Major Tax Cut Planned As Anti-Recession Move

Would Put Millions In Hands Of Consumers

WASHINGTON (UP)—A major tax cut is being mapped by the administration, it was learned today.

The proposal would put millions of dollars in the hands of consumers and business firms in hopes of ending the recession. Only the exact details of the bill and the time the administration expects to fill it were not divulged.

At the same time AFL-CIO leaders prepared to hand President Eisenhower facts and figures to back up their claim the business downdrift will get worse and a tax reduction is needed now.

Unemployment To Go Higher

The AFL-CIO memo will tell the President unemployment will stay the same or rise from the 16-year high of 5,200,000 it reached in February. Labor ecqnomists believe privately another 200,000 persons will be added to the jobless ranks this month.

Highly-placed informants said the administration is considering a tax measure which would pump large sums into the coffers of business — chiefly smaller firms—to let them stock their shelves and expand their plants.

"A tax cut that would just put a couple of bucks in the consumer's pocket would not be enough," one informant said. He indicated the proposed cut would be somewhat similar to the administration-backed 1954 tax cut which gave major benefits to business firms and stockholders but also boosted deductions for medical expenses, retired workers and farmers.

Varying views in Washington reflected the evident split within the administration on the current seriousness of the economic situation.

Question of Timing

The chief question, both in the administration and Congress, appeared to be one of timing.

The Senate, in rejecting a $5,200,000,000 tax cut proposal by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) Thursday night, did not close the door to a tax cut but rather to his method. He tried to add it to a House-approved bill on insurance taxes without congressional hearings.

The big question mark in the administration seemed to be whether business will pick up soon as some officials still confidently predict. There were these plus and minus signs in the economic picture today:

—The Commerce Department reported business plans to slash spending for new plant and equipment this year 13 per cent below last year. This is a far sharper

Libby Testifies To Atomic Explosion

WASHINGTON (UP) — Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby has testified that a small atomic bomb explosion in Nevada made a mountain jump six inches.

Libby said it took four months to locate bomb fragments and resulting radioactivity following the explosion of the 1.7 kiloton bomb last Sept. 19.

He appeared Monday at a closed door hearing of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee. His testimony was made public Thursday.

Libby told the committee it would be "extremely difficult" to detect an underground atomic blast within the Soviet Union. "I think that there is no method that is absolutely certain" to detect such blasts, Libby said.

He said that in the Nevada blast, the tiny A-bomb blew itself

Leopold Now Plans To Drop Out Of Sight

CHICAGO (UP)—Nathan Leopold spent his first full day of freedom in more than a third of a century ill and self-imprisoned in the plush apartment of a friend, but hoped to fly to Puerto Rico today and "drop out of sight."

The 53-year-old ex-convict, who became violently ill Thursday on a wild car ride from Stateville prison in Joliet to Chicago, emerged from the apartment only once Thursday night to visit a nearby physician's office.

Leopold spent the rest of his time in the 15th floor suite of a Lake Shore Drive apartment house, secluded from newsmen camped in the corridor.

The paroled 1924 thrill slayer visited the doctor for a physical examination before departing for Puerto Rico where he will work as a $10-a-month X-ray technician at a mission hospital.

Leopold and his partner, Richard Loeb, were 19 years old when they were sentenced to life plus 99 years for the murder-kidnap of 14-year old Bobby Franks in a crime that shocked the nation.

Loeb was killed in a prison brawl.

Attorney Elmer Gertz said Leopold's illness apparently was due to car sickness which he has suf-

Lions Club Has Meeting

Members of the Lions Club, at their noon meeting Thursday, got a sneak preview of the 22-minute film that will be shown at Pampa Public Schools during Business Industrial Education Days, Mar. 24, 25, 26. The film, "Its Everybody's Business," is furnished by Celanese Corporation of America for the annual BIE days. Robert D. Gardin, supervisor of business training for Celanese Corporation, appeared before the film.

The first elimination in the Pampa Youth and Community Center Beauty Contest, will enliven the next meeting of the Lions, Thursday. Fifty guests, including the girls and their parents, will attend.

"Eighteen of the prettiest girls you ever saw will be here," said Joe Tooley, first vice president of Lions. "The winner will represent your Lions Club at the District Convention in Dalhart."

The advance sale of tickets to the Annual Lions Club Minstrel has already netted $250. Bunny Schultz, directing the Minstrel, is well pleased with the turn out of choir members but would like to see some more ladies balance out the choir.

Robert Gardin of Celanese stated that Business Industrial Education Days will start off with a banquet for all teachers in town, Mar. 24. An out of town speaker will discuss free enterprise. On Mar. 25 and 26 representatives of industry will speak in the home rooms of Pampa High School.

Lions President Homer Craig called on the cast of the Annual Minstrel to bring their wives to sing in the chorus or "bring someone."

FCC Members Still Must Explain Votes

WASHINGTON (UP)— Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said today mission members would still have Federal Communications Commission members would still have to explain to House investigators their votes on awarding Miami's television Channel 10 — even though they are trying to reopen the case.

Harris, chairman of the subcommittee looking into alleged misconduct in the FCC, told the United Press that he would not permit the FCC members to refuse to talk on the ground that the Miami case was again pending.

In a motion filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday, the FCC said it planned to reconsider the Channel 10 award to National Airlines in the light of "significant new information" turned up by Harris' subcommittee. The investigation has resulted in the resignation from the FCC of Richard A. Mack after testimony that his vote was influenced.

Harris said he had heard "rumors" the FCC undertook the unprecedented action to escape subcommittee questioning on their votes. "They are going to come in here," he said. "They can't get out from under by this action."

Harris has already announced the FCC members involved in the Channel 10 vote will be questioned, possibly next week.

The investigators called Col. A. Frank Katzentine to complete his testimony. The Miami radio station owner of one of the unsuccessful bidders for the channel.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said if a review of the Channel 10 case "should show that all parties involved used undue pressure, then I trust the case will be thrown open for other applicants."

Monroney and Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) both said they were pleased that the FCC had decided to reopen the case. The lucrative channel—estimated to be worth seven million dollars by Monroney—was awarded to the airline Feb. 7, 1957, although an examiner rated it the "least qualified."

Bob Hope Makes Wisecracking Way To Moscow

NEW YORK (UP)—Bob Hope wisecracked his way toward Moscow today to make two filmed television shows featuring Russian entertainers.

The comedian left New York by air Thursday. He will switch to a Soviet airliner at Copenhagen and is due in the Russian capital today.

Hope said he expected no language difficulties "unless they ask me something." He plans a six-day visit but quipped that he wasn't sure how long the Russians would let him stay. Pointing to the visa on his passport, he said, "I don't know Russian, but I think at the bottom of this thing it says 'Yank, go home.'"

Hope said he jokingly considers himself a "cultural exchange." Some of the "culture" he will display there includes a movie, "Paris Holiday," in which Anita Ekberg is his co-star.

He plans to come home with enough film for two television shows that will be aired in April. (By NBC.)

Marina Svetlova, prima ballerina, and her leading male dancer, Gilbert Canova go through one of the numerous ballets in their repertoire. Youth Center Fund Raising Teams Begin Gifts Campaign

By 9 a.m. today in the dining room of Pampa Hotel, the 16 fund raising teams of the Special Gifts Division had kicked off into the campaign for the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

E. E. Shelhamer, chairman of the Advance Gifts Division that kicked off yesterday, made his first report at the breakfast. On the second day of its three week campaign, Advance Gifts has secured pledges totalling $6500.

General Campaign Director John Campbell reminded the members that Mrs. Inez Carter has already donated land and gifts amounting to $53,000, to the campaign. In reference to the $125,000 operating fund pledged by Mrs. Carter, Campbell said, "she is giving us $1.25 for every $3.00 that we raise." He added that "Her gift is contingent upon our work."

The pledges made from now until April 4, 1958 can be paid to the Center over a three year period, ending Mar. 31, 1961. This covers four income tax years. The Pampa Youth and Community Center is incorporated as a charitable organization. Therefore contributions to the Center will be deductible on the Federal income tax.

Advance Gifts Chairman Ed Myatt applauded Architect Gene Hollar who not only is serving on a team of the Advance Gifts Division but is giving his time as the new chairman of the Center Planning Committee. A campaign official observed that the planning committee will be restricted only by the amount of money raised. "Lets give the planning committee enough for everybody," he said.

He announced that the general campaign kickoff and beauty contest will be at 7 p.m., Friday at Pampa High School. "So make you reservations now." No reservations are available at the meeting of Lions, Thursday, for the first elimination.

In his remarks to the division, General Campaign Director John Campbell said, "We have the youth. What we don't have is the facility to coordinate their activities. Five years from now when we have a nice youth center the thing that will seem most important to you will be the days in March, 1958 when you worked on this campaign."

Slice In Farm Support Finds Trouble

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic farm leaders today forecast quick House approval of a Senate move to block the administration's scheduled slashes in farm price supports and planting allotments.

But they acknowledged the tion farm policies doesn't have enough backing in Congress to be enacted into law over the presidential veto that Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson says is "almost certain."

Benson voiced his warning Thursday a few hours before the Senate passed the resolution 50 to 43. It would freeze price props and acreage allotments indefinitely at "not less" than 1957 levels.

The Senate measure, although technically a resolution, would have the effect of law if passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) summoned the House Agriculture Committee to vote on the measure Monday. He said the committee would approve it and he hoped the House could complete action and send it to the President by the end of next week.

There was no advance sign of any concerted drive by administration leaders to wage an all-out fight on the House floor against the measure. GOP House leaders said they hadn't taken a firm position, as yet.

In the Senate 39 Democrats and 11 Republicans teamed up to pass the measure opposed by 35 Republicans and eight Democrats.

If enacted, the measure would veto cuts ordered by Benson in supports for dairy products, wheat, rice, beans, flaxseed and several feed grains.

Except for tobacco and corn grown by farmers who ignore planting allotments, the measure would require that price supports and planting allotments for all crops be maintained at not less than 1957 levels until such time as Congress enacts new farm legislation.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.) joined Democratic farm leaders in predicting House passage. He said many lawmakers were concerned over the economic recession and felt this was "hardly the time to be reducing potential income of farmers."

Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.) told a reporter he expected the measure to pass the House by a margin of 100 votes or more.

Cooley and Abernethy both said they expected the President to sign the resolution.

The Senate after passing the general price freeze rejected by an identical vote —50 to 43— a separate measure designed to block a scheduled reduction April 1 in the support prices for dairy products.

The second move was sponsored by dairy state Republicans who contended that the President might sign such a resolution while vetoing the general prize freeze.

The price freeze resolution was a direct challenge to administration farm policy. It would order Benson to "freeze" nearly all farm price supports and planting allotments at not less than 1957 levels until Congress acts on long-range farm legislation.

Democrats and some Republicans called the measure part of the anti-recession program and said the "freeze" was necessary to keep declining farm purchasing power from dragging down the rest of the economy.

The final vote for the bill was far short of the two-thirds majority that would be necessary to override a presidential veto.

WALTER WINCES—Walter Brennan, filmdom's 64-year-old veteran character actor, is wincing over the unkind barbs of a TV critic. For the first time in 35 years of acting, Brennan was described as corny and an acting trickster in TV's "The Real McCoys," wherein, as seen above, he plays "Grandpa" always trying to outwit Kathy Nolan, who plays his daughter-in-law.

Rhonda Fleming Says Bring Glamour Girls Back To Films

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP) —Glamorous Rhonda Fleming has a remedy for the ailing motion picture business. "Bring back the glamour girls," she says.

"A four-alarm glamour girl hasn't hit the screen since Jayne Mansfield made the big splash a couple of years ago," Rhonda said, between takes of a new movie.

"Right now there's a trend to dramatic actresses who aren't as spectacularly beautiful as the glamour variety. Eventually it balances out when sex raises its beautiful head—as in the case of Marilyn Monroe.

Out of a Slump

"She brought the film industry out of a terrible slump. So did Betty Grable and Lana Turner. Those girls let the public know that not all females are 'just like the girl next door.'"

