Crisis In Europe Gathering Momentum

Eight Federal Indictments Voted In Tahoka Theft Case

Bills Echo Mail Pouch Rifling Of $28,950

Defendants To Be Tried Here; Investigations Extended As Far Away As Atlanta

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 16.—Eight men were indicted here in a bill returned today by a federal grand jury, charging connection with the theft of $28,950 cash from a railway mail car at Tahoka last November.

The indicted were Jack Cathey, Roy L. Cathey and M. L. Cathey, of near O'Donnell, destination of the money shipment; James Oscar Petty, O'Donnell; James T. Morris, Kerrville; Sidney A. Miller, of Spur and Dallas; Carl E. Williams of Brownwood, and Rufus H. McNurlen, of near Ranger.

Some Money Not Found

Federal, state and local officials over much of the south and southwest had been engaged on the case since the shipment, sent from the Dallas Federal Reserve bank to a bank at O'Donnell, disappeared from a car on the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Nov. 5.

United States Attorney Eastus said various sums of the amount had been recovered but about $9,000 or $10,000 was still missing. He said the cases would be tried at Lubbock.

Case One Of Most Baffling Ever Probed In Area

The indictment Wednesday by a federal grand jury of eight men in connection with the disappearance early in November of a United States mail pouch containing approximately $28,950 was seen officially as a definite step toward the closing of one of the most daring and sensational robberies of this area.

Apparently without a definite clue until two months after the perpetration of the asserted crime, a large number of federal officers, most of them with the postal service, worked on the case. Then after the first arrest and arraignment, that of Carl E. Williams of Brownwood at San Angelo Jan. 20, officers picked up suspects from O'Donnell west to Atlanta, Ga., east.

Spur Suspect Talks

The mail pouch disappeared when en route from the Dallas Federal Reserve bank to the First National bank at O'Donnell. According to the indictments, it was stolen at Tahoka.

Disclosures of Sidney A. Miller of Spur and Dallas after his arrest in Atlanta, assertedly in possession of a portion of the money, led officers to a little frequented place in Dallas county only to find that someone had beat them to the place where Miller said some of the money had been buried.

Mrs. Olive Fluke, United States commissioner and deputy district clerk, said she expected copies of the indictments would be sent here "in two or three days."

Revised Toll Shows 22 Storm Victims

(By The Associated Press)

The dead in a series of trans-Mississippi tornadoes numbered 22 Wednesday night. In sections of eight states there was heavy damage.

The storms struck Tuesday, following upon an erratic but generally northward course, and yesterday the list of casualties rose as men searched all day through the far-scattered ruins.

The Belleville, Ill., area was hardest hit. There nine died. Eight were killed in the region of Kennett, Mo., four in Alabama and one in Georgia. Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa, other states affected, reported no deaths.

There were unofficial estimates that the homes of at least 1,000 persons were destroyed.

Skunk Killed; Cost Is Worth Every Scent To Marksman

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 16. (AP) William Coombes was out $115 today because a skunk sought refuge beneath his home.

He dragged the animal on the end of a wire to a back yard. With his $115 shotgun, he aimed and fired. The gun exploded, but enough shot found its mark to kill the skunk.

Coombes had forgoten he had stuffed a rag in the barrel when storing the gun for the winter.

Turkey Hits The Floor; Spring's Not Far Away

(By The Associated Press)

WATERTOWN, Wis., March. 16.—Spring, according to Watertown's reckoning, arrived today — Arthur E. (Turkey) Gehrke ended his winter hibernation.

Gehrke, who for years has spent the cold months in bed, picked a mild but misty day to stir from his blankets.

Unless another cold spell sets in, Gehrke said, he probably will maintain his routine schedule at his Main street tavern until next October or November.

Gehrke took his annual dive beneath the comforters Oct 12. He stayed there throughout the winter, eating prodigious quantities of turkey (his fondness for it gave him the nickname) to sustain his 220-pound frame, and whiling away the hours by reading and sleping.

Turkey says cold gives him an abdominal "misery."

Seadlund Must Die In Chair For Crimes

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 16.—A federal court jury tonight condemned kidnaper John Henry Seadlund—the man who told G-men he'd rather "burn" than languish in prison—to death in the electric chair.

The jurors answered "yes" to the question of whether the extreme penalty should be impossed on Seadlund, 27-year-old former Ironton, Minn., lumberjack who pleaded guilty to the $50,000 ransom abduction of Charles S. Ross, 72, retired Chicago greeting card manufacturer.

Verdict Taken Calmly

The slim, curly-haired defendant received the news with no visible display of emotion.

He even contrived to smile — a rather set smile, as he was escorted from the courtroom.

Seadlund pleaded guilty to an indictment charging he kidnaped Ross Sept. 25, 1937, held him for ransom and transported him in interstate commerce from suburban Franklin Park to a hideout near Emily, Minn. The body of Ross and James Atwood Gray, 19, named by Seadlund as his companion in the abduction, were found in a cave near Spooner, Wis., after Seadlund's capture Jan. 14 at the Santa Anita race track in California.

Killer Offers Own Version

Seadlund dramatically took the witness stand today after his confession to federal agents was read to the jury. In his own words he reviewed the acts of himself and Gray in seizing Ross as he rode with his former secretary, Miss Florence Reihage, taking Ross to Emily; the sending of four ransom notes to the Ross family and friends giving instructions for the ransom payment.

He described in detail the collecting of the $50,000 thrown to the roadside five miles east of Rockford, Ill., the night of Oct. 8 by a white-clad motorcycle messenger.

But Seadlund insistesd he intended throughout to release Ross unharmed after the ransom collection. He said Gray started a fight at the Spooner hideout that ended in the deaths of Gray and Ross.

New Trial Asked

Seadlund was caught spending ransom money at the pari-mutuel windows of the Santa Anita track. Later he led G-men to the hideouts, the bodies and a cache of $32,000 in ransom money near Walker, Minn.

Counsel for Seadlund immediately moved for a new trial and Judge Barnes set Saturday at 9 a. m. for a hearing on the motion.

Seadlund showed no emotion as the jury announced its finding. He stared intently at the jurors as they were polled.

Under federal law the death penalty will be imposed in the manner used in the state where a defendant is condemned. Illinois uses the electric chair.

Surgeons Remove Eye Of Ralls Boy Hit With Baseball Bat

The left eye of Nelson Ligon, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Ligon of Ralls, was removed by surgeons at West Texas hospital Wednesday afternoon as a result of the boy's being struck with a baseball bat earlier that day.

The boy's father said the accident happened when the bat slipped from a playmate's hand. A group of boys were playing baseball in the noon hour at the Ralls High school, where Nelson is a freshman.

Relatives late Wednesday night said the boy's condition was satisfactory.

British, French Naval Accord Announced

Danger Generated By Spanish Situation May Increase Mediterranean Patrol

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 16.—Great Britain promised France naval aid tonight if Italian and German forces in Spain menaced France's North African communications.

In return, Premier Leon Blum told his cabinet France would maintain non-intervention in Spain.

By this decision, France kept her border with government Spain shut to men and munitions and dropped her plans for an immediate effort with Britain to negotiate a Spanish truce.

That the Spanish government appeared to have stopped the insurgents' drive toward the Mediterranean, at least temporarily, also was cited by Blum as enabling France to keep her frontier shut.

More Ships Likely

Preparations, nevertheless, continued to assure security of France's Pyrenees border as well as freedom of communication on the Mediterranean, vital sea roadway of French and British empires.

The army, it was said, judged the 70,000 troops now garrisoned on the Spanish border as sufficient under any circumstances.

The navy, however, was planning to add extra ships to its Mediterranean patrol.

Chamberlain's answer to Blum's urgent appeal was taken to the French foreign office by Sir Eric Phipps, the British ambassador, before the prime minister announced to commons that Britain would adhere to Spanish neutrality.

"Not A Moment To Lose"

But, it was said, the armistice plan was held in abeyance and might be made at any time. French officials had said that France would have "no alternative" but to open her frontier to aid Spain's harassed government unless Britain joined her.

The British government, it was learned, also asked more time to take a definite stand on Czechoslovakia. Blum had told London there was "not a moment to lose."

Informed sources viewed Britain's promise to work with France to keep Mediterranean communications open as a logical sequence to the anti-piracy accord and the growing military and naval collaboration between London and Paris.

The French cabinet drafted a ministerial declaration which will be read tomorrow.

Situation Described As Grave

Its chief note will be an appeal to all Frenchmen, at home and in the colonies, to unite in the face of a grave international situation.

The declaration will stress the imperative need for France to increase her armed strength.

Request for British aid in obtaining a Spanish armistice came after the appeal of Spain's premier, Juan Negrin, for French help to keep government resistance from collapsing.

France was concerned particularly over reports German and Italian troops in the Spanish insurgent ranks were increasing.

Earlier today France and Russia pleaded themselves to go to the aid of their Czech ally in case she became the next object of German expansion.

Informed sources said France and

Scientific Aplomb Shaken As Jackass Penguins Hatched

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP) — Everything's cuckoo in the zoo's bird house today—for Mollie and Moe are double-barreled penguin parents at last.

Born to them Saturday was Malcolm, a mite of a jackass penguin, said by keepers to be the first ever hatched in an American zoo.

And—born to them yesterday was Mortimer!

"Yes, sir," exclaimed Dr. William M. Mann, the zoo director, "Mollie and Moe have confused science and confounded skeptics. Let joy be unrestrained."

It was, too, in a fowl sort of way.

The whole place was caught in a carnival spirit, and extra rations of fish and grain were the order of the day.

Tech Barrow Is Grand Champ

The grand champion barrow chosen from among hundreds exhibited at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth was owned by Texas Technological college, Dean A. H. Leidigh of the agricultural division as informed late Wednesday.

The barrow had been named champion in the Hampshire division earlier. Tech's Hampshire pen entry of three barrows also was adjudged champion.

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department, informed Dean Leidigh of the victories in a telegram from Fort Worth.

Victory Bells Rung

Recognition of a team victory was given when Victory bells in the east tower of the administration building at Texas Technological college were rung Wednesday afternoon because of the dairy products judging team's clean sweep of first prizes in contests it entered.

The dairy cattle judging team of which Casey Fine is coach had returned and the livestock judging, dairy products judging, and meat judgin gteams were expected to return Wednesday night.

Death Claims Father Of Tech Athletics Business Manager

Hugh "Bo" Williams, business manager of athletics at Texas Technological college, Wednesday morning was called to his Comanche home because of the death of his father, C. F. Williams.

The Tech man's father had been bedridden several weeks and his death early Wednesday was not unexpected, friends said. The Lubbock man was accompanied by a cousin, John Williams, junior student at Tech and resident of La Fonda, men's dormitory at 2406 Main street.

Funeral services will be conducted at Comanche at 2 o'clock this afternoon, it was reported. Other funeral arrangements and the date of Hugh Williams' return had not been announced Wednesday night.

Optimistic Estimate Of Motor Fuel Supply Is Reported

NEW ORLEANS, March 16. (AP) — Because of scientific production control, today's mechanized civilization can look to a plentiful supply of motor fuel for years to come, members of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists said today.

In private discussion they echoed remarks of Col. E. O. Thompson, Austin, Tex., chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, who stated there is no basis for fear of a petroleum shortage.

Seven-Year Masquerade Ended; Cop's Learn "Boy" Is Girl

ST. LOUIS, March 16. (AP) — A "bellboy" employed at a downtown hotel seven years was discovered to be a woman when examined today by city hospital physicians, Police Captain Robert Kaiser announced.

Picked up for routine questioning, the bellboy, 27, gave the name of John Brock. Kaiser said his suspicions were aroused when he talked with the prisoner and he ordered the hospital examination.

Bombs Rained From Sky On Barcelona

BARCELONA, March 16. (AP) — Insurgent planes tonight inflicted the heaviest bombing on Barcelona the city had yet suffered.

Casualties still were not completely counted but at least 14 were known dead and 20 injured.

The raiders came in waves for more than three hours, starting when the streets were jammed with demonstrators demanding that the government continue its resistance at all costs.

More bombs fell than in any previous air attack. Many buildings in the center of the city were struck and huge clouds of smoke from fires shattered structure blotted out the clear sky.

Many nearby towns also were bombed.

The first insurgent bombs scattered thousands of Catalonians who earlier had massed around the president's palace to hear fiery speeches of trade union and political leaders assuring them of the loyalty of their army and the determination of their government.

Then, following a sound truck, the crowds began winding through the streets when the whine of sierns gave the air raid alarm.

The rally dissolved amid the sounds of bombs and anti-aircraft fire.

"I Feel Better," Says Fire Fighter—And Falls Dead

BALTIMORE, March 16. (AP) — Fireman Milton B. Magill, after helping extinguish a small fire, remarked to his fellows: "I don't feel so good." They persuaded him to go to the infirmary. After treatment, Magill said "I feel better; how about going home?"

"You'd better wait," an attendant said.

