The telephone rang rather early at the L. A. Scott residence down at Dunn on Wednesday morning—somewhere around 3 a. m.

But the Scotts didn't mind the interruption of their sleep. It was their son, Gene (Spec. 4) Scott who had flown in from Germany to be on hand for the 50th wedding anniversary of his parents.

Spec. 4 Scott is with the 10th Medical Laboratory in Landstuhl, Germany. His family (the wife is in the service, also) was unable to get away for the quick trip home.

The Scotts had no idea that the son in Germany would be able to get here, either. "But I kept hoping," said his mother. So, the big 50th anniversary celebration Sunday will be even bigger.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. is making it more and more difficult for hunters and fishermen to claim ignorance of regulations. Now they've got a telephone that is manned 24 hours per day at the department's communications center in Austin. If a sportsman is uncertain about some regualtion, even in the wee small hours of night, he can dial 512-475-3909 and there will be someone on duty to answer his questions and-or clear up any confusion.

Do you keep up with Southwest Conference football? If so, quickly, now, which head coach in the SWC has the best won-lost record against non-conference opponents?

It's Jim Carlen at Texas Tech, whose teams have won 13 and lost only three against outside foes since he became head man in Raiderland. Darrell Royal of Texas has won 43, lost 10 and tied one against non-conference opposition.

Incidentally, Royal's 1973 Longhorns have given up 103 points this season, rather high for the 'Horns, but one team got over half of them. Oklahoma scored 52 points, while the five others had 51 between them.

At this point in the season five of the SWC teams are still considered fair candidates for post-season bowl tids. Texas, Texas Tech and SMU have been more impressive than the others so far, but Arkansas and Texas A&M are regarded as definitely in the running for bowl attention. In fact, neither of the five is out of the Cotton Bowl picture yet.—WACIL McNAIR.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, PROSECUTOR, RESPECTIVELY

Saxbe, Jaworski Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today named Sen. William B. Saxbe as attorney general and approved the selection of Leon Jaworski as new Watergate special prosecutor with full independence and safeguards against being fired.

The President promised not to discharge Jaworski, as he had Archibald Cox, without obtaining the consent of House and Senate Democratic and Republican leaders and top members of the two judiciary committees in Congress.

Nixon appeared personally in the White House briefing room to announce his nomination of Saxbe, an Ohio Republican who is not seeking re-election, as successor to Elliot Richardson, who resigned Oct. 20 rather than follow Nixon's orders to fire Cox.

The President, without answering questions, then turned the podium over to acting Atty. Gen. Robert Bork, who announced that Jaworski would become special prosecutor to pursue "the Watergate matter and related subjects."

Bork said that Jaworski has been "promised the full cooperation of the executive branch." Should Jaworski decide that he needs presidential documents, Bork said, "there will be no restrictions placed on his freedom ..."

Bork said Jaworski, a confidant of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, would have the same broad mandate which had been given Cox. In addition, Bork said that Nixon has given "his personal assurance" that he will not fire Jaworski without first consulting with the specified congressional leaders and "ascertaining that their consensus is in accord with his proposed action."

The firing of Cox after his refusal to abide by Nixon's orders to drop efforts in court to obtain confidential White House tapes and documents touched off a massive controversy and triggered moves to start impeachment proceedings.

Bork underscored the same point saying: "Mr. Jaworski is not coming on with any limitations on his freedom of action."

But the bearded former Yale professor who assumed the role as acting attorney general on Oct. 20 and fired Cox as his first act said he does not expect continued court battles over access to White House tapes and documents.

"I anticipate reasonableness on both sides," he said.

As for the other staff of investigators and prosecutors that Cox had formed, Bork indicated he believed Jaworski would retain Cox's appointees.

"I stated to him that I thought that staff was indispensable to the rapid ... prosecution of these cases," Bork said. "He fully agreed."

He said it will be up to Jaworski to decide whether to pursue such investigations as the reported probe of presidential friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo's handling of a $100,000 campaign contribution from billionaire Howard Hughes.

Sources said Wednesday night that the administration had settled on Jaworski and Saxbe.

MacGregor Says He Was Used

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark MacGregor, who directed President Nixon's landslide re-election victory, testified today that he was deceived, used and kept ignorant of the Watergate cover-up that was going on around him.

Appearing before the Senate Watergate committee, the former Minnesota congressman and White House aide contradicted the testimony of an earlier witness who swore he repeatedly tried to warn MacGregor of high-level involvement in the Watergate affair.

MacGregor took charge of Nixon's re-election committee two weeks after the June 17, 1972 break-in at Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate. He replaced former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Robert C. Mardian, a former assistant attorney general and Nixon re-election committee lawyer, has told the committee that he tried several times to tell MacGregor that previous committee denials of official involvement in Watergate were untrue but that MacGregorrefused to listen.

Jaworski Accepts Without Strings

HOUSTON (AP) — Leon Jaworski said today he accepted the appointment as special Watergate prosecutor only after being satisfied that he will be free to act wherever necessary.

"The significant phases of the agreement involve the independence with which I will be able to operate," the former president of the American Bar Association said at a news conference.

"There are no restraints. I am not prohibited from taking any action I might feel should be taken."

Jaworski said there had been serious questions whether an appointment of a successor to Archibald Cox could be made by anyone other than the executive branch.

He expressed hope that senators and congressmen who want Congress to play a role in the selection will be satisfied by the arrangements under which he accepted the appointment.

"I don't know what the reaction by members of Congress will be, but when they examined the terms of my acceptance, I feel they will find the comfort and reassurances I found."

In answer to a question, Jaworski said he has not talked with President Nixon about the appointment and has no plans to do so.

He said he first was contacted about the possible appointment Tuesday by acting Atty. Gen. Robert Bork, who reported that Jaworski's name had been mentioned by several legal authorities across the country.

The appointment came from Bork and was approved by Nixon.

Jaworski said he is satisfied [illegible] the arrangement under which that should an impasse develop over any phase of the case the matter will be presented to the two senior majority and minority members of both the House and Senate Judiciary Committees.

He referred to those congressional committee members as a committee and said he is not concerned with a deadlock, adding that a tie vote would seem unlikely.

"I am not anticipating a disagreement but this was one of the matters I searched for in the interest of complete independence," he said.

Ford Denies Wrong On Handling Contributions

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-designate Gerald R. Ford denied at his confirmation hearings today any wrongdoing in the handling of $11,500 in campaign funds which he did not report to the House.

Itemizing each of five checks involved, Ford said that to the best of his knowledge they were reported by the donors in proper public documents and subsequently reported by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee as required by law.

The funds involved were contributed to Ford in 1970 and channeled to the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee which then sent a similar amount to the Michigan congressman's district.

Although Ford did not report the contributions in his personal statement of campaign finances filed with the House, he said they were all properly recorded in other places.

Ford also offered himself as a peacemaker and mediator in a crisis-ridden government saying, "I can be a helpful bridge between the executive and the legislative branch."

Under questioning by members of the Senate Rules Committee, Ford said he intended to work closely with Congress on legislation at all levels "to find a common level of agreement."

Asked if he could be elected if the entire country had the chance to vote for him, Ford responded: "I might have done fairly well. I wouldn't forecast a victory."

Ford called the 5th congressional district of Michigan, which has elected him to Congress 13 times, "a moderate electorate, and my own views are not as conservative as might have been implied.

"I consider myself a moderate certainly on domestic affairs," Ford said, "a conservative on fiscal affairs and an internationalist on foreign policy."

In regard to the 1970 campaign funds, Ford said he got more money than he needed and sent it to the GOP committee to distribute to others.

Nixon Acting As Middleman

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, acting as a middleman in a search for a Middle East settlement, conferred with Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir at the White House today.

One day after meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy, Nixon welcomed the Israeli leader to his Oval Office where she reportedly was seeking answers to questions about the U.S. position.

The two leaders sat in twin goldcovered chairs before an unlit fireplace as photographers recorded the start of the meeting. They talked about Mrs. Meir's journey here on an El Al airliner, and the President asked whether the Israeli airline "makes money."

Mrs. Meir replied that it did — without subsidies.

Then, after the President remarked that "it is such a beautiful day," the photographers were shooed from the office and the two leaders began their conversations.

Before her breakfast meeting today with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and a noon session with the President, Mrs. Meir told reporters that problems and questions had arisen out of her country's relationship with the United States.

She asked to talk with the President and Kissinger to "seek answers and clarifications," Mrs. Meir said upon her arrival Wednesday afternoon.

She described as "an oversimplification" reports Israel had been subjected to undue pressure from the United States concerning cease-fire lines.

