Farmers' Election Results Announced

With election returns from four of the five communities within the county tabulated, a heavier vote than ever before in community committemen and county convention delegate elections was assured, Doyle Thomas, Production and Marketing Administration secretary, said today.

However, fewer farmers voted than were expected, he added, and less than half of the eligible voters cast a ballot.

Each community elected two county convention delegates and a five-member community committee. Two men were placed on the ballot for each position.

The elected delegates will meet in county convention at 10 a. m. Tuesday of next week, Thomas said. They will select the county committee for the coming year, he added.

In the Childress community, W. E. (Blondie) Andrews and Joe T. King defeated J. B. Johnson and Fletcher Carter respectively as delegate and alternate delegate to the county convention. Irby Teague defeated R. J. Hodges as committee chairman; Oran Walraven bested F. C. Baldwin as vice-chairman; W. E. (Blondie) Andrews, Enoch James Hassell and Newman Reeves defeated Ivey Lambert, P. B. (Pete) Snider and C. P. (Shorty) Drake respectively as member, first alternate member and second alternate member to

Administration Hit In Speech By James Byrnes

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 22 (UP)—Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes last night called on southern governors to "demand a reduction of wartime taxes" and charged the administration with using the cold war with Russia as an "excuse" for big spending.

Byrnes spoke at a meeting of the southern governors conference here. He told the 12 chief executives present that "big government is more dangerous than big business."

The former U. S. Senator, war mobilization chief, Supreme Court justice and cabinet officer was speaking to a group which he may join next year. He said recently that he is willing to run for governor of South Carolina in 1950.

Byrnes said the governors ought to take the lead in a drive against big government and deficit spending, because "the government will not repeal a single war tax now being collected unless forced to do so by public sentiment."

He said it is now useless to argue about the repeal of federal aid laws but added that "we can oppose adoption of new and costly programs that other governments have tried and now wish to abandon."

Byrnes did not refer to the Truman administration by name, but his address was clearly an attack on the administration's policies.

"Our real trouble is debt and taxes," he said, "and we cannot cure it by more debt and taxes."

Mrs. Callie Annie Smith, 73, ex-resident and sister to three Childress residents, died at 5:20 a.m. today in Amarillo's St. Anthony's Hospital from burns suffered Friday in a fire which destroyed her home.

Mrs. Smith, in ill health for some time, was alone in the house at the time. She reportedly struck a match to look at the dial of her radio, which caught a curtain afire. Neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glass, carried her from her burning home.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Lillie Cox and Mrs. Lizzie Dale both of Childress, and Mrs. Emma Wiley of Los Gatos, Calif.; three brothers, Dean Cristoph of Childress, Louis Cristoph of Electra, and C. A. Cristoph of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Martin of Amarillo; two sons, Ed D. Smith, Jr., of Matador and Walter Smith of Amarillo; four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Born January 7, 1876, Mrs. Smith moved to Childress County with her parents at the age of 2. Her father was a freighter and stone mason. She married Ed D. Smith, a cowboy, in 1893.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Council Accepts Bid To Pave City's "Creek Bottom Street"

A bid of $11,972 from Benson and McGann Contractors to pave "Creek Bottom Street" was accepted by the City Council in a regular session last night.

The Wichita Falls contractors are tentatively scheduled to start work on the paving project—Third Street between Avenues G and I—in about 30 days. Curbs and gutters are included in the project.

Two bids were submitted to the Council October 14. The Council accepted the lower bid.

Councilmen unanimously voted the passage of City Ordinance 367, which amends the old building ordinance, 340, by eliminating the building fee. The action was taken primarily to get a more equitable evaluation from builders on their property.

Under the new ordnance, however ,builders must still submit plans and specifications to the proper city authorfities before building begins. The ordinance has been passed on to an attorney for legal approval.

Four new Board of City Development directors were sworn in to office by the Council: Bert Hargrave, Dr. J. U. Borum, Jr., Russell V. Jones, and Will S. Carter.

Jones and Carter will serve until January, 1950, while Hargrave and Borum will serve until January, 1951. The four directors were voted on by the Council in its last session to fill unexpired terms.

"Stop signs" which are due to be installed in the hospital area arrived this week, and City Secretary Arvil Patton advised the Council the new signs would be put up "within a few days."

Four of the signs will go up at the intersection at Second Street and Avenue D, Northeast, and another will be installed at Second Street approaching Avenue C, Southeast.

The council decided to make further attempts to get a favorable site to install a public comfort station on Avenue A between Main and Commerce Streets, where generally unsanitary conditions have been reported.

Mayor L. W. McClendon and Aldermen A. B. Taff and Bert Hargrave reported that they had talked with FW&DC General Manager W. O. Frame last week about securing a right-of-way easement north of the tracks as a favorable location for the public stations. Frame was non-committal, they said.

Hollis Boren, of Memphis, requested the right to purchase the 600 seats at the Childress Affield theater. Councilmen deferred action on Boren's request pending a release from the Civil Aeronautics Administration on the seats.

