Fears Of Carlsbad Flood Dispelled; Canadian Is Threat

Dam Is Expected To Hold Off Pecos Crest

No Rains Are Reported In Pecos Watershed And State Without Flood Threat On Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

CARLSBAD, N. M., June 5.—L. E. Foster, U. S. reclamation superintendent here, said tonight fear that McMillan dam might not hold off the crest of the Pecos river flood expected tomorrow, had been dispelled.

"We feel the amount of water now expected," said Foster, "is not a menace to the dam. We think now there is adequate protection."

Dam Further Fortified

Foster said the reservoir now can handle two and one-half feet more water before it is threatened. The dam was further fortified today with sandbags.

Residents of Carlsbad and the surrounding valley, after making plans to evacuate earlier in the week for the most part were contented tonight that they were safe from an invasion of the river and made no move to flee their homes.

OKLAHOMA LOWLAND FLOODED

ARNETT, Okla., June 5. (AP)—Canadian flood waters were reported to have inundated more than 1,000 acres of lowland meadows tonight near Grand, Okla., near the Texas line.

Without Flood Threat

It was the first time in two weeks that New Mexico was without a serious flood threat.

In that period of time the Rio Grande, Pecos and Rio Hondo went on rampages, leaving an estimated damage of more than two million dollars.

Although the state highway department estimated $500,000 in damages to roads and bridges through the state alone, Chaves county and Roswell bore the brunt of the other losses due to the three wild floods which swept down the Rio Hondo from the White and Capitan mountains in less than a week.

No rains were reported on the Pecos watershed tonight. This river above the Alamogordo dam, twice threatened, was flowing at normal stage again and over the almost two hundred miles between here and the Alamogordo the stream was gradually falling.

Here's New Way Of Retrieving Lost Oil Bit

DOUGLAS, Wyo., June 5. (AP)—Charles "Shorty" Williams, who has been drilling oil wells in Wyoming for 20 years, is an impatient chap and not even a 75-foot hole 15 1-2 inches wide is going to stop him when he wants to drill.

Recently the company for which Williams works dropped its bit in a hole, and fishing operations to retrieve the lost tool were unsuccessful.

"Shorty" became restless, had a rope tied around himself and was lowered into the deep, narrow shaft. He found the bit, attached a chain to it and had himself and the tool hauled out.

Williams weights 130 pounds.

Italy Balks On New Spanish Patrol Plans

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, June 5.—Italy was understood tonight to have balked at one of the three points in the British proposal to draw Italy and Germany back into cooperation with the European "handsoff-Spain" committee.

Informed sources said the Italian comment on the British plan was received by Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, from Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italy's foreign minister.

Agrees To First Two Points

It was understood Count Ciano expressed agreement on the first two points of the proposal-dealing with the establishment of extended zones of security for warships of the international patrol around Spain and reciprocal undertakings not to indulge in further provocation.

Informed sources said the foreign minister expressed reserve, however, on the third point which would require consultations among the commanders of the international patrol naval forces before any reprisals be undertaken in case of an attack on a patrol vessel.

Germany and Italy withdrew from the non-intervention scheme Monday after German warships bombarded the Spanish port of Almeria following the bombing of the German pocket battleship Deutschland by Spanish government airplanes.

Tax On All Machine Power Is Said Necessary Sequel To Wage And Hour Measure

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Chairman Connery (D-Mass) of the house labor committee expressed the belief today that a tax on all machine power would be a necessary sequel to the administration's wage and hour bill.

He envisioned a tax on horsepower as a means of meeting the replacement of manpower by machines, a problem which he said the nation ultimately must face.

Late Summer Is Date Set For Adjournment

House Chiefs Look Over Slate And Express Opinions Session Is To Be Lengthened

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—House chiefs looked over the legislative slate with President Roosevelt today and returned to the capitol with predictions that congress probably would be in session until late summer.

Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn described the president as anxious for congress to act before adjournment on:

Nine Subjects Listed

Revamping the Supreme court, reorganizing governmental agencies, setting wage and hour standards, planning conservation of water, soil and power resources, aiding farm tenants, building low cost dwellings, closing loopholes used by tax dodgers, and extending nuisance taxes.

"Mr. Roosevelt," Bankhead said, "didn't insist on anything being passed but urged that we try to get all these matters through as soon as possible."

In Session Until August

"I think we'll be here maybe until the end of August," Rayburn remarked.

"I'm somewhat of a pessimist on adjournment," the speaker said, "but I certainly hope to be in Alabama on Labor day."

Planning and conservation legislation was the only addition today to a program disclosed by senate majority leader Robinson after a conference at the White House Thursday night.

Congressional leaders said they looked for no more major suggestions for legislation this session.

Tension In Steel Strike Grows As Pickets Declare Lines To Stand

VIOLENCE ON THE LABOR FRONT: This Associated Press photo shows a battle between striking and non-striking employes of a New Jersey laundry. It is typical of troubles which are enveloping industry and labor.

(By The Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 5—Republic Steel corp. fought in two courts today to free its plants from the grip of strikers, and the Steel Workers Organizing Committee countered with an avowal "pickets will no longer permit their lines to be broken, cost what it may."

"Sinister and bloody things are in the offing in Youngstown," declared the SWOC's Chairman Philip Murray as Republic obtained a court order directing pickets to permit access to its Warren and Niles plants and to give up "clubs . . . and other weapons."

In Chicago, scene of the strike fighting fatal to seven men last Sunday, Mayor Edward J. Kelly directed Republic to remove by Monday night the men encamped in its plant there. He said building and health regulations were being violated.

Pickets Driven From Bridge

These developments came a few hours after police and sheriff's deputies, bearing rifles and tear gas, drove several hundred pickets from a bridge adjoining a Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. plant here.

The pickets had gathered when a locomotive moved a box car of food quickly into the company's grounds.

"I shall use every effort available to protect lives and property," Sheriff Ralph E. Elser declared even as a group of men were using torches to cut the spur tracks over which the car had been moved.

Says Action Strike-Breaking

"We feel that this action on the part of Sheriff Elser is solely that of strike-breaking," was the reply of John Mayo, SWOC director here. "The steel union has repeatedly offered maintenance men to both Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic, thereby eliminating the

Townsend Plan Executives Quit

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 5.—Dr. Francis E. Townsend conferred with associates and refused any comment today after 12 major executives of his old age pension movement submitted their resignations.

The mass resignation of national officers was announced by J. W. Brinton, vice president and general manager of the Townsend National Recovery Plan, inc., and of the Townsend Weekly, after he and 11 other key executives had signed a formal statement criticizing the elderly California physician for carrying on "a fight against legislation proposed by the president which has no bearing on the Townsend plan."

DOCTOR'S VIEW QUOTED

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — Arthur L. Johnson, chairman of the Townsend plan legislative committee, said today Dr. Francis E. Townsend had described the movement's advocacy of $200 a month old age pensions as akin to "holding a wif of straw tied on a stick in front of a cow's nose to get the cow to follow you."

Johnson attributed this statement to Dr. Townsend in a letter of resignation to the old age pension leader which he made public. He said Townsend made the statement at a meeting Thursday of the general welfare act steering committee.

The other executives who resigned were:

Gilmour Young, national secretary-treasurer; Gilman Beeler, director of the Townsend National Legion; Harry B. Presson, Townsend

UAW Rally Held As Ford Group Is Organized

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 5.—The United Automobile Workers massed its membership for a rally in sight of the Ford Motor company today as a challenge to its organizing campaign came from an "independent" group of Ford employes.

The organization of the Ford Brotherhood of America, Inc., with a claim of 7,000 members signed in two days, was revealed by one of the founders, Byrd W. Scott, who said he has been a machinist at the Ford company for 20 years.

Charges Are Denied

Immediate charges of U.A.W.A. leaders that the brotherhood was a "company union" were met by a statement from Scott that the group had received no backing of any kind from the company.

Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, said he had no knowledge of the organization.

The brotherhood is charging an initiation fee of 50 cents. Scott said it has no dues, but each member may be assessed up to a maximum of one dollar a year to cover expenses.

To Protest Ejection

The U.A.W.A. called its mass meeting in Baby Creek park today to protest against handbills at gates of the Ford company's River Rouge plant May 26.

Also assembled in Detroit were delegates from U.A.W.A. locals in General Motors plants throughout the country, meeting to frame demands for revision of the union's agreement with that corporation. The agreement has been in effect since a widespread strike ended Feb. 11, and no move for revision can be made before June 11.

Cardenas Says Strike To End

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, June 5.—President Lazaro Cardenas announced late tonight the strike of 18,000 oil workers which has crippled the giant oil industry and virtually halted Mexico's motor traffic will come to an end Monday.

The president declared that all activities will be resumed in the extensive Mexican oil fields which have been paralyzed since the strike started May 28.

A brief statement issued by the chief executive failed to disclose what settlement had been reached to end the week-old walkout.

Striking workers had demanded pay raises, a 40-hour week, vacations with pay and a pension system, all of which the oil operators said were impossible to meet financially.

Machine Age Invades Army's Air Corps As Bugle Calls Are Given By Phonograph

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — Some of the romance of the army faded today when the air corps announced that it is using mechanical devices to play bugle calls without buglers.

The Air Corps News said that a control tower operator has taken over the duties of buglers at Mitchel Field, N. Y.

"By means of a phonograph with a crystal pick up, an amplifier and two high quality loud speakers," it explained, "bugle calls having exceptional clarity and perfection are played.

"An added feature, march music, is played four times daily. The Star Spangled Banner is played for retreat, and when reviews are scheduled troops march to the strains of the best bands in the land."

Wife-Selling In California Area Being Investigated

(By The Associated Press)

NEVADA CITY, Calif., June 5.—William Ebaugh, 29, six-foot, 235-pound Willow Valley woodsman, was held in jail today on a charge of Mrs. Ray Delama, 39, that he kept her captive for three months after "buying" her from her husband for $20.

William B. Woods, sheriff's deputy, said Ebaugh admitted paying Mrs. Delama's husband $20 for his cabin prisoner, and also admitted he broke her ribs "when I hugged her too tight."

Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen started a search for Delama to question him concerning the contention of his wife and Ebaugh that he agreed to the $20 wife transaction.

Woods said Ebaugh was under a $200 peace bond at the time of his arrest for the imprisonment of Mrs. Delama. The officer said Ebaugh was confined in the Napa state hospital in 1927 and often "ran wild" in Nevada City, threatening peo-

No Compromise Is Word Given By Opposition

Move Begun By Administration Termed "Pure Face Saving"; McCarran, Burke Give Views

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Senate foes of the Roosevelt court bill threatened bluntly today to filibuster to the point of exhaustion against any compromise increasing the size of the Supreme court.

This was their reaction to negotiations begun by administration men in an effort to obtain a vote on a compromise bill this summer.

Denouncing the move as "pure face saving," Senator McCarran (D-Nev) grimly said "I will stand in the senate until I drop against a compromise."

Forty Foes Are Ready

Senator Burke (D-Neb), echoing his views, told newspapermen 40 court bill foes were ready to filibuster any compromise that would increase the membership of the high court. But he and others said a filibuster would not be necessary, because they would have the votes to beat any such attempt.

The administration men have not announced what compromise would be acceptable to them, but speculation has centered on proposals to name two or three additional judges now or one a year. The administration legislation as it now stands would add five at once unless the five incumbents past 70 retire.

Borah Is Opposed

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) announced today that he was opposed to "any plan, or scheme, which gives, or tends to give, political control over the courts."

Charging that for years lower court judges had been picked by political machines, Borah took the offensive with a demand that "instead of bringing the court nearer to the political influences of the government, we could do the people of this country a great service by removing the courts farther and farther away from political control."

The April cash income amounted to $583,000,000, compared with $493,000,000 in the same month of last year. Government payments totaled $76,000,000 compared with $37,000,000.

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — A resolution adopted at the Amarillo, Tex., five-state conference of drouth area workers, calling for creation of an "authority" for the area, today bore the endorsement of great plains congressmen.

Original states named at the Amarillo meeting were Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, and Kansas. Those added are Wyoming, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Early Action On Park Development And Recreational Programs To Be Asked

Projects Will Get Attention

Park development and utilization of their recreational potentialities gave evidence Saturday of becoming matters to demand early and increased attention of the city commission, with the possibility that one or both may come before the weekly commission meeting at city hall Thursday.

J. I. Kilpatrick, chairman of a recreational committee organized at a recent meeting of the chamber of commerce, said that the group is assembling data for presentation to the commission as soon as available to urge that a WPA recreational project be set up without delay. He was uncertain, however, as to whether the information which has been sought from othr cities can be obtained and assembled in time for the commission session.

Election To Be Asked

Members of the city park board, of which K. N. Clapp is chairman, announced that they expect to urge that an election be held at an apportune time on the proposal that a portion of the city's tax rate be designated specifically for park purposes. That plan, as urged by Clapp, would enable the park board to do its planning several years in advance with the assurance that money would be available to continue a sustained program of development. At present, appropriations for park purposes are made each year by the city commission.

Of the two matters, that pertaining to recreation was expected by city officials to be the first demanding attention. The recreational committee headed by Kilpatrick has held numerous conferences and will hold others during the next few weeks to work out a project which, in broad outline, will create a trained personnel to be paid on the basis of one-third by the city and two-thirds by the WPA, involving a total suggested initial outlay for the first year of $3,000 and $6,000 to the WPA. The personnel would be assigned to four city parks to direct play and activities for all age classes, ranging from small children to adults of any age wishing to participate.

Activities Are Hurried

Two circumstances, Kilpatrick said, are causing the committee to hasten its activities as much as possible. The first is that children out of school for the vacation are in need of a constructive outlet for their energies. Provision of that outlet he described as the primary object of the project. Second of the circumstances is that prolonged delay may endanger the possibility to obtain WPA assistance in financing the undertaking.

In regard to the new proposed plan of insuring revenue for parks, Clapp made clear that the board had no quarrel with the present commission. He explained, however, that for a board not to know until the year actually has well begun what appropriation it may have makes impossible the devising of any development program. He pointed out also that it is entirely possible that some commission in the future might refuse any appropriation at all. Clapp suggested that the setting aside of two mills in the city tax rate would mean an assured income for park operations and developments of approximately $40,000 a year on the basis of present assessed valuations.

Members of the board stressed that a park expansion program has become a vital need because the numerous vacant lots which once were convenient playgrounds rapidly are becoming a thing of the past, as Lubbock continues its remarkable building pace.

As a consequence, they added, many children are forced into streets if they are to have any place to play.

Paris' first restaurant, opened in the 18th century, had these words above its door: "Come all ye that labor with the stomach and I will restore you."

Three-Weeks 'School' In Water Plant Work Is Scheduled Here; To Assist Towns And Communities With Water Problems

A three weeks "school" designed to assist towns and cities of the South Plains within a 75-mile radius of Lubbock in solving their water problems was announced Saturday as having been assured for this city.

The course will begin Monday night, June 14, in the city commission room at the city hall, and meetings will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday night of each of the three weeks.

Experts To Be In Charge

In charge of the program will be experts of the industrial division of the state education department, which will present the course in cooperation with the city.

Assurance that the course will be available here was given Saturday after J. N. Hinyard of Austin, from the state department of education had conferred here with city officials including Marlin R. (Red) Smith, city engineer, and J. C. Oliver, district engineer with headquarters in Lubbock for the state health department.

The school here, Hinyard said, will be similar to those already held in Amarillo and San Angelo—the only places in West Texas aside from Lubbock to be selected for the courses. Approximately 50 water officials from towns and cities in the Panhandle attended the Amarillo course.

To Assist Communities

The instructions, as explained Saturday, have the primary objectives of assisting towns and cities to become assured of sanitation in their water supply. In addition, other discussions and talks will be of value in assisting communities and individuals in locating and developing such supplies. Plans are, it was announced, to devote at least one session of the conference to a roundtable conducted by a geologist.

Formal announcement that the course has been assured also stated: "Those attending these conference classes will be furnished a certificate upon completion, and will acquire information helpful to securing a water plant operator's license. The specific water and sanitation problems of Lubbock and surrounding territory will be discussed. This will be of primary interest to actual operators engaged in the field, and to all those responsible in any way for sanitary condition of the town or municipality."

Subjects Are Listed

Typical of subjects for discussion at various sessions were listed the following: surface and ground water, wells and pumps; elementary chemistry of water, corrosion, incrustation and boiler waters; elementary bacteriology, pollution, water borne diseases; water treatment by chlorination, filtration, algae control and the like; sewer disposal, plants and treatment processes; and water distribution systems and state department of health recommended practices.

Hinyard, who will conduct the courses, explained that programs will be arranged so as to avoid long and dry lectures. Discussions will be more the roundtable type, in which all attending will be invited to participate. They likewise will be sufficiently brief to permit attendance of water plant workers in nearby towns without delaying their return home until unreasonable hours.

Expectation is that groups of such employes in practically every town and community on the Plains will attend the course, which will be offered without charge or obligation of any sort. An especial invitation will be extended to them to attend, but city officials added that any person interested will be welcomed.

Java is the world's most heavily populated island. It population is estimated to exceed 36,000,000, although the island has an area of only 48,504 square miles.

