Late Fair Crowds Defy Rains; Derby Day Today

Afternoon and Night Crowd Is Good; Racing Schedule Is Completed; Derby Purse Big

Although rain that fell for several hours Wednesday made the grounds at the Texas-Oklahoma fair muddy and disagreeable the bad weather did not keep a good sized crowd from attending during the afternoon and night, and it is estimated by officials at the fair office that the crowd yesterday numbered eight or ten thousand.

The races and the evening program of hippodrome acts in front of the grandstand proved the greatest attractions during the afternoon and evening and the crowds were good, circumstances considered.

Wortham shows enjoyed a fairly good patronage by visitors who braved the bad weather to attend the fair, and the smaller concessions reported a fair intake for the day.

Five unusually spectacular races, run in spite of a muddy field, proved to be among the best run here this week and the thousand race fans who saw them declared them to be of the first rate class.

Visitors at the evening performance before the grandstand were surprised with several new features added to the program. The hippodrome features, with two unusual aerial acts and three tumbling acts that proved unusually good were augmented by a new clown act that is far above the average of such bills, and the spectators were enthusiastic in the reception given the players.

The fire works exhibition was entirely different, also, and included many features not seen the first two nights. A crowd estimated at a thousand was present in the stands during the evening. They witnessed in addition to the regular acts, a spectacular and exciting auto polo game, played in the muddy race track that proved to be a hair raiser from the start. The white team came out the victors over the blues, winning by one goal in one of the fastest games of the week. Special lighting features were arranged for the games and the play was fraught with many collisions and spills from which the players escaped, sometimes almost miraculously.

The various exhibits in the hangars were visited by several thousand peo-

FAIR CROWD WAS 30,000 FIRST DAY

The most question of how many persons attended the Texas-Oklahoma fair the opening day last Monday was settled by a statement of the facts in the case obtained last night from Secretary C. H. Verschoyle of the fair association.

"Figures we have now show unquestionably there were more than 30,000 persons who came through the gates the first day and I would say 32,000 is a conservative estimate," were the words of Secretary Verschoyle when asked specifically regarding the first day's attendance.

Entered in the Derby:
No. 1. Jolly Cephas.
No. 2. Brazos.
No. 3. Harp of the North.
No. 4. Princess Signal.
No. 5. Nohow.
No. 6. Whippet.

Thursday is derby day at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and one of the biggest crowds of the week is expected to fill the grandstand for the horse racing classic in which will be entered the best of American running horses. The J. I. Staley derby, with $800 added money, has brought the best racers of the tracks here, and many horses are entered which have not appeared on the track this season.

The Staley derby is undoubtedly one of the classic events of the southwests racing season. Six of the fastest mounts in the southwest are entered for the big money, and the race of one mile and 70 yards promises to be one of the best of the year.

All of the horses have been groomed for the classic carefully, and following the races yesterday, some were worked out on the track. Whippet, a favorite, worked on the mud track and looked as a likely horse for the event. Whippet won the only three he entered easily, on Monday, and in the workout yesterday afternoon, made an unusually fast mile. The work was held after the track had been cleared, and only the jockey, trainer and a representative of the Record News saw the trial. Whippet looks like a good mount and works especially well in the mud, which will be a point in favor as the track will probably be soft this afternoon.

Among the other racers are several which looks good, including Jolly Cephas and Brazos. All entered are good and from all indications, the classic event will be a fast mile from the tape, with every horse in the running.

The Staley derby is the biggest event of the racing week, and special preparations are being made to handle the crowd which will view it from the grandstand.

In five other races which will feature the day are record entries, the days bill being arranged to give the racing fans the best races of the week

Formal Murder Charge Is Filed Against Gray

By The Associated Press

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 3.—A formal charge of murder has been filed against G. C. (Clem) Gray in connection with the killing of Otis Ballard, at Mount Pleasant on Monday night of last week and the case will be presented to the special grand jury to be assembled Monday for consideration. There also will be a special session of the Titus county district court and immediate trial for Gray is expected.

Titus county officials tonight stated that Gray's plea of guilty to a charge of bank robbery, on which he received a 10-year sentence today in the Upshur county district court at Gilmer, will not interfere with their plans to place Gray on trial for the murder of Ballard.

District Attorney T. C. Hutchings of Titus county stated tonight that Mrs. A. J. Seman, one of the persons under arrest in connection with the Ballard case has made no confession, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Keith and McKinley also are being held in connection with the case.

It was reported to District Attorney Hutchings today that Gray had intimated he wanted to make a statement regarding the Ballard case and Hutchings went to Gilmer late this evening. On his return to Mount Pleasant tonight he stated, however, that Gray made no statement.

Charges Hubby Is Hubby to Another

"The other woman" is receiving more than the usual consideration at the hands of Mrs. Clara Nietas, who was granted a marriage annulment from George Nietas by Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court Wednesday.

Mrs. Nietas in her petition for annulment of her marriage said that about a year ago she agreed to marry George Nietas. She said Nietas told her he had a wife living in another state but that she had divorced him. Mrs. Nietas said Nietas purported to have wired his former wife verifying the divorcement and that the telegram was shown her just before the wedding.

The woman said she lived with Nietas 10 months and found out he had never been divorced from his first wife. She said she wrote the first wife and the latter told her she and Nietas were still legally man and wife. The woman then quit living with Nietas and begin legal proceeding to secure a marriage annulment which Judge Martin granted yesterday.

"I am going to help run Nietas down and have him prosecuted. Not for what he did to me but for the way he treated his first wife," Mrs. Nietas, the former second wife, said during the hearing.

Local officers are seeking for Nietas who is said to be in Ohio. He is wanted on charges of marrying under false pretenses.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Chatting from time to time with the man on operating table Dr. Hans Finsterer of the University of Vienna, before a clinic of Buffalo surgeons, today removed the patient's stomach, performed a minor operation on the organ and replaced it. The operation required nearly two hours, the patient being fully conscious throughout.

Dr. Finsterer explained that special treatment of the solar plexus, deadening the nerve centers, had made unnecessary the use of anaesthetic. Physicians examining the patient said he had suffered none of the after effects of shock usual in major operations.

CONGRESSMAN IS TO BE INDICTED ON BOOZE LAWS

Congressman Hill Has Been Conducting "Home Experiments"

TO FORCE RULING

U. S. Attorney Says He Will Do All in Power to Get Conviction

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3.—Amos W. Woodcock, United States district attorney, announced tonight he will ask the indictment of Congressman John Phillip Hill for violation of the Volstead law.

Mr. Woodcock said he will lay the case before the federal judge Thursday, October 11, and will ask for an indictment, and will do all in his power to obtain the congressman's conviction.

For a number of weeks, Mr. Hill has been engaged in wine making experiments at his home in the city. The tests were made, he said, to force a ruling from the federal prohibition commissioner as to what constitutes intoxicating fruit juices.

In a statement issued tonight, the district attorney said: "This morning's newspapers in the midst of preparations for a pending case, is expressed the opinion, without much consideration, that Congressman Hill's experiments belong to the class of trivial things with which the law is not concerned.

"It appears by the evening papers that he wishes to be prosecuted and is virtually defying the law. To that attitude, there can be but one answer. I shall lay his case before the grand jury on next Thursday, ask for an indictment, and do my best, fairly and squarely to convict him.

"I shall proceed by indictment rather than information because of the unusual features of the case, so that the prosecution may be backed not by my own individual judgment alone, but by the judgment of the grand jurors as well."

MAYOR CARGILL PLANS FOR CELTS

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3.—One hundred members of Ragen's Athletic club of Chicago, described as "backyard Irish lads, handy with dukes, knives or guns," who left for Oklahoma recently with the announced intention of aiding Governor J. C. Walton in his fight against the ku klux klan, will be put to work picking cotton if they reach Oklahoma City, Mayor O. A. Cargill advised the Chicago Tribune, in a telegram tonight.

"The fighting is over," Mayor Cargill said, "but the Celts will be rounded up for an engagement with the boll weevil."

His telegram follows:

"Press reports have it that Ragen's Celts are on their way to Oklahoma on the theory that this fight is open to the public. The fighting is over but the cotton picking is under way in full swing and the Celts will be rounded up for an engagement with the boll weevil.

"They should bear in mind that Oklahoma is the original broncho-busting state and our slogan has been changed from 'They shall not pass' to 'Ride 'em Cowboy!!!"

Anent two prominent society young men with two of the season's debutantes driving up to the fair automobile gate in a fine limousine Wednesday afternoon.

"Better count it," advised the gate keeper as he handed a roll of bills to the young man.

"Oh, I reckon its all here," the big monied man said as he drove into the grounds with the bills still in his hand.

A few minutes later the man rushed back after he and his friends had ridden the merry-go-round.

RACES ARE RUN ON HEAVY TRACK

Rain Fails to Stop Heats Although First One Was Scratched

Rain which fell during the night and morning failed to stop the races at the Texas-Oklahoma fair yesterday afternoon, and although the track was in poor condition, the races were held as scheduled, with some good time and spectacular finishes featuring the day's running. In spite of the handicap of a muddy track the jockey's rode their mounts hard and were able to keep well within the good time mark in all the races.

The first race scheduled as a six furlong event for three-year-olds and upward, was scratched because of failure of some entries to appear in the paddock at the call.

The second race, a classy one mile dash for all ages, was entered by five horses, and turned out to be one of the best events of the afternoon, with Tough and Tight fighting for first place with St. Jude all the way around the two laps. St. Jude finished in front by a nose.

The horses were away to a perfect start, and St. Jude took the lead. At the quarter Tough and Tight evened, the two running neck and neck until the sprint, when St. Jude, in a spectacular finish under the whip was ridden to a win by Jockey E. Barham. Tough and Tight was second, and J. Rufus finished a length behind for third, with Joe Lee badly out of the money. B. Maskrid was up on Tough and Tight and F. Smith was third jockey. Time was one minute, fifty-seven and four-fifths seconds.

The dope was upset in the third race when Mabel Krips, favorite, failed to get in the money in the half-mile race. Maggie May, with B. Maskrid up, finished first with a time of 54 4-5 seconds, and C. McCorkle rode Effie Randall a close second. R. Bridges took his first money on Gingham Apron, taking third, with Red Elk and Shady Lane out of the money. All carried 115 pounds.

The fourth, a selling race for a purse of $250, for all ages eight pounds below scale, was won by Joodle Clegg with time of 33 1-5 seconds for three furlongs. B. Maskrid was up on the winner, and Jockey E. Barham got in the money the second time by riding Black Jack to second place in the money, with Cow Puncher, J. Taylor up, a close third. Keno a good horse with Bridges up, and A-1 failed to place in the money.

Certain Point took his second win of the meet, winning the fifth race, a five furlong event from six runners, with a time of 1:02 4-5. C. McCorkle was up. Miss Speares, with A. Maskrid up, was a close second, and B. Maskrid rose Rosebud into third place, over McMurphy, Morne and Sir George, all good horses.

The sixth, won handily by Lady Coleeto, with Jockey B. Norton up, ended in a squabble at the judges stand. Mahaley was declared out of the money by the judges, on charges that Jockey C. McCorkle deliberately pulled his mount, losing the lead.

The race was five furlongs, and Mahaley took the lead at the break, but went so wide at the first turn that he was passed, dropping into third place. Lady Coleeto won with time of 1:01 1-5. Sadies Lady, with Jockey E. Barnes up, was second and Red Moon, with Jockey B. Maskrid up took third.

In spite of the rain and bad weather a good crowd saw the races from the grand stands, and they were amply repaid for their trouble by the races run.

Race Results.

Although run on a muddy field yesterday's races at the Texas-Oklahoma fair were up to standard, with several races featured by spectacular finishes. Rain which fell during the morning left the track in poor condition, but the events were called on

BERLIN CABINET RETIRES FROM OFFICE IN BODY

CABINET WAS SPLIT

Socialists Reject Streseman Compromise on Eight-Hour Law Points

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann and the members of his ministry resigned from office tonight. President Ebert then called upon the retiring chancellor to form a new cabinet.

The Stresemann government retired from office with the relinquishment of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland as the only active accomplishment to its credit. While criticism of its usefulness on this score would seem not to be entirely fair, in view of the hopelessly tangled legacy assumed by it as the successor of the Cuno ministry, the Stresemann coalition, in its political composition, was such as to preclude in the long run any hope of productiveness in the nature of financial and economic reforms, on account of the conflicting currents which hampered its deliberation.

With a theoretical socialist in the ministry of finance and an industrialist party man as minister of economics one chronic point of friction was promptly established. It led to the retirement yesterday of Hans von Raumer, who held the latter post, as he had apparently wearied of carrying on a running debate with Dr. Hilferding on financial and economic dogmas.

After the socialist members of the reichstag rejected by a vote of 51 to 54 the compromise proposed by Chancellor Stresemann on the mooted points of the eight hour law and modification of the authorization law, its four members in the cabinet, Dr. Hilferding, minister of finance; Schmidt, reconstruction; Sollman, interior; and Badbruch, justice, apprised the chancellor of their retirement, whereupon the chancellor convoked the remaining members of the cabinet for a decisive session.

While a government without popular representation, as now reflected in the reichstag, would ordinarily be viewed as a return to an ultra czaristic regime, there is enough sentiment abroad in the land to support such an innovation, in view of the nation's present plight. In the reichstag corridors the suggestion is being actively championed outside the ranks of the socialists, although it is believed the moderate minority wing in the radical party would silently view such an expedient as worth the experiment.

AXES RELEASE IMBEDDED MAN

By The Associated Press.

CANTON, O., Oct. 3.—After chopping with axes more than two hours today, workmen succeeded in rescuing P. P. Hassan, 36, from a block of asphalt where he had been imbedded all night. Only his head, right arm and shoulder were visible.

Hassan fell into a pile of warm asphalt while walking near an asphalt plant last night. He became exhausted trying to free himself and lay down. In the meantime the asphalt hardened.

His calls for help were finally heard by a workman shortly before 6 o'clock this morning. Remaining conscious, Hassan directed the cutting away of the asphalt, which held him a prisoner, and appearently suffered no ill effects.

Mrs. Stokes Wages New Fight To Clear Name in "Photo" Case

Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes and her attorney, Charles Erbstein, discussing witnesses' statements.

(By Central Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A quiet, little, determined woman, whose past, both actual and rumored, was dragged into the courts and laid bare before the public once before, is fighting again to clear her name of more nasty charges, hurled by her husband.

And fate seems to be smiling on her this time.

Seven of the witnesses who signed affidavits which dragged Mrs. Stokes' name to the very bottom of the pit, have now testified that they swore falsely to those statements. That with a stroke of the pen they blackened her character for the sake of five dollars.

The testimony has come during the investigation by Assistant State's Attorney Charles Wharton into charges that Stokes "conspired" to ruin her name in his efforts to divore her.

Signed for Five Dollars.

The witnesses have told Wharton how, after looking at a photo of Mrs. Stokes and a baby, they signed—for $5—statements that they recognized the woman as Mrs. Stokes and that the person in the photo was familiar to the night life of Chicago 18 years ago.

Thomas Flynn, former policeman, has added his testimony to the case by telling how men he termed as "representatives" of Stokes, had tried to get him to obtain such statements.

Charles Burnish, colored drug clerk, has told the attorney how three men gave him the "usual five" to sign an affadavit and asserts that one of the three was a legal representative of Stokes while a second member was a deputy sheriff.

As the men have confronted Mrs. Stokes and her attorney, Charles E. Erbstein, in the last few days and shamefacedly admitted their willingness to drag her name into the mire for a paltry $5, Mrs. Stokes has fought bravely to keep from breaking down under the strain of the revelation.

Attack "Unbelievable."

"I knew that Mr. Stokes would try to drag me down," she said repeatedly, "but I did not believe he had the cold heart necessary to go to this extent to blacken my name.

"I ask only one thing—vindication of these rotten charges. I want my name cleared—that I may hold my head up before my children, my friends and the world. I want it cleared too, that I may demand my financial right as a wife.

"And I want the world to know the truth. That is all," she adds.

Stokes and his legal representatives were ordered to appear before the state attorney following the seven confessions. Stokes and his lawyer both deny any part in the alleged "conspiracy."

Mrs. Stokes says that the photo in question is of her and her baby, taken on a sister's front porch, but that the part showing the baby has been tinted.

Battle To Death In State Penitentiary

Three Convicts Barricaded in Corner After Attempted Escape Kill One Guard and Wound Three.

By The Associated Press.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 3.—Three convict murderers, cornered in the dining room of the Eddyville state penitentiary plant here today after they had killed one guard and wounded three others in a desperate attempt to shoot their way to liberty, still were beseiged in their cul'de sac tonight.

Ringed around with a grim circle of prison guards, reinforced by scores of citizen riflemen, the convicts held to their barricade, exchanging an occasional shot with the besiegers.

No concerted attempt to rush the improvised fortress of the convicts was made during the day, and tonight with a machine gun troop of the national guard from Hopkinsville and the tear gas squad from the Louisville police department coming to help prison authorities meet the situation, officials expected to determine what course to persue after a conference with leaders of the re-inforcements.

Hodge Cunningham of Cadiz, guard, was killed in the first fusillade fired by the convicts. Guards wounded were W. M. Gilbert of Breckenridge county, believed fatally shot; W. P. Gilliham, Lyon county, shot through the hips and V. B. Mattingly, Leitchfield, shot through body. Gilbert and Gilliham were taken to a Paducah hospital, but Mattingly, whose death

PROCURES ORDER HALTING BOARDS CERTIFICATION

Armed Special Deputies Kept 200,000 From Polls, He Says

BONUS IS DEFEATED

Last Election Totalled 500,000, Walton Men Declare

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3.—Belated returns received tonight from yesterday's special election, continued to pile up an overwhelming vote for the constitutional amendment empowering the state legislature to convene at its own call to inquire into impeachment charges against Governor Walton.

At 9 o'clock when 2,142 out 2,837 precincts in the state had been heard from, the count stood: For, 188,573; against, 57,899.

The soldier bonus amendment, for which the election primarily was called, was defeated. In addition to the fact that its passage required a majority of all votes cast, the vote from 1,789 precincts was: For, 89,715 against, 100,86.

Attacks Legality.

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3. Gov. J. C. Walton's attack on the legality of yesterday's election on a constitutional amendment to permit an impeachment session of the state legislature was in full swing tonight with more than a third of the returns in the state not yet tabulated.

His first gun in the after-election fight was fired today when he sought and obtained in state district court, a temporary restraining order preventing the state election board from certifying the returns to the secretary of state.

Hearing on the application to make the order permanent was set for October 9. Observers on both sides anticipated a lull in the contest between the governor and the legislature until then.

The order was granted by Judge Tom G. Chambers, Jr., an appointee of Governor Walton.

Kept 275,000 Silent.

In his application, the executive alleged the election was illegal because the proposed constitutional amendments submitted were not properly advertised before the election. He declared that thousands of armed special deputies commissioned by sheriffs throughout the state had intimidated voters and that this combined with alleged influence exerted by the ku klux klan had kept more than 200,000 persons from the polls.