The Council was given a report from Patton and Outside Superin-

People's Party Presidential Candidate Has Tax On Bachelors In His Platform

HOUSTON, Nov. 22 (UP)—Dr. C. C. Cunningham adjusted his pearl gray stove-pipe hat and announced today that one of the many innovations of the People's Party come 1952 elections would be a tax on bachelors.

For years now, "Doc" Cunningham (who says he's 87 and looks more like 60) has tried to beat presidential winners to the White House.

Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt all fell victim to the Cunningham campaign strategy when "Doc" retired from practicing as a physician.

But for President Truman in 1952—or for any other candidates for that matter—the cane-carrying, bow-tie wearing Cunningham has reserved the clincher.

He will campaign as two different men.

His alias will be Dr. Julian Fuller, who will conduct an active and

Crashed Dutch Air Liner Found, 30 Bodies Located

OSLOO, Norway, Nov. 22 (UP)—The battered bodies of 30 persons, among them 24 Jewish children from North African slums were found today strewn around the partly burned wreckage of a Dutch air liner which lost its way and crashed near Oslo Sunday night.

One of the 29 children aboard the transport survived. Four others were missing, and almost certainly dead. All six adults—four Dutch crewmen and two nurses — were killed. A death toll of 34 of the 35 aboard seemed certain.

The survivor was an 11-year-old French speaking boy, Isaac Alla, whose weeping in the wreckage attracted searchers who found the plane. Taken to a Drammen hospital, he was found to have suffered only an injured arm.

The two-engined DC-3 disappeared Sunday night after radioing that it was nearing the Oslo airport and would land soon. It was one of two chartered to bring the Jewish children to Norway. The other landed safely.

Splintered wreckage was found today around noon after a search of almost 48 hours by thousands of troops, Red Cross workers and volunteers who had trudged through rain-sodden and fog-shrouded hills and forests.

The wild and lonely scene of the crash was 18 miles south of Is on the Hurun peninsula between Filtvedt and Storesand. The plane had cut a swath of 70 yards as it smashed through a sturdy growth of trees before it smacked into the side of a steep hill.

Darkness halted the search before the four missing children were found. Reports from the scene indicated that they almost certainly died. In the improbable event that they survived the actual crash their chances of coming through two nights in the dank and chilly woods seemed remote.

The children had lived in North African refugee camps, and were being sent to Norway before going to new homes in Israel.

The rehabilitation program for the children was sponsored by an organization calling itself "Help Europe" and by the American Joint Distribution Committee. It called for the rehabilitation of 2 children from North African slum

Metropolitan Opera's First Night Carried On Without Society Highjinks

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (UP)—Metropolitan Opera first-nighters heeded the pleas of the management last night by shunning society highjinks and paying attention to the 65th opening performance. Not a single wealthy dowager showed a bare leg.

Although most of the 4000 richly dressed and be-jeweled opera lovers attempted to enter the Met's bar at intermission for a glimpse of shenanigans which have made a side show out of the stage performance for the past decade, they were disappointed. The cut-ups of recent years stayed in their seats to hear Richard Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier."

Only Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, nearing 80 and confined to a wheelchair, created a little excitement. She threatened to rap a newspaper photographer with her cane when he snapped her picture as she was wheeled into the lobby.

However, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina stole the limelight from New York's social leaders. The entrance of the jurist who presided over the nine-month trial of 11 Communist leaders brought cheers and bravos from hundreds of persons watching the society show from the sidewalk, and he was followed by applause wherever he went in the opera house during the evening.

The entire opera as well as activities in the lobbies and lounge were televised by the American Broadcasting Company to audiences in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Detroit, and Chicago at an estimated cost of $40,000 to the sponsoring oil company.

Edward Johnson, retiring general manager, credited the dignified behavior of the audience to his "back to normal" campaign. He said he hoped last night marked the end of the "pranks for publicity" era which has plagued his 15-year tenure.

Opera goers and critics agreed that "Ded Rosenkavalier," performed as a memorial tribute to

U. S. Consul Has Been Tried, State Department Says

Communists Will Announce Verdict

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UP)—The State Department today reported Chinese Communist announcements that U. S. Consul General Angus Ward has been put on trial at Mukden and that a verdict will be announced within a few days.

Ward and four members of his consulate staff were arrested October 24 on what this country regards as trumped up charges of beating a Chinese worker.

Communist newspapers in both Shanghai and Nanking reported that Ward's trial before a "people's court" is now in progress.

The United States, meanwhile, was relying on world opinion to force the Chinese Communists to free Ward from his Mukden prison cell.

Until today it had been understood that Ward stood accused of beating one person. One Chinese account reported here mentioned two "victims," however.

The reports were the first to disclose that Ward and his associates had actually been placed on trial. On trial with Ward are Ralph Rehberg, Rochester, N. Y., Shiro Tatsumi, Seattle, and two Europeans—Franco Cicogna and Alfred Kristan—whom Ward had hired locally.

U. S. notes to other countries about Ward went out yesterday.

Legislative Act Annuled By Daniel

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (UP)—Attorney General Price Daniel ruled today members of the 51st Legislature violated the state constitution when they passed a law requiring defendants to pay court costs in case of a conviction.

