-7: New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.
February 8-9: New Mexico Normal at Las Vegas.
February 10-11: U. of New Mexico at Albuquerque.
February 16-17: Simmons university at Lubbock, or:
February 17: Southeastern State Teachers, Durant, Okla., at Lubbock.
February 23-24: West Texas Teachers at Lubbock.

AAU Is Asked To Reinstate Nurmi

BOSTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—Karl A. Hilli, prominent in Finnish sporting circles, today said he had asked the American Amateur Athletic union officials to call a special meeting to act on the reinstatement of Paavo Nurmi, Finnish running star.

Hilli has written to Avery Brundage, president of the American organization, asking for action and quoted Nurmi as having told him that "no money is so great to make me turn professional."

Iso-Hollo and Virtanen, two Finnish distance runners, and stars in the recent Olympic games, are awaiting the official sanction of the government of Finland for a trip to America. Hilli said arrangements had been completed for their appearance at the Knights of Columbus and the B. A. A. games in Boston, the New York A. C. and the Millrose games in New York.

Hilli said it appeared evident that the Finnish government disapproved of the barring of Nurmi and they took this into consideration in holding up, until now, the official approval of the visits to the United States of Virtanen and Iso-Hollo.

Lou Little In Favor Cutting Down Football

American Coaches Association Meets In Regular Session To Discuss Rules, Etc.; Gil Dobie Praises New Rules

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—The gridiron rules of 1932 "have put the game in a much better condition than heretofore and should be left substantially as they now exist," Gilmour Dobie of Cornell university told the opening meeting of the American Football Coaches' association today, urging at the same time that the coaches concentrate their figure efforts upon making the sport "safer and simpler."

Dobie's report, a feature of the day's session, assailed the modern game as too complicated for the average college player and specified: "It is not the quality of the game but the quantity that is undesirable. It consumes too much time and effort on the part of all concerned and is expensive. We can junk one-half of it and still have more left than is sufficient for a college game."

33 Deaths This Year

The veteran Cornell Coach's report followed a technical analysis, showing 32 deaths directly attributable to football this year, and prefaced discussion indicating the association will "stand pat" on the rules changes made to safeguard the game.

The meeting failed to develop any discussion whatever of the mooted "dead ball" rule, previously criticized by some coaches, or reveal majority sentiment for further alteration of the gridiron code. The only two suggestions put forward, neither of which came to a vote or arroused apparent interest, were one by Chuck Collins, North Carolina, that two points be awarded for making the extra point after touchdown by a rush or pass; and another, by J. Wilder Tasker, Rutgers, that the existing rule on pass interference needs adjustment, taking away advantages to the offensive side.

Postpone Vote Question

Without indicating their sentiment one way or another, the coaches postponed until tomorrow a formal vote on whether or not to ask direct, voting representation on the National Rules committee, in place of their present advisory status, after listening to a report on the subject by Lou Little of Columbia.

Little, who sat with the rules committee as an adviser this year, along with Howard Jones of Southern California, Dan McGugin of Vanderbilt and Mal Stevens of Yale, stressed mainly the necessity for a crystallization of the coaches' views on the rules, adding: "So long as we accomplish this, perhaps through a clearng-house committee of our own, I do not think it matters whether or not we have a direct vote in the deliberations of the rules committee. This committee will give our views every consideration, providing we are able to put them before it in concrete form, instead of having discussions and suggestions die on the floor of this meeting."

The indications are that the rules committee of the National Collegiate A. A., which also has its annual meeting this week, will oppose giving the football coaches a voting membership on the ground it would set a precedent, for other groups desiring representation, including the officials and high schools.

Two Braves In Leading Field Roles In 1932

Earl Grace Of Pittsburgh Has One Error All Season To Set High Mark; Twenty-One Hurlers Field Perfectly

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Boston Braves, who were next to the bottom in batting, led the clubs in fielding during the 1932 season and set a new league record as they did it.

The Braves, as a club, handled 6,287 chances during their 155 games and made only 152 errors, the official records for the year released today, reveal. Their average was .976, a point higher than the old mark set by the Chicago Cubs in 1929 and the same distance below the major league standard established by the New York Yankees of 1923.

Not only did they shine as a club during a season which brought many record fielding feats and a few record lows, but two of them set individual highs for the year.

