Truman Ready To Wade Into Strike Tieup

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—President Truman was reported today ready to join Lewis B. Schwellenbach—deep in his first great test as labor secretary—in trying to settle the oil company-union wage dispute.

This news broke just as O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers union, said his group would be willing to settle for less than the flat 30 per cent wage boost which the union has been demanding. He was negotiating with individual companies.

Schwellenbach himself begged representatives of the companies and the union—whom he called into special conference—to reach an agreement.

Threat Still Here

The union—which already has 35,000 men on strike—has voted to send all of its 250,000 members on strike if the negotiations fail.

The government, Schwellenbach told the two groups, is "begging and pleading with you to get together."

Possibility of presidential intervention to help reach an accord appeared stronger when the first day's conversations ended tonight with both sides reporting no progress.

The union claimed a first break in the companies' solid front against the flat 30 percent increase demand. The workers reported signing a contract with a good-size independent for a 30 percent boost.

The union said this company—the Wilshire Oil company, Los Angeles—had agreed to pay 35 cents more an hour to hourly employes and $50 more a month to the monthly-paid employes.

Knight's Statement

Some hours later Knight said this:

"We are willing to settle for a flat 35 cents an hour, as given by the Wilshire company."

He said he had been negotiating with the Texas company, so far without result, and expected to talk with one other.

Meanwhile John L. Lewis—who has threatened "action" by his 450,000 United Mine Workers in a dispute with mine owners over mine foremen—continued to rock the labor boat.

By mid-afternoon Knight said he saw no chance of reaching a wide settlement today. In explaining why his union would be willing to settle for less than the original flat 30 per cent demand, he said:

"We prefer the 30 per cent method of settling but will settle for 35 cents. We won't quarrel over the method.

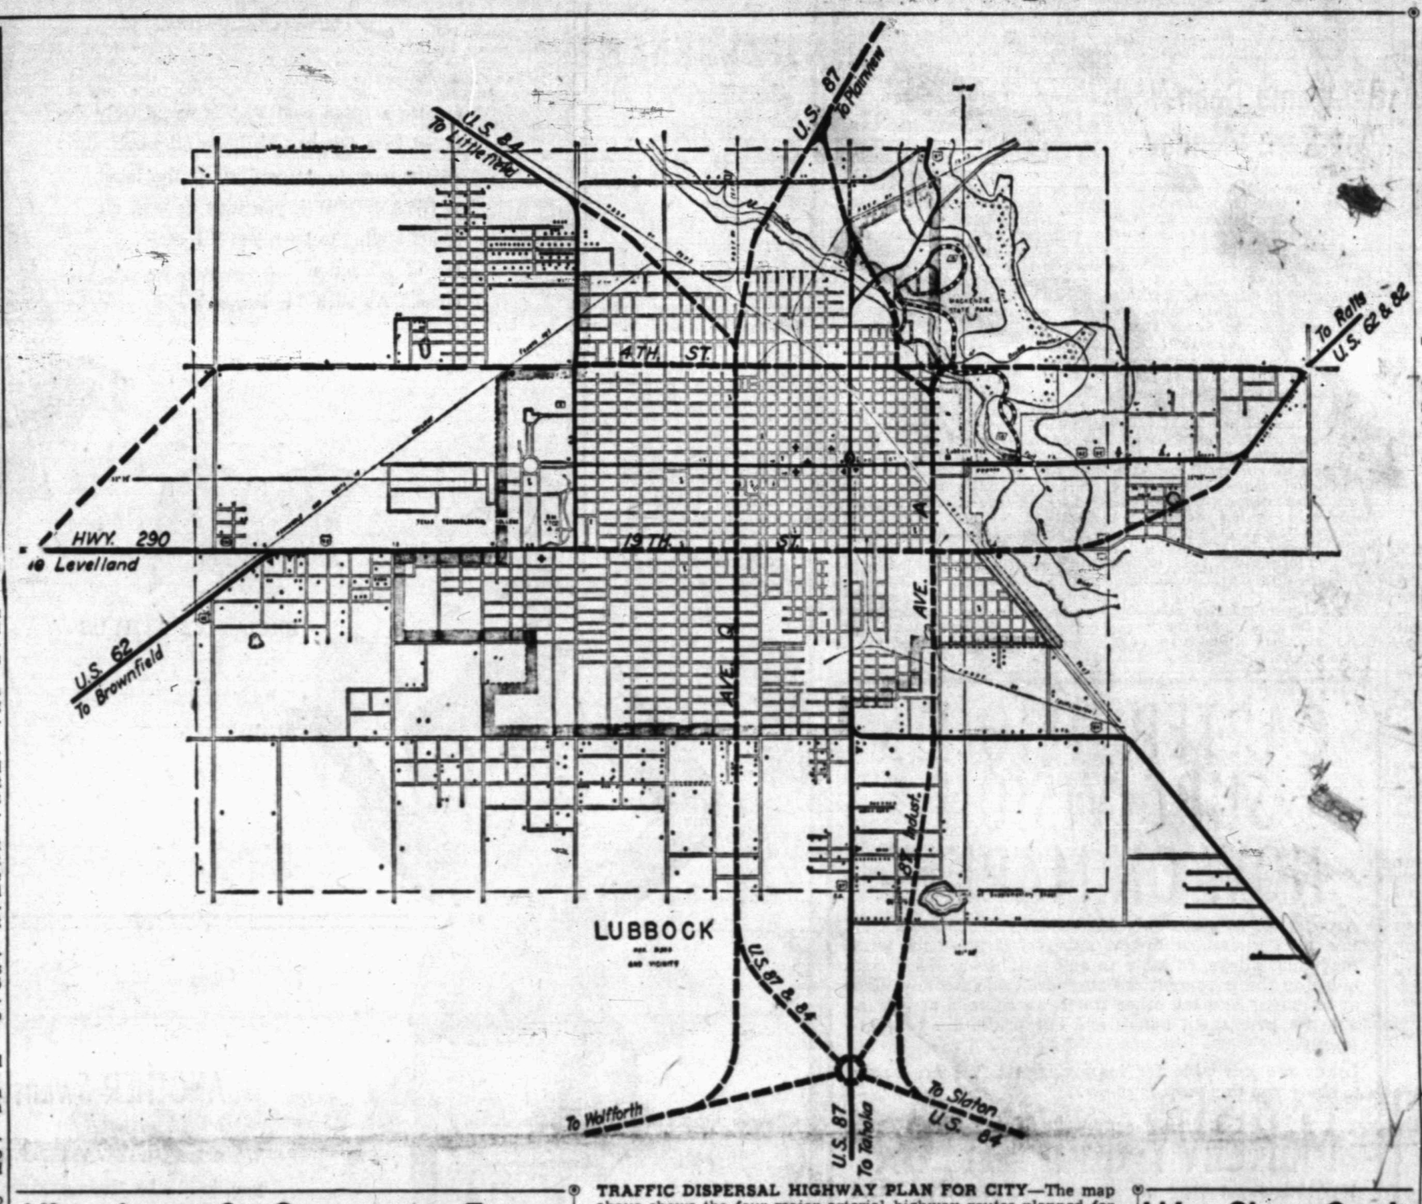

"If the dispute was settled on a basis of 30 per cent, this would be an increase of 38.1 cents."

No Progress At Chicago

The strike of the oil workers had spread to eight states when representatives of the companies and the union met in Chicago. They made no progress. Then Schwellenbach called the conference here.

The Army and Navy have notified the labor secretary — whom President Truman appointed several months ago—that they can't get along beyond next week on TRAFFIC DISPERSAL HIGHWAY PLAN FOR CITY—The map above shows the four major arterial highway routes planned for Lubbock with adoption of the Texas Highway department's traffic dispersal plan for the city. Lubbock City Commissioners have already endorsed the plan and county commissioners have yet to act on the project outside the city limits. The city and county are being called on to furnish right-of-way for the project and the cost of construction will be paid by state and federal funds. Story on the city's part in the program may be found on page 3 and the county's part in the post-war program will be explained in a story next Sunday with map accompanying.

Allies Agree On Commission To Formulate Jap Surrender Policy

By JOHN A. PARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 29 — U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes tonight announced the formation of an Allied commission in the Pacific to formulate policies for carrying out Japanese surrender terms. The commission, agreed to by Great Britain, Russia and China, will meet in Washington "in the near future."

Byrnes' announcement came at the time that American representatives were disclosed to be attempting to break a deadlock in the five-power council of foreign ministers through a proposal for a conference of all active belligerents against the Axis to discuss drafts of peace treaties with Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

British Agreement

In announcing the Pacific commission, Byrnes said he received from British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin the consent of the British government to the American proposal, made Aug. 22.

France, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the Netherlands will be invited to join the commission on Japan, Byrnes said. He reported Bevin, in agreeing to the proposal, had asked that India be invited to become a member.

Byrnes said he would agree to India's membership and would submit the request to Russia and China for approval. The Washington session of the commission will decide, Byrnes continued, whether to hold the meetings there or in Tokyo. The U. S. representative, he said, would be instructed to vote for meetings in Tokyo.

Truman Orders Help For Jews

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—President Truman, informed that many Jewish refugees in Germany and Austria are being treated "as the Nazis treated them except that we do not exterminate them," has ordered General Eisenhower to "clean up the conditions" and report to him as soon as possible.

A lengthy report describing how displaced persons particularly Jews, are living under guard in crowded camps under unsanitary conditions was made public by the White House today. Along with the report, made by Earl G. Harrison, American representative on the inter-governmental refugee committee, was a letter the President sent to General Eisenhower which concluded with this statement:

Seeking Haven For Jews

"I'm communicating directly with the British government in an effort to have the doors of Palestine opened to such of these displaced persons as wish to go there."

The letter to Eisenhower, telling him to intensify efforts to get these people "out of camps and into decent houses until they can be repatriated or evacuated," was sent August 31. It enclosed a copy of Harrison's report. Eisenhower has informed the President he is making an investigation.

Policies Not Carried Out

The White House said the President's letter on Palestine to Prime Minister Atlee cannot be given out now "because the whole matter (of Jewish immigration to Palestine) is under consideration and no conclusions have been reached."

In his letter to Eisenhower the President said the policies on displaced persons adopted at Yalta and Potsdam "are not being carried out by some of your subordinate officers."

"For example," the President wrote, "military government officers have been authorized and even directed to requisition billeting facilities from the German population for the benefit of displaced persons. Yet, from this report, this has not been done on any wide scale."

Ilo Hard And Henry Drake Back In U. S.

Two Lubbock men of the 131st field artillery, Capt. Ilo Hard and Sgt. Henry C. Drake, recently liberated from Japanese internment, arrived by plane Saturday in Washington from Calcutta, India.

News of their arrival came in telephone calls from Capt. Hard to his wife, Mrs. Mary Hard of 1613 Fifteenth, and from Sgt. Drake to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drake of 2410 Twenty-ninth.

Both men said they expected to be home within a few days.

Sgt. Drake gained from his parents the first knowledge in years of the fate of his brother, Pvt. Teddy Drake, with whom he was taken prisoner in Java in 1942. While it has not yet been officially announced that Pvt. Drake is alive, his parents read an interview with him in a recent issue of a Fort Worth paper.

Vinson To Present Plan To Cut Taxes

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson polished off today the administration's plan for the first peace-time tax-cutting bill.

Monday he will take it to Capitol Hill, where some tax leaders expect him to propose only moderate trimming on this basis:

1. Repeal in 1946 of the 3 per cent "normal" tax on individuals, or an adjustment of exemptions under this tax so as to relieve the burden on families with small income. Outright repeal of the tax, successor to the old "victory" levy, would remove around 10,000,000 persons from the tax rolls completely. It would reduce overall tax liabilities by about $2,000,000,000.

Excess Profits Tax Hit

2. Elimination of the 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations, imposed in wartime. This would lighten corporation burdens by about $2,000,000,000.

3. A definite cutoff date for high wartime excises, which doubled federal retail levies on such things as fur coats, jewelry and cosmetics. Vinson regards sales and high excises as not only unfair to low income groups, but

Nation Gains Hour In Turning Clocks Back

(By The Associated Press)

Did you turn your clock back at 2 a. m.?

If not, better do it right now.

Wartime gave way to Standard time at 2 a. m., Sunday morning. Clocks went back an hour, by act of Congress.

Turning them back marks the end of three years and eight months of "fast" time. Congress ordered the 60-minute advance into effect January 20, 1942, to add another daylight hour for war production.

Return to Standard time gives most of the nation an extra hour of sleep but for those on the job during the night such as transportation workers, it means an added hour of work in many cases.

War Chest Goal Set At $50,505

With $50,505 as their goal, teams of workers will start out Monday on the 1945 Lubbock County War Chest drive.

Hubert L. Allen, chairman of the executive committee, announced Saturday that all arrangements for the drive were ready and an effort would be made to wind up the campaign during the week. Rural workers are scheduled to start their solicitations Monday and the general sales division will begin Tuesday.

The big gifts division headed by DeWitt Landis is scheduled to begin its work after a "blow-off" luncheon at the Hilton hotel Monday noon.

General Sales Division

Allen's executive committee is composed of Jack M. Randal, H. B. Bryan, Roy Furr and Jas. L. Quicksall. Roy Boyd is rural chairman.

Majors on Purtell's group are: Joe Arrington, G. V. Fulton, Bob Fuller, E. Hufstedler, jr., Ray Farmer and Glenn Woody.

Purtell has requested that his majors call their captains and lieutenants in the drive Monday and remind them of Tuesday's "kick-off." At the Tuesday meeting, each captain will be assigned a district to work in the campaign.

Freedom Of Speech, Press Is Restored

Newspapers Resuming Publication; Assets Of Royal Family Studied

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Sept. 29—General MacArthur, stripping the mystery from Japan's throne, abolished today the powers the imperial government had invoked a few hours earlier in suppressing publication of the emperor's pictures and interviews.

The Japanese home ministry had seized all copies of five Tokyo and Osoka newspapers and suspended the papers.

Its excuse was that the stories, in which the emperor had expressed to American correspondents his hopes for a more democratic Japan, were "too awesome and would have a bad effect on the Japanese people."

Emperor's Visit Cited

MacArthur's press headquarters, however, bluntly declared that the Japanese government actually suspended the papers "for publishing accounts of the emperor's call on MacArthur," a humble and unprecedented visit.

MacArthur's censor told the newspapers to resume publication and to go ahead and distribute the "forbidden" editions.

MacArthur's order was the strongest he had issued since the occupation began. It cut off the Japanese government from any control of newspapers, radios, the mails, telephones, telegraph lines and cables.

Press headquarters said the latest move completed a program designed to encourage freedom of the press and radio in Japan, and to rid the people of the jingoistic propaganda on which they have been fed.

Had Issued Code

Previously MacArthur had issued a censorship code and divorced the Japanese government from press operations.

At the same time, MacArthur's chief economic aide declared that the assets of the imperial household would come under "increasingly close scrutiny," something else new in the life of Japan's emperors.

"We will be very curious about the imperial assets," said Col. Raymond Kramer, head of the economic and scientific section which is digging into all financial resources of the empire, public and private.

The wealth of the great houses of Japan contrasted with the prospect of actual starvation among the nation's millions, which Kramer declared was "very real" in the oncoming bitter months of winter.

Rice Far Short of Needs

Kramer said the supply of rice fell 4,500,000 tons short of estimated needs. The granaries of China, Korea and the Philippines, which once fed a victorious Japan, are inadequate to feed even those liberated peoples.

"We aren't going into any program like that (feeding the Japanese) without consulting Washington," Kramer asserted.

The Japanese commerce ministry contributed to the dreary picture with a report that firewood, charcoal, coal, petroleum, soap, matches, and paper for windows were critically short in Tokyo, Osaka and adjacent rural areas.

The Japanese government al-

Cold Rains May Hurt Area Crops

Heavily-laden skies continued Saturday night to seep cold rain on the South Plains as temperatures moderated.

Yesterday's fall over the area ranged from light to an inch and a half, Santa Fe dispatchers reported.

At 10 p. m. in Lubbock, it was drizzling and the temperature was 39, having dropped but one degree since 4 p. m.

Mostly cloudy and not quite so cold were predicted for the area today. Monday is due to be partly cloudy and warmer.

Possible Effects On Crops

The continued rainfall had Lubbock crop authorities and cotton statisticians studying anew the possibilities of changes in the amount of cotton and sorghums to be harvested on the South Plains this year.

Up to 6 o'clock last night 1.19 inches of precipitation had fallen here since the wet norther struck Friday night.

Not including late yesterday afternoon and early night's rains, the September total read 1.91 inches. Total was 9.62 inches for all of 1945 to date, as compared with a normal of 15.64 inches through September. Through August only 7.71 inches had fallen, as compared with the average of 12.72 inches.

Menace To Crops

Coming this late, however, rains that would have been more beneficial months earlier offer apparent dangers, crop authorities say. Especially so, when low temperatures like the 36 degrees of Friday night, 37 degrees for Thursday night, persist.

Immediate danger to normally-planted cotton, which this year means cotton that in the main was planted on land prepared by and brought up by irrigation, was not seen by most farmers talked with by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment substation east of Lubbock—unless frost or a freeze strikes. In other words, Jones said, it would appear that the bulk of cotton planted at the normal planting time, and now beginning to crack open, would not be retarded much in maturity date. But, he said, continued rain could lower its grade.

Could Slow Cotton

Late-planted cotton could be slowed in its maturity date. All May-planted cotton, now rapidly opening, would be retarded in maturity date by such weather as that at week's end. It too could suffer only a lowered grade unless it should be frozen. Late June and July cotton could suffer serious damage unless frost were delayed until late. There is a "good possibility" that it could be affected seriously in maturing.

If warm weather returns without delay, crop possibilities would be heightened immeasurably, authorities say.

As it is, what with the persistent drouth of the summer and the lateness of planting in general, Lubbock's "Cotton Row" has rather generally predicted for the

Action On Turmoil In Argentina Is Brewing

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Urgent consultations among 20 American republics on possible actions against the government of Argentina appeared certain today.

Spruille Braden, ambassador to Argentina who has just returned here to become assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, began conferences with top American officials. The talks provide a review of this country's whole policy toward the Argentine regime.

Authorities considered it inevitable that Braden's report, at least in substance, will be passed on as quickly as possible to the governments of all other western hemisphere nations except Argentina and that the views of those governments will be sought.

Lubbock General Hospital To Build On 19th, Become Non-Profit Institution

Broadway "Business Bottleneck" To Be Broken

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

BROADWAY, Lubbock's most prominent downtown business street, soon will be "opened up" for retail business expansion to Avenue Q and farther west.

That development of high import to business circles is revealed in a series of transactions and announcements, featured by the decision of Lubbock General hospital officials to abandon their Broadway and Ave. L location in favor of business property; to establish a hospital foundation and erect a $1,000,000 Lubbock Memorial hospital in the 2700-block of Nineteenth.

Figuring also in the Broadway developments are contemplated plans of two of Lubbock's downtown churches to move from their present sites to make way for business expansion on the street. They are First Methodist church, whose property fronts Broadway and extends through to Thirteenth street between Aves. M and N, and Broadway Church of Christ, located on Broadway between Aves. N and O.

Broadway Church of Christ officials have taken an option on property in the 1900-block on Broadway belonging to Mrs. Fern Cone and S. B. Haynes, with the idea in mind of moving out from the business section. No action on the matter has been taken as yet by the church membership.

No action has been taken by First Methodist church, either, but church officials and the board of stewards have had under consideration for some time the possibility of moving the church to the Thirteenth street side of its property, or elsewhere.

Formation of the hospital foundation, which will operate a non-profit and "open staff" institution, was announced by Drs. J. T. Krueger, J .T. Hutchinson and M. C. Overton, who for a quarter of a century have owned and operated what was formerly known as Lubbock Sanitarium and of later years the Lubbock General hospital.

Effective tomorrow, Lubbock General hospital will cease to exist as an institution and in its place will be the Lubbock Memorial hospital, a non-profit foundation similar to that of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., Cook Memorial hospital at Ft. Worth and other medical foundations. A charter has already been issued by the secretary of state at Austin. The foundation ,of which Dr. J. T. Hutchinson is president, has leased the facilities of the present Lubbock General hospital and the building, under the same management, will be used by Lubbock Memorial until the new structure is erected.

Present building of the hospital probably will be razed, or remodeled, so the site may be used for commercial development when the new hospital goes into operation, the announcement said. The present physical plant is owned jointly by Drs. Hutchinson and Krueger and development plans are not even in the formative stage, they said.

Drs. Hutchinson and Krueger, the latter a vice president in the foundation, together have contributed $100,000 toward the foundation and all dividends from the hospital between now and construction of the new building will be accrued to pay for the new hospital. Gifts from others will also be accepted by the foundation for this purpose. Other officers and directors of the foundation are: C. E. Hunt, secretary-treasurer; J. H. Felton, business manager; J. T. Krueger, jr., a premedical student at the University of Texas; and Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson, now serving in the armed forces. Additional directors may be elected upon retirement of present members from time to time.

Charter for the new memorial hospital provides that it shall be a non-profit institution, and that

Mexican Officials Continue Probe Of "Murder Mill;" 28 Men Held

LAREDO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Mexican officials were making a thorough investigation for more evidence today in the vicinity of Reynosa and Matamoros, Mex., while questioning individually 28 men held at Nuevo Laredo and charged with the wholesale murder of 37 men and one woman.

The 28, all Mexican nationals, were arrested in or near Reynosa and Matamoros, cities on the Mexican side of the lower Rio Grande valley. They were taken to Monterrey, then brought to Nuevo Laredo yesterday.

They have been charged with smuggling their 38 countrymen into the United States for farm work, robbing them of their wages, killing them as they returned to Mexico, and throwing the bodies into the Rio Grande.

Held Incommunicado

The accused were held incommunicado in Nuevo Laredo jail on orders of Prosecutor Emilio Villalobos of Nuevo Laredo, who has assigned special officers to places along the Rio Grande between Reynosa and Matamoros for further investigations.

The 27 were charged with killing the returning workers during the latter part of July and August at points between border towns of Brownsville, Mission, and Hidalgo, Tex., and Reynosa, Mex., Villalobos said.

Mexican officials said 19 bodies were recovered from the Rio Grande near Brownsville, 13 near Hidalgo, and six near Mission. One victim was a woman whose hands and feet had been gashed.

Believe Woman Tortured

The Mexican officers said they believed she had been tortured, then slashed with knives in an effort to make her divulge where she kept her money.

All the bodies were fully dressed when recovered from the river, but pockets had been rifled and turned inside out.

The first bodies were recovered from the Rio Grande in the latter part of July, then at short intervals during August.