"I have no idea who the next sexy star will be. But I'll bet she's a well-rounded blonde who hasn't been seen too often on television. And she will have to appeal to both men and women. Marilyn did."

The auburn-haired beauty believes women rule the box office, and that husbands trail along at their wives' suggestion.

To lure feminine customers back into movie houses the studios are turning to love stories and feminine - appeal pictures. "Sayonara" is a good example.

Heroines, Not Heroes

"Action pictures and Westerns have almost ruined things for actresses," she said. "We're gradually getting back to romantic films with heroines playing the top roles instead of heroes."

She ticked off examples—"The Nun's Story," "Peyton Place," "The Three Faces of Eve," "Marjorie Morningstar," "Auntie Mame" and "The Barbara Graham Story."

Lefors Lions Hold Meeting

(Special to The News)

After the meeting was called to order by W. R. Combs, president, the flag salute was led by Bob Bright and the invocation was led by J. R. Sparkman.

For a short time the group indulged in group singing.

Four new speed zone signs have been received it was reported to be used in controlling the speed in the school zones. One of the signs is to be placed at the hilltop station, another near the railroad tracks and two nearer the school. A 20 mph speed limit is to be enforced between the signs.

Negotiations are to be made with Charlie Clendennon, constable, to see that the signs are taken up and placed out at the correct time of day, which will be before and after school hours and the lunch hour.

A motion was passed to send Miss Shiela Cable, club sweetheart, to the Lions Club Convenselected on Friday the 25th of April 24, 25, and 26. A queen will be selected on Fridyy the 25th of April. Miss Cable will be a candidate in the queen contest.

The Chemise Hairdo For Chemise Dress

BY GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Around Manhattan:

Now we have the chemise hairdo to go with the chemise dress.

The chemise cut is the brainchild of stylist Kenneth of Lilly Dache who said it's "a little on the wild side." Actually the hair is cut short, four and one-half to five inches, all over the head and arranged to look shaggy, rather than curled.

The young stylist shows the chemise a variety of ways, including with bandeau or small, band-like hats. The bandeau can be used to push the hair back from the forehead, or wispy curls can be pulled forward over the band for a softer "do."

Well, the dawn of the space age promises some changes in our beauty routines. Carol Douglas, consultant for a cosmetics manufacturer, gazed into a crystal ball and produced some forecasts for beauty in orbit.

"Perhaps by swallowing a pill, Miss Space Age will go redhead," she said. "Her comb will then pat her curly hair into place electronically and without static. For space lighting, a missile traveler may find red-toned lipstick and rouge unflattering, so she'll switch to navy blue, over a powder blue foundation.

"Facial lotions, perfumes and shampoos will be concentrated for eye-dropper use and be packaged in tiny vials. Dieting will be forgotten, with the advent of specialo atmospheric reducing capsules."

Ike, Macmillan Map Strategy For Forthcoming Summit Meet

LONDON (UP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will map point-by-point strategy for a proposed summit conference when they meet in Washington in June, British sources said tdoay.

The joint announcement that Macmillan will visit the U.S. capital three months from now was taken here as an indication that the proposed meeting of leaders of East and West will not be held until September at earliest.

Sources close to the British government predicted that arrangements for the summit meeting will proceed in three steps:

—A conference of foreign ministers in Geneva in late April and early May to work out agenda for the top-level meeting and decide whether it shall be held—perhaps in Washington.

—The Eisenhower - Macmillan meeting.

—Consultations through July and August to set the state for a meeting in September.

Macmillan and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd are known to be more anxious than U.S. leaders to confer with Russia's leaders in a meeting which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has warned might turn out to be a "fraud."

The announcement of the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting, was taken as an indication that the U.S. attitude is softening.

Macmillan ostensibly is going to the United States for the primary purpose of receiving an honorary degree on June 8, from DePauw University, where his maternal grandfather studied medicine.

US Charged With Giving Rebs Arms

SINGAPORE (UP)—Indonesian Premier Djuanda charged formally today that "American - made" arms were airdropped to rebels in Pakanbaru just before loyal paratroops attacked the central Indonesian town Wednesday.

Djuanda told Indonesian newsmen in Jakarta he could not confirm local press reports that the plane which dropped bazookas, machine guns and small arms to the insurgents bore Australian air force markings.

Australian officials in Jakarta said the report is "completely untrue."

There was no indication as to the source of the arms. Officials in Jakarta refused to say whether Indonesia intends to protest to the United States.

Previous Jakarta statements had announced the capture of Pakanbaru. Indonesian army headquarters said today loyal troops also are in control of Dumai, terminal on Sumatra's east coast for the Caltex acific Oil Co.

The army announcement said Dumal was seized Wednesday, at about the same time that Pakanbaru fell to the attackers.

Radio Moscow hailed the Jakarta government today for its "resolute action" against the rebels, saying that its resistance was a blow to "reactionary circles."

No End Seen For Kohler Strike Probe

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said today the Kohler strike investigation, now in its third week, may ramble on for another month.

He based his prediction on the committee's present rate of progress—about one witness a day—and its still-bulging witness list of about 40 names.

Kennedy appeared more optimistic about ending the hearing than did the committee's slow-burning chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). He expressed fear that it would last until "the day after next year."

Even the day after next year may not be long enough if Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has his way. Goldwater said he wants to prove his charges about union violence "if we have to drag every man in Wisconsin down here to do it."

McClellan voiced his doleful forecast after the committee spent the entire day quizzing Donald Rand, a United Auto Workers official from Detroit who first took the witness chair Wednesday.

This left today's schedule pretty much the same as the one announced for Thursday. The witnesses called include Rudolph Ploetz, former mayor of Sheboygan, Wis.; Walter Wagner, former police chief, and the present chief, Steem Heinke.

They faced quizzing about the so-called "clay boat incident" in which surging throngs prevented the Kohler Co. from unloading a cargo at the Sheboygan docks.

Kennedy said the testimony of police witnesses would tend to pin the responsibility for the near riot on Rand, who swore that was not the case.

Kennedy, McClellan, Goldwater and other committee members refused to accept the UAW official's explanation that he went down to the docks out of curiosity "to see what was going on."

"You were in charge, you were giving directions" to the strikers assembled there, McClellan told Rand. Kennedy called it "peculiar" that "whenever there was some disturbance, Don Rand was there."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), complained that Rand was "out-Jimmying Jimmy" Hoffa, the Teamsters Union president whose faulty memory troubled the committee at an earlier hearing.

"This morning I'm carried back to Jimmy Hoffa," commented Sen. Carl E. Curtis (R-Neb.). "Repeatedly and repeatedly saying 'I can't remember'."

The agreement over Rand, however, did not prevent another dust-up among the committee members—this one over what constituted proper evidence.

McClellan, who has been fuming for days over the slow progress of the hearing, ruled Mundt out of order when he started to read into the record a letter from a Sheboygan minister criticizing UAW Secretary - Treasurer Emil Mazey. But Mundt read it anyway.

In the letter, the Rev. T. Parry Jones replied to a telegram Mazey had sent apologizing for his testimony questioning the integrity of Sheboygan clergymen. Jones said the apology was "too late to be of consequence."

Guns Signal Birth Of Boy To Grace

MONTE CARLO (UP) — The boom of ancient saluting cannon here today signaled the birth of a boy to Princess Grace—an heir to the throne of tiny Monaco.

The cannon boomed 101 times, and with the 22nd "shot" a surge of excitement raced across this resort principality. If Grace's second child had been a girl like her first, only 21 guns would have fired.

The 8-pound, 8-ounce prince was delivered at 10:50 a.m. by a team headed by Paris gynecologist Emile Hervet — the same doctor who officiated at the birth 15 months ago of Princess Caroline.

The new baby, Prince Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre, will take royal precedence over his older sister because of his sex. He will be called Prince Albert.

Hervet was assisted today by two other doctors—baby specialist Paul Gandelon and surgeon Maurice Donat—and a nurse, Suzanne Leclerc.

The first word of the prince's sex came unofficially from an unidentified girl who opened a ground-floor window at the place and shouted to newsmen:

"It's a boy!"

The news was confirmed officially a few minutes later.

The birth of an heir to Prince Rainier will continue the rule in Monaco of the Grimaldi family, which has provided its princes almost continuously since 1297.

The tiny prince weighed four ounces more than his sister at birth and measured 20½ inches long. He has light blue eyes and chestnut brown hair.

Caroline, born a redhead, is now a blonde.

All Monaco was ablaze today with Monacan flags, in honor of Rainier and Albert, and U.S. flags for Grace — the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Hollywood.

Saturday will be a holiday for school children, government workers and Monacan employes of the Monte Carlo casino.

a bubble of vaporized rock about 110 feet in diameter and about 55 feet in radius. The skin of the bubble, he said, was molten rock about four or five inches thick.

In the molton rock was all of the radioactivity of the bomb, he said. When the heat in the bubble cooled to the point where the pressure of the gas inside would no longer support the weight of the mountain, the bubble collapsed. The bomb crushed 400,000 tons of rock, Libby said.

He said the blast proved that bombs can be fired so that radioactivity does not come out, and that they can crush an enormous quantity of rock. He emphasized that it took four months to find the fallout from the bomb.

Libby generally backed Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Dr. Edward Teller, "father" of the H-bomb, in their opposition to a proposed two-year ban on nuclear tests as a first step toward disarmament.

Libby said a test limitation might be more in order than a test ban. He said the United States would be far behind its present position on atomic weapons if it had stopped testing years ago.

Lefors Lions Hold Meeting

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — The Lefors Lions Club met Monday night, March 10, in the civic center for the regular meeting.

After the meeting was called to order by W. R. Combs, president, the flag salute was led by Bob Bright and the invocation was led by J. R. Sparkman.

For a short time the group indulged in group singing.

It was reported that applications are now being taken by Lions for children to send to the crippled children's camp in Kerrville to be held during the months of June, July and August.

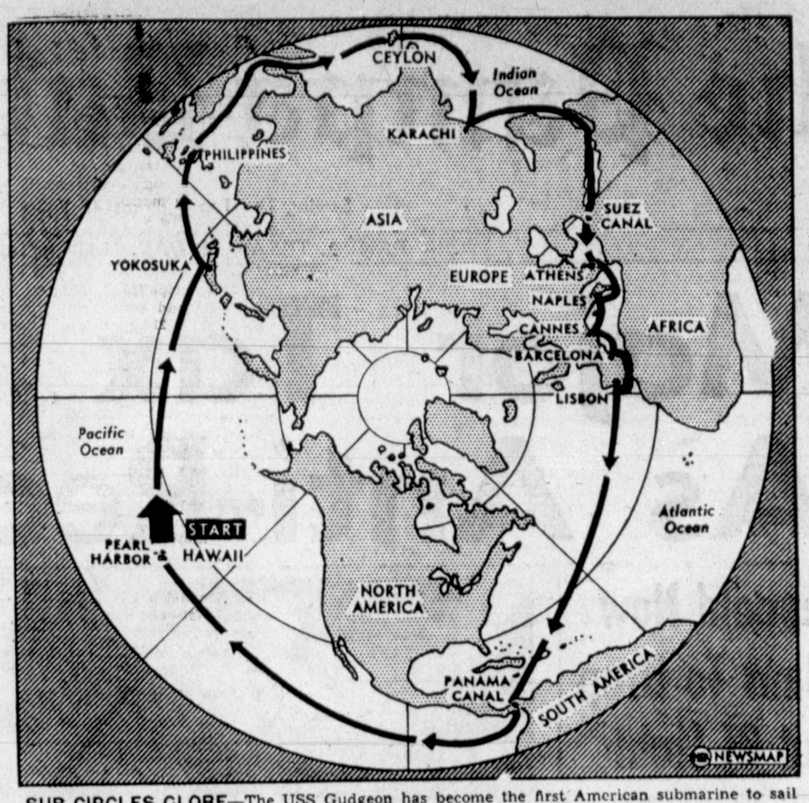

It was resolved by the group to dispense with any Lions club meeting when it conflicts with a revival held by any of the churches and instead have the regular meeting at noon in case such a conflict occurs.

