Lone Star State Again Is Lashed By Violent Storms

Hit-and-run thunderstorms of an unusually violent sort hit Texas again Saturday.

Early Saturday and late Friday night they slapped at Fort Worth, Waco, Dallas, and Laredo.

Each storm had dazzling displays of lightning, deafening thunder and heavy rain.

Laredo residents said the thunder was the most severe in their memory. Laredo had 2.38 inches of rain.

The weather bureau said conditions are ripe for more storms. Skies were clearing somewhat in the Panhandle and South Plains, raising hopes that wheat harvest can be resumed.

Although the tornado season is generally considered past, there are "seeds" of a tornado in every violent thunderstorm, the weather bureau said.

The thunderstorms were generally welcomed by farmers, and did little damage.

Waco area pastures benefited by the heavy rain which sent high water down streets, curb-high. Cotton in the Waco area is too young to be hurt.

Lightning set fire to a large Magnolia crude oil tank at Hodge Station Farm on Fort Worth's outskirts. Damage was estimated at $50,000. The tank blazed for several hours.

For the Laredo area, the storm ended two days of heat, topped by 109 Friday. The storm also helped crops and ranges.

Dallas had 1.29 inches of rain in the 24 hours ending at Saturday morning. Residents were awakened by crashing thunder. The Trinity River rose five feet.

Some Fort Worth streets and lowlying residential areas were flooded by Fort Worth's 2.67 inches of rain in 24 hours.

At Waco, where 1.32 inches fell, lightning struck a new house on which nine men were working. They said it sounded "like someone was dumping tubs of bricks on the floors."

The cold front moving across the state kept temperatures down below usual levels.

Alice, in the coastal bend country, had a maximum of 95, compared with Friday's 106. Thunderstorms brought intermittent rains there. Lightning splintered a utilities pole at Alice.

The maximum at Port Arthur was 89, but the humidity made it feel like the hottest day of the year. A forecast of thundershowers hinted at some relief.

Showers to good rains continued for the second day in the East Texas section near Athens. They were good for crops, especially corn.

G. E. Oldham, 47, Succumbs Here Friday Night

Death called Friday night at one of Big Spring's well-known homes to claim George E. Oldham, resident of the city since 1932 and prominent in business circles.

Victim of an attack apparently as he slept, Mr. Oldham was found dead by his wife when she awakened Saturday morning. A physician was summoned, only to have to report that death had occurred some hours previously.

News of Mr. Oldham's unexpected passing came as a shock to a wide circle of friends, since he had been in apparent good health. His son, George Oldham, Jr., had gone to Fort Worth Friday and had to be called back Saturday.

Since coming here, Mr. Oldham had operated the implement company bearing his name, and had formed friendships and business associations with people throughout the rural areas as well as in the city. Affectionately regarded for his warm hospitality, Mr. Oldham had helped make his home at 103 Canyon Drive a gathering place for many informal occasions, for his own friends as well as for the younger associates of the son.

Besides the wife and son, who this past year has been a student at Kemper Military Academy, Mr. Oldham is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Oldham of Gorman; two brothers, Horace Oldham of Eureka Springs, Ark., and Herman Oldham of Lamesa; and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth May of Abilene and Mrs. Frances Noake of San Antonio. Roy Townsend of Big Spring is a cousin.

Others here were Tom C. Davis, father-in-law; E. A. and Leslie Davis, Wichita Falls, brothers-in-law; and Mrs. Irby Weaver, Hamlin, a sister-in-law.

The funeral service will be held

NEW WEST TEXAS LAKE—Finishing touches are being put to the dam across Morgan Creek below Colorado City. Last of the rip-rap soon will be in place. Meanwhile a considerable volume of water is impounded in the Texas Electric Service company lake. Water also will be made available for domestic (Colorado City) and industrial users. TESCO has begun construction on a 40,000 kilowatt steam generating plant at the lakeside. One view shows the dam and the premature lake behind it. The other gives a close up with workers putting protective rock on the face of the dam. (Jack M. Haynes Photos)

STRUCTURE GETTING FINAL TOUCHES

Morgan Creek Dam Ready To Trap Water From Rains In Area

Let 'er rain! That's the way contractors feel about the Texas Electric Service company dam on Morgan creek now.

TESCO isn't pulling against any farmers who might want the dry spell to continue a bit longer, but if it does rain, the Morgan Creek dam is ready to trap its fill.

Final touches are being put to the earthen structure four and a half miles south of Colorado City. Practically all the rock rip-rap is in place to protect the fact of the retaining mound.

A relatively small amount of work remains to be done on the 37-foot service spillway. To follow quickly will be more work on the intake from which consumers will draw surface water supplies.

During course of construction over the past five months, the lake has become a reality ahead of schedule. Several millions of gallons of water had to be let out so work could progress. Today there is a sizeable body of water backed behind the dam. Long before TESCO, Colorado City or Sun Oil are ready to use the water, it is available.

Construction has begun on buildings to house a 40,000 kilowatt steam generating plant for TESCO. Excavations have been made and some of the concrete foundations poured. The work, which may require more than a year, is being pressed.

Although TESCO has impounded the lake at a cost upwards of a million dollars, it actually will use less than other consumers. Water will be drawn from the lake, treated and converted to steam to turn generators. Then it will be condensed and piped back into the far reaches of the lake.

Sun is due to be the leading purchase of water, but Colorado City also will make extensive use. Under terms of a contract for raw water at the gate, Colorado City can obtain up to two million gallons a day. Bonds have been floated and work is underway on piping the water to town where a filtration plant is being constructed. The distribution system also is being enlarged.

The lake will cover some 2,000 surface acres and will contain approximately 32,000 acre feet of water. The service spillway level is 37 feet and the emergency spillway will be a few inches higher. Approximately 3,000 acres have been purchased for the reservoir and surrounding area.

Long before the official opening date, people have been flocking to the lake for recreational purposes. Spring floods backed water far up stream and boats began to zip over the lake surface. Were it not for the railroad and U. S. 80, the lake would be substantially larger. But a higher dam might inundate these transportation arteries.

Airlines Hearing Set For July 18

Supporting briefs neared completion here Saturday in behalf of Pioneer Airlines application for a five-year suspension of its temporary certificate.

Hearing has been ordered for July 18 in Austin by the Civil Aeronautics board. Examiner James. M. Verner will conduct the proceedings on the board's show cause order issued on April 4. All 25 cities in the Pioneer system have announced they intend to be represented.

The chamber of commerce here filed a petition to intervene in behalf of the five-year extension. The show cause order set forth that Pioneer would have its Texas permit extended five years, one year between Dallas and Albuquerque, and to suspend operations from Amarillo to El Paso. If sustained by the board after the hearing, Nov. 14 likely would be the effective date.

Also up for hearing is suspension for other lines serving certain points. As part of the order, the CAB asked Continental to show cause why it should not suspend at Big Spring and Las Vegas, N. M.; and Midland at Midland-Odessa and Big Spring. American previously asked suspension at Big Spring, a request protested here.

Other angles to the order held out a route to Pioneer from Dallas to Austin, via Waco and Temple, and to settle with Braniff which carrier will provide service between Austin and Houston.

Pioneer filed on June 1, 1948 for a permanent extension in Texas and New Mexico as a feeder service. In April the CAB issued its show cause order which caught several operators by surprise. Pioneer, approved since August, 1945, has served Big Spring since February of 1947.

Reviewing The

BIG SPRING WEEK

With Joe Pickle

Big Spring has the honor today of being the host city for the national convention of the American Business clubs. Residents will want to take every opportunity to extend hospitality to our visitors. They do just the sort of things in their communities that ABClub members have done here since December 1935 to make their home towns better ones.

• • •

Visitors may find it interesting that Big Spring has produced its share of service club leaders. For instance it has two district governors (Lions and ABClub) and one district-governor-elect (Rotary).

• • •

Weather got back to better than normal last week. The mercury topped 100 degrees, rising to 101 on Thursday and 103 on Friday—the peak for the year. Only once before this month has the 100 mark been touched. Saturday's top reading was a mere 97.

• • •

There are some mixed feelings on the shower situation. Ranchers would like to see more moisture fall on grass that is beginning to burn rapidly on the slopes. Tight-

ELECTION SET JULY 12

Confirmation Of CRMWA Forecast

Wih the date of election set for July 12, Big Spring residents will be hearing more and more about the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

If the opinions of several closely associated with the study of a surface supply sufficient for considerable growth carry weight, the district will be confirmed.

POLIO VICTIM GETS NEW DOG

BONHAM, June 25. (AP) — This was a happy day for Billy D. Hasten, 12-year-old Bonham polio victim.

A 7-week-old cocker spaniel pup arrived to replace one which was poisoned a few days ago.

The dog is a gift of Mrs. L. Robert Streit, Dallas.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hasten, won the first pup in a nationwide contest last fall.

The legislature passed two acts, one of them setting up the CRMWD recently. Before the district, however, can become active, voters in each of the member cities—Odessa and Big Spring—must give confirmation.

The district is the legal structure under which the two cities could, if subsequent studies warrant, proceed to act toward a major supply. In mind, ultimately, is the impounding of a huge lake on the upper Colorado River, 25 miles northeast of here. Supplies of raw water would then be transported by pipeline to Big Spring and Odessa.

If and when the project was realized, it would be the district, not the cities, which would be responsible for its operations. The cities and districts would have agreement for sale of the water.

That is in the future. The present problems is confirmation of the district. Here are what a few of those conversant with the proposal have to say about it:

MAYOR G. W. Dabney—I believe it is absolutely essential that the Colorado River Municipal Water district election carry. It we don't confirm the district, we are through with further investigation. The legal machinery is now at our disposal, and if we don't confirm it, then we will have spun our wheels for three years. If we do confirm the district, then final exhaustive studies and estimates can be made. The thing is to secure our appropriated water rights now. Before we get down to the point of where costs are involved, every bit of information on all factors

STARES WITH UNSEEING EYES

Girl Insensible 160 Days

DALLAS, June 26. (AP) — Joan Edwards of Rankin has been unconscious 160 days.

The attractive, 24-year-old college graduate, a newspaper woman, has lain motionless and helpless since an automobile accident, Jan. 17.

Sights, sounds and thoughts fail to register on her injured brain. Her big grey eyes stare, but do not see. Aim a mock blow at her face and she does not flinch. She makes groaning sounds occasionally, but has never spoken a word.

Her arms and legs are drawn up convulsively in a type of paralysis.

Joan was brought to Dallas Friday from an Odessa hospital. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Edwards, hope something might be done for their only child.

"But there is so very little we can do," Dr. C. C. Nash, Dallas surgeon, said sadly. "We are going to try some shots of arrow poison used by South American Indians to see if it will temporarily relax her tense muscles. But there is absolutely nothing we can do for her mid-brain injury.

"When brain tissue is destroyed, it is never replaced. Her improvement over all these months has been very slight."

Joan, employed by the Midland Reporter-Telegram, and a party of four others left Midland Jan. 17 for a dance at Odessa. The car slipped from an ice-coated road and smashed into a culvert. One man was killed. Surgeons removed blood clots from beneath Joan's skull but the mid-brain injury was beyond their skill.

Graying Mrs. Edwards, stays with her daughter constantly and sleeps on a cot in the room. Edwards, thin 53-year-old Rankin postmaster, said: "We just keep hoping Joan will get better. We figure maybe some day she'll just start talking all of a sudden. Or maybe she'll just get better gradually."

"Sure, I've gone into debt," Edwards added. "I had to. This treatment is costing $1,000 a month."

"She is in no immediate danger," said Dr. Nash. "If her present condition continues unchanged, she might be kept alive for years.

"It's the kind of case that makes you wish you had taken up some other occupation."

Administration's China Policy Flayed By Senate

Possibility Of Full Report By Acheson Seen

Embarrassment To Nationalists Feared If Story Released

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—A slashing Senate attack on the administration's China policy appears likely to speed a decision by Secretary of State Acheson on whether to make a full public report on postwar Chinese - American relations.

Such a report is known to be under preparation. However, there seems to be a division of opinion whether it should be released in view of possible embarrassment to the Chinese Nationalist government.

Acheson himself told a news conference Thursday that the matter is under study and the complete inside story of American relations with China may be told soon.

The State Department's position on the whole China question was spot-lighted by Friday's Senate developments. These consisted first of a series of oratorical attacks on American policy toward Nationalist China, and assertions that the State Department hadn't taken a strong enough stand against Communists in the Far East.

The outbreak on the Senate floor was followed by publication of a letter to President Truman, signed by 15 Republicans and six Democrats. They asked assurances that the United States would not recognize the Chinese Communist regime and would continue to support the Nationalist government.

Diplomatic authorities agree that Acheson faces three major questions:

1. Can the American government now tell its side of the postwar Chinese conflict without being accused of pulling the rug from under the battered Chinese Nationalists?

2. Should the United States recognize a Nationalist blockade of the Communist-held China coast and halt American shipping to the affected ports?

3. Should the United States recognize a Communist government in China?

Navy To Test Tiny Missiles

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP) — The Navy plans to test missile models at speeds of 7,000 miles an hour er more—twice the speed reached by weapons like the V-2, and 10 times the speed of sound.

The test models will be tiny. Their outside diameter, including fins, will be only about four-fifths of an inch. They will be fired from a 20 mm. cannon barrel in a 313-foot closed tube at the White Oak, Md., Naval Ordnance Laboratory.

By varying the pressure in the tube, it will be possible to calculate accurately the performance of the full scale weapon.

A scientist described the new facility—(it's called an aero-ballistics range)—as "a link between the wind tunnel and reality."

The range itself is just being tested. It may be two months or more before model tests can be started.

The importance of the range, scientists explained, is that a model can be run through a series of tests under varied conditions to double-check the results of wind tunnel studies. Only one set of conditions for each speed is possible in a wind tunnel.

The tiny, speeding model will be timed and photographed at 25 points on its course. Timing is done to one ten-millionth of a second.

Only models of designs already proved to be stable in wind tunnel tests, where the model is fixed and their air move past it, will be used in the range. Plans call for tests of shell and missile designs at actual speeds up to ten times that of sound, which at sea level is 763 miles an hour.

Senate Group Approves New Cotton Controls

Curbs Designed To Hold Down Output As Surplus Mounts

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee Saturday approved legislation providing new federal controls over the planting and marketing of cotton, frankly designed to hold down production in the face of an increasing surplus.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) said the new controls are needed because there already is a carryover of about 10 million bales.

He explained that the existing law would require an allotment of about 27,500,000 acres for next year because it would be based upon large planting in cotton areas during the past ten years.

"That could mean a crop next year of 20 million bales," he said.

The new control program provides for a national base of 22,500,000 acres computed upon recent production. There has been a shift from the older cotton lands of the deep south to newer areas where mechanical methods and irrigated lands are used.

Actual acreage allotments could be less than the 22,500,000-acre base but a floor of 10 million bales of slightly less each year is fixed. The crop last year was above 14 million bales and this year's crop is expected to be larger.

Thomas said the new program, if approved by two thirds of cotton farmers, probably would result in a crop next year of 14 to 15 million bales "if growing conditions are favorable."

Sen Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, was chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the new cotton measure. He said it contains most of the suggestions made by a belt-wide conference of cotton interests held at Memphis, Tenn., as well as recommendations of other major farm groups and the Department of Agriculture.

Anderson expects the new cotton program to become law at this session of Congress.

Civilians To Plan Defense

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—The administration placed in civilian hands Saturday complete control over the planning of civil defense and industrial mobilization for any war emergency.

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman, acting chairman of the National Security Resources Board, gave nine federal agencies planning duties under NSRB direction.

The action is expected to have at least two major results:

Revitalize the planning effort, which has languished since December when the White House began "quiet demilitarization" of NSRB.

Deal the final death-blow to proposals of the disputed "Hopley Report" of last fall. Prepared by Russell J. Hopley, head of the defunct Office of Civilian Defense Planning in the Pentagon, the report suggested creation of a full - time, operating civil defense office under the secretary of defense.

560 Deathless Days In Big Spring Traffic

CHAMP COWGIRLS COMING

50 Entries Filed For Local Rodeo

About 50 entries have been filed for the World's Junior Championship Rodeo, Durward Lewter, county agent in charge of arrangements for the show, said Saturday.

State champion cowgirls from New Mexico and Colorado have entered. Contestants from an area in Texas bounded by Halletsville on the south and Claremont on the north have also submitted entries.

An added attraction will permit fans to see two of the top professional rodeo ropers in action. Toots Mansfield, perennial world's champion roper, will contest his brother-in-law, Sonny Edwards, in a matched event. Edwards is widely sought as a matched roper. The Big Spring men are donating their services for benefit of the club boys and will rope three calves each both nights of the show.

"We can promise two peppy shows," Lewter said. The annual rodeo, believed to be the largest event of its kind ever held in this area, is scheduled for June 27-28 with performances at 8 p. m. each day.

Contests will be unreeled at the Big Spring rodeo grounds are two classes of calf roping, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, ribbon roping, girl's clover race, and the hat race. Prizes totalling $1,500 will be awarded winners. The show is sponsored by the junior chamber of commerce. Entries will be accepted until noon Monday.

Jess Slaughter, Big Spring, is to be arena director for the rodeo. Buck Jackson, Pecos, will do the announcing. Stock is being furnished by Goat Mayo of Petrolia.

A parade at 5 p. m. Monday will open the rodeo. Scheduled to start at 4th and Bell streets, the parade is being arranged by Ira Rice and Bud Tucker.

Advanced ticket sales are being handled by Zales Jewelers, Empire Southern, and the county agent office. General admission prices are $1.20 and .60.

FOR CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Big Spring To Flow Again

There will be no embarrassing questions about the "big spring" when a special centennial committee carries out its assignment.

Under the ladership of D. M. McKinney, definite plans have been shaped to "make her flow again", if only for the centennial week, Oct. 2-8.

It will be an artificial restoration, but if McKinney and his committee have their way, water will cascade over the brink of the limestone escarpment once a welcome sight for bison, Indians and pioneers.

What will become of the flowing program after the centennial remains to be seen. Right now efforts are being bent toward watering the waterhole for the big centennial party. The celebration commemorates the 100th anniversary of the discovery of the spring by Capt. R. B. Marcy on Oct. 3, 1849.

How the spring will be restored is subject to some additional engineering and arrangements. Tentatively, the centennial commission hopes that the city will be able to "swap" the Texas & Pacific water. The T. & P. has a water line within a few feet of the spring site northeast of the city park.

If this could be arranged, water would be released below the top of the escarpment to trickle 20 to 30 feet below. From a catch basin, the water could be recirculated to maintain the effect.

McKinney's committee, one of two score at work on centennial plans, has some other ideas. One is providing a large amount of parking space near the historic spring site. Another is beautification of the draw area immediately above for picnicking and relaxation. Still another is clearing minor brush and leaving the major collections of prickly pear and native flora for West Texas atmosphere. Improvements would be within an area leased by the T. & P. to the city without cost for a spring preserve. Some retaining cables around the brink of the spring and warning signs near deep arroyos would be erected for safety. New roads might be opened to permit a free flow of traffic.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

CAA Meeting Here Is Voted Success

Friday's regional CAA maintenance conference here was accounted a success Saturday. Seventy-nine persons, including aircraft maintenance inspectors, plane owners, airport operators and others flocked here for the parley.

Fifteen planes put in at the Muny port. Six took off about midnight at the conclusion of the parley, the remainder flying out Saturday morning.

Ray Matthews, engineer from the CAA aviation center at Oklahoma City, conducted the technical sessions at the Settles following the banquet at 7 p.m. Among items discussed were propellors, light plane operations, carbueration (Bendix pressure), and other matters. Two technical films on sheet metal fabrication and hydraulics were projected. During the afternoon designated inspectors participated in a two-hour session.

Sam Monschke, West Texas aircraft inspector for CAA, presided at the sessions. Several officials from the regional office in Fort Worth were on hand.

All agreed that the event should be made an annual affair. Representatives were here from Odessa, Monahans, Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo, Ozona, Fort Stockton, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Albuquerque, Brownfield, Lamesa, Amarillo, Rankin, Pecos and Hobbs, N.M.

Cotton Farmers Urged To Apply For Benefits

Cotton farmers in organized improvement groups are urged to file applications for benefits under the Smith-Doxey Act as soon as they have planted their crop.

"This is necessary because it takes time for groups to make arrangements for having samples taken and submitted to the classing office," H. J. Matejowsky, in charge of the Abilene classing office of the cotton branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U.S.D.A., said Saturday.

He explained that it takes at least 15 days to process applications and then deliver supplies to gins, warehouses, compresses or other agencies approved to take samples.

Groups that file their application as soon as their cotton is planted will be sure of getting them approved in plenty of time to get their first bales classed.

Cotton is classed without cost for farmers belonging to organized improvement groups under the Smith-Doxey Act.

Applications for this service should be sent to U. S. Department of Agriculture, PMA, cotton branch, P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, Texas. Also, they may be secured from the county PMA office, county agent or local ginner.

VA Hospital Here Is Taking Final Shape

Within the next fortnight, the general final exterior appearance of the Veterans Administration hospital will take shape.

Casual observers long since have had a round idea with completion of the outside brick work in the main building, but now the special trim for the center section is going up.

Some of the granite has been put in place, and during the next two weeks practically all the aluminum panels and granite over the entrance area will be installed. Until now this has been a gaping hole in the structure. Henceforth, it will be the show-piece.

Louie G. Bradley, in charge for the U. S. Corps of Engineers, said that the project was near 80 per cent of completion. Practically all terraza, tile and plaster work has been completed on the first floor. Bulk of it is out of the way on the second, third and fourth floors. Painting has been started and some plumbing fixtures set. Light fixtures will be set behind the painting.

During the past week two 550 KVA transformers were energized, and some use now can be made for temporary lighting. Elevators are far along and one has made a complete trip.

Practically complete is the attendant's quarters north of the main building and next to Gregg street. Soon work will be pushed on the nurses quarters, the duplexes and manager's quarters, the remaining auxiliary structures.

Pipework is underway in the power plant where a maze of connections will be installed over the next two months to connect a host of pumps, soft water units, intakes, etc.

Last week the procurement division of the VA issued an invitation to bid on some miscellaneous items of furnishings. These included 59 smoking stands, furniture for the nurses' porch (including a settee, coffee table, five chairs). The smoking stand bid deadline is June 28. The furniture deadline was passed Friday.

49 Delinquent Tax Suits Flied In Court Here Friday

First entries in almost a decade were made in the 70th District Court delinquent tax file docket Friday afternoon when 49 cases were filed in behalf of the Big Spring Independent School district and the City of Big Spring.

The suits were filed by George Thomas, local attorney, who was retained at the beginning of the year by the city and the school system to collect delinquent taxes.

Principal, interest and penalties involved in the suits aggregate approximately $11,000.

Previously, no delinquent tax cases had been filed in district court here since Oct. 3, 1939.

Defendants named in the 49 cases, with amount of taxes allegedly due, including interest and penalties, are as follows:

T. S. Currie, $966.01 for school, $1,069.49 for city; W. M. Heath, $149.18 school, $74.27 city; Mrs. Olive Gordon, $67.19 school, $49.20 city; Mrs. A. M. Runyan, $110.28 city; R. Lesson Given In Safe Engineering

ATLANTA, June 25 (AP)—Georgia Tech today had been given a short course in safe engineering.

The lesson was administered by a couple of yeggmen who broke into a "burglar proof" vault and made off with $3,900 in cash, checks and war bonds.

To add insult to injury the safe-crackers then re-locked the vault. It took a locksmith four hours in broad daylight yesterday to get it open again.

Two More Polio Victims Succumb

By The Associated Press

Polio added two victims Saturday to its 1949 Texas death toll.

Nancy Grace McGill, 11, of Rankin, died at Midland. Thomas Canon, 34, of Abilene, died in the West Texas Polio Center at Plainview.

Midland reported the first case developing in that city this year. Fort Worth had three new cases. San Antonio had four.

The state health officer advised a continued, stepped-up campaign against flies, and a thorough clean-up around residences and places of business.

The deaths at Midland and Plainview made three reported in Texas in two days. Shirley Johnson, 14, of Archer City, died Friday at Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls will be "bombed" with DDT by two 181st Fighter Squadron B-26's of the Air National Guard.

San Angelo had 76 possible polio hit spot. Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said a special study has been made of the first 100 polio cases in San Angelo this year.

It provides no definite conclusion except "polio is still a mysterious disease," he said.

(San Angelo had 76 possible polio cases under observation or treatment Saturday night. Eleven persons were dismissed from hospitals and 10 admitted the last 24 hours.)

Vets' Land Bill Digest Circulated By Rep. Blount

Highlights of the veterans' land bill, passed at the current session of the legislature, are contained in a digest being circulated to ex-servicemen by Rep. R. E. (Peppy) Blount.

Texans voted a constitutional amendment in 1946 authorizing the legislature to set up a veterans' land board. Its purpose would be to secure public and private lands at reasonable prices for sale on longtime terms to veterans.

Loans up to $7,500 are possible with five per cent down payment. On the maximum loan, this would mean $375 down. Purchases may be made up to $10,000 provided the veteran has the difference between $7,500 as a down payment.

Those who served at least 90 days between Sept. 16, 1940 and Dec. 31, 1946 are eligible if they were legal residents of the state at time of induction and are now residents.

Application may be made to the veterans land board (composed of the governor, attorney general, and general land commissioner) at the general land office in Austin. Individuals may locate property on their own initiative. It is subject to approval by the board before a loan will be authorized. The board also is required to advertise available land in counties where the property is located. Veterans have a 90-day priority.

Purchasers have a maximum of 40 years in which to retire the debt. Interest is three per cent on outstanding indebtedness. Purchasers get half the mineral rights, the state the other half. It is not necessary to live on the land purchased, but the land may not be offered for resale within three years.

Score Repayment On War Insurance

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Fifteen Republican House members today called the scheduled repayment of $2,800,000,000 on veteran-held government war insurance "a scandalous political performance."

They issued a statement accusing the Truman administration of holding up the money to 16,000,000 veterans "until 1950 because it is a congressional election year."

They called on Congress to support a resolution by Rep. Keating (R-NY) to start payments not later than next Oct. 15.

Carl Gray, Administrator of veterans affairs, announced last Monday that a disbursement of surpluses from National Life Insurance funds would start probably about January.

The Republican statement said the signers "hesitate" to blame General Gray, preferring to believe him "the victim of political pressure by the higher-ups in the Truman administration."

It continued:

"The Veterans Administration describes the insurance refunds as 'dividends.' This is deliberately misleading and untrue. They are not 'dividends;' they are refunds on an overcharge.

"Imagine the speed in which Mr. Truman's Department of Justice would swing into action if private enterprise had overcharged 16,000,000 people $2,800,000,000 on their insurance policies."

The statement added that the Supreme Court in June, 1948, ruled the repayments should be made.

The veterans agency said Monday that the refund resulted from a surplus which resulted from the fact that the insurance premiums were based by law on standard death rate tables which proved to be higher than needed.

BANK TAKEN FOR $17,000

HACKLEBURG, Ala., June 25. (AP) — Police today were seeking the bandit who measured windows for free and the bank of Hackleburg for $17,000.

Bank officials said the man, about 45, came in yesterday and said he was a lumber company window salesman.

He hung around, busily measuring windows until the bank closed and all employes but Cashier D. W. Stanford had departed.

The bandit then forced Stanford into the bank's vault at gun point, bound him with a belt and made off with $17,000.

It was 30 minutes before Stanford was able to free himself and notify police.

X-Ray Program Publicized By Postal Cards

Postall cards publicizing the mass chest x-ray starting here Saturday have gone out to all box holders in the county.

The notices are part of the campaign to acquaint the public with the purpose and schedule of the free x-ray service made possible by the Howard County Tuberculosis association.

Every person 15 years of age and older is urged to take advantage of the opportunity for the chest x-ray. The objective is at least 70 per cent of the population in this age bracket. Equipment will be in the Empire Southern Gas office.

Starting Saturday at 10 a. m. (and continuing to 5 p. m.), technicians from the state health department will quickly take x-rays. The procedure is simple. No disrobing is required. The subject takes a deep breath, holds it momentarily while the picture is taken.

Purpose of the survey is a means to ferret out unsuspected cases of pulmonary tuberculosis in their beginning. If everything is all right, the subject will be so notified within about two weeks. If some doubt is raised by the picture, information will be relayed to the individual's private physician for suggested follow up diagnosis.

Despite great strides against it, tuberculosis still ranks as the prime killer of persons between ages of 15 and 44. But if cases are discovered in early stages, they may be arrested promtly by proper treatment. The x-ray service is offered in the hope that any unnsuspected cases found might be halted bofre significant damage occurred.

The entire project is a public health program. It is aimed at intelligent cooperation and seeks to avoid any idea of a "scare." Except for July 4, week day schedules will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Hours on Saturdays are from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Big Spring Cafes To Be Rechecked For Sanitation

Recheck of cafes for performance on sanitation corrections will be made within 10 days.

C. W. Mason, city-county health unit sanitarian, said that within that period he would resurvey all cafes in the city limits to see if conditions cited this week had been corrected.

Special emphasis is being placed on fly control and elimination as well as dish and utensil sterilization.

He and R. L. Holbert, representing the state health department, have just completed checking all eating establishments within the city. None of the conditions called to attention of operators are of a nature that can't be corrected within 10 days, Mason said.

COOKS FOR THRESHER CREW

Corsicana Woman Enthralled By Toil And Din Of Harvest

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff

SEYMOUR, June 25. (AP) — One of the world's noisiest and busiest migrations is getting into full swing. It's accompanied by sweat and toil, dust and sometimes tears.

But a lovely, motherly woman who has gone along on the annual grain harvest trek for seven years finds it an "exciting life." She is Mrs. V. W. Turner of (914 N. Beaton) Corsicana.

Each year in the spring this migration begins. Thousands of grain combines accompanied by more thousands of gleaming grain trucks, roar down on the south from Canada and the Northern United States.

These combines cut and thresh grain in one operation. The combines roll south until they reach warm latitudes where grain first ripens each year. Along the way other combines join the southward march.

When the men and machines reach ripe grain, they turn and work north, harvesting as they go. Finally, by fall, they cross into Canada to wind up the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner are a little different. They don't have to go south. The first ripe grain is on their doorstep.

Mrs. Turner's husband is a crew chief with an outfit of typical size. Including Turner, there are eight crewmen. He owns three combines, four trucks and a huge, 35-foot house trailer.

The trailer is Mrs. Turner's domain.

She says: "Sometimes it seems to me that it's just as important to keep the boys well fed and to provide a home atmosphere for them as to actually combine the wheat."

And can Mrs. Turner cook?

"She really can," says Glen White, a six-foot-plus youth in the crew.

The trailer is well equipped for Mrs. Turner. It has bottled gas for the range and a gas-operated refrigerator. Electrical connections provide lights, power for fans and heat for an electric iron. At one end is a semi-circular dining table which seats 10.

