Bootlegger Is Young Canceled Check Is Introduced In Stephenson Case

CENTER TEXAS, July 11. (AP) The spectacle of a bright-eyed, intelligent boy only 11 years old, doing a thriving business as a bootlegger, was presented here when Sheriff Harry Burns, investigating the source of an unusual number of drunks and near drunks on the streets, found the lad selling "choc" beer to all comers for 25 cents per bottle. The news of the new bootlegger had found its way evidently to the ears of all the "fine drinkin' men" of the community, and many automobiles were traveling the road leading to the source of supply, where the little fellow was handing out the beverage and raking in the profits.
The boy said that his older brother had been gathered in by the prohibition officers and that he had been instructed to "carry on" until his return. The Sheriff confiscated all the beer, but did not place the little boy under arrest, exacting a promise that he would go to Sunday school every Sunday and never again sell, touch, or handle anything in the shape of illicit liquor.

At one time O'Higgins was a staunch supporter of Eamon DeValera, the republican leader, and during the disorders before the signing of the treaty creating the Free State, he was arrested and placed in jail in Belfast. When the treaty was promulgated, however, he became an ardent worker for the Free State and was made minister of justice in 1922. RECEPTION OF AIRMEN CITED AS GOOD MOVE

FAR REACHING EFFECTS MAY BE GAINED IN OXFORD'S OPINION

Lubbock should take cognizance of the importance of the banquet given by the Dallas Flying Club members of the national air tour in the Baker Hotel Friday night, says Edgar T. H. Oxford, president of the Lubbock Aero Club.
William A. Mara, secretary of the Stinson Aircraft corporation of Detroit, gave some material for thought to the Dallas entertainers, and Lubbock is no doubt interested in the scope of his address, Mr. Oxford believes.
Landing Field Is Start
"The people of Dallas," Mr. Mara said, "should realize that the landing field is but a start toward adequate development of aviation in the city and its territory. Flying has come now to be a prosaic and commonplace mode of travel and transportation of people and things.
"Therefore it has become merely a business proposition in its development and should be so regarded. Dallas should provide itself with the water tower. This should be done by its business-men, on a business basis, and not merely patriotic impulse or because of civic pride, important as those are.
Business Profitable
"It can be shown that air transportation will not only pay its way,

CUB RECRUIT SMASHES HOMER TO INCREASE LEAD OVER BUCS

PIRATES, IDLE TRAIL LEADERS ONE FULL GAME

SENATORS TAKE FIFTH STRAIGHT; ATHLETICS WIN SLUGGEST

(By Associated Press)

Another reason why the Chicago Cubs have been added to a growing list of idle trail leaders is that Eddie Pick, recently acquired by manager Joe McCarthy from the New York Yankees, broke up a 10-run lead in Brooklyn yesterday with a line drive home run in the right center field fence at the eleventh inning. The Cubs as a unit did not do much with the pitching man Phil but Guy Bush was more of a puzzle to Wilbert Johnson's Dodgers and the Cubs won 11 to 6. Chicago has won every game it has played with evenness this season.

Pirates Are Idle

The Pittsburgh Pirates were idle, the Chicago victory increased their margin in first place by one full game.

Home Run Kings Helpless

Virgil Barnes let the world's champion Cardinals down with one hit in the first game of a doubleheader, the Giants winning 5-8. St. Louis came back to win the next.

Behind Bob McGraw's Effective Twirling

Manager Bob McGraw's effective twirling of the ball of the game with a single in the second inning. Frisch and Hornsby went without in both games. Home runs were contributed by Lindstrom, Harper and Schubele, the latter now playing shortstop for St. Louis.

Home Run Kings Helpless

The Gehrig-Ruth home run marathon was interrupted in Detroit by Earl Whitehill whose southpaw blasts gave the Tigers a 6 to 5 victory over the Yankees in the stand-out game of the American league.

Yankees Defeat at This Stage of Season is Big Omen and Whitehill by Fanning Ruth Twice and Adding More Strikeouts at the Expense of Gehrig While Giving Him One Hit, Upset the Calculations of Those Who Favored Ruth to Lead in Home Runs.

Washington made it five straight from the Cleveland Indians by winning 10-9 in seven innings. McCullough's triple knocked Horace Clevinger out of the lead in home runs.