Villalobos said the accused would be tried under a Mexican emergency law covering murder which makes a death penalty mandatory upon conviction.

To Be Tried Separately

He said no date would be set for arraignment of the men until the investigation now in progress is completed. He said the men would be tried separately.

Meanwhile in Washington, Senator Chavez (D-NM), said Congress should investigate the reported slayings.

The senator said in a statement yesterday:

"The effects of this situation on the good neighbor policy will be disastrous, and will be felt for many years to come.

"The Mexican nationals who came to this country to help win the war, to save our crops and keep our railroads running are entitled to full protection of their person, their lives and their property from the time they leave their homes until they return to them."

Grains, principally wheat, and potatoes are Canada's chief farm crop.

Dr. Bernice Moore To Speak At Tech

Dr. Bernice Moore, lecturer from the Hogg foundation of the University of Texas, will be on the Texas Tech campus Friday and Saturday to present a series of youth discussions for students and faculty members.

Scheduled talks will be given at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. Friday in the agriculture auritorium. Another discussion, designed especially for freshmen men and women students, will be given at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the First Christian church. Dr. Moore will again address students and faculty members at 9 a. m. Saturday in the agriculture auditorium.

Although Dr. Moore has gained fame during the last year for her ability to stimulate young people to speak of their own problems in panel discussions, she is also an excellent lecturer on more formal occasions. She has the rare combination of scholarly insight about family and community problems, and a human, practical manner of presenting her ideas.

Dr. Moore received her Ph. d in sociology at the University of North Carolina and has had experience as a journalist, social worker and adult worker. She is now sociological adviser in the field of community and family education.

Traffic Dispersal Highway Plan For City Looks To Area's Growth

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two stories on the meaning and definition of a street and highway dispersal plan suggested for Lubbock and Lubbock county. Costs would be paid by the federal and state governments, and Lubbock and Lubbock county would be required only to furnish right-of-way. The state would maintain the roads. Next story—next Sunday—will explain how traffic would enter the city from various parts of the county, and other factors reflecting advantage of the system as planned to the entire county.

A road dispersal system that looks forward to a quick increase in the South Plains and City of Lubbock populations and toward remedying a present inadequacy of facilities for handling inevitably stepped-up traffic so that urban and rural inhabitants may benefit mutually has been proposed for Lubbock and Lubbock county.

The federal and state governments would spend 2½ millions of dollars in road construction inside Lubbock and Lubbock county and the state subsequently would maintain such roads—under only one stipulation: That city and county provide the right-of-way.

Would Widen Key Highways

There would be roads along newly-designated routes and widening of key highways already in service, under the proposed plan—all designed to pour traffic along the most logical routes to its destination, and without swamping Nineteenth, Broadway and Ave. H.

Explanation of the preliminary plan for street and highway development inside Lubbock and Lubbock county has been outlined by the Texas Highway department, of which D. C. Greer is state highway engineer and Jac L. Gubbels director of urban planning. S. C. McCarty of Lubbock is district highway maintenance engineer.

Future Growth Considered

In working up a highway route plan for any city (the explanation begins) many features must be considered and a great deal of factual information must be at hand. Such a plan should be plausible and of utmost simplicity in that it must serve not only present but anticipated future requirements of vehicular transportation.

From factual information gathered, it is evident that Lubbock, in the south-central portion of the Great Plains, is destined to become a metropolis. This is obvious because its trade territory is still potentially undeveloped, but is increasing yearly in population. In 1920 there was a total population of 56,974 in the surrounding counties which Lubbock serves as a trading center, while in 1940 the census figures showed 190,674.

Population Increase Forecast

Only 40 per cent of the tillable land is utilized for farming and dairying. In these adjacent counties large tracts of land are constantly being subdivided into smaller tracts, which will result in an eventual increase in population per acre. And Lubbock, due to its geographical location and railroad facilities, has been and will continue to be the natural trading center for the entire South Plains area.

Lubbock itself had a population in 1920 of 4,051. In 1940, the U. S. Census bureau recorded the population as 31,853. Considerable residential development has taken place since 1936, and expansion of retail, wholesale and industrial establishments usually follows residential development of any sizeable degree. Although this expansion was interrupted by the war, it is logical to observe the present inadequacy of the retail and wholesale district, and it must be expected that since the ban on construction has been lifted there will be a very active expansion in all these areas—wholesale, retail, industrial and residential.

Expansion Forced Southward

To the east and north of the city a canyon prevented growth. To the west, a 2000-acre tract occupied by Texas Tech created a barrier to development in that direction. Therefore, expansion of the city has been forced southward.

The retail business district is bounded by Ave. Q on the west, Nineteenth street on the south, Fourth street on the north and Ave. A on the east. The wholesale district is located immediately north and east of the retail center. The industrial area, consisting of stockyards, packing houses, dairy and poultry processing plants, gins, oil and flour mills, feed and grain houses, and loading platforms, is in the eastern section of the city between Ave. A and Ave. H.

Truck Operations Heavy

Eleven truck lines, operating 126 trucks, have terminals in the area between Ave. A and Ave. H. A city of Lubbock traffic count of all major truck lines indicated that the origin or destination of 1,872 trucks was in that area between Ave. A and Ave. H and adjacent to Fourth street.

The trip origin and destination of cross-town and intercity traffic takes place chiefly between Fourth and Nineteenth, and between Ave. Q and Ave. A. Since Lubbock is the trading center, the number of vehicles bypassing the city is minor. Therefore, Nineteenth, Ave. Q, Fourth street and Ave. A have been designated as the major highway routes for the city of Lubbock. These streets and avenues have been extended by the plan well beyond the city limits and connected with existing highways. This system of routing will serve the retail, wholesale and industrial sections, thus giving all types of traffic a choice of direct access to points of destination.

Relocations Recommended

Two existing highways approaching the city are recommended for relocation. First: Highway U. S. 62, which now joins state highway 290 at Nineteenth, is routed from Wolfforth to a point south of the city on Ave. A where traffic may disperse to whatever part of the city it wishes to go. This rerouting is proposed for the reason that the volume of traffic is too great for the capacity of Nineteenth street, even though the recommended widening should be carried out. The other proposed highway relocation is U. S. highway 84 from Slaton. This relocation takes off from a point near Burrus switch and connects with a point south of Lubbock on Ave. H, thus giving traffic another opportunity of dispersing to the desired destination.

This traffic routing system will also become the major artery system for the city, and induce expansion to the west as well as continue the present tendency to develop in a southerly direction. It also constitutes another reason why U. S. highway 62 should be located as far south as possible (as indicated on the plan map carried in this issue) in order to avoid future rerouting.

Description of Routes Given

We believe (the preliminary plan discussion concludes) that with a simple traffic routing as outlined herein, Lubbock will be benefited by an orderly expansion in harmony with the ratio of its future growth.

The report was signed by the director of urban planning.

The following description of proposed routes inside Lubbock and Lubbock county was obtained from the district engineer:

U. S. highway 87—From a point on present U. S. highway 87, approximately 1½ miles north of the north city limits, a new entrance route to Lubbock is proposed. The route extends southeast to connect with Ave. Q at Fourth street, thence follows Ave. to Forty-ninth street, thence curving southeast to connect with the proposed traffic circle on present U. S. highway 87 approximately 1½ miles south of the south city limits. This route provides a north-south thoroughfare serving the business district, the north wholesale area and the large residential section west of Ave. H.

Connects With Fourth

U. S. highway 84—This route takes off present U. S. highway 84 at College Ave. and parellels the P&SF railroad to Temple Ave., thence curves southward to connect with the proposed route of U. S. highway 87 at Ave. Q and Fourth street, thence follows Ave. Q to the proposed traffic circle, thence extends southeast to a point on present U. S. highway 84 near Burrus switch. The proposed route provides a facility for free-flowing traffic to replace the present route with its many right-angle turns.

U. S. highway 87 (alternate)—An industrial route. From a point on the proposed route of U. S. highway 87 north of the city, approximately two blocks west of Ave. H, the industrial route extends southeast to Ave. D at Sanders street, thence south over Ave. D to Fourth street, thence curving southeast across three blocks to Ave. A at Eighth street, thence south over Ave. A to the FW&DC railroad, thence across one block to East Ave. A at Twenty-ninth street, thence south over East Ave. A to connect with the proposed route of U. S. highway 84 to Sweetwater. This route provides truck traffic with a direct thoroughfare to the retail, wholesale and industrial areas. To the north, new connections with the industrial route are proposed for Ave. H and the present highway.

Would Be Diverted Near Wolfforth

U. S. highway 62—The present route enters Lubbock from Brownfield over Nineteenth street. The proposed route takes off U. S. highway 62 near Wolfforth and extends northeast to the traffic circle on U. S. highway 87, thence curves northward to connect with the proposed industrial route at Forty-ninth street, thence over East Ave. A and Ave. A to Nineteenth street, thence eastward over Nineteenth street to the east side of the canyon, thence curving northeast to intersect with present U. S. highway 62 at Broadway.

As indicated on the plan, Ave. Q is extended southward from Forty-ninth street to connect with the proposed route of U. S. highway 62, giving traffic from the southwest a dispersal route to the west side of the business district.

U. S. highway 82—This route takes off present U. S. highways 62 and 82 at Fourth street and extends westward over Fourth street to Garfield road, thence curving southwest to connect with state highway 290. A connection between this route and the proposed industrial route is provided for over Ave. A.

State highway 290—State highway 290 now enters Lubbock over Nineteenth street, College Ave. and Broadway. The new route is extended eastward from College Ave. over Nineteenth street to Ave. A to connect the proposed routing of U. S. highway 62. This extension will serve the rapidly developing industrial area to the southeast of the city.

The city commission and the city planning commission have shown favor of the plan, and the county commission is studying it.

Two officials of the Public Roads administration district office were in Lubbock Friday studying plans. They, J. M. Page, who will be located at Austin, is district engineer for Texas, and W. C. Peterson, district maintenance engineer for PRA, is stationed at Fort Worth.

'Sphere Of Influence' Trends Are Big Strain On World Organization

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The inconclusive results of the foreign ministers' conference in London has left a dangerous vacuum in the post-war setup.

The real problem is not the Italian or Balkan treaties or Russia's aspirations in the Mediterranean. It is whether the United Nations idea will work in practice, living fully up to its name or the world will be split into "spheres of influence," economic and political.

If the five major powers cannot agree among themselves, the creation of separate blocks is almost certain to result to fill the void. The least evil outcome might be an eastern zone of Europe dominated by Russia, and a western zone led by France and supported by Great Britain and the United States.

Would Be Catastrophic

The greatest evil would be catastrophic if it came about. That would be a "two world" lineup of Russia and her satellites on the one hand and a western coalition dominated by the United States and Great Britain on the other.

Under such circumstances, none of the smaller powers would dare thrust its fate to the hollow security of a phantom "United Nations." Each would have to move into one orbit or the other for security. Eventually, an atomic war of annihilation would shape up.

The smaller powers at London already have shown concern over the possibilities. A growing revolt against failure to pay more heed to the San Francisco Charter has been started by the Australian foreign minister, Herbert V. Evatt. It has the open or implied support of South Africa, New Zealand, Canada, Belgium and Czechoslovakia.

The root of the difficulty is the demand of Russia, Britain and the United States for "security." Russia wants security on her eastern European and Pacific frontiers; Britain wants it in the Mediterranean and Middle East on her lifeline to the Orient; the United States wants it in the western Pacific.

Anyone who asks, security against what, gets a vague answer. There really is no answer, if the Charter of the United Nations is to be taken seriously. The only charitable explanation is not that the big powers are convinced that the world charter will not work. Rather, they want to make sure of their own individual positions before committing themselves to abide by the rules of the new union. It is an admission of fear likely to lead to mistrust and a scramble for the nearest exit.

This prospect is so frightening that it is hard to believe the leading powers will not make almost superhuman efforts to avoid it. The outlook cannot be as dark as some pessimists think. The negotiators have shown considerable reasonableness. Some of the demands made cannot be taken at face value. They are intended for bargaining purposes, with every intention of yielding on some if the opposite parties yield on others.

A typical attitude of one nation is expressed in the following viewpoint from an informed British source:

"On the face of it, there would appear to be no good reason why the Soviet Union should not be as directly responsible for, say, Libya or Eritrea as the United States is for bases in the Pacific, or as is Britain—unfortunately — for Palestine.

"Russia has a legitimate interest in the Mediterranean; but the Russia which claims the position of sole trustee in one of these North African colonies is the Russia which has already put an iron curtain around the greater part of central and southeast Europe, behind which she is exercising political and economic domination."

That revealing statement makes it clear why the first meeting of the foreign ministers has not solved the major issues. It suggests that another meeting of the Big Three heads of state may yet be necessary.

New Trial Is Sought In Farmer's Case

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—A motion for a new trial will be heard here Monday by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell for Edward W. Drinkard, 71 year old paralytic Dallas county farmer who was fined $123 for planting more cotton than was authorized by the government.

The suit was brought last week by the United States Department of Agriculture. Drinkard planted 18 acres of cotton and was later authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment administration to plant only 7 acres.

Testimony that Drinkard planted, raised, harvested and sold the cotton before government agents set his allotment is a point that Judge Atwell asked be reargued.

J. J. Fagan, Drinkard's attorney, filed motion for a new trial. The motion states that Drinkard planted the cotton before he received a government directive for cotton acreage and also that Drinkard planted the cotton only after a previously planted grain crop had been ruined by bugs.

Boy Scout Budget Is Increased For Area

A budget of $23,900 for 1946 has been approved by the Executive board of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, finance chairman, announced yesterday.

"This is an increase of $1,500 over the 1945 budget," McLaughlin explained, "and is made necessary by the increased activities of the organization."

The budget was presented by the budget committee at a dinner meeting of the executive board Thursday night in the Hilton hotel.

Dr. F. B. Malone, council president, reported that A. C. Smith has been employed as the new field executive of the council. Smith left Saturday morning for the Scout Executives' Training School in Mendham, New Jersey. He is expected to return the first of November to take up his duties as field executive for the southern districts in the council. A graduate of Howard Payne, he has done post-graduate work at Texas A. & M. He has been superintendent of schools at Bangs, Texas, for several years. He was a Life scout and a scoutmaster for several years.

Wildcats In Three Counties Near Pay Sections; New Prospectors Are Staked In Yoakum And Terry Areas

WILDCAT oil explorations in southeast Terry, west Lynn, south Gaines and southwest Cochran counties were all at "critical and crucial" stages as the week ended. Each of them were drilling in, or near levels, at which they could, and might, find signs of oil or gas.

New petroleum prospectors were reported in east Yoakum and southeast Terry counties, and outpost to proven areas in Lamb, Dawson and Garza counties were staked.

Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Preston, in extreme southeast Terry county, and in northwest quarter of section 20, block C-41, psl survey, was making hole under 4,703 feet, in San Andres lime, topped according to the operator at 4,460 feet. Elevation is 3,145 feet.

Test Running High?

Some geologists say top of the formation could be at 4,450 feet. On basis of the 4,460-foot call, the project is said to be one foot high to same operator's No. 1 Gunn, a dry hole about three miles northwest. It is 181 feet high to Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Youngblood, a northwest Dawson county abandoned exploration.

According to some corelations the No. 1 Preston is 63 feet high to and old test drilled by the old Illinois Oil company about eight miles north and is about 31 feet low to a dry hole on the Higginbotham land about six miles to the east.

No Shows Encountered

No shows of oil or gas had been encountered at last report, but it was considered that the prospector still had section left to drill in which oil and gas might be encountered.

Barnsdall Oil company No. 1 Williams, in section 2, block 8, EL survey, about six miles southwest of Tahoka, had drilled below 4,360 feet, in the San Andres-Permian topped at 3,730 feet, on an elevation of 3,054 feet.

Operator was expecting to encounter a porous section at anytime.

Union Oil company of California No. 1-A Williams, in section 7, block C-44, psl survey, three miles southeast of Seminole, in south Gaines, had made holt to 5,165 feet, in lime, and was shutdown for repairs.

Top Not Released

The operator had not released top on the San Andres, but it was understood that the project found that marker sufficiently high to make it passible for the test to produce if it should find a porous section with petroleum indications before it runs into sulphur water.

Gulf Oil corporation No. 1 Hancock, in southwest Cochran county, and in southeast corner of the east half of section 5, block L, psl survey, and one and one-half miles east and one-half mile north of Standolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Edwards, wildcat discovery completed several weeks ago, had penetrated under 5,075 feet, in San Andres lime, and was drilling ahead without any evidences of oil or gas having been reported.

Block Worked Up

Carl B. King Drilling company, J. E. Warren and F. W. Dye No. 1 Irwin Stewart, in the northwest corner of the northwest quarter of section 382, block D, John H. Gibson survey, in northeast Yoakum county, is to be a 5,250-foot development to test for pay in the San Andres-Permian. Drilling is now getting started.

The block of 2,520 acres on which the test is located was worked up by Ralph U. Fitting, jr., Midland operator. He turned part of the acreage to the King-Warren-Dye combination for the well, and retained the remainder of the block. The test is on acreage contributed by Forest Development corporation.

Other contributors to the cost of drilling the test include The Texas company, Honolulu Oil corporation, and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company. Shell Oil company, Inc., has acquired acreage in the spread.

The drill site is three and one-half miles northeast of the closest in the Ownby field, and it is on a line between that producing area and the northwest Terry county Alexander area, where a few small wells have been completed in the last year.

Terry Location Announced

Crump and Corrigan, Midland operators, have made location for their No. 1 J. P. Nystel, in the southwest corner of section 8, block C-38, psl survey, in southwest Terry county. It is contracted to 5,250 feet, and is to start soon.

Offsets to the location are held by Tide Water Associated Oil company, and by Ameranda Petroleum corporation. The Texas company has acreage one-half mile north of the wildcat.

Coates and Foster, Lubbock, have filed application with the Railroad commission to drill No. 1 C. H. Cole, to 5,000 feet, in northwest Dawson county. It will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 49, block M, EL survey. It is on the northwest side of the Welch field, and is 1,320 feet north of the nearest producing oil well, Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1, J. P. Cole.

Garza Project Scheduled

Grisham - Hunter corporation, Abilene, No. 1 Post estate, 990 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of the concern's "A" lease in section 5, block 5, K. Aycock survey, is to be a 2,900-foot exploration to test for pay in the Perminan lime, on the northeast side of the proven area in the Garza field, in central Garza county. It is to start drilling at once.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 Altman, in northwest Garza county, in section 1255, TT survey, had reached 8,776 feet, in lime and shale and was drilling ahead.

Crooked Hole Encountered

Union Oil company of California No. 1-C Post estate, in section 29, block 4, K. Aycock survey, in northeast Garza county, had crooked hole trouble on a total depth of 830 feet and plugged back to 550 feet, and is now drilling out and attempting to keep the hole in line.

In the southeast Lamb county Anton area Humble Oil & Refining company has reported locations for two more outposts to production.

Humble No. 2 J. R. Leftwich will be 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 32, block 1, R. M. Thompson survey.

Humble No. 1 J. R. Weiss, is to be 660 feet from the south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 33, block 1, Thompson survey.

To Drill To Lower Permian

Both are to drill to the lower Permian pay around 6,000 feet.

Humble No. 1 Arnold, in northwest quarter of section 120, block A, Thompson survey, was rigging up cable tools to drill out cement on casing, and then drill ahead from the current total depth at 5,637 feet, in dolomite.

Humble No. 1 Bagwell, in labor 25, league 673, State Capital Lands survey, three and one-half miles southwest of Littlefield, plugged back from total depth reached of 9,162 feet, in hard lime.

A cable tool unit was rigged and the hole bailed dry. Top of the cement was found at 4,141 feet, on casing which had been set at 4,185 feet.

The section at 4,089-4,119 feet, was perforated with a total of 88 shots, and it swabbed dry. Operator then treated the perforated section with 3,000 gallons of acid and was swabbing to test. A small amount of oil and considerable salt water had been recovered at last report.

Pfc. Tom Biggs Now Safe In Philippines

Pfc. Tom L. Biggs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Biggs of 2215 Ninth street, member of the Lost Battalion who has been a prisoner of the Japs in Fukuoka, is now safe and in the Philippines, the war department notified his parents Saturday afternoon.

BIGGS

Young Biggs, captured in Java with other members of the 131st Field artillery, was quoted as saying that he was liberated, felt fine and was in the Philippines. The message from the war department stated that "Pfc. Biggs was returned to military control Sept. 13 and is being returned to the United States in the near future." The telegram stated that his physical condition was good.

His parents had received a card from him on the day he was liberated, although the card was dated April 21, 1944. Seven other cards also had been received from him. A brother, Sgt. Dwight Lee Biggs, now in the Pacific, is expected to return to the states soon. He participated in several Pacific campaigns.

Pfc. Biggs' wife, the former Miss Maurine Johnson of Shallowater, is in the WAVES at Richmond Field, Fla.

SERVICES COMBINED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The War department is combining its three information services—for news, for Congress and for troops—under one office with Maj. Gen. Alexander D. Surles as "director of information."

A. Turner of Slaton.

The message, sent by Pvt. Turner, stated that he was in "good health" and he had received the cablegram sent by his parents several months ago. He inquired about his brother, Lt. Thomas R. Turner, pilot of a P-38, who was killed in a plane crash crash, Pado, Ga., in 1942.

Another brother of Pvt. Turner, Joe S., resides in Carlsbad and his sister, Mrs. D. D. Davis, resides in Slaton.

Jap Politeness Too Often Used For Benefit Of Sons Of Nippon

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—How polite are the Japanese, really?

Much depends on who is being polite, and what's in his mind.

Take four concrete cases, showing how politeness can be a reflex action, a mask for treachery, a defense against acute embarrassment, and finally a sincere expression of good will.

Reflex action: The supposedly sacred deer used to run loose under the cryptomeria trees in the great shrine at Nara. One of them, a doe, developed a trick of meeting pilgrims and tourists at the gate, where she planted herself before them and bowed gracefully, hoping for peanuts which a man sold nearby.

WHITE

I saw a little Japanese woman, young and pink-cheeked and obviously from the country, come through the gate. The doe bowed to her, and without thinking the girl stopped and bowed back.

Politeness as a mask:—Kopima San was a stocky young gendarme in occupied China, with wide cheek bones and small, sunken eyes. He was about to arrest a young Chinese for no other reason than that he felt like it when an American correspondent whom we'll call Bill intervened. They argued. Both got angry.

Typical Jap Treachery

Kojima San paused. "Let us" he said, "be gentlemen." And he held out his right hand. Bill said "okay" and took it. Whereupon Kojima San felled him with a left to the jaw.

