Agreement Reached At Meeting Monday Of Sterling With Attorney General Representative And Commission

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 1. —Agreement was reached late today at a conference between Governor R. S. Sterling, members of the railroad commission and a representative of the attorney general's department to speed up the suits filed to enjoin enforcement of the railroad commission's oil proration orders.

Governor Sterling said following the conference that the attorney general "would get behind" the suits and push the court for a decision. Ten suits to restrain the commission from enforcing proration in East Texas have been filed in the Travis county district court.

Commission Present

Attending the conference were C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, and Pat M. Neff and Lon A. Smith, commissioners, with R. D. Parker, chief oil and gas supervisor.

Both the suits against the railroad commission and suits filed by the attorney general to collect penalties for violation of the commission's proration orders will be speeded up if possible. It was believed a speedy court decision would clear the situation so definite action could be taken.

MADISONVILLE, June 1. — Mrs. Carl Harper shot her husband the former district judge here, to death today and told friends:

"I have neither fears nor regrets for what I have done."

She had not been arrested this afternoon, and County Attorney Luther Broadway said she probably would not be charged. If any complaint were filed, he added, she undoubtedly would be released on her own recognizance.

Drinking Heavily

Harper, according to the stories told investigating authorities, had been drinking heavily, had threatened his wife's life and attempted, even as she shot him, to shoot her. The former magistrate had hid a pistol under a sofa, Sheriff J. R. Gibson said he was informed, and lunged for it, but Mrs. Harper reached it first.

When she first pulled the trigger, the cartridge did not explode. Harper was shot through the eye and the right side. He died instantly.

"What's the idea?" Keeper John O'Connor demanded.

"Try and guess," Crowley grinned.

Mussolini And Pope Continue At Near Break

Pontiff Regards Concordat As Violated And Severance Of Diplomatic Relations Said To Be Looming

(By Associated Press)

ROME, June 1.—Premier Mussolini has dissolved all organization of Catholic youths in Italy by decree and according to good sources tonight Pope Pius XI is expected to recall the Papal Nuncio to Rome.

It is said the Pontiff may even sever diplomatic relations with Italy.

Rift Widening

Since the Pope regards the concordat with Rome as violated and as he holds this concordat and the Latern treaty to be inseparable, many observers believe there might arise the question of denunciation of the Roman settlement. This might result in the Pope's returning to the state of "voluntary prisoner" in the Vatican.

This new development followed an order from the Vatican that the editor of the semi-official newspaper Osservatore Romano should discontinue its anti-fascist editorial campaign and a similar order to Fascist papers to stop publishing anti-Catholic editorials.

Decree Is Signed

Mussolini is said to have signed his decree dissolving the organizations last night and all prefects were immediately charged with its enforcement. This was done quietly by summoning club officers and notifying them of the action.

"They Are Trying To Kill Us All—It's Just Persecution," Wife Cries On Hearing News

United States Supreme Court Refuses To Review Case And Only Hope Now Held By Aged Former Secretary Is For A Presidential Pardon; Accepts Decision Calmly

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, must present himself before the District of Columbia supreme court for commitment under a sentence of one year's imprisonment imposed on him for accepting a bribe.

That became imperative today, except in a case of a presidential pardon, when the United States supreme court refused to review Fall's conviction of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny wealthy oil operator, in connection with awarding contracts and leases on the naval oil reserves. He was sentenced to one year in prison and fined $100,000.

Once Had Given Up

Previously he had failed in the District of Columbia court of appeals to have the sentence set aside, and then, after announcing he would not carry the controversy to the United States supreme court, directed his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, to seek a review by the highest tribunal.

Probably tomorrow, the court of appeals will be advised of the supreme courts action and it will notify the District of Columbia supreme court.

Trial Judge Quoted

This will leave the trial court in a position to summon Fall before it for commitment.

Hogan said today that Judge Hitz, who presided at the trial of Fall, had announced that, had the defendant at that time submitted to imprisonment instead of taking an appeal, he would have suspended sentence.

Health Said Poor

Fall's health is reported to have been poor for many months and his friends claim he would be unable to stand confinement in a penitentiary. Fall has announced he hoped his friends would obtain executive clemency.

Judge Hitz is no longer sitting in the District of Columbia supreme court, having been elevated to the court of appeals. Hogan said he would advise the judge before whom Fall appears for commitment of the statement of Judge Hitz. He added he hoped to have the prison sentence suspended.

Fall, by taking the pauper's oath, and satisfying the court that he is without means to pay the fine, may have that remitted.

Hogan said he understood that Fall had virtually no financial resources now. He is living on his ranch at Three Rivers, New Mexico, but the title to it has passed into other hands.

He was the only person convicted of a felony in the series of trials which followed the leasing of naval oil reserves during the Harding administration.

Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator, was acquitted on charges of conspiring with Fall to defraud the government. After Fall's conviction for taking the bribe from Doheny, the latter was brought to trial on charges of giving it and was acquitted.

Rodgers Making Survey Of Zone

In an effort to determine which business houses desired the removal of the two-hour parking restrictions, Acting City Manager W. H. Rodgers yesterday canvassed the business district east of Texas Avenue and around the courthouse square.

The city commission voted last week to grant the wishes of the business men in respect to the parking ordinance after a petition bearing 60 names had been presented to the officials.

An investigation revealed that all the signers of the petition were not engaged in business in the affected zone, city officials said.

Four Men Badly Burned As Oil Well Burns At Kilgore

KILGORE, June 1. (AP)—Four men were in hospitals here tonight suffering from burns received early today when the National Securities company No. 1 Knowles oil well, three blocks from the main business section of Kilgore, caught fire and burned for several hours before it was extinguished.

R. G. Huffman, 33, was clinging to life at a hospital here and his physicians tonight said his condition was slightly improved. The other three men were pronounced out of danger. They were J. R. McKenney, 32, Oklahoma City, A. G. Bradford, 34, Kilgore, and Ben Rabinowitz, 33, Dallas.

Standing Of Race Leaders Unchanged After Protests

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1. —(AP)—The standing of the leaders in the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway will remain unchanged, the contest board of the American Automobile association announced late today in disallowing protests filed by Harry Harts, Los Angeles, and by Louis Meyer, Southgate, Calif.

Daughter Faints After Decision

EL PASO, June 1. (AP)—While a daughter, Mrs. C. C. Chase, fainted, Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior calmly received the news today that the supreme court had refused to review his lower court conviction of accepting a bribe in connection with naval oil leases during the Harding administration.

Mr. Fall was sleeping when newspapermen brought word of the court decision to his El Paso home where he came recently from his ranch at Three Rivers, New Mexico. He had been in bed all day, Mrs. Fall said, but had aroused at intervals to ask if the supreme court had acted. Later the information was given him by Mrs. Jouett Elliott, another daughter.

Expecting Decision

"Father took it just as he always has such things," Mrs. Elliott said. "He didn't appear surprised. In fact, I think he had been expecting it, especially after government counsel decided not to argue his petition for a review and the supreme court had set aside its rules to act immediately on the petition."

The reaction of the family was different. Informed of the decision, Mrs. Fall cried, "they're trying to kill us all—but they won't kill me. It's just a persecution of innocent people."

Daughter Faints

Mrs. Chase was not in the room when newspapermen arrived, but entered soon after. She stood in the door for an instant and then asked if the news was "bad." Told that it was, she turned pale and fell unconscious. She was revived soon, and a physician was called to attend her. Later she talked to newspapermen.

"When I spoke to father," she said, "he smiled at me and half scolded, well, old girl, what do you mean by passing out on us like this'."

Family Bitter

Mrs. Fall and her daughters were bitter in their criticism of the court for not granting a review, although they conceded they were not greatly surprised at the refusal.

Mr. Fall had no plans for the future, they said, but would wait further advices from his Washington attorneys. He received a telegram from Frank J. Hogan, his counsel, expressing regret at the failure to obtain a review, but did not reply to it immediately.

"It's the last gun," said Mrs. Chase. "We've done all we can do. Still I can't believe they will send father to jail."

"It's not the last," asserted Mrs.

Three Times Deported From U.S. Al Raschid Returns For Another Trial

(By NEA Service)

NEW YORK, June 1.—The amazing experiences of the world's champion deportee, Emir Mohammed Al Raschid, which have kept him flitting gull-like from shore to shore for the past seven years, now have landed him on the terra firma of the U. S. A.—probably to stay.

And strangely, though he has been known as Kedershah of the Turks, Emir of Kurdistan and "The Man Nobody Wants," he has actually proved he was born in Detroit on Washington's birthday, 1895, of Turkish parents exiled from their own country.

Three times he has been deported. Three times he has succeeded in returning.