Jones Works Trojans Against Possible Strong Run Attack

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27. (AP) — Possibility that Southern California might present a more powerful running attack against Pittsburgh Jan. 2 than at any point in the regular schedule was strengthened today as Coach Howard Jones sent his team through a hard workout on offense.

The Trojans played a defensive game for the most part this season, awaiting or making the breaks which took them to nine consecutive victories.

Panthers Indulge In 2-Hour Practice For Rose Bowl Tilt

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 27. (AP) — Coach J. B. Southerland spent two hours with his University of Pittsburgh football squad today in giving an offensive and defensive lesson in passes in preparation for the game with the University of Southern California at the Pasadena Rose Bowl, January 2.

The easterners went through their own repertoire and then received a complete barrage of the passing plays the Trojans have been using.

A New Approach

A CLEVELAND firm has devised a new and interesting plan for keeping workers at work.

This firm, making machine tools and astronomical instruments, has just as much stock on hand, already manufactured, as most firms. Fortunately it is not perishable or quickly obsolete.

But this company decided to ignore those goods, or inventory, and operate as though their shelves were bare. When they get an order, they send it out to the shop to be made up new. Or if they fill the order from stock, they build a new machine to replace the one sent out.

News that this firm is operating on such a plan has been circulated in its trade circle, and has resulted in orders that might not have come in otherwise, officials of the company believe. Several orders have been given on the express condition that the goods be manufactured new, thus making new work, and at least keeping men at work even if not employing new ones.

Firms which fill orders from old stock are simply putting the proceeds into their coffers, the workmen's share in them already having been distributed. The Cleveland scheme gives the worker his cut immediately.

Naturally this is a temporary measure. Goods made up and stocked must be disposed of sooner or later. But the Cleveland scheme, if extended to every firm that could possibly afford it, might keep employment up in the present emergency, and excess stocks then could be gradually absorbed when demand picks up. In a time when every expedient, temporary though it may be, seems helpful, the Cleveland plan is worthy of thought by every business leader.

BANK ASSETS

When the United States treasury offered $250,000,000 one year certificates to the public a few days ago, with interest at the rate of only three-fourths of one per cent a year, the issue was over subscribed 16 times. And yet not long ago, some issues of government bonds were selling to net over four per cent.

This desire for securities that will be absolutely safe, even if they pay so very little interest, is the result of the panicky feeling developed when the depositors of thousands of banks demanded their money right away quick. It led bankers everywhere to feel that they must have their assets in such shape that they could get a large part of their funds in cash at once, regardless whether they get any considerable interest or not.

Here we can see a condition that is tying up business everywhere, and it must be cured before we can have good business. If bankers feel that they must have their money in such investments that they can produce a great mountain of cash all at once, naturally they aren't going to lend their money to build houses with, or to finance factory operation, or to enable merchants to purchase goods.

The public has greatly accentuated this situation, by runs on many banks that were perfectly sound. A bank may have a large part of its money in excellent assets, which are worth 100 cents on a dollar and much more than that. But if the bank had to sell those assets all at once, it might have to take a large loss.

We need new systems of banking regulation that shall require greater caution in managing financial institutions, so that the public will not have reason to become alarmed about its deposits. But the public must get into a calmer temper of mind, and not force sound institutions into bankruptcy by unreasonable demands.

FREE PRESS INDISPENSABLE

Repeated and serious inroads have been made in the last few years upon the right of a free press as guaranteed under the constitution. Public officials and lawmakers are constantly approaching the abridgment of editorial criticism and censorship of news. There have been many court decisions in contravention to the spirit and letter of the rule laid down by the nation's founders.

Some judicial rulings have been entirely inexplicable. Often, however, the courts have voided legislation designed to curb the freedom of the press. Where the press has been in the right it has usually won out in the end.

Modern editorial comment is much more restrained than was once the case. Only a generation or so ago an editor's pen was not considered effective unless it was dipped in vitrol, and many editorial pages were sustained by no right other than the willingness of the editor to defend his opinions physically. Today there should certainly be no restraining hand upon the right of a newspaper to speak plainly without malice, on any public question, and to criticize public officials [illegible] dereliction of duty.

Walsh And Glass Are Favored

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—On his way to the G. O. P. national convention of 1896, Henry Clay Hansbrough, then senator from North Dakota and a power in Republican politics, relates that he met Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York, spokesman par excellence for the "interests" of that era. Senator Hansbrough asked Senator Platt whether he and the interests were reconciled to the presidential nomination of Major William McKinley, which already seemed assured.