Meanwhile, in Tel Aviv Wednesday, an Israeli military command spokesman said dozens of trucks carried emergency supplies for the Egyptian 3rd Army through Israeli Suez Canal lines.

A relief operation for the 20,000 men of the encircled military force was in its third day on the southern end of the waterway. The Israeli military spokesman said the cargoes of about half of a 125-truck convoy had been shipped to the east bank of the canal.

TECHNICIAN TESTIFIES

Aide Checked Out Recording

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Secret Service technician testified today that presidential aide Stephen V. Bull checked out a controversial tape recording last July, months before President Nixon is said to have learned the tape was incomplete.

The technician, Raymond C. Zumwalt, said his logs show Bull checked the tape out of a safe in the basement of the Executive Office Building July 11 and returned it July 12.

The White House said the tape contains Nixon's conversations in his Executive Office Building quarters for April 15, 1973 and some preceding days. But the White House said the tape ran out before Nixon's hour-long meeting with his now-exiled counsel, John W. Dean III.

Dean has testified that Nixon admitted complicity in the Watergate cover-up at the meeting.

The White House said Nixon had been unaware until last weekend that the meeting had gone unrecorded.

Technician Zumwalt said White House aides checked out batches of sensitive recordings on numerous occasions during the time the Watergate scandal was breaking.

Also today, the White House offered to let U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica listen to the April 15 tape so he could hear for himself that it ran out prior to the Dean meeting.

Sirica requested that lawyers for the White House and the Watergate prosecution force give him advice on how to get technical help to determine if White House recordings had been altered.

A second crucial Nixon conversation also went unrecorded because it was made on a telephone with no recording device attached, the White House said. This was a call from former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who was then Nixon's campaign director, on June 20, 1972, just after the Watergate burglary.

Zumwalt said that according to notes he made at the time, presidential aide Bull checked out 22 tapes, covering a period in late February and March of 1973, on April 25. That was 10 days after the President learned that Dean had begun offering to give damaging testimony against top administration officials.

Zumwalt said Bull returned the 22 tapes later the day, checked them out again the following day and returned them May 2.

Another batch of 26 tapes was checked out by Bull June 4, 1973 and returned at some unrecorded date, he said.

There IS a time to disobey parents

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I'm going to have to disagree with you on this one. Obedience to one's parents is not the highest and greatest good, not even for a 13-year-old.

Anyone, even a child, is morally obligated to disobey authority when authority demands something that violates the conscience. This principle was brought home to me by my eldest daughter when she was seven, upon her hearing the story of Abraham and Isaac for the first time. "It's wrong to kill," declared my precocious moralist, "and you should never do what you know is wrong, even if God tells you to." By the same principle, it is similarly wrong to refrain from doing good because one has been forbidden to do it.

Susan's friend, if she is sufficiently courageous, should tell her mother that she regrets the necessity of being disobedient, but that she cannot conscientiously be obedient in this instance. She should then offer to accept whatever reasonable punishment the mother may care to impose, and then endure the punishment with as much courtesy and stoicism as she can muster.

The kind of obedience you advocate for Susan's friend is qualitatively the same as that of the Nazis who were "only obeying orders" when they slaughtered Jews. The matter involved is not so serious as murder, that's all.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

DEAR FOOD: Your letter is more than "food for thought"—it's an intellectual banquet.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has the women in his office running errands all over town in his 1973 limousine. When I tell him it looks bad, he says their own cars are either falling apart or their gas tanks are empty.

I suggested that he buy a company station wagon and put the name of his company on the door, and have the girls run his errands in that. He says: "I'm not letting the small town gossips run my business just because they have poisoned your mind about how it looks." I told him I poisoned my own mind on the subject. Meanwhile, I drive a small economy car to run my errands.

What do you think about this? THE POORER HALF

DEAR POORER: I can understand your annoyance at having your husband's women, employees driving his '73 limousine all over town on errands, but there's a better reason for suggesting he get a company car. It would be a legitimate company expense—and save gasoline!

DEAR ABBY: A mother wrote saying she was "AT WITS END" because her 30-year-old widowed daughter let her housekeeping go while she did "useless" things like writing poetry, planting flowers, taking ballet lessons. And she dragged her six-year-old son to museums and art exhibits. ["What can a six-year-old learn from an art exhibit?" she asks.]

I endorse your reply in which you defended the daughter, and would like to add that my parents "dragged" me to concerts, museums, and art exhibits when I was a toddler.

I was awakened one night to "come see the Northern Lights," and told of the Aurora Borealis. I saw Sousa in one of his last concerts, and heard Mark Twain in his last appearance in his native state. I was reading at the age of four, and soon afterwards my father opened his entire library to me, showing me how to handle books carefully—they were precious.

Abby, I bless my parents for showing me the beauty of the world. I continue to find life interesting and exciting. I am 79.

Three cheers for daughter! MRS. M. D. IN MISSOURI

Claim On Milk Money Probed

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fired lawyer for the nation's largest dairy cooperative swears the group disguised illegal corporate "campaign contributions" as legal fees.

The allegation is being investigated by the Senate Watergate committee, the Watergate prosecution force, the FBI, the Internal Revenue Service and the General Accounting Office.

Investigators are seeking to find how much of a reported $384,000 legal bill went into the alleged contributions, who got them, and whether any of the money was used for any other purpose.

The ousted lawyer, Joseph A. Rose Jr., 35, was fired from his job as the San Antonio-based Associated Milk Producers Inc. in September after he told part of his story to FBI agents.

A spokesman for the group said Rose was fired for "failure to carry out his duties."

Rose testified in a lawsuit that the milk producers funneled political money through an Oklahoma City lawyer, Stuart Russell, and that Russell converted it to checks and cash and gave it to the milkmen's chief political staffer, Robert Lilly.

Court filings show Russell received $384,000 in a 10-month period ending April 30, 1972. At least part of the money apparently went for legitimate legal costs, since Russell performed legal services for the milk group during that period.

Rose said Russell acknowledged passing money to Lilly for "political contributions," and became nervous about the arrangement when IRS agents traced some of the money to Lilly. Federal law prohibits use of corporation money for political donations.

Rose said Lilly indicated he knew who got the monev. and that he left open the possibility it had gone for something other than campaign funds.

Rose said he felt it was his obligation as a lawyer to get the money back, but that Lilly told him, "It can't be recouped because it didn't go to something like the Committee to Re-elect the President. It went direct."

Draft To Be Given Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Constitutional Revision Commission presents its proposed draft of a new state constitution to the legislature today with a round of speeches and a formal ceremony.

The presentation ceremony was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the Texas House chamber.

The draft of the proposed new constitution, a thin 14,000-word document compared to the much-amended 1876 constitution, is the result of seven months of work by the 37-member citizens commission that included 19 public hearings over the state.

The report will be received on behalf of the legislature by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

A copy of the report also will be presented Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who headed the group that selected the 37 commission members.

Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the commission and former chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, will make the presentations. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn, vice chairman of the commission, will give the highlights of the proposed constitution.

The 181 members of the legislature, who also are the delegates to the 1974 Constitution Convention, will get a briefing on the proposal Dec. 7-8. The convention itself meets Jan. 8.

Work Center Is Discussed

Mrs. Martha Huddleston told of work being done at the Work Center for older retardates at the regular luncheon meeting of the Noon Kiwanis Club, held yesterday at the American Restaurant.

She said the group is collecting old newspapers and selling them for $30 a ton. They also are collecting trading stamps to replace a 10-year-old station wagon.

Mrs. Huddleston expressed appreciation to the Kiwanis Club for providing a building for the Work Center.

Mrs. J. W. Everett, president of the Retarded Childrens Association and director of the Work Center, also was a special guest. Mrs. Huddleston also showed slides of the Work Center.

E. T. (Pat) Patterson presided over the meeting as president.

Other guests included G. A. Parks, Dottie Jones and four members of the Sunrisers Kiwanis Club.

Testimony Is Set In Treasure Suit

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Testimony was to get underway in federal court here today on a suit to determine ownership of 16th century artifacts recovered from a sunken Spanish galleon and valued at almost $300,000.

Both the State of Texas and Platoro Ltd., a Gary, Ind., salvage firm, claim ownership of the treasure trove which was recovered from a galleon which reportedly sank north of Port Mansfield, Tex., during a hurricane in 1554.

U.S. District Court Judge Reynaldo Garza is to preside at the trial which is expected to last less than two days.

Platoro started the recoverer operations in 1967 and was later halted by a state court injunction. The Indiana firm claims it signed a valid contract with then Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler providing that Platoro would split the treasure with the state on a 50-50 basis and Platoro would be able to continue salvage operations for one year.