Politeness as a defense: — My British friend was on the overnight boat from Shanghai to Nagasaki. The China sea was rough when he arose that morning and he saw as he paced the promenade deck that he was the only passenger who wasn't too seasick to be up and about.

Then a Japanese businessman appeared.

"Good morning. I see you're a first class sailor," my friend said to the Japanese businessman. The Japanese was appalled.

"Sorry, No," he hissed. "Am first class passenger."

Sincerity—After Pearl Harbor one Japanese friend came around in occupied China and said to me: "I have valued your friendship. I hope very much that we shall be able to go through this war without its making any difference between us."

I know he meant it, because he knew the gendarmes were looking for me. They never came to get me.

Black-Eyed Peas Profitable Cash Crop For Dawson Man

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, Sept. 29—The black-eyed pea is proving to be a profitable cash crop to farmers in Dawson and adjoining counties. Several East Texas canneries have moved millions of pounds of peas for canning during recent weeks, paying growers around three and one-half cents per pound.

Sam Middleton, whose farm is seven miles southeast of Lamesa, has harvested more than 200,000 pounds in less than three days, and sold them for three and one-fourth cents a pound to Stokely Foods, Inc., of Pittsburg, Tex., and the Dorman Canning company of Tyler.

Crop Better Than Average

Transportation for hauling the peas was furnished by Bill Britt, owner of the Britt Trucking company of Lamesa, with M. P. Tomberlain, field representative for Stokely Foods, supervising field work and routing of trucks.

Middleton's entire crop of peas was better than the average, both as to yield and quality of canning peas. They were harvested at the right stage for canning and gave a yield of 1,000 pounds per acre, grossing around $30 per acre. In addition to the green crop harvest, there is the possibility of a light combine harvest of dry peas.

The pea, besides being a cash crop, is considered a good soil-building crop; being a legume, it adds nitrogen to the soil. Its value as a grazing and hay crop should not be overlooked.

Soil conservation payment of $1.50 per acre is paid to the growers.

W. P. Coffman, Pacific Vet, Is Discharged

NEW ORLEANS — Once he patched up the bow of a damaged ship off Guam while enemy shore batteries were lobbing shells around him.

He went through six battles in the Pacific, and twice his ship was torpedoed. Then another time two men were killed in the same shop aboard his cruiser.

But Wilburn P. Coffman, 23, shipfitter 2/c, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Coffman, 320 Avenue N, Lubbock, didn't figure "they were very exciting or interesting" occasions.

Discharged this week from the naval personnel separation center here, the Texan, who plans to study for the ministry, was cited by Admiral Ainsworth for making an LCI seaworthy after its bow had been blasted near Guam. For nearly two hours, shore batteries fired as he worked, but he stuck at the job and finished it.

He took part in the battles of Kula Gulf, Lunga Point, Leyte Gulf, Palau, New Georgia and Bougainville, as a member of the crew of the USS Honolulu. At Kula Gulf an enemy torpedo struck the bow and blew it off. The ship returned to Pearl Harbor thence back to the United States. She returned to action, however, and Coffman was aboard her at Leyte Gulf when she was struck by another torpedo and suffered 65 killed. The Texas sailor has a brother, T. Eldon Coffman, in the Navy in the Pacific. Wilburn served overseas for 28 months.

Cigar Puffing Burma Belles And Dogfights Make Shrine Sideshow

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 23.—(Delayed)—Cigar puffing Burma belles and dogfights make Shwe Pagoda, one of the Orient's great religious shrines, somewhat of an unorthodox temple to western eyes.

From the air the golden shrine of this centuries - old monument to Buddhism is the most outstanding feature of Rangoon's bomb-marked landscape. At closer range it is even more remarkable.

Walks In Socks

I went through the shrine with Sgt. Jack Malone, former truckman, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, who was among a group of fewer than 50 American troops stationed in Rangoon.

To get to the central part of the shrine you enter a long staired archway which bears the grime of centuries—half lit and active with a hundred strange smells each fighting for supremacy.

Burmese children squabble at the entrance of this temple gateway for the chance to guard your shoes, for it is against the house rules to go in shod. You can walk barefooted or in your socks, and after one glance at the unwashed cobblestone pavement, we elected to keep our socks on.

Is Busy Shopping Center

The covered archway was more than 100 yards long and housed scores of Burmese families who had turned the shrine into one of Rangoon's busiest shopping centers. You could buy almost anything there — from Japanese magazines to candles, from hairpins to rubies.

"You'll probably be able to buy a tractor here in another couple of months with a statue of Buddha on the radiator," said Malone, who has spent a year in Burma and finds it full of more dirt than mystery.

Dozens of sharp - eared dogs, with their tails between their legs and their ribs showed plainly, skulked about the shops, and after walking less than halfway up the wet stone steps we became painfully aware that most of these animals never were housebroken.

In one stall was a woman who symbolized for me all that I have seen of the Far East. She was small and slimly built with a face whose features were clean, soft and beautiful as old ivory. She was tying fresh flowers in bundles with delicate shapely hands and her face was as serene as if she were alone in a high-walled convent, out of the world and its troubles. Yet a few feet from her sat a baby, a tiny dirty squawling baby, obviously ill and shockingly thin. Sores covered the baby's face and body. The mother paid no heed to its sick wails and silently and peacefully kept on plaiting her flowers.

Aggies Defeat Tech, 16 To 6 As Late Raider Rally Fails

Ags Score Early; Schlinkman Star For Tech; Record Crowd On Hand

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29—The Texas Aggies, who had the game under control for almost three quarters, had to fight off a suddenly revived and dangerous Texas Tech to win 16-6 before an all-time record crowd of 22,831 in Alamo Stadium here tonight.

Preston Smith scored for the Aggies in the first four minutes of play and Norton Higgins converted. The Aggies had put the ball in scoring position with a flurry of passes that caught the Red Raiders flat-footed.

An Aggie kick was blocked on the Tech 40 and the Raiders kicked to the 25. But the Aggies began an air-attack which was unstoppable. Laterals from Tom Daniel to Smith and Bob Butchofsky clicked. Rob Goode carried to the three with a 25 yard cut through the entire Tech squad, and Smith pushed it over for the first score.

Aggies Score Early

Tech was unable to gain. Walt Schlinkman, the Red Raiders' famed All-American mention last year, was stopped cold in the first period by a plunging Aggie line.

Almost as if wishing to show their versatility, the Aggies took to ground play for their next score. Goode kicked to the Tech 29 where Davis fumbled. Three plunges and the Aggies scored again. The Smith-Higgins combination brought the score to Aggies 14, Tech 0.

Ag Aerials Click

The Aggies tossed 23 passes and completed 13 on the wet field, made soggy by heavy rains last night and today. The Raiders tried six, completed 2, the Aggies led in rushing with 177 yards to 72.

Tech came to life in the third period. It seemed like a new team. Schlinkman showed All-America form with a 30 yard return of a kickoff as the period opened. The Aggies then intercepted a pass and it looked like the Aggies were going to pick up where they left off at the half.

But the Raiders had other ideas. Schlinkman broke loose and carried to the Aggie 28 for a first down. Norris picked up eight. The Aggies held and Tech kicked. Smith fumbled and Tech recovered on the 28. Gene Hardey tossed a 25-yard pass to R. W. Moyers, putting the ball in scoring territory for the first time for the Raiders. Hardey passed to Norris who scored standing up. Schlinkman failed to convert.

The fourth was a see-saw battle with Tech holding its own until the Aggies opened another passing attack that carried the ball to the Tech four. The Raiders stiffened and took the ball on downs. On the first play, Darnell slashed through the line and threw Hardey behind his goal for a safety.

The game ended shortly with the pigskin in midfield.

The crowd of 22,831 paid admissions set an all-time record for Alamo stadium. Previous record was 22,052, set last year when Randolph Field played the Third Air force.

First Quarter

The Aggies lost the toss, and the Red Raiders received. Ballentine kicked to the Tech 15. The Red Raiders lost five yards on the first play, and kicked to Beard, who carried it seven yards to the Tech 47.

The Aggies promptly opened an aerial attack. Daniel tossed to Smith for seven yards, but a second pass failed. Branton then broke through to block an Aggie punt on the 40, but Tech was forced to kick.

The Aggies took over on the 23, and from there launched the attack that led to the first touchdown, four minutes after the start of the game.

Laterals from Daniel to Smith and Butchofsky accounted for most of the gains. The longest was a 25 yard spurt by Goode. Smith took it over from the three, and Higgins converted.

Tech received the Aggie kick, and worked back up to the 34. Three plays failed to gain, and Tech kicked to Smith, who ran the ball back to the Aggie 39. The Aggies were penalized 15 yards for an illegal backfield shift, and the Ags kicked to the Tech 44 as the quarter ended with Texas A. & M. leading 7-0.

Second Quarter

The second period was a flurry of punts and penalties. Tech was penalized five yards for offside, ran one play for one yard, and was penalized another five for offsides. Jackson punted from the 36 to the Aggie 44.

The Aggies were penalized 15 yards for illegal shift, and Goode kicked 61 yards to the Tech 29, where Davis fumbled. The ball was downed on the Tech seven.

Tech punted, giving the ball to the Aggies on their 27. Three plunges by Smith punched over a second touchdown. Higgins again converted.

The Aggies kicked to the Tech four, and Schlinkman ran it out to the 25. Tech lost a yard, then picked up three, and kicked to the Aggie 33.

Substitutes poured on the field for both teams, and the Aggies took to the air again. A pass from Goode to Geer was good for 16. Daniel pitched to Foldberg for six to the Tech 34. Tech tightened, and took over, but couldn't gain. Schlinkman was thrown for a loss. Norris swept end for ten, then Tech kicked.

The Aggies filled the air with passes—Daniel to Foldberg for 19, and Daniel lateraled to Smith, who carried to the 25. Two passes failed, and the half ended with the Aggies in possession of the ball on the Tech 26, and leading 14-0.

Third Quarter

Schlinkman showed the form at won him All-America mention last year by taking the Aggie kickoff on his 17, and running it back to the 47. Hardey tossed a pass on the first Tech play, but it was intercepted by Ellis, who ran it back to the 47.

Smith picked up six on a bullet pass. Higgins made a first down on another pass, then picked up 29 yards on still another pass. The Aggies kicked to the one-yard line, and Norris ran it to the Tech 4.

Schlinkman broke loose and carried to the 28 for a first down. Norris picked up eight, then lost one. Schlinkman kicked to the Aggie 25.

The Aggies lost three yards, then regained them on a run by Smith, then fumbled, and Tech recovered on the 28. A long pass to Branton carried to the six. But there, the Aggies held, and kicked to the 38.

Hardey's sneak play failed, but on the next play, Hardey tossed to Moyers, for 25 yards. Schlinkman failed to gain, but Hardey let loose with a pass to Norris, who took it over his shoulder on the six-yard line and scampered across untouched. Schlinkman's try for point was short.

Smith took the kickoff and carried to the Aggie 30. Schlinkman intercepted Daniel's long pass. Norris hit the line for a three-yard gain to the Aggie 20 as the period ended with Tech trailing 6-14.

Fourth Quarter

Tech lost nine on two plays, and Schlinkman punted to the five. Goode promptly punted to the 50, and Shahan carried it back to the 41, then lost three on a line play. Ellis intercepted a pass and sprinted to the 40.

Daniel passed to Higgins for 15 yards, and a first down on the Tech 45. The Aggies lost five, then were penalized 15 yards. Daniel passed to Goode for four, then Shahan intercepted a poss on the 45.

Tech lost a yard, then made first down when a pass was interferred with. An exchange of punts in midfield gave the ball to the Aggies. Daniel latteraled to Smith for 29 yards, putting the ball on the Tech four. Tech tightened, and Smith lost two, then three more, and the ball went to Tech on downs. On the first play, Darnell slashed through to tackle Hardey behind the goal, giving the Aggies a safety.

The ball was put in play by a kick from the 20, and moved play back into Aggie territory. The game ended with the ball in midfield.

LSU Tigers Rip Rice Owls, 42-0

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 29—Warning signals flashed to other Southeastern Conference teams tonight as Louisiana State university used an explosive new T-formation attack to score a 42 to 0 triumph over Rice Institute before 28,000 spectators.

The rejuvenated Tigers took a commanding first period lead when "Slim Jim" Cason scored three touchdowns in less than five minutes. One touchdown in the second quarter gave the home team a 27 to 0 advantage at the intermission.

Then Rice came back fighting and limited the victors to a safety in the third. It was late in the fourth period before the Tigers could shove over a couple more touchdowns.

Both running plays and passes were working for Coach Bernie Moore's team, which might have made the score much higher but for a succession of fumbles which were recovered by the alert Owls.

Stalled on their first advance in the first period by a fumble, the fast-breaking Louisianians came back quickly to march 59 yards and score when Cason zipped 29 yards on a reverse which had some of the characteristics of the hoary statue of liberty play.

On the second play after the next kickoff, Slim Jim hauled in a pass from Rice's Jess Mason and barged all the way through 51 yards of tackler-infested territory.

A few minutes later little Jim stepped over the goal line again. This time he took a pass from Y. A. Tittle, a fellow Texan, on a play which covered 29 yards.

Corpus Christi Nips SMU, 22-7

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 29—A rugged Corpus Christi Naval Air Station Comet eleven battered the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, 22 to 7, here tonight before a record crowd of 19,000 in Buccaneer stadium.

The rough and tumble Comets rammed two touchdowns over in the first quarter, the first one coming on a 44-yard run by George Strohmeyer who picked up a fumble. A pass, Youel to Samuels made the extra point.

A few minutes later the passing and running Comets scored again with Jim Youel plunging over. In the third period Ray Borneman went over on an end run for the third touchdown and kicked the goal himself.

A safety in the fourth quarter gave the Comets their last points. Webb and Ogilvie blocking Pelz' punt behind the goal line.

Ben Hogan Piles Up Portland Open Lead

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29 (AP)—Shattering par, his own competitive record and the last fading hopes of rivals, Ben Hogan posted a 63 today to increase his lead at the end of the third round of the 72-hole Portland Open golf tournament.

His nine-under par gave him a 54-hole total of 197 and a ten-stroke advantage over his closest challenger, Jug McSpaden.

Trojans Get Breaks To Beat California

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—The University of Southern California Trojans took advantage of two breaks to move another step closer to their third consecutive Coast Conference football title by beating a green, but stubborn University of California eleven, 13 to 2, here today. A crowd of 60,000 sat in the blazing sun.

Southern California scored touchdowns in each of the first two periods, but after that bogged down completely. California had four scoring opportunities in the third period, but didn't have the offensive power to take advantage of them.

REDSOX BUY STAR

BOSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today announced the purchase of Glen Russell from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League today for an unannounced sum of cash and two players to be named later.

Texas Shackles Pirates, 46-0; Lowrey Shines

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 29—The University of Texas used virtually its entire roster of gridmen today to pour a touchdown barrage on Southwestern university's hapless Pirates for a 46 to 0 victory.

The visitors were game but hardly equal to the running and aerial attack loosed against them by Texas regulars and substitutes who struck in every period.

Steers Score Early

The Pirates never threatened seriously but registered some fine performances by Bob Hamric of Corpus Christi and H. K. Allen of Austin.

The Steers hit pay dirt once in the first period, twice in the second, once in the third and three times in the fourth by air and ground. Tom Harrell, a guard, made good in four out of seven convrsion attempts. Texas outrushed the Pirates 232 to 27 in yards gained. Passing netted 152 yards against the Pirates' 10. The Steers chalked up 15 first downs against Southwestern's three.

Lowrey, Bechtol Star

Within five minutes after the starting whistle Arthur Sweet, Steer fullback from San Antonio, went across from the three-yard line. The touchdown was set up by recovery of a Pirate fumble near midfield. Maxie Bell of Vernon made the first of two second period markers, bulling across from the two after Texas had moved all the way from its own 40. Minutes later Bell passed to Ransom Jackson of Littlerock, Ark., and then Jackson sailed across on a 54-yard play.

Little Byron Gillory, a Marshall freshman passed to All-America End Hubert Bechtol for 20 yards for the first marker of the third period, climaxing a drive beginning from the Texas 33. Bell came back into the picture, after Jackson intercepted a fourth period pirate forward and moved the ball to the Pirate 15 from where Bell in two tries drove to the three. From there George Graham of San Antonio went over. Late in the final period James Lowrey, Lubbock freshman, scored from the Southwestern four and repeated his performance with a second touchdown which he raced across from the Pirate 24.

Irish Nips Illinois On First Play, 7-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 29 (AP)—Phil Collela, a Navy veteran of South Pacific action, streaked 76 yards for a touchdown on the game's first running play to usher in Notre Dame's football season with a 7-0 triumph over Illinois today.

It had a new coach and a squad of unknown ability, but never did a Notre Dame team live up to its Fighting Irish label as did Hugh Devore's green-shirted scrappers, who staged two epic goal line stands in the closing period before a crowd of 45,000.

The Illini who last week belted Pittsburgh, 23-6, slammed an explosive but fumble-plagued offensive at the Irish only to see scoring threats smothered on Notre Dame's one yard and three yard stripes.

Notre Dame had its opening day pattern cut out for it after Collela, a 20-year old from Rochester, Pa., skirted Illinois' left end, sharply reversed his field and outran the Illini secondary 76 yards to a touchdown on the first play.

Reserve Fullback Stan Krivak drop-kicked the point and that was theonly scoring.

Tulsa's Hurricane Rips Up Buffaloes

TULSA, Sept. 29 (AP)—Tulsa university's Golden Hurricane, its aerial attack stopped by Marshy Turf, came down to earth tonight to overpower West Texas State's Buffaloes 32-0.

Jim Finks, a substitute Hurricane tailback from Salem, Ill., provided a highlight when he took off from the Tulsa 17 on an 83-yard jaunt that brought a touchdown late in the third period.

The Texans fought gamely from the start and their linemen filtered through frequently to rush Tulsa passers, who completed only two aerials.

BUSHER IS WINNER

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Sept. 29 (AP)—Busher firmly established herself today as one of the greatest racers on the American turf by winning the $50,000 Hollywood Derby and boosting her earnings to $316,590, tenth among money-winning horses of all time.

RED RAIDERS ROMP AGAIN—This quartet of former Texas Tech stalwarts are mainstays on the Air Transport Command Rockets football team which is expected to make a strong bid for national honors in the rugged AAF Football Conference this autumn. They are left to right, Sgt. Roger Smith, Rising Star, Texas; Capt. Newman Ledbetter, 200 pound tackle from San Benito; Sgt. Rafe Nabors of Lubbock, a former Detroit Lions pro star, and Sgt. Glenn Lowe of Hart. All these Texans are expected to see action today at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas when the Rockets engage the strong Fourth Air Force in an AAF Conference game.

Cubs Win National League Pennant With Double Triumph Over Pirates

Borowy Turns In Clinching Game

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29—The Cubs are in.

The Chicago champs who took over the National league lead in July and held it all the way against the surge of the St. Louis Cardinals, nailed the pennant to their flagpole today for the first time since 1938.

The $100,000 "pennant insurance" they bought from the New York Yankees in mid season—Hank Borowy—paid off in the clincher with an eight-hit 4 to 3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first half of a double header that put the flag on ice, giving the Cubs their 16th league crown since 1876 for an all-time high. This one broke a tie at 15 apiece that they'd been in with the New York Giants since 1938.

Also Win Second

Just for good measure, the Cubs also took the darkness-shortened second game, 5-0 in seven innings with Hy Vandenberg and Lon Warneke dividing the pitching chores and Catcher Paul Gillespie whacking a two-run homer.

It marked, too, the third Cub championship conquest under the leadership of Jolly Cholly Grimm.

Back in 1932, Grimm took over in mid-season and piloted the windy city wallopers to a pennant, then was whipped in the World Series by the Yanks. Three years later, he put them on top again, only to lose a six-game World Series to Detroit, the outfit that probably will be the party of the second part when the fall frolics open next Wednesday.

Stage Rally

Borowy and his mates had to come from behind in the seventh and ninth innings to reach the playoff window today, and then Hank had to call for the bullpen fire department of Lefty Bob Chipman and Beanpole Paul Erickson to put out a Buc blaze that threatened to burn up the pennant party at the last minute.

But when Erickson pushed a wide-breaking curve past pinch hitter Tom O'Brien, with Pirates on second and third and two away in the ninth, it was all over. And Borowy's game was saved for his 11th win against two defeats since the Cubs wrote out that big check for him in July—his 21th triumph in his combined Cub-Yank year.

New Mexico Lobos Swamp LAAF, 39 To 0, In Fliers' Opening Tussle For Season

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 29—Sparked by a couple of hard hitting backs and scoring almost at will, the University of New Mexico rolled over a big but outclassed Lubbock Army Air Field squad here tonight, 39 to 0, on a muddy field with intermittent rain falling throughout the tussle.

The New Mexico powerhouse plowed 60 yards for a quick touchdown the first time it got its hands on the ball with Fullback Krall slashing through the Flier line for the final 15 yards. In the second period, Left Half Rumley, the other standout for the winners, raced 20 yards to climax another long drive and Left Half Boqua, sub back, galloped 40 yards down the middle for another tally to make the count 20 to 0 at halftime.

In the third quarter the Lobos opened up again with the first team setting the pace. Rumley counted first with a 10-yard sprint and Krall added another late in the period. In the fourth, with the second team alternating, the Fliers made their second serious threat of the game when big Milan Kosanovich, LAAF left half, passed 25 yards deep in Lobo territory to Ed Glinski, left end, but the drive backfired as Krall intercepted a LAAF aerial and raced 75 yards for the final New Mexico tally. Doar, center and point making artist for the Lobos, accounted for all of the New Mexico extra points by kicking.

Kosanovich was the standout for the Fliers, returning a kickoff in the second 50 yards on a short lived LAAF rally.

New Mexico chalked up 14 first downs to LAAF's three, completed one of six passes to one completion of 19 attempts for LAAF.

Rain Postpones Saturday's Tussle

Detroit And Browns In Twin Bill Today

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29—A cold, beating rain forced postponement of today's crucial game between the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns and carried the American league flag race right down to a final climactic doubleheader tomorrow, with the Tigers still needing a single victory to enter the World Series against the Chicago Cubs.

If the skies clear the first game will begin at 12:30 p. m. (CST) in order to assure the Tigers of catching a 6:30 train back to Detroit and a possible play-off engagement with the Washington Senators there on Monday. Two defeats by the Browns would throw the Bengals into a tie with the Nats and deprive them of clear possession of top place for the first time since early June.