Four new speed zone signs have been received it was reported to be used in controlling the speed in the school zones. One of the signs is to be placed at the hilltop station, another near the railroad tracks and two nearer the school. A 20 mph speed limit is to be enforced between the signs.

Negotiations are to be made with Charlie Clendennon, constable, to see that the signs are taken up and placed out at the correct time of day, which will be before and after school hours and the lunch hour.

A motion was passed to send Miss Shiela Cable, club sweetheart, to the Lions Club Convenselected on Friday the 25th of April 24, 25, and 26. A queen will be selected on Fridyy the 25th of April. Miss Cable will be a candidate in the queen contest.

Lions present for the meeting were Boyd Beck, Bob Bright, Fred Blackwell, Arlie Carpenter, W. R. Combs, Walter Elliott, Jess Graves, David Robinson, J. R. Sparkman, D. T. Pfeil, W. C. Breining, R. M. Watson, W. D. McBee, Paul Blankenburg, and Sweetheart Shiela Cable.

SUB CIRCLES GLOBE—The USS Gudgeon has become the first American submarine to sail around the world—and it sailed for 80 days, naturally. The sub, its eight officers and 75 enlisted men visited more ports (see Newsmap) than most bluejackets dream of visiting in their entire service careers. The Gudgeon left its home base at Pearl Harbor on July 8 and returned 150 days later. However, the sub's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Thomas Bryce of Wichita Falls, Texas, pointed out that its actual sailing time between ports was only 80 days. On returning to Pearl Harbor the Gudgeon was greeted by a Navy band, which played "Around the World in 80 days," naturally.

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP) —Glamorous Rhonda Fleming has a remedy for the ailing motion picture business. "Bring back the glamour girls," she says.

"A four-alarm glamour girl hasn't hit the screen since Jayne Mansfield made the big splash a couple of years ago," Rhonda said, between takes of a new movie.

"Right now there's a trend to dramatic actresses who aren't as spectacularly beautiful as the glamour variety. Eventually it balances out when sex raises its beautiful head—as in the case of Marilyn Monroe.

Out of a Slump

"She brought the film industry out of a terrible slump. So did Betty Grable and Lana Turner. Those girls let the public know that not all females are 'just like the girl next door.'"

"I have no idea who the next sexy star will be. But I'll bet she's a well-rounded blonde who hasn't been seen too often on television. And she will have to appeal to both men and women. Marilyn did."

The auburn-haired beauty believes women rule the box office, and that husbands trail along at their wives' suggestion.

To lure feminine customers back into movie houses the studios are turning to love stories and feminine - appeal pictures. "Sayonara" is a good example.

Heroines, Not Heroes

"Action pictures and Westerns have almost ruined things for actresses," she said. "We're gradually getting back to romantic films with heroines playing the top roles instead of heroes."

She ticked off examples—"The Nun's Story," "Peyton Place," "The Three Faces of Eve," "Marjorie Morningstar," "Auntie Mame" and "The Barbara Graham Story."

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco cut its discount rate to member banks to 2½ per cent from the 3 per cent it has maintained since November. The San Francisco bank was the only Federal Reserve Bank that did not cut its rate from 3 to 2 per cent in January. San Francisco becomes the sixth city to drop to the 2 per cent level.

Crude oil production last week shrank by 513,550 barrels to 6,327,735 barrels daily, reflecting reduction in March in the allowable production in many states, the American Petroleum Institute reported. Output was at the lowest level since the week of Dec. 3, 1954. Light fuel stocks continued their seasonal decline while gasoline stocks rose to new peaks.

The nation's newspapers in 1957 consumed a total of 6,394,000 tons of newsprint at a cost of $861,760,000, according to the Newsprint Information Committee. Approximately 3,894,000 tons or more than half the total was used for advertising space.

The Chemise Hairdo For Chemise Dress

BY GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Around Manhattan:

Now we have the chemise hairdo to go with the chemise dress.

The chemise cut is the brainchild of stylist Kenneth of Lilly Dache who said it's "a little on the wild side." Actually the hair is cut short, four and one-half to five inches, all over the head and arranged to look shaggy, rather than curled.

The young stylist shows the chemise a variety of ways, including with bandeau or small, band-like hats. The bandeau can be used to push the hair back from the forehead, or wispy curls can be pulled forward over the band for a softer "do."

Well, the dawn of the space age promises some changes in our beauty routines. Carol Douglas, consultant for a cosmetics manufacturer, gazed into a crystal ball and produced some forecasts for beauty in orbit.

"Perhaps by swallowing a pill, Miss Space Age will go redhead," she said. "Her comb will then pat her curly hair into place electronically and without static. For space lighting, a missile traveler may find red-toned lipstick and rouge unflattering, so she'll switch to navy blue, over a powder blue foundation.

"Facial lotions, perfumes and shampoos will be concentrated for eye-dropper use and be packaged in tiny vials. Dieting will be forgotten, with the advent of specialo, atmospheric reducing capsules."

Ike, Macmillan Map Strategy For Forthcoming Summit Meet

LONDON (UP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will map point-by-point strategy for a proposed summit conference when they meet in Washington in June, British sources said tdoay.

The joint announcement that Macmillan will visit the U.S. capital three months from now was taken here as an indication that the proposed meeting of leaders of East and West will not be held until September at earliest.

Sources close to the British government predicted that arrangements for the summit meeting will proceed in three steps:

—A conference of foreign ministers in Geneva in late April and early May to work out agenda for the top-level meeting and decide whether it shall be held—perhaps in Washington.

—The Eisenhower - Macmillan meeting.

—Consultations through July and August to set the state for a meeting in September.

Macmillan and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd are known to be more anxious than U.S. leaders to confer with Russia's leaders in a meeting which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has warned might turn out to be a "fraud."

The announcement of the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting, was taken as an indication that the U.S. attitude is softening.

Guns Signal Birth Of Boy To Grace

MONTE CARLO (UP) — The boom of ancient saluting cannon here today signaled the birth of a boy to Princess Grace—an heir to the throne of tiny Monaco.

The cannon boomed 101 times, and with the 22nd "shot" a surge of excitement raced across this resort principality. If Grace's second child had been a girl like her first, only 21 guns would have fired.

The 8-pound, 8-ounce prince was delivered at 10:50 a.m. by a team headed by Paris gynecologist Emile Hervet — the same doctor who officiated at the birth 15 months ago of Princess Caroline.

The new baby, Prince Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre, will take royal precedence over his older sister because of his sex. He will be called Prince Albert.

Hervet was assisted today by two other doctors—baby specialist Paul Gandelon and surgeon Maurice Donat—and a nurse, Suzanne Leclerc.

The first word of the prince's sex came unofficially from an unidentified girl who opened a ground-floor window at the place and shouted to newsmen:

"It's a boy!"

The news was confirmed officially a few minutes later.

The birth of an heir to Prince Rainier will continue the rule in Monaco of the Grimaldi family, which has provided its princes almost continuously since 1297.

The tiny prince weighed four ounces more than his sister at birth and measured 20½ inches long. He has light blue eyes and chestnut brown hair.

Caroline, born a redhead, is now a blonde.

All Monaco was ablaze today with Monacan flags, in honor of Rainier and Albert, and U.S. flags for Grace — the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Hollywood.

Saturday will be a holiday for school children, government workers and Monacan employes of the Monte Carlo casino.

"I told Herbie if he keeps on dating Margie more than once a week, I'm going to quit going steady with him!"

No End Seen For Kohler Strike Probe

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said today the Kohler strike investigation, now in its third week, may ramble on for another month.

He based his prediction on the committee's present rate of progress—about one witness a day—and its still-bulging witness list of about 40 names.

Kennedy appeared more optimistic about ending the hearing than did the committee's slow-burning chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). He expressed fear that it would last until "the day after next year."

Even the day after next year may not be long enough if Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has his way. Goldwater said he wants to prove his charges about union violence "if we have to drag every man in Wisconsin down here to do it."

McClellan voiced his doleful forecast after the committee spent the entire day quizzing Donald Rand, a United Auto Workers official from Detroit who first took the witness chair Wednesday.

This left today's schedule pretty much the same as the one announced for Thursday. The witnesses called include Rudolph Ploetz, former mayor of Sheboygan, Wis.; Walter Wagner, former police chief, and the present chief, Steem Heinke.

They faced quizzing about the so-called "clay boat incident" in which surging throngs prevented the Kohler Co. from unloading a cargo at the Sheboygan docks.

Kennedy said the testimony of police witnesses would tend to pin the responsibility for the near riot on Rand, who swore that was not the case.

Kennedy, McClellan, Goldwater and other committee members refused to accept the UAW official's explanation that he went down to the docks out of curiosity "to see what was going on."

"You were in charge, you were giving directions" to the strikers assembled there, McClellan told Rand. Kennedy called it "peculiar" that "whenever there was some disturbance, Don Rand was there."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), complained that Rand was "out-Jimmying Jimmy" Hoffa, the Teamsters Union president whose faulty memory troubled the committee at an earlier hearing.

"This morning I'm carried back to Jimmy Hoffa," commented Sen. Carl E. Curtis (R-Neb.). "Repeatedly and repeatedly saying 'I can't remember'."

The agreement over Rand, however, did not prevent another dust-up among the committee members—this one over what constituted proper evidence.

McClellan, who has been fuming for days over the slow progress of the hearing, ruled Mundt out of order when he started to read into the record a letter from a Sheboygan minister criticizing UAW Secretary - Treasurer Emil Mazey. But Mundt read it anyway.

In the letter, the Rev. T. Parry Jones replied to a telegram Mazey had sent apologizing for his testimony questioning the integrity of Sheboygan clergymen. Jones said the apology was "too late to be of consequence."

a bubble of vaporized rock about 110 feet in diameter and about 55 feet in radius. The skin of the bubble, he said, was molten rock about four or five inches thick.

In the molton rock was all of the radioactivity of the bomb, he said. When the heat in the bubble cooled to the point where the pressure of the gas inside would no longer support the weight of the mountain, the bubble collapsed. The bomb crushed 400,000 tons of rock, Libby said.

He said the blast proved that bombs can be fired so that radioactivity does not come out, and that they can crush an enormous quantity of rock. He emphasized that it took four months to find the fallout from the bomb.

Libby generally backed Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Dr. Edward Teller, "father" of the H-bomb, in their opposition to a proposed two-year ban on nuclear tests as a first step toward disarmament.

Libby said a test limitation might be more in order than a test ban. He said the United States would be far behind its present position on atomic weapons if it had stopped testing years ago.

Nixon And Wife To Visit In South America

WASHINGTON (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife Pat will make a two-week good will visit to South America beginning April 27.

Nixon will represent President Eisenhower at the May 1 inauguration of Argentine President-elect Arturo Frondizi in Buenos Aires.

Nixon's four-nation itinerary will be announced later, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said. The vice president's most likely stops would be Uruguay, Peru, and Venezuela. He will return home about May 10.

Diplomatic observers interpreted Nixon's trip as an administration answer to Democratic charges that top U.S. policy makers are neglecting this country's Latin American neighbors.

Churchill On Schools

Sometimes it takes a shock from an outsider to awaken people as to their own folly. Perhaps some American business and professional men were shocked recently by the frank statements of Randolph Churchill, anent public "education."

Mr. Churchill used some rather intemperate language in describing what passes for education in the United States. The outspoken son of the former British prime minister failed to see why American doctors are so concerned about socialized medicine while accepting "socialized education without a murmur."

Seldom has any public speaker showed so clearly that he saw government schools in their true socialistic light. He also clearly showed the difference between the British and American views toward state education.

"We in England have socialized education, too," the speaker told several hundred Orange County, California people. "But no self-respecting parent of modest means would allow his children to go to state schools. The state cannot educate anyone. Our people will make great sacrifices to see their children get a decent education. They will do without a car and will walk. Why, they will even do without television."

That no doubt seems like sacrilege to those who worship the great god of public schools with its high priests of the National Education Association. But it was truth Mr. Churchill was telling the people.

It was interesting that this man from England saw the United Nations clearly as "an expensive and un-utile (useless) organization." We couldn't add to his description.

