CLUBS IN SPIN

Scotland Yard Banning Zero

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard threw Britain's booming gambling clubs into a spin Saturday by banning the zero from roulette.

Senior detectives told club owners they will prosecute wherever the zero is used. With the warning came a hint that other casino favorites such as baccarat, blackjack and craps may be banned, too.

The warning came after a decision in the House of Lords — the nation's highest appeal court — that roulette with a zero is illegal.

The House found that Britain's gaming laws demand that the bettor should have the same chance as the banker. In zero roulette the bank has a built-in advantage of about three per cent.

Clubs had tried to get round this by offering the bank to any player at the table every five spins. But the offer was seldom accepted as the average bettor could not afford the risk.

Gambling experts said that in the light of the Lords' ruling the only game still legal could be chemin-de-fer. In chemmy, the bank automatically passes from player to player. The casino gets its profit from a table charge.

The British Gaming Association, the official body of casino operators, called an emergency meeting for Monday to discuss the yard warning.

Eric Morley, its chairman, said: "We have to discuss this most carefully because there are great fundamentals at issue."

An official at the Victoria Sporting Club, which flies in planeloads of American gamblers to its tables, said: "It is impossible to run a casino without a zero in roulette. With no zero there can be no profit for the house."

Another club operator said: "Quite obviously this is an attempt to close casinos."

The gaming association said it had no idea how or whether roulette could be operated without the zero. That is one of the subjects to be discussed next week.

British clubs operate with only one zero. Many continental casinos and those in Nevada also have a double zero, thus increasing still further the odds in favor of the house.

When the zero comes up, only those players who have actually bet on it win. Those who have bet other possibilities all lose their stakes.

Zero and double zero pay off at the same odds as a single number — 35 to 1 — so the house makes a clean sweep of the table while paying out relatively little when the zero does come up.

Big Spring Holiday

Monday will be a general holiday in Big Spring.

Banks, the post office, public and private offices and most of the retail outlets will be closed.

Hundreds of Big Springers will be out of town. Many football fans will be in Dallas to see the Cotton Bowl game.

Webb AFB continues the holiday work schedule which has prevailed since Christmas. This will terminate Wednesday. Many airmen are on holiday leave and will be trekking back to the base Monday and Tuesday.

Highway patrol and other officers are carrying on a concerted drive on roads and highways which began Friday night. The effort is designed to lessen the possibility of traffic accidents and fatalities.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

The interval between Christmas and New Year's Day usually qualifies as a quiet period, and this week was no particular exception. Most of the activity seems to have been on the burglary front with a number of break-ins reported. Here's hoping that these creatures get caught up — or better still get caught — before they spoil a new year.

The nightmare that enginemen fear most came true last week when a T&P locomotive collided with a loaded gasoline transport at a crossing. This happened near Tye, and the truck driver was killed. Flaming fuel bathed the locomotive and W. W. Marlin, J. H. Eastham and P. P. Van Pelt sustained painful burns. G. W. Hill escaped serious injury.

The Texas Highway Patrol had words of praise for Howard County. All through the Christmas holidays there was not an accident which required their attention. Not so fortunate was Lamesa, where Tommy Joe Williams Jr., 6, was killed Tuesday when a truck hit his bike at an intersection.

Rusk Reviews Budget, War With Johnson

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson conferred at his Texas ranch Saturday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on matters ranging from the budget to Cambodia. But there was no White House comment on Southeast Asian developments.

Presidential press secretary George Christian emphasized that there was "nothing special" about Rusk's arrival.

"He usually comes in when the President is here," the secretary said. "They're working on year-end matters and the budget."

NO COMMENT

Christian said it would be only natural, though, for the two men to talk about such important pending matters as Vietnam and Cambodia.

There still was no comment from the Texas White House on reports that Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk is ready to talk to a U.S. envoy on the issue of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong use of his country as a war sanctuary.

And, Christian said, he had nothing to say about any possible peace move implications in the 12-hour extension of the New Year's truce in Vietnam. The South Vietnamese have granted the extension in response to Pope Paul's worldwide plea for peace.

NEW ROLE

President Johnson was closing out 1967 with a review of his administration—past and future. Budget Director Charles L. Schultze came back again on the plane from Washington with Rusk for another go at the fiscal 1969 budget."

Secretary of Commerce Alexander Trowbridge arrived at the ranch, too, the White House announced later, for a review of his department's budget and his new role as overseer of regional economic development commissions.

Christian reported that Secretary of State Rusk "reviewed his budget and various foreign policy developments." There was no elaboration on that, except that Schultze and presidential assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. sat in on the discussions.

The two cabinet officers and Schultze were returning to Washington Saturday afternoon, Christian said.

Winter Takes Aim At Texas

By The Associated Press

One of winter's mightiest blasts aimed its fury for Texas late Saturday, promising a frigid beginning for the New Year.

Along with rain and drizzle and low temperatures, the Weather Bureau said light snow would extend into North Central Texas by Sunday morning.

A swelling Cotton Bowl football crowd in Dallas took the news in stride, hoping for a better day on Monday, when colder temperatures were predicted.

Late forecasts contained a cold wave warning for all of Southwest Texas with freezing rain or snow in the northern portions.

The Weather Bureau said hazardous driving warnings may be necessary for that portion of Southwest Texas west of the Pecos River.

Rain fell late Saturday, as the new norther approached the Panhandle, over large sections of North Texas and the state's midlands. Light rain and showers continued over Southeast Texas and for 130 miles into the Gulf of Mexico.

Bundy Says U.S. To Use Restraint

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Johnson administration official said Saturday the United States will approach the problem of the Communist use of Cambodian territory as a sanctuary with the greatest restraint.

At the same time William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state, said there are indications the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong Communist forces "are developing a pattern of military action that could mean more significant use of border areas —not only in Cambodia but in Laos and along the demilitarized zone" in Vietnam.

HOT PURSUIT

In a year end interview, the State Department's top Asian expert said the next development "is somewhat more in the laps of the North Vietnamese than it is of ourselves."

"If they take additional action this will create a more difficult situation," he said. "We believe as we have stated for nearly two years that one of the actions that could be taken that would assist in this situation would be an enlarged role for the International Control Commission (ICC)."

Bundy declined specific comment on the recent interview of Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, with the Washington Post which apparently has opened the door to U.S. hot pursuit of Communist forces illegally making use of Cambodian territory.

COPTERS SOUGHT

Nor would Bundy comment on Sihanouk's invitation for the United States to send an emissary to talk with him. That matter now is under White House consideration.

However, in the first official comment on Sihanouk's move, Bundy declared:

"We understand that the prince is dedicated to the preservation of Cambodia as it now stands and to the continuation of its neutral posture in international relations.

"We have made it clear over and over again that we support Cambodian independence and territorial integrity and recognize and support their policy of neutrality.

Sihanouk has asked for helicopters, vehicles, communications equipment and fixed-post installations along his borders.

HOPE

Among the three countries—Canada, India and Poland making up the ICC—Bundy said there is no doubt of Canada's support and India is sympathetic to enlarging the ICC role. He expressed hope that Poland and the Soviet Union would change their opposition to the inspection.

Tractor Accident Kills Boy

Larry Dee Zant, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Zane, Vealmoor, was killed in a tractor accident Saturday at 5:30 p.m. on a farm 18 miles north and east of Big Spring. Jess Slaughter, Justice of Peace, ruled the death accidental.

The boy had been driving a tractor with a shredded attached. Apparently he fell from the tractor into the shredder. His father, who was plowing in a nearby field, noticed the tractor was running wild. He went to investigate and found his son under the shredder.

Funeral services are pending with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Larry Zant was born Feb. 3, 1955, in Big Spring. He was a student in Borden County Junior High School and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his parents, two brothers, Nathan Lloyd Zant, and Michael Leslie Zant, of the home; two sisters, Lawanda Gayle Zant and Loretta Dawe Zant, both of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Zant, Vealmoor; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Key, Vealmoor.

Pope's Plea Extends New Year's Truce

South Vietnam Will Observe 'Day Of Peace'

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam announced Saturday the New Year's truce would be extended by 12 hours in response to Pope Paul VI's appeal that the holiday be observed as a "Day of Peace" throughout the world.

The New Year's truce, originally for 24 hours, will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday. The Viet Cong's own three-day truce began at 1 a.m. Saturday, but there was no agreement by the allies to observe it.

A series of engagements were reported in the northern part of South Vietnam long after the Viet Cong truce had gone into effect.

'DEEPLY GRATEFUL'

The Foreign Ministry issued a statement saying the truce extension had been ordered "in the spirit of His Holiness, Pope Paul's appeal of Dec. 15 that Jan. 1 be observed as a 'Day of Peace' throughout the world."

The ministry said the government and people of South Vietnam "appeal to the Communist forces to respect the New Year's truce."

A spokesman for Pope Paul in Vatican City said the pontiff was "deeply grateful" for the truce.

The spokesman added that the Pope was still awaiting some reply from North Vietnam to his peace appeal of Dec. 22 in which he offered himself as a mediator in Vietnam.

SPECULATION

There was speculation that the truce extension was the subject of the urgent meeting Friday between President Nguyen Van Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Thieu denied this. He would not say what the subject of the Bunker discussions was other than it was "urgent."

In a delayed report, the Marines announced Operation Badger Tooth along the border of Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces and said 27 enemy were killed there Friday in "close-range fighting along the coast of the South China Sea."

In the fighting that begun in that area Wednesday, the command listed 48 Marines killed and 81 wounded. Marine forces were reported moving on through that area.

Just to the south of those two northernmost provinces, 33 enemy were reported killed in a Marine operation called Auburn which begun Thursday. That operation in Quang Nam province has centered around the coastal town of Hoi An. Cumulative Marine casualties were listed Saturday at 22 men killed and 47 wounded.

Heavy strikes by U.S. warplanes supported the Marines, but over North Vietnam American planes were held by bad weather Friday to 66 strike missions. They struck at supply points north of Haiphong.

PRICES SPIRAL

Americans Plan Noisy Welcome

NEW YORK (AP) — Many Americans plan a noisy welcome to 1968, with prices ranging up to near $100 a couple—without drinks—in some New York cafes.

So many people will stay home or visit friends.

In some places they might as well stay home because liquor can't be sold on Sunday.

"We'll have a big New Year's Eve party, only it'll be Saturday," said an Albuquerque, N.M., club owner.

'WET' SUNDAY

Sunday closing laws were lifted for the occasion in Washington, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Colorado. In Denver they were predicting the "wettest Sunday New Year's Eve since Prohibition was repealed."

A Seattle motel offers a party and two nights' lodging for $55 a couple.

Salt Lake City lifted a ban on Sunday dancing, but liquor sales are still illegal.

ANNUAL JAM

New Yorkers plan their annual jam-in at Times Square, and this year the city has invited everybody to a gospel concert and post-midnight dancing under the cold stars in Central Park. Many bars will be open until 8 a.m., four hours later than usual.

At the Waldorf-Astoria it's $85 a couple, plus tax and tip, for dinner and dancing to Guy Lombardo in the grand ballroom.

In Miami, because of a blue law, the Orange Bowl parade was moved up to Saturday night, but the bars will be open Sunday—until 5 a.m. New Year's Day, then reopen at 7 a.m. At the new Hilton Plaza it's $80 for dinner and Harry Belafonte.

It's dry Sunday in Minneapolis-St. Paul, but some of the suburbs are wet.

In Michigan it's only wine and beer until midnight.

EAT POTATOES

It's $50 per couple for Jan Murray at the Thunderbird in Las Vegas; $37.50 including tax and tip at the Washington Hilton; $70 for Ella Fitzgerald at Los Angeles' Coconut Grove; $25 including setups and favors at the Black Garter in Dallas; $60 at the Royal Hawaiian in Honolulu; $50 at the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans, with two bands and Ray Anthony's floor show.

Nashville recently became the only city in Tennessee with legal sale of mixed drinks, but even there some night spots still mix drinks from the customer's bottle.

The Automobile Club of Michigan suggests that revelers eat mashed potatoes, because they "act like a sponge, retaining alcohol in the stomach and releasing it slowly into the blood.

Officials To Map Disorders Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police officials of the nation's 100 biggest cities begin meeting in seclusion Jan. 15 to plan how to prevent—or control—civil disorders in a year of war, Negro unrest and presidential election campaign.

President Johnson ordered Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to arrange the training sessions which will involve top police officers exchanging views on preventing and controlling civil disturbances.

EXPERIENCE

Mayors or their representatives have been invited to join some of the closed sessions which will begin at Airlie House conference center in Warrenton, Va., then move on to regional meetings around the country.

In proposing the sessions in November, President Johnson said, "These conferences should make maximum use of the skills and experience gained by several agencies of the government, and of local officials who have been successful in preventing or controlling civil disorders."

EARLY TASTE

In addition to racial disorders, a source said, the police conferences will be concerned with threatened demonstrations by antiwar and civil rights groups against the 1968 national political conventions and campaigns.

Lott Bank Bandit Suspect Seized By Local Police

Big Spring police were holding a man here Saturday night as a suspect in the robbery of the Lott State Bank before Christmas.

Sherill Farmer of the detective force said the man gave the name of Leroy Grant, but he was being held under a federal bank robbery warrant issued for a Wesley Grant.

Seven bills, bearing marks from the Lott bank, were found in his possession, said Farmer.

Also taken was receipt for $925 cash paid for a Cadillac bought in Fort Worth and which the suspect was driving here.

Grant was picked up here about supper time Saturday on a tip from Odessa in a check investigation. One other was taken at that time and later two more men were picked up by police. The three others were released later.

The Lott bank was robbed of $7,600 on Dec. 22 by a pair of bandits who herded three women employes of the bank into a vault. The robbers fit the description of two men who inquired about a car loan at the Rogers bank a little more than two hours before the Lott robbery.

A bracelet and watch worn by the man held here resembled a description given by the women bank employes. Farmer said that he felt "we have a tentative identification."

Federal authorities were notified and were en route here Saturday night.

NEW YEAR'S BURDEN

Taxes Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The burden on the U.S. taxpayer will increase New Year's day even though Congress did not adopt President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge.

Congress did increase Social Security taxes, however, and this will more than offset the repeal of one minor tax which takes effect on Monday—the federal stamp tax on real estate sales.

PAIN DELAYED

Higher Social Security taxes won't be felt immediately since the tax rate itself remains at 4.4 per cent during 1968 on both the worker and his boss.

But Congress raised the earnings ceiling on that tax form $6,600 to $7,800. Thus persons earning more than $6,600 this year could pay as much as $52.80 more in Social Security taxes.

The burden would increase further if Congress adopted the proposed surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes which the House Ways and Means Committee plans to reconsider on Jan. 22. Key committee members, however, say action will depend on efforts in the new federal budget to save money.

TWO CHANGES

During 1967, a person earning $6,600 or more paid $290.40 in social security taxes. If he held more than one job and paid more than that the difference will be refunded by the Internal Revenue Service upon request.

Congress approved a maximum payment during 1968 of $343.20 based on the same 4.4 per cent rate and maximum earnings of $7,800. The maximum payment would have remained at $290.40 in the coming year under the old law.

This and repeal of the stamp tax are the only two changes in tax law now scheduled for 1968.

The measure approved by Congress this year will boost the maximum Social Security tax to $460.20 for both the worker and his boss by 1987 compared with $372.90 under the old law.

This will mean a tax rate by 1987 of 5.9 per cent.

NEARLY $500

For the self-employed, the maximum tax will go as high as $616.20 by 1987. It was $422.40 during 1967 and will jump to $499.20 during 1968.

The real estate stamp tax brought about $60 million to $70 million to federal revenues yearly. The home buyer paid it when he signed his settlement papers. It amounted to 55 cents for each $500 or fraction involved in a transaction.

Shootings, Fires Pace Texas Holiday Deaths

By The Associated Press

A significant dearth of traffic deaths turned to amazing proportions late Saturday night in Texas as the holiday violent death count stayed low.

At a very late hour, only two persons had been killed in New Year's weekend traffic. One occurred in Fort Worth Friday night while a second occurred in Houston.

TRAFFIC MIRACLE

More than 24 hours passed without a single traffic fatality despite weather that made streets and highways across the state extremely hazardous.

Eight persons, however, had died in the first 26 hours of the holiday from violence other than traffic accidents. These included shootings, fires and stabbings.

The Associated Press began its tabulations at 6 p.m. Friday and planned to continue it until midnight Monday. In a similar period over the Christmas holidays, 53 persons died in violence over the state, 44 of them in traffic.

Hubert Johnson, 39, of Houston was killed Saturday when he was struck by a train as he slept on railroad tracks in Houston.

Happy New Year, Tax Forms Here

Nearly everyone will be getting a letter in the mail Tuesday or Wednesday from Uncle Sam.

The Big Spring post office reported Saturday that an initial shipment of 1967 income tax forms had reached the office and that the big flood of these official communications from the Internal Revenue Service would be on hand soon.

"We look for the bulk of the shipment to arrive this weekend. Since we will be closed on Monday, the deliveries will probably get under way on Tuesday and lap over into Wednesday," said a spokesman for the post office.

Red Cross Yule Packets Bring Thanks From GI's

It is more blessed to give than to receive, and in the case of the ditty bags the Howard-Glasscock chapter of the American Red Cross sent to Vietnam the blessings are being received in letters from the men of the "A" Battery, 6th Battalion, 15th Artillery A.P.O. San Francisco 96345.

1st Lt. Raymond P. McIntosh, executive officer, wrote, "May the New Year find the citizens of Big Spring happy, healthy and prosperous, and may God be with all of you." He also said in his letter, " I want to thank not only all of you, but also all of the many citizens of Big Spring, Texas, who must have cooperated so well with you and really helped the men in "A" Battery, 6th Battalion, 15th Artillery have a very Merry Christmas. Every man received a bag with items very valuable to us over here. All items will be put to very good and constant use. The committee that decided on the composition of the gift packs should be commended for their extremely good judgment."

'WONDERFUL GIFTS'

In a letter to the local Red Cross chapter, 1st Sgt. Horace E. Borders wrote, "I want to say many thanks to you and the Red Cross for so many wonderful gifts. You did make so many soldiers happy this Christmas. It was nice of you to be so nice. So, good day for now and a Happy New Year. May God bless you each one."

Pfc. Glen L. Cregar said in his letter, "We appreciate the gift from you all and it sure helps us over here. May God bless you all as he may keep His hands upon all of us for it is the only one to turn to for help now. We are all doing all we can to protect our country and loved ones over there. It is sure nice to know that someone is thinking about us over here."

'HARD TO BE AWAY'

"I would like to thank you for the gifts you sent me. All the men in the Battery got a gift from you. It is so nice to know people back home are thinking about the men in Vietnam. It is so hard to be away from your loved ones at this time of the year," wrote Pfc. Dennis L. Laffin. His letter continued, "I again want to thank you for the gifts and the card Mrs. Joe Froman sent. You have made my Christmas a lot happier, and also made a lot of other GIs happy. I know it is a little late, but I hope you will have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

'MADE MY CHRISTMAS'

Pfc. Robert Dee, US 51567982

wrote, "Please see that the citizens of Big Spring receive some acknowledgment of my deep gratitude and thanks. Today myself and everyone in this Artillery battery received your packages. You'll never know how happy you made us GIs. I personally want to thank you all so very much. You people have made my Christmas. I'm very proud to be over here doing my job, and know that there are American citizens like yourselves behind us all the way. Sure, nobody wants to be here, but the job must be done. Those gifts you sent were simply ideal for the GI. I wish to commend you on your selections."

According to Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, executive secretary of the local chapter, 180 ditty bags were sent by the Red Cross. These gift bags contained paperback books, plastic soap cases, small packages of writing paper with self-seal envelopes, small address books, plastic toothbrush holders, pocket games, small tins of nuts and candies, plastic snapshot holders, kitchen size and sandwich-type plastic bags and "wipe and shine" shoe polish. The ditty bags were made and filled by volunteers.

Salvation Army's watchnight service will be held Sunday night at 9 p.m. and will begin with a missionary film narrated by Sig Rogers. The song service will be led by Mrs. (Lt.) Bart Deggs; then the film entitled "The Harvester" will be shown. Everyone is invited to attend.

This film tells of a dedicated missionary doctor in Pakistan who finds apathetic Christians at home.

After refreshments the final service will be under the direction of Maj. and Mrs. Rodolph Lanier of Dallas. Mrs. Lanier is the daughter of Salvation Army parents and the mother to two boys, Steve and Gary.

She now serves Texas as assistant Home League secretary. Maj. Lanier has served as Texas general secretary since 1966. He is the Texas emergency disaster director, with responsibility to coordinate Salvation Army services at the site of disasters such as with Hurricane Beulah. He serves also as music director for the Texas Division, responsible for the development of the music program. In connection with the assignment of planning a study course for the youth, in developing lay personnel, he conducted a survey, the results of which were published by the Salvation Army under the title "Understanding the Teenager." He is a member of the Salvation Army National Commission of Women's and Children's Service.

In 1965 he was selected as one of four officers in the United States to attend the International College of Officers in London for a two-month session. Twenty-five officers from around the world discussed world conditions and the Salvation Army's position in meeting current challenges.

Westbrook Sets Livestock Show

WESTBROOK — The annual Westbrook FFA livestock show will be held Jan. 8. Judging of the swine division will begin at 3:30 p.m., with the sheep judging beginning immediately after. Ribbons will be awarded the first five places, and rosettes for grand and reserve champions. The awards will be presented by Chapter Sweetheart Sue Bell. Judge of the show will be Mitchell County Agent Bobby Lemmons.

Burns To Death

McKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — John T. Yarborough apparently was asphyxiated when a mattress on which he was lying caught fire at this home Friday. The mattress was charred before the fire was discovered.

VIEW ON VIETNAM

Romney Now Sees A Brighter Side

SINGAPORE (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today he is more optimistic about Southeast Asia now than when he arrived a week ago.

"From a long range standpoint I'm more optimistic," he said before leaving for New Delhi on the next leg of his world tour, "and from a basic standpoint I'm more optimistic."

Romney, who so far visited South Vietnam, Indonesia and Singapore, said he based his optimism on the "natural resources possibilities and the opportunities for economic growth and a good, stable and prosperous group of nations in this whole area."

Asked whether he saw a need for a change in U.S. policies in Southeast Asia, the Republican presidential aspirant replied: "I've been weighing it, and this is another thing I'm going to be discussing when I get home."

During his 24-hour stopover in Singapore, Romney conferred with Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew, Foreign Minister Sinnathamby Rajaratnam and Finance Minister Goh Keng Swee.

Romney said he sounded out the leaders on the possibility of neutralizing the former French Indochina states as a way to end the Vietnam war.

He told newsmen after seeing the foreign minister that the neutralization concept involved the removal of Laos, Cambodia and North and South Vietnam "from the conflict of the cold war."

Contest Placers Are Announced

COAHOMA — Winners in the recent Christmas lighting contest sponsored in the Coahoma-Sand Springs area by the Coahoma Lions and Texas Electric Service Co. were announced Saturday.

In Coahoma, W. A. Wilson won first place, and in Sand Springs it was S. L. Simmons. Second place went to James Renfro, Coahoma, and third to Ernest Garrett, Coahoma. The first place winners each received a Ready Lite, second place $10 and third $5.

Production Is Up

AUSTIN (AP)— The Texas Railroad Commission reported Friday the average calendar day oil allowable as of Jan. 1 will be 3,604,868 barrels, compared with 3,317,796 barrels a day on Dec. 15.

Police Hunt Music Lovers

Charles Beil reported Friday the burglary of a vacant house at 606 Highland Drive which belongs to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. An intercommunication system with speakers in each room was stolen. A value of $300 was placed on the stolen equipment. The burglary was discovered when the house was shown to prospective buyers.

Police are also investigating the theft of two hubcaps from an automobile belonging to Marvin Patterson, 609 Linda, while the car was parked at the Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

Place Open

Applications for examinations are now being received by the Civil Service Commission for aircraft radio installer and repairer at Webb AFB. The position pays $3.32 per hour. Information may be obtained at the personnel office at Webb.

H-SU Gifts Increasing

New gifts, trusts and bequests to Hardin-Simmons University totalling more than $375,000 have been received since the trustees meeting on Nov. 14, 1967, announced President Elwin L. Skiles and Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president for development.

An initial major gift of $50,000 on what will be a much larger project has been added to the endowment fund. According to Dr. Hemphill, the donors are considering a number of projects including the endowing of a professorship.

Two graduates of the university have set up a $100,000 trust with the Baptist Foundation of Texas for Hardin-Simmons. Another trust has been established by an Abilenian with an initial gift of stock presently valued at approximately $1,000.

The Duffy Scholarship fund has had $10,000 added to it.

Rupert H. Johnson, New York City, has established the Carl Coke Rister Scholarship fund with an initial gift of $5,000. Dr. Rister, a nationally known historian, was an H-SU professor and graduate. Johnson is an honorary trustee and graduate of H-SU.

Other gifts of $1,000 and above total more than $100,000. Included in these are two major gifts of $35,000 and $50,000. Most of these gifts are for the operating budget.

The university has also received two bequests totalling more than $100,000.

The hope was expressed by Dr. Hemphill and endowment campaign chairman Sam Waldrop of Abilene that additional year-end gifts and pledges will qualify the university for the second $250,000 challenge gift pledged by Carr P. Collins of Dallas. In 1965, Collins challenged friends of the university to increase endowment funds $2,000,000 — $250,000 of each million to be given by him. The first million was raised in pledges and cash in 1966.

The Thrill Of It All

Susan Holder, 19, of Jackson, Miss. (left), squeals with excitement and embraces Eileen Prince, 19, of Metaire, La., as the judges announce she won the title of 1968 Maid of Cotton. Miss Holder, a sophomore at Mississippi State College for Women, will travel throughout the world as cotton industry's ambassador of good will. Miss Prince was was one of five finalists from 19-girl field in contest held Friday night in Memphis.

Shepperd Will Speak At Annual C-C Banquet

John Ben Shepperd, Odessa, will be the speaker at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce annual banquet to be held Saturday, Jan. 13, at the Big Spring High School Cafeteria at 7:30. His topic will be "Chamber of Commerce—1968 Model."

Recently elected board of director members will be installed. Those to be installed are Jim Baum, Roger Brown, Joe Price, Jimmy Taylor, and John Taylor. The C-C board of 15 elected members has a rotation system of five per year. A meeting of the board will be held Jan. 8 at which time new officers will be elected and they will be installed at the banquet. Dr. Lee O. Rogers out-going president, will give the annual report.

