AT PARENTS' STUDY COURSE

'Manners' Get Going Over

Taking their cue from the evening's topic, "Manners" participants in a Monday night meeting of We The Parents were led in a quiet, orderly discussion by Mrs. Basil Johns.

Members of the panel for this third session of the study course were Andrew Stroebel, city attorney; Johnny Clark Jr., school superintendent; Randy Reynolds and Cherri Dorris, junior high students.

Stroebel spoke on respect for property, stressing the part that manners play in daily living. He noted that everyone has an obligation toward his fellowman and added that this influences children.

"If I disregard courtesy on property, stressing the part that manners play in daily living. He noted that everyone has an obligation toward his fellowman and added that this influences children.

the highway with my 7-year-old boy along, what can I expect of him?" he asked.

He said that adults set the examples for children and they follow in their steps.

Stroebel concluded by praising Olton and saying he feels it is generally a friendly, courteous town.

Second speaker was Clark, who spoke on rules and respect for authority.

He cited an example of changing times by saying parents now want to know if their children like their teachers.

"My pappy," he said, "wanted to know if the teacher liked me."

He went on to say that parents today sometimes don't want their children to "go through what we did."

Clark then asked the question: "Why? Don't we want them to learn responsibility?"

Saying that a lot of problems today are not "teenage" but "parental," he noted that it is not difficult in school to find students who are taught respect and discipline at home.

"If students haven't learned respect and discipline by the time they come to school, they're a problem throughout school," Clark added.

"Most of our basic behavior patterns are formed before we start to school."

He said that parents must be firm and positive but not dictatorial.

"Parental attitude and parental background play the greatest role in discipline in school," the superintendent concluded.

The two junior high students spoke primarily on proper use of the telephone and obligations as guests or hosts.

Asked about use of the telephone, Cherri said she doesn't think children under school age should be allowed to use the telephone, telephone calls for older children should be limited and she saw no "great need" for children having their own phones.

She also said that girls should avoid calling boys "most of the time."

Fourth session will be held Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria and will concern driving and dating.

Speaker will be Dr. N. E. West, head of the department of psychology at Wayland Baptist College.

Dr. North E. West, head of the department of psychology at Wayland Baptist College, will speak at the fourth session of We The Parents, Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Topic for the meeting is "Dating and Driving".

Dr. West did extensive research and work in parapsychology during the summers of 1962 and 1963 under the foremost authority, Dr. J. B. Rhine at Duke University, Durham, N. C.

He especially worked in laboratory procedures essential to parapsychological research in extrasensory perception, telepathy, clairvoyance and thought transference.

Dr. West has worked with Dr. Rhine to develop a standard test that will measure attitudes toward parapsychological research.

Dr. West's articles, the most recent of which appeared in southern Baptist Educator, have been published in a variety of publications.

He holds membership in American Psychological Association and the Southwestern Psychological Association and has been chosen for lifetime membership in the national psychology fraternity, Psi Chi.

In addition to his teaching duties at Wayland, Dr. West serves as director of research in parapsychology.

His Ed. D. and M. Ed. were earned at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, and the A. B. degree cum laude at Battle Creek College, Battle Creek, Mich. The M. R. E. and the B. D. were awarded by Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Dr. West has served as guidance and research assistant in psychology at the University of Arkansas and has taught in public schools in Michigan and Arkansas.

While in the service, he served as army chaplain with a tour of duty in Europe. He has also worked with the United States Office of Education.

In Lamb County, according to the Commerce Department's latest "Census of Government," property taxes now account for 68.6 percent of all revenue raised in the county.

By way of comparison, in other communities throughout the United States, the amount obtained from property taxes averages 69.0 percent of the total. In the State of Texas it is 55.0 percent.

Although the property tax has declined in relative importance in recent years, it is still the mainstay of most local governments.

The survey shows that a wide variation exists in the size of property taxes levied in different parts of the country.

For residents of Lamb County, the per capita cost is $70.47 per year.

Elsewhere in Texas, it averages $83.17. On the national level, it amounts to $99.09 per capita.