Like the man he claims as ancestor, The Caliph Haroun Al Raschid of Bagdad, fabled hero of Arabian Nights tales, the Emir has lived through glamorous episodes, rivalling riding on a magic carpet.

AL RASCHID

An astonishing blend of truth and fiction has had him presenting the Princess Fatima of Afghanistan to President Harding, posing as a noted Turkish general in the Unter den Linden in Berlin, winning the Grand Prix Militaire at Nice mounted on a comic-opera stable plug, and credited with a vast scheme of re-building Kurdistan with American capital.

"All malicious lies," says the Emir. "I was born a gentleman and will die a gentleman."

And to see him, resplendent

The Woman's Angle

WHAT A WOMAN wants and what she needs are constantly warring with what she can afford," said some one who writes under the title of By the Way in the Taylor Daily Press, opined the other day. And what I wonder is why he limited his observation to women.

Unless I'm a mighty poor hand at reading people, men as well as women are constantly warring about what they want and what they can afford. In fact, it seems to me that this is a very common pastime with most of us.

And, although prospects of being able to afford the wants as well as necessities, looks good to most of us, there is a certain element of pleasure in counting pennies and budgeting a limited income, allowing for a small choice of luxuries, which adds zest to life.

The rightful owner of this elephant is Miss Margaret Turner and the animal is only a toy one, anyway, the ornamental kind that one sits around on shelves to catch dust, but the elephant carries my name and was christened in respect to me, so I don't want it fooled by vandal hands.

It's not every day that someone goes around naming his elephant after me, so anything anyone does in getting this one back to his rightful owner will be appreciated.

THE QUEEN'S TRAGEDY

THE POSITION of Queen Helen in Rumania seems to me to be one of the most pathetic that we have today. I have not made any particular attempt to become informed about this queen, but the little I know points to her as a devoted mother and a spirited young woman who refuses to become a mere puppet in the hands of her king.

Expulsion from Rumania such as is suggested now in press notices from there, may come as a relief to her for surely residence there has not been a happy one. She stands as an example of the price that royalty must pay in having all the world know of her many troubles. Commoners that most of us are, we can usually seek some sort of seclusion and have some balm in hiding our sorrows while Queen Helen must have all the world watching hers.

IF THE MEN KNEW

MICHAEL ARLEN says that "In America it is the men who are in the haven" and that reminds me of something that Dorothy Dix said recently.

Some man wrote her because he had some difficulty in agreeing with his wife. Dorothy Dix's advice to him was to use a little diplomacy. It is so easy for a man to bring his wife around to his way of thinking if he will go to the trouble to make his appeal, she wrote, saying that the mistake comes when men attempt to dominate. Women are eager to be influenced by men and it is a simple thing to direct their sentiments, she believes.

All of which may be true, but most of us are glad occasionally that men don't all know this.

NO SOUR GRAPES

WILEY POST and Harold Gatty, two young men who plan to fly around the world in less than ten days, have figured out the comparative hazards of this stunt and trying to cross a busy street. Their calculation is that there is something like three and one-half chances of getting hit by an automobile for every one chance that the motor will stop when it isn't supposed to.

Nevertheless, I'm perfectly willing to take my chance crossing the street.

CRITICS MARVEL AT AROMA AND FLAVOR OF FAMOUS COFFEE

Patented Roasting Process is the Reason for Distinctive Goodness

Of all coffees being sold today, there is one that is winning countless new friends wherever it is introduced because of its distinctive, rich flavor. As a matter of fact, more of this coffee is sold west of the Mississippi than any other brand of fine coffee.

Hills Bros. Coffee owes its matchless flavor to the patented process by which it is roasted. Instead of the rare blend being roasted in bulk, only a few pounds at a time pass continuously through roasters in which the heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled.

This process—Controlled Roasting—proves its superiority over any other method, because it roasts every berry evenly. None are overdone and none are underdone. Naturally a flavor is developed which is the last word in uniform goodness and one that no other coffee can equal.

Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. It comes to you perfectly fresh because it is packed in vacuum. This process extracts air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from the can and keeps it out. Ordinary cans, even if airtight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

A DELICIOUS CONFECTION WITHOUT AN OBJECTION

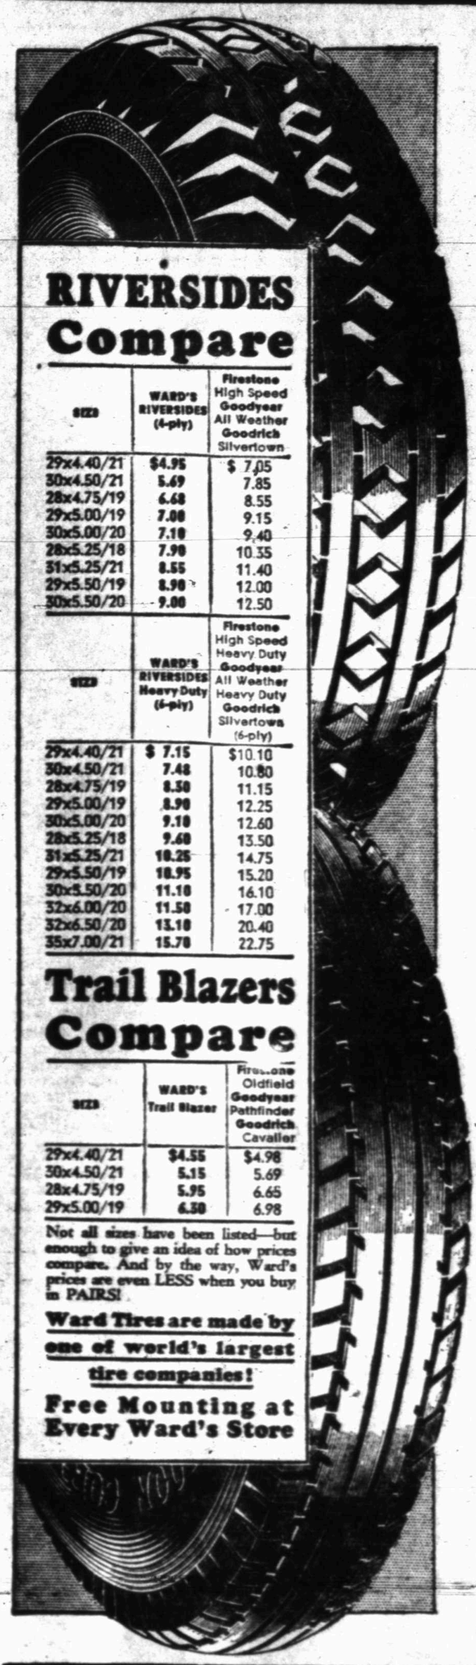

LITTLE muscles moving ten thousand times an hour. Little bodies, feverish with exertion and vibrant physical urge. Is it strange that exhaustion comes quickly; that meals seem ages apart? "Quick," says Mother Nature. "Build back these wasted cells." No time to change solid foods into usable energy. Hence comes the cry for sweets, but it's Mother Nature speaking, after all. Sugar is Nature's quickest energy food. In this liquid form it is practically predigested. Just an ounce between meals is enough. To avoid excess, dilute it with pure water for bulk and add fruit juice, extracts and essences to promote palate appeal. Too much trouble! you say? Well! so it is, for busy mothers, but not for us. Here is THE TRUTH ABOUT WARD'S TIRES

Montgomery Ward & Co. sells two qualities of tires

THE RIVERSIDE is our first quality tire

It is made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. It is built to one of the most stringent sets of specifications in the tire industry. It is one of the best known tires in America. It has been sold by Ward's for nineteen consecutive years. Millions of Riversides are in use today. It is backed by a guarantee without limit as to time or mileage.

Other fine tires equal in quality to our Riversides are Firestone High Speed, Goodyear All Weather and Goodrich Silvertown Cords . . . but these tires are much higher priced than Riversides. The table at the left gives you a size-for-size price comparison.