Magill said "OK," collapsed and died.

Tech To Build New Courts

Contracts for three new re-inforced concrete tennis courts and wire backstops for four courts at Texas Technological college probably will be let this week, according to James G. Allen, acting dean of men and varsity tennis coach.

Bids on construction are being received, but will be subject to approval of the college.

Courts will be situated north of the men's dormitory near the court presented the college by the 1937 senior class. Each will be 108 feet long and 48 feet wide, with 15 feet allowed behind each base line.

To Pay For Itself

The re-inforced concrete will be poured on a six-inch sand cushion with sliding rods dividing sections so as to give protection against temperature-induced cracking. Courts will be sloped for more efficient drainage.

Money for construction will be borrowed by the athletic department of the college, Dean Allen said. Students will be allowed to rent the courts by the hour. Income from this source is expected to pay for them in 10 years.

Worksheets Must Be Filed By Saturday, Farmers Informed

Saturday will be the deadline for filing of worksheets by farmers who expect to participate in and conform to the 1938 farm program, said C. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent.

The worksheets contain information that agricultural authorities must have in preparing the 1938 acreage allotments for farmers. The worksheets show acreages devoted to crops and the production over a period of years.

Approximately 2,300 worksheets have been filed, said Walter Johnson, assistant county agent in charge of agricultural conservation. Approximately 3,000 are expected by Saturday night. Slightly more than 1,400 were filed last year.

Big Attendance Indicated For Museum's Annual Program

Record attendance is indicated by advance reservations for an annual meeting of West Texas Museum association to be held Friday at Texas Technological college, according to report late Wednesday by Hubert L. Allen.

Preparations are being made, he said, to entertain at least 125 at the banquet to start at 6:30 o'clock in the lounge of the girls' dormitory. The dinner will follow an afternoon session at the museum starting at 4 o'clock, at which several outstanding authorities on historical subjects will speak.

TANKER TOWED TO PORT

GALVESTON, March 16. (AP)—The tanker Andrew Jackson, which was disabled by fire early Tuesday morning when she was about 160 miles southeast of Galveston, was being towed to a local shipyard by commercial tugs late tonight after the United States coast guard cutter Saranac had brought her safely to this harbor entrance about 4:30 p. m. today.

Direct Questions Put To Hitler; Fear Growing

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 16—Britain today thrust the issue of peace in Europe squarely before Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

She and France particularly were active in a sudden wave of war fears that involved most countries of Europe.

There was a crisis in the Spanish situation, tension between Poland and Lithuania, fresh alarm in Czechoslovakia, while in Italy Premier Benito Mussolini declared Germany was right in taking Austria.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, in a vigorous statement in the house of lords, called on Germany to respect assurances to Czechoslovakia that Austro-German union was not aimed at her.

"We naturally expect the German government to obey them," he declared, "and if indeed they desire to see peace maintained—as I earnestly hope they do—there is no quarter in Europe in which it is more vital that undertakings should scrupulously be respected."

A Polish-Lithuanian border incident suddenly added new danger in a situation already tense over Germany's next move in central Europe and the growing possibility of Italo-German domination in Spain through a victory of the insurgents in the 20-month civil war.

France, alarmed by presence of Italians and Germans in Spain, appealed to Britain for joint action to seek a Spanish armistice and won a British promise of concerted naval action should French communications with North Africa be threatened.

The price of the pledge was continued French nonintervention in the Spanish conflict.

French-Russian Accord

Excited by the possibility of a German move against her ally, Czechoslovakia, France also had sought British aid in event of action by Hitler to "liberate" the 3,800,000 Germans in the war created republic.

Soviet Russia reaffirmed her pledge of armed aid to Czechoslovakia, her ally as well, in case of aggression.

Hitler returned to Berlin for a conqueror's welcome after his absorption of his native land into the German nation and summoned the reichstag, his sounding board for important pronouncements, to meet Friday to receive "a declaration" by the government.

Premier Mussolini assured his people Germany's movement to the Austro-German border in the absorption of Austria constituted no threat to Italy.

Fear swept Lithuania that Poland might use her army to force a settlement of a crisis following a border clash last Friday in which a Polish soldier was killed.

Berlin army circles said Poland had given Lithuania an ultimatum expiring late today. This was denied by an official spokesman in Warsaw.

Hitler's return to Berlin was stated to have been hastened by this development and there was an unconfirmed report in Berlin that units of the German fleet at Swin-

Power Facilities In TVA Area May Sell

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP) — Wendell L. Willkie, utilities executive, and David E. Lilienthal, power director of TVA, went through the preliminaries of driving a bargain for government purchase of privately-owned power facilities in the TVA area today.

A discussion, carried on throughout the day, resulted, Willkie said, in "no change in the general situation." He added that the conference was confined to methods of procedure and to the preservation of statistical data.

A recent supreme court decision placed the federal government and municipalities in a position to install publicly-owned power facilities in competition with the private utilities.

Willkie exhibited a readiness to dispose of 18 private power properties, if he can get his price.

"It's either sell or have our system duplicated," he told reporters.

And Now Civil Action Filed Against Confessed Robber

SAN ANTONIO, March 16. (AP) — Suit against Harry Wells, who was captured at Gladewater yesterday and is being held in the county jail here on a federal bank robbery charge, has been filed in District Judge John Onion's court by the National Surety company of New York.

The firm is suing for the $1,030.42 found in possession of the fugitive at the time of his capture. The company sets out that as the surety company serving the Citizens' State bank of Luling, it was required to pay the bank $2,504.25, amount taken in the holdup of March 5, and for which Wells is charged.

Nazification Of Austria Nears Completion

By A. D. STEFFERUD
Associated Press Staff Writer

VIENNA, March 16. — Austria's nazi masters swept away the last traces of her sovereignty today with the efficiency of a new broom.

Customs, institutions, men vanished. Nazi regimentation appeared and with it worry, rumor, denunciations and sober second thoughts—less tangible, but no less real than the control of theaters, money, schools, police and hospitals.

Major Emil Fey, anti-Nazi and iron man of the Dollfuss regime, was found dead in his home. Beside him were the bodies of his wife and 20-year-old son. Newspapers said he killed them and then shot himself.

The newspaper Neues Weiner Abendsblatt reported the arrest of Louis Rothschild, banker member of the great banking family.

Numerous "Traffic Accidents"

The official gazette carried a long list of "traffic accidents."

Several correspondents and other foreigners fled. Some who remained heard hints they would not be welcomed much longer.

Foreigners pinned flags of their countries to their lapels for protection.

Jewish stores were placarded. Trucks drove up to them and carted away clothes, perfumes, shoes, hats, soap, toothpaste.

Five Hundred Students To Participate In Music Festival This Week-End

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

A YOUNG man's hardest problem is to find a girl attractive enough to please him, and dumb enough to like him.

HE STARTED HERE,

WHILE we are glad Fort Worth teachers are pleased with the progress Marion Roberts is making in his piano studies at the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music, we think credit should go to his Lubbock teachers, Miss Eva Browning, and Mrs. Percy Grigg, the former Pauline Holland of this city, now of Rochester, N. H.

Marion has been fortunate in his program selection for tonight, we believe, including several Chopin etudes and numbers by Beethoven, Paderewski and Liszt. As for us, we're looking forward to Rachmaninoff's Prelude in G Minor, a composition that has always appealed to us.

The program is free to the public.

IN THE MAIL

Now that our first tulips are up. Let's ask the public to enjoy them by not asking for every blossom that comes into bloom. When they are cut and carried away it means only a few will enjoy them, but if left in the yard all can see them.

We who try to have flowers have old clothes which we wear when out in the yard early mornings working among the rose bushes with their thorns, tearing and scratching as we pass among them. Once we lay these old clothes aside for the day it is not so nice to have to change back into them several times a day or ruin the fresh ones we have put on to run out wading through muddy beds or over dusty grass to gather our last little flower for a mere speaking acquaintance or likely a stranger.

After all, any woman who has a yard can have a few flowers if she is willing to work for them. We have our sick friends, our churches, the hospitals, etc. which we like to remember, as well as having a few blooms in our yards for color and beauty.

I know a woman here who has beautiful flowers. She has had to put up a sign: "Flowers for Sale" to protect her yard. She has (during the season) from 15 to 20 telephone calls a day for flowers (gratis) not counting the persons who drive out to her place.

Let's try to be more considerate and buy our flowers from the florist or raise our own. We should grow up with our thrifty little city and forget our small town ways.

After all, our homes and gardens are supposed to be private, our haven of rest. Let's try to help to keep them so. Very sincerely yours, A Lover of Flowers.

IT'S SILLY BUSINESS

MOVIE audiences regard for one Robert Taylor appears to be similar to liking olives—you either do or don't and it's possible to acquire a taste for them. The picture that ran at the Palace this week was dedicated to the cause of "he-manizing" the handsome young Nebraskan. His next picture will continue the process by means of a fistic battle with four plug-uglies.

Of course the producers have studied the matter and are in a position to know but they don't popularize Mr. Taylor popular with us by making him the butt of silly jokes and giving him the prowess of War Admiral, Glenn Cunningham and Washington Huskies combined.

WORK-WORN FOLK

WE heard of two school teachers who bemoaned the fate that had led them into educational paths as their medium of earning a living. Apparently the possibility of changing their vocation had not occurred to them. We wondered if they would remain teachers until they died, or were placed on a pension. How many many workers there must to be who are not happy in their jobs and yet are not working toward a deliverance!

Here's advice to the work-worn that we read in a Pacific Coast Journal. Take it of leave it for what it's worth.

"Do you wake up in the morning alive and full of pep?
Does the air you breathe at dawning
put Spring in every step?
And then, upon arriving at your job,
your spirits fall—and the sunshine
turns to shadow that enfolds you like a pall?

With optimism vanquished,
your face assumes a frown.
(And you don't look very pleasant with a smile worn upside down).
Is your present occupation
so far beneath your taste?
Is there naught in your vocation
to make you feel disgraced?

Now here are some suggestions
like a blessing in disguise.
To heed their admonition
will make you 'worker-wise'.
Learn the art of cheerful giving;
In your duty never shirk.
For the better part of living comes from sharing in your work.

In every sort of circumstances
obey the Golden Rule;
Give credit due to everyone,
and think no one a fool.
What if the one right next to you
does act a little queer,
and violates the principles
you've always held most dear.

Don't thrust him with a verbal sword, or take his name in vain;
He's sure to meet his just reward,
and feel his share of pain.
Keep your attention straight ahead,
and mind your business well;
How soon the huntsman shall be prey, no one can ever tell.
The golden thread of friendliness,
is pliable and strong;
It blends in perfect harmony
and lasts a whole life long.
Just bring your head inside your hat, your wits within, your dome;
And bring your Heart to work with you, and make yourself at home."

Annual Exams Will Begin Here Today

Music festival examiners, chairmen and conductors are to meet at 9 o'clock this morning at the Hilton hotel to open formally the 15th annual South Plains Music Teachers association festival in which 500 students will participate today, Friday and Saturday.

Today's schedule will include piano examinations in the First Methodist church and at Senior high school; music memory examinations conducted by Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander from 3 until 5 p. m. in room 104 of Junior high school; a public piano recital by Marion Roberts of Fort Worth and Lubbock at 8 p. m. in the Senior high auditorium, and, immediately following the recital, a reception in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway, for students, parents, examiners and association teachers.

Recital Scheduled

Young Mr. Roberts, a student in the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music, arrived here Tuesday to visit with his mother, Mrs. Corinne Pickas. He will be assisted by Troy Pickens and Douglas, violinists, in tonight's recital.

Sen. Pittman Dubs Ickes "Meddler"; Urges Reorganization Bill Modification

Sarcasm Thrown Into Address

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Senator Pittman (D-Nev) urging modification of the administration's reorganization bill, told the senate today "there is nothing on earth but what Secretary Ickes wants to meddle with it."

The Nevada senator argued for adoption of the Wheeler amendment to the bill, saying he had received "authoritive" information that if the bill passed, President Roosevelt planned to transfer some of the functions of the forest service to the department of interior headed by Ickes.

"If the secretary of the interior had such a character and disposition as to listen to the advice of these forestry experts who have directed this work for 50 years, it might not be so bad," Pittman declared.

"But everything in recent history and experience indicates that there is nothing on earth but what he (Ickes) wants to meddle in.

"It might be well," Pittman continued sarcastically, "to amend this bill to prevent the secretary of the interior from taking over the foreign relations of this government."

Ickes recently spoke on a broadcast to the British empire.

While the senate debated, house leaders announced a final vote on the administration's billion dollar naval expansion bill would be deferred until Monday.

Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex) explained this was agreed upon because many members planned to be absent from the capital for St. Patrick's day Thursday and did not want to return until next week. Rayburn also said today the rivers and harbors committee probably would recommend regional planning legislation "within a week."