Three Are In Race For School Trustee

Kemp Won't Run 'Because Of Press'

Same song, another verse. Once again, with filing deadline near, the City of Olton is looking for candidates for positions on the city council. No one has filed.

At least one incumbent councilman will not seek re-election this year.

Bill Kemp, who is completing his first term on the council, told the Enterprise he won't run for re-election "because of the press."

"Everything is exaggerated to the point that people get the idea we're having a knock-down-dragout every time we have a discussion about here."

Kemp said he thought the news reports of the council meetings may be keeping a lot of people from running for city office.

Back Taxes City Target

Collection of delinquent taxes through a special attorney and through court suits, if necessary, was authorized by Olton city council at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The council approved plans to contact a tax attorney for the project. The procedure was recommended by City Attorney Andrew Stroebel.

"It's simply not fair to those who pay to let others ride for years," said Councilman Doug Jones, who made the motion to get outside help.

Estimates on delinquent taxes owed the city ranged as high as $12,000 to $14,000, although no official figure was given.

City secretary Berniece Smith reported that tax collections for the past year were about five per cent short of the collections for the year before at the same time, Feb. 1.

In other activity, the council:

1. Authorized investigation of the possibility of getting group hospitalization insurance for city employees, at the suggestion of Councilman Robert Dennis.
2. Approved an application for a license to operate a domino hall by E. M. Hasha, subject to regulations outlined in a city ordinance.
3. Dropped collision insurance on a pair of the city's older vehicles, including a 1955 dump truck and a station wagon used by the fire department.

Dr. Lynn Fite To Return Here; Bizzell's Moves

Dr. Lynn Fite of Nederland, a former resident of this community, has announced plans to return to Olton.

Dr. Fite and his family plan to move back here this weekend. He will, within the next few weeks, open his office in the building formerly occupied by Bizzell's.

Bizzell's has moved to the building formerly occupied by the House of Flowers.

Property Taxes In Lamb Compared

How large are property taxes in Lamb County compared with what they are in other places in the United States?

How much of the local revenue is obtained from property taxes?

The subject of local taxes and operating costs have become matters of major importance in cities and counties all over the country. Many communities are in financial plights and are desperately seeking new ways of raising cash.

In some localities, certain types of taxes that were suggested in previous years and were turned down as being inappropriate, are now being re-considered.

In Lamb County, according to the Commerce Department's latest "Census of Government," property taxes now ac-

Two Posts To Be Filled

Two farmers and a carpenter, all life-long residents of Olton, announced this week they will seek posts on the school board.

Elmer McGill, Joe Hall and John Norfleet will vie for the two seats to be filled on the board in the annual trustee election April 3.

Terms of board members Fred Hicks and Roy Roberts will expire. Both have indicated they will not seek re-election. Deadline for filing is March 3.

McGill said Wednesday he is seeking a seat on the board because several people have asked him to and he feels it is his duty.

"As long as we've got a good school system like we have here, I think we should keep it that way," McGill said.

McGill, a farmer, has lived in Olton all his life and is a member of the Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Doris, have four children, Jane, 8, Karen, 6, and Darrell and David, 10-year old twin boys.

He has served as a director on the Co-Op Gin board and a director of the Co-Op Mill, has been president and a director of Farmer's Gin, Inc., has been a director on the REA board, has been president and is now a director of Farm Bureau.

Hall, a carpenter, is a native of Olton and attends the First Baptist Church.

He is a member of the board of directors at Olton Recreation Center and active in the Quarterback Club.

Hall said he is running for the school board position because he feels "it is a responsibility that every person has."

He and his wife, Betty Jo, have two children, Connie, 12 and D'Lynne, 8.

Norfleet, a farmer, has been a resident of Olton all of his life and is a member of Valley View Baptist Church.

"I have no bones to pick," he said, "I'm just interested in our school and will do the best I can if elected."

He and his wife, Rosemary, have four children, Kathie, 14; Cynthia, 9, David, 12, and Nancy 3.