RIVERSIDES Compare

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES (4-ply)	Firestone High Speed Goodyear All Weather Goodrich Silvertown
29x4.40/21	$4.95	$ 7.05
30x4.50/21	5.69	7.85
28x4.75/19	6.68	8.55
29x5.00/19	7.00	9.15
30x5.00/20	7.10	9.40
28x5.25/18	7.90	10.35
31x5.25/21	8.55	11.40
29x5.50/19	8.90	12.00
30x5.50/20	9.00	12.50

SIZE	WARD'S RIVERSIDES Heavy Duty (6-ply)	Firestone High Speed Heavy Duty Goodyear All Weather Heavy Duty Goodrich Silvertown (6-ply)
29x4.40/21	$ 7.15	$10.10
30x4.50/21	7.48	10.80
28x4.75/19	8.50	11.15
29x5.00/19	8.90	12.25
30x5.00/20	9.10	12.60
28x5.25/18	9.60	13.50
31x5.25/21	10.25	14.75
29x5.50/19	10.95	15.20
30x5.50/20	11.10	16.10
32x6.00/20	11.50	17.00
32x6.50/20	13.10	20.40
35x7.00/21	15.70	22.75

Trail Blazers Compare

SIZE	WARD'S Trail Blazer	Firestone Oldfield Goodyear Pathfinder Goodrich Cavalier
29x4.40/21	$4.55	$4.98
30x4.50/21	5.15	5.69
28x4.75/19	5.95	6.65
29x5.00/19	6.50	6.98

Not all sizes have been listed—but enough to give an idea of how prices compare. And by the way, Ward's prices are even LESS when you buy in PAIRS!

Ward Tires are made by one of world's largest tire companies!

Free Mounting at Every Ward's Store

THE TRAIL BLAZER is our second quality tire

It is of the quality similar to such other nationally known "second-fine" tires as Firestone Oldfield, Goodyear Pathfinder, and Goodrich Cavalier. And it, too, sells for LESS than other second-line tires . . . as the table at the lower left indicates.

This combination of quality-with-lowest-price which is offered by Ward's seems to have made some of our competitors very envious (especially Firestone dealers) so they are making and publishing misleading and inaccurate statements about "Mail Order" tires. But they do NOT compare their first quality tires with our Riversides . . . and their second-line tires with our Trail Blazers . . . for they know that to do so would immediately indicate how very much lower Ward's tires are priced. So these alarmed competitors have, cunningly enough, priced their "second-line" tires at exactly our first quality Riverside prices . . . and then they print incomplete comparison tables which are intended to make people believe that their prices, quality for quality, are the same as ours. Well, they are NOT! (See tables at the left.) And the chart directly below shows how Ward's Trail Blazers compare in quality as well as in price with other nationally known second-line tires. Will you please compare the specifications and the prices?

8 WAYS TO COMPARE TIRE VALUES

This Table lists the eight comparisons that were made. Six FIRSTS for Ward's Trail Blazers. And Trail Blazers are also the lowest priced.

4.50-21 Tire	Ward's Trail Blazers	Firestone Oldfield	Goodyear Pathfinder	Goodrich Cavalier
Non-Skid Depth	.350 In.	.250 In.	.218 In.	.190 In.
Tread Thickness	.390 In.	.343 In.	.328 In.	.367 In.

Strength of Carcass	1714 lbs.	1655 lbs.	1256 lbs.	1418 lbs.
Strength of Tread Stock	4170 lbs.	3490 lbs.	3160 lbs.	4165 lbs.
Outside Diameter	30.765 In.	30.705 In.	30.796 In.	30.664 In.
Squeegees (A "squeegee" is an extra cushion of rubber placed between the two outer tire plies for the purpose of preventing fabric breaks and separation of plies.)	1	•	•	•
	(List Price) $5.15	(List Price) $5.69	(List Price) $5.69	(List Price Usually) $5.65

WEIGHT AS A MEASURE OF TIRE QUALITY IS NOT INCLUDED IN THIS TABLE FOR TWO REASONS:

1st, Because no two tires of the same brand and size weigh exactly alike, and

2nd, Because quality of rubber and cotton fabric used, rather than the compounded weight after being mixed with other ingredients is the determining factor. Reclaimed or second hand rubber weighs more than new rubber. Tires containing a large percentage of second hand rubber, therefore, weigh more than those made entirely of new rubber—even though the tires are exactly alike in size—so "Weight as a standard by which to measure tire quality MEANS NOTHING."

I have personally examined the specifications of the four tires described above and hereby certify that I know these specifications to be exact, accurate and devoid of prejudice.

George B. Everitt, President, MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 9th day of April, 1931 at Chicago, Ill.

A. B. Gilbertson, A Notary Public

If you want a first quality tire . . . buy RIVERSIDES . . . and save money.
If you want a second quality tire . . . buy TRAIL BLAZERS . . . and save money.

Americans Set Pace In British Open Qualifying Round

Mac Smith And Manero In Low Scoring Round

Smith Leads At End Of First Qualifying Round With 70; Seven Americans Try For Right At Old Carnoustie

BY FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 1. MacDonald Smith, an American citizen but a native of these blustery North Sea shores, plodded through wind and rain over the Panmure club course today to score a 70 and take the lead in the first qualifying round of the British open golf championship.

Close on his heels came Tony Manero, New Jersey professional, with a 72. Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, both former United States open champions had 75s, Joe Turnesa and Horton Smith took 76s, Joe Kirkwood and Willie Hunter had 77s, and Tommy Armour, also a former United States open king, scored a 79.

These scores assured the American leaders of a place in the list of 100 who will qualify at the end of 36 holes of play for the tournament proper if they do as well tomorrow. Armour's 79 was just on the border line however and called for better play in the last 18 to win a place. It was believed a 36-hole total of 157 or 158 would do.

Easier Than Carnoustie

The two Smiths, Manero, Hunter and Armour, played over the Panmure course, at Barry, a par 72 like old Carnoustie but considered by the golfers an easier test. Manero believes it is three strokes easier.

On that basis the 72 of R. A. Whitcombe, over old Carnoustie would be considered the day's best score and those of Farrell and Sarazen, who, with Turnesa and Kirkwood played their rounds there, as good as was Manero's 72 at Panmure. The two groups change courses tomorrow to finish out their play.

Whitcombe's 72 was a record at old Carnoustie as it is now laid out.

Two Brothers Are Held For Robbery

SAN ANTONIO, June 1. (AP)—Two brothers, R. L. and D. B. O'Conner, 23 and 27, of Sonora, were held in the Bexar county jail here today as suspects in the burglary of the Cleo, Tex., postoffice May 18.

They were arrestd at a filling station here yesterday by deputy sheriffs, under Sheriff Albert Hausser. Both of them made verbal statements to Hausser shortly after their arrest and postoffice inspectors were to take written statements from them today.

Hausser said the arrests followed a tip from Comfort, Tex., that the car which had been driven by the postoffice burglars at the time of the crime, had been seen there. The sheriff found 114 of the 156 stolen money orders in a pad in the automobile. It was necessary to rip away the upholstery before the orders could be found.

Ed Brandt Meets And Defeats All Except Cardinals

BOSTON, June 1. (AP)—Ed Brandt has not been particular this year, nor was he last year for that matter.

ED BRANDT

There is this difference in the matter, however. Last year the big left-hander of the Boston Braves was not particular about which teams walloped him. Most of them did in the course of a dismal season during which he won only four games while losing 11 of the 41 in which he appeared.

But this season Brandt's lack of fickleness seems to be in regard to the National league except the St. Louis Cardinals.

Physical fitness is the cause attributed to Brandt's startling reversal this season, giving him the first really successful one he has had since the Braves in 1925 gave $25,000 to the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league for his contract.

In past years Brandt has been bothered by stomach trouble.

Business Men To Seek Cash For Pro Club

Today Is Deadline For Funds To Be In Amarillo Office; President Gardner Extends Time One Day

The destiny of the Panhandle Professional Baseball league, so far as Lubbock is concerned, rests in the hands of a small but determined body of local business men, who have until tonight to raise the funds by public subscription necessary to assure the organization of a professional club here.

At a meeting of the men, who had previously resolved themselves into a committee, at the Lubbock hotel last night Harry Wanderling, manager-elect of the Lubbock club, announced that a definite settlement must be reached tonight. A telegram from J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League and also of the Panhandle League, advised Wanderling that the deadline must be today, and that if Lubbock wants a ball club as a member of the newly founded league their wants, together with a definite settlement in cash must be recorded in Amarillo tomorrow.

League Meeting Here Sunday

Should Lubbock come through with the necessary funds, a meeting of league officials, including Gardner and Secretary Price, secretary of the Texas and Panhandle leagues, will be held here next Sunday, Wanderling said. Gardner and Price are volunteering their service for one year, accepting no salary whatever, and with the hope of seeing the organization successfully carried out.

It is planned to play night baseball entirely in the new league, and with the opening dates set for June 10 it will be necessary for work of construction to begin within the next few days. All parks will be equipped with a first class lighting system. Clubs at Amarillo, Lubbock, Pampa and Clovis comprise the league.

Other Towns Ready

It is reported here that each of the other three towns have posted their league membership money, have raised through public subscription enough to insure the starting of the schedule and that interest in each of the towns on the part of the public is exceptionally high, hundreds of season tickets having already been sold.