Trucks To Toss

Another such day of rain would present the title to the Tigers without a struggle. Army Air Forces said, however, that tomorrow promised to be fairly clear and cold, so there was a good prospect the two games would be played. The Tigers claimed they would prefer to fight it out on the field, but they were not too aggressive about it.

Manager Steve O'Neill said his starting pitchers would be Virgil Trucks, who signed his Tiger contract just today after returning from the Navy, and Studdy Overmire, a lefthander who looked very good in his first appearance in a relief job four days ago. O'Neill was holding out his ace, Hal Newhouser, to throw at Washington in the event of a play-off.

Browns Also Ready

Trucks, who admits being in the best shape of his career, was rearing to pitch the clincher today, and he was disappointed when the rain kept coming down. He looks bronzed and tremendously fit.

Never, perhaps, has a big league manager been forced to take such a gamble as O'Neill is taking on Trucks. When they met here today O'Neill didn't ask the husky right-hander any questions about his condition or anything else. He just said: "Virgil, I'm mighty happy to have you back. I think you'll pitch that clincher for us."

"I'll be in there bearing down," was all Trucks said.

The Browns were expected to throw Nelson Potter, a star screwballer, against the Tigers in the first game tomorrow. He made the Tigers roll over and play dead last week-end in Detroit.

Fenimore Leads Aggies To Win

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 29. (AP) — Bob Fenimore, a freight train with a football as his load, and his Oklahoma, A. & M. sidekicks unleashed a powerful rushing attack to wilt the plucky University of Arkansas Razorbacks, 19 to 14, today in a tingling offensive duel before an estimated turnout of 10,000.

The Aggies passed the slippery ball only four times, never successfully, but did not need an aerial attack as they piled up a net of 432 yards by rushing to Arkansas' 132. A heavy rain which fell all morning but stopped before game time made the footing loose, but the Razorbacks nevertheless scored both of their touchdowns through the air.

Cowboys Roll Merrily

A. & M., with Fenimore showing the way, picked up 15 first downs to Arkansas' eight and never trailed, although there were some anxious moments for Coach Jim Lookabaugh's Cotton Bowl champions in their season-opener.

Fenimore, who scored one touchdown on an 80-yard jaunt in the third period, was virtually the entire Aggie offense, definitely proving the difference between the two rivals. The Aggies also scored in the second and fourth periods, with the Razorbacks' tallies coming in the third and fourth.

Big John Hoffman, Arkansas freshman, intercepted a pass tossed by Fenimore on his own 38 to stop an Aggie drive in the first period and the ball remained in Aggie territory until the Sooner eleven launched a touchdown march from its 11-yard line early in the second quarter.

Fenimore got away on runs of 21 and 20 yards, and fullback Jim Parmer added enough yardage on short line bucks to move the ball to the Arkansas seven, from where the latter lugged it over. Mack Creager converted from placement.

Hogs Tie Score

Arkansas tied the count in the third quarter. Freshman Quarterback Calvin Smith flipped a lateral pass across the field to Halfback Alton Baldwin. Baldwin waited just long enough for the Aggie secondary to come up out of place and then passed to Mike Schumchyk, lanky and fast end, in the end zone for a touchdown. Hoffman converted from placement.

The Cowboys retaliated quickly to forge ahead once again. Arkansas kicked off to the Aggie 20, and on the first play from scrimmage the speedy Fenimore turned in his 80-yard sprint. Creager's placekick was wide.

Late in the third period the Aggies set up their final and winning touchdown with a pass interception. Parmer came up with one of Canada's aerials and returned it 31 yards to the Arkansas 35. Jim Reynolds and Parmer alternated at carrying to reach the Razorback 11 as the quarter ended.

Arkansas will open its 1945 Southwest Conference campaign against the defending champion Texas Christian Frogs here next Saturday.

Due to boll weevils, about $60,000,000 in cotton is lost in the United States annually.

Idalou Romps Over Ralls For 13-0 Win

IDALOU, Sept. 29. — Striking from both the ground and the air, the Idalou Wildcats scored twice in the second quarter here this afternoon to defeat Ralls, 13-0, in a non-conference game.

Idalou was sparked by Ben Bearden, captain and quarterback, who sparked the drive that produced the first touchdown early in the second period. Bearden went over on a short plunge on a spinner.

Just before the half ended, Eugene Becknell passed to Calvin Bircent for the second touchdown.

Frogs Squeeze By Baylor, 7-6 In SWC Tilt

WACO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Harry Mullins' artistic toe that booted Texas Christian into the Southwest Conference football championship last year pulled the Horned Frogs over another hump today, his point after touchdown giving the Purple a 7-6 triumph over Baylor's gallant Golden Bears.

The statistics say TCU should have won the game handily as the frogs rolled up 294 yards from scrimmage to 106 for the Bears, but a fighting Baylor line halted the Purple repeatedly in the shadow of the goal. Only the grand passing of slender Leon Joslin, TCU's great freshman, got the Frogs across and then Mullins, whose point after touchdown against Texas and his field goal against Rice gave the Purple the championship last season, stepped back and planted the ball between the goalposts.

A crowd of 5,000 thrilled to a 95-yard touchdown run by Baylor's Joe Joiner in the second period as the Frogs were balked deep in Bear territory time and again, but the lead didn't stand up long.

Joslin engineered a 41 yard drive that scored a touchdown five minutes later. Jack Price had punted out after the Frogs were halted on the four-yard stripe. Norman Cox crossed up the Bears by throwing the first pass and Joslin stepped in as the receiver, taking the pitch for nine yards. Then Joslin threw to Cox for five more. Jesse Mason ripped right guard for two and Joslin threw to Cox for seven. Joslin plunged through right guard to the 15-yard line and from there threw over the goal line to Beekie Ezell who took it on his knees. Mullins then converted and that was the ballgame.

The Baylor touchdown came after TCU had made one of its many surges deep into Bear territory. On the two-yard line, Joslin attempted to lateral to Cox but Darrell Hogan popped through the line to tackle him and it deflected the throw with Joiner, the Baylor star wing man, bobbing up to gather it in and sprint for the Frog goal line. Price's try for extra point was wide.

In that unusual first half TCU made 227 yards passing and running to 23 for Baylor and before the Frogs had scored they had 113 yards to none for the Bears. Baylor made only one first down the first half, that coming after the TCU touchdown.

Joslin In Form

For the entire game TCU rolled up 285 yards net and Baylor had only 36 after losses were subtracted. The Frogs made fourteen first downs to Baylor's five.

Joslin had the phenominal average of nine completions out of eleven passes thrown for 104 yards. Price more than matched him on completions with seven out of eight but gained only 36 yards altogether.

The Bears put up a stirring battle and in the last half played the Frogs on more than even terms, holding the Purple to a single first down. Several times the Bruins threatened to score with tank-built Sammie Pierce plowing the Frog line for long gains. Pierce was the leading ball-carrier of the day with 56 yards. Mason topped the Frogs with 48. Joslin threw in 25 yards on the ground.

Clay Leads Pampa To Win Over Phillips

PAMPA, Sept 29. (Special).—Led by Randall Clay, the Pampa Harvesters struck three times in the first half and once in the fourth period to defeat the Phillips Blackhawks 27 to 6 in a cold drizzle of rain.

But the Harvesters were forced to come from behind to do it, as Phillips scored in the first two minutes of the game on a 29 yard run by Dick Jackson.

But the Harvesters came back for two touchdowns before the end of the period, the first a 69 yard gallop by Clay. Clay scored both touchdowns. Clay scored a third time in the second quarter.

Russell Neff scored Pampa's third touchdown, going over from the two, Clay ran over two conversions and Neff ran over a third.

Phillips led in first downs, 6 and 5, but Pampa had the better of it in yardage, 184 to 148.

The victory was marred by the death of Referee Albert Jones, 42, of Pampa. Jones suffered a heart attack during the first half, and died shortly after in the hospital.

CORNELL WINS AGAIN

ITACA, N Y., Sept. 29. (AP)—Cornell's sharp passing Dekdebrun sparked the Big Red to its second victory of the season today by leading his mates to a 19 to 8 victory over the underdog Bucknell Bisons before 3,000.

Lamesa Plays Here Friday; Red Raiders Play Longhorns

Lamesa's fast moving improving Golden Tornadoes will blow into Lubbock Friday night to offer the fourth test of the Lubbock Westerners against District 3-AA foes, after the Westerners have breezed through the first three all even—one loss, one tie and one win.

Lamesa's scores of the season have not been too impressive, but the club has shown steady improvement to hang up the same kind of a record as the Westerners.

Lamesa opened the season with a scoreless tie with Levelland, then lost to Brownfield, and last week snapped out with an 18-6 win over a strong Kermit club.

The Westerners have shown a strong running game in the last two times out, and should be in shape for a real showing by next Friday.

Texas Tough Test

The Red Raiders will be in for some rough sledding this week, going to Austin to encounter Coach Dana X. Bible's powerladen Texas Longhorns for the second test against the powerful Southwest conference clubs.

Lubbock Cowhand teams take on a pair of rough tests this week, the Golds of Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst facing the Post Antelopes at Chapman Field Friday afternoon, with the Antelopes still smarting under a season's opener loss to the Golds at Post by a 21-13 score.

Coach Curtis Barrett will take his Cowhands Black to Petersburg Thursday night for a battle under the arcs of Petersburg's newly lighted grid field.

The District 1-AA spotlight this week will be shared by the pass minded Plainview Bulldogs and the Amarillo Golden Sandies, each of which will be at home this week with tough foes.

Plainview entertains Midland and Amarillo is host to the San Angelo Bobcats, with both District 1-AA teams shooting the works to remain in the unbeaten class of Texas schoolboy football.

Brownfield moves to Levelland this week to tangle with the fast improving Lobos, and is likely to encounter some trouble. The schedule. The schedule of Pampa and Borger is not known for this week.

Many Conference Tilts

Conference games in Class A will take the spotlight, with the boys in all three of the area Class A districts loading up for keeps. Bulky District 6-A leads the parade with four conference games, District 4-A offers three and District 5-A has two.

Three teams set the pace in District 6-A, where all but one team has opened its conference schedule, and that one starts this week. The veteran packed Seminole Indians, after an upset at the hands of Sudan, returns home this week to play Denver City, defending champions and one of the three co-leaders, in the feature game.

Andrews and Sundown, the other leaders with one win and no losses, clash at Sundown in another top battle of the day, and perhaps one of the outstanding battles of the area.

Slaton will go to Tahoka and Seagraves to O'Donnell for other conference tilts in the district race, with all four clubs battling to stay in the race, and all beaten at least once this year.

The high scoring Littlefield Wildcats go to Olton Friday for another conference tilt, while Sudan, winner over Seminole last week, is at Muleshoe in the second District 5-A league battle.

Morton, licking its wounds from last week's encounter with Littlefield, will go to Springlake this week for a non-conference game.

The race in District 4-A will get well underway this week with three conference battles and one non-conference tilt. Matador plays at Crosbyton, Floydada at Ralls and Lockney at Paducah in the conference affairs, while Spur will play at Hamlin in the non-conference game.

Class B play gets off to a good start this week, with three games on tap that are conference affairs. The spotlight here will be on the Hale Center and Abernathy battle at Abernathy. Idalou plays at New Deal and Frenship and Ropesville play this week.

Walkie-Talkie Just What Coach Needed

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Austin Maroon coach last night used a "walkie-talkie" to help direct the team play in Austin's game at Temple with the Temple Wildcats.

While Head Coach Standard Lambert directed from the bench an assistant coach advised him from high in the grandstand where plays could be seen with greater accuracy.

Lambert said it was not the first time the "walkie-talkie" has been used. He used it last week when the Maroons played John Reagan of Houston here.

An advantage over a fixed telephone in the stands, used by many coaches, is greater freedom of movement to observe plays. Lambert said it is also helpful for a fixed phone in the stands is not always available on trips out of town.

New Frenship Coach Starts With Victory

WOLFFORTH, Sept. 29.—(Special) — Frenship High school's new coach, B. M. Lyde, just recently released from the Navy, started his coaching regime at Frenship off with a bang Friday afternoon as his team defeated the Class A Crosbyton High eleven, 13 to 7.

Lyde took over coaching of the team last week, Geo. Langford, who had been helping out as a volunteer, relinquishing his post. Langford operates a farm about two miles from the school and came over each afternoon to coach the boys.

Friday's game, played in a cold rain, was featured by the playing of Arthur Earl Penkert, quarterback and Billy Joe Gafford and Curtis Crump, backs. Penkert scored both touchdowns.

Lyde's team plays Ropesville Friday in the first conference game of the season.

Lyde, who was a star player with Childress High school's Bobcats and later with the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. He has been a physical training officer in the Navy.

Gus White Shines In Lineup Of Sailors

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29. (AP)—The U. C. L. A. Bruins, withstanding a savage fourth period onslaught, today defeated the San Diego Navy Blue Jackets, 20-14, in a wild, wide open football game

The Bruins, led by hard driving Cal Rossi, who scored two touchdowns and set up another with spectacular smashes, had a wide margin in all departments of play except passing. The Blue Jackets aerial game, featuring George Murphy and Mel Tommervik, kept the issue in doubt until the final two minutes, when a Navy drive fizzled out on the Bruins 28.

The Blue Jackets scored on a 37-yard pass from Murphy to Gus (Goose) White of Lamesa and Texas A&M in the first quarter, and a 30-yard off tackle sprint by Tommervik in the final period. White kicked both Navy points from placement, while Rowland converted the first two Bruins scores, but was low on the third.

COLUMBIA WINS EASILY

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Columbia's football fortunes surged upward today as Lou Little's winged-T formation clicked for six touchdowns in a 40-14 romp over Lafayette.

Army One-Two Punch Defeats PDC Comets

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 29. (AP)—Army unveiled a pair of good football teams today to defeat a squad of former college and professional players representing the Army Air Forces Personnel Distribution command, 32 to 0.

Using the two-team system that carried the Cadets to an unbeaten season in 1944, Coach Earl Blaik sent out two teams, alternating them by quarters, to score in every period but the third.

Glenn Davis and Felix "Doc" Blanchard, All-America backs last year, again carried the burden of the Cadet attack, but they found able relief in Tom "Shorty" McWilliams, formerly of Mississippi State, Tom Staurt from Tulsa university and Elwyn "Ripper" Rowan from Louisiana State.

Army didn't show the same kind of smooth running and blocking that marked its mid-season performances last year, but it was up against somewhat stronger opposition than was supplied by the college team it faced in 1944. The PDC Comets, representing some 20 stations throughout the United States, boasted such well-known veterans as Dick Plasman, Chicago Bears; Jim Castiglia, Philadlephia Eagles; Julius Alfonso, Minnesota, and Jim Strausbaugh, Ohio State.

Bob Whites Seem To Be Replacing Blues

O'DONNELL, Sept. 29. —(Special) — W. E. Singleton, local business man and operator of farms northwest of here, reports a noticeable decrease in the blue quail population and a rapid increase in the numbers of Bob Whites in the past few years.

Singleton said he had noticed a covey of young Bob Whites following a blue quail mother of late and suspects that nature is taking a hand in favoring the Bob Whites in their efforts to take over the age-old home of the blues.

Singleton, who says he doubts if there were three dozen Bobs in the entire county 35 years ago, thinks it is likely that Mrs. Bob may be shrewd enough to kick out eggs of the blues, laying her own, but he is not yet sure.

Tarheels Show Class Before Losing 20-14

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 29 (AP)—North Carolina's surprising Tarheels, making their home debut under new head coach Carl Snavely, matched power and deception with Georgia Tech's favored Yellow Jackets today and barely lost 20-14 in a thrill-packed battle.

A crowd of 25,000 which filled the stands for Snavely's homecoming to Carolina where he coached a decade ago, saw the Jackets overcome a one point deficit at the half to win in the third period when Wingback George Matthews plunged over from the Carolina two yard stripe for the winning score.

Navy Rips Villanova In 49 To 0 Victory

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 29 (AP)—Clyde Scott, the kid from Smackover, Ark., dynamited Villanova's Wildcats with two touchdowns in the first six minutes of play today and Navy's Midshipmen shuffled along in record-breaking September heat to an easy 49 to 0 football triumph that was not quite as impressive as the score.

Lifting the curtain on its version of the T-formation for the first time, Comdr. Oscar Hagberg's sailor outfit looked like a championship club only for the first 14 minutes of the game when Robert Hoernschemeyer, the old Indiana flash, was master-minding the Navy eleven and teaming up with Scott in the scoring antics.

Rochester, Columbus Stars Sold To Cards

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals today announced the purchase of six players from their farm clubs for delivery next spring.

Conklyn W. Meriwether, pitcher and utility man; Charles E. Baron, first baseman; Otis A. Davis and Arthur L. Nichols, outfielders, will be brought up from the Redbirds' Rochester club, while Outfielder Jack McClain and Infielder Robert Rhawn have been secured from the Columbus club.

Northwestern Ties Indiana Club 7-7

EVASTON, Ill., Sept. 29 (AP)—Northwestern's untested Wildcats opened their Western Conference season today by surprisingly holding Indiana, conqueror of Michigan, to a 7-7 tie before 30,000 spectators.

The Wildcats, seizing advantage of a blocked punt in the first period, scored and then fought off Indiana's challenges until the last seven minutes. Then the Hoosiers opened with a deadly passing attack that tied the score two minutes later after a 53-yard drive in which but six plays were used—two running plays and four brilliant aerials.

Lt. Pete Pihos, who starred for Indiana in 1943 and for the U. S. Infantry in France and Germany since, scored the tying touchdown on a nine-yard bullet pass he took from Ben Raimondi.

Sooners Cop Opener Over Nebraska, 20-0

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 29 (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners, led by substitute Halfback Howard Hawkins, pushed across a touchdown in each of the final three quarters to defeat Nebraska, 20-0, in the first Big Six game of the season here today. An estimated 19,000 saw the big Sooner line bottle up Nebraska's attack through most of the game.

Washington Rolls To Victory Over Oregon

SEATTLE, Sept. 29 (AP)—Before a near capacity crowd of 35,000 the University of Washington triumphed over the University of Oregon 20-6 in the opening Pacific coast conference football game today. Washington counted three times before Oregon scored with a touchdown in the last couple of minutes of play on a 23 yard pass from Robert Reynolds to Joseph Marion, substitute end.

Georgia Splashes To Victory Over Clemson

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 29 (AP)—Georgia got the jump on Clemson today and then outplayed the Tigers on a muddy field to win easily, 20-0, before a crowd of 10,000.

A driving cloudburst late in the first period, after Georgia took a 13-0 lead, turned the field into a quagmire and the game into a comedy with fumbles costing the Tigers heavily.

WISCONSIN IS WINNER

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 29 (AP)—Wisconsin's football team, sparked by a pair of brilliant backs, Jerry Thompson and Ben Bendrick, unleashed a devastating ground and aerial attack today to smother Marquette's eleven, 40 to 13, before 37,000.

Business Section Expansion To Result From Hospital's Move

none of the profits at any time shall go to any individual, the announcement said, pointing out that any and all dividends of the institution shall be used only for expansion and improvements of any type, for larger facilities and for research work.

Charter Extends 50 Years

It is expected that donations and earnings of the foundation will be ample to provide for erection of the new institution, the announcement said.

The foundation's charter extends 50 years and in the event present officers and directors of the hospital fail in their trust, title shall pass to the Methodist church. Should the church fail to accept and exercise conditions of the trust, all grounds, buildings and management of the hospital shall pass to the City of Lubbock, a resolution in the by-laws provides.

Site Is Former Frances Place

The new hospital, in the 3700-block between Nineteenth and Twenty - first streets, formerly known as Frances Place owned by the R. A. McKinney estate, is expected to be erected as soon as specific plans are drawn and materials and equipment are available. Site of the hospital was the No. 1 choice for the Veterans hospital sought here. Date of start of construction was problematical, the doctors said, and it may take from one to two years, it was indicated.

It will have the latest and most modern hospital equipment obtainable, the announcement said, and will be constructed so that it may be expanded from its original size to accommodate 200 patients to more than 300. The new structure will also be so arranged that patients may be segregated, having certain rooms for the surgical department, others for eye, ear, nose and throat, complete obstetrical, pediatric and contagious disease departments. The building will be air-conditioned throughout and in connection with, or adjoining, will be offices for Drs. Hutchinson, Krueger and Overton clinic, which will be enlarged to have specialists in all phases of medicine.

Nurses Home Planned

In addition to the clinic, there will also be constructed a modern nurses home and recreational facilities for students of a nurses training school. The hospital will also provide for interne training of young doctors.

The three doctors have been partners in the hospital and clinic for more than a quarter-century. Dr. Overton disposed of his interest in the hospital several years ago, but still retains a partnership agreement in operation of the clinic.

"Lubbock and the South Plains area have been good to us through the years and we are making this move in order to provide greater hospital facilities to meet the increasing demands of the rapidly-growing territory and perpetuate the city as a medical center for the area," a joint statement issued by the doctors said.

Long Cherished By Founders

"The founders have long cherished the hope of helping to established such an institution in Lubbock for the people of the area," the statement continued, "and this announcement is a culmination of those dreams. The hospital has been chartered, and, effective Oct. 1, 1945, will be operated exclusively as a non-profit institution under the state and federal laws. None of the profits shall ever inure to the benefit of any individual or group of individuals.

"Present accommodations prohibit the operation of the hospital as an 'open-staffed' institution, but with the erection of the new building on a ten-acre tract on Nineteenth street, it will be an 'open-staff' hospital for the benefit of Lubbock and the entire territory." This will mean that any doctor in the area can bring a patient to the hospital for surgical or medical treatment without the necessity of turning the patient over to the care of another physician.

Plan Best Medical Care

"We feel that in providing this kind of an institution West Texas will have a hospital and clinic that will give the best of medical care, and that year by year its value to the people of this section of the state will be increased," the statement concluded.

Lease of the facilities of the present hospital will call for payments large enough only to provide for payments of state, county, city and school taxes on the property, the announcement said. The physical plant of the present hospital is owned by Drs. Hutchinson and Krueger.

Globe Girdling Plane Passes Casablanca

ABOARD THE GLOBESTER, Casablanca, Sunday, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Globester took off for Tripoli at 12:30 a. m., local time today (7:30 p. m., E. W. T. Saturday) starting the fourth leg of its round-the-world flight.

The plane arrived at Casablanca at 9:52 p. m. after a 3,929-mile Atlantic crossing, and was two hours behind schedule because of fog and stormy weather over Santa Maria in the Azores.

An hour and a half was made up, however, by cutting the scheduled stop here from four to two and a half hours.

