Ruby's Moves on Fatal Day Traced

Johnson Starts Busy Slate On World Diplomacy

By STEWART HENSLEY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today plunged deeper into the intricacies of international diplomacy.

Funeral Services Set Tomorrow For Mrs. Gething

Funeral services will be held 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church for Mrs. E. E. Gething after a holy communion service at 9:30 a.m. The family requests no flowers, but asks that all memorials be given in the form of donations to either the Boy Scouts or St. Matthew's. Rev. William E. West will be in charge.

Pallbearers are Clinton Strickland, Charles M. Lockhart, Morris Walker, John Spearman, Jack Segals and Lonnie Kenny. Emmett Lefors, Jim Goff, Charles Webb, Cliff Vincent, Walter Jones, Glen Gallin, Adrain Dial, Fred Cary and M. H. Brown are honorary pallbearers.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery with Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Gething was born in London, England, April 19, 1872. She eloped with Arthur Gething, a Welshman, in 1896. Gething had come to America earlier, and discovered the wonders of the West. He wanted to share these wonders "with his girl back home," so he and his bride came to the Panhandle. They settled on ranchland just southeast of Laketon and 10 miles east of Lefors.

School Board OKs Audit For Year at Called Meeting

The Pampa School Board unanimously approved the 1962-1963 audit at a called meeting at the Junior High School Building Monday.

During examination of figures, Floyd Watson brought to the attention of the board that the increase of $74,122.94 over the cost of operating the schools during the 1961-1962 year was mainly an increase in teachers salaries and other instructional services as required by law. The audit reflected a decrease in the cost of other services.

H. Creel Grady Jr., Dr. R. M. Hampton and J. G. Doggett, auditor, who was invited to the meeting to explain the various accounts within the audit, answered many questions of board member John Gikas concerning the expenses.

The audit showed that over $250,000 of the $3 1/2 million in indebtedness had been retired during the year. The school fund showed a total balance of $84,988.21 as of Aug. 31, 1963.

Gaulle, the President scheduled talks during the day with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and other world leaders who remained after attending President Kennedy's funeral.

The President's first session was a meeting with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia. Others he planned to confer with included Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal and Prime Minister Ismet Inonu of Turkey.

The Selassie meeting was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. and the Mokoyan meeting was scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Johnson obviously was determined to avoid any loss of momentum in U.S. foreign policy, to dispel any ideas that there will be vacillation or confusion following the assassination of Kennedy.

Plans De Gaulle Meeting
The new President announced Monday night, following an 18-minute meeting with De Gaulle, that the French leader would come to Washington next year for a formal meeting. Administration leaders predicted this would take place within a few months, possibly in February.

Johnson also met Monday night with Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

These meetings followed a mammoth reception at the State Department during which the President greeted the leaders of 60 foreign delegations represented at the Kennedy funeral.

After the reception, Johnson met with a group of state governors. He was late for the meeting and explained that he had been talking with De Gaulle, Ikeda and Pearson.

"Canada is such a close neighbor and such a good neighbor," he said, "that we always have plenty of problems there. They are kind of like problems in the hometown."

No Detailed Talks

Johnson, according to his aides, did not contemplate detailed discussions of all manner of problems with the leaders here. But he wanted to make certain that the more important of them understood there would be no change in the basic policies of President Kennedy.

There is bound to be, however, some change in the manner of conducting negotiations since this invariably takes on the personality of the man at the top.

Officials see no possibility that Johnson will be able to do any more than Kennedy could in narrowing the gap between France and the United States on NATO strategy, nuclear defense and the political course of Europe.

Council Acts on Rate, Street Closing Bills

First reading of an ordinance to close Thut St. and second reading of legislation to grant Pioneer Natural Gas Co. a 10 per cent rate increase in Pampa were given 3 to 2 approval by the City Commission this forenoon.

Commissioners Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort cast votes against both ordinances. Mayor H. R. Thompson, Commissioners MacField, McDaniel and Jim Nation voted for the measures.

Commissioner Fort asked that the gas rate ordinance be held up a week to give more time to obtain signatures on petitions being circulated to ask the city commission to call for a referendum vote on the proposed gas rate increase.

Commissioners agreed to leave the third reading of the ordinance off the agenda at next week's meeting to allow time for the petitions to be submitted.

Commissioner Fort said after the meeting that there had been a delay on the petitions because of the events of the past week.

Commissioner Holmes vigorously opposed the ordinance calling for the closing of Thut St. to allow expansion of the Pampa Foundry.

Holmes said he wanted to know if the commission was establishing a policy of closing any street where there might be a business that needed more space.

Mayor Thompson said he thought every request should be handled on its own merits and that the commission should not set a blanket policy. Holmes said he was against closing any public street.

Commissioner Fort said if the closing legislation is finally approved, the matter will eventually be fought out in court. "I am against any more lawsuits against the city," he said.

In other business the commission approved a motion authorizing the city manager to hire trainees to replace several city employees who will be retired in mid-1964.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said he was employing Stanley Chittenden, an employee of Celanese Corp. here from 1948 to 1959, to become a trainee for the post of city secretary and administrative assistant.

Chittenden will go into training for the post to be vacated by retiring City Secretary Edwin Vickers. The city manager also said he would employ Homer Hollar, former manager of the City Water Department, to train for the post of warehouseman and purchasing agent. Hollar will replace C. C. Dodd, city warehouseman. Schmitzer said the warehouse and purchasing agent jobs will be combined. Both Chittenden and Hollar will be paid $3,000 a year. (See COUNCIL, Page 3)

Ruby May Be Aided By Ehrlich

By BRYCE MILLER

DALLAS (UPI) — Jake (The Master) Ehrlich, prominent West Coast criminal lawyer, said today he is willing to consider defending flashy Jack Ruby on charges of murdering the President's accused assassin.

Ehrlich is the flamboyant San Francisco attorney upon whose life the television series "Sam Benedict" is based.

Ruby told his Dallas lawyer, Tom Howard, Monday that he had a "spur of the moment" urge to kill Lee Harvey Oswald to avenge the Kennedy family and because he thought Oswald was part of a Communist plot.

Howard planned to have him plead temporary insanity and stressed that he felt Ruby had been "emotionally disturbed."

Called by Sister
Ehrlich said he got a telephone call from Mrs. Eva Grant Ruby's sister, and that she asked him if he would defend her brother.

Since Ruby already has retained Howard, Ehrlich said she should have him call his San Francisco office.

If the attorney asks Ehrlich to head up or organize a defense for Ruby, would he accept?

"I would give it a hell of a lot of thought," he replied.

Howard was not immediately available for comment, but his wife said that someone from Ehrlich's office in San Francisco had been in contact with her husband.

Howard said a preliminary examining trial probably will be held for Ruby after Thanksgiving.

9 Hurt in Fire At Celanese

Nine workers were injured in a small flash fire at the Celanese Corp. plant, west of Pampa, late Monday afternoon.

