

Churchill Thanks United States For Bill Passage Amid Cheers

British Premier Reads Statement Before Commons

U. S. Military Mission In Gallery Hears Chief Give British Gratitude

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 12.—Prime Minister Churchill formally thanked the United States today for passage of the British aid bill, which he termed a "new magna carta... an inspiring act of faith."

With a United States military mission in the gallery—he later received the Americans in a private room—Churchill solemnly read the following statement to the House of Commons:

"The lease and lend bill, as the House is aware, became law yesterday when it received immediately the signature of the President (cheers)."

"I am sure the House would wish me to express, on their behalf and on behalf of the nation, our deep and respectful appreciation of this movement of generous and far seeing statesmanship (loud cheers)."

Loud Cheers At End

"The most powerful Democracy has, in effect, declared in solemn statute that they will devote their overwhelming industrial and financial strength to ensuring the defeat of Nazism in order that nations, great and small, may live in security, tolerance and freedom (cheers)."

"By so doing the government and the people of the United States have, in fact, written a new magna carta which not only has regard to the rights and laws upon which a healthy and advancing civilization can alone be erected but also proclaims by precept and example the duty of free men and free nations, wherever they may be, to share the responsibility and burden of enforcing them."

Noisy cheers marked the close of Churchill's statement. Although the floor of Commons was filled there were only eight men in the gallery—members of the United States army were here to coordinate American-British air plans. They were in uniforms.

Turkish Police Probe Explosion

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 12.—(AP)—Turkish police and military authorities declared today they were searching for "Balkan bomb ring" which believed behind an attempt to assassinate George W. Rendel, British minister who left German-occupied Bulgaria.

Four persons were killed and upwards of 20 injured last night, but Rendel escaped narrowly when a bomb exploded in the lobby of the Pera Hotel, where the British diplomat had brought his party from Sofia by train only a few minutes before.

Investigators who indicated they foresaw possible "serious diplomatic repercussions" from the bombing examined passengers on all trains, searched baggage compartments and closely questioned all persons wishing to leave Istanbul for Bulgaria.

Motor 'Just Came Apart Inside,' George Lands Safely With Passengers

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 12.—(AP)—Pilot George McEntire, Midland, Texas, who said the motor of his plane "just came apart inside," landed the ship 25 miles northwest of here yesterday and he and two passengers escaped injury.

McEntire was taking Carl Preston, Yucca, Ariz., and Carl Murchison, Tex., on a trip from Kingman, Ariz., to San Angelo, Tex. He was flying a Beaufort plane.

"The engine went to pieces outside of Phoenix and we lost the crankshaft and the propeller," McEntire said, adding that "it was lucky we were over a field where I could make a landing."

LaGuardia Sees End To New York Bus Trouble

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Hopes for possible settlement of a three-day-old bus strike which has immobilized 95 per cent of Manhattan's surface transportation grew today when Mayor LaGuardia announced that the opposing factions had agreed to meet with him this afternoon.

His announcement came after a brief talk with Allan S. Haywood, National CIO organizer who came here last night from Washington.

The Dies committee said in a statement last night that Communist leadership in the Transport Workers Union was responsible for an "utterly unreasonable attitude of the union leader" directing the strike.

Noted Archaeologist

R. M. P. Burnet, of Carlsbad, N. M., widely-known archaeologist, will speak to the Midland Geological Society at its luncheon meeting tomorrow in the Crawford Hotel and to Midland Town Hall tomorrow evening.

First Draftees Of County Will Have Patriotic Program

Midland County's first draftees of selective service who will leave March 16 for an induction center at El Paso, will be honored at a patriotic sendoff meeting at 3 p. m. Sunday in the district courtroom.

The sponsor of the program is the Woods W. Lynch Post 19 of the American Legion.

James H. Goodman, J. F. Friberg, I. J. Prager, and T. S. Steele are a committee to plan the program.

Legionnaires and draftees will meet at the draft board office at 2:45 p. m. that day, before going to the program.

100 Attendants At Prairie Lee

One hundred persons attended a community meeting at Prairie Lee last night to see sound films and discuss agriculture.

The films were shown through the courtesy of the State Health Department. Dr. Seth Kellam, new Midland city-county health director, and Dr. W. A. Buckner, of the State Health Department's mobile unit, attended the meeting.

Votes Dog Program

The community voted to seek a countywide prairie dog eradication program. A demonstration of the smut treatment of seed was announced for early in April at W. E. Richman's farm.

Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, discussed the mattress-making program.

Films depicted agriculture's place in national defense, County Agent V. G. Young, said.

Dr. Kellam Speaks Over Radio On Disease Control

Dr. Seth Kellam, director of the Midland city-county health unit, in a radio address today discussed "Contagious Disease Control."

He outlined ways parents could care for children in preventing spread of contagious diseases, and urged citizens to report contagious diseases.

A health film—"Let My People Live"—with negro actors, will be shown at the negro school house tonight. It depicts combating tuberculosis.

Axis Raiders Kill 18 Persons On Malta

VALLETTA, Malta, March 12.—(AP)—Three air raid alarms were sounded in Valletta today following a violent night attack which killed 18 persons. Nineteen others were injured when the axis raiders flew over in bright moonlight.

Defense Committee To Probe Production Contracts

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—A special Senate committee organized today for a sweeping inquiry into the national defense program, scheduling an immediate investigation of the state of production contracts.

Italians Capture British Position In Eritrea

ROME, March 12.—(AP)—Italian troops were reported today by the Fascist high command to have captured a British position in the Cheren sector of Eritrea, "putting the garrison to flight."

Saydam Talks War With Political Party

ANKARA, Turkey, March 12.—(AP)—Premier Refik Saydam, speaking for nearly two hours, told Turkey's single political party today of the nation's attitude toward the German occupation of Bulgaria. Details of his speech were not immediately available, but political quarters said party members unanimously approved the government's policy.

Legislators Pass 'Isms' Measure To Final Reading

AUSTIN, March 12.—(AP)—A Senate bill designed to provide additional safeguards against the teaching of foreign "isms" was speedily passed to final reading by the House today after being drastically revised.

As approved by the House, the bill simply would force Texas public school teachers to take the same oath of office as required of state officials. The original measure, introduced by Clem Fain of Livingston, chairman of the Senate committee on un-American activities, stipulated a special oath of allegiance for teachers.

The Senate passed and sent Governor W. Lee O'Daniel a bill extending for two years Texas' participation in the Interstate Oil Compact.

The highly controversial motor truck load limit issue was before the Senate for another round of long debate. The House had passed a load limit increase measure to final reading on the same day it was taken up. The Senate was arguing over a measure which would boost the maximum weight of truck and load to 45,000 pounds.

Little Objection To Bill

The Senate adopted a House resolution requesting the federal government to return to Texas for roadbuilding purposes a larger share of the federal gasoline tax collected in the state. The resolution said that Texas had many miles of roads of military importance.

The teachers' oath bill encountered little objection after being amended. The regular oath of office prescribes that the officer swear to "preserve, protect, and defend the constitution and laws of the United States and of this state."

Workers Strike At Aluminum Factory

EDGEWATER, N. J., March 12.—(AP)—A strike of CIO workers at the ten-story plant of the Aluminum Company of America today halted production of defense materials vital to Eastern aircraft factories.

Abruptly at 12:40 a. m. (CST) less than two hours after Vincent McKenna, president of local 16, Aluminum Workers of America, and other delegates to a conference with company officials in New Kensington, Pa., had returned to union headquarters, the midnight shift walked from the plant. It shut down all machines and put them in order to avert damage, McKenna said.

The dispute centered over overtime pay for men whose 40-hour week includes Sunday work. The union said its contract with the company required the increased rate for this work; the company denied the claim. Negotiations collapsed in Pittsburgh yesterday.

C. Of C. Convention Committee To Meet

Members of the conventions committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will meet at the organization's office at 3:30 p. m. Thursday. H. F. Fox and John P. Butler are co-chairmen.

Plans for the extending of Midland's invitation for the 1942 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be the principal item of business.

Committee members are: Fox, Butler, Blundy Bridwell, J. B. Crain, J. B. Howell, Wilburn Page, Tom Wingo, W. A. Yeager, Ralph Geisler, Roy R. McKee, W. W. Phillips and Clint Lackey.