The senate finance committee considered the house-approved tax bill again this morning. After the meeting, committee attaches said R. V. Fletcher, general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, probably would be the first witness at the hearings tomorrow afternoon.

Treasury and congressional tax experts explained estate tax provisions of the house revenue measure at today's session.

Some sentiment still was heard from committee members for elimination of the undistributed profits tax, but Senator Connally (D-Tex) told reporters he did not favor outright repeal. He added that he might favor some modification of the house-approved levy.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) is among those who have expressed favor for repeal of the profits tax.

H. C. Pender, acting head of the government department of Texas Technological college, will speak to the As You Like It club in Plainview this afternoon.

A grass fire in the 2300-block Eighth street early Wednesday night caused no damage, reported firemen who were called at 6:15 o'clock.

J. W. Cook, who was charged in two cases with swindling with worthless check, Wednesday entered pleas of guilty of both charges and was fined one dollar and court costs by Judge J. J. Dillard of county court. A charge of liquor law violation against Oran Ashcraft was passed, and bond forfeiture was asked, Judge Dillard said, on failure of W. D. Kitron, charged with swindling with worthless check, to appear in court. Jurors were dismissed for the term. Only two other cases had been set.

Jurors for the next term of county court were selected by officials at the courthouse Wednesday. The new term will be opened Monday, said Judge J. J. Dillard with, calling of the dockets. Non-jury civil cases will be heard the first week. The second, third, fourth, sixth, seventh, and eighth weeks of the term will require juries, it was pointed out.

Morgan Dickinson, owner and manager of the Postoffice Drug store, Wednesday had recovered from a 10-day illness to the extent he returned to work. Dickinson lives half a mile east of Lubbock on East Broadway.

Condition of Ed Vaughn of Lubbock remained serious in a Cincinnati hospital Wednesday, family members here said. Vaughn has been ill since Jan. 9 and developed pneumonia last week.

Cooks and Waiters union will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at 1108 Texas avenue according to Lola Bell Kinser, president. The Lubbock chapter, organized two weeks ago, has 43 members.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Steward left Tuesday for Wichita Falls, where Steward will be employed as salesman for Draughon's Business college. Steward has served as principal of the college here the past two years.

The "finders-keepers" saying didn't apply in the case of a loser of a purse containing $10 and other contests at Texas Technological college Wednesday. The purse was recovered approximately 15 minutes after its owner had left it laying on a window sill, by which had passed dozens of persons. Mrs. Erne Lee, employe, took the purse to the losts and found service in Cecil Horne's office. Scores of articles are recovered through the lost and found service each year.

Practice will resume in the rifle range under the military building Thursday for ROTC students at Texas Technological college. Medals will be awarded May 20 to the freshman without previous military experience who has shown greatest improvement during this semester and to the student with the best shooting record. The "best all-around" second year student will be presented with a saber.

For the fifth successive time, Miss Ruth Pirtle, head professor of speech at Texas Technological college, will serve as critic judge at the Panhandel Speech Arts festival in Amarillo, Friday and Saturday. John Harding, instructor in Lusiness administration and graduate speech student, who serve as critic judge in the junior division. will accompany her. Miss Pirtle will serve in the senior division.

ONLY YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE

Does Spring begin on March 20th? . . . or on the 21st?

"Begin it today!" pleads your engine. "Bleed out my Winter-poisoned oil. But this Spring help me with more than an oil-change. Change to Your Mileage Merchant! And that's changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—the only way to change me into an OIL-PLATED engine."

You want this modern exclusive OIL-PLATING because especially in Summer your steady driving demands more than the plain old type of oil-film that slithers OFF the working parts like drops of quicksilver. Exactly the opposite is achieved by the Germ Process—patented. It makes droplets of oil act like a billion tiny suction cups, powerfully attracted and OIL-PLATED to every working surface.

Thus your OIL-PLATING never drains down, never invites friction, no matter how many thousands of starts and thousands of miles you make all Spring and Summer. And you'll notice Germ Processed oil sticking so close to "Full"—even in older cars—that you'll stick to Your Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company

Olympic Committee Confirms Tokyo As Host For 1940

Stage Is Set For Gloves Tourney Friday Night

Promising a calibre of boxing superior to that of the recent Golden Gloves tournament, the Lubbock District A.A.U. tournament is ready to be reeled off before the fans tomorrow night at the Auditorium.

Director Milton Coffey said last night that only a few vacant spots remained in the expected field of 32 boxers, a hand-picked squad which represents the best that the South Plains area is capable of producing in amateur boxing.

The entry field has been restricted to four fighters in each weight division, which works out a program of 24 fights to determine the championship in eight groups. In one or two instances, one division may not be filled, but special arrangements have been made in other groups to provide the full card of fighting.

This Trio Of Champs Ready To Go

Anxious to demonstrate their ring prowess again and try for more district titles are these three District Golden Gloves champs who'll return to the Auditorium ring tomorrow night in the District A.A.U. tournament. From left to right they are Ed Morrison of Colorado, middleweight battler; Rudy Russell of Crowell, the flyweight champ, and Tommy Coats of Seagraves, feather champ. They're all Texas Tech students.

Tickets Are Fading Fast

Eight o'clock is the time, the Auditorium ring is the place, and the tickets will remain on sale until noon tomorrow at the Hub Clothiers, the Hotel Hilton lobby and the Hotel Lubbock drugstore.

The field is made up largely of boys who competed in the semi-finals and finals of the Golden Gloves. More experienced, better able to take care of themselves and more capable offensively. They should "go" to town" in a big way, and there should be no disappointment.

The fight program will be conducted along the lines that made for success in the Golden Gloves. There will be no long waits, no time wasted between bouts. Capable handlers will run the boxers through as fast as possible, and the entire program should not consume more than 2 hours.

Sexton To Referee

O. J. "Bo" Sexton, popular Western Union manager and fight official will be the referee tomorrow night, and experienced judges will be at ringside.

Here's how the entries were shaping up last night, with pairings to be announced at ringside:

Flyweights: Rudy Russell, Crowell; Clifford Akins, Lamesa; James Johnson, Lockney and Harry Bell, Slaton.

Bantamweights: Tommy Coats, Seagraves; Billy Bates, Slaton; Speck Alford, Lockney, (one more expected).

Featherweights: H. W. Bradley, Littlefield; Wayne Penn, Lubbock CCC; Billy Joe Lucado, Slaton, and Claude Brown, Lockney.

Lightweights: Jack Lovin, Lubbock; Pete Nachlinger, Texas Tech; R. E. Golightly, Lockney, and James Stotts, Slaton.

Welterweights: Tommy Copeland, Texas Tech; Lloyd Henry, Slaton; Paul Teuton, Lockney, and a fourth is expected.

Middleweights: Jimmy McDuff, Crosbyton; Fats Spence, Lockney; Ed Morrison, Texas Tech, and a fourth to be selected.

Lightweights: Tutt Harcrow, Matador; John Buck, Morton, and Bob Ritchie, Lubbock, with a fourth to be selected.

Heavyweights: Fats Mitchell, Lockney; Herbert Lamb, Wilson; Calvin Williams, Lockney and Red Cunningham, Big Spring.

Date Change To Prohibit U. S. Collegians

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt, March 16.—Defeating opposition from China on the one hand and the United States, Great Britain and France on the other, the International Olympic committee today confirmed Tokyo as site of the 1940 Olympic games and changed the dates to September 21 to October 6.

Japan's right to hold the games was upheld despite a proposal by the Chinese delegate, Dr. C. T. Wang, that the games not be held in any country at war.

A communique from the I. O. C. stated that in view of the Olympic charter and assurances Tokyo was able to prepare for the games, the I. O. C. was "unable to consider" the request to hold the games elsewhere.

Blow To America

The change in the dates, originally set for August 25 to September 8, was regarded as a serious blow to the United States by Avery Brundage of Chicago, one of the American delegates.

"The United States will be affected especially by the change," said Brundage, "since American college athletes now will be unable to compete." The new dates conflict with the opening of college terms.

The I. O. C., however, despite votes against the alteration by the United States, Great Britain and France, accepted Japan's suggestion that the change be made in view of the heat prevalent at the end of August.

While also confirming Sapporo, Japan, as the site for the winter games, the I. O. C. ruled out skiing events. The committee took this means of meeting the International Ski federation's demand the I. O. C. accept the federation's definition of an amateur. Under federation rules, coaches and instructors are permitted to compete in amateur events.

A. A. U. HEAD REGRETS

Daniel J. Ferris, national secretary of the amateur athletic union, in confirming Brungade's view that the later dates would be a blow to the United States team, pointed that the large number of undergraduates or recently graduated athletes who scored for the United States in the 1936 track and field events at Berlin.

Most prominent was Jessie Owens, winner of the 100-meter and 200-meter sprints and the broad jump and member of the winning 400-meter relay team. Others were John Woodruff, 800-meter champion; Archie Williams, 400 meters; Forrest (Spec) Towns and Glenn Hardin, 110-meter and 400-meter hurdles, respectively; Cornelius Johnson, high jump, and Earle Meadows, pole vault.

BRITAIN STILL OPPOSES

LONDON, March 16. (AP) — H. F. Pash, vice president of the A. A. E., commenting on the International Olympics congress announcement that the 1940 games would be held in Tokyo, predicted today they would get no support from Britain.

"Many clubs are even taking the line that the games have ceased to fulfill their original purpose and should be discontinued," he said.

Giants Win 6th Game In Row

LAFAYETTE, La., March 16. (AP)—The New York Giants stretched their grapefruit league winning streak to six straight today, walloping their Jersey City (International League) farmhands 11 to 4.

Tom Baker, Hy Vandenberg and Johnny Meketi, dividing the Giants mound duties, had little difficulty.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16. (AP)—Belting Bill Dickey's three-base wallop with two on in the sixth inning broke up a pitchers' battle today and gave the New York Yankees a 2 to 0 grapefruit league win over the Boston Bees.

Dickey connected off Lou Fette, after Deacon Danny MacFayden had pitched five scoreless frames for the Bees.

REID, GREER TO PITCH

FORT WORTH, March 16. (AP)—Jackie Reid and Ed Greer, veterans on the Fort Worth pitching staff, have been named by Manager Homer Peel for duty in the team's first camp game tomorrow.

All Cats are in camp with the exception of Freddie Frink, who is en route from South Carolina.

SENS STOP CARDS

ORLANDO, Fla., March 16. (AP)—The Washington Senators bested the St. Louis Cardinals, 15 to 13, in a raggedly played exhibition baseball game here today.

Si Johnson and Lefty Bob Weiland gave up 18 hits while their mates collected 14 from three Washington hurlers, DeShong, Hogsett and Weaver.

Stock Show Entries Showing Increase

Nine Yoakum county 4-H club boys filed entries Wednesday in South Plains Junior Fat Stock show to be held here April 4, 5 and 6, according to the chamber of commerce.

All the animals are entered in various classes of the baby beef division, including five official entries in the "group of three" class. Other divisions will be for lights, weighing up to 850 pounds, and heavies weighing more than 850.

To Appear On Broadcast

The entries were submitted by H. B. Horn, Yoakum county farm agent with headquarters at Plains. He advised that several of the boys will appear at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon on the radio program over station KFYO sponsored by the Yoakum 4-H boys.

The boys who filed the new fat stock show entries are: Jack Cleveland, John Sam and Roby Cox, Manard and Marvin Fitzgerald and Hershel Stanford, all of Plains, and J. W. and Charles Williams, and Clarence Hinkle, all of Tokio.

Meeting Is Scheduled

Announcement also was made that the first meeting of the committee to arrange entertainment for boys participating in the show will be held at the chamber of commerce at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Members of the committee are Homer Thompson, assistant Lubbock county farm agent; L. M. Hardgrave, vocational agriculture teacher at Frenship; Ralph W. Howe, Crosby county farm agent; Roy Monk, vocational agriculture teacher at Roosevelt; and L. L. Johnson, state boys club agent at College Station.

Johnson, however, will be unable to attend. Word was received that he is ill at College Station and it is uncertain whether he will be able to attend the show at any time.

Red-Haired Bank Bandits Are Sought In Oklahoma Area

DAVIS, Okla., Mar. 16. (AP)—Two red-haired bank robbers were hunted by bloodhounds and hundreds of possemen today in the Arbuckle mountains where tradition has it outlaws of an earlier era used to go to bury their loot.

Possemen, guided by two airplanes, poked into "robbers cave" and other hideaways of the notorious Jesse James gang looking for the pair that robbed the bank of Paoli of about $1,000 yesterday and abducted the cashier and his wife.

The cashier and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Pendley, contrived to escape late yesterday from the heavily-armed robbers through the bold bluffing Bert Jolly, farm youth armed only with a shotgun, who told the pair as they fled into underbrush that "you're surrounded."

Southern Association Grads Moving Up

Chicago Cub outfield. Skipper Charles Grimm will stop his banjo-playing any day to greet a gardener who can sing the hickory song.