Members of the committee in the meeting last night showed less interest than in previous meetings, but signified that they were very anxious for the league to get under way by purchasing nearly half of the stock offered for sale in the Lubbock club.

It was decided last week to sell shares of stock to Lubbock business men with the assurance that if the league paid those holding stock would receive full dividends at the close of the season. It was strongly intimated that after this year the Texas League or some other Class A organization would undertake the sponsoring of the Panhandle Class D League.

Muleshoe Vaughn Wins Seventh Victory For League Leading Shippers As Beaumont Gets To Sweet or 7-4 Victory

(By Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, June 1.— The Exporters moved in front of Fort Worth in first place today by winning the series final from Galveston 7-4. It was Muleshoe Vaughn's seventh victory and the eleventh win over Galveston in 12 starts. Young Sweet pitched creditable ball for the Bucs but his wildness was costly. Galveston rallied with three runs in the ninth, two of which were due to White's error on Ballew's line drive.

Support Given To Arizona-Tex Loop

TUCSON, Ariz., June 1. (AP)—The Arizona-Texas baseball league, teetering on the brink of untimely adjournment, has received financial support sufficient at least to postpone disaster.

Following a meeting here yesterday, the directors voted to provide enough funds to "see the circuit through its most trying period," as they described it.

President Wilford Sullinger's resignation was accepted, effective June 15, and Pat Nathan, vice president, will succeed him. Sullinger said his job had developed into one of being a "collector of assessments."

Ways and means of keeping the Globe, Ariz., club functioning were discussed and tabled until another meeting scheduled for next Sunday.

Advertisers Down Wholesalers, 11-4, In City Loop Game; Play Two Today

The Lubbock Advertisers sent the Wholesalers to their fifth straight defeat yesterday at Merrill Park and won the City League game, postponed from last week, 11 to 4, to step into a tie with the Avalanche-Journal club for third place.

Pitcher Dunlop allowed the Wholesalers only three hits while his mates collected seven off Bumpas and Cooper, Cooper relieving Bumpas in the first inning after the Advertisers had crossed the plate seven times to ice the game. Cooper and Dunlop engaged in a hurling duel during the last four innings that held a fair sized crowd in the stands until the game was over.

Seven errors on the part of the Wholesalers and four by the Advertisers counted for unearned runs that took a little from the interest of the game as it got under way but both sides settled down to play baseball in the closing frames.

The schedule calls for two games today, the Avalanche-Journal team meeting the Wholesalers at Merill Park while the Rainbows and Legion-Lions meet on the Texas Tech field. The games will be played simultaneously at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

The Texas Utilities team continues to head the pack with a perfect record, having won four straight games since the season opened. The Legion-Lions team now stands in undisputed second place with .750 per cent as a result of a forfeited game by the Santa Fe club, which has since been replaced by the Advertisers. President Leuenberger ordered the protest of the Lions club upheld because the Santa Fe team's playing list had not been turned in at the time of the game.

San Francisco To Have Giant Track

SAN DIEGO, June 1. (AP)—James N. Crofton, president of the Agua Caliente jockey club, said today he and his associates in the border race track planned to build a similar racing plant at a cost of $2,000,000 near San Francisco, Crofton said several locations were being considered.

Crofton said he and his associates were spurred by the popularity of the option system of betting in northern California and the decisive defeat of a bill introduced during the last session of the legislature to make that system illegal.

COMPLETE FRISCO PLANS

SAN FRANSCISCO, June 1. (AP) Having completed plans for groundbreaking ceremonies of a new $1,500,000 racing plant here to be known as the Fair Oaks Polo and Racing club, Gene Normile, president and general manager, left today for San Diego where he said he and his associates would seek a site to build a similar layout.

TULSA, June 1. (AP)—Secretary Hurley of the war department arrived here this afternoon by airplane. He will go to Muskogee tomorrow to deliver the commencement address at Bacone college, from which he was graduated in 1905.

COMMENT ON ANNUAL

"One of the best ever produced re," was the comment made by ny students about the 1931 Tech nual, La Ventana which was de-ered Saturday afternoon. Many the students did not obtain their arbook until yesterday, however. Edited by R. C. Marshall with F. Coker as business manager, the 31 book carries out the theme of e old Chisholm trail on every page. On each page are thumb-prints of scenes along the old trail which correspond to the material on that page.

Others on the yearbook staff be-sides Marshall and Coker are Polly Puckett, Parker Taulman, Clayton Reed, Faye Foote, Creta Herndon Mildred Price, Jesse Cooper, Mary Cosby, James Harley Dallas and Mary Beth Sheely.

TO AWARD SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships offered to leading students in the various activities of the college will be awarded on com-mencement day which is next Mon-day, according to college officials. Most of the scholarships carry an amount of money which is to be used for school purposes next year.

Students voted to nominate stu-dents to receive consideration for the award for the most useful col-lege citizen among the men and among the women several days ago. The two students to receive this prize will be chosen by the council of deans, but it is highly probable that the nominations made by the students will be seriously considered.

SEND LETTERS

Letters from the senior sponsors of Tech, Dr. W. A. Jackson and Professor Ben F. Condray, jr., wishing for the seniors of 1931 mer-ited success in life are being mail-ed to members of the 1931 class. The letters read:

Members of the class of 1931, Texas Technological college:

Your sponsors wish for you every merited success in life. We hope that the double "T" bench will be the scene of many historic meet-ings of the class of 1931. Signed, B. F. Condray, jr., and W. A. Jack-son.

Dr. Jackson is head of the gov-ernment department and Professor Condray is head of the economics department of the liberal arts school. The double "T" bench to which they referred is a concrete bench being built by the seniors as a parting gift to the college. Plans are being made for a dedication service to be held when it is com-pleted.

NOT SCHEDULED

No social affairs have been sche-duled at Tech for the past week, but some of the clubs have been hold-ing meetings in honor of their grad-uating members. The College club, Silver Keys and Los Carmaradas held meetings Sunday in honor of graduating members. Silver Key men gathered at the Hilton for a breakfast, College club men met at the Hilton for dinner and Los Cam-aradas men met at the Glorietta for dinner.

The Centaurs plan a smoker for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time plans will be made for a meeting at Amarillo this summer.

RETURNS TO WORK

Professor C. C. Perryman of the engineering drawing department of the engineering school has return-ed to work after an absence of several days due to an operation. Other members of the drawing de-partment had charge of his classes during his illness.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

Let's have a SHOWDOWN on this matter of TIRE COMPARISONS

With all the conflicting claims published about tires, it is obvious that misleading statements are being made. The only conclusion that you as a tire buyer can draw is that either we, as Firestone Dealers, are misrepresenting Firestone products, or that a certain mail order house is not telling the truth about theirs. Both can't be right—one or the other is misleading the public by their comparisons.

Firestone, in their advertising, only make comparisons that can be easily verified by the customer before buying tires. To attempt to substantiate the comparisons made by this mail order house, it would be necessary to go into a laboratory and employ experts.

The very reason that the comparisons made in Firestone advertising enable you to get the facts yourself, makes it unnecessary for Mr. Firestone to make affidavit on the truth of his statements or to file any complaint with the Federal Trade Commission, and then advertise it, in an attempt to lead the public to believe his statements were true.

Mr. Firestone doesn't ask you to accept comparisons about Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires until you see the facts yourself. Neither do we. All we ask is that you make your own comparison.

We have cross sections cut from special brand mail order tires purchased from stocks of mail order house and from Firestone Tires—no "tricky" or misleading comparisons—come in today and make your own comparisons for Quality, Construction, and Prices. YOU and YOU ALONE be the judge!

Looking To The Future

LUBBOCK county will, for a good many years, be largely an agricultural county, in that its chief source of income will be from the fields and pastures, rather than from the manufacture of raw materials.

The encouraging report from the county agent's office that there are approximately 1,000 persons engaged in receiving instruction from the federal-state supported farm agents, should be considered carefully by every thinking man and woman, whether on the farms or in business in town.

It means that there are probably half that many farms where living conditions are being improved. For the home where at least one person is receiving instruction and advice in improving the home, the crops and the methods of harvesting and preserving these crops, will be able to better weather the storms of the future.

Miss Ruth Stockton, demonstrator, reports 478 women and girls in her department of work, with an additional 50 women whose husbands receive federal aid for crops. It is a part of the requirements of the government that a garden be planted, if possible.

The county agent is in touch with around 300 farms and families through club work for boys. Besides these there are the men demonstrators and the farmers who are terracing their lands.

To put the contrast one way: there are around 2,500 farms as Uncle Sam figures such. Of these, one out of five is in touch with the free government service of the county agent and demonstrator.