Platoro officials say they signed the contract "in good faith" and mailed it to Sadler in Austin. Thomas G. Sharpe Jr., a Brownsville lawyer who represents Platoro, said Sadler later said he never signed the contract.

When the salvage operations got under in 1967, Platoro contends, there was no Texas law requiring salvage firms to obtain a state license before starting treasure hunts. The Texas Antiquities Law, which requires firms to obtain licenses and turn their find over to the state, was passed later.

In their answer to Platoro's suit, the Texas attorney general's office contends the state should get the treasure and Platoro should get nothing.

The Indiana firm wants the entire treasure, but if they can't get it all, they want 50 per cent plus $139,302.74 spent in recovering the treasure.

Platoro seeks the entire treasure on grounds that it was a simple salvage operation, not covered by any state law at the time.

Two Lower Rio Grande Valley men, Jeff Burke of Rio Hodo and Billy Russell Algoe of South Padre Island, have intervened in the suit to ask for $23,500, which they claim is owed them for their part in the salvage operation.

The treasure trove was appraised by Mendell Peterson, a former official of the Smithsonian Institute, who said the items ranged in value from $35,000 for a navigational instrument, dated 1545 and believed to be the oldest of its type in existence, to $2 for a cast iron cannon ball.

Summer Driver Ed. Notices Are Due

HERMLEIGH—Students who plan to take driver education next summer at the Hermleigh School should notify school officials there of their intentions by Tuesday, Nov. 6, it was announced today.

Rosters for the summer driving class must be submitted immediately, it was pointed out. Students may call 863-2451 to get their names on the roster.

The summer driver training class at Hermleigh has served students throughout the county in previous summers and will be able to provide the same service next summer, but only for those who make their intentions of taking the course known by next Tuesday.

On the Indonesian island of Madura the most popular spectator sport is annual races of trained bulls, which are ridden by native "jockeys."

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict

An 8-man, 4-woman jury in 132nd District Court returned a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon in the trial of James Clyde Baldwin, Jr., who was accused of driving while intoxicated, second offense.

The jury was expected to assess the punishment this afternoon. Trial began Tuesday.

Baldwin had earlier been convicted of the charge, but the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed it and the case had to be tried again.

District Attorney Pete Greene prosecuted the case. Baldwin was defended by John O'Shea of Lubbock. The offense occurred Jan. 23, 1972.

FAMILY DINNER

Shoulder Lamb Chops Potatoes
Skillet Zucchini
Sliced Tomatoes
Pineapple Cookies

SKILLET ZUCCHINI

A new combination of seasonings to add to fresh squash.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-3rd cup chopped scallions (green onions), including green tops
2 medium zucchini (unpared), thinly sliced (about 2½ cups)
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon dried dill weed
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat, melt butter; add scallion and cook, stirring often, until wilted — about 5 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients; cover and cook, stirring several times, until zucchini is tender-crisp — about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Diplomat's Wife Likes Her Post

NEW YORK (AP) — What's it like to be a diplomat's wife? According to Verena Marschik, "it's a very nice thing to be, really!"

Married to Consul General Robert Marschik, who represents Austria in the eastern portion of the United States, Verena is 29 and the mother of two boys, Alexander, 6, and Nikolaus, 1.

Mrs. Marschik says that most women do not get the chance to share in their husband's work, but that being married to the consul general gives her a greater opportunity to get acquainted with her husband's friends and business associates.

"It's something very beautiful, really," she said. "You have part of his job. You arrange his parties and see to his friends and normally you know them and add a certain touch. That's very good for a wife to do, of course, to take part."

There are difficulties. One of them is the constant moving from place to place. In her marriage of eight years, Mrs. Marschik has moved four times: from Vienna to Cairo, to New York, back to Austria and again to New York.

She says it is difficult in the beginning. But she adds that having a cook and a maid helps, although "until everything is settled, I'm still responsible for the workings of the household."

Another concern is adjustment of her children. Mrs. Marschik says that problems are not pressing now because the children are still young. But she worries about their being able to move from place to place and still keep their identity as Austrians.

TRICK OR TREATERS—People of all ages took part in celebrating Halloween last night including the Nursing Homes. Mrs. I.F. Huckleby of Leisure Lodge on the Big Spring Highway is shown giving treats to little goblins, Michelle, Theresa and Rebecca Seyler of Snyder.

Snyder Rebekahs Hosted Meeting

The Snyder Rebekah Lodge 294 hosted the official meeting of District 19 and 23. The president of the Rebekah assembly of Texas, Mrs. Ophelia Carnes made her official visit from District 19. Lamesa Lodge 90 and Rotan 214, District 83 were represented by four members. Other members attending were from District 12, Odessa Lodge 68, Snyder, Lodge 294, and Dallas. All enjoyed a salad supper at the conclusion of the meeting.

Texans To Vote On Nine Constitutional Amendments

Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories on the nine proposed constitutional amendments that will be on the Nov. 6 ballot. The first story dealt in detail with the annual sessions-legislators' pay raise issue. This story concerns the eight other proposals.

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Texas voters will decide Nov. 6 if they want to continue a multi-million dollar land purchase program to help veterans of Vietnam and earlier wars.

Despite headlines of Middle East fighting, the war veterans bond issue has attracted little attention in discussions of the nine proposed constitutional amendments.

The spotlight of the election is on Amendment No. 1 which would have the Texas Legislature meet every year and would raise legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $15,000 a year.

However, Amendment No. 7, which would authorize another $100 million in bonds for the Veterans Land Program, is the only other proposal with a statewide support organization.

"I think it is significant that veterans of Vietnam need to have the same opportunities that other military veterans have had," says Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong.

Armstrong also thinks continuation of the state's plan to help veterans with long-term, low-interest land loans is an incentive to those who volunteer for military service.

Critics say that the program, which already has issued $400 million in veterans' land bonds, has increased land speculation, benefiting mostly real estate brokers.

The constitutional change would open the land purchase plan to all veterans of military service since Sept. 16. 1940. It had previously been amended to include veterans of Korea and early Vietanm fighting.

The proposal also would let interest rates be raised from 4½ to 6 per cent and would let surviving spouses of eligible veterans complete loan transactions.

Amendments No. 2 and 3 would extend the same state property tax exemptions to unmarried adults that married household heads enjoy now. No. 2 would protect the homestead of a single adult from forced sale. No. 3 gives singles the $3,000 homestead exemption.

Amendment No. 4 would require that any legislative act to create a conservation and reclamation district must be approved by the city affected. Currently, a water district just outside a city may issue millions of dollars in bonds and if the city annexes this property later it must assume responsibility for any unpaid bonds.

Amendment No. 5 would lower the margin required for voter approval of tax levies for construction of seawalls. The current two-thirds majority required could be lowered to a simple majority, the same as required for tax levies for schools and hospital districts.

Amendment No. 6 would give district courts general jurisdiction over probate matters along with county courts.

Amendment No. 8 would change the tax bond base on general obligation bonds issued by cities. The amendment was sponsored in the legislature by the Texas Municipal League which claims it might save municipal tax payers more than $30 million. Critics say it is a scheme to give cities the power to raise local taxes as high as they please.

The 1876 Constitution put tight restrictions on taxing by local authorities, saying that cities over 5,000 could not levy taxes to exceed 2½ per cent of the value of taxable property in the city limits. Smaller cities were held to 1½ per cent. The proposed change would remove the ceilings and give the legislature the responsibility for setting limits on taxes needed to support municipal debt.

Amendment No. 9 would give the legislature authority to exempt non-profit corporations and cooperatives that supply water from state and local property taxes. The exemption would be limited only to property actually involved in water sales or distribution.

Barbed wire was invented in 1874, by an American, Joseph F. Glidden.

Toll The Same

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — When the New Jersey Turnpike was opened to the public on Jan. 15, 1952, the driver of a passenger car traveling the full turnpike length of 118 miles from Deepwater to Ridgefield Park paid a toll of $1.75.

The toll today is still $1.75. That averages to 1.48 cents per mile — next to the lowest car toll on any of the major toll roads in the nation. Cheapest is the 241-mile Ohio Turnpike.

Alcoholism Unit In Full Operation

L. D. Womble, director of the Snyder Council on Alcoholism, has reported that the council is now fully involved in carrying out its duties in the four-county network with the central office located in Snyder.

The council itself is a United Fund agency and will continue to be locally supported from the four-county level and communities if it is to continue operation.

There has been strong support by those who know of the operation of the council, said Womble.