F. HOLLINGSWORTH

F. Hollingsworth Taken By Death

F. (Lefty) Hollingsworth, 60, former Olton mayor, died about 1 a.m. today at Medical Center Hospital, Plainview, apparently of a heart attack.

The body of the long-time Olton resident is at Lemons Funeral Home, Plainview, services are pending.

A physician told the Enterprise an autopsy was being performed this morning to determine exactly the cause of death. Preliminary information indicated a heart attack.

Hollingsworth suffered an attack about 10 days ago and was hospitalized. He returned home last week, however, and resumed his work at the Tasty Cream, which he owned and operated.

He returned to the hospital Wednesday afternoon and died early this morning.

Hollingsworth's name has been connected closely with Olton and Lamb County politics for almost 25 years.

He served on the Olton city council from 1941 to 1944 and on the school board from 1944 to 1947, serving as president of that group.

He was elected mayor in 1949 and held office for six years.

Hollingsworth was re-elected to the position in 1960, but was in office only a month before being stricken by a heart attack.

He attended the Presbyterian Church here.

Survivors include his wife, Lois, and two daughters, June Gullett of Olton and Lou Ann Britton of Earth; and six grandchildren.

Registration Set Feb. 25

First grade school registration for children who will be 6 years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1965 has been set Feb. 25 in the lobby of H. P. Webb Elementary School.

Registration may be made any time between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. A birth certificate will be required for each child registered.

Fred Gordon, principal, explained that the registration is necessary to determine the number of teachers need for the next school year.

Students of all Olton schools will be pre-registered this year and, under a new school board ruling, will be required to attend the school at which they register during the entire 1965-66 school year.

'65 Feed Grain Signup Begins

Signup for the 1965 feed grain program now is under way in the ASCS county office.

Signup period started Feb. 8 and will continue through March 26.

Program for 1965 is basically the same as in 1964. It is voluntary, and combines corn, grain sorghum, and barley in a single feed grain base. Participating farmers will qualify for diverted-acre and price-support payments, and they will be eligible for price-support loans.

Farmers who take part in the program may divert for payment as small an acreage as 20 percent of the farm's feed grain base or as large an acreage as 50 percent of the base--or 25 acres, if this is larger.

Two rates of diversion payment are offered. The lower rate applies to the first 20 percent of the feed grain base actually diverted. The higher rate applies to diverted acreage in excess of the minimum. If both the intended diversion and the acreage actually diverted are equal to at least 40 percent of the base, the higher rate applies to the entire acreage diverted.

New provisions in the 1965 program include:

- (1) An opportunity to substitute feed grains for wheat or wheat for feed grains by growers who take part in both programs;

(2) A special provision for designated varieties of maturing barley.

Under certain circumstances, producers may apply to over plant their barley base acreage by 10 percent. A producer electing this option will be eligible for the full count barley support rate, based on a national average of 96 cents per bushel, but he will not be eligible for barley diversion or price-support payment.

Nazareth, Anton To Meet Here In Bi-District

Nazareth, District 5B champion, and Anton, District 6B champion, will battle it out here Monday Feb. 22 in bi-district contest.

The game is set 7:30 p.m. in the Olton school gym with admission $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Both Nazareth and Anton also won district last year but did not meet in bi-district.

Neither team has lost a district game this year.

Story Of Our Times

This week, elsewhere in this issue, a group of Olton merchants are running an advertisement or notice about the proper use of the charge account.

To us, this seems a sad commentary on our times.

We honestly feel that most people are familiar with the charge account and know how it is supposed to be used.

That it is being grossly misused is obvious from the fact that the ad is necessary in the first place.

A charge account was never meant to be a financing arrangement.

It is merely a convenience that the merchant offers his customer to enable him to pay for all purchases in a month with a single check or payment.

When the customer does not pay -- often for months at a time -- the merchant is in a very difficult position.

He does not want to offend his customers. On the other hand, he must continue to operate and being in business, must pay all of his bills by the tenth of every month.

The merchant is not in the loan business. He does not charge interest.