Plans Made For 4-H Encampment

Entertainment plans for the coming annual 4-H club encampment at Texas Technological college June 25-26, were discussed yesterday afternoon by sponsors of 4-H clubs with Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent, in his office. Committees were named to handle several details.

D. O. Williams, County Line and Earl Fine, Posey, were named on the eats committe.

C. T. Potts, Barton, was named on the entertainment committee. He plans a boxing tournament, including one with contestants tied in toe sacks. Other games include a peanut game, kissing game, hog calling contest, chicken calling contest, egg throwing contest, potato race and foot race.

Soft ball games are planned. The group visited to County Superintendent Joseph R. Griggs to discuss bus transportation to take boys from the campus to the swimming pool and back, during the encampment.

In Jerusalem's 33 centuries of history, she has endured over 20 sieges and blockades, about 18 reconstructions and six changes from one religion to another.

First Step In Reorganization Of WPA Headquarters Offices Is Completed

First step toward reorganization of headquarters offices for the altered and enlarged Lubbock district of the WPA was announced as complete Saturday as records of five counties to be transferred to Amarillo district were made ready for shipment to Amarillo, according to announcement of district officials here.

The records, weighing a total of more than 1,300 pounds, are those of Castro, Parmer, Swisher, Briscoe and Hall counties. They will be shipped Monday.

Lubbock district thus becomes one of the first, if not the first in the state, to make its formal transfer of counties it will lose under a general reorganization which reduced the number of districts in Texas from 20 to 12.

Counties Are Added

While losing five counties, 14 will be added to Lubbock district, making a total of 24 in which WPA operations will be directed from here as compared with 15 in the past. The added counties will be from discontinued Big Spring, Abilene and Wichita Falls offices, and transfers of those records are expected by June 15.

District officials said reorganization of personnel, which will involve several additions to the district staff here now are in the hands of State Administrator H. P. Drought at San Antonio. No indication has been given, it was added, as to who may be brought here although officials said the changes likely will not affect those already employed in Lubbock district headquarters.

Belief was expressed that the transfers, involving many thousands of records, can be completed without any interruption of projects under construction or delay of those contemplated for start.

Sound Warning Given Man For Dumping Trash On Vacant Lot

As an echo of the arrest Friday night of a Lubbock resident for dumping trash on a vacant lot in the Mexican quarter, came a sound warning from City officials that persons violating the ordinance prohibiting that act will be fined.

Offenders will be prosecuted and fined as is provided in the ordinance which prescribes that violators may be fined as much as $100, according to W. W. Stafford of the city sanitation department.

The offender Friday night was lectured by officials, and from police headquarters came the warning. "From now on, violators of that ordinance will not be lectured, but fined."

Residents are asked to take trash to the city dumping ground southeast of town.

Driving an automobile is a new prerequisite for a course in Texas Technological college.

To enroll for the traffic safety course to be offered during the first term of a summer school, a person must be a teacher and must have a driver's license.

The course will be offered by the civil engineering department in cooperation with the American Automobile association and the Texas Highway Patrol and is in keeping with the developing tendency to use education as a means of fighting traffic fatalities.

Complete Instructions Offered

Teachers who expect to teach traffic safety courses in their schools will receive training in the course, which will offer instruction in limitations, responsibilities, and duties of the driver and pedestrian, causes of accidents and their prevention, sound driving practices, traffic laws and their reasonableness, the automobile and its place in modern life, and organization and administration of the course in the secondary school.

Instruction will be offered through lectures, classroom discussions, written papers, and road demonstrations.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, is encouraging organization of traffic safety classes in high schools. He is president of the education sub-committee of the Governor's Traffic Saftey committee.

Hospital Sites To Be Offered

Assurance that Lubbock will be in position to offer several sites measuring to the most exacting requirements for a West Texas State hospital to be established soon was given Saturday by Sam J. McFarland, chairman of a chamber of commerce committee named to secure options on suitable tracts.

Glen Hess, also a Lubbock real estate dealer, was resignated by McFarland to assist him in the undertaking.

Options Are Obtained

McFarland said Saturday that options on four tracts in as many different directions from Lubbock have been obtained and that he has at least two others "in sight." He added that he and Hess have several other inspections to make and at the same time, he invited any landowners with sites they consider suitable to submit them at his office in the Leader building, 1104 1-2 Broadway. Minimum requirements for a site are that it must include 300 acres of good agricultural land, although the state board of control has advised that it prefers 500 acres of such land and up to 1,000 acres more of area of lesser quality.

The obtaining of options progressed while plans were made for service early meeting of a general hospital committee headed by C. E. Maedgen which will press Lubbock's fight for the hospital before the state board. While the meetings have not actually been set, expectation is that some will be held during the present week.

June 30 Is Deadline

Cities contending for the hospital must present their applications by June 30, after which the board of control will set public hearings in various of the applicant centers. A new contender for the institution reported to have entered the fight during the last week was Abilene, which joined in competition with Lubbock, Sweetwater, Midland and Big Spring among others seeking the hospital.

Provision is made that the hospital must be located west of the 100th meridian or in a county through which that meridian passes. Abilene is east of the dividing mark which, however, crosses the western edge of Taylor county.

Legislative measure creating the hospital appropriation an initial sum of $817,000 for its establishment, but chamber of commerce officials here said that its development will involve expenditures of several million dollars in the next eight or 10 years in addition to its initial maintenance cost and payroll of approximately $500,000 a year.

Flood Situation

ported earlier at Logan, N. M., on a rampaging 14-foot rise, began a slow fall.

Earlier today, the stream, on its second flood in a week, already had claimed one life.

Cowboy Is Drowned

Normal freight and passenger service was restored on the Fort Worth and Denver railroad between Amarillo and Denver.

A week of freakish weather which left little of the state untouched, produced heavy rains, hail, a suggestion of snow, electrical storms, heat, a tornado and dust.

Farmers and rangemen, however, seemed agreed that crops and pasture lands were generally benefitted.

Panhandle residents observed that the dust was not from Texas but blown from northern points.

TEMPERATURE VARIES HERE

A 32-degree range in temperatures Saturday reflected a continuance of weather variety experienced by the South Plains last week.

A 17-mile north wind freighted in a snappy 49-degree cold wave early Saturday morning but sunshine vanquished the chill before noon and, in the afternoon, the maximum reading of 81 degrees was recorded.

Adjournment Date

remained the big hurdle in the path to adjournment. Bankhead and Rayburn said they discussed it only generally at the White House.

Bankhead said the house would take no action on it until it appeared an agreement had been reached in the senate. He said there might be some "development" in the other branch "in the next week," but that was "just a guess."

Administration leaders in the senate are hinting compromise, and there has been speculation that they would be willing to take two or three new judges. But some of the bill's foes are threatening to filibuster against any increase whatever in the tribunal's membership.

Lamesa Makes Application For New State Hospital

LAMESA, June 5. (Special)—The city of Lamesa is making application for the West Texas state hospital for the insane which will be located at some place west of the one hundredth meridian. A committee has been authorized to obtain an option on the required amount of land for the site of the institution, and a brief of the advantages offered by Lamesa is being prepared to submit with official application. It was pointed out by the leaders here in the fight for the hospital that Lamesa is centrally located for the territory to be served, and that the requirements for the location of the institution can be met and many additional advantages can be offered.

Tension Grows In Steel Strike

necessity of strike-breakers within the plants."

"The pickets will no longer permit their lines to be broken, cost what it may," he advised Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, whose negotiations to end the strike apparently were stalemated.

The SWOC pressed forward its campaign to "shut off the source of supply" by calling out iron miners in Minnesota and Michigan. Workers at two plants were idle because Republic was unable to unload shipments at its mills.

With the strike in its 11th day, Republic, Steel & Tube and Inland Steel Co. showed no signs of retreat from their stand that signing of a contract with the SWOC would lead to "a closed shop and the checkoff." Nor did the union relinquish its insistence that signed contracts were necessary to send 73,000 men, idle in seven states, back to work.

Tension grew in Ohio's Mahoning valley, where more than 30,000 men are idle. Hot words flew across the barred gates of steel plants.

The order issue by Judge Lynn B. Griffith of the state common pleas court at nearby Warren, directed pickets and union leaders to refrain "from interfering with the free access of employes" and their "free return to their homes."

The alternative writ ordered the defendants to comply or show cause next Thursday why an injunction should not be issued. Republic had sought an immediate temporary injunction.

Chapman Will Hear Cases

Announcement that an exchange of benches will bring the state's youngest district judge, Alton B. Chapman of Spur, to Lubbock for trial of criminal cases in 99th district court Monday and Tuesday was made Saturday by Judge E. Li. Pitts of 99th court.

Judge Pitts will preside during a criminal term in 110th district court at Floydada the same two days, returning to Lubbock Wednesday to call the trial of W. E. (Bill) Earnest, former deputy sheriff here, on charges growing out of a fatal automobile collision near Floydada last February 14. Two indictments were returned against Earnest, one charging him with murder while driving while intoxicated and the other with failure to stop and render aid. He is at liberty under bond.

Former District Attorney

The exchange of benches was ordered because Judge Chapman, recently was appointed to the bench while serving as district attorney. Several cases scheduled for trial at Floydada were presented to the grand jury by him while he was prosecutor. Judge Chapman is 32 years of age.

In Lubbock he is scheduled to hear several expected pleas of guilty Monday and to impanel the petit jury for the week at 9 a. m. Tuesday for any contested cases which may come up that day.

Settings for the week, as announced by District Attorney Burton S. Burks include, with names of defendants and nature of charges:

H. H. Roberts, disposing of mortgaged property; W. L. Bonham, removing mortgaged property; O. M. Iles, forgery, W. H. Ballard, swindling over $50; and R. B. Bell, disposing of mortgaged property. Settings for several other cases may be asked, the district attorney said.

In 72nd district court, Judge Daniel A. Blair will devote the week to trials of contested civil cases. His criminal docket is set for call next week.

Retired Teacher, 76, To Take Taxi To Mexico City And Back

NORWOOD, Mass., June 5. (AP)—A 7,000-mile taxi ride to Mexico City and return will begin Monday for Miss Emily Curtis Fisher, 76-year-old retired normal school instructor.

Miss Fisher prefers automobiles to trains, although she neither owns nor drives a car. So she engaged Fred Schaler, Norwood taxi chauffeur, to drive her and five women companions to the Dallas, Tex., exposition to "see America first," then south to the Mexican capital along a newly opened motor road.

Cause of his illness was not determined immediately.

WALGREEN MAKES DONATION

CHICAGO, June 5. (AP)—President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago announced today the school had received a gift of $550,000 from Charles R. Walgreen, chain drug store operator, who less than two years ago criticized the university for "red" activities and caused his niece, Lucille Norton, to cancel her enrollment.

Mirages in South Africa occasionally are so distinct as to make animals hurry to drink from visionary pools.

Two Sudan And Two Lubbock Men Are Charged At Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., June 5. (Special) An open charge that might be prosecuted as anything from a reckless driving case to manslaughter was filed here by C. M. Compton, assistant district attorney, against two men who, allegedly, drove into a parked automobile and killed Thurman Birchfield, 16, of Farwell, Texas, a mile east of Clovis Wednesday night.

The men, 24, and 20 years old, live at Sudan, Texas.

Two other men, W. L. Bowers, 20, of Texico and George Collier, 22, of Bovina remained serious. They, too, were injured.

Funeral rites for Birchfield will be read at 2:30 o'clock (Texas time) Sunday afternoon at the Texico First Baptist church.

Criminal charges also were filed against John L. English and John Laney, both of Lubbock, who pleaded guilty before Justice Morgan to a hit-and-run charge growing out of their striking with their automobile a motorcycle ridden by Dave Jackson, motorcycle patrolman. The mishap was at the scene of the accident in which Birchfield was fatally injured.

English pleaded not guilty of a charge of drunken driving. The two Lubbock men were bound over to district court under bonds of $1,000 each.

Griggs Is Speaker At First Exercises Held At School

A wearied Lubbock county school superintendent, Joseph R. Griggs, returned to his home along toward dawn Saturday after having overcome difficulties to deliver a commencement address at first graduating exercises for the nine graduates of affiliated Klondyke rural high school, nine miles south of Lamesa.

Griggs was delayed in his departure and still was several miles from the school when a tire puncture difficult to repair halted him. A farmer living nearby, however, came to his assistance, took the Lubbock superintendent to the school and then returned to repair the punctured casing while Griggs made the commencement address.

Miss Pauline Bulsterbaum, superintendent of Dawson county schools in which Klondyke is located, also attended the exercises.

Map Showing Zones Affected By Eclipse

The above map shows the area in which the Tuesday eclipse of the sun will be visible. Uninhabited islands, in the main, will be in the path of the black-out, but the South Plains will be in the "edged" visibility area described within the northern limit of partial eclipse. Dr. R. S. Underwood of Texas Technological college said the phenomenon would be apparent here from 2:56 to 4 o'clock that afternoon, approximately.

plates and delicate recording apparatus will be taken to pieces later in laboratories, where "special attention will be given to the sun's 'corona' and the chromosphere, a thin ring of reddish light from which reddish prominences project, these matters being visible only during total eclipse. Photographs of the "flash spectrum' will permit measurements of heights to which vapors rise from the sun's surface."

Here's What Happens

Now as to what actually will happen:

A vast cone of blackness will project itself earthward from the moon, which will be a fifth of a million miles off. The cone's base will be a diameter of 155 miles, at a time known to the western hemisphere's population as Tuesday morning, just after dawn. It, however, will begin on the other side of the international date line a day after it ends in Peru!

The earth being a ball, the shadow will move over the surface with great rapidity, the shadow being elliptical and, it gives way to piercing sun rays.

Its speed will be 21 miles a minute.

Scientists had said the breadth of partial eclipse would be many thousands of miles wide on either side of the total track. In the early afternoon it will be visible to some degree over a large area of the 40th parallel and almost all of Texas, as well as the southern half of Nevada, the southern third Utah and the southwestern corner of Colorado, all of Arizona, and practically all New Mexico.

Summer Term Opens Monday

Registration for the first term of summer school at Texas Technological college will be conducted Monday and classes will begin at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. The term will end July 16 and the second term will be held July 19 to Aug. 23.

Many persons planning to enroll for summer school arrived last week. The majority is arriving this week-enk.

Registration procedure will begin in the corridors of the admistration building, said Registrar W. P. Clement. Students later will report to their respective divisions. Registration will be conducted from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 2 to 5 p. m. Late registration regulations will be in force Tuesday morning.

To Be Photographed

New students will be photographed without charge, for identification purposes. Students must obtain a physical examination.

The faculty for summer school is composed of more than 100 regular faculty members and several visiting instructors.

Visiting faculty members will include: Paul T. Manchester, assistant professor of romance languages at Vanderbilt university, who will be visiting professor of Spanish; Mrs. Hazel McKibben Kuehn, former assistant professor of home economics education, who will be professor of home economics education; Martha Elisabeth Smith, apprentice teacher in Purdue university nursery school, who will be assistant in the nursery school; Clara Secrest, teacher of penmanship and drawing in Big Spring public schools, who will teach penmanship; and three visiting education faculty members: Charles Marvin Rogers, superintendent of Amarillo public schools; Dr. L. H. Moore, education professor at Texas State College for Women; Dr. L. B. Exell, who received his doctor's degre in the June commencement at the University of Texas.

History Being Made In Interior Of Brazil Through Gifts From Lubbock Persons

History is being made in the interior of Brazil through gifts from Lubbock persons.

Natives from miles about flocked to the small interior town of Corrente to marvel at a modern refrigerator which was presented to the Baptist mission there by the young people's department of the Lubbock First Baptist church.

Goes Down In History

The mayor immediately sent a telegram to the governor of the state, who proclaimed that the advent of the modern convenience would go down in history of the state.

Astonishment of the natives again will be invoked when a piano purchased a few days ago by Miss Ruby Atwood reaches Corrente. Miss Atwood, teacher in Junior and Senior High schools, will send the piano to the mission as a gift.

Wonderment over the tones issuing from a black object are expected to rival excitement the natives displayed over seeing ice cream come from the refrigerator. In only one place in the state can ice cream be purchased, and that didn't appear to the natives like the ice cream made in the refrigerator. The local group sent the gift to the mission last fall.

The piano possibly will be sent to Corrente with a couple living in the mission who will visit in Texas this summer.

Shipping Comes High

If not sent in that manner, it will be shipped. Freight duty, including that overland from Lubbock to New Orleans and by ship from there to Purnambuco, Brazil, will be $35 and import duty, $95. The piano is a small Baldwin.

In addition to the refrigerator, which is operated with kerosene, there is a radio and an automobile "pick-up" at the mission. Both have been considered material for history.

Miss Atwood is acquainted with work of the mission, called the Instituto Battista Industrial, through Bionnye Foreman from Clovis, N. M. one of the three missionaries there.

The presence of the objects unusual to that country at the mission apparently is centering attention of three states in northern Brazil upon the small town, said Miss Atwood. One of the few conveniences already located in the town was the telegraph.

Hubbers Down Big Spring In Fast Game, 5-1; Teams Play At 3 O'clock Toda

Slim Spradlin Handcuffs Oilers With Five Hits; Blanchard Hurls Today

BY COLLIER PARRIS

LOUD base blows by Jack Thompson, Ed Hambright, Harold Crites and Andy Anderson, at opportune times, brought in runners and gave the hustling Lubbock Hubbers an exciting 5 to 1 victory over the Cosden Oilers from Big Spring at the local park yesterday afternoon.