FDR Signs British Aid Bill

President Roosevelt puts his signature to the lend-lease bill as an undisclosed number of the biggest army and navy bombers were reported poised for flight to Great Britain waiting for the bill to become law.

Roosevelt Dispatches Request For British Aid Funds To Congress

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent to Congress today a request for a $7,000,000,000 appropriation to carry out a "fixed policy of this government to make for Democracies every gun, plane and munition of war that we possibly can."

In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, transmitting detailed estimates of the budget director for the $7,000,000,000 expenditure, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"I strongly urge the immediate enactment of this appropriation." The Chief Executive declared that America has felt that "it was imperative to security of America that we encourage the Democracies' heroic resistance to aggressions, by not only maintaining but also increasing the flow of material assistance from this country."

The Traffic Cop

Yesterday I said I would explain signals. Today we will take signals and the proper way to turn out of one street and into another. To turn right: In approaching the intersection where you wish to turn, glance into your rear vision mirror and at the same time bring your car as close TO THE RIGHT CURB AS YOU CAN, holding your hand AND ARM out and upward as nearly to a forty five degree angle as possible and if all traffic is clear proceed to the right, keeping TO THE RIGHT in the street you enter.

To turn left: In approaching the intersection bring your car to the right of the CENTER of the street at the same time making the signal with the arm straight out, in plenty of time. Then proceed to the center of the intersection with right front wheel as near as possible to the center of the intersection, and proceed into the street you wish to enter, keeping in the lane just to the right of the center of the street.

A lot of cars are cutting corners. I saw one hit the curb on the corner of the left side of the street with the left rear wheel because the driver wanted to beat the car approaching from the opposite direction. That driver may have to go home by way of the hospital some day, and that sure is a long way to go.

Watch this space every day for hints as to your safety.

1941 to date: 5 deaths and 40 accidents in Midland County.

Clarence Scharbauer Is 'Feeling Fine'

"Midland is the finest city in the world and I'm sure glad to be back."

Those were the words of Clarence Scharbauer as he greeted his many friends this morning.

Scharbauer and Mrs. Scharbauer returned from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent a serious operation at Mayo Brothers Clinic.

He was busy with business details, but stopped scores of times to chat with friends. He assured each he is "feeling fine" and had the smile of enthusiasm for all who chatted with him.

British Headquarters Fix Losses At 31,000

Cairo, March 12.—(AP)—British middle east headquarters announced today that Italian losses in Italian Somaliland since British imperial forces crossed the Juba river now are estimated at more than 31,000.

Today's war bulletin said imperial forces occupied Daga Bur, Ethiopia, 400 miles north of Mogadiscio, Italian Somaliland capital, Mar. 10.

To Congress Quickly

Therefore, he said, Congress had enacted and he had signed the British aid bill. The President's request for the biggest peace time appropriation bill in the nation's history went to Congress less than 24 hours after he signed the bill into law and approved the first list of supplies to be shipped to Britain and to Greece. The appropriation estimate of Budget Director Smith broke the $7,000,000,000 down into various categories, of which the largest by far was $2,054,000,000 for "aircraft and aeronautical material, including engines, spare parts, and accessories."

The President's letter will be read this afternoon. The House appropriations committee arranged to begin hearings on the big appropriation measure tomorrow.

Crane Ordovician Test Cored Deeper, Shows High-Gravity Oil, Gas

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 17 W. N. Waddell et al further enhanced its prospects of opening the third Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, pool in Crane County by testing high-gravity oil on third drillstem test.

The test was from 5,601-48 feet, total depth, with tool open 45 minutes. Gas gauged 5,500,000 cubic feet per day and 95 feet of fluid was recovered, 65 per cent of which was 49.4-gravity oil and the balance drilling mud. This morning operators were reaming core-hole at 5,588 feet. Whether they will set casing and complete or carry the well deeper has not been announced.

No. 17 Waddell yesterday indicated production on second drillstem test, showing rise of 60 feet of fluid, half drilling mud and half 63.7-gravity distillate, together with 6,000,000 feet of gas from 5,602-37 feet. Total duration of the test was 45 minutes. It topped the Ellenburger at 5,584 feet, datum of minus 3,121 feet, after going out of the Permian at 5,538 feet and entirely missing the Simpson, middle Ordovician. First drillstem test, from 5,322-45, showed nothing.

Last two cores in No. 17 Waddell were cut from 5,637-45 and from 5,645-48 feet, each showing recovery of about one foot of oily dolomite. The well is 660 feet out of the east corner of section 15, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, four and one-quarter miles south with southwest of the Sand Hills Ellenburger pool of Western Cochran County. It is on the north-west edge of the Dean pool.

Teague Core Barren

A core cut from 4,677-87 feet in Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 N. B. Teague, wildcat in Northern Martin County, returned nine feet and 10 inches of gray to buff dolomite showing nothing. Operators are preparing to drill ahead. The well had lost circulation from 4,675-77 feet, resulting in decision to core. Atlantic-Sun No. 2-B O. B. Holt Estate, extension well spreading the North Cowden pool of Northern Ector County one and one-half miles north into Southern Andrews, flowed 5874 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing set at 4,454 feet. It has been shot with 450 quarts from 4,450 to 4,516, four feet off bottom.

Depth of 6,475 feet in lime has been reached by George P. Livermore, Inc. No. 1 Della S. Wright, scheduled 7,000-foot test in Eastern Cochran County. It is on the north-west edge of the Dean pool.

Stanford Oil & Gas Company today announced two locations in the Cedar Lake pool of Northeastern Gaines County. No. 3 Mrs. M. L. Bremont is 1,988 feet from the north, 660 from the east line of section 3, block C-20, public school land, off-setting to the east No. 2 Bremont, a drilling well. No. 3 Jeanette B. Rayner is 1,988 feet from the south and 1,990 from the east line of the same section, offsetting the drilling well to the south.

No. 2 Bremont this morning had

Torpedo Bomb Plane Crash Kills Two Men

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 12.—(AP)—Two navy men died in the crash of a torpedo bombing plane last night, raising to 18 the number of airmen killed since Jan. 1 in tragedies befalling naval planes based in San Diego.

The bomber spun out of a thundercloud near French Peak, 65 miles northeast, struck the ground and burst into flames.

Machinists' mates, Ralph Goff of Raccoon, Ky., and Dillard Darius Doga of Basil, La., were the victims. The pilot, Ensign Walter Glenn of Coronado, Calif., bailed out shortly before his ship struck the ground. The craft was one of five making a routine flight to El Centro, Calif.

Miss Mary Alice Crosson Opens Big Reporter-Telegram Cooking School; Second Lecture 9:30 A. M. Thursday

The cooking school is underway! First session of the three-day school, sponsored by The Reporter-Telegram, was held this morning at the Yucca Theatre, with Miss Mary Alice Crosson giving the initial lecture-demonstration of the series.

Despite the unfavorable weather, scores of women attended. Miss Crosson was pleased with the opening day attendance. Larger numbers are expected for tomorrow's and Friday's sessions which will be held at the same hour and place.

Bill Collins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Miss Crosson, who briefly expressed her pleasure at being in Midland for the school, and then opened her course of instruction. Menus containing recipes for the dishes to be prepared this morning had been distributed to those present and the women followed Miss Crosson in her demonstration by referring to these.

Cooks Oven Meat

An oven meal including rolled flank steak stuffed green peppers, buttered rice, and apple crisp pudding, was prepared and cooked. Grills, cake, and a frozen fruit salad were among the other dishes for the morning.

An intermission broke the continuity of the session, with numerous gifts of groceries, coca-cola, and

Hamilton McRae Is Petition Candidate For School Board

More than 20 Midland citizens today petitioned Hamilton E. McRae, attorney and president of the Permian Basin Association, to become a candidate for a place on the board of trustees of the Midland Independent School District at the April 5 election and McRae consented to have his name go on the ballot.

The petition was filed with Charles D. Vertrees, secretary of the school board, and he visited McRae. The attorney agreed to accept the petition and stated he was aligned with no faction concerning school matters.

C. of C. Director

Among signers of the petition are some of the leading citizens of Midland.

McRae is a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and has been active in civic affairs. He agreed to become a candidate after Arthur Yeager, member of the board, told him he would not be a candidate for re-election. Yeager has served many years as a member of the board.

German Planes In Thrace

British sources at Istanbul quoted a Greek army officer as saying German planes had raided the town of Dede Agach in Grecian Thrace—likely striking-point of a German attack.

