Wolfpack In First 3-AAA Win

The Colorado High School Wolves Tuesday night claimed their first District 3-AAA competition in four games with a 78-59 win over the Estacado Matadors.

The game was marred in the closing minutes with a confrontation between Estacado players and the officials.

The confrontation started when an Estacado player sassed an official after the official called a foul on the player. Continued sass from that player resulted in three technical calls against that particular player and he was then thrown out of the game.

The Wolves Melvin Jackson shot the three shots resulting from the technical fouls and made all three.

Then the Matadors committed what was called an intentional foul on the sidelines and when the official called the foul, one Lubbock player threw a ball in the direction of the official, the officials were sassed some more and five more technical fouls were called on Estacado.

The game was further marred by extensive fouls throughout the game. By the end of the first half, three Wolves had three fouls each, one had four and the fifth Wolf had two fouls.

For the Lubbock team, at the end of the first half, four of their players had three fouls each and one had four.

Jackson led scoring for the Wolves with 25 points, followed by 23 points by Hopkins, 15 points by John Ridge, David

Burns Victim Very Critical

"Please ask the people to keep praying," Don Stewart asked in a letter from San Antonio where his daughter, Sundee, is fighting for her life.

"She is burned over 80 per cent of her body and this is not good ; however, God will see her through," Stewart reported.

Doctors at the Institute of Surgical Research, Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, are trying to keep ahead of the many complications that have occurred.

Sunday Sundee developed pneumonia and surgery to help her breathe easier was considered but has not yet been necessary.

She is suffering from a number of infections according to reports reaching friends here and Tuesday night, doctors removed an infected blood vessel in her right leg. It will be 36 hours before doctors know if the operation was successful.

"There are no words that Linda and I can say to all the wonderful people in Mitchell County," Stewart wrote.

"The doctor told us today that Sundee was entering a very critical stage as for infections, pneumonia, etc. We know that everyone will keep praying."

Wednesday afternoon, a fund for Sundee at City National Bank had reached the $1,502.23 mark following the deposit of almost $200 raised by three of Sundee's classmates at Wallace Elementary.

The classmates, Kelli Dement, Jim Evans and Belinda Schauwecker went from door to door Friday and Saturday to collect the money. Donations ranged from $1 on up.

Electric Hike To Price Board

Colorado City residents will be paying about 2 1/2 cents more per day for electricity within 30 to 60 days depending on action by the federal price control board.

Texas Electric Service Co., represented by local manager Don Benson, went before the city council Monday night and requested a 6 per cent increase which was approved.

The request for increase was

County, Loraine Council To Talk Fire Pact Again

Commissioners Court and Loraine City Council may huddle together again in an attempt to agree on a rural fire-fighting contract.

If they do meet, then you can credit at least an assist from Loraine area delegation that went calling on Courthouse Tuesday morning.

The joint meeting was one of the suggestions from the delegation. And, Commissioners Court did not back away.

County Judge Bill Carter was on the phone Wednesday talking to Dr. Bruce Johnson , Loraine mayor, about the new meeting.

"He will call me back after talking to his fellow councilmen," said the judge. "If they are agreeable, we (Commissioners Court) will go to Loraine and talk with them."

Loraine's Fire Department has given notice that it will not answer fire calls outside its city limits. This policy was to start with the expiration of the old Loraine-County firefighting contract which ended Dec. 31.

New contracts are in operation between the county and Colorado City, at rate of $75 per call plus $5,000 lump sum payment, and Westbrook, $25 per call and $2,500 lump payment.

Loraine originally asked for a new contract paying its fire department $50 per call. But the county offered $40 per call plus $2,500 lump payment.

The county contract proposal--with a $15 per call raise from the old contract (same as for Colorado City and Westbrook) and a 5-year-term--was turned down by Loraine. Later in a face-to-face meeting with Commissioners Court in the Courthouse, Loraine Fire Chief J. C. (Butsy) Hall Jr. declared Loraine wanted the same pay level as Colorado City.

Commissioners not only said no to Hall's demand, but then backed away from a possible compromise at the $50 rate originally asked by Loraine.