High German Official In Patton Zone Ousted

THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Gemany, Sept. 29. (AP)—Dismissal of Friedrich (Fritz) Schaffer, much criticized conservative minister president of the Bavarian civil administration, was announced tonight, 24 hours after Gen. George S. Patton, jr., made a personal report to Gen. Eisenhower on his efforts to denazify Bavaria.

Dr. Wilhelm Hoegner, a Social Democrat described as a veteran opponent of Nazism was named to succeed Schaeffer.

Meat And Shoe Rationing To End This Year

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The public received its first flat guarantee today that all meat and shoe rationing will be over by the end of the year.

The promise was made by Price Chief Chester Bowles in a letter to members of OPA's industry advisory committee asking their advice on when price controls should be eleminated.

Noting that gasoline, fuel oil, processed foods, oil stoves, tractor tires and cheese had already been removed from rationing, Bowles said:

Sugar To Be Last

"Shoes and meat will come off the list by the end of 1945—perhaps sooner. Tires and fats and oils will probably come off early in 1946. That will leave only sugar from a three year rationing program affecting the lives of every American citizen."

He did not indicate when sugar could be taken off rationing except to say it would be "when supply catches up with demand." That day is not yet in sight.

The OPA has already announced that one third of all meats will be ration free beginning next Sunday. Final removal of the other two-thirds might come at any time after that. Likely dates are the beginning of the November or the December ration period.

Shoe Rationing To End

The latest prediction of the end of shoe rationing is that it will come by Oct. 15.

Bowles made it plain that he still is mightily afraid of postwar inflation and therefore wants to continue price controls on many items at least until the middle of next year.

"Price control during the war has acted like a strong hand on a coiled spring," he wrote. "Obviously the tension on this coiled spring of inflationary pressures piled up during the war will not disappear suddenly."

Urged To Continue Agency

The price chief said his agency had been getting hundreds of letters urging it to "stick around a little longer."

He said "we don't know" when various foods can safely be removed from price control but "we believe sugar, fats and oils should be among the last."

"We believe that clothing, building materials, lumber, automobiles, washing machines, refrigerators and all such consumer durable goods must remain under control for many months to come. Reconversion in these fields takes time and pent-up demand is great."

He said ceiling prices will be suspended and the effect carefully watched before price controls are finally dropped.

Plan Is Offered For Locating Hitler

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (U.P.) — Is Hitler dead or isn't he?

C. Andrade III, Dallas oil man, thinks he has a pretty good way of finding out.

He has written President Truman, urging the Chief Executive to offer a $1,000,000 reward for information leading to der fuehrer's whereabouts.

"If Hitler is alive, somebody is harboring him," Andrade write.

"Several people must know of his whereabouts. For such an offer, the type of person who would harbor Hitler would undoubtedly turn him in."

And, just in case Mr. Truman doesn't have the authority to offer the reward, Andrade suggested that Congress officially delegate that power to him.

$30,000 Contributed To Rose Memorial

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—Col. John A. Smith, Jr., of Dallas, Tex., arrived here today as a representative of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to present to officials of the General Rose Memorial hospital at Denver a check for $30,000—the gift of the late Maj. Gen. Maurice Rose's men.

The unprecedented collection represented the contributions of 10,000 officers and enlisted men of the Third Armored division. It was made on one payday after the War department had approved the division's request to "be in on" the war memorial planned by Denver residents.

The division had a "feeling of great pride in his leadership," Smith, who was Rose's chief of staff, said.

"General Rose was considered by all senior commanders as one of the outstanding, if not the outstanding, tank commander of the war," he said. "His method was always to be up front of one of his columns, seeing the situation on the ground. He had a faculty of appearing at a hot spot just at the right time. His men knew they had the best direction and the best advice."

The habit of being at the front cost Rose his life last March 30 as his division neared the end of a 100-mile drive which closed off the Ruhr pocket, Smith said. Rose's jeep was stopped in the dark by German tankers who shot him.

Increased Cigarette Supplies Indicated

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—Increased cigarette supplies were reflected again in State Treasurer Jesse James' report of tax stamp sales issued today.

While not so large as the August sales the month's total was $1,409,357, a gain of $351,990 over September of 1944.

WAR ON WOLVES

MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (AP)—Wolf hunters thus far this year have killed 24,268 wolves, more than 100 of them in the Moscow district, it was announced today.

Pvt. Robert J. Cobb Reported Liberated

Although Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cobb of 1408 Ave. L have received no official message from the War department stating their son, Pvt. Robert J. Cobb, who has been a prisoner of war since the fall of java, was one of the members of the 131st Field Artillery regiment released recently — they read the news in an Associated Press story from Calcutta in Saturday's edition of the Morning Avalanche.

COBB

This was the first news they had heard concerning their son since May of 1945 when they received a card from him. It was written while he was interned in a Fukuoka prison camp.

Prior to this they received two other similar cards and had been informed by John Lee of Lubbock, a former prisoner in Fukuoka who had been moved and later released, that Pvt. Cobb had not been moved because of a broken leg.

Before entering the Army, Pvt. Cobb was employed as principal of Draughon's Business college, Lubbock. He has a sister living here, Mrs. J. T. Morgan of 1004 Ave. O, and a brother, J. A. Cobb, jr., who works with the U. S. Engineers in Washington.

Another sister and her husband, Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Ernest D. Hedrick, are en route to Lubbock.

ready has been told to see that there is an equitable distribution of short commodities, but appeared so apathetic toward the people's plight that today MacArthur had to order it to work non-combatant shipping around the clock seven days a week to keep supplies moving.

Domei agency reported that the Japanese Army and Navy general staff, the "brains" of the military machine, would be abolished Sunday. Imperial headquarters already has disbanded.

Premier Higashi - Kuni meanwhile took the helm of a council of approximately 45 government officials which will amend election laws governing the Diet.

Tojo Rapidly Improves

The man responsible for the Pearl Harbor assault, former Premier Hideki Tojo, was so far recovered from a bungled attempt at suicide that doctors said he shortly would be moved to a jail outside Tokyo.

The Japanese also were instructed to operate shipyards 24 hours a day to build the vessels needed.

Despite the shipping shortage, permission was granted for eight small coastal vessels to evacuate 16,000 military presonnel from the islands of Tsushima and Iki off the east coast of Korea.

The Japanese war ministry reported to MacArthur that 1,833,634 officers and men of the home Army had been demobilized and only 419,366 remained in uniform.

Tax Plan Ready

also as a restriction of markets for business.

Vinson did not discuss in advance the proposals he will make for "quickie" postwar tax cutting.

The tall, gray Kentuckian will be the first treasury secretary in 16 years to carry to Congress plans for reducing—not boosting—taxes.

Vinson is definitely committed for repeal of the excess profits tax. As director of War mobilization he made a report—"The Road to Tokyo and Beyond"—last July 1, declaring "the excess-profits tax should be repealed after V-J day."

Will Be Slow Process

The treasury department also has a record of opposition to the principle involved in the three per cent "normal" tax, which levies on the income of a taxpayer without regard to the number of his dependents.

Vinson is expected to call for moderation in tax cutting at this time. In this position, he will get support from Ways and Means Chairman Doughton (D-NC) who has cautioned the nation not to expect "drastic tax reduction."

Wouldn't Cure Reconversion

A search of Vinson's recent statements disclosed his enunciation of these principles as a guide for construction of a national tax program:

1. Taxes should be levied in such a way that they "have the least harmful effect on the expansion of business investment and the creation of jobs, because productive employment is the course of our standard of living, of all income, and of the revenue which the government collected from taxes."

2. Taxes should be levied in such a way that they have the least harmful effect on the maintenance of mass markets and mass purchasing power because that is the basis of business, labor, and agricultural prosperity.

3. Taxes must be fair among people.

4. Tax policy should be integrated with a fiscal policy designed to prevent inflation and deflation.

Vinson said in his July 1 statement that acceptance of such principles means "that the personal income tax must be the chief source of tax revenue and the base must be broad."

150 Persons Missing In Fire Aboard Ship

CAIRO, Sept. 29. (AP)—One hundred fifty persons were reported missing tonight after the 10,000-ton ship "Empire Patrol" caught fire off Port Said while repatriating Greek refugees from Abyssinia and East Africa.

Four hundred fifty six passengers were reported to have been rescued by the British Navy. Destroyers and aircraft carriers were sent out after the Navy picked up the ship's S. O. S.

the oil production now curtailed because of plant shutdowns.

Knight said "the oil companies and not the union have been preventing supply of oil to essential services and the Army and Navy

He said he had ordered the unions' locals to make oil available for doctors, nurses, hospitals, fire and police departments, public transportation and the armed forces.

Individual Basis

William L. Knous, Colorado supreme court justice and chief of the government's conciliation panel in the oil disputes, said the government had no objection to settlement on an individual company basis.

And Schwellenbach told the conference delegates the meeting had not been called "for the purpose of setting a pattren for insisting upon a system of industry-wide bargaining."

Stating that the whole nation is affected by an oil strike, he told company and union men that "I do not approve" of the strikes and shutdowns which already have occurred.

He said:

"This isn't any time, during this period of delicate balance, for labor on the one hand to say 'we must do this and we must do that and the government must do this or that' and it isn't any time, members of industry, for you ot be taking a position that you cannot discuss the proposition."

The conference was expected to continue at least throughout Sunday.

Death Sentence Of Negro Is Commuted

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today approved a unanimous recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles commuting to life imprisonment the death sentence assessed L. C. Akins, a negro convicted in the slaying of a Dallas policeman.

The governor said he had read carefully a statement of facts in the case and believed from all the evidence available that the board's action was correct.

The board said that although malice may have been engendered in the altercation in which the policeman, V. L. Morris, was wounded fatally and Akins wounded it was not sufficient to warrant the death penalty.

The shooting took place Sept. 15, 1941, when Akins attempted to board a street car ahead of Morris' wife. Morris was off duty at the time and in plain clothes.

Akins' first conviction, in Ellis county, carried a 99-year sentence. It was reversed because the grand jury which indicted him had no negro members. He was indicted a second time by a grand jury with one negro member and given the death sentence upon conviction in Dallas county. The second conviction was upheld by the state Supreme court and the Supreme court of the United States.

Hungary Accepts Recognition Terms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Hungary has accepted United States conditions for re-establishing diplomatic relations between the two countries, the State department reported today.

This opens the way for an early return to normal relations between this country and the Balkan nation which fought through the war at the side of Nazi Germany. Hungary is now ruled by provisional regime set up following liberation of the country by Soviet armies of Russia.

The State department's account of negotiations with Hungary came belatedly at the end of a week in which most of the story already had come out either in London or Budapest, Hungarian capital.

Broadcast Engineers Sign New Contract

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—A new contract, providing wage increases and graduated pay scales, has been signed by the National and American Broadcasting companies and the National Association of Broadcast Engineers (nd.).

Failure in contract negotiations Sept. 12 caused a strike which put both networks off the air for a few minutes and disrupted programs for one night and a day.

The contract provides overtime pay based on an eight hour day, rather than a 40-hour week, and is a compromise between initial proposals of the companies and the union.

Savage Forest Flames Halted In California

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Savage flames which roared through more than 10,000 acres of brush and redwoods on the sides of Mt. Tamalpais in the past three days were beaten down late today within one-quarter mile of the hamlet of Lagunitas.

Fire Chief Lloyd De La Montanya of Marin county said that evacuation of the town of 300 still was imminent if the rampaging fire jumped over a fire break protecting it.

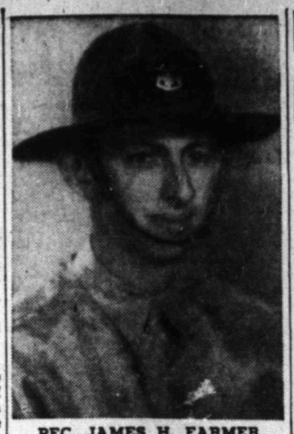

Hundreds of fire fighters confined the blaze to the crest of a hill above Lagunitas.

More than 3,000 acres of redwoods have been destroyed.

Nightfall and a huge pall of smoke cancelled the Navy's plan of subduing the fire by dropping a screen of a sulphuric acid compound from torpedo bombers.

BIDDLE TO LEAVE SOON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—Former Attorney General Francis Biddle and Judge John J. Parker, U. S. member and alternate of the international military tribunal to try Nazi war criminals, will leave soon for Europe to begin their new duties, the White House said today.

PFC. JAMES H. FARMER

Pfc. James Farmer In 'Fair' Condition

Pfc. James H. Farmer, Jr., a prisoner of Japan since May 7, 1942, has been returned to U. S. military control, the War department Saturday notified his parents of 1502 Fifteenth.

A former student here and an ex-employe of the Lindsey theaters in Lubbock, Farmer had been heard from only twice during his internment.

The message stated that Pvt. Farmer was to be returned to the states in the near future. His condition was reported "fair."

He enlisted in the Army Feb. 13, 1941. He landed on Corregidor April 22, 1942 and participated in the battles of Bataan and Corregidor.

Rain And Crops

South Plains not more than 80,000 to 100,000 bales, as compared with 540,000 for last year and an average of 434,000 for the last 10 years, including the bad cotton crop years of 1934 and 1935. The federal crop report estimates, however, is 175,000 bales. For Lubbock county, the estimate is 18,000 to 25,000 bales, as compared with last year's crop of 94,000 bales.

Nor was the cotton worry all; weather like that at week's end would slow maturity of grain sorghums already poorly developed because of drouth. If no late frost and hot weather production could be cut seriously. However, it was not believed Saturday that grain would sprout in the head, since dampness has not probably been of sufficient duration. Continued dampness, however, could cause stained grain that sells for seed purposes, lowering its grade so that it would not do well in competition with grain of other sections. There had not been sufficient moisture to affect germination qualities of the grain, it was believed.

Some irrigated cotton has suffered from boll worms, and there was a brief infestation of leaf worms in some localities.

Woman Charged In Husband's Slaying

HILLSBORO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Ida Mae Clark, 18, of Mt. Calm, was released on $2,000 bond today after she had been charged with murder last night in the death of her husband.

The charge was filed by Sheriff Ralph Allen.

Her husband, James Clark, 19, was stabbed on Sept. 15. He died in a Waco hospital Thursday night. Mrs. Clark was arrested at Waco last night.

Half Of Navy Men To Leave Philippine Sea

MANILA, Saturday, Sept. 29 (AP)—Approximately 50 per cent of all Navy personnel in the Philippine sea frontier will be sent home by Jan. 1, Vice Adm. James L. Kauffman said today.

He estimated between 50,000 and 60,000 officers and men will be moved out by that time.

All but the most vital navy bases in the Philippines will be rolled up as fast as possible, the admiral said.

U. S. Raid Bags Big Nazi Ring

(By The Associated Press)

WEISBADEN, Sept. 29—American troops have arrested 41 prominent German men and women in one of the biggest raids in the American zone since the Allied occupation began, it was disclosed tonight.

A spokesman for Col. James R. Newman, of Floral Park, N. Y., commander of the Wiesbaden military government, said those arrested included leaders of a ring which used both Freemasons and Catholics to cloak efforts to keep Naziism alive.

Food Also Found

Several former officials of the Nazis' Wiesbaden district military government were caught in the raids, carried out Friday night in a cafe two blocks from military police headquarters, and seven blocks from the AMG district headquarters.

At least two and one-half tons of food—some of it American beef, ham and military rations—were found in the cafe along with handbills bearing the Nazi swastika, the military spokesman said.

Propaganda Subtle

Several Germans attempted to escape through windows but were caught by guards stationed outside. One of the leaders was identified by the spokesman as a Dr. Margaen, one of Germany's most prominent dental technicians.

The group was led by men and women between the ages of 35 and 70, the spokesman said, explaining that they were the "brains" behind what appeared to be a ring to keep alive the Nazi philosophy.

"Typical of the subtleness of the propaganda we seized," he said, "was one reading 'the German people must cooperate with each other. Foreigners can never rebuild Germany.'"

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—Oil operators who still have demand for the oil can get emergency orders relieving them from additional restrictions put on by the Texas Railroad commission in a supplemental order this week, it was announced today.

Commission Chairman Olin Culberson said he is receiving many telegrams from producers since the added 400,000 barrels daily cut was announced. These say the refinery and pipe line demands have not decreased for these operators.

Culberson said they can get emergency exemptions from the latest reduction order on application. The exemptions will be good for 15 days without hearing.

Unfilled Newsprint Orders Are Cut Back

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—The War Production board has instructed newspaper publishers and other users to cancel unfilled orders for extra newsprint scheduled for delivery by Sept. 30 or to deduct this amount from their October quotas.

WPB explained, for example, that a publisher who ordered 200 tons of newsprint for October delivery and had an unfilled order for 50 additional tons to be delivered by Sept. 10 would receive no more than 200 tons next month. If the unfilled order is not cancelled the October quota would be cut by 50 tons, it explained.

Combinations Of Private, Public Spending Offered As Postwar Plan

By JOHN H. WILLIAMS
Nathaniel Ropes, Professor of Political Economy, Harvard University
(Distributed By The Associated Press)

Since the great depression, the most widely discussed cure for unemployment has been fiscal policy. It has come to have much the same prominence as central bank policy had in the twenties.

Theories about fiscal policy have gone through three fairly distinct phases. There was the early "pump priming" phase which called for an unbalanced budget to offset the business cycle — deficits in depressions, surpluses in boom periods. Then we began to be concerned with long-run contractive tendencies toward oversaving and underinvestment, the problems of a "mature economy." This led to "compensatory" theories which pictured an indefinitely expanding public debt to compensate for a lack of private spending and investment.

War Gives New Turn

The war gave the discussion a new turn. The size of our debt has made us realize its political and economic dangers and there is no less emphasis on long-run deficit spending.

As for bridging the transition from war to peace, I believe we will have to treat the transition period of two or three years as an extension of the war emergency. We must be prepared to use whatever combinations of private and public spending, including large deficits if necessary, the circumstances may require. If, after the transition period, the economy cannot sustain itself without large deficits, our efforts will have failed and we shall find ourselves headed toward some other kind of economic system.

Our long-time efforts should include: (1) Fiscal and monetary policies to stabilize and expand income and employment without unduly large public spending and, especially, large deficits; (2) Business and governmental policies to make the private economy function more effectively and respond more promptly to expansionary forces; (3) The development of new wants, new products and new processes.

Autos In U. S. Economy

Let us not forget what the automobile did for our economy. Houses, helicopters, food-freezing in homes, air-conditioning, television, etc., may be postwar answers to the question of how to increase consumption. Higher consumption, no less than increased investment, will raise production, income and employment.

If the free enterprise system is to grow within itself, the rise in profits from increasing productivity, new methods and new investment must be passed on rapidly in the form of higher wage rates and lower prices. Only in this way can the expansion of national income be made as self-continuing process, rather than one that needs to be increasingly propped up by public spending. This is our basic problem.

Mahon Says Shipping Supplies Factors In Getting Troops Home

Congressman George Mahon of the 119th district, who recently returned from a tour of the Pacific are with members of the House Military Appropriations subcommittee and military officers, believes that lack of shipping in the Pacific area have a direct bearing on demobilization and return of American soldiers.

Cong. Mahon said staff officers complained that they could not walk off and leave government supplies which they have on hand. "Undoubtedly, the speed of disposition of surplus supplies abroad has a direct bearing on when the men will come home."

Vast Supplies On Hand

He said he found that in Australia we have four hundred tons of supplies and four thousand troops, in the Philippines, we have nearly a million troops and two and one-half million tons of supplies; in India we have one million tons of supplies and one hundred and seventy-two thousand troops; in China we have sixty thousand men and large quantities of supplies. "Of course, our greatest concentration of men and supplies is in Europe where we have an estimated seven billion dollars' worth of supplies and nearly two million men."

The congressman said we are losing a lot of property in certain quarters of the world by reason of theft by the native population. He pointed out that the committee is making a report of its findings to the President and General Marshall, along with certain recommendations which may prove helpful in disposing of supplies and getting our men home faster.

ATC Complaints Cited

"One of the repeated complaints we heard was from the officers and men of the Air Transport command," he said. They complained that many of them are being kept overseas in order that America may keep possession of certain airports until the commercial airlines can take over.

"The big race for postwar commercial aviation is on. We want to see America supreme, but I agree with the men that they should not be kept overseas indefinitely on this basis."

One of the great factors in the unhappiness of our men abroad, he stated, is the fact that in many areas there is little to do. The men are busy in the ports and loading zones, but many thousands have practically nothing to do but wait.

Knowing the attitude of the soldiers and their families, the committee pulled no punches in urging speedier demobilization.

Suggestion On Bomb Control Is Given

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (U.P.) — Former Supreme Court Justice Owen D. Roberts and 38 other prominent Americans asked President Truman last night to seek establishment of a world government as the only means of controlling the atomic bomb.

The United Nations is "almost mathematically certain not to be strong enough" to stop battles with atomic power or over atomic power, the group said in an open letter.

They urged the president to tell Congress and the people that "we cannot now afford to wait the suggested 10 years for a review and reconsideration of the United Nations charter." The UNO will be as "dead as the League at Geneva" when the interests of the principal members clash, they said.

It is said that palmistry existed in China 3,000 years before Christ.

Cold Snap Causes Run On Winter Supplies

With temperatures dropping to their first low marks for the season and numerous automobiles developing battery and ignition trouble, a run developed here Saturday on gas radiant heaters, gas connection tubes, automobile storage batteries, and warm clothing of all kinds.

One large department store reported all of its storage batteries sold. In others the supply of gas heaters ran low, and some stores were entirely out of rubber-tipped hoses used for connecting the gas heaters to wall outlets.

Warm underclothing and flannel pajamas were also being sought in vain by shoppers.

Alcohol and other anti-freeze compounds used in automobile radiators were also being called for at local stores and service stations, but the limited supply received several weeks ago and distributed among local dealers is all gone. Service station men said that they expected more in soon, and that automobile drivers would probably not have to worry about frozen radiators for some time.

"BLUE CHIPS" Bolster Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Strength of assorted "blue chip" industrials bolstered stocks today, after considerable early selling, and enabled the market to finish a generally bullish week and month at the highest average level in more than eight years.

Inflation ideas connected with strikes and wage boost demands, together with optimistic earnings and dividend hopes, served as the main buying inspiration. Sales were 950,000 shares against 480,000 a week ago.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .4 of a point at 71, a new high since April 21, 1937. On the week it showed a net gain of .8. For September the advance was 3.4 points, broadest since April. Tops for the industrials and utilities since Aug. 25 and March 11, 1937, were scored. The rail average finished all even.