Belgrade dispatches said Russia had promised Turkey she has nothing to fear from Soviet red armies massed along the Danube, if she decides to fight on Greece's side.

Reports reaching New York said Generalissimo Franco of Spain had rejected flatly as "inconsistent with Spanish honor" a German demand that Spain give territorial facilities for the flight of Nazi planes to Italy's hard-pressed forces in Africa.

In overnight raids, RAF bombers attacked Germany's big Kiel naval base, the London air ministry announced, and blasted the docks at Bremerhaven. The Germans acknowledged damage to a "purely residential" area at Kiel, with two killed, 13 injured.

Bombed Northwest City

Night-raiding Luftwaffe bombers subjected a city in Northwest England to its heaviest sustained assault in months, driving at least 150 persons from their homes and burying others, killed and wounded, in the wreckage.

Six persons were killed in another raid in the English midlands. On the Albanian war front, the Greek high command reported the capture of 450 Italian prisoners as Greek troops counter-attacked after stemming an Italian assault "of great violence."

"The mountains are covered with hundreds of dead and wounded," an Athens spokesman said.

Yugoslav dispatches said the Greeks had gained in the Tepeleni and Laka Ombri regions.

Premier Mussolini's high command said the Greeks attacked in the Viosa Valley sector, around Tepeleni, "and were repulsed with heavy losses."

Plenty Of Fun For Lions At Meeting

An impromptu mock trial entertained Midland Lions at the regular meeting of their club at Hotel Scharbauer today. It was a program of fun and more fun from the start to the conclusion.

R. D. Scruggs was in charge of the program. Others who took part included J. Leo McLaughlin, Tom Brown, Clint Lacking, Frank Stubbeman, Joe Limes, Curt Imman, L. T. Boynton, Russell Conklin, Paul McHargue, and A. L. Gilbreth.

Plans for activities of the organization during the coming months were discussed by George Philippus and others.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
APPLY HEAVENLY IDEALS TO EARTHLY LIVING: If ye then be risen with Christ, seek the things that are above.—Colossians 3:1.

It Won't Happen Here

The fact that definite hemisphere defense measures are being taken jointly with Mexico is the best news for a long time. With the free grant, according to treaty, by Panama of the right to additional canal defense bases in that country, it offers excellent evidence that the Americas are awake at last.

For two years, one country after another in Europe has been mowed down simply because it would not join with others for defense. If Norway, Sweden and Finland had stood firmly together—? If Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria and Greece could have formed a joint defense—? If France, England and Russia had stood firmly behind Czechoslovakia—?

But no. Poland refused to help Czechoslovakia; picked pieces from her carcass instead. The Finns made their stand alone. France and England were not ready to support Czechoslovakia. Nobody cared when Albania was invaded. Belgium and Holland insisted on standing alone. Nowhere was there any of the coherence which small nations must have if they are to defend themselves in these blitz-days. One after another they went down; countries which, if united, might have made a stand, and might be free today.

This is not going to happen in America. Already Canada and the United States have joined in defense plans which redouble each country's defensive strength. Now Mexico indicates that it will also join in such plans.

It is unlikely that there will be formal treaties. There is none in the case of Canada. But every mother's son and daughter in the United States knows that an attack on continental Canada is an attack on the United States, and that it will be resisted in precisely the same way. That is a more powerful force than any treaty. So it will be with Mexico.

It is true that defense arrangements with Mexico may be harder to make than with Canada. The history of these relations in the past is not so happy. There is a greater distrust to be overcome. Nevertheless it can be overcome, and it is being overcome.

The United States has given a clear demonstration in the past 10 years that it has no desire for Mexican soil. The remarkable forbearance shown by the United States in recent disputes is clear evidence of deed, not word, that this is so. The facts rise above the clamor of axis and Communist propaganda striving to resurrect the "menace of Yankee imperialism." Germany, Italy, Russia and Japan have all recently seized neighboring soil with far less excuse.

We have a better way, we believe. We believe that strong, free Canada, and a strong, free Mexico, are better defenses in war, better friends and neighbors in peace, than any "protectorate." This goes for all Western Hemisphere countries.

Europe's free countries were divided—and one by one, they fell.

The free countries of the Americas are uniting, and united, they can stand confident and unafraid.

The Young Men Are All Right

There is no sense in swooning into a great state of panic because of the rather high percentage of rejections in the draft calls. Considerable more study, and especially comparative study, needs to be given the figures before we need conclude that young America has declined into a state of decrepitude.

That is not to say that "all's right with the world," or that the health of youth is all it should be. It isn't, and it never will be. There is plenty of room for improvement. But there is no reason for panic.

True, there are a great many rejections for failure to meet the rather high standards the military services have set. In some cases it has run as high as 25 per cent. Offhand, that looks bad. It looks worse than in 1917-18. But is it?

Isn't it just possible that standards are higher now? Certainly the necessity for raising a huge army immediately is not as great. The standard can be, and probably is, somewhat higher. The X-ray and other laboratory examining methods and techniques are improved, and probably catch a higher percentage of defects, many of which were formerly overlooked. Further, plenty of men with flat feet or a slight shortage of perfectly-matched teeth, are reasonably healthy in spite of that.

We're not urging self-satisfaction. We have not as yet produced a race of men capable of passing 100 per cent the rather specialized requirements of the military. But it is not wise to jump from that to the conclusion that the national health is not sound, when there is excellent evidence that it is the best ever.

All of which does not minimize in the slightest our job, which is to make it still better.

Britain hopes that after the all-out offensive the Nazis will be all in.

Remember the good old days when the horses in western movies carried cowboys instead of tenors?

You have to stand on your own feet before you can get up on your toes.

Well, Mussolini "Made The Trains Run On Time"

Mounting Danger From Offensive May Clear Case

By DeWitt MacKenzie

Associated Press Staff Writer

There has been a sharp increase in German bombing and U-boat activity, and Britain believes the battle of the Atlantic is under way. Over at the other end of Europe the Balkans are hanging half over the precipice of war.

Coincident with all these there is a gathering of the Axis clan on the move. Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka is coming to Europe to confer with his German and Italian allies, and see for himself how the war goes.

That is likely to be a momentous conference. There is bound to come up the question of whether Japan shall enter the war on the side of the Axis.

Indications are that Matsuoka will be governed by what he finds from examination on the ground. Since some of the Japanese press takes the attitude that Nippon is playing an opportunist game, there seems no reason why we should blink the question.

On that basis it may be assumed that if the Japanese believe Hitler has the war in his pocket they will play his game. Otherwise they will avoid a clash with either America or Britain.

Taking it all in all, it looks as though the moment of Britain's supreme danger was approaching rapidly.

It is a moment of danger for the United States as well. Quite apart from other considerations there is always the possibility that the Axis will decide to drag us into the war. It is wise to recognize that, so the shock won't be too great if it comes.

Appropos of the lease-lend bill, there came out of London yesterday the amazing statement that Britain has on hand enough trained personnel to man the entire American fleet if it were turned over to Britain. This claim was made by a high British naval source, who said England wanted all the ships she could get.

This would mean that Britain has sufficient reserves to man 322 naval ships of all classes. The figures for our personnel aren't available, but they were over 171,000 in 1940, with a large reserve.

•GARDENING for HAPPINESS

By Henry Pree
Landscape Consultant

Every garden should have some roses, be they bush, garden or climbing. Rose growth is an amazing adventure, full of surprises, most of them pleasant, and all of them instructive. Each year finds better roses offered by the growers, after two-year trials have been studied in 14 test gardens throughout the country.

These gardens are under the watchful care of experts who note how the roses stand summer heat and winter cold, and resist insect pests and fungus diseases. Prize-winning roses are offered only in number 1 grade dormant plants. Thus you are guaranteed healthy, well-grown, vigorous bushes which will bloom the first season after planting.

The following seven roses are recommended by the All-American Rose Council:

Charlotte Armstrong—Hybrid Tea. Buds blood-red, opening to cerise in warm weather and to spectrum red in cool weather.

Queen of its class: a prize-winning Charlotte Armstrong rose.

World's Fair—A Floribunda type (large flowering polyantha). Vigorous bushy plants with large clusters of large rich red flowers. Foliage bronzy red. Has a pleasant, spicy fragrance. The Floribundas are remarkably hardy, easy to grow, and prolific bloomers.

