Veterans Service at WTSC

Veterans of World War I are coming to Canyon to receive a specialized type of service provided by the U. S. Veterans Administration through the operation of West Texas State College. Their destination is the Veterans Administration Guided Center, located on the campus of the college, which was formerly the president's home.

The center, headed by W. R. Moore, chief, serves the 26 Pan-American countries and the Oklahoma Territory. Mr. Goins, a veteran, was a classification specialist at Perrin field, Sherman, Okla. He is assisted by John O. Goins, a veteran, serving as an officer.

Guided to the Guidance Center at West Texas State College are Mr. Moore, chief appraiser, William Brune, formerly of the vocational appraiser. The center's purpose is to help the purpose of the Guidance Center is to help the veterans who have vocational handicaps.

caps. The Center helps them to determine their vocation. Then they have the privilege of institutional training, on-the-job training or a combination of both. Veterans are given information concerning institutions which offer vocational training, but the choice of such an institution is made by them.

Veterans eligible for compensation are referred to the Guidance Center in this area after the degree of their disability has been determined and transportation furnished them by the regional veterans administration office at Muskogee, Okla. Dates for scheduled advancement at the Center are set in advance.

The Guidance Center activities are based on the provisions of Public Law 16 and Public Law 346, commonly known as the GI Bill of Rights. Veterans seeking advantages of the GI Bill obtain from the service officer of any veterans organization Form 1950, which is sent to the Veterans Administration at Muskogee along with a certified copy of their discharge and other required papers.

While the Guidance Center here does not have any connection with veterans' loans, it furnishes information and advice on compensation, insurance and other matters pertaining to veterans and their dependents. More than 100 veterans called at the Center last month to obtain such aid. The volume of calls is expected to increase greatly as demobilization proceeds.

UNDER TEXAS SKIES

By A. Garland Adair
Curator of History,
Texas Memorial Museum

Although proud of their noble ancestry and the gallant deeds of heroic sons of Texas in the present armed conflict, the people are not unmindful of the fact that their history during the past 100 years is not without its black marks. Blunders have been made. Errors have been committed. Crimes against God's blessings have been perpetrated. Texas has witnessed the depletion of vast rich soil. Idle acres have become ghosts that haunt and harass her present and her future. The state has witnessed a decline in her agricultural population during recent decades. This exodus began before Pearl Harbor, is indeed bad news from the home front. Plowshares are being beaten into swords. The very foundation of Texas, wisely laid by brave Texas pioneers in their agricultural empire is being shaken apart. Between 1939 and 1946 approximately one million people have abandoned something like 200,000 farms in the Lone Star state.

After the war is over the people are going to demand four things: before they return to their farm and field. These they are going to require before they begin again to produce the products which the post war era will need and will be calling for before peace can reign and even before Texans themselves can enjoy the happiness that is their birthright. These four things are: Farm to market roads, rural schools, second to none in all the land, with dependable bus service for our greatest products—our boys and girls; daily mail service to farm and ranch; and, electric light, telephone and power.

Knowledge of these crying needs has resulted in the Centennial of Statehood Commission adopting as its major objective the revitalization of Texas agriculture and a happier rural life for the people of our land of promise.

Texas produced more turkeys in 1944 than any other state in the union.

More Wages, Less Output?

It is proper, and understandable, for all of us who work for a living to want more for what we do.

There is ample evidence for the belief that the vast majority of America's employers, now heroically trying to supply veterans and workers with jobs and home and farm with needed goods, are in favor of more wages for their workers when profits justify such increases. They know that purchasing power which arises out of the process of work for profit is the true source of our prosperity.

The present disagreements, which have all but stopped reconversion through widespread strikes and strike threats, is on whether workers are to be paid the same aggregate weekly amount for 40 hours' work as they have been getting or 48 or 52 hours' work in other words, whether they should be paid 30 per cent more wages or 20 per cent less aggregate output.

If put into effect, that would mean higher prices, and the consumer would have to bear them... for how else could an employer get the money to pay his employees for producing less?

Then the consumer himself might well go on strike. His refusal to buy goods and services at inflated prices would mean failing markets, disappearing jobs.

The greater part of the public's criticism for labor troubles is directed at unionism. We feel that this is a mistake. Unorganized labor, in most instances, is more unreasonable in their demands than organized unions.

May President Truman and his labor advisors bring this dispute down to earth before it is too late to save reconversion and the prosperity and full employment which we should be enjoying.

Babson Discusses More Industries

HE COMMENTS ON ATOMIC ENERGY
ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 12—Continuing my comments of last week:

MINING: It is difficult enough to comment on factories, raw materials and finished goods above ground. Hence, I do not attempt to make any predictions as to what is below ground. Postwar prices will be less for most mining products, but they are excellent inflation hedges. Some also may profit from atomic energy developments.

MERCHANDISING: I will not forecast how the large department stores, which are nailed down to one corner, will fare during coming postwar years; but I am very bullish on the chain stores. These include the grocery chains and variety chains—especially the so-called "five-cent-to-a-dollar" stores.

MOTION PICTURES: This industry has prospered tremendously with the war. For awhile, however, lower earnings must be expected. Furthermore, the industry is faced with government suits and the competition of television. I would rather invest in something else.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT: Notwithstanding the large amount of secondhand office equipment which the government may press for sale, I am optimistic on the industry and believe the stocks are reasonably priced. This comment also applies to the furniture industry.

OILS: I am not worried about any postwar oil shortage or strikes. The industry has no reconversion problems. It will profit by diversification through chemicals, plastics, synthetics, etc. Hence, I am still reasonably bullish on the oil stocks for the present. The long - pull outlook depends partly on atomic energy development.

PUBLISHING: This industry has been so handicapped during the war—through lack of workers, paper and freedom to print "all the news"—will soon be able to step out again. I believe that newspapers, magazines and printing in general have some exceptionally good years ahead. They surely deserve a "break."