Cleveland looks to New Orleans recruits to help revamp its wobbly infield. A classy second-or third-baseman can write his own ticket with the Indians. Oscar Grimes, Tom Irwin and Bob Shilling are the lads to whom opportunity beckons.

Twirlers Tom Drake and John Humphries and Outfielder Roy Weatherly are others with the Indians. Humphries was the only Southern association flinger to win 20 games. Drake notched 14. Weathcily was with the Tribe before and is returning for another shot.

Detroit needs pitchers. Al Benton and William Carl Doyle of Memphis may fill the bill.

The Red Sox all but transported Little Rock, franchise and all, to Boston. They lassoed seven Travelers: Pitchers Emerson Dickman, William Humphrey, Dick Midkiff and Lee Rogers, Outfielders Fred Deal and Leo Nomnenkamp and Infielder Jim Tabor.

Dickman and Humphrey won 16 games each, while Midkiff and Rogers copped 13 each. Deal's batting average was a juicy .340, while Nonnenkamp was close with .332. Tabor may be the utility infielder Joe Cronin needs.

Hartay Blocks Sampson's Special To Cop Match

George Hartay tossed a block into Dick Sampson's oft-successful special leg hold to win the main event of the wrestling card last night at the Auditorium.

Never having been blocked in the hold, Sampson was taken by surprise. The crowd had conceded him the victory, when after seven minutes of milling in the third fall he applied his pet hold, but the Hungarian conceded nothing. The Denton footballer explained that the block was more painful than his special.

Hartay Wins First Fall

Hartay captured the first fall, pinning Sampson in 25 minutes after a series of body slams. They started cleanly and seldom during the match did either fighter resort to rough tactics. It was a good scrap all the way.

Not a single time all night did a rassler reach for the ropes to defend himself—something rather uncommon in this league.

The Sampson special had been a better weapon in the second setto. Its author and copyrighter used a few body slams of his own design to set the stage for first application of the hold. A bit groggy from meeting the canvas, Hartay appeared a sucker for the special. The fall required 15 minutes.

Dick Metz And Ky Laffoon Win In 4-Ball Match

MIAMI, Fla., March 16. (AP)—Dick Metz and Ky Laffoon today won the 15th renewal of the $4,000 International four ball golf tournament, defeating Willie Goggin and Ben Hogan 6 and 5 in the final.

The winners were one up after the first 18 holes and Metz birdied six of the first nine holes on the afternoon round to give his side an outgoing best-ball of 30, six under par.

They were six up at the three quarter mark and went to seven up at the 28th with a par. They halved the 29th, lost the 30th to par and then Metz saved a half on the 31st by downing a seven-foot putt for a par to close out the match.

It was Metz, hampered by injuries for almost a year, who made the match a rout after his Chicago team had been held to a one-hole lead in the morning. His short game was deadly accurate. Metz clicked off six birdies on the first afternoon nine and his team made the 27-hole turn six up with a best ball 30, six under par.

Each of the winners pocketed $1,000 while the runners-up earned $500 apiece.

Missouri Valley And Hollywood Fives Triumph

DENVER, March 16. (AP) — Three Missouri Valley AAU league quintets, and the Hollywood Athletic club, another seeded team, reached the quarterfinals of the National AAU basketball tournament in the afternoon games on today's program.

The Wichita, Kan., Gridleys eliminated the South's last contestant, the Gaylords of Bogalusa, La., 57 to 35.

Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips, one of the top favorites, won as it pleased from the Portland, Ore., Packards, 65 to 22.

The Oklahoma City Parks defeated the Oakland, Calif., Stroms, 37 to 24.

The Hollywood team defeated the Studebakers of South Bend, 57 to 31.

Sons Of Ex-Major League Stars On Boston Bee Club

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, March 16.—Walter St. Denis, master publicist for Mike Jacobs, is in Chicago whooping up the Joe Louis-Harry Thomas brawl and I'll swear you can hear the guy from here . . . Boston Bees have three sons of former major leaguers on their roster—Gene Moore, whose dad once twirled for the Pirates; Carl Maggert, whose pafer outfielded for the Athletics and a kid named Delrake whose pop used to chase flies in the Detroit gardens along with Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford . . . Why are New York writers with the Jints calling him "Fraud" Frick—is it because of the dead ball?

Greensboro, N. C., will do its stuff March 26-28 with a $5,000 open golf tournament that will attract all the top flight pros . . . They expect so many entrants they'll play the meet over two courses.

Tom Siler, AP Nashville scribe, now doing the town (and how) says Vanderbilt will have three southpaw passers and punters next season.

Ernie Lombardi and Virgil Davis of the Reds are running a race to see who is the world's worst baserunner . . . So far in their major league career each has swiped five sacks . . . Davis took five years to get his and Lombardi seven . . . By a strange quirk, each has a lifetime batting average of .315.

Amicable Life Head Addresses Luncheon Group Wednesday

"Life Insurance as Applied to Human Needs" was subject of a talk by A. R. Wilson, president of the Amicable Life Insurance company, at a luncheon meeting attended by 38 persons Wednesday at Hilton hotel.

It was a special meeting of the South Plains chapter of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters. Lucian T. Jones of San Antonio, secretary of the state organization, attended.

Out-of-town delegations from Friona, Farwell, Ralls, Anton, Lamesa, and Floydada were present.

Wilson and Jones remained here last night and, accompanied by Chas. A. Whitacre, president of the South Plains chapter, were to leave this morning for Amarillo where Wilson will speak at noon. He will speak in Wichita Falls Friday.

Albany Firemen Control Blaze That Threatens Great Damage

ALBANY, March 16. (AP)—A $10,000 fire swept through the two-story Albany garage building here today, destroying a filling station, cafe, grocery, garage and the upstairs rooming house where the blaze started.

Albany firemen, happy over dedication less than 12 hours earlier of a new fire station, confined the blaze to the frame building.

Sooners To Invade Texas For First Baseball Games

NORMAN, Okla., March 16. (AP) — Eighteen University of Oklahoma baseball players will leave with their coach, Lawrence "Jap" Haskell, tomorrow for Waco, where they open their season in a two-game series with Baylor university Friday and Saturday.

The Sooners will move over to Austin Sunday and meet Texas university in a similar series Monday and Tuesday.

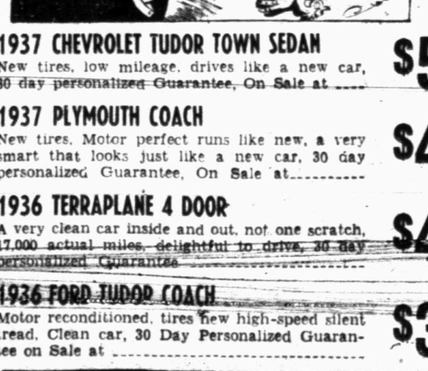

With all positions virtually decided, Haskell's potential starting lineup is sprinkled with five sophomores. An entirely new infield, replacements in the outfield and additions to the pitching and catching departments have been made with the promising crop of first-year men.

The all-sophomore infield, which has displayed both fielding finesse and batting power in pre-season drills, includes Roy Myer, southpaw first baseman from McCloud; Joe Gulledge, member of the 1936 national semi-pro championship team from Duncan, at second; Joffre Cross, Tulsa, at shortstop, and Jack Riley, Sayre, at third base.

Despite Loyalist Resistance, Franco Blasts Caspe And Extends His Might

Reinforcements Rushed To Front

(By The Associated Press)

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier, March 16.—Insurgent field artillery blasted Caspe into ruins today in an effort to dislodge government troops menacing the left flank of the insurgent army marching toward the sea.

While trying to drive this stubborn government force northward across the Ebro river the insurgents ranged widely through their 3,000 square miles of newly-conquered territory, mopping up straggling government units and reestablishing lines of communication.

General Francisco Franco's fast-moving troops, which in less than a week penetrated more than 60 miles into government territory east of the Zaragoza-Teruel line, seized control of the important Montalban-Caspe highway and sent advance parties through the San Just mountains southeast of Montalban.

Barrier Of Troops Met

But at Caspe the insurgents were confronted with government resistance which threatened to stall their entire drive.

General Franco called reinforcements to prevent his drive — the greatest offensive of the Spanish civil war—from stopping. His great spring thrust is aimed at dismembering government Spain and forcing quick capitulation of the Barcelona government.

General Franco checked his eastward drive at Raimundo—approximately 35 miles from the Mediterranean—and rushed troops from the main body back to Caspe to help crush government resistance. The government had sent reinforcements into the city from across the Ebro river.

It was apparent General Franco intended to protect his coastward advance on the north by establishing a strong security line along the south bank of the Ebro.

Shaky Royalists Recover

The government, recovering to some extent from its panicky disorganization of yesterday, hurried reinforcements up from southern ports.

At insurgent headquarters in Salamanca, it was announced 6,000 government soldiers had been taken prisoner during the past week and four government divisions had been decimated. Twenty-seven government planes were shot down.

Barcelona authorities, in support of their contention that the government's terrific losses were due to German and Italian troops fighting with the insurgents, quoted a captured Italian aviator as saying General Franco now has 700 Italian and German warplanes.

In a desperate plea for French assistance yesterday, the government asked for 200 planes.

Barnett Addresses Cochran Teachers

WHITEFACE, March 16—Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education at Texas Technological college, was the principal speaker at a banquet given in the high school gymnasium here by the Cochran County Teachers association. Boyd Crooks, head of the Lehman schools, was chairman and toastmaster.

The banquet was prepared by Mrs. B. Stanton, head of the home economics department of the Whiteface schools, and the girls in her department. Fifty-four plates were set, and members of the association from all over the county were present, besides county officials, business men and their wives, and County School Superintendent W. E. Fry and Mrs. Fry.

Supt. Fry presented the association its charter, with an address, and several brief speeches were made by various teachers and others interested in the welfare of the association, which was organized Feb. 28.

Lubbock Baptist Leader To Speak

L. E. Waite, educational director of the Lubbock First Baptist church will speak at 9:45 o'clock Friday morning on "Secretarial Work of Baptist Training Unions" at the annual district 8 Baptist convention at Snyder.

At least 500 are expected to attend today and Friday according to Rev. J. J. Strickland of Big Spring, district missionary. The district, which is bounded by Odessa, Lamesa, Snyder and Roscoe, includes the Lamesa, Mitchell-Scurry and Big Spring associations.

Leaders To Attend

Five outstanding denominational leaders from outside district 8 will appear on the program Waite said. They are Dr. R. C. Campbell, Dallas state executive secretary; Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dallas, Texas state Baptist Training union secretary; G. C. Hopkins, Dallas, state Sunday school secretary; Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, Brownwood, president of Howard Payne college; and Dr. H. H. Muirhead, returned missionary from South America.

Annual district 9 Baptist convention, which includes Lubbock, will be held at Plainview Baptist church next Wednesday and Thursday. Among those planning to attend from Lubbock are Waite, who is district vice president; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, secretary, Mrs. F. B. Malone and Miss Corinne Brown.

Students To Go To NMMI Meet

In acceptance of an invitation from the International Relations club of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, a delegation of Texas Technological students will meet with students of 11 other colleges and universities of West Texas and New Mexico there Friday and Saturday, according to announcement Wednesday.

The host club is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International peace.

Two main speakers to address the conference on various aspects of international affairs will be Dr. Jose Antonia Encinas Franco, visiting Carnegie professor at the University of Denver, and Professor Glover Clark, eminent writer and authority on the Far East, also associated with the University of Denver.

Noted Speakers To Attend

The Carnegie Endowment will be represented by Miss Amy Heminway Jones, who lived in France and Germany and traveled widely in Europe and the Orient.

Col. D. C. Pearson, superintendent of N. M. M. I. will open the conference. Round table discussions on "Far Eastern Crisis," "Economic Readjustments for World Peace," and "Neutrality, Isolation or Cooperation," will be conducted by visiting delegates.

There are 860 clubs organized throughout the world. Texas clubs invited to send delegates are Texas Tech, Sul Ross State Teachers college, Amarillo Junior college, West Texas State Teachers college, Texas College of Mines and Wayland college.

Faith And Just Try To Keep The Irish Down Today--It's Saint Patrick's Anniversary

By RUBY LEE LEARY

Begorra! Today is Saint Patrick's day!

This most beloved Irish saint, Patrick, has become an international symbol from a land of make-believe, legend, love and sacrifice, and a country of brave lads and beautiful lasses.

America will join the world in paying homage; the men will wear green ties and adorn their hats with the little green shamrock, women will plan entertainments.

The Irish are especially gay this year because their little country has undergone a transformation which follows the courageous spirit of their traditional saint. The nation was christianed Eire Jan. 4, when it cast off the last link binding it to England. Under the presidency of De Valero, the tiny natoin has achieved a political organization with a native army, coinage, stamp, and flag recognized by the world. Again the native tongue of the country has turned to Celtic with the English language secondary.