But he may have to go to the bank and get a loan for himself -- and pay the full interest rate -- in order that someone else may use his money free-of-charge.

Some of us may feel that our small account will make little difference. But when you add a lot of small accounts together, they can spell serious difficulty for a merchant whose only "crime" was in having faith in his customers.

Most will agree that this is not "right." The sad part of it is that it doesn't seem to matter so much today to many people what is right or wrong.

At one time or another, all of us have probably been guilty of this attitude in some situation.

Probably the most familiar example of the "borderline" decision is in connection with the income tax. Unfortunately, there seems to be a carry-over into almost all phases of our life today.

It's what we can get away with that really counts. Or is it?

Boy Scout Week

This week is being celebrated as Boy Scout week throughout the nation and we would like to extend our congratulations to the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Olton, along with their deserving leaders.

These groups are doing outstanding work here and we feel they are due recognition.

There is no question but that Scouting makes a constructive difference in the life of a boy and one of their best current activities is the Strengthen American's Heritage program.

We can all be grateful to the Scouts for the character building, citizenship training and physical fitness program that the organization is providing for our youth.

'Yesteryear' Look Forecast For Spring By Local Buyers

BY ROSE SCHENCK
ENTERPRISE SOCIETY EDITOR

Fashions '65, according to buyers from Olton, will have the soft antique look of yesteryear.

The predominate color will be yellow, followed on the scene with lime-green, orange and the old favorites of pink and blue. Hemlines will stay the same and the straight line will still be very fashionable.

Fabrics for the two and three-piece dress suits will be in the soft blends with muted plaids, stripes and tweeds with handkerchief linen and piqued blouses.

Hats will play a great part in the ensembles with high crowns and large brims. The bulky crown toque of embroidery or cord will certainly have the spring look.

Handbags will be very large and the pastel straws will be most popular.

Jewelry will enhance the antique look with delicate beads and stones and enameled flower shaped pins. The hanging necklace pendant is still very vogue.

In casual wear, seersucker will dominate the scene. The cotton, dacron, and polyester knit will be still very much in the picture.

Sportswear of stretch fabrics are more popular than ever. The sleeveless, collarless dress in coming into view. For more casual wear, the nautical look is here, not only in style but color.

Swimwear in both the one-piece and two-piece are here to stay. The materials used will be fish netting, sweater fabrics and cotton.

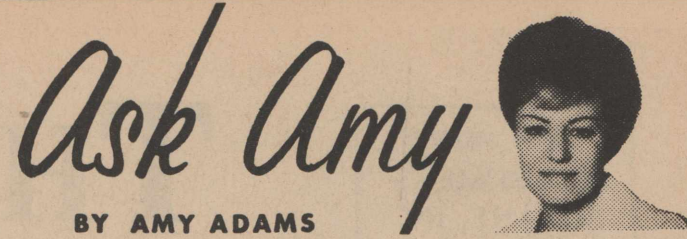

In the men's departments, the three-button coat still is tops in popularity.

The seasonal look is being carried into men's clothes with the no-button shirt, long-shirt tails, and button down collars in stripes and madras plaids.

Lighter shades will dominate the scene with iridescent features.

Pants are being made plainer in permanent pleats in dacron and wool blends.

The Shirt Jacs continue to gain in sportswear in stripes and denim weaves. Casual pants in the no-iron blends show traditional styling of the plain front with belt loops in the light and medium colors.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

We have a couple that comes over to our house nearly every Saturday. She'll say, "Are we in time for supper?" They do this every time. Late at night, we prepare something to eat (sandwiches, coffee, and pie), and in between time we serve a soft drink and chips. They also come over during the week. She says to her husband, "Well come on, honey, this isn't Saturday night." She invites us to come over to her place, but they come over so early that we don't have a chance to get out of the door.

When we do get the chance to come over, she'll set her table with chipped cups, dishes and old silverware. She has other nice dishes and silverware but doesn't put them out. Why does she do this to me? What can I say to her and not hurt her feelings?