The delegation calling on commissioners Tuesday appeared to favor Loraine getting what it asked. But they expressed serious concern about fire protection to the rural areas around Loraine that now must depend upon Colorado City firemen traveling extra distance to their fires.

Delmas Bowlin started the discussion for the delegation. Also prominent in the talk were A. Baumann, Charles Finley, A. J. Barron and Hall.

Others in the delegation were Roscoe Hudgins, Guy Hildebrand, Pierce Givens, Ira L. Beights, S. A. Hutchins, James Stewart, Willis Cornutt, Rex McDaniel, Lawrence Graham and Leroy Lucas.

Bowlin, at the outset of the meeting, told commissioners the group would like to have an answer on the fire contract from the county before the delegation left Courthouse. But the later suggestion by Stewart was that the county and Loraine officials meet again in an attempt to solve the problem got the best reaction from commissioners.

"I don't know what the outcome of the new joint meeting will be," said Judge Carter. "Dr. Johnson asked me if I thought it would be worthwhile and if I thought there is likelihood of an agreement."

"I told Dr. Johnson that I could not speak for Commissioners Court, but that I was in favor of the new meeting and that it may help. You can never be sure until we try."

Judge Carter has pointed out that with the $2,500 lump payment and the $40 per rural fire call totals up to more money than Loraine originally asked with a $50 rate per call.

And, he told the delegation Tuesday he had asked the previous Loraine delegation (Hall, Mayor Johnson and Bill Scarber) if they would be satisfied with a $50 per call rate and $2,500 lump payment provided Commissioners Court agreed to that compromise level.

However, he emphasized that Hall, at that time, reiterated a demand for $75 "same as Colorado City". Then, commissioners declined to come up to the $50 compromise level.

Last year Colorado City answered 50 rural fire calls, Loraine 39 and Westbrook 18.

Commissioners have explained several times that a reason for the higher Colorado City per call payment is its larger volunteer fire department, its paid 24-hour duty drivers, its larger rural area to service and its more property to protect.

Special Education Plan

Changes Needed For Program Here

The Colorado Schools administration Monday night presented the school board with yet another thorny problem facing the school system in the near future.

Only recently, Texas Electric Service Co. asked that taxes be lowered on the Morgan Creek power plant, a request still being studied.

The school board has started its annual review of salaries and contracts of everyone employed by the schools and a special executive session has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Jan. 24.

During Monday night's meeting, the board gave a new two-year contract to Superintendent Lloyd McKee for $17,750, a year, an increase of $1,010 over the last year.

Then Monday night, McKee and members of his administration presented plans to the school board that calls for drastic changes in order to implement by next year a program that will be required by 1976.

The new program is referred to as Plan "A" to provide comprehensive special education programs and services for handicapped pupils between the ages of three and 21-year-old.

The special education services which would be financed almost completely by state funds in cooperation with schools in Nolan County, would include:

--Comprehensive special education for exceptional children.

--Language and/or learning disabilities developmental program.

--Developmental early childhood programs for exceptional children.

In short, Plan "A" is a comprehensive program which will effect most students that experience learning difficulties, not just those with severe disabilities. It is estimated that the new special education program would affect or involve 20 to 40 per cent of the school enrollment.

In order to implement the program in the Colorado City school system, McKee, Assistant Superintendent Gary Gardner, Kelley Elementary Principal Esten Blackmon, and Hutchinson Principal Jerry Reynolds presented a plan to the school board.

Under the plan, the third grade next year would be moved from Kelley to Hutchinson in order to provide additional classrooms for Plan "A" activities at Kelley. There are currently a number of unused classrooms at Hutchinson.

However, two rooms at Hutchinson now used for physical education would be needed for the third grade if the shift is affected.

So, in order to accomodate physical education, the school has formulated a plan to erect a metal building 50 foot by 80 foot with an additional 10 feet to make it 90 feet long for storage and restroom facilities.

There is an option to add another 40 foot onto the building to accomodate the 5th grade band and music classes. However, this addition would cost another $10,000 and school officials asked the school board to consider eliminating the band for fifth graders as few school offer this program at that grade.