The inter-district diamond rivalry will continue today, starting at 3 o'clock, when the same teams, with different pitchers, clash in the second and concluding game of the series.

Lefty Blanchard, the southpaw ace of the Lubbock hurling staff, is slated to ascend the mound for Lubbock today, dividing time with another lefty, Beans Pair, if the occasion demands. Neither toiled in yesterday's contest.

Manager Pepper Martin was not certain of his starting pitcher for today's game. He has a wealth of material—Horace Wallin, former T. C. U. star; Chuck Morgan, Hagerman Cook and Wiggins—to send to the hill in addition to Pat Stacey, who pitched good baseball yesterday.

Crowd Expected Today

Yesterday's small crowd, held back partially by weather conditions, muddy roads, and other things, should contrast sharply with what is expected to be a large turnout for today's encounter, weather permitting.

Long, lanky Slim Spradlin, the hero of last Sunday's second game with the Amarillo Oilers, got his first start yesterday, and he was still out there pouring in his high, hard one, his "schoolhouse curve," and his wicked change of pace when the game was over. At the end of nine innings, the big right hander had allowed a total of five hits, had struck out seven batsmen and otherwise had accounted for himself in fine fashion. He got his eye off the ball once on a fielding play, but caused the next man to pop up and thereby absolved himself of the error.

Spradlin pitched eight shutout innings, the Cosdens scoring in the third when Pitcher Pat Stacey walked, advanced on an "interference" at the plate, and scored when Carmen Brandon was hit, forcing in a run. Tommy Hutto, meanwhile, had walked, filling the sacks. Spradlin made up for it by pitching airtight baseball for the rest of the game. No hits were registered in the inning that Big Spring scored.

Defensive Work Shines

Fine defensive work on the part of Lubbock outfielders saved two runs in the second inning. Brandon, former Rice Institute star, had doubled to open the inning. Jack Thompson took the hit off the right field wall, threw splendidly to Blue Graham at short, who bullieted a heave to Anderson, Lubbock catcher, who caught Brandon several feet from the platter.

Another putout at the plate was made a few minutes later. Jesse Sherrod, second baseman, singled sharply to center. Spider Morgan hit to right field, but Thompson recovered it, heaved it home barely in time for Anderson to catch Sherrod, who was streamlining for the plate.

Another putout at the plate was made a few seconds later. Jesse Sherrod, Cosden second sacker, hit safely to center field. Spider Morgan, center fielder, followed with a hard one that bounced away from Graham at short. Thompson, coming in fast, recovered the ball and threw like a shot to Anderson who tagged Sherrod inches from the plate.

Still another putout was made at the plate, in the sixth inning, when Graham made up for his error by catching a hard grounder and throwing Sherrod out in a close play at the plate.

The Hubbers combed Pat Stacey, ace righthander for the Big Spring team, for eleven bingles. Crites and Anderson collecting two-baggers. Sammy Rosenthal's team scored in the first inning, the second, the fifth and the eighth.

Hambright Scores Breedlove

Presenting a changed batting order, Ed Hambright led off and drew a pass. He advanced on a wild pitch by Stacey, and went to third on Lefty Bettes' long fly to center. Graham struck out, but Thompson singled sharply to center, scoring Hambright. Crites singled, but Tobe Pair whiffed.

In the second, following the thrilling putouts at the plate by Lubbock defenders, Winfield Breedlove led off with a single. He got no farther than third on Anderson's double, but Hambright's single brought him in, after Spradlin had struck out, Stacey fanned Bettes, and Graham grounded out, Martin to Hutto.

There was fine fielding on the port of the Big Spring team, which played errorlessly except for Jake Morgan's fumbel of Thompson's hard grounder in the fifth. Martin at third, Hutto at first, Rat Ramsey catching, Morgan and West and Brandon in the outfield, looked good for Big Spring.

After Big Spring's run in the third, there was a shutout inning, during which six men went to bat. In the fifth, after again setting the visitors down in order, Lefty Bettes led off with a single. Graham flied to right, and Thompson was safe on Jake Morgan's bobble. Harold Crites took a toe-hold and planted a two-bagger to left scoring Bettes and Thompson. Crites was thrown out trying to make it a triple, and Tobe Pair fanned.

The concluding run of the game came in the eighth when, after stifling a Cosden rally, the Hubbers hit safely three times. After Thompson grounded to short, Crites got his third hit of the game—the only player in the contest to hit safely more than twice—and Tobe Pair followed with another single. Pair was forced at second on Breedlove's grounder, but Anderson smashed a fine single to score Crites. Anderson, in turn, was forced at second on Spradlin's grounder to Martin at third, retiring the side and Lubbock for the afternoon.

Braddock Begins To Celebrate 31st Birthday

GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 5. (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock started celebrating today what he says will be the happiest birthday anniversary of his life.

The "Cinderella man of boxing," who only a few years ago was a number on the New Jersey relief rolls, will be 31 years old Monday, record books which say he will be 32 notwithstanding.

Before him—on the night of June 22 at Chicago—is a million-dollar "gate" bout with Joe Louis. And next fall, take it from him, he'll be battling none other than Max Schmeling for another piece of real money.

The titleholder, who says quietly he is "in 100 per cent better shape now than when I beat Max Baer two years ago," was in a happy mood today when he cut loose against five sparmates, using his left almost continually. The champion gave Mal Roesch of Dallas a pummeling for two rounds.

The record books say the champion will be 32 Monday. Manager Gould said when Braddock was 20 he intentionally added a year to his age to permit him to fight 10-round bouts in New York, which requires boxers going that distance to be 21 or more.

Tom Wiley Leads Skeeters At Tournament Half-Time

TYLER, June 5. (AP)—Tom Wiley, veteran Tyler marksman, led at the half-way mark tonight in the all bore championship in the Texas Skeet association's nineth annual tourney after breaking 145 of 150 targets during the day.

A Shreveport La., shooter, Paul Weeks, and two Tyler teammates, K. C. Miller, small guage title winner, and John Lawhon, were close on Wiley's heels. Further back, but still in the running were Tate Taylor, San Benito; M. C. Kirkley, Woodville; O. G. Lance, Galveston; Lee Welland, Paris, and Roy Cherry, Dallas.

Pirate Outfielder, Freddie Schulte, Injured By Pitch

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Fred Schulte, Pittsburgh Pirates' utility outfielder, was injured by a pitched ball in today's game with the Giants, but physicians said tonight x-ray examinations showed no sign of a fracture.

One of Rookie Cliff Melton's slants hit Schulte high on the head and knocked him unconscious in the eighth inning of the game. He was carried to the clubhouse, where he regained consciousness, and afterward was taken to Polyclinic hospital.

Dizzy Dean Back On Firing Line To Win 3-1 For Cards

PHILADELPHIA, June 5. (AP) — Dizzy Dean, suspended for three days for "popping off," returned to action today and, although he struck out three times, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3 to 1 victory over the Phillies. It was his seventh victory of the season against four defeats.

Dizzy complained of a sore arm before the game, but it must have been his left one because he yielded only six hits, issued only one base on balls and struck out seven. In the sixth when Scharein singled and Chuck Klein doubled with only one out, Dizzy complained of the heat and called time while he sat down on the pitcher's mound to cool off.

War Admiral Cops Belmont Stakes For 3-Year-Old 'Triple Crown'

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP) — War Admiral, the mighty little son of Man O'War, flashed a record-smashing display of speed today to capture the classic Belmont Stakes with ease and become the fourth three-year-old in thoroughbred history to wear the prized "triple crown."

Despite an injury to his right fore-quarter at the very start, where the odds-on favorite in the seven-horse field kicked himself and nearly went down, War Admiral spurted quickly to the front, kept full command all the way.

The sensational Samuel D. Riddle colt galloped home four good lengths in front of Maxwell Howard's Sceneshifter, with the long-shot Vamoose in third place, ten lengths further back, and the highly-rated Pompoon a badly whipped sixth. Pompoon, which had chased War Admiral home in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness this spring, never was a contender.

Although under no pressure at any stage and not touched once by Jockey Charley Kurtsinger's whip, War Admiral equalled the American record and knocked a fifth-second off his daddy's track record by stepping the mile and a half in 2.28 3-5. Handy Mandy, carrying 109, set that mark in 1927.

A crowd of 35,000, one of the greatest in Belmont history acclaimed the three-year-old king.

War Admiral went to the post the 9 and 10 choice but won like a 1 to 10 shot. The victory added $38,000 to the colt's rapidly mounting earning now totalling $144,620 for this season and $159,420 for two years of racing.

Toronto Fans Dislike Idea Of Ordering Race Re-Run

The riotous scene developed after the second race had been ordered rerun as the result of the absence from the track of one of the entries. Some members of the crowd held tickets on the original winner of the race.

Fist fights between police and members of the crowd developed before the track finally was cleared.

Miss Jameson, who only six weeks o walloped still another Curtis up team member, Mrs. Frank ldthwaite of Fort Worth, in the als of the Texas championship, s even women's par in her parade the finals today.

Matches Men's Par

Miss Jameson's conquest of Miss lley turned into a rout after they 't the first green. Winner of the st hole with a par four when she ried a six-foot putt, she played thout error and matched men's r in wnning six of the first seven les.

Miss Miley won a hole back at e eighth when she laid Miss meson a stymie and they turn- the nine with Miss Jameson five . At the 181-yard par three tenth iss Miley hooked her tee shot out bounds and went six down again.

The Kentucky youngster, far off r game, started a rally when six wn and six to play, winning the 2-yard thirteenth with a birdie ur and picking up the fourteenth th a par. Miss Jameson, however, uelched the threat by slamming a 15-footer for a birdie three at e fifteenth.

Earlier Miss Jameson had won a e-saw battle from Mrs. Hill at e home hole after leading from e eighth tee. One down after the venteenth hole, Miss Jameson rdied seven and eight and nursed r lead through the finish.

Miss Miley played great golf in r morning victory over Mrs. Lu- lle Robinson Mann of Milwaukee, rning in a 3 and 2 win that nashed an old jinx. Mrs. Mann had feated Miss Miley in their last ur starts and today's lacing was e first she had received from the entucky star.

Berg Beats Anella

Miss Berg, who three weeks ago as playing golf in a chilly Min- esota weather, was almost over- me by the heat today before she iminated Mrs. Goldthwaite in her mi-final match 3 and 2.

The Minneapolis red-head, around e first nine in 40 to grab a three- le lead from Mrs. Goldthwaite, w it melt to two holes when she ngled with a tree at the par five relfth and came off with an eight. rs. Goldthwaite whittled Miss erg's lead down to one hole at the 0-yard fourteenth with a perfect r three while Patty was three- tting.

At the fifteenth, however, Patty t a booming wood, pitched to the en and two-putted for a win- ng par four while Mrs. Goldth- aite in constant trouble on the ens, was carding three more tts. A birdied four at the six- enth ended the match.

Patty had a scare in her morn- g match, charging in on the last ree holes to beat Mrs. Dan Chan- ler of Dallas, former old Mexico d Texas champion, 2 and 1. Mrs. handler held a one-hole lead hen they walked to the fifteenth e but Patty fired two pars and a rdie to win the next three holes.

Mrs. Goldthwaite waded into the mi-finals with a crushing, 7 and triumph over Mrs. E. R. Hury of an Antonio, a long hitting player mpeting in her first major tour- ey.

The world's first hydrogen balloon, sent up in 1783, was attacked and destroyed by peasants when it descended in their fields. They believed it to be an evil monster.

THE BASEBALL, it erupts again today. The Lubbocks and the Big Springs are just half through with their series. Three o'clock is the starting time this afternoon.

Jam the ball park, and maybe the owners wil lbreak down and go in debt for another grandstand section.

Jerry Blanchard, the local lefthander, will oppose the Cosden's ace chunker this afternoon.

You'll be expected.

Westerners, Save One, Get By

Coach Weldon Chapman of the Westerners, returning via a round-about way from his New Mexico fishing trip, was happy to learn that he has not only a fair looking crop of footballers coming up next fall but a nice gang of bookworms, as well.

All save one of Chappo's brightest prospects for next season came through their final examinations with colors that sometimes dipped but never went under. From Captain Babe Ritchie and Halfback Walter Webster, the two returning regulars, down through a couple of lineups of promising material, the Lubbock High gridmen survived the tests and will be eligible when the September season starts.

THE lone casualty, it is reported is L. V. Risinger, a 225-pound tackle candidate who was counted on to bear a good load next fall. Risinger got little experience last season, but his size branded him a possible regular. The coach hates like the dickens, not alone for football purposes but because he hates to see any boy drop behind in his studies—especially if he's a 225-pound tackle prospect.

Unlike the collegians, high schoolers must be passing their scholastic requirements at the end of the spring semester in order to be eligible for the following fall term. They can not "make it up" during summer school. College boys can. So the bad news, if any, from Texas Tech, will be coming at the end of the summer semester.

Big majority of the Red Raiders got by, however, if not with flying streamers. They're lining up for summer's work, in oil fields, on farms, in drug stores and department stores, although the coaches frown upon the latter type of jobs.

Texas Chases Out The Bangtails

Never much of a hand at picking winners, either for shekels or chalk, and rarely a fan where the bangtails run, this dept. nevertheless wishes to sympathize with the various track and horse owners toward whom the Texas government has waved thumbs down.

HOSS racing is a fine sport, no doubt, for those who like it. When given the opportunity most of us like it.

There is a fundamental weakness about a sport, however, which depends almost entirely upon its fandom's bent for risking shekels on the outcome of the contests. Not that we're a "reformer," by any chance, and not that we are opposed to gambling. A fellow's money is his own, or that part of it which Uncle Sam and his various agencies don't take away from him, and it's his business if he wants to take chances with it. We have nothing but "hooray" for him if he wins, little sympathy if he loses.

The fact remains, however, that horse racing, despite the enormous amount of money spent by horse and track owners to encourage the sport, depends largely for its financial success upon the take at the mutuel windows—not the box office. The track's "cut" of the amount gambled doesn't amount to a great deal, in itself, but it's because of the mutuel windows that the fans flock to the ticket windows. Unless they can wager on the outcome of races, the race-going public isn't much interested in races.

Millions have been spent in Texas toward the building and improvement of race tracks, the shiningest example of which is Arlington Downs, the Waggoner track between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Sometime since, fearing that Governor Allred would have his way and outlaw legal gambling at tracks, the Waggoners announced they would not tear down the plant, but would continue to improve it against the day another regime came to the Austin White House. What will happen to the others, at Dallas, San Antonio and Houston, the biggest ones, remains to be seen. For the present, at least, all of them are doomed. They might as well be situated in the middle of the Sahara.

ONE MORE LITTLE blast before we go to the ballgame: President Ford Frick and the National League gave baseball a bad black eye last week when they combined to help Dizzy Dean out in his ever eventful quest for publicity and notoriety. Weak-kneed, sissified Ford Frick, in re-instating the Dizzy one after backing up on his threats of suspension, etc., did more to tear down the backbone of baseball than all the rest of the big shots can build up in three seasons.

We were beginning to admire Mr. Frick, especially after he called Dizzy down, but respect for him has dropped below the horizon. From all appearances, he's merely "in cahoots" with the Cardinals, and especially with Dean, in the ballyhoo department.

Lubbock County Boys Receive Calves To Feed For Shows

Two Lubbock county 4-H club boys last week received three calves from the J. H. Burson ranch near Silverton, which they will feed out for the 1938 Lubbock Quality Meat show. Homer Thompson, assistant county agent, said yesterday. Elmer Rush, of Acuff, got one calf and J. B. Askew, Acuff, two calves.

Eleven boys now have 15 calves on feed, Thompson said. They are: Billy Wayne, Volney T. and Elmer Rush, one each; J. B. Askew, two; James A. Potts, last spring's grand champion feeder, two; C. T. Jr. and J. B. Potts, one each; Jack Williams, one; Weldon Norrell, two; Joe Doyle, two and Claude B. Hamilton, one.

Polo Doubleheader Scheduled Today At Fair Park Field; Plainview, Clovis, Lamesa Teams Visit Here

A double-header polo game is scheduled for the Fair park field here this afternoon when teams of Clovis, Plainview, Lamesa and Lubbock, offering fans of the game approximately two hours of the best riding and playing this territory produces.

In the first game, beginning at 2 o'clock, Lamesa plays Clovis. A combination Lubbock and Lamesa team will oppose Plainview in the second encounter, beginning about 3 o'clock.

Claude B. Hurlbut, one of the leaders in the Lubbock polo campaign, announces that one hundred of the best trained polo ponies in the section may be seen at the fair park race track infield, scene of the game. Most of these highly trained horses are being brought in from New Mexico, Lamesa and Clovis.

The Clovis team is sponsored by the Clovis Chamber of Commerce.

A charge of 25 cents per person will be made for the afternoon's polo program. Patrons may occupy the large grandstand at Fair Park, or sit in cars parked near the field.

First game of the double header will be over, Hurlbut said, in time for fans who desire to see the baseball game between Lubbock and Big Spring at the local park.