A Friend

Dear Friend:

If you want your hospitality reciprocated, call this couple Saturday morning and tell THEM what time you and your husband will be over. Then they can't beat you to it. And if you really liked these people and enjoyed their company, you wouldn't care about the condition of their dishes and silverware. I'd rather break bread on a chipped dish with a true friend than eat cake on a perfect plate with a false one!

Dear Amy:

I am a married man without children of my own as yet, but some of our friends do have children. When these friends visit us, frequently their children are in danger while crawling about the other rooms of my apartment. How can I lessen the danger to their children without offending the parents? I have considered purchasing a play pen, but the idea sounds offensive.

Perplexed

Dear Perplexed:

It seems that the people who should be concerned about the welfare of their children are not. Since you are concerned about their safety, I see nothing wrong in either closing or locking the doors to the adjoining rooms in your apartment. If your friends find your actions offensive they should leave their children at home.

To go to the expense of buying a play pen seems unnecessary to me.

Dear Amy:

The person who signed herself "Unfortunate" sure doesn't know the meaning of morality. This woman must be one big slob and certainly is a disgrace to womanhood. This beast calls herself a wife and mother! Some people would give their lives to have children of their own and would be proud, decent parents. But instead, this beast was blessed with children. Oh, what a pity!

Tell this uneducated feline to go to the veterinarian. Maybe he could help her. Dogs run wild--she should run with them.

Mrs. F. Erhardt
(Downers Grove, Ill.)

Dear Amy:

Couldn't help but give an answer to the female who signs herself "Unfortunate." She sounds like an immature moron, one who is working at a job looking for a cheap thrill. How she can write a public letter like that one and have the gall to say she neither feels guilty nor dirty is beyond me.

What happens to her children, or doesn't she care? This illicit love affair can mar a child's mind for life. Tell this "lady" to stay home and make a home for her children and husband... if they will have her.

A Nurse, Wife & Mother, too.

Dear Readers:

To those who wrote me opposing my suggestion concerning Halloween and UNICEF and quoting Pastor McIntire's views as their own, you may be surprised to know that Carl McIntire and I are neighbors. I am well aware of his work, but we do not see eye to eye on quite a few issues. UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) is one of them.

If you choose to follow his beliefs, that's your business. I do not.

NOTICE

The "open account", or charge account method of selling was started many years ago, as an accomodation to both seller and buyer, in order that several invoices might be handled in one settlement. Customary terms being payment due on or before the tenth of the month following date of purchase.

This method was designed as a way to simplify the handling of accounts, and was never intended to be a financing arrangement. Most of our suppliers furnish merchandise on open account, due and payable on or before the tenth of the month following date of purchase, and our ability to meet these terms depends on your willingness to settle your accounts by the customary time.

Many of our customers pay open accounts on or before due date and we express our gratitude to you, and respectfully request that those who do not pay by due date, make arrangements to do so, in order that we may do likewise with our sources of supply, as they must be paid as agreed.

Olton Cagers Win Two

Olton basketballers closed out their season with a pair of wins over Lockney here Tuesday night, the Mustangs winning their game 51-50 and the Fillies taking a 61-55 decision.

The victory by the Ponies placed them in a tie for the cellar with Lockney, each with 1-9 records in District 3-AA action. For the year, the Mustangs were 11-14.

The Fillies closed their year with a record of 3-7 in district action, placing them fifth, and a mark of 10-16 for the season.

In action last Friday night, both Olton teams fell to Friona, the district champions. The Mustangs were beaten, 61-40 and the Fillies lost, 53-40.

Against Lockney, the Ponies had to come from behind, turn 28-23 halftime deficit into a 38-36 lead at the end of three quarters. Joe Priest led the scorers with 18 points, while Jerry LaFrance tossed in 15, Dennis Givens seven, Charles Church six and Darrell Glover four. Bob Kropp led Lockney with 16.

In the Friona game, the Mustangs fell behind by 26-18 at the half and Friona widened the margin in the fourth period. Church led scorers with 12, while LaFrance and Glover each picked up eight and Priest and Givens each had six. Larry Buckley and Dale Milner led Friona with 17 and 16, respectively.

