Trixie Adopts Her Family

The picture below might be correctly titled, "Mother Love Unconquerable." It presents Trixie, Lubbock rat terrier, and her adopted family of three foundling kittens.

Little Rat Terrier Becomes Foster-Mother For Kittens; Guards Them As Her Own

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Trixie has been denied the right of motherhood.

But mother love? Nothing can deprive her of that.

In proof of which she displayed, with all reluctantly, her adopted family of three orphaned kittens. For her part, she obviously would have preferred to keep her family affairs out of the newspapers. When the evening Journal photographer snapped the picture accompanying this article, he had to keep an alert watch for his ankles while he manipulated his camera.

Not only has Trixie adopted the kittens, but she feeds them on breast milk; feeds cats—which are the natural, instinctive enemy of dogs. Milk-giving wholly as the result of mother-love when there is no actual motherhood is rare, though not entirely unknown to science. But it is a phenomenon science never has been able to explain.

Pet Of Click Family

Trixie is a rat terrier, the pet of the children of Mr and Mrs. W. D. Click, 1521 Thirty-third street. The children are W. D. jr., 14, Jeanette, 11, and Beverly, 6.

W. D. jr., found the kittens, their eyes not yet open, in a box "out in the country" several days ago. The idea of leaving the helpless little beings to starve didn't appeal to him, so he took them home. The idea of a bunch of helpless, mewing kittens around the house didn't appeal to adult members of the family, but when the children agreed to feed them with a medicine dropper, they won their point.

Trixie "Takes" To Kittens

Trixie, members of the family said, "took" to the kittens immediately. At first the children feared she might harm them. But on an occasion when they found the terrier sleeping with the cats, they decided to watch. Within a day or so, Trixie was giving milk and the kittens were nursing at her breast.

The terrier, members of the family said, is even more suspicious of strangers than the ordinary mother-dog. She will not permit anyone she does not know to handle the foundlings unless a member of the Click family is at hand. Even then she is restless and resentful.

What eventually will be done with the kittens, if they thrive, is not wholly certain. But the owners said that for the present at lease, Trixie will be undisturbed in her foster-motherhood.

Subsidized Press' Given Definition

AUSTIN, March 29. (AP) — Texas' chief executive, James V. Allred, today gave his definition of the "subsidized press" charge sometimes hurled by office seekers.

"It looks like we in Texas may hear a lot again this spring and summer about the subsidized press," the governor remarked at his conference with newspapermen. "That generally means the papers which are supporting the other fellow."

Bill On Loans Gets Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 29—The senate banking committee approved today a bill by Senator Glass (D-Va) widening the scope of RFC loans to business and reviving the power of that government agency to make loans to states and municipalities.

Despite a plea by secretary Ickes, the PWA administrator, for "co-operation" between RFC and WPA, the committee made no change in the bill. Ickes wished for an amendment empowering PWA to resume loans and grants to states and municipalities.

Time Limit Is Lifted

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) said the effect of the bill would be to permit RFC to make long time loans to business enterprises. The legislation lifts the present time limit of 1945 on repayment.

Chairman Jesse H. Jones told the committee the RFC had approximately $1,500,000,800 in "unused funds" available for all types of loans.

No "Large Demand"

Questioned by members of the senate banking committee, Jones said there was an "impression' that there is a demand for business loans that can't be met by commercial banks. He said, however, he did not think

Thorough Probe Of TVA Is Favored

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) — The house rules committee approved today a thorough congressional investigation of all phases of the Tennessee Valley authority's operations.

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) said only minor, perfecting amendments were approved and that the resolution probably would be brought before the house tomorrow for a vote.

He said the committee left in senate provisions which will permit a proposed senate-house inquiry committee of ten members to investigate also private utilities which have brought suits against TVA.

The senate approved the investigation last week as a result of dissension among the three TVA directors, which culminated in President Roosevelt's removal of Chairman Arthur Morgan.

Anti-New Deal Demos Join GOP Bloc

Roosevelt Forces Jubilant Over Senate Victory; See House Passage In Time

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—Anti-administration Democrats joined house Republicans today in a final attempt to block enactment of the government reorganization bill, after a similar coalition had failed to prevent senate passage.

Roosevelt forces, jubilant over their 49-42 senate victory, declared that house approval was only a matter of time.

Opponents Fight Efforts

Opponents, however, were fighting administration efforts to hasten the measure through a special reorganization committee and onto the house floor. Rep. Taber (R-NY), ranking minority committeeman, said he would demand public hearings on every phase of the bill.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) and other foes said they believed the telegraphic campaign against the legislation would grow in volume as

TO LUMP MEASURES

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) — Democratic members of a special house committee decided today to lump together four government reorganization measures they previously had approved and ask the house to substitute them for the reorganization bill passed by the senate yesterday.

The house has passed two of the four measures. The procedure agreed upon will force house action on these two again as part of a general reorganization measure.

house consideration proceeds. Senators were swamped during the week-end by thousands of messages declaring the bill would give dictatorial powers to the president.

O'Connor Cpposes Bill

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the house rules committee announced his opposition to the bill, suggesting it might well be allowed to slumber in "some cobwebbed pigeonhole."

In fact, it was only by a parliamentary quirk that the senate measure was routed to the house at all. The latter passed two bills last year embodying portions of the reorganization program, and administration leaders had hoped to send the senate bill directly to a joint conference committee for adjustment of differences.

An objection by Senator Clark, however, prevented substitution of the senate bill for one of the house measures.

Beaumont Mayor Is Honored By Hometown In Send-Off

BEAUMONT, March 29. (AP) — More than 600 men and women gathered at dinner here last night gave to Mayor P. D. Renfro a stirring home-town send-off in his campaign for governor.

Renfro's response was a three-fold expression of profound optimism, for success, a review of his economy - in - government platform and a sharp denunciation of "machine politics" and "men who run for office while holding others."

"No man has a right to hold a state office and run for another at the same time," Renfro said, without mentioning names. "He should get off the taxpayer's back and run on his own account."

Renfro came out for amendments to the compensation laws and condemned vacancy suits filed in Austin rather than in the county where such land is located. He advocated amendment of the latter law.

Rayburn Predicts House Work Will Be Finished By May 1

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP) — Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, Democratic floor leader, looked over the house calendar today and predicted the chamber would finish its work by May 1.

Karl Crowley Announces For Governor

Tart-Tongued Solicitor For Postoffice Department Is To Resign Federal Post

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Mar. 29—Karl Crowley, tart-tongued post-office solicitor, formally entered the Texas governor's race today and said he would immediately return to Washington and resign his federal post.

Crowley, fifth active candidate to announce, did not immediately issue his platform planks.

To Announce Platform

"I will be a candidate for governor of Texas," Crowley told newsmen at a Dallas hotel. "I shall return to Washington tomorrow and resign my federal office and as soon as some important pending matters are finished there, I will return and issue a formal statement and announce a platform on all political issues.

"I shall endeavor to state my position plainly, so that the people will know how I stand on all public questions.