The Boston Red Sox lapsed into old stride at Chicago and Ray Healy's team beat them, 4 to 1. Thomas gained his eighth victory over the year and was not scored until the ninth.

Newest Cub

EDDIE PICK

Here's the newest infielder of the Chicago Cubs—Eddie Pick, former American Association third baseman. Joe McCarthy's efforts to plug the weaknesses of his club, now that the Cubs seem to be in the pennant race, resulted in the purchase of Pick. Pick's batting and fielding made him one of the best third basemen in the minor leagues, but his worth in the majors in a pennant fight is to be determined.

Galloway Buys Majority Stock In Beaumont Club

DALLAS, July 11 (AP).—The Texas league today formally approved the purchase of the majority interest in the Beaumont club by James G. Galloway, the manager, and others. Galloway himself will have the controlling interest, but will have others associated with him in the ownership, among them Claude Robertson, league officials said. J. Doak Roberts, president of the league was appointed a member of the board of arbitration to decide on the price to be set on the Houston club, if that becomes necessary. When that appointment was announced President Roberts pointed out that work on the new park at Houston was under way, which if it continues to be satisfactory conclusion leaves nothing for the board of arbitration to do.

O'HIGGINS' DEATH IN IRELAND BRINGS HALT TO PLENARY MEET

(By Associated Press) GENEVA, July 11.—The tragic death of the Irish statesman, Kevin O'Higgins yesterday has by some strange destiny of events served to prevent any immediate collapse of the tripartite naval conference.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. O'Higgins, who was present at Geneva only last week as a representative at the conference of the Irish Free State, the delegates today decided to postpone indefinitely the plenary public session which had been requested by W. C. Bridgeman, head of the British delegation.

To Retiate Position

Mr. Bridgeman had asked for the meeting in order to give the British delegation an opportunity to restate its position on the cruiser problem, to clear up what he called misunderstandings and to ask a series of questions of the American delegation.

Today's projected session had been considered potentially filled with danger. The American delegation did not desire it because it believed that little good could be achieved by a public debate of this nature. The Americans were ready, however, to answer any of the questions which the British might propound and might even have asked a few questions themselves.

It is understood that the Japanese, like the Americans, fought with some apprehension upon the projected session because of the risk that things would be said which might provoke the "blowup" of the conference.

HUBBERS BEAT AMHERST HERE SUNDAY 7 TO 6

CONTEST FEATURED BY HARD SLUGGING AND LASSITER'S WORK

The Lubbock Hubbers under the guidance of Skipper Sanders took the Amherst nine into camp yesterday afternoon at the Merrill Park and defeated the visiting nine by a long run margin. The final score was 7 to 6. It was a hit and run game from the beginning as both Taylor, local moundman, and Hollingsworth, the visiting pitcher, allowed plenty of hits.

Visitors Score First

Off of "Left" Hollingsworth, the hotly perisider of the Lamb county loop, the Hubbers cracked out 12 safe singles; and "Preacher" Taylor, ace of the Hubber staff, allowed the bats from Amherst 14 safeties. The visitors counted first on the Hubbers by scoring in the initial frame. The locals scored one run in their first time to the plate 5-0 even the count up for the first inning; again the Amherst nine pushed over a run in the second and the Hubbers tied it with a run. Then the Hubbers in the lead in the fourth inning of the game and held it throughout the afternoon.

By bunting four hits off of the lethanded terror of Amherst in the seventh session the Hubbers scored four runs to carry a long lead. But with a fast succession of hits by the visiting crew this lead was trimmed down in the eighth and ninth innings as the Amherst nine scored two runs in each frame.

Lassiter Has Big Day

Tude Lassiter, short fielder for the Hubbers, had a big afternoon, fielding like a veteran and hitting on every trip. He cracked out three for three yesterday and one for three bases. Lassiter accounted for four of the seven runs made by the homebats by his hitting spree.

Four thrilling catches were made in the outer garden in the contest. Galloway, fleetly outfielder of the Hubbers, raced back to deep left centerfield to pull down Walling's drive in the third frame; and Knox, youngster of the Amherst outfield, took one off of the left field fence in the fifth inning.

The Amherst nine will meet the Hubbers at Amherst on August 1 during the anniversary of the Lamb county city.