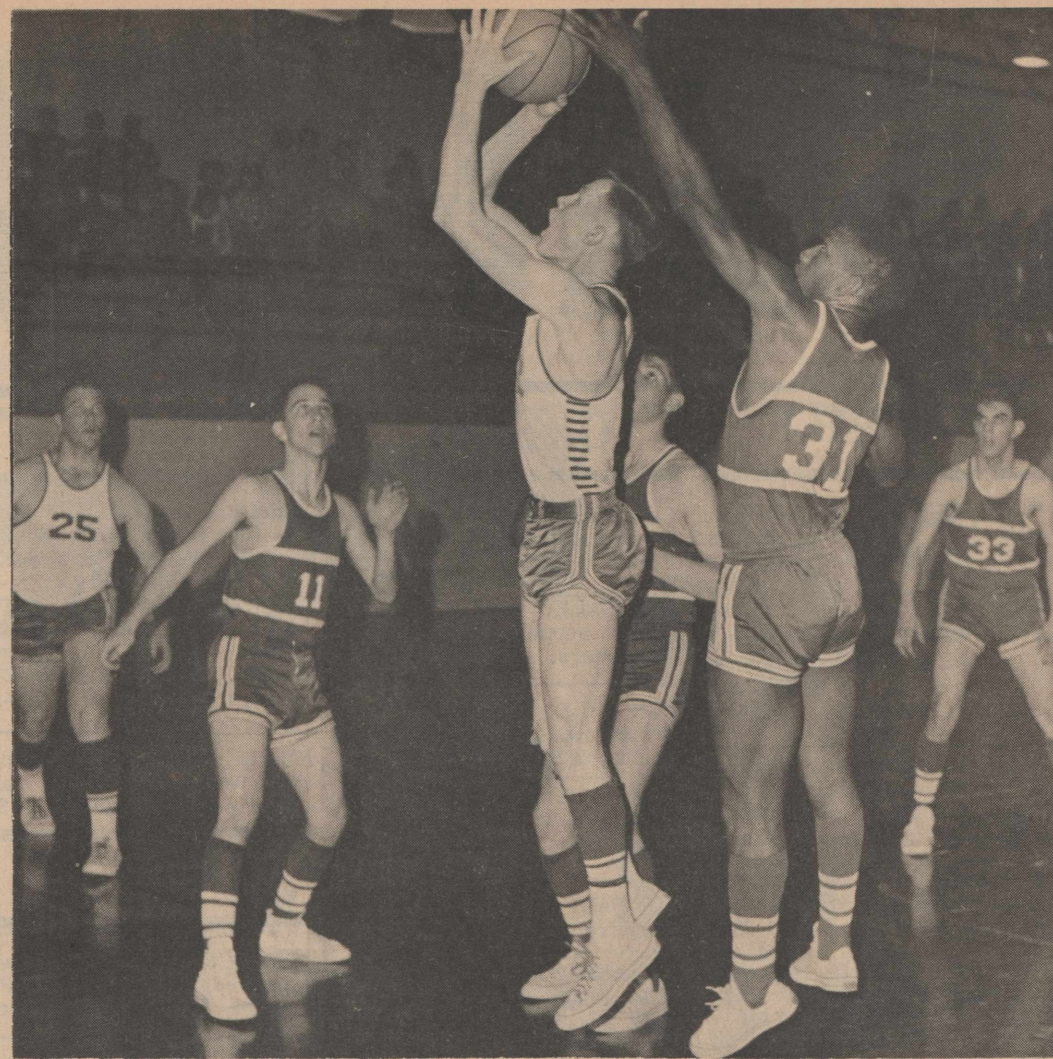

The Fillies took a 29-24 lead at the half and maintained it the rest of the way against Lockney's fens.

Sherry Caddell led Olton scorers with 29, while Karen Hipp had 23, Susan Norfleet five and Brenda Kirkpatrick four.