Legends Surround Patrick

One of the most universal legends connected with the saint is he made Irish soil so obnoxious to the serpent race that snakes instantly died on touching it. He accomplished this when he was baptizing an Irish chieftain. The venerable saint leaned heavily on his crozier with the spiked end on the toe of the converted heathen. Thinking that it was part of conversion the converted heathen didn't say anything, and the blood that flowed on the soil of Ieland freed it of serpents and toads.

In the Galtee mountains by the lake of Lough Diveen, it is said that while banishing the toads and snakes from Ireland, Patrick chained a monster serpent, telling it to remain until Monday. Every Monday morning the serpent calls out in Irish, "It's been a long Monday, Patrick!"

When Cleland liberated snakes in Ireland to prove the authenity of the legend, he became decidedly unpopular with the Irish because the snakes seemed to thrive on Irish soil. But their faith didn't waver.

Saint Patrick's life can almost be traced from the cradle to the grave by the places named for him. He was born in 372 of patrician family. At 16 he was carried off by pirates and sold into Irish slavery. During the seven years of slavery, Patrick became acquainted with Irish customs, language and legends while working as a swineherd in the Sleamish mountains. After his escape he successively was ordained deacon, priest, and bishop and returned to Ireland with the authority of Pope Celestine to preach to heathen inhabitants. It was during these years in the ministry that many of the legends were originated.

Jaw Bone Said Held

It is generally believed Patrick was buried at Down-patrick after serving Ireland 125 years. He left so much sanctity behind him that Patrick has been a favorite name down to the present—even among the most distinguished families of Scottish aristocracy.

A family near Belfast keeps the presumely jaw-bone of Patrick in a silver case.

The bone used to be used in a kind of extra-judicial trial, similar to the Saxon corsnet. The accused or suspected persons freed themselves from the suspicion of crime by placing themselves on the reliquary and declaring their innocence in words supposed to be an asservation of the greatest solemnity, and liable to instantaneous, supernatural, and firghtful punishment if falsely spoken. It is supposed to relieve epileptic fits, conteract the diabolical machinations of witches and fairies, and avert the baleful influence of the evil eye.

In recent years it has not been put to much use but is welcomed in a household where an immediate addition to the family is expected.

Two Sentenced In 99th Court

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court Wednesday assessed two two-year sentences on pleas of guilty of Marvin Monroe of a charge by indictment of automobile theft and Floyd Myers, charged by indictment with forgery of a $29.70 check.

Judge Pitts had heard the pleas Monday.

A case of swindling over $50 against E. R. Phegley was continued. On today's criminal docket in that court are cases of forgery and passing against Oscar Garner and forgery and passing and being an habitual criminal against Bennie Carver.

FOR century upon century civilized people have been taught to respect age.

But respect is not enough.

Respect alone will not buy food; respect alone will not provide shelter; respect alone will not bring the peace and contentment that is the right of the man or woman who has done his job in the world and has done it well.

These people request no medals, no monuments; they want only rest after years of toil.

They want the rest and contentment and freedom from care that financial security alone can bring—

The financial security that life insurance alone can offer them.

The Philippine Problem Again

NO matter what individual views may be toward independence for the Philippines, the "educational" campaign launched by High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt urging retention of the islands should provoke serious thought. He urges repeal of the measure under which gradual independence for the islands will become absolute on July 4, 1946.

As a preliminary, let us suggest that the motives of McNutt in his "educational" campaign are open to question. He is a master politician who has been known for years to aspire to the presidency—which is a highly commendable ambition. But can he be reaching now for an issue which will be popular and on which he can base his campaign for the nation's highest office?

If he has proposed a popular issue, all well and good. If the issue is unpopular, he still has succeeded in keeping his name before the public for the present, and there still is abundant time for the Philippine question to become submerged in popular consciousness by many others before election time.

But, without consideration of McNutt's motives in bringing up the question, there are these considerations:

Many in the Philippines do not want independence; those who have taken the lead in seeking freedom are those who will become the ruling classes; many of the lower classes would prefer government by the American people than by their own aristocracy, who may prove cruel, crushing masters; by the very fact of their freedom, and by their own comparative lack of strength, the Philippines will be forever in danger of losing their freedom to some such outside conqueror as, shall we say, Japan.

DESPITE those various considerations, the United States has seen fit to guarantee, under certain conditions, ultimate freedom to the islands. Thus far they have carried out those conditions. Honesty dictates that the United States shall also carry out its part of the bargain.

But when we have done that, let us remember that the Philippines have become their own nation. Their status, in our eyes, shall be that of any other independent country. We are no more under obligation to them than any other power.

Especially, must we remember these things if the time should come when the islands are objects of conquest. We must bear in mind, as calmly as we can, that so far as we are concerned, we shall be no more obliged or obligated to go to war for them than we were for Ethiopia or China.

Mr. Shelton's Re-Election

BROWNFIELD is to be congratulated upon the re-election of J. E. Shelton as secretary of the chamber of commerce there, to continue the fine work he has done through the last 12 years in that position.

Lubbock and the South Plains have known Mr. Shelton through the years as a man always ready to help when his assistance has been needed. For that reason, they have been doubly willing to respond when he has sought cooperation in endeavors on behalf of Brownfield.

Thus, together, all have been able to work pleasantly together toward a common end—the advancement of all things which have to do with the South Plains. The Morning Avalanche is glad that the relationship will continue.

With Our Contemporaries

"The Avalanche-Journal staff—in the front office or the shop—seem unusually interested in helping a country boy come to Lubbock when he needs anything," Frank Fletcher points out in the Southland Sun. "When I need particular advertising copy or signature matrix of some Lubbock firm, those fellows seem glad to help out. A thousand thanks."

"You see, when it comes to 'Little Business'—I'm a BIG authority," Morley Drake explains in the Lamb County Leader, Littlefield. "I've suffered from little business ever since the fall of '29. At times it was so little that it almost wasn't there at all!"

The One-Minute Sermon

If a man sin against his neighbor, and an oath be laid upon him to make him swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house;

Then hear thou from heaven, and do and judge thy servants by requiting the wicked, by recompensing his way upon his own head; and by justifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteousness.—11 Chronicles 6; 22 and 23.

Empire For A Lady

By Alan LeMay
C. By The Associated Press

SYNOPSIS: Chance and a young English girl have contrived to make the trader and gun-runner, James Clyde, rajah of Balingong, Christine Forrester, completing a plan of her dead father, is behind the Dyak revolt which caused Malay surrender. This desperate enterprise may bring power and wealth, or defeat and death. It means lifelong jungle exile for Clyde and myself (Paul Thorne, his nephew). But Christine needs our help, and we are both in love with her.

Chapter 29
The New Rajah

All these negotiations had to be conducted through the goings and comings of Lundok, for Clyde would not go into Balingong again, and Rajah Mantusen could not come out. Lundok's prowlings were a little safer now, since the orders to Tenyalang riflemen; but he still could travel only at night, and often was delayed for hours in his circuit of the intervening miles of jungle.

In the end Clyde had to make guarantees of enormous indemnities if any accident should befall Mantusen himself, or his goods, when Malay praus took to the river. This was purely a gamble on Clyde's part; he could not pay the indemnities if our plans went wrong. But I think those stubborn Malays would have died there if they could not have obtained terms which they felt satisfactory to the saving of face.

Our longboat moved up the Siderong river at last. It was I who officially took over the improvised palace which represented the theoretical lordship of Balingong raj. Clyde had been forced, after much arguing, to admit that we could no longer allow him to risk falling hostage to Mantusen.

Even the danger of some uncalculated indignity must be guarded against. He was no longer simply Captain James Clyde of the Linkang gunrunner to the narrow seas. He was our new rajah, upon whose prestige and supposed infallibility all our plans must depend.

There was no proclamation ceremony, under the circumstances. But word was now running through the Tenyalang, and from the Tenyalang through all the Dyak tribes, that I herewith took over Balingong raj on behalf of the Rajah Clyde—rajah of Balingong—in the name of Anthony Forrester, and by deed of the Sultan of Saremba; that the Rajah Clyde now ruled Balingong, asserting the authority of life and death to its farthest limits, but promising friendship and assistance in war to all who were faithful; and that no man must interfere with Mantusen as his praus took to the river, on pain of death and the destruction of his village.

So at last Mantusen started down the Siderong in 11 heavily laden praus.

I sat in the shaded ruai of the longhouse within Mantusen's stockade, with Jarge, bosun of the Linkang, and eight of the Linkang's men; and when the last of the great praus had swung its big sea-going outrigger around the bend of the river, we sat waiting for a long time.

Sweat was running down my face—which was justified by the heat, except that this was cold sweat. I was listening for the rattle of gunfire, the wild yammering of Dyak tribesmen, and the war cries of the Malays as they died shouting that there was no God but God. I could not believe in the barest possibility that the praus would get through. I was mentally timing their progress so that I would know when they must have reached the bay.

His First Audience

After a long time a curious sound began to come from far down the river—some of the Malay paddlers were beginning to sing! They sang with an odd intermittent rhythm—a chorused whine that carried them six strokes, then the song again. And this thing was repeated over and over, until their voices thinned away, and at last died.

I knew after a while that the leading prau must be passing the delta. In imagination I counted those 22 praus as they entered the bay. I thought finally that they must all be clear. Then, at the very last, a gun was fired far down toward the mouth of the Siderong, and this was followed by the quick, snarling sound of several more rifles which spoke together. I knew that it would only take a few minutes for that jungle to boil over into a malestrom of murder; and I thought that the end was near.

Until now I had not realized that the gongs had been silent while the Malays were on the river, but now a great hammering of excited sound broke out all through the jungle as gongs and drums kept questioning each other without getting any answer. To my surprise and vast relief the gunfire ended abruptly as it began.

Later we learned that three Malays had been killed—one of them an old woman, and another a little boy—when the steersman of the last prau had called out insults to the jungle. Interminable diplomatic difficulties, which could even end with a war with Saremba, might come of an incident like that; but for the present Mantusen and his people were out of there.

Late that day, after a long parley with Mantusen aboard the Linkang, Clyde came up the river to his palace. He was brought in a big Dyak bankong, paddled by the pick of the Tenyalang.

With him came Robert Forrester, so weak and mackerel-gutted from fever that he seemed three parts disembodied. It was impossible to make out what he thought about all this; so little energy was left in him with which to take interest. But, in a way, his pale immobility was impressive; and his blondness among these dark people made him look like ome strange young god.

Just before sunset Clyde held his first audience with the Tenyalang. They came into the big inner compound cautiously at first, reluctant with suspicion; the various groups watched each other arrogantly, and with distrust. But within an hour they must all have been there, and many pangirans and others who were supposed to be, for presently the compound was filled with more than 300 men.

The Tenyalang were not prepossessing—small brown men with ragged hair, wild visages and short naked legs. They wore black goatskin war jackets and sheathed parangs, but the elaborate shields without which the average Dyak will not be seen in time of war were not carried by the Tenyalang.

In A Mood For War

One thing common to them all was enough to send chills down the back of any white man who knew his business here. Around the neck of almost every man was a thong suspending that small, intricate jimat of the Tenyalang—the same hornbill cut-out that Christine had shown me, and that I had seen swinging from the gun taken by Mantusen. And each man carried a rifle crooked in his lift elbow, muzzle high.

The ordinary Dyak handles his gaspipe gun, if he has one, with a gingerly awkwardness, until he has had it for a long time. After that he uses it for driving stakes. But there was something loving and reverent, and also practiced in the way the Tenyalang warriors handled their weapons. These were not simply men who had rifles; they were riflemen. If I had not learned by this time to believe what Christine Forrester had told me about her father, I would have believed it now.

Clyde had a pile of mats put at the edge of the platform in front of the house, and when he at last came to sit cross-legged there, all movement and sound in the compound stopped. Robert Forrester sat to his right, very still and white. I sat on Clyde's left, and on my left sat Lundok, who helped with the translations.

Clyde was in shoal water, and he knew it. All about us was a huge angry stew-pot of Dyak tribes, no doubt befuddled by the turn of events but in a mood for war. It was up to him to establish at least a semblance of government, and do it quickly. The Tenyalang, whom Anthony Forrester had brought into partial discipline, were useful to us now as a means of conveying Clyde's immediate intent.

At first of course he could do little except to assure them that he represented their friend, the rajah laut — Anthony Forrester, whom they must not know to be dead—and attempt to obtain their temporary obedience, or at least neutrality.

Robert Forrester kept prompting Clyde out of the corner of his mouth as Clyde now told them what great things were ahead. Their oppressors had been vanished and sent away. Their new rajah was devoted to their welfare. He would defend them in war. He would protect them in trade. He would lead them into ways which would make them great.

All this was pretty vague, and it was a good thing that it was. If Clyde had attempted to give them any exact idea of what he meant to do, they would have gone away scandalized by what little they understood. As it was, they perhaps got the notion that he was promising them all more heads than formerly.