The Chief—Is said to have a sweet fruity fragrance. Buds spectrum red, opening to large rose-colored blooms, flushed orange at the base. Foliage dark green and leathery, mildew resistant.

California—Blooms ruddy orange, toned with saffron yellow, and a touch of rose on the outside of the petals. Flowers said to be enormous and very fragrant. Glossy green foliage.

Apricot Queen—Long tapered buds, light burnt orange in color, and opening to a coppery orange-pink color. Pink color is said to be more intense as bloom ages.

Dickson's Red—Hybrid Tea. A man's red, a deep glowing tone. Plants said to be very vigorous. Color does not blue with age. Fragrant.

Flash—A Pillar Rose. Vivid orange scarlet. Abundant leathery foliage.

The smart gardener plants his roses as early as he can in the spring, since spring-planted roses succeed only if they become established before hot weather. Roses must develop strong root systems and therefore a bed of loose, rich soil at least 24 inches deep must be provided. A sandy loam rich in humus is ideal.

A complete balanced fertilizer is needed to insure healthy plants. Use a mixture consisting of 4 parts nitrogen, 12 parts phosphorus and 4 parts potash. Well-rotted manure should be incorporated in the soil when the bed is prepared. First-year plants need less food than those well established. First-year feeding consists of 1 level tablespoonful per square foot of soil area about the plants, while established plants demand 1 heaping tablespoonful per square foot of soil.

In pruning, allow no dead wood to remain. Spring pruning of hybrid tea roses shortens the plant to a height of eight inches or so; hybrid perpetuals to a height of 12 to 15 inches. Reduce to two or three stems. Make all cuts clean just above an eye, usually one which points upward and away from the center of the bush. Hybrid teas bloom on new wood, while perpetuals bloom on shoots of wood from preceding years.

Mildew, black spot and canker, which may be of many kinds, are the three diseases which attack roses. Bordeaux mixture, a combination of lime and copper sulfate, is one of the best weapons and can be applied either as a spray or dust. If lead arsenate also is used, both insects and diseases may be controlled.

Mrs. J. L. HUNDLE of MIDLAND says:

I have had my SERVEL ELECTROLUX for six years and I was the first to buy one of the new kind in this county.

I can keep all my milk and butter fresh at all times and can keep my supply of vegetables fresh for weeks.

The cost of operation is very little compared with electric refrigeration and I haven't been out a penny yet for repairs. I also like it because it doesn't make any noise. If I had to part with all my furniture, my ELECTROLUX would be the last to go because we are all so proud of it.

Episcopal Auxiliary Successfully Stages Sixth Annual Style Show

Large Crowd Sees Display Of Fashions Worn By Midland Mannequins In Yearly Event Presented At Hotel Scharbauer

The increasing importance of slacks suits and play clothes in women's wardrobes was indicated in the large number of these displayed by models at the sixth annual style show presented under auspices of the Episcopal Auxiliary at Hotel Scharbauer, Tuesday evening. The South American trend, the popularity of the redingote costumes, and the use of new colors were other highlights of the pageant for 1941.

With attendance estimated at from 350 to 400 persons, this year's show was declared a success by the sponsors.

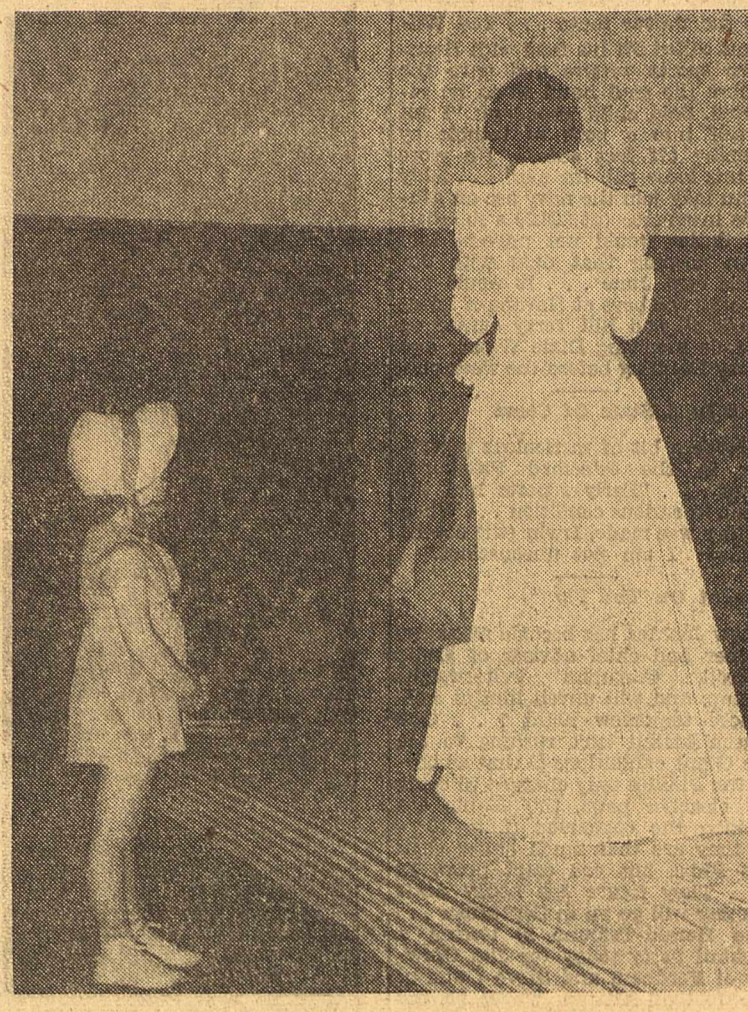

Setting the patriotic note for the affair was the surprise first number in which Ralph Vertrees, Ann Mason, Patsy Butcher, and Bobby Lee, attired as Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Red Cross Nurse, and soldier marched down the models' pathway to the strains of patriotic music.

Auxiliary officials this morning expressed the thanks of the organization to all those who assisted in making the style show a success including: The Hotel Scharbauer, Barrow Furniture Company and Midland Hardware Company, Vestal's Flowers, Midland Floral Company, Civic Music Club, and the high school.

Models entered from the East end of the Crystal ballroom, were announced, and paraded the length of the room and to the mezzanine where they were again announced.

Miss Jean Bodkins, as the first model to appear, wore a patio slacks suit of peach-striped blouse and solid color trousers with necklace of handpainted nuts as accessory; Miss Jean Burson wore a handsomely-tailored slacks suit in golden earth shade; Mary Frances Carter a two-tone slacks suit with huge sun hat and gabardine shoes; Miss Julia Bacon a white slacks suit with two-color halter; Miss Ethel Wilson, slacks suit; Skippy King, three-piece slacks suit, gold trousers and jacket with silk blouse; Edna Earle Lineberry, white sailor slacks suit with trim of patriotic colors in navy motif; Miss Jesse Lynn Tuttle rose slacks suit; Sue Cowden "national color" slacks suit; Miss Helen Hobbs, red, white, and blue slacks suit; Mrs. J. Harvey Herd, check play suit with unusual pinafore robe in rose worn to look like dress; Mrs. Geo. Byrne, hand-blocked suit with green shorts; Mrs. Doris Marcom play suit showing the South American trend; Mrs. Jack Brown and little daughter, Marjorie Welch, mother-and-daughter play suits in print with blue gimpie blouses; Miss Sue Cecil, South Seas play suit; Kathryn Francis, white dress for tennis or play with red jacket-blouse to fit it for general wear; Melba Schlosser, blue-and-white striped play suit with red shorts; Miss Doris

Tracksters Will Select Captain Today At Meeting

The Midland track team will elect its captain for the season today at a squad meeting.

Bulldogs "thinly clad" continue daily drills with all sights on points in the district meet here in April. From a nucleus of J. M. White, hurdler and dash man, Windell Williams, all-around performer, and Charles Hines, sprinter, Coach Muri Freck is building a formidable aggregation.

Frecks is sending the tracksters through drills of starting, finishing, techniques of form, and wind development exercises.

May Enter Barnhart Relays
Jack Noyes, miler, is a new team member, as is John Ward, pole vaulter and sprinter, Payton Anderson is working on the quarter-mile run, Mike Buffington, big footballer, will try the 880-run and seeks a mile relay slot. Ivan Hall, speedy little halfback from last year's gridiron club, is running the half-mile and may be on the relay four. Foster Hendrick is an 880-runner and Buddy Davidson a sprinter.