One half of the trailer is devoted to living quarters for Mr. and Mrs. Turner and their college sophomore daughter, Bobradine, who is going along this year. It has practically all the comforts of a stationary home.

FINDS GRAIN HARVEST TREK "EXCITING"—It's her seventh annual grain harvest trek, but Mrs. V. W. Turner of Corsicana, Tex., finds it an "exciting life." Mrs. Turner is shown above pouring coffee for the crew which operates her husband's combines and trucks. Her kitchen is in one half of a 36-foot trailer which goes with the crews and machines. This picture was taken while the crew was on a grain harvesting job at Seymour, Tex. (AP Wire Photo)

Turner has been harvesting 11 years. In the off season, he operates earth moving machinery and other heavy-duty equipment at Corsicana.

He's made the trip north so often that he knows in advance which farms he'll harvest. He doesn't have to scramble for jobs like the newcomers do.

Each year, he starts the season on the land of Lincoln Burns and other farmers near here. Then his route generally is through the Texas Panhandle, sometimes into western Colorado. From there he goes to Liberal and Elkhart, Kansas, and on through Nebraska and South and North Dakota. Normally he ends the season at West Hope, N. D., three miles from the Canadian border. On occasion he follows the ripening wheat into Canada.

Mrs. Turner had to stay home and care for her children until 1942. She's made the trip each year since except for 1943.

It's surprising to discover that Mrs. Turner had two sons in the Army. She doesn't look old enough.

Two of the children are along this year. Bobradine is a music student at North Texas State College, Denton. She joined her parents when the school year ended. A son, James, is a crewman. An other daughter is Mrs. Jack K. Williams of Dallas. Another son, Lesley R., was reported missing in action while fighting with the 767th Tank Battalion of the First Army.

Because the Turners have made so many harvest trips, "We feel as much at home at places we stop as we do in Corsicana," she says.

The Turners often have discussed which town along the route they'll settle down in when they stop their yearly trips, but they haven't yet decided.

Turner has offered to "settle down" often, but Mrs. Turner says she knows he likes the work. So they'll continue following the harvests as long as he wants to.

"Sometimes I want to settle down," she said, "but when the crews start getting ready in the spring, I get anxious to go, too, and right then I start packing."

Mrs. Turner especially enjoys the scenery on the three and one half to five month four. She is a camera fan and has pictures of much of her travel routes.

The three combines in the Turner outfit usually cut 100 acres in a day which begins with breakfast at 6 a.m. and ends with supper as late as 10 p.m. When they hit an ideal stretch, the combines can cover 150 acres.

"It makes a good living but you don't get ahead fast," Mrs. Turner says. "It costs so much to replace machinery."

Stock Market Higher Than In Six Weeks

NEW YORK, June 25. (AP) — The stock market turned in a higher score this week for the first time in six weeks.

More than $1 billion was tacked on the market value of all shares. Prices, on average, hit a three-week high.

There was no pick-up in trading volume. Turnover of 3,400,000 shares was the smallest since last September.

The news did not account for the rise and the small amount of business indicated no general public participation. Many financial observers regarded the rally as nothing more than the rebound which usually follows any decisive decline.

The current started after the market climaxed a month-long decline with a plunge to a 4½-year low on June 13.

Some key stocks and their gains for the week included: U. S. Steel 12 cents at $21.50, General Motors $1.37 at $55.25, Chrysler $1 at $46.62, American Telephone 25 cents at $138.87, Santa Fe $2.12 at $83.12, Standard Oil (NJ) 50 cents at $63.75, and Anaconda Copper 87 cents at $26.62.

Weekly gains in the curb included Cities Service up $1.25 at $43.25, Arkansas Natural Gas "A" $1 at $9.25, United Gas 50 cents at $16.12 and Creole Petroleum 62 cents at $29.50.

80 Learn To Swim During First 'Y' Classes In City

Around 80 persons learned to swim during the first series of YMCA swimming classes completed Friday night, Bobo Hardy, director of the training program said Saturday.

A new series of classes will be started July 16, Hardy announced. They will be climaxed with the annual YMCA Swim Meet and Water Carnival July 23.

Other athletic programs being conducted by the YMCA and open to the public include tennis, gym classes and weight-lifting.

Tennis instruction is available to any persons 14 years of age or older who has had some previous experience in the game. Classes meet each Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. on the east courts of City Park.

Business men's gym classes are being held Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 5:30 in the high school gym. On Monday and Thursday afternoons at the same hour, the young men's classes meet on the high school floor.

Weight-lifting classes are conducted at 7 p. m. each Wednesday at the Y, 210½ Main.

Woman Banker Dies Friday

BASTROP, June 25. (AP) —Mrs. Berneece Brooks, one of Texas' few women banker officers, died last night.

She was vice president and cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Bastrop. Formerly, she was regional vice president of the Association of Bank Women. She also was a civic leader.

Mrs. Brooks was born at Omaha, Tex. She graduated from Jacksonville High School.

Services were held this afternoon. Burial will be in Jacksonville Sunday.

GI's Lend Helping Hand To Former Foe

OSAKA, Japan, June 25. (AP)—They were enemies once.

Tomoyuki Shara, who lost a leg in battle, stood on a street corner singing. He beat time with his artificial leg. No one paid any attention. His money box was empty.

Two U. S. Soldiers came into view. One carried a guitar. They stood awhile, then took over the act.

One soldier cut loose on the guitar. His buddy sang. Japanese began to stop. There was a crowd before long. Money was showered down.

When the money box could hold no more, the American soldiers vanished into the crowd. They left so fast an overwhelmed Sahara had no chance to thank them.

Logan Denied New Trial In Wreck

VAN HORN, June 25. (AP)—A new trial was denied Alvan Logan convicted of assault with a motor vehicle in a Feb. 2 highway crash with golfer Ben Hogan.

County Judge James A. Terrell yesterday overruled the motion by the defense. Attorneys for Logan filed notice of an appeal to the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Logan, a former bus driver, was fined $25, the minimum penalty, when convicted by a six-man jury here June 17.

Hogan was seriously injured in the accident.

Tanker Disappears

HONG KONG, June 25. (AP) —The Asiatic Petroleum Co.'s tanker Taipingshan disappeared from her scheduled route near Macao two days ago with 50,000 gallons of kerosene and the entire crew, it was reported Saturday. Authorities here believed the ship was seized by pirates.

Sick, Injured Get Good Service In Big Spring

With three ambulance services and four hospitals Big Springers are probably as well prepared for any sort of emergency as any city of comparable size.

Whatever the contingency, it can be handled in local hospitals. Three concerns offering ambulance service have eight machines standing ready to speed victims of accidental or medical emergencies to skilled attention in one of the havens.

Emergency rooms at each of the institutions contain latest medical equipment, materials, and skilled attendants for treating any emergency case from burns, broken bones, and lacerations to heart attack. Ambulances all carry first aid materials and are manned by operators trained in their use.

Two men on each ambulance are always prepared with stretchers, tourniquets, bandages, and splints. Ambulance driveways and enfrances are provided by all hospitals so that patients may be delivered to a physician's care within a matter of minutes after the emergency arises.

All hospital emergency rooms contain plasma for treatment of shock, oxygen masks and tents, stimulants, X-ray machines, fracture frames, resuscitators, and blood group listings with prospective donors on tap. Doctors and nurses are instantly available.

In discussing the handling of emergency cases, either accidental or medical, doctors emphasized the necessity prompt treatment of shock. Blood, plasma, or glucose supplies are maintained for this purpose.

"One of the most effective ways to handle shock is to replace body fluid levels by administering one of the three, depending on the individual needs," one physician asserted. Stopping of hemorrhage most common cause of shock, vital, of course.

With trained medical personnel within a few minutes of any emergency—broken bones to poisoning—doctors pointed out that the place for the general public is on the sideline.

"It won't hurt nearly so much to leave an accident victim alone for a few minutes as it will to start moving him around," they advised. "Injuries may be aggravated by improper treatment.

"Just cover the victim to keep him warm until the ambulance arrives. You may save a life that way."

$20 Million Issue Obstacle To Adjournment Of 51st Legislature

AUSTIN, June 25. (AP) — A $20 million issue appeared Saturday the chief obstacle to final adjournment of the Legislature.

A plan for financing construction of new hospitals and other state buildings by a $20-25 million bond issue had the backing of the Senate and Gov. Jester.

Twice last week the House said nothing doing on the bond proposal.

Adjournment appeared to hinge on how long House leaders would hold out aainst it. The situation could develop into a new deadlock that would hold the session long beyond the 171-day record set in 1941.

The session was 166 days old, making it the second longest on record.

Final versions of the money bills that have to be passed before adjournment were expected from conference committees Monday and Tuesday. The Senate already approved a resolution calling for June 28 as the last day have a look at the money bills before we agree on quitting.

Sharp cuts in new state services are reported to have brought the money bills within shooting distance of budget-balancing, except for the hospital and other buildings.

Several other issues could bring delay.

The House apparently was hung up on the driver responsibility bill; the question of a constitutional amendment to lift the old age pension ceiling was still in conference committee; no final action has been taken on the bill revamping the state's system of handling juvenile delinquents.

Another was the question of changing the dates for submission of a big batch of constitutional amendments.

Belgian King Is Election Issue

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 25. (AP)—Should Belgium's exiled King Leopold III be returned to his throne? That is the main question facing Belgians when they vote in Sunday's general elections.

The balloting is for representatives to the Chamber of Deputies, Senate, and nine provincial councils, but the royal question has dominated all other election issues.

Belgium's largest party — the Social Christian—is supporting Leopold's return, but says it will hold a referendum on the monarchy question if they receive an absolute majority in the Senate and Chamber.

The Socialists, Communists, and most Liberals want Leopold to abdicate.

Senators To End Curbs On Buying

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—Senators are standing firm on their decision to end government controls over installment buying on July 1.

The wartime and postwar controls over the amount of down payments and the number of months for paying the balance are due to expire next Friday unless Congress renews them.

Senator Robertson (D-Va), chairman of the banking subcommittee which held hearings on a proposed extension of the so-called "Regulation W" said his group "contemplates no further action."

Senator Maybank (D-SC) of the full banking committee previously predicted the controls would be allowed to lapse.

Morgan Mansion Bid In For $5,233

GLEN COVE, N. Y., June 25. (AP)—The 57-room mansion of the late J. P. Morgan, once assessed at more than $1,000,000, was bid in by the city of Glen Cove for the $5,233 in taxes due on it at a tax sale today.

The 39-year-old building, called "Matinecock," by the wealthy financier, had become a white elephant in recent years.

18th Traffic Death

DALLAS, June 25. (AP) — Lloyd Henry Arrington, 23, of near Dallas, became Dallas County's 18th traffic fatality of 1949 when he was killed Saturday in a two-car collision. Sheriff's deputies said Arrington's car had stalled before the collision with a car driven by John Reynolds, 26.

Louise Overell Is Engaged To Wed Policeman

LOUISE OVERELL

LOS ANGELES, June 25. (AP) — Beulah Louise Overell, 20-year-old heiress acquitted two years ago of charges of murdering her parents, is going to marry a Los Angeles policeman.

Miss Overell announced her engagement Friday to Robert Cannon, 28.

Miss Overell and her former fiancee, George Gollum, were freed and broke up after their five-month trial in the slaying of financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell in a mysterious yacht explosion in Newport Harbor.

Curb On FPC Is Okayed By Group

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—A bill to restrict Federal Power Commission authority over natural gas was approved by the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday. It now goes to the Senate.

The measure, like one already approved by a House commerce subcommittee, would exempt from FPC control the gathering, production and sales to pipelines of natural gas by independent operators.

Indonesian Revolt

JOGJAKARTA, Java, June 25 (AP) — The Indonesian Republic announced today that Moscow-trained Communist Leader Tan Malakka and three other Indonesian Communists, including a former Republican premier, have been executed. They led an unsuccessful revolt.

Tsaldaris Asked To Form Cabinet

ATHENS, Greece, June 25. (AP)—King Paul has asked Constantin Tsaldaris, deputy premier and foreign minister, to form a new Greek cabinet.

Premier Themistokles Sophoulis died Friday.

Tsaldaris, a former premier, is leader of the Populist Party which is traditionally conservative and royalist. Sophoulis was a liberal.

The new leader said he would consult with Sophocles Venizelos, labor minister and a Liberal Party leader, on the make-up of the new cabinet. He also said some minor parties may gain cabinet representation.

Parliament has been adjourned until the new government is formed.

Lewis Reported Ready To Let Mines Stay Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., June 25 — If the nation's coal operators will agree to a three-day work week, John L. Lewis was reported willing Saturday to keep the mines open while he debates new contract terms with them.

That would mean at least some of the 400,000 miners who Saturday began their annual holiday would have part time work when the 10-day vacation period ends July 5.

The reduction to three days a week also would fit right in with the United Mine Workers president's expressed wish to stabilize the employment in the industry.

But it would be a sharp departure from the traditional "no contract, no work" policy of the union. The present contracts between the bituminous operators and the UMW expire June 30.

The report of the Lewis offer was heard here while negotiations with more than half the soft coal industry were in recess until Tuesday.

Lewis himself would say nothing about the report, but a well-informed operator source who declined to be quoted by name said that "there is something to the proposal."

Operators who left here Friday for the week-end presumably were back home sounding out sentiment on a three-day work week.

NARY A NEIGH TO TWO BEERS

MIAMI, Fla., June 25 (AP) — The humidity was high and the weather was hot so a police department horse just couldn't say "neigh" to a couple of beers.

His rider, Patrolman Dave Lewis, explained yesterday that "Buster really likes beer in this kind of weather.

"Buster drinks like a gentleman," Lewis continued, "but I don't let him have more than a couple of beers. When he gets too many he thinks the pedestrians are Indians and he's General Custer."

Father Of Two Babes In Woods Is In Custody

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 25. (AP)— The father of two babes in the woods, who were found hungry and deserted on a lonely island Friday night, was taken into custody by sheriff's deputies Saturday.

The father, identified by deputies as Donald Frazier, met authorities at the home of his father, Joseph Frazier, at Jack's Reef, about 21 miles from Syracuse.

Sgt Arthur Willis of the Onondaga County sheriff's office quoted Frazier as saying that he had left the children, Peggy, about 5, and her brother, about 3, on the Seneca River island and that he thought they would be all right.

Willis said Frazier informed him that he had had an argument with his wife at their home at Port Jervis and that he had left with the two children June 17.

He did not immediately question Frazier further, Willis said. He left with Frazier for Syracuse.

"Daddy left us here yesterday (Thursday). He hasn't come back," Peggy told Mr. and Mrs. Wicks who found the children.

Wickes said the children cried out while he and his wife were fishing from a boat.

Peggy and her brother evidently had slept on a pile of bedding in a shack, Wickes reported.

Both children were scratched and sunburned.

will be made available. If and when an election involving costs would be called I cannot say, but it won't be rushed.

DOUGLAS ORME, Cosden vice-president and chamber of commerce manager—I favor confirming the district. If we do not accept the district and our claim to our water rights, in view of the great demand for water in Texas they may imerilled if not lost. If we do not confirm the district, further consideration at the hands of the legislature is doubtful. There is no financial obligation attached to confirmation. On the othe hand it does provide . means of protecting our rights and of continuing our studies.

R. L. COOK, former city commissioner—It seems to me that we cannot afford to pass up confirmation of the Colorado River Municipal Water district. There are no financial obligations at stake. On the other hand, the district offers a means to have water rights transferred to the district. It also furnishes a legal body for continuing exhaustive studies and in turn referring these to the public at the proper time for decisions. We had better look ahead on water while the looking is good.

J. H. GREENE, chamber of commerce manager—Confirmation of the water district will enable us to secure appropriated water rights on the upper Colorado River so long as we are making an earnest effort to find means of utilizing them. Whether we ever had cause to use it or not, the district would be the instrument—the tool—for action. Without it we migh be seriously handicapped of crippled if and when we wanted to act."

GEORGE MIMS, former city commissioner — The way I see it, we can't afford to pass up confirmation of the district. We've got to get into the saddle before we can be in a position to ride. It wouldn't be wise to stop now in searching for water supplies when all of West Texas is faced with a long-term water problem.

W. L. MEAD, baking manufacturer—"For a long time I've been interested in securing our future water supply. I think the district is a fine thing: is necessary and ought to be confirmed. The legislature has set it up for us to work under in furthering our search for a long-range water supply. Confirmation won't permit issuance of tax-supported water bonds. It will give us an agency to work under on the problem."

HOUSTON BANK ROBBED OF $5,350 SATURDAY BY BEAU BRUMMEL THUG

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP) —A fashion-plate thug robbed the North Side Bank Saturday of about $5,350. He leisurely held up two employes an hour before noon and fled by car with his loot in large denomination bills.

He wore a double-breasted suit and a yellow tie. He was bare headed. He entered the bank and strolled around a while before he struck.

Then he approached the cage of C. T. Sewell, assistant cashier of the bank, and asked:

"Mr. Sewell?"

Sewell nodded and the bandit raised his hand. Concealed in his coat was an object pointing at Sewell.

"I want all your money," he said.

"I don't have much," Sewell stalled.

"I want all you've got," the robber said, taking about $200.

He forced Sewell to move to the next cage, where Mrs. Lona Edwards and a teller, was temporarily absent.

Mrs. Edwards returned to her cage a few seconds later to find Sewell inside and the bandit standing at the window.

"This man wants your money," Sewell told Mrs. Edwards.

"How much?" Mrs. Edwards asked.

"Open your drawer and get it all out," the robber said, showing Mrs. Edwards his pocketed hand.

Mrs. Edwards tossed five bundles of large bills on the counter, along with some loose currency.

The robber scooped up the money and dashed out the door, colliding with a bank customer.

There were six bank customers and a number of employes in the bank at the time.

Mitchell Highway Contract To Be Up For Letting In July

Contract for the Mitchell county segment of state highway 350, Big Spring to Snyder, will be up for letting in July, J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce, has announced.

Contract will be for paving about three and a half miles.

Mitchell county commissioners completed acquisition of the right-of-way through that section and had deeds back to the highway department within two weeks Greene reported. The 12-mile section of the road through Howard county is about 33 per cent completed, according to the Abilene office of the highway department Greene said.

Construction of a bridge across the Colorado River southwest of Ira has already been completed, Greene stated, and letting of contract for the section of the new highway from the bridge to Snyder will probably be in August.

"All Scurry county right-of-way agreements have been reached according the reliable information from Scurry county," the manager declared.

Three West Texas Towns Slated To Get Television

DALLAS, June 25 (AP) — Construction of commercial television stations in three West Texas towns will begin "as soon as we get our FCC permit," a spokesman for a Dallas group said today.

Five Dallas business men and one Dallas business woman filed an application with the communications commission in Washington yesterday. They want to build TV stations at Abilene, Midland, San Angelo.

They are James B. Cheek and M. F. Fooshee, architects; Ward D. Downs, one of the owners of the Dallas Plumbing Co.; Virgil A. Hargett, in the electrical supply business; Dave C. Edwards, manager of the Hillcrest Mausoleums, and Winnie Shelton, a Dallas business woman who spends much of her time in Hawaii.

"Everything waits now on FCC action on our application," William B. Miller, television consultant and their spokesman, said.

The stations, he said, will cover a radius of about 40 miles around each of the West Texas cities.

The coaxial cable carrying television programs from coast to coast runs near the cities. Miller said the three stations may be able to pick up the coastal programs.

One by one the precincts acknowledged the message.

Then an anonymous precinct broke in with "You are nuts."

Clary Appeal Is Overruled

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals Saturday overruled the state's motion for rehearing of T. Clifton Clary's appeal from a 99-year prison sentence on conviction of murder in the death of his wife January 31, 1948.

Clary had won his appeal, the court reversing the trial court's judgment and ordering a new trial.

The state sought a second hearing in the appeals court, contending the court erred on two points. One, in holding that the jurors had prejudiced the case, two, that one juror had a fixed opinion in his mind as to the appellant's guilt.

Judge C. G. Krueger wrote the opinion denying the state's motion. He noted that "no reason is advanced by the state in its motion why the court erred."

The body of Clary's wife was found in their burned home near Ballinger. Clary said the fire was caused by a butane explosion.

COLLEGIANS RATE OWN PERSONALITY ADJUSTMENTS HIGHER THAN OTHERS'

LOS ANGELES, June 25. (AP)—A group of freshman and sophomore students may have demonstrated what's wrong with the world.

Dr. George F. Lehner of the psychology department at the University of California at Los Angeles gave the students the "California test of personality," asking them to rate their own personality adjustments and the personality adjustments of an "average person."

Male students gave themselves a rating of 50 (normal) compared with only 10 for others. Women rated themselves at 60 (slightly superior) and also placed others at 10.

Only one-tenth of all students taking the test rated the personality adjustment of the "average person" as high as their own. Nine-tenths thought the "average person" is maladjusted.

The significance, says Dr. Lehner, is that "most of us have an exaggerated view of our own personality adjustment when compared to that of others. It shows we have little faith or confidence in our fellow beings. If people had more insight and understanding of others, perhaps human relationships would be more harmonious."

SUPPRESSION ALLEGED

Will Probe Union Gambling Charges

DETROIT, June 25. (AP) — The CIO United Auto Wokers said Saturday that the affairs of its Paterson, N. J., local, including two-year-old charges of gambling and racketeering, would be aired at the UAW convention in Milwaukee next month.

The UAW's comments followed publication of a New York Times story that the 1947 UAW International Executive Board has suppressed a report on the gambling and racketeering charges.

The UAW restricted its formal comment to a statement that "the union does not want to go any further than to say the affairs of Local 669 will be discussed at Milwaukee in July."

Well-informed union sources said, however, that the Paterson local had been one of the storm centers of the UAW in recent years. A mass removal of its officers took place in 1945.

The Times said the suppressed report purported to show a link between many of the officers of the Paterson local and gambling and racketeering interests in New Jersey.

The Times said the report was made by a special UAW committee on March 21, 1947, but that it was suppressed by the executive board. UAW President Walter P. Reuther was a minority member of that board at the time.

According to the Times, a UAW group opposed to Reuther issued a pamphlet several weeks ago in which parts of the suppressed reports appeared.

Copies of neither the pamphlet nor the report were available at UAW headquarters.

The report grew out of developments at the UAW's 1946 international convention at which the then President R. J. Thomas was ousted by Reuther.

Thomas, in one of his final acts as president, told the convention that "racketeers and hoodlums had threatened the lives of delegates" from Paterson and he named a special committee to probe the matter.

The committee spent several months in its investigation and at one time reported to the UAW board that it had found one case of intimidation of a delegate.

Thomas, together with former Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes and other anti-Reuther members of the board, continued the investigation of the Paterson situation and the 1947 report resulted.

Both Thomas and Addes subsequently lost their offices in the UAW and the Paterson committee became inactive.

UAW sources indicated Saturday that another committee would probe the Paterson affair to determine if there was any present basis for the gambling and racketeering charges.

Officials of the Paterson local were unavailable for comment.

Ice Cream And Cake Supper Set Tuesday For Milk Producers

Dairymen and their families, some 100 in number, will climax a program Tuesday with an ice cream and cake supper.

The affair, arranged by Banner Creamery, is booked for 8:30 p. m. in the V.F.W. hall.

J. D. Merrifield, who arranged the program, said that producers from Big Spring and Colorado approximately 35 in number, would be on hand with members of their families.

A technicolor motion picture, stressing quality of milk through proper handling will be projected.

There are more than 8,000 scheduled mail trains every day in the United States.

SLAIN—A man hunt was launched after the discovery of the body of four-year-old Walter Eaton (above), his throat slashed, in a Lansing, Mich., storage and equipment lot. Police said it was the work of a "sex fiend." (AP Wirephoto)

Find Clues In Assault Death Of Walter Eaton

LANSING, Mich., June 25. (AP)—Police tracking the depraved killer of tiny Walter Eaton said Saturday they think they know what he looks like and how he acted the night of the crime.

Countless tips have come into headquarters since four-year-old blonde and blue-eyed "Peewee" was found dead in a dark vacant lot near his home about midnight Thursday.

His body was partly stripped and mutilated and his throat slit. Police said he had been assaulted criminally.

Sought for questioning also was a recent escapee from a Wisconsin state home and training school.

From a long series of reports, officers put together a theory about the slayer.

They believed a young man—tall, slim, and dark—stopped at a beer and confectionary store in the run-down neighborhood of the home of Peewee's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eaton.

He bought a jumbo-sized bottle of beer and four lollipops.

Leaving the store, officers said, he probably spotted Peewee riding his tricycle and straggling behind his 11-year-old sister, Emily.

The slayer apparently enticed the boy into the rubble-filled lot, assaulted him, and then killed him so he could not name his attacker.

Knights of Pythias Announce Officers

New officers for the Knights of Pythias have been announced.

Headed by Carl Gross as chancellor commander, the officials will take office for a six-months term the first meeting in July.

Others elected were Paul Darrow, vice-commander; W. P. Holland, prelate; Z. S. Loftis, master of works; J. O. Tynes, master of arms; Tom Crenietzberg, inner guard; Eddie Polacek, outer guard; M. A. Cook, financial secretary.

Last week rank of knight was conferred upon four candidates. They were Dr. P. W. Malone, Ray C. Clark, Palmer M. Smith, Big Spring, and Jack Holt, Odessa.

Small Grains Are Moving At Rate Of Two Cars A Day

Tempo of the small grain harvest picked up during the past week and by Saturday the rate was at two cars per day.

Approximately 14 cars have cleared to date. How much remains is conjectural. Uncertainty of how much would come to market had the Tucker & McKinley Grain company in a quandary as to storage provisions. Ample space is in sight. There is a question of apportionment for wheat, barley, oats and rye.

Value of the crop to market to date is open to conjecture. The Herald's estimate Saturday was that the figure was pointing toward the $50,000 mark. This was based on a division of $32,000 for wheat, $9,000 for oats, $4,000 for barley and something like $1,500 for rye.

Roughly 70 per cent of the small grain movement is wheat. Most of its now grading a good No. 2. Yields are generally good, ranging from 15 to 20 bushels per acre where stands were uniform. Loan factor on wheat is $1.87 per bushel.

Oats are falling in the No. 2 category, being a little light. However, yields have been excellent. Ralph Davidson, a major producer in Sterling county, combined 60 bushels to the acre. Most of the oats to market have come from the Sterling area. Oats go in at 73 cents per bushel.

Most of the barley is grading to No. 3 but yields are said to be satisfactory to high. The loan rate is $1.03 per bushel. Only about a third of a car of Abruzzi rye has come to market at a 95 cent per bushel rate. Yields have been erratic, depending on the stands. They have ranged from five to 15 bushels per acre. Some of the lighter returns were due to planting primarily for winter grazing or over, or in conjunction with hairy vetch. Producers are being encouraged to hold rye for seed on the grounds that returns will be far greater than on the open market now.

Abilene Man Dies

It was the second death in the polio center this season. Thomas was admitted earlier this week.

KANSAS AREA COMBED

Seek Couple In Thornton Slaying

DODGE CITY, Kas., June 25. (AP)—Texas officers continued their search in this area Saturday night for a young couple sought in the slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, oil field explosives expert.

Thornton's body was found on a bloodsoaked bed in an Amarillo, Tex. tuorist court Thursday morning. His skull had been fractured in two places. A shirt and towel were knotted around his neck.

The black sedan of the slain man was found abandoned here Friday night. In it were the clothing and personal papers of a young man and woman, last known persons to be seen with Thornton.

Sheriff Paul Gaither of Potter County, Texas, and two other Texas officers, left here to continue the search for the couple at other points in this area. They expressed the opinion that the couple left the city Friday night.

Texas Ranger Frank Propst, one of the officers, said, the couple may have headed back towards Texas or New Mexico. He said a couple took a taxi to the city limits late Friday night and planned to hitchhike to Liberal, Tex., 75 miles southwest of here.

A man and woman, each described as about 22 years old came to the Amarillo tourist camp with Thornton Wednesday morning. They disappeared Wednesday night and so did Thornton's 1948 four-door motor car. Police Friday traced the couple to Hinton Junction, Okla., and Elk City, Okla.

The Texas Highway Patrol reported robbery may have been the motive in Thornton's slaying. They said a large sum of money was believed taken from him and his diamond ring was missing.

EXPLOSIVES EXPERT SLAIN W. A. "Tex" Thornton (above) famous oil field explosives expert and fire fighter, was found slain in an Amarillo, Texas, tourist court. Police are seeking a young couple they say came to the court with Thornton. (Above) Thornton squints in the sun as he poses in his uniform as Range Rider as he attended a recent rodeo of the Riders. Argentina To Sign British Trade Pact

BUENOS AIRES, June 25 (AP) — The Argentine government announced Saturday it will sign its five-year trade pact with Britain here on Monday.

The agreement has brought protests from the United States that it violates principles of multilateral trading and puts United States exporters in an unfavorable position in Argentina.

President Juan D. Peron and British Ambassador Sir John Balfour will speak at the signing ceremony.

Under the agreement, Britain will supply the bulk of Argentina's imports, ranging from oil and coal to automobiles and whiskey. In exchange, the British will get an estimater 300,000 tons of meat, cereals, and other supplies.

Pick-up Truck Recovered As Suspect Nabbed

Within minutes after broadcast of a stolen car report, state highway patrolmen recovered a missing pick-up and captured a suspect.

Patrolmen Jack Taylor and Red Williams were four miles out on U. S. 87 bound for town when they picked up a report that a pick-up truck had been stolen.

Description was meagre, but as they passed the state hospital, they spotted one that aroused their suspicions. From the cottonfield they flushed one man. The truck proved to be one stolen from T. M. Ludgate.

Taylor said the suspect, held in custody Saturday, admitted there was another man involved. He steadfastly maintained he knew him only as "Jim" and that he might be from Odessa. The suspect said he had lived at Big Spring off and on for 15 years.

JUST AN ORDINARY BIRDIE IN A TREE

ALICE, June 25. (AP) — Dr. George A. Farquhar claims a birdie. His ball vanished on his second shot on the No. 1 hole at the Country Club golf course.

He found it eventually—in a bird nest 10 feet high in a mesquite bush.

Farquhar took a 6 iron and swung. The ball landed six feet from the cup.

He putted in for a par 4. Or was it a birdie?

Canadian Title Goes To Arkansas Entry

TORONTO, June 25. (AP) — E. J. Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, Ark. won the 1949 Canadian open golf championship Saturday with a brilliant display of par-shattering golf. He shot a 67 on his final round.

County Farmers Get New Insect Warning

Still waging a battle to curb the grasshopper menace, Howard county farmers were warned Saturday to "keep a close watch on old cotton for flea hoppers and bollworms."

County Agent Durward Lewter declared that a light to medium infestation of the hoppers were at work on most April cotton.

"A medium infestation of bollworms was also found on the E. W. Lomax farm in the Lomax community," Lewter said, indicating that "any time during the next week would be ideal for dusting."