The West Central Texas Council of Governments has funded the Snyder Council for a three-year period to provide an office staff. There are two employes, Mrs. Bob Lemons is working in the field as a technician and counselor. Mrs. Verna Shephard is the office clerk and secretary. There are no funds in the grant for the agency itself, which will continue to depend on United Fund and other local support.

The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare has called alcoholism one of the most tragic, destructive and costly illnesses in the nation, said Womble. It also is regarded as one of the most dangerous of drugs.

"Since experience has taught that we cannot prohibit its use, then surely we have a heavy burden responsibility to educate against excessive use and to help the families of the alcoholics,"

Womble declared. "Recent surveys indicate that alcohol remains the drug choice of teenagers and we have begun to see alcoholics at shockingly young ages. Moreover nearly all drug treatment clinics or hospitals report that alcohol is one of the problems of the incoming patients."

The council is presently working toward combining drug abuse with our alcoholism services. "We have counseled and worked with several clients with drug problems and since the two problems are so closely related we feel that the two can be handled very successfully," said Womble.

Police Seek Suspect In Shootings

STAFFORD, Tex. (AP) — Police searched a wide area around this Fort Bend County town today for the person responsible for shooting four members of a Stafford family.

The victims of the late Wednesday shootings were Hinojosa Trevino, 66, Yolanda Trevino, 29, Nora Trevino, 29, and a woman who was not identified at once.

All the wounded were taken to a hospital at Sugar Land and then transferred to a Houston hospital.

The unidentified woman and the elderly Trevino were listed in critical condition and the other two in poor condition.

Case Back To Federal Court

MATHIS, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. 5th Circuit court of Appeals in New Orleans has sent the case of a Mathis school teacher back to a Corpus Christi federal court for "consideration of a jurisdictional question."

The appeals court vacated the case Wednesday because of a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling in a similar case. The high court reasoning was not disclosed.

Timothy Campbell filed the suit against the Mathis Independent School District for $150,000 in damages after a dispute with school officials over the length of his sideburns. He began teaching in Mathis in September, 1969.

U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox of Corpus Christi allowed Campbell to collect only about one month's wages.

Explosion Near Dayan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Napalm dropped from an Egyptian helicopter exploded within 60 feet of Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan during an Oct. 19 visit to the Suez Canal front line, an Israeli combat photographer said Wednesday.

Photographer Nahum Gutman said Dayan was inspecting a small date plantation on the west bank of the Suez when a helicopter with Egyptian circle markings came in low.

Gutman said a man appeared in the door of the helicopter and rolled out what looked like a barrel. It exploded in flames within 60 feet of Dayan, he said.

"Dayan continued standing, calmly watching the helicopter disappear over the trees," Gutman said. The photographer said the craft was shot down seconds later by an Israeli tank shell.

"Dayan and the others came slowly out of the grove, with the minister still carrying a handful of dates he had picked," the photographer said.

DESPITE COUNTRY'S BAD MOOD

Rays Of Sun Begin To Filter Through Darkness

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The country is in a bad, bad mood, a mood familiar to all of us, a mood that disposes one to view the cup as half empty instead of half full and the sky as partly cloudy rather than partly sunny.

The chairman of U.S. Steel Corp. announces third-quarter net income of $87.3 million, nearly three times that of the comparable period of 1972. Sales, he announces, are nearly a half billion dollars higher.

He then explains: "However, because of price controls we do not have the freedom to price products realistically in the market place to fully recover continuing cost increases in excess of long-term gains in productivity."

He's got a point. Last year's earnings were depressed, and this year's income really isn't as good as it appears when matched against sales of $1.8 billion. But it can't be denied: an income increase of 182 per cent is in the right direction.

U.S. Steel isn't the only corporation complaining, and companies aren't the only segment of our economy from whence the wailing is heard. It's coming from all directions.

Undeniably, in many ways the nation is in poor shape. Its cities are to some degree uninhabitable. Its railroad system is shrinking. Inflation seems to be chronic. There are shortages everywhere.

Adding to the list: The housing market is being wrecked again by high interest rates, the jobless rate seems headed higher again, pollution persists, the dollar isn't out of trouble, confidence in government is weakened.

Can it get worse? If you're totally engulfed in the darkness you can only see darkness ahead. But with a slight twist of view you might see a few rays of light.

—Despite a jobless rate that persists around 5 per cent, instead of the old goal of 4 per cent, more people are at work than ever before. Of a civilian labor force between 88 million and 89 million, about 84.5 million have jobs.

—Although stock prices, as measured by the Dow Jones industrial average, are stuck just where they were in the mid-1960s, with some blue chips selling at extremely depressed prices, doesn't an opportunity exist?

In more optimistic days, a market in the present condition would be viewed by skillful traders as an exceptional buying opportunity.

—Consumer prices are rising, to be sure. For the 12 months to August they rose 7.6 per cent, as measured by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

But this phenomenon isn't peculiar to the United States. Prices in Canada rose 8.3 per cent, in Japan 12.6 per cent, in France 7.6, Germany 7.1, Italy 11.7, and in the United Kingdom 8.9 per cent.

The inflation problem isn't solved by putting everyone in the same predicament, but it is some consolation perhaps to know that you're no worse off than your foreign neighbors.

—Interest rates are high and in some places it is difficult to obtain credit, especially for a home mortgage. But that doesn't mean that the credit flow has been turned off. Credit to individuals is at a record high.

American families today have close to $140 billion in installment credit alone, including nearly $50 billion for automobiles and $40 billion in personal loans. True, the rates are high but the credit route to the plentiful life is still open.

You can make up your own list of similar contrasts. Agreed, in so doing you won't solve your problems, but you might add a dimension to your perspective.

It is foolish not to see all the clouds in the sky today, but it is equally foolish to ignore the rays of sunshine that filter through.

Country Ailing But Is Curable

RICHMOND HILL, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. Lloyd A. Burus of the Zion Temple Baptist Church has returned home after a two-month, 8,000-mile journey around the United States in a 47-year-old Model T. car. His main objective was to "call America back to God" and at almost every stop, he said, both blacks and whites gathered to hear him preach.

"There is great spiritual hunger in the country," he said. "It's a beautiful land. The country is alive, not well, but curable."

Junior Editors' Quiz on THE SPRUCE GROUSE

QUESTION: What is a Spruce Grouse?

ANSWER: A grouse is usually about the size of a large chicken. It has a short stout bill, with feathers over the legs to keep them from freezing. It is a heavy bird, but can spring into the air and dart away with amazing speed. Grouse live on wild fruits, nuts and insects and are sometimes called quail or partridge. They have been prized for their delicious flesh and for this reason have been hunted almost to extinction.

The Hudsonian Spruce Grouse was once widely distributed through Canada, Alaska and the northern United States. It has been hunted so vigorously that it is now restricted to the northern wilderness. This Spruce Grouse, or partridge displays the greatest confidence in mankind. It is considered a 'fool among birds and regards an intruder with happy curiosity. A full-grown bird has been knocked down with a stick an ' caught in the hand.

'Tigers, Monterey Clash In Battle For Survival

Snyder's Tigers will host Lubbock Monterey's Plainsmen in a District 4-AAAA showdown grid battle here Friday night.

The Plainsmen, pre-season favorites to win the district crown, are the leading offensive team in district play. Snyder's Tigers have the best defensive team in the league

Monterey has a slightly better record, having won four, lost one and tied two. Snyder is 4-2-1 for the distance. The Plainsmen own victories over Big Spring (11-7), Estacado (36-0), Hobbs, N.M. (10-0) and Lubbock (24-18). Their only loss was a 26-10 loss at Hereford. The two ties were 21-21 and 7-7 standoffs with Wichita Falls Rider and Midland High respectively. Snyder has victories over Dunbar (21-3), Midland Lee (27-15), Big Spring (28-25) and Andrews (21-7). Their two losses were to Lamesa (35-0) and to Lubbock (12-13). They tied Coronado 16-16 last week.

The Tigers haven't won a ball game in a month, but they outplayed their opponents in each of the last two weeks. A loss by either team tonight would eliminate them from the district title race, so you can be sure both teams will go all out to win.

Friday's affray is expected to be another close ground battle. Neither Monterey nor Snyder uses the pass very much, but both teams have powerful ground attacks that rely on ball control.

For the season, Monterey has gained 1,556 yards in 379 plays compared with 1,451 paces on 326 efforts by Snyder. Monterey has yielded 518 yards on 103 plays while Snyder has given up 547 yards on 112 downs.

Both Snyder and Monterey use a multiple offense. Their primary alignment is the I formation, but both teams also use the Winged T and the straight T. When they pass, they use the play action pass.

Defensively, both teams use a five man front. However, Monterey's linebackers do a lot of stunting.