Shepperd, a well-known West Texan, is general counsel and officer of the Odessa Natural Gasoline Co. and a director of the American Bank of Commerce. He is secretary of the Permian Basin Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Texas Research League. From 1949 to 1953, he served as secretary of state for the state of Texas and from 1953 to 1957 was attorney general. He is past president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce as well as the National Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has served as a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the C-C office for $4 each.

Newell Assumes Kiwanis Reins

Bill Johnson, 1967 president of the Big Spring Kiwanis club, stepped down from his post officially Thursday and Roscoe Newell took over the job for 1968.

Johnson thanked members for their cooperation and urged the members to accord Newell the same help.

The board of directors of the club will hold its first 1968 meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday at Coker's. All members are welcome to attend.

South American Nations Facing A Year Of Unrest

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Brazil, Chile, Peru and perhaps Venezuela and Argentina appear to be facing a year of dramatic unrest as they grope for solutions to inflation, dwindling exports and serious divisions in their major political parties.

The unrest could result in coups in one or two of the countries.

In Brazil, President Arthur da Costa e Silva, a general who used the army as a springboard to power, is coming under pressure from the military and members of his National Renewal Alliance party. Both groups speak of lack of positive leadership, especially in attempts to stabilize the cruzeiro, impose austerity measures and quiet opposition within the Roman Catholic Church.

DEVALUATION

In Peru, President Fernando Belaunde's popularity is waning. He has devaluated the sol by 40 per cent—the first devaluation in years. His Accion Popular party was beaten in recent by-elections and deserted by its long-time ally, the Christian Democrats. Military leaders are said to be restive.

Unpopular austerity programs, involving wage freezes, dismissals, and import restrictions, usually are the result of a decline in the exports of an underdeveloped country's principal product.

That has happened in the past year to Chile's copper, Brazil's coffee, the Dominican Republic's sugar and Argentina's meat.

DOMESTIC SAVINGS

The government of each of these countries has sought to offset lost revenue with unpopular domestic savings at home. Efforts to attract foreign investment—especially from the United States—have fallen short of Latin-American expectations and probably will continue to do so in 1968.

President Juan Carlos Ongania of Argentina, for example, had hoped to create thousands of jobs with the launching in January of the huge Chocon-Cerro Colorado hydroelectric project in southern Argentina. But devaluation, austerity and apparent economic stability for the past eight months have failed to attract international financing. As 1967 ends, the cost of living and unemployment are rising sharply. The outlawed political parties and labor unions were silent, but there were persistent reports that some military leaders had lost confidence in the economic policies of Ongania, the cavalry general they brought to power in 1966.

ELECTION

Chile and Venezuela will stir into intense political activity toward the end of the year with election campaigns. Chile's President Eduardo Frei, trying to halt inflation, will be calling on Chileans to produce more and to tighten their belts. His approach already has split his Christian Democratic party and raised the hopes of the left wing for a Communist victory in the March, 1969, congressional election.

Venezuela's young democracy may be in for its first major political change. The ruling Accion Democratica party has split.

Little Haiti, mired in poverty, could be Latin America's greatest source of violence and terrorism in 1968—if its dictator, Francois Duvalier, finally falls from power.

If Duvalier remains, there seems little likelihood that Latin America in 1968 will be the scene of major violence. Communist guerrillas who have been the source of violence in Guatemala, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela and Bolivia for several years are weakened. A split in the party over tactics, and Ernesto Guevara's death in Bolivia in October, appear to have climaxed this phase of Latin America's recent history.

Optimists In Parade

Members of the Hi Noon and Breakfast Optimist Clubs here will join some 100,000 of their colleagues across the nation in watching the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day.

Their special reason: Optimist International was one of the 60 organizations and businesses who passed the rigid screening requirements and thus permitted it to enter a float in the parade.

Details of the float are a secret, but it will be 17 feet high 20 feet wide and 55 feet long. Three motorized vehicles which move independently will be necessary to move the float along the route lined with some million and a half viewers. Another 100 million likely will be watching by television.

The smallest part of the float will be a green frog, six feet tall. Over 300,000 flowers, mostly chrysanthemums, will be used to carry out the idea in keeping with the parade theme, "Wonderful World of Adventure."

United Funds Have Success

For the first time United Campaigns in Texas have topped their combined goals in annual fall drives. J. Harold Stringer, president of Texas United Funds, Inc., an associate of United Fund organizations throughout the state, said the 207 Funds topped their combined goals of $34,535,015 this week and reports are still coming in.

"We feel the final amount will surpass $34.6 million before all books are closed," Stringer said. This would be about 100.2 per cent of the total combined goals. The estimated increase is 7.6 per cent over last year's giving.

The Howard County UF Campaign achieved about 91 per cent of its goal.

The 207 United Funds range in size from cities with a few hundred population and goals of $700 to Houston and Harris County with a goal of over $8 million.

Of the 207 United Campaigns, 79 have reported final figures which exceed their individual goals. They have gone over the mark enough to bring the statewide average past the combined goal.

In the last 10 years, United Giving in Texas has increased by 74 per cent. In 1967 the per capita gift was $3.76 and $9.72 per employed person.

Citizens Urged To Register To Vote

With one month to go, 6,500 men and women of Howard County have now qualified themselves to vote in the elections of 1968.

Deadline for registration is Jan. 31.

There is no fee for registering to vote. All the elector has to do is contact the office of Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, fill out the required application blank and receive his registration certificate.

It is estimated there are approximately 10,000 to 11,000 men and women in the county eligible to register.

Meantime, the last month to pay county taxes without penalty also is at hand. A one per cent discount allowed during December has expired and tax bills are net for the month of January. Taxes left unpaid after Jan. 31 will bear penalty and interest.

The tax collector's office said that total collections through Dec. 28 stood at $1,151,536.01 If the total tax bill on the rolls were paid, the unpaid balance is only $157,677.88. Actually about 97 to 98 per cent of each year's tax bill is paid which means that the outstanding balance is even less than the $157,677 figure.

An urgent appeal was sounded to all voters who have not as yet registered to do so as soon as possible. It was pointed out that a grand rush of belated registrants could show up the last week in January. This will mean wasted time for the registrant as well as added inconvenience.

Application blanks can be mailed to Mrs. LeFevre's office and the certificate of registration will be prepared and mailed.

L. E. Barrington Gets Service Pin

COLORADO CITY — L. E. Barrington, maintenance foreman for Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc., has received a 25 - year pin for "outstanding and devoted service."

The presentation was made by Martin Murphy, president of the board of directors. He also presented a plaque to Barrington.

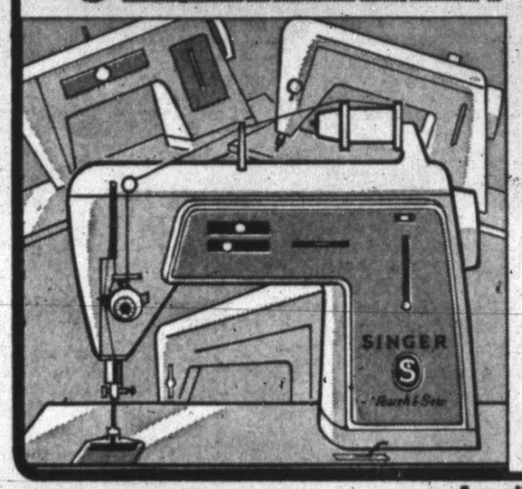

"Jim" Barrington has been with Lone Wolf almost since the cooperative was organized. He can call all members by name and tell what year they became members. Also cited with Barrington was his wife, Velma, whose voice is almost as familiar to the members as her husband's because she handles most of his telephone calls. The Barringtons live at 1012 Vine Street in Colorado City and are members of the St. Luke Methodist Church.

Fine For DWI

Victor S. Correa, charged with DWI, pleaded guilty in Howard County court on Friday afternoon and was sentenced to three days in county jail, a fine of $50 and costs in the case.

DIOGENES, BLOW THAT LIGHT

Honesty Is A Small Lad

By SAM BLACKBURN

If you should see a little Latin-American lad of about 10 years, cleanly dressed, smiling broadly and wearing a shiny new pair of boots, then you should try to call Diogenes and tell him to put out his lantern and go home.

For that little lad—or a facsimile of him—is surely entitled to the full rating as the honest man that ancient Greek sought so diligently in the long ago.

Mrs. Ray Groseclose, 1201 E. 17th, can testify to the fact.

The incident began last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Groseclose had gone to the post office to get her mail. She did not carry a purse, but rather her billfold with more than $100, including five $20 bills, a sheaf of credit cards, her drivers license and other important papers.

Soon after leaving the post office she missed the billfold. A search failed to locate it. She reported her loss to the sheriff's office and to postal authorities.

The billfold, it may now be explained, was found by the lad mentioned above, who was with his father in the post office. They spoke little if any English, and sought the aid of a sister who works and who could speak a little English.

They established the owner and, to Mrs. Groseclose's delighted surprise, they found her.

"They drove up to the house in their car," she said. "The little boy extended the billfold. I opened it and saw it was mine.

"I don't think they even looked in the billfold other than to find out my name and address," she said. "The $100 was exactly where I had it before and had not even been unfolded."

She thanked the father, the boy and the sister. They all smiled happily.

Mrs. Groseclose went into another room and took a $10 bill out of another billfold.

"The boy was wearing tennis shoes," she said, "and they were beginning to break across the toes. I handed him the bill."

The father began to protest in Spanish and a few words of broken English.

"No, no!" he said, "it will hurt the good."

She told the father:

"No, it won't hurt the good. He has already done the good. I want to give him this so he will remember me."

She explained that it would buy the lad a pair of boots, and perhaps a new pair of pants.

"They finally agreed to let him keep the $10," she said.

They left smiling happily, and what had appeared to be a gloomy New Year's brightened for Mrs. Groseclose and for her unidentified Latin-American friends.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

10,000 Bales Still Looks Like The Total For Year

Eleven cotton gins in Howard County have processed 9,607 bales of 1967 cotton, a check made Friday afternoon showed.

Ginners estimate that anywhere from 60 to as much as 85 per cent of this year's crop in this county is now ginned. Since at least 1,500 bales of the 9,067 total will have to be credited to Glasscock County, it is still a moot question if the actual crop in Howard County will exceed 10,000 bales. This had been the more optimistic forecast at the time the harvest started.

FROM GLASSCOCK

Lomax gin, wih 3,099 bales ginned, topped the county plants in bales handled this season. However, it was said at the gin about half of the total came from the irrigated belt to the south and west of the community in Glasscock County.

Some remarkable production of dryland cotton, however, has been achieved in the Lomax area. One farmer's fields harvested last week yielded an average of 644 pounds of lint to the acre. There were other fields in the district where as much as a bale per acre was produced.

In Big Spring, the three gins which are operating had ginned 1,735 bales through Friday. Cooperative had handled 893 bales, Guitar 417 and Planters 425. It is estimated about three quarters of the crop has been gathered.

Coahoma gins have ginned 823 bales but the operators said there is still a considerable quantity of cotton as yet unpicked. Guitar gin has handled 283 bales and Acuff 640 bales.

KNOTT

Knott community, which in 1966 had a record crop, is almost cottonless this season. The Cooperative gin at that community has ginned 252 bales and Planters 104. It was estimated there may be as much as 150 bales yet to be ginned to wind up the crop.

Fairview gin has ginned 1,409 bales and most of the crop is in. Some fairly good cotton has been produced on the lands around Fairview. Outstanding was the small acreage on the Newton farm, which yielded nearly three bales to the acre. This was in the restricted area where irrigation is possible.

Planters gin at Luther estimated it has about 350 to 400 more bales to complete the crop. It had ginned 885 bales through Friday.

Vincent gin with 1,300 bales handled reported there is still considerable cotton in the area and that some fields have been very productive.

THIS YEAR IS GOING; DON'T TRY TO STOP IT.

In a few days the old year will be nothing but statistics and memories. We look forward to the coming New Year settling many current problems.

Our affairs in our pharmacy have done very well. We have filled more prescriptions than the year before. Statistically, volume is increasing, but growing overhead and costs are taking away most of the extra profits additional sales should get. For the coming year we intend to watch our inventory so we will have any product you ask for. We will try our best to always have in stock the ingredients to fill any prescription, even those prescribed by physicians in distant cities.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

South Lane Of FM 700 Job To Be Topped And Opened

The newly built south lane of FM 700 from Goliad Street westward to the City Park interchange will be given a top coating of asphalt and opened to travel sometime within the next week to 10 days, Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said Saturday.

He said that when travel is diverted to this newly constructed roadbed, the present road to the west of US 87 will be torn out by the contractor in his preparations for the underpass which will be built on FM 700 to cross under US 87.

RUNS BEHIND

Smoot said that the FM 700 job is about 41 per cent complete. Jarbet and Company, which has the contract to rebuild the 3.027 miles of road into a four-lane highway from Goliad street to US 80 west, has used 195 of the alloted 330 working days assigned the job.

The contractor begun digging on a part of the underpass ditch, Smoot said until the traffic how making use of the old roadbed along that segment can be shifted to the newly built road, the excavation work is moving slowly.

Smoot also said that the south strip, which will ultimately provide two traffic lanes on the finished road, will be resurfaced and repaved when the project is completed.

WEST END FINE

He said none of the permanent topping can be attempted until temperatures are suitable which will most likely be sometime in April.

Meantime, Jarbet has made good progress on the west end of the FM 700 job, Smoot said. This is at the point where the road swings to the north from the old route and cuts across open country to tie into US 80 near the Sands Motel.

The 3.027 mile job represents a construction cost of about $1,113,000 plus $350,000 the county paid for right of way to clear the way for the new road to be built.

Bumbling Bandit Booked For Theft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The holdup man showed a note Friday to Carole Steger, teller at the Barclay Bank. But he turned and fled when Miss Steger said her cash drawer was locked.

Charles Peddle, the bank's operations officer, followed the man to the California-Canadian Bank and there the note netted $976.

Peddle ran to a nearby traffic officer, who took John D. Hudson, 20, into custody. The $976 was recovered, police said. Hudson was booked for suspicion of bank robbery.

MRS. JOSEPH HAYDEN

Mrs. Hayden Asks Election

Mrs. Joseph T. (Mae) Hayden today announced her candidacy to continue serving as county commissioner of Precinct No. Three in Howard County. The wife of Joseph T. Hayden, former commissioner of Precinct No. Three, said she will seek the Democratic nomination in the May 4th primary election.

Mrs. Hayden was appointed to the Commissioners' Court to serve the unexpired term of her husband whose retirement was necessitated by ill health. She has resided in Howard County since childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden participated in the operation of the Big Spring Weekly News for many years during which time Mrs. Hayden took a very active part in all phases of the newspaper operaion. Later, after the sale of the newspaper, she gained additional business experience both in real estate and in a local abstract office working with land titles.

Among other civic activities, Mrs. Hayden is a member of Big Spring Chapter No. 67 of the Eastern Star and a charter member of the Past Matrons' Club.

She has one son, Hal Battle, a Big Spring graduate, who is currently coordinator of physical education in the Midland school system.

Mrs. Hayden is familiar with the operation of the county government by virtue of working in and around the courthouse for many years. In asking for the vote and support of the residents of Precinct No. 3, she said that she would pledge to continue the fair practices of her husband in the operation of county affairs.

TEXAS BRAWLING LOOMS

LBJ May Have To Take Part In 1968 Governor's Race

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas' political new year opens with increased prospects that President Johnson may have to try again to muffle his home state political brawling during a presidential election.

Gordon McLendon, wealthy Dallas radio executive, says he likely will announce on Wednesday as a Democratic candidate for governor.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., told a pre-Christmas news conference he still wants to be Texas governor, that he is considering a 1968 race, and will make his plans known before Congress reconvenes Jan. 15. Most expect the announcement about Jan. 6.

REMATCH?

A 1968 McLendon-Yarborough race for governor, even with other candidates in the May 4 Democratic primary, is expected to be a rematch of their 1964 primary contest for the Senate that is still called one of Texas' most explosive political battles.

Yarborough, long time leader of Texas liberal Democrats, defeated McLendon, an outspoken conservative, 904,811 to 672,572. Then he defeated Republican George Bush, Houston businessman who is now a congressman, 1,463,958 to 1,134,337 at the general election to win another term that lasts until 1970. If Yarborough runs for governor next year he says he will not resign his Senate seat.

President Johnson endorsed Yarborough frequently and strongly in the 1964 general election campaign. Backers of McLendon claimed the President also had a hand in the party primary contest.

LONG TIME FOE

McLendon got into the 1964 Senate contest after Texas party leaders, led by Gov. John Connally, long time political foe of Yarborough, tried unsuccessfully to run a strong moderate or conservative candidate against the liberal senator. Two Connally friends, both former congressmen, Joe Kilgore and Lloyd Bentsen, bowed out of the campaign because of what they called pressure from the White House.

After his general election victory, Yarborough charged that the Connally-dominated State Democratic Executive Committee opposed Yarborough and worked for Bush, the GOP candidate. Connally answered that Yarborough's statement was "wild and irresponsible . . . and obviously untrue."

Throughout the 1964 campaign Yarborough called himself a member of the "new Texas Democratic team of the President and senior senator providing strong Democratic leadership for Texas and the nation." He stressed his friendship at the White House and his support of Johnson's legislative policies.

'WHITEWASH'

McLendon opposed most of Johnson's policies, particularly the civil rights bill then pending in Congress.

Another angle of the 1964 campaign, likely to be repeated in any 1968 battle, was McLendon's accusation that Yarborough accepted $50,000 from Billie Sol Estes, bankrupt West Texas farm financier later convicted for his dealings in non-existent fertilizer tanks, Yarborough called the charge, made in connection with a 1962 campaign, an "infamous lie" and spent much of the primary denying it. At Yarborough's request the Justice Department investigated and said that charge was "without any foundation in fact." McLendon called the Justice Department decision a Washington "whitewash."

FRANTIC BID

Even without a McLendon - Yarborough contest for governor there are chances President Johnson would take a hand in the May primary to ensure that Texas sends a friendly delegation to the national Democratic convention in Chicago. Without Connally seeking re-election, the state Democratic party has a lame duck governor for its titular leader in 1968.

Connally's supporters during his three terms have tried frantically recently to unite support behind a strong moderate or conservative candidate. Some of them—no one knows how many—have switched to Lt. Gov. Preston Smith but many Connally people are waiting to see which way President Johnson leans.

Whether President Johnson actively supports Yarborough for governor or urges Yarborough to stay in the Senate is likely to affect Texas politics for a long time to come.

Port Arthur Okays City Sales Tax

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)— Residents of this Southeast Texas port city flocked to the polls Saturday in cold, wet weather to overwhelmingly approve the one per cent sales tax.

The vote was 3,438 for the tax and only 804 against.

Port Arthur thus became the 158th city in the state, including most of the largest population centers, to approve the tax, first legalized for city income during the last session of the Texas Legislature.

A total of only 22 municipalities, many of them tiny hamlets, have voted against the proposed tax.

Voting on the issue ended for the year with the Port Arthur election.

Nearby Beaumont has set a similar election for Jan. 13 and Saginaw, in Tarrant County near Fort Worth, votes on the proposition Jan. 6.

Shot To Death

HOUSTON (AP) — Douglas Been, 24, a soldier on leave from Ft. Polk, was shot to death in a grill Friday night. Police said an argument erupted over a woman.

Inmates Riot Second Time

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Prisoners rioted in a cellblock at the Hamilton County Jail Friday night for the second time this week, breaking furniture and windows until police restored order early Saturday with the help of tear gas.

"It's a repeat of Christmas night, Cincinnati Police Sgt. Donald Slaughter said of the three-hour riot that ended about 2:30 a.m.

He said the inmates, who got out of their cells, also threw water and pieces of a toilet at guards.

There were no injuries or escapes, Sheriff Dan Tehan said.

"The sheriff offered to talk to any spokesman they might have, but I guess they don't feel like talking. You can't talk to a mob like that," Slaughter reported during the rioting.

The riot was in the same cellblock of the jail, on the sixth floor of the county courthouse near downtown, in which the Christmas night disturbance broke out. About 50 men were involved Christmas, about 60 Friday night, Tehan said.

Fire Rakes Furniture

Firemen answered a call to the residence of Rodger Beard, Old San Angelo Hwy., at 12:15 p.m. Friday. According to firemen's report the fire was caused by a cigarette on a sofa. The furniture in the room was a total loss, the wall was burned and the entire house has smoke damage.

A call was also answered at 3:30 p.m. Friday when a car belonging to Wayne Hulme, 1202 E. 15th, caught fire. Only the wiring was burned.

Ex-Gov. Gen. Dies

Vincent Massey, first native-born governor-general of Canada, died Saturday in London at the age of 80. He had been in hospital with an undisclosed illness. He served as Governor-General from 1952 to 1959.

Vincent Massey 'Miniflu' Victim

LONDON (AP) — Vincent Massey, Canadian statesman and a key Allied figure in World War II, died in London of pneumonia Saturday, a victim of Britain's influenza epidemic. He was 80.

A brother of actor Raymond Massey who won fame with his portrayals of Abraham Lincoln, Massey was the first native Canadian to hold office as Canada's governor-general. He served in this capacity as the direct representative of the British monarch from 1952-59.

He arrived from his home in Ontario Dec. 13 on a Christmas visit to friends and relatives. The influenza wave struck him and it developed into pneumonia.

When he was admitted to the hospital Massey was believed to be suffering from what the British are calling "miniflu"—an outbreak of mild influenza that has laid low tens of thousands in southern England.

WAR LEADER

Massey's background was a combination of scholarship, industrial wealth, and artistic flair. He was a product of Toronto and Oxford universities.

To the British, Massey is most remembered as Canada's high commissioner — ambassador — here in World War II.

He was the embodiment of the Canadian war effort. His frequent broadcasts from London to the United States and Canada were a major influence in bolstering the North American war effort.

Massey was Canada's minister to the United States from 1926 to 1930, his first diplomatic appointment.

Jobless Laborer Linked To Bank Robbery Jailed

TCHULA, Miss. (AP) — Cecil Wayne Randall, 28, of Houston, Tex., was arrested here Saturday for the Dec. 22 robbery of a Houston bank.

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the FBI's Jackson office, said Randall, an unemployed laborer, was captured by local, state and federal officers after he was traced from Houston to Chicago and finally to Tchula.

Moore said Randall is charged with the robbery of the Lockwood National Bank in which $7,500 was taken.

Randall was in possession of a large sum of money when arrested, Moore said, but he did not specify the amount.

Randall was jailed at Jackson to await a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

ABClub Hears About Webb AFB

Lt. Col. R. Buchler told the American Business Club members and their wives of Webb AFB and its operations in an address at noon Friday in Settles Hotel.

Introduced to the 40 members and their guests by George Zachariah, the Webb officer described the student pilot procedure.

He described the program which a student pilot follows from the day he reaches Webb until his graduation.

Webb AFB provides Big Spring with its biggest payroll, Col. Buchler reminded the club members. The community derives about $25,000,000 a year of its income from this operation, he said.

Communicable Diseases Listed

There were 267 cases of communicable diseases reported to the Howard County Health Unit during the past week. In those reported, there were 12 different kinds of diseases.

Upper respiratory infections led the list with 65 cases and tonsillitis was second with 61. Thirty-two cases of diarrhea and 30 cases of virus were reported to the Health Unit.

There were 25 cases of flu and 18 of gastroenteritis. Fifteen cases of strep throat were reported and nine of pneumonia. Bronchitis accounted for six cases and pertussis for three. There were two cases of impetigo and one of syphilis.

Business In Texas Might Be Too Good

AUSTIN (AP) — Business in Texas is good and will be good, maybe too good and expanding too fast, a University of Texas researcher said Saturday.

Dr. John Stockton, director of the Bureau of Business Research at the university, said Texas' index of business activity rose 2 per cent from October to November, upholding the general trend of higher business volumes throughout the year.

WARNING

Except for a sharp September decline after an unusually large increase in August, business has climbed throughout the first 11 months of 1967, Stockton said, averaging 11 per cent above a year ago. The November, 1967, index was 16 per cent above the same month a year ago.

Record building figures were the primary reason for the 1967 business increase, he said. Looking ahead to the end of the year and 1968, he added: "The complete picture of business in 1967 cannot be drawn until the data for all 12 months are available, but on the basis of the first 11 months it appears that 1967 will have been a very good year."

However, he warned, "the events of recent months raise the threat of an inflationary expansion in coming months. A upward trend appears on all consumer-price charts.

WAGES INCREASE

"It seems reasonable to conclude that if a tax increase is not voted soon, the result will be a continued availability of a large amount of purchasing power to consumers. Wages are rising faster than increases in productivity and are thus contributing to the pressures toward still higher prices. The devaluation of the British pound has added still more uncertainties and raises further fears of inflation.

"Business in Texas seemingly will continue to be good- the greatest worry is that it may expand too fast."

Although virtually all segments of business were on the upswing, the bureau said, "The strongest rise in activity for all major phases of business has been in the construction industry." Building activity in 1967 has exceeded all previous years, Stockton said, with November building permits 14 per cent above those for October and the first 11 months of 1967 showing an 18 per cent gain from the same period in 1966.

BEULAH BLUES

Total production of agricultural commodities is expected to about equal that of 1966, the bureau said, but "reduced prices received by farmers will result in a reduced gross income to farmers." Prices received by farmers so far this year averaged 8 per cent below 1966, while prices paid by farmers averaged 34 per cent higher.

The report reviewed in some detail "the devastating effects of Hurricane Beulah on the Texas citrus - fruit crop."

It said the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates Texas grapefruit production to be 1.7 million boxes this year, compared to 5.6 million boxes last year and a 1961-65 average of 1,814,000 boxes. However, the bureau said, the full effect of the reduced crop apparently has not been felt for this year's shipments of both oranges and grapefruit, through November, are ahead of last year's pace. The bureau said the Texas Citrus Mutual newsletter estimates supplies of grapefruit are insufficient to last through February at the average shipping rate of 100 cars per week. (A carload equals 1,000 cartons.) Twenty-six per cent of the estimated crop has been shipped to date, the bureau said, compared to 11 per cent a year ago and, according to the Texas Valley Citrus Committee, only 348 carloads of early oranges remain.

GREATER GAINS

The bureau said retail sales in Texas in November increased 6 per cent over October, and for the first 11 months were 4 per cent above 1966 data, compared to a 3 per cent increase during that period for the nation.