It is unfortunate that more Americans do not see the truth in Mr. Churchill's statement that "the state cannot educate anyone." As we often have repeated, a school system based on compulsory support can only teach children that the state comes before God or natural law and that they must obey man's will expressed in civil law before God's will.

But there is hope for the world as long as the British people and a few Americans hold to the beliefs as expressed by Churchill. If there are more individuals who as Churchill said "will make great sacrifices to see their children get a decent education," even doing without an automobile and television, there will be some folks who will hold to the truths that the individual is the most important being under his God.

And, amidst all the current beliefs that the group is most important, it is highly desirable that a few individuals retain their beliefs in the individual

For only individuals can improve the world.

We were interested in a number of other remarks made by this British visitor. It is amazing, if Mr. Churchill is right, that very few people in England see the evils of socialized medicine, while they so clearly see the evil of socialized schools. It indicates the people of that nation are confused too, as are most of our people.

It was worth noting that Churchill thinks we are foolish to spend so much emphasis on Sputnik and attempt to "spend ourselves into bankruptcy in order to get there first with the most." Churchill believed the Strategic Air Command with its big bombers, and not that unworkable U.N. Organization, is maintaining peace in the world, if we can call it peace.

Some of his other expressions, while salty at times, were gems and worth repeating, such as:

"You can get enlightenment only by sitting down and thinking."

"It is only the brave who deserve to be free. As long as we are brave, far-sighted and prudent, we have nothing to fear. We need only to persevere in order to be free."

". . . The rise of the West German economy is splendid. There is nothing like defeat to make a people get up in the morning and work like hell. We should not envy other countries' being richer. If we want a better house we must go out and get it. Germany has the highest standard of living outside the United States. If we would work harder we could do it, too."

"Americans are funny people. You build fine roads and cars to go on them at 115 miles an hour. Then you put people in jail when they drive more than 55."

"I was brought up to believe your natural resources were responsible for the great progress made by Americans. Now I believe it is largely because you have 170 million people with a common market and no artificial tariff barriers. I think Europe's chance to survive lies in uniting its 350 million people without tariff, language and immigration barriers."

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Perils Of Bomb Testing

I want to quote and comment from a new magazine called "Growing Edge."

Briefly, "Growing Edge" is a magazine that attempts to keep up with the ever-increasing circle of knowledge. The introduction says:

" 'Growing' is a term taken from modern biology. It is that rim of the living unity, leaf or skin where the developing or repairing process goes on. It is a magic frontier where, under our very eyes, the unseen weaver draws on the invisible distaff and produces growing and patterned form.

"That is what GROWING EDGE will try to do with our constantly expanding circle of knowledge, the incessant inflow of new information. It will aim at the double activity seen to be necessary. It will attempt to indicate the growth of our circle of knowledge and suggest how the various sectors, as they move out, affect and draw out their adjacent sectors."

Under the "Statement of Aims and Objectives," the magazine points out how our knowledge has been expanding. It says:

"For the last century its expansion has been increasingly exciting, thrilling, awe-inspiring. For the last decade it has become terrifying. The typhoon powers we have let loose have torn us from our moorings for 'use and wont', of naturally limited aggression and self-terminating violence."

Strontium 90

In explaining the ill effects of Strontium 90, the author writes:

"By now we all ought to know about Strontium 90. Last December Professor Asimov, a biochemist of Boston University, wrote for the public the most lucid summary yet issued on this grotesque peril. Strontium 90 was unknown to the public till late in the fall of 1956. Adlai Stevenson was persuaded to mention it as a concern about which the people should know and decide as to what should be done. But Strontium 90 was a by-product created by the American people when they imagined that their exclusively possessed atom bomb would shorten World War II and so save lives.

"Now we have learned that we were loading the high heavens (the stratosphere) with what till then, was an unimaginable horror. For Strontium 90 is stored in the upper atmosphere (where we hoisted it, worse than any sword of Damocles, over our heads) from whence it descends to settle on the earth.

"Although it is a deadly poison, chemically Strontium 90 is very like calcium. Plants absorb it like calcium, cows eat it as calcium to enrich their milk which we — especially children — drink to build our calcium-made bones. And so what we stored blindly in the sky comes home as we (just as blindly) store it in the very marrow of our bones.

"And this fantastic 'house-that-Jack-built' sequence, this dreadful modern proof that magic curses come home to roost in the core of the man who sends them out, is a story that goes o For if we continue to set off bombs, however lofty our motive, month by month Nature, the ruthless accountant, will see to it that our children's innocent need of dairy products will make us absorb and store Strontium 90 for the next 50 or 60 years.

Leukemia Cancer

"And by what seems a demonic justice we are so made that we store it deep in the marrow of our bones. This insures two things. Lodged there it is almost impossible for that wonderful wise friend, our body, to do anything to get rid of it. Our body must have calcium for our bones. Strontium 90, though a deadly Trojan Horse disguising its terrible content, appears to the body's guards to be calcium. And once lodged, Strontium 90 kills the body's main guards, the essential blood cells, and we die lingeringly, hopelessly. For there is no cure for leukemia, cancer of the blood cells.

"But we tend to say this is old news! We have made up our minds that here is a risk we should take. It only means an increase in leukemia, a disease long with us, never very common and practically painless — a far better fate than to be blasted to death by an all-out bombing or put under socialist tyranny. GROWING EDGE was to tell us new things, not raise old issues, settled, by the men we chose to rule us, more than a year ago.

"Very well. But as the Hebrew prophets used to say when one warning was dismissed, 'The end is not yet.' Last November almost exactly twelve months after the American people decided that bomb testing should continue (the price was not too high) Nature spoke for a second time on this very subject. The U.S. Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory at San Francisco picked up the message.

"And so now we find we have turned another element against us — Manganese 54. Large quantities of this highly radio-active stuff are produced, we are now told, at every bomb explosion Gamma Rays are given off. They are particularly deadly to our body cells.

"Plotinus, the master philosopher, warned long ago, 'Nature speaks twice: then she strikes." And here again is present the terrible irony that hangs about our Strontium 90 blasphemy against life. For, as we saw, Strontium 90, seeming like calcium, steals past the defenses of our body which is so much wiser and kinder than we who, possessed with the pride of Lucifer, are tempting Lucifer's doom."

Robert S. Allen Reports

Solons Probe Policy Toward Indonesia

WASHINGTON — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is looking into a strange contradiction in State Department policy toward strife-rent Indonesia.

Reason for this backstage inquiry is the preplexing conflict between Secretary Dulles' critical comments about the embattled Sukarno regime, and what other State Department officials are actually doing.

Shortly before flying to the SEATO conference in Honolulu, Dulles told a private meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee that "Sukarno's so-called guided democracy theory is a nice-sounding name for what I fear will end up as Communist despotism . . . The U.S. would be happy to see non-Communist elements in Indonesia, who are really in the majority there, exert greater influence than has been the case so far."

Yet despite this clearly evident disapproval of Sukarno, the Senate Committee has been authoritatively informed of the following:

A $15,000,000 loan was offered Sukarno's "neutralist" government by the International Cooperation Administration. While this money has not been released, the proffer is still standing. ICA is now a State Department agency, and all sizable foreign aid grants require the approval of C. Douglas Dillon, Deputy Under-secretary for Economic Affairs.

A $22,000,000 "line of credit" is still available to Indonesia with the Export-Import Bank, which works closely with the State Department. This money is what is left of a $100,000,000 loan granted by the Bank in 1951. Planes now being used against Sukarno's anti-Communist foes were bought with these funds.

A new $40,000,000 loan is being sought from the Export-Import Bank. According to the Indonesian application, this money would be used for aircraft and fertilizer plants.

A detailed report on all Indonesian loans, grants and pending applications for such aid is being demanded of the State Department by Senator Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Disarmament.

He called for this report with the backing of Senator Theodore Green (D., R.I.), head of the full Foreign Relations Committee.

OMINOUS WARNINGS — The Senate Committee is also questioning officials about a letter presented to Sukarno by Ambassador Howard Jones when he submitted his diplomatic credentials.

State Department authorities flatly deny this letter by President Eisenhower differs from Secretary Dulles' critical comments about Sukarno. However, the Senate Committee has been told that there is a variance between what the President wrote and what Dulles subsequently told the House Foreign Affairs Committee at the closed-door meeting.

Also in the Committee's hands is disturbing information regarding Indonesia from the Central Intelligence Agency and the Navy.

Both forcefully warn there is direst danger of the Communists seizing control of Indonesia unless the rebelling forces are aided, and if the Reds do gain domination the SEATO alliance will be gravely imperiled.

Admiral Wallace Beakley, Seventh Fleet commander, has sent numerous disquieting reports to Washington about the ominous Indonesian situation.

Twice the Navy has proposed making "show of strength" visits to Indonesian islands by Seventh Fleet warships. In both instances, Secretary Dulles intervened to block that.

The Navy first sought to make such "demonstration" visits while Ambassador John Allison was in Jakarta. He was recently shifted to Czechoslovakia. The Navy again tried to do that several weeks ago. Both rejections were on the ground of possible explosive incidents.

EAGER VISITOR — Argentina's president-elect Arturo Frondizi wants to come to Washington before he takes office on May 1. In his feelers for an invitation, ronhis feelers for an invitation, Frondizi is indicating he is ready to consider letting U.S. oil companies do business in Argentina in return for big loans . . . A mysteriously destroyed report on last year's farm population is the latest cause of friction between Agriculture Secretary Benson and congressional critics. Representative L. H. Fountain (D., N.C.), head of a Government Operations subcommittee, is charging that 2,500 copies of this Agriculture report were secretly burned because it showed steadily declining income was a major cause for thousands of farmers quitting in 1957. Benson contends this document was "merely a working paper" and that a revised study is underway. Fountain has written the embattled Agriculture chief a caustic letter demanding a full explanation . . . More than 60,000 federal civil service employes retired in 1957 — an all-time high. Applications for such retirements are now averaging 300 a day. This is an increase of more than 50 a day over January. According to latest Civil Service Commission figures, there are now 295,300 retirees on the rolls, receiving $43,500,000 a month in pensions. In addition, another 95,000 "survivors" are being paid $5,300,000 monthly; an average of $54 each.

BID FOR A SMILE

"Uncle Joe" Cannon was a great lover of green corn. One day he took one of his Illinois farmer constituents to a dinner with him in Washington. Cannon made his dinner on green corn, eating seven ears. The farmer asked him how much board cost at the Willard Hotel.

Cannon —Six dollars a day.

Farmer — Well, Joe, don't you think it would be cheaper for you to board at a livery stable.

Hankerings

Mac Would Like To 'Spank' Decorator

If I were told that I could whack any woman in the United States I wanted to with a stout paddle I'd say, "Okay, bring on Dorothy Draper."

Miss Draper is the internationally known interior decorator who writes books and articles on the subject, and whose every word is accepted as gospel truth by my wife.

If D.D. said the average living room would be enhanced by placing a live bantom rooster on the mantelpiece, then Mary would have one up there before dark. Let D.D. suggest that two rowboats would make attractive twin beds, and our bedroom would look like a boat yard in no time and I'd be using a life preserver for a pillow.

I wouldn't object to this Svengali - Trilby relationship between Miss Draper and Mary if it didn't affect me. If the two of them could go off in a room by themselves, and do and re-do furniture without dragging me into the act, you'd never hear a complaint from me.

But a wife can't switch a house around by herself. She has to have a man to help her, and who is the first man her eyes light on? Her husband.

Right now, thanks to some fool notion planted in Mary's head by Miss Draper, we are refinishing a dining room table and eight chairs.

Let me give all husbands a tip — to refinish furniture is to finish yourselves. After a week of refinishing work on our table and chairs, I'd be perfectly happy to have my dinner served in a paper bag and eat it sitting on an upended umbrella.

All the articles about refinishing furniture — and I had to read them to know how to start the job — make it sound like such a cozy, fun job for a husband and wife team. Just sweet hours to Togetherness. There's Togetherness, all right, but it's Togetherness on the floor of a cold garage, on your hands and knees, with both partners, smeared with remover, smelling like a turpentine still, and aching like 11 and 172 pounds of sore thumbs, respectively.