"There will be no evasion on issues as seems to be common to some candidates who have been campaigning for this office at the state's expense for the past four years."

Crowley joined Attorney General William McCraw, Railroad Commissioner E. O. Thompson, Clarence Farmer and Mayor P. D. Renfro of Beaumont as gubernatorial candidates.

Increase In Rates Granted At Austin

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—Railroads and truck lines in Texas today were allowed a 10 per cent increase in rates on less than carload freight shipments intrastate except those to, from or between differential territory.

The increase, an aftermath of the boost allowed by the Interstate Commerce commission on both carload and less than carload interstate shipments, would become effective April 9 and last until December 31, 1939. The carriers had asked the I. C. C. and state ratemaking bodies for a 15 per cent increase to meet rising operating costs.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said a boost in less than carload rates was not opposed at hearings except by interests located in differential territory who said charges in that territory already were higher than in common point territory.

Woman Declares She'd Rather Be Robbed By Old Timers

HOUSTON, March 29. (AP)—Given her choice between young, inexperienced gunmen and old hands, Miss Pauline Cooper, night manager of a liquor store, will take the old timers every time.

Last night two youngsters robbed her store of $37 at pistol point.

"Their hands trembled and their voices squeaked," she said, "they were more nervous than I."

Two older men held up her store last time.

"They weren't a bit nervous," she said.

Oil Well Is Guard Over This Church

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

Santa Fe Springs Church In Shadow Of Its Oil Well

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif., Mar. 29 — Pastors troubled with church financial problems may be excused if they look enviously at the Methodist Community Church of this oil town.

The church stands on a pool of petroleum.

From the ground where the parsonage used to stand, next door, towers a steel derrick that for 24 hours a day pumps money into the church treasury.

Oil royalties enable the church to run buses to bring its members to services, its children to Sunday school. They have built a modern parsonage, a playground, a community service building, a barbecue pit and a first aid station.

Free of debt, the Rev. Harry G. Banks and his flock of 400 are planning larger improvements.

When Santa Fe Springs struck it rich in 1923, the congregation was a struggling one of farmers and small wage earners. The oil made many of them rich and they moved away. Church revenues rose, but attendance fell. Hence the buses.

Visitors usually ask why the church didn't move out of the forest of oil derricks. There's the catch.

The church got the land with the proviso that "regular worship be held there." If the church moves or discontinues services, it will lose the rich site.

Lack Of Foreign Oil Markets Presses Problems On Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 29 — The lack of foreign markets pressed urgent problems today upon the Mexican government's newly acquired oil industry.

There have been eleven days without sales abroad since the government took over 17 American and British oil companies on March 18, and the nation's oil tanks are filled near to capacity.

Production Curtailed

Production has been curtailed 65 to 75 per cent, but even so it appears there soon will be no place to house the "black gold."

The problem of storage space is specifically technical, but its broader aspects embrace economic adjustment.

The suspension of purchases of Mexican silver by the United States treasury started the peso on a rapid decline. Mexicans believe the suspension was in retaliation for expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry.

Some fear that the United States

Banker Surprised At Mexican Move

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—Luis G. Legoretta, Mexican banker, expressed hope on his arrival from Europe today that an "adjustment" would be made in Washington's decision to cease buying Mexico's silver after April 1.

"It is difficult at this time to measure the amount of foreign trade that would be lost if the projected policy of the United States is carried through," Legoretta said. "It is a very important problem and it must lead to a more satisfactory solution."

Legoretta, managing director of the Banque Nationale du Mexique, Mexico City, said his country could readjust itself if necessary, but "it will take a lot of time if the silver embargo is carried out."

Legoretta, returning on the Normandie from a two months trip abroad, said it was a "very big surprise" when he learned the Mexican government had expropriated foreign oil properties.

"I saw good will on both sides when I left Mexico," he said. "They were practically sure that an understanding would be arrived at. I cannot really understand the reason for the break in negotiations."

Only Six Prisoners Still At Large; Negro Fatally Shot

TYLER, March 29. (AP)—Only six of fourteen Smith county prisoners who escaped from a truck yesterday remained at large today.

Roosevelt Lynch, 26, a negro ex-convict, was shot fatally by a posse yesterday when he was surprised with four other escapes. A total of seven prisoners were recaptured.

The fourteen escaped from a truck which was taking them to work from the Smith county farm near Lindale.

Europe Struggles To Prevent Spread Of Spain's War As New Threats Appear Today

(By The Associated Press)

Europe struggled today to keep Spain's civil war in Spain, against new threats it might spread.

The Spanish government, its back to the wall, accused Germany and Italy again of lending strong support to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgent armies.

In Rome, the Fascist editor, Virginio Gayda, charged France and Russia were obstructing the withdrawal of foreign fighters from Spain, declaring Italy was ready to recall her forces when those countries did.

He warned that open French intervention in Spain would have "grave consequences" in the rest of Europe.

In London, the European non-intervention committee's subcommittee was summoned for Thursday. Great Britain then was expected to bring France into line with her plan to remove the foreign soldiers.

Insurgents, in a note to Britain, countered the government charges. They declared Barcelona authorities were planning an air raid with planes

NEW YORK, Mar. 29—Resumption of heavy selling sent leading stocks skidding for losses of $1 to $4 or more today to the lowest average prices in three years.

SILVER PRICE CUT AGAIN

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) — The treasury shaved another cent off its price for foreign silver today.

stock exchange ticker fell behind the market for a while under the rush of offerings.

Mining shares were outstanding losers as the price of silver in London dropped more than two cents an ounce in extension of a decline on the U. S. treasury's suspension of direct purchases of the metal from Mexico and a cut in its buying price for foreign silver.

The descent of the stock market into new low ground for the 1937-38 downswing, brokers said, again brought out forced selling from margin accounts undermined by the steady wearing away of prices.

Chinese Drive Forces Back

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, March 29.—A great Chinese army today was reported to be pushing back Japanese along a 100-mile front in bitter battle for central China.

On the battle, along a furiously-contested line in southern Shantung province stretching eastward from the Tientsin-Pukow railway, observers believed the fate of central China depended.

Heavy Casualties Reported

More than 100,000 men were engaged on each side. Each army reported extremely heavy casualties for the enemy.

The latest bitter phase of the Shantung campaign, nearly three months old, began yesterday. Fighting continued through the night. Chinese asserted the result was a victorious sweep northward, with the Japanese falling back.

Japs Dispute Claim

Japanese disputed this, but the best available information indicated the Japanese had withdrawn from a gigantic hairpin area between the Tientsin-Pukow railray and the town of Lini.

In one of the several direct battles along the front about two miles outside Lini, Japanese retreated to a base 13 miles northeast after bloody fighting.

The Japanese later tried a coun-

Visa Applications To U. S. In Vienna Reach New Record

VIENNA, March 29. (AP)—Visa applications to the United States reached a new high today when an estimated 3,500 Austrians, chiefly Jews, crowded the corridors of the American legation.

The average since the nazification of Austria previously had been from 1,000 to 1,500 daily.

The huge increase was believed to be due to Saturday's speech of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering in which the No. 2 Nazi leader declared "Jews must go."