Industrial activity also increased 6 per cent from October to November and was 8 per cent ahead for the first 11 months of 1967, compared to 1066. "Industrial activity in Texas has shown greater gains over a year ago than has been registered for the country as a whole," Stockton said, adding that "Texas manufacturing industry is making substantial contribution to the production of war materials, a factor which could account for some of the divergence in the trends of the two series.

CITIES CHECK

"The increased demand for Texas oil resulting from the war in the Middle East has increased production of both crude and refinery runs, with the result that the first 11 months of the year have been 7 per cent ahead of the same period last year for crude oil and 4 per cent for runs to stills."

Business activity indexes for Texas cities, showing, in order, per cent gains or losses from October to November, 1967, and for the first 11 months of 1967 compared to the first 11 months of 1966:

Abilene 7, -4; Amarillo 5, 2; Austin 17, 14; Beaumont -1, 5; Corpus Christi 5, 5; Corsicana 14, 9; Dallas -1, 15; El Paso -5, 8; Fort Worth 5, 9; Galveston -3, 5; Houston -2, 12; Lubbock -9, 1; Port Arthur -5, change less than one-half of 1 per cent; San Angelo -4, 3; San Antonio 10, 6; Texarkana 7, 20; Tyler 5, 4; Waco 1, 6 and Wichita Falls 2, -2.

Road Deaths Climb Slowly

By The Associated Press

The toll of deaths in New Year weekend traffic accidents climbed slowly Saturday.

The total reached 70.

The National Safety Council estimated in advance that 460 to 540 Americans would lose their lives on streets and roads in the tally period which began at 6 p.m. Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

During a nonholiday weekend of equal length, 484 motor vehicle fatalities were reported.

The first full day of the three-day celebration of the turn of the year brought light snow to much of North between the Great Lakes and Rocky Mountains.

Light rain dampened southern areas near the Gulf Coast.

Cold weather covered much of the nation.

Traffic deaths during this year's three-day Christmas weekend totaled 685.

The observance of Christmas generally involves more long distance travel and a heavier loss of life.

During the three-day New Year holiday a year ago the traffic toll was 469.

Brazil Devalues Its Money Again

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — In a bid to make Brazilian exports, particularly coffee, more competitive on world markets, Brazil devalued the cruzeiro Friday for the second time in 10 months.

Devaluation was 18½ per cent, from 2.7 cruzeiros to the dollar to 3.2. Brazil's last devaluation, in February, was 23 per cent and was coupled with a currency reform. The country then did away with the old cruzeiro, inflated practically to worthlessness, and issued a new one worth 1,000 old cruzeiros.

Brazil, like other nations, faced stiffer competition in some trade areas after Britain devalued the pound sterling in November.

Bank Robbery Suspect Nabbed

DALLAS (AP)— Police have arrested and turned over to Houston authorities a man wanted for auto theft and for questioning about a $53,000 bank robbery and a shootout with police.

The man, Joel Thomas Hardin of Houston, was arrested about 11:30 p.m. Friday at a motel where he had registered under another name.

Detectives had to fight Hardin to make the arrest, although the officers had their guns drawn and Hardin was not armed.

Corpus Christi Honors Whitney

Herbert W. Whitney, 61, retiring city manager of Corpus Christi, was honored by the City Council and Chamber of Commerce of Corpus Christi at a luncheon held Friday at the Driscoll Hotel.

He was given plaques of appreciation and honor as well as a key to the city. Friday was his last day of duty as city manager after serving for nine years.

Whitney served as city manager of Big Spring for several years.

He and his wife, Madeline, plan to continue living in Corpus Christi.

Two Minor Mishaps

Two minor accidents were reported to the police Friday. Edward Lee Pierce, 3603 La Junta, was in collision with the parked cars belonging to Charlie Shanks, 1412 Johnson, and Ray Tidwell, 1510 Main at Sixteenth and Main. Roy Lee Powell, 4205 US 80 west collided with a highway sign at the intersection of IS 20 and State Hwy. 350.

THE WEEK

had snow flurries, fog and cold. Thursday saw a temperature of 19 degrees, the lowest so far. Friday had the stage set for glazing, what with fog and subfreezing temperatures, but happily it warmed and skies cleared for a time.

He went on to Texas Tech, did work at the White Sands proving grounds, earned his masters at New Mexico State, was sent by the government to Purdue, where he earned his Ph.D. Now he has co-authored a book in a highly technical field and is writing on another.

One bright development was that of Shenendoah No. 1 Fleeman, a wildcat test 12 miles northeast of town and near the depleted O'Daniel (Wolfcamp) field. It had oil and gas shows in the Wolfcamp from 6,182-90, then strong shows of oil and gas in the Pennsylvanian from 7,975-8,000. Other oil news included the completion of Lowe No. 1 Fuller, a Luther Southeast outpost, for 255 barrels of 45-gravity oil at 9,920. Texaco No. 3 Long, a depleted reef producer, southwest of Vealmoor, will be deepened from 7,870 to 10,200 feet.

Both the HCJC and the Big Spring High School basketball teams appear to be getting better. The Hawks swamped Eastern Oklahoma Friday, and Big Spring, while losing in the consolation finals at Lubbock, lost its two games in the very last seconds of play. Here's hoping that now that the season is here, the two clubs will get tougher and tougher.

Seems like there was an unusually large number of deaths at the Christmas season, among them Richard Jay LeFevre, 25, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack a week ago today. This compounds the tragedy of the death of his brother, LeRoy LeFevre, only last May 21, of a similar cause.

On the threshold of a new year—and a political one—the political pot is beginning to warm locally. Through Friday, Wayne Burns, district attorney, Mrs. Joseph (Mae) Hayden, commissioner from Precinct 3, and Walter Grice, justice of peace Precinct 1, Place 1, had announced.

Those with sentimental attachments to the old First Baptist Church building had best hurry if they want a stick or stone to remember it by. Many have carted away a brick as memento, but the once large structure now has been reduced to a small heap of rubble.

His Reign As Mr. 1967 Is Nearing Its End

Alfonso Martinez Gamboa was first baby born on New Year's Day, 1967. Mr. or Miss 1968 will be welcomed with presents when he or she arrives. Photos of Jan. 1 babies of other years on Page 8-A.

First Baby Of New Year A Boy Or Girl? Flip A Coin

By SAM BLACKBURN

Young Alfonso Martinez Gamboa, who couldn't care less, will relinquish a crown he has worn for a year on or about Jan. 1 and will join a small army of other youngsters who, in their turn, have worn the same crown.

Master Gamboa was the first baby born in Big Spring on New Years Day in 1967. Monday he will celebrate his first birthday.

Somewhere in the city or the county a youngster is hastening on the way to become the 1968 New Year's first baby. Checking the records for the past decade, the odds are exactly even on whether the 1968 New Years baby will be a boy or a girl.

FIVE AND FIVE

In the past 10 years, the New Year's babies have been equally divided with five boys and five girls recorded.

Each New Year's the first baby of the year gets a stack of valuable gifts from Big Spring business establishments and this year will follow the same pattern.

Ten businesses are making generous gifts to Mr. or Miss 1968. The participating irms are Furr's, Gray's Jewelers, Anthony's, Gandy's, First National Bank, Montgomery Ward, Blum's, J&K Shoe store, Gibson's and Big Spring Furniture. In order to qualify for these gifts, the baby must be the first born after midnight Dec. 31. The parent of the first 1968 baby has only to go to the stores, identify himself, and his new heir (or heiress) will be given the complimentary presents prepared for the occasion.

No one seems to remember just how many years this custom of welcoming the New Year baby has prevailed in Big Spring but it goes back a long while.

10 YEARS AGO

Ten years ago, the 1958 New Year baby was Mark Andrew Evans. Mark, who will celebrate his 10th birthday on Jan. 2 (the stork was a day late arriving that year) is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Evans, 2414 Johnson. He is a fourth grader at College Heights school and plans to be a doctor when he grows up. Both his parents are rural route mail carriers. He has two sisters also born in January — one, Jacqueline, 12, was born on Jan. 3 but in her year did not rate as the No. 1 baby.

The 1959 baby was Roy Lee Haverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haverson. The Haversons lived at 1603 Main at the time. An effort to locate them this year failed.

IN 1961

Miss 1961 was Cheryl Lu Thixton, who made her debut on Jan. 1 at 7:30 a.m. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garner Thixton and lives on the Sterling City Rt. Miss Cheryl is a first grader at the Elbow school. Everyone calls Cheryl "Lucy".

Felix Subia Cevallos was the first baby in 1962. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Cevallos, who lived on the Vincent route at the time Felix arrived. They could not be located this year when a search was conducted.

Suzanne Kay Barragan was Miss 1963. She arrived at 4 a.m. Jan. 1, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Barragan of 1206 W. Second.

WERE ON RANCH

Clara Lee Hermes, who was Miss 1964, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Hermes. When Clara was born her parents were living on a ranch in western Howard county. They could not be located this year.

Alicia Ann Buzbee, who was Miss 1965, is still very much a resident of Big Spring. She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buzbee, live at 1504 Mesquite. Miss Alicia made her appearance at 6:45 a.m. Jan. 1, 1965.

Also very much a resident of the town but soon to leave for a new home in Oklahoma is Miss 1960. She is Andrea Hope Johnson, who appeared in the Howard County scene at 3:37 a.m. Jan. 1, 1966. She is the daughter of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, Lot 37, OK Trailer Courts.

MR. 1967

Mr. 1967, who is so soon to lose the crown he has worn with so much complacency for a year is Master Alfonso Martinez Gamboa who was born at 5:13 a.m. Jan. 1, 1967. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Gamboa of 1002 N. Main Street.

It is quite possible other New Years babies of earlier years are still resident of the town but many of those who were so heralded have moved away.

Hospitals are alerted to keep weathereyes out for the earliest arrival of Mr. Stork on this coming New Year's Day. Sometimes two youngsters arrive so nearly at the same time as to pose a problem. The hospital records will be the basis for determining which early arrival is the rightful claimant to the title of Mr. or Miss New Year 1968.

Billy Graham Wants Nixon As Nominee

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)— Evangelist Billy Graham says he would like to see former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the 1968 Republican presidential nominee.

Nixon is "the most experienced Republican for the type of conflict we have today," Graham said Friday in his first public appearance since he became ill with pneumonia six weeks ago.

Graham did not promise that he would vote for Nixon, but he said he believes that either Nixon or President Johnson will run as a peace candidate.

The evangelist was in Atlanta to receive a "Great American" award from radio station WSB and the Atlanta Federal Savings & Loan Assn.

He commented on the 1968 presidential race at a news conference.

In his formal speech, Graham predicted that unless this country experiences a "national spiritual awakening" there will be internal chaos in less than 10 years.

Such chaos would lead to a "political tyranny in the form of some sort of left wing or right wing dictatorship—even if there is no war," Graham said.

"All the elements of anarchy, insurrection and revolution are now building up in the United States," he said.

Thanks To Response

To the Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank each and every club, Sunday school class and other individual or organization which adopted a family to whom they sent Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets.

The response to this need was very generous and much cheer was spread by this gesture to the less fortunate families.

Sincerely,
MRS. RUBY PHILLIPS

Orders Crackdown On Coffee Houses

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge has ordered a crackdown on Greenwich Village coffee houses to clean up what he termed the "madness and unhealthy situation which is rapidly developing."

State Supreme Court Justice Charles T. Tierney acted on the complaint of the MacDougal Street - Neighborhood Association, which charged the city with allowing coffee houses to operate without a license, allowing excess noise, staying open after hours, and permitting sidewalk barkers to lure customers.

Boston Has 48th Gangland Murder

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)— Greater Boston's 48th gangland victim was found stuffed in the trunk of his car today after police received an anonymous tip that the vehicle was parked in a residential section of this Boston suburb.

Police said the dead man, Richard R. Grasso, 34, of South Boston, had been shot twice in the head.

Grasso was a known associate of William "Billy" Bennett, 56, of Boston's Mattapan section, who, last Saturday, became the 47th victim in the series of killings that started in March, 1964. Bennett's body was found in a gutter in the city's Dorchester section. He had been shot four times in the chest.

Grasso was last seen a week ago and a parking ticket had been placed on the car Wednesday, police said. The dead man had a record of two arrests on gaming charges, but had not served time in prison.

Police said they were checking Grasso's late model car for fingerprints in connection with the Bennett case when they opened the trunk and found the dead man.

Bennett, an "enforcer" for loan sharks, was the brother of Edward "Wimpy" Bennett and Walter Bennett, alleged underworld figures who have been listed as missing since early this year.

Bennett had also been on the missing list before his body was found, his pistol still in its shoulder holster.

God Wins Poll By 3-1 Margin

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The question, "Do you believe in God?" brought a heavy response at WKRC-TV Friday night.

A spokesman said about 3,000 persons called the designated numbers for "yes" and "no." The final tally: 77 per cent "yes" and 23 per cent "no."

Nixon Schedules Visit To Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon will make a two-day visit to Texas next month, Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. said Friday.

Nixon will speak in San Antonio the evening of Jan. 19, attend a morning coffee Jan. 20 in Dallas and a luncheon in Houston the same day, O'Donnell said.

Details of the trip have not been completed, he said.

"While I intend to support Sen. John Tower as a favorite son," O'Donnell said, "I would hope that Mr. Nixon is but the first of many prominent Republicans who will visit Texas in 1968."

HAPPY NEW YEAR from . . .

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I went to his mother's house for Thanksgiving. When we got there, my mother-in-law sent me home to change my dress.

Abby, I was wearing a brand-new dress. It was a "mini." Not a real, real short mini, it hit me about six inches above the knee. I wore a new pair of net hose to match my dress, and I thought I looked very sharp.

My mother-in-law said it was not "appropriate" for a married woman with two children to dress like that. I am 22 years old and am not ready to dress like an old lady yet. I am not fat, either.

My husband didn't even stick up for me. He just said, "I'll run you home so you can change." So he took me home and I put on an old-fashioned thing that came down to my knees. Now I want to know if you think a married woman should dress to please herself or her mother-in-law? ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: A married woman, if she is wise, will not knowingly dress in a manner which will provoke criticism and disapproval from her mother-in-law. Yours, however, exceeded her authority in demanding that you change. You did the ladylike thing in deferring to her wishes, but in all other circumstances, I say — dress to please yourself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Although I'm only 14, I have gone out with boys who are much older and more mature than I am.

My problem is that I am "turned on" very easily. I have high moral standards, but as soon as a boy kisses me, my resistance melts away. At first I thought this was the only reason the guys were taking me out, but girls I've talked to say that some of the guys I went out with were really slow.

What do I do? Kids say I'm cute and I have a good figure. So far I've only gone to "second and third base." I'm worried I can't stop myself. Is something wrong with me? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: The emotions you feel upon being kissed are normal to everyone, but new to you. You are much too young to be dating "older, more mature boys." And furthermore, you would be wise to postpone kissing until you are older and mature enough to control the consequences.

If, at age 14, you've gone to "second and third base," you had better get out of that league or you'll be known as the "Home-Run Queen" by the time you're 16.

A new Miss or Mr. 1968 is awaited to take over the crown.

$21 Billion Investment For Oil & Gas Industry

DALLAS—The free world oil and natural gas industry will invest approximately $21 billion in 1968. This is the estimate of PM Report editor, Ernestine Adams, who bases predictions on capital budgets of some 30 oil companies here and abroad. The annual forecast, published for 22 years in Pipeline Engineer, Petroleum Engineer, and Petro-Chem Engineer, has been remarkably close to actual outlays in the past.

For oil and natural gas reserves and facilities, a total of $17,550 million is estimated, $8,350 in the U.S. and $9,100 free foreign. This does not include natural gas pipeline utilities. American Gas Association has forecast these at $2,383 for the U.S. and the PM Report survey adds $1,062 million for free foreign gas pipeline investment.

Paradoxically, most industry leaders surveyed by the Petroleum Engineer magazines agreed that toughest problem in 1968 will be getting capital funds. Money is scarce and expensive. Miss Adams says the investment figures are conservative because of tight money markets.

The Mid-East fracas gained some price increases for crude oil and products but not enough, top oil management says, to pay for extra costs. Profit margins are narrowing so it is more difficult to generate needed capital within the industry.

One reason for this is that governments all over the free world have increased taxes. In 1968 various U.S. governments derived about $11 billion from oil operations, the magazines report. Other governments, excluding the Communist bloc, collected at least twice that amount in 1968.

With less capacity to build capital from earnings, borrowing is expected to increase in 1968 despite higher interest rates.

Garrison's Army Record Gets Airing

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Physical disability" has been cited by the Defense Department as the reason for New Orleans Dist. Atty. James C. Garrison's discharge from the Army in 1951.

The Pentagon said Friday it has been bombarded by newsmen for information about the military background of Garrison, the prosecutor who says the Warren Commission erred in its conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, was the assassin of President John F. Kennedy four years ago.

The inquiries resulted from a copyright story by the Chicago Tribune which said military records showed Garrison was under the care of a psychiatrist for 4½ years from the fall of 1950 to the spring of 1955.

In New Orleans, Garrison could not be reached directly for comment, but his assistant, Charles Ward, said: "I don't know exactly what has been going around. But I have heard there was supposed to be some board that alleged Garrison was physically unfit for duty due to a psychoneurosis. This is untrue. He is a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve right now. All this supposedly happened in 1950, some 17 years ago. Would it take 17 years for them to find out he is unsuited for military service? It is a lot of hogwash."

Ward recalled that the issue of Garrison's discharge came up during his 1965 campaign for district attorney, when an opponent said Garrison's discharge was based on an "anxiety reaction."

At that time, Ward recalled, Garrison said he had volunteered for combat duty in Korea but "I had contracted amoebic dysentery in Europe (during World War II) which resulted in exhaustion and intestinal trouble. The Army diagnosed this as an anxiety reaction. They subsequently concluded that if it was there, it's gone now. I still serve on active duty as a lieutenant colonel."

Ward said Garrison resigned from the National Guard and became a reservist because National Guard requirements, including summer camp, were "taking up too much" of his time."

The Pentagon said an inquiry is under way to determine if confidental material from Garrison's service files has been released without authorization.

Here, You Take It

Wally Cochran (22) of Paris Junior College seems to be offering the ball to Robert Lemons of HCJC in the game here Saturday night. Jackie Hopkins (50) of Paris, seems appalled by this. Also at left are Willie Adamson (52) of Paris and Robert Jackson, HCJC. Larry Linder is coming up at right.

Jackson's 42 Points Pace Hawks Win

By NATE MITCHELL

Robert Jackson went berserk in Jayhawk Gymnasium here Saturday night and scored 42 points as the Hawks crushed the visiting Paris Junior College Dragons 91-78.

It was the final non-conference cage meet for both clubs, with Paris winding up the preseason with an 8-4 won-lost mark while the locals evened things up at 8-8.

Coach Buddy Travis' Jayhawks, jelling into a cage powerhouse, continued the floor artistry which enabled them to crush Eastern Oklahoma A&M by a 102-63 tab in Odessa Friday night.

Except for the initial dueceDigiter of the clash, the Hawks led all the way. Rolling to as much as 20 points out front throughout the fracas, the locals coasted until a late Dragon rally in the last 10 minutes cut the lead to 10 points.

FLOOR WORK

Terry Fields and Hiron Hubert kept Jackson charged with their fine floormanship and ball control. Larry Linder and Bob Lemons rounded out the starting quint which bore the brunt of the Jayhawk assault.

Wally Stuart, on the disabled list for the past few tilts, made a brief appearance and seemed to be recapturing his old form.

Jackson, hogging the majority of the rebounds and hitting from everywhere on the court, managed 21 points per half — just barely missing matching his number (44) by a bucket.

Larry Linder and Hubert managed 13 and 12 tallies in the rout, rounding out the double-digit scorers for the Hawks.

MATHIS HAS 26

Jerry Mathis paced the Firebreathers with 26 digits, getting help from Rusty Stockton with 13 and Phil Williams with a dozen.

Down three points at the half, the Odessa College Wranglers came through with a 90-89 squeaker over Eastern Oklahoma A&M in the opening game Saturday evening. Stan Hutson with 37 and N. S. Hurd with 30 paced the Wranglers, while Ken Porter with 24 led the Aggies. Will Read had 21 points for the Sooners.

In Friday's scrap between HC and A&M, Larry Linder, Jackson and Hubert paced the Hawks point-getters with 23, 21 and 17 tallies, respectively, for the one-sided win.

TD Punt Returns By Dick Anderson Smothers South

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— All-America Dick Anderson of Colorado scored two touchdowns on long punt returns Saturday to give the North a 22-16 victory in the Blue-Gray football game.

The 6-2, 198-pound defensive back from Boulder, Colo., scampered 69 yards for one score in the first period and 62 yards for another touchdown in the final quarter.

Anderson's second scoring run almost came to a halt at midfield, but big McKinley Boston of Minnesota broke him loose with a ferocious block. Anderson himself had wriggled free from two tacklers before he got into the open.

NEW RECORD

Never before in the 29-year history of the all-star game had any player managed to run more than one punt back for a touchdown.

Anderson's performance won him the most valuable player award on the balloting in the press box.

The rest of the Yankee scoring came on a safety in the closing minutes of the game and from the kicking toe of Joe Azzaro of Notre Dame. Azzaro booted field goals of 32 and 26 yards and scored one point after touchdown.

The safety went onto the scoreboard when halfback Bobby Duhon of Tulane was tackled in the South's end zone.

Except for Anderson's spectacular punt returns, the Yankees exhibited a rather dismal offensive punch. They went for more than two quarters without a first down and managed to gain only four yards in the second period, three of those on a pass.

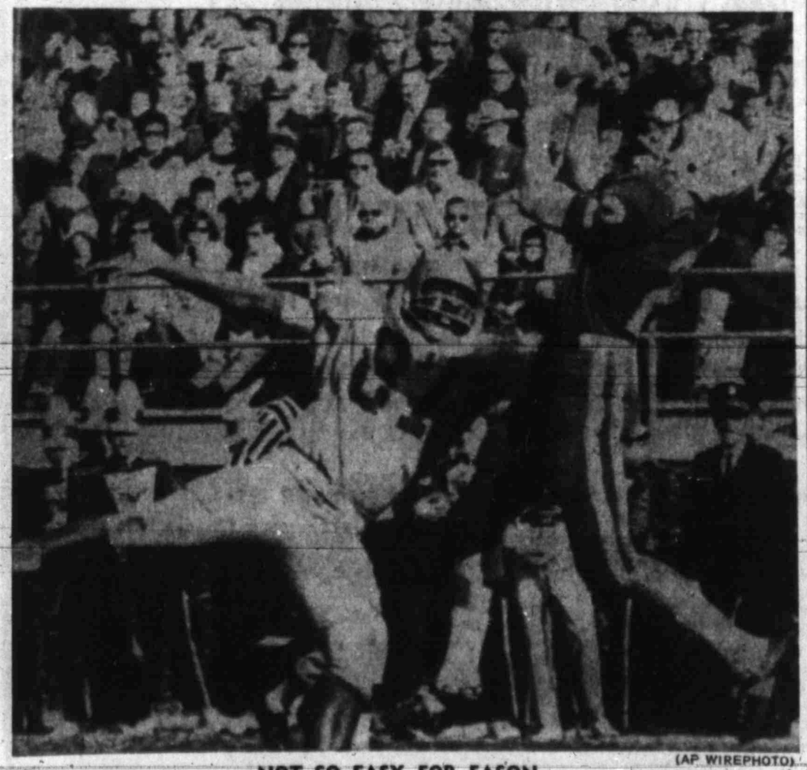

SOUTH SPARKS SOUTH

A near sellout crowd of 23,350 and uncounted millions of others on national television saw the Yanks win their second game in a row and their 13th in the Blue-Gray series.

The South's offense was generated primarily by quarterback Ronny South of Arkansas. He threw two touchdown passes and kicked a 35 yard field goal.

The 193 - pound senior from Russellville, Ark., who gained more than 1,100 yards in passing during the regular season this year, found Freddie Hyatt of Auburn on the receiving end of both scoring passes.

One of them traveled 58 yards, a Blue-Gray record.

Miner Defense Upsets Miss

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A vicious defense kept Mississippi in check Saturday until a slumbering offense awoke for two fourth quarter touchdowns and a 14-7 victory for the University of Texas at El Paso in the Sun Bowl game.

"We had heard a lot about their offense," Ole Miss Coach Johnny Vaught said, "but someone neglected to emphasize their defense to us. Their defense is every bit as good as their offense."

The Miners limited Mississippi to only 109 yards total offense, spotted Ole Miss a 7-0 halftime lead and then flashed back with two last period touchdowns.

"You guys played your hearts out," El Paso Coach Bobby Dobbs told his Miners, "and I'm the proudest guy in the world."

TD DRIVE

Quarterback Billy Stevens completed seven of eight passes on a 66-yard touchdown drive for El Paso's first touchdown. He passed five yards to flankerback David Karns for the TD, and Jerry Waddles kicked the extra point that gave the Miners a 7-7 tie early in the period.

Seven minutes later, 235-pound El Paso linebacker Fred Carr jarred the ball loose from Mississippi's Bow Bowen, and defensive tackle Dennis Bishop recovered for the Miners on the Ole Miss 22.

Fullback Larry McHenry carried four successive times, gaining 18 yards on one haul, before plunging across from four yards out to give the Miners the winning touchdown. Waddles again kicked the extra point.

A record crowd of 34,685 watched the 33rd annual classic which pitted the Rebels of the Southeastern Conference and the independent Miners, who join the Western Athletic Conference next season.

The stingy El Paso defense, which allowed six first downs, recovered two fumbles, intercepted a pass and didn't let the Rebels' offensive unit past the El Paso 40-yard line except for Ole Miss' second-quarter TD.

The Ole Miss defense set up the Rebels' score when linebacker Mac McClure intercepted a Stevens pass and ran 49 yards to the El Paso one.

After Ole Miss lost one yard on a play quarterback Bruce Newell ran around left end for the touchdown, and Van Brown kicked the extra point for the Ole Miss 7-0 halftime lead.

Stevens, voted the outstanding player of the game, was continually spilled for losses in the first 2½ quarters but the senior quarterback, who was closing his collegiate career with a NCAA record 52 touchdown passes, completed 13 of 26 passes for 155 yards against Ole Miss.

It took a fall-down pass from Stevens to halfback Paul White that carried 15 yards to the Rebel 22 to keep El Paso's first touchdown drive going.