PAPER PRODUCTS: Large imports of pulp may be expected from Norway, Finland, and possibly Russia. This is not a good omen for domestic pulp manufacturers; but should be a blessing to the manufacturers and converters of paper products. I am, therefore, bullish on the stocks of the latter paper manufacturing group.

RAILROADS: I have been bearish on the railroad industry since last June and as yet see no reason for changing my position on these transportation companies. I am not bearish on the railroad equipment industry.

RUBBER: The rubber stock should hold their present level or do better during the postwar period. Their markets should expand and their operating costs should decrease.

STEEL: After the complete reconversion of the nation's economy and a reduced tax burden the steel companies should show better profits. Everyone is justified in having a few steel stocks in his portfolio.

TOBACCO: Not being a smoker myself, I am in no position to forecast as to the future of the tobacco industry. Most of my friends, however, are bullish on this industry.

TEXTILES: The textile industry should have at least one exceptionally good postwar year, but after this both demands and profits should flatten out. It is a "feast or famine" industry.

UTILITIES: The utilities are once again getting fair treatment. Any cut in taxes will help most utilities. Every investor may continue to hold a reasonable proportion of operating utility securities; but all should watch atomic energy developments.

MISCELLANEOUS: I am bullish on the market as a whole. Perhaps the safest method would be to diversify among all these leading industries—instead of picking winners. By all means do not put too much of your money in any one industry unless it is merchandizing, which profits from all industries and hence is a form of diversification in itself.

POW DISCHARGED—Technical Sergeant Kenneth E. Beckwith, who for more than eight months was a prisoner of war held by the Germans, received a discharge from the Army Air Forces at Ft. Sam Houston Sept. 30, and has returned to his home in the Gray, Okla., community. Sgt. Beckwith attended radio school in Chicago and gunnery school at Werdover, Utah, before going overseas as a radio operator and gunner in the AAF. He was reported missing in action by the War Department Sept. 7, 1944, while on a mission over Germany and was later found to be a prisoner of war. New Frigidaires Available Soon

"Frigidaire", the world's largest manufacturer of refrigerators, now has an increasing number of refrigerators available to the public," said Mr. Meadows, the local Frigidaire dealer at 404 South Main. "Construction on the first model began in July of this year and the finished products were temporarily frozen in a government stockpile, however, the restriction on the sale of refrigerators to the public has been lifted and Frigidaires are now available for civilian consumption."

Mr. Meadows was discussing the features of the new Frigidaires. They have all of the prewar features and quality developed by Frigidaire. The permanently-sealed-in-steel rotary Motor-Miser, Lifetime Porcelain Finish, The Quickcube Ice Tray, and many other exclusive Frigidaire features are again present in these refrigerators," added Mr. Meadows. "The five year protection plan on sealed-in mechanism is again proof that Frigidaire's workmanship and the quality of its products are among the best available."

"When Frigidaire's first war contract—construction of 30 caliber machine guns expired in July of 1945, Frigidaire, with the authority of the War Production Board, began its first production of refrigerators since April 30, 1942. Following the cancellation of all war contracts at the Dayton, Ohio plants on VJ Day, the rapid reconversion to civilian output in the other sections of the mammoth Ohio plants and the availability of the necessary materials has enabled Frigidaire to produce a much greater number of refrigerators than was at first anticipated," continued Mr. Meadows.

"Though production on refrigerators is exceeding the most optimistic wartime predictions there are still not enough Frigidaires to meet the ever increasing demand, but officials at the Frigidaire plants believe a daily production of several thousand refrigerators is possible in the near future," concluded Mr. Meadows. 42-11-c

Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct.
 21.
 The Golden Text is: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God" (Isaiah 52:10).

 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian-Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, add this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of spirit—the law of divine Love" (page 19).

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONIt's the Parents' Responsibility to Make Good Home

The International Sunday School
 Lesson for Oct. 21
 Scripture: Luke 10:38-42; 1
 Corinthians 12:31; 13:1-13

CHRISTIAN homes don't just happen. They have to be made; and it takes all the members of the family to make them.
 They cannot be made by parents alone, no matter how good and well-intentioned the parents may be. Some parents have assumed, or have acted as if they assumed, that if they loved their children enough, and did enough for them, all would be well.
 Children need discipline and training, as well as affection and devotion. They need to learn to bear the burdens and responsibilities that will be theirs when they grow up.

Sharing ought to be the spirit and practice of home life. Children ought to be trained to understand, and do their part in solving the problems of the home. The money given them, the clothes they wear, the food they eat, the house they live in must come from the wages of the father or mother. Unless a child is made to understand this, he may grow up to think of his parents only as providers, who hand out everything he asks for.

The spirit of demanding, rather than that of giving, may easily become the dominant characteristic of children who grow up in a home where parents are thoughtlessly generous.

Helping ought to be a part of every well-regulated Christian home. Little duties should be assigned to, and done by, all.
 Love implies mutual relationships and obligations. A home in which love is one-sided is off-balance. Love, too, implies a willingness to bear and forbear. Paul says in the Scripture for our lesson, "Love suffereth long and is kind."

The test of love is in the trials and hard things of life, and these are not avoidable in the home. In fact, the home when can be the place of the finest relationships, and consequent happiness, can be the place of the worst of irritations and frictions.

Shinagawa: a 'Hospital'!

This is a ward in the infamous Shinagawa Hospital camp for prisoners in Japan, where Allied prisoner doctors were refused permission to treat their fellow prisoners, though Jap medical personnel could not handle the situation. The "beds" are wooden cots covered with filthy blankets. Many prisoners, however, had to sleep on the floor.

Citizens Should Renew Old Driver's License

Sheriff W. H. Lance announced this week that more than a dozen cases were filed with the Justice of the Peace by highway patrolmen involving people picked up without driver's licenses or holding permits which had expired.

He pointed out that Ochil-tree county residents should check their permits for expiration dates and renew when necessary. Operator's licenses are good for two years; commercial and chauffeur's licenses are good for one year after date issued. No test is required for renewal.