The act, amending an older statute, hiked the fee of a county judge or county judge at law from $3 to $5 for each criminal action tried and finally disposed of before him. In addition, the act contained in the body of the bill a requirement that the fees, normally paid by the county, would be paid by the defendant if he was convicted on the charge.

The attorney general held that payment of the fee by the defendant was not included in the title, a requirement set out in the constitution.

Warm Weather Slated To Show

Shivering Texans got a warm word from the weatherman today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Dallas said that temperatures would lose their teeth-chattering chilliness in North and West Central Texas tonight and rise Wednesday.

The mercury also was expected to rise in West Texas this afternoon but a mass of cold air will move into the Panhandle tomorrow night and bring lower readings.

Several cities reported subfreezing temperatures during the early morning today. Bonham reported an unofficial low of 24 degrees. Clarendon, officially, was the coldest point with a marrow-chilling 26, and Dalhart, atop the Panhandle, had a 27.

Other below-freezing temperatures reported were 30's at Ozona and Salt Flat. Dallas, Lufkin, Tyler, Fort Worth and Amarillo recorded even 32's. Childress saw 33.

Elsewhere in the north and western portions of the state, temperatures were in the mid-and lower 30's, while the weather in the south was camparatively warmer.

Laredo turned in the highest reading of the day yesterday, 82 degrees while Guadalupe Pass reported the low maximum of 45. The highest minimum was 58 at Brownsville.

Skies were somewhat cloudy over the state today but the weather remained "fair and dry."

Lone Dog Sledder Tells Of His Early Trip Across Arctic

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cecil A. Moore, Lewiston, Me., engineer, is currently mushing across the Arctic on the longest dog-sled trip ever attempted. Here he tells of his experiences in traveling from his base, Fairbanks, Alaska, to Big Delta.)

By Cecil Moore

BIG DELTA, Alaska, Nov. 22 (UP)—I took it easy the first week out of Fairbanks, and covered only 80 miles because of the hot weather and my untrained dogs.

The 45 degree heat was tough on my nine Siberian huskies, and for their sake, I slowed down to almost a walk. I went part of the time in shirt-sleeves myself.

As I was melting snow to make tea the first night, some visitors dropped in to take flash pictures of me and the dogs.

The next day, I put the wheels on the sled, as the road was practically bare the 19 miles to Moose Creek Lodge. Again I was treating the dogs easy, as they were soft and must be hardened for the long grind ahead.

I was still getting visitors from Fairbanks, as King Lion Van Scoy of the Lions Club came out by car and gave me a bottle of rum. Tom Wilson of the same club brought out a gun and a thermos of hot soup.

All the roadhouses along the way treated me kindly. On the third night I stayed at the Richardson Roadhouse, the oldest structure on the Richardson Trail. From this vantage point, one can see the vast expanse of the Tennana Valley and the river, which years ago was populated by more than 3500 persons. Now there are only eight.

As I gazed across the bleak expanse of Arctic waste-lands, Billy Melvin, 83, the first man to settle there in 1897 and who has seen the town grow and decline, entertained me with tales of gold rushes of the past days, and added a few choice comments on the recent Fishwheel gold rush which fizzled out.

Leaving the Richardson Roadhouse, I had two tough hills to go over before reaching Big Delta. But the dogs buckled down and got along with little trouble.

It was getting colder as I got farther inland and the snow was packed harder. A biting wind kept swirling small flakes into my eyes, causing me much discomfort when I got indoors as my eyes would smart and swell.

I had to have the harness repaired in Big Delta, for two of the dogs were giving me trouble chewing the traces and biting a half-inch malina rope.

Weather here is around zero and the wind is blowing real hard. Small game is plentiful in the

Threatened Soft Coal Strike Deadline Only Nine Days O

By United Press

The deadline for a threatened new soft coal strike was only nine days away today but nobody was taking any action to head it off.

Soft coal operators worked their mines full blast in an attempt to get every possible ounce of coal above ground before December 1, when John L. Lewis has threatened to call the United Mine Workers out of the pits once more.

Meanwhile, the CIO Communications Workers charged the Bell Telephone Company with unfair labor practices for doubling its minimum pension plan payments while in the midst of contract negotiations with the union. The CWA planned to file formal charges with the National Labor Relations Board.

The company has offered a flat $100 monthly pension and to pay two cents per man per hour toward an insurance program. The union insists that pensions should start at $100 and be graduated upward on seniority and age. It also wants the firm to contribute 2½ cents for insurance.

Meanwhile, the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. and the CIO Auto Workers announced establishment of a new retirement fund based on the report rendered by a presidential fact-finding board in the steel dispute. Details remained to be worked out but the firm agreed to contribute six cents per hour for each worker.

At Oshawa, Ont., 5500 CIO Auto Workers employed at a General Motors plant put assembly lines back into full production after staging a three-week strike to protest the firing of four memb who refused to take part in a st ped-up production drive. Unde compromise worked out Saturd the company reduced penalties gainst the four men and the un conceded the firm's right to assembly line speeds.