Billy Evans Says:

Bush Making Good With Pirates

Owen Bush was a star as a big league ball player. It looks very much as if he is repeating his success as a manager.

As a pitcher of the Pittsburgh club he is showing the way to the rest of the National league managers and is favored to win. He has a good team and is handling it well.

Bush gained his fame in the big show as a member of the Detroit Tigers of the American league. Well do I recall his debut as a member of that club.

Detroit had won the pennant in 1927 and seemed to have enough stars to repeat. However, late in the year, due to injuries, the club had a makeshift infield. Help was badly needed at shortstop.

A youngster by the name of Bush was going big for Indianapolis. The scouts pronounced him a marvelous pitcher but many had their doubts as to his ability to hit big league pitching.

Bush, by the way, was the property of the Detroit club at the time. He had been secured in the draft from South Bend of the Central league and sent to Indianapolis for seasoning.

Broke In Auspiciously

Indianapolis was in the thick of the pennant fight in the American league association and Bush, a home town boy, was a big favorite. Detroit would have liked to have recalled him early in the season, but he had not until the close of the minor league race.

I happened to be the umpire in charge of the first game Bush played in the American league. I don't recall any really over made sensational starts in the majors, particularly as to fielding.

On three occasions he went to his left into second base territory and made one handed stops of balls which the late Herman Schaefer, playing second base, quite reach. In each instance he got his man at first.

Schaefer, who had a keen sense of humor, would argue with Bush after each ball as to his coming into second base territory, using much pantomime. The crowd would cheer it was all in fun and Schaefer used it as a joke to break up a great getaway.

Bush played 29 games for Detroit that fall and his sensational work aided greatly in the winning of the pennant by the Tigers.

Loved to Win Always

As is usually the case, Bush upset the dope and made the expert opinion of the scouts look bad, by setting the ball 50 paces higher than his minor league record.

Bush joined the club too late that fall to be eligible in the world series. No doubt the Tigers would have made a better showing against the Chicago Cubs had he been in the lineup.

As a player, Bush was of the pleasantly aggressive type. He fought every inch of the way, but was always the gentleman, never rowdy.

There never was a harder loser in baseball than Bush. He thoroughly liked to win. He never wavered in his opinion as to whether he en-

SLATON YOUTH TAKES HONORS IN MEET HERE

M'KIRAHAN, TECH STAR BEATS M'CRUMMEN IN TOURNEY FINALS

Wilson McKirahan, Slaton youth, who last spring went overhopping before him in tennis competition both on the south and North Plains while playing under the banner of Tech athletic officials, won the singles finals of the West Texas Tennis association's annual tournament here Sunday afternoon on the Tech course when he defeated Frazier McCrummen, Lubbock ace in straight sets 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Match Was Good

The closing match of the tournament, however, was much better than the score would indicate, as McCrummen forced McKirahan into five drop games at many intervals during the contest, but McKirahan, by his agility and strength, bettered court generalship, outclassed the Lubbock veteran in practically every department of play.

His smashing returns kept the veteran guessing throughout the play, which was marred slightly by a slight injury to McKirahan's right arm when the evening meal when the Tigers lost the game.

Unquestionably Bush has impacted his fighting spirit to the Pirates, for they have staged many a late inning rally to win a ball game that seemed lost.

Likes to Play, Not Talk About It

After wondering how strongly Bush would play, he said he would play as hard as he could. At these conferences ways and means are discussed as to how to beat the opposition.

At these sessions the batting ability of each rival player is gone into and the strengths and weakness of his attack pointed out. The pitchers are supposed to profit most from this.

Members of the Tigers of the old days will tell you that Bush was always the first to break up these talkative and usually in the same way with a speech that ran something like this:

"Well, let's get out and trim these birds instead of sitting here talking about it."

Once as I saw him moving in the direction of the "Tiger" dressing room I asked him where he was going, knowing he didn't enthrone over skill practice.

"Going in there to learn how to make runs without base hits," said Bush, as he pointed toward the conference room.

The way Pittsburgh is leading the National league makes it apparent that Bush is still strong for the policy of beating the opposition on the ball field instead of talking about it in the dressing room.

Tech Student Tells Of Wonders Seen In Great Carlsbad, N. Mexico, Cavern

For the summer vacationist a gazed back as we slowly moved on the return.