Karns caught two other passes on the drive, including an 18-yarder that set the ball up at the five.

Carr, named the most valuable lineman of the game, was in on five tackles while El Paso defensive halfback Eugene Epps made 10 unassisted tackles and intercepted a fourth-quarter Ole Miss pass.

Winning Touchdown At Sun Bowl

University of Texas at El Paso's halfback Larry McHenry (45) scores winning touchdown in final period of their Sun Bowl clash with Ole Miss in El Paso Saturday. Tugging on McHenry's shirt is tackle Jim Farmer (74) of Ole Miss. The University of Texas at El Paso won, 14-7.

Tony Mason To Speak At QBC Banquet Here

Tony Mason, line coach at the University of Michigan, will be the speaker at the Quarterback Club banquet here Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

A spellbinding orator who usually draws SRO crowds, Mason recently spoke at two Texas Coaches Association conventions and electrified the entire gatherings.

The annual banquet will feature presentation of various trophies to the past season's outstanding football players.

QBC co-captains Don Newsom and Jess Slaughter, along with head coach Spike Dykes and his staff, will host the event.

Holder of the bachelor's degree from Penn State and the M.A. from Westminister College, the Sharon, Pa., native began coaching at Brookfield High School, Ohio, and rolled up a 40-6-1 record there in five years.

He managed three straight undefeated seasons, while compiling a 28-game winning streak. For his toils at Niles McKinley High School, over the next six-year period, Mason went 47-3-6 while etching a 47-game unbeaten mark.

At McKinley, he had four straight undefeated seasons; copped one national championship, two Ohio State championships, Coach of the Year, Ohio and head coach for an Ohio All Star Game.

In 10 years of high school coaching, Mason accrued an 87-9-7 record, with no less than seven undefeated seasons.

As a coach of the recent North-South College classic, Mason helped direct the North to a jolting 24-0 upset victory over the Dixie gridsters.

Margin Of Victory

This blocked 42-yard field goal attempt by West's Bob Lee (11) of the University of the Pacific, proved to be the difference as the East defeated the West, 16-14, at Candlestick Park Saturday in the 43rd annual East-West Shrine Classic. Holding is San Jose's Danny Holman (14) with West's Jack Root (36) of Stanford at right. Rushing in are East's Tom Beutler (77) of University of Toledo and Mike McGill (60) of Notre Dame.

Staunch East Defense Stifles Beban & Co.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A strong ground game and a defense that completely stifled All-American Gary Beban of UCLA gave the East a 16-14 triumph over the West in the 43rd annual Shrine charity football game Saturday.

Notre Dame's All-American Kevin Hardy, Toledo's Tom Beutler—a substitute on the East squad—and Minnesota's John Williams spent so much time in the West backfield that Beban might have thought they were teammates—if they had not dumped him for losses so often.

The East took a 3-0 first-quarter lead, and was ahead, 9-7 at the half after the teams exchanged 37-yard touchdowns in the second period.

Before a sellout crowd of 48,000 in Candlestick Park, the East went ahead 16-7 in the third period.

Quarterback Gary Davis of Vanderbilt gambled with fourth down and three yards to go but couldn't find a receiver and ran four yards into the end zone.

The West came back with a touchdown in the fourth quarter on Beban's five-yard pass to Phil Odle of Brigham Young, his chief but seldom-hit target all afternoon.

A 28-yard pass to San Diego State's Haven Moses had set it up. Moses caught the earlier West touchdown pass.

The West had started on the East 37-yard line. A 58-yard punt by Bob Lee of University of the Pacific went out on their three-yard line and the East was forced to punt.

Davis and Hardy were voted the game's outstanding offensive and defensive players.

Pampa Shells Cooper Quint

HOBBS, N. M. — Using a box zone and throwing man - to - man coverage on high - scoring Tom Stanton, the giant Pampa Panthers bombed Abilene Cooper's Cougars 88-71 here Friday in the second round of the Hobbs Invitational Tournament.

Winning its 16th game in 17 starts this season, the Pampa squad ran a patterned offense to perfection — jumping out to a 25-9 first period lead.

The cold Cougars, managing to connect only 28 per cent of their shots, never seriously threatened except for a brief rally in the third period. Jack Mildren hit 30 points, while Stanton poured in 20 in the losing effort.

Pampa had five players in double figures, with George Bailey leading the way with 25 digits.

Bobcats, Rebs Win At HPC

BROWNWOOD — The 25th annual Howard Payne Basketball tournament saw San Angelo and Midland Lee register Division II victories while Brady and Crane took the Division I semifinals here Friday.

San Angelo grabbed a 15-10 lead against Victoria in the opening round and kept the Stingarees at bay for a 60-53 win. Steve Ford paced the Bobcats with 21 points.

Lee's lopsided 100-57 win over Brownwood was the meet's most uneven, with four Rebels etching double figures.

Tom Jones' 20 points led Crane past McCamey, 69-51, while Brady squelched Jacksboro to the tune of 71-64.

Longhorns Are Vanquished In Final Five Seconds

LUBBOCK — The Big Spring Steers were nipped at the wire in the finals of the consolation round at the Cap Rock Basketball tournament here Friday night. The deciding bucket came with only five seconds remaining in the clash.

Texas City, sparked by the artistry of High School All-America Sonny Hyde, eliminated the Longhorns from the meet by a 68-66 tally.

The Steers started strong and ended the first eight minutes with a one-digit edge. Nip and tuck in the second round, the Texas Citians reversed the trick; managed a 39-38 advantage at the intermission.

The Longhorns rallied in the third period and seemed on the road to victory when they rolled up a seven point lead as the stanza ended.

Texas City's effective press began as the final period opened. Leading by eight, the Steers' Ron Wrightsil fouled after an opponent's shot - giving the Texas City quintet a four-point play and narrowing the gap to 66-62.

The Citians knotted the count at 66-all a few minutes later and the final gun became the big factor. With a bare five seconds to go, Hyde became the hero with his swisher — giving his team the edge.

Wayne (Goose) Johnson, having his hands full all night trying to stay with Hyde, was chosen to the five-man all-tournament squad which represented the eight AAAA schools in the meet.

Johnson paced the Steer scorers with 24 points—just ahead of workhorse Danny Clendenin who etched 22. Snake Tucker managed 10 for Big Spring.

Hyde led the way for the Citians with 28, while teammate Baker found the range with 22.

The Steers take their 11-6 season mark into district play at home next Tuesday night at 8 p.m. when they host district favorite Odessa High at Steer Gymnasium. The B-game kicks off at 6:15 p.m.

Join Texas Sports Hall Of Fame

The Texas Sports Hall of Fame grew to 60 Saturday when four new members were inducted at the annual luncheon in Dallas yesterday. Left to right are: A. J. Foyt of Houston, noted race driver; Fred Hansen, Rice pole vaulter; Melton Koch, who accepted the plaque for his brother, the late Barton (Botchey) Koch, famous Baylor football star; and Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Athletic Conference.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Huge Crowd Is Likely

By TOMMY HART

HCJC's Jayhawks will play before perhaps the largest crowd ever to watch them on a Texas floor when they help South Plains College open its new gymnasium Jan. 9 — some 5,000 are expected . . . The Western Conference contest will be part of a triple - header planned by athletic director Bill Powell . . . Varsity and junior varsity squads of Lamesa and Levelland will engage in the other games . . . Edgar Allen Poe played quarterback for Princeton and William Shakespeare was a backfield star for Notre Dame but these two only wrote home for money . . . Hobbs, N.M., recently bombed Midland Lee into submission, 91-71, but the contest took place in Hobbs, where the Eagles have officials that understand them . . . Hobbs had 11 players to get into the scoring act . . . Seven basketball games involving Western Conference basketball teams were postponed during that pre-Christmas cold spell . . . Clarendon College, winner of the recent Murray State College Basketball tournament in which HCJC was entered, dropped four of its first 13 starts . . . Frank Gustine, football quarterback for the University of Pittsburgh, is the son of the former Pittsburgh Pirate infielder of the same name . . . The Oakland Raiders of the AFL averaged 41,000 at each of their home games the past season, compared to 36,000 for the NFL 49ers across the bay . . . Without saying so in so many words, scribe Bob Dillon of Odessa minimizes Big Spring's chances of being a contender for the District 2-AAAA basketball championship, along with the Midland Bulldogs . . . Dillon also says that Odessa Permian has the best size in the school's history, with no starter under six feet . . . Tallest will be 6-5 Richard Garner . . . Wyoming sold 10,000 tickets for its Sugar Bowl date but the people around New Orleans refuse to get excited about the Cowboys—the Monday contest likely will not be a sellout.

KEN VENTURI

* * * *

The San Francisco Giants of the National baseball league had a gross income of $6,305,060 and reported a profit of $164,777 the past season . . . Texas A&M reportedly has offfered eight athletic scholarships to members of the Abilene Cooper football team and could be talking to Coach Merrill Green about hiring on down there . . . The Big Spring Steers play best when the crowds show up . . . Therefore, it stands to reason the Longhorns have a good chance to upset Odessa High here Tuesday night if the local gym is packed with well-wishers . . . Ken Venturi will pass up the Jan. 11-14 Crosby Pro-Am Golf tournament because the temperature is almost certain to drop below 60 degrees and the cold still bothers his hands . . . How a newspaper supplement like Parade Magazine can pick two Houston players (linebacker Frank Ditta of Waltrip and halfback Robert Payne of Saint Thomas) and overlook Cooper's Jack Mildren for its high school All-America team defies explanation, until you realize that Parade has a large circulation in Houston, whereas it has none in Abilene . . . Kyle Rote, the former SMU star who is now a football color man for NBC, averaged 63.5 yards in two punts while playing for the Mustangs against Oregon in the 1949 Cotton Bowl game . . . Gary Sutton, the Ozona tackle, reportedly was leaning toward Baylor until he heard that John Bridgers was living on borrowed time as the Bears' head coach . . . Now, he has indicated he will enroll at the University of Texas . . . Lewiston, Maine, is remembered best not for that title fight between Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay but for a 10½ second knockout scored there in September, 1946 . . . Ralph Walton was the victim . . . You'll agree that the Atlanta Falcons had grave problems the past season when you realize that quarterback Randy Johnson was the No. 2 rusher on the team (behind only Junior Coffey) with a total of only 144 yards gained . . . Both Johnson and Coffey, incidentally, are Texans . . . The fellow who turned in the longest run from scrimmage for the Falcons during the season was Terry Nofsinger (31 yards on a busted pass signal), who a couple of years ago was Charley Johnson's backup quarterback at St. Louis.

Dallas Quint Plucks Eagles

DALLAS — After boasting a 74-57 lead at the end of three quarters, the Abilene Eagles missed their third place trophy bid in the Dr. Pepper Basketball Tournament when they were nipped by Dallas Pinkston, 97-89.

In the first five minutes of the final eight, the Dallas team scored 18 points before the Eagles could connect in the period.

After trailing by a point, Eagle Matt Scott knotted the score at the horn (85-85) sending the game into an overtime. Three missed shots by the Eagles finally cost them the contest.

Scott paced both teams with a blistering 28 points, while teammates Bruce Huff, Jack Carter and Mike Nelson netted 18, 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Larry Dibbles paced the Dallasites with 24 tallies, just ahead of teammate Norm Bacon who hit 23.

Bowling League Will Organize

A bowling league for couples is to organize Friday and start bowling the same evening at the Bowl-A-Rama Lanes.

Persons interested in taking part are asked to call Nell Kirby at 263-1512, or to come to the bowling alley for the organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Plans are to start play one hour later. The league will be composed of 10 teams of two couples each and will bowl each Friday evening. Start of the season was postponed until after football season and the holidays.

Men's Basketball League Assured

Four teams seem assured for a YMCA men's basketball league which will start playing at the end of this week.

A fifth is possible. The league would be still better balanced if a sixth team could be signed. All interested persons are asked to call Mike Harris, physical education director at the YMCA.

The YMCA will be closed all day Monday (New Year's Day), but it will reopen Tuesday on the regular schedule.

Last-Gasp Field Goal Gets Seminoles Tie With Lions

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sharp-shooting Kim Hammond wiped out a 17-point deficit with a record passing performance and led Florida State to a 17-17 tie with daring Penn State Saturday in a wild Gator Bowl football game.

Grant Gutherie kicked a 25-yard field goal with 15 seconds left to give the Seminoles a tie, something Florida State Coach Bill Peterson said he would never settle for in a bowl game.

The Nittany Lions blew their halftime lead with a wild gamble and a costly fumble after controlling the first half with the help of defensive surprises prepared in 10 days of secret drills and the clutch passing of quarterback Tom Sherman.

BIG COMEBACK

But the surging Seminoles came back after Penn State gambled and failed on a fourth and one situation in the third quarter on their own 15.

Hammond tossed a 20-yard scoring strike to All-America end Ron Sellers and when Penn State fumbled away the following kickoff, Hammond capped a 22-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown leap.

Hammond hit on 37 of 53 passes for 362 yards, shattering Gator Bowl records in all departments, and Sellers hauled in 14 catches for 145 yards with his receptions setting a new standard.

HIT IN CLUTCH

Sherman was erratic but hit when he had to, tossing a nine-yard pass to Jack Curry late in the second quarter and then hitting Ted Kwalick with a 12-yard scoring strike just before the half.

The Lions, shuffling their defensive backfield to cope with the Seminole passing attack, kept Florida State off balance in the first half, and got great running from sophomore halfback Charlie Pittman.

The 182-pound speedster gained 105 yards rushing in the first half, but added only 19 in the last two quarters when the Seminoles took charge of the battle played before a record crowd of 68,019.

Penn State gained only 37 yards rushing and did not complete a pass in the second half.

BIG SAVE

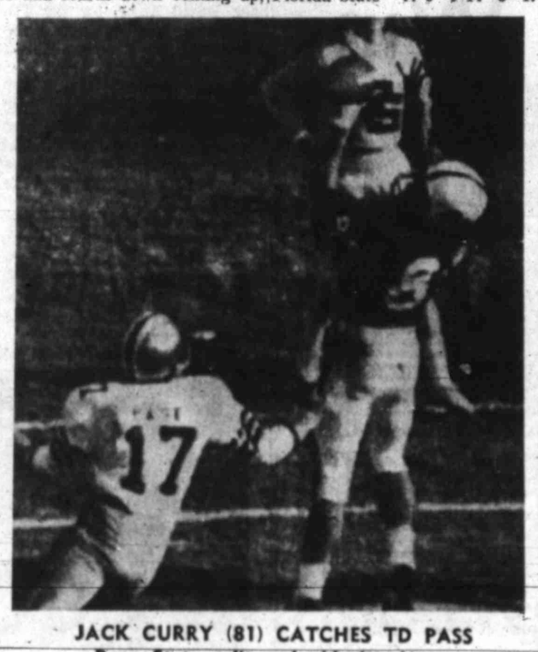

But the Lions kept the Seminoles from scoring a winning touchdown in the final seconds, with defensive back Frank Spaziani knocking a desperation pass out of the grasping hands of Sellers in the end zone with 20 seconds left.

Gutherie then booted his clutch kick despite a chorus of boos from Seminole fans, who earlier in the year watched Florida State settle for a tie against Alabama.

Peterson said on the eve of the game he had no regrets about going for a tie against Alabama in a regular game, but he added, "I'd go to win in a bowl game."

However, with the ball on the 15 and fourth down coming up, he sent in Gutherie for the tying kick.

New Trial Is Ordered In Cage Mentor Suit

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The Washington State Supreme Court reversed 6-2 Saturday a $175,000 libel judgment granted former University of Washington basketball Coach John Grayson because of an article about him in the Saturday Evening Post.

The court ordered a new trial, saying that Grayson, although not a public official, was "a public figure in which the public has a justified and important interest."

The Curtis Publishing Co., publisher of the Post, contended that the U.S. Supreme Court decision prohibiting public officials from collecting damages for nonmalicious statements about their public conduct should apply to Grayson's suit.

The suit was based on an article by Al Lightner of Salem, Ore., at the time a basketball referee, as told to a freelance writer, Al Stump. It appeared in the Jan. 5-12, 1963, edition of the Post.

Lightner criticized what he called "basketball's bullies, reckless coaches, rowdy players and riotous fans who disgrace our colleges." Grayson was named as an example of "explosive bench behavior."

Four months after the article appeared, the university declined to renew Grayson's contract as head basketball coach. He failed to obtain employment for the 1963-64 season and sued Curtis for $300,000.

Trojans, Tide Bowl Choices

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California puts its national prestige on the line, unbeaten Wyoming makes its first appearance in a major post-season tilt, Alabama comes of age and Tennessee and Oklahoma match high-powered offenses Monday.

The matchups are Southern California, 9-1, vs. Indiana, 9-1, in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Wyoming, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 6-3-1, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; Alabama, 8-1-1, vs. Texas A&M, 6-4, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, and Oklahoma, 9-1, vs. Tennessee, 9-1, in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. The latter is the only night game.

Tennessee, LSU and Alabama are one-touchdown favorites while Southern Cal is a two-touchdown choice to beat the Hoosiers, playing in the Pasadena classic for the first time.

About 320,000 persons are expected to see the games in person. Anticipated attendances are 100,000 for the Rose Bowl, 75,000 for the Sugar and Cotton and 70,000 for the Orange Bowl.

Southern California was first and Indiana fourth in The Associated Press' final regular season poll. Tennessee finished second, Oklahoma third, Wyoming sixth and Alabama eighth. LSU and Texas A&M were not rated among the first 10.

Now, let's look at the Big Four one at a time:

ROSE BOWL — Southern California the Pacific-8 Conference titleholder, has more than a few things going for it. They include O.J. Simpson, the sensational All-American halfback, a long history of victories in this game plus greater size and speed than Indiana.

The Hoosiers, though, were underdogs in seven of their 10 season games, including the last one in which they upset Purdue to gain the Pasadena trip and cochampionship of the Big Ten. Leroy Keyes, the Boilermakers' All-American back, did not score against Indiana and the Hoosiers hope to contain Simpson as effectively.

The Trojans were beaten only by Oregon State, 3-0, while Indiana's lone setback was by Minnesota, 33-7.

SUGAR BOWL — LSU is counting heavily on quarterback Nelson Stokley, who set school records for total offense, passing yardage and pass completions. The Tigers, however, will be without Eddie Ray, top punter of the Southeastern Conference. He was given an academic disciplinary dismissal from the university earlier this month.

Wyoming now has a string of 14 consecutive victories, longest in the country. The Cowboys feature the passing of Paul Toscano, who ranked fifth in the nation with 134 completions in 241 attempts for 1,791 yards and 18 touchdowns. Kicking specialist Jerry Depoyster is another Wyoming star. His toe accounted for 66 points on field goals and extra points and produced a 41.7 punting average.

COTTON BOWL — A brilliant passing duel between Texas A&M's Edd Hargett and Alabama's Kenny Stabler is in prospect.

In regular season, Stabler completed 103 of 178 aerials for 1,214 yards and nine touchdowns. Hargett threw 208 and completed 99, including 14 TDs.

The Aggies, in winning their first Southwest Conference crown in 10 years, swept to six straight victories after dropping their first four games of the campaign. Alabama won its last five games.

ORANGE BOWL — Bob Warmack, a fine runner and passer, will be among Oklahoma's chief hopes of upsetting Tennessee. He completed 53 per cent of his aerials for 1,137 yards and seven touchdowns. His best receiver has been Eddie Hinton, a 197-pound wingback who runs the 100 in 9.7. Hinton has caught 28 passes for 427 yards.

Tennessee has used three men in the quarterback slot — Dewey Warren, Charley Fulton and Bubba Wyche. Warren is the No. 1 man with 78 completions in 132 attempts for a 59.1 percentage and 1,053 yards. Richmond Flowers, an Olympic hurdler, has been Warren's top target, catching 41 for 585 yards.

Tornadoes Nudge Mustangs, 51-48

ANDREWS — Defending state champion for Class AAA, Lamesa, edged the Andrews Mustangs by a 51-48 tab here Friday night.

Andrews led only in the opening minutes of play, but rallied with a 22-point surge in the final minutes and almost caught the Golden Tornadoes.

Raider Roughhousers

The Oakland Raiders' defensive line practices the fast start while readying themselves for today's big playoff with the Houston Oilers for the American Football League championship. From the left, right end Ben Davidson, tackles Tom Keating and Big Spring's Dan Birdwell.

Statistical Leaders Meet For AFL Title

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — One of the men Coach Wally Lemm of Houston fears most when his Oilers play the Oakland Raiders here Sunday for the American Football League championship and a Super Bowl berth is ol' man George Blanda, 40.

Blanda quarterbacked the Oilers when they won the 1961 AFL championship for Lemm. His four field goals were the winning margin when the Raiders beat the Oilers at Houston, 19-7, three weeks ago.

"We'll have to prevent the Raiders crossing the 50-yard line," Lemm observed. His team has the best defensive record in the AFL, only 199 points allowed opponents in 14 games. Oakland has yielded 233, second best.

The game, pitting Eastern champion Houston, 9-4-1, against Western King Oakland, with a 13-1 record, will be televised at 5 p.m. EST, with northern California blacked out.

SELLOUT

A sellout crowd of 53,000-plus in the new Oakland Coliseum assures a record gate of $500,000-plus.

There will be a record $864,000 in radio and television receipts. Of the TV-radio money, $345,600 goes into the player benefits and pension fund. The other $518,000 and gate receipts go into the game funds, of which 36 per cent of the net will go to the winning players; 29 per cent to the losers; 10 per cent to the winning club and 9 to the loser and 16 per cent to the league.

Each winning player will receive about $6,500, each loser $5,000.

Houston or Oakland led the league in most statistics this season, both offensive and defensive, and had some of the individual leaders.

Oakland's John Rauch is Coach of the Year and quarterback Daryle Lamonica is Most Valuable Player.

BLANDA LEADS

Oakland's Blanda is AFL scoring leader with 116 points, every one on place kicks: 20 field goals and 56 conversions.

Lamonica threw the most touchdown passes, 30, and was the leading passer on statistics of 220 of 425 completed for 51.8 per cent and 3,228 yards.

Houston's Zeke Moore is the kickoff return champion, with an average of 28.9 on 14 returns for 405 yards including a 92-yarder.

Oiler Miller Farr shares the interception laurels with two others at 10 each, but leads in yards returned, 264, and touchdowns, 3.

Houston's Pete Beathard is ninth in passing with 94 completions in 231 throws for 40.7 per cent, 1,114 yards and nine touchdowns.

Houston fullback Hoyle Granger is second in rushing with 1,194 yards on 236 carries, including a 67-yarder. Oakland's Hewritt Dixon carried 153 for 559, with a 40-yarder, and Pete Banaszak 68 for 376 and a long run of 40. Oiler halfback Woodie Campbell rushed 110 times for 511 with a 42 long.

COMPARISON

Oakland's Mike Eischeid, with a couple of 60-yarders last Sunday, is second in punting with a 44.3 average, topping Oiler Jim Norton's 42.6.

Oakland's Roger Bird is runner-up among punt returners with 46 for 612 yards, a long of 678 and a 13.3 average. His average is topped only by Floyd Little of Denver, who averaged 16.9 on only 16 returns.

Although Houston led the AFL in allowing foes the fewest points — "And that's what counts," observed the Raiders' Rauch— Oakland led the league in 6 offensive and 9 defensive team categories; Houston in four and seven.

BEST RUSHERS

The Oilers' leads included best rushing average, 151.6 yards per game: most touchdowns on returns, 8: least yardage allowed on interceptions, 676; most touchdowns on interceptions, 6, and fewest foes' touchdowns, 18.

Oakland allowed opponents no touchdowns on interceptions; scored most touchdowns, 58; most rushing, 19, most passing, 33; most points, 468, opponents fewest first downs, 182; opponents least yards per game, 235.3 and threw rival quarterbacks 67 times for 666 yards lost.

Ski Condition Said 'Good'

A report by the U.S. Forest Service on snow conditions existing Thursday at National Forest Winter Sports Areas in New Mexico.

Sandia Peak Ski area, Cibola National Forest, 29 miles northeast of Albuquerque minimum depth of snow—3-6 inches; maximum — 21-25 inches; surface snow—less than one inch; type of snow—frozen granular; weather—partly cloudy; skiing conditions: upper trails—good to excellent; lower trails — good; chains—not needed.

Sierra Blanca winter sports area—Lincoln National Forest, 16 miles northwest of Ruidoso—Minimum depth of snow—26-30 inches; maximum—41-50 inches; surface snow — less than one inch; type of snow — packed powder; weather — partly cloudy; skiing conditions: upper and lower trails—good to excellent; roads—good; chains—not needed.

Ski Cloudcroft, Lincoln National Forest, two miles east of Cloudcroft—Minimum depth of snow — 11-15 inches; maximum — 21-25 inches; surface snow—less than one inch; type of snow — packed powder; weather — clear; skiing conditions: upper and lower trails—good to excellent; roads—good; chains—not needed. Both lifts are running.

He'll Remember

Denny Craddock, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Craddock, 1804 Dixie, will be one youngster who will remember the 1967 deer season as the one in which he killed his first buck. He shot the deer on the Spade Ranch in Mitchell County with a 30-30 rifle.

Grid Fare Lineups

By The Associated Press

Following is a line-up of all post-season football games, both college and professional, which will be played Dec. 31 and Jan. 1. All times are Eastern Standard.

DEC. 31

NFL CHAMPIONSHIP, Green Bay, Wis. — Dallas, Eastern Conference champion, 9-5, vs. Green Bay, Western Conference champion, 9-4-1, 2 p.m., CBS.

AFL CHAMPIONSHIP, Oakland, Calif. — Houston, Eastern Division champion, 9-4-1, vs. Oakland, Western Division, champion, 13-1, 5 p.m., NBC.

JAN. 1

ROSE BOWL, — Pasadena, Calif. — Southern California, 9-1, vs. Indiana, 9-1, 4:45 p.m., NBC.

ORANGE BOWL, Miami, Fla. — Oklahoma, 9-1, vs. Tennessee, 9-1, 7:45 p.m., NBC.

SUGAR BOWL, New Orleans, La. — Wyoming, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 6-3-1, 1:45 p.m., NBC.

COTTON BOWL, Dallas, Tex. — Alabama 7-2-1, vs. Texas A&M, 6-4, 1:45 p.m., CBS.