Gordon Bigham, a backfield ace from the football club, is out for the shot put and may develop into a sprinter. Leonard Shepherd looks good as a hurdler and distance runner. Robert Wheeler, up from junior high, is a quarter-mile candidate. Maurice Bratton, all around MHS athlete, may fit into the relay picture.

The Bulldogs may enter the Barnhart relays this week end.

Tunney Declares Champ In Making

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 2—(AP)—Gene Tunney thinks the nation's preparedness program will produce the guy who can lick Joe Louis.

"I haven't seen the next champion yet," he declared today, "but it is certain that he is now in training."

"The man who came out of the marine corps to win the world heavyweight title himself speaks with added authority because he is taking an active part in one phase of the program."

As a Lieutenant Commander in the reserve, he has the job of coordinating the physical training of all fliers with their flight instruction.

Tunney has a world of respect for the physical ability of the men in the army, navy and marine corps.

"The rapid physical requirements of the service today will bring out the boy who will dethrone Joe Louis," he asserted.

"The new champion will be even greater than Louis."

Midland Country Club Announces Dates For Coming Tournaments

The Midland Country Club announced dates of two approaching tournaments—the city tournament June 21-22 and 29, and the annual invitation tournament, August 1, 2, and 3.

W. T. Henderson, chairman of the committee, said the invitation will be held each season the first week end in August. The first Friday in August was made the permanent starting date.

Midland golfers will vie in a handicap medal tournament over the Country Club course Saturday afternoon. Prizes will be awarded.

Texas Basketball Teams Steal Show At National Meet

By Harold Classen
KANSAS CITY, March 12—(AP)—Like football, basketball now has its "T." but it doesn't designate a single formation. It is the abbreviation for a whole state—Texas.

Thirty-two teams from 19 states started in the fifth annual National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament Monday but most of the eyes were on the Texas teams.

The Lone Star state won four places in the bracket. The School of Mines at El Paso, Border Conference, was the other have.

Texas Wesleyan romped over Evansville, Ind., College, 71 to 62, to prove that Texas tallying is superior to Hoosier Hoopla. The score lirked the West Texas State giants, billed as the world's tallest, and they crushed the University of Dubuque, Ia., 77 to 39, to set a scoring mark for a single game.

Nears Scoring Mark
Stephen F. Austin Teachers from Nacogdoches, yesterday presented Van Camford, a 6-foot 3-inch center, who stuffed in 31 points and came within a free throw of tying the meet mark for an individual.

Samford had 30 points and three minutes to go but Simpson College of Indianola, Ia., assigned two men to cover him and he got only a gift shot the rest of the way. The Texas tutors won 64 to 50.

Today's games put the Plainsmen to stout tests. The West State five collides with St. Mary's College of Winona, Minn., conquerors of Tarkio, Mo., College, defending champions, in the first round.

Wesleyan is pitted against Louisiana Normal and the Austin Teachers.

Investigates Mishap Killing Two Persons

WACO, March 12—(AP)—District Attorney Stansell Bryan conducted an investigation today of an automobile collision which claimed two lives and injured three persons, one seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Long of Fort Wayne, Ind., were killed in a crash south of here yesterday.

Long was a division engineer for the Pennsylvania railroad at Fort Wayne. He and his wife were on a vacation trip.

Charles E. Garrison of Bryan was in a critical condition. John Sherman Hunt of Ada, Okla., and an unidentified man were injured, neither severely.

Abell Pool.
Magnolia No. 1 State-Sharp, short northwest outpost to the discovery area of the Abell pool in Pecos, showed nothing on drillstem test from 5,916-35 feet and is shut down for orders, with the possibility that another test will be attempted. The well was dry in the upper Simpson sand, found from 5,468-73 feet, and was deepened to the second sand, topping it at 5,915 feet.

Core from 5,932-35 feet, total depth, returned three feet of light, oil-stained sand. A 25-minute drillstem test from 5,912-35 showed steady blow of air and 800 feet of fluid cut with gas and oil.

Magnolia No. 1-B Markey Heirs, northwest offset to the Abell discovery, cemented 13 3/8-inch surface pipe on bottom at 440 feet with 300 sacks and is standing.

Stanford No. 1 Conry-Davis Unit, closely watched extension test four miles east of the discovery, had reached 2,130 feet in lime and anhydrite.

A mile and three-eighths east of the discovery, Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1 E. E. Grove is standing after cementing 13 3/8-inch casing at 307, one foot off bottom, with 350 sacks.

Gulf No. 6 Wristen, Southeastern Ward deep test, at midnight was drilling below 5,488 feet in lime.

BOSTON, March 12—(AP. U. S. Dept. Agr.)—A fair amount of interest was shown in the finer grades of spot fine wools today in the Boston market. Good combing 64S Australian wools brought $1-1.05, scouring basis, including the duty and 64S and 70S Australian super warp wools sold at $1.05-1.08. Fine wools from South America were sold at 95-81, scouring basis, including the duty, and half-blood wools brought mostly 90-95 cents. Domestic wools mostly very quiet and offerings of spot wools were very limited.

Action On British Aid Bill Boosts Armo Shares

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Reports of immediate American action under the terms of the lend-lease act boosted arm shares in the stock market today.

Transactions totalled 500,000 shares.

Among the major gainers most of the day were New York Shipbuilding, Bath Iron Works, Electric Boat, Climax, Molybdenum, International Mercantile Marine, Allied Chemical, American Can, Glenn Martin, General Motors, American Smelting and DuPont.

Bonds were irregular, although a fair demand was maintained for rails. Commodity prices had mixed trends.

Refinery Market Gains Strength

By Edward Curtis
TULSA, Okla., March 12—(AP)—The Mid-Continent Refinery market showed continued signs of strength during the week with some companies reporting sales as much as 15 per cent over a year ago.

Increased activity because of the defense program was given as the major reason for the better demand. Some market sources were predicting higher prices might not be far away.

Prices for natural gasoline have stiffened a quarter to a half cent in Oklahoma and Texas in the past month, and reports from the Texas Gulf area told of a better movement of gasoline coastwise.

The crude oil market was strong with a somewhat better demand being felt in Kansas and Oklahoma.

470 Completions
In the field, the Oil and Gas Journal reported 470 completions for the week, compared with 456 the previous week, and 521 a year ago.

A new pool opener near Guthrie, Logan County, Oklahoma, made 2,160 barrels of 47 gravity oil on test after completion.

Northern Archer County, Texas, got a new pool and California's Inglewood field appeared due for the more development following completion of a good well in the Northwestern end of the field outside of present production.

extension of fields along the Central Kansas uplift continued by new wells at Kraft, Neider and Bellica. Illinois operators again developing some of the newly discovered small pools, such as Mount Carmel.

Interstate Oil Bill To O'Daniel

AUSTIN, March 12 (AP)—Unanimous Senate approval today sent to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel a House-initiated bill extending two years from Sept. 1, 1941, Texas participation in the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

The measure sped through parliamentary proceedings without debate.

Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur obtained consent to bring it up out of regular order after an explanation that J. C. Hunt, Texas representative on the commission, wished to cite the action before congressional committees considering federal oil control legislation.

The compact, authorized by Congress, is among oil producing states who operate a voluntary cooperative plan of conservation.

Midland Girl Scouts Observe Anniversary

Girl Scouts of Midland are observing Girl Scout week in celebration of the 29th anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouts today.

The Scouts will sponsor a candy sale at Junior High School Thursday and at Piggly Wiggly Friday morning, the proceeds to go toward buying a cot for Bundles for Britain.

Thursday night the girls will go in a body to the Town Hall lecture and Friday night they will meet at the home of Mrs. D. M. Secor to put together the afghan they have knitted.

Auto License Sales At Monahans Moves Slowly
MONAHANS, March 12—(Special)—Only 153 of the anticipated 1800 passenger car license plates for Ward County have been issued, deputies in the sheriff's department said. About 30 truck and nine farm license tags were purchased.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, March 12—(The Special News Service)—The Phillies who'd get first crack, may wind up with Van Lingle Mungo, via the waiver route. . . . Ted Williams called off his feud with Beantown sports writers and gave the scribes the glad hand when he reported. Said child Theodore: "I got myself into a peck of trouble by popping off last season. No more of this loose gab for me." . . . Billy Conn may join the navy as an athletic instructor (at $96.20 a month); his duties would not prevent him from keeping that date with Joe Louis next June. . . . It would not surprise the boys at Havana if Larry MacPhail and Bill Terry agreed on a trade involving Dixie Walker and Harry Danning before the week end.