Yes sir, if it's Togetherness a couple wants, refinishing a mahogany table that weighs a ton, and chairs with ten billion crevices in them, will give it to them!

They'll snarl together. They'll snap at one another together. They'll accuse the other of loafing together. They'll recall al the other's faults together, they'll kick the accursed tabe together, they'll spill paint and remover together, they'll kneel and sit down in some together, and finally go to sleep mad together. I wouldn't be surprised if some husband and wife refinishing teams wind up in court together!

The only good thing I can see in refinishing furniture is that it gives a man a goal in life. He will have something to do until he dies. If we continue to make the same progress on the table that we have made so far, I figure we'll have it ready for use again for Thanksgiving of 1980, 1979, maybe, but not a day sooner.

Even then we'll have to stand up to eat, because the chairs won't be ready then.

Oh, wouldn't I like to be walking along Fifth Avenue carrying a canoe paddle and run across Miss Draper tying her shoe.

We'd have the first satellite to the moon, I'll guarantee you that!

The American Way

RIDICULOUS AND UNFAIR
(By George Peck)

Amid a host of inanities that stem from the nation's capital one of the most ridiculous is the one that limits an individual receiving Social Security pensions to earning not more than $1200 per year. "Ridiculous" is undoubtedly too mild a word to describe this unfair ruling against a vast segment of our senior citizens.

It is estimated that approximately 7,500,000 Americans who have passed the 65 year mark are enjoying (?) Social Security pensions. About one-sixth or 1,250,000 of these men and women, even though they have passed the outmoded retirement age of 65 have refused to quit work. They continue to produce for the general weal are of the communities in which they live and for the nation as a whole For this industry on their part they are penalized if they earn over $1200 per year.

Now it seems to this columnist that this matter of Social Security pensions resolves itself down to one of two things: Either the recipient of the pension is entitled to receive it or he or she has no right to it. If the former applies, then what business is it of Uncle Sam's how much the pensioner earns? If the latter is the case, then what business has Uncle Sam to pay the pension?

Fundamentally, the basic idea of "Old Age and Survivors Insurance" (Social Security) is wrong. It is compulsory insurance which makes it contrary to the American scheme of things. One of these days it is to be hoped that the whole scheme will be junked, but until that happy day arrives we've got to endure it. But, in the meantime, let's make the best of a bad bargain. Let's give our senior citizens a break—let them have their Social Security pensions with no strings attached.

Just contrast this Social Security treatment of its pensioners with that accorded by a private enterprise company. When the private company turns the employee out to pasture on pension, that employee if able, may earn a million dollars per year, without the slightest restriction or curtailment of his company pension. In the case of the government insurance (Social Security) the worker is forced along with his employer to purchase it while in most cases the pension plan into which he enters with a private concern is purely voluntary on his part.

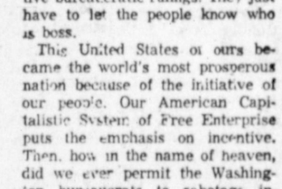

Of course this absurd limitation of $1200 per year earnings on the Social Security pensioner, is just another example of what happens whenever government inthrusts or takes over a project that belongs in the realm of private endeavor. Governments have never been able to refrain from restrictive bureaucratic rulings. They just have to let the people know who is boss.

This United States of ours became the world's most prosperous nation because of the initiative of our people. Our American Capitalistic System of Free Enterprise puts the emphasis on incentive. Then, how in the name of heaven, did we ever permit the Washington bureaucrats to sabotage incentive for our elder citizens? And how much longer are we going to put up with such nonsense?

In the majority of cases, the Social Security pensions fall far short of meeting the subsistent needs of the pensioner. And in many more cases, those pensions plus $1200 earnings per year still are inadequate to permit the pensioner to live through the declining years in comfort.

Only a few crack pots have a kind word to say about this $1200 per year limitation. This columnist has heard no rational person speak favorably about it. The vast majority of the American people are "agin" it—and are quite vocal in denouncing it. Unfortunately most of the complaints are made in the wrong quarters. This volume of protest should be channeled to where it can accomplish something—to Washington.

Why not put down this newspaper, reach for paper, envelope and pen, and write your Congressman that this unfair restriction on Social Security pensioners must be repealed—but quickly? If you are not yet 65 years of age, don't let that deter you from taking that action—you'll be reaching that age one of these fine days, and it'll be a much finer day for you if there are no strings on your Social Security pension.

Igor Gouzenko, the former Soviet code clerk who exposed the Communist spy ring in Canada, has this to say about Russia's lead in the missile race: "It indicates the work of well-organized Soviet spy rings in the United States missile - production system. These rings on the one hand are pumping out of the United States valuable scientific and other information and on the other hand are sabotaging and delaying the United States missile effort under all kinds of seemingly logical excuses."

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I found a phone number written on my husband's shirttail with a ballpoint pen so I called it up. The girl who answered the phone said she had met a fellow called EMIL (my husband) and when I told her he was my husband she refused to believe me. She said Emil showed her a card that had his name printed on it as the PRESIDENT of the WEEPING WIDOWERS CLUB. (A club for widowers). I am very much alive and we have three kids. How would you handle this?

NOT DEAD YET

Dear Not Dead: Tell EMIL to turn in his card -- and show him there's plenty of life left in you.

DEAR ABBY: I have read in your column many times where decent men are looking for a nice girl. I have a suggestion. Why not go to any one of our thousands of public schools? They are filled with intelligent, wholesome wives and mothers. School teachers are generally a pretty lonely lot and they are only human.

ONLY HUMAN

Dear Only: Your suggestion is a good one, but how does a gentleman get next to a school teacher? He can't go to school, knock on the door and say, "Pardon me, but I just passed up the principal — how about a little interest?"

DEAR ABBY: Regarding that letter written by "Dishwater Blonde" who says her gentleman friend prefers golden blonde hair and has offered to pay for the upkeep. Unless there are TWO men in the world who have made this offer, I think this girl and I are keeping company with one and the same guy. Are his initials A. H. L.?

DISHWATER BLONDE

Dear Dishwater: Not even close!

DEAR ABBY: I came to your wonderful country as a refugee some years ago. I am an American citizen but naturally I speak with an accent. Whenever I have a misunderstanding with a "real" American, they always say, "Why don't you go back to where you came from?" I could tell them but it would take much too long. Could you give me a good quick and intelligent answer for them in one sentence, please? Yours truly,

C. T.

Dear C. T. Why bother? Anyone who would make a remark like that is too ignorant to understand an intelligent answer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CORPORAL DAVE: There may be "nuthin' like a dame" — but be sure she's yours.

If you have a problem write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Baptists Needed In Alaska

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UP)—Southern Baptists are needed in northern Alaska, the Rev. Dick Miller, missionary to Alaska, said Wednesday at the final session of the Women's Missionary Union of Texas.

Baptists had largely by-passed Alaska until slightly more than a decade ago, the Rev. Miller told the 1,550 Baptist women at the convention.

"Now there are more than 30 Alaskan Baptist churches and missions with about 30 missionaries directing the work," he said.

Earlier, the women's organization re-elected Mrs. Clem Hardy of Waco to her fourth term as president and named Mrs. Henry Heck of Idalou as recording secretary. Mrs. Hardy is a former missionary to Brazil.

Seven new members-at-large of the state WMU executive board were elected: Mrs. H. D. Buce of Marshall, Mrs. E. P. Coe of Flint, Mrs. Ernest Pierce of Odem, Mrs. John Wilson of San Antonio, Mrs. Riley Fugitt of Spur, Mrs. W. C. Beasley of Bryan and Mrs. E. Hobbs Smith of Rochester.

Next year's convention will be held in Galveston, March 10-11.

Thinking It Over . . . For Lent

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

Prayers are not counted in numbers, nor are they measured in minutes. God does not judge man by his vocabulary nor by his elegance of speech. It is not the music of the voice nor the meter of the poetic words when we pray which impress our Father.

Our logic is doubtless lost on the Creator of all sequence and order. God cares not for the methods of our prayer nor for our dramatic abilities.

From the depths of our souls must come the sincerity with which we talk with God. We pray because of our human need, because of our faith and because we seek guidance to honestly do His will. We kneel before His throne because we are humble. We believe in His compassion, His love and His strength.

If there be eloquence in prayer it is found in simplicity, in confession and in hunger for the food which gives strength for life eternal.

Homecoming Is Scheduled At Harrah

The theme for the Fifth Annual Homecoming Sunday at Harrah Methodist Church will be "This Seemed More Important." Services will begin at 10:24 a.m., followed by lunch served in Fellowship Hall.

This service will honor pastors and ministerial students who have surrendered to the call to Christian service.

The services will be climaxed at 7 p.m. by the traditional youth service. Pat Gorman, senior Methodist Youth Fellowship resident, urged all young people and their parents to attend.

Pastors taking part in the morning service will be Rev. S. A. Wolf, Moran; Rev. Rex Newkirk, Sterling; Rev. James Futch, Forsan; and Rev. Floyd Sackett, Sweetwater. Paul Sackett, training for the ministry of music at McMurry College, and Johnny English, Pampa High School junior, will appear.

Rev. O. M. Butler pastors the Harrah Methodist Church, 639 S. Barnes.

'One Great Hour Of Sharing' Sunday

BY LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent

Even in a period of recession and growing unemployment Americans are far and away the richest people on earth.

This easily-forgotten fact will be stressed Sunday from thousands of pulpits across the nation.

By modern tradition, the third Sunday in March is observed in many different denominations as a day of special emphasis on America's Christian obligation to share its abundance with the hungry, the ragged, and the homeless of other lands.

One Great Hour

In the 35 Protestant bodies affiliated with the National Council of Churches, the observance is called "One Great Hour of Sharing." The name comes from the fact that offerings made during the Sunday morning worship hour help to underwrite the year-round overseas relief work of the Cooperative Protestant Agency, Church World Service. This year's goal is $10,428,000.

In Catholic churches, March 16 is Laetare Sunday, wind-up date for the annual Bishops' relief fund appeal. About $1,000,000 contributed by Catholic school children in Lenten offerings will be presented at the altars. It is hoped that adult donations will bring the total up to at least $5,000,000.

The Works Of Mercy

Many ministers will dwell in Sunday's sermons on the far-flung works of mercy that are made possible by these annual appeals. Because they have free access to surplus food stocks held in government warehouses, and because they also collect a great deal of old clothing from American homes, church - sponsored relief agencies are able to make each charity dollar stretch a long way. Last year, they distributed more than 1,500,000,000 pounds of food, blankets and medicines to needy families in 53 countries.

Any church member who is tempted to take undue pride in this "generosity" may find it helpful to examine a few other statistics, which are not so often cited.

The total sum which Protestants and Catholics are being asked to give represents an average per-member contribution of less than 20 cents a year.

Rev. Adcock's Topics Are Announced

"Christ Believes In You" will be the sermon topic discussed by Rev. Woodrow Adcock at the two morning services of The First Methodist Church Sunday at 8:30 and 10:55. The 8:30 service is broadcast over radio station KPDN.

Teh special music for the 8:30 service will be the Anthem "I Sing a Song of the Saints of God" by Hopkins sung by the Carol and Wesley Choirs. The Sanctuary Singers will sing Agnus Dei (St. Cecilia Mass) by Gounod for the 10:55 a.m. service.

Sunday night at 7:30 Rev. Adcock will use as his subject "The Bible And Christian Growth." The special music will be "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" by Peace sung by the Men's Chorus.

RECALLED—Ali Amini, Iran's ambassador to the U.S., has been recalled from Washington for making unauthorized proposals for the distribution of Mideastern oil profits. Amini was quoted as saying that Mideast oil income should be distributed for development purposes in proportion to the size of the countries concerned.

INTERCHURCH CENTER—America's first national headquarters building for many of its churches will be a reality by 1960. Architect's presentation above shows how the new 20-million-dollar Interchurch Center will look upon its completion. The block-long, 19-story building is being erected in upper Manhattan in New York, on a site made available by John D. Rockefeller Jr., next door to famed Riverside Church overlooking the Hudson River. The structure will house the National Council of Churches and a score of other church and interchurch agencies. The building will also have underground parking for 130 cars, and a pedestrian tunnel will provide access to Riverside Church.