I don't know whether they believed him or not, or how much. Every time Lundok concluded translating one of my uncle's speeches, the buzz of Dyak voices would spread through the enclosure and seem to hang in the warm air until the next burst of oratory.

The fact that Clyde was a white man, possessed of a strong ship, gave him a great prestige; but it also made them suspicious.

How will Clyde begin his gigantic task? Read tomorrow's chapter.

City To "Cut Down" Park Meter Debt

City payments on parking meters will be increased to $11,243.51 with the mailing of a check for $2,122.90 to Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City today, according to D. D. Martin, city auditor.

The payment will mean that the city has reduced the total parking meter debt of approximately $34,800 by nearly one-third. In addition, the city now has on hand nearly $1,000 in March collections which will be paid to the company after April 1.

The meters continue to produce a daily revenue between $85 and $90, of which 75 per cent is applied on the cost of the parking devices. Purchase price of the meters was $38 each.

Motion picture theaters in the United States number about 17,000 and have an aggregate seating capacity of 10,720,000 persons. All are wired for sound.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S reaction to adversity was vividly portaryed by Son Elliott during private planning for the recent chain of birthday balls. It depicts F. D. R. as a man who can no longer smile off his troubles.

The promoters of the battle against infantile paralysis asked a prominent New York advertising expert to supply some ideas for raising money. A few weeks later he handed them a placard reading as follows: "I am a man who hisses at the President's picture in the movies. I am an 'economic royalist.' I am a 'prince of privilege.' I am a man who cries 'unconstitutional' when New Deal legislation is proposed. . . . But for this cause I will dig deep into my pocket regardless of politics or personalities."

The proposed poster was circulated among Mr. Roosevelt's worst haters, and they shook with laughter til their sides ached. But they promised to contribute generously if the President agreed to the use of such a campaign.

CHANGE: Then the idea was put up to Elliott on one of his business trips to New York. The youngster saw the joke and chuckled. But his face grew grim as his role in the performance was outlined.

"A year ago," he replied, "I would have presented such a plan to father, and he would have gotten a kick out of it—perhaps agreed to it. You see, ever since we were kids, the dinner table has been virtually a town hall for free discussion of any subject. But things have changed. Recently, thinking the old system still existed, I tried to talk to father about his attitude towards business.

"I told him he was wrong in his belief that only big business men were against him. I explained that from my observation the little fellows felt the same way and suffered the same handicaps—high taxes, labor troubles, government regulation. A year ago he would have listened and argued. But he answered rather sharply: 'Son, you don't know what you're talking about!'"

TARGETS: F.D.R. let a cat out of the presidential knapsack in voicing his determination to fight for retention of Section 1b (the heavy tax on personal corporations) in the 1938 revenue measure. He appears to be gunning for hostile publishers rather than the Fords, duPonts and Mellons.

"Oh," replied the President with a smile, when asked his tax plans, "a few newspapers might be interested in them." Then he gave a seemingly innocuous explanation to the effect that two corporations earning the same amount of money ought to be taxed equally. He made no allowance for differences in capital setup, need for new money, immediate prospects. It impressed his hearers as no answer at all.

When asked if he referred to a "few publishers" rather than a "few newspapers," he retorted: "Please don't press me too hard," and smiled again. But a checkup revealed that numerous newspapers, large and small, would undoubtedly suffer if the original levies on family concerns become law. They won't, however, despite the President's last-minute telephonic appeals to erring House and Senate members.

CALENDAR: House bosses recently gave sensational evidence of the striking collapse of leadership on Capitol Hill. Veteran members cannot remember such an exhibition of lack of finesse and teamwork by the party in power.

On the day the tax bill debate was scheduled to end, Speaker Bankhead announced from the rostrum that the next measure on the calendar would be the independent offices appropriation bill. He apparently forgot that this contains the controversial T. V. A. items and that under his schedule the House would be squabbling over T.V.A. at the very moment F.D.R. was spanking the three instigators of the dispute—Messrs. Morgan, Morgan and Lilienthal. This timing would have meant a field day for G.O.P.-ers and anti-New Deal Democrats.

Majority Leader Rayburn barely saved the day, arriving on the run from a White House conference where he presumably got his marching orders. Arising on the floor, he announced that the next measure to be taken up would not be the independent offices bill, but the navy building program. Mr. Bankhead gasped, but the Roosevelt-Rayburn calendar proved more agreeable to harassed and leaderless Democrats.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A significant reshuffling of political lines is going on behind the scenes in Pennsylvania. Conservatives in large numbers are deserting their traditional Republican allegiance to join forces with those now ruling the state Democratic organization. The object is to put over Charles A. Jones of Pittsburgh for governor.

A quiet "palace revolution" has completely reoriented the Democratic setup. State Chairman David Lawrence has teamed up with Matthew H. McCloskey, jr.—whose "retirement" from politics "forever and a day" gets a laugh from those who know the true situation—to break the grip of New Dealers and laborites on the state party organization. Senator Guffey—far from being "the boss"—has been deftly forzen out of the dominant circle. Governor Earle is clinging desperately for his political life to a handhold in both camps.

The Lawrence-McCloskey crowd snubbed Lewis deliberately in order to bait him into running his protege Thomas Kennedy against Jones in the gubernatorial primary. Their strategy worked. Now they are confident they can repeat the Seattle performance of defeating the labor candidate decisively. This program appeals strongly to Pennsylvania conservatives, including those of Republican background.

SHATTERED: Conditions inside the Pennsylvania G.O.P. are also a factor in the backstage shift. Right-wingers can see no percentage in stringing with a party which seems almost certain to nominate the perennial Gifford Pinchot for governor. Pinchot is anathema to conservative Republicans, and his strength is the measure of their weakness.

The Pew (Sun Oil) family has labored valiantly to rehabilitate the G.O.P. under "sound" leadership. But their enthusiasm and cash have been more than offset by their political inexperience.

The old-line Republican organization is shattered and demoralized—hence the curious spectacle of conservative realists turning Democratic to lick the New Deal and the C.I.O.

PROPITIOUS: The prospects for peace between the warring factions of organized labor look much brighter in the light of Homer Martin's New York speech last week.

Mr. Martin pleaded earnestly for reconciliation and suggested a five-point program as a basis for renewed negotiations between the C.I.O. and the A. F. of L. His ideas were in line with those of moderates in both camps who have been working for a practical compromise.

The particular significance of his remarks lies in his status as a mouthpiece for John Lewis. He would never have ventured to express such sentiments without the C.I.O. chief's approval. Evidently Mr. Lewis is more eager to reach an understanding with the enemy than he can afford to admit publicly, for face-saving reasons. The atmosphere is becoming propitious for an agreement in principle that would end hostilities and pave the way for a rational discussion of personal and jurisdictional issues.

LOANS: Financial losses from the Richard Whitney failure will amount to at least four million dollars and may run as high as nine or ten million. The insolvent firm owes banks $1,250,000. It owes J. P. Morgan & Co. $474,000 on an unsecured note. The individual partners owe the firm $817,000.

Mr. Whitney's personal indebtedness cannot yet be accurately estimated, but indications are that it will reach a staggering total.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"Will you serve that table for me, Gus? You know what face powder does to my hay fever."

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the American definition of poverty is "the state of being in position to buy only what one needs."

WHETHER or not Governor James V. Allred will run for a third term is in the laps of the gods.

Even the governor's best friends don't know what his promised announcement will be late this week and it is interesting to note that the nine capitol reporters, whose business it is to trail the governor, cast a "Supreme court" tally on the question—five said he wouldn't run, but four believed he would!

However, regardless of Mr. Allred's decision, he has played a heads-up game. He has stayed in the political saddle, kept his hand on the reins and is in a position to either run, if he so desires, or have a lot of weight for and against other candidates if he doesn't run.

Had he made his announcement earlier, he would not be the still potent factor he remains in state politics today.

All of which proves that in some respects the governor is as politically wise as anybody under the light of the Lone Star.

Herbert Hoover (remember him?) came out of seclusion the other day to speak for peace. Somebody ought to tell him that times have changed — that you don't speak for peace now-adays, you fight for it!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says a wife is a person who is never at home when her husband tries to get her by telephone.

From the Winston-Salem, N. C., Twin City Sentinel:

"How can I stop my daughter from wearing slacks?" asks a distressed mother.

"(1) Have her face north. (2) Stand several paces south of her with a candid camera. (3) Take a picture. (4) Have the film developed. (5) Show her the picture!"

To which The Plainsman would add:

No woman looks any worse in slacks than she does in any other type of man's nether attire.

TO Mrs. A. D. "Mother" Burleson, of Matador, The Plainsman says "Many happy returns of the day!"

This is Mrs. Burleson's 85th birthday and were she not kinfolks, by marriage, we'd say a lot more.

It is considered, in the newspaper trade, bad manners to use space to whoop it up for relatives, so The Plainsman will use only enough in this case to give some highlights concerning this remarkable woman.

Were she no kin, there'd be a lot more.

An institution in that capital of the "best cow country in the world," Mrs. Burleson is the honor guest of a Matador-wide birthday celebration. She is an ardent Baptist—in fact, the sole remaining charter member of that congregation in Matador—yet the Methodists are joining with the Baptists in celebrating her birthday.

And everybody in that part of the country is making her a "birthday gift" in the form of money, which she, in turn, is giving to the Baptist building fund to which she already is the No. 1 donor.

The new church, for which ground was broken the other day, is her pride and joy.

FOR several generations "Mother" Burleson has been a foundation stone of the Matador section.

She was in the old days, doctor and nurse, confidant and spiritual adviser to most of the population. Also she has been a sparkplug of progress in more ways than one.

Age, perhaps in deference to her service, has been kind to "Mother" Burleson. Her eyes are as bright as they were a half century ago. Her mind is as active as it was in her prime. Her whole physical being as top-notch as that of her youngest grandchild.

And as her neighbors—in regimen strength—pay her honor today, The Plainsman chimes in with "me, too!"

He is sorry that newspaper manners make it impossible to tell more about this unusual pioneer woman and of a few of the wonders she has wrought over a long life's span in the West.

ALL of us know how obnoxious Californians can be when they get to jabbering about their climate. But The Plainsman has often wondered if the people of our neighboring El Paso aren't fully as obnoxious whenever given a chance.

Our good friend Hubert Hunter, who runs a column in the El Paso Times and through that medium gives away "lucky buckeyes"—what ever they are—gave a good example of El Paso smugness the other day when Mrs. Roosevelt arrived to make the same speech she had made here several days before.

Wrote Hubert, in his "Around Here" stint:

"Mrs. Roosevelt, to be with us today (and most welcome, too) evidently is not used to our gentle little Southwestern zephyrs.

"Writing from Amarillo yesterday about the Mother-In-Law Day parade, she remarked:

"'We drove in an open car along the line of the parade and the wind was sufficiently high to cause me to wonder how disheveled we would be at the end of our drive. However, people along the sidewalk did not seem to notice it at all.'

"Of course," Mr. Hunter resumes, "they didn't notice it, not a gentle little caressing breeze that merely refreshed and stimulated.

"There are times, to be sure, when Amarillo does have a breeze worthy of comment. Since Mrs. Roosevelt is interested, we should like to inform her a bit about it.

"There is a wind gauge near Amarillo. It consists of a fence post to which a boulder is anchored by a chain. When a breeze comes along with sufficient vigor to lift the boulder straight out in the air at the end of the chain, the natives say:

"'Well, the wind is blowing today!'

"DURING a fairly brisk sandstorm one day between Lubbock and Amarillo, right close to the very same road Mrs. Roosevelt traveled over, a prairie dog was seen digging a hole 40 feet in the air. This sight can no longer be witnessed, however, because prairie dogs are practically extinct in the Panhandle!

"On the other hand, in El Paso and adjacent counties, and also in the Big Bend, taking in Marfa, Alpine and Presidio, the breeze is so gentle that sometimes there isn't enough to turn all the windmills at one time. So they run half of them awhile, and then the other half!"

Now, The Plainsman doesn't give a hoot about the mean things Bro. Hunter has inserted about Amarillo and its climate.

Probably all of them are fully justified and we were never one to defend Amarillo, except, possibly, when it was attacked by East Texans.

But Hubert hooks into his remarks the fair name of Lubbock and leaves the uninitiated to believe that our climate and Amarillo's are one and the same!

There ain't no justice—but we don't suppose to stand idly by and let him get away with it!

TARZAN: THE MAGNIFICENT No. 52 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the excited Lord burst into the guard room, the women warriors leaped to arms. "The great emerald," the Englishmen cried. "The prisoner has killed Woora and stolen the great emerald." "Killed Woora!" exclaimed the amazons in chorus. It was unbelievable.

Some of them rushed into the village to spread the happy tidings. All of them had hated Woora and feared him. Now they were released from his awful rule. Meanwhile, Lord was trying to arouse their interest in the missing emerald; and at last he succeeded.

For years the captives had been telling the Zuli alluring stories of the outside world, and the amazons had longed for Woora's death, so they might go down into civilized lands, to live in magnificent style on the money derived from the sale of the emerald.