"In cases where a random examination shows as many as 10 bollworms or flea hoppers per 100 cotton plants immediate dusting is imperative," the county agent warned. "If infestation is that bad, cotton should be dusted with 10 per cent DDT and sulphur not later than Tuesday."

Late cotton will likely miss this generation of bollworms, Lewter said. A demonstration is being carried on at the agent's office to determine when the next generation of the pest is due. Incubating period for the bollworm is 28 days and the demonstration will show when the present period is over.

The county agent warned that grasshoppers were moving south across the county and that farmers now cutting small grain be particularly watchful of cotton adjoining grain fields.

Over 20,000 pounds of poisoned grasshopper bait were mixed and distributed during the past week. The sodium fluosilicate mixture is still available at the farm labor camp.

Early cotton is also slightly infested with square borers and lice, Lewter said. "Neither is a serious threat normally, however," he stated.

"Cotton is coming out good now. If we can control the insects we have prospects for a good crop all over the county."

Hoeing, which got into full stride during the past week, will probably continue for three weeks or a month due to early, middle-aged, and late cotton crops. Early cotton was reported as "pretty weedy" in most areas.

The Spence 'Compromise' Leaves Need Of Strong Water Man

What has all the earmarks of a political compromise is the development in Austin late this week which resulted in the naming of E. V. Spence to a newly created post of Interstate Compact Commissioner.

In moving to this place, which will carry the responsibility of reaching agreements between Texas and neighboring states on the division of important river waters, Spence automatically goes off the Board of Water Engineers, the chairmanship of which he has held for since the fall of 1947.

Holding complete confidence of Governor Beauford Jester, Spence was nominated for another full six-year term on the Water Board. Since he was city manager here before going into military service, Spence still registers as a Big Spring voter, and so his residence fell within the 30th senatorial district, represented in the upper House at Austin by Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa.

It happened that various shallow-water irrigation operators in the South Plains felt that Spence had a philosophy of water conservation inimical to their interests, and they persuaded Senator Corbin that he should not be confirmed to the Water Board.

Other interests throughout the state who had received assistance from Spence in tackling and solving water problems, sprang to his defense. Notably did he get support from West Texas, where it was felt his engineering knowledge of surface and underground waters should be put to the use of the state.

Completely reliable authority has it that every member of the Senate with the exception of Sen. Corbin wanted to confirm Spence, but since the appointee is a 30th district man, the old senatorial rule of personal privilege prevailed, and nothing was done about the confirmation.

Meantime, the Legislature passed a bill setting up the Interstate Compact machinery, and men "in the know" on water problems suggested that Spence should take over the big job of helping parcel out the waters of Texas' big boundary streams.

On this particular post, it is openly apparent that Governor Jester and Senator Corbin reached their "compromise." The senator announces that he was happy to help confirm Spence to the Compact, the governor has not been rebuffed on a nomination, and Spence is kept engaged in a field of activity with which he is thoroughly familiar.

The Herald cannot fully agree that all elements can be completely satisfied. It is felt here that Spence has done more for the state on the Water Board than any individual before him; that his knowledge particularly of West Texas water problems is needed in facing such problems which are still far from solution.

The only answer is going to be that another strong man must assume the vacancy on the Board of Engineers. Otherwise, what the Interstate Compact Commission may have gained, will be a loss to the state as a whole, and West Texas in particular.

Suggestions, Maybe Not Good, For Avoiding A Depression

Just for the record, it seems to me that I should state positively and unequivocally that I am against a depression.

I am also against a decline, a bust, a bottom-falling-out, a panic or anything else of the same nature that would make me any poorer than I am, not to mention what would happen to all you other folks at the same time.

Whether anything can be done about it, other than to voice opposition, I am not sure. If being fore-warned is of the value the copybooks always said it was, then this country ought to keep itself off the reefs and shoals. Goodness knows there's been enough talk about the recession that has been around the corner ever since the war ended.

There was a time, you know, when we all longed for the return to normalcy. That was when we thought that meat must have had diamonds imbedded in it, that automobiles must surely have had platinum trim, and that furniture was gold-plated. What we all wanted—and we might as well admit it—was a big fat pay check or a healthy profit for ourselves, plus rock-bottom prices on everything we had to buy or wanted to buy. If prices would just come down a little, we said, not thinking that when they do, profits fall a little too, and payrolls have to be trimmed some as a result.

So, we all ride or walk together.

Now, if things are "levelling off", which is another way of saying that we went over the crest and are on the way downhill, it seems that we should be looking for some solution. I had no part in solving the great fiasco of the early thirties, and am not quite sure until yet who actually did, but there might as well be some suggestions for the next one.

(A) Put everybody on the government payroll, or

(B) Take everybody off the government payroll.

Under (A), the mere job of having everybody sign up as a goverment worker would create such a vast demand for forms (seven copies) that the forest industry would groan under pulp demands, the shippers would be loaded down shipping the stuff to the mills, the print shops would be on 24-hour shifts preparing the forms, the steel industry would go to 150 per cent capacity in making more printing machinery, the demand for coal would send even John. L. Lewis back into the pits, the miners would be so hungry that agriculture would have to increase its acreage by three-fold, the farmers would have to have so many more implements that all unemployed would rush into that industry, these people would all have to have houses and furniture, and the people who build their houses would need more tools, more clothes and more automobiles. This probably takes care of everybody but people in the advertising business, and they will undoubtedly think up something to sell a little space on the back of the government forms.

Under (B) if the 84 million people (estimated) who are now on the public payroll weren't there any more, the tax bill would be cut so drastically that business could count on higher profits at lower prices, the workingman's take-home pay would zoom, and everybody would be assured of a nice living and a three-day holiday running from March 13-16 each year.

There are probably some hitches to both of these suggestions, but we'll work those out some other Sunday. —BOB WHIPKEY.

Paul Robeson's Antics Do Cause Of Inter-Racial Relations Harm

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

When his son married a white girl in New York week ago Paul Robeson, the Negro singer, faced a group of reporters and photographers and, shaking his fist at them and speaking between clenched teeth, blurted:

"I have the greatest contempt for the democratic press. Something within me keeps me from breaking your cameras over your heads."

The confession of hatred for the democratic press comes with poor grace from one who loves Russia so much, for the Communists maintain the fiction that the Soviet press is both democratic and free. And here is Paul Robeson, who has made himself ridiculous in the eyes of many fellow-Americans by his antic adulation of Russia, casting aspersions on a democratic press, which Russia insists describes her own brand of "free" journalism. Is it possible Robeson forgot to check first with some of his Soviet heroes before making such a crack?

We do not believe in intermarriage of whites and blacks, and we doubt if many intelligent and responsible Negroes believe in it either. Most such mixed marriages turn out badly for both parties to the contract. They are not welcomed as a couple in the society of either whites or blacks. Their children have difficulty finding places for themselves in either world, and altogether the net results are unhappiness and discontent.

We believe the laws of the Southern states against miscegenation are wise and far-seeing, and to the interests of both races.

We do not believe Paul Robeson, by his spectacular championing of Soviet Russia, is serving the best interests of his people. The United States freed its slaves a long time ago, and even the czars brought serfdom to a virtual end. But under the Communists everybody is a slave, even the masters in the Kremlin, for they too are slaves of the Frankenstein they have created.

The real heroes and exemplars of the Negro race are such men as Booker T. Washington, the educator and advocate of "gradualism" in inter-racial relations, and George Washington Carver, whose contributions to scientific development were American landmarks. Both were modest men who did a great deal to improve inter-racial relations, and even more to improve the lot and condition of their people.

We think Joe Louis, the simple, unaffected colored boy who scaled the heights of fame as heavyweight boxing champion of the world, has contributed ten times as much to ease racial tensions than Paul Robeson has ever done. His career has been helpful to his race, while Robeson's conduct has been detrimental.

The Negro in the South has advanced amazingly, considering his starting point. He has advanced a lot farther and faster than the great masses of the Russian people have advanced under communism. Much remains to be done by way of giving him a break in education and in recognizing his political rights, in improving his economic status and opening up opportunities for betterment. This cannot be achieved quickly; it is a slow and painful process. It cannot be forced; it must come gradually.

The greatest threat to the steady improvement of the Negro race in America is that reckless and irresponsible self-appointed spokesmen like Paul Robeson will by their intemperate and unreasoning actions and attitudes create a counter-reaction which might sweep away many of the gains already made, and make further gains more difficult than ever.

It would be unfair to judge the entire race by the conduct of a few radicals who speak only for themselves.

Dr. Condon Calls Upon Hoover For Full Investigation Of Gossip About His Wife

WASHINGTON. — Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, whose wife was smeared in an FBI report made public in the Judith Coplon trial, has written J. Edgar Hoover a letter which may rank as one of the great human documents of the year.

Dr. Condon had publicity demanded that Hoover apologize for the wrong done his wife, but in his later letter to Hoover he withdrew the demand for an apology, though continuing to press for a full investigation of the unchecked gossip. Dr. Condon's letter, so far unpublished, states:

"Dear Mr. Hoover:

"On Saturday and Sunday, angered and hurt by the unjust and unfair allusions to my wife contained in an 'unevaluated' FBI report which was made public in connection with a court trial last week, I issued statements to the press in which I demanded an apology from you.

"I would like to assure you that these statements grew solely out of the spontaneous anger natural to any man on seeing the name of his wife sullied in the press through official documents implying improper conduct through their distortion of an innocent and normal act. I believe that you can appreciate and sympathize with my reactions.

"It is apparent, however, that you could not reply to my statements because the injury is irreparable by any apology because it would be impossible to remedy the sufferings that many have undergone, including myself, as a result of similar operations, and because there is the possibility that any reply from you might be pertinent to a court matter. In the light of these, I regret any inconvenience that I may have caused you.

CARE AND CAUTION

"The fact that the present unfortunate events did take place does emphasize, it seems to me, the need for care and caution in connection with investigatory procedures. I have repeatedly pointed out the importance of proper investigations and proper security measures and, for example, I have held again and again that the President's loyalty program is a splendid and excellent thing.

"But the care and caution which I mention are crucial if we are to attain the ends which we seek and, indeed, if we are not to jeopardize that very thing —our free and democratic country—which we value above all else.

"In this connection, I do not believe that the welfare of our nation is served when slanderous material about decent Americans becomes a part of official documents. It does no good to say that these documents are 'unevaluated' because they are, in fact, used as official reports, as they are in such matters as federal employment and loyalty cases where they are used as though the contents were truly factual and evaluated. . .

NEVER QUERIED

"Are you aware, with all the enormous amount of effort that has been spent on investigating Mrs. Condon and myself as a result of malicious and vindictively - motivated false alarms, that not once has one of your agents come around to see either Mrs. Condon or myself, either to interrogate us or to get straightened out on some point or other?

"And this is so in spite of the fact that I have repeatedly offered to co-operate fully with any fairly-conducted investigation. I know, as a matter of fact, that your files on Mrs. Condon and myself are shot through with errors with regard to easily ascertainable facts. We would be glad to go over all of this material with your agents in order to get it straight.

"Having never met you personally, I look forward to meeting you, if you wish, and to discussing these or other matters which may be of mutual or general interest.

NO ANIMUS FOR HOOVER

"I would like to assure you that I am writing you in a friendly and co-operative way, and I would like to confess that one of the reasons that I have addressed you so frankly and openly is the article entitled 'The Challenge,' which you wrote for the Sunday magazine section called 'This Week.'

"When I read this fine piece, beginning with the quotation from the Prophet Micah—'What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?' —and ending with your sentences —'These three simple phrases set up an indestructible guidepost for human conduct. In clear and simple words they establish the the spirit—justice, mercy, humility'—when I read these, moved by their profound truth and applicability in this troubled world, I feel that you would not mind a simple, frank and friendly letter discussing matters that weigh heavily on my heart, not merely in personal terms, though I am vulnerable enough like all mankind to feel anger and sorrow over unjustified aspersions, but in terms of that freedom and democracy which we cherish."

Note—It is not known outside the Justice Department, but it was either an ironic twist of fate or a deliberate trick by some FBI subordinate that put the Condon files into the Judith Coplon case. They had no relevance whatsoever, and were not in the files which the attorney general had read in advance.

However, when the stack of FBI reports turned up in court, the Condon report was strangely included among them. The FBI explanation given to higher-ups is that the Condon papers got stuck in a paper clip behind another report. Insiders can't help but consider it strange that one of the most efficient bureaus in Washington would let so secret and highly important a document get mislaid in such a way that it would turn up in court.

UNDER THE DOME

President Truman is blistering mad at his Council of Economic Advisers for its refusal to endorse the Brannan farm program. Dr. Nourse says the Brannan plan is "political," feels the council should remain above politics. . . Mr. T. got such good reports from the Democratic farm rally at Des Moines last week he has decided to hold a democratic labor meeting in September—right in the home town of the chief author of the Taft-Hartley act—Cincinnati.

Nation Today–James Marlow

Government Reorganization Is Job That Must Be Done Slowly

WASHINGTON, (AP) — STREAMLINing the government would be easy to explain, and understand, if the job could all be done at one crack by the President or Congress.

It doesn't work like that. It's a kind of step by step job, taking a lot of time, stabbing in many directions—although now, an effort is being made to follow a general plan.

Just as the government itself has been pieced and patched together over its whole history, so the job of trying to streamline it a bit must be done in pieces.

The general overhaul plan was outlined by the 12-man, special commission created by Congress and headed by former President Hoover. Putting the plan into action is up to President Truman and Congress.

Mr. Truman and Congress have both started work on it. So far the Hoover plan is being followed in a general sort of way, although not in every suggested detail.

IN MAY CONGRESS PASSED AN ACT to reorganize the State Department. The department now is going through its reorganization. The main idea, of course, is to get more work of it more efficiently.

For example, the plan gives Secretary of State Acheson 10 assistant secretaries, instead of the six he has had. This is intended to lighten the load on him. And work of the department is being re-arranged.

And—Congress is considering a bill now to further unify the armed services. The Senate has passed it, but there's no assurance the House will. So nothing may come of this one this year.

This bill would give Secretary of Defense Johnson almost complete control over the three branches of the armed forces: Army, Navy, and Air Force.

Congress in 1947 passed a law unifying the armed services. But that law allows the secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force to go directly to the President over the head of their immediate boss, the Secretary of Defense.

THE PRESENT UNIFICATION BILL would end that. So, Congress has to decide whether it will do a tighter job of unification than it did in 1947.

The freedom of those three secretaries to go over the defense secretary's head was one of the major problems of James V. Forrestal, who jumped to his death from the Naval Hospital after resigning the job in the spring. He backed the bill now in Congress.

Last Monday Mr. Truman offered seven reorganization plans to Congress. If the lawmakers don't objec he can go through with them.

(Much of the reorganization job can be done by simple presidential order—without any lawmaking by Congress — provided Congress does not object.)

This is the seventh plan. In outline: He wants—formally—to make the National Security Council and the National Security Resources Board part of the "Office of the President."

WHEN THOSE TWO BODIES WERE created in 1947, no one said where they belonged. Actually, they've been considered part of the President's office ever since. Mr. Truman's plan would make it a fact, officially.

The Security Council is made up of the Secretaries of State, Defense, Army, Navy, Air Force, and anyone else the President wants to appoint.

It has no powers, its job is to advise the President on matters of security. It meets only when the President wants it to.

The National Security Resources Board is composed of government department or agency heads chosen by the President to sit on it.

Its job is to advise on our national resources. For example, if we faced war it would have to tell the President what our resources were, in metals, factories, manpower, and so on.

You'll probably be hearing about reorganization plans for years to come.

Today And Tomorrow–Walter Lippmann

West Powers Have Work To Do Before Ministers Meet Again

Before they can resume their discussions with the Soviets in the autumn the Western powers among themselves have a serious and very difficult work to do.

The honeymoon period of the Marshall plan is over. And the Atlantic pact, after it has been ratified, will have to be supplemented by new arrangements in order to make it relevant to the developments in Germany. Both Marshall plan and Atlantic pact have been successful—the one in averting a collapse and unmanageable distress in Western Europe, the other in reducing the danger and the fear of military aggression.

• • •

But the satisfaction we are entitled to take in these achievements must be tempered with the knowledge that both the Marshall plan and the Atlantic pact are unfinished business. They are unfinished not merely in the sense that they require continued support from Congress and the people but in the harder sense that both are elementary and now quite inadequate for the period into which we have entered.

• • •

At the Pilgrims dinner in London last week, held in his honor, Mr. Thomas K. Finletter said, in conformity with the law which he has administered with such distinction and grace, that "the prime objective of closing the dollar gap by June, 1952, must dominate all our policies which relate to the recovery program." But while Mr. Finletter was speaking, Washington and London were worrying each other over the Angelo - Argentine trade agreement. This agreement, which Mr. Hoffman told the Senate was a "dreadful" departure from the American ideas of open trade, is the direct and, from the British point of view, unavoidable result of making the closing of the dollar gap "dominate" all British policies.

The core of the agreement is that the British are to buy Argentine meat for four years paying in sterling, and the Argentine is to use this sterling to buy British, instead of American, oil. The agreement means that Britain will not buy meat and that the Argentine will not buy oil from American producers. But this arrangement, which unquestionably discriminates against American producers, is due to the fact that neither Britain nor the Argentine has, or has had any good prospects of earning, the dollars to buy meat and oil from America. Britain has to discriminate against producers who can be paid only in dollars that she does not have.

So if, as Congress has laid it down, the dollar gap is to be closed by June 1952, then by 1952 the area in which men buy and sell in dollars will be closed off from the area in which men, who ask dollars, do their buying and their selling.

• • •

The Anglo-Argentine agreement illustrates sharply and vividly the basic truth that the Marshall plan, as now conceived and operating will not and cannot restore world trade or unite the free nations in a prosperous economy. The tendency is restrictionism, economic isolationism and, as the productive capacity of Germany and Japan increases, towards cutthroat competition.

To reverse this sinister tendency will call for measures as far-reaching and as bold as the original Marshall plan itself. And we shall not have much time in which to plan, negotiate, and agree upon those measures. Nor can we afford to indulge in prolonged self-congratulation about the limited successes we have achieved. The acid test of Western cooperation is ahead of us and still to be met.

A pleasant manner attracts no end of salesmen.

Girl Who Knew What She Wanted Clicking

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 —(AP)— Joan Leslie, a girl who knew what she wanted, had it this week.

She began work in RKO's "Bed of Roses," her first major studio job in three years. Thus ended a fight for freedom which took her almost to the U. S. Supreme Court.

This story begins about 10 years ago. Born Joan Brodell in Detroit, the little girl showed acting ability at an early age. She looked mature beyond her years and at 15 she was starring with Gary Cooper in "Sgt. York," at 16 with Jimmy Cagney in "Yankee Doodle Dandy." The roles won Academy awards for both actors.

Joan became the utility gal at Warners. She worked hard and often. But as she approached 21, she became dissatisfied. She felt she was being typed as a scatterbrained bobby-soxer. She claimed the studio reduced her from star to featured billing in "Two Guys from Milwaukee."

When she came of age, Joan issued a declaration of independence. She claimed as an adult she could end any contract made for her as a minor.

She won her case in two lower courts, but was reversed in the State Supreme Court. She took it to the U. S. Supreme Court, which decided not to review the case. Finally, Warners decided to release her.

"I learned a lot in those three years," she says, "about patience, understanding—and law.

"It hasn't been easy. Warners sent letters to all studios saying they could not hire me, and those letters still have an effect, although the case is over.

"Furthermore, I couldn't work for pay on the stage of radio. So I managed to keep busy by doing benefits, raising money for church buildings and doing free radio and television appearances."

She also did two films at Eagle-Lion. "Fortunately, each of them paid me more than I earned in a year at Warners, so that helped out," she said.

Amputee War Veterans Ready For Annual Baseball Contest

NEW YORK, (AP) — CAPT BOB ANDERson isn't worried about his own team.

But he is worried about the caliber of the enemy ball team that will trot into the Polo Grounds against his outfit the night of July 26th. And, of course, he's fretting already about the attendance.

"Last year we drew only about 9,000," he said indignantly. "What do you think we play in—wheelchairs? This year we're hoping for 30,000."

The game is one of the most unusual sports events in New York. It'll be the 17th annual baseball contest between amputee war veterans.

"WE'RE TRYING TO RAISE $100,000 for an amputee information and research center here," said Anderson. "But the main thing is to get the public out so we can show them an amputee can do anything they can."

Bob, 25, lost his left arm to a German artillery shell in 1945. He is shortstop and captain of the arm amputee team. The rival team is made up of leg amputees.

"All the players on both teams are vets from the second world war," he said. The first world war vets are getting paunchy and slowing up. We want to keep the game fast. And these leg amps are really fast, too. They say their pitcher, Bert Shepard, can still run a hundred years in around 12 seconds."

SHEPARD, A FORMER BIG LEAGUEer, is now player-manager with the Waterbury, Conn., Timers in the Colonial League. Several other amputees are semi-pro players.

Like many another amputee young Anderson is angry at what he believes is senseless job discrimination against men who have lost arms or legs in war or industrial accidents.

It isn't a personal problem with Bob. Bob started a small retail egg route and saved enough to buy a truck. Now he has four trucks, four employes and a $12,000 a year income.

"Most people think it's a disadvantage to lose an arm," he said. "I think it's an asset. It teaches you to use your head instead of your brawn. And I don't regret a minute I spent in the Army. It made me grow up fast."

Gyselman Leading Longhorn Batters

Dick Gyselman, Sweetwater manager, reached the driver's seat in the see-saw race for the Longhorn league batting leadership last week, adding four points to his lusty average to pull up with .406.

Alex Monchak of Odessa and Midland's Julian Pressley, who were tied at .405 a week ago, both skidded, although Monchak's .399 still was good for a second place tie this week. Harry Bartolomei of Sweetwarer shares the runner-up spot in the latest statistics, which include games through June 20.

Roswell still holds a comfortable lead in club hitting with .299, six points more than a week ago, while Sweetwater, with .296, is second. Big Spring maintained its .289 average to continue in third place.

The Broncs added two points to their club fielding average, moving up to .943, which is good enough to head the pack again. Odessa is second in club fielding with .938.

Bronc pitchers monopolize individual statistics in that department, headed by Julio Ramos who had won 11 and lost none when the last officials averages were compiled. Bert Garcia and Frank Perez each had one victory and no losses, while Gumbo Helba had seven wins and one loss and Manny Rodriquez 6 victories and two losses.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

By WACIL McNAIR

(For Tommy Hart Who Is Vacationing)

Let's see if we can hoodwink ourselves into imagining a cool, autumn breeze here in the midst of this heat wave by talking a little football.

Coach Carl Coleman has established himself as a full-time Big Spring resident and is quite busy with High school athletics. Of course the new coach is occupied now with plans, checking over equipment, facilities, etc. But the boys themselves probably will figure in the scheme before you might think.

Coleman indicates that he will leave nothing to guess work when it comes to having the stage set for a full dress performance once the football season arrives. That attitude spells work aplenty during the so-called "off" season.

For one thing, Coleman is planning a personal interview with the parents of each Steer grid candidate. And of course the boys themselves will be given an opportunity to talk things over with the coach well in advance of the first practice session. Purpose of that policy is to develop a complete understanding between the coach, the boys and the parents.

It's a logical procedure. The coach and the boys are naturally interested in winning football games, and most parents are interested in the sports careers of their children.

• • •

We hear that football interest already is soaring among members of last year's Steer B team, despite the hot weather. Several of the lads reportedly have set their sights on a starting berth with the A team this fall. That should encourage Coleman, because the desire to play is an essential factor.

• • •

Latest addition to the YMCA sports program is a weight lifting club, an organization that will welcome new members. Some 10 charter members already have launched operations. They meet at the Y on Wednesdays at 7 p. m. Club membership fees are $5 each, with all receipts earmarked for equipment. The charter members already have the essential items on hand, but they hope to add to the facilities as new members are received.

The Craig who lasted only one third of an inning against the Bronco at Vernon Thursday night is the same lefty who formerly adorned the Sweetwater roster.

The Swatters peddled Craig Huntley recently, and then handed Outfielder Dave Steger his release.

• • •

The World Champion Cleveland Indians, who only recently began to show signs of life, have been catching old billy from fandom around their home precincts. However, judging from reports seeping down from that direction, one would gather that Cleveland rooters have not vacated the Bob Feller band wagon. Some have asserted that other team members always "lay down on the job" when Rapid Robert takes the mound.

• • •

It's a different story in the case of Manager Lou Boudreau, however. They screamed loud and long when Lou grounded into a double play with the bases loaded against Philadelphia recently. At that time Larrupin' Lou had managed to connect for only 10 base hits in his last 50 trips to the plate.

Gil Hodges Spearheads Brooklyn Attack As Pirates Bow, 17-10

PITTSBURGH, June 25. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers smashed the Pittsburg Pirates 17-10, Saturday. Gil Hodges spearheaded the assault with two homers, a triple, double, and single.

Hodges drove home four runs and scored four in the slugging duel featured by nine home runs, five by Pittsburgh.

Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo smacked the other Brooklyn homers. Ralph Kiner belted two and Dino Restelli, Wally Westlake, and Ed Stevens one each for the Pirates. Kiner's blows were his 17th and 18th.

The nine homers fell one short of tying the major league record for most home runs in a game by both clubs.

Bob Chesnes started for Pittsburgh and walked home two runs in the first inning.

Parnell Gets No. 10 As Bosox Win 13-2

BOSTON, June 25. (AP) — With his Red Sox teammates blasting 17 hits, Mel Parnell, the southpaw ace, coasted to his 10th win with a 13-2 decision Saturday over the hapless St. Louis Browns.

The Red Sox chased starter lefty Bill Kennedy, their former farm hand, by pounding him for seven

Houston Golfers Move To Finals

GALVESTON, June 25. (AP)—Lefty Ed Kingsbury and Howard Johnson, a pair of Houston hot shot golfers, fired their way into the championship finals of the 22nd Texas Public Links Association state tournament on Galveston's municipal golf course by virtue of double victories posted in today's competition.

Kingsbury, a three-year golf letterman at the University of Houston, exhibited flawless putting to knock off medalist Vernon Smith of Galveston, 3 and 2, in the semi-finals. He had Smith 1 up at the end of the first nine holes.

The 25-year old Kingsbury, champ of Texas southpaw golfers back in 1947, defeated Bud Rucker, Houston, 1-up in the quarter-finals.

Johnson, a former Minnesota State amateur champ who now calls Houston his home, had to go extra holes to defeat Percy Byerly, Beaumont, 1-up on 20 holes in the semi-finals. In the quarter-finals, Johnson knocked off Bart Halton, Bryan, 3 and 2.

Play in the first round also moved up to the finals today, George Seaholm of Houston and L. F. Berg of Galveston will meet for the title in this bracket tomorrow at 9:50 a.m. They will play a single round of 18 holes.

Seaholm beat Lou Foytik, Galveston, 3 and 2, and Berg topped B. Baker, Houston, 2 and 1, in the first flight semi-finals.

Although Alabama ranks fourth as a cotton-producing state, it is the biggest heavy-industry state in the south.

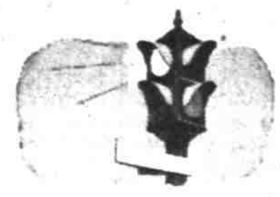
Tip about that trip..

For fun-on-the-run, as you've already discovered, there's no travel mate like that Buick of yours—especially if it's really in the pink.

So while you're readying yourself for vacation tours, how about doing the same for your car—with a little of that special Buick care that does so much to make trips top-notch? For instance—

Got plenty of pep? Our engine tune-up is just the ticket to bring back flashing, new-car liveliness on hills and straight-aways.



Can you "stop on a dime"? The answer's yes—when our experts get through truing up worn drums, mounting new linings to replace old worn ones.

How's your view? It'll be good, night and day, when you let our experts check your lights, windshield wipers, and windows.

Want a good steer? That's just what you've got, after our front-end experts get through adjusting your steering mechanism to give it new-car lightness.

Chassis sassy?

Does it ride roughly—squeal and squeak at you?

Drive in—we'll "shoot the works" with our grease guns and oilcans to take the noise and stiffness out of your ride—give you easier steering.

And a Buick-trained mechanic will give your car a conscientious trouble-preventing inspection as well—without charge!

In short, start your trip in our shop and you'll find it free of car worries all the way. Drop in—see our facilities—talk to our experts—and see for yourself it's the best insurance of a good time that you can buy.

Australian Singles Ace Upsets Pancho Gonzales

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, 21-year-old U. S. singles titleholder, was ejected out of the Wimbledon tennis championships Saturday in a sensational upset by the lefthanded star of Australia's Geoff Brown.

Prime Minister Attlee and some 17,000 other sweltering fans saw the second-seeded Los Angeles husky bow out in [illegible] and 13 minutes on Wimbledon's famed center court, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

All the other seeded stars gained the men's singles quarterfinals with straight-set triumphs, including topseeded Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., defending champion Bob Falkenburg of Beverly Hills, Calif., and fourteenth seeded Frank Parker, titleholder from Los Angeles.

Failure to get in his big service first service and the effects of a lingering cold contributed to the downfall of Gonzales, who made a meteoric rise to the top of the U. S. rankings in 1948.

Little Geoff, only 5 feet 9 inches tall, was runner-up to Yvon Petra of France in the Wimbledon singles final three years ago. Since then he had been a disappointment [illegible] Saturday.

Parker, seeded third, [illegible] the defending women's champion, George Worthington of Australia, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1, on an outer court which drew few spectators from the Saturday crowd estimated at [illegible].

Parker, seeded fourth at [illegible] is the defending titlist, eliminated Hans Van Swol, 34 year-old Dutch physician, 7-5, 6-0, 6-1, without incident.

Australia matched the United States six by putting three men in the round of eight. In addition to Brown, they were John Bromwich, who stopped Rolando Del Bello of Italy, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, and Frank Sedgwick who turned back Philippe Washer of Belgium 6-4, 6-4, 7-5. Dan Sturgess of South Africa, runner-up to Gonzales in the U. S. championships last year, eliminated Guglielmo Cucelli of Italy, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

Jaroslav Drobny, Czechoslovakia's Davis Cup ace, defeated Nigel Cockburn of South Africa, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2 to complete the quarterfinal bracket.

When the lineup Monday after [illegible] Sunday, it will be Schroeder tall, was runner-up to Yvon Petra against Sedgman. Parker [illegible] Falkenburg against Brown and Drobny against Rough of Beverly Hills, defending women's champion, moved one notch ahead of the other American women when she dropped Rosemary Walsh of Britain, 6-1, 6-2, to enter the quarterfinals.

Hit And Run On In B-S League

DALLAS, June 25 (AP) — Averages of the Big State League reveal the hit and run signal must be overworked.

Thirty players in the class B circuit hit .300 or better through games of June 20 and Frank Carswell of Texarkana topped the list with a lusty .415.