Close advisers of the governor declared the election yesterday could not be regarded as a repudiation of him. They said that in the general election of 1922, more than 500,000 votes were cast, while in yesterday's election, they estimated the total vote will not exceed 300,000 when the official count is made. They explained that they expected 75,000 of the votes cast to be against the amendment. This, they said, would leave only 225,000 cast by the "ku klux klan and their adherents," making the total of those who did not vote for the amendment more than 275,000.

Charges Klan Controlled.

Charging that the ku klux klan controlled yesterday's election, Governor Walton issued a statement tonight pledging the "American people" that the issue whether the "invisible empire" shall supplant constitutional government in Oklahoma will be decided in the special election of December 6. This was called by the governor as a substitute for yesterday's election, which was proclaimed illegal by executive decree. Only the legislative proposal will be submitted.

Life Threatened Daily.

"The ku klux guns of the nation are now trained on me," Governor Walton declared in his statement. "I am daily in receipt of threats of assassination, but I had rather die by the hand of an assassin than die th death of a coward.

"The fight is to a finish. There will be no compromise. In the next 60 days will be fought the most historic political battle since the civil war."

No Klan Says McBee.

Declaring there is no klan issue in Oklahoma, "except in the hallucinations of a distorted brain," Representative McBee later issued the following statement:

"The legislative committee has repeatedly denied that there is a klan issue in Oklahoma. We are as ready to protect the interest of one sect, creed, denomination or race as another. We are true Americans, open and above board, recognizing the spirit and letter of the constitution of the United States and constitutional government.

"We realize that Governor Walton

Texas and Oklahoma are both state of great farming possibilities according to the exhibits displayed by the farmers in the agricultural building of the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition.

Many varieties of farm products are on display in the agricultural building of the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition, and they are attracting considerable attention. In the general exhibit the grass family or forage stuff is well represented. Red cane, hegari, white, red and dwarf maize, darso, red and white kafir, dwarf and spur feterita, and giant millet are displayed. Wheat of different varieties and oats are also in ferent varieties and oats are also in the exhibits. Fruits and vegetables of many varieties, sizes and quantities are in the booths.

Wilberger county, Electra community, Jackson county, Oklahoma, Tillman county, Oklahoma, and the Iowa Park community have large booths in the agricultural building. An exhibit that has come a long way to the Texas-Oklahoma fair is that from Roosevelt and Curry counties, New Mexico.

The display of the Wilberger county exhibit of the fair has peanuts, apples, peaches, and cabbage, radishes and other vegetables. An unusual thing on exhibit was celery grown in Wilbarger county. That Wilbarger county is an agricultural county is shown by the bundles of hay composed of alfalfa, sudan grass, cowpeas, peanuts, Johnson grass, oats, and sweet clover.

The Electra community had on display cotton, feed stuffs of several varieties, corn, wheat, maize and fruits. The exhibit of the Electra canned fruits and vegetables was made up of a large number of canned fruits and vegetables.

Iowa Park community had on exhibit steam pressure cooked with several cans of the foods put up by it. French country eggs, fruits, and vegetables were in the exhibit, as well as the feed stuffs for farm animals.

Jackson County.

Jackson county, Oklahoma, especially devoted to agriculture, poultry and stock raising, displayed an unusual amount of farm products. Fifty varieties of canned fruits and vegetables were on display. Wine sap apples, Ben Davis apples, Japanese cucumbers, unusual in this country were in the booth. A gourd, 36 inches long, was also shown. Small bales of hay showing the different varieties of hay crops in the county were in the exhibit. One of the features was the popcorn hay, a European popcorn, which is purple in color. The corn which grows on this stalk is white with deep purple on the end of the ear.

In the center of the Tilman county, Oklahoma, exhibit is a mammoth whale squash weighing 30½ pounds, and is only one-third grown. The squash, when fully developed, weighs as much as a 100 pounds. Olives grown in this county were on exhibition. They were the only olives on display from the different entries. Gherkins and Camson plums along with other farm exhibits were in the exhibit.

Tillman County.

Two individual farms in Tillman county, Oklahoma, had exhibits at the fair. One was the Randolph farm and the other the Valentine farm, each of which contain 160 acres. They are within two and one-half miles of each other. The Randolph farm carried several varieties of corn, cotton, maize, feterita, hegari, millet, cotton, and vegetables of different kinds, including beans, onions, peppers, and various fruits.

The Valentine farm carried the same exhibits almost of the other farm and in addition eight varieties of canned fruits. The fruit was raised on the farm and canned by a girl of 15 years. She has won five first prizes and one second prize on six of jars of fruit which she has entered in the Texas-Oklahoma fair.

"Come west and grow up with a real country," is the greeting which Curry and Roosevelt counties, New Mexico, gives to the fair visitors, who enter the agriculture) building. This placard has a background of cottonseed and the letters are made of wheat. In the background of this exhibit from New Mexico is the flag of the United States. The white stripes are made from the lint of New Mexico cotton. The red stripes are made of the seeds from Bloody Butcher corn. The blue background for the stars is of a peculiar variety of corn—a dull line, white, while the white stars are made of feterita seeds.

New Mexico.

Miss New Mexico dressed in broom corn gown welcomes the visitors to the exhibit. Corn, feterita, maize, kafir, sorghum, millet, in fact nearly all kinds of feed crops, and oats, wheat and cotton are found in the exhibit.

"Mickey" McClure Knows Horses And All About Racing Game

"Yes, Mickey knows horses."

This is the terse parlance of the horse-world, and the expression was used yesterday by M. H. Morison, of Oklahoma City, one of the most widely known horsemen in the country. He is at the Texas-Oklahoma fair with a number of the talent that idolizes what the cavalryman calls "man's noblest friend."

Mr. Morrison was paying a compliment to one of the most familiar figures at the fair. This man is to everybody just plain "Mickey." In real life he is L. J. McClure, superintendent of speed, and one of the right bowers of W. Fred Weeks, racing secretary of th. fair.

"Mickey" is known all over the country in live stock circles. While his love for the horse is paramount, his love for all livestock runs second. At every big fair one seeking "Mickey" can find him. If there is no racing card "Mickey" is around the cattle barns, probably the most interested spectator on the fair grounds.

McClure is a reticent fellow when it comes to talking about himself. He will talk livestock to you all day, but when it comes to self-eulogy, he "is not there." Yesterday he was caught napping. In a short talk with his interviewer he told what the interviewer had long wanted. That was "a line on himself."

He has had an interesting history. Hailing from Oklahoma City, he learned to love horses as a kid. He trained to ride them. It is likely that England remembers him better than it does any other rider ever over there except "Tod" Sloan. Sloan it will be remembered, was father of his own style of riding in the earlier part of this country.

When Sloan was in his glory "Mickey" McClure stepped out in England as a steeple jockey. He made a mark. He is the only American jockey that ever finished in the famous race known as the grand national steeple chase, run at Liverpool.

But "Mickey" had to pass as a rider. His weight became too great for a jockey and he turned to the field as a qualified expert. He became famous as such, and any horseman has sent his steed to the post to win after McClure had closely groomed the animal for all the points in the game.

Returning to America McClure found plenty to keep him in the horse game. Yet he had time enough for other stock. Cattle he knows from the hoof up. He is a familiar figure around Oklahom. City, and nearly every kid in the town will tell you he is there when it comes to taking the fine points of an entry.

As superintendent of speed at the Texas-Oklahoma fair he is in his glory. Fred Weeks, who looks after the interest of the fair on the track, sits back when it comes time for "Mickey" to function. He knows the little fellow is master of his art, and he leaves him to rule supreme.

He and Mr. Morrison, who is a horse owner and lover, are great friends. Their common interest in life is the horse. Morrison is a man of fewer words than McClure. When asked yesterday if he thought "Mickey" was a good track authority, he summed the whole up in four words:

"Yes, Mickey knows horse."

McClure is one of the most familiar figures among horsemen in the American newspaper offices. The sporting editor always has time to see him, and to the farm editor he is welcome.

BUT FEW MAKE THE MOVIE GOAL

Each Year 18,000 Girls Leave Their Homes for Hollywood

"You ought to be in the movies; why dont you have a test?" or, "you look just like Winona Warren. You'd make a fortune in pictures." Trite remarks—you've heard them often — but repeated by gushing friends, doting relatives and adoring sweethearts, they start thousands of girls on the trail to Hollywood, where multitudes apply and few are chosen, says the New York Tribune.

Glamour lights the road to "Movie" Land, but the beacon of publicity shines feebly, if at all, on those reluctant paths that lead disillusioned pilgrims back to the old home town.

The realities the film-struck girl left behind with tiresome, work-a-day living at home have a most unhappy way of reaching Hollywood ahead of her and being there to confront her when she arrives. She finds that one gets hungry and tired and needs money, even in the fabled picture world, and discovers that there are hordes of girls as pretty as she all coveting the will-o'-the-wisp of stardom.

Serious Problem.

The statement that no fewer than eighteen thousand girls are drawn to Hollywood annually is made by the Y. W. C. A. and confirmed by Will H. Hays. The greatest number of them are of high school age; many have reached the post-flapper stage. But they all have to make a more or less precipitous descent from the heights of their soaring ambitions. The Hollywood Studio club wants to lend them a parachute, so to speak.

The plight of these throngs of girls who never should have left home and must be persuaded to return has become such a serious problem for motion picture producers that Mr. Hays has agreed to raise within the industry $120,000 of the $150,000 fund required to erect a new building for the Studio club. The present quarters of the club, which is under the supervision of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., house only twenty guests. The proposed building will provide accommodations for one hundred girls.

"An aunt in Los Angeles, a glimpse of some motion picture celebrity in person, or even a consuming admiration for one of the film stars appear to the 'movie'-struck girl as excellent guaranties of special favors when once she gets to Hollywood," Miss Olive Richards of the Y. W. C. A., observes after having spent several months at the Studio club.

Know They Are Pretty.

"These self-confiden. youngsters many of them a thousand miles and more away from their families, come to the club with an assurance that is oblivious to tactful discouragement. If were were dealing with homesick children how easy it would be to turn them around and start them back home! But they are pretty and they know it. The workers at the Studio club often have to bide their time until lack of funds and the brutal frankness of casting directors make tattered wrecks of those glittering dreams that lured them on to Hollywood.

"Once a girl has had make-up on she never seems able to escape the magnetism of the 'movie' lot. And strangely enough, a new girl usually gets two or three days work as an extra before we can convince her that she has made a mistake in coming. She may wait for weeks, even months, before she gets anything more, except in mob scenes. But she haunts the studios and begs for work, day after day, day after day, until necessity forces her to come to us for help. Then she is about ready to listen to sane talk of home or some steady employment in an office.

Life All Dramatics.

"Life is all dramatics with them. "Everything is exaggerated. One of our club girls would never be merely indisposed. If she is ill at all she is likely to rush in and exclaim, 'My God! I'm dying!' as if she felt the eye of the camera trained upon her and had to register a pageant of emotions.

"When a girl stops acting and begins to be herself that is the psychological moment to talk homegoing plans.

"'Movie' fans who write to the Studio club to make reservations are always firmly discouraged, and they always come right along, anyway.

"We had a letter from a school teacher in Nebraska who gave her age as 30 and explained that her resemblance to Mabel Normand was striking. Therefore she had decided to come out to Hollywood to be in motion pictures. We advised her to stay where she was and she replied that she was coming on. She had savings enough to keep her a while, so we had to let her find out for herself. She evntually went back to school-teaching—not in Nebraska, however."

Reason So Many "Pimple Cures" Fail

Salves and lotions come and go, one after the other, hoping to hit the right thing which might cause them to get results for people who suffer from skin troubles. Most of these concoctions don't even heal the outward effects, much less take away the cause of the disease.

Do you think so little of your delicate skin as to allow yourself to become the subject for these experiments? By all means use only the thing which has stood the test of time and public opinion. Black and White Ointment has not only stood this test, but you are sure of it—when you know it is selling at the tremendous rate of nearly two million packages a year.

The way it is economically priced, in liberal packages, has helped to make it so popular, along with its dependability. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—adv.

Late Fair Crowds Defy Rains; Derby Day Today

Although rain that fell for several hours Wednesday made the grounds at the Texas-Oklahoma fair muddy and disagreeable and bad weather did not keep a good sized crowd from attending during the afternoon and night, and it is estimated by officials at the fair office that the crowd yesterday numbered eight or ten thousand.

The races and the evening program of hippodrome acts in front of the grandstand proved the greatest attractions during the afternoon and evening and the crowds were good, circumstances considered.

Wortham shows enjoyed a fairly good patronage by visitors who braved the bad weather to attend the fair, and the smaller concessions reported a fair intake for the day.

Five unusually spectacular races, run in spite of a muddy field, proved to be among the best run here this week and the thousand race fans who saw them declared them to be of the first rate class.

Visitors at the evening performance before the grandstand were surprised with several new features added to the program. The hippodrome features, with two unusual aerial acts and three tumbling acts that proved unusually good were augmented by a new clown act that is far above the average of such bills, and the spectators were enthusiastic in the reception given the players.

The fire works exhibition was entirely different, also, and included many features not seen the first two nights A crowd estimated at a thousand was present in the stands during the evening. They witnessed in addition to the regular acts, a spectacular and exciting auto polo game, played in the muddy race track that proved to be a hair raiser from the start. The white team came out the victors over the blues, winning by one goal in one of the fastest games of the week. Special lighting features were arranged for the games and the play was fraught with many collisions and spills from which the players escaped, sometimes almost miraculously.

The various exhibits in the hangars were visited by several thousand people.

Entered in the Derby:

No. 2. Brazos.
No. 3. Harp of the North.
No. 4. Princess Signal.
No. 5. Nohow.
No. 6. Whippet.

Thursday is derby day at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and one of the biggest crowds of the week is expected to fill the grandstand for the horse racing classic in which will be entered the best of American running horses. The J. I. Staley derby, with $800 added money, has brought the best racers of the tracks here, and many horses are entered which have not appeared on the track this season.

The Staley derby is undoubtedly one of the classic events of the southwest racing season. Six of the fastest mounts in the southwest are entered for the big money, and the race of one mile and 70 yards promises to be one of the best of the year.

All of the horses have been groomed for the classic carefully, and following the races yesterday, some were worked out on the track. Whippet, a favorite, worked on the mud track and looked as a likely horse for the event. Whippet won the only three he entered easily, on Monday, and in the workout yesterday afternoon, made an unusually fast mile. The work was held after the track had been cleared, and only the jockey, trainer and a representative of the Record News saw the trial. Whippet looks like a good mount and works especially well in the mud, which will be a point in favor as the track will probably be soft this afternoon.

Among the other racers are several which looks good, including Jolly Cephas and Brazos. All entered are good and from all indications, the classic event will be a fast mile from the tape, with every horse in the running.

The Staley derby is the biggest event of the racing week, and special preparations are being made to handle the crowd which will view it from the grandstand.

In five other races which will feature the day are record entries, the days bill being arranged to give the racing fans the best races of the week

FAIR CROWD WAS 30,000 FIRST DAY

The moot question of how many persons attended the Texas-Oklahoma fair the opening day last Monday was settled by a statement of the facts in the case obtained last night from Secretary C. H. Verschoyle of the fair association.

"Figures we have now show unquestionably there were more than 30,000 persons who came through the gates the first day and I would say 32,000 is a conservative estimate," were the words of Secretary Verschoyle when asked specifically regarding the first day's attendance.

Formal Murder Charge Is Filed Against Gray

By The Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 3.—A formal charge of murder has been filed against G. C. (Clem) Gray in connection with the killing of Otis Ballard, at Mount Pleasant on Monday night of last week and the case will be presented to the special grand jury to be assembled Monday for consideration. There also will be a special session of the Titus county district court and immediate trial for Gray is expected.

Titus county officials tonight stated that Gray's plea of guilty to a charge of bank robbery, on which he received a 10-year sentence today in the Upshur county district court at Gilmer, will not interfere with their plans to place Gray on trial for the murder of Ballard.

District Attorney T. C. Hutchings of Titus county stated tonight that Mrs. A. J. Seman, one of the persons under arrest in connection with the Ballard case has made no confession, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Keith and McKinley also are being held in connection with the case.

It was reported to District Attorney Hutchings today that Gray had intimated he wanted to make a statement regarding the Ballard case and Hutchings went to Gilmer late this evening. On his return to Mount Pleasant tonight he stated, however, that Gray made no statement.

Charges Hubby Is Hubby to Another

"The other woman" is receiving more than the usual consideration at the hands of Mrs. Clara Nietas, who was granted a marriage annulment from George Nietas by Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court Wednesday.

Mrs. Nietas in her petition for annulment of her marriage said that about a year ago she agreed to marry George Nietas. She said Nietas told her he had a wife living in another state but that she had divorced him. Mrs. Nietas said Nietas purported to have wired his former wife verifying the divorcement and that the telegram was shown her just before the wedding.

The woman said she lived with Nietas 10 months and found out he had never been divorced from his first wife. She said she wrote the first wife and the latter told her she and Nietas were still legally man and wife. The woman then quit living with Nietas and begin legal proceeding to secure a marriage annulment which Judge Martin granted yesterday.

"I am going to help run Nietas down and have him prosecuted. Not for what he did to me but for the way he treated his first wife," Mrs. Nietas, the former second wife, said during the hearing.

Local officers are seeking for Nietas who is said to be in Ohio. He is wanted on charges of marrying under false pretenses.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Chatting from time to time with the man on operating table Dr. Hans Finsterer of the University of Vienna, before a clinic of Buffalo surgeons, today removed the patient's stomach, performed a minor operation on the organ and replaced it. The operation required nearly two hours, the patient being fully conscious throughout.

Dr. Finsterer explained that special treatment of the solar plexus, deadening the nerve centers, had made unnecessary the use of anaesthetic. Physicians examining the patient said he had suffered none of the after effects of shock usual in major operations.

CONGRESSMAN IS TO BE INDICTED ON BOOZE LAWS

Congressman Hill Has Been Conducting "Home Experiments"

TO FORCE RULING

U. S. Attorney Says He Will Do All in Power to Get Conviction

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 3.—Amos W. Woodcock, United States district attorney, announced tonight he will ask the indictment of Congressman John Phillip Hill for violation of the Volstead law.

Mr. Woodcock said he will lay the case before the federal judge Thursday, October 11, and will ask for an indictment, and will do all in his power to obtain the congressman's conviction.

For a number of weeks, Mr. Hill has been engaged in wine making experiments at his home in the city. The tests were made, he said, to force a ruling from the federal prohibition commissioner as to what constitutes intoxicating fruit juices.

In a statement issued tonight, the district attorney said: "This morning's newspapers in the midst of preparations for a pending case, is expressed the opinion, without much consideration, that Congressman Hill's experiments belong to the class of trivial things with which the law is not concerned.