Earl Rice, state highway patrolman, is at Sheriff Lance's office each Monday between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. and will conduct tests and handle renewals.

Mrs. James C. McNally, the former Miss Helen Doerrie, who has been with her husband, Sgt. McNally, at Lubbock air field, writes that he received his discharge last Wednesday in Amarillo. For the present they are visiting with his sister, Mrs. J. G. Landroop, at Olton near Plainview.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Carter Held at Bethany

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Eleanor Carter, age 87, pioneer Beaver County woman were held at Bethany, Beaver County, October 4. Services were conducted by Rev. Ralph A. Durham, Perryton. Burial was in the Bethany cemetery.

Bro. and Mrs. Bob Palmer rendered several vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Wooster at the piano. In charge of arrangements was Lynn Merrett of the Goodner Funeral Home, Beaver.

Palbearers were a grandson, four grand sons-in-law, and a friend: They were: Richard Coburn, Jim Randles, Earl Lowe and Robert Mason, all of Hardesty, Okla.; Glen Climer, Pottee; and Howard Trim-mil, Boyd, Okla.

Obituary
Martha Eleanor Patterson was born August 28, 1858, near Sweet Springs, Saline County, Mo., and departed this life October 1, 1945, at the age of 87 years, one month and four days.

She united with the Methodist church in early life and lived a consistent Christian life for over 60 years, attending church regularly as long as her health permitted.

February 3, 1881, she was united in marriage to Richard S. Carter. They soon moved to Dade County, Mo., near Greenfield, where their seven children were born: Wm. A., Emma, Minnie, Bertha, Bradley, Grace and a son dying in infancy. Minnie and Grace passed away in 1902, and Bradley, a World War I veteran, died April 4, 1930.

In 1896, Mrs. Carter with her children went to Archer County, Texas, near Holliday to make their home. In March 1904, she and her two brothers, Ed and Will Patterson, came to Beaver County in a wagon, and filed on claims, and moving there six months later. Mrs. Carter has lived on her homestead almost continuously since, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ed Claybrook, the last few years.

She leaves to mourn her passing: three children, Wm. A. Carter, Hardesty, Okla.; Mrs. Ed Claybrook, Boyd, Okla., and Mrs. H. W. Gates, Pottee, Texas; thirteen grand children and nine great grand children: two brothers, Price S. Patterson, Miami, Fla.; Wm. N. Patterson, Roseville, Calif.; and one sister, Mrs. Sophie Rankin, Loomis, Calif.

She was a kind and loving mother and a friend to all. To know her was to love her and she will be greatly missed.

run the ball over for the additional point. The Rangers after receiving the kickoff, started an offensive of their own in an attempt to offset Canadian's lead and were halted on the Wildcat 25-yard line at the end of the first half.

Hopkins, Wildcat fullback, was stopped on his own 40-yard line by Fuller to open the third quarter.

T/SGT. JOE E. BUCKLAND came in Thursday night with a discharge from the AAF. He sailed August 25 from Okinawa for the States after serving 34 months in the Pacific area and had 100 discharge points to his credit when released. Sgt. Buckland was inducted June 21, 1941, and received basic training at Ft. Francis, Wyoming, later transferring to Kelly Field, San Antonio, and subsequently to Brookley Field, Alabama, before going overseas. His mother is Mrs. G. L. Kengle.

On the next play Bell, Ranger left end, recovered a Canadian fumble on the 45-yard marker. Bell carrying the ball on the next play picked up 12 yards before being downed on the 33-yard stripe. Jones taking over, successfully feinted around right end and broke away through the left end for a 32 yard run over the goal line. His attempted pass for the extra point which would have tied the game, failed. Canadian had charge of the ball during the remainder of the quarter, but failed to show appreciable gain against a determined Ranger eleven.

The last quarter was filled with taut situations as both sides fought against time. It was highlighted by penetrations into the opposition's territory. In the closing seconds of the game Canadian took over the ball from Perryton on downs at the 15-yard line and elected to run the ball out of dangerous territory. At the risk of a possible fumble which might have easily cost the Wildcats the game, the steady action ate up the little time remaining in the game holding the score 6-7 in favor of Canadian. Lopez on the last play ran 30 yards and was downed at the final whistle.

Penalties during the game totaled 35 yards with the Rangers being assessed 15 yards for clipping and the Wildcats receiving 15 yards penalty for holding and 5 yards for offside.

Statistics for the game were:

	Rangers	Wildcats
1st Downs	9	11
Passes atpd.	1	2
Pass complete	0	1
Penalties	15	20
Punts (y/dage)	165	130

Average size of farms shown in the preliminary 1945 census count for Ochil-tree county was 1,128 acres, as compared with 795 acres in 1940, and 795 acres in 1935.

This all adds up that the farmer is getting bigger and bigger. The smaller farmers are passing out of the picture. The larger farmers are producing more in bushels and cents, per acre than the larger farmer.

With the trend to larger farms and more and more farmers every year by "pulling out" of the smaller farms, we're heading for in the future. We're riding pretty now but what will the picture be when things get back to normal?

He's the Sole Owner of the Business Now

Mr. Johnson is the sole owner of the business now. But he wouldn't be, if he hadn't invested in Southwestern Life Insurance. His business, you see, began as a partnership; a business that started from scratch, and blossomed into a thriving enterprise. And just as he was about to peak, Mr. Johnson's partner lost his life in an accident.

Death terminates a partnership business—and unless proper arrangements have been made to continue it in some other form, the business must liquidate. The firm name, property, trade, good will—every asset passes away with a partner's death, unless the partners have taken sound steps to perpetuate that business.

Fortunate for Mr. Johnson, he and his partner had wisely arranged through Southwestern Life Insurance that either survivor should have the right to purchase the deceased's interest—and, equally as important, the money to do it with. That's how Mr. Johnson became sole owner of the business—and how he has arranged for his heirs to carry on when he gets ready to quit.