Carswell has slammed out 107 hits in 66 games this season.

Frank Saucier, Wichita Falls catcher and last week's batting leader, trails in batting with a .405 average. Emory Hresko of Austin and Skip Bass of Waco have averages of .374 and .368.

Jodie Phipps of Texarkana has the best record among pitchers with 10 victories and one defeat. Several hurlers are undefeated, though they have chunked less often. Ralph Germano of Wichita Falls had a 5-0 record through June 20.

Washington U. Duo Win Double Title

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP) — Jim Brink and Fred Fisher of the University of Washington won the national collegiate tennis doubles championship Saturday, defeating Art Larsen and Sam Match of the University of San Francisco, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

It was the fifth time that Brink and Fisher had played together. It also was the first time a Washington team ever won the national championship.

The doubles finals wound up the annual tournament with San Francisco winning the team championship with seven points and Rollins College, Washington, and Tulane all tying for second with four points each.

Handsome Jack Tuero of Tulane bounced back twice Saturday morning to beat Match for the singles championship.

The tall, swarthy man who was supposed to win the title two years ago and failed had the reserve strength when the chips were on the line this time and he roared from behind dramatically for a gruelling 2-6, 6-4, 9-7, 6-0 victory over the poker-faced veteran from the Pacific Coast.

In the third set, it appeared Tuero was finished. He was behind 4-2 and Match was running him ragged with his drop shots. But battling Jack pulled himself together and after the game was deuced three times, made two brilliant placements that got him back into the ball game. In the next game he broke Match's service to win, held his own in the ninth game and broke Match's service again in the tenth to run out the set.

But Tuero wasn't out of the woods—in fact, his toughest battle was to come. In the fourth set Match broke Tuero's service three times as he swept to a 5-3 lead. The fans attending this National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at the University of Texas were filing out of the stands. But Tuero rallied for the next game and broke Match's service to tie it up. Both held service for two games—the fourteenth was deuced three times before Match won it—then Tuero held service in the fifteenth and broke Match's service and his heart in the sixteenth.

The final set found the San Francisco player a beaten man. He furnished only passive resistance and was able to deuce only one game. Tuero broke Match's service after that deuce in winning the final game.

Newhouser Nips Yankees, 9-3

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP) — Prince Hal Newhouser, in command throughout, pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 9-3 triumph over the New York Yankees Saturday. Newhouser would have had a shutout but for wildness. He loaded the bases on walks in the fourth and ninth innings and the free tickets led to the Yankee runs.

Coahoma Legion Team Decisions Hawks By 15-11

Coahoma's Junior Legion baseballers struck telling blows in two innings and then held on to defeat the Big Spring Hawks, 15-11, in Steer park Saturday afternoon.

The Coahomans paraded five men across the tlish in the second stanza and seven more in the fifth to salt the decision away.

The Hawks pecked away for one in the second and two in the third before producing a seven-run outburst in the sixth to thrust out a definite challenge.

However, Coahoma rushed in its ace tosser, Freddie Molina to put out the fire, and the winners added three more in the top of the ninth for good measure.

The Hawks came back for one more in the last of the ninth but the threat was snuffed out.

Tri-County Leaguers Initiate Third Round

Tri-County league baseballers launch the third round of their 1949 schedule today, with all six teams due to resume action.

Today's pairings will bring the league-leading Forsan crew to Big Spring for an engagement with Cosden's Oilers.

The Forsan nine suffered defeat only once in nine starts during the first two rounds of play.

Elsewhere, the Howard County Junior college Jayhawks will visit Knott. The Hawks hold the distinction of administering Forsan's only defeat in league play this season.

Coahoma will be at home this afternoon to entertain Ackerly in the other Tri-County league match.

The third round schedule continues through July 24. Playoffs will begin immediately after the regular season's schedule is completed.

C-C Golfers Begin Tourney

Big Spring Country Club golfers begin qualifying today for their annual Independence Day tournament.

All qualifying rounds are due to be completed by Saturday to clear the decks for two complete days of tournament play on July 3 and 4.

Semi-final and final matches in all flights will be reeled off on July 4.

J. R. Farmer is the defending champion.

Better Self Makes Late Drive To Win

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—King Ranch's Better Self drove home in the final strides today to nip William Helis' Rippey at the wire and win the $25,000 added Carter Handicap at Jamaica.

Ridden by Jockey Dave Gorman, Better Self, the Texas horse, ran the seven furlongs in 1.25⅘. The winner paid $5.60, $2.90 and $2.50 for $2.

The Mojave Desert in southeastern California is an area of about 15,000 square miles.

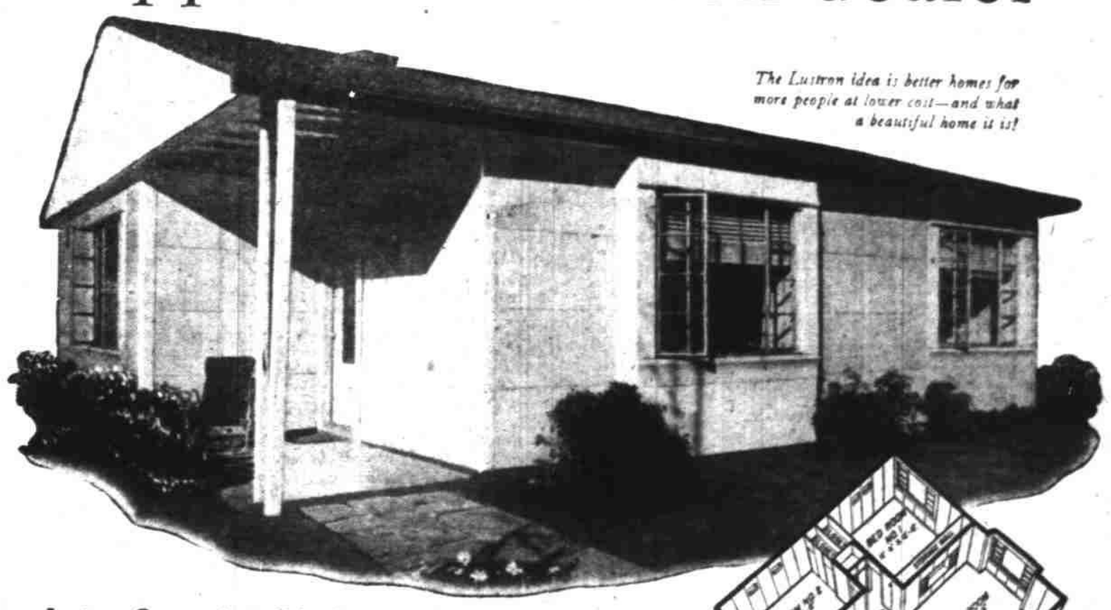
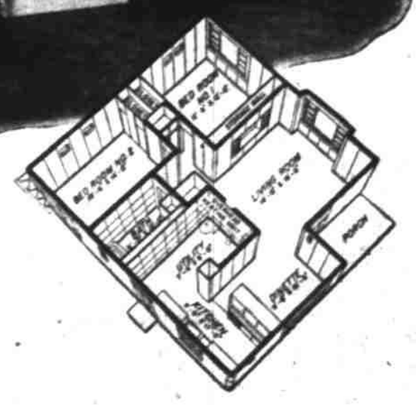
appointed Lustron dealer



The Lustron idea is better homes for more people at lower cost—and what a beautiful home it is!



Lustron Corporation, Columbus, Ohio, is pleased to announce the appointment of a new builder-dealer for this city and vicinity

Here's the good news so many of you have been waiting to hear.

There is now a Lustron builder-dealer in this community. Carefully selected from a number of applicants on the basis of knowledge of local construction and real estate conditions, this firm will be responsible for the sale, erection, arranging for financing and servicing of Lustron Homes here.

This announcement means that you will soon be able to see and inspect the Lustron Home—"the new standard for living" you have heard so much about.

This is the new idea in homes—the house with the strength of steel and the lifetime beauty of porcelain enamel. Here is more in living space, more in convenience and more in real value received than has ever been offered in home construction.

Watch for the announcement of the opening of the Lustron demonstration home here. Meantime, for more information, call or write:

Ramos Drops First As Colts Win, 5-1

Bronc Ace Is Belted From Mound In 7th

SAN ANGELO, June 25—Lefty Shelton extended his San Angelo jinx over the Big Spring Broncs here Saturday night as the Colts walloped the Big Spring Broncs, 5-1, and handed Julio Ramos his first set-back of the season.

Shelton's forkhanded tosses were a real mystery to all of the Broncs, except Pat Stasey, Carlos Pascual, Bert Baez and Bert Hernandez. The remainder of the Big Springers had to be content with goose eggs.

Stasey led the mild Big Spring attack with two singles in four trips.

The Colts were blanked for five innings, but they broke loose in the sixth for two runs and then came back for two more in the seventh.

Ramos departed at that stage in favor of Gumbo Helba who was nicked for another run in the eighth.

Miles Smithhart had a big night at the plate for the Colts, hitting safely three times to lead all hitters. Shortstop Wayne Wallace belted a three-bagger and drove in two of the Colt runs.

Big Spring concludes its three-game series here today. The Broncs move to Ballinger tomorrow where they are scheduled for a two-day stand with the Cats.

Texas Longhorns Are NCAA Champs

WICHITA, Kas., June 25 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns laid down an 18-hit attack against three Wake Forest pitchers to win the National Collegiate Athletic Association baseball championship by a 10 to 3 score tonight.

Murray Wall, who pitched the first 4 and 2-3 innings for Texas, received credit for the victory, his second of the series.

Midland Youth Wins Skeet Shoot

LORDSHIP, Conn., June 25. (AP)—Two bright-eyed youngsters from Texas locked horns Saturday in the Great Eastern Junior Skeet Championship and when the smoke of their shotguns cleared away George Glass, Jr., of Midland, nosed out the defending champion, Barney Hilburn, Jr., of Dallas, with a score of 98.

Another Texas lad upheld the shooting reputation of his delegation by winning the sub-junior championship in a sparkling shoot-off. Jack Roge, of Palestine broke 92 to tie with Bobby Marzik of Stratford.

At the halfway mark in the 150 target race for the great eastern individual skeet championship, which will be completed Sunday, fourteen gunners turned in perfect scores.

They included: Mrs. Janice Mason, of Dallas, Friday's winner of the ladies 20 gauge championship, and Leo Silvey, Overton, Tex.

Phils Choke Rally To Edge Reds, 6-5

CINCINNATI, June 25. (AP)—Robin Roberts choked off a ninth inning Cincinnati rally Saturday to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 victory over the Reds before a crowd of 5,681. Roberts took over from Ken Heintzelman with one after Danny Litwhiler's three-run homer had brought the Reds with in one run of deadlocking the game. Del Ennis and Stan Lopata hit successive homers for the Phillies in the eighth.

Negro Leader Says Race Should Attend Demo Party Dinner

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 25. (AP)—A Negro leader argued Saturday his race should be allowed to attend a Democratic Party dinner here July 1. Vice President Alben Barkley will be chief speaker.

John H. McCray, chairman of the South Carolina Progressive (Negro) Democratic Party, said, "The question of segregation does not apply."

Suggs Decisions Betty For Title

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 25. (AP)—Louise Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., defeated Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., 3-4 to win the Women's Western Open golf championship here Saturday.

The victory was the first professional triumph for the little Georgia star. It also gave her her third western title to share honors with Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Patty Berg, also three-time winners of the event.

A gallery of 2,500 saw Miss Suggs shoot steady golf, sometimes reaching the sensational wifty long putts.

She closed out the match on the 32nd hole with a concede birdie four after Miss Jameson's second shot went into a ditch.

Coaltown Is Defeated For First Time This Year In Major Upset

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP)—Star Reward a 11 to 1 shot in the Wagering, registered a smashing upset today in the $27,800 Equipoise mile at Arlington Park by defeating Coaltown, beaten for the first time this year after eight consecutive victories.

Coaltown, weighed down with top impost of 132 pounds, snatched the lead for only the briefest moments in the stretch when he sailed past the pace-setting Carrara Marble and With Pleasure.

But in that fleeting moment Star Reward ridden by Bobby Baird charged up from fourth place on the outside and conquered Coaltown to the acclaim of 24,822 fans. His margin of victory was three lengths.

Star Reward, owned by Charles T. Fisher, Detroit auto mobile body builder, ran the mile in 1:35 flat, three-fifths of a second off the record established by the memorable Equipoise at Arlington in 1932.

Coaltown, with Free America as a running mate, went to the post at odds of 1 to 5, and paid $2.20 to place. Star Reward returned $24.00 and $4.20. There was no show betting.

Coaltown, the Calumet Farm's pride and joy ridden by Steve Brooks, appeared a certain winner as the band of eight handicap stars straightened out for the stretch run; but Star Reward, laying off the sizzling early pace set by With Pleasure and Carrara Marble, came roaring down the outside, caught Coaltown at the eighth pole, and won going away. In third place, two lengths in back of the Calumet star, came Helen S. Rineman's Carrara Marble which recently set a new track record for six furlongs.

Perez, Stasey Pace Cayuses To 3-1 Victory

SAN ANGELO, June 25.— Big Pancho Perez and Pat Stasey assumed prominent roles here Friday night in a 3-1 victory for the Big Spring Bronco over the San Angelo Colts.

Perez tossed a six-hitter at the Colts. He was stingy all the way, and especially so when the Colts generated any type of threat.

Stasey, who found the lefthanded slants of Jim Baker to his liking, drove out two singles and a double in three official trips and scored two runs.

The Colts' lone score came in the second inning when Ken Cluley lofted a homer with the sacks empty.

Baker who suffered his fifth reversal of the season might have fared better had Stasey not faced him. The Colt southpaw allowed only four hits for other members of the Bronc lineup and he struck out 10 batters during the eight innings he toiled.

It was the third victory in as many starts for Perez. He got in a bit of a jam in the eighth but personally initiated a doubleplay to prevent a Colt rally.

Hometown Edged Out Of Tourney

MARSHALL, June 25. (AP)—The hometown was edged out of the semifinals of the Marshall invitational golf tournament Saturday.

But one Marshall contender, Douglas Jackson, shot a hole in one.

Quarter-finals winners were from Shreveport, La., Tulsa, Okla., Longview and Greggton, Tex.

Jamie Gough of Shreveport beat Leon Taylor of Tyler, 3 and 2.

Tulsa's John Garrison eliminated Grady Prim, Sulphur Springs, Tex., 1-up.

Buster Cupit of Greggton downed Gilbert Pollard of Longview, 3 and 2.

Earl Stewart, Jr., of Longview, rounded out the semi-final contenders by dropping Newton Burnett of Shreveport, 1-up.

Roden, Cherry Meet In Finals

ODESSA, June 25 (AP)—Medalist Dick Martin of Dallas bowed out of the Odessa Country Club Invitation Golf tournament today as the finals shaped up into a hometown affair.

Bill Roden of Odessa will meet Don Cherry of Odessa in the 36 hole finals of the 10th annual event tomorrow. Roden is defending champion.

Cherry took out Martin 1-up in 19 holes and beat Mac Boring of Odessa 2 and 1 in matches today.

Roden advanced 4 and 3 over W. H. Hightower and 1-up over Bill Maxwell. Both losers are from Odessa.

'Shooting' Option Taken In Martin

Forest Oil corporation has taken a six months seismograph "shooting" option on a solid block of approximately 17,700 acres in northwest Martin county.

The acreage is all in the Briscoe County School Land survey, and covers the ranch of F. D. Breedlove of Midland.

Under the terms of the option Forest has the right to lease not less than 2,000 acres of the block at the end of the six months option. The concern can lease all or any part of the property above the minimum of 2,000 acres.

Central Midland Test Remains Shut Down

York & Harper, Inc., was still shutdown, fishing for drillpipe, with its No. 1 TXL, wildcat projected to 13,800 feet in Central Midland county, 12 and one-half miles south of the City of Midland.

Total depth was 4,430' feet in lime. When fish is recovered, more hole is to be made.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 25, block 39, T-3-S, TP survey.

GOOD PAY DEEPENED

Northern Howard Test To Start

Drilling is scheduled to begin this week on the C. L. Norsworthy, Jr. (Dallas) No. 1 Mary T. Christian, north-central Howard wildcat.

A deepening operation of the venture carried to 4,165 feet by Santa Fe Petroleum Corp. in 1945, the exploration is scheduled for 8,500 feet. Some sources think it might go to 10,000 feet unless oil is encountered at a higher zone. Located 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 48-32-2n, T&P, the test is reported in the center of an extensive seismograph high. Lease and royalty play has been extremely active within a two mile radius recently.

Further exploration of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian in the area of the recently opened Good field in South-Central Borden county has shown more pay section for Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and Pan American Production company No. 3 Good, outpost to the Canyon discovery well of the field.

A one-hour drillstem test at 8,007-8,046 feet showed gas in three minutes, mud in 10 minutes and oil in 11 minutes. Flowing to tanks 49 minutes, the well made 17.88 barrels of oil and bled off 11.08 barrels of oil for a total of 28.96 barrels.

The prospector cored ahead from the test to 8,066 feet, recovering 19½ feet of white porous lime, bleeding oil throughout and with good stain and odor. Preparations were being made to cut another core.

This exploration, located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey, entered the Canyon 77 feet high to the discovery well. It is scheduled to core the entire pay section before attempting completion.

Seaboard and Pan American were preparing to complete their No. 2 Good as the second producer in the pool. It is located at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey.

Total depth was 8,005 feet. Production has been indicated on cores. On last report, flow line was being hooked up to start testing.

Sinclair-Prairie announced two outpost locations to its discovery No. 1 Sterling Williams in northwest Borden county. No. 1 W. Reynolds will be in the center of the southeast quarter of section 33-32-6n, EL&RR. It is projected for 10,000 feet. Location is one and a half miles north and slightly west of the No. 1 Williams. No. 1 Mrs. J. Pratt will be in the center of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 44-32-6n, EL&RR. It is one mile west and slightly south of the discovery. This venture, like the other is to be to 10,000 and start at once.

Seaboard No. 1 Jerry Clayton 662.5 feet from the east and 660.3 feet from the south lines of th southwest quarter of section 47-32-4n, T&P, drilled to 5,050 feet in lime and shale. It is six miles northeast of Vealmoor production and five miles east of the Good pool.

Seaboard No. 1-A Mildred Jones, 660 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of the northwest quarter of section 32-33-3n, T&P, was at 4,152 feet in lime. It spotted two sacks to regain lost circulation and prepared to drill out cement.

Seaboard No. 6 Zant, 660 feet from the south and east quarters of the southwest quarter of section 28-32-3n, T&P, was below 3,745 feet in lime.

In the Coleman Ranch pool of northwest Mitchell county, Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 Coleman, 330 feet from the north and west lines of section 69-97, H&TC, was completed for 70 barrels at a total depth of 2,807 feet.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Strawn Strike Is Completed In Runnels, Andrews Pay Widened

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, June 25—Completion of a Strawn strike in northwestern Runnels county, the discovery Clear Fork well in the Dollarhide multiple-pay field in Andrews county and a one-mile northwest extension to Silurian production in the Benedum multiple-pay field in Upton county topped West Texas oil developments this week.

Humble No. 1 Sallie Odom and others, the Runnels discovery, flowed naturally 319.52 barrels of 42.3 gravity, pipeline oil in 24 hours for completion. It was gauged through a quarter inch choke and perforations at 5,434-54 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1,153-1. The well is in the east corner of Felix Sosa survey, 302, six miles southeast of Blackwell.

Cities Service No. 1-E Cowden, which earlier extended Devonian pay in the Dollarhide field in Andrews county one mile north, rated 492.25 barrels of 38.9 gravity, pipeline oil from the Clear Fork, fourth pay for the area. It flowed through a 20-64 inch choke and perforations at 6,545-6,650 feet after acidizing. The well then flowed 292 barrels of oil in 24 hours from the Devonian through perforations at 7,755-7,800 feet for dual completion. It is in the C SE SW 14-A-52-psl.

Republic Natural Gas Co. No. 1-E Barnett, C SW NW 5-Y-GC&SF, effected the mile northwest extension to production from the Fusselman section of the Silurian in the Benedum field in Upton county. It flowed 223 barrels of 60 gravity distillate in 24 hours through a ¾-inch choke from open hole at 11,305-385 feet, which had been acidized.

Credited unofficially with having swabbed 100 barrels of oil in 10 hours from acidized Ellenburger at 8,400-60 feet, Superior and Intex No. 1 R. H. Jordan, northwestern Scurry county wildcat, shutdown for outcome of a suit by Stanolind tried at Snyder. Intex bought the lease at auction when Richfield disposed of its Permian Basin holdings. Superior acquired the grounds the lease lapsed began interest and Stanolind sued on fore drilling started.

No. 1 Jordan is in section 597-97-H&TC, three miles northwest of Fluvanna and 10 miles southeast of the nearest Ellenburger production in the Dermott pool.

The bid by Bob Hope and Bing Crosby with W. A. Moncrief, Sr., of Fort Worth for Scurry county production failed when their No. 1 Dewey Moore was abandoned dry in the Ellenburger at 7,978 feet. The wildcat was in lot 58, section 38, Kirkland & Fields survey, two miles north of the Kelly pool.

Drillstem Test Due On Fisher Wildcat

Drillstem test was being taken in the southwest Fisher county Ellenburger at Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation No. 1-A Leeper, wildcat nine miles southwest of Roby.

Total depth was 6,850 feet. Point at which packer was set for the examination is approximately 6,804 feet. As yet, no shows have been developed from the formation.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 186, block 3, H&TC survey.

Ellenburger Is Target For Test In Pecos County

MIDLAND, June 25—Rigo Petroleum corporation of New York burger in East Pecos county.

City will start immediately on its No. 1 Monroe to be a 9,000 foot wildcat to test into the Ellen-

The prospector will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the west quarter of section 40, block 1, I&GN survey. That will put it four miles north of Sheffield.

It is on a solid block of approximately 9,000 acres, which was originally owned by Forest Oil corporation and Southern Minerals corporation.

Those concerns turned a checkerboarded spread of half of the acreage to E. R. Rice of Los Angeles and Midland, for an Ellenburger exploration.

Rice made a deal with Rigo to drill the wildcat in return for a part of the leases he had secured from Forest and Southern Minerals. Rice retains considerable acreage in the block.

Cable tools will be used to dig the project to about 2,400 feet to test through the Grayburg lime of the upper Permain. That zone showed possibilities of production about ten years ago in a shallow dry hole which was located about one half mile east of the Rigo No. 1 Monroe location.

The block surrounding the drillsite of the new deep wildcat has been worked with seismograph and geologists who have studied the survey say it indicates a large deep structure.

Cutbacks Eating Into State Funds

By The Associated Press

Seven consecutive cutbacks in Texas crude oil production are eating deeper and deeper into the state's income.

Austin officials, following the July-August cutback order, estimated tax losses now amount to $30 million annually.

May's oil tax income was $2,200,000 below December. In December the state's crude production allowable totaled 2,717,000 barrels daily. The July-August allowable is 1,871,000.

Meanwhile, United States production has dropped to a daily average of 4,867,650 barrels, compared to 5,492,350 a year ago.

A 10 per cent cutback in Louisiana accounts for the latest decline. The state's daily average fell 11,100 barrels the week ending June 18.

Congress Looks To Oil Matters

HOUSTON, June 25. (AP) — Oil matters have had a comparatively quiet year in Washington but activity picked up a bit this week.

The 80th Congress in 1948 held a series of oil and gas investigations that kept things lively even though industry legislative problems moved slowly.

Investigations have been missing so far this year. Pending bills have made little progress.

Both Congress and the Supreme Court took action this week. And House Speaker Sam Rayburn quietly continued to get state and federal officials together on settlement of the now ageing tidelands ownership controversy.

Most of the activity, however centered on natural gas. House and Senate committees approved legislation designed to prohibit Federal Power Commission control over independent producers and gatherers of natural gas.

Sponsors of the bills promised to continue to press for passage although the Supreme Court on Monday, in effect, ruled that FPC has no jurisdiction over gas production and gathering.

The court also upheld a Mississippi state tax on out-of-state oil or gas pipeline companies. A two per cent levy on pipeline gross receipts on Mississippi business had been challenged by interstate oil pipeline companies.

FPC attorneys reportedly maintain the new decision does not affect the latter ruling but merely holds that the commission cannot control disposal of leases.

Some producers interpret the court's ruling as meaning there no longer is a necessity for legislation. Others think the ruling needs interpretation from the court itself.

Negro Lad Held In Rape Attempt

RAYVILLE, La., June 25. (AP) — Chief Deputy Sheriff V. E. Hixon said Saturday a 15-year-old Negro youth is being held in connection with an attempt to rape a 40-year-old white woman.

Hixon said the attempt occurred late Thursday when the woman was lured into a corn field ten miles south of here.

The boy, clad in a dress and with a dirty rag tied about his head, accosted the woman who fled, Hixon said. She was not harmed, Hixon added.

The woman obtained a shotgun from her home and fired once at the Negro who was barely visible in the corn, she missed.

The youth was captured six hours later after a posse of 50 men and three trace hounds trailed him through several miles of swampy land.

No formal charges have been filed.

CANYON SPREADS

Southwest Scurry Gets Extensions

One location south extension to Diamond M field of West Central Scurry county has been completed at Hiawatha Oil & Gas company No. 2 L. M. Wilson, 660 feet from west and south lines of the lease in section 183, block 97, H&TC survey.

Flowing 24 hours through a ¾-inch choke, the well made a potential of 792.07 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio 1,160-1.

Production was natural with no water through perforations at 6,787-6,799 feet in seven-inch casing set on bottom at 6,800 feet in the Canyon Pennsylvania pay.

Logging 193 feet of pay in the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian, Lion Oil company was running casing to complete its No. 1 Marchbanks, outpost to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon pool of southwest Scurry county.

This exploration topped the reef at 6,554 feet, on an elevation of 2,313 feet, making it 108 feet high to the discovery well of the pool.

Pay was logged all the way to 6,693 feet, total depth. Pipe was being set on that depth. As yet, no tests have been taken.

Location is 1,914 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 164, block 97, H&TC survey.

Canyon production has come in for The Pure Oil company No. 1 Adams, exploration on the south end of the north Snyder field in north-central Scurry county, two miles south of the original north Snyder pool, and the concern has staked a new project in the area.

After topping the reef at 6,512 feet, on elevation 2,496 feet, No. 1 Adams drillstem tested for four hours and 15 minutes at 6,516-6,587. Gas reached the top in eight minutes and oil in two hours and 35 minutes.

The well flowed one hour at the rate of 13.7 barrels of oil per hour. No water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 976-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 41.4 degrees.

Pulling drillpipe recovered 88 barrels of oil. The venture was drilling ahead from 6,640 feet in lime.

It is 665 feet from south and east lines of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey.

Pure made location for its No. 2 Adams as 665 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of the southeast quarter of section 383, block 97, H & TC survey.

With rotary tools, drilling is to be started by June 30. Projected depth is 7,000 feet to attempt Canyon production.

Thomas W. Doswell, et al, of Dallas are starting immediately on a 7,200-foot, rotary tool wildcat in Southwest Scurry county as their No. 1 C. W. Addison, et al.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey, which puts it approximately 15 miles southwest of Snyder.

It will be one mile west of the discovery well of the Sharon Ridge Canyon field. Production will be attempted in the Canyon for an extension to the pool.

More hole was being made in search of the Canyon reef at Lipscomb & Delange No. 1 A. L. Wren et al, outpost to the south end of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county.

Last report had the venture below 6,568 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

It is 467 feet from north and east lines of tract 11, section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Northern Mitchell Has Water On Test

Water resulted from a drillstem test of the Clear Fork-Permian at Humble No. 1 Crabtree, Ellenburger wildcat in northwest Mitchell county, 12 miles northwest of Colorado City and 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 2, block 26, H&TC survey.

The tool was open one hour at 3,085-3,300 feet, showing a good air blow throughout the test and recovering 490 feet of muddy sulphur water plus 140 feet of sulphur water.

The prospector was making new hole under 3,502 feet in lime.

Recruiting Unit To Tour West Texas

A mobile recruiting unit from the Big Spring Army and Air Force Recruiting station will tour the West Texas area during July, it has been announced by Capt. Harold Sandford, station commander.

The unit will visit 19 cities and towns and travel more than 1,300 miles.

Lt. O. E. Alton and Sgt. Thomas Bunch from the local office and Sgt. Andrew Martin from the San Angelo recruiting office will be in charge of the tour.

South Benedum Indicates Well In Ellenburger

Warren Wright and Lewis T. Lohman No. 1 C. W. Chancellor, on the southwest side of the Benedum field in east-central Upton county has shown for production from the Ellenburger and is to completed from that horizon.

The project is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of the east half of section 5, A. W. Daugherty survey.

It topped the Ellenburger at 11,400 feet, on an elevation of 2,654 feet. Operators calculate that it will have 290 feet of pay in the deep zone above the water zone.

It drilled to 11,450 feet and took a 45-minute drillstem test with the packer at 11,385 feet. A 2,700-foot water blanket was used.

The water blanket started flowing out in 20 minutes. At the end of 45 minutes the drill pipe was spraying distillate, and the tool was closed at that time.

Operators were pulling the testing tool at last report. They plan to drill 75 feet deeper into the pay and then run casing and complete the well.

This project showed possibilities of producing from the Fusselman section of the Silurian a few days ago, when it recover some clean oil on a drillstem test in that formation.

Water Is Returned In Coke Exploration

A Pennsylvanian lime formation, thought to be either basal Canyon or top of the Strawn, yielded water for Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Brunson, wildcat two miles southeast of the Bronte pool in east-central Coke county, which produces from the Palo Pinto section of the Pennsylvanian.

The show was on a 40-minute drillstem test at 4,900-4,988 feet. Recovery was 540 feet of drilling mud and 4,010 feet of salty sulphur water. Drilling was continuing from 5,041 feet in lime.

Location is 2,019 feet northeast and 700 feet west of the southeast corner of N. Eastland survey, section 331.

Memo to Plymouth Salesmen

Bring on your value-wise buyers!

You've got the car that likes to be compared!

Conditions are changing in the automobile business. Your prospective customers are now buying on the basis of value . . . selecting the car they want . . . getting the most automobile in return for the dollars they put out.

This is a Plymouth salesman's meat! You're selling a great new value car that welcomes comparison to—and competition with—any automobile selling at anything like the same price—or even hundreds of dollars more!

Among the three leading low-priced cars, you have the car with the longest wheelbase—for greater riding comfort. You have the engine with the highest compression ratio—for greater performance and economy. In fact, of 22 quality features found in the highest priced cars, your Plymouth has 21—competitor "A" has 13—competitor "B" has only 4!

Plymouth's engineering advantages assert themselves on the road. That's why—with complete confidence—you can ask anyone to drive all three of the leading low-priced cars. Put it up to the new car buyers—and let the ride decide!