"It appears by the evening papers that he wishes to be prosecuted and is virtually defying the law. To that attitude, there can be but one answer. I shall lay his case before the grand jury on next Thursday, ask for an indictment, and do my best, fairly and squarely to convict him.

"I shall proceed by indictment rather than information because of the unusual features of the case, so that the prosecution may be backed not by my own individual judgment alone, but by the judgment of the grand jurors as well."

MAYOR CARGILL PLANS FOR CELTS

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3.—One hundred members of Ragen's Athletic club of Chicago, described as "backyard Irish lads, handy with dukes, knives or guns," who left for Oklahoma recently with the announced intention of aiding Governor J. C. Walton in his fight against the ku klux klan, will be put to work picking cotton if they reach Oklahoma City, Mayor O. A. Cargill advised the Chicago Tribune, in a telegram tonight.

"The fighting is over," Mayor Cargill said, "but the Celts will be rounded up for an engagement with the boll weevil."

His telegram follows:

"Press reports have it that Ragen's Celts are on their way to Oklahoma on the theory that this fight is open to the public. The fighting is over but the cotton picking is under way in full swing and the Celts will be rounded up for an engagement with the boll weevil.

"They should bear in mind that Oklahoma is the original broncho-busting state and our slogan has been changed from 'They shall not pass' to 'Ride 'em Cowboy!!!'".

G. T. AND W. MAY INTERVENE IN R. R.

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—Before the interstate commerce commission will act upon the matter of issuing a permit for the construction of the Texas, Panhandle and Gulf railroad, it will hear what the Gulf, Texas and Western railway company has to say about the matter, it was announced today.

The latter railroad was given permission today to intervene in the hearing of the application. It was taken for granted that it would object to the building of the new line. Governors of Texas and New Mexico were notified that the petition for intervention had been granted.

MAYBE IT WAS WORTH IT?

Anent two prominent society young men with two of the season's debutantes driving up to the fair automobile gate in a fine limousine Wednesday afternoon.

"Better count it," advised the gate keeper as he handed a roll of bills to the young man.

"Oh, I reckon its all here," the big monied man said as he drove into the grounds with the bills still in his hand.

L' Envoi.

A few minutes later the man rushed back after he and his friends had ridden the merry-go-round.

He had lost a $20 bill somewhere.

RACES ARE RUN ON HEAVY TRACK

Rain Fails to Stop Heats Although First One Was Scratched

Rain which fell during the night and morning failed to stop the races at the Texas-Oklahoma fair yesterday afternoon, and although the track was in poor condition, the races were held as scheduled, with some good time and spectacular finishes featuring the day's running. In spite of the handicap of a muddy track the jockey's rode their mounts hard and were able to keep well within the good time mark in all the races.

The first race scheduled as a six furlong event for three-year-olds and upward, was scratched because of failure of some entries to appear in the paddock at the call.

The second race, a classy one mile dash for all ages, was entered by five horses, and turned out to be one of the best events of the afternoon, with Tough and Tight fighting for first place with St. Jude all the way around the two laps. St. Jude finished in front by a nose.

The horses were away to a perfect start, and St. Jude took the lead. At the quarter Tough and Tight evened the two running neck and neck until the spring, when St. Jude, in a spectacular finish under the whip was ridden to a win by Jockey E. Barham. Tough and Tight was second, and J. Refus finished a length behind for third, with Joe Lee badly out of the money. B. Maskrid was up on Tough and Tight and F. Smith was third jockey. Time was one minute, fifty-seven and four-fifths seconds.

The dope was upset in the third race when Mabel Kripp, favorite, failed to get in the money in the half-mile race. Maggie May, with B. Maskrid up, finished first with a time of 54 4-5 seconds, and C. McCorkle rode Effie Randall a close second. R. Bridges took his first money on Gingham Apron, taking third, with Red Elk and Shady Lane out of the money. All carried 115 pounds.

The fourth, a selling race for a purse of $250, for all ages eight pounds below scale, was won by Jordie Clegg with time of 33 1-5 seconds for three furlongs. B. Maskrid was up on the winner, and Jockey E. Barham got in the money the second time by riding Black Jack to second place in the money, with Cow Puncher, J. Taylor up, a close third. Keno a good horse with Bridges up, and A-1 failed to place in the money.

Certain Point took his second win of the meet, winning the fifth race, a five furlong event from six runners, with a time of 1:02 4-5. C. McCorkle was up. Miss Speares, with A. Maskrid up, was a close second, and B. Maskrid rose Rosebud into third place, over McMurphy, Morne and Sir George, all good horses.

The sixth, won handily by Lady Coleeto, with Jockey B. Norton up, ended in a squabble at the judges stand. Mahaley was declared out of the money by the judges, on charges that Jockey C. McCorkle deliberately pulled his mount, losing the lead.

The race was five furlongs, and Mahaley took the lead at the break, but went go wide at the first turn that he was passed, dropping into third place. Lady Coleeto won with time of 1:01 1-5. Sadies Lady, with Jockey E. Barnes up, was second and Red Moon, with Jockey B. Maskrid up took third.

In spite of the rain and bad weather a good crowd saw the races from the grand stands, and they were amply rewaid for their trouble by the races run.

Race Results.

Although run on a muddy field yesterday's races at the Texas-Oklahoma fair were up to standard, with several races featured by spectacular finishes. Rain which fell duting the morning left the track in poor condition, but the events were called on

BERLIN CABINET RETIRES FROM OFFICE IN BODY

CABINET WAS SPLIT

Socialists Reject Streseman Compromise on Eight-Hour Law Points

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann and the members of his ministry resigned from office tonight. President Ebert then called upon the retiring chancellor to form a new cabinet.

The Stresemann government retired from office with the relinquishment of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland as the only active accomplishment to its credit. While criticism of its usefulness on this score would seem not to be entirely fair, in view of the hopelessly tangled legacy asumed by it as the successor of the Cuno ministry, the Stresemann coalition, in its political composition, was such as to preclude in the long run any hope of productiveness in the nature of financial and economic reforms, on account of the conflicting currents which hampered its deliberation.

With a theoretical socialist in the ministry of finance and an industrialist party man as minister of economics one chronic point of friction was promptly established. It led to the retirement yesterday of Hans von Rauner, who held the latter post, as he had apparently wearied of carrying on a running debate with Dr. Hilferding on financial and economic dogmas.

After the socialist members of the reichstag rejected by a vote of 51 to 54 the compromise proposed by Chancellor Stresemann on the mooted points of the eight hour law and modification of the authorization law, its four members in the cabinet, Dr. Hilferding, minister of finance; Schmidt, reconstruction; Sollman, interior; and Badbruch, justice, apprised the chancellor of their retirement, whereupon the chancellor convoked the remaining members of the cabinet for a decisive session.

While a government without popular representation, as now reflected in the reichstag, would ordinarily be viewed as a return to an ultra czaristic regime, there is enough sentiment abroad in the land to support such an innovation, in view of the nation's present plight. In the reichstag corridors the suggestion is being actively championed outside the ranks of the socialists, although it is believed the moderate minority wing in the radical party would silently view such an expedient as worth the experiment.

AXES RELEASE IMBEDDED MAN

By The Associated Press.

CANTON, O., Oct. 3.—After chopping with axes more than two hours today, workmen succeeded in rescuing P. P. Hassan, 36, from a block of asphalt where he had been imbedded all night. Only his head, right arm and shoulder were visible.

Hassan fell into a pile of warm asphalt while walking near an asphalt plant last night. He became exhausted trying to free himself and lay down. In the meantime the asphalt hardened.

His calls for help were finally heard by a workman shortly before 6 o'clock this morning. Remaining conscious, Hassan directed the cutting away of the asphalt, which held him a prisoner, and appearently suffered no ill effects.

HENS SAT ON BOOZE; OWNER SENT TO PEN

The Associated Press

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 3.—Because he put bottles of liquor instead of eggs under setting hens, Phil Dawson was given three years in the state penitentiary by a jury today after 24 hours deliberation. Bottles of liquor which a constable swore he took from under hens in Dawson's poultry house, were produced in district court here as evidence. Dawson was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for purpose of selling.

Mrs. Stokes Wages New Fight To Clear Name in "Photo" Case

Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes and her attorney, Charles Erbstein, discussing witnesses' statements.

(By Central Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A quiet, little, determined woman, whose past, both actual and rumored, was dragged into the courts and laid bare before the public once before, is fighting again to clear her name of movie hussy charges, hurled by her husband.

And fate seems to be smiling on her this time.

Seven of the witnesses who signed affidavits which dragged Mrs. Stokes' name to the very bottom of the pit, have now testified that they swore falsely to those statements. That with a stroke of the pen they blackened her character for the sake of five dollars.

The testimony has come during the investigation by Assistant State's Attorney Charles Wharton into charges that Stokes "conspired" to ruin her name in his efforts to divore her.

Signed for Five Dollars.

The witnesses have told Wharton how, after looking at a photo of Mrs. Stokes and a baby, they signed—for $5—statements that they recognized the woman as Mrs. Stokes and that the person in the photo was familiar to the night life of Chicago 18 years ago.

Thomas Flynn, former policeman, has added his testimony to the case by telling how men he termed as "representatives" of Stokes, had tried to get him to obtain such statements.

Charles Burnish, colored drug clerk, has told the attorney how three men gave him the "usual five" to sign an affadavit and asserts that one of the three was a legal representative of Stokes while a second member was a deputy sheriff.

As the men have confronted Mrs. Stokes and her attorney, Charles E. Erbstein, in the last few days and shamefacedly admitted their willingness to drag her name into the mire for a paltry $5, Mrs. Stokes has fought bravely to keep from breaking down under the strain of the revelation.

Attack "Unbelievable."

"I knew that Mr. Stokes would try to drag me down," she said repeatedly, "but I did not believe he had the cold heart necessary to go to this extent to blacken my name.

"I ask only one thing—vindication of these rotten charges. I want my name cleared—that I may hold my head up before my children, my friends and the world. I want it cleared too, that I may demand my financial right as a wife.

"And I want the world to know the truth. That is all," she adds.

Stokes and his legal representatives were ordered to appear before the state attorney following the seven confessions. Stokes and his lawyer both deny any part in the alleged "conspiracy."

Mrs. Stokes says that the photo in question is of her and her baby, taken on a sister's front porch, but that the part showing the baby has been tinted.

Battle To Death In State Penitentiary

Three Convicts Barricaded in Corner After Attempted Escape Kill One Guard and Wound Three.

By The Associated Press.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 3.—Three convict murderers, cornered in the dining room of the Eddyville state penitentiary plant here today after they had killed one guard and wounded three others in a desperate attempt to shoot their way to liberty, still were beseiged in their cul'de sac tonight.

Ringed around with a grim circle of prison guards, reinforced by scores of citizen riflemen, the convicts held to their barricade, exchanging an occasional shot with the besiegers.

No concerted attempt to rush the improvised fortress of the convicts was made during the day, and tonight with a machine gun troop of the national guard from Hopkinsville and the tear gas squad from the Louisville police department coming to help prison authorities meet the situation, officials expected to determine what course to persue after a conference with leaders of the re-inforcements.

Hodge Cunningham of Cadiz, guard, was killed in the first fusillade fired by the convicts. Guards wounded were W. M. Gilbert of Breckenridge county, believed fatally shot; W. P. Gillihan, Lyon county, shot through the hips and V. B. Mattingly, Leitchfield, shot through body. Gilbert and Gillihan were taken to a Paducah hospital, but Mattingly, whose death

Armed Special Deputies Kept 200,000 From Polls, He Says

BONUS IS DEFEATED

Last Election Totalled 500,000, Walton Men Declare

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3.—Belated returns received tonight from yesterday's special election, continued to pile up an overwhelming vote for the constitutional amendment empowering the state legislature to convene at its own call to inquire into impeachment charges against Governor Walton.

At 9 o'clock when 2,142 out 2,837 precincts in the state had been heard from, the count stood: For, 188,573; against, 57,809.

The soldier bonus amendment, for which the election primarily was called, was defeated. In addition to the fact that its passage required a majority of all votes cast, the vote from 1,789 precincts was: For, 89,715 against, 109,86.

Attacs Legality.

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3. Gov. J. C. Walton's attack on the legality of yesterday's election on a constitutional amendment to permit an impeachment session of the state legislature was in full swing tonight with more than a third of the returns in the state not yet tabulated.

His first gun in the after-election fight was fired today when he sought and obtained in state district court, a temporary restraining order preventing the state election board from certifying the returns to the secretary of state.

Hearing on the application to make the order permanent was set for October 9. Observers on both sides anticipated a lull in the contest between the governor and the legislature until then.

The order was granted by Judge Tom G. Chambers, Jr., an appointee of Governor Walton.

Kept 275,000 Silent.

In his application, the executive alleged the election was illegal because the proposed constitutional amendments submitted were not properly advertised before the election. He declared that thousands of armed special deputies commissioned by sheriffs throughout the state had intimidated voters and that this combined with alleged influence exerted by the ku klux klan had kept more than 200,000 persons from the polls.

Close advisers of the governor declared the election yesterday could not be regarded as a repudiation of him. They said that in the general election of 1922, more than 500,000 votes were cast, while in yesterday's election, they estimated the total vote will not exceed 300,000 when the official count is made. They explained that they expected 75,000 of the votes cast to be against the amendment. This, they said, would leave only 225,000 cast by the "ku klux klan and their adherents," making the total of those who did not vote for the amendment more than 275,000.

Charges Klan Controlled.

Charging that the ku klux klan controlled yesterday's election, Governor Walton issued a statement tonight pledging the "American people" that the issue whether the "invisible empire" shall supplant constitutional government in Oklahoma will be decided in the special election of December 6. This was called by the governor as a substitute for yesterday's election, which was proclaimed illegal by executive decree. Only the legislative proposal will be submitted.

Life Threatened Daily.

"The ku klux guns of the nation are now trained on me," Governor Walton declared in his statement. "I am daily in receipt of threats of assassination, but I had rather die by the hand of an assassin than die the death of a coward.

"The fight is to a finish. There will be no compromise. In the next 60 days will be fought the most historic political battle since the civil war."

No Klan Says McBee.

Declaring there is no klan issue in Oklahoma, "except in the hallucinations of a distorted brain," Rep following statement:

"The legislative committee has repeatedly denied that there is a klan issue in Oklahoma. We are as ready to protect the interest of one sect, creed, denomination or race as another. We are true Americans, open and above board, recognizing the spirit and letter of the constitution of the United States and constitutional government.

"We realize that Governor Walton

VARYING RAINS IN WEST TEXAS

Northers Accompanied Some Storms—Cotton Picking Halted

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Oct. 3.—Rains varying from light showers to three inches, and accompanied in most cases by northers, ushering in fall weather, fell in many parts of north, east and west Texas today and also last night. Cotton picking was stopped in many places.

Slow rains in west Texas increased in intensity as the day wore on and continued into the night, according to reports. Precipitation in varied amounts was reported throughout the panhandle-plains region from Amarillo to Clovis, New Mexico, on the south, and reaching west of Big Springs, on the Texas and Pacific railroad and south to San Angelo. Big Springs reported the heaviest rain with two inches at most points. Wichita Falls and Graham reported rains.

Places in north Texas receiving rains included Fort Worth, Sherman, Bonham, Gainesville, McKinney, Plano and other places. A heavy thunder shower visited Dallas this morning. With an appreciable decrease in temperature.

By The Associated Press.

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 3.—Showers that will not damage cotton in the opinion of cotton growers, but will benefit the ranges, according to cattlemen, fell this afternoon in a number of West Texas counties, extending on the Orient railroad from Blackwell to Rankin.

San Angelo had recorded a half inch at 6 o'clock this evening in a three hours' drizzle that had not ceased at that hour.

AFTERNOON

ple, the agricultural and farming exhibits drawing the most attention. The agricultural exhibit proved to be one of the most attractive i nthe grounds, with no less than a dozen counties entered in the contests with exhibits representing the best agricultural exhibits in the country.

Thursday is the day of the J. I. Staley derby, the classic racing event of the season, when the best horses in the southwest will compete for the big added money prize in what is expected to be the fastest event staged in Texas in some time. A record crowd is expected, especially during the afternoon when the races will be held and preparations are being made to handle the biggest crowd yet in the grandstand.

Derby day is the speed day of the fair, and with it are connected many of the best events of the week, including in addition to the horse racing classic, two polo games special concerts by Al Sweet's Singing Military band and the Thomas saxophone quintet. At night the regular events will be held with the fire works exhibition "Scrapping the Navy" as a feature.

It is expected that a record crowd will make up for the lost day yesterday by attending today.

Although the second days attendance was only half as large as the first officials of the fair state that from a financial point of view Tuesday was a better day than Monday. More money was taken on Tuesday at the gate and at the grandstand than on the opening day, while a great deal more was spent the second day at the concessions. This probably due, it is said, to the fact that the first day was spent in looking the grounds over while the second the visitors entered the various shows. Also a great number of school children attending the first day is a cause.

So far the night performances at the shows have been more successful than the afternoon attendance, a fact which is not so at the grandstand. Because of the races in the afternoon, that time sees the largest crowd at the grandstand, while at night the crowds spend their time in passing from show to show through the fair. The crowds inside the grounds have so far been greater at night than in the day time.

While the financial report for the first three days is not given all indications point to a financial success for the fair, in spite of rain which was a draw back yesterday. The expectations of the officials from a financial view point have been realized and it is thought that the fair association will find this year's fair able to pay for itself in full, with possibly a small margin left for next season.

Lion of Argonne Capitulates To Fair Army At Vets' Meet

One of the sponsors pinning her corsage bouquet on General Gouraud's coat.

Gen. Henri Gouraud, "the lion of the Argonne," who led his troops "through hades to breakfast," recently surrendered with a smile when four of the becoming sponsors of the 107th infantry of the Rainbow division demanded he wear a corsage bouquet as his latest "decoration." The "capitulation" took place at the recent reunion of the Alabama vets at Montgomery, Ala.

BATTLE

physicians said was a matter of hours, was kept here.

Gilbert laid for nearly six hours in the spot where he was shot down, exposed to fire from the barricaded convicts. His fellow guards were unable to respond to his appeals for water and attention for his wounds. A prisoner took water to the wounded man. Gilbert refused to let the convict carry him to safety, fearing the barricaded men would shoot him to death in his rescuer's arms. He was able eventually to drag himself to a point where rescuers could reach him without being exposed to fire.

The convicts, Monte Walters of Louisville; Lawrence Griffith, Mayfield, and Harry Fenland, Covington, initiated their desperate bid for freedom in the short factory of the prison early today, acording to Guard Gillihan. Between 40 and 100 convicts were in the room, Gillihan said, when the three men seized and bound Less Scholls, lone guard there, and with automatic pistols in their hands, made a dash for the main entrance to the prison grounds, firing at every guard they met.

The shots attracted guards from all parts of the prison. Under a heavy fire the convicts were forced to take refuge in the dining room, a two story brick building in the center of the prison grounds.