Smallish Quanah Backfield Operates Behind Big Line

Childress and Quanah will be about even in the weight department when the two long-time rivals clash on Bobcat Stadium turf Thursday in a season finale for both clubs.

The Indians' starting eleven will average out at about 162 pounds a man. From end to end they will hit 175 pounds a man, while the backfield averages only 142 pounds.

In previous contests Childress has started a team averaging around 162 pounds, slightly more when 205-pound Herbert Reavis has opened at a tackle. Bobcat backs usually come out a little over 150 pounds a man, while the line hits slightly less than 170.

Quanah's light starting backfield is built around not-so-light Charles Bradford, the 170-pound fullback who does about 90 per cent of the ball carrying and is a standout guard defensively. The hard-running Indian is being boomed for all-district honors.

Dan Boark, 145. is a starter at one half, while Bobby Williams, 130, opens at the other half. Wiliams is fast and a capable pass receiver.

John McCrary, 125-pound freshman quarterback, has sparked the Indian pass game this year, and even overshadowed Radford in the Wichita-Quanah game this year.

James Tate, 145-pound converted end starts at left end, and Captain Chester Whitfield, 150-pounder who gets under most Indian passes, starts at the right wing.

The tackle posts are manned by Bill Medlin, 158, one of the more aggressive Indian linemen, and Don Barker, who weighs in at the 200 mark. Joe Walker, 185, and Bill Cooper, 180, start at guards, while 210-pound Bill Cooper rounds out the heavy middle section in the Quanah line.

The Bobcats are faced with the problem of checking the powerful Radford on running plays, and getting past the Indian linebacker, a former all-district guard candidate, on their own land offensive.

Glove Workouts Start December 1

Training for the 1950 Golden Gloves district meet in Childress will begin December 1, the sponsoring Cihldress Index announced today. Tentative tourney dates have been set for January 1, 12 and 13.

Applications for the annual affair will be accepted at The Index, or by Bill Adams, who will serve as Childress team trainer again this year.

Childress Airfield gym will be the training site. Persent plans call for night workouts in the heated gym.

Thirteen towns are scheduled to enter in the Childress district Wellington, which dominated the Childress district last year, has moved over to the newly formed Shamrock district.

Dodson, Memphis, Newlin, Estelline, Turkey, Hedley, Quanah, Acme, Kirkland, Lakeview, Silverton, Paducah & Matador are expected to enter teams. The latter two towns have been listed as probable entrants.

Winners of the Childress district will go to Amarillo for the regional affair, which is tentatively slated for January 25, 26, 27, and 28.

Under a new ruling this year, entrants must sign for the district meet before they will be accepted in the regional tournament.

Forming of the Shamrock district brings to four the number of districts which will compete in the Amarillo meet. Pampa, Childress and Dalhart have fed the Panhandle city boxing teams in previous years.

Entrants for the Childress tourney will be accepted in both the high school and open divisions.

Port Arthur Is Still Holding Highest Ranking

DALLAS, Nov. 22 (UP)—The Port Arthur Yellow Jackets, the pride of coastal football circles, continued to hold first place today in the weekly schoolboy grid rating, but three West Texas teams were close behind.

The rankings, compiled by the Dallas Morning News by polling sports writers throughout the state, showed Port Arthur with 220 out of a possible 240 points. Lubbock was second with 210 points, but received only two first place ballots to Port Arthur's 18.

Third place was held by Wichita Falls, trailed by Abilene. Both teams received two first place votes.

The rankings:
1--Port Arthur 220,
2--Lubbock 210,
3--Wichita Falls 164,
4--Abilene 150,
5--Corsicana 144,
6--Marshall 136,
7--Austin 110,
8--Highland Park 89,
9--San Antonio Jefferson 35,
10--Pampa 32.

Second 10--Breckenridge, Galveston, Odessa, Grand Prairie, Paris, Texarkana, Houston San Jacinto, Dallas Sunset, Conroe and Waco.

Bears Have No Leading Scorers Despite Standing

By Ed Fite

WACO, Nov. 22 (UP)—Despite the fact the Baylor Bears are in a position to challenge Rice for a share of the Southwest Conference championship and a Cotton Bowl bid this week, names of Baylor players are noticeable by their scarcity in the conference statistics.

Of course, there's a lad named Adrian Burk who's very much in evidence on the statistical forms in the passing department and three men's names crept in among the pass reveiving leaders.

But, for a club that's gained almost as much yardage on the ground as in the air and scored 33 touchdowns while piling up eight victories against only one loss, it's unusual that not a Baylor player will be found among the top 10 scorers or ground gainers.

Principal reason for the oddity is the abundance of backs Coach Bob Woodruff has at his disposal to work in and out of the game in order to keep from overwcrking and of them.

Thirteen men have shared in the scoring for the Bruins and the leading scorer is an end, J. D. Ison, while the next ranking man is a guy the fans see only after Baylor has scored--conversion specialist Henry Dickerson.

Ison has scored 30 points on six touchdowns, Dickerson 25 on extra points.