NEW PLYMOUTH

PLYMOUTH Division of CHRYSLER CORPORATION, Detroit 31, Michigan

The fact that our "well-to-do" customers come back for NORTHCOOL every summer is a good reason for you to see famous NORTHCOOL. What you do see will convince you thoroughly that NORTHCOOL is your very best buy . . . for coolness, for comfort . . . for shape holding, press retaining, wrinkle resistant quality . . . for pattern and color beauty as cheerfully refreshing as summer itself. Look for the GENUINE NORTHCOOL trademark stamped inside the coat.

73-Year-Old Romeo Tells How He Swindled Women

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP) — Sigmund Z. Engel, 73-year-old Romeo told Saturday how hearts and flowers provided him with a million-dollar business swindling women.

Engel, known to police as a confidence man for 50 years, was seized Friday in a widow-baited police trap on complaint of another widow.

The small, dapper Lothario is charged with milking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old mother of three grown children, of $8,700 after promising to marry her.

He was caught because Mrs. Genevieve C. Parro, 55, thought his fast courting unusual and his face a dead ringer for newspaper photographs of the swindler sought in the Corrigan case.

Mrs. Parro allowed Engel to spend $70 on her for champagne and a night club floor show. Then, she led him into the luggage shop where he was arrested.

Saturday, Engel talked fast, both for police and reporters.

"I took women for millions of dollars," he said. "Maybe five or six million. But they wee trying to take me, too, you know."

Engel, poised and suave, insisted, however, that he has never done anything really wrong. Someone told him that women in New York, Los Angeles, and San Francisco have complained that he married them under various names, then walked off with their money, and valuables.

"I am sure that must have been my twin brother," he mused. "Only an expert can tell us apart."

He owned up to his romances with Mrs. Corrigan and Mrs. Parro, however, and added that many women had given him money. But the suggestion that he had married some 50 women! "Why, not even King Solomon could do that—and he was a pretty good man."

Engel had made up with Mrs. Corrigan Saturday after paying her $400 "on account." He admitted taking only $5,000 from the widow.

"I feel sorry for him," his red-haired victim said Saturday. "But I wouldn't marry him." Mrs. Corrigan's 17-year-old daughter, Orpha Annette, obligingly shopped for Engel Saturday, buying fresh fruit for him with a two-dollar bill he supplied.

He munched an apple contentedly and predicted that his troubles with the authorities will all blow over.

"Women are my career," he declared. "I've got women mania—womania. Maybe scientists will learn 20 years from now that's a disease.

"I've taken a lot of money from women. There's nothing to it. You ask a woman for money, and, naturally, she's going to give it to you."

He said roses were an important prop in his romantic routine.

"Every woman likes roses. I supplied plenty. And a woman loves any man who pretends to be, or is, a gentleman. I am a gentleman. I've drawn upon my store of poetry and philosophy.

"No I've never read Byron to women. Byron is dead. They don't like dead things. They like the things that are alive."

One of his rapt listeners observed that he looked too old to be a successful lover.

He looked hurt. "Wonderful tunes can be played on an old violin," he chided.

Superhighway To California Urged

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., June 25. (AP)—Construction of a four-lane superhighway from Jacksonville, Fla., to Los Angeles was urged at a meeting of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Safeway Association here today.

The project was urged by State Rep. Reece O. Bickerstaff of Gulfport, Miss., who expressed belief the federal government would look favorably on it as a national security measure.

Bickerstaff is chairman of the Mississippi legislature's state highway committee.

States covered by the proposed route included Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Oil Worker Killed

WICHITA FALLS, June 25. (AP) — B. L. Pinson became entangled in a spinning cathead line while working on an oil well six miles west of Archer City Saturday and was killed. Witnesses said the line wrapped around the 25-year-old oil field worker's body several times.

Rail Strikers Get Ultimatum

BERLIN, June 25. (AP)—The western commanders Saturday night ordered 14,000 Berlin rail strikers to go back to work.

They said the strikers would receive 100 per cent of their wages in West marks, their No. 1 demand, and said they would be cut off the rolls for unemployment compensation if they did not pick up their tools by next Tuesday.

Mayor Ernst Reuter said the strike "probably will be settled" on the basis of the western commanders' plan drafted Saturday night at a stormy meeting. The non-Communist strikers, who walked out 35 days ago causing what amounted to a second blockade of the city, called a meeting for Sunday morning, to be followed by a session of the union's executive board.

Blaming the strike for paralyzing Berlin's economic life, the commandants said the high direct cost to the city in unemployment relief for railwaymen was 379,000 West marks ($109,100) a week.

Truck Kills Fireman

AMARILLO, June 25. (AP) —Frank Tigart, 50, Amarillo fireman for 27 years, was struck by a truck and killed Saturday as he crossed a street. Leon Taylor, 22, of Clarendon, the truck driver, was accused of negligent homicide.

Tyler Woman Hurt

CORSICANA, June 25. (AP) —Mrs. Tim Cleary of Tyler was injured about noon Saturda, in a two-car collision on Highway 31 in East Corsicana. Hospital attendants said she was cut above the right eye. Mrs. Cleary had been visiting here and was returning to Tyler.

Hostesses To ABC Conclave

When the National American Club Convention gets underway this afternoon, members of the local XYZ Club will be on hand to do their share in giving the visiting delegates a real Texas welcome.

UPPER LEFT—Wives of the delegates will be honored at a breakfast to be held Wednesday morning. This event will be followed by a tour of interest points in Big Spring. Responsible for the breakfast plans are: (left to right) Mrs. Elvis McCrary, Mrs. Charlie Staggs, committee chairman, Mrs. J. D. Jones and Mrs. Tommie Hutto.

UPPER RIGHT—Transportation for the visiting women will be provided by: (left to right) Mrs. C. O. Nalley, committee chairman, Mrs. Horace Garrett and Mrs. Ted Phillips.

For weeks, members of the local XYZ Club have held special meetings to have preparations for their share in entertaining the National American Business Club Convention which begins here today and will continue through Wednesday night.

Mildred Jarrett, XYZ President, is in charge of all activities for the visiting women and is being assisted by some very able chairman. XYZ members will assist with the registration today and will be hostesses for a reception to be held in the Settles Hotel Ballroom at 7 p. m.

Monday's entertainment will consist of an 11:30 o'clock luncheon, which will be followed by a theatre party.

Tuesday, there will be a tea at the country club from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Wednesday's special activities will include a 9:30 o'clock breakfast and a tour of Big Spring.

Entertaining a national convention is a tremendous task and one which has required a great deal of special planning. Congratulations seem in order for both the ABC and XYZ Clubs of Big Spring.

Big Spring Sun Worshippers Should Take Care Not To Bake Too Well

MATHIS

Mathis Studio introduces Douglas Orme, Vice-President of Cosden Petroleum, President of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, and Governor of District 6 of the American Business Club.

For Better Portraits — It's Mathis

Big Springers interested in getting that super summer tan, have had a golden brown opportunity this week as temperatures have climbed and, at least, most of the rain has drifted away.

Many people think that there's no better place to spend a hot summer day than beside the sea or lake. Our city's residents have been taking their share of sea breezes at the local swimming pool and enjoying their share of the sunshine with a great deal of pleasure, in spite of many blisters.

Not only is the sunshine pleasant, but most people have cultivated the idea that it is also healthful. A certain amount has its place but for those who believe in two-hour sun baths daily, most medical people are attempting to "debunk the bunk" about the healthfulness of consistent exposure to the sun. Most of them say that if you're planning to spend the weekend baking in you back yard you'll be better off dozing in the living room or nibbling popcorn in a movie.

A famous doctor has declared that the popular belief that sunlight is a great source of health is 90 per cent hooey.

It's a myth linked with the fact that sunshine is good for plants. Through a process called photosynthesis, plants chemically hange energy from the sun's rays into energy for growth. It's a fine thing if you're a plant, but not so good otherwise. Man has no such chemical tricks in him. For humans, the sun's rays can be more destructive than beneficial.

Sunshine except in excess amounts, is OK for the kids. They are growing, changi..g, on-the-way up organisms.

But grownups, bad as it may sound, are on-the-way-down creatures anyway and can hurry aging and disease processes by inviting a sunburn.

Scientists see to be pretty well agreed that exposure to the sun is a chief cause of skin cancer and precancerous skin growths. Reports show that sunny states have especially high rates of skin can-

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Some one has come out with another bit of theory concerning the idea that "we are what we eat." Dr. Royal Lee of the Lee Foundation for Nutritional Research in Milwaukee, Wis., says that many Americans die unexpectly because of lack of body repair foods in their diet.

"Most fuel-supplying foods like cereal and flour and sugar products on the market today have been depleted of vitamins B, vitamin C and minerals vital to the rebuilding of body tissue and muscle," says Lee.

"This fact is largely responsible for the sudden deaths of business men and others who die of heart disease which has not been detected. It is usually in case of the degeneration of heart muscles caused by a lack of natural body repair," declares Lee.

He said research at the Lee Foundation had proved too many foods are pre-cooked a high temperatures or over-cooked in the home. This, he claimed, destroyed the food's vitamin powers.

BIG SPRING

cer. About nine tenths of all skin cancer appear on the face—which catches more of the sun's rays than any other part of the body.

Most local sun worshipers can remember painful burns, blistering, itching, loss of energy, the unsightly peeling off in patches perhaps days after over-exposure to the sun.

Medical scientists say that the sun's rays can injure sensitive nerve endings which lie just beneath the skin. Damaged nerve endings may lead to a variety of blood vessel and skin diseases. Sun rays can dissolve red blood corpuscles, thus freeing certain chemicals into the body, which can be harmful.

It is said that sun bathing is especially dangerous for folks with high blood pressure, heart disease or a shaky nervous system.

Another argument against too much sunshine says that repeated exposure to sun prompts Nature to produce a pigment under the skin, a substance which acts to protect against sunburn.

As the pigment increases, the skin gradually tends to grow thick, tough, leathery—just the right texture for showing up wrinkles.

As for the itamin D, which we hear the sun contains, reports say it is rare indeed that the normal diet does not include all that is needed for health.

District Eight Girls Encampment Breaks All-Time Attendance Record

Breaking an all-time attendance record, the eighth district Girls Auxiliary encampment held closing services at noon Friday at the Baptist encampment grounds.

A similar organization composed of boys will arrive in the city Tuesday morning to conduct a like council of Royal Ambassadors. The RA's will use "Building Men," as their camp theme.

There were 499 registrants and approximately 525 persons on the grounds at all times. Girls arrived from ten counties within the district including Mitchell, Scurry, Midland, Glasscock, Ector, Lamesa, Gaines, Andrews, Yoakum and Howard.

Mrs. E. L. Powell of Midland served as general camp director and the Rev. F. K. Sheppard acted as camp pastor. Out of the 55 unsaved registrants, 27 conversions were acknowledged. There were 22 dedications for definite Christian service. This total also set a record as the usual number approximates six.

Six girls were crowned as queens at the coronation services at the camp Thursday evening. A queen is the highest rank a GA girl can obtain. It means that she has completed assigned scriptural memory work, Bible interpretation and is well informed on missionary facts. Girls receiving this honor were Carol Deane Morrison and Doris Wauson of Plains; Barbara Small, Loraine; Delores Stewart, Snyder; Mary Lynn Wisna of Roscoe and Ellie Sue Pitman of Denver City.

Approximately 10 years ago this auxiliary was formulated when a group of Woman's Missionary Union sponsors held house parties for junior girls and young women. Following this, the Royal Ambassadors was created for junior boys. The district camp operates on an annual budget of about $9,000, contributed by individual churches.

Executive staff members at the camp included Dr. H. Glenn Walker, D. C. Hamilton, Myrle Picken, Jo Kohn, Mrs. Mark Reeves, Mrs. James S. Parks, the Rev. J. W. Arnett, Mrs. David Crow, Mrs. E. R. Powell, Sarilyn Teaff, Mrs. M. Debnorn, Mrs. Relerce Jones, Mrs. Troy Harrell, Mrs. Fronis Jones, Mrs. Robert Donnell, Mrs. Bert Wilson, Sylvia Debenport, Mrs. L. B. Moss, Ruby Bruton and Mrs. Ennis Hill.

New cabins have been partially or completely erected at the encampment grounds by Baptist churches in the following cities: Colorado City, Loraine, Snyder, Calvary Baptist (in Midland), Klondike, Seagraves, First Baptist in Lamesa, and First and East Fourth Baptist churches in Big Spring, Garden City, Fullerton. Odessa doubled its space. Other improvements have been installed to make the encampment more habitable.

Local men who will assist in the RA encampment beginning Tuesday noon and concluding Friday noon are the Rev. I. William Arnett, district missionary; the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the Westside Baptist church; the Rev. Warren Stowe, Airport Baptist pastor; Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church and the Rev. L. B. Moss, pastor of the Northside Baptist church. Special speakers will include C. L. Culpepper, a former missionary to China, and the Rev. Gene Burrows, son of a missionary to India.

Jerre Bankson And J. D. Wysong Exchange Wedding Vows At Church

In a formal service at the First Presbyterian church, Jerre Bankson became the bride of J. D. Wysong of Lubbock Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bankson, 104 W. 8th. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. C. Bobo of Kermit.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor, performed the double ring service as the couple exchanged vows before an altar banked with woodwardia, huckleberry and palm. An archway of lighted cathedral tapers centered with a large arrangement of majestic daisies, white gladioli and palms formed the nuptial bower. The chancel rails were placed in a semi circle and surrounded by lighted tapers in graduated candelabra.

Mrs. L. G Talley, organist, played a medley of love songs prior to the ceremony. As the processional, she played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus", from Lohengrin. She played "Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the processional. Pattie Reynolds of Kermit served as soloist. She sang "O Promise Me," and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Talley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of white organdy, fashioned with a fitted bodice and deep square neckline. The neckline and puffed sleeves were trimmed with eyelet embroidery. The bouffant skirt featured insertions of eyelet embroidery. Her waist-length veil fell in graceful tiers from a full, gathered crown. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and red roses atop a white Bible. For the traditional something old, she carried a handkerchief belonging to her mother; something new, was her wedding ensemble: something borrowed, the Bible belonging to Dot Cauble and something blue was the marker in her Bible.

Dot Cauble served as maid of honor. Miss Cauble chose a dress of white organdy over blue, fashioned as the bride's. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue reed daisies.

Bridesmaids were Vivian Middleton and Clarice Terry. Miss Middleton wore white organdy over aqua and Miss Terry chose white over yellow. Their dresses were fashioned alike, with deep square neckline and tiered skirt. They carried arm bouquets of yellow and blue reed daisies.

Frances Cook and Lillian Tamsitt served as candlelighters. They wore identical dresses of white organdy over orchid.

Ben Frank Meek of Kermit was best man. Ushers were Joe Don Holcroft and Dewey Mitchell of Kermit and Howard Yates of Hobbs, N.M.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bobo, all of Kermit; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bankson, Jr. of Houston and Mrs. R. E. Lee of Shreveport, La.

MRS. J. D. WYSONG

A reception was held in the home of Mrs. Travis Reed, 711 Scurry, immediately following the ceremony.

Those in the reception line included the bride and bridegroom, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bankson, the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobo and the hostess, Mrs. Reed.

Mrs. Horace Garrett presided at the guest register. Others in the house party included Mrs. Howard Schwarzenbach and Mrs. Sonny Edwards.

The refreshment table was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of blue and yellow. The table was laid in a white organdy cloth, fashioned with fitted table top and full, gathered skirt. The centerpiece included an arrangement of blue and yellow reed daisies and greenery. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Coyle Carlton attended the punch service and Mrs. Dalton Mitchell cut the tiered wedding cake.

The bride is a 1948 graduate of Big Spring high school and attended Draughon's Business college in Lubbock. She was chosen school beauty at Lubbock. The bridegroom graduated from Kermit high school and attended Draughon's in Lubbock. He is now associated with the Art Craft Engraving Company in Lubbock.

For travelling, Mrs. Wysong chose a two-piece dress suit. The jacket was of white linen and the skirt brown plaid. She wore a white off-the-face hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2418 Walnut in Lubbock.

State Schools To Benefit From G-A

By The Associated Press

More money, more teachers—extended programs but tighter operations.

That's what the Gilmer-Aikin school laws, recently passed by the Texas Legislature, will mean to school systems over the state.

San Angelo schools will receive $293,380.36 more money annually in state assistance, and $40,000 more annually would go to rural schools in Tom Green County.

The teacher load would not be affected materially. The Gilmer-Aikin measures require one teacher for every 26 students. San Angelo already has one teacher for every 21 students.

The laws will bring an estimated net increase of $150,000 in state aid annually to Midland schools and Frank Monroe, superintendent, said 18 additional teachers will be employed.

To the spreading Houston school system, the measures will mean an annual state aid bonanza of between three and four million dollars and the ultimate addition of 400 teachers.

Here are some results of a statewide survey to determine the effects of the laws on education in Texas:

BIG SPRING— It is roughly estimated the annual school budget will be increased by about $100,000. Of this, about $40,000 will go for increased cost of teachers. Because the lack of building space and resultant half-day school sessions, Big Spring may have to finance some 10 teachers beyond the 103 white teachers the Gilmer-Aiken plans allows the city.

LUBBOCK— The school district may receive as much as $100,000 annually in additional state funds. And teaching standards will be higher—already Texas Technological College and West Texas State College have enrolled record numbers of teachers for graduate studies in the current summer term. For many veteran Lubbock teachers who have masters' degrees the new laws will mean pay increases of $800 to $1,000 a year. The pay scale probably will induce others to continue their studies.

BORGER— The number of classroom teachers will be raised from 156 to 170. "There is not a school in Hutchinson County that will not benefit," said Borger Supt. C. A. Cryer. Salaries of inexperienced teachers will be raised from $2,907 for a nine-month period to $2,403.

MIDLAND— The wage scale for teachers with bachelor degrees will range from $2,403 to $3,051 as compared to $2,110 to $2,750 last year. The scale for teachers with masters degrees will range from $2,628 to $4,032, depending on experience. Last year's rate was $2,250 to $2,850.

Pack 44 To Meet

Announcement is made that Pack 44 of the Cub Scouts will conduct its monthly pack meeting at the city park Monday evening at 7 p.m. All cub scouts and their families are invited to attend. There will be games and refreshments following the program. Awards will be presented those who have completed necessary training.

Heflin Installed As New President Of City Jaycees

Lewis Heflin was installed as new president of the junior chamber of commerce at ceremonies held at the Sheriff's Posse grounds Friday evening.

A barbecue dinner was served in connection with the installation of four new officers and a board of directors.

Heflin replaced John Stewart as head of the Jaycee organization. Other officers installed for the coming year were O. S. Womack, first vice president; Ray Rhodes, second vice president; and Rad Ware, secretary-treasurer.

Ware was reelected to his office, while Heflin was first vice president during the past year and W. L. Thompson was replaced as second vice president. Thompson was named to the board of directors for the new term.

"One of the first projects of the Jaycees for the coming year will be the formation of an auxiliary organization, the Jayceettes," the new president said. A meeting for that purpose is to be called for the first week in July.

Retired Engineer Will Be Honored Here On Saturday

Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and its auxiliary will pay tributes to R. A. Schwarzenbach, retired engineer Saturday.

The occasion will be presentation of a pin denoting 50 years membership in the B. of L.E. by Mr. Schwarzenbach. The banquet session has been set for 7:30 p. m. in the Settles ballroom, said Charles Vines, who will preside.

J. M. Dean, Fort Worth, general chairman for the B of L.E. units on the T. & P., has been invited to participate in the affair. C. B. Sullivan, local chief engineer, also will be in the program. W. T. Alexander, division superintendent and Mrs. Alexander have been invited to share in the affair.

Mr. Schwarzenbach has been resident of Big Spring since 1886. He retired several years ago after a long career at the throttle of T. & P. engines.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus Tells Disciples To Preach His Gospel

Scripture — Matt. 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:45-53 Acts 1:1-14; Hebrews 7:25.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

We all like to listen to a person whom we consider an authority on any subject. We go to hear a man who has the reputation of being able to give us a new philosophy of life which will bring us peace of mind.

We flock to see and hear a traveler from far parts who brings us pictures and descriptions of foreign lands, especially those not usually traveled by most tourists. We enjoy hearing of the, to us, strange customs of people who live in remote parts of the earth from one who has lived among them and become a so-called authority.

To His disciples and all who believe in Him, Jesus was the greatest authority that ever walked the earth. If He could come to us now, we would listen to Him as we would to no other—if we recognized Him, as many who saw and heard Him in His daily life on earth did not.

His disciples knew that He was an authority and they listened to Him, except that they never quite grapsed the fact that He would die on the cross and rise again. This they at last experienced.

In this lesson we learn of His eighth and tenth appearances to His friends before he left the earth. The ninth appearance—we have no record of it.

In our last lesson we had that remarkable appearance of the risen Lord on the beach of the Sea of Galilee, when the first question He asked His disciples was not religious in naturmerely the every day question: "Children, have ye any meat?"

Now He came to them, —the eleven—on a mountain or hill in Galilee—and they fell down and worshipped Him, although Matthew tells us that "some doubted."

"And Jesus came to them, and spake unto them, saying, all authority hath been given unto Me in heaven and on earth.

"Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit:

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

They had lost their Master, they thought, but here He was with them, telling them of the work they were to do for the rest of their lives. And not alone would they do it, for He would be with them —all their days, in sickness and health, on their weary journeys, in the towns where many might scoff at them, and even harm them. They would not fear, however, for He would be near them. What that must have meant to them!

The Lord's ascension closes the Book of Luke, and opens the Acts of the Apostles. This final appearance to His people after 40 days, probably was on the Mount of Olives. We are told that, "being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith He, ye have heard of Me.

"For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence."

We know that the Holy Spirit did descend upon them shortly after the Ascension, and they went forth to do the work commanded by Jesus—and pursued the same until the end of their lives.

They, however, still wanted Him to tell them when their kingdom would be restored on earth. Jesus answered, "It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father hath set within His own authority. But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Spirit is come upon you: and ye shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

St. Luke tells us that Jesus then "led them out as far as Bethany, and He lifted up His hands, and blessed them.

"And it came to pass, while He blessed them, He was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

"And they worshipped Him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy.

"And were continually in the temple praising and blessing God. Amen."

MEMORY VERSE

"Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations." Matthew 28:19.

Lustron Homes Dealership For Area Announced

Formation of the Strom-Talbott Development company as franchise holder and dealer for Lustron Homes for this area was announced Saturday.

F. H. (Friend) Talbott, William S. Talbott, and Carl Strom are members of the company.

The franchise, fifth to be granted in Texas, will comprise the area of Howard, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell, Sterling, Glasscock counties and Stanton in Martin county.

Operation of the dealership will be handled by Bill Talbott and Carl Strom. Talbott will supervise construction of the widely advertised Lustron home. Strom will direct office matters, together with sale and financing of the homes through FHA and conventional loan facilities. These will be processed through his office in connection with correspondent connections with Prudential Insurance Co. of America and Lincoln National Life Insurance company.

F. H. Talbott will serve on a consultant basis. He will continue his operations as a conventional home builder and cabinet maker.

The first new Lustron home will be built on the corner of Bluebonnet and State streets, and will be open for inspection within 30 days or less.

The Lustron home incorporates a number of revolutionary ideas in home construction. It is the product of extensive home engineering. Several national magazines have given big spreads to the residential units.

New Trial For Story Ordered

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—A conviction based solely on the testimony of an admitted accomplice is invalid, The Court of Criminal Appeals held today.

It ordered a new trial for Frew Story, who had been sentenced to five years in connection with the dynamiting of buses belonging to Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., in Lubbock County June 14, 1948.

An admitted accomplice turned state's evidence against Story in the original trial.

The appeals court held that no other witness had corroborated that evidence.

State law provides that "a conviction can not be had upon the testimony of an accomplice unless corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the offense committed."

Arrington Fined $25

J. T. Arrington was assessed a fine of $25 in county court Friday afternoon after he pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault.

Mrs. Claud Eppler and daughter, Martha, and Mrs. L. G. Malone and Frances, and Mrs. John Nutt and Vonna, have returned from a vacation trip to Denver and Colorado Spring, Colo. While on vacation, they were present for a personal appearance of Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra.

Wedding Vows Exchanged Saturday By Annabelle Dyer And C. L. Cook

The Matthews Memorial church in Fort Worth was the setting for the wedding of Annabelle Dyer and Clifton Lee Cook Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dyer, 1943 Forest Park Boulevard, Fort Worth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook, 1611 Main, Big Spring.

Double ring nuptial vows were read by the Rev. Thomas Sterch, pastor, as the couple pledged their troth before an altar of fernery and white gladioli. Tall, white cathedral tapers flanked the floral arrangement. White flowers and greenery marked the bridal aisle.

Imogene Eickhoff, organist played a medley of love songs prior to the ceremony. She played the traditional wedding marches as the processional and recessional. Betty Ruth Stephens sang the musical selections, "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of white organza over taffeta. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace, a Peter Pan collar and a row of tiny buttons down the front. The bouffant skirt featured panels of lace insertions from the waist to the skirt hem. She wore matching lace mitts. A bandeau of pearlized orange blossoms formed the crown for her imported medallion studded illusion veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Peggy Garrison acted as maid of honor. She chose a blue organdy dress over taffeta. The dress was fashioned colonial style with a bertha collar and full, gathered skirt. She wore a matching picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Mary Nell Cook and June Cook, sisters of the bridegroom, Doris Smith and Carol Jo Wheeler. The bridesmaids chose identical dresses of pink organdy over taffeta, designed as the maid-of-honor's. They wore matching pink picture hats, short pink mitts and carried arm bouquets of pink roses.

Attired in pink organdy dresses and carrying baskets of pink rose petals, Judy Akers and Deana Quattrochi acted as flower girls.

Don Quattrochi served as ring bearer.

Harold G. Talbot was best man. Other attendants of the bridegroom included Clifford Barr, Bob Webster, James Tolbert and Ikey Davidson. Ushers were Bob Rutherford, Bernard Bevis and Campbell Gillispie.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Talbot and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook and Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Straughn and Martha Ann of McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brown and Mrs. E. C. Brown of Tyler; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mitchell and children, Judy, Gene and Robby Lynn of Toyah; Mr. and Mrs. Judge George, Denton and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cook of McKinney.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Those in the reception line included the bride and bridegroom, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cook.

Others in the house party were Charlotte Garrison, Helen Moore.

MRS. CLIFTON LEE COOK

Mrs. Kenneth Hightower, Mrs. Rex Z. Howard and Mrs. J. W. Arendall.

The refreshment table was laid in white lace over pink satin and was centered with a tiered pink wedding cake, surrounded by pink roses. Lighted white and pink tapers illumined the reception rooms.

The bride is a graduate of the Fort Worth schools and is now a senior student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock. She is a member of the Ko Shair sorority. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring high school, attended Howard County Junior College and is also a senior student at Texas Technological college. He is a member of the Silver Key.

For travelling, Mrs. Cook wore a powder blue summer-weight suit and white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2013 14th Street, Lubbock, where both plan to complete their college education.

Cry "Caramba!" As City Claimed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 25. (AP)—Loyal New Mexicans were crying "caramba" today. And with good reason.

A Texan tried to claim the state's largest city.

The New Albuquerque City directory, printed in El Paso, Tex., came out yesterday. On the title page heavy black type proclaimed:

Albuquerque, Bernalillo County, Texas.

HE'S HAD TO WALK SINCE '46

KANSAS CITY, June 25. (AP)—It took three years, but William W. Walker can drive his automobile again.

He reported the car stolen on July 7, 1946. Since then Walker has walked.

Yesterday, as he walked past a used car lot, he spotted his old automobile.

The used car dealer said he got the car last week and gave police the name of the seller. Police said they would trace the ownership back to 1946.

ONE OF THREE—Three couples are involved in the intriguing comedy drama, "Letter To Three Wives," which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. Jeffrey Lynn and Jeanne Crain are shown here as one of the three. Others featured in the picture are Linda Darnell, Ann Southern, Paul Douglas and Kirk Douglas. It's a story showing what might happen when wives and husbands fail to solve their own particular problems.

Three Wives Get A Letter; Which One Loses Husand?

A comedy romance with a novel plot twist is the Ritz theatre's feature for today and Monday, "Letter To Three Wives."

The title roles are played by Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell and Ann Sothern, while the husbands are portrayed by Jeffrey Lynn, Kirk Douglas and Paul Douglas, a Broadway star appearing in his first movie role.

Others in the cast include Barbara Lawrence, Connie Gilchrist, Florence Bates and Hobart Cavanaugh. The picture is from a novel by John Klemner which was serialized in the Cosmopolitan magazine.

The immediate action of the intricate, yet wholly entertaining story of "A Letter to Three Wives" takes place in a single day, when the three girls leave on unsettling news that "Addie," their town's most attractive unattached female, has left town with one of their husbands. Though "Addie" is never shown in the picture, her taunting voice rings in the ears of each wife as she searches her marriage, convinced that her own husband has good reason to leave her.

Suspense and sympathy for the romantic problems in marriage builds to the picture's many laugh-packed surprises as the story unfolds. It isn't until the last 60 seconds of the picture that the answer is revealed.

Filmed in both Hollywood and New York, Director Joseph L. Mankiewicz, who also did the sparkling screen play, used such eatern locales as Mahopac, historic Cold Spring and Hook Mountain so that all outdoor scenes would be faithful reproductions of the actual suburban setting of the unusual story which s told through flashbacks.

Local Sanitarian's Car Is Recovered

The automobile stolen from C. W. Mason, sanitarian for the city-county health unit, has been recovered. Odessa sheriff's department officers notified Mason that his car had been found there. It suffered some motor damage. The machine was stolen here Thursday night while Mason attended a meeting.

Horror Show On Ritz Stage Tuesday Night

An extra attraction has been inserted into the Ritz theatre's program for the week, with a midnight horror show on the stage Tuesday evening.

The production is "The Maniac," presented by the famed Dr. Silkini (Wyman A. Baker) who has brought his thrillers here before. Dr. Silkini, who terms himself the "Ghost Master", works at the witching hour of midnight to conjure up feats of magic, optical illusions, and most of all, goes in for demons and spectres calculated to freeze the blood of the onlookers.

Dr. Silkini uses expert stagecraft to demonstrate that spooks and strange monsters are real things.

Some of the acts call for audience participation, and comedy is injected into some of the vast assortment of acts to be seen in "The Maniac."

The special program is carded for 11:30, following the regular program, and the stage show will be accompanied by the picture, "The Feathered Serpent," with Keye Luke.

Advanced admission prices will prevail.

SEA DRAMA—Here's a scene from the Lyric theatre's featured attraction for today and Monday, a sea drama titled "Sixteen Fathoms Deep." Lon Chaney, Jr., has the starring role.