From vantage points in upstairs windows of the dining room, the convicts were able to direct a withering fire which forced the guards to take cover. An alarm quickly was sounded and citizens from the neighboring countryside, seizing such nondescript arms as were available quickly added their strength to the prison authorities.

Governor Edwin P. Morrow ordered troop C, of the national guard machine gun company at Hopkinsville to the scene and Louisville sent four tear gas guns in charge of the tear squad of the Louisville police department to the scene.

LONGSHOREMEN GET INCREASE

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 3.—Longshoremen at Galveston, Texas City and Houston have been tendered an increase in wages from .65 cents to 80 cents per hour with $1.20 for overtime instead of $1, but steamship agents have refused an increase in the present scale for screwmen as this commodity is said to be paying all it can stand, according to announcement today by Captain Edwin Goudge, president of the Master Stevedore association of Texas.

By the contract expiring September 30, screwmen were paid 20 cents per bale for handstowed and 40 cents for cotton stowed by tools. The cotton screwmen originally demanded 24 and 48 cents but later proposed 22 and 44 cents.

BARLING BOMBER ARRIVES FOR RACE

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Flight of the Barling bomber, world's largest heavier-than-air craft, from Scott field near Belleville, Ills., to St. Louis flying field, Bridgton, Mo., a distance of 35 miles this afternoon marked the concluding preliminaries of the third international air races which formally start here tomorrow.

Piloted part of the time by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, who is here for the races, the huge airplane, escorted by a convoy of smaller planes, took off at Scott field, where it arrived yesterday from Dayton, Ohio, at 1:30 p. m. and directed its course over St. Louis. The eyes of many St. Louisans were attracted toward the sky when the immense roar of the planes' six engines were heard overhead.

The plane landed at St. Louis field 20 miles after it hopped off, the landing being effected very gracefully. When General Patrick stepped from the plane he said it was the best trip he had ever experienced. The huge craft remained at the field for exhibition to the public.

E. G. Lange of Chicago, president of the club, established a new world record for building toy models when his plane remained in the air four minutes and 22 4-5 seconds. The previous record was 2 minutes and 16 seconds.

BODY IS TAKEN FROM SMOKE CAR

By The Associated Press.

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 3. — The buried smoking car of the Burlington passenger train which plunged into Cole creek, east of Casper, during last Thursday night's flood, today gave up its fast victims.

Workmen, digging into the wreckage at the top of the smoker after a shattered baggage car had been derricked to one side, discovered two bodies.

In the pocket of one was an I. W. W. membership card issued by Sullivan post number 313, to Fred Fargo, address not given and the second body was lying face downward, caught underneath a section of the car.

A total of seven bodies now have been recovered from the wreck while the total loss of life is estmated at 25 to 40.

The smoker carried the largest number of passengers of any of the cars of the train, some estimates placing the number of victims trapped within at 40. On account of the demolished condition of the car some railroad men had expressed the opinion that the bodies had been swept downstream and that few, if any, would be found in the wreckage.

uses his smoke screen of 'klan issue' to fool the people outside of Oklahoma. He has failed to fool our own people, as is evidenced by the overwhelming rebuke at the ballot box Tuesday. His home precinct in Oklahoma City repudiated him by a vote of 243 to 16. The precinct where he lived prior to becoming governor turned him down 177 to 17. There is not and has never been a 'klan' issue in Oklahoma except in the hallucinations of a distorted brain."

The claim of the Walton supporters that they would show strength in the country districts was verified only by an absent vote. The rural precincts showed a lighter total vote than those in the city, but those who did vote in the country apparently cast their ballots for or against the legislative proposal in about the same ratio as did the larger cities.

The school levy proposal and the woman's eligibility amendment will receive a majority of the votes cast for each of these measures but it is doubtful if they will pass since they must obtain a majority of all votes cast and their total vote is running considerably behind the total vote cast for the legislature amendment.

The proposal to reimburse depositors in the defunct state bank undoubtedly is beaten.

Lions Hear El Paso Member At Weekly Meet

The weekly noon day luncheon of the Lions club held Wednesday noon at the Kemp resulted in members hearing an address from Lion Frank Scott of El Paso who is attending the annual state tax assessor's convention which began here yesterday.

Lion Scott told of the activities of the Lions club at El Paso and said because a club was young was no reason for its standing back and not going after big things. He emphasized the importance of a far sighted program that will bring large industries to a city.

Plans for "father and son" week which will be observed soon were discussed and Lambreth Hancock was appointed committee chairman. On the night of Friday, Oct. 18, a banquet will be held at which wives and sons of members will be special guests.

STATE GAME MAN WAYLAID AND STONED

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 3.—Wade Stubbs, deputy of the state game department at Dripping Springs near here, was waylaid by four men late last night near his home and stoned, according to reports received today by W. W. Boyd, state game commissioner. Stubbs is reported to have sustained a fractured skull and minor injuries. Commissioner Boyd stated that the assault was occasioned by activities of the deputy commissioner in enforcing the game law. Proceedings will be filed against four men claimed to have participated in the affair at San Marcos, he said.

News Notes Of Movie Land

You remember some time ago we published a photo of Evelyn Brent, who was to have been Douglas Fairbanks' leading lady in "The Thief of Bagdad." She decided that she could not wait until the picture was ready to be filmed. Ever since we have been wondering who was to take her place and play opposite the dynamic Doug.

Let me introduce her, Miss Julanne Johnstone, as the Arabian Princess. Isn't she fetching?

Miss Julanne hails from the Hoosier state, the birthplace of so many famous people. She commenced her career as a dancer, was a solo dancer with [illegible] at 15 and [illegible] at 19.

She has not been in movies long enough to have a very imposing list of pictures to her credit. Who knows but what stardom may be in store for her very shortly, however.

MABEL FORREST AND BRYANT WASHBURN

A second [illegible] Mabel Forrest (Mrs. Bryant Washburn) tells us that she and her husband have just finished their last picture together. Hereafter she is to be starred on her own and Bryant starts his own projects. His first picture will be "Try and Get It," from a story by Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., who wrote "The American" and "The Modern Musketeer" for Fairbanks. "Try and Get It" was originally called "The Ringtailed Gowampus," and published in the Saturday Evening Post.

LUBITSCH'S AMERICAN DEBUT

When Mary Pickford's next picture, "Rosita," reaches the screen in the near future the American public will be able to see what the noted European producer who made Pola Negri a world star in "Passion and "Deception" has been able to do with the lavish resources of this country at his command. With every advantage in star, story, cast and scenic resources it is almost inevitable that in "Rosita" will be seen the crowning piece of stagecraft of his career.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes after the use of the first suppository even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments; often after operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The discoverer of this truly wonderful substance has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles, in fact goes so far as to say that he doesn't want a cent of any sufferer's money, even in the worst cases, unless it absolutely does what is claimed for it.

Palace Drug Co. and Central Drug Co. will supply you. Mail order accepted.—adv.

WIFE CAN'T FORGET FORMER HUSBAND

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 3.—If a woman wouldn't be anxious, willing and thankful to live with him as his wife—well, she must be crazy, reasoned W. E. Long, who a couple of weeks ago had his wife haled before the county lunacy board, who pronounced her sane.

But the idea's still preying on Long who Tuesday filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Long who was formerly Mrs. Myrtle Kendall of Frederick. He says that his wife very unreasonably told him she could not forget her former husband, that she would stay in bed and refuse to cook his meals, cried and continually "took on" in such a manner as to make life absolutely miserable for him. He recites in his petition that he rented her a separate house in Frederick where she would live with her children, but even that didn't appease her and she still refuses to live with him and has said she would never live with him.

Apropos of the matter a courthouse attache inquired: "Which would be more appropriate, 'Vanity, vanity, saveth the preacher,' or 'love don't help out when the victuals grow cold,' after friend Rudyard?"

DAVIDSON NOW TEXAS GOVERNOR

By The Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Texas, Oct. 3.—"Lieutenant Governor Davidson is governor of Texas at this minute but he does not know it," said Governor Pat M. Neff as he crossed the state line into Arkansas here today. Governor Neff arrived in Texarkana at 1:30 o'clock from the Shaw prison farm in Western Bowie county, where he made an inspection of the state plant. He left at 6:30 for Huntsville, for an inspection of the penitentiary there.

While in Texarkana Governor Neff went for an automobile drive, during which he crossed into Arkansas twice.

Governor Neff expressed himself as well satisfied with conditions at Shaw farm as a prison, but he was far from being enthusiastic over the place as a farm, criticizing its location, its soil and the fact that a large part of it is subject to overflow.

DARKEN HAIR! LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Restore Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Adv.

DAUGHERTY IN NEW BANK RULE

National Banks May Establish Branches for Certain Purposes

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—National banks may establish branches within the cities of their location for the receipt of deposits and the cashing of checks, Attorney General Daugherty holds in an opinion just submitted to Comptroller of the Currency, Dawes.

Explaining the opinion today to the joint congressional banking committee, Mr. Dawes said he was of the opinion that branches for the performance of even these limited functions could not be established in places where the state laws or practices prohibit state banks from rendering similar services.

Discussing the branch banking business at length, the comptroller declared that the development of such banking unless curbed, will mean the destruction of the national banks and the federal reserve system and the substitution of a highly centralized privately controlled reserve system. He urged that the federal reserve board be given power to refuse admission to the reserve system of institutions engaged in general branch banking and to curb further extension of this principle by member banks.

ALLEGED SLAYER OUT ON BOND

By The Associated Press.

CLEBURNE, Oct. 3.—Arthur L. Williams today gave bond in the sum of $5,000 on a charge of slaying Vernie Hightower at Hightower's residence in Alvarado. Hightower was shot twice at 5 o'clock this morning and was rushed to Cleburne where he underwent an operation but died this afternoon. Both men lived in Alvarado.

Style Show Up Defects

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula, or a "breaking out" where it would show are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these troubles so easily now.

The wonderful Black and White Ointment is surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because it quickly removes all trace of these skin troubles.

Nearly two million packages of Black and White Ointment are sold every year. Nothing could prove more forcibly that it actually gets quick and lasting results.

It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—Adv.

SAX ARTISTS WILL ENTERTAIN JUDGES

Arrangements have been made for the appearance of Thomas' Saxophone quintet, one of the amusement features of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, at the annual banquet of the county judges and commissioners at the Kemp hotel Friday night. The Saxophone troupe will go direct to the banquet from the fair following their last appearance before the grandstand at 8:30 Friday night, to entertain the county officials with a special program.

The banquet of the county officials is to be a yearly affair, and a special program has been arranged for the evening. Among the many features on the program, besides several talks will be several musical numbers. Last night it was announced that R. E. Shepherd, vocal soloist at such times as he is not busy running the Texas-Oklahoma fair and several other civic affairs, will be present and help entertain with several numbers.

BURGLARS ATTEMPT TO BLOW SAFE HERE

Amateurish attempts Tuesday night to burglarize the safes of the Coca Cola Bottling works and the Cutter Marble works, both on Ohio street, resulted in the burglars securing nothing for their labor and only damaged the safes.

The tools were found Wednesday morning and indications were that both attempts had been made by the same persons. Chief of Detectives May has a line-up on some suspects which he said Wednesday might lead to the arrest of the burglars.

ROTARY INVITES SAXOPHONE ART

The Thomas quintet, saxophone players and entertainers appearing as a star feature at the Texas-Oklahoma fair, will be the guests of the Wichita Falls Rotary club at the regular weekly luncheon Thursday noon. The five musicians, who have won instant and permanent popularity here in their two appearance daily in front of the grandstand, have promised to present a number before the Rotarians.

The players are all masters of the saxophone and the best obtainable in the country. They are in great demand as entertainers at all fairs and expositions, and the Texas-Oklahoma fair was lucky in having them, officials being well pleased. The Rotary club invited them to attend the luncheon in way of showing their appreciation of their success here.

Washington and Mexico City advices today declared that Lamar had been located in Mexico after having disappeared a year ago following a sentence received in New York in connection with a stock market transaction.

FORMER DETECTIVE IS NOW IN BAD

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Alfred Balin, or Balinow, former private detective and alleged radical, who was brought to trial in federal court charged with using the mails with the intention of defrauding the government, wrote letters threatening to blow up the Woolworth building and then sought the job of investigating the threats, James J. Doran, postoffice inspector, testified today before Federal Judge Knox.

GETS 25 YEARS FOR A HOLDUP

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Oct. 3.—Convicted of participating in the bold daylight hold up August 20, of F. E. Leggett, salesman for the Houston Ice Cream company, Jack Smith, 22 year-old Austin youth, was sentenced to 25 years in the state penitentiary this evening by a jury in criminal district court.

Attorneys for the boy's defense immediately announced they would file a motion for a new trial. If this is denied, they will appeal the case.

Smith, who upon being arraigned this morning before Judge C. W. Robinson, had pleaded guilty and thrown himself upo nthe mercy of the court, received the verdict with little show of emotion.

The defendant was indicted jointly on a highway robbery charge with G. C. Lipscomb, formerly of Austin, and Bill Mistero, who is still at large. Lipscomb subsequently turned state's evidence upon promise of immunity by the district attorney's office.

GOLD CURE FOR WHITE PLAGUE.

A bulletin issued by the national association of credit men is most reassuring. Answers to a nation-wide questionaire reported improved business in August compared with a year ago and better business prospects for September, October and November of 1923 as compared with the same months in 1922.

There is a reason for the confidence shown by the Texans who answered the questionaire. In the good old days of nine and ten cent cotton an American crop of 12,000 bales placed in the pockets of the growers six or seven hundred million dollars.

This year a three million bale crop in Texas, with its seed, may place in the pockets of the growers of this commonwealth six or seven hundred million dollars or a sum as large as all the cotton growers of the south received in the aforesaid good old days before the coming of equal suffrage, prohibition, moonshine whiskey, and many other accessories of our so-called modern civilization.

If the price of cotton holds there is going to be more money in circulation this year, in the rural districts at least than ever before in the history of the commonwealth.

There are philanthropic gentlemen who are fond of saying that cotton is the curse of the south, "the white plague of the south," but the farmer who has a few bales for sale is willing to take his share of the plague and plant all his acres to cotton next year. Really the drouth and the boll weevil prevented a bumper crop this year and a bumper crop of thirteen or fourteen million bales would have re-ushered in eight cent cotton.

BONUS COMING.

Col. Alvin M. Owsley of the American Legion and the legion legislative committee have made public the announcement there is a sufficient majority in both houses to assure passage of a soldier bonus over a presidential veto.

This newspaper made the same announcement two weeks after the general election in November of last year. Senators and representatives made haste to let the world know that they were for justice for the former soldier in the shape of a fat bonus.

The late president Harding opposed the bonus as well as his secretary of the treasury, who is not a politician and for that reason did not hesitate to say that the financial condition of the government would not justify a huge appropriation of two or three billion dollars.

December is coming, the congress is coming; the bonus bill is ready and it is going over the top. President Coolidge is a wise politician. When he was governor of Massachusetts the legislature of that state enacted a bonus measure.

It is a matter of history that the governor of Massachusetts did not veto the measure. Why should he veto it as president of the United States?

LA FOLLETTE AS A PROPHET.

Less than a year ago Senator M. La Follette of Wisconsin predicted the early coming of dollar gasoline. He had the evidence, so he said, that the Standard oil and its 13 cubs dominated the petroleum industry not only in the United States, but the wide world over.

Now some of the cubs are making a tank wagon price of eight cents in North Texas cities, cub service stations are selling gas at nine cents and before the war is over the man who puts his foot on the gas may be getting it for eight cents.

The Standard is not responsible for cheap gas. No petroleum organization is responsible for cheap gas.

California gushers came in and flooded the American world with crude and now the war is on and the Lord help the little refiners with scant financial backing and the independents who are running service stations in order to make a living.

Meantime, La Follette is wrong again.

HARVESTS ARE HEAVY.

David Lloyd George is on his way to the United State. He predicts a gloomy future for the nations of Europe, but is hopeful that the English peoples of the world will be able in time to save the aforesaid world from going headlong to the devil.

According to all American tourists who have traveled abroad this year and all world crop reporters the harvests of Europe have been the heaviest since the signing of the armistice. Now why should the brilliant little Welchman despair?

Whenever it is possible for the nations of Continental Europe to produce sufficient food crops to feed all the hungry mouths it is a mortal cinch that these nations are returning to normalcy. Isn't this the truth as well as the logic of history?

CHRIST IN MAN.

Dr. George W. Truett famous Baptist preacher and pulpit orator of Texas returned from Europe and the holy land with this message, "Christ in man works all reform. Christ gives a new motive. A man misrepresents Christ when he draws race distinctions and caste and class divisions in religious teachings anywhere. I am for any league of the nations which will bring together the great men of the country and settle international affairs. Christ is the only way. Through him the wars can cease. We are bound together in one life on Christ. Through Him we will fill the need which confronts us in our home, our state, our nation and the world." A noble message. It should ring around the world.

GARY AND GOMPERS TO THE MAT.

Money is easy in America. New Yorkers paid $1,800,000 to witness a prize fight that lasted eight minutes and now the American Federation of Labor has decided to spend a million dollars to make union men of the steel workers. Judge Elbert H. Gary is the superman of American steel. He has a billion behind him in whatever he undertakes. A bare knuckle fight between Samul Gompers and Elbert H. Gary will be one of the spectacular events of the year 1924.

People Better Be More Careful Or We Won't Need Any More Wars to Keep The World From Being Overpopulated.

A Romance of the Redwoods

And now you know why Simmins passed the coffee in that care-free, swashbuckling spirit that permitted him to tell Burton that that would warm her up!

"Looks as if it might rain forever," remarked Grimstead after a pause.

"It will stop at ten minutes to ten," he stated.

"I'll acknowledge that you called the turn on this storm, but you're cutting it too fine," said Grimstead. "Be reasonable!"

"Nevertheless, if you'll allow me five minutes either way," smiled the young man, "I'll lay anybody another bet." He glanced at Gardiner, who did not look up. The millionaire laughed.

"Well, you are a good sport: I'll say that for you. I'm no heavy gambler, like you young fellows with lots of money. I'll bet you a box of cigars, just to make it interesting."

"All right."

"By the way," added Grimstead, "didn't you say something about a tree—?"

"It's down, square across the road," interrupted Simmins eagerly.

"The deuce you say!" Grimstead sat up. "How many others are down?" he inquired after an instant.

"None, sir, not one!" cried Simmins triumphantly, as though the glory were his own personally. "I took especial pains to look."

"This is the most extraordinary exhibition of either fantastic bull luck or prophecy or a mixture of both I have ever witnessed!" said Grimstead. "It's—it's almost uncanny!"

"Not at all. The storm was the exact product of a whole series of causes and effects working out; and as the causes and effects are all subject to physical law, which is unchangeable, any prediction as to the time or the direction or the strength or duration of a storm can be entirely exact, provided it is based on those causes and effects."

CHAPTER VII.
A Startling Discovery.

At the hour predicted by Davenport the rain ceased and the clouds broke in the instantaneous California fashion to admit a bright shining sun. The whole world was a-glitter with jewels, and little mists eddying through the forest drifted in and out of steady, broad shafts of light. Grimstead stared curiously at Davenport's little machine.