However, Band Director D-

Buildings Surveyed

State Architect Lists Ideas

An architect from the Texas Education Agency has surveyed the building in the Colorado Independent School District and while he found most buildings to be in good shape, he recommended some sweeping changes.

The architect, C. Lyman Ellis Jr., recommended the consolidation of all schools in Mitchell County, saying it would provide for a much more economical operation. This was a recommendation that has been made by others and was not nearly as shocking as several others.

Probably the most unexpected recommendation by Ellis was that Hutchinson Elementary be abandoned and remodeled for an administration complex.

Ellis recommended that an open area between wings at Kelley be closed in, creating large open-area teaching spaces between existing halls to house a program for kindergarten, grades one and two and primary age special education students.

His recommendation for Wallas was that the size of the school be increased and it be used for fourth and fifth grades.

At the junior high school, Ellis said, an increase in the site is needed also. It should be remodeled and added onto to accommodate 6, 7 and 8th grades with room for "introductory" vocational-type courses.

For the high school, Ellis recommended:

--Develop plans for a new high school academic building to replace the present three-story building.

- Build additional facilities to house a greatly expanded vocational program.

--Establish a football field and field house on the school owned land on the east side of the city. Convert the present field for team and band practice fields and for physical education.

Ellis noted that all but Hutchinson Elementary of the five buildings in the district are in good condition. However, Ellis noted that the sites of most of the school buildings are too small and should be increased.

The survey was made at the request of McKee for the purposes of planning.

3 Wars Mark General's Flight Path

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet here next Thursday again will spotlight a citizen who, with roots in the heritage of Colorado City, has accomplished outstanding achievement on the national scene.

He is Maj. Gen William Grover (Bill) Moore Jr., commanding officer of 22nd Air Force with headquarters at Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

His responsibility is the operational control of the Military Airlift Command (MAC) aircraft and facilities from the Mississippi River westward to the eastern border of India.

General Moore will be principal speaker at the banquet in Civic House. Tickets are available now at the Chamber of Commerce and can be obtained by phoning or visiting the Chamber office.

The awards and medal decorated Air Force officer, who has served in 3 wars of his country, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Moore, now residents of Weatherford.

His father, a former Humble Oil Pipe Line employee, was reared in Colorado City and his mother, the former Annie Pickens, is a member of one of this city's pioneer families.

Last year the banquet's principal speaker was Charles R. Haines, Colorado High graduate, program manager for the moon landing training vehicle at NASA's Manned Space Craft Center. Earlier a civic dinner honored another Colorado High graduate, Don Maynard, professional football's all-time record making pass receiver.

The 22nd Air Force commander will fly here from California especially for the Colorado City event. He will be accompanied here from Big Spring by representatives of the Webb Air Force Base commanding officer's staff.

General Moore has visited often in Colorado City, where his parents were reared. His college education was at Kilgore College and at George Washington University after graduation from New London's high school.

His military career began in 1940 as an Army Air Corps aviation cadet. He was graduated from Air Command in 1950, Air War College in 1957 and National War College in 1962, the same year he completed Airborne Jump School, Fort Benning, Ga.

His war service spreads through World War II to Korea and Vietnam.

General Moore's actual combat record includes 100 missions during World War II and Korean War. In the Vietnam conflict he has flown more than 150 missions.

His Vietnam combat missions were from November 1966 to December 1967 when the general reactivated the 834th Air Division at Tan Son Nhut Airfield in the Republic of Vietnam. During that time he was responsible for tactical airlift within Vietnam and other places designated by Military Assistance Command, Vietnam.

In World War II he commanded the 777th Bombardment Squadron and was operations officer in the 464th Bombardment Group , 14th Air Force, in Italy. There he completed 50 combat missions.

His Korean assignment was as commander of the 3rd Bombardment Group based at Kusan, where he completed 50 more missions with 250 combat flying hours against Communist forces in North Korea.