Death is the greatest single hazard any business faces. Business insurance offers the most effective method of offsetting the losses, ironing out complications and solving the problems of readjustment that death causes. Through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can do for your business just what Mr. Johnson did. You can have the ready cash, when you need it, to replace a key man, buy out your partner's widow, strengthen the financial structure of your business. Assure the future of that business today with Southwestern Life Insurance.

Indian Dances at Assembly Wednesday

Reginald and Gladys Laubin in their presentation "Old Buffalo Days" brought to the Perryton student body new ideas and interesting facts about American Indians in assembly at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. After Mr. Laubin's interesting account of past and present day Indian customs, Gladys Laubin demonstrated an Indian dance. Mr. Laubin danced two Indian dances, the quail dance and the chief's dance. Together they told and translated a story in sign language.

Interesting household goods and a chief's head-dress were displayed. The program was concluded with a modern Indian dance.

NOTICE!

All club and home-room reporters are urged to turn in reports of their meetings as soon as possible after activity periods. News of outside activities—parties, programs, or contests—is especially good, and should be handed in as soon as plans are complete, as well as after the event is over. Material may be given to Duane Bell, El Sombrero editor, or to Miss Mizell, sponsor.

Busy Week

If your excuses for being out at night this last week got a little convincing to your mother, here I am to solve your trouble!

Herewith follow reasons for being out each evening:

Monday was the first night of practice of the play "Who Gets the Car," being produced by the Dramatics Club.

At 6:30 on Tuesday night the chorus practiced singing. The chorus will be in the "Back to School Night" program on October 30.

Wednesday the students (well, one student anyway) watched the teachers practice their Gay Nineties program.

Thursday night at 8:00, behind the school house, a pep rally was held for the Canadian game. (This will probably be the easiest night to convince your mother about.)

Friday the football game of the year, between the Rangers and the Wildcats, was held at Canadian. (You won't have much trouble about this one, either). After the game the Canadian teen-agers had a dance at the Canteen for the Perrytonians.

Does this make your excuses legitimate now?

Meet the Teachers

Miss Flora Elizabeth Rhine was born in Decatur, Texas, that wonderful town she's always talking about.

She went to two colleges: Decatur Baptist College and North Texas State Teachers College, at Denton. It was at NTSTC that she got her bachelor of science degree.

In the way of food, for Miss Rhine steak is tops. She likes the song, "Till the End of Time," so long as "Frankie" sings it. Gary Cooper and Van Johnson are her favorite movie stars. Her choice of recent books is Ben Ames Williams' "Leave Her to Heaven."

Meet the Seniors

On July 7, 1928, a lively bundle, not yet named Jim Bill Dodson, was delivered in Perryton, Texas. He now has 5 feet (Don't get worried!) 9 inches of brown, topped with brown hair and punctuated at appropriate intervals with brown eyes. Wallace Berry and Paulette Goddard are top actors for him and Twenty Mile Team is his favorite show. When it comes to sports, football and horseback riding are Jim Bill's favorites. "Smart alec people" are his pet peeves, and the food which tops his list is chicken. Although no mention of his "after school" plans has reached us, we wish Jim Bill the best of luck.

El Toro

Carol T. has turned in an ad to aid cupid. All concerned please note: "When all other methods fail, just try black mail." (See Carol Trosper for particulars; ten easy lessons; easy terms.)

We hear that the show last Saturday night went on anyway when the lights went out, didn't it, Carol L. and Roy J.?

Who was Darlene B. yelling for at the Canadian game? Why Darlene! It's getting plenty hard to keep up with Grank W.; he is really getting around. They say he looks swell adorned with a gal on each arm, don't they, Carol L. and "Maggie" S.?

Keith F. and Velma Lee B. seem to be forming a habit of going to the previews. Nice habit.

Keith B. was doing well last week. In case you didn't hear, Vivian S. was seen with him Saturday night.

Billy H., of course you know that it's boarding to take two girls to "lovers' lane" in one night. Which one will it be, Patsy H. or Marianne M.?

There's a blonde bomber—namely Janet R. who's been getting around lately. Delmar I. is her latest victim.

Sometimes ouija boards are right; so, Russell R. you'd better be on guard for new boys. We hear that Beth T. was told some interesting things about one.

Carmen K. either wants to learn more about aeronautics or get better acquainted with Kenneth F. Which is it?

We'll bet J. C. J. and Barbara B. liked the show outside better than the preview. Look, kids, we saw you leave during that convenient blackout.

Deloris C., Dorothy G., Shirley Bess H. and Weiland Jean S. have started a man-haters' club. They will welcome new members, but the way it looked at the preview, they won't get many. The entire situation was well in hand, wasn't it—everyone?

Pep Rally

Bands played, people yelled, cars honked—and it all went on for hours. What was it? Why, a pep rally, of course, last Thursday night at seven o'clock.

It started at the school house and made its way to main street, there—amidst plenty of honking—a large group formed a circle and yelled their old lungs out. Then back to the school house and to a big bonfire and the sorrowful job of cremating Canadian's best player (a dummy, of course). Coach Murry and then Superintendent Anderson each spoke, and the rally broke up with everyone full of touch-down spirit.

Mrs. Chester A. Duncan left Monday for San Antonio to join her husband, Sgt. Duncan, who has just returned from three years service in the European Theatre. Sgt. Duncan called his wife Wednesday night from Boston enroute to San Antonio for discharge.

Mrs. Zora Stone and son H. D., who are residing in Dallas, spent Sunday visiting relatives here.

Art Editors Elected For School Annual

Clara Revis and Ernest Janzen have been elected art editors for this year's PHS annual, the Ranger, as a result of an art contest which—closed last Tuesday. Runners-up in the contest were pictures by Marvin Smith, Laura Lee Groves and Verlin Hariman, and the hour-late entries of Jerry Ward.

Also discussed at the Tuesday afternoon meeting were the theme of the annual and the method of carrying out that theme. Division pages will be pictures, clippings and possibly maps concerning PHS doings, adorned with stick figures drawn by Clara Revis. Printing on these and other pages will be done by Ernest Janzen.