Senator Carter Glass

To this query, answering for the interests and himself, ex-Senator Hansbrough quotes Platt as responding:

"If we can name the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general, anyone who wants to can have the White House and the remainder of the cabinet portfolios, for all we care."

"I VENTURE the guess," says the old North Dakotan, "that as candid a reply, by the 'interests' of today, to the same question that I put to Tom Platt in the 1890's, would be just what Tom's was."

The consensus of Capitol Hill is entirely in agreement with the ex-senator.

Perhaps this explains why curiosity is so keen in Washington concerning President-elect Roosevelt's probable selections for the treasury and justice department posts in his official family beginning next March—decidedly keener than it appears to be relative to the remaining eight, combined.

Of course there are exceptions.

Certain especial interests are especially interested in especial departments with which they expect to have particular business to transact.

The general public doubtlessly is primarily interested in the president-elect's choice of a secretary of state, whose duties make a showy official of him—besides which he ranks as cabinet "premier."

Interest of the really potent interests, however, is essentially in the treasury and justice departments.

MOREOVER, they believe that they know now the two men to whom these two important portfolios will be offered, ahead of all rival aspirants.

They believe that the treasury portfolio will be tendered to Senator Carter Glass of Virginia; the justice portfolio to Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

What they are not so sure of is that either Senator Glass or Senator Walsh will accept. Both apparently are well satisfied, and both are securely intrenched where they are, each with four years more to serve. Both, too, are aging fast. Senator Glass is nearly 75; Senator Walsh is less than 18 months his junior.

Still, the treasury department, of which he was head under President Wilson, is very close to the Virginian's heart. Senator Walsh undisguisedly would have made almost any sacrifice for the attorney general's authority as recently as half a decade ago.

SENATOR GLASS' desire to reorganize the treasury is understandable.

He believes that he gave it a good start, including the establishment of the federal reserve system, as one of its vital adjuncts, when he presided there during the last Democratic regime. At the present writing he regards his work as having been practically undone by the last three administrations.

Progressive statesmen will not be overly well satisfied if Senator Glass takes the job. They concede his ability and honesty, but refer to him as an extreme conservative and complain that he is susceptible to out-and-out reaction's appeals, not to anything involving his material advantage, but to his self-esteem.

SENATOR WALSH is classed by the progressives as one of themselves.

Nevertheless, he does not invariably get on well with the more advanced among them, mainly because he has the legal instinct so highly developed in him that he resents the short cuts they are inclined to take. On their side, they describe him as troublesomely pedantic. He was a school superintendent in his comparative youth and never has entirely lost the appearance or authoritative manner of one.

For all that, he has, superlatively, the qualities and acquirements needed to make an ideal attorney general.

If Senator Walsh is not the very best, he at least is among the best constitutional authorities in the country. As a cross-examiner and analyst of evidence he has hardly an equal. Illustratively, the oil investigation, early in President Coolidge's administration, was of his development. It was far from a promising case until he took it in hand and disclosed a scandal of historic proportions.

Chase Closed With Capture

Former Theater Employe Being Held For Robbery At Houston; Youth Makes No Attempt To Use Weapon

HOUSTON, Dec. 27. (AP)—An automobile chase through streets crowded with traffic ended last night in police capturing a youth who had robbed the Kirby theater of about $920.

After police had crowded the car in which he was fleeing to the curb, Ray Zimmerman, 19, former employe of the theater, was held on a charge of robbery with firearms.

"You've got me — there's the money in the car," Zimmerman yelled as officers moved in on him with drawn weapons. Police said he had a pistol in his hand but made no attempt to use it. The money was recovered in the car.

The chase started when Vinton Sholl, theater manager, notified police of the box office raid. One of the pursuing officers fired twice at tires of the fugitive's car when it reached a street where traffic was light. Zimmerman's car was halted a short distance beyond where the shots were fired.

Zimmerman told police he had been employed at the theater about a year ago.

Daily Cash Market

● Through 1932, as in former years, Swift & Company has maintained its nationwide cash market for farm produce.

More than 100 Swift & Company produce plants in the West and Central West have continued to buy daily the supplies offered. Everything they purchase has a market over a thousand miles wide and thousands of miles long. The supply goes wherever demand is best.

At no time, in the territories served by these plants, have producers of poultry, butterfat and eggs been without a daily cash market.