"Make her yourself?" inquired Grimstead.

"Such as she is," acknowledged Davenport. "I didn't use much pains with her looks because she is an experiment. I'm trying something out."

"You said she was electric driven?" queried Grimstead.

"Yes."

"And I suppose charging a battery costs nothing," struck in Gardiner scornfully, "and there are charging stations everywhere."

"Often enough for my purpose," rejoined Davenport with entire humor."

"I should think you'd want more speed and power," observed Grimstead.

"Geared as she is I can make 50 an hour on a paved road, and that means power for anything within reason—I haven't had it brake-tested; but it must develop between 35 and 45 horse-power."

"Your battery can't have a long charge-life at that rate," pursued Grimstead. "I don't see how you keep charged. How many hours do you make?"

"I don't know; I haven't determined yet. That's what I'm experimenting on."

Grimstead paused to get this straight.

"Do I understand you to say that you are running on the original charging?" he asked "that you have not recharged since starting?"

"That's it."

"Where did you start from? How long have you been out?"

"Left San Rafael about three weeks ago." He stooped to examine a dial. "Been just 1100 miles."

The pirate chief like all good commanders, was always ready to climb himself to the crow's nest. This speck on the horizon was probable a mirage that would vanish on nearer approach; but there was just a remote possibility it might be a galleon heavy with untold wealth.

Or, indeed, it might be somewhere between the extremes. Some craft laden mainly with dreams, but with a trifle of metal ballast worthy of a pirate's attention.

So like a prudent chief, he bore down on the stranger.

"Such a battery, if it could be well proved out, would be valuable," pursued Grimstead. One of the great elements in his success was that he knew better than to cry down the obvious. "I confess I can't imagine the principle——"

"Like to look at it?" inquired Davenport.

This was luck Grimstead had not hoped for—yet he assented with alacrity. All crowded curiously around while the young man raised the hood.

They saw what appeared to be an ordinary large electric motor set across the frame. In front of it and connected to it by two thick wires was a black box measuring about a foot long all dimensions.

"There she is!" said Davenport cheerfully.

"That! Is that your whole battery?" cried Grimstead, pointing an incredulous finger. "Why that thing wouldn't run a bell for three weeks, let alone a car. "You're joshing me, young man. Where's your running battery? Under the seat?"

Without reply Davenport raised the sea cushions to display a recess occupied only by tools; lifted the trap door of the rear to show a nearly empty interior.

"You see, I have nothing up my sleeve with which to deceive you," said he, jestingly. "There's the whole works."

On the return to the camp Grimstead fell back to consult low-voiced with his second in command.

"What do you make of it, Ross?" he inquired.

"He's lying, showing off. The thing is impossible."

"Well, he certainly drove up last night from somewhere."

"He probably lives quite near and recharges from water power."

"Probably," agreed Grimstead, "but even at that he's got something. That box isn't any larger than a starting battery. We'll have to look into it a little. A battery as compact as that will drive others off the market."

Davenport put everybody to work, after a quick meal had been improvised and eaten, so that by mid-afternoon a comfortable and convenient camp had come into existence.

At supper time Simmins, public-stricken, claimed total ignorance of camp cookery.

"I'll do it," stated Davenport briefly. "You'll do the dishes, run the errands, get the water and carry in the wood. I'll chop the wood." He looked around at the others. "That's the only thing I want you all to leave strictly alone—the axe. I'll do all the axe work myself."

CHAPTER VIII.
Another Bet

"Well, this is something like!" cried Grimstead as he lowered himself to a cushion of aromatic boughs near the camp fire. He was well fed and warm and dry and pleasantly tired. He glanced about the scene with satisfaction. Everything was trim and shipshape just the way he liked to see things.

"Young man," he went on in a large paternal manner, blowing the first cloud from his cigar, "where is your shop? San Rafael, did you say?"

"My shop?—oh, Sausalito," replied Davenport.

"I suppose you could use a little more."

Who couldn't?"

"A little additional capital might enable you to expand to advantage."

"Additional capital," said Davenport unexpectedly with a grin, "wouldn't enable me to expand an inch."

"But you just said you could use more money."

"That's different."

"I don't see how it's different," said Grimstead a little impatiently, "but it crossed my mind that if you needed a little—buy in a share, you understand. Of course on investigation—"

"So you are interested in my battery, after all," said Davenport.

"Kono!" Grimstead acknowledged. "At least I'm interested in what you say about your battery. The state of Missouri isn't big enough to hold me when it comes to what you claim for it. I shrewdly suspect that in that you're trying to spoof me. But it's obvious you've come from somewhere, and it's obvious that little battery brought you. Even if it's only five or ten miles, and you expect to get home again, you've got something big."

"Of course," Davenport pointed out, "I haven't tried to sell anything, nor make you believe anything. And I don't suppose, in view of your technical knowledge, I would have any right to resent your doubting my word. Nevertheless, I repeat that with that battery as my sole motive power, I have driven about 1100 miles."

"Without recharging?" demanded Gardiner.

"Without recharging," repeated Davenport.

A polite but restrained silence succeeded this remark. Davenport himself relieved the situation.

"Don't feel embarrassed!" he laughed. "Say it if you want to; I won't be offended. It may relieve your minds. There's no way to prove it to you right now, so there's no sense worrying about it."

"Pardon me," put in Gardiner suavely. "I think your statement could be at least partially tested with the facilities at hand."

"What do you mean?" asked Davenport.

Davenport and the Pirate's daughter have an interesting talk, in tomorrow's installment.

So Goes It

By B. H.

Jonathan Folk of Iowa will be 106 years old in December. He has never smoked; never drank, nor attended a horse race. He passes his days reading newspapers and listening to the phonograph.

All of which reminds us of a story that we heard from the lips of Opie Read once told us about a preliminary trial in Kentucky. It seems, according to Opie, that a man named Smith had shot and killed a man named Brown. And the prosecution laid great stress on the exemplary character of the man who had been slain.

They endeavored to show that he was not of a quarrelsome nature; that he had never had any trouble with his fellow citizens; that he lived an upright life, and that he was killed in cold blood.

The old justice listened to the glorification of the dead man quite a while. Then he raised his hand and stopped the prosecuting attorney.

"Do I understand" he inquired "that this man who was killed never smoked no seegar?"

"No."

"Nor pipe nuther?"

"No."

"Never chawed no terbakker?"

"No."

"never drank no red likker?"

"No."

"Never put no dollar on a hoss?"

"No."

"Gentlemen," said the old justice "You ain't got no case. That man didn't have nuthin' to live for."

That's Opie Read's story, and we cheerfully give him full credit for it. It would sound a lot more like a story, too, if you had heard Opie tell it.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Kitchen Geography Game.

One Mother Says:

Geography was hard for one of my girls, so we made a game of washing dishes. The dishes traveled from the cupboard (home) to the table (some place in tomorrow's lesson) in setting the table for the meal. They were taken to the sink by means of a river, washed in a lake or in the ocean, or sometimes in the river if it had not been memorized. The game was so fascinating that the boys even wanted to help do the dishes.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

LIBRA

The aspects incline to activity, but caution is required to avoid over-exertion, haste, force and impulsiveness. The tendency is to overdo or overestimate and misjudge. An inauspicious day for financial ventures and those of the heart.

A child born today will be affectionate, generous and self-reliant, with a great tendency to argue.

People born on this day of the year are noted for their courage and resoluteness of purpose. Their minds are cold and precise and their hearts as dry as dust. But for all their frigidity there is in them a great gift for love for those who have the good fortune to penetrate their rough forbidding exteriors.

If today is your birthday you should cultivate spontaneity, which is after all the oil of life and which will make your way of living easier and probable more gratifying. Without it your determination will be mistaken for hardness and your ambition for greed.

You need more than one thing, the ability to mix among men and women gracefully and even trivially, for they are to be the instruments of your achievements and they will answer to generosity of treatment more readily than to discipline.

You are silent and self-contained, fond of reading, particularly in history and philosophy. You are not in the least romantic but you have a faculty of foresight which visualizes the future richly, if accurately, in a way that might do credit to a poet.

There is a deep religious sense in your nature which is neither narrow or orthodox. It springs directly from a feeling of personal responsibility for your share in the world's events. You seek to better the world you live in because that is the way to the realization of your own development.

Science and mechanics interest you because you are eminently practical. Abstract speculation holds your attention only so long as it gives some promise of being applicable.

You are apt to be moody and gloomy in periods of loneliness, and it must be admitted that you do not altogether dislike picturing yourself as unappreciated. The best thing for you to do at those times is to get out into the sun and fresh air.

Katy Bridge Out.

FREDERICK, Okla. Oct. 3.—Word was received here Tuesday morning that high waters had again carried out a span of the Katy bridge across the North Fork of Red between Altus and Wellington, Texas, on the branch line. This bridge had just been repaired following the heavy rains of a week ago.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE PIXIES

The pixies troop from picture books
And happy little dreams,
To dance beside the shining brooks
When morning sunlight gleams.
And children, living far from town,
Amid the grass and trees,
May see them darting up and down
Like hurrying honey bees.

But city children only know
The littered, crowded park,
Where prixie people never go
To hold a morning lark.
They've never seen the dawnlight weave
Quaint patterns in the dew,
And so, of course, they don't believe
That pixie tales are true.

If I could speak the pixie tongue,
I'd hasten through the dawn
To where the sun's first rays had flung
Their shadows on the lawn,
And beg a troop of them to come
Along with me some day
To some dark dingy city slum
Where swarms of children play.

Alas, afar in pixie land
The dancing sprites must stay;
For not a word they'd understand
Of anything I'd say,
And children in the city smoke—
A black and ugly pall—
Will never know that pixie folk
Abide on earth at all!

SO THEY'LL KNOW HOW IT IS

Ice in Northern Wisconsin already. Why not let the quarrelling coal barons and miners stay there until they are willing to produce coal?

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

"Recognition by U. S. Will Send More Millions to Mexico," Says Envoy.

While millions of dollars' worth of American capital already is invested in Mexico and vast American interests have operated for years in the southern republic without confiscation or great interference, other millions have awaited recognition, and the announcement of the resumption of diplomatic relations between Washington and Mexico City is expected to give this capital the necessary impetus of confidence.

This is the opinion, recently expressed, of Don Manuel C. Telles, Charge d'Affairs of the Mexican embassy. Mexico has been living practically off ficial and diplomatic quarters for the way in which he has represented his country in the United States during the period of non-recognition.

Needs Bank of Issue.

Senor Telles pointed out that while Mexico has been living practically of her own resources for ten years, she is today the only country in the world on a strictly metallic basis, only gold and silver money being in circulation. This, while putting Mexico in a superior position to that of France, Italy, Belgium or practically any other European country, is ascribed primarily to the fact that Mexico has no national bank issue, and there are therefore no bills in circulation.

The lack of bills of large denominations and the narrow scale upon which credit operations are carried on act as a severe handicap to large scale business, and it is believed that a great impetus will be given to commerce and industry of all kinds, once the national bank of issue is in operation.

Mexico, the charge d'affaires pointed out, has an almost unlimited range of agricultural products, since her climate varies from tropical to temperate. There is a saying in Mexico that the country can produce anything from a pine tree to a pineapple.

Sees Boom in Mining.

Mexico, too, is one of the principal mineral producing countries in the world, being first in silver production and third in the rank of oil production, and also having an abundance of gold, copper, antimony, tin, mercury and other minerals. Senior Telles looks for a great increase of the mining industry as a result of recognition.

Heretofore, the Mexican diplomat pointed out, Mexico has imported practically all of her manufactured products. It is the well-defined policy of the Obregon government to develop manufacture, and, while this policy will call for a considerable outlay of machinery and other manufactured goods in the beginning, the industries established will have the advantage of an almost inexhaustible supply of raw materials, while it is believed Mexican labor will prove entirely satisfactory.

London-New York Mail Service By Air Proposed

By International News Service.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 3.—A two-day mail service between New York and London will be inaugurated when the ZR-3, now being built in Germany for the United States is finished, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the United States navy, declared here today just before he boarded the ZR-1 to fly to Lake Hurst, N. J.

The fastest ocean liners require nearly six days for the trip between London and New York, Moffett said.

The ZR-1's next long flight will be from Lake Hurst to Panama via Cuba and return, Moffett declared.

Metal Brocade Used On Smart Suit of Green

While jacquettes, long coats and an occasional two-piece suit monopolize the limelight in fashion circles to a large extent, it is gratifying to notice that the handsome and useful three-piece suits is not doomed to oblivion.

Green has been one of the popular colors all through the spring and summer. It promises to retain its popularity during the fall months. The suit shown is green in color with youthful lines. The metal brocade of which the blouse is fashioned and which also appears on the cuffs and jacket gives it a certain sophistication, however.

Bands of gray coney fur make the high collar and finish the cuffs and bottom of the rather short jacket.

It is interesting to note that the very latest models from Paris are showing skirts flat front and back with occasional side drapes. Also, that the skirts are shorter than those of a season ago, seven to ten inches being the prevailing length.

Heart and Home Problems Solved

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a young married woman, 23 years of age. I love my husband dearly and I am sure he loves me. We would be very happy together only he has an extremely jealous nature. He thinks I am interested in other men even when I am not. He also thinks they are interested in me when they haven't given me a thought.

All summer we have had good times with another married couple, but now our fun is spoiled because he believes the other man to be in love with me. I am so ashamed because I know there is nothing in it. It is such a foolish thing that I cannot explain to his wife why we no longer want to go to their house or have them come to ours.

There doesn't seem to be anything I can do to cure my husband. It seems to be his only fault, and he does many things for me which no other husband thinks of. On our wedding anniversary he sent me flowers and although men are supposed to do that, I have not seen many do it. He is also very kind and thoughtful and seems to think I am the best wife in the world.

What would you advise me to do about our friends? I have explained to my husband that the other man has not done the first thing which would indicate an interest in me. He won't believe me though and although he tries not to be jealous I can see that he is perfectly miserable in the presence of the other people.

MISUNDERSTOOD WIFE

You show great consideration for your husband's feelings, a thing which I think you should do since he is so good to you and there is so much love between you. Perhaps if you ask him to trust you more and then you avoid any situations that would look intimate with the other man, your husband will be more reasonable and willing to continue your friendly relationship with the other couple. In case he is utterly unreasonable, however, you might just as well make excuses as tactfully as possible to your old friends and look for new ones.

Jealousy is a terrible thing. It makes the jealous person suffer so much and places the loved one in an unreasonable position most of the time. Tact and patience are your only weapons to fight it.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am 14 years old and have entered high school. There is a boy there who seems to like me very much. He has asked me to go to the movie with him some night. I would like very much to go, but my father says I am too young. Don't you think that when a girl is going to high school she is old enough to go out once in a while with a boy?

RUTH.

Your father is right. You are too young to go places at night with a boy. In your junior year you will be old enough to go with boys occasionally, but the matter should not be overdone even then.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a girl 15 years old and have a cousin seven months older than I. When I am at her house she and her girl friend take me to the park. Every time they go they meet some boys. That would be all right if they just talked to them, but they don't. I don't like to act like that. Should I leave them, or what should I do? BOBBIE.

Tell your cousin that you do not want to go to the park again and you would rather not have her ask you to do so. If, however, circumstances places you in a position which you do not consider right, do not hesitate to leave.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a girl fifteen years of age and would like your advice on bobbing my hair. I have dandruff very badly. I have used everything heard of but it does not help it. My hair comes to my waist and is thick. Mother does not want me to bob it because it is so long and thick.

Do you think it will help any if I have it bobbed? Please tell me what to me. THANK YOU.

To bob your hair will not kill the daudruff. Of course it is easier to treat the scalp when the hair is short than when it is long, but nevertheless it is quite possible to treat the scalp even when the hair is long and thick.

Divide your hair into parts, massaging mange cure or red vaseline into scalp. This should be done faithfully twice a week. If you are regular and really try to get rid of the dandruff you will find it possible. Some people have had success by applying mange cure to the scalp once a week, leaving it on over night and then washing the hair the next morning. Your dandruff would not disappear after one or two treatments, but in two or three months you would find a great change for the better, if not a complete cure.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a girl of seventeen and go with a boy of twenty-four. He lives in another town and so I do not see him very often. Every time this boy comes over he tries to express his love for me. He also talks about our getting married some day. I do not want to do that yet. He insists on my kissing him all the time and also wants me to wear a ring. Should I?

I love this man very dearly. Am I too young? Should I let him kiss me "good night?"

CONSTANT READER.

Yes, I think you are too young to promise to marry. Although you think you love the young man very dearly, you will probably meet others in the next two or three years and will transfer your love to some one else. Since he loves you so much, it is only natural that he should talk of love and want to make love to you all the time. I would not advise you to permit that sort of thing without being very sure of your love.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: We have been married nine years. When we were just married my husband said I could have as many children as my mother had. Now we have four boys and twin girls two years old. My husband doesn't seem to be interested in any more babies. I like a big, old-fashioned family. I think my husband loves me. As he is a carpenter making good wages I don't see why he isn't anxious to have a large family as we planned at first.

Don't you think this is strange? He loves the children we have.

HAPPY SO FAR.

It doesn't seem at all strange to me that your husband is satisfied with the size of his family. Six children is quite a number and even a man making good money finds it difficult to support so many. Your husband probably feels that you and he have come to a time in life when you ought to get more rest and freedom from toil. He loves the little ones, but he does not want you to be tied down with more. Be satisfied with your good fortune in having six, since you love children so much, and do not make yourself unhappy craving more.

GEORGE T: The girl to whom you refer did not send me her address. Besides, it is contrary to the policy of this column to give out addresses.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I hav auburn hair and it has a natural Marcell wave. I ould like to know if it would take the curl and wave out if I had it bobbed. Please give me your advice.

CURLY HAIR.

Consult a good barber regarding the curl in your hair. Sometimes most of the wave is at the end of long hair and then when it is cut the hair is straight. In other cases there seems to be more wave after the hair is bobbed. Where there is a tendency toward wave with bobbed hair it can be cultivated by pushing it into waves by means of combs when the hair is wet after it has been washed.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a young fellow of 23 and never in my life cared for a girl or wanted to have one. I was fancy free until a girl about 18 came to work in the same shop where I was employed. She seemed to be a good girl, but she must have had some kind of magnetism or power in her which affected me a great deal and drew me toward her. I was absolutely drawn toward that young woman.

I loved her from the first instant I saw her and my interest in her grew more and more every day. I suppose she understood my condition but I did not know whether she loved me or not. I had no conversation with her because I thought if she did not love me she might think that I was an intruder.

I have seen her for a good while. Please tell me what to do. She never leaves my mind. CLYDE J.

You will ever get anywhere at the rate you are goin . The girl will not think you an intruder if you talk to her and invite her to go somewhere with you or ask to call. To go on dreaming would be foolish since she means so much to you. My advice is to pick up courage and start a conversation. Also invite her to go to a theatre with you.