"This will be a physical game," said Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges of the Tigers. "Both teams are big and strong and the one that hangs in there until the end will probably win," he added.

Unfortunately, the Tigers probably will be without the services of three of their men for the showdown clash. Joey Hardin, 155-pound junior center, sustained a pinched nerve in the neck last week against Coronado and probably will be out for the remainder of the season. Grant Knipe, 245-pound senior tackle, missed last week due to a leg injury and is a doubtful starter this week. Also the quarterback spot remains in doubt. Starter Richard Gorman, 185-pound senior, who has completed 10 of 34 passes for 135 yards, has been bothered by dizzy spells this week and has missed workouts. If he is unable to start, Coach Hodges probably will go with Tim Jones, 150-pound senior, who saw action last season.

The Tigers have several outstanding runners, led by tailback Welton Cobb, 190-pound junior, who has gained 516 yards on 80 carries this season. Hubert Crayton, 165-pound senior, who plays both tailback and halfback, has gained 386 yards on 80 carries. Fullback Tommy Welsh, 205-pound senior, has netted 383 yards on 86 efforts. Halfback Ralph Lewis is primarily a blocker, but he has 103 yards on 27 runs

Guiding the Monterey attack will be Dale Dillard, 150-pound junior quarterback. Other probable starters include fullback Tim Hagood, 170-pound senior; tailback Larry Lambert, 155-pound senior; and, halfback Lane McNamara, 195-pound senior. Lambert is the leading ball carrier with 467 yards rushing on 104 carries.

Monterey alternates three quarterbacks. Bobby Evans and Richard Holt, both 155-pound seniors, spell Dillard. Evans is probably the fastest man on the team. Monterey's backs are small but they are extremely fast. Tailback Ricky Keith, 145-pound junior, also is expected to see plenty of action for the Plainsmen.

Linebacker Steve White, 185-pound junior, and middle guard Larry Horn, 205-pound senior, lead the Monterey defense which will have five seniors in the defensive line.

Probable starters in the Tiger offensive line include ends Steve Grimmett, 160, senior, and Doak Witherspoon, 205, senior; tackles Bobby Wall, 175, junior, and Mickey Gonzales, 235, senior; guards Jerry Webb, 200, senior, and Willie Smith, 230, senior; and, center David Yearwood, 170, senior.

Defensively the Tigers will have Yearwood or Wilbert Thompson 165, senior and Ralph Lewis at end; Gonzales and Tim Sonnier, 200, junior, at tackle; Willie Smith, 230, senior, at nose guard; Grimmett at cornerback, Jones at safety, V. T. Roberson, 160, senior at halfback, Roy Lee Carter, 170, junior at rover; and Cobb and Jerry Fore, 170, senior, at linebacker.

Coach Hodges has other dependable lads he can call on, including quarterback Widgeon Emerson, 145, senior; fullbacks John Boren, 160, senior, and Ricky Howell, 160, junior; halfbacks Kerry Smith, 155, senior, and David Mayes, 170, junior; tailbacks Dennis Young, 155, junior, and Buddy Mayes, 155, senior; guards Nicky Neves, 155, senior, and Eicke Perry 165, senior; tackles Robert Braziel, 190, senior, George Willis, 170, junior, and Mack Dishman, 165, senior, and, ends Jerry Fore, 170, senior, and Doug Nall, 140, senior.

Most prognosticators are favoring Monterey by about a touchdown, but this corner sees the Tigers winning in a close, bruising battle by about 14-13.

Bengals To Use Rookies

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals, who hope to rest leading rusher Essex Johnson, may go with a pair of rookie running backs part of the time Sunday in their first-ever National Football League meeting with the Dallas Cowboys.

Coach Paul Brown has indicated he may use Levil Elliott, a 10th round draft, and first-year sensation Charles "Boobie" Clark.

Elliott, from Northeast Missouri State College, would share duties with Johnson and another reserve, Reece Morrison.

Saying the 5-foot-9 Johnson shows the effects of beatings he has been taking, Brown wants to "give him relief and let him get his breath."

Johnson and Clark have gained 580 and 517 yards, respectively.

Elliott, at 6-foot-1 and 205 pounds, kept a job with his hard-running and good speed.

Sid Gillman Has Praise For Dickey

By MIACHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Sid Gillman, the Houston Oilers' general manager and head coach, got up before his weekly news conference and said he only wanted to talk about the good things.

While everyone got ready for the shortest news conference of the season, Gillman started a dissertation on his triumvirate of quarterbacks, Dan Pastorini, Lynn Dickey and Edd Hargett.

Suddenly there was something good to talk about and much of it was about Dickey, who could draw the starting assignment against the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

"Lynn Dickey never ceases to amaze me, coming off his injury the way he did," Gillman said of the Kansas State product who missed last season with a severe hip injury. "He taught me something about our offense last week.

"He taught me that maybe we can run the ball better than I thought we could. So we'll probably go with that. Not that we'll run all the time, just coordinate with our passing game

Gillman said his goal with all the Oiler quarterbacks was to eliminate surprises. Most youngsters like surprises but that doesn't go for young quarterbacks, Gillman said.

"What you try to do when you bring up a quarterback is to eliminate surprises," Gillman said. "If he takes the ball back, looks down field and anything surprises him, he'll probably run with the ball and get tackled."

Oiler quarterbacks have been getting far too many surprises this season, many in the form of quarterback sacks. Houston quarterbacks have been dropped 25 times for losses totaling 291 yards.

Gillman wouldn't say if he would give Dickey his first start of the season against the Colts but Dickey started this week's work with the first unit.

Gillman says "I want them to be competing for the job so I'm not going to name a starter right now."

Mustangs Stand In 'Horns Path

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas will throw its "peanut butter and cracker" offense at Southern Methodist Saturday in a crucial nationally televised Southwest Conference football game. The Mustangs will retaliate with plain vanilla behind the heralded "M&M" boys.

It will be Wishbone-T versus Wishbone-T in the noon CST kickoff in the Cotton Bowl as the Longhorns roll toward a sixth consecutive SWC title.

Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal says fullback Roosevelt Leaks and center Bill Wyman, who carves out large holes for the burly junior to ramble through, "Go together like peanut butter and crackers ... that's a good combination."

The attack is triggered by sophomore quarterback Marty Akins, who gets better every week.

Royal says "Roosevelt has played considerably better the last two weeks ... Wyman has been exceptional in every game he's played this year."

SMU'S M&M boys are Alvin Maxson and Wayne Morris, who form a deadly combination when they are clocking.

"Maxson and Morris are slahing, strong runners who are extremely talented," Royal says.

Texas is 3-0 in SWC play—the only team without a blemish on its record. For SMU, it's a must win. The Mustangs are 1-1 after taking a 31-14 thumping from Texas Tech last week.

The Longhorns are 14-point favorites, but SMU's attitude is summed up by defensive end Charles Dennard who says, "I know most people feel we don't have a chance ... Oklahoma and Miami proved Texas can be beaten. Now we have that chance."

In other SWC action, Texas A&M is a two-point pick over Arkansas in Fayetteville, Baylor is a 12-point nod over Texas Christian on homecoming, and Texas Tech is a 21-point selection against Rice in Lubbock. Houston is a four-touchdown choice over Florida State in a night game in the Astrodome.

Texas A&M, Texas Tech and Arkansas are still within hailing distance of Texas with 2-1 SWC marks.

The Texas Aggies just may own the youngest outfit in the country, starting two freshmen, eight sophomores and a junior on offense. Senior safety Larry Ellis was replaced last week on defense by sophomore Jack Williams, giving the defensive team all underclassmen.

For TCU Coach Billy Tohill, a victory is badly needed. Rumors have been rampant that he will be replaced at the end of the season.

"If I'm being fired, they haven't told me yet," Tohill says. "I'm not worried about the wolves ... I've never been worried about a job. I've got a job to do Saturday—beat Baylor."

Celtics Chew Up Cavaliers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tommy Heinsohn gave the Boston Celtics a mental whipping and they made the Cleveland Cavaliers pay for it.

After being chewed out by the boss, the Celtics chewed up the Cavaliers 128-110 in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

"We were sky-high tonight," said Heinsohn.

And for good reason. Before the game, the fiery Boston coach gave his team an earful for losing a 102-99 decision to the Cavs last Sunday.

The Celtics' victory was their fifth in eight starts and moved them into a virtual tie with idle Buffalo for the lead in the NBA's Atlantic Division.

In the night's other NBA games, the New York Knicks trimmed the Houston Rockets 102-91 and the Detroit Pistons beat the Seattle SuperSonics 114-107.