Two Children Killed In Texarkana Territory

Twisting winds added to flood damage in rain soaked North and East Texas yesterday, while tornadoes in neighboring Oklahoma and Arkansas left two dead and at least 20 injured.

Rural Electrification Work Said Held Up By Landowners

Failure of two property owners to assign easements on right-of-way has delayed construction of 110 miles of rural high line in Lubbock county, said South Plains Electric Cooperative company officials.

Both are out-of-state owners of small tracts, one near Posey and the other east of Lubbock.

Meantime, 340 signed customers on the 110 miles of high line are awaiting construction. High line locations have been staked and surveys are complete.

Officials of the cooperative had hoped to start construction by April 1. Work order is to be issued when the right-of-way is assured, said Chas. C. Fagg, superintendent.

No Wonder You Are Constipated!
What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? Bread, meat, potatoes? No wonder you're constipated—due to lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It means the kind of food that forms a soft, bulky mass in the bowels. It's this mass that helps your bowels move.
The common sense thing to do about it is to eat a natural laxative food. Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast will give you just the "bulk" you need. And it gives you, in addition, Nature's great intestinal-tonic, vitamin B1. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

ow is considering also an upward ljustment of tariffs on Mexican oods — this fear based on Treasury ecretary Morgenthau's statement unday that the United States in- nded to review commercial and fi- ncial relationships with Mexico.

Declining business sales were not- d here. One leading department ore said sales were off 50 per cent. ne of the largest tire houses re- orted "not a single sale" last week yesterday.

Peso Continues Drop

The peso went as low as 4.70 and 90 to the dollar in late street trad- g after the close of banks yester- ay, a drop of 60 to 80 points since aturday.

Regular foreign exchange deal- gs were suspended by the Central ank of Mexico with expropriation the oil industry, so trading was ith private banks.

There seemed to be no prospect hat the new government petroleum ouncil soon would find the needed oreign oil markets to ease the sit- ation, and one petroleum expert ade the prediction that Mexico ould be "drowned in oil" she could ot sell.

Debt In Background

All this again threw into the ackground the prospects of a set- ement to the nation's billion dol- r foreign debt.

Finance Minister Eduardo Suarez nd George Rublee, representing an nternational committee for holders f Mexican bonds, recently reported hemselves in "virtual agreement" n terms for refunding the debt in- urred prior to 1910.

But now urgent necessity is pay- ng for the $400,000,000 worth of xpropriated oil properties.

U. S. Holds 20 Per Cent

Owners of the bonds which cover he billion dollar debt — 20 per cent eld in the United States, 30 per ent in Great Britain, 35 per cent n France and the rest in other na- ions — have received no interest ince 1928.

The late Porfirio Diaz, president f Mexico for 30 years, borrowed reely abroad for public works and ndustrial development.

After revolution overthrew him in 910, succeeding governments came o three agreements for paying off he debt, but produced little cash.

Railways Owed Most

Of the principal of the debt, $273,- 23,211 represents obligations of the ational Railways of Mexico and ffiliated lines.

President Lazaro Cardenas ex- ropriated the railways in June, 937.

The remaining $252,289,015 of the rincipal represents direct govern- ent borrowing, plus debts of Vera- ruz, Tamaulipas and Sinaloa states, lexico City and the Tehuantepec ational railway, all consolidated ith the government borrowings.

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Stock market leaders catapulted into new low territory for the past 3 years or longer today, with losses running to 4 or more points before mild support stemmed the downswing.

After a lower opening, a little recovery entered the list but it failed to hold and a wave of offerings swept over the industrials with sufficient intensity to put the ticker tape in arrears for a brief interval. Loans To Business there was any large demand."

He said the bill by Senator Glass (D-Va) would permit the RFC to lend to business enterprises on a long-term basis.

Such loans, he added, would be made not to pay existing debts, "but to provide money to hire men and buy materials."

He noted also that a provision of the bill would permit self-liquidating loans to states and subdivisions thus authorizing RFC to revive about 1,000 applications which were closed when the PWA stopped such activity last fall.

Balloting Closes Thursday For "Little Miss Lubbock"

Balloting will close Thursday in an election to choose "Little Miss Lubbock," officials of the auxiliary of Allen Bros. American Legion post, sponsor of the event, announced Monday. Approximately 50 contestants are seeking the honor, election officials said.

The purpose of the contest is to obtain funds for rehabilitation and child welfare work.

Winner of the title, "Little Miss Lubbock," will be presented with a diamond ring.

A theater party will be given for all contestants Friday afternoon.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

More Permits Are Issued Here Today

Despite the fact that the building permit pace the first day and one-half of this week has slowed from that of previous weeks, it still continues with a vigor which would border on the phenominal for any city comparable in size to that of Lubbock, records this morning disclosed.

New construction authorized this morning totaled $4,825 added to $17,750 Monday, an aggregate for the day and one-half of $22,575. Total for the month was increased to $236,959 and for the year to $538,446.

Permits included: R. J. Fisher, stone veneer residence at 2007 Thirtieth street $7,000, and double garage apartment in rear of same address, $1,500; W. B. Armed Robbery Is Reported To Cops

Going to a fictitious address Monday night, Wilbur Warren, 16-year-old messenger boy, said he was robbed of $4.66 by an armed man who pulled two guns.

Authorities were told by the boy, who lives at 1312 Nineteenth street, he had been told by Mark Halsey Drug store to deliver a package in 400-block Fourteenth street and to bring "change' for $5.

On his return, after finding no such address, he said a man with two guns appeared between Avenue D and E on Fourteenth street and took the money.

Authorities sought to trace a call said to have been made over a pay telephone.

Briggs Frowns On Idea Of Mike Catching Again

Eighth of a series from the spring training camps.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

LAKELAND, Fla., March 29—Even more important to the Detroit Tigers than Schoolboy Rowe's arm is the battle that Gordon Stanley Cochrane is now waging within himself.

Surgeons undoubtedly have warned Mickey Cochrane not to play. Another blow anything like the one he suffered, when he failed to get his head out of the way of Bump Hadley's fast ball last summer, easily might prove fatal. Owner Walter O. Briggs doesn't want Miracle Mike to risk further injury, but

Never Looked Better

Cochrane is cavorting around first base at the Bengal's training base here with all the pepper and enthusiasm of a busher. He never looked or felt better, and such a keen observer as Charley Gehringer suspects that he'll return to the active playing list and get in the thick of things once the gong rings.

Cochrane will be 35 on April 6, but there is plenty of baseball in him yet, and to one of his disposition catching would be much easier on his nerves than sitting in the dugout.

Ready To Give Up

Detroit is about ready to give up on Birdie Tebbets, and Ray Hayworth is not a first-string backstop.

I asked the peerless Gehringer if Rudy York could catch.

"Guess he'll have to, if Cochrane doesn't," replied the American league batting champion.

It is easy to see that the Tiger regulars are not exactly sold on York as a catcher.