There were comparatively few entries in the art contest, but most material turned in merited careful consideration. All students who entered are urged to help on the annual if they will, and other students are reminded that suggestions and help from them is always appreciated.

Rangers Commended At Monday Assembly

A special assembly was called Monday at 9 o'clock, for the purpose of commending the Rangers, the Ranger band, and the PHS student body for their conduct at Canadian last Friday night. Mr. J. A. Anderson complimented the Rangers for their playing and the band on its excellent performance.

More trips were promised to the band. Director Bob Jack Low introduced band members and told what instrument each played. Thoughts were turned to the White Deer game, of Friday night.

Club News

The regular club meetings were held on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 9, at 1:45. Clubs already organized began functioning and planning for the coming year's work.

The Dramatics Club discussed joining the National Thespian Society, and decided to form a local chapter. Any student with ten points in acting is to be eligible to the society, sponsored by Miss Inez Franz, whether he is a member of the Dramatics Club or not. Students interested in joining are urged to see Miss Franz for particulars on the point system.

The Home Making Club spent its meeting time working on curtains for Teen Town.

The Future Farmers are learning their farming while playing a game called "Moon."

The Publications Club spent its time judging entries turned in to the art contest, and trying to decide how many art editors to elect for the annual. No decision was reached during the Tuesday-afternoon meeting.

The Girls' Physical Education Club played an invigorating game of volleyball.

Milton Todd was elected president and Eugene Johnson was named secretary of the Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Henry.

Rangers Meet White Deer Friday Night

Perryton will meet White Deer in football Friday night, when the Rangers will play their third conference game of the season.

Coach Murry has said that the game will be hard, but that the Rangers will be out there fighting the Bucks, striving to win for the fourth time in the season's fifth game.

Assembly

At the regular weekly assembly, held Thursday instead of Friday of last week, Nettie Mac Brillhart was master of ceremonies. Barbara Buckley and Norma Flowers led the audience in some lively yells, after introducing "one of Canadian's star players," a dummy to be burned at the bonfire that night. The stage was decorated with a huge poster in colored letters—"Beat" Canadian. The cheer leaders taught the audience several new yells for the Canadian game, and urged everyone to be present at the bonfire and the game.

At Anchor Shanghai
September 25, 1945
Dear Don and Bill:
How are you fellows tonight? Fine, I hope.

Well, here I am in China. I can't commence to tell you what it is like. We are anchored right in Shanghai, in the Hwangpoo river. On the river there are thousands of Chinese sampans and junks. Most of the people live on the little boats, cooking and eating and sleeping right on them. The most of them don't look to be over 12 feet long. They fish and pick up what they can out of the river for a living. They use kind of a butterfly net on the end of a long bamboo pole, and the other day I saw them picking apple cores out of the filthy water where our toilet empties into the river. It just turned my stomach to watch them. They even drink this filthy river water.

Speaking of garbage, one Chinese has made arrangements to take all of the garbage from the ship; he sorts it out and sells it to the other Chinese. It is hard to imagine people living like that, isn't it? Their clothes are ragged beyond description, with patches on top of patches. They have some big boats with sails that look to be 40 or 50 feet long. On each side of the bow they have an eye bigger than a person's head; they say that is so the ship will be able to see where it is going. That big eye sticking out surely looks funny, though.

I went to Shanghai on liberty; there are more rickshaws there than there are sampans on the river. I believe, just running here and there like a bunch of ants, shouting and hollering to each other. It is the worst jumble I ever saw. They use all kinds of means to get a person in their rickshaws. They grab you by the arm and try to force you in their rick or they will agree to haul you for one price and when you get out they want more money. Then when you start to argue with them, people crowd around on all sides. The longer the argument the more people gather.

Chinese money isn't worth much; for an American dollar they are now giving $150.00 in Chinese money. It looks funny to see little newsboys handing $10.00 bills. A rickshaw ride costs from $10.00 up depending on how long you argue with the coolies pulling them, or pedaling them; some of them have three wheels and are pedaled like a bicycle but the coolies who run can go just as fast.

I told mother about us hiring one for $10.00; it had been raining so when he got out to where the water was knee deep, he said $10.00 wasn't enough. He would have to have more money. Of course, he knew that we weren't going to get out in all of the water, so we payed more.

The Chinese storekeepers always ask twice as much for an article as they expect to get; then you have to argue with them to get them to come down on the price. Some Chinese traders have been coming aboard the ship but so far I haven't had any luck.

How are you fellows getting along in school? Good, I guess. How is football by now?

We don't know how much longer we are going to be here, but we hear about a month. I hope not. All we are in here for is to put on a show for the Admiral, just so he could impress the Chinese by coming in on a big ship.

Well fellows, I had better stop and do a little work I expect. Be sure to write when you have time. Lots of love
Pop

At Anchor Shanghai
September 20, 1945

Dearest Ella,
How are you tonight? Fine, I hope.

Well, here we are in Shanghai. Reville was at 4:00 this morning so we could get underway to come here. We arrived here about 11:00 this morning. We came up the Yangtze river, then turned off to come up the Hwangpoo river, which is a tributary of the Yangtze. Shanghai is located on the Hwangpoo river. Both of the rivers are terribly muddy looking; I notice the drinking water has a lot of chlorine in it, so guess they figure the water is contaminated.

In coming up the Hwangpoo I believe we got to see what China is like; for the river is narrow. We saw people walking, riding in rickshaws, some in trucks and some carrying water buckets on their backs, watering a rice field. I never saw a country with such a contrast. Along the banks of the river were lots of big modern factories and right by them were the native's primitive homes. Honestly, I believe there are thousands of sampans and junks.

Coming up the river the little tug boats would give us a whistle salute and of course we returned it with our fog horn. The people from the factories would come out waving flags and shooting fire crackers. The fire crackers were almost as loud as our aircraft guns. I suppose most of them had been notified we were coming, for the flags all looked new. Too, there were so many of them lined up along the banks of the river. They acted as though they were glad to see us.