General Moore's military decorations and awards included the Distinguished Service Medal, Silver Star, Legion of Merit with 3 oak leaf clusters, Distinguished Flying Cross with 1 oak leaf cluster, Air Medal with 9 oak leaf clusters, Air Force Commendation Medal with 1 oak leaf cluster, Army Commendation Medal, Corix de Gurre with palm and Vietnam Honor Medal 1st Class with 1 cluster.

From January 1953 to August 1956, General Moore served in Headquarters U. S. Air Force, Washington, D. C., in the Directorate of Operations, as Assistant Chief, Programs and Requirements Branch, and later was Chief of the Bases and Units Branch. In August 1957 he was assigned to Headquarters U. S. Air Forces in Europe (USAFE), at Wiesbaden, Germany, and served two years as Director of Programs before becoming Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations. He entered the National War College, Washington, D.C., in August 1961.

In August 1962 General Moore went to Sewart Air Force Base, Tenn., and became Commander of the 314th Troop Carrier Wing. From September 1962 to March 1963, he was also Commander of "Project Close Look," a task group with a mission of evaluating equipment and techniques for the immediate and long-range improvement of the aerial delivery capability of Tactical Air Command (TAC).

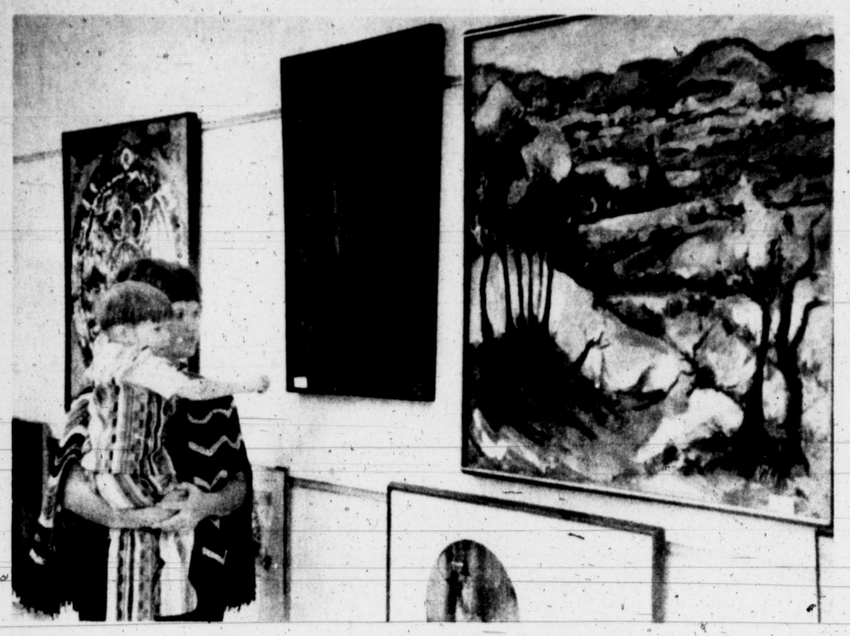

In September 1963 General

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE ARE luxuries in this modern world and then there are necessities. And isn't it funny how fast what used to be considered a luxury can become an absolute necessity?

Actually, most absolute necessities these days are just luxuries we didn't used to have. We get them all mixed up in the mind and in the demand department anyhow.

If worse came to worst and we all had to separate our store of luxuries from the stock of bare necessities we'd be hard pressed. We'd have to hire a truck to hold the luxuries we are persuaded we can not get along without and could put what we consider bare necessities in a small wheel barrow.

MIGHT BE fun to ask yourself exactly what you believe you could--and could not part with.

Heard of a very nice woman, once, who grabbed up her mink coat when a big motel had a small fire and she was almost in her car before she remembered to run back and pick up the baby. It could be called panic or excitement but just the same the mink was less than a week old and the baby wasn't all that new. So it could be called instinctive set of values.

WHAT could you live without if you had to leave somewhere in a hurry? What could you live without, anyhow, if you count what you feel in your heart are your absolute necessities?

You might be surprised to find out how much of the stuff you think absolutely necessary would have been in the luxury class only a few years ago.