Vols Ranked As Favorites Over Sooners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Second-ranked Tennessee is an uneasy touchdown favorite over Oklahoma here Monday night in the 34th Orange Bowl football game matching two teams enough alike to be twins.

The night contest, with an 8 p.m. EST kickoff, climaxes a full day of New Year's Day bowl activity. NBC is televising it nationally.

Both the Volunteers and Sooners swept to conference championships on 9-1 records that made them the closest challengers to Southern California for the national championship.

Both have balanced attacks that operate out of the "I" formation, and both use the so-called "Monster" defense with a five-man line, two linebackers, a "Monster" roving back, and three deep men.

DOES IT BETTER

"There's nothing either of us doesn't know about the other—it will be hard to come up with anything new," said Oklahoma's defensive coach, Pat James. "The winner will be the one who does it better."

The Volunteers feature an offense built around quarterback Dewey Warren, an Olympic hurdler named Richmond Flowers, plus a pair of slashing tailbacks, Charley Fulton and Walter Chadwick.

Fulton, a strong runner and good passer, alternates at quarterback with Warren. The Vols have a third signal-caller in Bubba Wyche, who took over in mid-season when both Warren and Fulton were injured.

SCRAMBLING QB

Oklahoma has a scrambling quarterback in Bob Warmack, who has completed 53 per cent of his passes for 1,136 yards and has run for 209. His main targets are fleet, 197-pound wingback Eddie Hinton and tight end, Steve Zabel.

The Sooners' big strength has been on the ground with Steve Owens and Ron Shotts running for 808 and 726 yards, respectively.

Oklahoma has averaged 26.9 points a game and Tennessee more than 25.

Green Bay Tries To Make History At Dallas Expense

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay's solid old professionals, fresh from an inspired victory over Los Angeles, are favored to make football history against the explosive Dallas Cowboys in Sunday's National Football League title game at Lambeau Field.

Vince Lombardi's battle tested warriors are shooting for an unprecedented third straight playoff title against a Cowboy team that blew Cleveland out of the Cotton Bowl last Sunday, 52-14 for the Eastern Conference crown.

A sellout crowd of 50,861 is expected to watch in frigid weather while the Packers and Cowboys battle for a winner's share of about $7,800 each and a chance at the $15,000 jackpot in the Super Bowl Jan. 14 at Miami against the American Football League champion.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

DANDY DON MEREDITH RELAXES
Will he be on or off for showdown?

BRUTAL BATTLE

The game shapes up as a brutal battle up front between the Packers' rebuilt interior line and the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense that will determine whether Bart Starr can recapture the magic that led Green Bay to a 34-27 victory in a dramatic thriller last Jan. 1 at the Cotton Bowl.

When Dallas has the ball it will be the same type of struggle by Willie Davis and Co. to try to charge past the Cowboys' protective curtain for Dandy Don Meredith, the erratic but often brilliant passer.

Memories of last New Year's Day championship game still are fresh in both camps. Dallas has lived all year with its failure to cash in on a first down and one situation on the Packer two-yard line in the final seconds and the final frustration when Tom Brown intercepted a Meredith pass thrown with Packer Dave Robinson draped around his shoulder.

Bob Hayes, billed as the fastest human, caught only one pass in that memorable game when he was shadowed by Green Bay's Bob Jeter and Herb Adderley. He caught only two when the Packers beat the Cowboys 20-3 in an Aug. 28 exhibition game.

If the Cowboys are to upend the one-touchdown favorites it will be up to Meredith to hit Hayes and Lance Rentzel, the speedy flanker, while establishing ball control on the running of Dan Reeves, Don Perkins and rookie Craig Baynham.

The game will be carried on national television and radio (CBS) at 1 p.m. CST with the Green Bay and Wausau areas blacked out on TV.

STARR MUST HIT

If Lombardi is to reach his goal of three in a row, Starr must get time to pick the Cowboy defense apart with his third down passes to Carroll Dale and Boyd Dowler while maintaining possession with the running of his injury riddled backfield corps.

Travis Williams, the Packers' spectacular rookie running back who set an NFL record by returning four kickoffs for touchdowns, will share the running chores with Donny Anderson, the former Texas Tech wonder; and Chuck Mercein, the New York giant castoff who found the pot of gold in icy Green Bay. Both Ben Wilson and Jim Grabowski are injured and probably will see little action, if any at all.

INDIVIDUAL BATTLES

Among the many individual battles to watch will be the attempt of Hayes to shake looses from Jeter or Adderley plus double coverage in many cases. There will be the contest between All-League linemen, offensive tackle Ralph Neely of the Cowboys and defensive end Willie Davis of the Packers and the struggle between Gale Gillingham and All-League defensive tackle Bob Lilly of Dallas.

Forrest Gregg, the veteran 6-foot-4, 250-pound Packer tackle who handled Deacon Jones in last week's 28-7 triumph over the Rams, will take on quick Willie Townes, the Cowboys' 6-4, 260-pound defensive left end; and All-League guard Jerry Kramer of the Packers will be pitted against Jethro Pugh, 6-6, 260-pound tackle.

DALLAS TRAILS

Dallas never has beaten Green Bay except in two exhibition games. They seldom meet because they are in different conferences but the Packers hold a 4-0 edge.

Lombardi, since coming to Green Bay in 1959 has won six of nine Western Conference crowns and is 4-1 in title games.

Seven clubs have won two playoff titles in succession but nobody has made the third. Green Bay did take three league championships in 1929-30-31 before the NFL was split into conferences for playoffs. Dallas' only previous conference championship came last year.

The television and radio rights are worth $2 million of which $975,000 goes into the players' pension fund, $200,000 to the league office and the remaining $825,000 into the game receipts.

The players split 70 per cent of the game receipts on a 60-40 basis after taxes, expenses and second and third place money have been deducted.

It's Different Now For Travis Williams

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The $100 car Travis Williams drove when he came to Green Bay was in the hands of a friend. Williams was driving a brand new hardtop now, with the letters V.I.P. emblazoned on the side.

The car was lent to Williams by a dealer, tuned in to the hottest item in town—rookie Travis Williams, the extravagantly swift Packer halfback.

Williams was on his way to buy someting of his own—his very first custom-made suit. He was talking about his dreams.

"The only thing I wish, that has been on my mind constantly, is winning the Dallas game Sunday, winning the Super Bowl, and getting home to my wife and kids in California. It's like being away somewhere for a year. After a while you just get anxious to go back home."

Williams, from Richmond, Calif., took almost 15 minutes just to maneuver from the Packer dressing room to his car less than 100 feet away. The autograph hunters, the amateur photographers, the well-wishers, were all there, waiting, it seemed, just for him.

Before Travis came along no one had ever run back more than three kick-offs for touchdowns in a single season. Travis ran back four. He might have run back even more, but opponents began kicking away from him.

He also established himself as a halfback, rushing 35 times for 188 yards and one touchdown in the regular season. In the Western Conference playoff against the Los Angeles Rams Dec. 23 he carried the ball 18 times for 88 yards and two touchdowns, including a 46-yard run from scrimmage.

"Oh, ma, look. It's Travis Williams," a child no more than six shouted to her mother as Travis finally reached his car.

Williams screwed up his face in embarrassment. "It sort of gets to me. I'm just not used to this attention."

It has been an intoxicating season for Williams, a former junior college flash who felt he failed in two seasons of varsity ball at Arizona State.

Webb's New CO Killed Tiger, Boar In India

By NATE MITCHELL

Hardly a man alive wouldn't give an eye tooth to go big game hunting in the wilds of Africa or India. Such a jaunt—the stalking of a man-eating tiger, the outwitting of a cunning leopard, or the snaring of a mammoth lion — just naturally starts the old adrenalin to flowing.

With Webb AFB's new base commander (slated to assume command next month), Col. Chandler B. Estes, the thrill of being able to hunt big game in India became a reality just over a dozen years ago.

While stationed in New Delhi as the U.S. Air Attache from 1953-55, the colonel found himself surrounded by the sports-loving sheiks, maharajas and his counterparts in the Indian Air Force.

In a land where eating virtually any meat is prohibited by religious customs — leaving countless deer, quail, wild chicken, boar—even the misanthropic bengals and leopards to roam free and menace the land, Estes jumped at his chance to beat the brush with royalty.

Since even being allowed to possess a firearm was a status symbol, few of the local citizenry pursued the sport, save for that of acting as guides and "beaters" for the more affluent society.

Chandler Estes, working closely with IAF, had learned to speak fluent Hindustani prior to departing the U.S., and had little trouble learning the customs and habits of his hosts. He started his "Frank Buck" adventures with small game—quail, black partridge and jungle chicken—but living off the local economy caused his interest to sharpen a bit.

Thus, the tasty wild boar, the various species of deer and other table-pleasing wild life sent him into the jungles quite frequently. Of the different deer, he leans more favorably toward the yearling Blue Bull, a giraffe-like cervidae which grows to as much as 1,200 pounds on the hoof.

Estes got his first tiger in late '54 while hunting with a friend, Maharaja Indore. The feline had killed a water buffalo the day before and seemed like easy prey for the nimrods. Estes had been tabbed to administer the coup de grace but the tiger got suspicious. From their blind, about 100 yards away, they waited in vain as the cautious animal failed to reveal no more of his colorful anatomy than a spotted leg or a white-tipped tail.

Webb's new base commander, Col. Chandler B. Estes, shows off some of his big game trophies which he bagged while in India. At lower left are head and skin of a 150-lb. leopard; at lower right are similar remnants of a tiger. In the rear (above) is the head of a huge 400 lb. striped man-eater.

It was a day later, when Estes cut loose with his English-made .470 double-barrelled weapon on the tricky bengal. The huge shot failed to still the prey; it bolted and disappeared into the heavy brush. Somewhat uneasy at the thought of a wounded man-eater being at large, Estes asked his companion for council.

"Why don't we simply sit here and have a cup of tea?" replied his companion.

With the tea consumed, they followed the blood spots some 400 yards before they found the huge tiger, a 400-pound beauty. (The colonel has the trophy in his home here.)

Before his hunting days in India were over, Col. Estes sent four other bengals to their happy hunting grounds, along with one huge wild boar and a pair of leopards.

After a couple of kills, he admits that he became a bit cocky and offered to use a .30 '06—all to the discomfort of his hosts—on his next tiger hunt. It took all of his three 220 grain bullets to stop the man - eater which dropped less than 50 yards from the colonel. (After this, he went back to the .470.)

Unlike the larger tiger, the leopard (topping out at about 150 pounds) was hunted at night—spotlighted from a jeep with the shooter up a tree nearby. Estes got one his first hunt, then struck it lucky and downed a boar on the same jaunt.

He recalls that an interesting sidelight to his adventufes in India was that the hunting party always stopped by the nearby mission and talked with its priest. After they had left their donations (a few rupees) and the traditional bottle of rum, the holy man would put the word out and they would be shown where the game had been seen most recently.

While in India his wife, Peggy, once downed two ducks with one shot—to the chagrin of her male guide who felt that a woman's shooting ability left something to be desired.

Since he has been at Webb, Estes has journeyed to Ozona where he bagged his limit of deer in a day of hunting.

The Esteses have three children, Sharon and Jeff who reside here with them, and Paula, now at the University of Georgia.

★NEWS EVENTS OF 1967 IN PICTURE REVIEW★

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GENERAL ON THE GRID — Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr picked apart the Kansas City defense during first Super Bowl game at Los Angeles in January. Starr, voted game's outstanding player, led Green Bay to smashing win in pro football title game.

RING KING — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay knocked out Zora Folley in New York City in March. He then lost series of court battles over his draft status.

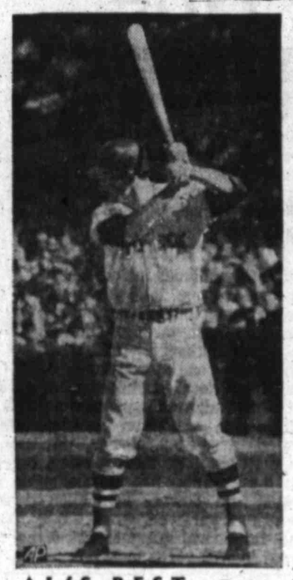

THE REDBIRD RACER — St. Louis' Lou Brock slid past Elston Howard of Boston Red Sox to score in sixth game of the World Series. Brock led the batters with a .414 average and stole seven bases, a new mark, in the Series won by the Cardinals.

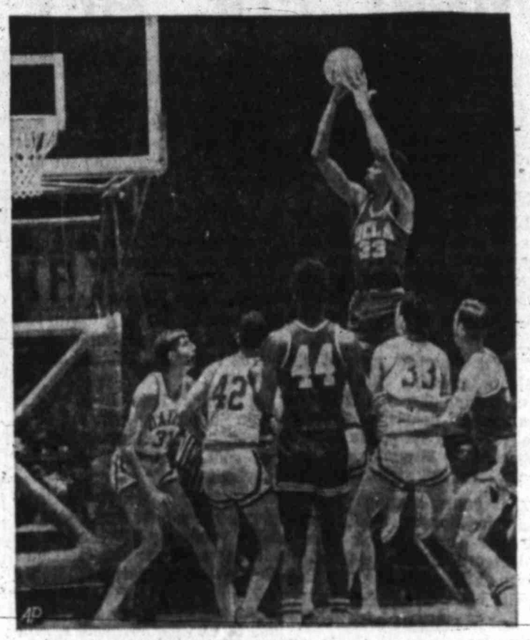

THE MILER — Kansas' Jim Ryun moved past Kipchoge Keino to win the 1500-meter race in Los Angeles in July. Ryun set new world mark of 3:33.1 for metric mile.

SCHOOLBOY SENSATION — Mark Spitz of Santa Clara, Calif., spent the year breaking all marks for free-style butterfly events. He's among top male prospects in United States for individual and medley medals in the forthcoming Olympics.

AL'S BEST — Boston outfielder Carl Yastrzemski led his team to the World Series, won batting triple crown and the Most Valuable Player award in the American League.

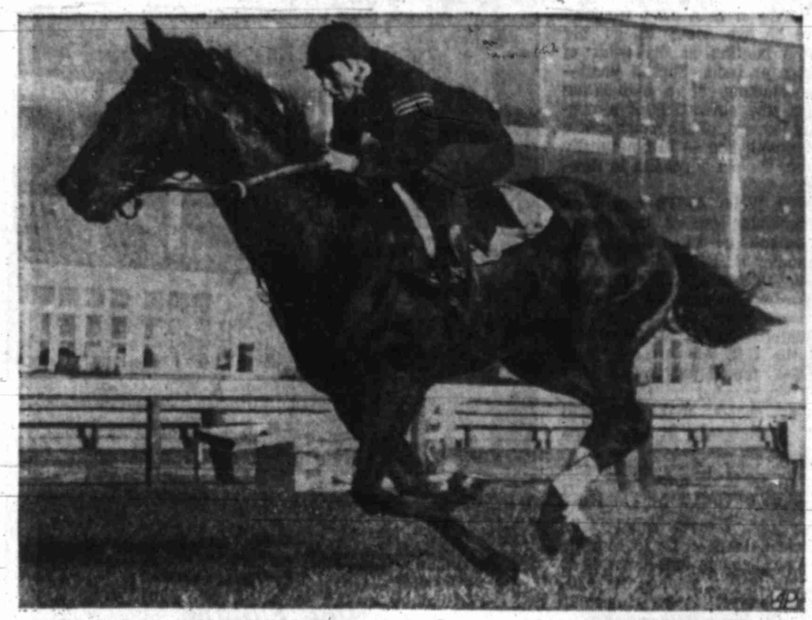

ABOVE ALL — Giant Lew Alcindor led unbeaten UCLA to 79-64 defeat of Dayton in NCAA title game at Louisville in March. It was team's 30th straight victory.

COURT QUEEN — Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., dominated women's tennis. She won three Wimbledon titles and the U.S. singles crown at Forest Hills.

STAR IN NL — San Francisco's lefty Mike McCormick topped National League in wins. He was voted the Comeback Player of the Year and the Cy Young pitching awards.

TOPS ON THE TURF — Damascus, raced by Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft, won Horse of the Year and the three-year-old champion honors. It took 12 of 16 starts, never finished out of the money, and garnered $817,941, the most ever by a horse in one year.

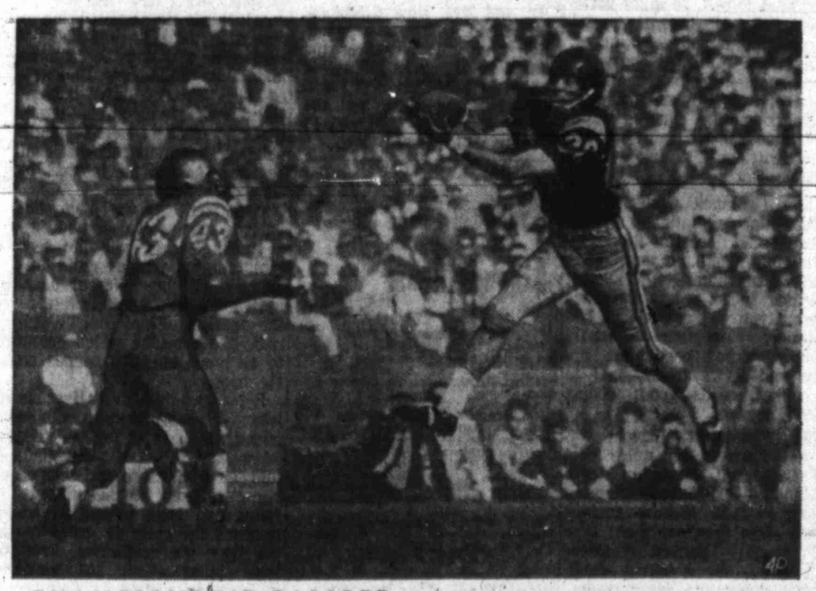

GOLF MASTER — Jack Nicklaus was exultant upon ramming home putt to win the U.S. Open crown in June. He set an Open record with a four-round score of 275.

RACING FOR THE CUP — Intrepid left Australia's Dame Pattie plowing through waves during America's Cup competition off Newport, R.I., in September. Intrepid won four straight races to keep up the long record of American supremacy in yacht racing.

PREMIER PLAYER — UCLA quarterback Gary Beban holds Heisman Memorial trophy awarded to him as the outstanding college football player in the country.

CHAMPIONSHIP CALIBER — Southern California's Pat Cashman intercepted a USLA pass and raced for touchdown in November game. USC won the contest, conference honors, a Rose Bowl trip and was voted the outstanding college eleven of the country.

Aggies Face Bowlingest Team In Football History

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Alabama, the bowlingest college in football history, plays Texas A&M, which has been in the post-season games only one-third as many times, when pupil tries to topple teacher in the Cotton Bowl Monday.

And it will be the first bowl game for the freshman of the act, a black-haired young man with piercing eyes—Gene Stallings.

He will try to climax the greatest comeback in Southwest Conference history with victory over the man who taught him winning football, the gridiron master of Alabama, Paul "Bear" Bryant.

UP FROM DESPAIR

It was Stallings who brought his team from the despair of four straight losses along a victory road that led to the cavernous Cotton Bowl.

Six games in a row did the surging Aggies win as they followed the passingest man in Aggieland annals, one Edd Hargett, who can throw a football better than rocks at rabbits on the Texas farm where he grew to a strapping 186.

It means A&M will enter the Cotton Bowl with a longer winning streak than Alabama. The Crimson Tide took five in a row after losing to Tenessee in one-half of the schedule.

The Aggie drive started on an October night when Hargett raced to a touchdown when there was no time left on the clock and A&M beat Texas Tech 28-24.

FIRST IN DECADE

The Aggie offense swirled and the Aggie defense held its foes to a measley 31 points in five games down the stretch to the first championship in 10 years.

Alabama, which will be playing in its 21st bowl game Monday, had a season slate of 8-1-1 and on that basis, plus the fabulous record of the great Bryant, producer of three national champions, will be a touchdown favorite.

LAST UNDER BEAR

But the Crimson Tide may not have the incentive of the lean and hungry men of Aggieland, who have to check the records and talk to their elders to find out when A&M last had a winning season.

It was 1957 and the coach was Bear Bryant, who just the year before had directed the Aggies to an unbeaten season and a conference championship with one of his wingmen being the gangling but fiercely-determined Stallings.

The latter was Bryant's freshman coach in 1957, following which the Bear left A&M for Alabama after compiling an 8-2 record and getting the Aggies in their last bowl game until this one.

Stallings followed Bryant to Alabama and was assistant coach for seven years. Then he came to A&M and in three seasons built the Aggies into champions.

Leading the Tide is Ken "Snake" Stabler, who has outpassed even the mighty Hargett except in one important department—touchdowns. Stabler has completed 103 of 178 passes for 1,214 yards and nine touchdowns. Hargett has thrown 208 and connected on 99 passes for 14 touchdowns.

Each is credited with personally winning six games.

So a passing duel the likes of which the storied Cotton Bowl may never have seen is projected for the delight of 75,504 fans who will jam the big stadium for the 1 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

LSU Coach Has Reputation Of Beating The Unbeaten

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Beating unbeaten teams in post-season play is almost a habit with Charlie McClendon and he'll try not to break it New Year's Day in the Sugar Bowl when his Louisiana State Tigers tangle with Wyoming, the only unbeaten, united major college football team in 1967.

Charlie Mac first came to the Sugar Bowl as a star defensive end on Bear Bryant's 1950 Kentucky team, which upset Bud Wilkinson's undefeated Oklahoma Sooners, national champions that year. Since becoming boss of the Tigers, McClendon knocked off unbeaten Texas, the 1962 national titlist, the Cotton Bowl and snapped Arkansas' 22-game victory skien in the 1966 Cotton Bowl.

Wyoming's string of 14 consecutive victories is now the nation's longest. The oddsmakers have determined that LSU, 6-3-1, will end the Cowboys' streak. The Tigers rate a six-point favorite.

Calling the Sugar Bowl bid the "greatest thing that ever happened to our state," Wyoming Gov. Stan Hathaway led some 7,000 followers of Cowboy football—that's about 3 per cent of the Wyoming population—here for the team's first appearance in a major post-season clash.

But the Wyoming exodus apparently won't be enough to fill the 80,985 seats of the Sugar Bowl. Hopes are for a crowd in the neighborhood of 75,000. The kickoff for the Monday game is 12 noon, EST. NBC will televise it but the New Orleans area will be blacked out.

The Cowboys feature the passing of pitchin' Paul Toscano, who ranked fifth among the nation's quarterbacks with 134 completions on 241 attempts for 1,791 yards and 18 touchdowns, and the kicking of All-American Jerry Depoyster—66 points on field goals and extra points and a 41.7 punting average.

Boys' Cage Loop Prospects Needed

The YMCA is anxious to have still more high school boys sign up for a basketball league.

If any boy or boys can put together a team, he is urged to enter it in a league which the Y hopes to form soon. Any boys who would like to play but who has no team connections should also contact Mike Harris, physical education director, at the YMCA as soon as possible.

"Double Delight"

BY JO BRIGHT

Charter members of the recently organized Big Spring Mothers of Twins Club have one thing — or is it two — in common, for they are all women who have doubled their measure of pleasure by being mothers of twins.

The group was formed here in September and will soon become affiliated with the national organization which has 169 clubs in 36 states. The 5,700 members represent approximately 12,000 twins since some of the women are mothers of more than one set of twins.

Officers of the local club are Mrs. Newlin James, president; Mrs. Larry Dudash, vice president; Mrs. David Stephenson, treasurer; Mrs. Russell De Vore, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Morrow, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Joe Langford, assistant treasurer. There are eleven members, and any area women who are eligible for membership are invited to contact one of the officers.

Meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month, and during the social hours the mothers exchange ideas on child rearing and discuss the problems and pleasures of having twins in a family.

Included in the goals set by the national president is the club's wish to assist medical research, give information about twins to the public and make members and others aware that each twin of a set is a unique individual despite what may appear to be their sameness.

Miss Gloria Johnson Weds J. S. Phillips

Wedding vows were solemnized for Miss Gloria (Dee De) Johnson and John Stanley Phillips Saturday evening at the Anderson Street Church of Christ.

W. D. Batten, Church of Christ minister from Colorado City, officiated at the double ring ceremony. It was performed before an altar graced with a sunburst arrangement of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and emerald fernery flanked by seven - branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Chapel chimes were played throughout the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curley Johnson, 1904 Scurry; and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. C. Phillips of Coahoma and the late Mr. Phillips.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white peau do soie designed with French lace on the long tapered sleeves and bodice front. The sheath skirt was styled with a chapel-length train of inverted pleats attached at the back waistline. Her bouffant veil of tulle cascaded to the floor from a tiara of flowers and she carried a bouquet of glamelias tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Glenn Holley served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nita Bassinger of Eldorado and Miss Angie Tidwell. The attendants were attired in similar floor - length sleeveless dresses designed with molded jewel necklines. Mrs. Holley wore emerald green velvet; Miss Bassinger chose mint green velvet and Miss Tidwell was attired in a leaf green gown. They all carried garland bouquets of camellia leaf.

Terry Denton of Coahoma was best man, and groomsmen were Tommy Mencer and Sam Oaks, both of Coahoma. Ushers were Wendell Joe Anderson, and Phillip Reid, both of Coahoma.

Gary Tidwell served as ring bearer, and altar tapers were lighted by Steve Wallace and Mark Tiller of Coahoma.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed distination. For traveling, the bride chose a pink sheath dress with pink and avocado green tweed coat and black accessories. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home in Corpus Christi.

The bride is a graduate of Sweetwater High School and Howard County Junior College, where she was a member of the choir and named Aggie sweetheart. She is presently employed at Curley's Studio. The bridegroom graduated from Coahoma High School and attended HCJC. He was recently discharged from the Navy and is employed by Southwestern Investment Company.

A reception was held in the First Federal Savings and Loan Community Room. The bridal couple, her parents, his mother and the feminine attendants greeted guests at the door.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth with net overlay and centered with an arrangement of fall flowers in a silver champagne cooler. The three - tiered wedding cake was decorated with green confection flowers accented with gold and yellow roses and sweetpeas. Crystal and sliver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Bobby Gaskin presided at the guest register.

Out - of - town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris, Long Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hannon, Phoeniz, Ariz.; Mr and Mrs. Darrell Eliotte, Seagraves; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Welch, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Les Bassinger, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Welch, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Welch, all of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. Denzell Rankin, Waco; David Eliotte, Sundown; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williams, Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Frazior of Brownwood.