In the American Basketball Association, the Denver Rockets beat the New York Nets 107-104; the Kentucky Colonels walloped the San Diego Conquistadors 146-105 and the San Antonio Spurs edged the Carolina Cougars 101-99 in over time.

Don Nelson and Don Chaney sparked Boston to a 17-point lead in the first seven minutes and the aggressive Celtics went on to their easy victory over Cleveland.

Cox Sees Old Staff Retained

WASHINGTON (AP) — Archibald Cox says he expects a new Watergate prosecutor to retain 90 per cent of his old staff, despite Republican suggestions that it is too liberal to be impartial.

Cox told the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is investigating his dismissal as special prosecutor by President Nixon, that his staff was selected on the basis of professional experience, not politics.

The committee resumed its hearings today as the Nixon administration named a new attorney general and a new special prosecutor.

Nixon named Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, to succeed former Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson, who resigned last month rather than obey Nixon's order to fire Cox.

Nixon also approved the selection of Houston, Tex., trial lawyer Leon Jaworski, a Democrat, to succeed Cox.

Nixon agreed to give Jaworski full independence and promised not to discharge Jaworski, as he had Cox, without obtaining the consent of House and Senate leaders and top members of the two judiciary committees in Congress.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., challenged Cox on the political background of his staff, noting that several staff lawyers had served in the Justice Department during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations and some had worked for the late Robert F. Kennedy.

In response to a question by Thurmond on whether Cox felt a new prosecutor should have assistants without partisan political background, Cox said: "I would be surprised if any new special prosecutor did not keep 90 per cent of my staff."

Cox also reiterated his support for legislation authorizing the courts to appoint a new special prosecutor who could not be fired by Nixon.

But the committee indicated Wednesday there is little chance it will recommend such legislation for at least two weeks, meaning that Nixon will be able to appoint his own prosecutor first.

The appointment by the administration of a new prosecutor would not bar the courts, with a congressional mandate, from naming another prosecutor.

Under the schedule outlined Wednesday, the committee plans to extend its Cox hearings for two or three weeks to consider the special prosecutor bill and another measure to extend the life of the original Watergate grand jury.

The committee planned to hear today from Sens. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., and Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, who have different ideas of how the new prosecutor should be chosen.

Cox will return to testify next week. Richardson also is slated to appear.

Concerning the political background of his staff, Cox told Thurmond.

"I was aware of the experience of these men, their professional experience. I didn't ask and didn't know their politics, except in one or two instances ..."

FACULTY SHOWS APPRECIATION—Faculty members of the East Elementary School show their appreciation to Mrs. Ora Ussery, left, by presenting her with a gift for her 21 years of service to the cafeteria staff of the school. Mrs. Ussery, manager of the staff, has been preparing meals for youngsters since 1952, the year East Elementary was built. Presenting her with a gift certificate Wednesday, her last day before retirement, are Frank Weaver, principal, and Mrs. Margie McNair, second grade teacher.

Needham Urges Action To Restore Confidence

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the New York Stock Exchange says both Congress and the securities industry must take action to restore the individual investor's confidence in the nation's capital markets.

James J. Needham of New York said the number of individual shareholders declined by 800,000 last year but that a recent survey by the Exchange indicates "a lot of dropouts want to return."

Needham told a group of corporate executives Wednesday the Nixon administration and Congress must recognize the crucial importance of providing more realistic tax treatment for individual investors.

"Sensible tax policy alone, however, is not going to restore investor confidence, although it certainly would help" he said.

"The major job can only be done by the securities industry itself."

Needham scheduled a late afternoon news conference today to report on actions taken at a closed meeting of the Exchange's board, the first such meeting to be held in the Southwest.

The meeting's agenda included the development of testimony to be presented Nov. 13 at a Senate hearing on securities reform proposals.

Needham said the industry's task in restoring investor confidence is twofold.

"First, we've got to be certain our own house is in order and we've got to keep it functioning smoothly and efficiently if we're going to earn the confidence of those whose business the industry seeks," he said.

"And, second, we've got to show millions of investors the securities industry does indeed want and needs their business."

He added that practically every area of the securities industry activity is either under microscopic scrutiny and analysis or already undergoing substantive, constructive change with the objective of drawing the individual investor back.

The Exchange already has asked that Congress provide tax incentives by doubling the $100 dividend exclusion from income taxes, making brokersage commissions deductible investment expenses, taxing capital gains on securities at a rate which decreases with the length of time securities are held, and raising to $5,000 the present $1,000 maximum tax deduction against ordinary income for a capital loss.

Needham asked the corporate executives to assist in convincing members of Congress of the need for such measures.

"Support of these proposals is needed in Congress and in the administration," he said.

"At present, though, the administration has one proposal that would actually do away with the present dividend exclusion. And other proposals before Congress would tax capital gains even more stringently than at present."

Husband Survives

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — A Brazilian man was shot by his wife's lover, beaten by three men and run over by a car and still survived, police said here Wednesday.

Police said it started when Orlando Silva, a 31-year-old carpenter, came home from work early Tuesday and surprised his wife and the couple's best friend, former state trooper Celso Bernardino, 39, in bed. The police said this is what followed:

Silva threatened to call the police. Bernardino pulled a gun and shot the betrayed husband in the ear. He then fled, telling Mrs. Silva he would go for a doctor.

He returned hours later, alone. Learning that Silva had not died, Bernardino left again and came back with two friends. The three men dragged Silva to a road, beat him and drove a car over his body.

Silva was taken to a hospital by a passing priest. Police said he was apparently out of danger.

Bernardino was arrested.

Cafeteria Absolved Of Blame

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — An Odessa cafeteria has been absolved of blame in the food poisoning of 47 members of the Abilene High School band.

The band members became ill here last Friday night after eating fish at the cafeteria.

Tests revealed Wednesday by the Texas Regional Health Laboratory in Midland showed that four specific laboratory runs on the fish and tartar sauce served at the cafeteria proved negative.

"Apparently the cafeteria food was not the villain," said Curtis Heston, chief sanitarian of the Ector County Health department.

The principal of Abilene High School, meanwhile, ruled out the school cafeteria as the source of the food poisoning. "We found out that only one of the kids ate in our cafeteria Friday and he did not become ill," the principal said.

The band played at halftime ceremonies at the Odessa-Abilene football game before the members became ill.

Cox Named Visiting Prof

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)--Former Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox has been named a visiting Cambridge University professor.

The university said Wednesday that Cox, who was fired from his post, will be Pitt professor of American history and institutions for the academic year beginning next October.

Cox, a law professor at Harvard, will be required only to visit Cambridge at least once to deliver a lecture or series of lectures.

The spokesman added that such visiting professorships are decided "long before" the appointments — sometimes as much as a year. He did not say when the decision to appoint Cox was made.

President Of MGM Resigns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James T. Aubrey has resigned as president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, claiming to have saved the onetime lion of movie studios from financial ruin.

But Aubrey's resignation Wednesday came amid a financial upheaval which appeared to abandon MGM efforts to regain dominance in the movie industry it once ruled.

The MGM future set out by Aubrey was aimed more toward TV production and leisure investments such as hotels than with movies, which he said would be produced only on a limited, selective basis.

In recent weeks, the studio has announced cutbacks in movie production, the elimination of its movie distribution and the sale of its foreign theaters and real estate. Aubrey said this "streamlined operation" would put the company in a stronger profit-making position.

In his letter of resignation as president and chief executive officer, Aubrey had only an oblique comment on his reason for leaving: "The job which I agreed to undertake has been accomplished and I have other plans for the future which will be announced shortly."

The board of directors announced that MGM's chief shareholder, financier Kirk Kerkorian, would assume the interim role of chief executive officer. The title of president will be taken by Frank E. Rosenfelt, MGM's general counsel and vice president in 1969.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

★★★

Q. Is it true that when it comes to claiming the child of divorced parents, the parent who has custody usually is entitled to the dependency exemption?

A. If the parents furnish more than half the child's support for the year, the general rule is that the parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year is entitled to the dependency exemption.

However, there are two exceptions to this rule. The parent not having custody may be entitled to the exemption: if (1) that parent contributed at least $600 toward the child's support during the year, and the decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or a written agreement between the parties, specifies that the parent not having custody is entitled to the exemption; or (2) that parent provided $1,200 or more of support for the child for the year and the parent having custody does not clearly establish having contributed more support than the parent not having custody.

Q. My employer pays the premiums on my group-term life insurance policy. Coverage is $25,000. Do I have to include the cost of the premiums as income on my tax return?

A. No. The cost of group-term life insurance coverage of $50,000 or less provided to an employee under a policy carried by his employer does not have to be reported as income.