The nine men were taken to Worley Hospital. Four were admitted to the hospital. Five were treated and released.

The four men still in the hospital today suffering from first and second degree burns are J. O. Middleton, 637 N. Banks, and Ernest C. Pulse, 1153 Neel Rd., both Celanese employees, and J. E. Bailey of Mobeetie and Dennis Wyatt of White Deer, both of whom are contractor employees.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy said this noon the four hospitalized men were in good condition and that one of them was expected to be released soon.

Celanese officials said the flash fire happened about 5:30 p.m.

Armed Man Seen Atop Building In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report that a man carrying a weapon had been seen on a roof opposite the attorney general's entrance to the Justice Department sent police scurrying across the rooftop of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Building today.

Sergeant T. F. Sullivan of the General Services Administration police detail said an extensive search by officers failed to uncover any trace of anyone on the roof, but that the search was continuing.

The first report of the man on the roof came from a photographer who was waiting for the Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to arrive at the Justice Department. The photographer called the IRS switchboard operator who in turn notified the GSA guard headquarters.

JACK RUBY

Stripper Too Late To Calm Ruby Down

HOUSTON (UPI) — A shapely brunette stripper said Monday night she went to Dallas Sunday to "calm" hot-tempered Jack Ruby, but got there too late.

Cindy Embers, who performs at Houston's San Souci Night Club, said she left Houston early Sunday after doing a show. "I heard Jack had closed his Dallas night spots," Miss Embers said, "and I knew something was wrong. I usually could calm him down."

She said she could not reach Ruby when she got to Dallas and she learned a short time later he had shot accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

"My first reaction was shock," Cindy said. "I couldn't believe Jack had killed Oswald, though I felt somebody would."

Cindy, 28, said she had known Ruby for about seven years, and had performed several times in his walk-up Dallas night club, the Carousel.

"He was always a gentleman around me," she said, "but I knew he had a violent temper."

Cindy, whose real name is Mrs. Jack Cole, said Ruby tried to attack her husband one night in the Carousel because he told a joke about the Kennedy family. Cole is a theatrical agent.

"I got between the two before Ruby could do anything to my husband, and I managed to calm him (Ruby)."

Ruby had strong feeling about Kennedy and would not allow any of his comedians to tell jokes about the president or his family," Cindy said.

Miss Embers said she doubted if Ruby ever knew Oswald and she said she had never seen Oswald in Ruby's club.

"If Oswald had ever come in the club and said something about the President, Ruby would have thrown him down the stairs," she said.

She said Ruby carried a gun to protect large sums of money he sometimes had with him.

Activities Unknown At Time of Shooting

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, charged with killing suspected assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, was confirmed at the Dallas Morning News ad department before and after President Kennedy was shot but a 25-minute gap straddled the 12:31 p.m. shooting time.

The News office is four blocks from where Kennedy was hit by a sniper's bullet.

The Newspaper said today its advertising men could account for Ruby from 12:10 p.m. to 12:20 p.m. and from "about 12:45" p.m. until "about 30 minutes after it happened."

The News said Ruby was in the paper's cafeteria at about 11 a.m. Donald Campbell said he noticed when Ruby came into his department because it was 12:45 p.m.

John Newman, who ordinarily handled advertising for Ruby's night clubs, said he returned at "about 12:45" from watching the Kennedy parade and Ruby was in the office.

Newman said that "about 30 minutes after it happened" someone shouted "the President's been shot twice. They think the guy who did it is up in that building up there."

Newman and another ad man said Ruby looked extremely shocked.

"He had a look of disbelief on his face," Newman said, "just as I'm sure I did. He was very, very upset."

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said he would ask the death penalty and requested that Ruby be held without bond. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown will rule.

Tom Howard, Ruby's attorney, said he will apply for a writ of habeas corpus next week and will ask that his client be freed in bond.

It was 10 minutes past the noon deadline.

"He was all wound up," Campbell said. "He remarked what a 'lousy business' he was in..."

Campbell said he left Ruby alone in the office at 12:20 p.m. No one at the newspaper, the News said, would confirm seeing Ruby.

Three Investigations Open in Assassination
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three major investigations were developing today into the assassination of President Kennedy and the murder of his accused slayer, Lee Harvey Oswald.

The inquiries by the FBI, the State of Texas and, possibly, the Senate Judiciary Committee were expected to reveal all the details surrounding the death of the President to choke off at once any of the inevitable rumors of a "plot."

As one senator remarked, "some people debated for a century whether John Wilkes Booth killed Lincoln, now is the time to get the whole story (of the Kennedy assassination)."

"Ever hear of a fire buff? Well Ruby was a police buff. He just liked policemen," Kelly said.

Former Partner Describes Ruby As 'Police Buff'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A former partner of Jack Ruby said Monday night he thought the Dallas nightclub owner was avenging the policeman slain after President Kennedy rather than the chief executive.

"Patriotic he wasn't — a police buff he was," said Herbert C. D. Kelly, who was part-owner and chef in Ruby's Club Carousel at Dallas in 1959.

"If Ruby did kill Oswald for revenge, I believe it would be more over this policeman (J.D.) Tippit than over President Kennedy," Kelly said.

"Ruby wasn't very interested in politics. I doubt that he even voted. The only patriotism he had was for the President's picture on the buck," Kelly said.

He said Ruby was extremely generous and very violent.

"He'd give you the shirt off his back one moment and be fighting you the next... but he was a person of extreme loyalty, and he could have been showing loyalty to the policeman."

ASSASSIN SHOT — Lee Harvey Oswald, center, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, cringes as a bullet fired by nightclub operator Jack Ruby hits him in the stomach as he was being transferred from the city jail to the county jail in Dallas Sunday. Oswald died at Parkland Hospital, the same hospital where the President died. This dramatic photo was made by The Dallas Times Herald staff photographer Bob Jackson. 56TH YEAR

Dear Abby.... Give Him A Deadline And Find Out!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a widower 14 months ago, and he seemed sincere when he told me he would marry me as soon as he unveiled his wife's monument. The unveiling took place last July, and now his excuse is that he doesn't think he should marry until his daughter is married. (She is 20 and as yet isn't even going with anybody.) He has also said in a kidding way that maybe I am too old for him (I am 59). He doesn't take out anyone but me, and is very good to me. He's brought me some nice gifts, and his family seems to like me. Should I continue seeing him, or should I tell him to leave me alone and find a younger woman?

DEAR ABBY: I should like to comment on the letter you printed from a bride-to-be who wanted the popular song, "What Kind of Fool Am I?" sung at her wedding. In 1938 I belonged to St. Agatha's choir. Our director was an organist, a young priest who often played popular tunes during the Holy Mass. Among his favorites were "Deep Purple," "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen," and, of all things, "Heaven Can Wait." Father slowed down the tempo appropriately, but the tunes were recognizable and the effect was beautiful.