● Swift & Company has not had this year—has never had—any control over prices. The farmer's price is made by what the consumer can and will pay for the butter, eggs and poultry. This company's task is to cover the gap, quickly and economically between more than 200,000 farm patrons and nearly as many storekeepers.

Posting daily quotations at its buying plants, Swift & Company is really saying to the producer:

"Consumers everywhere, through their retailers, offer so much for poultry, butterfat of eggs. Costs of preparation, transportation and selling are kept at a minimum. With these service costs deducted, the price paid here is about what retailers will pay at their doors hundreds of miles away."

● Volume holds down processing cost. Carload shipments reduce freight bills. The same salesmen who sell Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon and Brookfield Sausage also sell Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl and Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs and Cheese, thus benefiting livestock men and produce growers alike.

Death Claims John J. Carty

Vice President Of American Telephone And Telegraph Is Operation Victim; Was Chief Engineer Of Company

BALTIMORE, Dec. 27 (AP)—John J. Carty, vice president and chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, died today at the Johns Hopkins hospital of cardiac complications following an operation which was performed last Friday.

Directed Research In Long Distance Telephone

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—John J. Carty, who died today in Baltimore, directed the research that resulted in practical long distance telephony.

To carry the human voice from the Atlantic to the Pacific had been his boyhood dream. His chance to organize a combined attack upon that problem came when Theodore N. Vail, upon returning to the presidency of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in 1907, appointed him chief engineer.

Carty coordinated the research of several distinguished scientists and realized his hopes on January 24, 1915, when the New York-San Francisco telephone line was opened to the public. Ten months later, on October 21, 1915, the human voice was transmitted for the first time across the Atlantic ocean, the feat being accomplished with radio-telephone equipment designed under Carty's direction and operated between the United States naval station at Arlington, Va., and the Eifel tower in Paris.

He was married on August 8, 1891, to Marion Mount of Dublin, Ireland. His one son, John Russell Carty, is a physician.

Cotton Market Activity Slow — Steady Outlet Met By Cattle — Grains Drop To Bottom Records

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27. (AP)—Cotton was very quiet today as holiday influences continued to operate against trading and price fluctuations were narrow and irregular. The close was steady with final quotations five points up to four down, December, 1933, showing the extreme gain.

The opening was very quiet. As Liverpool continued closed for the Christmas holidays there was an absence of the usual early incentive from cables. Only two months, March and July, were active at the opening call and both showed initial losses of 1 point. There was a little trade buying and price fixing in the early trading but this was offset by some hedge selling and March traded down to 5.86, May to 6.00 and July to 6.10, down 1 to 2 points from the previous close.

May eased 4 points near the end of the first hour but prices soon rallied slightly on short covering. March advanced to 5.89, May to 6.01 and July to 6.12, up 2 to 3 points from the early lows.

The market although ruling quiet all afternoon turned easier and made new lows at 5.83 for March, 5.96 for May and 6.08 for July or 4 to 6 points below the highs of the morning, the decline being due to hedge selling and lack of support. Prices rallied slightly on near months but were easy on the distant positions except December which closed at the high point of 6.40 or 5 points net up while March closed net unchanged and July 4 points net down.

Port receipts 14,006, for week 65,753, for season 5,689,500, last season 6,213,706. Exports 17,590, for week 48,091, for season 3,535,828, last season 3793,485. Port stock 4,808,597, last year 4,712,496. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 202,773, last year 133,845. Spot sales at Southern markets 13,251, last year 36,522.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Cotton was inactive over a range of 2 to 6 points today. Traders were apathetic owing to a continuation of the holidays in the English market and in absence of important new developments.

Demand was slow throughout the day but offers were limited with very little selling aside from moderate local operations in sympathy with the weakness in wheat and the heaviness in the stock market. The March position advanced to 5.92, declines to 5.86 and closed at 5.89 or 2 points net lower, while the general market closed steady at 2 points lower to 1 point net higher.

The opening was 3 points lower to 2 points higher and at no time during the day did prices show a real trend either way. Rains were reported over the eastern and central belt states and there was little or no selling by houses with southern connections.

A few selling orders from Europe were absorbed largely by the trade. Spinners, however, were not buying freely owing to year-end inventories.

The New York cotton exchange service placed the world's consumption of American cotton during November at 1,150,000 bales, bringing the total for four months from Aug. 1 to about 4,473,000 against 4,018,000 last season and 3,555,000 two years ago. The amount on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was reported at 215,000 bales compared with 190,000 last year and 161,000 two years ago. Exports today 17,590 making 3,997,705 so far this season. Port receipts 14,006. U. S. port stocks 4,855,759.