MRS. JOHN STANLEY PHILLIPS (Curley's Studio)

Dinner Party Honors Miss Mary Smoot

Mrs. Mary Smoot, bride-elect of Tommy Gingerich, and her feminine attendants were honored with a dinner party Thursday evening at the Holiday Inn.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Warren Costin, Mrs. J. C. Fuller, Mrs. Mike Mundy and Miss Terry Myers, all of Colorado City.

The bride-elect was attired in a green wool A-line drses and was presented a corsage of white spider chrysanthemums, as was her mother, Mrs. Joe Smoot, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. G. K. Gingerich.

The honoree was given a hostess' gift of linens.

Approximately 15 attended. Out-of-town guests were Miss Kathy Simonds, Fort Worth; Miss Sally Perkins, Eastland; and Miss Jo Kilpatrick and Mrs. Sid Ridlehuber, both of Waco.

There is no time more appropriate than this to say . . .
THANK YOU

MRS. TONY BARRON

Mrs. Tony Barron, the former Miss Billie Smith, was born in Oil City, La., and moved to West Texas at the age of four. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Smith, now residing in Eugene, Ore.

Mrs. Barron is employed in the check department of the Howard County Sheriff's Department, however, she began her business career in 1950 as a sales clerk for J. C. Penney Co., where she later became a buyer in the lingerie department. Her next position was at the Book Stall, where she remained five years, and she worked at Hester's Office Supply for two years.

During this time, Mrs. Barron attended classes at Howard County Junior College to earn a high school diploma which she neglected when she married Barron on Nov. 23, 1936. Her HCJC curriculum included accounting and typing which she uses in her present job.

Mrs. Barron and her husband live at 1605 State, and he is employed by Duncan Drilling Company. They have two children, Jerry and Mrs. Wade (Toni) Choate. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barron have two children, Sheryln, 8, and Keith, 4; and Mr. and Mrs. Choate have one son, Kyle, 8. Both families live in Big Spring.

At onetime, Mrs. Barron was treasurer in the Lamesa Rebekah Lodge. She is a member of the Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, which honored her by naming her "Woman of the Year," and by electing her to the office of president and social chairman.

She is a member of the College Baptist Church, and her hobbies are stamp and coin collecting. Her favorite pastime is being with her three grandchildren.

A LOVELIER YOU

Plan Party Dressing

By MARY SUE MILLER

It goes without saying that we all want to look perfection on big evenings. But sometimes things just don't work out. Very unsettling it is, too!

In avoiding slip-ups, the following recipe for perfect party dressing is practically infallible:

Several days before an occasion, check all ingredients of your costume down to the last detail — lingerie, stockings, jewelry, purse, gloves, handkerchief. Then refurbish needy items at once.

When you plan to wear a new dress, try it out in private before you spring it on your public. Put on the works, from underpinnings to cosmetics, and make necessary changes.

Be forehanded about your hair and manicure. Leaving either to the last minute most often results in a bungled job and jittery nerves. So prepared you are halfway to a charming appearance. Dressing techniques account for the other half.

Professional models say that to dress effectively you can neither dawdle nor rush. You need a well - practiced, well-timed routine, such as this one: After bathing don all clothing except dress. Then arrange hair and cap it in a net. Apply cosmetics and review effects in a strong light. Slip on dress and jewelry; remove hair net. Inspect appearance from all angles.

Parfait? Should be!

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, "Midriff Slimmers." It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover handling.

Reveal Engagement With Thursday Tea

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Galenna Ruth Gates to Floyd C. Smith, both of Stanton, was announced at a tea given in her honor Thursday at the country home of Mrs. Leo Turner.

The home was beautifully decorated in the bride-elect's chosen colors of green and gold. The oval tea table was covered with a floor - length green silk cloth banded with gold festooned braid. The centerpiece was a pyramid of greenery with fluted velvet ribbons and gold cherubs arranged in a gold compote, and the punch bowl and other appointments were of amber crystal. The registry table was also covered with green and gold and centered with an artificial fruit and greenery ring surrounding a gold candle tree. The date of the wedding, Feb. 24, was announced on gold lace tea napkins.

Miss Gates, who was attired in a mauve pink crepe dress, received guests with her mother, Mrs. Glenn G. Gates; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Floyd H. Smith; his grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Smith; and the hostess. They were presented corsages of gold toned mums tied with green ribbon bows.

Similar corsages were worn by members of the house party: Miss Kay Bryan, Mrs. Gary Bizzell of Rawls, Mrs. Clinton Miller, Lubbock, Miss Sue Mills, Midland, and Mrs. Delbert Donelson, Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom-elect.

Cohostesses were Mrs. P. M. Bristow, Mrs. Glenn L. Brown, Mrs. Stanley Reid, Mrs. Elmer Long, Mrs. Bob Latimer and Mrs. W. E. Robnett of Midland.

Approximately 200 guests called between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30 p.m., and out-of-town guests attended from Big Spring, Dallas, Odessa, Fort Stockton and Midland.

The couple will be married in the First Methodist Church at Stanton.

Reunion Held In Knott Residence

The highlight of a holiday reunion in the Billy Gaskins home in Knott was a Christmas buffet dinner.

The serving table was covered with a gold linen cloth overlaid with white lace and centered with a small white flocked tree trimmed with gold ornaments. Crystal candelabra holding gold candles flanked the centerpiece, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gaskins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hendrickson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flinn, Denn Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gaskins, Butch and Rhonda Gaskins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spivey, Judy, Roy Lee and Tim Spivey, all of Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Gaskins and Donna, all of Knott.

Club To Meet

MRS. T. G. GINGERICH (CURLEY'S STUDIO)

First Baptist Church Is Scene Of Wedding

Miss Mary Marguerite Smoot and Thomas George Gingerich were united in marriage Friday evening at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Robert F. Polk read the wedding vows as the couple stood before an altar enhanced with emerald fern trees and candelabra holding cathedral tapers. Baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and pompons flanked a white satin priedieu, and family pews were marked with white satin and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Smoot, 204 Jefferson, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Gingerich, Waco.

Mrs. G. R. Robinson, organist, played a musical prelude, and Lester Morton sang "O Perfect Love," "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white peau de soie gown, styled as a modified tent with scalloped bodice and sleeves overlaid with re - embroidered French lace. The cathedral train extended from the lace bodice, and her flower petal headpiece was accented with seed pearls. Her veil of layered maline was elbow - length, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and Frenched carnations centered with white orchids and backed with tulle.

Miss Kathy Simonds of Fort Worth was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Perkins, Eastland; Miss Terry Myers, Colorado City; Mrs. Mike Mundy, Lubbock; and Miss Paula Leonard.

They wore A-line dresses of American Beauty chiffon with satin bow at the Empire waistline, pleated chiffon sleeves and flowing back panel. Their headpieces were of matching silk illusion sprinkled with tiny seed pearls, and they caried bouquets of light pink carnations tied with pink velvet ribbons.

Sidney Ridlehuber of Waco was best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Howell, Dan McDonald, Bill Whitby and Ernie Jennings, all of Waco. Ushers were Dale Stringer, Mike Baggett, Jimmy Gingerrich, brother of the bridegroom; all of Waco; and Hank Smoot, brother of the bride.

Carl Smoot, brother of the bride, and Becky Pope of Houston served as altar taper lighters.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Dallas. For traveling, Mrs. Gingerich chose a mint green wool sheath with matching full - length coat and accessories and wore the orchid corsage from her bouquet. The couple will be at home at 1515 S. 9th, Apt. 307, in Waco.

SCHOOLS

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is a junior student in Elementary Education at Baylor University, Waco. The bridegroom graduated from Richfield High School, Waco, and is a senior student at Baylor. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in fellowship hall.

The refreshment table was laid with a floor - length tulle cloth designed with lace border and flounced overlay. The centerpiece was a swirled candelabrum with white tapers which was accented with smilax and red carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with white satin bells and decorated with pink confection roses. Copper and silver appointments completed the setting.

Miss Myra Ellen Robinson presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Miss Jane Ledbetter and Miss Judy Deaver, both of Waco; Miss Judie Brooks, Shreveport, La.; Miss Darlene Leifeste and Mrs. Mike Steward.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bartlett, Mr., and Mrs. Dwain Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Zack Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brannon, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCann, Mr. ad Mrs. S. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker, all of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Landau, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Costin and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fuller, all of Colorado City.

Miss Mary George Perkins of Eastland, pianist, played various selections during the receiving hours.

Out - of - town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins, all of Eastland; Miss Dorothy Perkins; Midland; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pope, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ridlehuber, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Trice, Mrs Philip Ponder, Mrs. Myrtle Trice, Miss Jo Kilpatrick, all of Waco; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane of Sonora.

REHEARSAL LUNCHEON

Mr. and Mrs. Gingerich hosted a rehearsal luncheon honoring the couple Friday at Coker's Restaurant, and gifts were presented to the attendants. The dining tables were laid with white cloths and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Approximately 30 attended.

Beauty Machine Aids In Cleaning

A new beauty appliance is giving mothers and daughters much more in common than they could have believed possible. It's a beauty machine that gives deep down facial clensing through a mist treatment causing the face to perspire and dislodge impurities in a natural manner.

The appliance also is suggested for use by sons who have trouble keeping their faces really clean.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The tempo of the past few weeks is about to slacken to a slow beat and families are beginning to get back to their homes and regular routine after having wonderful gatherings over the holidays.

* * *

The MANLEY COOK family was together at their home and that of the C. L. COOKS. Here were MR. and MRS. JAMES H. SHAFFER and their children, David, Brenda, Martin and James Manley of Oakridge, Tenn., and DR. and MRS. JOHN F. BROWN, Jimmy, Pete, Cathey and Chris of Lubbock.

MRS. J. P. DODGE returned Thursday from Llano where she spent the holidays with MR. and MRS. YOUNG CHILDERS.

* * *

MRS. EARNEST E. PANNELL SR., has returned to her home in Port Lavaca after visiting through Wednesday with her son and daughter-in-law, MAJ. (ret) and MRS. E. E. PANNELL JR.

* * *

All members of the K. H. McGIBBON family which now numbers 12 were here over Christmas Day. Here were the CHARLES WEBBS and their three sons of Bloomington, Ind., the EWING WERLEINS and son of Houston, and the FLIPPER SMITHS of Dallas.

* * *

All of the company at the home of MRS. MARY E. BROWN have gone home but it was a full reunion of all six of her children and grandchildren over Christmas. Included in the family affair were MR. and MRS. JACOB E. BROWN, Phyllis and Eddie of Fort Worth; their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. GEORGE LOWKE, Ged and Lacy of Tucson, Ariz.; MR. and MRS. MARLIN H. BROWN, Ryan, Raina and Holly, Chicago, Ill.; their daughter, MRS. DONNA JOHNSON and Robbie of San Diego, Calif.; MR. and MRS. H. M. BATTENFIELD, Candace and Stephanie of Odessa; and MR. and MRS. CALVIN R. CLARK, Tommy, Mark and Shelly of Longview. The ROGER BROWNS and Dale and the WENDALL BROWNS all of whom live in Big Spring rounded out the family. Wendall and his wife have only recently moved to Big Spring after living in London, England.

It's been a long time since VIRGINIA BLACKMON attended the third grade classes at College Heights School but she hadn't forgotten all the names of those who were her classmates. She is now MRS. FRED PEREZ. She and Mr. Perez live in Los Angeles, Calif., and were here over Christmas until Friday as guests in the home of MRS. HANNAH GULLEY and MR. and MRS. ART KEARNS. The two former classmates names she remembered were those of IKE ROBB and GEORGE OLDHAM. She saw Ike again at the Butcher party Wednesday night and George at Hemphill - Wells Thursday.

* * *

MR. and MRS. BILL UNGER visited in Eden with her father, G. M. SUDDUTH, Christmas Day and when they returned here they brought TERESA ROGERS, daughter of Mrs. San Juana Rogers, to be their guest for several days. Teresa, who also lives in Eden, returned home today.

* * *

MR. and MRS. GEORGE O'BRIEN are in Augusta, Ga., where he has entered the VA Hospital for tests and treatment.

* * *

PVT. E.2. JOE HOLLINGSHEAD, who has been here for the Christmas holidays with his parents, MR. and MRS. LEROY HOLLINGSHEAD, will return to Ft. Polk, La., Tuesday. He has two more weeks of training at his present station and will be awaiting orders.

* * *

SUE BURNS' Christmas visit home from Southwestern State College at San Marcos coincided with the 35th wedding anniversary of her parents, MR. and MRS. KELLY BURNS, who observed that day on Thursday.

* * *

Incidentally that plea for noncaloric vegetables to eat while everyone else dipped chips and crackers into tasty cheeses came to pass several times during the holiday parties. If one can just be strong and turn away from the goodies, those crisp crunchies are very good . . . especially if they are dipped in the tasty cheeses.

MRS. RALPH DOUGLAS McCONNELL

Baptist Rites Unite Couple

Miss Donna Jo Watts became the bride of Ralph Douglas McConnell in a candlelight ceremony Friday evening at the East Fourth Baptist Church.

The Rev. Jack Boyett, church pastor, read the double ring wedding vows beneath an arch of greenery flanked by seven-branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers. Twin bouquets of white gladioli completed the altar setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keats Watts, 603 Runnels, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. McConnell, Route Three, Lincolnton, N. C.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Jerry Don Oliphant, organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. For her wedding, she chose a street-length dress of white lace over taffeta designed with long sleeves fastened with French cuffs and large pearl buttons. The high neckline featured a lace collar, and pearl buttons adorned the dress front. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a small crown of seed pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a pink orchid.

Mrs. R. L. Parkison of Clovis, N.M., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Parkison was attired in a red velvet A-line dress with long sleeves and cowl collar. She carried a nosegay of carnations centered with a gardenia.

Billy David Rudd of Mesquite was the best man.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For traveling, Mrs. McConnell chose a two-piece avocado green knit suit with brown and winter white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home at 1404 Alice, Denton.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and is presently attending Texas Women's University, Denton, where she is a nursing student. The bridegroom graduated from Lincolnton High School and has attended Texas Christian University and will attend North Texas State University next semester.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in fellowship hall at the church. Those receiving guests were the bridal couple, parents and matron of honor.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over red linen and centered with a white ceramic cupid candelabrum holding three red tapers and entwined with red maline. Red roses surrounded its base. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with confection roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple under an arch of silver bells. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Miss Benda Mize presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mrs. Robbie Robertson, Mrs. Chuck Veal and Mrs. Dick Davis.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Watts, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams and Burr, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. McConnell and Tony McConnell, all of North Carolina; Richard Parkison, Clovis, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Benny Kirkland, Commerce; and Mrs. B. D. Rudd of Mesquite.

Wedding Solemnized In Church At Denton

Seven - branched candelabra holding votive tapers and entwined with spruce and magnolia, provided the background for the marriage of Miss Nita Laurice Pitts and John Thomas Whiteman Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church in Denton.

Twin tree candelabra flanked the altar which was graced with tiered arrangements of white gladioli, stock and poinsettias.

Mrs. Joseph Dawes of Big Spring sang "O Perfect Love," "The 23rd Psalm," and "Biblical Song No. Five," accompanied by Dale Peters of Denton, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Pitts, 2528 Royal Lane, Denton; and the bridegroom, who resides in Odessa is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Whiteman, Cortez, Colo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal Empire gown of peau de soie fashioned with pearl trim at the jewel neckline. The long sleeves were trimmed with white fur, and the train was accented with pearls and fur. Her full-length veil of illusion fell from a pearl tiara, and she carried a bouquet of miniature white roses and stock centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jane Chiswell of Cheyenne, Wyo., served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Raymond Pitts Jr., of Houston, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Ann Drosihn, Irving; and Mrs. Dale Noah, Nacogdoches. The attendants were attired in cerise formal dresses with matching shoes and Dior bows. They carried colonial bouquets of pink poinsettias.

Charles Whiteman of Cortez, Colo., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were James Raymond Pitts Jr. of Houston, brother of the bride; Jerry Kelley and Capt. Neil Sorenson, both of Big Spring. Ushers were Edward Smith, Jack Smith and Joe Downs, all of Dallas; Joseph Dawes, Big Spring; and Dale Noah, Nacogdoches.

Stephanie Pitts and Leslie Pitts, both of Houston, served as flower girls.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to a ski resort at Vail, Colo., and will be at home at 3934 Englewood Circle, Odessa.

MRS. JOHN THOMAS WHITEMAN

The bride majored in elementary education at North Texas State University, Denton, where she was an honor graduate, a member of the Student National Education Association, the Association for Childhood Education, Kappa Delta Pi Education Honor fraternity, National Education Association, Texas State Teacher's Association and the Classroom Teachers Association.

The bridegroom has a BS degree in Mechanical Engineering from Texas Tech, Lubbock, and is presently employed as an engineer for Halliburton Company.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in Flinn Hall at the church. Those in the receiving line were the bridal couple, parents and feminine attendants.

Those serving at the bride's table, which held a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple, were Miss Katherine Jagoe, Miss Marsha Key and Mrs. Jerry Tobias, the latter of Dallas. Presiding at the bridegroom's table were Mrs. Michael Badgett, Dallas; and Mrs. Neil Sorenson and Miss Jo Ann Morris, both of Big Spring.

Mrs. Gary Hayes of Slidell was in charge of the guest register.

Out-of-town guests were from Houston, Big Spring, Tyler, Cortez, Colo.; Dallas, Waxahachie, Hubbard and Overton.

This is the face cream guaranteed to help you look younger in 30 days...or your money back.

ULTRA FEMININE is the only hormone face cream formulated with Estrogen and Progesterone. These are the natural female hormones that your body produces in ever-diminishing quantities as you grow older.

A BEAUTY COMEBACK!

When Helena Rubinstein's medically tested Ultra Feminine supplies these hormones to a mature skin, skin cells can hold maximum moisture. Oil glands produce at a more youthful rate.

This simply means that lines and wrinkles due to moisture loss are reduced. The skin is soft and dewy, and a younger look may be attained.

MRS. RICHARD B. IRONS

Miss Sue Crownover Weds Richard Irons

Miss Catherine Sue Crownover became the bride of Richard Beason Irons during a double ring ceremony held Saturday evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church at San Angelo.

Dr. Gordon Clinard was the officiating minister, and the nuptial rites were performed before an altar graced with baskets of white gladioli interspersed with greenery. Branched candelabra holding white tapers completed the altar setting.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crownover Jr. of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons of Big Spring.

A prelude of organ selections was presented by Mrs. H. J. McLaughlin who accompanied Mrs. Edwin Irons of Tyler as she sang "More" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a long-sleeved cage styled Chantilly lace gown over a sleeveless satin sheath. The satin train was attached with a pearl-edged bow, and pearls also enhanced the sleeves and semi-cowl neckline. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses backed with tulle and tied with picot streamers.

Miss Sherri Susan was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Speiker of Ozona, Miss Jody McClung, Miss Betty Jo Barrette of Sterling City, and Miss Lois Ann Crownover and Miss Georgia Lee Crownover, sisters of the bride. Their hot pink floor-length gowns were worn with briefly - veiled pill boxes and their bouquets were in shades of pink.

Jack Ed Irons of Dallas was his brother's best man, and groomsmen were Coye Conner of Waco, Terry Isbell of College Station, Handley Driver of Sterling City and Mike Irons of Big Spring, the bridegroom's brother.

Ushers were Terry McDaniel of Big Spring, Bobby Meason and Jim Grissen.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the church and was joined by the parents and feminine honor attendants in receiving guests.

The bride's table was covered with white satin overlaid with flounced net. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting. Ecru linen covered the bridegroom's table which featured copper appointments. The white, three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with bells and doves.

Miss Judy Sykes and Miss Jana Weston of Odessa presided at the register, and other members of the house party were Mrs. Bobby Meason, Mrs. Jack Ed Irons of Dallas, Mrs. Eddy Wolski, Miss Gail McDaniel, Miss Nelwyn King of Sterling City, Mrs. R. L. Scott and Miss Debbie Wilden.

WEDDING TRIP

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, Mrs. Irons wore a winter white suit with black accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. Upon returning, the couple will reside at 2016 Lincoln, San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Irons are students at Angelo State College. She is a graduate of San Angelo High School and he was graduated from Big Spring Senior High School. Also, Irons attended Southern Methodist University and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, 1308 Sheppard Lane, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Malissa, to Airman 1.C. Richard Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Moore of Brooklyn, N. Y. The couple plans a late January wedding.

Fractures Hip

Mrs. F. C. Gambill, 1011 Howell, is a patient in the Sam Houston Hospital in Houston where she is expected to remain for possibly two weeks. Mrs. Gambill fell on ice and fractured her hip.

Wedding Anniversary Observed By Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker, Sterling City Route, were honored with a dinner party in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary Thursday evening at Coker's Restaurant.

Hosts for the event were the couple's daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Marco Westmoreland of Waco. Also assisting were Mrs. Parker's sister, Mrs. M. M. Fairchild and her mother, Mrs. P. P. Armstrong.

Gifts were presented to the honored couple.

They were married Dec. 28, 1942, in Westbrook, and he is employed as a pipe line gauger for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. She is the owner and manager of Nell's Beauty Salon.

Members of the immediate family attended.

Armstrong Home Scene Of Reunion

Holiday guests in the home of Mrs. Ada Armstrong, 207 E. 19th, were Mrs. B. L. Palmer and Jack, Mrs. Vance Armstrong and Tommy, and Mrs. Velma Armstrong and Rita, all of Jal, N. M.; Mrs. Cecil Mescimens, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Witt Hines, Ralph Hines and daughters, Doris and Janie, all of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hart, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Myron Fairchild, Forsan; Miss Teresa Digby and Miss Dana Lynn Digby, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker and Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard, all of Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. Marco Westmoreland of Waco.

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Woodard, Gail Route, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirlan Elaine, to S. F. Turner Jr. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Turner Sr., Rochester, Tex. The couple plans to marry Jan. 25 in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

You Will Be Seeing A Lot Of These

Increased postage rates require new stamps. Shown above are enlarged reproductions of the six cent first class letter stamp; the six cent stamped envelope; and the new 10 cent air mail stamp.

Cost Of Mailing Going Up Jan. 6

By SAM BLACKBURN

You have just one more week to mail first class letters for five cents postage.

Effective after Jan. 6, the postage on first class mail jumps from 5 to 6 cents. Airmail rates increase from 8 to 10 cents an ounce. And even the postal card (which oldtimers will remember once needed but a penny stamp to go its way), will now require five cents postage.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said that the new rates require new stamps for the mail and that the post office department has come out with the official list.

The six-cent stamp, which will be most in use, will portray Franklin Delano Roosevelt. It is not really a new issue—it just happens that in the past the demand for six cents stamps has not been sufficiently wide for the public to become familiar with this stamp.

Just as Lincoln replaced George Washington some years ago on the commonest stamp, FDR now shoves Abe into the discard circle.

However, Hardesty feels the familiar purple fives will be in evidence for a considerable time—supplemented with a one cent stamp to pay the tariff on a letter.

Lots of the five cent stamps already on hand in homes and offices will be used up before new supplies or sixes will be acquired.

The post office here expects a brisk demand for one cent stamps starting this weekend.

The increase in airmail rates to a dime an ounce has also necessitated the need for a new stamp. While these were not on hand at the office early this week, the post office expects an ample supply in time for the hike in rates.

Five cents postal cards will also be on hand.

The new rates replace those which were adopted Jan. 7, 1963. On that date, the old four cent first class mail rate was dropped in the ash can and it began costing you a nickel to mail a letter. Airmail increased on that date from seven to eight cents and postcards jumped to four cents.

Ira Kapenstein, then special assistant to the Postmaster General, writing in the Americana Annual of 1964, said:

"New postal rates went into effect Jan. 7, 1963 . . . Second and third class rates will gradually increase until Jan. 7, 1965, after which revenue deficiencies are expected to fall below four per cent of costs."

Something must have gone wrong . . .

Anyway, there's no use of running down and buying up a lot of the five cent stamps under the impression you'll be saving yourself money. After Jan. 7, you'll have to stick a one cent stamp with each five cent copy to send that letter.

Hardesty, meantime, says that even at the new higher rates mailing a letter is one of the biggest bargains available to Americans.

He points out there have been times when it really cost a fellow to be a pen pal.

In the late 1700's for instance, it cost 25 cents to send a letter 450 miles and there was an additional delivery charge at the receiving end.

About a hundred years ago, the postmaster points out, the first class mail rate was 10 cents for a long distance mailing. In 1920, transcontinental airmail cost 20 cents.

"Today," Hardesty proclaims, "with about one minute's labor, you can earn enough to purchase a first class ticket for your personal message . . . a stamp that serves as a first class ticket to any city in the United States . . . to Mexico or Canada or to any GI stationed anywhere overseas. Postal service is a big bargain even with the new rates."

Show Season For Clubbers Starts Monday

Ten Howard County Hereford steers and two Hereford heifers, fed by 4-H Club members, are to be in the competition at the Odessa Fat Stock show which opens Monday.

The Howard County 4-H Club delegation left Saturday for Odessa. Their animals will be judged next Thursday and the sale will be a feature Friday.

James Shelton, assistant county agent and the exhibitors spent Friday and Saturday at the county fair barns getting the stock ready for the trip.

Paul Gross, county agent, will join Shelton at Odessa. They will remain until after the sale.

The 10 steers to be entered are being shown by Robert Haney, one steer, Mike McLain, two steers, Linda Foster, Mark Barr, Maxwell Barr, and Marty Brooks, one each, and Dolores Lankford, two steers.

Terrye and Toby Soechting are to enter two Hereford heifers in the show.

The second stock show in which the local club members are to compete will be the one in Abilene which will open on Jan. 21. From there, some of the animals will go on to Fort Worth to the Fat Stock Show in that city and others to El Paso. From that date on until the end of March the club members will be in shows almost continuously.

Employes Share Giant Estate

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Leonard A. Garnett opened a service station in 1928.

His will, filed for probate recently, provides for a division of an estate, which attorneys say may exceed $4 million, between his widow, Helen Garnett, and 24 employes.

Garnett died Nov. 8, 1966. He had established and was principal stockholder in six automotive parts companies and had other real and personal property.

The will provides that 24 employes will annually receive between $3,000 and $4,000 until they die or change jobs.

Helen Garnett said, "He felt a responsibility to help them after his death because they had been so faithful."

Profs Recording 'Beer' Symphony

SEATTLE (AP) — Three music professors from UCLA were here Thursday working on what could come to be known as the "Beer Barrel Symphony."