Much Depends On Rowe

With or without Cochrane, the Detroit club once more will rise or fall with Lynwood Rowe. Even with Vernon Kennedy, the battling Bengals, as Cochrane calls them, haven't enough pitching to match the New York Yankees without the perennial Schoolboy.

It was Rowe who stopped the Yankees in 1934. It was Rowe and General Crowder who won key games from the Ruppert Rifles and other first division outfits in 1935.

It is too early to know whether the bad spot in his shoulder, which sent Rowe home early last season, has been ironed out. The tall dealer from El Dorado has not yet cut loose.

Seldom Come Back

Arms that go lame seldom come back, however, and there is doubt in Rowe's mind.

"I'd pitch this entire season for nothing if I thought my arm would be all right," he says.

Rowe's return to form would give the Tigers five pitchers capable of taking the outfit any distance. The others are Tommy Bridges, Elden Auker, Kennedy, and Roxie Lawson. Backing them up are Boots Poffenberger, George Gill, Slick Coffman, and the southpaw, Jake Wade.

Rookie Has The Stuff

There are 17 pitchers on the premises. Of the newcomers, Joe Rogalski and Ed Selway, righthanders, appear the more promising.

After starring in the Northern league, the 22-year-old Rogalski, who weighs 187 pounds and stands six feet two, moved to the Bengal's Beaumont farm, where he won 17 and lost 6. He has control and a deceiving knuckle ball, and does not try to pour the pill past hitters. He comes up with the enviable reputation of possessing plenty of courage in tight spots.

Oddly enough Selway, who is attracting attention, has no record to speak of although he has been at it professionally since 1932. Tulsa turned him out into the cruel world when his arm went on the Fritz last term, and he was picked up by Fort Worth in time to cop two and lose one.

Performed In Series

It was in the Texas league playoff and Dixie series that Selway performed the feats that caused Detroit to purchase his contract. Edward practically was invincible in the two series, twice shutting out Little Rock, the Southern league champion, to bag the Dixie debate. There is plenty of him. He weighs 190 and is six feet three in hight.

Pitchers unlikely to enjoy any great degree of success are Alton Benton and Carl Doyle, former Philadelphia Athletics bought from Memphis; Stanley Corbett, up from the Beaumont subsidiary; Pat McLaughlin, back from Indianapolis; Woodrow Wilson Davis, who toiled for Toronto in 1937; and Harry Eisenstat, a left-hander who had trials with the Brooklyn Dodgers, who served with Louisville last year, and who was acquired as a free agent.

York has too much power to be left on the bench even if he doesn't catch. So the vast Indian and Hank Greenberg and Gehringer again will be the heavier Detroit cannon.

Billy Rogell figures that it is his turn for a big year at shortstop.

Mark Christman, who hit .291 and stole 46 bases for Beaumont, right now has replaced Marvin Owen at third base, although Don Ross has not been dismissed. Ross, not yet 23, hit .305 for Toronto. Tony Piet and Frank Croucher, a shortstop recalled from Toledo, are other infielders.

The regular outfield will be Chet Laabs, Dixie Walker, and Pete Fox, with Jo-Jo White and Roy Cullenbine standing by. Cullenbine compiled a batting average of .308 for Toledo.

Vernon Kennedy should help and the Tigers will manufacture runs in clusters, but that famous battery, Rowe and Cochrane, still is the Detroit story as the major league clubs rehearse for another gruelling grind.

Keesey Sees Oklahoma City As First Division Contender In Spite Of Loss Of 1937 Stars

BY JIM KEESEY
Manager, Oklahoma City Indians

JACKSONVILLE, March 29 — My Oklahoma City Indians this season will be without the services of such stars as Outfielders Paul Easterling and Tony Governor, Infielder Stan Sperry and Pitcher Ralph Buxton, but I feel the team is a certain first division contender.

With Del Friar from last year's team, which finished far ahead of the field in the regular season race, and Frank Krole, a capable player obtained from Fort Worth, I believe our catching department will be well taken care of.

Includes Self In Estimate

Also, the infield leaves nothing to be desired—if I may include myself in this estimate. The starting infield will be Joe Bilgere or Jim Stroner at third base; Lou Brower at shortstop, Frank Sigafoos at second and myself at first.

Sigafoos, a newcomer, with major league experience, should solve the problem occasioned by the departure of Sperry.

The outfield situation is not so settled. In right we will have Johnny Stoneham from last year's club —a man of ability. Clary Hack, a big, good-looking boy from the Marshall club of the East Texas league, will be in center. He has been hitting and fielding exceptionally well in spring games and looks as if he should be able to go for us.

Left field might be termed the only open spot on the club. Dan Pavlovic, once the property of the Dallas club, is the first choice for that position. However, his hitting has not measured up to Texas league standards so far in spring games. It may be that he is a slow starter and will come through later.

Among the pitchers we have the Veterans Ash Hillin, Jack Brillheart, Jim Moore and Clay Touchstone. The latter, one of our best pitchers last season, has had a severe attack of illness and it doesn't look as if we can depend upon him much this season — certainly not in the opening weeks.

The crop of new pitchers looks exceptionally good. In Frank Lamanske, a seasoned Pacific coast leaguer, and Lester Lowery, we have two lefthanders who should stick. Bill Prince, a big righthander, is another fine prospect with William Douglas, another righthander showing enough to be kept at least for a time.

Hard Afternoon Of Tennis Scheduled

HOUSTON, March 29. (AP)—Thirty-two survivors of the first and second rounds of the River Oaks Tennis tournament today prepared for a hard afternoon of racquet swinging.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, second ranking tennis player in the United States and top-seeded here, stood out today as the favorite to defeat Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, who is defending the River Oaks championship he has won three consecutive times. Riggs yesterday breezed through his two matches without losing a single game.

Top matches carded for today found Riggs pitted against Sidney Nachlas of Houston; Wayne Sabin of Hollywood opposing Charles Cook of Houston; Wilmer Allison of Austin facing Melvin Lapman of Austin; Bitsy Grant playing Fred Bover of Dallas; Ernie Sutter of New Orleans booked to meet the winner of the David Peden-Hugh Dunlap match, which was called on account of darkness yesterday; Hal Surface of Kansas City playing Arthur Trum of Houston and Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., opposing Tom Higgins of Edmond, Okla.

Other matches to be played today included the meeting of Gene Morris of Edmond, Okla., facing Bobby Kamrath of Austin, last year's Southwest conference champion; Searcy Ferguson of Dallas meeting Warren Christner of Austin; Edward Hatzfield of Austin facing Frank Guernsey of Houston; Ebbie Holden of Houston against Paschall Walthall of Austin; Edgar Weller of Austin opposing Dick Morris of Houston; Allen Key of Houston tackling Ed Lorfing of Austin and Jake Hess of Houston playing John Brubach of Austin.

Hartay Tangles With Venable At Auditorium Wednesday

George Hartay, the husky Hungarian, dominates the supporting card prospects at the Auditorium tomorrow night in a scheduled semi-final stretch with the Alabama Bulldog, Bill Venable.