Conditions Are Little Changed When Financial Markets Resume Operations

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. (AP)—Financial markets, resuming operations after their Christmas recess today, found conditions little changed from last week. Trading in securities was slow and although the trend was generally toward lower levels, the outstanding characteristic of boar stock and bond trading was sluggishness.

Stocks closed with some irregularity, but most quotations varied only fractionally from Saturday's final prices and the day's extreme range of fluctuations was narrow. Bonds were strong in the U. S. government and German categories; on the other hand, a number of secondary domestic rail loans weakened, due partly to tax selling.

Factors influencing the share market were largely familiar. Wall street, however, took interest in the sales tax talk at Washington, but was probably more impressed by signs that congress was ready to tackle the government's financial situation.

On a group basis, tobacco shares were heavy and rails about steady. Industrials generally accomplished little or nothing, except that U. S. Steel sagged a point. Otherwise losses of equal size were limited mostly to issues of minor importance. American Telephone, whose February dividend meeting will soon be a topic of lively conjecture, eased half a point with Du Pont, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Gillette, Radio, Aviation Corp., and a few others. Allied Chemical, for which another regular dividend payment is assured, firmed a point; American Can improved a shade after its directors had likewise voted a "regular," omitting action on the $1 extra usually declared at this time. American Tobacco "B" was down a point net. Sales totaled 801,488 shares.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27. (AP)—In most cases light steers and yearlings met a mostly steady outlet with some sales 25 higher while medium and heavy weight steers were rather slow to move at weak to 15 lower levels. Chicago scored up to 7.25 in best long yearling steers and several leads of better grade steers and yearlings, mostly of light weight, around the circuit cleared at 5.00@6.00. The majority of steers and yearlings offered were of stockers and feeders turned at steady prices. A few sales were tabulated around 3.25@5.00 and yearling stockers up to 5.50. to preserve the credit of the government must be obtained and maintained.

"Aside from that, exchanges must be stabilized and commodity prices increased. Tariff barriers must be lowered and international trade encouraged.

"As to the wisest and sanest method to be employed in order to deal with these questions, and others which may be interrelated to the general economic depression, financiers, economists and statesmen may differ, but certainly in such circumstances everyone should give his best thought to a solution of these problems and as far as possible present them to the congress as helpful guidance.

"The quicker we start, the sooner will be the recovery, and every selfish consideration should be laid aside in the higher duty of serving a depressed and discouraged people and a sick world."

First Unit Of Radio City Is Opened Up In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP) — The first unit of Radio City, the music hall, opened tonight with a stage show which rivaled in quantity and magnificence the spectacles which used to thrill audiences at the old Hippodrome 15 years ago.

More than 500 performers took part, including an orchestra of 90, two choirs of 100 each, a ballet corps of 80 and several specialty dance groups.

Man Dies In Hospital After Fight Staged Christmas Eve

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27 (AP) — Elige Caraway, 29, died in a hospital today as the result of a fractured skull received in a street fight Christmas eve. Police are investigating.

The fight occurred between Caraway and his brother, Hubert, 22, and two other men who were brothers. It was reported Caraways' head was pummeled against the sidewalk.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27. (AP)—Demand was fair for wheat after the holiday of two days on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Corn, also was fairly easy selling. Other grains were slow.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing, 49@50. Barley No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, according to color, 60@65; No. 2 kaffir, according to color, 30@31.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 38 1-2@39 1-2; No. 2 white or yellow 39 1-2@41 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 24 1-2@25 1-2; No. 3 red 23 1-2@24 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 27. (AP)—Wheat, corn, oats and barley today all outdid season low-price records in Chicago.

Competition for world export trade in wheat toppled values like nine-pins. Starting with an all-time unequaled plunge of wheat quotations in Buenos Aires, a series of market breaks ensued with Winnipeg and Chicago wheat collapses affecting one after another corn, oats and barley. A cable from Athens that the Argentine government was negotiating for the sale of a large quantity of wheat to Greece had a specially unsettling effect.

Chicago wheat future contracts closed unstable at virtually the day's bottom level, 7-8 to 1 3-8 under Saturday's finish, corn 1-4 to 3-4 down, oats a shade to 1-4 off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents lower.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Dec. 27 (AP)—Sought for two weeks for questioning in the slaying of Isaac Vance, 61-year-old refinery man, Paul Walters of Eran, former Oklahoma A. and M. college student, surrendered voluntarily to officers here today.