Study The Habits And Habitation Of Mr. Bass If You Would Reel Him In

(In a second story written in this office and exclusively for the Avalanche-Journal, Jack Lamb, famous bass fisherman visiting here, tells something of the habits and locales of the hardy game fish. Hints to baitcasters are offered in the following story by the well known Lamb, who answered fish questions and lectured before a huge crowd at the Terry and Childress Hardware and Sporting Goods store yesterday afternoon. Lamb appears in a public exhibition of bait- and fly-casting at the local baseball park, College avenue and 2nd street, at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. The public is invited, and fishermen are particularly urged to attend the free exhibition).

By JACK LAMB

MANY people who own good fishing tackle are unable to catch fish. This is because they do not take into consideration the traits, habits and range of their quarry. The black bass, which is king of fresh water fish, invariably is found near harbor of some kind. It may be lilies, rocks, moss, logs, cattails, or something else, but the bass are beasts of prey, so to speak, and lie in ambush to strike down the unwitting victim. Thus it must be realized that action, and plenty of it, is necessary to catch them.

The angler should cast his lures into likely spots and retrieve them with as much action as possible. If a bass makes a lunge for the lure, it should be reeled faster, for if the lure is slowed down at this crucial time, the wise fish becomes suspicious and darts aside. The champion dummy of the fishing fraternity is the fisherman who, when a big bass runs at his lure, stops the bait so the fish can get on. Try to get it away from them, and you stand much better chance to have them contact the bait.

Weather Rules Then

In hot weather, bass run in very shallow water. In winter, they stay on the bottom. They like to stay around submerged bushes, watercress and water-grass and will remain motionless in the shade for hours.

They are very pugnacious in character, and will attack anything they think they can swallow. I have seen them consume full grown rats—not mice—and millions of birds fall victim to black bass every year. They will tear a snake to pieces, or gulp down the biggest bullfrog without blinking an eye. Bass have been known to swallow young squirrels, and it is actually impossible to raise ducks in bass water. They will consume the downy little fellows fast as they are hatched.

To catch them at this time of year, both bait and fly casting are employed. Both methods are very effective if properly done, but fly fishing is good only when the weather is hot and there are lots of bugs and flies in the air. When you go down the road at night in your car, and an endless flight of bugs fly into your headlights and spat against the whindshield, then fly fishing is at its best. Fly fishing is always good when the temperature is above 80 degrees F. Bait casting is better in the cool days of fall, and in early spring.

If a fisherman will obtain a fair set of tackle and study the reasons why fish strike artificial bait, then go out and plunk the lures at them long enough, he is bound to catch some fish. The law of averages will give anyone an occasional fish if he casts his lures into enough places . . . So, let's all get our fishing tackle together and head for Buffalo Springs.

Here's another photographic study of Jack Lamb, after an "average" afternoon of black bass fishing. Lamb, who appears Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in a public, free exhibition of bait casting at the ball park, considers it a bad day indeed when he goes fishing and fails to catch several times more than his limit—but he throws most of 'em back. Jack, who fishes nearly every day, never eats fish!

Weber To Clash With Mar Allah In Main Event

Vic Weber, the bronsed New Yorker, will seek his second main event victory in four starts Wednesday night when he tangles with the darker skinned Persian, Sheik Ben Ali Mar Allah, at Sled Allen's Auditorium.

The Sheik made his debut last week, after an absence of two years, and prevailed over Jack Terry, blond Canadian, rather easily.

Immediately preceding the main bout, Weber had displayed great earnestness in his "comeback" by pinning the unruly Ace Freeman in the semi-final.

Buck Lipscomb Returns

This week's main go is one that may well be considered a star feature. They're tough and wiry, full of ring knowledge, capable of doing just about anything there is to do in wrestling, and the hall is due to be full.

Joe Kopecky, twice winner of Weber in main events recently, is back on the card after a week's absence. He meets Jack Hagen, the dangerous headlock artist from Louisiana, in the special event.

Freeman comes back to appear on the preliminary against an "old favorite," Buck Lipscomb, the rough terror from Indiana, the Hoosier Hotshot who has laid a goodly number of the favorites low with his illegal actions.

The return of Lipscomb to the local ring is heralded as a sign for the other grapplers to tighten their belt and go on the warpath.

Wall Street..

PROFIT SELLING APPEARS
NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Quiet demand for farm implement shares and specialties helped to keep today's stock market on balance.
But profit selling made its appearance after an early forward lift and extreme advances were pared or cancelled in many instances. Small fractional gains were in the majority at the finish.
The gold problem continued to hold the attention of Wall Street, but yesterday's resurgence of the president regarding maintenance of the price of the yellow metal seemed to have buoyed both speculative and investment sentiment to some extent.
At the same time stock traders showed little inclination to resume the buying move which swept the list upward late Friday. Many cashed in following the opening on the theory the belated rally may have been a flash in the pan due to the protracted decline and the drying up of offerings.
It was the slowest Saturday session in a month, transfers totaling 342,440 shares. The Associated Press average of 60 issues managed to emerge .1 of a point higher at 67.8.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, June 5. (AP)—Cotton fluctuated narrowly today and although weather and crop advices were favorable final prices were unchanged to 5 points up compared with the previous close.
Trading was limited to evening-up for over the week-end and whatever liquidation developed was absorbed by shorts covering and a little trade buying.
July contracts closed at 12.63, Oct. at 12.68, Dec. at 12.75, Jan. at 12.79, March at 12.83 and May at 12.85. Spot were unchanged with middling selling at 13.04.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Cotton was steady today within a narrow range, on moderate price fixing and week-end covering. October, rallied from 12.67@12.72 and closed at 12.71 with final prices 3 to 7 points net higher.
Trading was light in absence of incentives for fresh commitments. The opening was unchanged to 2 points higher reflecting steadiness at Liverpool, and a little trade and foreign buying.
Contracts were supplied by July liquidation and light scattered local selling promoted by reports of beneficial rain in eastern Texas and western Oklahoma.

Grains..

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, June 5. (AP)—Violent downward plunges of wheat prices today, 4½ cents a bushel in some cases, resulted largely from flurried liquidating sales on the part of holders.
Decided improvement of 1937 wheat crop prospects in the United States appeared to be the principal underlying factor. Besides heavy beneficial rains fell in domestic spring wheat areas, and the weekly forecast indicated helpful cool clear weather throughout the winter wheat region.
An unexpected drop in Liverpool quotations did much to start today's selling stampede. With unofficial predictions current too that the domestic winter wheat yield would approximate 700,000,000 bushels an amount 50,000,000 bushels more than recently forecast, wheat prices here reached the lowest level touched in the last six months, about 23 cents a bushel under the season's peak made early in April.
At the close, Chicago wheat futures were around the day's bottom figures, 3 to 4½ cents below yesterday's finish, July $1.06¾@1.06⅞, Sept. $1.06⅝@1.07⅛, Dec. $1.09@1.09¼ corn 1½ to 3⅜ off, July 1.19⅛@1.19⅜, Sept. $1.06@1.06¼, Dec. 77@77¼, oats 1⅛ to 2¾ down, July 39⅝@39⅞, and rye showing 3⅛ to 3¾ setback, July 88½. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 12 cents lower.

June Will Fulfill Tradition As Month Of Brides

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

GETTING along with others is the essence of getting ahead, success being linked with co-operation.

LINDBERGH'S PLANE

IF there is a little boy in your party when you motor to Washington, D. C., don't fail to take him to the Smithsonian institution where museums are filled with things he will never forget, not the least of which is the plane in which Colonel Lindbergh flew the Atlantic.

HINTS FOR TRAVELERS

THOSE last-minute things that sometimes get overlooked when vacation plans are coming to a conclusion, can sometimes spoil much of the pleasure of travel. These little things take up luggage space, but not enough to make it worth the while of the traveler to forget or neglect them. Here are some suggestions:

Hotels supply soap, but not wash cloths! The wash cloth addict will be more comfortable if he takes his own. Hotel pin cushions may have needles threaded with white and black threads for masculine buttons —but not the beige silk which may save a feminine pair of hose from a threatened run.

Shirts may be sent to the laundry, but these same feminine hose can't be. Ladies who do their laundry in wash bowls shouldn't forget the "sample" size box of soap flakes.

Small sizes in toilet articles are ideal for travel. The traveler may take plenty of shaving cream or face cream, but sunburn remedies, deodorants, hand lotions and mouth washes may all be wanted and are packed more conveniently in small sizes.

A pair of shoe trees may save the shape of a perfectly good pair of shoes and a tiny bag of white powder cleaner is useful for touching up white shoes in a jiffy.

Don't forget your colored glasses and thermos jugs.

SCATTERINGS

TALK alikes: Mrs. W. R. Vivrett and Mrs. Olan Key; W. G. McMillan and K. N. Clapp, Collier and Porter Parris . . . Buttermilk from a churn may not be as antiseptic as from a laboratory but it tastes better. . . . Despite all of the honors that came to her in her two years at Texas Tech college, Mrs. Willard Simpson, who was Miss Lillian Heard before her marriage at Seaman hall Thursday night, remained an unspoiled and thoughtful young girl. . . . A glass cut to fit the window sill upon which plants or flower-filled bowls are placed will save the woodwork. The glass is easy to wash and will not detract from the appearance of the room. . . . New York City's new safety first cards, planted in all buses, subways and surface cars, have adopted the slogan "Wake Up and Live." . . . The famed East River is merely a channel connecting Long Island sound and New York bay. . . . Corduroy is enjoying a summer boom in men's styles. Medium and coarse wale, generally with a pattern of checks, plaids or stripes, is well-liked for sport jackets and slacks.

WOMEN AS FISHERS

THE guest writer in The Woman's Angle this morning, Jack Lamb, is one of the most famous anglers in the United States. At our request he is writing about women as fishers. The line is yours Mr. Lamb!

"Women are becoming more enthusiastic about fishing each year. Most of them like fly fishing better than bait casting. I have taught thousands of them how to cast, and only recently in Atlanta they came to me in such numbers that I conducted a free class in Piedmont Park. Last winter in San Antonio free casting classes for ladies were conducted and dozens of them took advantage of the opportunity to learn. The wife of a prominent judge became so proficient with the fly rod that I had her appear in several of my public exhibitions.

"People are learning to play more than ever before, and fishing with artificial is not only a very fascinating sport but is also clean and recreational, and many women who love the outdoors have taken up the rod and reel during the past few years.

"IN THE tournaments held in Little Rock this spring, a prominent woman showed the men plenty with a light fly rod and walked off with some of the top prizes. A few years ago in Dallas, I had my first introduction to women casters, but now they are increasing in such numbers that one is likely to run across them weilding their rods on almost any stream.

"All of the casting tournaments now have sections for ladies, where they can compete with each other, and it was my pleasure to see some sensational casting by women in the Daytona Beach tournament last winter.

"The state of Pennsylvania, as well as several other eastern states, has set apart certain creeks for women only. No men are allowed to wet a hook in them. No longer does the fisherman's wife sit at home while he goes to his favorite trout stream. She packs up her fishing tackle, dons her boots and joins the party, and more times than one has

Freakishness In Styles Has Gone With The Wind

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Service Staff

PARIS, June 5.—Mid-season collections hold exceptional interest for the woman who has not yet completed her summer wardrobe. All trick styles have been eliminated at this point, and one can shop without fear of getting models that are too high-styled to be practical. The silhouette has gone through a softening process and everything shown is essentially wearable. Freakish gadgets and trimmings have gone with the wind.

The 1937 silhouette has resolved itself into something svelte and elegant. In daytime clothes, it is long and narrow, giving an impression of height, despite the shortened skirts. The natural contours of the body are stressed by the cut, rather than by trimmings.

Evening styles are divided equally between the very much heralded romantic gowns and the slim, slinky ones, with floating, bouffant, ankle-length or shorter waltz dresses for high-stepping youth. Formal afternoon ensembles are soft, feminine and as luxurious or as simple as desired, with an unusual amount of attention paid to cut and coloring.

Prints are important, but watch from Lou to Louella . . .

DEAR LOUELLA: You recall, I presume, my prediction that Tech will be having national social fraternities and sororities soon. Well, if you've been following the papers you can imagine the excitement current among the club eds and co-eds.

Some are of the opinion that, if permission is extended, it will be several years before the highest ranking frats establish chapters here. But I disagree.

You can't tell me that once permission is granted that Sans Souci or Las Chaparritas will fool around several years waiting for Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi or some other well known sorority to give them a blanket bid, nor will they throw in with some lesser groups. Something will happen within several months to substantiate my theory. Just watch.

There is a lot of prestige attached, among national social organizations, to being the first or second fraternity to be established on a campus. Anyone who has been to a few rush parties will tell you that.

Hee Hee

There was a big wedding here last week and only two or three of the many spectators attending knew that the maid of honor and the best man are secretly married.

INCIDENTALLY, how do you like the way all these weddings I've been hinting about are materializing? There are some more, too, but I am not yet prepared to give you the dope.

I went to an announcement party Saturday afternoon but I can't say anything about it until later. You see, I don't want you to read it in this letter until the news has been announced via the newspapers. 'Smatter of ethics, this time.

I'm invited to an announcement party in Littlefield today and tomorrow I am invited to a party for a bride-elect in Post. In fact every time I pick up a letter or the postman calls, it seems, I hear something new about Cupid's rushing business.

Violinist Gets Job

Charlotte Ratliff, famous player of violin solos at weddings, will teach public school music at Post next year, I understand.

I saw Gordon James, former Lubbock resident and school teacher who is now employed at Dallas in the name of Social Security, Friday morning. He was here just for the day. He said his brother, Phil, also a former school teacher, was married last Thanksgiving. He and his wife are visiting now in Amarillo.

Probably there hasn't been a busier couple in Lubbock the past year than the J. O. Ellsworths who are leaving this morning on a combination business and pleasure trip to New York. While he has been occupied with the Resettlement Administration in Amarillo, Mrs. Ellsworth has worked in President Bradford Knapp's office at Tech. In spare moments, building a new home has occupied them. Doctor Ellsworth making decisions concerning the house when here on week-ends. I suppose you read that he was appointed new head of the economics and business administration department at Tech.

JOHN B. ROUNTREE, jr., had a thrill last week when he was invited to accompany his father and some other Lubbock men to A. and M. college commencement exercises Friday night he attended a farewell prom which is always one of the biggest events in the A. and M. year. Before leaving here, Mrs. Rountree detailed John B. jr., to look after John B., sr., the night of the prom.

The G. E. Goodloes are expecting all kinds of company today, Nell and Miriam are supposed to arrive home from Port Arthur where Nell has been teaching, and some more of the relatives are expected from several different points, 'tis said.

I Wonder If . . .

Betty Bizzell, who is leaving Tuesday to spend her second consecutive summer at Teton lodge in Moran, Wyo., has promised to write. Do you suppose she has found a handsome cowboy up there?

It was too bad that Ko Shari and Las Chap pictures got mixed in La Ventana, Tech yearbook. The Ko Shari roster was printed below the Las Chap pictures and vice versa.

I heard of another yearbook blunder, also. The Texas State College for Women editors swiped a picture out of Agnes Pickett's (from Post) room for their "Do You Think They Will Section?" showing co-eds and their boy friends. It wasn't until the annuals were distributed that the editors learned Agnes' picture had been snapped with her twin brother.

All in all, I think the Tech annual was exceptionally good. The candid camera theme, beautifully executed by Winston Reeves, editor and photographer, reflects adequately, as any yearbook should, the trend of the times.

WHEN I heard that little Irwin Jarett was critically ill, the first thing I thought of was the most noble thing I ever heard of a 4-year-old doing.

When Irwin was that old, according to a story I heard three years ago, his dog was hit by a car and injured. The family was not around to administer first aid so Irwin walked from his home on Thirty-first street, to a downtown hospital, carrying the dog. Of course he had to stop often and rest and by the time he reached the hospital he was completely fagged out. The dog recovered.

Scouters Camp Starts Today

Registrations for second of the series of council encampments at Post Memorial camp will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon with an indicated enrollment of more than 100 Boy Scouts from Lubbock, Slaton and Lamesa, according to announcement Saturday of Marshall Mason of Post, council camp chairman.

First of the camp series closed with a supper program last night.

Lubbock troops to participate in the encampment of the next seven days will be Nos. 2, 3, 4, 7, 9, 12, 13 and 14. A camp church service will follow supper tonight.

Boys Are Protected

Mason meanwhile gave assurance to parents that they need feel no uneasiness that their sons will be amply protected from the weather. He explained that rains of last week and the threatening weather during the weekend reduced attendance at the first camp, although more than 60 were enrolled there.

The new mess hall and the camp ranch house furnishes excellent and ample facilities for shelter should the cabin and tents prove insufficient protection, Mason said.

Last of the council camps will start next Sunday, and is expected to bring out by far the largest attendance of the summer series. Almost every community in the council area will be represented, including boys who for various reasons were assigned to early encampments but were unable to attend.

One of the added features of this week's camp will be a meeting of the council finance committee after supper Tuesday night. James Harley Dallas of Brownfield is the new chairman of that committee, having been appointed to succeed J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls whose new duties as district governor of Rotary caused him to resign the scout post.

Daughter Of Missionaries To Work In School At Canyon

CANYON, June 5 (Special) — Daughter of missionary parents and born in Siam, where the couple was stationed, Miss Margaret Barrett, former Pratt, Kansas, girl, is coming here late this summer to work with the department of home economics of West Texas State Teachers college.