Stretch-legs Bill Hall of Hollywood also is on the supporting card, bumping into Prince Omar the Persian in the opener. Hall's extra "reach" and his almost super-human ability to do things with those long legs and arms make him a big favorite.

The main event finds Andy Tremaine and Dick Sampson in a bout that should be a "natural." Both are popular fellows here, and the house will be divided in sentiment. It may be a clean bout, but one full of action and suspense.

Dudley And Nelson Are Picked To Tie In The Masters

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 29. —The touring golfers swung out of here today for Augusta and the Masters tournament started the last of the week. . . . The greater Greensboro open was the best handled meet your agent has ever attended.

And now for a few pickups: Cunnel Ruppert is so pained with the way his world's champions are playing in the grapefruit league he is about determined to head back north. . . . Thirty of the pro golfers were polled on the outcome of the Master's and eight of them voted for Ed Dudley and Byron Nelson to tie. . . . Henry Armstrong may find the going tough against Barney Ross, but he ought to polish off Lew Feldman in not more than a couple of rounds tomorrow night.

Strangler Opens Cafe

Old Strangler Lewis has opened quite an eating place in Hollywood and that reminds us that we are sorry we had to miss Jimmy Braddock's opening in New York the other night. . . . There's a teacher named Lefty Gomez on the faculty of the New York school of music an another named Ben Chapman. . . . Ben teaches the piccolo.

Freddie Corcoran, crack tournament man for the P.G.A., says the top notch pro golfers never discuss the game after the office closes. . . . Hockey, baseball and boxing, all right, but no shop talk. . . . Maybe that's why they're on top. . . . You've certainly got to give Arizona U. credit for taking on big time teams. . . . They've booked Southern Methodist, Minnesota and Notre Dame, to say nothing of Marquette and Santa Clara over the next two-year period.

Hale And Bell Move Ahead In Tourney

Bob Hale and John Bell of the Tech varsity team moved ahead in first round matches of the Tech student golf championship tournament yesterday.

Hale defeated A. P. Clark, 6 and 5, while Bell triumphed over Donald Doherty, 3 and 2.

In the second round, Hale meets J. D. Webster; Manson Allen tangles with Jack Carlson; Lindsey Telford meets Rufus Ryan.

Lindsey Telford and Hale divided medalist honors with qualifying scorse of 69, one under par at Meadowbrook.

Two other matches were played yesterday. In the first flight, J. D. Keithley won from E. Rawlings, 4 and 3, while J. H. Wilson stopped W. Roddy in the second flight, 3 and 1.

One Devastating Punch By Thomas, Lewis' Idea

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, March 29.—One devastating punch can turn the tide of a heavyweight battle.

That is the psychological thought Nate Lewis, the "old bald eagle of Boul Mich," is drilling into Harry Thomas, the Minnesota swing man who figrts Joe Louis 15 rounds or less for the heavyweight championship at the Chicago stadium Friday night.

Knows All The Tricks

Lewis, managing Thomas, has been connected with the ring sport since the days of Joe Gans and knows all the tricks of inspiring a fighter.

Lewis contends that Thomas is the best conditioned heavyweight in the game today, his courage is beyond question and that he has terrific hitting power. He points to 44 knockouts in 62 fights as proof of Thomas' ability to knock them over.

"Thomas' inability to box," Lewis said today, "will be a help to him.

Will Do Things Wrong

"Louis, being a good boxer, will naturally expect Thomas to do things that he would do. He will find him doing things wrong, but the things he will do wrong will be done with plenty of fire."

Thomas was given a much needed rest today, for fear he might be bordering on staleness. He will return to the workout trench tomorrow. He expects to scale 196 pounds Friday night.

Louis who is aiming at the 200 pound notch, returns to the ring today after a day's rest for his semi-final drills.

Box office reports indicate the fight may draw $80,000 or more in view of advance sales of about $30,000.

Rajah Believes It Takes More Than Two Years To Tell

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 29. (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, former major league star and manager, believes it takes more than a couple of seasons to determine whether a baseball player is a real star.

"Personally," said the Rajah, "I don't consider a baseball player great until he has been in the major leagues five years."

The common practice of comparing the diamond's new outstanding performers with the "old greats" is all wrong, in Hornsby's opinion.

Hornsby considers Lou Gehrig and Charley Gehringer the greatest players in the American league.

He said that while he thought a ball player should get all he can because his time is limited, "25,000 would be enough" for Joe DiMaggio, who is asking $40,000 from the Yankees.

"DiMaggio has been up there only two years," he said. "I'd rather have Joe Medwick of the Cards. He's showed he can stay there."

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: Have you been by the ball orchard lately? . . . Drive out and take note of the fine new boulevard being constructed from Third Street over to the park entrance. . . . It'll be a short cut drive way off College Avenue, and a boon to motorists. . . . And thanks are due the friends on the Chamber of Commerce, BCD, City Hall staff and their associates. . . .

Other improvements at the park are in store. . . . Another grandstand section is to be constructed, making a south wing to the present grandstand; other grandstand seats will be added, and box seats installed. . . . Business men fans of baseball may begin to show their appreciation by reserving fence spaces. . . . The advance opening day ticket sale will start in about two weeks.

Arizona State Teachers (Tempe) College grid coaches, Dixie Howell and Hillman Walker, footballers at Alabama together, will be on opposite sides of the athletic fence this summer . . . Howell plays with Tulsa, Walker with Dallas, in the Texas League. . . . It makes good patter, but it is doubtful if anything drastic comes of University of Arizona's protest over the signing to a professional football contract of Bronko Smilanich, the crack halfback, by the Cleveland Rams. . . .

Texas Tech's football squad will cancel Wednesday's workout in deference to the late Jack Durham. . . . Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith and Graduate Manager Bo Williams plan to attend the funeral in Hamilton. . . . Cooperation of Al Baggett in postponing until 1939 his West Texas State Teachers college coaching school should mean increased attendance and a livelier interest in the school to be conducted here August 1-6 by the Texas High School Football Coaches association. . . . Lynn Waldorf and Harry Stuhldreher are to be principal instructors. . . .

Maxie Baer's "comeback" is moving fast. . . . One knockout, and he rates second only to Max Schmeling in the list of contenders for Joe Louis' crown. . . . Gunnar Barlund, rated fifth, could make Maxie look very silly. . . .

But speaking of heavyweights, there's one up Canyon way who is far from a pushover. . . . He turned up, quite by accident, at the Southwestern AAU in Dallas last week, fought a couple of fights — and won the championship. . . . The name is J. E. Pietzsch — it's pronounced like "peaches," and he's called that — and he attends West Texas State Teachers. . . . He was the big surprise of the tournament and you'll be hearing from him . . . maybe as an opponent for Babe Ritchie. . . .

On Wednesday, day the tournament started, President Bob Humphrey, already a harried soul, discovered he had only three heavyweights listed. . . . "He's a heav weight . . . may not be a fight but he's in shape . . . been pla ing basketball with the Buffs . hasn't boxed much this year. . We can get him here by morrow night if you want take a chance."