A LITTLE GHOSTLY—Here's a scene from the stage show, "The Maniac," to be presented by the mystic and horror wizard, Dr. Silkini, at th Ritz theatre at a special 11:45 p. m. program Tuesday. Dr. Silkini does magic, mind reading and assorted acts, but principally shows he's on pretty good terms with spooks, skeletons, vampires and other creepy creatures.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

'Town Meeting' To Go On World Tour

America's Town Meeting of the Air, ABC's well-known public service forum program, will soon begin a series of broadcasts from 12 foreign capitals. These will include London, Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Ankara, Tel Aviv, Alexandria, Karachi, New Delhi, Manila, Tokyo and Honolulu.

George V. Denny, Jr., founder and moderator of the program, left Saturday for London to make arrangements.

The first world tour program will be held in London and broadcast in the U. S. on Tuesday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m. The programs will be heard over KBST.

During the period when the foreign broadcasts are being arranged, KBST will continue to broadcast America's Town Meeting from New York with guest moderators presiding in Denny's absence. Clifton Fadiman, noted critic, will conduct the broadcast of Tuesday, June 28, at 7:30 p.m., on the issue, "Are We Spoiling Our Children?"

• • •

"OPERA ALBUM"

Baritone Leonard Warren's recording of "O Monumento," from Ponchielli's "La Gioconda," will be featured among operatic selections on the Milton Cross Opera Album, this afternoon at 3:00 p.m., over ABC—KBST. Other recorded selections will include:

"Recondita Armonia," from "La Tosca"—Puccini.

"O Isis and Osiris," from "Magic Flute"—Mozart.

"Elsa's Dream," from "Lohengrin"—Wagner.

"O Monumento," from "La Gioconda"—Ponchielli.

Duet, from "Thais"—Massenet.

"SKY KING"

When a writer of mystery fiction solicits the aid of Sky King in solving a series of events which involves a group of killers who appear and disappear with almost supernatural ease, both of them become the targets of "The Three Ghost Gang" who will be introduced to the listening audience of ABC's Sky King program on Tuesday June 28, at 5:30 p.m.

• • •

"NATIONAL BARN DANCE"

Grace Wilson, The Girl with a Million Friends, who has been a member of the National Barn Dance cast since the initial program, will sing Stephen Foster's "Old Folks at Home" when she is heard on the program over KBST Saturday, July 2, at 9 to 9:30 p.m.

Balladeer Bob Atcher will sing a traditional camp-meeting song, "Methodist Pie" and the plaintive "Don't Rob Another Man's Castle." Lulu Belle and Scotty will sing a novelty titled "On the Old Fall River Line" and the orchestra will play "On a Sunday Afternoon."

Increase In Diarrhea Cases Reported Here

Diarrhea headed the list of ailments reported by the Big Spring-Howard county health unit Saturday with 42 cases.

This represented a sharp increase for the week.

Other illnesses reported by the unit and number of cases of each were whooping cough, three; pneumonia, five; syphilis, three, and gonorrhea, one. One case of polio was reported earlier in the week.

Rita Hayworth In 'Loves Of Carmen' Plays At Terrace

The electric Miss Rita Hayworth, better known these days as the bride of Aly Khan, adds brilliance to the Terrace Drive-In theatre's screen in "The Loves Of Carmen." The picture is scheduled tonight and tomorrow night.

Glenn Ford has the top supporting role, and the picture was directed by King Vidor. It's a repeat for this trio, for all were together in the earlier "Gilda."

In the supporting cast are Ron Randell, Victor Jory, Luther Adler, Arnold Moss, Joseph Buloff and Margaret Wycherly.

The world-famous story of "Carmen," by Prosper Merimee, is the basis for Helen Deutsch's dramatic screenplay. Although the book was also the basis for the Bizet opera, this music has not been employed in the film; instead, authentic flamenco rhythms have been used throughout. Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco, the noted composer, wrote the background score.

Director-producer Vidor is reported to have wedded violent romance with equally violent action. Production highlights are numerous. They include the greatest woman-to-woman fight ever put on the screen, as well as one of the most savage man-to-man combats ever filmed. Miss Hayworth portrays the gypsy Carmen, the creature of a thousand moods, who hated as powerfully as she loved. A spitting, tongue-lashing wildcat, Rita hurls herself on Veronika Pataky, a female who has won the gypsy's discarded lover. Rita emerges the winner, of course, in this no holds-barred, scratch-as-scratch-can brawl.

The masculine combat, equally savage and twice as deadly, has Ford, an Army deserter, and Jory, a gypsy bandit chieftain, engage in a fight-to-the-death with mean-looking, foot-long knives! Action on a larger scale is reported to occur in the skirmish between gypsy bandits and Army troopers in the wild mountain country; while the personal element is stressed again in the duel between Ford and his colonel.

The first locomotive built in America for actual common-carrier service was "the Best Friend of Charleston", which made its first trip in 1931. On the first run, the engine fell into a ditch but held the rails on later attempts.

Callie Roy McNew Becomes Bride Of Gerald Bennett Friday Night

A chorus hummed the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party approached the altar Friday evening for the wedding of Callie Roy McNew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McNew, 510 Goliad, and Gerald Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett, Route 1.

The ceremony was read in the Trinity Baptist Church by Marvin H. Clark, church pastor. Baskets of white gladioli flanked an arch of candles backed with greenery to form the nuptial decorations.

Mrs. Roy Wilson, pianist, played "Indian Love Call," "All For You," and accompanied Mrs. Ralph Monaco of San Antonio, who sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly." Willie Mae Witt gave a reading, "I Love You," accompanied by background music.

R. X. McNew gave his sister in marriage. The bride wore a stone blue dress fashioned with a full draping collar and a shirred bodice. She chose a cartwheel white hat with navy trim, navy shoes and white nylon off-finger mitten gloves. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations centered with rosebuds on a white Bible.

Doris Guess, maid of honor, wore a dress fashioned with a low-cut neckline. Her corsage was of gladioli.

Mrs. Roy Wilson, Willie Mae Witt and Mrs. Ralph Monaco wore white carnation corsages.

Fay Gene Bennett, sister of the groom, and Joy Lee McNew, niece of the bride, lighted the candles. They wore identical dresses and pink wristlets.

Tommie Weaver was best man. Ushers were Bill Bennett, brother of the groom, and Raymond Bedford.

The reception was held at the Jack Bennett home, 504 Douglass. Mrs. Bennett is a sister of the bride and Bennett is a brother of the groom. The white linen covered table was centered with an arrangement of white flowers. The three-tiered wedding confection was topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked with crystal punch bowls.

The house party included: Mrs. Dwight McCann, Mrs. Darree Shortes, Mrs. O. B. Warren, Mrs. Byron McCrocken, Mrs. Ralph Monaco and Mrs. Jack Bennett. Doris Guess was at the guest book.

The couple will be at home at 700 Lancaster.

MRS. GERALD BENNETT

Pre-wedding showers were given June 16 in the home of Mrs. H. D. Drake, 703 Abram, on June 20 in the home of Mrs. Sarah Hamlin, 604 Goliad, and on June 21, Mrs. Marvin Clark and Mrs. B. O. McCraken entertained with a shower in the Trinity Baptist Church parsonage. Approximately 175 persons attended the showers. Mrs. Drake was assisted in the entertaining by Mrs. Josephine Rogers, Mrs. Dan Fletcher and Mrs. Rosella Flowers. Mrs. O. B. Warren and Doris Guess assisted Mrs. Sarah Hamlin with the tea.

The bride attended Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College and took a correspondence course from Draughon's Business College, Abilene. She has been employed at the G. F. Wacker Store.

Bennett attended Big Spring High School and is employed at the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

Sew Sew Club Has Regular Session

Members of the Sew Sew Club held a regular session in the home of Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Sr., 1311 Johnson. Sewing was the entertainment. It was announced that the next regular meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Jr., 1607 Donley.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. A. M. Harris, Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. Lewis Atkins, Mrs. Alford Weeks, Mrs. Bill Owen, Mrs. Burl Haynie, Mrs. Jim Harper, Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Jr. and the hostess.

National ABClub Convention To Open Session Here Today

Delegates From Score Of States Will Be Present

Meeting Due To Get Underway Monday at City Auditorium

The first national service club convention ever to come to Big Spring opens a four day session here today as delegates from a score of states gather for their annual accounting and planning.

Final registration figures are conjectural, but they may approach 350 before enrollment is concluded Monday morning.

Little time will be lost in plunging into a heavy slate of business, broken by rounds of entertainment.

W. D. (Pete) Green, president of the Big Spring chapter, will call the convention to order at 10 a. m. Monday at the municipal auditorium. The Rev. W. D. Mathais, Allentown, Pa., national chaplain, will invoke divine blessings on the deliberations. Green then will extend the welcome on behalf of the host chapter and present F. H. Bachman, Champaign, Ill., national president.

Bachman, who will be in familiar surroundings here because of previous visits, will order a roll call of new chapters since the 1948 Savannah, Ga. convention and of old chapters. He also will introduce national past presidents and present members of the executive board.

His keynote speech will pace the opening session. It will be followed by the executive secretary's report by Hal Edinburgh, Danville, Ill. Bachman will name committees for the convention and Roy Bruce, program chairman, will make necessary announcements.

Starting at 2 p. m., the convention gets down to one of the spirited chores of the annual meeting when the nominating committee makes its report. Althought only one candidate, Roy Cagle of Asheville, N. C.—had been advanced formally, the field is wide open. Last year the convention voted down a proposal that prior service as a vice-president was necessary for candidacy.

During the afternoon G. B. Blackwell, Danville, Ill., will make the national treasurer's report. Preliminary reports from national standing committees will be received.

Big Hat club members— those who have qualified by enlisting at least three new members during the year—will breakfast at 8 a. m. Tuesday in the Settles. Art Brubaker, Dayton, Ohio, unit president, will preside.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Mathias at 10 a. m. at the city auditorium, call will be made for additional nominations for national president, first vice-president, and second vice-president. Reports from standing committees will be completed and the resolutions committee report received. Suggestions for betterment of the national association will be heard and discussed. At the concluding announcement period, time for nominations will expire.

One of the high points of the convention will come at the 12:30 luncheon Tuesday when the Hon. Martin Dies, Orange, Texas, speaks Mr. Dies was the original head of the House Un-American Acitivites committee while he served in Congress. Moreover, he is regarded as an eloquent speaker.

Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. the credentials committee reports in advance of seconding speeches for nominees. Then actual balloting follows. With auditing and convention city reports received in the interim, the election committee then announces results. Winners of trophy awards also will be announced.

Bachman will install new national officers at the 12:30 p. m. luncheon, and the new president will make his acceptance speech. Trophies and awards will be presented by George W. Hansen, Muskegon, Mich., chairman of the activities. The new president will clean up the slate of business during the afternoon, adjourning the convention officially. Curtain on the gala four-day affair will come down with the 8 p. m. President's Banquet and Ball. This event is formal for wives.

PRESIDENT—Head man of the national association of American Business clubs is F. H. (Doc) Bachman, Champaign, Ill. businessman. Elected last year at Savanah, Ga., Bachman has visited all districts of the AB-Club domain during the year.

ABClub District No. 6 Chapters Have Active Year

Chapters in district No. 6 of the American Business clubs have had an active year, according to Douglas Orme, district governor.

Lubbock has continued to major on sponsorship of Boys Club, an institution into which it has pumped $150,000 in the past 10 years. Proceeds for an annual rodeo made this possible. The club cares for 1,736 boys from five to 15 years of age.

Amarillo is doing somewhat the same type of work with Maverick Boys club. This project, however, stresses sportsmanship for youngsters regardless of background or economic circumstances.

Oklahoma City has majored in Boy Scout work. Dallas has taken an active role in promoting the Knothole Gang, a baseball project. Chickasha Okla. has conducted a school for children with speech impediments. Clovis, N. M. staged a city-wide clean-up campaign. Ponca City, Okla. promoted a giant Easter egg hunt

Texas Renters May Not Have To Pay Much More

By The Associated Press

Rent decontrol in Texas left renters with just one thought: How much more will we have to pay?

Not too much is the opinion of several landlord association heads.

These spokesmen cautioned landlords "not to go wild" on boosting rents when controls are finally lifted.

Gov. Jester Thursday signed the rent decontrol bill. The act becomes law 90 days after the present session of the legislature adjourns.

"Let's wait and see" seemed to be the attitude of most renters. "Take it easy," appeared to be the watchword of landlord associations.

Mayor Harold Jones of Wichita Falls only groaned when he heard about the decontrol signing and said: "No comment."

Maj. Max Bence, housing officer for Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls, said:

"The old question of supply and demand can not possibly take care of the housing situation in Wichita Falls. New rises in rent will leave much less for enlisted men than they had previously, which was far short of what was needed."

At Houston, the biggest expected increase—20 to 40 per cent—is on property under control since 1942.

C. A. McPeak, assistant state director of the CIO, said the Houston CIO may follow Dallas in setting up a "watchdog" committee to report unfair rent increases.

Mrs. H. H. Harp, president of the Fort Worth Apartment and Property Owners Assn., warned landlords there "not to go wild now that controls are off."

The rent decontrol bill signed by Jester provides that the governing body of any city or town can establish rent control for the duration of a housing emergency.

There was sharp opposition to decontrolling rents in Texas. Army and Air Force officers were against it. So was Federal Housing Administrator Tighe Woods.

At San Antonio, which teems with Army and Air Force personnel Mayor Jack White commented on the decontrol measure: "We have an awful lot of Army here."

IT'S ON DOWNTOWN STORES

Traffic Eased As Sacramento Shoppers Get Free Bus Rides

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 25. (AP)—Shoppers in California's sunny capital ride buses downtown and back home again for free.

The downtown stores have been doing the paying for a year—and the plan is considered a success. It's one answer to the problem of traffic congestion and resultant bad effects on retail trade in the city center.

Sacramento claims one of the largest per person automobile registrations of any city in the world. That is one reason shoppers are urged to leave their cars at home and take the bus.

More automobiles mean more traffic snarls in the downtown section and fewer places for buyers to park. That means many persons will go into the less crowded suburbs to do their buying.

This city of about 130,000 has a string of busy new shopping centers at its sprawling edges. These have everything from gowns to glue, advertise downtown prices and spread plenty of gravel around outside to provide parking areas. One of these suburban centers opened for business only three years ago and now has 55 stores.

So a year ago some 60 downtown merchants joined to sponsor free bus rides to keep customers coming to the city. In the 12 months they bought and handed out 424,673 bus tokens, costing seven cents each. That's $29,727.11 worth.

Here's the way the scheme works:

Milady pays her seven cents when she boards a bus to go downtown. She asks for a dated ticket. Upon making a purchase of at least one dollar in any participating store, she is given two bus tokens. The only requirement is that she must make the buy between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.—to encourage her to avoid the morning and evening rush hours when workers need the bus space.

Bus Line Manager A. R. Thompson says the plan is moving about 20,000 more passengers a month to the downtown sector.

Sacramento pioneered the free ride plan, but it has been adopted since in other cities, including nearby Stockton and Spokane, Wash.

Los Angeles Hopes To Rank As Third Largest U. S. City

By BILL BECKER
AP STAFF

LOS ANGELES, June 1?. —Los Angeles, the city of unlimited limits and ambition, awaits the census taker next year like a kid waiting for his first peek at Santa Claus.

The city of restless angels already has reached its 1950 goal of 2 million people and is ready to give Philadelphia and Detroit a stout argument for third spot behind New York and Chicago.

That should make for much happiness in this overgrown village — as San Franciscans are prone to call it—but some of the city fathers are beginning to have some doubts.

These municipal planners—to the dismay of booster agencies—have indicated they would like to pull every lever in sight to stem the tide of population until housing, roads, transportation and industries can be built to accommodate everybody.

The "in-migrants," as the men with the graphs call them, are still coming in a steady stream. The rate has been nearly 8,000 new residents per month since World War II ended.

The Los Angeles Planning Commission estimated the city's population at 2,021,236 in March. The official 1950 figure may top 2,100,000—or 600,000 more than the 1,504,277 in 1940. The growth is roughly equal to the total populations of Milwaukee, Buffalo and New Orleans.

This is the village which numbered 5,728 inhabitants in 1870 and by 1900 had just passed the 100,000 mark.

Charles Bennett, city planning director, has a chart that shows Los Angeles hitting the three million mark in 1970—with the county up around six million. Most folks figure that's conservative.

Whatever else Los Angeles may exaggerate, there's no denying its size. It extends from San Pedro Harbor 50 miles northward to Newhall. It contains mountains, beaches, valleys, semi-desert—and slums about as bad as you'll find almost anywhere.

The whole adds up to 452 square miles, nearly 100 more than New York City. There's still plenty of room to put up whole cities — 212 square miles in San Fernando Valley alone, for example.

But if space is the least of Los Angeles' worries, water—or the lack of it—could be the worst.

The city gets most of its water from the Owens Valley project in the High Sierra nearly 250 miles away. So far it has not had to dip deeply into Colorado River reserves.

But in an extended drought period—such as the present one—the situation could become serious.

It's a problem that can't be wished away. When the drought was at its worst in 1948, California—largely because of Los Angeles' industrial needs—went on daylight saving the entire year to conserve power.

Another worry is unemployment. The last check showed 200,000 out of work in the greater Los Angeles area. That's 12 per cent of an estimated working force of 1,620,000—well above the national average.

That calls for more industry, say the planners. The area ranks first in the production of aircraft, oil drilling equipment and the American movie—but that's not enough.

Housing has had a hard time keeping up with the demand. Projects by the score have mushroomed. Slum clearance programs are under way, but the problem is complicated by a growing Negro population and the largest Mexican colony outside Mexico City.

There's a dandy 22-story city hall—the only structure over the 13-story height limit. Bonds for $43 million have been voted, but adequate courthouses, jails, fire stations and playgrounds are yet to be built.

Plans for a 4,500-seat civic opera house and a 20,000-seat civic auditorium are on the boards and the sites picked. The Statler Chain has picked a spot for a new hotel, but a half dozen more are needed.

Steam shovels and bulldozers are busy clearing the paths for two freeways designed to relieve traffic congestion, and to speed the development of the San Fernando Valley and the Santa Ana citrus belt.

With distances so vast, rapid transit is a paramount problem. The city has difficulties to iron out with the Pacific Electric Co. which wants to discard its fast interurban railcars for busses.

More busses is the last thing Los Angeles wants. Traffic is already badly snarled with the country's heaviest concentration of cars. There's one automobile for every 2½ persons.

PROGRAM HEAD — Development of the program for the national convention of the American Business clubs has been assigned to Roy Bruce. Coordination of the various sub-groups with the main program, together with inviting and scheduling speakers is part of the task of seeing that something is doing every moment of the convention.

On Honor List

COMMERCE—Norris V. Tanton of Big Spring, a student at East Texas State Teachers College, has been named to the Dean's List for the 1949 spring semeser. This announcement was made by Dr. C. B. Wright, chairman of the scholarship committee.

A junior, majoring in history, he is the son of Harvey L. Tanton of Big Spring.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must have a semester grade average of better than "B."

JUVENILES TO DANCE

Plan Old West Flavor For ABClub Convention

Additional flavor of the Old West will be added to the American Business Clubs national convention here this week.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jack Thompson, two squares of juveniles will run through three routines before convention visitors.

"The children are not exhibitionists," explained Mrs. Thompson. "They have not yet achieved a state of perfection associated with exhibitions." However, I believe they will give visitors a good sample of square dancing."

In the 10 to 11-year age group, members of the square will be Jerry Wayne Dunlap, Carolyn Harris, Ronnie Wooten, Jacqueline Smith, Dennis Jones, Joyce Horne, Tommy McAdams, and Betty Anderson.

Those in the 8 and 9-year old group are Doyle Phillips, Jerry Lynn Girdner, Bobby Duggan, Judy Cauble, Don Anderson, Lynn McMahen, Jerry McMahen, and Linda Kay Wehner.

Each group will execute the Texas Star pattern, the Double Star and the Spinning Wheel, according to Mrs. Thompson.

Starting from scratch, the youngsters have been working weekly for the past two and a half months. Caller for the demonstration will be either Jack Thompson or Tommy Whatley. Live music is anticipated.

Boys will be costumed in red regalia with red and white checked shirts. The girls will wear gay frocks of red and white checks with red ruffles, adding still more of the frontier flavor to the event.

KEY MAN—A vital cog in the machinery of the American Business Clubs is H. W. (Hal) Edinburgh, Danville, Ill. Edinburgh last year succeeded the veteran Pete Neuman, who retired after 14 years of service. His official position is executive secretary. It carries with it also the assignment of extension director, responsibility for organizing new chapters. Besides these chores, which are considerable, Edinburgh also is editor of the national publication, The Ambuc.

Can Opener Frees Trapped Puppy

NOTTINGHAM, England. (AP)—A six-week-old pup named Pat put his head through a metal hole in the base of a water heater. He couldn't pull it out.

His owners, Mr. and Mrs. E. Robinson, and a couple of workmen pulled and pulled—gently—but couldn't get his head unstuck. Then they studied and studied.

Finally somebody got a bright idea and freed him with a simple twist of a can opener.

Antwerp Repairs Russian Vessels

ANTWERP (AP)—Three more Soviet ships have arrived in Antwerp for repairs and modernizing. This brings the total of Russian Vessels in the port to repairs up to six. The latest arrivals from Leningrad were the "Sevan" of 1,500 tons, the "Ilmen" of 1,300 tons and the "Pskov" of 7,200 tons.

India Following Japanese Model

NEW DELHI. (AP)—The government of India plans to develop her cottage and small-scale industries on the Japanese model. An official delegation of two experts will soon leave for Japan to study such industries and select small machines and labor-saving devices.

This delegation also will select a few Japanese technicians to work in India. They will help establish new industries and introduce new methods and techniques in existing ones.

The immediate objective of the mission is to assist rehabilitation of refugees from Pakistan.

Mobile is the only seaport in Alabama.

Football Clinic Is City ABClub Idea

Within the past three years, probably the outstanding project of the club has been the creation and sponsorship of the Six-Man Football Clinic.

Initiated by the local ABC'ers in 1946, the clinic was climaxed last August with the formation of the Texas Six-Man Coaches Association.

Walker Bailey, chairman of the civic affairs committee of the local ABClub, was clinic director for the 1948 edition of the clinic. More than 75 six-man coaches from throughout the state attended the two-day period of instruction which was climaxed with an all-star six-man football game between districts five and seven of the Interscholastic league.

Chief instructor for the school was J. H. England of College Springs, Iowa, a national authority on the six-man sport. Texas Interscholastic League representatives on hand included Rodney Kidd and Dr. Rhea Williams.

Enrollees in the school were entertained at a barbecue in city park to open the clinic on August 8. The feed was follow ' by movies of six-man and 11-man football games.

Instruction included lectures on fundamentals, demonstrations, rules interpretations, films, and a lecture on the treatment of injuries incident to football. Motion pictures of the Mertzon-Coahoma six-man game of 1947 season were shown as was a 1947 Texas University contest.

The third annual six-man clinic, originated by the Big Spring ABClub, culminated in the formation of the Texas Six-Man Coaches association—a new organization to sponsor clinics of the future as an affiliate of the Texas Interscholastic League.

All-star teams, coached by George Tillerson of Sterling City for district seven and John Prude of Fort Davis for district five, met in Forsan to conclude the clinic. The district five aggregate won the contest, 27-7.

Love Surmounts Bars Of Prison

SINGAPORE (AP) — Lee Sun, 32, and Low Sei Mui, 16, were awaiting repatriation to China under emergency regulations. They wanted to be wed. Authorities checked on their story with their parents while the couple were still in separate detention camps in Johore.

Once their stores were shown to be true, the two were brought to Outram prison here and the wedding was arranged.

An official of the Secretariat for Chinese Affairs acted as mater of ceremonies while the official public relations department photographer served as a witness.

Buffaloes On March In Siam

BANKGKOK (AP)—The great water buffalo trek is underway again in Siam. Tens of thousands of buffalo are being driven from breeding farms in the northeast provinces across more than 300 miles of jungles and plains to the central provinces. There the buffalo are sold for plowing and other ground preparations for planting of the rice crop.

It takes about two months for the buffaloes to make the annual push. When they reach th central plains they are shoved about from one spot to another until most are sold.

If any are left they are sold by lots at auction. Most of the leftovers are too small and thus have been rejected up north. The purchasters usually keep them until they are full grown animals and ready for resale. A buffalo usually sells for $50 to $200.

Nature's Excavation Project Deepens Zion

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utha (AP)--Nature is busy carrying 3,000,000 tons of rock and dirt out of Zion canyon each year.

That's the amount scientists estimate is eroded and carried away by the little Virgin river in the half-mile deep canyon. The gorge grows deeper each year, mainly because the stream has a rapid fall of 50 to 90 feet per mile.

Jazz Records Are Costly In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Believe it or not, a new American-made jazz record may cost you the legal equivalent of 50 to 60 dollars on the musical black-market in post-war Germany. The acute shortage of discs and the lively demand from German devotees make the price high.

How do American jazz records, so highly rated by German youth, get here? Most of them made their way across the ocean in a soldier's trunk.

Real jazz is quite new to German youngsters. It still has a doubtful reputation with the older generation.

ABClub Official Family Hails From Nine States

Nine states are represented in the official family of the American Business Clubs.

Headed F. H. (Doc) Bachman, Champaign, Ill., the national officials and executive board members hail from Illinois, Georgia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, North Carolina, Oklahoma, West Virginia and Kentucky.

First vice-president of the organization is Dr. Gaines E. Sewell, Savannah, Ga. Second vice-president is Dr. William E. Caffrey, Newark, N. J., G. B. (Barney Blackwell, Danville, Ill., is treasurer.

H. W. (Hal) Edinburgh, Danville, Ill., executive secretary of the organization, works out of Danville. National chaplain is the Rev. W. D. Mathias, Allentown, Pa.

Bachman, Dr. Sewell, Dr. Caffrey and Blackwell are on the executive board together with district governors, including:

Henry Douglas, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Hal Bird (from the Asheville club), Enka, N. C.; Paul D. Fossett, Enid, Okla.; Lyle Smith, Huntington, West Va.; Vernon Brooks, Norristown, Pa., W. Z. (Bill) McDonald, Savannah, Ga.

Reed Brawley, Greensboro, N. C.; H. Wayne Parker, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Dr. W. Dewey Raley, Louisville, Ky.; Earl J. Sheehan, Springfield, Ill.; Douglas Orme, Big Spring, Texas; and L. K. (Lefty) Clouser, Reading, Pa.

Monarchists Still Dream In Bavaria

MUNICH (AP)—Diehard monarchists still dream of reviving a south German kingdom of Bavaria. Their king would be Crown Prince Rupprecht, 80-year-old son of Bavaria's last reigning king, Ludwig.

Ludwig lost his throne in 1918, along with all other royal German rulers in the post-war collapse of Kaiser Wilhelm's imperial Reich.

Since then Bavaria has been just another German state. Its governors were elected, not born into office. Its once rich and powerful monarch seemed to be only a dead relic of an age gone by—fit only for museums which its castles had become.

But the loyal followers of the throne continued to dream.

Past Heads Of City ABClub Organized

Living up to the American Business Club motto, "Shoulders Together", past presidents of the Big Spring ABClub have formed an organization of their own.

Created as a nominating committee for the selection of candidates for club offices, the Past Presidents' club is made up of 16 men who served as president of the local organization for at least one term since its formation December 2, 1935.

Seven former presidents of the club no longer reside in Big Spring. The 16 members of the Past Presidents' organization meet twice annually at dinners held prior to the semi-annual election of ABC officers.

The group nominates at least two candidates for each of the elective offices of the club including the presidency, three vice presidencies, and secretary and sergeant-at-arms positions. They also choose candidates for the four positions on the board of governors of the club.

Members of the Past Presidents' club, formed about four years ago, are Roy Reeder, Preston Sanders, C. O. Nalley, Bill Younger, Douglas Orme, Charles Girdner, J. T. Morgan, H. P. Wooten, V. A. Whittington, J. D. Jones, Walker Bailey, Ted Phillips, Ray Griffin, C. Y. Clinkscales, Lee Harris, and Charles Staggs.

Other presidents of the Big Spring ABClub have been Durward Carnett, Dr. Kennedy, Charles Frost, Hugh Duncan, Worth Peeler, Cecil Snodgrass, Fowler Faubion, C. A. Amos, and Loy House. Present president of the organization is Pete Green.

City ABClubbers

Having been Sweetheart of the Big Spring ABClub since its formation is the record to distinction of Helen Duley Green present club Pianist-Sweetheart.

Mrs. Green was chosen Sweetheart of the organization when it was chartered here in 1935 and has held that honor continuously. She is one of the two remaining charter members of the Big Spring chapter, and has missed meetings only while on vacation during that time.

The American flag should be placed in or near the polling places on every election day.

Stress Laid Upon Juvenile Work In ABC Program

American Business Clubs lay stress on many ideals, but in practical application juvenile work has been the dominant threat in activities.

Somehow the objectives of quickened appreciation for human and spiritual values, promotion of higher social and business standards, intelligent and serviceable citizenship, cementing of friendships, wholesome upbuilding of communities and cooperation with others in higher idealism — somehow these find their favored expression in working with children, the men and women of tomorrow.

Through the years the American Business Clubs have specialized in juveile activities. To this day the Bi Brother movement is part and parcel of the ABClubs. Wherever there are ABClubs, there is opportunity for boys in need of wholesome adult guidance to counsel with a "big brother" in the club.

Juvenile courts have leaned heavily upon ABClubs chapters in rehabilitation of errant youths who have, for the first time, come to account for anti-social acts.

In most areas the clubs are active sponsors of boys and girls organizations, Boys and Girl Scout troops. National records reflect actual and monetary support of athletic meets, camps, and a host of other affairs devoted to youth.

An outstanding example of what the exphasis has done and can do is the Lubbock Boys Club. Within the past decade the Lubbock chapter has raised and invested $150,000 in properties covering two city blocks. Last year more than 1,700 boys between the ages of five and 17 were members, sharing in supervised programs of recreation. The chapter had made available game rooms, reading rooms, music rooms, playgrounds, swimming pool etc. At the same time provision is made whereby the boys sense their responsibility in maintenance and in governing.

Amarillo's Boys Maverick club is another example of an outstanding youth project. In a score of other states there are splendid examples. Currently the national project has envisioned another field of service in specializing on spastic paralysis education.

But ABClub work does not end here. It extends into every worthwhile realm of community endeavor. Parks and playgrounds have been provided. One chapter gave the city zoo a rennovation. And so it goes almost without end.

REGISTRATION—In charge of registration for the national convention of American Business clubs here today through Wednesday is Roy B. Reeder. A charter member of the local chapter, he has been an active worker and has served a year as district governor.

To Conduct Clinic

Dr. George H. Butterfield, optometrist of Portland, Oregon, will conduct a clinic on the new plastic Para-Curve Corneal Contact lenses for members of the South Plains Optometric Society on June 28 at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock. Drs. Allen R. Hamilton and Marshall Q. Cauley of Big Spring are members of the South Plains Soci'y.