Timid men do not gain favor with young women as quickly as the men who are fearless. Therefore do not give the girl any indication that you are shy about becoming better acquainted. After you and she have been friends for awhile you can judge better whether or not she cares for you. If she seems glad to have you come to see her and to go places with you, you may be sure she likes you. The only way to find out about her love for you is to ask her, but I would not advise such a step until you are close friends.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a young girl in my teens and am very stout. Can you tell me of some way to reduce as it is very uncomfortable to be so fleshy. I weigh 200 pounds.

WONDERING.

The best way to reduce is to watch your calories. Buy a book on the subject of reducing and be sure to get one which gives you a table of calories so that you can judge how much you are eating each day and how much you ought to be eating. It is also helpful to exercise and most books on the subject of reducing combine advice in regard to diet with helpful exercises. It is not entirely necessary to eliminate any particular kind of food, but it is absolutely necessary to limit the amount of fat producting food which you eat.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: Is cold cream and powder injurious to the skin.

DOUBTFUL.

Cold cream and powder used moderately are not injurious to skin. The face should be thoroughly washed in warm water and face soap every night, however, so that the pores will not become clogged.

MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y.—"Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nose-bleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it."—Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 530 N. 5th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter."—Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Why Fear Child-birth

EXPECTANT mothers do not undergo useless suffering any longer, and baby's birth can be made gloriously easier.

Mrs. Wm. Flack, 115 N. 12th St., Leavenworth, Kansas, says: "'Mother's Friend' is the best help in the world for an expectant mother. I am the mother of three children and have found 'Mother's Friend' fine."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied about the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates wonderfully, and in this way allows the muscles and ligaments to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during expectancy and at child-birth.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-73, Atlanta, Ga., for free booklet containing valuable information every expectant mother should have.

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. There is no substitute. Avoid useless greases and plain oils. Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better. "Mother's Friend" is sold at all good drug stores—everywhere

Inexpensive Method of Reducing Dangerous Swollen Veins at Home

Doctor's Recent Discovery, Also Heals Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses and Open Sores in a Few Days.

The world progresses. Today ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start this today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil besides being one of the most powerful of antiseptics capable of destroying the most pernicious germs and the poisons caused by them, is also a marvelous healing agent.

One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflamatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, wens or goitre, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, boils, abcesses or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you.—adv.

Panthers Fail To Clinch Dixie Series

STONER FAILS TO HOLD THE SCRAPPY PELICANS; EWOLDT PULLS HISTORIC BONEHEAD

PANTHER PARK, FORT WORTH, Oct. 3.—Although Jakie Atz and his famous Fort Worth Cats staged a spectacular rally in the eighth inning here today and, coming from behind, knotted the count, they failed to clinch the Dixie title, as the best they could do with Larry Gilbert's scrappy Pelicans was a 2 and 2 tie. The game was called at the end of the ninth on account of darkness.

Art Ewoldt, the Pelican shortstop, kicked away what seemed sure of Pelican victory in the eighth inning when he staged a foot race with Goldie Rapp, Cat third sacker, and came out second best.

Ewoldt could have easily retired Rapp, and the side, by tossing to Bogart, but elected to foot-race. The Cats then jumped on Whittaker and drove him from the box, making a couple of runs and tying the score.

Art Phelan, pinch-hitter, supplied the hit that brought about Whittaker's downfall, rapping out a single when he hit for Stoner in the eighth.

Whittaker was almost invincible up to that inning. While big, rather freely, he kept the blows scattered and the locals never really threatened at any time except the fatal frame.

The Pelicans scored in the first inning by hitting Stoner, Cat star, hard. Bogart's single, Gilbert's sacrifice, and "Snake" Henry's clean lick turned the trick.

In the third a walk issued to Gilbert, an infield out and Schick's single gave the Pelicans their other run.

Hoffman's pass, Rapp's single, an error of omission by Ewoldt, and one of commission by Bogart, and Phelan's hit accounted for both Fort Worth's scores in the eighth.

"BLOOD MILLER" PLAYS SATURDAY

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 3.—Football critics will see in action on Saturday, Oct. 13, at fair park stadium when the Texas Aggies open the state fair football schedule with Sewanee, a player who drew considerable all-southern mention last year and who is regarded as certain to win a wing position on the mythical team this year. This is "Blood" Miller, the six foot, 182 pound end, and all-round athlete. Miller is not only a brilliant smashing defensive end but on the offense a pass receiver of exceptional merit.

Another pair of Tigers Bible has instructed his men to watch is contributed to the Sewanee line-up by Texas. Bob Stivers, the veteran center, was a four letter man at Greenville high before going to the mountain, while "Flop" Milland prepped at Nacogdoches high and was later a year at A. and M. and another at Texas. His football development has come at Sewanee, however.

Sewanee is fortunate in putting a largely veteran team into the field this year with only one or two youngsters. The Tiger line-up is regarded as one of the strongest it has ever had.

Not all of the outlook at A. and M. is as rosy as the alumni regard it. In the two games to date, Bible has had difficulty in bringing out an all-round fullback as King Gill, the Dallas boy, who looms up as the best passer on the squad, has not developed the punting ability Bible wants, while Fay Wilson, potentially a triple threat man and presumably one of the best punters in the conference field, has not proved the accurate passer the fullback should be. Pinson from Forney and Nealy who lettered last year, are showing their heels to the ends on the running game, however, and this is a big source of satisfaction to the rooters.

Business Manager Sullivan completed arrangements for the ticket sale this week. It will start at 8 o'clock on Monday, Oct. 8, at the Old Mill Drug store, Elm and Stone, where wire and mail reservations will be honored if accompanied by certified check or money order. Phone reservations must be taken up by 6 o'clock on the day made. No other reservations will be made and it is first come, first served for this game.

Illini, After Two Lean Years, Have Hopes of Big Season

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 30.—(Special)—After two famine years so far as victories were concerned University of Illinois backers are looking for the return of Coach Robert C. Zuppke's Illini as championship contenders this season.

In contrast to the team of 1922, when the squad had but three letter men at the start of the season, there are 14 letter men including eight regulars doing their best to hold their old positions against the attacks of as brilliant a yearling squad as has been seen on Illinois Field in many a year.

Capt. Jim McMillen, all-conference guard last year, is sure of his job, and either Vivian Green or Gil Roberts of last year's squad will be back at center, Green having preference, but there is not another berth for which there is not one promising sophomore candidate. "Bubbles" Mitterwalner, a yearling, is engaged in a three cornered fight with the veterans Windy Miller and Leonard Umuss for the other guard position, Miller holding the advantage. Neither Bunny Oakes nor Dick Wagner regular tackles last year, have broken into the regular lineup for any length of time. Dick Hall a 230 pounder, and Chuck Brown, sophomores, leading the fight for these positions.

End Candidates Plentiful.

There are a host of candidates for ends, Frank Rokusek, regular last year, being fairly certain of one job. But he has plenty of competition in Ted Richards, his running mate in 1922, A. G. Hall and Shaw of the yearlings, Cord Lipe, Don Karnes and Bill Hanson of last year's reserves, and Emil Schultz, a fullback last season.

Swede Hall, a brother of the famous "Swede" who piloted the 1911 Illini, is the best bet at quarter. He is a junior, but was out of the game last year with injuries. Steve Coutchie and Rune Lark, who alternated at the job last year, are pressing him hard, however, while Howdy Baur, a fleet sophomore, has had several trials at this job.

Harold (Red) Grange, captain of last year's freshmen, is one of the prettiest backs seen on Illinois field in years, and seems certain of a regular job. Wallie McIlwain, regular in 1922, is getting plenty of work as his running mate, while Johnny Mauer, another sophomore is also a strong possibility.

Britton Fullback Choice.

Earl Britton of the yearlings is practically sure of the fullback job at present, although he has no mean opponents in Walter Crawford, also a sophomore, and Schultz, in case he is not used at end.

Coach Zuppke is driving his team to the limit these days, preparing them for the opening game with Nebraska Oct. 6. He will be able to present a heavy line, averaging probably more than 190 pounds to the man, and some fleet and hard hitting backs, but with the number of new men in the lineup that present performances indicate will be in there, there are a lot of rough spots to be shined up.

SPORTS THROUGH EDGRE'S EYES. By Edgren

By ROBERT EDGREN.

Instead of exploding with a loud bang Luis Firpo of the Argentine established himself as the most dangerous rivel Jack Dempsey has for his heavyweight crown.

Firpo is the first man Dempsey has met since his novice days who has knocked him down. Firpo knocked Dempsey down once in the ring, and the second time knocked clear out of the ring.

Wonder what Dempsey thought thought of Firpo as he was sailing through the ropes and landing on the heads of the men in the front press row?

Firpo is the first man who has stood up toe to toe and punched the champion groggy. He is the first who has been able to stand up and sock with Dempsey, landing as hard as Dempsey did.

He is the first man who ever had the ringsiders up on their feet wondering if the champion was going to be knocked out.

The fight at the Polo Grounds September 14 was the fastest and most furious battle ever seen where a heavyweight championship was at stke.

Best Man Jack Ever Licked.

Half the credit for that belongs to Firpo. Dempsey went after the Argentin egiant intending to knock him out in the first ten seconds of fighting, and Firpo met him with a right hand punch that made his knees sag.

He kept on punching with that right and for a time it looked as if his single effective blow would offset even Dempsey's tremendous speed and two hand punching.

Six months from now, if Firpo takes up American methods in his training, he'll be entitled to another match, and he won't be any thre-to-one short ender.

Firpo showed surprising speed. He had fighting spirit to match Dempsey's. And he was game all the way through.

He is by far the best man Dempsey ever defended.

Firpo might have beaten the champion if he had known the game better. He lacked experience. And he wasn't advised, and handled effectively.

Luis Has Lots to Learn.

First, he forgot he had a left hand. His arm hung at his side half the time when he might have used it to stand Dempsey off and get time to recover. He'll have to use that left hand a long time to make it as effective as his right. But with two good hands Firpo would be some fighting man!

Firpo hadn't been drilled in the most important rule of boxing — to keep his eyes on his opponement.

There was a furious mix-up in the middle of the fight. For a moment the men were close together and the referee called out an order to break.

Dempsey stepped back. Firpo, probably muddled by the English words that he didn't understand very well, turned his eyes toward the referee.

Instantly Dempsey leaned in with a hard blow and Firpo was knocked down. He got up, but he might have been knocked out, and the knock down didn't do him much good.

Not Used to American Seconds.

Firpo was knocked down several times. He took the count only once in the first round, then he was knocked down so hard that he wasn't able to get up before the end of nine seconds.

The other times he jumped riught up without waiting for any count at all, although Dempsey was waiting and ready to go after him the moment he got off the floor.

When he got up and began fighting again he didn't use any guard at all. He didn't even use the left arm to block with the way he did against Willard. But that was perhaps because Dempsey was about a million times faster than big, slow Jess, and Firp couldn't block his blows anyway.

Just before the fight a cablegram came to Firpo from the Argentine. It advised him to remember that the "honor and glory of his country was at stake." A fine thing to pile on a fellow just about time he's getting in the ring to fight Dempsey.!

In his corner Firpo had a couple of experienced American managers as seconds. That would have been all right if he had been training under their direction, so that they'd know all about Firpo and Firpo would understand their advice.

But he had been training with several Argentine friends leaning over the ropes and advising him. He wasn't used to his seconds.

Dempsey showed a few new things himself. He was faster than ever before, and he was hitting harder and more accurately.

He was prepared for a tough fight. He knew all about Firpo. He knew everything Firpo does in the ring, and was prepared for it.

Dempsey at Best in Danger.

But he underestimated Firpo's right hand speed and he came near paying for his mistake. He fought wreckklessly, dashing in constantly to beat Firpo to the punch and running into right handers that knocked him dizzy.

But Jack proved that he has plenty of stamina and recuperating power for he came back fighting harder and faster when he seemed in the greatest danger.

The big Argentine fighter has shown that he has everything a fighter needs except experience and coaching. Give him six months to a year of that and he'll make Dempsey step to hold his title.

He's thirty ounds a bigger man. That counts when a few other things like punching and speed, are any where near equal.

Judging from Firpo's work against Dempsey there is no other big heavyweight in this country at present who would have much of a chance to beat him. He hits too hard..

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—By knocking out his 56th two base hit of the season at St. Louis today, Tris Speaker, star outfielder and manager of the Cleveland Indians, equalled the world's record. Ray Kolp was pitching for the Browns when Speaker drove out the hit in the third inning.

The former world's record was held by Ed Delahny, who established it in 1890.

RUTH MAY BE BEST WITH BAT

Heilman Is Now High In American While Hornsby Leads in National

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, October 3.—Babe Ruth, proclaimed the most valuable ball player in the American league for 1923, today faces a fighting chance of adding the American league batting championship to his laurels, with the close of the season less than a week away.

The New York star must overcome a 16 point lead held by Harry Heilman of Detroit, 1922 batting champion, to accomplish this achievement. Ruth managed to connect with only four hits in the last four games giving him an average of .353, while Heilman is pounding away at a .395 clip. Babe, however, is secure in home run honors with a total of 37, and is so far in front as a scorer there is no possible chance of being overtaken. He has counted 137 times. The average include games of Wednesday.

Roger Pekinpaugh of Washington, and Hervey McClellan of the White Sox, however, have overtaken Collins in the sacrifice hit department and are tied for the lead with 37 each. Collins has 36 sacrifices. Other leading batters for 90 or more games:

Speaker, Cleveland, .375; J. Sewell, Cleveland, .360; Williams, St. Louis, .353; E. Collins, Chicago, .353; Jamieson, Cleveland, .344; Cobb, Detroit, .343; Manush, Detroit, .335; J. Harris, Boston, .332.

Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis seems likely to retain the 1923 batting championship of the National league. He is batting .384, which gives him a 10 point margin over Zack Wheat of the Dodgers.

Jimmy Bottomley, Hornsby's teammate tagging close on the heels of the leaders, with an average of .367 for third place.

Cy Williams, the veteran Philadelphia outfielder, suffered a slump in his hitting, having dropped from .395 to .295 in a week. He failed to increase his home run record of 37 circuit drives, but has a safe lead to finish the season.

Young of New York, and Carey of Pittsburgh, are having a close race for run scoring honors, Young leaving with 121 tallies, while Carey is three behind. Other leading batters for 90 or more games:

Fournier, Brooklyn, .354; Rousn, Cincinnati, .351; Frisch, New York, .347; Grimm, Pittsburgh, .342; Young, New York .340; Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .340; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .338; Hargrave, Cincinnati, .335.

Outfielder Lamar of the Toledo club, is all set to grab the batting honors of the American association. He is pounding at the door with an average of .393, while Manager Terry of the Mudhens is running second with .377. Carl East of Minneapolis, and Combs of Louisville are tied for third.

Brief of Kansas City has broken the tie shared with East in the number home runs, the Kansas City slugger having smashed his 20th four bagger. East has 28. Insidentally Brief has reached the century and a half mark in runs scored.

Cooney of Milwaukee failed to increase his stolen base record of 45, but still is four in front of Eddie Murphy of Columbus. Other leading batters:

Brief, Kansas City, .360; Brown, Indianapolis, .358; Brgnom, Kansas City, .357; Griffin, Milwaukee, .355; E. Murphy, Columbus, .354; Good, Kansas City, .350; Smith, Toledo, .349.

Huhn of Mobile was the leading hitter in the Southern association, according to the final unofficial figures. The Mobile star finished the season with a mark of .344. Williams, a teammate, was runner-up of .342 and Cuyler of Nashville third with .340. Herman of Memphis with .339 was fourth, while Bernsen and Lebourveau of Nashville, teammates, were tied for fifth place. Richbourg of Nashville, who suffered a broken leg early in the season and was unable to return, had a mark of .378 for 4 games, while Barber of Atlanta and R. Moore of Birmingham, who were in 60 and 62 games each, had averages of .300 and .347, respectively.

Cuyler was the leading base stealer with 68 thefts, while Clark of Birmingham and Atlanta, was the home run king of the circuit with 20 fourbaggers. Williams of Mobile was the best run getter having registered 128 times.

Other leading batters:

MUCH INTEREST IN S. M. U. GAME

Dallas, Texas, October 3.—Southern Methodist university's first scheduled game this season with the North Texas Teachers' college of Denton Saturday at Armstrong field will give football followers of the Southwestern conference their first view of the team Ray Morrison and Ewing Freeland are sending after the coveted championship this year. It will be the second time in the history of the university that the coaches believe they are putting in the field a team capable of giving every other eleven in the conference of a real battle and luck breaking even, of getting away with a championship.

If the Denton normal flashes unexpected strength Saturday, the Mustang eleven will undoubtedly be confined to the strength necessary to win. But if it proves a light game

MISS STIRLING IN HARD MATCH

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The victory of Miss Alexa Stirling over Miriam Burns of Kansas City, the western champion, at the 18th hole. Miss Glenna Collett's five medal score in defeating Doroth Higbe of Chicago and Miss Edith Cummings 7 and 6 decision over Miss Audrey Faust of St. Louis, were the interesting points today in the second round play for the women's national golf championship.

Despite her fine driving and approaching, Miss Stirling tottered on the brink of defeat by the girl from the west, who was better of the two at the shorter game. Miss Stirling made mistakes and the western girl took advantage of all of them and it was only the finest sort of golf on the last hole that brought victory to the former champion.

DOG SHOW HAS A BIG SUCCESS

Prizes Are Awarded In Second Annual Event

The second annual dog show held by the Wichita Falls Kennel club in connection with the Texas-Oklahoma fair, which closes today, proved to be one of the most successful shows of its kind held in the southwest this year, with a list of exhibitors that excelled all expectations.

Showing in a hangar at the fair the dog show exhibits proved to be among the most attractive and the kenneis were visited during the first three days by hundreds of dog fanciers who declared the show to be equal to any held in the southwest.

Exhibiting every breed of dog from toy lap dogs to great danes, the show was complete in every detail, and under the direction of Allan Montgomery, dog show superintendent, and other officials, the judging was arranged during the afternoons.

The exhibit of German police dogs by the Sunset Kennels, owned locally by W. B. McClain, proved to be among the most popular, and the pure bred dogs of the local kennels carried off several ribbons.

Another branch that was popular and entered by several exhibitors was the bird dog class with many pointers and setters entered. The bird dog class was probably the most popularly entered in the show, many of the dogs being locally owned while some came from distances.

The bull dog show, with pure bred bull dogs of every branch shown, was largely entered, and the lists showed the names of several of the best dogs in the country.

The third annual show will be held next year, and it is declared that if its success equals this year's, it will be great.

THE NEW STEEL FAIR GRANDSTAND

"YES, SIR, I AM FROM TEXAS!"

Cy Cullins Proud of Native State

Cy Cullins

Sixty-three years ago much of Texas was the "wild and woolly" west. There still remains some sections that way where the native thereabouts cling to the old customs and costumes. However, long hair, the shirt with the open throat, the beard to protect the face from the biting winds, and the sombrero in real western style, are things that are few and far between. So when a man of the old type of westerner drops in—even to Wichita Falls—he stands out as a distinctive one in the throng.