Out in the night, a short distance from the village, Tarzan heard the commotion, followed by the hoarse notes of a primitive trumpet. He recognized the call to arms, to which was added the throbbing of war drums. He knew the warriors were organizing a pursuit!

SAY FOLKS

Don't forget that there is one HATCHERY in Lubbock where you can get as good baby chicks as you can buy anywhere for the price they ask, so far as we know.

THE WHITE LEGHORN HATCHERY

is the only hatchery in the territory that belongs to the Baby Chick Association and does no custom hatching, hatches only one breed White Leghorns and does individual pedigreeing. Sure you can get individual pedigreed chicks from

from dams 250 to 283 eggs, sire's dam over 200 eggs Remember they handle only high grade chicks, buy from

European Crisis More Muddled

emuende, on the Baltic 300 miles west of Lithuania, had received orders to get steam up as a precautionary measure.

Lithuanians feared they might feel the might of a Polish-German steamroller since they lie in the way of an anti-Soviet Baltic bloc.

Hidden Significance Feared

Britain and France made representations to Warsaw against hasty action.

They were reported inspired by fear of a possible Polish-German deal envisaging German support for Poland's absorption of Lithuania in return for Warsaw's adherence to the Rome-Berlin axis.

In Praha, a spokesman for Germans in Czechoslovakia warned the government must change her foreign policy before it was "too late."

In Spain, a desperate government army slowed up the insurgent drive toward the Mediterranean. A tense Barcelona assured the world it was calm while in Madrid new "urgent" tribunals began functioning to crush spies, traitors and defeatists.

Jumbo, the famous circus elephant which weighed 6 1/2 tons, was killed at a railway crossing in 1885.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas: County of Lubbock.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock county, on the 11th day of February, 1938, by U. Brown, Clerk of said 99th District Court for the sum of Six Hundred Eighty-one and 22-100 (681.22) Dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment, in favor of J. T. Krueger, J. T. Hutchinson, M. C. Overton and the Lubbock Sanitarium, a private corporation in a certain cause in said Court, No. 6978 and styled J. T. Krueger, J. T. Hutchinson, M. C. Overton and the Lubbock Sanitarium, a private corporation vs. W. R. Thompson, A. R. Thompson and R. W. Thompson, jointly and severally placed in my hands for service, I, Tom Abel as Sheriff of Lubbock county, Texas, did, on the 2nd day of March, 1938, levy on certain real estate, situated in Lubbock county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot No. Sixteen (16) of the Ora Vista Subdivision of Block No. Fifty-eight (58), of the Wheelock Second Addition to the town of Lubbock, Lubbock county, Texas, and levied upon as the property of W. R. Thompson, A. R. Thompson and R. W. Thompson and that on the first Tuesday in April, 1938, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door of Lubbock county, in the city of Lubbock, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said W. R. Thompson, A. R. Thompson and R. W. Thompson.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, a newspaper published in Lubbock county.

Witness my hand, this 2nd day of March, 1938.

TOM ABEL,
Sheriff, Lubbock County, Texas.
By VERLIE SHEARER, Deputy.

CONTRACTORS NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 4.687 miles of Reshaping Base and Asphalt Base Preservative from Hwy. No. 24 east toward Acuff on Highway No. "F", covered by F. A. P. No. F. A. S. 10-A in Lubbock county, will be received at the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas, until 9:00 a. m., March 22, 1938, and then publicly opened and read.

The attention of the bidders is directed to the required special provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract, the selection of labor, and hours and conditions of employment.

Except as otherwise specified, the minimum wages paid to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed on this contract shall be one ($1.00) Dollar per hour for "Skilled Labor," Fifty (50c) Cents per hour for "Intermediate Grade Labor," and Forty (40c) Cents per hour fo "Unskilled Labor."

Attention is directed to the special provisions, included in the proposal to insure compliance with the requirement of House Bill No. 54 of the Forty-Third Legislature of the State of Texas.

Type of Laborer, Workman, or Mechanic	*Prevailing Minimum Per Diem Wage (Based on an Eight (8) Hour Working Day)	Prevailing Minimum Hourly Wage Rate
Skilled Labor	$8.00	$1.00
Intermediate Grade Labor	4.00	.50
Unskilled Labor	3.20	.40

For the classification of particular positions under the above types of Laborers, Workmen, or Mechanics, see the Required Special Provisions.

*The above prevailing minimum wage rates shall govern on this contract. Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

A local employment agency from which the Contractor shall obtain employment list will be designated prior to the award of contract. Plans and specifications available at the office of Lon C. Ingram, jr., Engineer, Lubbock, Texas, and State Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved.

STOCKS DECLINE SHARPLY

NEW YORK, March 16. (AP)—A scramble for cash on war fears shook world security markets today and leading stocks here broke 1 to 5 points in the sharpest decline in six weeks.

Steel, copper, rubber, aviation and other war favorites went down with the rest of the list despite the haste abroad to strengthen fighting machines.

The relapse wiped out rally gains in the preceding two sessions and carried rails and utilities on the average into new low ground for the year. Rail bonds joined the slide in face of the White House conference on the industry's problems.

Transfers mounted to 1,023,500 shares, the largest since February 23, from 760,220 the previous session. The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks was off $1.60 at $42.20. Only a small margin separated it from the 1938 bottom.

Rumors of impending developments, pean events.

Rumors of impending developments, mostly inspired by the weakening of loyalist forces in Spain and apprehension the French would become more deeply involved in the aftermath of the Nazi coup in Austria, contributed to nervousness in speculative circles.

Increased selling from abroad to obtain cash was reported by Wall Street brokers. The fall in European markets echoed in further selling of foreign bonds, particularly central European issues. The flow of funds to New York resulted in additional small engagements of gold in London and India.

Tax revision prospects in congress and a few signs of spring business improvement in the United States were overshadowed by the swift-moving European drama.

Profit-taking as traders shifted to the selling side when the preceding rally failed to carry through at the opening aped the decline. U. S. Rubber common and preferred, after a sharp spurt, were heavily sold, each finishing more than 3 lower.

Down 2 to 5 at the close were U. S. Steel at 50⅝, Bethlehem 55, du Pont 115½, Santa Fe 31, Westinghouse 89¼, Standard Oil of New Jersey 49¼, General Motors 33⅜, Chrysler 50¾, International Nickel 47, International Harvester 63½, Douglas Aircraft 39¼, Southern Pacific 14¼, Anaconda Copper 30⅞ and American Smelting 47.

Conspicuous among the few gainers was Homestake Mining, leading domestic gold producer, which finished 1⅛ higher at 57⅞.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 16. (AP)—Cotton was dominated by European developments today and finished the session steady, at net declines of 2 to 5 points.

The Franco-Russian alliance against German aggression in Czechoslovakia and reports of a Polish ultimatum to Lithuania resulted in increased local and foreign liquidation.

Foreign markets were better than expected and favorable overnight Washington reports brought out trade and some new buying at the start. Initial transactions were 7 to 8 points net higher and proved to be the best prices of the day.

The selling started soon after the beginning of the second hour and managed to keep prices below the previous close for the remainder of the session.

Closing prices were at or near the bottom with March at 9.00-bid, May at 9.04@9.05, July at 9.08, Oct. at 9.16, Dec. at 9.18 and Jan. at 9.18.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Cotton lost its early advances today as a more serious view was taken of the European political developments and the stock market weakened. May sold off from 9.00 to 8.92 and closed at 8.93, with final prices of 5 points net lower to 1 higher.

The market opened 6 to 8 points higher in sympathy with action of Liverpool and on trade and foreign buying. Scattered selling soon developed however, as securities turned weak and some early buyers resold. Trade buying centered in May and held that delivery relatively steady but the market lacked rallying power and final prices were at about the lows for the day.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 16. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton today at 10 southern spot markets was 8.96 cents a pound, average for the past 30 market days 8.98 cents a pound.

Doctors Mystified At Deaths Of Four Corpus Children

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 16. (AP) Four small girls in the same family have died here within the past eight days from a disease believed to be salmonella enteritidis, a form of dysentery. Three other members of the family are seriously ill.

Physicians have not been able to explain the strange series of deaths, and are continuing their investigations. Milk was found to be the only common food from the same source used by the victims.

Those who have died are Connie Jean McGuire, 10 months old; Helen Ruth McGuire, 2, and Betty June McGuire, 4, all daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGuire of Clarkwood, near here. The fourth victim was Edna Ann Smith, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Clarkwood, cousin of the other children.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 16. (AP)—War forebodings gripped the wheat trade today and excited buying swept prices higher 2¾ a bushel net, up 2¾ cents from the day's bottom level.

Big export purchasing of United States wheat, the first such development witnessed in a long while added to the upward impetus of values. The total bought for shipment overseas was estimated at more than 1,000,000 bu.

Special significance on the part of wheat traders was attached to setbacks of securities, the degree of securities' losses being largely taken as a gauge of war fears prevalent on both sides of the Atlantic. Selling, however, to realize profits for recent buyers of wheat led to fair reactions from the topmost figures attained.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents above yesterday's finish, May 87⅞@88, July 84⅞@85, corn ⅞ to 1 cent up, May 59@59⅛, July 60⅞@61, oats ¼ to ⅜ advanced, rye showing 1⅞ to 2¼ jump, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents bulge.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 16. (AP)—Demand for grain showed a little improvement here Wednesday. Estimated receipts were: wheat 4 cars, corn 1, and sorghums 2.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.01@1.02; No. 1 hard 1.03½@1.04½.

Barley No. 2 nom. 65@67.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.00@1.30; No. 2 white kafir nom. 96@99.

Russia planned to send bombing and fighting planes to Czechslovakia if Hitler decided to use force.

Russia was said to have informed France Russian railway lines recently had been linked to those of Czechoslovakia through the Rumanian railway system.

Blum and Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour pointed out in talks with Sir Eric there was a grave threat for Britain as for France in prolonged occupation of Spanish territory and Balearic islands by Germans and Italians.

The Czechoslovakian situation, meanwhile, became more critical hourly.

Stephan Osusky, Czecho minister in Paris, told a luncheon of the Anglo-American Press association that Czechoslovakia expected soon a "decisive test" in her effort to maintain independence.

Mrs. Mike Reed, 83, Dies Of Heart Ailment Wednesday

Mrs. Mike Reed, 83, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. P. L. Payne of, 1714 Avenue M, of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Reed recently recovered from an attack of pneumonia which she suffered when visiting relatives at Lamesa.

Burial will be in the family cemetery at Rogers, Bell county, said Sanders Funeral home. Her body will be sent there today. Other arrangements pended communications with out-of-town relatives.

She is survived by four other daughters, Mrs. J. M. Baird of Lamesa, Mrs. Milie McCreight of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Joe Clouse of Vanderwood, Ark., and Mrs. Hubert Flaniken of Morton; two sons, Ray and Jeff Reed of Ralls; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Dipsy Doodle Antics Indicate Sheep Gone Nertz But Study Reveals Plenty Of Reason

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 16. (AP)—All the evidence pointed to the conclusion that every sheep in a pasture here was going violently insane.

For several days they were seen to suddenly fall to the ground, endure a brief intense pain, squirm and roll a few feet, then recover.

Today the department of agriculture revealed they had been victims of a variety of the well-known "hot foot."

A leak in the nearby electric transmission line occasionally grounded a charge of power into the wet soil. Any sheep in the area was promptly knocked silly. The power leak was remedied and the strange behavior ended.

Prominent Man Of Southland Buried

SOUTHLAND, March 16. (Special)—Funeral services for S. N. Hendrix, 66, prominent citizen here since 1920, were conducted by the Masonic lodge at the Baptist church here this afternoon. Rev. O. J. Harmonson officiated.

Hendrix, who had suffered from failing health several months, died at his home about 2 o'clock Tuesday.

Has Sons At Lubbock

He is survived by his widow and 13 children, five sons and eight daughters. Sons are: R. E. Hendrix and Jess Hendrix of Lubbock, J. D. Hendrix and T. R. Hendrix of Southland, and Sam Hendrix of San Francisco. Daughters are: Misses Goldie, Drexel, Romayne, and Elizabeth Hendrix, all of Southland, Miss Winnie Hendrix of Fieldton, Mrs. S. W. Lowry of Jacksboro, Mrs. M. H. Anderson of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Ernest Thompson of Kansas City, Mo. All children, except Sam Hendrix, were at the services.

A resident here since 1920, Hendrix had, until recently, been engaged in the blacksmith and filling station business. He was born in Wise county.

Lige Eastep of Mangum, Okla., brother of Mrs. Hendrix, also was present, at rites, as were delegation from the Lubbock chapter of Knights of Pythias, of which R. E. Hendrix is a member. R. E. and Jess Hendrix are bookkeepers of Dalby Motor Freight lines and Lubbock-El Paso Motor Freight company, respectively, and live at 1511 Ninth street in Lubbock.