Some English ships came with us, but the Admiral wouldn't let them come in ahead of us. (We heard the message over the T. B. S. talk between ships.) I guess they were trying to beat us in here to gain face with the Chinese.

The Hwangpoo river seems to run right through the heart of the city. We are anchored in the river about an eighth of a mile from the business district, it looks like. Shanghai looks to be a modern city with lots of tall buildings. From where we are anchored it looks just like an American city, the buildings, I mean. We can see street cars (that look more modern than those in Perryton) running; of course the boats on the river look pretty primitive. This afternoon a lot of boats came around the ship trying to sell souvenirs and little Chinese flags. The ship wouldn't let us trade with them, but couldn't keep them away so finally some Shanghai police came out in boats and ran them off by throwing water on them. These people also appear to be very poor. Then we had a lot of sight-seers out to look us over. The people came out in water taxis, a little boat rowed by one man; they looked to be very prosperous and were dressed just as modern as anyone in the States. Some were wearing sport coats, slacks, two-toned shoes and some were in business suits. It is just hard to realize the contrast in the wealth of the people. I saw one boat load of boys (four) out to look us over. They appeared to be about Don's and Bill's age and were dressed like the boys; their hair was really slicked down. I don't know what I was expecting the people to dress like, but I didn't expect to see American civvies.

Shanghai doesn't appear to have been torn up much, or if it was when the Japs first came in, they must have repaired the damage. The Chinese army has taken over, but they say there are still 50,000 Japs in Shanghai that haven't been taken prisoner yet.

They say we are going to get liberty here. If we do I am going for I surely want to get you and the boys some souvenirs. So far, I don't have a thing except those Philippine papers.

Well, darling, it is getting late and I have done a lot of rambling. I wish I was a good writer so I could describe what I have seen.

Love,
Harold.

Lightning Strike Thrice ?

YES ☐ NO ☐

Even if it scores a knockout first crack, lightning can still jolt the same spot some more! It often does. Another accurate weather fact is that you'll step up your aging car's chances this Winter by OIL-PLATING the engine's insides. You want Conoco Nth motor oil for this protective OIL-PLATING.

Conoco Nth oil's great wear-fighting method is this; it employs the magnet-like action of its added ingredient to make metal and lubricant join up! This creates OIL-PLATED surfaces—no longer all bare to frictional wear and corrosion. Hence there's less cause for carbon-sludge-breakdown. And surfaces kept OIL-PLATED even at a standstill are ready for quick safe Winter starts. Your engine and battery both say, "Conoco Nth for Winter—today!"

Germany
1 Oct. '45
Dear Van and Jessie:
I have just returned from a leave in England. I supposed to have had 12 days, but stretched it into 12, strictly off the record. I toured over London, taking in the usual tourist sights of the Tower of London, Old Bailey, Westminster Abbey, St. Pauls Cathedral, saw the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, visited the Houses of Parliament, loafed around Piccadilly Circus, saw several good musical shows and for variety took in a ballet performance and a drama.
Most of my time, however, was spent around Manchester, where the people were simply wonderful. I made a number of friends while stationed there last year, and I did a lot of visiting.

As I stayed with civilians there and got a glimpse of how the English are faring, I shall give a short report on my impressions of the country, especially pertinent in view of the current loan negotiations in Washington. As I have read numerous accounts of happenings in foreign countries, it seems that the accounts are for the most part on a strictly top drawer level. Sayings about "Winnie" or General Eisenhower did this and that, or Lord So and So said at a luncheon. Well, I can't do much along that line.

I can tell you a bit about the common man in England, the wage earner, the shop keeper, the white collar class person. In the first place, the food situation is deplorable. Their rationing system is more stringent, if anything, than during the war. For example, each person may have three ounces of bacon for a week, if he can find it. And as the families are registered at a particular butcher shop or grocery store one can't shop about much for that. Butter is unheard of, and the margarine substitute is scarce and inferior in quality. Some of the housewives started a run on liquid paraffin, using it for cooking fat, until they stopped the sale of it for any such purpose. I saw some peaches on sale in a neighborhood shop. They were set in individual boxes, mounted on cotton, like jewels, and sold for 8 shillings each, or 1.60. This observation confirmed an account which I had read concerning the sale of peaches, but which I hadn't placed much stock.

Each person is allowed 12 ounces of sweets per month. There isn't much flour for home baking, but a fair amount of bread can be had. Sugar is very scarce, milk is reserved for pregnant women and babies, eggs are sold for a shilling to a crown each (20 cents four bits in American language). Potatoes are fairly plentiful, and at the present time there are pears and apples on the market, as well as lettuce and tomatoes.

Clothes are strictly rationed too. Each person gets 24 coupons per year. A woman's coat takes 18 coupons, a dress 8 more. A man's suit takes the 24 coupons, leaving none for shirts, ties, etc. Most of the people are still in 1939 fashions, and I can understand why. Mind you, maybe the rich are able to "manage" for clothes and food but there isn't much of a black market in these commodities for Mr. Common Man.

The cities are not blacked out, but in Manchester, for instance, the lights go off at midnight because of the shortage of electricity. The buildings are still in their wartime shabbiness, because there isn't any paint nor other materials for improvements, as yet. There are a few cars on the roads, but most people still go by bus and train, and these latter agencies are still crowded to the gills.

I was interested about the Labor landslide, and was a bit concerned about the violent swing to the Left, and after inquiring about the situation I found only a variety of mixed reactions. I think the main thing was that the people were anxious for a change after six years of a coalition government, which they felt was dominated by the Conservatives, which of course it was. However, similar to the O'Daniel elections in Texas, I found but very few who said they had voted Labor, though the majority was quite conclusive.

One fellow, a street-car motor-man, was quite for labor, and wanted the government to take over everything, including sale and distribution of consumer commodities, in addition to the present plan of taking over transportation, coal and utilities. A Conservative, on the other hand, was quite worried about Government interference, said that it spelled doom for private enterprise, and his only consolation was that Labor would make so many mistakes that the people would be glad to vote them out next time.