A graduate of the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas, and the University of Kansas, Lawrence, she has studied in the University of Wisconsin and Columbia university, New York City.

Her parents, Mr. and Mr. Arthur P. Barrett, were Presbyterian mission workers in Siam for a number of years, until ill health forced them to leave Asia for the United States. They made their home at Pratt for many years. Mr. Barrett is postmaster there.

A sister, Eleanor Barrett, and a brother Miller Barrett were also born in Siam. The royal family of that nation have been friends of the Barrett family for many years.

Black Net Gown

An interesting compromise with trend toward higher evening gowns has been worked out by Mainbocher. The tunic and skirt of the black net gown have been trimmed with bands of multicolored crepe, leaving a transparent flounce that reaches the floor but reveals the leg contours.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Linberg of Salina, Kas., who have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Watson, 1903 Main street, the past week, have returned to their home.

Two Share Honors At Post Party

POST, June 5 (Special) — Mrs. Hays Holman, bride, and Miss Jo Brant, bride-elect of J. N. Power, jr., were named honorees when Mrs. Jay Slaughter entertained the Luncheon club Friday afternoon at her home. Mrs. Holman is the former Miss LaVada Baze of Colorado City.

All features of the entertainment were announced by popular songs, words of which had been revised to suit the occasion. The hostess sang with piano accompaniment by Miss Mae Weakley.

A multi-course lunch was served at foursome tables where, later, bridge was played. Centerpieces were low bowls of flowers flanked by miniature brides and bridegrooms.

Guests were Mesdames J. N. Power, sr., O. L. Weakley, John Herd, A. C. Surman, Edward Warren, Marshall Mason, Walter Roy, D. C. Williams, Tillman Jones, Walter Duckworth, Nonnie Rodgers, John B. Slaughter of Lubbock and Misses Weakley, Mary Ermine Speck and Rosemary Surman and the honorees.

Miss Brant whose marriage is to take place here June 14 will be honored at a barbecue supper Monday night in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth. Miss Zelma Farris will be hostess.

Miss Marie Bradley has returned from Dallas where she attended a private school for girls during the past year.

out for the new wallpaper designs —massed floral effects in horizontal or vertical stripes on rich and dark backgrounds. Dots—polka, dime and larger coin dots—are good, too, but beware of the crazy prints; there are few, if any, to be seen in the latest models.

For formal afternoon wear, all the faded pastel shades are featured. Ensembles of the dress and jacket type are all made on simple lines, often trimmed with touches of silver or blue fox at the sleeves or jacket hem, or relying on fine handwork, such as shirring and drawn-thread work for their touch of formality. Flower shades like forget-me-not blue, hyacinth, the blue and pink of hydrangeas, reseda green and a certain faded pink rather like the color of "rachel" powder, are smart.

White dresses, coats and suits are featured for daytime as well as evening wear, nearly always contrasted with a touch of color. Black and navy are dark shades that will always be worn in elegant places, against which brilliant colors are accented.

Taffeta For Foundations

Chiffon is in high-lighted evening gown creations, and fashions fluttering, picturesque gowns. Organza, guaranteed not to crush, is another favorite, and usually appears in models of romantic inspiration. Filmy lace and net as well as swishing taffetas are also stressed in this category of dress, while satin, jersey and heavy silk crepes appear in the sheath-like gowns. Taffetas, by the way, provide the foundation for all sheer fabrics, as well as the lining for afternoon coats.

Embroidery is a decorative medium which is scheduled for success for a long time to come. Glittering paillettes, in a contrasting color, forming arabesques or stylized motifs in spiral effects, usually underline the fitted silhouette, or emphasize the width of hem.

Summer Recreation Program Planned For Tech Students

Artists Are To Play In City

A summer recreational program which will include three presentations by visiting artists, weekly band concerts, and other attractions has been planned at Texas Technological college.

The Pollard players will appear on the program June 29; an interpretive dancing team, Harry Hamilton and Wana William, July 22; and J. Franklin Caveny, artist-sculptor, July 27.

Harry Hamilton of the dancing team has studied under noted dancers. He has served as head of dancing instruction at the Baldwin McGaw school in San Francisco.

Caveny is editor of "The Sketch Book", publication of the Art Institute of Chicago. He studied under Lorado Taft, noted sculptor. He will give an illustrated lecture on clay and crayon.

In addition to those attractions, the summer program will include a college "mixer" June 11; one all-college dance; week-end trips to the Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition in Dallas; to the Fort Worth Fiesta, Carlsbad caverns, and Grand Canyon; annual watermelon cutting; band concerts from 7 to 8 o'clock each Tuesday night by the Tech band; a play by the speech department; athletic contests; classes in folk dancing; Esperanto instruction; free swimming instruction; one pass to the Broadway and Lyric theaters, reduced price for one show in any Lindsey theater; and special admission rate for all summer to the Tech theater.

Federal Housing Legislation Waits As Treasury Heads Make Up Their Minds

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The New Deal has spent $200,000,000 on its experiments with housing.

Much of this money will be returned.

Dutcher

But you would think that by this time it might have evolved some sort of a policy under which to proceed in accordance with the President's promises to do something about the third of the population which he has often said is "ill-housed."

Housing legislation is still stalled. It is stalled while Chairman Henry Steagall of the House Banking Currency committee waits for the President to make up his mind, and while Roosevelt waits for Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to make up his.

Among those supporting the Wagner bill are officials of PWA and Resettlement administration, who are in a position to profit by their own errors; Federal Housing administration, HOLC, the A. F. of L., the C. I. O., the National Association of Housing Officials, and the new American Federation of Housing Authorities.

New Bill Cooked Up

But Morgenthau's men recently disregarded all that and cooked up a bill involving capital grants, federal subsidy in the form of relief labor, and a transfer of most of the rest of the cost to municipalities. In effect this went back to the PWA housing system, which has been shown to be incapable of reaching the low income groups for which federal housing efforts supposedly are aimed. Local housing officials summoned to comment on the Treasury bill promised that it would result in no housing at all. The Treasury still frets.

Chairman Hugo Black of the Senate Education and Labor committee, will probably report out the Wagner bill soon. But the Steagall committee hasn't even had hearings. The Wagner bill calls for a billion dollars in federal construction loans to local housing authorities in the next four years and $50,000,000 in rental subsidies. Senator Wagner says it would provide decent housing for families with incomes of between $700 to $1000 annually, and that by keeping within that low range it would both help those who need housing most and avoid competing with private real estate interests.

Twenty-eight states with 70 per cent of the population have now passed public housing authority laws and are all geared up for action under the Wagner bill.

60 Per Cent On Relief

Here in Washington is the Hopkins Place development, created by the local Alley Dwelling Authority. Housing experts agree it has done a fine job in building cheap dwellings. But rents are about $7 a room, or $28 a month and $338 a year for the average unit, which means the project is suitable for families with incomes of about $1600. The project is not subsidized.

John Ihlder, executive officer of the authority, says that this represents an "economic rent" and that "if the earned income of a family is not adequate to pay an economic rent that family should be aided by a relief agency."

The interesting angle to that is the fact that the median income of urban families is $1272. Which means under Ihlder's reasoning, that 60 per cent of city families should be on relief.

See Bill As Stabilizer

Many administration policies are being worked out with a weather eye to the next depression—or recession, if you prefer. One claim made for the Connery-Black wages and hours measure is that it will be a great stabilizer of wages and purchasing power when bad times come.

A counter-claim is that the measure will stimulate use of labor-saving devices and shove a lot more people out of work, especially in any period of decline.

"But industry can't possibly install labor-saving devices any faster than it has been," reply administration economists. "There has been a rise of 16 per cent in productivity per man hour since 1929. That means virtually an industrial revolution and it's a big factor in the continued unemployment."

Furthermore, these experts add, the process of displacing men by machines shows no sign of abating.

Baptist Students En Route To Ridgecrest Retreat

A party of four, Misses Corinne Brown, Eileen Holland, Arline Harris and Marion Tatum, left Lubbock by special bus Saturday morning to attend a retreat for Southern Baptist students at Ridgecrest, N. C., June 9-17. The Lubbock party was accompanied by four students from New Mexico, six from Canyon and one from Plainview.

Sixty-five Texas students and a total of 1,000 students from 18 Southern Baptist states have made reservations for the retreat, Miss Brown said.

Itinerary of the local group was Saturday night, Westbrook hotel in Fort Worth; Sunday night, Capitol hotel at Little Rock, Ark.; Monday, The Maxwell House at Nashville; Tuesday night, Atkins hotel at Knoxville, Tenn. In Nashville they will spend a half day sightseeing. The party will return by the same route, eliminating the stay at Knoxville.

A. Knapp. On Wednesday they will attend commencement exercises at Tulane University School of Medicine where their son, Roger, will receive his M. D. degree. The family will continue to Kingsville to attend the wedding of Roger and Miss Jean Saintclair. Virginia will be a bridesmaid. Roger Knapp will serve an internship at Baptist hospital in New Orleans next year and his bride will complete her training at nurses' school there.

Many popular young people of the town are leaving for camp within a few days. The Charlie Read girls, Hopie, Bobbie and 'Cile will spend their third summer at Sunny Vale, a camp near Dallas. Others who are planning to go there are Annie Claire Huie, Betty Ann and Temple Joyce McAfee, Jane and Sally Temple, and Dorothy Sue Standefer. Dorothy Sue is now in Hawaii with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Fred W. Standefer.

Camp Mystic at Kerrville is the choice of Betty Jean Jones, Marilyn Riggs, Eunice Klett, Doris Mae Levine, Betty Ross Slaton, and Shirley Parsons.

Ruth Overton will be at camp Dixie in Georgia this summer. Carol Ann Krueger left yesterday for Camp Waldemar at Kerrville. Tommy Krueger, Billy Simmons, Harold Parsons, Travis Canon, Roger Kuykendall, and Bill Coker will go to Camp Stewart at Hunt. Jane Hess and her cousin, Anne Birkman, are at the Kiwanis camp near Amarillo. Winifred Woods will go to a Presbyterian camp at Fort Stockton in July. Mary Alice Meadgen and Charlotte Toles go to camp Carrizo near Ruidoso.

The G. P. Kuykendalls will go to Mexico, D. F. if strike troubles in the country are settled soon. Jim Kuykendall has just returned from there. Martha likely will go to camp Sunny Vale if she does not go with her parents to Mexico.

Mrs. Paul Barrier will take her children to the mountains in the summer. She and Mr. Barrier also will combine a vacation and business trip when they go to New York to market the latter part of this month.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton will vacation on the eastern seaboard, returning by way of Kentucky for a visit with Dr. Overton's sister.

California is the choice of a number of Lubbock people for a vacation. The A. M. Mackenzies left this week for a short vacation there. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McKee and daughter Miss Frances McKee, accompanied by Miss Idell Bacon, left this week also. Their trip likely will include Washington, Vancouver, and Yellowstone Park. Phil McKee, a nephew, went with them as far as his home in California.

In July the R. C. Harveys and Mrs. Harvey's mother, Mrs. W. V. DeWitt of Fort Worth, will spend six weeks in California. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pressley of McAlester, Okla., will also go there for their vacation. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hambright, who are Mrs. Pressley's parents, and by Miss Janet Hambright. Mrs. Pressley is visiting here now. Miss Maurine Jons has gone to Long Beach, Calif. and other west coast cities to spend two months with relatives and friends.

Then there are the Tech people whose trips previously have been mentioned. Miss Jonnie McCrery sails from New York for a Mediterranean cruise and a summer in Egypt, Irak, and London. Misses Louise Johnson and Rose Hubbard sail next week for Europe to spend the summer. Miss Mayme Twyford will visit relatives in Virginia. The Cecil Hornes expect to spend weekends at their Sangre de Cristo mountain cabin in New Mexico, and Dr. A. L. Strout plans to sponsor a literary tour through Europe.

Lenora Salmon, prettiest freshman at Texas Christian University, will spend her summer as a dance star in "Road to Rio," the musical extravaganza at the Dallas Pan American Exposition. Funds derived from her dancing will be used for her second college year. She is from Nocona, Texas.

ANN GROTH and the writer found our belief in honesty strenghtened early Saturday morning when a young girl hurried into the Stewart-Benson clinic with the ring which was lost the day before. Her brother had found the jewelry and when they read of the loss in The Woman's Angle they were happy to return it to its owner.

Estate Of Rockefeller, Valued At $25,000,000, Is Left To Granddaughter

Trustees Have Been Chosen

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 5. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller's will, disposing of an estate estimated to be worth $25,000,000, was filed today in surrogate's court, Westchester county. The will was dated June 2, 1925, and appended to it were three codicils.

These were dated May 14, 1930, November 4, 1932, and October 3, 1934, and the last made a radical change in the disposition of the estate.

Left To Memorial

Under the original will, the capitalist and philanthropist who died May 23 at his Ormond, Florida, home, after disposing of his personal and household effects, left the residuary estate, in equal shares to the Laura Spelman Rockefeller memorial and his son, John D. Rockefeller, jr.

The first two codicils made no special changes in the will.

By the final codicil, however, the entire residuary estate is left to trustees during the life of Rockefeller's granddaughter, Mrs. Margaret Strong De Cuevas, of Lakewood, N. J.

To Make Payments

The trustees, under the codicil, are empowered to pay the income to Mrs. De Cuevas or to one or more of her descendants or to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Mrs. De Cuevas is the daughter of Rockefeller's daughter, Bessie Rockefeller Strong, and Prof. Charles August Strong, former professor of psychology at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Strong died November 14, 1906. Dr. Strong lives in Piesole, Italy.

Mrs. De Cuevas has two children, Elizabeth De Cuevas and John De Cuevas. She was married August 3, 1927.

Under the codicil the trust fund, upon the death of Mrs. De Cuevas, is to be divided among her children and the descendants of any deceased children, each beneficiary to receive his or her share outright, except that the share of any child of Mrs. De Cuevas, born during the elder Rockefeller's life, is to be continued in trust for the life of the child.

Reasons Are Set Forth

Rockefeller, in writing the codicil, set forth his reasons as follows:

"I am setting up this trust for the benefit of my granddaughter, Margaret, and her descendants to the exclusion of my other grandchildren and their descendants because when the time came that I felt it wise to place upon my children the responsibility of owning and administering substantial sums and for that purpose made large gifts to or for them, my oldest daughter, Bessie, the mother of my granddaughter, Margaret, was not living."

The codicil says that the trustees are empowered in their discretion to pay the income to any child of Mrs. De Cuevas born during Rockefeller's life, or to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Goes To Children

Upon the death of the beneficiary of any of these secondary trusts, the codicil says, the principal of the trust is to be paid over to his or her descendants or, failing descendants, to the descendants of Mrs. De Cuevas. If there are no descendants of Mrs. De Cuevas then living the principal goes to the Rockefeller institute.

Should Mrs De Cuevas die without leaving any descendants the principal of the initial trust goes upon her death to the Rockefeller institute.

The codicil has provisions inserted to prevent the Rockefeller institute from receiving more of the estate than is permitted under the laws of this state.

John D. Rockefeller, jr., Bertram Cutler and Thomas M. DeBevoise are named executors and also trustees.

Deadlocks In Congress Are Breaking

Settlement Of Rows Expected

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — Deadlocks on several major legislative issues are beginning to break, leaders said today, following hints of compromise on the Roosevelt court bill.

"That bill is the key to the situation," said Senator Harrison (D-Miss), surveying the problems facing congress at the start of its sixth month.

Although the outcome of the court battle was regarded as uncertain by many legislators, they noted that disagreements over the proposed tax inquiry, farm tenacy aids, and relief funds gradually were being settled.

Some issues—such as government reorganization and regional planning—remained highly controversial. Consequently few members expected adjournment before late August.

The principal ills and the status of each in brief:

Relief—The house this week voted $1,500,000,000 for the year beginning July 1, removing "earmarking" provisions after President Roosevelt made concessions for freer use of PWA funds. Economy advocates will seek to reduce the amount in the senate next week.

Wages and hours—Hearings are being held on the president's request to establish minimum and maximum standards and to ban child labor in interstate industries. Some advisers of the president say this bill may get precedence over the court bill.

Opposition Predicted

Government reorganization — A senate committee may recommend an all-inclusive bill almost any day. A house committee is drafting several bills instead. Determined opposition is predicted, especially to a proposal to curtail the comptroller-general's power.

Taxes — Congressional investigation of tax avoidance is intended as a preliminary to legislation closing loopholes. The house is expected to vote for the inquiry next week.

Farm—The farm surplus control and price stabilization bill faces opposition which may result in deferment until next session. A bill to aid tenant farmers is scheduled for consideration first, authorizing expenditure of $10,000,000 in the coming year.

Housing—The Wagner proposal for an extensive slum clearance program is on the administration "desirable list."

Flood control and power—Appropriations for many authorized flood control projects have been proposed. The president recommended that projects hereafter be executed on the basis of regional plans embracing conservation, irrigation, power development. Action appears likely to go over until 1938.

Low Bidders On Improvement Projects Are Announced

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—The highway commission yesterday announced low bidders on improvement projects costing $1,299,000. They included:

Jefferson — Double asphalt surface treatment on 13 miles of highway 87 from Port Arthur, four miles northeast and from Taylor's bayou to Sabine Pass, Haden & Austin, Houston $28,107.