Arraigned in city court, he pleaded his innocence and was jailed.

Investigators said they had learned a young woman employed by Vance was a friend of the Eran boy.

Two Youths Are Arrested As Holes Are Found In Car

HOUSTON, Dec. 27 (AP) — Two youths were arrested today after highway patrolmen halted them near here and discovered two bullet holes in their machine.

Orderliness Of 'President's Office Is Upset On Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. (AP) — The orderliness of the president's office t the White House was completely upset today.

Desks, chairs and books were piled high and the carpet was covered with papers.

In the absence of President Hoover on his fishing trip, the executive office was being painted — the first coat that has been applied since the quarters were painted after the Christmas eve fire of two years ago.

BOOST AIR MAIL

NEW YORK.—The U. S. Post Office Department, according to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, is launching a program to increase interest in air mail. This program, shelved some years ago when air lines commenced to devote their interests to developing air passenger traffic, is being revived again with the suggestion that air mail will bring about speeding up of business.

Alabama Again Being Flooded

Heavy Rains Bring Rivers To Flood Stage And Over And More Moisture Is Predicted By Weather Observer

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 27. (AP)—Heavy rains have bought rivers in Alabama back up to the edge of their banks and in some instances over them to flood low areas.

The Alabama river near Miller's ferry had swollen almost to the 48-foot level, 13 feet above flood stage today and flooded low areas in that vicinity. The river was steadily creeping up at Montgomery and Selma, standing at 41.1 feet here, a rise of more than a foot overnight, and only about four feet below the flood mark.

At Gadsden, the Coosa river had dropped to 23.3 feet but was still three feet above flood level and was expected to start rising this afternoon. The same river was a foot and three tenths over the 25-foot flood stage at Rome, Ga., and was rising.

At Canton, Ga., the Etowah had fallen from 22 feet yesterday to a level of 17.6 feet this morning, but had started rising again. It was still above flood stage.

P. H. Smyth, the weather observer, saw more rain in sight for today, tonight and tomorrow and he said this "might change the complexion of things." Little damage was expected from the rise as lowlands along the threatening rivers in Alabama are uninhabited.

Hundredth Day In "Iron Lung"

Although he has been breathing with the aid of a "mechanical lung" for one hundred days, 14-year-old Earl Potter of Philadelphia manages to keep smiling. Earl is a victim of infantile paralysis but has high hopes for complete recovery. He has heard of 15-year-old Herbert Fochs of Brooklyn, N. Y., who spent nine months in a respirator and is now on the way to fully restored health.

Solon Declares State Insulted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP)—Representative Parker (D., Ga.), said in the house today that Governor Moore of New Jersey by refusing extradition of Robert Elliott Burns, chain gang fugitive, "has offered a judicial insult" to the state of Georgia.

"In my opinion," Parker said, "this judicial insult was an unprecedented and unwarranted affront to the sovereignty of a great state that will next year celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of its birth. The state of Georgia has been slandered by Governor Moore of New Jersey."

Parker said he noted "with profound regret" that a woman from New Jersey holding a position of "trust and honor at the hands of the people" of her state also had asked Governor Moore "to offer this insult to Georgia." Mrs. Mary T. Norton, member of the house from New Jersey, has interceded in Burns' behalf.

Federal Charges Are Facing Three In Bogus Cash Passing

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 27. (AP) — Federal charges against three alleged counterfeiters were pending here today as the trio was held in the Hinds county jail on bonds of $10,000 each.

The three, D. C. Askew of Louisiana, J. W. Sorrell, Ittanbena, and G. W. Clarke, of Texas, were taken into custody last week in Vicksburg after allegedly passing seven bogus $100 bills in Jackson.

The charges are "passing and uttering counterfeit money."

Potter Declines Position As Prosecutor For Quinn

NEWKIRK, Okla., Dec. 27. (AP)—Bruce Potter, retiring Kay county attorney who prosecuted Earl Quinn for the murder of Jessie Griffith, slain with her sister, Zexia, on a highway near Tonkawa two years ago, announced today he had declined to accept employment as special prosecutor for Quinn's second trial.

Quinn was convicted and sentenced to death, but the criminal court of appeals reversed the conviction, ordering a new trial and change of venue.