Among widest jumpers were Du Pont, up four; Eastman Kodak, up three; Allied Chemical, up 2½; Sears Roebuck, up 2⅝ and U. S. Gypsum, up two.

On the offside were Boeing, Schenley, International Paper, General Foods and Socony Vacuum.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Killing frost materialized overnight in parts of the main corn belt and more was predicted, influencing buying which pushed grain futures up more than a cent a bushel today in some cases.

All grains climbed on the theory that frost damage to the corn crop would increase demand for other grains, which frequently are substituted for corn in industries and for feed.

Wheat closed ⅞ to 1¼ cents higher than the previous finish, December $1.73¾@1.72⅞, cor was up ⅛ to ⅜, December $1.16⅛, oats were ⅞ to 1⅜ cents higher, December 65½@65⅝, rye was up 1¼ to 1¾ cents, December $1.52¼@1.52⅝, and barley was ⅝ to 1 cent higher, December $1.12.

British Constable Slain In Palestine

CAIRO, Sept. 29 (AP)—A British embassy spokesman said today "things look bad in Palestine," where a British constable was slain yesterday. He said the British army was on the alert to stop any violence.

The tension is viewed among the British here as the culmination of another periodic campaign by terrorists, and not as the result of any serious threats of action on the part of either Arabs or Jews.

Methodists Set Crusade Series

A series of sectional meetings over the Lubbock district of the Methodist church in the interest of the second phase of the Crusade for Christ program was announced here last night by Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, district superintendent.

Mr. Lipscomb will preach and hold fourth quarterly conferences immediately following each service, on the following schedule today: Seminole 11 a. m., Seagraves 3:30 p. m., and Meadow 7:30 p. m.

The Crusade series, second phase of which stresses evangelism and increased Sunday school attendance, will include four services, each to follow the same program. Mr. Lipscomb will open each meeting with an inspirational address, to be followed by group meetings when plans and outline of work by each group will be discussed.

Presiding at these group meetings will be: Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor at Ralls, district director of Crusade adult work; Arch Harper of Lubbock, district director of young adults; Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews of Lubbock, district director of youth work; and Mrs. I. F. Kennedy, director of children's work.

The four-meeting schedule is as follows:

Monday night at Lorenzo, for all churches in the district east of Lubbock; Tuesday night at Tahoka, for all churches south of Lubbock; Wednesday night at Brownfield, for the area southwest of Lubbock; and Thursday night at Levelland, for the area west and northwest of Lubbock.

Meetings are to begin each night at 7:30 and close promptly at 9 o'clock, Mr. Lipscomb said.

A district-wide meeting of similar nature was held in Lubbock recently when the work was brought to churches in Lubbock.

Lubbock Optimists To Join In Observance Of "Optimist Week"

The Optimist club of Lubbock will join with its associate Optimist clubs throughout the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico, in the observance of "Optimist Week" October 7 to 13, it was announced Saturday by L. D. Casey, president.

"Public response to this annual plea for more friendliness, cheerfulness, optimism and co-operation among individual and groups has increased tremendously since its inception nine years ago," Casey explained, adding that this year more than a dozen radio and screen celebrities, including Fibber McGee and Molly, Bob Burns, Tony Gabboch, Eddie Cantor, Bing Crosby, Edward G. Robinson, Fontaine Fox, Lum and Abner, Frank Morgan, the Marx Bros., and the "Happy Gang" of Canadian radio fame, are acting as honorary sponsors.

Casey pointed out that "Optimist Week" was a concerted appeal on the part of all Optimist clubs to the public for a wider interest in the problems of our youth and for more friendliness, confidence, and co-operation among individuals and groups in the task of solving our immediate postwar problems.

Each Optimist club will hear an address by some outstanding speaker. The Lubbock club will be addressed by I. E. McWhirter, a staff member of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, at its regular meeting on Tuesday, October 9, Casey said.

Soldier Wants To Get Wife Over From Italy

McCLOSKEY GENERAL HOSPITAL, TEMPLE, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—This soldier just got back from Florence, Italy, but he's going to make a return trip as soon as possible.

Why? He wants to bring his Italian-born wife to this country.

First Lt. Hal A. Burnett, artilleryman from Dallas and veteran of the Sicily and Italy campaigns, married 13 days before he sailed for the states. He was injured in a jeep accident last June 4 and the ceremony had to be performed in an Italian hospital while he was still in a cast.

He had applied for permission to marry 11 months before and three of the four applications were disapproved.

Mrs. Burnett, who studied in Paris, Belgium and Florence, speaks and writes five languages. She is employed by a travel agency as an interpreter.

A former petroleum engineering student at Southern Methodist university, Burnett hopes that his return trip will bring his wife back to the states that much quicker. And, when she arrives, Burnett says, he is through with traveling.

Tom Lubbock In First Volunteers To Help Texas Win Independence

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second and concluding article regarding Col. Thomas Saltus Lubbock, after whom this county and city were named, and his famous brother, Francis Richard Lubbock, wartime governor of Texas, 1861-63. The information is taken from Governor Lubbock's autobiography, "Six Decades in Texas," written in 1900. The book is the property of DeWitt Landis, manager of Radio station KFYO).

BY WILLIAM L. ROPER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Giving in to 16-year-old Tom Lubbock's entreaties, his brother, Francis, who was 20 and already a fairly successful business man, consented to let Tom accompany him and his bride, Adele Baron Lubbock, also 16, to their home in New Orleans. They set out from Charleston shortly after the death of the youths' widowed mother, Mrs. Susan Ann Saltus Lubbock, there on July 4, 1835.

They traveled by the South Carolina railroad to Hamburg, and went from Hamburg to Montgomery, Ala. by stage.

"It was a long and wearisome trip," Francis recalls in his autobiography. "We had a crowded coach all of the way, and it was very hot weather . . . Between Columbus and Montgomery our stage was upset, wounding several passengers. My wrist was badly sprained. My wife was seriously injured. On arriving at Montgomery, I had to call medical aid for my wife."

Tom Entered Cotton Business

Tom escaped injury in the accident and Francis got his younger brother a job in the cotton business in New Orleans soon after their arrival in September. Francis, who had been in the drug business with Charles T. Ketchum, discovered that their up-river customers who had been buying castor oil on credit at $100 a barrel, were unable to pay. Pressed by creditors, Francis and his partner Ketchum closed up their drug store, Francis reserving from the wreckage of his first business venture only one horse.

"We were honorable in giving up everything," Francis records. "I made no claim for money of Mrs. Lubbock's used in the concern, which in Louisiana in that day was a preferred claim. I reserved nothing but my horse."

But despite this business disaster, Francis was soon employed as a dealer in watches, jewelry, silverware and firearms at a salary of $2,000 a year — a princely salary for a young man in that period.

Texas Prominent Topic

Night after night in the coffee houses of New Orleans, where citizens gathered to talk as the yellow fever swept the city like a plague, Texas was a subject of heated discussion. Texas, invaded by the Mexicans, had appealed for aid.

During the fall of 1835, two of Francis Lubbock's friends, R. C. Morris and William G. Cooke, called a meeting to discuss organizing aid for the Republic of Texas.

"The morning after the meeting," Francis writes, "Tom informed me that he was the first to volunteer, and he wished me to assist him off. I was sadly disappointed. He had a good place. He was so young to go on such an expedition without a particular friend or counselor. Though well up in all manly sports, quite an athlete, very strong and muscular, and full of fire and determination, he was only 17 years of age.

"But as he was fixed in his purpose, I fell into his views, fitted him out, and bade him Godspeed, knowing that our folks at home in South Carolina would censure me for submitting to the arrangement.

"Thus he left New Orleans with his company, known as the 'New Orleans Grays,' the first volunteer company to arrive in Texas from abroad. They were in time to volunteer in the advance upon and the storming of Bexar."

Provisional Government Created

In the meantime, Sam Houston was chosen "General in Chief of the Texas army" and a provisional government was created.

"While Tom was going through his rough campaign in Texas on the flood-tide of success," writes Francis, "I was struggling with financial difficulties on the ebb-tide of failure."

But by the time the little Texas army had routed the Mexicans at San Jacinto, Francis Lubbock had surmounted his financial difficulties and was again making money.

In the summer of 1836 he decided to go to Texas to seek trace of Tom, from whom he had not heard in some time. He sailed from New Orleans on the schooner Colonel Fannin and landed at Velasco, Texas, the last of October, 1836.

Proud Of His Brother

"My main object in visiting Texas," Francis relates, "was to find my brother. As a soldier he had participated in the glorious struggle that had just closed, and when I began to appreciate its aim and end, I felt proud that I had fitted out one soldier for the Republic of Texas in its time of need."

Tom was one of the volunteers, who fought under Col. Ben Milam in the Battle of Bexar. Milam was killed the second day of the fight, in which 300 Texans routed and captured 1,100 Mexicans.

Later while Tom Lubbock fought Indians and helped to win the West, Francis rose to political prominence to become the wartime governor of Texas in 1861 and a close friend of President Jefferson Davis.

Organized Ranger Unit

Having obtained authority from the president of the Confederacy, B. F. Terry and Tom S. Lubbock proceeded to organize a cavalry unit, known as Terry's Texas Rangers, at Houston in 1861. Terry was made colonel, Tom Lubbock, lieutenant colonel.

The rangers were formed to serve as the 8th Cavalry regiment of the Confederate Army of Virginia, then commanded by Gen. Joe E. Johnston.

About the last of August, 1861, arrangements were made to march the regiment from Houston to New Iberia, La. in two divisions. From New Iberia, the troops were to be conveyed by steamship to New Orleans. Colonel Terry was in charge of the first division. He set out in September, accompanied by Francis Lubbock.

Lubbock With First Division

Splashing through muddy bayous and swamps, often in water up to their horses' bellies, as the elder Lubbock describes it, the rangers made their way to New Iberia. Francis Lubbock accompanied the first division of the rangers as far as Chattanooga, Tenn. There he left them, going on alone to Richmond, Va. to confer with President Davis.

"I never saw the hero Terry in life again," he writes.

On his return trip from Richmond to Texas, he was to see his brother Tom for the last time — and at a distance as their steamboats passed on the Teche river.

He describes this experience in this way:

"I left Richmond, Oct. 6, 1861 for Texas. While steaming up the Teche to New Iberia, the boat with the remaining companies of the 8th Texas passed up; my brother, Lt. Col. Tom Lubbock being in command. We orcognized each other and signalled a farewell, I going to Texas to my duties as Governor, and he, as a soldier, to meet the invaders at the threshold of our Southland. This was our last greeting on earth."

Given Special Commendation

Both Terry and Tom Lubbock were singled out for special commendation for their courageous service. Terry was killed at Woodsonville, Ky in the rangers' second engagement, and Tom Lubbock at the Battle of Shiloh, January 9, 1862. Their bodies were returned to Houston where they were buried with highest military honors.

Members of Lubbock's regiment, returning to Texas to settle the South Plains region, named this county after him.

Francis, who was captured with Jefferson Davis in northern Georgia after the fall of Richmond, returned to Texas after serving seven months in a Delaware prison. He was elected state treasurer in 1878 and held that office until 1890.

Charter Granted Hale Cooperative Hospital

Directors are: R. E. Wilson of Petersburg, chairman, precinct No. 2; A. B. Tarwater of Plainview, director-at-large; J. C. Eiring of Plainview, precinct No. 1; Alfred E. Ebeling of Cotton Center, precinct No. 3; Orval C. Boyd of Hale Center, precinct No. 4; Vic Lamb, secretary; and R. A. Jefferies, treasurer.

The hospital which is to be erected at an estimated cost of $60,000, will have a 30-bed capacity and is expected to serve all Hale county. Membership goal is 1,000 families, 450 of which have already contributed $50 each as life members. Donations totaling $3,000 have brought total cash available to $25,000.

The hospital was incorporated under a new state law providing for cooperative hospital associations. Medical dues for each family per year will be $20 to $25.

A site committee, composed of Mayor J. F. Miles, Walter Struve and Virgil Martin, has two prospective sites under option. Construction of the hospital is expected to be started as soon as materials become available.

Directors are to meet next week to discuss tentative plans and employ an architect. As the building nears completion, a business manager and a staff of doctors will be named.

Communism, Fascism Is Scored In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 29. (AP)—A program in which neither Communism nor Fascism plays a part was propesed today by Ezequiel Padilla, presidential candidate.

"Any design toward totalitarianism, whether leftist or rightist, signifies treason," the former foreign secretary said in a statement. "Neither Communism nor Fascism is the proper path for the free instutions for which our country ardently aspires."

Padilla recalled that President Manuel Avila Camacho promised free elections, and said: "We shall demand fulfillment of the word pledged by the president—not only before the nation but before the world of liberty—to guarantee genuine elections, because it is in the president's respinsibility that integrally rest the possibility of free and honest elections. We shall demand a new electoral law, without which elections of good faith cannot be held."

Residents of Monte Carlo are not allowed entrance into the gambling casino.

Tax Roll Shows Rise In Values

The assessed valuation of property listed on the Lubbock Independent School district's tax roll for 1945 totals $39,333,455, or an increase of $1,595,460 over the 1944 assessed valuation, A. C. Jackson business manager of the school district, reported yesterday in announcing that his office would begin collection of 1945 taxes Monday.

Since the school district has a $1.90 tax rate on the $100 valuation, the taxes to be collected on the $39,333,455, will be total $393,334.55, or $15,954.60 more than last year. In 1944 the total of the assessed valuation was $37,737,995.

Real estate valuations for the district increased from $29,165,655 in 1944 to $29,864,560 in 1945 — an increase of $698,905, while personal property valuations rose from $8,572,340 to $9,468,895, or an increase of $896,555.

The fact that real estate valuations have not increased as rapidly here as personal property valuations is due to real estate values being held down by the curb on building during the war, Jackson explains

SCATTERINGS

JUST as lipstick came into its own in the Twenties, after the first World war, so eye make-up is now destined for an important place on milady's dressing table. Cosmeticians predict it will become as accepted a part of fashion as red lips are an integral part of every woman's costume . . . Deep bows and bouquets are in order for those Lubbock teenagers who have tossed out the sloppy clothes, the straggly hair and the careless make-up to merge the prettiest, well-dressed young ladies in town . . . Note to the homemaking teachers at Senior High school: The most wonderful thing is going to happen in schools this year—an educational movie in color called "Good Grooming." It is going to be shown in more than 2,000 secondary schools and more than a million youngsters will see it. Wish it could be shown here. The movie highlights health, education, hygiene, home economics, clothing, nutrition, business practice, costume design, makeup and hair dressing.

"A LA CARTE"—A recent survey among brides and bridegrooms in all sections of the country revealed a trend away from suites in all furniture. Modern couples who are about to furnish a home prefer to select pieces from open stock . . . Observation of the 47th birthday of George Gershwin's birth Wednesday climaxed the nation's unprecedented participation in a series of world-wide concerts and events of which the recently completed George Gershwin jubilee week, sponsored by Paul Whiteman and a host of distinguished persons of stage, screen, radio and concert halls, was a feature . . . Ginny Sims and Dick Powell wrote last week to radio editors on personal engraved stationery, inviting them to give an ear to their new shows.

This winter shows promise of an exciting season for New York theater-goers, with the choice ranging from musicals to Shakespeare . . . Jean George, NEA artist-writer, in a series of articles, points out that glittering names—Katherine Cornell, Noel Coward, Ethel Barrymore and Spencer Tracy will shine this year. Coward is to play the lead in his own play, "Present Laughter." Tracy will star in "The Rugged Path," the work of Robert Sherwood, who helped ghost many of President Roosevelt's finest phrases. "Winter's Tale" will be taken on the road before it hits Broadway. The new musical that draws laughs even from the actors is "Girl from Nantucket." Ethel Barrymore is to star in "The Joyous Season," in the role of a Catholic nun who becomes involved in the worldly problems of her family . . . Wouldn't this be a wonderful year to visit in New York during the holidays?

CHARITY PROJECT — Beta Sigma Phi council, which serves as a governing board for two sorority chapters in Lubbock, is planning a charity ball later in the season but to date has not decided on a project. Council members have decided to throw the matter open for public consideration and is asking those with ideas on worthy projects to write Mrs. W. H. Galloway, chairman of the council. The young women do not promise to adopt any of the ideas but they will consider them and are hoping there will be a response. Write to Mrs. Galloway, 2107 Seventh. if you are interested.

THE calling off of the war daylight saving time will not mean a thing to a family moving here this week end from New Mexico because their time will remain correct . . . A German canary roller Mrs. Henrie Lowry, 2004 Ninth, had owned for 15 years died last week. "He lived his time away," she said . . . Mrs. Jimmie Davis telephoned her sister, Mrs. Watson Wilson, from Honolulu last Sunday and among other things confessed to be terribly homesick . . . According to the 1945 edition of the yearbook of American churches, membership had reached the all-time record total of 72,492,669, an increase of 3,991,483 within two years . . . In a Marine camp on Guam they say you never saw so much washing. "Catch up on that laundry, we'll be leaving any day now." . . . A Navy man in the P. I's writes, "Don't forget I have a big stake in the first steak you cook when I come home." And an airman in India says, "I'd trade the Taj Mahal for a certain house in Texas."

The Girl Scout financial drive did not cover the residential district and if you are interested in donating to that worthy cause you are invited to telephone the Little House, Mrs. J. O. Morgan or Mrs. J. D. Jones and someone will call for your check . . . The concert appearance of Dean Clarence Burg Monday night at Senior High school auditorium should be a stimulant to piano pupils, since his numbers are from several classics known to them. They include Chopin's Scherzo in B flat Minor and, as you know, the movies, through Jose Iturbi, are bringing Mr. C. back this year with "A Song to Remember." . . . There's plenty of humor in daily life, according to Frank Skinner, and he says the trick is to learn to appreciate it.

Howdy Folks

New table settings seem to be the featured note at the Decorator's Studio at 1302 Ave. N this week. All around I saw new set-ups in preparation for your fall entertaining, so come in and make some selections to give your table a lift during the winter months.

The first set-up that I saw was an informal arrangement that would be nice to use when friends drop around for pot-luck or when you have a crowd in after the football game. A plaid dinner plate was used that was yellow and brown and with it were some solid pieces of pottery. These pieces were brown on the outside and green on the inside. Green leather mats and brown smoked glasses were used to finish this table setting.

Even the babies are included in the set-ups at the studio. They must have their own dishes and mats and the studio is prepared to give them what they need. This high chair arrangment was the next one that caught my eye. A plate, cereal bowl, and cup in blue with animal designs on them were used on a pink mat with blue designs. Matching the mat is a bib, which makes a complete setting for the youngest member of your family. These bib and mat sets are very practical, because they are made out of oiled silk and can be wipped off with a damp cloth. They come in several pastel colors, so that you may chose something other than the traditional pink and blue.

As I walked into the dining room, I found another new set-up on the dining table. A pink and silver service plate was used on a silver mat, and silver cocktail dishes were used with it. The cup and saucer with this arrangement was white with a silver design. The rest of the things in the room complimented the colors on the dining table. Over the buffet was a large picture of Mrs. Carnac. There were touches of pink in her dress and the mat of the picture was olive green and it was framed in a five inch light wood frame. On either side of this picture was a pair of cups and saucers framed in light wood frames with green velvet backgrounds. The cups and saucers had pink designs on them, so that they tied in with the rest of the room very nicely.

Fredda was out of the studio again when I made my visit this week. This time she has gone to Wichita Falls, Oklahoma, and Dallas to see about some houses that she has been planning. She will be gone until the middle of the week.

So long for now. See you next week.

Mrs. Chester A. Hubbard Is Represented In National Galleries In New York City

Mrs. Chester A. Hubbard, Lubbock artist, has a lithograph, "Manitou Springs," in the fourth annual exhibition of Audubon artists, which is being shown at the National Academy of Design galleries on Fifth Avenue, New York. This exhibition of paintings, water colors, sculpture and graphic arts includes the names of some of the well known contemporaries of America and is a much coveted honor. Entries are viewed by a dual jury system, made up of two conservatives and two modern artists: Robert Gwathmey, Harry Sternberg, John Taylor Arms and Staw Wengenroth.

Mrs. Hubbard as an exhibitor in the show, received an invitation to attend the opening reception last Sunday which prefaced the show at the same galleries, beginning Monday and continuing November 11.

Made Scene In Colorado

The lithograph, "Manitou Springs," was done in 1944 when Mrs. Hubbard studied at the Colorado Springs art colony and is a scene familiar to many Lubbockites who have gone to that section of Colorado on vacations. It is on display at present with the Texas Fine Arts traveling exhibit. Another lithograph, "El Povernir," which depicts a lodge up the mountains from Las Vegas, N. M., is in the collection being sent out by the Southern States Art league.

The Lubbock artist has shown sculptured ceramics, paintings at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts; the Delgada museum, New Orleans; the Woody Museum, San Antonio; Houston Museum of Fine Arts; University of Texas Art show; Northwestern Printmakers, Seattle; The National Print and Drawing Exhibition, Laguna Beach, Calif.; First International Print Show at the Elisabeth Ney museum, Austin; Fort Worth Art Association public library and the 28th Annual Exhibition of Painters and Sculptors of the Southwest, Santa Fe, N. M.

Woman's Angle

The energetic, talented Mrs. Hubbard did not get to New York overnight; she worked her way there, as she will be quick to tell you. Years ago she exhibited sketches and oils at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair here, then she sent prize-winning pictures to the Tri-State fair in Amarillo and shortly afterward was invited to send her work to New Mexico, then to Dallas and Fort Worth museums.

All this time the artist was constantly trying to improve her paintings, turned to lithographs and later to sculpture. Friends know she was enthusiastic the few times she thought she really achieved something; terribly depressed when she thought she had struck a new low. But she kept on plugging.

It was the Summer of 1944 when Mrs. Hubbard studied at Colorado Springs that she did the Manitou Springs that is on exhibit in New York and that pleased the instructors so much they asked for a print for their permanent collection. Her sculptured ceramics, "Call to Arms," has received favorable comment from leading art critics in the state. We don't know what form of expression she will turn to next, but we know she will not stop now with today's laurels.

WE PAY TRIBUTE TO THE TYPEWRITER TROOPS!

As the war's final chapter is written, we celebrate National Newspaper Week this fall with a tribute to one of our staunchest of wartime battalions—the home-town editors and publishers who performed the tremendous task of keeping us informed about our loved ones during the fighting.

Every day, every week, these workers gave their efforts and energies to carry to readers intimate bits of information about their sons and daughters serving across the world. Editing was a sacrifice—long hours of extra work. It brought no medals or ribbons, yet it was as vital to home front morale as ammunition to a fighter.

