HOPE OR HOPELESS?

Barbie Vardy Fund Is Started In C-City

Barbie Vardy will be seven months old Tuesday.

Whether Barbie will live to celebrate her first birthday, June 26, depends on several things.

Born to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Vardy June 26, 1964, in Gallup, N. M. Barbie came into this world with two strikes against her. She was born with a serious birth defect.

Medical term for her trouble is "extra hepatic and intro hepatic biliary artesia." That is the way a surgeon describes both defects. In less technical terms, Barbie was born with no bile ducts, born with no gall bladder. Her liver is badly enlarged and grows bigger each day. She now weighs 8 pounds.

Barbie develop jaundice shortly after her birth. When she was two months old, an Albuquerque doctor undertook exploratory surgery.

The verdict? "Hopeless."

It was then that Barbie's parents decided to move to Colorado City where Vardy grew up. It was a move to be nearer his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Vardy. Vardy is driver of helium transport trucks for Jack B. Kelley Co. and is sometimes as far away as Alaska.

As far away as Minnesota, meantime, a miracle was taking place. Dr. Karel B. Absolon, professor of surgery at University of Minnesota did the first liver transplant on a 13 month old baby with the same defect as Barbie has. Healthy liver of a baby who died of a malformed heart was transplanted.

The operation made medical history and news of it was printed in an Albuquerque newspaper. Barbie's maternal grandmother clipped the story of the medical miracle and mailed it to her daughter Barbara Vardy. Of such small things a hope is built.

If Barbara Vardy, the mother, can get her baby, Barbie, to the University of Minnesota there is a chance that "hopeless" could be changed to hope.

Dr. Absolon has set the tentative date of her admission for March 1 through correspondence with a Colorado City doctor who has verified the baby's condition.

The "if" is the biggest one the Vardy family faces. The cold facts are these: the family does not have enough money. Bobby J. the father, works but sometimes has to wait weeks for a call to go on the road with his load of helium from Amarillo. Barbara, the mother, is working nights as a waitress while the baby's grandmother cares for her and her brothers David, Danny and Boyd.

The grandmother works in the school lunch room at Primary Building, during the days. The grandfather, who suffered a heart attack several years ago, is night clerk at the Villa Inn.

Because the younger Vardys have been in Texas only three months now, there is no possibility of their getting help from any Texas State Welfare agency. In desperation, Barbara Vardy turned to Bill Erwin, chairman of the March of Dimes, staged this year for babies with birth defects. Grand total collected in the drive here was $200.

University of Minnesota has no provision for aiding out of state patients.

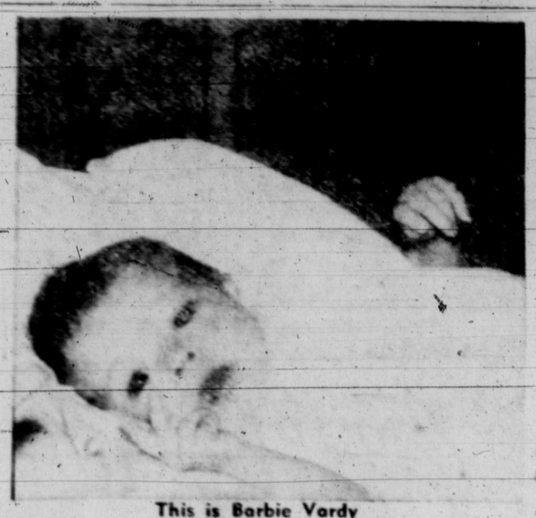

The transplant surgery and care, Dr. Absolon estimated at "about $10,000."

"It might as well have been a million," said Barbara Vardy this week. "But if we could get together some of it, I could work up there, maybe" Mrs. Vardy, incidentally, is an experienced bookkeeper with 15 years office experience. In Colorado City, with four children to care for and a very sick baby, she took the only job she could find to try to save a little money for the trip she wants so much to make.

With this issue the Record, therefore, starts the Barbie Vardy Fund. It is evident that no average family could raise $10,000 between now and March 1. Maybe no average town can either. But if everybody in town gave one dollar . . . maybe Barbie could be a medical miracle, herself!

George Womack, City National Bank vice president, has agreed to be in charge of accepting checks made to the account. All money given to the fund will be held in escrow until the trip to Minnesota is made—"if" it can be made.

Whether or not it can be made at all is the $10,000 question.

FLOWN TO GALVESTON

Silver Boy Is Badly Burned

A seven year old Silver boy, Raymond Moore, was flown to a hospital in Galveston, Saturday morning for treatment of extensive burns.

Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore, suffered second and third degree burns over between 50 and 60 percent of his body, said the Colorado City doctor who treated him in Root Memorial Hospital here.

"He is a very sick boy," the doctor said. The accident happened shortly after school hours Wednesday afternoon after the boy had arrived home by school bus.

Raymond was said to have "poked" a trash fire and his clothes became ingnited. The frightened child ran to his home and put out the fire in the bathroom shower.

Upper portion of his body was severely burned before he extinguished the fire.

Colorado City Flying Service, with Frank Deregibus as pilot, flew the lad by chartered plane to John Seeley Hospital's burn treatment center.

C-City Playhouse

Tryout Night Set To Cast Bus Stop

Tryouts for the third Colorado City Playhouse production, 'Bus Stop', will be staged both Monday and Tuesday night in City National Bank conference room.

Choice of 'Bus Stop' was announced Friday by George Womack, who will direct the drama, and by his assistant readers Joe Earnest and Mrs. L. S. Girvin Jr.

Cast for the production includes five men, three women. Reading for parts, from 7:30 until 9 o'clock Monday and Tuesday evenings, will help choose Playhouse members to play the eight parts to be assigned.

'Bus Stop', written by Wiliams Inge, is first rate comedy drama. The story, as told by Walter Keer, critic, in the New York Herald Tribune, is "A warm and sensible little overnight, scrap between a couple of stubborn, stranded, appealing people.

"A bus out of Kansas City pulls up at a cheerful roadside diner in the middle of a howling snow storm . . . All roads are blocked and four or five weary travelers are going to have to hold up until morning.

"Cherie, scurrying through the doorway in a spangled night club gown and seedy fur jacket, is the passenger with the most to worry about. She has been pursued, made love to and finally kidnapped by a 21 year old cowboy with a ranch of his own and the romantic methods of an unusually strong bull.

"The belligerant cowhand is right behind Cherie, ready to sling her over his shoulder and carry her, alive and kicking, all the way to Montana . . . These two beautifully matched but cantankerous knuckleheads proceed to swap insults, blows and nervous confessions for two and a half enchanting hours." Kerr wrote of the New York production of 'Bus Stop'.

As a background to the main romance, the proprietor of the cafe and the bus driver at last find time to develop a friendship of their own, a middle aged scholar comes to face himself and a young girl who works in the cafe also gets her first hint of romance.

All Playhouse members and prospective members are invited by Womack to attend try out nights and to read for parts.

Date of the Bus Stop production has been set for two nights, Thursday and Friday nights, April 8 and 9 in Junior High School auditorium, Womack announced.

Saturday Is Last Chance

Sitting right on the deadline of poll tax receipt time, Mitchell County citizens have bought anly 676 poll tax receipts.

Deadline for obtaining a receipt is midnight Sunday, Jan. 31. Poll taxes ($1.75 each) can be bought by mail but the money or check must be in the hands of the tax collector before midnight, Jan. 31.

The office will be kept open until 5 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 30.

Monte Hardegree, Mitchell County tax assessor collector, reported at 5 p. m. Friday the all time low figure for poll tax receipts on this date. Hardegree urges all citizens who expect to vote in any election in this state to remember the poll tax deadline date.

"In order to cast a vote in anything except a National election, any Texan must have a poll tax receipt," Hardegree said.

"People who think poll tax laws of Texas have been repealed are mistaken and will be in for a surprise when they want to vote in any state, county, city or school election," he added.

Any number of new state laws are expected to be put before the people during this year, he reminded voters here.

"Any citizen who does not pay his poll tax between now and midnight Friday, Jan. 29 is disfranchizing himself. He can not vote for or against anything all during 1965," Hardegree said.

Handwriting on the wall indicates a possible school bond election here. No poll tax, no vote.

Colorado City will stage an election to name four members to City Council in April. No poll tax, no voice in the election.

Colorado Independent School District will have a chance to re elect three school board members or elect three new ones in April. No poll tax, no say in that important community election.

Special elections being planned right now by Texas Legislators will be concerned with trying to make pari mutual betting legal in his state. Certain forces in the state capital also work toward making sale of alcohol by the drink legal in Texas.

No poll tax, no vote to decide those crucial issues. Those 676 poll tax receipts are simply not enough," said a city official, a school board member and the tax assessor here.

"That's not enough votes to voice the choices of a community of this size," added Hardegree as he issued his appeal to citizens to beat the deadline. And to vote this year.