A backfield brother combination, Dudley and Buddy Parker, have scored four times each, end Stan Williams, halfback Jim Jeffrey and fullback Jerry Mangum three times each. The other touchdowns were well scattered among the remainder of the backfield talent.

Man Will Swap Irish-Pony Ducats For Television Set

DALLAS, Nov. 22 (UP)—If you have a spare television set floating around, but want and don't have tickets to the Southern Methodist-Notre Dame game there's a man in Dallas willing to strike a bargain with you.

He's one of the several fortunate holders of the coveted ducats who are running daily notices in a Dallas newspaper seeking to peddle the scarce pasteboards, which were never offered to the public.

The advertiser, who lists only a Dallas phone number, wants to trade two 35-yard seats for a television set.

Another advertised the fact Sunday that he had four for sale en masse for $100. The ad did not re-appear Monday.

An optimistic Fort Worth man offered to swap, presumably even, four tickets to the SMU-TCU game this week for an equal number of SMU-Notre Dame tickets.

Several others, including one man with two "on the 50", advertised the fact they had tickets available with "the best offer" buying them.

Alongside these also were advertised pleas from old SMU grads and others that they needed tickets on a "what have you?" basis.

Bobcats Prepare In Earnest For Turkey-Day Tilt

The Bobcats went through a harder-than-usual Monday afternoon workout yesterday, putting luster on their offensive in an intra-squad tussle.

Tuesday the Felines were due for some more rough stuff before tapering off Wednesday for their final game with Quanah Thursday afternoon.

Coaches Don Ezell and Ralph Porter experimented with lineup changes in the practice fray, and at one time fielded an "all-junior" team, comprised of players of junior classification, or lower.

Joe Powell, Everett Jones George Crews and Perry Morren clicked well in the backfield, while R. D. Bradshaw, Jarvis Michie, Earl Smith, Herbert Reavis, Jimmy Williams, Sid Holland and Jack Owens, a senior, operated in the line.

The accent Tuesday was to be on means and ways of stopping Quanah's Charles Radford, the big back who last week ripped Electra's line asunder in picking up 304 yards.

Ezell, meanwhile, cautioned his club against any feeling that the Indians would be "easy."

Quanah came into its own last Friday with a stunning 47 to 12 win over Electra, the same Club Childress defeated only 26 to 6 earlier this season.

At Quanah, Radford and his mates went through an intensive scrimmage Monday and were promised more of the same for Friday.

All-Star Cagers Win Over Carey

Forward Earl Harwell tallied a free throw in the final seconds of play to give the American Legion All-Star team of Childress a 31-to-30 win over the Carey All-Star team in Bobcat Gym last night.

The final whistle caught Harwell's free toss dribbling through the basket to end a thrilling contest which saw the lead change hands not less than ten times. It was the first win of the year for the Childress five.

W. W. Cooper, fast guard, scored 16 points to take indivual high-scoring honors, while Harwell scored 9 and guard Toad Clements rung up 6 points. Clements played well defensively.

Starting lineup for Childress: center, John Parker, guards Clements and Cooper; forwards, Harwell and Willie Scott.

ABOUT VETOES

A bill which the President does not sign within 10 days after Congress adjourns automatically dies by "pocket veto." When Congress is in session, an unsigned bill becomes law unless vetoed within 10 days after it reaches him. To veto a bill it is necessary for the President to send a message to Congress.

Statistics Show Adrian Burk Is The Top Passer

DALLAS, Nov. 22 (UP)—Baylor University football fans said they knew it all the time, but statistics today proved that the Bears' Adrian Burk is currently the Southwest Conference's top passer.

Burk hit his receivers nine out of 16 times for 240 yards and three touchdowns against Southern Methodist last week, running his season total to 1318 yards on 99 completions out of 169 tosses. Thirteen of them were good for touchdowns. Only five were intercepted.

In second place was Texas' Paul Campbell, with 1233 yards. TCU's Lindy Berry was in third with 1195.

Burk also moved into second place in total offense with 1249 yards on 193 plays. But Berry still led the race with 1421 yards on 306 plays. Campbell was third, claiming 1127 yards on 200 plays. Burk's completion average was .586, second only to SMU's Doak Walker, with a .611.

The individual rushing race found Texas A&M's Robert Smith with 671 yards, Sonny Wyatt of Rice with 587, Arkansas' Geno Mazzanti 578, SMU's Kyle Rote 560 and Bobby Lantrip of Rice 551.

The 43.4 average of Rote led the punters, although Walker came a bit closer at 41.6.

Apparent captor of pass receiving honors was Texas' Ben Procter with 642 yards. Morris Bailey of TCU had 462 yards and Baylor's J. D. Ison had 411.

Texas' 213-yard average edged Baylor for defensive honors, but the Longhorns fell behind Rice on offense, 355 yards to 359 for the Owls. Baylor held nine opponents to an average 217 yards.

Atomic Shelters In Yards Are Out, Realtor Believes

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (UP)—A snug atomic shelter buried in the yard of every home just isn't in the cards, a real estate and construction expert said today.