Another way: of the 20,000 people living in Lubbock county outside the city of Lubbock, one out of 10 is in touch with improved agricultural methods. But, deducting the population of Slaton and Idalou, incorporated towns, we have 16,000 urban population. Of this number, at least half are over the age of 10 years, leaving one person out of eight in the farms in the position of working towards better methods of production and of farm living.

The best part of the work is that there are 323 boys and 183 girls in the clubs. These will be the farmers and housewives on the farms ten or fifteen years hence. These young people are planning for the future.

LUBBOCK AND VISITORS

During the past several weeks Lubbock has entertained several thousand people from out of the city who were here for conventions, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants associations, not to mention the West Texas Golf association and the postal workers.

Of course the South Plains boys—and girls—feel at home here in Lubbock. They don't have to be told that Lubbock looks on them as "some of the gang."

A great majority of those here for the R. M. A. meetings had never been on top of the Caprock before. It was new to them, this experience of seeing what was once rated a desert place.

Many of the W. T. C. C. visitors also were from below the cap and up here for the first time. They too were seeing this section as a new area.

Lubbock's reputation as a host city has been broadcast all over the state. The mark set by the people of this city in entertaining is a mark that a good many towns in East, Central and South Texas will have to go a long, long way to reach.

Conventions in a town the size of Lubbock, or of the other larger towns of West Texas such as Amarillo, Abilene, Pampa, Plainview, Big Spring or Sweetwater, receive more attention than in a larger city like Dallas or Fort Worth. Hence convention visitors observe the host city more closely. And Lubbock was able to maintain its reputation.

Practical Health Problems

SENSITIVITY TO FOODS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

For years it has been known that people could be sensitive to foods. Recently medicine has been paying more attention to the subject and now has various theories as to why such sensitivities occur.

The particular element in foods which causes sensitivity is the protein. It is understood that the main elements of foods are proteins, carbohydrates, fats and mineral salts.

The views are that the absorption of food occurs so quickly that the proteins get into the blood without having time to be changed chemically as in the normal person, that the digestive juices are changed in some manner so that they are not able to transform the proteins as in the normal person, that the person contains in his body certain substances which interfere with transformation of proteins or else that the person contains in his blood some substance which, combining with the protein, sets up the condition of sensitivity.

There are all sorts of symptoms of sensitivity, some of the most common manifestations being a sick headache, abdominal pain, vomiting, diarrhea, and also such eruptions as hives, eczema, inflammations of the bronchial tubes, asthma, canker sores in the mouth, and other disturbances. These conditions are not, of course, in any way related to food poisoning, which is due to infestation of food by germs or by poisonous substances.

Among the first substances to which some people were found to be especially sensitive was egg. Today it has been shown that practically all foods, except water and sugar, may in some individuals produce the symptoms of food sensitivity. Wheat products, chocolate, potato and fish have been especially recognized. Some babies are sensitive to milk. Other things which have been particularly concerned are raw meats, lobster, crawfish, shrimps, muscles, oysters, kidney beans, prunes and many other similar substances.

Apparently the most important methods involved in the control of these conditions are the certain diagnosis made by careful tests and the prevention through avoidance of the food substances involved. The skin tests are simply scratches on the skin on which a little of the extract suspected is spread. A positive reaction includes the development of a red spot. A negative reaction simply means that the scratch heals without any inflammation.

Record Is Awakening

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Washington's record of 27 murders since January 1 seems trifling compared with metropolitan figures, like New York's and Chicago's, but it should be remembered that the capital is a small-ish city.

Maj. Gen. Herbert Crosby

Moreover it has been backward in the development of racketeering.

Indeed, Major General Herbert B. Crosby, of the District of Columbia commission, especially in charge of the police department, denies that many rackets are established here even yet.

Resenting newspaper references to 1931's homicides as racketeer killings, the general officially stated, "Nineteen of those 27 murders were committed by the victims' friends and relatives."

LACKING the systematic encouragement which major crime appears to have had elsewhere, the feeling among Washingtonians is that their home town has made a tolerably substantial showing thus far this year.

In some respects perhaps it has been colorful above the average.

The presence here of the diplomatic corps helps to make it so.

Diplomats from abroad, as doubtless is generally known, sojourn in the United States theoretically upon the soil of their various native countries, which exempts them from prohibition and most if not all of them have liberally stocked cellars—stocked, too, with a quality of stuff mighty few other folk in America have any means of guaranteeing they are getting, no matter how much they pay for it.

The assumption is that the existence of these stores of liquid treasure must be a constant temptation to hi-jackers, which worries the more timorous of the foreign representatives considerably.

IN FACT, several of them are downright panicky after what happened a fortnight or two ago at the Salvadorean legation, where robbers actually broke in, and besides looting Charge d'Affaires Leiva's wine bins, swatted Dr. Leiva on the head with a piece of gaspipe.

The slugging of a foreign diplomat is a grave matter, and quite an "international incident" might have resulted if the doctor had not tactfully made light of it.

To the state department's anxious inquiry concerning the extent of his injuries he answered from the hospital that, while burglars had ransacked his legation four times in the preceding month, they had fractured his skull only once, and by midsummer he hopes to be about again.

Not all diplomats are so philosophical.

IT IS THE suggestion that gang fighting has been increasing in Washington under his police administration that most seriously irks General Crosby.

The general was placed at the department's head especially to prevent gangs, racketeers and assorted gunmen from making the District of Columbia a battleground. President Hoover's view being that the capital ought to be a model of good order for the rest of the nation.

Just about the time the Californian was entering the White House General Crosby chanced to be on the verge of retiring as chief of cavalry, and on the supposition that his military training must have been of a sort exactly to fit him to cope with the lawless elements, Mr. Hoover chose him for the police assignment. Some folk expressed fears that he would turn out to be a "Cossack" and fought his confirmation, but finally the senate indorsed the appointment.

In the face of the latest murder epidemic, the question arises:

Is he even a successful Cossack?

MAYBE NOT, but his logic is better than his critics expected, anyway.

The general admits the 27 homicides show can be help it?) but says the epidemic is purely a coincidence —a succession of unrelated events, as he describes it; not a series of duly-decreed bumpings-off like Chicago's gang executions.

Taking up the 27 tragedies one by one, he analyzes them.

For example, the recent case of a young man in the smart set who shot the manager of a fashionable night club, killed a policeman and blew his own brains out, because he was unable to get the table he wanted, as pictured by General Crosby was a social event rather than murder and suicide.

BY A SIMILAR process of reasoning, the general shows that the woman cashier of a restaurant, slain during a hold-up last April, due to an inexperienced robber's obviously unintentional perking of his trigger finger, really was the victim of an accident.

The shooting out of a labor union official's eye, as he sat at luncheon in a Washington cafeteria, was mentioned as the sequel to "a dispute which originated in another city."

"This analysis," says General Crosby ending his summary, "demonstrates that these killings were not the result of gang warfare."

CONNECTICUT SETS AN EXAMPLE

California's recent complaint of the failure of intensive safety drives to halt an increasing motor accident record is countered by the contrasting success of similar measures in Connecticut. For two years in succession the latter state has recorded a diminishing number of automobile accidents, and last year the number of persons killed in such mishaps fell 10 per cent, accompanied by a three per cent decline in the number of injured.

Reports for the first four months of 1931 show that safety propaganda is continuing to bear fruit despite another increase in the registrations. Accidents numbered 4,518 against 5,407 in the first third of 1930; fatalities, 109, against 114; injuries, 2,970, against 3,157.

These results invite study. The research director of the Connecticut department of motor vehicles attributes them to "the response of the public to appeals for caution and careful driving and walking," made through governmental authority, motor clubs and civic organizations. But these are precisely the methods used elsewhere—not alone in California, but in dozens of other states—without effect.

Is it possible that the people of Connecticut are more responsive to appeals to common sense than their neighbors? Or are the regulative laws of that state more uniformly and stringently enforced?

What the world needs is peace and plenty of it.