These men and women did a heroic job under great difficulties: shortage of help, shortage of paper, lack of repair parts. Yet they never quit. They offer just another example of the work done by a press that deserves to be free. To all of them, doing this great job for their country, for their friends in the service and at home, our highest praise.

Basil N. Cua, "Buzz," who is to be transferred from Camp Pinedale, Calif., to Riverside, writes that he plans to attend Tech after the war, and Sgt. Hank Colburn, who has spent two months in the hospital in Amarillo, has returned to LAAF where he is stationed.

Boys whom the USO has placed in homes during scarcities of rooms are showing their appreciation for the hospitality. Mrs. Vincent Carr received a bouquet of mums from Charles E. Hansen, James A. Macolm and Hillard A. Pakuta, who stayed in her home.

Cpl. Johnny Pratt writes the USO of his varied experiences in India. He is stationed at a replacement depot in the jungles, forty miles north of Calcutta. Other oddities which he saw include burning ghats, new market and a snake charmer. He got to ride in a ricksha, too.

The USO Art class will be resumed Monday, 8:30 p.m., with soldiers, wives and servicemen and Hub-ettes invited. Materials are furnished, and the instructor is to be Mrs. Chester Hubbard.

Denazification Action Welcome

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

General Eisenhower's firm action in summoning General (Two-Gun) Patton to Frankfurt on the Main to account for reported slowness in the denazification of Bavaria, over which Patton has command, is calculated to inspire confidence here at home and to increase German respect for the Allies.

If this is embarrassing to General Patton we are sorry, for he has won our admiration and gratitude as one of the greatest leaders of the war. We owe him more than we can repay. However, the Bavarian situation needs the straightening up which Eisenhower is bent on giving it.

General Patton remarked a few days ago that the Germans were docile and would likely remain so "because their fangs are drawn," and that "the best thing the United States can do is let the German people see what a great people we are by mixing with them."

Can't Befriend "Wolves"

Well, of course we want to let the Germans see what a great people we are—but the consensus is that we can't do it by fraternizing with them. You could do it with many folk, but not with Nazis or Japs. You can make a dog a good friend by being kind to him, but you can't work that with a wolf. Hitler deliberately savaged a great portion of his people, and many Japs are primitives.

The current crack-down by both Eisenhower and MacArthur is clear indication that these great commanders are fully aware of the dangers of fraternizing with wild animals. Both of them are cleaning house in their respective territories with a stern energy that can only bring good results.

Allied News Agency For Germany Planned

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP)—The information control division of the U. S. Army is planning to establish a German news agency along the lines of the Associated Press of America.

The division, under Brig. Gen. Robert McClure, is now operating a news agency servicing Germany called Dana (Deutsche Allgemeine Nachrichten Agentur), which means German Allied news agency.

At the same time the division has been going ahead licensing German papers to operate in the American zone. There are presently seven such papers and between 20 and 25 are expected to be licensed by the first of the year.

A meeting has been called of licensed newspaper publishers to lay foundations for taking over control of Dana. The Americans proposed that the German publishers form a board of directors for the agency, elect a general manager to run the agency and share costs of its operation on a cooperative plan.

Chinese, Knowing Japs Well, Offer Worthy Suggestions On Occupation

BY JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29—China knows the Japanese with all the intimacy of a home-owner at last getting rid of a nest of termites.

So Chinese ideas about Japan are based upon years of consideration of what has made the Japanese act the way they have. China lost her first war to Japan in 1895, when Chiang Kai-Shek was seven years old.

WHITE

In Chungking there is a newspaper called the TA Kung Pao which, like the Times of London, often reflects and sometimes leads official thinking.

Five-Point Program

In recent editorials it suggests a five-point program for the political reform of Japan. It goes like this:

1. The general Japanese election (scheduled by the Tokyo Diet for the coming January) should be postponed
2. Election laws should be revised.
3. No political parties should be formed except with Allied approval.
4. No candidates should run unless Allied-approved.
5. The present Japanese constitution should be abolished.

Should Postpone Elections

"If General MacArthur," says the TA Kung Pao, "approves the decision made by the Japanese Diet that the general election be held in January next year, then the Allies would have to accomplish the impossible task of teaching the entire Japanese people freedom of expression in the coming four months Therefore the date of election should be postponed until one if not two years later. The time of local elections, however, should be set at an early date."

"The Japanese people have been poisoned too long by fascism and therefore it is necessary that the eligibility of candidates be determined by Allied authorities," says the paper.

Would Revise Election Laws

The Japanese election law should be revised to give women the vote (as General MacArthur already has indicated) and the TA Kung Pao thinks that the long-suppressed Japanese woman, adding her voice to the polls, "would enable the traits and characteristics of the Japanese people to follow the ways of civilization."

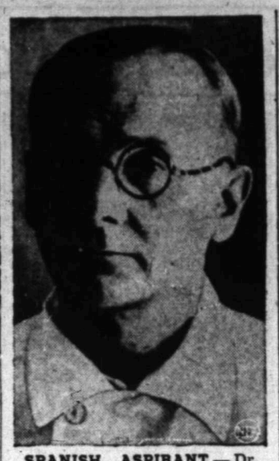

The TA Kung Pao wants the present Japanese constitution abolished because it is "dictatorial," investing supreme power in the emperor.

"Even if the Diet represents the people, what good could it do if the emperor overrides veto power?" asks the TA Kung Pao. This feature enables warlords to intervene in poltics, notes the paper, and a general election is meaningless as long as it exists.

EVACUATION AUTHORIZED

TOKYO, Sept. 29 (AP) — Allied headquarters today authorized the Japanese government to send eight small coastal defense ships to evacuate 16,000 military personnel from the islands of Tsushima and Iki, between Yyushu and Korea. The Japanese ships, now at the Kyushu naval base of Sasebo, will return the men to Fukuoka, on Kyushu.

Vast Changes Due In Aircraft To Insure Nation's Future Safety

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. — A North Carolina resident read of a German fighter-bomber that could run away from one of our best. He wrote and asked why the United States doesn't just throw all World War II airplanes out the window and start over.

He could find plenty of support for that idea among important men in military and civil aviation. Probably none of them believes that current warplane types, gallant and successful as they were in 1945, could guarantee the nation's future safety.

Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commanding all Army Air forces, said recently "the time is coming when we won't use any men" in aerial bombardment.

New Form Of Propulsion

That would mean guided missiles carried to a launching point by aircraft — planes using some new form of propulsion built around new ideas in aerodynamics. Top speeds of our latest fighter models already are near the limits of performance for propellers.

New flying bombing platforms, new fighters to protect them, new reconnaissance planes, new transports will be needed.

Jet propulsion is an obvious starting point. Much work already has begun. The work involves aerodynamics as much as powerplants. Present wing designs will not permit jet to give its full performance.

Not 'Just A Jump'

It is not just a jump from today's warplanes to those of the future. It is a series of painstaking steps, just as progress in aviation always has been. The difference in Army and Navy planes between Pearl Harbor and V-J day was accomplished through the design and development of 150 separate types. These were modified into 417 distinct models by thousands of additional engineering changes.

Industry leaders have proposed this general program:

1. Require better aircraft performance every year and retire warplanes fast enough to keep the Army and Navy air arms modern.
2. Retain wartime industry teams through a period of peacetime preparedness. Industry says this would avoid the cost in time and money needed to assemble coordinated groups necessary in a war emergency.

Surface Link Vulnerable

3. Give old line aircraft builders first opportunity to put wartime plants into peacetime production.
4. Don't attempt to move industry underground unless it can be done completely with war factories, material sources, transportation, workers' home, public utilities and even food storage underground — because any surface link in the defense chain would be vulnerable.

That summarizes views expressed by Eugene E. Wilson, president of the Aircraft Industries association; Donald L. Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft, and C. L. Egtvedt, chairman of Boeing Aircraft.

Turbo-Jet Discussed

The nation must find security, Douglas said, "not in factories moved inland or buried underground, but rather in the possession of a most modern and invincible striking force, a force powerful enough to destroy our enemy before he can destroy us."

Egtvedt discussed the prospect for turbo-jet, propeller turbine, and even atomic energy for aircraft propulsion in the next 10 years, before a congressional committee. He said:

"Even the most conservative engineer can envision aircraft with limitless range, and speeds limited only by the margins at which metal projected through space generates excessive heat through friction like a meteor.

"In the categories of unconventional aircraft, the amount of research and development that will be required in the attainment of successful flying models beggars description."

Job Not Finished

Engineering involved in production averages 40 per cent of the total engineering for a type. Only 20 per cent of the engineering is used to produce the first plane model. Fifteen per cent goes into changes and 25 per cent into developing the machine tools for mass output.

In the B-29 the experimental model required 7,432,000 engineering manhours. Production models used up an additional 6,133,000 manhours.

That is why the aircraft industry will not be satisfied to produce just one of a new type, Wellwood E. Beall, Boeing's engineering vice president, says that at least 90 fighters or 50 heavy bombers must be built to develop mass production know-how for a type.

Strange Shapes, Engines

More experimental models are now on drafting boards and in various development stages than ever before. Some are bigger and better conventional types — basically unchanged from the Wright brothers' plane — but many have strange shapes and spectacular engines.

The average annual combined expenditure by the Army and Navy for aviation during the 18 years ending 1939 was $54,000,000 —or $1 and $16 of total military spending.

During the fiscal year 1944, the Army and Navy spent $17,577,401,000 — or $1 in $4 for their air arms

Expansion Near Miracle

The nation's aircraft industry produced 5,865 planes in 1939, a year in which output was stimulated by French and British war orders. In 1944 it produced 96,369.

Such expansion was a near miracle made possible by an unselfish pooling of an infant industry's resources through the national aircraft war production council and its east and west coast branches.

The industry is hopeful no such production "miracle" ever will be needed again.

Cpl. Junis F. Ricketts Liberated From Japs

First word of the liberation of their son, Cpl. Junis Floyd Ricketts, 28, prisoner of the Japanese since the fall of Corregidor, was received Friday by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ricketts, 423 Ave. M, in a letter directly from the soldier.

RICKETTS

Cpl. Ricketts said he was liberated from a camp in Japan Sept. 16 and that he was well and hearty. He fairedbetter than most prisoners because he was able to repair watches for the guards and Japanese officials.

The parents received six cards from their son since he became a prisoner over three years ago.

Cpl. Ricketts' twin brother, Seaman 1/c Lloyd Julius Ricketts, is in the Navy stationed in California. The boys' father is a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

30 Japs Identified As War Criminals

BANGKOK Sept. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—More than 30 Japanese officers in the administration of prisoner of war camps in Siam were identified today as perpetrators of atrocities or as responsible for maladministration which resulted in thousands of deaths.

The identification was made by British, Australian and Dutch former prisoners in the first screening of arrested suspects.

"Boys In Blue" Are To Have Encampment

COLUMBUS O., Sept. 29 (AP)—A handful of men whose lives span Appomattox and the era of the atomic bomb began arriving today for the opening tomorrow of the 79th Annual National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Only 20 to 30 of the white-haired "boys in blue" are expected for the sessions.

Capt. Thomas Taggart Liberated In Japan

Capt. Thomas R. Taggart, a prisoner of the Japanese since the fall of Bataan, has been rescued and is in the hands of the U. S. Army, according to information received by his wife, Mrs. LoRee Kent Taggart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Kent of 2435 Twenty-second.

Mrs. Taggart received the news Saturday from her brother-in-law, Lt. Robert Taggart, who works in the Pentagon building, Washington, D. C.

Capt. Taggart, who served with the 200th New Mexico anti-aircraft outfit, was sent to the Philippines in September of 1941. The last report Mrs. Taggart had one and one-half years ago, stated that he was interned in Fukuoka Camp No. 4 on the island of Honshu.

Since that time she has had indirect news of Capt. Taggart, but none informing her of his exact location.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29. — We have been reading in overseas dispatches that mustaches and beards are as popular as Lana Turner these days with GI Joes and the fellows in bell-bottom trousers. It gave us a feeling of paternal concern for the wives and girls they left behind. Thought of several million fellows coming home all looking like Monty Woolley was frightening enough, without conjecture on what their girl friends might think—or do—when they walk into the parlor.

ADOLPHE MENJOU

So we looked up our friend Adolphe Menjou, who probably has one of the most famous mustaches in the world.

Adolphe was worried, too, about the beard situation. But as for mustaches he was all for 'em.

"The ladies," he said, "will love 'em. I've worn a mustaches since I was 21 years old and I haven't had any complaints yet from ladies I've kissed."

MUSTACHE WOWS 'EM

AS a matter of fact, it was Adolphe's mustache which typed him as a villian when he first came to Hollywood. Then somebody got smart and cast him as a gay romantic blade in "Woman of Paris." The ladies swooned. Adolphe and his mustache were bigger box-office than Sinatra and his Adam's apple are today. That was back in the '20s.

Outside of heavies, there wasn't a mustache then within 30 miles of Hollywood.

"Hollywood thought I was a freak," said Adolphe. "Some of my best friends told me I couldn't last. But the mustache did it. I'm a dead pigeon without it. I've turned down roles because producers asked me to shave it off. I'm not one of those on and off guys—I've never shaved it off. I've changed my voice and my accent, but I've never changed my mustache."

So for you GIs and Navy men coming home with mustaches, here's some advice on their care from the fellow who first made the ladies swoon when he twirled his in front of a camera.

SHUN THE BARBERS

"DON'T let a barber touch it," warns Adolphe. "I don't let a barber get within 10 miles of mine."

Trim it yourself with a pair of manicuring scissors, he advises. Also twirl it whenever you can.

And don't ever, ever kiss a girl on the cheek.

Naturally, Adolphe favors his mustache—"the Menjou type," curled a little at the end with a bare midriff — over any others he has seen. And he saw plenty, he says, while touring U. S. Army camps in England last year.

"We had a mustache contest practically every night. Everyone was growing 'em I judged the contestants and gave the winner a bottle of Scotch."

He wouldn't advise anyone, he said, to adopt Tom Dewey's brush type or Jerry Colonna's handlebars. Those, he said, are not the romantic type.

COTTON PRICE SET

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The Commodity Credit corporation announced today that the October selling price for government cotton will be 23.28 cents a pound, basis middling 15/16 inch, at Memphis. The September selling price was 23.12 cents.

Hoagy's Voice Is "Undescribable"

By BOB THOMAS
AP Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29. — As Hoagy Carmichael snuggled up to an NBC microphone it was as if his throat were serenading his nose, When he would hit an occasional clinker—radio talk for a wrong note—musical director Jim Higson would raise an eyebrow but proceed calmly with the rehearsal. By show time Hoagy would have the song down pat, in his own peculiar style.

After rehearsal I asked Hoagy how he would classify his singing voice.

"Well," he twanged, "I thought of calling it a shaggy dog voice, but my press agents don't think much of the idea What do you think of it?"

Being a collector of shaggy dog stories, I opined that it was a very apt description. Like the stories his voice has a very rare quality, thank heaven!

"Funny thing about my voice," the Hoagy continued, "we get all kinds of letters about it. One lady wrote it was shocking and scandalous that I was permitted to sing on the air. Then she went on to say that it had a sloppy, boyish quality that made it kinda nice. I guess she didn't know whether it was good or bad."

Hoagy Is Busy Man

For a slow-moving Indianan Hoagy is a pretty busy man these days. Besides the radio show he spends a good deal of time perfecting his golf game. He also manages to devote a few hours to his first love, songwriting, and says he has another hit in "Doctor, Lawyer, Injun Chief," which he cleffed for "Stork Club." In addition he is now an actor.

"Whatever gave you the idea to act?" I inquired.

"It wasn't my idea," he said. "Haven't you read that publicity story about Mrs. Hawks finding me in my garden one day? I was working in the dirt and was all sweaty and ragged and my hair was down in my face. She decided I was the one to play in "To Have and Have Not."

Mrs. Hawks is the wife of Howard, director of the torrid Warners picture. She must be a busy little bee, for she is also supposed to have first recognized the charms of Lauren Bacall. Or maybe some press agent just got in a rut.

"Johnny Angel" Is New Picture

After "T. H. and H. N." Hoagy appeared with George Raft in "Johnny Angel" and at present he is looking around for other suitable roles. The suitability apparently has something to do with his lazily chewing a toothpick and occasionally singing in his unique manner. It may lead to greater things, he thinks.

Hoagy's acting experience has been rather limited. His sole engagement previous to the Bogart opus was during his college days. He played a monkey in a comedy skit and had to hang from a tree limb for 15 minutes. Finally he came down and said to the zoo curator, "Where have you been all this time, Daddy?"

It was his only line in the show, but Hoagy played it to the hilt.

Council To Revise Jap Election Laws

TOKYO, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Japanese today approved establishment of a council to plan revision of Japan's election laws, Domei reported.

Premier Prince Higashi-Kuni will head the council of approximately 45 government officials, charged with drawing up amendments to the present method of electing the Japanese Diet (parliament).

Domei said it was doubtful whether revisions could be completed in time to affect the forthcoming special session of the Diet, originally scheduled for December. Changes, according to previous reports, probably will include redistricting for the house of representatives.

55,000 Men Separated From Army In Month

DALLAS, Sept. 29 (AP) — More than 55,000 soldiers living in the southwest are being separated from the army during September, the Eighth Service command has estimated.

Since Fort Sam Houston and Fort Bliss, Tex., and Camp Chaffee, Ark., were established as separation centers late in 1944, they have separated 115,942 soldiers. Last month the three centers separated 15,887 men. Of these 14,990 were enlisted men and 897 have been officers.

U. S. Postwar Economy To Go Through Three Stages; Conversion To Peace Is First

By SUMNER H. SLICHTER
Lamont University Professor, Harvard University
(Distributed By The Associated Press)

Now that the war is over our economy will go through three overlapping periods. The first will be the conversion from war production to civilian production. The second will be the "catching up" stage. During this period the demand for goods will be swelled by the needs and investment opportunities that have piled up during the war and by the necessity of adjusting our industrial plant to new levels of employment and income.

As accumulated demands are satisfied, the third period will set in: the economy will face the test of whether it can become continuously "self-sustaining" — whether a high level of demand can be automatically generated from current needs, incomes and investment opportunities.

Control Of Prices Urged

We shall have to hold the balance between the two powerful forces of inflation and deflation. The government should extend and liberalize unemployment compensation schemes; plan prompt expenditures on the repair and maintenance of public property; and continue, for a year or two, the control of prices.

Specific tax reforms to encourage enterprise and raise employment are as follows:

1. Repeal the excess profits tax.
2. Permit business losses to be carried forward and offset against profits over a six-year period.

Reduce Tax Liability

3. Permit long-term capital losses to be deducted against personal income by reducing tax liability by half or not more than $100,000.
4. Reduce the corporate income tax to slightly above the prewar level.
5. Tax incomes from self-employment and dividends at substantially lower rates than from salaries and interest.
6. Tax the proportion of income used for new investment at less than the standard surtax rates.

Fundamentally, the demand for labor is determined by the philosophy of the community. A community which goes too far in teaching young men to conform rather than to pioneer, to be followers rather than leaders, will have an inadequate supply of enterprise. A deficiency of enterprise requires that the community examine its scale of values and its institutions so as to make business ownership more attractive and so as to produce more men of originality, boldness and leadership. Educational institutions, churches, business organizations and trade unions, as well as government, all have a responsibility in keeping the community supplied with plenty of enterprise.

Three National Guard Divisions To Return

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 29. (AP) — The last three National Guard divisions in the European theater of operations will go home in November and December, U. S. Army headquarters announced today.

The 36th division, now in Bavaria, will sail in November. The 29th division in the Bremen area and the 26th division in Austria are scheduled to embark in December.

Other smaller National Guard units will be home and inactivated by next June, the announcement said.

Pvt. Robert Savell Is Liberated From Japs

Pvt. Robert Savell, has been liberated from Fukuoka prison camp and is now in Manila, his brother, RdM 3/c Clyde Savell, home on leave, learned from a wire from him requesting the correct address of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Savell, now of Vallejo, Calif.

Pvt. Savell was a member of the 131st field artillery which was captured on Java. He had been taken directly to Japan after his capture, his brother surmised.

The wire contained no information of Pvt. Savell's liberation, but it was sent from Manila and it was the first notification of any kind that had been received of his safety. Mr. and Mrs. Savell, who plan to return to Lubbock soon, moved to Vallejo two years ago.

Beyond Honolulu, Vastness Of Pacific Strikes In Full Force

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA—Not until you leave Honolulu does the real vastness of the Pacific strike you with full force. If you've spent most of this war at home or in the European or some other war theater, you've always considered the Hawaiian islands as sort of in the middle of things out here.

Kenneth Dixon

Even flying in a fast C-54 transport plane it takes 12 or 15 hours to reach Honolulu from the West coast and that makes it seem far out to sea, but that's just the beginning. You fly for hours, hours and hours. It is 4,600 nautical miles from Honolulu to Manila. That would be about the same as flying all the way across the United States and then halfway back again.

That's if you go directly to Manila. You don't go direct, of course, because it would mean non-stop flight and require too heavy a load of gasoline.

'30-Hour Flight

Sometimes you go by way of Johnston island, Kwajalein and Guam. Sometimes you hit only the latter two stops, which was the itinerary of our plane. Counting the stopovers for refueling, it may take as much as 30 hours to fly from Honolulu to Manila. And 99 per cent of the time there's nothing to look at but endless reaches of sky and sea. So eventually you sleep, night and day.

That's the way you cross the Pacific by air nowadays. You sleep your way across, but every now and then you start wide awake and sit or lie there thinking guiltily of the tremendous debt you owe those kids, living, wounded and dead, who took and held the island airbases making possible your placid crossing. And then, soon, you sleep again.

Remember History, Geography

Circling over some of the Marianas islands as you reach and leave Guam makes you put pieces of your history and geography together—and you wonder how in God's green earth we ever had the faintest hope of holding that island if war came to the Pacific.

We captured Guam the morning of June 20, 1898, before its people even knew that the Spanish-American war was on. It was the only island in the entire area that we kept when the war ended in 1899. We let Germany buy the rest of the Marianas and all of the Carolines from Spain for $4,500,000.

With the outbreak of World War One, the Japanese took possession of the German Marianas and in 1920 Japan was allowed to control the Carolines and Marshall islands under a League of Nations mandate.

Easy To See Mistakes

While it's easy for anybody to be a Monday morning quarterback, you know what we should have known long years ago: Namely, that Guam can never stand alone, that we must control the Marshalls, the Carolines and the Marianas, or never mess around out there at all.

A personal note for speculators to kick around:

"Little Joe" Stilwell, tall, eagle-wearing son of the famed former CBI general, was on the same plane with this correspondent—once again outbound for foreign assignment. He didn't know where.