Special Week Scheduled By First Baptist

Christian Science Services

The healing and saving power of faith, when it is advanced to spiritual undestanding, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" will include the following from James (2:14): "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works?"

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (323:13-16): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated. If 'faithful over a few things,' we shall be made rulers over many; but the one unused talent decays and is lost."

Card experts say that eight perfect shuffles by the rifle method will return the cards to their orginal order.

SEES U.S.S.R. AHEAD—Soviet Russia's hydro-electrical power production now approaches and will soon surpass that of the United States. Individual power plants in the U.S.S.R. are far bigger than the largest installations in America. Those statements and many more as surprising were made by Maj. Gen. Emerson C. Itschner, Chief of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in recent testimony before the Senate Interior and Public Works committee.

SOME THOUGHTS ON PRAYER

SCRIPT READING; I Pet. 3:10-12.

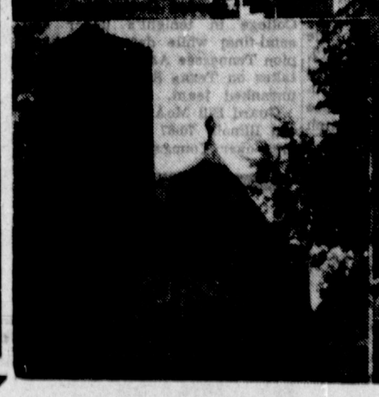

We should be humbly thankful for the preservation of the Holy Scriptures and it's teachings of an Eternal and Unchangeable God. Who is the creator of the universe and all things therein.

One of the greatest needs of the human heart is understanding. When we falter on our upward path, or detour into some wasteland, we long to explain our actions to some one. We crave not only cmfort but also guidance so as to avoid pitfalls in the future. To find the highest type of comfort and guidance we must seek a higher Intelligence, the supersourse of wisdom we call God.

We cannot contact God merely by acknowledging him as an abstract Idea; We must learn to recognize him as a dynamic presence and influence in our daily lives. We can no more get in touch with God without prayer than we can receive a telephone message without taking down the receiver. We must knock before the door is opened, we must seek if we would find.

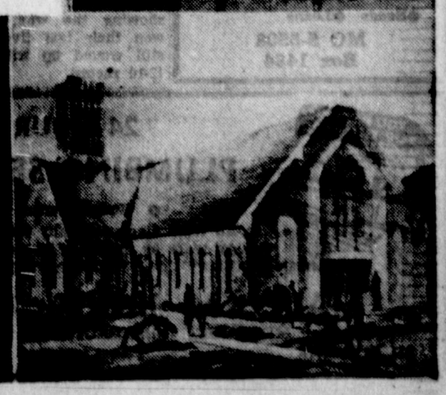

Through the centuries the best and wisest men have testified of their absolute conviction, based on experience, that it is possible not only to walk and talk with God, but also to feel his presence and influence as one feels his own life. Prayer is a priviledge of communion with an alwise and loving Father. The blessed assurance that at any moment and in any place one may turn for wisdom and guidance to a never failing leader gives a security and indwelling of peace which nothing else can offer.

One of our greatest needs is to think rightly about our prayers. To demand instant fulfillment usually brings disappointment because we do not ask right. We should seek that which is in keeping with the devine plan which includes more than any individual life. God's delays are not necessarily his denials. We should wait in patience for his perfect work to be accomplished in his own way and time. Loving Father, thy will be done.

White Deer Girls Lose

The White Deer Does of Coach Bob Moore fell in their first attempt at the state tournament in Austin last night as they were downed by the Moulton Bobkittens in a hard-fought 63-61 contest. The game marked the opener for conference A in the state meet.

Throughout the first two quarters the teams switched lead several times and it was not until the third that the Moulton cagers latched onto the lead they held until the final gun.

White Deer led at the end of the first quarter, 22-21 and by halftime had fallen behind only one point at 38-37. Going into the final period Moulton had the thin three-point margin of 63-61.

Nancy McConnell sparked the White Deer offense with 31 points, gaining 14 field goals and three free throws. Mary Ann Freeman ranked second for the Does with 15 and Marilyn Kotara stood third with 14.

The Moulton team was led by Anna Jasek, who netted 37 points, followed by Latrecia Wachtendorf with 16.

The loss marked the second of the year for White Deer, having suffered their previous setback to the Perryton Rangerettes in an early-season game. White Deer will now compete in the consolation bracket of the tournament, and were scheduled to have gone against Central this afternoon at 4:35.

TROJANS, PANTHERS MEET

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The University of Southern California and the University of Pittsburgh will meet in football Nov. 18, 1961 in Pittsburgh.

Kentucky Opens Bid For 4th Title

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP)— Kentucky will launch a bid for its fourth NCAA basketball championship tonight when it plays Miami (Ohio) in the second round of the Mid-East regional playoffs.

The opening game of a doubleheader at the University of Kentucky Coliseum will bring together those old Hoosier rivals — Notre Dame and Indiana.

The winners will meet on the same court Saturday night for a berth in the tournament semi-finals at Louisville next week.

Kentucky, as the Southeastern Conference champions, drew a bye in the opening round so will be raring to go against Miami, which knocked off Pittsburgh, 82-77, Tuesday night at Evanston, Ill.

The Wildcats will have the added advantage of playing on their home court, but may have trouble halting Miami's Wayne Embry, one of the nation's leading scorers. Embry scored 21 points in the Redskins' opening round victory over Pitt.

Kentucky has appeared in 10 previous NCAA basketball tournaments, winning the title in 1948-49-51. The Wildcats will carry a 19-6 regular-season record into tonight's clash, while Miami has an 18-7 mark.

Indiana will be out to settle an old score with Notre Dame in the opener. The Hoosiers were upset by Notre Dame in the 1954 regional playoffs at Iowa City and earlier this season dropped an 89-74 verdict to the Irish.

However, Notre Dame may be too tough for the Big Ten champions again tonight. Led by forward - center Tom Hawkins, the Irish won 22 of 26 games during the regular season and then outclassed Tennessee Tech, 94-61, in the tournament's opening round.

Indiana, meanwhile, lost six of its seven pre-conference games this season before getting untracked. With lanky Archie Dees showing the way, the Hoosiers won their last five contests but still wound up with a mediocre 12-10 record.

Yardley And Russell Hold Records

NEW YORK (UP) — George Yardley of Detroit and Bill Russell of Boston accounted for most of the individual records of a total of 36 set this season in the National Basketball Association.

Yardley scored 2,001 points to wipe out George Mikan's record of 1,932 set during the 1951-52 season, according to final figures released today by the NBA.

He also attempted 808 free throws to top Neil Johnson's former mark of 794 set in the 1952-53 season and sank 655 of them to eclipse Adolph Schayes' mark of 625 set last season.

Russell smashed every rebound standard for a single game and season to become the game's top defensive player of all time. He garnered 1,564 rebounds for the season, topping the mark of 1,256 set by Maurice Stokes. He also picked off an average of 22.7 rebounds per game, topping Stokes' 17.4 average.

Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics overtook Dick McGuire of the Pistons to win the play-making title; Schayes ended Bill Sharman's five-year hold in free throw efficiency; and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals took floor-shooting honors.

Schayes added 1,791 points during the season to run his career total to 11,764, beating Mikan's mark of 10,156.

Cliff Hagan of the St. Louis Hawks and Dick Garmaker of the Minneapolis Lakers scored 26 points in one quarter to top the mark of 23 set by Bob Pettit.

Mike Beams While Casey Steams

By UNITED PRESS

Grapefruit League results may not be worth a handful of citrus seeds but it's obvious today why Mike Higgins is beamin' and Casey Stengel is steamin'.

Higgins' Boston Red Sox are the only team on the citrus circuit with a perfect 4-0 slate despite the fact that Ted Williams hasn't played an inning. And Stengel's New York Yankees have the worst record in the loop — one win and five losses — despite the fact that Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra have been in continuous action.

The Red Sox made it four in a row Thursday when they whitewashed the Yankees, 1-0. In those four games, Red Sox pitchers have yielded a total of nine runs and 27 hits while beating the Yankees twice and the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox once each.

Giants Crush Cubs

The San Francisco Giants scored their third victory in four games when they crushed the Chicago Cubs, 13-2.

The Champion Milwaukee Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 8-2.

The Washington Senators walloped the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-1.

Outfielder Bobby Gene Smith was pressed into service as a pitcher and gained credit for the St. Louis Cardinals' 3-2 win over the White Sox.

Tigers Snap Losing Streak

The Detroit Tigers hammered out six homers to snap their four-game losing streak with an 8-6 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

Vada Pinson, Roy McMillan and Stan Palys homered to lead the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 7-3 win over the Pirates.

Other camp news: Red Sox shortstop Don Buddin was discharged from the Army at Fort McPherson, Ga. Veteran bullpen coach Bob Keely of the Braves resigned because of ill health. Jimmy Gallagher, one-time general manager of the Cubs, signed with the Phillies to assist farm system Director Gene Martin.

Boozer And Wilt On All Big Eight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Bob Boozer of Kansas State and Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas were unanimous choices today on the United Press 1958 Big Eight Conference All-Star basketball team, but Boozer pulled his second upset of the season and was named player of the year.

Boozer, the 6-8 all-around star who led Kansas State to the Big Eight NCAA playoffs, outdrew Chamberlain of Kansas by an overwhelming margin of 2 to 1 in balloting for player of the year.

His fine play also outclassed teammate Jack Parr, who for the first time in three years failed to make the All-Star team. Parr was edged by John Crawford, of Iowa State in a narrow vote.

Joining Boozer, Chamberlain and Crawford on the All-Star team were Roy Dewitz, Kansas State's fine outside defender and playmaker, and Joe King, Oklahoma's high scoring forward.

The team was selected by balloting of sports editors, broadcasters, coaches and publicity directors.

Joining Parr on the second team were Ron Loneski of Kansas, Lyle Frahm of Iowa State, Sonny Siebert of Missouri and Gary Reimers of Nebraska. Gerry Schroeder of Colorado was mentioned heavily in the balloting and barely missed the second team.

Basketball Roundup

By UNITED PRESS

Cincinnati, San Francisco, Kansas State and Temple will launch their bids for the NCAA basketball championship tonight with their collective fingers crossed.

The four teams that finished behind West Virginia in the final United Press ratings hope to avoid the same fate that befell the top-ranked Mountaineers, who were rudely bounced from the playoffs by upstart Manhattan at New York Tuesday night.

Eight games will be staged at four regional sites tonight, with the teams lining up this way:

At Charlotte, N.C.: Temple (24-2) vs. Maryland (21-6) and Manhattan (16-8) vs. Dartmouth (21-4)

At Lexington, Ky.: Notre Dame (23-4) vs. Indiana (12-1) and Kentucky (19-6) vs. Miami of Ohio (18-7)

At Lawrence, Kan.: Kansas State (20-3) vs. Cincinnati (24-2) and Oklahoma State (20-7) vs. Arkansas (18-8).

At San Francisco: Idaho State (22-4) vs. California (19-8) and San Francisco (24-1) vs. Seattle (20-5)

The winners will meet Saturday night on the same courts for the right to represent their regions in the semi-finals at Louisville, Ky., next weekend.

In the NCAA small college tournament Thursday night at Evansville, Ind., South Dakota eliminated defending champion Wheaton, 64-60, and St. Michael's (Vt.) upset Evansville, 78-70, to gain the title round.

St. John's of New York and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia got off flying in the opening round of the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Redmen conquered Butler, 76-69, and St. Joseph's turned back St. Peter's, 83-72.

In the quarter-finals of the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City, top-seeded Western Illinois turned back Youngstown University, 70-67. Defending champion Tennessee A&I breezed to an 81-62 triumph over East Texas State; Texas Southern eliminated Coe College, 98-78, and Georgetown (Ky.) defeated West Virginia Wesleyan, 83-74.