"Once a Texan, always a Texan" is an adage pungent with truth. Texas can boast of the grand family of boosters for the giant commonwealth. Wherever you meet a Texan you will find a man who believes the garden spot of the world lies between Texline, Brownsville, Texarkana and El Paso. While this is not a joke to the man from other states, it nevertheless brings a smile to his face when he hears a Texan start to talk. It is a smile of admiration for the latter's loyalty to his commonwealth.

"Cy" Cullins, just cattleman from Texas, is one of the few remaining Texans who cling to the customs of old. "Cy" has a right to. He was born in Texas—somewhere—beyond the limits of any county, because 63 years ago the all of the Cullen family was stored in a prairie schooner. It was in one of these caravans that "Cy" Cullins first saw the light. It was somewhere in Texas, not charted on maps; just a spot in the grand commonwealth.

"Cy" moved frequently, so that in later years he was never able to locate his birthplace. His parents were pioneers from Iowa. They left the Hawkeye state with the western trend of civilization. They left their rights in the original land grant to the family by President Harison in 1840. "Cy" visited his relatives in Iowa this summer, having made 600 miles on horseback through that state. And he was marked every where he went.

"Cy's" equipment was that of the average cow-man. He had the big hat, the cow-boy boots, the red shirt, open at the neck, the long hair, find nature's hirsuete adornment graced his face to protect him from the wind. He was the ideal of the child's dream of the westerner; the picture that made their elders turn back the tablets of memory to the day when nearly all men were like "Cy."

His appearance was noted by the papers as he made the long journey from St. Cloud, Minn., through Iowa, to rejoin the Wortham shows at Muscatine, Iowa, over in the Mississippi valley. At first sight one would look askance at the cowboy. But once he spoke the clear, resonant voice showed there was real man within.

His manner is that of a courtier. His respect for others marked him as unusual. In his bright, steel gray eye there is the mark ondetermination, but it is the mirror that reflected the real, self respecting, and muchly respected citizen of Texas. "Cy's" natural, and perpetual use of "Sir" and "Thank you" were indeed pleasurable oddities. He was willing to talk, but was not bombastic. He told his story, when others sought it; paid his bill; and went on his way.

Cullins is a part of Vern Tantliner's wild west. He would talk Texas as long as the interested listener would listen. But he never forced his subject. He talked entertainingly on cattle and cotton, and was equally as well posted on other Texas subjects from rice to rock hills.

Cullins is a sort of Vern Tantliner's wild west company with Wortham's shows at the Texas-Oklahoma fair. He is an unassuming, and working, peaceable gentleman, and all business. Yet he is the real Texan of more than a half century and he loves the west especially the Texas west, and it is likely he will be laid away with his long hair and his open throated shirt.

The real wild west is a memory to him. It is like a separated love. He revers its memory. And more than once he has answered the query "Is there now any wild west?" with the handy answer:

"Stranger, if there was I would be on my way there. Men are mercenary today. In those days we had renegades, and we had our laws to deal with them. Sometimes they would transegress our laws, which were drawn from the ten commandments. Our confidence in each other was supreme.

"From remote corners we could drive off, leave the house open, leave a note on the table asking the wayfarer to feed the chickens, not to disturb the setting of eggs in the cupboard, to pay reasonably for what the nomad used, and we could return in a month to find change on the table to represent what was gone. Those were days when men were men, when the best for one was the best for all, where the cause of one was the cause for all, and this promoted the spirit of the American constitution—the pursuit of happiness, the right to worship God as you saw fit, and the universal practice of the golden rule. I am a westerner, I am a Texan, and I guess I will be satisfied to always say with becoming pride:

"Yes, Sir, I am from Texas."

PRIZES AWARDED WOMEN'S WORK

Both Men and Women Enjoy Exhibits; Entries Are Numerous

The woman's building at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition is a place of interest to the fair goers and men and women alike are enjoying the exhibits which have come from places far and near. The entries have been twice as numerous this year as they were in 1922. W. W. Anderson is chairman of this department and he is assisted by Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, and both of them are pleased over the woman's department of the fair.

In the division of antiques at the woman's building are found many interesting pieces. Several coverlets which have been made entirely by hand and many of them very old are brought to the exhibit. The wool was sheared from the sheep which were raised on the farm, the wool washed, carded, spun into thread and dyed, then woven into cloth is the history of some of the coverlets at the fair. A baby cap, made of delicate lace, made in Germany 125 years ago is also in the department of antiques. A dress, a native costume of Norway, made 142 years ago is in this same department. The dress is composed of three pieces, a blue skirt, a fancy red jacket and a white linen waist. The waist is open at the throat and is finished with hardanger embroidery. All the stitching is done by hand. A spinning wheel made in 1805 is also on display. An antique picture hangs on the wall. The scene of this picture is of the sea. The ships are in full sail, the clouds are overhead, but the artist used no brush to paint the picture It is made of colored threads.

Exquisite embroideries, tatted pieces luncheon sets, bedspreads, pillow cases, and many other handmade things are in the exhibit of the woman's building. In the embroidery section are baby clothes, luncheon sets, pillow tops, handkerchiefs, and other things. There is tatting made from the finest threads and the heaviest thread in many designs. DIVERSION DAM DERRICK IS GONE

What had become an old land mark has been removed from the vicinity of Wichita Falls. Consulting Engineer A. M. McPherson has dismantled the huge steel derrick at Diversion Dam, and it has been shipped to El Dorado, Ark., where it will be used for a paving project.

The derrick was used mainly in loading material and rocks for the construction of the dam. Its height made it a landmark that had become a familiar sight to travelers in the last three years.

The woman is said to have picked on her husband with an ice pick, resulting in the charge being filed

POULTRY SHOW IS TWICE AS BIG

"The poultry show at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition is the largest one ever held in Wichita Falls, and it is twice as large as the one held here last year," said Walter Burton, judge of the poultry exhibit. Mr. Burton is superintendent of the poultry exhibit to be held at the state fair at Dallas this month. There are 50 varieties of poultry in the exposition, and there are about 75 exhibitors.

"The quality of the show is good," Mr. Burton said Wednesday. "Due to the efforts of Ira D. Brown and W. H. Norton, selections have been made in choosing the best in the standard for the exhibit."

Three states are represented. The awards were made Wednesday but they were not ready for the press late Wednesday afternoon.

THE RAIN STOPPED MINUTE TOO SOON

The rain yesterday stopped just one minute too soon for the fair association to collect insurance. Officials stated that their daily rain insurance for $5,000 covered the hours from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m., and that although it rained up until approximately 10:59 yesterday morning, the one-tenth of an inch necessary to collection on the policy was not forthcoming after eleven.

Rain insurance was also held by the concessions at the grandstand, but this only covered the time from 12 o'clock noon until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and they also failed to realize on yesterday's showers.

The lowering clouds all afternoon yesterday and the rain in the morning lessened perceptibly attendance at the afternoon programs, despite the pleasant drop of temperature due to the rain. The night crowds were better, as the threat of rain passed off somewhat.

"BLUE TRAVELER" TO BE FEATURE

"The True Blue Traveler," Oakland touring car which is touring the United States, will arrive in Wichita county at 10 o'clock this morning, and will be a feature of the Texas-Oklahoma fair exhibits. The "True Blue Traveler" is making a complete tour of the country, and has already traveled 1800 miles since leaving the factory.

A delegation of county and city officials will meet the traveler at the edge of the county, with a parade of cars headed by the chief of police and the county officials appointed to meet the Oakland driver at the Red river bridge and accompany it to Wichita Falls.

Upon arriving here it will stage a demonstration before the Marshall Huff Motor company offices on Scott street, before going to the fair. The demonstration will impress the efficiency of the special four wheel brake of the car.

The Marshall Huff Motor company made the first automobile sale of the fair, selling the first car to the first man to enter Hangar No. 1 at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Homer E. Crawford sold the car, a model 35-B Oakland to Mr. A. L. Henderson of Fort Worth.

WILLIAMS WAS GLAD TO RETURN HOME

A letter from 11-year William Bosley of Beverly, West Virginia, who ran away from home and came to the Texas oil fields and was picked up by the local Welfare council and returned to his home recently, was received yesterday by Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, Jr., Welfare secretary, thanking her for her interest in him.

William said in his letter that he was going to school now and his hard experiences in Texas had made the school books more inviting than before he left.

Frederick Boy Hurt.

Fondren, suffered concussion of the brain Monday evening late when he fell to the sidewalk hitting his skull such a rap that he was rendered unconscious. AL SWEET IS A SHOW GRADUATE

Al Sweet

Just because Al Sweet, leader of the band at the fair bears his name, is a musician does not mean that his talents stop there. Sweet is a graduate of the circus. That means he is a master of many trades.

For many years he was leader of the band with Ringling Brothers circus. Circus men overcome emergencies when they meet them; otherwise they would not be circus men. An emergency that once faced Al Sweet led to an invention that today is in use in the circus world.

One day just before the band was due in the "big top" for the afternoon performance Al Sweet missed his music rack. He could not find one to replace it. He hurried to the blacksmith shop and told his troubles to the man of mighty arm. He was too busy to help the musician.

Mr. Otto Ringling, who always was friendly to Sweet, put the musician on his mettle.

"If you want anything done around here at this busy hour do it yourself," said Mr. Ringling.

Sweet knew it was the acid test. He turned about and picked up a laying out pin. This is a long piece of iron with a ring in the end of it. It is used to mark the spot where a stake goes.

Sweet found a part of a music stand. He bented the laying out pin, turned the ring in the end just a little more. Then he inserted two pieces of scrap iron in the ring and beat the sides together. It not only filled the bill, but gave the music stand a firm hold in the ground instead of a slight brace on the ground. The stand is now generally used by circus bands.

3 CITIES WANT MEET OF G. O. P.

Chicago, Cleveland and Frisco in Race for Convention

WASHINGTON, Oct. —A spirited campaign has been begun against the republican national committee to influence its decision as to the place of holding the convention of 1924.

The cities making the strongest bids are Chicago Cleveland, and San Francisco, with the decision probably resting between Chicago and Cleveland, because of their more central location. San Francisco's geographical situation is the strongest argument against her, members of the committee indicate.

William H. Crocker, national committeeman for California is hard at work trying to line up a majority of the committee in favor of the city of the Golden Gate and keeps in constant touch with national headquarters by wire.

The statement of Fred Upham, treasurer of the national committee, that San Francisco did not have a chance is not accepted as final by the California committeeman. He plans to carry his fight before the committee in December and not accept defeat until the committee formally announces its selection of some other convention city.

Upham's announcement that he favors Chicago likewise is not accepted here as insuring the selection of the Illinois metropolis. The recent report that chairman Adams had said the convention would go to Chicago if Upham wanted it there was declared by Adams today to have been entirely inaccurate. He is not taking sides in the fight, leaving it to the committee to decide.

Treasurer Upham's stand for Chicago, however, greatly strengthens the city's chances. He had been reported previously as opposing Chicago because of certain happenings in 1920. There was considerable complaint at that time against high prices in Chicago. Upham was quoted as having assured the committee in agreeing on Chicago that there would be no price advances.

Cleveland is making a very vigorous campaign to land the convention. It got into the fight several months ago, but was discouraged by President Harding who thought that in view of the fact that he was candidate for renomination, it would not be proper to take the convention to activity in his home state. He foresaw the opportunity for charges that it would be taking advantage of the situation to surround the delegates with undue Harding influence.

But now Cleveland's stock is said to be looking up. Cleveland has an auditorium which it is said will accommodate 15,000 people and also boasts of ample hotel accommodations. Her boosters pointing out that Ohio, always one of the chief pivotal states will be much more in doubt in 1924, than Illinois, and that the holding of the national convention in Ohio would be of great value to the republicans.

Moreover, there is said to be some disposition in the national committee to consider Cleveland seriously out of respect to President Harding's memory.

Station Case Up.

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. —Arguments were presented to the commission of appeals today in the well-known Hillsboro station case involving authority of the state railroad commission to compel railroads to construct union stations. The case has been pending in the state courts since 1910. It grew out of an order of the railroad commission directing railroads to construct a union station at Hillsboro.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Heavy buying for the short account which apparently was becoming over crowded, brought about a vigorous upturn in prices in today's stock market, the first million share day since September 13. The rally, which was generally construed as a correction of a week-end technical condition was conducted without relation to news developments

The upward movement started in the railroad shares, buying of which was influenced by the August earnings statements now being published. Particular attention was paid to "big four," which added 8 1-8 points to its 6 1-2 point gain yesterday, touching 104, a new high for the year, on reports of its purchase by New York central interests.

Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio, which are reported to be earning about $20 a share, each were run up another point or so, as were Wabash preferred "A" New York Central, Union Pacific and several others. Reading was pushed up 3 3-8.

Baldwin, in which the short interests is supposed to be unusually large, made the best showing among the pivot stocks, closing 5 points higher at 120 after having sold slightly above that figure. Studebaker, which, with other motors, has been under pressure recently in speculative expectation of more intense competition and price cutting in the automotive industry next year was not far behind, climbing 4 3-8 points to 99 1-2. United States steel crossed 89 for a net gain of nearly 2 points and American can closed 3 points higher at 93 3-8.

BLUE SKY CONTROLS STOCK INCREASES

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 3.—The state blue sky law governs all increases of capital stock by corporations operating in Texas, and permits must be secured before the additional stock can be issued, the attorney general department held in a ruling to Secretary of State S. L. Staples Tuesday.

The stock sale regulation law does not exempt interurban electric railroad corporations, the opinion held. Railroad corporations exempted from the law do not include interurbans, the opinion declared.

The blue sky law does not apply where promoters subscribe all of the stock of a corporation; but permit is required, according to the opinion, when organizers, or any part of them, actively solicit subscriptions of stock from outsiders, even before organization of the concern, the ruling held.

The opinion was written by Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton, and approved by the department in conference. It answered questions which have been submitted by Secretary of State Staples in beginning administration of the law. The requirement of a permit for all increases of capital stock is understood to be possibly more stringent than had been anticipated.

New Orleans Cotton.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—The character of the early trading in cotton today was different from that of the second part of the session as if it had occurred on a wholly different day. From marked easiness there was a shift to extreme steadiness for which bad weather in Texas was mainly responsible. Reports to brokerage offices here that a norther was blowing up over that state started one of the strongest buying movements of the season, putting prices up very nearly a cent a pound from the lowest of the day. Greatest strength came in the late trading when prices were 40 to 54 points over yesterday's finals with December at 27.88. The close was 43 to 47 points net higher on the day with sales of December ranging from 27.81 to 27.85 Gradual strength was gained from many messages telling of rain falling in both Oklahoma and Texas. They soon had the effect of offsetting for federal map. Buying increased when several telegrams were received from Texas, claiming that a regulation norther seemed to be developing and during the remainder of the session, this was the controlling influence. Soon after mid-session, the advance was rapid.

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—After a steady opening, the cottonseed oil market became heavy under selling by refiners. Closing bids were 40 points lower for October and 16 to 20 points lower for the balance. Sales 24,100 barrels prime crude 9.00; prime yellow spot 11.75. December closed 9.99; March 10.07; May 10.27; all bid.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

We have not had any real panics in this country since the Federal Reserve System was established. Why not?

A panic is probably caused by loss of confidence, more than anything else. A run starts on a bank, and after it has paid out all of its cash, it suspends payment. Temporarily the whole credit structure is upset.

On the other hand, if the run is met successfully, confidence returns and all is well again.

The banks probably have ample security, but no way to get cash quickly. A small bank goes to a larger one, but where could the large bank go? Prior to the Federal reserve system they had no place, although they usually tried to help each other in emergencies.

Now the federal reserve system will advance cash or credit on good short-time security. Consequently banks do not have to suspend payment, and we have had no panics.

Prospects of Government Help Responsible—Corn Follows

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Prospects of government help for wheat growers led to active buying of wheat today and to decidedly higher prices for all grain. Wheat closed firm, 1½ to 2 @2 1-2 cents up. Corn scored 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 cent net advance and oats 1-4 to 1-2 cents advance. In provisions, the outcome varied from 10 cents decline to a rise of five cents.

In sympathy with wheat and as a result of scarcity of offerings, all deliveries of corn rose to a new high price record for the season, and so did May oats. Number 2 yellow corn brought as high as $1.01½ a bushel, the first time since October 1920, that the price has reached $1.00 or above.

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4.—Actual cattle receipts Wednesday were 5,570 head, but of that number around 750 were on through billing. In the calf division the estimate was placed at 2,000 head.

Buyers and salesmen made good progress on the early rounds, the market opening fully steady on fat cows and canners, unchanged on heifers, yearlings, bulls and stockers, somewhat higher on calves and weak on beef steers. However, a heavy rain served to check the brisk movement and thereafter the market was not so brisk. Values, however, remained just about in line with the opening basis.

Receipts of steers were larger than on other days of the week, but simply lacked quality and finish and most of the offering was of a type that did not particularly appeal to the buying interests. Canners sold around 1.65 to 1.90 and on cutters the range was from 2.25 to 2.85; fat cows of medium to good quality cleared at spreads of 3.25 to 4.00.

Fair heifers and yearlings sold around 6.00 and the fair to good kinds went at 4.50 to 5.75. Bulls sold at 2.75 to 3.50. Fair to good calves sold at 5.75 to 6.00.

Stocker steers sales were made at a range of 4.50 to 5.00. Fair to good steers brought 3.50 to 4.25.

Not more than 1,200 head of sheep were on offer in the sheep house, receipts consisting of around 350 head of goats, two decks of yearlings and three decks of feeder lambs. The goats sold at 2.75, a price showing strength. The yearlings averaged 81 pounds and brought 9.50, a value that was called steady.

Market conditions in the hog yards were very uneven, some sales being higher, some lower and most deals were steady. Striking a average, the trade was around steady to 10 cents down. Receipts were limited to 1,200 head and the run was very ordinary quality. Good hogs were quoted at 8.00. The best in car lots sold at 7.75 and a few head brought 7.90. Some fat pigs sold to an order buyer at 6.85.

ALLEN AND FOSTER DRILLING AT 420

HENRIETTA, Texas, Oct. 4.—Allen & Foster are drilling at 420 feet in their test on the Boddy lands, one mile north of the city limits of Henrietta.

John O'Neil test on the Theodore Kuykendall farm, four miles west of Henrietta, has reached a depth of 1,900 feet. Fuel oil is being trucked out to the test in sufficient quantities to complete the well to the contract depth.

Neff Is Back.

AUSTIN, Oct. 3.—Governor Pat M. Neff, who has been inspecting state prison farms in South Texas, returned to Austin Monday to open the Texas state exposition here. He left Monday night for Northeast Texas, and will inspect the Shaw state prison farm, and will Wednesday visit Sherman, where he will open the Grayson county fair.