A man of large proportions added a touch of humor to the crowd as he stopped long and often, puffing and fanning, but who survived the tour.

Impressions of the cavern are portrayed by Miss Clara Moore, a student of the summer session of Texas Tech, who was recently in a party which spent several hours in the huge opening of another earth.

Miss Moore's observations of the cavern follow:

"Sichtseeing in Carlsbad cave, along with some 300 others, gave us two perspectives, one of mother nature, and one of human nature. As we went up and down the series after series of steps and trails we could see caravans of tiny people carrying tiny lighting, totting up and down in an endless line, as silent as the cave itself.

Among the animals created by mother nature in the cave are a black cat, a baby hippo, a polar bear, a camel and an elk's head.

Augmenting the weirdness of the huge den, two small boys cavorted frantically through the cave, hiding in small cavities and groaning dismally.

Pluted hanging curtains, ruffled curtains, vases, candles, a totem pole, water lilies, celery, the statue of Lincoln were grotesquely presented in formations for the imagination.

Drank at Spring
We drank cold water from small clear pools and fountains, the water drip in the queen's bath roof, which had hot and cold water faucets within a curtained alcove.

Each room entered seemed more wonderful than the last. A man called to his wife, "Just look!" "Where?" she asked. "Oh, just anywhere," came the reply.

After wandering three miles underground, from 200 to 750 feet below the entrance, amid a wonderful structure of fairy shapes and forms, gazing upward 200 feet into a maze of fairy land formations and lighting effects, and for two short minutes seeing one large room lighted by a flare, we could hardly believe our eyes.

Dallas Hotel Man Leaves After His Visit To Lubbock

Otto Schubert, Jr., assistant manager of the Adelphi hotel of Dallas, who has been visiting friends and business associates in Lubbock for several days, will leave for home early tomorrow. He will be accompanied by R. M. Dick Jarrett, formerly of Lubbock, who is now one of the operators of the new Colorado hotel at Colorado City.

Mr. Schubert will visit with Mr. Jarrett at Colorado City, and will also stop in Sweetwater enroute home. For the past several weeks he has been in West Texas in the interest of his hotel.

Prior to joining the executive staff of the Adelphi Mr. Schubert represented Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company of St. Louis in Texas. Mr. Schubert has not been in West Texas for several years and noting the growth and progress of the entire section during the present trip is "sold on the territory" all over again, he said.

While in Lubbock he was the guest of W. E. LaFon, manager of Hotel Lubbock, which industry has fully captured his admiration, he stated. He was emphatic in his praise of Lubbock and Hotel Lubbock particularly.

MRS. T. E. IRWIN OF SNEYDEN is in Lubbock attending her mother, Mrs. W. D. Sims, a patient in the Lubbock sanitarium.

AVIATION history is being written at such a rate now that aerial flying is having a hard time keeping up to the developments on paper.
Today's count of flying fields and planes is out of date tomorrow while map makers who would chart air routes dare call no graph complete.
New flying companies are multiplying with the proverbial rabbit bit proliferation, bankers are reported as digging down into other people's pockets for the necessary backing, and the country is all but ready for a wild cat boom of the air that will draw in suckers by the thousands and tens of thousands.

But aviation has succeeded in spite of its handicaps, and is now ready for its merited triumph. It is financial control of the industry is put in the hands of men as sane as the inventors and the flyers, there will be no grief for the novice enthusiast in matters of the air to rush in now and support the blue sky promoters and mania only disaster for the enthusiast and a set-back for air progress.

Mud Slingers

It is to wonder what the people of the year 2362 A. D. will make of the exploits of Byrd over the North Pole and Lindbergh over the Atlantic.

The year 2362 is 435 years hence; 435 years before 1927. Christopher Columbus was making his voyage and getting his name into history.
Of Columbus' mysterious past there has been much speculation. Obscure as have been his antecedents, his deed remained glorious until now, when a French biographer, Marius Andre, comes forward with the charge that Columbus was no navigator, that he was no sailor, no captain, no hero, no conquistador—nothing but a fraud, a profiteer—a slave dealer, a liar of no mean ab-sility, a discoverer whose major achievements were in his imagination.