DEAR ABBY: Is there such a thing as not having a "head" for figures? Our son made "A's" and "B's" in everything

Club Makes Plans For Future Meets

Hostess for a recent meeting of the Southwesterners was Mrs. Robert Henderson, 812 Bradley Dr.

The group voted to give $25 to Exceptional Child Association.

Secret Pals were asked to bring a gift to the next meeting. Mrs. Henderson gave a demonstration of making fancy coat hangers with yarn and making flowers from egg cartons.

Groceries to be used in the Thanksgiving basket for a needy family were brought, with the exception of the fresh fruits and other perishables.

Refreshments of cake, cokes and coffee were served with chips n' dips by the hostess.

Those attending the meeting were Mes. Jim B. Wilson, Norman Flaherty, Bennie Wood, Eldon Maxwell, Robert Henderson, Robert Elliott, Ferrell Baird, Scott Langford, Carl Laflin, Jim Morris, Larry Anderson, Herman Topper and Evert Revard.

The next meeting, scheduled for Dec. 2, will be held in the home of Mrs. Brooks Hubbard, 1064 Varnon Dr., at 7:30 p.m.

Christmas Plans Made by Club

Following a recent luncheon held by Pampa Lawyers' Wives Club members, a business meeting was held and reports were made by the officers. Mrs. Joe Gordon, president; Mrs. Dick Batson, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Maguire, secretary; Mrs. A. A. Sturgeon, treasurer, made the reports, and announced plans for a Christmas party which is scheduled for Dec. 7.

Others attending were Mes. Roscoe Elmore, Tom Wade, Boyd Taylor, Jimmy Thompson, Arthur Teed, Homer Johnson, John Warner, S. D. Stennis, Bob Gordon, A. J. Carubbi, Tom Braly, W. J. Craig, William Jarrell Smith, Ross Buzzard, Bill Waters, W. R. Ewing, Art Holland, Ivy Duncan and Don Lane.

Mrs. Joe Gordon was hostess for the buffet luncheon and meeting which was held in her home, 1811 Charles.

An arrangement of white spider mums, brass candlesticks and artificial grapes decorated the buffet.

American Secretaries Report That Yankee Doodle Dandies Are Tops

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — When in Spain, watch out for the swains who lurk at every turn of a street — waiting to whisper sweet nothings into a pretty damsel's ears.

When in England, be careful your heart's not hit by the wit of the scholarly men who take a higher road to wooing a dame.

And when in Paris, watch out for the hand-kiss that often travels up the arm.

In Lisbon, meanwhile, a female is apt to be felled by a reserved kind of gentlemanly attention.

The Yankee-Doodle damsels passing on this incidental intelligence about males in Europe just returned from a two-week free trip to the countries mentioned.

The feel their report is somewhat incomplete because they didn't get to Rome — off the agenda. In Rome, the legend goes, males flatter unacquainted females by pinching.

Secretaries Travel

The team of reporting American beauties didn't see Europe as mere tourists. They got the red carpet treatment in cities visited — as part of the winnings stemming from being named to a nationwide corps of 14 "perfect secretaries."

They won the title as a result of a contest sponsored by the Soundscaper Corp., North Haven, Conn. The winners were selected on the basis of essays written by bosses about how it feels to have a perfect secretary in the office.

While in Europe, however, the winners casually studied males in an effort to report back to their bosses about the differences between American and European males.

The report on males was dis-

Time To Think About Christmas Gifts For Friends Overseas

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Although it's much too soon for last-minute, artists to be worrying about Christmas decorations (heavens! I haven't even decided what to do about Thanksgiving), it is time to think about family and friends who are living abroad.

More households carry on an international correspondence what with armed services, businesses with foreign branches, Peace Corps, and romance pulling U.S. citizens overseas.

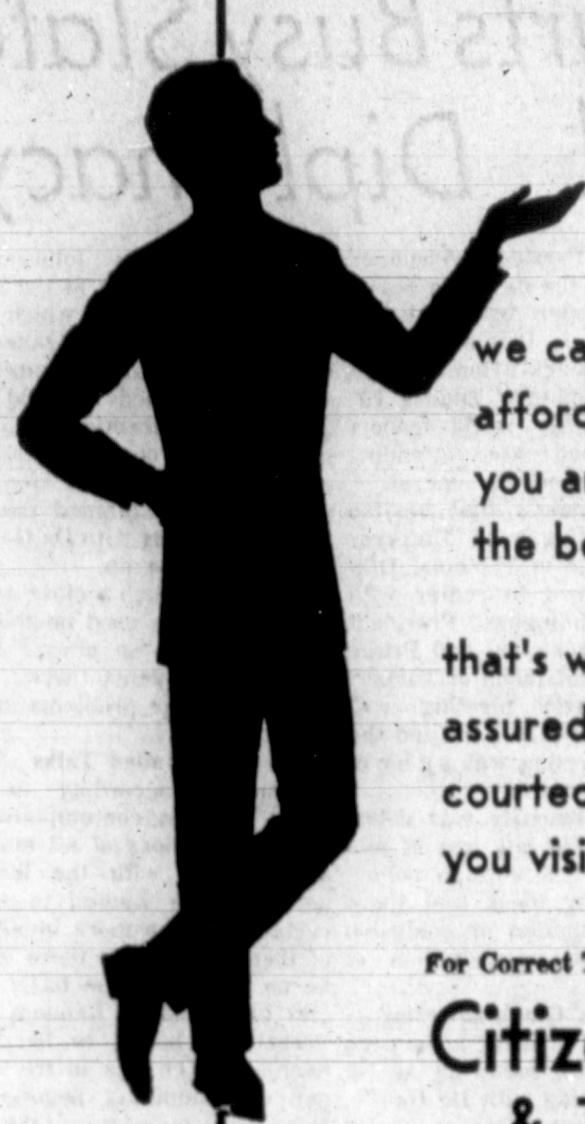

Exchanging holiday greetings with them must be planned well ahead, in fact, the deadline is near. If you like, as I do, to send some inexpensive little gift, find out how much time to allow for boat mail. In writing my sister in South America, for example, air mail letters arrive in about 10 day. But sending gifts by air mail is too costly and the boat-shipped packages take five weeks.

Because Christmas decorations are not ready available in many places, festive-looking gifts are much in demand.

Answering hints from abroad, I am shopping for Christmasy-looking table decorations, and lightweight, unbreakable and washable accessories.

Holiday patterned plastic-coated paperware which can be washed and reused qualifies for the trip. So do the bright printed towels which might double as holiday bibs for the youngest niece or nephew. For the Christmas parties dramatic prints of holly, toys, Christmas balls in bold colors on snow white backgrounds make cloths that are decorations enough for a table.