Humphrey was, and they sent Peaches . . . His first opponent the well known but slightly be dled Julian Alsabrook of Abil . . . Peaches took Alsabrook bloody cleaning, and it set tournament afire. . . . Dallas' he weight favorite, and a nice bo Dewey Vaughn, also won in the round and met Peaches, or Pietz in the final. . . . That Girl on Broadway says political reforms are like burning incense: making a new stink to get rid of an old one.

Army and navy leaders figure that in case of war 2,000,000 men could be mobilized in four months.

They could count on twice that number if our next preparedness song were entitled "Over Here."

THE Plainsman dislikes to keep harping on the same string but a little thing popped up the other day which indicates that our lower grades are not alone at fault in present day methods of education. It seems that lower, upper and college grades are pretty much in the same questionable category when it comes to dissemination of at least some practicable information.

When the news of the death of Col. Edward M. House crackled over Associated Press wires the other day, Mr. Charles Wesley Ratliff, The Journal's news editor, and The Plainsman discussed the value of the story as compared to the rest of the day's top news. We agreed that the awful Tahoka automobile accident should take the principal spot on Page 1, but Mr. Ratliff, it seemed to The Plainsman, wanted to sell Colonel House a little short.

"Not a third of our readers," he insisted, "know Colonel House from a large load of hay. The great majority has never heard of him."

The Plainsman, unbelieving, decided to show Mr. Ratliff up. And he got the surprise of his life. Mr. Ratliff was as right as a fox.

Purposely picking out four young people who were either born during the war or immediately after its close, he asked each one:

"Who is Colonel Edward M. House?"

Three of the four were exstudents of colleges, or graduates; the fourth was a high school graduate.

Only one of the quartet knew anything at all about the "man behind the throne" in the Wilson administration and she didn't have more than a smattering of an idea of the activities of one of the most powerful American and world figures in war and post-war years.

MAYBE The Plainsman is "all wet", but it seems to him that too few of our young people are getting what they should out of school and college.

Is this great educational system of ours—this tremendously costly educational system—what it's cracked up to be?

Is it worth its cost?

Are its weaknesses the fault of its curricula, its administrators, its teachers, or of the rank and file of the students who either do not pay attention or cannot assimilate the information passed to them?

There's something wrong somewhere.

And it might be with The Plainsman, in expecting too much. Nevertheless, it seems to him that young people need to know more about the things they don't know and less about the non-essentials to which they are exposed in the American system of education from the kindergarten to the doctorate.

Automobile accidents are bound to be frequent in Austria these days.

Just think how many citizens are having to drive with one hand while "heiling" Hitler with the other!

DECISIONS of Tech's graduating class of 1938 to present the college with a huge electric "Double-T" sign as its parting gift is a good one and most appropriate.

Many readers will remember that the idea first was espoused last year when a temporary sign was erected on the campus, facing Broadway, as an advertisement of the engineering show.

To the senior class committee and to Editor Burgess Dixon, of the college paper, who commented on the need of such a sign, full credit—with a couple of hoorays—should go.

It's going to be a mighty fine addition to the institution—especially at night.

POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war breaks out.

JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.

CABEL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: Skimming across the ocean, dodging British vessels, Polly says "good night" to Jerry, who is on watch. She is fearful.

CHAPTER XXIV

Good weather held. The Gray Gull was cutting the deep green water of the Atlantic now as if she ruled it. Fear gave way to a feeling of well being, rasping whispers turned to shouts. The sailors sang chanteys as they climbed the shrouds and washed down the deck. At night they told tales of the seven seas, wonderful to hear.

There were others besides the old French harbor pilot who could stand turn as helmsman to relieve the captain and his mate at the wheel. Nobody was overworked. Food was good and plentiful, and the crew did not quarrel or fight among themselves. All were proud of the little schooner's clean speed. They made wagers among themselves as to whether she was making 14 knots or 15; and they kept her guns clean and shining—her two long guns and her 10 carronades which could create havoc at close range.

A score of the crew claimed to be excellent gunners, and these men boasted of what they could do to an English brig. They grumbled a good deal at their inactivity.

"Bide your time!" Cabell told them shortly.

It was Jerry who was more explicit. He was not the sort of officer who believed in hiding plans from the crew. From experience and memory he knew how such a course breeds uneasiness and discontent. Though seamen are rather an insensitive lot, he knew they could develop the nerves of caged animals when kept in ignorance of what they were to face. And so he explained plainly:

"We'll hold the course we've taken and try to enter Chesapeake Bay. We'll run up the Potomac if possible. Then Captain Banks will go into Washington and get our Orders in Council from President Madison. Without our papers, we're floating deadwood. With them, we can go after English merchantmen and keep the booty. There'll be an honest division of booty, you understand. When we harass the enemy for our country, we benefit ourselves."

As a matter of fact, Jerry gave little thought at this stage of the game to booty, yet he knew the part prize money would play with a crew; it would be the means of paying them and of goading them on to a valor that patriotism could not always inspire. This was the privateer officer's code, and Jerry was too honest to gloss it over with a shining idealism. In time, he wondered, would he too be thinking only of the prize dollars a captured ship full of tea and silk would yield? The thought disturbed and saddened him.

Polly kept much to her cabin, but when Jerry permitted it she would go on deck with him or with Cabell and watch what went on there. The sailors were respectful and agreeable to her and seemed to attach no omen of ill luck to her presence on the ship.

When she wondered at this, Cabell explained it. "I weeded out the superstitious ones to save trouble later on. Every time I interviewed a sailor I said, 'My first mate's taking his wife, this crossing. Furthermore, we've got a black cat in the galley.' Only one man refused to come aboard and he was a Portuguese."

Polly laughed at sharing status with the black galley cat. "It's a fine voyage," she told Cabell. "I'm not afraid of anything any more, now that we're getting close to home."

Cabell Banks made no answer. His own apprehension, like Jerry's, was growing keen again. It was time to cross paths with some British merchantmen coming up from Jamaica. The Caribbean was a nest for war sloops also; these, they reasonably suspected, were being sent north to close American ports.

That evening well after sunset the two lookouts riding at the masthead yelled down in unison, "Sail ho!"

"Where away?" the cry went up. And the answer: "To larboard!"

Jerry climbed the shrouds with his binoculars. He could, by that time, make out two sails, then three, then four, then "God knows how many more!" His voice held a sort of awe.

He climbed down to the deck. "It's a convoy," he said to Cabell and the gaping crew. "Merchantmen, from the looks of them."

Cabell climbed to have a look. "They're bearing down on us fast," he called, "and there's a war schooner herding them!"

"We'll run for it," Jerry decided aloud. And to the bosun: "Pipe all hands!" Suddenly he remembered that Cabell Banks stood beside him, and Cabell Banks was the captain of the Gray Gull. "I beg your pardon!" he said in confusion.

"It's all right." Cabell replied when the whistle had ceased shrilling. "In danger let the best man take over. . . . Or shall we try it together? . . . Take the wheel. I'll climb for another look."

As Jerry turned he saw Polly standing, wide-eyed, near a companion ladder. "Go below and stay there!" he shouted at her. She would not have dared disobey, for Jerry Whitfield seemed suddenly a stern stranger to her.