All this finding is in style with the newer trends of historical research—to tear down any glamour that any man has acquired through the centuries. Defenders of Columbus will of course rush forward to clean the smudge from the shield of their idol, but it is really unnecessary. The accomplishment of the man, which cannot be effaced by any besmirching of character, makes his position secure.

When To Quit

Few people who get up to make a speech know when to sit down, and it usually takes a good swift kick in the shins from the master of ceremonies to draw remarks to the ever-so-essential close. Authors have the same failing. Having gained fame with a character, they work him to death. As long as the fictional character provides his or his creator with bread and butter and shoes for the babies, the writer leans heavily upon the imaginary shoulder.

There would be much less-bum literature in the world, though, if there were no sequels. A good character is a good character, and he usually plays himself out in volume one. Sherlock Holmes in the Hound of the Baskervilles and the first series of detective stories was great stuff. In recent years he has run to seed, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's decision to kill off the old cocker and raise the Baker street dwelling is good judgment.
Holmes should retire on his early laurels before he ruins his own reputation and obliterates his few really glorious deeds.

A machine that "matches colors has been invented. A little something to help friend husband out.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

In these days of hustle and bustle to get rich—with the macazines just chock full of biographies of 'go-getters', aggressive men who forced their way to prominence and wealth—a great many of our youngsters are being misguided.
Too many of them are taking these lurid accounts in the wrong light.
Too many of them credit the aggression, the 'go-getting' elements and the plain old 'bull-dozing' of the various success, they read about. They fail to take into consideration that these forces are merely ACCESSORIES to the talent which early reached the goal.
They're not realizing that in addition to these attributes these successful men also had the ABIL-ITY to carry through to the end those things which they began. The Plainsman knows a young fellow—a likeable, intelligent young fellow—who has been thus disillusioned.

Someone, somewhere, has told him to 'spread the applause, thank about his experience and his ability and that by so doing he could advance more rapidly, get rich quicker, reach a pinnacle of prominence and respect at an earlier date than otherwise. What poor advice and what a sad situation!
This young man, as above stated, is both intelligent and likeable—as likeable as a young man can be when he knows and you know he's boosting his stock above par. All things being equal he should advance rapidly in his chosen line of work IF he'll work to assure the confidence of his employers through actual effort rather than through verbal barrages of his great and glorious past. If he could make himself content to start at the bottom and WORK UP, he'd find he would advance more rapidly than by attempting to hold a higher place with nothing to support his claim on save, palaver. The Plainsman is merely holding this young man up as an example. The lad is not alone in his position. Many others are like him. We should all work to combat such a situation arising in the ranks of our younger men, reminding them that after all, despite the glowing accounts of magazines printed on glazed paper, HARD WORK and NATIVE ABIL-ITY means much more as stepping stones to success than all of the 'BULL-DOZING' in the world.

Anyhow we're glad Lindbergh didn't fly to Germany. How many amateur poets do you suppose would have discovered suddenly that "Hindy" rhymed with "Lindy"?

Let us be thankful there is no presidential spokesman in the Black Hills. Think of the whoppin' fish stories he might weave!

Old Master's

A little fairy comes at night, Her eyes are blue, her hair is brown.

With silver spots upon her wings,
And from the moon she flutters down.

She has a little silver wand, And when a good child goes to bed.

She waves her hand from right to left
And makes a circle round its head.

And then it dreams of pleasant things,
Of fountains filled with fairy fish,
And trees that bear delicious fruit,
And bow their branches at a wish.

WASHINGTON LETTER

EFFICIENT FEDERAL JOB
BROKERAGE RUN BY WOMAN

BY RODNEY BUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, June 11.—There is at least one government bureau in Washington which manages to be efficient and human at the same time.

No doubt there are several, but one may point with certainty to the local office of the U. S. employment service on Pennsylvania avenue.

Strangely or naturally enough, as you wish, this agency is managed by a woman, Miss Cecil K.
Chittenden, with a staff of women assistants.

Last year, without change, these women found jobs for 30,000 persons who needed work. There are other federal employment offices over the country and many private agencies, but this one seems to be unique. It finds positions for civil engineers, architects, chemists, stenographers, secretaries, salesmen, carpenters, plasterers, machinists, lawyers, paper hangers, electricians, draftsmen, preachers, landscape gardeners, welfare workers, chauffeurs and dozens of other varieties of clerical, professional and manual workers.