SHAPE OF SUBS TO COME—Officer appears to be sitting inside a one-man torpedo, but he's actually standing beside an 18-foot-long model of a new type of submarine. Being tested at the U.S. Navy's David Taylor Model Basin at Carderock, Md., the vessel is driven by revolutionary "wrap-around" propellers. Resembling paddle wheels, the tandem props encircle the hull fore and aft. The pitch of the blades can be varied to drive the sub sideways, nose up or nose down or allow it to "hover" in one spot like a helicopter. The full-size sub would be 216 feet long.

Commissioners also opened bids today on the remodeling of the Texas Railroad Commission offices in City Hall. The bids will be studied and the contract let at next week's meeting.

City Atty. Bob Gordon was authorized to defend the city in the district court suit filed last week by John T. Brodie & Co. of Amarillo, seeking $5,921 which the plaintiff said is due on a sewer replacement contract.

Policeman Says Ruby Had 'Chip On His Shoulder'

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, the man who shot Lee Harvey Oswald was described by a police officer acquaintance Monday as "a man with a chip on his shoulder."

Ruby, 32, moved to Dallas from Chicago 12 years ago and runs two night clubs in Dallas. The officer said, "Ruby yearned for attention. If you told him you enjoyed one of his shows, he would put his arms around you and thank you profusely."

"He was a man with a persecution complex," the officer said. "I knew Jack was hot-tempered and quick with his fists. But I never dreamed he would do anything like this."

Terrorists Bomb U.S. Pipelines

PUERTO LA CRUZ, Venezuela (UPI)—Terrorists dynamited a cluster of six U.S.-owned oil and gas pipelines near this northeastern port before dawn Monday, starting a fire that raged all morning, it was reported today.

The wrecked pipelines included three operated by the Mene Grande Oil Company, a Standard-Gulf subsidiary; two belonging to the Mobil Oil Company and a natural gas line operated by a Gulf subsidiary.

A Mene Grade spokesman said the act of sabotage temporarily halted oil and gas shipments through the blasted lines but did not affect the company's operations or its export shipments.

In the "oil capital" of Maracaibo, Gov. Luis Velez Gomez of Zulia State announced the arrest of "several" extreme leftist leaders as an apparent precaution against attempts to disrupt Sunday's presidential election.

Vera said those under arrest included Armando Faria Rincon, known in leftist circles as "Major David," and a number of leftists caught with explosives or subversive propaganda in their possession.

side-saddle at fast speed, singing while she rode. Her saddle is now in the East Texas Historical Museum in Canyon. Once she became lost while riding but her singing was overheard by cowboys who rescued her. "Cowboys are the gentlest, most well-mannered people. They're not mean and rough as a lot of people think," she was quoted as saying.

She also was a nurse on her ranch and for her neighbors. "I've helped bring 50 babies, and not one of them died," she once recalled. She often gave dinner parties and held Sunday School for the ranchers.

Her husband died in 1917 after three years of ill health. In 1954 Mrs. Gething broke her hip and was forced to move to the city.

Mrs. Gething died Monday afternoon at Worley Hospital.

Surviving Mrs. Gething is one sister Mrs. Alice Moseley of England; one grandson, W. E. Gething of Pampa; one granddaughter, Mary Ellen Lilly of Burbank, Calif., and four great-grandchildren.

NEW ROAD BECKONS

After two years of work, the Western Kentucky Parkway, 127 miles of superhighway running from Elizabethtown to Princeton, is open to traffic. LBJ Tells Nikita He Will Follow Kennedy Policies

MOSCOW (UPI) — President Johnson has told Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev he intends to continue John F. Kennedy's efforts to improve relations with the Soviet Union, it was announced here Monday night.

The message was sent in a telegram read on Moscow Radio's home service and carried by the official news agency, Tass. It said:

"On behalf of the American people I should like to thank you for the condolences you have expressed on the tragic death of President Kennedy."

"All President Kennedy's efforts were devoted to the cause of peace and the peaceful settlement of international problems and to improving relations between all countries including the Soviet Union and the United States."

"I intend to continue to strive toward the achievement of these aims."

Connally Sits Up To Watch Funeral

DALLAS (UPI) — Gov. John B. Connally, wounded when President Kennedy was assassinated, sat up in bed Monday and watched the martyred president's funeral on television.

It was a personal loss for Connally, who did not know that Kennedy was dead until the following day. Connally was a friend of the Chief Executive and had served as his first secretary of the Navy.

The governor sent his 17-year-old son John Jr. to represent him at the funeral. His wife, Nellie, stayed with him at the hospital.

Connally was rapidly recovering and Dr. Thom Shires, chief surgeon at Parkland Memorial Hospital, said he is in excellent condition.

Warrior Cagers Loaded With Returning Starters

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

MIAMI — With three starters back from a regional boys' final, and six regulars back from a girls' district champion, Miami basketball coach Lawrence Overcast will again be the threat of the Top O' Texas in both categories.

Although other coaches are practically conceding the girls' crown to the Warriorettes, Overcast warns that the Warriors have a long way to go before they can equal the ability of the team that missed the state Class B title by only two points last year.

Miami fought its way into the finals of the regional playoffs before losing to McAdoo by two points. McAdoo went on to stomp everything in sight on its way to the state championship, and their coach admitted that either Miami or Aspermont, which finished third in regional, could have done the same.

Although only two starters are gone, the pair accounted for almost all of Miami's point-scoring, the bulk of their rebounding and much of the spark that made them great. The pair, both all-region performers, were 6-3 Mark Arrington, the team's leading rebounder, who averaged 18 points a game; and 5-11 Jimmy Flowers, a tremendous rebounder despite his size, and the team's playmaker, ball-handler and 21 point-per-game scorer.

Returning are two other tall and talented rebounders and the other half of the backcourt punch. Jody Holland, 6-2, is generally acknowledged as one of the roughest men on the boards in the area, pulling down 10 per game behind Arrington, a 6-4 winner of Miami's 'Ug' award. Taking over as the big man is 6-4 Ray Guerrero, who came on with a rush to replace 6-2 Jerry Dodson as the fifth man late in the season, and did an outstanding defensive job on such tall men as Bill Trosper of Higgins and Derrith Welch of McLean. Ray's soft scoring touch is expected to take over Arrington's point-getting duties.

Taking over Flower's job will be 5-8 Lewis "Little Un" Holland. An outstanding ballhawk and fast-break artist, Holland is a standout ball-handler, and averaged 10 points a game, making two all-tournament teams last year.

Three lettermen are engaged in an all-out battle for the other two posts, 5-11 Wayne Daugherty, 5-8 Charles Byrum and 5-9 Roy Bean. "Wayne has a lot of promise as a shooter," says Overcast. "He could have started for most teams last year. Bean, who was a regular as a sophomore and laid off last year, has speed and tremendous jumping ability. Byrum is a real good outside shot."