Potter cited Governor Murray's hostility toward himself, and said "I felt under the circumstances I should withdraw from the case because with the governor in his present frame of mind, he might commute Quinn's sentence if we got another death verdict."

Both Potter and James Mathews, attorney for Quinn, said they had discovered important new evidence.

New 1933 Pontiacs To Be Displayed Today By Scoggin-Dickey Motor Co.

1933 Pontiac Straight Eight Four-Door Sedan

Scoggin-Dickey Motor company is holding open house today with a premiere showing of the new 1933 Pontiacs, newly designed throughout and with an entirely new straight eight 77-horsepower motor perfected through two years of engineering development work.

While the most obvious feature of the new car is the grace of its windstream lines, there lie hidden under the slender hood mechanical values of far greater importance. In the new Pontiac motor are included developments which successfully combine the brilliant performance of a big straight eight with the operating economy expected only for far smaller cars.

Many New Features

Wide, roomy bodies by Fisher, deeply balanced fenders and low center of gravity offer size and weight required for safe and comfortable travel at all speeds. All bodies are equipped with the new Fisher development—no-draft ventilation, individually controlled.

New engineering features include: improved harmonic balancer,—a three-jet, down-draft carburetor, pneumatic accelerator pump, improved syncromes transmission, longer wheelbase, cushion-mounted motor, dash starter and dial instrument board and numerous other improvements.

The display of cars will start early Wednesday, private showings of the new models having been held Monday and Tuesday.

Grid Coaches

the coaches, incidentally, that Williams S. Langford of New York, for years secretary of the National Football Rules committee, be chosen to take the chairmanship, vacated by the death this year of Edward K. Hall of Dartmouth. Langford's place as secretary, in that event, may go to Walter R. Okeson of Lehigh, at present the commissioner of the Eastern Intercollegiate association.

After listening to a report by Major Ralph I. Sasse of the Army on officiating, in which he urged less hesitation in calling fouls for piling on, clipping and starting before the ball, together with a recommendation for development of younger officials, the association heard a ringing appeal against so-called "cheating," delivered by Dr. Edward J. O'Brien of Boston, veteran referee.

Dr. O'Brien, after trading improvement in officiating under more efficient organization and the elimination of much of the former "favoritism" in selecting officials, nevertheless urged the coaches to stamp out all attempts at teaching players to evade the rules.

"Teach Them to Obey"

"Instead of teaching the boys to try smart plays or cheat the rules, teach them how to obey the rules," Dr. O'Brien urged his listeners. "Your coaches association can be the greatest power today for the game's good. I know there are outside influences. I know there is pressure on that almighty desire to win. I hope a lot of this can be wiped out."

The report on football accidents for 1932, made especially for the association and delivered by Floyd R. Eastwood of New York university, showed 1477 injuries in 147 colleges making reports, in addition to 32 fatalities attributable to football in the United States. Five other deaths originally attributed to football were found to have arisen from other causes, the report said.

After an exhaustive analysis of the injuries and deaths, the report concluded with recommendations for (1) more thorough pre-season training; (2) more warming-up exercise for players before games; (3) better equipment for joints, especially elbow and ankles; (4) stricter enforcement of rules; and (5) more protection for the head in practice.

Braves Lead

fielders who played in 100 games or more and tied the league's record average of .993 for the wanderers of the outer pastures which was set by Louis Duncan of Cincinnati in 1923. Sam West of Washington holds the major league mark of .996. The venerable Walter J. (Rabbit) Maranville topped the "regular" second basemen of the circuit with a .975 average.

While several club fielding records were beaten or tied, Earl Grace of Pittsburgh walked off with the year's individual fielding honors with two new marks for rival catchers to shoot at, catching 114 chances. His mark of .998 surpassed by two points the one set by Frank Hogan of New York the year before and seriously threatened the perfect mark made by John Bassler of Detroit in 63 games during 1926.

That September Error

Grace's one error was made Sept. 8, ending a string of record proportions which had run since Aug. 29, 1931. In that time he handled 444 chances without a misplay.

The pitchers and the first basemen, as usual, staged the closest races for the honor of being named the year's best fielder in their respective positions. Twenty-one moundsmen fielded perfectly, Freddy Heimach of Brooklyn getting the nomination by handling more chances than his rivals, 51. Frank O. (Don) Hurst of Philadelphia beat out Manager Charley Grimm of Chicago in the struggle at first base by a margin .9930 to .9929. Arthur (Pinkey) Whitney of Philadelphia led the third basemen, with a .960 mark and Bill Jurges of Chicago led the shortstops at .964.