News Briefs

A general session and elementary school section meeting of the Northwest Texas Teachers association conference to be conducted in Canyon Friday and Saturday will be addressed by Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the education department of Texas Technological college. Lonnie Langston, assistant professor of mathematics, also will speak in a section meeting.

Mrs. Mable Jackson of 1702 Texas avenue was released from West Texas hospital and returned to her home late Wednesday afternoon. She is recovering normally after appendectomy.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon for Lloyd R. Hankins, 29, of 2408 Sixteenth street at the First Baptist church, with Rev. R. C. Tennison, pastor of the Idalou Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery. Hankins was fatally injured Monday morning in an automobile accident near Ysleta.

Style in accessories for women's clothes will be the topic of second of a series of Your Style Commentator programs at 4 o'clock this afternoon over KFYO. First of the series, designed to publicize the semi-annual spring market week March 31 through April 3, was given last Thursday.

Ed D. Allen, county clerk, remained at his home Wednesday due to slight illness, according to members of his staff.

Third invitation to the dinner-dance to be given March 31 in conjunction with the sixteenth semi-annual wholesale market week were sent to exhibitors Wednesday by show officials. A broadside invitation and postcard reminder preceded one sent Wednesday. Space for exhibitors is nearly taken up, officials said.

J. Doyle Settle, state representa-tive and Texas Technological college graduate and Calvin Hazlewood, secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college, have returned from meetings at College Station and Houston. Secretaries of alumni associations of several colleges met in College Station, and Jack Hardy, president of that branch of the Tech association, and others met with Settle and Hazlewood in Houston.

A group of Ralls Rotarians was in Lubbock Wednesday attending the Lubbock club luncheon to make up attendance. They included: J. M. Lyle, Leroy Land, L. A. Coward and Rev. W. R. Derr, Baptist pastor.

G. E. Lockhart, Lubbock attorney, who was seriously ill several weeks at Lubbock sanitarium and who was taken home Friday, was able to be down town two hours Monday. He took his first auto drive since his illness Tuesday.

The South Plains is the "most wonderful" part of Texas and Lubbock is one of the best towns in the entire state, said W. M. Seeligson of San Antonio, associated with an insurance company. He is spending several days here.

County Agent C. C. Jobson and his assistant Homer E. Thompson Wednesday ran lines for contouring and terracing on the farms of Guy L. Whiting and R. A. Powell in the Becton community.

O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor in this area, was to attend a banquet of the Bovina Future Farmers of America chapter Wednesday night. Both Ryan and T. L. Leach, assistant professor of vocational agriculture at Texas Technological college and itinerant teacher trainer, are on inspection tours and plan to attend the Northwest Texas Teachers association meeting at Canyon Friday and Saturday. Ryan has headquarters at Tech.

A preliminary petition for a chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism sorority, will be mailed from Texas Technological college today to Mrs. Josephine C. Meyer of Overton, national secretary and organizer. The college women's press club is presenting the petition, preparation of which was supervised by Mrs. James G. Allen, journalism instructor and faculty adviser of the club.

Ray L. Farmer, manager of Lub-bock City Bus Co., will leave this morning for Pontiac, Mich., to purchase two new buses for the company. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fortenberry and son. The Fortenberrys will visit Niagara Falls before returning.

A potentially dangerous fire was extinguished quickly by firemen Wednesday night after they were called to a burning truck in a bus barn on Avenue W near Nineteenth street. The fire originated when gasoline in the truck's tank was ignited by a flame from a welding torch. The vehicle belonged to a geophysical company which had rented space in the garage from the Lubbock Bus company.

Ralph Young of route 2, Lubbock, late Wednesday suffered laceration of the left cheek in an attempt to crank a tractor. Several sutures were required to close the wound, said authorities at West Texas hospital where he was taken for treatment.

Improvement had been shown Wednesday night in the condition of E. C. Wood, 43-year-old carpenter of 1907 Avenue S who suffered severe injuries in a fall Tuesday from a chemical building near O'Donnell, according to reports from Lubbock sanitarium. Authorities there said he was "resting well." He suffered fractures of the left foot, right leg, right arm, a vertebra, and left leg. He had recovered from a case of shock.

Former Trinity President Dies

SHERMAN, March 16. (AP) — Dr. John Harmon Burma, 64, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church here, and a former president of Trinity university of Waxahachie, died unexpectedly at his home today.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow at 3 p. m., conducted by Dr. Floyd Poe, pastor of the City Temple Presbyterian church of Dallas; Dr. F. L. Wear, president of Trinity university; Dr. B. Wrenn Webb, pastor of Whiteright, and Rev. S. L. Terry, Denison pastor. Burial will be in Sherman.

Dr. Burma, born at Ackley, Iowa, in 1874, was graduated from the University of Dubuque in both college and theological departments. He retired from 17 years of school work, during which he became noted as an educator, to re-enter the ministry in 1933.

Went To Trinity

He went to Trinity university in 1919 from the University of Dubuque where he had served four years as vice president.

In addition to his pastorate here Dr. Burma had served churches at Dallas, Hanover, Ill., and Knoxville, Iowa.

Under his direction Trinity university doubled its enrollment, increased its income, and added to its endowment. Dr. Burma was instrumental in getting the university admitted to the Southern Association of Colleges. At one time he served as president of the Texas College association.

When he retired as president of the institution Dr. Burma came here.

His widow and a son, both of Sherman, survive.

Argument Heard In Graves Case

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP) — Arguments in a case attacking the eligibility of Harry N. Graves of Georgetown as a member of the court of criminal appeals began today before the two remaining judges of the state's highest tribunal in criminal matters.

The controversy began a short time after Gov. James V. Allred last fall appointed Graves to succeed the late Judge O. S. Lattimore.

The legal action originated when attorneys for defendants in burglary cases took exception to a ruling in which Graves participated and challenged his eligibility on grounds that as a member of the house of representatives he had voted for an increase in salaries for justices of the state's high courts.

Nazification

owner of many mountain ski huts, was being incorporated in the Hitler youth organization.

A new Nazi commissioner was named to the national library—one of the Hapsburgs' and Vienna's greatest prides.

All women's organizations were liquidated.

The Max Reinhardt plaza, in front of the Salzburg festival theater, was no more. The signs were taken down today.

Reinhardt, a Jew, had been the guiding spirit of the festival since its rebirth 1 years ago. It was learned he will not direct at Salzburg the two presentations—Jedermann and Faust—which have been an integral part of the festival for a decade.

Better Times Awaited

The two state theaters—the opera and burg — and the three private playhouses were purged. Commissioners, it was announced, were being named to seven musical organizations including the world famous Vienna Symphony orchestra.

The four days of patriotic ecstasy were over. Austrian Germans began looking for the promised benefits of nazidom. Some firms raised pay in expectation of better times. Textile factories boomed on orders for nazi uniforms.

The national bank announced immediate payment of funds owed to Austrians by Germans, freed by the dissolution of the border. Expectation of timber was prohibited because Germany expects to absorb most of it.

Money Changed

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the reichsbank, arranged for withdrawal of the Austrian schilling from circulation. The German reichsmark will be German Austria's money.

Foreign diplomats still had not been told officially that the government of Schuschnigg and President Wilhelm Miklas was of the past.

But Schuschnigg was said to be a lonesome, tired man behind a guard surrounding his Belvedere palace. Again members of the house of Hapsburg, which ruled Austria for more than a thousand years, were in flight.

And all that was left was for Austria to answer "yes" in a plebiscite April 10, to the question:

"Do you acknowledge our Fuehrer Hitler and thereby agree to reunion of Austria with the German reich (government) accomplished March 13?"

Almost unanimous approval was predicted.

ABDUCTION FAILS

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 16. (AP) Police records showed Forrester Scott, Philadelphia attorney, and two fliers were detained today in connection with an attempted airplane abduction of Scott's two daughters. The girls, Eva, 6, and Zoe, 3, are here with his divorced wife, now Mrs. Harry Clarke Boden.

Hospital Group To Leave Today

Executives of four Lubbock hospitals plan to leave early today for San Angelo for the opening session this morning of the two-day tenth annual meeting of the Northwest Texas clinic and Hospital Managers association at Cactus hotel.

Those to make the trip from here are C. E. Hunt, superintendent, and J. H. Felton, business manager, both of Lubbock sanitarium; C. J. Hollingsworth, business manager of West Texas hospital; and Jimmie Wilson, business manager of Plains hospital.

Have Program Spots

All are to appear on the program. Felton, Hollingsworth and Wilson are to discuss separate phases of the subject, "How Financial Arrangements Are Made Between Patient and Business Manager." Hunt, who is president of the Texas State Hospital association, will lead a round table discussion of the subject, "Cost of Hospital Care."

They plan to return to Lubbock late Friday after a business session at which officers are to be elected. Miss Ara Davis of Temple is present president.

Interest In School Trustee Election Here At Low Ebb

Little interest has been shown thus far in the election April 2 when two members of the board of trustees of Lubbock independent school district are to be chosen, although less than a week remains in which to file candidacies, district officials said Wednesday.

The only candidacies thus far filed are those of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson and Dr. Allen T. Stewart, members of the board whose terms expire. Tuesday will be the last day for filing candidacies.

In accordance with custom, only one polling place will be established, that at district school offices, 1007 Texas avenue.

Dr. R. P. Reeds Of Lubbock Heads Panhandle Osteopaths

PLAINVIEW, March 16 (Special) Panhandle Osteopathic society chose Dr. R. P. Reeds of Lubbock president at a quarterly meeting Tuesday night at Hilton hotel here.

Twenty-four osteopaths were present. The society is composed of osteopaths from Panhandle and plains town, comprising one of eight districts in Texas.

Lubbock was selected site for next meeting June 14.

Other officers elected were: Dr. J. L. Witt of Groom, vice-president, and Dr. W. J. Williams of Plainview, secretary-treasurer.

German Agents Of Censorship Regime Makes Difficult The Work In Austria Of Press

VIENNA, March 16. (AP) — Authorities today increased pressure on newspaper correspondents.

Uniformed S. A. (storm troop) men entered the office of the Associated Press and took into custody Willy Jacobson, German-born veteran photographer who is half-Jewish.

There was no charge and no explanation.

A photographer of Acme, American picture agency, who had a Polish passport, was detained and his office padlocked.

Alfred Tynauer, a representative of the International News service, was arrested twice and his Austrian passport confiscated.

Three attaches of the United States legation were busy throughout the morning investigating searches of at least two homes of Americans and the Associated Press office.

In the latter, four pictures were confiscated. Two of them, showing a Viennese night club scene, were more than two years old.

Three correspondents of British and American newspapers left the country.

They were Friedrich Scheu of the Daily Herald of London, N. W. Fodor of the Chicago Daily News and Douglas Reed of the Times of London.

The Mexican population in this country has increased rapidly during the past 10 years.

Income Tax Returns Filed In Lubbock Show Slight Increase

Increase of 300 to 400 the number of income tax returns filed in Lubbock for 1937 as compared with 1936 was reported at offices of the bureau of internal revenue here Wednesday.

Returns for 1937 totaled between 900 and 1,000, officials said. Approximately 600 were filed for 1936.

Deadline for the filing of the new returns was midnight Tuesday. L. B. Earkley is deputy internal revenue collector here.

Turkey Youth Who Died When Gun Discharged Is Buried

MATADOR, March 16. (Special)—Last rites for Clyde Montgomery, 15-year-old Turkey High school pupil who was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting late Tuesday, were held at Turkey this afternoon.

Reports to Sheriff L. A. Carlisle here indicated the boy had climbed through a barbed wire fence and then had attempted to draw the shotgun to him. He was the son of Winburn Q. Montgomery, resident of Montgomery community and a candidate for county commissioner from northern Motley county.

Allen And Cawthon On Rote Program

Music and football combined to make an interesting program for Rotarians yesterday at Lubbock hotel as James G. Allen, acting dean of men at Texas Technological college, and P. W. Cawthon, football coach, both Rotarians, spoke.

James I. Kilpatrick president, announced new directors for the year were Earl B. Collins, R. E. McDonald, James L. Quicksall, Ray Farmer and Dr. C. J. Wagner. He called a meeting of directors after the luncheon.

Report On Seagraves Made

O. W. Ribble reported on formation of a Seagraves Rotary club Tuesday night, with the Lubbock club assisting. Dr. Wagner was the speaker. About 20 Seagraves business men had joined. Charter night is set for March 29, with District Governor J. Edd McLaughlin in attendance.

E. L. McBride and M. B. Hilburn were co-chairman, the former presiding. Dean Allen, the "plebe" of the club humorously discussed his musical career and illustrated the several ages with piano selections, much to the amusement of his audience.

Cawthon outlined football training this spring at Tech, giving some of his experiences in high school and college and before coming to the Lubbock college at the invitation of the late Dr. Paul W. Horn. "We try to teach the boys some things besides football," he said.