Profs. Alden Ashforth, Paul Chihara and Douglas Leed spent the day recording sounds at a brewery. They said they were gathering sounds for a composition under auspices of New Dimensions in Music, a Seattle group.

Chihara said the new music is not an attempt "to make music out of noise," but to show that sometimes there is music in what is thought to be noise.

IN MEMORIAM

During the past year, many people in Big Spring and surrounding area sought to memorialize departed friends in a lasting and living way by making memorial gifts to the Y.M.C.A.

These have been applied to the building fund so that the memorials will endure and at the same time shelter the program that will touch the lives of boys and girls, young men and women for good.

The Y.M.C.A. gratefully acknowledges memorials to these, several of whom were remembered in a number of gifts.

A Devotional For The Day

By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place which he was to receive as an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing where he was to go. Hebrews 11:8, RSV)

PRAYER: Give us the faith, O Father, which puts all its trust in Your power. Give us a vision of what can be done when we commit ourselves in faith to the way of Christ. Make us Christian adventurers willing to take any risk because we know Christ is with us. In His name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Outlook–Good

Predictions are hazardous in almost any field, but when it comes to something as broad as community economy and activities, they are even more perilous. But for many years we have ventured a prediction, thus 1968, in our view, promises to be better than the past year.

IN SOME RESPECTS, particularly in business volume, 1967 did not live up to its premise. We did not think it would be as good a year as 1966, but felt that it had the potential to produce some surprises. It did not live up to these potentials. Instead, it became a time for moderate to stern adjustments; these may not be over yet.

However, there are some bright spots which indicate 1968 will be a better year.

CONSTRUCTION should at least hold its own. It could even improve. On jobs now underway and which will be completed during the new year, more than a million dollars of work remains to be done. On projects which are to be started, another million dollars of work is in prospect. Appropriations have been made for over two million dollars of building at Webb, and this could materially affect the picture. Commercial building (including a major shopping center) plans to be fairly steady to strong. The big question mark continues to be residential construction, which has come almost to a standstill.

PETROLEUM activity promises to continue at least at as good a pace as during the past year, perhaps even better. A few discoveries have brought promise of more drilling, and the demand for area crude oil is almost beyond the supply.

The big thing on the industrial front will be start of construction on Cosden Oil & Chemical Company's $7,585,000 thermal cracking and asphalt reduction unit. Operations at Cabot and Richardson carbon black plants and at W. R. Grace & Co. ammonia facility are due to continue near capacity. Gamco promises to be busy. No new industrial activity on a major scale is in sight at the moment.

AGRICULTURALLY, the outlook should be slightly better, purely because of the law of averages. Anything like a normal weather year will produce a substantially better crop than the 10,000-bale failure we had in 1967. Feed yields should be better, too, although lack of moisture reserve is a problem. There is a new and serious problem, too, in the appearance of boll weevils in damaging intensity for the first time. The county has a real fight on its hands.

Highway building should reach the greatest peak in several years. About half of the $1,113,320 FM 700 southwest loop remains to be done. The state has earmarked $1,100,000 for adding two lanes on FM 700 east from Goliad to IS 20. Another $1,300,000 is set up for resurfacing IS 20 east to the county line. A $592,071 contract has been let for resurfacing IS 20 west from Big Spring. Another $409,000 is set up to widen US 87 from the city limits south to Hearn Street. Howard County also has several miles of permanent road building in the mill.

THE CITY OF BIG Spring has the last of its Master Plan construction—$435,945—coming up in 1968. HCJC might have a three-quarter vocational-technical building coming up, although this may be a year away. Coahoma has $123,000 in improvements starting. Big Spring schools have no substantial construction. But the educational system as a whole will continue as a major economic factor.

UNDER THE impetus of the HemisFair, tourism will increase sharply during the year. Hospitals also will contribute substantially to the community economy. Business, which has experienced much of the adjustment, should hold an even keel. Whether there will be any alteration on the transportation scene in view of the airport bond failure remains to be seen. Webb AFB, which has a reduction in force of some 200 individuals with closing of the 4760th CCTS, will contribute about as much net payroll, thanks to increased pay scales. The Colorado River Municipal Water District has over $10,000,000 in contracts to award.

Put all of these, and many others, together and it adds up to promise of a pretty good year.

David Lawrence

Not Just 'Anybody' Can Beat LBJ

WASHINGTON — Are the aspirants for the presidential nominations in 1968 getting into the contest too soon, and who are they really trying to convince nearly six months before all the delegates to the national conventions are actually chosen?

Asking such questions can lead to the assumption that something different is happening this time when, as a matter of fact, it's the same old game but with different players.

FOR, UNFORTUNATELY, the United States hasn't modified its method of choosing a party nominee. It is still a most undemocratic process. A few states have primaries, but even these do not always bind the delegates to the conventions to vote for the individual who has won the primary election except on a few of the initial roll calls. The nominees, therefore, are selected by a small group of political leaders or bosses or managers of state delegations who listen carefully to the advice of some of the persons who have made substantial contributions of money.

BUT WHAT DOES public opinion have to do with it all? Plenty — for the same persons who are politically influential behind the scenes are trying to figure out just which candidate either has popular favor already or is likely to obtain it once the election campaign begins.

Basically the search is for a presidential candidate who seems to have the best chance of winning in November. He has to be a candidate who understands public opinion trends and knows how to deal with them in his speeches. Thus, in 1964, the Republican nominee spoke realistically from a military standpoint when he advocated "escalation" of the Vietnam war. But, politically speaking, he made a mistake at the time because he didn't come up with a formula that promised an early peace.

IN A NATIONAL campaign, the peace side of the argument is the more powerful, even though it may prove fruitless. In 1916, for instance, the Democrats had as their campaign slogan the boast that President Wilson had "kept us out of war." It so happened that five months after the election the United States entered World War I. Likewise, in 1940, President Roosevelt gave the voters an impression that America would stay out of World War II and he won on that issue, but within thirteen months subsequent to the election this country had entered the war.

IN THE 1952 contest, after General Eisenhower won the nomination, he announced that he would "go to Korea." All the Republican campaign speakers emphasized this as a way to end the war there. The maneuver helped elect the Eisenhower - Nixon ticket.

Obviously, if there is no important change in the war situation by November next, a Republican has a good chance of winning, but it isn't so certain that just any Republican can be victorious. The theory that the Republicans can win with even a weak candidate has been widespread because many voters are expressing their attitudes by stickers lately seen on autos — "ABJ for President — anybody but Johnson."

IN THE MIDDLE of a war, however, with a great deal at stake, the independent voters are the decisive influence. Lots of them already are saying, "as between some of the inexperienced Republicans they're talking about and keeping Johnson, maybe it is better not to 'switch horses in midstream.'"

Billy Graham

New Year's Eve seems to be a time for revelry and drunkenness with most people. As a Christian, what is the proper way to celebrate New Year's Eve? R.A.

Like Christmas, New Year's Eve, for many has become a time of living it up and revelry. Moderns, instead of starting the new year right, seem to start it all wrong with headaches and hangovers.

But Christians find the beginning of the new year a good time for taking spiritual inventory and for making new and high spiritual resolves. Many churches have "Watch Night," in contrast to the revelry of the world. The Watch Night service begins about 8 p.m. on New Year's Eve. A leader is appointed for each hour leading up to midnight. Gospel songs are sung, prayers are said, and Scriptures are read. Each person is asked to appraise his past, to repent of his sins, and seek God's guidance for new strength for the New Year. I have attended these Watch Night services and it seems to me the ideal way for Christians to celebrate the start of the New Year. I have always come away from these refreshed and challenged.

With things as they are in the world we live in, it seems to me that we could profit more by being with our friends and families, and reflecting upon what we can do to improve the lot of the poor, the starving, and the war-weary peoples of the world — rather than spending this significant time of the year in selfish pleasure.

Prosperity Predicted, Inflation Eyed

NEW YORK (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board tightened the screws on bank credit this past week in a move to combat inflation and improve the U.S. balance of payments.

The action was in the form of an increase in the amount of reserves banks must maintain on checking accounts.

The result will be that the capacity of about 2,000 banks to lend money will be reduced by $550 million.

Some bankers viewed the board's order as timely, modest and appropriate. Others thought the same objectives could be accomplished differently. And some interpreted the move as pressure on the administration and Congress to raise taxes and cut spending.

The board boosted the reserve requirements of large banks to 17 per cent from 16.5 per cent and of small banks to 12.5 from 12 per cent.

ANTI-INFLATION

"The action was taken," the board said, "in furtherance of the Federal Reserve's objectives of fostering financial conditions conducive to resistance of inflationary pressures and progress toward equilibrium in the U.S. balance of international payments."

Rudolph A. Peterson, president of the Bank of America in San Francisco, the country's largest bank, commented:

"The major significance of the Federal Reserve's action is a clear and unmistakable signal to the United States and the world of a tightening of monetary policy.

"In an economic sense the Federal Reserve could have accomplished the same ends through its normal money market operations. However, this method wouldn't have had the dramatic signal effect of a change in reserve requirements."

TIGHTER POLICY

Paul Volcker, a vice president of Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, said the board's action was "an indication of tightening monetary policy; it underscores the need for fiscal restrain and a reduction of federal spending as a prerequisite to a federal tax increase."

In a look at the economic prospects for 1968, Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge predicted a "new wave of prosperity." He envisioned significant gains in employment, income, profits and purchasing power.

A private economist, Gerhard Colm of the National Planning Association, predicted the gross national product would reach $844.5 billion in 1968.

REAL GROWTH

"Taking into account an assumed price rise of about 3.5 per cent for 1968, compared with about 3 per cent in 1967, the real growth rate will be about 4 per cent in 1968," he said.

The Commerce Department reported that the U.S. trade surplus widened in November with a sharp increase in exports more than offsetting a rise in imports.

CAUTIOUS OPTIMISM

- FED raises deposit reserves to head off inflation
- Tighter money policy linked with taxes and less spending
- National Planning Association foresees prosperity
- GNP of $844.5 is forecast for coming year
- Exports increase, trade surplus is widened

MARKET'S BIGGEST DAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange wound up 1967 with the second biggest trading day in its history.

Volume spurted to 14.95 million shares Friday. This was topped only by the 16.41 million shares traded Oct. 29, 1929, the day of the historic market crash.

At the peak of the selling surge the New York exchange's ticker tape lagged by 17 minutes in reporting floor transactions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 7.28 points to 905.11, topping 900 for the first time since last Oct. 29.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 2.2 points to 322.3.

The advance capped a week-long traditional yearend rally.

A record number of issues were traded on the New York exchange for the third straight day. Of 1,546 issues traded, 822 advanced and 532 declined.

Transplanted Cornea And How It Helps

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate any information on a "cornea transplant." — Mrs. E.F.L.

The cornea is the outer covering of the eyeball. When, because of scarring or injury, light is distorted or impeded in passing through the cornea and then the pupil of the eye, eyesight is impaired, or the person may become for all practical purposes, blind.

Assuming the rest of the eye is still in healthy condition, the damaged cornea can be removed and replaced with the cornea from another eye. This is a corneal transplant, and many people have had their sight restored by that method.

These replacement corneas are obtained from people who have died, leaving instructions that their eyes be given to an eye bank.

The operation can be done very successfully, but the problem is to get enough eyes from which the corneas can be taken. Thus it is quite common for a person waiting for the operation to be told to be ready to go to the hospital immediately as soon as a donor eye is available.

Donor eyes must be removed as quickly after death as possible, and the refrigerated eyes often are flown considerable distances, as the transplanting should be done with as little delay as can be arranged. Only the cornea is used; the entire eye is not and cannot be transplanted.

Dear Dr. Molner: Years ago when I was in school I heard that if you drank a raw egg mixed in some liquid, it would cure a cold. Is this true? Do you happen to know what liquid?

I also heard recently on television that the first cold in a submarine will result in no more colds after that. Also that after the first cold at the North Pole, a person will have no more colds. Is either statement true?—Mrs. R. J.

The thing about the raw egg is utter fancy, so forget it.

The other two statements are true, within limits.

The point is that we catch cold from encountering various cold viruses. Having the cold confers a temporary immunity to that particular type of cold—but we can catch a different cold from some other virus.

Whether it's in a submarine or at the North Pole, or in the middle of a desert or deep in a jungle, if a group of people are isolated, they can catch colds depending on what viruses are present in the group. Once they have had the colds and developed immunity, they are safe from more colds until in some way new cold viruses are brought in.

This has happened repeatedly among men at remote Arctic stations. First they have colds. Then, no matter what the temperature, no more colds until a mail or supply party arrives—bringing some new varieties of cold viruses. Then another round of colds.

Dear Dr. Molner: Two years ago I spent five weeks in the hospital with high blood pressure, a heart condition and perhaps a slight stroke. I am 70.

The doctor remarked that my head was worse than my heart. Lately I find myself dropping off to sleep, while reading, without a minute's notice. Am I experiencing slight strokes? — J.F.M.

I doubt that you are having little strokes. Nothing you say indicates it. Increasing sleepiness is not unusual in some older folks.

The circulation to the brain may not be as brisk as it used to be, because of arteriosclerosis. I infer that this is what your doctor meant by your "head being worse than your heart."

Mention this tendency to sleep to him—and he may prescribe medication to overcome it.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Molner's booklet, "Your Kidneys—Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

To Those Who Labor For Love

This may not have been the most scintillating year Big Spring ever had. A short crop hit farmers below the belt and others suffered with them. We lost a lot of good people in the closing of the Air Defense Squadron at the Base. There wasn't a lot of new-born income, and some efforts to help improve our community did not come to fruit.

BUT THERE are many, many people who serve their home town, day in and day out, come sunshine or darkness. And it is to these that this corner — on the last day of 1967 — wants to express its thanks for services rendered above and beyond the call of duty.

This year-end piece has become a sort of ritual, largely because a great many of the top civic service volunteers do their work without other recognition.

Of course all the people who strove to make Big Spring a little better place are too numerous to mention by name, but there really ought to be a roll call.

COMING TO MIND are the hours of service given by people who assume public office without compensation. Great responsibilities are thrust upon them — those who serve on the City Commission, the school and college boards, the water district directorate. They have to make broad decisions which certainly are not always pleasing to everybody. Their reward for doing their job too frequently is criticism instead of praise.

And there are many people who labor in other vineyards of community betterment. This year there were a few fine men and women who struggled against great handicaps to do a tremendous job with the United Fund. Here again, their recognition is small.

ALONG WITH them are the numerous good citizens who give of their own time, talent and leadership to bring along another generation: Those who work with the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, with the YMCA, at the Rehabilitation Center, in Little League programs and many other related activities.

These are people not content to do the customary day's work, then shut out the crying needs of a progressive community. How would the town be faring without them? It's difficult to imagine.

A GREAT-HEARTED group — and it is a large one — includes those who give of time and service at our hospitals. They have contributed so much to people who need their contribution, and they have built a brighter year for it.

I write today largely of the over-all civic programs that give a town some personality, some heart. Religious activities are more personal, but one would not want to overlook at any time the dedication exemplified by hundreds who labor in the church schools, giving instruction and setting examples for a more humanitarian, a more loving world.

THE PEOPLE who play good neighbor, those who lend the helping hand, those who stand ready when a call to service comes — all these are the good citizens who help convert a cold city into a warm town.

Not all can be listed here, but you know many of them. How appropriate it would be, as we enter upon another New Year, to call them and say "we appreciate you."

Peace With Honor

(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON — The new year portends a rising and not a falling in American military resistance in Vietnam, accompanied by a hardening American public support for the war.

All objective soundings, including the polls, in the afterlight of President Johnson's urgent world trip over the holiday season, now indicate that domestic peacenik pressure upon the Administration as to the sheer merits of the action has reached its crest and is falling. The whole history of Vietnam, however, shows that one problem with the home-front softliners is hardly solved before another is raised in its stead.

THE NEW ONE now rising is easily identified. While the strategic justification — indeed the utter necessity in simple honor — of continued American faithfulness to the commitment to the invaded people of South Vietnam and against Communist military expansionism in Southeast Asia is no longer under significant challenge, the peaceniks have found another string to their bow. This is a vague and emotionalized charge that well, anyhow, the conduct of the war from the Allied side — but never from the side of the aggressors — is somehow "immoral." This accusation is at the core of the rump Presidential candidacy of the new leader of the softliners, Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

THIS PROPAGANDA, exploiting as it does the humane instincts of Americans, is undoubtedly having some effect. It is always easier to speak for "peace" than war, even though it is the Communist invaders and not the defenders who are manifestly rejecting peace and making more war unavoidable.

It was a recognition of this sad reality that most of all motivated President Johnson's call on the Pope. The Pope, it will be recalled, had again asked the United States to suspend bombing in North Vietnam, though simultaneously urging the Communists to show, for once, some possible readiness to reciprocate.

THE PRESIDENT put three propositions before the Pope. The first was a painstaking and factual recital, by chapter and verse, of a simple truth, five times demonstrated in five previous bombing suspensions. This truth is that more men are killed when air cover is withheld than when it is not. For the Communists invariably take advantage of any interruption of American air action to move up more and more troops and more and more guns against the Allied forces.

THE PRESIDENT'S second point to His Holiness was that the Communists have persistently violated, to a degree never before seen in this century, the elementary restraints of the Geneva Convention on warfare. They have even refused the universally accepted right of prisoners of war to receive letters from home. Just before his visit to the Pope, the President had spent the night in the trailer of an American fighter group commander, Col. Neil Graham, and had learned that the unit's two previous commanding officers had been taken prisoner within a space of months.

The President's purpose here was to urge the Pope to intercede with the Communists for at least the irreducible decencies toward captured men.

FINALLY, OF COURSE, the President sought the Pope's general ideas on some possible approach to peace with honor.

No man in the world speaks with greater authority on moral issues; and it was to this unique moral headship that the President, in the end, directed his whole appeal. This was the real and central meaning of the visit to the Vatican.

The Real Forecast For 1968

WASHINGTON — It is not too early to make a report on the economy for 1968. We are grateful to Prof. Heinrich Applebaum of the Grim Economic Institute for providing us with the information that could be of such great value to all Americans.

"Professor, how do you see 1968, economically speaking, that is?"

"I see it as another great gun-and-butter year, with possibly the thrust a little more toward guns than butter."

"Is this bad?"

"WELL, IN A gun-and-butter economy, you always like to have an even balance between the two, but it's hard to maintain, particularly in a society that consumes so much oleomargarine."

"What can we expect if the pendulum swings in that direction?"

"An inflationary spiral followed by a wage and price merry-go-round which will eventually lead to a roller coaster ride ending on a Ferris wheel cycle of high interest rates."

"Would this stem the tide?" I asked.

"IT DEPENDS on how many ripples you have in the waves of the economy. Some unemployment may wash over the sands of counter-production, but it's the undertow that we have to worry about."

"Could the body of our economy be hurt?"

"I think it may become bruised and sprained, but I don't see any fractures or contusions. Of course, I'm not a doctor."

"Do you see growth in the gross national product?"

"THERE COULD BE growth, depending on what kind of fertilizer the Administration uses. We have to cultivate production, but at the same time we have to get at the weeds of inflation. This can be done by either spraying the economy with new investment, or cutting off the water to the American dollar."

"But doesn't this put pressure on the system?"

"The system can probably stand a certain amount of pressure, providing the input is not greater than the output. The problem here, of course, is heat. We can't let the economy overheat, yet if it cools off for a period of time, it might be difficult to start stoking up the fires again. I think here we have to think in terms of durable goods, if we think of anything at all."

"PROF. APPLEBAUM, is there any possibility of cushioning the economy without falling off the precipice?"

"It depends on how soft the economy gets. I don't think the government can sit on business, even though it doesn't hurt to give it a kick once in a while."

"Then from what you say, if spending continues unabated, all signs lead to another spiral which, in turn, could lead to the absence of economic euphoria and possibly an upward thrust with some strain, but not necessarily a clean break with the patterns of 1967."

Prof. Applebaum said, "Are you a wise guy, or something?"

"No sir. I was trying to get this all in perspective."

Top Story Of 1967 Was Vietnam War And Protests

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Vietnam war, and attendant controversy and protest in the United States, has been voted the top news story of 1967 by AP member newspapers and radio and TV stations.

Other big stories of the year and the way they were ranked: 2. Arab-Israel war, 3. Negro riots in Newark, Detroit, etc., 4. Three astronauts burned to death in Apollo test, 5. LBJ-Kosygin meet in Glassboro, N.J., 6. Britain devalues pound, 7. Congress votes not to seat Adam Clayton Powell, 8. Svetlana Alliluyeva defects, 9. Red Guards rampage in China, 10. Election in Vietnam.

The Top 10 Stories were compiled before Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that he is resigning his Cabinet post and becoming president of the World Bank.

Increased bombing of North Vietnam to halt the flow of men and supplies to the south began in August. Targets were bridges, shipyards and port cities which had previously not been hit because of the danger of hitting Communist bloc ships and widening the conflict.

In three weeks in November, Hill 875 became the costliest objective in the battle of Dak To, the bloodiest battle of the war. When Hill 875 was secured at noon on Thanksgiving, Dak To had claimed the lives of 273 Americans, 32 South Vietnamese, a toll exceeding that of the fight for the Ia Drang Valley in 1965. At the end of November the number of Americans killed in Vietnam fighting since January, 1961, was 15,058.

In the Senate, hawks debated doves over U.S. policy in Vietnam, with administration critics Sen. J. William Fulbright and Sen. Albert Gore, who called the war a quagmire, speaking loud and often. In August, 52 House members proposed a resolution calling for congressional re-examination of U.S. war policy.

Antiwar demonstrations during the year spread across the country on college campuses, at induction centers, near the White House and Pentagon and wherever administration officials were speaking. There was some draft card burning, violence, many arrests. In April, war protest rallies in San Francisco and New York drew 180,000 demonstrators. In October some 35,000 attempted to storm the Pentagon and were turned back by soldiers and U.S. marshals who arrested 683.

The six-day Arab-Israel war, a smashing victory for the Jews, was voted No. 2 story of the year. President Gamal Abdel Nasser announced a United Arab Republic blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only seaport outlet to the south and east. Arab troops massed in the Sinai Desert and on the Jordanian and Syrian borders. On June 5, Israeli planes struck Egypt's airfields, destroying nearly two-thirds of the 400 combat craft on the ground and deciding the war's outcome in the first few hours.

Peace settlement proposals were made in the U.N. but no concrete action was taken there until late in November when the Swedish ambassador to Moscow was sent as the Security Council's representative to the Middle East.

There was sporadic gunfire across the Suez Canal after the cease-fire and in October the Israeli destroyer Elath was sunk near Port Said. Three days later Israeli guns destroyed 80 per cent of Egypt's oil refining capacity.

The bloodiest week in the history of U.S. race riots, in July, found violence in more than 40 cities. Since Jan. 1 there had been violence in at least 68 cities. The pattern was repeated: mobs smashing windows, throwing rocks, looting stores, burning buildings, shooting. Police and National Guard responded with guns and tear gas to restore order.

In Newark, in mid-July, rioting reached its grimmest toll since the Watts riot in 1965. Twenty-six died, more than 1,200 were injured, 1,316 arrested and more than $15 million in property was damaged. The next week, Detroit, after five days of rioting, had 39 dead, more than 1,000 wounded, 5,000 arrested and property losses of some $200 million. About 1,700 stores were looted and more than 1,300 burned. At top strength, the Army and National Guard in Detroit numbered 11,500.

CORE director Floyd McKissick said the Civil Rights movement was dead and black revolution had taken its place.

The other top stories:

4. Three astronauts died in a flash fire during a test of their Apollo spacecraft Jan. 27 at Cape Kennedy, just 218 feet above the ground. They were Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, one of the original seven astronauts and first man to soar twice into the heavens; Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, first American to walk in space; and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee, awaiting his first flight. They were to have been the first U.S. astronauts on the moon.

They died of asphyxiation within 18 seconds of the first report of fire, probably caused by an electrical malfunction that ignited their all-oxygen atmosphere. Heat and smoke prevented opening of the hatch for five minutes. A $45 million safety overhaul of the Apollo was started after the fire, resulting in a hatch which can be opened in three seconds.

The Apollo program was delayed, the shoot being rescheduled for next July.

5. While Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin was in America for U.N. talks on the Middle East in June, he and President Johnson agreed to meet halfway between New York and Washington. The two world leaders talked at Glassboro, N.J., for five hours and 20 minutes with only interpreters present on June 23, about worsening U.S.-U.S.S.R. relations over Vietnam and the Middle East crisis, and the possibility of limiting the nuclear arms race.

Kosygin had planned to leave the country the next day but stayed for another meeting. Both said the meetings were cordial and useful and they would keep in touch.

6. In November Britain devalued its pound sterling, from $2.80 to $2.40, in an effort to halt the excess of exports that was threatening the stability of her currency. While the move made Britain more competitive in international trade, it caused a money - tightening increase in U.S. interest rates.

7. A select House committee found Adam Clayton Powell guilty of gross misconduct — using public money for private travel and dodging the courts of New York which held him in contempt because he didn't pay a libel judgment. The committee recommended that he be seated as a House member with a stiff censure.

On March 1 the House turned down the recommendation and voted to declare vacant the House seat Powell had held for 22 years. Powell, on the Bahaman island of Bimini, called it a racist attack.

8. Svetlana Alliluyeva, only daughter of the late Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, took the ashes of Brijesh Singh, her third husband, to his native India after his death in October, 1966. While there, she decided to defect. She walked into the American embassy in New Delhi, March 6, was flown to Rome, then Switzerland and finally to the United States, April 21.

She left Russia, she said, because of disenchantment with Communism, a need to worship God and for "self-expression denied me in Russia." She later made the best-seller lists with a book of her family life.

9. Teenage militants, the Red Guards, rampaged around China this year fighting for Mao Tse-tung against his chief antagonists, President Liu Shao-chi and Central Committee General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping.

They plastered the country with posters and leaflets about Mao's cultural revolution, rioted, rallied, paraded, fought with spears, clubs and bricks, chopped off noses and fingers of their foes.

They besieged the Russian embassy and sacked the British chancery in Peking, battled railway workers for control of Hong Kong - Canton lines. They disrupted farm, factory and railway economy so much that Chou En-lai ordered them to stop fighting and go back to high school.

10. The Sept. 3 election in Vietnam was won by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and his running mate, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who had announced his candidacy and later took second spot under pressure from military leaders who favored Lt. Gen. Thieu.