Note In A State Of Coma
Here's a bit of meticulous reporting in the esteemed Pittsburgh Press. "Early reports had the coach in serious condition. . . . When inquiry was made, Irwin (the coach) replied: 'I am not unconscious.'"

Caught On The Fly
Lew Jenkins has become manager, trainer and chief advisor of Eddie Carroll, Canadian welterweight champ, and will unveil him at Baltimore tomorrow night. . . . One reason Miami isn't rushing to see the Giant exhibitions is that when as the Phillies only charged 55 cents for bleacher pews, the Giants are seeking the customers $1.10. May-be they are that much better than the Phils, but you can't prove it. . . . They figure Joe Louis' draft number will go up in September. . . . The Herald-Tribune is tossing a cocktail party today for Jim Crowley of Fordham and Steve Owen of the football Giants, who'll be the opposing coaches in this year's Eastern all-star game.

More About Harmon
Here's a Tommy Harmon story you'll like. . . . When he returned to the campus from those broadcasts which brought him his first real dough, He went to the pastor of St. Mary's chapel and paid up the Sunday envelopes on which he was a bit of key. Henny says that Tommy is a regular usher at 10 o'clock mass.

Sports Cocktail
In three years under Larry MacPhail at Brooklyn, Van Mungo was paid $27,500. He won only nine games, for each of which the Dodgers paid him $3,055.55. . . . Henny Andrews, manager of Patsy Perroni, says those Cleveland yarns that Perroni was turned down as an opponent for Joe Louis last year are a bit off key. Henny says the only time Perroni was offered a Cleveland bout with Louis was three years ago, when Patsy had a bad hand and couldn't accept. . . . The New York Hockey Americans pay Madison Square Garden $96,000 for a season's rental, or $4,000 a game.

The Montreal Star has discovered that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh once sold tickets at the Windsor (Ont.) race track.

CRANE COMMISSIONERS APPROVE RAMSEY BILL
CRANE, March 12—(Special)—The Crane County commissioners' court sent in its approval of Senator Ben Ramsey's bill introduced in the legislature.

The bill authorizes payment out of county funds of the premium on the official surety bonds required of county treasurers and commissioners.

Winds Up For Another Big Season

Bob Feller in July form already at Ft. Myers, Fla., training base . . . a shoo-in to win 30 games.

Wilson Wants To Catch Few Games

AVALON, Calif., March 12—(AP)—Unlike the elephant, Jimmy Wilson of world series fame has a remarkably short memory.

Less than six months ago the star of Cincinnati's sparkling victory over Detroit announced with appropriate finality that his playing days were over. Now comes word from training headquarters of the Chicago Cubs here that Wilson has changed his mind and figures on catching 50 games this season.

Those who remember Wilson, his creaking joints and aching muscles at the end of the world series, find this hard to believe. He did a magnificent job of subbing for the ailing Ernie Lombardi, coming out of semi-retirement to catch again. But when it was over he was almost a wreck, and admitted it.

"Never again," was Wilson's valdieditory. "It's too much for me. It's up to the young fellows from now on." Wilson will be 41 next July 23.

Monahans Golf Club Sets Tourney In May
MONAHANS, March 12—(Special)—Data of the annual Monahans golf club invitation tourney was set for the third week in May by the board of directors. The tournament is open to all West Texas golfers.

Women's Tournament Opens In Three Towns

QUINLAN, Tex., March 12—(AP)—The Southwestern AAU Basketball Tournament for high school girls opens tonight in three Hunt County towns—Quinlan, Floyd and Merit.

Two games will be played at each place, two more tomorrow night and semi-finals and finals will be staged here Friday and Saturday nights.

Attending the training school for reporters which was held at Big Spring, Tuesday morning, by Miss Laura Lane, acting editor of the Extension News, were Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Neal Station of Prairie Lee Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. B. L. Stewart of Valley View, and Mrs. Marshall Heid of Stokes.

Miss Lane told the group that not any part of the present agricultural program is more important than the land use planning meetings and that home demonstration club reporters are best-fitted to report these. The three clubwomen who accompanied Miss Lynn will report on the training school at a called meeting of the reporters' committee of the county council.

Tennis Stars Begin Doubles Matches In Indoor Tournament

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 12—(AP)—Doubles teams took over the coliseum's two courts at the National Indoor Tennis Tournament today as play recessed in the singles divisions with only 16 of the original field of 64 players left in the running.

All eight seeded stars, including Defending Champion Bobby Riggs of Chicago, moved into the third round, which will get under way tomorrow.

Riggs, who ousted two home town entries, Ed Overholser and Paul Darrow, Jr., in straight-set matches yesterday, takes on Tommy Higgins, former State Municipal champion from Oklahoma City tomorrow.

McNeill Plays Draper
Don McNeill, Oklahoma City's National Outdoor Champion and the nation's No. 1 amateur, will face Stanley Draper Jr., also of Oklahoma City in the third round. McNeill stopped Dewey Allen of Ada, Okla., last night without losing a game.

Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., seeded third behind Riggs and McNeill, clowned his way to straight-set victories over Henry Brown of Oklahoma City and M. C. Hopper of Tulsa, Okla., yesterday and will meet George Counts, former State Intercolastic champ from Muskogee, Okla., yesterday, losing only three games to McMurry and one to the Muskogean.

Fourth-seeded Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., will face Norman Brooks of San Francisco in this third-round match. Sabin stopped P. G. McMurry of Oklahoma City and Tom McSpadden of Muskogee, Okla., yesterday, losing only three games to McMurry and one to the Muskogean.

Smith To Defend Best Ball Crown

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 12 (AP)—The National Pro-Amateur Best Ball Tournament opens today with Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., out to defend the title he won last year with Marvin Ward of Spokane, Wash., the 1939 U. S. amateur champion.

Smith won the Florida West Coast Open Tournament at Belleair yesterday, shooting a three-under par 68 to defeat Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., by one stroke in an 18-hole playoff.

Match play follows today's qualifying best-ball round of 36 holes.

Talbot Says Shooters Most Temperamental

By Gayle Talbot
TAMPA, Fla., March 12—(AP)—I would say without making a thorough check that the most temperamental athletes in the world are the 400-odd pistol shooters who are engaging at present in their annual mid-winter championships on the local range.

I was doing nothing more harmful than a little noon hour practice shooting at the furthest point from the club-house, and not hitting anything in particular—when all hell broke loose. The contestants came swarming out from their lunch and an excited range officer took me out of there before anything serious happened.

There seems to be a rule that there can be no practicing, or "sighting in" once an event has begun, and when these dudes heard a gun going off they naturally left their soup to see that nobody was stealing a march.

This year's World Bridge Olympic, which will be held on Thursday, April 17, will find several of the warring nations unable to participate. Canadian players, however, still plan to take part in it.

On Hand No. 10 in last year's Olympic, the committee prescribed the bidding; that is, the players had to bid the hand according to the slip furnished by the committee, and West was directed to open the king of diamonds.

From there on they felt that West would find the best defense himself—which was to continue with the ace of diamonds and then lead the diamond five, thus preventing South from ruffing a heart. Even with this defense, however, you will note that the declarer can get a squeeze play and still make five diamonds.

At a game in Winnipeg, Canada, West, after winning the king of diamonds, shifted to the eight of spades for the second lead, and a comedy of errors followed. Declarer got the idea that this hand was a "dummy reversal," so he proceeded to use four of his trumps to ruff out dummy's four clubs.

He got into dummy first with the ten of spades, then finessed the queen of hearts, then the ace of hearts, and finally he overtook the queen of spades with the ace. Thus he reduced dummy to two trumps and two trumps, and his own hand to a spade, a trump and two hearts.

Now he led his last trump, expecting the two adverse trumps to drop—but East showed out. West won and could have defeated the contract by returning either a spade or a heart, but he had miscounted trumps and led the small trump which dummy won.

At this point, declarer made a brilliant recovery by discarding the king of spades on the trump. Thus dummy was able to win the last two tricks.