Special Treat Is Planned For ABC Delegates

American Business Clubs delegates to the 1949 ABC national convention in Big Spring June 26-29 are in for a special treat. The dates of the convention coincides with those of the annual World's Championship Junior Rodeo scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

Believed to be the largest event of its kind ever held in ths area, the boys' and girls' rodeo is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Performances start at 8 p. m. daily at the Big Spring rodeo grounds.

Six events scheduled for the two-day rodeo include calf roping, bull riding, boys' and girls' ribbon race, clover leaf race and the hat race. Cash or prizes totallig $1,500 will be awarded winners in the various divisions open to any boy or girl under 18 years of age.

Proceeds of the show are to go to the furthering of 4-H club work in Howard county. Arrangements for the annual show, complete with clowns, trick riders, and other entertainment are under the direction of Durward Lewter, Howard county agent.

Richmond, Va., makes more cigarettes than any city in the world—about one-third of the U. S. output.

PRECAUTION URGED

Food Poisoning Is Summertime Hazard

Summertime—dinner spread on the grass in a shady spot. All this and food poisoning, too.

Food poisoning is not inevitable, but it is an omnipresent danger in warm months unless ample precaution is taken in connection with picnicking.

"Extra care should be taken in the preparation of picnic lunches," Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Big Spring-Howard county health unit, has warned. Precautions worthy of observation were listed by the health officer as follows:

All cooked foods should be prepared early so that they can be properly refrigerated. Otherwise, foods which have been allowed to stand for some time without chilling are likely to cause food infections.

Each vegetable should be scrubbed separately to be sure of the removal of every tiny bit of bacteria-bearing matter; if not thoroughly cleaned and if served only partially cooked or uncooked, they may cause severe food poisoning.

"The public should bear in mind that the quality of food purchased should measure up to standard in order to obtain the best from a nutritional standpoint with the least risk of poisoning," the doctor stated.

He warned that caution be exercised in the purchase of meats and all dairy products, pointing out that both should be "chosen from known, inspected, and reliable sources".

New Insurance Bill

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP) — Gov. Beauford Jester signed a bill yesterday providing for an occupation tax on Mexican insurance companies operating in Texas.

The bill by Rep. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, will affect those Mexican companies which sell automobile, accident and other insurance coverage to tourists and others traveling into Mexico.

Typhoon Toll Mounts

NO. 1 PROJECT

ABClubs Raising $25,000 For Picture On Spastic Paralysis

Raising of a $25,000 fund for production of a motion picture on spastic paralysis ranks as the No. 1 project of the national association of American Business club.

At the last reports, cash in the amount of $10,910.33 had been contributed. In addition, pledges had been made for $2,293. This gives a total of $13,203.33. By convention time this figures is expected to advance substantially.

Asheville, N. C. has increased its original pledge and announced that it will contribute a total of $1,000 to the project. This ranks as the largest chapter undertaking to date. The Asheville Busyettes have pitched in to boost the support from the leading supporter of the spastic project to $1,025.

Big Spring has pledged a contribution, the exact amount to be determined later. In addition, any profit shown after the national convention here this week will be turned over to the fund. From this the gathering has been tagged as the "National Spastic Convention."

Purpose of the fund, explained F. H. (Doc) Bachman, Champaign, Ill., national president, is to finance the production of a technicolor film on the problem of spastic children. It will have appropriate narrative designed to focus attention to this little known but pressing national health problem.

The film will be made available to ABClubs and other organization for nation-wide circulation. Through it the ABClubs hope to stimulate interest in supporting programs which will lend aid, instruction and hope of rehabilitation to children afflicted with spastic paralysis or cerebral palsy.

The national association has received much favorable publicity from the press and magazines. The Oct. 23 journal of the American Medical association carried a story mentioning the role of the American Business clubs in the production of the film. Inquiries have been received from many parts of the country as to the time when the film will be available. One came from as far away as Juneau, Alaska.

FINANCE — V. A. Whittington, another of the past-presidents of the American Business Club chapter here who is figuring in national convention operation has been assigned the job of handling all convention finances. It's a big job which assumes added importance in view of the fact that any residue from the convention will be turned over to the national association's spastic paralysis project.

Big Spring Relays Under Auspices Of Local ABClubbers

Sponsorship of the annual Big Spring Relays is another project of the local American Business club in keeping with the organization's policy of promoting youth participation and preventing the rise of juvenile problems.

The 1949 version of the Relays, unreeled in Steer stadium April 2, saw more than 200 athletes from 14 high schools taking part. Every high school in Interscholastic League district 3-AA had representatives entered in at least one of the 14 events.

Three records were set in the sixth annual running of the relays won this year by the Odessa Bronchos. New marks were established in the 100 yard dash, the half mile and the medley mile relays.

Officials for the meet were ABClub members from the Big Spring chapter. The organization is looking forward to the 950 edition of the show.

Pastor Is Honored

COLLEGE STATION, June 25—(AP)—Texas' "rural pastor of the year" is Rev. A. J. Mohr of the American Lutheran church at Bellville.

The title was awarded yesterday by the Progressive Farmer magazine at the Texas Rural Church Conference.

Re-elected officers at the conference were Mohr, president; Rev. James Butler, Sweetwater, vice president, and W. H. Andrew, Bryan, secretary.

Club Helps Open North Side Park

American Business Club assistance played an important role in the opening of the North Side park for Negroes which was dedicated in a June Teenth ceremony Monday.

The Big Spring ABClub sponsored the all-West Texas Square Dance Jamboree here last April for the benefit of the project. Approximately 300 dancers from over the western half of the state took part in the old fashioned frolic held in the Howard County Junior College gymnasium.

An equal number of spectators attended the Jamboree.

The ABClub made its contribution as a cooperative gesture. The Business & Professional Women's club provided the park land.

JOBS VARIED, ATTRACTIVE

Careers In Public Service Are Open To School, College Grads

By PAUL H. APPLEBY

Dean, Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University

About 5 2-3 per cent of the 59,300,000 persons who comprise the American "labor force" are college graduates. About 7 1-3 per cent of all jobs are in national, state and local government, not including public school positions. (About 3 1-3 per cent of all jobs are in national government; more than 4 per cent are in state and local government.)

About 15 per cent of all jobs in the national government, and about 10 per cent of state and local government jobs are held by college graduates. Combining the figures, 12 per cent or more of all governmental jobs in this country are held by college graduates.

At any given time, about 15 per cent of all employed college graduates work for the various units of government. Within a few years 15 per cent of all who complete their academic training this year and enter the labor force with academic degrees, will work at governmental jobs. They will number at least 24,000.

There are thousands of varieties of governmental jobs, and the placement of this year's recruits will reflect differences in academic training, personal interest and traits. So cite examples, it may be said that a very small proportion of those with degrees in business administration will enter the government, a very high proportion of those with degrees in public administration, about half of those from some forestry schools.

But almost every conceivable kind of academic training will contribute to the total body of governmental recruits and their equipment. There will be the various kinds of chemists, physicists, engineers, linguists and economists. There will be doctors of medicine lawyers, animal husbandmen, agronomists, phychologists, anthropologists, psychologists, foresters, horticulturists, statisticians. There will be many who qualify as junior professionals in these and other fields, and many with general qualifcations who will develop s e- qualifications who will develop spe- of jobs.

Those who become available as part of the labor force at the end of high school courses or before completing college now number about 900,000 a year. More than three-forths of them become a part of the labor force. Within a few years probably 8 or 9 per cent of those entering the labor force will be a part of the body of almost 4,000,000 non-college graduates in the three levels of government.

In the national government alone about 99 per cent of the 500,000 employed by the post office department do not have college degrees. There are 500,000 trades people including no college graduates 430,000 clerical and sub-professional employees of whom only 2 per cent are college graduats, and 165,000 in miscellaneous jobs involving almost none with academic degrees. There are many similar jobs in state and local government and large numbers in fire, police and works units of municipal government.

Within a few years, then, it may be expected that more than 55,000 of those who this year complete their education at high school or undergraduate levels will be public employees.

In the national government less than 1 per cent of the jobs have any political patronage character. Treating all levels of government together and ignoring temporary jobs (those heretofore discussed are all technically "permanent") more than 95 per cent of all governmental jobs are filled—regardless of which party is in power in the various jurisdictions—without benefit of partisan endorsement. This is particularly true of positions open to young people just leaving school. The movement of young people into government herein depicted statistically may therefore be regarded as almost wholly nonpartisan in character. But it does reflect and require on the part of those who participate in it a special desire to be of public service.

Midland Will Celebrate With 'Trail Days'

Plans for the largest civic celebration ever seen in Midland are nearing completion as civic clubs and hundreds of volunteer workers entered the final week prior to the Trail Days celebration to be held July 1-4.

Midland is prepared to welcome thousands of visitors for one of the most elaborate celebrations in its history. The outstanding event of the celebration will be the presentation of "Frontiers of Progress", a gigantic pageant-spectacle, at the rodeo grounds.

Featuring a cast of 500, beautifully costumed and lighted, and presented on a spectacular scale, "Frontiers of Progress" depicts the growth and development of Midland and the Permian Basin from the days of the Comanche down to its present preeminence as one of the leading oil centers of the nation. Combining the spectacular with the historic, the pageant will be marked with all of the romance of the early history of West Texas.

Many other events will be presented during the days of the celebration, it was announced by Ted Kruger, chairman of the special events committee.

Georgia grows more nuts than any other state in the union, with Alabama second.

ODESSA GROUP TO PREPARE, SERVE MEAL

Barbecue Dinner On Local Mountain Will Feature ABClub Meeting Here

Scenic Mountain will be the scene at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday when delegates to the 1949 American Business Club convention will be treated to barbecue dinner prepared and served by the famous Odessa Chuckwagon gang.

Though the some 300 ABC delegates expected to attend may be able to eat a lot of barbecue, prepared West Texas style, the serving will be no task for the Odessa group. In the past nine years the organization has fed more than a quarer million people.

The Chuckwagon Gang was formed in 1940 and is made up of Odessa's leading business men—all members of the Chamber of Commerce. The 100 members of the gang dished out approximately 32,000 meals last year.

The Gang first fed only solders stationed at the Midland Army Air Base, but as the fame of the organization spread, so did the range of calls for its services. Only stipulation the group makes before accepting an engagement is that there will be at least 100 persons to eat the meal.

Largest group ever served by the organization was 7,200 at a Gulf Oil company picnic at Odessa last July. The Chuckwagon gang has fed crowds at Dallas on numerous occasions.

Fastest job of serving recorded by the Gang was the 7,200 fed in Odessa—a 55 minute project. Ordinarily, 2,000 persons are served in from 20 to 30 minutes.

A serving includes a plate of barbecue, red beans, potato salad, olives, pickles, onions, celery, potato chips, bread, and coffee or tea.

Created as a non-profit organization in 1940, the Chuckwagon Gang charges only the actual cost of the meal. Its membership includes bank presidents, city and county officials, oil company executives, and business heads.

The group elects its own "wagon boss" and other officers each year. Business affairs for the organization are handled by Joe Cozby of the Odessa chamber of commerce. "Wagon boss" this year is Fred Howard.

The Gang made its last appearance in Big Spring in February when it fed some 300 laymen in connection with the appearance of lecturer Kirby Page at the First Presbyterian Church.

Only 'Scotch Type'

WASHINGTON, June 25 —(AP)— American distillers can't make Scotch whiskey any more.

The Internal Revenue Bureau ruled yesterday that they may make "Scotch Type" whiskey, and use typically Scotch names such as Highlands, Kilts, Scots, etc., but only Scotland may make plain "Scotch."

Low-Down Theft

TOKYO, June 25 —(AP)—Thievery has reached a new low in Japan.

Pearl King Kokichi Mikimoto complained to police that poachers descended to the sea bottom southwest of Tokyo and made off with 24,000 pounds of his cultured pearl-producing oysters.

Hidden Arms Found

ROME, June 25—(AP)— Hidden arms sufficient to equip an army have been seized by carabinieri (police) in the past 17 months, Italy's Senate was told today.

The nation-wide roundup of clandestine weapons and ammunition, many found in communist hideouts, was summarized by Interior Minister Mario Scelba.

Round Of Entertainment Planned For Delegates To ABC Meet In City

Entertainment will abound at the national convention of American Business clubs, starting today.

The range is from soft organ music to folk dancing, from magic to rough and tough rodeo performances. Minced in will be informal visitation, a Western barbecue, teas, dances, banquets and a host of other diversions.

At 7 p. m. today Mrs. Omar Pitman, Big Spring, and Gene James, Fort Worth, will alternate at the console of the Hammond organ in a presentation made possibly jointly by the Shields Company of Fort Worth, Pitman Jewelry and Nalley chapel of Big Spring.

Monday at the 12:30 p. m. stag luncheon at the Settles, there will be songs by Munson Compton, Big Spring ABClub member and a former soloist with name bands; songs by Barbara Rogoski, Hobbs, N. M. vocalist, and a short talk by Shine Philips, Big Spring druggist-humorist-author.

A star-studded event comes up at 7:30 p. m. Monday following the buffet supper at the Settles. Munson Compton will preside as master of ceremonies. The Texas & Pacific Railway company Streamliners, a girls trio, will sing. Personnel is Martha Blanchard, Doris Gibbs and Mary Henderson, accompanied by G. R. Novotny, all of Dallas.

Guydele Ecklund, Amarillo, will be presented in a dance. Mrs. Harold P. Steck, Big Spring, is to give a reading. Square dancing, as interpreted by a Loraine, Texas group, will be demonstrated by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Lanthur Brame and Mr. and Mrs. John Horton. Artistry with the scissors will be shown by Peggy Toops, Big Spring, Dallas Whaley, Lubbock, will introduce "a small act," and Miss Rogoski will sing before Jim King and his Cosden Playboys strike up the music for the dance.

A joint luncheon for delegates and their wives at 11:45 a. m. Tuesday will include a piano trio composed of Mrs. Leslie Green, Mrs. Omar Pitman, and Mrs. Bill Griese. This will be followed by a magic show by Louis Zafren, Fort Worth, traffic manager for Pioneer Air Lines Although he functions as an amateur, Zafren is rated as a leading exponent of sleight-of-hand. Feature of the session, of course, is an address by the Hon. Martin Dies, who originally headed the House Un-American Activities committee while he was a member of congress.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment will be a barbecue on Scenic Mountain. Through arrangements by the Odessa chapter of the American Business clubs, the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will serve the meal. Afterwards, delegates will be taken to the rodeo grounds for the annual junior world championship rodeo. At 10 p. m. they will be returned to the Settles hotel for informal entertainment. The transportation committee will operate from the Settles, Crawford and Douglass hotels to take visitors to the barbecue, rodeo and return.

During the convention two squares of Big Spring Boys & Girls will present three square dance patterns under direction of Mrs. Jack Thompson, Many of the youngsters are children of ABClub members here.

GI Dividends Due

DALLAS, June 25 —(AP)—An estimated 800,000 Texans will be paid dividends next year on GI life insurance.

Veterans Administration officials made the estimate yesterday but wouldn't predict how much money would be paid to the Texans. They said, however, that one veteran in twenty is a Texan, and one-twentieth of the national total to be paid would be $140,000,000.

The average rainfall of the Mojave Desert is five to six inches a year and the temperature there in summer frequently reaches 120 degrees.

First Cotton Bale Going On Market

ALICE, June 25—(AP)—The year's first bale of Coastal Bend cotton grown on a farm near here—will be sold Monday on the Corpus Christi exchange. It will be the first year the exchange has accepted a bale from outside Nueces county as its first.

The bale was ginned here yesterday and loaded last night to be taken to Corpus Christi.

Pete Garcia, a tenant farmer, grew the cotton on a Jim Wells county farm owned by County Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

Does Double Duty

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 25 —(AP)—Joe E. Brown is doing double duty as a convalescent at the Naval hospital here.

The comedian underwent a hernia operation while confined for malaria treatment, the Navy said yesterday.

Lubbock Designated As Cotton Market

WASHINGTON, June 25 —(AP)— Lubbock has been designated as a spot cotton market.

The action, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) said, means official recognition that the Lubbock area is a major cotton center. He received the notification yesterday from Agriculture Secretary Brannan.

Lubbock cotton prices will be sent to trading centers over the world by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Water Parley Set

WASHINGTON, June 25 —(AP)— Four West Texas citizens have been invited to join a conference here Monday on the $85,000,000 Canadian River development program.

Rep. Worley (D-Tex) said Mayor George Klein, Jack Cunningham and Howard Robin, of Amarillo, and Clarence Whiteside of Lubbock will meet congressional and departmental officials.

To Keep Families Intact, Just Sing, Play And Pray Together

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—To help prevent your marriage from collapsing and your children from becoming juvenile delinquents, Mrs. Maria Augusta Trapp says: Sing.

"People spend too much time these days just watching," says Mrs. Trapp, head of the famous Trapp singing family. "They don't do enough things themselves. They have no outlets for their energies. They become bored and restless. Boredom is the way most family troubles begin.

"Our experience is that a family that sings together, plays together, and prays together usually stays together."

For five years Mrs. Trapp has been demonstrating music's ability to cement families. Now she is preparing for the sixth season of the 10-day "sing weeks" her family sponsors for the public each summer at their music camp in Stowe, Vt. This time Mrs. Trapp is expanding the program to include all the recreational activities a family can enjoy, at little or no expense, in the home.

"There is no reason why children or parents should ever be bored with each other," she says. "All that is needed is a considerate, loving heart."

Indoors, she explains, her children (there are now seven at home play all sorts of games—guessing games, chair games, potato games.

"We have read our way through an entire library," she says. "One member of the family reads aloud, the others listen attentively, and then there is a family discussion. Also we read the Bible together as a book.

"People are amazed when we tell them how families can celebrate anniversaries, feasts, birthdays, and other special events almost without cost.

We have placed ordinary leaves in patterns on table cloths—they make beautiful decorations. And grass, placed in juice glasses, can be extraordinarily attractive."

Although she thinks the term is "too presuming," Mrs. Trapp says that at her headquarters at Stowe, on the site of a former CCC camp, she is aiming to teach "the art of living."

"All over the country, people have told me they are worried about family breakups," she says. "A country is only as strong as its families. Allowing them to weaken is a greater menace than the atom-is bomb. I think we should all be studying ways to strengthen family life."

With her husband (now dead) Mrs. Trapp and their 10 children arrived in the United States virtually penniless 10 years ago. As a family group, they have given hundreds of concerts in all parts of the country, presenting the songs they sing in their Vermont home.

Mystery Wheel Of Rocks Puzzles Indian Students

CODY, Wyo.—On the highest point of the western peak of Medicine Mountain, near a ledge that breaks away in a dizzying drop to the Bighorn Basin, lies a crude rock puzzle.

Anthropologists and archeologists don't know quite what to make of it.

This rock puzzle is known to residents of the area as the Medicine Wheel. Oldtimers believe that long ago it was sort of an Indian pharmacy where the tribes either made or procured their "medicine." It's a circle of lumpy stones laid side by side, with a diameter of 70 feet.

Around this rim of the wheel are six small cairns. Each is about two and a half feet high, and open on one side, giving the appearance of a stone armchair.

Five of these have the open side facing the center of the wheel. The sixth, located on the eastern arc of the wheel, faces outward toward the rising sun. The sixth may be a clue to the puzzle.

In the center of the wheel is a sort of rock hub, about a dozen feet in diameter. Radiating from it are 28 spokes of rock, which fan out in vague wobbly lines.

John Spencer, regional U. S. forester for the Rocky Mountain sector, says the Medicine Wheel was on the scene before the Crow tribe came to Wyoming. And the Crows were around long before Columbus broke into the news. The Crows, incidentally, say the sun built the Medicine Wheel, "to show us how to build our teepees."

Scientists incline to the belief that the wheel was a place of worship, most probably sun-worship. In the north of Mexico are crude structures called Houses of the Dawn, or Houses of Light. They roughly resemble the Medicine Wheel, Spencer says, and were unquestionably built for sun worshippers.

City Producers And Royalty Owners Go To Snyder Meeting

Big Spring members of the Sharon Ridge Producers and Royalty Owners association attended a meeting of that organization in Snyder Friday.

Highlight of the function was an address by Erle J. Halliburton president of Halliburton Oil Well followed a barbecue dinner hosted by Halliburton. The meeting was held at the Snyder country club. C. T. McLaughlin, president of the Snyder chamber of commerce, was master of ceremonies.

Among those attending from Big Spring were Marvin Miller, R. V. Middleton, R. W. Thompson, R. P. Kountz, James Duncan, J. H. Greene, Jack Kountz, and Harry Middleton.

Alaska Woman Will Be Secretary To C. Of C. Manager

Edith Gay, Anchorage, Alaska, will assume duties as statistician and secretary to the manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce July 15, J. H. Greene, manager of the local chamber, has announced.

Miss Gay was employed by the Big Spring office from 1937 until 1948, with the exception of a few months during the war. For the past few months she has served as assistant manage: of the civilian club at Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Peter Cooper's Tom Thumb engine, the first American built locomotive to haul passengers, was defeated in a race with a horse pulling a car on another track.

SIX BIG SPRINGERS WIN HEADGEAR

Big Hat Awarded By National ABClub Group For Membership Achievement

No one gets "big headed" in the American Business Club organization, but the national association recognizes that they ought to have a big hat for membership achievement.

The rule is simple. Anyone who enlists three new paid members during a fiscal year earns a "big hat" from the association. Those who achieve this honor automatically become a member of the Big Hat club.

The Big Spring club has ranked only behind Enid, Okla. in the number of members qualifying for this exclusive organization. Six men on the local roster earned Big Hats—Enid had seven. Dallas had six, one of them Chad Rockett, a former Big Spring member.

By clubs, these are the Big Hat members for the year:

Allentown, Pa. — Clarence W. Best, Howard S. Seidel, Clyde R. Minich, Walter Koch; Alva, Okla. —Harold Hartwig, Fred Langebach, Joe Dollins, Eldon Hall, Archie (Bud) Hill; Atlanta, Ga.—Wesley H. Heston, James F. Ball, Jr.

Big Spring—Carl H. Gross, R. E. McKinney, Luicous Saunders, C. N. Staggs, Merrill Creighton, Roy Bruce; Charleston, W. Va.—J. L. Baldwin; Cherokee, Okla. — Max Rodgers; Chickasha, Okla.—Garland Davis, Howard Cost; Clovis, N. M.—Bruce Smith, Al Taylor, W. T. Baughman, Ernest Harrison, Jr.

Dallas—W. W. Fair, Jr., Donald E. Bowles, Chad Rockett, Alfred H. Benjamin, H. H. (Hap) Hallahan, George E. McCormick, Jr.; Dayton, Ohio—W. A. Ewing; Decatur, Ill.—Dudley Davidson, Ben R. Harshbarger, Ralph A. Linder; Durham, N. C.—H. E. Wilkinson; Grand Rapids, Mich.—Henry Douglas.

Enid, Okla.—Jim Odum, Richard Clinesmith, Louis Gragg, Cecil Munn, H. L. Jackson, George Newell, Dr. George Webber; Huntington, W. Va.—Lyle A. Smith, Jess Colbert, H. F. (Doc) Cansler; Louisville, Ky.—E. L. Fahrenberg; Lubbock, E. O. (Doc) Stewart, Ed Hambright; Muskegon, Mich.—Larry W. Wilson; Newark, N. J.—Dr. William E. Caffrey.

Norristown, Pa. — Melvin Meeser; Odessa—A. C. Bassttt, Earl L. Francell; Ponca City, Okla.—Kenneth Miles; Pottstown, Pa.—C. S. Grubbs; Savannah, Ga.—C. H. Hawley, Jr., Troy L. Stanfield, Jr., Thomas F. Coffey, Jr.; Spruce Pine, N. C.—R. E. Lewis.

TREASURER—Holder of the purse strings for the American Business Clubs is G. B. (Barney) Blackwell, Danville, Ill. Blackwell was appointed to his post last year, succeeding J. A. Miller, Danville. He is branch manager for a national paint concern, father of two children. Since 1940 he has been an ABClub member and last year served his chapter as secretary.

Athletic Events Are Sponsored By Local ABClub

In emphasizing a year-round program of clean sportsmanlike athletics, the Big Spring ABClub sponsors a number of athletic events each year.

In addition to originating and promulgating the Texas Six-Man Football Coaches school, the local ABChapter has annually promoted the Big Spring Relays and a Girls' Invitational volley ball tournament each spring.

In planning and unreeling the tourneys, ABC'ers bear all expenses and provide trophies for the winners of the various events. Net proceeds are divided among the participating schools.

Fourteen high schools—all of district 3-AA—entered contestants in the Relays last spring, while 20 teams took part in the volley ball tourney. A Texas Six-Man Football Coaches Association was formed at the six-man school held here under the sponsorship of ABC last August.

Arkansas produces about 90 per cent of the nation's bauxite and also contains the nation's only diamond mine.

Retailing Offers Big Future To Grads

By GEORGE PLANT
National Retail Dry Goods Assn.

In the face of current slacking of business activities, June graduates, at both college and high school levels, are casting apprehensive glances at employment opportunities offered by various industries. Retailing comprises one of these opportunities because it is normally one of the greatest employment resources for young people who can enter it usually with little or no previous experience or training.

Will there be jobs in retailing for this year's crop of school graduates? Of course there will. There always have been in the past and there will be good opportunities this year for those who are sincerely interested in distribution and really have something to bring to it.

Just wanting a job to make money will not be the answer. Stores will be more selective. The student must not only have the required personality qualifications but a sincere and alert interest in people and in serving them courteously and efficiently.

There are plenty of factors at the moment which might justify a pessimistic view of retail job possibilities. Retail sales have temporarily stopped their steady surge upward. Prices are suffering. Customers are more selective in their purchasing and more critical of quality and service. Store operating expenses are increasing, raising further their "break even point." Better selling and servicing are increasingly needed to maintain sales volume.

On top of this, retailing is threatened with Federal wage controls from which it has heretofore been exempt and with proposed substantial minimum wage increases in some states. If these legislative proposals should be enacted they will adversly effect job opportunities for young inexperienced workers because stores would have to rely on more mature and experienced people. This legislature threat is the greatest single negative influence confronting students and especially those at the high school level.

But in spite of this, retailing always needs new blood—young ambitious people. It does this year.

Job opportunities will vary, of course, by local areas but generally they will not be too much lower than last year. High school students will probably find upon graduation immediate employment opportunities reduced, particularly in those cities where the stores close one business day a week during the summer months. But full hiring activities should reflect a pretty normal employment market.

As to college graduates with potential executive qualifications, there will be fewer opportunities than heretofore. Stores are still recruiting on the campuses, are still feeding in new candidates to their promotion training squads, but these squads are currenlty reduced in size. The trend of business during the coming few months will determine if and by how much such squads may be expanded.

The school graduate should review his own personal inventory to see if he has the qualities retailing requires. Most of those who do and are serious in selecting retailing as a career should make the grade. Those who are uncertain about themselves or think of retailing merely as a place to make big money fast without long hard work will find the going much tougher.

Lowbrows Pay To See Castles

LONDON, (AP)—Any lowbrow in Britain can see a nobleman's big house with a real live nobleman inside for only two shillings, sixpence, the same as a half dollar.

The lords are throwing their places open on holidays at that admission charge to raise money to pay the upkeep. It's getting to be quite the thing. High income and death taxes make it necessary. If you're really in the chips here, you pay the government as much as $3.80 of every $4 you earn.

The Marquess of Northampton runs castle Ashby Hall at Northampton. He's offering a cut price of a shilling—20 cents—to get into his gardens. He does business on Thursday, Saturday and back holiday afternoons.

The Earl of Derby takes visitors at Knowsley Hall, Liverpool, and the Marquess of Bath at Longleat, Wiltshire.

Lord Northampton, 63, said taxes have been so high he hasn't made a penny off his 10,000 acres in 10 years and has been living off his capital. He's managed to hang on to his paintings and other treasures.

"I am opening the house," he explained, "to meet some of the cost of maintaining the valuable things we have here."

Price Index Down

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Wholesale market prices dropped an average of one per cent during the week ended June 21, the Labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

The Index stood at 153.2 per cent of the 1926 average, which is figured to be 100. It was 2.1 per cent lower than a month ago and 8.3 per cent under a year ago.

Pro, Con Given On Health Insurance

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Here are some of the main arguments, pro and con, regarding the controversial national compulsory health insurance program.

1. Proponents say "tens of millions" of our people lack adequate medical care—and the only way to assure it is through compulsory prepaid sickness insurance based on payroll deductions. Says the opposition: There's no evidence for such a figure in the healthiest country in the world. Moreover no one who has even sought or desired medical care has been denied it.

2. Proponents: Assurance of medical care and treatment is the key to the nation's health. Opponents: Better nutrition, housing, clothing and recreation programs are just as important to the nation's health as medical care.

3. Proponents: The proposed program, by safeguarding health, will make us a stronger nation. Opponents: "Socialized medicine" will undermine our democracy. It's the first step toward the regimentation.

4. Proponents: The present system of medical care is too expensive—only the rich can really afford adequate care. Opponents: There's no cry from the vast majority of middle class people, or rural groups for the government's plan.

5. Proponents: The quality of medical care would be improved. Opponents: Medical care would drop from first rate to third-rate.

6. Proponents: There would be better distribution of medical care. Opponents: No system of compulsory health insurance will affect the distribution of doctors, dentists or nurses.

7. Proponents: Doctors will be just as free as they ever were. They can choose the patients they want, and patients will be free to pick their doctor. Opponents: It will be "state" medicine—with both doctor and patient responsible to the government. The doctor will only be "free" inso far as he abides by government regulations.

8. Proponents: There will be no political interference with doctors. Administration of the plan will be handled by local groups in the doctor's own community. Opponents: The government still will be the boss.

9. Proponents: The plan will cost no more than is now spent by the American people on medical care. Opponents: The plan will cost "billions" annually, and moreover, bureau after bureau will be added.

10. Proponents: "Voluntary" plans of health insurance have not solved the problem of medical care. Opponents: Voluntary plans will do the trick where the need exists.

11. Proponents: Under the traditional system of paying for medical care, people are often saddled with big bills at a time when they have no funds. Opponents: The people are already saddled with all kinds of payroll deductions.

12. Proponents: There will be no abuses of the system. People won't demand excessive services. Opponents: Oh, yes, they will. We'll become a nation of hypochondriacs.

CITY NAMED FOR WATERING POINT

ABClub Conclave Being Held In Big Spring Centennial Year

American Business Club delegates, here for the national convention, may be interested to know that their meeting falls within the Big Spring centennial year.

It was on Oct. 3, 1849 that Capt. R. B. Marcy and a detachment of soldiers came upon the spring for which the city is named. So far as is known, Capt. Marcy is the first white man to chronicle an account of the watering point which for generations had drawn Indians and bison alike.