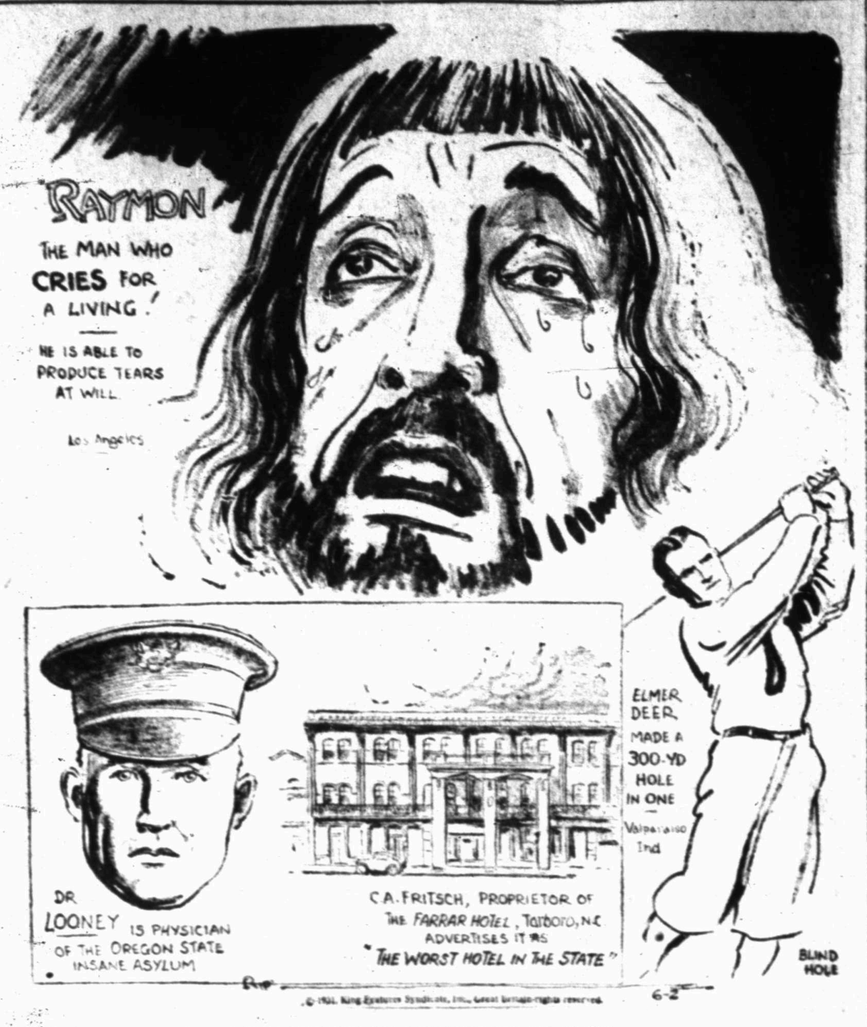

Live and learn—how to live.

EXPLANATION OF SATURDAY'S CARTOON

JEREMIAH CURTIN—MASTER OF LANGUAGES.—Jeremiah Curtin, famous American linguist and antiquarian, (1838-1906) was the master of 70 languages. The achievements of Curtin are all the more extra ordinary when we take into consideration the many obstacles he had to overcome from the very beginning. He began life as a member of a pioneer family, at Greenfield, near Milwaukee, and in his boyhood days he labored on the farm, spending his evenings in study. As secretary of the U. S. Legation of St. Petersburgh, Russia, he applied himself particularly to the study of the Slav branch of languages, and translated the works of many Russians, Polish and Czech authors into English. He added greatly to our knowledge of foreign literature. See "Columbia" magazine, January 1931, Page 10.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BERYL BORDEN discovers that her half-sister, IRENE EVERETT, is planning to elope with TOMMY WILSON. She tries to prevent the marriage by kidnaping Tommy with the assistance of her neighborhood "gang."

They capture him on the eve of the elopement and drive him out to the country where Beryl urges him to continue in college and not break the heart of his adoring aunt, MRS. HOFFMAN, who is financing him. Failing to convince him of his folly Beryl loses her temper and calls him a "sap" and then drives him back to her sister.

Irene is enraged at Tommy for keeping her waiting and refuses to listen to his explanation. He begs her to come with him, but she is obdurate.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

A wave of anger, overwhelming and savage in its intensity, swept over Beryl with Tommy's words. She could have taken him in her thin brown hands and shaken him as a terrier shakes a rat. But the practice of restraint kept her standing silent, waiting with bated breath for Irene's answer.

Irene laughed — a dramatic, taunting laugh. Then, "That's all there is to it, is it? Just like that! 'Irene, will you come with me?'" she mocked. "You've got a nerve, Tommy Wilson, to ask me that when all I've heard out of you for keeping me waiting here is a lot of crazy talk about a gang of kids kidnaping you. A hot one, that is!"

She paused and turned to Beryl. "But if I'd known that you were mixed up in it I'd have believed him if he'd said wolves had got him."

As Irene faced her sister, flaming with outraged pride, Beryl's anger against Tommy abated. She could not blame him so much, after all. Irene was magnificent when in a rage—the only time that she was anything but insipid in Beryl's estimation. Her blue eyes were dark and flashing, and there was life with a thousand facets revealed in her furious gestures, in the play of emotion upon her features, in the red of her mobile, trembling lips.

"If only he were not equally infatuated with the marshmallow Irene I could forgive him," Beryl thought.

"Well," she said to Irene, "now that you know it was all my fault why don't you go with Tommy?"

She was suddenly weary. If Tommy couldn't be stopped—he couldn't—It was all up to Irene now—and it would be a relief to know how it was going to end.

"I'll tell you why!" Irene exclaimed, her fury still at a high pitch. But now she was directing her attack at Tommy. "You wouldn't tell on her would you? Just a gang of kids! I might have known whose gang," she added bitterly, a whole album of memories in which Beryl's young friends had played a part rushing to her mind.

Beryl looked at Tommy. Queer, funny Tommy. So he had tried to shield her. Her eyes thanked him, though he did not see it. For him there was no one in the world but Irene—Irene who, for a runaway marriage, had dressed herself in pink chiffon and a picture hat and looked for all the world like a Dresden doll. (Or at least she would when her anger subsided.)

"Let's go," Tommy begged. "we'll be too late to catch a train to New York at all."

"You can take Water Baby," Beryl offered, pretending to forget that Irene had vowed never to ride in the rattlety old car. "Anyway, where are you going in New York? You can't be married tonight."

Her voice was earnest, and Tommy answered her. "We're going to a friend of Irene's," he said, "so we can get down to city hall and be married first thing in the morning."

"Oh, we are, are we?" Irene jibed. "Well, we're not. You can't treat me like this and get away with it."

"Poor Tommy," Beryl murmured softly, "just because you wouldn't tell on me."

Tommy's temper, which until now had been dormant, was slightly aroused.

"Don't be foolish," he said sharply to Irene and right there his chance of coaxing her into a good humor went glimmering. To have him anything but humble and pleading in Beryl's presence was more than Irene would tolerate. It all ended with the elopement being indefinitely postponed and Tommy going home, torn between disappointment and anger toward Beryl.

She offered to drive him back but he ignored her completely as he strode out of the room in high dudgeon.

The sweet scents of the night and the serenity of a pale moon meant nothing to him as he stalked moodily down the tree-lined street to his aunt's house.

Of course Irene had shown a lot of temper—but who could blame her with a sister like that? The kid had always been bossed and badgered by the older sister. Why, if only half the things she told him were true he wondered that she hadn't left home to make her own way in the world, long ago.

When he reached home he saw a light in the living room and guessed that his aunt was waiting up for him. He hid his suitcase under the porch hammock before he went in, then forced himself to assume a cheerful air.

"Early to bed and early to rise," he began, and "For some old ladies is very unwise," she finished for him.

"But really, Aunt Em. . . ."

"Come, let's have a snack of lemonade and gingersnaps," his aunt Em said, getting up heavily from the armchair that Beryl had covered in chintz during the short period that she was a professional

Tahoka Scribe Writes Again—Has Plan To Get New Citi

ASSETS VS. LIABILITIES

The great W. T. C. C. convention costing a small fortune is ended and in spite of drouth and depression Lubbock found ways and means to bear more than its share of the expense. Few cities under 50,000 could have done so well, but what does Lubbock get for all this vast outlay of time and treasure? The thousand rural families in Lubbock's fifty mile radius have had their market for poultry and dairy products well nigh destroyed by the pernicious activities of the W. T. C. C. and its affiliated bodies in their nation-wide wage cut drives. The merest country school boy knows that when city wages are driven down to the mere cost of bare existence the farmer has no market for his produce and the farmers' buying power is destroyed.

Motor cars and trucks are a wonderful asset but with drunken drivers they are a menace and a nuisance. Doctors are in a high class of human endeavor but criminal practicioners are a disgrace even to the penitentiary and so it is a shame that a thing as grand in its scope and purpose as the W. T. C. C. should allow these wage cut propagandists to creep in and spoil things, very much as ticks and screw worms do on a cattle ranch. Let us see if there is not a way to make Lubbock the dominant city of West Texas without shedding one tear or telling one lie. The completion of the Lubbock high school makes available thousands of suburban homesites and just then Alfonso XII, capital $5,000,000, gets voted out of a job and ordered to leave Spain. Why then, can't he come to Lubbock? He might if he was donated a ten acre block out on Number Nine. Of course, he couldn't help being born a king but he has a real nice family and can spend $500 a day and not miss the money. As a director in Lubbock banks, owner of one or two departmen stores, as staff writer on the Avalanche-Journal papers, as broadcaster over WLGS and as trustee of Tech, his ex-majesty might be a wonderful asset to the business and social life of the city.