Also expected to see plenty of action is 5-7 junior Jimmy Cone, 5-9 soph Gary Lister, who will be out until district with an injured knee, and 5-7 Dave Bowers, a ball-handling whiz.

The Warriorettes are literally loaded with tall, talented and experienced personnel, featuring all three starting forwards, one starting guard and two others who started a number of games, all running from 5-6 1/2 to 5-9 as the Warriorettes will average 5' 8" in height.

Connie Dodson, all-district junior forward, 5-8 1/2, who averaged 23 points a game last year, has completely recovered from a knee injury due to an auto accident last spring, and is back pumping baskets, backed by equally tall and talented senior Marilyn Murphy, the post-forward and leading rebounder, who was honorable mention all-district as she averaged 18 points a game. Cheryl Gill, 5-7 senior, will again set up the plays. Ruth Cunningham, 5-6 1/2 senior, will again return at guard, as will 5-7 soph Cindy Coffee and 5-9 rebounder soph Martha Paris.

Returning lettermen include 5-1 Cheri Jackson, 5-5 Jo Lynn Flowers and 5-7 Etavie Sirmann. Two promising freshmen add even more height, 5-8 Beverly Weise, stand-out on a district junior high champ, and 5-7 Judy Anderson.

"The boys have a long way to go to achieve last year's poise and finesse," warns Overcast. "But they may be able to do it... we're playing the toughest schedule we can get to give them the experience. Toughest teams in the district would be Allison and Wheeler, in my book. Allison has finesse and 6-2 Lonnie Richardson, the best boy in the district. Wheeler has size and all-district Mendall Hunter. Briscoe is young, but has size, Mobeetie has Ray Corcoran and Kelton shouldn't give too much trouble."

Overcast admits that the Warriorettes, who rang up a 23-6 record, losing to Follett in bi-district, should be favored to repeat, but lists Wheeler, with size and experience, as the number one threat. Mobeetie, Kelton and Allison all could threaten, with Briscoe the only non-powerhouse.

No Experience Pampa Problem

What do you do when you lose your entire starting team and have only three lettermen back for the new basketball season?

If you are Terry Culley, coach of the Pampa Harvesters, you have two-platoon!

Culley explains "With no starters and only three lettermen back, we definitely lack experience. With two of the lettermen football players, who will need some time to get into shape, we're just going to have to wear the other teams down. We'll have 13 boys out and we're going to run two starting quintets four minutes each every quarter. That way all of them will get experience and the football boys will get in shape. We'll three-and-four-platoon, if necessary too. We may run one team in of our tallest boys, to dominate the rebounds and play a slow game, and we may alternate them with our fast men, who'll press and fast break. We're just going to work it every way we can to give these kids experience and ability to take a district contender."

Culley climaxed his tenth year of coaching the Harvesters last season with a powerhouse that romped through district undefeated. Graduated however, are All-State Randy Matson, district scoring leader Wayne Kries, Keith Swanson, Gordon Balch and Donnie Ayres, with Gary Sikes being ineligible this year.

Returning are 6-3 senior Charlie Price, 6-0 Kenny Hebert and 5-9 Ricky Stewart. Price is slated for a major portion of the rebounding duties, and is figured to be the top scorer among the big men. Hebert, with his drive and deadly jump shot, and Stewart, with his smooth ball-handling and outside shooting, are figured to carry a large share of the work when they round into shape.

Expected to replace Matson as the man to fight off the big boys like Ronnie Peret of Plainview is 6-6 sophomore David Cain. "A good prospect, he'll be our center... if he keeps on coming, should be okay by district," comments Culley.

Next tallest man on the team is 6-3 junior Kerry Roper, one of seven players up from last year's good Shocker team. Roper is much improved, says Culley, and should be one of Pampa's top rebounders.

Carl "Horny" Harnsberger, 6'0 1/2", and Charles Snuggs, 5-11, a pair of good outside shots, are tentatively slated to join Price, Cain and Roper on one of the two-platoon units.

The other team will have 6-2 1/2 senior Danny Heil as the post man with 6-2 junior David McDaniel and Hebert alternating at one forward and 6-1 1/2 junior Robert Howard at the other forward. Lanny Lewis, 5-11 junior, will be at one guard, with Stewart alternating with 5-11 senior Jesse Washington, who led Carver's cagers to state last year.

Also expected to see plenty of action are 5-9 junior Richard Pathersee and 6-0 junior Ronnie Curlee, who will be eligible at mid-term.

"Our big problem is experience," explained Culley. "We'll try it this way first and see how it works. There may be changes in the personnel of the two teams depending on how they come along. I am hoping that by district play, Price, Hebert and Stewart should be scorers, and Cain have the experience to take the boards. If we work out well, we may end up with one starting team. We'll just have to see how it goes."

"I'll say one thing, this is going to have to be a team effort. We don't have any starters back, we don't have any outstanding boys as yet, all we have is what could be a fine team... and it is going to take team effort and desire to accomplish this. The kids know what we're up against, and I think they're going to come through."

Texas Maintains Hold On Number One Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Michigan State and Nebraska made big jumps in the United Press International college football ratings Monday, but unbeaten Texas remained unchallenged for first-place after an abbreviated football weekend.

Navy remained in second place for the third straight week.

Michigan State, despite postponement of its pivotal battle with eight-ranked Illinois for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl berth, vaulted from fifth to third in the three-team tangle for the No. 3 slot.

Nebraska advanced from ninth to sixth with its convincing victory over Oklahoma for the Big Eight championship and Orange Bowl bid. The Sooners fell four places to 10th. No new teams entered the

Lone Star Mad At NAIA Snub

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas News said today the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) may have brought on internal troubles by selecting Prairie View A&M over Southwest Texas for its post-season small college championship playoffs.

The News pointed out that it was the second year in a row the NAIA had by-passed unbeaten Lone Star Conference champions in favor of other clubs for the playoffs. Last year, Texas A&I, which had won the 1959 NAIA national title, was ignored by the selection committee.

"There is no question that several members of the Lone Star Conference will be upset," the News' story on the announcement said.

A&I's coach, Gil Steinkamp, was loud in his disapproval of the 1962 snubbing of his team.

top 10 and only Texas, which remains the same, Alabama and Oklahoma failed to gain points in the ratings from the previous week. There were only three games involving teams in the top 20 during the weekend. The other teams either were idle or postponed their games because of the death of President Kennedy.

Texas, not scheduled last Saturday, again was ranked first by 32 of the 35 coaches on the UPI board. The Longhorns have been on top for seven consecutive weeks and boast the only spotless record (9-0) in the major college class.

Michigan State's Spartans edged past Mississippi by a single point to dislodge the rebels from third place, a position they held for four straight weeks. Pittsburgh closed in behind the fourth place Rebels, just six points back in fifth.

Alabama and Illinois remained sixth and seventh respectively, and Auburn advanced from 10th to ninth with its victory over Florida State.