Meca for Jobless
From many parts of the world the temporarily jobless wind up at this bureau which the Department of Labor maintains in co-operation with the District of Columbia.

With the constant reduction of the government personnel here-since the war, many thousands have been faced with the necessity of job-seeking. The great majority of these have made every effort to remain in Washington, according to Superintendent Chittenden.

Their applications are not treated perfunctorily. The staff actually goes out and hunts jobs for them. Prodigious efforts are made in behalf of those who are most seriously in need of work.

Miss Chittenden finds that a person past middle age, regardless of his or her background, qualifications and experience, is "very hard to place."

Many of these come, of course, It often appears that the jobseeker had stepped out of a satiric factory job to devote his time to inviting members of the family.
When the need had passed, it was difficult to rejoin the procession.
Miss Chittenden pointed to one such man who had made and lost three fortunes and who had been associated with the most prominent financiers but who was now having difficulty in gaining even another foothold in the business world.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS

No stronger proof of the fixed value of the American press in public affairs or of the power of the American press has recently been brought to light than the notoriety and publicity that has come to Colonel Charles Lindbergh.
No single exploit in history has been covered more fully and in such minute detail as the flight of the intrepid American across the Atlantic ocean. All subsequent events, even the most personal, have been given to the public of all nations by the press at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Lengthy reports of the flight were sent across the ocean by cable and wireless at enormous expense, all that the public might know.

There is no hamlet in the country which the exploits of Lindbergh are not known. Where would they be known but for the press?
—Plainview Herald.

AN OPTIMIST

An optimist is a man who can stand in the face of a perching west wind, with not a cloud in the heavens, and predict rain.— Lynn County News.

Things have certainly changed.
It used to be that a man of the above description wasn't called an optimist. He was called a liar.— Mineral Wells Index.

BARBS

Paul Poirot, noted Parisian style dictator, is coming to America to tell the ladies they don't know how to wear his creations. And just as our little difficulties with France were almost healed up, too!

Strange how this grain market is acting up, after all the nice class prophecies and all!

A man plans to run all the way across America. Another worry for Lindbergh.

Labor itself, in both employment and immigration divisions. Perhaps her best qualification is that she likes people and thinks it's a "horrible thing" to be out of a job.
And she hasn't the attitude of one doling out charity.

Knocked by Competitors
"We're not charitable, we're fore-working or paternal," she says.
"We're just a cleaning house for the people who need jobs and those who need jobs filled."

Naturally, the success that has attended Miss Chittenden and her highly specialized staff of experts has inspired numerous knocks from the private employment agencies here, some of which charge exorbitant fees. The federal agency charges no fee whatever.

There are perhaps a couple of dozen fee agencies here, Washington is a city of employees and if it were not for the government employment bureau the city probably would swarm with these private concerns which charge a registration fee and the first week's salary for everyone placed.

Miss Chittenden conducts a constant campaign to educate all Washington employers into using her bureau, pointing out that this is fairest to the employe and honest to the employer.

Value Of Gypsum In Texas Shows Steady Increase

ARTHUR, July 11.—Statistics obtained by the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Mines indicate that gypsum produced in Texas during 1926 amounted to 418,224 tons, valued at $4,858,287. The production of 1926 was smaller in quantity but greater in value than was that of 1925, the 1925 production being 558,132 tons valued at $3,721,954. The largest use of gypsum is in the manufacture of new plaster, more than one-half of the average tonnage being for this purpose; next in quantity used is for concrete and wall board. Other smaller uses are plaster board and Keene's cement and various kinds of tile. Relatively small quantities of unburned gypsum go to the Portland cement plants to control setting of cement.

Glass Manufacture

The statement in a recent news item on glass "and to the effect that there are no glass manufacturing plants in Texas was recorded to Dr. E. H. Sellards, associate director of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University, an oversight on his part, as there are glass-making plants at Three Rivers, Texarkana, and at Wichita Falls.

Brownfield News

Brownfield Rotarians Elect

At the regular weekly luncheon today, the Brownfield Rotary club elected officers and directors for the ensuing year. Morgan E. Campbell was re-elected president and J. L. Crane was elected secretary of the club. The following were elected directors: H. L. Bowers, J. H. Hester, H. H. Winston, W. H. Alford, and J. E. McGowan.