All this reads funny to the type of mind that draws a 75 mile deadline to Lubbock's trade zone but to men of the calibre of those grand old-timers who first brought the Santa Fe to Lubbock—well, that's just one more job for Greater Lubbock. Ten acres of land and some hustling would be a small price for Lubbock to pay to have a man like Alfonso XII. Don Moody, Billy Sunday, Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers or General Pershing to locate in its suburbs. It would make a world city out of a provincial met and Lubbock could cash in geographical position and the tion of Tech. "Come to Lub sounds fine, but so far the so ers, broke and near-broke answered it much more che than have those whose mean reputation would be a real as the city.

a second wife's tragedy

BORN and reared on a farm—deprived of companions—Ellen was thirty—when Jim Baker came from the city for rest—came like Prince Charming into her lonely, barren life.

So tired—so worried, he looked. And yet so strikingly handsome—for all his forty odd years. Small wonder Ellen thrilled. Here at last was a man—needing her care—maybe her love!

With warm-hearted kindness—she brought peace to his troubled mind—and a glowing light into his eyes. Anxiously, she waited—prayed for him to speak—to ask for the love she was frantic to give.

He did speak—but not the words she wanted to hear. "I'm a widower," he said. "My children—they need a mother." "Oh!" Ellen choked—dejected. "But," he cried—"You're so good—I—I—need you too."

Her last chance for happiness—Ellen consented. Off to the city she went—not to a bride's nest—a home she had dreamed of planning—building herself. But to a long-established dwelling—where every piece of furniture — curtain — carpet — where everything was a phantom of another woman!

Bravely, she sought to win the love of those children—modern rebels who resented her presence. Soon Jim ran back to his old friends—leaving her alone—for nights—for weeks at a time.

Bitterness crept into her heart. Then came the terrible night—Jim gone—the youngest child sick—t other two out—galavanting aroun Starved for love that Fate had seeme to deny her—she sobbed in defeat decided to leave—forever—WHEN—

Almost without warning—a clim broke into Ellen's life . . . A treme dous climax that brought those ch dren home—crying into her arms glad to call her "mother." A thu derous climax that shook Jim's ver soul—brought him to her—askin forgiveness—begging for the noble love that woman holds for man.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 1. (AP)—The cotton market developed a downward tendency in today's fairly active trading and prices made new low levels for the season on all active positions. Following an open dip of 12 points due to poor cables and good weather over the week-end prices continued to ease off despite some small rallies due to trade buying. Th depressing influences were a very weak stock market, unfavorable foreign financial and political news and indications of continued good weather. The market closed steady at net declines for the day of 15-16 points.

Two private reports were issued during the day one making the acreage decrease 10.5 per cent and the other 11.5 per cent.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Prices for all positions in cotton made new low records for the season today.

October contracts broke to 8.78, or 29 points net lower, but trade buying became a little more active at this figure and there were recoveries of a few points later on covering or rebuying. October closed at 8.90 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 23-24 points.

Trading was moderately active but was mostly in small lots and the selling seemed to come chiefly from houses with foreign connections and Wall street sources.

Market Suffers Bad Nerve Case And Digs Still Deeper Into Low Ground

BY JOHN I. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—The stock market gave way to a bad case of nerves today, digging still deeper into new low ground in the first three million share session since April 30. Net losses ranged from 2-5 points in most of the favorites, numerous issues returned considerably larger declines. The average loss of 4.9 points was the largest decline of the year.

Perhaps it was the absence of favorable news over the prolonged week-end or a belief that no cheer was in prospect for the nea: future that sent prices spinning downward. Whatever the reason, liquidation piled up in increasing volume and the market got only momentary breathing spells. There was a spotty recovery in the late trading, but most stocks closed at the bottom. Sales approximated 3,100,000 shares, considerably above recent turnovers.

Rails set a bad example. U. S. Steel slumped to 84 5-8 against the previous close of 91 and closed at 85 1-4.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, June 1. (AP)—A decrease of around 15,000 head in offerings of cattle as compared with last Monday's supply proved enough of a factor to cause a general strengthening in values around the eleven market circuit. Prices on fed steers and yearlings ruled steady to 25 higher than last week's close, with the major part of the advance shown on light weights. There even were instances where a 50 gain was recorded. Grassers were slow, generally showing little change from last week's close. Total offerings were 43,750 as compared with 58,848 last Monday.

Liberal arrivals of sheep and lambs sent values downward on this class of livestock. As was the case in cattle, the change in fat lambs from last week's close was uneven, ranging all the way from steady to 50 lower. Mature sheep were largely steady with instances of a 25 drop. The day's receipts were 93,500, compared with 89,000 a week ago.

Texas Judge

this afternoon on the mezzanine floor of the Rice hotel, called the largest in the south and the police blamed her death on a lover she had spurned. The shooting, witnessed by many, threw the big lobby in an uproar.

Dan Covin, about 27, formerly of Beaumont was arrested as he left the hotel and a coroner declared, after an inquest that he slew the woman.

"Rather See Her Dead"

Covin, who was charged with murder late in the day, told officers and newspapermen at the police station that he "didn't plan to kill her."

"I'd rather see her dead," he said, "than living with another man."

He came back to Houston from Beaumont Friday, he went on, and Mrs. Hart had been here a week before he arrived.

In Love With Her

"I've been in love with her for a long time," the prisoner continued. "I didn't plan to kill her, I never thought of such a thing until just before it happened."

"While we were talking she told me she had gone back to her husband and that if I bothered her she would have her husband have me arrested and run out of town.

"Then I couldn't bear the thought of her living with her husband. I hadn't planned to kill her. It just happened on the spur of the moment."

The police gathered up a large number of witnesses.

Daughter Faints

Fall. "I've just begun to fight. This thing's not over with yet."

Mr. Fall said several days ago he would not be surprised at any action o fthe court, for he had "received so many shocks" where he had expected none he was "prepared for anything."

He came to El Paso to confer with his physicians and attorneys, for at the Tres Ritos ranch, 125 miles northwest of El Paso, communications are very poor. After two examinations, physicians said he was in as good health as he was a year ago when he went to Washington for trial, although he was ill at that time. Their opinion contributed to his decision to appeal to the supreme court.

The family indicated he might return to the ranch soon, if the legal situation at Washington allowed, because of its isolation and peaceful atmosphere, but probably would await further word from the national capital.

Four Fined

arraigned before the court. Holding entered a plea of not guilty.

Edgar Pleads Guilty

Herman Edgar pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery yesterday and was given a two years' suspended sentence. He was alleged to have forged a check on a local produce house. It was his first offense, officers said.

The two cases yesterday were the first of eleven criminal cases scheduled for trial before Judge Homer L. Pharr this week.

Criminal cases set for trial next week, as announced by District Attorney Durwood Bradley, follow:

Howard White, Mrs. W. E. Kunkle, forgery; A. L. Hoffman, Roy Robison, prohibition law violations; Brewster Dillard, Wendell Thompson, theft exceeding $50; Jack Bardwell, prohibition law violation; Iziah Venters, forgery; Bob Jackson and Jessie Wise, joint theft exceeding $50.

NEWS BRIEFS

Charles B. Metcalfe, district clerk of Lubbock county, returned Sunday from Dallas where he attended the annual convention of the County and District Clerks association of Texas last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Metcalfe.

Three Times

in a modishly-tailored gray suit, polka dot tie and handkerchief, pale sea-green shirt and an inverted Turkish style moustachia—well, he looks the part.

His case is being handled by Arthur Garfield Hays, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union. Already Circuit Judge Marschner has forwarded an order establishing that the Emir was born in Detroit. Now Federal Judge Bondy is to hear a plea that full citizenship be given the Prince of the Kurds.

Al Raschid lives with his wife in a fashionable east side resident hotel. He describes himself as "a composer and a poet." During the war he was an inspector of aircraft for the Allied governments at Dayton, he says. Before he served as an expert with several prominent automobile companies, he declares. As for money, he has it because it was left him by his rich father, once a pretender to the Turkish throne.

The report that he has been a pants-presser is vigorously denied. Certainly not that, he explains, for he is forever a gentleman and directly descended from the great Caliph of Bagdad, Haround Al Raschid, whose fondness for tall stories left the world his debtor for the Arabian Nights.