New "Lows" Established

Three new "lows" for the league were established in the assist column. On Aug. 23, the Cubs played an entire game with only one assist, cutting the old National League mark in half. Pittsburgh had only 1,640 assists for the season and the league only 14,683. The former low marks were 1,754 by St. Louis in 1929 and 15,020, the league's 1930 mark.

The New York Giants tied the record of six double plays in one game, held by three clubs, and the Philadelphia catchers equalled another mark, having only four passed balls in a season.

NEWS BRIEFS

Lubbock county ginnings prior to December 13 totaled 86,183 bales of cotton, a department of commerce tabulation shows, C. M. Oakley, a special agent, has reported.

Last year's total to the date was 59,579, he said. Round bales were counted as half bales in the tabulation.

E. P. Stevenson and J. C. Harrison Tuesday were charged with robbery in a complaint filed in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court.

The charge was filed in connection with the hijacking Sunday night of Willie Mason, a negro porter at the Star hotel, at 813 1-2 Broadway. Mason told police two men held him up with a knife and robbed him of $2. Stevenson, 19, is said to live in Fort Worth, and Harrison, 27, gave his address as Newport, Ky. Both are held.

Federal Court Is Adjourned

Short Night Session Is Held Here Tuesday And Judgment Rendered; Other Decisions Given During Day

Adjournment for the term was taken by Judge William H. Atwell for the United States district court for the Northern District of Texas, shortly after 8:30 o'clock last night. A brief night session was held in order to write into the court records a judgment in the case of the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Co. vs. L. J. Halbert, et al.

Judgment for the plaintiff in the case of Samuel E. Smith vs. R. E. Swain, was given by Judge Atwell at the close of hearing of evidence at the morning session.

W. D. Girand, attorney for F. A. Blankenbeckler, receiver for the Plainview National bank, took a default judgment in the case against T. L. Thurman. Judgment was for $725.53 on a note and foreclosure and also for vendor's leins amounting to $4,090, with interest.

Motions by Mr. Girand as attorney for the bank receiver and L. E. Elliott for the plaintiff were overruled. Witnesses heard were: F. A. Blankenbeckler, Guy M. Johnson, Walter Struve, A. N. Redinger and J. K. Stone.

Judgments were given by Judge Atwell for the defendants and prorated out of a balance of $2,652.09 which the bonding company had offered the court as the balance on its bond of $5,000 for L. J. Halbert, a warehouseman. Total amount of judgments was $4,008.78 and this was prorated on a basis of 66.1 per cent. Amounts were: Guy M. Johnson, $184.41; Walter Struve, $597.67; A. N. Redinger, $480.07; A. M. Smith, $504.90; J. K. Stone, $141.61 and the receiver of the Plainview National bank, $745.11.

Requirements Of Ideal Collegian

Ten Cardinal Commandments That Go To Make Up 'The Ideal College Man' Given By Marquette Dean; Must Be Active

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 27 Ten cardinal commandments that go to make up the "ideal college men" have been defined by the Rev. John A. Berens, S. J., dean of men at Marquette university here and an instructor and adviser of boys and young men more than 20 years.

"Give me the student who answers to these requirements," Father Berens said, "and I will show you the ideal young collegiate. Nof need he 'bend over backwards' to approach these qualifications. Any normal, growing boy is a candidate for the title."

Father Berens' "commandments" follow:

1. He should have a strong ambition to succeed, together with the deterimnation to overcome obstacles.
2. He should take part in the normal activities of extra-curricular affairs, but without excess in them.
3. He should possess qualities of leadership, but this does not imply that he must be a class officer or hold office in campus organizations.
4. He may do outside work if he must, but it is better to save money for one or two years after preparatory school and then to enter college.
5. As to character, he must possess the qualities of honesty, uprighteousness, courage and fidelity.
6. He must be temperate.
7. Inasmuch as the countenance reflects the quality of the soul, he must give an outward appearance of pleasantness. He need not be good looking or a Beau Brummel.
8. He must be neat in appearance and in habits.
9. He must be mature. A boy who appears immature at the age of 18 should delay entering college. A year or two of work would bring him into contact with the difficulties of life; he would learn the value of money and develop a better outlook on education.
10. He must conduct himself in such a manner as will give evidence of a sincere, Christian gentleman.