HENRIETTA OIL TESTS ACTIVE

Tarbell and Nance Get Shallow Showings Near Windthorst

HENRIETTA, Oct. 4.—Tarbell & Nance are drilling at 800 feet in their rotary test on the Joe Zuta farm one mile north of Windthorst, lot 10, block 4, Clark & Plumb subdivision. Three sands have been found with some oil showings which is attracting attention of oil operators to the Windthorst section of Clay county.

Seaboard Oil and Gas company have closed a drilling contract covering 1,004 acres situated about one mile east and north of Windthorst. The first well will be drilled on lot 43, block 2, Clark & Plumb subdivision, Lukas Zihlman tract, drilling to begin November 15th to a depth of 2,000 feet. This block of leases will cover part of the lands which were included in a drilling contract with J. M. Pringle of Cherryvale, Kansas, during the 1918 oil boom. Pringle erected a derrick, but found it impractical to complete his project at that time and the drilling contract was abandoned temporarily.

O'Keefe & Collett are drilling at 420 feet in their test on the H. J. Woodward ranch, J. Robbins survey, near the Clay-Jack county line. It is expected that this test will be drilled to 1,500 feet and then standardized for a thorough test of the deeper sands.

The Lone Star Gas company have completed their derrick and placed boilers for a deep test with a standard rig on block 5, Bosque county school land, abstract No. 10, Edrington ranch lands, 4 1-2 miles northwest of Henrietta.

STATE RANGER LAW UP FOR ATTACK

AUSTIN, Oct. 3.—Adjutant General T. B. Barton confirmed report that efforts are being made in San Antonio to raise a fund of $2,500 for employment of counsel for an attack on constitutionality of the state ranger law.

Petition is being circulated in San Antonio to get contributions to the fund, he learned. Suit attacking the law will be brought, if the money-raising campaign is successful, according to information here. Immediate purpose of the movement is to cause removal of rangers from San Antonio, where they have been stationed for several months, and active, under General Barton's direction, in gathering evidence of liquor and vice law violations.

Barton indicated he had no fear of outcome of the court tests of the law empowering activities of the ranger force. The threatened proceedings are causing him no uneasiness.

General Barton will return to San Antonio some time this week to continue his personal direction of the state officers there, he said and to prepare evidence gained during months of investigation, for presentation to the grand jury.

BOYD MAKES HIS ANNUAL REPORT

AUSTIN, Oct. 3.—Annual report of Commissioner W. W. Boyd of the game, fish and oyster department filed with Governor Neff Tuesday, showed collection of $155,556.09 in fees and license taxes and fines, for the year ending September 1, while total cost of operation of the department for the year, was $89,982, leaving a net balance of $65,573 from the year's work.

The collections were made from three sources, $67,368 from sale of hunting licenses fish and oyster dealer licenses, and fines, $31,195; and collections from sale of sand, gravel and shell, $59,900.

A total catch of 5,609,376 pounds of fish and 71,000 barrels of oysters by licensed persons, was reported.

Commissioner Boyd's report recited that the department will use the special game fund, derived from hunting license fee collections, for enforcement of game laws and for propagation and distribution of game in depleted areas. This was authorized by the legislature this year, which left the entire amount in the hands of the game commissioner, to be spent by him.

Gratifying increase of wild turkeys was reported by Mr. Boyd. Quail and doves are more plentiful in many localities than for several years, according to the report. Antelope did not decrease and there is hope for increasing the supply in the state. Commissioner Boyd commended the work of five or six organizations which have begun field trials for pointer and setter dogs in the state.

An increase of 12,337 barrels in the annual production of oysters, and over half a million pounds of fish and shrimp caught in Texas waters, was reported. The report urged strict enforcement of anti-stream pollution laws.

Why have sleepless nights from ECZEMA?

OH! The joy of a peaceful restful night. What a wonderful "up and going" feeling follows such a night of undisturbed slumber.

Oh! What tortures—what agony—what despair—goes with the nights where eczema and other skin diseases hold power and drive away rest and peaceful slumber. For under the cover of darkness like crafty beings of the underworld these eruptions work their most serious havoc.

S. S. S. is the established conqueror of these annoying skin diseases. S. S. S. drives these ever disturbing elements from your system—elements that carry in their wake—lack of energy—lack of strength—undermining health! S. S. S. purifies the blood. It creates red blood cells by the score. Blood cells that send new rich blood coursing through your veins. Red blood that drives away eczema—drives away pimples and blackheads that cause embarrassment and mortification—and in their stead brings added strength—increased vitality—renewed vigor.

There is no reason why these torturing unbearable skin disorders should be allowed to undermine your health. That is what they do. Since 1826 S. S. S. has been purifying the blood of thousands—driving out the impurities that tend to create disorders. Scientifically prepared and proportioned herbs and barks, carefully selected, make up the ingredients which are found in S. S. S. It builds blood cells and blood cells build healthy bodies.

Mr. W. T. Hooker, 2321 Proctor Street, Port Arthur, Texas, writes:

"I suffered from Eczema for seven years and was afflicted with nervousness. I tried S. S. S. and six bottles cured me. I now enjoy good health. I think S. S. S. the only sure cure for blood disorders on the market."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. It is more economical to purchase a large size bottle. Get one today and test it out. Watch S. S. S. rout that annoying, skin destroying, health undermining army that holds your system in its grasp. Learn again what it means to enjoy peaceful, restful nights of slumber.

INJUNCTION FILED AGAINST THE KLAN

By International News Service.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Charging William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of Atlanta, Ga., and three million members of the invisible empire whose names are "unknown to the plaintiffs" with conspiracy to supplant the United States government, the opening wedge in a legal battle of far-reaching scope was filed here today in which an injunction against the use of names of non-members on its rolls and a receiver for the membership lists of Indiana "klaverns" were asked.

The names of six South Bend, Ind., men appeared as plaintiffs in a suit filed by Joseph R. Roach and Patrick H. O'Donnell, attorneys, identified with the American Unity league, an organization opposing the ku klux klan. Amendments one, thirteen fourteen and fifteen of the constitution and section 19 of the federal criminal code have been violated according to the action which was a bill in equity.

The alleged oath which a member of the klan takes, it was charged, defeats the "purpose of petit and grand jury" investigations and constitutes a violation of the criminal code, it was avered.

Each klansman swears according to the bill of particulars, that "I will keep secure a secret of a klansman when same is committed to me in the sacred bond of klansmanship—the crime of violating this solemn oath, treason against the United States government of America, rape and malicious murder, alone, excepted."

"Stealing property of the United States and turning it over to the defendant without compensation," formed another basis for the conspiracy charge.

Members of the army and state militia were caused "to lend their assistance in violent," riotous and forceful manner to illegal meetings and gatherings to be held by the defendant and to steal property of the United States and turn unlawfully the same over to defendant without compensation, and to unlawfully influence army inquiry boards charged with inquiring into such conduct.

The bill of particulars stated that before a person could become a member of the organization, notwithstanding the fact he is an American citizen, that he was considered an "alien" and had to "apply" for naturalization in the invisible empire which was designed to be a "super-government" for the purpose of unlawfully and feloniously supplanting the constitution of the United States and in this manner "securing allegiance to the invisible empire."

At the time the suit was filed, military board of inquiry was sitting at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near this city, conducting a probe of the "Miley avenue" riot here in which members of the police department were stoned while trying to extinguish burning crosses. Accusations were made that members of the military dressed as civilians, took part in the demonstrations and this feature was thought to form part of the basis for charges concerning the army in the suit.

Plaintiffs named in the suit were: Benjamin Dubois, Earl Jackson, Peter T. Birmingham, John Dossman and Zelman Dekelbaum, all of the city of South Bend, Ind.

KEY RESIGNS TO TAKE NEW POST

Many Promotions in City National Following His Resignation

T. A. Key, well known in Wichita Falls banking circles has tendered his resignation to the City National Bank, and will leave tonight for Vernon, Texas, where he has been elected cashier and director of the Waggoner National Bank of that place.

Mr. Key came to the City National Bank as general efficiency expert three years ago, from Sherman. Prior to his business associations in Sherman he was with the City National Bank of Whitesboro for 17 years, serving that institution for many years as its active vice-president.

To Mr. Key goes the distinction of building up one of the best banks in North Texas. His friends, both in and out of the banking fraternity, have watched his progress with a great deal of satisfaction. The Wichita Falls bank has been very fortunate in having the services of Mr. Key, knowing that their institution has profited materially by having him associated with it. Mr. Key has been doing "country banking" for 20 years, and through his knowledge of banking and service to the people, gained by him during this period, has enabled him to make many friends for himself and his bank.

Mr. Key will be missed at his desk at the City National, where, to use his own words he has been trying to give the people "real country bank service." "Tom," as he is best known to the host of friends he has made since coming to Wichita Falls, declares that he is going to one of the best banks, in one of the best counties in the greatest state in the union He finds pleasure, too, in the fact that he is only 50 miles from Wichita Falls and that Vernon can be reached in the near future over paved roads.

In associating himself with the Waggoner National bank, Mr. Key will become identified with one of the best known banks in the state. The Waggoner National has always had the reputation of being a progressive, conservative and save bank, its directorate being made up of some of the most successful business men of this section. The bank was organized by W. T. Waggoner, Mr. Waggoner and the Waggoner estate yet do not considerable business through the bank. During the world war and every year since the Waggoner has shown a steady growth and has never failed to pay its shareholders as much as 20 per cent annual dividend. The Waggoner has capital and surplus of $200,000.00.

The going of Mr. Key will result in several changes in the City National but all of the promotions growing out of his departure, will go to men who are now connected with the bank.

W. S. Abbott, former director of public relations, will succeed Mr. Key. Mr. Abbott has been with the bank four years.

He formerly was with the Hamilton National Bank at Chattanooga, Tenn, and held positions of honor and trust during the world war. He was overseas for the treasury department of the United States, being financial secretary for the American relief administration, under the auspices of the peace conference. He is well known in banking circles and to the townspeople of Wichita Falls.

R. Vaugh Ray will succeed Mr. Abbott. Mr. Ray has been in Wichita Falls for a number of years, and has many friends here. He formerly was connected with the National Bank of Commerce before its consolidation with the City National Bank. Before coming here he was connected with a large bank in Brownwood, Texas. Mr. Ray served his country overseas as a member of the Thirty-sixth division during the world war, returning here immediately after the signing of the armistice

Robert Basham, in line with the other changes in the bank, will become chief paying teller. Mr. Basham is the son of Vice-President C. E. Basham, of the City National Bank.

The promotions, according to to P. P. Langford, president of the banking institution, are in keeping with the policy of the bank to reward those who have earned advancement through their service and loyalty to the institution.

Suits Filed.

The following suits were filed in the office of the district clerk Wednesday.

Ella Gill against James H. Gill, divorce.

Wichita State Bank and Trust company against Ray Calvert and company, debt.

A AND S TEAM HERE THURSDAY

The football teams of Austin college and Simmons college, scheduled to clash at the fair park stadium tomorrow afternoon, will reach Wichita Falls this afternoon. The Simmons squad will arrive early this afternoon on the Wichita Valley and will have a light workout as will the Presbyterian team from Sherman, which will arrive at 3:40. One of the teams will use the race track enclosure and the other will use the high school grounds near the baseball park.

Mason L. Cashion, manager of the Kangaroos, as the Austin college players are known, reached Wichita Falls Wednesday afternoon to complete arrangements for the game. His team will be quartered at the St. James.

"We have ten of last year's letter men back this year," Mr. Cashion said, "and while the State university team defeated us last Friday, we made a showing against them of which we are quite proud, for it showed that the boys have the fighting spirit and are in good condition. We held State to one touchdown in the last half."

Two West Texas boys are among the Kangaroo players. One is Walter Miller of Weinert, Haskell county, right half back, and another is Garrett Reeves, a guard, from Plainview. "Hub" Hollis, who was with the Spudders for a while this summer, was captain of the Kangaroos last year and one of the outstanding stars of the Texas inter-collegiate conference. He may be here to see his old team mates go against the Cowboys.

The Kangaroos won the T. I. A. A. title last year and in facing Simmons tomorrow are up against one of their toughest opponents for the 1923 title.

The Simmons Cowboys, whose plucky performance against T. C. U. last year is remembered by all local fans, come here with their spirits considerable raised by the showing they made against the Baylor team last Saturday. The Waco Baptists were held to two touchdowns, both of which were largely due to fumbles.

Whiskey Blamed For Plight Of Oil Man Here

Quite a stir was created in the down town area Wednesday afternoon when Sheriff Pat Murphy and Deputy Charlie Bebaut arrested a prominent oil man after resistance had been shown and a large crowd gathered.

Spectators said the trouble started in a prominent downtown hotel when Deputy Bebaut said something to the oil man and his companion. Bebaut said friends of the two interferred. He returned to the courthouse and got Sheriff Murphy.

Quite a crowd had gathered. The sheriff said it was necessary to carry the man, put him in a car and bring him to the county jail. The sheriff said the man came near breaking a thumb for him in the office. Assistant County Attorney Wayne Somerville immediately after the oil man had been placed under arrest, the sheriff said he was preferring several charges against the oil man and one of his friends, both of whom the sheriff said were drunk.

A long bladed knife which the sheriff said one of the men had held in his hand while seated in a car on Ninth street and dared anybody to fight him, was turned over to the county attorney. The sheriff said a charge of carrying concealed weapons would be filed as one of the charges. A charge of drunkenness was filed against the two Wednesday afternoon. Murphy said he was going to file a charge of whiskey possession against the oil man in federal court.

Charges of disturbing the peace and resisting an officer were also threatened by the sheriff. Friends of the oil man said a bottle of whiskey which was broken when the officers put the man in the car, was prescription whiskey and that the possession charge, if filed by the sheriff, would not stand up.

"When people resist arrest and get out on the streets where everybody can see them and openly defy the law, I am going to arrest them, no matter how prominent they are," Sheriff Murphy commented on the case Wednesday afternoon.

FOUR DIVORCES GRANTED BY COURT

Four divorces and a marriage annulment were granted by Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court Wednesday as follows:

Freda Garmany against I. J. Garmany, divorce.

M. V. Humphreys against L. D. Humphreys, divorce.

N. A. Kuykendall against Winifred Kuykendall, divorce.

Robert Roberts against Eva Roberts, divorce.

Clara Nictas against George Nictas, marriage annulled.

HASTY CHANGES IN GRANDSTAND

The grand stand at the Texas-Oklahoma fair was the scene of some fast carpentry work yesterday, when squads of workers made some necessary change in the stage and seating arrangements. The work was hurried, and was completed in time for the holding of the regular afternoon's events at two thirty.

The players stage, where the hippodrome acts are enacted, was raised during the morning to a height even with the top of the reserved seat boxes, giving a better view from all parts of the grand stand. The first stage was set low, and some trouble was found with the vision when the stands were full, and the change was ordered to correct the fault.

Tops have been erected over the greater part of the reserved boxes, with frame over which canvas shades are stretched to protect the race fans from the heat of the afternoon sun.

It is thought that with the difficulties corrected there will be no further need of remodeling. The new grand stand, built of steel with wooden seats, is one of the most modern in the southwest, and has a seating capacity of eight thousand.

Joe Thomas' sax-o-tette is conceded to be not only the cleverest of the many good acts among the free attractions that appear before the grandstand at the fair but the best musical act of its kind on the road. The group is well known as Edison artists and have made numerous records for smaller producers.

The performers appear in black and white satin Pierrot costumes and the comedian differs from the others in that he is short and plump, and his coat tail flares out at a saucy angle. In the first part of the act, the five men play an original medley on trumpets in full harmony. Their ensemble work is remarkable and they demonstrate it quite humorously when the comedian intersperses long holds with short staccato surprises and pluriks out of the air. The medley has been very cleverly arranged by M. L. Lake and includes old tunes, grave tunes, light jazz numbers, and real music like "La Boheme" and "Pilgrim's chorus."

The group discards the trumpets for saxophones of various sizes in the latter half of the performance and the little comedian plays the biggest instrument of all. With some attractive dance steps and formation, and a clever bit of comedy byplay in the form of a saxophone argument between the saxophone soloist and the comedian, a medley is played which includes "Song of India," "Valse Erica," "Bambalina," "Angel Child," and "Russian Rag," a jazz take-off of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C sharp minor."

Joe Thomas, manager of the act, is a saxophone soloist of national note and prior to organizing the Sax-o-tette played a season with "Chautauqua" and a season on the Hippodrome as a soloist. He is a personal friend of Rudy Wiedoft, the king of saxophone players, who composed "Valse Erica" which Mr. Thomas plays.

Archie Nicholson, the comedian "makes" the act with his unique comedy work, and his skill in handling the musicians in the group. His idiotic little laugh has made him famous.

Walter Glebe is a saxophone player who has made a name for himself in Canada where his appearance is enthusiastically greeted. The Prince of Wales personally complimented him on his performance when he was playing in Winnipeg, Canada. Other members of the troupe are Jep King and Abe S. McCaw, both artists of highest ability.

The Sax-o-tette has been touring for three years over the Keith, Orpheum, and Pantages circuits in the winter, and with fairs in the summer. Their tours has taken them all over the United States and Canada, and they are leaving this country soon for a tour of Mexico.

BACK TAXES HAVE BEGUN COMING

An example of how the efforts of county taxes due since 1885 is reacting compiling a list of delinquent Wichita county taxes due since 1885 is reacting to the benefit of the county already was shown yesterday when $3,700 of the back taxes were paid and helped the Fairview independent school district to continue its school program the remainder of the year.

The compilation of the delinquent taxes showed that three oil men who formerly lived here still owned more than $1,000 each of delinquent taxes. The county tax collectors wrote these men and the compilation made him able to submit exact figures. The three came in Wednesday and paid in a total of $3,700 back tax moneys.

Of the $3,700 the Fairview independent school district will receive $1,000. The Fairview school has just this year secured affiliation with the state university and changed from a rural to a district school. Funds were needed badly to put over a new regime in the school. The payment of the back taxes was from lands in the Fairview district and the $1,000 came just in time to aid this school.

LOCAL SCOUTS MAY SEND OUT TEAM

Just before his departure for New Braunfels, to attend the scout executive conference, our Scout Executive Frank B. Creighton stated that while he is in Fort Worth he will endeavor to make arrangements for Wichita Falls to send a team to Fort Worth during the Diamond Jubilee of that city in early part of November. The events to be contests will be same as those held here Monday during the field day events.

Boy scouts handled the extra large crowd of Tuesday without any trouble. The boys have asked that when those attending the afternoon session are seated that they stay where they are put, the moving from places where coupons call for, causes double work on part of the scouts and cause a little confusion, and to help the boys, they are asking the co-operation of those attending the afternoon races.

Two Oil Suits Settled.

Two oil suits for debt were heard by Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court Wednesday, the first being the case of F. A. Lover against Oriole Oil company in which plaintiff was awarded judgment in the amount of $5,500.

In the case of Reese and Simmons against Texas Crude Syndicate and Oil company, judgment of $1,500 was awarded plaintiffs.