Brackenridge Game On TV

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The Class AAAA bi-district game between San Antonio Brackenridge and San Antonio Lee, already sold out, has so many people wanting to see it that it will be televised.

The game could still break Alamo Stadium's record of a bit over 26,000 if officials decide to sell standing room for the game. Regular tickets were all sold four hours after they were put on sale last week.

WQAI-TV will televise the game locally.

Lee is unbeaten for the season and Brackenridge has lost to Kingsville and Corpus Christi Miller.

AGGIE SELLOUT

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Only 2,500 end zone tickets were available today for the Texas A&M - Texas football game Thanksgiving Day.

Pat Dial, Texas A&M business manager, said it was too late for mail orders.

SWC Round-up

By United Press International
With only six teams left active in the Southwest Conference, all eyes were on preparations for the University of Texas-Texas A&M clash on Thanksgiving Day.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas worried about fullbacks Tommy Stockton and Harold Phillips. Stockton had a bruised elbow and Phillips a sprained ankle.

Their status for the game was undecided.

The Aggies appeared in good shape for the upcoming game, and ripped through a 90-minute drill Monday.

The drill was a no-contact session on offensive and defensive assignments.

The Aggies announced the following starters:

John Brotherton and Ronnie Carpenter at ends; Ray Gene Hines and Bill Ward at tackles; Yancy Bounds and Ronney Moore at guards; Ray Kubala at center; Jim Keller at quarterback; Budgie Ford and George Hargett at halfbacks; and Jerry Rogers at fullback.

In other workouts, Southern Methodist showed spirit in a brief workout at Dallas and Texas Christian boned up in Fort Worth. The two teams meet at Fort Worth Saturday. Rice and Baylor both worked in preparation for their clash at Houston Saturday. The Bears concentrated on running and fundamental drills.

The Rice-Baylor game was postponed from last Saturday following President Kennedy's assassination.

Scott Appleton Tops UPI's All-America

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Midwest, with three players, dominated the 1963 college All-America football team announced Monday by the American Football Coaches Association.

The Far West, the Southwest and the Midlands each placed two players on the mythical 11 while there was one representative each from the East and South. Only the Rockies, of the seven football geographical sections of the nation, were shut out.

Center Dick Butkus of Illinois, tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota and end Jim Kelly of Notre Dame were the Midwest stars named to the team. From the Far West came end Vern Burke of Oregon State and guard Dick Redman of Washington; from the Southwest, tackle Scott Appleton of Texas and fullback Tommy Crutcher of Texas Christian, while the players from the Midlands were guard Bob Brown of Nebraska and halfback Gale Sayers of Kansas.

The all-star team was rounded out by quarterback Roger Staubach of Navy, the East's lone representative, and halfback Jay Wilkinson of Duke, the only South player named to the team.

The coaches named Appleton as the lineman of the year and Staubach as the back of the year. Brown was singled out as the best college blocker of the year.

There were no repeaters from the coaches' 1962 All-America team. End Hal Bedsole of Southern California, the only junior on the 1962 mythical eleven, was named to the third team this year.

There are four juniors on the 1963 team—Staubach, Redman, Butkus and Sayers. All the rest are seniors.

In all, 567 members of the coaches association participated in the balloting.

Loyola Pre-Play Pick of Coaches

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Loyola Ramblers, kings of the court by virtue of a single last-gasp basket, scored another victory over Cincinnati Monday when they were named college basketball's team "most likely to succeed" by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

It was Loyola No. 1 and Cincinnati No. 2 Monday in the pre-season ratings issued by the board for the 1963-64 court season which opens on Saturday Nov. 30.

Twenty-two of the 35 famous coaches who comprise the UPI board, whose ratings have become generally accepted as the most authoritative in the field, ranking the Ramblers from Chicago as best in the country. Cincinnati received 10 first-place votes and New York U. received three.

Cincinnati, trying for its third straight NCAA tournament championship, was upset, 60-58, by Loyola in the tourney finals on Vic Rouse's last-second tip of a rebound.

With points allotted on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th places, Loyola received 325 points. A perfect score would be 350. Cincinnati had 285 and NYU in third place 205.

Completing the top five were Duke with 181 points and Wichita with 146.

How Intelligent CIA?

The Nov. 1-2 coup in Viet Nam which deposed the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem after nine years' rule resulted in part at least from the U. S. Administration's dissatisfaction with the Diem regime and its encouragement of reform in Viet Nam.

The event focused attention on the possibility of more direct American intervention to effect the coup. Concern inevitably centered on the role of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The CIA is the fact and symbol of a postwar development in the nation which runs contrary to U. S. traditions of open diplomacy and non-intervention—the practice of espionage and subversion to further national aims and protect national security. Actually, while the CIA has its spies and agents, much of its work of intelligence involves routine gathering and analysis of statistical, political and other data.

Criticism of CIA and other intelligence operations in the government stems from revolution against the cloak-and-dagger image, as well as annoyance at the intense secrecy which surrounds the intelligence community. Some fear the tradition of popular control of the government, especially the military, may be undermined by the growth of para-military organs insulated from the public.

In addition, the very term "intelligence," while it attracts eager and able college graduates, implies mental faculties in the participants which critics say are not necessarily present. Congress is particularly wary of the secrecy which covers the estimated $1 billion-a-year operations of the CIA and other intelligence agencies in the government.

Indeed, Congress, jealous of its role as keeper of the purse strings, rangles at not even knowing how much and where the money goes for intelligence operations. Furthermore, the Congressional role of "oversight" is frustrated when it comes to supervision of the far-flung CIA operations, which involve probably between 15,000 and 20,000 employees in the U.S. and abroad.

Thus, every year for the last ten, proposals have been made in Congress for some form of "Joint Committee on Foreign Intelligence" to give congressional surveillance over the intelligence community in much the same manner as the Joint Atomic Energy Committee surveys the Atomic Energy Commission's activities and other nuclear affairs.

One of the members who favors a watchdog committee is senators and 19 representatives have introduced such proposals this year. Rep. John V. Lindsay (R-N.Y.) sums up the arguments for it:

The present congressional committees are too small and their examination of intelligence matters too " cursory."

They do not have adequately trained staff.

Intelligence activities are not an exclusively executive function and should be continuously surveyed by Congress.

No government activity, no matter how sensitive, should be totally secret and hidden from congressional review.

Blunders made by the CIA should be investigated.

Any CIA interference with State Department objectives should be watched.

"Special operations," such as fomenting unrest in a hostile country, toppling foreign governments, etc., ought to be watched, and their compatibility with intelligence-gathering activities examined.

Selection and training of CIA personnel needs Congressional examination.

Evaluation of intelligence data should not be dominated by the CIA, which gathers the data.

When Congress refers to the "intelligence community," it does not mean only the CIA. Here are the principal government agencies which deal with U.S. intelligence matters:

National Security Council — Top government officials, including the director of CIA, who make policy.