You could live without an electric can cutter if you remembered to grab up a sharp knife, the vacuum cleaner if you've still got a broom, the TV set though you'd miss some fun... but how could you live without the piano you love?

You could survive without the electric blanket if you've kept some of great-grandmother's quilts.

COULD live without the record player so long as you can carry a tune and sing to the children.

Could live without the toaster--but never that complete collection of poetry by Edna Millay or Webster's dictionary or the little portable typewriter.

Could live without the big recliner, maybe, and even the air - conditioner but not the warmth of some sort of fire when the north wind doth blow.

Could live without teflon but never the big old soup pot if it came right down to it.

Could manage without nylon hose but not without shoes. Could make it without a bathing suit but would just have to have a warm coat, not necessarily mink. Just preferably.

THERE are worlds of things you could get along without and wouldn't want to one bit.

Magazines, I guess, but never, never, never newspapers... Gasoline but not some sort of little car to put it in.

Could live without a bathtub, let's assume, but never water, soap, toothbrush, comb, brush, and some sort of scissors.

Could live without a gun of any kind and any kind of fishing tackle. Could live without a horse, a sheep, a chicken, a cow, a pig about the place but doubt that it would be very simple to live without markets and supermarkets.

COULD live without political speeches but would suffer real pain without the fun of election returns.

Could live without cash--but not without writing checks now and then.

Talked to a dear little old lady one time whose first married home was a Mitchell County dugout with buffalo hide for the door and roof. She lived to be nearly 100 which proves what a strong woman can do without what we now call necessities.

STILL AND ALL, am glad not to have been born in her era. Am a gadget gal by nature. And a luxury lover, too.

If the time ever came when C-City was beseiged by enemies and we could all hurry away with just the bare necessities, chances are this luxury lover would run like everything with her new bottle of cologne, a new pantsuit, hand lotion, lipstick, four library books, and an assortment of TV dinners, plus something sensible like the portable hand mixer, the steam iron, and the hair spray.

Might live in a dugout with buffalo hide door but would take along keys for the night latch . . .and a jar of peanut butter. If I had a baby I'd take him, too.

Don't anybody tell her, since she explained the long "A" in Colorado City, that I know somebody who switched to "Ah", instead of long "A" after about 10 years here. Got tired explaining to out of town and out of state people "What town in Colorahdo do you live in?" Had enough trouble with the West Texas accent as it was.

The third family, new residents on the mobile home parking lot, are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Rushing and daughter who moved here from Denton. He is an employee of Jago Construction and they are Baptists.

Gas Drying

Electric Drying

Either we're four times cheaper, or they're four times more expensive.

Gas drying is not only easier on your pocketbook, it also makes life a whole lot easier.

For one thing, gas drying practically eliminates the need for ironing. The new gas dryers are so gentle that clothes come out almost wrinkle-free. Clothes are tumbled dry, then cooled, and gently fluffed. Automatically. Pleats stay pleated. Creases, stay creased.

All this for a cost of about a penny a load. (Or $2.00 a ton.)

Take a look at the new gas dryers at your gas appliance dealer. Then do something nice for yourself.

And your pocketbook.

Wolves Face Snyder Friday Night

Tuesday, Wolves Play Sweetwater Here

Locking Horns

The Wolves Jerome Hopkins (No. 24), locked horns with a Dunbar player as both jumped for a rebound in a game last week. The Wolves got the rebound but Dunbar won the game 84-67. In the background for the Wolves are Skeet Kimbrell (No. 42) and David Matthews, who can be seen between the two jumping players.

WOLFPACK

Matthews had 7, Skeet Kimbrell had 6 and Randy Wright had 2.

The junior varsity lost their game to Estacado by the score of 76-36. Incidentally, the Record was in error Sunday in reporting that the junior varsity team lost to Lake View Friday night. The JV team won the game 57-55.

Coach Dean Ingram called the Varsity's Tuesday night game against Estacado as one of the best efforts by the entire team of the entire year.

The game started out slow with the Wolves trailing Estacado at the end of the first quarter by 11-13. Then in the second quarter, the Wolves got hot and played good defense to take a halftime lead of 35-29 into the locker room. At one time, the Wolves led by 13 points in the second quarter.