Wilbarger — Double asphalt surface treatment of 6.3 miles of highway 28 from 17.7 miles south of Vernon to the Baylor county line, R. W. McKinney, Nacogdoches, $15,442.

HAS NEW SIDELINE

TAHOKA, June 5. (Special)—Alton Cain, a hardware store clerk, has a new sideline, raising pheasants.

Recently he received four hens and two roosters of the Japanese pheasant breed from his father at Canyon. He made a deal with W. A. Hardt of New Lynn to breed them and raise the young on shares.

The birds are being kept in pens, a cock and two hens to a pen.

RECENTLY COMPLETES WELL

MULESHOE, June 5. (Special)—Tom H. Johnson, who lives seven miles northwest of town, recently completed an irrigation well for his 300 acres of cotton.

The well is 90 feet deep and has a capacity of 1,500 gallons of water per minute. Seventy-two feet of perforated casing was put into the hole.

Rio Grande Valley's Attention Soon To Be Focused On Race For First Cotton Bale Of 1937 Season; Four Counties In Running

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, June 5. — The attention of cotton growers of the world soon will be focused on the lower Rio Grande valley as the race for the world's first bale of 1937 cotton gets underway.

It seems likely, however, the first bale will not move until the middle of June.

Last year's first bale race was the first to arouse interest since the depression. Willacy county placed the first bale on the floor of the Corpus Christi cotton exchange only to have it declared unsalable, and Starr county's first bale, arriving a few hours later, won the $500 premium. Hidalgo county was only a day behind.

First Bale In World

Since 1896, records show, the lower Rio Grande valley yearly has produced practically every first bale in the nation, and for that matter in the world.

Special freight trains, automobiles, trucks, and even airplanes have been used to race the first bales to market.

The airplane entered the picture in 1929, when it was used to move the valley's first bale from Corpus Christi to New York. The bale was grown by E. R. St. John, weighed 437 pounds, and brought $1 a pound on the Corpus Christi exchange.

Big Days Recalled

Growers recall the big days of 1914 to 1926 when most of the first bales were produced in Cameron county. A grower named Matz used to win the honor pretty regularly, raising his cotton south of San Benito. In those days it was legal to "top" the cotton, or cut off part of the stalk in order to cause earlier fruiting.

Probably the peak in first bale races came the year a special train was hired to pick up a bale at Kingsville, beating the regular train carrying a rival bale, into Houston by several hours and winning the first bale honors along with a $1,500 check.

Four Counties In Race

Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy, and Cameron counties are in the race this year, but the chances favor Starr and Willacy where more dry land cotton is grown. The Starr county cotton stops growing sooner, makes less stalk, and fruits earlier, and that county has the best record of first bales the past ten years.

The Valley as a whole will be more interested in cotton this year than since 1926, as the acreage is larger than in the past ten years, and the price better. A crop of 100,000 bales is considered likely.

County Auditors Of Texas Open Session Saturday

WICHITA FALLS, June 5 (Special) — County auditors of Texas, the men who serve as guardians of the exchequer, are here, approximately 150 strong, for a two-day convention that was started today.

Joe Y. Boyd of Lubbock is president of the County Auditors Association of Texas.

Included in notables here for the program are Gerald C. (Jerry) Mann, famous Southern Methodist university quarterback of a few years back, and Rep. C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls, who won state-wide recognition by his survey of existing tax methods.

County auditors face the uncomfortable duties of checking financial records of each county officer, curbing unnecessary expenditures of the commissioners court, refusing to issue warrants when payments not authorized by state law are made, and endeavoring always to obtain the best material and supplies at the lowest possible cost.

All county judges in counties that have county auditors were invited to attend the convention.

RAISING ONIONS

RALLS, (Special)—L. C. Lumsford, farming on the Ed Wallace place, has planted three acres of onions. He says indications are the crop will bring a good price this year.

New Law Aid To Electric Plans

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 5.—Approval by Gov. Allred of a bill authorizing organization of rural electrification cooperatives has resulted in increased interest in the use of electricity on farms.

The law, written by Rep. A. B. Tarwater of Plainview, made it possible for rural areas not served by electric power and light to tie in with the Rural Electrification administration program.

Secretary of State Ed Clark said there were immediate requests for charters by proposed non-profit corporations planning generating and distributing systems.

Defines Rural Area

The bill defined a rural area as a territory containing no town of more than 1,500 population.

Residents may incorporate and ask loans and grants of REA for construction of the system. Service would be supplied to consumers at a cost sufficient to pay the operating expense, plus a nominal reserve. If the reserve becomes too large in any one year, rates must be reduced.

Can Sell Appliances

The co-operatives also were authorized to sell appliances at cost and were exempted from taxation.

Tarwater said many uses were planned for the electric service. In the high plains area the power will be used to pump wells for irrigation by one co-operative.

The new law was approved by REA which had been unable to extend its services to Texas until the co-operative measure was passed. Tarwater explained they could not be organized under the general corporation laws and the statutes dealing with co-operatives did not quite fit requirements.

NEW IRRIGATION WELL

MULESHOE, June 5. (Special)—Lem Humphrey of Amarillo has completed a well on his irrigation farm near here that tested 1,200 barrels per minute. T. E. Prescott is farming the place and the quarter section will be planted to cotton.

Five million rats were killed in India last year in a campaign against plague.

Threat Of Movie Strike Put Some Of The Boys Out On Limb In Recent Weeks

BY HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, June 5. — I wanted to see Joan Crawford in a picket line. Accompanied by Mr. Tone.

That would have been a picture, Joan and Franchot, arm in arm, parading up and down in front of Louie B. Mayer's office. Demanding better working conditions

I'm not going to witness such a spectacle because the producers decided that it is better to humor actors than to fight them. Seriously, I didn't expect to see stars doing strike duty. Imagine a corporation —which is just what an actor getting a half million a year amounts to—in a picket line. It doesn't make sense.

"Never Expected To"

THE actors never expected to strike. They knew that if they did, public sympathy would be so against them that the movies would have to hire a new set of puppets. Some of the ringleaders—Montgomery, Karloff, Lionel Stander, Cagney and Frank Morgan—were out on a limb and they'd have been forced to make the grand gesture.

This is why 98 per cent of the actors would have ignored the strike call: If an "artist" under contract refuses to work, for any reason, he voids his agreement and immediately becomes liable for damages for denying to his employer anticipated profits. And, for the period of that contract he would not be allowed to work for anyone else at the only calling he knows.

A longshoreman can strike and if he doesn't get his job back, he can drive a truck. But an actor. . . . Well, who ever heard of supporting a swimming pool and an ex-wife or two on a truck driver's salary?

An actors' strike would have been the world's outstanding fizzle.

Sorrow For Extras

ONE can feel a touch of sorrow for some extras.

A small group—the 100 or so who have an "in"—make a respectable living. A few thousand struggle, year after year, on an average income of $100 a month. Many more thousands exist on their pitiful average of $7.50 a week.

An ambitious person never becomes an extra. As a class, extras are notably lazy. Any of them could make a better living at ordinary jobs—but they'd have to work and keep regular hours.

Dietrich And A Bee

BEE that stung the Dietrich cheek not only curtailed Mar-laynah's picture work but slowed up her social activities. . . . Friend Lubitsch sent her the flowers that harbored the bee. . . . It was not, contrary to reports, J. Benny's B. . . . The George Brent-Anita Louise romance lasted for two pictures. . . . He's buying for Constance Worth now . . . Rochelle Hudson and Billy Blakewell are a new twosome . . . Dixie Dunbar has more boy friends' . . . Chester Kitchen, Atlanta, Ga., lad is the latest. . . . Tells friends she won't marry him, though. . . .

I'd like to see him do it—as he certainly needs the dough—but I'll bet John Barrymore doesn't star in "The Royal Lovers." . . . Anna Sten's husband tried to arrange a deal for John with a film company . . . John wanted to do it with his ex-Ariel, but she said NO. . . .

South Plains Boy Scouts Are Making Preparations For National Jamboree

Horned Toads Will Be Sold

Horned toad population of South Plains was revealed Saturday as bidding sharply while Boy Scouts continued their preparations for participation in the national jamboree at Washington, D. C.

Most of the more than 70 boys who will make the trip from Plains council, according to Earl M. McClure, executive, are engaged in a toad roundup. Some of the boys, he said, already have several dozen.

"Those boys go after a horned frog like a miser after a dollar," said McClure.

To Trade Or Sell

The boys are to take the frogs with them to the Washington camp to trade or sell them to other scouts who will be gathered here from all parts of the world. The result of bartering there will be, said scout officials here, that South Plains horned toads will be scattered to all parts of the world. At the encampment will be boys from every continent and most nations of the globe. Experiences of the past have shown that those from distant parts usually are the most eager to take home with them one of the grotesque little fellows found in the southwest.

One scout official here predicted that the average value of the toads in trade will be not less than 5 cents apiece. There is no assurance, however, that they will have any value at all.

Plains scouts, McClure said, also are making souvenir kerchief rings from a type of cactus stock which takes a high polish and has proved popular in bartering at other camps.

Registrations Accepted

Meanwhile, the executive said, it has been authorized to accept eight more registrations from South Plains council if they are offered. This has been made possible by the fact that many of the councils among the 38 in Dallas region have failed to reach their quota. South Plains doubled the figure assigned

Announcement also was made that Plains council scouts will make the trip to Washington via Amarillo instead of by Sweetwater as had first been planned. The group will gather at Post Memorial camp June 21 for a three-day practice encampment. On June 24 at 1:50 a. m. they will board the Santa Fe from there and be routed through Lubbock to Amarillo to join a special train there. Their itinerary to Washington will include Newton, Kan., Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis and Cincinnati.

Plan Practice Camp

They will go into a three-day practice camp at Washington the evening of June 26. The jamboree proper begins June 30 and continues through June 9. Cost to the scouts for the three camps totaling 18 days is $85, although most of them will make a side trip to New York City which will cost $20 additional.

F. M. Mitcell, troop 22, of Lamesa, was announced Saturday as the council's representative on the staff of the National Jamboree Journal, daily morning and afternoon newspaper which will be published on the grounds during the national gathering.

Lamb County Youth Buys Calves To Feed Out For Spring Shows

OLTON, June 5. (Special)—Travis Carruth, son of J. A. Carruth, will feed out two calves this year for spring shows. He bought ten animals from the Crews ranch near Childress. County Agent Don Turner and assistant Davis Pounds, accompanied Travis and his father and A. C. Brigance and his son Merrill, to Childress. The calves will be with cows for some time.

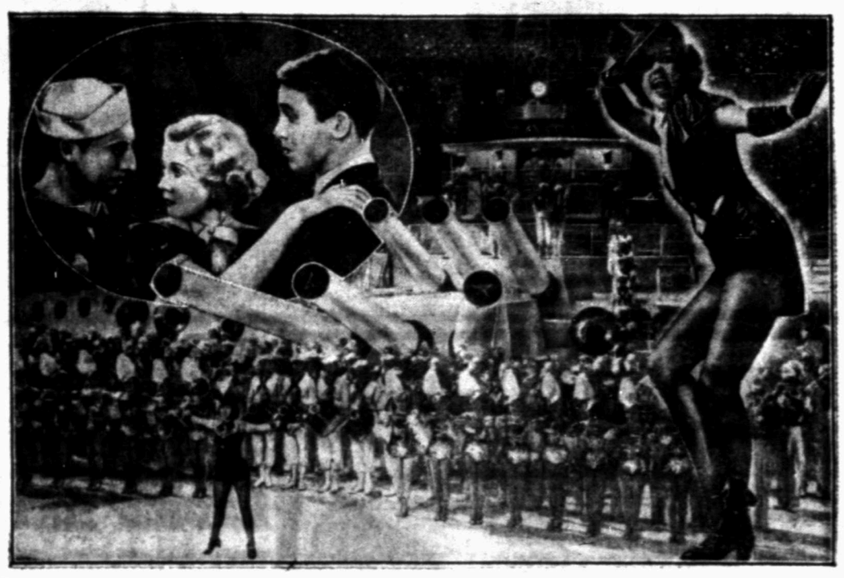

SHEEP ARE SHEARED

WHITEFACE, June 5. (Special)—D. N. Bills, who owns 520 head of sheep, recently had them sheared by a crew of Mexicans. The clip averaged about ten and a half pounds per fleece and it was said to be of good grade. Bills lost a few head after shearing, due to cold weather.

Ranger Man Talks Location Of Flour Mill With Ralls Men

RALLS, June 5. (Special)—K. C. Jones of Ranger has made several trips here looking for a location for a 50-barrel flour mill. He met a chamber of commerce committee here and discussed the proposal.

Machinery of the mill represents about $7,200 in value.

At the close of the World war the British flying corps had 30,000 officers and 22,000 planes.

Youngsters Still Like To Hear Tales Of Rangers

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Hardly a day passes without Texas rangers headquarters here receiving letters from youngsters over the nation for information on the colorful band of peace officers.

So strong is the appeal of the heroic deeds of the century-old force that the desire to "be a ranger" still burns strongly in many a youthful breast.

Sketch Is Compiled

Queries have become so numerous the office force found it necessary to compile a brief sketch of the rangers to mail out.

Capt. R. W. Aldrich, veteran of many years' service and owner of one of the most complete libraries in the state on activities of the rangers, prepared a compact, detailed sketch from the initial organization down to the number of the present force and their salaries.

Characteristic of his kind, however, the account contains little of the hair-raising, glamorous blood-and-thunder most youngsters have come to believe through reading "western" stories.

The first body of rangers came into being by a resolution of the "permanent council," of Texas, headed by Stephen F. Austin, in 1835. Twenty-five men composed the corps and were commissioned to guard the frontier between the Brazos and the Trinity rivers.

Military Organization

Military in organization, the group soon grew to a battalion of 280 mounted men. After the revolution, the body spent most of its time fighting Indians and protecting townships from raids.

When the last renegade chieftains had been captured, the rangers turned the activities to stopping cattle rustling and combatting the depredations of outlaws.

Today the force consists of 36 men and officers, paid from $250 to $300 a month. Horses have been abandoned for automobiles except in the inaccessible mountain regions of West Texas and the mesquite brush

George Brent and Anita Louise have leading roles in "The Go-Getter," starting today at the Lindsey.

Former Kentuckyian Writes About Texas; Article Of

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The Texas Planning board has called attention to the following excerpts from a letter signed "Old Kentuckian" which appeared in the Texas Gazette more than a century ago:

"Texas is without doubt the finest portion of the habitable globe, I can raise larger and better pork in Texas than I could in Kentucky. I can raise ten calves with less trouble than I could one in Kentucky. I can raise horses in proportion to cattle. I can raise more corn to an acre and with less labor.

"My peas grow longer and the hulls fill better . . . for comfortable wearing apparel, give me well-dressed Texas buckskin in preference to all the rotten hemp in Kentucky.

"My wife, Messrs. Editors, has not yet got under way at gardening, but I pledge you my word I have never seen in Kentucky or elsewhere as large and beautiful white cabbage as I saw in Mrs. ---------'s garden, in August. I was compelled to dine with her. I ate up the subject."

Practically every portion of the United States has poisonous snakes, though few are reported in certain states in the northeast.

to the south.

In some instances the rangers have used airplanes to catch border smugglers.

Their work consists mainly in running down cattle rustlers, as of old, and being on hand when trouble threatens.

Filing Of Leases On Lubbock County Lands Forecasts Oil Play In Future

Heavy Activity Now Reported

By DAN TARPLEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

With the daily filing of leases in the Lubbock county clerk's office conveying exploration rights for oil and gas on Lubbock county land, total acreage under lease rapidly is approaching the 25,000 mark, or approximately 5 per cent of the entire county, according to recent surveys.

Since early spring when leases involving rights on more than five and one-half thousand acres of land in the county in one day were filed by oil operators of Fort Worth, lessors, one to three documents conveying the rights have been filed daily at the clerk's office.

Oil Play Just Started

And predictions from representative persons interested in and well acquainted with the oil situation of this section, as well as surrounding sections, were to the effect that the oil play here had just begun. Consensus, as determined by interviews with realtors, investors, and agents for major companies, was that leasing activity will continue and possibly increase.

Optimism regarding the oil future of the county was reflected by an individual investor who estimated that within another year virtually the entire county would be under lease.

As an average, the Lubbock county lands have leased at $1 an acre with 50-cent rentals, according to general estimates. Prices range from as low as 65 cents in some of the sparsely leased areas of the eastern part of the county to as high as $2.50 in the south, west, and southwest portions where leasing has been most active.

Demand Higher Prices

Forecasts were that if and when tests in adjacent counties develop and activity increases, landowners will demand higher prices for leases. Practically all leases are for a ten-year period.

Since April 3 date on which McElreath and Suggett of Fort Worth filed leases involving mineral rights on 5,665.3 acres, more than 13,000 acres have been leased by oil companies, independent operators, and investment agencies. Of the leases already filed, most have been by major companies or through their operators, it was explained.

With exception of several scattered leases encircling the City of Lubbock by McElreath and Suggett and some 2,000 acres in block A northeast of Lubbock, practically all leases are on land in the south and southwest districts of the county. Of this the bulk lies between the main and Seagraves feeder lines of the Santa Fe railway.