Ruth Coffey's CONVERSATION CORNER

'SHOP TALK' is an affliction of plenty of people in almost any business.

When a lawyer talks about his briefs he does not refer to his undershorts. His briefs are legal documents. And are usually anything but brief.

Farmers have their special lingo. Refinery men, too. When a Col Tex man says still, for instance, he does not mean a place to cook his moonshine.

* * *

TAKE any two people from from the same business, profession or vocation and they'll communicate in 'shop talk.'

Teachers talk school. Preachers talk church. Nurses talk hospital. Clerks talk store. Law men talk law. Mothers talk children. Athletes talk sports.

You can sit quietly by and accidentally hear enough to identify the way nearly anybody makes a living just by the 'shop talk' they do over coffee . . . at lunch counters . . . or in a cafe.

* * *

NEWSPAPER people are far from immune to the 'shop talk' habit. Get two of them together and you'll hear mouthings about galleys, In a print shop a galley is not an ancient ship. It's a tray of type. Sometimes jumbled.

Ask an editor "Where's the dummy?" and you do not mean the whereabouts of some lost nit-wit. You mean a rough sketch of the way you want a page to look.

Banner is not a prize to be won. It's the lead story with the biggest headline. Head is not where you keep your brains and wear your hair. It's short for headline.

* * *

NEWS office shop talk could confuse an outsider. Make—up is not your compact. It's the way you put a paper together.

To put a papar to bed has nothing whatever to do with pillows and blanket. A paper is always in bed when you're through writing, and proofing, correcting the page proofs. And proof has nothing whatever to do with percentages like 86, 90 or 100.

Mat is not 'something for front porch or bathroom. It's a paper picture to be cast—which has not one thing to do with players in a drama. Cut is not a wound. It's a metal picture.

* * *

SO? So, if some fine day, you stroll in the Record office to hear "What the cast! Dummy's ready. Whistle when you're ready to make up. With 17 galleys set why don't we get to bed?" don't let it startle you.

It's shop talk. Everybody, everywhere does it in one way or another. It's only when 'shop talk' is not your own brand that it gets to be confusing.

Surgery details over lunch, for instance, could be just 'shop talk' to some surgeons. Oh well. To each his own!

* * *

SEEN LATELYS -were Olson Sweatt . . . Thurston Smith of Buford . . . Daisy Gunn . . . Blanche Wilson (Mrs. Frank W.)

In town on business Wednesday was Eleanor Thomas Wheeler (Mrs. Cub) of Midland. She relayed a message from longtime friend Nettie Sneed, also of Midland now.

Saw J. A. Sadler Jr. (nicknamed 'Junior' so long ago it's hard to break the home town habit through he now has naturally "frosted" hair.)

Doug Currie, playhouse acting enthisiast, was an office visitor. Ditto Don McClennen.

* * *

HEAR TELL that A. E. (Mack McCain and his attractive wife Mattie May are moving from Sweetwater to Dallas where he is to manage the Jefferson Drivein Theater.

Mack, retired recently as manager of Sweetwater theaters for Rowley interests, is the keep-busy type by nature.

* * *

FAMILIAR FACES, here and there places, have been those of Roy Coles and Kenneth Franks, Internal Revenue man from Big Spring lunching at the Villa Restaurant together . . . Charlie Godwin.

Luke Nichols and Charlie Freeman, joined by the local columnist, took to reminiscing about the "good old ice wagon" days here in supposed to be dead of winter.

* * *

COFFEE BREAK brought out Joe Earnest and Raymond Webb . . . Judge Austin McCloud, one of the few younger men in town who nearly always shows up in a hat when on the street . . . Clem Myers.

Saw Ruby Hutchings, too . . . The O. L. (Dock) Simpsons . . . Bob May.

* * *

Elton Cooper Participates In Exercises

Electrician's Mate Fireman Apprentice Elton L. Cooper, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Cooper of Route 2, Colorado City, Tex., participated Jan. 6-15 in an amphibious landing operation called MEDLANDEX 1-65 while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Forrestal.

The exercise, which took place on the beaches of Porto Scudo and Caps Teulada, Sardinia, was conducted to give both Marines and fleet units training in conducting full scale amphibious operations.

During the live firing exercise, Marines landed from ships and helecopters. In the helicopter landing phase, called vertical envelopment, Marines are flown over and behind enemy lines to cut off enemy supplies and reinforcements.

Training operations of this type are conducted periodically by units of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean to insure the combat readiness of all elements of the Navy-Marine Corps team.