Then in the third quarter, the Lubbock team closed to within three points of the Wolves before the Colorado High team literally blew them off the court with several scoring bursts.

The win was a big one for the Wolves as Estacado last week nearly defeated pre-season favorite Lamesa.

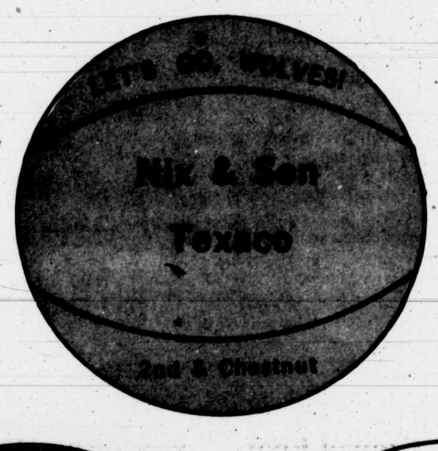

The win boosted the Wolves season record to 17 wins and five losses.

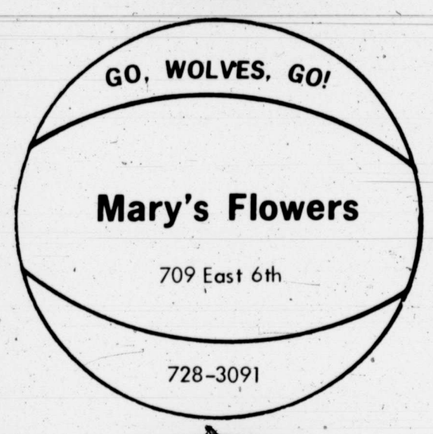

Friday night the Wolves travel to Snyder to take on the district leading Snyder Tigers. The Tigers are thus far undefeated in district competition.

OUR VERSATILITY---IT'S AMAZING

Colorado City's versatility never ceases to amaze me. Right after our Colorado City Playhouse restores the old opera house for a tremendous cultural asset, along comes the Brush & Palette Club with a show plus area recognition.

The Brush & Palette Club is a small but enthusiastic group of productive painters. They are sponsoring the Big Country Circuit & Citation Art Show-all outstanding work by West Texas Artists now in the Mitchell County Library.

Included in this prize display is a painting by Colorado City's Mrs. Charles (Carolyn) Walker. It was selected for the show after being cited for circuit award.

Next fall, the Brush & Palette Club--by the way, its president is a TESCO gent, Carl Bell--will be host for the whole Big Country Art Show in Abilene. That's a pretty fair compliment in its self to our club from all the other West Texas artists.

Billy Graham Movie For W'Brook Church

WESTBROOK - "The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Westbrook Baptist Church Sunday during 7 p.m. worship service.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis, according to Rev. Roy Johnson, church pastor, who announced the special program.

"With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems," Rev. Johnson said.

It is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind.

The public is invited to attend the picture showing by Rev. Johnson and congregation of Westbrook Baptist Church.

Officers And Sweetheart

Rhonda Nerger, honored as 1971-72 Future Farmers of America sweetheart in Colorado High School cahts with top chapter officers, Terry Haggerton, vice president, (in center) and Robert Cox, president. Not pictured are Larry Strain, sentinel; Jerry Boyd, secretary; Kirk Morris, treasurer, and Wayne Banks, reporter. Frank Brownfield is FFA advisor.

She had lived in Colorado City for many years and was a member of First Baptist Church.

Surviving Mrs. Laster are five daughters - Mrs. M. D. Robertson of Sand Springs, Mrs. J. M. Simmons of Cisco, Mrs. O. H. Gilmore and Mrs. Tracy Wadsworth of Dallas, Mrs. Carl Sliger of Fort Worth; three sons - W. A. Laster Jr. of Los Angeles, Cal., James D. Final Rites For Former Resident

Funeral services for Debra Lynn Johnson, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Johnson of Lubbock, were conducted in Lubbock Friday afternoon.