"The cost of building an effective structure would be prohibitive other than for the very wealthy or the military," said David O. Bohannon, San Mateo, Calif., one of the nation's largest builders of private homes.

To illustrate, Bohannon estimated the bare cost of building a comfortable private family shelter of concrete 15 by 40 feet—small enough to fit any standard lot with lead-sheathed walls one foot thick and sunk 14 feet into the ground.

"With modern earth-moving machinery," he said, "it would cost about $1200 to dig the hole, assuming of course that you had no rock excavation problems.

Builder Claims Renting Will Be Long In Returning

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (UP)—William Levitt, who builds 30 houses a day but lives in a city apartment because that's the way his wife wants it, said today it would be years, if ever, before the American public gets back to renting instead of buying as the means of getting a home.

The 42-year-old businessman is president of Levitt & Sons which, since July, 1947, has built the biggest community on all of Long Island, the sprawling Levitt town which now has 37,000 residents and will have 65,000 by the end of 1951.

Along with his father, Abraham, 69, and his brother Alfred, 38, Levitt has created a fantastically efficient organization which is the sharpest competitive thorn in the side of the housing industry. He employs only eight salesmen because his houses sell as fast as he can build them.

"If you find a house for rent today, you can be sure something is wrong with it," Levitt said. "Any house that is of value can be sold and a builder or a real estate man has nothing to gain by renting."

The nation's decades-old insufficiency of housing, the standstill of building during the war years and the government's willingness to underwrite loans for home purchases makes it inevitable that renting is outmoded, Levitt said.

Levitt is about ready to come out with a new home that he thinks will make the $6500 house introduced by the government's Tighe Woods look silly. He isn't ready to talk about it yet, but he has in mind a home aimed for the man making less than $50 a week and he is also engrossed in a program to bring manufacturing industry to Long Island—for many years a resort and socialite haven.

The flat land that was a potato patch two and one-half years ago and now is the mushrooming Levittown is his great pride. For a cost of only $4 per year per home owner, the Levitts have built six simming pools, playgrounds and parks. They donate the land for churches. And almost 100 per cent of the Levittown residents are veterans.

Church-Related College Leaders Meet In Abilene

ABILENE — Leaders of Christian education from 27 Texas church-related schools will be in Abilene today and Wednesday to attend the two-day institute of the Texas council of church-related colleges. The tenth annual meeting of the organization is to be held on the three campuses of Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian College, and McMurry College.

Among the university presidents to speak are Rupert N. Richardson of Hradin-Simmons, J. W. Marshall of Wayland College, Don H. Morris of Abilene Christian College, W. B. Guerrant of Austin College, and Harold G. Cooke of McMurry.

Three panel discussions with a total of 14 prominent educators participating, will be held, one at each of the three business meetings.

Thanksgiving Services Set In Science Churches

Thanksgiving Day services are held each year by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., and its branches throughout the world. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is afforded for testimonies of gratitude to be expressed appropritate to the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Golden Text is: "In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (I Thessalonians 5: 18).

Among the citation which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him and bless his name" (Psalm 100:4). Christion Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "While the heart is far from divine Truth and Love, we cannot conceal the ingratitude of barren lives" (page 3).

Butterfield denied molesting the girl although an autopsy showed she had been subjected to sexual indecencies.

Fast-acting Detroit police saved little Karen Kuechenmeister, 7, from a possible similar fate on the night of November 15. William B. Mabrey, 35, was held today under $50,000 bond for preliminary hearing November 25 on charges that he kidnaped Karen from her home. Police, alerted by Karen's father, captured Mabrey after an 80-mile-per-hour chase. Mabrey has pleaded innocent to the kidnaping charge but admitted trying to lure two other girls into his car.

Last Friday, Teresa Koenig, 19-year-old navy employe from Arlington, Va., killed Charles K. Ellyett, 22, with his own gun when he threatened to destroy her and himself with dynamite unless she submitted to his attempt to rape her. She was free on bond today awaiting trial for manslaughter.

Three Illinois children told Joliet, Ill., authorities that they beat off a degenerate attack yesterday by a stranger who picked them up in his car on their way to school. The children, Lois Anderson, 12 her brother Laverne, 10, and Phyllis Lane, 12, said they beat and scratched the man until he let them out of the car and sped away.

A group of 100 Los Angeles citizens held a town meeting last night and demanded that the California Legislature be called into special session to enact new laws dealing with sex criminals.

A panel of experts suggested solutions to the problem.

Al Jarvis, Los Angeles disc jockey, presented a 10,000-signature demand that anyone caught molesting a child should be held without bail and anyone convicted be jailed for life.

Stroble had jumped bail to Mexico on one child molestation charge and had been back in the city only a week when Linda Joyce was killed.

The Los Angeles citizens also were mindful of nine cases in which women have been killed by apparent sex fiends in the last three years. The chain of bestial killings began January 15, 1947, with that of Elizabeth Short, beauteous brunet who was known as "the Black Dahlia" for her choice of filmy black clothing.