Kathie Kidd was the top defensive player with six rebounds while Renay Berry had three and Laura Akin two.

Against the Friona girls, the Fillies took an early lead but fell behind 24-22 at the half. Caddell had 21 points, Hipp 13 and Norfleet six.

Berry led the rebounders with nine, while Akin had five and Kidd two.

CHARLES CHURCH fires for two points as the Mustangs close out their season with a 51-50 victory over Lockney. The Mustangs won 11, lost 14 for the year.

County Savings On Rise; Last Year Hit $1,906,000

Residents of Lamb County are apparently living well within their means.

Despite the fact that they have been spending their money at a faster clip than usual, they have been able to set aside a record amount for rainy-day cash.

On the average, local families saved approximately $5 out of every $100 of net income last year.

Evidence of their financial stability is to be seen in the favorable gap that exists between family income and family expenditures and in the growth of bank deposits and savings and loan accounts.

Also considered as savings, under Department of Commerce definition, are stock investments, the cash value of life insurance policies and reserves accumulated in pension funds.

The savings sizeup, locally, is based upon national data gathered by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and by other Federal agencies and upon income figures for each area of the country.

They show that the amount a family saves depends primarily on how much it has left after paying its bills for the necessities.

Those with after-tax incomes of $2,800 or less were not able to save anything. Those with $4,500 put aside 4.2 percent of it, on average. Savings rates rose rapidly beyond that level.

In Lamb County, where net, after-tax income averaged $5,492 per family in the past fiscal year, savings were at the estimated rate of 5 percent. It amounted to approximately $275 per family. Assumed is that the rate of saving locally, at each income state, corresponds to that in the nation generally.

Taking into account the entire county population, the overall savings in the course of the year were in the neighborhood of $1,906,000. This sum, added to the amounts that were stowed away in previous years, represents a huge reservoir of purchasing power.

The reports show that personal savings in the United States during 1964 topped $30 billion for the first time in history. The one-year increase was close to $2.5 billion.

BEEF IMPORT MEASURE INTRODUCED -- A plan to discourage the purchase of imported beef by Texans was laid out by Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

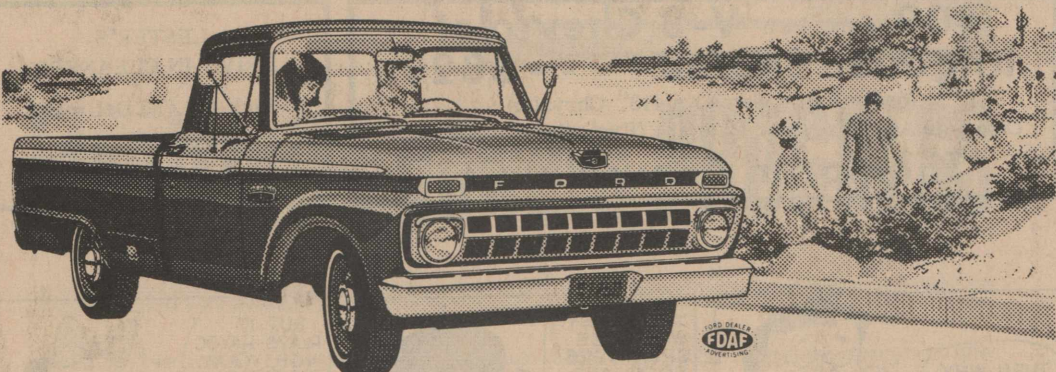

His proposal would make it illegal -- subject to fines up to $500 and a jail sentence -- to sell imported meat, unless the grocer displays a sign six by twelve inches large, with the words, "Imported Meat Sold Here," and labels packaged meat, "Product of . . ." stating country of origin.

Jean Johnson Attends Inaugural

Jean Johnson of Lubbock, former resident of Olton and one of those who attended the inauguration of President Lyndon B. Johnson, was featured in an article last week in The Lubbock Sunday Sun.

Jean left Lubbock Jan. 16 for Washington, D. C. and says, "From a sunny day in Lubbock, we were transported to an extremely snowy Washington day."