"So you're going to Tokyo and the China coast later on?" said Vinegar Joe's soft spoken son. "Well, now, that's nice. At least you know where you're going."

81 Per Cent Of Nip Army Demobilized

TOKYO, Sept. 29 (AP) — The Japanese war department told Allied headquarters today that 1,833,634, of 81 per cent of the Nipponese soldiers under arms in the home islands Aug. 15 had been demobilized by Sept. 24. Remaining to be demobilized are 419,366, the department said.

The Japanese 11th area army in northern Honshu was completely demobilized, and the 12th and 13th area armies in central Honshu mustered out except for signal, transportation and headquarters handling the demobilization.

Traffic Dispersal Plan Is Good; Atom Bomb Snarls Relations With Reds

System Is Badly Needed

Both City And County Will Gain

WITH exception of an adequate water supply, the suggested development by the State Highway department of a street plan, more familiarly known as "a traffic dispersal system," is perhaps more important than any other proposal of improvement inside Lubbock.

Without exception, perhaps, the plan would do more for Lubbock county as a whole than anything else recently suggested.

In a nutshell, the dispersal plan—designed to shunt traffic more directly to its point of destination without further ensnarling busy thoroughfares less adapted to handling it—would stabilize business values and business property more than anything else that could be done. At least, that is the opinion of numerous persons who make it a habit to study town-building influences.

If the plan is not adopted, the result might mean an eventual business section developed along dog-leg courses, entirely illogical and thoroughly unplanned. If the plan is not adopted, one business section after another might become blighted as new sections blossom temporarily in an unplanned mushrooming existence that could easily be affected, in turn, by other whimsical trends.

And, since there is top-heavy credence given to estimates that Lubbock within 10 years may be a city of 100,000 population, it can be an odds-on bet that some plan of the sort now proposed must eventually be adopted and if postponed now, will be progressively costlier. Many large cities unfortunately have realized this fact too late.

UNDER the proposed plan, 437 acres of right-of-way would have to be purchased by Lubbock county — approximately 200 acres of which would be devoted to new roads. There would be 27 miles of connecting roads outside the city that would flow logically into widened trunk routes inside the city—all designed to let business inside Lubbock and Lubbock county develop naturally.

Most of the business transacted in Lubbock is between Avenue A and Avenue Q, and between Nineteenth and Fourth streets. The dispersal plan would widen those "boundary" roads and allow them to supplement heavy traffic that would continue to feed into the downtown business district along Avenue H, Texas Avenue, and Broadway. At the same time, particular care has been given to providing that such traffic could go any place in the business area from any street, without having to come in on Avenue H or Broadway.

Traffic surveys have proven that 94 per cent of traffic into Lubbock is destined for the business section enclosed by the proposed trunk routes mentioned, as compared with only approximately 50 per cent for, say, Waco and Baltimore — points passed by traffic from and to greater cities. The surveys prove the need is not to by-pass Lubbock, but to make it more convenient to get into the very middle of the city by the most expeditious and convenient routes.

When it is considered that coupled with the dispersal plan is a proposal to widen all highways out of Lubbock and to construct at least four farm-to-market lateral roads, one begins to get the picture of the immensity of the project.

When it is realized that the federal government and the state will pay all construction costs, both within city limits and without; that the state will maintain them hereafter; and that all the city and the county are required to do is furnish the right-of-way, one faces this question: Can Lubbock and Lubbock county afford, from point of sound business judgment, to turn backs on such a proposal?

THE plan offers the first instance of federal and state road building inside cities. Too many signs reading "State Maintenance Ends" are found where highways lead to urban centers.

The federal aid bill for constructing roads in Texas is divided three ways. The total cost to the federal and state governments will be $2½ millions for Lubbock and Lubbock county alone. As said, the cost to the city and county is only that of acquiring the right-of-way. Right-of-way costs will not be negligible, perhaps, but property owners should be able to realize compensatory inflation of property values as result of the new construction and make adjustments commensurate with that expectancy.

Another factor that cannot be overlooked is the resultant employment benefits from such road construction here. Lubbock county may expect to have its part, whatever that part may be, of the estimated 8,000,000 unemployed in the near future.

The City commission and the City Planning commission definitely are in favor of the plan. The County commission is studying it. Under the established premise that what benefits Lubbock aids Lubbock county, and vice versa, it is a natural conclusion that the more the plans are studied the more appealing they should become.

A city prepares for its greatness. Greatness has no habit of being thrust upon a city.

Delay In Unemployment Compensation Decision Draws Criticism

Stokes Blames Southerners For Careful Probing

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — There's been a war on.

The country is struggling to get back on a peacetime basis. In the transition there will be millions out of work. This is not speculation. This is not hearsay. It is a cold, hard fact. This is proved by what is going on every day.

STOKES

The House Ways and Means committee celebrates all this by voting to postpone "indefinitely" any consideration of President Truman's program which would increase unemployment benefits for those thrown out of work to what he regards as an adequate standard.

There's been a war on — or has there?

The President, in this committee, has run into the same barrier he discovered in the Senate, only to a greater degree. The barrier is right in his own party—the Southern Democrats. In the Senate, Southern Democrats joined with Republicans to defeat the president's proposal for a maximum for $25 for 26 weeks through federal assistance to supplement state unemployment benefit rates, some of which are low.

Want More Information

But the House Ways and Means committee won't even consider his program, and thereby keeps the House, itself, supposedly representing the people, from considering the program. It just bottles it up "indefinitely." From the temper of a majority of the committee "indefinitely" may mean a long time.

It was the same old story.

The administration has a paper and nominal majority on this powerful committee who wear the label "Democrat." There are 14 Democrats and 10 Republicans—by party label.

Three Southern Democrats and one Democrat from a border state joined with the ten Republicans on the committee to pass a resolution "that further consideration of S-1274 (the Senate bill) and related administration bills be indefinitely postponed so that the committee can receive more concrete information as to what the unemployment situation is to be during the reconversion period."

GOVERNMENT agencies already have provided estimates of peak reconversion unemployment ranging from eight to ten million.

The vote to postpone the Unemployment Compensation bill was 14 to 10. In order to keep the record straight it might be well to list those who voted to postpone indefinitely. They are:

Democrats—Mills, Ark., who made the motion; West, Texas; Camp, Ga.; Gregory, Ky.

Republicans—Knutson, Minn.; Reed, N. Y.; Woodruff, Mich.; Jenkins, O.; Gearhart, Calif.; Carlson, Kan.; Simpson, Pa.; Kean, N. J.; Gifford, Mass.; and Curtis, Neb.

The committee having shelved all Unemployment Compensation bills, voted to begin consideration of a Tax Reduction bill for which business and industry have set up such a demand, following a common schedule of priority in this committee.

Relation Admitted

There is some relation between Unemployment Compensation and Tax bills. President Truman urged increase of unemployment compensation for other than plain humanitarian reasons. He urged it also as a means of keeping up purchasing power. The prosperity of business and industry depends on purchasing power. Tax revenues depend on the prosperity of business and industry. Tax reduction is predicated on increasing revenues from prosperous business. This is the accepted cycle.

THE House Ways and Means committee was not expected to go even as far as the Senate in unemployment compensation legislation. But it was expected to consider it, to draft a compromise bill and let the House vote upon it. A year ago it did do the late President Roosevelt the grace to consider legislation, though it ripped up even a much modified program approved by the Senate.

The war was not over then.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

POLITICS and statesmanship aren't in my field.

My business is to look at life the way it affects you and millions like you. But the matter that is puzzling me—and many others who have written and asked me—if this:

BRANDEIS

Why are we treating those Japs not as if we had vanquished them but as if we were their guests?

Maybe there is a good reason for this ridiculous courtesy and consideration. If there is we should be told.

To me and many others with whom I have talked the whole business is nauseating.

Every day there are new stories of the foulest and most brutal mistreatment of our men while they were Jap prisoners.

And yet, we let that contemptible Hirohito sit on his throne and make his people believe that the only reason the war is finished is because his gracious majesty thought it best to avoid further blood-shed.

Do you — or does anybody in Washington — believe for one moment that those Japs have the slightest intention of living in peace and harmony with other nations?

Can't MacArthur and our government read English?

Couldn't anybody who read the Emperor's message to the Diet or the Jap Premier's speech see that both were a clear exhortation to the people of Japan to get ready for the next war and to live "for the restoration and preservation of Japanese institutions," which means nothing but militarism and conquest?

WHY is it that we are so brave and courageous in war and so stupid and nearsighted in our diplomacy and foreign relations?

I firmly believe that every red-blooded American — and particularly the millions of servicemen and their relatives — would have wanted to see that fellow Hirohito yanked from his throne and made to grovel in the dust before our liberated prisoners. And then, when he got all through groveling, he should have been hanged in the center of Tokyo for all Japs to see.

And why, if you please, do we

Reds May Get Secret

(Washington Merry-Go-Round)

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Inside fact regarding the cabinet meeting which discussed the atomic bomb was that President Truman had just received a report from Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the Office of Scientific Research, predicting that Russia would inevitably secure the secret of the atomic bomb. Truman read this report to his cabinet.

(This may have been how word got around that Wallace proposed giving the atom bomb to Russia, since Bush has been working for Wallace on a patents committee.)

Meanwhile, Truman faces one of the most difficult and important decisions of his presidential career—whether to give the secret to the Russians. Two facts confront him: (1) The recommendation of scientists that the Russians are bound to get the atom secret anyway; (2) The bad turn in relations with Russia since the atom secret was withheld.

PEARSON

The latter point worries Truman and all his foreign relations advisors. When he left Potsdam, both Stalin and Molotov were in fine mood, Truman was convinced that he had captured the goodwill of both men and that he could look forward to excellent relations in the future.

But at London, just the opposite has been true. Foreign Minister Molotov arrived at London snapping like a turtle. He remained that way throughout the conference.

Molotov never mentioned the atom bomb, but it is no secret that the Russians are bitter over the fact that they haven't been let in on the secret. The Russians have figured that the only reason why the Western Allies kept the secret to themselves was for possible use against Russia. Being of a suspicious nature anyway, this has made them almost impossible to deal with.

Meanwhile, scientists report that the Russians are devoting all their energies to scientific research. They are putting it ahead of everything else. The Russians already developed a perennial wheat, were much further ahead of us on synthetic rubber at the beginning of the war and can boast some of the best scientists in the world. So they may have already cracked the atom-bomb secret.

REDS UNDERSTAND THEORY

OUTSTANDING American scientists recently returned from Russia report that the Reds understand the theory of the atom bomb fully and are prepared to make vast sacrifices of men and material in the next few years. Russia has all the raw material, including substantial quanities of uranium for the work. What's more, although the army has tried to keep atomic discoveries secret, enough has been written already in the U. S. to give a scientific-minded nation substantial new clues.

Shortly before the Potsdam conference, the Russians held an International Science week. They invited every outstanding scientist in the United States. A plane-load of key research men, including top scientists from big U. S. firms, made the trip. What they saw astounded them. While they were in Moscow, the Russian government turned over the finest hotel in the nation—the Moscow hotel—heretofore exclusively reserved for Russians—to the scientists. Hitherto not even top visiting diplomats had been able to use this hotel.

The American scientists found all the daily Russian papers headlining and front-paging science. The whole nation was backing scientific research, they reported.

That's one reason some advisors are urging Truman to give the atomic bomb to Russia now, sharing the secret with her as an ally and preventing any possibility that within a few years the United States will be at the short end of an international war of nerves. If the Russians should unlock the atom bomb secret, we'd never know about it until they use it.

SENATOR FROM LOUISIANA

GENTLE-mannered Sen. James Tunnell of Delaware, whose tongue gets sharp when he is riled, came to the rescue of Secretary of Labor Lew Schwellenbach last Tuesday. Schwellenbach, testifying before the Senate Committee on Education and Labor in favor of the 65 cent minimum wage law, was visibly wilting as a result of continued heckling from his ex-colleague Sen. Allen Ellender of Louisiana, an in-and-out liberal.

Ellender had begun to question Schwellenbach about the effect of raising Southern wages to 65 cents an hour. But before long he dropped the questions and was making statements himself. The proposed minimum wage law, he said, would "ruin" the South. It would add "intolerable inflationary pressures" which would hamper reconversion in the South. And, although the law does not specifically cover agricultural workers, Ellender claimed it would force the price of farm labor so high that crops would rot in the field.

Finally, Tunnell, assuming an innocent tone, asked: "Senator, what are the real reasons for wage differential between the North and the South?"

"Why, there are a lot of things," began the Louisiana senator. "The workers in the South work more weeks in the year than those in the North, the — say," he said, suddenly realizing what was happening, "Look, I'm not the witness."

"Oh," replied Tunnell sweetly, "I understood you to be testifying at this point."

STALIN'S HEALTH

REPORTS of Josef Stalin's illness caused no surprise among those who saw him last at Potsdam. It has been obvious for some time that the 66-year-old Iron Man of Russia was feeling the wear and tear of the war years.

One tell-tale indication of how carefully Stalin has had to watch his health leaked out at the Yalta conference through the manner in which Stalin watched Roosevelt's health. Roosevelt advisers had been irked that Stalin should insist that the late President travel the long distance to the Soviet instead of meeting Roosevelt and Churchill midway. In fact this was one reason why Roosevelt postponed the originally scheduled meeting from Nov. 22, 1944, to February 1945. He felt that Stalin was unreasonable in asking him to travel so far.

When Stalin refused to budge, however, Roosevelt finally left by fast warship to Malta, where he was to proceed by plane to Yalta. At Malta, a Russian emissary, seeing the state of Roosevelt's health, advised Stalin of this fact, and Stalin radioed Roosevelt that he would be delighted to come to Malta to meet him.

However, Roosevelt, always proud of his ability to 'take it,' insisted on continuing the trip.

At Yalta, the Presidential party was given a large Russian house staffed with servants and the American delegation asked for an English-speaking majordomo to help handle the household.

In response, Stalin sent his own personal physician with instructions to make sure the late President had proper attention night and day.

Some construed this as a Soviet attempt to spy on the late President's health but most of the American delegation, knowing the respect Stalin and Roosevelt had for each other, interpreted it as an effort to take every precaution to conserve Roosevelt's strength.

NOTE—It has been known for some time that Stalin has had a liver ailment.

"Three O'Clock Dinner" Is Guild Selection

Josephine Pinckney's New Novel Has Resounding Climax

"WHEN I was growing up family dinners were the chief form of social entertainment in the South," says Josephine Pinckney whose new novel, "Three o'Clock Dinner," the Literary Guild selection for October, (The Viking Press N. Y.) reaches a resounding climax in a family dinner that is a good deal more than social entertainment. The Redcliffs of Charleston had always had a three o'clock Sunday dinner. Through the years, there had been many a minor clash of personalities and wounded sensitivities, but no mere Sunday dinner had affected so many people so deeply as the one to which Tat Redcliff brought Lorena Hessonwinkle and her mother and father.

PINCKNEY

The Redcliffs might have lived on in their gracious and detached way if it hadn't been for their tense and rebellious son, Tat. Tat was the kind of person who would rebel against any background, and his parents' life in their tasteful and authentic colonial home with its fine furniture, china and silver, gave a young man with notions of improving the world plenty of ammunition for criticism. The complacent assumption of his mother about the well-to-do taking care of the poor and the even more aggravating detachment of his father from all efforts at social betterment infuriated Tat. When Fenwick Redcliff took it upon himself to question his son about his devotion to the stunning Lorena Hessenwinkle, Tat could only boil over with all his pent-up social wrath.

"I just don't want you to overlook the fact," said Fenwick Redcliff with an attempted fatherly consideration, "that to the Hessenwinkles you represent a group — a group higher up on the social ladder, and your conduct is going to be judged accordingly."

Had More Complications

"The Hessenwinkles are very democratic," was Tat's stinging retort. "They accept me in spite of my class."

Tat's attachment for Lorena Hessenwinkle had more complications than he or even his father guessed. Lorena's warm lucious beauty, her low-cut tight clothes and touched-up hair would be strong meat for Mrs. Redcliff any day. None of the Redcliffs, not even Tat suspected how much all this female attraction had appealed to his idolized older brother, Fen, who had died suddenly a few years before. The degree of that attraction had deep meaning for Tat. It could be tragedy for Fen's shy and plain widow, Judith, who had worried her heart out ever since her husband's death for fear he hadn't loved her during his life. The explosive element in the whole situation was the growing antagonism between Lorena and Judith. Lorena felt that Judith held herself too high as the widow of Fen Redcliff, jr., and Judith tortured herself over the implications of Lorena's familiar and possessive attitude toward her dead husband. Meanwhile, idealistic, unsuspecting Tat Redcliff stood in the middle of this seething cauldren of emotions with only his ignorance to protect him, and he was soon to be shorn of that.

And so, when the fleshy Mr. and Mrs. Hessenwinkle waddled over to the Redcliffs to partake of a three o'clock Sunday dinner in honor of Tat and Lorena, that meal was destined to become the most eventful repast Charleston had seen in some time. The grammar of Papa and Mama Hessenwinkle may have been imperfect, but their purpose of protesting their daughter was unswering, and necessary as things turned out. That three o'clock Sunday dinner at the Redcliffs is the smashing end of a brilliantly written novel, Josephine Pinckney's 'Three o'Clock Dinner," one of the best selections the Literary Guild has made this year.

Today's Chuckles

A housewives union has been proposed. This has interesting possibilities, particularly if there might be a contingent of blondes who would be willing to act as strikebreakers in case the union voted a strike.

It must be intuitive with stingy persons to save a lot of money for old age. Their life span is considerably longer than average.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

"So I'm in business for myself!"

Shine, mister—?

Yep, I'm in business for myself. Not a very good business, I guess.

Funny. That used to be an old dream of mine—'way back in 1945. A business of my own.

Shine, mister—?

Those were the days when I was making more money than ever in my life. And buying Victory Bonds on the Payroll plan—setting up the nest egg Mabel and I thought would someday help us toward independence.

Shine, mister—?

Yep. We had it figured out. We'd keep on buying bonds; keep on saving. And at the maturity of those bonds, we'd have it all—and more. Four dollars for every three when our "E" bonds matured!

And then—my own radio repair place! Had lots of ideas. It would have been a big success, too . . .

Not quite enough gumption, I suppose. back in 1945. I sloughed off on my bond buying. Even began to cash in on the ones I had . . . Shucks, the war was over and I thought 'so what.'

Guess I've been a terrible fool . . . Shine, Mister—?

The difference between success and failure can be a small difference—the difference between sticking to a resolution or dropping it.

Keep those War Bonds—and buy more Victory Bonds! They can mean your own business— your own home—the education of your children. Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

VICTORY BONDS...to have and to hold!

Former Lubbockites Buy Colorado Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith, former Lubbock residents who recently sold their farm, three miles west of Shallowater, have purchased Nelson's Horseshoe ranch, near Trinidad, Colo., and will operate it as a dude ranch, riding academy and special stable service.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith plan improvements on the ranch to make it one of choice vacation spots of the area. Improvements will include construction of a clubhouse, installation of a water supply and electric lights and other features for the convenience of visitors.

Stables for horses have already been started and a roping arena and racetrack will also be built for entertainment vents.

Fliers Solve Travel Problem—Buy Planes

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 29. (AP) — Two flying lieutenants, Bill Robinson and Bud Hamphill, got their discharges at Drew field today and quickly solved the problem of a long trip home to Corvalis, Ore.

Failing to get immediate train or passenger plane reservations, the ex-bomber pilots each dug up $1,100 and bought tiny primary training planes for a leisurely trip westward. They spent nearly two years on bombing missions over Europe.

permit Japs to remain in power in Korea, a country that certainly deserves vindication and a bit of triumph?

I said in the beginning that politics is not my field. But I want to know what it is all about I pay taxes and I vote, and so do you. As American citizens we have a right to know why things are done—particularly if we don't approve of them.

And, as far as I can see, most of us do not only disapprove of this coddling of the Japs but we consider it an insult to us and a slap in the face of the men who fought for us!

U. S. Public Opposes Loan To Bolster Great Britain

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.,—If Congress is going to grant Britain's request for a loan of several billion dollars, steps should be taken soon to "sell" the idea to the American people.

Right now, pending further public discussion which might alter opinion on the loan issue, the majority of Americans polled from coast to coast are reluctant to see the loan made. For every person found in favor, two were found opposed.

GALLUP

The greatest opposition comes from manual workers. They register a 3-to-1 vote against a loan.

This is ironical, in view of the fact that Britain is now being run by the Labor party whose program is the improvement of the living conditions of the working classes. Harold Laski and others in London have said that, in order obtain American assistance, the British Labor party must convince American businessmen and upper classes of the rightness of its socialistic program. Actually, it is the working classes in the United States who need the most convincing. The sentiment of business and professional men is less opposed to a loan.

Question Is Direct

"England plans to ask this country for a loan of three to five billion dollars to help England get back on its feet. Would you approve or disapprove of the United States making such a loan?"

A similar question was asked concerning a loan of two to four billions and the replies were virtually the same as those given in response to the above question.

Following is the vote on a three-to-five billion loan. The briefest glance will show that all groups in the voting population are to a greater or lesser degree unreceptive to the idea.

	Approve	Disapprove	No Opinion
National	27%	60%	13%
By Occupation
Bus. & Prof.	37	55	8
White Collar	33	54	11

Gr. Sch'l. or No Sch'l.	22	65	13

Democrats	28	59	13

In making the survey the Institute used sampling methods which enabled poll-takers to forecast the outcome of five national elections in five different countries within the 14 months (Britain, Sweden, Canada, Australia and the United States) with an accuracy of within 2 percentage points in each country. In Britain these sampling techniques enabled the British Institute of Public Opinion to forecast loss of Churchill's voting strength and the great gains of the Labor party with an average error on the popular vote of only 1 per cent.

Repayment Is Doubted

The difficulties which the British face in winning public support for a loan are shown in the reasons which voters in the survey give at present for opposing the transaction.

It would be incorrect to assume that these results reflect the fixed and final attitude of the public. Events and further discussion may alter sentiment by the time Congress is asked to act on the matter of the loan.

Right now the greatest public fear seems to be that a large loan to England will not be repaid. Approximately half the people with opinions on the matter express the view that England would not pay back the amount loaned, while the other half think she would.

Two Major Factors

Two major factors do much to explain the skepticism. First, many Americans resent the fact that Britain ceased payments on her debt ot the United States dating from the First World war.

Second, a majority of Americans have the mistaken idea that Britain is supposed to pay us back for lend-lease goods sent her during World War II. A study of opinion on the latter point was released by the Institute last week.