The Brownfield Rotary club is one of the finest in this section of the country and augments all civic movements and enjoys good weekly performances. The club members enjoyed a chicken dinner out in the Brownfield ranch last week and will this week entertain the State Highway Commission on its visit to Brownfield. The Brownfield Rotary club was organized by the Lubbock Rotary after the first of this year.

Brownfield court yard presents a very attractive appearance as the commissioners' court has had the yard cleaned and all the trees watered and the shrubbery put in first class condition.

The City Council of Brownfield has ordered a general clean up campaign for the city, and all vacant lots to be cleaned up and weeds cut and if the property owners do not do this it may be done by the city and charged against the property as tax.

Slaton Bank Shows Increased Deposits

SLATON, July 11.—The sound financial condition of this part of the South Plains is shown by statements issued by local banks revealing financial conditions at the close of business. June 30. Individual deposits have increased more than 25 per cent within the past year, while the demands for loans have been such that total loans outstanding with the banks are 16 per cent lower than one year ago. Poultry, eggs and cream, together with a large payroll here, have served to boost the general conditions in this territory, according to local business men.

MILLER NON-COMMITTED

DALLAS (AP)—Lecturers' speaker Harry Miller is a recent "sayer" who has refrained from taking sides on the proposed four constitutional amendments to be voted in August. "The main thing is not how you vote, the matter of prime importance is that you vote," he said. Governor Moody intends to take the stump in favor of the amendments.

PENSION UNSATISFACTORY

DALLAS (AP)—Good men are being lost to the city fire and police departments because of unsatisfactory pension regulations, the police commissioner here said. He intends to strike the age limit ground 67, regardless of number of years of service.

PARTY FOR OIL FRATERNITY IS HERALDED WIDE

GLOWING ACCOUNTS OF NEW OIL SECTION ARE USED OVER STATE

As out-of-town newspapers trickled into Lubbock, telling the story of the city's "get acquainted" party for members of the oil fraternity

The first three papers to come into Lubbock today were the Abilene Reporter-News, the Dallas Morning News and the Amarillo News

The Amarillo News story, written by that paper's oil editor, Paul S. Hedrick, veteran of 9 years on the oil desk of the Tulsa World, pointed out that a new oil area had come into its own

The Dallas News gave a detailed account of the meeting, including a report of the address made by Edgar T. H. Oxford, representative of the Sinclair interests on the South Plains, in which he told the visitors that Lubbock was and should be the area's headquarters

The Abilene Reporter-News, with a front page "banner," gave the meeting one of the most important positions possible, featured in its change opening demand sterling ruling around 4.85 and French francs close to 2.51 cents

Officials Enjoy Joke At Expense Of One Governor

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Department of agriculture officials today claimed they had a right to let go a few quiet chuckles at the expense of Governor Ritchie of Maryland

The governor in a speech before the Indiana Bar association at French Lick, Ind., last Friday attacked bureaucracy in the government and told his audience the federal protecting process had gone to the extent of issuing a pamphlet entitled "vest pocket essay on kissing"

The charge brought a denial from officials here who declared they had issued no such treatise from any government department and they said today investigation has disclosed the essay was the work of Dr. I. K. Atherton of the University of Maryland

Dr. Atherton is employed in hog cholera eradication work for the state university, which is entitled to circulate its reports and bulletins on agriculture though the mails free of postage in government penalty envelopes

The essay turned out to be a mimeographed discourse whose title was misleading in that it was a general discussion of kissing and a defense of that indulgence to hold the reader's attention while bringing in its real object, that feeding garbage swill and refuse to hogs is courting outbreaks of hog cholera

An alleged transaction to secure defeat of Moore's optometry trial by the legislature

There they found Lee. He denied knowledge of the whereabouts of either woman, but detectives entered the half flooded cellar and with their flash lights discovered further human fragments in three ash cans. Lee was arrested

As a material witness the police detained Christian Jensen, who roomed with Lee. Both men were compelled to view the reconstructed bodies of the women, but steadfastly denied any knowledge of the crime

Otto Neilson, a friend of the two men, was held for questioning length in efforts to justify the first continuance of the case, declaring that sudden illness of W. A. Chamberlain, chief state witness, left the state only one recourse, regardless of what witness examined before Moore's case was continued