She stayed at the Shorum Hotel and dined that night in the Blue Room.

Monday Jan. 18, she attended a reception for Senator Ralph Yarborough and the next day, Congressman George Mahon asked a group of 12, including Mrs. Johnson, for lunch and a guided tour of the Senate.

Monday afternoon, she attended a reception for the Distinguished Ladies, where she noted Perle Mesta wore a gold and black cocktail suit and black hat.

Wednesday morning's highlight before the Inaugural was the church services at the National City Christian Church with the Rev. Billy Graham as speaker.

The night of the big "Gala" was in the "magnificently decorated" ballroom at the Armory.

Topdressing For Wheat Discussed By Agronomist

BY W. F. "BILL" BENNETT
 AGRONOMIST

Wheat topdressing time is just around the corner. This week I am listing some guidelines on need, rates, sources and time of application.

Whether nitrogen topdressing is needed will depend on the amount of ammonia applied last fall and whether the wheat has been grazed. A general rule of thumb on rate is a total of around 80# N per acre on ungrazed wheat for moderate yields. This means that if 100# yields, where grazing is done, a total of about 120# N is needed for moderate yields. This means that if 100# ammonia were applied prior to seeding, additional nitrogen would not be needed if the wheat was not grazed. If wheat were grazed, an additional 40# N should be topdressed. If growth of wheat was exceptionally good and if grazed heavily, a higher rate could be profitably used. Or if you are shooting for higher yields, say 50 to 60 bushels, more topdressed nitrogen should be profitable.

There are several sources of nitrogen available. Commonly used sources are ammonium nitrate, ammonium sulphate, urea, nitrogen solutions and ammonium nitrate-phosphate (30-10-0). Applicators are now available for applying ammonia without hurting the wheat. Any one of these sources are satisfactory. Ammonium nitrate will give the quickest response because of the nitrate form. Most nitrogen solutions contain some nitrate nitrogen and some urea nitrogen. Slight losses of nitrogen can occur from urea under certain conditions. I'll discuss this and other nitrogen losses next week. The 30-10-0 is a good source where phosphorus might be needed.

Time of application will depend on our season. One guideline is that nitrogen topdressing should be done by the time plants start to joint in the spring. It can be applied any time if wheat is not grazed or after cattle are removed. A general deadline for nitrogen topdressing is March 1. It is still possible to topdress after March 1 but only under special conditions.

The low price of wheat will cause many to have a question about profits from topdressing wheat. The answer to profits obviously depends on need for nitrogen and increases in yield. If needed, 40 to 50# N can give an extra 6 to 12 bushels. This is a good return. If you can afford to grow wheat, you can afford to topdress nitrogen if sufficient ammonia was not applied last fall.

DISTILLED SPIRITS BILL--
 A measure which sponsors say will raise $10,000,000 in tax money for the State, during the next two years, has hit the legislative hopper. It is not liquor by the drink bill. But it would make available to people dining in Texas restaurants tiny, 2-ounce (or less) bottles of distilled spirits.

Bill calls for an annual license fee of $500 from each restaurant providing the service. Sponsors claim it will encourage tourism while at the same time will not permit open bars.

Electricity powers PROGRESS

This is National Electrical Week, marking the 118th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. ■ It was Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp that gave birth to an industry that now employs more than three million men and women, or 1 out of every 20 American workers. ■ Almost every industry owes its progress to the power produced by electricity for, truly, electricity powers progress. ■ ■ ■ ■

The State Board of Insurance has announced reductions in the fire insurance premium key rate for Olton.

The key rate represents the basic premium for $100 of fire insurance and is determined through a system of charges and credits applied after the state agency checks on a city's fire hazards, protective equipment and other factors.

No window post.
No floor hump.
No radiator.
No power steering.
No power brakes.

(Some of the things you don't get in a Corvair are among your best reasons for buying it.)

Corvair by Chevrolet

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin—what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling—with curved frameless side windows—in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator—the engine's air-cooled—also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure—with no nosediving.