Highway Crash

with minor injuries.

The motor of Rumph's small coupe was jammed backward and the frame buckled when it struck the rear of a light coupe driven by Carl Capps, of Lubbock, about six miles southeast of here.

Traveling Slowly

Capps yesterday told County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson that he and a young woman were riding in his machine when the crash occurred. He said that his machine was traveling at a rate of speed of about 20 miles per hour.

Capps said he thought that the tail light on his automobile was burning.

The rear of the Lubbock man's automobile was badly damaged, but both of the occupants escaped injury.

Those in the collision were brought to Lubbock by passing motorists.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 1. (AP) — Cash grain demand fair.

A large part of the wheat is moving to the Gulf for export on farm board agency orders, the price quoted being $1 for ordinary No. 1 hard delivered port.

Other quotations Monday follow, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard 80 1-2@81.
Corn, No. 2 mixed 64 1-2@65 1-2.
No. 2 white or yellow wheat 67 1-2@68 1-2.
Oats No. 2 red 33@34.
Barley No 2 nominally 45@46.
Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 1.25@1.25; No. 2 kaffir 1.15@1.17.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—Dominated by stock market downturns, all grains swept lower today, with wheat and corn outdoing the season's lowest record.

Setbacks of grain values were in the face of continued government sponsored purchasing of cash wheat at pegged prices much above the current quotation on July wheat contracts representing the new 1931 crop. For the time being also, little consideration was given to severe drouth complaints from Canada, the Dakotas and Montana.

Wheat closed unsteady, 1 1-8 to 1 1-2 cents lower, corn 3-4 to 1 1-4 down, oats at 1-4 to 1-2 decline, and provisions 12-25 cents up.

the cross-examination.

After stating that when the men entered the door the night of the holdup that he "recognized John and Dick Spikes and Henry Hawkins," King further stated that "John Spikes searched me but I did not have anything."

Knew Brothers

King said he was employed by Monroe Smith, owner of the saloon, as day bartender, and that he some times worked the night trick. He testified that he knew both John and Dick Spikes, the former quite well, and "had seen" Fred Spikes. He also stated that he had served the two men with drinks over the bar but that he did not recall ever having served liquor to Fred Spikes. He only recalled seeing Fred "on one or two occasions." The other brothers were patrons of the saloon, he said.

The first thing that attracted his attention the night of the holdup was a noise near the front door. Looking, he saw "John Spikes, Dick Spikes, Henry Hawkins and two other men I did not know, at the door," he said. Dick remained on guard at the door and the others entered the place, he said. Witness had described the location of the bar, the door, three gaming tables and his own location at the time.

Covered" Several Men

While Hawkins and John Spikes covered the six or seven men at the poker table, himself and the bartender, a man named Cowden, the other men took money from the poker players, he testified. Then, with the pair covering the party, John Spikes searched him and Hawkins went behind the bar and took the money in the drawer and from a sack under the bar.

Loot was around $350.

During the holdup a man known as Will Smith, who was drunk the witness stated, came in, was ordered to hold up his hands, did so and fell over the table. Witness recalled only two of the men at the poker table, Jim Flannigan and Ed Cook, known as "Show Down Blackie." The latter dropped his money on the floor, stepped on it and saved it.

"Absolutely Positive"

On cross examination King stated he was "absolutely positive" at the time of the holdup that he recognized John Spikes and also Dick Spikes. He was also positive now that he had made the proper identification.

The cross-examination of Massagee gave purported details of his acquaintance with Hawkins, John and Dick Spikes, George Cook and others. He testified that he first met Hawkins at the home of his father-in-law, George Greer, late in 1901. Hawkins was 33 to 35 years old, five feet eight inches tall, weighed 165 pounds and had dark hair and grey eyes. Their acquaintance was "more than casual" but Hawkins "was not a close friend." He liked him personally but "did not admire and approve his actions." George Cook also was described as six feet tall and they met first at Old Liberty, N. M., late in 1901.

Knew Others

Witness knew John W. Smith, Frank Isabel and Cabe Adams. He once talked to Adams in prison about the case, he said, but denied purported tales that Adams had said the Spikes boys were "shot in cold blood." He also said he had talked to Sam Gholson and Bud Lee after his release from prison about the shooting.

Massagee detailed the questioning he was given by attorneys for the defendants. He said he had talked to Bob Hicks and had made four trips to Lubbock in connection with the case. His expenses were to be paid by the defendants and also for his loss of time.

Witness denied in talking to a man named Shipman that he had said he was to get anything for his testimony. He stated that Shipman had told him "if I knew as much as you do about this case I would get $25,000 for my testimony."

Witness first saw Fred Spikes in a saloon in Tucumcari in company with John and Dick Spikes, he stated. Details of the trip from Mesa Rica after the fight with the posse led by J. Alex Street were retold under cross-examination and Massagee reiterated his claims that he was "forced" by Henry Hawkins to accompany the party.

Purported portions of his testimony at his own trial were read and he was asked if he had made the statements contained therein.

Massagee said Witt Neal was "given a $20 bill" by Henry Hawkins and "told to divide with me, but he never did." He denied emphatically that he did not sleep well at night because of the robbery at Fort Sumner; that he in his dreams reenacted the slaying of a boy of 18 there; that he dreamed of the division of the "bloody money," and that he was arrested for stealing a horse. Witness claimed he "surrendered" to officers on an Indian reservation.

During his trial he did not employ an attorney to defend him but the "court named an attorney" and that he guessed the man was one. He denied being pardoned, saying he was released at the end of three years and eight months for good behavior.

Questions made concerning an affair that took place in a local hotel during one of his trips here, were ruled out by Judge Clark Mullican. The questions were apparently asked in an effort to impeach his credibility as a witness.

He denied taking part in the robbery of the Monarch or the Martinez saloons; had "never shot any one" and did not steal a horse at the Indian reservation.

After surrendering he wrote Sim McFarland in Tucumcari and told his story of the Fort Sumner postoffice robbery to him. He also talked to an inspector of the postal service, he said.

Massagee's deposition was introduced largely to corroborate previous testimony of defense witnesses. The statement was a lengthy one and it took the entire morning to read the statements of the witness.

next twelve months were outlined in the resolutions adopted there. We propose to do all in our power to see that these objectives are reached.

"We, of course, have several other projects to submit to the executive committee which were not covered by resolutions. The principal of these being the West Texas participation in the World's Fair in Chicago in 1933. We want the executive committee to approve plans for setting in motion an organization that will give this section proper respresentation at this exposition."

The officers approved the establishment of the traffic bureau of the organization as authorized by the old executive committee last October, at its Sweetwater meeting. Doss Berry assumed active charge of this bureau today and already has received a number of requests from member cities as to traffic and rate problems. The officers believe that this bureau will soon become one of the most valuable in the organization, Mr. Harte said.

The meeting here Monday was held at Hotel Hilton.

to enforce its orders it was regarded as highly probable the governor would call a special session at which it would be sought to give the commission this authority.

Sterling said he was considering supplementing the attorney general's staff of assistants through use of the governor's law enforcement fund and that when that fund was exhausted he could grant deficiency warrants if additional help still was necessary.

Several of the suits have been pending for more than a month.

Governor Sterling expressed the belief that operators soon would be forced to take remedial steps without waiting for action from the state legislature since it would be impossible to maintain even the present low prices unless the oil was produced on a more orderly basis with better conservation of the gas pressure of the field.

Death Probes Are Underway

New Deaths Investigated In Connection With Arrest Of Woman; Charges Already Have Been Filed

CHICAGO, June 1. —The deaths of the five known husbands of Mrs. Margaret Summers as well as those of 14 other persons were under investigation today, Coroner Herman N. Bundesen said, in connection with poison murder charges already made against the woman.

The inquiry, the coroner said, was carried back over a period of 25 years as a result of information supplied concerning Stanley Jones and James Lynch, two of her husbands, whose deaths antedated those of three others. Investigators were trying to learn whether Mrs. Summers insured these men as she did the others.

Three Others Follow

James Fairfax, Stanley Rosen and Thomas Summers were the husbands who followed Jones and Lynch in death.

Mrs. Summers is charged with murder by poison in connection with the deaths of Summers, Thomas Meyers, 17, a nephew; Thomas Lanagan, 46, and William Reenan, 72. Lanagan and Reenan were roomers of Mrs. Summers.

All of the nineteen persons whose deaths were being investigated were relatives or roomers of the woman. Additional names were obtained in a canvass yesterday of five homes in which Mrs. Summers has lived since she came to Chicago from Effingham, Ill. The investigators confiscated Mrs. Summers' Bible, in which, they said, each death was entered.