Rights Are Obtained

Rights for exploration of oil and gas minerals have been obtained since the middle of March on more than 4,000 acres of land in block 20, the division just north of the Lubbock-Lynn county lines. Approximately 2,500 acres have been leased in block E-2 between the City of Lubbock and block 20. In block E, east of E-2 and slightly south leased land amounts to more than 1,500 acres. A similar acreage has been leased in block A-K, north and west of E-2.

Of the total amount now under leases which have been filed, the majority is believed to be in the hands of major oil companies.

No definite figures were available relative to the amount of land on which rights have been conveyed but leases representing the conveyances not yet filed. Likewise leases on thousands of acres still are pending.

Among the individuals and companies in whose names leases have been filed since Jan. 1 are: Suggett and McElreath, S. E. Cone, Republic Production company, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company, W. B. Chancellor, J. L. Crump, O. L. Nislar, R. A. May, W. M. Blevins, I. C. Heydrick, J. W. Grimes, Fred Childers, W. C. Wood, Amos Howard, A. L. Cone, Hallie C. Posey, John C. Ryan, trustee, J. E. Cunningham, Eugene M. Rollins, E. W. Anguish, W. P. Soash, Snowden and McSweeney company, W. T. Hawkins, George Proctor, and Albert Evans, jr.

Extra guards were on duty in a Hollywood studio when jewels, presented by Napoleon to Empress Marie Louise, were borrowed and worn by Greta Garbo during the filming of a new production. The Swedish star is shown wearing the famous gems.

TREES BEARING TOO MUCH

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Fruit trees in the Rio Grande valley garden exhibit at the Pan American exposition here were sheltered so carefully last winter they are bearing too much fruit for the safety of the trees, says Jerry Block, manager of the outdoor exhibit. Lemon trees are so overcrowded with fruit that branches must be cut or fruit picked immediately, he says. Branches of many of the trees are so weighted they almost touch the ground.

A project to can poi, the distinctive dish of the Hawaiian islands, is under way in Honolulu.

CATTLE SHIPPED IN

SUDAN, June 5. (Special)—First dual purpose cattle to be brought into this section were shipped by Ulys King and S. L. Williams.

They bought three Roan Durham, or milking shorthorn, cows and two heifers. The animals are to be used to breed up a herd. The animals came from the Curtis herd at Panhandle.

MARSHMALLOW ICING

Marshmallows make a simple frosting for sheet cakes. Place the marshmallows on top of the cake and broil or bake it for about five minutes—or until the marshmallows have become browned and puffed.

Culture Is Least Essential When Seeking Husband

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Culture is the least essential quality a young woman seeking marriage should possess, say male students of Dr. C. W. Hall's "marriage" class at the University of Texas.

They ranked character first, and other qualities in order of importance were: desire for home and children, health, intelligence, fidelity, congeniality, personality, consideration and understanding and culture.

Women students ranked qualities of prospective husbands in this order: honesty and sincerity, ambition, congeniality, attractive personal appearance, desire for home and children, sense of humor, intelligence, fidelity, personality, and understanding.

Frank Discussion

The course, listed prosaically as Bible 317 and called "the family as a moral and religious agency in religious education," offers a frank discussion of marriage problems before and after the couple heads altarward.

Introduced in 1934, it was viewed casually and taken by a few students as a "crip" course, but it has grown to 125 students whose free classroom discussions supplement Dr. Hall's lectures.

Once or twice a semester Dr. Hall lectures separately to men and women, not because he does not feel free to discuss certain subjects in mixed classes. He does it "because the girls and boys feel more free to ask questions and to discuss their problems in separate groups."

Jealous Judy Prefers Gentlemen

Her owner, a Mr. Gay of London, says "Judy," small Brazilian monkey, is a "perfect lady" when the men are around, but when the ladies appear, Judy turns ragingly jealous. Here the cameramen snapped Judy just as she hurled a rock at Mrs. Gay, and Judy wasn't fooling. The monkey is seized by uncontrollable anger at the mere sight of a woman. The pose is natural—but is it ART?

Bleeding Hearts And Politics

LAST Sunday, in a front page feature position, our estimable contemporary, the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, printed a readable little story about a gentleman in Idaho. This gentleman in Idaho, it seems, over the years has written thousands of "Letters To The Editor" and, dutifully, has sent his prepared opinions to all the daily newspapers of the nation.

In case our colleagues Editor James M. North, jr., and Managing Editor James R. Record, of the Star-Telegram, would like to print a similar feature a little closer home than Idaho, we respectfully call their attention to one of their state representatives from Tarrant county, Mr. Clarence Farmer, who is no mean "Letters To The Editor" scribbler, himself. Yea, verily, Solon Farmer keeps busy with his little typewriter, seeking, through the lean and hungry editors of the Lone Star state, much space for his opinions on matters politic. To be sure, Bro. Farmer hasn't written as many letters as the famed Idaho vox-popper, but give him time! We'll bet that if he keeps on at the rate he's been going he'll lay the Idaho gent in the shade—and we mean deep in the shade.

The Morning Avalanche has kept no record of the number of letters it has received from Bro. Farmer and since it hasn't printed any of them, it is impossible to check the totals from the files. As we look back upon his literary efforts, however, it seems to us it was a dull week that did not bring at least one epistle at the bottom of which was masterfully inscribed the bold signature of Clarence E. Farmer, representative for and from Tarrant county, Texas.

We have wondered and pondered, upon wading through the Farmer philosophies, just why the statesman from the west banks of the Trinity felt so frequently constrained to take his pen, or, rather, his typewriter, in hand and write us so fully. Because Bro. Farmer's heart bled first for the old folks, later, for the farmers and the workers, still later for heaven, home and mother, and, at the latest, over the rumor that Governor Allred might seek a third term, we sort of had a hunch that maybe he had political ambitions far above the station of representative. Being of a suspicious nature, (and knowing just a little about the gyrations of gents who are ambitious politically) we tried to dope out just why Bro. Farmer's big heart was so copiously bleeding.

A bit of a tip from Austin the other day bore out our idea—and our fears.

Bro. Farmer, say the hotel lobby sitters in the capital, feels he is wasting his fragrance on the desert air of the lower legislative house and longs to hitch his political wagon to a star. Nothing less than the governorship will satisfy Bro. Farmer, reports our informant, and toward that end is he working. In fact, says our informant, Bro. Farmer is ready and willing to start running now. He is standing on a transformer, waiting for the lightning to strike.

So readers, both gentle and otherwise, keep an eye on the public prints for the latest activities of Bro. Farmer.

If you find his name on the ballot next summer—right under where it says "For Governor"—don't say we didn't warn you.

It is an old axiom that when the hearts of gents in politics start bleeding for the "common peepul", campaign time can't be far away!

The Great Need Of All Nations

JUST before he sailed for Europe the other day, Alfred E. Smith was asked by a reporter what, in Mr. Smith's opinion, is most needed by this nation today.

Promptly replied the former governor:

"If there is anything that this country needs today it is individual responsibility."

Those who will stop to consider his words will agree with Mr. Smith.

They will not, however, limit the need to today, this particular year, or this particular era.

The need for individual responsibility is always with this and every other nation.

Without individual responsibility, any nation will fall into decay.

The One-Minute Sermon

Thou shalt not oppress a hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of the strangers that are in thy land within thy gates:

At his day thou shalt give him hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it; lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee.

The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin.—Deuteronomy, XXIV, 14, 15, and 16.

Sinewy, Lawless Harbingers Of Coming Civilization Were The Men Who Won The West, Stanley Vestal Tells You In "Mountain Men"; "Suns Go Down" Another Good 'Western'

"MOUNTAIN MEN," by Stanley Vestal: (Houghton Mifflin, Boston).

THE men who really won the West for the United States were neither the explorers who spied it out, the soldiers who conquered it nor the settlers who peopled it. They were the sinewy, uncultured, lawless men with long rifles and buckskin hunting shirts who went roving up, down and across the plains and the Rockies in quest of furs throughout the generation before the Civil War—the hardiest, toughest and most picturesque breed, probably, that America ever produced.

Stanley Vestal tells their story in "Mountain Men," and it is full of good reading.

Made Conquest Possible

These mountain men went into the West after beaver in the early 1800's. They lived with the Indians, fought with them, traced river systems and mountain ranges that the geographers had never heard of, and made the conquest of the West possible. As Mr. Vestal says, they were themselves robustly uncivilized—but they were the advance agents of civilization.

And what gaudy characters they were! There was Jim Bridger, for instance, who saw the Yellowstone's marvels before any other white man, found that no one would believe his account of what he had seen, and so developed into one of the West's most fantastic and specialized liars.

Crawled To Trading Post

There was the man named Coulter, who was clawed and partly eaten by a grizzly, and who crawled on hands and knees some hundreds of miles to a trading post.

There were Kit Carson and Jedediah Smith, Sol Silver and the Bents—stalwart and independent, all of them, schooled in wilderness lore in a way that makes Cooper's Leatherstocking look like an innocent schoolboy.

Their story is well worth telling, and Mr. Vestal has done a fine job of it.

She Outlasts Pioneers

"SUNS GO DOWN," by Flannery Lewis: (Macmillan, New York).

GRANDMOTHER FLANNERY is in her nineties now, and she lives in what is left of Virginia City, Nevada, and reflects amiably that she has outlasted the pioneers (of whom she never entirely approved). She arrived in Virginia City in the 1860's, a young bride fresh from Boston, and she has lived in it ever since. She saw it in its incredible youth, in its lusty manhood, and in its doddering old age—and if anyone can tell the whole story of this most famous of mining towns, she can.

Her grandson tells it for her, and tells her own story as well, in a fine, richly-flavored book called "Suns Go Down." The grandson is Flannery Lewis, and his book is a valuable, eminently readable contribution to western history.

"First Decent White Woman"

Mrs. Flannery was hailed by the pioneers as "the first decent white woman on the Comstock lode." She knew Mark Twain when he was a young reporter on the Virginia Enterprise—knew him, and was somewhat unimpressed; to the end of his life she referred to him as "that printer fellow, Clemens." She saw Virginia City pour out wealth for decade after decade, saw its gaudy and boisterous pageant from start to finish—and lives on now in a ghost city, contemptuous of the tourists who roam its sunken and deserted streets.

Catches Zestful Exuberance

Mr. Lewis has skillfully caught the zestful exuberance of that old pioneer boom town. It was Virginia City that, swept by a ruinous fire, held a mass meeting to discuss rebuilding and turned the meeting into a dance; that impartially and gaily enlisted both northern and southern regiments when the Civil War broke out; that boasted its first two dozen graves were filled by homicides; that sported highwaymen who served champagne to their victims; that never dared hold funerals at train time, for fear the pallbearers would set down the casket and rush to see the train come in.

It makes a fine book, and you will be the poorer if you miss it.

O'Brien Speaks Again

"THE BEST SHORT STORIES OF 1937," by Edward J. O'Brien: (Houghton Mifflin).

THE pope of the short story field, Edward J. O'Brien, has spoken again.

Yearly Mr. O'Brien speaks twice, as probably everybody in the literary world knows. Once is when, in his book of selected American short pieces, he gives the western hemisphere the once over. The other time is when he does the same for the British output.

The volume under the hammer this morning is his American edition. It contains all the features of the other books—and the shelf of O'Brien books is already beginning to look a little like the Burns Mantle shelf of best plays. Mr. O'Brien tells all anybody could wish to know, even to the annual list of magazines you can sell stories to if circumstances are right. With singular magnanimity, he even lists the best books of short stories.

Makes Annual Contribution

Then he makes his annual contribution of an idea. This time it is a plea "for a literary form which is undeservedly neglected in this country . . . In Italy this form is called the novella and has been practiced for centuries. In Germany and Austria it is called the nouvelle and has been a favorite literary form for a century. In America it has been employed by Edith Wharton in 'Ethan Frome' and by Henry James in 'The Turn of the Screw'."

This form is not the same as a novelette, which Mr. O'Brien understands as a skeleton novel. It is, rather, a major story of breadth and import which, however, retains the short story unities, and he suggests that he had as well borrow the Italian word for it.

"Marching Orders" Best

In any case, he reprints three of these, call them what you will. One of them ("Marching Orders," by I. V. Morris) he calls "the most noteworthy short story of the year, and one of the five or six most important American stories of our generation." It is possibly less than this, but it is a fine story nevertheless—the tale of what happened to the best tailor in Paris when an Argentine who couldn't pay his bill proposed that the tailor take an airplane instead.

Perhaps we were ripe for a few short stories. At any rate, this year's collection seems better than last.

Life In The Dust Bowl

"THE TREE FALLS SOUTH," by Wellington Roe: (Putnams).

WELLINGTON Roe writes well in "The Tree Falls South." Mr. Roe has no international acclaim, and so far as we know never has been exiled from any land. But he has known America intimately, and his phrases are authentically American. He is telling about the tragedy of farming in the dust bowl, about the heat and the dirt and the thirst, and what they do to farmers' minds. There are all sorts of implications, some of which may not be evident to the lower Fifth Avenue set. But even those who bound the United States on the west by the Hudson river will sense that Mr. Roe has made some important points in very little space.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

TWO prominent men in Washington bear the democratic name of Jackson—Robert H. and Gardner—but they have naught in common save an intense interest in the human underdog wherever his hovel or hardships happen to be. The first is premier assistant attorney-general, and the second is crusader extraordinary without portfolio.

At the moment Robert is gunning for the Mellons. He prosecuted the former secretary of the treasury for alleged income tax delinquencies, and now seeks to smash the Aluminum Company of America on the ground that it is a "trust". His next assignment will be to lug into the court the 100-odd "millionaire tax evaders" assailed by the President as men who "loophole" their way through life—and the tax laws. Gardner is now engaged in a children's crusade, seeking to bring to America 500 Basque youngsters whose mountain homes have been destroyed by Franco bombing squadrons.

Their home telephone bells ring constantly, and their wires cross. Old ladies eager to harbor a Basque baby for six months congratulate the assistant attorney-general on his humanitarianism, and invite him to visit their home to assure himself that the boy from across the seas will be well housed. Small business men phone Gardner to suggest tips he might follow up in trailing the Mellons and the tax evaders. It's a comedy of crusades.

COMER: The law has already lined Robert Jackson's pockets, although his round, boyish countenance suggests that he's still of collegiate age. He won his fortune while representing corporations in northern New York—Jamestown—and there were lifted eyebrows when President Roosevelt drafted him as a legal free lance for the New Deal. But it was his experiences as a corporation practitioner which deepened his native liberal instincts.

"As attorney for banks," he explains, "I saw how country banks were wrecked and closed by the bonds sold them by 'big business'. As counsel for a local independent telephone corporation, I saw the business methods of a giant organization in the same field. I saw the progressive concentration of wealth by which local industries were swallowed by larger units. I saw small business regimented by 'big business'. I saw the social effect on the community of that kind of transformation."

Now his dreams of arraying himself against the old order have come true. Shy, soft-spoken, he has forsaken his hobbies of gardening and riding horseback to prepare for titanic court contests. Though he enters them as a comparatively unknown figure outside the capital, he may emerge as a likely prospect for New York governor in 1938—possibly the presidency in 1940. He is considered as the coming man of the New Deal, both legally and politically.

FIGHTER: Gardner Jackson, almost unwittingly, has become America's unofficial public defender for the poor and lowly. He can't say "No" when an unfortunate individual or group of individuals bring their troubles to him, or when he sees or hears of misery caused by man's inhumanity to man. News of his self-imposed assignment has spread so far that the down-trodden beat a track to his door.

In 17 years he has developed a technique of crusading that is unprecedented. He has become the Paul Revere of liberal alarm-sounders. Overnight—by phone and wire—he can mobilize an army of influential people on behalf of his non-paying clients—labor unions, newspapers, Congressional liberals, civic bodies, professors, the clergy. His mightiest weapon is publicity, but sometimes he arranges parades, writes books, brings law suits. The LaFollette investigation of industrial espionage was born at a dinner which he sponsored.

Among his close friends he numbers Justice Brandeis, Felix Frankfurter, John L. Lewis, Senator Robert LaFollette. He seeks their counsel in many a crusade, and sometimes, especially in the case of Messrs. Lewis and LaFollette he receives more substantial help from them than advice. He is no grim-faced radical, but a ruddy, round-faced fellow with a deep sense of the practical and the comical. Fighting for a cause is fun to him, even though the cause may have a tragic side.

LIBERAL: Gardner entered the liberal lists from the city room of the Boston Globe. As a cub reporter, he followed the Sacco-Vanzetti trial, and concluded that the men were innocent. Straightway he quit newspaper work, and spent the next seven years in an attempt to save the lives of these humble laborers.

He took off a few weeks from the Sacco-Vanzetti venture to try to prevent the ousting of Alexander Meiklejohn as president of his alma mater, Amherst college. Nextx he disclosed that Harvard scrubwoman were being paid starvation wages, getting sweet revenge on A. Lawrence Lowell for the latter's vote that Sacco and Vanzetti were guilty. He forced the Wickersham committee to investigate Tom Mooney's imprisonment, subsequently prying from the committee's files a blistering attack on California justice. Signing up with the A. A. A. he insisted that the packers open their books to government inspectors, and was "purged" out of the department by the agricultural conservatives.