Everyone was quite enthusiastic over Churchill, and were anxious to assure me that the Labor victory was in no way a repudiation of the man Churchill. Labor promised more housing to relieve the acute shortage, more consumer commodities, more relief from war-time controls, but has failed to deliver the goods. Probably was counting on a continuation of Lend-lease, which was of course, cut off. Most of the people feel that Truman is several degrees cooler toward the British Empire than Roosevelt was, and I concur in that conclusion. I noted the press doesn't always come out with the truth, having bought six papers searching for the facts in the loan negotiation, and finding but one in which the subject of a gift was broached by Keynes. Later, however, practically all the papers printed the denial by Lord Halifax.

The people don't want a gift, and those I talked to wanted a loan if only they could see some assurance of being able to pay it back. They are as proud as we are and don't want any charity. Personally, I get lost in the maze of higher economics regarding liquidation of sterling debt and the necessity for exports on the part of Britain in order to raise her standard of living, but I hope they do work some way to get some meat on their tables. I didn't have a square meal while I was there, and it was quite

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Veterans' Administration

Gen. Omar Bradley, new boss of the Veterans' administration succeeding General Hines, has moved with military dispatch in reorganizing the administration to provide better and more efficient service in behalf of the stream of veterans now being discharged from the services.

One of the most important changes made by General Bradley is a complete decentralization of all veterans facilities under the supervision of 13 branch offices. Obviously routine decisions can be made more promptly and more intelligently in a vast organization such as the Veterans' administration if they are not forced through a bottleneck in Washington.

Another change, one which had long been a subject for discussion, and oftentimes of criticism, was the medical service. The general now has separated and elevated the medical division to a higher status under command of Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley. Under this new arrangement, the new "surgeon general" will report direct to General Bradley.

The Veterans' administration is combining the government agencies and other channels for help and likely will emerge in the postwar era as one of the largest if not the largest governmental agency, handling as it will the affairs of some 12 million discharged veterans at one time or another. The administration has recently been the object of both congressional and private investigation as to conditions within the organization, conditions at Veterans' hospitals, treatment of patients, the tremendous shortage of physicians and nurses and other help and no doubt, it will be General Bradley's policy to eliminate immediately all situations which led to these investigations.

Questions and Answers

Q. I was discharged on February 24, 1943 by reason of "Sec. M. A. R. 615-360 and CDD." Will you explain the meaning of this. I will soon be 42 years of age. Is there any way I can volunteer for service in the occupational forces?—S. Rogersville, Tenn.

A. "This means that you were discharged under section 2 of the code governing discharge of veterans and "CDD" means a certificate of medical disability. In other words, you were discharged for a medical disability of some sort. The nature of your disability should be stated on your discharge. Yes, if you can pass the physical, the army is accepting volunteers for the occupational forces.

Q. How many points does a father of four children have who has been in service since last October 24 and across since July?—Mrs. R. B., Uhrichville, Ohio.

A. The army point rationing system as of September 2 gives 1 point per month for time in service, 1 point per month for time overseas, 12 points for each child under 18 years with a maximum of three, and 5 points for each decoration or battle star. If your husband has no decorations or battle stars, he would have about 51 points. At this time 80 points are necessary for discharge, although the army has announced discharge for 70 points by October 1, 60 points by November 1 and elimination of the point system later in the winter.

Q. I am writing in regard to a soldier killed in Germany who made his insurance to a lady who raised him. After his death, his own mother came and claims she should get his insurance. Which one is entitled to the insurance?—Mrs. T. G., Water Valley, Miss.

A. If the soldier named the lady who raised him as beneficiary in his insurance, she is entitled to it and will get it notwithstanding the mother's claims.

Q.—My brother left high school recently to join the navy. Is my mother entitled to an allotment or allowance from the government if he allots the required $57 E. W. Rogersville, Tenn.

A.—Yes, providing your brother listed his mother as a dependent when he enlisted or was inducted into the service.

Q. If a member of the regular marine corps extends his enlistment while overseas and the extension has one more year before expiration, will he have to remain overseas until the expiration, if he has been overseas 20 months?—Mrs. W. D. West Memphis, Ark.

A. Not necessarily. The marine corps has set up a rotation for return to this country after 18 months service overseas. Extension of his enlistment would have no bearing upon the time he spent overseas. The chances are this marine will return soon for duty in the states.

Ironical to read in the papers where the U. S. and Great Britain were going to send food to Germany this winter. Haw!

VISITS HERE—Lt. James R. Woodworth was visiting in the homes of his sister, Mrs. Floyd Coffin Monday on terminal leave and discharge from the AAF at Amarillo. He graduated from the Perryton schools in 1941 and was attending the University of Texas when he entered service in Feb. of 1943. He took pilot's training at Luke Field, Ariz., earning his silver wings July 27, 1944, and was stationed at Merced Army Air Field, Calif. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woodworth, formerly of Perryton and who are now living at Shattuck, Okla.

Entertainment facilities are running full blast, because the people are willing to spend their money for something, and if they can't buy food and clothes, they can at least go to the theatre. The shows start at an early hour, 6:30 for most, and are through in about two hours. I don't know why this early hour is set, though maybe it is a carry over from the blackout. Then, too, the English have tea at five or six o'clock, reserving a later hour of usually around nine for the meal.

When I returned from the United Kingdom, settled down here in nice, comfortable Germany, the thought occurred to me, "Just who in the hell did win this war, anyway?" And with that closing thought we say farewell to Merrie England.

Amarillo Host Farm Bureau

Reconversion and postwar problems confronting agriculture will be the principal topics for discussion by producers of this area at a meeting to be held at Amarillo on Thursday, October 25.

The meeting is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and is one of a series of 14 being held throughout the state. J. Walter Hammond, president of the organization, announced. Purpose of these meetings is to bring farm and ranch people firsthand information on the immediate problem of postwar prices.