Central Intelligence Agency — Principal intelligence-gathering and operational agency.

U. S. Intelligence Board — An information exchange body made up of the directors of the other agencies; chairman: director of CIA.

Board of National Estimates — A small group of experts in CIA who prepare intelligence estimates from other groups for submission to USIB.

President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board — A citizens group to provide a continuing review of U. S. intelligence activities.

Defense Intelligence Agency — Coordinates military intelligence. Formed in 1961, DIA is considered a potential rival to CIA.

National Security Agency — An agent of the Defense Department. It concentrates principally on codes and ciphers.

Atomic Energy Commission, State Department, Federal Bureau of Investigation — Each has its own intelligence activities and its member on the USIB.

"Tough Men, Tough Country is just what the title suggests. It's a collection of true stories of the Pacific Northwest, written by Ellis Lucia, Oregon newspaperman, relating the adventures of the men who made that frontier, the outlaws who followed, and the vigilantes who meted out their own brand of punishment, and of today's men who fight a continuous battle against the ravaging elements. Every page offers new excitement. Makes excellent reading.

Memory Lane: Remember when movie stars had "glamour" and crowds would gather to gaze at them. Few TV stars today get that kind of attention, and only when they have a "hot" program.

Just in case you think golf is for the masses, a survey shows the cost-per-hole for maintenance at an average U.S. golf club runs to $3648 annually.

The Rachel Carson influence: Uncle Sam plans tighter controls on pesticides. The Cadillac, status symbol at any U.S. country club, was named after a French fur trader who founded Detroit in 1701.

Traffic is slow on the Sahara: Camel caravans move at a speed of 3 miles per hour, and cover only 25 miles per day with packs of 600 lbs. Bann doing it for centuries.

Country Editor Speaking: "Most men like to have a vacation so they can wear their old clothes. Most women want one to show off their new ones."

Speaking of freight: One day recently an East Coast airport handled the following air cargo: radiolopes to Aden; bow and arrows to Nigeria; scientific laboratory equipment for cancer research to Russia; frozen fish to Japan; a milk stole to Lahore; rags to Brussels, and trophies to Germany.

We thought motels were relatively new, but learned the first tourist camp was built at Douglas, Arizona, in 1901. The name was changed to tourist court in 1924, and in 1925 the name "Mo-Tel" was applied to one of the tourist courts at San Luis Obispo, California. It has since spread everywhere.

Scientists tell us fish found on the Ross Ice Shelf in the Antarctic were trapped and frozen under the 100-foot thick ice 1000 years ago. How do they figure such things? Super-salesman: William Levitt sold 651 homes in one week-end at his new development near San Juan, Puerto Rico, where he is building 3500 dwelling units for middle income families. Prices range downward from $15,500.

Cheap transportation: A Florida night club owner, now touring 48 states by motor scooter, traveled from St. Petersburg to Boston on $8 worth of gasoline.

Few of today's songwriters and singers know how to use it anyway, but in case you were wondering the musical scale was invented in 1024 by Guido Aretino, an Italian Benedictine monk.

Today's Smile: One bridge club member told another: "I have the most marvelous recipe for goulash. All I have to do is mention it to my husband and he says, 'Let's eat out.'"

Political Dynamite in Two Pending Decisions By Attorney General on Two Negro Leaders

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Robert Kennedy faces two politically explosive decisions involving important Negro leaders that could have far-reaching political impact on next year's presidential election.

As the government's chief prosecutor, the Attorney General must decide whether to prosecute one of the highest Negro state officials in the country for failing to file income tax returns.

The Internal Revenue Service has forwarded its recommendations to the Justice Department after its agents completed a six-month investigation of this tax case.

The Attorney General must soon pass on whether to permit Democratic National Committee officials to work closely with a Negro leader, known by the FBI to be linked with a Soviet agent, in a massive drive to register Negro voters throughout the country.

This second case, which involves evidence obtained by tapping telephones, puts the Attorney General on the spot since the Negro leader has been in close contact with both the White House and the Justice Department in the past.

If a break in relations with the Negro leader is decided on, the latter could throw a monkeywrench into the White House's plans to register more than one million Negro voters by next year's presidential election.

However, if this close association isn't ended, the Administration faces public disclosures of this individual's Red ties in the midst of the coming congressional debate on civil rights legislation.

The immediate effect of such a blast on passage of the civil rights bill is conjectural.

THE INVESTIGATION — Two members of the Senate Finance Committee, which is now considering the tax-cutting bill, have quietly made inquiries of Internal Revenue Service authorities concerning the status of the tax investigation.

Senator Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman, and Senator John Williams, D., ranking Republican committeeman, have asked for full details after receiving inquiries from other senators about the case.

They also are demanding to know the Justice Department's policy on prosecuting taxpayers in official positions who have failed to file income tax returns.

In a Senate speech recently, Senator Williams named a former high-ranking State Department official, who was allowed to resign and enter private business after it was discovered that

The Doctor Says

End Abuses to Clear Up Itching, Cracked Hands

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Q — I have had "detergent hands" for over a year. They itch a lot, then they blister and crack. I have to have them "in water a lot and rubber gloves seem to make them worse. What can I do?

A — This condition has been getting a lot of attention lately. It is usually a chemical irritation and not an allergy. When you wear ordinary rubber gloves, your hands become soaked in their own sweat. This is the reason the gloves can make things worse. However, rubber gloves that are lined with cotton are available. You should use these whenever your hands would otherwise come in contact with the strong detergents used for washing clothes, dishes, walls or floors. Above all, do not use these strong chemicals to wash your hands.

When you must expose your hands to strong detergents, you may prefer to rub a thin layer of petroleum jelly on them rather than wear gloves. To wash your hands use one of the non-alkaline (neutral or slightly acid) soaps now available. Alkaline soaps remove the protective oils in your skin and cause excessive drying. This leads to itching and cracking. Avoid washing your hands frequently and dry them by patting them with soft disposable tissue rather than rubbing with a rough towel. With these measures your hands won't clear up overnight but they should show a marked improvement in 10 days.

Q — I am using saccharine tablets. Can they cause my heart to skip a beat? Is this serious?

A — The tablets are not the cause of your skipped beats. The skipped beats are harmless. You should first learn to accept them as a minor annoyance, then to ignore them.

Q — What causes swelling of the legs in people with heart disease?