Tenant farmers and sharecroppers of the South are his present worry, with the Bilbao children's welfare as a sympathetic sideline. As the record reveals, he has rarely won a clean-cut battle. But nobody can estimate the impetus which his labors from 1920 on have given to the cause of liberalism now rampant under Roosevelt. And he's one exponent who hasn't profited from his liberalism. In fact, he has spent a small fortune for the thankless role of good Samaritan.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE widely circulated story that Tom M. Girdler of Republic Steel was chosen last week to head the Iron and Steel Institute because he was confronted by a strike in his own plants and his brother steel magnates wanted to show him they were for him is a lovely pipe dream, nothing more. Mr. Girdler was picked for the job by the few who really run the Institute ten months ago, as soon as Eugene Grace of Bethlehem had made it clear that he wouldn't take another term as a gift. Presidents of the Iron and Steel Institute really have to work—and they don't get paid for it.

Mr. Girdler is something of a hero to his anti-C. I. O. associates, at that. He and Grace and Ernest Weir comprise the open-shop backbone of the steel industry, and keen New York observers who know them all well privately rate Girdler the ablest of the three.

Forcefulness is Mr. Girdler's outstanding characteristic. He's hard boiled and outspoken—nothing of the diplomat about him. He is 60 years old, a Lehigh graduate, worked for Jones & Laughlin 15 years before coming to head Republic in 1929. Like many other two-fisted scrappers, he likes a good story.

ROSS: Not much is heard publicly of J. D. Ross, member of the Securities Exchange commission who seems to be forever on the outside looking in where S. E. C. affairs are concerned. Yet exceptionally informed sources reveal that his views are having a profound backstage effect on the administration's power policy.

Mr. Ross is one of the outstandingly successful operators of a public-owned electric utility in the country. The system he has set up in Seattle is regarded as a model which other public plants would do well to follow. But although Mr. Ross is an enthusiastic advocate of public ownership, he does not believe in "wasteful" competition between public and private plants, nor in forcing private companies to sell their properties at bankruptcy prices by the threat of competition. He likes the government yardstick idea, but he wants it to be fair. In these respects his attitude differs fundamentally from that of David Lilienthal of T. V. A.

The widely-heralded "Nebraska plan" announced recently, whereby the private utilities in that state are to be taken over by public authorities, was hatched in Washington, not Lincoln. The administration's stamp is all over it. It is therefore highly significant that the plan provides for peaceful and reasonable negotiations between the representatives of public and private interests. This is a new departure for the New Deal, and New York insiders give Ross the credit.

Different From Plains Farming, Isn't It?

"Penthouse Cornfield" Worked With Horse On Derr

WAY UP IN THE SKY . . .
Men reach this farm by a ladder; when they need a horse, they a derrick.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., June 5. (AP)—The only way anyone can get out of Millard Fillmore Copley's cornpatch is to fall out or climb down a ladder.

The tourists who visit beautiful Cabwaylingo forest in the southern West Virginia mountains do a little spontaneous gasping at the sight of waving tassels on a 38-foot foundation of sheer sandstone.

Derrick Lifts Horse

In chorus they exclaim:

"Bet they can't get a horse up there to work it."

Copley can. He and his wife solved the problem with a derrick, block and tackle. The horse comes up swaying and kicking.

Farmer Copley, his wife and three sons use a huge ladder.

That corn is a pay crop, says Copley, and he grows it exclusively on the penthouse plot.

"I make my money on corn. I used to grow a lot of 'taters to sell but it's no use to bother with them now. Trucks bring 'em in cheaper than we can grow them."

When harvest is nigh the Copley family hikes up the long ladder and pulls up the horse. The crop is gathered. Old Ned is lowered to the wagon and off Copley goes to the nearest highway.

"Takes me half a day to get there but I don't have much trouble sellin' a wagonload a day. That old cliff turns out good corn."

Between Ford And The Union Stands Benn

Mysterious Figure Baffles Public As Labor Trouble Fla

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, June 5. — The agressive C. I. O. unionization drive on the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn, which has already met with the beating up of two union organizers at one of the River Rouge plant gateways, inevitably draws attention to Harry Bennett.

Bennett is the most shadowy, legendary figure in Detroit. For years one has heard his name whispered up and down the town. Especially since the sitdown strikes and the increasing tension between the C. I. O. and unorganized Ford's, you hear the whispers more and more often, "Harry Bennett. Harry Bennett." Few of the people who whisper his name really know anything about him. For there are at least two Harry Bennetts. Maybe three.

One Bennett is the one you hear described around the union halls. He is the super-Pinkerton who runs the most elaborate espionage system in the world, whose operatives check the numbers of every car parked within blocks of a union meeting. He is the man whose "service men" patrol the Ford plant in twos and threes, eyes cocked for trouble, and noting every group when two or more men talk together. The man who lives and works in a veritable citadel and whose records tell him at a glance how many times every Ford employe has talked to union organizers, and how much he owes the butcher.

That Is One Picture

HE is the man who has organized a vigilante force of 1000 favored Ford workers, pledged to eject instantly any fellow-employes who show signs of wanting to "sit down." The man who has mysterious knowledge of the underworld enabling him to solve crimes that baffled the regular police, and to fill up the Ford plant with ex-convicts who owe him so much they will do anything for him. In short, a ruthless, hard-boiled, bull-necked desperado who will do anything to prevent unions getting a hold at Ford's.

That is the picture of Bennett given you in every union headquarters. That it is a picture distorted to some extent by the writer of rumors which have always flooded industrial Detroit, there seems little doubt.

Job Of Replanting Large Crop Acreage Confronting South Plains Farmers

Damage Done By Rains

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

VAL job of replanting a record acreage of cotton and grain hums, washed out by rains of past two weeks, and knifing out expected weed crop as a result ain, faces South Plains farmers week.

planting of cotton acreage will he big job. Rains the past week aged a considerable acreage in tion to that previously washed In fact, each successive rain the first, two weeks ago today, ed to add acreage.

Fields Still Wet

tton men and farmers are un- ng to estimate the probable cot- acreage to be replanted. It may a week or more to get a clearer ure of the job, as most farmers not been able to get into their s, due to water standing.

me farmers state that the re- rains increased their replant- job, that where they formerly planned on replanting 30 to 40 cent, they now have 50 to 60 cent, or more.

Not Too Late To Plant

is not too late to plant cotton it is pointed out by cotton in fact, with warm weather, on put out now will probably better than that which was ted a month ago. Growth will more rapid and the stalks prob- will have more substantial th.

ed for replanting is coming into territory. There is no surplus certified or pedigreed seed and s doubtful if there will be the entage of that type of seed used eplanting that was done in the . Many farmers are not finan- ly able to buy more high priced everal have raised the question o whether cotton land that has e replanted, will be in turn put in grain sorghum, owing to a city of seed. So far there has n little to indicate a change of plan.

eplanting costs will determine type of seed. It is estimated several farmers that the replant- job will cost from 50 cents to e than a dollar per acre, de- ding on the type of seed used. in-run seed will average 30 cents acre, said one farmer, with 10 ts additional for oil and gas and same amount for labor. Cer- d seed would be about 60 cents e per acre.

Cost 45 Cents An Acre

rain sorghum replanting costs uld be about 45 cents per acre for inary seed.

stimated replanting acreage may up close to a million acres. So ch land has been washed by vy rains that more than first icipated will have to be resown. robably three-fourths of the ex- ted 1,800,000 acres in cotton had n planted prior to the last week May. Following the first rains, e replanting was done. Much that will have to be done over. dditional damage added to the l reseeding job.

Moisture More Than Enough

Moisture so far is more than ugh to meet needs of crops for e weeks to come, unless high ving winds dry out the soil. ubbock experiment station rec- s indicate about five and a half hes of rain have fallen since ut May 23. Four inches fell in y and the remainder in June. he moisture was sufficient to etrate to a considerable depth. ile the sub-soil moisture per- tage was rather low, less than 12 cent, the fall was enough t re than meen sub-soil moisture. ainfall over the territory, bas- d on railroad station agents' reports, was considerably above that of Lubbock in most instances. Two and a half to three and four inches was reported in some quarters.

A bright side to this picture is the fact that with tractors, it will be possible to plant crops in considerably less time than with horses or mules. With sufficient sub-soil moisture, cotton planted late in June will be able to make good rapid growth.

Horse Becomes 'Bed' To His Pal, A Gander

BARNYARD PALS

NEWARK, N. Y., June 5.—Aesop in his fables never wrote an animal friendship stranger than that between Big Bill, the horse, and Little Bill, the gander.

They've been inseparable pals Charlie De Wilde's farm nearly ever since Little Bill got caught in a wire fence a year ago and Big Bill freed him by kicking the fence.

By day, Little Bill waddles along behind his pal, who looks back frequently to be sure he is not distancing his feathered friend. They eat their meals together and at night the gander roosts on the horse's shoulder.

Little Bill, who is not so young himself (he's seven), apparently has only one interest—to protect his aging pal, now 14. Only Wilde can touch the horse's feed bag or water bucket and woe to the stranger who tries to touch either animal.

Winners In A. & M.'s Contest Announced

COLLEGE STATION, June 5. (AP)—Winners of the sixth annual cotton contest at Texas A. & M. college are announced as follows: H. E. Hampton of College Sdion; R. N. Connolly of Corpus Cisti, and Bailey G. Carnahan of San Antonio.

This year's contest was perhaps the most difficult since the origin of the competition, Prof. J. S. Mofford of the agronomy department, who from the start has conducted this annual event, said. Sixteen entered and eleven finished.

The winners will receive traveling fellowships making possible a tour of study of cotton research and milling centers at home and abroad. Funds for the fellowships are raised through the annual cotton style show and pageant at the college and from donations by members of the cotton trade.

The group, after visiting experiment stations and mills in the United States, will sail from New York June 19 for Liverpool. Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and France also will be visited, with return sailing July 19 from Havre. The trio will be accompanied by Dr. L. G. Jones of the agronomy department.

It's Plum Harvest Time In San Marcos Valley; Yield Is High

LOCKHART, June 5. (AP)—It is plum harvest time in the San Marcos river valley where A. J. McKean has more than 200 acres in fruit trees, including 140 acres of bruce plums. Hundreds of bushels of the fruit are being trucked daily to the larger Texas cities, and one load last week went to New Orleans.

The bruce trees are six years old, but a companion orchard containing berries, peaches, grapes, and several varieties of plum has been cultivated eight years. Part of the clay hillsides where the orchards grow has been in use nearly a century, the nearby village of Prairie Lea being founded in the days of the republic.

SAYS IRRIGATION PAYS

LITTLEFIELD, June 5. (Special)—Charley Pickrell, farmer in the eastern part of the county, cut 198 tons of alfalfa from 22 acres of irrigated crop last year. He got five cuttings from the acreage and netted $142 per acre.

Pickrell also raised 107 bales of cotton from 90 acres, which he also irrigated.

More Fertilizer Used In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, June 5.—Increased use of fertilizer on Texas farms for twelve months ending Sept. 1, 1937, over the preceding year, is shown by a report on fertilizer tag sales issued by Dr. G. S. Fraps, state chemist, but the total for the year will be considerably less than the record set for the year ending Sept. 1, 1929.

Fertilizer tag sales from Sept. 1, 1936, to April 2 of this year account for 83,235 tons compared with 60,729 tons for corresponding period the preceding year. Dr. Fraps expressed the opinion that not more than 1,000 additional tons will be used in Texas between now and Sept. 1. For the year ending Sept. 1, 1929, tag sales accounted for the use of 187,215 tons. Noticeable drop in sales followed but recent years have shown an upward tendency.

Approximately 170 Tractors Are Sold To Seagraves Farmers

SEAGRAVES, June 5. (Special)—Approximately 170 tractors have been sold to farmers and ranchers in the Seagraves trade territory the past season, a check of dealers shows.

That number has been sold since January 1, 1936. In addition much row crop machinery, feed mills, grain sorghum combines, etc., have been sold.

Pie Melons, Kept In A Trench Silo, Make Good Stock Feed

MATADOR, June 5. (Special)—Hunter S. Watson, who farms near Four Corners, says pie melons, kept in a trench silo, make good feed.

Last fall he put hundreds into a small trench silo, covered them with straw and then with dirt. They kept in fine shape. He has fed them to his stock, with cottonseed meal additional.

Co-Ed Comes Home To Run The Farm

YOUNGSTOWN, June 5. (AP)—Far removed from the sunbonneted, calico-clad rural maid of the past, Elizabeth Arrel, who was the only girl in her class to get an agricultural degree, works her father's farm attired in whipcord breeches, riding boots and a sun helmet.

ELIZABETH ARREL

Miss Arrel went back to the 260-acre farm in suburban Poland, Ohio, immediately after graduation from Ohio state university last year.

Most of her day is spent in such practical tasks as figuring costs, soil content and other scientific data. As a hobby, she is experimenting with grafting fruit trees.

A tall, slender girl with reddish gold hair, she takes her work as a matter of course.

"I've always been interested in the farm," she says, "and I would not care to do office work or teach school. So I thought the best thing I could do was to study agriculture and help run the farm.

"Horticulture is really my field. That's what I majored in, but I've found that our land is not especially good for orchards, so right now I am growing potatoes."

Later on, she hopes to do some writing on farm problems.

BECOMING PRODUCE CENTER

LITTLEFIELD, June 5. (Special)—Littlefield is fast becoming a produce center, local dealers report.

Recently a check showed between 400 and 500 cases of eggs in one week, 200 ten gallons of cream and 6,000 pounds of poultry.

There are three dealers here.

ing ex-convicts a chance, and who hires them only for the highest social motive.

It is the man who has done hundreds of little kindnesses to children and down-and-outers, who paints portraits, thinks Moby Dick is the greatest story ever written, and has rendered service on the Michigan Prison commission.

SOMEWHERE between these pictures is the Bennett you see when you go to his office in the basement of the Ford general offices at Dearborn. Behind a large desk, answering from time to time a phone that hisses softly instead of ringing, sits Bennett. His lieutenants drift in and out, and over the phone go crisp suggestions to Ford plant managers and gruff orders to his own "service department" men out on the job in various plants. Bennett, who was a top-class lightweight boxer in the navy during the World War, under the name of Sailor Reese, still has the nervous, impatient, tightdrawn manner that goes with it. Snappy suit, bow tie, blue shirt without vest, scarred face, and restless eyes figure in the picture.

Bennett was in the intelligence department of the navy during the war, and was assigned to stop sabotage that was ruining the motors of Eagle Boats which Ford was then building to end the submarine menace. Bennett stopped it, and drew the attention of Edsel and Henry Ford.

Broke Up Kidnaping

They hired him after the war, partly as personal bodyguard and family detective, partly in building up the Ford private police system. He is still regarded as "Ford's personal man" rather than a general employe of the Ford Motor Co.

He is credited with breaking up at least one attempt to kidnap Edsel Ford's children, and he certainly helped solve Detroit's famous Jackie Thompson kidnaping case in 1919. Some $20,000 paid by Jackie's father for "information" was paid back to him in the Ford offices in the presence of Detroit police. And shortly afterward police got on the track of the kidnapers and Jackie was returned.

Soon after that, Bennett's car was peppered with bullets on the Ypsilanti road. He always claimed he was just caught in the cross-fire of a bootlegger feud. Much the same thing happened only a few weeks ago when five men drove their car into the side of Bennett's on Greenfield road. Bennett jumped out, his own car went over the curb and into a tree. He drew his revolver (with which he is a sure shot) and the other car fled.

Hurt By Flying Brick

BENNETT was seriously injured by a flying brick when he stepped out between his police and marchers who approached the Ford plant in 1932, precipitating a bloody riot. Bennett nearly died this time.

Deep-sea diver, amateur photographer, detective, saxophone player, boxer, pistol expert, lover of Chow dogs, disliker of flowers, "practical sociologist." Bennett is a story-book character whose life may compass still another story as labor violence again stalks the borders of Dearborn.

JEALOUS OVER KITTEN

WHITEWRIGHT, Tex. (AP)—Jealousy of a mother cat and a stepmother hen enlivens barnyard life at the farm of W. C. Brown near here.

Brown says the hen recently adopted five kittens. The mother cat visits them at intervals for feeding, driving the hen away. The hen stands by until the kittens are fed, then gathers them under its wing.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 121

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Tarzan saw those fang-studded jaws rushing toward him, he knew that his situation was desperate, for the arena gave him small opportunity to maneuver. All he could hope to do was to account for one of the savage beasts before the other two claimed him!

As Queen Zalya watched the approach of the swift climax, an hysterical laugh burst from her lips. Was she trying to conceal her anxiety for the magnetic stranger, or was she truly delighted at this revenge for his disdainful attitude? Zalya herself did not know.

But any attempt to assess her conflicting emotions was quickly nullified by her interest in the breath-taking events of the arena. She saw Tarzan leap nimbly from the path of the snarling jaguars, only to have the three beasts whirl once more to the attack.

Then the eyes of the ape-man fell upon the scaffolding which supported the chute. There—there was some slight hope. He dodged and raced toward it, then scrambled up the framework. But as he ascended, one of the agile cat-beasts sprang up toward him!