Among claims of dishonesty was one cry from nine civilian candidates involved in a transportation snafu in Dong Ha which they believed was deliberate. U Thant and the U.S. Congress turned down requests to send campaign observers, but President Johnson sent 22 poll watchers, who were among 120 observers from 24 countries.

There was increased Viet Cong terrorism on election eve but about half those registered voted. Observers said the election was more free than fraudulent.

Editors Select Top 10

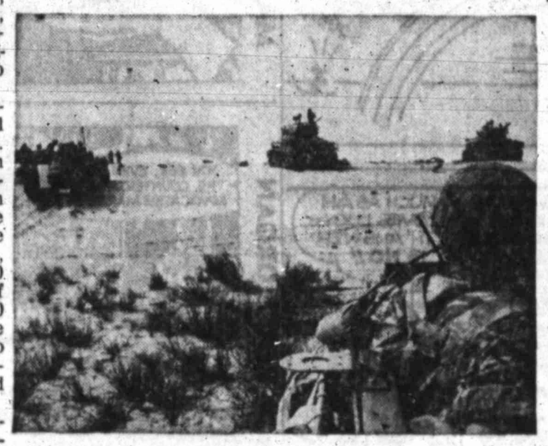

1. Vietnam War and increasing controversy and demonstrations in U.S.
2. Arab-Israel War
3. Negro riots in Newark, Detroit, etc.
4. Three astronauts burned to death in Apollo test
5. LBJ-Kosygin meet in Glassboro, N.J.
6. Britain devalues pound
7. Congress votes not to seat Adam Clayton Powell
8. Svetlana Alliluyeva defects
9. Red Guards rampage in China
10. Election in Vietnam

The Top 10 Stories of the Year and Top 10 Newsmakers of the Year selections are made in strict accordance with ballots returned by editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and TV stations. Editors annually are asked to vote for the news stories of greatest impact and import during the year and to name 10 top news-making personalities. Selections do not necessarily indicate support for policies carried out in stories chosen or support of the actions of persons chosen. They merely identify 1967's top news stories and individuals who made the most news in their respective fields.

In Vietnam

A paratrooper of the 173rd Airborne advancing to the crest of Hill 875 passes the poncho-covered body of a soldier killed in the fight that claimed 178 wounded and 79 dead paratroopers. The U.S. paratroops made four attacks on this hill, captured it Nov. 23.

In Middle East

Israeli armor is seen cautiously approaching the top of a sandy ridge in Sinai, somewhere between the towns of Rarah and El Arish, during the Israeli Army's lightning drive from the Gaza Strip toward the Suez Canal.

In Detroit

Police protect firemen from snipers on the fourth day of violence in Detroit, July 26. Police at right crouch behind their cars with rifles ready; roof-top snipers had been harassing fire fighters in the riot area.

President Johnson Again Named Top Newsmaker Of The Year

Lyndon B. Johnson, for the fourth straight year, has been chosen newsmaker of the year by editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and television stations.

Much of the news the President made concerned the Vietnam war. He reaffirmed the U.S. commitment by stepping up air attacks over North Vietnam, at the advice of generals and a Senate preparedness subcommittee and against the advice of his secretary of Defense. And he sent 45,000 additional troops between the 70,000 asked by commanding Gen. William Westmoreland and 30,000 recommended by Robert McNamara.

He sent messages to North Vietnam president Ho Chi Minh suggesting peace talks, all of which were rejected. He criticized U.S. peace demonstrators, saying they weren't bringing a Vietnam settlement any closer.

LBJ sent 5,000 federal troops to Detroit, at the request of Gov. George Romney, and went on TV to say that looting and arson were not civil rights and must be ended, as must the conditions that breed despair and violence.

He set up advisory commissions on civil disorders, economic opportunity and crime and sent a panel to Vietnam to observe its election.

Johnson met twice at Glassboro, N. J., with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin. They talked about the Middle East, Vietnam and a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. He went to Guam to talk with Vietnam's leaders, to Punta del Este, Uruguay, for a hemisphere summit, to Germany for Conrad Adenauer's funeral.

At home, he asked for an increase in taxes to reduce the budget deficit and finance the war and a postal hike. He saw the beginning of the first phase of his model cities program.

The 59-year-old President became a grandfather when daughter Luci Nugent gave birth to Patrick Lyndon Nugent in June. He gave his other daughter, Lynda, in marriage to Marine Capt. Charles Robb in a December White House ceremony.

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, hero of Israel's 1956 triumph over Egypt, and now at 52 defense minister, was the editors' choice as foreign newsmaker. He led his country to triumph over the Arabs in a six-day war in June.

Dayan's battle plan for the Arab-Israeli war was to trap the entire Egyptian army, which he did in what has been called a textbook war of blitzkreig.

Dayan opposed giving up territory taken in the war. As Israeli forces occupied the old city of Jerusalem, Dayan said, "We have returned to the holiest of our holy places, never to depart from it again."

After the war, there was talk of the eye patch-wearing Dayan as a potential premier of Israel.

Other newsmakers in The Associated Press poll are: Wernher von Braun, science; William McChesney Martin, business; Walter Reuther, labor; the Rev. James Groppi, religion; Carl Yastrzemski, sports; Frank Sinatra, entertainment; William Manchester, literature, and Svetlana Alliluyeva, woman newsmaker.

As Saturn 5, the 6.2 million-pound, 363-foot-tall booster rocket which will launch men to the moon, made a "dream flight" in November, Wernher von Braun, 55, was looking to the future. He wants the U.S. to put a man on the moon by 1970, to go to planets between 1970 and '85, establish manned space stations and satellites. The Saturn, with two million separate parts, was developed during the past seven years at the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., headed by Von Braun.

In June he received the Smithsonian Institute's coveted Langley Medal. Established 59 years ago, the Langley has been awarded only 12 times.

William McChesney Martin, 61, in his fifth consecutive term as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and a conservative in maintaining the value of the dollar and the value of gold, supported LBJ's proposal for a tax surcharge to fight inflation. He spoke against perpetual federal deficits.

After Britain devalued the pound, Martin advocated the repeal of the requirement that 25 per cent of United States paper money be backed by gold, so that all American gold could be used to defend the dollar and the world monetary system.

United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther's stated goal for 1967 was to abolish the hourly wage system in the auto industry and put everybody on a salary, and he accomplished it. His 1.5 million-member union struck Ford for 45 days, won a revolutionary guaranteed annual income that will provide laid-off workers with 95 per cent of their regular income. Reuther called it the largest package ever negotiated by the UAW with a major industry.

Reuther, 60, resigned as a member of the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO in February. As head of the CIO, he had helped merge with the AFL in 1955.

The Rev. James Groppi, adviser to the Milwaukee NAACP Youth Council, has been providing the city with what he calls "creative tension." For more than three weeks in August, he led nightly marches of 200 to 2,000 Negroes, protesting discrimination in organizations and schools and the city's refusal to enact an open housing law. On Sept. 1 he was arrested for violating the mayor's ban on demonstrations, later was released on bond. The 37-year-old priest told the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders that if nonviolence doesn't work in Milwaukee, he couldn't continue to tell Negroes to use it.

Carl Yastrzemski, 28, led the American League in hitting with .326, in runs batted in with 121 and tied for most home runs with 44. In the final two games of the season, both of which the Boston Red Sox had to win to take the American League pennant (by one game), Boston's successor to left fielder Ted Williams made seven hits in eight trips.

In the World Series, won by the St. Louis Cardinals, Yaz batted .400, hit three home runs and made a number of extraordinary defensive plays. He was the American League's most valuable player and many regarded him as player of the year for slugging, fielding and team leadership.

Frank Sinatra, 52, got two front tooth caps knocked off in a brawl in September after he was refused credit in the Sands Hotel casino in Las Vegas. Sinatra walked out on his singing engagement at the Sands, ending a 16-year affiliation, and signed a contract to appear at competing Caesar's Palace. He testified in a May hotel libel action in Miami Beach that he never met or gambled with members of the Mafia at the Fontainebleau Hotel there.

In August, Mexico lifted the ban it had placed on Sinatra after he filmed "Marriage on the Rocks." In November, Sinatra's 16-month marriage to Mia Farrow, 22, hit the rocks with a "mutually agreed trial separation."

William Manchester, authorized to write about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, wrote "The Death of a President." The manuscript set off a long, publicized, legal haggle, including a suit to protect her privacy by Jacqueline Kennedy, and involving Sen. Robert Kennedy, Manchester, publishers Harper & Row and Look Magazine's syndication rights. The suit was resolved with 1,600 words cut out of the magazine version and 2,000 more out of the book.

Manchester, 45, said he expected to make between $300,000 and $400,000. He thought the Kennedy Library would realize $5 to $10 million in royalties from the book. From its April 7 publication to December, "The Death of a President" had sold almost 600,000 copies.

Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, at 42 became Russia's most prominent defector. In India to take the ashes of her late husband to his homeland, she asked for asylum to find self - expression, to write and to worship. She arrived in the United States April 21, charmed viewers at a press conference and a TV interview.

She has had two of her writings published, a magazine essay and "Twenty Letters to a Friend," a nonpolitical memoir of life with her father, written in 1963. Critics called her a major talent in the Russian lyrical tradition. By December, 115,000 copies of the book had been sold and Miss Alliluyeva (her mother's name) was in seclusion, writing a second book.

Her son, Joseph, 21, and daughter, Yekaterina, 15, remained in Moscow.

POPULAR WINDJAMMERS COME HERE SATURDAY FOR CONCERT
Jerrel Elliott, Clark Walter and Pat Hamilton make music

Windjammers To Make First Concert Appearance Here

The Windjammers, one of the most popular musical attractions in Texas, make their first concert appearance in Big Spring Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Big Spring High School auditorium.

The local concert is being sponsored by the Choir Boosters as a benefit for the schools' choral activities.

Since their formation on the McMurry College campus in Abilene four years ago, the Windjammers have performed for well over two million persons in scores of campus concerts, personal appearances, two consecutive summer stints at Six Flags Over Texas in addition to three state-wide television specials.

The Big Spring show is the new Windjammer concert act which had its Texas debut before a standing-room-only audience in Abilene in October, 1967, and which received rave reviews in Lubbock and Houston in recent weeks. The show includes numbers for all ages.

Included in the new show are numbers spotlighting America's musical eras from the so's-your-old-man days of the flapper and raccoon coat to the right-this-minute urgency of today's most important pop music composers.

The new Windjammer show represents a major expansion for the Windjammers in their instrumentation. Added to the original guitars are the piano, flute, clarinet, trap set, kazoo and jug.

Windjammer Jerrel Elliott of Brownwood is lead guitarist and baritone in the group. He also wings clarinet on several numbers.

Clark Walter of Roswell, N. M., is the tenor vocalist and bassist who has been assigned the jug playing chores. Clark is also responsible for much of the vocal arranging.

Pat Hamilton, the blond one-man orchestra now from Lubbock, will be playing for many friends who knew him when he lived in Big Spring. Besides carrying the middle vocal part, he races about the stage like a character plucked from a Chaplin movie, first to the drum set, then to the piano with stops here and there for a few bars of flute and a rocking tambourine passage.

Pat says that it isn't all fun and games on stage. "The flute is always cold. Ever put a cold flute to your lips?"

His musical sorties off campus have made Pat a well known figure in Abilene music circles. Last year he took a leading role in the Abilene Community Theater production of "South Pacific" which played to packed houses during the entire run. Pat is also king jester in the group.

Before he graduated from Big Spring High School, Pat made a reputation as the lead in two musicals, "Oklahoma," and the "Music Man." He also was a drum major for the band.

Top Stories In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie world underwent violent change during 1967, and it can look forward to more changes in the coming year.

1. Spencer Tracy dies. After years of ill health, he had been in the news with his return to films as co-star once again with Katharine Hepburn.

2. Jayne Mansfield killed. The would-be successor to Marilyn Monroe was no longer in demand for movies, but she had kept her career alive by persistent self-promotion.

3. The sex revolution in films. This was a year-long story, as the traditional moral attitudes were increasingly challenged by movies that dealt frankly with sex. More bare flesh was seen in major films during 1967 than in all previous years of movie history.

4. The Oscars. Always one of Hollywood's biggest news events, the 1966 Academy awards featured a second victory for Elizabeth Taylor, but not for her co-star of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"—Richard Burton. His fellow Britisher, Paul Scofield, won for "A Man for All Seasons," which was also named the best picture.

5. Networks into films. The entrance of CBS and ABC into production of feature movies for theaters was considered by many observers to be the most important industry trend of 1967.

6. Elvis marries. One of America's most famous and wealthy bachelors married Priscilla Beaulieu for the movie-land wedding of the year. And now the singer expects to be a father early next year.

7. Merger of Seven Arts and Warner Brothers. "The Last Tycoon," Jack L. Warner, stepped down as production boss at the studio that bears his name.

8. Sinatras split. Hollywood's No. 1 newsmaker, Frank Sinatra, made the headlines with a surprise separation from his young wife, Mia Farrow.

9. Jennifer Jones' near-fatal plunge down a cliff.

10. Connie Stevens' baby. The birth of a daughter to the blonde actress coincided with the announcement that she had been secretly wed to the child's father, Eddie Fisher.

'COOL HAND LUKE'
Paul Newman in lead role

Chain-Gang Film To Open At Ritz

"Cool Hand Luke," filmed in Panavision and Technicolor, is the explosive story of a Southern chain-gang, and a prisoner who rebels against his jailors and any system that seeks to limit his personal freedom. Paul Newman stars as Luke in the drama opening today at the Ritz Theater. Jo Van Fleet, George Kennedy, J. D. Cannon, Lou Antonio, Robert Drivas and Strother Martin co-star.

A Southern prison camp was built just north of Stockton, Calif., for "Cool Hand Luke." Included among the dozen buildings were a barracks, mess hall, warden's quarters, guard shacks and dog kennels. The camp, over several acres, was surrounded by chain-link fencing. Dozens of oak trees on the camps' perimeter were strung with moss, a ton being shipped in from Louisiana.

For the location filming, special arrangements were made with San Joaquin County officials for use of country roads. In one sequence, a mile - long stretch of county highway was blacktopped by the actor-convicts.

Thursday and Friday
CAPRICE, with Doris Day.
Saturday
THE SAVAGE PAMPAS and BUS RILEY'S BACK IN TOWN, with Ann-Margret.

Martin Plays Different Role

Dean Martin was a bit worried about his first-time switch casting as a deep-dyed villain in "Rough Night in Jericho," in which his co-stars are George Peppard and Jean Simmons. Photographed in Technicolor, the story comes tonight to the Jet Theatre.

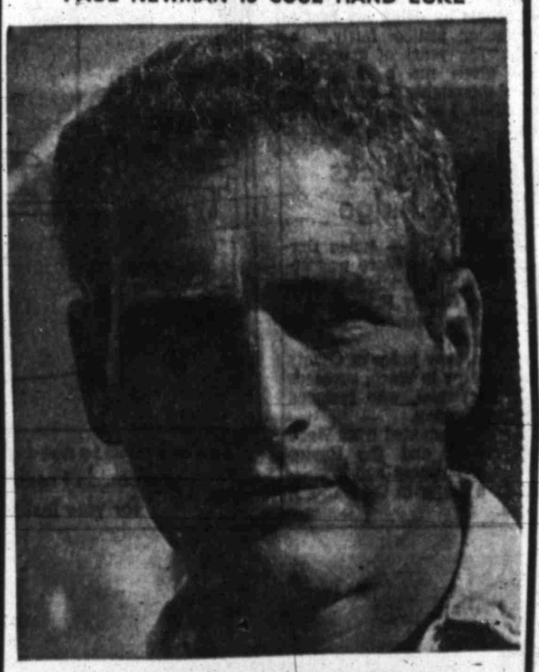

In an abrupt departure from his customary characterizations, he portrays a despotic town boss. When Miss Simmons attempts to thwart him he repeatedly slaps her so hard she reels and falls to the floor.

Twin Bill Horror Films Coming Friday At Ritz

Deep in the Florida Everglades, Seminole Indians still gather around their chickees to speak in hushed whispers about the dreadful legend of the curse of Tartu! Tartu, the Seminole Indian Witch Doctor who lived and died four centuries ago, but whose ghostly curse pervades the murky swamps like the terrible mist!

The full, unspeakable horror of this terrifying legend in "Death Curse of Tartu" in gory Eastman Color and Scope opens on Friday at the Ritz Theatre, together with the co - chiller "Sting of Death."

The horrifying portrayal of the reincarnated witch doctor is brilliantly accomplished by Douglas Hobart, in the tradition of the great monster creations of the cinema. The star declares that his hideous, terrifying characterization of Tartu was due to something more than clever makeup or camera artistry — "It was E.S.P." The image of Tartu was revealed to him in a bizarre, gruesome dream in which a strange compulsion led him to an open grave, still musty with the stench of death about it where he saw the face — his face — as Tartu!

Perhaps the "something extra" in "Death Curse of Tartu" is something inexplicable, something supernatural. The strange happenings on the set have led the cast and crew to wondering.

The unexplored depths of the oceans that cover three-fourths of the earth's surface have through the ages been the source of unfathomable mystery, as strange and unprecedented fauna made their terrifying appearance on land.

Who is to say that the monster described in "Sting of Death," could not by some wild stretch of the imagination come to be?

The weird - looking Sea Physalia, commonly known as the Portuguese Man of War, is an ugly brownish creature with tendrils resembling seaweed reaching out above a balloonlike puff of brilliant colors, in an incongruous combination of beauty and horror. A giant half - man, half - man of war, created by a bizarre experiment of a crazed scientist in his desperate search for a way to correct his own ugly, misshapen face, leads an army of hideous sea - creatures bent on destruction in shocking scenes in this picture.

WALTER GRICE

Grice Seeking Re-Election

Walter Grice announced Saturday that he will be a candidate for another term as justice of peace of Precinct 1, Place 1.

He announced subject to action of the May 4 Democratic primary.

"I appreciate everything that everyone has done not only in making this opportunity of service possible for me but also in cooperating to make the office more effective," said Grice.

"This will be the last time that I will ask for your consideration as a candidate for this responsible place."

He has been a citizen of Howard County for more than 35 years, and thus Grice said he believed most people knew of him and his record. Aside from the cases brought before him, he has had the privilege of performing more than 2,200 weddings, 91 of them during this year. He has married children of some of the couples for whom he solemnized rites of matrimony in his first terms in office.

"I have tried hard to please the people by doing my best to administer justice fairly," he said. "The years of experience have given me a chance to know thoroughly the duties of the office. I will do my best for you."

Connally Picks District Judge

AUSTIN (AP) — Judge Derwood Johnson of Waco was appointed 74th District judge for McLennan County Friday.

Gov. John Connally made the appointment.

Johnson, now judge of County Court at Law in Waco, succeeds D. Y. McDaniel, who resigned effective Sunday.

Johnson graduated from Waco High School and the Baylor schools of business and law.

He is a major in the National Guard.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Tree Appeal Brings Out Lot Of State's Colorful History

By ED SYERS

Preparing a booklet on our historic trees, Texas Forest Service's John A. Haislet of College Station asked your help recently. Already, you've found new ones — at least along this trail. If still standing near Port Lavaca, one perhaps might have been our first Christmas tree. Hear historian Oscar Haas of New Braunfels:

"Could it be possible that some people of Port Lavaca point out the oak tree which Prince Carl of Solms-Braunfels (who would found New Braunfels) had decorated with Christmas candles and presents for the children of the first colonists from Germany?

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

"In his report of Dec. 23, 1844, Prince Solms wrote: 'the settlers who were brought over on the ship John Dethart have encamped two miles from Port Lavaca . . . A small group of live oak trees provides them protection against the storm and also a source of firewood. A fresh water brook is only 100 steps from the camp.'

"Hermann Seele, in his assembled writings, says: 'On Christmas Eve, Prince Carl provided a Christmas festival for which he had an oak decorated with presents and candles. There, the first divine services were conducted by Pastor L. C. Ervendberg, the colony's spiritual adviser. There too, a group of young men were organized into a mounted company . . . for protection . . . to the first settlement in the wilderness."

Historian Haas also marks a great oak that sheltered first mass and shaded the fort that was to become the clean, fine old city under the hills north of San Antonio.

COMANCHE TREES

Still other oaks come from Comanche's historian W. I. Dixon.

"We have the Robinson Oak, a large live oak in the eastern edge of the county under which Choctaw Bill Robinson, a pioneer Baptist minister, stood and preached to both pioneers and Indians, leaning his rifle in the fork of the tree, while he preached.

"Not too far distant is another known as 'The Hanging Tree,' on which three men were hanged at one time, during the mob rule of the 1870's. Rope marks are still visible. Both trees are in the Hazel Dell community.

"Our most famous tree is the 'Fleming Oak' on the Comanche Square." Dixon relates the story of Mart Fleming who, as a boy, had his life saved from the Comanche by hiding within that tree. As an old man, Uncle Mart, as he was known to neighbors who loved his gentleness, found them ready to cut down the oak, clearing for their square. He held a rifle on them and, as the tree had done for him, he saved its life. It stands alone today in the pavement of that square.

BIGGEST CYPRESS

Although Forester Haislet is searching for story, not size of tree, Gladewater's R. A. Herbst contributes what he believes to be the biggest cypress (he'll get some argument) in Texas.

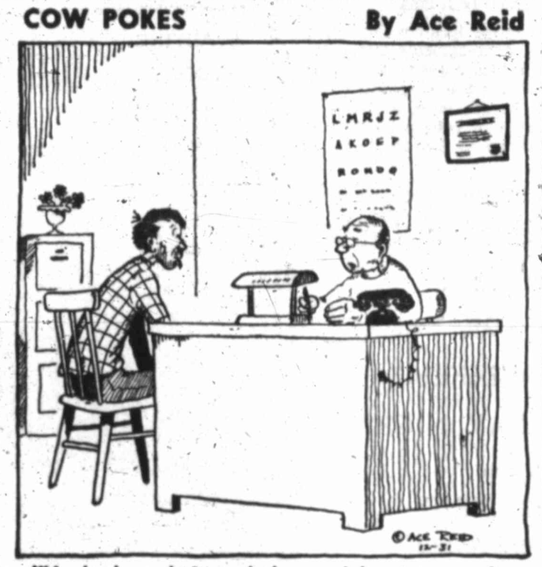

"My brother, who lives at Cypress Mill, a few miles from Round Mountain (Hill Country near Johnson City) can show you the largest cypress in the State. We have pictures. It is huge." (Note: It should be added that the Forest Service also tabulates our tree champions—height, spread of crown, circumference of bole. If Round Mountain's cypress can top Concan's (Frio River Country) 102-foot height, 393-inch circumference, Mr. Herbst has a champion.

MAILBOX

Thanks for the many letters on John Wesley Hardin. Killeen's Mrs. Roscoe Bonham selects, from many books, 'The Fastest Gun in Texas' by J. H. Plenn and C. J. LaRoche (Signet No. 1635, published 1956,) . . . San Antonio's Susan Leonard: "Do they have the story of Sam Houston's 'Kissing Oak' at San Marcos?" (I don't know; why don't you tell 'em?) Austin's Mrs. W. G. Willmann Sr.: "You inquired about a copy of 'Texas' Last Frontier.' In March, 1966, I obtained a copy of the book by Frank C. Pierce. Write Valley Historical Society, Mrs. Verna J. McKenna, librarian, Harlingen Public Library.

And you write OBT, care of The Herald, or to Box F, Ingram, 78025. For a personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope. And Happy New Year to You.

Wayne Burns Asks Another Term As DA

Wayne Burns has announced his candidacy in the coming Democratic primary for re-election to the post of District Attorney of Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties.

Burns has served as District Attorney of this district since 1965. He is a native of the Big Spring area, having been reared northwest of Big Spring. After graduation from high school in 1946, he attended Texas Tech for four years and received a BA degree in government. He next enrolled in the University of Texas School of Law. Upon completion of his studies there in 1953, he was awarded his LL.B degree and earned his license to practice law.

Shortly thereafter, Burns entered the armed services and spent 13 months in Korea. Upon return to civilian life, he started the practice of law in Big Spring in 1957, and in November, 1958, he was elected Howard County Attorney.

Burns, his wife, Kay, and their two daughters reside at 501 Scott.

In announcing his candidacy for re-election to the office of District Attorney, Burns issued the following statement:

"I pledge to continue operating the office in an efficient, impartial and vigorous maner, so that it shall mirror the public's will and warrant the public's confidence. I will appreciate the support of everyone during the coming campaign and election."

WAYNE BURNS

AMA Chief Urges Better Treatment Of Alcoholics

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association says the AMA will encourage better treatment of alcoholics in the United States.

Dr. Mildord O. Rouse of Houston, Tex., said many doctors have been reluctant to accept alcoholics as patients, believing alcoholism is mainly an emotional problem rather than a disease. Others feel they lack knowledge to treat alcoholics, he said.

Rouse said the AMA's plan of action calls for encouraging general hospitals to accept more alcoholics and for urging the health insurance industry to remove "unrealistic" limitations on the extent of coverage allowed for treatment of alcoholism.

The AMA official, spoke Thursday at a conference on alcoholism in industry.

Installation Rites Slated

O. L. Nabors will become eminent commander of Big Spring Commandery No. 31 Knights Templar at installation ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 3. The installation will be in the Masonic Temple at 221½ Main Street.

He will succeed A. F. Pitts.

A number of prominent Knights Templar from other cities are to be here to take part in the installation exercises. Included will be Hal Burnett, Alpine, past grand commander, who is to be installing officer; Arthur G. Coots, Dalhart, right eminent grand commander of Texas, installing marshall, and Sam Hilburn, Midland, eminent grand warder of Texas, installing prelate.

Pitts will call the meeting to order. The installing officers will be introduced and the installation ceremony will follow. Eminent Commander Coots will deliver the special address of the evening. Joe Lemon, prelate, will pronounce the benediction.

The new staff of the commandery, in addition to Nabors, includes: Neil Spencer, generalissimo; R. L. Lee, captain general; T. R. Morris, Senior warden; Ervin Daniel, junior warden; Joe Lemon, ex-prelate; C. R. McClenny, treasurer; Willard Sullivan, recorder; Orbin H. Daily, standard bearer; Wright Vickers, sword bearer; Alfred Tidwell, warder; John Williams, sentinel, L. R. Mundy, Ray Thomas and Joe Hoard, guards.