A — Persons with leaky heart valves, congenital or resulting from rheumatic fever, eventually reach the point where much of the blood which should be forced into the aorta slips backward with each beat. This damming back of blood is called decompensation. When it occurs, it chiefly affects the most dependent parts of the body. This would cause edema or waterlogging of the ankles in a person who is standing or sitting in a chair but in a person who is lying in bed the edema would be most noticeable around the hips. It might also involve the internal organs. Appropriate doses of digitalis strengthen the heart beat and give partial relief.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

West German Ship Built by Private Enterprise

By ED DELANEY

ON BOARD S.S. "HANSEATIC"—If we are to believe the propaganda emanating from the government — subsidized airlines, ships that are propelled by steam or Diesel engines are as outmoded for trans-Atlantic travel as are the Model-T Fords, for cross-country trips. Dismiss that as one of current falsehoods. This ship on which I am going to Europe for a look-see at the political and economic situation in several lands, is crowded to capacity. The return voyage westward, so it is reported, is also sold out.

Trans-Atlantic trippers seem to be switching from the swifter airliners to the more leisurely going vessels. Moreover, private enterprise and initiative in the foreign shipping industry is doing what our government-subsidized Maritime Marine seems unable to do. The company operating this ship has a new $20 million liner under construction which will be put in the trans-Atlantic passenger service late next year. A noteworthy point in this connection is that the financing of their expansion is being provided entirely by private capital. Not a dollar of government subsidy is being advanced by West Germany.

The ship is being built in the West German shipyards. Also being built in Hamburg is a 16,000-ton freighter to be powered by atomic energy. This is the third non-military ship in the world to be propelled by atomic energy. We know the history of the S. S. Savannah, the first of such commercial vessels built in the United States. It was intended as a show-window for American products and initiative and was supposed to call at many ports around the world. Instead, it is laid up at an American port, due to a strike, or at least to the extortionate demands that are being made by some of the engineers. Unless that problem is solved, it is just possible that some other nation will get its floating industry display into the world's ports before we do. The American taxpayers, as usual, are footing the bill for the un-American attitude of the union czars.

In any report on ocean shipping, those who seek more and more federal funds to subsidize such operations, always cite the prevailing wage scale for the American ships as compared with those paid by foreign vessels. There is a differential which gives the foreign ship owner an advantage in operating costs. But the same zealots for syphoning federal funds into subsidies for our ships never emphasize the fact that the rising costs are invariably due to unreasonable demands of the unions. As long as political jobholders submit to pressure from union bosses in the mistaken idea that they thereby will garner votes at the next election, we will see no change in the present system of buying votes at the expense of the taxpayers.

Lobbyists presently are exerting every effort to induce Congress to appropriate some billions of dollars to acquire a brace or more of the super-sonic commercial airliners which are being developed by Britain and France and will, so we are informed, be able to transport passengers from London to New York during the time they are having dinner.

If we lag behind Europe in the operation of such aircraft. Of course, neither Britain nor France can expend the billions for construction of such commercial craft, without further postponing payment to the United States of the billions which they owe for loans made during and after World War II.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that, for the most part the Europeans regard us as naive when it comes to dealing with the mendicant nations of Europe, Asia and Africa. We show great concern for the fledgling nations that proclaim their independence from what they refer to as their previous status as colonial possessions of a country in Europe. But we display no concern over the status of the Soviet colonies in central and Eastern Europe.

The potentials of the European Common Market are being studied and positive action taken toward developing such business by an international marketing organization with headquarters in Chicago. Paul E. Rudl, vice president of the European division of the organization informed me they are opening their first European office in Germany and will engage in both import and export business with all countries west of the Iron Curtain.

The squabbles in Washington over the import duties that have been put on frozen chickens from the United States, that are shipped to West Germany, will be off set by the thawing of chilly relations which the marketing organization will undertake with every reason to believe they can and will accomplish what the politicians in Washington seem unable to do. Another example of private industry doing what government agencies fail to do.

The Status Is Still Quo

Just to keep the record straight, the policy of the Pampa School board to continue holding meetings where news media representatives and the public are barred is still in effect. There has been no announcement of any change in the board's 4 to 1 ruling that what goes on in these meetings is not for the public to know.

Dean Oliver Again in Lead For All-Around Cowboy Title

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dean Oliver, an Idaho calf roper and steer wrestler who was runner-up for all-around honors the last two years, enters the fifth annual National Rodeo Finals Tuesday night in the lead for the title.

Oliver, 34, was second in over all earnings behind Tom Nesmith, Sulphur, La., going into the finals here in 1961 and 1962 and was unable to overtake Nesmith.

Oliver has the lead with $29,994 earned in 1963 and Nesmith

'Eternal Flame' to Burn At Kennedy Grave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An "eternal" flame will burn at the head of John F. Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

The flame will be fueled at first by a temporary apparatus.

Russians View Funeral Cortège

MOSCOW (UPI)—The solemn funeral cortège of John F. Kennedy, with its rich religious overtones and the sound of tolling bells, was brought to the heart of the Soviet Union Monday by a giant television relay from Washington.

Soviet citizens and Americans and foreigners resident in Moscow watched on a million sets as thousands of miles away a widow and her children marched behind the flag-draped catafalque of the late President.

It was the second time in Soviet history that a live television program was beamed from the American continent to this country—and by an American satellite.

The first such relay was last Saturday when films of the most recent appearances of Kennedy were shown.

MASS TRANSIT

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI)—The Port Authority of Allegheny County has obtained options to buy 30 bus lines and two incline railways and is negotiating to buy Pittsburgh Railways Co., which operates trolley and bus lines.

The authority plans to consolidate the lines into a single mass transit system and hopes to add rapid transit lines by leasing abandoned railroad right of way.

Investigators Charge Army With Waste

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional investigators have charged that the Army built a $665,236 airstrip over a highly explosive ammunition dump at Ft. Carson, Colo., then had to spend another $50,000 relocating the dump.

In addition, the House Government Operations Committee said, the Army was only authorized to spend $25,000 for the airstrip in the first place.

The committee said that Army officers, including top echelon military men, have a general tendency to ignore or evade the strict limits on the amount of money they can use to build up their bases.

The committee said it had uncovered a number of instances where Army officers have falsified their accounting records to cover up what they had done.

The Justice Department was urged to investigate the testimony before the committee for possible prosecutions for perjury.

The committee said it all started when the Army decided to transfer the 2nd Missile Command from Ft. Hood, Tex., to Ft. Carson, which did not have suitable facilities.

As a result, Ft. Carson and 5th Army officials had to build high standard facilities in a short time, the report said.

THE CLASSIFIED PAGE

When Buick builds a LeSabre—Buick builds a high-priced car, and puts a low price on it.

Lots of cars are in LeSabre's price class, but that's where the resemblance ends. For instance: Does anybody else in LeSabre's class treat you to that gentle Buick ride or impressive Buick performance and new gas economy? No. And who else gives you 15-inch wheels, finned aluminum front brakes, extra cushioning for middle-seat travelers, and separate heat ducts and controls for the rear seat? Right again: Nobody in LeSabre's field but LeSabre. If all this makes you think a LeSabre would look awfully nice in your garage, you should see how nicely it fits a budget. You know who to see about it, of course: your Buick dealer. Who else? Above all, it's a Buick.