They manned the sweeps then and wore ship; and when proper sail had been crowded on under Jerry's shouted directions, the Gray Gull fell away from the convoy and ran frantically north.

The convoy ships kept to their course, but the big warship, as if out of sheer devilry, gave chase. It was like an angry hen that would punish a sparrow for looking at her chicks.

Jerry at the wheel laughed and bared his teeth. Cabell, clinging to the ropes above, laughed too and gave news of the frigate's progress. "If night falls soon enough we'll lose her!" he shouted.

The Gray Gull seemed to be panting before the great spread wings that pursued her. Under those menacing wings there would be two decks pierced with long guns, Cabell calculated, and a crew of 400 men. There would be officers in gold braid, important young midshipmen, surgeons to dress wounds, carpenters to repair damage to masts and hull. . .

Jerry Whitfield too was seeing those things as he carried the Gray Gull before the sloop of war; was seeing, as well, the gratings where a man could be tied and lashed at a captain's whim. Under his windwhipped sea-coat his scarred back crept in a sort of angry frenzy while his thoughts seethed like the foam that spread from their prow.

"I'm like a drunken man," he thought, and was suddenly ashamed. There came to him a saying of his little New England mother's: "No man does his best when the devil's stirring him."

With a super effort of will Jerry laid his devil. He who was free under God's sky should not hate like a man in a dungeon. Perhaps no one should hate anything—not even British naval officers.

As he accepted this great truth and let it wash over him like a wave he saw his hands grow steady on the wheel. His body relaxed and he felt an inrush of strength. It was an "experience," and he could not account for it. It was his own, never to be shared.

When night was almost fallen and one bright star stood in the northeast, the menacing sails were no longer to be seen. Jerry and Cabell held council and there was jubilation aboard the Gray Gull.

They wore ship again and sailed southwest, for they were a little off their course. . .

Jerry wondered if Polly was frightened. She had been at the back of his mind all the while, as is a precious burden one must carry safely home. He hoped she had kept the little dog beside her, for cheer.

LUBBOCK'S SUMMER WATER RATE

One policy adopted by the City of Lubbock each of the past few springs and summers has been to offer water at special rates when used in quantity for the irrigation of lawns, trees, shrubbery and gardens.

The Evening Journal and nearly all the citizenship will be glad that the offer has been renewed again this year in the period from April 1 to Oct. 31. Terms of the contract the patron must sign allow him 10,000 gallons of water for a minimum monthly charge of $2.80, with additional supplies costing 15 cents per 1,000 gallons. A 10 per cent discount is granted on bills paid within 10 days.

The charge, obviously, is not excessive and Lubbock residents need not be told that irrigation will be essential if they want to insure that the plants around their homes are to thrive.

Last year, more than 2,200 citizens took advantage of the special offer. A substantial increase in that number this year will not be surprising.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 29—The plush carpets of Paramount were rolled out the other day to receive Serge Prokofieff and his wife, who are visiting hereabout. The name is not exactly an American household word, but he's a big figure in highbrow musical circles and his very modern "Loves of Three Oranges" recently was presented in Denver.

The Prokofieffs wanted to hear how Hollywood made movie music, so they were escorted through the studio's Tin Pan Alley by Boris Morros, Paramount musical director and an old pal of Russian Imperial Conservatory days. The composer got it in the raw, from Indian tomtoms to jitter-bug swing.

On one stage they heard an audition of an orchestra of Alaskan Indians who were trying out for a job in "Spawn of the North." One of the drummers and the flutist kept their hats on, and the only woman in the group wore a trim little frock made of three or four blankets. The visitors seemed fascinated by this native American art-form, but the beaming Morros led them away in the middle of an Indian Big Apple to visit the creative cubbyhole of Ralph Ranger and Leo Robin.

Bashful

The team were as bashful as little boys about playing and singing some of their own stuff. "Aw-w-w," they blushed, "he doesn't want to hear us!" But Morros launched into a flood of Russian with his guests and then told Robin and Ranger that they were to do "Thanks for the Memory." "That's got some pretty trick words," said Lyricist Robin. "Maybe we better try something else if they don't speak English."

Mme. Prokofieff smiled and said, "Well, our slang may not be very up-to-date, but we certainly do speak English." So the pair finally got going, and the visitors tapped their feet and liked it. Next, with some apology, came the ungrammatical ditty written for Martha Raye, "It Don't Make Sense," and then a dogie song from "The Texans," which Mme. Prokofieff interpreted as a "cow lullaby."

The Russian composer liked the first song best, asked to have some passages repeated, and praised an unusual change in pitch. But the team's delight changed to embarrassment when he said of Miss Raye's swing tune, "It is not original."

"No," said Robin. "It isn't. We take a little of this and a little of that and—"

"But that is not honest!" exclaimed the shocked composer.

"Mister," said Robin, "if our stuff was original we'd starve to death. We tried that once. People didn't like it."

Prokofieff laughed and went away to see the sound laboratory. One of the things he wants to do while in Hollywood is get Walt Disney to hear another of his modern compositions, "Peter the Wolf," which the Boston Symphony will play in a few weeks.

Busy

Busiest actress in the colony now seems to be Rosalind Russell. Besides appearing in most of the scenes of "Four's a Crowd," she's putting the finishing touches on a book and a play. The book is all her own—"And So I Came to Hollywood"—and already has been spoken for by Random House. The play, "We Must Be Ladies," is the collaborative effort of Miss Russell, Nedda Harrigan and Charlotte Winters.

Four amiable gents who portray villains on the screen are Porter Hall, Lloyd Nolan, J. Carrol Naish and Akim Tamiroff. They're all good friends and always have a table in the restaurant when they're on the lot. The table is reserved in the name of "The Cutthroat Luncheon Club—Evil Deeds Done Neat and Reasonable."

Bump

Miss Betty Grable had an appointment to pose for a collection of fetching still pictures in her favorite sky-blue satin elastic bathing suit. But she went ice-skating the night before, attempted a Sonja Henian maneuver and landed on her you-know-what. The contusions were so severe and extensive that the sitting has been canceled for several days. The actress can't sit anywhere, much less before a camera.