Capt. Marcy put Big Spring down on the route he laid out for westward bound settlers. Few apparently used it, out the buffalo hunters utilized the discovery. By the time the T. & P. railroad extended this far westward in 1881, the terrain was splotched by huge stretches of buffalo bones. These were stacked and shipped as the village's first commercial industry.

While hunters were all but obliviating the bison, ranchers were moving into the area. Vast public domain, unspoiled and unfenced, gave many a pioneer cattleman a healthy start. Ranch empires subsequently flourished, one of the most fabulous in this area was the Long S outfit operated by Col. C. C. Slaughter of Dallas. The spread included several counties.

Legendary characters were attracted, among them the Earl of Aylesford, an English nobleman who bought himself a hotel, saloon and meat market while in the process of settling to drown his sorrows. Early day toughies sometime found Rangers on their trail, not that the sheriffs couldn't and didn't control the situation.

The city became a distributing point for a vast area. Big mercantile establishments "freighted" supplies more than 150 miles, frequently serving points in New Mexico. Notes scrawled on wrapping paper were all the evidence needed to load out a car of chuck. Supplies for building of Post City and other communities were carried in wagon trains from here. One rancher employed a long train of oxen to transport goods.

All the while the T. & P. shops constituted the main source of revenue, having been located because of the water supply. Saloons dominated the small business district and cowboys rode through them occasionally shooting out mirrors.

By the turn of the century the ranch domains were yielding. Gradually they broke up and squatters took over to discover that cotton would produce in this area. Then came grain sorghums and other crops to touch off a wave of agricultural development.

Big Spring got the oil fever in 1919 when S. E. J. Cox, a flamboyant promoter, did extensive wildcatting and actually hit a well that never produced commercially. This never subsided and in 1926 the first producer was brought in. This ushered in an unprecedented boom that increased population from little over 4,000 to more than 13,000 in four years time. Today more than 1,500 oil wells dot the surrounding country. With them came Cosden with the largest inland oil refinery in the country.

The community got up off the mat in depression days and landed the Big Spring State hospital. In 1942 Big Spring became the home of a bombardier training school, and at the close of the war the city was selected for site of a six million dollar Veterans Administration hospital, now nearing completion. In the past decade, with tourist trade, agriculture, livestock, industry and business expanding, the city boosted population near the 20,000 mark.

Today, with numbers of institutions including a junior college and four private hospitals, three commercial airlines, three buslines and several trucking operations, it is accounted as a "shopping, transportation and medical center."

HOUSING—Providing space for delegates to a national convention is no small matter. This year it has been entrusted to A. Lee Harris, past president of the Big Spring chapter, and current cabinet secretary for district No. 6. Harris has responsibility for seeing that delegates are adequately housed for the three-day parley.

RODEO ARRANGER — With dates of the National American Business Club and the anual Big Spring World's championship junior rodeo coninciding, the Western show fits in as a natural into the convention program. In charge of arrangements for the ABClub is Dr. Howard Schwarzenbach. He works with the Jaycees, producers of the rodeo, and with Ray Griffin, chairman of the transportation committee.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN—Douglas Orme, a past president of the Big Spring club for the American Business Club national convention starting here today. Orme has been one of the leading figures in the local club for more than a decade.

Orme Is Named District ABC Club Governor

Tallest in the saddle of some 1000 ABClub members in 16 chapters spread over four states is Douglas Orme, Big Spring American Business Club member and governor of district six.

The Big Spring oil man was elected district governor at the ABC convention in Oklahoma City last September by delegates from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas.

Vice president in charge of traffic for Cosden Petroleum corporation, Orme first joined the Big Spring ABClub in 1940 shortly after coming to Big Spring. He was elected president of the local AB-Chapter in 1942 and served in that capacity for one term. He also served on the local board of governors for a number of terms.

The Cosden vice president has taken a leading role in activities of the Big Spring club since becoming a member and has had a hand in promoting scores of community projects supported by the organization.

Born in Strawn, Texas, the district governor likes to be known as a "native Texan." He came to Big Spring from Fort Worth. He has been associated with the Cosden Petroleum corporation since 1929, prior to which he was employed by the Texas and Pacific railroad.

Utah, first in gold mining, was probably the last area in the continental United States to be explored.

Elbow Benders Call Off Party

CHICAGO (AP)—Jingle, jingle, little jar

Now we wonder where you are.

So goes the lament of the Elbow Bender Regulars. They're steady customers at the Cycle Inn tavern. They tossed their loose pennies into a jar on the bar for almost a year. The coins piled up until there were about 8,000 of them. The Regulars figured it would be filled in a few more days. Then they'd have a free beer party.

But there will be no party. A thief walked off with the jar.

ABClub Active In Big Spring Civic Affairs

One of the most active organizations in Big Spring for the past year has been the American Business Club, judging from the length of the list of projects sponsored by the civic group.

Led by two presidents, Charles Staggs and Pete Green, the local ABClub has erected school safety signs, sponsored an indoor circus, operated rodeo concessions, prepared and entered a float in the Christmas parade, assisted in opening the North Side City park for Negro citizens, and conducted the Six-Man Football Coaches

Each Christmas the club aids the Salvation Army in making collections for the needy and distributes baskets of food to needy families. The organization takes a part in all community projects Red Cross drives, YMCA projects, and Community Chest collections.

The club attempts to encourage youth participation in community affairs as a means of eliminating the juvenile problem.

The Big Spring ABC'ers originated the Texas Six-Man Football Coaches school and has sponsored the clinic for the last three years. Emphasing a clean recreational and athletic program, the civic organization had as its basic project for a number of years the improvement of the West Side City park.

It was responsible for the construction of fences and the installation of a number of recreational facilities there. Surely it lives up to its slogan: "The only excuse for the existence of this club is the good it does for the community."

Reeder, Mrs. Green Still Are Members Of Big Spring ABClub

Only two of the charter members of the Big Spring ABClub are members of the local organization at present.

Roy Reeder, a past president of the club, and Helen Duley Green, initial sweetheart of the organization, have been members continuously since the formation of the Big Spring chapter in 1935.

Mower In Vacuum

ALTUS, Okla. (AP)—It stopped traffic but using an electric vacuum sweeper did the trick in cleaning up R. W. Moore's front lawn.

Moore decided to try the sweeper after his dog, Rip, scattered feathers over the front lawn. All the feathers were quickly gathered by the sweeper, but not before a gallery of neighbors and passers-by had collected.

Entertainment Is Planned For Wives Of ABC Delegates

Wives of delegates to the American Business Club national convention here this week will find activities enough to occupy their attention while husbands are at business sessions.

With Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Big Spring XYZ (Auxiliary) president in charge, wives of local ABClubbers will host a series of events.

Visiting women will share in the reception at 7 p. m. today in the Settles ballroom. At 11:30 a. m. there will be a luncheon, followed at 1 p. m. by a theatre party at the Ritz.

A tea at the Country Club is scheduled as a mid-afternoon affair, being terminated well in advance of the buffet supper for all conventioners at the Settles at 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday and Wednesday women will share in the joint luncheons at the Settles. Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. visiting ladies will be feted at a coffee and doughnut party, followed by a tour of the city. They will, of course, have opportunity to take part in golfing, swimming and other relaxation associated with the convention.

ABClub Motto Describes Its Work To A 'T'

"Shoulders Together"— a fitting motto for American Business Clubs.

Typical of the operation of ABClubs is the Big Spring chapter. There is no place for inactive members in the organization. With 96 members it fills 147 positions, giving every member at least one specific task.

In addition to a president, three vice presidents, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms, the organization has a board of directors and 15 committees to man.

Six men make up the board of directors. There are eight ABC members on the music committee, 12 on the civic affairs panel, seven in the publicity group, 11 on the membership committee, nine on the attendance committee, five for program arrangement.

Nine members make up the athletic promotion group, 18 are on the projects committee, eight in the luncheon group, 14 on the social affairs board, six handle hospital and visitation arrangements, 11 produce the bulletin, four are on the new members welcoming committee, eight arrange for the six-man coaches school, and four make arrangements for the annual Christmas party.

Some double duty is required of members in order to fill the 51 extra positions in the club, but local members pitch in, keeping "Shoulders Together".

Indians Planning Big Celebration

WASHINGTON—On June 2 Indians will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the date on which they gained full citizenship.

Although they have been citizens for 25 years many of them did not win the right to vote until last year. The 1948 presidential election was the first in which many could legally cast ballots. The U. S. Constitution excluded Indians from the census that determined, on a basis of population, each state's representation in the House of Representatives. Many states later interpreted this as excluding Indians from elections.

The 14th Amendment, adopted in 1866, gave citizenship to all persons born or naturalized in the United States. But still many Indians were excluded from elections.

Then in 1870 the 15th Amendment provided that the right of citizens to vote should not be denied by any state on account of race, color "or previous condition of servitude." The 1924 law extended citizenship to Indians born in the United States. But as late as 1936 seven states—Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho, South Dakota, Colorado and Utah—withheld voting rights.

Familiar Figure To Greet ABClub Delegates Here

Delegates to the national convention of the American Business Clubs will find a familiar figure here to greet them.

He is Carl Gross, who served as delegate from the local chapter to the national convention last year. At Savannah, Gross spearheaded the drive which landed Big Spring the convention.

Gross has had a prominent part, too, in shaping the current convention. He was in charge of the entertainment committee, a key unit in convention planning. As national program chairman, he will preside at the final joint luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Settles.

Gets A Promotion

Private Jeff D. Cross of Route 1, Big Spring, has recently been promoted to that grade in C Battery of the 507th AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion, a unit of the 138th AAA Group, at Camp McGill, Honshu, Japan.

Pakistan Border Causes Trouble

NEW DELHI, Inia — Afghanistan and Pakistan are fighting a propaganda war over a strip of tribal territory which gave the British no peace during their reign in India.

The area, known as "Tribal Territory" or "Independent Territory" lies along the so-called Durand line between Afghanistan and Pakistan. The question of whether the territory should become part of Pakistan, be independent or join Afghanistan has severely strained relations between the two Moslem nations. Informed sources say the severance of diplomatic relations may result and that the possibility of an armed clash cannot be ruled out entirely.

One of the coolest known forms of light is that given off by the firefly.

Perils Of Big City

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—John Dunn of Price, Utah, thought Butte was a mighty hospitable town when a stranger entertained him in a local bar. He thought differently when he reported later to police that he'd like to have them find his shoes, hat and $15—also the friendly the stranger.

ABClub Lauded For Good It Does In Community

"The only excuse for the existence of this club is the good it does for the community," Big Spring ABClubbers assert. They then embark on a program to demonstrate their remarks.

Participating in practically every community project from Red Cross drives to park improvement and expansion, local club members have set up a long range program that would challenge the ability of any group; to wit:

The object of the Big Spring Chapter of the American Business Club shall be:

To quicken the appreciation of the human and spiritual rather than the material values of life.

To promote the application of higher social, business and professional standards.

To develop by precept and example a more intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship.

To provide through member clubs a means for the cementing of friendships, the rendering of altruistic service, and the wholesome upbuilding of communities.

To co-operate and collaborate with other civic bodies in the development and maintenance of high civic idealism and consciousness.

Siamese Macbeth Runs Ten Nights

BANGKOK, (AP) — It is doubtful whether the theatre has ever seen a Macbeth as exotic as the Macbeth of Bangkok. It ran for ten nights in a modernistic theatre to almost full houses and to the bewilderment of a few visitors from the western world.

Startling were the totally unexpected soprano solo "Danny Boy" by Lady Macbeth, the sudden appearance of a 19th century ballet of rose-bedecked beauties and the playing of Banquo's ghost British pub style a seeming French apache with a cavalry sword.

But far more startling was the realization after more than four hours of potpourri—despite the fact the words spoken were in Siamese, the acting was definitely amateurish, and the intermissions filled with vocal solos—despite all this, the majesty and the powerful impact of Shakespeare's drama of overvaulting ambition came through even to a spectator who could not understand the language.

The Siamese audience was enthralled throughout at the first Macbeth in Siam. For its producer-translator-sound effects man and announcer, Krumit Chandruang, had done an amazing thing. He had brought Shakespeare to the everyday people of Bangkok. Krumit, graduated in 1940 from the University of California at Los Angeles, is author of "My Boyhood in Siam", a best seller a decade back in the United States.

A short young Siamese of boundless energy, Krumit said he dared to rewrite Shakespeare because he hopes to develop in his native land an interest in the western classics.

The surf bird nests in the mountain tops of central Alaska but winters in South America. For nearly 50 years after the bird was given its scientific name, ornithologists were unable to locate its breeding ground.

Indian Road Men To Study In U. S.

NEW DELHI, (AP)—A third group of Indian government road engineers assigned to study in the United States is leaving for America.

This group, including one engineer representing the central government and eight from Indian provinces and states, will remain in the United States 18 weeks. The engineers will attend a course of lectures provided by the Public Roads Administration of the federal government and study application of road-building techniques.

Other groups of road engineers studied in America in 1946 and 1947 and the invitation of the United States government.

Attend Short Course

Two men from Big Spring, Johnny O. Johansen and George H. Vineyard, were among a group attending a Texas Nurserymen's short course conducted at Texas A. & M. college this past week.

Famed Gaiety Theatre Has New Lease On Life

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON, June 25. (AP)—London's famed Gaiety Theatre, closed since 1939, may reopen soon. For 10 years it has been a ghost standing in Aldwych.

It was known as the original home of the Glamor Girl, old timers of the Edwardian era get raisty-eyed when they think about it. They say it had the "most famous stage door in the world."

The Gaiety was used badly by changing times and the war. Nazi bombs tore holes in the roof.

But even now memories of its glories are so vivid that the London County Council which owns the ground under it couldn't tear down the old building. It was permitted to stand idle on the city's highest priced real estate, a sort of shabby monument to the brighest age of the London theatre.

PERMIT GRANTED

Now the ministry of public works, which controls concrete, paint, lumber, and other materials, has agreed to permit a modest amount of repair and Actor Lupino Lane, turned business man, has undertaken to bring back the Gaiety.

"There are still some official obstacles,' Lane says, "but we hope to be going by Christmas."

Perhaps few theatres on earth are as rich in legend or have a history as colorful.

Gaiety Girls made good, a half dozen of them marrying into the nobility and many becoming wealthy. Glamorous Daisy Roche became Lady Greer. Gertie Millar became the Countess Dudlet. Rose Boote became Lady Headfort.

Others crashed into the millionaire class, and they did it in on 30 shillings ($6) a week. For whatever creditable might be said of the old Gaiety, it was not lavish in the payroll department. Thirty shillings in the chorus with stars getting up to 10 pounds ($40) a week.

Yet it was necessary, soon after the turn of the century, for the Gaiety to post a notice backstage:

PAY POLICY

"Will ladies earning less than three pounds (12) weekly kindly refrain from drawing up to the stage door in their own carriage-and-pair?"

The pay policy, in those light-hearted days, took into account the fact that a good Gaiety Girl might be getting incidental cash from admirers. So the treasurer calculated that 30 shillings was enough to support a girl, a team of horses and a barn.

Among the Gaiety's historical notes is the record of the chorus lady who pouted because the mean old management wouldn't let her roll up in her carriage. Never mind, said an admirer, "the notice didn't mention automobiles." So he gave her an automobile at a time when few peers of the realm owned one.

Another lady expressed a wish for some grapes. An admirer covered himself with distinction by finding the daintiest grape vine in all Spain, digging it up with a couple yards of soil, and transporting it through storm and danger over land and sea, complete with fruit, to the Gaiety stage door.

The foreign office was involved in another Gaiety incident, the old timers recall. Britain was setting up the empire and it appeared to be good policy to entertain an African chieftain. At the Gaiety he took a fancy to Madge Saunders and insisted on buying her. It was difficult to persuade him it wasn't done that way in England. Miss Saunders, now Mrs. John Henson, still chuckles over the incident.

DOOR FOR ROYALTY

The Gaiety had one door which only the royal family used, and the records indicate that King Edward VII passed through it often.

At the Gaiety, aging men insist in London today, the quaint Edwardian fancy of drinking champagne out of a lady's slipper got a foothold. It is recorded that from the second act onward the more popular girls all had wet feet because of the backstage champagne interludes.

Lady Headfort, now nearly 80, recalls that Gaiety Girls wore tights, called "fleshings" in those days. The treasurer kept his eye on the expense, so the tights were made of cotton.

There were two Gaiety theaters, one built in 1868 and its successor in 1903. The drive behind the later Gaiety in the days of its flowing was the General director George Edwardes.

A press notice at the time of the glittering opening of the modern house in 1903 said it was offering "that fashionable new theatrical invention — musical comedy." That notice is the foundation of the Gaiety's claim to being the original home of the glamor girl.

Almost as well known as Edwardes himself was the watcher at the stage door, a man named Jupp, and he was hard to pass. Money alone could not persuade him to open that door, or to carry in a note.

GAY DECEPTION

But one millionaire, according to the dusty record, eluded him by coming down in overalls and getting a job as an electrician to be near the Gaiety Girl of his fancy. He knew something about electricity and was promoted swiftly to the responsible task of managing the spot light. Whereupon it played long and lovingly on the girl who was the reason for it all. Jupp was humiliated.

Lupino Lane, the actor determined to revive the Gaiety, played on its stage, and so did his family before him. He wants to make it once more the home of glamor. He plans also to establish a school of ballet and to create a center of culture.

There will have to be, Lane supposed, more discipline and a very stern Jupp at the stage door. There probably won't be any cotton tights —except on acrobats.

But he wants to preserve the best of the tradition, and would like to find the son of the wealthy man who once paid a staggering price for the knob on the door of Gaby Deslys' dressing room. The man wanted it as a sentimental paper weight, but his son might sell it back to the Gaiety cheap.

Workmen are carrying out rubble now, and were surprised to find under the stage a bit of a lake. The old timers knew it was some gallons of London's subterranean Holebourne River seeping in. They recalled that all through the years, night and day, the old Gaiety had to pump to keep the water out of the orchestra pit.

ABClub Official Publication Now In Its First Year

A newcomer to the American Business club family is the national official publication—The Ambuc.

Now in its first year, the Ambuc has rolled off its third edition —the convention number. It is packed with club and activity reports, and contains considerable information about the host city and the convention program.

Unlike magazines published by some of the longer-established civic and service organizations, The Ambuc is less formal in tone. Reports of club activities, meetings, etc. are spotted under news heading from their cities. Outstanding projects are saluted.

It's not all business, for feature articles, including hobby pieces such as turned by Dr. William E. Caffrey, national second-vice-president from Newark, N. J. on postmarks.

Each of the bi-monthly issues contains a memo from the president's desk. These contain an accounting of stewardship during the two-month period. They are long on reporting of contacts and names and avoid vague inspiration.

Editor of the magazine is Hal Edinburgh, Danville, Ill.

The science of geography is due largely to developments started by Alexander von Humbolt, a German scholar born in 1769.

Sixth District Co-Hosts For ABClub Meeting

Big Spring ranks as the host city for the 1949 National Covention of the American Business Clubs—but the entire sixth district considers itself as co-hosts.

Sixteen clubs in Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas go to make up the roster for the sprawling district, headed the past year by Douglas Orme, Big Spring, as district governor.

Chapters and their presidents have extended an official welcome to the national convention.

These include:

Keith Hockman, Wakeeney, Kansas; Cecil Wilhite, Alva, Okla.; George Deitrich, Jr., Chickasha, Okla.; Robert Rodgers, Cherokee, Okla.; Vernon Huey (district lieutenant - governor), Oklahoma City.; Flavel Perry, Ponca City, Okla.; Dr. O. R. Mayer, Verden, Okla.

J. C. Lilley, Amarillo, William Fair, Dallas, George Dale, Lubbock, Al Bostick, Odessa, and W. D. (Pete) Green, Big Spring; and from New Mexico, Al Taylor, Clovis. District secretary-treasurer is Lee Harris, Big Spring.

Although Colorado began its settlement with the gold rush, it has been predominantly an agricultural state for many years.

Follows Three Brothers To HS-U, May Follow Them In Journalism

ABILENE, June 25 (Spl)—When Ronald McNair registered at Hardin-Simmons University June 1, for the first summer semester, he became the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover McNair of Gilmer to attend the institution.

The McNairs first began coming to H-SU back in 1937 when Wacil, the eldest, registered for classes. Since that time, excluding three war years, there has been at least one McNair enrolled in the university.

An unusual coincidence which prevailed while the McNairs were coming to the university was the fact that as soon as one became a senior, the next in line registered as a freshman. When Wacil became a senior, Sherwyn registered as a freshman. When Sherwyn finished his under-graduate work, Dalmon enrolled, and Dalmon will graduate in August and Ronald has enrolled.

Wacil, city editor for the Big Spring Herald, dropped out of school in 1942 and served three years in the Coast Guard. He was discharged with a commission in '45. While in the service, he married Margaret Carol Tucker of San Antonio and they have a five year old son, Larry, who may become a member of the graduating class of 1967, H-SU of course.

Sherwyn, a '46 graduate of the University of Missouri, came to Hardin-Simmons to play in the Cowboy Band and to further his musical education. He began taking music courses but before long, he began to take notice of the journalism department and it wasn't long until he surrendered to the romanticism of the reporting world and he changed his major to journalism. He was elected Prand editor in 1944 and also served as President of the Press Club. He took time out from classes in '44 and '45 to serve as a Lieutenant j. g. in Uncle Sam's Navy. He is now on the reportorial staff of the Abilene Reporter-News.

Dalmon came to H-SU resolved to earn a major in the field of journalism come snow or high water. A two year stretch in the Navy where he served as a radioman aboard a cruiser slowed him down a couple of years but he is finishing now. He served as sports editor on the Brand during the '48-'49 semesters, reporter for the Press Club in 1948, and sports editor on the Bronco during '48-'49. He has also been employed in the Publicity department for the past two years.

Ronald, the youngest and the last, was an all-around athlete during his high school days in Gilmer. When he registered at H-SU, he listed his objective as pre-medical work, but he is working on the Brand and he may also get the reporting bug and change his mind about the Doctor.

ABClub Delegates To Receive Copy Of Philips Book

American Business club members attending the natinal convention opening here today will have an opportunity to get acquainted with the city.

And they can do it in the privacy of their rooms, or even after they return home.

As visiting members register, they will be presented with a copy of the Shine Philips book, "Big Spring, A Casual Biography of a Prairie Town." Adding a personal touch to the favors, Philips has autographed everyone of the 200 or so books to be given away.

Although Nevada is the sixth state in size, it is smallest in population.

British Youth Carries Father

LONDON, (AP) — Eight-year-old Alan Ambrose didn't know his own strength.

His father gave him a piggy-back ride and said afterward, "Now what about giving me one?"

Alan, who weighs 72 pounds, picked up his 182-pound father and carried him around with no trouble at all.

Now he does it often—just for fun.

Aeschylus, greatest of the Greek tragic poets, won 13 contests until he was defeated in 468 B. C. by Sophocles.

Many Careers In One Profession Are Open To Registered Nurse

THELMA LAIRD, R.N.
American Nurse's Association ...

The registered professional nurse is an important player on today's health team, helping to make the American dream of health and good medical care for all come true.

Of all those on this medical-sociological team engaged in conserving life, curing illness, preventing disease and disability, the nurse spends most time in intimate contact with the patient and often interprets and adapts the confributions of the other members. Thus, nursing offers unique opportunities to the person whose human interest is keen enough and responsive enough to constitute a real "gift" for people.

There are five major fields for the registered nurse: (1) hospital and other institutional, (2) public health, (3) education, (4) private practice, (5) industrial.

The registration nurse may be a staff member or a director of a hospital nursing service, working in one of the specialties such as surgery, psychiatry, tuberculosis, pediatrics. She may participate in important research. She may be a visiting nurse, the nurse in an industrial plant, or a nurse consultant. She may be an instructor or director in a hospital or university school of nursing, or an expert on a surgical operating team. She may teach in or direct a health education program, using public speaking, writing, and other creative talents.

In war or peacetime she may serve her country as an officer in the Nurse Corps. She may join a Federal Agency such as the Veterans Administration, Indian service, or Public Health Service. She may travel, or work in foreign countries in missions, foreign governments' posts business enterprises, round-the-world health and post-war rehabilitation projects.

To become a qualified nurse, a high school graduate should be a good student, in good health, an accurate worker, a conscientious person, a stable personality, and a truly sympathetic, friendly person.

Since the demand for nurses grows constantly, job security is favorable. Like teaching, social work, and other serve professions, nursing has never paid high salaries, compared with some occupations. However, the professional association's active program for better pay and working conditions has brought marked gains.

Annual salaries for hospital staff nurses range from $1,800-$2,640. In public health, the young nurse may receive $2,200-$3,300. Usually private duty brings $8-$10 per 8-hour day. For the nurse with advanced education and experience, many opportunities offer higher salaries. Many hospitals are adopting the 40-hour week, and schools of nursing are finding that good times are as wholesome for nurses as for other young people.

How does one get started? The most important step is choosing a GOOD school. (1) You may write to the National League of Nursing Education, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y., for advice on schools, scholarships, and so on. (2) Contact the professional nurses' association in your state and community. A letter to the American Nure's Association, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y., will give you names and addresses of persons in your area who can give you dependable information and advice.

Cagle Boomed For National ABClub Head

Being boomed for president of the national association of American-Business Clubs is Roy Cagle, Ashville, N. C.

Cagle, head of a music and appliance business, was drafted as a candidate for the post at the district No. 2 meeting on May 2 in Asheville.

In organizational work, Cagle has served his chapter as president. He had the honor of serving the Second district as its governor during 1945. During his term as district governor, three new chapters were added. Over the entire district there was a tremendous increase in membership.

Not only did Cagle inspire growth, but he was responsible for part of it himself for he is a member of the Big Hat club. This unit is reserved for those who secured three new paid members during a fiscal year.

Cagle has a reputation for being a regular attender at district and national conventions of the American Business Clubs.

The candidate is married and he and Mrs. Cagle have two sons. When not occupied with his business and club affairs, Cagle finds time to devote to farming.

PUBLICITY—Job of informing members over the country concerning the national association of American Business Clubs convention here this week has fallen to Charles Staggs, a past president and veteran member of the Big Spring chapter.

AUXILIARY HOSTESS—Arrangements for entertaining wives of all delegates to the national association of American Business Clubs here this week are in charge of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt. Mrs. Jarratt is president of the XYZ club the auxiliary to the Big Spring ABClub.

Motorcade Slated To Arrive Sunday For ABClub Meet

American Business clubs organize—even their junkets to the national convention

Sunday a regular motorcade bearing delegates from Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle will roll into town after two days of visitation along the route.

The conventioners in this unit flocked originally into Ponca City, Okla., Friday afternoon for a pre-convention party at the Civic Center Teepee. Barbecue and all the trimmings, followed by swimming, boating and other entertainment rounded out the entertainment.

Saturday the ABClubbers pointed to Enid, Okla. for breakfast at the Oakwood Country chapter. Joined by members from the Enid chapter, the entourage continued to Amarillo for an open house party at 6:30 p.m. in the Herring hotel.

There they were joined by delegates from the Panhandle section for the last leg of the trip to Big Spring, 1949 host city for the national convention.

Quincy, Mass., was settled in 1625 and ranks among the oldest permanent settlements in New England according to legend.

Japanese Traffic Changes Slated

TOKYO (AP)—Motorists and pedestrians in Japan soon may be learning the right is the right and not the wrong side for traffic. The Japanese cabinet is considering revision of existing traffic regulations to conform to American style instead of English.

(China switched traffic to the right side of the street during the war.)

Kaneshichi Masuda, chief cabinet secretary, says that the change probably will be adopted. The Public Safety Division of GHQ says that the suggested revision appears entirely Japanese inspired.

RANGE OF TROPHIES IS WIDE

Eight Awards To Be Given At ABClub Meet Here This Week

Eight awards are at stake at the annual national convention of the American Business Clubs here this week.

These range from club efficiency to mileage travelled to the convention and to membership enlistment.

The Lefty Franks trophy goes to the chapter adjudged by the awards committee as having been the most efficient unit. It is based on reports from the chapter president at the convention and on records in the national office. Projects, monthly reports, financial statements, bulletins, membership, attendance, social activities figure in the award. Last year High Point, N. C. won it.

Marathon trophy went to Dayton, Ohio last convention. It is presented to the chapter whose delegates have travelled the greatest aggregate miles (official railroad tables) to the national convention. One point per mile for each registered member and half a point for each registered lady are bases for computation.

For the best chapter bulletin published during the year, the Earl H. Miller Memorial trophy is awarded. Chickasha, Okla. sacked up this honor last year.

The chapter which shows the greatest gain in membership during the fiscal year June 1-May 31 takes the Smith Membership trophy. New and re-instated members net five points each, and dropped members cost five points. Louisville, Ky. was the winner at the Savannah convention.

One of the popular awards is the Charles Mitchel Big Hat trophy. It goes to the chapter having the greatest number of members winning a big hat during the year. (Big Hats go to members enlisting three new members during the year). Last year Verden, Okla. took the trophy. So far this year Enid, Okla. has the inside track.

The Walter Boes Percentage Membership trophy goes to the chapter showing the greatest percentage of increase based on the membership at the beginning and end of the fiscal year. Louisville, Ky., only double winner last year, copped this one.

To the chapter judged as having done the best juvenile work during the past year goes the Dayton Trophy. Points are awarded on the number of members assigned "little brothers," and for the quality of their work with boys. Projects and cooperation with other agencies interested in juveniles figure in. The Lubbock chapter, which sponsors a booming boys club, won last year.

For the member who personally accounts for the greatest number of new members during a year, the Joe Dempf Big Hat award is presented. Walter Flood, an Oklahoman, won hands down last year with nine new members to his credit.

FOOD ARRANGER—Details of breakfasts, luncheons barbecues and banquets have been arranged by Harvey P. Wooten. One of the features of the gathering will be a Western style barbecue with the trimmings. Wooten is a past president of the local chapter and has served in the past as a national convention delegate.

Finances Of ABC Clubs Reported In Excellent Shape

Sound operations of the American Business clubs during the past fiscal year will be reported to the national convention here.

In his last message to the membership prior to the Big Spring gathering, F. H. (Doc) Bachman, Danville, Ill., national president, observed that "it is with pleasure that I am able to inform the membership that the association has been operated on a sound and efficient basis which has resulted in a substantial gain in the net worth of our association."

Details of the financial reports will be presented as an order of convention business.

But financial solidity is but part of the increasing strength. Bachman noted that there was a growing unity between clubs through means of the national association.

"I feel that the general attitude of our membership is one of harmony and good feeling toward our National Association," he said. As a matter of policy the national office has soght to give all possible aid to local chapters. Bachman has kept close contact with all operations of the ABClubs through daily reports from the national offices at Danville, Ill.

The flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near the main building of every public institution.