Rites were in Greenlawn Church of Christ with interment in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Miss Johnson died last Wednesday afternoon in a one car accident near Post as she returned to Lubbock following a holiday visit with friends in Colorado City.

A freshman in Lubbock Christian College, she was born Feb. 24, 1953, in Alamogordo, N.M., and moved to Lubbock from Colorado City in 1969. Her father is a former minister of North Side Church of Christ here.

Survivors are her parents; a sister, Deedee; one brother, Bruce, and grandparents - Mrs. Minnie Johnson of Goodwill, Okla., Mrs. Ben Ward of Altus, Okla., and Howard Muse of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Calvary Church To See 'Like A Mighty Army'

A new dramatic film, "Like A Mighty Army", will be shown Sunday in evening worship services at Calvary Baptist Church.

The movie is a true story of a church and it's minister in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who committed themselves to the principal of providing life changing answers for the people of their community.

"The social revolution among young people today is frightening in many of it's aspects," according to a news release for the film. The story tells how a handful of people responded without bewilderment or fear.

The story is of the nine years in which Coral Ridge Church has become one of the fastest growing congretations in the world growing from 17 to more than 2,000 members and needing three Sunday morning services to handle the crowd.

Starring in the role of church pastor, Rev. James Kennedy, is Chris Robinson, who is best known for his role as an air force sergeant in the television series, "12 O'Clock High."

Rev. Ed H. Burkett, new pastor at Calvary Baptist Church, and the church congregation Wednesday extended an invitation to the public to attend the 7 p.m. showing.

Enough electricity for today and tomorrow.

Dependable electric power in ample supply helps make good living possible today—and is essential for tomorrow's growth and progress—throughout the area served by Texas Electric.

Providing enough electricity to meet these needs will require over $165 million in new construction in the next two years. That's a lot of money. And about $100 million of this will have to be raised in a competitive market at a time when interest rates are much higher than they were just a few years ago.

This, added to other higher costs of doing business, makes the job of planning and building ahead an even bigger task. At Texas Electric, providing enough electricity is a commitment and a continuing effort that keeps us at your service.

Moore was appointed Commander of the 839th Air Division, a month before TAC organizations were committed to "Exercise Big Lift." He served as Assault Airlift Commander in this ocean-spanning U. S. Strike Command (STRICOM) exercise held in October-November 1963. This exercise clearly demonstrated the capability of rapid, airlife reinforcement of NATO Forces in Europe.

From March 1965 until October 1966, General Moore was the Deputy Director of Operations, J-3, STRICOM, MacDill Air Force Base, Fla. During this tour of duty, in May 1966, he was Joint Task Force Commander of Project Rapid Strike, conducted at the Pope Air Force Base - Fort Bragg, N.C., complex. The mission of this project was to evaluate tactics and techniques for airborne operations with the objective of improving and maximizing their effectiveness.

In December 1967 he assumed duties as Director of Operational Requirements and Developments Plans, Deputy Chief of Staff, Research and Development, Headquarters U. S. Air Force. He became Commander of the Twenty-second Air Force, Military Airlift Command, at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., in February 1970.

Loraine In 67-61 Loss

Loraine put on a third strong quarter rally Tuesday night to regain the lead from Hermleigh but then several players got in foul trouble in the fourth quarter and Loraine lost the game 67-61.

The Loraine girls team also suffered a loss to Hermleigh by the score of 50-38 with Marsha Troutt scoring 18 points for Loraine.

The boys "b" team, led by Don Crawford with 18 points, won 70-48.

In the boys "A" team game, Michael Jones led the scoring with 25 points. Robert Darnell led the rebounding with 22 rebounds.

David Minton scored 14 points and Tanis Moreno had 8 in the game for Loraine.

At one time, Loraine was down 33-16 but then made a comeback to take over the lead 45-42. Loraine held the lead until about three minutes were left in the game and Hermleigh regained the lead 59-57 after three Loraine players, Kenneth Rose, Don Crawford and Robert Darnell, fouled out.

approved last week by city councils of Loraine and Westbrook.

The increase, Benson said, will amount to about 2 1/2 cents more per day on the electric bill for the average household.