The middle of the line crouches and is backed by a second row consisting of the other three backs, flanked by the ends, Leon Hart, 82, left, and Bill Wightkin, 83. JUST THINKING

BY FRANK HATT

In yesterday's column I mentioned about Walter Price buying a bunch of turkeys for Thanksgiving. I completely forgot to mention that Walter bought the big order of turkeys for the Helpy-Selfy grocery.

Nearly everybody knows it anyway that Walter is employed by Helpy-Selfy, but in case you're a newcomer you know it now.

I understand Steve Cowan commented on my Sunday column about the Rubinoff concert.

Steve maintained that Rubinoff should have been big enough to "command" the respect of his audience and not "demand" it.

Well that's a nice play on words and makes good poetry but not so good common sense.. Here's why:

Rubinoff is big enough. Certainly there are not many bigger names in the musical world of America. He has played on coast-to-coast networks for several years, played before the nation's largest musical gathering . . . 225,000 at his concert in Grant Park in Chicago. He has played several demand performances at the White House.

Most listeners who heard him I believe will agree that his tones, his interpretations and tehcnique were fine. Many have asked me if he would give a repeat performance here.

But mainly I would like to point out to Steve that he has confused the issue. The issue is the audience; not the artist.

Any musician, singer or speaker should receive the complete attention of every person in his audience whether he be great or small. It is only everyday, common courtesy. That some listeners are rude goes without saying.

If Steve Cowan were to sing a solo to a Childress audience he should receive just as much consideration as John Charles Thomas. A person who will listen attentively to one entertainer and disturb another is not consistent.

I think Rubinoff did command the respect of his audience. Certainly as much as I ever saw one do so. But the fact that he had to demand it from one or two individuals is no reflection on him. Probably these persons would not even respect the presence of President Truman if he were speaking.

And it did no harm for him to call them to order. Personally, I'm glad that he did. It might make it easier on the next artist who comes here.

Garner Isn't Interested In His Birthday

UVALDE, Nov. 21 (UP)—Today was the 81st birthday of John Nance Garner, but if the former U. S. Vice-President got his wish it would pass without fuss and celebration.

Instead, Garner, in virtual retirement since 1940 when he ended eight years service as the nation's second in command under Franklin D. Roosevelt, said he would go hunting.

His companion, as always, would be his old crony, garageman Ross Bromfield. The pair went hunting during the warm spell last week but were silent about what they bagged.

However, the ex-Vice President's house keeper let it be known that the birthday dinner might be deer, since "there is a new buck in the deep freeze."

The hale and hearty South Texan's one worry at his ranch home last night was the weather. For his birthday, Garner didn't care. For hunting—yes.

Plan Is Offered To Escape Those Turkey Leftovers

LUBBOCK, Nov. 22 (UP)—A Texas Tech poultry expert today offered a method of avoiding cold turkey hash after Thanksgiving.

Get the butcher to split the turkey down the middle. The half-turkey will provide enough white and dark meat for most small families and save the cook the burden of planning later meals with leftovers.

Hubert L. Mathews, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, pointed out that cooking juices in the turkey will not be affected by the reduced size.

"The turkey could even be split into quarters," he said, "but that might involve some question as to who would get the white and dark meat."

Families which buy a large turkey can plan on tasty gobbler steaks if a freezing locker is available, he said. If all white meat is removed before roasting, six-ounce steaks can be saved for future frying—just like a regular chicken-fried steak. He warned that all gristle should be removed before freezing to insure tenderness.

Electra Explosion Damages Are Set At $75,000-$100,000

ELECTRA, Nov. 22 (UP)—Officials of the Waggoner refinery believed today that accumulated gas fumes caused an explosion and fire that did an estimated $75,000 to $100,000 damage last night.

The blast occured about 8:30 in the main pump house and an employee, George M. Reich, suffered [illegible]-degree burns on the hands [illegible].

Plant Supt. J. O. Walkup said the explosion occurred as Reich, a boiler fireman, switched on a light in the pump house. Fire immediately broke out, but Reich escaped through a window.

Fire equipment from Vernon, Wichita Falls and Electra was used to extinguish the roaring blaze which was visible for miles.

Walkup said the refinery, which pumps 500 barrels daily, will be out of operation for several days. The pump house was destroyed.

Suicide Note Being Studied

TEXARKANA, Tex., Nov. 22 (UP)—A brief suicide note saying "I'll be dead when you read this" was studied today by police investigating the shooting of its 22-year-old writer, sought for questioning in a robbery.

Detectives said the suicide victim, a man they identified as Mark H. Rogers of Webb City, Mo., shot himself as they knocked at his hotel room to ask him about a liquor store holdup which took place less than one hour earlier.

Between $100 and $200 was taken in the armed robbery. Police said they found $150 hidden in a closet in the hotel room.

The Barkley's "Shangri-La" Is Sea Island, Ga.

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 22 (UP) —Vice-President Alben Barkley and his bride relaxed beside the sea today and the genial Veep chuckled over the way they kept secret the location of their honeymoon shangri-la.

Barkley and his bride, the former Mrs. Carlton Hadley of St. Louis, arrived here yesterday and announced that this is it.