Q. I purchased contact lenses from an optometrist. Can I deduct the cost of the lenses as a medical expense?

A. Yes. Payments for such glasses are deductible as a medical expense if you itemize your deductions. Remember that medical expenses are deductible only to the extent they exceed three percent of your adjusted gross income.

Q. While cleaning out my desk, I came across the contract, bills and other documents relating to the remodeling job I had done on my kitchen several years ago. Can I throw these papers away or are they still important for tax reasons?

A. In the event you ever sell your home, the basis of the property (generally what it cost the taxpayer), increased by the cost of the improvements to the house, will have to be computed in order to figure out your gain or loss. Thus, such records should be kept indefinitely.

Kerner Subject Of IRS Action

CHICAGO (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says civil court action on deficient 1969 income taxes has been under way for seven months against former Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

Kerner, a Democrat, already faces a prison term for bribery, conspiracy, mail fraud and tax evasion.

An IRS spokesman said the government is seeking more than $12,000 in taxes on deductions Kerner made for donating his personal papers to the Illinois Historical Society.

Court records indicate the papers were appraised at $73,375 by a Lincoln scholar.

Kerner, who is on leave of absence as a judge from the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was sentenced to three years in prison last February in connection with dealings in Illinois race-track stock while he was governor.

LORNE GREEN, his wife and his son all had acupuncture long before it became a fad Lorne credits the Oriental method of curing ills with saving his Bonanza career because his back problem was so severe doctors had advised complicated surgery, than warned they couldn't guarantee the results but that he would undoubtedly never ride a horse again. Figuring he had nothing to lose, he had one acupuncture treatment and he's never had a back problem since.

Over lunch at Reidy's DUSTIN HOFFMAN spoke of the days when he was a poor struggling actor and for six months had to sleep on a couch in the apartment of another struggling actor-the couch belonged to none other than oscar-winner GENE HACKMAN.

For their twelfth wedding anniversary, ROBERT YOUNG gave his wife a beautiful gold medallion surrounded by 12 diamonds with this inscription on the back: "For understanding, tolerance and unselfish devotion above and beyond the call of duty, this award is humbly and gratefully presented. Love Bobby." They've now been married 40 years, and BETTY YOUNG wears her "award" as proudly as ever.

DEBORAH KERR says DAVID NIVEN is her favorite all-time co-star because they have such fun together, "giggling like school kids and, what's more, getting paid for it!"

ARTHUR MILLER doesn't seem to be bothered about all the MARILYN MONROE stories circulation. He's quietly writing a new play.

DICK SHAWN said, "the only reason why no-one has made a movie on Watergate is because no-one can figure out the ending."

SEAN CONNERY hates to dress up so much he doesn't even own a black-tie outfit. On the rare occasion when he can't possible worm out of going formal, he rents his tuxedo. When in New York he buys all of his clothes at Prince Sasha because they feature a lot of casual clothes with an elegant design. This way Sean doesn't have to dress up for fancy affairs but this way he says he has the best of both worlds.

A number of Hollywood actresses were cheerleaders in high school. FLORENCE HENDERSON was the head cheerleader at her school and LILY TOMLIN says she was the best white cheerleader in Detroit. ANN-MARGARET was a cheerleader at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Illinois, which boasts such other famous alumni as RALPH BELLAMY, ROCK HUDSON, and CHARLTON HESTON. DEBBIE REYNOLDS who appears to be the cheerleader type was different. She played tuba in the Burbank High School marching band.

BARBARA BAIN met MARTIN LANDAU at an acting class in New York where he was filling in for the instructor. She immediately tagged him "conceited" and "arrogant," while he labeled her the cold fashion-model (which she was) snob-type. By accident they left the class together; he halfheartedly offered to walk her home, since it wasn't the best neighborhoods, and they've been together ever since. Instead of love at first sight, they say it was "love in ten blocks."

GOLDIE HAWN was quoted as saying; "What I really want is to be pregnant and unemployed. I'm really a very middle-class person. I mean, the way the middle-class lives-with children and nice houses-that's all I ever wanted out of life. I guess I get that from my parents."

CHUCK HESTON apparently doesn't care who knows he has no hair. In a recent tennis match when a partner admired his tennis headband, he whipped it off his forehead, handing the toupee along with it to the startled gent....

WARREN BEATTY'S first job connected with acting was as a "rat watcher" in the National Theater in Washington. He was hired there the summer he was 17 to walk around backstage with a stick and spray bomb looking for rats. Seems one of the actors had been bitten by a rat in his dressing room. Warren had asked for a job "doing anything" and that's what he got. There's no doubt of his determination to get into show business at that age. He turned down ten top university football scholarships to study drama at Northwestern.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR absolutely hates to be called Liz. It's a peeve that goes back to her childhood when her older brother Howard teased her with names like Lizzy and Lizard and Lizzy the Cow.

A very famous lady startled a taximan the other pre-dawn by returning to her hotel wearing a man's raincoat, and nothing else. How he found out? When it came time to pay the fare, she explained she left her pocketbook somewhere because she made a quick exit. To prove it, she showed him the raincoat was all she had. But she also proved herself a lady another way. She sent the fare a nice tip to the waiting driver via a bellboy.

Soviet Missiles In Egypt Certain

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After initial skepticism, U.S. officials are virtually certain that Egypt has Russian-built missiles capable of hitting Israeli cities.

Intelligence sources reported about 20 mobile SCUD missiles with a range of up to 200 miles have been identified as being in Egypt. Missiles with such a reach probably could hit Tel Aviv and Jerusalem if fired from northern Egypt, they said.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim refused to comment on the reports.

There were strong indications the guided missiles are armed with high explosives rather than nuclear warheads.

Even so, the missiles could cause significant damage and bring the war to Israeli civilians.

American intelligence specialists are unable to say whether the missiles are manned by Russians or Egyptians.

Either way, the reported appearance of the SCUDs in Egypt adds a serious new military factor to the unresolved Arab-Israeli dispute. For the first time it puts in Egypt a major offensive weapon that can be aimed at Israeli cities.

It also increases the possibility that the Israeli air force might launch a pre-emptive strike to knock out that missile threat in any new flare-up of tension in the Middle East.

U.S. intelligence sources and other government officials tended to brush aside the claim of President Anwar Sadat of Egypt when he said Oct. 16 that the Egyptians have missiles "now ready for firing ... to the very depths of Israel at any moment."

As a matter of prudence, U.S. intelligence took a closer look after the Sadat claim. Sources said this turned up persuasive evidence that there are major bombardment missiles in Egypt.

It is believed that the SCUDs arrived in Soviet ships not long before Sadat's speech.

The SCUD is part of a family of heavy Soviet artillery rockets. Publicly shown for the first time about eight years ago, the 37-foot SCUD weighs at least five tons at the time of firing.

PLANETARIUM VISITORS—Fifth grade students from West Elementary visited the Western Texas College planetarium Monday to see a program titled "The Brightest Stars." They learned that 18 of the brightest stars are visible in this area at various seasons, and five of these can be seen in the early evening at this season. Students pictured above with Mickey Schmidt, planetarium director, are, left to right, Vickie Gill, Becky Pierce, and Robert Jones.

Midland Hotel Is Felled

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — The old Hotel Scharbauer, which for four days withstood the onslaught of demolition crews, dynamite and heavy equipment, has finally tumbled to the ground.

The hotel was to have been felled Sunday by an explosion, but although most of the hotel crumbled, the south wing, a new addition, stood rigid.

The wrecking crews finally brought down the six-story south wing Wednesday. It was added to the 45-year-old hotel in 1951.

Demolition crews, headed by Jack Brown, had tried unsuccessfully to try and bring the structure down. They used dynamite, then a second charge of explosives and then tried to pull the building down by attaching cables to the framework.

The crews did the trick Wednesday, using four bulldozers, a large truck-mounted power shovel and a heavy front-end loaded that tugged on 1½-inch steel cables tied to the main support columns.

Brown, who estimated that it would have taken an additional three weeks to fell the building with crane and wrecking ball, said, "As far as I know, this is the first time a building like this has ever been pulled down."

The hotel was razed to make room for a 14-story, 150-room Hilton Inn.

Company spokesmen said construction would begin in the first quarter of 1974.

ALEX DICKIE

Fisher To Hear Dickie

ROBY–Alex Dickie of the Agency for International Development, U. S. Dept. of State, will be the principle speaker Saturday night at the annual meeting of the Fisher County Farmers Union.

The meeting is set for 6:30 p. m. in Firemans Hall in Roby.