Track Team Is To Leave For Relays

Harvester Golf Team Slates First Tourney

The 1958 Harvester golfers were to launch into action today in their first tournament of the season as they take part in the Fort Worth Southwestern Recreational Track and Field Meet. Approximately 60 teams will be entered in the meet.

Under Coach Weldon Trice, the Harvesters will enter a four-man team, composed of Melvin Chisum, Larry Tarvin, Donald Fox and Eugene Yeary.

For the season, the golf squad has seven tournaments scheduled, including the district and regional meets. Following the Fort Worth tourney, the team will travel to Amarillo March 18 for a four-team match, including Amarillo, Palo Duro, Pampa and Borger. On March 21-22 they are slated for the West Texas Relays in Odessa. The Harvesters won these matches in 1957.

On March 25, the team will compete in Borger again with the two Amarillo schools, and on March 28-29 will participate in the Amarillo Relays.

The district meet is scheduled for April 4-5 in Borger and the regional tournament will be held April 18-19 in Lubbock.

Other than the four golfers competing in Fort Worth, the team is composed of Virgil Cummings, John Ellis, Joe Gerik, Terry Henderson, Kent Hicks, Paul Machowicz, Perry Richardson, Robert Sidwell and George Smith.

Cincinnati, Kansas State To Collide

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP) — Cincinnati and Kansas State, two of the nation's top ranked teams, collide tonight in the feature game of the NCAA regionals with the outcome a tossup.

"This will be the toughest regional in the NCAA," said Cincinnati Coach George Smith, whose team arrived for a workout Thursday night. "We know we're the highest ranked team in the tournament and we came out here to play. But when you play a team rated as high as Kansas State, trouble."

Cincinnati was ranked second in the final United Press poll and Kansas State fourth. However, Cincinnati now is the top-ranked team in the tournament following West Virginia's first round defeat.

Coach Tex Winter of Kansas State said he had worked "on a couple of things" he might use in efforts to slow down Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's 6-5 All-America forward who leads the nation in scoring with a 34.5 average.

"We know we can't stop him, but if what we have planned works out, we'll slow him down a bit," Winter said.

The two teams collide on the University of Kansas fieldhouse floor at 7:30 p.m. c.s.t. Arkansas, the Southwest Conference playoff champion, and Oklahoma State, an independent at-large team, meet at 9:30 p.m. c.s.t. with Oklahoma.

MATCHES SET IN DETROIT

DETROIT (UP)— Heavyweights Johnny Summerlin of Detroit and Artie Miller of New York will meet in a 10-round bout at the Motor City Arena March 22. Middleweights Henry Hank of Detroit and Willie Russell of Toledo, Ohio, will meet in an eight-round semi-final on the same card.

Big Southwest Meet Opens

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)— More than 1,000 schoolboy athletes from three states opened what promises to be another record-breaking Southwest Recreation Track meet today.

Since few of the 1,019 high school youths have had a chance to run, except in practice, because of bad weather, there was little on which to base predictions in the schoolboy division, which will be followed Saturday by college and university competition.

However, Abilene High was the favorite of the contingent of 85 high schools from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana by virtue of its triumph at the Border Olympics last week.

But, at least a half dozen or so meet records appear in danger by the time the college and university classes start work Saturday, provided more rain doesn't keep the Farrington Field cinder track too soft.

Total entries in the 35th annual meet hit 1,920 today, 100 above last year's record, with the 1,540 entered in track also being a record topping that of 1,525 set in 1949.

An additional 380 golfers will fire for the meet's three golf divisional crowns Saturday.

128 Teams Competing

In all 10 university, 16 college, 17 junior college-freshman and 85 high school teams will have entries in the meet.

Defending champions Texas, East Texas, Texas Tech freshmen and Shreveport Byrd High all are back in the fold, but only the first two were favored to repeat.

The university class includes Abilene Christian, Baylor, North Texas, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Arkansas, Houston, Texas Tech and Webb Air Force Base in addition to Texas.

The college ranks besides East Texas include S. F. Austin, Hardin-Simmons, Sam Houston, Pittsburg (Kan.) State, Lamar Tech, Louisiana Tech, McMurry, Northeast Louisiana, Northwest Louisiana, Oklahoma Baptist, Howard Payne, Southeast Oklahoma, Southwest Texas, Texas A&I and Texas Western.

Freshmen from Abilene Christian, Baylor, Lamar Tech, Louisiana Tech, SMU, TCU, Texas Tech, Arkansas and Houston will compete with Arlington State, Howard County, New Mexico Military, Panola, Paris, Tarleton State, University of Dallas and Odessa in the junior college class.

Expect New Records

Meet records are endangered in the mile, half mile, 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes and in the sprint and mile relays.

Generally conceded to be the surest record to fall is the 440-dash with Texas' great Eddie Southern, who ran a 46.8 at the Border Olympics last week, considered a cinch to best the mark of 48.3 set by C. R. Holbrook of Texas A&M in 1949.

Texas' Joe Villarreal was rated a good threat to the 4:14.2 mile record set 19 years ago by Blaine Rideout of North Texas and Villarreal and Ray Dyck, Arkansas sophomore, may threaten the 880-yard mark of 1:52.9 owned by Paul Johnson of ACC since 1956.

ACC's Olympic champion Bobby Morrow always is a threat to the 100 and 220-yard dash marks, which stand at 9.5 and 20.7 here. He owns the latter one outright and shares the 9.5 with two others.

Texas and ACC both pose danger to the 440-yard relay mark of 40.4 Texas set here a year ago, and Texas, ACC, SMU and North Texas are threats to the 3:17.1 mile relay standard set by SMU

Church Softball League Slated

The church softball league will be sponsored jointly this summer by the Ministerial Alliance and the Kiwanis Club, it was announced yesterday. In a recent survey among churches it was found that ten churches will enter teams or have boys and girls that will play on teams from two or more churches.

The program will be for boys and girls through 14 years of age. Rev. J. R. Stroble, Rev. M. B. Smith and Rev. Burgin Watkins have been appointed to supervise the softball program.

An organizational meeting will be called soon among participating churches.

Pair Share As Tourney Favorites

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)— Pressure-resistant Western Illinois and colorful Tennessee A&I shared the favorite role today as four survivors from a 32-team field geared for semi-final firing in the annual NAIA Tournament.

Top-ranked Western Illinois, unbeaten in 26 starts this season, meets unseeded Georgetown, Ky., College in tonight's upper half semi-final while defending champion Tennessee A&I, seeded No. 3, takes on Texas Southern, another unranked team.

Guard Bill McAfoos paced Western Illinois' 70-67 quarterfinal victory over Youngstown, Ohio, Uni-

QB Club Honors Coaches

A dinner meeting was held last night at the Pennant Club by the Quarterback Club honoring the Pampa Harvester coaches.

R. A. "Babe" Curfman, newly named head football mentor and Clifton McNeely were guests of the groups.

Approximately 40 persons attended the gathering. No special program was planned or held, the main purpose of them meeting being to get acquainted with the new coach.

Elmer Wilson, president of the Quarterback Club, reported that an announcement would be made prior to the next meeting.

Small College All-America Is Announced

NEW YORK (UP)— The United Press today picked Don Hennon of Pittsburgh, Gene Duffy of Notre Dame, Gerald Myers of Texas Tech, Gary Hale of Utah and Al Dunbar of San Francisco for its annual "Small America" basketball team.

The team is limited to players no taller than five feet, 10 inches.

Myers and Dunbar are the "big men" at 5-10, Hennon and Hale stand 5-9 and Dussy is the little fellow of this 10th annual team at 5-7.

Earlier this week, Hennon also made the annual United Press All-America team along with such skyscrapers as seven-foot Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas.

The "Small America" second (5-9) of St. Peter's, Don Anderteam included Pepper Dooley sen (5-8) of Wheaton, Gary Reimers (5-9½) of Nebraska, Jimmy French (5-7) of Vanderbilt and John Lee Butcher (5-10) of Pikesville (Ky.) College.

Honorable mention went to Monte Gonzales (5-10) of Southern California, Danny Balko (5-10) of Montana and Jerry Barnett (5-8) of Arkansas State.

Canyon Reef Events Set In Snyder

Pampa's Harvester track team will depart tomorrow for the third scheduled meet of the season as they will participate in the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder.

Coached by Dwaine Lyon, the thin clads have had ill luck in the first two meets of the season, having had them both cancelled due to bad weather. The only active participation the team has had this far in a scheduled meet came at the beginning of the Commanche Relays in Fort Stockton. Preliminaries were run in most races but only a few finals had been completed when the meet was called off.

At Fort Stockton, Alton Thygerson and Bill Breashears ranked first and second in the 100-yard dash before the cancellation.

Last Saturday the team was slated to appear at the Possum Kingdon Relays in Graham but the meet was cancelled prior to the date set.

The Harvesters will enter a 13-man team tomorrow. Thygerson and Breashears will run the short dashes and Tommy Locke, Andy Epps and Robert Warren will compete in the 440. Frank Snow and Bobby Brown are scheduled for the half-mile run.

Running the hurdles will be Kenneth Keith, Roy Moriss and Clyde Smith, and in the field events will be Rex Williams, Paul Brown and Buddy Rawls.

Following tomorrow's meet in Snyder, the Harvesters will take part in the West Texas Relays in Odessa March 21-22. The district meet is slated for Lubbock, April 15, and the regional gathering will be held in Lubbock, April 18-19.

Tex Winter Is Coach Of The Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Tex Winter of Kansas State, "boy wonder" of the Big Eight Conference, today was voted the 1957-58 college basketball coach of the year in the annual United Press poll.

Winter, 36, who earned his coaching spurs under Sam Barry and Jack Gardner and has won two conference championships in his five seasons at Kansas State, was the choice of 74 of the 236 sports writers and broadcasters who voted for the United Press received 42 votes for second place, while Phil Woolpert of San Francisco, was third with 19 votes. Rouding out the top five were Harry Litwack of Temple and George Smith of Cincinnati.

At Lawrence, Kan., where his Wildcats were preparing for their meeting tonight with Cincinnati in the NCAA Midwest regional playoffs, Winter said he was surprised at being named coach of the year.

"It's quite a thrill and an honor," he said. "I'm flattered and surprised because I didn't even think I was being considered."

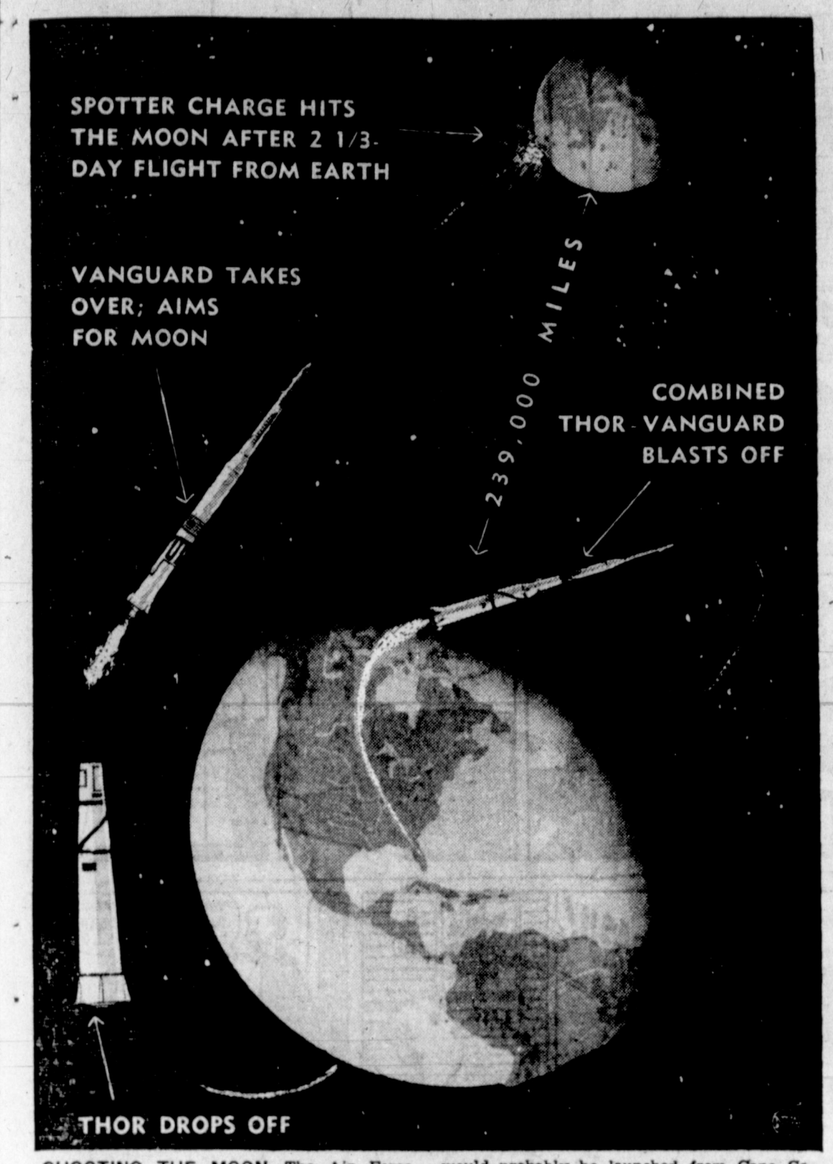

This year's squad was the best of five winning teams at Kansas State for Winter, who credits "balance" for the Wildcats' success.