Ward Commissioners Approve Salary Hikes

MONAHANS, March 12—(Special)—Ward County commissioners approved $25 per month raises for the county and district clerks, and set next Tuesday for fixing the county airport bond election date.

Commissioners will hear discussions for possible sites at the Tuesday meeting, and will set the amount to be asked.

The commissioners reinstated one-half of the cut made in the salary of Mrs. Ira M. Morris, county clerk, early in January. J. L. Dodgin was named janitor for the lower two floors of the new courthouse.

Chain Store Tax To Final Hearing

AUSTIN, March 12—(AP)—Studying conflicting claims of a bill to repeal the state chain store tax, members of the House taxation committee today awaited a final hearing before acting on the proposal.

Opponents presenting their side of the story at a second hearing last night contended the license was a "fair and just" tax and that out-of-state chains were the only one opposed to the levy. Previously, advocates charged the law was punitive.

"The big chains are not bearing their share of the taxes," Sam Hanna of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Wholesale Grocers Association, declared. He said he was speaking for home-owned chains and single unit retailers and wholesalers in the state.

Reciting figures on sales and profits of five of the larger systems, Hanna asked "with such a record should Texas be so benevolent as to relinquish this tax that is now being collected?" Chain tax payments in Texas last year totaled $703,805, he said.

Oklahoma Votes Ban On Deficits

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 12—(AP)—Oklahoma has endorsed emphatically a constitutional amendment intended to outlaw state deficits—a plan which one congressman proposes to apply to the federal government.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips, debt-hating conservative who marched into office two years ago pledging economy for a state saddled with debt, saw his program approved in yesterday's special election by a two to one vote.

Even before the results became known, Rep. Wesley Disney (D-Okla.) predicted Oklahoma's action would touch off a nation-wide movement.

The Sooner congressman declared

Naval Air Training Base Goes Into Use At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 12—(AP)—The nation's greatest naval air training station—a $44,000,000 project at which cadets will be hastened through a streamlined, seven-months course of complete pilot instruction—was placed in commission today.

Within sight of the waters where the Union fleet shelled Corpus Christi when Civil War sundered the nation, Secretary Knox solemnly dedicated the station to the defense and indissolubility of the United States.

The commandant—Capt. Alva D. Berhhard—read his orders, the colors were run up, and the watch

Now Into Operation

The ceremony represented the transition of the station from the construction to the operation stage, although the giant building program is but 70 per cent complete.

Th first group of trainees probably will enter the station within the next two weeks, but the peak, when 3,600 pilots will be turned out annually, will not be reached until the first of next year.

The entire naval complement of the station—more than 1,000 enlisted men, and 200 officers in service blue—members of the House naval affairs committee and other congressmen, and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel heard Secretary Knox' address along with the other invited guests.

Aviation Board On Trial Since Recent Crashes

By Peter Edson

The Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Since you will be reading a good bit about the investigation of the recent plane crash near Atlanta, and since you will be hearing a good many echoes from Congress, demanding further investigation and reorganization of the Civil Aeronautics Board itself, you will be interested in having a look at this whole C. A. B. setup, to know what all the shouting will be about.

Things Congress will be jawing about most will be based on the belief that the series of five commercial airline crashes since Aug. 31, 1940—when 25 were killed near Lovettsville, Va., to end a 17-month no accident period—might not have happened if the old Civil Aeronautics Administration and Air Safety Board had not been combined and reorganized under the Department of Commerce last July 1. More specifically, it is the critics' belief that the old independent Air Safety Board should not have been made a mere department of the new Civil Aeronautics Board, and a further point is made that C. A. B. as now constituted, is too much its own prosecuting attorney, judge, jury and police officer.

Few Changes In Personnel.

On the other side of the picture, the reasons given for putting through the reorganization were that the three former agencies were always quarreling with each other, and the internal rows of the old Air Safety Board finally made reorganization necessary by presidential order. Congress just missed disapproving the reorganization by a narrow seven-vote margin in the Senate.

In the Atlanta crash investigation, local police officers were called in as soon as the crash was reported, to stand guard over every fragment of the wreckage till it could be photographed and sketched. An investigator and three technical assistants supervised. The pieces were then sent to technical laboratories, such as Bureau of Standards, for minute examination to discover breaks or failures. All these reports were then gone over by the analysis section of the safety bureau staff.

Anyone Can Raise Question.

The hearings in Atlanta, are held before G. Grant Mason, a member of the C. A. B., who is a private pilot and an aviation authority in his own right. He is the judge, jury and chief investigator. Everybody with anything to say about the crash is summoned. Airlines representatives, pilots, ground personnel, mechanics, dispatchers, weather experts. Anyone can raise a question, but all questions are submitted through the board member, Mason.

In the Centerville, Utah, crash last November, two thousand pages of testimony were taken. Once gathered, the evidence is then studied by the full board. Safety bureau men are there, the whole

Scout Leaders Attend Course

Thirty-five Midland men last night attended the second session of a leadership training course in Boy Scout work being conducted here. A third meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow night at the Scout hall.

Last night Ralph Hickman discussed troop records, and Clyde Porter outlined the educational value of the uniform.

Patrol organization for the training school is complete and larger attendance is anticipated, Clint Lackey, director said.

Held Demonstrations
Practical demonstrations of scoutcraft were conducted at last night's session. Stanley Mate, field executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, demonstrated Indian sign language; Francis Kingdon demonstrated deaf-mute signaling; R. O. Smith showed how to signal with the international Morse code; and Wallace Wimberly gave a demonstration of semaphore signaling.

Relays also were conducted. Three sessions will be held next week.

Former Magnolia Employee Dies In Car-Train Wreck

SHREVEPORT, March 12.—(AP)—Charles R. Swank, 60, former superintendent of the Magnolia Petroleum Co. here, died last night when his automobile was fatally injured early this morning when a police report said, he drove his automobile into a moving Kansas City Southern freight train at a crossing.

He suffered a fracture of the skull, internal injuries and body bruises.

Dr. Charles S. Boone, deputy Cad-do Parish coroner, said Swank's death was accidental.

thing is gone over in detail, the report finally issued and recommendations made so that particular accident won't happen again.

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Beatrice is furious at the stranger who would chloroform her. But he has opened her eyes to the emptiness of her life. Her money, travel, parties bring her no real pleasure. She promises to see the stranger again, to make him eat his words. Clarence is the only solution he can offer. He promises they shall be married within a week.

BEATRICE RUNS AWAY

CHAPTER III
BEATRICE HUNTINGTON DAVENPORT sat up very straight in her car, and looked fixedly at the back of Jenkins' head as he drove through the slow-moving, heavy, late afternoon traffic. She had promised Clarence that she would marry him next week. Promised because, for a moment in his arms, with his lips on hers, she had believed that he was right.

"We shall be so happy! No other pair in history have ever been as happy as we shall be, darling," he had whispered. "No more discontent, my love. I promise you, our life will hold more than parties and social foolishness and wild running around. I love you, and you love me. We shall have a marriage the world will wonder at."

Beatrice realized that Clarence was utterly serious, and with the realization came a rush of pride that she had not, after all, been fooled by a fortune hunter. Clarence loved her and wanted to make their marriage a real and solid bond.

But after he was gone—while she sat here in the car and the city streets darkened around her—uncertainty gripped her. Being engaged to Clarence was fun. Taking him away from Mimi Frothingham had been fun. At least, until this afternoon, it had all been enjoyable enough.

But she had never actually set the date of her wedding. She had never thought what marriage meant. Its permanence—the solemnity which Clarence was bringing to it—its nearness! Next week! Only a few days away.

She was frightened. "I can't marry Clarence next week!"

THE sense of awareness—the feeling of a door having opened for her, this afternoon when she heard that man's voice—and let her look on things that were the same and yet somehow different, came back to her. "Marrying Clarence isn't the answer. I was frightened, and I showed him I was frightened. He thought, because he does love me, that getting married right away would help. But it won't. This is something else."

Unaccountably, she was trembling again. "I think a girl like that should be quietly and competently chloroformed," that unknown voice had said. Her lips twisted. He could be whimsical about it! "More in sadness than in anger."

She stared out of the window as the car turned into Fifth Avenue. People thronged the sidewalks. Men and women, living lives far different from her own. Men and women who shouldn't be chloroformed. They were useful. She noticed that they bucked a strong wind she could not feel, sheltered here behind the glass of the limousine's windows. It was the sum of the difference between her and them.