"There is a growing sentiment to lower agricultural prices," Hammond said. "A collapse of farm prices, such as followed World War I, will lead to a break in the entire price structure of our economy. It will take the combined thinking of the best minds in agriculture to map a sound and practical farm program that will insure fair prices and prevent endangering the postwar economy of our nation."

The Farm Bureau strives to represent the true thinking of the producers of this state, and it is therefore necessary to call the farm and ranch people in to district conference to give them an opportunity to express their views on these issues of such paramount importance at this particular time, in order that as an organization the Farm Bureau will know what course of action to pursue, Hammond declared.

All farmers are urged to attend this meeting and have a voice in the formulation of a program which they believe will be sound and constructive.

J. M. Hutton of Spearman, member of the state board of directors from this district, will preside. The meeting will start at 10:00 A. M. in the Amarillo Hotel at Amarillo.

Audie Conley, president of the Ochiltree county farm bureau, stated that many farmers from this vicinity planned to attend the meet.

Mrs. R. A. Kennedy went Amarillo Tuesday night to meet her husband, Robert Alvis Kennedy, Sp. (X) U. S. N., who docked at Seattle October 10. They will return to Perryton where he will visit Mrs. Kennedy and Carmen Lynn during his 30 day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shorb, Sunnyside, were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryan over the week-end.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert Howard announce the birth of a daughter, October 12 at San Angelo, Tex. The young lady has been named Susan Jean. Mr. and Mrs. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howard, former residents of Perryton, the grandparents.

Which man are YOU...in 1955?

You and the man you work next to, are in about the same spot—today.

Tomorrow, your positions may be widely different.

In 10 years, one of you may be a decided success. The other—frankly—a failure.

No one wants to be a failure. Most failures hope for great success to come—even as you do now.

But failures, somehow, lack just a bit of the resolution, the self-discipline, that successes are apt to have.

Take War Bonds, for instance... Victory Bonds, now.

The way of success is to stick to your resolutions—to buy more and more Bonds, and keep them! Knowing they'll form a nest egg to help you feel secure... to give the confidence that contributes to success as you make your way through life!

More: Those Bonds can mean a home of your own. An education for your children. Your own business when the opportunity knocks!

And the extra money that holding them to maturity will mean: four dollars for every three you invest in "E" Bonds.

Those Bonds are your future.

But the way of the failure is to forget those things. To sluff off on bond buying—to be tempted to cash unnecessarily the bonds he already holds...

Keep those Bonds! Buy more! And more! Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

VICTORY BONDS...TO HAVE AND TO HOLD!

Star Gene Tierney Won't Stay Blonde

Gene Tierney's husband, Lt. Oleg Cassini, may be glad to hear this: Glamorous Gene, who's gone blonde for her current starring role in 20th Century-Fox's film version of the John Hersey Pulitzer prize winner, "A Bell for Adano," was asked if she would remain a towhead.

"Not I," said Gene. "This part calls for an Italian peasant girl, longing for something better, or at least different, to dye her hair as a form of escape from her drab life."

"But in real life, no. My husband says I have a brunette personality, and he likes me natural. His word is law to me."

Starred with Miss Tierney in the film which shows Thursday-Friday, Oct. 25-26 at the Ellis Theatre, are John Hodiak and William Bendix. This hit was directed by Henry King.

Reveal Actress as Glamour Girl

Acting is second nature to Maria Palmer but when it comes to showing off her shapely legs—well, that's something else again. That's why the hardest work she ever did was her first day in Deanna Durbin's new Universal comedy-mystery, "Lady On A Train," showing Sunday and Monday at the Ellis Theatre.

Maria's initial appearance in the film shows her clad only in scanties and an open dressing gown. It was the first time she ever had appeared in such attire. And it made her nervous.

"After the first day I didn't mind at all," declared the actress. "But I was so self-conscious that first day, I felt as if I weren't wearing a thing."

Mrs. J. L. Bryan returned last Thursday from Amarillo after having been with her daughter, Mrs. Norman Crum, who was a victim of spinal meningitis. Mrs. Crum is much improved. The doctor reports that her type of case had been developing for years, and that it was fortunate when the climax came that it not extremely severe.

Miss Dot Kagel of Birmingham, Ala., was a house guest this week in the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Kengle.

Blonde Rates 21-Whistle Salutes

At the Ellis Theatre, Saturday night Preview. It's a musical treat with a solid beat when you meet the babe who rates those 21-whistle salutes . . . She's an eye-catching beauty, a torch-singing cutie, delightful, de-lucious "Blonde from Brooklyn" with Robert Stanton (formerly Bob Haymes), Lynn Merrick, Thurston Hall and Mary Treen in the featured roles.

You'll find a merry love story of an ex-G.I. hooper from Dubuque and a juke-box "hello girl" from Brooklyn. Their Southern accents are strictly phony, but the gags and the gaiety are really swell.

The screenplay was written by Enna Lazarus. It was directed by Del Lord and is a Columbia picture.

Frederic A. Bartholdi, French sculptor of Alsace, was commissioned by the French to make the Statue of Liberty.

Milady Will Wear Fine Feathers

Commercial use for hitherto wasted chicken feathers is being developed in the rubber industry, where experimenters are producing fabric of mixed feathers and other fibers which is said to resemble wool, but is softer and lighter. At left a model wears a dress made of the new experimental chicken feather fabric, and at right you see spools of the yarn ready for weaving.

Daisy is so dumb she doesn't know the difference between a West Pointer and an Irish Setter.

Wool is obtained not only from sheep but also from goats, alpacas, llama and camels.

Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, leader of the Flying Tigers, was born in Commerce, Texas.

Dr. R. Thomsen of Amarillo served the longest tenure of any Presbyterian pastor in Texas—35 years.

Samuel Slater established the first textile mill in 1790, in Rhode Island.

The Merino sheep, a specialty of Spain, produce one of the finest qualities of wool in the world.