"By that," he explained, "I mean an equal emphasis on scoring, rebounding, shooting percentages and all the other phases of the game.

SHOOTING THE MOON—The Air Force, according to Lt. Gen. D. L. Putt, believes it can hit the moon with a rocket this year provided the project receives an immediate go-ahead. Putt, Deputy Air Force Chief of Staff for Research, told Congress that the attempt would be made with a combination of its Thor intermediate missile and the Navy's Vanguard. Artist's drawing above shows how the flight might be made. The combined Thor-Vanguard would probably be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Vanguard would take over once the massive Thor had carried it far out into space where the pull of gravity is almost negligible. In order to hit the moon, Vanguard would have to go seven miles a second, the speed needed to break away from the earth's grasp. That's roughly 25,200 miles an hour, compared with the estimated 18,000 miles an hour which Explorer and Sputnik II are traveling.

NEW YORK (UP) — My records tell me that Gracie Allen is 51 and a grandmother, but I rather doubt it — she is too airy a spirit to be bound to the silly conventions of earth time.

Miss Allen, to lay it down quickly, is some doodles of a comedienne and the announcement that she won't be back on TV next season is mournful news. She deals in a special brand of happy incomprehension and calculated nuttiness that no other funny lady is quite able to match. She has that rare ability to seem funny without saying anything at all.

She does it with a face that seems to be built out of moonbeams and lemon chiffon pie. It's a wide open face and an animated one — even in repose Miss Allen looks ready to say something. You can almost see those weird wheels clicking in her brain.

It is a pretty remarkable brain, too. I use the word remarkable because, frankly, I am unable to describe that brain precisely. I don't think the word has been invented yet to describe the Allen thinking process.

Leaves Note

Monday night on the CBS-TV "Burns and Allen Show", Gracie left a note for her husband, George Burns, that said: "I went to the front door to pick up the mail and I should be back by the time you finish reading this." And sure enough she was, with the announcement: "I didn't want you to think I was out while I was gone."

At one point Gracie said seriously to her son, Ronnie: "You are my son and I've always loved you but when you talk silly like your father I wonder why I love either of you." This was a little like listening to Jackie Gleason upbraiding Frank Sinatra for putting on weight.

The mating of George Burns with Gracie Allen almost leads one to believe that some marriages are made in heaven. There is no other way to account for the beautiful sour - pickle - cumcigar face meeting up with the Gracie phiz. They are a fascinating team to watch in action. They mesh like mud and small boys. He rasps, she twitters; he galumphs, she flutters; he pounces, she floats out of reach on a cloud.

Their CBS-TV series is not a terribly funny one, but it is dependable. And in a sense, it is also extraordinary. Without getting artsy-craftsy about it, the "Burns and Allen Show" dabbles in what may be the most experimental form on television.

Burns, you see, is not only an actor in the weekly play, he is also the narrator, observer and offstage kibitzer. Burns will participate in a scene with his wife, then step up to the camera to pour out his plans or maybe just tell a few jokes for no reason at all. But even beyond that, Burns also is possessed of an occult power that enables him to know what is going on anywhere within the play — he has a TV set in his den which permits him to look at the play's action while he is offstage.

Live in Wild World

This is all a little looney and in a serious drama might be regarded as too wild a dose for mass consumption, but Burns and Allen live in a wild world and I'm sure everyone just accepts this madness as proper.

Like most TV situation comedies, the Burns and Allen program is showing an increasing tendency to center its plots around the youngsters of the home — in this case, Ronnie Burns. Young Ronnie seems amable enough, but there are heaps of other TV shows around that are child-centered and it's a shame to let the Burns and Allen show go the way of the others.

I would suggest that the "Burns and Allen Show" as it stands now is a satisfying essay in whimsy. And I have one other suggestion: come on back, Gracie.

The Channel Swim: Next season, Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" will move to the Wednesday night spot currently occupied by the last half of CBS-TV's "The Big Record." There's a report afloat at CBS-TV that NBC-TV's "Father Knows Best" may shift to the CBS-TV "Talent Scouts" slot next season.

Elaine May and Mike Nichols will be Wednesday regulars on NBC radio's "Nightline". The McGuire sisters signed on for the NBC-TV April 9 spec, "Swing into Spring". Archibald MacLeish of Harvard will direct the scriptmaking for CBS radio's "The Case for the College."

"The Big Record" will spin its last on CBS-TV on June 11—some reruns titled "Playhouse of Mystery" will fill the period. "Gerald McBoing Boing" will fill in for the "I Love Lucy" Wednesday night reruns on CBS-TV starting June 18.

A Downtown Home For The Elderly

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — A young hotel men who thinks our older citizens are being "sadly neglected" has opened the West's first downtown retirement hotel.

The Continental Hotel, located in the busy center of San Francisco, is the "half heart, half profit" venture of Carl D. Arnold Jr., 36, a tall, balding ex-paratrooper who runs two other metropolitan hostelries.

Noting that many hotels turn away older persons and force them into crowded, cheerless rooming houses, Arnold decided to provide a place where men and women of retirement age could enjoy independence, comfort and city life—all at a price within their reach. A room with a private bath, and including dinner and brunch, ranges from $75 to $125 a month. The $75 rental is for two persons in a room.

The rooms, though small, are painted in soothing pastels and are furnished with light - colored standard furniture. Residents may decorate the rooms themselves, if they wish. The rooms overlook a courtyard which is to be landscaped as a Japanese garden.

The 130-room hotel's oldest resident is a chipper 93-year-old woman who shops, attends movies and church socials just as often as the other guests. Most prefer to spend most of the day outside.

Arnold finds his tenants cheerful and cooperative. "They may be a little set in their ways," he says, "but they are amenable to suggestions and they can be steered."

MARLBORO, Mass. — John F. Francis, principal of Marlboro High School, challenging the Daughters of the American Revolution for refusing to give a good citizenship award to Ilse Naujoks because she was a refugee:

"Ilse is a good citizen of Marlboro High School. That's one of our functions here—to make good citizens and if we can't do that we might as well close our doors."

In All But Elections

Tito Still Follows His Own Red Line

Foreign News Commentary
BY CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

President Tito of Yugoslavia continues to follow his own line of Communism in everything but elections.

He has refused consistently to do anything that would put Yugoslavia back under the domination of Soviet Russia.

He has succeeded in maintaining a balance, in his relations, between the Communist bloc of countries and the United States.

But in his election policy, Tito remains an Orthodox Communist.

Yugoslavs are to elect a new Parliament March 23. There will be 306 candidates for the 301 seats in the Federal Council, the controlling house of the Parliament.

Victory Assured

All candidates, including those of the five districts in which there will be contests, are officially approved members of the Yugoslav Socialist Alliance, which is controlled by the Communist Party.

Thus, as in other Communist countries, whatever happens Tito is assured of a thumping victory.

Tito seems to be pretty popular with his own people. He might win in a free election. But no Communist dictator can aford to take the risk of permitting effective opposition.

In Yugoslavia, Tito is pretty much a one-man show. He is president, premier, head of the Socialist Alliance, the sole political party, and secretary general of the Communist Party as well as commander in chief of the armed forces.

There have been reports several times in recent months that Tito intended to give up some of his posts—probably those of premier and Communist Party leader.

He's Getting Old

These reports crop up especially when Tito has an outbreak of lumbago or liver trouble. It is pointed out that he is getting old—he will be 66 in May—and that he has been carrying a heavy weight of responsibility for years.

If he did quit some of his posts, the idea would be that he would be able to concentrate on high-level diplomacy and seek to exert more influence as a middle-man in the East-West cold war.

At his direction, the Central Committee of the party let loose a blast on Feb. 28 against "bureaucrats and factory directors."

These officials were accused of such offenses as involving themselves in bureaucratic red tape, improper use of public funds, a necessary and expensive trips abroad, spending government funds for celebrations and indulging in the use of luxurious automobiles.

This crackdown was attributed to increasing criticism and unrest among factory workers.

MOSCOW — Soviet Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev calling for direct summit talks:

"We fear diplomatic channels could turn into channels for endless correspondence and endless negotiations."

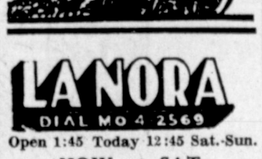

NEW YORK — Adlai E. Stevenson warning that an agenda must be established before a summit meeting was called:

"It would be a very unhappy thing if we let the Soviet Union force us into a meeting where the United States is further split off from its allies."

'Kraft Theatre's' TV Show Was Largely Successful

By WLLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — NBC-TV's "Kraft Theatre" tackled a difficult assignment Wednesday night with "The Sea is Boiling Hot": a two-character play, a single setting, a theme of some weight.

Largely because of Sessue Hayakawa, who turned in a performance that mixed wallop with sensitivity, it was to a large extent successful.

The story itself was bone-bare: Hayakawa, a Japanese soldier of middle age, has been living on a Pacific island in tatters and isolation. His retreat is invaded by Earl Holliman, a young American airman, who has been forced to parachute onto the island.

The play's concern thereafter was trust and love. Its aim was to demonstrate that love and trust are possible despite the barriers of communication and acquired hatreds, and even further, to say that survival is only possible—and worthwhile — when trust and love are achieved.

This may look like a sticky bowl of gumbo on paper, but Hayakawa and Holliman were pretty successful in keeping it unsticky and, more important, breathing life into it.

Characterless

My only quarrel with the play, and it may be jingoism on my part, is an objection to the character of the American. I take it that author Simon Wincelberg was concerned not only with the situation of two isolated human beings, but with something larger—Holliman as a representative of our civilization, Hayakawa as a symbol of older culture.

If this was so, Holliman was working under a bum rap. He was called upon to play an American who was callow, uncertain and fumbling, a young man whose personal relationships in civilian life were messy and irresponsible.

Even more strangely, Holliman was portrayed as by far the most untrustworthy of the pair — in one scene he pretends hunger, so he can steal Hayakawa's knife; in another, he tries to creep up on Hayakawa in the dark to kill him with a rock.

Hayakawa, on the other hand, was drawn as a character of some culture. In one scene, the Japanese builds a rock garden while the American sits under a tree singing "Let's Remember Pearl Harbor".

Play Saved

What saved "The Sea is Boiling Hot" from a complete lack of balance was the climax in which Hayakawa at first refuses to accept rescue by a newly arrived American unit because he, it seems has not really learned trust. However, without much motivation, Hayakawa reverses this position in the closing moments.

As far as the performance went, Holliman was sufficiently deft as the immature American. Hayakawa, who was making his TV debut, contributed most of the flesh to the play's bones despite the fact he had few lines, almost all of them in Japanese.

NBC-TV, which is loving "Father Knows Best" to CBS next year, already has sold the empty slot to the same outfit that sponsors Rosie Clooney. Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme may replace Steve Allen for eight weeks on NBC-TV this summer.