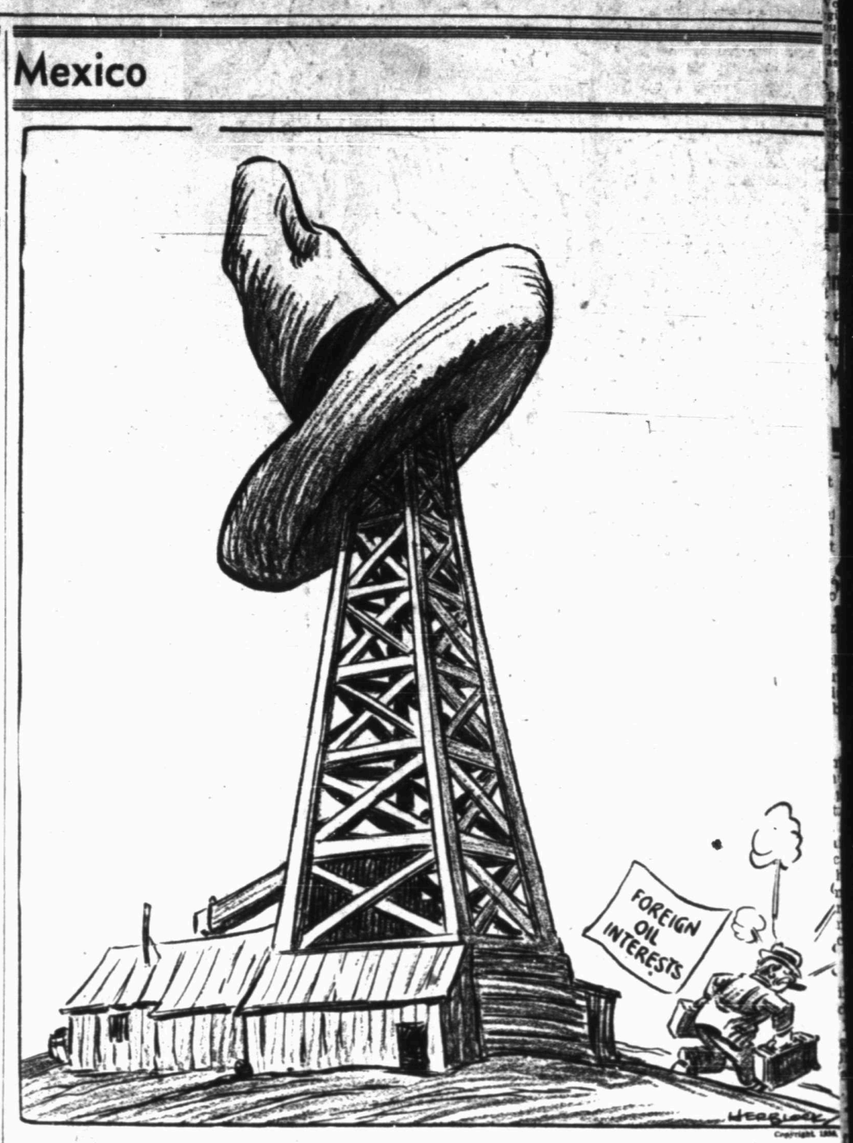

Twelve-Grade School Plan To Be Talked Wednesday

The "four-level" or 12-grade plan for Lubbock public schools will be discussed by W. B. Irvin, city superintendent, Miss Dorothy Lomax, secondary school curriculum supervisor, and Dr. Agnes True, elementary curriculum supervisor, on the school radio program over KFYO at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday.

Many patrons and teachers have asked questions regarding the plan, and the program is designed to answer these questions.

Music for this program will be furnished by the Senior High orchestra, directed by Miss Beulah Dunn. The orchestra will play the theme song for the school programs and three numbers.

Mexico

Times Have Changed Since Coolidge's Term As Mexican Oil Cases Show, Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 29—These are not the carefree old days of Coolidge prosperity when enforcement of Mexican oil laws on American companies meant blood-curdling howls from the State department and even the threat of war.

By no mere coincidence. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles made a speech last December which contains the answer to the question of what this government intends to do about Mexico's expropriation of American oil properties said to be worth $250,000,000.

Rodney Dutcher.

"The day has passed," said Welles, "when a citizen of the United States acquiring property in another American republic can undertake to maintain that, because of his citizenship, his person and property are free from the jurisdiction of the laws and of the courts of the other American republic where he lives, and that he is supported in such contention by his own government.

Get Only Compensation

"On the other hand, should his property be subject to condemnation by due process of law, he is, of course, entitled to demand fair compensation therefor, and in that contention he will be supported by this government . . ."

So the State department is pledged to demand "fair compensation." Mexican officials already have proposed negotiations to agree on indemnity.

Washington officials are somewhat bothered, however, by the question of what Mexico, assuming entire good faith in this compensation matter, expects to use for money.

Other annoying facts are that indemnity negotiations might drag on for years and that Mexico may have internal troubles meanwhile. The Mexican appropriation law, enforced on the allegation that oil companies had defied an arbitral wage award, calls for indemnity payment within 10 years.

Some Poor Advice

President Cardenas is regarded by high American officials as probably the most honest, sincere president Mexico has had, and entirely devoted to the interests of the Mexican people. But he is not shrewd in his international relationships, it is believed, and radical advisers are thought to have given him bad advice in the oil matter.

Cardenas is likely to have trouble with his own people if Mexico can't market the oil and derive income therefrom. It's doubted here that Mexico can sell the oil and get a profitable price, since she has no outlets.

Despite brave promises from the "left" Cardenas government to sell only to "democratic nations," officials suspect that if it sticks to its present policy it will have to sell chiefly —and cheaply —to Germany, Italy and Japan.

The issue is a headache for all concerned and no State department official yet ventures to predict how it will be determined.

Stock Exchange Sells For Lowest Price Since 1918

NEW YORK, March 29, (AP) — Sale of a seat on the New York Stock exchange for $56,000—the lowest since 1918—was announced here. It was a drop of $4,000 from the previous transaction and a long, long way from the fancy prices paid for memberships a few years ago.

In 1929, before the membership was increased 25 per cent, the peak for a seat was $625,00. Even last year as much as $134,000 was paid.

Tech Class To Present Sign

Parting gift of the 1938 graduating classes of Texas Technological college will be a huge neon sign in Double-T shape, seniors decided at a meeting Monday night at the college. The sign will be the second largest neon lettering in the world.

Contract for construction probably will be let this week, announced Paul White, president. The gift committee, composed of Reginald Jordan, Doris Jobe, and Clarence Rannefeld, will meet Wednesday night to complete details, White said.

To Make Assessments

The approximately 100 members attending the session voted to assess each June and August graduate $2.50 for erection of the Double-T.

The 16-foot sign will be exceeded only by the huge neon lettering on the RCA building in New York, White said he was told. The emblem, which will face east toward the City of Lubbock, will be erected between the new library building and the chemistry building. It will be 10 1-2 inches thick and supported by metal. The 15 millimeter red neon tubing will outline the letters on a black porcelain background.

Expect Early Completion

Construction and dedication are expected before the close of the present long term.

Calvin Hazlewood, secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Students association, and J. Doyle Settle, state representative and an alumnus, spoke relative to entrance of graduating students into the association.

Persian Kitty Born In City Has Eight Feet And Legs

A kitten with eight feet and legs is included in a litter of five born to a Persian cat belonging to Miss Laverne Arrington, 902 Avenue R, the owner reported Monday.

"It has two extra hind legs just in front of its normal hind legs and two extra front ones between its two normal front ones," Miss Arrington said. The two extra front legs are grown together, but the feet are separate and are fully equipped wih claws.

The freak's brothers and sisters are normal and the whole family apparently is in a satisfactory condition, it was reported Monday night. Miss Arrington said the kitten had not yet opened its eyes to discover its spares.