Ever since the couple announced their engagement they kept the press and public guessing about their honeymoon plans. Barkley always answered "shangri-la" when asked where they would go following the wedding .

Yesterday it was learned that the Veep made reservations at the swank Cloister Hotel here a week ago. He asked hotel officials to help him keep his secret, and they did.

The newlyweds were assigned a bedroom and living room suite, overlooking the sea, in one of the hotel's new beach houses. Huge vases of roses and chrysanthemums adorned their rooms when they arrived.

One of Veep's first questions after arrival was. "is there anything here form Kentucky?" A hotel attendant was quick to furnish some of that state's refreshment product.

Sea Island, often known as "Honeymoon Isle," was the setting recently for the wedding of Sarah Churchill, daughter of Britain's wartime prime minister, and society photographer Anthony Beauchamp.

The Barkleys drove here from Atlanta yesterday, ending a three-day motor trip from St. Louis following their wedding there Friday. They came in Mrs. Barkley's new convertible, a wedding gift from the Veep, with the bride at the wheel.

and defend it from raids by "Commie storm troop goon squads" as soon as their ships hit port. Several "raids" by alleged left-wing union groups have resulted in big fights at the hall recently.

In the soft coal dispute, neither side has made any moves to resume negotiations although both the UMW and operators were reported willing to bargain,

The UMW is demanding shorter hours, higher pay, and an increase in welfare fund payments. Lewis says the union demands would amount to 30-35 cents per ton of coal mined and that the firms could absorb the increase without jacking prices.

The firms, however, have rejected the demands on ground that they could not pay the costs themselves and that they refuse to boost prices.

Gatesville School Is Seeking A New Superintendent

AUSTIN, Nov. 21 (UP)—The Texas Youth Development Council was in the market for a new superintendent of the Gatesville school for boys today.

The council yesterday asked the resignation of R. E. Blair as superintendent, effective December 1.

Harold Matthews, council consultant, said he felt "that if we are to carry out this program . . . we need a person who is better qualified and able to carry on a more progressive program" at Gatesville.

Council Chairman Dr. Walter Kerr of Kerrville said that Blair had "done nothing exactly wrong," but that the council's youth program had not been startedat Gatesville.

Assistant Superintendent M. B. Kindrick was named acting superintendent of the Gatesville school until the council names a successor to Blair.

While swinging the ax one way during the meeting yesterday, the board turned down a request for the ouster of S. L. Bellamy as community service director of the council.

Three Dallas women, led by Mrs. William L. Crawford III, asked Bellamy's ousting on the ground that he had taken part in beating of youths while employed at the Gatesville school in 1941.

Kerr termed the group's protest "a little bit surprising" and said. "We have Texans who stayed here and got us towhere we are today. I think Mr. Bellamy is one of those."

Bellamy, answering Mrs. Crawford's charges, said that he was "strictly opposed to corporal punishment" and did not witness any punishments while at Gatesville.

Suspended Ship Captain Offered Another Ship

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 22 — Canada Steamship Lines today offered Capt. William Taylor, 66, suspended master of the steamship Noronic which burned with a loss of 143 lives, another command when his suspension is lifted.

Company officials who shared with Taylor partial blame placed by an investigating committee for responsibility in the tragedy September 17, said the captain's status was unaltered with them.

They noted, however, that Taylor was ill and said he would receive his pension when he reaches the retiring age of 68.

A judgment handed down at Ottawa yesterday by Justice R. L. Kellock ordered Taylor's master's certificate suspended for one year and that the company should pay the costs of the three-week investigation. The report said the loss of the vessel and lives was due to "wrongful default" of the owners and master in failing to have a continuous fire patrol, a plan for arousing passengers, and proper fire training of the crew.

Fire broke out in the early morning hours when many of the 400 passengers, most of them Americans who boarded at Detroit or Cleveland, were asleep. The vessel, on the season's last cruise o fthe Great Lakes run, had docked at Toronto the evening before for a night's lay.

Election Slaps Brannan Plan

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 22 (UP)—The re-election of Albert S. Goss as master of the National Grange was interpreted today as defeat for elements in the farm organization supporting the so-called "Brannan plan".

Goss was re-elected yesterday at the Grange's 83rd annual convention two-year term as national master.

He had opposed the subsidy plan advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan as a form of "chairity" that could bankrupt the nation.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Watch Out For The Symptoms!

Laughed out loud when I heard Hoot Davis was down with Chicken Pox. A man of forty-five catching a kid's disease!

So I went to see him, armed with jokes about "second childhood" but forgot them fast when I got there. Hoot looked terrible and had quite a fever.

While we talked, I come to think of how Chicken Pox is a lot like other "diseases"—diseases of the character, such as intolerance, self-righteousness or just plain ignorance. They're excusable in children, but when they come out in adults they're ten times as bad—and can be mighty "contagious."

From where I sit, we should all watch out for the "symptoms"—little things like criticising a person's preference for a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. We've seen personal freedom wither away in other countries, when individual intolerance was allowed to get out of hand and become a nation-wide epidemic.