She saw a man with a tired, gray face. Engrossed, with a concentration she seldom gave to anything, she tried to read in that lined, anonymous face the riddle of his tiredness. What were his troubles and what struggles did this man endure? The car moved past him.

Beatrice made a quick decision. When her mink coat was hidden in the parcel locker, she could mingle unnoticed with these people, hurrying home from work.

Now she saw a woman with hennaed hair and too red lips, in a purple suit. The woman was haggard. Then a girl, smiling to herself. Then a heavy middle-aged woman carrying a Peke. Now a man who walked swiftly, hatless, his lips moving. Talking to himself.

In another moment, her car would be going past Huntington's. The store she knew so little of; and yet the store that made all the difference between herself and these people. She leaned forward. "Turn down to Sixth Avenue, Jenkins."

The sidewalks of Sixth Avenue were thronged, too. Watching with her newly sharp eyes, with the clamoring questions in her mind she had never asked before, Beatrice saw that there was a difference between these people and those on Fifth. These were even more tired. Their faces, unguarded, betrayed more. Their clothes were shabbier. Even her car was out of place on Sixth Avenue, where it had been familiar and unnoticed on Fifth.

At Forty-second street, a policeman held up traffic though the light was green. Beatrice saw a broad wave of people—10 or 12 abreast—in surging ranks that went far up the block—pushing their way from one side of the street to the other. She remembered, then, the subway station at Times Square. That's where they were going. To the subway.

All at once, Beatrice opened the car door. "I'll get out and walk, Jenkins. This is too slow." A curious, baffled restlessness possessed her. "You take the car to the garage. And I won't need you tonight, Jenkins."

The chauffeur turned, surprise in his usually expressionless eyes. "But it's so crowded, Miss Davenport. And it's a long walk east to Park and then over . . ."

"I'm not going directly home, Jenkins."

She was out of the car. The door closed behind her, and she was stepping up on the sidewalk. Almost incredibly, a sea of humanity engulfed her. She found herself being carried along, slowly and bumpily, in that pressing, enveloping wave of people.

She could not remember ever having walked down Forty-second street at this hour before. Her wristwatch showed that it was a quarter to six. This crowd, then, was going home from work. Home on the subway.

She gazed at the kiosk in fascination, as she moved out of the stream into a little island of people waiting against a drug store window. Of course, she'd been on the subway. She could close her eyes and see the station at Fifth Avenue and the Park—long and echoing and empty. She could see the way white columns flashed past as you sat in a car, and hear the noise of air rushing and the rumble of wheels.

Yes, she had ridden on the subway. Years ago. With girls from school, and with her governess before that. But she had never ridden the subway as an adult—never when she could see, hear and understand and somehow feel the difference between these people's lives and herself.

She remembered her grandfather, saying, "There's no fun in you never have any battles to fight." These people battled life, every day. They had worries and struggles and because they had sometimes they must have fulfillment, too, and triumph.

All at once, her mind was made up. "I'm going to live their way, for a while. I'm going to see what it's like!"

Beatrice Huntington Davenport, in the mink coat that was so dark and shining, stepped out into the stream and let it carry her down the hither steps to the huge, busy subway station below the sidewalk.

The first thing she noticed was a bank of parcel lockers. Quickly, she slipped out of her coat, waded it up and opening one of the lockers pushed the expensive, tell-tale bundle inside. She slammed the door, took the key and walked rapidly away.

Kite Contest For Boys Is Arranged

A kite contest for boys of Midland under 18 years old will be held on the North Side school playground Saturday.

Prizes will be awarded for the smallest kite, largest kite, ugliest kite, prettiest kite, most unique kite, highest flying kite, and best box kite. Midland merchants will give prizes to winners. Co-operating are: Wadley's Department Store, J. C. Penny, Wilson Dry Goods, Perry Brothers, Harris-Luckett Store, Midland Hardware, and Safeway Stores.

Free airplane rides, sponsored by the Mustang Boys Club, also will be awarded as prizes.

The recreation department of the city playground association reported the new North Side playground has been graded and leveled, County Judge E. H. Barron providing the work.

Noted Archaeologist To Speak Tomorrow At Midland Meetings

As a special number on its year's program, Midland Town Hall will present E. M. F. Burnet, nationally-known archaeologist of Carlsbad, N. M., in a lecture at the high school auditorium, at 8 p. m. Thursday evening. The lecture will be a guest night, and Town Hall members may invite an unspecified number of guests.

Burnet explores remains of ancient man in the Guadalupe Mountains west of Carlsbad and in the Big Bend country of Texas. His contributions to archeology are recognized. He has been employed by the University of Pennsylvania, the United States natural museum, and the University of Nebraska museum.

He has lectured widely—most recently at the University of Toronto. He is curator of the Carlsbad museum, member of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, of the Association for the Advancement of Science, the Nebraska Academy of Science and other scientific organizations.

Four Races Come First

At least four races of people preceded the white man in this country, Burnet says. One of the oldest was a race that hunted elephants and musk ox in West Texas and New Mexico during the glacial period. Another, who lived here when the north part of North America was covered with ice, left unmistakable traces in the caverns of the Guadalupe, but their skeletons have not been found.

Burnet will discuss the caverns of the Guadalupe Mountains. The lecture will be an illustrated summary of the early history of mankind in the Southwest.

He will speak informally at noon Thursday to the Midland Geological Society.

Highlights From the Week's Oil News

(From The Oil & Gas Journal)

Included in the 470 wells completed throughout the nation this week—a gain of 14 over the previous week—were a number of important discoveries in almost every producing area. Outstanding was the pool opener in northern Archer County, North Texas, which helped establish the existence of a deep trend of production across the entire northern part of the county. It is believed that the find would be reflected largely in increased drilling at the Hull-Silk pool nearby.

California's Inglewood field also appeared to be due for considerable development following the completion of a good well in the northwestern end of the field outside of present production.

A growing phase of the industry in Oklahoma, secondary-recovery operations, gained attention as water-flood operators protesting the proposed construction of a flood-control dam, showed they had doubled production from the northeastern part of the state in the past five years.

Illinois operators, seeking to bolster their production, began developing some of the newly discovered small pools such as Mount Carmel for lack of prospects of a major strike. The same was true in East Texas where interest in the Hawkins pool declined. On the Louisiana Gulf Coast, oil flowed from a new well in the Perkins gas-distillate field, and apparently opened a new oil pool.

CALIFORNIA: Completion of an 1,850-bbl. well outside of present production in the northwest end of the Inglewood field started plans for new drilling in the area. At least 10 wells are expected to start in the next 30 days. Sand conditions at the new well indicated that the Sen-ton zone in the central and northern part of the field would prove highly productive.

TEXAS GULF COAST: Important production was opened from a new sand in the basal Frio formation in the Ganado field, and drilling activity is expected to step up as a result. Wildcat drilling increased and production tests were made at discovery wells in the West Ganado field, the new Vienna field and the Lake Creek area.

ARKANSAS: Oil was discovered in the McKame field and new production was found deep in the El Dorado field, bringing a revival of interest in the state.

WYOMING: The Tensleep horizon in the Mahoney Dome field was extended 1/4 mile.

LOUISIANA GULF COAST: The Perkins gas-condensate field apparently became an oil field after a new well flowed 22.8-gravity oil. A Wilcox test in the Glenmora area was abandoned and attention shifted to a deep test in the Eola field.

KANSAS: Extension of fields along the Barton arch, or Central Kansas uplift, continued with pool limits pushed out by new wells at Kraft, Neidenhal and Silica.

A new pool was showing in Stafford County northwest of the Hiss pool.

COLORADO: Sundance production at Wilson Creek was assured when the discovery well flowed 800 bbl. in 24 hours on a preliminary test.

NORTH TEXAS: Existence of a completions in all fields.

Texas Oil Operator Dies Of Heart Attack

WICHITA FALLS, March 12 — (AP) — J. I. Staley, 51, widely known Texas oil operator and head of the Staley Oil Company, was found dead in his bed at the family home here Wednesday morning. It was believed a heart attack caused his death. Staley began his career in a Burk Burnett bank. After riding the oil boom of that town to a fortune, he continued his operations in the principal pools of the state. It is estimated his operations took millions of barrels of oil from the ground.