Dickie, a former president of the Texas Farmers Union, will speak to the farmers concerning his experiences in Nairobi, Kenya, where he served with the AID mission as Food Agriculture Advisor from 1968 until 1972.

Dickie, a graduate of Texas A&M University in 1948, farmed and ranched in Denton County until he accepted a position in Washington as adminsitrative assistant to former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough in 1961. He also taught vocational agriculture and while president of the Texas Farmers Union served on the executive board of the National Farmers Union.

Smoke Hangs Over Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dense smoke hung over much of the Southern California coast today as firefighters tried to halt a blaze which left a black 2,550-acre scar on scenic coastal canyonland.

Officials reported 90 per cent containment of the erratic brush fire, which has burned in narrow canyons northwest of Los Angeles for three days.

They were hopeful that the blaze would be fully contained today.

Dry brush, 12 feet high in some areas, provided fuel for the wind-whipped fire as it raced through Topanga and Tuna canyons about 20 miles from downtown Los Angeles. About 1,000 acres of watershed was believed lost.

Investigators said the fire, which broke out Tuesday, was caused by arson.

"It occurred in an area where there could not have been an accident," said Capt. Dave Brown of the Los Angeles County Fire Department. "The fire was set."

Only one structure was reported seriously damaged. No serious injuries were reported although 700 homes in the Fernwood district of Topanga Canyon were evacuated. The threat to Fernwood eased Wednesday and all residents were allowed to return to their homes.

The damaged building was a temple-like structure inhabited by a recluse in the upper reaches of the rustic canyon linking the coast with the San Fernando Valley.

Order Auto Repair Guides

DALLAS (AP) — The city of Dallas has notified its attorneys to prepare a list of guidelines, for both consumers and auto repairmen which would regulate auto repairs.

The request for the ordinance came from the Consumer Affairs Division Tuesday after it received nearly 2,000 complaints last year about faulty or deceptive work on automobiles.

The proposed new ordinance would be a guideline and would not attempt to regulate prices or the quality of work except to insure that the consumer gets what he pays for, said a city sokesman.

Complaints concerning auto repairs are the most frequent received by the city's consumerists, said the spokesman.

Schools Schedule Trips To WTC's Planetarium

Public school students in Snyder and surrounding area towns have begun scheduling trips to the planetarium at Western Texas College as part of their teaching program this year.

There are about 40 programs available for students at the WTC planetarium, Mickey Schmidt, planetarium director, said. Teachers and students may choose the programs which best suit their course of study.

First graders, for example, might see "What is a Planetarium" to help acquaint them with the planetarium itself, or "Where Does the Sun Go at Night" to explain what is meant by the rising and setting of the sun.

Third graders may choose programs introducing sky lore and mythology, or programs dealing with the sun, planets, or prominent seasonal constellations. Fifth graders, with a greater amount of astronomical information, might select a program about exploration and the historical need for it.

High school students may see programs related to other areas of study. Industrial arts students might choose "Home Design and Solar Radiation," while journalism students might choose "Space-Age Language and Its Definition."

Boy Scouts can earn the astronomy merit badge by scheduling a short course in the planetarium.

Arrangements for special group visits to the planetarium may be made by contacting Dr. James Tully, director of the Learning Resource Center. The planetarium is open for public showings at 2:30 and 3:30 each Sunday afternoon.

Scout Troop On Campout

Boy Scout Troop 123 gave its new Scoutmaster, Ken Minyard, a taste of scouting recently on a campout.

Highlights of the expedition included an unexpected swimming demonstration by Charlie Minyard (due to an overturned boat), and a rattlesnake which stirred the new Scoutmaster into what members of the troop described as "a make-shift Indian dance." David Buchanan gave Butch Biddle a lesson in pistol marksmanship, but Biddle responded by helping the Scoutmaster. and Buchanan gave Alan Early and David Minyard lessons in the proper way to send Morse Code.

The troop is currently working on recruiting new boys who are interested in scouting, advancement and skill awards, camping equipment and planning more campouts during the colder weather.

Troop 123 meets at 7:30 p. m. each Tuesday at the VFW Scout Hut. They are currently working on a grub box, skill awards in first aid and hiking, and in planning another campout. Anyone interested in the Scouts and Troop 123 may contact Jim Vinyard at Vinyard Electric in Ira, or telephone 573-9011.

Adult Ed. Classes Held Here

The Adult Education Program, commonly termed as "ABE" is sponsored by the Sweetwater Independent School District, and classes are held each Tuesday and Thursday nights here.

What is this Program?

It has been found that a great many adults eligible for this program are more comfortable about coming to class when regular school sessions are over and more convenient also, because they are still able to take care of job responsibilities. As the program is purely voluntary, it is necessary that the program be as inviting and desirable as possible. Not only must the opportunity to learn be made available, but it must be presented in as attractive and reassuring a way as possible. The people who either had no education or very little are, by instinct, apprehensive and self conscious. A familiar atmosphere tends to alleviate some of these fears. Teachers in this program must be considered in terms of personality as well as talent, in order to put the adult student at ease and mentally receptive to learn. These classes are designed for people who have never gone to school at all, or who did not complete their elementary education or graduate from high school.

PEANUT BUTTER PRICES UP

Price Of Marketbasket Eases Off Last Month

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Families who have been feeding their kids peanut butter sandwiches in an effort to beat the price spiral got some bad news in October. An Associated Press marketbasket survey shows peanut butter prices went up almost everywhere.

The AP checked the price of 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1 and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed that overall grocery prices have eased off a bit from September, but remain well above their March levels.

Chopped chuck went down in price, reflecting a decline in livestock prices which started after the beef freeze ended in September.

On the other hand, worldwide demand for almost all commodities including oils, pushed up the price of peanut butter.

The Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday that the price of raw farm products showed a drop of 4 per cent in October, which is expected to be reflected in lower supermarket prices later.

The agency said lower prices for cattle, hogs, wheat, broiler chickens and eggs contributed most to the decline.

The AP survey showed that from Oct. 1 to Nov. 1, the total marketbasket cost declined in 9 of 13 cities. The decreases ranged from almost 6 per cent in Salt Lake City and Chicago to a fraction of 1 per cent in Atlanta and Seattle. The average decrease was about 2 per cent.

A comparison of March 1 and Nov. 1 prices, however, showed the marketbasket was up in every city checked. On the average, prices were 8 per cent higher on Nov. 1 than on March 1. On Oct. 1, prices were about 9 per cent higher than on March 1.

A check of the number of items increasing and decreasing showed that from Oct. 1 to Nov. 1, 29 per cent of the 195 items checked went up in price; 25 per cent went down; 37 per cent were unchanged; and 9 per cent were not available on one of the survey dates.

From March 1 to Nov. 1, 68 per cent of the total number of items checked increased in price; 13 per cent declined; 6 per cent were unchanged; and 13 per cent were not available.

Peanut butter was up in more cities than any other item in October, rising in 10 of 13 cities, with increases averaging about 5 per cent.

Chopped chuck, in comparison, declined in eight cities, dropping an average of 13 per cent to about $1.15 cents a pound in most areas.

Consumers found little to cheer about as they scanned the supermarket aisles, however.

One recently married New York man who made his first major shopping expedition this week commented sarcastically: "I went shopping Wednesday and racked up $22.93 in grocery bills for my wife and me. That should get us through Friday."

Mrs. Joe Stewart of Albuquerque, N.M., shopping for her husband and three children, said: "I'm buying as little as I can. We're eating out of stocked up canned goods and we're cutting down on meat even though it's dropped."

Edith Irving Freed From Jail

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Edith Irving, whose husband's attempt to write a bogus biography of Howard Hughes landed her in jail, has been freed pending a new trial.

Mrs. Irving, who was convicted March 8 on a guilty plea, acted as a courier in Swiss bank transactions involving $650,000 in advances given her husband by McGraw-Hill, the New York publisher victimized by the hoax.

Mrs. Irving appealed, contending she was denied benefit of a rule favoring defendants on doubtful points. She said her only motive in helping her husband, Clifford, was to save a faltering marriage. Irving also is in jail.

The new trial could mean a lighter sentence.

DALLAS (AP) — An Amarillo gasoline and distributing firm has signed an agreement with the Internal Revenue Service to refund almost a half a million dollars in overcharges

He said the refund, which started last Monday, would take 45 days.

Coppinger attributed the overcharge to a misinterpretation of regulations between June 13 and Aug. 19.

The state affected and the amount of refunds involved: Texas $403,622; New Mexico $55,831; Oklahoma $17,115; Louisiana $11,776; Colorado $7,246. Jobbers in Utah, Waymong, Kansas and Nebraska will share in a $4,385 refund.