The increase must first be acted on by the federal price control board established by President Nixon followed by price freeze.

Action by the board is expected within 60 days, Benson said.

"Texas Electric Service Company, because of sharply increased costs. . .and facing its largest construction program in history, must request a 6 per cent across-the-board increase in its rates," Benson told the council.

"This is the minimum amount needed to continue to provide dependable electric service for the growing needs of our customers."

Benson noted that TESCO's last increase was in 1961, offset by voluntary reductions in 1963 and 1965. Even with this year's increase, provided it is approved by the federal price board, the cost of electricity will still be less than it was 10 years ago, Benson noted.

In other action Monday night, the council opened sealed bids for a 3.4 acre tract of land near the city water works. The only bid submitted was for $1,200 from St. Ann's Catholic Church.

The Church had requested that the city put the land up for sale as the church wanted it as a building site for a new church.

Church officials noted that the site will also be used as a location eventually for a new educational building and a pastorate.

The Council accepted the bid from the church and a church official noted that church officials hope to get construction underway within 90 days.

City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. reported to the council that Colorado City will be the site for a Texas A&M training school April 19-20 on the principles of supervision for employees of municipalities.

Sadler also asked for and received permission to request bids for a cab and chassis for a rural fire truck and for two cars for the police department.

New Pastor To Arrive Friday

Rev. Ed H. Burkett, new pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, will conduct his first service as minister of the church Sunday.

The new pastor, who will move here from Vernon with his family, will arrive in Colorado City Friday.

Rev. Burkett, 38, will succeed Rev. Charlie Jones as Calvary pastor. Jones moved to Amarillo last summer.

Rev. Burkett comes here after serving as pastor of Lockett Baptist Church in Vernon. He is a native Texan who received his religious education in California Baptist College and Golden Gate Seminary.

In California he pastored First Baptist Church in Grover City, First Baptist in Plainview and Trinity Baptist in Santa Maria. Also, he was on the state of the Home Mission Board of Southwestern Baptist Convention in the convention's California office.

In addition to his church ministry, Burkett worked with delinquents in California's juvenile courts.

The minister and his wife, Joyce, are parents of 2 children--Greg, in the fifth grade, and Kim, third grader.

Two Win Trophies

Two Colorado City basketball teams scored victories last weekend in separate tournaments in Sweetwater and Snyder to win consolation trophies in each tournament.

Ed Warren led the 9th grade team to win the consolation trophy in three games in Sweetwater.

The Colorado City team lost the first game to Snyder Travis 87-48, then defeated Sweetwater's Junior Varsity 54-18 and then downed Goliad of Big Spring 48-31.

Warren scored 29, 13 and 22 points in the three games.

The 7th grade basketball team captured the consolation trophy at the Snyder tournament.

The Wolves red team lost the first game to Snyder Lamar 36-30, then defeated Travis of Snyder black team 27-26 and Lamesa's gold team 42-28 to win the consolation trophy.

Starters for the red team are Craig Carter, Wayne McKee, Pete Parham, Steve Belvin and Jackie Ellis.

SCHOOL

wight Tomb has told school officials that the 5th grade band is valuable to the entire school's band program.

The structure just for the PE facility, storage and restrooms would cost in excess of $22,500 which would have to come out of next year's budget as school officials believe a bond issue is out of the question any time in the near future due to a federal court ruling on taxes recently.

The board directed McKee and his staff to look at the budget to see if funds for the $22,500 and the additional $10,000 for the band and music portion of the building can be raised.

Also to be considered is a proposed parking lot at Hutchinson. With the transfer of the third grade, if it is approved, to Hutchinson, there would be more teachers and the current parking is already limited.

A parking lot would also prove safer for students who board buses now in front of the school where cars are parked, Reynolds noted.

Other action by the board Monday night included accepting the resignation of fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Ibera Latham due to ill health and the hiring of Mrs. Gary Gardner to succeed Mrs. Latham.

The board also reviewed a list of delinquent taxes and gave approval to a law firm to proceed with filing suits against those with delinquent taxes.
